Targeted. Instant. Relevant.

This technology might just save lives.

Ping4alerts was used by the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency during the active manhunt for the Boston Marathon bombing suspect on April 19, 2013. By creating a geofence around a specific area of Watertown and surrounding communities, citizens were alerted of the situation and advised to stay in their homes.

Key features

- Audio alerts with attention-getting sounds and voice messages
- Your privacy and identity are 100% protected. No personal information is required, ever.

In the event of critical life-threatening emergencies, the ping4alerts! app will "wake up" your phone, overriding your mute settings, and ensure you receive the important message.
