Jean Manoli, Training Specialist with the Massachusetts Division of Occupational Safety to speak March 19th, 9:25 - 10:25

Title: Emergency Action Planning

Description: This session will provide an overview of the OSHA requirements for employers' emergency action plans and fire prevention plans. The speaker will outline elements of the plans and discuss training for designated responders.

Attendees, who are facilities engineers in local commercial, industrial, institutional and government facilities will find this talk, in particular, very interesting. These entities are in charge of keeping their sites operating in regard to HVAC and electrical systems, water, energy systems, waste disposal, and building and equipment maintenance.
