From:	Stella Ezzell
To:	SMART, DOER (ENE)
Subject:	SMART Program
Date:	Friday, September 27, 2019 5:39:08 PM

Please look more deeply at the science behind cutting forest land to create "sustainable energy" systems. Cutting trees at this time in the Climate Crisis is universally seen as detrimental to the environment. Planting trees again will not suffice as the time it takes to get a tree to its carbon sequestration point is too long for the purposes of the rapid climate change occurring.

Do not cut the forests for this reason. There are many other options to explore to erect solar arrays.

Thank you,

Celinda Ezzell
Shutesbury, MA 01072