
The number of justices for all courts is the total authorized by law.