DECISION

KLLR Foods, Inc. was established in 2005 when it purchased the business. The principals invested monies of their personal funds into the business and borrowed money to renovate the premises. At some point, KLLR was unable to generate business so the bank froze their accounts. As a result of this the business was in arrears of taxes owed to the Commonwealth.

On or about the same time KLLR filed an application for a change of manager application to the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission. This was disapproved for failure to comply with the Massachusetts Tax Laws.

After the parties were present for a hearing and the issues were presented the parties were informed that the license would be remanded back to the Local Licensing Authority after a disapproval to the action of the transfer so that a new application process, ma, if desired, start anew.
