Local Ingredients

Explore the Bay State by sampling the finely crafted ales and lagers from breweries and brew pubs, extending from Cape Cod and the Islands to the Berkshires. With close to 60 breweries to visit, there is plenty of award-winning beer right around the corner.

Many of these world-class breweries feature ingredients from Massachusetts, such as locally grown and malted grains, fresh hops, and indigenous yeast strains. Valley Malt, the region's first micromaltster in Hadley, works with area farmers who supply organic grains. Hops grown at Four Star Farm in Northfield and Clover Hill Farm in Hardwick are also used in many local brews.

A number of seasonal beers use specialty ingredients from Bay State growers, including apples, herbs, honey, maple syrup, cranberries, peaches and oysters! Pumpkins grown by Hadley-based Czajkowski Farms and freshly picked blueberries from Vandervalk Farm in Mendon are among the local ingredients used in brewing.

Your gateway to MassGrown libations, farm products, specialty foods, and fun ag-activities is at www.mass.gov/massgrown! Drink Locally. Drink Responsibly.
