INTRODUCTION

The Massachusetts Office on Disability (MOD) was created in 1981 under Chapter 6, Section 185 of the Massachusetts General Laws. One of the goals of MOD is to increase awareness of the rights of persons with disabilities. It is our hope that this Disability Rights Laws booklet will be a helpful resource for people with disabilities as well as the larger community.

To achieve its goals, MOD focuses its activities in Four Areas of Focus:

Training – Advocacy – Monitoring - Resources

Training

Americans with Disabilities Act, ADA

ADA for Executive Agencies (Title I and II)

ADA for Municipalities (Title I and II)

ADA for Businesses (Title I and III)

ADA for Employment (Title I)

ADA for Customized Topics

Community Access Monitor, CAM

Personal Emergency Preparedness, ER

Commissions On Disability, COD's

COD Guidance and Coordination

Customized Trainings

Architectural Review/Site Visits

Advocacy

Client Services

Inform individuals how disability rights apply to their situation

Re-establish communication with third parties to remove barriers and restore services

Resolve disability-related discrimination and denial of service issues

Provide technical assistance to those seeking reasonable accommodation in housing, employment, government, and places of public accommodation

Client Assistance Program, CAP

Advocate on behalf of applicants to and clients of vocational rehabilitation (VR) agencies and independent living centers (IL)

Apprise stakeholders of VR and IL services as well as CAP's role relative to those programs

Community Services Program

Provide technical assistance on the applicability of architectural access codes

Monitoring

ABUSE, NEGLECT & TREATMENT CONDITIONS

Massachusetts Disabled Persons Protection Act

M.G.L. c. 19c

This statute protects adults with disabilities between the ages of 18 and 59, who are within the Commonwealth whether in state care or in a private setting and who suffer serious physical and/or emotional injury through the act and/or omission of their caregivers. Anyone suspecting abuse can contact the Disabled Persons Protection Commission (DPPC). "Mandated reporters" (physicians, dentists, nurses, teachers, day care workers, etc.) must report cases of suspected abuse. After the suspected abuse is reported, the DPPC investigates allegations of abuse by caretakers only. In some cases, those investigations are referred to an agency within the Executive Office of Health and Human Services for intervention and further investigation. After the investigation (which should be completed within 72 hours if the call is an emergency and 10 business days if it is not) protective services are delivered if appropriate.

Mass. Mental Illness or Mental Retardation, Rights of Persons Receiving Treatment Act

M.G.L. c. 123, §23

Individuals receiving treatment for mental illness or mental retardation are entitled to certain rights and privileges, such as access to telephones, sending and receiving mail, receiving visitors, reasonable daily access to the outdoors and living in a humane psychological and physical environment.

M.G.L. c. 123, §12

Central to these rights is the limitation of the number of days people may be confined to a hospital without a court order.

Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act

42 U.S.C. §1997, et seq.

The Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act (CRIPA) authorizes the U.S. Attorney General to investigate conditions of confinement at state and local government institutions such as prisons, jails, pretrial detention centers, juvenile correctional facilities, publicly operated nursing homes, and institutions for people with psychiatric or developmental disabilities. Its purpose is to allow the Attorney General to uncover and correct widespread deficiencies that seriously jeopardize the health and safety of residents of institutions. The Attorney General may initiate civil law suits where there is reasonable cause to believe that conditions are "egregious or flagrant," that they are subjecting residents to "grievous harm," and that they are part of a "pattern or practice" of resistance to residents' full enjoyment of constitutional or Federal rights, including Title II of the ADA and section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

ARCHITECTURAL ACCESS

Massachusetts Architectural Access Board

G.L. c. 22, §13A

The Architectural Access Board (AAB) is a regulatory agency whose mandate is to develop and enforce regulations designed to make public buildings accessible to, functional for and safe for use by persons with disabilities. See 521 C.M.R. In addition to writing regulations, the Board decides on variance requests, provides training on its regulations, issues advisory opinions and makes decisions on complaints. Local building inspectors are responsible for enforcing the regulations which are a specialized section of the Massachusetts Building Code. See 780 C.M.R. The construction, reconstruction, remodeling, alteration, or change of use of a building or facility that is open to the public may trigger the authority of the AAB. New construction must fully comply.

Federal Architectural Barriers Act

42 U.S.C. § 4151, et seq.

The Architectural Barriers Act (ABA) requires that buildings and facilities that are designed, constructed or altered with federal funds, or leased by a federal agency, comply with federal standards for physical accessibility. 41 C.F.R. §101-19.6. ABA requirements are limited to architectural standards in new and altered buildings and in newly leased facilities.

Americans with Disabilities Act Accessibility Guidelines (ADAAG)

The United States Access Board created the ADAAG in 1991, under authority granted by the Americans with Disabilities Act. Enforced by the United States Department of Justice, the ADAAG establishes uniform federal building standards for new construction and renovations. Pursuant to Section 35.151(c) of the ADA, the 2010 ADA Standards became fully effective on March 15, 2012.

AUTOMOBILES & TRANSPORTATION

Americans with Disabilities Act: Title IIB Transportation

42 U.S.C. § 12141, et seq.

Public Transportation services, such as buses, subways and rail transit systems, may not discriminate against people with disabilities in the ways they provide their services. New public transit buses and rail vehicles ordered after August 26, 1990 must be wheelchair accessible. Transit authorities that operate fixed route bus or rail systems must provide comparable para-transit or other special transportation services to individuals with disabilities who cannot use fixed route bus services, unless an undue burden would result. As of July 26, 1995, existing rail systems were required to have one accessible car per train. Key stations in rapid, light, and commuter rail systems and all existing Amtrak stations must be accessible. Private businesses that provide public transportation services have the same requirements as public transit agencies, except for automobiles. New over-the-road buses (Greyhound-type) must be accessible. Private businesses that provide transportation (such as hotels) must ensure disabled persons a level of service equivalent to that provided to the general public. Under Title III, the ADA also imposes restrictions on private transportation providers that offer their services to the public. The FTA and DOJ have a memorandum of understanding to streamline the enforcement process, please review it here: http://www.fta.dot.gov/civilrights/12875_3898.html

Federal Air Carrier Access Act

49 U.S.C. § 41705

Domestic air carriers may not refuse persons with disabilities transportation because of their disability. Air carriers may not: limit the number of persons with disabilities on a flight; require advance notice except for certain accommodations; require travel with an attendant except in limited circumstances; and charge for accommodations required by the law. In addition, air carriers must: provide boarding assistance and assistance within the cabin, and give priority to storage of wheelchairs. New aircraft over certain sizes must have movable armrests, accessible lavatories and space for storing wheelchairs (the larger the aircraft the more access is required). Air carriers must establish their own compliance procedure, including "complaints resolution officials."

Massachusetts Automobile Excise Tax Exemption

M.G.L. c. 60A, § I

Exempts qualified disabled persons from excise tax requirements. The motor vehicle must be owned and registered by a person who has suffered loss or permanent loss of use of both legs or both arms or loss of vision of both eyes to a certain degree. The exemption applies to one motor vehicle per person, owned and registered for their personal, noncommercial use. Applications for exemptions are available from the local town assessor's office.

Massachusetts Automobile Sales Tax Exemption

M.G.L. c. 64H, §6\(U\)

This law exempts certain people with disabilities from the purchase and use tax of a motor vehicle. To qualify, a disabled person must be the original registered owner of the motor vehicle and have the loss of two or more limbs or permanent loss of use of at least 80% of two or more limbs. Parents and others, who transport similarly disabled children or adults, who have been found incompetent to legally enter into contracts, may also be entitled to this exemption. See DOR Directive 03-11. The Department of Revenue has clarified that a wheelchair lift used to make a van accessible may also be exempt even if purchased separately from the vehicle. In cases where the lift is purchased after the van, a physician's prescription may be needed to document this exemption. See DOR Directive 00-7.

Massachusetts Gas Station Law

G.L. c. 94, § 295CC

Every gas station owner offering motor fuel for sale from both full-service and self-service pumps shall dispense fuel from the self-service pump for any owner-operator of a motor vehicle bearing handicapped person or disabled veteran number plates as described in section two of chapter ninety (see section on Massachusetts Handicapped Plate and Placard Law below for more information). The gas station must display signs in a prominent location stating its compliance with the provisions of this law. The Division of Standards shall develop standards for such signs including, but not limited to, size, text, legibility and location. Note: The Americans with Disabilities Act also directs gas stations assist people with disabilities. See <http://www.ada.gov/gasserve.htm>

HANDICAPPED PARKING LAWS

Massachusetts Chapter 40 governs a variety of activities by cities and towns, including parking. The primary sections that deal with accessible parking are:

Parking Lots

M.G.L. c. 40 § 21, ¶ 23:

All parking lots and garages open to the public must comply with the parking regulations of the Architectural Access Board (521 C.M.R.), which are similar to but significantly different from the specifications of this accessible parking law. The law requires public or private parking areas that are used by the public to reserve designated parking spaces for vehicles, which bear an HP plate, placard or a disabled veteran plate. Standards under the 1991 ADAAG and 2010 ADA Standards specify yet a third set of minimum number of spaces, and were revised effective March, 15, 2012. The minimum numbers for designated spaces are as follows:

Total Spaces	AAB	1991 ADAAG	2010 Standards
1-14	0	1	1
15-25	1	1	1
26-50	2	2	2
51-75	3	3	3
76-100	4	4	4
101-150	5	5	5
151-200	6	6	6
201-300	7	7	7
301-400	8	8	8
401-500	9	9	9
501-1,000	2% of total	2% of total	2% of total
1,001 and over	20, plus 1 for each 100 over 1000	20, plus 1 for each 100 over 1,000	20, plus 1 for each 100, or fraction thereof, over 1,000

For more information, please visit our website's publication page for our "Handicapped Parking Regulations in Massachusetts" or download the WORD DOC here: <http://www.mass.gov/anf/employment-equal-access-disability/oversight-agencies/mod/mod-publications.html>

Parking Meter Fees

M.G.L. c. 40 § 22A:

In cities and towns that have parking meters, people who have an HP plate or display an HP placard are exempt from paying parking meter fees. However, this exemption only applies to meters, not any other type of pay to park system. Fines for parking in a handicapped parking space without a plate or placard range from one hundred dollars ($100) to three hundred dollars ($300). The municipality determines the exact amount. Also, violators may be towed. Enforcement is by the local police or traffic department.

Over Time Parking Limits

M.G.L. c. 40 § 22:

People who have an HP plate or display an HP placard are exempt from the time limits on a parking space, such as 15 minutes or 1 hour only, etc. However, this does not exempt plate or placard users from fines or towing when "No Parking" restrictions are in effect, such as snow emergencies.

Reserved Spaces and Towing

M.G.L. c. 40 §22D:

A municipality may further regulate parking by restricting certain on-street areas for vehicles bearing HP plates or placards. People who park blocking curb cuts or handicapped parking spaces can be towed.

Massachusetts Handicapped Plate and Placard Law

M.G.L. c. 90, §2:

HP plates and placards are issued through the Registry of Motor Vehicles to eligible people with disabilities. As discussed under the parking laws above, they entitle holders: to park in designated HP spaces, to park longer than usual time limits, to park at parking meters free of charge, and to make use of the gas station law. The rights, responsibilities and privileges of plate holders and placard holders are the same. The Registry's Bureau of Medical Affairs determines eligibility according to physician's documentation. Only people who meet the disability definition and who are the registered owner of the vehicle and who are licensed drivers may receive plates. Anyone who meets the disability eligibility requirements can get a placard. The Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles also issues temporary placards in some circumstances. An individual who uses an HP placard without proper authorization is the individual who will be penalized, as opposed to the individual with a disability to whom the placard was issued. A driver picking up or dropping off the authorized placard user may not idle in an accessible parking space for more than ten minutes. The fines for unauthorized utilization of an HP placard are five hundred dollars ($500) for the first offense and one thousand dollars ($1,000) for subsequent offenses. License suspension for violation of this law run from 30 Days for a first offense to one year for a third or subsequent offense. The fines and penalties in this section are in addition to those specified in Chapter 266, Section 37E for the fraudulent use of another's identity. If a plate or placard user voluntarily allows someone else to use his or her placard or plate, it can result in revocation of the placard or plate.

Also, M.G.L. c. 90 §24B, ¶1 provides that:

“Whoever falsely makes, steals, alters, forges or counterfeits or procures or assists another to falsely make, steal, alter, forge or counterfeit a special parking identification disability placard, or whoever has in his possession, or utters, publishes as true or in any way makes use of a falsely made, stolen, altered, forged or counterfeited special parking identification disability placard shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or in jail or house of correction for not more than two years.”

Massachusetts White Cane Law

M.G.L. c. 90 § 14A

Whenever a blind pedestrian, guided by a guide dog or carrying a raised or extended cane that is white or white tipped with red, attempts to cross a street, drivers must stop for the dog or cane user. A person who owns an animal shall restrain and control such animal on a leash when in proximity to a guide dog that is on a public or private way. Violations of this law are punishable by a criminal fine of not less than one hundred and no more than five hundred dollars.

DISABILITY COMMISSIONS

Massachusetts Disability Commissions

M.G.L. c. 40, § 8J

A city or town, which accepts the provisions of this Section, is authorized to establish a Disability Commission to serve in an advisory capacity to municipal governments on disability issues. Commissions work with the Office on Disability to carry out programs and activities designed to integrate people with disabilities into the community. The specific activities of a Commission depend on the needs of the disabled community in the particular city or town. Commissions consist of five to nine members, and are appointed by the mayor or city manager in cities or by the selectmen or town manager in towns. The majority of members must be disabled, and one must be an immediate family member of a disabled person. One member of the Commission must be an elected or appointed official of the city or town. Members are initially appointed in staggered one, two and three year terms. A Commission must have at least six meetings per year, keep records of its meetings and actions, and file an annual report. Commissions generally are authorized to receive gifts and other funds.

Administration of Handicapped Parking Program

M.G.L. c. 40, § 22G

For the benefit of persons with disabilities, cities and towns which have chosen to implement a Handicapped Parking Program may empower their Disability Commission to receive and administer fines from violations of the Handicapped Parking Law. Funds collected pursuant to this law must be kept in a separate account by the municipality's treasurer and shall be used solely for the benefit of persons with disabilities. Expenditures of money collected from the Handicapped Parking Program, including accrued interest, if any, should be approved in accordance with the accepted procedures of the municipality for the disbursement of funds. Massachusetts Public Education Law, Ch. 766

M.G.L. c. 71B, §§ 1 - 16

This state law guarantees a "free and appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment" to all school-aged children (ages 3 to 21) regardless of disability. Any child who qualifies for special education services will receive services specified in an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). A team of interested parties, including educators, parents, physicians and advocates, develops the plan. The law also mandates support for children with disabilities who may be bullied, providing that: Whenever the evaluation of the Individualized Education Program team indicates that the child has a disability that affects social skills development or that the child is vulnerable to bullying, harassment or teasing because of the child's disability, the Individualized Education Program shall address the skills and proficiencies needed to avoid and respond to bullying, harassment or teasing. Federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act

20 U.S.C. § 1400, et seq.

This federal law, modeled after the Massachusetts General Law Chapter 766, requires public schools to make available to all eligible children with disabilities a free and appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment appropriate to their individual needs. Any child who qualifies for special education services will receive services following an evaluation and the development of an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). A team of interested parties, which can include such people as educators, parents, physicians and advocates, develops the IEP.

Massachusetts Fair Educational Practices Law

M.G.L. c. 151C

Very limited protections are available in the area of education. Specifically, for “educational institutions,” it is illegal to exclude from admission any student because the student is blind or deaf or requires the use of a guide dog. Educational institutions are defined as:

“...any institution for instruction or training, including but not limited to secretarial schools, business schools, academies, colleges, universities, primary and secondary schools, which accept applications for admission from the public generally and which is not in its nature distinctly private.”

M.G.L. c. 151C §1\(d\)

For “vocational training institutions,” disability is not mentioned as a protected classification. Vocational training institutions are defined as:

“... any educational institution the primary purpose of which is to offer technical, agricultural, business or trade courses or courses of study leading to employment in recognized trades or occupations.”

Massachusetts Early Childhood Intervention Law

M.G.L. c. 111G

Under this law, early intervention services are provided to children and the families of children who are between birth and three years of age and who have identified disabling conditions or who are at risk for developmental delays due to biological or environmental factors. Services focus on the family and include speech, occupational and physical therapy, social work, psychological, and nursing care. DPH must provide transportation whenever transportation to early intervention services is required. DPH is the lead agency for the coordination of all governmental funding for the provision of early intervention services, both state and federal. DPH is also responsible for administration of an advisory committee, which monitors and assesses the effectiveness of the administration of early intervention services.

Massachusetts Braille Literacy Laws

M.G.L. c. 6, § 133G

Legally blind adults are afforded the right to learn Braille through the Massachusetts Commission for the Blind (MCB). MCB is required to offer instruction up to the grade two Braille level. Additionally, the vocational rehabilitation and independent living programs provided by MCB must evaluate the appropriateness of Braille instruction for each participant in the program. The assessment shall include: (i) the person's efficiency in reading and writing print as compared with a person of similar intellectual ability; (ii) the person's stamina in using print before fatigue occurs; and (iii) the person's prognosis for further sight loss.

M.G.L. c. 71B, §3

School-age children deemed legally blind are entitled to receive Braille instruction as part of their school's special education services. As part of the broader special education evaluation conducted for children with disabilities, the school district must also assess the appropriateness of Braille instruction for the child.

Massachusetts Transitional Planning Services, Turning 22 (Commonly Known as Chapter 688)

M.G.L. c. 71 B, §§ 12A - C

This law provides a transitional planning process for eligible people with disabilities who will lose special education services upon graduation or upon turning 22. An assigned agency develops an Individual Transitional Plan describing the services needed. The Individual Transitional Plan must be agreed upon by the Department of Education, the Executive Office of Health and Human Services, and the person with disabilities or their guardian(s). The Bureau of Transitional Planning within the Department of Education monitors all Chapter 688 cases.

EMPLOYMENT

Americans with Disabilities Act Title I: Employment

42 U.S.C. § 12111, et seq.

The law prohibits employers from firing, refusing to hire or rehire, or otherwise discriminating, against a "qualified" person with a disability on the basis of disability and obligates employers to provide reasonable accommodations. To be "qualified," a person must be able to perform the essential functions of the job, either with or without a reasonable accommodation. Employers are not required to provide an accommodation that would eliminate an essential function of an employee's job or would pose an "undue hardship" for the employer. An accommodation is provided at the employer's expense, unless the employer can demonstrate that it would pose an undue financial hardship. The law applies to employers with 15 or more employees.

This law was substantially revised by the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act \(ADAAA\) of 2008. In enacting the ADAAA, Congress overturned several Supreme Court decisions that Congress believed had interpreted the definition of “disability” too narrowly, resulting in a denial of protection for many individuals with impairments such as cancer, diabetes, and epilepsy. The ADAAA states that the definition of disability should be interpreted in favor of broad coverage of individuals. The determination of whether impairment substantially limits a major life activity requires an individualized assessment. With one exception (“ordinary eyeglasses or contact lenses”), the determination of whether an impairment substantially limits a major life activity shall be made without regard to the ameliorative effects of mitigating measures, such as medication or hearing aids. Additionally, an impairment that is episodic or in remission is a disability if it would substantially limit a major life activity when active.

Massachusetts Employment Discrimination Law

M.G.L. c. 151B §4

This law prohibits any employer in Massachusetts who employs six or more people from firing, refusing to hire or rehire, or otherwise discriminating against a qualified disabled person based on disability. The MCAD is the enforcement agency (See contact info. above in the “Massachusetts Fair Educational Practices Law” section).

Direct-Employment by the Federal Government

29 U.S.C. § 791, et seq.

Section 501 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act governs the Interagency Committee on Employees who are Individuals with Disabilities. This section of the law prohibits discrimination and requires adoption of affirmative action plans for hiring, placement, and advancement of individuals with disabilities within federal agencies and the U.S. Postal Service. Complaints may be filed with the agency’s Equal Employment Opportunity Counselor for informal review and resolution. If the matter is not resolved satisfactorily within 21 days, a formal complaint may be filed with the agency head, the Director of Equal Employment Opportunity, an Equal Opportunity Officer, or other designated official.

Employment by Federal Contractors

29 U.S.C. §793

Section 503 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act prohibits discrimination based on disability and requires affirmative action in hiring persons with disabilities when the employer has a contract or subcontract with the federal government in excess of $10,000.

EQUAL RIGHTS

Americans with Disabilities Act

42 U.S.C. § 12101, et seq.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) provides a comprehensive national mandate for the elimination of discrimination against individuals with disabilities. The individual parts of the law are discussed in the corresponding subject matter sections of this booklet. Specifically, in the following areas of this booklet: Architectural Access; Employment, Title I; State and local government, Title IIA; Transportation, Title IIB; Public accommodations, Title III; and Telecommunications Title IV.

Website: <http://www.ada.gov>

Federal Rehabilitation Act

29 U.S.C. § 791, et seq.

In 1973, Congress passed the Rehabilitation Act in a national effort to end discrimination based on disability by agencies and organizations which receive or benefit from federal financial assistance. The five major components to the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, are: Section 501 – Employment by the Federal Government; Section 502 – Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance; Section 503 – Employment by Federal Contractors; Section 504 – Entities Receiving Federal Funds; and Section 508 – Access to Technology.

Massachusetts Constitutional Amendment

Article 114

The Massachusetts Constitution states:

“No otherwise qualified handicapped individual shall, solely by reason of his handicap, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any program or activity within the Commonwealth.”

Article 114 is written broadly. It prohibits discrimination based on disability on any level within the state, not just for recipients of state or federal funds. For example, town meetings must be held in an accessible place with sign language interpreters provided if needed, and a small grocery store or a privately owned dinner theater cannot refuse to do business with an individual based on the person’s disability.

Massachusetts Equal Rights Law

M.G.L. c. 93 §103

Implementing Article 114 to the Massachusetts Constitution, the equal rights law guarantees persons with disabilities (with reasonable accommodation) the same rights as other persons, such as the rights to contract, to inherit, to purchase, to lease, to sell, to participate in law suits and to receive the full benefit of the law. Complaints of violation of the equal rights law are made by filing a law suit in the superior court.

Massachusetts Executive Order 526

EO 526

Executive Order 526 prohibits discrimination and mandates affirmative action to ensure equal opportunity for people with disabilities by the Executive Department of the Commonwealth. The requirements of this Order apply to State executive agencies’ internal policies and practices, such as employment and the granting of licenses, and apply as well to recipients of state funding, including contract and grant recipients. Each agency under an executive office must create an affirmative action plan, which includes goals and methodology for the placement of people with disabilities in the state’s work force. All state employment, services and facilities should be accessible and non-discriminatory based on disability. Responsibilities for carrying out the requirements of Executive Order 526 are divided among three different agencies: Office of Diversity and Equal Opportunity (ODEO), the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) and the Massachusetts Office on Disability (MOD).

HATE CRIMES

Several Massachusetts laws address actions motivated by bigotry and bias including, but not limited to, a threatened, attempted or completed overt act motivated at least in part by disability based prejudice. These are generally referred to as “hate crimes.” M.G.L. c. 22C, § 32.

Violations of Constitutional Rights; Criminal Penalties

M.G.L. c. 265 §37

Massachusetts law makes the following a crime:

“No person, whether or not acting under color of law, shall by force or threat of force, willfully injure, intimidate or interfere with, or attempt to injure, intimidate or interfere with, or oppress or threaten any other person in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the constitution or laws of the commonwealth or by the constitution or laws of the United States.”

Assault or Battery Re: Intimidation; Weapons

M.G.L. c. 265 §39

(a) An assault or a battery upon a person or damage to the real or personal property of a person with the intent to intimidate such person because of such person's disability is a crime.

(b) A battery in violation of this section and which results in serious bodily injury is punishable by a fine of up to ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the state prison for up to five years, or by both. If the offender is armed with a firearm, rifle, shotgun, machine gun or assault weapon, punishment may be increased to imprisonment in the state prison for up to ten years or in the house of correction for not more than two and one-half years. The surcharge goes to the Diversity Awareness Education Trust Fund. In the case of convictions for multiple offenses, the surcharge is assessed for each conviction. A person convicted of a battery under (b) section must also complete a diversity awareness program designed by the secretary of the Executive Office of Public Safety in consultation with the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination and approved by the Chief Justice for Administration and Management of the Trial Court.

Civil Actions by Attorney General to Enforce Constitutional and Legal Rights

M.G.L. c.12, §11H

The attorney general may bring a civil law suit to protect the peaceable exercise or enjoyment of the right or rights secured by the constitution or laws of the United States, or of rights secured by the constitution or laws of the Commonwealth. This type of law suit is filed in Superior Court and must be based on evidence that a person or persons attempted to or actually interfered by threats, intimidation or coercion, with the exercise or enjoyment of civil rights by any other person or persons.

Civil Damages For Civil Rights Violations

M.G.L. 266, §127B

Any person incurring injury to his person or damage or loss to his property as a result of conduct in violation of this statute is entitled to file a civil law suit to ask the court to stop the violations and to obtain special and general damages, reasonable attorney fees and costs. Parents and legal guardians of an un-emancipated minor child are liable for any judgment rendered against such minor under the provisions of this section. Individuals may file private lawsuits.

HOUSING

Federal Fair Housing Act

42 U.S.C. §§ 3535 & 3601-3620

The Act extends civil rights protection to individuals with disabilities by prohibiting discrimination in the sale, rental or conditions of occupancy of a dwelling because of a person's disability and must allow for reasonable modifications to the dwelling. Owner-occupied dwellings of four or fewer units are exempt from this requirement. It is also unlawful to refuse to allow a person with a disability to make reasonable modifications at his/her expense to allow full use of the premises, unless the property owner can demonstrate that the accommodation would create an "undue hardship" for the owner. In federal publicly assisted housing, or housing with 10 or more units, the landlord is responsible for paying for reasonable modifications unless doing so would impose an "undue hardship." (See "Entities Receiving Federal Funds, Section 504" section below) For federally assisted housing, the federal provider Tenants may be required to remove modifications and return the unit to the original condition upon moving. All new multi-family units, rental units and condominiums, in complexes of four or more units, available for first occupancy have to be "adaptable."

Massachusetts Housing Bill of Rights

M.G.L. c. 151B §4

This law largely mirrors the protections of the federal law. However, unlike federal law, it limits the owner occupied exemption to two-family units. It is illegal for a landlord to ask about a person's disability, except to ask about qualifications for a special type of unit. Only medical opinions that address qualifications for a particular unit may be sought. If there are 3 or more units, reasonable modifications must be made to rules or policies if these modifications are needed for a person with a disability to use or enjoy the premises, unless the property owner can demonstrate that the modification would create an "undue hardship" for the owner. A person with a disability may make reasonable modifications to the premises at his/her own expense. In federal publicly assisted housing, or housing with 10 or more units, the landlord is responsible for paying for reasonable modifications unless doing so would impose an “undue hardship.” The law also requires that new construction of housing with 3 or more units ready for first occupancy be adaptable consistent with AAB regulations. The MCAD is the enforcement agency (See contact info. above in the “Massachusetts Fair Educational Practices Law” section).

Federal Pet Law

12 U.S.C. §1701 r-l; 24 C.F.R. §5.300, et seq.

Guide Dogs and Hearing Dogs In Housing

M.G.L. c. 151B, §4, ¶6 \(b\)

Refusal to sell or rent housing because an individual uses a guide dog for the blind or a hearing assistance dog is specifically prohibited. General federal and Massachusetts anti-discrimination law, discussed above, will apply to others with services animals. The MCAD is the enforcement agency (See contact info. above in the “Massachusetts Fair Educational Practices Law” section).

Massachusetts Property Tax Exemptions

M.G.L. c. 59, §5

Clause 37 provides an exemption of $437.50 of property taxes to legally blind persons who own and occupy their own property. Applications must be made annually. Clause 37A increases the exemption to $500, but is a local option. A vote of Town Meeting (towns) or City Council (cities) must adopt it. Clauses 22, 22A, 22B, 22C and 22E apply to veterans with varying levels of disability (the greater the disability, the larger the exemption). Note: This is the only disability-specific, state-wide tax exemption but you should check with your local city or town to see if it offers an exemption or abatement program for individuals with disabilities.

PUBLIC PLACES & PROGRAMS

Americans with Disabilities Act, State and Local Government, Title IIA

42 U.S.C. §12131, et seq.

State, local and municipal governments must provide equal opportunity for persons with disabilities in all programs, activities, services and employment practices. People using service animals must be allowed equal access. Effective communication must be ensured with persons who are deaf, hard of hearing and blind or who have cognitive disabilities through provision of auxiliary aids and services. Under a concept called “programmatically access,” every part of every facility need not necessarily be accessible. Instead, the programs, activities and services when viewed in their entirety must be readily accessible to and useable by persons with disabilities. Individuals may also file private lawsuits.

Americans with Disabilities Act, Public Accommodations, Title III

42 U.S.C. §12181, et seq.

Public accommodations such as restaurants, retail stores, parks, day care centers and homeless shelters, may not discriminate based on disability. A place of public accommodation must make reasonable modifications to its policies, practices and procedures, to enable a person with a disability full and equal access to all of the activities, programs and services offered, unless the modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of the goods or services, or cause an "undue burden." Physical barriers in existing facilities must be removed if readily achievable. Complaints must be filed within 180 days of the alleged discriminatory act. The DOJ is the enforcement agency, please see contact information under the "Americans with Disabilities Act: Title IIB Transportation" section above.

Entities Receiving Federal Funds, Section 504

29 U.S.C. §794, et seq.

Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act prohibits discrimination against people with disabilities under any program or activity receiving or benefiting from federal financial assistance. It states that:

"No otherwise qualified handicapped individual in the United States ... shall, solely by reason of his handicap, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance or under any program or activity conducted by any Executive agency or by the United States Postal Service."

Organizations, such as colleges, public schools, libraries, hospitals, or cultural programs, which receive or benefit from federal financial funds, must provide equal opportunity for people with disabilities in their programs and activities. Remedying actions might include the provision of sign language interpreters, the distribution of material in large print or braille or moving a class to a physically accessible location. Every part of every building need not necessarily be accessible, but the program, when viewed in its entirety must not discriminate against or segregate persons with disabilities.

Massachusetts Public Accommodations Law

M.G.L. c. 272, §§ 92A and 98

Discrimination in places of public accommodation based on disability is prohibited. A public accommodation is defined as any place, which is open to and accepts the general public. The law prohibits discrimination not only in terms of building access but also in terms of the programs or services offered. A complaint must be filed within 300 days of the alleged act. The Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination is the enforcement agency (See contact info. above in the "Massachusetts Fair Educational Practices Law" section).

Sign Language Interpreters In Court

M.G.L. c. 221, §92A

When a deaf or hearing impaired person is a party or a witness, this state law entitles the person to have a qualified interpreter in any court proceeding, juvenile proceeding, or proceeding before an executive or legislative board, commission, agency, or any other body of the state or its political subdivisions. This law also entitles a deaf or hearing impaired person to have an interpreter during any proceeding that follows an arrest such as notification of rights, warnings, interrogation, or taking of a statement. The interpreter must be approved by the Massachusetts Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing.

SERVICE ANIMALS

Public Accommodations

M.G.L. c. 272, §§ 92A and 98A

Any person with a disability accompanied by a dog guide is entitled to any and all accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of all public conveyances, public amusements and places of public accommodation, within the Commonwealth, to which others not accompanied by dogs are entitled, subject only to the conditions and limitations applicable to all persons not accompanied by dogs. People training service animals are also protected. No service animal user may be required to pay any charge or fare for the service animal in addition to those lawfully chargeable for the user's own travel. The MCAD is the enforcement agency (See contact info. above in the "Massachusetts Fair Educational Practices Law" section).
