

Judge Robert Rufo tells the audience made up of Barnstable High School and Middle School students what the meaning of the plays about to be presented are

Court Room scene from the first play about a Defendant's Constitutional Rights Under the 4th Amendment

The neighbor on the left tells the neighbor on the right about his intention to build a wall separating their land in the second play about Quantum Meruit which means "As Much As Is Deserved"

The Quantum Meruit case goes to court and the judge finds for the plaintiff

The Cast featuring students from Barnstable High School, Judges, volunteers from the Barnstable Police Department and others. The two plays were presented three times a day to a total of 2500 High School and Middle School students over a period of three days, April 14,15,16, 2009