DCR HOLDING FREE BASEBALL CLINICS

Have some fun and learn the fundamentals!

The Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) is sponsoring three free, drop-in baseball clinics in Boston this summer for children 8 to 12 years old.

“These clinics promise to be a great way for young players of all abilities to learn or hone their skills with people who know the game well,” said DCR Commissioner Richard K. Sullivan Jr. “We are delighted to be partnering with former scouts for the Cincinnati Reds and New York Mets to make this possible.”

The clinics will run from 9 a.m. to noon at Teddy Ebersol’s Red Sox Fields along Storrow Drive in Boston on three Saturdays: July 11, July 25, and August 15.

DCR’s cosponsor in running the clinics is LearnBaseball.us, a group of former professional baseball scouts. Children attending the July 11 clinic will receive free tickets for their families to the Lynn Navigators home game that night.

No preregistration is required. Participants can just show up at the starting time.

For more information on the clinics, call 617-626-4973 or visit DCR’s website:
