

Westfield State University & the Massachusetts
Inclusive Concurrent Enrollment Initiative
PRESENT

EMERGING TRENDS:

A Conference on High-Impact Transition Practices

An exploration of the best theory & research supporting high-impact practices in the transition process for young adults with disabilities to post-secondary opportunities

KEYNOTE

*Inclusive Campuses: A Vision for Institutional
Change in Higher Education*

Melissa M. Jones, Ph. D.
Professor of Special Education
Northern Kentucky University

Westfield State University
June 9, 2015
8:00am — 4:00pm

Additional speakers
include:

Representative
Tom Sannicandro

Chairman,
Massachusetts Joint
Committee on Higher Education

Maria Paiewonsky

Transition Specialist,
Institute for Community
Inclusion, UMass Boston

CONFERENCE GOALS

- ✓ To share information on emerging transition trends & practices for campus partners, school districts, and families;
- ✓ To create an environment to facilitate sharing of best practices and to discover how to put theory into practice;
- ✓ To convene coordinators of ICEI programs in order to better coordinate inter-system interventions and to bridge connections between districts.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

To register, please visit:
<http://www.westfieldalumni.org/emergingtrends>

For more information, contact Ian Witherby:
emergingtrends@ianwitherby.com

INCLUSIVE
CONCURRENT
ENROLLMENT
INITIATIVE