Welcome!

You are now a MassHealth member.

What is MassHealth?

The Medicaid program in Massachusetts is called the MassHealth program. MassHealth helps people who get MassHealth benefits to join a health plan.

A health plan is a group of providers, hospitals, and other professionals who work together to help meet your health care needs.

Most MassHealth members now get their health care services through a health plan.

MassHealth members who cannot enroll in (join) a health plan are those:

- over age 65;
- residing in an institution;
- having other comprehensive (total) health insurance; or
- determined eligible for MassHealth Limited.

MassHealth members who can voluntarily enroll with a health plan are:

- MassHealth members who are in the care or custody of the Department of Children and Families or the Department of Youth Services.

Note: MassHealth members who are under age 21 and who have comprehensive (total) health insurance, or are in the care or custody of the Department of Children and Families or the Department of Youth Services, receive behavioral health services from MassHealth’s behavioral health managed care provider.

All other MassHealth members are required to enroll with a health plan.

If you must join a health plan, you should enroll in a health plan within 14 days from the date we mailed you this guide. If you do not choose a health plan, MassHealth will choose one for you.
Your MassHealth card

MassHealth will send you a member card.

If you already have a MassHealth card and a new one comes in the mail, call the MassHealth Customer Service Center at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled) and ask which card to use.

Carry your MassHealth card and your health plan ID card. Show them whenever you get health care services and whenever you go to the pharmacy.

Your health plan will send an identification (ID) card. Carry that with you too, and show it to your health care provider. Show both cards when you go to a pharmacy.

Enrolling in a health plan

You must enroll in a health plan that is offered in the region where you live. The Comparison Chart that came with this guide will show you the plans that are available in your region. You will have 14 days from the date we mailed you this guide to enroll. Learn more on page 9.

3 Health plans and primary care providers

What is a health plan?

A health plan is a group of providers, hospitals, and other health care professionals who work together to help meet your health care needs.

You must enroll in a health plan that is offered in the region where you live within 14 days from the date we mailed you this guide. After you enroll, you will get most of your health care services from the health plan.

When you enroll in a health plan, you need to choose a primary care provider.

What is a primary care provider?

A primary care provider (also called a PCP) is the health care provider you choose to give you routine care. Your primary care provider gives you all of your regular health care and refers you to specialists when necessary. Your primary care provider may be a doctor or a nurse practitioner.

Specialists are providers with extra training. You may need to get a referral from your primary care provider to see some specialists, but your health plan will give you more information about which specialists you can see without a referral. To get a referral, call your primary care provider. For more information, see page 14 of this guide.

Your primary care provider

Your primary care provider is your health care partner. He or she will get to know you and your health care needs. Visit your primary care provider when you are sick and go for regular checkups when you are well. Children should get checkups from their primary care provider at specific ages and also whenever there is a concern about their health, even if it is not time for a regular checkup. Learn more on page 16.

Regular checkups keep you and your children healthy. All health plans pay for regular checkups for all their members.

Go to your health care appointments on time. If you cannot go to an appointment, please call the primary care provider’s office as soon as possible and tell your provider that you can’t come to the appointment.

Questions? Call a MassHealth customer service representative at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled). You can call Monday–Friday, 8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m. The call is free.
What your health plan can do for you

To see all of your covered health care benefits, look at the Summary of MassHealth Benefits that came in the envelope with this guide. This Summary also tells you which benefits you get from MassHealth and which you get from your health plan.

Some services may have limits, including age limits. Many may require either a referral from your primary care provider or a prior authorization from your health plan, or both. Your health plan will provide you with more information about referrals and prior authorization. Also, you may have to pay a small fee (copayment) for some services.

Your health plan provides benefits such as:

- preventive care and regular checkups;
- drugs (medicine) at the pharmacy;
- drug and alcohol counseling;
- counseling to help you stop smoking;
- pregnancy care and family planning services;
- physical therapy and other rehabilitative care;
- inpatient hospital care;
- emergency care;
- mental health care;
- home health care;
- emergency transportation; and
- care for chronic (long-term) diseases or disabilities.

Your plan may also offer prevention programs, such as programs to help members lose weight and manage stress.

To find out exactly which benefits you can get from your health plan:

- look at the Summary of MassHealth Benefits that came in the envelope with this guide;
- read the member handbook that your health plan sends you after you enroll;
- call your plan’s member services department. The phone number is on page 25 of this guide; and
- call MassHealth at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled).
4 How to choose

Are all health plans the same?

No. Some plan benefits are the same, and some are different.

Health plans are the same in the following ways:

- They have providers, hospitals, and specialists to take care of your health needs.
- They all cover the same MassHealth benefits, but each one may offer special benefits. To see the benefits that all the health plans cover, look at the Summary of MassHealth Benefits that came in the envelope with this guide. To see each health plan’s special benefits, look at the documents that are inside the front cover of this guide. They will tell you about the health plans available in the region where you live.
- You need to show both your health plan ID card and a MassHealth card to get MassHealth covered services.
- You can call your primary care provider 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
- They have a member services department to answer your questions.
- You can complain if you are unhappy with the health care that you get.
How are health plans different?

To find out what makes the health plans different from each other, read the documents that are inside the front cover of this guide. They will tell you about the health plans available in the region where you live.

Each plan offers special benefits, such as health education programs, services, and other benefits. You will see that some plans offer services in just one part of the state, while others serve the whole state. In general, you must enroll in a health plan that is in the region where you live. There are certain times when you can choose a health plan that is not in your region. For more information, call MassHealth Customer Service at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled).

The six plans that work with MassHealth

To learn more about the six plans that work with MassHealth, read the documents that are inside the front cover of this guide. They will tell you about the health plans available in the region where you live.
Choosing the health plan that is best for you

Here are some tips on how to choose a health plan.

- Make a list of the providers, specialists, counselors, and hospitals that you and your family use now.

- Find out what health plans are available in the region where you live. You can call MassHealth Customer Service to find out which health plans are offered in your region. There are certain times when where you can choose a health plan that is not available in your region. For more information about these circumstances, call MassHealth Customer Service.

- Decide which person or hospital on the list is most important to you. All providers and specialists do not work with all plans.

- Call one of the following.
  - The provider, counselor, or hospital, and say, “I would like to know which MassHealth plans you work with.”
  - MassHealth at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled) to find out if a provider is part of a MassHealth health plan.
  - A health plan’s Member Services Department, or check their website, to find out if your provider is part of that MassHealth health plan. You can find the phone number and websites for a health plan’s member services department on page 25 of this guide.

- Choose the health plan that works with the provider, counselor, or hospital you want to keep using.

Choosing a primary care provider

You must choose only one provider in your health plan to be your primary care provider. If you do not choose, MassHealth or your health plan will pick a primary care provider for you.

If you do not have a primary care provider now, you can ask your family and friends to tell you about a primary care provider they go to and like. If you decide that you want that provider too, find out which health plans that provider works with.

Does each family member have to choose the same plan and provider?

No. Each person in your family can go to different primary care providers and different health plans.
How to enroll

How do you enroll in a health plan?

It’s easy to enroll! Follow these 3 steps.

Step 1: Choose a health plan that is offered in the region where you live. There are certain times when you can choose a health plan that is not offered in your region. For more information, call MassHealth Customer Service at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled).

Step 2: Choose a primary care provider.

Step 3: Call MassHealth Customer Service and say that you want to enroll. Or, fill out the form in this guide and mail it in the envelope that came with this guide. You do not need a stamp.

Remember, you must enroll within 14 days from the date we mailed you this guide. If you do not choose a health plan and primary care provider within 14 days, MassHealth will choose for you. It is better if you make the choice. You know what is best for you and your family.
After you enroll

What to do after you enroll

Here are some tips for what to do when you’re in a health plan.

- Make an appointment with your primary care provider so he or she can get to know you.
- Visit your primary care provider for regular checkups or when you need care.
- Call your primary care provider if you have a question about getting health services.
- Go to a hospital emergency room or call 911 when you have a serious health problem that you think needs immediate attention (see page 20 for more information on emergency care).
- For a mental health or substance use disorder emergency, you can also call the Emergency Services Program in your area. You can find the number for the program in your area in your health plan’s provider directory or member handbook.
- If you go to the emergency room, call your primary care provider within 48 hours for follow-up care. If you have a mental health or substance use disorder emergency, you should also call your mental health or substance use disorder provider.
- Always carry your MassHealth card and any other health plan ID cards with you.
- Show your MassHealth card and any other health plan ID cards whenever you get health care.
- Read everything that your health plan sends you.
- For assistance and information regarding benefits that you receive from MassHealth, call your health plan’s member services department. The phone number is on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide.
Keep MassHealth up to date

It is important to tell MassHealth and your health plan about changes in your life.

Tell us as soon as possible about changes such as:

- the birth of a baby;
- a change in your income;
- a new address; or
- a new telephone number.

Tell MassHealth if you have changes so we can make sure you and your family are getting the benefits you need.

We need your address so that we can send you important information about benefits and services for you and your family. If we have the wrong address and your mail is sent back to us, MassHealth may stop your health coverage.

If you receive benefits other than MassHealth

You should also report changes, such as your address and income, if you get any of the following benefits.

- Transitional Aid to Families with Dependent Children (TAFDC) or Emergency Aid to the Elderly, Disabled, and Children (EAEDC) benefits from the Department of Transitional Assistance (DTA). Call your local DTA office at 1-800-445-6604 (TTY: 1-888-448-7695);

- Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) benefits from the Social Security Administration (SSA). Call your local SSA office at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY: 1-800-325-0778); or

TTY numbers are for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled.
Other health insurance

If you have other insurance such as Medicare, veterans’ benefits, or health insurance through your job or a family member’s job, call MassHealth to tell us. You must also tell us if you have a chance to get other insurance.

Call MassHealth at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled) Monday–Friday, from 8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

Having other insurance might not affect your MassHealth benefits. In fact, MassHealth may even help you pay for the other insurance.

If you have other insurance, you may not be able to stay in a MassHealth health plan, but you might still get MassHealth benefits. If you have questions about other insurance, call MassHealth Customer Service.

Bills and copayments

You should not get a bill for any service that is covered by MassHealth, but you may need to pay a small fee (copayment) for some of the services listed in the enclosed Summary of MassHealth Benefits. To find out more about copayments, look in your health plan’s member handbook.

Also, you may ask for a health care service that your provider or health plan decides is not “medically necessary” (needed). If you choose to have that service anyway, you might have to pay for the service.

A provider, hospital, pharmacy, or other health care professional cannot refuse to provide a service even if you cannot afford to pay. However, you may get a bill for the copayment.

What to do if you get a bill for a MassHealth-covered service or benefit

If you get a bill for any service that is covered by MassHealth, call your health plan’s member services department. You can find the phone number for your health plan’s member services department on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide. If you are a PCC Plan member, call MassHealth Customer Service.

You can also call the provider who is sending you a bill. Tell the health care provider that you are a MassHealth member. Also tell the provider the name of your health plan and ask them to bill your health plan for the service.

Look at your MassHealth card and any other health plan ID card you have, and tell the provider, “I am a MassHealth member and I got a bill for a covered service. Here is my MassHealth card number and my health plan ID card number.”
Can you change your health plan?

Yes, you can change your health plan any time. If you want to change, call MassHealth Customer Service at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled). Tell the person that you would like to change your health plan. Ask for information about other health plans in your region. There are certain times when you can choose a health plan that is not offered in your region. Ask the person for more information.

The MassHealth customer service representative can change your health plan while you are on the phone.

Can you change your primary care provider?

Yes, you can change your primary care provider. To change your primary care provider, call the member services department of your health plan. Tell the member services department that you would like to choose a new primary care provider who participates with your health plan.

The member services department’s phone number is on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide. If you are a PCC Plan member, call MassHealth Customer Service.
Covered services

What MassHealth services can you get?

MassHealth offers many health care services. To find out what services you can get, read the Summary of MassHealth Benefits that came in the envelope with this guide. Some services may have limits, and many require either a referral from your primary care provider or a prior authorization from your health plan or both. The way to get these services may differ, depending on the health plan you choose.

Going to specialists

A specialist is a provider with extra training. If your primary care provider thinks that you need to see a specialist, he or she will give you permission. Your primary care provider’s permission is called a referral.

Check with your primary care provider or with your health plan’s member services department to see if you need a referral. You may need a referral to see a specialist even if you have seen that specialist before.

Here are some services that do not need a referral from your primary care provider:

- treatment for an emergency health condition;
- mental health services;
- substance use disorder treatment services;
- family planning services; and
- dental care.

There may be other times when you do not need a referral. For more information, ask your primary care provider or call your health plan’s member services department. You can find the phone number of the member services department on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide.

Talk with your health plan if you have special health care needs or if you are pregnant.

Questions? Call a MassHealth customer service representative at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled). You can call Monday–Friday, 8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m. The call is free.
Mental health and substance use disorder services

Once you enroll in a health plan, you can get mental health and substance use disorder services through your health plan’s network of providers. If you or your child is under the age of 21, you may be able to get additional services. See the next section about checkups and treatment for your children.

If you get mental health or substance use disorder services now and want to keep your provider, you should enroll in a health plan that your provider works with.

Call your provider and say, “I am now a MassHealth member and I must enroll in a health plan. Which MassHealth health plans do you work with?” You can also call MassHealth at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled) to find out if a provider is part of a MassHealth health plan. Or, call your plan’s member services department to find out if a provider is part of a MassHealth health plan. You can find the phone number for your health plan’s member services department on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide. If your new health plan does not cover your mental health or substance use disorder providers that you see now, ask the Member services department if you can continue to see your current mental health or substance use disorder providers and ask for help to find a provider covered by the health plan.

If you are pregnant

If you are pregnant, call your primary care provider as soon as you can. Your primary care provider will send you to an obstetrician/gynecologist (OB/GYN), who is a doctor that treats pregnant women. You can also call your OB/GYN directly.

Prenatal care

Prenatal care means regular health care during pregnancy. Prenatal visits to your OB/GYN provider are important for you and your baby. When you see the provider, you can ask what you can do to have a healthy pregnancy and healthy baby.

Here are some important tips during pregnancy.

- Eat a balanced (good) diet.
- Take your prenatal vitamins.
- Get plenty of rest.
- Go to every prenatal visit.
Choosing a health plan and PCP for your baby

Your baby will need a health plan and a primary care provider, too. Choose before the baby is born, so your new baby can see a provider right away. If you do not choose a health plan and a primary care provider for your baby, MassHealth will choose them for you. To choose the best PCP for your children:

- Primary care providers for children can be either pediatricians (providers who take care of babies and children), family practitioners (providers who take care of people of all ages), or nurse practitioners. Ask your member services department for a list of these providers.
- Talk to your family and friends—you might like the provider they use.
- Call the provider’s office to make sure it is in a place you can get to easily.
- Choose while you are pregnant, so the provider can check your baby as soon as he or she is born.
- After your baby is born, tell your health plan the name of your baby’s primary care provider.

Make a postpartum appointment

Make an appointment to visit your OB/GYN provider 4 to 6 weeks after your baby is born so the OB/GYN can check to see how you are doing. This visit is called a “postpartum visit.”

Checkups and treatment for your children

All health plans pay for well-child checkups plus treatment services for children who are under 21 years old. Children who are under age 21 should go to their primary care provider for checkups even when they are well.

As part of a well-child checkup, your child's primary care provider will perform screenings that are needed to find out if there are any health problems. These screenings include health, vision, dental, hearing, behavioral health, developmental, and immunization-status screening services. Your provider may make treatment recommendations or give you referrals as a result of these screenings.

If your child receives a referral to see a behavioral health provider, the provider will use the Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths (CANS) tool to help collect and record information gathered from his or her assessments. CANS will help to better identify and assess your child's behavioral health strengths and needs, and will help you and your provider plan treatment and monitor your child's progress. The behavioral health provider will update the information in the CANS at least every 90 days as long as you continue to see him or her. Ask your behavioral health provider to tell you more about CANS.
All health plans pay your primary care providers for these checkups. At well-child checkups, primary care providers can find and treat small problems before they become big ones.

Take a child for full physical exams and screenings when they are:

- 1 to 2 weeks;
- 1 month;
- 2 months;
- 4 months;
- 6 months;
- 9 months;
- 12 months;
- 15 months;
- 18 months; and
- 2 years through 20 years.

After age 2, children should visit their primary care provider once a year.

Children should also visit their primary care provider any time there is a concern about their medical or behavioral health, even if it is not time for a regular checkup.

You and your primary care provider should talk about any treatment your child may need after the checkup. All health plans pay for the following treatment for your child.

- Preventive Pediatric Health-care Screening and Diagnosis (PPHSD) services for children enrolled in MassHealth Family Assistance. Each health plan pays for all medically necessary services that are covered under your child’s coverage type. This means that, when a primary care provider (or any other clinician) discovers a health condition, your health plan will pay for any medically necessary treatment that is included in your child’s coverage type if it is prescribed by a provider who is qualified and willing to provide the service.

- Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT) services for children enrolled in MassHealth Standard or CommonHealth. Each health plan pays for all medically necessary services that are covered by federal Medicaid law, even if the services are not provided by MassHealth or your health plan. This coverage includes health care, diagnostic services, treatment, and other measures needed to correct or improve defects and physical and mental illnesses and conditions. When a primary care provider (or any other clinician) discovers a health condition, your health plan will pay for any medically necessary treatment covered under Medicaid law, if it is delivered by a provider who is qualified and willing to provide the service, and a MassHealthenrolled physician, nurse practitioner, or nurse midwife supports in writing the medical necessity of the service. You and your primary care provider can seek assistance from MassHealth to determine what providers may be available to provide these services, and how to use providers outside your health plan's network, if necessary.

Most of the time, these services are covered by your child's MassHealth coverage type. If the service is not already covered, the clinician or provider who will be delivering the service can ask your health plan or MassHealth for prior authorization for the service. Procedures for requesting prior authorization of EPSDT services are described in MassHealth regulations found at 130 CMR 450.144. MassHealth or your health plan uses this process to determine if the service is medically necessary. Talk to your child's primary care provider, behavioral health provider, or other specialist for help in getting these services.

Call the MassHealth Customer Service Center at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled) or your health plan's member services department to find out more about how to get medically necessary services covered by MassHealth. You can find the phone number of your health plan's member services department on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide.

Dental care for your children

All health plans pay for dental services, such as screenings and cleanings, for children under age 21.

Primary care providers do a dental exam at each well-child checkup. When a child is three years old, his or her primary care provider will suggest that he or she visit a dentist at least twice a year.

When children go for routine dental exams, the dentist will give a full dental exam, teeth cleaning, and fluoride treatment. It is important that children get the following dental care:

- A dental checkup every six months, starting no later than age three.
- A dental cleaning every six months, starting no later than age three.
- Other dental treatments needed, even before age three, if a child's primary care provider or dentist finds problems with a child's teeth or oral health.

Children who are under age 21 and enrolled in MassHealth Standard or CommonHealth can get all medically necessary treatment covered under Medicaid law, including dental treatment, even if the service is not otherwise covered by MassHealth.
Children who are under age 21 and enrolled in Family Assistance can get all medically necessary services covered under the child's benefit package, including dental treatment.

Talk to the child's primary care provider or dentist for help getting these services.

- Children do not need a referral to see a MassHealth dentist.
- Children can visit a dentist before age three.

Early intervention services for children with growth or development problems

Some children need extra help for healthy growth and development. Providers who are early intervention specialists can help them. Some examples of these specialists are:

- social workers;
- nurses; and
- physical, occupational, and speech therapists.

All of these providers work with children who are under three years old—and their families—to give these children extra necessary support. Some of the services are given at home and some are at early intervention centers.

Talk to your child's primary care provider as soon as possible if you think your child has growth or development problems. All health plans pay for early intervention services.
Emergency care

Going to the emergency room

Emergency room care is only for health problems that you believe are serious enough to require immediate attention. If you are having a health emergency, you can go to any emergency room or call 911. For all other health problems, you should call your primary care provider. You can reach your primary care provider (or someone in the office) 24 hours a day, including weekends.

You can also get mental health and substance use disorder emergency services from the Emergency Service Program in your region. You can find the number in your health plan’s provider directory.

Some examples of emergencies are:

- heavy bleeding;
- severe vomiting;
- severe or sudden pain or pressure;
- poisoning;
- difficulty breathing;
- loss of consciousness (passing out or fainting);
- convulsions or seizures (shaking all over that you cannot control); and
- thoughts of hurting yourself or others.
Finding the emergency room closest to you

To find a local emergency room, do one of the following.

- Call your health plan’s member services department. The phone number is on your health plan ID card and on page 25 of this guide.
- Call MassHealth at 1-800-841-2900 (TTY: 1-800-497-4648 for people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled).
- Call 911.

If you are not sure whether you need emergency care, you can call your primary care provider first. Your primary care provider might be able to see you at the office.

All health plans cover treatment for emergencies. You do not need a referral for emergency care.

Getting care outside of Massachusetts

If you get emergency care when you are outside of Massachusetts, certain rules apply. Ask your health plan’s member services department what to do if you plan to travel out of the state so you will know what to do if you have an emergency.

- Your providers will make you part of all decisions about your health care.
- You can refuse health care treatment.
- You can call your primary care provider’s office 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
