The Massachusetts Burn Injury Reporting System:

Questions and Answers

1. What is the burn injury reporting law in Massachusetts?
   Chapter 112, Section 12A of the Massachusetts General Laws provides for the mandatory reporting of the treatment of burn injuries.

2. What kinds of burns must be reported?
   Any burn injury of 5% or more of the surface body area must be reported immediately by attending physician and/or emergency room personnel.

3. How are burns reported?
   By calling the state’s toll-free, 24-hour Burn Hotline at 1-800-475-3443 and completing a written burn injury report and mailing it immediately to: M-BIRS, Office of the State Fire Marshal, P. O. Box 1025, Stow, MA 01775.
   or by Completing the written report and faxing it to the Office of the State Fire Marshal at 978-567-3199.
   and by
   Notifying the police chief/department of the city or town where the burn occurred.
8. Does this include burns treated by a private physician in a private setting?
   Yes. All burns of 5% or more of the surface body area must be reported.

9. What about patient transfers?
   The physician and/or hospital, clinic etc. providing treatment of a burn must make the required notifications immediately.

10. Is there a penalty for non-compliance?
    Yes. Massachusetts law provides for punishment by a fine of up to one hundred dollars for violation of the burn injury reporting law. (C. 112, § 12A, MGL)

11. Where do we obtain more burn injury reporting forms?
    By writing or calling the State Fire Marshal’s Office at P.O. Box 1025, Stow, MA 01775, 978-567-3382. You may also leave a request on the 24-hour Burn Hotline at 1-800-475-3443.

4. Who is legally responsible for reporting burns?
   “Every physician attending or treating a burn injury, or whenever any such case is treated in a hospital, sanitarium or other institution, the manager, superintendent or other person in charge thereof.”

5. When did the burn injury reporting system go into effect?
   On June 1, 1984, a joint memo was issued to all Massachusetts hospitals, police chiefs, and fire chiefs from the state Commissioners of Public Safety and Public Health advising that, as of that date, the Massachusetts Burn Injury Reporting Law would be in effect. It remains a cooperative effort between the Department of Public Health and the Department of Fire Services.

6. What is the purpose of the burn injury reporting law?
   Primarily enacted as an aid in detecting arsonists who may burn themselves accidentally during the course of their crime, the M-BIRS program has proven useful in developing a sound burn data base from which effective burn prevention and education programs may be and have been developed.

7. What about burns which occur out of state but which are treated here in Massachusetts?
   All burns treated in Massachusetts must be reported.
