Abstract

This report provides a statistical description of the 15,373 offenders committed by the courts to Massachusetts county facilities (jails or houses of correction) during 1992. The report presents information on institution committed to, court committed from, month of commitment, offense, sentence length, sentence type, age, sex, race, marital status, education, place of birth and residence.

Some highlights of the statistics presented in this report are:

- In 1992 there were 15,373 commitments to county facilities. This represents an increase of 5 percent over the 14,676 commitments in 1991.
- In terms of general categories of offenses, 16 percent were committed for offenses against the person, 2 percent for sex offenses, 26 percent for property offenses, 15 percent for drug offenses, 14 percent for Operating Under the Influence of alcohol (O.U.I.), and 28 percent for all other offenses.
- The most common offenses for which offenders were committed were O.U.I. (14 percent), motor vehicle violations (13 percent), and assault and battery (8 percent).
- The median sentence length was six months. Ten percent were committed in lieu of payment of a fine. One percent were serving weekend sentences.
- The median age of offenders committed to county facilities was 28 years.
- Sixty-three percent of the offenders were Caucasian, 20 percent were African American, 15 percent were Hispanic, and one percent were other races.
- The median educational level was 11th grade.
- Seventy-two percent of the offenders were single, 15 percent were married and 13 percent were separated, divorced or widowed.
- Sixty-eight percent were born in Massachusetts, 18 percent were born in other states, 9 percent were born in U.S. territories, and 5 percent were foreign-born.

Introduction

This report provides a statistical description of offenders committed to Massachusetts county facilities (jails and houses of correction) during 1992. Included in this report is information about the county facilities and their operating expenditures. Offenders are described in terms of commitment institution, month of commitment, committing court, offense, sentence length, sentence type (weekend and jail sentences), sex, age, race, marital status, education, place of birth, and residence. Trends in court commitments to the county correctional system over the past decade are also presented. The statistical tables were derived from information submitted by each county facility to the Operations Research Unit of the Research Division in the Department of Correction and were produced on the DOC's VAX Computer System.

When referring to the statistical tables, the reader should note the following: (1) the total population is sub-divided by commitment institution, (2) the left number in each cell represents the total number of offenders committed to a particular institution who fall into the corresponding category in that row of the table; and (3) the right number in each cell (the number contained in parentheses) is the percent distribution of the number of offenders who fall into each category (column percents). In the narrative, percentages reflect only those cases where data were available. Cases with missing data were excluded. For example, on pages thirteen and fourteen, Month of Commitment is presented and the following types of information can be obtained:

The author would like to acknowledge the assistance of Betty Chow, Collette McKoy and Debra Burden in the preparation of this report.

- (1) The total number of offenders is broken down by commitment institution, and these are labeled and presented horizontally across the top of the table;
- (2) The specific months are labeled and presented vertically;
- (3) Of the 15,373 offenders committed during 1992, 2,553 were committed to the Middlesex County facility;
- (4) Of the 2,553 offenders committed to Middlesex County, ten percent (N=245) were committed in January.

County Facilities in Massachusetts

There are fourteen counties in Massachusetts. All counties except for Nantucket County have at least one county correctional facility administered by the county sheriff. These facilities usually contain a jail, for pre-trial detainees, and a house of correction, for sentenced inmates. The location and administrators of all facilities are shown in Appendix I. Suffolk County has a separate facility for its jail (Nashua Street) and its house of correction (South Bay). The South Bay House of Correction is administered by the Penal Commissioner of Boston. Middlesex County has two facilities, a combined jail and house of correction in Billerica and a jail in Cambridge. Four counties have specialized facilities for sentenced offenders: Essex County has the Correctional Alternative Center (CAC) in Lawrence; Hampden County has the Western Massachusetts Correctional Alcohol Center (WMCAC) facility in Springfield; Bristol County has the Eastern Massachusetts Correctional Alcohol Center (EMCAC); and Norfolk County has the Braintree Alternative Center. Individuals are not committed directly to these four facilities, but can be transferred to them from a house of correction or a state correctional facility.

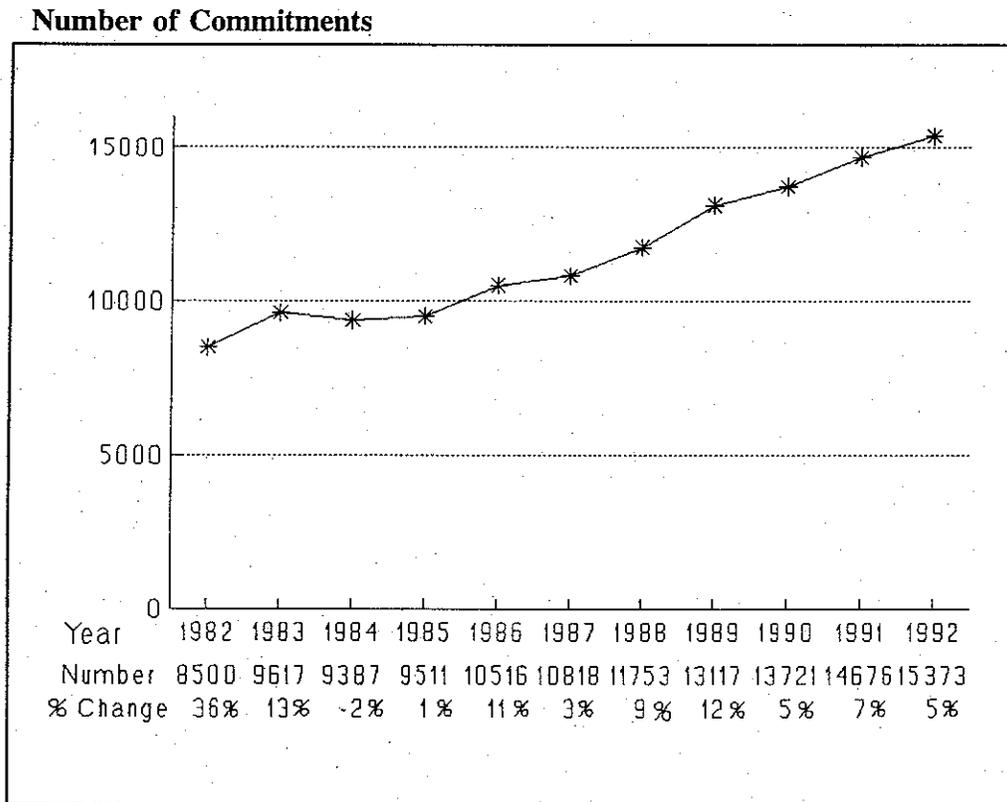

The operating expenditures for each county facility, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1992, are shown in Appendix II. These include expenses for salaries, food, utilities and other expenses.

The population in county correctional facilities for the period January 1, 1992 to December 31, 1992 is shown in Appendix III. This includes the average daily population (ADP), beginning and ending population, design capacity, and average daily population divided by design capacity, which is an indicator of facility utilization.

Commitments to County Correctional Facilities, 1982 to 1992

During 1992 there were 15,373 commitments to county facilities. This is a 5 percent increase from the 14,676 commitments in 1991, and an 81 percent increase from the 8,500 commitments in 1982. Commitments to county facilities for the last eleven years are shown in Figure 1.

Commitments 1982 to 1992

The largest increase in commitments came between 1981 and 1982 when there was an increase of 36 percent or 2,254 commitments. Much of this increase was due to O.U.I. offenders. Commitments for O.U.I. increased from 295 in 1981 to 1,305 in 1982, an increase of 1,010.

Table 1 shows selected characteristics of offenders committed to the county correctional system during the six year period 1987 to 1992. During this six year period, the number of commitments increased by 42 percent or 4,555 from 10,818 in 1987 to 15,373 in 1992. With the exception of Dukes County, all county facilities experienced increases in commitments from 1987 to 1992.

The offenses for which individuals were committed changed over the last six years. Between 1987 and 1992, increases occurred for all offense categories except OUI, which showed a decrease of 20 percent (N=531). During the 1987-92 period, commitments for drug offenses increased by 133 percent (N=1,334); commitments for person offenses increased 98 percent (N=1,206); commitments for motor-vehicle offenses increased by 53 percent (N=752); commitments for other offenses increased by 60 percent (N=789); commitments for property offenses increased by 29 percent (N=903); and commitments for sex offenses increased by 53 percent (N=102).

The distribution of sentence length shifted upward over the past six years. In 1987, 35 percent of commitments had a sentence of one month or less (including fines); and in 1992, 30 percent of all commitments had a sentence of one month or less. In 1987, 40 percent of all commitments had a sentence of six months or more; and in 1992, 49 percent of all commitments had a sentence of six months or more.

The age distribution of county commitments also shifted upward over the last six years. In 1987, 40 percent of the commitments were 24 years or younger and 60 percent were 25 years or older. In 1992, 32 percent of the commitments were 24 years or younger and 68 percent were 25 years or older.

A Description of 1992 Commitments

In this section the 15,373 offenders committed to county facilities during 1992 will be described in more detail. Characteristics of the present offense will be noted followed by a summary of personal background characteristics of the county offender population. Information for each institution for these variables can be found in the following tables.

Present Offense Characteristics

Committing Institution. The number of commitments ranges from a low of 36 in Dukes County to a high of 2,553 in Middlesex County. Six of the fourteen counties received more than 1,000 commitments in 1992: Middlesex (N=2,553), Worcester (N=2,108), Suffolk (N=2,008), Hampden (N=2,001), Bristol (N=1,772), and Essex (N=1,530). These six counties accounted for 78 percent of all county commitments in 1992.

Committing Court. Most offenders committed to county facilities are sentenced by the lower courts in the county to which they are committed. Ninety-six percent were from lower courts and 4 percent were from superior courts.

Present Offense. Most offenders committed to county facilities were sentenced for non-violent offenses (82 percent); 18 percent were committed for violent offenses, those against the person or sex offenses.

Of the 18% committed for violent offenses, sixteen percent were for offenses against the person. Most of these were for unarmed assault (assault or assault and battery) (N=1,315) or armed assault (assault and battery with a dangerous weapon or assault with a dangerous weapon) (N=883). There were 47 commitments for vehicular homicide.

Two percent of the violent commitments were for sex offenses (N=293) including 29 for rape, 200 for assault with intent to rape (which includes assault with intent to rape a minor), and 64 for other sex offenses (e.g., unnatural acts, lewdness, indecent exposure and sexual misconduct). Of the 229 commitments for rape and sexual assault, 127 involved minors as victims and 102 involved adults as victims.

Twenty-six percent of all commitments were for property offenses. The most common property offenses were: burglary (N=1,231), larceny (N=972), receiving stolen goods (N=538), stealing (N=333), property injuries (N=262), and vehicle theft (N=158).

Eighteen percent of the non-violent commitments were for drug offenses. Eighty-nine percent of these drug offenses were for violation of the Controlled Substance Act with Class A, Class B, or Class D substance (N=2,081).

Forty-one percent of all commitments were for offenses in the "other" offense category. Most of these commitments were for motor vehicle violations (N=2,172) and O.U.I. (N=2,076). Other common offenses in this category were disturbing the peace (N=373), weapons (N=307), and violation of a court order (N=216).

Sentence. The median sentence length for 1992 commitments was six months. In general, offenders sentenced for less than two months will serve their entire sentence, and offenders sentenced for two months or more will be eligible for parole after half of their sentence is served. Ten percent of the commitments (N=1,572) were in lieu of payment of a fine. County sentences range up to two and one-half years, but in a small number of cases, offenders can serve consecutive sentences of two and one half years or less, such that the total length of sentence will be more than two and one half years.

Some sentences are served only on weekends, one percent of all commitments were weekend sentences (N=195). Weekend sentences were used most extensively in Franklin and Hampden counties where 5 and 4 percent of all commitments were served on weekends.

Personal Background Characteristics

Age. The age of offenders ranged from 16 years to 80 years. The median age was 27 years. There were 1,955 offenders (13 percent) age 20 years or younger and 26 (less than one percent) age 65 and over.

Sex. Of the 15,373 commitments to county facilities, there were 611 females and 14,762 males. Most females that received a county sentence were sent to MCI-Framingham, the state correctional facility for female offenders.

Race/Ethnicity. The majority of offenders were Caucasian (63 percent). Twenty percent were African American and 15 percent were Hispanic. There were 205 individuals (one percent) in other racial groups. Suffolk County house of correction was the only facility where the majority of commitments were non-Caucasian: (55 percent African American, 31 percent Caucasian, 14 percent Hispanic, and 1 percent "other").

Marital Status. Most offenders were single (72 percent). Fifteen percent were married at the time of commitment and 13 percent were separated, divorced or widowed.

Education. The median educational level was 11th grade. Eight percent had only a grade school education (first through eighth grade), 39 percent completed some high school and 44 percent were high school graduates with no further formal education. Eight percent had at least some college education and 2 percent reported having a college degree.

Place of Birth. Sixty-eight percent of all county commitments were born in Massachusetts, 18 percent were born in other states, 9 percent were born in U.S. territories and 5 percent were foreign-born. Bristol County had the highest proportion of foreign-born offenders (9 percent); Dukes County had the highest proportion born in other states (39 percent); Hampden County had the highest proportion of offenders born in U.S. territories (23 percent); and Berkshire County had the highest proportion born in the same county as the facility (59 percent).

Residence. As reported by the counties, all but 447 offenders committed to county facilities were residing in Massachusetts at the time of commitment. In most cases, the offenders were residing in the same county as the facility to which they were committed. Hampden County had the highest proportion of county residents (91 percent), and Norfolk County had the lowest proportion of county residents (54 percent).
