Contact: D.Traub, 781-830-4917

In response to citizen request, the Norfolk District Attorney's Office affirms that the court dates previously announced in the matter of Commonwealth v. Radoslaw Czerkawski remain unchanged. He is due to return to Norfolk Superior Court July 7 for final pre-trial conference and is on for trial July 13, 2015.

The date of trial is often consumed by the jury selection process.

The July 13, 2015 trial date is relative to the larceny indictments only; the animal cruelty indictments remain pending and will be tried subsequently. The defendant remains in custody, held without bail

Please be advised that as the trial date approaches, there is likely to be little or no public comment from the NDAO on the case other than scheduling information.
