Updates & Resources

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin

This spring, the VA rolled out new guidelines for offering extended hours during normal business hours (8AM-4PM), consider asking for a Saturday appointment or call for Brockton Primary Care, Roxbury, or JP in the primary care clinics Saturday mornings! You asked for it…we listened!

Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clinic! Brockton is looking to increase our SANE Care Manager - Staffing additions are also underway in Brockton’s Women’s Health Clin more. It was a profound belief to be able to talk to another woman knowing that they weren’t looking at me and assessing my personal physical abilities, but rather, to chose a leadership role. I will always be proud of this, and I will never forget the impact that the many women of the military have had on my career path.

Do things the right way - my first captain trained me to do everything with integrity, and the right way. He never allowed us to cut corners and to not do the right thing. He taught me to be proactive, not reactive. He taught me to be fair, not biased. He taught me to be a servant leader, not a self-serving one. He taught me to be a leader who empowers others, not a leader who micromanages. He taught me to be a leader who listens, not a leader who talks. He taught me to be a leader who is accountable, not a leader who tries to shift the blame.

The military taught me to take care of my people. The Navy is like a family, in addition to getting the work done, officers have to make sure the needs of the crew are met. I was responsible for overseeing the communications for the White House. It was a challenging environment, but it was a rewarding experience.

In November 2001, I reported to the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) as a Presidential Communications Officer to work around the world with both Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama. WHCA creates a communications infrastructure for the President and his family to run on a daily basis.

In my role, I was responsible for communicating with the White House Communications Office, the USNavy for the coordination of meetings, briefings, and other communication needs. This role empowered me to work alongside my fellow women veterans and to help other women in the military.

For most of my career in the Navy I was one of very few women present. I think this is a significant challenge for women who want to serve in the White House. It is important that we continue to support and mentor women in the military and to encourage them to continue their education and career.

Do things the right way - my first captain trained me to do everything with integrity, and the right way. He never allowed us to cut corners and to not do the right thing. He taught me to be proactive, not reactive. He taught me to be fair, not biased. He taught me to be a servant leader, not a self-serving one. He taught me to be a leader who empowers others, not a leader who micromanages. He taught me to be a leader who listens, not a leader who talks. He taught me to be a leader who is accountable, not a leader who tries to shift the blame.

The military taught me to take care of my people. The Navy is like a family, in addition to getting the work done, officers have to make sure the needs of the crew are met. I was responsible for overseeing the communications for the White House. It was a challenging environment, but it was a rewarding experience.

In November 2001, I reported to the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) as a Presidential Communications Officer to work around the world with both Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama. WHCA creates a communications infrastructure for the President and his family to run on a daily basis.

In my role, I was responsible for communicating with the White House Communications Office, the USNavy for the coordination of meetings, briefings, and other communication needs. This role empowered me to work alongside my fellow women veterans and to help other women in the military.

For most of my career in the Navy I was one of very few women present. I think this is a significant challenge for women who want to serve in the White House. It is important that we continue to support and mentor women in the military and to encourage them to continue their education and career.

Do things the right way - my first captain trained me to do everything with integrity, and the right way. He never allowed us to cut corners and to not do the right thing. He taught me to be proactive, not reactive. He taught me to be fair, not biased. He taught me to be a servant leader, not a self-serving one. He taught me to be a leader who empowers others, not a leader who micromanages. He taught me to be a leader who listens, not a leader who talks. He taught me to be a leader who is accountable, not a leader who tries to shift the blame.

The military taught me to take care of my people. The Navy is like a family, in addition to getting the work done, officers have to make sure the needs of the crew are met. I was responsible for overseeing the communications for the White House. It was a challenging environment, but it was a rewarding experience.

In November 2001, I reported to the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) as a Presidential Communications Officer to work around the world with both Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama. WHCA creates a communications infrastructure for the President and his family to run on a daily basis.

In my role, I was responsible for communicating with the White House Communications Office, the USNavy for the coordination of meetings, briefings, and other communication needs. This role empowered me to work alongside my fellow women veterans and to help other women in the military.

For most of my career in the Navy I was one of very few women present. I think this is a significant challenge for women who want to serve in the White House. It is important that we continue to support and mentor women in the military and to encourage them to continue their education and career.

Do things the right way - my first captain trained me to do everything with integrity, and the right way. He never allowed us to cut corners and to not do the right thing. He taught me to be proactive, not reactive. He taught me to be fair, not biased. He taught me to be a servant leader, not a self-serving one. He taught me to be a leader who empowers others, not a leader who micromanages. He taught me to be a leader who listens, not a leader who talks. He taught me to be a leader who is accountable, not a leader who tries to shift the blame.

The military taught me to take care of my people. The Navy is like a family, in addition to getting the work done, officers have to make sure the needs of the crew are met. I was responsible for overseeing the communications for the White House. It was a challenging environment, but it was a rewarding experience.

In November 2001, I reported to the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) as a Presidential Communications Officer to work around the world with both Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama. WHCA creates a communications infrastructure for the President and his family to run on a daily basis.

In my role, I was responsible for communicating with the White House Communications Office, the USNavy for the coordination of meetings, briefings, and other communication needs. This role empowered me to work alongside my fellow women veterans and to help other women in the military.

For most of my career in the Navy I was one of very few women present. I think this is a significant challenge for women who want to serve in the White House. It is important that we continue to support and mentor women in the military and to encourage them to continue their education and career.

Do things the right way - my first captain trained me to do everything with integrity, and the right way. He never allowed us to cut corners and to not do the right thing. He taught me to be proactive, not reactive. He taught me to be fair, not biased. He taught me to be a servant leader, not a self-serving one. He taught me to be a leader who empowers others, not a leader who micromanages. He taught me to be a leader who listens, not a leader who talks. He taught me to be a leader who is accountable, not a leader who tries to shift the blame.

The military taught me to take care of my people. The Navy is like a family, in addition to getting the work done, officers have to make sure the needs of the crew are met. I was responsible for overseeing the communications for the White House. It was a challenging environment, but it was a rewarding experience.

In November 2001, I reported to the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) as a Presidential Communications Officer to work around the world with both Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama. WHCA creates a communications infrastructure for the President and his family to run on a daily basis.

In my role, I was responsible for communicating with the White House Communications Office, the USNavy for the coordination of meetings, briefings, and other communication needs. This role empowered me to work alongside my fellow women veterans and to help other women in the military.

For most of my career in the Navy I was one of very few women present. I think this is a significant challenge for women who want to serve in the White House. It is important that we continue to support and mentor women in the military and to encourage them to continue their education and career.

Do things the right way - my first captain trained me to do everything with integrity, and the right way. He never allowed us to cut corners and to not do the right thing. He taught me to be proactive, not reactive. He taught me to be fair, not biased. He taught me to be a servant leader, not a self-serving one. He taught me to be a leader who empowers others, not a leader who micromanages. He taught me to be a leader who listens, not a leader who talks. He taught me to be a leader who is accountable, not a leader who tries to shift the blame.

The military taught me to take care of my people. The Navy is like a family, in addition to getting the work done, officers have to make sure the needs of the crew are met. I was responsible for overseeing the communications for the White House. It was a challenging environment, but it was a rewarding experience.

In November 2001, I reported to the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) as a Presidential Communications Officer to work around the world with both Presidents George W. Bush and Barack Obama. WHCA creates a communications infrastructure for the President and his family to run on a daily basis.

In my role, I was responsible for communicating with the White House Communications Office, the USNavy for the coordination of meetings, briefings, and other communication needs. This role empowered me to work alongside my fellow women veterans and to help other women in the military.

For most of my career in the Navy I was one of very few women present. I think this is a significant challenge for women who want to serve in the White House. It is important that we continue to support and mentor women in the military and to encourage them to continue their education and career.