CAREGIVING IN THE NEWS

Strategies for Long-Distance Caregiving

Elizabeth Yuko writes for the New York Times about her experience as a long-distance caregiver, including participation in the Case Western Reserve University “Closer” study, as well as helpful strategies.

How Caregiving Makes You Healthier, Stronger and Wiser

This Next Avenue article summarizes the benefits of caregiving according to several research studies. It turns out that we may be better off abiding by the mantra “survival of the kindest” versus “survival of the fittest”.

When Siblings Share The Caregiving For An Aging Parent, Will It Be Welfare Or Warfare?

Jody Gastfriend, a frequent contributor to Forbes, describes four of the common sources of sibling conflict, as well as ideas for mitigation and potential resources, in caring for an older parent together.

Should Parents Add Kids to the Family Caregiving Team?

This article published in US News explores whether children should be members of the caregiving team. It describes the benefits and risks for both the older care recipient and young adult or child.

RESEARCH AND POLICY UPDATES

Report: A State by State Analysis of Laws that Help Working Family Caregivers

The National Partnership’s Raising Expectations report takes an in-depth look at laws in 50 states and the District of Columbia, grading each state based on whether it guarantees workers access to basic supports — including paid or unpaid family and medical leave and paid sick days.

New AARP Public Policy Institute Reports: Long-Term Services and Supports and Workplace Leave Policies

AARP recently published two reports, one containing the latest information about individual state long-term services and supports, the second examining the status and importance of paid family leave programs.

US House of Representative’s LHHS Appropriations Bill Includes Care Corps Grants

In September, the House of Representatives voted to pass the fiscal year 2019 Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education (LHHS) appropriations bill, which includes $5 million in funding for Care Corps grants. The Care Corps program is modeled after the Peace Corps, where young volunteers are placed in high need communities to provide respite and other non-medical services across the US. In exchange, volunteers receive living allowance and benefits, and would be eligible for tuition assistance or loan repayment.

IMPORTANT PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENTS & REMINDERS

Thank you to everyone who participated in our September 26 MFCSP call. It was wonderful to learn about your tips and resources for helping family caregivers!

Please email Amanda Bernardo if you are interested in joining the Caregiver Assessment Tool workgroup, or if you have any helpful documentation that might pertain to the Operations Manual (program guides, tips for new hires, etc.).

Also, please let us know if there are any events or meetings this fall that EOEA may want to attend – we are still trying to get to know each of your programs!

THIS MONTH’S CAREGIVING MANTRA

“Just get in the boat and start rowing”

Often times, caregivers feel overwhelmed and the consequences of making a mistake seem enormous. Encourage them to go ahead and make that one phone call or ask that first question.
What is important is taking that first step!

MONTHLY SPOTLIGHT

Older Caregivers Needed!
UMass Boston's "Aging Together" Study Investigates the Relationship Between Older Adult Children and Their Parent(s)

UMass Boston is conducting a research study funded by the National Institute on Aging titled "Aging Together: Senior Children and Their Parents".

The purpose of the study is to learn more about what the relationship is like for older caregivers and their parent(s), the challenges they face, and the support they need.

The study is for older adult children (age 65+) and their parent(s) (age 90+). The study requires an in-person interview with each person at a place of the participants' convenience. Each participant will receive $40 as compensation.

This study is led by Dr. Kathrin Boerner, an Associate Professor at UMass Boston's Department of Gerontology. Her study as well as stories about the relationship between older caregivers and their aging parents was recently included in a Boston Globe article.

For more information or if you think you have a caregiver interested in participating, please contact agingtogether@umb.edu or 617-901-1082.
