CONCERNED about the privacy and security of information

COMMUNICATION with physician is easier electronically

POSITIVE about sharing data with consent

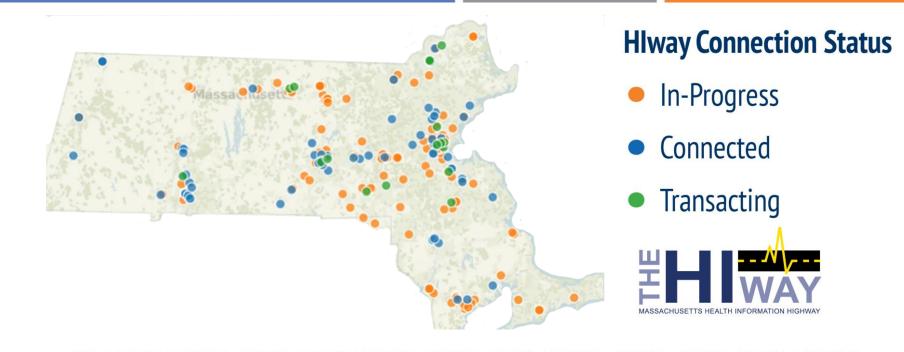

Asked a question electronically they would not have otherwise

If all doctors used EHRs instead of paper records it would improve care

Connected Care

Practices report exchanging information electronically

Practices not currently participating that plan to adopt HIE in the next few years

Consumers heard of health information exchange

Consumers think sharing information electronically between providers will improve quality of care

- Meaningful progress has been made in EHR adoption, which is now very high among primary care providers;
- Adoption is not as strong among certain provider groups, such as Behavioral Health and Long-Term and Post-Acute Care organizations. These groups will be a focus of MeHI's efforts in the years ahead;
- We need to support providers as they move beyond EHRs to information exchange; and
- Consumers are excited about the benefits of health information technology!
