Re: Office of Patient Protection Interim Guidance on M.G.L. c. 1760, §24

Establishing Appeals Process for Patients of Risk Bearing Provider Organizations

This Interim Guidance is being issued by the Office of Patient Protection to advise provider organizations that are certified as risk bearing provider organizations (RBPOs) by the Division of Insurance of the legal requirement to establish an appeals process to address patient complaints or grievances and to provide guidance on minimum requirements of such a process. See M.G.L. c. 176O, §24, attached. Until such time as the Health Policy Commission ("Commission") issues a regulation implementing M.G.L. c. 176O, §24, any provider organization that is certified as a RBPO under M.G.L. c. 176T shall comply with the requirements in this Interim Guidance. Provider organizations seeking certification as Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs) by the Commission under M.G.L. c. 6D, § 15 shall also comply with this Interim Guidance.

For the purposes of this Interim Guidance, patients are defined as: primary care patients for whose care the RBPO or ACO is at risk through an alternative payment contract with a carrier, as defined under M.G.L. c. 176T, §1 but not including Medicare or Medicare Advantage patients of an RBPO or ACO for whom applicable Medicare consumer protections apply, as defined by Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

Pending the issuance of a final regulation, the RBPO shall be in compliance with M.G.L. c. 176O, §24 by establishing a process for patients, as defined above, to submit a complaint or grievance with the RBPO regarding issues that are not within the purview of the patient's insurance carrier or health plan sponsor. Such process must meet the following requirements consistent with the statute:

¹ See the Office of Patient Protection regulations at 958 CMR 3.000 or contact the insurance carrier or health plan sponsor for more information.

- 1. The RBPO shall provide patients with an opportunity to make a complaint or grievance about referral restrictions or other potential limitations of care not properly addressed by the patient's insurance carrier or health plan sponsor, such as denials or restrictions on referrals to non-participating providers; denials or restrictions on type or intensity of treatment or services; and denials or restrictions on timely access to treatment or services. The RBPO shall notify patients about how to make a complaint (e.g., providing a phone number or other contact information).
- 2. The RBPO shall make information about its appeals process available to patients and the public. At a minimum, the RBPO shall make such notice available in writing at all locations where patients regularly seek care, such as primary care physicians' offices, and, by request, in electronic or other requested format. The RBPO may use the attached sample notice as a guide.
- 3. In its notice to patients, the RBPO shall inform patients of the right to designate a third party to advocate on the patient's behalf during the appeals process including, but not limited to, a spouse or other family member, an attorney of record or a legal guardian. In addition, the RBPO notice shall include contact information for the Office of Patient Protection.
- 4. The RBPO must complete its review of each patient appeal within fourteen (14) days. For a patient with an urgent medical need including, but not limited to, terminal illness or an emergency situation, the RBPO must provide an expedited review of each patient appeal, which shall be completed within three (3) days.
- 5. During the review of the appeal, the RBPO shall not: (i) prevent a patient from seeking medical opinions outside of that organization; or (ii) terminate any medical services being provided to the patient, including medical services which began prior to the appeal and are the subject of such appeal.
- 6. After completing its review, the RBPO shall provide its decision to the patient in writing. The notice of decision shall include contact information for the Office of Patient Protection.
- 7. The RBPO shall submit two reports to the Office of Patient Protection. The first report shall be due on October 17, 2016 for appeals received during the period of July 1, 2016 through September 30, 2016. The second report shall be due on January 17, 2017 for appeals received during the period of October 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016. The reports shall contain the following information:
 - a. A copy of the patient notice used by the RBPO. The notice need only be provided in the RBPO's first report unless the notice has changed since the previous report.

b. A summary report of the patient appeals received by the RBPO involving referrals or other potential limitations of care not properly addressed by the patient's insurance carrier or health plan sponsor. The list shall not include any information that identifies the patient, but shall include the number of appeals and the resolution of the appeal. The appeals shall be classified into the following categories: (1) denials or restrictions on referrals to non-participating providers; (2) denials or restrictions on type or intensity of treatment or services; (3) denials or restrictions on timely access to treatment or services; and (4) other. For appeals categorized as "Other," the RBPO shall include a brief description of the patient's concern.

c. A description of the RBPO's appeals process to resolve patient complaints. The description shall include at what organizational level (i.e., individual practice or provider organization) the appeals process is initiated and the title and clinical background of the individual(s) reviewing consumer appeals. The description shall include the standard and guidelines used to review consumer appeals. The second report shall identify any changes in the process since the previous report.

M.G.L. 1760 § 24

§ 24. Internal appeals processes for risk-bearing provider organizations; patient's right to third-party advocate; external review process

Effective: October 1, 2013

- (a) All risk-bearing provider organizations certified under chapter 176U shall create internal appeals processes. The appeals processes shall be available to the public in written format and, by request, in electronic format.
- (b) The internal appeals processes in subsection (a) shall be completed in a period not longer than 14 days; provided, however, that an expedited internal appeal shall be completed in a period not longer that 3 days for a patient with an urgent medical need including, but not limited to, terminal illness or emergency situations, as defined through regulations by the office of patient protection. During the appeals process, the risk-bearing provider organization shall not: (i) prevent a patient from seeking medical opinions outside of that organization; or (ii) terminate any medical services being provided to the patient, including medical services which began prior to the appeal and are the subject of such appeal. The decision on the appeal shall be in writing and shall notify the patient of the right to file a further external appeal.
- (c) Risk-bearing provider organizations shall inform any patient of the right to designate a third party to advocate on the patient's behalf during the appeals process including, but not limited to, a spouse or other family member, an attorney of record or a legal guardian. If the patient does not elect a person to serve as his or her advocate such provider organization shall offer to contact the office of patient protection and the office of patient protection may designate an ombudsman to advocate on the patient's behalf.
- (d) The office of patient protection shall establish by regulation an external review process for the review of grievances submitted by or on behalf of patients of risk-bearing provider organizations. The process shall specify the maximum amount of time for the completion of a determination and review after a grievance is submitted and shall include the right to have benefits continued pending appeal. The office of patient protection shall establish expedited review procedures applicable to emergency and urgent care situations
- (e) The office of patient protection shall promulgate regulations necessary to implement this section.
