¹Discovery Benefits, Inc. reported that "the lives reported are COBRA continuation lives only, so the total lives are smaller than what a typical self-funded employer would report for all of their employees. Because it's COBRA, Discovery only has a "subscriber" when somebody retires or leaves the company and goes on COBRA continuation health coverage, which is a small number of people relative to all of the employees in a company."

²Infinisource, Inc. was unable to provide information regarding dependent members.
