Dear Sample A. Sample,

We want to inform you about an issue involving your personal information maintained by American Trust, the trustee of DCG's 401(k) plan with ForUsAll. Below are details about this issue.

What Happened?

We recently learned that, on June 5, 2024, American Trust inadvertently sent a report about our 401(k) plan to a few human resources employees at our former subsidiary company CoinDesk, its new owner, and its 401(k) service provider.

What Information Was Involved?

The report, which American Trust had sent via encrypted email, contained personal information about certain of our 401(k) plan members, such as names, addresses, and Social Security numbers. In light of the recipients of the information, American Trust has indicated that it does not believe there is any risk that personal information has been misused in connection with this issue.

What We Are Doing

Since being notified of this issue, DCG has been coordinating with American Trust to understand the actions taken to protect our plan members' personal information. American Trust told us that the company immediately took steps to remediate the issue, including revoking access permissions in the encrypted email and obtaining confirmation from each unintended recipient that they deleted the email and did not retain copies of the report.

What You Can Do

Out of an abundance of caution, we are informing you about this issue and have arranged to provide complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services to affected employees for two years. The enclosed Reference Guide provides information on how to register for these services and additional information on the protection of personal information.

For Massachusetts Residents. You have the right to obtain a police report and request a security freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit file at the consumer reporting agencies without your consent. There is no charge to place or lift a security freeze. For more information on security freezes, you may contact the three nationwide consumer reporting agencies or the U.S. Federal Trade Commission as described above. The consumer reporting agencies may require that you provide certain personal information (such as your name, Social Security number, date of birth, and address) and proper identification (such as a copy of a government-issued ID card and a bill or statement) prior to honoring your request to place a security freeze on your account.
