Good Morning,

No, you will not need to RSVP to attend a stakeholder session.

To pre-register to provide oral comments or ask questions during a stakeholder session (in person, on Zoom, or by telephone), notify ERG at meetings@erg.com.

For more information, the webpage for these sessions is available at <https://www.mass.gov/info-details/2024-grid-equity-act-stakeholder-sessions>.

The Notice in English for these sessions is available at <https://www.mass.gov/doc/gea-stakeholder-notice/download>

There are no plans for particular emphasis on larger projects over smaller ones at this time.

Thank you

Dear EFSB staff

I have two questions about the upcoming Stakeholder Sessions.

1. Do people need to RSVP if they are attending in person or hybrid?
2. While I see that the content covered will be both for large and small clean energy projects, and I have heard that when possible, the regs should be the same for both, will there be an emphasis on large projects since DOER is not fully operational in setting up its new siting division?

Thank you
