Dear <<Full Name>>:

Sedgebrook OpCo SL VII LLC (“Sedgebrook”) values and respects the privacy of your information, which is why we are writing to advise you of an incident that may have involved some of your personal information. We have no evidence that the information involved in this incident has been misused for the purpose of committing fraud or identity theft. Nonetheless, we want to make you aware of the incident and the steps we have taken to address it.

What Happened? On May 5, 2025, we detected suspicious activity within Sedgebrook’s computer network. Upon discovering the incident, we promptly began an internal investigation, worked to secure our systems, and notified law enforcement. We also engaged a forensic security firm to assist with our investigation and ensure the security of our computer network. The forensic investigation determined that an unauthorized third party accessed our computer network from May 4, 2025, until May 5, 2025, and encrypted certain Sedgebrook files. The investigation also determined that the third party may have acquired certain Sedgebrook files during the incident.

What Information Was Involved? We reviewed the files potentially accessed or acquired by the unauthorized third party to determine if they contained any personal information. Based on the results of our investigation, on August 26, 2025, we determined that the files contain some of your personal information, including your name, together with your <<Breached Elements>>.

What We Are Doing In addition to the actions described above, we are taking further steps to reduce the risk of this type of incident occurring in the future, including enhancing our technical security measures. The District of Columbia and Massachusetts law also allow consumers to place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze can be placed without any charge. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a written request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies by regular, certified or overnight mail at the addresses below or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online security freeze request procedures:
