Dear <<First_name>> <<Middle_name>> <<Last_name>> <<Suffix>>:

Barr & Barr is writing to notify you of a matter that involves some of your information. This notice provides you with information about our response and resources available to you to help better protect your information, should you feel appropriate to do so.

Please know that we take the security of information in our care seriously. We conducted an investigation into suspicious activity identified on our computer network to determine what may have happened and what information was involved. Through this investigation, we determined that your name and Social Security number were potentially impacted by this event.

We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors over the next 12 to 24 months. You may also review the information contained below. We are providing you with access to complimentary identity monitoring services through Kroll for <<ServiceTerminMonths>> months. Your identity monitoring services include Credit Monitoring, Fraud Consultation, and Identity Theft Restoration. Please note that, due to privacy restrictions, we are unable to automatically enroll individuals in the complimentary identity monitoring services.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request
