NOTICE OF <<VARIABLE DATA 1>>

Dear <<Full Name>>:

Tris Pharma writes to inform you of a recent event that may affect some of your information. Tris Pharma takes this event and the privacy, security and confidentiality of the information in our care very seriously. While there is no evidence of actual or attempted fraud or identity theft associated with this event, in an abundance of caution, we are providing you with information about the event, our response, and resources available to help further protect your information, should you feel it necessary to do so.

What Happened?

On September 24, 2025, Tris Pharma was alerted to suspicious activity on certain systems on our network. Tris Pharma took quick steps to ensure the security of the network and launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the event. The investigation determined that an unknown actor gained access to certain systems on Tris Pharma's network between September 24, 2025 and September 25, 2025, and may have copied off certain information.

As part of the investigation, Tris Pharma conducted a review of the potentially impacted data to determine what information may be involved. The review concluded recently and determined that information related to you may have been involved in the event.

What Information Was Involved?

The data that may be involved in the event could include your <<Breached Elements>>. Please note, there is no evidence of actual or attempted fraud or identity theft associated with this event.

What We Are Doing.

Tris Pharma takes this event seriously, and the privacy, security, and confidentiality of information in our care is among our highest priorities. Upon identifying the suspicious activity, Tris Pharma moved quickly to ensure the security of the systems and launched an investigation. We also reported this event to law enforcement and are notifying relevant regulators, as required. As part of our ongoing commitment to the security of information in our care, Tris Pharma is reviewing our internal policies, procedures, and security tools to reduce the risk of a similar event from occurring in the future.

As an added precaution, we are offering you access to 24 months of complimentary credit monitoring through Epiq - Privacy Solutions ID. More information about these services, and enrollment instructions, is included in the enclosed Steps You Can Take To Help Protect Personal Information.

What You Can Do.

We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. You may also enroll in the complimentary monitoring services being offered. Additional information and resources may be found in the Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information.

For More Information.

We understand that you may have questions about the event not addressed in this letter. Should you have any additional questions, please contact our dedicated assistance line at 855-403-1838, Monday through Friday, between 9:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. Eastern Time, excluding major U.S holidays.

Sincerely,

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and oag.dc.gov.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.
