Dear

Victory Disability (“Victory” or “Firm”) is writing to inform you about a security incident that involved your personal information. We encourage you to read this letter carefully as it contains important details about this incident, Victory’s response, and steps you can take to help protect your information.

In November 2025, Victory was made aware of claims that an unknown party obtained information belonging to our Firm. In line with our incident response protocols, we promptly initiated an investigation with the assistance of third-party cybersecurity specialists to confirm the security of our environment and to determine the validity of these claims. We also notified federal law enforcement authorities.

Our investigation found that from October 27 to November 12, 2025, an unknown party accessed a portion of our environment and may have viewed or copied certain information stored there.

Protecting the information in our care is one of our top priorities. While security threats continue to impact all of us, Victory takes measures to protect the data entrusted to us. In response to this incident and through our ongoing comprehensive review, we continually evaluate and modify our practices and internal control to enhance privacy and security.

Additionally, although we have no evidence that any information was posted on the dark web or otherwise made publicly available, Victory is bringing in independent cybersecurity experts to continue to monitor the situation. These experts will scan relevant dark web forums and marketplaces. As of today, we have no reason to believe any information has been posted.

Additionally, we are making available complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services for 24 months to help safeguard your information. We strongly recommend reviewing the steps outlined below to safeguard your information and enrolling in the complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services that we have arranged at no cost to you. 2. Contact Law Enforcement. You may contact law enforcement to report incidents of identity theft, to learn about steps you can take to protect yourself from identity theft or obtain a police report.
3. Request Security Freezes. You have the right to request a security freeze from a consumer reporting agency, free of charge, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a security freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a security freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit.

Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit bureau. To place a security freeze on your credit report you must contact the credit reporting agency by phone, mail, or secure electronic means and provide proper identification of your identity.

The consumer reporting agencies may require proper identification prior to honoring your request. For example, you may be asked to provide the following information:

- Your full name, with middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, etc.;
- Social Security number;
- Date of birth;
- Current address and all addresses for the past five years;
- Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
- Social Security Card, pay stub, or W-2;
- Legible copy of a government-issued identification card, such as a state driver's license, state identification card, military identification, or birth certificate; and/or
- Any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles if you are a victim of identity theft.

Below, please find the relevant contact information for the three consumer reporting agencies:

Once you have submitted your request, the credit reporting agency must place the security freeze no later than 1 business day after receiving a request by phone or secure electronic means, and no later than 3 business days after receiving a request by mail. No later than 5 business days after placing the security freeze, the credit reporting agency will send you confirmation and information on how you can remove the freeze in the future. Each agency will send you a confirmation letter containing a unique PIN or password that you will need to lift or remove the freeze. You should keep the PIN or password in a safe place.

If your personal information has been used to file a false tax return, to open an account or to attempt to open an account in your name or to commit fraud or other crimes against you, you may file a police report in the city in which you currently reside.

If you do place a security freeze prior to enrolling in the credit monitoring service as described above, you will need to remove the freeze in order to sign up for the credit monitoring service. After you sign up for the credit monitoring service, you may refreeze your credit file.
