Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>:

Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company and Atlantic Coast Life Insurance Company and their current and former affiliates (collectively “the Companies”) write to inform you of an incident that may affect the privacy of some of your information.

This letter provides you with resources available to you to help protect your information from possible misuse, should you determine it is appropriate to do so. Due to the requirements of Massachusetts law, the Companies are unable to provide further details about the nature of the incident in this letter. However, you may obtain additional information by calling the dedicated assistance line below.

The confidentiality, privacy, and security of personal information are among the Companies’ highest priorities, and the Companies follow strict security measures to protect information in their care. Upon being alerted to suspicious activity through existing security procedures, the Companies promptly commenced an investigation to confirm the nature and scope of this incident. This investigation and response included confirming the security of the Companies’ systems, reviewing the contents of relevant data for sensitive information, and notifying potentially impacted individuals. As part of the Companies’ ongoing commitment to the privacy of personal information in their care, the Companies are reviewing their policies, procedures, and processes related to the storage of, and access to, personal information to reduce the likelihood of a similar future incident. The Companies notified federal law enforcement regarding this incident and are also notifying applicable regulatory authorities, as necessary.

As an added precaution, the Companies would like to offer you twenty-four (24) months of complimentary access to credit monitoring and identity restoration services through IDX. If you wish to receive these services, you should follow the enrollment instructions below as the Companies are unable to activate these services on your behalf.

We encourage you to contact IDX with any questions and to enroll in the free identity protection services by calling 1-844-419-5502, going to <https://app.idx.us/account-creation/protect>, or scanning the QR image and using the Enrollment Code provided above. IDX representatives are available between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Eastern Time, Monday through Friday. Please note the deadline to enroll is March 30, 2026.

The Companies encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud and to review your account statements and credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Instances of suspicious activity can be reported to your bank, credit union, credit card company, health insurance company, or appropriate institution.

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information, depending on whether you make the request online, by phone, or by mail:

1. full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. date of birth;
4. addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. a legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.);
7. Social Security card, pay stub, or W2; or
8. if you are a victim of identity theft, a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Under Massachusetts law, you have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this incident. If you are the victim of identity theft, you also have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of it.

You may further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps you can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and your state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

The Companies understand that you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have further questions or concerns, please call 1-844-419-5502, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Eastern Time, Monday through Friday. You may also write to the Companies at P.O. Box 25837, Salt Lake City, Utah 84125.

Sincerely,

Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company and Atlantic Coast Life Insurance Company

Notice of Data Event

Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company and its current and former affiliates (collectively “the Companies”) are providing notice of a cyber incident that may impact the privacy of certain present or former policyholders or certificate holders of Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company, beneficiaries under policies issued by Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company, or other persons, including persons who may have done business with or interacted with the Companies. The Companies are also providing written notice by mail to other individuals whose information may be impacted by the incident for whom the Companies have a mailing address, including, but not limited to, present and former policyholders of the Companies.

While the Companies are unaware of any actual or attempted misuse of information in relation to this incident, the Companies are providing details about the incident, their response, and resources available to help protect individuals’ information against identity theft and fraud, should they determine it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On April 15, 2025, the Companies discovered suspicious network activity. In response, the Companies immediately took steps to secure their environment and launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that an unauthorized actor accessed certain Companies’ computer systems between April 7, 2025, and April 15, 2025, and potentially accessed and/or acquired certain files stored on those systems. The Companies quickly began a thorough review of the relevant files to identify individuals with personal information that was potentially impacted. On or about December 17, 2025, the Companies completed their review and determined that sensitive information was included in the affected files.

What Information Was Involved? The information contained within the relevant files varies by individual and may include name, Social Security number, individual taxpayer identification number, financial account information, date of birth, medical, or health insurance information. While the Companies are providing notice of this incident via U.S. mail to individuals whose mailing address information is available and current, they are also providing notice of this incident via this posting to notify individuals for whom the Company may not have a valid mailing address. The Companies are not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of anyone’s information in connection with this incident.

What We Are Doing. The Companies take this incident and the security of information within their care very seriously. Upon being alerted to suspicious activity through their existing security procedures, the Companies initiated incident response procedures, isolated relevant systems, and began an investigation to identify potentially affected individuals. As part of their ongoing commitment to the privacy of personal information in their care, the Companies are reviewing their policies, procedures, and processes related to the storage of, and access to, personal information to reduce the likelihood of a similar future incident.

As an added precaution, the Companies also secured the services of IDX to provide credit monitoring and identity restoration services for one year at no cost to affected individuals. If you did not receive written notice of this incident but believe you may be affected, please contact their dedicated assistance line, which can be reached at (844) 419-5502, Monday through Friday from between 9:00am to 9:00pm, Eastern time, excluding U.S. holidays.

What You Can Do. The Companies encourage individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud and to review their accounts for any suspicious activity related to the use of their information, including with respect to financial or other accounts in their name. Individuals can find more information about obtaining a free copy of their credit report, protecting against potential identity theft and fraud, and other resources available to them in the below Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information.

For More Information. If you have further questions or concerns, please call (844) 419-5502, Monday through Friday from between 9:00am to 9:00pm, Eastern time, excluding U.S. holidays. You may also write to the Companies at P.O. Box 25837, Salt Lake City, Utah 84125.

Steps You Can Take To Help Protect Personal Information

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Individuals may also contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If an individual is the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert that lasts seven years. Should they wish to place a fraud alert, they may contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in an individual’s name without their consent. However, individuals should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, an individual cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a security freeze, individuals will need to provide the following information:

1. full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. date of birth;
4. addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;

6. a legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should individuals wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, they may contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company and Atlantic Coast Life Insurance Company Provide Notice of Data Security Event

Salt Lake City, Utah, December 30, 2025 – Today, Sentinel Security Life Insurance Company and Atlantic Coast Life Insurance Company and their current and former affiliates (collectively “the Companies”) issued notice of a data security event that potentially affected information related to certain individuals.

On April 15, 2025, the Companies discovered suspicious network activity and immediately took steps to secure their environment and launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the activity. The investigation determined that an unauthorized actor accessed certain systems of the Companies between April 7, 2025, and April 15, 2025, and potentially accessed and/or acquired certain files stored on those systems.

The Companies quickly began a thorough review of the relevant files to identify individuals with personal information that was potentially impacted. On or about December 17, 2025, the Companies completed their review and determined that information related to certain individuals was included in the affected files. The information contained within the relevant files varies by individual and may include name, Social Security number, individual taxpayer identification number, financial account information, date of birth, medical information, or health insurance information.

While the Companies are providing notice of this incident via U.S. mail to individuals whose mailing address information is available and current, they are also providing notice of this incident via this media release and a posting on their websites to notify present or former policyholders or certificate holders of the Companies, beneficiaries under policies issued by the Companies, or other persons, including persons who may have done business with or interacted with the Companies. The Companies are not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of anyone’s information in connection with this incident.

Individuals seeking additional information regarding this incident may call a toll-free assistance line the Companies established at (844) 419-5502.

Individuals can also find information on how they can help protect their personal information, along with additional resources on the Companies’ websites at <https://www.sslco.com/> or <https://www.aclico.com/>. As a precautionary measure, the Companies encourage potentially affected individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft or fraud by reviewing account statements, credit reports, and explanations of benefits for unusual activity and to detect errors. Any suspicious activity should be promptly reported to the appropriate bank, credit card company, health insurance company, or other relevant institution.

The Companies take this incident and the security of the information in their care very seriously. As part of their ongoing commitment to the privacy of personal information in their care, the Companies are reviewing their policies, procedures, and processes related to the storage of, and access to, personal information to reduce the likelihood of a similar future incident.
