NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear Sample A. Sample,

TriMed, Inc. ("TriMed") is writing to inform you of a security incident that may have involved some of your personal information.

TriMed develops and sells hardware that is surgically implanted to repair or replace damaged or broken joints. A recent incident affected certain files, such as order forms and invoices, that may have contained information related to this hardware and the individuals who received it. In limited instances, these documents may have included personal information, including information relating to you.

Please read this letter carefully, as it contains important information about the incident, our response, and steps you can take to help protect your information.

What Happened?

TriMed detected suspicious activity on certain systems and promptly launched an investigation, which confirmed that TriMed was the victim of a cybersecurity incident. We promptly engaged external cybersecurity specialists to help determine the scope and impact of the incident. Through this investigation, we determined that certain files were potentially accessed or acquired without authorization between September 13, 2025, and September 21, 2025. TriMed then undertook a comprehensive programmatic and manual review of those files and on January 23, 2026, learned that some of your personal information may have been involved in the incident.

What Information Was Involved?

Our investigation determined that the following information related to you was present within the impacted systems, including your name and [Extra1].

We took steps to address this incident promptly after it was discovered, including initiating an internal investigation and retaining an independent forensic investigation firm to assist us. Additionally, we have taken steps to further enhance the security of our systems. These efforts include strengthening existing security controls and threat detection practices, as well as integrating a global security operations center, all designed to help prevent this type of incident from recurring in the future. We will continue to review and update our security measures as appropriate.

Additionally, and as a precaution, we are offering identity detection and resolution services through a complimentary 24-month membership to Experian's® IdentityWorksSM. To activate this membership, please follow the steps in Attachment 1. Additionally, Attachment 2 provides more information on steps you can take to help protect yourself.

1. Review Your Accounts for Suspicious Activity. We encourage you to remain vigilant by regularly reviewing your accounts and monitoring credit reports for suspicious activity.
2. Order A Credit Report. To order your free annual credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com, call toll-free at 1-877-322-8228, or complete the Annual Credit Report Request Form on the U.S. Federal Trade Commission’s website at www.ftc.gov and mail it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. The three credit bureaus provide free annual credit reports only through the website, toll-free number, or request form.

Upon receiving your credit report, review it carefully. Look for accounts you did not open. Look in the “inquiries” section for names of creditors from whom you have not requested credit. Some companies bill under names other than their store or commercial names; the credit bureau will be able to tell if this is the case. Look in the “personal information” section for any inaccuracies in information (such as home address and Social Security Number).

If you see anything you do not understand, call the credit bureau at the telephone number on the report. Errors may be a warning sign of possible identity theft. You should notify the credit bureaus of any inaccuracies in your report, whether due to error or fraud, as soon as possible so the information can be investigated and, if found to be in error, corrected. If there are accounts or charges you did not authorize, immediately notify the appropriate credit bureau by telephone and in writing. Information that cannot be explained should also be reported to your local police or sheriff’s office because it may signal criminal activity.

3. Contact the Federal Trade Commission, State Attorney General, or Law Enforcement Authorities. You may contact the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”), your state’s Attorney General’s office, or law enforcement, to report incidents of identity theft or to learn about steps you can take to protect yourself from identity theft. If you detect any unauthorized transactions in any of your financial accounts, promptly notify the appropriate payment card company or financial institution. If you detect any incidents of identity theft or fraud, promptly report the matter to the FTC, your state Attorney General’s office, or law enforcement authorities. Please note, this notification was not delayed by law enforcement authorities.

To learn more about how to protect yourself from becoming a victim of identity theft, you can contact the FTC at: The Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580; 1-877-FTC-HELP (1-877-382-4357) (toll-free) or 1-877-IDTHEFT (1-877-438-4338); and www.identitytheft.gov and www.ftc.gov/idtheft/.

4. Additional Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act. You have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”), such as the right to be told if information in your credit file has been used against you, the right to know what is in your credit file, the right to ask for your credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the FCRA, the consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to your file is limited; you must give your consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; you may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report; and you may seek damages from violators. You may have additional rights under the FCRA not summarized here.

Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the FCRA. We encourage you to review your rights pursuant to the FCRA by visiting https://files.consumerfinance.gov/f/documents/bcfc_consumer-rights-summary_2018-09.pdf or writing to the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau at: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street, NW, Washington, DC 20552.

5. Place a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File. You have the right to ask that nationwide consumer reporting agencies place “fraud alerts” in your file to let potential creditors and others know that you may be a victim of identity theft. A fraud alert can make it more difficult for someone to get credit in your name because it tells creditors to follow certain procedures to protect you. You may place a fraud alert in your file by calling just one of the three nationwide consumer reporting agencies. As soon as that agency processes your fraud alert, it will notify the other two, which then also must place fraud alerts in your file.

6. Request Security Freezes. You have the right to request a security freeze from a consumer reporting agency, free of charge, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a security freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a security freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit.

Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit bureau. To place a security freeze on your credit report you must contact the credit reporting agency by phone, mail, or secure electronic means and provide proper identification of your identity.

The consumer reporting agencies may require proper identification prior to honoring your request. For example, you may be asked to provide the following information:

- Your full name, with middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, etc.
- Social Security number
- Date of birth
- Current address and all addresses for the past five years
- Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill
- Social Security Card, pay stub, or W-2;
- Legible copy of a government-issued identification card, such as a state driver's license, state identification card, military identification, or birth certificate; and/or
- Any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles if you are a victim of identity theft

Below, please find the relevant contact information for the three consumer reporting agencies:

Once you have submitted your request, the credit reporting agency must place the security freeze no later than 1 business day after receiving a request by phone or secure electronic means, and no later than 3 business days after receiving a request by mail. No later than 5 business days after placing the security freeze, the credit reporting agency will send you confirmation and information on how you can remove the freeze in the future. Each agency will send you a confirmation letter containing a unique PIN or password that you will need to lift or remove the freeze. You should keep the PIN or password in a safe place.

If your personal information has been used to file a false tax return, to open an account or to attempt to open an account in your name or to commit fraud or other crimes against you, you may file a police report in the city in which you currently reside.

If you do place a security freeze prior to enrolling in the credit monitoring service as described above, you will need to remove the freeze in order to sign up for the credit monitoring service. After you sign up for the credit monitoring service, you may refreeze your credit file.
