RE: Important Security Notification. Please read this entire letter.

To whom it may concern:

Advantage Gold recently determined that the security of your personal information may have been affected by an incident we previously discovered. Upon learning of the issue, we immediately engaged outside cybersecurity and IT experts to help investigate and contain the incident. The investigation into what data was affected required additional effort that we have recently concluded.

What Happened? Like many companies we procure data security software and services from third party vendors. It appears that in the late third and early fourth calendar quarters of 2025, the threat actor community (often referred to as “hackers”) became aware of a vulnerability in certain firewall software we procure from a third party. Prior to the vendor informing us of that vulnerability, it was exploited to allow unauthorized persons to get past our firewall and gain access to our networks and systems including those that contained certain personal information.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation indicates that the following personal information was subject to unauthorized access. We do not currently have any evidence of actual use of such personal information by a third party: Name, address, contact information, limited number of SSNs, limited amount of custodian account numbers.

What Are We Doing? We take the protection of your personal information seriously. As indicated above, immediately upon discovering the incident we engaged outside cybersecurity and IT experts to help investigate, contain, and remediate the incident. The investigation into what data was affected required additional effort that we have recently concluded. As part of that process we have further retained outside cybersecurity counsel to assist us in fulfilling our obligations to you.

What You Can Do

Here’s what you can do to protect yourself from identity theft and fraud:

- Remain vigilant for incidents of fraud, identity theft, and errors by regularly reviewing your account statements for any unauthorized activity and monitoring free credit reports over the next twelve to twenty-four months.
- Establish a password on your account(s). Also, routinely change online account passwords and security questions.
- Report any suspicious or unauthorized activity to law enforcement and to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at 1-877-FTC-HELP (1-877-382-4357).
- Notify Experian immediately (if you have signed up for the service we have made available) of any suspicious activity or suspected identity theft.
- Carefully monitor your credit report. You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months. You may also have information relating to fraudulent transactions deleted from your credit report.
- Place a free fraud alert or security freeze on your credit file, which tells creditors to contact you before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts – and alerts them of possible fraudulent activity. Fraud alerts last 90 days unless you manually renew them or use an automatic fraud alert feature. You can contact the credit reporting agencies directly at
