Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. When notified of a consumer’s fraud alert, a business is required to take additional steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If a consumer is the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below. When one major credit reporting bureau is notified, that bureau will notify the others.

Consumers also have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which prohibits a credit reporting bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. Consumers should be aware, however, that using a credit freeze may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of subsequent requests for a new loan, credit, mortgage, or other account involving credit. Unlike a fraud alert, a consumer must contact each of the three major credit reporting bureaus to initiate a credit freeze. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Prior addresses;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A photocopy of a government-issued identification card (such as a state driver’s license or ID card); and
7. If a victim of identity theft, a copy of a police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency.
