Re: Notice of Data Incident

Dear Sample A. Sample:

We are writing to let you know about a data incident that may involve certain of your personal information. This notice explains the resources we are offering and steps you can take to protect yourself.

What Information Was Involved

Based on our investigations we believe it is possible that the incident may have impacted certain personal information, as described below. Our investigation has not revealed evidence of fraudulent data use. However, we want to provide you with information you can use to proactively take steps to protect yourself and your information.

Which specific information of yours was impacted depends on the data we maintain about you either as an employee or a dependent or relative of an employee, but may have included: name, address, social security number, financial account information, and driver's license numbers.

What We Are Doing

We take this matter seriously, and in addition to its internal response efforts, Mercury is offering you 24 months of free fraud detection and identity theft protection. If you wish to take advantage of these services, activation instructions are below.

What You Can Do

Though we have no evidence that any of your personal information has been misused, we encourage you to remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. At the end of this letter, we have provided you with additional information regarding steps you can proactively take to further protect yourself and your personal information. It describes information about (1) reporting suspicious activity or suspected identity theft, (2) credit reports, (3) fraud alerts, (4) credit/security freezes, and (5) information about taxes. We encourage you to review that additional information.

Free Credit Monitoring and Identity Theft Protection: Even though we have no evidence that your personal information has been fraudulently used or publicly disclosed, as a precautionary measure, we are offering to provide you with 24 months of free identity monitoring, fraud consultation, and identity theft restoration services through Experian's IdentityWorks™ product.

Please note that Identity Restoration is available to you for 24 months from the date of this letter and does not require any action on your part at this time. The Terms and Conditions for this offer are located at www.ExperianIDWorks.com/restoration.

While identity restoration assistance is immediately available to you, we also encourage you to activate the fraud detection tools available through Experian IdentityWorks™ as a complimentary 24-month membership. This product provides you with identity detection and resolution of identity theft. To take advantage of these free services, please follow the steps below:

- Ensure that you enroll by August 31, 2026, by 11:59 pm UTC. Your code will not work after this date.
- Visit the Experian IdentityWorks™ website to enroll:
<https://www.experianidworks.com/3bcreditmembership>
- Provide your activation code: <<ACTIVATION CODE>>

If you have questions about the product, need assistance with identity restoration that arose as a result of this incident or would like an alternative to enrolling in Experian IdentityWorks online, please contact Experian's customer care team by August 31, 2026 at 833-918-5937 Monday – Friday, 8 am – 8 pm Central Time (excluding major U.S. holidays). Be prepared to provide engagement number B166082 as proof of eligibility for the Identity Restoration services by Experian.

We take seriously the security and privacy of your information, and deeply regret any inconvenience this may cause.

Sincerely,

Mercury Systems, Inc.

Additional Steps You Can Take to Protect Your Personal Information

Report Suspicious Activity or Suspected Identity Theft. If you detect any unauthorized or suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. If you suspect any identity theft has occurred, you can contact your local law enforcement by filing a police report or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) by calling 1-877-IDTHEFT (1-877-438-4338), by writing to the FTC at 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW Washington DC 20580, or online at www.ftc.gov. You can also contact your state Attorney General.

Contacting the Internal Revenue Service: If you believe you are the victim of tax fraud or that somebody has filed or accessed your tax information, you should immediately contact the IRS or state tax agency as appropriate. For the IRS, you can use Form 14039 (<https://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/f14039.pdf>). You can also call them at 800-908-4490 (Identity Theft Hotline). Information on how to contact your state department of revenue to make similar reporting may be found by going to <http://www.taxadmin.org/state-tax-agencies>.

Credit Reports/Fraud Alerts/Credit and Security Freezes: Under federal law, you are entitled to one free copy of your credit report every 12 months. You can request a free credit report once a year at www.annualcreditreport.com, by calling (877) 322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. If you discover inaccurate information or a fraudulent transaction on your credit report, you have the right to request that the consumer reporting agency delete that information from your credit report file.

As a precautionary step, to protect yourself from possible identity theft you can place a fraud alert on your bank accounts and credit file. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures before opening a new account in your name or changing your existing account. You may call any one of the three major credit bureaus listed below to place a fraud alert on your file. As soon as one credit bureau confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts on your file. All three credit reports will be sent to you, free of charge, for your review.

In some US states, you have the right to put a security freeze on your credit file. A security freeze (also known as a credit freeze) makes it harder for someone to open a new account in your name. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a security freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to apply for a new credit card, loan, wireless phone, or any service that requires a credit check. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. To place a security freeze on your file you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you including your Social Security Number. There may be a fee for this service based on state. To put a security freeze on your credit file contact the consumer reporting agencies listed below.

You may also contact the three U.S. credit reporting agencies as follows:
