Section 2A. As used in this section and section 2B, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings:

"Active preference" means a vote assigned to the highest continuing ranking on a continuing ballot.

"Batch elimination" means the simultaneous defeat of multiple candidates because, with respect to the candidates, one of the following applies: (a) The candidate cannot be elected because the candidate's active preference total in a round of ranked-choice voting tabulation plus the total of all continuing ballots that could possibly be transferred to the candidate in future rounds from candidates with fewer active preferences or an equal number of active preferences is not enough to surpass the candidate with the next-higher active preference total in the round; or (b) The candidate has a lower active preference total than a candidate described in subparagraph (a).

“Concluded ballot” means a ballot that does not rank any continuing candidate, contains an overvote at the highest continuing ranking, or contains two or more sequential skipped rankings before its highest continuing ranking.

“Continuing ballot” means a ballot that is not a concluded ballot.

“Continuing candidate” means a candidate who has not been defeated.

“Highest continuing ranking” means the continuing candidate with the highest ranking on a voter’s ballot.

“Last-place candidate” means (a) the candidate with the lowest active preference total in a round of the ranked-choice voting tabulation, or (b) a candidate that is defeated in batch elimination.

“Overvote” means a circumstance in which a voter ranks more than one candidate at the same ranking.

“Ranking” means the number assigned on a ballot by a voter to a candidate to express the voter’s preference for that candidate. Ranking number one is the highest ranking, ranking number two is the next-highest ranking and so on.

“Round” means an instance of the sequence of voting tabulation steps established in subsection 1 of section 2B.

“Skipped ranking” means a ranking not assigned on a ballot by a voter to any candidate, in the circumstance where a lower ranking is assigned on a ballot by a voter to a candidate.

SECTION 12. Said chapter 50 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 2A the following section 2B:

Section 2B. The following applies for determining the results of general elections determined by instant runoff using ranked-choice voting.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 below pertaining to ties, the following procedures are used to determine the person receiving the highest number of votes, for purposes of section 2 of chapter 50, in an election determined by instant runoff using ranked-choice voting. Tabulation must proceed in rounds. In a round, the number of active preferences for each continuing candidate must be counted. A continuing ballot counts as one active preference for its highest-ranked continuing candidate for that round. A concluded ballot is not counted for any continuing candidate. The round ends with one of the following:

A. In the first round only, if a candidate receives greater than fifty percent of all active preferences counted in the first round for all candidates, such candidate is determined to be the person receiving the highest number of votes and the tabulation shall end.

B. Otherwise, if there are more than two continuing candidates, the last-place candidate is defeated, or the last-place candidates are defeated in batch elimination, and a new round begins.

C. If there are two or fewer continuing candidates, the candidate with the most active preferences is determined to be the person receiving the highest number of votes and the tabulation shall end.

2. If two or more last-place candidates are tied and batch elimination does not apply, the one with the fewest active preferences in the prior round is defeated. If two or more such tied candidates were tied in the prior round, the second tie shall be decided by referring similarly to the standing of candidates, in terms of active preferences, in the second-prior round. This principle shall be applied successively as many times as may be necessary, a tie shown in any prior round being decided by referring to the standing of the tied candidates in the round immediately preceding the round in which the tie exists.

SECTION 13. Section 2 of chapter 53 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: "Except in the case of municipal nominations where a city charter or a law applying to a particular town otherwise provides and in the case of nominations to regional district school committees elected district-wide, candidates of political parties for all elective offices, except presidential elector, shall be nominated and members of political committees, except as provided in sections one and four of chapter fifty-two, shall be elected in conventions or caucuses; provided, however, that the state secretary shall not conduct presidential primaries in any biennial state election year for a political party which has enrolled fewer than five percent of the total number of registered voters in the commonwealth as of the most recent count submitted to the state secretary under section thirty-eight A, and whose state committee files with the state secretary a writing so requesting, not later than August first preceding a year in which a presidential primary is to occur."

SECTION 14. Section 2 of said chapter 53 is hereby further amended by inserting the at the end of that section the following new paragraph: "Notwithstanding any general or special law or the charter, rule or by-law of a political party to the contrary, a top five preliminary shall be held to

The top five preliminary shall take the place of a party primary for determining the candidates appearing on the general election ballot for those offices; provided, however, that a political party may nominate a candidate to appear on the top five preliminary ballot at a convention or caucus in accordance with its rules. The top five preliminary shall be held on the date set forth in section 28 of chapter 53.”

SECTION 15. Section 2 of said chapter 53 is further amended by inserting after that section the following section 2A:

Section 2A. Top Five Nonpartisan Open Preliminary.

1. Whenever candidates for the offices of United States Senator, United States Representative, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Councillor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Treasurer and Receiver-General, Auditor, or State Legislators are to be elected, the general election must be preceded by a top five preliminary conducted consistent with the provisions of this section. The five candidates who receive the greatest number of votes for each office in a top five preliminary shall be the candidates whose names appear on the official ballot at the next general election.
2. A person may become a candidate at a top five preliminary regardless of the person’s affiliation with a political party, or lack thereof, provided that the person has filed nomination papers in accordance with this chapter and otherwise complies with the provisions of this chapter for nomination.

3. A political party may nominate a candidate to appear on the top five preliminary ballot as the party's endorsed candidate.

4. Any registered voter may cast a top five preliminary ballot for any candidate regardless of the political party affiliation of the voter or any political party preference indicated by the candidate. The top five preliminary does not serve to determine the nominee of a political party or political group but serves only to narrow the number of candidates whose names will appear on the ballot at the general election.

5. Only the names of the five candidates receiving the greatest number of votes at the top five preliminary shall advance to the general election. If, however, there are five or fewer candidates for a specific office, the top five preliminary for that office will still be held and the results made public, and all will be declared the candidates for the general election.

6. In the event of a tie for fifth place, the candidate who proceeds to the general election will be decided by lot.

7. If a candidate is registered as affiliated with a political party or political group, the candidate may request that the designation appear after the candidate's name. If a candidate requests designation as nonpartisan, unaffiliated, or undeclared, that designation shall be placed after the name of the candidate. A party's endorsed candidate for the office may request that the designation "Endorsed Candidate of the [PARTY NAME]" appear after the candidate's name.

8. Ballots for a top five preliminary must include a conspicuously placed statement: "A candidate may state a political party that the candidate prefers. A candidate's preference does not imply that the candidate is nominated or endorsed by the party, or that the party approves of or

9. If a top five preliminary ballot is combined with a ballot for the election of candidates other than those subject to the top five preliminary, the ballot shall clearly indicate the offices to which the top five preliminary process shall apply.

10. If one of the five candidates who receives the greatest number of votes at the preliminary withdraws, is disqualified, dies, or is otherwise deemed ineligible to be elected after the top five preliminary but before the 5 p.m. on the first Friday in October, the candidate receiving the next greatest number of votes at the top five preliminary shall be declared a nominee, and that person's name shall be placed on the ballot at the general election.

11. A top five preliminary shall be conducted in the manner prescribed for primaries under this chapter, except as specifically provided otherwise. Provisions of this chapter governing the nomination of candidates shall apply to the nominations of candidates for a top five preliminary except where otherwise indicated.

SECTION 16: Section 3 of said chapter 53 is hereby amended by striking the first sentence thereof.

SECTION 19.
