Chap. 791. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR A CERTAIN CREDIT UNDER THE CORPORATION EXCISE LAW FOR CERTAIN CORPORATIONS WHICH INCREASE THEIR NUMBER OF FULL-TIME EMPLOYEES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 63 is hereby amended by inserting after section 31B the following section: —

Section 31C. A manufacturing corporation, or business corporation engaged primarily in research and development, which has been deemed to be such under section thirty-eight C or forty-two B, shall be allowed a credit as hereinafter provided against its excise due under this chapter. The amount of such credit shall be the amount determined by multiplying five hundred dollars by the increase in the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation during the taxable year, as hereinafter provided.

When used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings: —

“Full-time employee”, an employee as defined in sections one and three of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A and who has been paid by the corporation during its taxable year an amount at least equal to the maximum amount of “wages” with respect to which an employer is required to make contributions pursuant to section fourteen of said chapter and said amount is includable in the payroll factor of the income apportionment formula under the provisions of sections thirty-eight.

“Increase in the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation”, (i) in the case of a corporation having full-time employees in its taxable year ending last prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, the excess of the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation during its taxable year over the number determined by multiplying the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation during its taxable year ending last prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, by the applicable coefficient for the taxable year, as herein set forth.

The coefficient shall be one and three hundredths for taxable years ended on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, and before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four; one and six hundredths for taxable years ended on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, and before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five; one and nine hundredths for taxable years ended on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, and before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six; one and twelve hundredths for taxable years ended on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six, and before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven; and one and fifteen hundredths for taxable years ended on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, and before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight;

(ii) in the case of a corporation not having a taxable year ending prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, by reason of recent organization or registration or by reason of not being subject to taxation in the commonwealth or not having any full-time employees in its taxable year ending last prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, the excess of the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation during its taxable year over the number determined by multiplying the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation in the first taxable year in which the corporation may take the credit provided for in this section by the applicable coefficient for the taxable year as herein set forth. The coefficient shall be zero for the first taxable year. The coefficient shall be twenty hundredths for the second taxable year. The coefficient shall be forty hundredths for the third taxable year. The coefficient shall be sixty hundredths for the fourth taxable year. The coefficient shall be eighty hundredths for the fifth taxable year.

(a) A corporation which is a successor to another employing unit, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A, by reason of an acquisition or other activity referred to in subsections (d) to (h), inclusive, of section eight of said chapter one hundred and fifty-one A shall, for purposes of this section, treat the employees of such employing unit as having been employees of the corporation during the periods they were employees of such employing unit. For the purposes of this section the activities referred to in said subsections (d) to (h), inclusive, of said section eight of said chapter one hundred and fifty-one A shall include but not be limited to applicable provisions of sections three hundred and one to three hundred and ninety-five, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and in effect for the taxable year relating to corporate distributions and adjustments. For the purpose of this section, a corporation having a taxable year ending prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, shall be treated as if it had such a taxable year if, under this paragraph, the corporation is treated as having employees prior to such date.

(b) For a corporation having a taxable year of less than twelve months, herein referred to as a short period, an employee shall be deemed to be a full-time employee if the amount of the remuneration paid to him by the corporation during the short period when multiplied by twelve and divided by the number of months in the short period is at least equal to the maximum amount of wages with respect to which an employer is required to make contributions pursuant to section fourteen of chapter one hundred and fifty one A. The credit for a short period shall be computed in the same manner as for a full taxable year but shall be reduced by multiplying the credit so determined by the number of months in the short period and dividing the result by twelve.

(c) A corporation shall not be allowed a credit under this section with respect to any increase in the number of full-time employees employed by the corporation during its taxable year and first employed by such corporation during a taxable year ending on or after December thirty-one, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, in excess of the sum of the following: —

(1) the number of full-time employees employed by such corporation during such taxable year who immediately prior to employment by such corporation: —

(i) were receiving assistance under the provisions of chapters one hundred and fifteen, one hundred and seventeen or one hundred and eighteen; provided that certification of the receipt of such assistance shall be obtained from the secretary of human services and shall be in such form as the state tax commission shall prescribe;

(ii) had filed for and were receiving a money allowance under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A, provided that eligibility to receive such money allowance shall be based solely on wages paid by an employer or employers other than such corporation or employing unit; and, provided further that certification of such eligibility and such receipt shall be obtained from the secretary of manpower affairs and shall be in such form as the state tax commission shall prescribe;

(iii) were receiving training in a publicly or privately funded training or rehabilitation program, including courses of instruction in recognized public or private educational institutions, approved by the secretary of manpower affairs or the secretary of human services, whichever is appropriate, as one established to upgrade the job skills, wages and employment or promotional possibilities of persons who have already entered the work force, not including students regularly enrolled in such courses of instruction in such institutions; provided that certification of the approval of such program and the receipt of such training shall be obtained from such secretary and shall be in such form as the state tax commission shall prescribe;

(iv) were receiving training under an approved training or assistance program as defined in paragraph (b) of section eleven of chapter twenty-three B; provided that certification of the approval of such program and the receipt of such training shall be obtained from the secretary of communities and development and shall be in such form as the state tax commission shall prescribe;

(v) were receiving training or had received training in any program operated by the department of corrections for persons committed to its custody under the provisions of section forty-eight of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven which will upgrade the job skills and employment possibilities of the participants in such program; provided that certification of the receipt of such training shall be obtained from the secretary of human services and shall be in such form as the state tax commission shall prescribe;

(2) the number of full-time employees employed by such corporation during such taxable year who immediately prior to employment by such corporation were not receiving or had not received such assistance, allowance or training, but who subsequent to such employment completed or at the close of such taxable year were participating in a training or rehabilitation program which is conducted or subsidized by such employer and established in accordance with guidelines prescribed by the secretary of manpower affairs and certified by such secretary as one which had the prior approval of such secretary and as one which will upgrade the job skills, wages, and promotional possibilities of the participants in such programs; provided that such certification shall be in such form as the state tax commission shall prescribe.

In order to verify the certification required by clauses (i) to (v), inclusive, or otherwise determine the eligibility of an employee under this subsection the commissioner is authorized to receive information with respect thereto from the appropriate secretary or department notwithstanding any other provision of law which may prohibit the disclosure of such information.

(d) The credit allowed under this section shall be in addition to the credit allowed under section thirty-one A; provided, however, that the sum of the credit allowed under said section thirty-one A and the credit allowed under this section shall not reduce the excise to less than the amount due under subsection (b) of section thirty-two, subsection (b) of section thirty-nine or section sixty-seven and under any act in addition thereto.

A corporation may elect to deduct the amount allowable under section thirty-eight F or the credit under this section, but not both. Any such election must be made annually on or before the due date of filing the return, including any extension of time and shall be irrevocable.

The credit allowed by all provisions of this section except subdivision (2) of subsection (c) shall be for taxable years ending on and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, and prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, and the credit allowed under the provisions of said subsection (2) of said subsection (c) shall be for taxable years ending on and after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, and prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight; provided that any corporation claiming such credit shall furnish such information relative to the credit as may be required by the commissioner in a form approved by the state tax commission.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Subsection (a) of section 4 of chapter 140C of the General Laws, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 517 of the acts of 1969, is hereby amended by striking out clause (3) and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

(3) Where the finance charge imposed during the billing cycle is or includes (i) any minimum, fixed, or other charge not due to the application of a periodic rate, other than a charge with respect to any specific transaction during the billing cycle, by dividing the total finance charge for the billing cycle by the amount of the balance to which applicable and multiplying the quotient (expressed as a percentage) by the number of billing cycles in a year; or (ii) any charge with respect to any specific transaction during the billing cycle (even if the total finance charge also includes any other minimum, fixed, or other charge not due to the application of a periodic rate), by dividing the total finance charge imposed during the billing cycle by the total of all balances and other amounts on which any finance charge was imposed during the billing cycle without duplication and multiplying the quotient (expressed as a percentage) by the number of billing cycles in a year, except that the annual percentage rate shall not be less than the largest rate determined by multiplying each periodic rate imposed during the billing cycle by the number of periods in a year; or (iii) any minimum, fixed, or other charge not due to the application of a periodic rate and the total finance charge imposed during the billing cycle does not exceed fifty cents for a monthly or longer billing cycle, or the pro rata of fifty cents for a billing cycle shorter than monthly, at the creditor's option, by multiplying each applicable periodic rate by the number of periods in a year, notwithstanding the provisions of subclauses (i) and (ii).

SECTION 2. Subsection (a) of section 6 of said chapter 140 C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following two sentences: — A creditor imposing minimum charges is not required to adjust the disclosure of the range of balances to which each periodic rate would apply in order to reflect the range of the balances below which the minimum charge applies. If a creditor does not impose a finance charge when the outstanding balance is less than a certain amount, the creditor is not required to disclose that fact or the balance below which no such charge will be imposed.

SECTION 3. Subsection (b) of said section 6 of said chapter 140C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clauses (5) and (6) and inserting in place thereof the following two clauses: —

(5) Each periodic rate, using the term "periodic rate" (or "rates"), that may be used to compute the finance charge (whether or not applied during the billing cycle), the range of balances to which it is applicable, and the corresponding annual percentage rate determined by multiplying the periodic rate by the number of periods in a year. The words "corresponding annual percentage rate", "corresponding nominal annual percentage rate", "nominal annual percentage rate" or "annual percentage rate" (or "rates") may be used to describe the corresponding annual percentage rate. The requirements of subsection (a) of section five with respect to disclosing the term "annual percentage rate" more conspicuously than other required terminology shall not be applicable to the disclosure made under this clause although such term, or words incorporating such term, may, at the creditor's option, be shown as conspicuously as the terminology required under clause (6). Where a minimum charge may be applicable to the account, the amount of such minimum charge shall be disclosed. A creditor imposing minimum charges is not required to adjust the disclosure of the range of balances to which each periodic rate would apply in order to reflect the range of balances below which the minimum charge applies. If a creditor does not impose a finance charge when the outstanding balance is less than a certain amount, the creditor is not required to disclose that fact or the balance below which no such charge will be imposed.

(6) When a finance charge is imposed during the billing cycle, the annual percentage rate or rates determined under subsection (a), of section four using the term "annual percentage rate" (or "rates").

SECTION 4. Said section 6 of said chapter 140C is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (c), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection: —

(c) The disclosures required by subsection (b) shall be made on the same of the periodic statement, except that, at the creditor's option:

(1) Itemization of the amount and date of each extension of credit (or the date such extension of credit was debited to the account) required to be disclosed under clause (2) of subsection (b) and itemization of the amount of the "credits" disclosed under clause (3) of subsection (b), and of the amount of any finance charge required to be disclosed under clause (4) of subsection (b), may be made on the reverse side of the periodic statement or on a separate accompanying statement, provided that the totals of such respective amounts are disclosed on the face of the periodic statement; and

(2) The disclosures required under clauses (5) and (7) of subsection (b), except the balance on which the finance charge was computed, may be made on the reverse side of the periodic statement or on the face of a single supplemental statement which shall accompany the periodic statement.

(3) If the creditor exercises any of the options provided under this subsection, the face of the periodic statement shall contain one of the following notices, as applicable: "NOTICE: See reverse side for important information" or "NOTICE: See accompanying statement for important information" or "NOTICE: See reverse side and accompanying statement for important information", and the disclosures shall not be separated so as to confuse or mislead the customer or obscure or detract attention from the information required to be disclosed.

SECTION 5. Chapter 255D of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 27, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 273 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 27. A. Before the first transaction is made on any revolving credit account, the seller shall disclose to the buyer in a single written statement, which the buyer may retain, in terminology consistent with the requirements of subsection D of this section, each of the following items, to the extent applicable:

(1) The conditions under which a finance charge may be imposed, including an explanation of the time period, if any, within which any credit extended may be paid without incurring a finance charge.

(2) The method of determining the amount of finance charge including the method of determining the balance upon which a finance charge may be imposed, consistent with subsection C of this section.

(3) The method of determining any minimum, fixed, transaction, activity, or similar charge, which may be imposed as a finance charge.

(4) Where one or more periodic rates may be used to compute the finance charge, each such rate, the range of balances to which it is applicable, and the corresponding annual percentage rate determined by multiplying the periodic rate by the number of periods in a year.

(5) The conditions under which any other charges may be imposed and the methods by which they will be determined.

(6) The conditions under which the seller may retain or acquire any security interest in any property to secure the payment of any credit extended on the account, and a description or identification of the type of the interest or interests which may be so retained or acquired.

(7) The minimum periodic payment required.

A creditor imposing minimum charges is not required to adjust the disclosure of the range of balances to which each periodic rate would apply in order to reflect the range of the balances below which the minimum charge applies. If a creditor does not impose a finance charge when the outstanding balance is less than a certain amount, the creditor is not required to disclose that fact or the balance below which no such charge will be imposed.

B. Every revolving credit agreement shall contain the following notice appearing conspicuously directly above the space reserved in the agreement for the signature of the buyer: Notice to Buyer;

(1) Do not sign this agreement if any of the spaces intended for the agreed terms are left blank.

(2) You are entitled to a copy of this agreement at the time you sign it.

(3) You may at any time pay off the full unpaid balance under this agreement.

(4) You may under certain circumstances redeem the property, if repossessed because of your default, and you may, under certain condition, require a resale of the property if repossessed.

(5) The seller has no right to unlawfully enter your premises or commit any breach of the peace to repossess goods purchased under this agreement.

(6) You may cancel a purchase under this agreement if it has been consummated by a party thereto at a place other than the address of the seller which may be his main office or branch thereof; provided, you notify the seller in writing at his main office or branch by ordinary mail posted, by telegram sent or by delivery, not later than midnight of the third business day following a purchase under this agreement.

If the seller does not take a security interest in goods purchased pursuant to the revolving credit agreement, clauses (4) and (5) need not be included in the notice, and if the agreement was not signed by the buyer at a place other than the address of the seller, which may be his main office or any branch thereof, one of which must be shown on the agreement, clause (6) need not be included in the notice.

C. (1) An installment seller under a revolving credit agreement may assess a finance charge upon the installment buyer which shall not exceed the following rates computed upon the outstanding unpaid balance thereunder, from month to month, which need not be a calendar month, or other regular period. The outstanding unpaid balance shall be determined consistent with clause 3 of this subsection.

(a) On so much of the outstanding unpaid balance as does not exceed five hundred dollars, one and one half per cent per month.

(b) If the outstanding unpaid balance exceeds five hundred dollars, one per cent per month on the excess over five hundred dollars.

(c) If the amount of any finance charge is less than fifty cents for any month, fifty cents may be assessed, provided that no finance charge is assessed for a zero balance.

(2) Finance charges may be computed under revolving credit agreements within a range of not in excess of ten dollars on the basis of the median amount within the selected range, provided that such finance charge is applied to all unpaid balances within such range.

(3) In the event that a finance charge is imposed, it shall be computed upon (i) the previous balance after all payments on account, returns and other credits made or given during the billing cycle shall have been first deducted; provided, however, that returns and other credits may be deducted only to the extent that the purchase to which the credit or return relates has been reflected in the previous balance; or (ii) the average daily balance determined by adding the daily balances on the account for each day in the billing cycle, excluding purchases, and dividing this total by the number of days in the billing cycle.

Payments received from an obligor under an open end credit plan by the creditor shall be credited promptly to the obligor's account but in any event no more than two business days after receipt thereof. A finance charge shall not be imposed on any obligor if said creditor has received the obligor's payment prior to the time indicated by said creditor by which time such payment is required to be received to avoid the imposition of said finance charge.

D. Except in the case of an account which the seller deems to be uncollectible or with respect to which delinquency collection procedures have been instituted, the seller under any revolving credit account shall mail or deliver to the buyer, for each billing cycle at the end of which there is an outstanding debit balance in excess of one dollar in that account or with respect to which a finance charge is imposed, a statement or statements which the buyer may retain, setting forth in accordance with subsection E each of the following items to the extent applicable:

(1) The outstanding balance in the account at the beginning of the billing cycle, using the term "previous balance".

(2) The amount and date of each extension of credit or the date such extension of credit is debited to the account during the billing cycle and, unless previously furnished, a brief identification of any goods or services purchased or other extension of credit.

(3) The amounts credited to the account during the billing cycle for payments, using the term "payments", and for other credits including returns, rebates of finance charges and adjustments, using the term "credits", and unless previously furnished, a brief identification of each of the items included in such other credits.

(4) The amount of any finance charge, using the term "finance charge", debited to the account during the billing cycle, itemized and identified to show the amounts, if any, due to the application of periodic rates and the amount of any other charge included in the finance charge, such as a minimum, fixed, transaction, activity, or similar charge, including any charges imposed by the seller for the issuance, payment, or handling of checks, for account maintenance or otherwise, to the extent that such charges exceed any similar charges the buyer is required to pay when an account is not being used to extend credit, using appropriate terminology to identify such charges.

(5) Each periodic rate, using the term "periodic rate", or "rates", that may be used to compute the finance charge, whether or not applied during the billing cycle, the range of balances to which it is applicable, and the corresponding annual percentage rate determined by multiplying the periodic rate by the number of periods in a year. The words "corresponding annual percentage rate", "corresponding nominal annual percentage rate", "nominal annual percentage rate" or "annual percentage rate" or "rates" may be used to describe the corresponding annual percentage rate. The requirements of subsection (a) of section five of chapter one hundred and forty C with respect to disclosing the term "annual percentage rate" more conspicuously than other required terminology shall not be applicable to the disclosure made under this clause, although such term, or words incorporating such term, may, at the creditor's option, be shown as conspicuously as the terminology required under clause (6). Where a minimum charge may be applicable to the account, the amount of such minimum charge shall be disclosed. A creditor imposing minimum charges is not required to adjust the disclosure of the range of balances to which each periodic rate would apply in order to reflect the range of the balances below which the minimum charge applies. If a creditor does not impose a finance charge when the outstanding balance is less than a certain amount, the creditor is not required to disclose that fact or the balance below which no such charge will be imposed.

(6) When a finance charge is imposed during the billing cycle, the annual percentage rate or rates determined under subsection (a) of section four of chapter one hundred and forty C using the term "annual percentage rate" or "rates".

(7) The balance on which the finance charge was computed, and a statement of how that balance was determined, consistent with subsection C of this section.

(8) The closing date of the billing cycle and the outstanding balance in the account on that date, using the term "new balance", accompanied by the statement of the date by which, or the period, if any, within which, payment must be made to avoid additional finance charges.

E. The disclosures required by subsection D shall be made on the face of the periodic statement, except that, at the creditor's option:

(1) Itemization of the amount and date of each extension of credit (or the date such extension of credit was debited to the account) required to be disclosed under clause (2) of subsection (D) and itemization of the amount of the "credits" disclosed under clause (3) of subsection (D), and of the amount of any finance charge required to be disclosed under clause (4) of subsection (D), may be made on the reverse side of the periodic statement or on a separate accompanying statement, provided that the totals of such respective amounts are disclosed on the face of the periodic statement; and

(2) The disclosures required under clauses (5) and (7) of subsection (D), except the balance on which the finance charge was computed, may be made on the reverse side of the periodic statement or on the face of a single supplemental statement which shall accompany the periodic statement.

(3) If the creditor exercises any of the options provided under this subsection, the face of the periodic statement shall contain one of the following notices, as applicable: "NOTICE: See reverse side for important information" or "NOTICE: See accompanying statement for important information" or "NOTICE: See reverse side and accompanying statement for important information", and the disclosures shall not be separated so as to confuse or mislead the customer or obscure or detract attention from the information required to be disclosed.

F. Not later than fifteen days prior to the beginning date of the billing cycle in which any change is to be made in the terms previously disclosed to the buyer of a revolving credit account, the seller or holder shall mail or deliver a written disclosure of such change to each buyer required to be furnished a statement under subsection D. Such disclosure shall be mailed or delivered to each other buyer who subsequently activates his account not later than the date of mailing or delivery of the next required billing statement on his account. However, if the periodic rate or rates, or any minimum or similar charge is increased, the creditor shall mail or deliver a written disclosure of such increase to each buyer at least fifteen days prior to the beginning date of the billing cycle in which the increase is imposed on his account. No notice is necessary if the only change is a reduction in the minimum periodic payment, periodic rate or rates, or in any minimum or similar charge applicable to the account.

G. The seller or holder shall mail or deliver to the buyer the statement or statements required by subsection D for each billing cycle at least nine days before the end of the next succeeding billing cycle or the payment due date, whichever is the earlier. If the seller or holder fails to mail or deliver such statement or statements within the specified period, he shall not be entitled to any finance charge with respect to the next succeeding billing cycle based upon the balance or any portion of the balance of the preceding billing cycle.

If such finance charge is assessed or collected, the buyer shall receive a credit or refund for any such finance charge assessed or collected other than in accordance with the provisions of this subsection within the two billing cycles following such assessment or collection. Section 2. A foreign corporation shall not do business of any kind in the commonwealth the doing of which by a domestic corporation is prohibited by the laws of the commonwealth.

Section 3. Every foreign corporation which does business in the commonwealth or which has a usual place of business in the commonwealth, or which owns assets of any kind therein without having such a usual place of business, or which is engaged therein, permanently or temporarily, and with or without a usual place of business therein, in the construction, erection, alteration or repair of a building, bridge, railroad, railway or structure of any kind, or in the construction or repair of roads, highway or waterways, or in any other activity requiring the performance of labor, shall be considered to be doing business in the commonwealth for the purposes of this chapter unless its activities within the commonwealth consist of no more than one or more of the following: (a) maintaining bank accounts; (b) maintaining or appointing trustees, depositaries, or agencies for the holding, transfer, exchange or registration of its securities; (c) holding meetings of its directors or shareholders; (d) participating or appearing in any action or suit or any administrative or arbitration proceeding, or in the settlement thereof or the settlement of claims or disputes; or (e) performing activities subject to regulations under chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or chapter one hundred and seventy-five, if the foreign corporation has complied with the provisions of the applicable chapter or chapters.

Section 4. Every foreign corporation doing business in the commonwealth shall file with the state secretary, within ten days after it commences doing business in the commonwealth, a certificate signed under penalties of perjury by its president or a vice-president and its clerk or an assistant clerk, or secretary or an assistant secretary, in such form as the state secretary shall require, stating:

- (1) the exact name of the foreign corporation, including any words or abbreviations indicating incorporation or limited liability;
- (2) the location of its principal office;
- (3) a brief description of the activities of the foreign corporation within the commonwealth;
- (4) the location of its local office, if any, and the name and address of its resident agent, if any;
- (5) the names and residences of its president, treasurer, clerk or secretary and directors;
- (6) the fiscal year of the foreign corporation;
- (7) the date of its organization and the jurisdiction under the laws of which it is organized;
- (8) the duration of its existence; and
- (9) a statement of the fees imposed, by the laws of the jurisdiction under whose laws the foreign corporation has been established, organized or chartered, on corporations organized under the laws of the commonwealth or their agents doing business in that jurisdiction.

In the certificate the foreign corporation shall appoint the state secretary and his successor in office to be its attorney upon whom all lawful process in any judicial or administrative proceeding may be served so long as any liability incurred in the commonwealth while it was doing business in the commonwealth shall remain outstanding.

Every foreign corporation doing business in the commonwealth shall file with the state secretary an amended certificate signed under penalties of perjury by its president or a vice-president and its clerk or an assistant clerk, or its secretary or an assistant secretary, in such form as the state secretary shall require, setting forth any change in the information concerning the name, principal office location and description of corporate activities required by this section within sixty days of the effective date of such change.

Every such corporation shall annually, within six months of the close of its fiscal year, prepare and submit to the state secretary a report of condition signed under penalties of perjury by its president or a vice-president and its treasurer or an assistant treasurer, and a majority of its directors, in such form as the state secretary shall require, stating:

- (1) the exact name of the foreign corporation, including any words or abbreviations indicating incorporation or limited liability;

- (2) the location of its principal office;

- (3) the location of its local office, if any, and the name and address of its resident agent, if any;

- (4) the names and residences of its president, treasurer, and clerk or secretary and of all the directors of the foreign corporation, and the date upon which the term of office of each expires;

- (5) the amount of its capital stock, authorized and issued, including the number and par value, if any, of its shares, and the amount paid in thereon; and

- (6) a statement of the assets and liabilities of the foreign corporation as of the end of its last fiscal year, to be made in such form as the state secretary shall prescribe. A parent corporation, in filing its own report, may make a consolidated statement of assets and liabilities of the corporation and its subsidiaries, if approved by the state secretary in advance of filing, provided that nothing herein shall relieve any subsidiary corporation from filing any report of condition otherwise required by law.

If the annual report of a foreign corporation shows total assets in excess of one million dollars, it shall be accompanied by a written statement signed by an accountant, which shall be attached to and become a part of the report. The accountant's statement shall declare that he has examined the statement of assets and liabilities included in such report, that his examination was made in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards, and that in his opinion said statement of assets and liabilities presents fairly the financial position of the foreign corporation as of the date thereof, all in conformity with said generally accepted accounting principles.

The state secretary may in special circumstances, in his discretion, approve the inclusion of an accountant's statement expressing a qualified opinion or no opinion of the statement of assets and liabilities taken as a whole, provided the accountant states his reasons therefor. Such an accountant's statement shall not be required for the report of a foreign corporation that is included as a subsidiary of another corporation in a consolidated report filed by it accompanied by the statement of an accountant as provided in this section or in section one hundred and nine A of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

Section 5. No foreign corporation doing business in the commonwealth shall assume the name or trade name of another corporation established under the laws of the commonwealth, or of a corporation wherever established, firm, association or person carrying on business in the commonwealth, at the time of incorporation or change of name of the corporation assuming any such name or within three years prior thereto, or assume a name which is under reservation under the laws of the commonwealth for another or proposed corporation wherever established, or assume a name so similar to any of the foregoing as to be likely to be mistaken for it, except with the written consent of the said corporation, firm or association or of such person previously filed with the state secretary. The supreme judicial court or superior court shall have jurisdiction in equity, upon the application of any person interested or affected, to enjoin such foreign corporation from doing business under a name assumed in violation of any provision of this section, although initial or amended certificates may have been approved and filed.

If within thirty days after the date when an initial certificate, or an amended certificate effecting a change of name of any foreign corporation is filed in the office of the state secretary, any corporation or person in whose name a corporate name is under reservation, or any other corporation or any firm, association or person carrying on business in the commonwealth at the time when such certificate is so filed, or within three years prior thereto, shall protest in writing to the state secretary that the name assumed by the foreign corporation is the same as the name, name under reservation or trade name of the party protesting or so similar thereto as to be likely to be mistaken for it, the state secretary shall, as soon as reasonably may be, hear the party protesting and the foreign corporation which assumed the name, giving written notice of the hearing to each. If after the hearing the state secretary shall be of the opinion that the assuming of the name violates any provision of this section he shall file a statement withdrawing his approval of said certificate or amended certificate insofar as it relates to the name assumed by the foreign corporation and give written notice thereof to the party protesting and to the foreign corporation, such withdrawal to take effect sixty days after the date of filing. After the expiration of said period of sixty days, the foreign corporation shall have no right to use the name assumed and may be enjoined from doing business under such name by the supreme judicial court or superior court upon application of the attorney general or any person interested or affected.

Any person intending to organize a foreign corporation, or any foreign corporation intending to change its name, may reserve the exclusive right to the use of a corporate name. The reservation shall be made by filing with the state secretary an application to reserve a specific corporate name, signed by the applicant. If the name is available for corporate use under the laws of the commonwealth, the state secretary shall reserve the name for the exclusive use of the applicant for a period of thirty days. The state secretary may extend the reservation for an additional thirty days upon written request of the applicant. The fee for the reservation of a name, or the extension of a reservation, shall be two dollars and payment of the fee shall accompany the application.

Section 6. The state secretary shall examine and endorse his approval on each document submitted to him that complies with the provisions of this chapter. Upon such approval and payment of the fee provided in section seven the document shall be deemed to be filed with the state secretary. The state secretary shall keep a record, conveniently indexed, of each such document submitted to him, of the date of submission, of his endorsement of approval, if given, and of the date on which such document is filed, and shall keep such document on file in his office in a manner convenient for public inspection. He shall cause a photographic or other copy to be made of each document so filed showing his approval endorsed thereon, and shall deliver the same to the foreign corporation.

The state secretary shall report to the attorney general instances of neglect or omission on the part of foreign corporations to comply with the provisions of this chapter.

Section 7. Every foreign corporation shall pay to the state secretary two hundred dollars for filing the initial certificates and thirty-five dollars for filing an amended certificate or report of condition as required by section four.

Section 8. If the laws of any other jurisdiction impose on corporations organized under the laws of the commonwealth or their agents doing business in such jurisdiction any fees as a condition of doing business in that jurisdiction in addition to or in excess of those imposed by this chapter upon foreign corporations and their agents, like fees shall be imposed by the state secretary upon all foreign corporations organized under the laws of such jurisdiction and their agents doing business in the commonwealth as long as such laws remain in force.

Section 9. Every foreign corporation which fails to file an initial certificate or an amended certificate as required by section four shall, for each such failure and for each year that each such failure shall continue, be fined not more than five hundred dollars. No such failure shall affect the validity of any contract involving the foreign corporation, but no action shall be maintained or recovery had in any of the courts of the commonwealth by the foreign corporation as long as such failure continues.

If a foreign corporation fails to file a report of condition as required by section four, the state secretary shall give notice by certified mail to the corporation of its default. If the foreign corporation fails to comply within thirty days after such notice of default has been so mailed, it shall be fined not more than ten dollars for each day for fifteen days after the expiration of the said thirty days, and not more than two hundred dollars for each day thereafter during which such default continues, or any lesser sum that the court may deem just and equitable.

The penalties set forth in this section may be recovered in an action brought in Suffolk county in the name of the commonwealth or by an information in equity in the name of the attorney general at the relation of the state secretary brought in the supreme judicial court in Suffolk county. Upon such information, the court may issue an injunction restraining the further prosecution of the business of the foreign corporation, and the further exercise of any corporate rights, privileges or franchises in the commonwealth, until such penalties with interest and costs have been paid and until the foreign corporation has filed the certificates or reports required by section four.

Section 10. The directors and officers of a foreign corporation who sign any statement or report required by this chapter which is false in any material representation and that they know or have reason to know to be false shall be jointly and severally liable to a creditor of the foreign corporation who has relied upon such false representation to the extent of the actual damage sustained by him by reason of such reliance; provided that if a report of condition as a whole states the condition of the foreign corporation with substantial accuracy, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, it shall not be deemed to be false; and provided also, that the officers and directors signing a false report of condition shall not be liable to creditors for debts contracted or contracts entered into after the filing of a report of condition or a corrected report of condition that is not false in any material representation.

Section 11. No liability shall be imposed under section ten upon any director or officer who shall have discharged the duties of his position in good faith and with the degree of diligence, care and skill that prudent men would ordinarily exercise under similar circumstances in a like position. In discharging his duties any such person, when acting in good faith shall be entitled to rely upon the books of account of the foreign corporation or upon written reports made to the foreign corporation by any of its officers, other than such person, or by an independent public accountant.

Section 12. Any director or officer who pays on a judgment rendered on a claim asserted under section ten shall be entitled to contribution from the other directors and officers against whom judgment has been entered on the same claim or who shall be ascertained to be liable to the plaintiff upon the same claim.

Section 13. Whoever knowingly makes, executes, files or publishes any report or statement required by law to be made, executed, filed or published by a foreign corporation in the commonwealth, or whoever causes the same to be done, which report or statement is false in any material representation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than three years, or both.

Section 14. Whoever knowingly makes, executes, files or publishes any report or statement required by the law of another state or country to be made, executed, or published by a foreign corporation, or whoever causes the same to be done, within the commonwealth, which report or statement is false in any material representation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than three years, or both.

Section 15. Foreign corporations shall be liable to be sued and to have their property attached in the same manner and to the same extent as individuals who are residents of other states.

Every foreign corporation doing business in the commonwealth which has not complied with the provisions of section four shall be deemed to have appointed the state secretary and his successor in office to be its true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful process in any judicial or administrative proceeding may be served so long as any liability incurred in the commonwealth while it was doing business in the commonwealth shall remain outstanding. Service of process in all judicial and administrative proceedings against a foreign corporation doing business in the commonwealth shall be made upon the state secretary. Service of process in all judicial and administrative proceedings against a foreign corporation formerly doing business in the commonwealth, or against a foreign corporation formerly doing business in the commonwealth that has withdrawn from the commonwealth, shall be made upon the state secretary if the proceeding involves a liability alleged to have been incurred by the foreign corporation while it was doing business in the commonwealth. If the foreign corporation has designated a resident agent in its most recent certificate filed with the state secretary pursuant to this chapter, service of process shall not be deemed to have been completed until the resident agent has received the service of process from the state secretary, unless the resident agent cannot be found at the designated address or unless the resident agent refuses to act as such.

When lawful process in any judicial or administrative proceeding against any foreign corporation doing business in the commonwealth is served upon the state secretary, he shall immediately give notice to the foreign corporation of such service by mail, postage prepaid, directed to its principal office or, in the case of a foreign corporation established in a foreign country, to the resident manager, if any, in the United States; and shall, within two days after such service, forward in the same manner a copy of the process served upon him to the foreign corporation or manager, or to its resident agent or any other person designated by the foreign corporation by a writing filed in the office of the state secretary. The fee of two dollars paid by the plaintiff to the state secretary at the time of the service shall be taxed in his costs, if he prevails in the suit. The state secretary shall keep a record of all such processes, which shall show the day and hour of service.

In the case of service of process on a foreign corporation that has not complied with section four, the notice herein provided for shall be mailed by the state secretary to the proper address of the foreign corporation which shall be furnished to him by the plaintiff or his attorney.

Service of process upon a foreign corporation for violation of any criminal law of the commonwealth may be made in the manner hereinabove provided except that no fee shall be paid to the state secretary.

Section 16. A foreign corporation formerly doing business in the commonwealth may withdraw from the commonwealth upon filing with the state secretary a certificate of withdrawal signed under penalties of perjury by its president or a vice-president, and its clerk or an assistant clerk or its secretary or an assistant secretary or, if the foreign corporation is in the hands of a receiver or trustee, by such receiver or trustee, in such form as the state secretary shall require, stating:

- (1) the exact name of the foreign corporation;
- (2) the location of its principal office;
- (3) the names and residences of its president, treasurer, clerk or secretary and directors;
- (4) the date of its fiscal year; and
- (5) that the foreign corporation is not doing business in the commonwealth.

The state secretary shall not receive for filing a certificate of withdrawal unless it is accompanied by a certificate of the commissioner of corporations and taxation that all taxes due and payable by the foreign corporation to the commonwealth have been paid or provided for.

SECTION 2. Every foreign corporation which has been doing business in the commonwealth prior to the effective date of this act and which has complied with the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-one of the General Laws, up to said date, shall be subject to all of the provisions of this act, except that it may file the initial certificate required by section four of said chapter one hundred and eighty-one, as amended by section one of this act without paying any fee therefor at the time it files its annual report also required by said section four.

SECTION 3. Upon the effective date of this act the state secretary may, in his discretion, dispose of any charters, articles or certificates of incorporation and by-laws filed prior to said date.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

The first paragraph of section 1F of chapter 15 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 887 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — The board shall establish eight divisions in the following areas: (a) curriculum and instruction, (b) administration and personnel, (c) research and development, (d) school facilities and related services, (e) state and federal assistance, (f) occupational education, (g) special education and (h) educational personnel.

SECTION 2. Said section 1F of said chapter 15 is hereby further amended by striking out the second paragraph, as amended by chapter 964 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph: —

The eight divisions in the areas of curriculum and instruction, administration and personnel, research and development, school facilities and related services, state and federal assistance, occupational education, special education, and educational personnel shall each be headed by an associate commissioner. The board shall, by a majority vote of all its members, appoint the associate commissioners and shall establish their salaries. The board shall appoint such associate commissioners from lists submitted by the commissioner, who shall nominate three candidates ranked according to his preference, for each such office to be filled. The person appointed associate commissioner for the division of curriculum and instruction shall have had experience and background in all major curricula, the person appointed associate commissioner for the division of occupational education shall have had experience and background in vocational and occupational education, the person appointed associate commissioner for the division of special education shall have had experience and background in special education, and the person appointed associate commissioner for the division of educational personnel shall have had experience and background in the preparation, certification and placement of educational personnel.

SECTION 3. The third paragraph of said section 1F of said chapter 15, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 837 of the acts of 1969, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence: — There shall be established in the division of educational personnel a bureau for certification of educational personnel, a bureau for preparation of educational personnel and a bureau for placement of educational personnel and each such bureau shall be headed by a director and staffed by such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of its duties.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 15 is hereby further amended by adding after section 45 the following three sections: —

Section 46. There is hereby established in the department of education an advisory commission for the division of educational personnel, hereinafter referred to as the commission. The commission shall be appointed by the board of education, hereinafter in this section and in the following two sections referred to as the board. The commission shall consist of twenty-one voting members who shall be residents of the commonwealth and who shall be broadly representative of classroom teachers, the faculty of public and private higher education institutions, public school administrators, school committees, students preparing for teaching, staff of nonpublic schools and the general public. A minimum of one third of those appointed to the commission shall be public school teachers and at no time shall the aggregate number of teachers appointed be exceeded by representation of any other group. In making appointments to the commission from the profession the board shall consult with the appropriate professional organizations. In making appointments to the commission of representatives of public higher education the board shall consult with the board of higher education. No more than one member of the commission shall be appointed from the same school system, college or university.

The board shall initially appoint the twenty-one members of the commission, seven of whom shall serve for a term of three years, seven for a term of four years and seven for a term of five years. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any such member, or of any subsequent member, his successor shall be appointed in a like manner for a term of five years. In the event of a vacancy in the office of a member, his successor shall be appointed in like manner to serve for the unexpired term. No member shall serve for more than two terms. Prior service on said commission for a term of less than three years resulting from the filling of a vacancy shall not be counted as a term. The board may, in addition to the twenty-one voting members, appoint such other additional members as it deems advisable, but such other members shall serve at the pleasure of the board and shall not have the right to vote. All members of the commission shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for their necessary expenses actually incurred in the performance of their duties.

The office of a member of the commission who removes from the commonwealth shall be deemed to be vacated; the office of a member who is a student preparing for the teaching profession shall be deemed to be vacated when he ceases to be a full-time student preparing for said teaching profession; the office of a member who serves on a school committee shall be deemed to be vacated if he no longer serves on a school committee; the office of a member appointed from a public or private school or an institution of higher education shall be deemed to be vacated upon the termination of his service at such school or institution; the office of a member of the commission who is absent from any four regularly scheduled meetings of the commission in any calendar year, exclusive of any meeting held in July and August, shall be deemed to be vacated. In the case of a vacancy, the board shall appoint a member from any eligible group to serve for the balance of the term of the member whose office was vacated.

The commission shall, by a majority vote of all its voting members, appoint a chairman annually from its own voting members. The commission shall meet regularly each month except that the chairman, with the approval of the board, may omit meetings in July and August, and the chairman may call additional meetings at other times.

Whenever an employee of any school committee, state college or any other public agency is appointed to membership on the commission, his employer shall grant him sufficient leave from his regular duties, without loss of income or any other benefits to which he is entitled by reason of his employment, to attend meetings of the commission and to perform the duties imposed upon him by reason of his membership on the commission.

Section 47. The associate commissioner of education who heads the division of educational personnel shall be the secretary and chief executive officer of the commission. The commissioner of education shall consult with the commission before making his recommendations to the board for the appointment of the said associate commissioner.

Section 48. The purposes of the commission shall be to make recommendations to the board with respect to standards and procedures for certification of educational personnel in the commonwealth and with respect to approval of programs for preparation of such educational personnel. To carry out such purposes the commission shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) to develop and recommend to the board of standards and procedures for the certification of educational personnel;

(2) to develop and recommend to the board rules and regulations with respect to certification and preparation of educational personnel;

(3) to provide leadership and to coordinate resources for the improvement of the preparation of educational personnel, including the appointment of committees of public school teachers and other educators for the purpose of visiting various schools in the commonwealth, and to recommend to the commission programs for the preparation of educational personnel;

(4) to establish committees consisting of representatives from various professional groups qualified in each respective curriculum area and other specialized areas to assist in the formulation of recommendations of the commission to the board with respect to the certification of educational personnel and the approval of programs for preparation of such educational personnel;

(5) to develop and recommend to the board alternative methods of establishing qualifications for certification which are adapted to individual differences in candidates, in teacher-preparation institutions and in performance requirements and which at the same time afford protection against incompetence;

(6) to develop and recommend to the board objective and verifiable standards of measurement and evaluation of the competence of educational personnel for the purposes of certification; and

(7) to develop and recommend to the board objective standards for the identification of educational specialists.

The board shall advise the commission of the disposition of all recommendations made by the commission to the board.

SECTION 5. Chapter 71 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 38G and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 38G. The board of education, hereinafter referred to as the board, shall have authority to grant upon application provisional and permanent certificates, as provided in this section, to teachers, principals, supervisors, directors, guidance counselors and directors, school psychologists, school librarians, audio-visual media specialists, unified media specialists, school business administrators, superintendents of schools and assistant superintendents of schools. Each application shall be accompanied by a fee of ten dollars.

Any applicant shall be eligible for a provisional or a permanent certificate who satisfies the requirements of this section and who furnishes the board with satisfactory proof that he (1) is an American citizen, (2) is in good health, provided that no applicant shall be disqualified because of blindness or defective hearing, (3) is of sound moral character, (4) possesses a bachelor's degree or an earned higher academic degree or is a graduate of a four-year normal school approved by the board, and (5) meets such requirements as to courses of study, semester hours therein, experience, advanced degrees and such other requirements as may be established and put into effect by the board; provided, however, that no requirements respecting courses of study, semester hours therein, experience, advanced degrees and other such requirements shall take effect prior to one year subsequent to the promulgation of such requirements by the board.

The first certificate which the board may grant to any eligible applicant shall be a provisional certificate for two years from the date thereof. Before the board grants any other certificate, the applicant shall be evaluated by an evaluation committee in the manner hereinafter provided.

Each evaluation committee shall be under the auspices of the school committee which employs the applicant and shall consist of persons who hold a permanent certificate or who have been exempted from holding such a certificate under section two of chapter two hundred and seventy-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-one. Each evaluation committee shall consist of three persons, one of whom shall be appointed by the school committee, one nominated by the applicant, or, if the applicant so chooses, by the applicable local professional bargaining agent, and appointed by the commissioner of education; and the third shall be appointed by the other two members of the evaluating committee from professionals in the same field as the applicant or as closely allied thereto as possible. In the event the other two do not nominate a third person within ten working days after they have been appointed, the commissioner of education shall appoint a third independent member. Whenever an employee of any school committee, state college or any public agency is appointed to membership on an evaluation committee, his employer shall grant him sufficient leave from his regular duties, without loss of income or any other benefits to which he is entitled by reason of his employment, to attend meetings of the evaluation committee and to perform the duties imposed upon him by reason of his membership on the evaluation committee.

Before an applicant completes a second year of service under his provisional certificate, he shall be evaluated by the evaluation committee described in the preceding paragraph as to his readiness to obtain a permanent certificate in terms of his professional growth and performance. Any evaluation made by the evaluation committee shall be based on criteria determined by the board. Each evaluation committee shall be established in sufficient time so that its recommendations shall be forwarded to the board not later than January fifteenth of the last school year in which the applicant is able to teach under his provisional certificate.

The evaluation committee may recommend to the board that the applicant be granted a permanent certificate, and if the applicant has met all the other requirements established by the board, the board shall grant the applicant a permanent certificate.

The evaluation committee may, as one of its alternatives, recommend that the applicant's provisional certificate be renewed for an additional two years, and if the applicant has met all the other requirements established by the board, the board shall grant the applicant a renewal of his provisional certificate for two years. No renewal certificate may be granted thereafter. During his second year of service under a renewed provisional certificate the applicant shall be reevaluated in accordance with the provisions that govern the evaluation of an applicant under an initial provisional certificate.

If the evaluation committee recommends that a renewal of the original provisional certificate shall not be granted to an applicant or if the evaluation committee recommends that a permanent certificate shall not be granted to an applicant or the board denies a renewal of a provisional certificate or of a permanent certificate to an applicant because he has not met all the requirements for eligibility as provided in this section, the board shall notify the applicant of the adverse recommendation of the evaluation committee or the denial of certification by the board, and such notice shall be accompanied by a report of the evaluation committee or a report of the reasons for the denial of certification by the board, as the case may be, and a description of the procedures by which the applicant may initiate an appeal before a hearing officer as hereinafter provided and such notice shall be mailed to the applicant by registered or certified mail not later than February first of the year in which the evaluation committee has made its recommendations. The board shall provide the applicant with a list of five qualified hearing officers from which the applicant, if he requests a hearing, may select one person, and the applicant shall so notify the board in writing of his selection of a hearing officer prior to February tenth of such year. The board shall mail the applicant by registered or certified mail a notice stating the time and place of the hearing at least ten days before the scheduled date of the hearing and the hearing shall be held before March twentieth of such year. The board shall employ and compensate a stenographer who shall take stenographic notes of the hearing. The applicant shall be entitled to be represented by counsel and may call witnesses to testify in his behalf and may examine and cross-examine witnesses. It shall be the responsibility of the hearing officer to consider whether the criteria established by the board were adhered to and appropriately applied, and to make a recommendation as to whether or not the evaluation and the determination regarding eligibility should be accepted. The recommendation of the hearing officer and the transcribed record of the hearing shall be reviewed by the board. If the board then decides, based on the facts found by the hearing officer, that the provisional certificate should not be renewed or that a permanent certificate should not be granted, as the case may be, it shall so notify the applicant by registered or certified mail on or before April seventh of such year and the applicant shall have the right to judicial review as provided in chapter thirty A.

Notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary, a person whose application for a renewal of a provisional certificate or whose application for a permanent certificate has been denied by the board may submit a new application for certification in accordance with the provisions of this section at any time subsequent to two years after the expiration date of his last certificate. A person whose provisional certificate has expired, provided the board has not denied the issuance of a provisional or permanent certificate, may reapply for a provisional certificate immediately.

If an applicant has been employed by a school committee while holding a provisional certificate or a renewal thereof, two years of provisional service shall be credited as service in acquiring the status of serving at the discretion of the school committee as provided in section forty-one; and said two years shall be the last two years the applicant has served under a provisional certificate or a renewal thereof.

A teacher holding a provisional certificate or a renewal thereof shall be employed by a school committee at the level of the regular local salary schedule commensurate with his experience and preparation.

No person shall be eligible for employment by a school committee as a teacher, principal, supervisor, director, guidance counselor and director, school psychologist, school librarian, audio-visual media specialist, unified media specialist, school business administrator, superintendent of schools or assistant superintendent of schools unless he has been granted by the board a certificate with respect to the type of position for which he seeks employment; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent a school committee from prescribing additional qualifications; and provided further, that a school committee may upon its request be exempt by the board for any one school year from the requirement in this section to employ certified personnel when compliance therewith would in the opinion of the board constitute a great hardship in securing teachers for the schools of a town. During the time that such a waiver is in effect, service of an employee of a school committee to whom the waiver applies shall not be counted as service in acquiring the status of serving at the discretion of a school committee under section forty-one.

For the purpose of certifying provisional teachers, the board may approve programs at colleges or universities devoted to the preparation of teachers and other educational personnel. Whenever an employee who has a known physical impairment which is due to any previous accident, disease or any congenital condition and is, or is likely to be, a hindrance or obstacle to his employment, and who, in the course of and arising out of his employment, receives a personal injury for which compensation is required by this chapter and which results in disability that is substantially greater by reason of the combined effects of such impairment and subsequent personal injury than that disability which would have resulted from the subsequent personal injury alone, the insurer or self-insurer shall pay all compensation provided by this chapter. Such insurer or self-insurer shall, however, be reimbursed by the state treasurer from the fund created by section sixty-five in an amount not to exceed fifty per cent of all compensation subsequent to that paid for the first one hundred and four weeks of disability.

If said subsequent injury is caused by the pre-existing impairment or if said subsequent personal injury of such an employee shall result in the death of the employee, and it shall be determined that the death would not have occurred except for such pre-existing physical impairment, the insurer or self-insurer shall pay all compensation provided by this chapter. Such insurer or self-insurer shall, however, be reimbursed by the state treasurer from the fund created by section sixty-five in an amount not to exceed fifty per cent of all compensation paid in excess of that paid for the first one hundred and four weeks.

Personal knowledge upon the part of the employer as to the existence of such pre-existing physical impairment shall not be required for reimbursement as provided by this section; provided, however, that proof of the pre-existence of such impairment shall be directly established from medical records existing prior to the date of employment or retention in employment of such an employee, or from information established by the employer not later than thirty days subsequent to the date of employment from either a physical examination, employment application questionnaire or statement from the employee.

In the event that liability for any case arising under this section is redeemed by a lump sum payment as provided in section forty-eight, and if the attorney general has been given an opportunity to appear and be heard on behalf of the fund, and when the order of the division refers to the provisions of this section, reimbursement shall be made without the necessity of further approval of the lump sum by the state treasurer; but no reimbursement shall be made covering the first one hundred and four weekly payments, whether paid under an agreement, decision or lump sum settlement.

For every case of personal injury resulting in death covered by this chapter when there are no dependents the insurer or self-insurer shall pay into the state treasury an additional five hundred dollars. Payments under this section shall constitute a special fund in the custody of the state treasurer, who shall make payments therefrom upon the written order of the division for the purposes set forth in section thirty-seven and thirty-seven A and for the purpose of paying the expense of printing the necessary records, papers and briefs in certain appeals to the supreme judicial court as provided in section eleven. Payments made under section thirty-seven A shall have priority over any other payments made under this section.

As soon as practicable after June thirtieth of any year in which payments were made from the fund established by this section exceed deposits therein, the chairman of the industrial accident board shall assess upon and collect from each insurance carrier and each self-insurer a sum equal to that proportion of the excess of disbursements over receipts during such year which the total compensation payments of such carrier or self-insurer bore to the total compensation payments made by all carriers and self-insurers during such year.

The reasonable expense of prosecution or defense, if any, by the attorney general of claims for deposit under this section, or against claims for reimbursement under sections thirty-seven and thirty-seven A, shall, subject to the approval of the division, be payable out of the special fund established hereunder.

(b) an increase of its capital stock of any class then authorized by such amount as may be authorized by the department in accordance with section twelve A or section fourteen, or a reduction of any such class of stock; and

(c) change of its corporate name.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 164 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 8 the following four sections: —

Section 8A. A corporation subject to this chapter may authorize, at a meeting duly called for the purpose, an amendment of its articles of organization, by vote of two-thirds of each class of stock outstanding and entitled to vote thereon, effecting any one or more of the following changes:

(a) an alteration of, addition to or change of the business for which it was incorporated, but it shall not engage in any business not authorized by this chapter; provided, however, that a gas company shall not be authorized to engage in the business of an electric company and an electric company shall not be authorized to engage in the business of a gas company unless, in either case, the department, after notice and public hearing, shall certify to the state secretary that the department deems the public convenience will be promoted thereby;

(b) any other amendment to its articles of organization; provided, only, that any provision added to or changes made in the articles of organization by such amendment could have been included in and any provision deleted thereby could have been omitted from original articles of organization filed at the time of such meeting. If any such amendment would adversely affect the rights of any class of stock, the vote of two-thirds of such class, voting separately, shall also be necessary to authorize such amendment. For this purpose any series of a class which is adversely affected in a manner different from other series of the same class shall, together with any other series of the same class adversely affected in the same manner, be treated as a separate class.

Section 8B. Within sixty days after any meeting at which any amendment of the articles of organization has been adopted or within thirty days after any necessary approval by the department, whichever is later, articles of amendment, signed under the penalties of perjury by the president or any vice president and by the clerk or an assistant clerk, setting forth such amendment and the due adoption thereof, shall be submitted to the state secretary. The amendment shall become effective when the articles of amendment are filed in accordance with section six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, unless said articles specify, in accordance with the vote adopting the amendment, a later effective date not more than thirty days after such filing, in which event the amendment shall become effective on such later date. A signed copy of any amendment which relates to an increase or reduction of capital stock shall also be filed in the office of the department.

Section 8C. Every corporation may authorize, at a meeting duly called for the purpose, by vote of two-thirds of each class of stock outstanding and entitled to vote thereon, a restatement of its articles of organization. The restated articles of organization may effect further amendments of the articles of organization provided that every such further amendment shall be lawfully adopted in accordance with the provisions of section eight or eight A and shall be authorized in accordance therewith. Within sixty days after any meeting at which restated articles of organization have been adopted, or within thirty days after any necessary approval by the department, whichever is later, such restated articles, signed under the penalties of perjury by the president or any vice president and by the clerk and any assistant clerk, shall be submitted to the state secretary. Such restated articles of organization shall set forth all matter that would be required or permitted to be set forth in original articles of organization filed at the time of such meeting, other than the names and addresses of the incorporators, and shall indicate in a manner prescribed by the state secretary each amendment effected by such restated articles of organization.

The restated articles of organization shall become effective when filed in accordance with section six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, unless the restated articles or the vote adopting the restated articles specify a later effective date not more than thirty days after such filing, in which event the restated articles of organization shall become effective on such later date. From and after the effective date thereof the restated articles of organization shall be deemed for all purposes to have superseded the original articles of organization, or other charter documents, and amendments, and shall constitute the articles of organization of the corporation.

Section 8D. If doubts arise as to the legality of the organization of any corporation created by special charter for a purpose mentioned in this chapter, which is in the exercise of its franchise, or as to the regularity or sufficiency of the proceedings of any such corporation, whether created by special charter or formed under the general laws, in consequence of failure subsequent to the organization to comply with the directions or requirements of any statute, the stockholders, at a special meeting called for the purpose in the manner provided in section thirty-four of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, may by vote confirm such defective proceedings and all subsequent proceedings of the corporation dependent thereon. The clerk or an assistant clerk shall thereupon under the penalties of perjury make a certificate setting forth the particular matters especially causing a doubt, and a copy of the call of the meeting and of the vote of the stockholders, and the date of holding the meeting, which he shall submit to the state secretary. The certificate shall become effective when filed in accordance with section six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B and thereupon such proceedings shall be taken to be legal and valid as fully as if the requirements of the statutes had been satisfied.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 164 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 10. A corporation subject to this chapter shall, upon an issue of its capital stock, other than stock issued upon conversion of convertible debentures authorized pursuant to section twelve A, within thirty days after the payment or collection of the last installment thereon, notify the department of such issue by filing in the office of the department a certificate of the amount of such issue and the fact of such payment, signed under the penalties of perjury by its president or vice president, and treasurer or assistant treasurer.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 164 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 16, as so appearing, the following section: —

Section 16A. If, when the department under this chapter approves an issue of stock, bonds, coupon notes or other evidences of indebtedness of a corporation, or passes upon the price, rates, charges or service of a corporation, it determines that the provision made by the corporation for the depreciation of its property has been inadequate, the department shall order the corporation to set aside out of earnings such allowances for depreciation and for such period or periods as the department may from time to time prescribe. All monies required by such order to be so set aside shall be kept as a separate fund and shall not, without the further order of the department, be used for any other purpose than for renewals other than ordinary repairs, or for extensions, reconstruction and enlargements of and additions to plant, and the department shall prescribe in its order such requirements relative to the creation and maintenance of such fund and its application to such aforesaid authorized uses as it may deem advisable. All orders and decisions of the department under this section shall be enforced as provided in section sixteen.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 164 is hereby further amended by striking out section 20, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 20. A corporation subject to this chapter shall not begin business until the whole amount of its capital stock, or such part thereof as may have been approved by the department, has been paid in and a certificate of that fact has been filed in accordance with section ten. The president, directors and other officers shall be jointly and severally liable for debts contracted on behalf of the corporation before such payment has been made and such certificate has been filed. Any director or officer who pays on judgment rendered on a claim asserted under this section shall be entitled to contribution in the manner and to extent provided in section sixty-six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by any one of them unless at or prior to exercise of the proxy the corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from any one of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise and the burden of proving invalidity shall rest on the challenger. If not otherwise determined by the articles of organization or by-laws of the corporation, each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share owned by him.

the articles of organization or by-laws require the vote or concurrence of the holders of all of the shares, or of any class or series thereof, or a greater proportion thereof than required by this chapter with respect to such action, the provisions of the articles of organization or by-laws shall control.

(b) Whenever, with respect to any action to be taken by the stockholders of such corporation as to which a vote of each class of stock outstanding and entitled to vote thereon is required by this chapter, the articles of organization or by-laws provide that two or more classes of stock shall vote as a single class, the provisions of the articles of organization or by-laws shall control, provided, however, that no such provision shall deprive any class or series of stock whose right would be adversely affected by such action of any right to a separate vote which such class or series may have under section eight A or section eight C.

SECTION 15. Said chapter 164 is hereby further amended by striking out section 25, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 25. The department may investigate and determine whether any person is violating this section; and any person violating any provision hereof shall forfeit to the commonwealth one hundred dollars a day for every day or part thereof during which such violation continues after the determination aforesaid. Any such violation shall forthwith be reported by the department to the attorney general, after said determination and notice thereof to such person. The said forfeiture may be recovered by an information or other appropriate proceeding brought in the supreme judicial or superior court in the name of the attorney general. Upon such information or other proceeding the court may issue an injunction restraining such person from further prosecution of his business within the commonwealth during the pendency of such proceeding or for all time, and may make such other order or decree as equity and justice may require. SECTION 7. Said chapter 79A is hereby further amended by striking out section 7, as most recently amended by chapter 315 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 7. I. (A) Any agency or person specified under this act which acquires real property, or issues an order to vacate real property for purposes of rehabilitation, or demolition, or other improvement, shall make fair and reasonable relocation payments to displaced persons and businesses, upon proper application, for:

1. actual documented reasonable expenses in moving himself, his family, his business, farm operation, or other personal property;

3. actual reasonable expenses in searching for a replacement business or farm.

(B) Any displaced person eligible for payments under subsection (A) who is displaced from a dwelling and who elects to accept the payments authorized by this subsection in lieu of the payments authorized by subsection (A), may receive a moving expense allowance not to exceed three hundred dollars, determined in accordance with the prevailing fixed payment schedule of the department of public works, and a dislocation allowance of two hundred dollars.

(C) Any displaced person eligible for payments under subsection (A) who is displaced from his place of business or from his farm operation and who elects to accept the payment authorized by this subsection in lieu of the payment authorized by said subsection (A), may receive a fixed payment in an amount equal to the average annual net earnings of the business or farm operation, except that such payment shall not be less than two thousand five hundred dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars. In the case of a business no payment shall be made under this subsection unless the business (1) cannot be relocated without a substantial loss of its existing patronage, and (2) is not part of a commercial enterprise having at least one other establishment not being acquired, which is engaged in the same or similar business. For purposes of this subsection, the term "average annual net earnings" means one half of any net earnings of the business or farm operation, before federal and state income taxes, during the two taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year in which such business or farm operation moves from the real property, or during such other period as the relocation agency determines to be more equitable for establishing such earnings, and includes any compensation paid by the business or farm operation to the owner, his spouse, or his dependents during such period.

II. (A) In addition to payments otherwise authorized by this act, an additional payment not in excess of fifteen thousand dollars shall be made to any displaced person who is displaced from a dwelling actually owned and occupied by such displaced person for not less than one hundred and eighty days prior to the initiation of negotiations for the acquisition of the property. Such additional payment shall include the following elements:

1. The amount, if any, which when added to the acquisition cost of the dwelling acquired, equals the reasonable cost of a comparable replacement dwelling which is decent, safe, and sanitary and adequate to accommodate such displaced person, reasonably accessible to public services and place of employment and available on the private market. The reasonable cost of a comparable replacement dwelling shall be determined by analysis of existing available standard dwellings which are functionally equivalent and substantially similar to the acquired dwelling and located in a comparable, but not less desirable, neighborhood, in accordance with a method approved by the bureau of relocation, unless otherwise provided by federal law.

2. The amount, if any, which will compensate such displaced person for any increased interest costs which such person is required to pay for financing the acquisition of any such comparable replacement dwelling. Such amount shall be paid only if the dwelling acquired was encumbered by a bona fide mortgage which was a valid lien on such dwelling for not less than one hundred and eighty days prior to the initiation of negotiations for the acquisition of such dwelling. Such amount shall be equal to the excess in the aggregate interest and other debt service costs of that amount of the principal of the mortgage on the replacement dwelling which is equal to the unpaid balance of the mortgage on the acquired dwelling, over the remainder term of the mortgage on the acquired dwelling, reduced to discounted present value. The discount rate shall be the prevailing interest rate paid on savings by commercial banks in the general area in which the replacement dwelling is located.

3. Reasonable expenses incurred by such displaced person for evidence of title, recording fees, and other legal and closing costs incidental to the purchase of the replacement dwelling, but not including prepaid expenses.

(B) The additional payment authorized by this section shall be made only to such a displaced person who purchases and occupies a replacement dwelling which is decent, safe, and sanitary not later than the end of the one year period beginning on the date on which he receives final payment of all costs of the acquired dwelling, or on the date on which he moves from the acquired dwelling, whichever is the later date.

III. In addition to amounts otherwise authorized by this act, a payment shall be made to any displaced person, not eligible to receive a payment under subdivision II, who actually and lawfully occupied the dwelling from which he is displaced for not less than ninety days prior to the initiation of negotiations for acquisition of such dwelling. Such payment shall assist the displaced person:

(A) To pay any increase in cost required to lease or rent for a period of four years, a decent, safe, and sanitary comparable replacement dwelling of standards adequate to accommodate such person in an area similar with regard to economic rents to the area of displacement, but not generally less desirable in regard to public utilities and public and commercial facilities, and reasonably accessible to the displaced person's place of employment, but not to exceed four thousand dollars. The cost of a comparable replacement dwelling shall be determined by analysis of existing available standard dwellings which are functionally equivalent and substantially the same as the dwelling from which the person is displaced, provided it is standard, in accordance with a method approved by the bureau of relocation, unless otherwise provided by federal law;

(B) To make a down payment, including incidental expenses described in clause 3 of subsection (A) of subdivision II, on the purchase of a decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling of standards adequate to accommodate the displaced household, and shall be in an amount equal to the amount which would have been required to pay any increase in rent for comparable replacement housing over a four year period as defined above. In no event may the total payment exceed four thousand dollars.

All determinations required to carry out subdivisions I, II, and III shall be determined by regulations issued pursuant to section twelve, unless otherwise provided by federal law.

Any person aggrieved by a determination as to eligibility for, or the amount of, a payment authorized by this act, may have his claim reviewed by the head of the displacing agency through a grievance procedure approved by the bureau of relocation. Where such person is not satisfied with the agency's determination after such review and reconsideration, he is entitled to review of this claim by the bureau of relocation and the disposition of the bureau of said claim shall be final.

Relocation payments granted under the provisions of this chapter shall not be subject to attachment by trustee process or otherwise, nor shall they be subject to be taken on execution or other process. Payments received under this chapter shall not be considered as income for such purposes as establishing eligibility or the extent of eligibility of any person or family for publicly sponsored housing or public assistance programs including, without limitation, state and federal assistance to veterans.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 79A is hereby amended by striking out section 11, as appearing in section 4 of chapter 790 of the acts of 1965, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 11. Funds appropriated or otherwise available to any public agency for the acquisition, rehabilitation or demolition of real property or any interest therein for a particular program or project shall be available also for obligation and expenditure to carry out the provisions of this act as applied to that program or project.

If a municipality acquires, rehabilitates, or demolishes real property, and state financial assistance is available to pay the cost, in whole or part, of the acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition of such real property, or of the improvement for which such property is acquired, the cost to the unit of local government of providing the payments and services prescribed by this act shall be included as part of the costs of the project for which state financial assistance is available to such municipality, and shall be eligible for state financial assistance in the same manner and in the same ratio as other project costs.

SECTION 9. Section 12 of said chapter 79A, as appearing in section 4 of chapter 790 of the acts of 1965, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "chapter", in line 2, the words: — and to assure that relocation payments are administered in a manner which is equitable and uniform;.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 79A is hereby further amended by adding the following three sections: —

Section 13. Any public agency displacing one or more persons by issuing an order to vacate real property for the purpose of enforcing Article II of the state sanitary code, pursuant to section one hundred and twenty-seven B of chapter one hundred and eleven, shall provide relocation assistance and a relocation payment to such person or persons for actual reasonable documented expenses in moving his personal property from the real property, unless such payment is otherwise provided. The provisions of this section shall apply only to real property which is not part of or constitutes the entirety of a project where relocation payments would otherwise be required.

In instances where such enforcement results in the eviction of occupants, the state shall reimburse the locality carrying out such enforcement for fifty per cent of the costs of providing such relocation assistance and moving payments. Such state financial assistance shall be contingent upon the provision of relocation services and payments as documented by periodic reports as required by regulation pursuant to section twelve.

Section 14. Any person utilizing mortgage financing issued, insured, or subsidized by a public agency, including an agency of the federal government, for a project resulting in the displacement of occupants, shall provide relocation assistance and a relocation payment to any such displaced occupant for actual reasonable documented expenses in moving his personal property from such real property.

Section 15. If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application.

Approved October 4, 1973.

Chap. 884. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE SALE OF CERTAIN LOW RENT HOUSING PROJECTS AND PROVIDING FOR REPLACEMENT HOUSING AND RELOCATION ASSISTANCE TO DISPLACED OCCUPANTS AND AUTHORIZING REHABILITATION FUNDS FOR CERTAIN HOUSING IN THE COMMONWEALTH.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide decent, safe and sanitary low rent housing projects, and for the replacement of certain housing projects and assistance to certain persons displaced thereby, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26 of chapter 121B of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding after clause (j), added by section 2 of chapter 694 of the acts of 1970, the following clause: —

(k) To undertake as a separate project the demolition, clearance, preparation for sale, including the payment of relocation costs for occupants of such existing housing projects, and sale or other disposition of any or all of any existing housing project or part thereof assisted by the commonwealth, pursuant to section thirty-four, notwithstanding the provisions of clause (d) or section thirty-four, provided, that the department shall first have:

(1) found that all or a substantial portion of such existing housing project or part thereof no longer provides decent, safe and sanitary housing, as determined by the department of public health or the department of public safety, and, in the judgment of the department, such project or part thereof cannot feasibly be operated or renovated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

(2) approved the proposed project, including a relocation plan for occupants of the existing project and a plan to make housing available on the land where the existing project is situated, at least twenty-five per cent of the units of which shall be for low income persons or families, which project may include plans to use a portion of such land for a public purpose ancillary to such development and approved by the department;

(3) approved the sale and the terms thereof, if the land is to be sold, which shall be at the fair market value for the proposed reuse, as determined by MHFA and approved by the department, and in accordance with the cooperation agreement referred to below;

(4) determined that the availability of funds to the housing authority for such project is conditioned upon the occurrence of the initial mortgage loan closing for the development of new or rehabilitated housing on the land where the existing project is situated; and the execution of a cooperation agreement by the MHFA and the department which shall establish a procedure for the selection of a developer best qualified to develop, own and operate the new or rehabilitated housing on the existing land, for providing for such development of the new housing within a reasonable time in accordance with MHFA-approved contracts, and for assuring continued occupancy of at least twenty-five per cent of the dwelling units in the new development by families of low income;

(5) determined that the proceeds of such sale or other funds available to the housing authority for such project, or both, shall not be less than the amount necessary to pay in full the principal and interest on the outstanding obligations of the housing authority with respect to such existing project if the whole is sold or not less than that percentage of such obligations which the original cost of the part sold bears to the total original cost of the entire existing project if a part is sold. Such proceeds or other funds shall be deposited in trust for the benefit of the holders of such outstanding obligations and until and unless all such obligations are paid and discharged in full said proceeds and other funds shall be expended solely for payment of principal and interest thereon; and

(6) found that representatives of all occupants of such existing housing project, selected by the occupants in a manner approved by the department, have fully participated in the development of the project proposal and that all occupants of such existing housing projects have adequate notice and an opportunity to review the proposed project and relocation plan and an opportunity to present their views at a public hearing which shall be held by the department.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 121B of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 34 the following section: —

Section 34A. The commonwealth, acting by and through the department, may enter into a contract or contracts with a housing authority for state financial assistance in the form of annual contributions to assist projects financed by the MHFA which are leased in whole or in part by the said housing authorities to provide replacement housing units for, or relocation housing for occupants of, housing projects which are demolished, cleared, sold or otherwise disposed of pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. Such contract shall contain a provision that such annual contributions shall be used for the payment of interest on, and the principal of, mortgages held by the MHFA. The annual contributions for any one MHFA project shall be payable in an amount not exceeding six per cent of the cost of that portion of the project leased by such housing authority, as determined by the department, and for the fixed period which said mortgage for such MHFA project remains outstanding, but in no event for more than forty years after completion of the MHFA project, as determined by the department; provided, however, that the total amount of such annual contributions contracted for by the commonwealth for any one year shall not exceed one hundred and ninety thousand dollars. Each such annual contribution by the commonwealth to the housing authorities shall be paid by the commonwealth to the housing authority for payment to the MHFA upon approval and certification by the state comptroller.

Each such contract shall provide:

(i) that whenever in any year the earned surplus accumulated by the mortgagor exceeds the amount permitted by section five of chapter seven hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred sixty-six, as determined by MHFA, an amount equal to that portion of such excess allocable to the units leased by such housing authorities shall be applied or set aside for application to purposes which shall effect a reduction in the amount of subsequent annual contributions, and

(ii) for enforcement by the department of such contract in the manner set forth in clause (e) of section thirty-four, and

(iii) that such annual contributions may be terminated by the department if the mortgagor in the judgment of MHFA ceases to operate the project in accordance with the requirements of chapter seven hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six.

The full faith and credit of the commonwealth is hereby pledged to the payment of all annual contributions contracted for by the commonwealth. The provisions of section thirty-four shall not apply to such contracts for financial assistance, but each such contract shall contain such limitations as to the development cost of such MHFA projects and such administration and maintenance costs as the department may require. The amount of annual contributions contracted for by the commonwealth pursuant to this section shall reduce, pro tanto, the maximum amount of annual contributions authorized under the third and fourth paragraphs of clause (b) of section thirty-four.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 121B is hereby further amended by inserting after section 44 the following section: —

Section 44A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a housing authority, in addition to its other powers and for the purpose of replacing the dwelling units for persons and families of low income which will be eliminated through the demolition, clearance, sale or other disposition of low rent housing projects or to provide relocation housing for persons and families of low income and elderly persons of low income displaced thereby, may lease dwelling units in projects financed by the MHFA for a period not to exceed forty years from the completion of such MHFA project, as determined by the department. The requirements with respect to rentals and tenant selection for low rent housing projects shall apply to units leased by such housing authorities pursuant to this section, except that preference shall be given to displaced occupants of the low rent housing projects so demolished, cleared, sold or otherwise disposed of.

SECTION 4. The department of community affairs is hereby authorized to expend a sum not exceeding ten million dollars for the purpose of contracts to be entered into by said department, acting for and on behalf of the commonwealth with housing authorities established pursuant to section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, or corresponding provisions of earlier laws, for state financial assistance in the form of loans or grants to such authorities for projects undertaken pursuant to clause (k) of section twenty-six of said chapter, which grants shall be paid by the commonwealth upon approval and certification by said department to the state comptroller. Any sum remaining after the full discharge of all outstanding obligations as provided in paragraph (5) of said clause (k) shall be paid into the state treasury and held in a special fund for the purposes of this section.

SECTION 5. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting payments as authorized by section four of this act and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the General Court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall be not later than June the thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight. Such notes shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 6. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section four or to refinance notes issued as provided in section five of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale bonds of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as he may deem best, to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate, the sum of ten million dollars. Such bonds shall be designated on their face, Public Housing Clearance and Disposition Loan, Act of 1973 and shall be on the serial payment plan for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, the maturities thereof to be so arranged that the amounts payable in the several years of the period of amortization other than the final year shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the state treasurer it is practicable to make them. Said bonds shall bear interest semi-annually at such rate as the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof and the entire issue not later than June the thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-eight.

REGISTRATION AND PROTECTION OF TRADEMARKS.

Section 1. As used in this chapter, the following words shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings: —

"Applicant", any person filing an application for registration of a mark under this chapter, his legal representatives, successors or assigns;

"Mark", any trademark or service mark entitled to registration under this chapter whether registered or not;

"Person", any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, association, union or other organization;

"Registrant", any person to whom the registration of a mark under this chapter is issued, his legal representative, successors or assigns;

"Service mark", a mark used in the sale or advertising of services to identify the services of one person and distinguish them from the services of others;

"Trade name", a word, name, symbol, device or any combination thereof used by a person to identify his business, vocation or occupation and distinguish it from the business, vocation or occupation of others;

"Trademark", any word, name, symbol or device, or any combination thereof, adopted and used by a person to identify goods made or sold by him, and to distinguish them from goods made or sold by others.

For the purposes of this chapter, a trademark shall be deemed to be "used" in the commonwealth (a) on goods when it is placed in any manner on the goods or their containers or the displays associated therewith or on the tags or labels affixed thereto and such goods are sold or otherwise distributed in the commonwealth, and (b) on services when it is used or displayed in the sale or advertising of services and the services are rendered in the commonwealth.

Section 2. Subject to the limitations set forth in this chapter, any person who adopts and uses a mark may file in the office of the state secretary, on a form to be furnished by him, an application for registration of that mark setting forth, but not limited to, the following information:

(a) the name and business address of the person applying for such registration; and, if a corporation, the state of incorporation,

(b) the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used and the mode or manner in which the mark is used in connection with such goods or services and the class in which such goods or services fall,

(c) the date when the mark was first used anywhere and the date when it was first used in the commonwealth by the applicant or his predecessor in business, and

(d) a statement that the applicant is the owner of the mark and that no other person has the right to use such mark in the commonwealth either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as might be calculated to deceive or to be mistaken therefor.

The application shall be signed and verified by the applicant or by a member of the firm or an officer of the corporation or association applying.

The application shall be accompanied by a specimen or facsimile of such mark in triplicate.

The application for registration shall be accompanied by a filing fee of twenty-five dollars, payable to the state secretary.

Section 3. No person may register a mark if it:

(a) consists of or comprises immoral, deceptive or scandalous matter; or

(b) consists of or comprises matter which may disparage or falsely suggest a connection with persons, living or dead, institutions, beliefs, or national symbols, or bring them into contempt, or disrepute; or

(c) consists of or comprises the flag or coat of arms or other insignia of the United States, or of any state or municipality, or of any foreign nation, or any simulation thereof; or

(d) consists of or comprises the name, signature or portrait of any living individual, except with his written consent; or

(e) when applied to the goods or services of the applicant, is merely descriptive or deceptively misdescriptive of them, or when applied to the goods or services of the applicant is primarily geographically descriptive or deceptively misdescriptive of them, or is primarily merely a surname provided, however, that nothing in this subsection shall prevent the registration of a mark used in the commonwealth by the applicant which has become distinctive of the applicant's goods or services. The state secretary may accept as evidence that the mark has become distinctive, as applied to the applicant's goods or services, proof of continuous use thereof as a mark by the applicant in the commonwealth or elsewhere for the five years next preceding the date of the filing of the application for registration; or

(f) so resembles a mark registered in the commonwealth or a mark or trade name previously used in the commonwealth by another and not abandoned, as to be likely, when applied to the goods or services of the applicant, to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive.

Section 4. Upon compliance by the applicant with the requirements of this chapter, the state secretary shall cause a certificate of registration to be issued and delivered to the applicant.

The certificate of registration shall be issued under the signature of the state secretary and the seal of the commonwealth, and it shall show the name and business address and, if a corporation, the state of incorporation, of the person claiming ownership of the mark, the date claimed for the first use of the mark anywhere and the date claimed for the first use of the mark in the commonwealth, the class of goods or services and a description of the goods or services on which the mark is used, a reproduction of the mark, the registration date and the term of the registration.

Any certificate of registration issued by the state secretary under the provisions hereof or a copy thereof duly certified by the secretary shall be admissible in evidence as competent and sufficient proof of the registration of such mark in any action or judicial proceedings in any court of the commonwealth.

Registration of or renewal of a mark provided by this chapter shall be constructive notice of the registrant's claim of ownership thereof and shall, when introduced in any action, be prima-facie evidence of the registrant's exclusive right to use the registered mark in this commonwealth on goods or services specified in the registration subject to any conditions or limitations stated therein, but shall not preclude an opposing party from proving any legal or equitable defense or defect which might have been asserted if such mark had not been registered.

Section 5. Registration of a mark hereunder shall be effective for a term of ten years from the date of registration and, upon application filed within six months prior to the expiration of such term, on a form to be furnished by the state secretary, the registration may be renewed for a like term. A renewal fee of twenty-five dollars, payable to the state secretary, shall accompany the application for renewal of the registration.

A mark registration may be renewed for successive periods of ten years in like manner.

The state secretary shall notify registrants of marks hereunder of the necessity of renewal within the year next preceding the expiration of the ten years from the date of registration, by writing to the last known address of the registrants.

All applications for renewals under this chapter, whether of registrations made under this chapter or of registrations effected under any prior law, shall include a statement that the mark is still in use in the commonwealth.

Section 6. Any mark and its registration hereunder shall be assignable with the good will of the business in which the mark is used, or with that part of the good will of the business connected with the use of and symbolized by the mark. Assignment shall be by instruments in writing duly executed and may be recorded with the state secretary upon the payment of a fee of twenty dollars payable to the secretary who, upon recording of the assignment, shall issue in the name of the assignee a new certificate for the remainder of the term of the registration or of the last renewal thereof. An assignment of any registration shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser for valuable consideration without notice, unless it is recorded with the state secretary within three months after the date thereof or prior to such subsequent purchase.

Section 7. The state secretary shall keep for public examination a record of all marks registered or renewed under this chapter.

Section 8. The state secretary shall cancel:

- (1) any registration concerning which the state secretary shall receive a voluntary request for cancellation thereof from the registrant or the assignee of record;
- (2) any registration granted and not renewed in accordance with the provision hereof;
- (3) any registration which the superior court shall find
 - (a) that the registered mark has been abandoned,
 - (b) that the registrant is not the owner of the mark,
 - (c) that the registration was granted improperly,
 - (d) that the registration was obtained fraudulently,
 - (e) that the registered mark is so similar, as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive, to a mark registered by another person in the United States Patent Office, prior to the date of the filing of the application for registration by the registrant hereunder, and not abandoned; provided, however, that should the registrant prove that he is the owner of a concurrent registration of his mark in the United States Patent Office covering an area including the commonwealth, the registration hereunder shall not be cancelled.

(4) any registration which has been ordered cancelled by the superior court.

Section 9. The state secretary shall promulgate rules and regulations for the determination of classes of goods and services for the convenience of the administration of this chapter.

Section 10. Any person who shall for himself, or on behalf of any other person, procure the filing or registration of any mark in the office of the state secretary, by knowingly making any false or fraudulent representation or declaration, verbally or in writing, or by any other fraudulent means, shall be liable to pay all damages sustained in consequence of such filing or registration, to be recovered by or on behalf of the party injured thereby in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 11. Subject to the provisions of section fourteen any person who shall:

(a) use, without consent of the registrant, any reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation of a mark registered under this chapter in connection with the sale, offering for sale, or advertising of any goods or services on or in connection with which such use is likely to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive as to the source of origin of such goods or services; or

(b) reproduce, counterfeit, copy or colorably imitate any such mark and apply such reproduction, counterfeit, copy or colorable imitation to labels, signs, prints, packages, wrappers, receptacles, or advertisements intended to be used upon or in conjunction with the sale or other distribution in the commonwealth of such goods or services, shall be liable to a civil action by the owner of such registered mark for any or all of the remedies provided in section thirteen, except that under this section the registrant shall not be entitled to recover profits or damages unless the acts have been committed with knowledge that such mark is intended to be used to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive.

Section 12. Likelihood of injury to business reputation or of dilution of the distinctive quality of a mark registered under this chapter, or a mark valid at common law, or a trade name valid at common law, shall be a ground for injunctive relief notwithstanding the absence of competition between the parties or the absence of confusion as to the source of goods or services.

Section 13. Any owner of a mark registered under this chapter may proceed by suit to enjoin the manufacture, use, display or sale of any counterfeits or imitations thereof and the superior court may grant injunctions to restrain such manufacture, use, display or sale as may be by the said court deemed just and reasonable, and may require the defendants to pay to such owner all profits derived from and all damages suffered by reason of such wrongful manufacture, use, display or sale; and such court may also order that any such counterfeits or imitations in the possession or under the control of any defendant in such case, be delivered to an officer of the court, or to the complainant, to be destroyed.

Section 14. Nothing herein shall adversely affect the rights or the enforcement of the rights in marks acquired in good faith at any time in common law.

Section 15. The state secretary shall make rules and regulations pursuant to chapter thirty A for the conduct of proceedings in his office under this chapter and shall make such regulation available to the public as provided in said chapter thirty A.

Section 16. If any provisions of any sections of this chapter shall be held invalid, the remainder of said sections and the application of such provisions to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid, shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 6. The state secretary shall within six months after the effective date of this act notify all registrants of labels under prior provisions of law of the date of expiration of such registrations unless renewed in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and ten B of the General Laws, inserted by section five of this act, by writing to the last known address of the registrants.

Any registration of labels in force on the date on which this act shall become effective shall expire ten years from the date of the registration or of the last renewal thereof or one year after the effective date of this act, whichever is later and may be renewed by filing an application with the state secretary on a form furnished by him and paying the renewal fee within six months prior to the expiration of the registration.

SECTION 7. After one year from the effective date of this act, all registrations under prior provisions of law which are more than ten years old and not renewed in accordance with this act shall be void.

SECTION 8. This act shall take effect on April first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

Approved October 10, 1973.

Chap. 898. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF QUINCY TO ESTABLISH A DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT WHICH SHALL INCLUDE CERTAIN OTHER DEPARTMENTS OF SAID CITY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. There shall be established in the city of Quincy a department of planning and community development, hereinafter called the "department". The department shall include the planning department and planning board, the membership and personnel of each of which, their powers, duties and functions, shall continue in accordance with all applicable law now governing said planning department and board. The department shall further include the Quincy Industrial Development Commission, its powers, duties and functions, which shall continue in accordance with all applicable law now governing said commission. The department shall also perform such further powers, duties and functions as are hereinafter set forth except that the department's powers in areas zoned residential shall be limited to the following community development activities: —

(a) to recommend the acquisition and disposition of blighted open areas;

(b) to assist in the prevention of substandard or blighted areas by means of rehabilitation, conservation and the enforcement of building and other codes;

(c) to achieve the preservation, restoration or relocation of historic buildings or areas; and

(d) to assist in the provision of necessary or appropriate additional public services which are directed toward improving the community's public services and facilities.

SECTION 2. The mayor shall appoint an officer, to be known as the director of planning and community development, who shall be the executive and administrative head of the department, and who may be removed by the mayor with the approval of the city council. The position of director created under this section shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws or the provisions of section nine A of chapter thirty of the General Laws. For the purpose of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws, the department shall be considered a municipal agency and, without limiting the power of the city council to classify additional special municipal employees pursuant to said chapter, each member of the department, and any person who performs professional services for the department on a part-time, intermittent or consultant basis, such as those of architect, attorney, engineer, planner, or construction, financial, real estate or traffic expert, shall be considered a special municipal employee.

SECTION 3. The mayor shall appoint such other officers and employees as may be necessary to carry out the work of the department. Persons appointed hereunder shall be subject to chapter thirty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 4. The department shall have the existing powers, duties and functions of the planning department, the planning board and the industrial development commission and shall also have the powers, duties and functions of an urban renewal agency under chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, except for such powers, duties and functions which, under provisions of this act, shall be reserved to and performed by the city. The powers, duties and functions of this department, while not expressly limited to, shall include the following, subject to the limitations provided in this act: —

(a) to act as an agent of the city or to cooperate under the authority and direction of the city with the federal government in any clearance, housing, relocation, urban renewal, rehabilitation, community development or other projects which it is authorized to undertake by and within the city, and to assist in clearing and improving any property so acquired by the city;

(b) to recommend to the city the taking by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A of the General Laws, or the purchase or lease, or the acquisition by gift, bequest or grant and the holding of any property, real or personal, or any interest therein, found by it to be necessary or reasonably required to carry out its purposes, and to recommend the sale, exchange, transfer, lease or assignment of the same;

(c) to provide to the city auditor the data necessary to compute and the actual computations of relocation payments due persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out such project;

(d) to make, and from time to time amend or repeal rules and regulations not inconsistent with existing rules, regulations and ordinances already in effect in the city in order to govern the proceedings and effectuate the purposes of the department; and

(e) to administer, under the authority and direction of the city, the disposition of any funds received under section five of this act.

SECTION 5. The powers, duties and functions which shall be reserved to the city are as follows: —

(a) to sue and be sued, to use the city seal, to have corporate succession;

(b) to engage in or contract for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, remodeling or repair of any clearance, housing, relocation, urban renewal, rehabilitation, community development or other project which it is authorized to undertake or parts thereof, and to receive loans, grants and annual or other contributions from the federal government or from any other source, public or private including federal revenue sharing funds;

(c) to take by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A, or to purchase or lease, or to acquire by gift, bequest or grant, and hold, any property, real or personal, or any interest therein, found by it to be necessary or reasonably required to carry out the purposes of said department, and to sell, exchange, transfer or assign the same provided, that in case of a taking by eminent domain under said chapter seventy-nine, the provisions of section forty of said chapter shall be applicable, except that the security therein required shall be deposited with the mayor of the city. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of chapters seventy-nine and eighty A relative to counties, cities, towns and districts, so far as pertinent, shall apply to the department, and the members of the department shall act on its behalf under said chapters;

(d) to make relocation payments to persons and business displaced as a result of carrying out any project;

(e) in addition to the borrowing authority conferred upon the city by the General Laws, to borrow for the purposes of paying all or any part of the costs incurred pursuant to this act, exclusive of current maintenance and operating expenses, from time to time such sums as may be necessary, upon the security of its bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness and to secure the same by mortgages upon property held or to be held by it or by pledge of its revenue under this act, including without limitation grants or contributions by the federal government, or in any other lawful manner, and in connection with the incurrence of any indebtedness to covenant that it shall not thereafter mortgage or pledge the whole or any specified part of its property or pledge the whole or any specified part of its revenues;

(f) to invest in securities legal for the investment of the funds of savings banks any funds held by it and not required for immediate disbursement;

(g) to enter into agreements with the federal government, upon recommendation of the director, relative to the acceptance or borrowing of funds for any project it determines to undertake and containing such covenants, terms and conditions as it may deem desirable; provided, however, that nothing shall be construed to require approval by the mayor or the department of community affairs of requisition agreements and similar contracts between an agency and the federal government which are entered into pursuant to a prior agreement approved by them;

(h) to enter into, execute and carry out all contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers granted in this act.

SECTION 6. The city shall be deemed an operating agency for the purposes of sections twelve to sixteen, inclusive, and section twenty of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws.

SECTION 7. So long as the emergency finance board, established under section one of chapter forty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three, is in existence, the city shall not, without the approval of said board, incur indebtedness for any of the purposes of this act which would cause the total amount of its indebtedness for such purposes then outstanding to exceed two and one-half per cent of its equalized valuation. If said emergency finance board shall cease to exist, a commission consisting of the attorney general, the state treasurer and the director of the bureau of accounts in the department of corporations and taxation shall exercise the powers given to said emergency finance board by this section. Said board or commission, as the case may be, shall hold a public hearing upon any matter submitted to it under this section if requested in writing to do so by twenty-five taxable inhabitants of the city within three days after the submission of such matter.

SECTION 8. The bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness issued under clause (e) of section five of this act, in the absence of an express recital to the contrary on the face thereof, shall constitute negotiable instruments for all purposes. They may be payable from a specific part or parts of the income of the city or constitute a general obligation thereof, may be sold at not less than par, at public or private sale, may mature at such time or times, may be secured in such manner, may provide for such rights and remedies upon their default and may contain such other covenants, terms and conditions not inconsistent with law, all as may be authorized by order of the city council, and shall be signed by the mayor and by the treasurer and collector.

The bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness of the city issued under clause (e) of section five of this act and the interest thereon, shall be exempt from taxation, with respect to principal and income. Bonds of the city issued under the said clause (e) shall be legal investments for the deposits and the income derived therefrom of savings banks, for the trust funds of trust companies, and for funds over which the commonwealth has exclusive control.

SECTION 9. The city may obligate itself, in any contract with the federal government for a loan or the payment of annual contributions authorized by section five of this act, to convey to the federal government the project to which such contract relates, upon the occurrence of a substantial default with respect to the covenants, terms and conditions of such contract to which the city is subject. Such subject may further provide that, in case of such conveyance, the federal government may complete, operate, manage, lease, convey or otherwise deal with the project in accordance with the terms of such contract; provided that the contract shall require that, as soon as practicable, after the federal government is satisfied that all of the defaults on account of which it acquired the project have been remedied, and that the project will thereafter be operated in compliance with the terms of the Contract, the federal government shall reconvey to the city the project in the condition in which it then exists. The obligation of the city under such contract shall be subject to specific enforcement by any court having jurisdiction, and, notwithstanding any other provision of the law, shall not be deemed to constitute a mortgage.

SECTION 10. For the purpose of complying with the conditions of federal legislation the city may, upon such terms, and with or without consideration, do or agree to do any or all of the following things: —

(a) sell, convey, or lease any of its interests in any property, or grant easements, licenses or any other rights or privileges therein to the federal government;

(b) cause parks, playgrounds, or schools, or water, sewer or drainage facilities, or any other public improvements which it is otherwise authorized to undertake, to be laid out, constructed or furnished adjacent to or in connection with a housing, clearance, relocation, urban renewal, rehabilitation or community development project;

(c) lay out and construct, alter, relocate, change the grade of, make specific repairs upon or discontinue, public ways and construct sidewalks, adjacent to or through a housing, clearance, relocation, urban renewal, rehabilitation or community development project;

(d) establish exceptions to existing ordinances regulating the design, construction and use of buildings; annual or modify any action taken or map adopted under sections eighty-one A to eighty-one J, inclusive, of chapter forty-one of the General Laws;

(e) cause public improvements to be made and services and facilities to be furnished with respect to a housing, clearance, relocation, urban renewal, rehabilitation or community development project for which betterments or special assessments may be levied or charges made, and assume or agree to assume such betterments, assessments or charges;

(f) cause private ways, sidewalks, footpaths, ways for vehicular travel, playgrounds, or water, sewer or drainage facilities and similar improvements to be constructed or furnished within the site of a project for the particular use of the project or of those dwelling therein; and

(g) do any and all other things necessary or convenient to aid and cooperate in the planning, construction or operation of a housing, clearance, relocation, urban renewal, rehabilitation or community development project within its limits.

The entering of a contract under this section between the city and the federal government shall not be subject to any provision of law relating to publication or to advertising for bids.

SECTION 11. It is hereby declared that substandard, decadent, or blighted open areas exist in the city of Quincy; that each constitutes a serious and growing menace, injurious and inimical to the safety, health, morals and welfare of the residents of said city; that each contributes substantially to the spread of disease and crime, necessitating excessive and disproportionate expenditure of public funds for the preservation of the public health and safety, for crime prevention, correction, prosecution and punishment and the treatment of juvenile delinquency and for the maintenance of adequate police, fire and accident protection and other public services and facilities; that each constitutes an economic and social liability, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of said city, and retards the provisions of housing accommodation; that each decreases the value of private investments and threatens the source of public revenue and the financial stability of the community; that because of the economic and social interdependence of different communities and different areas within single communities, the redevelopment of land in substandard, decadent, and blighted open areas in accordance with a comprehensive plan to promote the sound growth of the community is necessary in order to achieve permanent and comprehensive prevention and elimination of slums and substandard conditions and to prevent the occurrence and recurrence of such slums or conditions or their development in other communities; that the redevelopment of blighted open areas promotes the clearance of decadent, or substandard areas and prevents their creation and occurrence, that the menace of such decadent, substandard or blighted open areas is beyond remedy and control solely by regulatory process in the exercise of police power and cannot be dealt with effectively by the ordinary operations of private enterprise without aids herein provided; that the acquisition of property for the purpose of eliminating decadent, substandard, or blighted open conditions, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, thereon and preventing recurrence of such conditions in the area, the removal of structures and improvements of sites, the disposition of the property for redevelopment incidental to the foregoing, and the exercise of such powers by the city in connection therewith are public uses and purposes for which public money may be expended and the power of eminent domain exercised; and that the acquisition, planning, clearance, conservation, rehabilitation or rebuilding of such decadent, substandard and blighted open areas for residential, governmental, recreational, educational, hospital, business, commercial, industrial or other purposes, including provision for streets, parks, recreational areas and other open spaces, are public uses and benefits for which private property may be acquired by eminent domain or regulated by wholesome and reasonable orders, laws and directions and for which public funds may be expended for the good and welfare of this commonwealth. It is further declared that while certain of such decadent, substandard and blighted open areas, or portions thereof, may require acquisition and clearance because the state of deterioration may make impracticable the reclamation of such areas or portions by conservation and rehabilitation, other of such areas, or portions thereof, are in such condition that they may be conserved and rehabilitated in such a manner that the conditions and evils enumerated above may be alleviated or eliminated; and that all power relating to conservation and rehabilitation conferred by this act are for public uses and purposes for which public money may be expended and said powers exercised. The necessity in the public interest for the provisions of this act is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

SECTION 12. The department shall have all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes of the relevant provisions of the General Laws, and the department shall have the following powers in addition to those specifically granted in section four elsewhere in this act: —

(a) to recommend to the mayor and city council what areas within the city of Quincy constitute decadent, substandard or blighted open areas;

(b) to prepare plans for the clearance, conservation and rehabilitation of decadent, substandard or blighted open areas; including plans for carrying out a program of voluntary repair and rehabilitation of buildings and improvements, plans for the enforcement of laws, codes and regulations relating to the use of land and the use and occupancy of buildings and improvements, plans for the compulsory repair and rehabilitation of buildings and improvements, and plans for the demolition and removal of buildings and improvements;

(c) to prepare or cause to be prepared urban renewal plans, master or general plans, workable programs for development of the community, general neighborhood plans, community renewal programs and any plans or studies required or assisted under federal law;

(d) to engage in urban renewal projects, and to enforce restrictions in co-operation with other city departments and controls contained in any approved urban renewal or community development plan or any covenant or agreement contained in any contract, deed or lease by the department notwithstanding that the department may no longer have any title to or interest in the property to which such restrictions and controls apply or to any neighboring property;

(e) to conduct investigations, make studies, surveys and plans and disseminate information relative to community development, including desirable patterns for land use and community growth, urban renewal, relocation, and any other matter deemed by it to be material in connection with any of its powers and duties, and to make such studies, plans and information available to the federal government, to agencies or subdivisions of the commonwealth and to interested persons; and

(f) to develop, test and report methods and techniques and carry out demonstrations for the prevention and elimination of slums and urban blight.

In order to carry out the powers enumerated herein, the city may, on behalf of the department, receive gifts, loans, grants, contributions or other financial assistance from the federal government, the commonwealth or any other source.

SECTION 13. Whenever the department determines that an urban renewal project should be undertaken in the city, it shall apply to the city council for approval of the urban renewal or community development plan for such project. Such applications shall be accompanied by an urban renewal plan for the project, a statement of the proposed method for financing the project and such other information as the department deems advisable. No urban renewal project shall be undertaken until a public hearing relating to the urban renewal or community development plan for such project has been held after due notice before the city council and the urban renewal or community development plan therefor has been approved by the city council as provided in this section. Every urban renewal plan approved by the city council shall be submitted to the department of community affairs together with such other material as the department of community affairs may require. The department of community affairs shall not approve any urban renewal plan unless the department has found, and the department of community affairs concurs in such findings, that the urban renewal plan conforms to a comprehensive plan for the city as a whole. The department of community affairs shall likewise not approve any urban renewal plan unless it shall have found (a) the project area would not by private enterprise alone and without either government subsidy or the exercise of governmental powers be made available for urban renewal; (b) the proposed land uses and building requirements in the project area will afford maximum opportunity to privately financed urban renewal consistent with the sound needs of the locality as a whole; (c) the financial plan is sound; (d) the project area is a decadent, substandard, or blighted open area; (e) that the urban renewal plan is sufficiently complete, as required by section one; and (f) the relocation plan has been approved under chapter seventy-nine A of the General Laws.

Within sixty days after submission of the urban renewal plan, the department of community affairs shall give written notice to the department of its decision with respect to the plan. If the department of community affairs shall disapprove any such plan, it shall state in writing in such notice its reasons for disapproval. A plan which has not been approved by the department of community affairs when submitted may be again submitted to it with such modifications, supporting data or arguments as are necessary to meet its objections. The department of community affairs may hold a public hearing upon any urban renewal plan submitted to it, and shall do so if requested in writing within ten days after submission of the plan by the mayor or city council of the city, or twenty-five or more taxable inhabitants of such city.

SECTION 14. If the city shall sell or lease any property acquired by it for an urban renewal or community development project, the terms of such sales or leases shall obligate the purchasers or lessees, (a) to devote the land to the use specified in the urban renewal plan for said land; (b) to begin the building of their improvements within a reasonable time; provided however, that, with respect to any improvements of a type which any federal agency, as defined in subsection (b) of Section 3 of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, is otherwise authorized to make, this clause shall apply to such federal agency only to the extent that it is authorized, and funds have been made available to make the improvements involved; (c) to give preference in the selection of tenants for dwelling units built in the project area to families displaced therefrom because of clearance and renewal activity who desire to live in such dwelling units and who will be able to pay rents or prices equal to rents or prices charged other families for similar or comparable dwelling units built as a part of the same redevelopment; and (d) to comply with such other conditions as are deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, or requirements of federal legislation or regulations under loans, grants or contributions which have been made or agreed to be made to meet a part of the cost of the project. Nothing in this act shall be construed as limiting the power of the city in the event of a default by a purchaser or lessee of land in an urban renewal or community development project to retake title to and possession of the property sold or leased free from the obligations in the conveyance or lease thereof.

The department is hereby authorized to delegate to the city or other public body, or to any board or officer of the city or other public body any of the powers or functions of the department with respect to the planning or undertaking of an urban renewal project in the area in which the city, or other public body is authorized to act, and the city or other public body, or such board or officer thereof is hereby authorized to carry out or perform such powers or functions for the department. Any public body is hereby authorized to enter into agreements which may extend over the period of a loan to the city by the federal government, notwithstanding any provision or rule of law to the contrary, with any other public body or bodies respecting action to be taken pursuant to any of the powers granted by this act including the furnishing of funds or other assistance in connection with an urban renewal plan or urban renewal project. The department, to the greatest extent it determines to be feasible in carrying out the provisions of this act, shall afford maximum opportunity consistent with the sound needs of the city as a whole for the rehabilitation or redevelopment of decadent, substandard or blighted open areas by private enterprise.

SECTION 15. The department shall keep an accurate account of all its activities, receipts and expenditures in connection with the planning and execution of urban renewal or community development projects and shall annually in the month of January make a report of such activities, receipts and expenditures to the department of community affairs, the state auditor and the mayor, such reports to be in a form prescribed by the department of community affairs and approved by the state auditor; provided, that such forms shall not be inconsistent with any federal legislation and shall conform as closely as may be to such legislation. The department of community affairs, the state auditor and the bureau of accounts shall have the power to examine into the properties and records of the department and to prescribe methods of accounting, not inconsistent with federal legislation, for such activities, receipts and expenditures.

SECTION 16. The city may apply to the department of community affairs for an urban renewal assistance grant to meet in part the cost of an approved urban renewal or community development project. Such application shall be in the form prescribed by the department of community affairs, and shall be accompanied by such additional information, drawings, plans, reports, estimates and exhibits as said department may require. Said department of community affairs shall make such rules and regulations as are necessary to effectuate the purposes of sections fifty-three to fifty-seven, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, and such rules and regulations shall be considered applicable to this act.

SECTION 17. Upon receipt of an application under the provisions of section sixteen, the department of community affairs shall examine such application and any facts, estimates or other information relative thereto, and shall determine whether the proposed project complies with the provisions of the general laws and with rules and regulations prescribed in accordance therewith governing the approval and administration of urban renewal or community development assistance grants. Upon determination of satisfactory compliance, the department shall determine the estimated approved cost of such project, and compute the amount of the urban renewal assistance grant to which the city would be entitled under section eighteen.

Within a reasonable time after receipt of such application, the department of community affairs shall notify the city of its approval or rejection thereof, and, in the event of its rejection, of the reasons therefor. Notice of approval hereunder shall be accompanied by a statement of the estimated approved cost as determined by the department of community affairs and an estimate of the amount of urban renewal assistance grant to which the city may be entitled under the provisions of section eighteen.

The final approved cost shall be determined by the department of community affairs within a reasonable time after the completion of the urban renewal project by the department. If the determination of the final approved cost is delayed because the project is not completed, the payments preceding determination of the final approved cost may be based upon the estimated approved cost, and adjustments shall be made in the payment or payments which are made subsequent to the determination of the final approved cost.

SECTION 18. From time to time, the department of community affairs shall certify to the state comptroller and the state treasurer shall, within thirty days after each such certification, pay to the city, from any amounts appropriated therefor, the amount due in accordance with the following clauses: —

(a) certification may be made only of projects with respect to which contracts for a federal capital grant under Title I of the Federal Housing Act of 1949, as amended, have been signed;

(b) the total urban renewal assistance grant for any approved federally aided project as defined in clause (a) shall not exceed one half of the local share of the contribution required from the city under the federal capital grant contract or more than one sixth of the net project cost when the city pays for administrative planning and legal expenses as a part of the gross project cost; and

(c) the total urban renewal assistance grant to be paid under the provisions of this section shall be payable in twenty equal annual installments, except that the department of community affairs may adjust the annual payment upon final determination of the net cost of each approved project.

SECTION 19. The commonwealth, acting by and through the department of community affairs, may contract with the city to provide financial assistance for residential, commercial, or industrial urban renewal or community development projects as authorized by the provisions of this act. Such state financial assistance may be provided only for projects which are to be redeveloped for residential, commercial, or industrial reuse, and which projects are ineligible for federal capital grants under federal legislation or for which a grant application has been denied. In determining whether a project is rendered ineligible for federal capital grant assistance, the provisions of federal legislation permitting a limited amount of redevelopment for nonresidential uses need not be considered unless federal funds have been made available under such provisions.

SECTION 20. The department of community affairs may make advances of funds to the department up to seventy-five per cent of the estimated cost of surveys and plans and administrative expenses in preparation of projects which may be assisted under this section, and contracts for such advances of funds shall be repaid out of any moneys which may become available to the city for the undertaking of the project or projects under this section and section nineteen of this act.

The contracts referred to in section nineteen shall provide for a state grant-in-aid equal to one half of the net cost of each project as determined by the department of community affairs. Any such contract shall provide that no state grant-in-aid shall be made until the city shall have appropriated the funds required for the entire project.

SECTION 21. The commonwealth, acting by and through the department of community affairs, may enter into a contract or contracts with the city for state financial assistance in the form of a guarantee by the commonwealth of notes and bonds of the city issued under clause (e) of section five of this act issued to finance the acquisition and rehabilitation of dwellings within the limits of an urban renewal or community development project area. The guarantee of the commonwealth of such notes and bonds by the city shall be executed on each note and bond by the commissioner of the department of community affairs. The amount of notes and bonds guaranteed by the commonwealth under this section shall not exceed twenty million dollars.

In addition to its other powers, the city may plan and undertake the rehabilitation of dwellings within the limits of an urban renewal or community development project area, and may acquire by purchase, deed or grant or take by eminent domain, by vote of the city council and approved by the mayor in accordance with the city charter, hold, improve, rent, lease for a period not in excess of five years, with options to lessees or tenants to purchase during such five year period, grant, sell, convey, as condominiums or otherwise or deliver possession, of such property in accordance with such terms and conditions as it may determine, and shall have the power to make mortgage loans for the purpose of financing the rehabilitation of dwellings within an urban renewal or community development project area, subject to such regulations as the department of community affairs may make as to interest rates, maturity dates and other terms and conditions.

A rehabilitation project shall be any work or undertaking involving the rehabilitation of a dwelling or dwellings in an urban renewal or community development project area so as to provide decent, safe and sanitary housing; such work or undertaking may include buildings, land, equipment, facilities and other real personal property for necessary, convenient or desirable appurtenances, site preparation or improvement.

Whenever the department of community affairs determines a public emergency or distress no longer exists in the city, a rehabilitation project, or a part of any such project with the land appurtenant thereto, rehabilitated or reconstructed under this section, may, at the direction of the department of community affairs, be sold for the fair market value thereof, as determined by the department of community affairs, but not for less than the total of the outstanding obligations of the city with respect to such project if the whole is sold, or not for less than that percentage of the total cost which the cost of the part sold bears to the total cost of the entire project if a part is sold. So long as any notes and bonds issued by the city under clause (e) of section five of this act to finance the cost of such project and guaranteed by the commonwealth are outstanding, the proceeds of any sale of such project shall be paid by the city into the Housing Authority Bonds Sinking Fund and shall be expended from time to time by the state treasurer to pay interest and principal of any notes and bonds issued by the city under said clause (e) to finance such project.

Owners of dwellings rehabilitated under this section shall, during the period of five years following the completion of such rehabilitation and in any event during the period any mortgage loan made under this section to finance such rehabilitation is outstanding, and subject to such regulations as the department may establish, give preference in the selection of tenants for such dwellings, first to the individuals or families in occupancy thereof last prior to such rehabilitation and second to other residents of the city or town in which such dwellings are located; and who are able to pay rents charged other individuals or families for similar or comparable dwellings in the urban renewal project area.

SECTION 22. All employees of the city of Quincy who immediately prior to the effective date of this act hold positions classified under chapter thirty-one of the General Laws or have tenure in their position by reason of the provisions of chapter thirty of the General Laws or the provisions of any other law, general or special, and who are transferred by this act into the department shall be transferred to a similar office or position, and by such transfer, their civil service, seniority, retirement or other rights shall not be impaired and their term of office shall not be deemed to be interrupted within the meaning of said chapter thirty or chapter thirty-one, notwithstanding any change in title or duties, provided that no such employee shall be lowered in rank or compensation.

SECTION 23. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the city of Quincy.

Approved October 10, 1973.

Chap. 899. AN ACT RELATIVE TO INCREASING UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFITS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is, in part, to provide for certain increases under the unemployment compensation law effective October seventh, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, in order to assist certain unemployed workers while out of work, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience and welfare.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 24 of chapter 151A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause (a), as appearing in section 2 of chapter 480 of the acts of 1967, and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

(a) Have been paid wages in his base period of not less than twelve hundred dollars.

(8) Except as provided in section ten, recovering or failing to recover an award of damages or other relief in any administrative or judicial proceeding, except proceedings authorized by this section, by any person entitled to bring an action under this section, shall not constitute a bar to, or limitation upon relief authorized by this section.

Chap. 948. AN ACT TO INSURE HIGH QUALITY EMERGENCY MEDICAL CARE THROUGH REGULATION OF AMBULANCES AND AMBULANCE SERVICES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 111B the following chapter: —

Chapter 111C.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL CARE.

Section 1. For the purpose of this chapter the following definitions shall apply unless the context or subject matter requires a different interpretation: —

"Ambulance", means any aircraft, boat, motor vehicle, or any other means of transportation, including a dual purpose vehicle, however named, whether privately or publicly owned, which is intended to be used for, and is maintained and operated for, the transportation of sick, injured or disabled individuals.

"Ambulance service", means the business or regular activity, whether for profit or not, of transporting sick, injured or disabled individuals by ambulance.

"Board", means the emergency medical care advisory board established under section seven.

"Commissioner", means the commissioner of public health.

"Company", means a corporation, a partnership, a business trust, an association, or an organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not; or any receiver, trustee, or other liquidating agent of any of the foregoing while acting in such capacity.

"Department", means the department of public health.

"Dual purpose vehicle", means a vehicle which is used for ambulance service even though it is also used for other purposes, including police and fire purposes.

"Person", means an individual, a company, or an agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth.

The department may define in regulations any term used in this chapter, provided that such definition is not contrary to a provision of the general laws.

Section 2. For the administration and enforcement of this chapter, the department may: —

(1) establish and enforce rules and regulations for the establishment and maintenance of ambulance services and for the maintenance and operation of ambulances, including but not limited to rules and regulations governing ambulance personnel, safety, sanitation, equipment, communications, medical supplies and records;

(2) establish fees for the issuance and renewal of licenses and certificates of inspection;

(3) make such reasonable classifications of ambulances, by type of vehicle and purpose, and ambulance services, by nature and scope of service, as it finds necessary or appropriate in the public interest;

(4) determine the need for and to plan for the distribution of ambulances and ambulance services in the commonwealth;

(5) inspect at any time any ambulance and any facilities and records maintained in connection with any ambulance service, provided that a license has been issued, or an application for a license has been filed, for such ambulance service;

(6) approve courses in emergency medical care for ambulance operators and attendants under such conditions as it may establish with the advice of the board;

(7) develop a cost-sharing program between local, state and federal governments and voluntary private funding for training of ambulance operators and attendants and purchase of ambulances;

(8) coordinate on a regional basis communications centers, ambulance services, hospital emergency services, law enforcement and fire units and emergency operation centers and facilitate hospital transfers of patients;

(9) subject to the provisions of section three, make rules and regulations regarding adequate insurance coverage for licensed ambulance services and for operators and attendants of certified ambulances;

(10) make rules, regulations, and orders, and delegate authority to its divisions, employees and agents, as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

The department shall not establish the requirements as specified in clause (1) and shall not establish conditions for approval of courses as specified in clause (6) until the board has been provided a reasonable opportunity to review and make recommendations on such requirements and conditions.

Section 3. Any person who proposes to establish or maintain an ambulance service shall file an application with the department, containing such information as the department may require, including but not limited to the identity of the applicant, and any parent or associated company, and the number of ambulances for which application is made.

Upon receipt and review of an application for a license, the department shall issue a license if it finds that the applicant is responsible and suitable to establish or maintain the proposed service and meets such requirements as the department may establish by regulation for an ambulance service license. On or after July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven no original or renewal license shall be issued hereunder except in the case of ambulance services owned or operated by an agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth unless the applicant has received and there is in effect a contract of insurance conforming to the rules and regulations established by the department, subject to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

In the case of a renewal application, the department may, subject to such regulations as it may make, issue a provisional license to an applicant who does not meet the requirements under this section, provided that the applicant has demonstrated to the department's satisfaction a good faith intention to meet such requirements, and, provided further, that the department finds that the licensee provides adequate emergency medical care and evidences a potential for full licensure within a reasonable period, not to exceed six months. The department, however, shall in no case issue a person more than two consecutive provisional licenses for the same ambulance service.

The department shall set forth in every license which it issues under this section the name and address of the person to whom such license is issued, the period for which such license is issued, the classification, if any, for which such license is issued, the number and classification of ambulances to be operated under the license, the conditions as to transfer and assignment prescribed by law, and such other terms of issuance as the department may, in the public interest, prescribe as necessary or appropriate. The department shall fix the period of a provisional license for no more than six months, and it shall fix the period of a full license for not less than twelve months nor more than fifteen months.

Section 4. Prior to issuing a license under section three, the department shall inspect each ambulance for which application is made. Each person to whom a license is issued shall be entitled to a certificate of inspection for each ambulance listed in his license upon proof that the ambulance is in compliance with such requirements as the department may establish by regulation for a certificate of inspection. Each certificate shall be valid only for the vehicle for which it is issued and to the licensee to whom it is issued, and no certificate shall continue in force after the expiration of the license under which it is issued. Each licensee issued a certificate shall cause such certificate to be displayed in such ambulance in such manner as the department may prescribe by regulation.

Section 5. Any licensee who desires a change in his allotted number of ambulances or other license modification shall file a request in writing therefor with the department. The department shall not grant such request unless it finds that the modification requested is in the public interest, and in the case of modification involving a substantial change in the nature and scope of the ambulance service, that such change serves a need for emergency medical care. If a licensee so desires, he may file a request for license modification as part of a renewal application under section three, and the department shall consider, and act upon, such request and the application at the same time.

No licensee shall transfer or assign in any manner, voluntarily or involuntarily, directly or indirectly, or by transfer of control of any company, the license issued him, or any rights thereunder, without first obtaining the department's written permission upon application to the department. Every application therefor shall contain such information as the department may require, and shall be disposed of within sixty days of filing with the department. The department shall grant written permission only if the department finds that the transferee or assignee is responsible and suitable to maintain an ambulance service and meets such requirements as the department has established by regulation for a license. Every denial order shall include a statement of the reasons for denial and the provisions of law relied upon, and shall be subject to judicial review through a petition for a writ of certiorari brought within thirty days thereof under the provisions of section four of chapter two hundred and forty-nine. Any transfer or assignment in violation of this section shall be void.

Section 6. No person shall operate an ambulance or be an attendant thereon unless he has successfully completed a full course in emergency medical care approved by the department pursuant to this chapter, or has received training in the provision of emergency medical care which, subject to such regulations as the department may establish with the advice of the board, the department finds to be substantially equivalent to that provided by full courses in emergency medical care approved by the department pursuant to this chapter, and unless in each year following completion of such course he participates satisfactorily in a supplemental course in emergency medical care approved by the department pursuant to this chapter; provided, however, that the department may, under such regulations as it may establish, grant a temporary waiver of such requirements, but only in the case of an operator and for no more than three months, upon application and upon a finding that the public convenience and necessity require such a waiver.

For the purpose of establishing training requirements under this section, the department shall classify ambulance services by such categories as dual purpose vehicles, municipally-operated services, volunteer services, or such others as the department may from time to time determine, and shall, with the board, establish training requirements for operators and attendants by class of service. In establishing the level of such requirements for each service, the department shall consider such factors as geographic location of the service, availability of approved training courses, source and compensation for personnel serving as ambulance operators and attendants, and financial impact on the licensee.

Section 7. There shall be within the department an emergency medical care advisory board, consisting of the commissioner or his designee, as chairman, the registrar of motor vehicles, or his designee, the commissioner of public safety, or his designee, the commissioner of the metropolitan district commission, or his designee, the chief executive officer, or his designee, of each regional comprehensive health planning agency designated pursuant to the federal Public Health Service Act (P.L. 89-749), and twenty-one members appointed by the commissioner as follows: — three from the Massachusetts Medical Society; one each from the Massachusetts Nurses Association, the Massachusetts Hospital Association, the Massachusetts Ambulance Association, the Massachusetts Heart Association, the American Red Cross, the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns, the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association, and the Massachusetts Fire Chiefs Association; one from the volunteer ambulance associations; three at large from organizations involved in the planning for, provision of or training for emergency medical care, including any of the organizations listed above; a representative of the Governor's Highway Safety Bureau; one person who shall be an expert in communications; one person who shall be an attorney; and three who shall be consumers. Additional members may be appointed to the board by the commissioner upon recommendation of a majority of the board.

Each appointed member of the board shall serve for a term of three years, or until his successor is appointed and qualified, whichever is longer; provided, however, that no appointee shall serve more than two consecutive terms. Appointees shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties.

The board shall, in addition to other powers conferred in this chapter and in addition to functioning in a general advisory capacity shall assist in coordinating the efforts of all persons and agencies in the commonwealth concerned with emergency medical care; and render advice on the development of emergency medical care services where needed. The board shall make an annual report to the commissioner on or before the thirtieth day of June each year.

Section 8. The department shall establish and implement procedures for the making, transmission, and investigation of complaints concerning the maintenance of any ambulance service. The department shall prepare, and make available upon request, a description of such procedures, and it shall, as the public interest may require, investigate every complaint received, except to the extent that the act or practice complained of does not constitute a violation of this chapter or any regulation under this chapter. Upon investigation the department shall notify the complainant, if known, of its action in the matter. If it finds that an investigation is not required, it shall notify the complainant, if known, of its finding and the reasons therefor.

Section 9. (a) Whenever the department finds upon inspection, or through information in its possession, that an ambulance is not in compliance with a requirement established under this chapter, the department may order the licensee to correct such deficiency. Every such correction order shall include a statement of the deficiencies found, the period prescribed within which the deficiency must be corrected, and the provisions of law relied upon. The period prescribed shall be reasonable and, except in an emergency declared by the commissioner, not less than thirty days from receipt of such order. Within seven days of receipt, the affected licensee may file a written request with the department for administrative reconsideration of the order or any portion thereof. Failure of the department to grant, deny, or otherwise act upon a written request within seven days of filing shall be deemed a denial of such request.

(b) The department may assess a licensee ordered to correct deficiencies fifty dollars per deficiency for each day the deficiency continues to exist beyond the date prescribed for correction. Before making an assessment, the department shall give the affected licensee notice of the matters alleged and the provisions of law relied upon and shall accord such licensee an opportunity for a hearing upon timely written request. If after hearing, or waiver thereof, the department determines that cause exists, it shall make an appropriate assessment. The affected licensee shall pay such assessment except to the extent that, upon judicial review, the reviewing court may reverse the final decision of the department.

(c) An assessment made under this section shall be due and payable to the commonwealth on the thirtieth day after notification to the affected licensee. The attorney general shall recover any assessment due and payable in an action of contract, or any other appropriate action, suit or proceeding, brought in the name of the commonwealth in the superior court. Upon the motion of the attorney general, such court may consolidate for hearing and decision a judicial review proceeding and an assessment collection proceeding if the proceedings result from the same administrative action.

Section 10. The department may, after hearing or waiver thereof, revoke or refuse to renew a certificate of inspection or license for failure to perform such requirements as set forth in such certificate or license, for violation of any applicable requirement prescribed under this chapter, for violation of a correction order, or for engaging in, or for aiding, abetting, causing, or permitting, any act prohibited under this chapter. The commissioner may, without hearing, suspend a certificate of inspection or license if he finds that the licensee concerned is operating or maintaining the ambulance subject to such certificate, or is maintaining the ambulance service subject to such license, in a manner which endangers the public health or safety; provided, however, that in every case of suspension the licensee shall be promptly afforded an opportunity for a hearing under this section. If after any hearing hereunder concerning a license, the department determines that cause exists, instead of revoking or refusing to renew such license, the department may issue an order modifying the license if it finds that the public interest would be better served by such action. No certificate of inspection under a licensee shall continue in force after the department has revoked or refused to renew such license.

Section 11. The attorney general, at the request of the department, shall, or any ten taxpayers of the commonwealth, may bring a bill in equity in the superior or supreme judicial court to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order made under this chapter, whenever it shall appear that any person has engaged in, or is about to engage in an act or practice in violation of this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order made under this chapter, or whenever it shall appear that any person has aided, abetted, caused, or permitted, is aiding, abetting, causing, or permitting, or is about to aid, abet, cause, or permit any such act or practice. Upon a bill brought hereunder, the superior court or supreme judicial court, as the case may be, shall have jurisdiction to grant temporary relief and, upon hearing, a permanent injunction, which shall be mandatory in form, if appropriate, provided, however, that, where a bill is brought by ten taxpayers of the commonwealth, no permanent injunction shall be issued until the department has been permitted to intervene as a party, if it so desires, or to submit an amicus brief to the court. Any ten taxpayers filing a bill in equity hereunder shall serve a copy thereof upon the department on the same day as such filing.

Section 12. No person shall: —

(1) establish or maintain an ambulance service without a valid license or in violation of the terms of a valid license;

(2) operate, maintain, or otherwise use any aircraft, boat, motor vehicle, or other means of transportation as an ambulance without a valid certificate of inspection;

(3) operate an ambulance or to serve as an attendant thereon in violation of section six;

(4) obstruct, bar, or otherwise interfere with an inspection undertaken under authority of this chapter;

(5) knowingly to make an omission of a material fact or a false statement in any application or other document filed with the department; or

(6) violate or fail to observe any requirement of this chapter, or of any rule, regulation, or order under this chapter, which requirement the department has made subject to this section by regulation.

Whoever engages in, aids, abets, causes, or permits any act prohibited under this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than five hundred dollars for each offense. A separate and distinct offense shall be deemed to have been committed on each day during which any prohibited act continues after written notice by the department to the offender. The commissioner shall report each suspected offense to the attorney general for investigation and, if appropriate, prosecution in the courts of the commonwealth.

Section 13. No physician duly registered under the provisions of sections two, two A or nine of chapter one hundred and twelve, and no nurse duly registered under the provisions of section seventy-four or section seventy-six of said chapter, and no hospital shall be liable in a suit for damages as a result of acts or omissions related to advice, consultation or orders given in good faith to ambulance operators and attendants who are qualified under section six, and are acting on behalf of an ambulance service duly licensed under section three, by radio, telephone or other remote means of communication under emergency conditions and prior to arrival of the patient at the hospital, clinic, office or other health facility from which the emergency communication to the ambulance operator or attendant is made; nor shall any said ambulance operator or attendant be liable in a suit for damages as a result of his said acts or omissions based upon said advice, consultation or orders by remote communication, if the said acts or omissions were made in good faith.

SECTION 2. The department of public health shall, subject to such rules and regulations as it may establish, issue a license for a period of two years to an applicant who is operating or maintaining an ambulance service on the effective date of this act. In the case of such an applicant who does not meet the requirements established under section three of chapter one hundred and eleven C of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, such license shall be issued only if the applicant has demonstrated to the department's satisfaction a good faith intention to meet such requirements and said department finds that the applicant provides adequate emergency medical care.

SECTION 3. Of the members first appointed to the emergency medical care advisory board established under section seven of chapter one hundred and eleven C of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, seven shall be appointed for a term of one year, seven shall be appointed for a term of two years, and seven shall be appointed for a term of three years.

SECTION 4. Paragraph (3) of section twelve of chapter one hundred and eleven C of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, shall not take effect until July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, provided, that under the authority conferred under section two of said chapter, the department may require prior to July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six, that no more than two thirds of the operators and attendants employed by an ambulance service be in compliance with the training requirements of section six of said chapter, and it may require prior to July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, that no more than one third of such operators and attendants be in compliance with said training requirements. For purposes of this section, the department may treat classes of operators and attendants separately in the event that it establishes different training requirements for each class.

SECTION 5. The provisions of section seven F of chapter ninety of the General Laws shall not be applicable to operators and attendants who are subject to the provisions of section six of chapter one hundred and eleven C of the General Laws. Said section seven F of said chapter ninety is repealed effective as of July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven.

SECTION 5A. Nothing in this act shall limit the number of private ambulances which may be owned by any individual or corporation; provided, that said individual or corporation meets all standards and requirements as set forth in this act.

SECTION 6. Section eight B of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

Chap. 981. AN ACT TO REGULATE LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION, TO REQUIRE PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF EXPENDITURES OF LEGISLATIVE AGENTS, EMPLOYERS OF LEGISLATIVE AGENTS, AND CERTAIN OTHER LOBBYING GROUP AND TO PRESERVE A CITIZEN'S CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO COMMUNICATE WITH MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL COURT.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is, in part to immediately require the state secretary to prepare forms and books for the registration of legislative agents and their employers and groups participating in lobbying activity; therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Statement of intent. The Great and General Court of the Commonwealth hereby declares that the operation of responsible democratic government requires that the fullest opportunity be afforded to the people to petition the General Court for the redress of grievances and to express freely to individual members of the legislature and, to legislative committees, their opinions on legislation, on pending executive approval or veto thereof and on current issues. Since no comprehensive review of the so-called lobbying laws has occurred since nineteen hundred and eleven and that, to preserve and maintain the integrity of the legislative process, it is necessary that the identity, expenditures and activities of certain persons who engage in reimbursed efforts, the so-called lobbyists, to persuade members of the General Court or the executive branch to take specific legislative actions, either by direct communication to such officials, or by solicitation of others to engage in such efforts, be publicly and regularly disclosed.

SECTION 2. Chapter 3 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 39, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 39. "Legislation", all bills, resolutions, and all proposals of every kind, character or description considered by the general court, any committee thereof, or the governor.

The term shall include persons who, as any part of their regular and usual employment and not simply incidental thereto, attempt to promote, oppose or influence legislation or the governor's approval or veto thereof, whether or not any compensation in addition to the salary for such employment is received for such services.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 3 is hereby further amended by striking out section 40, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 40. A person employing or agreeing to employ a legislative agent, shall, within one week after such employment or agreement, cause the name of such agent to be entered upon a docket as provided in section forty-one. The agent within ten days shall also enter his name upon such docket. The termination of such employment shall be entered opposite the name of such agent either by him

Such entries shall include the name, business address, and the employer's business interests which may be affected by legislation; the name, business address and business interests which may be affected by legislation in whose behalf the legislative agent is retained or employed if said person is not the direct employer; the name and residence of the legislative agent; the date of the employment or agreement therefor; and the duration of the employment status, if ascertainable.

The state secretary shall assess each legislative agent a reasonable filing fee upon the entering of said agent's name upon the docket. Said fee shall be determined by the costs of maintaining said docket. The state secretary shall apply said fee to the costs of maintaining said docket.

Every legislative agent shall, within ten days after entering his name upon the docket, file with the state secretary a written authorization to act as such agent, signed by the employer on whose behalf the legislative agent assumes to act and shall provide two photographs of said agent to the state secretary.

Section 42. No person shall make any agreement whereby any compensation or thing of value is to be paid to any person contingent upon the passage or defeat of any legislation or the approval or veto of any legislation by the governor. No persons shall agree to undertake to promote, oppose or influence legislation or to communicate with members of the legislature, or to advocate approval or veto by the governor for consideration to be paid upon the contingency that any legislation is passed or is defeated.

Any qualified person, organization or corporation desiring to conduct any type of exploration, recovery or salvage operations in the course of which any underwater archaeological resources, with the exception of those specifically exempted from permit requirements, may be removed, displaced or destroyed shall first make application to the director for a permit to conduct such operations. If the director, with the approval of the board, shall find that the operation desired involve underwater archaeological resources and said operations are in the public interest, he shall, within thirty days from the receipt of application, grant the initial applicant a permit which allows said applicant the sole right to remove or salvage said resources for a period of one year. Said permits shall include without limitation the location, nature of activity, reporting requirements and time period covered and shall provide for the termination of the rights of the permittee upon violation of any of the terms of the permit. Until such time as a permit for any given site is granted, all records regarding the permit application for said site shall be confidential unless released by the applicant.

The permittee may, with the approval of the board, subcontract his permit rights to another qualified person, organization or corporation, subject to the provisions of this section and the terms of the original permit.

All exploration, recovery and salvage operations undertaken pursuant to said permit shall be carried out under the general supervision of the board in accordance with its rules and regulations so that the maximum amount of historical, scientific, archaeological and educational information may be recovered, reported and preserved. If the director deems necessary, he may require that a permittee shall work under the direction of a qualified expert designated by the board. Permittees shall be responsible for obtaining permission of any federal agencies having jurisdiction prior to conducting any operations.

Permittees may retain seventy-five per cent of the value of said underwater archaeological resources. The remainder of such value shall be paid to the commonwealth; provided, however, that the commonwealth and private museums within the commonwealth shall have the first option to purchase within six months said resources at fair market value. Final disposition of said resources and the proceeds from the sale thereof shall be made within one year from the date of salvage unless extended by mutual agreement between the board and the permittee with the approval of the commissioner of administration and finance. Until final disposition the commonwealth and the permittee shall act in such a way as to preserve and protect all salvaged underwater archaeological resources.

Upon the request of an applicant or permittee, the board may require a public hearing, if said board deems such a hearing in the public interest, on the granting or renewal of a permit, the subcontracting of permit rights, or the disposition of resources recovered under a permit.

The director shall invite information regarding previously discovered or salvaged underwater archaeological resources and the location thereof, and shall cause to be printed a list of previously discovered and commonly known underwater archaeological resources and locations thereof which shall be exempt from the preceding permit requirements. A public hearing may be requested regarding the placement of any individual resource on said list. Persons may petition the director to add certain resources to said list.

Law enforcement agencies and officers of the commonwealth and its subdivisions shall enforce the laws, rules and regulations pertaining to underwater archaeological resources and shall protect the permittee from the removal or salvage of said resources by unauthorized parties. If such protection is extended at the request of the permittee for a period in excess of two months, the permittee shall pay reasonable costs of such protection.

Any person violating a provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, imprisonment for six months, or both, and shall forfeit any underwater archaeological resources he has obtained thereby. Chap. 1007. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE OPERATION OF
MOBILE HOME PARKS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 140 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 32J, as amended by section 13 of chapter

592 of the acts of 1964, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 32J. If the mobile home owner or person holding under him holds possession of a mobile home space in a mobile home park without right, after the determination of a tenancy or other estate at will or lease as provided in this section, the licensee entitled to the mobile home space may recover possession thereof by summary process.

Any tenancy or other estate at will or lease in a mobile home park, however created, and including any existing contract for occupancy of a mobile home space in a mobile home park, may be terminated by the licensee entitled to the mobile home space or his agent only for one or more of the following reasons:

- (1) nonpayment of rent.
- (2) substantial violation of any enforceable rule of the mobile home park.

- (3) violation of any laws or ordinances which protect the health or safety of other mobile home park residents.

No action shall be maintained under this section unless:

- (1) the mobile home park licensee has given at least thirty days' written notice, delivered by certified or registered mail, stating the reason or reasons for termination and notifying the mobile home park resident that he has fifteen days from the date of the mailing of the notice in which to pay the overdue rent, or cure the substantial violation of the park rule or rules or of the law or ordinance, in order to avoid eviction;

- (2) the mobile home resident has not paid the overdue rent or cured said violation or violations within twenty days from the day on which such written notice was received; and

- (3) such action, other than for nonpayment of rent, is brought within thirty days from the date of the last alleged violation; provided, however, that an action may be maintained under this section without further notice or opportunity to cure, if the same substantial violation of rules, other than nonpayment of rent, occurs within six months from the date on which such notice was delivered.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 140 is hereby further amended by striking out section 32L, as appearing in section 14 of chapter 592 of the acts of 1964, and inserting in place thereof the following six sections: —

Section 32L. The following requirements and restrictions shall apply to all mobile home parks:

1. A mobile home park licensee may promulgate rules governing the rental or occupancy of a mobile home lot but no such rule shall be unreasonable, unfair, or unconscionable.

2. Any rule or change in rent which does not apply uniformly to all mobile home residents of a similar class shall create a rebuttable presumption that such rule or change in rent is unfair.

3. A mobile home park licensee, directly or indirectly engaged in the business of selling mobile homes, who has sold a number of mobile homes equal to the number of spaces in a mobile home park shall not then impose any conditions of rental or occupancy which restricts the mobile home owner in his choice of mobile home dealer or any conditions of rental or occupancy which restricts the mobile home owner in his choice of a seller of fuel, furnishings, goods, services, or accessories connected with the rental or occupancy of a mobile home lot, unless such conditions are necessary to protect the health, safety, or welfare of mobile home residents in the park. Said licensee may also impose reasonable conditions relating to central fuel and gas meter systems in the park, providing the charges for such goods or services shall not exceed the average prevailing price in the locality for similar goods and services.

3A. No mobile home park owner shall refuse to allow the transfer of a mobile home located in said park on the ground that such mobile home park owner has not sold as many mobile homes as there are spaces.

4. A mobile home park licensee shall not impose by any rule or condition of occupancy any fee, charge, or commission for the sale of a mobile home located in a mobile home park. The licensee may, however, upon the proposed sale of such a home, contract with the mobile home owner to sell the home for a fee not to exceed ten per cent of the sale price of such home.

5. If any mobile home park licensee adds, changes, deletes or amends any rule governing the rental or occupancy of a mobile home lot in a mobile home park, a new copy of all such rules shall be furnished to all mobile home park residents in such park, and filed with the department of the attorney general and the secretary of communities and development at least forty-five days prior to the effective date of such addition, change, deletion, or amendment. The new copy shall be signed by both the mobile home park owner and the mobile home park resident.

6. Any rule or condition of occupancy which is unfair and deceptive or which does not conform to the requirements of this section shall be unenforceable.

7. Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair and deceptive trade practice under the provisions of section two (a) of chapter ninety-three A.

Section 32M. Upon the sale or proposed sale of a mobile home located on a lot in a mobile home park and which is not owned by the mobile home park licensee, the prospective purchaser and members of his household may not be refused entrance if they meet the current rules of the park.

Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair and deceptive trade practice under the provisions of section two (a) of chapter ninety-three A.

Section 32N. Any mobile home park licensee or his agent who threatens to or takes reprisals against any mobile home park resident for reporting a violation or suspected violation of section thirty-two L or section thirty-two M or any applicable building or health code to the board of health of a city or town in which the mobile home park is located, the department of public health, the department of the attorney general or any other appropriate government agency, shall be liable for damages which shall not be less than one month's rent or more than five months' rent, or the actual damages sustained by the mobile home park resident, whichever is greater, and the costs of the court action brought for said damages including reasonable attorney's fees. The receipt of any notice of termination of tenancy by such mobile home park resident, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months after making such a report of a violation or suspected violation shall create a rebuttable presumption that such notice is a reprisal against the mobile home park resident for making such report and said presumption may be pleaded in defense to any eviction proceeding against such mobile home park resident brought within a year after such report.

Section 32O. In any action to enforce the provisions of section thirty-two L or section thirty-two M, the clerk of the court shall mail copies of any judgment, decree, permanent injunction, or order of the court upon the entry thereof to the attorney general and to the board of health of the city or town in which the mobile home park of the licensee is located.

Section 32P. All terms and conditions of occupancy must be fully disclosed in writing by the mobile home park owner to any prospective mobile home park resident at a reasonable time prior to the rental or occupancy of a mobile home lot. Said disclosures shall include, but shall not be limited to, the amount of rent, an itemized list of any charges or fees, the names and addresses of all the owners of the mobile home park, and the rules and regulations governing the use of the mobile home lot and park. Said writing shall be signed by both the mobile home park owner and the mobile home park resident and contain the following notice printed verbatim in a clear and conspicuous manner:

IMPORTANT NOTICE REQUIRED BY LAW

The rules set forth below govern the terms of your lease of occupancy arrangement with this mobile home park. The law requires all of these rules and regulations to be fair and reasonable, else said rules and regulations cannot be enforced against you.

You may continue to stay in the park as long as you pay your rent and abide by the rules and regulations of the park. You may only be evicted for nonpayment of rent, violation of laws, or for a substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the park. In addition, no eviction proceedings may be commenced against you until you have received notice by certified mail of the reason for the eviction proceeding and have been given fifteen days from the date of the notice in which to pay the overdue rent or to cease and desist from any substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the park. However, only one notice of a substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the park is required to be sent to you during any six month period. If a second or additional violation occurs, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months from the date of the first notice then eviction proceedings may be commenced against you immediately.

If this park requires you to deal exclusively with a certain fuel dealer or other merchant for goods or services in connection with the use or occupancy of your mobile home lot, the price you pay for such goods or services may not be more than the prevailing price in this locality for similar goods and services.

You may not be evicted for reporting any violation of law or health and building codes to boards of health, the department of the attorney general, or any other appropriate government agency. Receipt of notice of termination of tenancy by you, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months after your making such a report shall create a rebuttable presumption that such notice is a reprisal and may be pleaded by you in defense to any eviction proceeding brought within one year.

This law is enforceable by the consumer protection division of the department of the attorney general.

Section 32Q. As used in sections thirty-two A to thirty-two P, inclusive, the words "mobile home" shall mean a dwelling unit built on a chassis and containing complete electrical, plumbing and sanitary facilities, and designed to be installed on a temporary or a permanent foundation for permanent living quarters.

Chap. 1038. AN ACT ESTABLISHING A PROGRAM FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO REGIONAL AND LOCAL TOURIST PROMOTION AGENCIES AND COMMUNITIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 23A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section: —

Section 14. The department is hereby directed, subject to appropriation, to establish a program for financial assistance to those public or nonprofit agencies which promote or provide services for tourism, conventions, travel and recreation in the commonwealth.

Funds shall be granted to agencies listed in section six of chapter six hundred and thirty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-four with the addition of Norfolk County Tourist Council, Inc., the Central Massachusetts Tourist Council, Inc., the Bristol County Development Council, Inc., the Plymouth County Development Council, Inc., and to any other public or nonprofit agency which has been in operation for two consecutive years prior to application for funds under this section and which spends fifteen thousand dollars in its fiscal year on tourism or a public or nonprofit agency which has a total budget larger than the average of Massachusetts tourist promotion agencies as estimated by the secretary of the executive office of manpower affairs and which spends twenty-five per cent of said budget on tourism.

Funds shall be used to strengthen efforts of tourists, conventions, travel and recreation agencies to attract and service visitors to the commonwealth and to better manage and distribute the influx of said visitors. The amount of funds received by any one agency shall be based on, but not limited to, the following criteria: —

- (1) geographical size and population served by such agency;
- (2) amount of matching funds from nongovernmental sources;
- (3) assurance that the funded proposal will be in addition to the work currently being done by the agency and that the agency will maintain a continued effort of the funded program;
- (4) demonstrated effectiveness of agency;
- (5) integration of agency's tourism promotion plans with other private and public agency plans.

Appropriated monies shall be derived from the Tourism and Industrial Promotion Fund established by section eleven of chapter sixty-four G. No funds may be spent for travel, entertainment, salaries or purchase of equipment under this section.

The department is hereby authorized to make grants to agencies from the Tourism and Industrial Promotion Fund to assist such agencies in planning and carrying out their promotional programs and projects; provided, that before any such grant may be made:

- (1) the agency shall have made application to the department for such grant, and shall have set forth the program proposed to be undertaken for the purpose of encouraging and stimulating tourist, visitor and vacation business. The application shall further state, with evidence satisfactory to the department, the amount of nongovernmental funds held by or committed or subscribed to the agency for application to the purposes herein described and the amount of the grant for which application is made;

- (2) the department, after review of the application, is satisfied that the program of the agency appears to be in accord with the purposes of this section, and shall authorize the making of a grant to such agency;

- (3) the maximum received by a private nonprofit agency shall be no greater than the amount received by that agency from nongovernmental sources.

Any agency receiving funds under this section shall make a report on the use of said funds at such time and in such form as the commissioner shall specify. The secretary of the executive office of manpower affairs shall establish guidelines in which to regulate the dispersal of funds under this section.

SECTION 2. The department of commerce and development is hereby directed, subject to appropriation, to establish a program for special impact assistance to municipal agencies which are planning and operating programs to manage, distribute, and provide services for major, extraordinary influxes of tourists during the fiscal years nineteen hundred and seventy-four to nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, inclusive. Said funds shall be appropriated from the two thirds of the room occupancy excise allocated to the General Fund under clause (a) of section eleven of chapter sixty-four G of the General Laws.

A municipal agency shall submit an application to said department for such special impact assistance. If said department, after review of the application, is satisfied that the program of the agency appears to be in accord with the purposes of this section, it shall authorize the making of a grant to such agency.

Grants may be made to municipal agencies for, but not necessarily limited to, programs to provide information services, promote better distribution of visitors throughout the commonwealth to available existing capacities, and to provide aid for extraordinary services necessitated by large increases in visitors. Funds may not be spent for travel, entertainment, capital expenditures or the purchase of equipment, nor may they be dispersed under this section after the fiscal year nineteen hundred and seventy-seven.

The amount of funds received by any one agency shall be based on:

- (1) size and location of population served;
- (2) amount of matching funds from private and municipal sources;
- (3) demonstrated need to manage, distribute and provide services for visitors;
- (4) level of community involvement and support from local institutions;
- (5) integration of program with activities of other private and public agencies affecting the municipality.

SECTION 3. The department of commerce and development shall recommend during the fiscal years nineteen hundred and seventy-four to nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, inclusive, the granting of funds in the general appropriation act, to be appropriated from the two thirds of the room occupancy excise allocated to the General Fund under clause (a) of section eleven of chapter sixty-four G of the General Laws. Approved November 16, 1973.

The moderator, who shall be elected at the annual town election, shall be the only ex officio member of the representative town meeting. He shall possess all of the rights and privileges of elected members, but shall have no vote on any matter coming before the town meeting except in cases of a tie vote.

SECTION 3. The members of the town meeting shall exercise all legislative powers of the town. They shall consider and act upon all proposed by-laws. They shall consider and act upon all proposed operating and capital improvements, budgets, bond issues, and all other financial proposals of the town. The annual town meeting shall be held on the first Monday in March, but special town meetings may be called as needed on the call of the moderator, by an affirmative vote of two thirds of the selectmen, or by twenty or more town meeting members who shall submit their request in writing to the town clerk.

When a session of the town meeting is called, the town clerk shall cause a notice of such meeting, citing the place, date and time of the meeting, to be posted in the town hall. Copies of said notice shall be mailed by the clerk to all town meeting members. Said notices shall be posted and mailed at least seven days in advance of the time set for convening the meeting and shall be accompanied by a copy of the proposed warrant or agenda.

A quorum for the conduct of business shall be seventy-three members, not including the moderator. A smaller number of members than the established quorum, may adjourn any meeting forthwith to a stated date, time and place.

The town clerk shall maintain a journal of the proceedings of all town meetings and a copy thereof shall be kept at the office of said town clerk and at the public library. A roll call vote in which yeas and nays shall be recorded by name in the journal may be requested by eighteen or more members.

Vacancies in the office of representative town meeting members shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the remaining town meeting members of the precinct in which the vacancy has arisen. The town clerk shall call such members together by written notice within thirty days. They shall appoint the defeated candidate for representative town meeting member receiving the highest number of votes in the last regular town election and who indicates his willingness to serve by written notice to the town clerk. the representative town meeting is found who is willing to serve, the remaining members shall elect a registered voter from the precinct to serve the unexpired portion of the term.

The town clerk shall provide an attendance record which shall be personally signed by each town meeting member at each session. The attendance record shall be a part of the journal and shall be a public record.

If within such period of ten days, a petition signed by not less than thirty registered voters in each precinct, totaling at least five per cent of the registered voters of the town, is filed with the town clerk, asking that any question involved in such a vote be submitted to the voters of the town, then a referendum shall be held for the sole purpose of presenting the question or questions to the voters of the town. If within five days after the receipt of the petition the town clerk shall determine the petition to contain a sufficient number of signatures, he shall inform the board of selectmen, who, with the town clerk, shall provide for a referendum to be held within twelve days, but not sooner than seven days after such determination.

Each question to be voted on in the referendum shall be submitted to the voters in the following form: "Shall the town vote to approve the action of the Representative Town Meeting whereby it was voted (here insert brief summary of the substance of the vote)?" All procedures for voting upon such a question shall be in the same manner as for town elections. SECTION 8. This act shall be submitted to the voters of the town of North Attleborough for acceptance at the annual town election in the year nineteen hundred and seventy-four in the form of the following question which shall be placed on the official ballot to be used for the election of town officers at said election: "Shall an act passed by the General Court in the year nineteen hundred and seventy-three entitled 'An Act establishing in the town of North Attleborough representative town government by limited town meeting,' be accepted?" Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Clause (d) of section 16 of chapter 71 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after the word "years", in line 7, as appearing in chapter 367 of the acts of 1965, the words: — and for the purpose of purchasing departmental equipment for a term not exceeding five years.

Approved November 16, 1973.

Chap. 1050. AN ACT FURTHER DEFINING THE AVAILABILITY OF PUBLIC RECORDS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7 of chapter 4 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause Twenty-sixth, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 831 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

Twenty-sixth, "Public records" shall mean all books, papers, maps, photographs, recorded tapes, financial statements, statistical tabulations, or other documentary materials or data, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by any officer or employee of any agency, executive office, department, board, commission, bureau, division or authority of the commonwealth, or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any authority established by the general court to serve a public purpose, unless such materials or data fall within the following exemptions in that they are:

(a) specifically or by necessary implication exempted from disclosure by statute;

(b) related solely to internal personnel rules and practices of the government unit, provided however, that such records shall be withheld only to the extent that proper performance of necessary governmental functions requires such withholding;

(c) personnel and medical files or information; also any other materials or data relating to a specifically named individual, the disclosure of which may constitute an invasion of personal privacy;

(d) inter-agency or intra-agency memoranda or letters relating to policy positions being developed by the agency; but this subparagraph shall not apply to reasonably completed factual studies or reports on which the development of such policy positions has been or may be based;

(e) notebooks and other materials prepared by an employee of the commonwealth which are personal to him and not maintained as part of the files of the governmental unit;

(f) investigatory materials necessarily compiled out of the public view by law enforcement or other investigatory officials the disclosure of which materials would probably so prejudice the possibility of effective law enforcement that such disclosure would not be in the public interest;

(g) trade secrets or commercial or financial information voluntarily provided to an agency for use in developing governmental policy and upon a promise of confidentiality; but this subparagraph shall not apply to information submitted as required by law or as a condition of receiving a governmental contract or other benefit;

(h) proposals and bids to enter into any contract or agreement until the time for the opening of bids in the case of proposals or bids to be opened publicly, and until the time for the receipt of bids or proposals has expired in all other cases;

(i) appraisals of real property to be acquired until (1) an agreement is entered into; or (2) three years have elapsed since the making of the appraisal, or until any litigation relative to such appraisal has been terminated, whichever occurs first.

Any person denied access to public records may pursue the remedy provided for in section ten of chapter sixty-six.

SECTION 1A. Chapter 30 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 42, as amended by chapter 219 of the acts of 1966, and inserting in place thereof the following: —

Section 42. The state librarian, the attorney general, the state comptroller, the commissioner of administration, the supervisor of public records and the chief of the archives division in the department of the state secretary, hereinafter called the archivist, or persons designated by them, shall act as a board, to be known as the records conservation board, of which board the archivist shall be secretary.

The board, after consultation with the executive head of any agency, executive office, department, board, commission, bureau, division or authority of the commonwealth, or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any authority established by the General Court to serve a public purpose or a person designated by such executive head may, either by its own motion or on the request of said executive head, sell or destroy, from time to time, all records in accordance with disposal schedules which shall have been submitted to said board and either approved or modified by said board or the board may authorize such sale or destruction. Until such action shall have been taken, all such records shall remain the property, as the case may be, of the commonwealth, or the political subdivision, including an authority established by the General Court to serve a public purpose.

The board shall have power to require all departments of the commonwealth to report to it what series of records they hold, to set standards for the management and preservation of such records, and to establish schedules for the destruction, in whole, or in part, and transfer to the archives, in whole or in part, of records no longer needed for current business.

Nothing in this section shall affect judicial or legislative records, lessen the existing powers of the executive office for administration and finance, or compel any agency, executive office, department, board, commission, bureau, division or authority of the commonwealth, or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any authority established by the General Court to serve a public purpose to surrender records it deems of current use.

Records may be kept in the archives under reasonable restrictions as to access, for a reasonable length of time; provided, that such restrictions are in writing and accepted by the records conservation board at a meeting at which the attorney general, or his designee, is present. At least thirty days before selling or destroying any records so kept in the archives, the board may publish in a daily newspaper in Boston a notice of its intention to do so, containing a brief description of the articles to be sold or destroyed, and it shall give such other and further notice as it deems advisable to historical societies or persons interested in the matter.

The board may, before selling or destroying any particular records, books, vouchers or documents, give a public hearing to all persons interested, and ten days' notice of such hearing shall be given in a daily newspaper published in Boston.

The proceeds, if any, of a sale by the board of any records shall be paid to the state treasurer, or to the treasurer of a political subdivision or authority, including an authority established by the General Court to serve a public purpose, whose records were the subject of the sale.

As used in this section, the words "records" shall mean all books, papers, maps, photographs, recorded tapes, financial statements, statistical tabulations, or other documentary materials or data, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by any officer or employee of any agency, executive office, department, board, commission, bureau, division or authority of the commonwealth, or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any authority established by the General Court to serve a public purpose.

Any agency, executive office, department, board, commission, bureau, division or authority of the commonwealth, or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any authority established by the General Court to serve a public purpose in doubt as to whether certain materials are records shall make inquiry thereof in writing to the records conservation board which shall determine the question.

SECTION 2. Section 4 of chapter 66 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 310 of the acts of 1950, is hereby further amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — The supreme judicial or superior court shall have jurisdiction in mandamus, on petition of the supervisor of records and pursuant to section five of chapter two hundred and forty-nine, to order compliance with the provisions of this section.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 66 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as most recently amended by section 5 of chapter 550 of the acts of 1948, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 10. (a) Every person having custody of any public records, as defined in clause twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four, shall, at reasonable times and without unreasonable delay, permit them to be inspected and examined by any person, under his supervision, and shall furnish one copy thereof on payment of a reasonable fee. Every person for whom a search of public records is made shall, at the direction of the person having custody of such records, pay the actual expense of such search.

(b) A custodian of a public record shall, within twenty days following receipt of a request for inspection or copy of a public record, comply with such request. Such request may be delivered in hand to the office of the custodian or mailed via first class mail, registered, return receipt requested. If the custodian refuses or fails to comply with such request as hereinafter provided, the supreme judicial or superior court shall have jurisdiction in mandamus, pursuant to section five of chapter two hundred and forty-nine, to order compliance with the request made under this section.

(c) In any court proceeding pursuant to paragraph (b) there shall be a presumption that the record sought is public, and the burden shall be upon the custodian to prove with specificity the exemption which applies.

SECTION 4. Section seventeen B of said chapter sixty-five is hereby repealed.

SECTION 5. Section 34 of chapter 262 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause (65).

SECTION 6. The provisions of clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four of the General Laws, as amended by section one of this act, shall not be construed to exempt any record which was a public record on the effective date of this act from said clause Twenty-sixth.

SECTION 7. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

Approved November 16, 1973.

The selectmen of the town of Holbrook, hereinafter referred to as "the town", shall direct the town clerk of said town to cause to be printed on the official ballot used for the election of town officers at the annual town election next held following the passage of this act the following question: — "Shall the town adopt the standard form of representative town meeting government provided by chapter forty-three A of the General Laws?"

Chap. 1056. AN ACT PROTECTING BUYERS OF INSURANCE FROM THE EFFECTS OF THE CANCELLATION, TERMINATION AND OTHER MODIFICATIONS OF THE AUTHORITY OF INSURANCE BROKERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 163 of chapter 175 of the General Laws as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 968 of the acts of 1971 is hereby further amended by adding the following seven paragraphs: —

No company shall cancel the authority of any independent broker for fire or casualty insurance, or both, if said broker is not an employee of said company and no company shall modify a contract with such broker unless the company gives written notice of its intent to cancel such broker or its intent to modify such contract at least ninety days before the proposed effective date of any such cancellation or modification.

Except as otherwise provided herein, any broker receiving notice of such cancellation or modification may, within fifteen days after receipt thereof, make a written demand for reference to three referees of the question as to whether or not such cancellation or modification will so affect the renewal, continuation or replacement of any policies placed with the company through the efforts of the broker, or the services needed by any policyholder doing business with the company as a result of the efforts of the brokers as to justify renewal or continuation of any policies expiring within six months of the issuance of any such notice at fair compensation for one additional policy period equal in length to the most recent policy period of any such expiring policy, but in no event for more than one additional year.

Any broker making a written demand for such reference shall accompany said written demand with the names and addresses of three persons, whereupon the company shall within fifteen days thereof notify the broker of its choice of one of the said persons to act as one of the referees and at the same time submit the names and addresses of three persons to the broker who shall within fifteen days after receiving such names, notify the company in writing of his choice of one of such persons to act as a second referee. At the same time the broker shall notify the commissioner, such notice to be on a form prescribed by the commissioner, that both the company and broker have chosen referees. Within ten days of the receipt of such notice the commissioner shall appoint a person to serve as the third referee, and shall notify such person, the broker and the company in writing of such appointment. Each person nominated or appointed as a referee shall be a disinterested person, shall be a resident of the commonwealth and shall be willing to act as such referee. Within ten working days of the appointment of the third referee, who shall serve as chairman, the three referees shall meet, hear the evidence, reduce their decision to writing, and sign it, and shall deliver a copy thereof to the agent or broker, to the company and to the commissioner.

Any insurance company and any insurance broker may by written contract agree to modify the provisions of the preceding two paragraphs, other than the requirement of a ninety-day notice in the event of a cancellation or modification of a contract by provisions presented to and approved by the commissioner which he finds after due hearing and investigation will adequately protect both the right of a policyholder to a continuance of insurance and the services of any broker of his own choosing and the right of a broker to fair compensation for the insurance placed with a company as a result of his efforts. The commissioner may make reasonable rules and general application regarding such modified provisions.

The decision of the referees may provide for the renewal or continuance of any or all policies expiring within six months as aforesaid and for the continuance of such previous contractual provisions, if the referees, or a majority of them, find that such decision will best protect the right of a policyholder to a continuance of insurance and the services of a broker of his own choosing and the right of any broker to compensation for the insurance placed with a company as a result of his efforts giving due consideration to the possibility the affected broker has of obtaining similar coverage for policyholders affected from other companies at reasonable compensation. The decisions rendered in accordance with the provisions of this section providing for reference shall be binding on all companies and brokers affected thereby. If such a decision orders the renewal or continuance of any policies, policyholders and the affected broker shall be entitled in all respects to the same services and practices as were in effect prior to reference insofar as amounts and types of coverage, credit terms are also continued. The referees, or a majority of them, shall fix a fair compensation for the broker affected whenever they order such a renewal or continuance of policies.

All policies expiring within six months of the notice may be renewed as aforesaid but no broker or company relying on this section shall again refer the same issue to referees upon the expiration of such policies and no order for continuance shall remain effective for more than one additional policy period or for one year.

whichever is less for each policy affected thereby. Where, however, other provisions of the General Laws require notice to policyholders before non-renewal of any coverages, the company shall at the request of the broker who is unable to replace any such policy comply with those provisions of law.

A broker initiating reference under this section and the company receiving the written demand shall each be liable for the payment of the reasonable charges and expenses of his nominee for referee and one half of the compensation for the reasonable charges and expenses of the third referee. The third referee shall forthwith upon the execution of the decision furnish the broker and the company with a written statement specifying in detail his charges for compensation and expenses. The broker or company, if aggrieved by said charges, may petition the commissioner for review. The petition shall set forth with particularity the specific item or charges in dispute. The commissioner shall, within ten days of receipt of the petition, notify the interested parties of the date established for a hearing on said petition, and, after said hearing the commissioner shall approve or disapprove said charges in whole or in part. His findings and decision shall be final and conclusive.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the commissioner of insurance is authorized to postpone by rule or regulation until January the first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five so much of section thirty-four O of chapter ninety of the General Laws, inserted by section one of chapter nine hundred and seventeen of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-three, as permits an insurer to make claims for all expenses it incurs in making payments in accordance with the provisions of said section thirty-four O of said chapter ninety against any other insurer providing a motor vehicle liability policy or bond on a motor vehicle registered in the commonwealth, whose owner or operator would, except for the exemption from tort liability provided in said section, be liable for such damages, if the commissioner finds either that he does not have information adequate for him to fix and establish premium charges for property protection insurance for the calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-four, or, if he finds that allowing such claims to be made during said calendar year will not reduce premium charges for insureds who have selected option (1) and option (2) as described in said section thirty-four O in proportion to the increases in such premium charges to insureds who select option (3).

SECTION 2. Section 34 O of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 978 of the acts of 1971, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence: — No insurer may make claim against or recover from any other insurer in accordance with the provisions of the second sentence of this paragraph for any amounts it pays pursuant to this section as a result of any voluntarily offered coverage or any optional coverage it may be required to offer insureds which eliminates in whole or in part the effect of any deductible of one hundred dollars or the application of the doctrine of comparative negligence applicable to any of the cases described in clauses (a) to (e), inclusive, of option (2) above.

SECTION 1. Section 4 of chapter 131 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause (2), as amended by section 3 of chapter 496 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

(2) notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, but subject to federal law, rules and regulations, take or in writing authorize other persons to take and possess fish, fish spawn, birds, the nest or eggs thereof, mammals, reptiles or amphibians at any time or in any manner for purposes of observation, research, control or management for which a fee of one dollar shall be charged and, in his discretion, excuse certain persons so authorized from any licensing provision of this chapter and he may, subject to federal law, rules and regulations, regulate the trapping and taking of raptors for the purpose of falconry in accordance with rules and regulations established under the provisions of section five.

SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 19A of said chapter 131, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 223 of the acts of 1972, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "director", in line 6, the words: — , provided in the case of a dealer licensed both under clause (4) of section twenty-three and section thirty-nine A of chapter one hundred and twenty-nine that said dealer show evidence that he has secured a licensed buyer to purchase said bird or mammal, other than those listed in section five, or other such vertebrate, which are not excluded from the licensing provisions of said section twenty-three, and which are not on the special exemption list provided for in section twenty-three.

SECTION 3. Section 22 of said chapter 131, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 802 of the acts of 1967, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "five", in line 10, the words: — , or the bodies of dead or living reptiles or amphibians.

SECTION 4. Section 23 of said chapter 131 is hereby amended by striking out the first two paragraphs, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following five paragraphs: —

Except as otherwise provided by this section or any rule or regulation made under the authority thereof, a person shall not engage in the propagation, cultivation, or maintenance of, or the dealing in, fish, birds, mammals, reptiles, or amphibians, or parts thereof, as provided in section twenty-four, twenty-five or forty-seven, without first having obtained a propagator's license or dealer's license, as the case may be, authorizing him so to do. For the purpose of this section, birds, mammals, reptiles and amphibians shall refer to undomesticated birds, mammals, reptiles and amphibians that are wild by nature. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the propagation, disposition, sale, possession or maintenance of domesticated species.

The director, after a public hearing, shall make and may alter, amend, or repeal, rules and regulations governing the possession, propagation, maintenance, disposition, purchase, exchange, sale or offering for sale of fish, birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians, or parts thereof, protected by this chapter, and may issue licenses in accordance with such rules and regulations.

The director shall draw up a special exemption list of fish, birds, mammals, reptiles and amphibians. Animals to be thus listed shall meet the following criteria: (1) accidental release of the fish, bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian will not result in an adverse effect on the ecology of the commonwealth; (2) the animal in captivity, or escaped therefrom poses no substantial danger to man, by either injury or disease; (3) proper care of the animal is no more demanding in any major respect than proper care of common domestic animals; and (4) trade in the fish, bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian has no significant adverse effect on the wild population of such animal in any of its natural habitats. No animal listed in any category of the International Union for Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources' Red Data Books shall be listed; no animal protected by either federal endangered species law or by section twenty-six A shall be listed. The special exemption list may be altered by the director after a public hearing. Any individual may possess as a pet, without a license, any animal on the special exemption list, and may continue to do so in case of subsequent removal of such animal from the list, for the lifetime of his animal, contingent upon evidence of acquisition of the animal while so listed.

Each license issued by the director shall specify the degree to which fish, birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians, or parts thereof, may be propagated, cultivated, maintained, disposed of, or dealt in, and the section of the law with respect to which such license is issued. For the granting of an individual license for an animal that is not on the special exemption list, the applicant shall satisfy the director that he can maintain in good health, properly confine and protect the animal; if, however, depletion of the wild population of the species is an issue, proposed acquisition of a captive-bred animal or acquisition by a person whose ownership is likely to benefit the species shall be given preference.

A license to possess as a pet a bird, mammal, fish, reptile or amphibian owned prior to January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four shall, provided that any potentially injurious animal is properly confined in a suitable facility, be granted at any time to any individual upon presentation of evidence of ownership of the animal in question prior to January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

SECTION 5. The fourth paragraph of said section 23 of said chapter 131 is hereby amended by striking out clause (4), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

(4) To any individual, a propagator's license to possess, maintain, buy, sell, offer for sale or have in possession for the purpose of sale, birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians.

SECTION 6. Said fourth paragraph of said section 23 of said chapter 131 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (7), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

(7) To any individual, a license to possess but not to sell except under authority of a permit from the director, authority to issue such permits being hereby granted to the director, a bird or mammal as a pet, or for the purpose of training dogs, or a reptile or amphibian.

SECTION 7. Said section 23 of said chapter 131 is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph: —

Any fish, bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian possessed, propagated, cultivated, maintained, sold, or offered for sale in violation of this section or of any rule or regulation made under authority thereof may be seized and shall be disposed of by the director of law enforcement for the best interests of the commonwealth.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 131 is hereby further amended by striking out section 25, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 25. Except as provided in sections four and twenty-three, a person shall not have in his possession at any time a live bird or mammal other than those named in section five, or a live reptile or amphibian. Birds and mammals had in possession under any license issued under clause (4) or (6) of section twenty-three may be sold at any time, except if sold for food they shall be killed, and tagged as follows: — To the carcass of each bird or mammal or part thereof shall be affixed a numbered tag, to be supplied by the director at a cost of five cents each and in accordance with rules and regulations which he is hereby authorized to make. Every package containing birds or mammals killed under authority of this section, or parts of such birds or mammals, shall be plainly labelled with the name of the holder of the license, by whom, or under whose authority such birds or mammals were killed, with the name of the consignee, and with a statement of the number of birds or mammals, or parts thereof, contained therein. All carcasses or parts thereof shall remain entire and unplucked until such time as they are prepared for consumption as food. Reptiles and amphibians had in possession under any license issued under clause (4) of section twenty-three may be sold at any time.

Nothing herein shall be construed to permit the possession of a live bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian, other than those named in section five and those on the special exemption list provided for in section twenty-three by a person purchasing or receiving such a bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian from a holder of a propagator's license or a dealer's license issued under section twenty-three, unless such purchaser or receiver shall also hold a license under this chapter authorizing him so to possess.

An accurate account of all dealings subject to this section shall be kept by each licensee, including the names of persons from whom any birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians, alive or dead, or parts thereof, have been obtained or to whom any such birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians, or parts thereof, have been sold or otherwise disposed of, and said records shall be open for inspection at all reasonable times by the director or his agents, the director of law enforcement, his assistants, and natural resource officers.

A person licensed under the authority of section twenty-three shall not transfer any live bird, or the eggs thereof, or any live mammal, reptile or amphibian, to any person by means of sale, gift, donation or otherwise, unless such last mentioned person shall first be thereunto licensed under said section.

SECTION 9. Section 26 of said chapter 131, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph: —

Any fish, birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians lawfully taken or lawfully propagated without the commonwealth may be purchased by any dealer licensed under section twenty-three; provided, that the export and sale is lawful in the state, province or country in which said fish, birds, mammals, reptiles or amphibians are taken or from which they are exported, as the case may be, and the import of any fish, bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian lawfully taken or lawfully propagated without the commonwealth is not in violation of sections nineteen and nineteen A or any rule or regulation made under the authority thereof; and provided further, that all shipments shall bear the name of the consignee, the name of the consignor and, if enclosed, a statement of the contents contained therein, the tag, license or permit number as the case may be, or to the carton, package, box, or crate in which such are shipped, transported or delivered to any point within the commonwealth, is attached whatever mark of identification is required by the state, province or country from which such carcasses or parts thereof are so shipped, transported or delivered; and provided further, that such sale, transportation or export is not contrary to federal legislation or regulation. The burden of proof that skins of mammals and reptiles subject to this section were lawfully taken shall be upon the person possessing the same.

SECTION 10. Said section 26 of said chapter 131 is hereby further amended by striking out the third paragraph, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph: —

Any fish, bird, mammal, reptile or amphibian possessed, shipped, transported or delivered in violation of this section or of any rule or regulation made under the authority thereof may be seized and shall be disposed of by the director of law enforcement for the best interest of the commonwealth.

SECTION 11. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four. Approved November 21, 1973.

Chap. 1072. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE PAYMENT OF THE COSTS OF AUTOPSIES PERFORMED ON CHILDREN DYING UNDER TWO YEARS OF AGE AND PROVIDING FOR NOTICE OF THE RESULTS OF SUCH AUTOPSIES TO PARENTS OR GUARDIANS OF SUCH CHILDREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 38 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 6B the following section: —

Section 6C. The parent or legal guardian or any police officer or physician knowing of the death of any child under the age of two

The medical examiner shall notify the parent or legal guardian of such child that, if the parent or legal guardian consents, an autopsy shall be performed on the child, the costs of which shall be borne by the commonwealth. Any parent or legal guardian consenting to such an autopsy shall be notified of the results of said autopsy as to the cause of death. Every medical examiner performing an autopsy under this section shall return an account of the expenses of same, including his fees, to the state treasurer, who, after certification of the account by the state auditor, shall reimburse said medical examiner.

Approved November 21, 1973.

Chap. 1073. AN ACT PROVIDING CARE AND SERVICES FOR CERTAIN CHILDREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 76 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 18 the following two sections: —

Section 19. Every school committee shall appoint, make regulations governing and fix the compensation of one or more supervisors of attendance, who may be either male or female, and who shall meet such standards of qualifications for such work as shall be established by the department of education. The committees of two or more towns may employ the same supervisors of attendance.

Section 20. Supervisors of attendance shall inquire into all cases arising under sections two and eight of chapter seventy-two, sections one, two, four to eleven, inclusive, and fifteen of chapter seventy-six, and sections ninety, ninety-two, ninety-three, and ninety-five of chapter one hundred and forty-nine, and may apply for petitions under the provisions of section thirty-nine E of chapter one hundred and nineteen. They shall, if the court so orders, have oversight of children placed on probation; of minors licensed by the school committee under section nineteen of chapter one hundred and one; and of children admitted to or attending shows or entertainments in violation of section one hundred and ninety-seven of chapter one hundred and forty. They may apprehend and take to school without a warrant any truant or absentee found wandering in the streets or public places.

SECTION 1A. The first paragraph of section 8 of chapter 72 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — In computing the average daily membership a pupil's name shall be omitted only when it is known that he has withdrawn from the school without intention of returning.

SECTION 2. Chapter seventy-seven of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. Section 21 of chapter 119 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after the definition of "Parent", as appearing in section 7 of chapter 785 of the acts of 1972, the following definition: —

“Child in need of services”, a child below the age of seventeen who persistently runs away from the home of his parents or legal guardian, or persistently refuses to obey the lawful and reasonable commands of his parents or legal guardian, thereby resulting in said parent’s or guardian’s inability to adequately care for and protect said child, or a child between the ages of six and sixteen who persistently and wilfully fails to attend school or persistently violates the lawful and reasonable regulations of his school.

SECTION 4. Subsection D of section 23 of said chapter 119, as most recently amended by section 7 of chapter 731 of the acts of 1972, is hereby further amended by inserting after the word “twenty-six”, in line 6, the words: — or to be a child in need of services under section thirty-nine G.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 119 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 39D the following six sections: —

Section 39E. The juvenile courts of Boston, Worcester, Springfield, and Bristol county or the juvenile session of any district court, except the municipal court of the Roxbury district, the municipal court of the city of Boston, the central district court of Worcester, the district court of Springfield and the district courts within Bristol county, may receive and hear petitions seeking a determination that a child is in need of services as defined in section twenty-one, in accordance with the provisions of this section and of sections thirty-nine F to thirty-nine I, inclusive. Proceedings pursuant to sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine I, inclusive, shall not be deemed criminal proceedings.

A parent or legal guardian of a child having custody of such child, or a police officer may apply for a petition in one of said courts alleging that said child persistently runs away from the home of said parent or guardian or persistently refuses to obey the lawful and reasonable commands of said parent or guardian resulting in said parent’s or guardian’s inability to adequately care for and protect said child.

Any supervisor of attendance, duly appointed pursuant to section eighteen of chapter seventy-six may apply for a petition in said court alleging that said child persistently and wilfully fails to attend school or persistently violates the lawful and reasonable regulations of his school.

If the child is not brought into court on arrest, the clerk shall set a date for a hearing to determine whether a petition should issue, shall notify the child of such hearing and shall request the chief probation officer or his designee to conduct a preliminary inquiry to determine whether in his opinion the best interests of the child require that a petition be issued. The court shall hold a hearing in which it shall receive the recommendation of the probation officer and shall either (i) decline to issue the petition because there is no probable cause to believe that the child is in need of services; (ii) decline to issue the petition because it finds that the interests of the child would best be served by informal assistance without a trial on the merits, in which case the court shall, with the consent of the child and his parents or guardian, refer the child to a probation officer for assistance; or (iii) issue the petition and schedule a trial on the merits. If the child is brought in on arrest, the petition shall issue if it has not already issued, and the court shall immediately request the probation officer promptly to make like inquiry and thereafter report to the court his recommendation as to whether the interests of the child can best be served by informal assistance without a trial on the merits. Upon receiving such recommendation, the court may hold a hearing and shall decide whether to proceed with a trial on the merits or to refer the child to the care of a probation officer for assistance.

Whenever a child is referred to a probation officer for assistance, such officer shall have the authority to refer the child to an appropriate public or private organization or person for psychiatric, psychological, educational, occupational, medical, dental or social services and shall have the authority to conduct conferences with the child and the child's family for the purpose of effecting adjustments or agreements which are calculated to resolve the situation which formed the basis of the application or petition and which will eliminate the need for a judicial trial on the merits. During the pendency of such referrals or conferences, neither the child nor his parents may be compelled to appear at any conferences, produce any papers, or visit any place. However, if the child or his parents fail to participate in good faith in the referrals or conferences arranged by the probation officer, the probation officer shall so certify in writing, and the clerk shall issue a petition, if one has not already been issued, and shall set a date for a trial on the merits. The judge who conducted the hearing on the issuance of a petition shall not preside at any subsequent hearing on the merits. If the child is being detained in any facility pending the determination as to whether a petition shall issue, or pending a trial on the merits, and a determination is made either not to issue the petition or to refer the child to the probation officer, the person in charge of the facility wherein the child is detained shall be notified immediately and the child shall be immediately released. Conferences and referrals arranged under this section may extend for a period not to exceed six months from the date that the application was initially made for the petition, unless the parent and child voluntarily agree in writing to a continuation of such conferences or referrals for an additional period not to exceed six months from the expiration of the original period. Upon the expiration of the initial six-month period, or of such additional six-month period, the petition, if any, shall be dismissed and the child and his parents discharged from any further obligation to participate in such conferences and referrals, or a petition shall, if not already issued, be issued and a date set for a trial on the merits. No statements made by a child or by any other person during the period of inquiries, conferences, or referrals may be used against the child at any subsequent hearing for the purpose of adjudicating him a child in need of services, but such statements may be received by the court after adjudication for the purpose of disposition.

Upon the filing of a petition under this section, the court may issue a summons, to which a copy of the petition shall be attached, requiring the child named in such petition to appear before said court at the time named therein. If such child fails to obey the summons, said court may issue a warrant reciting the substance of the petition and requiring the officer to whom it is directed forthwith to take and bring such child before said court. Notice of the hearing shall also be given to the department of youth services.

Where the court summons such child, the court shall in addition issue a summons to both parents of the child, if both parents are known to reside in the commonwealth, or to one parent if only one is known to reside within the commonwealth, or, if there is no parent residing in the commonwealth, then to the parent having custody or to the lawful guardian of such child. Said summons shall require the person served to appear at a time and place stated therein at a hearing to determine whether or not such child is in need of services.

Unless service of the summons required by this section is waived in writing, such summons shall be served by the constable or police officer, either by delivering it personally to the person to whom addressed, or by leaving it with a person of proper age to receive the same, at the place of residence or business of such person, and said constable or police officer shall immediately make return to the court of the time and manner of service.

Section 39F. When a child alleged to be in need of services is brought before a juvenile court or a juvenile session of a district court pursuant to section thirty-nine E, said child shall be informed that he has a right to counsel at all hearings, and if said child is not able to retain counsel, the court shall appoint counsel for said child. The court may in its discretion assess against the parent or guardian the cost, or any part thereof, of counsel appointed to represent a child alleged to be in need of services.

Section 39G. At any hearing to determine whether a child is in need of services, said child and his attorney shall be present. If the court finds the allegations in the petition have been proved at the hearing beyond a reasonable doubt, it may adjudge the child named in such petition to be in need of services. Upon making such adjudication the court, taking into consideration the physical and emotional welfare of the child, may make any of the following orders of disposition:

(a) subject to any conditions and limitations the court may prescribe, including provision for medical, psychological, psychiatric, educational, occupational and social services, and for supervision by a court clinic or by any public or private organization providing counseling or guidance services, permit the child to remain with his parents;

(b) subject to such conditions and limitations as the court may prescribe, including, but not limited to provisions for those services described in clause (a), place the child in the care of any of the following:

(1) a relative, probation officer, or other adult individual who, after inquiry by the probation officer or other person or agency designated by the court, is found to be qualified to receive and care for the child; (2) a private charitable or childcare agency or other private organization, licensed or otherwise authorized by law to receive and provide care for such children; or (3) a private organization which, after inquiry by the probation officer or other person or agency designated by the court, is found to be qualified to receive and care for the child; or

(c) subject to the provisions of sections thirty-two and thirty-three and subject further to such conditions and limitations as the court may prescribe, commit the child to the division of family and children's services of the department of public welfare.

A child found to be in need of services shall not be committed to any county training school. A child found to be in need of services shall not be committed to an institution designated or operated for juveniles adjudicated delinquent. However, such child may be committed to a facility which operates as a group home to provide therapeutic care for juveniles regardless of whether juveniles adjudicated delinquent are also provided care in such facility and may, in addition, be referred to the department of youth services for placement in individual foster care.

Any order of disposition pursuant to this section shall continue in force for six months. The court which entered the order may, after a hearing, extend its duration for additional successive six-month periods if the court finds that the purposes of the order have not been accomplished and that such extension would be reasonably likely to further those purposes.

No order shall continue in effect after the eighteenth birthday of a child named in a petition authorized to be filed by a parent or a legal guardian having custody, or a police officer, under the provisions of the second paragraph of section thirty-nine E, or after the sixteenth birthday of a child named in a petition authorized to be filed by a supervisor of attendance under the provisions of the third paragraph of said section thirty-nine E.

Section 39H. A child may be arrested for committing the behavior described in the definition of child in need of services in section twenty-one, only if such child has failed to obey a summons issued pursuant to section thirty-nine E, or if the arresting law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe that such child has run away from the home of his parents or guardian and will not respond to a summons.

If the court finds that a child alleged to be a child in need of services by reason of persistently refusing to obey the lawful and reasonable commands of his parents or legal guardian is likely not to appear at the preliminary inquiry or at the hearing on the merits, the court shall order the child to be admitted to such bail or to be released upon such terms and conditions as it determines to be reasonable. A child who does not post bail and is not otherwise released may be detained under such terms and conditions as the court may impose in a facility operated for the care of juveniles, provided that no such child is so detained for more than fifteen days without being brought again before the court for a hearing on whether such detention should be continued for another fifteen-day period. If the court decides to so continue said detention, it shall note in writing the detailed reasons for its decision. Any child aggrieved by such decision shall have an immediate right to appeal to the superior court under the procedures set forth in section fifty-eight of chapter two hundred and seventy-six; provided further, however, that in no event shall any child be detained under this section for more than forty-five days. If a child fails without good cause to respond to a summons, the court may similarly admit the child to bail, or release the child upon conditions set by the court, or, if the child fails to post bail, and is not otherwise released, detain the child subject to the above limitations. Whenever bail is imposed under this section, the provisions of section fifty-eight of chapter two hundred and seventy-six shall be applicable.

Section 39I. Any child who is adjudicated a child in need of services may appeal for a trial de novo in a district court designated by the chief justice of the district courts to hear such appeals, with or without jury, except that in the county of Suffolk all such appeals from any district court within said county or from the Boston juvenile court shall be to the Boston juvenile court. Such appeal shall be made by filing a written notice of same by the end of the next business day after entry of the judgment or adjudication, or within such further time as the court may allow.

The child may waive his claim to jury trial and have the appeal heard by a judge without jury. If a child requests a jury, he may elect that such jury to be composed of six or twelve members. When a claim for a trial by jury is made, the clerk of the court in which said claim is filed shall forward forthwith all papers in the case to the clerk of the court designated to hear such appeals. The verdict of the jury shall be unanimous and the court shall enter and record its findings upon the verdict of the jury.

The appeal shall be heard by the district court or juvenile court as a trial de novo. All rights and procedures provided in sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine H, inclusive, shall apply at such trial, except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine H, inclusive, in which event the provisions of said sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine H, inclusive, shall be controlling. The justice presiding at the trial on appeal shall have all the powers and duties of a justice of the juvenile court or a justice of a district court sitting in a juvenile session under this chapter. No justice shall preside over a trial on appeal in a case in which he presided at the initial trial. The trial on appeal shall be heard in a session set apart from the other business of the district court or juvenile court and devoted exclusively to juvenile cases.

This shall be known as the juvenile appeals session of the district court or juvenile court and shall have a separate trial list and docket.

An appeal shall not stay the order, judgment or decree appealed from, but the district court or juvenile court may otherwise order, on application and hearing consistent with this chapter, if suitable provision is made for the care and custody of the child.

Section 39J. Expenses for services provided children alleged or adjudicated to be children in need of services shall be paid by the county in which the court sits upon written certification thereof by the court. The clerk of court shall collect and transmit to the county treasurer, or, in Suffolk county, to the auditor of Boston, hereinafter included in the term "county treasurer", together with an attested copy of the court's order, all bills and vouchers for the costs of any services authorized by the court under the provisions of sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine I, inclusive. The county treasurer shall keep a record of all payments made for said services, including therein the name of the child, the name or names and addresses of any public or private organization or persons to whom payment is made, the services for which payment is made, and the date upon which payment was made. Periodically, according to a schedule established by the treasurer and receiver-general of the commonwealth, the several county treasurers shall requisition funds from the commonwealth to cover such payments made by the counties during the preceding period. The state treasurer shall pay said requisitions from such sums as may have been appropriated or are otherwise available therefor, and he may require any documentation that he deems appropriate before making payment. Any state agency, department or secretariat which provides, operates, maintains, supervises or funds a program under which any of the services authorized in sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine I, inclusive, are available may, to the extent consistent with the purposes of such program, provide such services or release funds to the state treasurer for reimbursement by him to the counties for services provided by others which are within the scope of the services authorized in said sections thirty-nine E to thirty-nine I, inclusive.

The state treasurer shall on or before December first of each year render a written report to the general court containing statistics showing the purpose and amounts of expenditures for said services by the various counties for which the commonwealth has made reimbursement, and making such recommendations for change in the law as he shall see fit.

Any person required to report under this section who has reasonable cause to believe that a child has died as a result of any of the conditions listed in said paragraph shall report said death to the department and to the district attorney for the county in which such death occurred and to the medical examiners as required by section six of chapter thirty-eight.

In addition to those persons required to report pursuant to this section, any other person may make such a report if any such person has reasonable cause to believe that a child is suffering from or has died as a result of such abuse or neglect. No person so required to report shall be liable in any civil or criminal action by reason of such report. No other person making such a report shall be liable in any civil or criminal action by reason of such report if it was made in good faith.

Any privilege established by section twenty or twenty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-three, by court decision or by profession code relating to the exclusion of confidential communications and the competency of witnesses, may not be invoked in any civil action arising out of a report made pursuant to this section.

(4) offer to the family of any child which it has reasonable cause to believe is suffering from any of the conditions described in the report appropriate social services to prevent further injury to the child, to safeguard his welfare, and to preserve and stabilize family life whenever possible. (5) file in the central registry established under section fifty-

Any other physician treating a child reported pursuant to section fifty-one A may be so authorized by the court to keep such child in his custody until such time as the custody of the child has been transferred to the department or until a hearing may be held relative to the care and custody of such child.

Section 51D. The commissioner of public welfare may establish throughout the commonwealth child protection consultation and advisory boards. Upon receipt of the written report each board shall make a recommendation for departmental action and shall communicate such recommendation to the commissioner.

In forming such recommendation, each board may request further information on the case and may call before it any person who has been involved in the investigation and evaluation which is being reviewed.

Each board shall give precedence to cases of children suffering serious physical or emotional damage as defined in section fifty-one A in which no court action or change in custody is recommended. The boards shall next review cases in which a party to the proceedings, or any person required to report under section fifty-one A requests a consultation. Other cases in which protective services are offered shall be reviewed in the order of their receipt.

Members of the board shall serve without compensation but, if they are public employees, shall be relieved from their formal duties during times when they are performing the duties specified in this section. Members of the boards shall be reimbursed for any ex-

Such written reports shall be confidential. The child's parent, guardian, or counsel, the reporting person or agency, the appropriate review board, or a social worker assigned to the case, may, upon request, and upon the approval of the commissioner, receive a copy of the written report of the initial investigation. No such report shall be made available to any persons other than those enumerated in this section without the written and informed consent of the child's parent or guardian, the written approval of the commissioner, or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Any person who permits any information in the files to be released to persons or agencies other than those specified in this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than two and one half years, or both.

Section 51F. The department shall maintain a central registry of information sufficient to identify children whose names are reported pursuant to section fifty-one A or fifty-one B. Data and information relating to individual cases in the central registry shall be confidential and shall be made available only with the approval of the commissioner or upon court order. The commissioner shall establish rules and regulations governing the availability of such data and information.

Any person employed in the central registry who permits the data and information stored in the registry to be released without authorization to persons or agencies other than those specified in the rules and regulations shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than two and one half years, or both.

Section 51G. Sections fifty-one A to fifty-one F, inclusive, are severable and the invalidity of any of said sections shall not affect the continuing validity of any other of said sections.

Employees shall have the right of self-organization and the right to form, join, or assist any employee organization for the purpose of bargaining collectively through representatives of their own choosing on questions of wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, and to engage in lawful, concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection, free from interference, restraint, or coercion. An employee shall have the right to refrain from any or all of such activities, except to the extent of making such payment of service fees to an exclusive representative as provided in section twelve.

Section 3. Section 4. Public employers may recognize an employee organization designated by the majority of the employees in an appropriate bargaining unit as the exclusive representative of all the employees in such unit for the purpose of collective bargaining.

The commission, upon receipt of an employer's petition alleging that one or more employee organizations claims to represent a substantial number of the employees in a bargaining unit, or upon receipt of an employee organization's petition that a substantial number of the employees in a bargaining unit wish to be represented by the petitioner, or upon receipt of a petition filed by or on behalf of a substantial number of the employees in a unit alleging that the exclusive representative therefor no longer represents a majority of the employees therein, shall investigate, and if it has reasonable cause to believe that a substantial question of representation exists, shall provide for an appropriate hearing upon due notice. If, after hearing, the commission finds that there is a controversy concerning the representation of employees, it shall direct an election by secret ballot or shall use any other suitable method to determine whether, or by which employee organization the employees in an appropriate unit desire to be represented, and shall certify any employee organization which received a majority of the votes in such election as the exclusive representative of such employees.

Except for good cause no election shall be directed by the commission in an appropriate bargaining unit within which a valid election has been held in the preceding twelve months, or a valid collective bargaining agreement is in effect. The commission shall by its rules provide an appropriate period prior to the expiration of such agreements when certification or decertification petitions may be filed.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a stipulation, in accordance with regulations of the commission, by an employer and an employee organization for waiving of hearing and the conducting of a consent election by the commission for the purpose of determining a controversy concerning the representation of employees.

Any hearing under this section may be, when so determined by the commission, conducted by a member or agent of the commission. The decisions and determinations of such member or agent shall be final and binding unless, within ten days after notice thereof, any party requests a review by the full commission. If a review is requested, the member or agent shall file with the commission and with the parties a written statement of the case. In addition any party may, within ten days from the receipt of such statement, file a supplementary statement with the commission. A review by the commission shall be made upon such statement of the case by the member or agent and upon such supplementary statements filed by the parties, if any, together with such other evidence as the commission may require.

Section 5. The exclusive representative shall have the right to act for and negotiate agreements covering all employees in the unit and shall be responsible for representing the interests of all such employees without discrimination and without regard to employee organization membership.

An employee may present a grievance to his employer and have such grievance heard without intervention by the exclusive representative of the employee organization representing said employee, provided that the exclusive representative is afforded the opportunity to be present at such conferences and that any adjustment made shall not be inconsistent with the terms of an agreement then in effect between the employer and the exclusive representative.

Section 6. The employer and the exclusive representative shall meet at reasonable times, including meetings in advance of the employer's budget-making process and shall negotiate in good faith with respect to wages, hours, standards of productivity and performance, and any other terms and conditions of employment, but such obligation shall not compel either party to agree to a proposal or make a concession.

Section 7. Any collective bargaining agreement reached between the employer and the exclusive representative shall not exceed a term of three years. The agreement shall be reduced to writing, executed by the parties, and a copy of such agreement shall be filed with the commission.

The employer shall submit to the appropriate legislative body within thirty days after the date on which the agreement is executed by the parties, a request for an appropriation necessary to fund the cost items contained therein; provided, that if the general court is not in session at that time, such request shall be submitted at the next session thereof. If the appropriate legislative body duly rejects the request for an appropriation necessary to fund the cost items, such cost items shall be returned to the parties for further bargaining. The provisions of the preceding two sentences shall not apply to agreements reached by school committees in cities and towns in which the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter seventy-one are operative.

If a collective bargaining agreement reached by the employer and the exclusive representative contains a conflict between matters which are within the scope of negotiations pursuant to section six of this chapter and any municipal personnel ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation; the regulations of a police chief pursuant to section ninety-seven A of chapter forty-one; the regulations of a fire chief or other head of a fire department pursuant to chapter forty-eight; any of the following statutory provisions or rules or regulations made thereunder:

(a) the second paragraph of section twenty-eight of chapter seven;

(a $\frac{1}{2}$) section six E of chapter twenty one;

(b) sections fifty to fifty-six, inclusive, of chapter thirty-five;

(c) section twenty-four A, paragraphs (4) and (5) of section forty-five, paragraphs (1), (4) and (10) of section forty-six, section forty-nine, as it applies to allocation appeals, and section fifty-three of chapter thirty;

(d) sections twenty-one A and twenty-one B of chapter forty;

(e) sections one hundred and eight D to one hundred and eight I, inclusive, and sections one hundred and eleven to one hundred and eleven L, inclusive, of chapter forty-one;

(f) section thirty-three A of chapter forty-four;

(g) sections fifty-seven to fifty-nine, inclusive, of chapter forty-eight;

(g^{1/2}) section sixty-two of chapter ninety-two;

(h) sections fourteen to seventeen E, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty-seven;

(i) sections thirty to forty-two, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty-nine;

(j) section fifty-three C of chapter two hundred and sixty-two, the terms of the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail.

Section 8. The parties may include in any written agreement a grievance procedure culminating in final and binding arbitration to be invoked in the event of any dispute concerning the interpretation or application of such written agreement. In the absence of such grievance procedure, binding arbitration may be ordered by the commission upon the request of either party; provided that any such grievance procedure shall, wherever applicable, be exclusive and shall supercede any otherwise applicable grievance procedure provided by law; and further provided that binding arbitration hereunder shall be enforceable under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty C and shall, where such arbitration is elected by the employee as the method of grievance resolution, be the exclusive procedure for resolving any such grievance involving suspension, dismissal, removal or termination notwithstanding any contrary provisions of sections forty-three and forty-six G of chapter thirty-one, section sixteen of chapter thirty-two, or sections forty-two through forty-three A, inclusive, of chapter seventy-one.

Section 9. After a reasonable period of negotiation over the terms of a collective bargaining agreement, either party or the parties acting jointly may petition the board for a determination of the existence of an impasse. Upon receipt of such petition, the board shall commence an investigation forthwith to determine if the parties have negotiated for a reasonable period of time and if an impasse exists, within ten days of the receipt of such petition, the board shall notify the parties of the results of its investigation. Failure to notify the parties within ten days shall be taken to mean that an impasse exists.

Within five days after such determination, the board shall appoint a mediator to assist the parties in the resolution of the impasse. In the alternative, the parties may agree upon a person to serve as a mediator and shall notify the board of such agreement and choice of mediator.

After a reasonable period of mediation, not to exceed twenty days from the date of appointment, said mediator shall issue to the board a report indicating the results of his services in resolving the impasse.

If the impasse continues after the conclusion of mediation, either party or the parties acting jointly may petition the board to initiate fact-finding proceedings. Upon receipt of such petition, the board shall appoint a fact-finder, representative of the public, from a list of qualified persons maintained by the board. In the alternative, the parties may agree upon a person to serve as fact-finder and shall notify the board of such agreement and choice of fact-finder. No person shall be named as a fact-finder who has represented an employer or employee organization within the preceding twelve months. The fact-finder shall be subject to the rules of the board and shall, in addition to powers delegated to him by the board, have the power to mediate and to make recommendations for the resolution of the impasse. The fact-finder shall transmit his findings and any recommendations for the resolution of the impasse to the board and to both parties within thirty days after the date of his appointment. If the impasse remains unresolved ten days after the transmittal of such findings and recommendations, the board shall make them public.

Any arbitration award in a proceeding voluntarily agreed to by the parties to resolve an impasse shall be binding on the parties and on the appropriate legislative body and made effective and enforceable pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty C, provided that said arbitration proceeding has been authorized by the appropriate legislative body or in the case of school employees, by the appropriate school committee.

If the impasse continues after the publication of the fact-finder's report, the issues in dispute shall be returned to the parties for further bargaining.

Any time limitations prescribed in this section may be extended by mutual agreement of the parties and the board.

Section 9A. (a) No public employee or employee organization shall engage in a strike, and no public employee or employee organization shall induce, encourage or condone any strike, work stoppage, slowdown or withholding of services by such public employees.

(b) Whenever a strike occurs or is about to occur, the employer shall petition the commission to make an investigation. If, after investigation, the commission determines that any provision of paragraph (a) of this section has been or is about to be violated, it shall immediately set requirements that must be complied with, including, but not limited to, instituting appropriate proceedings in the superior court for the county wherein such violation has occurred or is about to occur for enforcement of such requirements.

Section 10. (a) It shall be a prohibited practice for a public employer or its designated representative to:

- (1) Interfere, restrain, or coerce any employee in the exercise of any right guaranteed under this chapter;
- (2) Dominate, interfere, or assist in the formation, existence, or administration of any employee organization;
- (3) Discriminate in regard to hiring, tenure, or any term or condition of employment to encourage or discourage membership in any employee organization;

(4) Discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee because he has signed or filed an affidavit, petition, or complaint or given any information or testimony under this chapter, or because he has informed, joined, or chosen to be represented by an employee organization;

(5) Refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with the exclusive representative as required in section six;

(6) Refuse to participate in good faith in the mediation, fact-finding, and arbitration procedures set forth in sections eight and nine;

(b) It shall be a prohibited practice for a public employee or for an employee organization or its designated agent to:

(1) Interfere, restrain, or coerce any employer in the exercise of any right guaranteed under this chapter;

(2) Refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with the public employer, if it is an exclusive representative, as required in section seven;

(3) Refuse to participate in good faith in the mediation, fact-finding and arbitration procedures set forth in sections eight and nine.

Section 11. When a complaint is made to the commission that a practice prohibited by section ten has been committed, the commission may issue an order dismissing the complaint or may order a further investigation or a hearing thereon. If a hearing is ordered, the commission shall set the time and place for the hearing, which time and place may be changed by the commission at the request of one of the parties for cause shown. Any complaint may be amended with the permission of the commission. The employer, the employee organization or the person so complained of shall have the right to file an answer to the original or amended complaint within five days after the service of such complaint or within such other time as the commission may limit. Such employer, such employee organization or such person shall have the right to appear in person or otherwise to defend against such complaint. At the discretion of the commission any person may be allowed to intervene in such proceeding. In any hearing the commission shall not be bound by the technical rules of evidence prevailing in the courts.

Whenever it is alleged that a party has refused to bargain collectively in good faith with the exclusive representative as required in section ten and that such refusal is based upon a dispute involving the appropriateness of a bargaining unit, the commission shall, except for good cause shown, issue an interim order requiring the parties to bargain pending its determination of the dispute. Where such interim order is issued the commission shall hold a hearing on the charge in a summary manner and shall speedily determine the issues raised and shall make an appropriate decision.

Upon any complaint made under this section the commission in its discretion may order that the hearing be conducted by a member or agent of the commission. At such hearing the employer, the employee organization or the person so complained of shall have the right to appear in person or otherwise to defend against such complaint. At the discretion of the commission, any person may be allowed to intervene in such proceeding. In any hearing the member or agent shall not be bound by the technical rules of evidence prevailing in the courts. At the conclusion of the hearing, the member or agent shall determine whether a practice prohibited under section ten has been committed and if so, he shall issue an order requiring it or him to cease and desist from such prohibited practice. If the member or agent determines that a practice prohibited under section ten has not been committed, he shall issue an order dismissing the complaint. Any order issued pursuant to this paragraph shall become final and binding unless, within ten days after notice thereof, any party requests a review by the full commission. A review may be made upon a written statement of the case by the member or agent agreed to by the parties, or upon written statements furnished by the parties, or, if any party or the commission requests, upon a transcript of the testimony taken at the preliminary hearing, together with such other testimony as the commission may require.

If, upon all the testimony, the commission determines that a prohibited practice has been committed, it shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the party committing the prohibited practice an order requiring it or him to cease and desist from such prohibited practice, and shall take such further affirmative action as will comply with the provisions of this section, including but not limited to the withdrawal of certification of an employee organization established by or assisted in its establishment by any such prohibited practice. It shall order the reinstatement with or without back pay of an employee discharged or discriminated against in violation of the first paragraph of this section. If, upon all of the testimony, the commission determines that a prohibited practice has not been or is not being committed, it shall state its finding of fact and shall issue an order dismissing the complaint.

Section 12. The commonwealth or any other employer shall require as a condition of employment during the life of a collective bargaining agreement so providing, the payment on or after the thirtieth day following the beginning of such employment or the effective date of such agreement, whichever is later, of a service fee to the employee organization which in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, is duly recognized by the employer or designated by the commission as the exclusive bargaining agent for the unit in which such employee is employed; provided, however, that such service fee shall not be imposed unless the collective bargaining agreement requiring its payment as a condition of employment has been formally executed, pursuant to a vote of a majority of all employees in such bargaining unit present and voting. Such service fee shall be proportionately commensurate with the cost of collective bargaining and contract administration.

Section 13. The commission shall maintain a list of employee organizations. To be recognized as such and to be included in the list an organization shall file with the commission a statement of its name, the name and address of its secretary or other officer to whom notices may be sent, the date of its organization, and its affiliations, if any, with other organizations. Every employee organization shall notify the commission promptly of any change of name or of the name and address of its secretary or other officer to whom notices may be sent, or of its affiliations.

The commission shall indicate on the list which employee organizations are exclusive representatives of appropriate bargaining units, the effective dates of their certification, and the effective date and expiration date of any agreement reached between the public employer and the exclusive representative. Copies of such list shall be made available to interested parties upon request.

In the event of failure of compliance with this section, the commission shall compel such compliance by appropriate order, said order to be enforceable in the same manner as other orders of the commission under this chapter.

Section 14. No person or association of persons shall operate or maintain an employee organization under this chapter unless and until there has been filed with the commission a written statement signed by the president and secretary of such employee organization setting forth the names and addresses of all of the officers of such organization, the aims and objectives of such organization, the scale of dues, initiation fees, fines and assessments to be charged to the members, and the annual salaries to be paid to the officers.

Every employee organization shall keep an adequate record of its financial transactions and shall make annually available to its members and to non-member employees who are required to pay a service fee under section twelve of this act, within sixty days after the end of its fiscal year, a detailed written financial report in the form of a balance sheet and operating statement. Such report shall indicate the total of its receipts of any kind and the sources of such receipts, and disbursements made by it during its last fiscal year. A copy of such report shall be filed with the commission.

In the event of failure of compliance with this section, the commission shall compel such compliance by appropriate order, said order to be enforceable in the same manner as other orders of the commission under this chapter.

Section 15. Whoever wilfully assaults, physically resists, prevents, impedes, or interferes with a mediator, fact-finder, or arbitrator, or any member of the commission or any of the agents or employees of the commission in the performance of duties pursuant to this chapter shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Whoever knowingly files a statement or report under section fourteen of this chapter, which report is false in any material representation, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars.

No compensation shall be paid by an employer to an employee with respect to any day or part thereof when such employee is engaged in a strike against said employer, nor shall such employee be eligible to recover such compensation at a later date in the event that such employee is required to work additional days to fulfill the provisions of collective bargaining agreement.

Any employee who engages in a strike shall be subject to discipline and discharge proceedings by the employer.

SECTION 2A. Section 9R of chapter 23 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 763 of the acts of 1965, is hereby further amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — The commission shall have authority from time to time to make, amend and rescind such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of sections nine O to nine Q, inclusive, of this chapter, chapter one hundred and fifty A, and chapter one hundred and fifty E.

SECTION 2B. Section 28 of chapter 7 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 352 of the acts of 1963, is hereby further amended by inserting at the end of the second paragraph the following sentence: — In the event of a conflict between the terms of a collective bargaining agreement and any rule or regulation made pursuant to this paragraph, the terms of the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail.

SECTION 2C. Section 17A of chapter 180 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 472 of the acts of 1969, is hereby further amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph: —

The state treasurer, the common paymaster as defined in section one hundred and thirty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five, or the treasurer of the county or municipality by which such employee is employed, shall deduct from the salary of such employee such amount of union dues, dues to the Massachusetts State Employees Association, dues to the Massachusetts Nurses Association, or dues payable to any relief association of any municipal department as may be certified to him on the payroll, and transmit the sum so deducted to the treasurer of said association; provided, that the state treasurer or the county or municipal treasurer, as the case may be, is satisfied by such evidence as he may require that the treasurer of such association has given to said association a bond, in a form approved by the commissioner of corporations and taxation, for the faithful performance of his duties, in a sum and with such surety or sureties as are satisfactory to the state treasurer or county or municipal treasurer; and provided, further, that whenever an association or union of state, county, or municipal employees is certified or obtains consent recognition under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty E, such deductions shall be made for dues only to the certified or recognized association or union.

SECTION 3. Chapter 180 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 17G and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 17G. Deductions on payroll schedules shall be made from the salary of any state, county or municipal employee of any amount which such employee may specify in writing to any state, county or municipal officer, or the head of the state, county or municipal department, board or commission, by whom or which he is employed for the payment of agency service fees to the employee organization, which, in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty E is duly recognized by the employer or designated by the labor relations commission as the exclusive bargaining agent for the appropriate unit in which such employee is employed. Such agency service fees shall be proportionately commensurate with the cost of collective bargaining and contract administration. Any such authorization may be withdrawn by the employee by giving at least sixty days' notice in writing of such withdrawal to the state, county or municipal officer, or the head of the state, county or municipal department, board or commission, by whom or which he is then employed, and by filing a copy thereof with the treasurer of the employee organization.

The state treasurer, the common paymaster as defined in section one hundred and thirty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five, or the treasurer of the county or municipality by which such employee is employed shall deduct from the salary of such employee such amount of agency service fees as may be certified to him on the payroll and transmit the sum so deducted to the treasurer of such employee organization; provided that the state treasurer or county or municipal treasurer, as the case may be, is satisfied by such evidence as he may require that the treasurer of such employee organization has given to said organization a bond, in a form approved by the commissioner of corporations and taxation for the faithful performance of his duties, in such sum and with such surety or sureties as are satisfactory to the state treasurer, or the county or municipal treasurer.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to the city of Boston.

SECTION 4. If an employee organization duly recognized as representing the firefighters or police officers of a city, town or district is engaged in an impasse which has continued for thirty days after the publication of the fact-finders report pursuant to section nine of chapter one hundred and fifty E, said employee organization shall petition the board to make an investigation. If, after investigation, the board determined that:

(1) the requirements of section nine of chapter one hundred and fifty E have been complied with in good faith by the employee organization;

(2) thirty days have passed since the date of publication of the fact-finders report pursuant to said section nine;

(3) the proceedings for the prevention of any prohibited practices have been exhausted, provided that any such complaints have been filed with the commission, prior to the date of the fact-finders report; and

(4) an impasse exists, the board shall immediately notify the employer and the employee organization that the issues in dispute shall be resolved by a three-member arbitration panel.

Said panel shall be comprised of three arbitrators, one selected by the employer, one selected by the employee organization, and a third an impartial arbitrator, who shall act as chairman of the panel, who shall be selected by the two previously selected arbitrators. In the event that either party fails to select an arbitrator or for any reason there is a delay in the naming of an arbitrator, or if the arbitrators fail to select a third arbitrator within the time prescribed by the board, the board shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators necessary to complete the panel, which shall act with the same force and effect as if the panel had been selected without intervention by the board.

The arbitration panel shall, acting through its chairman, hold a hearing within ten days after the date of appointment of the chairman at a place within the locality of the municipality involved, where feasible. The chairman shall give at least seven days' notice in writing to each of the other arbitrators, and to the representatives of the municipal employer and employee organization of the time and place of such hearing. The chairman shall preside over the hearing and shall take testimony. Upon application and for good cause shown, a person, labor organization, or governmental unit having substantial interest therein may be granted leave to intervene by the arbitration panel. The proceedings shall be informal. Any oral or documentary evidence and other data deemed relevant by the arbitration panel may be received into evidence. The arbitrators shall have the power to administer oaths and to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses, the production of books, records, and other evidence relative to or pertinent to the issues presented to them for determination. If any person refuses to obey a subpoena, or refuses to be sworn or to testify, or if any witness, party, or attorney is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing, the arbitration panel may, or the district attorney if requested, shall, invoke the aid of the superior court within the jurisdiction in which the hearing is being held, which court shall issue an appropriate order.

A record of the proceedings shall be kept, and the chairman shall arrange for the necessary recording service. Transcripts may be ordered at the expense of the party ordering them, but the transcripts shall not be necessary for an award by the panel. The hearing may be continued at the discretion of the panel and shall be concluded within forty days from the time of commencement. At the conclusion of the hearing, each party shall submit a written statement containing its last and best offer for each of the issues in dispute to the panel, which shall take said statements under advisement. Within ten days after the conclusion of the hearing, a majority of the panel shall select one of the two written statements and shall immediately give written notice of selection to the parties. The selection shall be final and binding upon the parties and upon the appropriate legislative body.

At any time before the rendering of an award, the chairman of the arbitration panel, if he is of the opinion that it would be useful or beneficial to do so, may remand the dispute to the parties for further collective bargaining for a period not to exceed three weeks and notify the board of the remand. If the dispute is remanded for further collective bargaining the time provisions of this act shall be extended for a time period equal to that of the remand.

In the event that the representatives of the parties mutually resolve each of the issues in dispute and agree to be bound accordingly, said representatives may, at any time prior to the final decision by the panel, request that the arbitration proceedings be terminated, the panel, acting through its chairman, shall terminate the proceedings.

The factors, among others, to be given weight by the arbitration panel in arriving at a decision shall include:

- (1) The financial ability of the municipality to meet costs.
- (2) The interests and welfare of the public.
- (3) The hazards of employment, physical, education, and mental qualifications, job training and skills involved.
- (4) A comparison of wages, hours and conditions of employment of the employees involved in the arbitration proceedings with the wages, hours and conditions of employment of other employees performing similar services and with other employees generally in public and private employment in comparable communities.
- (5) The decisions and recommendations of the fact finder.
- (6) The average consumer prices for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living.
- (7) The overall compensation presently received by the employees, including direct wages and fringe benefits.
- (8) Changes in any of the foregoing circumstances during the pendency of the arbitration proceedings.
- (9) Such other factors, not confined to the foregoing, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours and conditions of employment through voluntary collective bargaining, mediation, fact-finding, arbitration or otherwise between the parties, in the public service or in private employment.
- (10) The stipulation of the parties.

Any determination or decision of the arbitration panel if supported by material and substantive evidence on the whole record shall be binding upon the parties and may be enforced at the instance of either party or of the arbitration panel in the superior court in equity; provided, that the scope of arbitration in police matters shall be limited to wages, hours and conditions of employment and shall not include the following matters of inherent managerial policy: the right to appoint, promote, assign and transfer employees.

The commencement of a new municipal finance year prior to the final award by the arbitration panel shall not be deemed to render a dispute moot, or to otherwise impair the jurisdiction or authority of the arbitration panel or its award. Any award of the arbitration panel may be retroactive to the beginning of said municipal finance year.

If a municipal employer or an employee organization wilfully disobeys a lawful order of enforcement pursuant to this section, or wilfully encourages or offers resistance to such order, whether by strike or otherwise, the punishment for each day that such contempt continues may be a fine for each day to be determined at the discretion of said court.

Each of the parties shall provide compensation for the arbitrator which he has selected pursuant to this section. The remaining costs of the arbitration proceedings under this section shall be divided equally between the parties. Compensation for the arbitrators shall be in accordance with a schedule of payment established by the American Arbitration Association.

SECTION 5. The terms of any collective bargaining agreement in effect prior to the effective date of this act shall remain in full force and effect until the expiration date of said agreement.

SECTION 6. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

SECTION 7. The provisions of this act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

SECTION 8. The provisions of section four of this act shall terminate on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven. Any arbitration proceedings pending on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven shall be completed under the provisions of section four.

Approved November 26, 1973.

Chap. 1079. AN ACT EXTENDING THE TIME WITHIN WHICH AN APPLICATION FOR ABATEMENT MAY BE FILED UNDER THE LAW PROVIDING FOR THE ABATEMENT OF CERTAIN TAXES ON PROPERTY DAMAGED BY THE FLOODS OF JUNE TWENTY-NINTH THROUGH JULY SIXTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-THREE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately extend the time within which an application for abatement may be filed under the law providing for the abatement of certain taxes on property damaged by the floods of June twenty-ninth through July sixth, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 826 of the acts of 1973 is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, application for abatement under this act shall be filed before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect as of September twenty-sixth, nineteen hundred and seventy-three.

Approved November 26, 1973.

Chap. 1080. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF LAWRENCE TO APPROPRIATE MONEY FOR THE PAYMENT OF AND TO PAY CERTAIN EMPLOYEES OF ITS BESSIE M. BURKE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL A CERTAIN UNIFORM ALLOWANCE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The city of Lawrence is hereby authorized to appropriate, and, after such appropriation, to pay the sum of seventy-eight dollars to certain employees in the Bessie M. Burke Memorial Hospital for uniform allowances in accordance with the provisions of collective bargaining agreements for the years nineteen hundred and seventy-one and nineteen hundred and seventy-two.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Chap. 1081. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE CONTENTS OF ACCIDENT AND SICKNESS POLICIES AND REGULATING ADVERTISING OF SUCH POLICIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 110D the following section: —

Section 110E. The commissioner shall make rules and regulations, and may at any time alter, amend, or make interpretations thereof, to establish minimum standards of full and fair disclosure, for the form and content of policies of accident and sickness insurance which provide medical, surgical, or hospital expense benefits, whether on an indemnity, reimbursement, service or prepaid basis, as defined in section one hundred and eight and contracts to subscribers of hospital service corporations subject to section six of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A and contracts to subscribers of medical service corporations subject to section four of chapter one hundred and seventy-six B and contracts to subscribing members of medical service corporations subject to section four of chapter one hundred and seventy-six C and contracts to subscribers of dental service corporations subject to section four of chapter one hundred and seventy-six E. Such rules and regulations may apply to all, any portion or reasonable classifications of such policies or contracts, and shall be made to bring about:

(a) reasonable standardization and simplification of coverages to facilitate understanding and comparisons;

(b) elimination of provisions which may be misleading or unreasonably confusing, in connection either with the purchase of such insurance or with the settlement of claims;

(c) elimination of deceptive practices in connection with the sale of such insurance;

(d) elimination of provisions which may be contrary to the health care needs of the public;

(e) elimination of coverages which are so limited in scope as to be of no substantial economic value to the holders thereof.

When a rule or regulation has been adopted pursuant to this section and an individual policy of accident and sickness insurance form regulated by section one hundred and eight is not in compliance with such rule or regulation, such noncompliance shall be grounds for a withdrawal of approval of such policy form and the commissioner may withdraw his approval of any such form upon written notice to the insurer specifying his reasons therefor.

The commissioner shall make, and may at any time alter or amend, reasonable rules and regulations, and interpretations thereof, concerning advertising of insurance policies described in sections one hundred and eight or one hundred and ten of this chapter so as to assure that such advertising is truthful and not misleading, in fact or in implication. Such regulations shall contain, but not be limited to, the following principles:

(1) Words, phrases or illustrations shall not be used in a manner which misleads or has the capacity and tendency to deceive as to the extent of any policy benefit payable, loss covered or premium payable. An advertisement relating to any policy benefit payable, loss covered or premium payable shall be sufficiently complete and clear as to avoid deception or the capacity and tendency to deceive.

(2) When an advertisement refers to any dollar amount, period of time for which any benefit is payable, cost of policy, or specific policy benefit or the loss for which such benefit is payable, it shall also disclose those exceptions, reductions and limitations affecting the basic provisions of the policy without which the advertisement would have the capacity and tendency to mislead or deceive.

(3) An advertisement which refers to the right to renew, cancel or terminate a policy, or which refers to a policy benefit, or which states or illustrates time or age in connection with eligibility of applicants or the right to continue a policy, shall disclose the provisions relating to the right to renew, cancel and terminate and any modification of benefits, losses covered or premiums because of age or for other reasons, in such manner as not to minimize or render obscure the qualifying conditions.

(4) All information required to be disclosed shall be set out conspicuously and in close conjunction with the statements to which such information relates or under appropriate captions of such prominence that it shall not be minimized, rendered obscure or presented in an ambiguous fashion or intermingled with the context of the advertisements so as to be confusing or misleading.

(5) Testimonials used in advertisements must be genuine, represent the current opinion of the author, be applicable to the policy advertised and be accurately reproduced. The insurer, in using a testimonial, makes as its own all of the statements contained therein.

(6) An advertisement relating to the dollar amounts of claims paid, the number of persons insured, or similar statistical information relating to any insurer or policy shall not be used unless it accurately reflects all of the relevant facts. Such an advertisement shall not imply that such statistics are derived from the policy advertised unless such is the fact.

(7) When a choice of the amount of benefits is referred to, an advertisement shall disclose that the amount of benefits provided depends upon the plan selected and that the premium will vary with the amount of the benefits.

(8) When an advertisement refers to various benefits which may be contained in two or more policies, other than group master policies, the advertisement shall disclose that such benefits are provided only through a combination of such policies.

(9) An advertisement shall not directly or indirectly make unfair or incomplete comparisons of policies or benefits or otherwise falsely disparage competitors, their policies, services or business methods.

(10) The identity of the insurer shall be made clear in all of its advertisements. An advertisement shall not use a trade name, service mark, slogan, symbol or other device which has the capacity and tendency to mislead or deceive as to the true identity of the insurer.

(11) An advertisement of a particular policy shall not state or imply that prospective policyholders, become group or quasi-group members and, as such, enjoy special rates or underwriting privileges, unless such is the fact.

(12) An advertisement shall not state or imply that a particular policy or combination of policies is an introductory, initial or special offer and that the applicant will receive advantages by accepting the offer, unless such is the fact.

(13) An advertisement shall not state or imply that an insurer or a policy has been approved or an insurer's financial condition has been examined and found to be satisfactory by a governmental agency, whether or not such is the fact.

(14) An advertisement shall not state or imply that an insurer or a policy has been approved or endorsed by an individual, group of individuals, society, association or other organization, unless such is the fact.

(15) An advertisement shall not contain untrue statements with respect to the time within which claims are paid or statements which imply that claim settlements will be liberal or generous beyond the terms of the policy.

(16) An advertisement shall not contain statements which are untrue in fact or by implication misleading with respect to the insurer's assets, corporate structure, financial standing, age or relative position in the insurance business.

The commissioner may order any insurer or agent or broker violating such regulations as he makes pursuant to this section to cease and desist from such advertising and to put all policyholders or applicants on notice of the violation in such a manner as he deems appropriate and, in the case of repeated violations, he may suspend or revoke the license of any such persons and impose reasonable conditions for its reinstatement.

Rules and regulations made pursuant to the authority of this section shall be adopted in accordance with the procedures of section two of chapter thirty A and shall be subject to review as set forth therein.

An insurer not authorized to do business in the commonwealth shall be subject to the requirements of this section and be made a defendant in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five B in an action at law by any person damaged by its failure to abide by the current regulations. The measure of damages in such an action shall be the amount the person damaged could reasonably have anticipated he would have recovered had the advertising or the policy provisions not been contrary to the regulations plus reasonable costs and attorney fees. Any such action may be brought by the representative of a deceased person.

Approved November 26, 1973.

The engraved or printed facsimile of the seal of the Authority on its bonds, notes or certificates of indebtedness shall have the same validity and effect as if such seal were impressed thereon. Whenever a bond, note or certificate of indebtedness is required to bear the signatures of two or more officers, it shall be sufficient if the signature of any one of such officers upon such instrument is a written signature and the remaining signature or signatures are engraved, printed or stamped facsimile signatures; provided, that each officer whose facsimile signature appears on such instrument has, by a writing bearing his written signature and filed in the office of the secretary of the Authority, authorized the officer whose written signature appears on such instrument to cause such facsimile to be placed thereon. SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the city of Holyoke.

Chap. 1098. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE GROUP MARKETING OF AUTOMOBILE AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to permit the writing of automobile and homeowner type insurance in the commonwealth on a group marketing basis and to set forth the terms and conditions under which insurance on a group marketing basis may be written, thus bringing about lower insurance rates, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 193P, inserted by chapter 553 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections: —

Any parent corporation may, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of any class or classes of capital stock of its subsidiary insurer not owned by the parent corporation. The method authorized by this act for acquiring shares of a subsidiary insurer is not exclusive, but is in addition to any other lawful method for the acquisition of such shares.

The board of directors of the parent corporation which seeks to acquire minority interests in its subsidiary insurer shall adopt a plan for such acquisition, which plan shall set forth: (1) The name of the subsidiary insurer; (2) The total number of issued and outstanding shares of each class of stock of the subsidiary insurer, the number of its shares owned by the parent corporation and, if either of the foregoing is subject to change prior to the effective date of acquisition, the manner in which any change may occur; (3) The terms and conditions of the plan, including the manner and basis of exchanging the shares to be acquired for shares or other securities of the parent corporation, for cash, other consideration, or any combination of the foregoing, and the proposed effective date of acquisition; (4) If the parent corporation is not authorized to do business in this commonwealth, its consent to the enforcement against it in this commonwealth of the rights of shareholders pursuant to the plan or the rights of shareholders objecting to the plan, and a designation of the commissioner as the agent upon whom process may be served against the parent corporation in any action or proceeding to enforce any such rights; and (5) Such other provisions with respect to the plan as the board of directors of the parent corporation deems necessary or desirable, or as the commissioner may prescribe.

Upon adoption of the plan of acquisition, it shall be executed by the parent corporation under its corporate seal and submitted to the commissioner who shall, within sixty days from the date of such submission, endorse thereon his approval or disapproval and notify the parent corporation thereof. The commissioner in reviewing such plan of acquisition may employ such experts or consultants as he shall deem necessary. The reasonable costs of such experts and consultants are to be paid for by the parent corporation. The commissioner shall approve the plan if he is satisfied that it complies with this section and is not inconsistent with law. If the commissioner disapproves the plan he shall advise the parent corporation in writing of the reasons for such disapproval. No plan shall take effect unless the approval of the commissioner has been obtained. Any refusal by the commissioner to give any approval required by this section shall be subject to judicial review.

If the commissioner approves the plan, the parent corporation shall deliver a copy of the plan or a summary thereof approved by the commissioner, together with a statement of the rights of objecting shareholders in accordance with this section, to each person who, as of the date of delivery, who is a holder of record of stock to be acquired pursuant to the plan. Such delivery shall be made either in person or by depositing a copy of the plan or the approved summary and statement of rights of objecting shareholders in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the shareholder at his address of record. On or before the date of acquisition proposed in the plan, the parent corporation shall file with the commissioner a certificate executed by its president or vice president and attested by its secretary or assistant secretary under the seal of the parent corporation, attesting to compliance by the parent corporation with this section. Upon compliance with the foregoing requirements, ownership of the shares to be acquired pursuant to the plan shall vest in the parent corporation on the date of acquisition proposed in the plan, whether or not the certificates for such shares have been surrendered for exchange, and the parent corporation shall be entitled to have new certificates therefor registered in its name. The holders of all such shares shall surrender the certificates for such shares to the parent corporation for exchange pursuant to the plan. Whether or not a shareholder so surrenders his certificate or certificates, all of his rights, powers and privileges as such shareholder shall nevertheless terminate and be extinguished as of such date, excepting only his right to receive payment for his stock as provided in the plan, or to object to the plan and receive payment for his stock in accordance with the provisions hereinafter set forth.

The statement of the rights of objecting shareholders may be in such form as the directors of the parent corporation deem advisable, but the following form of notice shall be sufficient to comply with this section: —

"Any shareholder who objects to the plan has the right to demand in writing from the parent corporation, within thirty days after the date of mailing of this statement, payment for his shares and an appraisal of the value thereof. Such corporation and any such shareholder shall in such cases have the rights and duties and shall follow the procedure set forth in section one hundred and ninety-three Q of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the Massachusetts General Laws." If any shareholder whose stock is to be acquired pursuant to the plan shall in writing within thirty days after the date of mailing of such statement object to the plan and demand payment for his stock from the parent corporation, such corporation shall pay to him the fair value of his stock within thirty days after the expiration of the period during which such demand may be made.

If during the thirty day period for payment the parent corporation and any such objecting shareholder fail to agree as to the value of such stock, such corporation or any such shareholder may within four months after the expiration of such thirty day period for payment demand a determination of the value of the stock of all such objecting shareholders by filing a bill in equity in the superior court in the county where the corporation in which such objecting shareholders held stock has its principal office within the commonwealth. In such event sections ninety-one through ninety-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be applicable; provided, however, that a shareholder who makes demand as provided in this section shall be deemed to have consented to the provisions of section ninety-one of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B relating to notice, and provided further, that the phrase "proposed corporate action" wherever it appears in sections ninety-two and ninety-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall in each instance be deemed to mean "adoption of the plan of acquisition by the parent corporation".

The enforcement by a shareholder of his right to receive payment for his shares in the manner provided in this section shall be an exclusive remedy except that this section shall not exclude the right of such shareholder to bring or maintain an appropriate proceeding to obtain relief on the grounds that the adoption of the plan will be or is illegal or fraudulent as to him.

The superior court for Suffolk county and the superior court for the county in which the subsidiary insurer has its principal place of business are hereby vested with jurisdiction over any parent corporation which files a plan of acquisition with the commissioner under this section, and over all actions involving such parent corporation arising out of this section, including such review as provided herein, and each such parent corporation shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by such parent corporation of the commissioner to be its true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all such lawful process shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to such parent corporation at its last known address.

Section 193R. The following words, as used in this section, shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings: —

"Association member", a member of a trade union, association or organization.

"Group marketing", "Group marketing plan", "Mass merchandising" or "Mass merchandising plan", any system, design or plan whereby motor vehicle or homeowner insurance is afforded to employees of an employer, or to members of a trade union, association, or organization and to which the employer, trade union, association or organization has agreed to or in any way affiliated itself with, assisted, encouraged or participated in the sale of such insurance to its employees or members through a payroll deduction plan or otherwise.

"Homeowner insurance", any policy insuring individuals against any, some or all of the risks of loss to personal dwellings or the contents thereof or the personal liability pertaining thereto.

"Motor vehicle insurance", any policy of insurance or bond as defined in section thirty-four A of chapter ninety or described in this chapter insuring private passenger vehicles for individuals.

No insurer or any person, firm, or corporation on behalf of any insurer, shall issue or make, or offer to issue or make, any certificate or policy of motor vehicle or homeowner insurance to any person in the commonwealth pursuant to a group marketing plan except in accordance with the terms and conditions of this section.

The commissioner shall make and at any time may alter or amend reasonable rules and regulations regarding insurance issued pursuant to a group marketing plan.

The rules and regulations made by the commissioner shall require (1) that every individual employee or association member having a proper insurable interest shall be entitled to participate in the group plan; (2) that every individual employee or association member participating in the group plan be given an option to continue coverage by a standard policy of the same type offered by the insurer to persons not eligible for a group plan for at least one additional year upon termination of employment or membership; (3) that there shall be no compulsion for an employee or association member to participate in the plan; (4) that no member of the group shall be subject to any rating differential or other classification technique or policy form designed to make it less desirable for him as an individual to purchase insurance through the group than it would be to purchase it from the regular individual market and each member of the group must be issued an individual policy of the same form varying only as to the amounts of insurance and limits of liability requested by the member; (5) that an insurer may not cancel any insurance of an individual member of the group except for nonpayment of premium, fraud or unless the insurance for the entire group is cancelled, but an insurer may cancel the motor vehicle insurance of an individual member for loss of registration or operators license by the individual member where such loss is for a period of one year or more; (6) that to qualify to write the group marketing plan herein defined the insurer must also be actively engaged in the business of writing the types of coverage offered for insureds other than such groups and may not be organized solely or principally for the purpose of furnishing coverage to such groups; (7) that such employer, trade union, association or organization shall consist of no less than twenty-five members, at least fifteen of whom are residents of the commonwealth, and that at least thirty-five per cent are insured within one year of the effective date of the plan, such percentage to continue so insured at all times thereafter; and (8) that such trade union, association, or organization shall have a constitution and by-laws and be formed in good faith for purposes other than that of obtaining insurance.

Rates for such policies shall be fixed and established in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, chapter one hundred and seventy-four A or chapter one hundred and seventy-five A applicable to the type of insurance provided, except that in addition to the applicable provisions of said chapter every insurer providing insurance in accordance with this section shall keep and maintain separate data on the losses and expenses of each employer, trade union, association or organization so insured and shall not be allowed to offer any such insured a modification of the rates so fixed and established for all such insured until and unless data on such losses and expenses for at least three policy years shows, to the satisfaction of the commissioner, that such modification is in fact justified. For the purposes of this section deviations approved during the first three years of a group marketing plan by the commissioner based on direct reductions in expenses resulting from the group marketing technique shall be permitted. Every mutual company providing insurance in accordance with this section shall constitute each group marketing plan which has been in effect three policy years as a separate class of business for the purpose of paying dividends and any dividends on such plan shall be declared on the profits of the company from said class of business.

Employers, including the commonwealth or any agency or political subdivision thereof, may make payroll deductions to pay in whole or in part for premiums on any coverages purchased by employees pursuant to a plan authorized by this section.

(This Bill, returned by the Governor, to the House of Representatives, the branch in which it originated, with his objections thereto, was passed by the House of Representatives, November 28, 1973, and, in concurrence, by the Senate, November 28, 1973, the objections of the Governor notwithstanding, in the manner prescribed by the Constitution; and thereby has "the force of a law".)

Chap. 1113. AN ACT DIRECTING THE COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE TO FIX AND ESTABLISH PROVISIONAL MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE CHARGES FOR THE YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FOUR AND TO CONDUCT A PUBLIC HEARING RELATIVE TO EARNINGS ON SUCH INSURANCE AND PROVIDING FOR A REBATE OR RATE REDUCTION TO POLICYHOLDERS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide immediate relief to motor vehicle insurance policyholders from unanticipated or excessive earnings by insurance companies, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The commissioner of insurance, hereinafter called the commissioner, shall fix and establish provisional motor vehicle premium charges for the calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-four under the provisions of section one hundred and thirteen B or section one hundred and thirteen C, or both, of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws. The commissioner shall thereafter hold a public hearing at a time in the year nineteen hundred and seventy-four or the year nineteen hundred and seventy-five selected by him when adequate information relating to the earnings realized by insurance companies from motor vehicle insurance policies during the year nineteen hundred and seventy-four becomes available. He shall determine whether or not insurance companies providing such policies have realized or may realize any unanticipated or excessive profits from a reduction in accidents or their severity brought about by reduced speeds, gas rationing or any other occurrence which reduces or restricts the amount of driving in the commonwealth or affects the losses or claims sustained during said year.

If the commissioner determines from such hearings that said earnings either have or may result in unanticipated or excessive profit to said insurance companies, he shall direct such insurance companies to set sufficient funds aside as a special reserve in an amount determined by him to be adequate to assure the availability of funds to provide for a fair and reasonable sharing of such profits by the policyholders.

If the commissioner is able finally to determine the extent of any such unanticipated or excessive profit, he shall direct the aforesaid insurance companies, under a schedule determined by him, to return to its policyholders for the year nineteen hundred and seventy-four such share of such profits as he determines is fair and reasonable, said returns to be made by payment to such policyholders and shall finally determine whether the premium charges established by him provisionally for the calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-four meet the standards set forth in said sections one hundred and thirteen B and one hundred and thirteen C.

The commissioner shall give credit to any insurance company that has paid a dividend to policyholders or otherwise voluntarily returned unanticipated or excessive profits on motor vehicle insurance policies or bonds issued or executed by it within the commonwealth for the year nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

The commissioner may also, if necessary, establish separate rates of return for each company providing motor vehicle insurance in the commonwealth.

The commissioner may direct that insurance companies use all or part of the special reserve fund to make payment of said returns. The commissioner may also make such orders with respect to the disposition of the special reserve fund as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act. Failure of an insurance company to return the amounts as so determined by the commissioner shall be sufficient cause for revocation of the right of the company to do business in the commonwealth after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

Any person or company aggrieved by any action, order or finding or decision of the commissioner under this act may appeal to the supreme judicial court under the provisions of and for the relief set forth for appeals in said section one hundred and thirteen B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five. Said court shall determine whether the filing of the appeal shall operate as a stay of any such order or decision of the commissioner. Said court may, in disposing of the issue before it, modify, affirm or reserve the order or decision of the commissioner in whole or in part.

Approved November 30, 1973.

Chap. 1114. AN ACT IMPROVING THE PROCEDURE IN CIVIL TRIALS AND APPEALS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 30A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 7, added by section 1 of chapter 681 of the acts of 1954, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 7. Unless an exclusive mode of review is provided by law, judicial review of any regulation may be had through an action for declaratory relief in the manner and to the extent provided under chapter two hundred and thirty-one A.

SECTION 2. Section 10A of said chapter 30A, inserted by section 2 of chapter 732 of the acts of 1971, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — Notwithstanding the provisions of section ten, not less than ten persons may intervene in any adjudicatory proceeding as defined in section one, in which damage to the environment as defined in section seven A of chapter two hundred and fourteen, is or might be at issue; provided, however, that such intervention shall be limited to the issue of damage to the environment and the elimination or reduction thereof in order that any decision in such proceeding shall include the disposition of such issue.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 30A is hereby further amended by striking out sections 14 and 15 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections: —

Section 14. Except so far as any provision of law expressly precludes judicial review, any person or appointing authority aggrieved by a final decision of any agency in an adjudicatory proceeding, whether such decision is affirmative or negative in form, shall be entitled to a judicial review thereof, as follows: —

Where a statutory form of judicial review or appeal is provided such statutory form shall govern in all respects, except as to standards for review. The standards for review shall be those set forth in paragraph (7) of this section, except so far as statutes provide for review by trial de novo. Insofar as the statutory form of judicial review or appeal is silent as to procedures provided in this section, the provisions of this section shall govern such procedures.

Where no statutory form of judicial review or appeal is provided, judicial review shall be obtained by means of a civil action, as follows:

(1) Proceedings for judicial review of an agency decision shall be instituted in the superior court for the county (a) where the plaintiffs or any of them reside or have their principal place of business within the commonwealth, or (b) where the agency has its principal office, or (c) of Suffolk. The court may grant a change of venue upon good cause shown. The action shall, except as provided in section thirty-two of chapter six, be filed in the court within thirty days after receipt of notice of the final decision of the agency, or, if a petition for rehearing has been timely filed with the agency, within thirty days after receipt of notice of agency denial of such petition for rehearing. Upon application made within the thirty-day period or any extension thereof, the court may for good cause shown extend the time.

(2) Service shall be made upon the agency or one of its members or upon its secretary or clerk and upon all parties to the agency proceeding in which the decision sought to be reviewed was made. For the purpose of such service the agency upon request shall certify to the plaintiff the names and addresses of all such parties as disclosed by its records, and service upon parties so certified shall be sufficient. All parties to the proceeding before the agency shall have the right to intervene in the proceeding for review. The court may in its discretion permit other interested persons to intervene.

(3) The commencement of an action shall not operate as a stay of enforcement of the agency decision, but the agency may stay enforcement, and the reviewing court may order a stay upon such terms as it considers proper.

(4) The agency shall, by way of answer, file in the court the original or a certified copy of the record of the proceeding under review. The record shall consist of (a) the entire proceedings, or (b) such portions thereof as the agency and the parties may stipulate, or (c) a statement of the case agreed to by the agency and the parties. The expense of preparing the record may be assessed as part of the costs in the case, and the court may, regardless of the outcome of the case, assess any one unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record, for the additional expense of preparation caused by such refusal. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record when deemed desirable.

(5) The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury and shall be confined to the record, except that in cases of alleged irregularities in procedure before the agency, not shown in the record, testimony thereon may be taken in the court.

(6) If application is made to the court for leave to present additional evidence, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the additional evidence is material to the issues in the case, and that there was good reason for failure to present it in the proceeding before the agency, the court may order that the additional evidence be taken before the agency upon such conditions as the court deems proper. The agency may modify its findings and decision by reason of such additional evidence and shall file with the reviewing court, to become part of the record, the additional evidence, together with any modified or new findings or decision.

(7) The court may affirm the decision of the agency, or remand the matter for further proceedings before the agency; or the court may set aside or modify the decision, or compel any action unlawfully withheld or unreasonably delayed, if it determines that the substantial rights of any party may have been prejudiced because the agency decision is —

- (a) In violation of constitutional provisions; or
- (b) In excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the agency; or
- (c) Based upon an error of law; or
- (d) Made upon unlawful procedure; or
- (e) Unsupported by substantial evidence; or
- (f) Unwarranted by facts found by the court on the record as submitted or as amplified under paragraph (6) of this section, in those instances where the court is constitutionally required to make independent findings of fact; or
- (g) Arbitrary or capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law.

The court shall make the foregoing determinations upon consideration of the entire record, or such portions of the record as may be cited by the parties. The court shall give due weight to the experience, technical competence, and specialized knowledge of the agency, as well as to the discretionary authority conferred upon it.

If the court finds that the action of the appointing authority in discharging, removing, suspending, laying off, lowering in rank or compensation or abolishing his position, or the action of the commission confirming the action taken by the appointing authority, was not justified, the employee shall be reinstated in his office or position without loss of compensation and the court shall assess reasonable costs against the employer.

Section 15. The supreme judicial court and the appeals court shall have concurrent jurisdiction to review any proceedings had, determinations made, and orders or judgments entered in the superior court pursuant to section fourteen. The supreme judicial court or the appeals court, subject to the provisions of section thirteen of chapter two hundred and eleven A, may by rule vary the procedure authorized or required for such review upon a finding that the review by the court will thereby be made more simple, speedy and effective.

SECTION 4. Chapter 40A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 21, as most recently amended by chapter 334 of the acts of 1972, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 21. Any person aggrieved by a decision of the board of appeals may within twenty-one days after the decision is filed in the office of the city or town clerk bring a petition in the district court within the judicial district of which the land area to be affected is situated, addressed to the justice of the court praying that the action of the board of appeals may be reviewed by the court and after such notice as the court may deem necessary, it shall hear witnesses, review such action and determine whether or not upon all the evidence the decision exceeds the authority of the board. If the court finds that said decision was proper the action of the board shall be affirmed; otherwise it shall be annulled and the board shall be notified to change its records accordingly and to act in accordance with such decision.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the first paragraph of this section any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of appeals or of the district court, whether or not previously a party to the proceeding, and including any municipal officer, planning board or city council, may appeal to the superior court for the county in which the land is situated, by commencing a civil action within twenty days after the decision has been filed in the office of the city or town clerk or with the clerk of the district court hearing such matter. Written notice of such appeal together with a copy of the complaint shall be given to such city or town clerk within said twenty day appeal period. There shall be attached to the complaint a copy of the decision appealed from, bearing the date of the filing thereof, certified by the city or town clerk with whom the decision was filed.

Where the action is commenced by someone other than the original applicant, appellant or petitioner, such original applicant, appellant or petitioner and all the members of the board of appeals shall be named as parties defendant. To avoid delay in the proceedings the plaintiff shall cause each of the defendants to be served with process within fourteen days after the filing of the complaint, and shall, within twenty-one days after the commencement of the action, file with the clerk of the court an affidavit that such service has been made. If no such affidavit is filed within such time the action shall be dismissed. No answer shall be required but an answer may be filed. Other interested persons may be permitted to intervene, upon motion. The court shall hear all evidence pertinent to the authority of the board and determine the facts, and, upon the facts as so determined, annul such decision if found to exceed the authority of such board, or make such other judgment as justice and equity may require. The foregoing remedy shall be exclusive, but the parties shall have all rights of appeal as in other cases.

A city or town may provide any municipal officer or board with legal counsel for appealing, as provided in this section, a decision of a board of appeals and for taking such other subsequent action as parties in other cases are permitted to take.

Costs shall not be allowed against the board unless it shall appear to the court that the board in making the decision appealed from acted with gross negligence, in bad faith or with malice.

Costs shall not be allowed against the party appealing from the decision of the board unless it shall appear to the court that said appellant or appellants acted in bad faith or with malice in making the appeal to the court.

All issues in any proceeding under this section shall have precedence over all other civil actions and proceedings.

SECTION 5. Chapter 58A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 13, as most recently amended by chapter 692 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 13. The board shall make a decision in each case heard by it and may make findings of fact and report thereon in writing; provided, that every decision granting an abatement without findings of fact and report which relates to a tax on land with one or more buildings thereon shall, if so requested by the appellee in writing at the commencement of the hearing, state separately the value of the land and of each building. Except in cases heard under the informal procedure authorized by section seven A, the board shall make such findings and report thereon if so requested by either party within ten days of a decision without findings of fact. Such report may, in the discretion of the board, contain an opinion in writing, in addition to the findings of fact and decision. If no party requests such findings and report, all parties shall be deemed, to have waived all rights of appeal to the supreme judicial court upon questions as to the admission or exclusion of evidence, or as to whether a finding was warranted by the evidence. All reports, findings and opinions of the board and all evidence received by the board, including a transcript of any official report of the proceedings, shall be open to the inspection of the public; except that the originals of books, documents, records, models, diagrams and other exhibits introduced in evidence before the board may be withdrawn from the custody of the board in such manner and upon such terms as the board may in its discretion prescribe. The decision of the board shall be final as to findings of fact. From any decision of the board upon an appeal from a decision or determination of the commission, or of a board of assessors, except decisions of the board under sections twenty-five and twenty-six of chapter sixty-five, an appeal as to matters of law may be taken to the supreme judicial court by either party to the proceedings before the board who has not waived such right of appeal. A claim of appeal shall be filed with the clerk of the board in accordance with the Massachusetts Rules of Appellate Procedure which rules shall govern such appeal. The court shall not consider any issue of law which does not appear to have been raised in the proceedings before the board. If the judgment grants an abatement of a tax assessed by the commissioner or by the board of assessors of a town and the tax has been paid, the amount abated with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the time when the tax was paid but, in case of a tax assessed under chapter sixty-two, not from a time earlier than October first of the year in which the return of income subject to said tax was required to be filed, and, if costs are ordered against the commission or against a board of assessors, the amount thereof, shall be paid to the taxpayer by the state treasurer or by the town treasurer, as the case may be, and, if unpaid in the latter case, execution therefor may issue against the town as in actions at law.

If costs are ordered against a taxpayer execution shall issue therefor. The appeal to the supreme judicial court under this section shall be the exclusive method of reviewing any action of the board, except action under sections twenty-five and twenty-six of chapter sixty-five. For want of prosecution of an appeal in accordance with the provisions of this section the board, or, if the appeal has been entered in the supreme judicial court, a justice of that court, may dismiss the appeal. Upon dismissal of an appeal the decision of the board shall thereupon have full force and effect.

SECTION 6. Section 3G of chapter 90 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 590 of the acts of 1945, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph: —

In a civil action against a non-resident for damage to property or for death of or bodily injury to any person resulting from an accident in this commonwealth alleged to have been caused by a motor vehicle owned or operated by such non-resident, the plaintiff may apply by motion in writing filed in court for an order to show cause why the defendant should not be required to furnish forthwith such security in such amount as the court shall find reasonable under the circumstances, after summary hearing, to satisfy any final judgment that may be recovered in such action, not later than sixty days after the entry of such judgment, to the amount or limit of not more than five thousand dollars on account of injury to or death of any one person, and, subject to such limits as respects injury to or death of one person, of not more than ten thousand dollars on account of any one accident resulting in injury to or death of more than one person, or of not more than one thousand dollars for damage to property. If said motion is filed in an action pending in the district court before the return day of the writ, the writ shall be entered with the motion, and the court shall issue an order of notice to the defendant, to be served in like manner as any process against such non-residents, which shall be returnable within a reasonable time, and, if service of the writ has not been made upon the defendant or upon the registrar under section three A, the court shall issue a further order of notice for such service. If said motion is filed in an action pending in the superior court, it shall be served in accordance with the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure. The court shall accept as sufficient security, except for damages to property, a certificate as defined in section thirty-four A, or other satisfactory proof that the liability, if any, for damages resulting from such accident is insured or secured, to the amounts or limits herein set forth, by an insurance company authorized to do business in this commonwealth.

SECTION 7. Section 187 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 3, the words "thirty-four and thirty-five" and inserting in place thereof the words: — eleven and twelve.

SECTION 8. Chapter 139 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 2, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 649 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 2. A person aggrieved by such order may appeal to the superior court for the county where such building or other structure is situated, if, within three days after the service of such attested copy upon him, he commences a civil action in such court. Trial by jury shall be had as in other civil causes. The jury may affirm, annul or alter such order, and the court shall render judgment in conformity with said verdict, which shall take effect as an original order. If the order is affirmed, the plaintiff shall pay the costs; if it is annulled, he shall recover from the town his damages, if any, and costs; and if it is altered, the court may render such judgment as to costs as justice shall require. All proceedings hereunder authorized by section ten of chapter one hundred and forty-three, after issue is joined therein, shall be in order for trial and shall have precedence over any case of a different nature pending in said court and then in order for trial.

Section 9. Section 6 of said chapter 139, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 4, the words "maintain a bill in equity" and inserting in place thereof the words: — bring a civil action.

Section 10. Said chapter 139 is hereby further amended by striking out section 7, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 7. The complaint shall join the owner of record of the premises as a party defendant and shall be filed in the superior court for the county where the nuisance is believed to exist, and shall be verified by oath of the plaintiff unless filed by the attorney general or a district attorney. Such proceeding shall have precedence over all other matters upon the docket except criminal proceedings, election contests and hearings upon actions for other injunctions.

Section 11. Said chapter 139 is hereby further amended by striking out section 12, as appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 12. No action commenced under section six shall be dismissed, except upon a sworn statement made and filed by the plaintiff and by his attorney setting forth the reasons for dismissal thereof and upon approval of such dismissal by the court in open court. If the court is of opinion that the action ought not to be dismissed he may direct the district attorney to prosecute the case to judgment. If the action was brought by a citizen and the court finds that there was no reasonable ground therefor, costs may be awarded against the plaintiff.

Section 12. Said chapter 139 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16A, as amended by section 12 of chapter 328 of the acts of 1934, and inserting in place thereof the following section: — district, or the chief of police, or the board or officer having control of the police of the state, or of a town or city, or by not less than ten legal voters of a town or city, in their own names, stating that a building, place or tenement situated therein is being used for the illegal keeping, sale or manufacture of alcoholic beverages, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight, the superior court may abate the same as a common nuisance and may enjoin the person conducting or maintaining the same, and the owner, lessee or agent of the building, place or tenement in or upon which said nuisance exists, and their grantees or assignees, from directly or indirectly maintaining or permitting such nuisance, and, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, may order the effectual closing of such building, place or tenement, and the prohibition of its use for any purpose for one year thereafter. Proceedings under this section shall be in the manner provided in sections seven to twelve, inclusive, except that the provisions of section nine regulating the closing of a building, place or tenement and the prohibition of its use for any purpose for one year because of the maintenance of such a nuisance shall not apply, and in lieu thereof the court may include in its judgment an order for such closing and prohibition, if it appears that prior thereto and within the preceding three years there shall have been three convictions for the illegal sale, or keeping, or manufacture of alcoholic beverages, as so defined, in or upon the premises on which such building, place or tenement is situated, or three judgments for a permanent injunction enjoining the maintenance of such a nuisance. A judgment for a permanent injunction or abatement shall include an order that a copy thereof shall be posted in a conspicuous place on the building, place or tenement affected thereby, on or near one or more of its principal entrances and that the removal, defacement, erasure or mutilation of a copy so posted shall be contempt of court. In addition to such posting, a copy of the judgment shall be delivered in hand to the person in charge of such building, place or tenement if he may be found upon the premises or to anyone residing therein, and if the judgment includes an order for the effectual closing of said building, place or tenement and the prohibition of its use for any purpose for one year, a copy shall be filed forthwith for record in the registry of deeds for the county and registry district within which such building, place or tenement is situated. The provisions of section thirteen shall apply to all persons found in or upon premises used for the illegal sale, or keeping, or manufacture of alcoholic beverages, as so defined.

SECTION 13. The first sentence of section 20C of chapter 149 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first five lines, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 452 of the acts of 1950, and inserting in place thereof the following lines: — For the purposes of this and the preceding section, section twenty-four of chapter one hundred and forty-nine, sections one and six of chapter two hundred and fourteen, and sections thirteen A and thirteen B of chapter two hundred and twenty, —.

SECTION 14. Subsection (e) of said section 20C of said chapter 149, as appearing in section 2 of said chapter 452, is hereby amended by striking out clause (5) and inserting in place thereof the following clause: —

(5) Made by any party to a jurisdictional dispute as defined in section six A of chapter two hundred and fourteen who has failed to abide by any voluntary arbitration procedure applicable to such dispute or to comply with the terms of the arbitration award.

SECTION 15. Section 6 of chapter 150A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out subsections (e) and (f), as amended by sections 10 and 11 of chapter 681 of the acts of 1954, and inserting in place thereof the following two subsections: —

(e) The commission shall have power to bring a civil action in the superior court in any county wherein the unfair labor practice in question occurred or wherein such person resides or transacts business, for the enforcement of such order and for appropriate temporary relief or restraining order. The commission shall file with the complaint a certified transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including the pleadings and testimony upon which such order was entered and the findings and order of the commission. In the trial of such action no objection that has not been urged before the commission, its member, agent or agency, shall be considered by the court, unless the failure or neglect to urge such objection shall be excused because of extraordinary circumstances. The order or decision of the commission shall be reviewed in accordance with the standards for review provided in paragraph (7) of section fourteen of chapter thirty A. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the hearing before the commission, its member, agent or agency, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the commission, its member, agent or agency, and to be made a part of the transcript. The commission may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of additional evidence so taken and filed, and it shall file such modified or new findings, and shall file its recommendations, if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order. The jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and its judgment shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review by the supreme judicial court for the commonwealth.

(f) Any person aggrieved by a final order of the commission granting or denying in whole or in part the relief sought may obtain a review of such order in the superior court for the county wherein the unfair labor practice in question was alleged to have been engaged in, or wherein such person resides or transacts business, by bringing a civil action in such court to have the order of the commission modified or set aside. Such action shall be filed in said court within thirty days after receipt of notice of said final order or, if a petition for rehearing has been timely filed with the commission, within thirty days after receipt of notice of a denial by the commission of such petition for rehearing. The court may for good cause shown extend the time for filing the action upon application made within the thirty day period or any extension thereof. The plaintiff shall file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, certified by the commission, including the pleading and testimony upon which the order complained of was entered and the findings and order of the commission. Upon such filing, the court shall proceed in the same manner as in the case of an application by the commission under subsection (e) of this section, and shall have the same exclusive jurisdiction to grant to the commission such temporary relief or restraining order as the court deems just and proper, and in like manner to make and enter a judgment enforcing, modifying, and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the commission.

When making and entering a judgment or order enforcing, modifying and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part an order of the commission or remanding the cause for further proceedings before the commission, the court shall state, in the usual form of an opinion issued by an appellate court, its reasons for making and entering such judgment or order.

The petition for review need not be verified but shall state the grounds upon which such review is sought. The director shall be deemed to be a party to any such proceeding. It shall not be necessary as a condition precedent to the judicial review of any decision of the board of review to enter exceptions to the rulings of such board. Upon the filing of a petition for review by an aggrieved party other than the director, the clerk of the district court within seven days thereafter shall issue an order of notice. Said order of notice and a copy of the petition shall be served by the petitioner upon the director by registered mail within seven days of the date of the order, fourteen days at least before the return day, and shall be returnable at the election of the petitioner at any return day which occurs after the expiration of twenty-eight days from and within sixty days after the date of the filing of the petition. With his answer or petition the director shall file with the court a certified copy of the decision of the board of review, including all documents and papers and a transcript of all testimony taken at the hearing before said board. Upon the filing of a petition for review by the director or upon the service of a petition on him, the director shall forthwith send by registered mail to each other party to the proceeding a copy of such notice and petition, and such mailing shall be deemed to be completed service upon all such parties. The findings and decisions of the board shall be reviewed in accordance with the standards for review provided in paragraph (7) of section fourteen of chapter thirty A. Any proceeding under this section shall be heard in a summary manner and shall be given precedence over all other civil cases. An appeal may be taken from the decision of the single justice of the district court directly to the supreme judicial court. Claim of appeal shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court within thirty days after notice of such decision. If an appeal is claimed the appellant shall within five days of the filing of the claim of appeal file a draft report in conformity to the pertinent provisions of the rules hereinafter referred to. The chief justice of the municipal court of the city of Boston and the appellate divisions of the district courts, acting jointly, shall by rule provide for the form of such reports and shall make provision for the establishment of reports where the claim of report has been disallowed by the single justice or he has failed to make a report. The appeal shall not remove the proceeding, but only the question or questions to be determined. The completion of such appeal shall be in accor-

If the housing court finds that the party entering the action or obtaining the restraining order or preliminary injunction is destitute and unable to pay, it may order the payment of the fee or fees prescribed by this paragraph to be waived.

Notwithstanding that a proceeding under this chapter is commenced by complaint, if the housing court finds that the offense charged was not wilful, intentional, reckless or repeated, the proceeding shall not be deemed criminal and no record of the case shall be entered in the probation records.

In the trial of any complaint or action in the housing court, the report of any inspector serving in the housing inspection department of the city shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

The housing court may give directions as to the manner of keeping such deposit.

The completion of an appeal hereunder shall be governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Appellate Procedure. When the appeal has been entered in accordance with said Rules, all proceedings under such judgment shall be stayed, and the cause shall thereupon be pending before the appellate court, which shall hear and determine the same, and affirm, reverse or modify the judgment appealed from. Upon the reversal of a judgment, the appellate court may remand the cause to the housing court with necessary and proper directions for further proceeding therein.

When an appeal has been taken, the housing court before the entry of the appeal in the appeals court or, subject to the provisions of section ten of chapter two hundred and eleven A, the supreme judicial court may in its discretion stay, pending the appeal, all temporary orders, judgments, injunctions or other orders of the housing court, and may make such orders for the appointment of a Section 29. If upon making an interlocutory order the judge is of the opinion that it so affects the merits of the controversy that the matter ought, before further proceedings, to be determined by the appeals court, he may report the question for that purpose, and stay all further proceedings except those necessary to preserve the rights of the parties.

(1) Actions to compel the redelivery of goods or chattels taken or detained from the owner.

(2) Actions for contribution by or between devisees, legatees or heirs liable for the debts of a deceased testator or intestate, and by or between other persons respectively liable for the same debt or demand, if there are two or more such persons liable at the same time to make such contribution.

(3) Actions between joint owners of personal property, and their legal representatives, relative to such property, with authority to determine their respective rights and interests therein, to order a division or sale thereof and make and order a proper distribution of the proceeds of a sale, and to do all other things relative to a determination of the ownership, division and distribution of such property or the proceeds thereof.

(4) Actions between joint trustees, co-executors and co-administrators, and their legal representatives.

(5) Actions upon accounts of such a nature that they cannot be conveniently and properly adjusted and settled in an action in the district court.

(6) Actions by creditors to reach and apply, in payment of a debt, any property, right, title or interest, legal or equitable, of a debtor, within or without the commonwealth, which cannot be reached to be attached or taken on execution although the property sought to be reached and applied is in the possession or control of the debtor independently of any other person or cannot be reached and applied until a future time or is of uncertain value, if the value can be ascertained by sale, appraisal or by any means within the ordinary procedure of the court. In such action, the interest of the defendant in partnership property may be reached and applied in payment of the plaintiff's debt; but unless it is a judgment debt, the business of the partnership shall not be enjoined or otherwise interrupted further than to restrain the withdrawal of any portion of the debtor's share or interest therein until the plaintiff's debt is established, and if either partner gives to the plaintiff a sufficient bond with sureties approved by the clerk, conditioned to pay to the plaintiff the amount of his debt and costs within thirty days after it is established, the court shall proceed no further therein than to establish the debt; and upon the filing of such bond, any injunction previously issued in such action shall be dissolved.

(7) Actions to reach and apply shares or interests in corporations organized under the laws of the commonwealth or of the United States, and located or having a general office in the commonwealth, whether the plaintiff is a creditor or not, and whether the action is founded upon a debt or not.

(8) Actions to reach and apply in payment of a debt any property, right, title or interest, real or personal, of a debtor, liable to be attached or taken on execution in a civil action against him and fraudulently conveyed by him with intent to defeat, delay or defraud his creditors, or purchased, or directly or indirectly paid for, by him, the record or other title to which is retained in the vendor or is conveyed to a third person with intent to defeat, delay or defraud the creditors of the debtor.

(9) Actions to reach and apply the obligation of an insurance company to a judgment debtor under a motor vehicle liability policy, as defined in section thirty-four A of chapter ninety, or under any other policy insuring a judgment debtor against liability for loss or damage on account of bodily injury or death or for loss or damage resulting therefrom, or on account of damage to property, in satisfaction of a judgment covered by such policy, which has not been satisfied within thirty days after the date when it was rendered.

(10) Actions to enforce the purpose or purposes of any gift or conveyance which has been or shall have been made to and accepted by any county, city, town or other subdivision of the commonwealth for a specific purpose or purposes in trust or otherwise, or the terms of such trust, or, if it shall have become impracticable to observe or carry out such purpose or purposes, or such terms, or, if the occasion therefor shall have terminated, to determine the purposes or uses to which the property involved shall be devoted and enforce the same. Such action shall be commenced only by the attorney general or, with leave of court, by ten taxpayers of such county, city, town or other subdivision. The defendant in any such action may set up such impracticability or termination and request the judgment of the court as to such other use of said property in its answer. In the case of an action by ten taxpayers as aforesaid, the attorney general shall be served with notice of the preliminary petition for leave, and may intervene as a party at any stage of the proceedings; and the plaintiffs shall be liable for costs, including reasonable counsel fees in the discretion of the court, which may, also in its discretion, award to the plaintiffs costs, including reasonable counsel fees, to be paid by the defendant or out of the fund involved, if any.

(11) Actions to determine the purposes or uses to which the property, whether held in trust or otherwise, of any church or religious society which shall have failed for two consecutive years next prior to the commencement of the action to hold religious services or shall have failed for such period to hold a meeting for the election of officers or shall otherwise have become inactive, or of any auxiliary organization affiliated with such a church or religious society, shall be applied, and to enforce the application thereof in accordance with such determination. Such action may be commenced by the governing body of the religious denomination having jurisdiction over such church or religious society according to the usages of the denomination to which such church or religious society belongs, or by the state organization of such denomination, if there is any, otherwise the national organization thereof; and in any action so commenced the attorney general shall be joined as a defendant.

Section 3A. Any person whose name, portrait or picture is used within the commonwealth for advertising purposes or for the purposes of trade without his written consent may bring a civil action in the superior court against the person so using his name, portrait or picture, to prevent and restrain the use thereof; and may recover damages for any injuries sustained by reason of such use. If the defendant shall have knowingly used such person's name, portrait or picture in such manner as is prohibited or unlawful, the court, in its discretion, may award the plaintiff treble the amount of the damages sustained by him. Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent any person practicing the profession of photography from exhibiting in or about his or its establishment specimens of the work of such person or establishment, unless the exhibiting of any such specimen is continued after written notice objecting thereto has been given by the person portrayed; and nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent any person from using the name, portrait or picture of any manufacturer or dealer in connection with the goods, wares and merchandise manufactured, produced or dealt in by such manufacturer or dealer which such person has sold or disposed of with such name, portrait or picture used in connection therewith; or from using the name, portrait or picture of any author, composer or artist in connection with any literary, musical or artistic production of such author, composer or artist which such person has sold or disposed of with such name, portrait or picture used in connection therewith.

Section 4. Each court may, if necessary to secure justice and equity, issue to courts of inferior jurisdiction, corporations and persons all general and special writs and processes required in a civil action.

Section 5. Civil actions in which equitable relief is sought may be brought in any county in which a transitory action between the same parties might be brought, as well as in counties in which it is elsewhere provided that such actions may be brought.

Section 6. (1) No court shall have jurisdiction to issue a preliminary or permanent injunction in any case involving or growing out of a labor dispute, as defined in section twenty C of chapter one hundred and forty-nine, except after hearing the testimony of witnesses in open court, with opportunity for cross-examination, in support of the allegations of a complaint made under oath, and testimony in opposition thereto, if offered, and except after findings of fact by the court, to the effect: —

(a) That unlawful acts have been threatened and will be committed unless restrained or have been committed and will be continued unless restrained, but no injunction or temporary restraining order shall be issued on account of any threat or unlawful act excepting against the person or persons, association or organization making the threat or committing the unlawful act or actually authorizing or ratifying the same after actual knowledge thereof;

(b) That substantial and irreparable injury to the plaintiff's property will follow;

(c) That as to each item of relief granted greater injury will be inflicted upon the plaintiff by the denial of relief than will be inflicted upon the defendants by the granting of relief;

(d) That the plaintiff has no adequate remedy at law; and

(e) That the public officers charged with the duty to protect the plaintiff's property are unable or unwilling to furnish adequate protection.

(2) Such hearing shall be held after due and personal notice thereof has been given, in such manner as the court shall direct, to all known persons against whom relief is sought, and also to the chief of those public officials of the city or town within which the unlawful acts have been threatened or committed charged with the duty to protect the plaintiff's property; provided, however, that if a complaint shall also allege that, unless a temporary restraining order shall be issued without notice, a substantial and irreparable injury to the plaintiff's property will be unavoidable, such a temporary restraining order may be issued upon testimony under oath, sufficient, if sustained, to justify the court in issuing a preliminary injunction upon a hearing after notice, and a statement of the grounds justifying the issuance of such order shall be made a matter of record by the court; provided, further, that no such temporary restraining order shall be issued except upon its also being made to appear to the satisfaction of the court, either from the testimony of witnesses or from written assurance filed by counsel in regard to his personal conduct: —

(A) That a principal representative or attorney of the employees or labor organizations participating in such dispute was informed of the time and place at which the application for a temporary restraining order would be presented sufficiently in advance to appear in opposition thereto; or

(B) That the plaintiff made every reasonable effort to comply with clause (A) but was unable so to do; provided, however, that notification by mail alone shall not be deemed compliance with this section without proof of receipt.

Such testimony or written assurances shall set forth in detail the manner in which the plaintiff complied with clause (A) or (B) and shall be made part of the record in the case. If the defendants appear in opposition to the application for a temporary restraining order they shall be afforded an opportunity to cross-examine the plaintiff's witnesses at such length as is reasonable under the circumstances and a like opportunity to introduce evidence in opposition thereto. Such a temporary restraining order shall be effective for no longer than five days and shall become void at the expiration of said five days and shall not be subject to renewal. No temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction shall be issued except on condition that the plaintiff shall first file an undertaking with adequate security in an amount to be fixed by the court sufficient in its opinion to recompense those enjoined for any loss, expense or damage caused by the improvident or erroneous issuance of such order of injunction, including all reasonable costs, together with a reasonable attorney's fee, and expense of defense against the order or against the granting of any injunctive relief sought in the same proceeding and subsequently denied by the court.

(3) The undertaking herein mentioned shall be understood to signify an agreement entered into by the plaintiff and the surety upon which a judgment may be rendered in the same action or proceeding against said plaintiff and surety, upon a hearing to assess damages of which hearing the plaintiff and surety shall have reasonable notice, the said plaintiff and surety submitting themselves to the jurisdiction of the court for that purpose. But nothing herein contained shall deprive any party having a claim or cause of action under or upon such undertaking from electing to pursue his ordinary remedy by a separate civil action.

(4) No restraining order or injunctive relief shall be granted to any plaintiff who has failed to comply with any obligation imposed by law which is involved in the labor dispute in question, or who has failed to make every reasonable effort to settle such dispute either by negotiation or with the aid of any available governmental machinery of mediation or voluntary arbitration.

(5) No restraining order, other than a temporary restraining order issued without notice as provided in subdivision (2) of this section, and no preliminary or permanent injunction shall be granted in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute, except on the basis of findings of fact made and filed by the court in the record of the case prior to the issuance of such restraining order or injunction; and every restraining order or injunction granted in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute shall include only a prohibition of such specific act or acts as may be expressly complained of in the complaint filed in such case and as shall be expressly included in said statement of grounds or findings of fact made and filed by the court as provided herein.

(6) Whenever the court shall issue or deny a preliminary injunction in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute, the court, upon the request of any party to the proceeding, shall forthwith report any questions of law involved in such issue or denial to the supreme judicial court and stay further proceedings except those necessary to preserve the rights of the parties. Upon the filing of such report, the questions reported shall be heard in a summary manner by a justice of the supreme judicial court, who shall with the greatest possible expedition affirm, reverse or modify the order of the superior court. The decision of such justice of the supreme judicial court upon the questions so raised shall be final, but without prejudice to the raising of the same questions before the full court upon appeal from the final judgment.

(7) No permanent injunction which may be issued under this section shall be effective for a period exceeding one year from the date of its issuance; provided, however, that after a new hearing and findings of fact as provided in clauses (a) to (e), inclusive, of subsection (1) and subject to the provisions of subsections (2) to (5), inclusive, it may be renewed.

Section 6A. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of section six so far as they may be applicable, a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction may be granted in any case in which the parties to a jurisdictional dispute, as hereinafter defined, have voluntarily submitted such dispute to arbitration, and one of such parties fails to abide by the arbitration procedure or to comply with the terms of the arbitration award and engages in or continues to engage in a strike, picketing, boycott or other concerted interference against an employer. The restraining order or preliminary injunction may be granted in favor of the party which abides by the procedure and complies with the award as well as in favor of the employer who is ready and willing to abide by the terms of such award.

The term "jurisdictional dispute" means a dispute between two or more labor organizations or groups or employees the object of which is to require that particular work be assigned to employees in a particular labor organization or in a particular trade, craft or class rather than to employees in another labor organization or in another trade, craft or class.

Section 7. In actions for the construction of wills, or for instructions relative to wills the court may order notice of the action and of the time and place for hearing to be served on such number of the parties in interest representing all possible interests as the court shall direct, and to be published for three weeks successively in such newspaper as it directs. If it appears that any possible interest is not represented, further service may be ordered until all possible interests are represented before the court or until a guardian ad litem has been appointed. If all possible interests are represented by persons before the court, it shall be unnecessary to make other persons having similar interests parties defendant.

Section 7A. As used in this section, "damage to the environment" shall mean any destruction, damage or impairment, actual or probable, to any of the natural resources of the commonwealth, whether caused by the defendant alone or by the defendant and others acting jointly or severally. Damage to the environment shall include, but not be limited to, air pollution, water pollution, improper sewage disposal, pesticide pollution, excessive noise, improper operation of dumping grounds, impairment and eutrophication of rivers, streams, flood plains, lakes, ponds or other water resources, destruction of seashores, dunes, wetlands, open spaces, natural areas, parks or historic districts or sites. Damage to the environment shall not include any insignificant destruction, damage or impairment to such natural resources.

As used in this section "person" shall mean any individual, association, partnership, corporation, company, business organization, trust, estate, the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, any administrative agency, public or quasi-public corporation or body, or any other legal entity or its legal representatives, agents or assigns.

The superior court for the county in which damage to the environment is occurring or is about to occur may, upon a civil action in which equitable or declaratory relief is sought in which not less than ten persons domiciled within the commonwealth are joined as plaintiffs, or upon such an action by any political subdivision of the commonwealth, determine whether such damage is occurring or is about to occur and may, before the final determination of the action, restrain the person causing or about to cause such damage; provided, however, that the damage caused or about to be caused by such person constitutes a violation of a statute, ordinance, by-law or regulation the major purpose of which is to prevent or minimize damage to the environment.

No such action shall be taken unless the plaintiffs at least twenty-one days prior to the commencement of such action direct a written notice of such violation or imminent violation by certified mail, to the agency responsible for enforcing said statute, ordinance, by-law or regulation, to the attorney general, and to the person violating or about to violate the same; provided, however, that if the plaintiffs can show that irreparable damage will result unless immediate action is taken the court may waive the foregoing requirement of notice and issue a temporary restraining order forthwith.

It shall be a defense to any action taken pursuant to this section that the defendant is subject to, and in compliance in good faith with, a judicially enforceable administrative pollution abatement schedule or implementation plan the purpose of which is alleviation of damage to the environment complained of, unless the plaintiffs demonstrate that a danger to the public health and safety justifies the court in retaining jurisdiction.

Any action brought pursuant to the authorization contained in this section shall be advanced for speedy trial and shall not be compromised without prior approval of the court.

If there is a finding by the court in favor of the plaintiffs it may assess their costs, including reasonable fees of expert witnesses but not attorney's fees; provided, however, that no such finding shall include damages.

The court may require the plaintiffs to post a surety or cash bond in a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars to secure the payment of any costs which may be assessed against the plaintiffs in the event they do not prevail.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed so as to impair, derogate or diminish any common law or statutory right or remedy which may be available to any person, but the cause of action herein authorized shall be in addition to any such right or remedy.

Section 8. Civil actions in which equitable relief is sought and motions and other applications therein, whether interlocutory or final, shall in the first instance be heard and determined by one justice of the court.

Section 9. All acts and proceedings in civil actions other than trials upon the merits, wherever they may be conducted, shall be considered as taking place in court and not in chambers.

Section 10. A justice of either court or the full court may, if necessary, hear and determine cases pending in a county other than that in which such justice or court is sitting, or any motion therein; but a motion shall not be so heard nor an order so made until reasonable notice thereof has been given to the adverse party or his counsel; and either party may transmit his reasons in writing for or against the application to the court or justice, who shall examine the same and proceed thereon as if the parties were present. All orders made on such hearings shall be transmitted to the clerk in the proper county, and be entered by him.

Section 11. The supreme judicial court, upon request of a party to a civil action in which equitable relief is sought, may frame issues of fact to be tried by a jury and order the same to be tried in that court or in the superior court in the county in which such cause is pending, or upon the request of all parties in any other county.

Section 12. If there is no regular sitting of the supreme judicial court within three months after the framing of such issues, a justice thereof may order the clerk of the courts for the county in which the cause is pending to summon a jury to try such issues, and the proceedings at such trial shall be in all respects the same as in a trial at a regular sitting.

Section 13. The superior court, upon request of a party to a civil action in which equitable relief is sought pending therein, may frame issues of fact to be tried by a jury and order them to be tried in the county in which such cause is pending.

Section 14. A justice of the supreme judicial court and a justice of the superior court shall, at all convenient times, sit in Boston to hear and determine civil actions in which equitable relief is sought and motions therein arising in any county.

Section 15. A justice of either court shall not dissolve an injunction issued by the other court, or by a justice thereof, or interpose in any action in which equitable relief is sought pending before the other court, except as provided in sections one hundred and fifteen, one hundred and seventeen, and one hundred and eighteen of chapter two hundred and thirty-one.

Section 16. The courts may issue writs of seisin and execution in common form if such process is appropriate for the enforcement of a judgment granting or denying equitable relief.

Section 17. Where a bond is required of a receiver appointed by either court the provisions of section seven of chapter two hundred and three shall apply.

Section 18. The original papers in a civil action pending in either court may be taken from the files in any county by counsel of record of either party, for use before the court, upon leaving a memorandum and receipt on such files, containing a short description of the papers so taken.

SECTION 63. Chapter 215 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 6, as most recently amended by section 24 of chapter 888 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 6. Probate courts shall have original and concurrent jurisdiction with the supreme judicial and superior courts of all cases and matters of equity cognizable under the general principles of equity jurisprudence and, with reference thereto, shall be courts of general equity jurisdiction, except that the superior court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all actions in which injunctive relief is sought in any matter growing out of a labor dispute as defined in section twenty C of chapter one hundred and forty-nine; provided, however, that in proceedings of which probate courts have jurisdiction by reason of the provisions of this paragraph a plaintiff, defendant, or intervener may, within seven days after proper service has been made upon all parties, remove the case to the superior court. The removing party shall first pay the register of probate an entry fee equal to that for an original entry in the superior court and shall file with the register a notice of removal and an affidavit setting forth the names and addresses of all other parties to the action and of their attorneys. The register shall forthwith transmit all papers in the case and said entry fee to the clerk of the superior court for the county in which the action was originally commenced, and shall notify in writing all parties and their attorneys of the transfer. Thereafter the case shall proceed as if originally commenced in the superior court except that any temporary orders or preliminary injunctions issued by the probate court shall remain in full force and effect until further order of the superior court.

Probate courts shall also have jurisdiction concurrent with the supreme judicial and superior courts, of all cases and matters in which equitable relief is sought relative to the administration of the estates of deceased persons, to wills, including questions arising under section twenty of chapter one hundred and ninety-one, to trusts created by will or other written instrument and, in cases involving in any way the estate of a deceased person or the property of an absentee whereof a receiver has been appointed under chapter two hundred or the property of a person under guardianship or conservatorship, to trusts created by parole or constructive or resulting trusts, of all matters relative to guardianship or conservatorship, of actions such as one described in clause (11) of section three of chapter two hundred and fourteen and of all other matters of which they now have or may hereafter be given jurisdiction. They shall also have jurisdiction to grant equitable relief to enforce foreign judgments for support of a wife or of a wife and minor children against a husband who is a resident or inhabitant of this commonwealth, upon an action by the wife commenced in the county of which the husband is a resident or inhabitant. They shall, after the divorce decree has become absolute, also have concurrent jurisdiction to grant equitable relief in controversies over property between persons who have been divorced. They shall also have jurisdiction of an action by an administrator, executor, guardian, conservator, receiver appointed as aforesaid or trustee under a will to enjoin for a reasonable period of time the foreclosure, otherwise than by open and peaceable entry, of a mortgage on real estate, or the foreclosure of a mortgage on personal property, which real estate or personal property is included in the estate or trust being administered by such fiduciary, if in the opinion of the court the proper administration of the estate or trust would be hindered by such foreclosure. They shall also have jurisdiction, concurrent with the superior court, of proceedings in which equitable relief is sought under sections seven to twelve, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and seventeen and section twenty-six of chapter one hundred and twenty-three.

Notwithstanding any contrary or inconsistent provisions of the General Laws, procedure in cases in the probate court within the jurisdiction granted by this section shall be governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure.

SECTION 64. Said chapter 215 is hereby further amended by striking out section 6A, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 6A. In any proceeding before a probate court, an attachment may be made by injunction to reach shares of stock or other property which cannot be reached to be attached in a civil action in which money damages are sought, and the property so attached shall thereafter be subject to such order as justice and equity may require; and in relation to such probate proceedings said court shall have all the powers which the supreme judicial and superior courts have in relation to actions to reach and apply.

Said compensation and expenses shall be paid by the county if the auditors are appointed by the probate court. Section 62A. If an auditor appointed by the probate court becomes incapacitated or dies without having filed his final report, the court may award him or his estate reasonable compensation, payable by the county, upon a finding that he actually performed services which would entitle him to the compensation awarded had he filed a report as provided in section sixty-two; provided, that all his records and memoranda, or copies thereof, in the case in which compensation is sought, are filed with the register of the court.

If real property of the defendant is attached in any action and no service is made upon him, the attachment shall be dissolved unless it appears of record that notice of such action has been given to him, in such manner as the court orders, within sixty days after the commencement of the action, or within such further time as the court may allow.

Section 120. A defendant whose property has been attached in a civil action may at any time before final judgment, dissolve the attachment by giving a bond with sufficient sureties, who shall be approved by the plaintiff or by his attorney in writing, by a master in chancery, or by a justice of a court if the attachment is made within the jurisdiction of such justice, conditioned to pay the plaintiff, within thirty days after the final judgment of a district court or within thirty days from the expiration of the time to appeal a final judgment of the superior or supreme judicial court or the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden, or within thirty days of the entry of an order in the supreme judicial court or appeals court affirming such final judgment of the superior or supreme judicial court or the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden, such amount, if any, as he may recover; and also to pay to the plaintiff, within thirty days from the expiration of the time to appeal a special judgment entered in accordance with the provisions of chapter two hundred and thirty-five, the amount, if any, for which such special judgment shall be entered. Sureties shall not be sufficient unless they are satisfactory to the plaintiff or unless the magistrate finds that each, if there are only two, is worth, in excess of his indebtedness, an amount equal to that for which the attachment is laid; or, if there are more than two, that they are together worth twice such amount.

Section 121. Before such bond is approved, the defendant, or a person in his behalf, shall make application in writing to the magistrate, specifying therein the names and residences of the proposed sureties and, except in case the proposed surety is a surety company qualified to do business in the commonwealth, therein setting forth the property with which each of said sureties proposes to qualify, and in case said property, as so set forth, be realty, then giving the name of the town where the same is located. Notice of the time and place of the hearing, containing a copy of the application to the magistrate, shall be given the plaintiff or his attorney as provided in sections twenty-six to twenty-nine, inclusive, of chapter two hundred and thirty-three or served upon the plaintiff in accordance with the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure; but the plaintiff or his attorney may in writing waive such notice or may approve the bond at any time.

SECTION 120. Said chapter 223 is hereby further amended by striking out section 125, as so appearing, and inserting in place

thereof the following section: —

Section 125. A defendant may, at any time before execution may issue on a final judgment, release from attachment the property attached, or such part thereof as he may elect, by giving bond to the plaintiff with sufficient sureties, who shall be approved by the plaintiff or by his attorney in writing, by a master in chancery, or by a justice of a court of record if the attachment is made within the jurisdiction of his court, conditioned to pay the plaintiff within thirty days after the entry of a final judgment in the district court or within thirty days after the expiration of the time of appeal from a final judgment of the superior or supreme judicial court or the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden or from a special judgment entered under chapter two hundred and thirty-five, or, if an appeal is claimed from said judgments, within thirty days of the entry of the order of the full court or appeals court, the amount fixed as the value of the property so released, or so much of said amount as may be necessary to satisfy the amount, if any, which the plaintiff may recover, and the property so released shall be described in such bond. The defendant, or a person in his behalf, may make written application to any magistrate who is authorized to approve the sureties upon said bond in the county where the property is situated, stating the names of the parties to the action, the name of the officer who made the attachment, the names and residences of the proposed sureties, and, except in case the proposed surety is a surety company qualified to do business in the commonwealth, setting forth the property with which each of said sureties proposes to qualify, and in case said property, as so set forth, be realty, then giving the name of the city or town where the same is located. The magistrate shall forthwith cause a copy of the application, with notice of the time and place for the hearing, to be served upon the plaintiff, if he resides in the county, otherwise upon the officer who made the attachment; but the plaintiff or his attorney may in writing waive such notice or may approve the bond or sureties at any time, or may agree that the amount of the bond is sufficient without approving the sureties, in which case the appraisal hereinafter provided for need not be made. The notice shall be served twenty-four hours, at least, before the time appointed therein for a hearing and as much earlier as the magistrate may order. At the time and place appointed, after hearing the parties, the magistrate shall appoint three disinterested persons to examine and appraise the attached property described in the application, who shall be sworn, shall appraise the property at its fair market value and shall make return of their doings in writing to the magistrate at a time and place fixed by him to which the hearing shall be adjourned. At such adjourned hearing the defendant may give bond to the plaintiff, with sureties, who shall be approved by the magistrate as herein provided. Upon the filing of such bond, as is required by the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three, the attachment upon the property described therein shall be dissolved. When successive attachments in favor of different plaintiffs are made upon personal property the defendant may release from the attachments the property attached, or such portion thereof as he may elect, by giving bond with sufficient sureties to be approved as hereinbefore provided. The sheriff of the county in which the first attachment was made shall be the obligee on the bond, which shall be deposited immediately after it is given with the clerk of the courts for the same county, except that in Suffolk county it shall be deposited with the clerk of the superior court for civil business. The bond shall be conditioned on the defendant's paying to such sheriff within the time fixed by this section for giving bond to release attached property from attachment, the amount fixed as the value of the property so released and the amount so paid shall be held by the sheriff, after deducting the necessary charges, subject to the attachments in the order in which they were made, and shall be disposed of in the same manner as the proceeds of attached personal property sold under section eighty-seven.

SECTION 121. Said chapter 223 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 127 and 128, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections: —

Section 127. If an attachment of real property is made under sections sixty-seven and sixty-eight, the person in whose name the record title of the property attached stands, or a person in his behalf, may, before final judgment, dissolve the attachment by giving bond to the plaintiff, with sufficient sureties, conditioned to pay him, if he establishes his title to the land in a civil action against the person having the record title thereto at the time of the attachment, the ascertained value of the land, or so much thereof as shall satisfy the amount, if any, which the plaintiff shall recover upon final judgment, or upon a special judgment under chapter two hundred and thirty-five, in the action in which such attachment was made. All proceedings required in the two preceding sections shall apply to the dissolution of an attachment under this section. In the trial of such action to establish title, the record of the attachment and of final or special judgment, as the case may be, in the action in which the attachment was made shall be conclusive evidence of a momentary seisin of the land in the plaintiff to enable him to maintain an action therefor upon his own seisin; but no such action to establish title shall be brought after the expiration of one year from the date of such final or special judgment. If the plaintiff recovers judgment on such action he shall not have an execution for possession, but may have an execution for costs.

Section 128. A defendant may dissolve an attachment by depositing with the attaching officer an amount of money equal at least to the amount of the ad damnum in the writ or complaint, which the officer shall hold in place of the property attached and which shall be subject to be disposed of in the same manner.

SECTION 122. Said chapter 223 is hereby further amended by striking out section 130, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 130. An attachment of property shall be dissolved by the appointment by any court of competent jurisdiction in the commonwealth of a receiver to take possession of such property if the complaint seeking the appointment of such receiver is filed in said court within four months after such attachment was made, unless the court at any time, in its discretion, continues such attachment. In such case the court may authorize the receiver to prosecute or defend the action upon which the attachment was made.

SECTION 123. Section eighteen of chapter two hundred and twenty-six of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

Section 1. A personal action shall not be maintained against a person not an inhabitant of the commonwealth unless he or his agent appointed under section five or five A has been served with process in the commonwealth, or unless service has been made upon him outside the commonwealth, as authorized by chapter two hundred and twenty-three A, or unless an effectual attachment of his property within the commonwealth has been made upon the original writ, and in case of such attachment without such service, the judgment shall be valid only to secure the application of the property so attached to the satisfaction of the judgment.

SECTION 125. Said chapter 227 is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 3. Section 11. If the execution in an action under this chapter, except as otherwise provided, is levied on land, no alienation thereof by the original plaintiff shall prevent the defendant from retaking the same or as much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the judgment which he recovers on a writ of review or other proceeding for relief from judgment, if such writ or proceeding is sued out or commenced within one year after the original judgment.

Section 12. If the original judgment was for seisin of the land demanded in a real action, the writ of seisin may be issued in favor of the plaintiff without his giving bond; and if the judgment is reversed in whole or in part upon a review or other proceeding, whether sued out or commenced within the year or afterward, the original defendant may have restitution of the land.

Section 13. An action of tort against several defendants, any one of whom is absent from the commonwealth at the time of the service of process, shall be conducted with regard to him relative to such executor or administrator to appear in that action and defend the same. The court shall grant such relief if it finds that justice and equity so require and that the plaintiff is not chargeable with excusable neglect.

If the executor or administrator does not voluntarily appear, the surviving party may take out a citation from the court requiring the executor or administrator to appear and take upon himself the prosecution or defense of the action.

Such citation shall be returnable at such time as the court may order and shall be served fourteen days at least before the return day; but it shall not issue after the expiration of one year from the time such executor or administrator has given bond unless in accordance with section five A.

To effectuate such order the supreme judicial or superior court may further order that any finding, order, judgment or other act therein entered or done, which otherwise would prevent the prosecution of the cause to determination on its merits, be vacated, and upon the filing therein of a copy of the judgment ordering the vacation thereof such finding, order, judgment or other act shall stand vacated, and it may make further orders, all so that said action may proceed to final determination on its merits as though such executor or administrator had been cited in within the time limited by the preceding section.

Section 5B. Whenever, upon the trial of a civil action in the supreme judicial or superior court seeking the relief authorized by section five A, it shall be made to appear to the court that the legal representative of the deceased person within nine months of his appointment failed to notify in writing the plaintiff of such death and failed within said nine months duly to suggest such death in such action, such facts may be sufficient ground for granting the relief authorized by said section five A.

Section 5C. Neither the relief authorized by section five A nor any comparable relief authorized by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure nor the final determination of the action in which the representative is substituted shall affect any payment or distribution not concerned with said action which was made before application was made for such relief pursuant to said section five A or pursuant to any applicable rule of the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure.

If the heir or devisee does not voluntarily appear, the court before whom the action is pending shall, upon the application of the plaintiff, summon such heir or devisee to appear and defend the action. If any of several defendants in such action dies before final judgment, the action may be prosecuted against the surviving defendants for so much of the land as they hold or claim.

Section 12. If a party to a suit in equity in the probate court dies and the cause by the rules of equity may be revived against or in favor of an executor, administrator, heir, devisee or other person, such representative may, in lieu of proceedings to revive the same, appear or be summoned to prosecute or defend in like manner as in a civil action.

If the defendant does not appear and show sufficient cause to the contrary, he shall be found guilty of waste and shall be personally liable for the amount thereof, if it can be ascertained, otherwise for the amount due on the original judgment, with interest from the time when it was rendered, and judgment and execution shall be awarded as for his own debt.

Upon the return unsatisfied of an execution upon a judgment of the supreme judicial, superior or land court against an executor or administrator for a debt from the estate of the deceased, the creditor may, by motion or by action in the court which rendered the original judgment, charge the executor or administrator with waste and seek to hold the executor or administrator personally liable for the amount thereof if it can be ascertained, otherwise for the amount due on the original judgment, with interest from the time when it was rendered, and judgment and execution shall be awarded as for his own debt.

original executor or administrator in case of death of his testator or intestate after a judgment rendered for or against him; except that a judgment against the first executor or administrator for costs for which he was personally liable shall be enforced only against his executor or administrator and not against the administrator de bonis non.

Section 13. If judgment is rendered for or against an executor or administrator, an appeal may be claimed therefrom by or against an administrator de bonis non in like manner as it might have been claimed by or against the executor or administrator who was party to the judgment.

Section 12. In the district courts, the declaration, unless inserted in the writ, may be filed in the clerk's office on or before the return day of the writ. Section 26. In the district courts, in answering the common counts and the count on an account annexed, the defendant shall answer specifically every item contained in the bill of particulars or account annexed, but he may make one and the same allegation or denial relative to any number of items to which such allegation or denial is applicable, specifying the number of the items thus answered together, if less than the whole. If the defendant denies that an item is due or payable, or that he owes the plaintiff as alleged, he shall state all the substantive grounds on which he intends to rest such denial, and shall specify whether the whole or part of such item or demand is denied, and if a party only is denied, he shall specify such part.

Section 27. In the district courts, a denial by answer, affidavit or otherwise of a time, amount, quantity or place alleged shall declare whether it is applicable to every time, amount, quantity or place or not; and if not, what time, amount, quantity or place it admits.

Section 28. In the district courts, an answer shall state clearly and precisely each substantive fact intended to be relied upon in avoidance of the action, and if it sets up the statute of limitations, the statute of frauds or any other legal bar, the defendant shall have the benefit of such defense although the answer does not deny the facts set forth in the declaration.

SECTION 162. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out section 29, as amended by chapter 263 of the acts of 1960, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 29. Section 33. In the district courts, if a conditional obligation, contract or grant is relied on in an answer or subsequent pleading, the condition shall be considered a part of the instrument, and similar averments shall be required in pleading on the same as are required by the twelfth clause of section seven.

Section 34. In the district courts, the plaintiff may, at any time before trial, file a replication to the answer, clearly and specifically stating any facts in reply to new matter therein; but, except as herein provided, no further pleading shall be required after the answer. Any new matter in avoidance of the action which the answer contains shall be considered to be denied by the plaintiff without a replication, unless the court, upon motion of the defendant, requires him to reply thereto, and to state what part, if any, he admits or denies.

Section 35. In the district courts, the probate courts, and in proceedings in the land court which are not governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure, the plaintiff may, in reply to a defense alleged by the defendant, allege any facts which would in equity avoid such defense or which would entitle the plaintiff to be absolutely and unconditionally relieved in equity against such defense.

Section 36. In the district court, an answer or replication may allege facts occurring after the commencement of the action, and the court may allow a supplemental declaration, answer or replication to be filed, alleging material facts which occurred or came to the knowledge of the party after the former declaration, answer or replication was filed.

Section 37. In the district courts, a party may allege a fact or title alternatively.

Section 38. In the district courts, the allegations and denials of each party shall be so construed by the court as to secure as far as possible substantial precision and certainty and to discourage vagueness and loose generalities. A substantive fact alleged with substantial precision and certainty and not denied in clear and precise terms shall be held to be admitted. No party shall be required to state evidence, or to disclose the means by which he intends to prove his case.

Section 39. In the district courts, a personal action shall be considered at issue when the pleadings are closed. Real and mixed actions in the land court which are not governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure shall be considered at issue when the plea is filed.

SECTION 165. Section 40 of said chapter 231, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 1, the words "in an action at law" and inserting in place thereof the words: — in an action in the district court.

SECTION 167. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 42 and 43, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections: —

Section 42. Original writs in the district courts, complaints in the supreme judicial, superior, probate and land courts, the housing court of the city of Boston and the housing court of the county of Hampden, and writs of scire facias by private persons on judgment or recognizance in the district or probate courts, in which the plaintiff is not an inhabitant of the commonwealth, shall before the filing or entry thereof, be endorsed by a responsible person who is such an inhabitant; but if one of the plaintiffs is such an inhabitant, the writ or complaint need not be so endorsed. Every endorser, in the case of avoidance or inability of the plaintiff, shall be liable to pay all costs awarded against the plaintiff if an action therefor is commenced within one year after the original judgment.

Section 43. If a plaintiff, not an inhabitant of the commonwealth, fails, by accident, mistake or inadvertence, to have his writ or complaint endorsed as required by the preceding section, the court may at any stage of the case, upon terms, allow him to procure an endorser with the same effect as if the writ or complaint had been endorsed before the filing or entry thereof.

Section 50. In the district courts, if an issue of fact is found against the defendant upon a plea or answer in abatement, final judgment, subject to section fifty-three, shall be rendered against him.

Section 51. In the district courts, the probate courts, and in proceedings in the land court which are not governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure, the court may, at any time before final judgment except as otherwise provided, allow amendments introducing a necessary party, discontinuing as to a party or changing the form of the action, and may allow any other amendment in matter of form or substance in any process, pleading or proceeding, which may enable the plaintiff to sustain the action for the cause for which it was intended to be brought, or enable the defendant to make a legal defense.

Section 52. In an action in the district courts, the probate courts, and in proceedings in the land court which are not governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure, the court may allow a party to whose pleadings a demurrer has been filed to amend, upon terms, within such time as it orders.

Section 53. In the district courts, if the defect upon which a plea or answer in abatement is founded is capable of amendment, the court may allow the plaintiff to amend, upon terms. The court may allow the defendant to amend an answer in abatement or to answer over by special order of the court for good cause shown, and not otherwise.

Section 54. In the district courts, if a new defendant is introduced by amendment, the plaintiff may take out against him a new writ of capias and attachment or of summons in such form, and returnable at such time, as the court orders. Upon service and return of such new writ, like proceedings may be had as if the person named therein had been originally made a party.

Section 56. The district courts may allow formal defects or imperfections in the record or proceedings to be corrected or amended after judgment has been rendered, if justice so requires and the amendment is consistent with the judgment.

Section 57. In the district courts, if the defendant, having been duly served with process, fails to appear or answer thereto, his default shall be recorded and judgment shall be rendered for the plaintiff with costs. The court may, for good cause shown, extend the time for entering an appearance, and may, in its discretion and upon terms, take off a default at any time before judgment.

Section 58. In the district courts, upon entry of a default or nonsuit, the clerk shall forthwith give written notice thereof, in such manner as the court by rule shall direct, to the attorney of record, if any, of each party against whom such default or nonsuit is entered. If a party has no attorney of record, and if, in the case of the entry of a default, the officer's return does not show that personal service of the writ has been made upon him, the notice shall be given to the party.

In the district courts, in any action of contract, except an action against an executor or administrator for liability of the deceased, at any time after the completion of the pleadings counsel for either party may file an affidavit that in his belief there is no genuine issue of material fact but only questions of law in connection with all or some part of the action or of some issue determinative thereof, and may move for an immediate entry of judgment thereon. Said motion may be accompanied by affidavits on personal knowledge of admissible facts as to which it appears affirmatively that the affiants would be competent to testify. The facts stated in the accompanying affidavits shall be taken to be admitted for the purpose of the motion unless within twenty-one days, or such further time as the court may order, contradictory affidavits are filed, or the opposing party shall file an affidavit showing specifically and clearly reasonable grounds for believing that contradiction can be presented at the trial but cannot be furnished by affidavits. Copies of all motions and affidavits hereunder shall be furnished upon filing to opposing counsel. If admissions in the pleadings, interrogatories, or admissions under section sixty-nine, stipulations or affidavits hereunder show affirmatively, that except as to the amount of damages no genuine issue of material fact exists and that there is nothing to be decided except questions of law, an order for default, or judgment for the moving party, shall forthwith be entered if he shall be entitled thereto as a matter of law, subject to an assessment of damages, if required.

SECTION 174. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out section 59A, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 674 of the acts of 1955, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 70. In the district and probate courts, the court may in all cases order either party to file a statement of all particulars necessary to give to the adverse party and to the court reasonable knowledge of the nature and grounds of the action or defense.

Section 71. In the district courts, probate courts, and in proceedings in the land court which are not governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure, the court may make orders allowing amendments before trial, or a supplemental declaration, answer or replication, or any other interlocutory order necessary to prepare the case for trial but the court shall make such rules relative to notice, the times and places for motions at chambers, and other matters, as shall from time to time be necessary.

If the defendant in an action in the district court wherein damages only are sought to be recovered, offers in court and by a writing consents to be defaulted, and to have judgment rendered against him as damages for an amount therein specified, the writing and the time of its filing shall be entered of record; and if the plaintiff within ten days, or such further time as the court allows, after receipt of notice thereof, accepts such offer, the court shall render judgment accordingly, with costs to the date of the notice.

Section 75. In an action in the district court if the plaintiff does not elect to accept such offer, and does not recover as damages an amount, excluding interest from the date of the offer, larger than the amount so offered by the defendant, the plaintiff shall have judgment for his costs after said date.

Section 76. In an action in the district court if a demurrer is overruled because it appears to the justice hearing it to be frivolous, immaterial or intended for delay, the case shall proceed to judgment as if no demurrer had been filed, and execution may be awarded or stayed upon terms. If execution is not awarded, any security taken shall stand as if no judgment had been entered until an order is made for final judgment.

Section 87. In any civil action pleadings shall not be evidence on the trial, but the allegations therein shall bind the party making them.

Section 88. An offer of judgment made under the provisions of the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure or pursuant to section seventy-four of this chapter which is not accepted shall not be evidence against the party making it, either in a subsequent proceeding in the action in which it is made or in another action or suit.

If the plaintiff proposes to introduce evidence of statements of the defendant other than those contained in his pleadings, he shall give the defendant written notice of such intention, specifying the date and content of each such statement, at least fourteen days before trial begins, or earlier if the court so orders; and, if any such statement is introduced in evidence, the defendant shall be permitted to prove that it was true, or was privileged, or any other facts relating thereto which tend to negate malice.

SECTION 193. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 95 to 97, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections: —

Section 95. In an action upon a judgment obtained by default and without the knowledge of the defendant, brought within six years after the rendition thereof, the court may, in its discretion and upon terms, allow the defendant to show in defense any payment, satisfaction or extinguishment of the claim, prior to the obtaining of such judgment, or any matter of fraud, which in either case he might have shown in the original suit upon a motion for relief from judgment or, in the district court, upon a writ of review.

Section 96. On motion made pursuant to the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure, and upon such terms as are just, a court may relieve a party or his legal representative from a final judgment. If no attachment was made in the action, such relief may be granted and execution stayed without security; but if there was attachment, the amount of the bond shall be fixed at the actual value of the property attached, as agreed by the parties or determined by the court. Liability upon an attachment made or bond given in the original action shall not continue after the judgment has been vacated, except that if the prevailing party has been relieved from judgment under this section within thirty days of the entry thereof, such liability shall, if a subsequent judgment is rendered, continue during such time thereafter as it would have continued upon the original judgment had it not been vacated.

Section 97. Unless a written waiver of the right of appeal has been filed by all the parties, a party aggrieved by the judgment of a district court in a civil action which could not have been removed to the superior court may appeal therefrom to said court within six days after the entry thereof. In such case no execution shall be issued on the judgment appealed from. The case shall be entered in the superior court pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and one and shall there be tried and determined as if originally entered therein.

SECTION 194. The first paragraph of section 102C of said chapter 231, as appearing in section 3 of chapter 369 of the acts of 1958, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 5, the words "action of tort or contract" and inserting in place thereof the words: — civil action.

SECTION 196. The first sentence of the third paragraph of section 108 of said chapter 231, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 51, the words "after August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twelve", and in lines 52 and 53, the words "after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and twenty-two".

The expense of the preparation of the necessary papers and copies of papers and their transmission, and the entry fee in the supreme judicial court, shall be taxed in the bill of costs of the prevailing party, if he has paid it. Section twenty-five of chapter two hundred and sixty-one shall apply to such appealed cases.

SECTION 198. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out section 110, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 110. The appellate division of each district court shall have the powers of amendment of the trial court; shall have discretionary power to take further testimony and to render a decision based on such testimony; to decide issues of fact dependent upon issues of law or to direct a trial of such fact issues by a justice of the district court; to draw inferences from cases stated by agreement of the parties; and to render decision according to the justice of the case.

No new trial shall be granted in any civil action or proceeding in any district court on the ground of improper admission or rejection of evidence, or for any error as to any matter of pleading or procedure if the appellate division deems that the error complained of has not injuriously affected the substantial rights of the parties; and, if it appears to the appellate division that said error affects part only of the matter in controversy or some or only one of the parties, the court may direct final judgment as to part thereof, or some or one only of the parties, and may direct a new trial as to the other part only or as to the other parties.

SECTION 199. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out section 111, as amended by section 11 of chapter 591 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 111. A justice of the superior or land court or the judge of the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden, after verdict or after a finding of the facts by the court, may report the case for determination by the appeals court.

If a justice of the superior court is of the opinion that an interlocutory finding or order made by him so affects the merits of the controversy that the matter ought to be determined by the appeals court before any further proceedings in the trial court, he may report such matter to the appeals court, and may stay all further proceedings except such as are necessary to preserve the rights of the parties.

A justice of the superior court may, upon request of the parties, in any case where there is agreement as to all the material facts, report the case to the appeals court for determination without making any decision thereon.

SECTION 200. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out section 112, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 112. A justice of the supreme judicial court, after a finding of facts by the court may report a case for determination by the court or the appeals court.

If a justice of the supreme judicial court is of the opinion that an interlocutory finding or order made by him so affects the merits of the controversy that the matter ought to be determined by the full court or the appeals court before any further proceedings in the trial court, he may report such matter to either court, and may stay all further proceedings except such as are necessary to preserve the rights of the parties.

A justice of the supreme judicial court may, upon request of the parties, in any case where there is agreement as to all material facts, report the case to the full court or the appeals court without making any decision thereon.

SECTION 201. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by inserting after said section 112 the following two sections: —

Section 112A. Proceedings before the appeals court or the full court of the supreme judicial court upon a report pursuant to the two preceding sections shall be governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Appellate Procedure. The report shall constitute a notice of appeal within the meaning of said rules, and the entry of such report shall constitute the filing of a notice of appeal for purposes of computing time thereunder. The party aggrieved by an interlocutory finding or order shall be treated as the appellant; the plaintiff shall be treated as the appellant whenever the whole case is reported.

Section 112B. In civil actions, formal exceptions to rulings or orders of any court are unnecessary; but all purposes for which an exception has heretofore been necessary it is sufficient that a party, at the time the ruling or order of the court is made or sought, makes known to the court the action which he desires the court to take or his objection to the action of the court and his grounds therefor; and, if a party has no opportunity to object to a ruling or order at the time it is made, the absence of an objection shall not thereafter prejudice him.

SECTION 202. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 113 to 119, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following seven sections: —

Section 113. A party aggrieved by a final judgment of the superior court, the land court, the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden, may appeal therefrom to the appeals court or, subject to the provisions of section ten of chapter two hundred and eleven A, to the full court of the supreme judicial court.

Section 114. A party aggrieved by a final judgment of a single justice of the supreme judicial court may appeal therefrom to the full court of the supreme judicial court.

Section 115. Upon an appeal the appeals court or the supreme judicial court shall affirm, reverse, or modify the judgment appealed from. Upon reversal of a final judgment either court may remand a cause to the trial court which entered the judgment appealed from with necessary and proper directions for further proceedings, or may render such judgment as the court below should have rendered.

No execution shall issue during the pendency of an appeal. In the event that execution has issued before the filing of a notice of appeal, upon the filing of such notice the clerk shall notify the officer holding the execution, and all further proceedings thereon shall be stayed. Nothing in this section shall be construed to impair the authority of a justice of either court to order a stay of execution upon such terms as are just.

Section 116. Upon an appeal from a final judgment, the justice of the court by whom it was made may make such orders staying the enforcement of the judgment in an action for an injunction or appointment of a receiver as are needful for the protection of the rights of the parties, until the appeal shall be heard by the appellate court. Such order may be modified or vacated by the order of the appellate court, upon motion, after the appeal is taken.

Section 117. After an appeal has been taken from a final judgment of the superior court, the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden, the appellate court may, by an order, on terms or otherwise, suspend the execution or operation of the final judgment appealed from, pending the appeal, and may modify or annul any order made for the protection of the rights of the parties, pending the appeal; but, until such order has been modified or annulled, the justice of the superior court by whom the final judgment appealed from was made, or any other justice of said court, or the judge of the housing court of the city of Boston or of the housing court of the county of Hampden, by whom the judgment appealed from was made, may make any proper interlocutory orders, pending such appeal, including orders for the appointment of receivers, of injunction, of prohibition, and orders for continuing in force such orders previously made, or for modifying or dissolving them. The justice or judge who makes any such interlocutory orders may enforce them by appropriate proceedings, pending the appeal.

Section 118. A party aggrieved by an interlocutory order of a justice of the superior court or the judge of the housing court of the city of Boston or the judge of the housing court of the county of Hampden, may file a petition in the appropriate appellate court seeking relief from such order. The appellate court may, in its discretion, grant the same relief as an appellate court is authorized to grant pending an appeal under section one hundred and seventeen. The filing of a petition hereunder shall not suspend the execution of the order which is the subject of the petition, except as otherwise ordered by the appellate court.

Section 119. No error in either the admission or the exclusion of evidence and no error or defect in any ruling or order or anything done or omitted by the trial court or by any of the parties is ground for modifying or otherwise disturbing a judgment or order unless the appeals court or the supreme judicial court deems that the error complained of has injuriously affected the substantial rights of the parties. If either court finds that the error complained of affects only one or some of the issues or parties involved it may affirm the judgment as to those issues or parties unaffected and may modify or reverse the judgment as to those affected.

SECTION 203. Sections one hundred and twenty, one hundred and twenty-one, one hundred and twenty-two and one hundred and twenty-three of said chapter two hundred and thirty-one are hereby repealed.

SECTION 204. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 124 and 125, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections: —

Section 124. Whenever a question in dispute at the trial of an issue of fact in any civil action depends upon the decision of a question of law, the appeals court or the full bench of the supreme judicial court, upon appeal may, if satisfied that it has before it all the facts necessary for determining the question in dispute, direct that judgment be entered or that such other action be taken as shall accord with the determination of such court; or if either court shall be of the opinion that it has not before it sufficient facts to determine said question, it may direct such issues or questions as it shall think proper to be tried before a jury if the case be a jury case, or otherwise before a judge, and may direct in the alternative the action to be taken upon the verdict or finding. When any such question of law shall arise in a trial, the judge shall, by leaving appropriate questions to the jury, or by his own findings where the trial is without a jury ascertain so far as is practicable all the facts both as to liability and damages necessary on any theory of the law to enable an appellate court to make the proper final disposition of the case, unless in the opinion of the court such a course is inexpedient under the circumstances of the case.

Section 125. Upon appeal in a civil action the appeals court and supreme judicial court shall have all the powers of amendment of the court below; and whenever objections have been taken to the exclusion of evidence, or where the alleged error arises from the omission at the trial of some fact which, under the circumstances of the case, may subsequently be proved without involving any question for a jury, and without substantial injustice to either party the appellate courts shall have full discretionary authority to cause such further testimony to be taken as it deems necessary, either by oral examination in court, by reference, by affidavit or by deposition, and both courts shall have power to render any judgment and to make any order that ought to have been made upon the whole case.

SECTION 205. Sections one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-eight, one hundred and twenty-nine, one hundred and thirty-one, one hundred and thirty-three, one hundred and thirty-four, one hundred and thirty-five, one hundred and thirty-six and one hundred and thirty-seven of said chapter two hundred and thirty-one are hereby repealed.

SECTION 207. Said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 138 to 140, inclusive, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections: —

Section 138. No subsequent attaching creditor or purchaser of property attached, other than parties to the record, shall be bound by an amendment of the pleadings which substantially affects his rights unless he has had due notice of the motion for leave to amend and unless he has had an opportunity to be heard thereon. Such persons shall also have the right of appeal.

Section 139. If a corporation is a party to an action or proceeding referred to in this chapter, all motions, pleadings, or other papers requiring the signature or oath of the party may be signed or sworn to in behalf of the corporation by an officer or agent thereunto specially authorized.

If such tender is accepted in an action commenced in the superior court, the parties shall file a stipulation of dismissal in the court in which the action is pending.

Section 67. Evidence in any proceeding seeking equitable relief shall be taken in the same manner as in actions at law, unless the court otherwise orders; but this section shall not prevent such use of affidavits as had been heretofore allowed.

Every judgment for the payment of money shall bear interest from the day of its entry. The warrant or execution issued on a judgment for the payment of money shall specify the day upon which judgment is entered, and shall require the collection or satisfaction thereof with interest from the day of its entry.

SECTION 220. Said chapter 235 is hereby further amended by striking out section 11, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 11. If a further amount afterwards becomes due on such bond or other contract, the plaintiff, his executor or administrator may cause the original defendant, his executor, administrators, heirs, devisees or assigns to be summoned before the court in which the judgment was rendered to show cause why execution should not be awarded upon the judgment for the damages caused by such further breach. If the judgment upon the bond was rendered by the superior court the plaintiff, his executor or administrator shall cause the adverse party to be summoned by a motion stating the nature of such further breach; if such judgment was rendered by a district court, the plaintiff, his executor or administrator shall cause the adverse party to be summoned by a writ of scire facias from said court stating the nature of such further breach.

SECTION 221. Said chapter 235 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 16. No execution shall issue within twenty-four hours after the entry of judgment in the district court. SECTION 222. Said chapter 235 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 19 to 21, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections: —

Section 19. If a judgment remains unsatisfied after the expiration of the time for taking out execution thereon the creditor may obtain a new execution by a writ of scire facias if such unsatisfied judgment was rendered by a district court, or, if such judgment was rendered by the supreme judicial, superior or land court or the housing court of the city of Boston, by a motion to such court; or he may at any time after the judgment, subject to section twenty of chapter two hundred and sixty, have an action of contract thereon.

Section 20. If an execution is returned satisfied in whole or in part by the sale of property not liable to such execution, and if damages are recovered against the judgment creditor or the officer who served the execution on account of the seizure and sale of such property, the creditor shall be entitled to a new execution for the amount then remaining due him upon a writ of scire facias or a motion pursuant to the preceding section.

Section 21. If an execution against a corporation is satisfied in whole or in part by service or levy on the person or property of a member thereof, and the property levied on or damages for the service or levy are subsequently recovered by such member from the officer or judgment creditor, the creditor, upon a writ of scire facias on a judgment rendered by a district court or upon a motion to the court which rendered the judgment if other than a district court, shall be entitled to a new execution for the amount then remaining due him.

SECTION 223. Said chapter 235 is hereby further amended by striking out section 24, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 24. If a plaintiff would be entitled to a judgment or a decree, except for the bankruptcy or insolvency of the debtor or his discharge therein, and if, more than four months prior to the commencement of proceedings in bankruptcy, or, in voluntary proceedings in insolvency, more than four months prior to the time of the first publication of the notice of the issuing of the warrant, or, in involuntary proceedings more than four months prior to the first publication of the notice of the petition, or, in proceedings in composition in insolvency in which no assignment has been made, more than four months prior to the notice by the register to the creditors of the debtor's proposal of composition, any property, estate, interest or money of a debtor has been attached, or brought within the control of a court of equity by proceedings under clause (6) of section three of chapter two hundred and fourteen, by other proceedings, or by payment into court, the court may at any time upon motion enter a special judgment or decree for the plaintiff, for the amount of his debt or damages and costs, or for such other relief as he may be entitled to, to be enforced in the first instance only against the property, estate, interest or money, so attached or brought within the control of a court of equity. If such property, estate, interest or money shall be insufficient to satisfy the judgment or decree in full, the court may thereafter, if the debtor's discharge is refused, or if he shall unreasonably delay to prosecute said proceedings to a discharge, order an alias or other successive execution or other process to be issued upon such judgment or decree for such portion thereof as remains unsatisfied. The creditor may also in case of such refusal or delay have a writ of scire facias, motion or action as provided in section nineteen. This section shall not impair the powers which courts of equity may otherwise exercise.

SECTION 224. Chapter 236 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 38 to 40, inclusive, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections: —

Section 38. If the debtor tenders the amount justly due for redemption, and the creditor or, in case of a sale, the purchaser does not within seven days after the tender release the land as before provided, the debtor may recover it, with costs, in an action to recover a freehold estate against the creditor or purchaser as a disseisor; but before judgment therein is entered for him, he shall bring into court for the use of the creditor or purchaser the amount so tendered.

Section 39. The debtor may, within the year before limited for redemption and irrespective of any tender, bring in the supreme judicial or the superior court in the county where the land lies, a civil action for redemption, under the two following sections.

Section 40. The debtor shall in his complaint offer to pay the amount found due for redemption and may set forth any tender he has made. The court shall determine the amount due, unless it has been already ascertained under section thirty-four, and shall require the debtor, within such time as it may order, to deposit with the clerk for the use of the creditor or purchaser the amount due for redemption. Upon the debtor's complying with the order, he shall be entitled to judgment and execution for seisin of the land.

SECTION 225. Section 41 of said chapter 236, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: — If the creditor or purchaser has, before the commencement of the action, tendered such a deed of release and alleges such tender and brings the deed into court to be delivered to the debtor, he shall recover costs.

SECTION 226. Said chapter 236 is hereby further amended by striking out section 51, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 51. If, after the return of such execution issued by a district court, it appears to the creditor that the land levied on, or any part thereof, cannot be held thereby, he may take out from the court from which the execution issued a writ of scire facias requiring the debtor to appear and show cause why another execution should not be issued on the same judgment, and the writ may issue although there is a subsequent judgment for a part thereof not satisfied by the levy.

If, after the return of such execution issued by the supreme judicial, superior or land court or the housing court of the city of Boston or the housing court of the county of Hampden, it appears to the creditor that the land levied on, or any part thereof, cannot be held thereby, he may move the court which issued the execution to order the debtor to appear and show cause why another execution should not be issued on the same judgment, and the court may so order although there is a subsequent judgment for a part thereof not satisfied by the levy.

If the debtor, after being duly summoned, does not show sufficient cause to the contrary, the levy of the former execution may be set aside and another execution issued for the amount then due on the original judgment and not included in a subsequent judgment, but without interest or further costs.

SECTION 227. Chapter 237 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 1 to 18, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following eighteen sections: —

Section 1. All estates of freehold in fee simple, fee tail or for life may be recovered in a civil action.

Section 2. A civil action to recover freehold estates in fee simple, fee tail or for life may be prosecuted against the commonwealth under this chapter.

Section 3. The plaintiff shall declare on his own seisin within twenty years then last past, without specifying any particular day, and shall allege a disseisin by the defendant, but need not aver a taking of the profits. He shall set forth the estate which he claims in the land whether in fee simple, fee tail or for life, and if the latter, whether for his own life or for the life of another, but he need not set forth the original gift, devise or other conveyance or title by which he claims the estate.

Section 4. The plaintiff need not prove an actual entry under his title, but proof that he is entitled to such an estate as he claims in the land and that he has a right of entry therein shall be sufficient to prove his seisin. No such action shall be maintained unless the plaintiff has at the time of commencing his action a right of entry into the land demanded.

Section 5. Such action shall be prosecuted in the same manner as if the plaintiff, at the time of commencing the action, had made an actual entry on the land demanded and had been immediately ousted by the defendant. In a trial upon the general issue, if the plaintiff proves that he is entitled to the estate set forth in the complaint and that he had a right of entry on the day when the action was commenced, he shall recover the land unless the defendant proves a better title in himself.

Section 6. A person in possession of land demanded in a civil action, claiming an estate of freehold therein, may be considered as a disseisor for the purpose of trying the right, irrespective of the manner of his original entry therein.

Section 7. If the person in possession has actually ousted the plaintiff or withheld from him the possession of the land, he may, at the election of the plaintiff, be considered as a disseisor for the purpose of trying the right, although he claims an estate less

Section 8. Joint tenants or tenants in common may join in a civil action for the recovery of land, or any one of them may sue alone for his share.

Section 9. The law and practice relative to pleadings and evidence in a writ of entry upon disseisin, as heretofore recognized and established, shall continue in force, except as altered by this chapter and chapters one hundred and eighty-five and two hundred and thirty-one and by the Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure.

Section 10. Non-tenure, disclaimer, several tenancy and sole tenancy may be pleaded in answer.

Section 11. The plaintiff may recover any specific part or undivided portion of the land to which he proves a sufficient title, although less than demanded in the complaint.

Section 12. If the plaintiff recovers judgment, he shall recover in the same action, subject to the limitations provided in this chapter, damages for rents and profits of the land from the time when his title accrued and for any destruction or waste of the buildings or other property for which the defendant is liable.

Section 13. Rents and profits for which the defendant is liable shall be the clear annual value of the land while he was in possession thereof, after deducting all lawful taxes and assessments on the land paid by him and all necessary and ordinary expenses of cultivating the land or collecting rents, profits or income thereof.

Section 14. In determining rents and profits, the value of the use by the defendant of any improvements made by him or by those under whom he claims shall be excluded.

Section 15. The defendant shall not be liable for rents and profits for any time more than six years prior to the commencement of the action or for waste or damages committed before said six years, unless rents and profits are allowed to diminish the defendant's recovery upon his counterclaim for improvements under section twenty-seven.

Section 16. If the land demanded has been actually held and possessed by the defendant and by those under whom he claims for six years next before the commencement of the action, he shall, if judgment is against him, be entitled to compensation as herein-after provided for the value of any buildings or improvements made or erected on the land by him or by any person under whom he claims.

Section 17. The defendant shall also be entitled to like compensation although the land has not been so held for six years, if he holds it under a title which he had reason to believe good.

Section 18. The defendant may interpose a counterclaim for the value of such improvements.

SECTION 228. Section nineteen of said chapter two hundred and thirty-seven is hereby repealed.

SECTION 229. Said chapter 237 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 20, 21 and 22, as appearing in the Tercenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections: —

Section 20. The amount recovered by the defendant upon such counterclaim shall not exceed the amount actually expended by the defendant and those under whom he claims, nor shall it exceed the amount by which the value of the land is actually increased thereby as assessed at the time of the action.

Section 21. Except as provided in sections twenty-two to twenty-four, inclusive, and in section twenty-six, if there is a trial in the land court, it shall at the same time assess the amounts due the plaintiff for rents and profits or other damages, if any, and shall determine the amount to be allowed to the defendant for improvements, if any, and also, if duly required, the value of the plaintiff's estate, unless, on its own motion or that of either party, made before its finding or decision on the title is recorded, it postpones such assessment or determination until after its trial of the title and its findings or decision thereon.

Section 22. If trial by jury shall be demanded and if issues therefor are to be framed to obtain an assessment of the amounts due to the plaintiff for rents and profits or other damages, or a determination of the amount to be allowed to the defendant for improvements, or of the value of the plaintiff's estate, the land court, on its own motion, or on that of either party, made at any time before the papers required by section fifteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-five have been entered in the superior court, may postpone such issues until after its trial of the title and its findings or decision thereon. In such case said court shall order that the procedure provided by section fifteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-five be suspended pending its further order under section twenty-three.

SECTION 230. Section 23 of said chapter 237, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 3, the word "demandant" and inserting in place thereof the word: — plaintiff.

SECTION 231. Section 24 of chapter 237, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 2, the word "demandant" and inserting in place thereof the word: — plaintiff.

SECTION 232. Said chapter 237 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 25 to 31, inclusive, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following seven sections: —

Section 25. In cases where an assessment of the amounts due to the plaintiff for rents and profits and other damages, or a determination of the amount to be allowed to the defendant for improvements, or of the value of the plaintiff's estate is to be made by the land court, such assessment or determination may, if the parties consent, be made by assessors appointed by that court.

Section 26. The defendant shall have judgment upon his counterclaim for the value of the improvements. The plaintiff shall have judgment and execution for the amount found due him for rents and profits and other damages due from the defendant as well as for seisin of the land.

Section 27. If the amount found due to the defendant for improvements exceeds the amount found due from him for rents and profits accruing within six years, he shall be chargeable with rents and profits accruing before that time, so far as necessary to balance his judgment for improvements; but in such case he shall not be liable to repay rents and profits in excess of the value of the improvements.

Section 28. The plaintiff shall, except as provided in the following section, before taking out execution for seisin of the land, pay to the defendant, or for his use to the recorder of the land court, the amount, if any, by which the defendant's judgment upon his counterclaim for improvements exceeds the amount recovered against the defendant by the plaintiff upon his claim for rents and profits and other damages; but the defendant or person claiming under him shall not be liable for rents and profits accruing between the date of the judgment and payment by the plaintiff of said amount.

Section 29. If the plaintiff has had judgment for seisin of the land, he may take out a writ of seisin before judgment has been rendered upon his claim for rents and profits or other damages or upon the defendant's counterclaim for improvements, but if there is pending such a counterclaim, the plaintiff, before taking out his writ of seisin, shall furnish such security or pay into court such amount of money as the land court may order, to secure to the defendant the payment of any amount found due him for such improvements.

Section 30. If the defendant has judgment for such improvements, he may have an execution therefor or he may collect the same, with all reasonable costs and expenses for such collection, out of the security furnished, or may receive it out of the money paid into court and the residue thereof, if any, shall be returned to the plaintiff.

Section 31. If the defendant counterclaims for improvements as before provided the plaintiff may, by motion, require the value of his estate in the land demanded, without the improvements, to be determined as provided for the assessment of rents, profits and improvements. Such value shall be the value which, at the time of assessment, the land would have had if the improvements had not been made by the defendant or a person under whom he claims.

SECTION 233. Section 32 of said chapter 237, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 1, the word "demandant" and inserting in place thereof the word: — plaintiff, — and by striking out, in line 3, the word "tenant" and inserting in place thereof the word: — defendant.

SECTION 234. Said chapter 237 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 33 to 38, inclusive, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following six sections: —

Section 33. If the plaintiff elects to relinquish the land as before provided, the defendant shall thenceforth hold all the estate which the plaintiff had therein at the commencement of the action, if he pays said value thereof in three equal instalments on or before the expiration of one, two and three years, respectively, from the time when said election was entered on the record, with interest therefrom on the amount unpaid.

Section 34. Said payments shall be made to the plaintiff or for his use to the recorder of the land court; and if the defendant fails to make any such payment within the time limited therefor, the plaintiff may, within three months after default of payment, take out his writ of seisin on the judgment recovered, and shall take and hold the land without allowance for any improvements made thereon.

Section 35. If the defendant or his heirs or assigns, after the land is so relinquished to him, are evicted therefrom by force of a better title than that of the original plaintiff, the person so evicted may recover in a civil action from such plaintiff, or from his executors, administrators, heirs or devisees under chapter one hundred and ninety-seven, the amount so paid for the land, with lawful interest thereon; but in order to be so entitled to recover, the defendant or those holding under him shall give notice to the person so liable to refund the purchase money of the pendency of the action for the recovery of the land, so that he may offer evidence tending to prove that the original plaintiff had the better title.

Section 36. If, after judgment for the plaintiff, either party dies before the writ of seisin is executed, or before the case is otherwise settled under this chapter, any money payable by the plaintiff or defendant, respectively, may be paid by him or his executor or administrator, or by a person entitled to the estate under him, to the defendant or plaintiff, respectively, or his executor or administrator.

Section 37. The writ of seisin issued in such case shall be in the name of the original plaintiff against the original defendant, although either or both of them are dead, and when executed it shall enure to the benefit of the plaintiff or of the person entitled to the land under him, as if it had been executed on the day when the judgment was rendered.

Section 38. If a plaintiff claiming an estate for life only satisfies a judgment upon the defendants counterclaim for improvements, he or his executor or administrator shall, at the determination of his estate, be paid by the remainderman or reversioner the value of the improvements as they then exist, shall have a lien on the land for said value as if it had been mortgaged for the payments of such value, and may keep possession of the land until such payment is made.

SECTION 235. Section 39 of said chapter 237, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 2, the words "suit in equity" and inserting in place thereof the words: — civil action.

Section 44. The provisions of this chapter relative to rents and profits to be recovered, an allowance for improvements made on the land demanded and the value of the land without the improvements shall not apply to an action brought by a mortgagee, his heirs or assigns, against a mortgagor, his heirs or assigns, for the recovery of the land mortgaged.

SECTION 241. Chapter 240 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 6, as appearing in the Tercenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

It shall be unnecessary for the maintenance of such action that the defendants shall have a claim or the possibility of a claim resting upon an instrument the cancellation or surrender of which would afford the relief desired; but it shall be sufficient that they claim or may claim by purchase, descent or otherwise, some right, title, interest or estate in the land which is the subject of the action and that their claim depends upon the construction of a written instrument or cannot be met by the plaintiffs without the production of evidence. Two or more persons claiming to own separate and distinct parcels of land in the same county by titles derived from a common source, or two or more persons having separate and distinct interests in the same parcel, may join as plaintiffs in any action brought under this section.

Section 10. After all the defendants have been served with process or notified as provided in section seven and after the appointment of a guardian ad litem or next friend, if such appointment has been made, the court may proceed as though all defendants had been actually served with process. Such action shall be a proceeding in rem against the land, and a judgment establishing or declaring the validity, nature or extent of the plaintiff's title may be entered, and shall operate directly on the land and have the force of a release made by or on behalf of all defendants of all claims inconsistent with the title established or declared thereby. This and four preceding sections shall not prevent the court from also exercising jurisdiction in personam against defendants actually served with process who are personally amenable to its judgments.

SECTION 245. Said chapter 240 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 10A and 10B, as appearing in section 3 of chapter 448 of the acts of 1961, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections: —

The complaint shall state the names and addresses, so far as known to the plaintiff or plaintiffs, of the owners of the subject parcels as to which the determination is sought, of the owners of any benefited land and of any persons benefited other than persons interested in benefited land. There shall be filed therewith (1) a certified copy of the instrument or instruments imposing the restriction, or of a representative instrument if there are many and the complaint includes a summary of the remainder, and (2) a plan or sketch showing the approximate locations of the parcels as to which the determination is sought, and the other parcel or parcels, if any, which may have the benefit of the restriction, and the ways, public or open to public use, upon which the respective parcels abut or nearest thereto, and the street numbers, if any, of such parcels.

The court may (1) permit service by registered mail on any person, (2) permit names and addresses of owners to be given from the last assessments for local taxation and record search for subsequent changes, (3) require notice to be published in a newspaper or posted on the subject land or both, (4) name as representative of all persons entitled to enforce the restriction, if it benefits more than four parcels, the owners of the benefited land abutting the subject parcel or parcels and of such additional benefited land in or facing the same block or blocks or in the same vicinity as it deems appropriate, describing the remaining persons generally as the owners of certain identified land and permitting service upon them by publication only, (5) order other or additional notice at any time as it deems most effectual, and (6) if it finds that there are persons benefited but not actually served and for whom others served are not sufficiently representative, appoint a disinterested person to represent them and order costs thereof paid by the plaintiff or plaintiffs. Any person entitled to enforce the restriction, whether or not named or described in the notice, may become a party to the proceeding by filing answer within the time specified by the notice or by the court.

Section 28. If the court finds that the mortgagee has not unreasonably neglected or refused to render a true account of rents and profits of the land mortgaged, it may award him the balance found due on the mortgage, with interest thereon at a rate of not more than twelve per cent a year from the expiration of three years after the entry to the date of the judgment.

Section 29. The court may at the same time order that, if the defendant neglects or refuses to accept the money or other act required by the judgment to be paid or performed, the money shall be left for his use with the clerk of the court, or such other act done as the case requires; and the plaintiff, having performed all acts required by the judgment, may have execution for possession of the land.

If the judgment was rendered by a district court, the plaintiff may sue out a writ of scire facias against him or all, or a separate writ against each, of the trustees, to show cause why judgment and execution should not be awarded against them or him and their or his own goods and estate for the amount remaining unsatisfied on the judgment against the defendant. Such writ may be sued out at any time after thirty days from the date of judgment and may be issued by the court where the judgment was rendered, although the amount of the debt and costs therein exceeds its jurisdiction.

Section 48. In a proceeding brought under section forty-five, if the trustee appears and answers, he may be examined; but if he has been examined in the original action, he shall be examined again only by order of the court. A trustee may prove any matter necessary or proper for his defense; and any judgment rendered against him shall express the amount for which he is chargeable.

Section 49. No action or scire facias as provided under section forty-five shall be brought against a person adjudged a trustee unless he is served within two years after judgment in the original action; or, if the money or other thing is not payable when the judgment is rendered, unless he is served within one year after such money or other thing becomes payable.

Section 50. If a person summoned as trustee in his own right dies before the judgment recovered by the plaintiff has been fully satisfied, the goods, effects and credits in his hands at the time of the attachment shall remain bound thereby, and his executor or administrator shall be bound thereby, as if the writ or summons were originally served on him.

Chap. 1116. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DEMOCRATIC TOWN COMMITTEE IN THE TOWN OF ASHBURNHAM TO ADD TO ITS ELECTED MEMBERS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to allow the democratic town committee in the town of Ashburnham to avail itself in the current year of the full number of voting members authorized by law, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Notwithstanding any provision of chapter fifty-two of the General Laws to the contrary, the democratic town committee elected in the year nineteen hundred and seventy-two in the town of Ashburnham may add to its elected members; provided that by so doing the total number of members shall not be made to exceed thirty-five.

Approved December 4, 1973.

Chap. 1117. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF BROCKTON TO PAY CERTAIN LEGAL FEES AND COSTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The city of Brockton is hereby authorized to appropriate money for the payment of, and after such appropriation the treasurer of said city is hereby authorized to pay to attorney P. J. Piscatelli, legal fees and costs totalling thirteen thousand six hundred eighty-eight dollars and ninety-six cents incurred by former mayor Leonard Ellershaw and city councillors Hipolit Moncevicz, Edmund R. Leonard, George Rodenbush, and F. Milton McGrath in the defense of a civil action brought by former city manager William A. Gildea against them in their official capacity and tried in the Plymouth superior court sitting in the city of Brockton in the year nineteen hundred and sixty-seven and heard by the supreme judicial court in the year of nineteen hundred and seventy-three.

SECTION 1A. SECTION 1B. Any person who knowingly files a certificate required by section one A, which is false and who thereby receives payment for services which were not rendered to said city, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars, or both.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 4, 1973.

Chap. 1118. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ASSESSMENT OF AGRICULTURAL OR HORTICULTURAL LAND AT A VALUE BASED UPON ITS AGRICULTURAL OR HORTICULTURAL USES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose which is, in part, to provide for the assessment of agricultural and horticultural land at a value based upon its agricultural or horticultural use in a manner permitted by Article XCIX of the Articles of Amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, which was adopted by the voters on November seventh, nineteen hundred and seventy-two; therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 61 the following chapter: —

CHAPTER 61A.

Section 1. Land shall be deemed to be in agricultural use when primarily and directly used in raising animals, including, but not limited to, dairy cattle, beef cattle, poultry, sheep, swine, horses, ponies, mules, goats, bees and fur-bearing animals, for the purpose of selling such animals or a product derived from such animals in the regular course of business; or when primarily and directly used in a related manner which is incidental thereto and represents a customary and necessary use in raising such animals and preparing them or the products derived therefrom for market.

Section 2. Land shall be deemed to be in horticultural use when primarily and directly used in raising fruits, vegetables, berries, nuts and other foods for human consumption, feed for animals, tobacco, flowers, sod, trees, nursery or greenhouse products, forest products, and ornamental plants and shrubs for the purpose of selling such products in the regular course of business; or when primarily and directly used in a related manner which is incidental thereto and represents a customary and necessary use in raising such products and preparing them for market.

Section 3. Land not less than five acres in area shall be deemed to be actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural uses when the gross sales of agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural products resulting from such uses together with the amount, if any, payable under a soil conservation or pollution abatement program of the federal government or the commonwealth total not less than five hundred dollars per year or when the use of such land is clearly proven to be for the purpose of achieving an annual total of not less than five hundred dollars from such gross sales and program payments within the normal product development period as determined by the farmland valuation advisory commission established pursuant to section eleven of this chapter. In cases where the land is more than five acres in area, the gross sales and program payment standard above set forth shall be increased at the rate of five dollars per acre except in the case of woodland or wetland for which such increase shall be at the rate of fifty cents per acre.

Section 4. For general property tax purposes, the value of land, not less than five acres in area, which is actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural uses during the tax year in issue and has been so devoted for at least the two immediately preceding tax years, shall, upon application of the owner of such land and approval thereof, be that value which such land has for agricultural or horticultural purposes. For the said tax purposes, land so devoted shall be deemed to include such contiguous land under the same ownership as is not committed to residential, industrial or commercial use and which is covered by application submitted pursuant to section six. Land shall be deemed contiguous if it is separated from other land under the same ownership only by a public or private way or waterway.

Land under the same ownership shall be deemed contiguous if it is connected to other land under the same ownership by an easement for water supply. Such contiguous land shall not exceed in acreage one hundred per cent of the acreage which is actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural uses.

Section 5. Where contiguous land in agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural uses under one ownership is located in more than one city or town, compliance with the five-acre minimum area requirements of section four shall be determined on the basis of the entire area of such land and not on the basis of the land area which falls within the bounds of any particular city or town.

Section 6. Eligibility of land for valuation, assessment and taxation pursuant to section four shall be determined separately for each tax year. Application therefor shall be submitted to the board of assessors of each city or town in which such land is situated not later than October first of the year preceding each tax year for which such valuation, assessment and taxation are being sought and may not thereafter be withdrawn. Application shall be made on a form prescribed by the commissioner of corporations and taxation and provided for the use of claimants by said board of assessors. Such form shall provide for the reporting of information pertinent to the provisions of this chapter and of Article XCIX of the Articles of Amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth and for certification by the applicant that he will immediately notify the board of assessors in writing of any subsequently developing circumstance within his control or knowledge which may cause a change in use of the land covered by such form prior to October first next following. Any application submitted under this section and covering leased land shall be accompanied by a written statement signed by any lessee of his intent to use such land for the purposes set forth in said application. A certification by a landowner that the information set forth in his application is true may be prescribed by said commissioner to be in lieu of a sworn statement to that effect. An application so certified shall be considered as if made under oath and subject to the same penalties as provided by law for perjury.

Section 7. If a change in use of land actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural use occurs between October first and December thirty-first of the year preceding the tax year, the board of assessors shall disallow or nullify the application filed under authority of section six, and, after examination and inquiry, shall determine the full and fair value of said land under the valuation standard applicable to other land and shall assess the same according to such value. If, notwithstanding such change of use, the land is valued, assessed and taxed under the provisions of this chapter in the ensuing year, upon notice thereof said board shall enter an assessment and the amount of the increased tax resulting from such assessment, as an added assessment and tax against such land, in the "Omitted list" for the particular year involved in the manner prescribed in section seventy-five of chapter fifty-nine. The amount of the added assessment shall be equal to the difference, if any, between the assessment imposed under this chapter and the assessment which would have been imposed had the land been valued and assessed as other land. The enforcement and collection of additional taxes resulting from any additional assessment so imposed shall be as provided by said chapter fifty-nine. The additional assessment imposed under this section shall not affect the conveyance or roll-back taxes, if any, applicable under sections twelve and thirteen.

Section 8. In any city or town in which a program of revaluation of all property therein has been or shall be undertaken and completed in time to be reflected in the assessments for the next succeeding tax year but not in sufficient time to permit landowners to make application prior to October first of the pre-tax year for the valuation, assessment and taxation of their lands for the ensuing tax year on the basis of being actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use, any such application which has been or shall be filed with the board of assessors after October first and prior to December first of the year preceding the tax year shall be deemed to have been timely made for the tax year next succeeding completion of the revaluation program, notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary. If such application is approved and the lands qualify for valuation, assessment and taxation as lands actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural use in the ensuing tax year, that portion of any tax assessed for such year which is in excess of the tax which would have been assessed on such lands had such application been timely made and approved shall be abated.

Section 9. An application for valuation, assessment and taxation of land under the provisions of this chapter shall be disallowed by the board of assessors of the city or town in which such land is located if, in their judgment, such land, in whole or in part, does not qualify thereunder. If any board of assessors shall determine that any application pursuant to this chapter is submitted for the purpose of evading payment of full and proper taxes, such board shall be and hereby is authorized to disallow such application. Said board shall send written notice of any such disallowance by certified mail to the landowner applicant on or before December thirty-first of the year preceding the tax year and shall set forth therein the reason or reasons for disallowance together with a statement advising the landowner of his right to appeal therefrom as provided in sections sixty-four to sixty-five B, inclusive, of chapter fifty-nine; provided, that, in the case of a partial disallowance, the landowner shall be permitted to file an amendment to the original application.

In the case of each application which has been approved, the board of assessors shall forthwith cause to be recorded in the registry of deeds of the county or district in which the city or town is situated a statement of their action which shall constitute a lien upon the land covered by such application for such taxes as may be levied under the provisions of this chapter. The statement shall name the owner or owners and shall include a description of the land adequate for identification. Unless such a statement is recorded the lien shall not be effective with respect to a bona fide purchaser or other transferee without actual knowledge of such lien.

Section 10. The board of assessors of a city or town, in valuing land with respect to which timely application has been made and approved as provided in this chapter, shall consider only those indicia of value which such land has for agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural uses. Said board, in establishing the use value of such land, shall be guided by the list of ranges of value published pursuant to section eleven and by its personal knowledge, judgment and experience as to local land values.

Section 11. There is hereby created a farmland valuation advisory commission, the members of which shall be the commissioner of corporations and taxation who shall be chairman, the commissioner of agriculture, the commissioner of community affairs, the dean of the college of food and natural resources of the University of Massachusetts, or their respective designees, and one person to be appointed by the governor who shall be a member of a local board of assessors. The commission shall meet from time to time at the call of any of the above named commissioners and shall, prior to January first of each year, determine, for application during the ensuing tax year, a range of values on a per acre basis for each of the several classifications of land in agricultural or horticultural uses in the several counties of the commonwealth. The annual list of value ranges so determined shall be published by the commissioner of corporations and taxation and shall be mailed by him to the board of assessors of each city and town in the commonwealth no later than February first of each year. In determining such ranges in value, the commission shall consider evidence of agricultural or horticultural land use capability available from soil surveys and such other evidence and documentation as may, in its judgment, appear pertinent.

The commissioner of corporations and taxation may expend such sums as may be appropriated from the agricultural purposes fund for the purposes of securing data for use in determinations by said commission and for expenses incurred in the administration of this chapter.

Section 12. Any land in agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural use which is valued, assessed and taxed under the provisions of this chapter, if sold for other use within a period of ten years from the date of its acquisition or the earliest date of its uninterrupted use by the current owner in agriculture or horticulture, whichever is earlier, shall be subject to a conveyance tax applicable to the total sales price of such land, which tax shall be in addition to such taxes as may be imposed under any other provision of law. Said conveyance tax shall be at the following rate: ten per cent if sold within the first year of ownership; nine per cent if sold within the second year of ownership; eight per cent if sold within the third year of ownership; seven per cent if sold within the fourth year of ownership; six per cent if sold within the fifth year of ownership; five per cent if sold within the sixth year of ownership; four per cent if sold within the seventh year of ownership; three per cent if sold within the eighth year of ownership; two per cent if sold within the ninth year of ownership; one per cent if sold within the tenth year of ownership. No conveyance tax shall be imposed under the provisions of this section following the end of the tenth year of ownership. Said conveyance tax shall be due and payable by the grantor at the time of transfer of the property by deed or other instrument of conveyance and shall be payable to the tax collector of the city or town in which the property is entered upon the tax list; provided, that, in the case of taking by eminent domain, the value of the property taken shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-nine and the amount of conveyance tax, if any, shall be added thereto as an added value. No deed or other instrument of conveyance of property which is hereby subject to tax shall be recorded unless the tax imposed hereunder has been paid. Except with respect to eminent domain takings, the provisions of this section shall not be applicable to the following: mortgage deeds; deeds to or by the city or town in which such land is located; deeds which correct, modify, supplement or confirm a deed previously recorded; deeds between husband and wife and parent and child when no consideration is received, except that a subsequent non-exempt transfer by the grantee in such cases shall be subject to the provisions of this section as it would be if the grantor were making such non-exempt transfer; tax deeds; deeds releasing any property which is a security for a debt or other obligation; deeds for division of property between owners without monetary consideration; deeds made pursuant to a merger of a corporation or by a subsidiary corporation to its parent corporation for no consideration other than the cancellation and surrender of capital stock of such subsidiary which do not change beneficial ownership; and property transferred as a result of death by devise or otherwise and in such transfer the date of acquisition of the land for purposes of this section shall be the date of acquisition by the decedent, provided that any new owner files written notice with the board of assessors within thirty days of the recording of any such transaction that the use of the land will not be altered by virtue of such transfer. Any land in agricultural or horticultural use which is valued, assessed and taxed under the provisions of this chapter, if changed by the owner thereof to another use within a period of ten years from the date of its acquisition by said owner, shall be subject to the conveyance tax applicable hereunder at the time of such change in use as if there had been an actual conveyance, and the value of such land for the purpose of determining a total sales price shall be fair market value as determined by the board of assessors of the city or town involved for all other property.

Section 13. Whenever land which is valued, assessed and taxed under this chapter no longer qualifies as actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural use, it shall be subject to additional taxes, hereinafter referred to as roll-back taxes, in the current tax year in which it is disqualified and in such of the four immediately preceding tax years in which the land was so valued, assessed and taxed; provided that such roll-back taxes shall not be applicable unless the amount thereof as computed pursuant to this section, exceeds the amount, if any, imposed under the provisions of section twelve and, in such case, the land shall not be subject to the conveyance tax imposed under said section twelve; and provided, further, that no roll-back taxes shall be applicable if the land involved is purchased for a public purpose by the city or town in which it is situated. For each year, the roll-back tax shall be an amount equal to the difference, if any, between the taxes paid or payable in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the taxes that would have been paid or payable had the land been valued, assessed and taxed without regard to such provisions. If, at the time during a tax year when a change in land use has occurred, the land was not then valued, assessed and taxed under the provisions of this chapter, then such land shall be subject to roll-back taxes only for such of the five immediately preceding years in which the land was valued, assessed and taxed thereunder. In determining the amount of roll-back taxes on land which has undergone a change in use, the board of assessors shall have ascertained the following for each of the roll-back tax years involved:

(a) The full and fair value of such land under the valuation standard applicable to other land in the city or town;

(b) The amount of the land assessment for the particular tax year.

(c) The amount of the additional assessment on the land for the particular tax year by deducting the amount of the actual assessment on the land for that year from the amount of the land assessment determined under subsection b; and,

(d) The amount of the roll-back tax for that tax year by multiplying the amount of the additional assessment determined under subsection (c) by the general property tax rate of the city or town applicable for that tax year.

Section 14. Land which is valued, assessed and taxed on the basis of its agricultural or horticultural use under an application filed and approved pursuant to this chapter shall not be sold for or converted to residential, industrial or commercial use unless the city or town in which such land is located has been notified of intent to sell for or convert to such other use; provided, however, that the discontinuance of the use of such land for agricultural or horticultural purposes shall not be deemed a conversion. For a period of sixty days subsequent to such notification, said city or town shall have, in the case of intended sale, a first refusal option to meet a bona fide offer to purchase said land, or, in the case of intended conversion not involving sale, an option to purchase said land at full and fair market value to be determined by impartial appraisal. Such notice of intent shall be sent by the landowner via certified mail to the mayor and city council of a city, or to the board of selectmen of a town, to its board of assessors and to its planning board and conservation commission, if any, and said option period shall run from the day following the latest date of deposit of any of such notices in the United States mails. No sale or conversion of such land shall be consummated unless and until either said option period shall have expired or the landowner shall have been notified in writing by the mayor or board of selectmen of the city or town in question that said option will not be exercised.

Section 15. All buildings located on land which is valued, assessed and taxed on the basis of its agricultural or horticultural uses in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and all land occupied by a dwelling or regularly used for family living shall be valued, assessed and taxed by the same standards, methods and procedures as other taxable property.

Section 16. Continuance of land valuation, assessment and taxation under the provisions of this chapter shall depend upon continuance of such land in agricultural or horticultural uses and compliance with other requirements of this chapter and not upon continuance in the same owner of title to such land. Liability to roll-back taxes, determined pursuant to section thirteen, shall attach when such land no longer qualifies as actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use.

Section 17. If, by conveyance or other action of the owner thereof, a portion of land which is valued, assessed and taxed under the provisions of this chapter is separated for a use other than agricultural or horticultural, the land so separated shall be subject to liability for conveyance or roll-back taxes applicable thereto, but such separation shall not impair the right of the remainder of such land to continuance of valuation, assessment and taxation thereunder; provided, that such remaining land continues to qualify under the usage, minimum acreage and other provisions thereof.

Section 18. Land qualifying for valuation, assessment and taxation under this chapter shall be subject to special assessments or betterment assessments to such pro rata extent as the service or facility financed by such assessment is used for improving the agricultural or horticultural use capability of said land or for the personal benefit of the owner thereof. Any such assessment shall, however, upon application, be suspended during the time the land is in agricultural or horticultural use and shall become due and payable as of the date when the use of such land is changed; provided, however, that the interest thereon shall be paid annually.

Section 19. The assessment, collection, apportionment and payment over of the roll-back taxes imposed by section thirteen, the attachment of the lien for such taxes, and the right of a city or town, a landowner or other interested party to review any judgment affecting such roll-back taxes, shall be governed by the procedures provided for the assessment and taxation of omitted property under section seventy-five of chapter fifty-nine. Such procedures shall apply to each tax year for which roll-back taxes may be imposed notwithstanding the limitation set forth in said chapter fifty-nine with respect to the periods for which omitted property assessments may be imposed.

Section 20. For any purpose, other than the provisions of this chapter, for which the assessed value of land is relevant, including exemptions under the provisions of chapter fifty-nine, land qualifying for taxation under this chapter shall be valued and deemed to have been assessed by the same standards, methods and procedures as other taxable property.

In determining the equalization required by section nine of chapter fifty-eight, the state tax commission shall determine the value of such land on the basis of its agricultural and horticultural use.

Section 21. The factual details to be shown on the tax list of a board of assessors with respect to land which is valued, assessed and taxed under this chapter shall be the same as those set forth by said board with respect to other taxable property in the same city or town.

Section 22. The state tax commission shall promulgate such rules and regulations and the commissioner shall prescribe the use of such forms and procedures as they deem appropriate to and consistent with effectuation of the purposes of this chapter.

Section 23. Any person using the valuation, assessment and taxation procedures set forth in this chapter for the purposes of evading payment of full and proper taxes shall be subject to a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars or imprisonment for one year or both and to payment to the city or town in which the land is located of an amount equal to three times the amount of taxes so evaded.

Section 24. If any clause, sentence, subdivision, paragraph, section or part of this act be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, subdivision, paragraph, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter sixty-one A of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, applications under section six of said chapter for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, shall be filed prior to May first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, and with respect thereto the boards of assessors shall forward notices of disallowance, if any, on or before July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four; and the farm valuation advisory commission shall establish its ranges of values required under section eleven of said chapter as of March first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-five and said value ranges shall be mailed by the commissioner of corporations and taxation to the boards of assessors on or before April first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

SECTION 3. The provisions of this act shall apply to fiscal years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-five and thereafter.

Approved December 4, 1973.

Chap. 1123. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR FURTHER CLARIFICATION OF THE DOCTRINE OF COMPARATIVE NEGLIGENCE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to make certain changes in the doctrine of comparative negligence effective January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 231 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 85, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 761 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following section: —

Section 85. Contributory negligence shall not bar recovery in any action by any person or legal representative to recover damages for negligence resulting in death or in injury to person or property, if such negligence was not greater than the total amount of negligence attributable to the person or persons against whom recovery is sought, but any damages allowed shall be diminished in proportion to the amount of negligence attributable to the person for whose injury, damage or death recovery is made. In determining by what amount the plaintiff's damages shall be diminished in such a case, the negligence of each plaintiff shall be compared to the total negligence of all persons against whom recovery is sought. The combined total of the plaintiff's negligence taken together with all of the negligence of all defendants shall equal one hundred per cent.

The violation of a criminal statute, ordinance or regulation by a plaintiff which contributed to said injury, death or damage, shall be considered as evidence of negligence of that plaintiff, but the violation of said statute, ordinance or regulation shall not as a matter of law and for that reason alone, serve to bar a plaintiff from recovery.

The defense of assumption of risk is hereby abolished in all actions hereunder.

The burden of alleging and proving negligence which serves to diminish a plaintiff's damages or bar recovery under this section shall be upon the person who seeks to establish such negligence, and the plaintiff shall be presumed to have been in the exercise of due care.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, and shall apply to all causes of action occurring on and after said date. Approved December 4, 1973.

All such agencies, authorities or political subdivisions are authorized to enter into such contracts with the authority.

SECTION 7. Said section 5 of said chapter 161A is hereby further amended by striking out subsections (g) and (h), as appearing in section 18 of chapter 563 of the acts of 1964, and inserting in place thereof the following subsections: —

(g) The capital investment program and plans of the authority for mass transportation shall be prepared under the direction, control and supervision of the department, in conjunction with other transportation programs and plans. Said program and plans shall be developed in consultation and cooperation with the authority, and in consultation with the executive office of communities and development, the metropolitan area planning council, and such other agencies of the commonwealth or of the federal government as may be concerned with said program and plans. The program for mass transportation or any revisions thereto shall be subject to the approval of the advisory board.

Said program shall include a long-range plan for the construction, reconstruction or alteration of facilities for mass transportation within the area constituting the authority together with a schedule for the implementation of such plan and comprehensive financial estimates of cost and revenues. The authority shall be responsible for the architectural and engineering design and for the construction of such mass transportation facilities and for the operation thereof.

The department on or before September first in each year shall present to the authority an estimate of the costs to be incurred during the next calendar year for the development and revision by the department of the program and plans for mass transportation as provided above. The authority shall pay such estimated costs to the department in such manner as the department and authority shall agree; provided, however, that such agreement shall be executed by the department and the authority no later than January first of each calendar year. If payments made by the authority on account of such estimated costs exceed the costs actually incurred by the department as of the last day of such year, such excess shall be repaid by the department to the authority within a reasonable time after the amount of such excess is ascertained.

(h) The authority shall on or before April first of each year, render to the advisory board, the department, the governor and the general court, a report of its operations for the preceding calendar year, including therein a description of the organization of the authority, its recommendations for legislation, and the comprehensive program for mass transportation prepared by the department as most recently revised.

SECTION 8. Said section 5 of said chapter 161A is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (i), as amended by section 1 of chapter 81 of the acts of 1967, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection: —

(i) All current expenses of the authority shall be in accordance with an itemized budget. The authority, in consultation with the secretary and the advisory board, shall prepare said budget and shall submit it to the secretary and the advisory board not later than October first of each year for the ensuing calendar year.

The secretary shall review and make recommendations regarding said budget between October first and November first.

On or before January first the advisory board shall approve said budget as submitted or subject it to such itemized reductions therein as the advisory board shall deem appropriate.

The budget shall govern the current expenses of the authority during such calendar year. No such expenses may be incurred in excess of those shown in the budget, but the budget may from time to time be amended by the preparation and submission by the authority to the advisory board and the secretary of supplements thereto. The secretary shall review and make recommendations regarding said supplementary budget within fifteen days after its submission. The advisory board shall within thirty days after submission to it approve or reduce any such supplementary budget as provided above.

SECTION 9. Section 5 of said chapter 161A is hereby amended by adding the following subsection: —

(l) The board of directors is hereby authorized and directed to promulgate such rules, regulations and procedures, including public hearings, as are necessary and appropriate to provide the following parties the timely opportunity to participate in the development of major transportation projects designed by the authority, as defined by the directors, and to review and comment thereon:

(i) State, regional and local agencies and authorities affected by said projects;

(ii) Elected officials from cities and towns affected by said projects;

(iii) At the board's discretion, other public and private organizations, groups and persons who are affected by, and who have provided the board with reasonable notice of their desire to participate in the development of the design of said projects.

In this section the words "timely opportunity" shall mean sufficiently early in the design process so as to permit comments to be considered prior to the final development of or commitment to any specific design for such project.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 161A is hereby further amended by striking out section 6 and inserting in place thereof the following section: — board of five directors, hereinafter in this chapter called the directors, who shall be appointed by the governor: one with the approval of the advisory board; one with the approval of the fourteen cities and towns; and one with the approval of the sixty-four cities and towns. The approval of the fourteen cities and towns shall be determined by a majority vote of their mayors, or city managers in the cases of Plan D or Plan E cities, and chairmen of selectmen with the vote of each city and town counted as on the advisory board pursuant to section seven; provided, that the vote of at least four municipalities shall be required to constitute the majority of the fourteen cities and town. The approval of the advisory board and of the sixty-four cities and town shall be determined by majority vote of their mayors or city managers and chairmen of selectmen present and voting thereon with the vote of each city and town counted as on said advisory board; provided, that fifty per cent or more of the total votes as set forth in said section seven is represented at such meeting. One of the appointees of the governor shall be experienced in transportation, one a member of organized labor who shall be a member of a national or international labor organization, and one experienced in administration and finance. No more than three of the five directors shall be members of the same political party. Each director appointed hereunder shall hold office until the qualification of his successor. Upon the expiration of the term of any member his successor shall be appointed by the governor for a term coterminous with that of the governor, except for the chairman, who shall be appointed by the governor with the approval of the advisory board and who shall serve at the pleasure of the governor.

The director appointed as chairman shall be the chief executive officer of the authority and shall devote full time to the management of the authority.

Any director may be removed for cause by the governor, and any vacancy in the office of a director shall be filled, for the unexpired term, by appointment of the governor with the approval applicable to such vacancy. Section three of chapter twelve shall not apply to said board of directors. The chairman of the board of directors shall receive a salary of forty-five thousand dollars, and each of the other directors a salary of seven thousand five hundred dollars. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum, but a majority vote of the entire membership of the board of directors shall be required to take any particular action.

SECTION 11. The second paragraph of section 7 of said chapter 161A, as amended by section 2 of chapter 81 of the acts of 1967, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 5, the word "sixty" and inserting in place thereof the word: — ninety.

SECTION 12. Said section 7 of said chapter 161A is hereby further amended by striking out the last paragraph, added by section 1 of chapter 509 of the acts of 1965, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph: —

The advisory board may incur expenses, not to exceed forty thousand dollars annually, for staff, stenographic and clerical work, and such expenses shall be paid by the authority.

SECTION 13. Section 8 of said chapter 161A, as most recently amended by chapter 897 of the acts of 1969, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph: —

For the purposes of this section riders boarding at any express service station opened after July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three shall not be included for purposes of any count taken for purposes of the twenty-five per cent assessment of net cost of service.

SECTION 14. Section 23 of said chapter 161A is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph, as appearing in section 4 of chapter 1075 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs: —

Not more than three hundred and eighty-nine million dollars of bonds of the authority under clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4) above shall be outstanding at any time.

The proceeds of two million dollars of such bonds issued after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three shall be expended by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority for the engineering plans and specifications and construction of a rapid transit extension beyond Alewife Brook to Route 128. The proceeds of fifteen million dollars of the bonds issued after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three shall be expended for capital improvements for the provision of commuter rail service by agreement or otherwise. Such improvements shall include, but not be limited to, acquisition of rights of way, upgrading of rights of way, construction and reconstruction of stations and maintenance facilities and renovation or acquisition of rolling stock.

SECTION 15. The sixth paragraph of said section 23 of said chapter 161A, as appearing in section 18 of chapter 563 of the acts of 1964, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences: — In addition to the foregoing, the authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issue of refunding bonds of the authority for the purpose of refunding any principal, interest and sinking fund requirements on any bonds issued by the authority or on any indebtedness assumed by the authority pursuant to law, including payment of any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment or redemption of the bonds or indebtedness being refunded, and any expenses of issuing the refunding bonds. Such refunding bonds may be issued at such time prior to the payment or redemption of the bonds or indebtedness being refunded as the authority may determine to be in the best interests of the authority.

SECTION 16. In addition to any contract assistance provided in section twenty-eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-one A of the General Laws and by chapter six hundred and eighty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-two, the commonwealth, acting by and through the executive office for administration and finance, shall prior to December fifteen, nineteen hundred and seventy-three, enter into an additional contract or contracts with the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority providing that an additional thirty-five million dollars of the net cost of service of the authority for calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-three shall be paid by the commonwealth from the General Fund and shall not be assessed upon the cities and towns constituting said authority; provided however, that the total state contract assistance in calendar year 1973, shall not exceed fifty-five million dollars.

Said thirty-five million dollars in additional contract assistance shall not be assessed upon the cities and towns, and shall be so applied that for assessment purposes, the total contract assistance provided by the commonwealth to the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority for calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-three shall result in proportionally equal reductions in all cost items comprising the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority net cost of service.

In any calendar year after calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-three, the commonwealth, acting by and through the executive office for administration and finance, shall enter into a contract or contracts with the authority providing that a portion of the net cost of service shall be paid by the commonwealth, and shall not be assessed upon the cities and towns constituting the authority. The portion of the net cost of service not to be so assessed, hereinafter called contract assistance, shall not in any one calendar year be less than the contract assistance provided in calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-three under section twenty-eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-one A and under chapter six hundred and eighty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-two. Additional contract assistance provided by the Commonwealth to the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority under his paragraph shall, for assessment purposes, be applied so as to result in proportionally equal reductions to all cost items comprising the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority net cost of service.

SECTION 17. Chapter 180 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 17G the following section: —

Section 17H. Deductions on pay-roll schedules may be made from the salary of any state, county or municipal or other public employee of an amount which such employee may specify in writing to any state, county, municipal or other public officer, or the head of the state, county, municipal or public department, board, commission or agency by whom or which he is employed, for the payment of the cost of a periodic pass for public transportation for such time and for such amount as the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority or any regional transportation authorities may provide. Any such authorization may be withdrawn by the employee by giving at least sixty days' notice in writing of such withdrawal to the state, county, municipal or public officer, or the head of the state, county, municipal or public department, board, commission or agency by whom or which he is then employed.

The state treasurer, the common paymaster as defined in section one hundred and thirty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five, or the treasurer of the county, municipality or other public agency by which such employee is employed, shall deduct from the salary of such employee such amount for such periodic pass as may be certified to him on the pay-roll, and transmit the sum so deducted to the treasurer of said Authority.

An authority established under the provisions of section three or section fourteen shall have the power to hold property, to sue and be sued in law and equity and to prosecute and defend in all actions relating to its property and affairs. Each authority shall be liable for its debts and obligations, but the property of an authority shall not be subject to attachment or levied upon by execution or otherwise. Process may be served upon the administrator of an authority or his designee. Section three of chapter twelve shall not apply to the authorities established under this chapter.

Section 3. Any city or town, or group or combination of cities or towns, other than a city or town included in the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority may, subject to the approval of the secretary, and upon compliance with the provisions of this section, by majority vote of the city council or majority vote of the town meeting or majority vote of any other legislative body, respectively, be made into a body politic and corporate and a political subdivision of the commonwealth under the name of the municipality within the new authority having the greatest population, or under any appropriate regional name agreed to by a majority of the member municipalities, and followed by the words "Transportation Authority".

Any such authority shall be deemed to be established upon written notification to the governor that the member municipalities have voted to establish a regional transportation authority. Having so notified the governor, the advisory board established pursuant to section five shall proceed to appoint an administrator in accordance with section four. Once established, each such authority shall have the same powers, limitations, duties and organization as an authority established pursuant to section fourteen and shall in all respects be subject to the provisions of this chapter, except section fourteen, as if it were an authority so established.

Any city or town, or group or combination of cities and towns, other than a city or town included in the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority or included in an authority established pursuant to section fourteen, may, subject to the approval of the secretary, by majority vote of the city council or of the town meeting respectively, join a contiguous authority.

Section 4. The affairs of an authority shall be managed by an administrator who shall be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the advisory board of the authority established pursuant to section five; provided, however, that the administrator shall not be appointed until after the board has provided the notification required by clause (c) of section fourteen. The administrator shall be the chief executive officer of the authority and shall receive such annual salary as shall be determined by said advisory board. Upon his appointment, the administrator shall give the state treasurer a bond for the faithful performance of his official duties in such penal sum and with such sureties as may be approved by the advisory board.

Section 5. There shall be an advisory board to each authority consisting of the city manager in the case of a Plan D or Plan E city or the mayor of each other city, and the chairman of the board of selectmen of each town, constituting the authority. Each mayor or city manager and each chairman, may, by writing filed with the authority, from time to time appoint a designee to act for him on the advisory board. Each city and town shall have one vote on the advisory board plus additional votes and fractions thereof determined by multiplying one and one half times the total number of cities and towns in the authority by a fraction of which the numerator shall be the total amount of all assessments made by the state treasurer to such city or town under this chapter and the denominator shall be the total amount of all such assessments made by the state treasurer to such cities and towns. The total vote of each city and town shall each year be determined by the authority and delivered in writing to the advisory board thirty days after the state treasurer has sent his warrants for payments to the cities and towns. The determination of votes shall be based upon the most recent annual assessment. Until the first such assessment, the fraction specified above shall be replaced by a fraction of which the numerator shall be the population of each such city or town and the denominator shall be the total population of all cities and towns in the authority. Population data shall be determined in accordance with the latest decennial census made by the United States department of Commerce.

The advisory board shall act by majority vote, except that it may delegate its power of approval to an executive committee formed and elected pursuant to duly adopted by-laws of the board and constituting among its members at least a majority of the total vote of the board, and may, at any time, revoke such delegation. Until the board has adopted by-laws and elected officers, the mayor or city manager of the city having the largest population or in the case of an authority composed entirely of towns, the selectmen of the town having the largest population within the area constituting the authority may call meetings of the advisory board by sending notice to each other mayor or city manager and chairman and shall preside at such meetings.

The advisory board may incur expenses, not to exceed ten thousand dollars annually, for stenographic and clerical work, and such expenses shall be paid by the authority.

Section 6. In addition to all power otherwise granted to an authority by law, the authority shall have the following powers, in each case to be exercised by the administrator of the authority unless otherwise specifically provided: —

(a) to adopt and use a corporate seal and designate the custodian thereof;

(b) to establish within its area a principal office and such other offices as may be deemed necessary;

(c) to hold and manage the mass transportation facilities and equipment acquired by the authority;

(d) to appoint and employ officers, agents and employees to serve at the pleasure of the administrator except as may otherwise be provided in collective bargaining agreements, and to fix their compensation and conditions of employment;

(e) to make, and from time to time revise and repeal, by-laws, rules, regulations, and resolutions, and to establish penalties for violation thereof, not to exceed fifty dollars;

(f) to enter into agreements with other parties, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, government agencies, municipalities, authorities, private transportation companies, railroads, corporations and other concerns, providing (i) for construction, operation and use by such other party of any mass transportation facility and equipment held or later acquired by the authority; or (ii) for the acquisition of any mass transportation facility and equipment of another party where the whole or any part of the operations of such other party takes place within the area constituting the authority. Any such other party is hereby given power and authority to enter into any such agreements, subject to such provisions of law as may be applicable. Any agreement with a private company under any provision of this chapter which is to be financed from the proceeds of bonds or bond anticipation notes and which provides for the rendering of transportation service by such company and for financial assistance to such company by subsidy, lease or otherwise, shall include such standards for such service as the authority may deem appropriate and shall not bind the authority for a period of longer than one year from its effective date, but this shall not prohibit agreements for longer than one year if the authority's obligations thereunder are subject to annual renewal or annual cancellation by the authority. Such agreements may provide for cash payments for services rendered, but not more than will permit any private company a reasonable return.

(g) to establish at or near its terminals and stations such off-street parking facilities and access roads as may be deemed necessary and desirable. The authority may charge such fees for the use of off-street facilities as it may deem desirable, or it may allow the use of such facilities free.

(h) to accept gifts, grants, and loans from agencies of local, state, and federal governments, or from private agencies or persons, and to accede to such conditions and obligations as may be imposed as a prerequisite to any such gift, grant, or loan.

(i) to provide mass transportation service on an exclusive basis, except as provided in paragraph (j) of section eight in the area constituting the authority and without being subject to the jurisdiction and control of the department of public utilities in any manner except as to safety of equipment and operations; provided that schedules and routes shall not be considered matters of safety subject to the jurisdiction and control of said department. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed as exempting any privately owned or controlled carrier, whether operating independently, or under contract with the authority, from obtaining any license required under section one of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine A.

(j) to provide mass transportation service under contract in areas outside the area constituting the authority but only pursuant to an agreement with another transportation authority or transportation area or a municipality for service between the area of the authority and that of such other authority, area or municipality, where no private company is otherwise providing such service.

(k) to provide for construction, extension, modification or improvement of the mass transportation facilities and equipment in the area constituting the authority; provided, that any such construction, extension, modification or improvement shall be subject to the approval of the advisory board, unless specifically authorized by legislation.

(l) to conduct research, surveys, experimentation, evaluation, design, and development, in cooperation with other government agencies and private organizations when appropriate, with regard to the mass transportation needs of the area, and to the facilities, equipment, and services necessary to meet such needs.

(m) to grant such easements over any real property held by the corporation as will not in the judgment of the authority unduly interfere with the operation of any of its mass transportation facilities.

(n) to sell, lease, or otherwise contract for advertising in or on the facilities of the authority.

(o) to issue bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness as hereinafter provided.

(p) consistent with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, the authority shall have such other powers, including the power to buy, sell, lease, pledge and otherwise deal with its real and personal property, as may be necessary for or incident to carrying out the foregoing powers and the accomplishment of the purpose of this chapter.

Section 7. In addition to the powers granted to the authority under section six and all other powers granted by law, the authority shall have the power to establish on a self-liquidating basis one or more separate units of mass transportation facilities and equipment. In establishing such separate units, the authority may enter into one or more unit lease arrangements with such persons, firms and corporations as the authority shall select and franchise. Each such unit lease arrangement shall provide for the following:

(i) acquisition by the authority of real property, including easements and rights of way, necessary or desirable for the operation of such units of mass transportation facilities and equipment, parking and other related auxiliary services and facilities;

(ii) design, construction and acquisition of mass transportation facilities and equipment;

(iii) operation of the mass transportation facilities and equipment so designed, constructed and acquired by a lessee of said facilities and equipment (1) for a period not in excess of forty years, (2) at a rental or lease charge at least sufficient to discharge the authority's financial obligations incurred in connection with said unit of facilities and equipment under the authority's powers, and (3) upon such provisions and conditions as to fares and other matters relating to the conduct and operation of said mass transportation facilities and equipment as the authority and lessee shall agree; and

(iv) power in the authority to cancel or terminate said unit lease arrangement at stated times which shall not be less frequent than once in each fiscal year.

To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of this section, the authority may issue bonds in accordance with the provisions of clause (2) of the first paragraph of section nineteen and such bonds shall provide, in addition to other provisions allowed under this chapter, that all payments of principal and interest shall be made solely from (i) the rental or lease charges received by the authority under its lease with the lessee of mass transportation facilities and equipment as aforesaid, which said lease may be assigned by the authority to secure the obligations of said bonds; or (ii) in the event the authority terminates said lease from the income derived from operation of said mass transportation facilities and equipment;

Section 8. An authority shall be subject to the following limitations, conditions, obligations and duties: —

(a) The authority shall have the duty to develop, finance and contract for the operation of mass transportation facilities and equipment in the public interest consistent with the purposes and provisions of this chapter, and to achieve maximum effectiveness in complementing other forms of transportation in order to promote the general economic and social well-being of the area and of the commonwealth.

(b) No real estate shall be sold unless notice thereof shall have been given to the advisory board not less than thirty days prior to the date of sale and unless the sale shall have been advertised once a week for three successive weeks prior to the date of sale in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town in which the real property to be sold is located, such real property shall be sold to the highest bidder.

(c) Any concession in or lease of property for a term of more than one year shall be awarded to the highest bidder therefor unless the corporation shall find, subject to the approval of the advisory board, that sound reasons in the public interest require otherwise.

(d) No change in fares shall be effective unless submitted to the advisory board and approved by it.

(e) No substantial change in mass transportation service in the region constituting the authority shall be made unless notice thereof shall have been given to the advisory board at least thirty days prior to the change, and approved by said board.

(f) The authority shall in consultation with the department prepare and annually revise its program for public mass transportation which shall include a long-range program for the construction, reconstruction or alteration of facilities for mass transportation of persons within the area constituting the authority together with a schedule for the implementation of such program and comprehensive financial estimates of costs and revenues.

Such program, whether prepared by the authority directly, jointly or under contract with the areawide planning agency, shall be performed in accordance with any agreements that may exist between the department, the authority, and the areawide planning agency officially established or designated to carry out areawide, comprehensive planning on a continuing and cooperative basis for the region in which the transportation authority is principally located. Such mass transportation program shall be consistent with the plans for urban transportation and comprehensive development for the regional area and, so far as practicable, shall meet the criteria established by any federal law authorizing federal assistance to preserve, maintain, assist, improve, extend or build local, metropolitan or regional mass transportation facilities or systems.

In addition to the contracts and agreements authorized in paragraph (f) of section six, the authority may enter into contracts or agreements with any such areawide planning agency, or, if the authority determines that an agreement with such agency is not practicable, then with any other public or private party for the provision of planning services. Such services may include, but are not limited to the following: feasibility and need studies, transportation planning, family and business relocation planning, and such other planning services that the authority may require.

(g) The authority shall on or before October first of each year render to the governor, the secretary of transportation and construction, the regional advisory board, the clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives, a report of its operations for the preceding fiscal year, including therein a description of organization of the authority, its recommendations for legislation, and its comprehensive program for mass transportation as most recently revised.

(h) All current expenses of the authority shall be in accordance with an annual budget prepared by the authority to the advisory board later than October first of each year for the ensuing fiscal year. The regional advisory board, within thirty days after such submission, shall approve said budget as submitted, or subject it to such itemized reductions therein as the advisory board shall deem appropriate.

(i) Any agreement entered into by an authority with a contiguous municipality outside of the area of such authority for service to such municipality through an agreement with a private company, shall provide for reimbursement by such municipality to an authority only for the additional expense of such service as determined by the authority. Such agreements may be for such terms, not exceeding five years, as the parties may determine, except as provided in paragraph (f) of section six. They shall not be subject to the provisions of section four of chapter forty or section thirty-one of chapter forty-four. Municipalities may appropriate from taxes or from any available funds to meet their obligations under any such contracts.

(j) Any private company lawfully providing mass transportation service in the area constituting the authority at the commencement of operations by the authority may continue so to operate the same route or routes and levels of service as theretofore, and may conduct such further operations, without a contract, as the authority subject to the approval of the department of public utilities may permit.

(k) As a condition of any assistance to a private carrier operating under lease, contract, or other arrangement with the Authority, the rights, benefits, and other employee protective conditions and remedies of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended (P.L. 88-365) as determined by the Secretary of Labor, shall apply for the protection of the employees affected by such assistance. Pursuant to said Urban Mass Transportation Act, the terms and conditions of a fair and equitable employee protective arrangement pursuant to this paragraph shall be a proper subject of collective bargaining and arbitration with the labor organizations that represent such employees. Such protective arrangement shall include, without limitation, provisions for the continuing employment or reemployment of those employees who are, or may be, displaced or otherwise affected by such assistance, paid training and re-training programs, preservation of all employment and retirement rights and interest, and any other protections which are necessary or appropriate to minimize the injury to such persons, provided, however, that any such protection shall not be detrimental to the employment or retirement rights and interests of any other persons affected by such assistance. The contract, lease, or other arrangement for the granting of any such assistance to a private carrier shall specify the terms and conditions of, the protective arrangements.

Section 9. If in any year the commonwealth shall be called upon to pay any amount on account of the net cost of service of any transportation authority, the total amount of such net cost of service shall be assessed upon the cities and towns comprising an authority's territory in the proportion which the loss attributable to each route in each such city or town bears to the loss attributable to all such routes in all cities and towns. The loss attributable to each such route in each such city or town shall be determined on the basis of the difference between the revenues collected from such route in such city or town and the cost of providing such route therein.

Such determination shall be made by the authority in accordance with sound accounting practice and guidelines developed in consultation with the department.

Section 10. If as of the last day of June in any year there was any net cost of service, an authority shall notify the state treasurer of the amount of such net cost of service and all other facts required by the treasurer in order to proceed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter to assess such net cost. Upon notification of the amount of such net cost the commonwealth shall pay over to the authority said amount.

The state treasurer may borrow, from time to time, on the credit of the commonwealth such amounts as may be necessary to make payments required of the commonwealth under this section or under section eleven and to pay any interest or other charges incurred in borrowing such money, and may issue notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by him. Such interest and other charges shall be included in the assessments under this chapter in proportion to the respective assessments on the cities and towns constituting the authority for the net cost of service of the period to which any such payment relates. No note issued under this paragraph shall mature more than two years from its date but notes payable earlier may be refunded one or more times, provided that no refunding note shall mature more than two years from the date of the original loan being refunded. Such notes shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding two years, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section three of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

Pending any payment from the state treasurer to the authority and at any other time when the authority in the opinion of the administrator has not sufficient cash to make the payments required of it in the course of its duties as such payments become due, the authority may temporarily borrow money and issue notes of the authority therefor.

All assessments made under this chapter shall be made as provided in section twenty of chapter fifty-nine.

If in any year the income received by the authority, including but not limited to revenues from leasing, advertising, parking, sale of capital assets, gifts and grants, exceeds the expenses incurred by the authority, including but not limited to expenses for wages, contracts for service by others, maintenance, debt service, taxes, rentals, payments to any governmental body and all other costs, the authority shall determine the amount of such excess. Such excess shall be placed in a reserve fund up to such amount as shall be determined by the authority with the approval of the advisory board. Any amount of excess not placed in such reserve fund shall be applied to reimbursing the commonwealth for any amounts which it may have paid under the provisions of this section, and the commonwealth shall thereupon distribute the amounts so received among the cities and towns constituting the authority up to the amounts which they were respectively assessed in the previous fiscal year. All remaining amounts in excess shall be so distributed up to the amounts assessed in each fiscal year immediately preceding, commencing with the most recent such year.

Section 11. If during any fiscal year an authority, in the opinion of the administrator has not sufficient cash to make the payments required of it in the course of its duties, the authority may, from time to time during such year, certify to the state treasurer an amount which together with all amounts previously paid in such year to the authority under this section shall not exceed the net cost of service as estimated by the authority for that portion of such year which has expired up to the date of such certification; and the commonwealth shall thereupon pay over to the authority the amount so certified. If payments made by the commonwealth during any fiscal year under this section exceed the net cost of service as of the last day of such year, such excess shall be repaid to the commonwealth by the authority at the time the authority notifies the state treasurer of the amount of such net cost or, if there is no such net cost, at the time the authority ascertains that fact. Any amounts which the commonwealth shall be called upon to pay the authority under this section during any fiscal year, less any repayment thereof to the commonwealth under this section, shall be treated as payments on account of the amount which the commonwealth shall be called upon to pay under the preceding section with respect to net cost of service as of the last day of such fiscal year; and the interest and other charges incurred by the state treasurer in borrowing money under this section shall be treated as interest incurred by the state treasurer in borrowing money under the preceding section. In order to meet any payment required of the commonwealth under this section the state treasurer may borrow at any time, in anticipation of the assessments to be levied in the following year under the preceding section, upon the cities and towns constituting the authority such sums of money as may be necessary to make aid payments and he shall repay any such so borrowed as soon after said assessments are paid as is expedient.

If at any time any principal or interest is due or about to come due on any bond or note issued by the authority, and funds to pay the same are not available, the administrator shall certify to the state treasurer the amount required to meet such obligations and the commonwealth shall thereupon pay over to the authority the amount so certified. If the commonwealth shall not make such payment within a reasonable time, the authority or any holder of an unpaid bond or note issued by the authority, acting in the name and on behalf of the authority, shall have the right to require the commonwealth to pay the authority the amount remaining unpaid, which right shall be enforceable as a claim against the commonwealth. The authority or any such holder of an unpaid bond or note may file a petition in the superior court to enforce such claim or intervene in any such proceeding already commenced and the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight shall apply to such petition insofar as it related to the enforcement of a claim against the commonwealth. Any such holder who shall have filed such a petition may apply for an order of said court requiring the authority to apply funds received by the authority on its claim against the commonwealth to the payment of the petitioner's unpaid bond or note, and said court if it finds such amount to be due him shall issue such an order.

Section 12. The state auditor shall annually make an audit of the accounts of each authority and make a report thereon to the secretary, the governor and the general court. In making such audits, said auditor may call upon any of the departments, commissions, officers and agencies of the commonwealth for such information as may be needed in the course of making such audits. The state auditor may employ such auditors, accountants and other assistants as he deems necessary for carrying out his duties under this section, and chapter thirty-one and the rules made thereunder shall not apply to such employees. The commonwealth shall be reimbursed by the authority for the cost of the audit.

Section 13. An authority and all its real and personal property shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments; and an authority shall not be required to pay any tax, excise or assessment to or for the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions; nor shall an authority be required to pay any fee or charge for any permit or license issued to it by the commonwealth, by any department, board or officer thereof, or by any political subdivision of the commonwealth, or by any department, board or officer of such political subdivision. Bonds and notes issued by an authority, their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation within the commonwealth.

Section 14. An authority described in section two of this chapter shall be deemed to be established (a) after twenty per cent of the votes on the advisory board have recorded themselves in favor of calling a meeting to vote on the establishment of the authority, (b) notice of the meeting has been sent by a member municipality of the authority to every other member municipality at least two weeks prior to said meeting and (c) the advisory board has sent the governor written notification that the advisor board has voted to established the authority; provided that such notification shall not be given except after a majority of municipalities have voted to establish the authority.

If a city or town has voted not to become a member of an authority, it shall forward written notice to the secretary so informing him. Thereafter the city or town forwarding such notice not to participate shall not be assessed or subject to any obligation of the authority.

Section 15. If any city or town within an authority is assessed in accordance with section nine, such city or town may place upon the official ballot at any biennial or regular or special city election or annual or special town election next following the last day of June of the year next following the year on account of which such assessment has been made the following question:

"Shall this (city, town) continue to be a member of the (name) Regional Transportation Authority?"

YES.	<input type="checkbox"/>
NO.	<input type="checkbox"/>

Such question shall not be placed upon the official ballot unless the city council or town meeting shall have voted that such question be so placed, or a petition signed by not less than five per cent of the registered voters of the city or town, certified as such by the registrars of voters thereof, shall have been filed with the city or town clerk, at least sixty days before the date for any such election. Forms for such petitions shall be made available without cost by the city or town clerk and each form shall bear the following heading: "The undersigned registered voters of the (city or town) hereby petition for the placement upon the official ballot of the question whether this (city, town) shall continue to be a member of the (name) Regional Transportation Authority".

The votes upon such a question shall be counted and returned to the city or town clerk in the same manner as votes for candidates in municipal elections. Said clerk shall forthwith notify the authority of the result of the vote. If a majority of the votes cast upon the question shall be in the negative, the authority shall forthwith take all steps necessary and appropriate for the termination of membership of such city or town in such authority.

Section 16. In the event of any conflict between the regulatory powers and duties of the department of public utilities in respect to mass transportation service within an area, the department of public utilities shall resolve such dispute and exercise such powers as it deems required in the particular instance.

Section 17. An authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of bonds of the authority for any one or more of the following purposes:

(1) To acquire by purchase or otherwise, plan, design, construct, reconstruct, alter, recondition and improve for lease to any eligible private company, mass transportation facilities and equipment.

(2) To pay any capital costs of the authority, whether or not bonds for any such purchase may also be issued under clause (1).

Bonds may be issued for any costs of the foregoing incurred either before or after the issue of the bonds. Bonds issued under either of the foregoing clauses may be issued in sufficient amount to pay the expenses of issues and to establish such reserves as may be required by any applicable trust agreement or bond resolution. The aggregate principal amount of bonds for all authorities established under this chapter which may be outstanding at any one time under this section shall not exceed the sum of twenty million dollars; provided, however, that no such bonds may be issued under this section without the prior approval of the secretary. Ninety per city of such bond proceeds shall be expended only for projects for which the authority has agreements with the federal government providing for grants averaging four fifths of the estimated eligible cost of such projects or for expenditures which are preliminary to the obtaining of federal grants.

The secretary shall make, and from time to time revise, guidelines for the allocation and distribution of the principal amount of said bonds, or any part thereof, among the authorities established by this act.

The secretaries of the executive offices for administration and finance and of transportation and construction shall adopt rules and regulations governing the procedures by which private companies shall apply for assistance pursuant to any agreements financed from proceeds of bonds or bond anticipation notes as provided in paragraph (e) of section five and governing the use of such assistance. Such rules and regulations shall include (a) requiring any private company which receives such assistance to agree to limit its profits and its expenses for salaries and overhead so as to make available as much of its earnings as possible for repayment to the authority of such assistance; (b) requiring such repayment; (c) enabling the authority and the secretary of the executive office for administration and finance to examine and audit the books and records of such company for the purpose of establishing and enforcing such limitation and repayment; and (d) requiring the authority to transfer to the commonwealth, the commonwealth's share of such repayment.

The bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rates, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their date or dates as may be determined by the authority and may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the authority at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the authority prior to the issue of the bonds. The authority shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and the manner of execution of the bonds, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds, and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Uniform Commercial Code. The bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both, as the authority may determine, and provisions may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone, and also as to both principal and interest, for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest and for the exchange of coupon and registered bonds. The authority may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as it may determine to be for the best interest of the authority.

The proceeds of such bonds shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the authority may provide. The authority may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Bonds and bond anticipation notes may be issued under the provisions of this chapter without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required by this chapter. Provisions of this chapter relating to the preparation, adoption or approval of plans, programs, projects, budgets and expenditures shall not affect the issue of bonds and notes and the bonds and notes may be issued either before or after such preparation, adoption or approval.

While any bonds or notes issued or assumed by the authority remain outstanding, the powers, duties and existence of the authority and the provisions for payments by the commonwealth to the authority shall not be diminished or impaired in any way that will affect adversely the interests and rights of the holders of such bonds or notes.

Section 18. In the discretion of the authority such bonds shall be secured by a trust agreement by and between the authority and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within the commonwealth. Either the resolution providing for the issue of bonds or such trust agreement may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the authority in relation to the acquisition, improvement, maintenance, operation, repair and insurance of property, and the custody, safeguarding and application of all moneys and may pledge or assign the revenues to be received, but shall not convey or mortgage any property.

Section 19. Bonds issued under this chapter are hereby made securities in which all public officers and public bodies of the commonwealth and its political subdivisions, all insurance companies, trust companies in their commercial departments, banking associations, investment companies, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons whatsoever who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of a similar nature may properly and legally invest funds, including capital in their control or belonging to them, and such bonds are hereby made obligations which may properly and legally be made eligible for the investment of savings deposits and the income thereof in the manner provided by paragraph two of section fifty of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight. Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the commonwealth now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

Section 20. Any holder of bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter or of any of the coupons appertaining thereto, and the trustee under the trust agreement, if any except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by such resolution or trust agreement, may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under such resolution or trust agreement, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this chapter or by such resolution or trust agreement to be performed by the authority or by any officer thereof.

Section 21. An authority is authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of interest bearing or discounted notes for the purposes and in the amounts that bonds may be issued. The notes shall be payable within three years from their dates, but the principal of and interest on notes issued for a shorter period may be renewed or paid from time to time by the issue of other notes hereunder maturing within the required time from the date of the original loan being refunded. When bonds are issued for the purposes for which the notes were issued, the proceeds of the bonds shall be used to repay the notes, except that interest on the notes may be financed as a current expense to the extent deemed appropriate by the authority. The notes may be secured by a trust agreement or by the provisions of a resolution, as in the case of bonds. Bond anticipation notes may be issued either before or after the authorization of the bonds being anticipated. If any bond anticipation note is paid otherwise than from the proceeds of bonds or renewal notes, such payment shall be included in the measure of the net cost of service. But, if bonds or renewal notes are later issued to provide for such payment, there shall be a corresponding offset against the net cost of service.

Section 22. Each authority is authorized and directed from time to time to take all necessary action to secure any federal assistance which is or may become available to the commonwealth or any of its subdivisions for any of the purposes of this chapter. If any federal law, administrative regulation or practice requires any action relating to such federal assistance to be taken by any department or instrumentality of the commonwealth other than the authority such other department or instrumentality is authorized and directed to take all such action, including without limitation filing applications for assistance, supervising the expenditure of federal grants or loans and making any determinations and certifications necessary or appropriate to the foregoing, and the authority is authorized and directed to take all action necessary to permit such other department or instrumentality to comply with all federal requirements.

Section 23. The commonwealth, acting by and through the executive office for administration and finance, may enter into contract or contracts with the authorities created pursuant to this chapter providing that fifty per cent of the net cost of service of each authority shall be paid by the commonwealth, and shall not be assessed upon the cities and towns constituting the authorities established by section two and section three. Such amount, not to be so assessed shall be called contract assistance.

Contracts shall provide for payment of debt service by the commonwealth when due except to the extent that the authority shall have previously notified the state treasurer that the revenues of the authority are sufficient for the purpose.

Any debt service on bonds issued by an authority, for which contract assistance is provided, shall mature serially beginning not later than ten years after the date of issue and ending not later than forty years after the date of the bonds, so that the amounts payable in the several years for principal and interest combined shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the authority as is practicable to make them or, in the alternative, in accordance with a schedule providing a more rapid amortization of principal.

Any contracts or agreements made between an authority and any private company or carrier for which contract assistance is provided shall be subject to the following limitations: (i) in determining whether assistance is needed under this paragraph with respect to an operating agreement with a private transportation company, and in determining the terms of such assistance, the authority shall review the entire transportation operations of the company and its affiliates and shall make a finding that the assistance will not permit the applicant company to make more than a reasonable return overall; and (ii) that the assistance shall cover only those services determined by the authority to be in the public interest.

Any contract under this section shall include such provisions as the secretary deems necessary and desirable to assure the efficient operation of the authority, and the minimum burden on the commonwealth and on the cities and towns within the authority, and to insure contract assistance is provided for projects which are consistent with program for public mass transportation of the authority.

Upon receipt of appropriate evidence of the possession of such a certificate, the commissioner shall prepare and issue to any such duly certificated common carrier a statement that it is entitled to the exemption granted by this paragraph.

The presentation of a copy of the statement which the commissioner is required to prepare and furnish hereunder to the registrar of motor vehicles shall be deemed to constitute compliance with the provisions of the second paragraph of section twenty-five in respect to furnishing evidence of the payment of the tax which would otherwise be due under this chapter.

If any common carrier which qualifies for the exemption granted by this subsection (aa) should ever lose its exempt status hereunder and thereafter purchase any of the items of personal property enumerated hereinabove without paying in full the tax due, it shall be liable to pay interest on the entire unpaid portion of any tax due from it at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid.

Section 21. (a) A municipality acting by and through an authority may finance solid waste disposal facilities in the same manner provided by this chapter for industrial development facilities, in which event all provisions of this chapter which are applicable to industrial development facilities to projects and industrial occupants shall apply to the solid waste disposal facilities and the lessees thereof insofar as such provisions are apt, except as otherwise hereinafter provided.

(b) A city or town, acting in the manner specified in section two, may by vote declare that an authority is needed therein for the financing of solid waste disposal facilities under this chapter but shall not be empowered to so finance said solid waste disposal facilities, except as an incident to industrial development facilities, unless such declaration is made. Such vote shall be made separately from a vote declaring that an authority is needed to finance industrial development facilities, except such as constitute or are incidental to said solid waste disposal facilities. Such declarations may be made successively but only one authority shall be organized under this chapter in any city or town except as otherwise provided with respect to consolidated authorities.

(c) A certificate or organization issued by the state secretary shall indicate whether the authority has solid waste disposal powers or industrial development powers or both. When a new power is added by city or town action under this chapter, an amended certificate of organization shall be issued accordingly. (d) A vote to consolidate authorities taken prior to the adoption of this section shall not be deemed to include the function of financing solid waste disposal facilities. If said vote does not specify the function or functions, it shall be taken to refer only to the financing of industrial development facilities.

(g) All cities, towns and other public agencies and private parties are authorized from time to time to contract with operators of solid waste disposal facilities established or to be established under the provisions of this section for the disposal of refuse, garbage and waste or for the purchase or use of by-products or residue resulting from the operation of such facilities. Such contracts may be for such periods as agreed upon by the parties and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, may include provisions for the delivery of minimum amounts of refuse, garbage and waste and payments for the use of the facilities to be based thereon, unit prices, which may be graduated, and adjustments thereof. Such contracts may include provisions for arbitration. In the case of a city or town, such contracts may be entered into by officers acting under the authority of the city council of a city or the town meeting in the case of a town, which authorization may be general. The obligations represented by the payments to be made in such a contract shall not be included in any determination of the borrowing capacity of such city or town under any limitation on its indebtedness. Such a contract shall not be subject to section four of chapter forty and shall not be precluded by the acceptance of section nine A of chapter ninety-two. To the extent of uncommitted capacity, any municipality shall be entitled to contract with an operator of solid waste disposal facilities established or to be established hereunder.

(h) The establishment and operation of solid waste disposal facilities hereunder shall be subject to applicable laws except as otherwise provided herein. Reasonable requirements may be imposed thereon by proceedings or regulations pursuant to section one hundred and fifty-A of chapter one hundred and eleven but the assignment of a site may not be rescinded, other than on appeal from the original assignment, pursuant to said section or otherwise. organization representing any employees eligible for benefits under a trust or fund required to register under this chapter, and no officer, agent or employee of any such trustee or plan administrator, employer or labor organization shall receive directly or indirectly any payment, commission, loan, service, or any other thing of value from any insurance company, insurance agent, insurance broker or any hospital, surgical or medical service plan, in connection with the solicitation, sale, service or administration or a contract providing benefits for such trust or fund, or receive any payment commission, loan or any other thing of value from such trust or fund, or which is charged against such trust or fund would otherwise be payable to such trust or fund either directly or indirectly, except that any such person may receive any benefits under a trust or fund to which he is otherwise entitled, and any trustee or plan administrator, employer or labor organization, or his or its officer, agent or employee, may receive from such trust or fund reasonable compensation for necessary services and expenses rendered or incurred by him or in connection with the official duties of such trust or fund; provided, however, that nothing in this paragraph shall affect the payment of any dividend or rate credit or any other adjustment due under the terms of any insurance or annuity contract to the policyholder or contract holder.

Nothing contained in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting the purchase by the trustees at fair market value of any securities which are proper investments for trustees, nor the sale of such securities at such value.

No insurance company, insurance agent or insurance broker and no hospital, surgical or medical service plan, shall either directly or indirectly, pay any commission, make any loan or give any other payment or thing of value to any employee welfare fund or to any employer or labor organization representing any employees eligible for employee benefits thereunder or to any trustee or other officer or employee of any such fund, employer or labor organization, in connection with the solicitation, sale, service or administration of a contract providing employee benefits for such fund.

The commissioner shall keep a record of all such processes, which shall show the day and hour of service. In the case of service of process on a trustee or plan administrator who has not appointed an agent for the service of process, the notice herein provided for shall be mailed by the commissioner to the proper address of the trustee or plan administrator which shall be furnished to him by the plaintiff or his attorney.

(e) If, after notice and a hearing, the board finds that any trust or fund has been depleted by reason of any wrongful or negligent act or omission of a trustee, plan administrator or of any other person, or that any trustee, plan administrator or other person unreasonably fails or refuses to pay or award any benefit to which an employee or beneficiary is entitled, it may bring an action or intervene in an action brought by or on the behalf of an employee, beneficiary or an employer against such trustee, plan administrator or other person who fails or refuses to pay said benefits, or whose act of omission has caused such depletion, for the recovery of such monies, securities, property or thing of value for the benefit of the beneficiaries.

Except as provided in this subsection, all reports and other information in the possession of the board shall be confidential communications, shall not be subject to subpoena and shall not be made public unless the ends of justice and the public advantage will be subserved by the publication thereof in the case of any particular trust or fund; in which event the board shall publish a copy of such report or other information or any part thereof in such manner as the board may deem proper.

The employer shall furnish to every employee upon his enrollment in the plan and within sixty days after each major amendment to the plan a summary of the plan's important provisions or requirements of the amendment, whichever is applicable, written in the manner calculated to be understood by the average employee of such employer. The summary shall include a description of the benefits available to the participant under the plan and circumstances which may result in disqualification or ineligibility, the employer shall furnish to every employee the plan's vesting provisions, the procedure for claiming benefits, the procedure for appealing denial of benefits, and what effect, if any, a company merger or termination of the plan will have on those participants, as well as disability and survivorship benefits, and the procedure for claiming them. The employer shall furnish to every employee every three years a revised up-to-date summary of such plan. The employer shall furnish to each plan beneficiary so requesting in writing a completed and up-dated copy of the plan, or a complete copy of the latest annual report, or both.

Section 4. Notwithstanding any provision of any contract or agreement entered into by the trustee or plan administrator of any fund authorized under this chapter, whenever such contract or agreement provides for reimbursement for any visual services which are within the lawful scope of the practice of a duly registered optometrist, reimbursement thereunder shall be made to either the registered optometrist or the registered physician of the insured's selection. Visual services, as such term appears in the preceding sentence shall mean the optometric services provided by registered optometrists and physicians as set forth in chapter one hundred and twelve.

Section 5. The fee for registering a trust or fund under the provisions of section two shall be fifty dollars.

The fee for filing annual reports with the board shall be fifty dollars per year, except that plans with less than twenty-six participants shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars.

Section 6. Any trustee, plan administrator, official, employee or other person who is convicted of embezzling or misappropriating trust funds or funds, securities or other property entrusted to his

Section 7. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to workmen's compensation or to any retirement fund, plan or program or any health and welfare fund, plan or program established by the commonwealth or by any political subdivision thereof or by any educational, charitable or religious organization, nor to any employees' retirement association established by general or special law which is subject by law to an audit or examination by either the commissioner of banks or the commissioner of insurance.

Section 8. Where a trust or fund, or its trustees or plan administrator are subject to and comply with the requirements of the law of any other state or the United States, which substantially meets the requirements of this chapter with respect to the registration, filing, examination, statements or reports, the requirements of this chapter of any of them to the extent that they are included in such other laws may be waived by the board with respect to any such trust or fund or trustee or plan administrators.

Where such a waiver has been granted, the board shall require the filing with it of copies of documents filed by the trustees with such other state or with the United States. Application for such a waiver shall be made in writing to the board on such forms as it may require and any waiver issued by it hereunder shall be in writing and a copy thereof shall be filed in its office. The board may, at any time, revoke any such waiver if, in its opinion, such other laws fail to accomplish adequately the purposes of this chapter. Any action of the board pursuant to this section shall be subject to judicial review.

Section 9. In addition to the waiver provisions authorized by section eight, the board, upon the advice and recommendation of the advisory committee, created by section seventeen, may grant a waiver of the requirements of section thirteen under terms and conditions set by the board upon a showing that a pension plan or profit-sharing retirement plan would suffer undue economic hardship that would be detrimental to the interests of its participants. No waiver herein provided shall extend longer than thirty-six months after it has been granted. Upon expiration of said waiver, a proposal for the gradual incorporation of the requirements of section thirteen shall be submitted for the approval of the board. In no instance shall such a proposal for gradual incorporation require more than ten years.

Any request for waiver shall be in writing in a form prescribed by the board. The advisory committee shall receive copies of all waiver requests. Any waiver issued by the board shall be in writing with a notice of its date of issuance. Rules and regulations issued by the board, pursuant to this section, shall be promulgated in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A.

Section 10. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to relieve the trustee or plan administrator of any trust or fund from compliance with any provisions of any other applicable laws of the commonwealth.

Section 11. In addition to any other penalty of punishment otherwise prescribed by law any person or employee, and the president, secretary, and treasurer, or officers exercising corresponding functions, of a corporation which is an employer, who is party to an agreement to pay or provide the contributions or benefits covered by this chapter or who is so required to pay these contributions or benefits under the terms of sections twenty-six and twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and forty-nine, and who refuses or fails or neglects to pay such contributions or payments within thirty days after such payments are required to be made shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in a jail or house of correction for not more than one year, or both.

A complaint under this section may be brought in the municipal court of the city of Boston, or in a district court within the territorial jurisdiction of which the employer has his principal place of business, or within which the contributions are to be paid, or, if said complaint is brought against an officer of a corporation, within which said officer lives.

Section 12. (a) Every trustee or plan administrator subject to the provisions of this chapter, who is responsible for or who is delegated to be responsible for the funds of a trust or fund shall be bonded as herein provided; the amount of such bond shall be fixed at the beginning of each calendar, policy or other fiscal year, as the case may be, and certificates indicating compliance shall be filed with the board, together with those reports filed with the board, in compliance with subsection (a) of section three. The amount of the bond shall be not less than ten per cent of the amount of funds handled by said trustee or plan administrator, determined as herein provided, except that any such bond shall be in a minimum amount of one thousand dollars and a maximum amount of one hundred thousand dollars. For purposes of fixing the amount of such bond, the amount of funds handled shall be determined by the funds handled by the trustee or plan administrator or by their predecessors, if any, during the preceding reporting year, or if the plan has no preceding reporting year, the amount of funds to be handled during the current reporting year by such trustee or plan administrator as estimated by such trustees and plan administrator and approved by the board. Such bond shall provide protection to such funds or trust funds against loss by reason of acts of fraud or dishonesty on the part of such trustee or plan administrator, either directly or through connivance with others. Any bond required hereunder shall have as surety thereon a corporate surety company which is acceptable to the board in a form or type approved by the board, including individual bonds or schedule or blanket forms of bonds which cover a group or class.

(b) Nothing in this section shall require any trustee or plan administrator to be bonded if said trustee or plan administrator is required to be bonded by any law of any other state or of the United States under substantially the same requirement, and said bonding may be waived by board.

(c) Any trustee or plan administrator neglecting to file said certification as required hereunder shall be subject to the penalty prescribed in subsection (a) of section three for failure to file annual reports.

Section 13. All plans filed for registration under this chapter with twenty-five or more participants shall provide a statutory vested benefit.

Any trust or fund which subsequent to registration has fewer than twenty-five participants shall continue to comply with the provisions of this section. Notwithstanding any provision in any pension plan or profit sharing retirement plan which provides or will provide an annual benefit upon termination of service prior to normal or early retirement date or an interest in the profit sharing retirement plan which is greater than the following, an employee who has been in covered service for a period of ten years, will be entitled, upon termination of service prior to attaining normal or early retirement date (a) in the case of a pension plan, to a deferred pension benefit commencing at his normal retirement date; or (b) in the case of a profit sharing retirement plan, to a nonforfeitable right to his interest in such plan, in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) fifty per cent of the accrued portion of the normal retirement benefit as provided by the plan in respect of such service, or of such interest, respectively; such amount to be increased by ten per cent for each year thereafter of covered service until the completion of fifteen years of covered service after which such participant shall be entitled upon termination of service prior to normal or early retirement date equal to one hundred per cent of the accrued portion of the normal retirement benefit as provided by the plan with respect to such service, or to the full amount of such interest in the profit sharing retirement plan, or (2) in the case of a pension plan, a pension equal to fifty per cent of an amount equal to three-fourths of one per cent of annual salary subject to social security tax for each year of covered service, increased by ten per cent for each year thereafter of covered service until the completion of fifteen years of covered service, after which such participant shall be entitled to a deferred pension benefit commencing at his normal retirement date equal to one hundred per cent of such three-fourths per cent of annual salary subject to social security tax for each year of covered service, or in the case of a profit-sharing retirement plan or money purchase plan, a pension equal to fifty per cent of an amount equal to three and three-fourths per cent of annual salary subject to social security tax for each year of covered service, increased by ten per cent for each year thereafter of covered service until the completion of fifteen years of covered service, after which such participant shall be entitled to a deferred pension benefit commencing at his normal retirement date equal to one hundred per cent of such three and three-fourths per cent of annual salary subject to social security tax for each year of covered service.

Service by an employee prior to the age of thirty with less than five years service may be ignored in determining covered service under this section unless such participant has contributed to the plan with respect to such service. In no case shall an employee with more than five years' service regardless of age, or upon an employee's thirtieth birthday be excluded from covered service.

The board shall prescribe standards consistent with the purposes of this chapter governing the maximum number of working hours, days, weeks, months, which shall constitute a year of covered service for purposes of this chapter.

Every pension plan, subject to the provisions of this section, shall provide that contributions will be made to the trust or fund each year commencing January first, nineteen hundred and eighty, or the effective date of the plan in an amount equal to ten per cent of the estimated liability for statutory vested benefits which will accrue during each year of each succeeding ten year period, such ten year period beginning the later of the first year of required contributions or the most recent year in which required annual contributions were made, so that during each succeeding ten year period, contributions will be made to the trust or fund in amounts equal to the liability for statutory vested benefits as such benefits will accrue.

All pension plans subject to the provisions of this section shall provide that special payments shall be made if the pension plan has an experience deficiency with reference to contributions made with respect to statutory vested benefits. Such special payments shall consist of no less than equal annual amounts sufficient to remove such experience deficiency was determined except where the experience deficiency cannot be removed over a five year period without the amounts required to remove such deficiency exceeding the allowable limits for a tax deduction under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, for any particular year for which such payments must be made, the board shall, consistent with the purposes of this section, prescribe such additional time as may be necessary to remove such deficiency within allowable tax deductions.

Section 14. In the event of the termination of a pension plan benefits will be allocated to participants and their beneficiaries in the following order: —

First, to provide for a refund to each participant of his contribution, if any, plus credited interest in excess of any benefits paid or to be paid to him or his beneficiary.

Second, to provide to all retired participants and their beneficiaries the plan benefits.

Third, to provide to all participants and their beneficiaries the statutory vested benefits.

Fourth, to provide to participants eligible to retire on normal retirement and their beneficiaries, for the payment of their plan benefits in excess of clause Third.

Fifth, to provide to all participants eligible for early retirement, and their beneficiaries, for the payment of their plan benefits in excess of clause Third above.

Sixth, to provide to all participants eligible for vested benefits under the plan for the payment of their plan benefits in excess of clause Third above.

Seventh, to provide to all participants under the plan for the payment of accrued benefits in excess of the above.

Upon termination of a profit-sharing retirement plan, the interests of all participants in such plan shall fully vest.

Any assets insufficient to provide the full benefits with respect to any class will be prorated among the members of that class in proportion to their liability for their benefits.

The board may require as a condition of approval of any plan that such trustee or plan administrator, employer or labor union insure that plan with a private carrier against loss of employee contributions and statutory vested benefits estimated to exist at the termination of the plan.

Any assessments and premiums required under this chapter shall be deducted from the administrative costs of the fund.

Subsequent to termination of any plan the trustees or plan administrators shall make notification to board of termination of the plan within fifteen days. Within thirty days all employees shall be notified of their rights to any pension benefit and the procedures for claiming those benefits.

Section 15. The attorney general may at the request of the board, maintain and prosecute an action against a trustee or plan administrator subject to this chapter for the purpose of obtaining an injunction restraining such persons from doing any act in violation of this chapter. If the court finds that a defendant is threatening or is likely to do any act in violation of this chapter, and that such violation will cause irreparable injury to the interests of the citizens of the commonwealth or the beneficiaries of the trust or fund involved or any employer contributing to such fund, the court may grant an injunction restraining such violation. The court may, on motion and affidavits, grant a preliminary injunction and in interlocutory injunction, upon such terms as may be just, but the citizens of the commonwealth shall not be required to give security before the issuance of any such injunction.

Section 16. Trustees shall invest the funds of their pension plans and profit-sharing retirement plans and manage said affairs in accordance with the provisions contained in the instruments under which they are acting, or, in the absence of any such provision shall invest the funds and manage fund affairs with the care under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent man acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

Section 17. There shall be an advisory committee on pension matters, composed of the secretary of manpower affairs or designee and eight persons to be appointed by the governor. Those to be appointed by the governor shall consist of two qualified actuaries having experience in the field with a firm having substantial dealings in the pension field; two representatives of banking institutions with a minimum of five years experience in the fiduciary or trust fund with emphasis on investment of securities for a pension trust; two members representing labor, one of whom shall have experience with jointly administered, Taft-Hartley Law pension funds; and two members representing employers from the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

Initially the actuaries shall serve for terms of one and two years respectively, as shall the representatives of the banking institutions. One representative of Associated Industries of Massachusetts and labor shall be appointed initially for two years. All others shall be appointed for three years. The committee shall annually elect from among the membership a chairman. Upon the expiration of the term of a member, his successor, shall be appointed for a term of three years. Any vacancy on the committee shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term of the persons causing such vacancy.

Members of the advisory committee established by this section shall receive no compensation for their service, but may be reimbursed for their expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties. The board shall provide information and such services, including but not limited to secretarial and clerical services, as the advisory committee may reasonably require.

The advisory committee is authorized to meet as it deems necessary to meet its obligations under section nine. In addition the advisory committee shall hold a meeting at least once in every three months and shall, on or before August first, make an annual report to the board and may make such special reports as it or the board may deem desirable.

Section 18. If any provision of this chapter as the application of such provision of any person or circumstance is held invalid or is pre-empted by federal law, the remainder of this chapter and the application of such provision to other person or circumstances shall not be affected.

SECTION 2. The provisions of section thirteen of chapter one hundred and fifty-one D of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty, and all other provisions of this act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

The term of the dean of a law school shall be six years but shall expire if he should cease to act as dean; a successor shall be appointed within thirty days after the occurrence of a vacancy in said office. The state secretary shall act as chairman of said commission.

Selection of the director, who shall be a resident of the commonwealth, shall be by unanimous vote of the members of the commission. The commission shall select a successor director no later than thirty days prior to the expiration date of the term of the director and no later than sixty days after the occurrence of a vacancy in said office; provided, however, in the event that a vacancy shall exist in the office of director for ten days beginning with the date of the primary election at which a candidate for any statewide office is nominated and ending one hundred twenty days after the election, the chairman of the commission shall appoint a director pro tem, who shall serve until a successor director is appointed in accordance with the provisions hereof. The director shall serve for a term of six years and, unless removed, until his successor has been selected and has assumed the office. He may not be removed from office except upon an affirmative vote of all of the members of the commission then serving. Removal of the director shall be at the discretion of the commission, and shall not be reviewable.

The director shall devote full-time to his duties during normal business hours and shall receive an annual salary of twenty-two thousand dollars. He shall not, during the term he serves as director, engage in any political activities of any nature, nor shall he hold any other public office; provided, however, that he shall be free to advise and consult with legislative committees, the members of the general court and other persons affected by the laws under his jurisdiction, and to advocate and sponsor legislation.

The director shall appoint at least one full-time accountant, one full-time clerk, two full-time investigators, and one full-time secretary, with not less than one and not more than three additional part-time aides during election years. Said positions shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one.

The director shall make available to investigative, accounting and law enforcement agencies of the commonwealth all information necessary or advisable to fulfill their duties, with respect to this chapter. All acts, decisions and rulings of the director shall be subject to judicial review under the provisions of chapter thirty A upon the application of any interested person.

The director shall have the power and authority to investigate the legality, validity, completeness and accuracy of all reports and actions required to be filed and taken by candidates, treasurers, political committees, and any other person pursuant to this chapter and any other laws of the commonwealth pertaining to campaign contributions and expenditures. He may require, by summons, the attendance and testimony under oath of witnesses and the production before him of books and papers relating to any matter being investigated by him. Such summons shall be served in the same manner as summonses for witnesses in criminal cases issued on behalf of the commonwealth and all provisions of law relative to summonses issued in such cases shall apply to summonses issued under this section so far as applicable. Any justice of the supreme judicial court or of the superior court may upon application by the director compel the attendance of witnesses summoned as aforesaid and the giving of testimony under oath before said director in furtherance of any investigation in the same manner and to the same extent as before said courts.

The director shall establish rules of procedure governing the conduct of his hearings and investigations which shall be made available in printed form to each witness prior to his testimony. Witnesses shall have the right to be represented by counsel and shall before testifying be sworn. Witnesses shall testify only at private hearings and the same provisions with reference to secrecy which govern proceedings of a grand jury shall govern all proceedings before the director. Upon conviction for any such violation said director shall be removed and the office of director deemed vacant.

The director shall inform any person or committee under investigation by said director by registered mail, return receipt requested, of his intention to present to the attorney general evidence of any alleged violations of this chapter. Within ten days of receipt of said notice said alleged violator may request a hearing before the director for the purpose of presenting evidence to the contrary. Unless the candidate shall, within fourteen days after the receipt of such notification, consent in writing, signed by him and filed with the director, to the formation of such committee, such committee shall thereupon be ordered dissolved by the director and, upon its dissolution, shall forthwith file a financial report under the provisions of section sixteen. If the candidate shall, within fourteen days after the receipt of such notification, consent in writing, signed by him and filed with the director, to the formation of such committee, such committee shall then be deemed to be organized as a nonelected political committee and be subject to the applicable provisions of this chapter. Candidates for nomination or election to the senate or house of representatives of the United States shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter insofar as they may conflict with federal law.

Section 4. Each political committee shall organize by filing with the director or, if organized for the purpose of a city or town election only, with the city or town clerk, a statement of organization.

Each political committee shall have a treasurer who shall qualify for his office by filing a written acceptance thereof with the director, or if organized for the purpose of a city or town election only, with the city or town clerk. Said treasurer shall remain subject to all the duties and liabilities imposed by this chapter until his written resignation of the officer is received or his successor's written acceptance is filed as aforesaid. No person acting under the authority of, or on behalf of, any political committee shall receive any money or anything of value, or expend or disburse the same, or incur expenses while it has no treasurer qualified as aforesaid, or while the name and address of any of its officers or members, as originally or subsequently chosen, is not filed in accordance with the provisions of this section or chapter fifty-two, as the case may be.

In exercising such authority, responsibility, rights, privileges, powers, and duties said board shall not in the management of the affairs of the University of Lowell be subject to, or superseded in any such authority by, any other state board, bureau, department or commission. To this end, the trustees shall maintain high educational standards at the University of Lowell, and shall, subject only to such general authority in the board of higher education, have complete authority to establish, locate, support, consolidate or abolish classes, courses, curricula, departments, divisions, schools or colleges of the University of Lowell, wherever and whenever required in meeting the needs of the commonwealth in the fields of public higher education. The trustees shall establish for the University of Lowell the qualifications and standards for admission, promotion and graduation, and shall award academic degrees and diplomas and confer honors as is customary in American Universities, except to the extent any such exercise might be inconsistent with determinations of the board of higher education delineating functions and programs for institutions and segments of institutions of public higher education. The trustees shall publish such rules and regulations and shall file copies thereof with the governor, the executive office for administration and finance, and the joint committee on ways and means.

Section 8. The trustees shall administer property held in accordance with special trusts, and shall also administer grants or devises of land and gifts or bequests of personal or real property made to the commonwealth for the use of the university and execute certain trusts, investing the proceeds thereof in notes or bonds or property secured by sufficient mortgages or other securities.

The trustees shall have the authority to assent to federal laws designed to benefit the university and to enter into agreements or contracts with the federal government or agencies thereof, as well as into agreements or contracts with agencies of other governments, other colleges and universities, foundations, corporations, interstate compact agencies and individuals where such agreements or contracts, in the judgment of the trustees, will promote the objectives of the university. The trustees may, from time to time, establish and manage trust funds for self-amortizing projects and self-supporting activities including, but not limited to, the operation of the student health service, research institutes and foundations, dormitories and student and faculty facilities. All income from such projects or activities shall be held in trust by the trustees and expended for the purpose for which the trust fund was established. Except as herein provided, the state purchasing agent shall on the certification of availability of funds purchase all items specified on requisitions submitted to him by the university; provided, that the university shall have the right to review all bids received on university requisitions and to make binding recommendation on the award of the contract based on the judgment of the university as to which of the bids best meet the institute's specification on which the bids were received.

complete authority with respect to the election or appointment of the professional staff including terms, conditions and periods of employment, compensation, promotion, classification and reclassification, transfer, demotion and dismissal within funds available by appropriation of the general court or from other sources. The trustees shall establish and make public a policy on tenure for the professional staff of the university which provides for removal for just cause, hearing upon dismissal and judicial review; provided, however, that no member of the professional teaching staff shall be retained after the seventh year of consecutive service without being granted tenure. A leave of absence to a professional teaching staff member for the purpose of advanced study at an educational institution shall not be considered a break in service of consecutive years. A leave of absence for advanced study shall not be counted as a year of service.

The trustees may, without prior approval, within the limits of appropriation made therefor, engage consultants and lecturers and employ such temporary professors, tutors, instructors, teachers and other officers and assistants at rates and in titles corresponding to permanent positions authorized for the university as they shall determine necessary for the operation of the university for periods not exceeding the fiscal year.

The trustees may, notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-one of said chapter thirty, authorize the payment of overtime or extra compensation to such professors, tutors, instructors, teachers and other officers and assistants of the university, within the limits of appropriations made therefor, for such services rendered in summer sessions or other periods outside the session periods of the normal academic year; provided, that the trustees shall determine that such services shall not interfere with regular full-time activities as provided by law required of such professors, tutors, instructors, teachers and other officers and assistants of the university.

As used in this section the following words shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Professional staff", all officers of the university and all persons, except those whose duties are clerical, custodial, security, labor, maintenance and the like, employed for teaching, research, administration, extension, enforcement, control laws and regulatory services, technical and specialized academic support staff, and such related activities as shall be determined by the trustees of the institute.

"Nonprofessional staff", all employees who are not classified as professional personnel, such as clerical, custodial, security, labor, maintenance and the like.

"General salary schedule", the pay plan of the commonwealth as contained in paragraph (1) of section forty-six of chapter thirty.

The classification, title, salary range within the general salary schedule, and descriptive job specifications for each position shall be determined by the trustees for each member of the professional staff and copies thereof shall be placed on file with the governor, budget director, director of personnel and standardization, and the joint committee on ways and means, except that any such salary may be fixed at any amount not less than the minimum salary nor more than the maximum salary shown in the said schedule; provided, however, that the trustees may establish the salary for the president, members of the professional staff, and for the academic deans and members of the professional teaching staff without reference to the general salary schedule and salary range; and, provided further, that no such salary shall be established for any academic dean or any member of the professional teaching staff unless his classification rating is equal to or higher than that of professor, nor shall the number of academic deans and members of the professional teaching staff of the institute whose salaries may be so established exceed one per cent of the combined total number of academic deans and members of the professional teaching staff. A notification of each personnel action taken shall be filed by the president or other officers of the institute designated by him with the director of personnel and standardization and with the comptroller. In establishing the classification, title and salary plan for the professional staff of the university, the trustees shall give recognition to the need to establish and maintain appropriate academic ranks and titles as may be appropriate for higher education in order to provide for outstanding scholars, scientists and teachers.

The president or an officer of the university designated by him shall file annually with the governor, the budget director and the joint committee on ways and means a listing of all positions at the university, including the name of the incumbent, the classification and title, and the rate of pay.

The nonprofessional personnel of the university shall continue as state employees under the provisions of chapter thirty and except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, shall be employed in authorized permanent positions in accordance with the provisions of section forty-five of said chapter; provided, however, that the university shall have the authority without prior approval and within the limits of appropriations to establish and fill temporary, part time and seasonal positions within existing titles and rates within available appropriations for the fiscal year. A notice of action taken in filling all such positions shall be filed with the director of personnel and standardization and with the comptroller.

All officers and employees, professional and nonprofessional, of the university shall continue to be employees of the commonwealth irrespective of the source of funds from which their salaries or wages are paid. They shall have the same privileges and benefits of other employees of the commonwealth such as retirement benefits, group insurance, industrial accident coverage, and other coverage enjoyed by all employees of the commonwealth.

Employees of the university shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one.

Section 11A. The trustees shall have complete authority in determining the travel policy of the university. They shall determine which of the university personnel may travel within and without the commonwealth at state expense and where such personnel may travel.

Section 11B. The trustees shall make rules and regulations for the control, movement and parking of vehicles on the campus of the university and on other land of the university, and may provide reasonable penalties for the violation of said rules and regulations. The trustees may appoint as police officers persons in the employ of the university who in the enforcement of said rules and regulations and throughout university property shall have the powers of police officers, except as to service of civil process. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all fines and penalties recovered for violation of rules and regulations made under authority of this section shall be accounted for by the clerk of the court and forwarded to the trustees of the university to be deposited in the scholarship trust fund of the university for scholarship purposes.

Section 12. The trustees may insure the buildings of the university and their contents in such amounts as they deem sufficient.

Section 13. The trustees may fix the rates of tuition to be charged by the university, but the yearly tuition for day school students who are nonresidents of the commonwealth shall not be less than one hundred and fifty dollars.

Section 14. The trustees shall establish a division to be called the evening division, University of Lowell, to be conducted under their direction, and in which shall be given such evening instruction in liberal arts, engineering, the sciences, the professions, and in such other related academic areas as may be deemed advisable or appropriate by the trustees.

Section 15. A teacher at the university who has served as such at the university for at least seven years after entering such service, or, if a leave of absence has previously been granted to him hereunder, after the termination of the last such leave, may, upon written recommendation of the president of the university be granted by the board of trustees a leave of absence, for study and research, for a period of one year at half pay or for a period of a half year at full pay for such period; provided, that prior to the granting of such leave said teacher shall enter into a written agreement with the board of trustees of said university; that upon the termination of such leave he will return to the service of the university and serve as a teacher at that university for a period equal to twice the length of such leave; and that, in default of completing such service, he will refund to the commonwealth, unless excused therefrom by the board of trustees for reasons satisfactory to it, an amount equal to such proportion of the salary received by him while on leave as the amount of service not actually rendered as agreed bears to the whole amount of service agreed to be rendered.

Section 16. The university is hereby authorized and directed to grant certain scholarships, to be known as the commonwealth scholarships, subject to appropriations made for said purpose, based on marks received in entrance or other appropriate examination, to worthy students who are residents of the commonwealth, possess the requisite ability, and are in need of financial assistance. Such scholarships shall be recommended by the committee on scholarships, the members of which shall be appointed by the board of trustees of the university for such terms as the board may deem advisable, and said scholarships shall be approved and awarded by the board of trustees. The number of scholarships to be awarded by the committee shall be not more than twenty in each of the four undergraduate years, and no individual scholarship shall exceed two hundred and fifty dollars in any year. A scholarship shall continue for such time as the recipient thereof remains a student in good standing at the institute, but in no event shall any student receive such scholarship aid for more than four years.

Section 17. The city of Lowell may annually provide for not more than ten four-year-day scholarships at the university for residents of the city of Lowell, the sum so required to be raised by taxation.

Section 18. Subject to section twenty the trustees may, in the name of and for the commonwealth, lease to any professor, instructor, teacher or employee of said university, or to any society, association or fraternity established thereat, land in the city of Lowell owned by the commonwealth, for the erection and maintenance of suitable dwellings thereon, at the sole expense of the lessee and for the lessee's use and occupancy. Not more than one half an acre shall be so leased to any one such person or organization. Such leases shall contain such written terms, conditions, restrictions and reservations as the parties agree upon.

Section 19. No lease under section nineteen shall become operative until it is approved by the governor and council.

Section 20. The lessee and his assignees shall be liable to taxation upon any building erected on land leased under section nineteen to the extent of its value as determined by the assessors of the city of Lowell.

Section 21. The trustees shall make just and reasonable provision for the employment of students at the university for manual labor and certain skilled labor consistent with the institute's needs.

Section 22. The university may establish and manage, under such regulations as the board of trustees may from time to time prescribe, the University of Lowell Research Foundation, for the purpose of promoting research at the university by obtaining, administering or disposing of patents or inventions resulting from such research or otherwise and devoting the income therefrom to further research, beneficial to the university and to the commonwealth.

The University of Lowell Research Foundation may (1) receive and hold in separate custody gifts, bequests and devises of real or personal property; (2) receive and hold in separate custody compensation or reimbursement resulting from inventions, patents, contractual or other research, the conducting of tests for outside agencies or other funds that may be acceptable to the foundation; (3) disburse funds so acquired for purposes of instruction, research, tests, invention, discovery, development or engineering consistent herewith; (4) obtain, administer and dispose of patents, assignments, grants, licenses or other rights and hold the same in separate custody; (5) make assignments, grants, licenses, or other disposal equitably in the public interest of any rights owned, acquired or controlled by the Foundation in or to inventions, discoveries, patent applications or patents, and to charge therefor and collect and to incorporate in funds in the custody of the Foundation reasonable compensation in such form as the board of trustees may determine; and (6) execute contracts with employees or others for the purpose of carrying out the provisions hereof and permitting such employees or others to share in the net proceeds of such contracts as the board of trustees shall determine.

The foregoing shall not authorize any action in contravention of the requirements of Section 1 of Article LXIII of the Amendments to the Constitution. The funds of said Foundation shall be subject to annual audit by the state auditor. No activities, specified in the foregoing, shall be undertaken by said Foundation which in the opinion of the board of trustees will be likely to interfere with the regular, efficient and proper exercise of the functions of said university. In conducting contractual or other research, tests or similar activities, said Foundation shall give preference to citizens of and to corporations organized under the laws of the commonwealth.

The board of trustees shall prescribe and enforce such regulations as it may deem necessary, with regard to the ownership of inventions developed with the use of facilities of the institute by students, research fellows, staff members, faculty or other persons, the transfer of such inventions, or patent applications or patents resulting therefrom, to the Foundation, the amount of the respective shares of the inventor, the university, and the Foundation in the proceeds therefrom, and the arbitrating of any and all disagreements involving the same.

Section 23. The director may from time to time publish in reports, bulletins, special circulars or otherwise, the results of special studies or research or analysis of general interest and value to the industries represented at or interested in the university.

SECTION 8. There shall be established a Merger Planning Board which shall formulate plans for the consolidation of the State College at Lowell and the Lowell Technological Institute of Massachusetts between January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, and July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five. Said Board shall consist of eleven members appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a member of the administration from the Upon appointment and qualification of the new trustees as defined under this act, the functions and duties of the Merger Planning Board shall terminate and the functions, duties and responsibilities shall thereafter be vested in the board of trustees.

SECTION 9. There shall be established by the Merger Planning Board an unpaid planning staff which shall be composed of students, faculty, administrators, nonprofessional personnel and any persons deemed necessary to advise the Merger Planning Board on ways and means of implementing said merger. The planning staff shall assist the Merger Planning Board in formulating plans for said merger.

SECTION 10. Upon completion of the merger, the board of trustees of the University of Lowell shall be vested with all the powers, rights and privileges and shall be subject to all the duties of the trustees of the Lowell Technological Institute of Massachusetts and the State College at Lowell. The Lowell Technological Institute of Massachusetts and the State College at Lowell shall thereby be consolidated into the University of Lowell which shall be deemed for all purposes a continuation of the Lowell Technological Institute of Massachusetts and the State College at Lowell. The said trustees of the Lowell Technological Institute of Massachusetts and the State College at Lowell shall transfer to the board of trustees of the University of Lowell all property, real or personal and all rights which they hold by reason of their office as said trustees and they shall execute any deeds, contracts and assignments and institute any legal proceedings necessary to transfer such property and rights.

The Merger Planning Board and the board of trustees shall provide adequate parking facilities to the present educational institutions without the taking of private homes. No further expansion shall be authorized by said boards unless parking facilities are provided without the taking of private homes.

SECTION 11. Upon completion of the merger, the phrases "Lowell Technological Institute" and "the State College at Lowell" or any words connoting the same when used in any statute, ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation shall mean the University of Lowell.
