The maximum amount of such surety bond shall not exceed a percentage of the employer's taxable payroll equal to the maximum rate that any employer, who is liable for contributions during the year in question would have to pay under the provisions of section fourteen of this chapter.

(1) Any bond deposited under this subsection shall be in force for a period of not less than two taxable years and shall be renewed with the approval of the director, at such times as the director may prescribe, but not less frequently than at two year intervals as long as the organization continues to be liable for payments in lieu of contributions. Each such application shall identify and authorize a group representative to act as the group's agent for the purposes of this subsection. Upon his approval of the application, the director shall establish a group account for such organizations or governmental employers effective as of the beginning of the calendar quarter in which he receives the application and shall notify the group's representative of the effective date of the account. Such account shall remain in effect for not less than two years and thereafter until terminated at the discretion of the director or upon application by the group. Upon establishment of the account, each member of the group shall be liable for payments in lieu of contributions with respect to each calendar quarter in the amount that bears the same ratio to the total benefits paid in such quarter that are attributable to service performed in the employ of all members of the group as the total wages paid for service in employment by such member in such quarter bear to the total wages paid during such quarter for service performed in the employ of all members of the group. The director shall prescribe such regulations as he deems necessary with respect to applications for establishment, maintenance and termination of group accounts that are authorized by this subsection, for addition of new members to, and withdrawal of active members from, such accounts, and for the determination of the amounts that are payable under this subsection by members of the group and the time and manner of such payments.

positive balance in the experience rating of such educational institution or educational institutions.

Section 14B. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter to the contrary:

(a) (1) Each employer liable to make payments in lieu of contributions shall not be liable for such payments after October first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six with respect to any benefits paid, to the extent that the commonwealth is entitled to payments with respect to such benefits under section six of P.L. 94-444.

(2) Each such employer shall receive credit against liability existing on or after October first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six for payments in lieu of contributions for any such payments made on or before said date, to the extent that such payments were made with respect to benefits for which the commonwealth is entitled to receive payments under section six of P.L. 94-444.

(b) The account of any employer liable for payment of contributions under section fourteen or section fourteen C which employer has paid public service wages, as defined in section six of P.L. 94-444, shall be adjusted to reflect payments to which the commonwealth is entitled under section six of P.L. 94-444.

Section 14C. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fourteen, each governmental employer included in subsection (i) of section one which elects, or if it does not otherwise elect shall be deemed to have elected, to pay contributions under the provisions of this section shall make contributions for a period encompassing not less than two complete calendar years. Contributions shall be made on total wages. All contributions paid by rated governmental employers shall be pooled and available to pay any benefits required under this chapter. The accounts hereinafter established and maintained are book accounts for the calculation of contributions to be paid by each employer subject to this section.

(a) To elect to become a rated governmental employer, such employer shall file with the director a written notice of such election within the thirty day period immediately following the date on which determination of subjectivity to this chapter is issued.

(b) To elect to become a rated governmental employer, if a governmental employer of this state has previously elected otherwise, such employer shall file with the director a written notice of such election within the thirty day period immediately preceding January first of any calendar year.

(c) Any rated governmental employer shall continue to be liable as a rated governmental employer, until such employer files with the director a written notice of election to terminate its status as a rated governmental employer, which notice shall be filed not later than thirty days prior to the beginning of the calendar year for which such termination shall first be effected.

(d) No rated governmental employer shall be eligible for a rate computed under subsection (h) of this section until there have been twenty-one consecutive calendar months immediately preceding the computation date as defined in paragraph (3) of subsection (a) of section fourteen throughout which benefits could have been charged against such employer's account. Provided that for calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty, fifteen consecutive calendar months immediately preceding the computation date shall be used.

(e) Each employer who has not been subject to this act for a sufficient period of time to have its rate computed under this subsection shall make quarterly payments at a calendar year rate expressed as a percentage of total wages and such rate shall be the same for all rated governmental employers not eligible for a computed rate.

(1) For calendar years nineteen hundred and seventy-eight and nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, the contribution rate for all rated governmental employers shall be one per cent of the total wages paid during the calendar quarter for which payment is due, except that the rate for the first quarter of nineteen hundred and seventy-eight shall be zero.

(2) For calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty, and subsequent years the rate for rated governmental employers not eligible for a computed rate will be equal to the average cost of all rated governmental employers as determined in paragraph (1) of subsection (h) of this section, but not less than one per cent.

(f) The director shall establish an employer's account for each governmental employer who is subject to this section, shall also maintain a subsidiary solvency account for the purposes set forth in section fourteen, and such accounts as are necessary for calculations under subsection (h).

(g) The director shall determine charges and credits to each employer's account according to the provisions of section fourteen except that all extended benefit payments shall be charged to the employer's account which are not reimbursable by funds made available under any act of Congress.

(h) Rated governmental employers eligible for a rate computation shall make quarterly payments at a calendar year rate determined by the experience of all rated governmental employers and by the individual employer's experience. The rate shall be computed by the following method:

(1) be determined by the rate, stated as a per cent, rounded to two decimal places, of total benefits paid in the prior fiscal year ending September thirtieth plus an adjustment factor of 0.5 times the total benefits paid less the current fund balance of the accounts established in subsection (f) of this section, all of which is divided by total wages reported by all rated governmental employers for the prior fiscal year ending September thirtieth.

$$\text{RY (Required Yield)} = \frac{\text{Total Benefits Paid} + (0.5 \text{ Total Benefits Paid} - \text{Current Fund Balance})}{\text{Total Wages Reported}}$$

Total Wages Reported

(a) For the calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty the adjustment factor shall be 0.2;

(b) For calendar years subsequent to nineteen hundred and eighty the adjustment factor shall be increased by 0.1 until nineteen hundred and eighty-three from which time it will remain 0.5;

(c) In no case shall the adjustment to total benefits paid be less than zero, or increase the Required Yield by more than 0.2.

(2) An individual experience factor, stated as a per cent rounded to two decimal places, shall be computed for each eligible rated governmental employer by dividing the benefits charged to the employer's account by such employer's wages reported, for two preceding fiscal years ending September thirtieth.

In no case shall the factor thus calculated be increased by more than two percentage points over the factor for the prior calendar year.

$$\text{IEF (Individual Experience Factor)} = \frac{\text{Benefits Charged}}{\text{Wages Reported}}$$

(3) An aggregate experience factor, stated as a per cent rounded to two decimal places, shall be computed for all eligible rated governmental employers by dividing the benefits charged to all employers' accounts by all such employers' wages reported, for two preceding fiscal years ending September thirtieth.

$$\text{AEF (Aggregate Experience Factor)} = \frac{\text{All Benefits Charged}}{\text{All Wages Reported}}$$

(4) The contribution rates to be effective for the subsequent calendar year shall be determined by adjusting proportionately the required yield determined under paragraph (1) of this subsection to the experience factor under paragraph (2) of this subsection adjusted by the aggregate experience factor under paragraph (3) of this subsection rounded to the nearest one-tenth of a per cent, except that no employer's rate for any calendar year will be less than one-tenth of one per cent.

$$\text{ETR (Employer Tax Rate)} = \frac{\text{RY} \times \text{IEF}}{\text{AEF}}$$

(5) An emergency rate increase shall be imposed at the beginning of any quarter in which the rated governmental employers' fund balances are less than the benefit payments charged to all rated governmental employers' accounts during the prior quarter. The emergency rate increase will be up to one per cent added to the rate calculated in paragraph (4) of subsection (h) and is to be effective for the balance of the rate year. If an emergency tax is imposed for more than two consecutive years, the director shall initiate a study and make appropriate recommendations to the general court in the following year.

(i) The director shall promptly notify each rated governmental employer of such employer's rate for the following calendar year which will become final unless application to the director for a review of his determination of its contribution rate is filed within sixty days of the date of such determination.

(j) In order to implement the provisions of section four A, whenever any political subdivision of the commonwealth or any instrumentality thereof, or any instrumentality of one or more such subdivisions, is liable for the payment of contributions as of January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, the treasurer thereof, upon certification by the board of assessors, shall expend available funds in order to pay said contributions.

(k) To the extent that the provisions of this section do not cover all aspects of administration, the appropriate subsections of section fourteen shall apply.

(h) Any period, after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, on the basis of services performed by an alien, unless such alien was lawfully admitted for permanent residence at the time such services were performed, was lawfully present for purposes of performing such services, or was permanently residing in the United States under color of law at the time such services were performed, including an alien who was lawfully present in the United States as a result of the application of the provisions of section 203(a)(7) or section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act; provided, that any modifications to the provisions of section 3304(a)(14) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act which specify other conditions or other effective dates than stated herein for the denial of benefits based on services performed by aliens and which modifications are required to be implemented under state law as a condition for full tax credit against the tax imposed by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, shall be deemed applicable under the provisions of this section.

Any data or information required of individuals applying for benefits to determine whether benefits are not payable to them because of their alien status shall be uniformly required from all applicants for benefits.

In the case of an individual whose application for benefits would otherwise be approved, no determination that benefits to such individual are not payable because of his alien status shall be made except upon a preponderance of the evidence.

“Institution of higher education”, for the purpose of this section and section four A, means an educational institution which admits as regular students only individuals having a certificate of graduation from a high school, or the recognized equivalent of such certificate, and is legally authorized in the commonwealth to provide a program of education beyond high school, and provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's or higher degree, or provides a program which is acceptable for full credit toward such a degree, a program of post-graduate or post-doctoral studies, or a program of training to prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation; and is a public or other nonprofit institution. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions, all colleges and universities of the commonwealth are institutions of higher education for purposes of this section.

SECTION 30. Subsection (d) of section 29 of said chapter 151A is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

(5) An unemployed individual who during the base period, performed services as a teacher as defined in section one of chapter thirty-two and who is receiving, has received, or will receive payments in the form of retirement benefits under the provisions of said chapter thirty-two, shall have his weekly benefit rate reduced in accordance with the provisions of this subsection notwithstanding the fact that such payments are not financed in any part by a base period employer.

SECTION 31. Paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 30A of said chapter 151A, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 866 of the acts of 1970, is hereby amended by striking out subparagraph (2) and inserting in place thereof the following subparagraph:-

SECTION 35. With respect to weeks of unemployment in benefit years beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, wages for insured workers shall include wages paid for previously uncovered services; provided that such wages shall not be so included whenever they had been previously used to establish eligibility for benefits paid under P.L. 93-567. For purposes of this section, the term "previously uncovered services" means services which were not employment as defined in sections four A and four B of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A of the General Laws as appearing in section 4 of chapter 940 of the acts of 1971, at any time during the one-year period ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five and which are:

SECTION 36. The provisions of this act are intended to bring the commonwealth into conformity with the requirements of the Federal-State Extended Unemployment Compensation Law. If it is a final determination by a court of competent jurisdiction that said Federal-State Extended Unemployment Compensation Law is unconstitutional because its application to a state is mandated and is not an election, then, in that case the provisions of this act shall as applicable to government employers become null and void.

Final determination as used in this section shall mean the exhaustion of all rights of appeal or the elapsing of the time allowed for appeal without an appeal being taken.

SECTION 37. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, if P.L. 94-566, The Unemployment Compensation Amendments of 1976, is adjudged invalid or unconstitutional in its application to the employees of the commonwealth or any of its agencies or political subdivisions by a court of competent jurisdiction, then the coverage of those employees under this act is automatically repealed to the extent of the adjudged inapplicability. The repeal shall be effective the date of final disposition upon appeal or from the date of expiration of the right of appeal. If the effect of the said P.L. 94-566 as applied to employees of the commonwealth or any of its agencies or political subdivisions is suspended by injunction issued by a court of competent jurisdiction, then the coverage of those employees under this act is automatically suspended to the extent of the enjoined applicability of the said law.

SECTION 38. Sections nineteen and twenty shall take effect as of September first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven and section fourteen A of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A of the General Laws, as appearing in section twenty-four of this act, shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight.

(4) that any joint owner or mortgagee holding a mortgage on such property has given written prior approval for such agreement, which written approval shall be made a part of such agreement.

In the case of each betterment assessment deferral and recovery agreement entered into between said board making the order for the assessment of a betterment and the owner or owners of such real property, said board shall forthwith cause to be recorded in the registry of deeds of the county or district in which the city or town is situated a statement of their action which shall constitute a lien upon the land covered by such agreement for such betterment assessment as has been assessed under the provisions of this chapter, plus interest as hereinafter provided. The statement shall name the owner or owners and shall include a description of the land. Unless such a statement is recorded the lien shall not be effective with respect to a bona fide purchaser or other transferee without actual knowledge of such lien. The filing fee for such statement shall be paid by the city or town and shall be added to and become a part of the taxes due.

SECTION 2. Section 13 of said chapter 80 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 216 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Assessments made under this chapter shall bear interest at one rate of five per cent per annum or, at the election of the city or town at a rate equal to two per cent above the rate of interest chargeable to the city or town, for the betterment project to which the assessments relate, from the thirtieth day after assessments have been committed to the collector.

The advisory committee on prepaid legal services shall be a party with respect to any plan or certificate filed under this section, shall have the right to participate in any hearing held hereunder, and shall receive notice of the approval by the commissioner of any plan or certificate under this section. The commissioner may approve any such plan subject to such conditions as may be appropriate to assure the continuing ability of the sponsor to provide covered legal services to its members in accordance with the terms of the membership certificate.

Section 10. The rates to be charged by a sponsor under a membership legal services plan approved under this chapter shall be filed and determined in accordance with the provisions of sections one through five and six through twenty of chapter one hundred and seventy-five A.

Section 11. The commissioner may, upon not less than fifteen days' written notice to all interested parties, hold a public hearing upon an insured legal services plan or a membership legal services plan previously approved by him under section five or section nine of this chapter to determine whether modification of any provisions of such a plan or rescission of his prior approval may be necessary in order to protect the interests of the insureds, members or covered dependents of such a plan. The advisory committee on prepaid legal services shall be a party with respect to any plan which is the subject of a hearing under this section, shall have the right to participate in any hearing held hereunder, and shall receive notice of any order or decision of the commissioner issued thereon. After hearing, upon his finding that it is necessary in order to protect the interests of the insureds, members or covered dependents of a plan, the commissioner may modify any provisions of a plan or rescind his prior approval thereof.

No insured legal services plan or membership legal services plan may be the subject of a hearing under this section except after three years from the date of approval of the plan by the commissioner under section five or section nine of this chapter or except after three years from the date of any order or decision of the commissioner after a hearing upon such a plan under this section.

Section 12. Any insurer or sponsor or other interested party aggrieved by any order or decision of the commissioner made without a hearing, or the advisory committee on prepaid legal services may, within fifteen days after written notice of the order or decision, make written request to the commissioner for a hearing thereon. The commissioner or his designee shall hear such party or parties within thirty days after receipt of such request and shall give not less than fifteen days' written notice of the time and place of the hearing. Such hearing shall be an adjudicatory hearing as defined in chapter thirty A. Within thirty days after such hearing, the commissioner or his designee shall affirm, reverse or modify his previous order or decision specifying his reasons therefor in writing. Pending such hearing and decision thereon, the commissioner may suspend or postpone the effective date of his previous order or decision.

Section 13. The commissioner, or any deputy examiner or any other person designated by the commissioner, shall, at least once in three years, and whenever the commissioner deems it prudent, visit any sponsor and examine into its affairs. The commissioner shall have free access to all of the books, records and papers of the sponsor and may summon and examine under oath its officers, agents, employees and other persons in relation to its affairs and condition. The commissioner shall require every such sponsor to keep its books, records, accounts and vouchers in such manner that he or his authorized representatives may readily determine whether the sponsor has complied with the law. Said sponsor shall be liable for all costs incurred in such examinations, including expenses of the commissioner, deputy examiner, or any designee employed in such examinations.

Files or records containing confidential matters of an insured, a member, or covered dependents, or attorney's client files and records shall be exempt from this section, except as otherwise may be ordered by court upon a complaint brought in the superior court by the commissioner.

Section 14. Any dispute or controversy arising between an insurer or sponsor and any attorney, insured, or member, or any person whose insurance certificate or membership certificate has been canceled or to whom an insurer or sponsor has refused to issue an insurance certificate or membership certificate or between any attorney and an insured or member may within thirty days after such dispute or controversy arises make written request to the commissioner for a hearing thereon. The commissioner or his designee shall hear such party or parties within thirty days after receipt of such request and shall give not less than fifteen days written notice of the time and place of the hearing. Such hearing shall be an adjudicatory hearing as defined in chapter thirty A. Within thirty days after such hearing the commissioner or his designee shall issue a decision thereon.

Section 15. Upon application to the superior court by the commissioner, injunctive relief may be granted if any sponsor of an insured legal services plan or a membership legal services plan has failed to comply with the provisions of this chapter; is operating fraudulently; is operating so as to render further operations contrary to the public interest; has exceeded its powers; has violated any provision of law; is financially unable to pay its claims in full; or is insolvent. The court may forthwith issue a temporary injunction restraining the transaction of any business, and it may, after a full hearing make the injunction permanent, and appoint one or more receivers to take possession of the books, papers, monies and other assets of the sponsor to settle its affairs, and distribute its funds to those entitled thereto, subject to such rules and orders as the court may prescribe, or may make such other order as it may deem appropriate.

Section 16. It shall be unlawful for any person, group of persons, or entity except an insurer or sponsor of an insured legal services plan or a membership legal services plan, to establish, underwrite, operate or offer to sell a legal services plan, except in conformity with the provisions of this chapter; provided, however, that the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to a labor organization providing legal services to its members and their dependents nor to legal fee reimbursement services provided by an automobile club in conformity with the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-four B nor to a legal services plan established under the provisions of federal law.

Section 17. The commissioner may, after public hearing, promulgate appropriate rules and regulations for the execution of his duties under this chapter. The rules and regulations may include such provisions as the commissioner deems necessary to assure that legal services plans operate in the public interest, to enable insureds, members and their covered dependents to receive legal services at reasonable cost, and to restrain any inflation in the cost of legal services attributable to the operation of legal services plans.

At any time after one year from the date of approval by the commissioner of an insured legal services plan or a membership legal services plan under this chapter, the commissioner may, upon his finding that the public interest so requires, promulgate rules and regulations providing for his approval of the fees or methods of compensating attorneys under insured legal services plans or membership legal services plans, provided, however, that such rules and regulations shall provide that the approval of the commissioner shall not be withheld unless the commissioner finds that the fees or methods of compensating attorneys under an insured legal services plan or a membership legal services plan are unreasonable or excessive in relation to the legal services provided or to be provided thereunder. Regulations adopted under this paragraph may also provide that no attorney providing covered legal services under a legal services plan may charge an insured or member a fee in excess of such amount as may be authorized by the plan.

The advisory committee on prepaid legal services shall be an interested party with respect to rules and regulations promulgated under this section, shall have the right to participate in any hearing held hereunder, and shall receive notice of the promulgation of rules and regulations under this section.

Section 18. There shall be an advisory committee on prepaid legal services consisting of eleven members appointed by the governor, a majority of whom shall be attorneys engaged in the practice of law who are members of the Massachusetts bar and shall include representatives of the organized bar and of organized consumer interest groups. Members of such committee shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred in rendering such services.

Section 19. The provisions of this chapter may be enforced by a complaint brought in the superior court by the commissioner or the advisory committee on prepaid legal services.

Chap. 778. AN ACT CREATING THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND INDUSTRIAL CORPORATION OF LYNN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Definitions. In this act, unless a contrary intention clearly appears, the following words shall have the following meanings:

(a) "City", the city of Lynn.

(b) "Corporation", the Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Lynn created by section three.

(c) "Cost of a project", all costs, whether incurred prior to or after the issue of bonds or notes hereunder, of acquisition, site development, construction, improvement, enlargement, reconstruction, alteration, machinery, equipment, furnishings, demolition or removal of existing buildings or structures, including the cost of acquiring any lands to which such buildings or structures, including the cost of acquiring any lands to which such buildings or structures may be moved, financing charges, interest prior to and during the carrying out of any project, interest for up to two years after the completion or estimated completion date of any project, planning, engineering and legal services, administrative expenses, the funding of notes issued for capital purposes, such reserves for debt service or other capital or current expenses as may be required by a trust agreement or resolution securing notes or bonds and all other expenses incidental to the determination of the feasibility of any project or to carrying out the project or to placing the project in operation.

(d) "Economic development plan", a detailed plan, as it may be approved from time to time by the city council and the mayor under section six, for one or more economic development projects within an economic development area, which plan shall be consistent with local objectives respecting appropriate land uses, and shall be sufficiently complete to indicate the boundaries of the area, such land acquisition, such demolition, removal, and rehabilitation of structures, and such development, redevelopment and general public improvements as may be proposed to be carried out within such area, zoning and planning changes, if any, and proposed land uses, maximum densities and building requirements; provided, however, that without specific approval of the city council and of the mayor, no economic development plan shall propose zoning changes to or from business or residential uses or provide for any office building other than one wholly incidental to a manufacturing or industrial use within the area.

(e) "Economic development area", any blighted open area or any decadent area, as respectively defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, which is located in the city, and is zoned for general or restricted manufacturing uses or for general or waterfront industrial uses, whether restricted or not, and within which there are not more than forty-five dwelling units.

(f) "Economic development project", (1) a project to be undertaken in accordance with an economic development plan for acquisition by the corporation of land and the improvements thereon, if any, within an economic development area covered by an economic development plan and for clearance and development of the land so acquired; or (2) a project for the rehabilitation or conservation of an economic development area, or for the restoration and renewal of any such area or portion thereof, or for the demolition, removal or rehabilitation of improvements on land within an economic development area whenever necessary to eliminate unhealthful, unsanitary or unsafe conditions, lessen density, mitigate or eliminate traffic congestion, reduce traffic hazards or eliminate obsolete or other uses detrimental to the public welfare; or (3) a project involving any combination of the foregoing types of project. An economic development project may include improvements necessary for carrying out the objectives of the economic development project, together with such site improvements as are necessary for the preparation of any site for uses in accordance with the economic development plan and making any land or improvements acquired in the area of the project available for redevelopment or rehabilitation by private enterprise, including sale, initial leasing or retention by the corporation for industrial or manufacturing uses in accordance with the economic development plan. An economic development project may also include the construction by the corporation of any of the buildings, structures or other facilities for industrial or manufacturing uses contemplated by the economic development plan and the repair, removal or rehabilitation by the corporation of any of the buildings, structures or other facilities located in the area covered by the economic development plan and which, under such plan, are to be repaired, moved or rehabilitated.

SECTION 2. Statement of Findings. It is hereby declared that decadent or blighted open areas exist in parts of the city of Lynn zoned for industrial or manufacturing uses; that each such area constitutes a serious and growing menace, injurious and inimical to the safety, health, morals and welfare of the residents of the city; that each such area constitutes an economic liability, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of the city and retards the economic well being of the commonwealth; that each decreases the value of private investments and threatens the sources of public revenue; that redevelopment of each such area in accordance with an economic development plan for the elimination of substandard conditions and the prevention of their recurrence is necessary to retain existing industries, and attract new industries, and promote the sound economic growth of the city; that the menace of such decadent or blighted open areas is beyond remedy and control solely by regulatory process in the exercise of the police power and cannot be dealt with effectively by the ordinary operations of private enterprise without the aids herein provided; that the acquisition of property for the purpose of eliminating decadent, substandard or blighted open conditions therein, preventing recurrence of such conditions in the area, the removal of structures and improvements of sites for manufacturing and industrial uses, the disposition of the property for redevelopment incidental to the foregoing, the exercise of powers by the corporation and any assistance which may be given by the city or any other public body in connection therewith are public uses and purposes for which public money may be expended and the power of eminent domain exercised; and that the acquisition, planning, clearance, development, rehabilitation or rebuilding of such decadent and blighted open areas for industrial or manufacturing purposes are public uses and benefits for which private property may be acquired by eminent domain or regulated by wholesome and reasonable orders, laws and directions and for which public funds may be expended for the good and welfare of the city and the commonwealth.

It is hereby further found and declared that there exists in the city a condition of substantial and persistent unemployment and underemployment which causes hardship to many individuals and families, wastes vital human resources, increases the public assistance burdens, impairs the security of family life, impedes the economic and physical development of the city and adversely affects the welfare and prosperity of the people; that unemployment and underemployment have been caused in part by industrial and manufacturing companies moving from the city; that many existing industrial and manufacturing facilities within the city are obsolete and inefficient; that such facilities are underutilized or vacated, thereby creating additional unemployment; that such obsolescence and abandonment of existing facilities are causing serious injury to the economy of the city; that the manufacturing and industrial sector of the economy provides the best opportunity for better jobs at higher wages for inhabitants of the city; that new industrial and manufacturing sites are required to attract and house new industries and to retain existing industries in need of expansion space; that the unaided efforts of private enterprise have not provided and cannot provide the necessary industrial sites within the urban environment due to problems encountered in the assembly of suitable building sites, the provision of adequate public services, the unavailability of private capital for development and the inability of private enterprise alone to plan, finance and coordinate industrial development projects.

SECTION 3. Creation of Corporation. There is hereby created a public body politic and corporate, to be known as the Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Lynn, in this act called the corporation, which shall be an instrumentality of the commonwealth, consisting of seven members appointed by the mayor of the city subject to confirmation by the city council of the city, one member who has experience in industrial development activities. At least one member shall be experienced in financial matters, one in real estate matters and one in municipal government; one member shall be a person of low income, and two members at large. The mayor, in making said appointments to the corporation may give priority to those candidates who have a legal residence within the city limits of Lynn. The mayor shall designate one of the seven members as chairman and another as vice-chairman. Each of the seven members shall be sworn to the faithful performance of his official duties as a member of the corporation. A majority of the seven members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, but the action of a majority of the entire membership shall be required for any transaction. For the purposes of section eleven A of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, the corporation shall be deemed to be an authority established by the general court to serve a public purpose in the commonwealth.

Of the members of the corporation first appointed, two shall be appointed to serve for one year from the first day of July in the current year, two for two years from said date and three for three years from said date. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any such member, or any subsequent member, his successor shall be appointed in like manner for a term of three years. In the event of a vacancy in the office of a member, his successor shall be appointed in like manner to serve for the unexpired term. Unless reappointed, no member of the corporation shall hold office after the expiration of his term; and the appointment of a successor to any person whose term has expired shall be for the remainder of the term which would have begun at such expiration if the successor had then been appointed.

Any member may be removed by the mayor for malfeasance, misfeasance or willful neglect of duty, but only after reasonable notice and a public hearing, unless the same are in writing expressly waived. For the purposes of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws, the members of the corporation shall be deemed to be special municipal employees.

Before the issuance of any bonds under the provisions of this act, each member of the corporation shall execute a surety bond with a surety company authorized to transact business in this commonwealth as surety, in the penal sum of fifty thousand dollars conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office, each such surety bond to be approved by the corporation counsel of the city and filed in the office of the state secretary. The members of the corporation shall receive no compensation for the performance of their duties hereunder; but each member shall be reimbursed for expenses actually incurred in the performance of his duties. Each such reimbursement shall be open to public inspection from and after the requisition therefor.

SECTION 4. General Powers and Duties. The members of the corporation shall adopt a corporate seal for the corporation and designate the custodian thereof; may from time to time appoint and at pleasure remove a director, a clerk, a treasurer or such other officers of the corporation as they may deem necessary and may determine their duties and their compensation, which shall be paid by the corporation; shall cause at all times accurate accounts to be kept of all receipts and expenditures of the funds of the corporation and shall make a report annually in December to the mayor, the city council and the city clerk of the city, containing an abstract of such accounts and detailed information of all receipts and expenditures, including prices paid for land purchased or taken and any buildings constructed thereon, contracts for construction of facilities and for the leasing thereof and such other detailed information as may be deemed helpful. The offices of treasurer and clerk may be held by the same person. The corporation shall cause an audit of its books and accounts to be made at least once in each fiscal year by certified public accountants and the cost thereof shall be treated as an item of current expense. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the corporation shall have full power to exercise care of its property and the management of its business and affairs and to sell and convey any real estate or other property not needed for its business or affairs, by deed or other instrument sealed with the corporate seal, signed and acknowledged by a majority of the members, or in like manner to authorize such sale and conveyance by any of its officers or agents. The treasurer shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, with a surety company authorized to do business in this commonwealth as surety, in such sum as the members may determine, the premium therefor to be paid by the corporation. Neither chapter thirty-one of the General Laws nor any rule made thereunder shall apply to any person employed or engaged by the corporation under this act.

SECTION 5. Specific Powers. The corporation is hereby authorized:

(a) To sue and be sued in its own name and plead and be impleaded.

(b) To adopt by-laws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business and to alter the same at its pleasure.

(c) To make and enter into all contracts and agreements necessary or incidental to the performance of its duties and the execution of its powers under this act, and to employ consulting engineers, superintendents, managers, and such other engineers, construction and accounting experts and attorneys and such other employees, agents and consultants as may be necessary in its judgement and to fix their compensation!

(d) To receive and accept from any federal agency or the commonwealth of the city grants, loans or advances for or in aid of an economic development project or projects and to receive and accept contributions from any source of either money, property, labor or other things of value, to be held, used and applied for the purposes for which such grants, loans, advances and contributions may be made.

(e) To borrow money, and, from time to time, to make, accept, endorse, execute and issue bonds, debentures, promissory notes, bills of exchange, and other obligations of the corporation, for moneys borrowed or in payment for property acquired or for any of the other purposes of the corporation and to secure the payment of such obligations by mortgage, pledge, deed, indenture, agreement, or other instrument of trust, or by other lien upon, assignment of, or agreement in regard to all or any part of the property, rights or privileges of the corporation.

(f) To issue revenue bonds of the corporation, payable solely from revenues, for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of a project or projects.

(g) To invest any funds not required for immediate use or disbursement in certificates of deposit or in obligations of the government of the United States or in obligations the payment of the principal of, and interest on, which is guaranteed by the government of the United States.

(h) To provide such advisory services and technical assistance as may be desirable to carry out the purposes of the act.

(i) To prepare or cause to be prepared plans, designs, drawings, specifications and estimates of cost for the construction, reconstruction, development, redevelopment, rehabilitation, remodeling, alteration or repair of economic development projects and from time to time modify such plans, designs, drawings, specifications and estimates.

(j) Subject to the approval of the city council and of the mayor, to designate areas of the city as economic development areas.

(k) To acquire and hold by bequest, devise, grant, gift, purchase, exchange, lease, judicial order or decree, or otherwise, for any of its objects and purposes, any property, either real or personal, or any interest therein; and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to acquire by purchase or otherwise, on such terms and conditions and in such manner as it may deem proper, or by the exercise of the power of eminent domain in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A of the General Laws insofar as such provisions may be applicable, such private lands, or any interest therein, as it may deem necessary for carrying out the provisions of this act or for providing for the relocation of persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out an economic development plan. The provisions of this section forty of said chapter seventy-nine shall apply to any taking by the corporation, except that the security therein required shall be deposited with the collector-treasurer of the city and shall be in an amount at least twenty-five per cent higher than the aggregate average assessed valuations in the three previous calendar years of all real estate to be taken by eminent domain. Prior to the approval of an economic development plan by the city council and the mayor, the corporation shall neither acquire any property nor institute any proceeding under chapter eighty A, except for purposes of relocation; provided, however, that if an economic development plan contemplates the taking by eminent domain of lands particularly described therein, and if said plan is approved by the city council and the mayor, the date as of which the value of such lands shall be determined for eminent domain purposes shall be the date on which said economic development plan was first submitted to the city council.

(l) To make relocation payments to persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out an economic development plan, including such payments on a pro tanto basis.

(m) To procure insurance against any loss in connection with its property and other assets and operations in such amounts and from such insurers as it deems desirable.

(n) To clear and improve property acquired by it and to engage in or contract for the construction, reconstruction, development, redevelopment, rehabilitation, remodeling, alteration or repair thereof.

(o) To arrange or contract with the city for the planning, replanning, opening, grading or closing of streets, roads, alleys or other places or for the furnishing of facilities or for the acquisition by the city of property or property rights or for the furnishing of property or services in connection with a project or projects.

(p) To sell, convey, mortgage, lease, transfer, option, exchange or otherwise dispose of any property, either real or personal, or any interest therein, as the objects and purposes of the corporation may require, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law.

(q) To loan on mortgages, including purchase money mortgages, on real estate and personal property within economic development areas, to foreclose the same when in default and to bid for and purchase property at any foreclosure or other sale, and, in such event, to deal with such property, in such manner as may be necessary or desirable to protect the interests of the corporation therein.

(r) To manage any project whether owned or leased by the corporation and to enter into agreements with the commonwealth or the city or any agency or instrumentality thereof or with any person, firm, partnership or corporation either public or private for the purpose of causing any project to be managed.

(s) To act with respect to one or more projects as a corporation organized under section three or section eighteen B of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws; provided that the accounts for each project shall be kept separately and the income of one project shall not be expended upon or for the benefit of another project.

(t) To do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this act.

The corporation is hereby directed to pay the reasonable relocation costs of persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out an economic development plan as authorized by clause (1) of this section; provided, however, that the corporation shall not be required hereby to pay or contribute to the payment of such costs of any relocatee in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars.

SECTION 6. Economic Development Plan. No economic development project shall be undertaken until (a) a public hearing relating to the economic development plan covering such project has been held by the corporation after due notice and (b) the economic development plan has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the city council and the approval of the mayor, except that if within ninety days after the submission of an economic development plan to the city council for approval, the city council has not voted such plan shall be deemed to have been disapproved without prejudice by the city council. If no economic development project covered by an economic development plan is commenced within seven years after the approval of such plan, the approval of such plan shall lapse.

Every economic development plan submitted to the city council for approval under this act (i) shall require that every person occupying the whole or any part of the economic development area covered by such plan during the period of forty years after the approval of such plan shall make every reasonable effort, in employing persons in his business, to give to the fullest practicable extent preference to residents of the city and (ii) shall be accompanied by a report on such plan by the planning agency of the city to whom such plan shall have been submitted before its submission to the city council, by a statement of the proposed method for financing each project covered by such plan, by a comprehensive relocation plan and by such other information as the corporation deems advisable.

Notice of the public hearing required by the first paragraph of this section shall be given by the corporation to (1) such persons, groups and organizations as have requested in writing that such notice be given them, (2) every public agency, whether of the city or of the commonwealth, likely in the judgement of the corporation to have an actual or potential interest in the economic development plan, (3) the senator for every senatorial district of the commonwealth, and the representative for every representative district thereof, within which the economic development area or any part thereof lies, and (4) each publicly appointed or elected local advisory committee, and each community group supported in whole or in part by public funds, whose territory covers all or part of the economic development area. In the course of preparing an economic development plan, the corporation shall consult with each of the aforesaid so far as in the judgment of the corporation it is practicable.

If an economic development plan is approved by the city council and the mayor, the corporation shall have the powers and duties imposed by this act to undertake and carry out the economic development projects covered by such plan. The corporation shall not be required to submit an economic development plan so approved to the department of community affairs of the commonwealth for further approval.

SECTION 7. Rents and Charges. Rents and charges for services or facilities furnished or supplied by the corporation shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and, if derived from a project in connection with which revenue bonds have been issued, shall, with all other revenues derived from the project, except such part thereof as may be necessary to pay such cost of maintenance, repair and operation and to provide such reserves therefor as may be provided for in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or in the trust agreement, but including such part thereof as may be necessary to provide such reserves for the payment of the principal of and the interest on said revenue bonds as may be provided for in such resolution or trust agreement, and including also the proceeds of any and all sales by the corporation of property within the project area, be set aside at such regular intervals as may be provided for in such resolution or trust agreement, in a sinking fund which is hereby pledged to and charged with the payment of (1) the interest upon such bonds as such interest shall fall due, (2) the principal of the bonds as the same shall fall due, (3) the necessary charges of paying agents for paying principal and interest and (4) the redemption price or the purchase price of bonds retired by call or purchase as therein provided.

SECTION 8. Liability of the Corporation. The corporation shall be liable in contract or in tort in the same manner as a private corporation. The members, employees, officers and agents of the corporation shall not be liable as such on its contracts or for torts not committed or directly authorized by them. The property or funds of the corporation shall not be subject to attachment or to levy and sale on execution, but if the corporation refuses to pay a judgement entered against it in any court of competent jurisdiction, the superior court, sitting within and for the county in which the corporation is situated, may, by writ of mandamus, direct the treasurer of such agency to pay such judgment. The real estate of the corporation shall not be subject to liens under chapter two hundred and fifty-four of the General Laws, but the provisions of sections twenty-eight and twenty-nine of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws shall be applicable to any construction work by the corporation.

SECTION 9. Exemption from Taxation; Payments in Lieu of Real Property Taxes. The real estate and tangible personal property of the corporation shall be deemed to be public property used for essential public and governmental purposes and shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments; provided, however, that in lieu of such taxes, betterments and special assessments the city may determine a sum to be paid to it annually in any year or period of years, such sum to be in any year not in excess of the amount that would be levied at the then current tax rate upon the average of the assessed value of such real estate, including buildings and other structures, for the three years preceding the year of acquisition thereof, the valuation for each year being reduced by all abatements thereon.

The city may, however, agree with the corporation upon the payments to be made to the city or the corporation may make and the city may accept such payments, the amount of which shall not in either case be subject to the foregoing limitation. The last paragraph of section six and all of section seven of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws shall, so far as apt, be applicable to payments under this section.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as other real estate is taxed of real estate acquired by the corporation for an economic development project and sold by it, or the taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as real estate of the commonwealth is taxed, of real estate so acquired by the corporation and sold or leased to an urban redevelopment corporation or other entity operating under chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws, or to an insurance company or savings bank or group of savings banks operating under said chapter, shall be taxed as provided in said chapter and not otherwise.

The corporation and the debentures, revenue bonds and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this act, their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation by the commonwealth or any subdivision thereof.

SECTION 10. Debentures. To provide funds for the general purposes of the corporation, including working capital, the corporation may from time to time issue debentures; provided, however, that such debentures outstanding at any one time shall not exceed five million dollars. Such debentures shall not be deemed to constitute a debt of the commonwealth or of the city or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or of the city and shall be subordinated to all other obligations of the corporation and shall be payable at such time or times and in such installments, if any, as the corporation shall determine, but solely out of the net assets of the corporation; and the holders thereof shall be entitled to interest thereon but only out of the net earnings of the corporation and in no event at a rate higher than the rate specified therein.

Such debentures may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the corporation and a corporate trustee, which shall be located within the commonwealth and shall be a trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company. Such trust agreement shall contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the debentureholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth which may act as depository under such trust agreement to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the corporation. Such trust agreement shall set forth the rights and remedies of the debentureholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by debentureholders. In addition to the foregoing, such trust agreement may contain such other provisions as the corporation may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the debentureholders. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust agreement may be treated as an item of current expense.

Debentures may be issued under the provisions of this act without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things other than those proceedings, conditions, or things which are specifically required by this act.

SECTION 11. Financial Aid from the City. The city may raise and appropriate or may borrow or may agree with the corporation or with the federal government or the commonwealth to raise and appropriate or to borrow, in aid of the corporation, such sums as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and powers of the corporation including defraying part of the development, aquisition and operating costs of any project; provided, however, that the city shall not borrow, nor agree to borrow, as aforesaid unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of all the city councillors passed only after two separate readings and by two separate votes, the second of such readings and votes to be had not less than fourteen days after the first. Indebtedness of the city authorized under this section shall be outside the limit of indebtedness prescribed in section ten of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and shall be payable within twenty years and otherwise subject to sections sixteen to twenty-seven, inclusive, of said chapter forty-four; provided, however, that the total amount of indebtedness of the city outstanding at any one time under this section and clauses (1), (2) and (4) of section twenty of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws shall not exceed five per cent of the city's equalized valuation as defined in section one of said chapter forty-four. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall be subject to approval under section twenty-two of said chapter one hundred and twenty-one B in like manner as indebtedness incurred under said section twenty.

SECTION 12. Revenue Bonds. The corporation is hereby authorized to provide by resolution, at one time or from time to time, for the issuance of revenue bonds of the corporation for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of a project or projects. The principal of and interest on such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided for such payment. The bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rates, and shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their date or dates, as may be determined by the corporation, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the corporation, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the corporation prior to the issuance of the bonds. The corporation shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and the manner of execution of the bonds, and shall fix the denomination, or denominations of the bonds and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. The bonds may be issued in coupon or registered form, or both, as the corporation may determine and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, and for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest. The corporation may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or at private sale, and for such price, as it may determine to be for the best interests of the corporation.

The proceeds of such bonds shall be used solely for the payment of the cost of the project or projects and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the corporation may provide. Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the corporation may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds have been executed and are available for delivery. The corporation may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Revenue bonds may be issued under the provisions of this act without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board bureau or agency of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things other than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required by this act.

The corporation is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issuance of revenue refunding bonds of the corporation for the purpose of refunding any revenue bonds then outstanding and issued under the provisions of this act, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such bonds, and, if deemed advisable by the corporation, for the additional purpose of constructing or reconstructing any extensions or improvements of the project. The issue of such bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the duties of the corporation in respect of the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act insofar as the same may be applicable.

While any bonds issued by the corporation remain outstanding, the powers, duties or existence of the corporation shall not be diminished or impaired in any way that will affect adversely the interests and rights of the holders of such bonds.

Revenue and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this section, unless otherwise authorized by law, shall not be deemed to constitute a debt of the commonwealth or of the city or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or of the city, but such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided therefor from revenues. All such revenue and revenue refunding bonds shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the corporation nor the commonwealth nor the city shall be obliged to pay the same or the interest thereon except from revenues and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the commonwealth or of the city is pledged to the payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds.

All revenue and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments as defined in section 3-104 of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 13. Trust Agreement. In the discretion of the corporation such revenue bonds or revenue refunding bonds may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the corporation and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within the commonwealth. Such trust agreement may pledge or assign the revenues to be received, but shall not convey or mortgage any project or part thereof.

Either the resolution providing for the issuance of bonds or such trust agreement may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof, which may include the acceleration of maturities, and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the corporation in relation to the acquisition, construction, improvement, enlargement, alteration, equipping, furnishing, maintenance, operation, repair, insurance and disposition of property, the custody, safeguarding, investment and application of moneys, the use of any surplus bond or note proceeds and the establishment of reserves. Such resolution or trust agreement may also contain covenants by the corporation in relation to, among other things, (a) the establishment, revision and collection of such rents and charges for services or facilities furnished or supplied by the corporation as shall provide revenues sufficient with other revenues of the project, if any, to pay (i) the cost of maintaining, repairing and operating the project and of making renewals and replacements in connection therewith, (ii) the principal of and the interest on said revenue bonds as the same shall become due and payable, (iii) payments in lieu of taxes, betterments, and special assessments, and (iv) reserves for all of such purposes, (b) the purpose or purposes for which the proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be applied and the use and disposition thereof, (c) the use and disposition of the gross revenues of the corporation from the project, any additions thereto and extensions and improvements thereof, including the creation and maintenance of funds for working capital and for renewals and replacements to the project, (d) the amount, if any, of additional revenue bonds payable from the revenues of the project and the limitations, terms, and conditions on which such additional revenue bonds may be issued, and (e) the operation, maintenance, management, accounting, and auditing of the project and of the income and revenues of the corporation. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth to act as depository of the proceeds of bonds or of revenues and to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the corporation. Such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders as is customary in trust agreements or trust indentures securing bonds and debentures of corporations. In addition to the foregoing, such trust agreement may contain such other provisions as the corporation may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust agreement may be treated as a part of the cost of the operation of the project. The pledge by any such trust agreement or resolution shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made; the revenues or other moneys so pledged and then held or thereafter received by the corporation shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act; and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract, or otherwise against the corporation, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any trust agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the corporation, and no filing need be made under chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 14. Bonds Eligible for Investment. Revenue bonds and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this act are hereby made securities in which all public officers and public bodies of the commonwealth and its political subdivisions, all insurance companies, trust companies in their commercial departments and within the limits set by section fifty-four of chapter one hundred and seventy-two of the General Laws, banking associations, investment companies, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons whatsoever who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of a similar nature may properly and legally invest funds, including capital in their control or belonging to them, and such bonds are hereby made obligations which may properly and legally be made eligible for the investment of savings deposits and the income thereof in the manner provided by section fifty of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight of the General Laws. Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the commonwealth is now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

SECTION 15. Remedies. Any holder of bonds or debentures issued under the provisions of this act or of any coupons appertaining thereto, and the trustee, except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by the trust agreement, may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceeding, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under the trust agreement, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this act or by the trust agreement to be performed by the corporation or by any officer thereof.

SECTION 16. Inconsistent Provisions of Other Laws Superseded. Insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, general or special, excluding the Lynn Building Code and the Lynn Zoning Code, the provisions of this act shall be controlling.

SECTION 17. Severability. The provisions of this act are severable; and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

SECTION 18. Construction of Act. This act, being necessary for the welfare of the city and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose thereof; and nothing in this act shall be construed to render chapter forty D of the General Laws inapplicable to the city.

Chap. 780. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ACQUISITION OF AGRICULTURAL PRESERVATION RESTRICTIONS BY THE COMMONWEALTH.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide for the protection and preservation of agricultural lands, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 132A of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 11 the following four sections:-

Section 11A. The secretary of environmental affairs shall establish a program to assist the commonwealth in the acquisition of agricultural preservation restrictions as defined in section thirty-one of chapter one hundred and eighty-four, for land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural uses as defined in sections one to five, inclusive, of chapter sixty-one A. The commissioner of food and agriculture may from funds appropriated to carry out the provisions of this section, or received from other sources, pay any agricultural land owner for a project submitted by a city or town and approved by the agricultural lands preservation committee established by section eleven B such amount as is determined by said agricultural lands preservation committee to be equitable in consideration of anticipated benefits from such project but not to exceed the difference between the fair market value of such land and the fair market value of such land restricted for agricultural purposes pursuant to this section. Title to agricultural preservation restrictions purchased by the commonwealth pursuant to this section shall be held in the name of the commonwealth. Projects shall be administered by conservation commissions in cities and towns in which such commissions have been established, or in a city, by the city council or its delegated agency subject to the provisions of the city charter, or in a town, by the board of selectmen or its delegated agency. Said commissioner, subject to the approval of the secretary, shall establish procedures for management of such program.

Section 11B. There is hereby created an agricultural lands preservation committee in the department of food and agriculture, the members of which shall be the commissioner of food and agriculture, who shall be chairman, the secretary of environmental affairs, the secretary of communities and development, the director of the office of state planning, the chairman of the board of food and agriculture or their respective designees, and four members appointed by the governor, two of whom shall be owners and operators of farms within the commonwealth. The dean of the college of food and natural resources of the University of Massachusetts and the state conservationist of the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service, or their respective designees, shall serve as nonvoting members. Said committee shall evaluate and accept or reject projects submitted by cities and towns. In so evaluating, the committee shall consider at a minimum the following:-

1. The suitability of land as to soil classification and other criteria for agricultural use.

2. The fair market value of such land and the fair market value of such land when used for agricultural purposes as determined by independent appraisals.

3. The degree to which the acquisition would serve to preserve the agricultural potential of the commonwealth.

The commissioner of food and agriculture may establish such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

Section 11C. The agricultural lands preservation committee shall prepare an annual report. Such report shall include the number and geographic distribution of applications accepted and rejected, the acreage and costs of purchases, and such other information as will enable the program to be evaluated.

Section 11D. Land under agricultural preservation restrictions, while actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural or agricultural and horticultural use as defined in sections one to five, inclusive, of chapter sixty-one A, shall be assessed for general property tax purposes at values no greater than those determined by the methods and provisions of section ten of said chapter sixty-one A.

SECTION 2. Section 31 of chapter 184 of the General Laws, as amended by chapter 15 of the acts of 1976, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:-

An agricultural preservation restriction means a right, whether or not stated in the form of a restriction, easement, covenant or condition, in any deed, will or other instrument executed by or on behalf of the owner of the land appropriate to retaining land or water areas predominately in their agricultural farming or forest use, to forbid or limit any or all (a) construction or placing of buildings except for those used for agricultural purposes or for dwellings used for family living by the land owner, his immediate family or employees; (b) excavation, dredging or removal of loam, peat, gravel, soil, rock or other mineral substance in such a manner as to adversely affect the land's overall future agricultural potential; and (c) other acts or uses detrimental to such retention of the land for agricultural use. Such agricultural preservation restrictions shall be in perpetuity except as released under the provisions of section thirty-two. All other customary rights and privileges of ownership shall be retained by the owner including the right to privacy and to carry out all regular farming practices.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 184 is hereby further amended by striking out section 32, as most recently amended by section 294 of chapter 706 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 32. No conservation restriction or agricultural preservation restriction as defined in section thirty-one, held by any governmental body or by a charitable corporation or trust whose purposes include conservation of land or water areas or of a particular such area, and no preservation restriction, as defined in section thirty-one, held by any governmental body or by a charitable corporation or trust whose purposes include preservation of buildings or sites of historical significance or of a particular such building or site, shall be unenforceable on account of lack of privity of estate or contract or lack of benefit to particular land or on account of the benefit being assignable or being assigned to any other governmental body or to any charitable corporation or trust with like purposes, provided (a) in case of a restriction held by a city or town or a commission, authority, or other instrumentality thereof it is approved by the secretary of environmental affairs if a conservation restriction, the commissioner of food and agriculture if an agricultural preservation restriction or the Massachusetts historical commission if a preservation restriction, and (b) in case of a restriction held by a charitable corporation or trust it is approved by the mayor, or in cities having a city manager the city manager, and the city council of the city, or the selectmen or town meeting of the town, in which the land is situated, and the secretary of environmental affairs if a conservation restriction, the commissioner of food and agriculture if an agricultural preservation restriction or the Massachusetts historical commission if a preservation restriction.

Such conservation, preservation, and agricultural preservation restrictions are interests in land and may be acquired by any governmental body or such charitable corporations or trust which have power to acquire interest in the land, in the same manner as it may acquire other interests in land. Such a restriction may be enforced by injunction or other proceeding, and shall entitle representatives of the holder to enter the land in a reasonable manner and at reasonable times to assure compliance. Such a restriction may be released, in whole or in part, by the holder for such consideration, if any, as the holder may determine, in the same manner as the holder may dispose of land or other interests in land, but only after a public hearing upon reasonable public notice, by the governmental body holding the restriction or if held by a charitable corporation or trust, by the mayor, or in cities having a city manager the city manager, the city council of the city or the selectmen of the town, whose approval shall be required, and in case of a restriction requiring approval by the secretary of environmental affairs, the Massachusetts historical commission or the commissioner of food and agriculture, only with like approval of the release.

No restriction that has been purchased with state funds shall be released unless it is repurchased by the land owner at its then current fair market value. Funds so received shall revert to the fund sources from which the original purchase was made, or, lacking such source, shall be made available to acquire similar interests in other land. Agricultural preservation restrictions shall be released by the holder only if the land is no longer deemed suitable for agricultural or horticultural purposes or unless two-thirds of both branches of the general court, by a vote taken by yeas and nays, vote that the restrictions shall be released for the public good.

Approvals of restrictions and releases shall be evidenced by certificates of the secretary of environmental affairs or the chairman, clerk or secretary of the Massachusetts historical commission, the commissioner of food and agriculture, city council, or selectmen of the town, duly recorded or registered.

In determining whether the restriction or its continuance is in the public interest, the governmental body acquiring, releasing or approving shall take into consideration the public interest in such conservation, preservation or agricultural preservation, and any national, state, regional and local program in furtherance thereof, and also any public state, regional or local comprehensive land use or development plan affecting the land, and any known proposal by a governmental body for use of the land.

This section shall not be construed to imply that any restriction, easement, covenant or condition which does not have the benefit of this section shall, on account of any provisions hereof, be unenforceable. Nothing in this section or section thirty-one and section thirty-three shall diminish the powers granted by any general or special law to acquire by purchase, gift, eminent domain or otherwise to use land for public purposes.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit the department of public utilities from authorizing the taking of easements for the purpose of utility services provided that (a) said department shall require the minimum practicable interference with farming operations with respect to width of easement, pole locations and other pertinent matters, (b) the applicant has received all necessary licenses, permits, approvals and other authorizations from the appropriate state agencies, (c) the applicant shall compensate the owner of the property in the same manner and at the same fair market value as if the land were not under restriction.

Chap. 781. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE DIMENSIONS OF SEMITRAILER UNITS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 90 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 19, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 35 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 19. No motor vehicle or trailer, the outside width of which is more than ninety-six inches or in the case of a motor bus one hundred and two inches or the extreme overall length of which is more than thirty-three feet or, in the case of a truck, thirty-five feet, or in the case of a motor bus, forty feet, shall be operated on any way without a special permit so to operate from the board or officer having charge of such way or, in case of a state highway or a way determined by the department of public works to be a through route, from said department; provided, that such width may be exceeded by the lateral projection of pneumatic tires beyond the rims of the wheels for such distance on either side of the vehicle or trailer as will not increase its outside width above one hundred two inches; provided, further, that such width may be further exceeded by the lateral projection of mirrors or other devices on semitrailer units, tractor-trailer combinations, tractors, commercial vehicles having a registered gross weight in excess of ten thousand pounds, a bus or a school bus, so long as such mirrors or other devices will not increase the outside width of such vehicles above one hundred and twelve inches and provided such mirrors or other devices are so mounted as not to constitute a hazard to pedestrians on or adjacent to any public way. The overall length of a semitrailer unit or tractor-trailer combination, wherever used, may exceed thirty-three feet but shall not exceed sixty feet, except as authorized by a special permit granted as aforesaid. The overall length of the semitrailer in a semitrailer unit or the trailer in a tractor-trailer combination, except when used for the transportation of irreducible loads, shall not exceed forty-five feet, except that the owner, lessee or bailee of a semitrailer or trailer the overall length of which exceeds forty-five feet but does not exceed forty-eight feet, may obtain a permit from the department of public works, to be called a "trailer length permit", which shall be distinguished from the special permit established under the provisions of this paragraph. A trailer length permit shall prohibit the use of such semitrailer or trailer for the pick-up of goods from or delivery of goods to private residences. A trailer length permit shall restrict such semitrailer or trailer to no more than one intermediate stop where additional cargo may be picked up or part of the shipment delivered between the point of entry into the commonwealth in the case of shipments originating outside the commonwealth or the point of origin in the case of shipments originating within the commonwealth, and the point of delivery within the commonwealth or the point of exit from the commonwealth. A trailer length permit shall be issued on an annual basis to the owner, lessee or bailee of one or more such semitrailers or trailers for an annual fee of fifty dollars for each semitrailer or trailer covered. The total of all such fees paid by any single owner, lessee or bailee in any calendar year for semitrailers or trailers registered in the commonwealth shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars. The trailer length permit shall list the manufacturer's vehicle identification number of each semitrailer or trailer covered, and a copy thereof shall be carried on each such semitrailer or trailer or in the tractor accompanying it. The trailer length permit may be amended at any time by the addition of one or more semitrailers or trailers upon payment of the annual fee, subject to the foregoing limitation on total fees. The department may suspend the applicability of any trailer length permit to a specific trailer or semitrailer for a period not exceeding ten days for the first violation by such trailer or semitrailer in any two-year period of the travel restrictions applicable to such permit, may suspend the applicability of such permit to the same trailer or semitrailer for a period not exceeding thirty days for a subsequent violation of such travel restrictions by the same trailer or semitrailer within such two-year period, and shall revoke the applicability of such permit to the same trailer or semitrailer when it finds that the holder thereof has engaged in a pattern of repeated or continuous violations by the same trailer or semitrailer of the terms of such permit. The department may not suspend or revoke such applicability when it finds that the owner, lessee or bailee of such trailer had no actual or constructive knowledge of such violation or violations at or before the time they were committed. Notwithstanding the previous provisions of this section, the combined overall length of a pole dolly or pole dickey and the load being carried thereon may, while being used for the transportation of poles or single units of lumber or metal, exceed forty-eight feet, but the overall length when considered in combination with the motor vehicle accompanying it shall not exceed sixty-five feet or, in the case of an electric company as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-four, seventy feet, without a special permit as provided for in this paragraph.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, no passenger motor vehicle shall be operated on any way if such vehicle has the side wall or thread of any tire projecting outward beyond the outer portion of the fender or side body panel, unless such vehicle is equipped with four-wheel drive or is otherwise modified and intended for off-the-way use. No vehicle shall exceed a height of thirteen feet six inches, except that a special permit may be issued by the board or officer having charge of the ways for the operation of a vehicle of a height in excess of this limitation. The aforesaid dimensions of width, length and height shall be inclusive of the load and load-holding devices. No motor vehicle registered under the provisions of this chapter which has a total height exceeding ten feet, excluding the height of any load thereon shall be operated on any way unless such total height is painted or printed in letters and numerals at least four inches high in a conspicuous place upon the side or front of such vehicle. The foregoing limitations on length shall not apply to any vehicle or combination of vehicles being towed because of disablement or emergency. Except as provided in this section, no trailer which with its load weighs more than five thousand pounds, other than a semitrailer, a heavy duty platform trailer, a cable-reel trailer, a house trailer, or a trailer which is an apparatus or other object on wheels not used to transport other things for delivery, shall be operated or drawn on any way without a permit so to operate from the board or officer having charge of such way or, in case of a state highway or a way determined by the department of public works to be a through route, from said department. Any motor vehicle, trailer or other vehicle which carries a crane, or boom whether or not permanently or temporarily attached to said vehicle or trailer shall, if such crane or boom extends more than four feet beyond the bed or body of such vehicle or trailer, display at the extreme rear end of such crane or boom a red light or red flag or cloth in the manner provided in section seven; provided, however, that if such crane or boom extends more than fifteen feet beyond the bed or body of such vehicle or trailer, such vehicle or trailer shall not be operated or drawn on any way unless another vehicle follows immediately behind the projecting extremity of such crane or boom for the purpose of protecting other vehicles approaching from the rear. A trailer which with its load weighs not more than six thousand pounds may be operated or drawn upon any way, if such trailer is used exclusively for agricultural purposes, but this provision shall not prevent any trailer, if used exclusively for such purposes, from being operated without registration upon any way in the manner provided in section nine. A trailer which with its load weighs more than three thousand pounds may be operated or drawn upon any way for a distance not exceeding three hundred yards, if such trailer is used for industrial purposes other than agricultural purposes, for the purpose of going from property owned or occupied by the owner of such trailer to other property so owned or occupied. No motor vehicle shall be operated on any way to draw more than one trailer or other vehicle without a permit so to operate from the department of public works.

Section 6. Property which is subject to a mortgage executed before an estate of homestead was acquired therein, or executed afterward and containing a release thereof, shall be subject to an estate of homestead, except as against the mortgage and those claiming under him, in the same manner as if there were no such mortgage. If the owner of the equity in such property redeems the mortgage, he shall not be allowed to claim under it against the owner of the estate of homestead, his or her surviving spouse, heirs or assigns; but if said owner of the estate of homestead, his or her surviving spouse, heirs or assigns offers to redeem the residue above the homestead estate and the mortgage from a sale or set-off on execution and the judgment creditor has redeemed the mortgage, the amount paid for such redemption of the mortgage, with interest and expenses, shall be included in the amount to be paid for the redemption of said residue.

Section 7. No conveyance of property in which an estate of homestead exists, and no release or waiver of such estate, shall convey the part so held and exempted, or defeat the right of the owner or of the owner's spouse and minor unmarried children to a homestead therein, unless such conveyance is by a deed signed by the spouse, he or she being competent so to act, or unless such right is released as provided in chapter two hundred and nine; but a deed duly executed without such signature or release shall be valid to pass, according to its terms, any title or interest in the property beyond the estate of homestead. An estate of homestead created under section two may be discharged and released as to the claims of minor unmarried children by the execution of an instrument signed and sealed by the person owning the estate or if husband and wife, by both of them or the survivor, so indicating said discharge or release; provided that the original instrument creating the estate of homestead conferred said authority.

Section 8. The surviving spouse and the guardian of the minor children, if he has obtained a license therefor from the probate court as in the sale of land of minors, may join in a sale of an estate of homestead; or if there is no surviving spouse entitled to rights therein, the guardian may, upon obtaining such license, make sale of such estate; and the surviving spouse may make such sale if there are no minor children. The purchaser shall enjoy and possess the premises for the full time the surviving spouse and children or either of them might have continued to hold and enjoy them if no sale had been made. The probate court may apportion the proceeds of the sale among the parties entitled thereto.

Chap. 801. AN ACT REQUIRING INSURANCE POLICIES TO BE WRITTEN IN A FORM THAT CAN BE EASILY UNDERSTOOD.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 2A the following section:-

Section 2B. 1. No policy form of insurance shall be delivered or issued for delivery to more than fifty policyholders in the commonwealth until a copy of the policy form has been on file for thirty days with the commissioner, unless before the expiration of said thirty days the commissioner shall have approved the form of the policy in writing as complying with this section; nor shall any such policy be delivered or issued for delivery if the commissioner notifies the company in writing within said thirty days that in his opinion the form of said policy does not comply with the provisions of this section, specifying the reasons for his opinion, provided that such action of the commissioner shall be subject to review by the supreme judicial court, but during any such review the form shall not be delivered or issued for delivery in the commonwealth; nor shall any such policy form be so delivered or issued for delivery unless:

(a) The text achieves a minimum Flesch scale readability score of fifty;

(b) It is printed, except for tables, in not less than ten point type, two points leaded, and with respect to schedule pages, in not less than ten point type, one point leaded;

(c) The style, arrangement and overall appearance of the policy give no undue prominence to any portion of the text of the policy and any endorsements or riders;

(d) It contains a table of contents or an alphabetical subject index;

(e) The width of margins and ink to paper contrast do not unreasonably interfere with the readability of the form; and

(f) The organization of the content of the policy and the summary of the policy is conducive to understandability of the form.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the affirmative approval of the commissioner before issuance of a policy form which has been on file for at least thirty days.

For the purposes of this section, a Flesch scale readability score shall be measured as hereinafter provided:

(1) For policy forms containing ten thousand words or less of text, the entire form shall be analyzed. For policy forms containing more than ten thousand words, the readability of two two hundred word samples per page may be analyzed in lieu of the entire form. The samples shall be separated by at least twenty printed lines.

(2) (a) (i) The number of words and sentences in the text shall be counted and the total number of words divided by the total number of sentences. The figure obtained shall be multiplied by a factor of 1.015.

(ii) The total number of syllables shall be counted and divided by the total number of words. The figure obtained shall be multiplied by a factor of 84.6.

(iii) The sum of the figures computed under subclause (i) and subclause (ii) subtracted from 206.835 equals the Flesch scale readability score for the policy form.

(b) For the purposes of clause (a) the following procedures shall be used:

(i) A contraction, hyphenated word, or numbers and letters, when separated by spaces, shall be counted as one word;

(ii) A unit of words ending with a period, semicolon, or colon, but excluding headings and captions shall be counted as a sentence; and

(iii) A syllable means a unit of spoken language consisting of one or more letters of a word as divided by an accepted dictionary. Where the dictionary shows two or more equally acceptable pronunciations of a word, the pronunciation containing fewer syllables may be used.

Every policy form filed with the commissioner under this section shall be accompanied by a certificate stating the Flesch scale readability score achieved by such form.

The term "text" as used in this section shall include all printed matter except the name and address of the insurer, name or title of the policy, the brief description if any, captions and subcaptions, and schedule pages and tables.

The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, designate other readability tests as acceptable alternative tests to the Flesch scale readability analysis if he finds that any other such tests are equivalent in function, result and understandability.

This section shall apply to any domestic or foreign company, whether licensed or unlicensed by the commissioner to do business in the commonwealth.

2. For the purposes of this section the words policy form shall include, in addition to all policy forms of insurance, all certificates and subscription agreements or contracts of insurance issued pursuant to chapters one hundred and seventy-six, one hundred and seventy-six A, one hundred and seventy-six B and one hundred and seventy-six G, but shall not include any form for casualty or property insurance which is issued to insure a business, professional or governmental operation or any form for life insurance, accident or health insurance, or annuities, (a) which is a security subject to federal jurisdiction, (b) which is issued in connection with any employee benefit plan subject to Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 United States Code, sections 1002 to 1144, inclusive, or described in any of sections 79, 105, 401 or 403(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, (c) which conforms to the requirements of sections 403(b) or 408(b) of said Code or (d) which is a form used in connection with, as a conversion from, or in exchange for a policy form approved or deemed approved prior to the date such forms must be approved under this section; policyholder shall include, in addition to all insurance policyholders, all subscribers and holders of certificates issued pursuant to chapters one hundred and seventy-six, one hundred and seventy-six A, one hundred and seventy-six B and one hundred and seventy-six G.

3. Where the requirements of this section are met, the commissioner may approve such policy form for use in the commonwealth notwithstanding those provisions of any other laws which specify the content of insurance policies, provided the approved policy assures to the policyholders and claimants protection no less favorable than they would be entitled to under such other law.

In any action brought by a policyholder or claimant arising out of a policy form approved pursuant to this section, the policyholder or claimant may base such an action on either or both the substantive language prescribed by such other statute or the wording of the approved policy form.

SECTION 2. Clause Ninth of section 99 of said chapter 175, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 478 of the acts of 1951, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 3, the words "eight point" and inserting in place thereof the words:- ten point, two points leaded.

(This Bill, returned by the Governor, to the House of Representatives, the branch in which it originated, with his objections thereto, was passed by the House of Representatives, November 29, 1977, and, in concurrence, by the Senate, December 6, 1977, the objections of the Governor notwithstanding, in the manner prescribed by the Constitution; and thereby has "the force of a law".)

Chap. 804. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE DISBURSEMENT OF INSURANCE PROCEEDS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to regulate forthwith the disbursement of insurance proceeds, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 139 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 3A the following section:-

Section 3B. No insurer shall pay any claim (1) covering any loss, damage, or destruction to a building or other structure, amounting to one thousand dollars or more, or (2) covering any loss, damage or destruction of any amount, which causes the condition of a building or other structure to render section six of chapter one hundred and forty-three applicable, without having at least ten days previously, given written notice to the building commissioner or inspector of buildings appointed pursuant to the state building code, and to the board of health or the board of selectmen of the city or town in which the same is located. If at any time prior to payment the said city or town notifies the insurer by certified mail of its intent to initiate proceedings designed to perfect a lien pursuant to section three A, or to section nine of chapter one hundred and forty-three, or section one hundred and twenty-seven B of chapter one hundred and eleven, the said payment shall not be made while the said proceedings are pending; provided, however, that said proceedings are initiated within thirty days of receipt of such notification.

Any lien perfected pursuant to section three A, or to section nine of chapter one hundred and forty-three or section one hundred and twenty-seven B of chapter one hundred and eleven, shall extend to and may be enforced by the city or town against any casualty insurance policy or policies covering any loss, damage, or destruction pursuant to which the proceedings to perfect the lien were initiated.

No insurer shall be liable to any insured owner, mortgagee, assignee, city or town, or other interested party for amounts disbursed to a city or town under the provisions of this section, or for amounts not disbursed to a city or town under the provisions of this section.

SECTION 2. Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 97 the following section:-

Section 97A. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary of any general or special law, every company shall, before paying any claim for loss or damage to real property from any hazard, where the amount of the loss payable under the policy equals or exceeds five thousand dollars, first require the claimant to submit to the company a certificate of municipal liens from the collector of taxes of the city or town wherein such property is located.

Said company shall pay to the city or town any amount shown as outstanding on the certificate of municipal liens arising from the provisions of chapter forty, chapter fifty-nine, chapter sixty, chapter eighty and chapter eighty-three to the extent of the amount of loss payable under the policy.

The claim of the city or town for such amounts shall have priority over the claim of any insured owner, mortgagee, assignee or other interested party except where otherwise provided by the laws of the United States.

Said company shall not be liable to any insured owner, mortgagee, assignee, city or town, or other interested party for amounts disbursed to a city or town under this section or for amounts not disbursed to said city or town based upon a certificate indicating the nonexistence of any municipal liens.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to owner-occupied one, two, three or four family dwellings, provided, however, that the owners of said dwellings must be domiciled in said dwellings at the time the claim for loss or damage arose.

SECTION 3. Section 99 of said chapter 175 is hereby amended by adding the following two clauses:-

Fourteenth, A company shall print on or in all its policies, that notwithstanding any provision to the contrary of any general or special law, said company shall, before paying any claim for loss or damage to real property, other than owner-occupied one, two, three, or four family dwellings, from any hazard, where the amount of the loss payable under the policy equals or exceeds five thousand dollars, first require the claimant to submit to the company a certificate of municipal liens from the collector of taxes of the city or town wherein such property is located.

Said company shall pay to the city or town any amount shown as outstanding on the certificate of municipal liens arising from the provisions of chapter forty, chapter fifty-nine, chapter sixty, chapter eighty and chapter eighty-three to the extent of the amount of loss payable under the policy.

The claim of the city or town for such amounts shall have priority over the claim of any insured owner, mortgagee, assignee or other interested party except where otherwise provided by the laws of the United States.

Said company shall not be liable to any insured owner, mortgagee, assignee, city or town, or other interested party for amounts disbursed to a city or town or for amounts not disbursed to said city or town based upon a certificate indicating the nonexistence of any municipal liens.

Fifteenth, A company shall print on or in all of its policies that said insurer shall not pay any claim (1) covering any loss, damage, or destruction to a building or other structure, amounting to one thousand dollars or more, or (2) covering any loss, damage or destruction of any amount, which causes the condition of a building or other structure to render section six of chapter one hundred and forty-three applicable, without having at least ten days previously, given written notice to the building commissioner or inspector of buildings appointed pursuant to the state building code, and to the board of health or the board of selectmen of the city or town in which the same is located. If at any time prior to payment the said city or town notifies the insurer by certified mail of its intent to initiate proceedings designed to perfect a lien pursuant to section three A, or to section nine of chapter one hundred and forty-three, or section one hundred and twenty-seven B of chapter one hundred and eleven, the said payment shall not be made while the said proceedings are pending; provided, however, that said proceedings are initiated within thirty days of receipt of such notification.

Any lien perfected pursuant to section three A, or to section nine of chapter one hundred and forty-three or section one hundred and twenty-seven B of chapter one hundred and eleven, shall extend to and may be enforced by the city or town against any casualty insurance policy or policies covering any loss, damage, or destruction pursuant to which the proceedings to perfect the lien were initiated.

No insurer shall be liable to any insured owner, mortgagee, assignee, city or town, or other interested party for amounts disbursed to a city or town, or for amounts not disbursed to a city or town under the provisions of this section.

SECTION 4. The provisions of this act shall take effect on all insurance policies to take effect or be renewed on and after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight.

Approved December 9, 1977.

Section 87U. All students enrolled in registered schools shall, within fifteen days after entering upon their courses of study, be registered with the board by such schools. Students at registered schools may, within such fifteen day period, register with the board. No fee shall be required for such registration. No student shall practice hairdressing, manicuring or aesthetics upon any paying customer, and no school shall directly or indirectly make any charge for services in connection with such practice of hair-

Section 87V. Any registered student who has completed a course of at least six months, including at least one thousand hours of professional training in the case of a hairdresser and at least three hundred hours in a course in the case of an aesthetician in a school approved by the board, if such registrant after application accompanied by an examination fee as provided in section eighty-seven CC for a first examination, together with two photographs of the applicant, or a fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC for a second or subsequent examination, passes an oral, written and practical examination satisfactory to the board, may be registered by the board as an operator, and as such may practice hairdressing or aesthetics, as the case may be, for compensation under the supervision of a registered hairdresser or aesthetician during the period of such original registration, and thereafter, upon payment every two years of a renewal fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC. Any person making application for examination hereunder may be allowed to practice as an operator until the next examination by the board, and the board may grant, without charge, a permit authorizing him to practice as such operator until such next examination; provided, that such application has been filed within six months after the completion of the course. If the applicant fails to appear for the first examination, the board shall cancel his or her permit unless reasonable cause for his failure to appear is shown to the board; if he or she fails to appear for the second examination, the board shall cancel the permit until he or she successfully passes a subsequent examination by the board.

Section 87W. Any registered operator who has had not less than two years of practical experience as such, and who makes application therefor, accompanied by a fee as provided in section eighty-seven CC, may be registered by the board as a hairdresser or aesthetician as so qualified, and thereafter may practice hairdressing or aesthetics in a registered shop for compensation and may supervise operators, without additional payment for the period during which such person was originally registered as an operator, and thereafter upon payment every two years of a renewal fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC. In computing practical experience under this paragraph, time which an operator has worked as such under a temporary permit shall be included in computing such period; provided, however, that credit for such work shall not exceed three months.

Any demonstrator who has had at least three months' practical experience as such, and who after application, accompanied by a notarized affidavit from each manufacturer or distributor for whom he is or was employed during such period and the fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC, together with two pictures of the applicant, may be registered by the board as a demonstrator, and thereafter may practice as a demonstrator. Any person who is registered as a hairdresser, aesthetician, operator or instructor may, upon payment of said fee, be registered also as a demonstrator, and may thereafter practice as such. Such demonstrations shall be given by a demonstrator only in a registered shop, in the business quarters of distributors or supply houses in the commonwealth, at hairdressers' trade shows or meetings in the presence of licensed beauty shop owners and their employees, or in schools of beauty culture with a licensed instructor in attendance.

Section 87Y. The board shall hold examinations during the months of February, June and October, on a date designated by the board and in such cities throughout the commonwealth as it may deem most convenient for applicants, and at such additional times as the board may deem necessary.

Section 87Z. The board may register, without examination, any hairdresser, operator, manicurist or aesthetician who has been registered as such under the laws of another state, which, in the opinion of the board, maintains a standard substantially equivalent to that of the commonwealth, and in which hairdressers, operators, manicurists or aestheticians registered in the commonwealth are given like recognition, upon payment of the fee prescribed in section eighty-seven CC. Any person who has completed in another state, or in a school in the commonwealth supported by public funds, a course of professional training, substantially equivalent to that required by section eighty-seven V, and who, after application accompanied by an examination fee as prescribed in section eighty-seven CC for a first examination, or a fee as prescribed in said section eighty-seven CC for a second or subsequent examination, passes an examination satisfactory to the board, may be registered by the board as an operator.

Any hairdresser, operator, manicurist or aesthetician who has been registered as such under the laws of another state which, in the opinion of the board, maintains a standard substantially equivalent to that of the commonwealth but does not have a reciprocal registration agreement with the commonwealth, and who has filed an application for registration under sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive, may, upon request to the board, be granted a temporary license authorizing him to practice as such hairdresser, operator, manicurist or aesthetician, as the case may be. Such temporary license shall bear an expiration date of six months from date of issuance and the address where such temporary licensee is employed. Only one such temporary license shall be granted to such applicant. The fees for such temporary licenses shall be ten dollars for a hairdresser, five dollars for an operator and five dollars for a manicurist or aesthetician. If an applicant fails to appear for examination in accordance with the provisions of section eighty-seven KK he shall forfeit such temporary license, as well as the fee for examination. There shall be no refund once a temporary license has been issued to the applicant.

The word "state" as used in this section shall include the District of Columbia, any territory of the United States or foreign country, state or province.

Section 87AA. The board may authorize one or more registered hairdressers, manicurists or aestheticians or any person employing one or more registered hairdressers, manicurists, or aestheticians, upon payment to the board of a beauty shop, manicure shop or aesthetic shop registration fee as provided in section eighty-seven CC, to operate a registered beauty shop, manicure shop or an aesthetic shop, and such person may thereafter operate such beauty shop, manicure shop or aesthetic shop upon payment annually of a beauty shop, manicure shop or aesthetic shop registration renewal fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC; provided, that, in the case of a beauty shop or manicure shop conducted solely by a hairdresser or manicurist owning the same, the beauty shop or manicure shop registration fee and beauty shop or manicure shop renewal fee shall each be as provided in said section eighty-seven CC.

The owner of such beauty shop, manicure shop or aesthetic shop shall not employ for hire or allow any hairdresser, operator, demonstrator, manicurist or aesthetician to work in such beauty shop, manicure shop or aesthetic shop unless registered in accordance with sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive.

Certificates of registration issued hereunder shall be valid only for the location named therein, and shall not be transferable. Upon change of location of a registered shop, a new certificate of registration shall be issued to such shop upon payment of the fee provided in section eighty-seven CC.

The board may register beauty shops operated in state institutions for the sole purpose of crediting the operators employed therein with the practical experience so obtained and thereby enabling them to qualify for the hairdressers' examination.

Each registered beauty shop qualified under this section, or under any other previous provision of law, and which employs operators, shall employ one hairdresser to supervise no more than each three operators employed therein.

Section 87BB. The board may register any school which it approves, upon payment of a school registration fee as provided in section eighty-seven CC, and such school may annually be registered upon payment of a renewal fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC; provided, that standards of professional training satisfactory to the board are there maintained and a sufficient course is there given. Any registered hairdresser having not less than three years practical experience as such and any aesthetician having not less than two years practical experience as such who enrolls in a registered school for a training course as an instructor, shall, upon such enrollment, file an application for examination as an instructor, accompanied by the appropriate fee, and said applicant shall, pending said examination as an instructor, be granted by the board, upon payment of a fee of fifteen dollars, a temporary license as an assistant instructor, which license shall be valid for a period of six months. Such assistant instructor may, under the direct supervision of a registered instructor, instruct students in such school for the first one hundred hours of his training and thereafter may at the discretion of the school supervisor instruct such students without such direct supervision up to the first five hundred hours of the student's training; provided, however, that no school shall employ more than one assistant instructor for every two licensed instructors employed by it. Any registered hairdresser who has had not less than three years practical experience as such and any registered aesthetician who has had not less than two years practical experience as such, and who, after application accompanied by an examination fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC for a first examination, or a fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC for a second or subsequent examination, passes an examination satisfactory to the board, may be registered by the board as an instructor, and thereafter may instruct in hairdressing or aesthetics, as the case may be, in any registered school during the period of original registration, and thereafter, upon payment every two years of a renewal fee as provided in said section eighty-seven CC.

No person not so licensed as an assistant instructor or so registered as an instructor may instruct in hairdressing or aesthetics in any registered school except as authorized by the board.

No person shall be examined as an instructor or registered as such nor granted a temporary license as an assistant instructor, as provided in this section, unless at the time of filing his application for examination he has successfully completed a four-year high school course or possesses the educational equivalent thereof.

The board may make such reasonable rules and regulations as are necessary for the proper conduct of schools, qualifications of instructors, courses of study, and hours of study, and as to standards of professional training.

Section 87CC. The board shall make such uniform and reasonable rules and regulations as are necessary for the proper conduct of its business, the establishment of proper standards of professional skill in relation to, and the proper supervision of, hairdressers, aestheticians, demonstrators, manicurists, operators, beauty shops, manicure shops, schools, students and instructors, and especially may prescribe such sanitary rules, subject to the approval of the department of public health, as it may deem necessary to prevent the spreading of infectious or contagious diseases, or both, but nothing herein shall authorize the board to limit the number of hairdressers, aestheticians, demonstrators, manicurists, beauty shops, manicure shops, schools, operators, students or instructors in the commonwealth or in any given locality, or to regulate or fix compensation or prices, or to refuse to register a shop solely for the reason that such shop is to be conducted by a person in his own home on a full or part time basis. Except as may be necessary for the protection of the public health, safety or morals, the board shall not make any rule or regulation restraining the normal and incidental business of aestheticians' shops and hairdressers' shops by restricting the retail sale therein of so-called beauty preparations, lotions, salves, toilet articles, jewelry, gift novelties, female personal attire and accessories or other articles.

Before engaging in actual employment in the practice of hair-dressing, aesthetics, manicuring or demonstrating and at least once every twelve months thereafter, every registered hair-dresser, aesthetician, operator, instructor, manicurist or demonstrator shall secure from a physician a certificate stating that such person is not afflicted with tuberculosis, venereal disease in a communicable form, or with any other communicable disease. Said certificate shall be on a form furnished by the board and shall be kept conspicuously posted with the license certificate.

A booth in a beauty shop or manicure shop, which is operated independently thereof, shall be subject to the same regulations and registration fees as an independent shop. Any shop which leases booths to hairdressers shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars for the registration of such shop.

Section 87DD. Any member or agent of the board may enter and inspect any beauty shop, aesthetic shop, manicure shop or school in a proper manner at any time during business hours thereof. Whenever a complaint is made to the board that any person has suffered personal injury as a result of the practice of the occupation of hairdressing or aesthetics, or that any person has been exposed to moral hazard, or that any contagious or infectious disease has been imparted, at any beauty shop, aesthetic shop, manicure shop, or school, or that any beauty shop, aesthetic shop, manicure shop, or school is kept in an unsanitary condition, or that any person has been engaged in hairdressing, aesthetics or manicuring for compensation is violation of any provision of sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive, a member or agent of the board shall visit and inspect such beauty shop, aesthetic shop, manicure shop, school or place whereat such violation is alleged to have occurred, and enforce the provisions of said sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive. The board and its members and agents may investigate the standard of professional training at any school, and the sufficiency of the course or courses there given.

Section 87EE. The board, under such reasonable rules and regulations as it may make, may for cause, including unprofessional conduct, fraud, deceit or misrepresentation in practice or in advertising, habitual drunkenness, gross incompetence, or for violation of any of the provisions of sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive, or any rule or regulation made thereunder, suspend or cancel any registration granted under said sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive; provided, that before any registration shall be so suspended or cancelled the registrant shall have had notice in writing of the charge or charges against him or it, and, at a day specified in said notice, which shall be at least five days after the service of notice thereof, shall have been given at a public hearing and an opportunity to present testimony in his or its behalf, and to confront the witnesses against him or it. The mailing of a registered letter, postage prepaid, containing a notice of such hearing, and addressed to the registrant at his or its address in the commonwealth as it appears in his or its registration, shall be a sufficient service of such notice, and said five days shall begin to run from the day of such mailing.

The board may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents at any such hearing.

Section 87FF. The board may, after a public hearing, and after investigation, again register a person or school whose registration has been cancelled, or revoke the suspension of a registration under section eighty-seven EE, if satisfied that this can be done consistently with the public interest.

Section 87GG. Each registration granted under sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive, shall expire upon the date prescribed by or pursuant to section eighty-seven CC, and shall be renewed upon the filing of an application therefor, and the payment of the prescribed renewal fee, on or before its expiration. No person registered under said sections as a hairdresser, aesthetician, manicurist, instructor, demonstrator or operator shall engage in the occupation covered by such registration until the prescribed renewal fee shall have been paid. Any hairdresser, aesthetician, manicurist, instructor or operator whose registration has not been renewed within three years following the date of expiration thereof shall be entitled to renewal of such registration upon filing an application, accompanied by the proper fee therefor and by passing a practical examination satisfactory to the board; provided, however, that upon filing such application and fee plus an additional fee of five dollars the board may, at the request of such applicant, grant to the applicant a temporary license, authorizing him to practice as such hairdresser, aesthetician, operator or manicurist, as the case may be; and provided, further, that the applicant's original license was not suspended or revoked. Such temporary license shall bear an expiration date of six months from the date of issuance, and the place of employment of such temporary licensee. If such applicant fails to appear for examination in accordance with the provisions of section eighty-seven KK during such period he shall forfeit such temporary license, as well as the fee for examination. There shall be no refund once a temporary license has been issued to the applicant. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, a person who has at any time been registered both as a hairdresser, aesthetician and as an instructor, if he has every two years renewed either such registration, may renew the other.

Section 87HH. Any person aggrieved by the refusal of the board to grant, or by its suspension or cancellation of, a registration, or by its refusal to again register him, may, within ten days after such action, appeal to the district court within the judicial district of which he resides by bringing a petition in said court addressed to the justice of the court, praying for a rehearing by the court. Upon the filing of the petition for a rehearing in the case of a suspension or cancellation of a registration, such suspension or cancellation shall be stayed pending the final decision of the court. After such notice to the board as the court deems necessary, the court shall hear the witnesses and shall affirm the decision of the board, unless it shall appear that it was made without proper cause or in bad faith, in which case the decision of the board shall be reversed. The court shall hear the petition within thirty days of the filing of it in said court. The decision of the court shall be final and conclusive.

Section 87II. Whoever engages in or follows, or attempts to engage in or follow, the occupation of an instructor or of hairdressing, aesthetician, demonstrating or manicuring, unless duly registered by the board or unless granted a permit by the board under section eighty-seven V, and whoever conducts, or attempts to conduct, a beauty shop, aesthetic shop, manicure shop, or school not so registered, and whoever violates any provision of sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven HH, inclusive, or any rule or regulation made under authority thereof, shall, in addition to any other penalty prescribed or authorized by said sections, be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

Section 87JJ. Nothing in sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven II, inclusive, shall be deemed to authorize a hairdresser, aesthetician, demonstrator, instructor or operator to engage in massage or other occupation requiring a license, unless duly licensed therefor, or to prohibit a person registered under said sections from practicing or teaching any such occupation, if duly licensed therefor.

Section 87KK. Every applicant for registration as a hairdresser, aesthetician, manicurist, instructor, or operator shall receive notice from the board prior to an examination of the time and place of such examination. If the applicant does not appear for any one of three examinations of which he is notified, the examination fee, as provided in section eighty-seven CC, shall be retained by the board, and thereafter such applicant shall register anew as provided in sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive. The notice to such applicant of the third examination shall be by registered mail, postage prepaid, mailed at least seven days prior to the date of examination, addressed to the applicant at his address as appearing on his application, and shall be sufficient service of such notice. If an applicant so requests the board may withhold the sending of notice of the time and place of examination, but if the applicant does not authorize the board to send such notice within a period of two years from the date of filing the application, the examination fee shall be retained by the board, and thereafter the applicant shall register anew as provided in sections eighty-seven T to eighty-seven JJ, inclusive. The provisions of the foregoing sentence shall not be applicable to any person who is in the service of the armed forces of the United States.

Chap. 816. AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE CAPITAL RESOURCE COMPANY AND REFORMING THE TAXATION OF DOMESTIC LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND SAVINGS AND INSURANCE BANKS, AND PROVIDING FOR THE REDUCTION OF UNEMPLOYMENT THROUGH INCREASED INVESTMENTS IN MASSACHUSETTS BUSINESSES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is, in part, to create jobs and expand business opportunities in the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. It is hereby found that domestic life insurance companies represent one of the great economic assets of the commonwealth, both as an employer of citizens and as a source of capital financing for business; and that such companies propose to establish and fund the Massachusetts Capital Resource Company in the amount of one hundred million dollars pursuant to the terms and conditions of this act.

It is further found that there currently exists in the commonwealth a condition of unemployment; that the alleviation of the current unemployment problem, and the alleviation and avoidance of similar problems in the future, accomplished through the promotion, attraction, stimulation, development and revitalization of commerce and industry, depend in large part upon the availability of large flows of private investment funds from financial institutions and others to provide capital financing, particularly long-term financing, for such businesses as would not otherwise be able to obtain such financing.

Therefore, it is imperative that, for the public purpose hereby found and declared of alleviating and avoiding unemployment through the promotion, attraction, stimulation, development and revitalization of commerce and industry, certain taxes paid by domestic life insurance companies be reformed and domestic life insurance companies be encouraged to expand the amount of long-term capital financing available to such businesses as would not otherwise be able to obtain such financing.

SECTION 2. In this act the following words or terms shall have the following meanings unless the context otherwise requires:-

“Admitted assets”, the assets of a domestic life insurance company sufficient to meet policyholder claims and obligations of the company valued by the commissioner in accordance with standards set forth under chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws and as reported in the company’s annual statement required to be filed thereunder.

“Commissioner”, the commissioner of insurance.

“Domestic life insurance company”, a corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth which is a life insurance company as defined in section one hundred and eighteen of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws.

“Person”, an individual, corporation, partnership, limited partnership, association, joint stock company, trust, unincorporated organization or any similar entity.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding the provisions of section eighteen of chapter five hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine, for any year in which the provisions of section twenty-two A of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws, of that portion of section eighteen of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws which imposes a gross investment income tax, and of section thirty of chapter five hundred and fifty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-one, do not apply to domestic life insurance companies and savings and insurance banks, the surtax imposed by said section eighteen of said chapter five hundred and forty-six shall not apply to taxes imposed by sections eighteen, twenty, twenty-two, twenty-two B and twenty-three of said chapter sixty-three, and by section two of chapter five hundred and thirty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-three.

SECTION 4. For taxable years ending in calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-seven and in calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, if the provisions of section twenty-two A of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws do not apply to domestic life insurance companies, a surtax of twenty per cent is hereby imposed upon said domestic life insurance companies and savings and insurance banks of the taxes imposed under sections eighteen, twenty and twenty-two of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws and under the provisions of section two of chapter five hundred and thirty-one of nineteen hundred and forty-three.

SECTION 5. For the taxable years ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven through nineteen hundred and eighty-two, an insurer subject to section twenty-two B of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws, inserted by section twenty-eight of this act, having admitted assets of more than two hundred million but less than one billion dollars shall be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed under said section twenty-two B and sections six and seven of this act. The amount of such credit shall be equal to the amount by which the sum of the taxes imposed on such insurer under said chapter sixty-three, under this act and under section two of chapter five hundred and thirty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-three for the taxable year exceed the applicable percentage of the sum of the taxes imposed on the insurer under chapter sixty-three and under section two of chapter five hundred and thirty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-three for the taxable year ending in nineteen hundred and seventy-six together with surtaxes and additional surtaxes thereon. The applicable percentage shall be one hundred and ten per cent for the taxable years ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, one hundred and five per cent for the taxable year ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, and one hundred per cent for the taxable years ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty to nineteen hundred and eighty-two, inclusive.

SECTION 6. In addition to the excise payable under section twenty-two B of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws, inserted by section twenty-eight of this act, an insurer subject to said section twenty-two B, and having admitted assets of two hundred million dollars or more shall pay for taxable years nineteen hundred and seventy-seven and thereafter, an additional investment privilege excise equal to thirty-one per cent of the net investment income of such insurer computed and allocated in accordance with the provisions of said section twenty-two B; provided, however, that upon the organization and funding, by two or more domestic life insurance companies, of the Capital Resource Company in accordance with the provisions of this act, the rate of the additional excise payable under this section shall be reduced in accordance with the following schedule:

If the aggregate initial cost cost of the qualified investments made by the Capital Resource Company as of the last day of

Then the rate of additional excise for the taxable year indicated and for all subsequent taxable years shall be

1978 is at least	$10 million	26%
1979 is at least	$22 million	21%
1980 is at least	$34 million	16%
1981 is at least	$47 million	10%
1982 is at least	$60 million	4%

The additional excise payable under this section shall not apply to taxable years ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three provided that the aggregate initial cost of the qualified investments made by the Capital Resource Company is at least sixty million dollars as of said December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, provided, further, that if such aggregate initial cost of the qualified investments is less than sixty million dollars as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the additional excise payable under this section shall continue until the year in which such aggregate of the initial cost of the qualified investments reaches sixty million dollars.

SECTION 7. In addition to the tax payable under section six, if any, there shall be for taxable years ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and thereafter, an additional excise equal to one and one half per cent of the net investment income of each insurer taxable under said section six for each short-fall, if any, of one hundred jobs below the applicable level of direct jobs maintained or created in the commonwealth for the taxable year in question: (A) For taxable years nineteen hundred and eighty-one and nineteen hundred and eighty-two, the applicable level shall be one thousand direct jobs; (B) For taxable years nineteen hundred and eighty-three and thereafter, the applicable level shall be two thousand direct jobs.

The number of direct jobs shall be determined by the secretary of manpower affairs as the jobs reasonably expected to be maintained or created as a direct result of qualified investments of the Capital Resource Company. Once a qualified investment has been made, and the number of direct jobs to be created or maintained thereby has been determined and certified by the secretary of manpower affairs, said certification shall not be decreased. In certifying the number of such jobs, the secretary of manpower affairs shall base his determination on information to be provided to him as specified in section twelve of this act, and upon such other information as may be in his possession. The secretary of manpower affairs, in certifying the number of such jobs, shall use his best judgment to include jobs to be created or maintained even if such jobs subsequently are lost as a consequence of business failure, contraction, or other condition adversely affecting the borrower, so long as the jobs were, in his judgment, to have been created or maintained as a consequence of a good faith effort of the Capital Resource Company; provided, however, that the jobs so certified shall not include construction jobs resulting from the placement of the qualified investments.

The secretary of manpower affairs shall certify to the commissioner of corporations and taxation the number of direct jobs on or before March fifteenth of each year subsequent to calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty.

SECTION 8. All provisions of chapter sixty-two C of the General Laws relative to the assessment, collection, payment, abatement, verification and administration of taxes, including penalties, shall so far as pertinent be applicable to taxes imposed and credits and deductions allowed under this act. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, for taxable years ending on and after October thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, the tax returns of savings and insurance banks, subject to the net investment privilege excise due under section twenty-two B of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws, shall be filed and paid on April fifteenth of the year following the close of the taxable year.

SECTION 9. The provisions of chapter sixty-three B of the General Laws shall apply to the taxes imposed under this act.

Notwithstanding the provisions of said chapter sixty-three B to the contrary, declarations of estimated tax filed under said chapter sixty-three B with respect to taxable years commencing after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six shall include the amount which the taxpayer estimates as the surtaxes and additional taxes imposed under this act. The computation of the addition to the tax with respect to such declarations under section six of said chapter sixty-three B shall be made as if the surtaxes and additional taxes imposed under this act were in effect and applicable to the preceding taxable year.

SECTION 10. Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-two A of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws, of that portion of section eighteen of said chapter sixty-three which imposes a gross investment income tax, and of section thirty of chapter five hundred and fifty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-one, the tax imposed therein shall not apply as of the taxable year nineteen hundred and seventy-seven to domestic life insurance companies, or savings and insurance banks, if the aggregate cumulative investment in the Capital Resource Company is at least twenty million dollars on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven; forty million dollars on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight; sixty million dollars on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine; eighty million dollars on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty and one hundred million dollars on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 11. There shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by sections twenty and twenty-two of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws and by section two of chapter five hundred and thirty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-three with respect to each taxable year during the twenty-five year period contained in subsection (b) of section fourteen an amount equal to one and one-half per cent of any domestic life insurance company's proportionate share of the cost of equity securities and the outstanding principal balance of debt securities which constitute qualified investments of the Capital Resource Company as of the last day of the previous taxable year; provided, however, that such domestic life insurance company is an equal opportunity employer and makes available annually to the Massachusetts commission against discrimination copies of its reports to the federal equal employment opportunity commission. As used in this section, each such company's "proportionate share" shall be a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of its aggregate contributed capital in the Capital Resource Company and the denominator of which is the amount of the aggregate cumulative investment in the Capital Resource Company as of the last day of such taxable year.

SECTION 12. On or before March fifteenth following each of the taxable years indicated, the Capital Resource Company shall file a certificate with the commissioner of corporations and taxation which shall include the following information:

(a) for the years nineteen hundred and seventy-seven to nineteen hundred and eighty-one, inclusive, the total amount of partnership capital contributions made in the Capital Resource Company during the year and the aggregate cumulative investment in the Capital Resource Company as of December thirty-first,

(b) for all years to and including the year in which the aggregate initial cost of the qualified investments made by the Capital Resource Company reaches sixty million dollars, the aggregate initial cost of such qualified investments as of December thirty-first, and

(c) for all years during which the Capital Resource Company is subject to the provisions of this act, the cost of equity securities and the outstanding principal balance of all debt securities which constitute qualified investments of the Capital Resource Company as of December thirty-first and the proportionate share, as defined in section eleven, of each partner of the Capital Resource Company as of such date.

The Capital Resource Company shall file a report with the clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives on or before September first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight and each year thereafter, describing the formation and current status of said company. Said clerks shall forward a copy of such report to the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate.

The Capital Resource Company shall also file reports on March first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and each year thereafter with the secretary of manpower affairs detailing the number of direct jobs reasonably expected to be created or maintained as result of the qualified investments as defined in section sixteen and not previously reported pursuant to this section. The Capital Resource Company shall supply said secretary with such additional information relative to such direct jobs as he may deem necessary from time to time. Said secretary shall file a report with the clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives on or before November first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and each year thereafter reporting his judgment whether said annual report filed with him by the Capital Resource Company has accurately detailed the number of direct jobs reasonably expected to be so created or maintained and his judgment as to the current status of said company. Said clerks shall forward a copy of such report to the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate.

SECTION 13. (a) The Capital Resource Company shall be a limited partnership formed by two or more domestic life insurance companies under the provisions of this act and of chapter one hundred and nine of the General Laws.

(b) The certificate required to be filed by section two of said chapter one hundred and nine shall be submitted to the commissioner who shall determine whether it complies with the provisions of this act and other provisions of law. If he so determines, he shall then endorse his approval thereon and thereupon said certificate shall be filed with the state secretary at which time the Capital Resource Company shall be deemed to be organized.

(c) Upon the organization of the Capital Resource Company as provided herein and throughout the twenty-five year period set out in section fourteen of this act, the terms of the limited partnership agreement shall at all times be consistent with the certificate and this act; provided, however, that amendments to the certificate may be submitted to the commissioner for his approval as provided in the case of the original certificate, pursuant to subsection (b) which shall, after such approval, be filed with the state secretary; and provided, further, that if the partners elect to continue the Capital Resource Company beyond the twenty-five year period specified in subsection (b) of section fourteen, submission to and approval by said commissioner shall not be required prior to the filing of any amended certificate with the state secretary.

(d) In any case of conflict between the certificate, the limited partnership agreement, or chapter one hundred and nine of the General Laws and any provision of this act or amendments thereto, this act shall control.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, the return to partners of their aggregate cumulative investment and the return permitted on such investment shall be as specified in this act as in effect at the time such investment is made in the partnership and shall be for all purposes a matter of private contract between the Capital Resource Company and its partners and not subject to subsequent statutory amendment.

SECTION 14. The certificate referred to in subsection (b) of section thirteen of this act shall contain the following specific provisions, restrictions and limitations:

(a) The character of the partnership business shall consist of the investment and reinvestment of partnership assets exclusively in debt and equity securities conforming to the investment criteria set forth in sections fifteen and sixteen of this act.

(b) Except as specified in this subsection, the Capital Resource Company shall be subject to the provisions of this act for a period of not less than twenty-five years from the date of its organization. The Capital Resource Company may, at its election, choose to no longer be subject to the provisions of this act by filing a certificate to such effect with the commissioner and the state secretary (i) at any time after expiration of such twenty-five year period, or (ii) at any time on or prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, in the event there has been a statutory amendment which results in an increase in the total level of direct taxes paid by domestic life insurance companies to the commonwealth, which increase is other than attributable to business growth and other than a proportional part of a general increase in the taxation of business in the commonwealth.

(c) Funds shall be provided to the partnership only in cash, and the amount so provided by each partner in such partner's capacity as a general partner shall be stated separately from any amounts provided by such partner as a limited partner.

(d) At least twenty-five per cent of the capital funds of the partnership shall be provided by domestic life insurance companies acting in their capacity as general partners, the balance shall be provided by such companies in their capacity as limited partners.

(e) No distribution constituting a return of capital contributed by a person as a general partner shall be made prior to the filing of the certificate referred in subsection (b). Prior to the fifteenth anniversary of the organization or the funding of the first twenty million dollars of the partnership, whichever occurs later, no distribution from the Capital Resource Company to the partners shall be permitted other than distributions of partnership net earnings. After such fifteenth anniversary, in addition to such distribution of net earnings, distributions of capital contributions shall be allowed but shall not exceed five per cent per annum of the aggregate cumulative investment made prior to such fifteenth anniversary of the organization of the Capital Resource Company.

(f) The general partners may from time to time admit additional domestic life insurance companies as partners.

(g) Upon such terms and conditions as are necessary to assure compliance with the public purpose set out in section one of this act, the Capital Resource Company may form one or more wholly owned subsidiaries through which funds of the Capital Resource Company may be invested; provided, however, that such subsidiary shall be subject to all appropriate provisions of this act consistent, in the case of any subsidiary which is a small business investment company, with requirements of federal law.

(h) With the prior written approval of the commissioner and upon such terms and conditions as may be deemed necessary to assure compliance with the public purpose set out in section one of this act, to assure the continuation of the Capital Resource Company and to assure the continuation of the investment policies and restrictions set forth in this act, the Capital Resource Company may incorporate under chapter one hundred and fifty-six B of the General Laws.

SECTION 15. The business of the Capital Resource Company shall be managed by its general partners and conducted, at all times, in compliance with the provisions of this act. The Capital Resource Company shall employ as a member of its staff an urban loan specialist who shall be concerned with areas of high unemployment. The partners shall form an investment committee to evaluate and act upon specific investments. The investment committee shall at all times include one disinterested person appointed by the governor who shall have expertise in the field of investments and who shall serve a term coterminous with the governor. Investment decisions shall at all times be within the sole discretion of the Capital Resource Company subject to the following criteria:

(a) The Capital Resource Company shall use its best efforts to invest and reinvest funds in qualified investments as defined in section sixteen for the period it remains subject to the provisions of this act. The Capital Resource Company shall invest not less than three million dollars in investments which do not exceed the asset, net worth and net earnings standards applicable to investments which could be made by a small business investment company at the time such investments are made and which conform to the requirements set out in subsection (g) of section sixteen. One or more subsidiaries formed pursuant to subsection (g) of section fourteen may be utilized for the making of such investments. The making of qualified investments shall have priority over the making of other investments defined in this section.

(b) To the extent that such funds are not invested as provided in subsection (a), they shall be invested and reinvested in securities which constitute marketable general obligations of the commonwealth, its agencies or political subdivisions thereof. The Capital Resource Company shall dispose of such obligations, from time to time, as may be appropriate to provide funds for the purchase of qualified investments. The Capital Resource Company shall annually execute after due inquiry a certificate based on its best information and belief that investments of the nature described in this subsection made during the preceding fiscal year were made in compliance with the provisions of this section.

(c) Notwithstanding the requirements of subsection (b), the Capital Resource Company may purchase and hold debt issued by any person maturing less than one year from the date of its issuance up to an amount not exceeding the greater of (1) the amount received by the Capital Resource Company in cash as contributions from partners during the preceding calendar year, or (2) ten per cent of aggregate cumulative investment made in the Capital Resource Company as reduced by distributions of capital pursuant to subsection (e) of section fourteen.

SECTION 16. (a) For the purpose of section fifteen of this act, qualified investments shall consist of original issue debt and equity securities, or securities which are derived from the exchange of previously held original issue securities or otherwise acquired by the Capital Resource Company in circumstances which make such securities the substantial equivalent of original issue securities, of any issuer who is unable to obtain financing on substantially similar terms elsewhere and who certifies that the proceeds of the investment will be utilized for purposes which will increase or maintain equal opportunity employment in the commonwealth, except that the following shall not constitute qualified investments:

(1) Debt securities issued or guaranteed by any issuer whose senior debt is rated Baa or above by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or, whose senior debt, if unrated or unissued, has or would have in the opinion of the Capital Resource Company, the same characteristics as debt so rated; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not preclude the making of debt investments on a subordinated basis in such issuer so long as such subordinated debt is rated Ba or below by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or, if such subordinated debt is not rated, such subordinated debt has in the opinion of the Capital Resource Company, the same characteristics as debt so rated. For the purposes of this section securities not rated by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. shall be deemed not rated. However, the rating classifications of any other independent rating service which are the substantial equivalent of those of Moody's Investors Service, Inc. may be used with the permission of the commissioner.

(2) Equity securities issued or guaranteed by any issuer whose senior debt is rated above Baa by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or issued or guaranteed by any issuer, without rated senior debt, whose senior debt, in the opinion of the Capital Resource Company, has or would have the same characteristics as debt so rated.

(3) Debt or equity securities issued or guaranteed by an issuer with an affiliate whose senior debt is rated Baa or above by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or whose senior debt, if unrated or unissued, in the opinion of the Capital Resource Company, has or would have the same characteristics as debt so rated, or issued or guaranteed by an issuer with an affiliate whose primary activity is the development of real estate, the business of a financial intermediary, the business of a construction contractor, or the business of a public utility, including refuse and waste facilities.

(4) Debt securities issued or guaranteed by the federal government, or by any state or any political subdivision thereof, or by any agency or instrumentality of the federal government, any state or of a political subdivision thereof.

(5) Debt or equity securities of any issuer having a stated maturity at time of issuance of less than five years.

(6) Debt securities of any issuer the payment of principal or interest on which is secured by an interest in any real or personal property; provided, however, that the obtaining of security in the following circumstances shall not affect the qualifications of otherwise qualified investments: security acquired in connection with the acquisition of debt securities by the Capital Resource Company when either substantially all of the issuer's assets are subject to prior security interests or other liens or when no negative pledge covenant can reasonably be obtained, and security obtained to secure a previously held qualified investment during the course of a judicial or non-judicial workout or restructuring of the capitalization of an issuer in financial difficulty.

(7) Debt or equity securities of any issuer if after giving effect to the proposed investment, the aggregate amount of outstanding debt and cost of the equity invested by the Capital Resource Company in such issuer and its affiliates exceeds five million dollars.

(8) Any debt or equity securities issued or guaranteed by any issuer whose primary activity is the development of real estate, the business of a financial intermediary, the retailing of goods, the business of a construction contractor, or the business of a public utility, including refuse and waste facilities; provided, however, that qualified investments may be made in a division of a retailer of goods so long as the primary activity of the division is not that of such retailing, assurances are received by the Capital Resource Company that the proceeds of the investment will be fully utilized by such division and such investment otherwise constitutes a qualified investment.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, debt or equity securities of any issuer shall constitute qualified investments although they do not qualify by reason of paragraphs (5) and (6) of subsection (a), so long as at the time of acquisition the cost of such securities, when added to the cost, reduced by any amortization of such cost, of all other securities acquired pursuant to this subsection and held at such time by the Capital Resource Company, does not exceed the greater of ten million dollars or twenty-five per cent of the cost, reduced by an amortization of such cost, of qualified investments then held by the Capital Resource Company, and, such securities in all other respects constitute qualified investments. Debt securities of financial intermediaries, when the sole recourse, other than by lien offset, tax indemnification and similar agreements and other than recourse to any security involved, for payment of principal and interest on such debt is to a person whose senior debt would constitute a qualified investment, shall constitute qualified investments included in this subsection.

(c) Not later than ninety days after the completion of a loan as described in subsection (b), the Capital Resource Company shall issue a special report detailing such transaction to the commissioner.

(d) In addition, debt and equity securities of subsidiaries formed pursuant to subsection (g) of section fourteen shall constitute qualified investments so long as the aggregate outstanding debt and cost of equity of such investments does not exceed five million dollars.

(e) Every issuer in which the Capital Resource Company makes an investment of the nature described in this section shall represent and warrant in a loan agreement or other appropriate document that it attempted but was unable to obtain financing on substantially similar terms elsewhere and that the full proceeds of the investment will be utilized for purposes which will increase or maintain employment in the commonwealth. Prior to disbursing funds to any such issuer, the Capital Resource Company shall require the issuer to certify in writing the facts and circumstances upon which such representations and warranties are based.

(f) The Capital Resource Company shall execute after due inquiry a certificate on its best information and belief that each investment of the nature described in this section constitutes a qualified investment within the standards of this section and that it has confirmed by means of not less than three independent inquiries that financing on substantially similar terms was not available elsewhere.

(g) The provisions of this section, other than those contained in subsections (d) and (e), shall not apply to investments of the nature referred to in the second and third sentences of subsection (a) of section fifteen except that such investments when made by the Capital Resource Company directly shall constitute qualified investments.

SECTION 17. Notwithstanding any limitations contained in the laws of the commonwealth or in its charter, and in addition to existing authority, any domestic life insurance company may become a general or limited partner in the Capital Resource Company pursuant to the provisions of this act, may make loans and contributions to such partnership, and may enter into binding agreements with other such life insurance companies to make such loans and contributions, either initial or additional, and to restrict the transfer or other disposition of any interest in the Capital Resource Company. The authority to make the aforesaid loans or contributions and the authority of the Capital Resource Company to make investments under section fifteen of this act shall not be subject to any provision relating to the control of investments or to any limitation on investment, including any limitations on the type or amount of investment, whether stated as a percentage or otherwise, other than those contained in this act. All such loans and contributions by a life company in such partnership shall be deemed to be eligible as investments constituting three-fourths of the reserve of any domestic stock or mutual life insurance company pursuant to section sixty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws, provided that the total cost of such loans and contributions shall not exceed one per cent of the admitted assets of said life company as valued by the commissioner in accordance with standards established with respect to annual statements for such year under chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws. No restriction or prohibition contained in said chapter one hundred and seventy-five shall be deemed violated on account of any investments held by the Capital Resource Company.

The Capital Resource Company may indemnify any of its officers, employees or agents and each partner of the Capital Resource Company may indemnify any of its officers, employees or agents which serve the Capital Resource Company at such partners' request, against any and all liabilities, costs and expenses arising from such service.

SECTION 18. The Capital Resource Company shall furnish to the commissioner within ninety days after the end of each fiscal year:

(a) a statement showing its financial condition as of the end of such year and reporting the investments of the Capital Resource Company, indicating those made during such year and an estimate of the number of jobs created or preserved by said investments. Such annual statement shall be made on a form prescribed by the commissioner and shall be subscribed and sworn to by two principal officers of the Capital Resource Company. The financial statements contained in the annual statement shall be certified by an independent certified public accountant.

Other financial statements required by the commissioner shall be so certified if the commissioner shall so specify.

(b) copies of the certificates referred to in subsection (b) of section fifteen and subsection (f) of section sixteen.

SECTION 19. (a) The commissioner shall have the power to inspect and examine the affairs of the Capital Resource Company, and to require such statements and reports as he may reasonably deem necessary, to determine its financial condition, its ability to fulfill its obligations and whether it is in compliance with this act. The Capital Resource Company shall pay the charges incurred in such examination, including the expenses of the commissioner or his deputy or his examiners and the expenses and compensation of any disinterested experts which the commissioner shall reasonably deem advisable to complete his examination. The commissioner or the person authorized by him to make examinations provided for by this section shall have free access to all of the assets of the Capital Resource Company for purpose of verification and to all the books and papers relating to its business. The commissioner or the person authorized by him may summon and examine under oath any person who, he believes, has knowledge of the affairs, transactions or circumstances being examined. Whoever without justifiable cause neglects upon due summons to appear or testify before the commissioner or his authorized representative, and whoever unlawfully obstructs said commissioner or said representative in making examinations hereunder, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

(b) If the commissioner, upon his review of the information submitted to him pursuant to section eighteen and upon his examination of the Capital Resource Company as authorized by subsection (a), shall have reasonable cause to believe that any investment reported by the Capital Resource Company pursuant to said section eighteen as a qualified investment as defined in section sixteen of this act is in fact not properly characterized as a qualified investment, he may hold a public hearing, conducted in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, to determine whether such investment is a qualified investment. Any such action brought by the commissioner to determine the status of an investment as a qualified investment shall be commenced no later than six months following the receipt of the certificate required by said section eighteen. Upon there being a final determination, which shall be the later of the commissioner's order or a final judicial determination, that an investment is not a qualified investment, the following remedial action shall be taken:

(1) The commissioner shall promptly notify the commissioner of corporations and taxation of such final determination. The commissioner of corporations and taxation, upon receipt of such notice, shall promptly proceed to recover from each partner of the Capital Resource Company an amount equal to the total tax credit specified in section eleven of this act which such partner has received in respect to any investment so determined not to be qualified, and shall subtract the amount of such investment from the sum of the aggregate of the qualified investments made by the Capital Resource Company; provided, however, that any final determination shall affect the reduction in the rate of additional excise payable only in taxable years subsequent to the year in which such final determination was made.

(2) The Capital Resource Company shall dispose of any investment finally determined not to be a qualified investment to one or more partners of the Capital Resource Company or to any outside party within a reasonable time following such final determination, or, within ninety days of such final determination, the partners shall make additional partnership capital contributions to the Capital Resource Company equal to the face amount of outstanding debt and the cost of all equity securities involved. In the event of any disposition as aforesaid, to the extent that the amount of funds received by the Capital Resource Company is less than the face amount of all outstanding debt and the cost of all equity securities involved, such difference shall be restored to the Capital Resource Company by the partners as additional partnership capital contributions within ninety days of such disposition. No such final disposition, nor any obligation of the partners to make additional partnership capital contributions, shall have any effect in respect to any other section of the act. Notwithstanding and without affecting any other provision of this act, any investment finally determined not to be a qualified investment as to which additional capital contributions have been made may be distributed by the Capital Resource Company to the partners at any time.

(c) The commissioner, in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws and after a public hearing, may issue such rules and regulations as he shall deem necessary to assist him in carrying out his duties under subsections (a) and (b).

(d) At the request of the commissioner, the attorney general shall maintain and prosecute, in the name of the commonwealth, an action against the Capital Resource Company, its officers, directors, partners, trustees, or agents, for the purpose of obtaining an injunction restraining such person or persons from doing any acts in violation of the provisions of this act or any lawful orders of the commissioner.

(e) Any finding, ruling, order or decision of the commissioner under authority of this section shall be subject to review by appeal directly to the supreme judicial court for the county of Suffolk at the instance of the Capital Resource Company or the attorney general within twenty days after the receipt of such finding, ruling, order or decision, which appeal shall be on the basis of the record of the proceedings before the commissioner. The filing of such an appeal shall act as a stay of any such finding, ruling, order or decision unless the court shall determine otherwise. The court shall review all questions of fact and of law involved in said proceedings and may modify, amend, annul, reverse or affirm such finding, ruling, order or decision or make any other appropriate order or decree.

SECTION 20. Not less than sixty days following the end of the taxable year for domestic life insurance companies, the Capital Resource Company shall file a report on its activities with the clerk of the senate and he shall forward copies of said report to the joint committee on taxation of the general court. Said report shall include, but not be limited to, a list of the loans made under the provisions of this act, the value of said loans, and the number of jobs both created and preserved due to said loans.

Said committee on Taxation shall study said report and examine the tax revenues from the life insurance industry to determine if the intent of this act has been adhered to. Said committee shall file a report with the clerk of each house of the general court, not less than sixty days following receipt of the report of the Capital Resource Company, stating its findings and recommendations.

SECTION 20A. Sections one to twenty, inclusive, of this act shall be known and may be cited as the Capital Resource Company Act.

SECTION 21. Section thirty of chapter five hundred and fifty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-one is hereby repealed.

SECTION 22. Section 12 of chapter 62C of the General Laws, as appearing in section 22 of chapter 415 of the acts of 1976, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (c) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(c) Every savings and insurance bank shall annually, on or before November twenty-fifth, make a return to the commissioner, giving such information as the commissioner may deem necessary for the determination of the tax due under sections eighteen and twenty-two B of chapter sixty-three for the preceding fiscal year.

SECTION 23. Said section 12 of said chapter 62C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (e) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(e) Every insurance company liable to taxation under section twenty-two, twenty-two A, twenty-two B or section twenty-three of chapter sixty-three shall annually, on or before March fifteenth, make a return to the commissioner giving such information as the commissioner may deem necessary for the determination of the excise thereby imposed.

SECTION 24. Section 18 of chapter 63 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as appearing in section 23 of said chapter 415, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Every savings and insurance bank authorized to do business under chapter one hundred and seventy-eight shall annually pay an excise of two per cent upon all new and renewal premiums received by it during the twelve months ending October thirty-first of the year for which the excise is due and payable on all policies issued by it, or assumed by it under the provisions of section twenty-five of chapter one hundred and seventy-eight.

SECTION 25. Said section 18 of said chapter 63 is hereby further amended by striking out the second paragraph, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The order of notice on the petition shall be heard no later than ten days after the filing thereof or on such day thereafter as the court shall fix, having regard to the speediest possible determination of the cause consistent with the rights of the parties; provided, however, that orders with respect to any of the matters referred to in this section may be issued at any time on or after the filing of the petition without notice when such order is necessary to fulfill the purposes of this section. In the hearing of such petition the burden shall be on the respondent to show by a preponderance of the evidence that the actions complained of in such petition were in accordance with and authorized by this section, by section twenty-three B of chapter thirty-nine, or by section nine G of chapter thirty-four. All processes may be issued from the clerk's office in the county in which the action is brought and, except as aforesaid, shall be returnable as the court orders.

Such order may invalidate any action taken at any meeting at which provisions of this section may have been violated, provided that such complaint is filed within fourteen days of the date when such action is made public.

Any such order may also, when appropriate, require the records of any such meeting to be made public, unless it shall have been determined by such justice that the maintenance of secrecy with respect to such records is authorized by the provisions of this section. Chap. 830. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE BUREAU OF WELFARE AUDITING.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to place certain positions within the bureau of welfare auditing in the comptroller's division of the executive office for administration and finance under civil service, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 7 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 30R, inserted by section 2 of chapter 943 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 30R. There shall be in the comptroller's division of the executive office of administration and finance a bureau of welfare auditing, headed by a director, who shall be appointed by the commission, shall be a person of ability and experience and shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office. Said commission may appoint such other experts and officers as it deems necessary to carry out the work of the bureau. Appointments to the positions of director, legal counsel and confidential administrative secretary, shall not be subject to chapter thirty-one or to section nine A of chapter thirty.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any person holding a position in the bureau of welfare auditing in the comptroller's division of the executive office for administration and finance, other than the positions of director, legal counsel and confidential administrative secretary, who was appointed to such position on or before September twenty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, shall be deemed to have been appointed thereto under the provisions of chapter thirty-one and shall be subject to the civil service law and rules; provided, however, that such person shall not be required to take a qualifying examination and shall be deemed to be permanently appointed thereto without being required to serve any probationary period. Chap. 831. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE PROTECTION OF THE LAND AND WATERS OF THE ISLAND OF MARTHA'S VINEYARD.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The island of Martha's Vineyard possesses unique natural, historical, ecological, scientific, cultural, and other values and there is a regional and statewide interest in preserving and enhancing these values.

These values are being threatened and may be irreversibly damaged by uncoordinated or inappropriate uses of the land.

The protection of the health, safety, and general welfare of island residents and visitors requires the establishment of a regional commission whose purpose shall be to ensure that henceforth the land usages which will be permitted are those which will not be unduly detrimental to those values or to the economy of the island.

The preserving and enhancing of these values requires the designation of districts of critical planning concern and the recognition of developments of regional impact, and the review thereof by the regional commission.

Such a program can protect the natural character and beauty of Martha's Vineyard and can contribute to the maintenance of sound local economies and private property values.

The people of Martha's Vineyard did, on March fourteenth, nineteen hundred and seventy-four vote to endorse the provisions of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

The purpose of the commission created by this act shall be to further protect the health, safety, and general welfare of island residents and visitors by preserving and conserving for the enjoyment of present and future generations the unique natural, historical, ecological, scientific, and cultural values of Martha's Vineyard which contribute to public enjoyment, inspiration and scientific study, by protecting these values from development and uses which would impair them, and by promoting the enhancement of sound local economies.

SECTION 2. There is hereby created the Martha's Vineyard Commission, hereinafter referred to as the commission, which shall be a public body corporate and which shall have the responsibilities, duties, and powers established herein over the lands and waters in the county of Dukes County with the exception of the Elizabeth Islands and the Indian Common Lands known generally as the Cranberry Bogs, the Clay Cliffs, and Herring

Creek, all situated in the town of Gay Head, and to the extent they are excluded from the responsibilities, duties and powers of the towns, all lands owned by the commonwealth or any of its constituent agencies, boards, departments, commissions or offices.

The commission shall consist of twenty-one members, except as provided further in this section; one selectman or a resident registered to vote from each town on Martha's Vineyard, appointed by the board of selectmen of that town; nine persons to be elected at-large, island-wide, provided that there shall not be less than one person nor more than two persons elected from each town on Martha's Vineyard and provided that said elections shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the following paragraphs; one county commissioner of the county of Dukes County, appointed by the county commissioners of said county; one member of the cabinet, or his designee, appointed by the governor; and four persons whose principal residence is not on Martha's Vineyard, to be appointed by the governor, said persons to have voice but not vote in deciding matters before the commission. In the event that legislation relevant to the purposes of this act is enacted by the Congress of the United States, upon certification of such enactment by the President of the United States and by the governor of the commonwealth, and one member of the cabinet of the United States or the designee of such cabinet member shall also be a member of the commission.

If the commission adopts regulations for districts of critical planning concern, the commission shall consist of four additional voting members, to be known as the town review committee who shall vote in critical district regulations adopted by the commission affecting their town if that town fails to adopt regulations in accordance with the process established in section ten. The members of said committee, appointed by the board of selectmen of each town, shall be nominated as follows: one member from the board of assessors, one member from the board of health, one member from the board of selectmen, and one member from the conservation commission. Each member shall be sworn by the town clerk. Said appointments shall be made within thirty days after the effective date of this act and within thirty days after annual town elections annually thereafter.

The election of the nine at-large members of the commission shall be conducted at the biennial state election in nineteen hundred and seventy-eight and all succeeding elections of such members shall take place at the biennial state election. The nomination of candidates for election to the office of commission member shall be in accordance with sections six and eight of chapter fifty-three of the General Laws, provided, however, that no more than ten signatures of voters shall be required on the nomination papers for such office. Notwithstanding the provisions of section ten of chapter fifty-three of the General Laws, nomination papers for said candidates shall be filed with the office of the state secretary on or before the tenth Tuesday preceding the day of the election. Such nomination papers shall be subject to the provisions of section seven of said chapter fifty-three. All candidates for said office are hereby exempted from the reporting requirements as provided for in section sixteen of chapter fifty-five of the General Laws. All appointing authorities shall appoint members with the exception of the members of the town review committee to the commission no later than fifteen days after the date of the certification of the election of the nine at-large commission members, and said authorities shall notify the state secretary of their appointments in writing. Upon his election or appointment to the commission, each commission member shall be sworn to the faithful execution of his duties by the town clerk of the town in which he resides; provided however, that the four commission members who do not have their principal place of residence on Martha's Vineyard shall be sworn by the town clerk of any town on Martha's Vineyard. Upon the qualification of its members, the commission members shall meet and organize by electing from among its members a chairman, vice-chairman, and clerk-treasurer. Succeeding election of officers shall be held annually, on or before December thirty-first, at a meeting called for the purpose; provided that the commission clerk-treasurer shall not concurrently hold the position of treasurer of said county.

Terms of office for the elected members of the commission and for the non-resident taxpayer members shall be two years. Terms of office for members who are selectmen or their designees or county commissioners shall be for one year and may be renewed only upon vote of the appointing body. The cabinet member or his designee appointed by the governor, shall serve at the discretion of the governor. Terms of office shall be computed from January first each year. Any vacancy in an appointed position shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Any vacancy in the elected membership shall be filled by a majority vote of the planning board, or the board of selectmen in the absence of a planning board, of the town in which the former member was a registered voter; said vacancy to be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term. The commission shall notify the municipality of any vacancy in the elected membership by notice to the town clerk and planning board at the town of residence of the elected member whose office is vacated. The cabinet member of the United States or his designee shall serve pursuant to applicable federal law.

The commission may also contract for such additional clerical, expert, legal, and other assistance as may be required to discharge its responsibilities and may reimburse its members and staff for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their duties, including meals, travel and lodging.

SECTION 3. The commission may adopt regulations for the control of districts of critical planning concern pursuant to sections eight to eleven, inclusive, and to specify conditions and modifications necessary for the control of developments of regional impact pursuant to sections twelve to sixteen, inclusive.

In adopting such regulations, the commission may include any type of regulation which may be adopted by any city or town under the following General Laws: section eight C of chapter forty; chapter forty A; sections eighty-one E to eighty-one H, inclusive, of chapter forty C as they relate to official maps, and sections eighty-one K to eighty-one GG, inclusive, of chapter forty-one; section twenty-seven B of chapter one hundred and eleven, as it relates to regional health boards; and sections forty and forty A of chapter one hundred and thirty-one, as they pertain to the protection of wetlands.

Regulations adopted pursuant to section ten or conditions and modifications specified pursuant to section sixteen by the commission under the above-mentioned General Laws may differ from the otherwise relevant local development ordinances and by-laws in their scope and magnitude when such ordinances and by-laws are clearly restrictive of the purposes of the commission. In adopting regulations or specifying conditions which would not otherwise be permitted or required by existing local development ordinances and by-laws the commission shall describe in writing and present evidence which demonstrates that the public health, safety, and welfare would be endangered or that irreversible damage would result to natural, historical, ecological, scientific, or cultural values on Martha's Vineyard by the continuing application of the existing local development ordinance or by-law as it applies to the specific district of critical planning concern or development of regional impact which the commission is considering.

The commission may be designated by any state or federal agency to participate in or receive funds and technical assistance from any state or federal programs, especially as those programs relate to environmental protection, conservation, land use planning, water and air quality control, economic development, transportation or the development of region-wide public services. The commission may authorize debt in anticipation of receipt of revenue as provided in section four.

SECTION 4. The commission shall annually in the month of January estimate the amount of money required to pay its total expenses for the following fiscal year, deduct estimated contributions from sources, and pro rate the net expenses to each town on the basis of its latest equalized valuation for property tax purposes as established pursuant to section nine of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws. The commission shall certify the amount so determined to the town clerk and assessors of each town within the commission's jurisdiction who shall include the sum in the tax levy of the year.

Upon order of the commission, each town treasurer shall, subject to the provisions of sections fifty-two and fifty-six of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, pay to the commission clerk-treasurer the town's share of the commission's net expenses. The amount so determined and levied shall not exceed .036 per cent of the latest equalized valuation for each town. A penalty of eight per cent per annum shall be paid by towns delinquent in paying their assessed appropriations to the commission if not paid within sixty days of the notice of payment due.

The commission may receive for the purposes of this act any funds or monies from any source, including grants, bequests, gifts or contributions made by any individual, association, corporations, or by municipal, county, state, or federal governments. Monies so received shall be disbursed by the clerk-treasurer of the commission upon an order voted by the commission; and the charges upon all towns may be reduced correspondingly upon a majority vote of all members if such monies were not included in the calculations of the town's net share of expenses for the fiscal year.

The commission may authorize debt by a majority vote of the commission in anticipation of revenue to an amount not in excess of that to be received during the current fiscal year from all federal, state, county and local sources. Notes issued under authority of this section shall be signed by the clerk-treasurer of the commission, and the chairman of the commission shall countersign and approve them in the presence of the vice-chairman of the commission who shall certify to the fact on the face thereof. Such notes shall be payable, and shall be paid, not later than one year from their dates, and shall not be renewed or paid by the issue of new notes, except as provided in section seventeen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws.

The commission shall record all receipts and disbursements in accordance with the requirements of the commonwealth which govern accounting practices for towns. All personnel, material and service charges shall be kept separately and allocated to either direct or indirect accounts by project or program. Complete annual accounting reports, prepared in the manner prescribed for towns, shall be published and distributed within ninety days after the end of each fiscal year. Copies of said annual accounting reports shall be made available to the public and copies shall be sent to the town clerks and the finance committees of each town in the county of Dukes County.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of any ordinance or by-law of a municipality on Martha's Vineyard, every municipal land regulatory agency shall be governed by the procedures, standards, and criteria established pursuant to this act in passing on applications for development permits relating to areas and developments subject to this act. A copy of each such permit granted by any such agency shall be filed with the commission.

Where there is a conflict between a local rule, regulation, ordinance, by-law or master plan, the more limiting or restrictive requirement shall prevail.

SECTION 6. The following words, wherever used in this act shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the following meanings:

"Development", any building, mining, dredging, filling, excavation, or drilling operation; or any material change in the use or appearance of any structure or in the land itself; or the dividing of land into parcels; or a change in the intensity of use of land, such as an increase in the number of dwelling units in a structure; or alteration of a shore, beach, seacoast, river, stream, lake, pond, or canal, including coastal construction; or demolition of a structure; or the clearing of land as an adjunct of construction; or the deposit of refuse, solid or liquid waste or fill on a parcel of land.

"Development ordinances and by-laws", any by-law, ordinance, rule, regulation, or code adopted by a municipality for the control or regulation of activities related to construction, improvement, or alteration made to buildings or land within the boundaries of said municipality.

“Development permit”, any permit, license, authority, endorsement, or permission required from a municipal agency prior to the commencement of construction, improvement, or alteration made to buildings or land.

“Municipal land regulatory agency”, any municipal agency, board, commission, department, office, or official that has statutory authority to approve or grant a development permit.

“Person”, an individual, corporation, governmental agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any legal entity.

“Regulation”, any ordinance, by-law, rule, regulation or code which may be adopted by a city or town under the General Laws enumerated in section three of this act and which is adopted or approved by the commission under the provisions of section ten.

SECTION 7. The commission shall submit to the secretary of the executive office of environmental affairs standards and criteria which the commission proposes to use in determining whether or not a proposed area is one of critical planning concern as that term is defined in section eight; and standards and criteria which the commission proposes to use and to be used by municipal authorities in determining whether or not a proposed development is one of regional impact as that term is defined in section twelve.

The secretary of the executive office of environmental affairs, with the concurrence of such other members of the governor's cabinet as the governor shall designate for this purpose, may approve, disapprove or amend and approve with the advice and consent of the commission, the standards and criteria regarding designation of districts of critical planning concern and review of developments of regional impact if such standards and criteria are in accordance with the purposes of the commission. The secretary of the executive office of environmental affairs and such other cabinet members designated by the governor shall approve, disapprove, or amend and approve standards and criteria submitted to them within forty-five days after the receipt of such standards and criteria.

The standards and criteria submitted by Martha's Vineyard Commission established under chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-four, and by the secretary of communities and development on September eighth, nineteen hundred and seventy-five shall be deemed in full compliance with this section and shall continue in full force and effect until such time as they are amended by the commission and approved, or amended and approved, by the secretary of the executive office of environmental affairs in accordance with this section.

SECTION 8. The commission may, after notice to all municipalities which include within their boundaries any part of the area of a proposed district of critical planning concern and after notice and public hearing pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, designate specific geographical areas on Martha's Vineyard as districts of critical planning concern. The designation of such districts shall be made only in accordance with the standards and criteria for districts of critical planning concern approved pursuant to section seven.

A district of critical planning concern may be designated only for (a) an area which possesses unique natural, historical, ecological, scientific, or cultural resources of regional or statewide significance; (b) an area which possesses marginal soil or topographic conditions which render it unsuitable for intense development; or (c) an area significantly affected by, or having significant impact on, an existing or proposed major public facility or other area of major public investment. A major public facility is any publicly owned facility of regional importance except:

- (1) any public facility operated by a municipality primarily for the benefit of the residents of that municipality, or by any agency serving primarily the residents of one municipality;
- (2) any street or highway which is not recognized as or maintained as a part of the state or federal highway system; or
- (3) any educational institution serving primarily the residents of one municipality.

Nomination of areas for consideration for designation as districts of critical planning concern may be made by the commission or by a board of selectmen, planning board, board of health, or conservation commission of any of the towns affected by this act for any area within or without its municipal boundaries. Nominations also may be made upon petition of seventy-five taxpayers of any town on the island. Within forty-five days of the receipt of a nomination the commission shall accept or reject the nomination for consideration for designation upon a majority vote of its members. The acceptance of the nomination for consideration for designation shall be accompanied by a general statement of purpose, describing the reasons for acceptance of the nomination for consideration. Nominations which are not accepted for consideration shall be returned to their sponsors with a written explanation of the commission's reasons for not accepting the nomination within forty-five days of submission. The commission may consolidate nominations which pertain to the same geographical area or to areas which are contiguous or it may amend a nomination. Nominations accepted for consideration for designation which do not receive designation may be reconsidered for designation within one year of the original acceptance for consideration upon a vote of two-thirds of the commission members.

In its designation of a district of critical planning concern the commission shall specify why the area is of critical concern to the region, the problems associated with the uncontrolled or inappropriate development of the area, and the advantages to be gained from development of the area in a controlled manner. The commission also shall specify broad guidelines for the development of the district. The issuance of such guidelines shall be based on, but need not necessarily be limited to, the following considerations:

(a) that development of the district will not result in undue water, air, land, or noise pollution, taking into account the elevation of the district above sea level, the nature of the soils and subsoils and their ability adequately to support waste disposal, the slope of the land and its effect on effluents, availability of streams and other conduits for disposal of effluents, and the applicable health, water resources and environmental regulations;

(b) that the existing water supply of the district will not be unreasonably burdened by any development;

(c) that development of the district will not result in increased beach erosion or damage to the littoral or wetlands environments;

(d) that development of the district will not result in undue harm to cultural, economic, or historic values.

In any application for a development permit which applies to an area within a district of critical planning concern, the burden of proof of compliance with the above considerations shall be on the applicant. The commission may amend or rescind the designation of a district in the manner provided for designation.

Nominations accepted for consideration for designation which do not receive designation from the commission within sixty days of the date of acceptance shall be returned to their sponsors with a written explanation of the commission's reasons for not granting the designation.

SECTION 9. No municipality shall grant a development permit applicable within a district of critical planning concern except in accordance with regulations promulgated pursuant to section ten.

The acceptance of a nomination for consideration for designation of a district of critical planning concern shall suspend the power of a municipality to grant development permits applicable within the district; provided, however, that until regulations for the district adopted pursuant to section ten have become effective, a municipality may grant development permits, applicable within the district if:

(a) the commission has certified that the type or class of proposed construction, improvement, or alteration is essential to protect the public health, safety, and general welfare because of an existing emergency certified by the commission; and,

(b) a development ordinance or by-law had been in effect immediately prior to the nomination of such area and development permits would have been granted under such ordinance or by-law.

SECTION 10. After designation of a district of critical planning concern, a municipality whose boundaries include all or part of the district may adopt regulations in conformance to the guidelines for the development of the district as set forth in the designation. In adopting such regulations, each municipality shall have all of the powers it otherwise had under the General Laws. A copy of regulations so adopted shall be submitted to the commission.

Pursuant to the issuance of broad guidelines for the development of the district by the commission in its designation of a district of critical planning concern, the town planning board shall prepare regulations which conform to the guidelines. The town review committee shall approve or amend and approve said regulations, which shall be submitted by the planning board to the commission for approval.

If the commission determines that the proposed regulations submitted conform to the guidelines for the development of the district specified in the commission's designation of the district, the commission shall, after notice to all municipalities which include within their boundaries any part of the district of critical planning concern and after notice and public hearing pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, notify the planning board of conformance to the guidelines. When two or more planning boards shall, pursuant to this act, submit proposed regulations for areas within a single district, the commission may encourage such boards to submit compatible regulations, notwithstanding the differences between the municipalities.

If the commission determines that said proposed regulations are not in conformance to the guidelines, the commission shall specify to the planning board why the regulations fail to conform to the guidelines. The town review committee with the town planning board may then submit to the commission proposed amended regulations. Upon the approval by the commission of proposed regulations or proposed amended regulations, the municipality in whose boundaries the district was designated, may adopt the regulations or amended regulations. Such adopted regulations shall then be submitted to the commission for final approval or amendment and approval.

If a municipality whose boundaries include all or part of the district fails to adopt regulations within fourteen months, the commission may, after notice to such municipality and after notice and public hearing pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws adopt regulations applicable to such municipality's portion of the district within forty-five days of the town's failure to adopt regulations.

If a municipality whose boundaries include all or part of the district fails to submit regulations which conform to the guidelines for the development of the district within six months after the designation, the commission may after notice to such municipality and notice and public hearing pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, adopt regulations applicable to such municipality's portion of the district.

The commission may adopt regulations by a majority vote of the seventeen voting members of the commission and the four members of the town review committee.

The adoption of such regulations shall specify the extent to which they shall supersede the otherwise applicable local development ordinances and by-laws or be supplementary thereto. Regulations so adopted shall be only the types specified in section three.

All regulations so adopted shall be incorporated, without regard to the provisions of section thirty-two of chapter forty of the General Laws, by the municipality into the official ordinances, by-laws and maps of the municipality and shall not be effective prior thereto. Such regulations shall be administered by the municipality as if they were part of its development ordinances and by-laws. If such a regulation requires enforcement by an administrative office or body which has not been constituted by a municipality, the board of selectmen of the municipality shall enforce such regulation. At any time after the adoption by the commission of such regulations, the municipality concerned may adopt regulations which, if approved by the commission as provided in this section, shall supersede any regulations adopted by the commission pursuant to this section.

A municipality may amend or rescind regulations in the manner provided for adoption and approval.

SECTION 11. If the commission has not approved or adopted regulations applicable to the entirety of a district within fifteen and one-half months after designation of such district, the designation of such part for which regulations have not been approved or adopted shall be terminated. No part of the area formerly designated as a district shall again be designated as a district for a period of twelve months from the date of such termination. Notice of such termination shall be given in the same manner as provided for designation.

SECTION 12. The commission shall adopt and submit for approval, pursuant to section seven, standards and criteria which specify the types of development which, because of their magnitude or the magnitude of their effect on the surrounding environment, are likely to present development issues significant to more than one municipality of the island of Martha's Vineyard. For the purpose of this act, such types of development shall be termed developments of regional impact.

In adopting standards and criteria pursuant to this section, the commission shall consider, but shall not be limited by the following considerations:

(a) the extent to which a type of development would create or alleviate environmental problems, including, but not limited to, air, water, and noise pollution;

(b) the size of the site to be developed;

(c) the amount of pedestrian and vehicular traffic likely to be generated;

(d) the number of persons likely to be residents, employees, or otherwise present;

(e) the extent to which a type of development is intended to serve a regional market;

(f) the location of a type of development near a waterway, publicly-owned land, or a municipal boundary; and

(g) the extent to which the development would require the provision of the following municipal or regional services: solid waste disposal, public water supplies, sewage treatment facilities, parking facilities and tourist services, and public education facilities.

The standards and criteria shall be reviewed at least every two years.

SECTION 13. The governmental agency within each municipality which has responsibility for issuing a development permit shall in accordance with the standards and criteria approved pursuant to section seven determine whether or not a proposed development, for which application for a development permit has been made, is one of regional impact; if so, it shall refer the application for the development permit to the commission.

SECTION 14. The commission shall review all applications for development permits for developments of regional impact. Notice and public hearing pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be required, except that only fourteen days rather than twenty-one days of prior notice shall be required and a copy of said notice need not be sent to the state secretary. The commission shall permit the referring agency to grant a development permit for such development only if it finds after such public hearing that:

(a) the probable benefit from the proposed development will exceed the probable detriment as evaluated pursuant to section fifteen;

(b) the proposed development will not substantially or unreasonably interfere with the achievement of the objectives of the general plan of any municipality or the general plan of the county of Dukes County;

(c) the proposed development is consistent with municipal development ordinances and by-laws, or, if it is inconsistent, the inconsistency is necessary to enable a substantial segment of the population of a larger community of which the municipality is a part to secure adequate opportunities for housing, education or recreation; and

(d) if the proposed development is located in whole or in part within a designated district of critical planning concern, it is consistent with the regulations approved or adopted by the commission pursuant to section ten.

The commission shall hold the public hearing within thirty days after receipt of the referral, or application. The commission shall make the required finding and notify the referring agency and applicant of its decision within sixty days after the public hearing. These time limits may be waived by mutual agreement between the commission and the applicant for the development.

SECTION 15. In making a finding of the probable benefits and detriments of a proposed development, the commission shall not restrict its consideration to benefits and detriments within the municipality of the referring agency, but shall consider also the impact of the proposed development on the areas within other municipalities. Such probable benefits and detriments shall be considered even if they are indirect, intangible or not readily quantifiable. In evaluating the probable benefits and detriments of a proposed development of regional impact the commission shall consider, together with other relevant factors, whether:

(a) development at the proposed location is or is not essential or especially appropriate in view of the available alternatives on the island of Martha's Vineyard;

(b) development in the manner proposed will have a more favorable or adverse impact on the environment in comparison to alternative manners of development;

(c) the proposed development will favorably or adversely affect other persons and property, and if so, whether, because of circumstances peculiar to the location, the effect is likely to be greater than is ordinarily associated with the development of the types proposed;

(d) the proposed development will favorably or adversely affect the supply of needed low and moderate income housing for island residents;

(e) the proposed development will favorably or adversely affect the provision of municipal services and the burden on taxpayers in making provision therefor;

(f) the proposed development will use efficiently or burden unduly existing public facilities or those which are to be developed within the succeeding five years;

(g) the proposed development will aid or interfere with the ability of the municipality to achieve the objectives set forth in the municipal general plan; and

(h) the proposed development will further contravene land development objectives and policies developed by regional or state agencies.

Whenever the commission is required to find whether the probable benefit from a proposed development of regional impact will exceed the probable detriment, it shall prepare a written opinion setting forth the grounds of its findings.

SECTION 16. No referring agency shall grant a development permit for a development of regional impact except with the permission of the commission. In permitting the referring agency to grant a development permit for a development of regional impact the commission may also specify conditions to be met by the developer to whom the permit is being issued for the purpose of minimizing economic, social, or environmental damage.

SECTION 17. The commission may enforce any decisions, conditions or restrictions it may impose upon a development by recording certificates of noncompliance with appropriate plan or title references in the registry of deeds. The commission may commence such other actions or proceedings as it may deem necessary to enforce its decisions, conditions or restrictions.

SECTION 18. Any party aggrieved by a determination of the commission may appeal to the superior court within twenty days after the commission has sent the development applicant written notice, by certified mail, of its decision and has filed a copy of its decision with the town clerk of the town in which the proposed development is located. The court shall hear all pertinent evidence and shall annul the determination of the commission if it finds that said determination is unsupported by the evidence or exceeds the authority of the commission, or it may remand the case for further action by the commission or may make such other decree as is just and equitable. Costs of the appeal shall not be allowed against the commission unless it shall appear to the court that the commission acted with gross negligence, bad faith or malice. Costs of such appeal shall not be allowed against the appellant unless it shall appear to the court that the appellant acted in bad faith or with malice.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 142 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 3B and 4 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

A certificate of a plumbing corporation shall authorize a master plumber to conduct the plumbing and gas fitting business as a corporation, a certificate of a gas fitting corporation shall allow a master gas fitter to conduct the gas fitting business as a corporation, provided, that in a plumbing corporation the master plumber and in a gas fitting corporation the master gas fitter is an officer of the corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth to engage in the business of plumbing or in the business of gas fitting. A certificate of plumbing partnership shall authorize a master plumber to conduct the plumbing and gas fitting business as a partnership, a certificate of a gas fitting partnership shall authorize a master gas fitter to conduct the gas fitting business as a partnership; provided, that all partners in a plumbing partnership are master plumbers and in a gas fitting partnership all partners are master gas fitters.

Section 4. The examiners may make such rules as they deem proper for the performance of their duties and rules governing the qualifications of applicants for examination, which shall take effect when approved by the general court and by the department of public health. They shall examine each applicant desiring to engage in the business of a master plumber or a journeyman plumber, as to his practical knowledge of plumbing, house drainage, plumbing ventilation, and gas fitting. They shall examine each applicant desiring to engage in the business of a master gas fitter or a journeyman gas fitter as to his practical knowledge pertaining to gas fitting, natural and manufactured gas and the installation of undiluted liquefied petroleum. They shall examine each person who applies to be licensed as an undiluted liquefied petroleum gas installer, and each person who applies to be licensed as a limited undiluted liquefied petroleum gas installer. They shall subject each applicant to a practical test satisfactory to the examiner, who, if satisfied of his competence, shall issue to him a license as applied for. They shall hold frequent examinations in the city of Boston, and also at such other convenient places within the commonwealth as they deem necessary. Public notice shall be given of all examinations. Every application for examination shall be in the handwriting of the applicant who shall be notified by the examiners of the time and place of examination. The examiners may, without payment of any fee, issue a probationary license in force for six months to a person who, having worked as an apprentice, or under a verbal agreement for instruction, for not less than three years, presents an application therefor with the signed endorsement of his employer agreeing to be responsible for all work done under the license and to have the licensee, at the expiration of the license, present himself for examination as a journeyman.

They shall grant a credit of five per cent to the examination standing of each applicant who is a veteran, as defined in clause Forty-third of section seven of chapter four.

SECTION 7. Said chapter 142 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 5 to 7, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections:-

Section 5. The fee for the first license of a master plumber or a master gas fitter shall be twenty-five dollars; for any biennial renewal thereof, twenty-four dollars; and for an examination therefor, twenty dollars. The fee for the first license of a journeyman plumber or a journeyman gas fitter shall be ten dollars, for any biennial renewal thereof, twelve dollars; and for an examination therefor, ten dollars. The fee for the first license of an apprentice shall be three dollars and for any biennial renewal thereof, six dollars. The fee for the original license of an undiluted liquefied petroleum gas installer shall be twenty dollars; for any biennial renewal fee thereof, twelve dollars and for an examination therefor, ten dollars. The fee for the original license of a limited undiluted petroleum gas installer shall be twenty dollars; for any biennial renewal fee therefor, ten dollars.

Section 6. Licenses and certificates issued by the examiners shall be valid throughout the commonwealth, but shall not be assignable or transferable. The examiners shall forward to the board of health of each town, or to the inspector of buildings having control of the enforcement of regulations relative to plumbing and gas fitting in such town, the names and addresses of all persons in such town to whom such licenses have been granted. Licenses shall be issued for two years and may be renewed every two years on or before May first, or in case of absence, sickness or other disability of the holder, on or before such later date as the examiners may permit, upon payment of the required fee. Each holder of a master plumber's or a master gas fitter's certificate or license shall register his name and business address with said inspector of buildings if he has such control, otherwise with the board of health, in the town wherein he desires to engage in business as a master plumber or a master gas fitter. Any such license or certificate may, after notice and hearing, be suspended or revoked by the examiners upon the violation by the holder thereof of any statute, ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation relative to plumbing or gas fitting, upon failure or refusal of the holder thereof to comply with the rules and requirements of the examiners, or for other sufficient cause. In case of failure to renew a license aforesaid on or before May first in any year or such later date as the examiners may permit as aforesaid, the person named therein may, upon payment of the said fee and, at the discretion of the examiners, a deferred renewal fee of ten dollars, increased by such additional fees as would have been payable had such license been continuously renewed, receive a deferred renewal thereof which shall expire on the ensuing first day of May; provided, that such renewed license shall not constitute its holder a licensee for any period preceding its issue.

Section 7. If, in the opinion of such inspector of buildings, if any, otherwise of the board of health, of a town, the holder of a license or certificate violates any statute, ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation relative to plumbing and gas fitting, said inspector or board of health of the town where such violation is committed shall give notice thereof to the examiners.

SECTION 8. Section 9 of said chapter 142, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Within thirty days after rules have taken effect as provided in the preceding section, the local board of health shall appoint an inspector of plumbing and gas fitting having the qualifications and duties specified in sections eleven and twelve to hold office for three years unless, after hearing, sooner removed for cause.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 142 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 11 to 14, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following four sections:-

Section 11. The said inspector of buildings, if any, otherwise the board of health, of each city and town, shall, within three months after it becomes subject to sections one to sixteen, inclusive, appoint from the classified civil service list one or more inspectors of plumbing and one or more inspectors of gas fitting, who shall, in the case of the inspectors of plumbing, be practical plumbers and shall have had practical experience either as master or journeymen plumbers, continuously, during five years next preceding their appointment and in the case of inspectors of gas fitting, be practical gas fitters and shall have had practical experience either as master or journeymen gas fitters, continuously, during five years next preceding their appointment; provided, that any time spent in wartime service as defined in clause Forty-third of section seven of chapter four shall be deemed a part of the continuous practical experience so required; provided, however, that any such city or town may appoint plumbing inspectors who shall also be gas fitting inspectors. Such inspector of buildings or board may remove them subject to chapter thirty-one, and shall, subject to approval of the city council or board of selectmen, fix their compensation, which shall be paid by the city or town. Said inspectors of plumbing or inspectors of gas fitting shall inspect all plumbing or gas fitting, as the case may be, in the process of construction, alteration or repair for which permits are granted within their respective cities and towns, and shall report to their appointing power or board violations of any law, ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation relative to plumbing or gas fitting; they shall perform such other appropriate duties as may be required. The approval of plumbing or gas fitting by any inspectors other than those provided for by this chapter shall not be a compliance therewith.

Section 12. No inspector of plumbing or inspector of gas fitting shall inspect or approve any plumbing or gas fitting work done by himself, his employer, employee or one employed with him, but in a city or town subject to sections one to sixteen, inclusive, the said inspector of buildings, or the board of health, shall in the manner provided in the preceding section appoint an additional inspector of plumbing or inspector of gas fitting as therein provided, who shall inspect plumbing or gas fitting so done. Said additional inspector may act in the absence or disability of the local inspector and his services shall receive like compensation. This section shall not apply to any city or town establishing an annual salary for an inspector of plumbing or inspector of gas fitting, and in such city or town the inspector of plumbing or inspector of gas fitting shall not engage or work at the business of plumbing or gas fitting.

Section 13. In all cities and towns, the examiners, subject to the approval of the department of environmental affairs, shall make and from time to time in like manner alter, amend, and repeal rules and regulations relative to the construction, alteration, repair and inspection of plumbing in such cities and towns, which rules and regulations shall be reasonable, uniform, and based on generally accepted standards of plumbing practice; provided, however, that the application of such rules and regulations may be varied by the examiners in a particular city or town upon petition of the board of health or health department thereof. The examiners shall adopt a regulation requiring all cities and towns to use a uniform application for a permit to perform plumbing work.

The examiners, subject to the approval of the department of public safety, shall make and from time to time in like manner alter, amend, and repeal rules and regulations relative to gas fitting in buildings throughout the commonwealth, and relative to liquefied petroleum gas fitting containers and regulating equipment in such buildings, which rules shall be reasonable, uniform, based on generally accepted standards of engineering practice, and designed to prevent fire, explosion, injury and death, and not inconsistent with rules and regulations relative to the distribution of natural gas which are promulgated pursuant to chapter one hundred and sixty-four or the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-two or the rules and regulations made under the authority thereof. Any person aggrieved by a ruling interpreting the rules and regulations made under this paragraph, including any person aggrieved by any such rule made by the building commissioner of Boston, may appeal to the examiners in writing within ten days after such ruling; and, subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A relative to adjudicatory proceedings, said examiners shall hear and decide such appeal. Subject to said provisions of chapter thirty A, such decision shall be final and binding upon, and complied with by, all parties in interest.

Section 14. Sections one to sixteen, inclusive, shall apply to all persons learning the business of plumbing and gas fitting when they are sent out to do the work of a journeyman.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 142 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16, as amended by section 5 of chapter 431 of the acts of 1963, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 16. Every person engaged in the business of a master plumber or a master gas fitter or working as a journeyman plumber or a journeyman gas fitter or as an apprentice gas fitter or an apprentice plumber or as an undiluted liquefied petroleum gas installer or a limited undiluted liquefied petroleum gas installer not lawfully registered or licensed, if required by the chapter, every person engaging in or working at the business of plumbing or gas fitting in a city or town when forbidden to do so under section seven, every master plumber or master gas fitter who engages or employs any person to work as a journeyman or as an apprentice who has not been so licensed, and every person violating any provision of sections one to fifteen, inclusive, of this chapter or any ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation made thereunder, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars. Any city or town subject to the preceding sections of this chapter neglecting to comply with any of its provisions shall forfeit fifty dollars to the commonwealth for each month during which such neglect continues.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 142 is hereby further amended by striking out section 21, inserted by chapter 302 of the acts of 1938, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 21. The examiners shall formulate rules relative to the construction, alteration, repair and inspection of all plumbing and gas fitting work in buildings owned and used by the commonwealth, subject to the approval of the department of public health, and all plans for plumbing and gas fitting in such buildings shall be subject to the approval of the examiners.

SECTION 12. The transfer of the gas regulatory board in the department of public utilities and the board of state examiners of plumbers shall not be construed as abolishing said board of state examiners of plumbers, nor shall the establishment of the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters by section thirty-six of chapter thirteen of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, be construed as creating a new board, but as a transfer of said gas regulatory board from the department of public utilities to the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters. Unless a contrary intent clearly appears, all powers and duties of said board, as existing immediately prior to said effective date, shall be exercised and performed by said state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters as so transferred. The phrases "gas regulatory board" and "the board of state examiners of plumbers" or any words connoting the same, when used in any statute, order, rule or regulation, shall mean the board of examiners of plumbers and gas fitters, unless a contrary intent clearly appears.

All officers and employees of the gas regulatory board in the department of public utilities and the board of state examiners of plumbers who, immediately prior to the effective date of this act, hold positions classified under chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, or have tenure in their positions by reason of section nine A of chapter thirty of the General Laws, are hereby transferred to the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters, every such transfer to be without impairment of civil service status, seniority, retirement or other rights of the officer or employee, without interruption of his service within the meaning of said chapter thirty-one or said section nine A, and without reduction in compensation and salary grade.

All officers and employees of the gas regulatory board in the department of public utilities and the board of state examiners of plumbers, who immediately prior to said effective date, do not hold positions classified under said chapter thirty-one, or do not have tenure in their positions by reason of said section nine A, are hereby transferred to the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters, every such transfer to be without impairment of seniority, retirement and other rights of the officer or employee, without interruption of service within the meaning of said section nine A, and without reduction in compensation and salary grade.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to confer upon any officer or employee any rights not held immediately prior to said effective date, or to prohibit any subsequent reduction in compensation or salary grade, transfer or reassignment, suspension, discharge, layoff or abolition of position not prohibited prior thereto.

All questions regarding the identification of such officers and employees and of the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters to which they are so transferred shall be determined by the commissioner of administration.

SECTION 13. On the effective date of this act, the incumbent of the position of executive secretary of the board of state examiners of plumbers shall become the executive secretary of the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters, without impairment of his civil service status, seniority, retirement and compensation rights, as established under chapter thirty-one or section nine A of chapter thirty, whichever is applicable.

SECTION 14. All petitions, hearings, actions at law or in equity, or other proceedings pending immediately prior to the effective date of this chapter before any court of law or any administrative tribunal, shall continue unabated and as if no transfer had been effected and the authority and power of the board of examiners of plumbers and gas fitters established hereunder shall, except as provided herein, be the same as that of the gas regulatory board and the board of state examiners of plumbers prior to the effective date of this act.

All orders, rules and regulations duly promulgated by the gas regulatory board and the board of state examiners of plumbers prior to the effective date of this act shall, except as provided herein, remain in full force and effect until superseded, revised or rescinded in accordance with law.

All contracts and obligations of the gas regulatory board and the board of state examiners of plumbers duly in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this act shall continue in full force and effect.

All books, papers, records, documents, plans and property in the custody of the gas regulatory board and the board of state examiners of plumbers immediately prior to the effective date of this act shall continue in the custody and control of the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters.

SECTION 15. The members of the board of state examiners of plumbers in office on the effective date of this act, shall continue in office and shall be five of the members of the board of state examiners of plumbers and gas fitters, established by section one of this act, for the duration of the term for which they were appointed. The governor shall appoint the member master gas fitter, the member journeyman gas fitter, and the member gas fitter competent in liquefied petroleum gas systems, one for an original term of one year, one for an original term of two years, and one for an original term of three years, and as the term of office of a member expires, his successor shall be appointed by the governor to serve for a term of three years.

Chap. 846. AN ACT AUTHORIZING HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS TO ESTABLISH MEDICAL MALPRACTICE SELF-INSURANCE TRUST FUNDS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to authorize the establishment of formal private self-insurance trust funds to provide medical malpractice and general liability coverage for health care providers, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience and health.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 175E, the following chapter:-

Chapter 175F.

Medical Malpractice Self-Insurance Trust Funds.

Section 1. The following words, as used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires or a different meaning is specifically prescribed, shall have the following meanings:

“Certified fund”, a fund holding a certificate issued pursuant to section three and not revoked pursuant to section ten;

“Commissioner”, the commissioner of insurance;

“Fund”, a health care provider self-insurance trust fund;

“Health care provider”, a licensed hospital, clinic, nursing home, health maintenance organization, foundation, educational institution engaged in the training of health care personnel; or society of such other classification of health care providers, as that term is defined in section six of chapter three hundred and sixty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, for which the commissioner determines that medical malpractice insurance is not adequately available at reasonable cost;

“Health care provider self-insurance trust fund”, a trust fund established in accordance with the provisions of this chapter to provide insurance to a group of two or more participating health care providers;

“Insurance”, formal self-insurance or commercial insurance, or a combination thereof, covering risks of medical malpractice liability and general liability of any participating health care provider, and, at the option of the fund, of any affiliated institution or person of a participating health care provider, and of staff members of participating health care providers and affiliates who are full-time employees or who satisfy other reasonable criteria for coverage. A fund with a participant which is a society of individual health care providers who are natural persons shall provide only medical malpractice coverage to the members of that society. Insurance shall include all layers of coverage, on either a claims made or occurrence basis, and reinsurance by one fund of the risk of another fund;

“Participating health care provider” or “Participant”, a health care provider that is a settlor or grantor and beneficiary of a health care provider self-insurance trust fund;

“Trustee”, the trustee of a fund.

Section 2. A group of two or more participating health care providers may establish a health care provider self-insurance trust fund under this chapter prior to the issuance of a certificate in accordance with section three. Said fund shall be deemed established upon the execution of a trust instrument by the initial participants and establishment of a fund balance.

When a group of participants has established a fund, said participants shall file the trust instrument with the commissioner with such supporting documentation as he might reasonably require by regulation. Such trust instrument shall be in compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

The coverage provisions of an insurance contract issued by a fund under its trust instrument shall not become effective to provide coverage until the fund is certified in accordance with section three although the fund may require and accept payments of premiums prior to certification.

A fund shall appoint a trustee to satisfy reasonable standards of performance which shall be promulgated by the commissioner by regulation.

A fund desiring to dissolve may petition the supreme judicial court for voluntary dissolution. The court may authorize such dissolution and may, upon such authorization, distribute the petitioner's assets in a manner consistent with the fund's legal obligations.

The commissioner may petition the supreme judicial court for the involuntary dissolution of any fund if such fund has not filed for two consecutive years, an annual statement in accordance with section six, or if the commissioner is satisfied that the fund is inactive and its continued existence is not in the public interest. Upon authorizing such dissolution, the court shall distribute all assets of the fund in accordance with the fund's legal obligations.

Section 3. Any fund established under section two may be certified to provide insurance in accordance with the provisions of this chapter upon filing an application for certification with the commissioner. Such application shall be on a form provided by the commissioner and shall include such information as he shall require by regulation. The commissioner shall review each application and may, after a hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A, deny any application for the following reasons:

(a) that the application is not on the prescribed form or the information as submitted is not in compliance with regulations promulgated under the provisions of section seventeen;

(b) that the dollar reserve is not in compliance with section eight,

(c) that the trustee is found by the commissioner to be unable to satisfy the standards of performance promulgated by the commissioner pursuant to section two; or

(d) that there was fraud or wilful misrepresentation in providing required written information.

Within sixty days of the date of filing of an application under this section an application shall be deemed approved, unless the commissioner shall schedule a hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A to consider denial thereof and shall hold such hearing within thirty days of such scheduling. The decision of the commissioner shall be rendered within thirty days following such hearing, or the application so filed will be deemed approved.

Section 4. A certified fund shall be exempt from the provisions of chapters one hundred seventy-four A, one hundred seventy-five D, one hundred seventy-four B, one hundred seventy-five, one hundred seventy-five A, one hundred seventy-six, one hundred seventy-six A, one hundred seventy-six B, one hundred seventy-six C, one hundred seventy-six E, and one hundred seventy-six F, and from the provisions of any other statute relating to insurance. A certified fund shall not be considered to be an insurer and any participant shall not be considered a purchaser of insurance under the provisions of section six of chapter three hundred sixty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five. Any such participant or other person to whom coverage is provided by a fund shall receive any dividends to which it would be entitled and shall be subject to any assessments due from it as a "policyholder" under said section 6 if such dividends or assessments relate to any year during which that participant or other person purchased insurance from the Joint Underwriting Association under said section six.

The provisions of this chapter shall be subject to the enforcement provisions of sections three A and three B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

A hearing held under this chapter shall be subject to the commissioner's powers under section eight A of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

A fund shall be subject to the provisions of section twenty of said chapter one hundred and seventy-five as they relate to insurance companies.

A fund shall be subject as an insurer to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-six D.

Section 5. A fund and a trustee of such fund shall have the rights and shall be subject to the legal responsibilities and obligations applicable to a trust and trustee under the General Laws, except to the extent such rights, obligations and responsibilities are in conflict with this chapter.

Section 6. A fund shall annually on January first file with the commissioner a statement showing its financial condition as of September thirtieth of the prior year. Such statement shall be on a form provided by the commissioner. The commissioner may require in writing, at any time, such additional information as is reasonable and necessary to determine the financial condition of a fund. A fund unreasonably neglecting to file the statement required hereunder in a timely fashion, or unreasonably neglecting to comply with any such informational request by the commissioner within thirty days following receipt of a written request for said information, shall forfeit one hundred dollars for each day which such unreasonable neglect continues. Such fine shall be imposed only after a hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A, conducted by the commissioner.

The commissioner shall have the power to examine the financial condition of a fund.

Section 7. The commissioner shall, by regulation, prescribe standards for proper accounting methods to be used by a fund. Said standards shall be consistent with customary accounting principles.

Section 8. A fund organized under this chapter shall, before it shall be certified pursuant to section three, satisfy the commissioner in its application that a claims reserve exists in accordance with this section. Such claims reserve shall be maintained at a level prescribed by an actuary or by a reasonable substitute for an actuary, which level shall exceed four hundred thousand dollars or some other reasonable minimum to be established by the commissioner by regulation. In establishing this minimum, the commissioner shall consider other legal obligations which might be required of the fund by other governmental units, in order to avoid unnecessary and duplicative or conflicting requirements.

Section 9. A trustee of a fund shall notify the commissioner of any amendment to its trust instrument or to its original application for certification under section three within thirty days of the making of such amendment.

Section 10. The commissioner may, after a hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A, revoke or suspend the certification of any fund, or, in lieu of such suspension or revocation, fine that fund up to ten thousand dollars, for intentionally doing any of the following:

- (1) violating any provision of this chapter or any regulations promulgated hereunder;
- (2) presenting false or misleading statements on any document which is filed in accordance with this chapter;
- (3) holding a claims reserve less than the minimum required to be maintained by section eight;
- (4) using improper accounting procedures not in conformity with section seven.

If the certification of a fund is suspended, that fund shall not accept any new participants, but may continue to provide insurance to its present participants. If the certification of a fund is revoked, the fund shall not accept any new participant and such fund shall cease providing any insurance at the end of the policy period during which such revocation occurs or twelve months from the date of such revocation, whichever occurs first. Prior to the total cessation of provision of insurance under this section, such fund shall be treated as if it were a certified fund.

The commissioner may, after a hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A, remove any trustee of a fund for the reasons described in clauses one to four, inclusive, or for any fact which demonstrates that the trustee did not satisfy the standards of performance established pursuant to section two.

Section 11. No fund shall exclude a health care provider from participation except as provided in this section if the health care provider has complied with all necessary and required application procedures. A fund may exclude a health care provider from participation if:

- (1) the applicant health care provider is not situated in a geographical location which is reasonably contiguous to the initial participants;
- (2) the applicant health care provider does not meet standards of risk and claims management and financial management promulgated by a fund in its trust instrument;
- (3) the applicant is not a nonprofit health care provider, if that fund's present participants are nonprofit; or
- (4) the applicant is not a member of the classification of health care providers to which the fund's present participants belong. Each type of health care provider set forth in section 1 shall be considered to be a separate classification of health care providers.

No fund shall be required to provide insurance to a new participant except beginning at the start of the next policy year after the new participant's application is accepted, and no fund shall be required to accept more than one applicant health care provider during any policy year; provided, however, that a fund at its option may accept more than one such applicant during any policy year.

If any applicant health care provider is aggrieved by a decision to exclude him from participation in a fund, he may request arbitration by a board consisting of a member designated by the health care provider, a member chosen by the fund, and a member designated by the commissioner. Such board shall hold a hearing and render a decision on the issues presented.

Section 12. The trust instrument may provide (a) that there shall be a minimum period during which any participant must participate in the fund; (b) that the fund may provide tail coverage to any participant which joins or withdraws from the fund; (c) that all participants shall execute a participation agreement; (d) that the trustee shall be free of all personal liability for his actions in good faith on behalf of the fund; and (e) that the trustee may be either an individual or an institution such as a bank, an insurance company or any other appropriate entity.

Section 13. A fund desiring to consolidate or merge with any other fund shall comply with the procedures set forth in section seven of chapter one hundred and seventy-six, inserted by section one of chapter five hundred and forty of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight. Such merger or consolidation shall be considered to be approved by the commissioner unless, after a hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A, the commissioner disapproves said merger or consolidation in writing within sixty days after the filing of all materials.

Any such merger or consolidation shall have the effects on the rights and property of the funds which are set forth as to fraternal benefit societies in said section seven of said chapter one hundred and seventy-six, as so inserted.

Section 14. Any participant shall be considered to have insurance equivalent to commercial insurance, to the extent of the limits of coverage provided by the fund, for the purpose of any requirements of insurance or commercial insurance contained in any law or any bonds, notes, mortgages, contracts or other agreements to which that participant is a party.

Section 15. No money or other asset of any fund shall be liable to attachment, trustee process, equitable lien or other process, or to be seized, taken, appropriated or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of any legal person except as provided in this chapter or in the trust instrument governing the fund.

Section 16. A fund is hereby declared to be a charitable and benevolent institution, and all of its assets shall be exempt from all and every state, county, district, municipal and school tax, if all of its participants qualify for exemption from federal taxes under 26 U.S.C. Section 501, or qualify for the exclusion from gross income provided under 26 U.S.C. Section 115.

Section 17. All regulations promulgated by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter shall consider the requirements of federal governmental agencies or quasi-governmental agencies so as to permit funds to satisfy such requirements.

Section 18. Whoever violates any provisions of this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars.

Approved December 23, 1977.

Chap. 848. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE CRIMES OF DESERTION OR NONSUPPORT OF CERTAIN SPOUSES AND CHILDREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 272 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 22 and 23 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 22. A parent who conceals the death of the issue of such parent, which if born alive would be illegitimate, so that it cannot be ascertained whether it was born alive or, if born alive, whether it was murdered, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year.

Section 23. A parent indicted for murder of the infant illegitimate child of such parent may also be charged in the same indictment with the crime described in the preceding section, and if acquitted of murder, such parent may be convicted of the concealment.

SECTION 2. Chapter 273 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 1 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 1. Any spouse or parent who without just cause deserts his spouse or minor child, whether by going into another town in the commonwealth or into another state, and leaves them or any or either of them without making reasonable provision for their support, and any spouse or parent who unreasonably neglects or refuses to provide for the support and maintenance of his spouse, whether living with him or living apart from him for justifiable cause, or of his minor child, and any spouse or parent who abandons or leaves his spouse or minor child in danger of becoming a burden upon the public, and any parent of a minor child or any guardian with care and custody of a minor child, or any custodian of a minor child, who willfully fails to provide necessary and proper physical, educational or moral care and guidance, or who permits said child to grow up under conditions or circumstances damaging to the child's sound character development, or who fails to provide proper attention for said child, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. A child shall not be deemed to be neglected or lack proper physical care for the sole reason that he is being provided remedial treatment by spiritual means alone in accordance with the tenets and practice of a recognized church or religious denomination by a duly accredited practitioner thereof. A judge who orders the imprisonment of a person for violation of this section may order that the sentence be served during such hours as will permit said person to continue his employment. No civil proceeding in any court shall be held to be a bar to a prosecution hereunder for desertion or nonsupport. In a prosecution hereunder for desertion or nonsupport against a husband or wife a decree or judgment of a probate court in a proceeding in which said husband or wife appeared or was personally served with process, establishing the right of his spouse to live apart, or the freedom of such spouse to convey and deal with property, or the right to the custody of the children, shall be admissible and shall be prima facie evidence of such right.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 273 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 3 to 5, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections:-

Section 3. The court imposing a fine under section one may at any time order it paid in whole or in part to a probation officer, to be paid by him to the spouse or to the city, town, corporation, society or person actually supporting the spouse, child or children, or to the state treasurer for the use of the department of public welfare if the child has been committed to said department.

Section 4. The district court, at any time after arraignment and before an appeal from such court is perfected by entry in the superior court, and the superior court at any time after such entry and before final determination of the case, may, upon motion of the complainant or district attorney and upon notice to the defendant, enter such temporary order as may seem just, providing for the support of the spouse or children, or both, pendente lite, and said order, wherever made, shall continue in force until modified or revoked by the court before which the case is pending. If any such order is made by a district court, an appeal to the superior court shall not vacate such order. Violation of an order made by either court may be punished as for a contempt by the court before which the case is then pending.

Section 5. Before trial, with the consent of the defendant, or after entry of a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, or after conviction, if the defendant is placed on probation, with or without suspension of the execution of a sentence, the court, having regard to the circumstances and to the financial ability or earning capacity of the defendant, may make an order, which shall be subject to change from time to time as circumstances may require, directing the defendant to pay certain sums periodically, for a term not exceeding six years, to the probation officer, and may release the defendant from custody on probation. The probation officer, subject to the direction of the court, shall pay over payments received by him to the spouse or guardian or custodian of the child, or to the city, town, corporation, society or person supporting the spouse or child, or to the state treasurer for the use of the department of public welfare when the payments are for the support of a child committed to it. If the court be satisfied by due proof under oath that at any time the defendant has violated the terms of the order for payments, it may proceed to try the defendant upon the original charge, or sentence him under the original plea or conviction, or enforce the suspended sentence, as the case may be.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 273 is hereby further amended by striking out section 7 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 7. No other or greater evidence shall be required to prove the marriage of the husband and wife, or that the alleged father is the parent of the child, than may be required to prove the same facts in a civil action. In any prosecution begun under section one, both husband and wife shall be competent witnesses to testify against each other to any relevant matters, including the fact of their marriage and the parentage of the child; provided, that neither shall be compelled to give evidence incriminating himself. Proof of the desertion of the spouse or child, or of the neglect or refusal to make reasonable provision for their support and maintenance, shall be prima facie evidence that such desertion, neglect or refusal is wilful and without just cause. In no prosecution under sections one to ten, inclusive, shall any existing statute or rule of law prohibiting the disclosure of confidential communications between husband and wife apply.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 273 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 12 to 13, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections:-

Section 12. Proceedings to determine the father of a child born to an unmarried woman shall be begun, if in the superior court, in the county in which is situated the place where the alleged father or the mother of the illegitimate child lives, and if begun in a district court, in the court having such place within the judicial district. If the alleged father pleads guilty or nolo contendere, or is found guilty, the court shall enter a judgment adjudging him the father of the child; but such adjudication shall not be made after a plea of not guilty, against the objection of the alleged father, until the child is born or the court finds that the mother is at least six months pregnant. At the sitting when such adjudication is made by a district court, if made after a plea of not guilty, the alleged father may appeal therefrom to the superior court as in other criminal cases. The adjudication, whether any sentence be imposed or not, shall be final and conclusive unless an appeal therefrom be taken as hereinbefore provided, or, if such adjudication be made by the superior court, unless set aside upon an appeal taken not later than three days thereafter under section twenty-eight of chapter two hundred and seventy-eight or upon exceptions. Such adjudication may be entered by the superior court notwithstanding exceptions have been alleged or an appeal has been taken. The court making the adjudication may within one year thereafter grant a new trial for any cause.

Section 12A. In any proceeding to determine the question of paternity, the court, on motion of the alleged father, shall order the mother, her child and the alleged father to submit to one or more blood grouping tests, to be made by a duly qualified physician or other duly qualified person, designated by the court, to determine whether or not the alleged father can be excluded as being the father of the child. The results of such tests shall be admissible in evidence only in cases where definite exclusion of the alleged father as such father has been established. If one of the parties refuses to comply with the order of the court relative to such tests, such fact shall be admissible in evidence in such proceeding unless the court, for good cause, otherwise orders.

Section 13. No law limiting adjournments or continuances shall apply to any proceedings under sections twelve to eighteen, inclusive. If the child has not been born at the time of the adjudication, the court shall continue the case from time to time until the child is born. At any time after adjudication, after inquiring into the respective means of the alleged father and the mother, the court having jurisdiction of the case may make an order for the payment to the mother or to a probation officer of a sum of money determined by the court for the expenses of the pregnancy and of the confinement of the mother, whether the child is born dead or alive. If the child has died, or subsequently if the child dies, the court may make an order for the payment of its funeral expenses, whether or not other relief is sought. For failure to comply with any such order the court may order the alleged father committed to jail, as for a contempt of court, for a term not exceeding two months, unless he shall sooner comply therewith.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 273 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 15 to 18, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following four sections:-

Section 15. Any parent of an illegitimate child, whether begotten within or without the commonwealth, who neglects or refuses to contribute reasonably to its support and maintenance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. If there has been any final adjudication of the paternity of the child, such adjudication shall be conclusive on all persons in proceedings under this section; otherwise, the question of paternity shall be determined in proceedings hereunder. The duty to contribute reasonably to the support of such child shall continue during its minority.

Section 16. After the adjudication and the birth of the child, in proceedings under section twelve, or after conviction, in proceedings under the preceding section, the alleged father shall be subject upon the original complaint or indictment in such proceedings to penalties and orders for payments similar to those provided by the first ten sections of this chapter; and the practice established thereby shall, so far as applicable, apply to any proceedings under sections twelve to eighteen, inclusive.

Section 17. If the court having jurisdiction of any case under sections twelve to eighteen, inclusive, or any of them, becomes satisfied that no living child will be born of which the alleged father at the time of making the complaint was the father, or that the alleged father and the mother have married each other and the child has become or will be the legitimate child of the alleged father, or that adequate provision has been made for its maintenance, or that it is for the best interests of the child, the case may be dismissed and any adjudication vacated; and if the court certifies that it is for the best interests of the child, no further prosecution shall be maintained under any of said sections.

Section 18. If money is forfeited or recovered upon a recognizance or deposit in lieu thereof given in proceedings under sections twelve to eighteen, inclusive, or any of them, the court in which such proceedings are pending may order such money paid to the probation officer and expended by him, under the direction of the court, for the support of the child.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Consent is hereby given pursuant to Article I, Section eight, clause Seventeen of the Constitution of the United States to the acquisition by the United States by purchase, condemnation or otherwise of any tract of land within the commonwealth required for use in connection with the construction, maintenance and operation of the projects authorized by Congress under the flood control acts of June twenty-second, nineteen hundred and thirty-six, June twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and thirty-eight and December twenty-second, nineteen hundred and forty-four, the water supply act of nineteen hun-

The commonwealth shall retain concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over any such land to the extent that all civil and criminal processes lawfully issued under authority of the commonwealth may be executed thereon in the same way and manner as if this consent had not been given; and exclusive jurisdiction over any such tract or any part thereof shall revert in the commonwealth whenever it shall cease to be the property of the United States.

The project referred to herein is the Charles River Natural Valley Storage Project in the Charles River Watershed area.

SECTION 2. For the purpose of protecting the health, safety and property of persons in the event of floods, the water resources commission, hereinafter called the commission, is hereby authorized to establish and reestablish encroachment lines along the Charles river and its tributaries. The areas within such lines in the direction of the stream shall constitute flood plain zones.

The commission, in establishing such encroachment lines, shall utilize sound engineering principles and base their location on the boundaries of the area which would be inundated by a flood similar in size to one or more recorded floods which have occurred in such areas or on a size of flood computed by accepted methods applicable generally throughout the state or a region thereof. The determination of the size of the flood and the boundaries of the inundated area shall take into consideration the effects of probable future developments. The lines will be drawn on the best available base map.

The commission shall not issue any order establishing or reestablishing such lines until after it has held a public hearing thereon in each city and town in which such zones are proposed to be located, or, where several contiguous towns are involved, at a location which is suitable and convenient to the several towns to be covered by the hearing. The commission shall give notice of the proposed establishment or reestablishment of such lines and the location of such zones and of the public hearing thereon to every owner of record and to every mortgagee of record of property within such proposed lines and zones by personal service or by mail, postage prepaid, directed to his last and usual place of abode, if known, or to his last and usual place of business, if known, and by publication for each of three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town.

A certified copy of any order establishing or reestablishing such lines and flood plain zones indicating clearly the areas included within such zones, together with maps or plans when necessary, shall (1) be filed by the commission in the office of the state secretary and in the office of each city or town clerk in the cities and towns within which such flood plain zones are located, and (2) be mailed by the commission forthwith upon such filing, postage prepaid to each owner of record and mortgagee of record of property within such lines and zones as so established or reestablished, directed to his last and usual place of abode, if known, or to his last and usual place of business, if known. Such order shall take effect thirty days after such filing.

SECTION 3. Any person aggrieved by an order of the water resources commission made under authority of this act may within thirty days after the filing of said order provided in section two appeal to the superior court for the county in which any part of the land affected is located, and said court shall, after a hearing, confirm, alter, amend or revoke any such order. The service of notice of appeal shall be made by the appellant upon the chairman of said commission, or a person designated by him for the purpose.

Said court shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of sections two to five, inclusive, of this act, and may restrain any violation thereof.

SECTION 4. After the water resources commission has established the encroachment lines for a particular section of the said river or its tributaries, no obstruction or encroachment shall be placed within the flood plain zone by any person or public body unless authorized by an order of conditions issued by the department of environmental quality engineering exercising its authority pursuant to the provisions of section forty of chapter one hundred and thirty-one of the General Laws. Said department in issuing or denying such orders of condition shall base decisions upon findings of the effect of such activity upon the flood-carrying and water storage capacity of the waterways and flood plains, flood heights, hazards to life and property, and the protection and preservation of the natural resources and ecosystems of the state, including but not limited to ground and surface water, animal, plant and aquatic life, nutrient exchange, and energy flow, with due consideration given to the results of similar encroachment if constructed along the reach of the waterway and shall obtain and consider the recommendations of the said commission, which shall be notified of the time and place of a hearing relative to an application for an order of conditions.

SECTION 5. The provisions of section seventeen B of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws relative to the reimbursement of tax losses shall apply to property taken for natural valley flood storage purposes pursuant to this act.

Chap. 879. AN ACT MAKING CHANGES IN THE LAW RELATIVE TO RECOUNTS OF ELECTIONS.

In the case of any petition for a recount hereunder, the registrars need not certify a greater number of names than is required hereby for the holding of the recount, increased by one fifth thereof.

Such petition shall be on a form furnished by the state secretary, shall be accompanied by a written request for a recount signed by the candidate on whose behalf the recount is being conducted, shall be sworn to by one of the subscribers before a notary public, and shall contain a statement that they have reason to believe and do believe that the records, or copies of records, made by the election officers of such ward or town, or of such precinct in a town having more than twenty-five hundred voters and voting by precincts, are erroneous, specifying wherein they deem such records or copies thereof to be in error, or that challenged votes were cast by persons not entitled to vote therein, and that they believe a recount of the ballots cast in such ward, precinct or town will affect the nomination or election of one or more candidates voted for at such primary, preliminary election or election, specifying the office or will affect the decision of a question voted upon at such election, specifying the question. The city or town clerk shall forthwith transmit to the registrars of voters such petition and statement, and the envelopes or containers containing all records of the election, including the sealed envelopes containing the ballots cast, the original tally sheets, the envelopes containing the spoiled and unused ballots, the voting lists used at the election, the certificates issued to voters omitted from the voting list, the precinct clerk's election record, the absentee ballot envelopes and applications for such absentee ballots as were cast at the election, the lists of voters who were sent absentee ballots with the notation as to whether such ballots were cast or rejected or whether such voter voted in person, and the sealed envelopes containing the ballots rejected as defective. In the case of a recount of the votes for an office any candidate for such office shall, upon his request, be permitted to obtain and examine the record books and the clerk of the precinct's book, so called, where used, and may require that a count be made of the number of persons checked as having voted on the voting lists used at each precinct, and that an examination be made of the figures on each ballot box register.

The registrars shall first examine the petition and statement and attach thereto a certificate of the number of names of subscribers which are names of registered voters in such ward, precinct or town and shall then, without unnecessary delay, but not before the last hour for filing petitions for recounts as aforesaid, open the envelopes or containers, except envelopes containing absentee ballots rejected as defective, recount the ballots cast and determine the questions raised, and shall examine all ballots cast by or for challenged voters and reject any such ballot cast by or for a person found not to have been entitled to vote. They shall examine the sealed inner ballot envelopes rejected as defective as to the reasons for rejection and shall determine whether each such ballot should have been rejected or accepted. The registrars' determinations shall be subject to protest as said envelopes are examined at the recount. Said envelopes shall remain sealed irrespective of the decision of the registrars unless ordered opened by a court. The registrars shall endorse on the back of every cast ballot subsequently rejected and on the back of every inner ballot envelope of absentee ballots originally rejected as defective the reason for such rejection or subsequent acceptance and said statement shall be signed by a majority of said registrars. A member of the board of registrars shall endorse over his signature on the back of each protested ballot the block number of which it is a part and the office for which the vote is protested, together with the name of the candidate for whom the vote is counted.

The registrars at the recount shall determine how protested votes are to be counted and the registrars shall assign tally clerks to count the votes.

The state secretary shall hold such petitions for recount until after the official tabulation of votes by the governor and council and if it then appears that the difference in the number of votes cast for the two leading candidates for the office, or in the number of affirmative and negative votes on a question, for which recount is desired is more than one half of one per cent of the total number of votes cast for such office or on such question, the petitions for recount shall be void. If such difference in the votes so cast appears to be one half of one per cent or less of the total votes cast for such office or on such question, he shall forthwith order the clerk of each city and town of the commonwealth to transmit forthwith, and said clerk shall so transmit, the envelopes or containers containing the ballots, sealed except in the case of those containing ballots which have already been recounted in respect to said office or question under authority of this section, to the registrars of the city or town who shall, without unnecessary delay, open the envelopes or containers, recount the ballots cast for said office or on such question and determine the questions raised. The registrars shall examine the sealed inner ballot envelopes originally rejected as defective, determine whether each such ballot should have been rejected or accepted, endorse the reasons for such findings, but in no case shall the registrars open the envelopes. The registrars determinations shall be subject to protest as said envelopes are examined at the recount. The registrars shall, within twenty-four hours after receipt of the recount petition, give not less than three days written notice to each candidate for the office for which a recount was petitioned under authority of this section, or to such person as shall be designated by the petitioners for a recount of ballots cast upon questions submitted to the voters, of the time and place of making the recount, and each such candidate or person representing petitioners as aforesaid shall be allowed to be present and to witness such recount at each table where a recount of the ballots affecting such candidate is being held, accompanied by one or more counsel, if he so desires. Each such candidate or person may also be represented by agents, appointed by him or his counsel in writing, sufficient in number to provide one such agent for each officer counting or checking such ballots; provided, that no such candidate or person may have more than one such agent, other than his counsel, witnessing the work of any one officer at any one time. Each such candidate, person, counsel and agent shall have the right to watch and inspect the ballots, tally sheets and all other papers used in the recount, and to watch every individual act performed in connection therewith. In the case of a recount of ballots cast for offices which are filled by all the voters of the commonwealth, such notice may be given to the duly organized state political committees. In the case of a recount of the ballots cast upon a question submitted to all the voters as aforesaid, one representative from any committee organized to favor or to oppose the question so submitted shall be permitted to be present and witness the recount.

Said board shall consist of three members as follows: the county treasurer, who shall be a member ex officio and serve as chairman, one member hereinafter referred to as the elected member, and one member of the county retirement board advisory council who shall be elected at a meeting of said council at a public meeting called specifically for such election pursuant to paragraph (g).

No person except the county treasurer shall be eligible to serve as a member of the county retirement board for more than two full consecutive terms. The election of the elected member shall be run in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (h).

The elected member shall be an active or retired member of the county retirement system. Each member of the board shall continue to serve in office until the expiration of his term, and the qualification of his successor. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any elected or appointed member, or in the event of a vacancy in either of said offices, his successor shall be elected as aforesaid for a term of three years, or for the unexpired portion thereof, as the case may be.

(c) The members of the board of any such county system shall serve without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed for any expense or loss of salary or wages which they may incur through service on such board from the expense fund of the system. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent any county treasurer from being compensated for services rendered in the active administration of the system, in his capacity as county treasurer but not as a member of the board, provided, that such compensation shall not exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

(d) The retirement board chairman shall employ such clerical and other assistants as may be required to transact the business of the county retirement system. All such clerical and other assistants, whether permanent or temporary employees, shall be removed from office only upon the two thirds vote of the county retirement board. A chairman shall be elected from among the members. The council shall meet at the call of the chairman, but in no event less than twice in each year. The council shall supervise and certify the procedures involved in the election of the elected member of the county retirement board, as provided in paragraphs (b) and (h). Upon certification by the county retirement board and the council, the actuary of the division of insurance shall be furnished with an estimate of the expenses and costs of administration of the system for the ensuing year. The actuary shall, on or before December fifteenth in each year, specify by written notice to the council and the board the amounts so required to be paid from the pension fund, the annuity reserve fund, the military service fund, and the administration fund, as provided in subdivision (7) of section twenty-two. The county retirement board advisory council, at a meeting called specifically for that purpose, shall elect one of its members as a member of the county retirement board at the expiration of the current appointed member's term, as provided in paragraph (b).

The council shall make available nomination papers to any member in service so requesting and shall require that such nomination papers be signed by the candidate, and returned to the office of the county retirement board for safekeeping until the election board shall meet. The county treasurer or his agent shall give a duplicate receipt for such nomination papers to each candidate. Completed nomination papers shall contain the signatures and addresses of at least five active or retired members of said retirement system. The election board shall determine whether each candidate has filed nomination papers containing the signatures and addresses of at least five active or retired members of said system. If, after investigation, the election board determines that a candidate has filed nomination papers containing less than five signatures as required, the election board shall declare said nomination papers invalid and shall notify said candidate of such determination. If, after investigation, the election board determines that only one candidate has filed the requisite number of signatures, the election board shall declare said candidate to be the elected member of the county retirement board. If, after investigation, the election board determines that more than one candidate has obtained the requisite number of valid signatures, the election board shall notify said candidates of such determination and shall immediately prepare election ballots, and set the date for the election, which shall be held within forty days.

The election board shall mail ballots to all members of the retirement system, whether active or retired. The election board shall instruct each member to place an appropriate marking on the face of the printed ballot next to the name of one candidate, insert said ballot into a ballot envelope and said ballot envelope into the prestamped envelope, seal said prestamped envelope and mail said envelope to the election board in care of the county retirement board, within twenty days after they were mailed. Any envelope postmarked later than twenty days after such mailing shall not be used to determine the elected member. The election board shall notify each candidate of the time and location of the tabulation of the ballots and shall permit all such candidates to be present at said tabulation. At the specified time for tabulation, the election board shall assemble all envelopes and inspect said envelopes. Any envelope which has been opened prior to said date, or which has not been signed on the rear by the appropriate addressee shall be invalidated and shall not be used to determine the elected member. The election board shall assemble all properly signed, unopened envelopes and shall open each envelope and separate the enclosed ballot from said envelope. The election board shall assemble all ballots and shall tabulate the vote for each candidate. Any ballot which contains a marking for more than the number of vacancies shall be declared invalid.

The election board shall notify each candidate in writing of the results of said election. All envelopes and ballots received by the election board, including those determined to be invalid, shall be preserved by the election board for two years. The costs incurred by the election board in administering the election shall be paid from the county retirement system administration fund.

Section 14. All ocean sanctuaries as described in section thirteen shall be under the care and control of the department of environmental management and shall be protected from any exploitation, development, or activity that would seriously alter or otherwise endanger the ecology or the appearance of the ocean, the seabed, or subsoil thereof, or the Cape Cod National Seashore.

facilities: In all ocean sanctuaries except the Cape Cod Ocean Sanctuary the planning, construction, reconstruction, operation and maintenance of industrial liquid coolant discharge and intake systems and all other activities, uses and facilities associated with the generation, transmission, and distribution of electrical power, provided that all certificates, licenses, permits and approvals required by law are obtained therefor, and provided, further, that such activities, uses and facilities shall not be undertaken or located except in compliance with any applicable general or special statutes, rules, regulations or orders lawfully promulgated; the operation and maintenance of existing municipal, commercial or industrial facilities and existing municipal, commercial or industrial discharges where such discharges and facilities have been approved and licensed by appropriate federal and state agencies; the laying of cables approved by the department of public utilities; channel and shore protection projects, navigation aids, projects authorized under chapter ninety-one, deemed to be of public necessity and convenience, contingent upon obtaining the required approval wherever applicable by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the division of water pollution control, the department of environmental quality engineering, or the department of environmental management; other improvements not specifically prohibited by sections fourteen, fifteen and section eighteen which are approved by appropriate federal and state agencies and which are consistent with said sections, including the maintenance and repair of existing structures or uses, but not any change or extension of such structures or uses unless otherwise permitted by said sections; the harvesting and propagation of fish and shellfish in all forms, so long as the department of environmental management and the department of fisheries, wildlife and recreational vehicles are satisfied that such activities are carried on in accordance with sound conservation practices; temporary educational and scientific activities jointly permitted by appropriate state agencies; and the extraction of sand and gravel from the seabed and subsoil of a sanctuary for the purposes of shore protection or beach restoration, provided that such shore protection or beach restoration is approved by the department of environmental quality engineering.

Except in the Cape and Islands Ocean Sanctuary, the Cape Cod Ocean Sanctuary, and the Cape Cod Bay Ocean Sanctuary nothing is intended to prohibit municipal wastewater treatment discharges and municipal wastewater treatment facilities if such discharge into the ocean sanctuary is the only feasible alternative to existing water pollution problems, if it is consistent with the intention and purposes of this chapter, and it is approved and licensed by appropriate federal and state agencies. In the North Shore Ocean Sanctuary, discharges shall be permitted from municipal waste treatment facilities if construction is commenced prior to January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight or if a city or town has been awarded a federal or state grant for construction of a wastewater treatment facility prior to January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, if the waste has been treated by the best practical means, if such a discharge is in accordance with plans developed under the provisions of clause (10) of section twenty-seven of chapter twenty-one, and such plans are subject to the approval of the division of water pollution control after a public hearing conducted by said division.

This section shall not apply in any case if the registrar is satisfied as aforesaid that the judgment debtor was, at the time such injury occurred, insured against loss or damage on account of his legal liability for such injury by or under a policy of insurance issued by an insurance company duly authorized to transact business in the commonwealth under chapter one hundred and seventy-five, to the amount or limit of at least five thousand dollars. Nor shall this section apply in the case of a judgment rendered in an action brought to recover damages for death or bodily injuries as well as damages for such injury to property, unless a separate finding or verdict for such property damages has been entered or returned in such action, in which case the amount of damages so awarded shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed the amount of the judgment. The registrar shall not impose such suspension if he is satisfied that indemnity against such judgment will be furnished by the judgment debtor to the commonwealth, or a city or town under section one hundred A of chapter forty-one.

If a judgment debtor satisfies the clerk of the court in which the order was issued that said judgment debtor is unable to locate the judgment creditor or his legal representative, he shall deposit with such clerk the full amount of the order or orders and said clerk shall give him a receipt therefor reciting such facts. If deemed by the city, town, county or other subdivision to be in the best interests of the subdivision and its active and retired employees and their eligible dependents, the respective subdivision may enter into such service type contracts for a period not to exceed five years.

Funds made available by appropriations by the city, town, county or other subdivision of the commonwealth for purposes of this chapter on the basis of the contributory share of the subdivision as set forth and applicable therein shall, upon authorization by the subdivision, be transferred from said appropriation account by the treasurer and shall be deposited from time to time by the treasurer in a separate fund to be known as the claims trust fund. The treasurer shall take measures that will assure a sufficient balance at all times in said fund to make prompt payment for incurred and unpaid claims and other related liabilities. The subdivision insofar as practicable shall prepare annually or sooner a schedule for the treasurer which shall be an estimate of the amounts of anticipated monthly disbursements to be made from said fund and shall as frequently as necessary authorize disbursements therefrom in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contracts authorized by this section.

Where an annual or earlier accounting of administrative service charges, claims paid, and claims incurred and unpaid, under a contract authorized by this section to the subdivision, discloses that payment from the fund has resulted in the contributions of the subdivision and its employees and retirees toward a previously established total monthly premium or rate has been shared on a ratio inconsistent with the share of the contributions as provided from time to time by applicable sections of this chapter, the subdivision shall adjust future contributions toward the total monthly premium or rate to compensate for the inconsistency. Payment to the subdivision by the employees, retirees and surviving spouses of their contribution toward the total monthly premium or rate shall be to the extent and manner as required in the applicable sections of this chapter.

Chap. 910. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE CANCELLATION, MODIFICATION, REVOCATION OR EXPIRATION OF CONTRACTS BETWEEN INSURERS AND INDEPENDENT INSURANCE AGENTS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate certain contracts between insurers and independent insurance agents, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 163 of chapter 175 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 1056 of the acts of 1973, is hereby further amended by striking out the third to fifteenth paragraphs, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following six paragraphs:-

No company shall cancel the authority of any independent insurance agent for fire or casualty insurance, or both, if said agent is not an employee of said company and no company shall modify a contract with such an agent unless the company gives written notice of its intent to cancel such agent or its intent to modify such contract at least one hundred and eighty days before the proposed effective date of any such cancellation or modification. No company shall allow the license of any such agent to expire unless the company gives written notice of its intent to do so at least one hundred and eighty days before the proposed effective date of any such expiration. Except as otherwise provided herein, any agent receiving notice of such cancellation, modification or expiration may, within fifteen days after receipt thereof, make a written demand for reference to three referees of the question as to whether or not such cancellation, modification or expiration will so affect the renewal, continuation or replacement of any policies placed with the company through the efforts of the agent, or the services needed by any policyholder doing business with the company as a result of the efforts of the agent, as to justify renewal or continuation of any policies then in effect having been placed with such company by such agent. In the event the referees shall find that such cancellation, modification or expiration will so affect the renewal, continuation or replacement of any policies placed with the company through the efforts of the agent, or the services needed by any policyholders doing business with the company as a result of the efforts of the agent, then the referees shall order continuance or renewal of any policies expiring within a period of thirteen months of the issuance of such notice, at a rate of compensation to such agent equal to that as provided in the agency agreement expiring or being so cancelled or modified, for one additional policy period equal in length to the most recent policy period of such expiring policy, but in no event for more than one year; provided that with respect to motor vehicle insurance policies expiring within the aforesaid thirteen-month period, such policies shall be renewed for policy periods not to exceed one year. Such one year renewals of all motor vehicle insurance policies shall be provided at each expiration of such policies during the aforementioned thirteen-month period; provided, however, that the referees shall not order a continuance or renewal of such policies if they find that the reason for the cancellation or expiration of the agency agreement by the company was legitimately based upon one of the following grounds:-

(a) the agent was convicted of a dishonest act related to his occupation as an insurance agent;

(b) the agent's license to engage as an insurance broker was revoked;

(c) the company surrendered its license to do business in the commonwealth.

An agent making a written demand for such reference shall accompany said written demand with the names and addresses of three persons, whereupon the company shall within fifteen days thereof notify the agent of its choice of one of the said persons to act as one of the referees and at the same time submit the names and addresses of three persons to the agent, who shall within fifteen days after receiving such names, notify the company in writing of his choice of one of such persons to act as a second referee. At the same time the agent shall notify the commissioner, such notice to be on a form prescribed by the commissioner, that both the company and agent have chosen referees. Within ten days of the receipt of such notice the commissioner shall appoint a person to serve as third referee, and shall notify such person, the agent and the company in writing of such appointment. Each person nominated or appointed as a referee shall be a disinterested person, shall be a resident of the commonwealth and shall be willing to act as such referee. Within ten working days of the appointment of the third referee, who shall serve as chairman, the three referees shall meet, hear evidence, reduce their decisions to writing, and sign it, and shall deliver a copy thereof to the agent, to the company and to the commissioner. In the event any company receiving such a written demand for such a reference fails to comply with the provisions of this paragraph, then such agent shall have the authority to renew or continue any policies placed with such company through the efforts of such agent expiring within a period of thirteen months from the date of the notice of cancellation, modification or expiration of the agency agreement, at a rate of compensation to such agent equal to that as provided in the agency agreement expiring or being so cancelled or modified, for one additional policy period equal in length to the most recent policy period of such expiring policy, but in no event for more than one year; provided that, with respect to motor vehicle insurance policies expiring within the aforesaid thirteen-month period, such policies shall be renewed for policy periods not to exceed one year. Such one year renewals of all motor vehicle insurance policies shall be provided at each expiration of such policies during the aforesaid thirteen-month period.

Any insurance company and any insurance agent may by written contract agree to modify the provisions of the preceding two paragraphs, other than the requirement of a one-hundred-eighty-day notice in the event of a cancellation or modification of a contract or of intent to allow the expiration of a license, by provisions presented to and approved by the commissioner which he finds after due hearing and investigation will adequately protect both the right of a policyholder to a continuance of insurance and the services of any agent of his own choosing and the right of an agent to fair compensation for the insurance placed with a company as a result of his efforts. The commissioner may make reasonable rules of general application regarding such modified provisions.

The decision of the referees may provide for the renewal or continuance of any or all policies expiring within a period of thirteen months of the issuance of any such notice, at a rate of compensation to such agent equal to that as provided in the agency agreement expiring or being so cancelled or modified, for one additional policy period equal in length to the most recent policy period of such expiring policy, but in no event for more than one year; provided that, with respect to motor vehicle insurance policies expiring within the aforesaid thirteen-month period, such policies shall be renewed for policy periods not to exceed one year. Such one year renewals of all motor vehicle insurance policies shall be provided at each expiration of such policies during the aforementioned thirteen-month period. The decision of the referees may also provide for the continuance of such previous contractual provisions, if the referees, or a majority of them, find that such decision will best protect the right of a policyholder to a continuance of insurance and the services of an agent of his own choosing and the right of any agent to compensation for the insurance placed with a company as a result of his efforts giving due consideration to the possibility the affected agent has of obtaining similar coverage for policyholders affected from other companies at reasonable compensation. The decisions rendered in accordance with the provisions of this section providing for reference shall be binding on all companies and agents affected thereby. If such a decision orders the renewal or continuance of any policies, policyholders and the affected agent shall be entitled in all respects to the same services and practices as were in effect prior to reference insofar as amounts and types of coverage, credit terms and agency services are also continued. The referees, or a majority of them, shall fix a fair compensation for the agent affected whenever they order such a renewal or continuance of policies.

All policies expiring within thirteen months of the notice may be renewed for the policy periods as aforesaid but no agent or company relying on this section shall again refer the same issue to referees. Where other provisions of the general laws require notice to policyholders before nonrenewal of any coverages, the company shall at the request of the agent who is unable to replace any such policy which has been renewed for one or more policy periods in accordance with this section comply with those provisions of law.

All schedules filed pursuant to this section shall be subject to public inspection from the time that they are required to be made available for inspection by licensees, and shall not be considered confidential. (This Bill, returned by the Governor, to the House of Representatives, the branch in which it originated, with his objections thereto, was passed by the House of Representatives, January 3, 1978, and, in concurrence, by the Senate, January 3, 1978, the objections of the Governor notwithstanding, in the manner prescribed by the Constitution; and thereby has "the force of a law".)

Chap. 939. AN ACT FURTHER DEFINING THE REQUIREMENTS OF ELIGIBLE BUSINESS FACILITY UNDER THE URBAN JOB INCENTIVE BUREAU PROGRAM OF THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND DEVELOPMENT.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to allow certain corporations to take advantage of the job incentive credit in the nineteen hundred and seventy-seven taxable year, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Clause (b) of section 11 of chapter 23B of the General Laws, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 848 of the acts of 1970, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 4, the words “community affairs” and inserting in place thereof the words:- commerce and development of the executive office of economic development and manpower affairs.

SECTION 2. Said section 11 of said chapter 23B is hereby further amended by striking out clause (e), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(e) “Bureau,” the urban job incentive bureau of the department of commerce and development.

SECTION 3. Section 13 of said chapter 23B is hereby amended by striking out clause (4), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(4) The facility, except where a corporation is displaced by a public land taking or purchase, shall not be a replacement of an existing place of business. The facility must represent an expansion of activities of the corporation in the eligible city or town in which the facility is located and may be either a new place of business or a substantial addition to its existing physical facilities.

SECTION 4. Chapter 63 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 38F, as appearing in section 2 of said chapter 848, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 38F. In determining the net income subject to tax under this chapter, a domestic or foreign business corporation may deduct, in addition to any other allowable deduction under this chapter, an amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the compensation paid during the taxable year to individuals domiciled in an eligible section of substantial poverty, as defined in section eleven of chapter twenty-three B, and employed in an eligible business facility, as so defined, provided such corporation has a certificate of eligibility with respect to such facility for the taxable year issued by the urban job incentive bureau of the department of commerce and development and an amount equal to the credit otherwise claimed and allowable on account of such compensation under section forty-four B of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

Approved January 5, 1978.

Chap. 940. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE DISTRIBUTION, POSSESSION, PROCESSING, SALE AND STORAGE OF MILK.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to make state standards of identity and labeling requirements for milk and milk products consistent with federal law and to provide for reciprocal agreements between states for the inspection of dairy farms, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section forty-two of chapter six of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

SECTION 2. Section 1 of chapter 94 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 137 of chapter 706 of the acts of 1975, is hereby further amended by striking out the definitions of "Butter", "Cheese", "Cream cheese", "Half-and-half", "Heated milk" and "Pasteurized milk".

Section 12. The term "milk" shall mean the lacteal secretion, practically free from colostrum, obtained by the complete milking of one or more healthy cows. The Massachusetts legal minimum standard for milk that is in final package form for beverage use shall be milk which, upon analysis, is shown to contain not less than eight and one-quarter per cent milk solids not fat and three and one-quarter per cent milkfat. Milk may be adjusted by separating part of the milkfat therefrom, or by adding cream thereto.

The term "cream" shall mean the liquid milk product high in fat separated from milk. The Massachusetts legal minimum standard for cream shall be cream which, upon analysis, is shown to contain not less than eighteen per cent milkfat. Cream may be adjusted by adding thereto milk, skim milk and such other milk products as the commissioner of public health may authorize by rule or regulation as hereinafter provided.

The commissioner of public health shall, subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A, adopt and promulgate rules and regulations establishing other legal standards as well as labeling requirements and sanitary standards for milk, cream and products thereof, including foods containing such ingredients, as sold or offered for sale in final package form, and may, in like manner and from time to time, amend, modify or repeal the same. Such rules and regulations shall be consistent with all applicable regulations effective from time to time pursuant to issuance by the Food and Drug Administration, Public Health Service, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare, or any successor agency with like regulatory powers; provided, that requirement by said commissioner of more stringent bacterial and temperature standards shall not be precluded; and provided, further, that said commissioner may modify the application of said federal regulations to such degree as he may determine to be appropriate where only intrastate commerce in such products is involved. No product standard which has been established hereunder shall be subject separately to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-two. Any person who violates any rule or regulation duly adopted and promulgated by said commissioner pursuant to this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

SECTION 4. Sections twelve A and twelve B of said chapter 94 are hereby repealed.

Section 13. The commissioner shall, subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A, adopt and promulgate rules and regulations governing the production, transportation, receiving, handling, storage, processing, distribution and sale of raw milk for pasteurization and raw products thereof being shipped or offered for shipment into or within the commonwealth, including all pertinent sanitary standards and uniform minimum requirements for the inspection of dairy farms, milk plants and receiving stations, wherever located, and pasteurization plants located outside the commonwealth, and may, in like manner and from time to time, amend, modify or repeal the same. Such rules and regulations shall be consistent with applicable provisions of the Grade "A" Pasteurized Milk Ordinance and related publications of the Food and Drug Administration, Public Health Service, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare, or any successor agency with like regulatory powers; provided, that requirement by the commissioner of more stringent bacterial and temperature standards shall not be precluded. Any person who violates any rule or regulation duly adopted and promulgated

SECTION 9. Said chapter 94 is hereby further amended by striking out section 13E, as amended by chapter 41 of the acts of 1967, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 13E. Boards of health of cities and towns may adopt bacterial standards for milk which are numerically less but not greater than such standards as may be established therefor under sections twelve and thirteen. Rules and regulations promulgated under said sections shall not be construed to prevent the exercise by such boards of the powers and duties conferred and imposed upon them by section forty-one nor to prevent the sale of milk the production of which is regulated under authority of sections twenty to twenty-five, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and eighty. This section shall not be deemed to authorize the sale or delivery of milk, cream or products thereof which are not in compliance with applicable rules and regulations established pursuant to said sections twelve and thirteen.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 94 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16, as amended by section 138 of chapter 706 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 16C. The commissioner may issue a certificate of registration for a dairy farm which, upon inspection made by him within thirty days prior to the date of issuance of such certificate, clearly indicates satisfactory compliance with the requirements established pursuant to section thirteen for the approval of dairy farms. The certificates of registration for any given registration year shall be plainly distinguishable by color from those issued during immediately preceding years. Each dairy farm registered by the commissioner shall receive without cost a numbered certificate of registration which shall, while in effect, be posted in a conspicuous place at all times on said farm. Each certificate of registration shall expire on the following June thirtieth, if for a farm located within the commonwealth, and on December thirty-first, if for a farm located without the commonwealth, and an annual application for renewal thereof shall be made to the commissioner not later than the preceding May thirty-first in the first instance, and not later than the preceding November thirtieth, in the second instance, on forms furnished by the commissioner. If a certificate of registration is lost, a duplicate copy may be obtained from the commissioner upon written application and at a cost of fifty cents each. The commissioner may also, from time to time, renew a certificate of registration; provided, that he has determined that continuing compliance is being maintained with requirements established pursuant to section thirteen for the approval of dairy farms. The commissioner may accept, as a basis for the issuance or renewal of certificates of registration, the inspection reports of milk inspectors within the commonwealth with respect to farms within or without the commonwealth which have been inspected by them; provided, that such reports certify that such farms maintain compliance with said requirements. The commissioner may accept, as a basis for the renewal of certificates of registration for farms located outside the commonwealth, inspection reports made by the duly authorized regulatory agency of another state with respect to farms which are located in said state; provided that said state agency:

(a) is certified by the Food and Drug Administration, Public Health Service, United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare; and

(b) certifies with respect to each such report that the farm involved was, upon inspection by said state agency, in compliance with the requirements of said other state for approval of dairy farms; and provided, further, that said state agency has first stipulated in writing to the commissioner that it shall similarly accept inspection reports made by the commissioner with respect to farms located within the commonwealth and approved by him for the issuance and renewal of certificates of registration or like authorization under a dairy farm inspection program of such state; and

(c) accepts the right of the commissioner, based upon reasonable information alleging violation of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to said section thirteen by a dairy farm located outside the commonwealth to assure correction of such violation by the duly authorized regulatory agency of the state involved; provided, that if the violations are not so corrected within a reasonable time, an inspection of the dairy farm for such purpose may be made by the commissioner.

SECTION 14. Said chapter 94 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16D, as amended by section 2 of said chapter 632, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 16D. A certificate of registration for any dairy farm may be refused, or, if issued, may be suspended or revoked by the commissioner for failure to maintain compliance with the rules and regulations established pursuant to section thirteen; provided, that the commissioner may, in his discretion, allow the parties concerned a period of not more than thirty days in which to achieve such compliance; and provided, further, that, if compliance is not so achieved, the operator of the dairy farm involved shall be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner, or a person designated by him, prior to the final refusal, suspension or revocation of such certificate, such hearing to be held after reasonable notice specifying the day, hour and place thereof and accompanied by a statement of the alleged failure to comply, or the reasons for such refusal, suspension or revocation.

A certificate of registration which has been suspended shall be plainly stamped:- "Suspended until _____(date)"; and the operator of the dairy farm involved may make written application to the commissioner for reinspection at the expiration of the period of suspension. A certificate of registration which has been revoked shall be plainly stamped:- "Revoked"; and the operator of the dairy farm involved may make written application to the commissioner for reinspection only after a period of one year from the date of revocation has elapsed. Immediate notice of suspension or revocation of a certificate of registration shall be given by the commissioner to each dealer, receiving station or plant handling milk produced on the dairy farm involved, and to the board of health of each city or town where such milk is sold, offered or exposed for sale. In case of emergency, directly and immediately threatening the public, the commissioner of public health may suspend a certificate of registration, and shall notify the commissioner forthwith of any such suspension. The provisions of this section, when pertinent, shall apply to temporary certificates of registration issued under sections sixteen G and sixteen H.

SECTION 15. Section 16E of said chapter 94, as appearing in section 3 of chapter 305 of the acts of 1932, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 3, the word "director" and inserting in place thereof the word:- commissioner.

SECTION 16. Section 16F of said chapter 94, as amended by chapter 687 of the acts of 1960, is hereby further amended by striking out, in lines 4, 14, 18, 20, and 27, the word "director" and inserting in place thereof, in each instance, the word:- commissioner.

SECTION 17. Section 16G of said chapter 94, as amended by section 3 of chapter 632 of the acts of 1965, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 1, the word "director" and inserting in place thereof the word:- commissioner.

SECTION 18. Said chapter 94 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16H, as amended by chapter 262 of the acts of 1964, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 16H. Whenever the quantity of fresh milk available from registered dairy farms is, for each of three consecutive months, less than one hundred and thirty per cent of the quantity disposed of by licensed milk dealers as fluid milk within the commonwealth, the commissioner shall have the authority to approve the temporary receipt, by any licensed milk dealer applying therefor, of milk produced on unregistered dairy farms in such areas as he may approve; provided, that such milk shall not otherwise be exempted from compliance with the rules and regulations established pursuant to section thirteen; and provided, further, that the commissioner may authorize the inspection and registration of such farms under the provisions section sixteen C as may be necessary to assure a continued supply of fresh milk in the commonwealth at a level which shall not be less than one hundred and thirty per cent of the quantity of fluid milk disposed of within the commonwealth. Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing the commissioner, for reasons involving the public health, from authorizing the temporary receipt from unregistered farms for such periods and in such volume as he may determine to be necessary.

SECTION 19. Said chapter 94 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 16J and 16K and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 16J. Boards of health of cities and towns may establish, amend or repeal rules and regulations for the handling and sale of milk within said cities and towns; provided, that such rules and regulations shall be consistent with those established pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen.

Section 16K. The commissioner may inspect milk plants and receiving stations, wherever located, and pasteurization plants outside the commonwealth, shipping milk into or within the commonwealth and, if the same be found to be in compliance with all applicable rules and regulations adopted pursuant to section thirteen, may approve them and may issue a permit showing such approval. Every such permit shall expire on June thirtieth following its issue, and may be suspended or revoked for the failure of the establishment to which it was issued to comply with rules and regulations relating thereto or for a violation, by such establishment, of any law relating to milk intended for sale within the commonwealth. Upon the application of any city or town, the commissioner may delegate to the inspector of milk thereof his authority to inspect milk plants, receiving stations and pasteurization plants from which milk is shipped to such city or town, and submit inspection reports to him, which reports shall form the basis of his issuance of such permits. A pasteurization plant located outside the commonwealth shall pay a fee of ten dollars for such a permit and each renewal thereof, but permits and renewals thereof shall be issued to milk plants and receiving stations without cost. If any city or town to the milk inspector of which the power of inspection is delegated under any provision of this section fails to enforce rules and regulations adopted pursuant to said section thirteen then in force, said delegation of authority shall forthwith terminate.

Renewal by the commissioner of any permit issued under the provisions of this section may be based upon the inspection reports made by the duly authorized agency of the state in which such permittee is located provided, that the commissioner shall have the authority to evaluate, by random inspection or other investigation, the adequacy of such inspection and to suspend or revoke a permit determined to have been so renewed on the basis of inadequate or otherwise unsatisfactory inspection by said agency.

SECTION 20. Sections seventeen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, forty-six, forty-seven and forty-eight C of said chapter ninety-four are hereby repealed.

SECTION 21. Said chapter 94 is hereby further amended by striking out section 48D, inserted by section 8 of chapter 757 of the acts of 1955, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 48D. No person shall blend milk and cream for sale, nor have any such blend in his custody or possession with intent to sell the same, unless the blending has been done in a pasteurization plant licensed under the provisions of section sixteen K or section forty-eight A. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense.

SECTION 22. Section forty-eight E of said chapter ninety-four is hereby repealed.

SECTION 23. All orders, rules and regulations promulgated, and all licenses, permits, certificates and approvals granted by the milk regulation board, the powers and duties of which are transferred to the department of food and agriculture or the department of public health by this act which are in force immediately prior to the effective date of this act shall continue in force and the provisions thereof shall thereafter be enforced until superseded, revised, rescinded or cancelled in accordance with law by the appropriate department hereinbefore specified.

Approved January 4, 1978.

Within thirty days after issuance of notice of the receipt of such notification, the secretary shall consult with the person or agency proposing the project and the agency, if any, from which a permit or financial assistance is or may be sought and shall issue a certificate stating whether an environmental impact report is required. If a report is required, the secretary with the cooperation of said person and agency shall, within the above mentioned thirty day period, limit the scope of the report to those issues which by the nature and location of the project are likely to cause damage to the environment. In the case of projects which require a permit or financial assistance from an agency, said report shall be prepared and submitted by the person or agency seeking the permit or financial assistance.

Section 62C. Any environmental impact report shall be submitted to the secretary of environmental affairs who shall issue public notice of the availability of such report.

A reviewing agency or person, and any agency which has jurisdiction by law or special expertise with respect to any environmental impact involved may submit written comments on any draft or final environmental impact report to the secretary of environmental affairs who shall affix any such comments which are timely received to his statement on such reports. Said reports and any comments submitted in review thereof shall be public documents.

No agency shall undertake a project which is not exempted by the provisions of any law and which may cause damage to the environment or grant a permit or financial assistance for such a project until sixty days after the secretary of environmental affairs issues such notice, provided that an agency or person may undertake research, planning, design and other preliminary work necessary to describe and evaluate such projects for the purposes of sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive.

There shall be a public and agency review period of thirty days from the notice of availability of any draft or final report, provided that the secretary of environmental affairs may extend the review period for a draft report on a major and complicated project for a period not to exceed thirty days. A statement of the secretary indicating whether or not in his judgment said report adequately and properly complies with the provisions of sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, shall be issued within seven days after the public and agency review period. disapproval of said secretary of any such report shall not be required.

Following commencement of any such project, the agency or person shall promptly, but in any case within sixty days, commence compliance with the provisions of sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive.

In the case of an urban renewal project proposed under chapters one hundred and twenty-one A or one hundred and twenty-one B, the specific procedure under section sixty-two A may permit land acquisition and other actions required for land acquisition to take place prior to the publication of the final environmental impact report provided that the secretary has issued notice of availability of an interim environmental impact report which demonstrates to the satisfaction of said secretary that an urban renewal project may be carried out on the proposed land with appropriate constraints as may be necessary to minimize and prevent damage to the environment.

Section 62G. In the case of projects for which an environmental impact statement is required under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, draft and final federal environmental impact statements may be submitted in lieu of environmental impact reports.

Section 62H. An agency or person intending to commence an action or proceeding alleging an improper determination of whether a project requires the preparation of an environmental impact report under section sixty-two A, shall first provide notice of intention to commence such action or proceeding within sixty days of issuance of notice of such determination. An agency or person intending to commence an action or proceeding alleging that a final environmental impact report fails to comply with the requirements of sections sixty-two to sixty-two G, inclusive, shall first provide notice of intention to commence such action or proceeding within sixty days of issuance of notice of availability of said final environmental impact report pursuant to section sixty-two C. If a court determines that an agency or person proposing a project has knowingly concealed a material fact or knowingly submitted false information in any form or report required under sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, limits on the manner and time in which actions or proceedings may be commenced shall not apply and the secretary of environmental affairs may require the preparation and review of such forms or reports as may be necessary to correct any deficient form or report.

Chap. 948. AN ACT REQUIRING MONEYS RECEIVED BY CRIMINALS AS A RESULT OF THE COMMISSION OF CRIME TO BE PAID TO THE STATE TREASURER FOR DISTRIBUTION TO THE VICTIMS OF SUCH CRIMES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to require moneys received by criminals as a result of the commission of crime to be paid to the state treasurer for distribution to the victims of such crimes, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 258A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 8. Every person, firm, corporation, partnership, association or other legal entity contracting with any person or the representative or assignee of any person, convicted of a crime in this state, with respect to the reenactment of such crime, by way of a movie, book, magazine article, radio or television presentation, live entertainment of any kind, or from the expression of such person's thoughts, feelings, opinions or emotions regarding such crime, shall pay over to the state treasurer any moneys which would otherwise, by terms of such contract, be owing to the person or his representatives. The treasurer shall deposit such moneys in an escrow account for the benefit of and payable to any victim of crimes committed by such person, provided that such person is eventually convicted of the crime and provided, further, that such victim, within three years of the date of the crime, brings a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction and recovers a money judgment against such person or his representatives.

The treasurer, at least once every six months for three years from the date it receives such moneys, shall cause to have published a legal notice in newspapers of general circulation in each county of the state advising such victims that such escrow moneys are available to satisfy money judgments pursuant to this section.

Upon disposition of charges favorable to any person convicted of committing a crime, or upon a showing by such person that three years have elapsed from the establishment of such escrow account and further that no actions are pending against such person pursuant to this section the treasurer shall immediately pay over any moneys in the escrow account to such person.

Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of the civil practice law and rules with respect to the timely bringing of an action, the three year period provided for in subdivision one of this act shall not begin to run until an escrow account has been established.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section the board shall make payments from an escrow account to any person convicted of crime upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction after a showing by such person that such moneys shall be used for the exclusive purpose of retaining legal representation at any stage of the proceedings against such person, including the appeals process.

Any action taken by any person convicted of a crime, whether by way of execution of a power of attorney, creation of corporate entities or otherwise, to defeat the purpose of this section shall be null and void as against the public policy of this state.

Chap. 949. AN ACT AMENDING THE TAX EXEMPT STATUS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS PORT AUTHORITY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious inequity exists and has been perpetuated as a result of its having previously granted to the Massachusetts Port Authority a complete exemption from taxation. The greatest impact of that exemption is currently being felt in the cities of Boston and Chelsea, where the Authority's operations are centered, and because the exemption was created largely in part to enable the Authority to put its projects on a sound financial footing, and being mindful of the fact that the protection and stability the general court sought to provide the fledgling Authority has now, and for some years past, achieved its essential purpose, a new distribution of privileges and obligations is now deemed fit, necessary, just and proper to benefit the citizens of the commonwealth in general and the citizens of the cities of Boston and Chelsea in particular. The general court after long investigation finds that the continued tax exempt operation of the Authority's projects in the cities of Boston and Chelsea has resulted in an erosion of said cities' tax base from which revenues would otherwise be derived in an amount of three to five million dollars to meet the reasonable demands of its citizenry for services. In the absence of those revenues the city of Boston has been forced to turn to the commonwealth for relief through various state aid mechanisms, the granting of which relief has resulted in lesser distributions to the commonwealth's other cities and towns than might otherwise have been possible. Moreover, without the relief provided by the terms of this act, the general court finds it is conceivable that harm of an economic nature could result to the Authority and its bondholders by virtue of the Authority's central location in a community less financially able to provide sound and sure access to and from its projects. The general court feels that the future of the Authority and the capital of the commonwealth are so interrelated that justice and economic self-interest require these modifications to be made. For all the aforementioned reasons the general court finds it necessary and desirable to modify the Authority's tax exempt status for the benefit of the commonwealth and with due regard for the rights and obligations of its communities.

SECTION 2. As used in this act, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context shall clearly indicate another or different meaning or intent:-

"Authority", the Massachusetts Port Authority created by section two of chapter four hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six.

"Current expenses", the current expenses which are defined and set forth in section one of chapter seven hundred and nineteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven.

"Project", project as defined in section three of chapter seven hundred and nineteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven.

"Revenues", moneys received by the Authority in payment of the tolls, rates, fees, rentals and other charges for the use of and for the services and facilities furnished by the projects of the Authority, any proceeds of use and occupancy insurance and all other income derived by the Authority from the operation or ownership of its properties and also the income from the investment of moneys held for the credit of all funds and accounts created; provided, however, that the word "revenues" as applied to the properties as defined in section ten of chapter five hundred and ninety-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight shall not exceed an amount equal to the total of the amount of the current expenses of the properties until payments shall have been made to the state treasurer in the aggregate amounts required by section six of chapter four hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six.

“Trust agreement”, the trust agreement made and entered into by and between the Authority and the trustee under section twelve of chapter four hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six, as most recently amended.

SECTION 3. For the privilege of conducting its projects in the cities of Boston and Chelsea, the authority shall pay to the city of Boston on the first day of November of each year an excise equal to 4.777 per cent of its revenues from the preceding fiscal year and shall pay to the city of Chelsea an excise equal to .223 per cent of its revenues from the preceding fiscal year. For the purposes of this section the term “revenues” shall not include moneys derived from the operation and maintenance of Bedford Airport.

SECTION 4. The excise imposed herein shall be considered a tax lawfully imposed on the Authority or its income as an exercise of the commonwealth’s reserve taxing power and shall be paid by the Authority as a current expense.

SECTION 5. The excise imposed by this act shall be considered an estimated receipt for the purposes of section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 6. The supreme judicial court of Massachusetts is hereby granted exclusive original jurisdiction to hear and settle disputes arising under the provisions of this act.

SECTION 7. The excise imposed herein shall apply to revenues for fiscal years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven and thereafter.

SECTION 8. Section 17 of chapter 465 of the acts of 1956, as most recently amended by section 6 of chapter 719 of the acts of 1967, is hereby further amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The exercise of the powers granted by this act will be in all respects for the benefit of the people of the commonwealth, for the increase of their commerce and prosperity, and for the improvement of their health and living conditions, and as the operation and maintenance of the projects by the Authority will constitute the performance of essential governmental functions, the Authority after the payment of any excise which may be levied upon it or its income for the privilege of operating its projects in the cities of Boston and Chelsea shall not be required to pay any taxes or assessments upon any project or any property acquired or used, by the Authority under the provisions of this act or upon the income therefrom and the bonds issued under the provisions of this act, their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation within the commonwealth, and no property of the Authority shall be taxed to a lessee thereof under section three A of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws; provided, however, that anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, lands of the Authority, except lands acquired by the commonwealth under the provisions of chapter seven hundred and five of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-one situated in that part of the city called South Boston and constituting a part of the Commonwealth Flats, and lands acquired by the Authority which were subject to taxation on the assessment date next preceding the acquisition thereof, shall, if leased for business purposes, be taxed by the city or by any city or town in which the said land may be situated to the lessees thereof, respectively, in the same manner as the lands and the buildings thereon would be taxed to such lessees if they were the owners of the fee, except that the payment of the tax shall not be enforced by any lien upon or sale of the lands, but a sale of the leasehold interest therein and of the buildings thereon may be made by the collector of the city in the manner provided by law in case of nonpayment of taxes for selling real estate, for the purpose of enforcing the payment of the taxes by such lessees to the city or town assessed under the provisions hereof.

SECTION 9. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved January 10, 1978.

The commissioner shall require the applicant to file a bond in a form prescribed by the secretary payable to the commonwealth and conditioned upon the applicants' faithful performance of mining or mining operations in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Liability under said bond shall continue for the duration of the operation of the mine and for a period of five years after the legal closing of the mine at which time said bond shall have no force and effect, and said bond or any cash securities substituted for it shall be returned to the applicator licensee. Such bond shall be signed by the coal mine operator as principal and by a good and sufficient corporate surety authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

If at any time the corporate surety controlling the bond obligations for the mine operator forfeits the license to operate in the commonwealth, the coal mining license shall be declared invalid until such time as a substitute bond is accepted by the commissioner.

Subject to the provisions of this chapter the commissioner shall institute proceedings to have the bond of the licensee forfeited for violation of the license provisions or any violations of the provisions of this chapter. The commissioner shall notify the licensee in writing of any such alleged violation and shall afford the licensee the right to a hearing before the commissioner within thirty days after issuance of such notice. At the conclusion of the hearing, the commissioner shall either withdraw the notice of violation or shall request the attorney general to institute proceedings to have the bond of the licensee forfeited.

All funds received by the commissioner from fees, forfeiture of bonds and penalties provided under the terms of this chapter, shall be held by the state treasurer in a special fund separate from all other monies in the state treasury, to be known as the Anthracite Coal Mining Reclamation Fund and shall be used by the commissioner for the purpose of administering the provisions of this chapter affected by the coal mining operation.

Before any determination is made as to the granting of a license to mine, the commissioner shall conduct a public hearing regarding the license application to consider all relevant issues pertaining to the application including, but not limited to, impact upon the surrounding lands and environment, and all potential public health and safety hazards that may result from a coal mining operation. Public notification of the hearing shall be made at least sixty days prior to said hearing. No coal mining license shall be granted until such time as the applicant and the commissioner have complied with all of the public information requirements set forth under the provisions of this chapter.

The commissioner shall grant a coal mining license if he determines that the reclamation of the mined area and affected lands coincides with the requirements set forth in this chapter and are attainable and a reclamation program will be undertaken as contemporaneously as practicable with the extraction of the coal deposit; that the affected lands may be reclaimed to a condition of use at least fully capable of supporting all practicable uses which the land was capable of supporting prior to such coal mining operation or equal or better uses that can reasonably be attained; that the applicant's environmental impact report has dealt with all relevant issues concerning the proposed mine; that there is sufficient quantity of high quality coal to warrant a mining operation; that other resources of the area can be preserved; that the protection of the quality of the air, water and other resources of the commonwealth is assured; that the proposed mine will not pose a danger to the public health and safety of the affected area; that the applicant has agreed to comply with the bonding and public liability insurance requirements as established by the provisions of this chapter; that there has been compliance with all provisions of this chapter, and that any other reasonable requirements established by the commissioner are satisfied.

Section 6. No license to mine shall be granted for a period exceeding eight years, and a license to mine shall be terminated, after a public hearing, if no mining operation has begun within two years of the date of issue of the license. After a public hearing a valid mining license may be suspended or revoked if any public health or safety hazard is determined to exist by the commissioner under the provisions of this chapter.

The operator of the mine shall have the right of renewal of license subject to public hearing. The renewal license shall be valid for a period of eight years and shall be subject to all of the provisions of this chapter. The applicant shall file for a renewal one hundred and eighty days prior to the expiration of the license. This renewal shall contain a statement of intention to remain within the existing boundaries, and if such renewal application addresses any new lands or affects any new lands, that additional portion shall be subject to the full standards applicable to the original licensing procedures of this chapter.

Any attempt to extend mining operations beyond the boundaries set forth in the original application regardless of their depth underground, shall be cause for revocation of the coal mining license. No renewal application shall interfere or forestall the reclamation procedures established under the provisions of this chapter nor in any way extend the two-year completion date for reclamation of a closed mine area.

The commissioner shall require that reclamation of the mining operation is an ongoing process and shall encourage the maximum utilization of all of the overburden unearthed during the coal mining operation. Reclamation of the mined areas and affected lands shall be completed within two years after the legal closing of the mine.

Section 7. The commissioner is hereby authorized to make such examinations and investigations as may enable him to report on the various systems of coal mining in the commonwealth, method of mining, ventilation and machinery employed, the circumstances and responsibilities of mine accidents, and such other matters as may pertain to the general welfare of coal miners and others connected with mining, and the interests of mine owners and operators in the commonwealth.

The commissioner shall monitor air and water quality standards during the course of a mining operation. The commissioner shall keep a journal or record of all monitorings and inspections and shall procure all such materials and tests as may be found necessary to carry out the provisions and requirements of this chapter.

Section 8. The commissioner is authorized to appoint qualified coal mining inspectors to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The commissioner shall establish qualifications that shall include a working knowledge of geology, engineering and anthracite coal mining. Any mining inspector certified by the commissioner shall have the power to enter a coal mine or lands affected by the coal mining operation at any time. It shall be the duty of certified mining inspectors to protect the citizens of the commonwealth by carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

During the operation of a coal mine the operator shall provide the inspector with a detailed set of maps showing all ventilation shafts, airflow currents, shaft construction, pillar placement, all drill holes, excavations, lengths and entrances of all tunnels, locations of any bodies of water dammed or held back in any portion of the mine, or any bodies of water, surface or otherwise, that may have an effect or be affected by the mining operation. These maps shall be drawn to a scale of not more than one hundred feet to one inch.

If, during the course of an inspection of any pit, tunnel, excavation, coal refuse pile or area affected by the mining operation, an inspector determines that a condition of imminent danger exists, he may issue an immediate cease-work order. After having delivered a copy of the cease-work order to the licensee or served notice on the premises of the mine and having delivered a copy to the commissioner, the inspector shall petition the commissioner to appoint a special investigating commission to accompany the inspector to the part of the mining operation where the condition of imminent danger is alleged to exist.

All mining inspectors shall be required to submit monthly and annual reports to the commissioner concerning all relevant data on coal mining operations in the commonwealth and any questions of mine safety or public health and environmental damage or any possible violation of the provisions of this chapter. Whenever a cease-work order is issued by an inspector he shall make a special report to the commissioner stating the reasons for the cease-work order and the actions taken to remedy the situation.

Section 9. Upon receipt of a cease-work order the commissioner shall immediately appoint a special investigating commission. The commission shall immediately and before the end of the second day after its appointment make a full investigation and make a determination whether to affirm or deny the cease-work order issued by the inspector. If the commission shall agree that there is a condition of imminent danger it shall affirm the cease-work order. If the special investigation commission disagrees with the finding of the mine inspector it shall disaffirm the cease-work order and said order shall be rescinded and be null and void.

If the special investigating commission affirms the cease-work order it shall report such affirmation to the commissioner. The commissioner shall notify the operator of such determination and afford the operator an opportunity to refute the findings of the special investigating commission. If, after hearing, the commissioner affirms the cease-work order, he shall then establish all the necessary requirements to insure that the condition of imminent danger is rectified in accordance with all of the provisions of this chapter.

Section 10. Whenever the commissioner makes a finding of fact that a mine fire, refuse bank fire or subsidence resulting from mining is at a stage where immediate action is necessary and an emergency exists and no other person or agency is acting to control the condition, and the owners of the property upon which entry must be made to control the mine fire, refuse bank fire or subsidence resulting from mining are not known, nor readily available or will not give permission for the commissioner, political subdivisions of the commonwealth or municipalities, their agents, employees or contractors to enter upon such premises, or the delay entailed in reaching said owners and in securing from them the right to enter upon the premises constitutes a clear and immediate danger to the life or property of others, the commissioner or his agent shall give notice to the owners, if known, or give public notice upon the premises and shall have the right to enter upon the premises to control the mine fire, refuse bank fire or subsidence and to take all action necessary or expedient to do so. As soon as practicable thereafter the commissioner, the political subdivisions of the commonwealth or municipalities so entering the premises and acting as above provided shall restore the premises so entered upon to the condition at the time of such entry to the extent reasonably practical. The monies expended for such work and the benefits accruing to any such premises so entered upon shall be charged against such land to mitigate or offset any claim or any action brought by any owner of any interest in such premises for any alleged damages by virtue of such entry.

Any political subdivision or authorized agent of the commissioner executing orders directed toward correcting dangerous situations resulting from mine fires, refuse bank fires, subsidence or any public health or safety hazards shall be held harmless and shall be indemnified by the mine operator, from any claim for failure to acquire necessary releases from property owners or because of any failure to comply with any other applicable statute.

Section 11. The commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations which will protect the quality of water and water table throughout the commonwealth. Such rules and regulations shall include a reclamation policy that will maintain reasonable stability of the water level and water table in a area mined; a requirement that the operator of the mine shall fill all auger holes with an impervious and noncombustible material in order to prevent drainage and cave-ins; a provision that the final grading and backfilling operations provide adequate safety and access for water users in the area; a provision that there be minimum disturbance to the prevailing hydrologic balance at the mine site and in associated offsite areas or affected lands and a monitoring and study of the quantity and quality of the water affected; a provision that the operator treat or remove any water contaminated with toxic chemicals and guard against such contamination; monitor and provide that any casing, sealing or otherwise management of boreholes, shafts, tunnels or wells does not cause acid or other toxic drainage materials from entering ground and surface waters; a provision to insure that all debris and acid forming materials, toxic chemicals or materials constituting a fire, water or public health hazard are treated and disposed of in a manner compatible with sound health policy and good water supply. The operator of the mine, subject to the approval of the commissioner, may divert water from the mining operation in a manner designed to reduce if not eliminate siltation, erosion or major alterations in the natural water courses; the commissioner shall conduct inspections to guarantee compliance with good drainage practice, silt control and protection of ground water.

Violation of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this section shall be considered cause for a cease and desist order and may result in the loss of license.

Section 12. Whenever a mine is abandoned or closed, the owner shall make a final survey of all workings not represented on the maps and plans of such mine, and shall properly enter the results upon the maps of the mine so as to show the exact relations of the most advanced workings to the boundary of the property and shall file a copy of the same with the commissioner.

Section 13. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to supercede any local zoning regulations.

Section 14. Any public official authorized by the commissioner of any municipality in which coal mining is occurring shall have the right to inspect any of the mined or affected areas in the course of the normal performance of his duties.

Section 15. Any person who violates the conditions of sections three, four and five shall be punished by a fine of five thousand dollars plus an additional one thousand dollars per acre for each acre of land affected by such violations.

Any person who violates the provisions of a cease-work order issued under section seven and eight shall be punished by a fine of ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment for a period of not more than one year or both.

Any person who violates the provisions of section ten shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars for the first offense. For each subsequent offense the person shall be punished by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both.

Any person who extends the mining operation beyond the boundaries agreed to in the coal mining license issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be punished by a fine of five thousand dollars plus one thousand dollars for each acre of land affected.

SECTION 1A. Chapter 10 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 46. There shall be established and set up on the books of the commonwealth a separate fund, to be known as the Anthracite Coal Mining Reclamation Fund. Said fund shall consist of all funds received by the commissioner of environmental quality engineering for the purpose of administering the provisions of chapter twenty-one B and all other monies credited or transferred thereto from any other fund or source pursuant to law.

SECTION 2. Nothing contained in chapter twenty-one B of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, shall limit the powers conferred upon the department of public health or the executive office of environmental affairs or the department of environmental quality engineering to control and abate nuisances or public safety hazards or the protection of public health as provided by law.

Chap. 963. AN ACT CLARIFYING THE RENT WITHHOLDING LAWS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 239 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 8A, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 467 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 8A. In any action under this chapter to recover possession of any premises rented or leased for dwelling purposes, brought pursuant to a notice to quit for nonpayment of rent, or where the tenancy has been terminated without fault of the tenant or occupant, the tenant or occupant shall be entitled to raise, by defense or counterclaim, any claim against the plaintiff relating to or arising out of such property, rental, tenancy, or occupancy for breach of warranty, for a breach of any material provision of the rental agreement, or for a violation of any other law. The amounts which the tenant or occupant may claim hereunder shall include, but shall not be limited to, the difference between the agreed upon rent and the fair value of the use and occupation of the premises, and any amounts reasonably spent by the tenant or occupant pursuant to section one hundred and twenty-seven L of chapter one hundred and eleven and such other damages as may be authorized by a law having as its objective the regulation of residential premises.

Whenever any counterclaim or claim of defense under this section is based on any allegation concerning the condition of the premises or the services or equipment provided therein, the tenant or occupant shall not be entitled to relief under this section unless: (1) the owner or his agents, servants, or employees, or the person to whom the tenant or occupant customarily paid his rent knew of such conditions before the tenant or occupant was in arrears in his rent; (2) the plaintiff does not show that such conditions were caused by the tenant or occupant or any other person acting under his control; except that the defendant shall have the burden of proving that any violation appearing solely within that portion of the premises under his control and not by its nature reasonably attributable to any action or failure to act of the plaintiff was not so caused; (3) the premises are not situated in a hotel or motel, nor in a lodging house or rooming house wherein the occupant has maintained such occupancy for less than three consecutive months; and (4) the plaintiff does not show that the conditions complained of cannot be remedied without the premises being vacated.

Proof that the premises are in violation of the standard of fitness for human habitation established under the state sanitary code, the state building code, or any other ordinance, by-law, rule or regulation establishing such standards and that such conditions may endanger or materially impair the health, safety or well-being of a person occupying the premises shall create a presumption that conditions existed in the premises entitling the tenant or occupant to a counterclaim or defense under this section. Proof of written notice to the owner or his agents, servants, or employees, or to the person to whom the tenant or occupant customarily paid his rent, of an inspection of the premises, issued by the board of health, or in the city of Boston by the commissioner of housing inspection, or by any other agency having like powers of inspection relative to the condition of residential premises, shall create a presumption that on the date such notice was received, such person knew of the conditions revealed by such inspection and mentioned in such notice. A copy of an inspection report issued by any such agency, certified under the penalties of perjury by the official who inspected the premises, shall be admissible in evidence and shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

There shall be no recovery of possession pursuant to this chapter pending final disposition of the plaintiff's action if the court finds that the requirements of the second paragraph have been met. The court after hearing the case may require the tenant or occupant claiming under this section to pay to the clerk of the court the fair value of the use and occupation of the premises less the amount awarded the tenant or occupant for any claim under this section, or to make a deposit with the clerk of such amount or such installments thereof from time to time as the court may direct, for the occupation of the premises. In determining said fair value, the court shall consider any evidence relative to the effect of any conditions claimed upon the use and occupation of residential premises. Such funds may be expended for the repair of the premises by such persons as the court after a hearing may direct, including if appropriate a receiver appointed as provided in section one hundred and twenty-seven H of chapter one hundred and eleven. When all of the conditions found by the court have been corrected, the court shall direct that the balance of funds, if any, remaining with the clerk be paid to the landlord. Any tenant or occupant intending to invoke the provisions of this section may, after commencement of an action under this chapter by the landlord, voluntarily deposit with the clerk any amount for rent or for use and occupation which may be in dispute, and such payments shall be held by the clerk subject to the provisions of this paragraph.

There shall be no recovery of possession under this chapter if the amount found by the court to be due the landlord equals or is less than the amount found to be due the tenant or occupant by reason of any counterclaim or defense under this section. If the amount found to be due the landlord exceeds the amount found to be due the tenant or occupant, there shall be no recovery of possession if the tenant or occupant, within one week after having received written notice from the court of the balance due, pays to the clerk the amount due the landlord, together with interest and costs of suit, less any credit due the tenant or occupant for funds already paid by him to the clerk under this section. In such event, no judgment shall enter until after the expiration of the time for such payment and the tenant has failed to make such payment. Any such payment received by the clerk shall be held by him.

Any provision of any rental agreement purporting to waive the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be against public policy and void. The provisions of section two A and of section eighteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-six shall apply to any tenant or occupant who invokes the provisions of this section.

Chap. 967. AN ACT INCREASING PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTION FOR CERTAIN PERSONS OVER SEVENTY YEARS OF AGE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5 of chapter 59 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause Forty-first and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

Forty-first, Real property, to the amount of four thousand 1 dollars valuation or the sum of five hundred dollars, whichever 2 would amount in an abatement of the greater amount of taxes 3 due, of a person who has reached his seventieth birthday prior to 4 the fiscal year for which an abatement is sought and occupied by 5 said person as his domicile, or of a person who owns the same 6 jointly with his spouse, either of whom has reached his seventieth 7 birthday prior to the fiscal year for which an abatement is sought 8 and occupied by them as their domicile, or of a person who has 9 reached his seventieth birthday prior to the fiscal year for which 10 an abatement is sought who owns the same jointly or as a tenant 11 in common with a person not his spouse and occupied by him as 12 his domicile; provided; (A) that such person (1) has been domi- 13
ciled in the commonwealth for the preceding ten years (2) has so 14 owned and occupied such real property or other real property in 15 the commonwealth for five years, or (3) is a surviving spouse who 16
inherits such real property and has occupied such real property 17

18 or other real property in the commonwealth for five years and 19 who otherwise qualifies under this clause; (B) that such person
20 had, in the preceding year, gross receipts from all sources of less
21 than six thousand dollars, or, if married, combined gross receipts
22 with his spouse of less than seven thousand dollars, provided,
23 however, that in computing the gross receipts of an applicant
24 under this clause ordinary business expenses and losses may be 25 deducted, but not personal or family expenses, and provided,
26 further, that there shall be deducted from the total amount 27 received by the applicant under the federal social security or 28 railroad retirement and from any annuity, pension, or retire-
29 ment plan established for employees of the United States govern-
30 ment, the government of the commonwealth, or the government 31 of any city, town, county, or special district, included in such 32 gross receipts, an amount equivalent to the minimum payment
33 then payable under said federal social security law, as deter-
34 mined by the state tax commission, to a retired worker seventy 35 years of age or over, if the applicant is unmarried, or to a retired 36 worker and spouse, both of whom are seventy years of age or 37 over, if the applicant is married; and (C) that such person had a whole estate, real and personal, not in excess of seventeen thousand dollars, or if married, not in excess of twenty thousand dollars, provided that real property occupied as his domicile shall not be included in computing the whole estate except for any portion of said property which produces income, provided however that a taxpayer may, at his option, elect to include the value of real property occupied as his domicile in computing the value of his whole estate. If such real property is included in the whole estate, the value of the whole estate shall not exceed forty thousand dollars, or if married, forty-five thousand dollars.
Household furnishings and property already exempt under the twelfth, twentieth, twenty-first, and thirty-fifth clauses of this section shall not be included in computing the whole estate. In the case of real estate owned by a person jointly or as a tenant in common with a person not his spouse, the amount of his exemption under this clause shall be that proportion of four thousand dollars valuation or the sum of five hundred dollars, whichever would result in an abatement of the greater amount of taxes due, which the amount of his interest in such property bears to the whole tax due; provided that no exemption shall be granted to any joint tenant or tenant in common unless the gross receipts from all sources whatsoever of each joint tenant or tenant in common is less than six thousand dollars or, if married, the combined gross receipts from all sources whatsoever of each joint tenant or tenant in common and his spouse is less than seven thousand dollars and unless the combined whole estate, real and personal, of each joint tenant or tenant in common is less than twelve thousand dollars or, if married, the combined whole estate, real and personal of each joint tenant in common and his spouse does not exceed fifteen thousand dollars; and provided, further, that no proportion of the exemption shall be denied to any applicant otherwise qualified for the reason that another joint tenant or tenant in common receives a proportion of the total exemption. In determining the total period of ownership of an applicant for exemption under this clause, the time during which the same property was owned by a husband or wife individually shall be added to the period during which such property was owned by said husband and wife jointly. Where a portion of the real property occupied as a domicile of an applicant under this clause is located within a municipality other than the municipality in which the applicant is domiciled, and where the value of said property, or the taxes, assessed by the municipality in which such applicant is domiciled would result in his receiving less than the maximum exemption provided by this clause, that part of the property of such applicant within such other municipality shall be exempt to a value, or to an amount of tax, sufficient to grant the applicant the total maximum exemption provided by the clause. Any person who receives an exemption under the provisions of this clause shall not receive an exemption on the same property under any other provision of this section except clause Eighteen.

SECTION 2. The commonwealth, commencing in fiscal year nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, shall annually appropriate a sum not to exceed six million dollars for the purpose of reimbursing municipalities for taxes abated under clause forty-first of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. The commissioner of corporations and taxation shall divide said sum by the number of clause forty-first exemptions granted in the preceding year and distribute to each city and town a pro rate share of said sum based on the number of exemptions granted in each city and town.

SECTION 3. This act shall apply to taxes levied for the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight and thereafter.

SECTION 1. Chapter 186 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 15B, as most recently amended by chapter 154 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 15B. (1) (a) No lease relating to residential real property shall contain a provision that a lessor may, except to inspect the premises, to make repairs thereto or to show the same to a prospective tenant or purchaser, enter the premises before the termination date of such lease. A lessor may, however, enter such premises:-

- (i) in accordance with a court order;
- (ii) if the premises appear to have been abandoned by the lessee; or
- (iii) to inspect, within the last thirty days of the tenancy or after either party has given notice to the other of intention to terminate the tenancy, the premises for the purpose of determining the amount of damage; if any, to the premises which would be cause for deduction from any security deposit held by the lessor pursuant to this section.

At the commencement of any tenancy, no lessor may require a tenant to pay any amount in excess of the following:

- (i) rent for the first full month of occupancy; and,
- (ii) rent for the last full month of occupancy calculated at the same rate as the first month; and,

- (iv) the purchase or installation cost for a key and lock.

No lease shall impose any interest or penalty for failure to pay rent until thirty days after such rent shall have been due.

No lessor or successor in interest shall at any time subsequent to the commencement of a tenancy demand rent in advance in excess of the current month's rent or a security deposit in excess of the amount allowed by this section.

The payment in advance for occupancy pursuant to this section shall be binding upon all successors in interest.

A security deposit shall continue to be the property of the tenant making such deposit, shall not be commingled with the assets of the lessor, and shall not be subject to the claims of any creditor of the lessor or of the lessor's successor in interest, including a foreclosing mortgage or trustee in bankruptcy.

Any lessor, or any agent of a lessor, who receives a security deposit from a tenant or prospective tenant shall give said tenant or prospective tenant at the time of receiving such security deposit a receipt indicating the amount of the security deposit received, the name of the person receiving it and, in the case of an agent, the name of the lessor for whom the security deposit is received, the date on which it is received, and a description of the premises leased or rented. Said receipt shall be signed by the person receiving the security deposit.

Any lessor of residential real property, or any agent of a lessor of such property, who accepts a security deposit from a tenant or prospective tenant shall, upon receipt of such security deposit, furnish to such tenant or prospective tenant a separate written statement of the present condition of the premises to be leased or rented. Such written statement shall also contain a comprehensive listing of any damage then existing in the premises, including, but not limited to, any adjudicated violations of the state sanitary or state building codes certified by a local board of health or building official or adjudicated by a court and then existing in the premises. Such written statement shall be signed by the lessor or his agent and contain the following notice in twelve point bold face type at the top of the first page thereof: "You should read this statement of condition of the premises you have leased or rented for the purpose of ascertaining its accuracy. You must either sign this statement of condition, thus indicating your agreement with the statements contained herein, or you must attach a separate signed list of any damage you believe exists in the premises. This statement must be returned to the lessor or his agent within fifteen days of commencement of tenancy." If the tenant submits to the lessor or his agent a separate list of damages, the lessor or his agent shall, within fifteen days of receiving said separate list, return a copy of said list to the tenant with either his signed agreement with the content thereof or a clear statement of disagreement attached.

(b) Every lessor who accepts a security deposit shall maintain a record of all such security deposits received which contains the following information:-

(i) A detailed description of any damage done to each of the dwelling units or premises for which a security deposit has been accepted, returned to any tenant thereof or for which the lessor has brought suit against any tenant;

(ii) The date upon which the occupancy of the tenant or tenants charged with such damage was terminated; and

(iii) Whether repairs were performed to remedy such damage, the dates of said repairs, the cost thereof, and receipts therefor.

Said record shall also include copies of any receipt or statement of condition given to a tenant or prospective tenant as required by this section.

Said record shall be available for inspection upon request of a tenant or prospective tenant during normal business hours in the office of the lessor or his agent. Upon a wrongful failure by the lessor or his agent to make such record available for inspection by a tenant or prospective tenant, said tenant or prospective tenant shall be entitled to the immediate return of any amount paid in the form of a security deposit together with any interest which has accrued thereon.

The lessor or his agent shall maintain said record for each dwelling unit or premises for which a security deposit was accepted for a period of two years from the date upon which the tenancy or occupancy upon which the security deposit was conditioned was terminated.

(3) Any security deposit shall be held in a separate, interest-bearing account in a bank, located within the commonwealth under such terms as will place such deposit beyond the claim of creditors of the landlord, including a foreclosing mortgagee or trustee in bankruptcy, and as will provide its transfer to a subsequent owner of said property. A receipt shall be given to the tenant within thirty days after such deposit is received by the lessor which receipt shall indicate the name and location of the bank in which the security deposit has been deposited and the amount and account number of said deposit. Failure to comply with this paragraph shall entitle the tenant to immediate return of the security deposit.

A lessor of residential real property who holds a security deposit pursuant to this section for a period of one year or longer from the commencement of the term of the tenancy shall, beginning with the first day of the tenancy, pay interest at the rate of five per cent per year, payable to the tenant at the end of each year of the tenancy. Such interest shall actually be paid over to the tenant each year as provided in this clause, provided, however, that in the event that the tenancy is terminated before the anniversary date of the tenancy, the tenant shall receive all accrued interest within thirty days of the lease termination. Such interest shall be beyond all claims of the lessor, except as provided for in this section. At the end of each year of a tenancy, each lessor shall give or send to the tenant from whom a security deposit has been received a statement which shall indicate the name and address of the bank in which the security deposit has been placed, the amount of the deposit, the account number, and the amount of interest payable by the lessor to the tenant. The lessor shall give or send to each such tenant the interest which is due or shall include with the statement required by this notice a notification that the tenant may deduct the interest from the tenants next rental payment. If, after thirty days from the end of each year of the tenancy, the tenant has not received such notice or payment, the tenant may deduct from his next rent payment the interest due.

(4) The lessor shall, within thirty days after the termination of the occupancy, return to the tenant the security deposit or any balance thereof, provided, however, that the lessor may deduct from such security deposit for the following:-

(a) Any unpaid rent which has not been validly withheld or deducted pursuant to the provisions of any special or general law.

(b) Any unpaid increase in real estate taxes which the tenant is obligated to pay pursuant to a tax escalation clause which conforms to the requirements of section fifteen C;

(c) A reasonable amount necessary to repair any damage caused to the dwelling unit by the tenant or any person under the tenant's control or on the premises with the tenant's consent, reasonable wear and tear excluded. In the case of such damage, the lessor shall provide the tenant within such thirty days with an itemized list of damages, sworn to by the lessor or his agent under pains and penalties of perjury, itemizing in precise detail the nature of the damage and of the repairs necessary to correct it, and written evidence, such as estimates, bills invoices or receipts, indicating the actual or estimated cost thereof. No amount shall be deducted from the security deposit due to any damage to the dwelling unit which was listed in the separate written statement of the present condition of the premises which was required to be given to the tenant prior to the execution of the lease or creation of the tenancy pursuant to clause (a) of subsection (2) or any damages listed in any separate list submitted by the tenant and signed by the lessor or his agent pursuant to said clause (a), unless the lessor subsequently repaired or had repaired said damage and can prove that the renewed damage was entirely unrelated to the prior damage and was caused by the tenant or by any person under the tenant's control or on the premises with the tenant's consent.

No deduction of any amount may be made from the security deposit for any purpose other than those set forth in this section.

(5) Whenever a lessor who receives a security deposit transfers his interest the dwelling unit for which the security deposit is held, whether by sale, assignment, death, appointment of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, or otherwise, the lessor shall transfer such security deposit together with any interest which has accrued thereon for the benefit of the tenant who made such security deposit to his successor in interest, and said successor in interest shall be liable for the retention and return of said security deposit in accordance with the provisions of this section from the date upon which said transfer is made. The successor in interest shall, within forty-five days from the date of said transfer, notify the tenant who made such security deposit of the fact that the security deposit was transferred to him, that he is holding said security deposit, his name, business address, and business telephone number, and the name, business address, and business telephone number of his agent, if any. Said notice shall be in writing.

Upon such transfer, whether by sale, assignment, death, appointment of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, or otherwise, the lessor or his agent shall continue to be liable with respect to the provisions of this section until:

(a) There has been a transfer of the amount of the security deposit so held to the lessor's successor in interest and the tenant has been notified in writing of the transfer and of the successor in interest's name, business address, and business telephone number;

(b) There has been compliance with this clause by the successor in interest; or

(c) The security deposit has been returned to the tenant.

In the event that the lessor fails to transfer said security deposit to his successor in interest as required by this subsection the successor in interest shall, without regard to the nature of the transfer, assume liability for payment of the security deposit to the tenant in accordance with the provisions of this section, provided, however, that if the tenant still occupies the dwelling unit for which the security deposit was given, said successor in interest may satisfy such obligation by granting the tenant free occupation and use of the dwelling unit for a period of time equivalent to that period of time for which the dwelling unit could be leased or occupied if the security deposit were deemed to be rent provided, however, that the liability imposed by this paragraph shall not apply to a city or town which acquires title to property pursuant to chapter sixty or to a foreclosing mortgagee which is a financial institution chartered by the commonwealth or the United States. The term "rent", as used in the preceding sentence, shall mean the periodic sum paid by the tenant for the use and occupation of the dwelling unit in accordance with the terms of his lease or other rental agreement.

(6) The lessor shall forfeit his right to retain any portion of the security deposit for any reason or to sue the tenant for any money owed for unpaid rent, due under a valid tax escalation clause, or for any damage to the premises if he:

(a) Fails to deposit such funds in an escrow account as required by subsection (3); or

(b) Fails to furnish to the tenant within thirty days after the termination of the occupancy the itemized list of damages, if any, in compliance with the provisions of this section;

(c) Uses in any lease signed by the tenant any provision which conflicts with any provision of this section and attempts to enforce such provision or attempts to obtain from the tenant or prospective tenant a waiver of any provision of this section;

(d) Fails to transfer such security deposit to his successor in interest or to otherwise comply with the provisions of subsection (5) after he has succeeded to an interest in residential real property; or,

(e) Fails to return to the tenant the security deposit or balance thereof to which the tenant is entitled after deducting therefrom any sums in accordance with the provisions of this section, together with any interest thereon, within thirty days after termination of the tenancy.

(7) If the lessor or his agent fails to comply with clauses (a), (d) or (e) of subsection 6, the tenant shall be awarded damages in an amount equal to three times the amount of such security deposit or balance thereof to which the tenant is entitled plus interest at the rate of five per cent from the date when such payment became due, together with court costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

(8) Any provision of a lease which conflicts with any provision of this section and any waiver by a tenant or prospective tenant of any provision of this section shall be deemed to be against public policy and therefore void and unenforceable.
