Chap. 3. AN ACT REGULATING THE LABELING, DISTRIBUTION, SALE, STORAGE, TRANSPORTATION, USE AND APPLICATION AND DISPOSAL OF PESTICIDES.

Said person shall be eligible for reappointment, but may be removed by the commissioner for cause. The position of director shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one or the provisions of section nine A of chapter thirty. Such restoration shall be made without impairment of his civil service status or tenure under section nine A of chapter thirty and without loss of seniority, retirement, or other rights to which uninterrupted service in such prior position would have entitled him. During the period of such appointment, the person so appointed from a position in the classified service shall be eligible to take any competitive promotional examination for which he would otherwise have been eligible.

Section 5. The department with the approval of the board may cooperate and enter into cooperative agreements and contracts with appropriate federal agencies, the agencies of other states, interstate agencies, other agencies of the commonwealth or its political subdivisions, or private or nonprofit organizations in matters related to the purposes of this chapter or FIFRA, and may receive from and dispense to such agencies such funds as may be available for the purposes of this chapter and FIFRA.

The department with the approval of the board and subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A may from time to time adopt, amend or repeal such forms, regulations and standards as it deems necessary for the implementation and administration of this chapter.

The department with the approval of the board shall by regulation establish and formulate procedures whereby the advice or relevant advisory councils shall be sought incident to the development of policy or the adoption, amendment or repeal of regulations related to the administration of this chapter.

The department may with the approval of the board declare such pests and devices as it deems necessary to be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Section 6. No person shall distribute a pesticide not registered pursuant to the provisions of section seven. This prohibition shall not apply to the transfer of a pesticide from one plant or warehouse to another plant or warehouse and used solely at such plant or warehouse as a constituent part to make a pesticide which is or will be registered pursuant to the provisions of this act; or the distribution of a pesticide pursuant to the provisions of an experimental use permit issued under section eight.

No person shall distribute a pesticide classified by the department as being for restricted use to a person not appropriately certified to use that pesticide. This prohibition shall not apply to the distribution of a pesticide to a competent individual acting under the direct supervision of an individual appropriately certified to use that pesticide.

No person shall distribute a pesticide that is adulterated or misbranded or a device that is misbranded.

No person shall distribute any pesticide unless it is in the registrant's or the producer's unbroken, unopened, and sealed container. This prohibition shall not apply to the repackaging of pesticides because of damage in transit.

No person shall distribute any pesticide that does not conform to any requirement of its registration or permit.

No person shall distribute any pesticide in containers that are unsafe due to damage or design.

No person shall detach, alter, deface, or destroy, wholly or in part, any label or labeling provided for in this chapter or in regulations adopted thereunder, or to add any substance to, or take any substance from, a pesticide in a manner that may defeat the purposes of this chapter or regulations adopted thereunder.

No person shall distribute, handle, dispose of, discard, or store any pesticide or pesticide container in such a manner as to cause injury to humans, vegetation, crops, livestock, wildlife, beneficial insects, to cause damage to the environment, or to pollute or contaminate any water supply, waterway, groundwater or waterbody.

No person shall act in the capacity of, or advertise as, or assume to act as a licensed pesticide dealer unless that person is in possession of a currently valid license issued by the department pursuant to the provisions of section nine. No person possessing a pesticide dealer license shall violate or allow to be violated any term, condition, restriction or provision of said license.

No person shall purchase or use a pesticide that is not registered by the department under the provisions of section seven; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not apply to the use of a pesticide consistent with the terms of an experimental use permit issued by the department under the provisions of section eight.

Section 6A. No person shall use a registered pesticide in a manner that is inconsistent with its labeling or other restrictions imposed by the department. No person shall use a pesticide which is the subject of an experimental use permit inconsistently with the terms and conditions of said permit.

No individual certified or licensed as a pesticide applicator shall violate any provision, condition, term or restriction of his certification or license.

No person shall use a pesticide that has been classified by the department as being for restricted use unless he is an appropriately certified private applicator, an appropriately certified commercial applicator, or a competent individual acting under the direct supervision of an appropriately certified applicator.

Section 7. Pesticides, including pesticides that are federally registered may be registered by the subcommittee of the pesticide board for use in the commonwealth.

Each applicant for the registration of a pesticide shall annually file with the subcommittee an application providing thereon such information as said subcommittee shall require. Said subcommittee may require of applicants for pesticide registrations any information that it deems necessary to determine whether, or how, the pesticide should be registered.

An applicant desiring to register or reregister a pesticide shall pay such registration fee, not to exceed twenty-five dollars, as said subcommittee may by regulation require. All pesticide registrations shall be for a period not to exceed one year.

In the event that any person files with said subcommittee an application to reregister a pesticide which is registered on the date of application for reregistration and pays the appropriate fee therewith, such registration shall be deemed to be in effect until the earlier of the following two events shall occur, ninety days have elapsed after the registration was scheduled to expire, or the subcommittee notifies the applicant for reregistration that the registration has been renewed, modified or denied.

If said subcommittee determines that a pesticide, when used in accordance with its directions for use, warnings and cautions and for the uses for which it is registered, or for one or more such uses, or in accordance with a widespread and commonly recognized practice, will not generally cause unreasonable adverse effects on the environment, it may classify the pesticide, or the particular use or uses of the pesticide to which the determination applies, as being for general use.

If said subcommittee determines that a pesticide, when used in accordance with its directions for use, warnings and cautions and for the use for which it is registered, or for one or more of such uses, or in accordance with a widespread and commonly recognized practice, may cause, without additional restrictions, unreasonable adverse effects on the environment, including injury to the applicator, it may classify the pesticide or the particular use or uses to which the determination applies, for restricted use.

Said subcommittee shall register a pesticide if it determines that its composition is such as to warrant the proposed claims for it; its labeling and other material required to be submitted comply with the requirements of this chapter; it will perform its intended function without unreasonable adverse effects on the environment; and when used in accordance with widespread and commonly recognized practice it will not generally cause unreasonable adverse effects on the environment.

As part of the registration of a pesticide, said subcommittee may require that the pesticide be colored or discolored if such requirement is necessary for the protection of health or the environment, may classify for restricted use any pesticide or pesticide use classified for general use under FIFRA, and may include in the registration such conditions of use as it deems necessary.

If at any time it appears that a pesticide registration does not comply with the provisions of FIFRA, this chapter, or rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, or when used as registered, or a pesticide may cause unreasonable adverse effects on the environment, or a registered pesticide is an imminent hazard, the subcommittee as established in section three A, may, forthwith by an order suspend the registration of such pesticide. Notification of such order shall be sent to the applicant and shall be a public record.

Section 8. Any person may apply to the subcommittee for an experimental use permit for a pesticide. Each applicant for an experimental use permit shall file with the department an application providing thereon such information as the department may require. Each applicant for an experimental use permit shall pay such registration fee, not to exceed twenty-five dollars, as the department may by regulation require.

The subcommittee may grant an experimental use permit to an applicant therefor if it determines that the applicant needs such a permit to accumulate information necessary to register a pesticide.

The subcommittee shall refuse to grant an experimental use permit if it believes that the pesticide applications to be made under the proposed terms and conditions may cause unreasonable adverse effects on the environment, or if it believes that the applicant or person to conduct the experimentation is not competent to conduct such experimentation without causing unreasonable adverse effects on the environment.

The subcommittee shall revoke any experimental use permit, at any time, if it believes that its terms or conditions are being violated, or that its terms and conditions are inadequate to avoid unreasonable effects on the environment.

Section 9. A person may apply to the department to be a licensed pesticide dealer. Said applicants shall submit to the department a statement supplying such information thereon as the department may require. An applicant for such a license shall pay such registration fee, not to exceed twenty-five dollars, as the department may by regulation require, for each principal distribution center, branch outlet, or direct sales representative of an out-of-state distributor.

In the event that any person files with the department an application to renew a pesticide dealer's license which is in effect on the date of application for renewal and pays the appropriate fee therewith, such license shall be deemed to be in effect until the earlier of the following two events shall occur: ninety days have elapsed after the license was scheduled to expire; or the department notifies the applicant for renewal that the license has been renewed, modified or denied.

The department shall grant a pesticide dealer's license for a term not to exceed one year. The department shall grant such licenses subject to such terms, conditions and restrictions as it deems necessary or appropriate.

The department shall refuse to grant a pesticide dealer's license if it finds that the proposed distributor or his agent has acted in a manner inconsistent with the purposes for requirements of this chapter or FIFRA.

The department shall revoke any pesticide dealer's license, at any time, if it finds that its terms, conditions or restrictions are being violated or are inadequate to avoid unreasonable adverse effects on the environment.

As part of its determination to refuse to grant, or to revoke, a pesticide dealer's license the department may specify a period, not to exceed two years, within which the applicant may not reapply for a pesticide dealer's license. In the event that the department has specified a period for nonapplication, the department may later, at its discretion, shorten or waive such period.

Section 10. Certifications and licenses to use pesticides may be issued to individuals by the department in accordance with the provisions, standards and procedures contained in and established pursuant to this chapter. Each certification and license issued pursuant to this section shall be valid only for the individual to whom it is issued, may not be transferred, and shall not continue in force and effect after the death of the individual to whom it is issued. All certifications and licenses shall be for a period not to exceed one year, unless sooner revoked or suspended.

The department may authorize individuals to use pesticides in classifications as a certified commercial applicator, a certified private applicator, and a licensed applicator.

The department may establish such categories and subcategories as it deems necessary to restrict or condition the scope of pesticide use permitted within each classification. The department may establish such standards and criteria, take such action and impose such requirements as it deems necessary to determine or redetermine levels of competence and experience to qualify for each classification and each category and subcategory thereof.

Each applicant for a certification or license shall annually file with the department an application providing thereon such information as the department may require.

Each applicant desiring to be certified or licensed shall annually pay such application fee, not to exceed twenty dollars, as the department may by regulation require.

In the event that any individual files with the department an application to renew a certification or license which is in effect on the date of the application for renewal and pays the appropriate fee therewith, such certification or license shall be deemed to be in effect until the earlier of the following two events shall occur: ninety days have elapsed after the certification or license was scheduled to expire; or the department notifies the applicant that the certification or license has been renewed, modified or denied.

The department may issue a certification or license to an applicant therefor if it determines that the applicant satisfies the criteria established for that certification or license and the category or subcategory for which the certification or license is sought. The department may thus issue a certification or license subject to such terms, conditions, restrictions and requirements as it deems necessary. The department may require that an applicant for a certification or license has obtained and maintains in effect a contract of liability insurance conforming to regulations established by the department.

The department shall prior to issuing a certificate or license evaluate each applicant to determine his competence with respect to the use and handling of pesticides, or to the use and handling of the pesticides or class of pesticides covered or to be covered by said individual's certification or license. Said evaluation shall include such examinations as the department may require. Examinations may be taken only upon payment of a fee, not to exceed ten dollars for each examination given, as the department may require by regulation approved by the board.

The department may revoke, suspend, cancel or deny any certification or license, or any class thereof, at any time, if it believes: that the terms or conditions thereof are being violated or are inadequate to avoid unreasonable adverse effects on the environment, or that the holder of or applicant for the certification or license has violated any provision of this chapter or FIFRA or any regulation, standard, order, license, certification or permit issued thereunder or that the holder or applicant for said certification or license is not competent with respect to the use and handling of pesticides, or to the use and handling of the pesticides or class of pesticides covered by said individual's certification or license. Any person whose certification or license is suspended or revoked hereunder shall also be subject to such other punishment, penalties, sanctions or liabilities as may be provided by law. As part of its determination to refuse to grant, to revoke, or to suspend a certification or license the department may specify a period, not to exceed two years, within which the applicant may not reapply for a certification or license. In the event that the department has refused to issue or has revoked or suspended such a certification or license, and has specified a period for non-application, the department may later, at its discretion, shorten or waive such period.

The department may, at its discretion, appropriately license or certify any person possessing a valid certification or license, or equivalent rating, issued by the pesticide control agency of any other state or the federal government whose standards for the issuance of such rating are not less stringent than those of the department, provided that the pesticide control agency of that state extends similar privileges to persons so licensed or certified by the commonwealth. Any person so licensed or certified shall be subject to the annual fee requirements of this section.

Section 11. The department shall by regulation establish such restrictions and prohibitions upon the disposal and storage of pesticides, packages and containers of pesticides, and materials used in the testing or application of pesticides as it deems necessary to protect health and the environment.

Section 12. Whenever it appears to the department that there is an imminent hazard, or a potential threat of unreasonable adverse effect on the environment, or a violation or a potential violation of any provision of this chapter or of any license, certification, permit, order, registration or regulation issued or adopted thereunder, the department may issue to such persons as it deems necessary an order requiring the production of samples and records, or an order imposing restraints on or requiring such action, as it deems necessary. Issuance of an order under this section shall not preclude and shall not be deemed an election to forego any action to recover for damages to interests of the commonwealth or, under section fourteen of this act, for civil penalties or for criminal fines and penalties.

Section 13. Any person aggrieved by a determination by the department to register or not to register a pesticide, to suspend a pesticide registration, to issue, not issue or revoke an experimental use permit, to issue, deny, revoke or suspend any certification or license, or to issue an order, made under the provisions of this chapter, may request an adjudicatory hearing before the board under the provisions of chapter thirty A. Said determination shall contain a notice of a right to request a hearing and may specify a time limit, not to exceed twenty-one days, within which said persons may request a hearing before the board under the provisions of said chapter thirty A. If no such request is timely made, the determination shall be deemed assented to. If a timely request is received, the board shall within a reasonable time hold a hearing and comply with the provisions of said chapter thirty A. In hearings so held the board shall designate a hearing officer to preside over the hearing, to assemble an official record thereof, and to render a tentative decision as provided in paragraph (7) of section eleven of said chapter thirty A. The board shall make the final decision on the basis of the official record and tentative decision so rendered.

If, in making a determination which under the provisions of the preceding paragraph may be the subject of an adjudicatory hearing, the department finds that an imminent hazard or an unreasonable adverse effect on the environment could result pending the conclusion of the adjudicatory hearing requested thereon, the department may order that the determination shall become provisionally effective and enforceable immediately upon issuance, and shall remain so notwithstanding and until the conclusion of any adjudicatory hearing procedures timely requested. In the event that the department has thus made a determination provisionally effective, it may later, at its discretion, shorten the duration of or waive such order.

As part of a final decision in an adjudicatory proceeding held under the provisions of this section, the board may specify a reasonable time period within which the matter may be barred from further proceedings before the department or the board. In the event that the board has so specified a time period, the board may later, at its discretion, shorten or waive such period.

A person aggrieved by a final adjudicatory determination of the board may obtain judicial review thereof pursuant to the provisions of chapter thirty A.

Section 14. Any person who violates any provision of section six shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for each such violation, knowingly committed or shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed five hundred dollars for each such violation which may be assessed in an action brought on behalf of the commonwealth in any court of competent jurisdiction. Each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense.

Any person who violates any provision of section six A or who violates any valid regulation adopted under the provisions of this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both, for the second and each subsequent offense, knowingly committed or shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed fifty dollars for any offense, which may be assessed in an action brought on behalf of the commonwealth in any court of competent jurisdiction. Each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense.

Each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction to enjoin violations of, or grant such relief as it deems necessary or appropriate to secure compliance with, any provision of this chapter or the terms of an order, license, certification, registration, permit or regulation issued or adopted thereunder.

Section 15. For the purpose of administering the provisions of this chapter, personnel or agents of the department and its inspectors shall have access and entry at reasonable times to any premises pursuant to a search warrant duly issued by a court of competent jurisdiction, provided that no sample of a pesticide obtained in the course of such inspection and no result of any analysis or test of any such sample shall be received in evidence in any criminal proceeding under this chapter unless the sample shall have been taken and the analysis or test conducted by a chemist in the agricultural extension service of the University of Massachusetts authorized by the department. Personnel or agents of the department may take such samples as are reasonably necessary to accomplish the purpose of their investigation and inspection. Any information relating to secret processes, methods of manufacture, production or use obtained in the course of such inspection shall be kept confidential upon request, when not required to be disclosed incident to the enforcement of this chapter. tenant's act of, commencing, proceeding with, or obtaining relief in any judicial or administrative action the purpose of which action is to obtain damages under, or otherwise enforce, any federal, state or local law, regulation, by-law or ordinance, which has as its objective the regulation of residential premises; or exercising the tenant's rights pursuant to section one hundred and twenty-four D of chapter one hundred and sixty-four; or reporting to the board of health or, in the city of Boston to the commissioner of housing inspection or to any other board having as its objective the regulation of residential premises a violation or a suspected violation of any health or building code or of any other municipal by-law or ordinance, or state or federal law or regulation which has as its objective the regulation of residential premises; or reporting or complaining of such violation or suspected violation in writing to the landlord or to the agent of the landlord; or for organizing or joining a tenants' union or similar organization shall be liable for damages which shall not be less than one month's rent or more than three month's rent, or the actual damages sustained by the tenant, whichever is greater, and the costs of the suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

The receipt of any notice of termination of tenancy, except for nonpayment of rent, or, of increase in rent, or, of any substantial alteration in the terms of tenancy within six months after the tenant has commenced, proceeded with, or obtained relief in such action, exercised such rights, made such report or complaint, or organized or joined such tenants' union or within six months after any other person has taken such action or actions on behalf of the tenant or in, or relating to, the building in which the tenant resides, shall create a rebuttable presumption that such notice or other action is a reprisal against the tenant for engaging in such activities. Such presumption shall be rebutted only by clear and convincing evidence that such person's action was not a reprisal against the tenant and that such person had sufficient independent justification for taking such action, and would have in fact taken such action, in the same manner and at the same time the action was taken, regardless of tenants engaging in, or the belief that tenants had engaged in, activities protected under this section.

Any waiver of this provision in any lease or other rental agreement shall be void and unenforceable.

violation or suspected violation of law as provided in section eighteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-six, or organizing or joining a tenants' union or similar organization. The commencement of such action against a tenant, or the sending of a notice to quit upon which the summary process action is based, or the sending of a notice, or performing any act, the purpose of which is to materially alter the terms of the tenancy, within six months after the tenant has commenced, proceeded with or obtained relief in such action, exercised such rights, made such report or organized or joined such tenants' union, or within six months after any other person has taken such action or actions on behalf of the tenant or in, or relating to the building in which the tenant resides, shall create a rebuttable presumption that such summary process action is a reprisal against the tenant for engaging in such activities, or was taken in the belief that the tenant had engaged in such activities. Such presumption may be rebutted only by clear and convincing evidence that such action was not a reprisal against the tenant and that the plaintiff had sufficient independent justification for taking such action, and would have in fact taken such action, in the same manner and at the same time the action was taken, even if the tenant had not commenced any legal action, made such report or engaged in such activity.

DOWER ON CERTAIN INTERESTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 186 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 1 and 2 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 1. If land is demised for the term of one hundred years or more, the term shall, so long as fifty years thereof remain unexpired, be regarded as an estate in fee simple as to everything concerning the descent and devise thereof, upon the decease of the owner, the right of dower as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-nine therein, the sale thereof by executors, administrators, guardians, conservators or trustees, the levy of execution thereon, and the redemption thereof if mortgaged or taken on execution; and whoever holds as lessee or assignee under such a lease shall, so long as fifty years of the term remain unexpired, be regarded as a freeholder for all purposes.

Section 2. If dower as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-nine is assigned out of such land, the husband or widow and his or her assigns shall pay to the owner of the unexpired residue of the term one third of the rent reserved in the lease under which the wife or husband held the term.

SECTION 1A. Chapter 189 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 1, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 165 of the acts of 1965, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 1. A surviving spouse shall hold for life one third of all land owned by a deceased spouse at the time of death. Such estate shall be known as tenancy by dower. Any encumbrances on land at the time of the owner's death shall have precedence over dower. To be entitled to such dower the surviving spouse shall file his election and claim therefor in the registry of probate within six months after the date of the approval of the bond of the executor or administrator of the deceased, and shall thereupon hold dower instead of the interest in real property given in section one of chapter one hundred and ninety, otherwise such estate shall be held to be waived. Dower may be assigned by the probate court in the same manner as dower is now assigned, and the tenant by dower shall be entitled to the possession and profits of one undivided third of the real estate of the deceased from her or his death until the assignment of dower, and to all remedies therefor which the heirs of the deceased have in the residue of the estate. Curtesy and, except as prescribed herein, dower are abolished.

SECTION 2. Chapter 189 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 3 and 4 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 3. A surviving spouse shall not be entitled to dower in wild land, except woodlots or other land used with the farm or dwelling house of the deceased spouse.

Section 4. If the heir or other person who claims under a spouse redeems the land in which his surviving spouse has dower from a mortgage which was in force at his death, the surviving spouse shall either repay such part of the money which was paid by the person so redeeming as shall be equal to the proportion which the interest in the land mortgaged bears to the whole value thereof or, at his election, such surviving spouse shall be entitled to dower according to the value of the estate after deducting the money paid for redemption.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 189 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 7 to 16, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following ten sections:-

Section 7. A person may be barred of dower in all the land of such person's spouse by a jointure settled with assent before the marriage, if such jointure consists of a freehold estate in land for life at least and is to take effect in possession or profits immediately upon the death of such spouse. Assent to such jointure shall be expressed, if such is of full age, by becoming a party to the conveyance by which it is settled, or, if a minor, by joining with the parent or guardian of such person in such conveyance.

Section 8. A pecuniary provision, made for the benefit of an intended spouse and in lieu of dower, shall, if assented to as provided in the preceding section, bar dower in all the land of the person to whom such intended spouse is to marry.

Section 9. Such jointure or pecuniary provision, if made after marriage, or made before marriage and without the assent of the intended spouse, shall bar dower, unless within six months after the death of the person to whom such spouse is married, an election is made to waive such jointure or provision. If the person dies while absent from his spouse, such spouse shall have six months after notice of the death within which to make such election; and such spouse shall in all cases have six months after notice of the existence of such jointure or provision within which to make such election.

Section 10. If a spouse is entitled by law, by deed of jointure, or under the will of the person to whom such spouse is married, to an undivided interest in his land either for life or during the time in which such spouse is a surviving spouse, such interest may be assigned to such spouse, in whatever counties the land lies, by the probate court for the county in which the estate of the deceased spouse is settled. Such assignment may be made upon petition or, if such surviving spouse does not petition therefor within one year after the death, upon petition by an heir or devisee of such deceased spouse, by any person having an estate in the land subject to such interest, or by the guardian or conservator of any such heir, devisee or person, or by an executor or administrator if the probate court finds that the personal property will probably be insufficient to pay the debts and legacies of the decedent or charges of administration.

Section 11. Upon such petition, the court shall issue a warrant to three persons as commissioners, who shall be sworn to perform their duty faithfully and impartially and who shall set off the interest of the surviving spouse by metes and bounds if it can be so done without damage to the whole estate. But if the estate out of which the interest of the surviving spouse is to be assigned consists of a mill or other tenement which cannot be divided without damage to the whole, such interest may be assigned out of the rents or profits thereof, to be had and received by such spouse as a tenant in common with the other owners of the estate.

Section 12. If a surviving spouse is entitled to an undivided interest in land which is owned by the deceased spouse as tenant in common, the probate court, upon petition by the surviving spouse or by any person entitled to petition for assignment of the interest in such land, after notice as in case of other partitions, may empower the commissioners to make partition of the land so owned in common, and then to assign to the surviving spouse the interest in the portion set off to the estate of the deceased spouse.

Section 13. If a surviving spouse is entitled to an interest in land of which the deceased spouse died seized, the surviving spouse may, without having such interest assigned, continue to occupy such land with the heirs or devisees of the deceased, or to receive share of the rents or profits thereof, so long as such heirs or devisees do not object thereto; and when the heirs or devisees or any of them desire to hold or occupy their share in severalty, the surviving spouse may claim such interest and shall have it assigned.

Section 14. No surviving spouse of a deceased person shall make claim for an interest in the real estate of such deceased, or begin any proceedings for the recovery thereof, unless such claim or action is made or begun within twenty years after the decease, or after he or she has ceased to occupy or receive the profits of his or her share of such real estate, except that if at the time of such decease the surviving spouse is absent from the Commonwealth, a minor, insane or imprisoned, he or she may make such claim or begin such proceeding at any time within twenty years after such disability ceases.

Section 15. If a person is lawfully evicted of land which has been assigned to such spouse as dower or settled as jointure, or is deprived of a provision made by will or otherwise in lieu of dower, such persons may be endowed anew in like manner as if such assignment, jointure or other provision had not been made.

Section 16. After the expiration of a period of ten years from the recording of any conveyance no spouse of any party making the conveyance shall make any claim to dower in the land conveyed unless within such period the spouse has recorded in the registry of deeds for the country or district where the land lies a notice identifying the conveyance and the place in the public records of its recording and stating that dower may be claimed in the land thereby conveyed. A reference to such notice shall be noted on the margin of the record of the conveyance.

SECTION 5. In order to meet the estimated cost of utilities to be furnished projects constructed by the University of Lowell Building Authority, the comptroller shall transfer from item 7220-0001 to the General Fund, on or after July first of each fiscal year the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars; provided, that said amount shall be credited to item 7220-0001 upon payment of said building authority and may be spent without further appropriation.

SECTION 6. Wherever, in section two of this act, it is provided that transfers shall be made from a fund, account or receipts, of a specific sum, a percentage of payments, or a sum equivalent to payments, such transfers of a specific sum shall be made upon the effective date of this section, and all other such transfers shall be made quarterly unless otherwise provided; except that at the close of a fiscal year, the amount equivalent to payments in a continuing account shall be construed to mean the amount of such appropriation.

SECTION 6A. Section 5 of chapter 291 of the acts of 1975, as amended by section 41 of chapter 363A of the acts of 1977 is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- For the period beginning January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight and ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, there is hereby imposed, in addition to the excise imposed under the provisions of chapter sixty-four H, an additional excise at the rate of one per cent upon meals as defined in paragraph (h) of section six of said chapter sixty-four H.

SECTION 7. No monies appropriated under this act shall be expended for reimbursement for the expenses of meals for persons while traveling within or without the commonwealth at the expense thereof unless such reimbursement is in accordance with rules and rates established in accordance with section twenty-eight of chapter seven of the General Laws.

SECTION 8. The allowance to state employees for expenses incurred by them in the operation of motor vehicles owned by them and used in the performance of their official duties shall not exceed fourteen cents a mile.

SECTION 9. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, amounts appropriated in section two for permanent offices and positions are authorized to be expended for the permanent offices and positions as listed and at the salary rates indicated in the schedule of permanent offices and positions submitted by the personnel director to the house and senate committees on ways and means as adjusted by said committees prior to the passage of this act and on file with said committees and available to the members of the general court prior to the passage of this act, but subject to any changes in said schedule recommended by the conference committee and approved by the general court and subject further to any change in said schedule made by the general court as a result of this act. Except as otherwise shown on the said adjusted schedules, a copy of which shall be deposited with the personnel director, no part of sums so appropriated in section two shall be available for payment of salaries of any additional permanent position, or for payments on account of reallocations of permanent positions, or for payments on account of any change of salary range or compensation of any permanent position, notwithstanding any special or general law to the contrary; provided, that no vacancy occurring in any classified permanent position included in said schedules of permanent positions may be filled in any manner except as authorized by rules and regulations established under the provisions of paragraph (6) of section forty-five of chapter thirty of the General Laws, and shall be filled by the transfer, reassignment, or promotion of a presently authorized state employee who is subject to termination or lay-off, if the duties to be performed can be carried out by such employee. Any person in the employ of the commonwealth on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, and subsequently terminated or laid off, except for just cause, shall have re-employment rights to vacancies in any state department, agency, or institution prior to such vacancies being filled from open competitive registers, or lists, or from any other source; provided, that such employees shall not have priority over persons on lay-off or termination within the department, agency or institution posting the vacancy. Employees coming under this provision shall retain and carry with them as re-employed employees all rights previously held at the time of lay-off or termination. Such laid off or terminated employees shall be notified by the division of personnel administration of any such vacancies.

SECTION 10. Notwithstanding the provisions of clause (d) of paragraph (5) of section forty-five of chapter thirty of the General Laws, no part of the sums appropriated for the service of any agency or subdivision of a department in section two of this act shall be available for the payment of any temporary or excess quota position if there is a similar position vacant within the quota of permanent positions as established by the appropriation account for the service of such agency or subdivision of a department; and, except such temporary positions as may be authorized in connection with the passage of this act, and except as hereinafter provided, no additional temporary positions shall be authorized. The commissioner of administration may, however, upon certification that an emergency exists requiring additional temporary assistance to perform work essential to the public interest, authorize the temporary employment of such additional personnel as may be necessary within the limits of funds available for the purpose; provided, however, that such emergency authorization shall not be extended to the succeeding fiscal year. The commissioner shall forthwith notify the house and senate committees on ways and means of the employment of any such additional temporary personnel. The provisions of this section shall not apply to positions essential for the care of patients or inmates in institutions or to positions essential for the educational program in all institutions of higher education operated by the commonwealth, nor to the filling of a position under the provisions of section twenty-four B of said chapter thirty nor to a position required to correct an inequity determined as provided in sections fifty-three and fifty-six of said chapter thirty.

SECTION 11. Notwithstanding any provision of general or special law to the contrary, federal funds received by the commonwealth or any department, agency or subdivision of a department shall not be available for the payment of the salary for any position unless such expenditure has been approved in advance by the general court and is based upon a schedule of positions and salary rates approved by said general court, a copy of which shall be deposited with the bureau of personnel. No such federally funded positions shall be established or filled by employees hired from outside existing state departments and agencies if the duties to be performed can be carried out by promoting or transferring or reassigning a present certified or authorized permanent state employee. Positions to be filled on federally funded projects must be advertised by posting a circular describing title, location, duties and salary grade in all places that state civil service posters are posted and by distributing such circulars to all departments for at least twenty days prior to appointment or recruitment of a nonstate employee. Proof of such notice of promotional opportunities must be filed with the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means and signed under penalties of perjury by the appointing authority. The provisions of this section shall not prevent payment of the salary of any employee filling a federally funded position immediately prior to the effective date of this act.

SECTION 12. Notwithstanding any special or general law to the contrary, any officer of the commonwealth as defined in section G-6 of the rules and regulations authorized by section twenty-eight of chapter seven of the General Laws receiving payment under subsidiaries "01 salaries, permanent positions", "02 salaries, other" or "03 services, nonemployees" for services under any item in section two of this act shall, under the penalties of perjury, report annually to the commissioner of administration, on forms said commissioner shall prescribe any other compensations received for services performed and paid from any state, federal or private funding source. Such forms shall include the name of the funding source, the date and extent of the services performed, including the rate of compensation, the signature of the person so employed and the employer thereof. Any officer of the commonwealth failing to file said report shall be given a hearing and dismissed, if found delinquent without sufficient cause. Copies of said reports shall be submitted within thirty days after receipt to the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 13. Applications for all federal subventions and grants available to the commonwealth under any act of Congress shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner of administration. Any transfer within such subventions or grants shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner of administration. All federal subventions and grants received by the commonwealth, or by a corporation or other organization established as an affiliate of any agency or institution operated by the commonwealth or by an individual employed by the commonwealth, authorized to expend such funds in conjunction with services rendered by the commonwealth, may be expended without specific appropriation under the terms and conditions provided in rules and regulations established by the commissioner of administration and if such expenditures are otherwise in accordance with law. All such federal subventions and grants shall be reported in full by the head of the agency directly rendering the services mentioned above to the budget director, to the comptroller and to the house and senate committees on ways and means. The report shall include such itemization as required in accordance with state and federal regulations. All federal subventions and grants available to the commonwealth under any act of Congress and not otherwise authorized to be received shall be paid into the treasury of the commonwealth. All such expenditures of federal subventions and grants shall be subject to the audit of the state auditor.

SECTION 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law or sections of this act to the contrary, no funds shall be expended for excess quota positions without prior approval of the general court.

SECTION 15. In addition to the payment of regular salaries, sums appropriated for personal services in the fiscal year nineteen hundred and seventy-nine shall be available for the payment of such other forms of compensation as may be due under existing statutes or under the provisions of rules and regulations made in accordance with said statutes.

SECTION 16. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-one of chapter thirty of the General Laws, or any other provision of law, the state purchasing agent is hereby authorized during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and seventy-nine to incur liabilities and incidental expenses for the purchase of supplies, as provided by said section fifty-one, including material to be disposed of as surplus, so called, by the federal government through agencies of the federal government in an amount not exceeding five hundred fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for the purpose, and the comptroller may certify for payment such incidental expenses and liabilities so incurred to an amount not exceeding five hundred fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for said purpose.

SECTION 17. The commissioner shall direct the treasurer to pay all valid claims from the funds appropriated for the property tax assistance fund for the fiscal year in which such claims are paid, on or before the fifteenth day of December of the year in which the claims are filed. For purposes of reimbursement under this section, every superintendent of schools shall, as part of the annual statement required to be filed with the commissioner of education under chapter seventy, report on a form provided by the department of education the number of school age children placed in foster care or group care in the city, town, or regional school district by the department of public welfare and the duration of their public school enrollment there, and shall support each such claim with appropriate documentation as required by the commissioner of education.

SECTION 68. Said chapter 76 is hereby further amended by striking out section 9, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 9. If a city or town where a school age child is placed or kept under section seven does not maintain a public high school offering four years of instruction, said school age child may, subject to section six of chapter seventy-one, attend the public high school of another city, town or regional school district, but the commonwealth shall under section seven reimburse the city or town where he is so placed or kept, for tuition paid by it on his account.

Said reimbursement shall be based on appropriate documentation filed by the superintendent of schools of said city or town, as required by the commissioner of education.

SECTION 69. Any reimbursements made under this act for any school year shall be limited to those amounts to which the city, town, or regional school district is entitled under sections seven and nine of chapter seventy-six of the General Laws; provided, that any pupil for whom such reimbursable expenditures were originally incurred shall not be included in the computation of the school aid due said city, town, or regional school district under chapter seventy of the General Laws, nor shall such expenditures be included as reimbursable expenditures under section sixteen D of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 70. Section 35 of chapter 41 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence, as amended by section 3 of chapter 766 of the acts of 1972, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- He shall receive and take charge of all money belonging to the town, and pay over and account for the same according to the order of the town or of its authorized officers.

SECTION 70A. Section 53 of chapter 44 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as most recently amended by section 4 of said chapter 766, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- All moneys received by any city, town or district officer or department, except as otherwise provided by special acts and except fees provided for by statute, shall be paid by such officers or department upon their receipt into the city, town or district treasury.

SECTION 70B. Chapter 58 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 18A, as most recently amended by section 54 of chapter 363A of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 18A. Commencing with the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, and continuing in every fiscal year thereafter, the state treasurer shall, subject to appropriation and upon certification of the commission, annually distribute from the General Fund to the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools on or before the dates specified, to the extent that sufficient funds are available on such dates, the full amounts of school aid due the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under the provisions of chapter seventy, provided, that not less than one quarter thereof shall be paid on or before September fifteenth. A second payment shall be made on or before December fifteenth, and a third payment shall be made on or before April fifteenth, and such payment, together with the payments previously made, shall equal seventy-five per cent of the total amount due. The balance thereof shall be paid on or before June fifteenth.

If upon any date of distribution in said fiscal years the amount appropriated is insufficient to pay the full amounts of school aid due under the provisions of chapter seventy the provisions of section eleven of said chapter seventy shall be applied in determining the actual amounts to be distributed to the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under said chapter.

The amounts so distributable or distributed to the cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under this section shall be subject to verification, correction, and adjustment by the commission in the event of any error or omission in their determination. Any adjustment which reduces or increases the amounts to which a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school is entitled shall be taken into account in the distribution of school aid to such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school as soon as may be after the adjustment is made and certified to the comptroller and state tax commission. No such adjustment shall be made after June thirtieth of the second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which such amounts of aid were distributed. Amounts distributable or changed in such year shall have priority over all other amounts distributed or changed in such year.

For the purpose of this section, the agricultural schools maintained by the counties of Bristol, Essex and Norfolk shall be deemed to be regional school districts.

The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter 70 and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 70

SCHOOL FUNDS AND STATE AID FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Section 1. The purpose of the financial assistance provided by this chapter shall be to promote the equalization of educational opportunity in the public schools of the commonwealth, to reduce the reliance upon the local property tax in financing public schools, and to promote the equalization of the burden of the cost of school support to the respective cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools. Assistance provided under this chapter shall be designated as school aid.

In furtherance of such purpose, it is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that, subject to appropriation, no city or town shall receive less in school aid in the nineteen hundred and eighty and subsequent fiscal years than was received in the nineteen hundred and seventy-nine fiscal year.

For the purposes of this chapter, the agricultural schools maintained by the counties of Bristol, Essex, and Norfolk shall be deemed to be regional school districts.

Section 2. When used in this chapter, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Average current operating expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth", the sum of the total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in regular day programs in public schools in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools in the commonwealth during a fiscal year, as hereinafter defined, divided by the total of the sums of full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day programs in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools during said year, as hereinafter defined.

"Average direct service expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth", the sum of the total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in regular day programs in public schools in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools in the commonwealth during a fiscal year, as hereinafter defined, divided by the total of the sums of full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day programs in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools during said year, as hereinafter defined; provided, however, that the numerator of the fraction described in this paragraph shall include expenditures for instructional services, attendance services, health services, fixed charges and food services only. Expenditures for administration, athletic and other student activities, plant operation and maintenance, capital outlays, transportation and food for food services shall not be included in the numerator of said fraction.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of education.

"Equalized valuation per person in a city or town", the equalized valuation of all property in a city or town subject to local taxation, as most recently reported by the state tax commission to the general court under section ten C of chapter fifty-eight, divided by the number of persons who reside in such city or town. In the case of a regional school district, the equalized valuation per person shall be determined in the following manner: first the equalized valuation per person of each member municipality in the regional school district shall be multiplied by the percentage of all pupils enrolled in the regional school district who are residents of that municipality; and second, the equalized valuations per person in all member municipalities as so modified shall be summed. Independent vocational schools under the jurisdiction of a board of local or district trustees for vocational education shall be assigned the equalized valuation per person of the city or town in which they are located.

"Equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth", the equalized valuation of all property in the commonwealth subject to local taxation, as most recently reported by the state tax commission to the general court under the provisions of section ten C of chapter fifty-eight, divided by the total number of persons who reside in the commonwealth.

"Full-time equivalent pupil", the computational unit used for the purpose of determining the number of pupils enrolled in either public school or in a program approved under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and educated at the full or partial expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school in each of the programs described in section two A.

Such unit shall be computed as follows:

(1) a pupil enrolled full-time in only one such program shall be counted as one full-time equivalent pupil in that program; provided that a pupil enrolled in a kindergarten or preschool program which meets for a period of time each day no greater than one-half the minimum length for a school day as established by the board of education under section one G of chapter fifteen shall be counted as one-half of a full-time equivalent pupil in the program in which such pupil is enrolled;

(2) a pupil enrolled separately in two or more said programs shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil in each program with each such fraction equal to the number of hours the pupil spends in each program divided by the total number of hours the pupil spends in all programs;

(3) a pupil enrolled in two or more said programs which are carried on simultaneously, and are therefore consolidated into one program, shall be counted as a full-time equivalent pupil in that one of such simultaneous programs in which the pupil is enrolled which has the highest pupil weight, as hereinafter provided in the definition of weighted full-time equivalent pupil; and

(4) a pupil enrolled in a program of more than one hundred and eighty-five days duration shall be counted as one full-time equivalent pupil plus a fraction of one full-time equivalent pupil in that program, with such fraction equal to the number of days in excess of one hundred and eighty divided by one hundred and eighty. The commissioner may by regulation, under the direction of the state board, further define the computation of "full-time equivalent pupil" as he deems advisable.

"Local support percentage", the percentage determined during each fiscal year in accordance with the provisions of section eleven.

"Persons who reside in a city or town", the population of the city or town as enumerated in the most recent of the following: (1) the most recent official state census conducted by the state secretary; or (2) the most recent official federal census, adjusted by the state tax commission to conform as nearly as possible to the same definitions as used in such state census.

"Pupil", a person who is enrolled in either public school or in an approved program under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and educated at the full or partial expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school where said full or partial expense represents an actual outlay or disbursement by said city, town, regional school district, or independent vocational school.

"Regular day program", any public school day program not defined as special needs, vocational or transitional bilingual education under any other provision of the General Laws or regulations promulgated thereunder.

"School aid percentage" for each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school, the amount by which one hundred per cent exceeds the product of the local support percentage, as defined above, times the valuation percentage.

"State board", the state board of education.

"Sum of weighted full-time equivalent pupils" in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, the total number of weighted full-time equivalent pupils in each program hereinafter defined in schools under the jurisdiction of a regional school district committee, a school committee of a city or town, or a board of local or district trustees for vocational education as the case may be, and the totals so derived for each program then added together to produce a single sum for all said programs in each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school; provided, however, that any full-time equivalent pupils residing in a city or town who are receiving education in the schools of another city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, or in a program approved under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, on a tuition basis shall be deemed to be full-time equivalent pupils or their city or town of residence.

"Total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in regular day programs in a city, town, regional district or independent vocational school", the total amount expended by such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the previous fiscal year for the support of regular day programs in public schools exclusive of expenditures for transportation, payment of regional school district assessments, food for school food services and capital outlays, after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts and receipts from any other sources, to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures; provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received by (a) a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school from the commonwealth, and (b) a regional school district from the member cities and towns of said district, shall not be so deducted. The commissioner of education may, by regulation, further define the expenditures and receipts that may be included hereunder.

"Total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in all programs in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school", the total amount expended by a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the previous fiscal year for the support of all programs in public schools and programs approved under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, exclusive of expenditures for transportation, payment of regional school district assessments, food for school food services and capital outlays, after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts, and receipts from any other sources, to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures; provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received by (a) a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school from the commonwealth, and (b) a regional school district from the member cities and towns of said district shall not be so deducted. The commissioner of education may, by regulation, further define the expenditures and receipts that may be included hereunder.

"Valuation percentage of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school", the proportion which the equalized valuation per person in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school bears to the equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth.

"Weighted full-time equivalent pupil", a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in any regular day, special needs, vocational or transitional bilingual education program multiplied by the pupil weight cost factor for the program or programs in which the pupil is enrolled as set forth in section two A.

Section 2A. (1) A full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program shall be assigned a pupil weight of 1.00; (2) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a transitional bilingual education program in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-one A and the regulations promulgated thereunder shall be assigned a pupil weight of 1.40; (3) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular education program with modifications, a regular education program with no more than twenty-five per cent time out, a regular education program with no more than sixty per cent time out, a substantially separate program, a home and hospital program, a day program or a preschool program for children with special needs, as defined in regulations promulgated under chapter seventy-one B, shall be assigned a pupil weight of 4.00; (4) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a residential program for children with special needs, as defined in regulations promulgated under chapter seventy-one B, shall be assigned a pupil weight of 6.30; (5) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a vocational education program, as defined in chapter seventy-four and regulations promulgated thereunder, but excluding therefrom pupils enrolled in evening classes of vocational education and adult evening practical arts programs, shall be assigned a pupil weight of 2.00; (6) a pupil whose family income is below the poverty level, as determined by the department of education in accordance with the regulations promulgated under Title I of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended, shall be counted as one additional full-time equivalent pupil in programs of auxiliary services for educationally disadvantaged pupils, and assigned a pupil weight of 0.20 to reflect the possible needs of such a pupil for such auxiliary services, in addition to being counted in the regular day, special needs, vocational or transitional bilingual education program in which such pupil may be enrolled. Such auxiliary services shall seek to enable educationally disadvantaged pupils to fully benefit from regular day, special needs, vocational and transitional bilingual education programs. Approval criteria for auxiliary services for such educationally disadvantaged pupils shall be established by the board of education.

In determining the total number of full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day program in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school (1) all children enrolled in a private school and receiving educational services at the expense of a city or town as required under the provisions of section forty-eight and fifty-seven of chapter seventy-one or Section 613 of the Federal Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program, where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount so expended during the previous fiscal year, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in a regular day program in the commonwealth during said year; (2) pupils enrolled in adult education programs and other programs under the provisions of sections nine and nine A of chapter sixty-nine or sections eighteen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-six A, twenty-eight, seventy-one B, seventy-five, seventy-six, and seventy-seven of chapter seventy-one and any regulations promulgated thereunder and educated at the direct expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program, where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount so expended for instructional services during the previous fiscal year after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts and receipts from any other sources to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received under this chapter as reimbursements for such expenditures shall not be so deducted, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during said year; (3) pupils enrolled in evening programs of vocational education and adult evening practical arts under chapter seventy-four and the regulations promulgated thereunder at the direct expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount expended for instructional services during the previous fiscal year after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts and receipts from any other sources to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received under this chapter as reimbursements for such expenditures shall not be so deducted, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in a regular day program in the commonwealth during said year; and (4) pupils enrolled in any program and educated at the direct expense of a city, town or regional school district who are residents of an institution and were not theretofore residents of said city, town or regional school district under the provisions of section eleven of chapter seventy-six shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount so expended for instructional services for said pupils during the previous fiscal year, after deducting therefrom any amount recovered from the commonwealth under said section eleven, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during said year.

Section 3. Subject to the limitations specified in sections six and seven, the amount of school aid to be paid to each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school in a fiscal year under this chapter shall be determined by multiplying together: (1) the school aid percentage for such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school; (2) the average current operating expenditures per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during the previous fiscal year; and (3) the sum of the weighted full-time equivalent pupils in such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the fiscal year in question.

Section 4. The cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools shall report to the commissioner, in such form as the commissioner may require, all information necessary to compute the amount of school aid to be paid under this chapter. Such reports shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section six of chapter seventy-two. The commissioner may request other such reports as he deems necessary and as of such dates as he may require to carry out the purposes of this section.

The information submitted under this section shall be subject to approval, verification and adjustment. The commissioner shall be responsible for the verification of such information, including but not limited to (a) the numbers of full-time equivalent pupils within each program listed in section two A reported by each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school; (b) certification that programs in transitional bilingual education under chapter seventy-one A have been carried out in accordance with the requirements of said chapter seventy-one A, the regulations promulgated thereunder, and approved plans submitted earlier by a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school; (c) approval and certification that expenditures under chapter seventy-one B are reasonable, that funds for special education personnel, materials and equipment, tuition, rent and consultant services were actually expended, and that such special education classes, instruction periods and other programs have met the standards and requirements prescribed by the regulations promulgated under said chapter seventy-one B; and (d) approval of vocational education programs under chapter seventy-four and regulations promulgated thereunder; (e) approval of adult education programs and other programs under sections nine and nine A of chapter sixty-nine and sections eighteen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-six A, twenty-eight, seventy-one B, seventy-five, seventy-six and seventy-seven of chapter seventy-one and regulations promulgated thereunder. When undertaking such verification, the commissioner shall employ a number of criteria in examining the information so reported, including but not limited to (a) the proportion which the total enrollment in each program listed in section two A reported by each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school bears to the total enrollment in all programs so reported, and (b) the percentage change in the proportional enrollment in each program listed in section two A reported by each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school from the prior fiscal year. An audit of the information submitted by a city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school shall be conducted by the commissioner in each instance of significant change in the annual proportional enrollment of any program listed in section two A.

A city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school may submit to the commissioner amendments to such a previously completed report in the event of any error in the preparation of said reports; provided, however, that no such amendment may be filed after June thirtieth of the fiscal year succeeding that in which amounts of school aid were computed and paid on the basis of the previously submitted report.

Any such adjustment which reduces or increases, as the case may be, the school aid to which a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school is entitled shall be taken into account in the school aid to be paid to such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school as soon as may be after the adjustment is made and certified to the comptroller and the state tax commission. No such adjustment shall be made after June thirtieth of the second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which such amounts of aid were distributed.

Section 5. The commissioner shall certify to the comptroller and to the department of revenue no later than December thirty-first prior to the fiscal year in which the aid is to be paid the estimated amount of school aid to be paid to each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school. Before the final distributions are made under the provisions of section eighteen A of chapter fifty-eight, the commissioner shall make a final certification to the comptroller and to said department of revenue of the full amount due the cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools.

Section 6. The aid paid to any city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school under this chapter shall not be less than one hundred and seven per cent of the sum of the amounts due said city, towns, regional school district or independent vocational school from the commonwealth during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight under the provisions of the formulae contained in the following sections of the General Laws, as such formulae were applied during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, and as such amounts due were affected by the provisions of the second and third paragraph of paragraph (3) of subsection (b) of section eighteen A of chapter fifty-eight; chapter seventy; sections four and eight of chapter seventy-one A; the first paragraph of section thirteen of chapter seventy-one B; section nine, eleven and twelve of chapter seventy-four; and section ten of chapter seventy-four, excluding therefrom reimbursements for tuition fees for children placed in a city or town by the commissioner of public welfare or the youth service board. Said sums shall exclude any amounts of reimbursements due under said statutes for expenditures incurred in the transportation of pupils. In determining the amounts due from the commonwealth in the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, the amount of school aid due under this chapter to cities and towns which were members of regional school districts shall be deemed to have been due to each of their respective regional school districts in the same proportions as the current operating assessments for the cost of regular day program levied by each regional school district upon each such member city or town during said fiscal year bear to the total current operating expenditures, including such assessments, for all pupils enrolled in regular day program in each such city or town during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight. The amounts of school aid due, as so determined, shall be deducted from the amounts deemed to have been due such member cities and towns from the commonwealth under this chapter during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight. The commissioner may, by regulation, under the direction of the state board, further define the amounts of aid due or deemed to have been due each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school from the commonwealth under said provisions of chapters seventy, seventy-one A, seventy-one B and seventy-four. Said regulations may include the amounts of aid due or deemed to have been due any regional school district established, reorganized, or terminated after the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight.

Section 7. In each fiscal year, each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school shall expend at least eighty-five per cent of the product obtained by multiplying the average direct service expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during the previous fiscal year by the sum of weighted full-time equivalent pupils in the city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the current fiscal year. The amount so determined shall be expended for the support of the school programs listed in section two A, exclusive of expenditures for administration, athletic and other student body activities, plan operation and maintenance, transportation, payment of regional school district assessments, food for school food programs, and capital outlay; provided, however, that amounts received by a regional school district from the member cities and towns of said district which are applicable to such expenditures for such programs shall not be so deducted.

If a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school fails to expend, from sources other than the amounts of aid paid under this chapter, an amount equal to the difference between (1) the amount determined in accordance with the first sentence of this section, and (2) either the total estimated amount of school aid to have been received, or the total school aid actually received by said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the fiscal year in question, whichever is greater, then the commissioner shall certify to the comptroller and the state tax commission an amount equal to the school aid otherwise due to be paid under this chapter during the next fiscal year, multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the actual amount expended by said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, from sources other than the amounts of aid paid under this chapter, and the denominator of which is the difference as set forth above.

The commissioner shall annually calculate, on or before January thirty-first, to the nearest tenth of one per cent, the proportion which the total amount of school aid paid under this chapter during the previous fiscal year bears to the sum of the total expenditures for all pupils, enrolled in all programs in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools during said previous fiscal year, until said proportion equals at least thirty-five per cent. The provisions of this section shall then apply to the expenditures of all cities, towns, regional school districts, and independent vocational schools commencing with the third fiscal year following that in which said percentage first equals at least thirty-five per cent, and in every fiscal year thereafter.

Section 8. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the school aid paid under this chapter to a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be deposited with the treasurer of the city, town, or regional school district, and shall be applied in the first instance, subject to the limitations specified below, to total expenditures for current operating costs in all programs during the fiscal year in which payments are so made. In the event that the estimated amount of school aid to be received by a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school exceeds the amount included for such expenditures within the total school department, regional school district or independent vocational school budget approved by said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, after first deducting from such budgeted expenditures any other estimated receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts, and receipts from the commonwealth or any other source, to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures, such access shall be available for application to expenditures for any municipal purpose by such city or town, or used by such regional school district to reduce the operating assessments levied upon member cities and towns during the following fiscal year. In the event that the amount of such school aid actually received during the fiscal year exceeds the estimated school aid, such excess shall be added to the estimated school aid to be received during the following fiscal year and applied in said year in accordance with the provisions of this section. In the event that the amount of such school aid actually received and available during the fiscal year under the provisions of this section for such operating expenditures, plus receipts from any other sources applicable to such expenditures as defined above, exceed the total actual amount of such expenditures, such excess shall be added to the estimated school aid to be received during the following year and applied in aforesaid manner. The entire amounts of such excess school aid carried over from any previous year, plus the entire estimated amount of school aid to be received by a city or town under this chapter during the fiscal year shall, however, be treated by the board of assessors as school incomes when computing the school tax rate for said fiscal year under the provisions of section twenty-three C of chapter fifty-nine. The entire estimated amount of school aid to be received by a regional school district during the fiscal year, plus any amount of such excess school aid carried over from any previous year, shall be used by said district to reduce the operating assessments levied by such district upon member cities and towns during the following year.

The commissioner shall determine the portions of the school aid received by each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school which are allocated on account of the total number of weighted full-time equivalent pupils reported for each program listed in section two A. Not less than seventy per cent of the aforesaid portions of school aid so determined for each said program and received by each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school under this chapter shall be expended for instructional services, attendance services, health services, fixed charges and food services in each program listed in section two A in which full-time equivalent pupils were reported by the city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during said fiscal year.

Section 9. The school fund of the commonwealth, known as the Massachusetts School Fund, with future additions shall constitute a permanent fund. The commissioner of education and the state treasurer shall continue to be commissioners to invest and manage said fund, and they shall report annually the condition and income thereof. All investments shall be made with the approval of the governor and council. The annual income thereof shall be paid to the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under the provisions of section eighteen A of chapter fifty-eight, as part of the school aid required under this chapter.

Section 10. The income of the Todd Fund shall be paid to the board of trustees of state colleges, and applied by it to specific objects, in connection with state colleges, not provided by appropriation.

Section 11. In determining the amounts of school aid due to be paid under this chapter to each city, town, regional school district, and independent vocational school during any fiscal year, the local support percentage used in computing said school aid shall be determined so that the total school aid as so computed shall be equal to the amount actually appropriated for distribution as school aid under this chapter, after deducting the amounts to be paid under the provisions of section six. The local support percentage so determined in any fiscal year shall be the same for every city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school. The school aid to be distributed under this chapter shall be subject to application.

SECTION 70D. Section 24 of chapter 71 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 51 of chapter 14 of the acts of 1966, is hereby amended by striking out the first and fourth sentences.

SECTION 70E. Sections twenty-six E, thirty-eight B, thirty-eight E, sixty-five and seventy-eight of said chapter seventy-one are hereby repealed.

SECTION 70F. Section 4 of chapter 71A of the General Laws, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 1005 of the acts of 1971, is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph.

SECTION 70G. Said chapter 71A is hereby further amended by striking out section 8, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 8. The state treasurer shall annually, on or before November twentieth, reimburse any city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school for expenditures incurred during the previous fiscal year in the transportation of any pupil enrolled in a transitional bilingual education program and who resides as least one and one-half miles from the school which the pupil attends, as measured as by commonly travelled route, in the manner hereinafter defined. Such reimbursements shall include: first, an amount for each pupil which is equal to the average transportation services expenditure per pupil, enrolled in regular day program in said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during said fiscal year, provided that each such pupil enrolled in regular day program resides at least one and one-half miles from the school which said pupil attends; and second, the entire amount by which the average transportation services expenditure per pupil enrolled in such a bilingual program in said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during said fiscal year may exceed the aforesaid average transportation services expenditure per pupil enrolled in regular day program. In no instance, however, shall the amount or reimbursement for such excess cost per pupil exceed one hundred and ten per cent of the average of such excess costs per pupil in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools in the commonwealth during the fiscal year in which such expenditures were made.

In determining each said average transportation services expenditure per pupil enrolled in regular day program in each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school, the department of education shall use the transportation services expenditure per pupil eligible for reimbursement under sections seven A, seven B, or sixteen C of chapter seventy-one, whichever is higher, during the same fiscal year. The commissioner of education may, by regulation, under the direction of the state board of education, further define the expenditures per pupil to be used in aforesaid computations.

SECTION 70H. The team of clinicians shall consist of a physician or physicians and such other mental health clinicians as the department may designate. If the results of the evaluation by the team is a recommendation to commit to the I.C.U., the team shall report its findings to the commissioner or his designee in writing. The report shall contain, at a minimum, (1) documentation of the woman's incidents of serious self-destructive behavior or serious assaultive behavior as an inpatient at the facility or place of detention; (2) documentation that attempts to treat the woman at other facilities operated, licensed or regulated by the department or at a place of detention in the case where the woman is in custody at a place of detention, have failed; (3) documentation that failure to commit such a woman to the I.C.U. would create an immediate and continuing likelihood that the woman would cause serious harm to herself or others; and (4) an evaluation of the woman's need for care and treatment at the I.C.U., supported by clinical findings.

For the purposes of this section, serious assaultive behavior shall mean actual touching and not merely the threat of touching.

Upon receipt of the commissioner's recommendation, the head of the facility or place of detention shall file a petition, accompanied by the report by the team of clinicians, with the district court having jurisdiction of the facility or place of detention requesting an order of commitment to the I.C.U.

All subsequent proceedings for the continuing commitment of a person under this section shall be in the court which has jurisdiction over the I.C.U.

The court shall not order the commitment of a woman to the I.C.U. unless after hearing it finds that beyond a reasonable doubt: (1) the woman is mentally ill; (2) the woman has engaged in repeated and recent incidents of serious self-destructive behavior or assaultive behavior as an inpatient at a facility or inmate of a place of detention; (3) the woman cannot be properly treated in any other facility licensed, operated or regulated by the department or a place of detention the case of a woman under sentence; and (4) there is a substantial likelihood that the woman's condition will continue to cause her to inflict serious harm upon herself or others. An initial and any subsequent order of commitment to the I.C.U. shall be valid for a period of not more than six months. All hearings conducted pursuant to this section shall be in accordance with the procedural requirements of sections seven and eight of this chapter.

(b) The court shall render its decision on the petition for commitment to the I.C.U. within ten days of the completion of the hearing, provided, that for reasons stated in writing by the court, the chief justice of the district courts may extend said ten day period.

(c) Whenever the director of the I.C.U. determines that a woman is no longer in need of care and treatment at the I.C.U., the director shall request the commissioner to transfer the woman to a departmental facility, a community-based program, or to discharge the woman, or in the case of a woman whose sentence has not expired, to transfer her to the original place of detention.

The commissioner shall so transfer or shall discharge the woman within thirty days, unless he files a petition under Section 8A for further commitment of the woman to the I.C.U. If the commissioner so transfers, the staff of the I.C.U. shall assist the staff of the facility, the place of detention or the community-based program in providing follow up and supportive clinical services to the woman.

(d) At the commencement of commitment to the I.C.U. of a woman under sentence, the department of correction shall enter in the patient record of such woman the date of expiration of the sentence of the woman. Where applicable, the provisions of sections one hundred and twenty-nine, one hundred and twenty-nine A, one hundred and twenty-nine B, one hundred and twenty-nine C, and one hundred and twenty-nine D of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven may be applied to reduce such sentence, and on such date the woman shall be discharged; provided however, that if the commissioner determines that the discharge would create a likelihood of serious harm by reason of mental illness, he shall petition the district court having jurisdiction over the I.C.U. prior to the date of expiration to order the commitment of such woman to a facility.

(e) No woman shall be retained at the I.C.U. except in accordance with the provisions of this section.

The justice within seven days thereof shall order notice of the time and place for a hearing to be given to the superintendent or medical director or director of the I.C.U. and to such other persons as he considers proper; and such hearing shall be given promptly before a justice of the superior court in any county. The justice shall appoint an attorney to represent any applicant whom he finds to be indigent. The alleged mentally ill person may be brought before the justice at the hearing upon a writ of habeas corpus, upon a request approved by the justice. Pending the decision of the court such person may be retained in the custody of the superintendent or medical director or the director of the I.C.U. If the justice decides that the person is not mentally ill or that failure to retain the person in a facility or the Bridgewater state hospital would not create a likelihood of serious harm, or finds that the woman in the I.C.U. is not mentally ill; has not engaged in repeated and recent incidents of serious self-destructive behavior or assaultive behavior as an inpatient at a facility or an inmate of a place of detention; can be properly treated in any other facility licensed, operated or regulated by the department or a place of detention in the case of a woman under sentence; and there is not a substantial likelihood that woman's condition will continue to cause her to inflict serious harm upon herself or others, said person shall be discharged. If the justice decides that a patient at the Bridgewater state hospital does not require strict security, he shall be transferred to a facility.

Section 5. In addition to his other powers and duties, imposed upon him by this chapter, chapter seven and chapter thirty the administrator shall have the following powers and duties:

(a) To administer, enforce and comply with the civil service law and rules and the decisions of the commission.

(b) Establish, with the approval of the commission, classification plans for positions in every city and town which are subject to any provisions of this chapter. Upon the establishment of each such classification plan, the administrator shall forthwith make such plan effective. He shall keep said classification plan current and, with like approval, may from time to time amend or change said classification plan. Failure of the commission to approve or reject said amendment or change within ninety days after the request by the administrator for approval thereof shall constitute an approval of said amendment or change.

(c) To approve or disapprove specifications and qualifications submitted by an appointing authority in a city or town or other political subdivision of the commonwealth for any civil service position; and, in the case of any disapproval, to establish such specifications and qualifications when, in his opinion, the appointing authority has failed to furnish satisfactory specifications and qualifications within thirty days after notice to the appointing authority of such disapproval.

(d) To evaluate the qualifications of applicants for civil service positions.

(e) To conduct examinations for purposes of establishing eligible lists.

(f) To establish such mandatory standards for civil service positions as he determines to be necessary, including standards designed to facilitate the employment of handicapped persons, disadvantaged persons and persons who have been convicted of criminal offenses.

(g) To develop and to assist appointing authorities in developing programs and opportunities for the employment of handicapped and disadvantaged persons and for the rehabilitation and employment of persons who have been convicted of criminal offenses.

(h) To maintain records of the following: examinations which have been conducted, eligible lists and registers which have been established, the names of persons certified for original and promotional appointment, and all permanent, provisional and temporary appointments to civil service positions.

(i) When he shall determine to be necessary, to examine or direct the examination of and to investigate payrolls and bills and accounts for the payment of salaries and compensation for service in civil service positions.

(j) On or before October first each year, to submit a written report to the general court, the governor, the commission, and the state library describing the activities of the division during the previous fiscal year. Such report shall include data on examinations and appointments and any recommendations of the administrator for the improvement of the operation of the division.

(k) To establish a recruitment program to recruit applicants for civil service positions.

(l) To delegate, so far as practicable, to the cities and towns the administration of functions of the civil service system.

Section 6. Each appointment to a civil service position shall be made by an original appointment pursuant to the provisions of this section or by a promotional appointment pursuant to the provisions of section seven, except as otherwise provided by this chapter or other law.

Each such original appointment in the official service shall be made after certification from an eligible list established as the result of a competitive examination for which civil service employees and non-civil service employees were eligible to apply, except as otherwise provided by sections twenty-six, forty, forty-seven, fifty-six, and sixty.

An appointing authority desiring to make an original appointment in the official service shall, if a suitable eligible list exists, submit a requisition to the administrator. Upon receipt of such requisition, the administrator shall certify from such list the names of persons eligible for such original appointment. If no suitable list exists, or if the list contains the names of less than three persons who are eligible for and willing to accept employment, the appointing authority may request authorization to make a provisional appointment pursuant to sections twelve, thirteen and fourteen.

An appointing authority may requisition to fill any position by original appointment pursuant to this section, or, where a promotional appointment may be made under the civil service law and rules, it may requisition to fill a position by promotional appointment pursuant to section seven.

Any request by an appointing authority to the administrator to fill a vacancy, other than a temporary vacancy, in a permanent position shall include a statement that such position is permanent and that such vacancy is to be filled on a permanent basis.

Section 7. Each promotional appointment within the official service shall be made pursuant to section eight or after certification from an eligible list established as a result of one of the following types of examinations: (a) a departmental promotional examination pursuant to section nine, (b) an alternate departmental promotional examination pursuant to section ten or (c) a competitive promotional examination pursuant to section eleven, provided that promotional appointments in such police and fire forces of cities and towns as are within the official service, in the capitol police force, in the police force of the metropolitan district commission and in the detective force of the state department of public safety, other than promotions to positions in said force specified by section nine P of chapter twenty-two, shall be made pursuant to section fifty-nine or section sixty-five. An appointing authority desiring to make a promotional appointment shall recommend the type of examination to be utilized.

An appointing authority desiring to make a promotional appointment within the official service, other than a promotional appointment pursuant to section eight, shall, if a suitable eligible list exists, submit a requisition to the administrator. Upon receipt of such requisition the administrator shall certify from such list the names of persons eligible for such promotional appointment. If no suitable list exists, or if the list contains the names of less than three persons who are eligible for and willing to accept employment, the appointing authority may request authorization to make a provisional appointment pursuant to sections twelve, thirteen, and fourteen or a provisional promotion pursuant to section fifteen.

An appointing authority may make a temporary promotional appointment to a temporary position or to fill a temporary vacancy in a permanent position. A promotional appointment made pursuant to this paragraph shall not be deemed to interrupt the period of service in the permanent position from which such promotional appointment was made where such service is required to establish eligibility for a promotional examination.

An appointing authority may make a promotional appointment of an employee in the labor service to a position in the official service pursuant to the provisions of section thirty.

Section 8. An appointing authority, with the approval of the administrator, may promote an employee in the official service from one title to the next higher title in the same series in the same departmental unit, subject to the following requirements: (a) such employee shall have been employed in such unit in such lower title as a permanent employee for three years or longer immediately preceding the request for approval of such promotion; (b) such employee is the first, second, or third ranking employee in length of service in such departmental unit who is willing to accept the promotion; and (c) such employee shall demonstrate, by the passing of an examination prescribed by the administrator, that he possesses the qualifications and abilities necessary to perform the duties of the higher title; provided that an employee in a departmental unit of a city, town or district who has been employed in such unit in a lower title as a permanent employee for not less than one year next preceding the date of such request may be promoted to the next higher title in the same series if there is no other employee in such lower title or any other lower title in such series who has also been so employed, and if such employee shall demonstrate, by the passing of an examination prescribed by the administrator, that he possesses the qualifications and abilities necessary to perform the duties of such higher title. The relative ranking of titles as next higher or lower shall be determined by the administrator.

In case of promotional appointments of more than one employee, the appointing authority may select from among the same number of employees with the greatest length of service as the number provided in the civil service rules governing appointments to fill more than one vacancy.

The effective date of a promotional appointment made pursuant to this section shall be the date on which the person promoted assumes the duties of the higher title, as certified by the appointing authority, following the approval of the promotion by the administrator.

The provisions of this section may be utilized to make a temporary promotional appointment to fill a temporary vacancy in a permanent position if the administrator is satisfied that such vacancy is likely to become permanent within a reasonable period of time. If a person has received such a promotional appointment, the administrator, upon the request of the appointing authority, may approve such promotional appointment on a permanent basis when the position to which the temporary promotional appointment has been made becomes permanently vacated.

Section 9. Pursuant to the provisions of this section, an appointing authority may make a promotional appointment within a departmental unit on the basis of a departmental promotional examination. Such departmental promotional examination shall be open, until there are at least two employees in lower titles eligible to apply, only to persons who have been employed in the departmental unit as civil service employees for at least one year immediately preceding the date of the examination, who have no permanent status in such unit in a title higher than the examination title, and who have been employed in such unit as civil service employees in a title equal to that of the position for which the examination is to be held or in the next lower titles, as determined by the administrator, for at least one year at any time preceding the date of the examination.

Section 10. An appointing authority may make a promotional appointment within a departmental unit on the basis of an alternate departmental promotional examination pursuant to this section. Eligibility to take such examination shall extend only to persons who have been employed in the departmental unit as civil service employees for at least one year immediately preceding the date of examination and who have no permanent status in such unit in a title higher than that of the position to which the promotional appointment is to be made. In addition, eligibility to take such examination shall extend only to: (1) persons who have been employed in the departmental unit as civil service employees for one year or longer at any time preceding the date of the examination in a position which the administrator determines to be directly qualifying for the position for which the examination is to be held or (2) employees who satisfy such experience or education and training requirements as the administrator determines shall be qualifying for the position for which the examination is to be held. Such experience, education or training may have been acquired within or without the departmental unit and shall be credited by the administrator only upon the presentation of evidence satisfactory to the administrator that such experience, education or training is of the length, type and quality determined by the administrator to be qualifying for the position for which the examination is to be held.

The provisions of this section may be applied, upon approval of the administrator, to competitive promotional examinations held pursuant to section eleven. The provisions of this section may also be utilized to hold promotional examinations which shall be open to eligible employees of an entire executive office, with the approval of the secretary thereof.

Section 11. An appointing authority may make a promotional appointment on the basis of a competitive promotional examination, pursuant to the provisions of this section, which shall be open to all permanent employees of the commonwealth, or of the city, town, or district where the promotion is to be made, as the case may be, who have been employed for at least the six months next preceding the date of said examination as civil service employees in titles determined by the administrator to be eligible titles.

Section 12. An appointing authority may make a provisional appointment to a position in the official service with the authorization of the administrator or, if the appointing authority is a department, board, commission, institution or other agency within an executive office, with the authorization of the secretary of such office. Such authorization may be given only if no suitable eligible list exists from which certification of names may be made for such appointment or if the list contains the names of less than three persons who are eligible for and willing to accept employment and the appointing authority submits a written statement to the administrator that each person whose name was certified and who reported for an interview was interviewed and considered for appointment and states sound and sufficient reasons, satisfactory to the administrator, for not making an appointment from among such persons. A provisional appointment may be authorized pending the establishment of an eligible list. Such authorization shall be void unless exercised within two weeks after it is granted.

After authorization of a provisional appointment pursuant to the preceding paragraph, the administrator shall proceed to conduct an examination as he determines necessary and to establish an eligible list. Such examination shall be held and such eligible list shall be established within one year from the date of such authorization if the appointment must comply with federal standards for a merit system of personnel administration as a condition for receipt of federal funds by the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions. If, as the result of such examination, no suitable eligible list is established, the administrator, upon the request of the appointing authority, may authorize an extension of the provisional appointment pending the results of another examination. Upon authorization of such an extension, the administrator shall arrange to hold a new examination forthwith and to determine the results of such examination. The eligible list resulting from such new examination shall be established within eighteen months of the determination of the results of the last previous examination, provided, however, that such new examination shall be held no later than one year from the date the last examination was held if the appointment must comply with federal standards for a merit system of personnel administration as a condition for receipt of federal funds by the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions.

If no eligible list is established after a second examination for the same position, the administrator and the appointing authority shall confer and decide what action should be taken, such as the holding of another examination on a different basis.

Section 13. An appointing authority, in requesting authorization to make a provisional appointment, shall file with the administrator or, if the appointing authority is a department, board, commission, institution or other agency within an executive office, with the secretary in charge of such office, a notice containing: (1) the information which the appointing authority believes is necessary to prepare and conduct an examination for the position for which such authorization is being requested, including the entrance requirements for the examination, a statement of the duties of the position, and the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to perform those duties; (2) a proposal specifying the type of examination which should be held by the administrator; (3) a substantiation that the person proposed for the provisional appointment meets the proposed entrance requirements and possesses the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to perform such duties.

Section 14. Upon receipt of the notice described in section thirteen, the administrator or the secretary in charge of the executive office, as the case may be, may authorize a provisional appointment if he determines that the contents of the notice are satisfactory. If the administrator or secretary and the appointing authority which filed the notice agree that the duties, qualifications and entrance requirements are correct as stated in the notice and if no person who meets the entrance requirements can be found for provisional appointment to the position pending the holding of an examination and the establishment of an eligible list, the position shall remain unfilled until such eligible list is established; provided, however, that if an emergency exists, and the appointing authority describes the reasons for the emergency, states that such position must be filled because of such emergency, and submits a statement which describes to the satisfaction of the administrator the steps which have been taken to find a person who meets the entrance requirements for the position, the administrator may authorize a provisional appointment of a person who does not meet such entrance requirements. Such authorization in the case of such emergency shall not constitute a finding that the person so provisionally appointed is eligible to take the examination for such position.

Each provisional appointment shall be reported by the appointing authority to the administrator. A provisional appointment may be terminated by the administrator at any time and, except as provided in the preceding paragraph, shall be terminated forthwith whenever the administrator or secretary shall determine that the person appointed does not, in fact, possess the approved qualifications or satisfy the approved requirements for the position. The administrator shall have the authority to terminate a provisional appointment which was approved by a secretary of an executive office.

Except as otherwise provided by section fifteen, no provisional employment in a position shall be authorized, approved, or continued for more than thirty days following a certification from an eligible list if such list contains the names of three persons eligible for and willing to accept appointment to such position.

A provisional appointment shall be terminated if there is a change in the nature of the employment or in the salary of the person who has been provisionally appointed.

Section 15. An appointing authority may, with the approval of the administrator or, if the appointing authority is a department, board, commission, institution or other agency within an executive office, with the approval of the secretary of such office, make a provisional promotion of a civil service employee in one title to the next higher title in the same departmental unit. Such provisional promotion may be made only if there is no suitable eligible list, or if the list contains the names of less than three persons eligible for and willing to accept employment, or if an eligible list has been established as a result of a competitive examination for an original appointment and the appointing authority requests that the position be filled by a departmental promotional examination or pursuant to section eight. No provisional promotion shall be continued after a certification by the administrator of the names of three persons eligible for and willing to accept promotion to such position.

If there is no such employee in the next lower title who is qualified for and willing to accept such a provisional promotion the administrator may authorize a provisional promotion of a permanent employee in the departmental unit without regard to title, upon submission to the administrator by the appointing authority of sound and sufficient reasons therefor, satisfactory to the administrator. If the administrator has approved the holding of a competitive promotional examination pursuant to section eleven, he may authorize the provisional promotion of a person who is eligible to take such examination, without regard to departmental unit.

A provisional promotion pursuant to this section shall not be deemed to interrupt the period of service in the position from which the provisional promotion was made where such service is required to establish eligibility for any promotional examination.

A secretary of an executive office who approves a provisional promotion pursuant to this section shall notify the administrator of each such approval. Such approval shall be made pursuant to the civil service law and rules, and such notification shall be made in such form as shall be required by the administrator. The administrator shall terminate any provisional promotion if, at any time, he determines that (1) it was made in violation of the civil service law and rules, or (2) the person provisionally promoted does not possess the qualifications or satisfy the requirements for the position. An appointing authority which makes a provisional promotion pursuant to this section shall report such promotion to the administrator.

Section 16. Examinations shall be conducted under the direction of the administrator, who shall determine their form, method and subject matter. Examinations shall relate to matters which will fairly test the fitness of applicants actually to perform the duties of the position for which the examination is held. The administrator may utilize practical tests, or written or oral examinations or any combination of such tests and examinations, except that an oral examination shall be used only in conjunction with a written examination or practical test. Any oral examination shall be conducted by a board of three or more persons chosen by the administrator. The administrator shall notify each person who has taken an examination of his mark on the examination.

The administrator may, subject to the provisions of section twenty-six, where applicable, examine, qualify, and rank applicants for original or promotional appointment solely on the basis of training and experience (a) for a scientific or professional position for which education at or above the master's degree level is required by statute or under authority thereof or (b) when the major duty of a position is such that applicants are required to have successfully completed a course in emergency medical care pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and eleven C or to possess a certificate, registration or license issued after examination by one of the state boards of registration or examiners under the provisions of chapters one hundred and twelve, one hundred and forty-one or one hundred and forty-two, or a license or certificate of competency issued under the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-six. A person who has taken a civil service examination pursuant to this paragraph shall not have recourse to the review procedures set forth in section twenty-two.

Section 17. The administrator, without requisition from an appointing authority, may hold a competitive examination to establish an eligible list of persons with bachelor's degrees. Such examination shall be open to any person who, at the time of the examination, has completed, or expects to complete within nine months, a four year course leading to a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university or who has a combination of education and experience in administrative, professional or investigative work which the administrator finds acceptable.

Names shall be placed on the eligible list established as a result of such examination in the order specified by section twenty-six. Such list shall be open to public inspection. Each applicant shall be notified promptly of his mark on the examination. Certification from such list shall be made by the administrator only to fill vacancies in offices or positions in the official service for which he determines the examination to have been appropriate. Certifications from such list to the subdivisions of the commonwealth shall be made only upon request of the appointing authority.

A person who has taken an examination pursuant to this section shall not have recourse to the review procedures set forth in section twenty-two.

Section 18. The administrator shall prepare notices of all examinations for original appointment to the official service and shall send such notices to the clerks of those cities and towns where persons are domiciled who may be eligible to apply to take such examinations. The clerks shall cause such notices to be posted in the city and town halls and in other conspicuous places for at least three weeks prior to the final day for the filing of applications for the examination or, if no such final day for filing is indicated, as directed by the administrator. In towns with twenty-five hundred or more residents, a minimum of five notices shall be posted; in towns with less than twenty-five hundred residents, a minimum of two notices shall be posted; and in cities, a minimum of twenty-five shall be posted with at least one posted in each ward. The clerks of such cities and towns shall submit an annual report to the administrator certifying that all such notices have been posted pursuant to the requirements of this section. The administrator shall determine when such annual report shall be submitted and the specific information it shall contain concerning the time and place of posting of notices.

The administrator, on the basis of his assessment of local conditions, may require posting in addition to that required by this section or may modify the requirements of this section in some other manner. The administrator shall cause to be posted copies of all notices required by this section in a conspicuous place at the office of the division for not less than three weeks prior to the final day for the filing of applications for the examination or, if no such final day for filing is indicated, for so long as he shall continue to accept applications for the examination.

Each notice required by this section shall state the duties, compensation, and title of and required qualifications for the position for which the examination is to be held, the time, place and manner of applying for admission to the examination, the entrance requirements, if any, and any other information which the administrator determines should be included because of its relevancy and usefulness.

Section 19. The administrator shall prepare a notice of each competitive examination to be held for a promotional appointment in the official service. The administrator shall send copies of such notice to the appointing authority for the departmental unit in which the promotional appointment is to be made and to the appointing authority for any other departmental unit in which persons eligible to take such examination may be employed. Any appointing authority receiving such notice shall cause it to be posted in conspicuous places in the departmental unit and in each of its branch offices. Such appointing authority shall mail a copy of such notice to any eligible employee of such unit who, during the entire period of such posting, is on sick or military leave, on vacation, or off the payroll. The appointing authority shall make provision for fully informing all employees in such departmental unit of the places where such notices are posted.

Each notice required by this section shall state the duties, compensation, and title of and required qualifications for the position for which the examination is to be held, the time, place and manner of applying for admission to the examination, the entrance requirements, and any other information which the administrator determines should be included because of its relevancy and usefulness.

Section 20. Each application for examination or registration pursuant to the civil service law and rules shall be made under the penalties of perjury and shall contain requests for such information as the administrator deems necessary.

No applicant shall be required to furnish any information in such application with regard to: any act of waywardness or delinquency or any offense committed before the applicant reached the age of seventeen years; any arrest for a misdemeanor or felony which did not result in a court appearance, unless court action is pending; any complaint which was dismissed for lack of prosecution or which resulted in a finding or verdict of not guilty; or any arrest for or disposition of any of the following misdemeanors: drunkenness, simple assault, speeding, minor traffic violation, affray, or disturbance of the peace if disposition thereof occurred five years or more prior to the filing of the application.

Section 21. The administrator may establish educational requirements and alternatives thereto, in addition to the educational requirements established by statute, as prerequisites for appointment to any civil service position.

The administrator may also establish physical requirements, in addition to those established by statute and rule, as prerequisites for appointment to any civil service position; provided, however, that no applicant shall be discriminated against because he previously suffered from cancer if he is otherwise physically qualified and he signs a waiver of rights to disability benefits with respect to said cancer. The administrator may require an applicant for an original appointment to submit to physical examination prior to such appointment. The administrator may also require an applicant for a promotional appointment to submit a certificate of physical fitness signed by a physician approved by the administrator.

Any person who is unable to meet a physical requirement established by the administrator shall not be disqualified as a result of such inability from applying for and receiving an appointment to a civil service position if such person submits proof, satisfactory to the administrator, that he was injured in the performance of his duties while employed pursuant to a provisional appointment in such position, that he is unable to meet the physical requirements established by the administrator for such position solely because of such injury, and that the injury does not prevent him from performing the duties of such position. Such person shall, however, be subject to all other requirements for appointment to the position.

The administrator may limit eligibility for any examination for an original appointment to either male or female persons if the appointing authority requests such limitation in its requisition. Both male and female persons shall be presumed to be eligible for a promotional appointment to any civil service position; provided, however, that the administrator may limit such eligibility to either male or female persons if the duties and responsibilities of such position require special physical or medical standards or require custody or care of a person of a particular sex. Prior to any such limitation of appointment or promotion, the administrator shall submit in writing to the Massachusetts commission against discrimination a request for its recommendations on such proposed limitations.

Section 22. The administrator shall determine the passing requirements of examinations. In any competitive examination, an applicant shall be given credit for employment or experience in the position for which the examination is held. In any examination, credit shall be given only for training or experience which is stated in the training and experience sheet filed by the applicant at the time of the examination.

Except as otherwise provided by sections sixteen and seventeen, an applicant may request the administrator to conduct one or more of the following reviews relating to an examination: (1) a review of the marking of the applicant's answers to essay questions; (2) a review of the marking of the applicant's training and experience; (3) a review of a finding by the administrator that the applicant did not meet the entrance requirements for the examination; provided that the administrator may deny such request in the case of a competitive examination for original appointment if, at the time such request is made, the administrator is currently accepting applications for a subsequent examination of the same type for the same position.

Such request for review of the marking of the applicant's answers to essay questions, of the marking of the applicant's training and experience, or of a finding that the applicant did not meet the entrance requirements for the examination shall be filed with the administrator no later than seventeen days after the date of mailing by the administrator of the notice to the applicant of his mark on the examination or his failure to meet the entrance requirements for the examination.

An applicant may request the administrator to conduct a review of whether an examination taken by such applicant was a fair test of the applicant's fitness actually to perform the primary or dominant duties of the position for which the examination was held, provided that such request shall be filed with the administrator no later than seven days after the date of such examination.

The administrator shall determine the form of a request for review. Each such request shall state the specific allegations on which it is based and the books or other publications relied upon to support the allegations. References to books or other publications shall include the title, author, edition, chapter and page number. Such reference shall also be accompanied by a complete quotation of that portion of the book or other publication which is being relied upon by the applicant. The administrator may require applicants to submit copies of such books or publications, or portions thereof, for his review.

Section 23. Within six weeks after receipt of a request pursuant to section twenty-two, the administrator shall, subject to the provisions of this section, conduct such review, render a decision, and send a copy of such decision to the applicant. If the administrator finds that an error was made in the marking of the applicant's answer to an essay question, or in the marking of the applicant's training and experience, or in the finding that the applicant did not meet the entrance requirements for the examination, the administrator shall make any necessary adjustment to correct such error.

The administrator may refuse to conduct a review pursuant to this section where the grade of the applicant in any subject of the written examination is less than fifty per cent or the applicant has failed to file the request for review within the required time or in the required form. In conducting a review pursuant to this section, the administrator shall give no credit for training or experience unless the training or experience was fully stated in the training and experience sheet filed by the applicant at the time of the examination.

Section 24. An applicant may appeal to the commission from a decision of the administrator made pursuant to section twenty-three no later than seventeen days after the date of mailing of such decision. An applicant may not appeal findings of the administrator relative to the grading of answers to written, oral, or practical questions in a competitive examination, except findings relative to the grading of answers to essay questions. The commission shall determine the form of the petition for appeal; provided that the petition shall include a brief statement of the allegations presented to the administrator for review. After acceptance of such an appeal, the commission shall conduct a hearing, render a decision, and send a copy of such decision to the applicant and the administrator.

The commission shall refuse to accept any petition for appeal unless the request for review, which was the basis for such petition, was filed in the required time and form and unless a decision on such request for review has been rendered by the administrator. In deciding an appeal pursuant to this section, the commission shall not allow credit for training or experience unless such training or experience was fully stated in the training and experience sheet filed by the applicant at the time of the examination.

Section 25. The administrator shall establish, maintain and revise lists of persons who are eligible for appointment to positions in the official service. The names of such persons shall be arranged on each such list, subject to the provisions of section twenty-six, where applicable, in the order of their marks on the examination based upon which the list is established. Each such list shall be established or revised as soon as such marks are determined by the administrator, except that if such determination is made by the use of a written examination, the establishment or revision of the list shall be completed no later than six months after the date of such examination. The administrator shall make all eligible lists available for public inspection. All persons who have taken an examination shall be notified of the results thereof not later than sixty days after the date of such examination.

If an examination is held for a position and the results are determined during the period of eligibility on a list for such position of persons who have taken a previous examination of the same type, the names of all persons who passed such examinations shall be consolidated in a single list. Eligibility of a person for placement on, and the standing of such person on, an eligible list for any position shall be determined by the results of the last examination taken by such person for such position.

Persons on an eligible list shall be eligible for certification from such list for a period not to exceed two years unless one of the following exceptions applies: (1) such eligibility is extended by law because such persons are in the military or naval service; (2) the administrator is temporarily enjoined by a court order from certifying names from an eligible list, in which case eligibility of persons on such list shall be extended for a period equal to the duration of such order; (3) the administrator determines that the public convenience requires an extension of eligibility, in which case eligibility of all persons on such list shall be extended until such time as a new eligible list is established for the same position for which the original list was established; or (4) the administrator reestablishes an expired eligible list pursuant to the provisions of the following paragraph.

The administrator shall reestablish the eligibility of all persons on an eligible list for a position in a departmental unit in order to fill a vacancy in such position which occurs as a result of a death or retirement if such persons were eligible to be certified for appointment to such position at the time such vacancy occurred and requisition to fill such vacancy is made not later than six months after such death or retirement.

Following the certification of names to an appointing authority, such appointing authority shall submit a written notice to the administrator indicating, with respect to each person whose name was certified, whether such person appeared to be interviewed, declined to accept employment, or expressed his willingness to accept employment, and whether or not such person has been selected for appointment. Failure to submit such notice on or prior to the date of expiration of the eligibility of a person on the list from which such names were certified shall nullify an appointment of such person.

The name of a person which was placed on an eligible list as the result of an examination for original appointment shall be removed from such list if the person fails to respond to a notice of certification or refuses to accept permanent or temporary employment after having previously expressed willingness to accept such employment, provided that the administrator may permit the name of such person to remain on the eligible list if such person submits to the administrator, during the period of his eligibility on such list, a satisfactory explanation of such refusal or failure to respond, and provided, further, that any person whose name is certified three times from an eligible list and who refuses, in each instance, to accept employment which he had previously expressed willingness to accept shall be ineligible to have his name certified again from such list for such employment.

Section 26. The names of persons who pass examinations for original appointment to any position in the official service shall be placed on eligible lists in the following order: (1) disabled veterans, in the order of their respective standings; (2) veterans in the order of their respective standings; (3) widows or widowed mothers of veterans who were killed in action or died from a service connected disability incurred in wartime service, in the order of their respective standings; (4) all others, in the order of their respective standings. Upon receipt of a requisition, names shall be certified from such lists according to the method of certification prescribed by the rules.

The spouse or single parent of a veteran who was killed in action or died from a service connected disability incurred in wartime service, upon presenting proof from official sources of such facts, satisfactory to the administrator, and proof that such spouse or parent has not remarried, shall be entitled to the preference provided for in this section.

The administrator may require any disabled veteran to present a certificate of a physician, approved by the administrator, that his disability is not such as to incapacitate him from the performance of the duties of the position for which he is eligible. The cost of a physical examination of such veteran for the purpose of obtaining such certificate shall be borne by the commonwealth.

A person who has received a congressional medal of honor may apply to the administrator for appointment to or employment in a civil service position without examination. In such application he shall state under penalties of perjury the facts required by the rules. Age, loss of limb or other disability which does not, in fact, incapacitate shall not disqualify him for appointment or employment under this section. Appointing officers may make requisition for the names of any or all such persons and appoint or employ any of them. A person who has received a distinguished service cross or navy cross may, upon the recommendation of the administrator and with the approval of the commission, be appointed under the same conditions provided in this paragraph for a person who has received a medal of honor.

An appointing authority shall appoint a veteran in making a provisional appointment under section twelve, unless such appointing authority shall have obtained from the administrator a list of all veterans who, within the twelve months next preceding, have filed applications for the kind of work called for by such provisional appointment, shall have mailed a notice of the position vacancy to each of such veterans and shall have determined that none of such veterans is qualified for or is willing to accept the appointment.

A disabled veteran shall be retained in employment in preference to all other persons, including veterans.

Section 27. Except as provided otherwise by section fifteen, if the administrator certifies from an eligible list the names of three persons who are eligible for and willing to accept appointment, the appointing authority, pursuant to the civil service law and rules, may appoint only from among such persons. If such eligible list contains the names of less than three persons who are willing to accept appointment, the appointing authority may appoint from among those persons or may request authorization to make a provisional appointment pursuant to sections twelve, thirteen and fourteen.

If an appointing authority makes an original or promotional appointment from a certification of any person other than the person whose name appears highest, and the person whose name is highest is willing to accept such appointment, the appointing authority shall immediately file with the administrator a written statement of his reasons for appointing the person whose name was not highest. Such an appointment of a person whose name was not highest shall be effective only when such statement of reasons has been received by the administrator. The administrator shall make such statement available for public inspection at the office of the division.

Section 28. Except as provided in the last paragraph of this section, the names of persons who apply for employment in the labor service of the commonwealth and of the cities and towns shall be registered and placed, in the order of the dates on which they file their applications, on the registers for the titles for which they apply and qualify. The name of any such person shall remain on such register for not more than five years, subject to a renewal of application pursuant to this section. Such person shall continue to be eligible for appointment from any such register and shall maintain his place on such register if he renews his application during the six months immediately prior to or during the six months immediately following the expiration of his five year period of eligibility. Such continuing eligibility shall have a duration of not more than five years after the date of expiration of the original five year period. A renewal filed later than six months after such expiration date will not be accepted, and the applicant who filed such late renewal will be required to file a new application and will be placed on the register as of the new date of registration.

During his period of eligibility, any such person may add titles for which he qualifies, in addition to those for which he originally applied, to his application for employment in the labor service. Eligibility for appointment to such additional titles shall continue for the remainder of the period of eligibility for the titles for which application was originally made.

An appointing authority may include in a requisition for laborers a statement that the work to be performed requires young and vigorous persons. The administrator, after investigating such statement and being satisfied that it is true, may establish an age limit and certify only those persons whose age is within such limit.

The names of veterans who apply for employment in the labor service shall be placed on the registers for the titles for which they qualify ahead of the names of all other persons. The names of spouse or surviving parent of veterans who were killed in action or died from service connected disability, incurred in wartime service, who present proof from official sources of such facts, satisfactory to the administrator, and who have not remarried, shall be placed on the registers for the titles in the labor service for which they apply and qualify above the names of all other applicants but below the names of veterans.

Section 29. An appointing authority shall, prior to any request to the administrator for approval of a promotional appointment of a permanent employee in the labor service to a higher title in such service; or for approval of a change in employment of a permanent employee within such service from one position to a temporary or permanent position which is not higher but which has requirements for appointment which are substantially dissimilar to those of the position from which the change is being made, post a promotional bulletin. Such bulletin shall be posted for a period of at least five working days where it can be seen by all employees eligible for such promotional appointment or change in employment. Any such request shall contain a statement that the posting requirements have been satisfied, indicating the date and location of the posting.

The promotional bulletin shall contain the following information about the position which is to be filled: the salary and location, any special qualifications or licenses which are required for performing the duties of the position, whether the position is permanent or temporary, if the position is temporary, the probable duration of the employment therein, and the last date to apply for the position. Such promotional bulletin shall be mailed to any employee who, during the entire period of posting, is on sick or military leave, on vacation or off the payroll.

Within fourteen days after approval by the administrator of a promotional appointment in the labor service, the appointing authority shall post in all areas under its control where five or more civil service employees start their tour of duty, the following information about the person who has been promoted: name, permanent title, position to which the promotional appointment has been made and the date from which length of service was measured for purposes of determining seniority.

Section 30. Pursuant to the provisions of this section, an appointing authority, upon submission of a requisition, may make a promotional appointment within a departmental unit of a permanent employee in the labor service to a position in the lowest title, as determined by the administrator, in the official service in such departmental unit upon certification from an eligible list established as the result of a competitive examination. Except as otherwise provided in this section, eligibility to take such examination shall extend only to civil service employees in such departmental unit who have been employed in such unit after certification and in a permanent status for at least one year next preceding the date of the examination. The administrator may restrict such eligibility to any title or titles in the labor service of such departmental unit if he determines that the number of employees in such title or titles is sufficient for the holding of a competitive examination, and he may, in his discretion, extend such eligibility to any title or titles in the official service in such departmental unit.

A permanent civil service employee in the labor service may be promotionally appointed within a departmental unit, with the approval of the administrator, to a position in the lowest title, as determined by the administrator, in the official service of such unit provided that such employee has been employed in such unit after certification and in a permanent status for at least one year, is the first, second, or third ranking employee in length of service in the unit who is willing to accept the promotional appointment, and shall demonstrate, by the passing of an examination prescribed by the administrator, that he possesses the qualifications and abilities necessary to perform the duties of the position. The determination as to which employees are willing to accept such appointment or promotion shall be made after the posting of a promotional bulletin in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-nine; provided, that for the purposes of making said determination eligible employees in the official service in said departmental unit shall be entitled to respond to the bulletin, and those who do respond shall be considered in making the determination.

The provisions of this section may, upon the request of the appointing authority and at the discretion of the administrator, be applied to a departmental unit in which only titles in the official service are subject to the provisions of the civil service law and rules. In such case, eligibility to take a competitive examination pursuant to this section shall extend to employees in the departmental unit in titles approved by the administrator who have been employed therein on a full-time basis for at least one year next preceding the date of examination, notwithstanding the fact that they have been employed in positions which are not subject to the provisions of this chapter, and such employees may be appointed upon certification from the list established as the result of such examination. The length of service of any employee who is initially appointed to a civil service position pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall, for purposes of computing seniority under section thirty-three, be deemed to begin on the date of his first employment as a permanent employee in such position.

Section 31. An appointing authority may, without submitting a requisition to the administrator and without complying with other provisions of the civil service law and rules incident to the normal appointment process, make an emergency appointment to any civil service position other than laborer for a total of not more than thirty working days during a sixty day period. Such appointment shall be made only when the circumstances requiring it could not have been foreseen and when the public business would be seriously impeded by the time lapse incident to the normal appointment process. Upon making such an appointment, the appointing authority shall immediately notify the administrator in writing, in such form and detail as the administrator may require, of the reason for the appointment and the expected duration of the employment thereunder. No renewal of such emergency appointment shall be made without the consent of the administrator.

An emergency appointment may, upon written request of the appointing authority and with the consent of the administrator, be renewed for an additional thirty working days. The administrator shall not consent to more than one such renewal of the appointment unless the position is in a department, institution or hospital carrying out functions connected with the public safety or public health and the public service would suffer if a second renewal were not granted, in which case the administrator may consent to a second renewal. No person shall receive more than one such appointment or one such appointment and renewal, as the case may be, in any twelve month period, except as otherwise provided in this section.

Section 32. An appointing authority may make an emergency appointment to the position of laborer without submitting a requisition to the administrator and without complying with the other provisions of the civil service law and rules; provided, however, that the circumstances requiring such appointment could not have been foreseen and the public business would be seriously impeded by the time lapse incident to the normal appointment process.

Employment pursuant to such an appointment shall not continue for more than a total of thirty working days during the sixty calendar days following such appointment, provided that the appointing authority, with the consent of the administrator, may renew such appointment for an additional thirty working days or, at its discretion and without such consent, for not more than an additional fifteen working days. In the event of such renewal for not more than fifteen working days, no further emergency appointment shall be given such laborer within twelve months from the date that he began employment under such thirty-day appointment.

In no event shall a person who is given such an emergency appointment as a laborer be permitted more than a total of sixty working days of emergency employment within any twelve month period, in any civil service position, including that of a laborer.

Upon making such an appointment or any extension thereof, the appointing authority shall notify the administrator in writing of the reason for the appointment or extension and the anticipated duration of such emergency.

Section 33. For the purposes of this chapter, seniority of a civil service employee shall mean his ranking based on length of service, computed as provided in this section. Length of service shall be computed from the first date of full-time employment as a permanent employee, including the required probationary period, in the departmental unit, regardless of title, unless such service has been interrupted by an absence from the payroll of more than six months, in which case length of service shall be computed from the date of restoration to the payroll; but upon continuous service following such an absence for a period of twice the length of the absence, length of service shall be computed from the date obtained by adding the period of such absence from the payroll to the date of original employment; provided, however, that the continuity of service of such employee shall be deemed not to have been interrupted if such absence was the result of (1) military service, illness, educational leave, abolition of position or lay-off because of lack of work or money, or (2) injuries received in the performance of duty for which compensation was paid pursuant to chapter one hundred and fifty-two, provided that the employee notifies the appointing authority, in writing, not later than six months after the final payment of compensation aforesaid that he is ready, willing, and able to do his former work and files with said appointing authority a certificate of a registered physician that he is able to perform the duties of his position in an efficient manner, and is restored to the payroll.

If, as a result of a reinstatement made pursuant to section forty-six, a person is restored to employment in a departmental unit other than that in which he formerly held full-time employment as a permanent employee, his length of service shall be computed from the date of his first employment under such reinstatement, but upon continuous service in such unit for three years or twice the length of his absence from the payroll, whichever is greater, his length of service shall be computed as though such earlier employment had been in the departmental unit to which he has been reinstated.

If the employment of such full-time employee is changed through an original or promotional appointment or transfer from one departmental unit of the commonwealth to another under the same appointing authority, or from one departmental unit to another within the same department in a city or town, the length of service of such employee in the unit to which the appointment or transfer is made shall be computed from the date which was used to compute his length of service immediately prior to such appointment or transfer. If the employment of such full-time employee is changed through an original or promotional appointment from one departmental unit of the commonwealth to another not under the same appointing authority, from one departmental unit to another not within the same department in a city or town, from one city or town to another, from a city or town to the commonwealth, or from the commonwealth to a city or town, the length of service of such employee shall be computed from the date of such change of employment, but if the employee completes one year of service in the new employment, from the date which was used to compute the employee's length of service immediately prior to the change of employment.

If the employment of such full-time employee is changed by transfer from one departmental unit of the commonwealth to another not under the same appointing authority, from one departmental unit to another not within the same department in a city or town, from one city or town to another, from a city or town to the commonwealth, or from the commonwealth to a city or town, the length of service of such employee shall be computed in the following manner: (1) if the transfer was made upon the request of the employee, the length of service shall be computed from the date of such transfer, but if the employee completes three years of service in the new employment, from the date which was used to compute the employee's length of service immediately prior to the transfer; (2) if the transfer was not upon the request of the employee, the length of service shall be computed from the date which was used to compute the employee's length of service immediately prior to the transfer.

The length of service of a permanent employee appointed on less than a full-time basis shall be computed from the date of such appointment, without regard to absences from the payroll which were not voluntary on the part of such employee. Regardless of actual length of service, permanent employees appointed on less than a full-time basis shall, for purposes of determining seniority, rank below all full-time permanent employees.

Section 34. Following his original appointment to a civil service position as a permanent full-time employee, a person shall actually perform the duties of such position on a full-time basis for a probationary period of six months before he shall be considered a full-time tenured employee, except as otherwise provided by sections sixty-one and sixty-five, by other law, or by civil service rule.

Following his original appointment as a permanent employee to a less than full-time civil service position, including a reserve, intermittent, call, recurrent, or part-time position, a person shall serve a probationary period of six months immediately following such appointment, which shall include the actual performance of the duties of such position for not less than thirty working days or the equivalent thereof during such period, before he shall be considered a less than full-time tenured employee, provided that if such person has not performed such duties for such thirty working days or the equivalent thereof, his probationary period shall be extended for an additional twelve months, at the end of which time such person, if his employment has not been terminated in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall be deemed to be a tenured employee.

Each appointing authority employing persons as permanent employees in less than full-time civil service positions shall, insofar as possible, provide such persons equal opportunity for work.

If the conduct or capacity of a person serving a probationary period or the character or quality of the work performed by him is not satisfactory to the appointing authority, he may, at any time after such person has served thirty days and prior to the end of such probationary period, give such person a written notice to that effect, stating in detail the particulars wherein his conduct or capacity or the character or quality of his work is not satisfactory, whereupon his service shall terminate. The appointing authority shall at the same time send a copy of such notice to the administrator. In default of such notice, such person shall be deemed to be a tenured employee upon the termination of such period.

If a full-time civil service employee is unable to work because of illness during the serving of his probationary period, the appointing authority may postpone the serving of such period, provided that such employee has served an amount of time adequate to satisfy the appointing authority that his services should be retained and provided, further, that such employee shall, upon resuming employment, be required to perform service equal to a full probationary period.

If a person at the time of his appointment or during the serving of his probationary period is not actually employed because of educational leave, he shall not be regarded as a tenured employee until he has served a full probationary period or the remainder thereof, as the case may be, following the termination of said educational leave and his commencing of or return to employment.

The probationary period of an employee shall not be deemed to be interrupted by his temporary appointment pursuant to section six to a position in a higher title in the same departmental unit, by his temporary promotional appointment pursuant to section seven, or by his provisional promotion pursuant to section fifteen.

Section 35. Subject to the provisions of section forty-one governing the transfer of persons who have served as tenured employees since prior to October fourteen, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, a tenured employee may be transferred to a similar position in the same or in another departmental unit after request in writing for approval of such transfer made to the administrator by the appointing authority or authorities for such unit or units and with the approval of the administrator, provided such request includes reasons which, in the opinion of the administrator, are sound and sufficient to show that the transfer will be for the public good and will not impose unreasonable hardship on such employee. A position shall not be considered similar if it has a title higher than that of the position from which the transfer is to be made or if the requirements for appointment to such positions are substantially different.

Such transfer may be permanent or temporary, as the appointing authority or authorities shall determine, with the consent of the administrator, and, if temporary, shall be for such period of time as the appointing authority or authorities shall determine, with the consent of the administrator. A temporary transfer shall not affect the date from which length of service is computed for purposes of determining the seniority of the person transferred; nor shall such transfer be deemed to interrupt the period of service in the position from which such person is transferred where such period of service is required for eligibility for any promotion under the civil service law and rules.

Without the consent of the administrator but otherwise subject to the requirements of the two preceding paragraphs, a transfer from a civil service position within a department, as defined by section one of chapter twenty-nine, within any of the executive offices established by chapters six A and seven, to another similar position within the same department may be made with the written consent of the secretary having charge of such executive office upon submission of notice of such transfer to the administrator in such form as he shall prescribe, and subject to the provisions of the civil service law and rules; provided, however, that the duration of any temporary transfer, whether to a temporary position or to a permanent position, shall be subject to the approval of the administrator. If at any time the administrator shall determine that any transfer so consented to by such secretary has been made in violation of any such provision, the administrator shall terminate such transfer.

A person who is aggrieved by a transfer, other than an emergency transfer or assignment, made pursuant to this section but who is not subject to the provisions of section forty-one with respect to such transfer, may appeal to the commission pursuant to the provisions of section forty-three and shall be entitled to a hearing and a decision by the commission in the same manner as if such appeal were taken from a decision of the appointing authority made, after hearing, under the provisions of section forty-one.

An appointing authority for a departmental unit may make an emergency transfer or emergency assignment of any employee where the public safety or health would be seriously impaired by delay in the performance of essential duties.

Any permanent employee in a departmental unit may apply in writing to his appointing authority for transfer to a similar position within such unit, or may apply in writing to the appointing authorities for such unit and for any other departmental unit for transfer to a similar position in such other departmental unit. With the written consent of such appointing authority or authorities, as the case may be, and with the written consent of the administrator, such person may be so transferred.

Section 36. A person who has been employed in the official service as a permanent employee for at least one year may be transferred to a position in the labor service under the direction of the same appointing authority upon approval of the administrator. Such approval shall be granted only upon written request of the appointing authority. Such request shall be accompanied by statements from the appointing authority substantiating that such person is qualified to perform the duties of the position in the labor service and that the appointing authority has posted, in the departmental unit in which such position exists, the promotional bulletin provided for in section twenty-nine and has determined that such person is the most qualified of those employees who are willing to accept such position.

The provisions of this section may apply to a transfer to a position the duties of which are partially those of a position in the labor service and partially those of a position in the official service, and may apply notwithstanding that the person for whose transfer the request for approval is made is not eligible for certification from any register for appointment to such position in such departmental unit.

A secretary having charge of an executive office established by chapters six A or seven may, without such request for approval, authorize the transfer of such an employee from the official service within a department, as defined by section one of chapter twenty-nine, within such executive office, to a position in the labor service in such department; provided that notice of such transfer, together with the statements of the appointing authority described in the first paragraph of this section, shall be filed with the administrator prior to the effective date of such transfer; and provided, further, that such transfer shall be subject to the provisions of the civil service law and rules. If at any time the administrator shall determine that any such transfer so authorized by any such secretary shall have been made in violation of any such provisions, the administrator shall terminate such transfer.

Section 37. An appointing authority may grant a permanent employee a leave of absence or an extension of a leave of absence; provided that any grant for a period longer than fourteen days shall be given only upon written request filed with the appointing authority by such person, or by another authorized to request such leave on his behalf, and shall be in writing. The written request shall include a detailed statement of the reason for the requested leave and, if the absence is caused by illness, shall be accompanied by substantiating proof of such illness. A copy of the written grant shall be kept on file by the appointing authority, who shall, upon request, forward a copy thereof to the commission or administrator. No leave of absence for a period longer than three months, except one granted because of illness as evidenced by the certificate of a physician approved by the administrator, shall be granted pursuant to this paragraph without the prior approval of the administrator.

Any person elected to a state office or elected by the people to the office of mayor who is a permanent employee in a civil service position or is employed in a position in any public authority which is supported in whole or in part by public money shall, upon his written request made to the appointing authority, be granted a leave of absence without pay from his civil service position or from his position in such public authority for all or such portion of the term for which he was elected as he may at any time, or from time to time, designate, and shall not, as a result of such election, be suspended or discharged or suffer any loss of rights under the civil service law and rules.

Any person elected to a state office following appointment to a civil service position as a permanent employee who has not completed the statutory probationary period in such position shall, during such probationary period, upon his written request made to the appointing authority, be granted a leave of absence without pay from such position for all or for such portion of the term for which he was elected as he may designate within one month of his election to said office, and shall not, as a result of such election, be suspended or discharged or suffer any loss of rights under the civil service law and rules; provided that such person shall return to such position within one month of completion of the term or terms for which he was elected and that upon such return he shall complete the remaining portion of such probationary period. During such period such person shall be ineligible to take any promotional examination.

Any person who has been granted a leave of absence or an extension thereof pursuant to this section shall be reinstated at the end of the period for which the leave was granted and may be reinstated earlier. If the appointing authority, upon demand of such person, shall fail to reinstate him to his civil service position, such person may request a hearing before the administrator. The administrator shall proceed forthwith to hold such a hearing and to render his decision.

If a person shall fail to return to his civil service position at or before completion of the period for which a leave of absence has been granted under any provision of this section, the appointing authority shall, within fourteen days after the completion of such period, give such person a written notice setting forth the pertinent facts of the case and informing him that his employment in such position is considered to be terminated, whereupon the employment of such person in such position shall terminate. The appointing authority shall file with the administrator a copy of such notice which shall state the date on which the employment of such person should be recorded as having terminated. The provisions of sections forty-one through forty-five shall not apply to a termination made under this paragraph. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent the subsequent reinstatement of such person pursuant to section forty-six.

Section 38. Upon reporting an unauthorized absence to the administrator pursuant to section sixty-eight, an appointing authority shall send by registered mail a statement to the person named in the report, informing him that (1) he is considered to have permanently and voluntarily separated himself from the employ of such appointing authority and (2) he may within ten days after the mailing of such statement request a hearing before the appointing authority. A copy of such statement shall be attached to such report to the administrator.

The appointing authority may restore such person to the position formerly occupied by him or may grant a leave of absence pursuant to section thirty-seven if such person, within fourteen days after the mailing of such statement, files with the appointing authority a written request for such leave, including in such request an explanation of the absence which is satisfactory to the appointing authority. The appointing authority shall immediately notify the administrator in writing of any such restoration or the granting of any such leave.

If an appointing authority fails to grant such person a leave of absence pursuant to the provisions of the preceding paragraph or, after a request for a hearing pursuant to the provisions of this section, fails to restore such person to the position formerly occupied by him, such person may request a review by the administrator. The administrator shall conduct such review, provided that it shall be limited to a determination of whether such person failed to give proper notice of the absence to the appointing authority and whether the failure to give such notice was reasonable under the circumstances.

No person who has been reported as being on unauthorized absence under this section shall have recourse under sections forty-one through forty-five with respect to his separation from employment on account of such absence.

For the purposes of this section, unauthorized absence shall mean an absence from work for a period of more than fourteen days for which no notice has been given to the appointing authority by the employee or by a person authorized to do so, and which may not be charged to vacation or sick leave, or for which no leave was granted pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-seven.

Section 39. If permanent employees in positions having the same title in a departmental unit are to be separated from such positions because of lack of work or lack of money or abolition of positions, they shall, except as hereinafter provided, be separated from employment according to their seniority in such unit and shall be reinstated in the same unit and in the same positions or positions similar to those formerly held by them according to such seniority, so that employees senior in length of service, computed in accordance with section thirty-three, shall be retained the longest and reinstated first. Employees separated from positions under this section shall be reinstated prior to the appointment of any other applicants to fill such positions or similar positions, provided that the right to such reinstatement shall lapse at the end of the five-year period following the date of such separation.

Any action by an appointing authority to separate a tenured employee from employment for the reasons of lack of work or lack of money or abolition of positions shall be taken in accordance with the provisions of section forty-one. Any such employee who has received written notice of an intent to separate him from employment for such reasons may, as an alternative to such separation, file with his appointing authority, within seven days of receipt of such notice, a written consent to his being demoted to a position in the next lower title or titles in succession in the official service or to the next lower title or titles in the labor service, as the case may be, if in such next lower title or titles there is an employee junior to him in length of service. As soon as sufficient work or funds are available, any employee so demoted shall be restored, according to seniority in the unit, to the title in which he was formerly employed.

Nothing in this section shall impair the preference provided for disabled veterans by section twenty-six.

Section 40. If a permanent employee shall become separated from his position because of lack of work or lack of money or abolition of his position, his name shall be placed by the administrator on a reemployment list, or if a permanent employee resigns for reasons of illness his name shall be placed on such list upon his request made in writing to the administrator within two years from the date of such resignation.

The names of persons shall be set forth on the reemployment list in the order of their seniority, so that the names of persons senior in length of service at the time of their separation from employment, computed in accordance with section thirty-three, shall be highest. The name of a person placed on such reemployment list shall remain thereon until such person is appointed as a permanent employee after certification from such list or is reinstated, but in no event for more than two years. The administrator, upon receipt of a requisition, shall certify names from such reemployment list prior to certifying names from any other list or register if, in his judgment, he determines that the position which is the subject of the requisition may be filled from such reemployment list.

If the position of a permanent employee is abolished as the result of the transfer of the functions of such position to another department, division, board or commission, such employee may elect to have his name placed on the reemployment list or to be transferred, subject to the approval of the administrator, to a similar position in such department, division, board or commission without loss of seniority, retirement or other rights, notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty-three.

Section 41. Except for just cause and except in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, a tenured employee shall not be discharged, removed, suspended for a period of more than five days, laid off, transferred from his position without his written consent if he has served as a tenured employee since prior to October fourteen, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, lowered in rank or compensation without his written consent, nor his position be abolished. Before such action is taken, such employee shall be given a written notice by the appointing authority, which shall include the action contemplated, the specific reason or reasons for such action and a copy of sections forty-one through forty-five, and shall be given a full hearing concerning such reason or reasons before the appointing authority or a hearing officer designated by the appointing authority. The appointing authority shall provide such employee a written notice of the time and place of such hearing at least three days prior to the holding thereof, except that if the action contemplated is the separation of such employee from employment because of lack of work, lack of money, or abolition of position the appointing authority shall provide such employee with such notice at least seven days prior to the holding of the hearing and shall also include with such notice a copy of sections thirty-nine and forty. If such hearing is conducted by a hearing officer, his findings shall be reported forthwith to the appointing authority for action. Within seven days after the filing of the report of the hearing officer, or within two days after the completion of the hearing if the appointing authority presided, the appointing authority shall give to such employee a written notice of his decision, which shall state fully and specifically the reasons therefor. Any employee suspended pursuant to this paragraph shall automatically be reinstated at the end of the first period for which he was suspended. In the case of a second or subsequent suspension of such employee for a period of more than five days, reinstatement shall be subject to the approval of the administrator, and the notice of contemplated action given to such employee shall so state. If such approval is withheld or denied, such employee may appeal to the commission as provided in paragraph (b) of section two.

A civil service employee may be suspended for just cause for a period of five days or less without a hearing prior to such suspension. Such suspension may be imposed only by the appointing authority or by a subordinate to whom the appointing authority has delegated authority to impose such suspensions, or by a chief of police or officer performing similar duties regardless of title, or by a subordinate to whom such chief or officer has delegated such authority. Within twenty-four hours after imposing a suspension under this paragraph, the person authorized to impose the suspension shall provide the person suspended with a copy of sections forty-one through forty-five and with a written notice stating the specific reason or reasons for the suspension and informing him that he may, within forty-eight hours after the receipt of such notice, file a written request for a hearing before the appointing authority on the question of whether there was just cause for the suspension. If such request is filed, he shall be given a hearing before the appointing authority or a hearing officer designated by the appointing authority within five days after receipt by the appointing authority of such request. Whenever such hearing is given, the appointing authority shall give the person suspended a written notice of his decision within seven days after the hearing. A person whose suspension under this paragraph is decided, after hearing, to have been without just cause shall be deemed not to have been suspended, and he shall be entitled to compensation for the period for which he was suspended. A person suspended under this paragraph shall automatically be reinstated at the end of such suspension. An appointing authority shall not be barred from taking action pursuant to the first paragraph of this section for the same specific reason or reasons for which a suspension was made under this paragraph.

If a person employed under a provisional appointment for not less than nine months is discharged as a result of allegations relative to his personal character or work performance and if the reason for such discharge is to become part of his employment record, he shall be entitled, upon his request in writing, to an informal hearing before his appointing authority or a designee thereof within ten days of such request. If the appointing authority, after hearing, finds that the discharge was justified, the discharge shall be affirmed, and the appointing authority may direct that the reasons for such discharge become part of such person's employment record. Otherwise, the appointing authority shall reverse such discharge, and the allegations against such person shall be stricken from such record. The decision of the appointing authority shall be final, and notification thereof shall be made in writing to such person and other parties concerned within ten days following such hearing.

Any hearing pursuant to this section shall be public if either party to the hearing files a written request that it be public. The person who requested the hearing shall be allowed to answer, personally or by counsel, any of the charges which have been made against him.

If it is the decision of the appointing authority, after hearing, that there was just cause for an action taken against a person pursuant to the first or second paragraphs of this section, such person may appeal to the commission as provided in section forty-three.

Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays shall not be counted in the computation of any period of time specified in this section.

Notice of any action taken under this section shall be forwarded forthwith by the appointing authority to the personnel administrator.

Section 42. Any person who alleges that an appointing authority has failed to follow the requirements of section forty-one in taking action which has affected his employment or compensation may file a complaint with the commission within ten days, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, after said action has been taken, setting forth specifically in what manner the appointing authority has failed to follow such requirements. If the commission finds that the appointing authority has failed to follow said requirements and that the rights of said person have been prejudiced thereby, the commission shall order the appointing authority to restore said person to his employment immediately without loss of compensation or other rights.

A person who files a complaint under this section may at the same time request a hearing as to whether there was just cause for the action of the appointing authority in the same manner as if he were a person aggrieved by a decision of an appointing authority made pursuant to all the requirements of section forty-one. If said complaint is denied, such hearing shall be conducted and a decision rendered as provided by section forty-three.

The supreme judicial court or the superior court shall have jurisdiction over any civil action for the reinstatement of any person alleged to have been illegally discharged, removed, suspended, laid off, transferred, lowered in rank or compensation, or whose civil service position is alleged to have been illegally abolished. Such civil action shall be filed within six months next following such alleged illegal act, unless the court upon a showing of cause extends such filing time.

Section 43. If a person aggrieved by a decision of an appointing authority made pursuant to section forty-one shall, within ten days after receiving written notice of such decision, so request in writing to the commission, he shall be given a hearing before a member of the commission or some disinterested person designated by the chairman of the commission. Said hearing shall be commenced in not less than three nor more than ten days after the filing of such request and shall be completed within thirty days after such filing unless, in either case, both parties shall otherwise agree in a writing filed with the commission, or unless the member or hearing officer determines, in his discretion, that a continuance is necessary or advisable. Upon completion of the hearing, the member or hearing officer shall file forthwith a report of his findings with the commission. Within thirty days after the filing of such report, the commission shall render a written decision and send notice thereof to all parties concerned.

The commission shall affirm the action of the appointing authority if it finds that such action was justified. Otherwise it shall reverse such action, and the person concerned shall be returned to his position without loss of compensation or other rights. The commission may also modify any penalty imposed by the appointing authority.

Any hearing pursuant to this section shall be public if either party so requests in writing. The person who requested the hearing shall be allowed to answer, personally or by counsel, any of the charges which have been made against him.

The decision of the commission made pursuant to this section shall be subject to judicial review as provided in section forty-four.

Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays shall not be counted in the computation of any period of time specified in this section.

Section 44. Within thirty days after receiving notice of the decision of the commission following a hearing requested by him pursuant to section forty-two or section forty-three, a person may, if he is aggrieved by such decision, file a petition to review the commission's decision in the municipal court of the city of Boston or in the district court for the judicial district wherein such person resides. A copy of the petition shall, within the same thirty days, be served personally or by registered mail upon the commission and the appointing authority. Service on the commission shall be sufficient if service is made on any member thereof or on the secretary to the commission.

Such petition shall be addressed to the court and shall name as respondents the chairman and members of the commission and the appointing authority. It shall include a concise statement of the facts upon which jurisdiction and venue are based and which show that the petitioner is aggrieved, shall specify which of the grounds listed in the sixth paragraph of this section constitute the basis for such petition, and shall demand the relief to which the petitioner believes he is entitled.

The commission shall cause an appearance to be entered on its behalf within thirty days after service upon it of the copy of the petition for review. At the time of the hearing on the petition, the commission shall file with the court (a) the original or a certified copy of the record of the entire proceedings which are being reviewed, accompanied by a certification over the signature of the secretary to the commission that the same is true and complete, or (b) such portions of such record as the commission and the parties may stipulate, or (c) a statement of the case agreed to by the commission and the parties. The court may assess the expense of preparing the record as part of the costs in the case. The court may, as it deems desirable, require or permit corrections or additions to the record.

The court shall limit its review to such record, portions of the record, or statement except (a) the court may take testimony regarding alleged procedural irregularities before the commission which do not appear on the record, and (b) upon application, the court may order that additional evidence be taken before the commission, under such conditions as the court deems proper, in cases where it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the court (1) that the additional evidence is material to the issues in the case and (2) that there was good reason for the failure to present it during the hearing before the commission. The commission, by reason of such additional evidence, may modify its findings and decision and shall file with the reviewing court, to become part of the record, such additional evidence and any modified or new findings or decision.

If a petitioner alleges that his seniority rights have been or may be violated by any action or decision which is sought to be reviewed pursuant to this section, the court may, upon application of any party in the proceedings made at any time before a final decision on the petition, and upon proper notice, order that any person whose seniority rights are alleged or appear to be junior to those of the petitioner be made a respondent in the proceedings and shall thereupon determine the rights of the respective parties therein.

The court may affirm the decision of the commission if it finds that such decision was justified or may remand the matter for further proceedings before the commission. The court may set aside and reverse the decision of the commission if it finds that such decision (a) violates constitutional provisions; or (b) exceeds the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the commission; or (c) is based upon an error of law; or (d) was made pursuant to unlawful procedure; or (e) is unsupported by substantial evidence; or (f) is arbitrary or capricious, an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law; provided that the court shall base such finding on consideration of the record of the entire proceedings of the commission, or such portions of the record as may be stipulated by the parties, or a statement of the case as agreed to by the petitioner and the respondents. If the court reverses the decision of the commission, the petitioner shall be reinstated in his position without loss of compensation.

The decision of the court shall be final and conclusive upon the parties, and a copy of such decision shall be forwarded forthwith by the clerk of the court to the petitioner and to all respondents in the proceedings.

Section 45. A tenured employee who has incurred expense in defending himself against an unwarranted discharge, removal, suspension, laying off, transfer, lowering in rank or compensation, or abolition of his position and who has engaged an attorney for such defense shall be reimbursed for such expense, but not to exceed two hundred dollars for attorney fees for each of the following: (1) a hearing by the appointing authority; (2) a hearing pursuant to section forty-two or forty-three; (3) a judicial review pursuant to section forty-four; and not to exceed one hundred dollars for each of the following: (1) summons of witnesses; (2) cost of stenographic transcript; (3) any other necessary expense incurred in such defense.

Any person seeking such reimbursement shall file with his appointing authority a written application therefor within thirty days after final disposition of his case. The appointing authority shall, within thirty days after receipt of such application, pay such reimbursement from the same source as that from which the salary of the person seeking the reimbursement is paid, but only upon receipt of satisfactory proof that such expenses were actually incurred for the purposes set forth in this section.

Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays shall not be counted in the computation of any time period specified in this section.

Section 46. A permanent employee who becomes separated from his position may, with the approval of the administrator, be reinstated in the same or in another departmental unit in a position having the same title or a lower title in the same series, provided that the appointing authority submits to the administrator a written request for such approval which shall contain the reasons why such reinstatement would be in the public interest. No such request shall be approved if the person whose reinstatement is sought has been separated from such position for over five years and there is a suitable eligible list containing the names of two or more persons available for appointment or promotion to such position. If the administrator fails to approve the reinstatement of such person within thirty days after such request, the appointing authority or such person may make a written request for a hearing before the administrator, who shall hold such hearing forthwith and render his decision. Nothing herein shall affect the rights of persons to reinstatement under section thirty-nine.

The administrator shall reinstate any employee of a city or town who has been separated from a civil service position through retirement pursuant to the provisions of any law if such retirement is invalidated and the retirement allowance discontinued because the proceedings relative to such retirement were illegal or defective; and such employee applies to the administrator for reinstatement within one year after the last payment of such retirement allowance. The administrator shall reinstate such person, without loss of compensation, in the same position or in a position with the same title as that formerly held by him.

Section 47. Upon application by a blind person to take an examination for any position the duties of which he may properly perform, the administrator, upon written request of such person, shall make such provisions as will enable such person to take such examination.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, an appointing authority may, after giving written notice to the administrator, make a temporary appointment of a mentally retarded person to a civil service position, provided that the appointing authority shall secure and maintain on file a certificate from the Massachusetts rehabilitation commission that such person is mentally retarded and that such commission approves such employment of such person. The appointing authority shall also maintain a record of the following:

- (1) the specific title and duties to be assigned to such mentally retarded person and the title of his immediate supervisor;
- (2) a certificate from the Massachusetts rehabilitation commission that the retarded person: (a) can satisfactorily perform the duties of the position, (b) is qualified to do the work without hazard to himself or to others, and (c) is socially competent to maintain himself in a work environment;

- (4) a statement that it will not terminate the mentally retarded person's employment without prior notification to the Massachusetts rehabilitation commission.

The appointing authority may require any such mentally retarded person to undergo such tests as, in its opinion, will measure the fitness of such person to properly perform the duties of the position.

Upon commencement of employment pursuant to this section, such mentally retarded person shall be deemed to be employed on a temporary basis in such position. The appointing authority shall notify the administrator when such mentally retarded person has been continuously employed in a year-round temporary position for a period of three years, whereupon such position shall be deemed to be a permanent position, and such person shall be deemed to be a tenured employee therein. The administrator shall give appropriate notice thereof, by title and position number, with respect to each such position in the service of the commonwealth to the budget director, the comptroller, the house and senate committees on ways and means, and the appointing authority.

A question or questions under this clause shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at a regular municipal election, in substantially the following form:-

QUESTION 1 (Part 1) Shall the city (or town) vote to accept the applicability of the civil service law and rules to the office of (title of office)? Yes ... No ...

(Part 2) If it is voted to accept the applicability of the civil service law and rules to the office of (title of office), shall the city (or town) vote to provide for the continuance in said office of (name of incumbent), the present incumbent thereof, after passing a qualifying examination? Yes ... No ...

There shall be a separately numbered question for each office to which the acceptance of the applicability of the civil service law and rules is sought under this clause. If more than one such question is to be submitted to the voters of a city or town at any election, such questions shall be printed on the official ballot in alphabetical order according to the surnames of the incumbents of the several offices to which such questions relate.

The civil service law and rules shall be applicable to the office specified in Part 1 of each such question in answer to which the majority of the voters voting thereon vote in the affirmative. If Part 2 of such question is so answered in the affirmative the incumbent of such office at the time of filing such petition shall, if still the incumbent thereof, be subjected by the administrator to a qualifying examination for such office, and if he passes said examination, he shall be deemed to be permanently appointed thereto and to be tenured therein without being required to serve any probationary period. If such incumbent does not pass such qualifying examination, or if a majority of the voters voting on said Part 2 of such question do not vote thereon in the affirmative, such incumbent may continue to serve in said office for the remainder of the term, if any, for which he was appointed, but the civil service law and rules shall not be applicable to such incumbent. The status of any such incumbent shall not be subject to section fifty-six.

Nothing in this clause shall prevent a city or town from acting under section fifty-four.

Section 54. If five per cent or five thousand of the registered voters in a city file with the city clerk a petition requesting that the question of accepting the applicability of the civil service law and rules to either or both of the offices specified in clause (2) of section fifty-one or to any city office as provided in clause (b) of section fifty-three be placed on the official ballot, the clerk shall, if he finds such petition to be in order, place such question on the official ballot for the next regular city election occurring more than sixty days after the filing of such petition.

If five per cent or one thousand of the registered voters in a town authorized under section fifty-two to accept the applicability of the civil service law and rules to the official service or to the labor service, or to both services, or to any one or more of the positions or forces specified in clauses (a) through (h) of said section file with the town clerk a petition requesting that the question of accepting such applicability to either or both of such services, or to any one or more of such positions or forces, be placed on the official ballot, the clerk shall, if he finds such petition to be in order, place such question on the official ballot for the next regular town election occurring more than thirty days after the filing of such petition.

If five per cent of the registered voters in any town file with the town clerk a petition requesting that the question of accepting the applicability of the civil service law and rules to a town office as provided in clause (b) of section fifty-three be placed on the official ballot, the clerk shall, if he finds such petition to be in order, place such question on the official ballot for the next regular town election occurring more than thirty days after the filing of such petition.

Section 55. Each person who signs a petition for the placing of a question on the official ballot at a regular municipal election pursuant to the provisions of section fifty-four shall state thereon his name and his place of residence on January first preceding, giving the street and number, if any, or if he became an inhabitant of such city or town after said January first, the place where he first resided thereafter. Signatures to such petition need not all be on one paper, provided that all papers pertaining to any one office or position shall, when filed with the city or town clerk under the provisions of this section, be fastened together and filed as one instrument with the endorsement thereon of the names of three persons designated as filing the same.

All such papers pertaining to any one office or position shall be submitted to the registrars of voters of such city or town not later than five o'clock in the afternoon of the seventh day preceding the last day prior to the election when such petition may be filed under section fifty-four, for the purpose of their certifying on such petition the names of persons signing the same who are registered voters. The registrars of voters shall, within five days after such submission, ascertain by what number of registered voters such petition has been signed, shall make and certify a statement of their determination in detail, setting forth such number and whether or not such petition has been signed by the number of registered voters required under the provisions of section fifty-four, and shall attach such statement to such petition.

If such a petition, bearing the number of signatures of registered voters required by section fifty-four, as shown by the statement attached thereto of the registrars of voters, is filed with the city or town clerk seasonably for submission to the voters at the next regular municipal election as provided in said section, and the clerk finds that the same is in order, he shall, if said law and rules are not already applicable to the office or position named in the petition, cause the question or questions contained therein to be printed on the official ballot for such election.

Written objections to the validity or sufficiency of any petition which has been filed with the city or town clerk under the provisions of the preceding paragraph or of the signatures on such petition may be filed with the city or town clerk not later than forty-eight hours after the last day prior to said election when such petition may be filed under section fifty-four, and such objections shall be considered by the appropriate board referred to in section twelve of chapter fifty-three. In the consideration of objections under this section such board shall have and exercise all the powers given to it by any provision of law relative to objections to nominations. The notice provided by said section twelve shall be sent to the persons filing the petition and to each officer affected thereby. Said board shall make its decision within four days after the expiration of the time for filing such objections and forthwith give notice thereof to the city or town clerk.

The provisions of section sixteen of chapter fifty-three relative to the preservation of nomination papers shall apply to petitions filed with a city or town clerk under this section.

Section 56. Whenever any office or position exempt from the civil service law and rules is made subject thereto, whether by the provisions of this chapter or by any other statute, or by rule, or by acceptance by a city or town of the provisions of this chapter or of any other statute, the appointing authority shall forthwith submit to the administrator a list of the incumbents of each such office or position. Such list shall state, for each person named, his duties, his record of service with dates of employment, his compensation, and any other information which the administrator may require. The appointing authority shall post a copy of such list in a public place for a period of thirty days.

After the end of said period of posting, the administrator shall classify by title the office or position of each person named on said list and shall determine the date from which length of service of such person shall be computed, in conformity with the provisions of section thirty-three, so far as practicable. The administrator shall notify each person on said list of his civil service title, such date, and such other information as the administrator deems pertinent. Within fourteen days after the mailing of said notification, any person who alleges that his rights have been affected may request the administrator to review the correctness of the list, of his civil service title, and of the date proposed to be used to compute his length of service for the purpose of determining seniority. The administrator or his authorized representative shall forthwith hold a hearing and hear all parties concerned. After said hearing, the administrator shall make such changes as he deems proper in the civil service title of such person and in the date to be used to compute his length of service. After such date is determined as provided herein, it shall continue to be used, subject to the provisions of section thirty-three.

The status of the incumbents of any such offices or positions shall be determined as follows, except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter or other law:

1. The employment of any person employed on a temporary basis and of any employee who has been employed in the office or position for less than six months immediately prior to the date that the office or position became a civil service position may continue on a temporary basis for a period of not more than one year from such date, but the civil service law and rules shall not otherwise be applicable to said person or employee.

2. An incumbent of any position allocable to the labor service who has been employed continuously for six months or more but less than two years immediately prior to the date that such position became a civil service position shall be deemed to be a tenured employee after serving a probationary period.

3. An incumbent of any position allocable to the labor service who has been employed continuously for two years or more immediately prior to the date that such position became a civil service position shall be deemed to be a tenured employee without serving any probationary period.

4. An incumbent of any office or position allocable to the official service who has been employed continuously for six months or more but less than two years immediately prior to the date on which such office or position became a civil service position shall be subjected to a qualifying examination prescribed by the administrator, and, if he passes, shall be deemed to be a tenured employee after serving a probationary period.

5. An incumbent of any office or position allocable to the official service who has been employed continuously for two years or more immediately prior to the date on which such office or position became a civil service position shall be subjected to a qualifying examination prescribed by the administrator, and, if he passes, shall be deemed to be a tenured employee without serving any probationary period.

Any such incumbent of any office or position allocable to the official service who fails to pass such qualifying examination may be continued by the appointing authority in such office or position for the remainder of the term, if any, for which he was appointed, but the provisions of the civil service law and rules shall not otherwise be applicable to such incumbent.

Where a permanent officer or employee in any departmental unit had formerly occupied in the same departmental unit a non-civil service office or position which is subsequently made a civil service position by statute, or by rule, or by acceptance by a city or town of provisions of this chapter or any other statute, the date which shall be used in computing length of service of such officer or employee for purposes of determining seniority shall be the earliest date of continuous employment which has not been interrupted by an absence from the payroll other than an absence specified in clauses (1) and (2) of the first paragraph of section thirty-three. However, when an incumbent acquires by statute permanent civil service status in a position which, previous to the effective date of such statute, had become a civil service position, the date from which his length of service shall be computed shall be the effective date of such statute, unless otherwise specifically provided therein.

Whenever a school district is established under the provisions of general or special law to which the provisions of this chapter do not apply and said district is to include a school or schools of a city, town or school district to which, prior to said establishment, the provisions of this chapter were applicable, any civil service employee in such a school shall, if he so requests, be transferred to such newly established school district. An employee so transferred shall retain his rights under sections forty-one through forty-five and his rights to transfer held by him immediately prior to such transfer, provided that such rights shall be retained only while he is serving in the same capacity or position held on the effective date of the transfer to such newly established school district. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the reassignment or transfer of an employee to another school which is to continue in a school system to which the civil service law and rules are applicable, if such reassignment or transfer can be made in lieu of a transfer to such newly established school district.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, when a city or town, acting other than in accordance with the provisions of clause (b) of section fifty-three, accepts the applicability of the civil service law and rules to the office of chief of police, or officer performing similar duties, however entitled, or to the office of chief of the fire department, or officer performing similar duties, however entitled, any incumbent of such office who, immediately prior to the filing of the petition relative thereto, shall have served in such office continuously for not less than five years in the case of a city, or for not less than three years in the case of a town, shall be subjected to a qualifying examination prescribed by the administrator, and if he passes, shall be deemed to be a tenured employee without serving any probationary period. Any such incumbent who fails to pass the qualifying examination may be continued by the appointing authority in such office for the remainder of the term, if any, for which he was appointed, but the civil service law and rules shall not otherwise be applicable to such incumbent.

Section 57. Every year-round temporary position in the labor service of a city where such service is subject to the civil service law and rules shall be deemed to be a permanent position if compensation for service in such temporary position has been paid for a continuous period of two years. Certification to fill such a position shall first be made of persons with experience in such position in the departmental unit. A person employed as a temporary employee in a labor service position for a period of at least two years who receives an appointment as a permanent employee to such position in the same departmental unit shall be deemed to be a tenured employee within the meaning of section thirty-four without serving a probationary period. This paragraph shall take effect upon its acceptance by vote of the city council.

A permanent intermittent junior building custodian in the school department of a city or town who, after the certification of his name on three separate occasions, refuses to accept appointment as a permanent full-time junior building custodian in such school department shall not be eligible for further certification and shall cease to be a permanent intermittent junior building custodian. The appointing authority shall send to the administrator and to such permanent intermittent junior building custodian a notice of termination of the service of such permanent intermittent junior building custodian. Such notice shall set forth the occasion of each refusal and the date of termination of service of such permanent intermittent junior building custodian. This paragraph shall take effect in a city upon its acceptance by vote of its city council, subject to the provisions of its charter, in a town upon its acceptance by vote of the inhabitants of the town at an annual town meeting, or, if such custodians are appointed in a city or town by the school committee thereof, upon its acceptance by such committee.

No person shall be certified by the administrator for appointment to the position of inspector of wires in a city or town unless he has been issued "Certificate A" or "Certificate B" pursuant to section three of chapter one hundred and forty-one.

Section 58. No person shall be ineligible for appointment and no person shall be denied employment as a firefighter or as a police officer in a city or town because of failure to attain a minimum height unless the administrator, in response to the written request of the appointing authority that no person under a specified height be certified for appointment to such position in said city or town, has established a minimum height requirement for the position. Such request shall include the findings of a validation study demonstrating the necessity for a minimum height for said position in said city or town, and such other evidence as the administrator may require.

A person shall be ineligible to become an applicant for an examination for original appointment to the position of fire fighter or the position of police officer in a city or town if he will not have reached his nineteenth birthday or will have reached his thirty-second birthday on or before the final date for the filing of applications for such examination, as stated in the examination notice.

No applicant for examination for original appointment to the police force or fire force of a city or town shall be required by rule or otherwise to be a resident of such city or town at the time of filing application for such examination; provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, any person who receives an appointment to the police force or fire force of a city or town shall within nine months after his appointment establish his residence within such city or town or at any other place in the commonwealth that is within ten miles of the perimeter of such city or town. If any person who has resided in a city or town for one year immediately prior to the date of examination for original appointment to the police force or fire force of said city or town has the same standing on the eligible list established as the result of such examination as another person who has not so resided in said city or town, the administrator, when certifying names to the appointing authority for the police force or the fire force of said city or town, shall place the name of the person who has so resided ahead of the name of the person who has not so resided; provided, that upon written request of the appointing authority to the administrator, the administrator shall, when certifying names from said eligible list for original appointment to the police force or fire force of a city or town, place the names of all persons who have resided in said city or town for one year immediately prior to the date of examination ahead of the name of any person who has not so resided.

As a prerequisite to appointment to the position of regular police officer in a city, or in a town where the civil service law and rules are applicable to such position, a person shall have graduated from high school, or received a high school graduation equivalency certificate from the department of education, or served for three years or more in the armed forces of the United States, having last left such armed forces under honorable conditions.

Upon the written request of an appointing authority that educational requirements be established as prerequisites for appointment to its fire force, the administrator may establish such requirements.

Section 59. Original and promotional appointments in police and fire forces of cities and of such towns where such forces are within the official service, including appointments to the position of chief or similar position where the civil service law and rules are applicable to such position, shall be made only after competitive examination except as otherwise provided by section sixty and by sections thirty-six and thirty-six A of chapter forty-eight.

An examination for a promotional appointment to any title in a police or fire force shall be open only to permanent employees in the next lower title in such force, except that if the number of such employees, or the number of applicants for the examination, or the number of applicants presenting themselves for examination is less than four, the examination shall be opened to permanent employees in the next lower titles in succession in such force until either four such employees have applied and have presented themselves for examination or until the examination is open to all permanent employees in lower titles in such force; provided, that no such examination shall be open to any person who has not been employed in such force for at least one year after certification in the lower title or titles to which the examination is open, and provided, further, that no such examination for the first title above the lowest title in the police or fire force of a city or town with a population in excess of fifty thousand shall be open to any person who has not been employed in such force in such lowest title for at least three years after certification.

Persons referred to in this section as being permanent employees in the lowest or lower title shall include only full-time members of the regular force and shall not include members of the reserve or intermittent police or fire force or members of the call fire force unless the appointing authority certifies to the administrator that the number of permanent full-time members of the regular force is insufficient to allow adequate competition in an examination and the administrator determines that the circumstances warrant opening the examination to permanent members of the reserve, intermittent or call force, as the case may be. Upon the request of the appointing authority, the administrator may include service actually performed while a permanent member of a reserve, intermittent, or call force in computing length of service required for admission to an examination for promotional appointment to the first title above the lowest title. The appointing authority shall submit with such request payroll records proving that such service was actually performed. For purposes of this section, two hundred and fifty days, or the equivalent thereof, of such service shall be equivalent to one year of service on a full-time basis in such regular force.

All promotional appointments to fill positions in regular police or fire forces shall be made on a full-time basis. No such promotional appointments shall be made on a permanent intermittent basis. No examination shall be required for promotional appointments of call men within any call fire force to which the civil service law and rules are applicable.

An eligible list established as a result of any examination shall not be used for an original or promotional appointment to any position in a police or fire force unless the announcement of such examination identified such position as one to be filled from such list. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law or rule to the contrary, a member of a regular police force or fire force who has served as such for twenty-five years and who passes an examination for promotional appointment in such force shall have preference in promotion equal to that provided to veterans under the civil service rules.

Section 60. In any city or town having an intermittent or reserve police or fire force to which the civil service law and rules are applicable, original appointments to the lowest title in the regular police or fire force shall be made from among the permanent members of such intermittent or reserve police or fire force, as the case may be, whose names are certified by the administrator to the appointing authority. Names of such members shall be listed on the certification in the order of their civil service appointments to such intermittent or reserve police or fire force, or, if such order is not ascertainable, in the order of place of such members on the eligible list from which certifications of their names for appointments to the intermittent or reserve force were made; provided, that in a city or town having both an intermittent police force and a reserve police force, or an intermittent fire force and a reserve fire force, permanent members of such intermittent police force or such intermittent fire force shall, for the purposes of certification and appointment to the regular police force or the regular fire force pursuant to this section, be deemed to be members of the reserve police force or the reserve fire force of such city or town.

No person who has passed his fiftieth birthday shall be appointed pursuant to this section to the regular police or fire force. A member of an intermittent or reserve police or fire force who, after being duly certified on three occasions, refuses employment on a permanent basis in the regular police or fire force shall not be eligible for further certification for appointment thereto and, notwithstanding the provisions of sections forty-one, forty-three and forty-four or any other law, shall cease to be a member of such intermittent or reserve police or fire force, provided that the refusal of any such member to accept appointment to the regular force made while he was serving in the armed forces of the United States shall not be included among the refusals referred to in this paragraph. The appointing authority shall send to the administrator a notice of termination of service of any such member which occurs pursuant to this paragraph. Such notice shall set forth the occasion of each refusal and the date of termination of service of such member. The administrator shall deny any request of a member of an intermittent or reserve police or fire force that he not be certified in any instance for appointment to the regular force.

The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to prevent the appointment to the regular fire force of a city or town of a call fire fighter under the provisions of any general or special law.

Section 61. Following his original appointment as a permanent full-time police officer or fire fighter in a city, or in a town where the civil service law and rules are applicable to such position, a person shall actually perform the duties of such position on a full-time basis for a probationary period of twelve months before he shall be considered a full-time tenured employee in such position, except as otherwise provided by civil service rule. The administrator, with the approval of the commission, may establish procedures to ensure the evaluation by appointing authorities, prior to the end of such probationary period, of the performance of persons appointed as regular police officers or fire fighters.

Section 62. Punishment duty shall not be imposed without just cause upon any police officer or fire fighter subject to this chapter. A police officer or fire fighter upon whom punishment duty is imposed shall, within twenty-four hours of the imposition of such punishment duty, be given a copy of this section and of sections forty-one through forty-five, together with a written notice stating the specific reason for the imposition of such punishment duty and the duration thereof and informing him that he may, within forty-eight hours of receipt of such notice, request in writing a hearing by the appointing authority. If he so requests he shall be given such a hearing within five days of receipt of such request by the appointing authority. A copy of the notice of imposition of punishment duty shall be forwarded forthwith to the administrator. Whenever such hearing is given, the appointing authority shall give such police officer or fire fighter a written notice of his finding within two days after the hearing. If, after such hearing, the appointing authority finds no just cause exists for the imposition of punishment duty, such punishment duty shall be deemed not to have been imposed; if, after such hearing, the appointing authority finds that just cause does exist for the imposition of punishment duty, such police officer or fire fighter may appeal to the commission as provided in section forty-three, and he or the appointing authority shall be entitled to judicial review of the action taken by the commission as provided in section forty-four. The provisions of section forty-three shall apply to all hearings under this section. Notice of any action taken by the appointing authority under this paragraph shall be forwarded forthwith to the administrator. Any hearing pursuant to this section shall be public if either party concerned so requests in writing. At any such hearing, the person upon whom punishment duty was imposed shall be allowed, either personally or by counsel, to answer the charges against him. In the computation of any period of time limited by this section, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays shall be excluded.

Section 63. An appointing authority may employ a paraplegic in a civil service position within the police or fire department of any city or town, without submitting a requisition, if, in its opinion, the duties of the position may be performed by such paraplegic. Prior to such employment, the appointing authority shall secure and maintain on file a certificate from the attending physician of such person that such person is a paraplegic.

The appointing authority shall also maintain a record of the following:

(1) the title and duties to be assigned to the paraplegic who is to be employed, and the title of his immediate supervisor; and

(2) a certificate from a physician that the paraplegic can satisfactorily perform the duties of the position, is qualified to do the work without hazard to himself or to others and is socially competent to maintain himself in a work environment.

The appointing authority may require any paraplegic proposed for appointment pursuant to this section to undergo such tests as, in its opinion, will measure the fitness of such paraplegic to perform the duties of the position.

Upon the commencement of such employment, such paraplegic shall be deemed to be appointed to the position pursuant to the civil service law and rules and shall continue in such position subject to the provisions of such law and rules.

For purposes of this section, a paraplegic shall mean a person (1) with paraplegia, or (2) with other handicapping conditions which preclude the use of the lower limbs, or (3) without lower limbs.

Section 64. No person shall be ineligible for appointment and no person shall be denied employment as a police officer in the metropolitan district police force, the Massachusetts bay transportation authority police force, or the capitol police force because of failure to attain a minimum height unless the administrator, in response to the written request of the appointing authority that no person under a specified height be certified for appointment to such position in said force, has established a minimum height requirement for the position. Such request shall include the findings of a validation study demonstrating the necessity for a minimum height for said position in said force, and such other evidence as the administrator may require.

A person shall be ineligible to become an applicant for an examination for original appointment to the position of police officer in the metropolitan district police force, the Massachusetts bay transportation authority police force or the capitol police force if he will not have reached his nineteenth birthday or will have reached his thirty-second birthday on or before the final date for the filing of applications for such examination, as stated in the examination notice.

As a prerequisite to appointment to the position of police officer in the metropolitan district police force or the Massachusetts bay transportation authority police force, or the capitol police force, or for appointment as a correction officer, a person shall have graduated from high school, or received a high school graduation equivalency certificate from the department of education, or served for three years or more in the armed forces of the United States, having last left such armed forces under honorable conditions.

Section 65. Original and promotional appointments in the metropolitan district police force and the capitol police force shall be made only after competitive examination.

An examination for a promotional appointment for any title in any such force shall be open only to permanent employees in the next lower title in such force, except that if the number of such employees, or the number of applicants for the examination, or the number of applicants presenting themselves for examination is less than four, the examination shall be opened to permanent employees in the next lower titles in succession in such force until either four such employees have applied and presented themselves for examination or until the examination is open to all permanent employees in lower titles in such force; provided, that no such examination shall be open to any person who has not been employed as a permanent employee for at least one year in such force in the lower title or titles to which the examination is open, and provided, further, that no such examination for the first title above the lowest title in such force shall be open to any person who has not been employed as a permanent employee in such force for at least three years in such lowest title.

All promotional appointments to fill positions in such forces shall be made on a full-time basis. No such promotional appointments shall be made on a permanent intermittent basis.

An eligible list established as a result of any examination shall not be used for an original or promotional appointment to any position in any force pursuant to this section unless the announcement of such examination identified such position as one to be filled from such list.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any law or rule to the contrary, a member of any such force who has served as such for twenty-five years and who passes an examination for promotional appointment in such force shall have preference in promotion equal to that provided to veterans under the civil service rules.

Following his original appointment as a permanent full-time police officer in the metropolitan district police force, the Massachusetts bay transportation authority police force, or the capitol police force, a person shall actually perform the duties of such position on a full-time basis for a probationary period of twelve months before he shall be considered a full-time tenured employee in such position. The administrator, with the approval of the commission, may establish procedures to ensure the evaluation by appointing authorities, prior to the end of such probationary period, of the performance of persons appointed as police officers in such force.

Section 66. The administrator shall certify persons to fill positions in the labor service of the department of public works of the commonwealth according to districts established by such department. Districts so established shall not be changed unless written notice of such change, including a statement of the reasons therefor, is sent to the administrator at least six months prior to the effective date of the change.

All departmental promotional examinations in such department shall be open to all eligible employees of the department as determined by the administrator, regardless of where they are employed in such department. Notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty-three, in the case of a promotion pursuant to section eight, the length of service of an employee of such department shall be computed without regard to the component or components of such department where such service was performed.

All promotions in the official service of the division of employment security in the department of labor and industries shall be made pursuant to section eight or section ten.

Section 67. Each appointing authority shall submit to the administrator, on or before March first of each year, a list of civil service employees in its department as of January second of the same year. Such list shall be in such form as is required by the administrator, shall be made under the penalties of perjury, shall specify the series and title of the position of each such employee and the seniority of such employee as determined pursuant to section thirty-three.

Each such appointing authority shall sign such list and post it forthwith in all areas under its control where five or more civil service employees begin their tour of duty. Such list shall be so posted immediately after it is submitted to the administrator so that it may be inspected during a reasonable period before May first of the year it is submitted. The date of posting such list shall appear on the list which shall remain posted for one year after such date of posting.

When used with respect to employees in the labor service of the department of public works, the word "department" as used in this section shall mean the districts established by such department in which such employees serve.

The superior court may enforce this section and said section thirty-three upon petition by one or more taxable inhabitants of a city or town or upon suit by the attorney general.

Any appointing officer who neglects or wilfully refuses to post a copy of such list shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

Section 68. Each appointing authority shall report in writing forthwith to the administrator of any appointment or employment, promotion, demotion, transfer, change in duties or pay, reinstatement, change in name, discharge, suspension, lay-off, abolition of position, absence for more than a month because of illness or injury, unauthorized absence, leave of absence because of military service, leave of absence for more than a month, termination of temporary employment, resignation, retirement, pension or death of any person within the official or labor service. Such report shall contain the record of service of such person and shall be in such form and detail as may be required by the administrator.

Section 69. Every appointing authority shall file, within seven days after the receipt of a written request from the commission or the administrator, a report containing the names of all persons who have been appointed or employed by such authority, and have received pay or rendered bills for services or labor performed during the calendar month immediately preceding the date of submission of such request. Such report shall be filed with the administrator or the commission, as the case may be, and with the state auditor, in the case of the state, and with the auditor or officer responsible for auditing the accounts of such appointing authority, in the case of a city or town.

Such report shall be in a form prescribed by the commission or administrator, as the case may be, shall be made under penalties of perjury and shall contain the following information: (1) the full name of the person appointed or employed or who rendered a bill for services or labor; (2) a brief description of the nature of the position of such person and of the services or labor which such person has actually performed during such month; (3) for a state position, the title of the position of such person as stated in the payrolls of the appointing authority and for a position in a city or town, the title of the position authorized by the division, or otherwise, the title authorized by the appointing authority; (4) the regular salary or wage of the position; (5) the date of employment; and (6) all payments of any kind made to the appointee during said month. Such appointing authority shall not be required to file more than one such report in any month. The reports filed with the state auditor, the commission and the administrator shall be open to public inspection.

The supreme judicial court, by mandamus or other appropriate remedy in law or equity, may compel any such appointing authority to comply with this section upon suit or petition of the commission or administrator.

Any appointing authority who wilfully refuses to comply with this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Section 70. The commission and the administrator shall maintain on file a record of their proceedings. Such records shall be open to public inspection pursuant to the rules of the commission. An appointing authority may inspect applications and references in connection with a certification of names; such applications and references shall be preserved for a period of two years and may then be destroyed. The question and answer sheets of examination papers, other than essay questions and answers, shall not be open for inspection and may be destroyed as determined by the administrator. The papers used by an applicant in an examination may be destroyed as determined by the administrator, except that they shall be preserved while a request for a review of a marking or finding in relation to such examination or an appeal from the decision of the administrator after such review is acceptable or pending pursuant to sections twenty-two, twenty-three and twenty-four.

Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, an applicant's examination papers may be inspected only by such applicant or his designated representative upon presentation of a written authorization from the applicant. Such inspection may take place only while a request by such applicant for a review of a marking or finding in relation to such examination or an appeal from the decision of the administrator after such review is acceptable or pending pursuant to sections twenty-two, twenty-three and twenty-four. No inspection of any examination papers may be made in connection with a request for a review of whether the examination was a fair test of the applicant's fitness to actually perform the primary or dominant duties of the position for which the examination was held, made under section twenty-two, or of examination papers to which sections twenty-two and twenty-three do not apply.

No question shall be copied except one on which the applicant received less than full credit in the marking of the examination. In such case, both the question and answer may be copied.

Section 71. The administrator shall prepare and maintain in his office rosters of all civil service positions in the service of the commonwealth and in the cities and towns, and of all persons who are legally employed, whether on a temporary or a permanent basis, in such positions. Each appointing authority shall be given a copy of such roster for its departmental unit.

The administrator shall file a copy of each such roster with the comptroller for positions in the service of the commonwealth, and shall file copies of such rosters for positions in each city and town with the treasurer or other officer responsible for paying the salary or compensation of persons in the service of such city or town and with the auditor or other officer of such city or town who is responsible for authorizing the drawing, signing or issuing of warrants for such payments.

Whenever a person is employed in or appointed to a civil service position, the administrator shall note on the proper roster or append to such roster a record of such appointment or employment and shall give notice of such appointment or employment to each officer with whom a copy of such roster is required to be filed by this section. Such officer shall make a corresponding note of such appointment or employment on the proper roster or append such a note to such roster.

Each appointing authority, in addition to reporting to the administrator pursuant to section sixty-eight, shall give notice to each officer with whom a copy of a roster is required to be filed by this section of each change in status of an employee in a civil service position where such change occurs because of a suspension, discharge, resignation, or any other separation from the official or labor service. Such officer shall make a note of such change of status on the proper roster or shall append such a note to such roster.

The state treasurer, city or town treasurer, or other disbursing officer of the commonwealth or of a city or town with civil service positions shall not pay any salary or compensation for service rendered in any civil service position whether such payment is made by payroll or bill, or in any other manner, to any person whose name does not appear on the appropriate roster, as amended from time to time, as the person in such position. The comptroller for the commonwealth, and the auditor or other accounting officer of each such city or town, shall not authorize the drawing, signing or issuing of a warrant for such payment until the legality of the employment or appointment of such person is duly established. The state treasurer or other disbursing officer may accept, as evidence of such legality, the certification of the comptroller that the name of such person appears on the appropriate roster where such person is employed in a civil service position in the service of the commonwealth.

Any officer who wilfully violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Section 72. The commission or the administrator may investigate all or part of the official and labor services, the work, duties and compensation of the persons employed in such services, the number of persons employed in such services and the titles, ratings and methods of promotion in such services. The commission or the administrator may report the results of any such investigation to the governor or the general court.

The commission or administrator, upon the request of an appointing authority, shall inquire into the efficiency and conduct of any employee in a civil service position who was appointed by such appointing authority. The commission or the administrator may also conduct such an inquiry at any time without such request by an appointing authority. After conducting an inquiry pursuant to this paragraph, the commission or administrator may recommend to the appointing authority that such employee be removed or may make other appropriate recommendations.

The commission or the administrator or any authorized representatives of either, may summon witnesses, administer oaths and take testimony for any hearing, investigation or inquiry conducted pursuant to the civil service law and rules. Fees for such witnesses shall be the same as for witnesses before the courts in civil actions and shall be paid from the appropriation for incidental expenses.

A subpoena may be issued at the request of a complainant, respondent, or any other party to any proceeding before the commission under such rules as the commission shall establish. In the case of a subpoena issued by such request, the cost of service and of the fees of the witnesses shall be borne by the party who made the request and such fees shall also be the same as for witnesses before the superior court in civil actions.

Section 73. If, in the opinion of the administrator, a person is appointed or employed in a civil service position in violation of the civil service law and rules, the commission or the administrator shall mail a written notice of such violation to such person and to the appointing authority. The commission or the administrator shall then file a written notice of such violation with the treasurer, auditor or other officer whose duty it is to pay the salary or compensation of such person or to authorize the drawing, signing or issuing of any warrant for such payment.

The payment of any salary or compensation to such person shall cease at the expiration of one week after the filing of such written notice with such treasurer, auditor or other officer. No such treasurer, auditor or other officer shall pay any salary or compensation to such person, or draw, sign or issue, or authorize the drawing, signing or issuing of any warrant for such payment, until the legality of the appointment or employment is duly established.

Any person found by the administrator to be illegally appointed or employed may file a petition for a writ of mandamus in the supreme judicial court to compel the administrator to authorize such appointment or employment and the payment of compensation or salary.

At any time after the filing of such petition, the court may order that the compensation accruing to such person for services actually rendered shall be paid to him until further order of the court, if the court is of the opinion that there is a reasonable doubt whether the appointment or employment of such person is in violation of the civil service law and rules.

Section 74. No person shall wilfully or corruptly alter any examination paper of any applicant, or wilfully or corruptly substitute any other paper for such examination paper, for the purpose of either improving or injuring the prospects or chances for appointment, employment or promotion of such applicant or of any other person. Any person who violates or conspires to violate any provision of this paragraph shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

No person, by himself or in cooperation with one or more persons, shall wilfully or corruptly defeat, deceive or obstruct any person with respect to his right, pursuant to the civil service law and rules, of examination, registration, certification, appointment, promotion or reinstatement; or wilfully or corruptly make a false mark, grade, estimate or report on the examination or proper standing of any person examined pursuant to the civil service law and rules; or wilfully or corruptly make any false representation concerning the same or concerning the person examined; or wilfully or corruptly furnish to anyone special or secret information for the purpose of either improving or injuring the prospects or chances of appointment, employment or promotion of any person examined, registered or certified or to be examined, registered or certified. No person shall impersonate any other person or permit or aid in any manner any other person to impersonate him in connection with any examination, registration or application or request to be examined or registered or in connection with any certification, appointment or promotion.

No person making an appointment to any civil service position shall receive or consider a recommendation of an applicant for such appointment given by any member of the general court, alderman, or councilman, except as to the character or residence of the applicant.

Any person who has been elected to public office by popular vote or by the aldermen or city council of a city or the selectmen of a town shall not be eligible to be designated as a representative of civil service.

Any person who wilfully or negligently violates or conspires to violate any of the provisions of the civil service law and rules, or who knowingly makes an appointment or employs any person in violation of such law and rules, or who refuses or neglects to comply with any provision of such civil service law and rules, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, unless a different penalty is specifically provided in this chapter.

Section 75. No person shall deny or interfere with the right of civil service employees employed by any city or town to petition, individually or collectively, the city or town government or any member thereof, to furnish information to the mayor, city or town manager, city council, or board of aldermen or selectmen or to appear before any committee of such council or boards, or deny or interfere with the right of any civil service employees to petition, individually or collectively, the general court or any member thereof, to furnish information to either branch of the general court, or to appear before any of its committees. This section shall not be construed to authorize an employee who is not on leave to be absent from his employment without permission during regular working hours.

Section 76. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary no individual, other than in an emergency as heretofore set forth in this section, shall be appointed, transferred, excepting a transfer to a position with substantially identical authority, duties and responsibility, or promoted to any office or position which is subject to the federal standards for a merit system of personnel administration unless the administrator has certified such individual meets the minimum qualifications conformable with applicable federal requirements, which minimum qualifications he is hereby authorized and directed to establish for each such office or position.

Section 77. The administrator may take any necessary and appropriate action to enforce the civil service law and rules.

SECTION 12. The paragraph defining "Veteran" in section 1 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 688 of the acts of 1954, is hereby further amended by striking out clause (b) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

The traffic commission may, with the approval of the mayor and board of aldermen, prescribe a schedule of fines not exceeding fifteen dollars for each violation of parking regulations in the calendar year as authorized by section twenty-C of chapter ninety of the General Laws. All other violations of regulations adopted under the provisions of this act, except as otherwise provided by statute, shall be subject to fines not to exceed fifty dollars for each offense as set forth in the regulations.

No adoption, alteration or repeal of a regulation shall take effect until public notice of the proposed action has been given, except with respect to such special rules or regulations as are declared by the traffic commission to be urgently required for the public safety or welfare or such as are of a temporary nature and are to be effective for a period of not more than three weeks. Public notice shall be given by publication in full of the proposed adoption, alteration or repeal not less than once in each of three successive weeks in one or more newspapers published or distributed in the city. The public notice shall include a statement of the effective date of the proposed action, which shall not be less than twenty-one days following the first of the three newspaper publications.

(b) Upon the filing of petitions with the traffic board by not less than fifty registered voters of the city, relative to any rule or regulation proposed to be adopted, altered or repealed, and not yet in effect, the proposed action shall be suspended, and the traffic board shall hold a public hearing thereon within two weeks of the date the petitions were filed, and shall by majority vote approve or disapprove the proposed action within two weeks following the public hearing. (d) The traffic commission may recommend to the board of aldermen the alteration, construction, erection, installation and maintenance of street lights.

(e) The traffic commission, with the approval of the mayor, may retain the services of qualified consultants when such retention is deemed necessary or advisable.

(f) The traffic commission may promulgate regulations that provide that any sergeant or officer of higher rank in the police department may cause to be removed to some convenient place by towing by an independent contractor any vehicle except a vehicle owned by the commonwealth or a political subdivision thereof or by the United States or an instrumentality thereof or registered by a member of a foreign diplomatic corps or by a foreign consular officer who is not a citizen of the United States and bearing distinctive number plate otherwise conspicuously marked as so owned or registered, and except a vehicle owned by a disabled veteran or a handicapped person and bearing a distinctive number plate, which is parked or standing on any part of any street, way, highway, road or parkway if in the calendar year in which such vehicle is so removed and in the preceding calendar year, five or more notices, in the aggregate, have been affixed to said vehicle, as provided in section twenty C of chapter ninety of the General Laws, and remain unpaid and the cost of such removal and of storage charges resulting therefrom, in accordance with the traffic regulations then in effect, shall be imposed upon the owner of such vehicle. Any such vehicle so removed shall be held until all charges imposed for such removal and storage following the same have been paid and due notice has been received that the fines provided in such notices affixed to said vehicle have been paid or security for the payment thereof has been deposited. The police department shall promptly mail written notice to the registered owner of any such vehicle so removed, directed to the address furnished by the registry of motor vehicles or comparable agency of the state in which said vehicle is registered, stating the date on which such vehicle was removed, the location to which such vehicle has been removed, and a statement that such vehicle shall be released by the police on the payment of all fines, storage and towing charges due. Any such vehicle so removed shall be deemed to have been abandoned and may be disposed of in accordance with section twenty-two C of said chapter ninety if, within thirty days of the mailing of the notice to the registered owner as provided for herein, said owner has not paid all charges imposed for such removal and storage following the same and the fines provided in such notices affixed to said vehicle or security for the payment thereof has been deposited.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the traffic commission to adopt, alter or repeal any rule or regulation excluding the trackless trolley vehicles or buses of a street railway or bus company from any way or part thereof in which said company has a location; or to modify or limit any power or authority of the metropolitan district commission or the departments of public works or public utilities of the commonwealth; or to modify or limit any power or authority of the mayor, board of aldermen or of any board or head of a department with reference to the issuance of licenses or permits for the opening, using or occupying of streets and sidewalks for reasons not relating to traffic.

SECTION 4. The planning director, the chief of police, the chief engineer of the fire department, the commissioner of public works, the city engineer, the city electrician and city solicitor shall be available to the traffic commission to advise on matters relating to their respective departments and shall be responsible for putting into effect the rules and regulations adopted by the traffic commission in so far as such rules and regulations relate

The traffic commission shall cooperate with the planning board and with such public carriers as may be authorized and licensed to render service within the city, on matters relating to traffic planning, and shall cooperate with the planning board on all matters that may relate to the need for, location, construction, erection and maintenance of public parking facilities or of private parking facilities for public use within the city. When it is necessary to coordinate with federal, state or other local agencies on matters of traffic movement and traffic planning, the traffic commission may serve as liaison for the city.

SECTION 5. All existing orders, ordinances, rules and regulations relating to the control of vehicular traffic, including those relating to the parking of vehicles on any streets, ways, highways, roads and parkways, under the control of the city, shall remain in full force and effect until superseded by rules and regulations adopted by the traffic commission pursuant to clause (a) of section three, and the adoption thereof shall not effect any act done, any right accrued, any penalty incurred or any suit, prosecution or proceeding pending at the time of such adoption.

SECTION 6. At any time after the expiration of two years from the date of acceptance of this act, such acceptance may be revoked by a two-thirds vote of the board of aldermen, subject to a referendum which shall be held at the municipal election next succeeding such vote. Upon such revocation, all existing rules and regulations shall remain in full force and effect until superseded by orders, ordinances, rules or regulations adopted in accordance with the provisions of law then applicable to said city, and neither such revocation nor adoption of superseding orders, ordinances, rules or regulations shall affect any act done, any right accrued, any penalty incurred or any suit, prosecution or proceeding pending, prior to revocation or adoption.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19 of chapter 161A of the General Laws, as appearing in section 18 of chapter 563 of the acts of 1964, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Except as provided in sections nineteen C to nineteen G, inclusive, the employees of the authority shall submit all grievances and disputes pursuant to arbitration provisions in agreement existing at the time of the creation of the authority or subsequently entered into with the authority or, in the absence of such provisions, to the state board of conciliation and arbitration, or other board or body having similar powers and duties.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 161A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 19B the following five sections:-

Section 19C. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections nineteen and nineteen A, the authority or any organizations representing employees of the authority shall not be permitted to submit any dispute over the terms of a collective bargaining agreement to arbitration except in accordance with sections nineteen C through nineteen G, inclusive; provided, however, that this section shall not limit the rights of organizations representing employees of the authority to submit grievances to arbitration in accordance with the collective bargaining agreement between the parties.

Section 19D. In the event the directors and any organizations representing employees of the authority have not reached an agreement within ninety days from the date of the expiration of the agreement, either party may notify the other that it desires mediation. The parties may agree upon a person to serve as a mediator or, if unable to agree on said mediator, either party or the parties acting jointly may petition the board of conciliation and arbitration to appoint a mediator from a list of qualified persons maintained by the board.

After a reasonable period of mediation, not to exceed forty-five days from the date of appointment, said mediator shall issue a report indicating the results of his services in resolving the impasse. If at the conclusion of mediation, the mediator certifies that the impasse still exists, either party may notify the other that it desires arbitration of the matters in dispute. Within ten days of said notice, the parties shall meet to select a single neutral arbitrator. If, within fifteen days, the parties fail to select such single arbitrator, either party may forthwith petition the board of conciliation and arbitration to request a list of five arbitrators from the American Arbitration Association and said Association shall certify to the board that such arbitrators on the list it provides possess the qualifications as provided in section nineteen E. The parties shall thereupon meet to select such arbitrator by striking one name each until one name remains and that person shall serve as the neutral arbitrator. If after ten days, if one of the parties declines to strike their names, the other party shall strike two names and the board shall forthwith select the arbitrator from the remaining three names.

Section 19E. The single arbitrator, whether agreed upon by the parties or selected by the board of conciliation and arbitration, shall be a legal resident of the commonwealth and shall be experienced in state and local finance.

Section 19F. The arbitrator shall rely primarily on the following factors in determining the basis for an award:

1. The financial ability of the authority to meet additional costs, which shall include but not be limited to:

- a. the statutory requirement of advisory board approval of the authority's fiscal budget;
- b. the financial ability of the individual communities and the commonwealth to meet additional costs;
- c. the average per capita tax burden, average annual income and sources of revenue within the commonwealth, and the effect of any arbitration award on the respective property tax rates of the cities and towns within the authority's district.

2. The overall compensation presently received by the employees, having regard not only for wages for time actually worked but also for wages for time not worked, including vacations, holidays and other excused time.

3. All benefits received by the employees, including insurance, pension, as well as the continuity and stability of employment.

4. The hazards of employment, physical, educational and mental qualifications, job training and skills involved.

5. A comparison of wages, hours, and conditions of employment of the employees involved in the arbitration proceedings with the wages, hours and conditions of employment of other employees performing similar services within the commonwealth and with other employees generally in public and private employment within the commonwealth.

6. The average consumer price for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living.

7. Changes in any of the foregoing circumstances during the pendency of the arbitration proceedings.

8. Such other factors, not confined to the foregoing, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours and conditions of employment through voluntary collective bargaining, mediation, fact-finding, arbitration or otherwise between parties, in the public service of the commonwealth.

9. The stipulation of the parties.

Section 19G. Within thirty calendar days of an award, the arbitrator shall issue a written opinion inclusive of an analysis of all statutory factors applicable to the proceedings. Any determination by the arbitrator, if supported by material and substantial evidence on the record, shall be binding upon the parties and upon the appropriate legislative or appropriating body and may be enforced at the insistence of either party or by the arbitrator in the superior court. The scope of arbitration shall be limited to wages, hours, and conditions of employment and shall not include any provisions for any cost of living adjustments which are based on changes in the Consumer Price Index after the expiration of the contract period covered by the award. In addition, any wage or salary adjustments shall be expressed in per cent or dollar amounts, and in no case shall there be any provision for salary adjustments to occur after the expiration of the contract period covered by the award.

The cost, if any, of the mediation and of arbitration proceedings exclusive of the expenses of the individual parties provided for under sections nineteen C through nineteen G shall be divided equally by the parties and shall be in accordance with a schedule of payments established by the American Arbitration Association.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding the provisions of any special or general law to the contrary, there shall be no salary adjustment awarded to any management employees of the authority for a period of eighteen months from the effective date of this act.

SECTION 4. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

SECTION 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

quality engineering has mandated or ordered such city, town or water district to improve the quality of its public water supply by boiling.

Such bonds shall bear interest semiannually at such rate as the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof, and the entire issue not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and thirteen.

Section 303F. Whoever sells or delivers fuel oil in quantities of twenty gallons or over for heating or cooking purposes shall cause a delivery ticket, which shall consist of an original and at least one carbon copy thereof, to be issued. Said ticket shall be serially numbered for the purpose of identification and shall have the date of delivery as well as the names and addresses of the seller and of the purchaser legibly recorded on the ticket prior to delivery of the fuel oil. A statement of quantity of oil delivered, in terms of gallons and fractions thereof, if any, the price per gallon, the grade of fuel, and the identity of the person making such delivery, shall also appear on the ticket. One copy of the above said ticket shall be delivered to the purchaser or his agent at the time of delivery of such oil unless the purchaser initiates a request in writing that the vendor deliver such ticket to another person or location, or that the delivery of such ticket be made at another time. Another copy of the ticket shall be retained by the seller for a period of two months. The director or inspector of standards, sealer or deputy sealer, inspector or deputy inspector of weights and measures shall, at the time of delivery of fuel oil, be authorized to enter and go into or upon, without warrant, any such vehicle to inspect or examine the metering system, vehicle tank compartments and delivery tickets then in the actual possession or under the control of the person making the delivery and may seize, without warrant, any such delivery tickets suspected of constituting a deceptive or fraudulent practice. No copy or retained delivery ticket shall be destroyed but may be voided and kept on file.

On deliveries of fuel oils made through a meter the quantity determinations, of the oil delivered, shall be mechanically printed on the ticket at the time of delivery. A sales sequence number shall also be mechanically printed on the ticket by the ticket printing mechanism of the metering system, unless the printing mechanism is of the cumulative type. The sales sequence number shall not be returnable to zero until it has reached its highest attainable number. The provisions of the preceding two sentences of this paragraph will not become effective until January first, nineteen hundred and eighty and any metering system that has been sealed prior to January first, nineteen hundred and eighty shall be exempt from these provisions if their design prohibits compliance.

The possession of a preprinted ticket imprinted with a gallonage amount in advance of delivery shall be prima facie evidence of intent to use such ticket in violation of this section.

Deliveries of fuel oil made from vehicle tank compartments, not measured at the time of sale by a sealed metering system, shall be made only from calibrated compartments which are filled to an indicator that has been sealed by a sealer or inspector of weights and measures. The preceding sentence shall not apply to the transfer, exchange or sale of fuel oil which is being transported between bulk storage facilities or to a purchaser who initiates a request in writing that he wishes to accept a carbon copy of the bulk storage metered loading ticket.

Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished for the first offense by a fine of fifty dollars, for the second offense by a fine of two hundred dollars and for each subsequent offense by a fine of five hundred dollars. In a case where lack of written notice, actual knowledge, or a reasonable opportunity to obtain knowledge of any injury within said ninety-day period is alleged by such ski area operator, the burden of proving substantial prejudice shall be on the operator.

An action to recover for such injury shall be brought within one year of the date of such injury.

Counsel may advise such person, in confidence, either upon the request of such person or upon counsel's own initiative, with respect to any question asked of such person. Such person or counsel may object on the record to any question, in whole or in part, and shall briefly state for the record the reason for the objection. An objection may properly be made, received, and entered upon the record when it is claimed that such person is entitled to refuse to answer the question on grounds of any constitutional or other legal right or privilege, including the privilege against self-incrimination. The person conducting the examination shall exclude from the place where the examination is held all persons except the person being examined, his counsel, the officer before whom the testimony is taken, and any stenographer taking such testimony.

Testimony shall be taken stenographically or by sound recording and transcribed. When the testimony is fully transcribed, the witness, with his counsel, shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to examine the transcript. Any changes in form or substance which the witness desires to make shall be entered and identified upon the transcript with a statement of the reasons given by the witness for making such changes. Upon payment of reasonable charges therefor, a copy of the transcript shall be furnished to the witness.

Whenever any person fails to comply with any civil investigative demand duly served upon him under this section, the attorney general may file, in the superior court for any county in which such person resides, is found, or transacts business, a petition for an order of such court enforcing said demand. The Massachusetts Rules of Civil Procedure shall apply to any such petition. Any disobedience of any final order entered under this section shall be punished as a contempt of court.

All information and documents, including answers to interrogatories, transcripts or testimony, produced documents, and all copies thereof, which are obtained by the attorney general in the course of any investigation under this chapter shall be held in the custody of the attorney general, shall be kept confidential by the attorney general, and shall not be disclosed by the attorney general to any person except as necessary in a case brought by the attorney general under this Act. Such information and documentary materials shall not be public records and are exempt from disclosure under section ten of chapter sixty-six. Upon the completion of a case brought under this Act, the attorney general shall return any such documents, answers and transcripts, and all copies thereof, which have not passed into the control of the court through the introduction thereof into the record, to the person who provided such documents, answers or testimony. If no case in which such material may be used has been commenced within a reasonable time after completion of the examination or analysis of all documentary material, but in no event later than two years after production thereof, the attorney general shall, upon written request of the person who produced such material, return all documents, answers and transcripts, and all copies thereof, to the person who provided them.

No information obtained or derived in the course of any investigation under this section shall be used or introduced as evidence by the prosecution in any criminal proceeding.

Nothing in this section shall preclude the attorney general from disclosing information and evidence secured pursuant to this section to those officials of the United States and the several states charged with the enforcement of federal or state antitrust laws, provided, however, that prior to any such disclosure the attorney general shall obtain a written agreement from such officials to abide by the restrictions of this section and any orders entered pursuant to this section.

Section 9. The attorney general may bring a civil action in the name of the commonwealth to prevent and restrain violations of section four, five or six of this chapter; as parens patriae on behalf of natural persons residing in the commonwealth, to secure monetary relief for damages sustained by such natural persons to their property by reason of any violation of section four; and on behalf of the commonwealth and its public agencies and political subdivisions for damages sustained, together with costs of suit, for injuries to their property by reason of violations of section four, five or six; provided, however, that unless the attorney general has brought a criminal complaint pursuant to section ten, the attorney general may bring a civil action in the name of the commonwealth to recover a civil penalty of not more than twenty-five thousand dollars for any course of conduct, pattern of activity or activities which violate section four, five or six. In any action brought on behalf of the commonwealth and its public agencies and political subdivisions for damages sustained to their property, if the court finds that the violation was engaged in with malicious intent to injure the commonwealth, public agency or political subdivision, the court may award up to three times the amount of actual damages sustained together with the costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys fees.

In any parens patriae action brought under this section where there has been a judicial determination that a defendant agreed to fix prices in violation of section four of this chapter, damages may be proved and assessed in the aggregate by statistical or sampling methods or by such other reasonable system of estimating aggregate damages as the court permits; a final judgment shall be res judicata as to any claim by any person on whose behalf such action was brought; and any monetary recovery shall be distributed in such manner as the court in its discretion may authorize or may be deemed by the court to be a civil penalty.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction of actions brought under this section. Such actions may be brought in any county where a defendant resides or has his principal place of business or in which the violation occurred in whole or in part, or with the consent of a defendant, the superior court for Suffolk county.

The attorney general may conclude any civil action brought under this section, or any investigation commenced or contemplated under section eight, by the acceptance of a written assurance of discontinuance or consent decree. Any consent decree shall be filed with the superior court and shall constitute a final judgment.

Section 10. Any person who knowingly violates sections four or five with specific intent to injure any person, or knowingly aids or participates in such violation with specific intent to injure any person, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars if a corporation, or, if any other person, by a fine not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction of actions brought under this section. Such actions shall be brought by the attorney general in the county in which said violation occurred in whole or in part.

Section 11. A final judgment or decree rendered in any civil or criminal proceeding brought by the attorney general under this Act to the effect that a defendant has violated this Act shall be prima facie evidence against such defendant in any action or proceeding brought by any other party against such defendant under this Act as to all matters respecting which said judgment or decree would be an estoppel as between the parties thereto; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to consent judgments or decrees, or settlements which have not been fully litigated to their conclusion, none of which shall constitute either an admission or prima facie evidence.

Section 12. Any person who shall be injured in his business or property by reason of a violation of the provisions of this chapter may sue therefor and recover the actual damages sustained, together with the costs of suit, including reasonable attorney fees. If the court finds that the violation was engaged in with malicious intent to injure said person, the court may award up to three times the amount of actual damages sustained, together with the costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys fees.

Any person may sue for injunctive relief to prevent threatened damage to his business or property under the same conditions and principles as injunctive relief is granted by courts of equity.

Commencement of an action by the attorney general under section nine, whereunder the attorney general acts as parens patriae on behalf of natural persons residing in the commonwealth, shall serve to stay any civil action under this section or under the provisions of chapter ninety-three A on behalf of said natural persons against the same defendant which is based in whole or in part on any matter complained of in the action commenced by the attorney general.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction of actions brought under this section. Such actions may be brought in any county where a defendant resides or has his principal place of business or in which the violation occurred in whole or in part, or, with the consent of a defendant, in the superior court for Suffolk county.

Section 13. An action brought to enforce the provisions of this Act shall be barred unless commenced within four years after the cause of action accrued.

Whenever any civil or criminal proceedings shall be commenced by the commonwealth under this Act, the running of the statute of limitations with respect to every private right of action arising under this Act and based in whole or in part on any matter complained of in said proceedings shall be suspended during the pendency thereof and for one year thereafter; provided, however, that whenever the running of the statute of limitations with respect to a cause of action is suspended, any action to enforce such cause of action shall forever be barred unless commenced either within the period of suspension or within four years after the cause of action accrued.

Section 14. All money received by the commonwealth as a result of actions brought by the attorney general pursuant to this Act or pursuant to the federal antitrust laws shall be credited by the state treasurer to a fund to be known as the "Antitrust Enforcement Fund". Money in the Antitrust Enforcement Fund, subject to appropriation pursuant to law not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars in any fiscal year, shall be used solely for the payment of expenses incurred by the attorney general in connection with its activities under this Act or the federal antitrust laws. At the end of any fiscal year if the balance in the Antitrust Enforcement Fund exceeds one million dollars, the excess shall be withdrawn from the Antitrust Enforcement Fund and deposited in the General Fund.

Section 14A. The Massachusetts Antitrust Act shall have no effect upon the provisions of chapter ninety-three A, except as explicitly provided in said chapter ninety-three A.

Chap. 461. AN ACT TO INCREASE BENEFITS FOR DEPENDENTS OF DECEASED EMPLOYEES UNDER THE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 152 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 31, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 438 of the acts of 1974, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 31. If death results from the injury, the insurer shall pay the following dependents of the employee, including his or her children by a former spouse, wholly dependent upon his or her earnings for support at the time of his or her injury, or at the time of his or her death, compensation as follows, payable, except as hereinafter provided, in the manner set forth in section thirty-two.

To the widow or widower, so long as she or he remains unmarried, one hundred and ten dollars a week if and so long as there is no child of the employee, who is under the age of eighteen, or over said age and physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, or over said age and a full-time student qualified for exemption as a dependent under section one hundred and fifty-one (e) of the Internal Revenue Code; to or for the use of the widow or widower and for the benefit of all children of the employee, one hundred and sixteen dollars a week if and so long as there is one such child, and six dollars more a week for each additional child; provided, that in case any such child is a child by a former wife or husband, the death benefit shall be divided between the surviving wife or husband and all living children of the deceased employee in equal shares, the surviving wife or husband taking the same share as a child. If the widow or widower dies, such amount or amounts as would have been payable to or for her or his own use and for the benefit of all children of the employee shall be paid in equal shares to all the surviving children of the employee. If the widow or widower remarries, all payments under the foregoing provisions shall terminate and the insurer shall pay each week to each of such children of the employee thirty dollars a week. If there is no surviving wife or husband of the deceased employee, such amount or amounts as would have been payable under this section to or for the use of a widow or widower and for the benefit of all such children of the employee, shall be paid in equal shares to all such surviving children of the employee, but no individual shall receive an amount in excess of eighty-two dollars a week. The total amount of payments and the period of payments in all cases under this section shall not be more than thirty-two thousand dollars nor continue for more than four hundred weeks, except that payment to or for the benefit of children of the deceased employee under the age of eighteen shall not be discontinued prior to the age of eighteen, and except that after a dependent unremarried widow or widower or physically or mentally incapacitated child over the age of eighteen has received the maximum payments, he or she shall continue to receive further payments but only during such periods as he or she is in fact not fully self-supporting. Either party may request hearings at reasonable intervals before a board member on the question of granting such payments, or on the question of restoration of such payments, or on the question of discontinuance of such payments. A member of the board may set a case for hearing on his or her initiative, after due notice to both parties.

In all other cases of total dependency, the insurer shall pay the dependents of the employee wholly dependent upon his or her earnings for support at the time of the injury, or at the time of his or her death, a weekly payment equal to two thirds of his or her average weekly wages, but not more than forty dollars nor less than twenty-four dollars a week, for a period of five hundred weeks; but in no case shall the amount be more than seventeen thousand dollars. If the employee leaves dependents only partially dependent upon his or her earnings for support at the time of his or her injury, or at the time of his or her death, the insurer shall pay such dependents a weekly compensation equal to the same proportion of the weekly payments for the benefit of persons wholly dependent as the amount contributed by the employee to such partial dependents bears to the annual earnings of the deceased at the time of his or her injury. In the event of the parties agreeing or the division finding that a partial dependent is the next of kin of the deceased employee and has, during the year preceding the injury, received from such deceased employee contributions for his or her support independent of gifts and gratuities, such partial dependent shall be paid by the insurer a minimum weekly compensation of twenty-four dollars. When weekly payments have been made to an injured employee before his or her death, compensation under this paragraph to dependents shall begin from the date of the death of the employee, but shall not continue for more than five hundred weeks; but in no case of partial dependency shall the amount be more than seventeen thousand dollars.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on November first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight and shall apply only to injuries occurring on or after said date.
