SECTION 1. Section 14 of chapter 151 of the acts of 1979 is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, until June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one at any time after the expiration of three years from the date on which any optional provision of general law or special act has been accepted in any city or town, whether by official ballot at an election, by by-law, ordinance or vote of the legislative body or school committee of the city or town, or by vote of the board of selectmen of a town, or by vote of a town council of a municipality having a town council form of government. The revocation of such acceptance may be effected in the same manner as was the vote to accept said provisions; provided, however, that in any municipality having a town council form of government such revocation of a law previously accepted by vote of its town meeting or board of selectmen shall be effected by a vote of its town council. Such revocation shall be subject to the following conditions:-

(a) this section shall not apply if the optional provision contains, within itself, another method of revocation;

(b) this section shall not apply to any optional provision which authorizes, but does not require acceptance by the city or town to act;

(c) this section shall not apply to any action taken under chapter thirty-two or thirty-two B of the General Laws;

(d) this section shall not apply to any action taken to establish a regional district, authority or other entity which involves another city, town, district or other governmental unit;

(e) this section shall not affect contractual, civil service or statutory rights which have come into existence between the city or town and any officer or employee thereof as a result of the acceptance of any optional provision of the General Laws; provided, however, that such revocation shall apply to the successor of the incumbent officer or employee, so as to prevent the same contractual or civil service rights from automatically continuing with respect to such successor officer or employee.

SECTION 2. Chapter 4 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 4B, inserted by section 1 of chapter 518 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 4B. At any time after the expiration of three years from the date on which a law to take effect upon its acceptance by a city or town or a municipality as defined in section four, or is to be effective in such cities, towns or municipalities accepting its provisions, has been accepted in any such city, town or municipality such statute may be revoked in the same manner as it was accepted by such city, town or municipality, but such revocation shall be subject to the following restrictions:

(a) This section shall not apply if such law provides for another manner of revocation.

(b) This section shall not apply to any such law which authorizes, but does not require, acceptance by a city, town or municipality to act.

(c) This section shall not apply to any action taken under chapter thirty-one, thirty-two, or thirty-two B.

(d) This section shall not apply to any action taken to establish a regional district, authority or other entity which involves another city, town, municipality, district or other governmental entity.

(e) This section shall not affect any contractual rights which have come into existence between the city, town or municipality and any officer or employee thereof as a result of the original acceptance of any such law or the provisions thereof, provided, however, such revocation shall apply to the successor to the incumbent officer or employee, which application shall prevent the same contractual right from automatically continuing with respect to such successor officer or employee.

(f) If, within sixty days following the date the vote to revoke the acceptance of any such law or the provisions thereof is taken, other than a vote which has been submitted to the voters on official ballots, a petition signed by five per cent or more of the registered voters of said city, town or municipality requesting that the question of revoking the acceptance by submitting to the voters of such city, town or municipality is filed in the office of the clerk in any such city, town or municipality, such votes shall be suspended from taking effect until the question is determined by vote of the registered voters voting thereon at the next regular city, town or municipal election, or if the city council or board of selectmen or other authority charged with calling elections shall so direct, at a special election called for that purpose. In response to the following question:- "Shall the acceptance by the _____ (City, Town) of section(s) _____ of chapter _____ of the General Laws be revoked?" A brief summary of the relevant section or sections of the General Laws shall also appear on the official ballot. If such revocation is favored by a majority of the voters voting thereon, the acceptance of said statute or the provisions thereof shall be revoked and it shall become null and void beginning with the first day of the month next following said revocation.

(g) Petitions filed requesting the placement of the question of revocation on the ballot for determination by the voters shall be substantially in conformity with the provisions of the law governing the signing of nomination papers for city, town or municipal officers, to the identification and certification of names thereon, and submission to the registrars thereof.

(h) If, on the sixty-first day following the date a vote has been taken to revoke the acceptance of such statute or the provisions thereof, and no petition as aforesaid has been filed, the vote to revoke shall become effective forthwith.

If at the time a city, town, municipality or district is authorized to revoke its acceptance of a law under the provisions of this section and such city, town, municipality or district has adopted a change in charter or otherwise is required to adopt a different procedure for acceptance of such law other than that procedure used for its original acceptance, then the procedure for acceptance in effect at the time of revocation shall be the manner for revoking such original acceptance.

SECTION 3. Section two of this act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 9. Section 9 of said chapter 200A, as most recently amended by section 11 of chapter 377 of the acts of 1969, is hereby further amended by striking out paragraphs (d) and (e) and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

(d) All monies received by the treasurer from the holder thereof, or from the liquidation of the property under paragraphs (a) to (c), inclusive, shall be placed in a special fund as provided in paragraph (e) after deducting therefrom the costs incurred in connection with any liquidation of abandoned property, any costs of mailing and publication in connection with any abandoned property, and cost incurred in examining records of holders of abandoned property and collecting such property from such holders and reasonable service charges.

(e) Monies received by the treasurer under the proceedings of this chapter shall be placed in a special fund to be known as the Abandoned Property Fund. Whenever such fund exceeds five hundred thousand dollars, the excess shall be credited to the General Fund. Payments made by the treasurer under the provisions of paragraph (e) of section ten shall be made from said Abandoned Property Fund.

SECTION 10. Section 10 of said chapter 200A, as most recently amended by section 12 of chapter 377 of the acts of 1969, is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (e) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(e) If the validity of a claim shall be determined in favor of the claimant, the treasurer shall pay over to the claimant only that amount which the treasurer actually received together with interest at the rate of one-twelfth of one per cent per month from the time when it was received by the treasurer to the time when it was paid by him to the claimant; provided, however, that if the property claimed was interest bearing to the owner on the date of surrender by the holder then the treasurer shall instead add interest at a rate not to exceed five-twelfths of one per cent per month or such lesser rate as the property earned while in the possession of the holder. Such interest on interest bearing property shall begin to accumulate on the date property is delivered to the state treasurer and shall cease on the earlier of the expiration of fourteen years following delivery or the date on which payment is made to the owner. No interest on such interest bearing property shall be payable for any period prior to the effective date of this paragraph. Any holder who pays to the owner property which has been delivered to the commonwealth and which if claimed from the treasurer, would be subject to this section as interest-bearing property shall add interest as provided in this section. Such added interest shall be repaid to the holder by the treasurer in the same manner as the principal.

SECTION 11. Said section 10 of said chapter 200A is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:-

(e) All claims previously administered under the provisions of sections one hundred and forty-nine A to one hundred and forty-nine D, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and seventy-five shall be administered under the provisions of this section.

SECTION 12. Said chapter 200A is hereby further amended by striking out sections 11 to 14, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following six sections:-

Section 11. (a) At the request of another state, the attorney general may bring an action in the name of such other state in any court of competent jurisdiction in the commonwealth, or federal court within the commonwealth, to enforce the unclaimed property laws of such other state against a holder in the commonwealth of property subject to escheat or a claim of abandonment by such other state, if the other state has agreed to pay reasonable costs incurred by the attorney general in bringing the action.

(b) If the treasurer believes that a person in another state holds property subject to a claim of abandonment by the commonwealth under this chapter, the treasurer may request that the attorney general of the other state, or any other person, bring an action in the name of the commonwealth to enforce the provisions of this chapter against such person.

(c) The commonwealth shall pay all reasonable costs incurred in any action brought under the authority of this section. The treasurer may agree to pay to any person bringing such an action a fee not to exceed ten per cent of the value, after deducting reasonable costs, of any property recovered for the commonwealth as a direct or indirect result of the action; provided, however, that any cost or fee paid pursuant to this section shall not be deducted from the amount that is subject to the claim by the owner in accordance with this chapter.

(d) The treasurer may enter into an agreement to provide information needed to enable another state to audit or otherwise determine unclaimed property it may be entitled to escheat or subject to a claim of custody as abandoned property. The treasurer may, by regulation, require the reporting of information needed to enable him to comply with agreements made pursuant to this section and may prescribe the form including verification of the information to be reported and the time for filing of the reports.

Section 12. (a) The treasurer may at any reasonable time and upon reasonable notice examine the records of any person to determine if said person has complied with the provisions of the chapter. In the event such person refuses to permit the treasurer to examine such records, the treasurer shall petition the superior court for an order to allow the treasurer or his agents to examine all appropriate business records of such person.

(b) If the treasurer believes that the holder of property has violated the provisions of section seven, he shall petition the superior court for an order to require the holder thereof to turn over said property to him.

(c) If the court shall determine that the holder of such property has violated the provisions of section seven, he shall be liable to a penalty of not more than five hundred dollars; provided, however, that no person shall be penalized for failure to report property as provided herein if the court shall find that such person has acted in good faith.

(d) In the event that the superior court shall order the holder of property to turn over said property to the treasurer pursuant to paragraph (b), the court may include in said order a per diem rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per examiner as the cost of conducting the examination provided for in paragraph (a).

(e) In addition to any damages, penalties, or fines for which a person may be liable under other provisions of law, any person who fails to report or deliver unclaimed property within the time prescribed by this chapter, shall pay to the treasurer interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, or such adjusted rate as is hereinafter established under Title 26, section 6621 of the United States Code, on such property or value thereof from the date such property should have been paid or delivered.

Section 13. No agreement entered into within two years after the date a report is filed under paragraph (d) of section seven shall be valid if any person thereby undertakes to locate property included in that report for a fee or other compensation exceeding twenty per cent of the value of the recoverable property. Such an agreement shall be valid only if it is in writing, signed by the owner, discloses the nature and value of the property, and the owners share after the fee or compensation has been subtracted is clearly stipulated. The fee or compensation shall not exceed thirty-five per cent at any time. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent an owner from asserting, at any time, that any agreement to locate property is based upon excessive or unjust consideration.

Section 13A. The treasurer is hereby authorized to make necessary rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section.

Section 13B. The treasurer is hereby empowered to extend the date for filing of a report and turning over property for a period up to two months upon written request of a holder if he deems such extension is warranted. Where such extension is granted the requirement for notice and publication by the treasurer shall be extended by a like period not to exceed two months.

Section 14. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the provisions of section thirteen of chapter eighteen; section six of chapter one hundred and fifteen A; section seven, eight and nine of chapter one hundred and twenty-two; section twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and twenty-three; sections ninety-six A and ninety-six B of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven; section five A of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A; chapter one hundred and thirty-four; chapter one hundred and thirty-five; and, sections six A, six B, six C and six D of chapter one hundred and forty-seven.

SECTION 13. Said chapter 200A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 15 the following three sections:-

Section 15A. The payment or delivery of any property except property other than cash, whether or not payable or deliverable under this chapter, to the treasurer by any holder shall terminate any legal relationship between the holder and the owner and shall release and discharge such holder from any and all liability to the owner, his heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns and any state or governmental agency, whether federal or foreign, by reason of such delivery or payment, regardless of whether such property, and such delivery and payment may be pleaded as a bar to recovery, and shall be a conclusive defense in any suit or action brought by such owner, his heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns, or any state or governmental agency whether federal or foreign, or any other claimant against the holder by reason of such delivery or payment.

Section 15B. The holder of any interest under section five B shall deliver a duplicate certificate to the treasurer within the time specified in section eight A. Upon delivery to the treasurer, the holder and any transfer agent, registrar, or other person acting for or on behalf of the holder in executing or delivering such duplicate certificate shall be relieved from any liability to any person, including, but not limited to, any person acquiring the certificate presumed abandoned or the certificate issued to the treasurer, for any losses or damages resulting to such person by the issuance and delivery to the treasurer of such duplicate certificates. The issuance and delivery of a duplicate certificate pursuant to this section shall constitute the surrender of the said interest evidenced thereby within the meaning of paragraph (a) of section nine and paragraph (a) of section eleven.

Section 15C. In connection with property heretofore or hereinafter reportable or reportable under this chapter, no holder may impose any charges in respect of dormancy or inactivity on a savings or checking account or cease payment of interest unless:-

(1) such charges and such cessation of interest are provided for in a valid, enforceable and written contract between the holder and the customer which specifies the amount of such charges and that interest will cease;

(2) the customer is notified prior to the imposition of such charges and cessation of interest; and

(3) it is not the policy of the holder to waive such charges or to restore interest. No holder shall deduct from the amount of any draft, registered check, money order, certified check, cashier's check or treasurer's check or any similar written instrument any charges imposed by reason of the failure to present such items for encashment unless such charges are provided for in a valid enforceable and written contract and it is not the policy of the holder to waive such charges.

SECTION 14. If a court of competent jurisdiction, after all rights of appeal from a decision of such a court have been exhausted or have expired, should hold that property presumed abandoned under said chapter two hundred A and sections one hundred and forty-nine A to one hundred and forty-nine C, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws would not have been presumed abandoned prior to the effective date of this act, then such property received by any person seven or more years prior to the effective date of this act shall not be presumed abandoned.

SECTION 15. The commissioner of insurance shall deliver to the treasurer all records filed prior to the effective date of this act under the provisions of section one hundred and forty-nine B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws.

SECTION 16. On the effective date of this act the provisions of section one hundred and forty-nine A of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws shall apply to property reportable prior to the effective date of this act.

For the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter, the commissioner, the assistant commissioner and the associate commissioners, and the director, inspectors, and other representatives of the division of industrial safety may enter places of employment, other than places of employment of persons engaged in domestic service in the home of the employer, and examine the methods of protection from accident, the means of escape from fire, the sanitary provisions, the lighting and means of ventilation, and make investigations as to the employment of minors and as to compliance with all provisions of this chapter, and shall have access to all records pertaining to wages, hours, and other conditions of employment which are found essential to such investigations.

SECTION 2. Sections fifty-three and fifty-three A of said chapter one hundred and forty-nine are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. Section 56 of said chapter 149 is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 374 of the acts of 1974, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

No minor shall be employed or permitted to work in, or in connection with, any factory or workshop, or any manufacturing, mercantile or mechanical establishment, telegraph office or telephone exchange, or any express or transportation company, or any private club, or any office, letter shop or financial institution, or any laundry, hotel, manicuring or hairdressing establishment, or any motion picture or other theatre or any other place of amusement, or any garage, or any hospital in a nonprofessional capacity, or in any beauty culture, weight reducing or other similar establishment, or be employed as an elevator operator, or as a switchboard operator in a private exchange, or in domestic service in the home of the employer, more than nine hours in any one day, and, except as to transportation or telephone companies, and except as to hotels, private clubs and places of amusement where the employment is determined by the department to be by seasons, and except as to hotels where meals are served only during three separate periods totalling not more than seven hours in any one day and the employment is connected with the serving of said meals, if the work so performed by such a minor in one day is not continuous, but is divided into two or more periods, the work of such minor shall be so arranged that all such periods of work shall fall within a period of not exceeding ten consecutive hours, except that in the case of mercantile establishments such periods of work may fall within a period of not exceeding eleven and one-half consecutive hours during a total of not more than seven days in any calendar year of which six shall be six weekdays within a period of four weeks immediately preceding Christmas and the seventh the Saturday immediately preceding Easter, except that in any place of employment where the principal source of income of certain employees is in tips or gratuities, upon the written petition of not less than sixty per cent of such employees, the commissioner may allow such periods of work to fall within a period not exceeding twelve consecutive hours; and in no case shall the hours of labor exceed forty-eight in a week, except that in manufacturing establishments or hotels where the employment is determined by the department to be by seasons, the number of such hours in any week may exceed forty-eight, but, except in the work of fish processing when necessary in the judgment of the commissioner, and then only during the months of June, July, August, September and October, shall not exceed fifty-two, provided that the total number of such hours in any year shall not exceed an average of forty-eight hours a week for the whole year, excluding Sundays and holidays; and if any minor shall be employed or permitted to work in more than one such place, the total number of hours of such employment shall not exceed forty-eight hours in any one week. The hours of labor of nonprofessional employees in a nursing or convalescent home, or rest home, or charitable home for the aged shall not exceed forty-eight hours in any one week. The commissioner may grant authority for office workers to exceed nine hours of labor in any one day; provided, that the hours of labor of such workers shall not exceed forty-eight in a week. Every

The employment of any such person at any time, other than as stated in said printed notice, shall be deemed a violation of this section unless such employment was to make up time lost on a previous day of the same week by reason of stopping, for not less than thirty consecutive minutes, of machinery upon which such person was employed or dependent for employment and unless a written report of the date, hour and duration of the stopping of such machinery is sent to the department within forty-eight hours of its occurrence; nor shall such overtime employment be authorized because of the stopping of machinery for the celebration of any holiday. Every employer engaged in furnishing public service, or in any other kind of business in respect to which the department shall find that public necessity or convenience requires the employment of minors by shifts during the different periods or parts of the day, shall post and keep posted in such manner as the commissioner may require in a conspicuous place in every room where such persons are employed a printed notice stating separately the hours of employment for each shift or tour of duty and the amount of time allowed for meals. A list by name of the employees, stating in which shift each is employed, shall be kept on file at each place of employment for inspection by employees and by officers charged with enforcement of this law. In cases of extraordinary emergency or extraordinary public requirement, this section shall not apply to employers engaged in public service or in other kinds of business in which shifts may be required as hereinbefore stated, but no such emergency or public requirement shall justify a variance from the preceding requirements of this section until a written report of the day and hour of its occurrence and its duration is sent to the department. This section shall not apply to persons who are declared by the commissioner to be employed in a professional, executive, administrative or supervisory capacity or as personal secretaries. The commissioner may grant authority for employees of hospitals to be employed for more than nine hours in one day and forty-eight hours in one week and outside of a period of ten consecutive hours, or for employees of nursing or convalescent homes, rest homes and charitable homes for the aged to be employed for more than forty-eight hours in one week, if he finds that an emergency exists.

Whoever violates this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty dollars.

A prisoner to whom a parole permit is granted shall be allowed to go upon parole outside prison walls and inclosure upon such terms and conditions as the parole board shall prescribe, but shall remain, while thus on parole, subject to the jurisdiction of such board until the expiration of the term of imprisonment to which he has been sentenced or until the date which has been determined by deductions from the maximum term of his sentence or sentences for good conduct or until such earlier date as the board shall determine that it is in the public interest for such prisoner to be granted a certificate of termination of sentence.

Chap. 191. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE DISCLOSURE OF CONSUMER CREDIT COSTS AND TERMS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate the disclosure of consumer credit costs and terms and to insure the continued conformity of the consumer credit laws of the commonwealth with federal law and regulations, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Subsection (a) of section 4 of chapter 140C of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 517 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The annual percentage is a measure of the cost of credit, expressed as a yearly rate. For open end credit accounts, an annual percentage rate shall be considered accurate if it is not more than one-eighth of one percentage point above or below the annual percentage rate determined in accordance with this subsection.

SECTION 2. Said section 4 of said chapter 140C is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (b), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(b) (1) The annual percentage rate is a measure of the cost of credit, expressed as a yearly rate, which relates the amount and timing of value received by the consumer to the amount and timing of payments made. For other than open end credit, the annual percentage rate shall be determined in accordance with either the actuarial method or the United States Rule method and shall be considered accurate if it is not more than one-eighth of one percentage point above or below the annual percentage rate determined in accordance with whichever method is used. The annual percentage rate determined in accordance with the actuarial method shall be the method set forth in Supplement I, prepared by the Board pursuant to the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act.

(2) (i) The Regulation Z Annual Percentage Rate Tables produced by the board may be used to determine the annual percentage rate, and any such rate determined from these tables in accordance with the instructions contained therein will comply with the requirements of this section. Volume I of the tables applies to single advance transactions involving up to four hundred and eighty monthly payments or one hundred and four weekly payments. It may be used for regular transactions, and for transactions with any of the following irregularities: an odd first period, an odd first payment, and an odd final payment. Volume II applies to transactions involving multiple advances and any type of payment or period irregularity.

(ii) Creditors may use any other computation tool in determining the annual percentage rate so long as the annual percentage rate so determined equals the annual percentage rate determined in accordance with actuarial method, within the degree of accuracy set forth in clause (1).

(3) If a single add-on rate is applied to all transactions with maturities up to sixty months and if all payments are equal in amount and period, a single annual percentage rate may be disclosed for all such transactions, provided that it is the highest annual percentage rate for any such transaction.

(4) For purposes of disclosing the annual percentage rate referred to in item (1) of subsections (g) and (h) of section seven, if the same finance charge is imposed on all balances within a specified range of balances, the annual percentage rate computed for the median balance may be disclosed for all of the balances; provided, however, that if the annual percentage rate computed for the median balance understates the annual percentage rate computed for the lowest balance by more than eight per cent of the latter rate, the annual percentage rate shall be computed on whatever lower balance will produce an annual percentage rate which does not result in an understatement of more than eight per cent of the rate determined on the lowest balance.

(5) In determining and disclosing the annual percentage rate, a creditor may disregard an irregularity in the first period that falls within the limits described below and any payment schedule irregularity that results from the irregular first period:

(i) For transactions in which the term is less than one year: a first period not more than six days shorter or thirteen days longer than a regular period;

(ii) For transactions in which the term is at least one year and less than ten years: a first period not more than eleven days shorter or twenty-one days longer than a regular period; or

(iii) For transactions in which the term is at least ten years: a first period shorter than or not more than thirty-two days longer than a regular period.

For purposes of this clause, the "first period" is the period from the date on which the finance charge begins to be earned to the date of the first payment, and the "term" is the period from the date on which the finance charge begins to be earned to the date of the final payment.

SECTION 3. Said section 4 of said chapter 140C is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (c), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(c) An error in disclosure of the annual percentage rate or finance charge shall not, in itself, be considered a violation of this chapter if:

(1) The error resulted from a corresponding error in any calculation tool, such as a chart, table, calculator or computer, used in good faith by the creditor, and

(2) Upon discovery of such error, the creditor promptly

(i) discontinues use of such calculation tool for disclosure purposes, and

(ii) notifies the commissioner in writing of the error in such calculation tool. The notification shall include an identification of such tool and a description of such error.

SECTION 4. Said section 4 of said chapter 140C is hereby further amended by striking out subsections (d) and (e), as so appearing.

SECTION 5. Section 7 of said chapter 140C, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 271 of the acts of 1979, is hereby further amended by adding the following two subsections:-

(r) In determining and disclosing the finance charge and the payment schedule under clause (3) of subsection (b), a creditor may disregard an irregular final payment or portion of a final payment that results from an irregular first period within the limits described below and may treat the irregular first period as if it were regular:

(i) for transactions in which the term is less than one year: a first period not more than six days shorter or thirteen days longer than a regular period;

(ii) for transactions in which the term is at least one year and less than ten years: a first period not more than eleven days shorter or twenty-one days longer than a regular period; or

(iii) for transactions in which the term is at least ten years: a first period shorter than or not more than ten days longer than a regular period.

(2) For purposes of this subsection, the first period is the period from the date on which the finance charge begins to be earned to the date of the first payment, and the term is the period from the date on which the finance charge begins to be earned to the date of the final payment.

(s) In making calculations and disclosures, a creditor need not take into account the effects of the following:

(1) payments collected in whole cents;

(2) dates of payments and advances changed because the scheduled date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday; and

(3) months having different numbers of days.

SECTION 6. Any person who complies with the provisions of sections four and seven of chapter one hundred and forty C of the General Laws in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this act shall be deemed to be in compliance with said sections four and seven, as amended by this act.

SECTION 7. Section six of this act shall cease to be operative on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty.

The commissioner of public health shall prescribe a form for physicians to use in obtaining such consent. This form shall be written in a manner designed to permit a person unfamiliar with medical terminology to understand its purpose and content, and shall include the following information: a description of the stage of development of the unborn child; the type of procedure which the physician intends to use to perform the abortion; and the possible complications associated with the use of the procedure and with the performance of the abortion itself; the availability of alternatives to abortion; and a statement that, under the law of the commonwealth, a person's refusal to undergo an abortion does not constitute grounds for the denial of public assistance. A pregnant woman seeking an abortion shall sign the consent form described above at least twenty-four hours in advance of the time for which the abortion is scheduled, except in an emergency requiring immediate action. She shall then return it to the physician performing the abortion who shall maintain it in his files and destroy it seven years after the date upon which the abortion is performed.

The said consent form and any other forms, transcript of evidence, or written findings and conclusions of a court, shall be confidential and may not be released to any person except by the pregnant woman's written informed consent or by a proper judicial order, other than to the pregnant woman herself, to whom such documents relate, the operating physician, or any person whose consent is required pursuant to this section, or under the law. If a pregnant woman is less than eighteen years of age and has not married, a physician shall not perform an abortion upon her unless he first obtains both the consent of the pregnant woman and that of her parents, except as hereinafter provided. In deciding whether to grant such consent, a pregnant woman's parents shall consider only their child's best interests. If one of the pregnant woman's parents has died or is unavailable to the physician within a reasonable time and in a reasonable manner, consent of the remaining parent shall be sufficient. If both parents have died or are otherwise unavailable to the physician within a reasonable time and in a reasonable manner, consent of the pregnant woman's guardian or guardians shall be sufficient. If the pregnant woman's parents are divorced, consent of the parent having custody shall be sufficient. If a pregnant woman less than eighteen years of age has not married and if one or both of her parents or guardians refuse to consent to the performance of an abortion, or if she elects not to seek the consent of one or both of her parents or guardians, a judge of the superior court department of the trial court shall, upon petition, or motion, and after an appropriate hearing, authorize a physician to perform the abortion if said judge determines that the pregnant woman is mature and capable of giving informed consent to the proposed abortion or, if said judge determines that she is not mature, that the performance of an abortion upon her would be in her best interests. A pregnant woman less than eighteen years of age may participate in proceedings in the superior court department of the trial court on her own behalf, and the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for her. The court shall, however, advise her that she has a right to court appointed counsel, and shall, upon her request, provide her with such counsel. Proceedings in the superior court department of the trial court under this section shall be confidential and shall be given such precedence over other pending matters that the court may reach a decision promptly and without delay so as to serve the best interests of the pregnant woman. A judge of the superior court department of the trial court who conducts proceedings under this section shall make in writing specific factual findings and legal conclusions supporting his decision and shall order a record of the evidence to be maintained including his own findings and conclusions.

Nothing in this section is intended to abolish or limit any common law rights of persons other than those whose rights it governs for the purpose of any civil action or any action for injunctive relief under section twelve U.

SECTION 35. Said chapter 367 is hereby further amended by striking out section 70B and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 70B. Chapter 58 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 18A, as most recently amended by section 54 of chapter 363A of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 18A. Commencing with the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, and continuing in every fiscal year thereafter, the state treasurer shall, subject to appropriation and upon certification of the commission, annually distribute from the General Fund to the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools on or before the dates specified, to the extent that sufficient funds are available on such dates, the full amounts of school aid due the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under the provisions of chapter seventy, provided, that not less than one-quarter thereof shall be paid on or before September fifteenth. A second payment shall be made on or before December fifteenth, and a third payment shall be

If upon any date of distribution in said fiscal years the amount appropriated is insufficient to pay the full amounts of school aid due under the provisions of chapter seventy the provisions of section eleven of said chapter seventy shall be applied in determining the actual amounts to be distributed to the several cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under said chapter.

The amounts so distributable or distributed to the cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools under this section shall be subject to verification, correction, and adjustment by the commission in the event of any error or omission in their determination. No such adjustment shall be made after June thirtieth of the second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which such amounts of aid were distributed. Amounts distributable or changed in such year shall have priority over all other amounts distributed or changed in such year.

For the purpose of this section, the agricultural schools maintained by the counties of Bristol, Essex and Norfolk shall be deemed to be regional school districts.

Section 70C. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter 70 and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 70.

SCHOOL FUNDS AND STATE AID FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Section 1. The purpose of the financial assistance provided by this chapter shall be to promote the equalization of educational opportunity in the public schools of the commonwealth, to reduce the reliance upon the local property tax in financing public schools, and to promote the equalization of the burden of the cost of school support to the respective cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools. Assistance provided under this chapter shall be designated as school aid.

In furtherance of such purpose, it is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that, subject to appropriation, no city or town shall receive less in school aid in the nineteen hundred and eighty and subsequent fiscal years than was received in the nineteen hundred and seventy-nine fiscal year.

For the purposes of this chapter, the agricultural schools maintained by the counties of Bristol, Essex, and Norfolk shall be deemed to be regional school districts.

Section 2. When used in this chapter, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Average current operating expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth", the sum of the total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in regular day programs in public schools in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools in the commonwealth during a fiscal year, as hereinafter defined, divided by the total of the sums of full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day programs in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools during said year, as hereinafter defined.

"Average direct service expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth", the sum of the total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in regular day programs in public schools in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools in the commonwealth during a fiscal year, as hereinafter defined, divided by the total of the sums of full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day programs in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools during said year, as hereinafter defined; provided, however, that the numerator of the fraction described in this paragraph shall include expenditures for instructional services, attendance services, health services, fixed charges and food services only. Expenditures for administration, athletic and other student activities, plant operation and maintenance, capital outlays, transportation and food for food services shall not be included in the numerator of said fraction.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of education.

"Equalized valuation per person in a city or town", the equalized valuation of all property in a city or town subject to local taxation, as most recently reported to the general court under section ten C of chapter fifty-eight, divided by the number of persons who reside in such city or town. In the case of a regional school district, the equalized valuation per person shall be determined in the following manner: first the equalized valuation per person of each member municipality in the regional school district shall be multiplied by the percentage of all pupils enrolled in the regional school district who are residents of that municipality; and second, the equalized valuations per person in all member municipalities as so modified shall be summed. In the case of a regional school district in which (1) the equalized valuation per person of any member municipality is more than three hundred per cent of the equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth, and, (2) at least one other member municipality has an equalized valuation per person of less than sixty per cent of the equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth and (3) all member municipalities with an equalized valuation per person of less than sixty per cent of the equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth together contribute more than fifty per cent of the total unweighted full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day, special needs, vocational and transitional bilingual programs in said regional school district during the fiscal year in which school aid is to be distributed under this chapter, then solely for the purpose of computing the equalized valuation per person of said regional school district the equalized valuation per person of no member municipality shall exceed three hundred per cent of the equalized valuation person in the commonwealth. Independent vocational schools under the jurisdiction of a board of local or district trustees for vocational education shall be assigned the equalized valuation per person of the city or town in which they are located.

"Equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth", the equalized valuation of all property in the commonwealth subject to local taxation, as most recently reported to the general court under the provisions of section ten C of chapter fifty-eight, divided by the total number of persons who reside in the commonwealth.

"Full-time equivalent pupil", the computational unit used for the purpose of determining the number of pupils enrolled in either public school or in a program approved under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and educated at the full or partial expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school in each of the programs described in section two A.

Such unit shall be computed as follows:

(1) a pupil enrolled full-time in only one such program shall be counted as one full-time equivalent pupil in that program; provided that a pupil enrolled in a kindergarten or preschool program which meets for a period of time each day no greater than one-half the minimum length for a school day as established by the board of education under section one G of chapter fifteen shall be counted as one-half of a full-time equivalent pupil in the program in which such pupil is enrolled;

(2) a pupil enrolled separately in two or more said programs shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil in each program with each such fraction equal to the number of hours the pupil spends in each program divided by the total number of hours the pupil spends in all programs;

(3) a pupil enrolled in two or more said programs which are carried on simultaneously, and are therefore consolidated into one program, shall be counted as a full-time equivalent pupil in that one of such simultaneous programs in which the pupil is enrolled which has the highest pupil weight, as hereinafter provided in the definition of weighted full-time equivalent pupil; and

(4) a pupil enrolled in a program of more than one hundred and eighty-five days duration shall be counted as one full-time equivalent pupil plus a fraction of one full-time equivalent pupil in that program, with such fraction equal to the number of days in excess of one hundred and eighty divided by one hundred and eighty. The commissioner may by regulation, under the direction of the state board, further define the computation of "full-time equivalent pupil" as he deems advisable.

"Local support percentage", the percentage determined during each fiscal year in accordance with the provisions of section eleven.

"Persons who reside in a city or town", the population of the city or town as enumerated in the most recent of the following: (1) the most recent official state census conducted by the state secretary; or (2) the most recent official federal census, adjusted by the state tax commission to conform as nearly as possible to the same definitions as used in such state census.

"Pupil", a person who is enrolled in either public school or in an approved program under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and educated at the full or partial expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school where said full or partial expense represents an actual outlay or disbursement by said city, town, regional school district, or independent vocational school.

"Regular day program", any public school day program not defined as special needs, vocational or transitional bilingual education under any other provision of the General Laws or regulations promulgated thereunder.

"School aid percentage", for each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school, the amount by which one hundred per cent exceeds the product of the local support percentage, as defined above, times the valuation percentage.

"State board", the state board of education.

"Sum of weighted full-time equivalent pupils", in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, the total number of weighted full-time equivalent pupils in each program hereinafter defined in schools under the jurisdiction of a regional school district committee, a school committee of a city or town, or a board of local or district trustees for vocational education as the case may be, and the totals so derived for each program then added together to produce a single sum for all said programs in each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school; provided, however, that any full-time equivalent pupils residing in a city or town who are receiving education in the schools of another city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, or in a program approved under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, on a tuition basis shall be deemed to be full-time equivalent pupils of their city or town of residence.

"Total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in regular day programs in a city, town, regional district or independent vocational school", the total amount expended by such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the previous fiscal year for the support of regular day programs in public schools exclusive of expenditures for transportation, payment of regional school district assessments, food for school food services and capital outlays, after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts and receipts from any other sources, to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures; provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received by (a) a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school from the commonwealth, and (b) a regional school district from the member cities and towns of said district, shall not be so deducted. The commissioner of education may, by regulation, further define the expenditures and receipts that may be included hereunder.

"Total expenditures for all pupils enrolled in all programs in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school", the total amount expended by a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the previous fiscal year for the support of all programs in public schools and programs approved under chapter seventy-one B and the regulations promulgated thereunder, exclusive of expenditures for transportation, payment of regional school district assessments, food for school food services and capital outlays, after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts, and receipts from any other sources, to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures; provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received by (a) a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school from the commonwealth, and (b) a regional school district from the member cities and towns of said district shall not be so deducted. The commissioner of education may, by regulation, further define the expenditures and receipts that may be included hereunder.

"Valuation percentage of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school", the proportion which the equalized valuation per person in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school bears to the equalized valuation per person in the commonwealth.

"Weighted full-time equivalent pupil", a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in any regular day, special needs, vocational or transitional bilingual education program multiplied by the pupil weight cost factor for the program or programs in which the pupil is enrolled as set forth in section two A.

Section 2A. (1) A full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program shall be assigned a pupil weight of 1.00; (2) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a transitional bilingual education program in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-one A and the regulations promulgated thereunder shall be assigned a pupil weight of 1.40; (3) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular education program with modifications, a regular education program with no more than twenty-five per cent time out, a regular education program with no more than sixty per cent time out, a substantially separate program, a home and hospital program, a day program or a preschool program for children with special needs, as defined in regulations promulgated under chapter seventy-one B, shall be assigned a pupil weight of 4.00; (4) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a residential program for children with special needs, as defined in regulations promulgated under chapter seventy-one B, shall be assigned a pupil weight of 6.30; (5) a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a vocational education program, as defined in chapter seventy-four and regulations promulgated thereunder, but excluding therefrom pupils enrolled in evening classes of vocational education and adult evening practical arts programs, shall be assigned a pupil weight of 2.00; (6) a pupil whose family income is below the poverty level, as determined by the department of education in accordance with the regulations promulgated under Title I of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended, shall be counted as one additional full-time equivalent pupil in programs of auxiliary services for educationally disadvantaged pupils, and assigned a pupil weight of 0.20 to reflect the possible needs of such a pupil for such auxiliary services, in addition to being counted in the regular day, special needs, vocational or transitional bilingual education program in which such pupil may be enrolled. Such auxiliary services shall seek to enable educationally disadvantaged pupils to fully benefit from regular day, special needs, vocational and transitional bilingual education programs. Approval criteria for auxiliary services for such educationally disadvantaged pupils shall be established by the board of education.

In determining the total number of full-time equivalent pupils enrolled in regular day program in a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school (1) all children enrolled in a private school and receiving educational services at the expense of a city or town as required under the provisions of section forty-eight and fifty-seven of chapter seventy-one or Section 613 of the Federal Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program, where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount so expended during the previous fiscal year, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in a regular day program in the commonwealth during said year; (2) pupils enrolled in adult education programs and other programs under the provisions of sections nine and nine A of chapter sixty-nine or sections eighteen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-six A, twenty-eight, seventy-one B, seventy-five, seventy-six, and seventy-seven of chapter seventy-one and any regulations promulgated thereunder and educated at the direct expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program, where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount so expended for instructional services during the previous fiscal year after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts and receipts from any other sources to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received under this chapter as reimbursements for such expenditures shall not be so deducted, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during said year; (3) pupils enrolled in evening programs of vocational education and adult evening practical arts under chapter seventy-four and the regulations promulgated thereunder at the direct expense of a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount expended for instructional services during the previous fiscal year after deducting therefrom any receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts and receipts from any other sources to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures provided, however, that amounts applicable to such expenditures received under this chapter as reimbursements for such expenditures shall not be so deducted, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in a regular day program in the commonwealth during said year; and (4) pupils enrolled in any program and educated at the direct expense of a city, town or regional school district who are residents of an institution and were not theretofore residents of said city, town or regional school district under the provisions of section eleven of chapter seventy-six shall be counted as a fraction of a full-time equivalent pupil enrolled in a regular day program where the numerator of said fraction is the total amount so expended for instructional services for said pupils during the previous fiscal year, after deducting therefrom any amount recovered from the commonwealth under said section eleven, and the denominator of which is the average current operating expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during said year.

Section 3. Subject to the limitations specified in sections six and seven, the amount of school aid to be paid to each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school in a fiscal year under this chapter shall be determined by multiplying together: (1) the school aid percentage for such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school; (2) the average current operating expenditures per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during the previous fiscal year; and (3) the sum of the weighted full-time equivalent pupils in such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the fiscal year in question.

Section 4. The cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools shall report to the commissioner, in such form as the commissioner may require, all information necessary to compute the amount of school aid to be paid under this chapter. Such reports shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section six of chapter seventy-two. The commissioner may request other such reports as he deems necessary and as of such dates as he may require to carry out the purposes of this section.

The information submitted under this section shall be subject to approval, verification and adjustment. The commissioner shall be responsible for the verification of such information, including but not limited to (a) the numbers of full-time equivalent pupils within each program listed in section two A reported by each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school; (b) certification that programs in transitional bilingual education under chapter seventy-one A have been carried out in accordance with the requirements of said chapter seventy-one A, the regulations promulgated thereunder, and approved plans submitted earlier by a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school; (c) approval and certification that expenditures under chapter seventy-one B are reasonable, that funds for special education personnel, materials and equipment, tuition, rent and consultant services were actually expended, and that such special education classes, instruction periods and other programs have met the standards and requirements prescribed by the regulations promulgated under said chapter seventy-one B; and (d) approval of vocational education programs under chapter seventy-four and regulations promulgated thereunder; (e) approval of adult education programs and other programs under sections nine and nine A of chapter sixty-nine and sections eighteen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-six A, twenty-eight, seventy-one B, seventy-five, seventy-six and seventy-seven of chapter seventy-one and regulations promulgated thereunder. When undertaking such verification, the commissioner shall employ a number of criteria in examining the information so reported, including but not limited to (a) the proportion which the total enrollment in each program listed in section two A reported by each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school bears to the total enrollment in all programs so reported, and (b) the percentage change in the proportional enrollment in each program listed in section two A reported by each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school from the prior fiscal year. An audit of the information submitted by a city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school shall be conducted by the commissioner in each instance of significant change in the annual proportional enrollment of any program listed in section two A.

A city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school may submit to the commissioner amendments to such a previously completed report in the event of any error in the preparation of said reports; provided, however, that no such amendment may be filed after June thirtieth of the fiscal year succeeding that in which amounts of school aid were computed and paid on the basis of the previously submitted report.

Any such adjustment which reduces or increases, as the case may be, the school aid to which a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school is entitled shall be taken into account in the school aid to be paid to such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school as soon as may be after the adjustment is made and certified to the comptroller and department of revenue. No such adjustment shall be made after June thirtieth of the second fiscal year following the fiscal year in which such amounts of aid were distributed.

Section 5. The commissioner shall certify to the comptroller and to the department of revenue no later than December thirty-first prior to the fiscal year in which the aid is to be paid the estimated amount of school aid to be paid to each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school. Before the final distributions are made under the provisions of section eighteen A of chapter fifty-eight, the commissioner shall make a final certification to the comptroller and to said department of revenue of the full amount due the cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools.

Section 6. The aid paid to any city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school under this chapter shall not be less than one hundred and seven per cent of the sum of the amounts due said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school from the commonwealth during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight under the provisions of the formulae contained in the following sections of the General Laws, as such formulae were applied during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, and as such amounts due were affected by the provisions of the second and third paragraph of paragraph (3) of subsection (b) of section eighteen A of chapter fifty-eight; chapter seventy; sections four and eight of chapter seventy-one A; the first paragraph of section thirteen of chapter seventy-one B; sections nine, eleven and twelve of chapter seventy-four; and section ten of chapter seventy-four, excluding therefrom reimbursements for tuition fees for children placed in a city or town by the commissioner of public welfare or the youth service board. Said sums shall exclude any amounts of reimbursements due under said statutes for expenditures incurred in the transportation of pupils. In determining the amounts due from the commonwealth in the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, the amount of school aid due under this chapter to cities and towns which were members of regional school districts shall be deemed to have been due to each of their respective regional school districts in the same proportions as the current operating assessments for the cost of regular day program levied by each regional school district upon each such member city or town during said fiscal year bear to the total current operating expenditures, including such assessments, for all pupils enrolled in regular day program in each such city or town during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight. The amounts of school aid due, as so determined, shall be deducted from the amounts deemed to have been due such member cities and towns from the commonwealth under this chapter during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight. The commissioner may, by regulation, under the direction of the state board, further define the amounts of aid due or deemed to have been due each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school from the commonwealth under said provisions of chapters seventy, seventy-one A, seventy-one B and seventy-four. Said regulations may include the amounts of aid due or deemed to have been due any regional school district established, reorganized, or terminated after the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight.

Section 7. In each fiscal year, each city, town, regional school district and independent vocational school shall expend at least eighty-five per cent of the product obtained by multiplying the average direct service expenditure per pupil in regular day program in the commonwealth during the previous fiscal year by the sum of weighted full-time equivalent pupils in the city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the current fiscal year. The amount so determined shall be expended for the support of the school programs listed in section two A, exclusive of expenditures for administration, athletic and other student body activities, plan operation and maintenance, transportation, payment of regional school district assessments, food for school food programs, and capital outlay; provided, however, that amounts received by a regional school district from the member cities and towns of said district which are applicable to such expenditures for such programs shall not be so deducted.

If a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school fails to expend, from sources other than the amounts of aid paid under this chapter, an amount equal to the difference between (1) the amount determined in accordance with the first sentence of this section, and (2) either the total estimated amount of school aid to have been received, or the total school aid actually received by said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during the fiscal year in question, whichever is greater, then the commissioner shall certify to the comptroller and the department of revenue an amount equal to the school aid otherwise due to be paid under this chapter during the next fiscal year, multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the actual amount expended by said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, from sources other than the amounts of aid paid under this chapter, and the denominator of which is the difference as set forth above.

The commissioner shall annually calculate, on or before January thirty-first, to the nearest tenth of one per cent, the proportion which the total amount of school aid paid under this chapter during the previous fiscal year bears to the sum of the total expenditures for all pupils, enrolled in all programs in all cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools during said previous fiscal year, until said proportion equals at least thirty-five per cent. The provisions of this section shall then apply to the expenditures of all cities, towns, regional school districts, and independent vocational schools commencing with the third fiscal year following that in which said percentage first equals at least thirty-five per cent, and in every fiscal year thereafter.

Section 8. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the school aid paid under this chapter to a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be deposited with the treasurer of the city, town, or regional school district, and shall be applied in the first instance, subject to the limitations specified below, to total expenditures for current operating costs in all programs during the fiscal year in which payments are so made. In the event that the estimated amount of school aid to be received by a city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school exceeds the amount included for such expenditures within the total school department, regional school district or independent vocational school budget approved by said city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, after first deducting from such budgeted expenditures any other estimated receipts for tuition, receipts from the federal government, the proceeds of any invested funds and grants, gifts, and receipts from the commonwealth or any other source, to the extent that such receipts are applicable to such expenditures, such access shall be available for application to expenditures for any municipal purpose by such city or town, or used by such regional school district to reduce the operating assessments levied upon member cities and towns during the following fiscal year. In the event that the amount of such school aid actually received during the fiscal year exceeds the estimated school aid, such excess shall be added to the estimated school aid to be received during the following fiscal year and applied in said year in accordance with the provisions of this section. In the event that the amount of such school aid actually received and available during the fiscal year under the provisions of this section for such operating expenditures, plus receipts from any other sources applicable to such expenditures as defined above, exceed the total actual amount of such expenditures, such excess shall be added to the estimated school aid to be received during the following year and applied in aforesaid manner. The entire amounts of such excess school aid carried over from any previous year, plus the entire estimated amount of school aid to be received by a city or town under this chapter during the fiscal year shall, however, be treated by the board of assessors as school incomes when computing the school tax rate for said fiscal year under the provisions of section twenty-three C of chapter fifty-nine. The entire estimated amount of school aid to be received by a regional school district during the fiscal year, plus any amount of such excess school aid carried over from any previous year, shall be used by said district to reduce the operating assessments levied by such district upon member cities and towns during the following year.

The commissioner shall determine the portions of the school aid received by each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school which are allocated on account of the total number of weighted full-time equivalent pupils reported for each program listed in section two A. Not less than seventy per cent of the aforesaid portions of school aid so determined for each said program and received by each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school under this chapter shall be expended for instructional services, attendance services, health services, fixed charges and food services in each program listed in section two A in which full-time equivalent pupils were reported by the city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school during said fiscal year.

Section 9. The school fund of the commonwealth, known as the Massachusetts School Fund, with future additions shall constitute a permanent fund. Chap. 264. AN ACT MAKING LOANS UP TO SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS SUBJECT TO THE LAW REGULATING THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST THAT MAY BE CHARGED BY PERSONS ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS OF MAKING SMALL LOANS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 140 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 96, as most recently amended by chapter 190 of the acts of 1967, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 96. No person shall directly or indirectly engage in the business of making loans of six thousand dollars or less, if the amount to be paid on any such loan for interest and expenses exceeds in the aggregate an amount equivalent to twelve per cent per annum upon the sum loaned, without first obtaining from the commissioner of banks, in sections ninety-six to one hundred and fourteen, inclusive, called the commissioner, a license to carry on the said business in the town where the business is to be transacted. When an application for a loan or for an endorsement or guarantee or for the purchase of a note is made by any person within this commonwealth, and the money is advanced or the endorsement or guarantee is made or furnished by any person without this commonwealth, the transaction shall be deemed a loan made within this commonwealth, and such a loan and the parties making it shall be subject to sections ninety-six to one hundred and thirteen, inclusive. The buying or endorsing of notes or the furnishing of guarantee or security for compensation shall be considered to be engaging in the business of making small loans within said sections, but the foregoing provisions of this sentence shall not apply in the case of any transaction which involves any note or other instrument evidencing the indebtedness of a buyer to the seller of goods, services or insurance for a part or all of the purchase price; provided, however, that any advance of money by such seller or, by a person acting on his behalf for the purpose of paying an existing indebtedness of such buyer or for any other purpose shall constitute a loan of money subject to the provisions of this section. For the purposes of said sections, the amount to be paid upon any loan of six thousand dollars or less for interest or expenses shall include all sums paid or to be paid by or on behalf of the borrower for interest, brokerage, recording fees, commissions, services, extension of loan, forbearance to enforce payment, and all other sums charged against or paid or to be paid by the borrower for making or securing directly or indirectly the loan, and shall include all such sums when paid by or on behalf of or charged against the borrower for or on account of making or securing the loan, directly or indirectly, to or by any person, other than the lender, if such payment or charge was known to the lender at the time of making the loan, or might have been ascertained by reasonable inquiry. Any person directly or indirectly engaging, for a fee, commission, bonus or other consideration, in the business of negotiating, arranging, aiding or assisting the borrower or lender in procuring or making loans of six thousand dollars or less, for which the amount paid or to be paid for interest and expenses, including all amounts paid or to be paid to any other party therefor, exceeds in the aggregate an amount equivalent to twelve per cent per annum, whether such loans are actually made by such person or by another party, shall be deemed to be engaged in the business of making small loans, and shall be subject to sections ninety-six to one hundred and twelve, inclusive. If, after all deductions or payments, whether on account of interest, expenses or principal made substantially contemporaneously with the making of the loan, the amount retained by the borrower be six thousand dollars or less, the transaction shall be deemed to be a loan in the amount of the sum so retained by the borrower after such deductions or payments, notwithstanding that the loan be nominally for a greater sum.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to loans which are subject to the provisions of section ninety A.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 140 is hereby further amended by striking out section 110, as most recently amended by chapter 196 of the acts of 1967, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 110. Whoever, not being duly licensed as provided in section ninety-six, on his own account or on account of any other person not so licensed, engages in or carries on, directly or indirectly, either separately or in connection with or as a part of any other business, the business of making loans or buying notes or furnishing endorsements or guarantees, to which sections ninety-six to one hundred and eleven, inclusive, apply, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than ten years or in a jail or house of correction for not more than two and one-half years, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any loan made or note purchased or endorsement or guarantee furnished by an unlicensed person in violation of said sections shall be void. In any judicial proceedings under said sections the fact that the defendant has made or assisted in the making of two or more loans of six thousand dollars or less, upon which there has directly or indirectly been paid or charged, for interest, brokerage, recording fees, commissions, services, extension of loan, forbearance to enforce payment or other expenses, a sum which exceeds in the aggregate an amount equivalent to twelve per cent per annum upon the amount actually received by the borrower, whether such sum has been paid to or charged by the defendant or paid to or charged by any other person, shall be prima facie evidence that the defendant has engaged in and carried on the business of making loans to which sections ninety-six to one hundred and twelve, inclusive, apply.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 140 is hereby further amended by striking out section 114A, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 401 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 114A. Trust companies, savings banks, co-operative banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, national banking associations and federal savings and loan associations shall not be subject to the provisions of sections ninety-six to one hundred and fourteen, inclusive; provided, that such institutions may not take, receive, reserve or charge interest, expenses and other considerations for making or securing a loan of six thousand dollars or less in excess of those permitted by section one hundred. Any loan of six thousand dollars or less made by any trust company, savings bank, co-operative bank, savings and loan association, credit union, national banking association or federal savings and loan association on which charges for interest, expenses and other considerations exceed those permitted by section one hundred may be declared void by the supreme judicial or superior court in equity upon petition by the person to whom the loan was made, and any such trust company, bank, association or credit union making such loan shall be subject to a fine of not more than five hundred dollars. This section shall not be construed as preventing a rate of charge for interest, expenses and other consideration on one or more portions of a loan in excess of the permitted maximum rate of charge applicable to said portion or portions, provided, that the composite rate of charge on the whole loan produces an amount equal to or less than that which would be produced were said maximum rate of charge applied to said loan. Extension, default or deferment charges shall not be deemed to be interest, expenses and other considerations in determining the maximum rate of charge that may be taken, received, reserved or charged for said loan.

SECTION 4. Until such time as the small loans regulatory board shall establish a maximum interest rate on that part of the unpaid principal balance of a loan exceeding three thousand dollars but not exceeding six thousand dollars, the maximum charge for interest, expenses and other considerations on such unpaid principal balance shall not exceed the maximum rate of interest established by said board on the unpaid principal balance of a loan not exceeding three thousand dollars.

Approved June 11, 1980.

Chapter 156B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 61 to 66, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following six sections:-

Section 61. Directors of a corporation who vote to authorize any distribution by the corporation to one or more of its stockholders, whether by way of a dividend, repurchase or redemption of stock, or otherwise, except a distribution of stock of the corporation, which is in violation of the corporation's articles of organization shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the amount by which such distribution exceeds that which could have been made without violation of the corporation's articles of organization, but only to the extent such excess distribution is not repaid to the corporation. If the corporation is insolvent or is rendered insolvent by the making of any such distribution, whether or not in violation of the articles of organization, the directors who voted to authorize such distribution shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for the amount of such distribution made when the corporation is insolvent, or for the amount of such distribution which exceeds that which could have been made without rendering the corporation insolvent, but in either event only to the extent such distribution, or such excess, is not repaid to the corporation. In no event shall the directors who authorized any such distribution be liable under this section if such distribution could have been made without violating the articles of organization or rendering the corporation insolvent at the time when such distribution was authorized, although subsequent payment of such distribution or any part thereof causes such violation or insolvency.

Section 62. The directors who vote for, and the officers who knowingly participate in, any loan of any assets of a corporation to any of its officers or directors shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation for any portion of such loan which is not repaid unless a majority of the directors who are not direct or indirect recipients of such loan or the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote for directors which holders are not direct or indirect recipients of such loan, shall have approved or ratified the making of such loan as one which in the judgment of such directors or such holders may reasonably be expected to benefit the corporation.

Section 63. The directors and officers of a corporation who sign any statement or report required by this chapter which is false in any material representation shall be jointly and severally liable to any creditor of the corporation who has relied upon such false representation to the extent of the actual damage sustained by him by reason of such reliance; provided, that such directors and officers shall not be liable to any creditor on account of such false representation for debts contracted or contracts entered into after the filing of a statement or report in which such false representation is corrected.

Section 64. The incorporators and officers of a corporation who sign any articles of organization, articles of amendment, or articles of consolidation or merger required by this chapter which are false in any material respect with regard to said corporation shall be jointly and severally liable to any stockholder of said corporation or of the resulting or surviving corporation, as the case may be, for the actual damage sustained by such stockholder by reason of reliance on such false statement, except that such incorporators and officers shall not be liable to any such stockholder by reason of reliance on such false statement occurring after the filing of corrected or amended articles of organization, articles of amendment, or articles of consolidation or merger in which such false statement is corrected.

Section 65. A director, officer or incorporator of a corporation shall perform his duties as such, including, in the case of a director, his duties as a member of a committee of the board upon which he may serve, in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation, and with such care as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances. In performing his duties, a director, officer or incorporator shall be entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports or records, including financial statements, books of account and other financial records, in each case presented by or prepared by or under the supervision of (1) one or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the director, officer or incorporator reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented, or (2) counsel, public accountants or other persons as to matters which the director, officer or incorporator reasonably believes to be within such person's professional or expert competence, or (3) in the case of a director, a duly constituted committee of the board upon which he does not serve, as to matters within its delegated authority, which committee the director reasonably believes to merit confidence, but he shall not be considered to be acting in good faith if he has knowledge concerning the matter in question that would cause such reliance to be unwarranted. The fact that a director, officer or incorporator so performed his duties shall be a complete defense to any claim asserted against him, whether under sections sixty to sixty-four, inclusive, or otherwise, except as expressly provided by statute, by reason of his being or having been a director, officer or incorporator of the corporation.

Section 66. Any director, officer or incorporator against whom a claim is successfully asserted under this chapter shall be entitled to contribution from the other directors or incorporators who voted for, and the other officers who participated in, the action upon which the claim is asserted, and who did not perform their duties in connection with the matter upon which the claim is asserted in accordance with the standards set forth in section sixty-five.

Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan, and such loans shall be payable in not more than thirty years from their dates. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall be subject to the provisions of chapter forty-four of the General Laws pertaining to such districts.

SECTION 5. The district shall, at the time of authorizing said loan or loans, provide for the payment thereof in accordance with section four, and, when a vote to that effect has been passed, a sum which, with the income derived from water rates, shall be sufficient to pay the annual expense of operating its water works and the interest as it accrues on the bonds or notes issued as aforesaid by the district, and to make such payments on the principal as may be required under this act, shall without further vote be assessed upon the district by the assessors of said town of Ashfield annually thereafter until the debt incurred by said loan or loans is extinguished.

SECTION 6. Any land taken or acquired under this act shall be managed, improved and controlled by the board of water commissioners hereinafter provided for, in such manner as they shall deem for the best interest of the district. All authority vested in said board by this section shall be subject to section nine.

SECTION 7. Whenever a tax is duly voted by the district for the purposes of this act, the clerk shall send a certified copy of the vote to the assessors of said towns, who shall assess the same on property within the district in the same manner in all respects in which town taxes are required by law to be assessed; provided, that no estate shall be subject to any tax assessed on account of the system of water supply under this act if, in the judgment of the board of water commissioners hereinafter provided for, after a hearing, due notice whereof shall have been given, such estate is so situated that it can receive no aid in the extinguishment of fire from the said system of water supply, or if such estate is so situated that the buildings thereon, or the buildings that might be constructed thereon, could not be supplied with water from said system in any ordinary or reasonable manner; but all other estates in the district shall be deemed to be benefited and shall be subject to such tax. A certified list of the estates exempt from taxation under the provisions of this section shall annually be sent by said board of water commissioners to said assessors, at the same time at which the clerk shall send a certified copy of the vote as aforesaid. The assessment shall be committed to the town collectors, who shall collect said tax in the manner provided by law for the collection of town taxes, and shall deposit the proceeds thereof with the district treasurer for the use and benefit of the district. The district may collect interest on overdue taxes in the manner in which interest is authorized to be collected on town taxes.

SECTION 8. Any meeting of the voters of the territory included within the boundaries set forth in section one to be held prior to the acceptance of this act, and any meeting of the voters of the district to be held prior to the qualification of a majority of the water commissioners, shall be called, on petition of ten or more legal voters therein, by a warrant from the selectmen of said towns, or from a justice of the peace, directed to one of the petitioners, requiring him to give notice of the meeting by posting copies of the warrant in two or more public places in the district seven days at least before the time of the meeting. Such justice of the peace, or one of the selectmen, shall preside at such meeting until a clerk is chosen and sworn, and the clerk shall preside until a moderator is chosen. At any meeting held hereunder prior to the acceptance of this act, after the choice of a moderator for the meeting the question of the acceptance of this act shall be submitted to the voters, and if it is accepted by a majority of the voters present and voting thereon it shall thereupon take effect, and the meeting may then proceed to act on the other articles in the warrant. After the qualification of a majority of the water commissioners, meetings of the district shall be called by warrant under their hands, unless some other method be provided by by-law or vote of the district.

SECTION 9. The district shall, after the acceptance of this act as aforesaid, elect by ballot, either at the same meeting at which this act shall have been accepted, or thereafter, at an annual meeting or at a special meeting called for the purpose, three persons, inhabitants of and voters in said district, to hold office, one until the expiration of three years, one until the expiration of two years, and one until the expiration of one year, from the day of the next succeeding annual district meeting, to constitute a board of water commissioners; and at every annual district meeting following such next succeeding annual district meeting one such commissioner shall be elected by ballot for the term of three years. The date of the next annual meeting shall be fixed by by-law or by vote of the board of water commissioners, but in no event shall it be later than fifteen months subsequent to the date on which the water commissioners were first elected. All the authority granted to said district by this act, except sections four and five, and not otherwise specifically provided for, shall be vested in said board of water commissioners, who shall be subject, however, to such instructions, rules and regulations as the district may by vote impose. At the meeting at which said water commissioners are first elected and at each annual district meeting held thereafter, the district shall elect by ballot, each for a term of one year, a clerk and a treasurer of the district. The treasurer shall not be a water commissioner, and shall give bond to the district in such an amount as may be approved by said water commissioners and with a surety company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth as surety. A majority of said water commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Any vacancy occurring in said board from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by said district at any legal meeting called for the purpose. No money shall be drawn from the treasury of the district on account of its water works except upon a written order of said water commissioners or a majority of them.

SECTION 10. Said board of water commissioners shall fix just and equitable prices and rates for the use of water, and shall prescribe the time and manner of payment. The income of the water works shall be appropriated to defray all operating expenses, interest charges and payments on the principal as they shall accrue upon any bonds or notes issued under authority of this act. If there should be a net surplus remaining after providing for the aforesaid charges, it may be appropriated for such new construction as said water commissioners may recommend, and in case a surplus should remain after payment for such new construction the water rates shall be reduced proportionately. Said water commissioners shall annually, and as often as the district may require, render a report upon the condition of the works under their charge, and an account of their doings, including an account of receipts and expenditures.

SECTION 11. The district may adopt by-laws, prescribing by whom and how meetings of the district may be called, notified, and conducted; and, upon the application of ten or more legal voters in the district, meetings may also be called by warrant as provided in section eight. The district may also establish rules and regulations for the management of its water works, not inconsistent with this act or with any other provision of law, and may choose such other officers not provided for in this act as it may deem necessary or proper.

SECTION 12. Whoever wilfully or wantonly corrupts, pollutes or diverts any water obtained or supplied under this act, or wilfully or wantonly injures any reservoir, well, standpipe, aqueduct, pipe or other property owned or used by the district for any of the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to the district three times the amount of damages assessed therefor, to be recovered in an action of tort, and upon conviction of any of the above wilful or wanton acts shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

SECTION 13. Upon a petition in writing addressed to said board of water commissioners requesting that certain real estate, accurately described therein, located in said town and abutting on said district and not otherwise served by a public water supply be included within the limits thereof, and signed by the owners of such real estate, or a major portion of such real estate, said water commissioners shall cause a duly warned meeting of the district to be called, at which meeting the voters may vote on the question of including said real estate within the district. If a majority of the voters present and voting thereon vote in the affirmative the district clerk shall within ten days file with the town clerk of said town and with the state secretary an attested copy of said petition and vote; and thereupon said real estate shall become and be part of the district and shall be holden under this act in the same manner and to the same extent as the real estate described in section one.

Upon receipt of the application, the board shall cause an investigation to be made, taking into consideration the need for the improvements to be financed from the proceeds of the proposed qualified bonds, the ability of the city, town or regional school district and all other entities which include all or any part of its territory to provide other essential public improvements and services and to pay when due the principal and interest on its debts, the reasonableness of the amounts to be expended for each of the purposes or improvements to be financed, the amount of state local aid payments likely to be made to the city, town or regional school district with the payments to be made on the proposed bonds, and such other factors as the board may deem necessary or advisable. The cost of the investigation shall be assessed against the city, town or regional school district and may be paid from the proceeds of the qualified bonds or of any temporary notes in anticipation of the sale of the bonds. The costs assessed shall in no case be less than two hundred and fifty dollars.

Section 3. In considering any vote submitted to it and before certifying its approval thereof and authorization of qualified bonds, the board may require, in writing, the city council, town meeting or regional district school committee to adopt resolutions restricting or limiting any future proceedings with respect to the authorization of bonds or other matters deemed by the board to affect any estimate made or to be made by it as a result of the investigation made in accordance with section two. Every resolution so adopted shall constitute a valid and binding obligation of the city, town or regional school district running to and enforceable by the board; provided, however, that upon application of the city, town or regional school district, the board may, after investigation thereof, release the city, town or regional school district from any restrictions or limitations contained in the resolution, if it finds that such release is in the best interests of the city, town or regional school district and will not impair the security of the qualified bonds.

Section 4. Within sixty days after the submission to it of an application under section two, the board shall authorize the issuance of qualified bonds, if it is satisfied that the issuance of qualified bonds is appropriate. The authorization shall be recorded in a resolution adopted by the board. Failure to adopt an authorizing resolution within this sixty day period shall be a denial of the application.

Section 5. All qualified bonds when issued shall contain a recital to the effect that they are issued pursuant to the Qualified Bond Act and are entitled to the benefits of the provisions of this chapter. The final maturity of such qualified bonds shall occur not less than ten nor more than thirty years from the date of issuance without regard to any limitation as to maturities or amounts of annual installments for bonds provided in any other law.

Section 7. The treasurer of each city, town or regional school district which issues qualified bonds shall certify to the state treasurer the maturity schedule, interest rate, and dates of payment of debt service on the qualified bonds within ten days after the date of issuance of the qualified bonds. The state treasurer or the paying agents approved by him shall become the paying agents for the principal and interest on such qualified bonds. The state treasurer shall pay such debt service and after payment shall withhold from the distributable aid payable to the city, town or regional school district an amount which will be sufficient to pay the debt service on the qualified bonds or, if the amount of such distributable aid in any year is insufficient for this purpose, from any other amounts payable by the commonwealth to such city, town or regional school district under any provision of law. From the time withheld by the state treasurer, all such distributable aid or other amounts so withheld and paid shall be exempt from being levied upon, taken, sequestered, or applied toward paying the debts of the city, town or regional school district other than for payment of debt service on such qualified bonds.

All costs accruing to the commonwealth as the result of such qualified bond issues, including administrative costs as well as loss of interest income, shall be the liability of the city, town or regional school district and shall be assessed in accordance with section twenty of chapter fifty-eight.

Section 8. The commonwealth hereby covenants with the purchasers, holders and owners, from time to time, of qualified bonds that it will not repeal, revoke, recind, modify, or amend the provisions of section seven so as to create any lien or charge on or pledge, assignment, diversion, withholding of payment, or other use of or deduction from any distributable aid or other amounts to be paid to any holder of qualified bonds which is prior in time or superior in right to the payment required by said section; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to require the commonwealth to continue to make payments of distributable aid or other amounts or to limit or prohibit the commonwealth from repealing or amending any law heretofore or hereafter enacted for the payment or apportionment of such aid or other amounts, of the manner, time, or amount thereof.

Section 9. The certification to the state treasurer as to the amount payable in any year for debt service on such qualified bonds shall be fully conclusive as to such qualified bonds from and after the time of issuance of such qualified bonds, notwithstanding any irregularity, omission, or failure as to compliance with any of the provisions of this chapter with respect to such qualified bonds; provided, however, that such qualified bonds contain a recital to the effect that they are entitled to the benefits of the provisions of the Qualified Bond Act. All persons shall be forever estopped from denying that such qualified bonds are entitled to the benefits of the provisions of this chapter.

Section 10. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to relieve any city or town of the obligation imposed on it by law to appropriate and to include in its annual tax levy amounts necessary to pay, in each year, the principal and interest maturing and becoming due on any qualified bonds issued by such city, town or regional school district; provided, however, that to the extent of the amounts of distributable aid or other amounts payable to such city, town or regional school district which have been withheld and have been or are to be forwarded to the paying agent for such qualified bonds, the state treasurer shall certify to the city auditor or town accountant, or officer having similar duties in a city or town, or to the treasurer of the regional school district, as the case may be, the amounts so withheld and thereafter such amounts shall be credited to the appropriations of the city, town or regional school district for the current fiscal year; and provided, further, that to the extent to which distributable aid is not appropriated by the commonwealth in any fiscal year, such appropriated amounts of the city, town or regional school district shall be used to pay the debt service maturing and becoming due in such year on such qualified bonds of the city, town or regional school district; and provided, further, that amounts of distributable aid and other amounts withheld and paid to a paying agent under section seven shall be included in the estimated receipts certified by the commissioner under section twenty-five A of chapter fifty-eight and used by the assessors in determining the tax rate in accordance with section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine. The commissioner may promulgate rules and regulations which, in his judgment, ensure that the use and effect of qualified bonds is properly and adequately reported to the public.

Section 11. The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed to prohibit any city, town or regional school district from applying for authorization to issue qualified bonds pursuant to the terms of this chapter in connection with the construction, reconstruction, development, extension, or improvement of property, notwithstanding that the construction, reconstruction, development, extension, improvement or acquisition was authorized, approved or commenced prior to the effective date of this chapter.

Section 11A. The proceedings of the city or town authorizing the issuance of qualified bonds may contain such covenants and provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants restricting the issuance of additional qualified bonds.

Section 12. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to pledge the credit and assets of the commonwealth to the support of bonds issued pursuant to this chapter or to guarantee payment or stand as surety for the payment of bonds pursuant to this chapter.

SECTION 69. The department of elder affairs shall develop a plan for the provision of a protective services program in the home care program, as established by section four of chapter nineteen A of the General Laws; provided, however, that prior to the implementation of said plan, the secretary of elder affairs shall submit to the house and senate committees on ways and means on a quarterly basis the details of said plan; and provided, further, that said report shall include, but not be

SECTION 3. At any time, and from time to time after the merger has become effective, copies of the certificate provided for in section two may be certified and issued by the commissioner and may be filed in the several registries of deeds and land court registry districts of the commonwealth and in any filing offices established under the Massachusetts Uniform Commercial Code which filings shall be conclusive evidence for all purposes of the succession by Union Warren Savings Bank to all rights and interests of Suburban Credit Union which may or were intended to be evidenced secured or perfected by filings or recordings in any such places.

All other rights, obligations and relations of the Suburban Credit Union as of the effective date of the consolidation shall remain unimpaired and Union Warren Savings Bank shall, by such merger, succceed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by such merger, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before such merger.

(3) A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which either of the banks is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have been discontinued by reason of such merger, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if such merger had not been made; or Union Warren Savings Bank may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which Suburban Credit Union was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against Union Warren Savings Bank that might have been rendered for or against Suburban Credit Union had such merger not occurred.

(4) After the effective date of the merger, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by Suburban Credit Union may be completed by Union Warren Savings Bank and publication begun by Suburban Credit Union may be continued in the name of Union Warren Savings Bank. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers of Union Warren Savings Bank, but any such instrument shall recite that it is the successor of Suburban Credit Union which commenced the foreclosure.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 60, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 124 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 60. The payment of ordinary dividends shall be subject to the conditions, limitations and requirements of this section.

1. Dividend Period. - An ordinary dividend shall be authorized and declared by the trustees at least every six months, for such periods as shall be provided by the by-laws. In the event that such corporation at any time changes its dividend periods, an ordinary dividend may be authorized and declared for such time as may be necessary to effect an adjustment in dividends to the new periods. Ordinary dividends shall be declared, not more than four months before the date payable as shown by the report required by section fifty-nine, after making such provisions as the trustees shall determine pursuant to their election made in accordance with subparagraph (e) of paragraph 1 of section twenty-two B, to credit to systematic savings account deposits or to reserve, subject to the approval of the commissioner, the bonus dividends on such deposits.

2. Rate and Computation. - Ordinary dividends shall be at such rate as the trustees shall determine and, if not withdrawn, shall be treated as deposits in computing any dividends thereafter paid. If the by-laws or regulations so provide, such dividends may be declared (a) upon deposits of one, two, three, four or five months standing at the end of each dividend period; provided, however, that in such case, if the by-laws or regulations of the corporation so provide, a deposit made on or before the ninth day after the day on which deposits begin to draw dividends or interest, or if such ninth day be a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday on or before the next business day succeeding such ninth day, and remaining on deposit through the balance of the monthly period may be construed as having been on deposit one full month within the meaning of this section, or (b) from the date of deposit to the end of the dividend period on sums which are on deposit at the end of the dividend period, or (c) from the date of deposit to the date of withdrawal on sums withdrawn before the end of the dividend period, so long as the account in which such sums were on deposit shall remain open until the end of the dividend period with a balance of at least ten dollars, and from the date of deposit to the end of the dividend period on all sums remaining on deposit at the end of each dividend period. If the by-laws and regulations so provide, and if ordinary dividends are declared on deposits as provided in either of clauses (a) and (b) of this paragraph, any of the deposits authorized by sections twenty-one and twenty-two may be received in a separate class of account on which dividends shall be declared at the time when and for the same dividend period as that for which any ordinary dividend is declared and at a rate which shall be at least one-eighth of one per cent per annum less than that declared for any ordinary dividend. Dividends on any such class of account shall be payable at the end of the dividend period on deposits as provided in clause (c) of this paragraph. Such dividends shall be treated as ordinary dividends for all other purposes of this chapter. If the by-laws and regulations so provide, dividends declared as provided in this section and in sections sixty A and sixty-one may be computed as if such dividends had been declared and paid at uniform intervals, daily or otherwise, within the dividend period and the amount so paid for each such interval had been added to deposits for the succeeding interval.

3. Minimum Deposits. - Such corporation, by its by-laws, may provide that fractional parts of a dollar shall not be included in principal in computing dividends, and may provide that a dividend shall not be declared or paid on deposits of less than ten dollars; but dividends for each full dollar shall be paid on school savings deposit accounts having balances of three dollars or more.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 60A, as most recently amended by section 2 of said chapter 124, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 60A. The payment of additional dividends on special notice account deposits and the crediting and payment of bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall be subject to the conditions, limitations and requirements of this section.

1. Dividend Period. - An additional dividend on special notice account deposits shall be authorized and declared by the trustees at the same time and for the same periods as and for which ordinary dividends are declared. Additional dividends on special notice account deposits shall be declared as shown by the report required by section fifty-nine, after making such provisions as the trustees shall determine, pursuant to their election made in accordance with subparagraph (e) of paragraph 1 of section twenty-two B, to credit to systematic savings account deposits or to reserve, subject to the approval of the commissioner, for the payment of bonus dividends on such deposits. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall, in accordance with such election, be credited thereto either on each of the dates fixed for ordinary dividends payments or when such bonus dividends become payable under the provisions of the applicable systematic savings account agreements and shall be paid from the sum or sums so credited or from the reserve therefor.

2. Rate and Computation. - Additional dividends on special notice account deposits shall be at such rate, not less than one-eighth of one per cent per annum nor more than the maximum established by the appropriate federal supervisory agency, as the trustees shall determine. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall be at the rate specified in the applicable systematic savings account agreement. If not withdrawn, additional dividends on special notice account deposits shall be treated as deposits added to the account upon which declared and, in computing the dividend next following, shall be considered as having been on deposit for the preceding dividend period. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits, to the extent that they become payable and subject to withdrawal, shall be treated as deposits added to the account upon which paid and, in computing the dividend next following, shall be considered as having been on deposit since the date upon which such bonus dividends became payable. If the by-laws and regulations so provide, additional dividends may be declared on special notice account deposits as provided with respect to ordinary dividends in any of clauses (a), (b) and (c) of paragraph 2 of section sixty. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall be computed as specified in the applicable systematic savings account agreement.

SECTION 11. Section sixty-one of said chapter one hundred and sixty-eight is hereby repealed.

SECTION 12. Section 72 of said chapter 168 is hereby amended by striking out the last paragraph, as amended by chapter 106 of the acts of 1958, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Any merger or consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus accounts as defined in section fifty-seven, and other surplus accounts, of any of the consolidating corporations, bears to its liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating corporations, and any consolidating corporation having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its depositors.

SECTION 13. Upon the effective date of this act, the guaranty funds of all savings banks shall be consolidated and become a part of the surplus accounts of such savings banks; provided, however that such consolidation and merger into the surplus accounts shall not be considered minimum additions to surplus for purposes of section eleven of chapter sixty-three. Within the year of the effective date of this act, the maximum amount which may be declared by a savings bank as a required minimum addition to its guaranty fund and surplus for the purposes of said section eleven, shall not exceed an amount equal to one-fourth of one per cent of its deposits.

The note or mortgage shall also require payment each month of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessment of the mortgaged real estate. No loan of this class shall be made or acquired for a sum in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars.

No loan of this class shall allow the schedule to be changed more than once a year and any such change shall not occur less than one year after the first regular loan payment.

The interest capitalization resulting from any negative amortization of any such loan shall be considered to have been contracted for at the time such loan was made.

The mortgagor shall have the right to convert, at a time chosen by him, to a more conventional mortgage as may be defined by the commissioner, provided that he is eligible for such a mortgage.

Each prospective mortgagor offered a graduated payment mortgage shall also be offered a more conventional mortgage as may be defined by the commissioner and shall receive materials explaining in reasonably simple terms the nature and conditions of the graduated payment mortgage. Such materials shall include: (1) a side-by-side comparison of differing interest rates and other terms; (2) payment schedules for both types of mortgages, to the extent they are known; (3) a description of the conversion option; and (4) a statement, prominently displayed, that an applicant has the option to elect a more conventional instrument.

7. Each mortgage loan of this class shall be payable not more than three years from the date of the note.

Not later than thirty days after such mortgage loan becomes payable, at least two members of the committee shall certify, in writing, according to their best judgment or as determined by them upon the opinion of an appraiser approved by said committee, the aggregate value of the parcels of land and structures thereon then remaining subject to the mortgage. If at that time the unpaid balance of principal on said mortgage exceeds sixty per cent of the value so certified, a sufficient reduction shall be required, as promptly as may be practicable, to reduce said balance to sixty per cent of such value; and until so reduced, an amount equal to the unpaid amount of the required reduction shall be established and maintained by such corporation as a reserve for loss against such amount. No mortgage loan of this class shall be made or acquired for an amount in excess of one per cent of the deposits of such corporation or fifty thousand dollars, whichever is the greater. The aggregate balance of principal, outstanding at any one time, on mortgage loans of this class shall not exceed four per cent of the deposits of such corporation.

8. Participation Loans.- Any such corporation may, in participation with one or more other such corporations, or with one or more co-operative banks, savings banks, domestic insurance companies authorized to transact life insurance, national banking associations, savings and loan associations, or with one or more other banks or life insurance companies subject to supervision by an agency of any other state, if such institutions are authorized so to do, make or acquire mortgage loans of the classes referred to in paragraphs 1 to 6A, inclusive; provided, however, with respect to paragraph 5, that at least that portion of the unpaid balance of the loan which exceeds eighty per cent of the value of the real estate is insured or guaranteed.

The participating corporations shall enter into a written agreement, for themselves, their successors and assigns, which shall include provisions for the custody of the note and mortgage in the commonwealth and for the servicing and foreclosure thereof. The aggregate balance of principal of all such participations not insured by the Federal Housing Administrator, outstanding at any one time, shall not exceed twenty per cent of the total deposits of such corporation.

Such loan shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars, exclusive of interest or discount from the date of the note, with respect to any one parcel of such real estate. The loan shall be payable not more than fifteen years and thirty-two days from the date of the note, but the note or mortgage shall provide that in any event it shall become due and payable simultaneously with the transfer of the mortgaged premises. The terms of the note or mortgage shall require that, commencing not later than two months after the date of the note, (a) payments shall be made on account of the principal in equal monthly installments in amounts which, at the maturity of the note, shall equal the original amount of the loan, or (b) fixed monthly payments shall be made in approximately the same amount during the term of the loan, which payments shall first be applied to interest and the balance to principal. The aggregate balance of principal outstanding at any one time on loans of this class shall not exceed four per cent of the deposits of such corporation.

In case of a mortgage and the note secured thereby shall have been sold or otherwise assigned to another banking institution, such corporation at the request of such other banking institution and of the owner of the mortgaged property may make a loan of this class within the limitations prescribed in this section; provided, that such corporation shall agree to sell and such other banking institution shall agree to buy such loan within thirty days after the loan is made.

10A. Any such corporation may make or acquire a loan to the owner of improved real estate located within its lending area as defined in this subsection for the purpose of financing the improvement, repair, alteration or rehabilitation of such real estate or the purchase and installation of fixtures to be affixed thereto, including but not limited to the purchase and installation of a solar or wind-powered system or heat pump system; provided that (a) each such loan shall be evidenced by a note and may, in the discretion of such corporation, be secured by a mortgage which shall be a lien on the real estate so loaned upon; (b) not less than ninety per cent of the unpaid balance of such loan at any time shall be guaranteed or insured by a mortgage insurance company which has been determined to be a "qualified private insurer" by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or has been approved by the commissioner as qualified to insure loans of this class, and which is authorized to transact business in the commonwealth; (c) the note or mortgage shall provide that in any event it shall become due and payable simultaneously with the transfer of the mortgaged premises, and (d) such loan shall be subject to all the provisions and limitations applicable to first mortgage loans authorized by paragraph 10 of this section.

11. Loans Outside the Commonwealth.- Any such corporation, subject to regulations made by the commissioner, may make or acquire mortgage loans (a) on real estate located outside of the commonwealth, on which the notes have been endorsed for insurance by the Federal Housing Administrator, or combined with secondary mortgages guaranteed in full by the United States under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of nineteen hundred and forty-four, (b) on real estate located outside of the commonwealth, on which the notes have been guaranteed in part by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs as provided by chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five, as amended, and (c) on real estate located outside of its lending area as defined in this subsection which loans are of the several classes specified in paragraphs 1 to 9, inclusive.

The aggregate balance of principal, outstanding at any one time, in mortgage loans authorized by this paragraph shall not exceed the total of the aggregate book value of loans secured by mortgage on real estate located in the commonwealth and in states contiguous to the commonwealth within fifty miles from the town in which the main office of such corporation is located or twenty-seven and one-half per cent of the deposits of such corporation, whichever is the lesser; provided, however, that not more than ten per cent of the deposits of such corporation shall be invested in mortgage loans authorized by clause (c); and provided, further, that no investment shall be made under this paragraph if, at such time, such corporation is refusing to allow, receive, or consider applications regarding mortgage loans on real estate located within the commonwealth, except that this prohibition shall not be deemed to affect any investment which such corporation has entered into by a written commitment, but only to the extent of such commitment.

Such mortgage loans may be made or acquired notwithstanding the restrictions contained in this subsection and section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven; provided, that the maximum aggregate investment in mortgages of real estate shall not exceed the limitations prescribed by section fifty-six.

11A. Other Insured or Guaranteed Loans.- Any such corporation may make or acquire mortgage loans on real estate located within its lending area, as defined in this subsection, which mortgage loan or note is insured, or committed to be insured, by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development or his designee under the provisions of the Housing and Community Development Act 12 USC 1715z-10. Such loans may be made or acquired notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven.

12. Housing Projects.- Subject to such regulations as the commissioner deems necessary or advisable if requested to issue regulations hereunder by one or more trust companies, any such corporation, either alone or in conjunction with one or more such corporations, may exercise the powers relative to housing projects granted to domestic life insurance companies by section sixty-six A of chapter one hundred and seventy-five; provided, that the aggregate balance of principal outstanding at any one time in investments of this class shall not exceed three per cent of the deposits of such corporation.

13. Any such corporation may make, hold or acquire mortgage loans on real estate, regardless of location, relative to armed services housing accommodations as are guaranteed by the Secretary of Defense or his designee, pursuant to the provisions of Title VIII of the National Housing Act.

14. Notwithstanding the limitation contained in paragraph 4, any such corporation may make or acquire a first mortgage loan not exceeding eighty per cent of the value of a leasehold interest created pursuant to section twenty-two E of chapter forty or chapter three hundred and fifty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-two, if such leasehold interest is occupied, or to be occupied, by a nursing home, extended care facility or convalescent home, licensed under chapter one hundred and eleven.

C. Loans made to finance the construction of industrial or commercial buildings and having maturities not exceeding thirty-six months where there is a valid and binding agreement entered into by a financially responsible lender to advance the full amount of the bank's loan upon the completion of the buildings shall not be considered as real estate loans, but shall be classed as ordinary commercial loans whether or not secured by a mortgage or similar lien upon the real estate upon which the building or buildings are being constructed; provided, that no such corporation shall invest in, or be liable on, any such loans in an aggregate amount in excess of one hundred per cent of its capital stock and surplus account.

Section 56. The aggregate amount invested in real estate loans under subsection A or subsection B of section fifty-five shall not exceed seventy per cent of the total of the time and savings deposits of such corporation, or fifty per cent of total deposits of such corporation, whichever is greater, provided that in addition to such deposits, an amount equivalent to ten per cent of the time and savings deposits of such corporation may be invested in mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administrator or guaranteed in whole or in part by the United States under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1977.

Section 56A. In connection with his annual examination of a trust company, the commissioner of banks shall consider the amount of investment made pursuant to paragraph 11 of subsection B of section fifty-five in assessing whether a trust company is satisfying its continuing and affirmative obligation to help meet the credit needs of its local community or communities delineated in accordance with applicable law and regulations; provided, however that the commissioner shall also consider activities and investments made by a trust company which contribute to the economic development of the commonwealth in general and the effect the investments made pursuant to said paragraph 11 of said section fifty-five may have on these other activities and investments. Such assessment may be considered as a basis for denial of an application for the establishment of a branch office, the relocation of a main office or a branch office, or a merger or consolidation of such savings bank.

Annually, on or before the first Wednesday in February, the commissioner of banks shall communicate to the general court a report of the investments of trust companies made pursuant to said paragraph 11 of section fifty-five of chapter one hundred and seventy-two.

Said report shall consist of, but not be limited to, the following: (a) the amount and location by state of such investments as of the last business day of its fiscal year with comparative figures as of the end of the previous fiscal year; (b) the amount of investment in mortgages of real estate located in the commonwealth; (c) the amount of investments in mortgages of real estate located in the commonwealth representing loans sold but continued to be serviced by such corporation; and (d) any legislative recommendation deemed necessary or appropriate if the commissioner finds, or has reason to believe, that the availability of mortgage credit for real estate located within the commonwealth has been adversely affected by investments made pursuant to said paragraph 11.

Section 57. The following provisions shall, unless otherwise provided, apply to mortgage loans made or acquired by such corporation:-

1. Application.- There shall be a written application for each mortgage loan originated by the corporation showing the date, names of applicants, amount asked for and security offered, and containing such other information as the corporation may deem necessary. Such application shall be signed by or on behalf of the applicants prior to consummation of the loan and shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation but may accompany any sale or assignment of such mortgage loan. No application shall be required when a mortgage is acquired by purchase.

2. Appraisal.- At least two members of the committee charged with responsibility for making such investments, hereinafter referred to as the committee, or two officers of the corporation approved by said committee, shall certify, in writing, the value of the property offered as security according to their best judgment; and in the case of a mortgage loan acquired by purchase, two members of said committee, or two officers of the corporation approved by said committee, shall certify in writing, the value of the property mortgaged according to their best judgment. In either case such value may be determined upon the signed opinion in writing of an appraiser approved by said committee.

3. Additional Principal Payments.- Such corporation may accept principal payments in excess of payments required by any mortgage made or acquired under any of the provisions of section fifty-five, and such additional payments may be accepted as anticipating an equal number of whole payments or as effecting a reduction of all future payments required by the mortgage. In the event that any such additional payments are made, the committee may reduce the monthly or other periodic payments as set forth in said mortgage; provided, that such reduced payments shall not extend the original term of the mortgage except as authorized by paragraph 4.

3A. Prepayment of Interest.- Such corporation shall, upon written request by the mortgagor, accept a prepayment of interest for a period not exceeding twelve months beyond the end of the taxable year. In the event that any such additional payments are made, the board of investment may reduce the monthly or other periodic payments as set forth in the mortgage.

4. Revision of Terms.- With the approval of the committee of such corporation, at the request of the owner of the equity of redemption, the amount of the periodic payments of principal or interest, or both, called for by any note and mortgage and any other terms or provisions of any note or mortgage may be changed, provided, that, in the case of any change in the amount of any such periodic payments, the unpaid balance of principal is not in excess of the percentage of value of the mortgaged property required for one of the classes of mortgage loans authorized under section fifty-five as certified in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 2; and provided, that in such case, the periodic payments as changed shall meet the minimum payments required for such class of mortgage; and provided, further, that in the case of any change authorized hereunder, such change shall be consistent with the requirements for such class of mortgage as changed hereunder. Every such change shall be evidenced by a writing setting forth such change, the payments to be made pursuant thereto, the provisions of any mortgage extension and any other changed terms or provisions, which writing shall be filed with the papers relating to the loan.

No such change shall result in the extension of the term of such mortgage beyond the maximum number of years permitted under section fifty-five for such mortgage as changed hereunder, computed from the date of such extension. Neither the note evidencing the loan nor the mortgage securing the same shall be prejudiced by any such change, notwithstanding the fact that no provision for such change was originally made in the note or mortgage; and both note and mortgage shall continue to be held by the corporation as good and sufficient security for the balance remaining unpaid after the date of such change.

Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prevent any real estate mortgage loan held by such corporation from being rewritten, substituted or converted into any other class of mortgage loan which such corporation may lawfully hold; provided, that the unpaid balance of principal is not in excess of the percentage of the then value of the mortgaged property required for such other class of loan, as certified in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 2.

In revising the terms of any mortgage under the authority of this paragraph, no additional money shall be loaned or advanced thereon, but this provision shall not prevent such corporation from making a new mortgage loan of one of the classes authorized by section fifty-five or from making an additional advance on such mortgage as authorized by section twenty-eight A of chapter one hundred and eighty-three.

5. Servicing of Loans.- Any such corporation may collect and apply payments due upon and otherwise service mortgage loans sold by it and may authorize any servicing contractor, approved by the committee, to collect and apply payments due upon and otherwise service mortgage loans acquired by such corporation; provided, that any such servicing contractor servicing mortgage loans on real estate located in this commonwealth or within the fifty-mile limit referred to in subsection B of section fifty-five shall be a savings bank, trust company, national banking association, co-operative bank or federal savings and loan association, but mortgage loans so located may, subject to conditions approved by the commissioner, be serviced by a person eligible under regulations of the commissioner to service any insured or guaranteed mortgages hereinafter referred to in this paragraph. An agreement setting forth the terms and conditions of and charges to be made for such servicing shall be executed on behalf of such corporation and any such servicing contractor, and filed with the records of such corporation. The servicing of insured or guaranteed mortgages referred to in paragraph 11 of section fifty-five, section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, and chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five shall be governed by regulations of the commissioner.

6. Revaluation and Inspection.- Except as provided in clause (d), real estate securing mortgage loans shall be subject to periodic revaluation or inspection, as follows:-

(a) Revaluation Required.- Every parcel of real estate mortgaged to secure a loan which by its terms is payable in three years or less from the date of the note, except a parcel of real estate on which is located a residence which is designed for not more than four families, shall be revalued as long as the loan is held, at intervals of three calendar years commencing not later than the end of the third calendar year after the year in which the loan is made or acquired. At the time of such revaluation at least two members of the committee shall certify, in writing, the then value of the mortgaged property, according to their best judgment or as determined by one such member so certifying upon the signed opinion in writing of an appraiser approved by said committee. Upon the partial release of any real estate securing a mortgage, the remainder of the security shall be revalued notwithstanding that the security shall have been revalued within three years; but this requirement shall not apply to construction mortgage loans.

(b) Inspection Authorized.- Every parcel of real estate mortgaged to secure a loan, other than the parcels referred to in clause (a), shall be revalued, as long as the loan is held, commencing not later than the end of the third calendar year after the year in which the loan is made or acquired and thereafter at intervals of five calendar years, in the manner provided in said clause or, in lieu of revaluation, such parcel shall be inspected for the purpose of determining the general physical condition of the mortgaged property, including its state of preservation or deterioration and any other information deemed by the board of investment as materially affecting the value of such parcel, except that, in the case of any parcel of real estate on which is located a residence which is designed for not more than four families, such periodic inspection or revaluation need not be made; provided, however, that in the event that a payment of interest or principal upon any such loan or on account of real estate taxes upon the parcel mortgaged to secure the same shall be in default, inspection for the purpose aforesaid shall be made within ninety days from the date of such default in payment of interest or principal or within one hundred and eighty days from the date of such default in payment on account of taxes, as the case may be, and thereafter periodic revaluation or inspection shall continue in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this clause until such loan shall no longer be in default. Such inspection shall be made by at least two members of said committee or by a person deemed by it to be qualified to make such inspection, and a report thereof shall be made in writing and signed by one of such members or by such person and shall be submitted to said committee.

(c) Reports.- Each report of revaluation and inspection shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation until the obligations to which it relates is paid in full or otherwise legally discharged.

(d) Insured and Guaranteed Mortgages.- Revaluation and inspection of insured and guaranteed mortgages, referred to in paragraph 5, shall be subject to regulations of the commissioner.

7. Excessive Loans.- Whenever the commissioner deems an excessive loan has been made, or is about to be made, upon real estate, by any such corporation, he may cause an appraisal of said real estate to be made at the expense of the corporation. In such event, one appraiser shall be named by the commissioner, one by the corporation, and a third by the two appraisers thus named. Said appraisers shall certify in writing to the commissioner and to the corporation, the then value of said real estate according to their best judgment. If it shall appear from said appraisal that said loan is in excess of the amount authorized for such class of loan by the applicable provisions of section fifty-five or other provision of law, the commissioner may make such order in relation thereto as he deems advisable.

8. Legality of Certain Mortgages.- No provision of this chapter shall render illegal the investment in or pledge of any mortgages of real estate held by any such corporation on November first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five.

All loans on real estate located outside the commonwealth which are not governed by the provisions of section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five, except those loans made within a radius of fifty miles of the principal office, and all participation loans and servicing arrangements shall be subject to such regulations as the commissioner may deem necessary.

The provisions of this section and sections fifty-five and fifty-six shall not apply to mortgages taken in good faith by way of security for debts to such corporation previously contracted, or to loans made by such corporation to secure the payment of a portion of the purchase price of real estate acquired by such corporation by foreclosure, or otherwise.

The governor shall from time to time, designate one member of said board as chairman. Said chairman shall act as a nonvoting member of said board, except in the case of a tie vote.

Said board, subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A, shall promulgate a comprehensive fire safety code.

No member shall act as a member of the board or vote as such, in connection with any matter as to which his private right, distinct from the public interest, is immediately concerned.

A majority of said board may transact business; but a lesser number may adjourn from time to time.

Section 28. The board shall make such rules and regulations, in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A, and the head of the fire department shall make such orders or rules not inconsistent therewith, for the storage, handling and manufacturing of liquids, solids or gases which when combined with another substance may present a hazard of fire or explosion whenever such substances are located in or about any building, structure or other premises or in any ship or vessel within the commonwealth. Such regulatory authority shall apply to materials and substances which are highly flammable or which may react to cause fires or explosions or which by their presence create or augment a fire or explosion hazard or which because of their toxicity, flammability or liability to explosion render fire fighting abnormally dangerous or difficult; and shall apply to flammable liquids which are chemically unstable and which may spontaneously form explosive compounds or undergo spontaneous reactions of explosive violence or with sufficient evolution of heat tends to be a fire hazard; and shall also apply to hazardous chemicals such as flammable solids, corrosive liquids, oxidizing materials, potentially explosive chemicals, highly toxic materials and poisonous gases.

SECTION 3. The members of the board of fire prevention regulations, prior to the effective date of this act, with the exception of the representative of the national organization of fire underwriters, shall continue to be members for the term and in the manner as set forth in section fourteen of chapter twenty-two. Chap. 463. AN ACT FACILITATING THE INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION OF THE THEFT OF MOTOR VEHICLES AND OF FRAUDULENT MOTOR VEHICLES INSURANCE CLAIMS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 147 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 4F the following section:-

Section 4G. In proceedings under sections twenty-seven A, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, one hundred and eleven A and one hundred and thirty-nine of chapter two hundred and sixty-six, a certified copy of the certificate of title on file as an official record in the registry of motor vehicles, shall be admissible as proof of ownership in the motor vehicle and shall raise a rebuttable presumption that the use of the motor vehicle was unauthorized. If the defendant rebuts such presumption, the commonwealth may be granted a reasonable continuance to enable the owner of the vehicle to be brought into court to testify.

SECTION 2. Section 113 0 of chapter 175 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 18 of chapter 266 of the acts of 1976, is hereby further amended by striking out the fifth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- No payment shall be made by the insurer of loss or damage to the insured vehicle on a claim for theft coverage, so-called, until the insured received notice from the appropriate police authority that a statement in conformity with the provisions of section twenty-nine A of chapter two hundred and sixty-six has been filed.

SECTION 3. Section 27A of chapter 266 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following seven paragraphs:-

A person found guilty of violating this section shall, in all cases, upon conviction, in addition to any other punishment, be ordered to make restitution to the insurer for any financial loss sustained as a result of the commission of the crime. Restitution shall be imposed in addition to incarceration or fine, but not in lieu thereof. In an extraordinary case such as indigency, the court may determine that the interests of the victim and justice would not be served by ordering restitution. In such a case, the court shall make and enter specific written findings on the record concerning the extraordinary circumstances presented which militated against the imposition of restitution.

The court shall, after conviction, conduct an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the extent of the damages or financial loss suffered as a result of the defendant's crime. The court may then determine the amount and method of restitution. In so determining, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the burden restitution will impose on the defendant. The defendant's present and future ability to make such restitution shall be considered.

A defendant ordered to make restitution may petition the court for remission from any payment of restitution or from any unpaid portion thereof. If the court finds that the payment of restitution due will impose an undue financial hardship on the defendant or his family, the court may grant remission from any payment of restitution or modify the time and method of payment.

If a defendant who is required to make restitution defaults in any payment of restitution or installment thereof, the court may hold him in contempt unless said defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution. If the defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution, the court may, upon motion of the defendant, modify the order requiring restitution by: (a) providing for additional time to make any payment in restitution; (b) reducing the amount of any payment in restitution or installment thereof; (c) granting a remission from any payment of res-mission from any payment of restitution or part thereof.

Restitution shall not be authorized to a party whom the court determines to be aggrieved, without that party's consent.

A prosecution commenced under this section shall not be placed on file, or continued without a finding and the sentence imposed upon a person convicted of violating this section for a second or subsequent offense shall not be reduced to less than one year nor shall any sentence of imprisonment imposed upon any person be suspended or reduced until such person shall have served one year of such sentence if convicted of a second or subsequent offense.

A person convicted of a second or subsequent offense of violating the provisions of this section shall not be eligible for probation, parole, furlough or work release; provided, however that the commissioner of correction may, on the recommendation of the warden, superintendent, or other person in charge of a correctional institution, grant to said offender a temporary release in the custody of an officer of such institution for the following purposes: to attend the funeral of next of kin or spouse; to visit a critically ill close relative or spouse; or to obtain emergency medical services unavailable at said institutions.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 266 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 28 to 29A, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 28. (a) Whoever steals, buys, receives, possesses, conceals, or obtains control of a motor vehicle or trailer, knowing or having reason to know the same to have been stolen, or whoever takes a motor vehicle without the authority of the owner and steals from it any of its parts or accessories, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than ten years or by imprisonment in jail or house of correction for not more than two and one-half years or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or both.

Evidence that an identifying number or numbers of a motor vehicle or trailer or part thereof has been intentionally and maliciously removed, defaced, altered, changed, destroyed, obliterated, or mutilated, shall be prima facie evidence that the defendant knew or had reason to know that the motor vehicle, or trailer or part thereof had been stolen.

A prosecution commended under this subdivision shall not be placed on file or continued without a finding and the sentence imposed upon a person convicted of violating this subdivision for a second or subsequent offense shall not be reduced to less than one year imprisonment, nor shall any sentence imposed upon any person be suspended, or reduced, until such person shall have served one year of such sentence if convicted of a second or subsequent such offense.

A person convicted of a second or subsequent offense of violating the provisions of this subdivision shall not be eligible for probation, parole, furlough or work release; provided, however that the commissioner of correction may, on the recommendation of warden, superintendent, or other person in charge of a correctional institution, or the administrator of a county correctional institution, grant to said offender a temporary release in the custody of an officer of such institution for the following purposes: to attend the funeral of next of kin or spouse; to visit a critically ill close relative or spouse; or to obtain emergency medical services unavailable at said institution.

(b) Whoever conceals any motor vehicle or trailer thief knowing him to be such, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years or by imprisonment in jail or house of correction for not more than two and one-half years or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

(c) A conviction of a violation of this section or any adjudication that a person is a delinquent child by reason thereof shall be reported forthwith by the court or magistrate to the registrar of motor vehicles who shall revoke immediately the license to operate motor vehicles or the right to operate motor vehicles of the person so convicted or adjudged, and no appeal, motion for new trial or exceptions shall operate to stay the revocation of such license or right to operate. The registrar of motor vehicles after having revoked the license or right to operate of any such person so convicted or adjudged shall issue a new license or reinstate such right to operate, if the prosecution of such person is finally terminated in his favor; otherwise, no new license shall be issued nor shall such right to operate be reinstated until one year after the date of revocation following his original conviction or adjudication if for a first offense, or until five years after the date of revocation following any subsequent conviction or adjudication.

Section 29. Whenever a motor vehicle is stolen or misappropriated, the owner of record shall sign and submit to the appropriate police authority a statement under the penalties of perjury on a form containing such information relating to the theft or misappropriation of the vehicle as is prescribed by the registrar of motor vehicles.

Whenever a stolen or misappropriated motor vehicle is recovered by a police officer or other law enforcement officer, the police department shall notify the registry of motor vehicles, the owner of record and the storage facility if any, as soon as possible after the identity of the owner is determined. Such notification may be made by letter, telephone call or personal visit to the owner and shall include information as to the location of the recovered vehicle. In the event the vehicle is placed in a garage or other storage facility, the owner of said facility shall lose his lien for the reasonable charges for storage and towing unless he notifies the owner of record of the vehicle by certified mail and return receipt requested within five days of the date of said recovery or his actual knowledge of the identity of the owner of record. Said notice shall contain the information on the location of the vehicle and the amount of charge due on said vehicle.

A defendant ordered to make restitution may petition the court for remission from any payment of restitution or from any unpaid portion thereof. If the court finds that the payment of restitution due will impose an undue financial hardship on the defendant or his family, the court may grant remission from any payment of restitution or modify the time and method of payment.

If a defendant who is required to make restitution defaults in any payment of restitution or installment thereof, the court may hold him in contempt unless said defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution. If the defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution, the court may, upon motion of the defendant, modify the order requiring restitution by:

(a) providing for additional time to make any payment in restitution;

(b) reducing the amount of any payment in restitution or installment thereof;

(c) granting a remission from any payment of restitution or part thereof.

Restitution shall not be authorized to a party whom the court determines to be aggrieved, without that party's consent.

The sentence imposed upon a person convicted of violating this section for a second or subsequent offense shall not be reduced to less than one year.

A person convicted of a second or subsequent offense of violating the provisions of this section shall not be eligible for probation, parole, furlough or work release; provided, however that the commissioner of correction may, on the recommendation of warden, superintendent, or other person in charge of a correctional institution, grant to said offender a temporary release in the custody of an officer of such institution for the following purposes: to attend the funeral of next of kin or spouse; to visit a critically ill close relative or spouse; or to obtain emergency medical services unavailable at said institutions. A prosecution commenced under this section shall neither be continued without a finding nor placed on file.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 266 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 111A the following section:-

Section 111B. Whoever, in connection with or in support of any claim under any motor vehicle, theft or comprehensive insurance policy issued by an insurer, and with intent to injure, defraud or deceive such insurer knowingly presents to it, or aids or abets in or procures the presentation to it of, any notice, statement, or proof of loss, whether or not the same is under oath or is required or authorized by law or the terms of such policy, knowing such notice, statement or proof of loss contains any false or fraudulent statement or representation of any fact or thing material to such claim, shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than two and one-half years or by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than two thousand dollars, or both.

A person found guilty of violating this section shall, in all cases, upon conviction, in addition to any other punishment, be ordered to make restitution to the insurer for any financial loss sustained as a result of the commission of the crime. Restitution shall be imposed in addition to incarceration or fine, but not in lieu thereof. In an extraordinary case such as indigency, the court may determine that the interests of the victim and justice would not be served by ordering restitution. In such a case, the court shall make and enter specific written findings on the record concerning the extraordinary circumstances presented which militated against the imposition of restitution.

The court shall, after conviction, conduct an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the extent of the damages or financial loss suffered as a result of the defendant's crime. The court may then determine the amount and method of restitution. In so determining, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendants and the burden restitution will impose on the defendant. The defendant's present and future ability to make such restitution shall be considered.

SECTION 6. Chapter 268 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 37. Whoever knowingly makes a false written statement on a form bearing notice that false statements made therein are punishable under the penalty of perjury, to a police officer, police department or the registry of motor vehicles alleging the theft or conversion of a motor vehicle, shall be punished by imprisonment for a first offense not less than five months, nor more than two years, or a fine of not less than two hundred and fifty dollars and not more than two thousand five hundred dollars, or both. A person found guilty of violating this section for a second or subsequent offense shall be punished by imprisonment not less than one, nor more than five years, or a fine of not less than five hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

The sentence imposed upon a person convicted of violating this section for a second or subsequent offense shall not be reduced to less than one year.

A person convicted of a second or subsequent offense of violating the provisions of this section shall not be eligible for probation, parole, furlough or work release; provided, however that the commissioner of correction may, on the recommendation of warden, superintendent, or other person in charge of a correctional institution, or the administrator of a county correctional institution, grant to said offender a temporary release in the custody of an officer of such institution for the following purposes: to attend the funeral of next of kin or spouse; to visit a critically ill close relative or spouse; or to obtain emergency medical services unavailable at said institutions. A prosecution commenced under this section shall neither be continued without a finding nor placed on file.

SECTION 7. Chapter 276 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 92 the following section:-

Section 92A. A person found guilty of violating the provisions of sections twenty-seven, twenty-eight, one hundred and eleven B and one hundred and thirty-nine of chapter two hundred and sixty-six shall, in all cases, upon conviction, in addition to any other punishment, be ordered to make restitution to any person whom the court deems appropriate for any financial loss sustained by the victim of his crime, his dependents or an insurer as a result of the commission of the crime. The term "financial loss" shall be interpreted to include but shall not be limited to, loss of earnings, out-of-pocket expenses, and replacement costs. Losses due to pain and suffering are not financial loss. Restitution shall be interpreted to include monetary reimbursment, work or service, or a combination thereof, provided to any person, organization, corporation, or governmental entity, the court determines, has suffered said damage or financial loss, or to perform such work or service for any other person, organization, corporation or governmental entity as the court may determine. Restitution shall be imposed in addition to incarceration or fine, but not in lieu thereof. In an extraordinary case such as indigency, the court may determine that the interests of the victim and justice would not be served by ordering restitution. In such a case, the court shall make and enter specific written findings on the record concerning the extraordinary circumstances presented which militated against the imposition of restitution.

The court shall, after conviction, conduct an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the extent of the damages or financial loss suffered as a result of the defendant's crime. The court may then determine the amount and method of restitution. In so determining, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the burden restitution will impose on the defendant. The defendant's present and future ability to make such restitution shall be considered.

A defendant ordered to make restitution may petition the court for remission from any payment of restitution or from any unpaid portion thereof. If the court finds that the payment of restitution due will impose an undue financial hardship on the defendant or his family, the court may grant remission from any payment of restitution or modify the time and method of payment.

If a defendant who is required to make restitution defaults in any payment of restitution or installment thereof, the court may hold him in contempt unless said defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution. If the defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution, the court may, upon motion of the defendant, modify the order requiring restitution by: (a) providing for additional time to make any payment in restitution; (b) reducing the amount of any payment in restitution or installment thereof; (c) granting a remission from any payment of restitution or part thereof.

Restitution shall not be authorized to a party whom the court determines to be aggrieved, without that party's consent.

SECTION 8. Chapter 278 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 6 the following section:-

Section 6A. At the arraignment of a defendant charged with violating the provisions of sections twenty-seven A, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, one hundred and eleven A and one hundred and thirty-nine of chapter two hundred and sixty-six, the court shall, upon a showing of need by the commonwealth, and after granting adequate time to defense counsel to consult with the defendant, allow testimony from the owner or person in control of such vehicle, solely on the issue of ownership and unauthorized use, and such testimony shall be taken and preserved and shall be admissible at trial.

In the prosecution of a person charged with violating the provisions of sections twenty-seven A, twenty-eight, twenty-eight A, twenty-nine, one hundred and eleven A and one hundred and thirty-nine of chapter two hundred and sixty-six, the court shall order, as a condition of granting a continuance, that the testimony of a witness then present in court be taken and preserved for subsequent use at trial or any other proceeding. The witness shall be examined in open court by the party on whose behalf he is present and the adverse party shall have the right to cross-examination. The expenses of taking and preserving the testimony shall be assessed as costs against the party requesting the continuance.

Chap. 464. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE CONVERSION OF OIL TO COAL BY ELECTRIC GENERATING FACILITIES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide forthwith for the conversion of oil to coal by electric generating facilities, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 164 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 94G the following section:-

Section 94G½. An electric company or other person which distributes to retail customers all or a portion of the output of any existing oil-burning electric generating facility which is proposed to be converted from oil to coal-fired operation may file with the department an application, in such form as the department may prescribe, for an adjustment in its rates through the oil conservation adjustment described in this section, provided that environmental controls for sulfur and particulates will be required to ensure that approved long-term emissions from the facility shall not significantly contribute to any condition of non-attainment of ambient air quality standards established and approved by the environmental protection agency and the department of environmental quality engineering.

Within thirty-five days of receipt of such application the department shall hold a public hearing to determine the share of the cost of conversion of such facility attributable to the applicant's retail customers, the oil conservation adjustment, and the manner in which said adjustment shall be recovered from all retail customers of the applicant. The department shall render a decision upon such application within one hundred and twenty days of the beginning of such hearing. Said adjustment shall not be authorized unless it is determined by the department that there is a substantial probability that the cost of conversion will be less than or equal to the fuel cost savings to accrue to said retail customers over the remaining life of the electric generating facility.

All revenues derived through said adjustment shall be applied solely to the cost of conversion of said facility. The department shall not authorize or recognize for purposes of establishing any rate, price or charge, pursuant to section ninety-four, costs of conversion which are recovered from said customers under said adjustment.

In this section the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings, unless the context requires otherwise:

"Coal", coal used as a primary energy source and any other primary energy source which is derived from coal or synthetic fuels which use coal as a base.

"Cost of conversion", costs as determined by the department to be reasonable and necessary for the conversion of an oil-burning electric generating facility to the burning of coal. Such costs shall include, but not be limited to, engineering, administrative and legal costs, the cost of environmental studies, and control equipment, coal handling and storage equipment, equipment and facilities necessary to permit the combustion of coal, the cost of retro-fitting or refurbishing boilers to permit the combustion of coal, the cost of on-site and off-site facilities for handling, storing, and disposing of wastes resulting from the combustion of coal, and the cost of all other facilities reasonable and necessary to allow the conversion of an oil-burning electric generating facility to burn coal, whether such costs are incurred before or after the date of initial conversion of such facility. Such costs shall also include the reasonable costs of capital for such conversion until such costs are recovered as provided in this section. In no case shall costs of conversion include any costs incurred pursuant to an expansion of an electric generating facility's generating capacity above the generating capacity of said facility that existed prior to the oil conservation adjustment period.

"Date of initial conversion", the first day on which an existing oil-burning electric generating facility generates electricity for continuous distribution to customers by the combustion of coal, whether or not additional facilities must be constructed or installed.

"Fuel cost saving", the differential costs between an equal amount of coal and oil calculated on the basis of British Thermal Units.

"Oil conservation adjustment" an amount which is the greater of (a) two-thirds of the fuel cost savings per kilowatt hour sold accruing to retail customers on the date of initial conversion or (b) the cost of conversion of an existing oil-burning electric generation facility to coal divided by the estimated kilowatt hours to be generated for sale by the facility during the first eighty-four calendar months after the date of initial conversion; provided, however, that if the total amount of cost of conversion per kilowatt hour initially calculated by application of method (b) exceeds one hundred per cent of the fuel cost savings per kilowatt hour sold accruing to retail customers on the date of initial conversion, the eighty-four month period referred to in said method (b) shall be extended so that the total amount of cost of conversion per kilowatt hour shall be no more than one hundred per cent of such fuel cost saving per kilowatt hour. The oil conservation charge determined by the department shall permit recovery by the applicant of the cost of conversion net of such federal, state, or local taxes based on revenue and income which may be imposed upon the applicant for receipt of proceeds of the oil conservation adjustment which cannot be reasonably avoided by the applicant using due diligence. In no event shall the oil conservation adjustment include amounts attributable to non-retail customers.

Upon recovery by the applicant of its share of the cost of conversion as herein provided, the applicant shall terminate the oil conservation adjustment. Upon such termination the applicant shall demonstrate to the department that its oil conservation adjustment revenue collections are in compliance with orders issued pursuant to this section. In the event such collections are lesser or greater than the applicant's share of the cost of conversion, the department shall make such determinations and issue such orders as are necessary to result in compliance with this section.

In the event the facility or the applicant should become entitled, by reason of the conversion, to any federal or state grant, the department shall make such determinations and issue such orders as are necessary to reduce the amount of conversion costs which the applicant would otherwise recover by means of such oil conservation adjustment, or if such grant is received after termination of such adjustment make such determinations and issue such orders as are necessary to result in the applicant receiving no more than the cost of conversion after taking into account the retail customers' apportioned share of such grant.

The department shall, upon its own initiative or upon petition of the original applicant, but in any event at least twice each year, review the actual cost of conversion and fuel cost savings and changes in estimates thereof, and may, where necessary after notice and public hearing, modify the oil conservation adjustment to permit, if method (a) referred to in the definition of "oil conservation adjustment" in this section was initially used, recovery by the applicant of two-thirds of the recalculated fuel cost saving per kilowatt hour accruing to retail customers on the date of recalculation of the saving by the department or, if method (b) referred to in said definition was initially used, to permit recovery by the applicant of the recalculated cost of conversion over such recalculated number of months as would not result in a charge exceeding the fuel cost saving per kilowatt hour accruing to retail customers on the date of recalculation of the saving by the department. Said adjustment also may be modified to permit switching from said method (a) to method (b) or from method (b) to method (a), where necessary to either permit the applicant to recover the cost of conversion as promptly as possible, consistent with the intent of this section that no adjustment shall exceed fuel cost savings accruing to retail customers or prevent such adjustment from exceeding fuel cost savings accruing to retail customers.

Approved July 11, 1980.

Chap. 465. AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE MASSACHUSETTS RESIDENTIAL CONSERVATION SERVICE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately encourage citizens of the commonwealth to take steps to increase the energy efficiency of all residential buildings in the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and safety.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Therefore, it is found that it is in the public interest of the commonwealth to promote the prosperity and general welfare of its citizens to establish the Massachusetts residential conservation service and to require all electric and gas utilities to offer on-site energy conservation and renewable energy resource services to their customers, thereby encouraging citizens to take steps to immediately improve the energy efficiency of all residential buildings in the commonwealth.

SECTION 3. (a) The secretary of energy resources is hereby authorized and directed to prepare a state plan and to promulgate such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act which include the following program requirements:

(1) requiring all utilities to offer the program requirements to all qualified customers,

(b) Nothing in this act shall impose a duty upon any customer to implement any measures recommended in an energy audit report.

(c) No person shall disclose the name of a customer or the contents of an energy audit report prepared for such customer to any person other than the customer, a subsequent purchaser of the audited building, the utility serving such customer, the secretary of energy resources, or their designees, unless the customer or subsequent purchaser waives his right to confidentiality with respect to such information provided, however, that tenants in an audited building shall have the right to inspect the energy audit report for the building in which they live. Energy audit reports shall not be deemed to be a public record as defined in clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four of the General Laws and shall not be subject to demand for production under section ten of chapter sixty-six of the General Laws.

Such committee shall also review and comment on the plans developed by the utilities pursuant to section six, prior to their implementation. The secretary of energy resources shall make such information and documents available to said committee in a timely fashion to enable it to perform such reviews. Said committee shall file an annual report with the clerk of the house of representatives no later than June thirty of each year. Persons having skills, expertise, and affiliations as follows shall be appointed to the committee by the secretary of energy resources:

SECTION 4. A home heating supplier may be permitted by the secretary of energy resources to participate in the state plan pursuant to the requirements of this act.

SECTION 5. All utilities and participating home heating suppliers shall provide the program requirements to customers at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed in the state plan, provided, however, that with respect to a customer that owns or occupies a residential building containing more than four residential units, all utilities and participating home heating suppliers shall be required to commence offering to such customers said program requirements by January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, or such earlier date as may be required by federal law for the offering of said program requirements or substantially similar program requirements by any utility with respect to such buildings.

SECTION 6. (a) Within sixty days after the effective date of the state plan, each utility shall submit to the secretary of energy resources for approval a plan to implement the provisions of this act, including the manner in which a utility plans to meet the goals established by the secretary of energy resources for utility performance. The implementation plan may include a weatherization program only to the extent that the state plan approved by the United Stated Department of Energy permits such program. Such program shall conform to the requirements of the state plan and regulations established pursuant to this act and any orders of the United States Department of Energy relating thereto. No weatherization program shall be approved by said secretary where it would have the effect of making a customer ineligible to receive the energy audit benefits offered under the federal residential conservation service. If a utility fails to submit an acceptable implementation plan to the secretary of energy resources, the secretary may prepare an implementation plan for that utility. If at any time, the secretary determines that a utility's implementation plan is unsatisfactory, he may order that utility to amend its implementation plan.

(b) A utility may apply to the secretary of energy resources for permission to carry out any activity it is required to undertake under the state plan through a joint effort with one or more other utilities. The procedures for making such applications shall be prescribed by the secretary of energy resources. The secretary of energy resources shall approve such application if he finds that said joint effort would be in the public interest and such approval may be rescinded at any time if it is determined that said joint effort is no longer in the public interest. Whenever such application is denied or approval thereof is rescinded, the secretary of energy resources shall forward to all affected utilities a statement of his reasons for such decision.

SECTION 7. (a) Utilities shall utilize accounts and accounting methods as prescribed under the federal residential conservation service regulations or similar accounts and accounting methods as may be approved by the department to account for income and expenses arising under the Massachusetts residential conservation service.

(b) A utility shall annually submit its proposed operating budget for the Massachusetts residential conservation service to the department for review at least sixty days before it is to become effective. Said operating budget shall enumerate the income and expenses that will be necessary to carry out the state plan during the forthcoming period. After notice and an opportunity to be heard, the department shall, consistent with the state plan, review the reasonableness of the proposed expenditures and approve or approve with modification said operating budget. Such review shall be completed within sixty days after receipt of said operating budget.

A utility may, at any time, on its own motion, or as may be required by the department, amend its operating budget pursuant to procedures as shall be prescribed in the department and which shall include notice and an opportunity for a hearing.

(c) The charge to a customer for the audit of a single family dwelling shall not exceed twenty dollars, and for the audit of a multi-family dwelling said charge shall not exceed three cents per square foot of audited living space, provided that an additional charge for the audit of common areas shall be permitted. Said audit charges may be revised to reflect changes in prices as measured by the consumer price index of the United States Department of Labor, or any similar successor index. The audit charge may be reduced or waived for a low income customer as may be deemed appropriate by the secretary of energy resources. Within the limits described in this section, the secretary of energy resources shall establish and may from time to time adjust the audit charge.

(d) The difference between the amount a customer is charged as specified in the preceding subsection and the operating expenses incurred by a utility in carrying out its obligations under the state plan shall be treated as a current operating expense of providing utility service and charged to all ratepayers pursuant to the procedures specified in subsection (f). Such operating expenses include, but are not limited to, the following: (1) public education and program promotion including any on-site demonstrations required to be performed during the energy audit, (2) administrative and general expenses including those associated with energy audits, list distribution, customer billing services, arranging installation and financing and conciliation conferences, (3) supervisory costs as specified in subsection (e), and (4) the performance of energy conserving practices during an energy audit.

(e) The executive office of energy resources and the department are hereby each severally authorized to annually assess against each utility such amounts as may be necessary to permit said executive office or department, respectively, to carry out its responsibilities under this act, including, but not limited to, program development, administration and enforcement, certification, training, registration and inspection programs, and public education and promotion expenses, exclusive of paid advertising. Said assessments shall be based upon the intrastate operating revenues of a utility which are derived from electricity or gas sales within the commonwealth during the preceding calendar year. A utility shall pay such assessments to the commonwealth within thirty days of receipt of notice thereof. Said assessments shall be paid into the General Fund in accordance with section two of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws.

In the event that a home heating supplier elects to participate in the state plan, the secretary of energy resources shall determine the appropriate manner of apportioning and assessing program expenses to such participating home heating suppliers.

The secretary of energy resources may enter into contracts and agreements with any person as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of section ninety-four of chapter one hundred and sixty-four of the General Laws the department shall allow an electric or a gas company to recover during each calendar year any expenses that it may incur during said year in carrying out its reponsibilities under this act.

No later than ninety days after the effective date of the state plan, the department shall hold a generic proceeding to determine the appropriate method of distributing to all ratepayers of an electric or gas company the costs that are likely to be incurred by such companies in carrying out the state plan. Following such proceedings, the department shall, consistent with the provisions of this act, establish regulations applicable to said companies establishing the method of calculating and billing said charge.

The department shall annually hold public hearings to approve an adjustment to an electric or gas company's rates to reflect its projected expenses as forecasted pursuant to subsection (b) of section seven. A hearing shall be commenced within twenty-one days of the filing by a gas or electric company of an application for approval of the department for the imposition of such charge. The department shall render its decision on the imposition of the charge within twenty-one days of such hearing.

Each year the department shall review the income and expenses incurred by an electric company or a gas company during the preceding year in carrying out the Massachusetts residential conservation service. Any differences between the amounts collected and the amounts expended shall be reflected in an adjustment to a company's rates during the current period and any expenses which were unreasonable shall be deducted from the amounts to be charged during such period.

Upon the conclusion of the Massachusetts residential conservation service the department may make such determinations and issue such orders as it determines to adjust each company's rates for deficiencies or surpluses of revenue produced by such charge, and the department may continue said charge in effect for such time as is necessary to accomplish such adjustments.

Any utility not subject to the ratemaking authority of the department as described in chapter one hundred and sixty-four of the General Laws, shall charge all ratepayers for any expenses incurred by said utility in carrying out its responsibilities under this act; provided, however, that said nonregulated utilities shall not be subject to the review of the department as described in this subsection.

(g) All utilities shall maintain complete and accurate records of all matters pertaining to the activities it is required to carry out under the state plan.

The department and the executive office of energy resources may from time to time request a utility or participating home heating supplier to provide any reports, papers, or documents which are necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, and said utilities and participating home heating suppliers shall provide such items.

Within thirty days after the last day of each year, a utility shall submit to the secretary of energy resources in such form as he may prescribe, a report of its activities during the preceding year relating to implementation of the state plan. Included in such report shall be a statement with respect to the success or lack of success of a utility in meeting the goals established by the secretary pursuant to clause (4) of subsection (a) of section three. Within thirty days after receipt thereof, the secretary of energy resources shall forward said reports along with a statement of his findings to the joint committee on energy and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 8. (a) Any person alleging an injury caused by a utility from an activity carried out under the state plan or from a violation of the state plan may petition the department for relief and the department shall hold a hearing and issue an appropriate order pursuant to this chapter, and chapters twenty-five, thirty A, and one hundred and sixty-four of the General Laws. Whenever it appears that any such utility is causing injury arising from an activity carried out under the state plan or is violating the state plan or any state or federal law related thereto, the department shall, before issuing an order, request the secretary of energy resources to render an interpretative ruling with respect to any possible violations of the state plan or any laws related thereto. The department shall, consistent with such ruling, order such person to take any action necessary to carry out the state plan or to cease and desist from taking any action violating the state plan or to redress the injury arising from activities carried out under the state plan.

The department shall make available a conciliation conference for the purpose of resolving complaints by eligible customers against a utility which sells, installs, or finances the sale or installation of program requirements.

(b) Utilities and participating home heating suppliers shall make conciliation conferences available to customers for the purpose of resolving complaints against any person other than a utility who sells, installs, or finances the sale or installation of any program measure under the state plan.

(c) Any person or firm which appears on any list compiled by the executive office of energy resources under the state plan may be removed from such list for cause by the secretary of energy resources. Any energy auditor, home heating supplier, installer, supplier, lender, or inspector who the secretary of energy resources has reason to believe is violating the state plan may be suspended from participation therein before holding a hearing as provided in section thirteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, if such action would be in the public interest. Such persons may be permanently removed from said lists only after providing notice and an opportunity for a hearing.

(d) Any utility, energy auditor, home heating supplier, inspector, supplier, installer or lender participating in the state plan who violates any provision of this act or the state plan or an order issued by the secretary of energy resources or the department under this act shall be subject to a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars per violation. The executive office of energy resources may assess such penalty after providing notice and an opportunity for a hearing. No electric or gas company may require its ratepayers to pay or reimburse it for such penalty.

(e) The executive office of energy resources may conduct any additional adjudicatory proceedings, which are determined to be necessary or desirable in carrying out the purposes of this act including redress proceedings to be made available to all persons alleging injury arising from an activity carried out under the state plan or from a violation of the state plan by any energy auditor, home heating supplier, supplier, inspector, installer, or lender participating in the state plan. The secretary of energy resources may order any person other than a utility which is found to be in violation of the state plan to take any action necessary to carry out the state plan or to cease and desist from taking any action violating the state plan. The secretary of energy resources may order any such person which has caused an injury arising from an activity carried out under the state plan to redress said injury.

(f) Any order of the secretary of energy resources under subsection (d) or (e) shall be effective and may be enforced according to its terms and enforcement thereof shall not be suspended or stayed by the entry of an appeal therefrom. The superior court for Suffolk county shall have jurisdiction over appeals of orders of the secretary of energy resources under this act and shall also have jurisdiction upon application of the secretary of energy resources to enforce all orders of said secretary under this act. The burden of proof shall be upon the appealing party to show that the order of the secretary of energy resources is invalid.

(g) The remedies provided herein are alternative in nature and an aggrieved person shall not be required to seek a particular remedy as a condition precedent to seeking any other remedy.

SECTION 9. The executive office of energy resources is hereby authorized and directed to prepare for and submit to the joint committee on energy by January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, a proposal for the creation of a board of registration for energy auditors and energy conservation installers doing business within the commonwealth.

SECTION 10. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any section or part of any section of this act shall be adjudged invalid or held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such judgment or decision shall not affect or impair any other section unless inseparable from the section or part adjudged invalid, but shall be confined in its operations to that section or part directly involved in the controversy on which such judgment shall have been rendered.

The District may collect interest on overdue taxes in the manner in which interest is authorized to be collected on town taxes.

SECTION 8. Any meeting of the voters of the territory included within the boundaries set forth in section one to be held prior to the acceptance of this act, and any meeting of the voters of the District to be held prior to the qualification of a majority of the water commissioners, shall be called on petition of ten or more legal voters therein, by a warrant from the board of selectmen of said town, or from a justice of the peace, directed to one of the petitioners, requiring him to give notice of the meeting by posting copies of the warrant in two or more public places in the District fourteen days at least before the time of the meeting. Such justice of the peace, or one of the selectmen, shall preside at such meeting until a clerk is chosen and sworn, and the clerk shall preside until a moderator is chosen. At any meeting held hereunder prior to the acceptance of this act, after the choice of a moderator for the meeting the question of the acceptance of this act shall be submitted to the voters, and if it is accepted by a majority of the voters present and voting thereon it shall thereupon take effect, and the meeting may then proceed to act on the other articles in the warrant. After the qualification of a majority of the water commissioners, meetings of the District shall be called by warrant under their hands, unless some other method be provided by by-law or vote of the District.

SECTION 9. The District shall, after the acceptance of this act as aforesaid, elect by ballot, either at the same meeting at which this act shall have been accepted, or thereafter, at an annual meeting or at a special meeting called for the purpose, three persons, inhabitants of and voters in the District, to hold office, one until the expiration of three years, one until the expiration of two years, and one until the expiration of one year, from the day of the next succeeding annual district meeting, to constitute a board of water commissioners; and at every annual district meeting following such next succeeding annual district meeting one such commissioner shall be elected by ballot for the term of three years. The date of the next annual meeting shall be fixed by by-law or by vote of the board of water commissioners, but in no event shall it be later than fifteen months subsequent to the date on which the water commissioners were first elected. All the authority granted to the District by this act, except sections four and five, and not otherwise specifically provided for, shall be vested in said board of water commissioners, who shall be subject, however, to such instructions, rules and regulations as the District may by vote impose. At the meeting at which said water commissioners are first elected and at each annual district meeting held thereafter, the District shall elect by ballot, each for a term of one year, a clerk and a treasurer of the District. The treasurer of the District shall not be a water commissioner, and shall give bond to the District in such an amount as may be approved by said water commissioners and with a surety company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth as surety. A majority of said water commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Any vacancy occurring in said board from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by the District at any legal meeting called for the purpose. No money shall be drawn from the treasury of the District on account of its water works except upon a written order of said water commissioners or a majority of them.

SECTION 10. Said board of water commissioners shall fix just and equitable prices and rates for the use of water, and shall prescribe the time and manner of payment. The income of the water works shall be appropriated to defray all operating expenses, interest charges and payments on the principal as they shall accrue upon any bonds or notes issued under authority of this act. If there should be a net surplus remaining after providing for the aforesaid charges, it may be appropriated for such new construction as said water commissioners may recommend, and in case a surplus should remain after payment for such new construction then the water rates shall be reduced proportionately. Said water commissioners shall annually, and as often as the District may require, render a report upon the condition of the works under their charge, and an account of their doings, including an account of receipts and expenditures.

SECTION 11. The District may adopt by-laws, prescribing by whom and how meetings of said District may be called, notified, and conducted; and, upon the application of ten or more legal voters in the District, meetings may also be called by warrant as provided in section eight. The District may also establish rules and regulations for the management of its water works, not inconsistent with this act or with any other provision of law, and may choose such other officers not provided for in this act as it may deem necessary or proper.

SECTION 12. Whoever willfully or wantonly corrupts, pollutes or diverts any water obtained or supplied under this act, or willfully or wantonly injures any reservoir, well, standpipe, aqueduct, pipe or other property owned or used by the District for any of the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to the District three times the amount of damages assessed therefor, to be recovered in an action of tort, and upon conviction of any of the above willful or wanton acts shall be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 13. Upon a petition in writing addressed to said board of water commissioners requesting that certain real estate, accurately described therein, located in said town and abutting on said District and not otherwise served by a public water supply be included within the limits thereof, and signed by the owners of such real estate, or a major portion thereof, said water commissioners shall cause a duly warned meeting of the District to be called, at which meeting the voters may vote on the question of including said real estate within the District. If a majority of the voters present and voting thereon vote in the affirmative, the District clerk shall within ten days file with the town clerk of said town and with the state secretary an attested copy of said petition and vote; and thereupon said real estate shall become and be part of the District and shall be holden under this act in the same manner and to the same extent as the real estate described in section one.

SECTION 14. This act shall take full effect upon its acceptance by a majority vote of the voters of the territory included within the District by section one present and voting thereon, by the use of a check list, at a district meeting called, in accordance with section eight, within four years after its passage.

Chap. 486. AN ACT TO ASSIST CITIES AND TOWNS IN THE COMMONWEALTH TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION, RECONSTRUCTION, REHABILITATION AND EXPANSION OF FACILITIES FOR CIVIC AND CONVENTION CENTERS AND EXHIBITION HALLS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. It is hereby found and declared that the existing sources of funding to provide suitable facilities for civic and convention centers and exhibition halls do not provide adequate means for financing such facilities and that the existence of such gathering places for large numbers of people contributes substantially to the public interest, welfare and economic well-being of the commonwealth by bringing a large influx of out-of-state visitors into the local economy and by promoting tourism. It is further found and declared that the lack of such facilities contributes to a condition of economic dislocation, and the diversion from the commonwealth of substantial revenues which would otherwise be expended within the commonwealth, and that providing state assistance for such facilities will aid in the correction of this economic dislocation, and will assist in the creation of substantial employment opportunities for residents of the commonwealth, thereby helping to reduce unemployment and to maintain a high level of economic activity within the commonwealth.

SECTION 2. The secretary of administration hereinafter called the secretary, is hereby authorized and directed to establish a program to assist cities and towns or consortiums of contiguous cities, towns or any combination thereof, hereinafter to be called a consortium, in undertaking any project to acquire land, including buildings thereon, to construct, reconstruct, rehabilitate finish or expand facilities to be used as municipal civic or convention centers or exhibition halls, without acceptance by the commonwealth of responsibility for maintenance.

The secretary may, under the provisions of this act, provide grant funds to such cities, towns or consortiums for projects authorized by this section.

SECTION 3. The secretary shall establish rules and regulations which shall govern the application for and distribution of grant funds under the provisions of this act. Any such rules or regulations, or any amendment or repeal of any such rules or regulation shall, after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives and the clerk of the senate.

SECTION 4. Any city, town or consortium may, by vote of the city council and approval of the city manager in a city having a Plan D or Plan E form of charter, or with the approval of the mayor in any other city, by vote of a town at an annual town meeting or at a special town meeting called for that purpose or in a municipality having a town council form of government by the town council, make application to the secretary for financial assistance in undertaking a project described in section one of this act, provided that such assistance does not exceed seventy per cent of the total cost of any one project. The application shall include the proposed cost of the project, the proposed location of such project and any such other information specified by such rules or regulations.

In determining the level of such funding the secretary shall consider, among others, the following factors: (a) the extent to which the project will have a beneficial impact upon the economic and revitalization efforts of said city, town or consortium as well as the commonwealth; (b) the extent to which such project will enhance the introduction of convention and tourist moneys into the state and local economies; (c) the extent to which the project is integral to the success of such efforts and; (d) the extent of private financial commitment to the project.

The secretary shall make a determination within forty-five days from the date of application. Upon the approval of said application, the secretary shall notify the city, town or consortium as to the total amount of state aid for such project.

SECTION 5. Any city or town may, by vote of the city council and approval of the city manager in a city having a Plan D or Plan E form of charter, or with the approval of the mayor in any other city, by vote of a town at an annual town meeting or at a special town meeting or in a municipality having a town council form of government by the town council called for that purpose, appoint a commission, to be known as the civic and convention center commission or the exhibition hall commission, and fill vacancies occurring therein, of five members, to act on behalf of the city or town in carrying out the purposes of this act. The commission shall annually elect a chairman and treasurer.

Any consortium, by vote of each city or town as hereinbefore described, may appoint a commission, to be known as the civic and convention center commission or the exhibition hall commission, consisting of two members from each community within the consortium who shall be residents of the respective community appointed by vote as hereinbefore described. Said commission shall annually elect a chairman and treasurer.

Each such commission shall establish a special fund, to be known as the civic and convention center or the exhibition hall fund and shall deposit in such fund, in addition to any monies so determined to be deposited by the city, town or consortium, any grant funds received under the provisions of sections two, four and seven of this act, which amounts may be expended by the treasurer as authorized by a majority vote of the commission and without further appropriation; provided, that an annual report shall be submitted to the director of the bureau of accounts by the city auditor or the town accountant; and provided, further, that all such funds shall be used solely for the purpose of paying for the cost of a project under the provisions of this act; provided, however, that a report including an audit prepared by a certified public accountant shall be submitted annually by the commission to the director of the bureau of accounts, the secretary of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 6. Each civic and convention center commission, or exhibition hall commission, on behalf of the city, town or consortium, shall have the authority to employ agents, managers and employees, enter into contracts and loans, subject to approval of town counsel or city solicitor as to form, and may exercise any other powers necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

All revenues from such civic and convention centers shall be funds of the city, town or consortium, except as otherwise provided by this act.

SECTION 7. In addition to authority otherwise granted by law, for the purpose of paying all or a portion not less than thirty per cent of the total cost of any project authorized under the provisions of this act, any city or town may apply for and receive federal grants of monies and may appropriate money, to be raised by taxation or the issuance of bonds or notes, at one time or from time to time, to be payable in not more than twenty years from their dates. Such borrowing shall require a two-thirds vote by an annual town meeting or a special town meeting called for that purpose, in the case of a town or in a municipality having a town council form of government by two-thirds vote of the town council, or by a two-thirds vote of a city council with the approval of the city manager in a Plan D or Plan E form of charter, or with the approval of the mayor in any other city.

Such bonds and notes shall bear on their face the words, Civic and Convention Loan, Act of 1980 or, Exhibition Hall Loan, Act of 1980, whichever is appropriate. Bonds and notes issued from time to time under the authority of this act shall not be included in determining the limit of indebtedness of the city or town as established by law but shall otherwise be subject to the provisions of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, with the exception of section eight A of said chapter forty-four, including the provisions of sections seventeen and seventeen A thereof relative to temporary loans in anticipation of the issue of bonds and notes.

SECTION 8. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of sections two and four of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the secretary of administration, with the approval of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale, bonds or notes of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as he may deem best, to an amount specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, thirty million dollars. All bonds or notes issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face the words, Civic and Convention Center Reimbursement Loan, Act of 1980 or Exhibition Hall Reimbursement Loan, Act of 1980, whichever is appropriate, and shall be on the serial payment plan for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, the maturities thereof to be so arranged that the amounts payable in the several years of the period of amortization, other than the final year, shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the state treasurer it is practicable to make them. Said bonds or notes shall bear interest semi-annually at such rate as the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds or notes shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof. Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 9. The provisions of sections thirty-seven to forty-four, inclusive, of chapter forty-three of the General Laws and section eight A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws shall not be applicable to a city or town acting under the provisions of this act.

SECTION 10. The authorization granted by this act to incur indebtedness and to appropriate and expend funds shall be in addition to and shall not be restricted by any limitation on the amount of indebtedness or expenditures established by the provisions of any other general or special law.

SECTION 11. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 12, 1980.

Chap. 487. AN ACT TO ASSIST THE CITIES AND TOWNS TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION OF OFF-STREET PARKING FACILITIES IN COMMERCIAL AREA REVITALIZATION DISTRICTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. In addition to any authority otherwise granted by law, any city or town having a population exceeding twenty thousand according to the most recent national census, may undertake a project for the purpose of providing public off-street parking facilities within a predominantly commercial area as provided in a commercial area revitalization plan established under the provisions of clause (k) of subsection (2) of section twelve of chapter forty D of the General Laws, hereinafter called a commercial area revitalization district.

The mayor of any city, or in a city with a Plan D or Plan E charter, the city manager, or the board of selectmen, or the town council in a town may designate or establish an agency, board, commission, department, or authority in the city or town, hereinafter called the agency, to act on behalf of the city or town to develop and implement said project. Upon such designation or establishment, the city or town, acting by and through the agency, shall have all the powers necessary to carry out the purpose of this section. Such powers shall include:-

(a) The power to acquire by purchase, gift, or otherwise, or by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine and chapter eighty A, and to hold such property, real or personal, or any interest therein located in a commercial area revitalization district within the city or town, as the agency determines necessary to provide sufficient public off-street parking facilities within said district.

(b) The power to clear, grade, surface, and resurface land acquired or used for the purpose of this section, and to own, construct, reconstruct, operate, and maintain thereon such facilities for public off-street parking as are determined necessary for said district, and to annually set such rates to be charged for use of such facility by the public as the agency determines appropriate.

(c) The power to contract for service for a maximum period not exceeding five years. The power to lease for a period not exceeding ninety-nine years, as lessee, or to purchase air space above any real property within the boundaries of any commercial area revitalization district located within the city or town, and to construct said public off-street parking facilities within such air space. The agency may also similarly lease or purchase such parts of real property below such air space as may be necessary for structural supports and means of ingress and egress to and from the public off-street parking facility to be constructed within such air space.

(d) The power to lease all or part of any public off-street parking facility to be used, operated, and maintained by the lessee, or lessees for public parking and other compatible uses, upon such terms as the agency shall determine provided, however that any rate schedule shall be reviewed and approved annually by the agency, and also set forth regulations with respect to the use, operation, and occupancy of the property demised.

(e) The power to operate and maintain all other parking facilities, on-street or off-street, or any portion thereof operated and maintained within the boundaries of any such commercial area revitalization district.

SECTION 2. The secretary of administration hereinafter called the secretary, is hereby authorized to establish a program to assist cities and towns in undertaking any project to provide public off-street parking facilities in commercial area revitalization districts pursuant to section one of this act. Said secretary may, from funds provided, provide grant funds to any city or town in an amount determined equitable by said secretary to undertake such a project; provided, however, that said project has been approved by said secretary and provided that the amount of such grant shall not exceed seventy per cent of the cost of undertaking a project. Such funds to any one city or town shall not exceed thirty-three per cent of the total provided in section four of this act. In determining whether to approve a project, and in determining the level of the grant, said secretary shall consider, among others, the following factors: whether the project is consistent with the commercial area revitalization plan for the district, the extent to which the project will have a beneficial impact upon revitalization efforts within the district, the extent to which the project is integral to the success of such efforts, the extent of firm private financial commitment to the district, and the percentage of the population of the city or town which is below the poverty level.

SECTION 3. Any city or town authorized under the provisions of section one of this act may incur debt, within the limit of indebtedness prescribed in section ten of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, for the construction of off-street parking facilities in predominantly commercial areas as set forth in a commercial area revitalization plan as defined in clause (k) of subsection (2) of section twelve of chapter forty D of the General Laws, twenty years, but the indebtedness shall not exceed three per cent of the last preceding equalized valuation of the city or town.

SECTION 4. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the secretary of administration, with the approval of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale, bonds or notes of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as he may deem best, to an amount specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate twelve and one-half million dollars. All bonds or notes issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face the words, Parking Facilities Reimbursement Loan, Act of 1980 and shall be on the serial payment plan for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, the maturities thereof to be so arranged that the amounts payable in the several years of the period of amortization, other than the final year, shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the state treasurer it is practicable to make them.

Said bonds or notes shall bear interest semi-annually at such rate as the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds or notes shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof and the entire issue not later than December thirty-first, two thousand and twenty-one.

On and after the effective date of this act, whenever issuing bonds of the commonwealth now or hereafter authorized pursuant to section four of chapter six hundred and ninety-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy, as amended, to finance the development cost of residential units within housing projects which meet the requirements of this section, the state treasurer may, upon request of the governor and the department, issue such bonds of the commonwealth pursuant to the additional provisions of this section.

Residential units within housing projects shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this section if the secretary of com-

All principal interest and sinking fund payments, and any redemption premiums, on bonds issued pursuant to the additional provisions of this section shall be paid from said Fund without further appropriation to the extent of available monies therein. Amounts on deposit in said Fund shall be invested in accordance with the provisions of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws and may be transferred to the commonwealth's General Fund at the end of each fiscal year upon certification to the state treasurer from the secretary of communities and development that such amounts are not required for payments described in the preceding sentence, taking into consideration deposits to the General Obligation-Federally Assisted Housing Bond Debt Service Fund reasonably anticipated during succeeding fiscal years. In the discretion of the state treasurer, sub-accounts within such Fund may be established from time to time with trustees under any trust indentures pursuant to which bonds issued under section four of said chapter six hundred and ninety-four and this section are issued and amounts on deposit in such sub-accounts may be invested in accordance with the provisions of such indentures. Notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary, however, bonds issued under section four of said chapter six hundred and ninety-four and hereunder shall be general obligations of the commonwealth payable from its general funds to which its full faith and credit is pledged for the payment of principal and interest when due and shall be issued in all respects in accordance with said section four and other applicable laws except as otherwise set forth herein.

SECTION 11. Section 26A of chapter 121B of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 8 of chapter 1215 of the acts of 1973, is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof the following paragraphs:-

Notwithstanding the provisions of the foregoing, in any city where the department finds that the purpose of providing adequate housing for families of low income and the need for neighborhood revitalization would best be served if the department acts as a housing authority, the department shall have all the powers of a housing authority under this chapter, including, the power to contract directly with any private non-profit corporation for the purpose of developing and managing housing projects for families of low income pursuant to section thirty-one of this chapter involving the purchase or acquisition of the right to use completed or remodeled dwelling units whether condominium units, individual buildings part of a larger development, or a portion of the units in a multi-family development, or the construction of new buildings; provided, however, that the department shall obtain the approval of the mayor and the city council; and provided, further, that such projects shall be subject to rules and regulations promulgated by the department, in the event said department acts as a housing authority in a city pursuant to this paragraph, which regulations shall include, but not be limited to, a procedure for providing public notice of the availability of funding and a ranking of priority for projects according to criteria for selection; and provided, further, that such projects shall be subject to any applicable laws, ordinances, and regulations of the city in which the project is located, relating to the construction and repair of buildings, zoning and the protection of public health in accordance with the provision of section twenty-eight of this chapter.

Said department shall annually provide for an evaluation of the effectiveness of its actions as a local housing authority pursuant to this section. Said evaluation shall be filed, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry into effect any recommendations the department might make, with the clerks of the senate and the house of representatives, the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint committee on urban affairs on or before the first Wednesday in December.

SECTION 12. Notwithstanding any special or general law to the contrary, the secretary of the executive office of communities and development, hereinafter referred to as the secretary, is hereby authorized to establish a neighborhood housing services program, to supplement programs established in an Act of Congress identified in Section 603 of Public Law 95-557, to assist homeowners who cannot meet private lending criteria for the purpose of bringing homes up to building code standards and for the rehabilitation of existing housing.

The secretary may, under the provisions of this section, provide grants, not to exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars in any one fiscal year, to neighborhood housing services corporations for the purposes of this section.

For the purposes of this section, a neighborhood housing services corporation shall be any private, non-profit community-based corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth, and in compliance with an Act of Congress identified in Section 603 of Public Law 95-557, to develop and administer a local neighborhood housing services program.

Any neighborhood housing services corporation may make application to the secretary for financial assistance to be used for the establishment of a revolving loan fund to provide home improvement loans to non-bankable neighborhood service clients.

Said secretary may receive applications from such neighborhood service corporations whose articles of organization provide for the following;

(1) a board of directors composed of neighborhood residents and representatives of local financial institutions and, where not inconsistent with law, representatives of local government;

(2) authorization to establish and administer a revolving loan fund to make loans available at flexible interest rates and terms to homeowners who cannot meet private lending criteria for the purpose of bringing homes in a neighborhood up to standards established by an applicable building code or for the rehabilitation of existing housing within the neighborhood;

(3) authorization to accept contributions of money or other property or other property or services to carry out its corporate purpose from public and private sources including, but not limited to, charitable foundations and institutions, business and industry, the United States, the commonwealth and any political subdivision thereof, and the National Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation;

(4) authorization to administer, in cooperation with representatives of the appropriate city or town, a housing inspection and building code compliance program for neighborhood homeowners which shall include counseling on rehabilitation and financing of homes and monitoring of construction;

(5) a description of the geographical boundaries of the neighborhood within which the corporation is authorized to exercise its corporate powers; and,

(6) any other information which the department shall deem necessary to insure that the neighborhood housing services corporation is in compliance with the intent of the neighborhood housing services program.

The secretary may award grant funds to any qualified applicant in an amount not to exceed the amount of funds received by said applicant from all other sources in any fiscal year. Said grants shall be subject to the approval of the secretary of administration and finance with the prior approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means.

Notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary, grants for operating expenses of a neighborhood housing services corporation shall not exceed thirty thousand dollars for each neighborhood housing services corporation per year; provided, however, that such neighborhood housing services corporation which provides services to more than one neighborhood may receive no more than thirty thousand dollars for each neighborhood served; provided, however, that no such neighborhood housing service corporation may receive more than one operating fund subsidy under the provisions of this act and provided further that the neighborhood housing services corporation will obtain from other public or private sources contributions for payment of operating expenses which shall be at least equal to the amount of grants received from the secretary and which shall be equivalent to not less than ninety per cent of the funds raised from those sources during the preceding fiscal year of the corporation; provided, however, that if a neighborhood housing services corporation was not in existence during the fiscal year preceding its application to the department for a grant for operating expenses, the department shall be authorized to make grants up to an amount not exceeding that raised from all other sources for operating expenses by said corporation.

Each neighborhood housing services corporation which receives a grant from the secretary pursuant to this section and shall report to the secretary at the end of each fiscal year the number, interest rates and terms of loans issued by said corporation within a designated neighborhood, the number and status of defaults on loans issued by said corporation, the amount of contributions received from other public and private sources, and the number of housing units which have been rehabilitated or brought into compliance with standards established by an appropriate building code. Each neighborhood housing services corporation shall also provide the department with a certified audit of the financial condition of the revolving loan fund maintained by said corporation.

The secretary shall annually prepare a comprehensive report on the status of neighborhood housing services corporations in the commonwealth including, but not limited to, the information reported to the secretary by said corporations. Said report shall be filed by the secretary, together with any recommendations made by the secretary and any drafts of legislation necessary to carry said recommendations into effect, with the clerks of the senate and the house of representatives, the house and senate committees on ways and means, and the joint committee on urban affairs on or before the last Wednesday in December of each year.

SECTION 13. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section twelve of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the secretary of the executive office of communities and development, with the approval of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale bonds of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as he may deem best, to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Neighborhood Housing Services Program Fund Loan, Act of 1980, and shall be on the serial payment plan for such maximum term, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, the maturities thereof to be so arranged that the amounts payable in the several years of the period of amortization other than the final year shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the state treasurer it is practicable to make them. Said bonds shall bear interest semiannually at such rate or rates as the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof and the entire issue not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and five.

SECTION 14. Section 29 of chapter 23A of the General Laws, as appearing in section 3 of chapter 496 of the acts of 1978, is hereby amended by inserting after the fifth paragraph thereof the following two paragraphs:-

It is hereby further found and declared that there is a critical shortage of housing within the commonwealth and a large and significant number of the commonwealth's residents will be subject to hardship in finding decent, safe and sanitary housing unless new facilities are constructed and existing buildings are rehabilitated for residential or mixed commercial and residential uses; that the shortage of housing is particularly acute for persons and families located in the center of the commonwealth's older cities and towns; and that the shortage of housing is a serious disincentive to industry locating or expanding in the commonwealth, particularly in its blighted commercial centers.

The deterioration of the commonwealth's commercial centers has reduced employment opportunities and resulted in inadequate and substandard housing conditions for the commonwealth's citizens located in such centers; the expansion of residential areas away from commercial centers and the rapidly increasing cost of energy have raised the cost of commuting, thereby draining the state's economy of its purchasing power; the strengthening of the commonwealth's economy, the conservation of energy and the increasing of opportunities for gainful employment and the improving of living conditions all require that the commonwealth's existing commercial centers be revitalized; and the availability of public financial assistance is a critical inducement to the revitalization of such deteriorated centers through development projects to create living and working opportunities in such centers.

SECTION 14. Said section 29 of said chapter 23A is hereby further amended by striking out the seventh paragraph, as inserted by section 3 of said chapter 496, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Therefore, it is in the best public interest of the commonwealth to promote the prosperity and general welfare of all citizens by stimulating industrial growth and expansion by encouraging a larger flow of private investment funds from banks, investment houses, insurance companies and other financial institutions, including pension retirement funds, to help satisfy the need for industrial expansion, and the need for mixed use buildings for combined housing and commercial use in the revitalization of the commercial centers of the cities and towns of the commonwealth.

SECTION 15. The first paragraph of section 30 of said chapter 23A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 5, the words "Industrial enterprise".

SECTION 16. Said section 30 of said chapter 23A, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by inserting after the first paragraph the following paragraph:-

"Industrial enterprise" as used in sections twenty-nine to thirty-eight, inclusive, shall unless the context requires otherwise, have the same meaning as set forth in section one of chapter forty D, except that the next to the last sentence of paragraph (1) of said section one shall not apply to the agency.

SECTION 17. Paragraph (c) of section 35 of said chapter 23A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:- The agency may issue bonds to finance the improvement of any single building for mixed commercial and residential use only if the agency and the governing body of the municipality in which the project is located find, after a public hearing held not less than ten days after publication of notice thereof in a newspaper of general circulation in such municipality, with respect to the portion of the project to be used for housing, that such portion is located in, or is needed to prevent the area in which it is located from becoming a substandard, decadent or blighted open area, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A; that the area will not by private enterprise alone and without either governmental subsidy or the exercise of governmental powers be developed or revitalized in such a manner as will to prevent, arrest or alleviate the spread of blight or decay; and that such portion of the project is consistent with the sound needs of the municipality as a whole.

Chap. 492. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE CAPE COD REGIONAL TRANSIT AUTHORITY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 161B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 9, as amended by section 8 of chapter 928 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 9. If in any year the commonwealth shall be called upon to pay any amount on account of the net cost of service of any regional transit authority except the Cape Cod Regional Transit Authority, unless said authority elects not to assess costs as provided in section nine A, the total amount of such net cost of service shall be assessed upon the cities and towns which are members of such authority in the proportion which the loss attributable to each route in each such city or town bears to the loss attributable to all such routes in all such cities and towns. The loss attributable to each such route in each such city or town shall be determined on the basis of the difference between the revenues collected from such route in such city or town and the cost of providing such route therein.

Such determination shall be made by such authority in accordance with sound accounting practice and guidelines developed in consultation with the department.

Section 9A. If in any year the commonwealth shall be called upon to pay any amount on account of the net cost of service of the Cape Cod Regional Transit Authority, the total amount of such net cost of service may be assessed in whole or in part upon the cities and towns which are members of such Authority on the basis of the total passenger miles and the number of trips attributable to the residents of cities and towns within said Authority. Any such assessment formula shall be subject to the approval of the secretary and the advisory board of the Authority.

Such determination shall be made by said Authority in accordance with sound accounting practice and guidelines developed in consultation with the department.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 14, 1980.

Chap. 493. AN ACT FACILITATING AND CONTROLLING THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE SITE FORMERLY OCCUPIED BY THE CHELSEA NAVAL HOSPITAL BY THE CITY OF CHELSEA.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The following words whenever used in this act shall, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context, have the following meanings:-

"Board of aldermen", the board of aldermen of the city of Chelsea.

"Chapter two hundred and twelve", chapter two hundred and twelve of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five.

"Chapter one hundred and twenty-one A", chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws.

"City", the city of Chelsea.

"Comprehensive development agreement", a development agreement between the city and any urban redevelopment entity covering all relevant aspects of the entire development of a project.

"Department", the department of community affairs.

"Development agreement", any agreement with the city under sections six A and fourteen of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A, section thirteen of chapter two hundred and twelve, the provisions of this act, or any one or more of the foregoing.

"Development plan", a redevelopment plan set forth in section eight of chapter two hundred and twelve, including a comprehensive development plan for the development of the site.

"Federal government", the United States of America, and any agency or instrumentality corporate or otherwise of the United States of America.

"Mayor", the mayor of the city of Chelsea.

"Project", the development of the site or a major portion thereof in accordance with a development plan and a comprehensive development agreement and one or more development agreements.

"Site", the land, interests therein and improvements thereon in the city now or formerly owned by the federal government and formerly used for the Chelsea Naval Hospital, exclusive, however, of any portion or portions thereof conveyed or to be conveyed by the federal government to the metropolitan district commission.

"Subproject", any portion of a project which is determined by the urban redevelopment entity undertaking such project to be severable for purposes of achieving further development on the basis of separate and distinct financing and development.

"Urban redevelopment entity", an urban redevelopment corporation or other entity operating under chapter one hundred and twenty-one A and the provisions of this act and undertaking any project or subproject.

SECTION 2. It is hereby found that in conformity with the conditions described in section one of chapter two hundred and twelve, the site has become a decadent and blighted open area as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A; and that the acquisition of the site by the city, the clearance of portions of the site, the rehabilitation of structures thereon, the restoration and reconversion of historic structures thereon, the construction of new structures thereon, the construction of streets, utilities, open spaces and other public improvements thereon and the disposition of portions of the site, together with the construction by the metropolitan district commission of associated parks, open spaces, recreational facilities and community public facilities, all in accordance with the effectuation of a comprehensive development plan and the carrying out of a comprehensive development agreement will eliminate the decadent and blighted open conditions on the site, will prevent recurrence of such conditions and will constitute a public use, benefit and purpose for which public money may be expended, the aids provided herein may be given and the power of eminent domain exercised.

It is hereby further found that the city suffers from substantial and persistent unemployment, and from a shortage of sound residential, commercial and industrial development; that the continued vacancy of the site represents a failure to meet these needs and deprives the city of needed tax revenues; that abandonment of the site as aforesaid has resulted in economic dislocation and additional unemployment in the city and in the commonwealth; and that the effectuation of a comprehensive plan and the carrying out of a comprehensive development agreement will alleviate such dislocation, unemployment, shortages and loss of revenue and will constitute a public use, benefit and purpose as aforesaid.

It is further found that one or more comprehensive development plans and development agreements which will incorporate phasing, land use control and measures for property taxation predictability, which will permit an urban redevelopment entity which has undertaken the phased development of the site to make, and the city to, recognize valid partial assignments to other urban redevelopment entities of rights and obligations under a comprehensive development agreement apportionable to a subproject, and which will provide for residential, commercial and industrial uses, including the improvement, to a commercially feasible extent, of a portion of the site with clustered residential developments with accessory community and commercial uses, will constitute an appropriate and necessary means to achieve the aforesaid public uses, benefits and purposes; and that any assistance which may be given by the commonwealth, the city or other public body in connection with the effectuation of such a plan will constitute a public use, benefit and purpose as aforesaid.

It is further found that certain conditions and combinations thereof exist in and especially affect the city but do not generally exist in and affect other cities in the commonwealth; that among such conditions are (a) a lack of comparable residential uses in the vicinity of the site upon which forecasts of occupancy and return may be based, (b) the proximity of the site to the Mystic River Bridge and General Edward Lawrence Logan International Airport, (c) the disproportionately large area of the city requiring redevelopment occasioned not only by the abandonment of the site but also by the recent destruction of other parts of the city by fire and storm, and (d) the need for large-scale planning in order to coordinate private development with proposed public improvements, to achieve marketing potential and to provide for environmental benefits; and that owing to such conditions and combinations thereof the development of the site or portions thereof cannot be effectively achieved by the ordinary operations of private enterprise and recourse to existing publicly supported aids to private development without the aids and powers provided herein.

SECTION 3. The city shall have the following powers with respect to any project or subproject in addition to any other powers conferred upon said city by this act or any other general or special law:-

(a) To act as agent of, or to cooperate with the federal government in any clearance, housing, urban redevelopment or other similar activity within the site.

(b) To receive gifts, loans, grants, contributions or other financial assistance from the federal government, the commonwealth or any source, public or private.

(c) To take by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A of the General Laws, including, without limitation, for the purpose of confirming title or guaranteeing access to the site or any portion thereof, or to purchase or lease, or to acquire by gift, bequest or grant, and hold, any property, real or personal, public or private, or any interest therein, found by it to be necessary or reasonably required to carry out the purposes of this act, including without limitation the power to contract with the government land bank established under chapter two hundred and twelve or the federal government for the acquisition of all or any part of the site, and to sell, exchange, transfer, lease or assign the same; provided, that in case of a taking by eminent domain under said chapter seventy-nine the provisions of section forty of said chapter shall be applicable, except that the security therein required shall be deposited with the mayor.

(d) To clear and improve any property acquired by it.

(e) To engage in or contract for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, remodeling or repair of any clearance, housing, urban redevelopment or other similar activity within the site.

(f) To enter into, execute and carry out development agreements and comprehensive development agreements under section six, and to assent to and recognize any partial assignment under section seven.

(g) To enter, with the approval of the mayor, into agreements with the federal government relative to the acceptance of funds for any project or subproject and containing such covenants, terms and conditions as the mayor may deem desirable; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to require approval by the mayor of requisition agreements and similar contracts with the federal government which are entered into pursuant to an agreement approved by him.

(h) To enter into, execute and carry out contracts and all other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers granted in this act.

(i) To prepare or cause to be prepared a development plan or plans and any plans or studies required or assisted under federal law.

(j) To engage in any project or subproject, and to enforce restrictions and controls contained in any development plan or any covenant or agreement contained in any contract, deed or lease of property within the site notwithstanding that the city may no longer have any title or interest in the property to which such restrictions and controls apply or to any neighboring property.

(k) To raise and appropriate, agree to raise and appropriate or borrow funds and expend the same to the extent, for the purposes and subject to the limitations that such sums may be raised and appropriated, agreed to be raised and appropriated or borrowed in aid of an operating agency as provided in sections nineteen, twenty, twenty-one and twenty-two of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws as amended to date.

(l) To do or agree to do in aid of any project or subproject, or of any urban redevelopment entity undertaking all or part of such project or subproject, all the things cities are authorized to do in aid of operating agencies under section twenty-three of said chapter one hundred and twenty-one B and in the manner prescribed in said section.

(m) To appropriate funds, borrow funds and execute promissory notes therefor and grant such mortgages and other security interests as may be necessary or convenient to acquire the site, including, without limitation, a mortgage or mortgages or other security interest or interests to the federal government, or the government land bank established under chapter two hundred and twelve; any indebtedness secured by any such mortgage or security interest shall be outside the limit of indebtedness set forth in section ten of chapter forty-four of the General Laws.

(n) To enter into any agreement or agreements with the metropolitan district commission which may be necessary or convenient for the purpose of constructing a public park adjacent to the site and to the Mystic and Island End Rivers and any roadways incidental thereto or for the purpose of integrating such public park with development within the site, including, but not limited to, agreements relating to the construction and maintenance of roadways and utilities, the granting or reservation of easements for the benefit of either such public park or portions of the site and the policing of such park and roadways; provided, that the metropolitan district commission shall likewise have the power to execute such agreements and perform such acts as may be necessary or convenient to carry out the purposes of this subsection (n).

(o) To do all other acts incidental to the exercise of the above powers and necessary or convenient to carry out the purposes of this act.

SECTION 4. Subject to section five, the site shall be governed by applicable provisions of the zoning ordinance of the city in effect upon the effective date of this act and for a period of ten years thereafter notwithstanding any amendment thereto, provided, that the city may increase the number of permitted uses of any land within the site.

The site shall not become subject to the provisions of sections eighty-one K to eighty-one GG, inclusive, of chapter forty-one of the General Laws prior to the completed development of the entire site or ten years from the effective date of this act, whichever is sooner. The Chelsea Redevelopment Authority shall have no powers or duties under chapter one hundred and twenty-one A and chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws or otherwise with respect to the site and any project or subproject.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of any zoning, building, health or fire law, code, ordinance or regulation of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof which may affect the site now or in the future, the mayor, with the approval of the board of aldermen, shall have the power, both before and after the approval and execution of any development agreement or agreements for the development of any project or subproject, to grant from time to time permission for such project or subproject to deviate from such law, code, ordinance or regulation if he finds that such permission may be granted without substantially derogating from the intent and purpose of such law, code, ordinance or regulation, and also to grant from time to time permission for any such project or subproject to deviate from any such building, health or fire law, code, ordinance or regulation if he finds that a particular design or construction or a particular material, apparatus or equipment, or a particular method of construction or installation is specified, but he is satisfied by reliable and generally accepted tests or experience in other cities, or after consultation with the building department, health department or the fire department, as appropriate, that some other design, construction, material, apparatus, equipment or method will sufficiently satisfy the purpose for which it is to be used and the purposes of such law, code, ordinance, or regulation or that the specification was not designed for a structure of the nature proposed and that such purposes can in some other requested manner be satisfied.

The vote of the board of aldermen approving each such deviation shall be filed with the city clerk of the city.

SECTION 6. Any urban redevelopment entity shall, in addition to its other powers, have the authority and power to enter into a comprehensive development agreement with the city which is consistent with the development plan and which may provide that the project subject to such agreement may be divided into subprojects, that the contract rights and obligations of the city and such urban redevelopment entity under such agreement apportionable to each such subproject may be assigned to an assignee qualified to become such as hereinafter provided in section seven, that such assignment may be without recourse to the assignor and that such urban redevelopment entity may carry out any or all phases or stages of the project. An urban redevelopment entity is hereby further authorized to enter into development and other agreements with the city with respect to the development of any project or subproject.

SECTION 7. (a) Three or more persons wishing to associate themselves by written agreement of association in a form furnished or approved by the commissioner of corporations and taxation as provided in chapter one hundred and twenty-one A, and individuals, and associations of individuals, in the form of joint ventures, partnerships, limited partnerships or trusts resident or organized in the commonwealth, or a charitable corporation organized under chapter one hundred and eighty of the General Laws may apply to the department for its approval of their acquisition of any project or subproject. Their application shall specify the nature of the project or subproject which they propose to acquire, the terms upon which the same is to be acquired, and the amount of capital which they intend to raise. If it is proposed in connection with such subproject that any change be made in the project as originally approved or as previously amended, other than the proposed acquisition of the project or subproject, the application shall include such information concerning the proposed changes as the department shall require. If the department determines that such persons or associations appear to have the ability requisite to perform the obligations and carry out the duties imposed by chapter one hundred and twenty-one A and this act with respect to such project or subproject and if it determines that none of the proposed changes, if any, are fundamental, it shall issue a certificate that it approves the application. The agreement of association, if any, shall not be presented to the state secretary for filing, nor shall he file it, unless it is accompanied by such certificate. If any changes are proposed in the project or subproject, other than the proposed acquisition thereof, and if the department determines that any such changes are fundamental, the department shall proceed as if such application were an application under section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A for the original approval of the project or sub-

The provisions of the last sentence of the first paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A shall not apply to an urban redevelopment entity which undertakes the development of a project or subproject under this act, and all references in chapter one hundred and twenty-one A to section three thereof shall in their application to any such entity be deemed to refer to the provisions of said section exclusive of the last sentence of the first paragraph.

EMERGENCY LETTER - August 8, 1980 @ 4:30 P.M.

Chap. 508. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE DISPOSAL OF HAZARDOUS WASTE MATERIALS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose which is, in part, to immediately encourage and expedite the process of development of hazardous waste treatment and disposal facilities which provide adequate safeguards to protect the public health, safety, and environment of the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety, and convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4 of chapter 21C of the General Laws, inserted by section 2 of chapter 704 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by striking out the ninth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The department shall require that a licensee obtain and maintain in effect a contract of liability insurance, a surety bond or other evidence of financial responsibility in favor of the commonwealth sufficient to assure financial responsibility in the event of damages resulting from accidents, negligence, misconduct, or malfunctioning in the construction, maintenance and operation of a facility, or from any other circumstances reasonably foreseeable occurring during or after construction or in the course of the maintenance and operation of hazardous waste facilities.

SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 7 of said chapter 21C, inserted by said section 2 of said chapter 704, is hereby amended by striking out the second and third sentences.

SECTION 2A. Said section 7 of said chapter 21C is hereby further amended by striking out the second and third paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

The department shall grant a license to construct, maintain and operate a facility on a site if it determines that said construction, maintenance, and operation does not constitute a significant danger to public health, public safety, or the environment, does not seriously threaten injury to the inhabitants of the area or damage to their property, and does not result in the creation of noisome or unwholesome odors. In making this determination, the department shall consider, but not be limited to, the following information which the applicant for a license shall submit in such form and manner as the department shall prescribe and require: detailed engineering plans and specifications; a description of maintenance and operating procedures; a description of the applicant's qualifications and experience in constructing, managing, and operating a facility; a plan for closure and post closure care of the facility and site; a statement of the applicant's financial condition; a statement of the amount and types of waste to be received at the facility; the results of chemical analysis of the surface and groundwaters in the area of the site's locus; and a hydrogeological study of the site area, for any proposal to dispose of hazardous waste into or on the land, or for other proposals if the department has sufficient reason to believe that the potentialities exist for groundwater contamination. The applicant shall be required to submit such other information as the department finds to be relevant and useful in making its determination. The department shall, where appropriate in making its determination, further consider such factors including, but not limited to, the following: topography; geological and soil conditions; climate; surface water and groundwater hydrology, including water run-off and run-on characteristics, wetlands and flooding conditions; drinking water supplies; and compliance with applicable statutes, regulations, and judicial decisions regarding the protection of air, water and land resources. Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny or limit the right of the department to obtain and use such other information which it deems necessary to assist it in making its determination.

The department may issue a license subject to such terms, restrictions, conditions and requirements as it determines to be necessary to comply with the provisions of this chapter. No facilities shall be constructed, maintained or operated except pursuant to the terms, restrictions, conditions and requirements established by the department in a license duly issued hereunder and pursuant to the terms of an assignment of a site for said facilities if said assignment is required pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and fifty A of chapter one hundred and eleven.

SECTION 3. Said section 7 of said chapter 21C is hereby further amended by inserting after the eleventh paragraph the following two paragraphs:-

No landfill for the treatment or disposal of hazardous waste shall be operated in such a manner as to cause discharge of hazardous waste into surface waters or groundwaters which the department or the water resources commission has determined are presently used, or may reasonably be expected to be used in the future, as sources for the supply of drinking water.

Hazardous waste shall be disposed of in a landfill only (a) after said hazardous waste has been given all treatment as directed by the department pursuant to rules, regulations, procedures and standards duly prescribed including, but not limited to, the requirement of treatment at the place of generation when determined to be appropriate by the department and (b) where the department finds that said hazardous waste cannot be recycled, destroyed, or disposed of by some other means approved by the department pursuant to its rules, regulations, procedures or standards.

SECTION 4. Chapter 111 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 150A the following section:-

Section 150B. The definition of "facility" in section one of chapter twenty-one D shall apply to this section. Any such facility shall be subject to this section and not subject to section one hundred and fifty A.

No place in any city or town shall be established or maintained or operated by any person, including any political subdivision or agency of the commonwealth, as a site for a facility, unless such place has either been assigned by the board of health of such city or town as a site for a facility after a public hearing, subject to the provisions of any ordinance or by-law adopted therein under chapter forty A or corresponding provisions of earlier laws, or, in the case of an agency of the commonwealth, has been assigned by the department of environmental quality engineering, in this section called the department after a public hearing and unless public notice of such assignment has been given by the board of health.

The assignment of a place as a site for a facility shall be subject to such limitation with respect to the extent, character and nature of operation thereof as will insure that the facility imposes no significantly greater danger to the public health or public safety from fire, explosion, pollution, discharge of hazardous substances, or other construction or operational factors than the dangers that currently exist in the conduct and operation of other industrial and commercial enterprises in the commonwealth not engaged in the treatment, processing or disposal of hazardous waste, but utilizing processes that are comparable. In assessing the significance and degree of danger, the board shall consider and evaluate such evidence as all interested persons may submit to it including, but not limited to, evidence comparing the procedures and practices proposed for the conduct and operation of a facility with the procedures and practices existing in the conduct and operation of other industrial and commercial enterprises in the commonwealth not engaged in the treatment, processing or disposal of hazardous waste which are conducted and operated in accordance with law and sound principles of modern engineering practice. The board of health shall notify the department upon receipt of an application to assign a place as a site for a facility. The department shall, upon request by the board of health, provide advice, guidance and technical assistance in reviewing the application. The department and a board of health may enter into such other cooperative arrangements in addition to those herein specified for the purpose of achieving a more effective and expeditious review of the application.

Every decision of the board of health in assigning or refusing to assign a place as a site for a facility shall be in writing and shall include a statement of reasons and the facts relied upon by the board in reaching its decision.

Any person aggrieved by the action of a board of health in refusing to assign a place as a site for a facility may, within thirty days of the publication of notice of said decision, appeal to the superior court, which may affirm said decision of the board of health, remand the matter for further proceedings before the board of health, set aside or modify said decision, or order the board of health to take any action unlawfully withheld or unreasonably delayed if the court determines that the substantial rights of any party may have been violated because said decision violated constitutional provisions or was in excess of the statutory authority and jurisdiction of the board of health or was based upon an error of law or was made upon unlawful procedure or was unsupported by substantial evidence, or was arbitrary, capricious, or an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law.

Any person aggrieved by the action of a board of health in assigning a place as a site for a facility may, within thirty days of the publication of notice of such assignment, appeal to the department from the assignment of the board of health. Upon such appeal or upon the department's own initiative, the department may, after due notice and public hearing, rescind or suspend such assignment or modify the same by the imposition or amendment of terms, restrictions, conditions and requirements.

Upon determination that the maintenance and operation of a facility has resulted in a significant danger to public health or is not in compliance with the terms, restrictions, conditions and requirements established for its maintenance and operation in an assignment made pursuant to the provisions of this section, said assignment may be rescinded or suspended or may be modified through the imposition or amendment of terms, restrictions, conditions and requirements at any time after due notice and a public hearing by the board of health where such facility is located, upon its own initiative or upon complaint by any person aggrieved by such assignment, or by the department upon its own initiative or upon complaint by any person aggrieved by said assignment. Every such rescission, suspension or modification shall be in writing and shall include a statement of reasons and the facts relied upon by the board of health or the department in taking such action.

Any person aggrieved by the action of the board of health or the department in rescinding, suspending or modifying an assignment may, within thirty days of publication of notice or such rescission, suspension or modification of said assignment, appeal to the superior court, which may affirm said rescission, suspension or modification, remand the matter for further proceedings, set aside or modify said rescission, suspension or modification, order any action unlawfully held or unreasonably delayed if the court determines that the substantial rights of any party may have been violated because said rescission, suspension or modification violated constitutional provisions or was in excess of statutory authority and jurisdiction or was based upon an error of law or was made upon unlawful procedure or was unsupported by substantial evidence or was arbitrary, capricious or an abuse of discretion, or otherwise not in accordance with law.

The department shall adopt, and may from time to time amend rules and regulations, and the commissioner may issue orders, to enforce the provisions of this section. Any person, including any political subdivision of the commonwealth, who fails to operate and maintain a facility in accordance with the provisions of this section or in accordance with any rules, regulations, or orders hereunder promulgated shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. Each day's failure to comply with said provisions, rules, regulations or orders shall constitute a separate violation.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce the provisions of this section upon petition of the department or any aggrieved person.

SECTION 5. Section 9 of chapter 40A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

A hazardous waste facility as defined in section two of chapter twenty-one D shall be permitted to be constructed as of right on any locus presently zoned for industrial use pursuant to the ordinances and by-laws of any city or town provided that all permits and licenses required by law have been issued to the developer and a siting agreement has been established pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen of chapter twenty-one D, provided however, that following the submission of a notice of intent, pursuant to section seven of chapter twenty-one D, a city or town may not adopt any zoning change which would exclude the facility from the locus specified in said notice of intent. This section shall not prevent any city or town from adopting a zoning change relative to the proposed locus for the facility following the final disapproval and exhaustion of appeals for permits and licenses required by law and by chapter twenty-one D.

SECTION 6. Section 19 of chapter 16 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

The department of environmental management shall not exercise its eminent domain authority as authorized herein for the acquisition of sites for hazardous waste treatment, processing or disposal until all permits, licenses and approvals of the city or town wherein the site lies have been granted, a siting agreement has been established pursuant to the provisions of sections twelve and thirteen of chapter twenty-one D, and the approval of said exercise of eminent domain authority has been obtained by a majority vote of the city council, board of aldermen, or board of selectmen of said city or town.

SECTION 7. Chapter 704 of acts of 1979 is hereby amended by inserting after section 9 the following section:-

Section 9A. It is hereby declared that the provisions of this chapter are severable, and if any provision of this chapter shall be declared unconstitutional by the valid judgement or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction, such unconstitutionality shall not affect any of the remaining provisions of this chapter.

SECTION 8. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 21C the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 21D.

In developing said schedule of reasonable fees, the council shall consider the actual costs incurred by the commonwealth in the conduct and operation of the hazardous waste facility siting process established by this chapter.

Section 5. Not more than thirty days after the receipt of a notice of intent to construct, maintain and operate a hazardous waste facility on a site in a city or town, or notification by the department that this community is a host community in the final list of suggested sites established by the council pursuant to section seven, the chief executive officer of said city or town shall take appropriate action to establish a local assessment committee. Said committee shall be comprised of (1) the chief executive officer, who shall serve as its chairman, (2) the chairman of the local board of health or his designee, (3) the chairman of the local conservation commission or his designee, (4) the chairman of the local planning board or his designee, (5) the chief of the fire department or his designee, (6) four residents of said city or town appointed by a majority vote of the aforementioned city or town officials or their designees, three of whom shall be residents of the area of the city or town most immediately affected by the proposed facility; and (7) not more than four members nominated by the chief executive officer and approved by a majority vote of the city council, board of aldermen, or board of selectmen of said city or town. Said four members nominated by the chief executive officer may include representatives of abutting communities; each representative of an abutting community shall be approved by a majority vote of the city council, board of aldermen, or board of selectmen of said abutting community. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of conducting all business. The chairman shall preside over meetings of the committee. All actions and decisions of the committee pursuant to this chapter shall be made by majority vote. Not more than thirty days after the receipt of a notice of intent to construct, maintain and operate a hazardous waste facility on a site in said city or town, or notification by the department that this community is a host community on the final list of suggested sites established by the council pursuant to section seven, the chief executive officer of said city or town shall submit to the council the names and addresses of all the members of the local assessment committee.

If the chief executive officer of said city or town fails to take appropriate action to establish a local assessment committee and to submit the names and addresses of its membership to the council not later than thirty days after the receipt of said notice of intent, or notification by the department that this community is a host community on the final list of suggested sites established by the council pursuant to section seven of this chapter, the council shall establish and appoint the membership of said committee.

The chief executive officer shall promptly report to the council any changes that may occur in the members of the local assessment committee.

A local assessment committee shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) to represent generally the best interests of the host community in all negotiations with the developers of proposed facilities in said community;

(2) to negotiate with the developer the detailed terms, provisions, and conditions of a siting agreement to protect the public health, the public safety, and the environment of the host community, as well as to promote the fiscal welfare of said community through special benefits and compensation;

(3) to receive and expend such technical assistance and planning grants as may be made available pursuant to section eleven of this chapter and such other funds as may become available for such purposes from any other source, public or private;

(4) to enter into a nonassignable contract binding upon the host community, and enforceable against said host community in any court of competent jurisdiction, by the decision to sign a siting agreement pursuant to section thirteen of this chapter;

(5) to cooperate wherever possible with abutting communities in negotiations with the developer over compensation for said abutting communities; and

(6) to adopt such rules, regulations, procedures and standards as may be necessary to carry out its functions and perform its duties under this chapter.

The provisions of sections twenty-three A and twenty-three B of chapter thirty-nine shall apply to all meetings of a local assessment committee except that, in addition to the purposes for which executive sessions may be held pursuant to section twenty-three B of chapter thirty-nine, an executive session of a local assessment committee may also be held to discuss strategy with respect to the negotiation of a siting agreement or to consider the terms, conditions and provisions of said siting agreement if such discussion or consideration in an open meeting may have a detrimental effect upon the negotiating position of the local assessment committee or the establishment of the terms, conditions and provisions of said siting agreement.

Section 6. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, any information, record, or particular part thereof, obtained by the department pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall, upon request, be kept confidential and not be considered to be a public record when it is deemed by the commissioner that such information, record or report relates to secret processes, methods of manufacture or production, or that such information, record or report, if made public, would divulge a trade secret. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or to deny the power of the department to use such information, record or report as part of aggregated statistics and computations in its statewide environmental impact report including, but not limited to, the capacity shortfall of hazardous waste facilities.

Section 7. Every developer proposing to construct, maintain and operate a hazardous waste facility shall submit a notice of intent to the council, the department, the department of environmental quality engineering, the chief executive officer of the host community, if any, any regional planning agency of which the host community, if any, is a member or in which it otherwise participates, the chief executive officer of all abutting communities, if any, and those persons owning or otherwise exercising control over the real property of any site on which the developer proposes to construct, maintain and operate a hazardous waste facility. A separate notice of intent shall be submitted by the developer for each site proposed by the developer for a facility.

The notice of intent shall include:

(1) a description of the type of hazardous wastes the developer proposes to accept for treatment, processing and disposal at the facility;

(2) a description of the technology and procedures the developer proposes to use to treat, process, and dispose of hazardous waste at the facility;

(3) the site, if any, proposed by the developer as a possible location for the construction and operation of the facility;

(4) a description of the present suitability of the site, and of what additional measures, if any, will be required to make the site suitable for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating a facility; or in the event such developer is not proposing a site, the requirements and characteristics of a site that would be appropriate for said facility;

(5) preliminary specifications and architectural drawings of the proposed facility;

(6) a copy of the most recently published statewide environmental impact report issued by the department pursuant to section three; and

(7) any other information required to be submitted in accordance with the rules, regulations, procedures and standards of the department or the council.

In submitting a notice of intent, the developer shall attach thereto such documents prepared or approved by the department which describe and explain the hazardous waste facility siting process as established by the provisions of this chapter, which describe and explain the types of planning and other technical assistance available to the host community and to abutting communities from any source, including, but not limited to, state agencies and the developer, and which describe and explain the types of special benefits that may be included in a negotiated facility siting agreement between a local assessment committee in a host community and a developer including, but not limited to, direct compensation payments to the host community, safety operation and monitoring programs, and future monetary incentives to the host community.

The council shall, within fifteen days of the receipt of a completed notice of intent, and upon consultation with the department of environmental quality engineering, review the proposed project to determine if the proposed project is feasible and deserving of state assistance. The department shall publish and disseminate any determination by the council that a proposed project is feasible and deserving of state assistance by notifying all those who previously received the notice of intent pursuant to this section and the chief executive officer of every city and town in the commonwealth. The department shall include its schedule of briefing sessions pursuant to section eight of this chapter in such notification.

Section 8. The department shall conduct briefing sessions for the purposes of insuring the participation of interested persons in the hazardous waste facility siting process pursuant to this chapter and of informing the public about every proposal which the hazardous waste facility siting council has determined to be feasible and deserving of state assistance. The department shall establish whatever schedule of briefing sessions it deems appropriate to achieve these purposes, holding said sessions in such a manner, place, and at such times as in its sole discretion are best calculated to achieve these purposes. The department shall conduct its first briefing session on a proposal within thirty days after it has completed its dissemination of the determination of the council that the proposed project is feasible and deserving of state support pursuant to section seven of this chapter. The department shall give a reasonable opportunity to persons attending the hearing to discuss, comment upon, or criticize all or any part of the proposal and may ask questions of the developer, the department, or any other agencies represented at said briefing session.

Section 9. If the developer suggests a site in his notice of intent and indicates therein his unwillingness to accept suggestions for alternative sites, the council shall proceed to review the proposal pursuant to section ten. If the developer indicates in his notice of intent a willingness to accept suggestions for a site, whether as alternative sites to a site already proposed or as initially suggested sites if none has been proposed in his notice of intent, the department shall for a period of fifty days after the conclusion of the briefing sessions pursuant to section eight accept suggestions for sites proposed and submitted by any of the following persons:

(1) private individuals who own, or have a substantial financial interest in, the suggested site;

(2) the chief executive officer or the local assessment committee of a host community suggesting a site within said host community which is publicly owned and probably available for lease or sale to the developer, or which is privately owned, where reasonable grounds exist for the belief that said site might be readily available for use as a site for a facility;

(3) the developer suggesting a site either as an alternative to, or in addition to the site originally proposed in his notice of intent or as an initial suggestion for a site if none was proposed in his notice of intent;

(4) any agency of the commonwealth suggesting a site which is publicly owned and probably available for lease or sale to the developer, or which is privately owned, where reasonable grounds exist for the belief that said site might be readily available for use as a site for a facility; and

(5) the chief executive officer of any city or town in the commonwealth suggesting a site in his city or town which is publicly owned and probably available for lease or sale to the developer, or which is privately owned, where reasonable grounds exist for the belief that said site might be readily available for use as a site for a facility.

Any person or agency so suggesting a site shall prior to such suggestions notify in writing the owner or owners of record of the site and the chief executive officer of the host community.

Any suggestion of a site may be withdrawn by the person or agency making said suggestion within the fifty day period permitted for the making of suggestions. If upon the conclusion of the fifty day period, no sites have been suggested by any person or agency, the council may extend the period within which suggestions may be made for an additional thirty days and the department may suggest a reasonable number of sites in the host community which are publicly owned and probably available for lease or sale to the developer or which are privately owned, where reasonable grounds exist for the belief that said sites might be readily available for use as sites for a facility.

If, upon the conclusion of the period or any extension permitted for suggestions, more than three suggested sites have been proposed, the council shall, upon consultation with the department of environmental quality engineering, reduce the number of suggested sites to three, including the developer's suggested site, if any. The council shall determine, prior to establishing its final list of suggested sites, whether or not the owner of record desires to withdraw his real property from consideration as a suggested site. If the owner of record so desires, the suggested site shall be withdrawn and the council shall endeavor to replace said suggested site on its final list.

Within ten days after the end of the suggestion period, the department shall notify the chief executive officers of each host community and all abutting communities, the members of the local assessment committee of each host community, the owner or owners of record of suggested sites, and newspapers, radio stations, and television stations serving each host community of the final list of suggested sites by distributing said list to them.

Section 10. The developer shall prepare a preliminary project impact report to be submitted to the secretary and to the council for each site under consideration. Said preliminary project impact report shall consist of two parts: (1) the environmental impact report required by sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive of chapter thirty and (2) a social economic appendix as prescribed by the rules, regulations, procedures and standards adopted by the council. The secretary shall continue to administer and manage the environmental impact report as part of the preliminary project impact report pursuant to the procedures and time requirements of sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty in order to determine whether or not said environmental impact report complies with the provisions of said sections. Insofar as possible, the council shall administer and manage the social and economic appendix as part of the preliminary project impact report in accordance with the procedures and time requirements established for an environmental impact report pursuant to sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty in order to determine whether or not the social and economic appendix is in its judgment in compliance with the rules, regulations, procedures and standards which it has prescribed for said appendix. The secretary and the council shall cooperate in the administration and management of the preliminary project impact report, shall from time to time during the review process exchange reports, comments and information developed and received, and shall to the maximum feasible extent endeavor to have both parts of the preliminary project impact report proceed through the review process at the same time pursuant to the procedures and timing requirements of section sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty.

The developer shall file a project notification form with the secretary and the council. The council shall issue public notice of the availability of such report. The project notification form shall consist of an environmental notification form pursuant to section sixty-two A of chapter thirty and such other social and economic information as the council shall prescribe by its rules, regulations, procedures and standards.

The council shall limit the scope of the social and economic appendix as part of the preliminary project impact report. Notwithstanding the provisions of section sixty-two A of chapter thirty, the council may establish a specific procedure for the evaluation and review of the social and economic impacts of the proposed project, whether or not the secretary has designated said project as a major and complicated project. The secretary shall have the authority to determine in his sole discretion that a proposal to construct, maintain and operate a hazardous waste facility should be designated as a major and complicated project requiring the establishment of a specific procedure for evaluation and review of the environmental impact of said project pursuant to section sixty-two A of chapter thirty.

Upon the establishment of a siting agreement pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen, the developer shall prepare a final project impact report which shall be in accordance with the provisions of the siting agreement and which shall contain information, comments, and facility redesign data resulting from the negotiations preceding the establishment of said agreement. The council shall declare that an established siting agreement is operative and is to be given full force and effect only when a final project impact report has been found by the secretary and the council to be in compliance with all applicable provisions of law.

Section 11. The local assessment committee of a host community and the chief executive officers of abutting communities may request technical assistance grants from the council. If a local assessment committee of a host community or the chief executive officer of an abutting community requests a technical assistance grant on or before the date that the secretary has defined the scope of the environmental impact report part of the preliminary project impact report, the council shall act on said request within thirty days after the secretary has so defined the scope and shall award, subject to funds appropriated therefor, such amounts as in its discretion shall be appropriate, upon consultation with the executive office of communities and development. All technical assistance grants awarded to the chief executive officers of abutting communities and to the local assessment committee of a host community which has requested such a grant after the secretary has defined the scope of the environmental impact report part of the preliminary project impact report shall be awarded in such amounts and form, subject to funds appropriated therefor, as the council in its discretion shall deem to be appropriate.

The local assessment committee of a host community and the chief executive officers of abutting communities may expend these funds, and such other funds as a city or town may appropriate therefor, to pay the costs incurred by said communities for participation in the hazardous waste facility site process established by this chapter.

Section 12. No facility shall be constructed, maintained or operated unless a siting agreement shall have been established by the developer and the local assessment committee of a host community pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen and said agreement has been declared to be operative and in full force and effect by the council. After said declaration by the council, a siting agreement shall be a nonassignable contract binding upon the developer and the host community, and enforceable against the parties in any court of competent jurisdiction.

The siting agreement shall specify the terms, conditions and provisions under which the facility shall be constructed, maintained and operated if the developer chooses to construct, maintain and operate a facility on said site, including, but not limited to the following terms, conditions and provisions:

(1) facility construction and maintenance procedures;

(2) operating procedures and practices, the design of the facility and its associated activities;

(3) monitoring procedures, practices and standards necessary to assure and continue to demonstrate that the facility will be operated safely;

(4) the services to be provided the developer by the host community;

(5) the compensation, services, and special benefits that will be provided to the host community by the developer, and the timing and conditions of their provision;

(6) the services and benefits to be provided to the host community by agencies of state government, and the timing and condition of their provision;

(7) any provisions for tax prepayments or accelerated payments, or for payments in lieu of taxes;

(8) provisions for renegotiation of any of the term, conditions of provisions of the siting agreement, or of the entire agreement;

(9) provisions for resolving any disagreements in the construction and interpretation of the siting agreement that may arise between the parties; and

(10) appendices of the compensation to be paid abutting communities established pursuant to the provisions of section fourteen.

The siting agreement may also include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) provisions for direct monetary payments from the developer to the host community in addition to payments for taxes and special services and compensation for demonstrable adverse impacts;

(2) provisions to assure the health, safety, comfort, convenience, and social and economic security of the host community and its citizens;

(3) provisions to assure the continuing economic viability of the project; and

(4) provisions to assure the protection of the environment and natural resources.

Any financial benefits received by host communities or abutting communities, other than taxes on real or personal property, shall not be deducted from any amounts of state assistance, reimbursements or distributions provided by general and special laws or under the local aid fund established by section two D of chapter twenty-nine.

Section 13. A siting agreement may be established by the signature of the chief executive officer of a host community who has been directed by a majority vote of the local assessment committee of said host community to sign and the signature of any officer of the developer expressly authorized by the developer to sign said agreement, or by arbitration pursuant to section fifteen.

All state agencies shall endeavor to assist in facilitating negotiations between local assessment committees, the chief executive officer of abutting communities, and the developer. The council shall be available during such negotiations to assist in the exchange of information and to encourage and facilitate access to opinions, reports, documents and other materials relevant to the siting agreement including, but not limited to, all public records produced as part of the hazardous waste facility siting process established by this chapter.

Section 14. The chief executive officer of any abutting community may, within sixty days of the determination by the secretary and the council that a preliminary project impact report is in their judgment in compliance with applicable law, petition the council for the establishment of compensation to be paid by the developer to the abutting community for the demonstrably adverse impacts to be imposed upon said community by the construction, maintenance and operation of a hazardous waste facility in a host community. As a condition precedent to the filing of said petition, the chief executive officer shall agree in writing on a form prescribed by the council, and he is herewith given the authority to bind his city or town to such an agreement, that his city or town shall either accept the compensation to be determined by the council or the compensation established by arbitration pursuant to the procedures established in this section in full settlement of any claims for demonstrably adverse impacts imposed by the current proposed project. The chief executive officer shall also agree, as an essential part of said condition precedent, that he will sign an agreement with the developer accepting the amount established by the council or by arbitration pursuant to this section, which agreement shall be a nonassignable contract binding on the abutting community and the developer, and enforceable as such in any court of competent jurisdiction.

The council, after due notice to the developer, the local assessment committee, and the chief executive officer of the abutting community which has petitioned shall conduct a public hearing to determine and establish the compensation to be given to the abutting community by the developer. If the chief executive officer of the abutting community or the developer is aggrieved by the amount of compensation established by the council, either party may appeal to the council to establish an arbitration panel, which shall be comprised of three arbitrators, to resolve the dispute. The council, upon such appeal, shall establish said arbitration panel by appointing one arbitrator selected by the chief executive officer of the abutting community, one arbitrator selected by the developer, and the third an impartial arbitrator, who shall be selected by the chief executive officer of the abutting community and by the developer and who shall act as chairman of the panel or, if the chief executive officer of the abutting community and the developer agree, a single impartial arbitrator acceptable to the chief executive officer of the abutting community and the developer.

If an arbitration panel or single arbitrator has not been selected within thirty days after an appeal for arbitration has been filed, the council shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators necessary to complete the three person panel, which shall act with the same force and effect as if the panel had been selected without the intervention of the council.

The arbitration panel by a majority vote or single arbitrator shall within forty-five days after establishment determine the amount of compensation to be paid by the developer to the abutting community. The council, upon request of the arbitration panel or the single arbitrator, may extend the time for the conduct of arbitration.

The arbitrators or arbitrator, subject to appropriation, shall receive from the council such compensation for each day or part thereof for his services as a majority of the council shall establish. He shall also receive, subject to appropriation, all reasonable expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his official duties.

The developer shall agree in writing on a form prescribed by the council that, as a condition precedent to the establishment of a siting agreement, he shall accept the amount established by the council or by arbitration pursuant to this section as the amount of compensation he shall pay to the abutting community. The developer shall also agree, as an essential part of said condition precedent, that he will expressly authorize one of his officers to sign an agreement with the chief executive officer of the abutting community, which agreement shall be a nonassignable contract binding on the developer and the abutting community, and enforceable as such in any court of competent jurisdiction.

The provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-one shall govern the conduct of arbitration proceedings pursuant to this section, including the provisions of said chapter for judicial review of an arbitration award.

Section 15. If sixty days after the secretary and the council determine that the preliminary project impact report is in compliance with applicable law, the department, the developer or the local assessment committee of the host community informs the council that an impasse in the negotiations of a siting agreement exists, the council, upon investigation, may determine that such an impasse exists and may proceed to frame the issues in dispute between the local assessment committee and the developer for submission to final and binding arbitration. Upon request of both the developer and the host community, the council may postpone the making of its determination that an impasse exists and that the issues in dispute should be resolved by final and binding arbitration for such a reasonable period of time as the council in its sole discretion shall determine to be appropriate. Upon the making of the determination that an impasse in the negotiation of a siting agreement exists, the council shall establish either an arbitration panel which shall be comprised of three arbitrators, one selected by the developer, one selected by the local assessment committee of the host community, and a third, an impartial arbitrator who shall act as chairman of the panel, who shall be selected by the developer and the local assessment committee of the host community, or, if the developer and the local assessment committee of the host community can agree, a single impartial arbitrator acceptable to the developer and local assessment committee of the host community.

If an arbitration panel or single impartial arbitrator has not been selected within thirty days after the council's determination that an impasse exists, the council shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators necessary to complete the three-person panel, which shall act with the same force and effect as if the panel had been selected without intervention of the council.

An arbitrator shall receive from the council such compensation for each day or part thereof for his services as a majority of the council shall establish. He shall also receive reimbursement for all reasonable expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his official duties.

The arbitration panel or the single arbitrator shall within forty-five days after establishment resolve the issues in dispute between the local assessment committee and the developer. The council, upon request of the arbitration panel or single arbitrator, may extend the time permitted for the conduct of arbitration.

In the event that the parties mutually resolve each of the issues in dispute and agree to be bound, they may at any time prior to the final decisions of the panel or single arbitrator request that the arbitration proceedings be terminated, the panel acting through its chairman, or the single arbitrator, shall terminate the proceedings.

The provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-one shall govern the conduct of arbitration proceedings pursuant to this section, including the provisions of said chapter for judicial review of an arbitration decision.

Section 16. No license or permit granted by a city or town shall be required for a hazardous waste facility which was not required on or before the effective date of this chapter by said city or town. All permits and licenses required for a hazardous waste facility in a city or town shall be granted or denied within sixty days after application for said permits and licenses by the developer, or twenty-one days after the establishment of a siting agreement pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen, whichever is the later.

Section 17. If all permits and licenses required by law have been issued to the developer and a siting agreement has been established pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen, the developer may petition the department to exercise its eminent domain authority pursuant to the provisions of chapter seventy-nine as authorized by section nineteen of chapter sixteen. Upon a showing by the developer, after due notice and a hearing thereon, that he has been unsuccessful in a good faith attempt to acquire all or a portion of the site by purchase or lease, the department shall exercise its eminent domain authority to make said acquisition, subject to approval by a majority vote of the city council, board of aldermen, or board of selectmen pursuant to the provisions of section nineteen of chapter sixteen. The department shall lease any land acquired under this section for a hazardous waste facility for the treatment, processing or disposal of hazardous waste to the developer for the purpose of construction, maintaining, and operating a privately owned hazardous waste facility. Any land acquired under this section may be disposed of by the department upon termination of a hazardous waste facility or completion of use of a site, with the concurrence of the department of environmental quality engineering, in the best interest of the commonwealth and for a use compatible with local zoning by-laws or ordinances; provided, however, that in no event shall such land be so disposed of unless said department, with the concurrence of the department of environmental quality engineering, first offers, in writing, to convey it to the city or town wherein such land lies for an amount of money not less than the fair market value of the land as determined by an independent appraisal which the department has caused to be made, and such offer is not accepted within two months after being made or is refused by the chief executive officer of the city or town wherein such land lies.

Section 18. This chapter shall not apply to any hazardous waste facility exempt from the licensing requirements of chapter twenty-one C which was lawfully organized and in existence on May first, nineteen hundred and eighty, or to any hazardous waste facility which was licensed as such by any division of the department of environmental quality engineering as of May first, nineteen hundred and eighty. If any facility has its license revoked and reapplies for a license after May first, nineteen hundred and eighty, the provisions of this chapter shall apply to said reapplication; provided, however, that the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any facility, or the operation of any facility under receivership by a federal or state agency or by a judicially appointed and supervised receiver of any court of competent jurisdiction where the license of the facility has been suspended or revoked and said receivership has been imposed.

Chapter twenty-one D shall not apply to any generator who stores, treats, processes or disposes of hazardous waste produced exclusively on-site; provided, however, that chapter twenty-one D shall apply to any such generator who disposes of hazardous waste into or on the land. For purposes of this section, "on-site" shall be defined to mean the same or geographically contiguous property which may be divided by public or private right-of-way, provided that the entrance and exit between the properties is at a crossroads intersection, and access is by crossing as opposed to going along the right-of-way; as well as non-contiguous properties owned by the same person but connected by a right-of-way which he controls and to which the public does not have access.

Section 19. Notwithstanding the first paragraph of section eighteen, chapter twenty-one D shall apply to the increase of capacity to store, treat, or dispose of any particular type of hazardous waste, unless an existing siting agreement established pursuant to the requirements of chapter twenty-one D provides for the conditions under which such increase of capacity shall be permitted.

SECTION 9. Chapter 21C of the General Laws, as inserted by section 2 of chapter 704 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by adding after section 13 the following section:-

Section 14. The following property shall be subject to seizure by members of the state police, natural resources officers, and local police and to forfeiture to the commonwealth:

(1) All conveyances, including motor vehicles, trailers, vessels, or other containers, used or intended for use to transport hazardous wastes in violation of this chapter or of any regulation, order, license, or approval issued or adopted under this chapter;

(2) All books, records, or other materials which are or contain any evidence of a violation of this chapter or of any regulation, order, license, or approval issued or adopted under this chapter; and

(3) All hazardous wastes collected, transported, stored, used, treated, disposed of, or otherwise handled in violation of this chapter or of any regulation, order, license, or approval issued or adopted under this chapter.

Within fourteen days of the seizure of any property for violation of this chapter or of any regulation, order, license, or approval issued or adopted under this chapter, the attorney general or a district attorney shall file a libel with the superior court. The libel shall state briefly the grounds for the seizure and pray for the forfeiture of the property.

The superior court for the county in which the property was seized or for Suffolk county shall have jurisdiction and venue over the forfeiture proceeding.

Upon the filing of a libel with the superior court, the clerk shall issue an order of notice requiring the commonwealth to send a copy of the libel by certified mail to the owner of the property and to any other persons appearing to have an interest in the property. If no owner or interested person can be determined, the commonwealth shall cause notice of the libel to be published at least twice in a newspaper published in the county in which the property was seized.

The superior court shall promptly, but not less than two weeks after the issuance of the order of notice by the clerk of the second publication in the newspaper, hold a hearing on the libel. The libel shall be conducted as a civil in rem action without jury, in which the commonwealth shall have the burden of proving all material facts by a preponderance of credible evidence. At the hearing of the libel, the superior court shall hear evidence, make findings of fact and conclusions of law, and shall issue a final order. The court shall not issue an order impounding a vehicle without making a finding that the owner of such vehicle knew, or should have known, that it was used for illegal transport of hazardous waste.

If the commonwealth maintains its libel, the superior court shall declare the property forfeit to the commonwealth and may provide for the disposition of the property by the commonwealth in any manner not prohibited by law, including:

(1) Use by a law enforcement or other public agency;

(2) Sale at a public auction. The proceeds from the sale of the property shall be used to pay for reasonable expenses incurred in the seizure, storage and maintenance, and proceedings for the forfeiture of the property. Any balance shall be forwarded to the department for use in the enforcement of this chapter; and

(3) Disposal of hazardous wastes seized pursuant to this section.

Any officer, department or agency having custody of any property seized or forfeited pursuant to this section shall maintain complete records describing all such property in detail, showing from whom the property was received and to whom it was delivered, and indicating the period during which it was in custody. The department shall maintain complete records describing the types and quantities of hazardous wastes disposed of pursuant to this section and the dates and methods of their disposal.

SECTION 10. Section 4 of chapter 704 of the acts of 1979 is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 39 and 40, the words "nineteen hundred and eighty" and inserting in place thereof the words:- nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 11. The special commission on hazardous waste created by section four of chapter seven hundred and four of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine is hereby authorized to study and make recommendations to the general court relative to the establishment of a fee schedule for generators of hazardous waste.

SECTION 12. It is hereby declared that the provisions of this act are severable, and if any provision of this act shall be declared unconstitutional by the valid judgment or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction, such unconstitutionality shall not affect any of the remaining provisions of this act.

SECTION 2. In the design and construction of said works, the commission shall provide for the sewage treatment needs of the town of Clinton and the Lancaster Sewer District, and shall take into consideration the sewage treatment needs of the towns of Lancaster, Sterling, Bolton and Berlin in consultation with the town of Clinton and the Lancaster Sewer District. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect or revoke prior acts passed by the general court affecting the rights between the town of Clinton and the commission.

SECTION 3. The Lancaster Sewer District and any city, town, or sewer district, exclusive of the town of Clinton, served by the treatment plant shall pay annually their proportionate share of the principal and interest of the bonded debt for construction authorized by this act and not covered by federal or state grant. Said shares shall be based on the ultimate design capacity of the plant provided for the city, town or sewer district served by the treatment plant.

SECTION 4. The commission shall establish a program for payment by the industrial users in the cities, towns and sewer districts served by the Clinton wastewater treatment plant of that portion of federal construction grants that is allocable to the treatment of industrial wastes.

Each industrial user receiving treatment of its waste at the Clinton wastewater treatment plant shall be required annually to obtain from the commission a wastewater discharge permit. A permit issued by the commission to an industrial user shall include, but not be limited to, the user's share of the capital cost allocated to the treatment of its waste, a schedule for payment of such capital costs and, if required, a program for the pretreatment of its waste.

Each industrial user subject to the industrial cost recoveries shall remit to the state treasurer, not less than annually, an industrial cost recovery payment in the form of a check made payable to the commonwealth. The state treasurer shall deposit such payments in a special fund to be known as the Metropolitan District Commission - Clinton Wastewater Management Fund. Such fund shall be invested and employed and payment shall be made from it from time to time as may be required by state and federal law.

In accordance with existing legislation, the commission shall annually pay by a separate budget appropriation to the town of Clinton an amount equal to the sum of the annual industrial cost recovery payments made by the industrial users in the town of Clinton.

Exemptions from industrial cost recovery payments shall be granted in accordance with applicable federal law.

SECTION 5. The Lancaster Sewer District and any other city, town or sewer district, exclusive of the town of Clinton, served by the Clinton wastewater treatment plant shall annually pay its proportionate share of the operating, maintenance, and replace-

Said communities shall establish, adopt and implement, within the time limits provided in Federal regulations, user charge systems acceptable to the Environmental Protection Agency.

SECTION 6. The town of Clinton shall annually collect its proportionate share of the operating, maintenance, and replacement cost of the Clinton wastewater treatment plant, based upon the commission's budgeted costs of the operating, maintenance and replacement of said facility prepared and furnished by the commission and shall remit said collections to the escrow agent as established below. For the purposes of this act the term budgeted costs shall include any operating, maintenance and replacement expenditures in the previous fiscal year which the commission has incurred above the original commission operating budget.

The town of Clinton and the commission shall enter into written agreement providing for a separate escrow account for each fiscal year at a commercial banking institution within the commonwealth for deposit of said town's annually collected proportionate share of operating and maintenance and replacement costs. Any charges for the escrow account shall be assumed by the commission.

No later than three months after the close of the fiscal year, said town shall submit to the escrow agent and the commission a certified summary statement indicating the total amounts collected pursuant to user charges and those amounts remaining uncollected. The commission shall furnish to the escrow agent and said town a certified statement of the actual operating, maintenance and replacement costs. Upon receipt of such statements, the escrow agent shall distribute the funds as follows:

(a) If said town has collected less than the amount of the actual operating, maintenance and replacement costs, the escrow agent shall deduct from the amount collected by said town the difference between the collected amount and the actual operating, maintenance and replacement costs, and shall retain said amount as hereinafter provided;

(b) If said town has collected an amount equal to or greater than the actual operating, maintenance and replacement costs, the escrow agent shall disburse the amount collected by the town as hereinafter provided;

(c) The amount deducted as referred to in subparagraph (a) shall be retained in that fiscal year's escrow account. Any part of said retainage may be released, however, in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (d) upon certification by said town that it has collected additional user charges. The escrow agent shall, at all times, retain an amount equal to the uncollected user charges of said town. Any funds retained by the escrow agent for a period exceeding one year beyond the close of the fiscal year for which they were due shall be remitted to said town upon submission of documentation to the commission that said town has initiated legal action to collect uncollected user charges; and

(d) The balance of the collected amount referred to in subparagraph (a), or the total amount referred to in subparagraph (b), whichever the case may be, shall be disbursed to the town for use in defraying costs and expenses of the town's sewer system, of said town after written notice by the commission.

SECTION 7. The commission shall require the town of Clinton, the Lancaster Sewer District and any other city, town or sewer district served by the Clinton wastewater treatment plant, or any sewer tributary thereto, to have in effect a sewer use by-law or ordinance approved by the commission together with procedures for monitoring and enforcing compliance with such by-law or ordinance.

SECTION 8. In the event that federal funds or federal assistance is made available to the commission for projects authorized by this act, or state funds or state assistance is made available for such projects, such funds shall be in addition to the sums herein authorized; provided, that such funds, when received, shall be deposited in the state treasury and be available to the Metropolitan Water District for expenditure subject to the provisions of law regulating the disbursement of federal funds and the approval thereof.

SECTION 9. Written comment or appeal, if any, of the above mentioned proportionate shares must be received by the commission no later than October first of the same year. Payment to the commission shall be made no later than November fifteen of the same year. In accordance with provisions of section three of this act, the town of Clinton will not be required to make principal and interest payments, but shall collect its proportionate share of operating, maintenance and replacement costs in accordance with section six.

SECTION 10. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale,

Such bonds shall be designated on their face, Metropolitan District Commission, Clinton Wastewater Treatment Plant, Reconstruction Loan, Act of 1980, and shall be on the serial payment plan for such maximum term of years, not exceeding thirty years, as may be recommended by the governor to the general court, in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, the maturities thereof to be so arranged that the amounts payable in the several years of the period of amortization other than the final year shall be as nearly equal as, in the opinion of the state treasurer, it is practicable to make them. Such bonds shall bear interest semiannually at such rates as the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, shall fix. The initial maturities of such bonds shall be payable not later than one year from the date of issue thereof and the entire issue not later than June the thirtieth, two thousand and twelve. All interest payments and payments on account of principal of such bonds shall be assessed and paid from the Metropolitan Water District Fund as provided in chapter ninety-two of the General Laws.
