Section 55. A juror, including a standby juror and a juror on telephone notice, shall not be compensated by the commonwealth or credited with a day of service except for days on which the juror actually appeared as directed to perform juror service, unless provided otherwise in this chapter. A juror who is absent from service because of serious illness or other compelling reason, as determined by the court or office of jury commissioner, shall be credited with a day of juror service. Jurors shall not be compensated by the commonwealth nor credited with a day of service for a holiday or for business day on which a trial has been adjourned except as hereinafter provided. An employed juror who will lose compensation for a holiday because he is performing juror service or who will not be permitted to return to work during an unexpected adjournment may be awarded credit for a day of service or may be awarded reasonable compensation, not exceeding fifty dollars per day, by the court upon a finding that financial hardship would be imposed upon the juror in the absence of such an award. An alternate juror shall receive the same payments and reimbursements from his employer and the commonwealth as a juror. A standby juror may be reimbursed by the court or the office of jury commissioner for reasonable telephone and travel expenses incurred as a result of the performance of the conditions of standby status even though the standby juror may not perform juror service. Such reimbursement shall not exceed fifty dollars per day.

Section 56. Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter, the court shall have authority to make special awards of compensation and reimbursement to any juror or to any other person on behalf of a juror based on unusual circumstances, or awards of compensation and reimbursement for the fair administration of this chapter. The court may provide for reasonable costs and expenses including food, lodging, transportation, and amenities of sequestered jurors. The court may make special arrangements for handicapped and elderly jurors or handicapped and elderly dependents of jurors. The court may provide for the security, comfort, or emergency medical services for jurors. The court may reimburse a juror for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred because of personal injury or property loss suffered by the juror while performing juror service upon a finding that the commonwealth is liable therefor or that it is in the best interests of the administration of the jury system of the commonwealth to do so.

Section 57. The juror service certificate shall contain the name and address of the juror; the name, address, and judicial district of the court in which the juror service was performed; the week in which the certificate applies; the number of days of jurors service performed by the juror during the said week, and the specific dates thereof; the total compensation received by the juror from the commonwealth during the said week; a declaration of the duty of an employer to compensate a juror-employee for the first three days, or part thereof, of trial juror service and the right of an employer to be excused from such duty by the court upon showing of extreme financial hardship; and any other information which the jury commissioner deems appropriate. Each juror service certificate shall be completed in duplicate, one copy for the juror, one copy for the employer of the juror.

Section 58. Each week, the office of jury commissioner shall mail juror service certificates to those grand and trial jurors who have performed juror service during the previous week. A juror who seeks compensation from his employer for juror service shall tender the employer's copy of the service certificate to his employer as soon as practical after its receipt. A notice of this duty shall appear prominently on the certificate.

Section 59. Grand and trial jurors in participating counties shall receive compensation due from the commonwealth by check on a weekly basis. Each check shall include all compensation for juror services and authorized reimbursements incurred by the juror during the previous week. The office of jury commissioner shall prepare and mail these checks. The comptroller of the commonwealth shall establish a separate account for jurors compensation and reimbursements under this chapter. The office of jury commissioner shall draw upon this account for all checks issued under this section. The checks may be issued with data processing equipment, and a printed or stamped facsimile signature of the jury commissioner shall be authorized. No check shall be valid if the amount is greater than three hundred and fifty dollars. The office of jury commissioner shall not be authorized to disburse monies for sequestered jurors expenses or other special awards ordered by the court; these disbursements shall be handled in the office of the clerk of court.

Section 60. Any employer who fails to compensate a juror-employee under the applicable provisions of this chapter and who has not been excused from such duty or compensation shall be liable to the juror-employee in tort. Upon the expiration of thirty days after the tender of the juror service certificate to the employer, the juror may commence a civil action in any superior or district court having jurisdiction over the parties. Extreme financial hardship on the employer shall not be a defense to this action. The court may award treble damages and reasonable attorney fees to the juror upon a finding of wilful conduct by the employer.

Section 61. Any willful violation of section sixty of this chapter by an employer shall also constitute a violation of this section. A juror seeking a civil remedy against an employer shall have an election to proceed either under section sixty or under this section. An employer shall not deprive a juror-employee of his employment or any incidents or benefits thereof, nor shall an employer harass, threaten, or coerce an employee because the employee has received a juror summons, responds thereto, performs any obligation or election of juror service as a grand or trial juror, or exercises any right under any section of this chapter. An employer shall not impose compulsory work assignments upon any juror-employee nor shall the employer do any other intentional act which will substantially interfere with the availability, effectiveness, attentiveness, or peace of mind of the employee during the performance of his juror service. Any employer who violates this section shall be guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. Any employer who violates this section also shall be liable in tort to the juror-employee. The juror-employee may commence a civil action in the superior court for such damages and injunctive relief as may be appropriate. The court may award treble damages and reasonable attorney's fees to the juror upon a finding of willful conduct by the employer. The legal counsel for the office of jury commissioner may submit an application for the issuance of a criminal complaint in any court of competent jurisdiction against an employer who has violated this section or section sixty.

Section 62. Not later than ten days prior to the term of service of each trial juror, the office of jury commissioner shall mail to each juror a copy of the trial juror's handbook. The handbook shall notify the juror of his pending juror service. The handbook shall inform jurors in lay terminology of the nature and extent of their forthcoming duties and responsibilities. The handbook may introduce and orient jurors to basic trial procedures and legal terminology. The handbook shall contain maps and directions to the jury-trial locations and such other practical information as the jury commissioner deems appropriate. The full text of the handbook shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. Each trial juror shall read the handbook before he reports for juror service. The handbook shall be a public document. The jury commissioner may distribute copies of the handbook, and related educational materials, to public and private schools, civic organizations, the press, and others, in order to promote citizens awareness and understanding of all aspects of the juror system of this commonwealth. The jury commissioner may, with the approval of the committee, distribute or exhibit to jurors further educational materials, recordings, films, videotapes, lectures, and the like, as he deems appropriate to assist such persons in understanding and fulfilling their duties and obligations as jurors. Not later than ten days prior to each grand juror's term of service, the office of jury commissioner shall mail to each juror such educational materials and practical instructions as are deemed appropriate by the jury commissioner to assist grand jurors in carrying out their duties and responsibilities. These materials shall be approved by the committee. In the event of any conflict, the instructions or charge of the trial judge in a particular case shall be paramount and shall supersede the trial juror handbook or grand juror general information provided under this section.

Section 63. The office of jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, may establish a sufficient number of telephone lines for the purposes of responding to juror inquiries, scheduling jurors' terms of service, disseminating general information and standby information to jurors, and for use in snow emergencies, other public emergencies, and personal problems and emergencies of jurors. Automatic telephone answering devices may be used where appropriate. These information lines may be toll-free where justified by the volume of use and public convenience. Juror information lines and automatic answering equipment may be located in juror pools or other appropriate locations outside of the office of jury commissioner.

Section 64. On the first morning of juror service, grand and trial jurors shall be oriented by the court as to their duties and responsibilities. The court may include such other general information and instruction as it deems appropriate. The court may use a videotaped presentation for this orientation. In the event of any conflict, the instructions or charge of the trial judge in a particular case shall supersede the general information provided to jurors in the orientation program. The office of jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, may prepare such videotaped materials and other materials as are appropriate for use in the juror orientation programs. The office of jury commissioner may permit juror orientation materials to be used for educational purposes by schools, civic organizations, the press, and other groups in order to foster improved public understanding of the jury system. Unless the court orders otherwise, members of the public may be present in the juror pool during juror orientation programs for educational purposes.

Section 65. Following the juror orientation program, a member of the court shall personally appear before the jurors and make a brief welcoming address. The office of jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, may prepare suggested guidelines for the format and content of the welcome to the jurors. Unless the court orders otherwise, members of the public may be present in the juror pool during the welcoming address for educational purposes.

Section 66. Following the welcome to the jurors, the court shall hold a private hearing with each juror or employer of a juror who requests to be heard. The purpose of such hearings shall be to dispose of all urgent personal problems of jurors and employers as to possible excuses, postponements, limitations on length of juror service, compensation, reimbursement, qualifications for juror service, or any other condition of juror service. The office of jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, may prepare suggested guidelines for the judicial discretion hearing. The court may permit observers in the judicial discretion hearing for educational purposes as long as the identities of jurors are kept confidential by such observers and the personal decorum of the hearing is not lost thereby.

Section 67. Not later than ten days in advance of scheduled appearances by jurors, the office of jury commissioner shall send or deliver to the appropriate clerks of court a list of the grand and trial jurors expected to appear for service in the respective courts. The list shall contain the name, address, and date of birth of each juror and such other information as the jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, deems appropriate. Unless the court orders otherwise, the list shall be available upon request for inspection by parties, counsel, their agents, and members of the public.

Section 68. In every twelve-person jury case, the court shall impanel at least two additional jurors. In every six-person jury case, the court shall impanel at least one additional juror. Alternate jurors shall not be identified until immediately prior to jury deliberations in accordance with the following. If, at the time of the submission of the case by the court to the jury for its deliberations upon a verdict, more than the number of jurors required for deliberation are available, the court shall direct the clerk to place the names of all of the available jurors except the foreperson into a box or drum and to select at random the names of the appropriate number of jurors necessary to reduce the jury to the proper number of members required for deliberation in the particular case. The jurors so selected shall not be discharged, but shall be known as alternate jurors. The alternate jurors shall be kept separate from the jury in some convenient location, subject to the same rules and procedures as govern the jury during its deliberations, until the jury has agreed upon a verdict or has been otherwise discharged. If at any time after the submission of the case by the court to the jury for its deliberation upon a verdict, a juror is discharged by the court for any reason, the court shall direct the clerk to place all of the names of the alternate jurors in a box or drum and to select at random the name of an alternate juror. The alternate juror so selected shall take the place of the discharged juror on the jury. The jury, so constituted, shall begin its deliberations anew with full authority to render a verdict in the case. The court shall have jurisdiction to receive the verdict of the jury, as constituted under the provisions of this section, and shall have jurisdiction and full authority to render judgment in the case. Whenever it is appropriate for the court to direct a verdict, the court may do so without first reducing the number of jurors to the proper number required for deliberation in the case. Upon a finding of cause, the trial judge may impanel a lesser number of jurors than specified under this section. Nothing in this section shall prevent the court from rendering a valid judgment based upon a verdict rendered by fewer jurors than required under this section where all parties have by stipulation agreed to this procedure. Nothing in this section shall prevent the court from entering a valid judgment based upon a verdict rendered by fewer or more jurors than required under this section or based upon procedures other than that specified in this section where all parties have by stipulation agreed to such a number of jurors or to such procedures.

Section 69. A translator may assist a deaf juror during the juror orientation program, the juror's welcome, and the judicial discretion hearing. As a matter of discretion, the court may permit a translator to assist a deaf juror during the trial after a determination of the competency of the translator. In the presence of the jury, the court shall instruct the translator to make true, literal and complete translations of all testimony and other relevant colloquy to the deaf juror to the best of his ability. The court may permit a translator to be present and assist a deaf juror during the deliberations of the jury. In the presence of the jury, the court shall instruct the translator to refrain from participating in any manner in the deliberations of the jury and to refrain from having any communications, oral or visual, with any member of the jury regarding the deliberations of the jury except for the literal translations of jurors' remarks made during deliberations. The verdict of the jury shall be valid notwithstanding the presence of the translator during deliberations.

Section 70. Upon motion of a party, or whenever the court deems it appropriate, the court shall include in its charge to the jury an instruction which in substance states that no duly impanelled trial juror is better qualified to determine the truth of the facts in controversy or to deliberate upon a verdict solely because of his occupation or reputation. The court shall have discretion to express this instruction in whatever language it deems appropriate and to supplement, elaborate, or explain this instruction to the jury with reference to the particular case being submitted to it. This section shall not be construed as a limitation in any way upon the authority of the court to make such further charges as are appropriate.

Section 71. Whoever is guilty of fraud in the processing or selection of jurors or prospective jurors either by causing any name to be inserted into any list wrongfully, or by causing any name to be deleted from any list wrongfully, including wrongful data entry or the altering of any data processing machine or any set of instructions or programs which control data processing equipment for such wrongful purpose, shall have committed the crime of jury tampering, and, upon conviction thereof, may be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. This section shall not limit any other provisions of law concerning the crime of jury tampering.

Section 72. All official records and papers compiled and maintained by the office of jury commissioner shall be preserved for three years after the calendar year to which they apply. Official records shall include records in automated form on magnetic tapes and disks.

Section 73. A party may challenge the composition of the juror pool by a motion for appropriate relief. This challenge shall be made and decided before any individual juror is examined, unless the court orders otherwise. The challenge shall be in writing, supported by affidavit, and shall specify the facts and demographic data constituting the ground of the challenge. The challenge shall be tried by the court and may, within the discretion of the court, be decided on the basis of the affidavits filed with the challenge. Upon the trial of such a challenge, witnesses may be examined on oath by the court and may be so examined by either party. If the challenge is sustained, the court shall discharge the entire juror pool.

Section 74. Any irregularity in compiling any list of jurors or prospective jurors; or any irregularity in qualifying, selecting, summoning, confirming, postponing, excusing, cancelling, instructing, impanelling, challenging, discharging, or managing jurors; or any irregularity in limiting any term of juror service, in length or other incident of the term; or the fact that a juror shall be found to be not qualified under section four of this chapter; or any defect in any procedure performed under this chapter shall not be sufficient to cause a mistrial or to set aside a verdict unless objection to such irregularity or defect has been made as soon as possible after its discovery or after it should have been discovered and unless the objecting party has been specially injured or prejudiced thereby.

Section 75. The use of data processing equipment, methods, services, forms, and electronic telecommunications systems by the office of jury commissioner for the implementation and administration of this chapter shall be specifically authorized. The office of jury commissioner may establish an on-line interactive data processing system in some or all of the participating counties. The office of jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee and with authorized approvals of representatives of the executive branch, may share in the use of the TELPAC telecommunications system of the commonwealth. The data processing center in the judicial branch, if possible, shall provide without cost to the office of jury commissioner such data processing capacity, file storage, and related services and supplies with highest priority access during regular business hours as shall be adequate for the orderly implementation and administration of this chapter in all participating counties. In the event the data processing center is unable to provide the aforementioned data processing services, the office of jury commisioner may, with the approval of the committee, procure these data processing services, in part or in full, from another governmental agency or from a private source, with or without the necessity for purchasing such services.

Section 76. The jury commissioner, may in accordance with applicable procurement laws and regulations of the commonwealth, enter into contracts for purchasing or procuring services, equipment, forms, and supplies, including services from the United States postal service, as are necessary or appropriate for the implementation and administration of this chapter.

Section 77. The jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, may enter into contracts and agreements with, and accept gifts, grants, contributions, and bequests of funds from, any department, agency, or subdivision of federal, state, county, or municipal government, and any individual, foundation, corporation, association, or public authority for the purpose of providing or receiving services, facilities, staff assistance, equipment, and supplies in connection with any provisions of this chapter or for the general improvement of the jury system; provided, however, that the jury commissioner shall in applying for grants from any department, agency, or subdivision of the federal government comply with section six B of chapter twenty-nine. Such funds shall be deposited with the state treasurer and may be expended by the office of jury commissioner in accordance with the conditions of such gift, grant, contribution, or bequest, without specific appropriation.

Section 78. Each court that receives jurors under this chapter shall make a commitment of certain resources and good will for the efficient and courteous management of jurors. The court shall have a juror-pool room, jury boxes, deliberation rooms, and restroom facilities that are adequate in size, secure, clean, light, adequately heated and ventilated, and comfortable. An adequate full-time staff and emergency backup staff shall be specially trained and assigned to supervise jurors and to work cooperatively with and under the guidance of the office of jury commissioner. The juror-pool staff shall be provided with reasonable secretarial services, postage, office supplies, and telephone service. The court and its staff shall attempt to improve juror utilization and management. Attendance, compensation, utilization, and management data shall be provided in a timely manner to the office of jury commissioner. The court shall summon only the minimum number of jurors necessary, cancel jurors as soon as it has been determined that scheduled jurors are not needed, and discharge jurors as early in the day as possible after it has been determined that their services will not be required. The court and its staff shall take all reasonable steps to maximize the comfort and convenience of jurors while performing juror service including, but not limited to, the following: providing parking spaces for jurors where possible; providing separate juror entrances and exits where possible; providing safe and comfortable furniture for jurors; providing for adequate lunch and coffee breaks for jurors and arranging for food and beverages to be available for purchase by jurors during these breaks; providing reasonable access to telephones for the personal and business needs of jurors; adopting special plans and procedures for sequestered jurors; establishing snow emergency procedures; and handling juror inquiries and problems in a courteous and efficient manner. The court shall insure that jurors are properly orientated and welcomed. The court and its staff shall insure that jurors are reasonably informed of matters which are of proper concern to them. The court shall be willing to participate in research and other public-education programs to the extent possible.

Section 79. On or before the first day of April of each year, the jury commissioner shall issue an annual report for the previous calendar year. The report shall contain a narrative of significant developments in the administration of this chapter in the participating counties. The report may contain recommendations for the improvement of the juror selection and management systems of the commonwealth. The report shall contain demographic and financial data and data on juror management and jurors' satisfaction with the jury system. The report may contain such further matter as deemed appropriate by the jury commissioner or the jury management advisory committee. The report shall be a public document. demanded in a case in which the plaintiff continues at the time of establishment of bond to seek to recover possession, give bond in such sum as the court orders, payable to the plaintiff, with sufficient surety or sureties approved by the court, or secured by cash or its equivalent deposited with the clerk, in a reasonable amount to be fixed by the court. In an appeal from a judgment of a district court such bond shall be conditioned to enter the action in the superior court at the return day next after the appeal is taken. In an appeal from a judgment of the superior court or a housing court such bond filed shall be conditioned to enter the action in the appeals court. Appeals from judgments of the superior court or a housing court shall otherwise be governed by the Massachusetts Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such bond shall also be conditioned to pay to the plaintiff, if final judgment is in plaintiff's favor, all rent accrued at the date of the bond, all intervening rent, and all damage and loss which the plaintiff may sustain by the withholding of possession of the land or tenements demanded and by any injury done thereto during such withholding, with all costs, until delivery of possession thereof to such plaintiff.

In appeals from a district court the deposit shall be transmitted by the clerk of the district court with the papers to the clerk of the superior court, who shall thereupon deliver a receipt therefor to such clerk of the district court, but in such appeals from a judgment of the superior court or a housing court the deposit shall not be transmitted to the appeals court unless specifically requested by said appeals court. The superior court or a housing court may give directions as to the manner of keeping such deposit. Upon final judgment for the plaintiff, all money then due to him may be recovered in an action on the bond provided for in the third paragraph of this section.

A party may make a motion to waive the appeal bond provided for in this section if he or she is indigent as provided in section twenty-seven A of chapter two hundred and sixty-one. Such motion shall, together with a notice of appeal and any supporting affidavits, be filed within the time limits set forth in this section. The court shall forthwith make a decision on the motion. The court shall require any person for whom the bond or security provided for in the third paragraph has been waived to pay in installments as the same becomes due, pending appeal, all or any portion of any rent which shall become due after the date of such waiver. If such motion is made, no execution shall issue until the expiration of six days from the court's decision on the motion or until the expiration of the time specified in this section for the taking of appeals, whichever is later.

Any party aggrieved by the denial of a motion to waive the bond or who wishes to contest the amount of periodic payments required by the court may seek review of such decision as hereinafter provided. If such motion was made in the superior court or a housing court, the request for review shall be to the single justice of the appeals court at the next sitting thereof. If such motion was made in any district or municipal court, the request for review shall be to the superior court then sitting in the same county or, if not so sitting, to the superior court sitting in the nearest county or in Suffolk county. The court receiving the request shall review the findings, the amount of bond or deposit, if any, and the amount of periodic payment required, if any, as if it were initially deciding the matter, and said court may withdraw or amend any finding or reduce or rescind any amount of bond, deposit or periodic payment when in its judgment the facts so warrant.

Any party to the action may file a request for such review with the clerk of the court originally hearing the request to waive bond within the time period provided in this section for filing notice of appeal, or within six days after receiving notice of the decision of the court on the motion to waive bond, whichever is the later. Said court shall then forward the motion, the court's findings and any other documents relevant to the appeal to the clerk of the court reviewing such decision who, upon receipt thereof, shall schedule a speedy hearing thereon and send notice thereof to the parties. Any request for review filed pursuant to this section shall be heard upon statements of counsel, memoranda and affidavits submitted by the parties. Further testimony shall be taken if the reviewing court shall find that the taking of further testimony would aid the disposition of the review.

Upon the rendering of a decision on review, the reviewing court shall give notice of the decision to the parties and the defendant shall comply with the requirements of such decision within five days after receiving notice thereof. If the defendant fails to file with the clerk of the court rendering the judgment, the amount of bond, deposit or periodic payment required by the decision of the reviewing court within five days from receipt of notice of said decision, the appeal from the judgment shall be dismissed. Where a defendant seeks review pursuant to this section, no execution shall issue until the expiration of five days from the date defendant has received notice of the decision of the reviewing court.

Chap. 312. ESTABLISHING THE MASSACHUSETTS TECHNOLOGY PARK CORPORATION.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide immediately for the establishment of the Massachusetts Technology Park Corporation, therefore, it is hereby declared to be an emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 40I the following chapter:-

Chapter 40J.
Massachusetts Technology Park Corporation.

Section 1. It is hereby found (1) that throughout the history of Massachusetts, the economic development of the commonwealth and the prosperity and welfare of our people have depended, to a great degree, upon the continued ability of the commonwealth's fine colleges and universities to provide the most advanced education and practical training opportunities in emerging areas of science and technology, and that (2) this wealth of educational resources has attracted, to the commonwealth, some of the best minds from throughout the nation and from throughout the world, and that (3) great numbers of talented individuals, having furthered their education in the commonwealth, have been induced to concentrate their subsequent business and industrial operations in Massachusetts by the proximity of the same educational institutions with which they were familiar and which produced the similarly educated graduates so necessary to the successful growth and expansion of innovative business and industry in a variety of areas, including, historically, textiles, medical research and manufacturing and the provision of medical services, computers and manufacturing of solid-state electronics equipment employing semi-conductor and microelectronic technologies, and that (4) the ability of our colleges and universities to provide educational and practical training opportunities, coupled with the concentration of business and industry in the commonwealth, have engendered many new and rewarding employment opportunities for the citizens of the commonwealth, increased the tax base, avoided increased welfare and unemployment costs and furthered the general welfare of the commonwealth, but that (5) the burgeoning growth of the particularly dynamic field of semi-conductor and microelectronic technologies and the intense competition among participants in that field have also spawned a critical demand for a continuous supply of qualified engineers and technicians to occupy key positions in business and industry which require practical training and knowledge of the latest developments in that rapidly evolving area, and that (6) as a result of this demand, business and industry in the field of semi-conductor and microelectronic technologies are unable to obtain appropriately skilled employees to maintain and expand operations within the commonwealth, and our people are and will continue to be denied many significant employment opportunities, and that (7) the loss of economic and employment activity from the commonwealth erodes the tax base, leads to unemployment and underemployment of our people, increases welfare and unemployment costs and threatens the general welfare of the entire commonwealth, and that (8) both the basic training of new engineers and technicians and the retraining of existing personnel to meet the constantly changing requirements for effective and productive work in the field of semi-conductor and microelectronic technologies require an educational and training facility which contains design, fabrication and testing equipment to permit students to acquire essential practical experience.

Such a facility is presently unavailable to our colleges and universities, and it is further found that (9) the commonwealth's post-secondary educational institutions are not able, even with the assistance provided through existing state and federal programs, to finance the establishment and operation of the type of facility necessary for the development of combined academic and practical training programs sufficient to satisfy employment needs. The buildings and equipment necessary for such a facility require capital expenditures which are prohibitive to the commonwealth's post-secondary educational institutions, particularly in this era of diminishing public support for higher education. Further, the costs associated with maintaining and replacing such facilities and equipment in a manner consistent with developing technology are often themselves beyond the means of those institutions.

It is further found, however, that on the basis of satisfactory evidence that (10) many of the commonwealth's post-secondary institutions will participate in the use of such a facility if it is established and will commit themselves to continuing the facility's operations. Institutions which have expressed such an interest at present are Boston University, University of Lowell, Northeastern University, Southeastern Massachusetts University, Tufts University, University of Massachusetts, Worcester Polytechnic Institute and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and that (11) business and industry in the field of semi-conductor and microelectronic technologies are confronted with the competitive market pressures of a private enterprise system which prevent the use of their facilities in the initial and continuing training and education of technical personnel with respect to the latest developments in that area. There is, however, satisfactory evidence that business and industry in that field will participate in the programs of such a facility if it is established and will commit themselves to continuing the facility's operations.

It is further found that (12) it is an important government function to increase opportunities for gainful employment for our people, to assist in promoting a productive and expanding industrial base within the commonwealth capable of meeting the needs and demands of a modern economy, to assist post-secondary educational institutions to assume an active role in achieving these goals, and otherwise to improve the prosperity and general welfare of the inhabitants of the commonwealth.

Because it may reasonably be anticipated that the pattern of events which has given rise to the need for a partnership of government and industry and education to create a training facility for semi-conductor and microelectronic technologies will recur in other technologies, and because it is appropriate to utilize the skills and experience which will be developed in responding to the present need to meet such future needs, it is further found that (13) the The Massachusetts Technology Park Corporation, hereinafter referred to as the corporation, hereby created, be authorized, after having satisfied itself that the microelectronic facility is operational, to establish further similar centers to support those other technologies in which a need equal to that which has been found to exist in these findings is found to exist by the corporation.

Therefore, it is found that it is in the public interest of the commonwealth to promote the prosperity and general welfare of its citizens, a public purpose for which public money may be expended, by creating the corporation to establish and operate one or more educational centers containing design, fabrication and testing facilities and equipment for post-secondary academic and practical training programs urgently required to satisfy the education and employment needs of business and industry and the people of the commonwealth.

The corporation shall hold the center fund in an account or accounts separate from other funds. All appropriations, grants and other funds received by the corporation and not specifically designated to be credited to the center fund, including all rates, rents, fees and charges collected by the corporation, and the

If the board determines that participating businesses and participating institutions have failed to provide support to a center in a manner required by the board, which support includes the provision by participating businesses of the equipment and machinery necessary and appropriate to ensure that the center is maintained at a level consistent with developing technology and the provision by both participating businesses and participating institutions of qualified individuals from among the employees thereof to serve from time to time as instructors at the center, the board shall report this fact to the general court, which may dissolve the corporation and direct the dissolution of its assets or take such other action as it deems appropriate.

No monies shall be credited to the center fund in support of a particular center unless and until the plan and findings required pursuant to section six of this chapter have been received and approved in writing by the house and senate committees on ways

In formulating plans for the establishment of centers pursuant to the provisions of his chapter, the corporation shall be authorized to consult with and utilize the services of the Government Land Bank established pursuant to chapter two hundred twelve of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, as amended, for such technical assistance as the board deems necessary or appropriate to the effective discharge of the corporation's responsibilities relative to the acquisition, construction, reconstruction and remodeling of facilities required for such centers.

Section 6. The corporation shall establish a center, and take any and all actions necessary or appropriate thereto, including disbursing available funds from the center fund to meet the project costs and start-up expenses of such a center, only after (a) formulation of a detailed plan for the creation and operation of such a center; provided that the plan shall be supported by independently verifiable information; and provided further that the plan shall include but not be limited to:

(1) a detailed description of the proposed center, including an analysis of all lands, structures, facilities, machinery and equipment reasonably necessary for the successful operation thereof; an analysis of the feasibility of utilizing surplus state real property for such a center; and a statement of the proposed project costs reasonably associated with establishing such a center, with a detailed breakdown of such project costs, including and estimate of the cost to the commonwealth of the debt service on any bonds or notes issued or to be issued in support of such a center;

(2) a statement of the proposed annual start-up expenses, project costs and current expenses of the center for the first five years of its existence, including a detailed breakdown of such costs and expenses, with a reasonable projection of that portion of said costs and expenses which the corporation expects to meet through assistance provided by participating businesses, rates, rents, fees and charges imposed upon users and support from any other source; and

(3) a description of the assistance to be provided to the corporation in support of the center by participating businesses and participating institutions, with evidence of such assistance and the terms and conditions thereof, if any;

(4) a description of the public benefits to be engendered by the center, including particularly an analysis of increased and enhanced employment and educational opportunities;

(5) a description of the proposed activities of the center, including the proposed utilization thereof by participating businesses and participating institutions;

(6) a proposal for a capital outlay appropriation from the commonwealth in support of the establishment of the center and such annual maintenance appropriations as may reasonably be required for the successful operation of the center; and

(b) the board has approved the establishment of the center described in the plan, having found and incorporated in its minutes that:

(1) the center as proposed in the plan will substantially further the basic purpose of this chapter to provide for the establishment and operation of centers for the education of qualified persons in a developing technology offering substantial employment opportunities in the commonwealth;

(2) there is no reasonable expectation that the center as proposed in the plan will duplicate the actual or proposed facilities or programs of a post-secondary educational institution or consortium of such institutions located within the commonwealth, or, to the extent that a possibility for such duplication may be found to exist, the center as proposed in the plan may reasonably be characterized as enhancing or supplementing the ability of such an institution or consortium of institutions to conduct such actual or proposed facilities or programs;

(3) the establishment and operation of the center as proposed in the plan are beyond the financial means of any single post-secondary educational institution or consortium of such institutions located in the commonwealth, either because the capital costs or operating costs associated therewith are prohibitive or because the capital costs or operating costs associated with maintaining such a center at a level consistent with developing technology are prohibitive;

(4) The corporation has received appropriate commitments from participating businesses and participating institutions to support the center and to maintain a continuing effort to support the center; provided, that the commitments from participating businesses for project costs and start-up expenses shall be for support which, in the aggregate, is equivalent in value to the amount of the proposed disbursement from the center fund and which support includes provision of the equipment and machinery necessary and appropriate to establish the center as provided in the plan; provided, further, that the commitments from participating businesses to maintain a continuing effort to support the center shall include commitments to provide the equipment and machinery necessary and appropriate to ensure that the center is maintained at a level consistent with developing technology; provided, further, that the commitments from both participating businesses and participating institutions to maintain a continuing effort to support the center shall include commitments to provide qualified individuals from among the employees thereof to serve from time to time as instructors at the center; provided further, that the provision of equipment, machinery, instructors and support of any other kind by participating businesses and participating institutions shall be at no charge to the corporation; and provided, further, that the value of said equipment, machinery, instructors and other support shall be determined by the executive director of the corporation.

(c) submission by the board of the plan and findings formulated pursuant to this section to the governor, the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairman of the senate committee on ways and means and the chairman of the house committee on ways and means.

Section 7. (a) The board shall select a qualified individual to act as executive director and shall delegate to the executive director full authority to manage the affairs of the corporation and the Massachusetts Microelectronics Center. The executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the board. The executive director shall present to the board for its approval annual budgets, staffing plans, operating plans and production plans. The executive director shall supervise the employees of the corporation and the Massachusetts Microelectronics Center and shall have the power to hire and fire them. The executive director shall serve as chief liaison officer to the participating businesses and participating institutions in order to enhance their support of and participation in the affairs of the Massachusetts Microelectronics Center. The executive director shall provide that the resources of the Massachusetts Microelectronics Center are made available to participating institutions in a nondiscriminatory manner.

(b) If, pursuant to section six, the board establishes additional centers, it shall determine whether or not to appoint individual executive directors with similar authority for such centers, in view of the technology in question.

Section 8. The corporation annually shall submit a complete and detailed report of the center's activities within ninety days after the end of the fiscal year to the clerk of the house of representatives and to the clerk of the senate.

Section 9. The books and records of the corporation shall be subject to an annual audit by the auditor of the commonwealth.

Section 10. The provisions of this chapter being necessary for the welfare of the commonwealth and its inhabitants shall be liberally construed to effect its purpose.

SECTION 2. The provisions of this chapter are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

SECTION 3. It is intended that the corporation created pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be an educational organization as described in 26 USC Section 170 (b) (1) (A) (ii) and an institution of higher education as defined in 26 USC Section 3304 (f).

Nor shall any mortgagee doing business in the commonwealth use lending or underwriting standards, policies, systems or practices, that discriminate in practice or that discriminate in effect, on a basis that is arbitrary or unsupported by a reasonable analysis of the lending risks associated with a residential mortgage transaction. The preceding sentence shall not preclude a mortgagee from:

(c) uniformly refusing to accept applications because of a lack of lendable funds.

Nor shall any mortgagee make any oral or written statement, in advertising or otherwise, to applicants or prospective applicants that would discourage in an arbitrary manner or in a manner that is unsupported by a reasonable analysis of the lending risks associated with a residential mortgage transaction, a reasonable person from making or pursuing an application.

The mortgagee shall inform each applicant in writing of the specific reasons for any adverse action on the application for such mortgage loan or for an extension, modification, or renewal of such loan. If the reason for any adverse action taken by a mortgagee is based in whole or in part on the location or condition of the collateral property, the mortgagee shall inform the applicant in writing of the estimated market value of the subject property on which it relied and the lending standards which it used in taking such adverse action. A mortgagee shall not be liable to any seller or agent of the seller of such property on account of the disclosure of the market value of such property estimated according to a reasonable appraisal rendered to the lender as part of the application process.

For the purposes of this section, adverse action shall mean refusal either to grant financing at the terms and for the amount requested or to make a counter offer acceptable to the applicant.

Nothing contained in this section shall preclude a mortgagee from considering sound underwriting practices and the credit-worthiness of the applicant in the contemplation of any such loan. Such practices shall include the following:

(a) the willingness and the financial ability of the borrower to repay the loan;

(b) the market value of any real estate proposed as security for any loan;

(c) diversification of the mortgagee's investment portfolio; and

(d) the exercise of judgement and care under the circumstances then prevailing, which men of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their affairs.

Any person claiming to have been aggrieved as a result of a violation of this section may bring a civil action in the district court, or housing court where applicable, of the county in which the particular mortgagee involved is located; provided, however, that if a mortgage review board is established pursuant to section seventy-three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven in the city, town or area in which the real property is located and said mortgagee is a participating mortgagee, a person must exhaust his administrative remedies through the board before bringing action before such court; and provided, further, that said action shall be filed within one year of the alleged violation.

Upon a finding that a mortgagee has committed a violation of this section, the court may award actual damages or punitive damages in the amount of five thousand dollars, whichever is greater, but in no event less than two thousand five hundred dollars, and may, in its discretion, award court costs and attorney's fees.

If the court finds as a fact that any person claiming to have been aggrieved by this section has intentionally misrepresented a material fact in the mortgage application or if the court finds as a fact that the suit is frivolous, the court may award actual damages or punitive damages in the amount of five hundred dollars, whichever is greater, to the mortgagee, and may in its discretion award court costs and attorney's fees.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision 2A, the minimum standard for the valuation of all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, and for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after such date under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall be the Commissioner's Reserve Valuation Methods, as defined in subdivisions 3 and 3A, and the tables of mortality and interest rates hereinafter specified.

First, for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the "1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table", or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner, and six per cent interest per annum for single premium immediate annuity contracts, and four per cent interest per annum for all other individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

Second, for individual single premium immediate annuity contracts issued on or after December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, excluding any disability and accidental benefits in such contracts, the "1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table" or any individual annuity mortality table, adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, that is approved by regulation promulgated by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts, or any modification of these tables approved by the commissioner, and seven and one-half per cent interest per annum.

Third, for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine other than single premium immediate annuity contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts the "1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table" or any individual annuity mortality table, adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, that is approved by regulation promulgated by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts, or any modification of these tables approved by the commissioner, and five and one-half per cent interest per annum for single premium deferred annuity and pure endowment contracts and four and one-half per cent interest per annum for all other such individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

Fourth, for all annuities and pure endowments purchased prior to December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts the "1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table", or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner, and six per cent interest per annum.

Fifth, for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the "1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table" or any group annuity mortality table, adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, that is approved by regulation promulgated by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such annuities and pure endowments, or any modification of these tables approved by the commissioner, and seven and one-half per cent interest per annum.

2A (a) The interest rates used in determining the minimum standard for the valuation of:

(1) all life insurance policies issued in a particular calendar year, on or after the operative date of subdivision 6A of section one hundred and forty-four,

(2) all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued in a particular calendar year on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three,

(3) all annuities and pure endowments purchased in a particular calendar on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, and

(4) the net increase, if any, in a particular calendar year after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, in amounts held under guaranteed interest contracts shall be the calendar year statutory valuation interest rates as defined in this subdivision.

(b) The calendar year statutory valuation interest rates, I, shall be determined as follows and the results rounded to the nearer one-quarter of one per cent:

(1) for life insurance,

$$I = .03 + W (R_1 - .03) + W/2 (R_2 - .09);$$

(2) For single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and from guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options,

$$I = .03 \text{ ff } W (R - .03)$$

where R_1 is the lesser of R and .09, R_2 is the greater of R and .09, R is the reference interest rate defined in this subdivision, and W is the weighting factor defined in this subdivision,

(3) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on an issue year basis, except as stated in clause (2), the formula for life insurance stated in clause (1) shall apply to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee durations in excess of ten years and the formula for single premium immediate annuities stated in clause (2) shall apply to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee duration of ten years or less,

(4) For other annuities with no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the formula for single premium immediate annuities stated in clause (2) shall apply.

(5) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a change in fund basis, the formula for single premium immediate annuities stated in clause (2) shall apply.

However, if the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for any life insurance policies issued in any calendar year determined without reference to this sentence differs from the corresponding actual rate for similar policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year by less than one-half of one per cent, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such life insurance policies shall be equal to the corresponding actual rate for the immediately preceding calendar year. For purposes of applying the immediately preceding sentence, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies issued in a calendar year shall be determined for nineteen hundred and eighty, using the reference interest rate defined in nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, and shall be determined for each subsequent calendar year regardless of when subdivisions 6A of section one hundred and forty-four becomes operative.

(c) The weighting factors referred to in the formulas stated above are given in the following tables:

(1) Weighting Factors for Life Insurance:

Guarantee Duration (Years)	Weighting Factors
10 or less	.50
More than 10, but not more than 20	.45
More than 20	.35

For life insurance, the guarantee duration is the maximum number of years the life insurance can remain in force on a basis guaranteed in the policy or under options to convert to plans of life insurance with premium rates or nonforfeiture values or both which are guaranteed in the original policy;

(2) Weighting factor for single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options:

.80

(3) Weighting factors for other annuities and for guaranteed interest contracts, except as stated in clause (2), shall be as specified in tables (i), (ii), and (iii), according the rules and definitions in (iv), (v) and (vi):

(i) For annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis:

Guarantee Duration Years	Weighting Factor for Plan Type A	B	C
5 or less:	.80	.60	.50
More than 5, but not more than 10:	.75	.60	.50
More than 10, but not more than 20:	.65	.50	.45
More than 20:	.45	.35	.35

	Plan Type A	B	C
(ii) For annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change in fund basis, the factors shown in (i) increased by:	.15	.25	.05

Plan Type	A	B	C
(iii) For annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue

year basis other than those with no cash settlement options, which do not guarantee interest on considerations received more than one year after issue or purchase and for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change in fund basis which do not guarantee interest rates onconsiderations received more than twelve months beyond the valuation date, the factors shown in (i) or derived in (ii) increased by:	.05	.05	.05

(iv) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years for which the contract guarantees interest rates in excess of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies with guarantee duration in excess of twenty years. For other annuities with no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years from the date of issue or date of purchase to the date annuity benefits are scheduled to commence.

(v) Plan type as used in the above tables is defined as follows:

Plan Type A: At any time policyholder may withdraw funds only (1) with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company, or (2) without such adjustment but in installments over five years or more, or (3) as an immediate life annuity, or (4) no withdrawal permitted.

Plan Type B: Before expiration of the interest rate guarantee, policyholder may withdraw funds only (1) with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company, or (2) without such adjustment but in installments over five years or more, or (3) no withdrawal permitted. At the end of interest rate guarantee, funds may be withdrawn without such adjustment in a single sum or installments over less than five years.

Plan Type C: Policyholder may withdraw funds before expiration of interest rate guarantee in a single sum or installments over less than five years either (1) without adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurance company, or (2) subject only to a fixed surrender charge stipulated in the contract as a percentage of the fund.

(vi) A company may elect to value guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options and annuities with cash settlement options on either an issue year basis or on a change in fund basis. Guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options and other annuities with no cash settlement options must be valued on an issue year basis. As used in this subdivision, an issue year basis of valuation refers to a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard for the entire duration of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of issue or year of purchase of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract, and the change in fund basis of valuation refers to a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard applicable to each change in the fund held under the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of the change in the fund.

(d) The Reference Interest Rate referred to in paragraph (b) of this subdivision shall be defined as follows:

(1) For all life insurance, the lesser of the average over a period of thirty-six months and the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year next preceding the year of issue, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(2) For single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or year of purchase, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(3) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a year of issue basis, except as stated in paragraph (2), with guarantee duration in excess of ten years, the lesser of the average over a period of thirty-six months and the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(4) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a year of issue basis, except as stated in paragraph (2), with guarantee duration of ten years or less, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(5) For other annuities with no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(6) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a change in fund basis, except as stated in paragraph (2), the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of the change in the fund, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(e) In the event that Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates is no longer published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or in the event that the National Association of Insurance Commissioners determines that Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average - Monthly Average Corporates as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. is no longer appropriate for the determination of the reference interest rate, then an alternative method for determination of the reference interest rate, which is adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and approved by regulation promulgated by the commissioner, may be substituted.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subdivisions 3A and 6, the net value of the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies, referred to in subdivision 2, providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums, shall be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of such future guaranteed benefits provided for by such policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums therefor. The modified net premiums for any such policy shall be such uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for such benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such modified net premiums shall be equal to the sum of the then present value of such beneifts provided for by the policy and the excess of (a) over (b), as follows:

(a) a net level annual premium equal to the present value, at the date of issue, of such benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value, at the date of issue, of an annuity of one per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due; provided, that such net level annual premium shall not exceed the net level annual premium on the nineteen year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age one year higher than the age at issue of such policy, over.

(b) a net one year term premium for such benefits provided for in the first policy year.

Provided that for any life insurance policy issued on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six for which the contract premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year and for which no comparable additional benefit is provided in the first year for such excess and which provides an endowment benefit or a cash surrender value or a combination thereof in an amount greater than such excess premium, the reserve according to the commissioners reserve valuation method as of any policy anniversary occurring on or before the assumed ending date defined herein as the first policy anniversary on which the sum of any endowment benefit and any cash surrender value then available is greater than such excess premium shall, except as otherwise provided in subdivision 6, be the greater of the reserve as of such policy anniversary calculated as described in the preceding paragraph and the reserve as of such policy anniversary calculated as described in that paragraph, but with (i) the value defined in clause (a) of that paragraph being reduced by fifteen per cent of the amount of such excess first year premium, (ii) all present values of benefits and premiums being determined without reference to premiums or benefits provided for by the policy after the assumed ending date, (iii) the policy being assumed to mature on such date as an endowment, and (iv) the cash surrender value provided on such date being considered as an endowment benefit. In making the above comparison the mortality and interest bases stated in subdivisions 2 and 2A shall be used.

The net value of (a) policies of life insurance providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums (b) group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, (c) provisions for total and permanent disability or for accidental death benefits in, or supplementary to, all policies and contracts, and (d) provisions for any other insurance benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies and benefits provided by all other annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall be computed by a method consistent with the principles of the first paragraph of this subdivision, except that any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards shall be disregarded in the determination of modified net premiums.

3A. This subdivision shall apply to all annuity and pure endowment contracts other than group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Reserves according to the Commissioners Annuity Reserve Method for benefits under annuity or pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, shall be the greatest of the respective excesses of the present values, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits, including guaranteed nonforfeiture benefits, provided for by such contracts at the end of each respective contract year, over the present value, at the date of valuation, of any future valuation considerations derived from future gross considerations, required by the terms of such contract, that become payable prior to the end of such respective contract year. The future guaranteed benefits shall be determined by using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate, or rates, specified in such contracts for determining guaranteed benefits. The valuation considerations are the portions of the respective gross considerations applied under the terms of such contracts to determine nonforfeiture values.

4. The aggregate net value of all life insurance policies, excluding total and permanent disability and accidental death benefits, described in subdivision 2, shall in no case be less than the aggregate net value computed in accordance with the Commissioners Reserve Valuation Methods, as defined in subdivisions 3, 3A, 6 and 7A and the mortality table or tables and the rate or rates of interests used in computing the nonforfeiture benefits under such policies.

The net value of any class or classes of policies or contracts described in subdivision 2, established by the commissioner, may be computed, at the option of the company, on any basis which produces aggregate reserves for such class or classes greater than those computed according to the minimum standard prescribed by subdivision 2; provided, that the rate or rates of interest used for policies and contracts, other than annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates used on computing any nonforfeiture benefits thereunder.

5. Any company which at any time has adopted any basis of valuation for any class or classes of policies or contracts or for any benefit or option, whether or not specific provision is made therefor in subdivision 1 or 2, shall not thereafter adopt, without the approval of the commissioner, any basis of valuation producing lower reserves for such class or classes or for such benefit or option.

6. If, in the case that in any contract year the gross premium charged on any life policy or annuity or pure endowment contract, described in this section, is less than the valuation net premium therefor calculated by the method used in computing the net value thereof but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, the minimum reserve required for such policy or contract shall be the greater of either the reserve calculated according to the mortality table, rate of interest, and method actually used for such policy or contract, or the reserve calculated by the method actually used for such policy or contract but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest and replacing the valuation net premium by the actual gross premium in each contract year for which the valuation net premium exceeds the actual gross premium. The minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest referred to in this subdivision 6 are those standards stated in subdivisions 2 and 2A.

Provided that for any life insurance policy issued on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six for which the gross premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year and for which no comparable additional benefit is provided in the first year for such excess and which provides an endowment benefit or a cash surrender value or a combination thereof in an amount greater than such excess premium, the foreging provisions of this subdivision 6 shall be applied as if the method actually used in calculating the reserve for such policy were the method described in subdivision 3, ignoring the second paragraph of subdivision 3. The minimum reserve at each policy anniversary of such a policy shall be the greater of the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with subdivision 3, including the second paragraph of that subdivision, and the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with this subdivision 6.

7. When the commissioner is satisfied that the risks which a company has assumed under policies or contracts referred to in subdivision 1 cannot be properly measured by the mortality tables specified in said subdivision, he may compute such additional reserve as in his judgment is warranted by the extra hazard assumed, and he may further in his discretion prescribe such table or tables of mortality as he may deem necessary properly to measure such additional risks with interest at not greater than four and one-half per cent per annum, for the computation of the net value of any special class or classes of risks.

7A. In the case of any plan of life insurance which provides for future premium determination, the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurance company based on then estimates of future experience, or in the case of any plan of life insurance or annuity which is of such a nature that the minimum reserves cannot be determined by the methods described in subdivisions 3, 3A and 6, the reserves which are held under any such plan must:

(a) be appropriate in relation to the benefits and the pattern of premiums for that plan, and

(b) be computed by a method which is consistent with the principles of this Standard Valuation Law, as determined by regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 175 is hereby further amended by striking out section 144, as most recently amended by section 13 of chapter 642 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 144. 1. In the event of default in the payment of any premium on any policy of life insurance issued or delivered in the commonwealth by any life company, the holder thereof may elect by a writing filed with the company at its home office within sixty days after the due date of the defaulted premium and prior to the death of the insured, to (a) surrender the policy and receive its value in cash, provided that, except as provided in section one hundred and forty-six, premiums have been paid for at least three full years, or (b) take a specified paid-up nonforfeiture benefit effective from the due date of the premium in default. In lieu of such specified paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, the company may substitute, upon proper request not later than sixty days after the due date of the premium in default, an actuarially equivalent alternative paid-up benefit which provides a greater amount or longer period of death benefits or, if applicable, a greater amount or earlier payment of endowment benefits.

The policy shall provide that a specified paid-up nonforfeiture benefit shall become effective as specified in the policy unless the holder thereof elects another available option prior to the death of the insured and not later than sixty days after the due date of the premium in default.

2. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the case of a default in the payment of a premium due on any anniversary of the policy shall be an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value, on such anniversary of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been payable if there had been no default, including any existing paid-up additions, over the sum of (a) the then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in subdivisions 5 and 6A, corresponding to the premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary, and (b) the amount of any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy or secured thereby; provided, however, that for any policy issued on or after the operative date of subdivision 6A as defined therein, which provides supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits at the option of the insured and for an identifiable additional premium by rider or supplemental policy provision, the cash surrender value referred to in the first paragraph of this subdivision shall be an amount not less than the sum of the cash surrender value as defined in such paragraph for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such rider or supplemental paragraph for a policy which provides only the benefits otherwise provided by such rider or supplemental policy provision; provided, further that for any family policy issued on or after the operative date of subdivision 6A as defined therein, which defines a primary insured and provides term insurance on the life of the spouse of the primary insured expiring before the spouse's age seventy-one, the cash surrender value referred to in the first paragraph of this subdivison shall be an amount not less than the sum of the cash surrender value as defined in such paragraph for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance on the life of the spouse and the cash surrender value as defined in such paragraph for a policy which provides only the benefits otherwise provided by such term insurance on the life of the spouse.

3. Any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy upon default in the payment of a premium due on any policy anniversary shall be such that its present value as of such anniversary shall be at least equal to the cash surrender value then provided for by the policy or, if none is provided for, that cash surrender value which would have been required by this section in the absence of the provision therein that premiums shall have been paid for at least a specified period.

4. Any cash surrender value or other nonforfeiture benefit available upon default in the payment of a premium due at any time other than on an anniversary of the policy shall be consistent with the values provisions of, subdivision 2, with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding anniversary.

The cash surrender value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall be not less than the amounts used to purchase them.

Any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit under any policy on which the premiums, except as provided in section one hundred and forty-six, were paid for at least three full years, and every policy which by its terms has become fully paid-up, shall have a cash surrender value payable upon written application and surrender of the policy to the company at its home office within thirty days after any anniversary of the policy. Any cash surrender value available under any paid-up insurance or under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, whether or not such cash surrender value is required by this paragraph, shall be an amount not less than the present value on said anniversary of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy, including any paid-up additions thereto, less any indebtedness to the company on the policy or secured thereby.

5. This subdivision shall not apply to policies issued on or after the operative date of subdivision 6A as defined therein. Except as provided in the third paragraph of this subdivision, the term "adjusted premiums", as used in this section shall mean such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (1) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; (2) two per cent of the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy; (3) forty per cent of the adjusted premium for the first policy year; (4) twenty-five per cent of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance whichever is less; provided, that in applying the percentages specified in clauses (3) and (4), no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent of the amount of insurance or uniform amount equivalent thereto. The adjusted premium shall be computed on an annual basis. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this section shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

The term "equivalent uniform amount", as used in this section, shall be deemed to be the uniform amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with the duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the date of issue as the benefits under the policy; provided, however, that in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten, the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten.

The adjusted premiums for any policy providing term insurance benefits by rider or supplemental policy provision shall be equal to (a) the adjusted premiums for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance benefits, increased, during the period for which premiums for such term insurance benefits are payable, by (b) the adjusted premiums for such term insurance, the foregoing items (a) and (b) being calculated separately and as specified in the first two paragraphs of this subdivision except that, for the purposes of clauses (2), (3) and (4), the amount of insurance or equivalent uniform amount of insurance used in the computation of the adjusted premiums referred to in (b) shall be equal to the excess of the corresponding amount determined for the entire policy over the amount used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums in (a).

6. (a) This paragraph shall not apply to ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of subdivision 6A as defined therein. All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) and as provided in section one hundred and forty-six, shall be computed on the basis of the "Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table", and at the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half per cent per annum, specified in the policy for the computation of the cash surrender values and other nonforfeiture benefit; provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be computed according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured; and provided, that in calculating the present value of any extended term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred and thirty per cent of the rates according to such applicable table of mortality; and provided, further that in the case of any policy issued on a substandard basis, any such adjusted premiums and present values may be computed on such other table of mortality as the company may specify with the approval of the commissioner.

(b) This paragraph shall not apply to ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of subdivision 6A as defined therein. In the case of policies or ordinary insurance issued on or after January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-six, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall be computed on the basis of the "Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table", and the rate of interest specified in the policy for the computation or the cash surrender values and other nonforfeiture benefits provided that such rate of interest shall not exceed three and one-half per cent per annum for policies issued prior to March sixth, nineteen hundred and seventy-four, shall not exceed four per cent per annum but policies issued on or after March sixth, nineteen hundred and seventy-four and prior to December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and shall not exceed five and one-half per cent per annum for policies issued on or after December first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than six years younger than the actual age of the insured; and provided, further, that in computing the present value of any extended term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, the rates of mortality assumed may not be more than those shown in the "Commissioners 1958 Extended Term Insurance Tables"; and provided, further, that in the case of any policy issued on a substandard basis any such adjusted premiums and present values may be computed on such other table of mortality as the company may specify with the approval of the commissioner.

(c) All values referred to in this section may be computed on the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year in which death occurs.

6A. (a) This subdivision shall apply to all policies issued on or after the operative date of this subdivision 6A as defined herein. Except as provided in paragraph (g) of this subdivision, the adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments or special hazards and also excluding any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; (ii) one per cent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years; and (iii) one hundred and twenty-five per cent of the nonforfeiture net level premium as hereinafter defined; provided, however, that in applying the percentage specified in clause (iii) no nonforfeiture net level premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this subdivision shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

(b) The nonforfeiture net level premium shall be equal to the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of the guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy divided by the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of an annuity of one per annum payable on the date of issue of the policy and on each anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due.

(c) In the case of policies which cause on a basis guaranteed in the policy unscheduled changes in benefits or premiums, or which provide an option for changes in benefits or premiums other than a change to a new policy, the adjusted premiums and present values shall initially be calculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated at the date of issue of the policy. At the time of any such change in the benefits or premiums the future adjusted premiums, nonforfeiture net level premiums and present values shall be recalculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated by the policy immediately after the change.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (g) the recalculated future adjusted premiums for any such policy shall be such uniform percentage of the respective future premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments and special hazards, and also excluding any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, that the present value, at the time of change to the newly defined benefits or premiums, of all such future adjusted premiums shall be equal to the excess of (A) the sum of (i) the then present value of the then future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy and (ii) the additional expense allowance, if any, over (B) the then cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit under the policy.

(e) The additional expense allowance, at the time of the change to the newly defined benefits or premiums, shall be the sum of (i) one per cent of the excess, if positive, of the average amount of insurance at the end of each of the first ten policy years subsequent to the change at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years subsequent to the time of the most recent previous change, or, if there has been no previous change, the date of issue of the policy; and (ii) one hundred and twenty-five per cent of the increase, if positive, in the nonforfeiture net level premium.

(f) The recalculated nonforfeiture net level premium shall be equal to the result obtained by dividing (A) by (B) where (A) equals the sum of (i) the nonforfeiture net level premium applicable prior to the change times the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or subsequent to the date of the change on which a premium would have fallen due had the change not occurred, and (ii) the present value of the increase in future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; and

(B) equals the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or subsequent to the date of change on which a premium falls due.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this subdivision to the contrary, in the case of a policy issued on a substandard basis which provides reduced graded amounts of insurance so that, in each policy year, such policy has the same tabular mortality cost as an otherwise similar policy issued on the standard basis which provides higher uniform amounts of insurance, adjusted premiums and present values for such substandard policy may be calculated as if it were issued to provide such higher uniform amounts of insurance on the standard basis.

(h) All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of (i) the Commissioner 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table of (ii) at the election of the company for any one or more specified plans of life insurance, the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors and shall for all policies issued in a particular calendar year be calculated on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate as defined in this subdivision for policies issued in that calendar year; provided, however, that:

(1) At the option of the company, calculations for all policies issued in a particular calendar year may be made on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate, as defined in this subdivision, for policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year.

(2) Under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, including any paid-up dividend additions, any cash surrender value available, whether or not required by subdivision 1, shall be calculated on the basis of the mortality table and rate of interest used in determining the amount of such paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and paid-up dividend additions, if any.

(3) A company may calculate the amount of any guaranteed paid-up nonforfeiture benefit including any paid-up additions under the policy on the basis of an interest rate no lower than that specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values.

(4) In calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table for policies of ordinary insurance.

(5) For insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on appropriate modifications of the aforementioned tables.

(6) Any ordinary mortality tables, adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, that are approved by regulation promulgated by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with or without Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors or for the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table.

(i) The nonforfeiture interest rate per annum for any policy issued in a particular calendar year shall be equal to one hundred and twenty-five per cent of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such policy as defined in the standard Valuation Law, rounded to the nearer one quarter of one per cent.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision in this code to the contrary, any refiling of nonforfeiture values or their methods of computation for any previously approved policy form which involves only a change in the interest rate or mortality table used to compute nonforfeiture values shall not require refiling of any other provisions of that policy form.

(k) After the effective date of this subdivision 6A, any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this subdivision after a specified date before January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, which shall be the operative date of this subdivision for such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this subdivision for such company shall be January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine.

6B. In the case of any plan of life insurance which provides for future premium determination, the amounts of which are to be paid-up nonforfeiture benefit including any paid-up additions under the policy on the basis of an interest rate no lower than that specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values.

(4) In calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table for policies of ordinary insurance.

(5) For insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on appropriate modifications of the aforementioned tables.

(6) Any ordinary mortality tables, adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, that are approved by regulation promulgated by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with or without Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors or for the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table.

(i) The nonforfeiture interest rate per annum for any policy issued in a particular calendar year shall be equal to one hundred and twenty-five per cent of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such policy as defined in the standard Valuation Law, rounded to the nearer one quarter of one per cent.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision in this code to the contrary, any refiling of nonforfeiture values or their methods of computation for any previously approved policy form which involves only a change in the interest rate or mortality table used to compute nonforfeiture values shall not require refiling of any other provisions of that policy form.

(k) After the effective date of this subdivision 6A, any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this subdivision after a specified date before January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, which shall be the operative date of this subdivision for such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this subdivision for such company shall be January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine.

6B. In the case of any plan of life insurance which provides for future premium determination, the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurance company based on then estimates of future experience, or in the case of any plan of life insurance which is of such a nature that minimum values cannot be determined by the methods described in subdivisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 6A, then:

(a) the commissioner must be satisfied that the benefits provided under the plan are substantially as favorable to policyholders and insureds as the minimum benefits otherwise required by subdivisions 1 to 6A, inclusive;

(b) the commissioner must be satisfied that the benefits and the pattern of premiums of that plan are not such as to mislead prospective policyholders or insureds;

(c) the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits provided by such plan must not be less than the minimum values and benefits required for the plan computed by a method consistent with the principles of this Standard Nonforfeiture Law for Life Insurance, as determined by regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

7. Any additional benefits payable (i) under accidental death or total and permanent disability benefit provisions incorporated in, or supplementary to a policy of life insurance of (ii) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits under a policy of life insurance, or (iii) as term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision, to which provision this section would not apply if it were evidenced by a separate policy, or (iv) as term insurance on the life of a child or on the lives of children provided in a policy on the life of a parent of the child, if such term insurance expires before the child's age is one, and has not become paid-up by reason of the death of a parent of the child, and (v) any other benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits, and premiums for all such additional benefits, hereinbefore described, shall be disregarded in computing adjusted premiums and cash surrender values and other nonforfeiture benefits under this section, and no such additional benefits shall be required to be granted in connection with any nonforfeiture benefits.

7C. This subdivision, in addition to all other applicable subdivisions of this law, shall apply to all policies issued on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. The cash surrender values available under such policies shall be essentially in compliance with this subdivision. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary shall be in an amount which does not differ by more than two-tenths of one per cent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years, from the sum (a) the greater of zero and the basic cash value hereinafter specified and (b) the present value of any existing paid-up additions less the amount of any indebtedness to the company under the policy.

The basic cash value shall be equal to the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, excluding any existing paid-up additions and before deduction of any indebtedness to the company, if there had been no default, less the then present value of the nonforfeiture factors, as hereinafter defined, corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary; provided, however, that the effects on the basic cash value of supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits or of family converage, as described in subdivision 2 or 5, whichever is applicable, shall be the same as are the effects specified in subdivision 2 or 5, whichever is applicable on the cash surrender values defined in that subdivision.

The nonforfeiture factor for each policy year shall be an amount equal to a percentage of the adjusted premium for the policy year, as defined in subdivision 5 or 6A, whichever is applicable. Except as is required by the next succeeding sentence of this paragraph, such percentage:

(a) must be the same percentage for each policy year between the second policy anniversary and the later of (i) the fifth policy anniversary and (ii) the first policy anniversary at which there is available under the policy a cash surrender value in an amount, before including any paid-up additions and before deducting any indebtedness, of at least two-tenths of one per cent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years; and

(b) must be such that no percentage after the later of the two policy anniversaries specified in the preceding item (a) may apply to fewer than five consecutive policy years.

Provided, that no basic cash value may be less than the value which would be obtained if the adjusted premiums for the policy, as defined in subdivision 5 or 6A, whichever is applicable, were substituted for the nonforfeiture factors in the calculation of the basic cash value.

All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this subdivision shall for a particular policy be calculated on the same mortality and interest bases as are used in demonstrating the policy's compliance with the other subdivisions of this section. The cash surrender values referred to in this subdivision shall include any endowment benefits provided for by the policy.

Any cash surrender value available other than in the event of default in a premium payment due on a policy anniversary, and the amount of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment shall be determined in manners consistent with the manners specified for determining the analogous minimum amounts in subdivisions 1, 2, 3, 6A and 7. The amounts of any cash surrender values and of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits granted in connection with additional benefits such as those listed as items (i) to (v), inclusive, in subdivision 7 shall conform with the principles of this subdivision.

8. Except as provided in subdivision 9, this section shall not apply to any of the following:

(a) contracts of reinsurance,

(b) policies of group life insurance; or

(c) annuity or pure endowment contracts of any kind with or without return of premiums or premiums and interest, whether simple or compound, or to survivorship annuity contracts;

(d) any term policy of uniform amount, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, or renewal thereof, of twenty years or less expiring before age seventy-one, for which uniform premiums are payable during its entire term,

(e) term policy providing for a decreasing amount of insurance, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, on which each adjusted premium computed as in this section, is less than the adjusted premium, so computed, on a term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance and for a term of twenty years or less expiring before age seventy-one, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy.

(f) policy, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, for which no cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, at the beginning of any policy year, calculated as specified in subdivisions 2 to 6A, inclusive, exceeds two and one-half per cent of the amount of insurance at the beginning of the same policy year.

For purposes of determining the applicability of this section, the age at expiry for a joint term life insurance policy shall be the age at expiry of the oldest life.

9. Every deferred annuity contract, other than a single premium contract, issued and delivered in the commonwealth by a domestic life company shall provide that, in the event of the nonpayment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid, the annuity shall, without any further act or stipulation, be converted into a paid-up annuity for such proportion of the original annuity as the number of completed years' premiums paid bears to the total number of premiums required under the contract; provided, however that this subdivision shall not apply to any annuity contract subject to the provisions of section one hundred and forty-four A.

10. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the inclusion of a provision in a policy that any cash surrender value shall be payable with the written assent of the person to whom the policy is payable.

11. Nothing in this section shall apply to group annuity contracts as defined in section one hundred and thirty-two A or to individual contracts on a variable basis; provided, that such individual contracts specify, in a manner satisfactory to the commissioner, the nature and the basis of the ascertainment of the rights of the holder, in the event of the nonpayment of any premium or consideration.

Chap. 336. AUTHORIZING ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENTS IN CERTAIN CITIES AND TOWNS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately authorize estimated tax payments in certain cities and towns, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

No policy for health insurance for health care delivery administered, issued or renewed in the commonwealth shall contain any provision denying or reducing benefits to a person who is eligible for or who is receiving medical assistance under said chapter one hundred and eighteen E.

After consideration and review of any such information submitted by the provider, the department shall make a final determination. After such hearing, the commissioner shall notify the provider of his decision with reasons therefor. The decision of the commissioner shall be final and is enforceable under this section unless stayed pursuant to a valid court order; provided, however, that the department has sent written notice to the provider prior to the time period in which the services in dispute were provided, which notice shall state that the entry and filing provisions of this section are applicable only to claims processed after the date of said notice.

If the departments's determination, or an administrative review thereof, has become final and the amount overpaid remains unpaid in full or in part, the commissioner may file with the clerk of the municipal court of the city of Boston, or in the district court in the judicial district where the provider has principal place of business, a certificate or a copy thereof under official seal, stating: the name and address of the provider, the amount owed to the commonwealth as overpayment and in default, that the time in which administrative or judicial review is permitted has expired without appeal having been taken, or, if a claim has been filed under section fourteen of chapter thirty A, that the department's determination has not been stayed. The commission shall require that charges for health care services rendered in each acute hospital shall be uniform for all patients receiving comparable services.

Section 54. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, approved gross patient service revenues shall be determined from the gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two approved by the commission under the provisions of chapter four hundred and nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six as amended by chapter four hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, multiplied by the sum of one plus the prospectively calculated percentage change in the basis of payment calculated under hospital agreement 29 less one and four-tenths per cent.

Section 55. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, approved gross patient services revenues shall be determined from approved gross patient services revenues for the fiscal year ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, multiplied by the sum of one plus the prospectively calculated percentage change in the basis of payment calculated under hospital agreement 29.

Section 56. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and for each fiscal year thereafter, approved gross patient services revenues shall be equal to the basis of payment established under section fifty-one A, increased by the uniform statewide differential determined under section fifty-eight.

Section 57. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for each fiscal year thereafter, approved gross patient services revenues shall be determined in the same manner and shall be subject to the same calculations as set forth in sections fifty-four to fifty-six, inclusive; except that wherever fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-two, eighty-three and eighty-four are referenced in any of said sections, fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-three, eighty-four and eighty-five, respectively, shall be substituted.

Section 58. There shall be a study commission, consisting of three members, one representing nonprofit hospital service corporations under chapter one hundred and seventy-six A, one representing companies authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five, and one selected by mutual agreement of the other two members who shall serve as chairman at all meetings and hearings of the study commission. If such third member is not selected by mutual agreement of the other two members within thirty days after the effective date of this section, such third member shall be appointed by the president of the American Arbitration Association. Resolutions of the study commission may be adopted only upon the affirmative vote of two of its members. The study commission shall adopt operating procedures governing the conduct of its activities within ninety days after the effective date of this section.

The study commission shall immediately institute a study of objective methods of computing the percentage differential to be utilized for all hospitals in determining approved gross patient service revenues under sections fifty-six and fifty-seven. Such study shall include a review and determination of the relevant and justifiable economic factors which can be considered in setting such differential. The differential shall be allowed for only those activities and programs provided or conducted by nonprofit hospital service corporations which result in (a) quantifiable savings to the hospital with respect to patient care costs, bad debt, free care or working capital or (b) reductions in the payments of other payors. Such differential shall reflect only the cost savings to hospitals, rather than the cost to nonprofit hospital service corporations of implementing such activities and programs. Each component utilized in determining the differential shall be individually quantified so that the differential shall equal the total of the values assigned to each component. The study commission shall consider such matters as coverage to individual subscribers, the elderly and small groups, payment practices, savings in hospital administrative costs, cost containment programs and working capital. The study shall also provide for a method of annual recomputation of the working capital component of the differential and triennial recomputation of all other components. The study commission may contract with any person or entity to assist the study commission in the discharge of its duties. The nonprofit hospital service corporations and the companies authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five shall each, collectively, have the option of conducting a study of the differential issue or of contracting with a person or entity to conduct such a study. The cost of any such study shall be funded directly by the party conducting or contracting for it. All such studies shall be completed by March first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four. During the course of such studies, each hospital, as defined under section thirty-one of chapter six A, and each nonprofit hospital service corporation shall cooperate fully with the persons or entities conducting such studies in providing any data or other information such persons or entities may request.

The study commission may conduct such hearings as it may deem appropriate. Upon receiving the results of the studies, the study commission shall conduct a hearing at which all interested parties shall be given the opportunity to comment upon the results of such studies and to submit evidence in support of or in opposition to such results. The study commission shall make a final determination of the differential on or before July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and shall file such determination with the rate setting commission established under section thirty-two of chapter six A as a public record. The rate setting commission shall apply such differential in determining approved charges under this chapter. Any recomputation of such differential shall also be filed with the rate setting commission as a public record and the rate setting commission shall apply such recomputation in determining approved charges under this chapter. Any nonprofit hospital service corporation or any company authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five aggrieved by the study commission's determination of the initial differential, or any subsequent recomputation thereof, under this section may, within twenty days of the filing thereof by the study commission with the rate setting commission as a public record, file a petition in the supreme judicial court for the county of Suffolk for a review of such determination. In the event such petition is filed, the determination of the study commission shall be used by the rate setting commission for the purpose of determining approved charges under this chapter pending the court's final disposition of such petition.

Whoever obstructs any person or entity conducting a study authorized under the provisions of this section in its examinations, shall be held to be in violation of this section. The attorney general shall bring any appropriate actions, including injunctive relief, as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section.

There shall be an advisory committee to the study commission, consisting of seven members appointed by the study commission, one representing nonprofit hospital service corporations under chapter one hundred and seventy-six A, one representing companies authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five, one person from a list of recommendations submitted by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, one representing the interest and concerns of labor from a list of recommendations submitted by the state labor council of the AFL-CIO, one representing the interests and concerns of the elderly from a list of recommendations submitted by the Massachusetts Association of Older Americans, one representing the interests and concerns of acute hospitals from a list of recommendations submitted by the Massachusetts Hospital Association, and two representing the interests and concerns of business from a list of recommendations submitted by the Massachusetts Business Roundtable. The study commission shall fill any vacancy of committee members which may occur. All appointed members of the advisory committee shall be reimbursed by the study commission for their necessary travel expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. The committee shall elect a chairman at its first organization meeting and shall reelect a chairman annually thereafter. The committee shall meet upon call of the chairman or on written application to the chairman by any three members. The committee shall advise and consult with the study commission on matters of policy and operation of the study commission and make recommendations to the study commission regarding any such matters. The committee may meet from time to time with the study commission to explain, discuss or review any such matters. The committee shall consider agenda items recommended by the study commission and any other matters pertinent to the operation of this section proposed by the chairman of the committee or a majority of committee members. The committee shall report to the study commission following each committee meeting on its deliberations and recommendations, if any. The committee shall be notified at least ten days in advance of any public hearings scheduled by the study commission. The committee shall have the right to at least thirty days prior review and comment on any proposed findings of the study commission regarding the level of the differential, or any subsequent recomputation thereof, to be determined under the provisions of this section.

The costs incurred by the study commission in determining the initial differential and any recomputations thereof shall be funded by an assessment in each calendar year against all insurance companies authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five and against all nonprofit hospital service corporations. The share in the total assessment of each such insurance company or nonprofit hospital service corporation shall be determined as follows: (a) the total net premiums received by such insurance company on accident and health insurance policies in force in the commonwealth during the calendar year immediately preceding the assessment date or the total payments from subscribers received by such nonprofit hospital service corporations on subscriber contracts in the commonwealth during such calendar year, as the case may be, divided by (b) the sum of the total net premiums received by all such insurance companies on accident and insurance policies in force in the commonwealth during such calendar year and the total payments from subscribers received by all nonprofit hospital service corporations on subscriber contracts in force in the commonwealth during such calendar year. As used in this section, the term "net premiums" refers to net premiums after deducting therefrom all dividends paid, credited or applied. The total annual assessment shall be computed by the study commission on the basis of estimated costs for the year of assessment. If such estimate should prove to be insufficient, the study commission shall require such supplemental assessments, computed in the same manner as described above, as it deems necessary. Any such assessments shall be paid into the commonwealth's general revenues, but shall be allocated to the study commission for its operating costs.

Section 59. Any company authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five, nonprofit hospital service corporation or health maintenance organization may apply to the commission for a reduction in the charges it would otherwise be required to pay under sections fifty-three to fifty-seven, inclusive. The commission shall grant a reduction in charges on a prospective basis if it finds that the applicant has implemented an activity or program resulting in quantifiable savings to acute hospitals. The commission's review and findings shall be conducted in a manner which is consistent with the uniform statewide differential study under section fifty-eight.

Section 60. A. In the event that there is a failure to reach agreement on a successor hospital agreement by the termination date of the hospital agreement then in effect but the parties to the negotiation of such successor agreement agree that outstanding issues can be settled, the parties may submit a memorandum to this effect to the commission. Upon receipt of said memorandum and appropriate amendments to hospital agreements which are the subject of said memorandum, the commission will extend such hospital agreement or agreements then in effect by ninety-two days. For the ninety-two day extension, the methodologies contained in any such hospital agreement will be used to establish the basis of payment. When a successor hospital agreement is approved by the commission, its methodologies will apply retroactively to the original termination date of the hospital agreement which is extended. No further extensions of any hospital agreement will be allowed.

B. In the event that, for any acute hospital, the commission has not approved a successor hospital agreement, as of the date a hospital agreement terminates or, if an extension is granted, by the end of the period of extension, and there is no designated successor agreement then in effect, then, for the period beginning on the first day of the fiscal year after which the hospital agreement terminates, or in which any period of extension expires, and continuing until the date a successor hospital agreement or a designated successor agreement takes effect, the following will apply:

(a) Gross patient service revenues for any such hospital shall be the amount of such revenues in effect for the immediately prior fiscal year, subject to appropriate adjustments for changes in volume. Adjustments to charges shall be allowed to the extent otherwise provided in this chapter.

(b) Medicaid rates of payment will be calculated pursuant to the methodologies contained in this chapter, with the basis of payment to be determined in accordance with the provisions, including those provisions relating to increases in the basis of payment, of the hospital agreement most recently in effect for such hospital, as adjusted for productivity in accordance with sections fifty-one A and fifty-two.

(c) All such acute hospitals must bill subscribers of nonprofit hospital service corporations directly and at the level of allowed charges derived in accordance with clause (a). Nonprofit hospital service corporations will allow all acute hospitals ninety days from the termination date of the hospital agreement or, if the agreement is extended, the end of the period of extension to return outstanding current financing.

C. In the event that an acute hospital chooses not to enter into a successor hospital agreement with a nonprofit hospital service corporation or such hospital terminates a hospital agreement within six months of such agreement's effective date and there is a designated successor agreement in effect, the following will apply:

(a) As for hospitals choosing not to enter into a successor hospital agreement, subclauses (i) and (ii) of this clause shall apply only for the first six months after the termination date of the most recent hospital agreement. As to those hospitals terminating a hospital agreement within six months of its effective date, subclauses (i) and (ii) of this clause shall apply only until the end of six months after the effective date of such hospital agreement.

(i) Gross patient service revenues for such hospital shall be the amount of such revenues in effect for the immediately prior fiscal year, subject to appropriate adjustments for changes in volume. Adjustments to charges shall be allowed to the extent otherwise provided in this chapter.

(ii) Medicaid rates of payment will be calculated pursuant to the methodologies contained in this chapter, with the basis of payment to be derived from the designated successor agreement.

(iii) Such hospital must bill subscribers of nonprofit hospital service corporations directly and at the level of allowed charges derived in accordance with subclause (i).

(b) If at the end of the applicable period to which clause (a) applies, the hospital has not become a signatory to a successor hospital agreement, the hospital cannot become a signatory for the next six months. After the end of the period to which clause (a) applies and until such time as the hospital become a signatory: (i) medicaid rates of payment will be calculated pursuant to the methodologies contained in this chapter, with the basis of payment to be derived from the designated successor agreement; (ii) gross patient service revenues shall be equal to the basis of payment as calculated under the designated successor agreement; and (iii) the amount of reimbursement or payment made by a nonprofit hospital service corporation shall be determined under section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A.

D. In the event that an acute hospital terminates a hospital agreement with a nonprofit hospital service corporation after such agreement has been in effect for six months, then: (i) the amount of reimbursement or payment to be made by the hospital service corporation shall be determined under section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A; and (ii) gross patient service revenues and medicaid rates of payment shall be calculated as provided in clause (b) of paragraph C.

Wherever used in this section, the term "designated successor agreement" means a hospital agreement:

(a) designated as such by (i) the nonprofit hospital service corporation and (ii) any negotiating agent designated by a hospital or hospitals pursuant to the provisions of section five of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A, and

(b) approved as such by the commission for the purpose of applying the provisions of this section.

Section 61. Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter, any group of acute hospitals may develop, based on a consensus of such hospitals, an agreement whereby the productivity factors used to adjust the bases of payment and the gross patient service revenue for such hospitals shall be modified. No modification of such factors shall become effective without review and approval of the commission.

The commission shall apply certain criteria in reviewing the modified productivity factors. The first of these criteria shall be that the modified factor applied to any such acute hospital shall not be less than zero. The second of these criteria shall be that the total of (1), projected net patient service revenues from purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges, (2) projected payments of a hospital service corporation, (3) projected payments of medicaid and (4) projected payments of medicare to such hospitals shall be the same as if no modified productivity factors were employed in place of those required by this chapter. In applying the second criteria, projected payments of medicare shall be considered only if a medicare waiver has been granted to acute hospitals which includes the productivity factors specified in this chapter.

Section 62. In the case of a new acute hospital or an acute hospital which does not have sufficient operating experience to comply with the provisions of this chapter, the commission shall approve a prospectively determined budget based on the hospital's reasonable costs from which it shall establish gross patient service revenues for the first fiscal year of operation such that net patient service revenue equals reasonable costs. For each fiscal year thereafter, the acute hospital shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter which apply to all acute hospitals. In the case of a hospital operating under an experimental agreement with a nonprofit hospital service corporation, the commission shall determine approved gross patient services revenues in a manner consistent with the provisions of this chapter which apply to all other acute hospitals. In the case of an acute hospital which has not been offered a hospital agreement, the commission shall approve a prospectively determined budget based on the hospital's reasonable costs from which it shall establish approved gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year of operation such that net patient service revenues equal reasonable costs.

Section 63. Every acute hospital shall file with the commission within ninety days after the beginning of each fiscal year and at least once during the fiscal year, as deemed appropriate by the commission, a summary of revenues, costs and such statistical information as the commission may require in order to document the relationship of actual gross patient service revenues to approved gross patient service revenues for such fiscal year and for any prior fiscal year so that the commission may determine the extent to which excess revenue, the amount by which actual gross patient service revenues exceed adjusted gross patient service revenues, or deficit revenue, the amount by which approved gross patient service revenues exceed actual gross patient service revenues, was generated for such fiscal year or the prior fiscal year.

For each fiscal year beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, approved gross patient service revenues will be adjusted by the commission downward or upward, as the case may be, by the percentage amount by which actual gross patient service revenue in any prior fiscal year beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two exceeded, or was less than, approved gross patient service revenue for such prior fiscal year. The commission shall revise approved gross patient service revenues and approved charges within thirty days after it has approved an exception to the basis of payment under a hospital agreement. The commission will make such adjustments as necessary during the fiscal year, pursuant to regulations promulgated under the authority of this chapter, to ensure that approved gross patient service revenues for each fiscal year will be realized without excess or shortfall.

Section 64. For each fiscal year, every acute hospital shall, at least sixty days prior to the start of its fiscal year, file with the commission, a copy of its budget, including projected and actual cost, volume and revenue data, the charge schedule supporting the revenue projections, and any such other information in such form as the commission may require, including all pertinent information regarding hospital case mix, intensity of service and medical practice. The commission's requirements as to the form and content of such budgets shall conform, to the extent practicable, to budget and cost reports submitted by hospitals pursuant to applicable hospital agreements. Such budgets shall be available for public inspection on request pursuant to a rule of the commission.

The commission shall require each acute hospital to file annual financial, utilization, case mix and discharge billing statistical reports, in accordance with standard systems of reporting within 90 days after the end of each budget year. The commission shall, by regulation issued hereunder, specify standard systems for determining, reporting, and auditing the costs and charges of every acute hospital, including methods by which each acute hospital shall allocate its costs and revenues and record its assets, liabilities, units of service, and departmental data; which recording shall not be at variance with generally accepted accounting principles, except as specifically modified by the commission's regulations. Such regulations shall provide for appropriate variations in such systems designed to reflect differences in size, scope of services, and administrative capacity of acute hospitals, provided that such resulting systems shall allow for valid comparisons among acute hospitals as to costs and revenues. The commission shall, to the extent practicable, base its regulations establishing reporting requirements on reporting forms approved by the commission and contained in applicable hospital agreements.

Section 65. The commission shall adopt and amend rules and regulations in accordance with chapter thirty A for the administration of its duties and powers and to effectuate the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Such rules and regulations shall include standards and criteria for the review and approval of any adjustment in the basis of payment calculated pursuant to sections fifty-one A and fifty-two. The commission may by regulation establish programs to provide fiscal incentives for efficient acute hospital management. The commission shall, for the purpose of reviewing budgets under section sixty-four, develop and adopt by regulations issued hereunder, a methodology for reasonably comparing acute hospital by any or all of the following criteria: size, services, case mix and other criteria which are appropriate for comparison. Such regulations shall be adopted, after notice and hearing, only upon consultation with representatives of nonprofit hospital service corporations established under chapter one hundred and seventy-six A, elected representatives of health systems agencies designated pursuant to Title XV of the federal public health service act, representatives of companies authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five and the Massachusetts Hospital Association.

The commission shall consult with agencies of the commonwealth and health systems agencies designated under the federal health planning act concerning the development and implementation by such agencies of health policy.

The commission shall review and comment upon all capital expenditure projects requiring review by section twenty-five C of chapter one hundred and eleven, including, but not limited to: the less costly or more effective alternative methods of providing such services; the immediate and long-term financial feasibility of the proposal; the probable impact of the proposal on costs of and charges for services; and the availability of funds for capital and operating needs. If such capital expenditures are ultimately approved, the commission shall accept such capital expenditures. The commission shall prohibit reimbursement for capital expenditures and the supporting operational expenses which require a certificate of need as provided by section twenty-five C of chapter one hundred and eleven, but for which no such certificate has been granted.

To carry out the purposes of this section, the commission may: enter into leases and agreements, including agreements with professional consultants, which may include third-party payors; hold public hearings, conduct investigations, initiate studies and perform audits; and require the filing of information relating to any matter affecting the cost and availability of services in acute hospitals subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Section 66. Except to the extent prohibited by federal laws or regulations, any third party payor shall have the option to require utilization review for acute hospital admissions and continued acute hospital stays, as well as ancillary services and outpatient services, if applicable. The payor shall have the option to contract with a medical peer review organization or the acute hospital to perform utilization review or to conduct its own utilization review. A medical peer review organization may also contract with acute hospitals to perform reviews on a delegated basis. In those acute hospitals performing reviews on a delegated basis, the medical peer review organization shall monitor the effectiveness of the hospitals' review plans to determine whether continued delegation is warranted. The utilization review program for any acute hospital shall be consistent, to the extent possible, with the utilization review process contained in the applicable hospital agreement in terms of length of stay norms, penalty provisions, discharge planning coordination, period of notification and appeals process. The utilization review process will provide for the timely notification of patients by the third party payor that further services are deemed inappropriate or medically unnecessary. Such notification shall inform the patient that the patient's third party payor will cease coverage after a stated period from the date of the notification. No third party payor shall be liable for charges for acute hospital services provided subsequent to the end of the notification period, except that the medicaid program under Title XIX shall be liable for charges for acute hospital services for a Title XIX beneficiary until an appropriate placement is found for such beneficiary. If the department of public welfare finds that an acute hospital is not making reasonable and regular efforts to find an appropriate placement for such beneficiary, the department shall not be liable for any charges after the date of such determination.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed or applied to authorize any third party payor or any other person, other than through the use of persons licensed to practice medicine in the commonwealth, with or without the assistance of other licensed health care personnel, to conduct utilization review.

Section 67. Any acute hospital which makes a charge or accepts payment based upon a charge in excess of that approved by the commission under this chapter, or which fails to file any data, statistics or schedules or other information required under this chapter or by any regulation promulgated by the commission or which falsifies the same, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each day on which such violation occurs or continues, which penalty may be assessed in an action brought on behalf of the commonwealth in any court of competent jurisdiction. The attorney general shall bring any appropriate actions, including injunctive relief, as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of sections fifty to seventy-two, inclusive.

Section 68. A. Commencing in fiscal year ending nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for each fiscal year thereafter, for which the required federal approval is obtained and in effect, provided said federal approval is applied for by the appropriate state agency within forty-five days of the enactment of this chapter, rates of payment under Title XIX of the federal social security act for acute hospitals, shall be based upon the following methodology, where the proportions are calculated relative to the total number of Title XIX days including Title XIX newborn and Title XIX administratively necessary days.

B. The proportion of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX inpatient days, excluding Title XIX newborn days and administratively necessary days, multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX adult and children per diem rate, plus the proportion of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX newborn days multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX newborn per diem rate, plus the proportion of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX administratively necessary days multiplied by the corresponding fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX administratively necessary day rates shall be multiplied by the total number of inpatient days including newborn days and administratively necessary days provided by the hospital in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two and the result added to the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX outpatient payment percentage multiplied by the total amount of outpatient charges.

The result of the computation specified in the preceding paragraph shall be divided by the total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two medicaid costs. This ratio shall be termed the "medicaid payment ratio".

This calculation shall be adjusted to reflect changes in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two medicaid per diem rates or outpatient rates which result from final disposition of administrative adjustments, audit adjustments, or appeals of rates to the division of hearing officers or the courts, and any changes in the nineteen hundred and eighty-two medicaid costs determined by the provisions of the hospital agreement which result from preliminary and final settlement of liability pursuant to said agreement.

C. The medicaid basis of payment for a particular fiscal year of the hospital shall be obtained as follows:

(a) For each fiscal year of the hospital, the medicaid costs for such fiscal year, as computed pursuant to the hospital agreement and adjusted as may be required under subparagraphs (b) or (c) below, shall be multiplied by the medicaid payment ratio.

(b) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, the medicaid costs computed pursuant to the hospital agreement, as adjusted pursuant to section fifty-two A, for each of following fiscal years shall be reduced by the productivity factor indicated:

(1) Beginning with the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three and continuing through the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, the productivity factors shall be two per cent, four per cent, four per cent, three per cent and two per cent, respectively.

(2) For the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, the productivity factor shall be one per cent.

(c) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on July first, the medicaid costs computed pursuant to the hospital agreement, as adjusted pursuant to section fifty-two A, for each of following fiscal years shall be reduced by the productivity factor indicated:

(1) Beginning with the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three and continuing through the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, the productivity factors shall be two per cent, four per cent, six per cent, five per cent, four per cent, and two per cent, respectively.

(2) For the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, the productivity factor shall be one per cent.

(d) Medicaid payments shall be computed by apportioning the medicaid basis of payment, derived under subparagraph (a) above, to medicaid and all other payors pursuant to the apportionment methods specified in the hospital agreement using the charge data applicable to Title XIX beneficiaries.

For any fiscal year of any acute hospital that exhibits a payor mix where a minimum of sixty-eight per cent of the acute hospital's gross patient service revenue was attributable to Title XVIII and Title XIX of the federal social security act and local and state government subsidy and free care and bad debt, Title XIX reimbursement shall be calculated with the addition of free care as a definition of reimbursable costs. Such relief shall be granted based upon projected budget year utilization data, by payor mix. The commission shall have the right to request any reasonably attainable data in order to approve or deny any requests for relief under the provisions of this paragraph.

D. Preliminary and final determination of Title XIX rates of payment for any fiscal year shall be concurrent with determination of preliminary and final settlement under the hospital agreement for such fiscal year. Amounts due to or from an acute hospital following any preliminary or final determination of Title XIX rates of payment shall be paid within forty-five days of such determination.

E. For each acute hospital's fiscal year commencing in nineteen hundred and eighty-two, interim payments made by the medicaid program for inpatient care shall, for each acute hospital, be paid on a per diem basis computed as follows and shall become effective on October first of such year.

1. The initial medicaid costs for the hospital shall be computed pursuant to the hospital agreement, reviewed by the hospital service corporation, and approved by the commission prior to October first of such year. The initial medicaid costs for the hospital, as approved by the commission, shall be apportioned between inpatient and outpatient services.

2. The "inpatient medicaid payment ratio" for the hospital shall be computed as follows:

(a) the proportions computed in paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are computed relative to the total number of Title XIX days, including Title XIX newborn days and administratively necessary days provided by the hospital;

(b) the proportion of total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX inpatient days of the hospital, excluding Title XIX newborn days and administratively necessary days multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX adult and children per diem rate; plus

(c) the proportion of total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX newborn days, multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX newborn per diem rate; plus

(d) the proportion of total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX administratively necessary days multiplied by the corresponding fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX administratively necessary day rate;

(e) the sum of the amounts computed in clauses (b), (c), and (d) shall be multiplied by the total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two inpatient days of the hospital and the result divided by the total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two inpatient portion of the medicaid cost for the hospital computed pursuant to the hospital agreement.

The resulting ratio shall be termed the inpatient medicaid payment ratio.

3. The inpatient portion of the initial medicaid costs for the hospital, as approved by the commission and reduced by a productivity factor of two per cent, shall be multiplied by the inpatient medicaid payment ratio and the result called the "interim medicaid basis of payment".

4. The interim medicaid basis of payment shall, for each hospital, be apportioned to Title XIX by multiplying the amount of the interim medicaid basis of payment by the proportion of hospital inpatient days in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two provided to Title XIX beneficiaries multiplied by ninety-four and one-half per cent. The result of this computation shall be divided by the number of inpatient days provided to Title XIX beneficiaries by the hospital in such fiscal year.

The commission shall promulgate regulations establishing interim medicaid payment rates for outpatient services with respect to fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for both inpatient and outpatient services with respect to fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-four and thereafter. Such interim medicaid payment rates for any fiscal year shall reflect the projected payments of medicaid for such fiscal year.

F. The total interim medicaid payments for inpatient services provided during the period commencing on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall be termed the "actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services".

The actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services shall be compared with the amount such payments would have been if the per diem for interim payments had been computed as follows: The interim medicaid basis of payment for each acute hospital was apportioned to Title XIX by the apportionment method specified in the hospital agreement using the charge data applicable to Title XIX beneficiaries for such hospital's fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three and the result divided by the number of inpatient days provided to Title XIX beneficiaries during such fiscal year by the hospital to arrive at the hospital's per diem for interim payment.

The amount of interim medicaid payment for inpatient services which would have been made using the hospital per diems computed pursuant to the preceding method shall be termed the alternative interim medicaid payments for inpatient services.

If the alternative interim medicaid payments for inpatient services exceed the actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services, the amount of such difference shall be computed as a per cent of the actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services. The resulting per cent shall be multiplied by the proportion of Title XIX acute hospital payments made for inpatient services and shall be termed the medicaid payment ratio adjustment. For each acute hospital's fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the medicaid payment ratio shall be revised by dividing it by one plus the percentum of the medicaid payment ratio adjustment.

If the actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services exceed the alternative interim medicaid payments for inpatient services, the amount of such difference shall be computed as a per cent of the actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services. The resulting per cent, minus one percentum, shall be multiplied by the proportion of Title XIX acute hospital payments made for inpatient services, and shall be termed the medicaid payment ratio adjustment. For each acute hospital's fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the medicaid payment ratio shall be revised by dividing it by one minus the percentum of the medicaid payment ratio adjustment.

Section 68A. If federal approval for the change in Title XIX methodology as provided in section sixty-eight is not obtained, the commission is hereby authorized and directed, with the prior approval of the secretary of human services, to adopt other methodologies which will result in cost savings in Title XIX reimbursements to acute hospitals comparable to those provided for in said section.

Section 69. For the purposes of any experimental or demonstration project designed to test the relative advantages and disadvantages of alternative methods of determining, reporting, and auditing the costs and charges of any acute hospital or hospitals or to promote, through financial incentives, the more efficient use of the personnel and facilities of any such hospital or hospitals, the commission may, with the written agreement of any such hospital or hospitals, and of any purchasers or third party payors which may choose to participate in such project, develop and implement criteria and procedures for action as to such hospital or hospitals which may differ from such criteria and procedures previously established.

Section 70. The commission, in carrying out its duties as set forth in sections fifty to sixty-nine, inclusive, in relation to its review and approval of acute hospital budgets and charges, shall not, in any computation involving such actions, consider the following as resources of such hospital: restricted and unrestricted grants, gifts, contributions, bequests, fund principle, term endowments and endowment balances, restricted gifts, unrestricted gifts, and all income from any of the foregoing, including unrestricted income from endowment funds and income and gains from investment of unrestricted funds.

As used in this section, the following words shall have the following meanings:

"Unrestricted gifts", all gifts, grants, contributions, and bequests upon which there are no restrictions imposed by the donor.

(ii) The rate year basis of payment shall be adjusted as in paragraph (i) for the first three rate years. For the two subsequent rate years, the reduction shall be achieved by multiplying the basis of payment by ninety-nine hundredths.

(iii) The basis of payment utilized to establish Title XVIII rates of payment shall be adjusted to reflect any changes in the levels of allowable cost resulting from implementation of a successor contract to hospital agreement 29 between Blue Cross of Massachusetts, Inc. and hospitals licensed under section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws and the University of Massachusetts Medical Center. In no event will the amended basis of payment establish a rate of payment which is in excess of the rate of payment proposed in experimental project P-98199/1-01.

SECTION 5A. Sections five and six of chapter four hundred and nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six are hereby repealed.

SECTION 6. An acute hospital may apply for hardship relief if it meets either of the following criteria:

A. No exception to chapter four hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one has been granted to the hospital and the hospital's operating deficit for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, as reported on audited financial statements approved by its certified public accountants, threatens the current financial viability of the hospital.

B. In fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three the hospital experiences an operating deficit which threatens the financial viability of the hospital and which is primarily due to the implementation of the medicare experimental project P-98199/1-01.

All applications for hardship relief shall be submitted to the Massachusetts Hospital Association, Inc., hereinafter referred to as "the association", by January first and July first of each fiscal year. Within sixty days of said dates, the association shall submit the request to the commission accompanied by a recommended amount of relief.

Within thirty days of the association's submission, the commission shall approve, approve in part, or disapprove the request for relief.

The following factors, at a minimum, shall be considered by the association in its recommendation, and the commission in its approval, partial approval or disapproval of the request:

1. Whether the hospital was subject to chapter five hundred and forty of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, and chapter four hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

2. The extent to which actual expenses in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, excluding those which are outside of the maximum allowable costs as defined under hospital agreement 29 exceeded the limitations of the maximum allowable cost definitions.

3. The extent to which the hospital is in conformity with the policies and goals of the state health plan as established under 43 U.S.C. Section 300k.

4. The extent to which the hospital serves a significant number of indigent patients.

5. The extent to which gross patient service revenues in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty, as approved under chapter four hundred and nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six, was less than the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty maximum allowable gross patient service revenue.

6. For the purpose of ensuring future financial stability, the extent to which the hospital has agreed to a plan to correct factors identified as contributing to the deficit.

Hardship relief approved by the commission shall be paid from a trust account established by the commission for this purpose. When requests for relief are approved by the commission each acute hospital shall pay to this trust account an equal percentage of its basis of payment for that fiscal year. The aggregate of such assessments shall be equal to the relief granted. The total of all assessments paid by any acute hospital shall not exceed one-half of one per cent of such hospital's basis of payment for the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

No such relief or assessment shall have any effect upon the computation of any acute hospital's basis of payment or approved gross patient service revenues for any fiscal year.

The meaning of terms used in this section shall be as defined in section thirty-one of chapter six A of the General Laws.

SECTION 7. In the event that the medicare experimental project P-98199/1-01, as amended in accordance with section three and as may be further amended with the consent of the Massachusetts Hospital Association, is approved by the Health Care Financing Administration, United States Department of Health and Human Services, each acute hospital, as defined in section thirty-one of chapter six A of the General Laws, shall participate in the reimbursement system prescribed by said project, and by any extension thereof or successor thereto.

SECTION 8. Section 5 of chapter 176A of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 812 of the acts of 1974, is hereby further amended by inserting after the fifth paragraph the following paragraph:-

In negotiating a contract with a nonprofit hospital service corporation, a hospital shall have the right to designate the Massachusetts Hospital Association, Inc., or any other state-wide, hospital-member organization as its agent for negotiating such contract. Each individual hospital, however, shall retain the right to accept or reject all or part of such negotiated contract.

When a nonprofit hospital service corporation is informed that such a negotiating agent represents one or more hospitals, such corporation shall have the right to propose to the agent, and thereafter negotiate, a hospital contract that would be applicable to some or all of the hospitals represented by the agent.

Such a negotiating agent that represents more than one hospital shall have the right to propose to a nonprofit hospital service corporation, and thereafter negotiate, a hospital contract which would be applicable to some or all of the hospitals represented by it.

The commission shall not disapprove any contract between a hospital and a nonprofit hospital service corporation on the grounds that a term or terms of the contract are similar or identical to the terms of a proposed or approved contract between any other hospital and such corporation, or that the hospital was represented by a negotiating agent which represented one or more other hospitals.

SECTION 9. Any acute hospital aggrieved by an action of the commission under this act shall have a right of appeal in accordance with the provisions of section thirty-six of chapter six A of the General Laws.

SECTION 10. Section three and section seven A of this act shall take effect upon its passage. All other sections of this act shall become operative only upon approval of the medicare experimental project P-98199/1-01, as amended in accordance with section three of this act and as may be further amended with the consent of the Massachusetts Hospital Association, by the Health Care Financing Administration, United States Department of Health and Human Services. Section seven A shall cease to be operative in the event said medicare experimental project is not approved.

Approved August 10, 1982.

Chap. 373. AN ACT INCREASING THE PENALTIES FOR OPERATING A MOTOR VEHICLE WHILE DRIVING UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide an immediate increase in the penalties of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcoholic beverages, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the preservation of the public safety.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 23 of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 1033 of the acts of 1971, is hereby further amended by inserting after the first paragraph the following paragraph:-

Any person convicted of operating a motor vehicle after his license to operate has been revoked pursuant to a violation of paragraph (a) of subdivision (1) of sections twenty-four, twenty-four D, twenty-four E and twenty-four G, or after notice of such revocation of his right to operate a motor vehicle without a license has been issued and received by such person or by his agent or employer, and prior to the restoration of such license or right to operate or the issuance to him of a new license to operate shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars and by imprisonment in a house of correction for not less than seven days and not more than two and one-half years, provided that, the sentence of imprisonment imposed upon such person shall not be reduced to less than seven days, nor suspended, nor shall any such person be eligible for probation, parole, or furlough or receive any deduction from his sentence for good conduct until he shall have served seven days of such sentence; provided, however, that the commissioner of correction may, on the recommendation of the warden, superintendent, or other person in charge of a correctional institution, or the administrator of a county correctional institution, grant to an offender committed under this paragraph a temporary release in the custody of an officer of such institution for the following purposes only: to attend the funeral of a relative; to visit a critically ill relative; to obtain emergency medical or psychiatric services unavailable at said institution; or to engage in employment pursuant to a work release program. The provisions of section eighty-seven of chapter two hundred and seventy-six shall not apply to any person charged with a violation of this paragraph. Prosecutions commenced under this paragraph shall not be placed on file or continued without a finding.

SECTION 2 Subdivision (1) of section 24 of said chapter 90 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a), as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 1071 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(a) (1) Whoever, upon any way or in any place to which the public has a right of access, or upon any way or in any place to which members of the public have access as invitees or licensees, operates a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or of marihuana, narcotic drugs, depressants or stimulant substances, all as defined in section one of chapter ninety-four C, or the vapors of glue shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

If the defendant has been previously convicted or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program by a court of the commonwealth because of a like offense two or more times within six years preceding the date of the commission of the offense for which he has been convicted, the defendant shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars and by imprisonment for not less than sixty days nor more than two years, provided that the sentence imposed upon such person shall not be reduced to less than sixty days, nor suspended, nor shall any such person be eligible for probation, parole, or furlough or receive any deduction from his sentence for good conduct until he shall have served sixty days of such sentence; provided, however, that the commissioner of correction may, on the recommendation of the warden, superintendent, or other person in charge of a correctional insitution, or the administrator of a county correctional institution, grant to an offender committed under this subdivision a temporary release in the custody of an officer committed under this subsection or a temporary release in the custody of an officer of such institution for the following purposes only: to attend the funeral of a relative; to visit a critically ill relative; to obtain emergency medical or psychiatric services unavailable at said institution; or to engage in employment pursuant to a work release program.

A prosecution commenced under this paragraph may not be placed on file or continued without a finding except for dispositions under section twenty-four D.

At any time before the commencement of trial or acceptance of a plea on a complaint alleging a violation of this subparagraph, the prosecutor may move for the dismissal of the complaint and the issuance of a new complaint alleging a violation of this subparagraph and one or more prior like violations. After a hearing and a finding of probable cause, the judge may order the issuance of said complaint. If a new complaint is issued, the court shall order that further proceedings on the matter be postponed until the defendant has had sufficient time to prepare a defense.

If a defendant waives right to a jury trial pursuant to section twenty-six A of chapter two hundred and eighteen on a complaint under this subdivision he shall be deemed to have waived right to a jury trial on all elements of said complaint subject to the right to appeal pursuant to section twenty-seven A of said chapter two hundred and eighteen.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraph (4), the provisions of section eighty-seven of chapter two hundred and seventy-six shall not apply to any person charged with a violation of subparagraph (1) and if said person has been convicted of or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program because of a like offense by a court of the commonwealth within a period of six years immediately preceding the commission of the offense with which he is charged.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of section six A of chapter two hundred and seventy-nine, the court may order that a defendant convicted of a violation of subparagraph (1) be actually imprisoned only on designated weekends, evenings or holidays.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2), a judge, before imposing sentence on a defendant who pleads guilty to or is found guilty of a violation of subparagraph (1) and who has not been convicted or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program by a court of the commonwealth because of a like offense two or more times within six years of the date of the commission of the offense for which he has been convicted, shall receive a report from the probation copy of the defendant's driving record, the criminal record of the defendant, if any, and such information as may be available as to the defendant's use of alcohol and may, upon a written finding that appropriate and adequate treatment is available to the defendant and the defendant would benefit from such treatment and that the safety of the public would not be endangered, with the defendant's consent place a defendant on probation for two years provided that a condition of such probation shall be that the defendant be confined for no less than fourteen days in a residential alcohol treatment program as provided or sanctioned by the division of alcoholism, pursuant to regulations to be promulgated by said division in consultation with the department of correction and with the approval of the secretary of human services or at any other facility so sanctioned or regulated as may be established by the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof for the purpose of alcohol or drug treatment or rehabilitation, and comply with all conditions of said residential alcohol treatment program.

Failure of the defendant to comply with said conditions and any other terms of probation as imposed under this section shall be reported forthwith to the court and proceedings under the provisions of section three of chapter two hundred and seventy-nine shall be commenced.

The defendant shall pay for the cost of the services provided by the residential alcohol treatment program; however, no person shall be excluded from said programs for inability to pay, provided that such person files an affidavit of indigency or inability to pay with the court, that investigation by the probation officer confirms such indigency or establishes that the payment of such fee would cause a grave and serious hardship to such individual or to the family of such individual, and that the court enters a written finding thereof. In lieu of waiver of the entire amount of said fee, the court may direct such individual to make partial or installment payments of the cost of said program.

SECTION 3. Said subdivision (1) of said section 24 of said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (b), as amended by chapter 200 of the acts of 1964, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(b) A conviction of a violation of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) shall revoke the license or right to operate of the person so convicted unless such person has not been convicted of or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program because of a like offense by a court of the commonwealth within a period of six years preceding the date of the commission of the offense for which he has been convicted, and said person qualifies for disposition under section twenty-four D and has consented to probation as provided for in said section twenty-four D, no appeal, motion for new trial or exceptions shall operate to stay the revocation of the license or the right to operate. Such revoked license shall immediately be surrendered to the prosecuting officer who shall forward the same to the registrar. The court shall report immediately any revocation, under this section, of a license or right to operate to the registrar and to the police department of the municipality in which the defendant is domiciled. Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-two, the revocation, reinstatement or issuance of a license or right to operate by reason of a violation of paragraph (a) shall be controlled by the provisions of this section and sections twenty-four D and twenty-four E.

SECTION 4. Said subdivision (1) of said section 24 of said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (c), as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 647 of the acts of 1974, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(c) (1) Where the license or right to operate has been revoked under section twenty-four D or twenty-four E or revoked under subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and such person has not been convicted of a like offense or has not been assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program because of a like offense by a court of the commonwealth within a period of six years preceding the date of the commission of the offense for which he has been convicted, the registrar shall not restore the license or reinstate the right to operate to such person unless the prosecution of such person has terminated in favor of the defendant, until one year after the date of conviction.

(2) Where the license or the right to operate of a person has been revoked under subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and such person has been previously convicted of or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program by a court of the commonwealth because of a like violation within a period of six years preceding the date of the commission of the offense for which such person has been convicted, the registrar shall not restore the license or reinstate the right to operate of such person unless the prosecution of such person has terminated in favor of the defendant, until two years after the date of the conviction; provided, however, that such person may, after the expiration of one year from the date of conviction, apply for and shall be granted a hearing before the registrar for the purpose of requesting the issuance of a new license on a limited basis on the grounds of hardship and a showing by the person that the causes of the present and past violations have been dealt with or brought under control and the registrar may, in his discretion, issue such a license under such terms and conditions as he deems appropriate and necessary.

(3) Where the license or right to operate of any person has been revoked under subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) and such person has been previously convicted or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program because of a like offense by a court of the commonwealth two or more times within a period of six years preceding the date of commission of the offense for which he has been convicted or where the license or right to operate has been revoked pursuant to section twenty-three due to a violation of said section due to a prior revocation under subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) or under section twenty-four D or twenty-four E, the registrar shall not restore the license or reinstate the right to operate to such person, unless the prosecution of such person has terminated in favor of the defendant, until five years after the date of conviction; provided, however, that such person may, after the expiration of two years from the date of conviction, apply for and shall be granted a hearing before the registrar for the purpose of requesting the issuance of a new license on a limited basis on the grounds of hardship and a showing by the person that the causes of the present and past violations have been dealt with or brought under control and the registrar may, in his discretion, issue such a license under such terms and conditions as he deems appropriate and necessary. committed, in case the registrar determines in the manner aforesaid that the action of such person, in committing the offense of which he was so subsequently convicted, caused an accident resulting in the death of another.

SECTION 5. Said subdivision (1) of said section 24 of said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:-

(h) Any person convicted of a violation of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) that involves operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of marihuana, narcotic drugs, depressants or stimulant substances, all as defined in section one of chapter ninety-four C, or the vapors of glue, may, as part of the disposition in the case, be ordered to participate in a driver education program or a drug treatment or drug rehabilitation program, or any combination of said programs. The court shall set such financial and other terms for the participation of the defendant as it deems appropriate.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by striking out section 24D, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 758 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 24D. Any person convicted of or charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, may, if he consents, be placed on probation for not more than two years and shall, as a condition of probation, be assigned to a driver alcohol education program as provided herein and, if deemed necessary by the court, to an alcohol treatment or rehabilitation program or to both, and the person's license or right to operate shall be suspended for thirty days. Such order of probation shall be in addition to any penalties imposed as provided in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of subdivision (1) of section twenty-four and shall be in addition to any requirements imposed as a condition for any suspension of sentence. Said person shall cooperate in an investigation conducted by the probation staff of the court for supervision of cases of operating under the influence of intoxicating liquor in such manner as the commissioner of probation shall determine.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any person convicted or assigned to an alcohol education or rehabilitation program because of a like offense by a court of the commonwealth within a period of six years preceding the date of the commission of the offense with which he is charged nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any person who during the events that gave rise to the complaint under paragraph (a) of subdivision (1) of section twenty-four caused serious personal injury to or the death of another person.

At the time of trial or prior to disposition a report shall be made to the judge. Said report shall be uniform in content and format throughout the commonwealth and shall include but shall not be limited to a copy of said person's driving record and other records obtained from the registrar, or other person designated by him, pertaining to said person's operation of a motor vehicle as well as any recommendation by the registrar as to whether said person should later be eligible for early reinstatement of his license. The court shall report the disposition or finding of any such case to the registrar. Following disposition, the probation officer supervising a person pursuant to the provisions of this section shall maintain a written and current report which shall include but shall not be limited to consideration of said person's participation in any program in which he has been placed as a condition of probation as well as to a consideration of his drinking and driving behavior.

The suspended license or right to operate shall be retained in the probation office of the court for the duration of the suspension period. The court shall immediately report the suspension to the registrar and the police department of the municipality in which the defendant is domiciled.

Driver alcohol education programs utilized under the provisions of this section shall be established and administered by the director of the division of alcoholism in consultation with the registrar and the secretary of public safety, and shall include but shall not be limited to instruction on driver improvement skills as part of the course content.

Alcohol treatment, rehabilitation program or alcohol treatment and rehabilitation programs utilized under the provisions of this section shall include any public or private out-patient clinic, hospital, employer or unionsponsored program, self-help group, or any other organization, facility, service or program which the division of alcoholism has accepted as appropriate for the purposes of this section. The division shall prepare and publish annually a list of all such accepted alcohol treatment, rehabilitation programs and alcohol treatment and rehabilitation programs, shall make this list available upon request to members of the public, and shall from time to time furnish each court in the commonwealth, the registrar, and the secretary of public safety with a current copy of said list.

Each person placed in a program of driver alcohol education and, if deemed necessary by the court, a program of alcohol treatment, rehabilitation, or alcohol treatment and rehabilitation pursuant to this section shall pay directly to such program a fee in an amount to be determined by the director of the division of alcoholism. The director shall establish and may from time to time revise a schedule of uniform fees to be charged by such programs which shall not exceed the actual cost per client of running said programs after notice and a public hearing, provided that until such time as the director establishes a schedule of such fees pursuant to this section the fee for such programs shall be two hundred dollars. The division shall promulgate regulations relative to the methodology of setting such fees. No person may be excluded from said program for inability to pay the stated fee, provided that such person files an affidavit of indigency or inability to pay with the court within ten days of the date of disposition, that investigation by the probation officer confirms such indigency or establishes that the payment of such fee would cause a grave and serious hardship to such individual or to the family of such individual, and that the court enters a written finding thereof. In lieu of waiver of the entire amount of said fee, the court may direct such individual to make partial or installment payments of such fee when appropriate. Subject to appropriation, the division shall reimburse each program for the costs of services provided to persons for whom payment of a fee has been waived on the grounds of indigency.

The state treasurer may accept for the commonwealth for the purpose of driver alcohol education, treatment, or rehabilitation any gift or bequest of money or property and any grant, loan, service, payment of property from a governmental authority. Any such money received shall be deposited in the state treasury for expenditure by the division of alcoholism subject to appropriation for the support of said driver alcohol treatment or rehabilitation programs in accordance with the conditions of the gift, grant, or loan. Any federal legislation generating funds for driver alcohol education or treatment or rehabilitation shall be used by the division of alcoholism to the extent possible to support the purposes of this section.

An additional fee of two hundred dollars shall be paid to the chief probation officer of each court by each person placed in a program of driver alcohol education pursuant to this section and all such fees shall be deposited with the state treasurer, subject to appropriation, for the support of programs for the apprehension, treatment and rehabilitation of those persons convicted of or charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs.

No such fee shall be collected from any person who, after the filing of an affidavit of indigency or inability to pay with the court within ten days of disposition and investigation by the probation officer confirming such indigency or establishing that the payment of such fee would cause a grave and serious hardship to such individual or to the family thereof, is determined by the court to be indigent, provided that the court enters a written finding thereof. In lieu of waiver of the entire amount of said fee, the court may direct such individual to make partial or installment payments of such fee when appropriate. Failure to pay the fees required under this section shall, unless excused, constitute sufficient basis for a finding by the court at a hearing held pursuant to section twenty-four E that the person has failed to satisfactorily comply with the program.

The commissioner of probation shall report in writing at least once annually to the director of the division of alcoholism on the total number of persons who have received disposition hereunder and on the number of such persons who have been determined by the court to require alcohol treatment or rehabilitation, or both. Said commissioner and the chief justices of the district courts and the Boston municipal court shall make further written report at least once annually to said director on the resources available for alcohol treatment or rehabilitation, or alcohol treatment and rehabilitation, of alcohol-impaired drivers, which report shall evaluate the existing resources and shall make recommendation as to additional necessary resources. Said director shall take such reports into consideration in the development, implementation, and review of the state's alcoholism plan and in the preparation of the division's annual budget in a manner consistent with the Alcoholism Treatment and Rehabilitation Law.

When imposing a sentence pursuant to subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of section twenty-four or this section, the court may consider requiring the defendant, as a condition of probation, to serve a minimum of thirty hours in public service or in a community work project.

SECTION 7. Section 24E of said chapter 90, as amended by section 2 of chapter 505 of the acts of 1975, is hereby further amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The provisions of this section shall apply to any person convicted of or charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor provided said person is qualified for a disposition under section twenty-four D. The provisions of this section shall not apply where notice from the registrar of intention to suspend or revoke a person's license or right to operate is pending prior to the date of complaint on the offense before the court.

SECTION 8. Said section 24E of said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by striking out the fifth, sixth and seventh paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

At said hearing the probation officer shall submit to the courts a written report which shall include but shall not be limited to a written statement by the supervisor of any program of alcohol education and of any program of alcohol education and of any program of alcohol treatment, rehabilitation, or alcohol treatment and rehabilitation to which the court has assigned such person. Such statement shall consider such person's participation and attendance in each such court ordered program. The registrar shall submit a written report to the judge at said hearing regarding any entries made on said person's driving record in the period following placement in the program. If the court finds sufficient basis to conclude that said person has not satisfactorily completed or is not satisfactorily complying with such program, the court may notify the registrar and the registrar shall revoke the person's license or right to operate forthwith. If the judge finds that the person is satisfactorily complying with the conditions of probation, the judge may enter a dismissal of the charges and issue appropriate orders relative to said person's participation in a program or relative to a later hearing, subject to the duration of the term of probation. The court shall cause to be entered and to be maintained upon the probation record of said person notice of a dismissal of charges under this section. The probation officer supervising a person pursuant to the provisions of this section shall make a written report to the court if at any time such person has failed to satisfactorily comply with a court ordered program or if such person's operation of a motor vehicle constitutes a threat to the public safety. Upon receipt of such report the court shall forthwith hold a hearing on the matter. If at such hearing the court determines that said person has failed to satisfactorily comply with such program or that the said operation of a motor vehicle constitutes such a threat, the court may notify the registrar and the registrar shall without further hearing revoke said person's license or right to operate. Such revocation shall be for the remainder of the period from the date of conviction provided in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (c) of subdivision (1) of section twenty-four. Said person shall thereafter be subject to the same conditions for issuance of a new license or right to operate as any person applying for a new license or right to operate following revocation as provided in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (c) of said subdivision (1).

Where an order of probation has been revoked by the court, the court shall forthwith so notify the registrar in writing and the registrar shall forthwith revoke said person's operator's license or right to operate which was restored under this section and without further hearing.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by striking out section 24G, inserted by chapter 227 of the acts of 1976, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Vacancies in the prudential committee due to resignation or other cause shall be filled at a special district meeting called for that purpose by the remaining members of the committee, which meeting shall occur within thirty days from the date of such vacancy. In the event that no member of the prudential committee shall remain in office due to resignation or otherwise, the selectmen of the town of Becket are empowered to issue a warrant for a special meeting of the district to occur within said thirty day period and shall, in the interim, exercise the powers and duties of the prudential committee until the successors shall be elected at such special meeting.

No other person shall pay any district bill; provided, however, that this provision shall not prohibit the treasurer from paying such bill by the use of bank treasurer's or cashier's check. He shall further have the authority given to an auditor by section fifty-one of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, and shall annually render a true account of his receipts and disbursements and a report of his official acts to the district. The treasurer shall give bond annually for the performance of his duties in a form approved by the commissioner of revenue and in such sum, not less than the amount established by said commissioner, as shall be fixed by the prudential committee, and if he fails to give such bond within ten days after his election or appointment, or if within ten days after the expiration of said bond or any renewal of said bond, he fails to file a renewal thereof, the prudential committee shall declare the office vacant and the vacancy shall be filled by the prudential committee in the manner provided for the appointment of temporary town officers under section forty of chapter forty-one of the General Laws. Vacancies occurring in the office of treasurer for any other reason shall be filled by the prudential committee in a like manner.

SECTION 16. Unless otherwise provided by district by-law, the clerk shall, in addition to the other duties specified herein, take all minutes at district meetings and maintain a record of such minutes in the manner provided for the maintenance of records of minutes of town meetings. The prudential committee shall meet as necessary, but in no event less frequently than monthly in order to approve contracts, expenditures, and investments, or to take other actions necessary for carrying out the purposes of the district. The district treasurer shall be responsible for submitting to the prudential committee in a timely manner all contracts, bills, or other items requiring committee approval. A quorum of the prudential committee shall be required at all meetings for the conducting of any business and shall consist of a majority of the total number of committee members then constituted by the district as the prudential committee.

SECTION 18. The district may, by majority vote, agree upon appropriate compensation for its officers and employees including the prudential committee members in the event that the district shall include in its budget appropriations for its employees to perform duties with respect to the maintenance and upkeep of streets and ways within the district, such employees shall be hired by the superintendent of streets with the prior approval of the prudential committee subject to prior appropriation therefor, shall be employed under the supervision of the superintendent of streets and other terms and conditions of employment approved by the prudential committee.

any debts of the district nor shall it by virtue of this act, be required to pay for any repairs and maintenance of streets or ways within the district including snow and ice removal; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall preclude the layout and acceptance of any street or way within said district by the town or by the county as provided by chapter eighty-two of the General Laws or any other provision of the General Laws, or the acceptance of the provision of any enabling legislation permitting the expenditure of monies by towns on private ways open to public use.

SECTION 20. If a person sustains bodily injury or damage to his property by reason of defect or want of repair for failure to remove snow or ice in or upon a listed street or way within the district, claims for such injury or damage shall be governed by the applicable provisions of chapter eighty-four of the General Laws relating to damages for defects in ways.

SECTION 21. The district, at a meeting called therefor, may annex adjacent territory and its inhabitants, if a majority of the votes of said territory petition define the limits thereof, or may, on the petition of any person with the assent of the town containing such district, exclude him or his estate therefrom; provided, however, that such exclusion shall be granted by the district without assent of the town if the estate of the petitioner is so situated as to be unable to benefit from the listed streets and ways within the district or so situated as to be more accessible to a street or way under the jurisdiction or control of the governmental entity other than the district; and provided, further, that such exclusion shall not be granted by the district if the estate of the petitioner is so situated as to be able to benefit from any listed street or way which is repaired or maintained by the district in such a manner by the district to afford year-round access to the estate of the petitioner; and provided, further, that no estate shall be subject to any tax assessed on account of the repair and maintenance of roads under this act if, in the judgment of the prudential committee, after a hearing, due notice of which shall be given, such estate is so situated that it can receive no benefit from the repair and maintenance provided in said district. The petition for exclusion or exemption from taxation shall be filed with the prudential committee of the district not later than the date set for the filing of petitions for the insertion of articles in the warrant of the district meeting or at which the petition is to be acted upon, and shall state the petitioner's reason for seeking exclusion or exemption from taxation. The prudential committee shall cause an appropriate article to be inserted in the warrant for said meeting, shall examine the reasons stated and shall report its findings, with recommendations to said meeting. Any such petitioner, aggrieved by the action of the prudential committee, or by the action of the voters of the district on his petition, may appeal to the superior court sitting in equity within the county in which the district is located for a remedy. Upon such appeal, said court shall, if the reason set forth by the petitioner is found to lie within the intent of this section, grants such exclusion. The grant of exclusion or exemption from taxation shall exempt the person and estate of the petitioner of any tax levied by reason of any appropriation made by the district after the filing of the petition as provided herein.

SECTION 22. By a petition in writing addressed to the prudential committee and signed by a majority of the residents of the district who are entitled to vote at the most recent district meeting prior to the filing of the petition, such petitioners may request that the district be disbanded on the basis that there is no further need for its existence. A three-quarters affirmative vote of a quorum in attendance at such district meeting shall be necessary to disband the district. Notwithstanding the foregoing provision, the district may not be disbanded if at the time of such vote, there are outstanding obligations with respect to which insufficient appropriated funds or surplus funds exist in the district treasury for the purpose of satisfying such obligations. If sufficient funds shall be determined to exist at said meeting to accomplish the payment of all outstanding obligations, such action shall forthwith be taken by the prudential committee, or by the selectmen of the town of Becket upon the failure of the prudential committee to act with respect thereto. In the event there shall exist in the district treasury surplus funds remaining after the payment of all outstanding obligations as aforesaid, said funds shall be distributed by the prudential committee to the property owners within the district based upon the percentage that the most recent assessed valuation of the land for each said district property owner shall bear to the total or aggregate assessed valuation of the land lying within the district. No such distribution of surplus shall be made by the prudential committee until it shall have first published in each week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of at least weekly publication within the county of Berkshire a notice of intent to disband the district which shall afford reasonable notice to all creditors and possible claimants against the district of the intended action. Further, within ten days of an affirmative vote to disband, the district clerk shall file with the Becket town clerk, with the secretary of the commonwealth and the commissioner of revenue an attested copy of said petition and a certified copy of the district vote. Upon completion of the aforesaid action, and upon the expiration of six months from the date of said meeting and vote, the Sherwood Road Maintenance District shall cease to exist.

SECTION 23. The district shall establish an overlay account and a reserve fund as contemplated for towns under the provisions of section twenty-five of chapter fifty-nine and section five C of chapter forty of the General Laws, except that the initial fiscal year of the operation of the district, the assessors for the town of Becket, may add to the amount to be assessed, a sum voted by the district, equal to not more than twenty per cent thereof for the purposes and subject to the remaining limitations set forth in said section twenty-five of chapter fifty-nine. The district is further authorized to establish and maintain a stabilization fund under the provisions of section five B of chapter forty of the General Laws. The district shall further be subject to an audit of its accounts in the manner provided in section forty of chapter forty-four of the General Laws.

SECTION 24. Notwithstanding any provision of general or special law to the contrary, the town of Becket may, at its annual or at a special town meeting vote to appropriate by transfer or otherwise, the sum of not greater than twenty-five thousand dollars, for the use and benefit of the district under the provisions and for the purposes of this act, and said sum may be drawn upon by the district for budgeted expenses approved by the district for the remaining portion of the fiscal year remaining after the establishment thereof under section four of this act. Such funds, if appropriated by the town as aforesaid, shall be paid over to the district treasurer in the same manner as district taxes under section thirteen of this act.

Following the initial fiscal year of the district or portion thereof, as the case may be, the town may at its annual town meeting, make further appropriations in such amount, if any, as it shall deem appropriate for use by the district during such subsequent fiscal year for such project or projects within the scope of this act as the town may designate. Such funds, if appropriated by the town, shall be contingent upon a matching fund appropriation by the district.

SECTION 25. This act shall take effect upon its passage; provided, however, that if the first meeting of the district shall not be held within one year after its passage this act shall cease to be operative.

Except as otherwise provided in this act, the powers of the commission shall be exercised by a board of five members, each of whom shall be a resident of the city. commission or with reason to understand that his conduct was unlawful. Costs and expenses may be paid prior to a final disposition upon receipt of an undertaking, which the commission may accept without regard to the financial resources of the person indemnified, that the person receiving the benefit of payments will repay such payments if he or she shall be finally adjudicated not to be entitled to indemnification hereunder. The commission may purchase insurance on behalf of itself and any of its members, officers, employees or agents against any liability arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the commission would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability.

All debts, liabilities and obligations of the city pertaining to or on account of the water works system and the sewer works system, including the obligation of the city to pay the interest and principal on all bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness issued by the city for purposes of the water works system and the sewer works system outstanding on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission; provided, however, that all liabilities of the city in tort, whether actual or contingent, pertaining to the water works system or the sewer works system and arising out of actions or events which occurred or occur prior to the transfer of the systems to the commission shall not be assumed by or imposed upon the commission but shall continue to be the liabilities of the city. Except as above provided, all actions and proceedings pending before, all actions and proceedings pending against, and all actions and proceedings begun by the city or the department of public works thereof and pertaining to the water works system or the sewer works system shall continue unabated and remain in full force and effect notwithstanding the passage of this act and the trans-

From the date the commission takes possession of the water works system and the sewer works system until June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eightythree, or at such earlier date not prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two as the commission may determine, the department of public works of the city shall at the direction of the commission continue to engage in the maintenance, repair and operation of the water works system and the sewer works system, and employees of the city whose work is related to such systems shall continue to perform their duties related to such systems; provided, however, that the city shall have no power to appoint or employ any person to, or transfer any employee to or from, any position classified under chapter thirty-one of the General Laws or any other provision of law as directly related to the work of the water works system or the sewer works system, or enter into any contracts relating to the water works system or the sewer works system, or sell or transfer any property of such systems or obligate the commission to any person or governmental entity, without the express written consent of the commission or, upon proper delegation thereof, by the executive director of the commission. Terms of office of such employees shall not be deemed to be interrupted by such transfer and rights, seniority, wages, salaries, hours, and working conditions of such employees, including, but only so long as such an employee holds the position which is comparable to the position in which he was classified prior to transfer rights under chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, shall be preserved in their employment by the commission, provided that after such transfer such employees shall perform their duties subject to the direction, control and supervision of the commission. The terms and conditions of employment of any other persons whom the commission may employ shall be determined by the commission, provided that the commission shall take into account and provide for continuation of seniority, vacation and sick leave rights and other benefits based on prior employment with the city for former employees of the city who enter the employment of the commission other than by transfer under the previous sentence, but all persons employed by the commission under this sentence shall not thereafter be subject to any provision of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws. Notwithstanding any provisions of any general or special law, the commission in filling vacant positions shall give preference over applicants who are not employees of the commission to any person who is either an employee of the city department of public works or a former employee of the city laid off on or after June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one for lack of funds who applies for the vacant position unless the commission determines in its sole discretion that such applicant is not qualified for the position.

All employees of the commission shall become members of a new retirement system to be referred to as the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system, which shall be a separate system from the city of Lynn contributory retirement system and shall be established and maintained in accordance with sections one to twenty-eight of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws and for all purposes thereunder shall be deemed to be a city contributory retirement system governed by the provisions thereof except as otherwise expressly provided herein. The Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system shall become effective without further acceptance by the commission on the date when employees are transferred to the commission pursuant to section six hereof. The Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system shall, at the discretion of the commission, be administered either by the board administering the city of Lynn contributory retirement system, in which case members in or retired from service of the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system shall be entitled to vote for election of the elected member of the city of Lynn contributory retirement system as if they were members in or retired from service of the city of Lynn contributory retirement system, or by a separate board established by the commission which shall have the general powers and duties set forth in subdivisions four and five of section twenty of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws; provided, however, that the treasurer of the commission shall be the member ex officio of the board and the commission shall exercise those duties and powers conferred in subdivision four on a mayor and city council of a city. Whenever a person who is a member of the city of Lynn retirement system shall become a member of the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system on account of employment by the commission, that employee shall be entitled to all creditable service and all rights and benefits to which he or she was entitled as a member of the city of Lynn contributory retirement system. Within ninety days of such employment, the amount of the accumulated total deductions, including accumulated interest on such deductions, credited to such employee's account in the city of Lynn contributory retirement system shall be transferred and credited to the annuity savings fund of the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system. Anything to the contrary in section twenty-two of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws notwithstanding, the amount appropriated for any fiscal year beginning on and after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three for the pension fund of the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system as described in subparagraph (3) of said section twenty-two shall include the amount required to fund on an accrual basis the pension benefits earned by commission employees during that year plus the amount necessary to amortize the unfunded actuarial liability of such system over such period of years not exceeding forty, as the commission shall determine with the advice of an actuary. The amounts to be paid for the funds of the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system for any such fiscal year shall be certified by the administering board to the commission and the amounts so certified shall be included by appropriate items in the commission budgets in such manner as the commission shall determine. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to repeal, decrease, abridge or in any way change the annuities, pensions, retirement allowances, refunds or accumulated total deductions or any right or benefit to which a person transferred to the Lynn water and sewer commission retirement system pursuant to this act would have been entitled had he or she remained a member of the city of Lynn contributory retirement system.

The commission shall be deemed a political subdivision for purposes of chapter thirty-two B of the General Laws. The commission and the city may enter into such arrangements as they deem suitable for provision of insurance benefits jointly for employees of the commission and employees of the city under said chapter thirty-two B.

No member, officer, employee or agent of the commission acting in the discharge of his duties for the commission shall be subject to paragraph (c) of section seventeen or section eighteen of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws in connection with any particular matter in which the city is a party or has a direct and substantial interest. A municipal employee of the city may participate in matters concerning the commission notwithstanding that he is negotiating or has an arrangement concerning prospective employment with the commission, notwithstanding paragraph (a) of section nineteen of said chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A. No member, officer, employee or agent of the commission shall be subject to said paragraph (a) of said section nineteen of said chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A, with respect to any particular matter in which his interest or that of his immediate family is shared with a substantial segment of the population of the city. The city solicitor of the city shall, upon written request from a current, former, or prospective member, officer, employee or agent of the commission who is or may be subject to sections two, three, eight, seventeen to twenty, inclusive, twenty-one A, twenty-one B and twenty-three of said chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A render advisory opinions on the requirements of said sections in accordance with procedures established by section twenty-two of said chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A.

SECTION 7. The commission shall have all the rights and powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate this act, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the rights and powers:

(a) to adopt by-laws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business, to promulgate rules, regulations and procedures in connection with the performance of its functions and duties and to fix, enforce and collect penalties for the violation thereof;

(b) to adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure;

(c) to maintain an office at such place or places as it may determine;

(d) to apply for, receive, accept, administer, expend and comply with the conditions, obligations and requirements respecting any grant, gift, loan, including without limitation any grant, gift or loan from agencies of local, state and federal governments, donation or appropriation of any property or money in aid of the purposes of the commission and to accept contributions of money, property, labor or other things of value;

(e) to acquire by purchase, lease, lease-purchase, sale and lease-back, gift or devise, or to obtain options for the acquisition of, any water or water rights and any other property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, or any interest therein, in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties;

(f) to sell, lease, mortgage, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of, or to grant options for any such purposes with respect to, any water, water rights, and any other property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, or any interest therein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any real property transferred from the city to the commission pursuant to section five of this act which is subsequently declared by the commission to be surplus property and no longer required for its operations shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of by the commission but shall be reconveyed to the city without consideration. If any such real property has been improved by the commission subsequent to the effective date of this act, the city upon reconveyance shall pay to the commission the fair market value of such improvements as determined by the commission and the city council or by an appraiser satisfactory to both;

(g) to enter onto any land to make surveys, borings, soundings and examinations thereon, provided that said commission shall make reimbursements for any injury or actual damage resulting to such lands and premises caused by any act of its authorized agents or employees and shall so far as possible restore the land to the same condition as prior to making of such surveys, borings, soundings and examinations; and to acquire by eminent domain any interest in real property within the city in the name of the commission in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-nine and chapter eighty A of the General Laws or any alternative method provided by law; provided, however, that the commission shall not exercise the power of eminent domain without the prior approval of the city council and mayor of the city. The commission may order the removal or relocation of any surface tracks, and the removal or relocation of any conduits, pipes, wires, poles or other property located in public ways or places, or in or upon private lands, which it deems to interfere with the laying out, construction or operation of any water or sewer project, and the proper authorities shall grant new locations for any such structure so removed or relocated, and the owner thereof shall be reimbursed by the commission for the reasonable cost of such removal or relocation. Such orders, to the extent specified therein, shall be deemed a revocation of the right or license to maintain such tracks, pipes, conduits, wires, poles or other property in such public ways or places, and the private owner of any such structures in public ways or lands shall comply with such orders. If any such owner shall fail to comply with any such order of the commission relating to any such structure in public ways and places within a reasonable time, to be fixed in the order, the commission may discontinue and remove such tracks, conduits, pipes, wires, poles or other property, and may relocate the same, and the cost of such discontinuance, removal or relocation shall be repaid to the commission by the owner. No such discontinuance, removal or relocation shall entitle the owner of the property thus affected to any damages on account thereof, except for the reimbursement of cost provided for above. This section shall not apply to facilities on property of the commonwealth under the control of the department of public works or the metropolitan district commission or installed under licenses or permits granted by said department or commission, except with its approval;

(h) to purchase water in bulk or by volume and to contract for and purchase sewage disposal and treatment services from, and to sell water and provide sewage disposal and treatment services to, any person, private or public corporation or municipality, including the metropolitan district commission, the city, the commonwealth and the federal government, when necessary or convenient for the operation of the water works system or sewer works system;

(i) to construct, improve, extend, enlarge, maintain and repair the water works system and the sewer works system, and with respect to such work the commission shall be deemed to be a public agency for purposes of sections forty-four A to forty-four H, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the

General Laws and a commission of the city for purposes of sections thirty B to thirty P, inclusive, of chapter seven of the General Laws and a public agency of the city for purposes of sections thirty-nine A to forty M, inclusive, of said chapter seven and section twenty-eight of chapter forty-three of the General Laws. The commission shall be an authority of a political subdivision of the commonwealth for purposes of sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws, provided that no work, project or activity of the commission the total cost of which is less than two million dollars shall be subject to the provisions of said sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of said chapter thirty;

(j) to pledge or assign any money, fees, charges, or other revenues of the commission and any proceeds derived by the commission from the sale of property, insurance or condemnation awards;

(k) to borrow money and incur indebtedness and issue its bonds as hereinafter provided;

(l) to make contracts of every name and nature and to execute and deliver all instruments necessary or convenient for carrying out any of its purposes;

(m) to exercise the powers and privileges of, and to be subject to limitations upon, towns and cities provided by the provisions of sections thirty-eight to forty-two I, inclusive, of chapter forty and sections one to twenty-four, inclusive, and twenty-seven to twenty-nine, inclusive, of chapter eighty-three of the General Laws, insofar as such provisions may be applicable and are consistent with the provisions of this act; provided that any requirement in said sections or chapters for a vote by the city council or other governing body of the city or for a ratification of such vote by the voters of the city, shall be satisfied by a vote or resolution duly adopted by the commission in accordance herewith, and provided that the powers of the commission to make rules and regulations and establish penalties regarding the use of sewers shall not be limited by section ten of said chapter eighty-three;

(n) to enter into contracts and agreements with the city in all matters necessary, convenient or desirable for carrying out the purposes of this act including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, collection of revenue, data processing, and other matters of management, administration and operation;

(o) to sue and be sued and to prosecute and defend actions relating to its properties and affairs; provided property of the commission other than revenues pledged to the payment of bonds shall not be subject to attachment nor levied upon by execution or otherwise;

(p) to do all things necessary, convenient or desirable for carrying out the purposes of this act or the powers expressly granted or necessarily implied in this act;

(q) consistent with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, the commission shall have such other powers, including all powers pertaining to the water works system and the sewer works system held by the city not inconsistent herewith, as may be necessary for or incident to carrying out the foregoing powers and the accomplishment of the purposes of this act, including without limitation all powers of the city granted under chapter two hundred and eighteen of the acts of eighteen hundred and seventy-one, chapter two hundred and fifty-six of the acts of eighteen hundred and eighty-three, chapter three hundred and twenty-five of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, chapter five hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and one, chapter one hundred and fifteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and nineteen, chapter six hundred and six of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, chapter one hundred and ninety-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, and all acts and parts of acts amendatory of any of the foregoing.

SECTION 8. In addition to the powers of the commission otherwise provided herein, the commission shall have the following powers and shall be subject to the following limitations:

(a) The commission is authorized and empowered to fix, revise, charge, collect and abate reasonable fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges for water, sewer and other services, facilities and commodities furnished or supplied by it. Subject to paragraph (c), fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges of general application shall be adopted and revised by the commission at least annually in accordance with procedures to be established by the commission for assuring that interested persons are afforded notice and an opportunity to present data, views and arguments. The commission shall hold at least one public hearing on its schedule of fees, rates and charges or any revision thereof prior to adoption, notice of which shall be delivered to the mayor and city council and be published in a newspaper of substantial circulation in the city at least one month in advance of the hearing. No later than the date of such publication the commission shall make available to the public and deliver to the mayor and council its most recent financial statement, the proposed schedule of fees, rates and charges and its proposed operating and capital budgets for its next fiscal year. The commission may provide for a schedule of reduced rates or exemptions for persons sixty-five years of age or older and for fully disabled persons. The commission may combine its fees, rates and other charges for water supplied by it and sewer service provided by it in a single schedule of charges. Fees, rates, rents, assessments, abatements and other charges established by the commission shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any department, division, commission, board, bureau, or agency of the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions, including, without limitation, the city.

(b) Subject to paragraph (e), the fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges established by the commission in accordance with paragraph (a) shall be so fixed and adjusted in respect of the aggregate thereof so as to provide revenues at least sufficient (i) to pay the current expenses of the commission, (ii) to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the commission under this act as the same become due and payable, (iii) to create and maintain such reasonable reserves as may be reasonably required by any trust agreement or resolution securing bonds, (iv) to provide funds for paying the cost of all necessary repairs, replacements and renewals of the water works system and the sewer works system and (v) to pay or provide for any amounts which the commission may be obligated to pay or provide for by law or contract including any resolution or contract with or for the benefit of the holders of its bonds.

(c) Notwithstanding the requirements of paragraph (b), the fees, rents, rates and other charges for services, facilities and commodities supplied by the water works system and sewer works system in effect on the effective date of this act shall be maintained by the commission without modification until June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, or such earlier date not earlier than December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, as the commission shall determine. Upon the transfer of the water works system and sewer works system to the commission pursuant to section five, the commission shall undertake a study and examination of its fees, rents, rates and other charges and its estimated current expenses and costs of maintaining, operating and improving the systems, and shall, prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, promulgate in accordance with paragraph (a) a schedule of fees, rents, rates and other charges sufficient thereafter to satisfy the requirements of paragraph (b). Such new schedule of fees, rates and charges shall become effective on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, or such earlier date not earlier than January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three as the commission shall determine. Such schedule shall provide for the metering of, and charging for, water and sewer service provided to all consumers in the city, excluding the city but including the commonwealth and all independent agencies and authorities of the city and the commonwealth, and any exemptions from such charges provided to the commonwealth or the city under any law, general or special, are hereby declared inapplicable as of the date such schedule shall be in force.

(d) In order to provide for the collection and enforcement of its fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges, the commission is hereby granted all the powers and privileges with respect to such collection and enforcement held by the city on the effective date of this act or as otherwise provided in this act. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the commission shall have benefit, without further acceptance of sections forty-two A to forty-two F, inclusive, of chapter forty of the General Laws or filing of any certificate relating thereto, of liens for unpaid fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges as provided in sections forty-two A and forty-two B of said chapter forty and sections sixteen A and sixteen B of chapter eighty-three of the General Laws, to the extent applicable and consistent with this act. With respect to any fees, rates, rents, assessments or other charges which remain unpaid for more than six months after the same shall have come due, the commission may issue a demand in accordance with section sixteen of chapter sixty of the General Laws and may collect such fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges by means of remedies and procedures, to the extent applicable and consistent with this act, provided in sections twenty-four to one hundred and five, inclusive, of said chapter sixty. If such demand is made within the time specified in section forty-two B of chapter forty of the General Laws and section sixteen B of chapter eighty-three of the General Laws during which liens arising thereunder remain in effect, said liens shall continue in effect for the period specified in section thirty-seven of said chapter sixty, provided that the year of assessment shall be deemed to be the year in which such demand is made. From and after the date of such demand interest shall accrue on unpaid fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges at the rate specified in section fifty-seven of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. Applications for abatements in accordance with section forty-two E of said chapter forty and section sixteen E of chapter eighty-three of the General Laws shall be made within thirty days after the date of such demand. Upon written application the commission shall issue lien certificates in accordance with section twenty-three of said chapter sixty. No recordation of certificates issued by the city pursuant to said section twenty-three of said chapter sixty shall affect liens for the unpaid fees, rates, rents, assessments, and other charges of the commission. The commission shall be entitled to receive fees for collection in accordance with section fifteen of said chapter sixty. For purposes of the sections of the General Laws referred to in this paragraph, the terms city, town, water district, assessors, collector, clerk, treasurer, or commissioner as used therein shall mean the commission, and the term tax or taxes shall mean the unpaid fees, rents, assessments, and other charges of the commission. The commission shall also have the powers and may exercise the remedies, to the extent consistent with this act, provided in sections twenty-nine, thirty-five and fifty and sections fifty-three to sixty-four, inclusive, of chapter sixty-two C of the General Laws and in chapter eighty and chapter eighty A of the General Laws. For purposes of said sections of said chapter sixty-two C, the terms commonwealth and commissioner used therein shall mean the commission. Notwithstanding the foregoing, except to the extent of betterments assessed by the commission, the commission shall have no power of taxation.

In addition to the other enforcement powers and remedies provided in this act, if any fees, rates, rents, assessments or other charges billed by the commission against any premises which are connected with the water works system or sewer works system remain unpaid for a period of more than sixty days from the due date thereof, and following such period notice and demand have been posted on such premises and have been given to the owner and occupant of said premises, by registered or certified mail addressed to said premises and to the address of said owner as shown on the records of the assessor of the city, to pay the same within fifteen days from the date of mailing of said notice, and such fees, rates, rents, assessments or other charges remain unpaid, the commission shall have the power and is hereby authorized to shut off the supply of water to said premises until said fees, rates, rents, assessments or other charges are paid, together with interest thereon at the applicable rate and the standard charge of the commission for restoring water service to said premises.

(e) If at the end of any fiscal year, the commission shall have realized a surplus from operations for such fiscal year, after payment or provision for all current expenses, current maintenance, repairs and replacements, current debt service on all outstanding bonds of the commission, all reserves for debt service, repairs and replacements, costs or current expenses as may be required by a trust agreement or resolution securing bonds or as may otherwise be maintained by the commission, and any and all other amounts which the commission may be obligated by law or contract to pay or provide for, the commission shall either apply such surplus in the next following fiscal year to a reduction in the rates, fees, rents, assessments or other charges established by the commission for services provided by the water works system and the sewer works system or shall apply such surplus to the reduction or provision for reduction of its outstanding capital debt.

(f) On or before June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and annually thereafter, the commission shall prepare a proposed capital improvement program for the next three succeeding fiscal years of the commission and shall adopt a capital improvement budget for the next succeeding fiscal year. Such program and budget shall include a description of the projects proposed to be undertaken during such periods, the costs proposed to be incurred on such projects, the method of financing such costs and an estimate of the effect, if any, that such costs will have on the current or projected fees, rates, rents and other charges of the commission. The program and budget shall be annually adopted by the commission in accordance with procedures established by the commission for assuring that interested persons are afforded notice and an opportunity to present views and arguments. The commission shall hold at least one public hearing on the proposed capital improvement program and budget prior to adoption, which hearing may be combined with a hearing provided in paragraph (a) of this section, notice of which shall be delivered to the mayor and city council and be published in a newspaper of substantial circulation in the city at least one month in advance of the hearing. No later than the date of such publication the commission shall make available to the public and deliver to the mayor and city council copies of the proposed program and budget.

SECTION 9. (a) The commission is hereby authorized and empowered to provide by resolution for the issuance, at one time or from time to time prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, of notes of the commission in the aggregate principal amount of thirty-five million dollars outstanding at any one time, excluding notes refunded by other notes issued under this paragraph, for the purpose of providing funds for (i) paying the cost of constructing or acquiring such improvements, extensions, enlargements, alterations, reconstruction or remodeling of the water works system and the sewer works system as may be authorized by such resolution, including the funding of interest payable on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five on any notes of the commission issued pursuant to section ten hereof in anticipation of federal, state or local grants for such work and (ii) providing funds for paying the current expenses of the commission to the extent not paid out of its revenues or provided for in clause (i) from the effective date of this act until June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Except as otherwise provided herein, notes issued by the commission in accordance with this section shall be issued in anticipation of bonds to be issued by the commission pursuant to section ten of this act and shall be authorized, issued and sold in the same manner as, and shall otherwise be subject to section eleven and the other provisions of this act relating to, such bonds. Such notes shall mature at such time or times as provided by resolution of the commission and may be renewed from time to time, provided that all such notes and renewals thereof shall mature on or prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

(b) The proceeds of the notes authorized by this section shall be applied as follows:

(1) Such amount of such proceeds as may be provided in the resolution of the commission for paying the current expenses of the commission to the extent not paid out of its revenues or provided for in clause (2) from the effective date of this act until June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall be deposited with a corporate trustee in accordance with section eleven and disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions as may be provided in the resolution of the commission;

(2) The balance of such proceeds shall be deposited with the trustee to be used solely for paying or providing for the cost of extensions, improvements or enlargements of the water works system and the sewer works system, including repayment of interest on notes of the commission as provided in clause (i) of paragraph (a), and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions as may be provided in the resolution of the commission.

(c) The city, acting by and through its city treasurer, shall, upon application of the commission, guarantee the principal of and interest on notes of the commission issued in accordance with this section. The city treasurer, with the approval of the mayor and without further authority, may approve the form, terms and conditions of, and may execute and deliver on behalf of the city such guaranty and any related agreements with or for the benefit of the holders of such notes containing such terms, conditions and covenants of the city as the city treasurer may deem reasonable including provision for the payment of notes not paid or refunded by the commission by application of the proceeds of the loan authorized in this paragraph and provision for the payment of such notes by the city over such period of time as the city treasurer may approve. The full faith and credit of the city shall be pledged for the guaranty provided for in this section. The total principal amount of notes to be guaranteed under this section shall not exceed thirty-five million dollars in the aggregate; provided, however, that any note being refunded by the issuance of a guaranteed note shall not, and the refunding note shall, be included within such total amount. The total amount of notes permitted to be guaranteed as aforesaid shall be reduced by the outstanding principal amount of bonds issued by the commission to refund notes so guaranteed. Notes guaranteed by the city under authority of this section shall not be included in determining the limits of indebtedness of the city as established by law nor shall the principal and interest payments thereof be included in any computation under section twenty-one C of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. The guaranty of the city of such notes shall be executed by the city treasurer. It shall be sufficient if the signature of the city treasurer upon such notes, if any, is an engraved, printed or stamped facsimile signature, provided that he has, by writing bearing his written signature filed with the city clerk, authorized his facsimile signature to be placed thereon. The facsimile signature of the city treasurer so engraved, printed or stamped shall have the same validity and effect as his written signature. If the city treasurer shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such notes, such signature or facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office until such delivery.

For the purposes of determining the amount of notes or bonds issued or outstanding pursuant to this act, the amount of any notes or bonds sold by the commission at a discount shall be equal to the net proceeds thereof determined by subtracting the discount from the face amount of such notes or bonds.

If the commission shall fail or otherwise be unable to refund or pay when due any guaranteed note or notes and the interest thereon issued by the commission in accordance with this section, the treasurer of the city with the approval of the mayor and without further authority is hereby authorized and empowered, for the purpose of refunding or paying such guaranteed notes and the interest thereon, to borrow, at one time or from time to time, not exceeding in the aggregate the outstanding principal amount of and interest on such notes so guaranteed and not paid or refunded by the commission, and issue and sell bonds or notes of the city therefor, payable in not more than twenty years from their dates. Such bonds shall bear on their face the words, City of Lynn, Water and Sewer Works Loan, Act of 1982, shall be registered or with interest coupons attached, may be issued as serial bonds or term bonds or both, and may contain such provisions for the redemption of such bonds or notes prior to maturity at the option of the city and at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as the treasurer with the approval of the mayor may determine prior to the issuance of such bonds. Bonds issued from time to time by the city under the authority of this section shall not be included in determining the limit of indebtedness of the city as established by law, but shall, except as herein provided, be subject to the provisions, applicable to the city, of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, including the provisions of section seventeen of said chapter forty-four relative to temporary loans in anticipation of the issue of bonds.

SECTION 10. In addition to the notes issued under the provisions of section nine, the commission may provide by resolution for the issuance from time to time of bonds of the commission for any of its corporate purposes or the borrowing of money in anticipation of the issuance of such bonds. Bonds may be issued hereunder as general obligations of the commission or as special obligations payable solely from particular funds. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such bonds may be issued to pay or refund notes issued by the commission pursuant to section nine, to pay the cost of any extension, enlargement, or improvement of the water works system or the sewer works system, to provide such reserves for debt service, repairs and replacements or other costs or current expenses as may be required by a trust agreement or resolution securing bonds of the commission, or for any combination of the foregoing purposes.

The commission may also provide by resolution for the issuance from time to time of temporary notes in anticipation of the revenues to be collected or received by the commission in any year, or in anticipation of the receipt of federal, commonwealth or local grants or other aid, including the refunding or renewal of notes issued by the city in anticipation of such receipts outstanding at the effective date of this act. The issue of such notes shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of bonds other than such temporary notes as the same may be applicable; provided, however, that notes issued in anticipation of revenues shall mature no later than one year from their respective dates and notes issued in anticipation of federal, commonwealth or local grants or other aid and renewals thereof shall mature no later than the expected date of receipt of such grants or aid. Notes in anticipation of revenues issued to mature less than one year from their dates may be renewed by the commission from time to time by the issue of other temporary notes hereunder; provided, however, the period from the date of an original note to the maturity of any note issued to renew or pay the same or the interest thereon shall not exceed one year.

SECTION 11. The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all bonds issued under the provisions of this act, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be payable solely from the funds provided therefor from revenues as herein provided. Bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate or other method determined by the commission, and shall mature at such time or times, as may be determined by the commission, and may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the commission at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the commission prior to the issue of bonds. The commission shall determine the form of bonds, including interest coupons, if any, to be attached thereto, and the matter of execution of bonds, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of bonds and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office until after such delivery. The commission may also provide for authentication of bonds by a trustee or fiscal agent. Bonds may be issued in bearer or in registered form, or both, and, if notes, may be made payable to bearer or to order, as the commission may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, for the reconversion into coupon bonds of bonds registered as to both principal and interest and for the interchange of bonds registered as to both principal and interest and for the interchange of registered and coupon bonds. The commission may by resolution delegate to the executive director or any member of the commission or any combination of them the power to determine any of the matters set forth in this section including the power to award such notes to a purchaser or purchasers at public sale. The commission may sell its bonds in such manner, either at public or private sale, for such price, at such rate or rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest, as it may determine will best effect the purposes of this act.

The commission may issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. The commission may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall have become mutilated or shall have been destroyed or lost.

In the discretion of the commission, any bonds issued hereunder may be secured by a resolution of the commission or by a trust agreement between the commission and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the commonwealth, and such trust agreement shall be in such form and executed in such manner as may be determined by the commission. Such trust agreement or resolution may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues and other moneys held or to be received by the commission, including the revenues from any facilities already existing when the pledge or assignment is made, and any contract or other rights to receive the same, whether then existing or thereafter coming into existence and whether then held or thereafter acquired by the commission, and the proceeds thereof, but shall not convey or mortgage the water works system or the sewer works system. In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds or notes issued by the commission under any provision of this act, including section nine hereof, may be secured, in whole or in part, by letters of credit issued to the commission by any bank, trust company or other financial institution, within or without the commonwealth, and the commission may pledge or assign any of its revenues as security for the reimbursement by the commission to the issuers of such letters of credit of any payments made under the letters of credit.

It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company to act as a depository or trustee of the proceeds of bonds, revenues or other moneys under any such trust agreement or resolution and to furnish such indemnification or to pledge such securities and issue such letters of credit as may be required by the commission. Any such trust agreement or resolution may set forth the rights and remedies of bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders. In addition to the foregoing, any such trust agreement or resolution may contain such other provisions as the commission may deem reasonable and proper for the security of bondholders. Any pledge of revenues or other property made by the commission under this act shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected for the purposes of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws from the time when the pledge is made; the revenues, moneys, rights and proceeds so pledged and then held or thereafter acquired or received by the commission shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act; and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the commission, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution, any trust agreement nor any other agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the commission, and no filing need be made under the provisions of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

The issue of refunding bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the security therefor, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties and obligations of the commission in respect of the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of bonds other than refunding bonds insofar as the same may be applicable.

SECTION 13. Bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness issued or entered into under the provisions of this act shall not be deemed to be a debt or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or, excepting any note guaranteed by the city pursuant to section nine, of any city or town, but shall be payable solely from the revenues of the commission. All bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, excepting any note guaranteed by the city pursuant to section nine of this act, shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the commonwealth nor any city or town shall be obligated to pay the same and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the commonwealth or of any city or town is pledged to the payment of the principal of or interest on such bonds or notes. Each bond shall also recite whether it is a general obligation of the commission or a special obligation thereof payable solely from particular funds pledged to its payment.

SECTION 14. All moneys received pursuant to the provisions of this act, whether as proceeds from the issue of bonds or as revenues or otherwise, shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this act.

Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or obligations of the commonwealth is now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

SECTION 16. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this act or any recitals in any bonds issued under this act, all such bonds shall be deemed to be investment securities under chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 17. Bonds may be issued under this act without obtaining the consent of the emergency finance board established under the provisions of chapter forty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three or of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or the city, and without any other proceeedings or the happening of any other conditions or things than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required therefor by this act, and the validity of and security for any bonds issued by the commission shall not be affected by the existence or non-existence of any such consent or other proceedings, conditions or things.

SECTION 18. The commission and all its revenues, income and real and personal property shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments and the commission shall not be required to pay any tax, excise or assessment to or for the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions; provided, however, that the commission is authorized and directed to enter into agreements to make annual payments in lieu of taxes with respect to property of the commission located outside the city upon which local real estate taxes are being paid as of the effective date of this act. Such report for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and for each fiscal year thereafter, shall include financial statements relating to the operations and properties of the commission maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles to the extent applicable and audited by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants.

SECTION 20. Upon termination or dissolution of the commission, the title to all funds and other properties owned by it which remain after payment or the making of provision for payment of all bonds and other obligations of the commission shall vest in the city. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the commission shall fail on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five to pay or refund or provide for the payment of all notes and the interest thereon issued by the commission and guaranteed by the city pursuant to section nine, the commission shall thereupon terminate and be dissolved, and all funds, properties, assets and liabilities owned or controlled by it on such date and all rights, benefits and obligations to which the commission shall then be subject, shall immediately vest in, be assumed by, and be reinstated in the city by operation of law; provided, however, that if upon any such termination or dissolution any bonds or notes of the commission shall be outstanding, such bonds or notes, unless guaranteed by the city under section nine of this act, shall continue to be payable solely from the revenues and other property pledged therefor and shall not be or become a debt or obligation of the city except to the extent of such pledge.

No law affecting the powers, rights, duties, or obligations of the commission shall be effective unless it shall apply to water and sewer districts generally or shall have been approved under the provisions of Article 2 of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

SECTION 21. Except as otherwise provided herein, upon title to the water works system and the sewer works system becoming vested in the commission under the provisions of section five of this act, any provisions of any special laws and parts of special laws and all ordinances and parts of ordinances pertaining to the water works system or the sewer works system which are inconsistent with the provisions of this act shall be inoperative and cease to be effective. Chapter one hundred and seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-eight establishing a water surplus account is hereby repealed.

SECTION 22. The provisions of this act shall be deemed to provide an exclusive, additional, alternative and complete method for the doing of the things authorized hereby and shall be deemed and construed to be supplemental and additional to, and not in derogation of, powers conferred upon the commission by law; provided, however, that insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special law, administrative order or regulation, or the Lynn city charter, the provisions of this act shall be controlling. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, no provision of the Lynn city charter requiring the ratification by the voters of certain bond issues shall apply to the issuance of bonds of the commission pursuant to this act or to the guaranty of the city or the bonds of the city authorized by section nine.

SECTION 23. Chap. 423. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF OXFORD TO PROVIDE FACILITIES FOR THE ACCEPTANCE, COLLECTION, TREATMENT AND DISPOSAL OF SEWAGE BY AGREEMENT WITH THE UPPER BLACKSTONE WATER POLLUTION ABATEMENT DISTRICT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The town of Oxford may provide facilities for the acceptance, collection, treatment and disposal of sewage from a part or parts of the territory of said town by entering into agreements, acting by and through the board of selectmen of said town, for the provision of such facilities with Upper Blackstone Water Pollution Abatement District.

SECTION 2. Said board of selectmen may, from time to time, prescribe regulations regarding the use and maintenance of such facilities, including, but not limited to, regulations to prevent any entrance or discharge therein of any substance which may tend to interfere with the flow of sewage or the proper operation of such facilities, for the connection of estates and buildings with such facilities and for the inspection of all connections, sewer pipes, pumps, measuring devices and all other equipment in any way related to the use of such facilities. Said board of selectmen may prescribe penalties, not exceeding twenty dollars, for each violation of any such regulation, each day or portion thereof any violation continues to constitute a separate offense. Such regulations shall be published at least once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the town of Oxford, and if there is none, then in a newspaper published in Worcester county, and shall not take effect until such publication has been made.

SECTION 3. The board of selectmen may from time to time establish just and equitable annual charges for the use of the facilities provided pursuant to the provisions of section one which shall be paid by the owners of real estate served by such facilities, the total of such charges to be at least equal to the costs incurred by said town, including administrative costs, in providing such facilities. Said board of selectmen may insure the payment of such charges by deposit or other suitable security.

SECTION 4. If, after the town of Oxford accepts the provisions of this act as provided in section ten and, by its clerk, files a certificate of such acceptance in the Worcester district registry of deeds in the county of Worcester, any charges due the town of Oxford pursuant to the provisions of this act which are not paid on or before their due dates shall, together with interest thereon and costs, including attorney fees, relative thereto, be a lien upon the real estate served by such facilities. Said board of selectmen shall establish such due dates so as to require payments at least as often as annually. Said register of deeds shall record such certificate of acceptance of this chapter in the book kept pursuant to the provisions of section sixteen A of chapter eighty-three of the General Laws.

SECTION 5. Such lien shall take effect by operation of law on the day immediately following the due date of such charge and, unless dissolved by payment or abatement, shall continue until such charge has been added to or committed as a tax under section six hereof, and thereafter, unless so dissolved, shall continue as provided in section thirty-seven of chapter sixty of the General Laws, except that the date provided for termination of the lien in case of a recorded alienation shall be at the expiration of two years from October first of the year of such addition or committal. Anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding, if any such charge is not added to or committed as a tax under section six hereof on or before December thirty-first of the year immediately following the year such charge becomes due, the lien for such charge shall terminate on October first of the third year following the year in which such charge becomes due.

Notwithstanding such lien any such overdue charge may be collected through any legal means, including termination of use of the facilities, which may be deemed advisable; provided, that after the termination of such a lien, the town of Oxford shall not attempt to enforce, by terminating the use of such facilities, collection of such charge from any person, not liable therefor, who has succeeded to the title or interest of the person incurring such charge. All such charges excluded by court decree under section seventy-six B of chapter sixty of the General Laws shall, to the extent that they were properly chargeable to the person owning the real estate for which such charges were incurred, be recoverable from such person in an action of contract or otherwise. If at the time of entry of such decree such person is still the owner of the real estate, whether through redemption or otherwise, such charges to the extent that they were properly chargeable to him, may be enforced in any other manner provided or available for collection or enforcement of sewer use charges.

SECTION 6. If a charge for which a lien is in effect under section five has not been added to or committed as a tax and remains unpaid when the assessors are preparing a real estate tax list and warrant to be committed by them under section fifty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, the board of selectmen, or the town collector of taxes, if applicable under section thirty-eight A of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, shall certify such charge to the assessors, who shall forthwith add such charge to the tax on the real estate to which it relates and commit it with their warrant to the collector of taxes as a part of such tax. If the real estate to which such charge relates is tax exempt, such charge shall be committed as the tax.

SECTION 7. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the provisions of chapters fifty-nine and sixty of the General Laws shall apply to all charges certified to the assessors under section six. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, upon commitment as a tax or part of a tax under section six hereof, all such charges shall be subject to the provisions of law relative to interest on the taxes of which they become, or, if the real estate were not tax exempt would become, a part; and the collector of taxes shall have the same powers and be subject to the same duties with respect to such charges as in the case of annual taxes upon real estate, and the provisions of law relative to the collection of such annual taxes, the sale or taking of land for the nonpayment thereof and the redemption of land so sold or taken shall, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, apply to such charges.

SECTION 8. An owner of real estate aggrieved by a charge imposed thereon under sections one to seven, inclusive, in addition to such remedy as he may have under section ten of chapter one hundred and sixty-five of the General Laws, may apply for an abatement thereof by filing a petition with the board of selectmen within the time allowed by law for filing an application for abatement of the tax of which such charge is, or, if the real estate were not tax exempt, would have been, a part, and if the selectmen find that such charge is more than is properly due, a reasonable abatement shall be made; and except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws relative to the abatement of taxes by assessors shall apply, so far as applicable, to abatements hereunder. If such petition is denied in whole or in part, the petitioner may appeal to the appellate tax board upon the same terms and conditions as a person aggrieved by the refusal of the assessors of a city or town to abate a tax.

SECTION 9. All money received by the town of Oxford from charges collected under this act shall be deposited in the town treasury and shall be kept in a fund separate from all other monies of said town and, notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-three of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, shall be expended at the direction of the board of selectmen without further appropriation for the payment of costs incurred by the town, including administrative costs, in providing facilities under this act.

SECTION 10. This act shall become effective upon its acceptance by the town of Oxford at an annual or special town meeting called for such purpose.

Chapter 564 of the acts of 1979 is hereby amended by adding the following three sections:-

Section 5. The general court hereby declares and finds that the land described in this chapter consists in part of historic flats and in part of historic submerged land; that the land bears a resulting cloud on title which causes serious impediments to the marketing and financing of improvements to the land; that the existing structures on the land were erected pursuant to licenses set forth in sections one to three inclusive; that such structures deteriorated with time and in their present condition no longer serve maritime commerce; that pedestrian and maritime access from the land to the edge of Boston Harbor is not obstructed; that renovation of such structures could be financed only if said cloud on title was removed and if said licenses were made irrevocable; and that the renewal of the property for any use permitted by the applicable zoning laws will serve a proper public purpose by assisting the economic revival of the city of Boston and promoting the use and enjoyment of Boston Harbor by the public, and will not be detrimental to the public navigation of the remaining waters of Boston Harbor.

Section 6. Any and all rights of the public and of the commonwealth in and to the flats and submerged land within the boundaries of that certain parcel of land described in section three are declared relinquished and extinguished, subject only to the conditions set forth in section seven.

Section 7. The following conditions shall apply to said parcel of land described in section three:

(a) That the owner of the land agrees to forego filling of or construction over the waters of Boston Harbor which may lie within his property line but beyond the former U. S. pierhead line dated eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, being the same line as the former Mass. Harbor line dated eighteen hundred and eighty, as shown on the plan referenced in section four.

(b) That the owner in recognition of the public interests in the shores of the commonwealth shall, within three years from the effective date of this act construct and maintain public access to the edge of Fort Point Channel via a pedestrian walkway which shall be ten feet wide and extend a distance of approximately one hundred and ninety feet along the easterly side of the existing wooden wharf and directly abutting Congress street at its northeasterly side.

(c) If within three years from the effective date of this act and any time thereafter the owner fills in or constructs any building or wharf upon the existing open water between the end of the existing wooden wharf and the Bulkhead Line, the owner shall relocate said ten foot wide walkway referred to in paragraph (b) of section seven and construct and maintain a twenty foot wide pedestrian walkway for public access to the edge of Fort Point Channel for a distance of approximately one hundred and ninety-five feet along the easterly side of any such newly constructed area and directly abutting Congress street at its northeasterly side.

Section 36A. (1) In any case in which an obligor is under court order to pay alimony or support and maintenance or child support in an action or judgment for divorce under this chapter or in an action or judgment for separate support under chapter two hundred and nine, the court which entered the support order shall retain continuing jurisdiction over the parties to the order and may enter an order of trustee process against the disposable earnings of the obligor, both those presently due and owing and those which will be due and owing at a future time, up to an amount permitted by federal law. Before the court may enter such an order, it shall find that all other domestic remedies available to collect support have been exhausted or would be ineffective.

For the purpose of this section, the words "disposable earnings" shall mean that part of the compensation paid or payable to the obligor for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonus, or otherwise, including periodic payments pursuant to a pension or retirement program, which remains after the deduction of any amounts required by law to be withheld; and the word "trustee" shall mean the person, firm, association, or corporation by whom the obligor is employed.

(3) After a hearing on the merits, the court may enter an order of trustee process against the obligor's disposable earnings. The order shall set forth sufficient findings of fact to support the action by the court and the amount to be trusteed for each pay period. The order shall be subject to review by the court for modification and dissolution upon the filing of a motion, with a sworn affidavit supporting same.

(4) Upon receipt of an order for trustee process, the trustee shall transmit each pay period without delay to the clerk of the court, or to the family service office of the court or any other party designated by the court, the amount ordered by the court to be trusteed for each such period. These funds shall be disbursed to the party designated by the court. If the person entitled to receive said support is a recipient of public assistance, such funds shall be disbursed directly to the department of public welfare up to the amount of aid being paid to the recipient by the department.

(5) No employer may discharge, suspend, or discipline an employee by reason of his having been trusteed pursuant to this section. Any employer who violates this clause shall be liable to the employee for compensation and employment benefits lost, if any, during the time of the unlawful discharge, suspension, or discipline.

(6) The commonwealth and any of its political sub-divisions shall be subject to trustee process under this section as if they were private parties.

At any meeting held hereunder prior to the acceptance of this act, after the choice of a moderator for the meeting the question of the acceptance of this act shall be submitted to the voters, and if it is accepted by a majority of the voters present and voting thereon it shall thereupon take effect, and the meeting may then proceed to act on the other articles in the warrant. After the qualification of a majority of the water commissioners, meetings of the district shall be called by warrant under their hands, unless some other method be provided by by-law or vote of the district.

SECTION 9. The district shall, after the acceptance of this act as aforesaid, instruct the board of selectmen to appoint, at their next regular meeting, or a meeting called for that purpose, five persons, inhabitants of and voters in the town of Tyngsborough; to hold office, two until the expiration of one year, two until the expiration of two years, and one until the expiration of three years from the day of the next succeeding annual meeting of the district, to constitute a board of water commissioners; and at every annual district meeting following such next succeeding annual district meeting two such commissioners shall be elected by ballot for the term of three years, provided however, that at every third annual meeting of the district following such next succeeding annual district meeting of the district one such commissioner shall be elected by ballot for a term of three years. The date of the next annual meeting shall be fixed by by-law or by vote of the board of water commissioners, but in no event shall it be later than fifteen months subsequent to the date on which the water commissioners were first elected. All the authority granted to the district by this act, except sections four and five, and not otherwise specifically provided for, shall be vested in said board of water commissioners, who shall be subject, however, to such instructions, rules and regulations as the district may by vote impose. At the meeting at which said water commissioners are first elected and at each annual district meeting held thereafter, the district shall elect by ballot, each for a term of one year, a clerk and a treasurer of the district. The treasurer shall not be a water commissioner, and shall give bond to the district in such an amount as may be approved by said water commissioners and with a surety company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth as surety. A majority of said water commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Any vacancy occurring in said board from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by said district at any legal meeting called for the purpose. No money shall be drawn from the treasury of the district on account of its water works except upon a written order of said water commissioners or a majority of them.

SECTION 10. Said board of water commissioners shall fix just and equitable prices and rates for the use of water, and shall prescribe the time and manner of payment. The income of the water works shall be appropriated to defray all operating expenses, interest charges and payments on the principal as they shall accrue upon any bonds or notes issued under authority of this act. If there should be a net surplus remaining after providing for the aforesaid charges, it may be appropriated for such new construction as said water commissioners may recommend, and in case a surplus should remain after payment for such new construction the water rates shall be reduced proportionately. Said water commissioners shall annually, and as often as the district may require, render a report upon the condition of the works under their charge, and an account of their doings, including an account of receipts and expenditures.

SECTION 11. The district may adopt by-laws, prescribing by whom and how meetings of the district may be called, notified, and conducted; and, upon the application of ten or more legal voters in the district, meetings may also be called by warrant as provided in section eight. The district may also establish rules and regulations for the management of its water works, not inconsistent with this act or with any other provision of law, and may choose such other officers not provided for in this act as it may deem necessary or proper.

SECTION 12. Whoever wilfully or wantonly corrupts, pollutes or diverts any water obtained or supplied under this act, or wilfully or wantonly injures any reservoir, well, standpipe, aqueduct, pipe or other property owned or used by the district for any of the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to the district three times the amount of damages assessed therefor, to be recovered in an action of tort, and upon conviction of any of the above wilful or wanton acts shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

SECTION 13. Upon a petition in writing addressed to said board of water commissioners requesting that certain real estate, accurately described therein, located in said town and abutting on said district and not otherwise served by a public water supply be included within the limits thereof, and signed by the owners of such real estate, or a major portion of such real estate, said water commissioners shall cause a duly warned meeting of the district to be called, at which meeting the voters may vote on the question of including said real estate within the district. If a majority of the voters present and voting thereon vote in the affirmative the district clerk shall within ten days file with the town clerk of said town and with the state secretary an attested copy of said petition and vote; and thereupon said real estate shall become and be part of the district and shall be holden under this act in the same manner and to the same extent as the real estate described in section one.

SECTION 14. This act shall be submitted for acceptance to the voters of the town of Tyngsborough at the next annual town meeting in the form of the following question which shall be placed upon the official ballot used for the election of town officers at said meeting: "Shall an act passed by the General Court in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, entitled 'An Act establishing the Tyngsborough Water District', be accepted?" Whoever is guilty of murder in the second degree shall be punished by imprisonment in state prison for life. No person shall be eligible for parole under section one hundred and thirty-three A of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven while he is serving a life sentence for murder in the first degree, but if his sentence is commuted therefrom by the governor and council under the provisions of section one hundred and fifty-two of said chapter one hundred and twenty-seven he shall thereafter be subject to the provisions of law governing parole for persons sentenced for lesser offenses.

SECTION 4. Chapter 279 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 4, as most recently amended by section 49 of chapter 344 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 4. Sentence shall be imposed upon conviction of a crime, regardless of whether an appeal has been taken, except as otherwise provided in section sixty-one in case of a conviction of a capital crime.

If sentence is imposed upon conviction of a crime punishable by death, the justice imposing the sentence shall at the same time stay the execution of the sentence, such stay to be effective until revoked by the superior court department of the trial court, which is hereby granted full powers of revocation in the premises. The clerk of such court shall, forthwith upon the revocation by the court of any such stay of execution of sentence, certify that said stay has been revoked and cause said certificate to be served upon the superintendent of the state prison, or the officer performing his duties, by any officer qualified to serve criminal process; and the officer serving the same shall forthwith make due return of service to the clerk.

SECTION 5. Sections forty-three to fifty-six, inclusive, of said chapter two hundred and seventy-nine are hereby repealed.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 279 is hereby further amended by adding the following fifteen sections:-

Section 57. Immediately upon the pronouncing of the sentence of death upon a person convicted of a capital crime, and immediately upon the revocation under section four of the stay of execution of such a sentence, the clerk shall make, sign and deliver to the sheriff of the county where the conviction is had a warrant under the seal of the court stating the conviction and sentence, and that a stay of execution of the sentence has been granted under section four, and that such stay has been revoked under said section, and shall at the same time transmit to the superintendent of the state prison a certified copy of the warrant. The clerk of the court shall, upon revocation under section four of the stay of execution of the sentence, make out and deliver to the governor a certified copy of the whole record of the conviction and sentence, including any rescripts from the supreme judicial court.

Section 58. The sheriff of the county in a jail whereof a prisoner sentenced to the punishment of death is confined, or a deputy designated by the sheriff, within ten days after receipt by the sheriff of the warrant for the execution of such sentence shall, at a time chosen by the sheriff, convey such prisoner to the state prison and deliver him, with the warrant in either case, to the superintendent thereof or to the officer performing his duties and such prisoner shall be placed in a cell provided for the purpose. Within fourteen days thereafter, the superintendent or officer performing his duties shall cause said prisoner to be examined by a psychiatrist for the purpose of rendering a written and signed opinion as to whether or not said prisoner is psychologically fit to be transferred from special confinement to confinement with the general prison population, and in the case of a female, to the general prison population at the reformatory for women, with full participation in the educational and work programs, within the prison, afforded prisoners under sentence other than the punishment of death. Upon receipt of said psychiatric opinion, and other pertinent information, the superintendent or officer performing his duties may transfer said prisoner to confinement with the general prison population with the right of full participation in the privileges afforded other prisoners as aforesaid. If the superintendent, or officer performing his duties, does not so transfer said prisoner, he shall notify said prisoner of his decision forthwith, whereupon said prisoner may appeal said decision within ten days of said notification by giving notice to the superintendent, or officer performing his duties, on a form provided him at the time of the receipt of the notification of the adverse decision. Upon receipt of such notice, the superintendent or officer performing his duties shall notify the commissioner of correction forthwith whereupon the commissioner shall hold a hearing on said appeal within fifteen days of receipt of notice that such appeal has been made. The commissioner or his appointee shall conduct said hearing and shall render a decision granting or denying said appeal within five days following the date of the hearing. A prisoner who is denied such transfer by the superintendent, or officer performing his duties, shall remain in a cell for the purpose of the execution of his sentence, and shall thereafter be kept therein, unless an appeal made by him of the adverse decision is granted, until the sentence of death is executed upon him, and no person shall be allowed access to him without an order of the court, except the officers and employees of the prison, his counsel, such physicians, priest, or minister of religion as the superintendent may approve and members of the prisoner's family who are identified to the satisfaction of the superintendent. Any prisoner confined to a cell for the purpose of the execution of his sentence shall have his record reviewed annually for the purpose of determining whether or not said prisoner should be placed in the general population, and shall be entitled to a hearing, as provided above, on each adverse decision.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the superior court may make any order relative to the custody of a prisoner confined in the state prison or the reformatory for women under this section in case said prisoner is granted a new trial.

Section 59. The sentence of death shall be executed by the superintendent of the state prison, or by a person acting under his direction, not earlier than twenty days nor later than thirty days after service upon said superintendent, or officer performing his duties, of a certificate of the clerk of the court that the stay of the execution of the sentence has been revoked under section four, unless the governor pardons the crime, commutes the punishment therefor or respites the execution or said execution is otherwise delayed by process of law. If the execution is respited or stayed by process of law, the sentence of death shall be executed within the week beginning on the day next after the day on which the term of respite or stay expires. The sentence of death shall be executed upon such day within the limits of time provided in this section as the superintendent elects; but no previous announcement thereof shall be made, except to such persons as may be permitted to be present in accordance with section sixty-five.

Section 60. The punishment of death shall be inflicted by causing a current of electricity of sufficient intensity to cause death to pass through the body of the prisoner, the application of said current to be continuous until he is dead or, at the election of the prisoner, by intravenous injection of a substance or substances in a lethal quantity sufficient to cause death and until such prisoner is dead. The sentence shall be executed within an enclosure or building for that purpose at the state prison and the company which furnishes the electric power or light to the state prison shall provide all necessary electricity for executions by electrocution at such times as the superintendent orders.

Section 61. If a person convicted of a capital crime is, at the time when sentence is to be imposed, found by the court to be insane, it may cause such person to be removed to one of the state hospitals for such term and under such limitations as it may order. If a person convicted of a capital crime is, at the time when sentence is to be imposed, found by the court to be pregnant, the court shall not pass sentence upon her until it finds that she is no longer pregnant.

Section 62. After examination by two psychiatrists designated by the commissioner of mental health, if it appears that a prisoner under sentence of death has become insane, the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, may, from time to time for a stated period, respite the execution of said sentence until it appears to their satisfaction that the prisoner is no longer insane. Upon such respite, the governor may order the removal of such prisoner to the hospital at the Massachusetts

Correctional Institution, Bridgewater. Within ten days prior to the termination date of said respite, the medical director of said hospital shall have the said prisoner examined by two psychiatrists designated by the commissioner of mental health. If, after said examination, the said medical director is of the opinion that the prisoner is no longer insane, he shall so certify to the superintendent of the state prison, accompanied by a written statement regarding the mental condition of said prisoner. The superintendent shall thereupon cause the prisoner to be reconveyed to the state prison and to be kept there pursuant to the sentence of the court, and shall notify the governor of the return of said prisoner, and of his mental condition. If, however, in the opinion of the said medical director of said hospital the said prisoner is still insane, he shall so certify to the governor, accompanied by a written statement regarding the mental condition of the prisoner. Thereupon, the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, may further respite the execution of the sentence from time to time for a stated period, until it is determined that the prisoner is no longer insane, as herein provided.

If it appears to the satisfaction of the governor and council that a prisoner under sentence of death is pregnant, the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall from time to time respite the execution of said sentence for stated periods until it appears to their satisfaction that she is no longer pregnant.

Section 63. The governor, with the advice and consent of the council, may from time to time respite the execution of a sentence of death for stated periods so long as he may consider it necessary to afford him, with the advice and consent of the council, an opportunity to investigate and consider the facts of the case for the purpose of considering whether or not to pardon the prisoner.

Section 64. The execution of a sentence of death may be stayed from time to time for stated periods by the supreme judicial court, or a justice thereof, pending the final determination of any judicial question arising in or out of the case in which the sentence is imposed.

Section 65. There shall be present at the execution of the sentence of death, in addition to the superintendent, deputy and such officers of the state prison as the superintendent deems necessary, the commissioner of correction or his representative, the person performing the execution under the direction of the superintendent, if any, and the following physicians: the prison physician, the state surgeon, and a medical examiner for Norfolk county, or if any or all are unable to be present, such physicians as the superintendent approves. The physicians present shall be the legal witnesses of the execution. There may also be present, upon the request of the prisoner who is to be executed, the immediate members of the family of the prisoner. There may also be present, upon the request of said prisoner, a priest, minister, or other representative of religion. There may also be present the sheriff of the county where the prisoner was convicted, or his deputy, and, with the approval of the superintendent, not more than three other persons.

Section 66. There shall be a post mortem examination by a medical examiner for Norfolk county of the body of every prisoner executed in conformity with the sentence of a court.

Section 67. When the superintendent has executed the sentence of death upon a prisoner in obedience to a warrant from the court, he shall forthwith make return thereof under his hand, with the doings thereon, to the office of the clerk of said court.

Section 68. In all cases in which a sentence of death may be imposed, the court shall submit to the jury special questions concerning the issue of murder in the first degree. If the jury determines beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant is guilty of murder in the first degree, the jury shall specify whether the defendant is guilty of murder with deliberate premeditation, murder with extreme atrocity or cruelty, or murder in the commission or attempted commission of a crime punishable by imprisonment for life, or two or more of these. Upon a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree with deliberate premeditation, or murder in the first degree with extreme atrocity or cruelty, a presentence hearing shall be conducted, unless the commonwealth stipulates that none of the aggravating circumstances as defined in paragraph (a) of section sixty-nine exists, before the jury before which the case was tried; provided, however, that if in the opinion of the judge presiding at the presentence hearing, it is impossible or impracticable for the trial jury to sit at the presentence hearing, a new jury shall be impanelled to sit at the presentence hearing. The selection of that jury shall be according to the laws and rules governing the selection of a jury for the trial of a capital case. During the presentence hearing, the only issue shall be the determination of the punishment to be imposed. During such hearing the jury shall hear all additional relevant evidence presented by either the commonwealth or defendant in mitigation of punishment regardless of its admissibility under the rules governing the admission of evidence at criminal trials. During such hearing, the jury shall also hear such evidence in aggravation of punishment as is relevant to the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances as defined in said paragraph (a) of said section sixty-nine; provided, however, that only such evidence in aggravation of punishment as the commonwealth has made known to the defendant prior to his trial shall be admissible, and provided further, that said evidence is otherwise admissible according to the rules governing the admission of evidence at criminal trials. The jury shall also hear arguments by the defendant or his counsel or both and by the commonwealth regarding the punishment to be imposed. The commonwealth and the defendant or his counsel shall be allowed to make opening statements and closing arguments at the presentence hearing. The order of those statements and arguments and the order of presentation of evidence shall be the same as at trial. Upon the conclusion of evidence and arguments at the presentence hearing, the court shall instruct the jury orally and shall provide to the jury in writing the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances as determined by the court to be warranted by the evidence, and also any and all statutory mitigating circumstance or statutory mitigating circumstances for its deliberation. The judge shall also instruct the jury to consider any other relevant mitigating circumstance or mitigating circumstances. The judge shall also instruct the jury that they may not find that the penalty of death shall be imposed unless they shall first make a unanimous determination of the existence of one or more statutory aggravating circumstances beyond a reasonable doubt, and make a unanimous determination that the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances outweigh the statutory or other mitigating circumstance or statutory or other mitigating circumstances beyond a reasonable doubt.

The jury shall then retire to determine whether any statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances, as defined by said paragraph (a) of said section sixty-nine or any mitigating circumstance or mitigating circumstances, including but not limited to those defined by paragraph (b) of said section sixty-nine, exist. The jury shall further determine whether the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances it finds to exist outweigh the statutory or other mitigating circumstance or statutory or other mitigating circumstances it finds to exist. The jury shall be instructed that: (1) it may choose to find that the penalty of death shall be imposed upon the defendant or (2) it may choose not to find that the penalty of death shall be imposed upon the defendant. The jury, if its unanimous verdict is to impose the penalty of death, shall designate in writing, signed by the foreman of the jury, the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances which it unanimously found existed beyond a resonable doubt, and that the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances it so unanimously found outweighed any statutory mitigating circumstance or other mitigating circumstance or statutory mitigating circumstances or other mitigating circumstances beyond a reasonable doubt. The process of weighing the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances and statutory mitigating circumstance or statutory mitigating circumstances or other mitigating circumstance or other mitigating circumstances to determine the sentence, shall not be a mere tallying of statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances and statutory or other mitigating circumstance or statutory or other mitigating circumstances for the purpose of numerical comparison. Instead, it shall be a process by which the statutory aggravating circumstance or statutory aggravating circumstances and statutory mitigating circumstance or other mitigating circumstance or statutory mitigating circumstances or other mitigating circumstances relevant to sentence are considered for the purpose of determining whether the sentence, in view of all the relevant circumstances in an individual case, shall be life imprisonment without parole, or death.

After the jury has made its findings, the court shall set a sentence in accordance with section seventy.

The declaration of a mistrial during the course of the presentence hearing or any error in the presentence hearing determined on final appeal or otherwise shall not affect the validity of the conviction.

Section 69. (a) In all cases in which the death penalty may be authorized, the statutory aggravating circumstances are:

(5) the defendant was over the age of seventy-five at the time of the murder, or any other relevant consideration regarding the age of the defendant at the time of the murder;

(6) the defendant was battered or otherwise physically, sexually, or mentally abused by the victim in connection with or immediately prior to the murder for which the defendant was convicted;

Chap. 560. AN ACT CREATING THE MASSACHUSETTS CORPORATION FOR EDUCATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATIONS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide immediately for the establishment of a statewide, multipurpose, educational telecommunications network in the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Purpose. It is hereby found and declared that:-

The commonwealth is lagging behind other states in utilizing development in telecommunications technology in order to solve educational, health and human services, and manpower problems, to facilitate cooperation among public and private institutions, and to make education and information more accessible to the citizens of the commonwealth.

There is an urgent need to link private and public post-secondary educational institutions, school systems, libraries, and health institutions in the commonwealth to the many potential users of telecommunications by the establishment of a statewide, electronic, multisystem, multipurpose telecommunications network. Such a network would encourage and facilitate economies of scale and complementarity among such entities by providing a direct communication link for education, information, and data resource sharing; provide a means of delivering education and information to the home and community; contribute substantially to enlarging the pool of trained manpower essential to the economy of the commonwealth by connecting educational institutions to public and private worksites; and effect cost savings and improvements in the many non-instructional applications of telecommunications.

Therefore, it is found that it is in the public interest to promote the education, prosperity and general welfare of its citizens, a public purpose for which public money may be expended, by creating the Massachusetts Corporation for Educational Telecommunications to establish and operate a statewide telecommunications network to meet the educational and informational needs of business, industry, government, and the inhabitants of the commonwealth.

SECTION 2. The following terms as used in this act shall have the following meaning, except where the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Board", the board of directors of the Massachusetts Corporation for Educational Telecommunications.

"Network", the statewide educational telecommunications network to be established by the Massachusetts Corporation for Educational Telecommunications pursuant to the provisions of this act.

"Corporation", the Massachusetts Corporation for Educational Telecommunications.

"Current expenses", as applied to the network or any portion thereof established pursuant to the provisions of this act, the amount of reasonable and necessary expenses for the administration and operation of the network after it has become operational.

"Project cost", as applied to the network or any portion thereof created pursuant to the provisions of this act, embraces all or any part of the cost of construction, acquisition, alteration, enlargement, reconstruction, and remodeling of the network, including all lands, structures, real or personal property, rights, rights of way, air rights, franchises, easements and interests acquired or used in connection with the network, the cost of demolishing or removing any buildings or structures on land so acquired, including the cost of acquiring any lands to which such buildings or structures may be moved, financing charges, interest prior to, during, and for a period after completion of such construction and acquisition, amounts reasonably required to make the network operational, the cost of architectural, engineering, financial and legal services, plans, specifications, studies, surveys, estimates of costs and revenues, administrative expenses, expenses necessary or incident to determining the feasibility or practicability of constructing the network and such other expenses as may be necessary or incident to the construction and acquisition of the network.

"Start-up expenses", as applied to the network or any portion thereof created pursuant to the provisions of this act embraces all or part of the expenses for the administration and operation of the network incurred in the establishment of the network prior to the time the network becomes operational.

SECTION 3. There is hereby created a body, politic and corporate, to be known as the Massachusetts Corporation for Educational Telecommunications, hereinafter referred to as MCET. (b) The corporation shall hold the telecommunications fund in an account or accounts separate from other funds. All appropriations, grants and other funds received by the corporation and not specifically designated to be credited to the telecommunications fund, including all fees and charges collected by the corporation, and the proceeds of all investments, may be used to pay for the proper general expenses of the corporation.

(3) the establishment or operation of the network as proposed in the plan are beyond the financial means of any single institution or consortium of institutions located in the commonwealth, either because the capital costs or operating costs associated therewith are prohibitive or because the capital costs or operating costs associated with maintaining such a network at a level consistent with developing technology are prohibitive; and

Chap. 581. AN ACT ESTABLISHING A SET-OFF DEBT COLLECTION PROCEDURE TO COLLECT SUPPORT DEBTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 62C the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 62D.
SET-OFF DEBT COLLECTION.

Section 1. As used in this chapter, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:

"Claimant agency", the department of public welfare, in the exercise of its duty to collect support owed to the department for past public assistance paid, pursuant to section twenty-one of chapter eighteen and section three of chapter one hundred and eighteen.

"Debt", any liquidated sum due and owing to the claimant agency as reimbursement for past assistance paid to the debtor's spouse or children, whether or not there is an outstanding judgment for that sum.

"Debtor", any individual owing money for support payments to the claimant agency, which obligation has not been adjudged satisfied by court order, set aside by court order, or discharged in bankruptcy.

"Department", the department of revenue.

"Refund", an individual's income tax refund from the commonwealth.

Section 2. The claimant agency shall not be allowed to effect final set-off and collect debts through the remedy established by this chapter unless both the debt and the refund, if any, are at least fifty dollars.

Section 3. Subject to the limitations contained in this chapter, the department shall, upon the request of the claimant agency, render assistance in the collection of the delinquent accounts or debts owed to the claimant agency. This assistance shall be provided by setting off refunds due the debtor from the department by the sum certified by the claimant agency as due and owing.

Section 4. The claimant agency seeking to collect a debt through set-off shall notify the department in writing of its intent, certify the amount of the debt, identify the source of the debt, including, where necessary, the name of the court and the date and terms of its order, and supply information necessary to identify the debtor whose refund is sought to be set-off. Whenever possible, such identifying information shall include the full name of the debtor, social security number, address, and any other information required by regulations promulgated by the department. The notification and the furnishing of information by the claimant agency to the department must occur on or before a date specified by the department in the year preceding the calendar year in which the refund would be paid. Subject to said notification deadline, the notification shall be effective only to initiate set-off for claims against refunds that would be made in the calendar year subsequent to the year in which notification is made to the department.

Section 5. The department, upon receipt of notification from the claimant agency, shall determine whether the debtor is entitled to a refund of at least fifty dollars. If the debtor is entitled to a refund of at least fifty dollars, the department shall transfer to the claimant agency an amount equal to the refund owed or the amount of the debt certified by the claimant agency, whichever is less. When the refund exceeds the debt, the department shall send the excess amount to the debtor. Upon receipt of such funds transferred from the department pursuant to this section, the claimant agency shall deposit and hold such funds in an escrow account until a final determination of the validity of the debt is made.

At the time of the transfer of funds to the claimant agency pursuant to this section, the department shall notify the taxpayer or taxpayers whose refund is sought to be set-off that such transfer has been made. Such notice shall state the name of the debtor, the basis for the claim to the refund, the amount of the claimed debt, and the intention to set-off the refund against the debt. In addition, such notice shall state that the debtor has the opportunity to contest the validity and amount of the debt sought to be collected through set-off by applying in writing for a hearing before the claimant agency within thirty days of the date of mailing of the notice. The notice shall also include the name and mailing address of the claimant agency to which the application for a hearing shall be sent and shall advise the debtor that failure to apply in writing for a hearing within the thirty day period shall be deemed a waiver of the opportunity to contest the set-off.

In the case of a joint return, the notice shall also state the name of a nondebtor spouse named in the return, if any, against whom no debt is claimed and the fact that a debt is not claimed against such nondebtor spouse. The notice shall advise the nondebtor spouse that he may apply in writing for a hearing before the claimant agency to determine what portion of the refund is attributable to the income of the nondebtor spouse. The notice shall include the name and mailing address of the claimant agency to which the application for a hearing shall be sent and shall advise the nondebtor spouse that the failure to apply in writing for a hearing within the thirty day period shall be deemed a waiver of the opportunity to contest the set-off.

Section 6. If the claimant agency receives a written application from the debtor or nondebtor spouse contesting the claim upon which the proposed set-off is based, an administrative hearing shall be held by the claimant agency pursuant to the provisions of chapter thirty A. The purpose of said hearing shall be to determine whether the claim is valid and if so, whether the claimed sum asserted as due and owing is correct. No issue previously litigated by the parties in a court of competent jurisdiction and upon which a final decision on the merits has been rendered shall be considered at the hearing. If the amount due is incorrect, a proper adjustment shall be made. Where a nondebtor spouse is contesting the portion of the refund attributable to his income, the nondebtor spouse shall have the burden of proving what portion of a refund transferred to a claimant agency, if any, is attributable to his income.

Section 7. Any debtor shall have the right to appeal said action in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A. The claimant agency unless stayed by court order, shall finalize the set-off pursuant to section eight.

Section 8. Upon the final determination of the amount of the debt due and owing by means of a hearing pursuant to section six or upon the default of the debtor to request, in a timely manner, a hearing pursuant to section five, the claimant agency shall remove the amount of the debt due and owing from the escrow account established pursuant to said section five and shall credit such amount to the debtor's obligation and, whenever necessary, shall advise the appropriate court of such credit.

Section 9. Upon transfer of the debt due and owing from the escrow account, established pursuant to section five, to the credit of the debtor's account, the claimant agency shall notify the debtor in writing of the finalization of the set-off. Such notice shall include the amount of the refund transferred to the claimant agency, the amount of the debt finally determined to be owed to the claimant agency, the amount of the set-off, the amount of the refund, if any, returned to the nondebtor spouse, and the amount of any outstanding balance, if any, due to the debtor after the set-off. The claimant agency shall disburse any such outstanding balance due to the debtor along with the notice of the final set-off.

Section 10. Notwithstanding section twenty-one of chapter sixty-two C or any other provision of law prohibiting disclosure by the department of the contents of taxpayers' records of information and notwithstanding any confidentiality statute of the claimant agency, all information exchanged among the department, the claimant agency, the debtor, and the nondebtor spouse necessary to accomplish and effectuate the intent of this chapter is lawful.

The information obtained by the claimant agency from the department in accordance with the aforementioned exemption allowed shall only be used by the claimant agency in the pursuit of its debt collection duties and practices and any person employed by, or formerly employed by, the claimant agency who discloses any such information for any other purpose, except as otherwise allowed by section forty-three of chapter two hundred and seventy-one, shall be penalized under the provisions of said section forty-three.

Section 11. The commissioner of the department shall promulgate rules and regulations and establish proper forms necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

Section 12. The collection remedy under this chapter shall be in addition to and not in substitution of any other remedy available at law.

SECTION 2. Subsection (b) of section 21 of chapter 62C of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following clause:-

(12) the disclosure to the claimant agency of information necessary to effect a set-off for debt collection pursuant to chapter sixty-two D.

SECTION 3. Chapter 66 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 17A, as most recently amended by section 54C of chapter 367 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 17A. The records of the department of public welfare relative to all public assistance, and the records of the commission for the blind relative to aid to the blind, shall be public records; provided that they shall be open to inspection only by public officials of the commonwealth, which term shall include members of the general court, representatives of the federal government and those responsible for the preparation of annual budgets for such public assistance, the making of recommendations relative to such budgets, or the approval or authorization of payments for such assistance, or for any purposes directly connected with the administration of such public assistance, including the use of said records by the department of public welfare in set-off debt collections under chapter sixty-two D, and including the use of said records by the department of public welfare in concert with related wage reports to ascertain or confirm any fraud, abuse or improper payments to an applicant for or recipient of public assistance; and provided, further, that information relative to the record of an applicant for public assistance or a recipient thereof may be disclosed to him or his duly authorized agent. The commonwealth shall destroy public assistance records ten years after the discontinuance of aid granted under the provisions of chapters sixty-nine, one hundred and seventeen, one hundred and eighteen, one hundred and eighteen A, one hundred and eighteen D and one hundred and nineteen, in such manner as the commissioner or director may prescribe.

SECTION 4. Chapter 271 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 43, as most recently amended by section 54E of said chapter 367, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 43. Any person who, except for purposes directly connected with the administration of general public assistance, old age assistance, aid to the blind, or aid to families with dependent children, and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department of public welfare made under authority of section ten of chapter eighteen, or of the commission for the blind made under authority of section one hundred and forty-nine of chapter six, as the case may be, shall solicit, disclose, receive, make use of, or authorize, knowingly permit, participate in, or acquiesce in the use of, any list of, or names of, or any information concerning, persons applying for or receiving general public assistance, old age assistance, aid to families with dependent children or aid to the blind, directly or indirectly derived from the records, papers, files or communications of the department of public welfare, any city or town welfare department or bureau of old age assistance, or the commission for the blind, as the case may be, or acquired in the course of the performance of official duties, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars. Nothing herein shall prevent the disclosure, by the commissioner of revenue to the commissioner of public welfare, in concert with a wage reporting system, of such information as may be necessary to ascertain or confirm the existence of any fraud, abuse or improper payments to an applicant for or recipient of public assistance and nothing herein shall prevent the disclosure of information necessary for set-off debt collection pursuant to chapter sixty-two D.

SECTION 2. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter ninety C and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 90C.
PROCEDURE FOR MOTOR VEHICLE OFFENSES.

Section 1. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Audit sheet", a sheet of paper which shall contain a list of the issuance and disposition of each citation in each citation book in such form as the registrar shall approve, and which shall include, but need not be limited to, the following information: the police department or organization to which the citation book was issued, the offense, the name and address of the offender, the name of the issuing officer and the disposition.

"Automobile law violation", any violation of any statute, ordinance, by-law or regulation relating to the operation or control of motor vehicles other than a violation (1) of any rule, regulation, order, ordinance or by-law regulating the parking of motor vehicles established by any city or town or by any commission or body empowered by law to make such rules and regulations therein, or (2) of any provision of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine B.

"Citation", a notice upon which a police officer shall record an occurrence involving all automobile law violations by the person cited. Each citation shall be numbered consecutively and shall be in such form and such parts as established and approved jointly by the administrative justices of the district and Boston municipal court departments, after consultation with the registrar.

"Citation book", twenty-five citations, stapled or bound together in book form. Each such book shall be consecutively numbered.

"District court", a division of the district court department or a session thereof for holding court and the Boston municipal court department or a session thereof for holding court.

"Division", a division of the district court department or, in the case of the Boston municipal court department, the department.

"Police chief", the chief or the head of the organized police department of a city or town, the commissioner of public safety, the superintendent of the metropolitan district commission police, the registrar of motor vehicles, the state superintendent of buildings, the chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, such person as the trustees of the University of Massachusetts shall appoint as chief of the police officers appointed under section thirty-two A of chapter seventy-five, such persons as the commissioner of mental health may designate at each institution of the department of mental health as chief of the special police officers thereat appointed under section ten B of chapter one hundred and forty-seven or the chief of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority police department.

"Police officer", any officer, other than an investigator or examiner of the commercial motor vehicle division of the department of public utilities, authorized to make arrest or serve criminal process, any person appointed by the registrar under section twenty-nine of chapter ninety, any person appointed by the trustees of the University of Massachusetts under section thirty-two A of chapter seventy-five and any person appointed by the commissioner of public safety under section ten B of chapter one hundred and forty-seven.

"Registrar", the registrar of motor vehicles.

Section 2. Each police chief shall issue citation books to each permanent full-time police officer of his department whose duties may or will include traffic duty or traffic law enforcement, or directing or controlling traffic, and to such other officers as he at his discretion may determine. Each police chief shall obtain a receipt on a form approved by the registrar from such officer to whom a citation book has been issued. Each police chief shall also maintain citation books at police headquarters for the recording of automobile law violations by police officers to whom citation books have not been issued.

Notwithstanding any provision of general or special laws to the contrary, other than a provision of this chapter, any police officer assigned to traffic enforcement duty shall, whether or not the offense occurs within his presence, record the occurrence of automobile law violations upon a citation, filling out the citation and each copy thereof as soon as possible and as completely as possible and indicating thereon whether a written warning shall be issued; whether the violation is one which may be the subject of an application for a complaint as provided by subsection B of section three; or whether the matter may be disposed of non-criminally in accordance with subdivision (1) of subsection (A) of said section three. Said police officer shall inform the violator of the violation and shall give a copy of the citation to the violator. Such citation shall be signed by said police officer and by the violator to acknowledge that the citation has been received. If a written warning is indicated no further action need be taken by the violator.

A failure to give a copy of the citation to the violator at the time and place of the violation shall constitute a defense in any trial for such violation, except where the violator could not have been stopped or where additional time was reasonably necessary to determine the nature of the violation or the identity of the violator, or where the court finds that a circumstance, not inconsistent with the purpose of this section to create a uniform and simplified method for disposing of violations of automobile law, justifies the failure. In such case the automobile law violation shall be recorded upon a citation as soon as possible after such violation and the citation shall be delivered to the violator or mailed to him at his residential or mail address or to the address appearing on his license or registration as appearing in registry of motor vehicles record.

At or before the completion of his tour of duty, a police officer to whom a citation book has been issued and who has recorded the occurrence of an automobile violation upon a citation shall deliver to his police chief or to the person duly authorized by said chief all remaining copies of such citation duly signed, except the police officer's copy which shall be retained by him. If the police officer has directed that a written warning be issued, the part of the citation designated as the registry of motor vehicles record shall be forwarded forthwith by the police chief or person authorized by him to the registrar of motor vehicles and shall be kept by the registrar in his main office. If the registrar receives three such written warnings to the same offender within any twelve-month period, starting with the date of the first violation, after due hearing pursuant to section twenty-two of chapter ninety, he shall forthwith suspend the license or right to operate of such person for a period of seven days.

If the police officer has not directed that a written warning be issued, said police chief or person duly authorized by him shall retain one copy of the citation for department use and shall at a time not later than the beginning of the fourth court day after the date of the violation cause to have delivered two such copies to the clerk-magistrate of the appropriate district court division. The clerk-magistrate of each division shall maintain a separate docket for all such citations and shall, following adjudication of such citation by said division or payment of such citation to said division, forward forthwith one copy of such citation with the court abstract thereon to the registry. No other form of notice, except as provided in this section, need be given to the violator.

If a citation is spoiled, mutilated or voided, it shall be endorsed with a full explanation thereof by the police officer voiding such citation, and shall be returned to the registrar forthwith and shall be duly accounted for upon the audit sheet for the citation book from which said citation was removed.

Section 3. (A) (1) If a police officer records the occurrence of an automobile law violation as defined in section one for which the maximum penalty does not exceed one hundred dollars for the first offense and does not provide for a penalty of imprisonment, the citation shall notify the violator that he may contest the violation at a non-criminal trial before a clerk-magistrate of the district court division having jurisdiction of the judicial district in which the violation occurred or that, in the alternative, he may waive said trial and pay the penalty for the violation as established by schedules of penalties promulgated by the chief justices of the district and Boston municipal court departments for their respective departments. The scheduled penalties shall not exceed the maximum fines established by law for the particular violation. A copy of such schedule of fines shall be so posted in the office of the clerk-magistrate of each district court division and be plainly visible to the public. The total amount of the fines payable by the violator shall be indicated by the police officer on the citation in accordance with such schedule.

If the violator elects to waive trial and pay the scheduled fine he must, not later than ten days after the date of said violation, appear before the clerk-magistrate of the district court division having jurisdiction of the judicial district in which the violation occurred, either personally or through an agent duly authorized in writing, with the citation appropriately marked, or within said time, mail to such magistrate, with the citation appropriately marked, the scheduled fine provided therein. Such payment, when made by mail, shall be made only by postal note, money order, or check. The payment of such fine shall operate as a final disposition of the case.

Appearances and proceedings pursuant to this subdivision shall not be deemed criminal. The violator shall not be required to report to any probation officer and no record of the case shall be entered in any probation records.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a police officer records the occurrence of an automobile law violation as defined herein, he may direct that a written warning be issued.

If any person notified to appear hereunder indicates by return of the citation, appropriately marked, within ten days after the date of the violation, that he requests a trial on the merits of the violation charged, the clerk-magistrate shall as soon as practicable notify the officer concerned and the violator of the date on which they shall appear ready for trial before the clerk-magistrate. Clerk-magistrates shall exercise their authority to conduct such hearings and all other authority hereunder subject to the limitations of section sixty-two C of chapter two hundred and twenty-one. Either party may appeal the finding and disposition of the clerk-magistrate to a justice of the court in which the case was heard, who shall then hear the case de novo. The decision of the judge shall be final and no further review shall be allowed. Upon imposing a penalty after trial, the clerk-magistrate or the justice, as the case may be, may impose at a minimum the scheduled fine as defined in this section for the particular violation or may increase the penalty to an amount not exceeding the maximum fine permitted by law for the particular violation.

If any person fails without good cause to appear for trial at the time indicated by the clerk-magistrate, or, having claimed an appeal de novo, fails without good cause to appear before the justice of the court at the time scheduled for hearing the case, notice of such hearing having been given either personally or by mail to the address shown on registry of motor vehicle records unless another address is indicated on the citation or on the request for trial, the court shall issue a warrant for the arrest of such person and proceed against him criminally according to law and the registrar shall be notified that he may suspend the right or license of such person to operate a motor vehicle after due hearing pursuant to section twenty-two of chapter ninety, because of his failure to so appear. If a right or license is so suspended, the holder of the license or right shall not be eligible for reinstatement of his license until he shall have appeared before said court and answered to the charge made against him. The clerk-magistrate of the court shall, if the citation is properly returned at a later time, notify the registrar forthwith of such fact.

(2) If a violator fails within ten days of the date of violation either to confess the violation charged and pay the scheduled fine or notify the clerk-magistrate that he wishes to contest the violation at a trial before the clerk-magistrate, the clerk-magistrate shall treat one part of the citation as an application for complaint and prepare such complaint. The court shall issue a warrant for the arrest of such violator and proceed against him criminally according to law and the registrar shall be notified that he may suspend the right or license of such person to operate a motor vehicle after due hearing pursuant to section twenty-two of chapter ninety, because of his failure to so appear. If a right or license is so suspended, the holder of the license or right shall not be eligible for reinstatement of his license until he shall have appeared before said court and answered to the charge made against him. The clerk-magistrate of the court shall, if the citation is properly returned at a later time, notify the registrar forthwith of such fact.

(B) If a police officer records the occurrence of an automobile law violation as defined in section one for which the maximum statutory penalty for the first offense exceeds one hundred dollars or provides for a sentence of imprisonment, the police officer may direct that a written warning be issued, may arrest the violator without a warrant pursuant to section twenty-one of chapter ninety for such offenses as specified in said section or may direct that an application for a complaint be filed. If the police officer directs that an application for a complaint be filed, he shall so indicate on the citation. If he so indicates, the citation given to the violator shall have printed thereon a statement that the violator shall, if he so requests in writing to the appropriate court within four days of the alleged violation, be granted a hearing on said violation before any process shall issue, as provided in section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and eighteen. If an application for a complaint is so indicated and a complaint is issued, with or without the above-mentioned hearing, the procedure established for criminal cases shall then be followed. If the police officer directs that an application for a complaint be filed, the citation shall serve as the application and the police chief or person authorized by him shall

If a violation under this subsection is recorded by a police officer in conjunction with and arising from the same occurrence as a violation that could be disposed of pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (1) of subsection (A), none of the violations may be disposed of pursuant to the provisions of said subdivision (1) of subsection (A).

Section 4. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent a person other than a police officer from applying for a criminal complaint for an automobile law violation, and such person need not show that the alleged violator has been issued a citation in connection with such violation.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent a police officer from arresting any person without a warrant pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-one of chapter ninety for such offenses as specified in said section when such arrest is deemed necessary. If such arrest is made, such arrest shall be noted on the citation and one of the copies of the citation forwarded to the district court division which shall serve as the application for complaint. The police chief may from time to time, designate one person to sign all such complaints. If such arrest is made in good faith, the arresting officer shall not be liable in civil proceedings arising from such arrest.

Any provision of this chapter to the contrary notwithstanding, any payment of a fine made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall operate as a conviction for purposes of registry of motor vehicles action pursuant to chapter ninety.

Section 5. A citation issued pursuant to this chapter shall not be deemed a writ as comprehended under the provisions of Article V of Chapter VI of Part the Second of the Constitution of Massachusetts.

Each police chief shall accept and be responsible for all citation books issued to his department. When the twenty-five citations in a citation book are issued or used, the police chief shall sign and return one of the completed audit sheets to the registrar, keeping the other audit sheet for the files of his department. The registrar may at any time demand and inspect any citation, citation book or audit sheet used by any police department or police chief.

The clerk-magistrate of a district court division or an assistant clerk or other person designated by said clerk-magistrate shall accept waiver of trial, plea of guilty, and payment of fine from any person summoned to appear before such court on a complaint alleging violation of any law relating to the operation, parking or control of bicycles, or relating to the parking of motor vehicles, for which the punishment is a fine or forfeiture not exceeding the sum of fifty dollars and does not include a sentence of imprisonment, or on a complaint alleging violation of the weight limits provided in section nineteen A of chapter ninety. Judgment shall be entered against any person filing such waiver of trial and plea of guilty. Such waivers and pleas shall be made in writing on forms which shall be established by the administrative justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department and by the administrative justice of the district court department for all district court divisions. A copy of such schedule of fines shall be posted in the office of the clerk-magistrate of each district court division and shall be plainly visible to the public. The fines listed on said schedule shall not exceed the maximum fines established by law for the particular type of violation.

No such waiver, plea, and payment of fine shall be accepted under this section unless made before said clerk-magistrate, either personally or by an agent duly authorized in writing, or by mailing to such clerk-magistrate such payment, if by mail, to be made only by postal note, money order, or check made out to the clerk-magistrate of the division.

Protective services shall include, but not be limited to, the following: the capacity to respond to an emergency; protective services case work; the capacity to provide or arrange for homemaker, home-health aide, transportation, legal assistance, counseling and nutrition services and guardianship and conservatorship, or protective order through the court.

The department or the designated agency is authorized to provide or arrange for additional services necessary to assist and protect elderly persons who have been abused, including, but not limited to the following: emergency housing, medical care, mental health care, emergency financial assistance, foster care and adult day care services.

Section 19. (a) Any elderly person who requests or affirmatively consents to the receipt of protective services may receive said services. If the person withdraws or refuses consent, the service shall not be provided or continued except as provided in section twenty.

(b) No person shall interfere with the provision of protective services to an elderly person who requests or consents to receive such services. In the event that interference occurs on a continuing basis, the department, a protective services agency, or the public guardian may petition the court to enjoin such interference.

Section 20. (a) If the department or its designated agency has reasonable cause to believe that an elderly person is suffering from abuse and lacks the capacity to consent to the provision of protective services, the department or its designated agency may petition the court for a finding that the elderly person is incapable of consenting to the provision of protective services. Said petition shall set forth the specific facts upon which the department or the designated agency relied in making the determination. The court shall hold a hearing on the matter within fourteen days of the filing of the petition. The court shall give notice to the elderly person who is the subject of the petition at least five days prior to the date set for the hearing. The elderly person who is the subject of the petition shall have the right to be present, be represented by counsel, present evidence, and examine and cross-examine witnesses. If the elderly person who is the subject of the petition is indigent, the court shall appoint counsel to represent such elderly person. If the court determines that the elderly person lacks the capacity to waive the right to counsel, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the interests of such elderly person. If, after hearing, the court determines, based upon clear and convincing evidence, that such elderly person has been abused, is in need of protective services and lacks the capacity to consent and no other person who is authorized to consent is available or willing to consent, the court may appoint a conservator, guardian, or other person authorized to consent to the provision of protective services; provided, however, that the court shall establish the least restrictive form of fiduciary representation that will satisfy the needs of such elderly person. In addition to or in the alternative, the court may issue an order requiring the provision of services. The order shall contain a specific description of the services to be provided and insure that the least restrictive alternatives are utilized.

(b) If an emergency exists and the department, its designated agency, a member of the immediate family or a caretaker has reasonable cause to believe that an elderly person is suffering from abuse and lacks the capacity to consent to the provision of protective services, said department, designated agency, member of the immediate family or caretaker may petition the court for an emergency order of protective services. The court shall give notice to the elderly person who is the subject of the petition at least twenty-four hours prior to the hearing. The court may dispense with notice upon finding that immediate and reasonable foreseeable physical harm to the individual or others will result from the twenty-four hour delay and that reasonable attempts have been made to give such notice. If after the hearing, the court determines, based on clear and convincing evidence, that the elderly person has been or is being abused, that an emergency exists, and that the elderly person lacks the capacity to consent to the provision of services, the court may order the provision of protective services on an emergency basis. The court shall order only those services necessary to remove the conditions creating the emergency and shall specifically designate the authorized services in its order. The order for emergency protective services shall remain in effect for a period not to exceed seventy-two hours. Said order may be extended for an additional seventy-two hour period if the court finds that the extension is necessary to remove the emergency.

(c) The court shall not order an institutional placement or change of residence unless it finds that no less restrictive alternative will meet the needs of the elderly person. No elderly person may be committed to a mental health facility pursuant to this chapter. The elderly person or his or her court-appointed representative, the department, or the designated agency may petition to have any order issued pursuant to subsection (a) or (b) set aside or modified at any time.

Section 21. (a) Subject to appropriation, the department shall establish a geriatric evaluation process for the purpose of conducting a comprehensive physical, mental, or social evaluation of an elderly person for whom a petition has been filed in a court for appointment of a conservator or guardian, under the provisions of clause (3) of section seventeen, or for an emergency order for protective services.

(b) The evaluation of an elderly person conducted by the geriatric evaluation process shall include at least the following:

(1) the name and address of the place where the person is residing and of the person or agency, if any, who is providing services at present;

(2) a description of the treatment and services, if any, presently being provided to the person;

(3) an evaluation of the person's present physical, mental, and social conditions; and

(4) a recommendation concerning the least restrictive course of services, care or treatment consistent with the person's needs.

(c) Subject to appropriation, the cost of this evaluation shall be borne by the department.

(d) Such elderly person shall have the right, at his own expense to secure an independent medical and psychological or psychiatric examination relevant to the issue involved in any hearing under this section and to present a report of his independent evaluation or the evaluator's personal testimony as evidence at the hearing.

Section 22. The department shall establish, by regulation, financial eligibility guidelines which provide a procedure for reimbursement by elderly persons for all or part of cost of protective services. If the department or the designated agency determines, pursuant to section eighteen, that an elderly person who is in need of protective services has sufficient resources to pay for part or all of the cost of protective services, it shall initiate said procedures for reimbursement. If the department or designated agency determines that an elderly person does not have sufficient resources, no reimbursement for any such costs shall be charged to the elderly person.

No elderly person shall be required to reimburse the department for part or all of the cost of protective services unless he or she has been notified prior to the commencement of service provision that a reimbursement will be charged. No elderly person shall be required to reimburse the department for protective services before service provision commences.

Section 23. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, all records containing personal data which are created, collected, used, maintained or disseminated pursuant to this chapter shall not be public records, and shall be governed by the provisions of chapter sixty-six A, the notice provisions of section sixty-three of chapter thirty and the enforcement provisions of section three B of chapter two hundred and fourteen.

(b) If the department, any designated agency, or any other agency obligated to make an assessment under this chapter determines that the allegations in a report cannot be substantiated, it shall within three months of such determination, either (i) destroy said report and any other records containing personal data created because of the receipt of said report or (ii) physically remove therefrom all personal identifiers; provided, however, that the department, the designated agency or any other agency obligated to make assessments may create and hold whatever statistical records it needs for purposes of planning and reporting, as may be prescribed by regulations adopted by the department pursuant to section two of chapter thirty. Each government agency shall promulgate regulations prescribing the manner of creating and holding its own such statistical records, and the department shall adopt such regulations for itself and any designated agency.

(c) The department, any designated agency, or any other agency obligated to make an assessment under this chapter shall inform in writing an individual, upon his request, whether he is a data subject, as that term is defined in section one of chapter sixty-six A, with respect to records created or maintained under this chapter, and if so, the department or agency shall make such data fully available to him or his authorized representative, upon his request, in a form comprehensible to him, unless doing so is prohibited or excused under the provisions of this or any other statute. In making any disclosure or information to a data subject the department or agency may remove personal identifiers relating to a third person, except where such third person is an officer or employee of a government or non-governmental department or agency obligated to make assessments under this chapter.

(d) Any agent or employee of the department, a designated agency, or any other agency obligated to make an assessment under this chapter who violates the provisions of chapter sixty-six A, as modified by this section, with respect to records created or maintained under this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or, if harm shall have resulted to anyone whose privacy was sought to be protected by the provision violated, by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, and, if such agent or employee is employed by the commonwealth, he shall also be subject to administrative disciplinary action pursuant to regulations adopted by the department or agency under section two of chapter thirty A.

Section 24. Within one hundred and twenty days following the end of each fiscal year, the department shall submit a report to the governor, the general court and the public which shall include a description of the activities of the department and all designated agencies pursuant to sections fourteen to twenty-seven, inclusive, during the preceding fiscal year. Said report shall contain statistical information about the number and types of reports received under section fifteen; the results of the assessments and evaluations conducted and the amount, type and costs of services provided under section eighteen; and information on the quality of services provided and the results of such services in terms of alleviating abuse. Said report shall identify problems that may arise in the implementation of this chapter and shall contain the recommendations of the department for action on the part of the legislature.

Section 25. The secretary shall adopt and from time to time revise rules and regulations for the implementation of the provisions of sections fifteen to twenty-four, inclusive.

Section 26. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to be a limitation of the powers and responsibilities assigned by law to other departments or agencies.

SECTION 1A. The department of elder affairs shall, subject to appropriation, implement the provisions of section one of this act on or before July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 2. If any provision of the act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of the act are declared severable.

SECTION 12. Chapter 168 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 34B, inserted by section 29 of said chapter 155 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 34B. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more thrift institutions may merge or consolidate into a single savings bank or into a single thrift institution, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of trustees of each corporation and by the board of each thrift institution, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the corporators of each corporation and by each thrift institution in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of trustees and directors, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearings as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the depositors and shareholders of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each corporation at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of each such thrift institution as required by any applicable law or regulation governing such institution.

Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section nine and any applicable provision governing a thrift institution. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and thrift institutions setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. and the insurer for any such thrift institution, that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions as herein provided:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institution actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to the provisions of this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the guaranty fund, surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any savings bank and the offices of any thrift institution merged or consolidated under the provisions of this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different states or counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, a thrift institution shall mean a federal savings and loan association, a federal mutual saving bank which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth or in a state referred to in clause (d) of the first paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C or a savings bank or savings and loan association chartered by a state referred to in said clause (d).

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section any such savings bank, by vote of at least two-thirds of its corporators at a meeting duly called for that purpose preceded by notice in writing sent to each corporator, to the commissioner and the Mutual Savings Central Fund by registered mail at least sixty days before said meeting, may consolidate or merge into such a federal savings and loan association or federal mutual savings bank in accordance with the laws of the United States and without the approval of any authority of the commonwealth.

SECTION 13. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 34D, inserted by said section 29 of said chapter 155, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 34D. Any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different states or counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section eighty-five or section seventy-six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be to the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization shall be deemed to be to the articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company, commercial bank or a savings bank, co-operative bank or savings and loan association which has converted under applicable provisions of law, chartered by the commonwealth or a state referred to in clause (d) of the first paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, any such savings bank by vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of each class of its capital stock at a meeting duly called for that purpose, preceded by a notice in writing sent to each stockholder of record, the commissioner and the Mutual Savings Central Fund, by registered mail at least sixty days before said meeting, may consolidate or merge into a federally-chartered stock corporation in accordance with the laws of the United States and without the approval of any authority of the commonwealth.

SECTION 14. Section 35 of said chapter 168, inserted by said section 29 of said chapter 155, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth, fifth and sixth paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following three paragraphs:-

The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to the deposit or other liabilities as hereinbefore provided. In the case of any new savings bank formed for the purpose of purchasing any or all the assets and assuming any or all the liabilities of any state-chartered bank in possession or assisted as aforesaid, the commissioner may impose such other and further conditions and restrictions concerning the business, investments and operations of such new savings bank as he may deem necessary or advisable. So much of sections ten and thirteen as provide that no person shall hold an office in two savings banks at the same time shall not prevent an officer or trustee of any other savings bank from serving as an officer or trustee of such new bank, or of a state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a savings bank hereunder.

Before all or substantially all of the assets or stock of any such corporation shall be sold to a corporation other than one chartered under chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those corporators present and voting at a special meeting called for that purpose, of the corporation proposing to sell its assets or stock. SECTION 15. Chapter 170 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 24, inserted by section 46 of said chapter 155, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 24. With the approval of the commissioner, any such corporation may advance or loan upon, or purchase, the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or any federally-chartered bank, including any state-chartered bank in possession of the commissioner under sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven and any state-chartered bank assisted by or in possession of its insurer and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more banks at such valuations and upon such terms and conditions as shall have been agreed upon by vote of two-thirds of the directors and by a two-thirds vote of the applicable board of a state-chartered bank or by a vote of a federally-chartered bank as required by any applicable law or regulation governing such bank; and the corporation or corporations making or participating in such an advance, loan or purchase, for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the share liabilities or deposits, and other liabilities of any other state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. The request for such approval shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. In the event of approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the number of directors, the investment of funds of co-operative banks and to the limitation upon share and accounts referred to in section sixteen, shall not apply. The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to the share liabilities or deposits, and other liabilities assumed as hereinbefore provided. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Co-operative Central Bank and the insurer for each such other bank, that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such an advance, loan or purchase.

So much of section eight A as provides that no person shall hold an office in two co-operative banks at the same time shall not prevent an officer or director of any co-operative bank from serving as an officer or director of a state-chartered bank or a federally-chartered bank the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a co-operative bank hereunder.

Before all or substantially all of the assets of any such corporation shall be sold, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those shareholders present, qualified to vote and voting, at a special meeting called for the purpose, of the shareholders of the corporation proposing so to sell its assets. In addition, such notice shall be conspicuously posted in the main office and branch offices for a period of no less than thirty days immediately before said meeting unless this requirement of posting such notice is waived in writing by the commis-

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered bank shall mean a trust company, commercial bank or a savings bank, co-operative bank or savings and loan association chartered by the commonwealth or a state referred to in clause (d) of the first paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C. A federally-chartered bank shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal mutual savings bank which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth or a state referred to in said clause (d).

SECTION 16. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 26B, inserted by section 46 of said chapter 155, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 26B. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more thrift institutions may merge or consolidate into a single co-operative bank or into a single thrift institution, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and of the board of directors of each thrift institution, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the shareholders of each corporation and by each thrift institution in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of directors, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearings as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the shareholders and depositors of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each corporation present, qualified to vote and voting at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of each thrift institution as required by any applicable law or organization governing such institution.

Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section forty-seven and any applicable provision governing a thrift institution. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and thrift institutions setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the co-operative central bank and the insurer for any such thrift institution, that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided:-

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the guaranty fund, surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any co-operative bank and the offices of any federal thrift institution merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different states or counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, a thrift institution shall mean a federal savings and loan association, a federal mutual saving bank which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth or in a state referred to in clause (d) of the first paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C or a savings bank or savings and loan association chartered by a state referred to in said clause (d).

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section any such co-operative bank by vote of at least two-thirds of its directors at a meeting duly called for that purpose, preceded by notice in writing sent to each director, to the commissioner, and the Co-operative Central Bank by registered mail at least sixty days before said meeting, may consolidate or merge into such a federal savings and loan association or federal mutual savings bank in accordance with the laws of the United States and without the approval of any authority of the commonwealth.

SECTION 17. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 26D, inserted by said section 46 of said chapter 155, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 26D. Any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different states or counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be to the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization shall be deemed to be to the articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

SECTION 3. The first paragraph of section 19A of said chapter 138 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as most recently amended by section 3 of said chapter 929, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The commission may annually grant to individual citizens of the commonwealth employed as salesmen for licensees under section eighteen, eighteen A, nineteen B or nineteen C permits which shall authorize such salesmen on behalf of their employers to solicit orders for alcoholic beverages from any licensee under this chapter to whom their employers are authorized to sell such beverages, and the fee for each such permit shall be fifteen dollars.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 138 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 19B the following section:-

Section 19C. (a) For the purpose of encouraging the development of domestic farms, the commission shall issue a farmer-brewery license to any applicant who is both a citizen and resident of the commonwealth and to applying partnerships composed solely of such individuals, and to applying corporations organized under the laws of the commonwealth or organized under the laws of any other state of the United States and admitted to do business in the commonwealth, unless: (1) such person does not comply with reasonable application procedures required by the commission; or

(2) the commission determines that such person is not of responsible character; or

(3) a church or school located within five hundred feet of the brewery premises has objected to issuance of the license in accordance with section sixteen C; or

(4) the commission determines that the applicant retains or owns an interest, directly or indirectly, in the business of a licensee under section twelve or fifteen; or

(5) the commission determines that the applicant retains or owns an interest, directly or indirectly in more than one business licensed under section eighteen; or

(6) the applicant has not furnished the requisite license fee or bond; or

(7) the commission determines that the co-partners, corporate officials or stockholders of the applicant do not meet the requirements of clauses (2), (4) and (5), or that the manager or agent intended to conduct the farmer-brewery business on the applicant's behalf does not meet such requirements, or that such co-partners, officials, stockholders, agent or manager remain undisclosed.

(b) The commission may on its own motion, and shall upon the written request of any applicant who has been refused a farmer-brewery license or has been refused transfer or renewal of such a license, hold an evidentiary hearing, notice of which shall be mailed to the applicant at the address given in his application. Such hearing shall be before the commission, or a member thereof. The commission shall present its reasons for refusing issuance. The applicant may appear in person or by counsel, may cross-examine witnesses for the commission and may present evidence. The hearing shall be stenographically or sound recorded. If the hearing is conducted by an examiner, the examiner shall report on the hearing to the commission. The commission shall decide within thirty days of the completion of the hearing whether to issue the farmer-brewery license or grant the transfer or renewal. If the commission refuses the license, transfer or renewal following the hearing, notice in writing of the refusal shall be mailed to the applicant. In all such cases, the commission shall keep on file a statement in the form of an opinion of the reasons for the refusal, and shall furnish a copy thereof to the applicant.

(c) Any applicant who has appeared before the commission at such a hearing and who has been refused a farmer-brewery license or the transfer or renewal of such a license may appeal to the superior court of the county where the applicant resides or has his principal place of business within the commonwealth, or to the superior court for Suffolk county.

(d) Every applicant for an original brewery license or for a transfer of such a license shall, within seven days after filing an application with the commission, send written notice of his application by registered mail, return receipt requested, to:

If the authorities in charge of any such school or church complain to the commission in writing that a brewery license has been issued or transferred without the mailing of the requisite notice, and that they object to such issuance or transfer, the commission shall hold a hearing to determine whether the requisite notice was mailed. If after a hearing the commission determines that notice was not mailed as required, then the commission shall cancel the farmer-brewery license unless, such school or church had actual notice, prior to issuance or transfer, of the application and of the right to object under said sixteen C, or such school or church did not complain as soon as possible after actual notification of the application and of the right to object.

Any farmer-brewer aggrieved by the cancellation of his license or any school or church aggrieved by the commission's refusal to cancel such a license may appeal as provided herein.

(e) A farmer-brewer may operate a farmer's brewery under such conditions as the commission may prescribe by regulation.

(9) at wholesale to any person in any foreign country.

(h) A farmer-brewer may not sell at retail to consumers any malt beverage or malt beverage product not produced by the brewery or produced for the brewery and sold under the brewery brand name. All retail sales must be made on the brewery premises.

(i) A farmer-brewer may be licensed by the local licensing authorities to sell malt beverages for consumption on the brewery premises in accordance with the pertinent provisions of section twelve and such regulations as the commission may prescribe.

For the above purposes, a barrel shall be thirty-one gallons.

(m) Every applicant for a farmer-brewery license shall, at the time of filing an application, pay a license fee based on a reasonable estimate of the amount of malt beverages to be produced during the year covered by the license. Persons holding farmer-brewery licenses shall report annually at the end of the year covered by the license the amount of malt beverages produced during such year. If the total amount of such malt beverages exceeds the amount permitted by the fee already paid, the licensee shall pay whatever additional fee is owing under this section.

Every bond shall recite whether it is a general obligation of the authority or a special obligation thereof payable solely from particular funds pledged to its payment.

Section 39F. Bonds may be issued under this act without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any condition or things other than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required therefor by the provisions of this act, and the validity of and security for any bonds issued by the authority pursuant to the provisions of this act shall not be affected by the existence or nonexistence of any such consent or other proceedings, conditions or things. Provisions of this act relating to the preparation and submission of plans, proposals, and reports shall not affect the validity of and security for any bonds issued by the authority pursuant to the provisions of this act and bonds may be issued either before or after such preparation and submission.

Section 39G. All moneys received by the authority pursuant to the provisions of this act, whether as proceeds from the issue of bonds or as revenues or otherwise, shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this act.

Section 39H. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this act or any recitals in any bonds issued under this act, all such bonds issued by the authority shall be deemed to be investment securities under the Uniform Commercial Code.

Section 391. The commonwealth, acting by and through the executive office for administration and finance, shall enter into a contract with the authority providing that the commonwealth shall pay contract assistance to the authority. Such contract assistance is limited to an amount equal to the annual debt service on one hundred million dollars of bonds outstanding at any one time, provided, however, that any bond for the payment or redemption of which funds or United States obligations in sufficient amount, with earnings thereon, are held in trust shall not be deemed outstanding for this purpose. It is the intent of this act that the total authorized amount of such contract assistance be provided to the authority. The amount of bonds of any issue outstanding at any one time for the purpose of this section shall be determined by multiplying the principal amount of the bonds of such issue outstanding at such time by the percentage of the debt service on the bonds of such issue used in calculating the amount to be paid by the commonwealth pursuant to the contract. The principal amount of such bonds shall (1) in the case of any bonds sold by the authority at a discount be equal to the net proceeds thereof, determined by subtracting the discount from the face amount of such bonds, plus the discount accrued to the date as of which the amount is to be determined, calculated on the basis of semi-annual compounding, and (2) in the case of a bond whose face amount increases over the life of the bond shall be the face amount of the bond as of the date as of which the amount is to be determined and in determining the principal amount of bonds to be outstanding at any future date by reason of such accrual of discount or increase in face amount, there shall be subtracted from the amount of principal, determined as hereinbefore provided, the principal which shall have become due prior thereto.

The particular bonds of the authority whose debt service is to be included in the measure of contract assistance and the percentage of such debt service to be so included shall be determined by a designation pursuant to such contract agreed to by the authority and the secretary of the executive office for administration and finance.

Any debt service on bonds issued by the authority, with respect to which contract assistance is provided, shall mature serially beginning not later than ten years after the date of the bonds and ending not later than forty years after the date of the bonds, so that the amount payable with respect to principal and interest combined, in the tenth year and each subsequent year measured from the date of the bonds, shall be as nearly equal as in the opinion of the authority is practicable or, in the alternative, in accordance with a schedule providing a more rapid amortization of principal.

The contract entered into pursuant to the provisions of this section shall include such provisions as the secretary of the executive office for administration and finance deems necessary and desirable to assure the efficient operation of the authority and the minimum burden on the commonwealth. Such contract may also provide that such contract assistance shall be paid by the commonwealth directly to the trustee or paying agent for the bonds with respect to which the contract assistance is provided.

The contract entered into pursuant to the provisions of this section shall constitute a general obligation of the commonwealth for which the faith and credit of the commonwealth is pledged for the benefit of the holders of the authority's bonds.

Pursuant to section thirty-nine B the authority may pledge contract assistance as security for the payment of bonds issued by the authority. Such pledge may, in the discretion of the authority, be for the security of bonds whose debt service is included in the measure of the assistance or for the security of such bonds and other bonds of the authority.

Such additional pension on account of any child shall be paid only so long as such child survives, remains unmarried and is under the age eighteen or, if over said age, remains physically or mentally incapacitated from earning or, if over said age and under age twenty-one, is a full-time student at an accredited educational institution. The words "full-time student" shall mean a child who is in full-time attendance in an accredited educational institution offering full-time courses of study equivalent to or higher than secondary school study. The words "accredited educational institution" shall mean any school, college, or university that is licensed, approved, accredited, as the case may be, in the state in which it is located.

(b) For purposes of determining the normal yearly amount of any pension in accordance with the provision of this section or of section nine on account of the retirement or death of any member classified in Group 4 as a call fireman or reserve policeman, who was performing the duties of a call fireman or reserve policeman at the time the injury was sustained or the hazard was undergone which resulted in the granting of such pension, the annual rate of regular compensation of such member shall be considered to be the same as that of permanent firemen or policemen of lowest rank and grade, as the case may be, in the city or town in which he was employed; provided, that if there are no such permanent firemen or policemen, then the annual rate of his regular compensation shall be considered for such purposes to be seven thousand five hundred dollars.

(c) The total normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance of any member as determined in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not exceed the greater of the annual rate of his regular compensation on the date such injury was sustained or such hazard was undergone, and the average annual rate of his regular compensation for the twelve-month period for which he last received regular compensation immediately preceding the date his retirement allowance becomes effective, anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding.

(3) General Provisions.- (a) Lapse of time or failure to file notice of an injury sustained or a hazard undergone as provided for in subdivision (1) of this section or in subdivision (1) of section nine, as the case may be, shall not be a bar to proceedings under either of said provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-two, or in case he was classified in Group 2, Group 3 or Group 4 and not subject to the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-two, if a record of such injury sustained or hazard undergone is on file in the official records of his department.

(b) Except where an official record of an injury sustained by a member classified in Group 2, Group 3 or Group 4 exists as set forth in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the head of a department shall, within fifteen days of the receipt of knowledge of a personal injury sustained by a member in his department as a result of, and in the performance of, his duties, notify the board in writing of the time, place, cause and nature of such injury, together with such further information relative thereto as he may obtain. In such case said notice shall have the same effect as though given by such member as otherwise provided for in this section or in section nine.

(4) Members Furnishing Aid to Other Governmental Units.- (a) Any governmental unit may, by action of the executive or board having jurisdiction in the commonwealth, the county commissioners in a county, the mayor in a city, the board of selectmen in a town, or by the action of any other executive or board having jurisdiction, as the case may be, request and authorize any member in service to go to the aid of a second governmental unit if in the judgment of the head of the department in which such member is regularly employed such action is necessary. While in the performance of his duties pursuant to such request and authorization such member shall be subject to the provisions of sections one to twenty-eight, inclusive, and shall have the same rights and privileges thereunder, as if performing the same duties within the scope of his regular employment.

(b) The governmental unit so requesting such assistance shall reimburse in full, in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, the first governmental unit for any pension payments lawfully made from the system pertaining thereto on account of any injuries suffered by such member in the course of rendering such aid or on account of his death as the result of such injuries. The treasurer of the first governmental unit shall annually, on or before January fifteenth, upon the certification of the board of the system from which such disbursements have been made, notify the treasurer of the second governmental unit of the amount of reimbursement due therefrom for the previous fiscal year and such latter treasurer shall forthwith take such steps as may be necessary to insure prompt payment of such amount. All such payments due under the provisions of this paragraph from the second governmental unit shall be charged to the pension funds of the system pertaining thereto, or if there is no such system then they shall be paid by such appropriated for the pension fund of the system pertaining to the first governmental unit. In default of any such payment, the first governmental unit may maintain an action of contract to recover the same. This subdivision shall not be applicable to the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority or its employees' retirement system to the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency or its employees' retirement system, to the Massachusetts Port Authority or its employees' retirement system, the Blue Hills Regional Vocational school retirement system, or to the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District.

(5) Proration of pension.- In the event of a retirement where the injury was sustained in a governmental unit other than that by which the member is presently employed, the proration of the pension portion of the retirement allowance shall be computed by the actuary.

(6) Final Determinationon Accidental Disability Applications.- Under this section the board shall make a final determination of such accidental disability application within one hundred and eighty days of the date of filing of such application except in the following instances:-

(1) the board, upon filing a written request outlining the specific circumstances for such a waiver, is granted an extension for a final determination by the commissioner or his designee; or

(2) the regional medical panel is unable to complete its examination and review and issue a written decision of the medical aspects of the case and is granted an extension by the commissioner or his designee.

SECTION 19. Said chapter 32 is hereby further amended by striking out section 8, as amended by section 6 of chapter 667 of the acts of 1947, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 8. (1) Reexamination of members.- (a) The board may require any member retired for disability under the provisions of sections six or seven who has not attained age sixty to submit to a mental or physical examination pursuant to paragraph (b) once in each year during the five year period next succeeding the date of his retirement, and in each three year period thereafter, by the regional medical panel provided for in subdivision (3) of section six, or upon a written request thereof by any such member. The board shall permit such examination at any time before he attains age sixty but not more frequently than once in any twelve-month period. If such member shall refuse to submit to any such required examination, his retirement allowance may be discontinued, and if such refusal continues for one year thereafter, all his rights in and to the pension provided for in section six or seven shall be revoked by the board.

(b) Each retirement board shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, establish a program for the reevaluation of members retired on a disability under the provisions of this chapter which shall consist of the following:-

(1) Once every three years prior to the employee attaining age sixty, and after the five year period next succeeding the date of retirement, each retired member shall be subject to a desk review of his medical status.

(2) If as a result of such desk review the board determines that the medical status or condition warrants further review, the board shall petition the commissioner to appoint either a single physician or a three member regional panel to examine the retired member. If a single physician is appointed, he shall conduct an independent reexamination and shall forward his recommendations to the board and the commissioner.

(3) If the single physician recommends that a further reexamination of the retired member is warranted, the board shall immediately petition the commissioner for the establishment of a three member regional medical panel to conduct a reexamination of the member within sixty days.

(2) Restoration of Members to Active Service.- If, as a result of the report of such regional medical panel, the board finds the mental or physical condition of such retired member has so changed that he is physically able to return to the same or a similar position, the board may, with the approval of the head of any department in which a vacancy exists, order any such retired member to return and be restored to active service in the same employment in which such member was employed at the time of his retirement, or in a similar employment in the same governmental unit.

In the event no such vacancy exists, and such position or a similar position is classified under civil service, the board and respective employer shall provide written notification with department of personnel administration who shall ensure that such retired member is reinstated to the first available suitable vacancy, in accordance with the provisions outlined in sections thirty-nine and forty-six of chapter thirty-one.

When under the provisions of this section, no vacancy exists in the same or similar position whether subject to chapter thirty-one or not he shall continue to receive such retirement allowance until such reinstatement takes place, provided further that the board may request that such member be reexamined by the regional medical panel in accordance with the provisions of subsection (1). When such employer seeks to reinstate such retired member pursuant to sections thirty-nine and forty-six of chapter thirty-one and the said member refuses such reinstatement or if a member is not subject to chapter thirty-one refuses to return to service or to file such information as the board may require, it may revoke or suspend his retirement allowance.

In the event said retired member remains on a reinstatement status for a period exceeding nine months and no vacancy to the same or a similar position exists, and the board finds that the retired member is engaged in a gainful occupation and the annual rate of his actual earnings when combined with an annual rate of his retirement allowance exceed the rate of regular compensation for such position if he were reinstated, then said board may reduce or suspend such amount of his retirement allowance which when combined with his actual earnings, exceed the annual rate of compensation of such position he would be reinstated to if a vacancy existed.

If any such member is restored to active service at an annual rate of regular compensation less than the annual rate of his regular compensation referred to in paragraph (3) of this section, but greater than the difference between the annual rate of his regular compensation referred to therein and the normal yearly amount of his retirement allowance, then the yearly amount of his pension shall be reduced and modified in a manner consistent with that set forth in said paragraph. No such member restored to active service at an annual rate of regular compensation referred to in said paragraph shall become a member in service except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, nor shall he make any payments into the annuity savings fund. Upon subsequent separation from service without having become a member in service he shall receive a retirement allowance equal to that which he was receiving prior to his restoration to active service. No such member restored to active service shall remain in service after attaining the maximum age for his group.

(b) If any such retired member is restored to active service at an annual rate of regular compensation not less than the annual rate of his regular compensation referred to in paragraph (3) of this section, or should he, after being restored at a lesser rate, attain or exceed the annual rate of his regular compensation referred to therein, his retirement allowance shall cease, and he shall again become a member in service and regular deductions shall again be made from his regular compensation. Any creditable service in effect for him at the time of his retirement for disability shall thereupon be restored to full force and effect, and upon his subsequent retirement he shall be entitled to a normal yearly amount of retirement allowance computed as though such disability retirement and reinstatement had not taken place, except that no creditable service shall be allowed for the period during which his disability retirement allowance was in effect. In computing such normal yearly amount of retirement allowance upon his subsequent retirement, the yearly amount of pension included therein shall be increased to the extent that the yearly amount of regular life annuity included therein, as specified in clause (i) of Option (a) of subdivision (2) of section twelve, has been reduced as the result of his earlier disability retirement, anything in section seven to the contrary withstanding.

(c) The board shall, upon the written request of any such retired member after his pension has been reduced, revoked or suspended as provided for in this section, cause him to be again examined by the regional medical panel as provided for under subdivision (1) of this section; provided, however, that such retired member shall not be reexamined by the regional medical panel if such member had been examined by such regional medical panel within the previous twelve months. If the report of such medical panel is to the effect that the mental or physical condition of such member has deteriorated, the board may increase or restore his pension as the report may warrant.

(3) Modification of retirement allowance.- If, as a result of the report of such medical panel, the board finds that the mental or physical condition of such retired member has changed so that he is engaged or is able to engage in gainful occupation and that the annual rate of his actual or potential earnings is less than the annual rate of his regular compensation in effect on the date of his retirement, but is more than the difference between such annual rate of regular compensation and the normal yearly amount of his retirement allowance, then the yearly amount of his pension shall be reduced, and if his actual are more than such regular compensation, his pension shall be reduced or suspended, as the case may be. If the annual rate of his earnings should later be changed, the yearly amount of his pension shall be further modified by increasing or reducing it, as the case may be. The yearly amount of such reduced or modified pension at all times shall be equal to the excess, if any, of the amount of such annual rate of regular compensation over the sum of the yearly amount of regular life annuity which would be payable to him under clause (i) of Option (a) of subdivision (2) of section twelve and the annual rate of his current actual or potential earnings, but in no event shall it exceed the yearly amount of the pension originally granted to him.

SECTION 20. Section 15 of said chapter 32 is hereby amended by inserting after subdivision (3) the following subdivision:-

(3A) Forfeiture of rights upon conviction.- In no event shall any member after final conviction of an offense set forth in section two of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A or section twenty-five of chapter two hundred and sixty-five pertaining to police or licensing duties be entitled to receive a retirement allowance or a return of his accumulated total deductions under the provisions of sections one to twenty-eight, inclusive, nor shall any beneficiary be entitled to receive any benefits under such provisions on account of such member.

SECTION 21. Said chapter 32 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16, as most recently amended by section 67 of chapter 329 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 16. (1) Involuntary Retirement and Right to a Hearing.- (a) Any head of a department who is of the opinion that any member employed therein should be retired for superannuation, ordinary disability or accidental disability, in accordance with the provisions of section five, six, or seven, as the case may be, may file with the board on a prescribed form a written application for such retirement. Such application shall include a fair summary of the facts upon which such opinion is premised. The applicant shall forthwith deliver to such member by registered mail, with a return receipt requested, a true copy of such application, together with a brief statement of the options available to such member on his retirement and a statement of his right, if any, to request a hearing with regard to such retirement and of the right, if any, of review available to him, as provided for in this section, in case he is aggrieved by any action taken or decision of the board rendered or by failure of the board to act upon his request or to render a decision within the time specified in this subdivision. Upon such delivery to such member the head of the department, or one acting in his behalf, shall file with the board under the penalties of perjury a written notice of such delivery, including the date thereof.

(b) Any member in service classified in Group 1, Group 2 or Group 4 who has attained age fifty-five and completed fifteen or more years of creditable service, or any member in service so classified who has not attained age fifty-five but who has completed twenty or more years of creditable service, for whom an application for his retirement is filed by the head of his department as provided for in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, may, within fifteen days of the receipt of his copy of such application, file with the board a written request for a private or public hearing upon such application. If no such request is so filed, the facts set forth in such application shall be deemed to be admitted by such member; otherwise such hearing shall be held not less than ten nor more than thirty days after the filing of the request. The board, after giving due notice, shall conduct such hearing in such manner and at such time or times as the best interests of all parties concerned may require. The board shall prepare and file with its clerk or secretary a certificate containing its findings and decision, copies of which shall be sent to the proper parties within fifteen days after completion of such hearing.

(c) If the board finds that any member should be retired under the provisions of this subdivision, he shall receive the same retirement allowance as he would have received had the application been made by himself. If the board finds that such member should not be retired, he shall continue in his office or position without loss of compensation, subject to the provisions of sections one to twenty-eight, inclusive, as though no such application had been made.

(2) Right to Hearing upon Removal or Discharge.- The removal or discharge of any member in service classified in Group 1, Group 2 or Group 4 who has attained age fifty-five and has completed fifteen or more years of creditable service, or any member so classified who has not attained age fifty-five but who has completed twenty or more years of creditable service, or any such member who is a veteran and has completed ten or more years of creditable service, shall not become effective unless and until a written notice thereof containing a fair summary of the facts upon which such action was based has been filed with the board. The procedure set forth in subdivision (1) relative to delivery of copies, statement of service thereof, notice, hearing if requested, and the filing of a certificate of findings and decision, so far as applicable, shall apply to all proceedings involving such removal or discharge. Unless the board shall find that such removal or discharge was justified, such member shall forthwith be restored to his office or position without loss of compensation.

(3) Right of Review by District Court.- (a) Any member classified in Group 1, Group 2 or Group 4 who has attained age fifty-five and completed fifteen or more years of creditable service, or any member so classified who has not attained age fifty-five but who has completed twenty or more years of creditable service, or any such member who is a veteran and has completed ten or more years of creditable service, and who is aggrieved by any action taken or decision of a board or the commissioner of public employee retirement rendered with reference to his involuntary retirement under the provisions of subdivision (1) or to his removal or discharge as set forth in subdivision (2), or any member who is aggrieved by any action taken or decision of a board or the commissioner of public employee retirement rendered with reference to his dereliction of duty as set forth in section fifteen, may, within thirty days after the certification of the decision of the board, bring a petition in the district court within the territorial jurisdiction in which he resides praying that such action and decision be reviewed by the court. After such notice as the court deems necessary, it shall review such action and decision, hear any and all evidence and determine whether such action was justified. If the court finds that such action was justified the decision of the board or the commissioner of public employee retirement shall be affirmed; otherwise it shall be reversed and of no effect. If the court finds that such member was unjustifiably retired, removed or discharged from his office or position he shall be reinstated thereto without loss of compensation. The decision of the court shall be final.

(b) Any member whose office or position is subject to chapter thirty-one or to the rules and regulations made under authority thereof, who is aggrieved by any action taken or decision of a board or the commissioner of public employee retirement rendered as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall, for the purposes of sections one to twenty-eight, inclusive, have and retain such of the rights provided by sections forty-two A, forty-two B, forty-three and forty-five of chapter thirty-one as applied to his particular office or position, and the court shall, in addition to the matters it is required to review under such sections of chapter thirty-one, affirm or disaffirm the decision of the board or the commissioner of public employee retirement as provided for in paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

(4) Right of Appeal to Contributory Retirement Appeal Board.- There shall be an unpaid contributory retirement appeal board which shall consist of three members as follows: an assistant attorney general who shall be designated in writing from time to

In the event the matter before the contributory retirement board deals with any matter related to disability retirement the commissioner of public health or his designee shall substitute for the commissioner of public employment retirement. The members of the contributory retirement appeal board shall be compensated for any expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties. On matters other than those subject to review by the district court as provided for in subdivision (3), or other than those which would have been subject to such review had the requirement for the minimum period of creditable service been fulfilled, any person when aggrieved by any action taken or decision of a retirement board rendered, or by the failure of a retirement board to act, may appeal to the contributory retirement appeal board by filing therewith a claim in writing within fifteen days of such action or decision of the retirement board, or may so appeal within fifteen days after the expiration of the time specified in sections one to twenty-eight, inclusive, within which a board must act upon written request thereto, or within fifteen days after the expiration of one month following the date of filing a written request with the board if no time for action thereon is specified, in case the board failed to act thereon within the time specified or within one month, as the case may be. The contributory retirement appeal board, after giving due notice, shall, not less than ten nor more than sixty days after filing of any such claim of appeal, assign such appeal to the division of hearing officers for a hearing. The contributory retirement appeal board shall pass upon the appeal within six months after the conclusion of such hearing, and its decision shall be final and binding upon the retirement board involved and upon all other parties, and shall be complied with by such retirement board and by such parties. Any person upon, making an appeal involving a disability, retirement allowance, shall be permitted to retire for superannuation retirement, if otherwise eligible, pending the decision of the contributory retirement appeal board, but in no event shall such action prejudice the person from receiving any further benefits which the contributory retirement appeal board may grant in its decision nor shall the person upon a finding in favor of the employer be required to reimburse the employer for payments made prior to the decision of the contributory retirement appeal board.

On appeals involving disability or where medical reports are part of the proceedings, the contributory retirement appeal board may request further information, from the chairman of the appropriate regional medical panel, or may employ a registered physician to advise them in determination of an appeal.

The contributory retirement appeal board shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and examine such parts of the books and records of the parties to a proceeding as relate to questions in dispute. The contributory retirement appeal board shall arrange for the publication of its decisions, and the costs of such publication shall be paid from the appropriation fund of the contributory retirement appeal board.

The contributory retirement appeal board shall establish a reasonable fee structure for appeals brought under this section, which shall be subject to the approval of the commission of administration.

The division of hearing officers shall submit to the contributory retirement appeal board on an annual basis a report on the status of all cases that have been assigned to the division of hearing officers for a hearing.

(5) Provisions Not Applicable to Certain Members.- The provisions of this section relative to the right of any member to a hearing or to the right of review by the district court shall not apply in the case of the removal or discharge of any state official or of any official of any political subdivision of the commonwealth for which provision is otherwise made in any general or special law, anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to impair any right of any teacher under the applicable provisions of chapter seventy-one. Future elections of the second member shall be held under the supervision of such retirement board and the term of the second member shall be so arranged as not to expire in the year of expiration of the term of the third member.

Such data shall be submitted to the office of the commissioner of public employee retirement within such time as he may specify.

SECTION 24. Said subdivision (5) of said section 20 of said chapter 32 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (h), as amended by section 1 of chapter 267 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The commissioner or his agent shall conduct an in-depth field examination of each system at intervals not exceeding three years to ascertain its financial condition, its ability to fulfill its obligations, whether all parties in interest have complied with the laws applicable thereto, and whether the transactions of the board have been in accordance with the rights and equities of those in interest.

(b) Each such system in its financial accounts shall be credited with its investments having a fixed term and rate, if amply secured in the judgment of the commissioner of public employee retirement and not in default as to principal or interest, as follows: if purchased at par, with the par value; if purchased above or below par, with an amortized value so determined as to yield approximately the effective rate of interest at which the purchase was made and to bring the value to par at the date of maturity or at the date the security is first callable at par if prior thereto; provided, that the purchase price of any such security shall not be taken at a higher value than its actual market value when purchased; and provided, that the value of any security on the date of any valuation thereof shall not be taken at a higher value than its callable value, if any, on such date. The commissioner of public employee retirement shall have full power and discretion in determining the methods of calculating values according to the foregoing rules, and the values found by him in accordance with such methods shall be final and binding; provided, that any investments in United States savings bonds purchased on a discount basis may be credited at their redemption value or at their amortized value, as the board shall determine. declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5 of chapter 59 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the introductory clause, as most recently amended by Section 1 of Chapter 435 of the Acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

The following property shall be exempt from taxation and the date of determination as to age, ownership or other qualifying factors required by any clause shall be July first of each year unless another meaning is clearly apparent from the context; provided, however, that any person who receives an exemption under the provisions of clause Seventeenth, Seventeenth C, Twenty-second, Twenty-second A, Twenty-second B, Twenty-second C, Twenty-second D, Twenty-second E, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-seventh A, Forty-first, Forty-first B, Forty-second or Forty-third shall not receive an exemption on the same property under any other provision of this section, except clauses Eighteenth or Forty-fifth.

Clause Seventeenth C of said section 5 of said chapter 59, inserted by Section 1 of Chapter 743 of the Acts of 1981, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence thereof and inserting in its place the following:- In those cities and towns which accept the provisions of this clause, the provisions of clause Seventeenth shall not be applicable; provided, however, that the state treasurer shall annually reimburse the city or town an amount equal to the reimbursement granted to such city or town under said clause Seventeenth for the most recent fiscal year in which it received such reimbursement.

SECTION 3. Clause 37A of said section 5 of said chapter 59, as added by chapter 258 of the acts of 1982, is hereby amended by striking out the entire text thereof and inserting in place thereof the following:-

The sum of five hundred dollars of the actual taxes due, of a blind person who is a legal resident of the commonwealth, whether such property is owned by him separately or jointly or as a tenant in common; provided, that such property is occupied by such person as his domicile. No real property shall be exempt which has been conveyed to such blind person to evade taxation. This clause shall take effect upon its acceptance by any city or town. In those cities and towns which accept the provisions of this clause, the provisions of clause thirty-seventh shall not be applicable; provided, however, the sum of eighty-seven dollars and fifty cents of this exemption shall be borne by the commonwealth, and the state treasurer shall annually reimburse the city or town for the amount thereof.

SECTION 4. Clause Forty-first of section 5 of chapter 59 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 967 of the acts of 1977, is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof the following paragraph:-

Any amount of money annually appropriated by the commonwealth for the purpose of reimbursing cities and towns for taxes abated under this clause and clause Forty-first B shall be distributed as hereinafter provided. The commissioner of revenue shall divide said sum by the number of exemptions under this clause and clause Forty-first B granted in the preceding fiscal year and distribute to each city and town a pro rata share of said sum based upon the number of such exemptions granted in each city and town. If a city or town has elected to grant exemptions under clause Forty-first B in lieu of this clause, the number of exemptions granted in such city or town, for purposes of this computation, shall not exceed the number of exemptions granted under this clause in such city or town in the most recent fiscal year in which such exemptions under this clause were granted.

SECTION 5. Section 5 of chapter 59 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after clause forty-first A the following clause:-

Forty-first B - Real property, to the amount of four thousand dollars of taxable valuation or the sum of five hundred dollars, whichever would amount in an exemption of the greater amount of taxes due, of a person who has reached his seventieth birthday prior to the fiscal year for which an exemption is sought and occupied by said person as his domicile, or of a person who owns the same jointly with his spouse, either of whom has reached his seventieth birthday prior to the fiscal year for which an exemption is sought and occupied by them as their domicile, or for a person who has reached his seventieth birthday prior to the fiscal year for which an exemption is sought who owns the same jointly or as a tenant in common with a person not his spouse and occupied by him as his domicile; provided: (A) that such person (1) has been domiciled in the commonwealth for the preceding ten years, (2) has so owned and occupied such real property or other real property in the commonwealth for five years, or (3) is a surviving spouse who inherits such real property and has occupied such real property in the commonwealth five years and who otherwise qualified under this clause; (B) that such person had, in the preceding year gross receipts from all sources of less than ten thousand dollars, or if married, combined gross receipts with his spouse of less than twelve thousand dollars, provided, however, that in computing the gross receipts of an applicant under this clause ordinary business expenses and losses may be deducted, but not personal or family expenses, and provided, further, that there shall deducted from the total amount received by the applicant under the federal social security or railroad retirement and from any annuity, pension, or retirement plan established for employees of the United States government, the government of the commonwealth, or the government of any city, town, county, or special district, included in such gross receipts, an amount equivalent to the minimum payment then payable under said federal social security law, as determined by the commissioner of revenue, to a retired worker seventy years of age or over, if the applicant is unmarried, or to a retired worker and spouse, both of whom are seventy years of age or over, if the applicant is married; and (C) that such person had a whole estate, real and personal, not in excess of twenty thousand dollars, or if married, not in excess of twenty-three thousand dollars, provided that real property occupied as his domicile shall not be included in computing the whole estate except for any portion of said property which produces income. In the case of real property owned by a person jointly or as a tenant in common with a person not his spouse, the amount of his exemption under this clause shall be that proportion of four thousand dollars valuation or the sum of five hundred dollars, whichever would result in an exemption of the greater amount of taxes due, which the amount of his interest in such property bears to the whole tax due; provided: (A) that no exemption shall be granted to any joint tenant or tenant in common unless the gross receipts from all sources whatsoever of each joint tenant or tenant in common is less than ten thousand dollars or, if married, the combined gross receipts from all sources whatsoever of each joint tenant or tenant in common and his spouse is less than twelve thousand dollars, provided, however, that in computing the gross receipts of an applicant under this clause ordinary business expenses and losses may be deducted, but not personal or family expenses, and provided, further, that there shall be deducted from the total amount received by the applicant under the federal social security or railroad retirement and from any annuity, pension, or retirement plan established for employees of the United States government, the government of the commonwealth, or the government of any city, town, county, or special district, included in such receipts, an amount equivalent to the minimum payment then payable under said federal social security law, as determined by the commission of revenue, to a retired worker seventy years of age or over, if the applicant is unmarried, or to a retired worker and spouse, both of whom are seventy years of age or over, if the applicant is married; and (B) that the combined whole estate, real and personal, of each joint tenant or tenant in common is less than twenty thousand dollars or, if married, the combined whole estate, real and personal of each joint tenant or tenant in common and his spouse does not exceed twenty-three thousand dollars, provided that real property occupied as their domicile shall not be included in computing the whole estate except for any portion of said property which produces income. No proportion of the exemption shall be denied to any applicant otherwise qualified for the reason that another joint tenant or tenant in common receives a proportion of the total exemption. Household furnishings and property already exempt under the twelfth, twentieth, thirty-first, and thirty-fifth clauses of this section shall not be included in computing the whole estate for purposes of this section. Where a portion of the real property occupied as a domicile of an applicant under this clause is located within a municipality other than the municipality in which the applicant is domiciled, and where the value of said property, or the taxes, assessed by the municipality in which such applicant is domiciled would result in his receiving less than the maximum exemption provided by this clause, that part of the property of such applicant within such other municipality shall be exempt to a value, or to an amount of tax, sufficient to grant the applicant the total maximum exemption provided by the clause. This clause shall take effect upon its acceptance by any city or town. In those cities and towns which accept the provisions of this clause, the provisions of clause Forty-first shall not be applicable; provided, however, that any amount of money annually appropriated by the commonwealth for the purpose of reimbursing cities and towns for taxes abated under this clause and clause Forty-first shall be distributed as provided in said clause Forty-first.

SECTION 6. The first paragraph of section 64 of chapter 59 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence thereof, as most recently amended by section 34 of chapter 580 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following:-

A person aggrieved by the refusal of assessors to abate a tax on personal property at least one-half of which has been paid, or a tax on a parcel of real estate, may, within three months after receiving the notice of the assessors' decision on an application for abatement as provided in section sixty-three, or within three months after the time when the application for abatement is deemed to be denied as hereinafter provided, appeal therefrom by filing a complaint with the clerk of the county commissioners, or of the board authorized to hear and determine such complaints, for the county where the property taxed lies, and if on hearing the board finds that the property has been overrated and that the complainant has complied with all applicable provisions of law, it shall make a reasonable abatement and an order as to cost; provided, that if the tax due for the full fiscal year on a parcel of real estate is more than two thousand dollars, said tax shall not be abated unless the full amount of said tax due has been paid without the incurring of any interest charges on any part of said tax pursuant to section fifty-seven of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws; and provided further, that for the purposes of this section a sum not less than the average of the tax assessed, reduced by abatements, if any, for the three years next preceding the year of assessment may be deemed to be the tax due, provided that a year in which no tax was due shall not be used in computing such sum and if no tax was due in any of the three next three preceding years, the sum shall be the full amount of said tax due, but the provisions of said section fifty-seven of said chapter fifty-nine shall apply to the amount of the tax deemed to be due and the payment of said sum without incurring any interest charges on any part thereof shall be deemed to be the payment of the tax.

SECTION 7. Section two of chapter nine hundred and sixty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven is hereby repealed.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, in each city or town certified by the commissioner of revenue to be assessing all property at its full and fair market value, upon approval by the local appropriating authority, as hereinafter defined, a taxpayer who shall otherwise qualify for any exemption under clauses Seventeenth, Seventeenth C, Twenty-second, Twenty-second A, Twenty-second B, Twenty-second C, Twenty-second D, Twenty-second E, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-seventh A, Forty-first, Forty-first B, Forty-second, or Forty-third of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws shall be entitled to an additional exemption in the year in which full and fair cash values are first certified under the provisions of section fifty-six of chapter forty of the General Laws which may be uniform for all exemptions and none of which shall exceed sixty per cent of said exemption for which he qualifies; provided, however, that the total additional exemption granted to any individual under this section shall not be greater than three hundred and fifty dollars; and provided further, that in no instance shall the taxable valuation of such property, after all applicable exemptions, be reduced below ten per cent of its full and fair cash valuation except through the application of section eight-A of chapter fifty-eight or clause eighteen of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws; and provided further, that the additional exemption shall not result in any taxpayer paying less than the taxes paid in the preceding fiscal year except through the application of section eight-A of chapter fifty-eight or clause eighteen of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. For the purposes of this section, the term "local appropriating authority", shall mean the board of selectmen in a town; the mayor, with the approval of the city council, in a city; and, the town council in a municipality having such a form of government. The state treasurer shall annually reimburse a city or town which accepts this section only for the amount which otherwise would have been reimbursed under the respective clause had this section not been accepted by said city or town.

Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter three hundred and thirty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two, a city or town authorized to issue a notice of estimated tax in lieu of the tax bill for the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three may, with the prior written approval of the commissioner of revenue, require the payment of an estimated tax in excess of fifty per cent of the tax payable during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two to the extent that such excess represents one-half of the amount of tax accruing as a result of the loss of exemption from tax that had been granted in the preceding fiscal year.

SECTION 10. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, for any city or town which has not accepted any given local option provided in this act prior to the effective date of this act, such local acceptance shall not be effective until said city or town is certified pursuant to section fifty-six of chapter forty of the General Laws to be assessing real and personal property at full and fair cash value.

Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, in any city or town which properly accepts any of the local options provided in this act and which has not had its fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three tax rate approved by the commissioner of revenue pursuant to section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws prior to the effective date of this act, no city or town tax rate for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three or thereafter shall be so approved unless the commissioner of revenue certifies that sufficient sums have been provided by the city or town to cover the costs of the locally accepted options. The requirements of this paragraph shall apply to all cities and towns for fiscal years beginning on or after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, any city or town which has properly accepted any of the local options provided in this act shall allow taxpayers, in the year of such acceptance, an additional forty-five days from the date of such acceptance to file applications for exemption thereunder; provided, however, that if any other general or special law would allow a later date for submission of said applications, that later date shall apply. Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Paragraph (d) of subdivision (1) of section 23 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 491 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraphs:-

(vi) After January 1, 1983, no public pension funds under this subsection shall remain invested in any bank or financial institution which directly or through its subsidiaries has outstanding loans to the Republic of South Africa or its instrumentalities, and no assets shall remain invested in the stocks, securities or other obligations of any company doing business in or with the Republic of South Africa. Any proceeds of sales required under this paragraph shall be invested as much as reasonably possible in institutions or companies which invest or conduct business operations in Massachusetts so long as such use is consistent with sound investment policy.

(vii) Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding paragraph, if sound investment policy so requires the investment committee may vote to spread the sale of such investments over no more than three years so that no less than one-third the value of said investments is sold in any one year. So long as any funds remain invested in any bank, financial institution or firm referred to in paragraph (vi), the investment committee shall annually, on or before January thirty-first, file with the clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives a report listing all South Africa-related investments held by the fund and their book market value as of the preceding December first.

(This bill returned by the Governor, to the Senate, the branch in which it originated, with his objections thereto, was passed by the Senate, January 3, 1983, and, in concurrence, by the House of Representatives, January 4, 1983, the objections of the Governor notwithstanding, in the manner prescribed by the Constitution; and thereby has "The force of a law".)
