SECTION 4. The affairs of said corporation shall be managed by a board of not less than three nor more than seven directors, the number to be fixed by the by-laws. The first board of directors shall be chosen by the above named incorporators or a majority of them, who shall also adopt by-laws which may provide as to the election and qualification of directors and as to the classification of directors and their terms of office and may provide that only a minority shall be elected annually. The said incorporators, or a majority of them, shall also make provisions as to filling vacancies in the board and otherwise as to the management of the affairs of the corporation and may adopt any other by-laws which shall be consistent with the General Laws and with the provisions hereof.

SECTION 5. The capital stock of said corporation shall be two hundred fifty thousand dollars and shall be divided into shares of five hundred dollars each. Said corporation may issue bonds for its corporate purposes, secured by mortgages of its property and franchise. The said stock and bonds shall be issued in accordance with the laws of the commonwealth relating to the issue of stock and bonds by railroad companies, in force at the time when such issue is made.

SECTION 6. Said corporation shall be granted all powers applicable to corporations formed under chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws or other applicable laws unless in conflict with this act.

SECTION 7. Said corporation may begin business upon filing with the state secretary all such information set forth in section thirteen of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B of the General Laws and shall also make an annual filing in the manner prescribed by section one hundred and nine of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

Approved April 15, 1982.

Chap. 34. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS AND NOTES OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately increase the authority of the state treasurer in issuing bonds and notes of the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 49 of chapter 29 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Bonds or notes of the commonwealth may be sold at par, premium or discount. Unless expressly provided therein to the contrary, the purposes for which money may be borrowed under any statute heretofore or hereafter enacted which authorizes the issuance of bonds or notes shall include, in addition to the purposes specified in such statute, the payment of a discount with respect thereto and interest paid or to be paid on such bonds or notes of the commonwealth. The inclusion of an amount for one or more such purposes in a particular issue of such bonds or notes shall not reduce or otherwise affect the amount authorized to be borrowed under any such statute for any purpose expressly stated therein, except to the extent that any such amount shall be applied by the state treasurer to any such expressly stated purpose.

SECTION 1A. Section 53 of said chapter 29, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 695 of the acts of 1981, is hereby further amended by adding the following sentence:- Compliance with the provisions of this section may be waived with respect to an issue of bonds or notes upon the approval of the finance advisory board, established under the provisions of section ninety-seven of chapter six.

SECTION 2. Section 10 of chapter 519 of the acts of 1974 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by sections two to seven, inclusive, of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

SECTION 3. Section 9 of chapter 481 of the acts of 1976 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by sections two to seven, inclusive, of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

SECTION 4. Section 9 of chapter 920 of the acts of 1977 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by sections three to six, inclusive, of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

SECTION 5. Section 10 of chapter 513 of the acts of 1978 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by sections three to six, inclusive, of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

SECTION 6. Section 10 of chapter 480 of the acts of 1979 is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments authorized by this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, provided that the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

SECTION 7. Section 9 of chapter 798 of the acts of 1979 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by sections two to seven A, inclusive, of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

SECTION 8. Section 8 of chapter 578 of the acts of 1980 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by sections two to six, inclusive, of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

Approved April 16, 1982.

Chap. 38. AN ACT INCREASING THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE ADVISORY COUNCIL ON ALCOHOLISM.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 17 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 14, as amended by section 6 of chapter 864 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 14. There shall be an advisory council on alcoholism consisting of the attorney general, the commissioner of public health, the commissioner of mental health, the commissioner of corrections, the commissioner of rehabilitation, the commissioner of education, the commissioner of youth services, the commissioner of probation, the commissioner of public safety, the commissioner of public welfare, the commissioner of elder affairs, the commissioner of social services, the registrar of motor vehicles, the chairman of the alcoholic beverages control commission, the president of the Massachusetts chiefs of police association, or their designees, all of whom shall serve ex officiis, and twelve persons experienced in the field of alcoholism treatment and prevention to be appointed by the governor, of whom at least two shall be women and at least four shall be rehabilitated alcoholics. Upon the expiration of the term of any appointive member, a successor shall be appointed in like manner for a term of three years. The term of all appointive members shall be three years and no such member shall be appointed to serve more than two consecutive terms.

The governor shall annually designate the chairman of the council from among its members. The council shall meet at least four times each year, and shall convene special meetings at the call of the chairman, a majority of the members of the council, the commissioner of public health, or the director of the division of alcoholism. The director of the division of alcoholism shall serve as the executive secretary of the council and shall attend all meetings. The council shall make an annual report to the governor, and shall file a copy of said report with the state secretary, the clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. Members of the council shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for their expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties.

Said advisory council shall (a) assist the commissioner of public health and the director of the division of alcoholism in coordinating the efforts of all public and private agencies within the commonwealth concerned with the prevention of alcoholism and the treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics and intoxicated persons, (b) advise the said commissioner and said director on policy and priorities of need in the commonwealth for comprehensive treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics, and (c) review the annual plans, the proposed annual budget and the programs and services of the division and make recommendations to the commissioner, including approval, modification, or disapproval in regard thereto.

The chairman of the advisory council shall appoint a five member executive committee which shall meet annually with the commissioner and director, or shall meet at the request of the commissioner, director or chairman for the purpose of reviewing existing programs and implementing new programs designed to meet the future needs which arise as a result of the administration of chapter one hundred and eleven B.

Approved April 23, 1982.

Chap. 39. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE USE OF SPECIAL EQUIPMENT BY HANDICAPPED HUNTERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 69 of chapter 131 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Notwithstanding the provisions of section sixty-four, the director may issue without fee upon application of any handicapped person confined to a wheelchair or a physically handicapped person as defined in section thirteen A of chapter twenty-two, whose handicap prevents the normal use of one or both hands a special permit to employ a mechanical release on bows of the general design approved under the rules and regulations of the first paragraph. The director shall require a certificate of disability for such applicant from a licensed physician. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to permit the use of crossbows by such handicapped person when hunting.

Chap. 42. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE ATTACHMENT OF TAX REFUNDS DUE FROM THE COMMONWEALTH IN PROCEEDINGS RELATIVE TO UNIFORM RECIPROCAL ENFORCEMENT OF SUPPORT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 273A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 12, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 239 of the acts of 1958, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 12. In addition to the foregoing powers, the court, when the commonwealth is a responding state, may subject the respondent to such terms and conditions as it deems proper to assure compliance with its orders, and may require the respondent to make payments at specified intervals to a probation officer assigned by the court, and punish a respondent who violates any order of the court to the same extent as is provided by law for contempt in any other suit or proceeding. Such court shall also be allowed to request attachments on any tax refund due from the commmonwealth to a respondent who is delinquent in any support order. If the court is unable to find the respondent or his property within its judicial district but discovers that the respondent or his property may be found in the judicial district of another court in the commonwealth, the court may forward the papers received from the court of the initiating state to such other court and shall inform the court in the initiating state that it has done so. Thereupon such other court shall give a receipt for the papers and thereafter have the duties imposed by this chapter.

Approved April 23, 1982.

Chap. 43. AN ACT ESTABLISHING SEPARATE ACCOUNTS FOR NONRESIDENT STUDENTS TUITION IN CERTAIN CITIES AND TOWNS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 71 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 71E the following section:-

Section 71F. In any city or town which accepts this section, all monies received by the school committee as tuition payments for nonresident students and as state reimbursements for students who are foster care children shall be deposited with the treasurer of the town or city and held as separate accouts. The receipts held in such a separate account may be expended by said school committee without further appropriation for expenses incurred in providing education for such nonresident students or for such students who are foster care children, notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-three of chapter forty-four. A city or town may appropriate funds for expenses incurred in providing education for such nonresident students or for such students who are foster care children, which funds shall be expended by the school committee in addition to funds provided for other sources.

Approved April 23, 1982.

SECTION 5. Section 4 of chapter 401 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 192 of chapter 351 of the acts of 1981, is hereby amended by inserting after the definition of "Program" and "Program of skill training or education consistent with employment need" the following two definitions:-

"Severe economic dislocation", a permanent discontinuance of operations or reduction in force by an employer or by a number of employers located within a city or town of the commonwealth, whether caused by economic conditions, natural catastrophe or otherwise, which results in the permanent loss of employment of seventy-five or more employees who are residents of the commonwealth. In the case of a public employer, severe economic dislocation shall include the loss of employment of fifty or more employees due to economic conditions resulting from the operation of chapter five hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty.

"Targeted individuals", residents of the commonwealth who become unemployed as a result of a severe economic dislocation, and individuals receiving public assistance from the commonwealth, including recipients of aid to families with dependent children, and individuals between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one, inclusive, who are unemployed and economically disadvantaged residents of urban areas of the commonwealth.

SECTION 6. Clause (6) of paragraph (B) of section 6 of said chapter 401, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "grant-in-aid", in line 5, the words:- except that the BSSC may waive the requirement for such matching financial support upon finding that the program funded by the grant-in-aid will materially increase the employment opportunities for targeted individuals and that the businesses and industries participating in the program have agreed to contribute personnel, facilities, equipment, supplies, stipends or other items of financial value to the program in an amount approved by the BSSC;.

SECTION 7. Chapter 329 of the acts of 1980 is hereby amended by striking out section 92, as amended by section 3 of chapter 247 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 92. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner of social services may, with the approval of the commissioner of administration transfer positions and funds from the general administration account in the department of social services into regional accounts in the department of social services; provided that two million dollars, in addition to the funds in items 4800-0010, 4801-0200, 4802-0200, 4803-0200, 4804-0200, 4805-0200 and 4806-0200 of section two of this act, is hereby appropriated for an experimental day care project to provide day care subsidies to any applicant or recipient of aid to families with dependent children who is employed, who has accepted a job offer, or who is participating in a training activity authorized by the department of public welfare, and to any income-eligible person who has been a recipient of said aid program within a time period prescribed by said department of public welfare; provided, further, that up to twenty per cent of such appropriation may be utilized for families and children with special and protective needs where such services are not otherwise available; provided, further, that said twenty per cent maximum may be exceeded for such special and protective needs service if said commissioner certifies to the house and senate committees on ways and means that such additional monies are needed to eliminate waiting lists for such services; provided, further, that the department of social services shall report monthly on the utilization of such special and protective needs services, on a regional basis, and including the number of children on waiting lists for such services to the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means; provided, further, that such project shall utilize a voucher payment system, so-called, to supplement the present purchase slot system; and provided, further, that the department of social services shall utilize a blanket contract for the area office model portion of said demonstration program.

SECTION 8. Section 2 of chapter 351 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by striking out item 9000-0400 and inserting in place thereof the following item:-

9000-0400	For the administration and program grants of the Bay State Skills Corporation, provided that not more than three hundred dollars per program grant of the commonwealth's funding be expended for equipment purchase and provided, further, that no funds be expended for student grants or stipends; provided, further that one hundred and twenty thousand dollars of the amount appropriated shall be allocated to municipal colleges; provided, further, that such funds shall be matched by private or municipal funds except that not more than two million dollars of the amount appropriated may be allocated to program grants for which the Corporation has waived the requirement for matching private or municipal funds based on a finding that the programs funded thereby will materially increase the employment opportunities for targeted individuals as defined in section four of chapter forty I of the General Laws; provided, that, with respect to program grants for which the requirement of matching funds may be waived, the Corporation shall allocate not less than five hundred thousand dollars to programs which are found by the Corporation, pursuant to rules adopted by the Corporation no later than June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and approved by the secretary of manpower affairs, to materially increase the employment opportunities of individuals between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one, inclusive, who are unemployed and economically disadvantaged residents of urban areas of the commonwealth; and provided, further, that this appropriation shall expire on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three	$5,000,000

SECTION 9. Item 0431-2000 of section 2 of chapter 392 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by striking out the wording and inserting in place thereof the following:- Notwithstanding any other general or special law to the contrary, the armory commission is authorized to expend up to twenty-five thousand dollars subject to the approval of the commissioner of administrationto provide for an appraisal by three qualified and independent appraisers of the fair market value of the Commonwealth armory and up to seventy-five thousand dollars subject to the approval of the commissioner of administration for the preparation of a comprehensive report on the current status of national guard armories within the commonwealth, appropriation to expire June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, provided that notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-nine A of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws, payments in the amount of twenty-one thousand dollars shall be allowed and paid from this item for certain consultant services rendered to the armory commission during the month of February, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

SECTION 10. Item 6034-0012 in said section 2 of said chapter 392 is hereby amended by striking out the wording and inserting in place thereof the following:- For an engineering feasibility study of the repair of damages to the West Road in the town of Clarksburg, caused by the thaws and rains of April, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, and for the costs associated with said repair. Appropriation expires June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 11. Clause (1) of the first paragraph of section 1 of chapter 742 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by striking out, in line 1, the words "director of civil defense" and inserting in place thereof the words:- secretary of the executive office of communities and development.

SECTION 12. Section 2 of said chapter 742 is hereby amended by striking out, in line 3, the word "eighty-two" and inserting in place thereof the word:- eighty-three.

SECTION 13. Item 1599-3277 in section 2 of chapter 808 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "employment", in line 7, the second time it appears, the words:- provided that the commissioner of administration is hereby authorized to transfer from the sum appropriated to other items of appropriation for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two for the purpose of meeting the cost of employment of said professional employees of Boston state college who are accepted for employment by other public institutions of higher education.

SECTION 14. Section 10 of chapter 808 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "Norwood", in line 2, the words:- for consideration of one dollar,.

SECTION 14A. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, the department of community affairs is hereby authorized to expend for the purpose of contracts to be entered into by said department, acting for and on behalf of the commonwealth, with housing authorities established pursuant to section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws or corresponding provisions of previous laws, for state financial assistance in the form of grants to such authorities, such sums as shall be appropriated for supportive services programs to complement the physical environment of public housing developments. Prior to giving final approval and entering into said contracts for state financial assistance, the department shall review and approve or disapprove proposals to be submitted by said housing authorities for such supportive services. Said proposals shall outline the types of supportive services to be provided at the sites of said housing developments in conjunction with public and private agencies and programs. In developing said proposals for supportive services, housing authorities shall contact residents at the public housing developments to be targeted for said services and shall obtain their views and consider their needs for particular types of supportive services. Said proposals, as approved by the department, shall be included by reference in the aforementioned contracts for financial assistance and shall become an integral part of said contracts.

Such supportive services as required by this section shall be designed to decrease the dependence of public housing residents on public assistance, otherwise improve the health, safety and general welfare of these residents and increase the security for the residents and the structures at public housing developments. Such supportive services may include, but are not limited to, employment and job training, day care services, education, health care, and security planning and services. The department shall require that, to the maximum extent possible, said supportive services shall be provided through agencies or departments of the commonwealth which administer such services programs, or similar services programs, including but not limited to the Bay State Skills Corporation, the department of public welfare, the department of social services, and the department of education. Said supportive services program shall be provided to public housing residents, whenever possible, at the locations of the low-rent housing developments or within the same neighborhood of said developments. Housing authorities shall make known to such agencies and departments the needs for supportive services at each location and shall coordinate the participation of these agencies and departments in such programs. The department also shall require that the availability of such supportive services be communicated clearly to residents at any such development participating in programs being administered pursuant to this act.

The department also shall require, as a provision of said contracts, that housing authorities shall obtain commitments for financial resources or in-kind services, so-called, from private business sources and shall obtain similar commitments from one or more schools or universities in conjunction with the supportive services program at each project. The department may waive the requirement for such commitments for private resources or services if it determines that such commitments are not available after good faith efforts to obtain the same have been made by said housing authorities. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, a housing authority may expend sums authorized by this section to seek such support or assistance to provide such supportive services or to attract or facilitate supportive services programs from any source.

SECTION 15. Notwithstanding the provisions of section eight of chapter three hundred and fifty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one and the provisions of section forty-five of chapter thirty of the General Laws, or of any other special or general law to the contrary, the amounts for permanent or temporary offices and positions in the department of revenue which are appropriated in section two of this act are hereby authorized to be expended at salary rates indicated in the schedules established by the commissioner of administration, a copy of which is filed with the personnel administrator; provided, however, that such rates shall conform to those rates established by chapter six hundred and ninety-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one or to applicable collective bargaining agreements.

SECTION 16. Sections three, three A and four of this act shall take effect as of June twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and the remaining sections shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved April 26, 1982.

Chap. 47. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE DATES FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF PROPOSED EQUALIZED VALUATIONS AND FOR APPEALS THEREFROM.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately extend the time for the establishment of equalized valuations and for appeals, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 58 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 10A, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 283 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 10A. On or before June tenth, in each year in which an equalization is to be established, the commissioner shall hold a public hearing on the proposed equalized valuations. He shall send written notice thereof, together with a copy of the proposed equalized valuations, to the assessors of each city and town on or before June first of such year. The commissioner may, on the basis of any new information furnished to him at such hearing or otherwise, change the proposed equalized valuation of any city or town. Notice of any change shall be sent to the assessors of such city or town on or before July twentieth next following.

SECTION 2. Section 10B of said chapter 58 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as amended by section 2 of said chapter 283, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- On or before August tenth next following, a city or town aggrieved by the equalized valuation established by the commissioner under sections nine and ten A may appeal the determination of the commissioner to the appellate tax board.

SECTION 3. Said section 10B of said chapter 58 is hereby further amended by striking out the third sentence, as appearing in section 42 of chapter 514 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Every such appeal shall be decided by the board not later than January twentieth of the year next following the year in which it is filed.

SECTION 4. Section 10C of said chapter 58 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- On or before January thirty-first of the year next following the year for which an equalization is to be established, the commissioner shall, on the basis of the equalized valuations determined under sections nine and ten A, as modified by the appellate tax board under section ten B, establish a final equalization and apportionment upon the several cities and towns as of January first of such year of the fair cash value of all property in the commonwealth subject to local taxation, the fair cash value of all such property in each city and town, the ratio which the fair cash value of all such property in each city or town bears to the fair cash value of all such property in the commonwealth, and the proportion of county tax, which should be assessed upon each city and town.

SECTION 5. Said section 10C of said chapter 58 is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 403 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The commissioner shall report his final equalization and apportionment to the general court on or before January thirty-first of the year next following the year for which an equalization is established.

SECTION 6. The provisions of this act shall apply to equalized valuations required to be established on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

Approved April 26, 1982.

Chap. 53. AN ACT INCREASING THE AMOUNT WHICH MAY BE PAID TO THE HUSBAND, WIDOW, OR NEXT OF KIN OF A DECEASED DEPOSITOR.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 167 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 48A, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 33 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 48A. Any national banking association, savings and loan association or federal credit union, in the commonwealth having a savings, checking or other deposit account in the name of one or two persons in trust for another may make payments of the same to the trustee, or if there are two trustees, to either trustee, to both, or to the survivor. If no other notice of the existence and terms of a trust has been received in writing by the association or credit union, upon the death of the trustee or, if there are two trustees, upon the death of both trustees, the amount in said savings, checking or other deposit account, with the dividends thereon, may be paid to the other person named in said account or to his legal representative. The value of any savings, checking or other deposit account standing in the individual name of a deceased depositor in such association or credit union shall be paid to his legal representative; provided, that if the value thereof does not exceed three thousand dollars and there has been no demand for payment by a duly appointed executor or administrator, payment may be made, in the discretion of the treasurer or other duly authorized officer after the expiration of sixty days from the date of death of such depositor, to the husband, widow or next of kin of such deceased, upon presentation of a copy of the death certificate and the surrender of the passbook or other instrument, if any, evidencing such deposits. Withdrawals and payments made as provided in this section shall discharge the liability of the association or credit union to all persons with respect to such savings, checking or other deposit account.

Approved April 26, 1982.

Chap. 54. AN ACT RELATIVE TO WAGE ASSIGNMENTS IN CERTAIN CIVIL AND CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 36 of chapter 208 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as amended by section 1 of chapter 197 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

After the court has issued an order for the support of a spouse or child, the court may, either at the time the order is issued or at any time thereafter, order the obligor to assign a portion of his periodic earnings to the person entitled to receive said support or the person designated by the court to receive such payments, including, but not limited to, the person entitled to receive such support under the order, the family service office of the court, or where the person entitled to receive such support is a recipient of public assistance, the department of public welfare or the department of social services, and to notify the employer of the obligor to periodically forward such portion to the supported person. Said wage assignment may be ordered upon the motion of any party during the pendency of an action for divorce, modification or contempt, upon the request of any party in a complaint for modification or contempt, or upon the court's own motion. Such assignment shall take effect on the next payment of earnings after the employer of the obligor receives notice thereof. The order of assignment shall specify the amount of earnings to be paid to the person supported and shall not exceed the federal limits on the percentage of an obligor's income which may be assigned for support. The obligor may move to terminate or modify the amount of such assignment at any time for good cause. The employer may deduct from said earnings a sum not exceeding one dollar as reimbursement for costs incurred. The employer may not discipline, suspend, or discharge an employee because of an assignment executed pursuant to this section, and any employer who violates this section shall be liable to such employee for all wages and employment benefits lost by the employee from the period of unlawful discipline, suspension, or discharge to the period of reinstatement. Any employer who fails to comply with a wage assignment executed pursuant to this section shall be liable to the party designated by the court to receive such funds for the full amount of the wages assigned. If the employment of the obligor is terminated, the obligor shall promptly notify the court and the court may, on its own motion or upon motion of the complainant, order an assignment of earnings from any subsequent employer. Where an obligor has voluntarily executed a wage assignment and said assignment is submitted to the court, the assignment shall be subject to the provisions of this section. Any judgment or order for support issuing from a court of competent jurisdiction of any state, which has law similar to this section which provides for reciprocity to this commonwealth, shall have the same force and effect as if the judgment or order originated from a court in the commonwealth.

SECTION 2. Chapter 209 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 32E, as most recently amended by section 2 of said chapter 197, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 32E. After the court has issued an order for the support of a spouse or child, the court may, either at the time the order is issued or at any time thereafter, order the obligor to assign a portion of his periodic earnings to the person entitled to receive said support or the person designated by the court to receive such payments, including, but not limited to, the person entitled to receive such support under the order, the family service office of the court, or where the person entitled to receive such support is a recipient of public assistance, the department of public welfare or the department of social services and to notify the employer of the obligor to periodically forward such portion to the supported person. Said wage assignment may be ordered upon the motion of any party during the pendency of an action for separate support, modification or contempt, upon the request of any party in a complaint for modification or contempt, or upon the court's own motion. Such assignment shall take effect on the next payment of earnings after the employer of the obligor receives notice thereof. The order of assignment shall specify the amount of earnings to be paid to the person supported and shall not exceed the federal limits on the percentage of an obligor's income which may be assigned for support. The obligor may move to terminate or modify the amount of such assignment at any time for good cause. The employer may deduct from said earnings a sum not exceeding one dollar as reimbursement for costs incurred. The employer may not discipline, suspend, or discharge an employee because of an assignment executed pursuant to this section, and any employer who violates this section shall be liable to such employee for all wages and employment benefits lost by the employee from the period of unlawful discipline, suspension, or discharge to the period of reinstatement. Any employer who fails to comply with a wage assignment executed pursuant to this section shall be liable to the party designated by the court to receive such funds for the full amount of the wages assigned. If the employment of the obligor is terminated, the obligor shall promptly notify the court and the court may, on its own motion or upon motion of the complainant, order an assignment of earnings from any subsequent employer. Where an obligor has voluntarily executed a wage assignment and said assignment is submitted to the court, the assignment shall be subject to the provisions of this section. Any judgment or order for support issuing from a court of competent jurisdiction of any state, which has law similar to this section and which provides for reciprocity to this commonwealth, shall have the same force and effect as if the judgment or order originated from a court in the commonwealth.

SECTION 3. Section 5 of chapter 273 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 621 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

After the court has issued an order for the support of a spouse or child, the court may, either at the time the order is issued or at any time thereafter, order the obligor to assign a portion of his periodic earnings to the person entitled to receive said support or the person designated by the court to receive such payments, including, but not limited to, the person entitled to receive such support under the order, the probation office of the court, or where the person entitled to receive such support is a recipient of public assistance, the department of public welfare or the department of social services and to notify the employer of the obligor to periodically forward such portion to the supported person. Such assignment shall take effect on the next payment of earnings after the employer of the obligor receives notice thereof. The order of assignment shall specify the amount of earnings to be paid to the person supported and shall not exceed the federal limits on the percentage of an obligor's income which may be assigned for support. The obligor may move to terminate or modify the amount of such assignment at any time for good cause. The employer may deduct from said earnings a sum not exceeding one dollar as reimbursement for costs incurred. The employer may not discipline, suspend, or discharge an employee because of an assignment executed pursuant to this section, and any employer who violates this section shall be liable to such employee for all wages and employment benefits lost by the employee from the period of unlawful discipline, suspension, or discharge to the period of reinstatement. Any employer who fails to comply with a wage assignment executed pursuant to this section shall be liable to the party designated by the court to receive such funds for the full amount of the wages assigned. If the employment of the obligor is terminated, the obligor shall promptly notify the court and the court may, on its own motion or upon motion of the complainant, order an assignment of earnings from any subsequent employer. Where the obligor has voluntarily executed a wage assignment and said assignment is submitted to the court, the assignment shall be subject to the provisions of this section. Any judgment or order for support issuing from a court of competent jurisdiction of any state, which has law similar to this section and which provides for reciprocity to this commonwealth, shall have the same force and effect as if the judgment or order originated from a court in the commonwealth.

SECTION 4. Section 10 of chapter 273A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

After the court has issued an order for the support of a spouse or child, the court may, either at the time the order is issued or at any time thereafter, order the obligor to assign a portion of his periodic earnings to the person entitled to receive said support or the person designated by the court to receive such payments, including, but not limited to, the person entitled to receive such support under the order, the probation office of the court, or where the person entitled to receive such support is a recipient of public assistance, the department of public welfare or the department of social services and to notify the employer of the obligor to periodically forward such portion to the supported person. Such assignment shall take effect on the next payment of earnings after the employer of the obligor receives notice thereof. The order of assignment shall specify the amount of earnings to be paid to the person supported and shall not exceed the federal limits on the percentage of an obligor's income which may be assigned for support. The obligor may move to terminate or modify the amount of such assignment at any time for good cause. The employer may deduct from said earnings a sum not exceeding one dollar as reimbursement for costs incurred. The employer may not discipline, suspend, or discharge an employee because of an assignment executed pursuant to this section, and any employer who violates this section shall be liable to such employee for all wages and employment benefits lost by the employee from the period of unlawful discipline, suspension, or discharge to the period of reinstatement. Any employer who fails to comply with a wage assignment executed pursuant to this section shall be liable to the party designated by the court to receive such funds for the full amount of the wages assigned. If the employment of the obligor is terminated, the obligor shall promptly notify the court and the court may, on its own motion or upon motion of the complainant, order an assignment of earnings from any subsequent employer. Where an obligor has voluntarily executed a wage assignment and said assignment is submitted to the court, the assignment shall be subject to the provisions of this section. Any judgment or order for support issuing from a court of competent jurisdiction of any state, which has law similar to this section and which provides for reciprocity to this commonwealth, shall have the same force and effect as if the judgment or order originated from a court in the commonwealth.

EMERGENCY LETTER - May 20, 1982 @ 9:43 AM

Chap. 67. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR RECALL ELECTIONS IN THE TOWN OF LUNENBURG.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Any holder of an elected office in the town of Lunenburg may be recalled therefrom by the registered voters of the town as herein provided.

SECTION 2. Any one hundred registered voters of the town may initiate a recall petition by filing with the town clerk an affidavit containing the name of the officer sought to be recalled and a statement of the grounds for recall. The town clerk shall thereupon deliver to said voters making the affidavit copies of petition blanks demanding such recall, copies of which printed forms he shall keep available. Such blanks shall be issued by the town clerk, with his signature and official seal attached thereto. They shall be dated, shall be addressed to the selectmen and shall contain the names of all the persons to whom they are issued, the name of the person whose recall is sought, the grounds of recall as stated in the affidavit, and shall demand the election of a successor in the said office. A copy of the petition shall be entered in a record book to be kept in the office of the town clerk. Said recall petition shall be returned and filed with the town clerk within twenty days after the filing of the affidavit, and shall have been signed by at least twenty per cent of the registered voters of the town, who shall add to their signatures the street and number, if any, of their residences.

The town clerk shall within twenty-four hours of receipt submit the petition to the registrars of voters in the town, and the registrars shall forthwith certify thereon the number of signatures which are names of registered voters of the town.

SECTION 3. If the petition shall be found and certified by the town clerk to be sufficient he shall submit the same with his certificate to the selectmen without delay, and the selectmen shall forthwith give written notice of the receipt of the certificate to the officer sought to be recalled and shall, if the officer does not resign within five days thereafter, order an election to be held on a date fixed by them not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty-five days after the date of the town clerk's certificate that a sufficient petition has been filed; provided however that if any other town election is to occur within sixty days after the date of the certificate the selectmen shall postpone the holding of the recall election to the date of such other election. No person shall be subject to recall if his term of office expires within sixty days of the certificate. If a vacancy occurs in said office after a recall election has been ordered, the election shall nevertheless proceed as provided in this section.

SECTION 4. Any officer sought to be removed may be a candidate to succeed himself, and unless he requests otherwise in writing, the town clerk shall place his name on the ballot without nomination. The nomination of other candidates, the publication of the warrant for the removal election, and the conduct of the same, shall all be in accordance with the provisions of law relating to elections, unless otherwise provided in this act.

SECTION 5. The incumbent shall continue to perform the duties of his office until the recall election. If then reelected, he shall continue in office for the remainder of his unexpired term subject to recall as before, except as provided in this section. If not reelected in the recall election, he shall be deemed removed upon the qualification of his successor, who shall hold office during the unexpired term. If the successor fails to qualify within five days after receiving notification of his election, the incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed and the office vacant.

SECTION 6. Ballots used in a recall election shall submit the following propositions in the order indicated:

For the recall of (name of officers).

Against the recall of (name of officers).

Immediately at the right of each proposition there shall be a square in which the voter, by making a cross mark (X) may vote for either of the said propositions. Under the propositions shall appear the word "Candidates", the directions to the voters required by section forty-two of chapter fifty-four of the General Laws, and beneath this the names of candidates nominated in accordance with the provisions of law relating to elections. If two-thirds of the votes cast upon the question of recall is in the affirmative, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. If more than one-third of the votes on the question are in the negative, the ballots for candidates need not be counted.

SECTION 7. No recall petition shall be filed against an officer within ninety days after he takes office, nor, in the case of an officer subjected to a recall election and not recalled thereby, until at least ninety days after the election at which his recall was submitted to the voters of the town.

SECTION 8. No person who has been recalled from an office, or who has resigned from office while recall proceedings were pending against him, shall be appointed to any town office within two years after such recall or such resignation.

SECTION 9. This act shall be submitted for acceptance to the voters of the town of Lunenburg at the next annual town election or a special town election, whichever occurs first, in the form of the following question which shall be placed on the official ballot at such election:- "Shall an act passed by the general court in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, entitled 'An Act providing for recall elections in the Town of Lunenburg' be accepted?" If a majority of the votes cast in answer to said question is in the affirmative, this act shall take effect, but not otherwise.

Approved May 13, 1982.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2.02 of Article II of chapter 543 of the acts of 1970 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Preliminary elections shall be held in the city of Leominster in accordance with the provisions of sections forty-four A to forty-four G, inclusive, of chapter forty-three of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. This act shall apply to all municipal elections held in the city of Leominster on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Approved May 13, 1982.

Chap. 69. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CEMETERY COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWN OF LITTLETON TO REFUND MONIES TO CERTAIN PURCHASERS OF BURIAL RIGHTS IN THE TOWN CEMETERY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of sections nineteen and forty-three C of chapter one hundred and fourteen of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the cemetery commissioners of the town of Littleton are hereby authorized to refund monies paid by any person for the purchase of burial rights in the town cemetery when such person or his heirs and assigns conveys said burial rights back to the town.

Approved May 13, 1982.

Chap. 70. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE PAYMENT OF OFF DUTY DETAILS OF POLICE OFFICERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The second paragraph of section 53C of chapter 44 of the General Laws, as appearing in chapter 773 of the acts of 1973, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- When necessary, a city, town or district may appropriate funds to be placed in the special fund authorized by this section to be used for the purpose for which the fund was established. A city, town or district may establish a fee not to exceed ten per cent of the cost of services authorized under this section, which shall, except in the case of a city, town, district or the commonwealth, be paid by the persons requesting such private detail.

Approved May 13, 1982.

Chap. 71. AN ACT RELATIVE TO NOTICES OF CO-OPERATIVE BANK MERGERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 170 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 47, as amended by section 15 of chapter 1149 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 47. With the approval of the commissioner, any such corporation may advance or loan upon, or purchase, the whole or any part of the assets of any other such corporation, and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more other such corporations, at such valuations and upon such terms and conditions as shall have been agreed upon by vote of two-thirds of their respective boards of directors; and the corporation or corporations making or participating in such an advance, loan or purchase, for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the share liabilities and other liabilities of such other corporation upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. The request for such approval shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven. In the event of approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the number of directors, the investment of funds of co-operative banks and to the limitations upon shares and accounts referred to in section sixteen, shall not apply. The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to such share liabilities and other liabilities assumed as hereinbefore provided. Before all or substantially all of the assets of any such corporation shall be sold hereunder, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those shareholders present, qualified to vote and voting, at a special meeting called for the purpose, of the shareholders of the corporation proposing so to sell its assets. Notice of such special meeting, containing a statement of the time, place and purpose of the meeting, and setting forth the terms of sale tentatively agreed upon, shall be conspicuously posted in the main office and branch offices no less than thirty days before said meeting shall be held unless this requirement is waived in writing by the commissioner. In addition, said notice shall be advertised three times in one or more newspapers published in the town in which the main office or any branch office of said corporation is situated or if there be no such newspaper, then in one or more newspapers published in the county where said town is situated, the last publication to be at least one day before the meeting.

SECTION 2. Section 48 of said chapter 170, as most recently amended by section 368 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by striking out the introductory paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Any two or more such corporations may consolidate into a single corporation, upon such terms as shall have been agreed upon by vote of two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner; provided, that such action shall have been approved by the shareholders of each corporation at a special meeting thereof called for that purpose, by a vote of at least two-thirds of those shareholders present, qualified to vote and voting at each such meeting. If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of directors of the last consolidating corporation so to approve. The request for approval of the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven. Notice of such special meeting, setting forth the terms tentatively agreed upon, shall be posted and published in the manner and to the extent provided for the notices referred to in section forty-seven. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all such corporations, setting forth that each said corporation, respectively, has complied with all the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. Upon consolidation of any such corporation with another, as herein provided:-.

Approved May 17, 1982.

EMERGENCY LETTER - May 17, 1982 @ 1:32 P.M.

Chap. 72. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE LICENSING OF REAL ESTATE SALESMEN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 87SS of chapter 112 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as appearing in chapter 522 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Every individual applicant for a license as a salesman who is required to take an examination therefor shall, as a prerequisite to taking such examination, submit proof satisfactory to the board that he has completed courses in real estate subjects approved by the board, such courses to total twenty-four classroom hours of instruction; provided, however, that applicants having successfully completed a course in real property while enrolled in an accredited law school in the commonwealth may also take such examination. Every individual applicant for a license as a broker who is required to take an examination therefor shall, as a prerequisite to taking such examination, submit proof satisfactory to the board that he has been actively associated with a real estate broker for a period of one year as a real estate salesman and that he has completed additional courses in real estate subjects approved by the board, such courses to total thirty classroom hours of instruction..

Approved May 17, 1982.

Chap. 73. AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE EVERETT DEVELOPMENT AND FINANCIAL CORPORATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Revitalization districts", those areas that fall within the scope of the revitalization program and commercial area revitalization districts for Everett and Glendale squares, and outlined in the so-called John Brown Associates plan. More specifically, the Everett square revitalization district is bounded by the southerly sides of Hampshire street and that known as the High School to the westerly side of Pleasant street, the westerly side of Pleasant street to the northerly side of Webster street. The northerly side of Webster street to Linden street, continuing along the southerly side of Church street to the westerly sides of Devens and Norwood streets to the southerly side of Corey street. The southerly side of Corey street continuing along the easterly side of School street to the northerly side of Gladstone street. The northerly side of Gladstone street to the westerly side of Victoria street, continuing along the northerly side of Green street, to and including that known as the Vocational School, to the southerly side of Hampshire street. More specifically, the Glendale square revitalization district is bounded by the northerly sides of Coburn terrace and Marie avenue to the westerly side of Glendale place, continuing along the westerly side of Walnut street to the southerly side of Parker street. The southerly side of Parker street continuing along the southerly side of Oakland avenue to the easterly side of Blanchard avenue. The easterly side of Blanchard avenue to the southerly side of Ferry street. The southerly side of Ferry street to the westerly sides of Russell and Sycamore streets to the northerly side of Coburn terrace.

"Corporation", Everett Development and Financial Corporation, established by section two.

"Financial institution", any banking corporation or institution, trust company, savings bank, co-operative bank, savings and loan association, insurance company, or related corporation partnership, foundation or other institution engaged primarily in lending or investing funds.

SECTION 2. Mayor Edward G. Connolly, Carmin J. Mercadante, Michael L. Llwellyn, Douglas P. Whynott, Joseph Grossman, Harry B. Coholan, John F. Kryzovic, Rodney D. Twedell, Anthony J. LaMonica, Robert W. Norton, Frank Kozak, Bernadette M. Gaynor, their successors and assigns are hereby constituted a body corporate under the name of Everett Development and Financial Corporation.

SECTION 3. It is hereby declared that unused, underutilized, and unoccupied areas exist in parts of the city of Everett; that such areas are potentially injurious and inimical to the safety and welfare of the residents of said city; that each such area constitutes an economic liability, substantially impairs the sound growth of said city, and impedes the economic well-being of the commonwealth; that each such area decreases the value of private investments and threatens the sources of public revenue; that redevelopment of each such area in accordance with an economic development plan is necessary to retain existing commercial enterprises, attract new commercial development and promote the sound economic growth of said city; that the existence of such unused areas makes persons hesitant to do business in said city; that the acquisition of property for the purpose of eliminating unused, substandard, or blighted conditions therein, preventing recurrence of such conditions in the area, improvement of sites for commercial uses, the disposition of the property for redevelopment incidental to the foregoing, the exercise of powers by the corporation and any assistance which may be given by said city, or any other public body in connection therewith are public uses and purposes for which public money may be expended; and that the acquisition, planning, clearance, development, rehabilitation, or rebuilding of such areas for commercial purposes are public uses and benefits for which private property may be regulated by wholesome and reasonable orders, law and directions and for which public funds may be expended for the good and welfare of said city and the commonwealth.

It is hereby further found that many existing commercial facilities within said city are obsolete and inefficient; that certain such facilities are underutilized or vacated; that such obsolescence of existing facilities is deleterious to the economy of said city; that the commercial sector of the economy provides one of the best opportunities for jobs at higher wages for the inhabitants of said city; that new commercial sites are required to attract and house new commercial development, and to retain existing commercial operations in need of expansion space; that the unaided efforts of private industry have not provided and cannot provide the necessary commercial sites within the urban environment due to the problems encountered in the assembly of suitable building sites, the provision of adequate public services, the unavailability of private capital for development and the inability of private enterprise alone to plan, finance and coordinate commercial development projects.

SECTION 4. The corporation shall be subject to and have the powers and privileges conferred by the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-five, sections eighteen, twenty-seven, thirty-one, thirty-three, and thirty-four of chapter one hundred and fifty-six the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B and section four of chapter one hundred and eighty of the General Laws as presently enacted or hereafter amended, except insofar as said provisions are inconsistent with or otherwise restricted or limited by the provisions of this act.

SECTION 5. The principal office of the corporation shall be located in the city of Everett.

SECTION 6. The purposes of the corporation shall be, to correct the conditions found to exist in the city of Everett set forth in section three, promote the common good and general welfare of said city, improve the living standards of the citizens thereof by fostering the improvement of their employment opportunities, solicit, encourage and induce business organizations and educational institutions to locate in said city, with initial priority to the so-called Everett and Glendale squares revitalization districts with an emphasis consistent with the objectives, plans and theme for the renewal of the squares as illustrated by the John Brown Associates plan and as proposed by the office of the mayor and the Everett chamber of commerce. The corporation shall assist and promote the development and expansion of business activity and business organizations in said city, and, for the first five years of its existence, the corporation shall concentrate its activities on the rehabilitation and restoration of the commercial area revitalization districts of said Everett and Glendale squares.

In furtherance of said purposes and in addition to the powers conferred on the corporation under the provisions of section four, the corporation shall, subject to the restrictions and limitations hereinafter contained, have the following powers:

(a) To accept, acquire other than by eminent domain, receive and hold by bequest, devise, grant, gift, purchase, exchange, lease, transfer by judicial order or decree, or otherwise, for any of its objects and purposes, any property, both real and personal, from any source, including grants, loans or advances for or in aid of the purposes of the corporation from any federal agency or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof;

(b) To sell, convey, mortgage, lease, transfer, exchange or otherwise dispose of, any such property, both real and personal that the objects and purposes of the corporation may require, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law;

(c) To borrow money, and, from time to time, to make, accept, endorse, execute, and issue bonds, debentures, promissory notes, bills of exchange, and other obligations of the corporation for monies borrowed or in payment for property acquired or for any of the other purposes of the corporation, and to secure the payment of any such obligations by mortgage, pledge, deed, indenture, agreement, or other instrument of trust, or by other lien upon, assignment of, or agreement in regard to all or any part of the property, rights or privileges of the corporation, whether now owned or hereafter to be acquired;

(d) To make loans to any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association or trust located or doing business in the city of Everett for the purpose of promoting and developing business activities of all kinds, provided such business activities tend to increase employment opportunities within said city;

(e) To acquire improved and unimproved real estate for the purpose of constructing retail, commercial and residential or other business establishments thereon, or for the purpose of disposing of such real estate to others for the construction of retail, commercial or other business establishments as the objects and purposes of the corporation may require;

(f) To acquire, construct, reconstruct, alter, maintain, sell, convey, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of retail, commercial, industrial, residential or business establishments as the objects and purposes of the corporation may require;

(g) To acquire, subscribe for, own, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of the bonds, debentures, notes or other securities and evidences of interest in, or indebtedness of, any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association or trust, and while the owner or holder thereof, to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership;

(h) To cooperate with and avail itself of the facilities and programs including, but not limited to, those of the Small Business Administration of the United States, the Massachusetts Business Development Corporation, the department of commerce and development, the United States Department of Commerce, and any similar governmental agencies; provided that at no time shall the corporation apply for governmental funds in competition with any department, agency, or instrumentality of the city of Everett without the express written consent of the mayor of said city and city council;

(i) To receive stocks, bonds, donations, gifts and otherwise raise money for the above outlined purposes;

(j) To elect, appoint and employ officers, agents and employees; to make contracts and incur liabilities for any of the purposes of the corporation;

(k) To employ consultants;

(l) To promote the city of Everett as a regional retail, commercial, industrial, professional and financial center; and

(m) To do all things and acts necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this act; provided, however, that the purposes shall not include the rights to apply for a license to sell alcoholic beverages; and that no part of the funds, property or net earnings of the corporation shall inure to the benefit of any member, stockholder other than the city of Everett, officer of the corporation or any private individual, and no member, officer of the corporation, or any private individual shall be entitled to share in the distribution of any of the corporate assets on dissolution of the corporation except to the extent that stockholders are entitled to participate in the distribution of the corporation's assets upon dissolution under section nineteen, nor shall the corporation allow any of its property to be used directly or indirectly in carrying on of propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation. The corporation shall not participate in or intervene in any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office or publish or distribute any statements with respect thereto. Notwithstanding any other provision herein contained, neither the members, directors, officers, stockholders, nor the corporation shall participate in any of the "prohibited transactions" as defined in Section 503 of the Internal Revenue Code, nor shall the corporation accumulate income or engage in any activities if the accumulation of the income or the activities so engaged in are or would be within the prohibitions of Section 504 of the Internal Revenue Code, nor shall the corporation be operated at any time for the primary and sole purpose of carrying on a trade or business for profit.

SECTION 7. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall consist of forty thousand shares of non-dividend-paying common capital stock with a par value of fifty dollars each. The shareholders may at any time by majority vote issue any part or all of said stock upon such terms as they shall determine or by majority vote shareholders may delegate to the directors the power to issue by majority vote any part or all of said stock upon such terms as they shall determine. An individual, corporation, estate, trust, company or partnership shall be entitled to purchase the same from the corporation from time to time, as long as the latter has in its treasury authorized common capital stock not distributed. Such stock may also be purchased from other individuals, corporations, estates, trusts, companies or partnerships. None of the earnings or profits of the corporation shall accrue to or be paid to the stockholders of common capital stock as dividends or profits in any form.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding any rule at common law or any authorization, limitation or any such other provision of any general or special law, or any provision in their respective charters, agreements of associations, articles of organization, or trust indentures, all domestic corporations organized for the purpose of carrying on business within the commonwealth, including without implied limitation any electric or gas company as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-four of the General Laws, railroad corporations as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws, financial institutions, trustees and the city of Everett are hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, or otherwise dispose of any stocks, bonds, securities, or other evidence of indebtedness of the corporation and to make contributions to the corporation, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the commonwealth.

Any contribution made under this section to the corporation shall be in addition to any contributions authorized by section twelve C of chapter one hundred and fifty-five of the General Laws, and by other provisions of general or special law.

SECTION 9. In order to carry out the purposes and powers of the corporation, the city of Everett may raise and appropriate, or may borrow in aid of the corporation, such sums as may be necessary to make a loan or grant to the corporation, subject to approval of the mayor and city council, and provided that such action be reviewed by the city solicitor and deemed appropriate under the city charter. Any agreement, loan or arrangement between the city of Everett and said corporation shall be reduced in writing clearly setting forth the terms and arrangements therein.

SECTION 10. The shareholders of the corporation shall have the powers of the corporation to elect directors as provided in sections eleven and twelve and to exercise such other powers of the corporation as may be conferred on the shareholders by the by-laws.

SECTION 11. The board of directors of the corporation shall be elected annually and shall have the powers of the corporation: at its option, to name an advisory board; to set a fiscal year for the operation of the corporation; and to make, amend or repeal the by-laws in whole or in part.

SECTION 12. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed and conducted by an executive committee which shall have full power to commit the board of directors and the corporation. Said committee shall be elected annually by and from the board of directors, consisting of seven voting members, of which one shall be mayor of the city of Everett, four shall be elected from among the representatives of those participating financial institutions which have brought or subscribed to shares in the corporation in the amount of one-twentieth of one per cent of their Everett regular savings and checking account deposits, and the remaining two elected at large by and from the board of directors, and one nonvoting member who shall be a representative of said city's designated development agency chosen by the mayor or in the case of an independent agency, by its board. The board of directors shall consist of twenty-five members of which one shall be the mayor of said city and one shall be the president of the chamber of commerce. The remaining twenty-three directors shall be elected by the shareholders, casting one vote on a noncumulative basis per share owned. There shall be elected by the board of directors and from the executive board a president, treasurer, and secretary/clerk.

Directors and officers shall not be responsible for losses unless the same shall have been occasioned by the willful misconduct of such directors and officers.

SECTION 13. The corporation shall not deposit any of its funds in any banking institution unless such institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of a majority of the directors present at an authorized meeting of the board of directors, exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the depository so designated. The corporation shall not receive money on deposit.

SECTION 14. The corporation shall make reports of its condition not less than annually to the state secretary, which report shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city of Everett within sixty days of the close of the corporation's fiscal year. The state secretary shall make copies of such reports available to the commissioner of insurance and to the commissioner of banks, and the corporation shall also furnish such other information as may, from time to time, be required by the state secretary. In addition, the mayor of said city shall appear in person before the city council of said city not less than twice annually to report the status and plans for the development of the revitalization districts and any real estate owned by the corporation.

SECTION 15. The first meeting of the corporation shall be called by a notice signed by three or more of the incorporators, stating the time, place and purpose of the meeting, a copy of which notice shall be mailed or delivered to each incorporator at least five days before the day appointed for the meeting. Said first meeting may be held without such notice upon agreement in writing to that effect signed by all the incorporators. There shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting a copy of said notice or of such unanimous agreement of the incorporators.

At such first meeting the incorporators shall organize by the choice, by ballot, of a temporary clerk, by the adoption of by-laws, by the election by ballot of directors and by actions upon such matters within the powers of the corporation as the incorporators may see fit. The temporary clerk shall be sworn and shall make and attest a record of the proceedings until the clerk has been chosen and sworn. Eight of the incorporators shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

Whenever the certificate required by section thirteen of chapter one hundred and fifty-five of the General Laws has been filed in the office of the state secretary, said secretary shall issue and deliver to the incorporators a certified copy of this act under the seal of the commonwealth, and the corporation shall then be authorized to commence business, and stock thereof to the extent herein or hereafter duly authorized may, from time to time, be issued.

SECTION 16. The corporation shall not be subject to any of the provisions of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws, nor to any taxes based upon or measured by income which are presently enacted by the commonwealth. The securities, evidences of indebtedness, and shares of stock issued by the corporation, and income therefrom shall at all times be free from taxation by the commonwealth.

Any stockholder, or holder of any securities, evidences of indebtedness, or shares of the capital stock of the corporation who realizes a loss from the sale, redemption, or other disposition of any securities, evidences of indebtedness or shares of the capital stock of the corporation, including any such loss realized on a partial or complete liquidation of the corporation, and who is not entitled to deduct such loss in computing any of such stockholder's or holder's taxes to the commonwealth, shall be entitled to credit against any taxes subsequently becoming due to the commonwealth from such stockholders or other holders, a percentage of such loss equivalent to the highest rate of tax assessed for the year in which the loss occurs upon mercantile and business corporations as referred to in section two of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws.

SECTION 17. The provisions of chapter one hundred and ten A of the General Laws shall not apply to the shares of capital stock, bonds, debentures, notes, evidences of indebtedness, or any other securities of the corporation.

SECTION 18. This charter may be amended by the votes of the shareholders, and such amendments shall require approval by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the shareholders entitled to vote; provided that no amendment of this charter which is inconsistent with the general purposes expressed herein or which eliminates or curtails the right of the state secretary to examine the corporation or the obligation of the corporation to make reports as provided in section thirteen of chapter one hundred and fifty-five of the General Laws shall be made without amendment of this act; and provided, further, that no amendment of this charter which affects a stockholder's voting right shall be made without the consent of each stockholder affected by such an amendment.

Within thirty days after any meeting at which amendments of this charter have been adopted, articles of amendment sworn to by the president, treasurer, and a majority of the directors of the corporation setting forth such amendment and the adoption thereof, shall be submitted to the state secretary, who shall examine them, and if he finds that they conform to requirements of the acts, he shall so certify and endorse his approval thereon. Thereupon, the articles of amendment shall be filed in the office of the state secretary and no such amendment shall take effect until such articles of amendment shall have been filed as aforesaid.

Prior to or within sixty days after the effective date of any legislative amendment to this charter, the approval of such amendment shall be voted on by the stockholders of the corporation at a meeting duly called for the purpose. If such amendment is not approved by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the stockholders entitled to vote, any stockholder who has voted against the approval of such amendment if entitled to vote, or, if not entitled to vote, has registered his disapproval in writing with the corporation at, or before said meeting, may within thirty days after said meeting, make a written demand upon the corporation for payment for his stock.

SECTION 19. The period of duration of the corporation shall be fifty years, subject, however, to the right of the members to dissolve the corporation prior to the expiration of said period as provided in section nineteen.

SECTION 20. The corporation may, upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of its members, petition for its dissolution by order of the supreme judicial or superior court, in the manner provided in section fifty of chapter one hundred and fifty-five of the General Laws. Upon any dissolution of the corporation the stockholders, if any, shall be paid on a pro rata basis that percentage of the assets of the corporation in excess of the obligations of the corporation which the amounts paid into the corporation for all stock bear to sum of such amounts paid into the corporation for the stock and the amounts of all donations made to the corporation; provided, that in no event shall a stockholder be paid upon such dissolution more than the amount paid into the corporation for his stock.

SECTION 21. If the corporation shall fail to commence operations within three years from the effective date of this act, then this act shall be null and void.

SECTION 22. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not impair any of the remaining provisions.

SECTION 23. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the city of Everett.

Approved May 13, 1982.

Chap. 74. AN ACT PROVIDING CERTAIN SECURITY PROTECTION FOR NURSING HOME RESIDENTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 111 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 72U, added by section 3 of chapter 528 of the acts of 1981, the following section:-

Section 72V. Every nursing home, rest home, or other long term care facility shall provide adequate and secure storage space for the personal property of each resident. The department shall promulgate regulations specifying methods to protect such property, including regulations providing individual access to each resident to said resident's private storage area which may include a locked drawer, to which each resident shall have a key, except that the administrator or his designee of each such facility shall hold a master key to any such locked spaces.

Approved May 19, 1982.

Chap. 75. AN ACT VALIDATING CERTAIN ACTIONS OF THE TOWN OF EDGARTOWN AND AUTHORIZING SAID TOWN TO ISSUE BONDS OR NOTES IN CONNECTION WITH A SEWER CONSTRUCTION PROJECT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The action taken by the town of Edgartown on October twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and eighty in paying one hundred nineteen thousand one hundred and thirty-six dollars from its revenue funds being the principal amount of temporary notes in anticipation of a serial loan in connection with the sewer construction project described in and authorized by the vote of said town adopted under Article 8 of the warrant for the special town meeting held on October twentieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight is hereby confirmed and validated. Upon the restoration of said revenue funds as provided in section two, the director of accounts shall certify such to the assessors of said town and to the selectmen of said town as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, as provided in section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, as though such revenue funds had been restored prior to July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 2. In order to restore said revenue funds of the town to its treasury, the treasurer of the town of Edgartown, with the approval of the board of selectmen, is hereby authorized to issue from time to time bonds or notes to an amount not exceeding one hundred nineteen thousand one hundred and thirty-six dollars. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan and each such loan shall be paid in not more than twenty years from its date, provided that the bonds or notes issued for such loan may be consolidated with and issued at the same time as any other authorized bonds or notes issued by the town. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall be in excess of the statutory limit provided in section ten of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and shall, except as provided herein, be subject to the provisions of said chapter forty-four.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved May 20, 1982.

Chap. 76. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE GERIATRIC AUTHORITY OF MILFORD AND PROVIDING FOR THE FINANCING THEREOF.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. It is hereby declared that the establishment of a Geriatric Authority in the town of Milford to shelter and protect and provide service to the aging and infirm who can continue to reside in the community but may be in need of activities and services provided for at or by the Public Medical Home of Milford and such social welfare and health programs in the community relating to the care of the aging is a public purpose. It is further declared that the lack of properly constructed dwelling units designed specifically to meet the needs of elderly and infirm persons aggravates those diseases peculiar to the elderly.

SECTION 2. There is hereby established a public body corporate and politic to be known as the Geriatric Authority of Milford, hereinafter referred to as the authority, which shall own, maintain and operate the Municipal Public Medical Home of Milford and any other facilities which may be established by the authority in accordance with the powers conferred by this act. The exercise by the authority of the powers conferred by this act shall be deemed and held to be the performance of essential governmental functions.

SECTION 3. Said authority shall consist of seven members to be appointed by the board of selectmen and who shall serve for a term of three years. Of the members first appointed by the board of selectmen, two shall serve for a term of one year, two for a term of two years, and three for a term of three years. Any member may be removed from office by vote of the board of selectmen for cause. The authority shall hold at least twelve meetings in every calendar year, and a majority of the members shall constitute a quorum for each meeting.

SECTION 4. The authority shall have the general management and control of the Milford Public Medical Home and any branches thereof which have been or which may hereafter be established, and of the expenditure of the money appropriated for the operation thereof. The authority may appoint an administrator with such assistant and subordinate officers and other employees as it may deem necessary or expedient. The authority shall have jurisdiction of its affairs and the property under its control. The authority shall establish and enforce all necessary rules and regulations for the administration, admission, government, and removal of residents in the Milford Public Medical Home and any other such facility which it may control. The authority shall have charge and control of all its financial receipts and expenditures. The authority shall reimburse said town annually the amount of principal and interest paid by said town after the effective date of this act, on bonds and notes issued by said town pursuant to section ten A or earlier issued by said town for the construction of the existing medical home facilities.

SECTION 4A. All persons holding a position of employment appointed by, or holding by, through or under the Milford Public Medical Home are hereby transferred to, and made employees of the authority without reduction in their rank or compensation, or impairment of their retirement, vacation, holiday, or sick leave rights and other rights in the position held by them on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two. All positions of employment appointed by, or holding by, through or under the authority, shall be exempt from the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws; provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not impair the civil service status of any person holding a position with said status on the effective date of this act.

SECTION 5. The members of the authority shall elect a chairman, a vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer who shall serve for a term of one year, or until their successors are elected. Said election shall be held annually during the month of July.

SECTION 6. The following standing committees shall be appointed by the chairman with the approval of the members: budget and finance, medical, personnel, social and volunteer service. The chairman shall be a member ex-officio of all committees.

SECTION 7. The chairman shall preside at all meetings of the authority. He shall appoint the chairman of all standing and special committees and shall maintain general supervision over all the affairs of the authority. He shall, together with the treasurer, execute and deliver for, on behalf and in the name of the authority, all instruments which may be required for the proper prosecution of its business. In the absence or inability of the chairman to perform his duties, his duties shall be performed by the vice-chairman. The secretary shall attend all meetings of the authority and shall record the proceedings thereof in a book provided for such purpose. The treasurer shall attend all meetings of the authority. He shall have custody of the funds of the authority and shall keep and maintain complete records of all financial transactions and shall carry a complete record of all accounts. The treasurer shall cause books to be kept containing a detailed account of all funds received and expended, and shall make quarterly reports to the town accountant of funds received and expended.

SECTION 8. The authority shall have the following powers and duties:

(a) To adopt a seal, and the engraved or printed facsimile of such seal appearing on any bond, note, or other instrument of the authority shall have the same effect as though such seal were impressed thereon.

(b) To sue and be sued, but only to the same extent and upon the same conditions that a city or town may be sued.

(c) With its own funds, or with the appropriation of necessary funds by the town of Milford at a town meeting, to acquire within said town, by purchase or gift, or eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine, chapter seventy-nine A, or chapter eighty A of the General Laws, or by lease or otherwise, any land or buildings or interests in land, air or water for the purposes of the authority, and to plan, design, acquire, construct, reconstruct, improve, extend, equip, repair, maintain, and operate geriatric facilities, which may include, but not be limited to, hospital, nursing home and sheltered living facilities, as such terms are defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, and community facilities designed to meet the need of the elderly, to acquire personal property necessary in connection with the foregoing, and to lease geriatric facilities, either as lessee or lessor, provided: that any lease agreements shall be subject to approval by vote of the board of selectmen of the town, that any major construction, reconstruction, or extension, totaling one hundred thousand dollars or more, not requiring the issuance of bonds or notes shall be subject to approval by two-thirds vote of said town meeting, and that any acquisition of real property shall be subject to approval of two-thirds vote of the town meeting.

(d) To dispose of any real or personal property of the authority which is no longer needed for its purposes by sale or otherwise provided that no real property shall be disposed of by the authority without approval of two-thirds vote of said town meeting.

(e) To maintain an office at such place or places within said town as it may determine.

(f) To receive and disburse funds for any of its purposes and to maintain financial reserves.

(g) To receive and apply any grants or gifts for its purposes.

(h) To make and enforce such rules and regulations as may, in the judgment of the authority, be necessary or desirable for the efficient operation of any geriatric facility or geriatric system within its jurisdiction, control, and supervision, and for accomplishing the purposes of this act.

(i) To issue temporary notes, from time to time, in the name and upon the full faith and credit of the authority in anticipation of revenue to be received from any source in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars outstanding at any time and in such greater amount as may be approved from time to time by a two-thirds vote of a town meeting of said town, provided that the aggregate amount of notes outstanding at any time under this section shall not exceed one-half of the authority's ordinary operating revenues of the previous fiscal year. The proceeds of such notes shall be used to pay current operating expenses only but no purchaser of such notes shall be in any way responsible for the proper application of such proceeds. Each such loan shall be payable no later than one year from its date. Temporary notes issued under this clause for shorter periods than permitted hereby may be refunded from time to time by the issue of other temporary notes maturing within the required period. Temporary notes may be issued pursuant to this clause by the chairman and the treasurer whenever they are so authorized by the authority, and said chairman and treasurer shall determine the form, interest rate and other details of such notes and shall sign such notes.

(j) To employ and fix the compensation of such consulting and other engineers, attorneys, accountants, construction and financial experts, superintendents, managers and such other employees and agents as it may deem necessary or incidental to the performance of its duties and the execution of its powers under this act.

(k) When authorized by a vote of the board of selectmen of said town, in its own name or in the name of the town, to enter into agreement with the federal government relative to the acceptance of grants or borrowing of funds for any project which the authority is authorized to undertake, and containing such covenants, terms and conditions as the authority, with like approval, may deem desirable, and, pursuant to any such agreement, to borrow funds from the federal government or from any qualified lender under a federally funded, guaranteed or insured lending program, upon the security of its bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, and to secure the same by mortgages upon property held or to be held by it, or by pledge of its revenues.

(l) To call upon the various departments, authorities, boards, and commissions of said town for the purposes of assisting in making investigations and in effecting the design, construction, and operation of geriatric facilities, and the authority shall arrange for payment for such services and expenses of said agencies in connection therewith.

(m) To organize and control the activities of such nonprofit corporations as may be necessary and appropriate to receive loans and grants from the federal or state government or from any nonprofit agency for the purposes of this act, provided that the trustees of any such nonprofit corporation shall be the same persons who hold office as members of the authority. The organization of any such nonprofit corporation shall require approval by two-thirds vote of the board of selectmen of said town and any action of such nonprofit corporation which if taken by the authority would require approval under this act shall require like approval.

(n) To do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the provisions of this act.

SECTION 9. Any bonds, notes, or certificates of indebtedness of the authority, in the absence of an express recital to the contrary of the face thereof, shall constitute negotiable instruments for all purposes. They may be payable from the income of the authority or constitute a general obligation thereof, may be sold at not less than par, at public or private sale, may mature at such time or times, may be secured in such manner, may provide for such rights and remedies upon their default, may contain such other covenants, terms and conditions not inconsistent with law, may be executed by such officers, and may be issued with or without the corporate seal, all as may be authorized either by vote of the authority or by the officers to whom the power to determine any or all the matters set forth in this sentence may be expressly delegated by vote of the authority. The engraved or printed facsimile of the seal of the authority on its bonds, notes, or certificates of indebtedness shall have the same validity and effect as if such seal were impressed thereon. Whenever a bond, note or certificate of indebtedness is required to bear the signatures of two or more officers, it shall be sufficient if the signature on any one of such officers upon such instrument is a written signature and the remaining signature or signatures are engraved, printed, or stamped facsimile signatures; provided, that each officer whose facsimile signature appears on such instrument has, by a writing bearing his written signature and filed in the office of the secretary of the authority, authorized the officer whose written signature appears on such instrument to cause such facsimile to be placed thereon. The facsimile signature of any officer so engraved, printed or stamped thereon shall have the same validity and effect as his written signature. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile thereof appears on any notes, bonds, or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such notes or bonds, such signature or facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office until such delivery.

The bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness of the authority issued under this act including temporary notes issued under clause (i) of section eight their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation within the commonwealth. The bonds of the authority issued under this act shall be legal investments for the deposits and the income derived therefrom of savings banks, for the trust funds of trust companies, for the capital and other funds of insurance companies, and for funds over which the commonwealth has exclusive control.

SECTION 10. The employment of any employees of the authority shall be included in the term "employment" as used in sections one to eleven, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A of the General Laws, and the authority is authorized to become liable for payments instead of contributions and otherwise to comply with the provisions of subsection (o) of section fourteen of said chapter. Employees of the authority are hereby made eligible to participate in the contributory retirement system under chapter thirty-two of the General Laws, and the group insurance plan under chapter thirty-two B of the General Laws, if authorized by the authority, to the same extent as if they are employees, as defined in section one of said chapter thirty-two and section two of said chapter thirty-two B of the town of Milford. Notwithstanding any general or special law or rule or regulation to the contrary, the authority shall be required to pay to the Milford retirement system by June first of each fiscal year, an amount of money equal to the total amount paid by said retirement system to retired employees of the Milford Medical Home or the authority. Such payment shall be in lieu of any other payment, charge or assessment required of the authority pursuant to chapter thirty-two of the General Laws. Employee contributions shall be withheld from the wages of eligible employees and paid to the Milford retirement system, as required by law.

SECTION 10A. For the purposes of this act, the town may from time to time issue bonds or notes to an amount not exceeding, in the aggregate, ten million dollars. Such bonds or notes shall bear on their face the words, Milford Public Medical Home Authority of Milford Loan, Act of 1982. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan, and such loans shall be paid in not more than twenty years from their dates. Indebtedness incurred from time to time under this act shall be outside the statutory limit of indebtedness described in section ten of chapter forty-four, exclusive of the limitation contained in the first paragraph of section seven thereof. The proceeds of such bonds or notes shall be paid over to the treasurer of the authority, to be used for the purposes of this act, upon such terms and conditions as said town and the authority shall mutually agree.

SECTION 10B. The town shall not assess any tax upon the geriatric facility or geriatric system or part thereof, or upon the income therefrom but payment shall be made to the town of Milford in lieu of taxes. Such payment shall be made on April first of each year and shall be that amount arrived at by applying the then current tax rate of said town for commercial real estate to sixty-five per cent of the assessed valuation of the real estate of the authority assessed as commercial property. By January first of each year, the board of assessors shall certify in writing to the authority the assessed valuation of all real property of the authority to be utilized in calculating the next payment due under this section. If aggrieved by any such valuation, the authority may appeal therefrom in accordance with the procedures set forth in chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. Nothing contained in this act shall exempt any lessee or person in possession of a geriatric facility or part thereof, or the property leased or possessed from taxes or assessments payable under the General Laws.

SECTION 10C. This act shall be construed in all respects to meet constitutional requirements. If any provision is held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or circumstance. In carrying out this act, all things shall be done which are necessary to meet constitutional requirements, whether or not such things are otherwise required by statute.

SECTION 10D. For purposes of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws, the authority shall be a municipal agency, and without limiting the power of the board of selectmen of said town to classify additional special municipal employees pursuant to said chapter, each member of the authority, and any person who performs professional services for the authority in a part-time intermittent or consultant basis, shall be considered a special municipal employee.

Approved May 20, 1982.

Chap. 77. AN ACT PROVIDING THAT THE PLACEMENT OF THE NAMES OF CANDIDATES FOR PUBLIC OFFICE ON THE OFFICIAL BALLOT USED IN MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN THE TOWN OF CANTON SHALL BE DRAWN BY LOT.

Chap. 101. AN ACT RELATIVE TO COMPLIANCE WITH SUBPOENA DUCES TECUM FOR BUSINESS RECORDS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 233 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 79I the following section:-

Section 79J. A record kept by any business which is required to be produced in court by any party shall be certified by the affidavit of the person in custody thereof to be a true and complete record and shall be delivered by such business to the clerk of such court who shall keep the same in his custody until its production is called for at the trial or hearing by the party requiring the said record. Such record, so certified and delivered shall be deemed to be sufficiently identified to be admissible in evidence if admissible in all other respects. The party requiring the production of said record and, in the discretion of the court, any other party may examine said record in the custody of the clerk at any time before it is produced in court. The clerk upon completion of such trial or hearing shall notify such business that said record is no longer required and will be returned by mail unless an authorized representative of the business calls for the same at the office of said clerk within seven days of said notice.

A copy of such record made by the photographic process may be delivered to the clerk of such court in place of the original and, if certified as hereinbefore provided, shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original.

Approved May 26, 1982.

Chap. 102. AN ACT REQUIRING CERTAIN PERSONS TO REPORT CASES OF CHILD ABUSE OR NEGLECT.

Be enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 51A of chapter 119 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by chapter 434 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Any physician, medical intern, hospital personnel engaged in the examination, care or treatment of persons, medical examiner, psychologist, emergency medical technician, dentist, nurse, chiropractor, podiatrist, osteopath, public or private school teacher, educational administrator, guidance or family counselor, day care worker, probation officer, social worker, foster parent, firefighter or policeman, who, in his professional capacity shall have reasonable cause to believe that a child under the age of eighteen years is suffering serious physical or emotional injury resulting from abuse inflicted upon him including sexual abuse, or from neglect, including malnutrition, or who is determined to be physically dependent upon an addictive drug at birth, shall immediately report such condition to the department by oral communication and by making a written report within forty-eight hours after such oral communication; provided, however, that whenever such person so required to report is a member of the staff of a medical or other public or private institution, school or facility, he shall immediately either notify the department or notify the person in charge of such institution, school or facility, or that person's designated agent, whereupon such person in charge or his said agent shall then become responsible to make the report in the manner required by this section. Any such person so required to make such oral and written reports who fails to do so shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

Approved May 26, 1982.

Chap. 103. AN ACT REGULATING THE LABELLING AND SALE OF MAPLE SYRUP.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 128 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 36B the following section:-

Section 36C. No person shall manufacture, label, package, sell, keep for sale, expose or offer for sale any article or product branded as "maple syrup", "maple candy", "maple creams", "maple butter", or "maple sugar" which is not made from pure maple syrup derived from the sap of the maple tree. Any compound or mixture branded or labelled as maple syrup, maple candy, maple creams, maple butter or maple sugar, or branded as an imitation thereof, which consists of maple syrup mixed with any other substances or ingredients shall have printed on the package containing such compound or mixture a statement of the ingredients of which it is made, all said ingredients to be set forth in the same size type as the words "maple syrup".

The use of the words "maple syrup", shall not be used in the labelling or branding of any product which does not contain any maple syrup in its ingredients.

SECTION 2. Section 38 of said chapter 128, as amended by chapter 506 of the acts of 1951, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Whoever violates any provisions of sections thirty-six B and thirty-six C shall be punished for a first offense by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars, for a second offense by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars and for a subsequent offense by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars.

Approved May 26, 1982.

Chap. 104. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHING OF EMPLOYEE COOPERATIVE CORPORATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Clause (12) of paragraph (a) of section 402 of chapter 110A of the General Laws, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 694 of the acts of 1972, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "fifty-seven", in line 2, the words:- or organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-seven A.

SECTION 2. Chapter 157 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 8, as amended by section 32 of chapter 750 of the acts of 1962, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 8. Any person, partnership, association or corporation, domestic or foreign, except employee cooperatives organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-seven A and co-operative banks and corporations organized under section ten, transacting business for profit in the commonwealth under any name or title containing the word "co-operative", unless the net earnings thereof are distributed in a manner permitted for a co-operative corporation by this chapter, shall forfeit to the commonwealth not more than ten dollars for every day or part thereof during which such name or title is so used. Such forfeiture may be recovered by an information brought in the supreme judicial or superior court by the attorney general, at the relation of the state secretary. Upon such information, the court may issue a temporary or permanent injunction restraining such person, partnership, association or corporation from doing business in the commonwealth, or from so using such name or title, and may make such other orders and decrees as justice and equity may require.

SECTION 3. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 157 the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 157A.
EMPLOYEE COOPERATIVE CORPORATIONS.

Section 1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Employee Cooperative Corporations Act.

Section 2. As used in this chapter the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:

"Employee cooperative", a corporation which has elected to be governed by the provisions of this chapter.

"Member", a natural person who has been accepted for membership in, and owns a membership share issued by an employee cooperative.

Section 3. Any corporation organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-six B may elect to be governed as an employee cooperative under the provisions of this chapter, by so stating in its articles of organization or articles of amendment filed in accordance with said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

A corporation so electing shall be governed by all provisions of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B other than sections seventy-eight to eighty-five, inclusive, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

Section 4. An employee cooperative may revoke its election under this chapter by a vote of two-thirds of the members and through articles of amendment filed in accordance with section seventy-two of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

Section 5. An employee cooperative may include the word "cooperative" or "co-op" in its corporate name.

Section 6. (a) The articles of organization or the by-laws shall establish qualifications and the method of acceptance and termination of members. No person may be accepted as a member unless employed by the employee cooperative on a full time or part time basis.

(b) An employee cooperative shall issue a class of voting stock designated as "membership shares". Each member shall own only one such membership share, and only members may own such shares.

(c) Membership shares shall be issued for a fee as shall be determined from time to time by the directors. Sections twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-eight and thirty of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall not apply to such membership shares. Sections seventy-six and eighty-five to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall not apply to membership shares whose redemption price is determined by reference to internal capital accounts as defined in section nine.

(d) Members of an employee cooperative shall have all the rights and responsibilities of stockholders of a corporation organized under said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

Section 7. (a) No capital stock other than membership shares shall be given voting power in an employee cooperative, except as otherwise provided in this chapter or in the articles of organization.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section seventeen of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, the power to amend, or repeal by-laws of an employee cooperative shall be in the members only, except to the extent that directors are authorized to amend or repeal the by-laws in accordance with said section seventeen.

(c) Sections seventy, seventy-one and seventy-four of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be construed to limit voting on any amendment of the articles of organization of an employee cooperative to the members, except that amendments adversely affecting the rights of stockholders as defined in section seventy-seven of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B may not be adopted without the vote of such stockholders as provided in section seventy-one of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

Section 8. (a) The net earnings or losses of an employee cooperative shall be apportioned and distributed at such times and in such manner as the articles of organization or by-laws shall specify. Net earnings declared as patronage allocations with respect to a period of time, and paid or credited to members, shall be apportioned among the members in accordance with the ratio which each member's patronage during the period involved bears to total patronage by all members during that period. As used in this chapter, "patronage" means the amount of work performed as a member of an employee cooperative, measured in accordance with the articles of organization and by-laws.

(b) The apportionment, distribution, and payment of net earnings required by subsection (a) may be in cash, credits, written notices of allocation, or capital stock issued by the employee cooperative.

Section 9. (a) Any employee cooperative may establish through its articles of organization or by-laws a system of internal capital accounts, to reflect the book value and to determine the redemption price of membership shares, capital stock, and written notices of allocation. As used in this chapter, "written notice of allocation" means a written instrument which discloses to a member the stated dollar amount of such member's patronage allocation and the terms for payment of that amount by the employee cooperative.

(b) The articles of organization or by-laws of an employee cooperative may permit the periodic redemption of written notices of allocation and capital stock, and must provide for recall and redemption of the membership share upon termination of membership in the cooperative. No redemption shall be made if such redemption would result in the liability of any director or officer of the employee cooperative under section sixty-one of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

(c) The articles of organization or by-laws may provide for the employee cooperative to pay or credit interest on the balance in each member's internal capital account.

(d) The articles of organization or by-laws may authorize assignment of a portion of retained net earnings and net losses to a collective reserve account. Earnings assigned to the collective reserve account may be used for any and all corporate purposes as determined by the board of directors.

Section 10. (a) An internal capital account cooperative is an employee cooperative whose entire net book value is reflected in internal capital accounts, one for each member, and a collective reserve account, and in which no persons other than members own capital stock. In an internal capital account cooperative, each member shall have one and only one vote in any matter requiring voting by stockholders.

(b) An internal capital account cooperative shall credit the paid-in membership fee and additional paid-in capital of a member to the member's internal capital account, and shall also record the apportionment of retained net earnings or net losses to the members in accordance with patronage by appropriately crediting or debiting the internal capital accounts of members. The collective reserve account in an internal capital account cooperative shall reflect any paid-in capital, net losses, and retained net earnings not allocated to individual members.

(c) In an internal capital account cooperative, the balances in all the individual internal capital accounts and collective reserve account, if any, shall be adjusted at the end of each accounting period so that the sum of the balances is equal to the net book value of the employee cooperative.

(d) Sections seventy-six and eighty-five to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall not apply to an internal capital account cooperative.

Section 11. (a) When any employee cooperative revokes its election in accordance with section four, the articles of amendment shall provide for conversion of membership shares and internal capital accounts or their conversion to securities or other property in a manner consistent with said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

(b) An employee cooperative which has not revoked its election under this chapter may not consolidate or merge with another corporation other than an employee cooperative. Two or more employee cooperatives may consolidate or merge in accordance with sections seventy-eight, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-four and eighty-five of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

Approved May 26, 1982.

Chap. 105. AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE ELECTION OF THE CITY AUDITOR OF THE CITY OF QUINCY BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF SAID CITY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-two of chapter forty-three of the General Laws to the contrary, the city auditor of the city of Quincy shall be elected by the city council of said city without the approval of the mayor to hold office for three years and until the qualification of his successor. Upon qualification of the city auditor so elected, the term of office of the person holding said office prior to the effective date of this act shall cease.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved May 28, 1982.

Chap. 106. AN ACT REPEALING THE REQUIREMENT OF RECIPROCITY IN THE ACCEPTANCE OF INTERSTATE MILK SHIPMENTS ORIGINATING FROM OUT-OF-STATE FARMS UNINSPECTED BY MASSACHUSETTS OFFICIALS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 16C of chapter 94 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause (b), as appearing in section 13 of chapter 940 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(b) certifies with respect to each such report that the farm involved was, upon inspection by said state agency, in compliance with the requirements of said other state for approval of dairy farms; and.

Approved May 28, 1982.

Chap. 107. AN ACT PROVIDING THAT A PERSON SHALL NOT BE PROHIBITED FROM HOLDING THE OFFICE OF SELECTMAN IN A TOWN BECAUSE SUCH PERSON IS AN EMPLOYEE OF SUCH TOWN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 20 of chapter 268A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

This section shall not prohibit an employee or an official of a town from holding the position of selectman in such town nor in any way prohibit such an employee from performing the duties of or receiving the compensation provided for such office. Provided that no such member may vote or act on any matter which is within the purview of the agency by which, he is employed or over which he has official responsibility, and provided further that no member shall be eligible for appointment to such additional position while a member or for six months thereafter. Any violation of the provisions of this paragraph which has substantially influenced the action taken by any municipal agency in any matter shall be grounds for avoiding, rescinding or cancelling the action on such terms as the interest of the municipality and innocent third parties require. No such selectman shall receive compensation for more than one office or position held in a town, but shall have the right to choose which compensation he shall receive.

Approved May 28, 1982.

Chap. 108. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE VICTIMS OF CRIME TO APPEAR OR MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS IN PAROLE HEARINGS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 127 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 1, as amended by section 27 of chapter 490 of the acts of 1941, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 1. As used in this chapter, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

"Commissioner", the commissioner of correction.

"Parole board", the parole board of the department of correction.

"Victim", a person who has suffered a personal injury, including mental anguish or death, property damage or property loss; also any entity which has suffered property damage or property loss as a direct result of the crime for which the sentence referred to in this chapter was imposed.

SECTION 2. Section 133A of said chapter 127 is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 766 of the acts of 1965, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Said board shall at least thirty days before such hearing notify in writing the attorney general, the district attorney in whose district sentence was imposed, the chief of police or head of the organized police department of the municipality in which the crime was committed and the victims of the crime for which sentence was imposed, and said officials and victims may appear in person or be represented or make written recommendations to the board, but failure of any or all of said officials to appear or make recommendations shall not delay the paroling procedure. If a victim is deceased at the time any parole hearing is scheduled on the said sentence under this chapter, the deceased victim may be represented by his relatives in the following order: mother, father, spouse, child, grandchild, brother or sister, niece or nephew.

Approved June 1, 1982.

Chap. 109. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE REFUNDING OF CERTAIN BOND ANTICIPATION NOTES BY THE CITY OF LAWRENCE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The treasurer of the city of Lawrence is hereby authorized to issue bond anticipation notes of the city in the principal amount of one million dollars maturing not later than six months from their date for the purpose of paying and refunding the one million dollars principal amount of bond anticipation notes of the city originally dated June eighth, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, which notes are now payable on June eighth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two. Notes issued under this act which mature in less than six months may be renewed or paid from time to time by the issue of other notes, provided that the period from the date of any original note issued under this act to the maturity of any note issued to renew or pay the same debt shall not exceed six months. Notes issued under this act may be converted into a serial loan in the same principal amount.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved June 1, 1982.

Chap. 110. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF GREAT BARRINGTON TO ESTABLISH PARKING FINES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty A of chapter ninety of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the town of Great Barrington is hereby authorized to establish, after a public hearing held by the selectmen of said town, by rule, regulation or by-law, a schedule of established fines for violations of parking laws in said town, provided that such fines do not exceed twenty-five dollars.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved June 1, 1982.

Chap. 111. AN ACT RELATIVE TO EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT ASSOCIATIONS FOR CO-OPERATIVE BANKS, SAVINGS BANKS AND CREDIT UNIONS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is, in part, to effect certain necessary changes in the pension systems of savings banks and credit unions consistent with federal law, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 168 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 74, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 372 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 74. Fifteen or more savings banks may form the Savings Banks Employees Retirement Association, in this section and in sections seventy-five and seventy-six called the association, for the purpose of providing pensions for eligible employees of the participating banks who retire on account of age or disability. The association, in its name and by or through its authorized officers may (a) make agreements and investments subject to such limitations as from time to time may be prescribed by law or the by-laws of the association, (b) sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, (c) enforce liens and other obligations and foreclose mortgages held by the association on or with respect to real or personal property situated in the commonwealth or in any state or territory of the United States, (d) adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure, and (e) do such other acts and things as may be necessary to carry out the powers conferred upon it by law and its by-laws.

All savings banks established under the laws of the commonwealth, the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts, the Savings Banks Employees Retirement Association, the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, and such other Massachusetts savings bank organizations as from time to time may be provided for in the by-laws of the association, and such of the respective employees of each of the foregoing as may be provided by such by-laws, shall be eligible for membership in the association. For the purposes of this section and sections seventy-five and seventy-six reference to "bank" or "banks" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include any or all of the organizations named or referred to in this paragraph, and a reference to "trustees" of a bank shall also, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include the governing body of each of such organizations.

Eligible employees may contribute a portion of their salaries or wages, to be deducted by the employing banks and paid to the association.

A participating bank may contribute to the funds of the association to the extent determined by its trustees, but its contributions for current services, as defined in the by-laws, on account of any employee shall not exceed fifteen per cent of his compensation.

A participating bank may also contribute for service, as defined in the by-laws, amounts necessary to provide eligible employees with an annuity or pension to begin at age sixty-five or later, such annuity or pension not to exceed sixty per cent of the highest average salary for any three successive years within the five years preceding retirement.

In the event that any employee who has been continuously in the employ of such a bank for ten years or more becomes incapacitated for further service by reason of physical or mental disability before age sixty-five, the employing bank may pay him a pension in an amount not to exceed two per cent of his average salary for the three years preceding the date of retirement for each year, not exceeding thirty years, of continuous service with any and all banks as defined in the second paragraph of this section. Any pension paid on account of disability may be discontinued at any time by trustees of the employing bank, and shall be discontinued when any such pensioner substantially recovers his earning capacity or attains age sixty-five or the date the employee elects to have his pension or annuity commence.

The funds contributed by participating banks and member employees shall be held or used by the trustees of the association for the purchase of annuities or payment of pensions to eligible employees upon their retirement from service, for the payments to beneficiaries or representatives of any member employee of the participating bank dying before reaching the age of retirement, and for the payment to any such employee retiring from service before becoming entitled to a pension or annuity. Expenses necessary for the administration of the association shall be paid by participating banks, on a proportionate basis as provided in the by-laws.

In any calendar year, the association or a bank, by vote of its board of trustees, may directly supplement the retirement benefits being paid to the former employees or their beneficiaries on account of bank service provided, no supplement of a retirement benefit shall exceed the retirement benefit multiplied by the increase in the cost of living since the retirement began. The increase in the cost of living is the percentage by which the national monthly consumer price index for all urban consumers issued by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the last November before the year in which payment is made is greater than the beginning index figure. The beginning index figure is the average of such monthly consumer price index figures for the year in which a retirement benefit was first paid to or with respect to a former employee. No bank may become obligated to pay in future years any supplement authorized by this paragraph.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 75, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 75. The by-laws of the association shall be submitted to the commissioner and shall prescribe the manner in which, and the officers and agents by whom, the association may be conducted and the manner in which its funds may be invested and paid out. Such association shall be formed when its by-laws have been approved and agreed to by a majority of the trustees of each of fifteen or more savings banks, and have been approved by the commissioner. Such association shall annually, on or before December first, report to the commissioner such statements of its membership and financial transactions for the year ending on the preceding October thirty-first as the commissioner may consider necessary to show its business and standing. The commissioner may verify such statement by an examination of the books and papers of the association.

The association shall not be subject to chapter thirty-two or chapter one hundred and seventy-five or to such other provisions of law as relate to insurance companies or other retirement associations.

SECTION 3. Chapter 171 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 31, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 442 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 31. Fifteen or more credit unions, having assets of fifty thousand dollars or more each, may form the Credit Union Employees Retirement Association, in this section and in sections thirty-two and thirty-three called the association, for the purpose of providing pensions for eligible employees of the participating credit unions who retire on account of age or disability.

All credit unions established under the laws of the commonwealth, the Massachusetts CUNA Association, Inc., the Credit Union League of Massachusetts, Inc., the Central Credit Union Fund, Inc., the Massachusetts Credit Union Share Insurance Corporation, and such other Massachusetts credit union organizations as from time to time may be provided for in the by-laws of the association, and such of the respective employees of each of the foregoing as may be provided by such by-laws, shall be eligible for membership in the association. For the purpose of this section and sections thirty-two and thirty-three a reference to "credit union" or "credit unions" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include any or all of the organizations named in this paragraph, and reference to "directors" of a credit union shall also, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include the governing body of each of such organizations.

Eligible employees may contribute a portion of their salaries or wages, to be deducted by the employing credit unions and paid to the association. A participating credit union may contribute to the funds of the association to the extent determined by its trustees, but its contributions for current services, as defined in the by-laws, on account of any employee shall not exceed fifteen per cent of his compensation.

A participating credit union may also contribute for service, as defined in the by-laws, amounts necessary to provide eligible employees with an annuity or pension to begin at age sixty-five or later, such annuity or pension not to exceed sixty per cent of the highest average salary for any three successive years within the five years preceding retirement.

In the event that any employee who has been continuously in the employ of such credit union for ten years or more becomes incapacitated for further service by reason of physical or mental disability before age sixty-five, the employing credit union may pay him a pension in an amount not to exceed two per cent of his average salary for the three years preceding the date of retirement for each year, not exceeding thirty years, of continuous service with any and all credit unions as defined in the second paragraph of this section. Any pension paid on account of disability may be discontinued at any time by the trustees of the employing credit union, and shall be discontinued when any such pensioner substantially recovers his earning capacity, or attains age sixty-five or the date the employee elects to have his pension or annuity commence.

The funds contributed by participating credit unions and member employees shall be held or used by the trustees of the association for the purchase of annuities or payment of pensions to eligible employees upon their retirement from service, for the payments to beneficiaries or representatives of any member employee of the participating credit union dying before reaching the age of retirement, and for the payment to any such employee retiring from service before becoming entitled to a pension or annuity. Expenses necessary for the administration of the association shall be paid by participating credit unions, on a proportionate basis as provided in the by-laws.

In any calendar year, the association or credit union, by vote of its board of trustees, may directly supplement the retirement benefits being paid to the former employees or their beneficiaries on account of bank service provided, no supplement of a retirement benefit shall exceed the retirement benefit multiplied by the increase in the cost of living since the retirement benefit began. The increase in the cost of living is the percentage by which the national monthly consumer price index for all urban consumers issued by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the last November before the year in which payment is made is greater than the beginning index figure. The beginning index figure is the average of such monthly consumer price index figures for the year in which a retirement benefit was first paid to or with respect to a former employee. No credit union may become obligated to pay in future years any supplement authorized by this paragraph.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 171 is hereby further amended by striking out section 32, as amended by chapter 334 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 32. The by-laws of the association shall be submitted to the commissioner and shall prescribe the manner in which, and the officers and agents by whom, the association may be conducted and the manner in which its funds may be invested and paid out. Such association shall be formed when its by-laws have been approved and agreed to by a majority of the trustees of each of fifteen or more credit unions, and have been approved by the commissioner. Such association shall annually, on or before December first, report to the commissioner such statements of its membership and financial transactions for the year ending on the preceding October thirty-first as the commissioner may consider necessary to show its business and standing. The commissioner may verify such statement by an examination of the books and papers of the association.

The association shall not be subject to chapter thirty-two or chapter one hundred and seventy-five or to such other provisions of law as relate to insurance companies or other retirement associations.

Approved June 1, 1982.

Chap. 112. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE PERKINS SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 113 of the acts of 1829 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "persons", in line 21, the words:- and such other handicapped persons as can be trained and educated without diminishing the said corporation's commitment to the education and training of said blind persons.

SECTION 2. Section 2 of said chapter 113, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 136 of the acts of 1890, is hereby further amended by inserting after the word "persons", in lines 7 and 8, the words:- and other handicapped persons; provided, however, that the support and maintenance of handicapped persons shall not operate to remove any restrictions on funds now held by the Perkins School for the Blind for specific purposes.

SECTION 3. Chapter 96 of the acts of 1864 is hereby amended by striking out section 1 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 1. The governor shall appoint four trustees of the Perkins School for the Blind, who shall hold their offices until the appointment of their successors; provided, however, that the governor may fill any vacancy occurring by death or resignation among the trustees so appointed.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the Perkins School for the Blind at a meeting of the corporation specially called for that purpose.

"Field investigation", the study of the traces of human culture or other remains at any land or water site by means of surveying, digging, sampling, excavating or removing surface or subsurface objects, or the entrance onto a site with that intent.

"Site", any building, structure, district or area including those underground, that is one hundred and fifty years old or more and significant in the history, archeology, architecture or culture of the nation, the commonweath or its communities as determined by the commission.

"Specimens", all relics, artifacts, remains, objects, or any other evidence of a historical, prehistorical, archeological, anthropological or paleontological nature fifty years old or more which may be found below or on the surface of the earth, and which have scientific, historical or archeological value, including but not limited to objects of antiquity, aboriginal, colonial or industrial relics, and archeological or paleontological samples.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 9 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 26B the following section:-

Section 26C. The commission shall establish and maintain a state register of historic places, known as the state register. The state register shall contain the following properties: (1) all districts, sites, buildings, or objects determined eligible for listing or listed in the National Register of Historic Places; (2) all local historic districts established pursuant to chapter forty C or a special law; (3) all landmarks designated under local ordinance or by-law; (4) all structures and sites subject to a preservation easement approved or held by the commission pursuant to section thirty-two of chapter one hundred and eighty-four; and (5) all historical or archeological landmarks certified pursuant to section twenty-seven.

The commission shall periodically update the state register.

SECTION 5. Section 27C of said chapter 9, inserted by section 4 of chapter 1155 of the acts of 1973, is hereby amended by inserting before the first paragraph the following two paragraphs:-

As early as possible in the planning process of any project undertaken by any agency, executive office, department, board, commission, bureau, division or authority of the commonwealth or of any authority established by the general court to serve a public purpose and prior to such state body funding, licensing or approving any private project, such state body shall determine if the project will affect any property listed on the state register of historic places. If the project affects a listed property, the state body shall so notify the commission. Within thirty days of receiving notification, the commission shall determine if the project will adversely affect a listed property, and shall send an advisory report to the state body describing and documenting its findings. If the commission does not notify the state body within thirty days, the state body may proceed with the project.

If the commission finds that the project will adversely affect a listed property, the commission and the state body shall meet to discuss alternatives to the project and means of mitigating any adverse effect. The state body, in implementing its final plans, shall adopt all prudent and feasible measures that eliminate or mitigate the adverse effect.

SECTION 6. Said section 27C of said chapter 9, as so inserted, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:-

The commission may adopt any rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

Chap. 155. AN ACT RELATIVE TO MERGERS AND CONVERSIONS OF BANKS; MAKING CERTAIN CHANGES TO THE BANKING LAWS; AND REVISING THE LAWS GOVERNING STATE-CHARTERED SAVINGS BANKS, CO-OPERATIVE BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

(2) A bank may use its effective lending territory, which is defined as that local area or areas around each office or group of offices where it makes a substantial portion of its loans, and all other areas equidistant from its offices as those areas. Adjustments such as those indicated in paragraph (1) may be made, or

(3) A bank may use any other reasonably delineated local area that meets the purposes of this section and does not exclude low and moderate-income neighborhoods.

The board of directors or trustees of each bank shall adopt a statement, referred to as the community reinvestment statement, for each delineated community.

Each such statement shall include at least the following:

(1) the delineation of the local community;

(2) a list of specific types of credit within certain categories, such as residential loans for one to four-dwelling units, residential loans for five-dwelling units and over, housing rehabilitation loans, home improvement loans, small business loans, farm loans, community development loans, commercial loans, and consumer loans, that the bank is prepared to extend within the local community; and

(3) a copy of the community reinvestment notice as provided for in this section.

Each bank may include the following in each community reinvestment statement;

(1) a description of how its current efforts, including special credit-related programs, help to meet community credit needs;

(2) a periodic report regarding its record of helping to meet community credit needs; and

(3) a description of its efforts to ascertain the credit needs of its community, including efforts to communicate with members of its community regarding credit services.

Each bank's board of directors or trustees shall review each community reinvestment statement at least annually and shall act upon any meterial change made in the interim at its first regular meeting after the change. Such actions shall be noted in its minutes.

Each current community reinvestment statement shall be readily available for public inspection (1) at the head office of the bank; and

(2) at each office of the bank in the local community delineated in the statement, except off-premises electronic deposit facilities.

Copies of each current community reinvestment statement shall be provided to the public upon request. A bank may charge a fee not to exceed the cost of reproduction.

Each bank shall maintain files that are readily available for public inspection of:

(1) any signed, written comments received from the public within the past two years that specifically relate to any community reinvestment statement or to the bank's performance in helping to meet the credit needs of its community or communities;

(2) any responses to the comments that the bank wishes to make; and

(3) any community reinvestment statements in effect during the past two years.

Such files shall not contain any comments or responses that reflect adversely upon the good name or reputation of any person other than the bank or publication of which would violate specific provisions of law.

Such files shall be maintained by each bank as follows:-

(1) all materials at the head office; and

(2) those materials relating to each local community at a designated office in that community.

Each bank shall provide, in the public lobby of each of its offices other than off-premises electronic deposit facilities, a public notice substantially similar to the one set forth below. Bracketed material shall be used only by a bank having more than one local community. The last item shall be included only if the bank is a subsidiary of a holding company that is not prevented by statute from acquiring additional banks.

COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT NOTICE

Community Reinvestment (C.R.) requires the evaluation of our performance in helping to meet the credit needs of this community, and to take this evaluation into account when the commissioner decides on certain applications submitted by us. Your involvement is encouraged.

You should know that:-

You may obtain our current C.R. statement for this community in this office. (Current C.R. statements for other communities served by us are available at our head office, located at:
..... .)

You may send signed, written comments about our C.R. statement(s) or our performance in helping to meet community credit needs to (title and address of bank official) and to the commissioner of banks (address). Your letter, together with any responses by us, may be made public.

You may look at a file of all signed, written comments received by us within the past two years, any response we have made to the comments, and all C.R. statements in effect during the past two years, at our office located at (address). (You also may look at the file about this community at (name and address of designated office).)

You may ask to look at any comments received by the commissioner of banks.

We are a subsidiary of (name of holding company), a bank holding company. You may request from the Federal Reserve Bank of (city, address) an announcement of applications covered by C.R. filed by bank holding companies.

The information and disclosures required under this notice may be combined or attached to the information and disclosures required under the Federal Community Reinvestment Act, (Title VIII of Public Law 95-128) and any regulations thereunder.

In connection with its examination of a bank, the commissioner shall assess the record of performance of the bank in helping to meet the credit needs of its entire community, including low and moderate-income neighborhoods, consistent with safe and sound operation of the bank. The commissioner shall review the bank's community reinvestment statement and signed, written comments retained by the bank, or the commissioner. In addition, the commissioner will consider the following factors in assessing a bank's record of performance:

(a) activities conducted by the bank to ascertain the credit needs of its community, including the extent of the bank's efforts to communicate with members of its community regarding the credit services being provided by the bank;

(b) the extent of the bank's marketing and special credit-related programs to make members of the community aware of the credit services offered by the bank;

(c) the extent of participation by the bank's board of directors or trustees in formulating the bank's policies, and reviewing the performance with respect to the purposes of community reinvestment as set forth in this section;

(d) any practices intended to discourage applications for types of credit set forth in the bank's community reinvestment statement;

(e) the geographic distribution of the bank's credit extensions, credit applications, and credit denials;

(f) evidence of prohibited discriminatory or other illegal credit practices;

(g) the bank's record of opening and closing offices and providing services at offices;

(h) the bank's participation, including investments, in local community development and redevelopment projects or programs;

(i) the bank's origination of residential mortgage loans, housing rehabilitation loans, home improvement loans, and small business or small farm loans within its community, or the purchase of such loans originated in its community;

(j) the bank's participation in governmentally-insured guaranteed, or subsidized loan programs for housing, small businesses or small farms;

(k) the bank's ability to meet various community credit needs based on its financial condition and size, its legal impediments, local economic conditions and other factors; and

(l) other factors that, in the commissioner's judgment reasonably bear upon the extent to which a bank is helping to meet the credit needs of its entire community.

In considering an application for the establishment of a domestic branch or other facility with the ability to accept deposits, the relocation of the main office or a branch office, or a merger or consolidation with or the acquisition of assets or assumption of liabilities of another bank or federally-insured bank, the commissioner or the board of bank incorporation shall consider, but not be limited to consideration of, the bank's record of performance.

The assessment of a bank's record of performance in helping to meet the credit needs of its community may be the basis for denial of such an application.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 167 is hereby further amended by striking out section 9A, inserted by section 3 of chapter 491 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 9A. The commissioner of banks shall annually prepare and submit a list to the investment committee established under the provisions of section twenty-three of chapter thirty-two and the state treasurer which indicates those banks, as defined in section one of this chapter, which have satisfied their continuing and affirmative obligations to help meet the needs of the local communities in which they are chartered, including low and moderate-income neighborhoods, consistent with the safe and sound operation of those banks. Only mortgage lenders so listed shall be eligible to sell or participate in the sale of mortgage pass-through securities or mortgage-backed bonds to public employee retirement systems. Only banks so listed shall be eligible to receive deposits under the provisions of section thirty-four or thirty-four A of chapter twenty-nine. A bank shall not be excluded from such list unless it has been examined after May first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two for compliance with its obligations to meet the credit needs of its local communities consistent with the provisions of section two B.

The commissioner of banks also shall prepare annually and submit to said investment committee and the treasurer, a list, based on information received from the appropriate federal agency, which indicates those federal savings and loan associations and national banking associations which have been determined by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency to have complied with the requirements of the Federal Community Reinvestment Act, sections 802 et. seq., (Title VIII of P.L. 95-128), and regulations promulgated thereunder. Only those associations so listed shall be eligible to sell such securities or bonds to such systems, and only such associations so listed shall be eligible to receive deposits under the provisions of section thirty-four or thirty-four A of chapter twenty-nine.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 167 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 51C the following section:-

Section 51D. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a trust company, savings bank or co-operative bank may, subject to such regulations as the commissioner deems advisable, make and acquire, or participate with any other such corporation or with a national banking association or savings and loan association in making and acquiring, loans secured by security interests in shares of stock issued by a co-operative housing corporation established under the provisions of chapters one hundred and fifty-six, one hundred and fifty-six B or chapter one hundred and fifty-seven. The aggregate balance of principal of all such loans outstanding at any one time shall not exceed five per cent of the deposits of such bank.

SECTION 4. Section 70 of said chapter 167 is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may, by further conditions and restrictions, provide that the rate of amortization may be varied, including utilizing a period of negative amortization, in order to adjust the rate of interest.

SECTION 5. The General Laws are hereby further amended by striking out chapter 167 and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 167.
SUPERVISION OF BANKS.

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank" or "such bank", a savings bank, co-operative bank, trust company, any corporation authorized to do the business of a banking company under chapter one hundred and seventy-two A or any individuals, partnership, association or corporation, incorporated or doing a banking business in the commonwealth, subject to the supervision of the commissioner of banks.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

Section 1A. The commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations establishing minimum standards relative to the security and protection of banks or credit unions under his supervision, both for the benefit of employees as well as the general public, including the requirement for the installation, maintenance and operation of security devices and procedures and to assist in the identification and apprehension of criminals.

Said rules and regulations shall fix the time limit within which each such bank or credit union shall comply with the standards so established and may require the submission, in writing, of periodic reports and other information necessary to ensure compliance with such rules and regulations. A bank or credit union which violates any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to this section shall forfeit to the commonwealth one hundred dollars for each day during which such violation continues, to be recovered by an information in equity in the name of the attorney general at the request of the commissioner, commenced in the supreme judicial court for Suffolk county.

Section 1B. Any corporation conducting the business referred to in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-two A, whether or not such corporation shall have been authorized to do the business of a banking company under said chapter, shall be subject to the supervision of the commissioner and, except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of sections four to eight, inclusive, and ten to fourteen, inclusive, of said chapter, shall apply to such corporation. Any such corporation shall carry on only such business and shall make only such investments as are authorized by said chapter; provided, that in the case of any corporation subject to section seven A thereof, the holding and disposition of assets not authorized as investments by section seven thereof shall be governed by said section seven A. The rates of interest charged on loans coming within the limitations of section ninety-six of chapter one hundred and forty by any corporation conducting the business hereinbefore referred to shall not exceed the rates established by the commissioner pursuant to section one hundred of chapter one hundred and forty, but whenever any such corporation shall have been authorized to do the business of a banking company under said chapter one hundred and seventy-two A rates of interest authorized by section nine of said chapter shall apply. No such corporation incorporated after January first, nineteen hundred and thirty-eight shall transact, in this commonwealth, the business referred to in section one of said chapter until it shall have received a certificate from the board of bank incorporation under section two of said chapter.

Section 2. The commissioner, either personally or by his examiners, or such others of his assistants as he may designate, shall, at least once in every two calendar years, make a thorough examination of the books, securities, cash, assets and liabilities and ascertain the condition of all banks under his supervision, the ability of each bank to fulfill its obligations, and also whether it has complied with the law; and he may also, whenever he considers it expedient, make, or cause to be made, at the expense of the bank, such further examinations or audits as he deems advisable, by his examiners, or by certified public accountants or public accountants not connected with such bank approved by him and subject to his direction, and he may also, whenever he considers it expedient, appoint individuals certified as real estate appraisers by the society of real estate appraisers, or similar successor society, to make, at the expense of the bank, appraisals of real estate securing loans of the bank, and, at the time he names such appraiser, he shall so notify the bank and advise it of the date on which he has requested submission of the appraisal report to him, whereupon the bank may then appoint an appraiser who may submit the report of his appraisal to the commissioner on the same date.

The cost of the annual examination or audit of each bank under the supervision of the commissioner shall be paid by said bank and shall include, subject to the limitations herein contained, all monies expended by the commonwealth for personal services and such proportion of the general overhead of the division of banks and loan agencies, including travel, hotel and meal allowances, and other direct and indirect costs, as is determined by the commissioner to be attributable to such examination or audit. The charge for each examiner participating in such examination or audit shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. In addition to the foregoing, a charge to be also determined under the aforementioned provision, may be assessed which together with the charges authorized by the preceding sentence, will be sufficient to reimburse the commonwealth for the direct and indirect costs of such examination or audit.

Each bank shall, within thirty days after notice from the commissioner of the charge for such examination or audit, pay to him such charge. No examination charge shall be collected hereunder from a bank which has been in operation for one year or less nor shall a charge in excess of one-half of the amount actually attributable to such examination or audit be assessed against a bank which has been in operation for more than one year but less than two years.

The commissioner or the person making the examination shall, at the time of any such examination, have free access to the vaults, investments, cash, books and papers. In making any examination which in the opinion of the commissioner is necessary, the commissioner shall have access to the vaults, books and papers of each of the bank's affiliates and may make such examination of the affairs of its affiliates as may be necessary to disclose fully the relations between such bank and its affiliates and the effect of this relationship upon the affairs of the bank.

The expense of the examination of the affairs of any affiliate of a bank, determined as provided in this section, shall be paid by the affiliate examined. For the purposes of this section, the term "affiliate" shall include holding company affiliates, but shall not include any person or corporation the control of which is held by a bank when acting in a fiduciary capacity.

The commissioner shall preserve a full record of each such examination of a bank including a statement of its condition. Such records, and information contained in the reports of such banks, other than information required by law to be published or to be open to the inspection of the public, shall be open only to the inspection of the commissioner, his examiners and assistants, and such other officers of the commonwealth as may have occasion and authority to inspect them in the performance of their official duties. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the required production of such records, and information contained in the reports of such banks, before any court of this commonwealth or any master or auditor appointed by any such court, in any criminal or civil proceeding therein pending, affecting such bank, its officers, directors or employees.

Copies of reports of such examinations of any bank shall be furnished to such bank for its use only and shall not be exhibited to any other person, organization or agency without the prior written approval of the commissioner of banks. There may be furnished to the chief national bank examiner, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Massachusetts Credit Union Share Insurance Corporation, the National Credit Union Administration, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, or the banking departments of other states, such information, reports and statements relating to the institutions under the supervision of the commissioner as he deems appropriate.

Section 3. Whenever the commissioner deems it expedient, he may cause a meeting of the board of directors or board of trustees of a bank to be held in such manner and at such time and place as he may direct. Any report of an examination of the affairs of such bank under section two, any conclusions drawn therefrom by the commissioner and any directions or recommendations made by him relative thereto and any other matters concerning the operation or condition of such bank, may be presented to such board by the commissioner in person or by such assistant as he may designate, and the person having custody of the records of such bank, hereinafter referred to as the recording officer, shall forthwith incorporate such directions and recommendations in the records of such meeting. Each director or trustee of such bank who is present at such meeting shall forthwith sign a certificate or other acknowledgment in such form as may be prescribed by the commissioner, that he has heard the directions and recommendations of the commissioner or read the records containing the same. The recording officer of such bank shall, within seven days after the date of such meeting, transmit to the commissioner the said certificates or other forms of acknowledgment, signed as aforesaid, together with an attested copy of the records of such meeting. The recording officer shall also, within such period, mail, by registered mail, an attested copy of the records of such meeting and a blank form for said certificate or other form of acknowledgment, to each director or trustee, unless excused by the commissioner for physical or mental incapacity or absence from the commonwealth, who, in turn, shall sign and return to the recording officer such certificate or other form of acknowledgment. The commissioner may make rules and regulations relative to the filing of such certificates or other form of acknowledgment by absent directors or trustees and relative to their transmission to him. The commissioner may require a monthly report from the recording officer relative to the execution of and compliance with the directions, recommendations or orders set forth at such meeting. The superior court shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce any lawful order made by the commissioner under the provisions of this section upon application by said commissioner.

Section 4. The commissioner, or his examiners or such others of his assistants as he may designate, may summon the trustees, officers or agents of a bank, or any other witnesses, and examine them relative to the affairs, transactions and condition of the bank, and, for that purpose, may administer oaths. Whoever, without justifiable cause, refuses to appear and testify when so required or obstructs the person making such examination in the performance of his duty, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year.

Section 5. Upon written application on oath to the commissioner by five or more officers, trustees, creditors or depositors of a bank setting forth their interest and the reasons for making an examination and requesting him to examine such bank, he shall forthwith make a full investigation of its affairs in the manner provided in the preceding sections.

Section 6. The commissioner may prescribe the manner and form of keeping the books and accounts of a bank, the extent to which they shall be audited, the manner of safeguarding its money and securities and regulations under which it may deposit its securities with trust companies or banking associations for safekeeping.

Section 6A. Any bank, as defined in section one, or a national banking association, federal savings and loan association or federal credit union authorized to do business in the commonwealth, shall make available copies of all agreements as referred to in subsection (2) of 4-103 of chapter one hundred and six.

The commissioner shall establish such rules and regulations as he deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

Section 7. In addition to the reports required by law, banks shall make such other statements and reports to the commissioner as he may require. The commissioner shall furnish blank forms for all statements or reports required to be made to him. Any bank neglecting to make the returns required by law or by the commissioner, or failing to amend such report with fifteen days after notice from him, shall, unless such neglect or failure is due to justifiable cause and not due to wilful neglect, forfeit to the commonwealth, five dollars for each day during which such neglect continues, to be recovered by an information in equity in the name of the attorney general at the relation of the commissioner, brought in the supreme judicial court for Suffolk county.

Section 8. An officer of any bank who, for fifteen days after notice by the commissioner, fails to make any return, statement or report required by law or by the commissioner, or fails to amend such a return, statement or report if lawfully required by the commissioner, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 9. Returns to the commissioner under section twenty-two A of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, records of examinations of banks made under section two of this chapter, certificates or other form of acknowledgment filed with the commissioner under section three of this chapter, reports made under section twenty-six of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, and reports made under section eighteen of chapter one hundred and seventy, may, after six years from the date of their receipt, be destroyed or disposed of by order of their lawful custodian with the approval of the commissioner, and any proceeds received in the course of their disposal shall be paid to the commonwealth; provided, however, that if the commissioner shall have received actual notice, in writing, of any pending judicial proceeding in which such returns, records, certificates or other form of acknowledgment or reports are to be offered as evidence thereat, such returns, records, certificates, or other form of acknowledgment or reports shall not be destroyed or disposed of until after the final determination of such judicial proceeding.

Section 10. Any violation of sections fifty-two to fifty-three A, inclusive, of chapter two hundred and sixty-six shall be reported, in writing, within a reasonable time after discovery, to the commissioner and to the district attorney of the district in which the bank does business, by the president and treasurer of the bank in, or with respect to which, such violation occurs or, in the absence of either of said officers, by the officer performing the duties of such office.

Section 11. Any shortage of five thousand dollars or more in a bank shall, within forty-eight hours of discovery thereof by an officer of the bank in or with respect to which such shortage occurs, be reported in writing to the commissioner by the president and treasurer of the bank in which the shortage occurs, or in the absence of either of said officers by the officer performing the duties of such office.

Any person who wilfully violates the provisions of this section or section ten shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred or more than one thousand dollars.

Section 12. If, after inquiry, the commissioner finds that any officer of any bank, including a director or trustee thereof, has violated any law related to such bank or has conducted the business of such bank in an unsafe or unsound manner or has used his official position in a manner contrary to the interests of such bank or its depositors or has been negligent in the performance of his duties, the commissioner may, by written notice to such officer detailing his reasons therefor, forthwith order his suspension. Any suspension so ordered shall become effective upon service of such notice upon the official involved and shall remain in effect until removed by the commissioner.

The commissioner may also, in his discretion, send a statement of facts upon which his conclusion is based relative to the conduct of the official involved, to the executive officer and each director or trustee of the bank affected. Within such reasonable time as the commissioner may direct, a special meeting of the directors or trustees of the bank shall be held with respect to the statement of the commissioner. If, in the opinion of the commissioner, appropriate action is not taken to protect the interest of the bank or its depositors, or if such conduct is continued, the commissioner shall cause notice to be served on such officer, director or trustee, to appear and show cause why he should not be removed from office. If, after granting the officer, director or trustee so summonsed a reasonable opportunity to be heard, the commissioner finds that he has been guilty of any such delinquency, the commissioner, in his discretion, may order that such officer, director or trustee be removed from office and from participation in the management of such bank.

In either of the foregoing instances, a copy of any such notice shall be sent by registered mail to each officer, director or trustee of the bank affected. A copy of any such notice shall be sent to a board composed of the state treasurer, the attorney general and the commissioner of revenue. The members of the board, or a duly authorized representative, shall be present at any appearance of such officer, director or trustee. Any decision by the commissioner to suspend or remove such officer, director or trustee may be reversed by a decision of a majority of the members of the board made within five business days after the commissioner's decision; provided, however, that in the absence of any such reversal, any such decision of the commissioner shall be given full force and effect. Copies of such order shall be served upon the delinquent officer and upon such bank, whereupon such officer shall cease to be an officer of such bank and shall not participate in any way, in the management thereof; provided, however, that any such order, and the evidence and findings of fact upon which it is based, shall not be made public or disclosed to anyone except the delinquent officer and the other officers, directors or trustees of such bank, other than in the course of any judicial proceeding under this section. The commissioner shall thereupon transmit to the attorney general a transcript of the evidence and finding, and the attorney general shall institute such proceedings as he may deem necessary and proper. Any person suspended from office as herein provided who, during the term of his suspension, participates in any manner in the management of any bank in the commonwealth shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or one year in jail, or both. Any person removed from office as herein provided who thereafter participates in any manner in the management of any bank in the commonwealth shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

Within twenty days after the service of an order of suspension or removal under this section upon the person removed thereby, such person may file a petition in the supreme judicial court for Suffolk county for a review of such suspension or removal but, pending such review, the order shall remain in full force and effect. The court shall have jurisdiction in equity to annul, reverse or affirm any such order, shall review all questions in accordance with the standards for review provided in paragraph (8) of section fourteen of chapter thirty A and may make any appropriate order or decree. The decision of the court shall be final and conclusive.

Section 12A. Whenever any officer of a bank, including a director or trustee, or other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of such bank, is charged in any information, indictment or complaint with the commission or participation in a crime involving a breach of trust which is punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year under state or federal law, the commissioner may, if in his opinion continued service or participation by the individual may pose a threat to the interests of the bank's depositors or may threaten to impair public confidence in the bank, by written notice served upon such individual, suspend him from office or prohibit him from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the bank. A copy of such notice shall be served upon the bank. Such suspension or prohibition shall remain in effect until such information, indictment or complaint is finally disposed of or until terminated by the commissioner. In the event that a judgment of conviction with respect to such crime is entered against such officer or other person, and at such time as such judgment is not subject to further appellate review, the commissioner may, if he deems that continued service or participation by the individual may pose a threat to the interest of the bank's depositors or may threaten to impair public confidence in the bank, issue and serve upon such officer or other person, an order removing him from office or prohibiting him from further participation in any manner in the conduct of the affairs of the bank without the consent of the commissioner. A copy of such order shall also be served upon such bank whereupon such officer shall cease to be an officer of such bank. A finding of not guilty or other disposition of the charge shall not preclude the commissioner from thereafter instituting proceedings to remove such officer or other person from office or to prohibit further participation in bank affairs, pursuant to section twelve.

Section 13. Annually, on or before the third Wednesday in March, the commissioner shall communicate to the general court an abstract of his report and such suggestions as he considers expedient relative to the general conduct and condition of banks under this supervision. Thereafter, on or before the first day of April in each year, the commissioner shall make an annual report to the general court containing a statement of the condition, as of the last day of December next preceding, of each trust company, corporation subject to chapter one hundred and seventy-two A and private or foreign bank under his supervision, including any such banks as are in the hands of the commissioner, together with such other information relative to the affairs of said banks and of such persons subject to chapters one hundred and sixty-nine and one hundred and seventy-four as, in his opinion, the public interest may require. Annually, on or before the first day of August, the commissioner shall make a similar report containing a statement of the condition, as of the regular meeting day for the receipt of moneys in the preceding April of each co-operative bank and savings and loan association, and, on or before the first day of April, a similar report upon the condition, as of the last day of October next preceding, of each credit union, and, on or before the first day of February, a statement of the condition, as of the last business day of October next preceding of each savings bank and institution for savings under his supervision, with such other information relative to the affairs of such banks, associations and credit unions as he may deem to be in the public interest.

The reports required by this section shall be printed and shall contain abstracts, listing the assets and liabilities, from the annual report of each bank examined by the commissioner. Such reports shall include the locations of the main offices and branches, the names of the operating officers and directors or trustees of each bank and an aggregate statement of condition for the banks examined.

Section 14. The commissioner shall assess the record of each bank, as defined in section one, in satisfying their continuing and affirmative obligations to help meet the credit needs of their local communities, including low and moderate-income neighborhoods, consistent with the safe and sound operation of those banks, and shall provide for taking into account those records in connection with certain applications.

Each bank shall prepare and, at least annually, review a delineation of the local community or communities that comprise its entire community, without excluding low and moderate-income neighborhoods. Maps shall be used to portray community delineations. The reasonableness of the delineations will be reviewed by state examiners.

A local community shall consist of the contiguous areas surrounding each office or group of offices, including any low and moderate-income neighborhoods in those areas. More than one office of a bank may be included in the same local community. A community delineation need not take into account an off-premises electronic facility that receives deposits for more than one institution unless the commissioner determines otherwise.

In preparing its delineation, a bank shall use any one of the following:-

(1) Existing boundaries such as those of Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA's) or counties in which the bank's office or offices are located may be used to delineate a local community. Where appropriate, portions of adjacent areas should be included. The bank may make adjustments in the case of areas divided by state borders or significant geographic barriers, or areas that are extremely large or of unusual configuration. In addition, a small bank may delineate those portions of SMSA's or counties it reasonably may be expected to serve;

(2) A bank may use its effective lending territory, which is defined as that local area or areas around each office or group of offices where it makes a substantial portion of its loans, and all other areas equidistant from its offices as those areas. Adjustments such as those indicated in paragraph (1) of this section may be made; or

(3) A bank may use any other reasonably delineated local area that meets the purposes of this section and does not exclude low and moderate-income neighborhoods.

The board of directors or trustees of each bank shall adopt a statement, referred to as the community reinvestment statement, for each delineated community.

Each such statement shall include at least the following:-

(1) the delineation of the local community;

(2) a list of specific types of credit within certain categories, such as residential loans for one to four-dwelling units, residential loans for five-dwelling units and over, housing rehabilitation loans, home improvement loans, small business loans, farm loans, community development loans, commercial loans, and consumer loans, that the bank is prepared to extend within the local community; and

(3) a copy of the community reinvestment notice as herein provided.

Each bank may include the following in each community reinvestment statement:

(1) a description of how its current efforts, including special credit related programs, help to meet community credit needs;

(2) a periodic report regarding its record of helping to meet community credit needs; and

(3) a description of its efforts to ascertain the credit needs of its community, including efforts to communicate with members of its community regarding credit services.

Each bank's board of directors or trustees shall review each community reinvestment statement at least annually and shall act upon any material change made in the interim at its first regular meeting after the change. Such actions shall be noted in its minutes.

Each current community reinvestment statement shall be readily available for public inspection (1) at the head office of the bank, and (2) at each office of the bank in the local community delineated in the statement, except off-premises electronic deposit facilities.

Copies of each current community reinvestment statement shall be provided to the public upon request. A bank may charge a fee not to exceed the cost of reproduction.

Each bank shall maintain files that are readily available for public inspection of:

(1) any signed, written comments received from the public within the past two years that specifically relate to any community reinvestment statement or to the bank's performance in helping to meet the credit needs of its community or communities;

(2) any responses to the comments that the bank wishes to make; and

(3) any community reinvestment statements in effect during the past two years.

Such files shall not contain any comments or responses that reflect adversely upon the good name or reputation of any person other than the bank or publication of which would violate specific provisions of law.

Such files shall be maintained by each bank as follows:

(1) all materials at the head office; and

(2) those materials relating to each local community at a designated office in that community.

Each bank shall provide, in the public lobby of each of its offices other than off-premises electronic deposit facilities, a public notice substantially similar to the one set forth below. Bracketed material shall be used only by a bank having more than one local community. The last item shall be included only if the bank is a subsidiary of a holding company that is not prevented by statute from acquiring additional banks.

COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT NOTICE

Community Reinvestment (C.R.) requires the evaluation of our performance in helping to meet the credit needs of this community, and to take this evaluation into account when the commissioner decides on certain applications submitted by us. Your involvement is encouraged.

You should know that:

You may obtain our current C.R. statement for this community in this office. (Current C.R. statements for other communities served by us are available at our head office, located at: ..... .)

You may send signed, written comments about our C.R. statement(s) or our performance in helping to meet community credit needs to (title and address of bank official) and to the commissioner of banks (address). Your letter, together with any responses by us, may be made public.

You may look at a file of all signed, written comments received by us within the past two years, any response we have made to the comments and all C.R. statements in effect during the past two years at our office located at (address). (You also may look at the file about this community at (name and address of designated office).)

You may ask to look at any comments received by the commissioner of banks.

We are a subsidiary of (name of holding company), a bank holding company. You may request from the Federal Reserve Bank of (city, address) an announcement of applications covered by the C.R. filed by bank holding companies.

The information and disclosures required under this notice may be combined or attached to the information and disclosures required under the Federal Community Reinvestment Act, Title VIII of Public Laws 95-128 any regulations thereunder.

In connection with its examination of a bank, the commissioner shall assess the record of performance of the bank in helping to meet the credit needs of its entire community, including low and moderate-income neighborhoods, consistent with safe and sound operation of the bank. The commissioner shall review the bank's community reinvestment statement and signed, written comments retained by the bank, or the commissioner. In addition, the commissioner will consider the following factors in assessing a bank's record of performance:

(a) activities conducted by the bank to ascertain the credit needs of its community, including the extent of the bank's efforts to communicate with members of its community regarding the credit services being provided by the bank;

(b) the extent of the bank's marketing and special credit-related programs to make members of the community aware of the credit services offered by the bank;

(c) the extent of participation by the bank's board of directors or trustees in formulating the bank's policies, and reviewing its performance with respect to the purposes of community reinvestment as set forth in this section;

(d) any practices intended to discourage applications for types of credit set forth in the bank's community reinvestment statement;

(e) the geographic distribution of the bank's credit extensions, credit applications and credit denials;

(f) evidence of prohibited discriminatory or other illegal credit practices;

(g) the bank's record of opening and closing offices and providing services at offices;

(h) the bank's participation, including investments, in local community development and redevelopment projects or programs;

(i) the bank's origination of residential mortgage loans, housing rehabilitation loans, home improvement loans and small business or small farm loans within its community, or the purchase of such loans originated in its community;

(j) the bank's participation in governmentally-insured guaranteed, or subsidized loan programs for housing, small businesses or small farms;

(k) the bank's ability to meet various community credit needs based on its financial condition and size, its legal impediments, local economic conditions and other factors; and

(l) other factors that, in the commissioner's judgment, reasonably bear upon the extent to which a bank is helping to meet the credit needs of its entire community.

In considering an application for the establishment of a domestic branch or other facility with the ability to accept deposits, the relocation of the main office or a branch office, or a merger or consolidation with or the acquisition of assets or assumption of liabilities of another bank or federally-insured bank, the commissioner shall consider, but not be limited to the bank's record of performance.

The assessment of a bank's record of performance in helping to meet the credit needs of its community may be the basis for denial of such an application.

Section 15. The commissioner of banks shall annually prepare and submit a list to the investment committee established under the provisions of section twenty-three of chapter thirty-two and the state treasurer which indicates those banks, as defined in section one, which have satisfied their continuing and affirmative obligations to help meet the needs of the local communities in which they are chartered, including low and moderate-income neighborhoods, as set forth in section fourteen.

Only mortgage lenders so listed shall be eligible to sell or participate in the sale of mortgage pass-through securities or mortgage-backed bonds to public employee retirement systems. Only banks so listed shall be eligible to receive deposits under the provisions of section thirty-four or thirty-four A of chapter twenty-nine.

The commissioner of banks shall also prepare and submit annually to said investment committee and the state treasurer a list, based on information received from the appropriate federal agency, which indicates those federal savings and loan associations and national banking associations which have been determined by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency to have complied with the requirements of the Federal Community Reinvestment Act, sections 802 et. seq., of Title VIII of P.L. 95-128, and regulations promulgated thereunder. Only those associations so listed shall be eligible to sell such securities or bonds to such systems, and to receive deposits under the provisions of section thirty-four or thirty-four A of chapter twenty-nine.

Section 15A. Annually, not later than July first, the commissioner shall prepare a list of all stocks, bonds, notes and other interest bearing obligations which are then legal investments under any provision of sections forty-two or forty-eight, inclusive, paragraphs three, four, and six of section forty-nine, and section fifty of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this section provided that all privately placed or held issues may in the discretion of the commissioner be omitted. Said list shall at all times be open to public inspection and a copy thereof shall be sent to every state-chartered bank having savings deposit. In the preparation of any list hereunder which the commissioner is required to prepare or furnish, he may employ such expert assistance as he deems proper or may rely upon information contained in publications which he deems authoritative in reference to such matters, and he shall be in no way held responsible or liable for the omission from such list of the name of any state or political subdivision or authority thereof or of any corporation or association the stocks, bonds, notes or other interest bearing obligations of which conform to this chapter, or for the omission of any stocks, bonds, notes or other interest bearing obligations which so conform; nor shall he be held responsible or liable for the inclusions in such list of any such names or of any stocks, bonds, notes or other interest bearing obligations which do not so conform.

Offices, and members of a board of a bank may rely upon the legal list referred to in this section as representing an accurate listing of stocks, bonds, notes and other interest bearing obligations eligible for investment by it; and no such officer or member shall be personally liable for any loss incurred by such bank arising from the purchase in good faith of any security appearing on said list at the time of such purchase.

As used in any general or special law, the term "legal list for savings banks" or "legal investments for savings banks" shall mean the list referred to in this section.

Section 16. In connection with his annual examination of a bank, the commissioner shall consider the amount of investment made on mortgage loans on real estate located outside the commonwealth in assessing whether a bank is satisfying its continuing and affirmative obligation to help meet the credit needs of its local community delineated in accordance with applicable law and regulations; provided, however, that the commissioner shall also consider activities and investments made by a bank which contribute to the economic development of the commonwealth in general and the effect the investments made outside the commonwealth may have on such other activities and investments. Such assessment may be considered as a basis for denial of an application for the establishment of a branch office, the relocation of a main office or a branch office or a merger or consolidation of such bank.

Annually, on or before the first Wednesday in February, the commissioner of banks shall communicate to the general court a report of the investments of banks made outside the commonwealth.

Said report shall consist of, but not be limited to, the following: (a) the amount and location, by state, of such investments as of the last business day of its fiscal year with comparative figures as of the end of the previous fiscal year, (b) the amount of investment in mortgages of real estate located in the commonwealth, (c) the amount of investments in mortgages of real estate located in the commonwealth representing loans sold but continued to be serviced by such corporation, and (d), any legislative recommendations deemed necessary or appropriate if the commissioner determines, or has reason to believe, that the availability of mortgage credit for real estate located within the commonwealth has been adversely affected by investments made outside the commonwealth.

Section 17. On the first of October and the first of April each year, the commissioner shall file a report to the general court on the availability of home mortgages within the commonwealth. This report shall consist of, but not be limited to, the following: (a) the amount of investment in home mortgages made within the commonwealth during the preceding six month period, including those mortgages sold to a secondary market, (b) the cost of funds for banks during said preceding period, (c) the availability of funds for home mortgages in the commonwealth, and (d), other factors that, in the commissioner's judgment, reasonably bear upon the extent to which state chartered banks are meeting the home mortgage needs of the commonwealth.

Section 18. Whenever in the opinion of the commissioner an excessive loan has been made, or is about to be made, upon real estate, by a bank, said commissioner may cause an appraisal of such real estate to be made at the expense of the bank making the loan. One appraiser shall be named by the commissioner, one by the bank, and a third by the two thus named. The appraisers shall determine the value of the real estate and certify the same, in writing, to the commissioner and to the bank. If it appears from the appraisal that the loan is excessive, the commissioner may make such order in relation thereto as he deems advisable.

Section 19. Whenever it has been determined by the commissioner, after investigation, that the losses of any such bank resulting from a depreciation in the value of its assets or otherwise, exceed its surplus and any other reserve accounts, so that the estimated value of its assets is less than the total amount due to shareholders and holders of accounts referred to in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D, he may require, by order, a suspension of dividend and interest distributions or a reduction of its liability to such shareholders and account holders in such manner as to distribute the loss equitably among them. If, after such an order of reduction, the bank realizes from such assets an amount in excess of the value so estimated, such amount shall be divided among the then remaining shareholders and account holders whose balances were so reduced, to the extent of such reduction only, and any balance of said excess remaining shall be transferred to the surplus account.

Section 20. At least once in each three year period, every bank shall cause its savings accounts to be verified, to such an extent and in such manner as the commissioner shall require, and under such rules as he may prescribe.

Section 21. Any bank, which term for the purposes of this section shall include not only any bank as defined in section one but also, to the extent that the provisions hereof are not inconsistent with and do not infringe upon paramount federal law governing national banks, any national banking association, federal reserve bank, federal home loan bank, federal savings and loan association or federal credit union doing business in the commonwealth, may remain closed on any and all Saturdays and any and all days on which, by reason of an occasion of national mourning or rejoicing, or national emergency or local emergency affecting the community in which such bank is located, the governor shall, by proclamation, request the people of the commonwealth or of said community to close their places of business.

Wherever the commissioner determines that an emergency exists affecting banks located in the commonwealth or in any part or parts thereof, he may authorize banks located in the area or areas affected by such emergency to close any or all of their offices, and he shall make public announcement of such authorization. Further, if the commissioner determines that an emergency exists which affects a particular bank or banks or a particular office or offices thereof but not banks located in the area generally, he may authorize the particular bank or banks or office or offices so affected to close. As used in this paragraph, the word "emergency" shall include any condition which may interfere with the conduct of the normal operations of, or the transportation of, employees to or from, a bank or one or more offices thereof, or poses an existing or imminent threat to the safety or security of bank personnel or property, including, without limitation, conditions arising by reason of fire, flood, windstorm, snowstorm or other casualty, interruption of transportation or power facilities, war or other enemy action, and riots, civil commotion or other acts of lawlessness or violence.

Whenever the officers of a bank are of the opinion that conditions exist which pose an existing or imminent threat to the safety or security of bank personnel or property generally or at any one or more offices thereof, they may close the bank or the office or offices affected by such threat, as the case may be irrespective of whether the governor has acted or the commissioner has acted under this section. As used in this section, the word "officers" shall mean the person or persons designated by the board of directors, board of trustees or other governing body of a bank to act for the bank in carrying out the provisions of this section or, in the absence of any such designation, the president or any other officer currently in charge of the operations of the bank or of the office or offices in question. A bank closing an office or offices pursuant to this section shall enter in the records of the next following meeting of the board of directors and board of investment the cause and time of such closing.

Any bank or office thereof which is closed by action of the commissioner under this section may remain closed until the commissioner declares that the emergency had ended; if closed by decision of the officers, the bank may remain closed until they determine that the threat has ended; and, in either event, for such further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen but in any event until the normal time of opening on the next business day.

Any Saturday or proclaimed day of closing on which a bank remains closed, and any day on which a bank or anyone or more of its offices is closed during any part or all of its normal banking hours by decision of the commissioner or by decision of its officers, shall be, with respect to such bank or, if not all of its offices are closed, then with respect to those offices which are closed, a day which is neither a "full business day" nor a "banking day" as such words are used in and for purposes of chapter one hundred and six, and any act authorized, required or permitted to be performed at, or by or with respect to such bank or such office or offices, on such day, may be performed on the next succeeding business day without any liability or loss of rights resulting from such delay.

Any action taken by the commissioner in authorizing any bank to close shall be recorded in a permanent record book, of such actions, to be maintained by the commissioner.

The provisions of this section shall be construed to be in addition to and not in substitution for, or in limitation of, any other law of the commonwealth or of the United States authorizing the closing of banks or excusing delay by a bank in the performance of its duties or obligations because of emergencies or conditions beyond its control or otherwise.

Section 21A. Any officer of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any public or quasi-public body or corporation, receiving public or quasi-public moneys, including trust and sinking funds, who lawfully and in good faith and in the exercise of due care has deposited any of such moneys to the credit of any political subdivision of the commonwealth, or of any department, board, commission or other activity of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any such body or corporation in a bank as defined in section one or in a national banking association doing business within the commonwealth, may, subject to the approval hereinafter required, on behalf of the commonwealth or political subdivision thereof or of the public or quasi-public body or corporation, on behalf of which such moneys were deposited, and without thereby incurring any personal liability for the loss of any such moneys by reason of any reorganization hereinafter referred to, assent to and participate in a plan of reorganization of such bank or national banking association, if such plan shall have previously been approved by the commissioner or by the comptroller of the currency, and may enter into all necessary agreements in connection therewith. The state treasurer, subject to the approval hereinafter required, may act under authority of this section as to any public moneys deposited by himself or any other officer of the commonwealth to the credit of the commonwealth and not specifically to the credit of any department, board, commission or other activity thereof.

No action shall be taken under authority of this section unless and until approved, in case of action of the state treasurer or any other officer of the commonwealth, by the governor and council; in case of action of any officer of a county, city or town, by the county commissioners, mayor and city council or board of selectmen; in case of action of any officer of a district, by the prudential committee thereof, or other officer or board exercising similar powers therein; and in case of action of any officer of a public or quasi-public body or corporation, by its board of directors, or board of trustees or other officers or board thereof exercising similar powers.

Section 22. Whenever it shall appear to the commissioner that any bank has violated its charter or any law of the commonwealth, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, or that its capital is impaired, or if it shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection of the commissioner or his duly authorized agents, or if any officer of such bank shall refuse to be examined on oath by the commissioner or his duly authorized assistants touching its concerns, or if it shall suspend payment of its obligations, or if from an examination or from a report provided for by law the commissioner shall have reason to conclude that such bank is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized, or that it is unsafe and inexpedient for it to continue business, the commissioner may take possession forthwith of the property and business of such bank and may retain possession thereof until the bank shall resume business or until its affairs shall finally be liquidated as herein provided.

Section 23. Upon taking possession of the property and business of a bank, the commissioner shall forthwith give notice thereof to all banks, associations and individuals holding or having possession of any assets of such bank. No bank, association or individual, knowing that the commissioner has taken such possession or having been notified thereof as aforesaid, shall have a lien or charge for any payment, advance or clearance thereafter made, or liability thereafter incurred, against any of the assets of the bank of whose property and business the commissioner shall have taken possession as aforesaid. Such bank may, with the consent of the commissioner, resume business upon such conditions as said commissioner may approve; provided, however, that if, in said commissioner's judgment it is for the public interest so to do, said commissioner may retain, in behalf of the bank the control, prosecution or defense of any undetermined suits or claims brought on behalf of, or against, the bank under section twenty-five during the time when the bank was in said commissioner's charge, and the expense of prosecuting or defending such suits or claims shall be paid from the funds of such bank.

Section 24. Upon taking possession of the property and business of such bank, the commissioner may collect moneys due to the bank and do all acts necessary to conserve its assets and business, and shall proceed to liquidate its affairs as hereinafter provided. Said commissioner shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to it, and upon the order or decree of the supreme judicial court, or any justice thereof, may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts, and, on like order or decree, may sell for cash or other consideration or as provided by section thirty-eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight or section thirty-seven of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, all or any part of the real and personal property of the bank on such terms as the court shall direct, and, in the name of such bank, may take a mortgage on such real property from a bona fide purchaser to secure the whole or a part of the purchase price upon such terms and for such periods as the court shall direct. If, at any time after he has taken possession of the property and business of a bank under section twenty-two, the commissioner deems it necessary to enforce the individual liability of stockholders therein, as described in the first sentence of section twenty-eight of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, in order to pay the liabilities of such bank, said commissioner may file a bill in equity in the supreme judicial court against all persons who were stockholders therein at the time of such taking possession; but no such stockholder shall be liable to pay a larger sum than the amount of the par value of the stock held by him at the time of such taking possession. Such suit shall not abate by reason of the non-joinder of persons liable as respondents, unless the commissioner, after notice by plea or answer of their existence, unreasonably neglects to make them parties, nor shall it abate by reason of the death of a respondent but his estate shall be liable in the hands of his executor or administrator who may voluntarily appear, or who may be summoned by the commissioner to defend the suit.

The commissioner shall not sell for cash or other consideration or as provided by section thirty-eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight all or any part of the real or personal property of a savings bank in his possession without having first given to the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., and to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or to any successor to said corporations, respectively, reasonable opportunity, jointly or severally, to offer to purchase the same; and the commissioner shall, in any petition to the supreme judicial court filed by him seeking an order or decree directing the sale of any such property, certify that such reasonable opportunity has been so given and the amounts, if any, for which the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or both, or any successor corporation thereto have expressed a willingness to purchase said property.

Section 25. To execute and perform the powers and duties conferred upon him, the commissioner may, in the name of any such bank, prosecute and defend all suits and other legal proceedings and may, in the name of the bank, execute, acknowledge and deliver all deeds, assignments, releases and other instruments necessary and proper to effectuate any sale of real or personal property or any compromise authorized by the court, and any deed or other instrument, executed pursuant to the authority hereby given, shall be valid and effectual for all purposes to the same extent as though executed by the officers of the bank by authority of its board of directors or of its stockholders, or by the individual banker personally. In case any of the real property so sold is located in a county other than that where the application to the court for leave to sell the same is made, the commissioner shall cause a certified copy of the order or decree of the court authorizing or ratifying such sale to be filed in the registry of deeds for the district wherein said real property lies.

Section 26. The commissioner may, under his hand and official seal, appoint agents to assist him in the duty of liquidation and distribution. The certificates of the appointment of such agents shall be filed in the office of the commissioner and certified copies thereof shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the supreme judicial court. The commissioner may from time to time authorize such agents to perform such duties connected with said liquidation and distribution as he deems proper. The commissioner may procure such expert assistance and advice as he considers necessary in the liquidation and distribution of the assets of such bank and he may retain such officers or employees of the bank as he deems necessary. The commissioner shall require, from a special agent and from such assistants, such security for the faithful discharge of their duty as he deems proper.

The commissioner may, under his hand and official seal, appoint the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as the liquidating agent of a bank insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Upon its acceptance of the appointment, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as liquidating agent shall acquire both legal and equitable title to all of the assets, rights or claims and to all of the real or personal property of the closed bank. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as liquidating agent shall have the power to perform all acts and duties of the commissioner in the liquidation of the closed bank. The commissioner shall petition the supreme judicial court for an order confirming the appointment of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as liquidating agent of such bank.

When the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation accepts appointment as liquidating agent as provided herein and proposes a purchase and assumption resolution, the board of bank incorporation may exercise its authority under chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A, chapter one hundred and sixty-eight or chapter one hundred and seventy-two without regard to notice of hearing requirements to effect such a resolution.

Whenever the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation pays or makes available for payment the insured deposit liabilities of a closed bank, it shall become subrogated to all of the rights of the owners of the deposits against the closed bank, whether or not it has become receiver thereof, in the same manner and to the same extent as it would be subrogated in the closing of a national banking association as provided in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, as amended.

Section 26A. The commissioner may, under his hand and official seal, appoint the National Credit Union Administration Board as the liquidating agent of a credit union insured by the National Credit Union Administration Board. Upon its acceptance of the appointment, said board as liquidating agent shall acquire both legal and equitable title to all of the assets, rights or claims and to all of the real or personal property of such closed credit union. Said board shall have the power to perform all acts and duties of the commissioner in the liquidation of such closed credit union. Further, said board may also as liquidating agent aid in the liquidation of a credit union insured by it in the same manner and to the same extent as the Massachusetts Credit Union Share Insurance Corporation may aid in the liquidation of a credit union insured by that corporation, as provided in chapter one hundred and seventy-one.

Whenever the National Credit Union Administration Board pays or makes payment of the insured share and deposit liabilities of a closed credit union, it shall become subrogated to all of the rights of the member and owner of the shares and deposits against the closed credit union, whether or not it becomes receiver thereof in the same manner and to the same extent as it would be subrogated in the closing of a federal credit union as provided in Sec. 1787 USC 12.

Section 27. Upon taking possession of the property and assets of such bank, the commissioner shall make an inventory, in duplicate, of the assets of the bank, one to be filed in his office and one in the office of the clerk of the supreme judicial court.

Section 28. The commissioner shall publish weekly for three consecutive months, in such newspapers as he directs, a notice calling on all persons who may have claims against such bank to present the same to the commissioner and to make legal proof thereof at a place and in a time, not earlier than the last day of publication, to be therein specified. The commissioner shall mail a similar notice to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the bank, so far as their addresses are known. If the commissioner doubts the justice and validity of any claim, he may reject the same and serve notice of such rejection upon the claimant either personally or by mail. An affidavit of service of such notice, which shall be prima facie evidence thereof, shall be filed with the commissioner. An action upon the claim so rejected shall not be entertained unless brought within six months after such service. Claims presented after the expiration of the time specified in the notice to creditors shall be entitled to share in the distribution only to the extent of the assets in the hands of the commissioner equitably applicable thereto.

Section 29. Upon the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims, the commissioner shall make, in duplicate, a full and complete list of the claims presented, including and specifying such claims as have been rejected by him. One of said lists shall be filed in his office and the other in the office of the clerk of the supreme judicial court. Thereafter the commissioner shall make and file in said offices, at least fifteen days prior to every application to the court for leave to declare a dividend, a supplementary list of the claims presented since the last preceding list was filed, including and specifying such claims as have been rejected by him, and, he shall make and file said list at least once in every six months after the filing of the original list, so long as he remains in possession of the property and business of the bank. Said inventory and lists shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times.

Section 30. The compensation of the special agents, counsel, employees and assistants, and all expenses of supervision and liquidation, shall be fixed by the commissioner, subject to the approval of the supreme judicial court, on notice to such bank, and, upon the certificate of the commissioner, shall be paid out of the funds of the bank in his hands.

Section 31. At any time after the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims, the supreme judicial court, on application of the commissioner, depositor, creditor, stockholder or any party in interest, may authorize or direct the commissioner to declare out of the funds remaining in his hands, after the payment of expenses, one or more dividends, and, after the expiration of one year from the first publication of notice to creditors, or earlier, if the supreme judicial court so orders, the commissioner may declare a final dividend, such dividends to be paid to such persons, in such amounts, and upon such notice as may be directed by the supreme judicial court or as may be directed by a justice of said court. Objections to any claim not rejected by the commissioner may be made by any person interested by filing a copy of the objections with the commissioner who shall present the same to the supreme judicial court at the time of the next application for leave to declare a dividend. The court to which such application is made shall thereupon dispose of said objections, or may refer them to a master, and, should the objections to any claim be sustained by the court or by the master, no dividend thereon shall be paid by the commissioner until the claimant shall have established his claim by the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. The court may make proper provision for unproved or unclaimed deposits.

Section 31A. In the case of a deposit standing in the name of a minor having no known guardian, the commissioner, in his discretion if the amount of the deposit does not exceed five hundred dollars, or with the approval of the supreme judicial court, whether or not the amount of the deposit exceeds five hundred dollars, may make any dividend payment, payable under section thirty-one on account of such deposit, to such minor or either of his parents, and such payment shall be a valid discharge to the same extent as if made to the legal representative of such minor. In the case of a deposit standing in the name of a decedent after whose death sixty days have elapsed, if no petition for the allowance of his will or for the administration of his estate has been filed, the commissioner, in his discretion if the amount of the deposit does not exceed five hundred dollars, may make any dividend payment, payable under said section thirty-one on account of such deposit, to the person or persons whom he finds entitled thereto, or the commissioner, with the approval of the supreme judicial court whether or not the amount of the deposit exceeds five hundred dollars, may make any dividend payment, payable under said section thirty-one on account of such deposit, to the person or persons whom the court finds entitled thereto, and in either case such payment shall be a valid discharge to the same extent as if made to the legal representative of the decedent.

Section 32. Should any bank, at the time when the commissioner takes possession thereof, have in its possession for safe keeping and storage, any jewelry, plate, money, securities, valuable papers or other valuable personal property, or should it have rented any box, safes, or safe deposit boxes, or any part thereof, for the storage of property of any kind, the commissioner may at any time after taking possession as aforesaid cause to be mailed to the person claiming or appearing upon the books of the bank to be the owner of such property, or to the person in whose name the safe, vault, or box stands, a written notice in a securely closed postpaid, registered letter, directed to such person at his post office address as recorded upon the books of the bank, notifying such person to remove, within a period fixed by said notice and not less than sixty days from the date thereof, all such personal property; and upon the date fixed by said notice, the contract, if any, between such persons and the bank for the storage of such property, or for the use of said safe, vault or box, shall cease and determine, and the amount of unearned rent or charges, if any, paid by such person shall become debt of the bank to such person. If the property be not removed within the time fixed by the notice, the commissioner may make such disposition of said property as the supreme judicial court, upon application thereto, may direct; and thereupon the commissioner may cause any safe, vault or box to be opened in his presence, or in the presence of one of his special agents and a notary public not an officer or employee of the bank, or of the commissioner, and the contents thereof, if any, to be sealed up by such notary public in a package upon which the notary public shall distinctly mark the name and address of the person in whose name such safe, vault or box stands upon the books of the bank, and shall attach thereto a list and description of the property therein. The package so sealed and addressed, together with the list and description, may be kept by the commissioner in one of the general safes for boxes of the bank until delivered to the person whose name it bears, or may otherwise be disposed of as directed by the court.

Section 33. Whenever any bank of whose property and business the commissioner has taken possession deems itself aggrieved thereby, it may, at any time within ten days after such taking possession, apply to the supreme judicial court to enjoin further proceedings; said court, after citing the commissioner to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined, and after hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining the facts, may, upon the merits, dismiss such application or may enjoin the commissioner from further proceedings and direct him to surrender the said business and property to the bank.

Section 34. Whenever the commissioner has paid to every depositor and creditor of such corporation, not including stockholders, whose claims as such creditors or depositors have been duly approved and allowed, the full amount of such claims, and has made proper provision for unclaimed and unpaid deposits or dividends, and has paid all expenses of the liquidation, he shall call a meeting of the stockholders of the corporation by mailing notice thereof, not less than thirty days prior to the date of the meeting, to each stockholder of record whose address is known, and also by publishing notice of the meeting once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county wherein the principal office of the corporation is located, the first publication to be not less than thirty days before the date appointed for the meeting. At such meeting the stockholders shall determine whether the commissioner shall be continued as liquidator and shall wind up the affairs of the corporation, or whether an agent or agents shall be elected therefor, and in so determining, the stockholders shall vote by ballot, in person or by proxy, each share of stock entitling the holder to one vote; and a majority of the stock shall be necessary for the determination. (If it is determined to continue the liquidation and, after paying the expenses thereof, distribute the proceeds remaining among the stockholders in proportion to their several holdings of stock, in such manner and upon such notice as may be directed by the supreme judicial court.) If it is determined to appoint an agent or agents to liquidate, the stockholders shall thereupon select such agent or agents by ballot, a majority of the stock present and voting, in person or by proxy, being necessary to a choice. Such agent or agents shall execute and file with the commissioner a bond to the state treasurer in such amount, with such sureties and in such form as shall be approved by the commissioner, conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties of his or their trust, and thereupon the commissioner shall transfer and deliver to such agent or agents all undivided, uncollected or other assets of the corporation then remaining in his hands. Upon such transfer and delivery, the commissioner shall be discharged from all further liability to such corporation. Said agent or agents shall convert into cash the assets coming into his or their possession and shall account for and make distribution of the property of the corporation as provided in the case of distribution by the commissioner, except that the expenses thereof shall be subject to the direction and control of the supreme judicial court. In case of the death, removal or refusal to act of any such agents, the stockholders, on the like notice to be given by the commissioner upon proof of such death, removal or refusal to act being filed with him, and by the like vote hereinbefore provided, may elect a successor who shall have the same powers and be subject to the same liabilities and duties as the agent originally elected.

Section 35. Unclaimed dividends and all other funds received from the liquidation of any institution, so taken possession of, and remaining in the possession of the commissioner after the expiration of twelve months from the order for final distribution, shall be paid by him to the state treasurer, to be held in trust, subject to the conditions hereinafter provided, for the several depositors with the creditors of such institution or other persons entitled thereto, according to their several interests. The commissioner shall state, annually, in his report to the general court the names of institutions so taken possession of and liquidated and the amounts of unclaimed dividends and other funds held by him with respect to every such institution. Upon certification by the commissioner that he has been furnished satisfactory evidence of their right to the same, the state treasurer shall pay over the money so held by him to the persons respectively entitled thereto. In cases of doubt or of conflicting claims, the commissioner may require an order from the supreme judicial court authorizing and directing payment, and any expenses incurred in connection therewith shall be deducted before payment from the amount payable. At the expiration of six years from the date of receipt by the state treasurer from the commissioner of any such unclaimed dividends or other funds, upon certification by the commissioner that no claim thereto has been proven to his satisfaction or is pending, the same or the balance thereof then remaining, together with the interest, if any, earned thereon, shall escheat to the commonwealth.

Section 35A. After the expiration of six years from the order for final distribution, the commissioner may, with the approval of the supreme judicial court, cause to be destroyed any or all of the books, records, correspondence and other papers in his possession concerning any such bank and the liquidation thereof.

Section 35B. The commissioner shall, while any such bank is in his possession, issue, from time to time, at intervals of not more than six months, reports with respect to such bank containing a statement of its receipts and expenditures, and a general report as to the progress of its liquidation, including an estimate of the liquidating value of its remaining assets and liabilities appropriately classified. Said reports shall be available to the depositors and to the stockholders or shareholders, if any, of such bank.

Section 36. The supreme judicial court, or any justice thereof, shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce the provisions of sections twenty-two to thirty-five B, inclusive, and to act upon all applications and in all proceedings thereunder.

Section 37. No domestic or foreign corporation or individual, partnership or association shall conduct the business of a savings bank, co-operative bank, savings and loan association, credit union, trust company or banking company unless authorized to do so under the laws of this commonwealth nor shall any such corporation, individual, partnership or association, unless so authorized under said laws, make use of any sign at the place where its business is transacted having thereon any name or other words indicating that such place or office is the place or office of a savings bank, co-operative bank, savings and loan association, credit union, trust company or banking company or make use of or circulate any written or printed or partly written or partly printed paper whatever, having thereon any name or other words indicating that such business is that of a savings bank, co-operative bank, savings and loan association, credit union, trust company or banking company; nor shall any such corporation, individual partnership or association or any agent of any of these not having a charter to do business as a savings bank, co-operative bank, savings and loan association, credit union, trust company or banking company, unless authorized to do so under the laws of the commonwealth, solicit or receive deposits or transact any business whatsoever in the manner described in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, chapters one hundred and sixty-seven C to one hundred and sixty-seven G, inclusive, and chapters one hundred and sixty-eight to one hundred and seventy-two A, inclusive, in any manner so as to lead the public to believe or, in the opinion of the commissioner, might lead the public to believe that its business is that of a bank. No domestic or foreign corporation or individual, partnership or association other than corporations excepted from the prohibitions contained in the first sentence of this section and corporations qualifying as bank holding companies under chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A and other than foreign banking associations authorized under section thirty-seven to transact business in this commonwealth and national banking associations shall hereafter transact business under any name or title which contain the words "bank", "banking", "bankers", or any word in a foreign language having the same or similar meaning, as descriptive of said business or, if he or it does a banking business or makes a business of receiving money on deposit, under any name or title containing the word "trust", or any word in a foreign language having the same or similar meaning as descriptive of said business. The provisions of this section which prohibit the transacting of business under a name or title which contains the word "bankers" shall not apply to domestic corporations incorporated prior to January first, nineteen hundred and sixty-five, whose corporate name or title contained the word "bankers" prior to such date. There shall be excepted from the prohibitions contained in this section temporary associations of individuals formed under the sponsorship of a trust company or national bank, savings bank, savings and loan association, co-operative bank or federal savings and loan association situated in this commonwealth for the purpose of training young people in the basic principles and practices of banking by actual participation in pattern or model organizations and operations designed as educational programs. The organization of such associations shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner and their subsequent operation to his supervision.

No bank shall engage in the business of operating a travel agency.

Section 37A. The commissioner or his examiners may examine the accounts, books and papers of any corporation, person, partnership or association making a business of receiving money on deposit, or which has the word "bank", "banking", "banker", "bankers", or "trust", or any word in a foreign language having the same or similar meaning, in the name under which its business is conducted, in order to ascertain whether such corporation, person, partnership or association has violated or is violating any provision of the preceding section; any corporations, person, partnership or association refusing to allow such examination or violating any provision of said section shall forfeit to the commonwealth one hundred dollars a day for every day or part thereof during which such refusal or violation continues. Any violation of this or the preceding section shall forthwith be reported by the commissioner to the attorney general. The said forfeiture may be recovered by any information or other appropriate proceeding brought in the supreme judicial or superior court in the name of the attorney general. Upon such information or other proceeding the court may issue an injunction restraining such corporation, person, partnership or association from further prosecution of its business within the commonwealth during the pendency of such proceeding or for all time, and may make such other orders or decrees as equity and justice may require.

Any corporation, person, partnership, or association found by the commissioner to be violating or to have violated this or section twelve shall bear the expenses of the examination made by the commissioner, including the actual cost thereof and such additional sum for the overhead expenses of the division of banks and loan agencies as the commissioner shall determine to be attributable to such examination to be recovered in an action of contract brought by the attorney general in behalf of the commonwealth.

Section 38. No foreign banking association or corporation shall transact business in this commonwealth until it has received a certificate from the board of bank incorporation, authorizing it so to do. The said board may grant such certificate conditioned upon the performance of such requirements as to auditing as said board may prescribe. Any foreign banking association or corporation transacting business in this commonwealth shall be subject to the supervision of the commissioner, and shall annually, within thirty days after the last business day of December, and at other times during each year on any past day to be specified by the commissioner, make, to him, in such form as may be prescribed by him a return, signed and sworn to by the treasurer, or the corresponding officer, of the corporation, showing accurately the condition thereof at the close of business on said day. The president and a majority of the directors shall certify on oath that the report is correct according to their best knowledge and belief.

Section 38A. No association, corporation, partnership, or person organized or operating under laws other than the laws of this commonwealth and doing a business similar to any business referred to in section one, shall establish or maintain any branch or depot in this commonwealth unless expressly authorized to operate and maintain a branch or depot by the laws under which it was organized or operates and except in accordance with the same restrictions and limitations as to branches and depots applicable to similar institutions organized or operating under the laws of this commonwealth.

Section 39. The commissioner shall annually at least, and as much oftener as he deems expedient, examine, either personally or by a competent examiner appointed by him, every such association or corporation and thoroughly inspect and examine its affairs to ascertain its financial condition and whether it has complied with the law. The proper charges incurred by reason of any such examination shall be paid by the association or corporation examined.

Section 39A. For the purpose aforesaid, the commissioner or the person making the examination shall have free access to the vaults, books and papers of any such association or corporation, and may summon the directors, officers or agents thereof, and such other witnesses as he deems necessary, for examination relative to the affairs, transactions and condition of such association or corporation, and for that purpose is empowered to administer oaths.

Section 40. If, upon examination, it appears that such association or corporation is insolvent, or that its capital is impaired, or that its condition is such as to render the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or to those having funds in its custody, the commissioner shall apply, or, if such association or corporation appears to have exceeded its powers or failed to comply with any provision of law, may apply to the supreme judicial court, which shall have jurisdiction in equity on such application, to issue an injunction restraining such association or corporation, in whole or in part, from further proceeding with its business, and to make such further orders or decrees as justice and equity may require. The court may appoint one or more receivers to take possession of its property and effects, subject to such directions as may from time to time be prescribed by the court.

Section 41. Every foreign banking association or corporation which was, on June tenth, nineteen hundred and six, transacting business in this commonwealth and which receives any deposits or transacts any business in the manner of a savings bank, or in such a manner as might lead the public to believe that its business is that of a savings bank, shall have a savings department in which all business transacted in such manner in this commonwealth shall be done. All money received in said manner shall be a special deposit and shall be placed in said savings department, and all loans or investments thereof shall be made in accordance with the laws governing the investment of deposits.

Section 42. Such funds and the investments or loans thereof shall be appropriated solely to the security and payment of such deposits, and shall not be mingled with the investments of the capital stock or other money or property belonging to such association or corporation or be liable for the debts or obligations thereof. The accounts and transactions of said savings department shall be kept separate and distinct from the general business of the association or corporation.

Section 43. All income received from the investment of funds in said savings department, over and above the sums paid to depositors in that department as interest or dividends, shall accrue as profits to the association or corporation and may be transferred to its general funds.

Section 44. No such association or corporation described in section forty-one shall have more than two offices or places of business in the commonwealth.

Section 45. Sections forty-one to forty-four, inclusive, shall not apply to any deposit received by any such association or corporation in exchange for the obligation of a depositor secured by such deposit, there shall be issued, either at the time of receiving the deposit, or thereafter, orders for merchandise for the full amount or any part thereof, and nothing contained in said sections shall be construed to apply to national banks.

Section 45A. The board of bank incorporation may, subject to such conditions as the commissioner may prescribe, grant to a banking association or corporation whose principal office is in another state, a certificate authorizing it to act in a fiduciary capacity under the provisions, so far as applicable, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven G; provided, however, that said association or corporation is authorized so to act by the laws of the state wherein its principal office is located; and provided, further, that the laws of such state grant a similar privilege or privileges to like associations or corporations having their principal office in this commonwealth. Any such banking association or corporation holding a certificate as aforesaid and appointed a fiduciary shall be subject to the provisions of general law with respect to the appointment of agents by foreign fiduciaries and to the same taxes, obligations and penalties, with respect to its activities as such fiduciary and the property held by it in its fiduciary capacity, as like associations or corporations having their principal office in this commonwealth, and no such certificate shall be issued to any such banking association or corporation until it has filed with the said board of bank incorporation an agreement, in writing, in which it binds itself to perform said obligations and pay any such taxes and penalties as aforesaid as may be levied or imposed upon it in this commonwealth. Such a corporation or association, to the extent only that it acts as fiduciary as hereinbefore authorized, shall not be deemed to transact business in the commonwealth for the purposes of sections thirty-eight to forty-five, inclusive.

SECTION 6. Paragraph (d) of section 1 of chapter 167A of the General Laws, as amended by section 1 of chapter 633 of the acts of 1966, is hereby further amended by adding the following sentence:- So much of section ten of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight that provides that no trustee or other officer of a savings bank may at the same time be a director or other officer of a bank holding company shall not apply to service as a director or other officer of a bank holding company formed by one or more savings banks, and so much of section eight A of chapter one hundred and seventy that provides that no director or other officer of a co-operative bank may at the same time be a director or other officer of a bank holding company shall not apply to service as a director or other officer of a bank holding company formed by one or more co-operative banks.

SECTION 7. The first paragraph of paragraph 1 of section 4A of said chapter 167A is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as appearing in chapter 899 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- A company having capital stock divided into shares which desires to acquire all the capital stock of one or more corporations, organized under or subject to the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, one hundred and seventy or one hundred and seventy-two, shall, together with such corporation or corporations, submit, in duplicate, to the commissioner a written plan of acquisition of such stock.

SECTION 8. Said section 4A of said chapter 167A is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph 6, as amended by section 4 of chapter 313 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

6. Any corporation organized under or subject to the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, one hundred and seventy or one hundred and seventy-two shall have the power to organize a company for the purposes contemplated by this section; and in connection with such organization and the development of a plan of acquisition, any such corporation may incur organization and other expenses in such amounts, in the aggregate, not exceeding two per cent of its capital stock and surplus account for a trust company or two per cent of surplus for a savings bank or co-operative bank, as the commissioner may approve.

SECTION 9. The General Laws are hereby further amended by inserting after chapter 167B the following five chapters:-

CHAPTER 167C.
BANK LOCATIONS.

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank", or "such bank", a savings bank, co-operative bank, or trust company subject to the supervision of the commissioner of banks.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Stock corporation", a savings bank or a co-operative bank which has converted to a stockholder form of corporation or a trust company as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-two.

"Thrift institution", a savings bank as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-eight or a co-operative bank as defined in chapter one hundred and seventy except as herein provided.

Section 2. The main office of a bank shall be in the town specified in its charter or in its agreement of association, or in such other town to which such office may have been lawfully moved or may be moved as provided in this section. The location of the main office of any bank may be changed to any point in the town of its location with the written consent of the commissioner. With the approval of the board of bank incorporation and upon the vote of two-thirds of the corporators or members and the approval of its board of trustees or board of directors, present at a meeting called for the purpose, a bank may change the location of its main office to another town within the commonwealth by appropriate amendment of its charter or of its agreement of association, a copy of which amendment shall be filed immediately with the secretary of state.

Section 3. After such notice and hearing as the commissioner may require and with his written permission and under such conditions as he may approve, a bank may establish and maintain one or more branch offices or depots (a) in the city or town wherein its main office is located, or (b) in other cities or towns within the same county where, in the opinion of the commissioner, the public would benefit by the establishment of additional bank facilities, or (c) on a site in the commonwealth within forty miles from the premises of the main office where, in the opinion of the commissioner, the public would benefit by the establishment of additional bank facilities.

The offices and depots of any bank in any location within the commonwealth consolidated or merged under sections thirty-four, thirty-four A, thirty-four B or thirty-four D of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, sections twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-six A, twenty-six B or twenty-six D of chapter one hundred and seventy, or section thirty-six of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, or all, or substantially all, of the assets and liabilities of which have been acquired and assumed by another bank under section thirty-five of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, sections twenty-four or twenty-six of chapter one hundred and seventy or section thirty-eight of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of such other bank, with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

No bank may be given permission pursuant to this section more than three times in any one calendar year either to acquire and maintain offices of another bank whose main office is located outside of the county wherein the main office of such bank is located, or to establish a branch office outside of the county wherein its main office is located.

With the written consent of the commissioner and under such procedures as he may require, a branch or depot may be closed, or its location may be changed.

Any of the usual business transacted by a bank at its main office may be transacted at a branch office. The business at a depot shall be transacted only on such days as may be designated by the board of investment or board of directors and shall be limited to the receipt of deposits and the collection of moneys due or payable to the bank and such business shall be subject to such other conditions, if any, as may be prescribed by the commissioner.

Section 4. Every application to change the location of the main office or to establish and maintain one or more branch offices or depots shall be accompanied by payment of an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration.

Section 5. No bank may occupy the same office or suite of offices or any office directly connected by doors or other openings in partitions with the office or suite of offices used or occupied by a national banking association or any bank as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or a federal savings and loan association; but this provision shall not be construed as preventing a bank from occupying a portion of the same building with, or holding meetings, referred to in section seven in the same office or suite of offices occupied by any such bank or association. The limitations contained in this paragraph shall not apply to any savings bank occupying the same office or suite of offices or any office so connected, with a co-operative bank, on November first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five, to the extent so occupied.

Section 6. Mobile branch banking may be authorized by the commissioner of banks subject to this chapter in the county wherein the main office of such bank is located under conditions as said commissioner may approve and subject to such regulations as said commissioner may establish.

Section 7. A stock corporation having a total capital stock and surplus account of five million dollars or more or a thrift institution having a surplus account of five million dollars or more may establish and operate one or more branches in foreign countries or dependencies of the United States. Any such action shall require the approval of the commissioner, and shall be under such conditions and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe.

CHAPTER 167D.
DEPOSITS AND ACCOUNTS.

Section 1. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank", a savings bank, co-operative bank or trust company incorporated as such in the commonwealth.

"Board", the board of trustees in a savings bank, the board of directors in a co-operative bank and the board of directors in a trust company.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Federally-chartered bank", a national banking association, savings and loan association or a federal credit union authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 2. Every bank in its banking department shall, subject to any limitations imposed by this chapter, have the following powers and whatever further incidental powers may fairly be implied from those expressly conferred and such as are reasonably necessary to enable it to exercise fully those powers according to common banking customs and usages:

1. To receive demand, time and savings deposits upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the depositors and such corporation; and

2. To receive on deposit, storage or otherwise, money, government securities, stocks, bonds, coin, jewelry, plate, valuable papers and documents, evidences of debt, and other property of any kind, upon terms and conditions to be agreed upon; and to collect and disburse, at the request of the depositor, the interest or income or principal of said property upon terms to be prescribed by such bank.

Section 3. A bank may receive savings deposits subject to the following limitations:

1. Deposits from any person for his own account or for the accounts of one or more distinct estates or trusts; but no such account shall be permitted to exceed one hundred and eighty thousand dollars except by accumulation of interest.

2. Deposits on any joint account, but no such account shall be permitted to exceed three hundred and sixty thousand dollars except by accumulation of interest. Either party to a joint account also may make deposits to his individual account but the deposits to his individual account and in all joint accounts to which he is a party shall not, at any one time, exceed three hundred and sixty thousand dollars, exclusive of interest accumulated thereon. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a savings bank or a co-operative bank may receive time deposits for the account of any person or any one or more estates or trusts and joint time deposits to an aggregate amount which, when added to the aggregate amount on deposit for the account of such person, estate or trust in all other types of deposit accounts, does not exceed six hundred thousand dollars, exclusive in each case of interest accumulated thereon and upon such interest.

Said limitations shall not apply to deposits of the following classes:- deposits by trustees or custodians appointed pursuant to the provisions of Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962 (Public Law 87-792) or pursuant to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-406) or pursuant to the provisions of section 152 of the Revenue Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-600); deposits by trustees for the holders of any bonds issued by the Massachusetts Health and Educational Facilities Authority, pursuant to the provisions of chapter six hundred and fourteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-eight; deposits by trustees for the holders of any bonds issued by the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency, pursuant to the provisions of chapter twenty-three A, or by any industrial development finance authority of any city or town of the commonwealth, pursuant to the provisions of chapter forty D; deposits by the commonwealth or any city, town or county of the commonwealth or by any instrumentality thereof; deposits of the United States or any department, agency or instrumentality thereof; deposits by a religious, charitable or educational corporation or organization, labor union, credit union, or fraternal society; deposits in the name of a judge of probate, or by order of any court; deposits of any trust fund held by a town for public uses; deposits of funds representing replacement reserves or similar accumulations required under the provisions of any mortgage held by such corporation and insured by the federal housing administrator, referred to in paragraph 11 of section thirty-five and in section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven; deposits of the funds of the Savings Banks Employees Retirement Association; deposits in such corporation acquired by any person or persons by inheritance or bequest; deposits of funds of or by a corporation, partnership, association or other business entity; deposits of the funds of any private retirement or pension system or association, provided, however, that the deposit accounts of any one such private system or association shall not, except by the accumulation of interest, be permitted to exceed, at any one time, three hundred thousand dollars or one and one-half per cent of the deposits of such savings bank, whichever is greater; and deposits of funds of any housing authority, referred to in sections three and five of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B; and deposits of any national banking association or trust company for the individual accounts established for all estates and trusts represented by it as trustee, executor, guardian or in any other fiduciary capacity.

Section 4. A bank may receive savings deposits in denominations of one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars in the form of shares as hereinafter described:

1. Serial Shares. - (a) Issue: Serial shares in either denomination may be issued in quarterly, half-yearly or yearly series, in such amounts and at such times as the directors, from time to time, may determine. Shares of a prior series may be sold with the approval of the directors. Purchasers of shares of a prior or current series shall pay therefor their value computed from the date of their issue.

(b) Dues: On or before each bank day every serial shareholder shall pay one dollar as dues upon each serial share held by him until it is withdrawn, forfeited, suspended, retired and matured.

(c) Maturity: Serial shares shall mature when they reach the value of either one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars, depending on which denomination such series is in, by the accumulation of dues, distributed earnings and other credits. When maturity of any shares would occur between distribution dates by the crediting of interest at the last rate of distribution, such interest shall be so credited and such shares thereupon shall mature.

(d) Exchange of Serial Shares: The withdrawal value of the serial shares of a nonborrower who continues in arrears for more than six months, at the option of the directors, if he fails to pay the arrears within thirty days after notice, may be transferred into paid-up shares or into a savings account, or both, or into a suspended share account. In the event of any withdrawal before maturity of interest or dividends paid or credited upon serial shares, the remaining withdrawal value of such shares may, unless withdrawn by the holder, be transferred by the corporation into paid-up shares or into a savings share account, or both.

2. Paid-up Shares. - Paid-up shares may be sold in denominations of either one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars each payable when issued either with or without interest adjusted from the last distribution of profits at a rate fixed by the directors. When serial shares mature they shall be deemed paid-up shares. A passbook or other instrument as evidence of the holder's account may be issued.

No person individually and no two or more persons in a joint account shall hold more than six hundred serial shares in the denomination of one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred serial shares in the denomination of two hundred dollars. Each person so holding shares with one or more other persons also may hold shares individually, but the total amount of shares in a bank held at the same time by such person both individually and with one or more other persons shall exceed in the denomination of one hundred dollars, six hundred serial shares, or in the denominations of two hundred dollars, three hundred serial shares.

Paid-up shares shall be governed by the limitations contained in section three.

Limitations upon individual holdings shall apply to shares held by more than one fiduciary in the same estate and to shares held for each estate where the same person is fiduciary in two or more distinct estates.

For other applicable provisions of law, shares shall be deemed deposits.

Section 5. Any bank or federally-chartered bank may receive deposits in the name of two or more persons as joint tenants, payable to two or more persons or the survivor or survivors of them, and any part or all of the deposits and interest represented by joint accounts may be withdrawn, assigned or transferred in whole or in part by any of the individual parties. Payments to any of the parties to a joint account while all of them are living shall discharge the liability of the corporation to all persons and, in the event of the death of any of them, the corporation shall be liable only to the survivor or survivors and the payment to any of the survivors shall discharge the liability of the corporation to all persons.

Any party to a joint account also may make deposits to an individual account.

The surviving owner or owners of a joint account may maintain the balance of the account in the amount appearing at the time of the decease of a joint owner, and such corporation may allow interest additions and accumulations thereon.

Such deposits or any part thereof, or any dividends thereon, may be paid to any of such persons or to any assignee or pledgee of any of such persons, whether the other such persons be living or not, provided they are not then attached at law or in equity in a suit against any such person, and the bank then has no notice in writing of any assignment or pledge of the account by any of such persons to any person other than the person to whom payment is being made hereunder. All such payments shall be valid.

Section 6. Any bank or federally-chartered bank may receive deposits made by one or two persons in trust for another. The name and residence of the person for whom such deposit is made shall be disclosed and the deposit shall be credited to the depositors as trustees for such person. Payments may be made to the trustee, or if there are two trustees, to both or to either or the survivor. If no other notice of the existence and terms of a trust has been received in writing by the corporation upon the death of the trustee, or if there are two trustees upon the death of both, the amount then on deposit together with the dividends thereon may be paid to the person for whom such deposit was made, or to his legal representative. Withdrawals and payments made in accordance with this section shall fully discharge the liability of the corporation to all persons.

Section 7. Any bank or federally-chartered bank having funds on deposit in the name of a minor may, unless in violation of a written agreement to which such bank or federally-chartered bank is a party, pay the same in whole or in part directly to such minor, to his legal representative, to either parent of such minor or to others on his written order; and any such payments shall discharge the liability of such bank or federally-chartered bank to all persons to the extent of such payment.

Section 8. Any deposits may, if the board of the bank so determines, be received as time deposits. Any such deposits shall be received subject to a written agreement between the bank and the depositor or joint depositors.

For any such deposit with a maturity in excess of thirty days, any such bank shall be required to mail to the depositor a written notification of maturity at least thirty days prior to the date of maturity of said plan or deposit but in no event more than forty-five days prior to said date of maturity of said deposit.

No general requirement of notice of withdrawal or loan under section seventeen shall apply to the withdrawal of such deposits pursuant to a withdrawal notice, if so required, received by a bank before such general requirement was imposed.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any time deposit or of any agreement made pursuant to the authority thereof relative to notice of intent to withdraw funds from such an account, no such requirement of notice shall be applicable after the death of the depositor in such an account to a duly appointed and qualified executor or administrator of the estate of such depositor.

Section 9. Any such bank may contract, on terms to be agreed upon, for club deposits, so-called, which deposits may be made at intervals within any period of twelve months, of sums of money in the aggregate not in excess of the statutory limit on deposits on which deposits interest shall be paid; provided, however, that if interest is not paid on deposits made in Christmas clubs, vacation clubs and tax clubs, so-called, in the same manner and to the same extent that interest is paid on regular savings deposits, a statement to such effect shall be conspicuously printed on the passbook, application or elsewhere as the commissioner shall by regulation determine. A sum thus accumulated, if transferred to any regular form of account within fifteen days after the date on which money ordinarily begins to draw interest or dividends, may, if the depository so provides, draw interest or dividends from such prior date.

Section 10. Any such bank may authorize accounts that would allow withdrawals by negotiable or transferable instruments for the purpose of making transfers to third parties. Such accounts shall be designated as Negotiable Withdrawal Order Accounts. Said accounts shall be subject to the regulations of the commissioner.

No bank shall authorize noninterest bearing savings accounts that would allow withdrawals by negotiable or transferable instruments, for the purpose of making transfers to third parties.

Section 11. In order to encourage savings among school children, any bank may arrange for the collection, by collectors or by the school principal or teachers, of savings from school children of private schools and, with the approval of the school committee of the town or regional district wherein the school is situated, from school children of public schools. To give effect to the purposes of this section any such bank may, in participation and under an agreement in writing with one or more other such banks, all such banks having their main offices in the same town, arrange for such collection in one or more public or private schools in any town in which a participating bank has its main office or a branch office, or in any contiguous or surrounding town in which no other bank or bank branch office is located; subject, however, to the approval of the commissioner and, in the case of public schools, of the commissioner and the school committee of the town or regional district wherein such school or schools are situated. Subject to conditions approved by the commissioner and notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty-seven of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, such participation may be effected through an association or through a corporation established under chapter one hundred and eighty, organized for that purpose by some or all of the participating banks or by persons on their behalf, and any such association or corporation shall be subject to the supervision of the commissioner. Whenever used in this section, the word "assocation" shall mean an association the business of which is conducted or transacted by trustees under a written instrument or declaration of trust.

Section 12. A bank may receive on deposit to any amount, funds in trust for the purposes of setting out shade trees in streets and parks and improving the same, purchasing land for parks or playgrounds and improving the same, maintaining cemeteries or cemetery lots, or erecting and maintaining drinking fountains in public places, subject to the following provisions:

1. Payments. - The dividends arising from such deposits shall be paid at least annually to such town or cemetery authorities as may be designated by the donors of said funds or by the will of the person bequeathing the same, and shall be expended by such authorities within their respective towns or cemeteries for any or all of said purposes as may be specified by such donors or such will. Such deposits and dividends shall be exempt from attachment or levy on execution. No part of the principal of such deposits shall be withdrawn or expended, but nothing in this sentence shall prevent the withdrawal of the principal of or dividends on deposits made by a cemetery corporation under section three, and nothing in this sentence shall prevent the withdrawal by the city or town treasurer of cemetery perpetual care funds deposited by a city or town.

2. Court Order. - A judge of probate, after notice and a hearing, may authorize an executor, administrator or trustee holding money or other personal property for any of the purposes mentioned in this section, to deposit such money, or the avails arising from such personal property, in any such bank designated by the judge, to be held by it in the manner and for such purposes and upon the trusts upon which the executor, administrator or trustee held the same; and upon the deposit of such money and its receipt and acceptance by such bank the executor, administrator or trustee shall be discharged from further care and responsibility therefor.

3. Statement Every Three Years. - The deposits held in accordance with this section shall be known as the "Shade Tree and Cemetery Accounts" and the treasurer of the bank with which they are deposited shall give a receipt therefor to the depositor, and shall send by mail or delivery, in January in each third year after the first deposit, to the mayor of a city or the chairman of the selectmen of a town, a written statement, signed by such treasurer, of the amount of deposits held for any of the purposes aforesaid in the name or for the benefit of such city or town or of any instrumentality thereof. Such statement shall be recorded in the office of the city or town clerk.

4. Transfer of Deposit. - If a bank holding such deposits surrenders its charter or ceases to do business, the supreme judicial court may order said deposits to be transferred and deposited in another such corporation, upon the same trusts, and if the laws authorizing such corporations are repealed, the court may order such deposits to be transferred and deposited in such banking institutions as it may find proper, to be held upon the trusts aforesaid.

Section 13. A bank may receive deposits, under the terms of a written plan approved by the commissioner from any labor union, association, trust, public utility, partnership, corporation, college, university, insurance company, charity, any city, town, county or district of the commonwealth, or by any instrumentality thereof, or individual for the sole purpose of making loans guaranteed in whole or in part by the Massachusetts higher education assistance corporation; provided, however, that no such plan shall discriminate against any applicant otherwise eligible for such a loan; and provided, further, that such deposits shall not exceed twenty per cent of the assets of the bank.

Section 14. A depositor's vouchers may be returned by mailing the same to him, at his last known address, postage prepaid, and such depositor may, when required to notify the bank, give notice in like manner.

Section 15. Without the consent of the commissioner, no bank shall advertise in any manner more than four months prior to the date interest or dividends on deposits or shares will be payable, the rate at which it is anticipated or estimated such interest or dividends will be paid.

Section 16. 1. As used in this section the following words shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Non-federally-insured bank", any bank, except a credit union as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-one, which is subject to supervision by the commissioner, which is not a "member" of a Federal Home Loan Bank as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (12 U.S.C. 1422), and the deposits of which are not insured in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1811-1831);

(b) "Insured nonmember bank", the same meaning that such term has in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act;

(c) "Member", the same meaning that such term has in the Federal Home Loan Bank Act;

(d) "Insured institution", the same meaning that such term has in section 401 (a) of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1724 (a));

(e) "Deposits", time and savings deposits, shares and withdrawable accounts; and

(f) "Affiliate", the same meaning that such term has in section 2 (b) of the Banking Act of 1933 (12 U.S.C. 221a), except that the term "member bank", as used in said section 2(b), shall be deemed to refer to a non-federally-insured bank.

2. The advertising and payment of interest or dividends on deposits, including time and savings deposits, shares or withdrawable accounts, shall be subject to regulation by the commissioner as herein provided. Said commissioner may, from time to time, prescribe rules and regulations governing the payment and advertisement of interest on deposits, including limitations on the rates of interest or dividends that may be paid on deposits, by all non-federally-insured banks. Said commissioner may prescribe different rate limitations for different classes of deposits, for deposits of different amounts or with different maturities or subject to different conditions regarding withdrawal or repayment, according to the nature or location of such non-federally-insured banks or their depositors, or according to such other reasonable bases as the commissioner may deem desirable in the public interest. The commissioner is authorized, for the purposes of this section to define the terms "time deposits" and "savings deposits", to determine what shall be deemed a payment of interest and to prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section and to prevent evasions thereof. Such regulations shall prohibit any non-federally-insured bank from paying any time deposit before its maturity except upon such conditions and in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner and from waiving any requirement of notice before payment of any savings deposit except as to all savings deposits having the same requirement. The provisions of this section and of regulations hereunder shall also apply, in the discretion of the commissioner, to obligations other than deposits that are undertaken by non-federally-insured banks or their affiliates for the purpose of obtaining funds to be used in the banking business. The commissioner shall also have any such authority with respect to non-federally-insured banks as the board of directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation now has or may in the future have with respect to insured non-member banks pursuant to Section 18 (g) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1828 (g)) and as the Federal Home Loan Bank Board now has or may in the future have with respect to members and insured institutions pursuant to Section 5B of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (12 U.S.C. 1425b). Any authority conferred on the commissioner by this section with respect to non-federally-insured banks shall be effective only during such time as the board of directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation shall have comparable authority with respect to insured nonmember banks or as the Federal Home Loan Bank board shall have comparable authority with respect to members and insured institutions.

3. (a) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any bank is engaged or has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice which constitutes or will constitute a violation of the provisions of this section or of any regulation hereunder, the commissioner may, in his discretion, bring an action in the superior court for the county in which the principal office of such bank or association is located to enjoin such act or practice, to enforce compliance with this section or any regulation prescribed hereunder or for a combination of the foregoing, and such court shall have jurisdiction of such action, and, upon a proper showing, an injunction, restraining order or other appropriate order may be granted without bond.

(b) In addition to any other penalty provided by this or any other law, any institution, subject to this section, which violates a rule promulgated pursuant to this section shall be subject to such civil penalties, which shall not exceed one hundred dollars for each violation, as may be prescribed by the commissioner by regulation, and such regulation may provide, with respect to any or all such violations, that each day on which the violation continues shall constitute a separate violation. The commissioner may recover any such civil penalty for his own use, through action or otherwise, including recovery thereof in any other action or proceeding under this section. The commissioner may, at any time before collection of any such penalty, whether before or after the bringing of an action or other legal proceeding, the obtaining of any judgment or other recovery or the issuance or levy of any execution or other legal process therefor, and with or without consideration, compromise, remit or mitigate in whole or in part any such penalty of any such recovery.

4. Any regulation made by the commissioner pursuant to the authority conferred by this section shall be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A, except that the commissioner may from time to time change the maximum rate of interest or dividends on deposits without holding a public hearing by publishing in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the commonwealth selected by the commissioner, and delivering to any banks subject to such maximum rate, a notice which states the substance of the proposed maximum rate limitation and fixes an effective date for such limitation not earlier than thirty days after the date of publishing or delivering such notice.

Section 17. The savings deposits in any bank may be withdrawn at such time and in such manner as the by-laws direct, but the treasurer or other authorized officer of such bank may, at any time, require a depositor to give a written notice, not exceeding ninety days, of his intention to withdraw the whole or any part of his savings deposit or to apply for a loan secured by a deposit. Whenever said notice is required from ten or more depositors on any one day, such corporation shall be deemed to have made a general requirement and shall file with the commissioner, within forty-eight hours thereafter, a written notice thereof. Until such general requirement has been removed and notice thereof filed with the commissioner, no payment by way of withdrawal or loan shall be made to any such depositor on account of his deposit, except that, with the approval of the commissioner, such sum or sums not exceeding, in the aggregate, an amount fixed by the board may be so paid to each such depositor.

Whenever in the judgment of the board there is an unusual demand by such depositors for withdrawals the bank may, with the approval of the commissioner, and whenever in the opinion of the commissioner there is such an unusual demand the corporation shall upon his order, require such a depositor to give written notice of his intention to withdraw the whole or any part of his deposits or to apply for a loan secured by a deposit, such notice to be for such period not exceeding six months, as may be determined by the commissioner, which period may, in his discretion, be extended but not beyond one year from the date of notice, and until such a requirement has been revoked by the commissioner, the foregoing limitations as to payments by way of withdrawal or loan applicable in case of a general requirement as aforesaid shall apply.

Such bank shall not advertise for deposits in newspapers, by posters or other written solicitation, while any requirement of notice of intention to withdraw is in effect, unless the advertisement shall contain, in type not smaller than the largest type thereof, a statement that such deposits may not be paid out, by way of withdrawal or loan, except in accordance with the terms of the requirement, which terms shall be set forth in such statement.

Section 18. Any agreement between a depositor or certificate holder and any bank which exculpates such bank when a deposit account, or any part thereof, is paid by such bank to a person unlawfully presenting a passbook, certificate or other evidence of such account is hereby declared to be contrary to public policy and void.

Section 19. When a passbook issued by any bank has been lost, stolen or destroyed, the person in whose name it was issued, or in the case of a joint account, by the joint owners thereof may make written application to such bank for payment of the amount of the deposit represented by said book or for issuance of a duplicate book therefor. The application shall include an affidavit signed and sworn to that the person, or persons, making such application is a lawful owner, or are the lawful owners, of said passbook, that said passbook has been lost, stolen or destroyed, and that no lawful owner has, in any way, transferred, pledged or assigned said passbook or any interest in the deposits therein. The application shall further include an agreement, in writing, to indemnify the bank from and against any and all claims, expenses and liabilities in any way resulting from the bank's action on the application by the payment of amounts due on said passbook or by the issuance of a duplicate book therefor. All signatures contained within such application shall be duly notarized. Upon receipt of such application, the bank may pay the amount due on said passbook or may issue a duplicate book therefor. The provisions of this section shall apply to certificates of deposit, and to passbooks and certificates hereinabove referred to issued by a bank which subsequently merged in, consolidated with or transferred its deposit liabilities to another bank.

When payment is made or a duplicate book is issued in accordance with this section and after presentation of reasonable identification, a bank shall not be liable to any person on account of its action on the application, payments of the amount due on said passbook or issuance of a duplicate book therefor, except that a bank may be liable to a transferee, pledgee or assignee who, prior to such action, payment or issuance, has given the bank written notice of the transfer, pledge or assignment.

Section 20. Whenever a bank as a consequence of a default of a debt owed to said bank by a depositor or shareholder, makes a transfer of funds of such depositor or shareholder to reduce or extinguish said debt, such depositor or shareholder shall be notified forthwith of such transfer by written notice sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, directed to his last known address; provided, however, that no such transfer shall be made if such debt is the result of consumer credit granted under the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty D unless the written notice required by section twenty-three of said chapter one hundred and forty D has been given. A depositor or shareholder to whom such notice has not been sent shall be entitled to recover the amount of any actual damages.

Section 21. A person indebted to a bank may, when proceeded against for the collection of such indebtedness or for the enforcement of any security therefor, set off or recoup the amount of a deposit in such bank held and owned by him at the time of the commencement of such proceeding; provided, however, that if a proceeding in equity has been commenced to restrain the bank from doing its actual business, or if possession of such bank has been taken over by the commissioner as provided in section twenty-two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or as otherwise provided by law, no deposit shall be so set off or recouped by any such person unless held and owned by him on the date of the commencement of such proceeding or of possession so taken, and the right of set off or recoupment shall be determined as of such date whether the indebtedness of the depositor, or the deposit, is then due or payable or becomes due or payable at a later date. Any indebtedness against which a deposit is permitted to be set off or recouped as aforesaid may be secured or unsecured. Section three of chapter two hundred and thirty-two shall not apply to a set off hereunder, except that any party to a joint account may, upon presentation of the deposit book, set off the joint deposit against his individual debt to such corporation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a judgment shall not be rendered against such bank in favor of the defendant for any balance found due from it if a proceeding in equity has been commenced against the bank or possession thereof has been taken as aforesaid. The word "deposit", as used in this section, shall include interest due thereon.

Section 22. No bank shall give collateral or other security for a deposit of money received in its banking department, except that such corporation may make such a deposit of securities as may be required by the laws of the United States or the rules and regulations of any department, agency or instrumentality thereof as security for deposits of funds made with such bank and may give such collateral or other security for deposits of public or other funds as may be required by any public authority making such deposits or controlling the terms upon which they may be made and except as provided in section eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven G.

Section 22A. A bank may act as a depository of funds of the United States or any department, agency or instrumentality thereof, and in connection therewith and in accordance with applicable federal law, rules and regulations, may satisfy any requirement, including, without limitation, the pledging of collateral, and enter into such arrangements necessary or incidental to the receipt and administration of such deposit accounts.

Section 23. Any bank may cause any stock or security in registered form held for its account and not in a fiduciary capacity to be registered and held in the name of a partnership or corporate nominee named by it and residing or having a principal place of business in the commonwealth; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed as to permit any bank to deliver any security held for its account into the possession and control of any other person except in accordance with the regulations of the commissioner pursuant to section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven. A depository having possession of securities of a bank registered as authorized by this section shall maintain adequate records indicating the ownership thereof, shall segregate the same from his or its own assets and shall be absolutely liable for any loss occasioned by the acts of a nominee.

Section 24. If, in an action against a bank for money on deposit therewith, it appears that the same fund is claimed by another party than the plaintiff, whether by the husband or wife of the plaintiff, or otherwise, the court in which such action is pending, on the petition of the corporation and on such notice to the plaintiff and to such claimants as the court considers proper, may order the proceedings to be amended by making such claimants defendants thereto, and thereupon the rights and interests of the several parties in and to said funds shall be heard and determined. Such deposits may remain with the bank until final judgment and shall be paid as the court orders, or may be paid into court to await final judgment, and when so paid into court, the action shall be discontinued as to such bank and its liability for such deposit shall cease. The taxable costs of the bank in such actions shall be in the discretion of the court and may be charged upon the fund.

Section 25. Subject to section twenty-eight of chapter two hundred and six, the probate court, court of insolvency or other court, respectively, shall, upon the application of a person interested or of the attorney general, and after public notice, order and decree that all amounts of money deposited with a bank by authority of any of said courts or of any judge thereof, and which shall have remained unclaimed for more than twenty years from the date of such deposit shall be paid, together with the interest accumulated thereon, to the state treasurer, to be held and used by him according to law, subject to be repaid to the person having and establishing a lawful right thereto, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum from the time when it is so paid to said treasurer to the time when it is paid over by him to such person, as hereinafter provided in this section. The registers and the clerks of said courts shall, annually, submit to the attorney general a list of all said deposits over twenty years old, setting forth the docket numbers, the names of the estates, depositors, depositories, the bank book numbers and the balances.

Any person claiming a right to money deposited with the state treasurer under this section pursuant to a decree of a probate court or a court of insolvency in any county may establish the same by a petition to the probate court of such county, or if so deposited, pursuant to the order of any other court, by a petition to the superior court under section one of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight; provided, however, that in cases where claims amount to less than fifty dollars each, such claims may be presented to the comptroller of the commonwealth who shall examine the same and allow and certify for payment such as may be proved to his satisfaction.

Section 26. The supreme judicial court or any justice thereof sitting in equity may, on petition of a bank or the board of the bank, approved by the commissioner, approve or order a reduction of the deposit account of each depositor therein whenever the value of its assets is less than the total amount of its deposits so as to divide the loss equitably among said depositors. If thereafter the bank shall realize from said assets a greater sum than was fixed by said order of reduction, such excess shall be divided among the depositors whose accounts have been reduced, but to the extent of such reduction only; provided, however, that at any time after the entry of a decree approving or ordering such a reduction of deposit accounts, said court or any justice thereof may, by order, finally determine the amount which said depositors are equitably entitled to receive in full settlement of their said deposit accounts and the manner of distribution of said amount.

Section 27. Any bank or federally-chartered bank which accepts deposits for demand deposit accounts or negotiable withdrawal order accounts shall, if requested by the depositor, return the cancelled negotiable or transferable instruments of such accounts and shall not charge a fee for such return and any such cancelled instrument becomes lost prior to such return the bank shall provide, without charge, photostats of such instruments.

Section 28. Any advertisement, within the commonwealth, in a language other than English made by a bank, or federally-chartered bank to aid, promote or assist directly or indirectly any deposit account offered by such bank or federally-chartered bank shall state in such other language what language the forms associated with the opening and maintenance of such account are in.

For the purposes of this section, "advertisement" shall mean any commercial message in any newspaper, magazine, leaflet, flyer or catalog, on radio, television or public address system, in direct mail literature or other printed material, on any interior or exterior sign or display, in any window display, in any point-of-transaction literature or price tag which is delivered or made available to a customer or prospective customer in any manner whatsoever.

Section 29. A city, state, county or municipal treasurer or other official or private employer who receives a written request from a pensioner or retiree, shall, at the direction of said pensioner or retiree, forward any payment made under a pension or retirement fund or plan to a bank or federally-chartered bank that shall be designated by said pensioner or retiree. Such payment shall be deposited, with the approval of said pensioner or retiree in his savings or checking account. Such bank shall notify promptly the pensioner or retiree of any deposit made pursuant to this section.

Section 30. Any designation of any beneficiary in connection with and as provided by an instrument intended to establish a pension, profit-sharing, or other deferred compensation or retirement plan, trust or custodial account described in one or more of the following sections of the Internal Revenue Code of the United States, as amended and in effect from time to time, shall be effective according to its terms, notwithstanding any purported testamentary disposition allowed by statute, by operation of law or otherwise to the contrary; section four hundred and one (a), section four hundred and one (f), section four hundred and three (b) (7), section four hundred and five (a), section four hundred and eight (a), and section four hundred and eight (h). Nothing in this section is intended to limit, by implication or otherwise, any nonstatutory right of an employee to designate one or more beneficiaries of the employee's interest under any retirement plan not described in this section or under any other employee benefit plan.

Section 31. No bank, federally-chartered bank or other corporation doing a banking business in the commonwealth, in this section called the depository, shall be required to recognize an adverse claim to a deposit standing on his or its books to the credit of or to securities held for the account of any person, except by virtue of the service upon him or it of appropriate process issued by a court of competent jurisdiction in a suit or action to which such person, or his executors or administrators, has been made a party, unless the adverse claimant gives bond satisfactory to the depository and the adverse claimant to hold harmless and indemnify it from any liability, loss, damage, costs and expenses whatsoever on account of such adverse claim, or files with the depository an affidavit setting forth facts showing a reasonable cause for belief that a fiduciary relationship exists between such person and said adverse claimant and that such person is about to misappropriate the deposit or securities in question.

Section 32. Any bank or federally-chartered bank may establish an account to receive deposits from a lessor acting as a trustee for funds received and held by such trustee pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of section fifteen B of chapter one hundred and eighty-six. Such account may be established as required by said section fifteen B for the purpose of holding security deposits taken by a lessor of residential dwelling units owned or managed by said lessor, but the terms of said account shall be such as to place said deposit beyond the claim of a creditor of the lessor, including a foreclosing mortgagee or trustee in bankruptcy, and as will provide for the transfer of said deposit to a subsequent owner of any property for which such security deposit was taken. Interest accruing on said deposit shall be paid to the lessor pursuant to the terms of the deposit. Withdrawals and payments made by the bank from said account shall discharge the liability of said bank to all persons.

Section 33. Savings, checking or other deposit account deposits standing in the individual name of a deceased depositor of a bank or federally-chartered bank shall be paid to his legal representative; provided, however, that if the deposit does not exceed three thousand dollars and there has been no demand for payment by a duly appointed executor or administrator, payment may be made, in the discretion of the treasurer or other duly authorized officer of the corporation, or pursuant to special vote of its board, after the expiration of thirty days from the death of such depositor, to the surviving husband, wife or next of kin of such deceased, upon presentation of a copy of the death certificate and the surrender of the deposit book or other instrument, if any, evidencing the deposit. Any such corporation may pay an order, drawn by a person who has funds on deposit to meet the same, notwithstanding the death of the drawer, if presentation is made within thirty days after the date of such order, and at any time if the corporation has not received written notice of the death of the drawer; provided, however, that in either event, that such funds would, on the date of such payment, have been subject to withdrawal by the drawer if living. Payments made under authority of any provision of this section shall discharge the liability of the corporation to all persons to the extent of such payments.

CHAPTER 167E.
MORTGAGES AND LOANS.

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank" or "such bank", a savings bank, co-operative bank, or trust company subject to the supervision of the commissioner of banks.

"Board of investment" or "board", those trustees of a bank which shall approve all loans made or acquired by the bank as provided for in section twelve of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight.

"Capital stock", the sum of the par value of the preferred and common shares of capital stock, issued and outstanding.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Committee", the security committee as set forth in section nine of chapter one hundred and seventy, or the executive committee as provided for in section thirteen of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, having authority to approve all loans made or acquired by the bank.

"Cooperative bank mortgage", a loan represented by a note secured by a mortgage upon real estate and a pledge of a share of the bank for each two hundred dollars loaned.

"Stock corporation", a savings bank or a co-operative bank which has converted to a stockholder form of corporation or a trust company as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-two.

"Surplus account", an account so designated on the books of a bank and consisting of such amounts as shall be required by law or shall be transferred thereto by vote of the board of directors or board of trustees.

"Thrift institution", a savings bank as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-eight or a co-operative bank as defined in chapter one hundred and seventy except as herein provided.

Section 1A. Every bank, in its banking department, shall, subject to any limitations imposed by this chapter, have the following powers:

1. To discount, buy, invest in, hold, assign, transfer, sell and negotiate promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange, mortgages, trade acceptances, banker's acceptances, bonds, debentures, bonds or notes secured by mortgages, installment obligations, accounts receivable, balances due on conditional sales and other evidences of debt for its own account or for the account of customers; and

2. To advance money or credits on real estate or on personal security, on terms to be agreed upon.

A loan secured by real estate shall be deemed to include a loan on a leasehold under a lease which does not expire for at least ten years beyond the maturity date of the loan, subject to such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe.

Section 2. A. Any such bank may make, acquire by purchase, participate in or service first mortgage real estate loans of the following classes:

(1) a mortgage loan on improved farmland, located within the commonwealth or within a radius of fifty miles of its principal office without regard to geographical location, not exceeding fifty per cent of its appraised value and payable in or within three years from the date of the note, or acquisition, except that, when, by its terms, the note requires repayment of not less than two per cent of the principal each year, the loan may be payable in or within five years from the date of the note or the acquisition thereof;

(2) a mortgage loan on improved real estate, located in the United States, not exceeding fifty per cent of its appraised value and payable in or within five years from the date of the note, mortgage or other such instrument or the acquisition thereof;

(3) a mortgage loan on improved real estate, located within the commonwealth or within a radius of fifty miles of the principal office of such corporation without regard to geographical location, not exceeding sixty per cent of its appraised value and payable in or within three years from the date of the note or the acquisition thereof, except that when, by its terms, the note requires repayment of not less than two per cent of the principal each year, the loan may be payable in or within five years from the date of the note or the acquisition thereof;

(4) a mortgage loan on improved real estate, located in the United States, not exceeding eighty per cent of its appraised value, or a mortgage loan on a leasehold interest created pursuant to chapter three hundred and fifty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-two, not exceeding eighty per cent of the value of such leasehold interest; provided, however, that the terms of the note, mortgage or other such instrument shall require payments in periodic installments, at intervals not exceeding three months, sufficient to amortize at least forty per cent of the principal in or within ten years or in periodic installments, at intervals not exceeding three months, sufficient to fully amortize the principal in or within twenty-five years from the date of the note, mortgage or other such instrument or the acquisition thereof; and

(5) a mortgage loan on real estate, located in the United States, when the note has been endorsed for instance, or a commitment to so insure has been given, by the Federal Housing Administrator or is guaranteed in whole or in part by the United States under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944.

Loans insured by the Federal Housing Authority shall also be subject to the provisions of section seven.

B. Any such bank may make or acquire first mortgage loans of the several classes specified in paragraphs 1 to 19, inclusive, of this subsection, on real estate mortgaged or to be mortgaged, and, in the case of loans of the class specified in paragraph 5, on leasehold interests created pursuant to chapter three hundred and fifty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-two, as amended, in air rights over land owned or held by the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, or on leasehold interests created pursuant to section twenty-two E of chapter forty, in air rights over land owned or held by a city or town, mortgaged or to be mortgaged, subject in each instance to the limitations applicable to the particular class, except that periodic payments provided by a mortgage of any class may be less for the first year of the term than for the remainder thereof.

Such first mortgages shall be on real estate located in the commonwealth or in a city or town of a state contiguous to the commonwealth, provided, however, that such city or town is not more than fifty miles from the town in which the main office of such bank is located as determined by the distance between the two nearest points of separation.

Each such loan shall be evidenced by a note secured by a first mortgage which shall be a first lien on the real estate so loaned upon, except for municipal liens and for mortgages or other liens held by the bank, and subject to participating interests in the case of a participation mortgage loan under paragraph 12, but nothing in this paragraph shall prevent such bank from making an agreement with a lessee of the mortgaged property for uninterrupted possession thereof by the lessee in the event of foreclosure of the mortgage so long as the lessee shall comply with the terms of such lease.

1. Forty Per Cent of Value. - A mortgage loan on unimproved or unproductive real estate, not exceeding forty per cent of its value, payable on demand or not more than three years from the date of the note.

2. Seventy Per Cent of Value, Unamortized. - A mortgage loan not exceeding seventy per cent of the value of the real estate, payable on demand or not more than three years from the date of the note.

3. Common Form Mortgage Loans. - Each loan hereunder shall be for an amount not in excess of eighty per cent of the value of the real estate securing the loan and for a term not in excess of three years; provided, however, that during such time as the principal balance is in excess of seventy-five per cent of such value, amortization shall be required at an annual rate of not less than two per cent of the original amount of the loan.

4. Sixty Per Cent of Value, Amortized. - A mortgage loan not exceeding sixty per cent of the value of the real estate, payable not more than thirty years from the date of the note; provided, however, that the terms of the note or mortgage shall require payments on the loan to be made in periodic installments, at intervals not exceeding three months, in amounts aggregating annually not less than two per cent of the original amount of the loan.

5. Eighty Per Cent of Value. - A mortgage loan not exceeding eighty per cent of the value of real estate, or, in the case of a mortgage loan on a leasehold interest created pursuant to section twenty-two E of chapter forty, or chapter three hundred and fifty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-two, seventy per cent of the value of such leasehold interest, payable not more than thirty-five years from the date of the note; provided, however, that in the event a mortgage loan is proposed wherein the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency agrees to insure that portion of the loan exceeding eighty per cent of the value of the real estate, a mortgage loan may be made under this paragraph for eighty per cent of the value of the real estate plus that portion over eighty per cent so insured, but no such loan shall be made for more than ninety per cent of the value of the real estate, even if insured by said agency. The terms of the note or mortgage shall require payments on the loan to be made in periodic installments, at least quarterly, in an amount aggregating annually not less than three per cent of the original amount of the loan, except that the minimum annual principal payment may be less than three per cent of the original amount of the loan if the terms of the note or mortgage shall require periodic payments, at least quarterly, in such amounts as will enable complete amortization over a period equal to the maximum term authorized by this paragraph, which periodic payments shall be equal in amount or shall be in accordance with a schedule under which the earlier of such payments shall be greater than the later and such periodic payments shall be applied first to interest and the balance to principal and the interest on the loan shall be computed on the unpaid balance monthly or at such other time as the periodic payment is required. The note or mortgage also shall require payment, at least quarterly, of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessment on the mortgaged real estate if the amount of the loan exceeds seventy per cent of the value of the real estate. No loan of this class shall be made or acquired for a sum in excess of one and one-quarter per cent of the deposits of such corporation or fifty thousand dollars, whichever is the greater.

6. Ninety Per Cent of Value. - A mortgage loan not exceeding ninety per cent of the value of the real estate, payable not more than thirty-five years from the date of the note; provided, however, that the loan shall be secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a dwelling designed to be occupied by not more than four families and occupied or to be occupied in whole or in part by the mortgagor; provided, further, that the terms of the note or mortgage shall require monthly payments in such amounts that the aggregate principal reduction at any time during the term of the loan shall be not less than that which would be required in the case of a note of like amount and interest rate providing for complete amortization by equal monthly payments over a period of thirty-five years; and provided, further, that construction of the dwelling on the mortgaged property shall be completed prior to the making of any disbursement on the loan in excess of eighty per cent of the value of the real estate, that the mortgagor shall furnish to the board of investment or the committee an affidavit that the mortgagor does not require junior financing and that the board or the committee shall certify, in writing, that the dwelling has a useful life beyond the term said loan has to run. Each such monthly payment shall be applied first to interest and the balance to principal. Interest upon such loan shall be computed monthly on the unpaid balance. The note or mortgage also shall require payment each month of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessment on the mortgaged real estate. The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

7. Ninety-Five Per Cent of Value. - A mortgage loan not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the value of the real estate, payable not more than thirty-five years from the date of the note; provided, however, that the loan shall be secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a dwelling designed to be occupied by not more than four families and occupied or to be occupied in whole or in part by the mortgagor; and provided, further, that the terms of the note or mortgage shall require monthly payments in such amounts that the aggregate principal reduction at any time during the term of the loan shall be not less than that which would be required in the case of a note of like amount and interest rate providing for complete amortization by equal monthly payments over a period of thirty-five years; and provided, further, that construction of the dwelling on the mortgaged property shall be completed prior to the making of any disbursement on the loan in excess of eighty per cent of the value of the real estate, that the mortgage shall furnish to the board of investment or the committee an affidavit that the mortgagor does not require junior financing and that the board or the committee shall certify, in writing, that the dwelling has a useful life beyond the term said loan has to run; and provided, further, that that portion of the unpaid balance of the loan which exceeds eighty per cent of the value of the real estate shall be guaranteed or insured by a mortgage insurance company which has been determined to be a "qualified private insurer" by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, (Public Law 91-351), or has been approved by the commissioner as qualified to insure loans of this class, and which is authorized to transact business in the commonwealth. Each such monthly payment shall be applied first to interest and the balance to principal.

Interest upon such loan shall be computed monthly on the unpaid balance. The note or mortgage also shall require payment each month of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessment on the mortgaged real estate. The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

8. Statutory Co-operative Bank Mortgage Loans. - Any bank which issues serial shares may make a loan as defined in section twenty-two of chapter one hundred and eighty-three. The loan shall be accompanied by a transfer and pledge of at least one serial share for each two hundred dollars loaned. The terms of the note and mortgage shall include reference to the number of shares pledged, the series to which they belong, and the monthly payments and other payments to be made. Such loans shall also be subject, where applicable, to the provisions and limitations of this chapter and sections twenty-two, twenty-three, and twenty-four of said chapter one hundred and eighty-three.

9. Graduate Payment Mortgage. - A mortgage loan not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the value of the real estate or in excess of ninety-five per cent of the value of the real estate, but in no event more than one hundred per cent of the value of the real estate if such excess is secured by a deposit account assigned or pledged to the bank to be used to supplement the monthly payments, payable not more than thirty-five years from the date of the note; provided, however, that the loan shall be secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a dwelling designed to be occupied by not more than four families and occupied or to be occupied in whole or in part by the mortgagor; provided, further, that the terms of the note or mortgage shall require monthly principal and interest payments which increase not more than seven and one-half per cent annually for a graduation period of five or fewer years or not more than three per cent annually for a graduation period of ten or fewer years; and subsequently in such amounts that the aggregate principal reduction at any time during the remaining term of the loan shall not be less than that which would be required in the case of a note of like amount and interest rate providing for complete amortization by equal monthly payments over the remaining period of the loan; and provided, further, that construction of the dwelling on the mortgaged property shall be completed prior to the making of any disbursement on the loan in excess of eighty per cent of the value of the real estate, that the mortgagor shall furnish to the committee or board of investment an affidavit that the mortgagor does not require junior financing, that the board of investment or committee shall certify in writing that the dwelling has a useful life beyond the term said loan has to run; and provided, further, that the portion of the unpaid balance of the loan which exceeds eighty per cent of the value of the acceptable collateral shall be guaranteed or insured by the Federal Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration, or a mortgage insurance company which has been determined to be a "qualified private insurer" by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, (Public Law 91-351), or has been approved by the commissioner as qualified to insure loans of this class, and which is authorized to transact business in the commonwealth. Interest upon such loan shall be computed monthly on the unpaid balance. The note or mortgage shall also require payment each month of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessment of the mortgaged real estate. The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner. No loan of this class shall allow the payment amount to be changed more than once a year and any such change shall not occur less than one year after the first regular loan payment.

The interest capitalization resulting from any negative amortization of any such loan shall be considered to have been contracted for at the time such loan was made.

The mortgagor shall have the right to convert, at a time chosen by him, to a conventional mortgage as defined by the commissioner, provided that said mortgagor is eligible for such mortgage.

Each prospective mortgagor, offered a graduated payment mortgage, shall also be offered a more conventional mortgage as defined by the commissioner and shall receive materials explaining in simple terms the nature and conditions of the graduated payment mortgage. Such materials shall include: (1) a side-by-side comparison of differing interest rates and other terms, (2) payment schedules for both types of mortgages, to the extent they are known, (3) a description of the conversion option, and (4) a statement, prominently displayed, that an applicant has the option to elect a more conventional instrument.

10. Variable Rate Mortgage. - Any bank may make or acquire mortgage loans of the several classes or types specified in this chapter evidenced by a note which provides for variation in the rate of interest over the term of the note; provided, however, that such a loan secured by a first lien on a dwelling house of four or fewer separate households occupied or to be occupied in whole or in part by the mortgagor shall be subject to but not limited to the following conditions and restrictions imposed by the commissioner:

(1) the method by which the rate of interest may be adjusted;

(2) the frequency with which the rate of interest may be adjusted, provided that successive rate adjustments shall be no less than six months apart;

(3) the maximum increase in the rate of interest allowed for any such adjustment;

(4) provisions for decreases in the rate of interest as may be warranted by market conditions;

(5) requirements for advance notification and explanation of adjustments in the rate of interest, provided that such notification and explanation shall occur no less than thirty days prior to such adjustments; and

(6) methods of disclosure to the mortgagor of the terms and conditions of the loan as required under the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty D.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may by further conditions and restrictions provide that the rate of amortization may be varied, including utilizing a period of negative amortization, in order to adjust the rate of interest.

11. Residential Development Loans. - A mortgage loan upon two or more parcels of real estate contained within a single project being developed by one owner, for the purpose of financing the construction of a dwelling and appurtenances designed to be occupied by not more than four families upon each such parcel. Such mortgage loan shall not exceed seventy-five per cent of the aggregate estimated completed value of the parcels of land and structures thereon securing the mortgage, or one hundred thousand dollars with respect to each such parcel and structures thereon, whichever amount is the lesser. Each mortgage loan of this class shall be payable not more than three years from the date of the note.

Not later than thirty days after such mortgage loan becomes payable, at least two members of the board of investment or committee shall certify, in writing, according to their best judgment or as determined by them upon the opinion of an appraiser approved by said board or committee, the aggregate value of the parcels of land and structures thereon then remaining subject to the mortgage. If at that time the unpaid balance of principal on said mortgage exceeds sixty per cent of the value so certified, a sufficient reduction shall be required, as promptly as may be practicable, to reduce said balance to sixty per cent of such value and, until so reduced, an amount equal to the unpaid amount of the required reduction shall be established and maintained by such bank as a reserve for loss against such amount. No mortgage loan of this class shall be made or acquired for an amount in excess of one per cent of the deposits of such bank or fifty thousand dollars, whichever is the greater. The aggregate balance of principal, outstanding at any one time, on mortgage loans of this class shall not exceed four per cent of the deposits of such bank.

12. Participation Loans. - Any such bank may, in participation with one or more other such banks, or with one or more domestic insurance companies authorized to transact life insurance, national banking associations, savings and loan associations, or with one or more other banks or life insurance companies subject to supervision by an agency of any other state, if such institutions are authorized so to do, make or acquire mortgage loans of the classes referred to in paragraphs 1 to 7, inclusive, of this subsection; provided, however, that with respect to paragraph 6, at least that portion of the unpaid balance of the loan which exceeds eighty per cent of the value of the real estate is insured or guaranteed.

The participating corporations shall enter into a written agreement, for themselves, their successors and assigns, which shall include provisions for the custody of the note and mortgage in the commonwealth and for the servicing and foreclosure thereof. The aggregate balance of principal of such participations not insured by the Federal Housing Administrator, outstanding at any one time, shall not exceed twenty per cent of the total deposits of such bank.

13. Construction Loans. - Any such bank may make construction mortgage loans with respect to any of the classes of mortgage loans authorized by this chapter, or by any other provision of general or special law applicable to banks; provided, however, that any payments required on account of principal shall commence not later than two years from the date of the mortgage note.

Loans made to finance the construction of industrial or commercial buildings shall be governed, where applicable, to section four.

14. Loans Outside the Commonwealth. - Any such bank, subject to regulations made by the commissioner, may make or acquire mortgage loans (a) on real estate located outside of the commonwealth, on which the notes have been endorsed for insurance by the Federal Housing Administrator, or combined with secondary mortgages guaranteed in full by the United States of America under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of nineteen hundred and forty-four, (b) on real estate located outside of the commonwealth, on which the notes have been guaranteed in part by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs as provided by chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and fortyfive, and (c), on real estate located outside of its lending area as defined in this subsection, which loans are of the several classes specified in paragraphs 1 to 12, inclusive, of this subsection.

The aggregate balance of principal, outstanding at any one time, in mortgage loans authorized by this paragraph shall not exceed the total of the aggregate book value of loans secured by mortgages on real estate located in the commonwealth within fifty miles from the town in which the main office of such bank is located or twenty-seven and one-half per cent of the deposits of such bank, whichever is the lesser; provided, however, that not more than ten per cent of the deposits of such bank shall be invested in mortgage loans authorized by clause (c); and, provided, further, that no investment shall be made under this paragraph if, at such time, such bank is refusing to allow, receive or consider applications regarding mortgage loans on real estate located within the commonwealth, except that this prohibition shall not be deemed to affect any investment which such bank has entered into by a written commitment, but only to the extent of such commitment.

Such mortgage loans may be made or acquired notwithstanding the restrictions contained in this subsection and section seven.

15. Other Insured or Guaranteed Loans. - Any such bank may make or acquire mortgage loans and real estate located within its lending area, as defined in this subsection, which mortgage loan or note is insured, or committed to be insured, by the secretary of housing and urban development or his designee under the provisions of the Housing and Community Development Act, 12 USC 1715z-10. Such loans may be made or acquired notwithstanding the provisions of section seven.

16. Housing Projects. - Subject to such regulations as the commissioner deems necessary or advisable if requested to issue regulations hereunder by one or more banks, any such bank, either alone or in conjunction with one or more such banks, may exercise the powers relative to housing projects granted to domestic life insurance companies by section sixty-six A of chapter one hundred and seventy-five; provided, however, that the aggregate balance of principal outstanding at any one time in investments of this class shall not exceed three per cent of the deposits of such bank.

17. Any such bank may make, hold or acquire mortgage loans on real estate, regardless of location, relative to armed services housing accommodations as are guaranteed by the secretary of defense or his designee, pursuant to the provisions of Title VII of the National Housing Act, as heretofore or hereafter amended.

18. Notwithstanding the limitation contained in paragraph 5 of this subsection and in paragraph 4 of subsection A, any bank make make or acquire a first mortgage loan not exceeding eighty per cent of the value of a leasehold interest created pursuant to section twenty-two E of chapter forty or chapter three hundred and fifty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-two, if such leasehold interest is occupied, or to be occupied by a nursing home, extended care facility or convalescent home, licensed under chapter one hundred and eleven.

19. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a bank may, subject to such regulations as the commissioner deems advisable, make and acquire, or participate with any other such bank or with a national banking association or savings and loan association in making and acquiring loans secured by first mortgages on units of a condominium, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A or loans secured by security interests in shares of stock issued by a co-operative housing corporation, established under the provisions of chapters one hundred and fifty-six, one hundred and fifty-six B or chapter one hundred and fifty-seven. The aggregate balance of principal of all such loans outstanding at any one time shall not exceed twenty-five per cent of the deposits of such bank. A bank shall maintain an annual record of each condominium mortgage which shall indicate whether such mortgage loan is on a unit in a structure originally constructed as a condominium, in a structure which had been converted to a condominium, or in a structure which is presently being converted to a condominium.

The requirements for records on first mortgages on a unit of a condominium shall only be compiled on such mortgages made, acquired or participated in after February first, nineteen hundred and eighty.

Section 3. Any bank may make or acquire mortgage loans of the several classes or types specified in this chapter evidenced by a note which provides for installment payments of principal or interest, or both, that will not amortize the outstanding principal amount in full by the maturity of such note; provided, however, that the term of mortgage securing the note shall be for a period not less than the original or anticipated amortization period; and provided, further, that such loans secured by a first lien on a dwelling house of four or fewer separate households occupied or to be occupied in whole or in part by the mortgagor shall be subject to the conditions and restrictions imposed under the provisions of section sixty of chapter one hundred and eighty-three.

Section 3A. Any note or mortgage secured by a first lien on a dwelling house of four or fewer separate households occupied or to be occupied in whole or in part by the mortgagor may provide for monthly payments in such amounts that the aggregate principal reduction at any time during the remaining term of the loan shall not be less than that which would be required in the case of a note of like amount and interest rate providing for complete amortization by equal monthly payments over the term of the loan which payment shall be first applied to interest and the balance thereafter remaining applied to principal.

Section 4. Loans made to finance the construction of industrial or commercial buildings and having maturities not exceeding thirty-six months where there is a valid and binding agreement entered into by a financially responsible lender to advance the full amount of the bank's loan upon the completion of the buildings shall not be considered as real estate loans, but shall be classed as ordinary commercial loans whether or not secured by a mortgage or similar lien upon the real estate upon which the building or buildings are being constructed; provided, however, that no such corporation shall invest in, or be liable on, any such loans in an aggregate amount in excess of one hundred per cent of its capital stock and surplus account.

Section 5. A loan may be made to one person evidenced by a single note secured by a mortgage covering two or more parcels of real estate owned by the person, but each parcel included in the mortgage shall be subject to the limitations as to percentages of value and other limitations applicable to mortgages on one parcel of real estate contained in sections one to four, inclusive.

Section 6. The following provisions shall, unless otherwise provided, apply to mortgage loans made or acquired by such bank:-

1. Application. - There shall be written application for each mortgage loan originated by the bank showing the date, names of applicants, amount asked for and security offered, and containing such other information as the bank may deem necessary. Such application shall be signed by or on behalf of the applicants prior to consummation of the loan and shall be filed and preserved with the records of the bank but may accompany any sale or assignment of such mortgage loan. No application shall be required when a mortgage is acquired by purchase.

2. Appraisal. - At least two members of the committee or board charged with the responsibility for making such investments, or two officers of the bank approved by said committee or board shall certify, in writing the value of the property offered as security according to their best judgment, and in the case of a mortgage loan acquired by purchase, two members of said board or committee, or two officers of the bank approved by said committee or board, shall certify in writing, the value of the property mortgaged according to their best judgment. In either case, such value may be determined upon the signed opinion in writing of an appraiser approved by said committee or board.

3. Additional Principal Payments. - Such bank may accept principal payments in excess of payments required by any mortgage made or acquired under any of the provisions of section two, and such additional payments may be accepted as anticipating an equal number of whole payments or as effecting a reduction of all future payments required by the mortgage, in the event that any such additional payments are made, the committee may reduce the monthly or other periodic payments as set forth in said mortgage; provided, however, that such reduced payments shall not extend the original term of the mortgage except as authorized by paragraph 4.

The acceptance of such payments shall not constitute a waiver of any provisions for payment required by the terms of the loan or by law.

3A. Prepayment of Interest. - Such bank shall, upon written request by the mortgagor, accept a prepayment of interest for a period not exceeding twelve months beyond the end of the taxable year. In the event that any such additional payments are made, the board of investment or committee may reduce the monthly or other periodic payments as set forth in the mortgage.

4. Revision of Terms. - With the approval of the board or committee of such bank, at the request of the owner of the equity of redemption, the amount of the periodic payments of principal or interest, or both, called for by any note and mortgage and any other terms or provisions of any note or mortgage may be changed; provided, however, that in the case of any change in the amount of any such periodic payments, the unpaid balance of principal is not in excess of the percentage of value of the mortgaged property required for one of the classes of mortgage loans authorized under section two as certified in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 2; and provided, further, that in such case, the periodic payments as changed shall meet the minimum payments required for such class of mortgage; and provided, further, that in the case of any change authorized hereunder, such change shall be consistent with the requirements for such class of mortgage as changed hereunder. Every such change shall be evidenced by a writing setting forth such change, the payments to be made pursuant thereto, the provisions of any mortgage extension and any other changed terms or provisions, which writing shall be filed with the papers relating to the loan.

No such change shall result in the extension of the term of such mortgage beyond the maximum number of years permitted under section two, for such mortgage as changed hereunder, computed from the date of such extension. Neither the note evidencing the loan nor the mortgage securing the same shall be prejudiced by any such change, notwithstanding the fact that no provision for such change was originally made in the note or mortgage; and both note and mortgage shall continue to be held by the bank as good and sufficient security for the balance remaining unpaid after the date of such change. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prevent any real estate mortgage loan held by such bank from being rewritten, substituted or converted into any other class of mortgage loan which such corporation may lawfully hold; provided, however, that the unpaid balance of principal is not in excess of the percentage of the then value of the mortgaged property required for such other class of loan, as certified in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 2.

In revising the terms of any mortgage under the authority of this paragraph, no additional money shall be loaned or advanced thereon, but this provision shall not prevent such bank from making a new mortgage loan of one of the classes authorized by section two, or from making an additional advance on such mortgage as authorized by section twenty-eight A of chapter one hundred and eighty-three.

5. Revaluation and Inspection. - Except as provided in clause (d), real estate securing mortgage loans shall be subject to periodic revaluation or inspection, as follows:

(a) Revaluation Required. - Every parcel of real estate mortgaged to secure a loan which by its terms is payable in three years or less from the date of the note, except a parcel of real estate on which is located a residence which, is designed for not more than four families, shall be revalued as long as the loan is held, at intervals of three calendar years commencing not later than the end of the third calendar year after the year in which the loan is made or acquired. At the time of such revaluation at least two members of the committee or the board of investment shall certify, in writing, the then value of the mortgaged property, according to their best judgment or as determined by one member of the board or committee so certifying upon the signed opinion in writing of an appraiser approved by said board. Upon the partial release of any real estate securing a mortgage, the remainder of the security shall be revalued notwithstanding that the security shall have been revalued within three years; but this requirement shall not apply to construction mortgage loans.

(b) Inspection Authorized. - Every parcel of real estate mortgaged to secure a loan, other than the parcels referred to in clause (a), shall be revalued, as long as the loan is held, commencing not later than the end of the third calendar year after the year in which the loan is made or acquired and thereafter at intervals of five calendar years, in the manner provided in said clause or, in lieu of revaluation, such parcel shall be inspected for the purpose of determining the general physical condition of the mortgaged property, including its state of preservation or deterioration and any other information deemed by the board of investment or committee as materially affecting the value of such parcel, except that, in the case of any parcel of real estate on which is located a residence which is designed for not more than four families, such periodic inspection or revaluation need not be made; provided, however, that in the event that a payment of interest or principal upon any such loan or on account of real estate taxes upon the parcel mortgaged to secure the same shall be in default, inspection for the purpose aforesaid shall be made within ninety days from the date of such default in payment of interest or principal or within one hundred and eighty days from the date of such default in payment on account of taxes, as the case may be, and thereafter periodic revaluation or inspection shall continue in accordance with the foregoing provision of this clause until such loan shall no longer be in default. Such inspection shall be made by at least two members of said board or committee or by a person deemed by it to be qualified to make such inspection, and a report thereof shall be made in writing and signed by one of such members or by such person and shall be submitted to said board or committee.

(c) Reports. - Each report or revaluation and inspection shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation until the obligation to which it relates is paid in full or otherwise legally discharged.

(d) Insured and Guaranteed Mortgages. - Revaluation and inspection of insured and guaranteed mortgages, referred to in paragraph 5, shall be subject to regulations, if any, of the commissioner.

6. The commissioner may cause an appraisal of real estate to be made whenever the commissioner deems an excessive loan has been made or is about to be made upon real estate pursuant to the powers set forth in section eighteen of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven.

7. Servicing of Loans. - Any such bank may collect and apply payments due upon and otherwise service mortgage loans sold by it; and may authorize any servicing contractor, approved by the board or committee to collect and apply payments due upon and otherwise service mortgage loans acquired by such bank; provided, however, that any such servicing contractor servicing mortgage loans on real estate located in this commonwealth or within the fifty-mile limit referred to in subsection B of section two shall be a savings bank, trust company, national banking association, co-operative bank or federal savings and loan association, but mortgage loans so located may, subject to conditions approved by the commissioner, be serviced by a person eligible under regulations of the commissioner to service any insured or guaranteed mortgages hereinafter referred to in this paragraph. An agreement setting forth the terms and conditions of and charges to be made for such servicing shall be executed on behalf of such bank and any such servicing contractor, and filed with the records of such corporation. The servicing of insured or guaranteed mortgages referred to in paragraph 14 of subsection B of section two, section seven, and chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five, shall be governed by regulations of the commissioner.

8. Any note or mortgage may contain conditions requiring the payment monthly or at other periods, of apportionments of estimated taxes, betterment assessments and premiums for insurance of any kind applicable to the loan.

9. A loan may be repaid at any time in full or in part subject to such anticipatory repayment charges as may be provided in the by-laws.

Payments made between bank days may be computed as of the bank day following. For each one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars repaid upon a co-operative bank mortgage one share in the applicable denomination, if desired by the borrower, may be released from pledge or the value thereof applied to any remaining balance of principal. When shares pledged upon a co-operative bank mortgage reach their matured value, unless the loan is otherwise paid or discharged, so much of their matured value shall be applied as will pay the loan in full and any remainder shall be released from pledge.

10. In the event that any shares or accounts which are pledged as security for any loan are sold, forfeited, transferred, assigned or credited for the nonperformance of the conditions of such loan or on the foreclosure thereof or for any other lawful purpose, the treasurer shall have full authority to transfer, assign or credit such shares or accounts to the bank or purchaser at any foreclosure or other sale or to any assignee.

11. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any bank holding a first mortgage on real estate may take, in substitution therefor, from a person deemed by such bank to be a bona fide purchaser of such real estate, a first mortgage thereon plus the accumulated interest, taxes, municipal liens and other proper charges due thereon.

12. Legality of Certain Mortgages. - No provision of this chapter shall render illegal the investment in or pledge of any mortgages of real estate held by any such bank on November first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five.

All loans on real estate located outside the commonwealth which are not governed by the provisions of section seven or chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five, except those loans made within a radius of fifty miles of the principal office, and all participation loans and servicing arrangements shall be subject to such regulations as the commissioner may deem necessary.

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to mortgages taken in good faith by way of security for debts to such bank previously contracted, or to loans made by such bank to secure the payment of a portion of the purchase price of real estate acquired by such bank by foreclosure, or otherwise.

13. The bank may sell or assign any real estate loan and the note and mortgage pertaining thereto to the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation and may also sell or assign any fractional interest or participation in any such loan to said corporation.

14. Any bank organized under the laws of the commonwealth may sell or assign mortgages to the Federal National Mortgage Association, created under the Federal Housing Act of 1954, and purchase stock of such association, service mortgages therefor and do any and all acts which under the laws and regulations applicable to such sales or assignments may be required to enable them to be affected.

Section 7. Subject to such regulations as the commissioner of banks deems necessary or desirable, any bank organized under the laws of the commonwealth is authorized: (a) to make such loans and advances of credit, and purchase of obligations representing such loans and advances of credit, as are insured by the federal housing administrator or commissioner, or by the secretary of agriculture under Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, and to obtain such insurance, (b) to make and acquire such loans secured by mortgages on real property in the commonwealth held in fee simple as the federal housing administrator or commissioner or the secretary of agriculture under Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, insures or gives commitments to insure, and to obtain such insurance and, in addition thereto, a bank having assets in excess of twenty-five million dollars, may make, acquire, service or participate in with one or more domestic insurance companies authorized so to do, loans secured by mortgages of leasehold interest in real property located in the commonwealth; provided, however, that (1) such leasehold is held from the federal government or the commonwealth or a political subdivision of the commonwealth, or any agency of said governments, (2) the term of such lease is for not less than fifty years from the date of the execution of the mortgage and note, (3) such loan will be by its terms be paid in full before the termination of the lease, (4) the federal housing administrator insures or gives commitments to insure such loan under the provisions of the National Housing Act and such insurance is obtained, (5) the aggregate balance of amounts invested in all such loans outstanding at any one time from any such bank shall not exceed twenty-five per cent of its deposits, and (6) the balance of amounts invested in any such loan outstanding at any one time from any such bank secured by a mortgage of a single leasehold interest shall not exceed two per cent of the deposits of such bank, and (c) to collect and apply payments due upon and otherwise to service any mortgage loan insured by the federal housing administrator or commissioner or by the secretary of agriculture under Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, and with respect to such mortgage loan, to make agreements with any mortgages approved by the federal housing administrator or commissioner or by the secretary of agriculture under Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act to collect and apply payments due upon and otherwise to service any such mortgage loan. A bank may also, in participation with one or more other such banks or domestic insurance companies authorized to transact life insurance, national banking associations or savings and loan associations if such associations are authorized so to do, make or acquire any of the loans referred to in clause (b) which are secured by mortgages on real property held in fee simple. With respect to the obligation of any mortgage contract entered into under any provision of this section, for the life of said obligation, no provision of law limiting the ratio of a mortgage loan to the value of the property or the term of the mortgage, or limiting the power of any bank to make loans other than those secured by mortgages upon real estate shall apply to loans made pursuant to this section and subject to regulations referred to herein, and no provision of law limiting the power of any bank to make loans shall apply to home improvement loans insured pursuant to the provisions of subsection (h) of section two hundred and twenty or of subsection (k) of section two hundred and three of the National Housing Act and subject to such regulations, but no more than twenty per cent of the total deposits of any bank shall be invested at any one time in loans insured pursuant to the provision of said subsections (h) of said section 220 or (k) of said section 203. Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to abridge any power or authority conferred upon the commissioner of banks by any other provision of law.

Section 8. Such bank shall, upon application by a savings depositor or by any joint savings depositors therein, make a loan to him secured by his deposit book, in an amount not exceeding said deposit account, for a time not extending beyond the date when the next dividend on savings deposits shall be payable. Such bank may charge the depositor interest for, or may collect discount in advance upon, the loan at a rate not exceeding one per cent more than the rate of the next preceding dividend declared and paid on savings deposits; provided, however, that a minimum of three dollars may be charged or collected as such interest or discount in the case of any such loan. The bank shall keep posted in a conspicuous place in its banking rooms a notice containing the substance of this section and of section seventeen of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D in such form as the commissioner may prescribe.

Section 9. Subject to such regulations as the commissioner may deem necessary, a bank may make and acquire such loans and advances of credit to qualified students as are insured by the federal commissioner of education under Part B of Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-329), as amended, and may obtain and may receive such insurance, commitments for such loans, lines of credit and certificates of individual or comprehensive insurance coverage for such loans as are provided by said act, may pay the premiums for such insurance fixed by the federal commissioner of education pursuant to said act and may receive payments of interest and principal on such loans pursuant to said act and regulations made thereunder.

Section 10. Any student who has not attained the age of eighteen and has been admitted to an institution of higher learning or attends such an institution shall have full legal capacity to act in his own behalf in the matter of contracts and other transactions with respect to financing this education under any federal, state or private financing plan, and with respect to such acts done by such student, he shall have the rights, powers and privileges and be subject to the obligations of persons of full age.

Section 11. A bank may make or acquire loans upon

(a) real estate for any purpose secured by a mortgage other than a first lien, of the several classes specified in paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of subsection B of section two, subject, in each instance, to the provisions and limitations applicable to the particular class except that, any provision of said subsection notwithstanding, the note or mortgage need not require payment of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessments on the mortgaged real estate, such loan may be made or acquired without regard to the location of the real estate loaned upon, and such loan may be made or acquired for an amount less than or equal to the greater of twenty-five thousand dollars or the amount by which the loan limitation applicable to the particular class under said subsection exceeds the principal balance outstanding on any first mortgage loan secured by a mortgage on the property loaned upon. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said subsection to a limitation upon the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class, such aggregate balance shall be determined by adding the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class authorized by said subsection to the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of the same class authorized by this section. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said subsection to a condition that the mortgagor furnish to the board or committee an affidavit that the mortgagor does not require junior financing, such condition shall be deemed satisfied by an affidavit which states that the mortgagor requires no further financing; or,

(b) any real estate as collateral security for a commercial or business loan; provided, however, that said second mortgage shall not be taken as the primary security for such a loan.

Section 12. Improvement Loans. - A loan to the owner of improved real estate, upon which such bank holds a mortgage, for the purpose of financing the improvement, repair, alteration, rehabilitation of, or fuel for supplying the energy needs of such real estate or the purchase and installation of fixtures to be affixed thereto, including, but not limited to, the purchase and installation of solar or wind-powered system or heat pump system. Such loan shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars, exclusive of interest or discount from the date of the note, with respect to any one parcel of such real estate. The loan shall be payable not more than fifteen years and thirty-two days from the date of the note, but the note or mortgage shall provide that in any event it shall become due and payable simultaneously with the transfer of the mortgaged premises. The terms of the note or mortgage shall require that, commencing not later than two months after the date of the note, (a) payments shall be made on account of the principal in equal monthly installments in amounts which at the maturity of the note, shall equal the original amount of the loan, or (b) fixed monthly payments shall be made in approximately the same amount during the terms of the loan, which payments shall first be applied to interest and the balance to principal.

In case a mortgage and the note secured thereby shall have been sold or otherwise assigned to another banking institution, such bank at the request of such other banking institution and of the owner of the mortgaged property may make a loan of this class within the limitations prescribed in this section; provided, however, that such bank shall agree to sell and such other banking institution shall agree to buy such loan within thirty days after the loan is made.

Section 12A Home Improvement Loans. - Any such bank may make or acquire a loan to the owner of improved real estate located within its lending area as defined in subsection B of section two, for the purpose of financing the improvement, repair, alteration or rehabilitation of such real estate or the purchase and installation of fixtures to be affixed thereto, including but not limited to the purchase and installation of a solar or wind-powered system or heat pump system; provided that (a) each such loan shall be evidenced by a note and may, in the discretion of such bank, be secured by a mortgage which shall be a lien on the real estate so loaned upon, (b) the note or mortgage shall provide that in any event it shall become due and payable simultaneously with the transfer of the mortgaged premises, and (c) such loan shall be subject to all the provisions and limitations applicable to first mortgage loans authorized by section twelve.

Section 13. No such bank shall directly or indirectly make a loan or discount on the security of the shares of its own capital stock or on the security of the shares of capital stock of any company, fifty per cent or more of the assets of which consists of capital stock of such corporation, nor may any such corporation be the purchaser or holder of such shares, unless such security or purchase shall be necessary to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith, and stock so purchased or acquired shall, within six months after its purchase or acquisition, be sold or disposed of at public or private sale but the commissioner, in his discretion, may grant additional periods of time for the holding of such stock. Any officer or employee of a bank who knowingly violates any provision of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent any such bank from being the purchaser or holder of its own shares; (a) if, in connection with a stock dividend or a merger or consolidation to which such bank is a party or a purchase by such bank of all or substantially all of the assets of a trust or banking company or national banking association, such purchase or holding is incidental to an arrangement approved by the commissioner as appropriate to enable those entitled thereto to sell resulting fractional interests or to purchase such fractional interests as may be necessary for the acquisition of a full share or (b) if, in connection with a merger or consolidation or plan of acquisition to which such bank is a party or a sale or exchange by such bank of all or substantially all of its property and assets, such purchase or holding is necessary to satisfy such corporation's liability to dissenting stockholders under section thirty-six of chapter one hundred and seventy-two, and section four A of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A.

Section 14. A. The total obligations of one borrower to a stock corporation under this chapter and chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F shall not exceed the limitations prescribed in the following table:

1. Obligations of one person including in the liabilities of a firm the liabilities of its several members.	(a) 20% of the total of the capital stock and surplus account if the capital stock of such corporation is less than $500,000; or more; (b) 20% of the capital stock, or 10% of the total of the capital stock and surplus account, whichever is greater, if the capital stock of such corporation is less than $500,000; (c) 25% of the total of the capital stock and surplus account, if the amount of such obligations in excess of the limitations set forth in (a) or (b) is fully secured by obligations of the United States of like value; (d) 100% of the total of the capital stock and surplus account, if the amount of such obligations in excess of the limitations set forth in (a) or (b) is fully secured by obligations of the United States of like value, due within three years of the date of the note of the borrower;

(e) In addition to the limitations prescribed in (a), (b), (c) or (d), 2% of the total amount of savings deposits, if the amount of such obligations in excess of such prescribed limitations is secured by collateral of the classes specified in section thirty-eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight.

2.	Obligations of a state or a political subdivision of a state other than a New England state or a state contiguous thereto.	10% of capital stock and surplus account.
3.	Obligations of a political subdivision of a New England state other than this commonwealth.	20% of capital stock and surplus account.
4.	Obligations of a political subdivision of a state contiguous to any of the New England states.	20% of capital stock and surplus account.
5.	Obligations of a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof.	10% of capital stock and surplus account.
6.	Obligations of all foreign governments and the political subdivisions thereof.	20% of capital stock and surplus account.

B. The total obligations of one borrower to a thrift institution under this chapter and chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F shall not exceed the limitations prescribed in the following table:

1.	Obligations of one person, including in the liabilities of a firm the liabilities of its members	20% of its surplus account.
2.	Obligations of a state or a political subdivision of a state other than a New England state or a state contiguous thereto.	20% of its surplus account.
3.	Obligations of a political subdivision of a New England state other than this commonwealth.	20% of its surplus account.
4.	Obligations of a political subdivision of a state contiguous to any of the New England states.	20% of its surplus account.
5.	Obligations of a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof.	20% of its surplus account.
6.	Obligations of all foreign governments and the political subdivision thereof.	20% of its surplus account.

C. The limitations of subsections A and B shall not apply to:

1. Obligations of the United States and of this commonwealth.

2. Obligations of any other New England state and of any state contiguous thereto.

3. Obligations of a political subdivision of this commonwealth.

4. Obligations to the extent that they are secured as to principal and interest by the unconditional guarantee, insurance or other like commitment of the United States, an agency of the United States or a federal reserve bank, whether the commitment provides for payment in cash or in obligations of the United States.

5. Obligations arising out of the discount of:

(a) drafts or bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values, and

(b) commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating it; and

6. Obligations to the extent that they are secured as to principal and interest by the guarantee, insurance or other like commitment of the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency pursuant to section thirty-four of chapter twenty-three A.

D. Real estate loans made under the provisions of subsection B of section two shall not apply to the limitations of paragraphs A and B of this section.

E. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs A and B, liabilities for federal funds and other short-term obligations of any national bank or other bank to a bank may exceed one hundred per cent of the capital stock and surplus account of a trust company and no collateral shall be required for such obligations except insofar as the commissioner of banks may by regulation set limits on such obligations and require collateral of any kind.

Section 15. Any advertisement, within the commonwealth, in a language other than English made by a bank, or a federally-chartered bank authorized to do business in the commonwealth or a creditor, to aid, promote or assist directly or indirectly any credit account offered by such bank, or federally-chartered bank, or creditor shall state in such other language what language the forms associated with the opening and maintenance of such account are in.

For the purposes of this section, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Creditor", a creditor as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and forty D.

"Advertisement", any commercial message in any newspaper, magazine, leaflet, flyer or catalog, on radio, television or public address system, in direct mail literature or other printed material, on any interior or exterior sign or display, in any window display, in any point-of-transaction literature or price tag which is delivered or made available to a customer or prospective customer in any manner whatsoever.

Section 16. No bank shall require as a condition of granting a loan, that a borrower enter into a payroll services contract with the bank. Any bank violating the provisions of this section shall be liable in an action of tort for treble the amount of actual damages; provided, however, that if there are no actual damages the court may assess special damages not to exceed two thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 167F.
INVESTMENTS AND OTHER POWERS.

Section 1. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank", a savings bank, co-operative bank or trust company incorporated as such in the commonwealth.

"Board", the board of trustees in a savings bank, the board of directors in a co-operative bank and the board of directors in a trust company.

"Capital stock", the sum of the par value of the preferred and common shares of capital stock of a trust company, issued and outstanding.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Federally-chartered bank", a national banking association, savings and loan association or a federal credit union authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

"Stock corporation", a savings bank or a co-operative bank which has converted to a stockholder form of corporation or a trust company as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-two.

"Surplus account", an account so designated on the books of a bank and consisting of such amounts as shall be required by law or shall be transferred thereto by vote of its board.

"Thrift institution", a savings bank as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-eight or a co-operative bank as defined in chapter one hundred and seventy except as herein provided.

Section 2. Every bank in its banking department shall, subject to any limitations imposed by this chapter, have the following powers and whatever further incidental powers may fairly be implied from those expressly conferred and such as are reasonably necessary to enable it to exercise fully those powers according to common banking customs and usages. Any bank may invest its deposits and income derived therefrom in the investments authorized by this chapter and in such other investments as may be authorized for banks by general or special laws.

1. To discount, buy, invest in, hold, assign, transfer, sell and negotiate promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange, mortgages, trade acceptances, banker's acceptances, bonds, debentures, bonds or notes secured by mortgages, installment obligations, accounts receivable, balances due on conditional sales and other evidences of debt for its own account or for the account of customers;

2. To invest in the bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of associations or trusts, both as defined in chapter one hundred and eighty-two, and of corporations;

3. To invest in the bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of governments, or political subdivisions thereof, both foreign and domestic;

4. To invest in the capital stock of any bank, national banking association, federal savings bank, federal savings and loan association or bank holding company;

5. To invest in the capital stock of any small business investment company organized under the provisions of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 in an amount aggregating not more than two per cent of its capital stock and surplus account for a stock corporation or not more than two per cent of its surplus account for a thrift institution; to invest, subject to the approval of the commissioner, in the Minbanc Capital Corporation, a non-diversified closed end investment company created for the purpose of making capital funds available to qualifying minority owned banks, up to an amount not exceeding two per cent of its capital stock and surplus account for a stock corporation or not more than two per cent of its surplus account for a thrift institution;

6. To invest such amount not exceeding ten per cent of its capital stock and surplus account for a stock corporation or not exceeding ten per cent of its surplus account for a thrift institution as the commissioner may approve in the capital stock of one or more corporations organized under the laws of the United States for the purpose of engaging in international or foreign banking or other international or foreign financial operations, or in banking or other financial operations in a dependency or insular possession of the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction and supervision of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System;

7. To invest, subject to the approval of the commissioner and under such limitations or conditions as he may impose, in the capital stock or shares of one or more wholly owned subsidiary corporations or trusts organized and operated solely for the purpose of performing functions that the bank itself is empowered to perform directly;

8. Such corporation may make any investment not otherwise eligible under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law including, but not limited to, investment in any capital stock of a corporation organized for the purposes of acquiring and managing interests in real property and acquiring, constructing, rehabilitating, leasing, financing and disposing of housing facilities, or in any other interest in real or personal property, debt security, equity security or loan; provided, however, that (a) no more than five per cent of the deposits of such corporation shall be invested pursuant to the provisions of this section; and provided, further, that any amount in excess of three of said five per cent shall be invested by any such corporation in capital stock of a corporation organized for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, rehabilitating, leasing, financing and disposing of housing facilities; (b) no investment shall be made by such corporation in the equity securities of any one issuer pursuant to this section if the aggregate amount invested by it in the equity securities of such issuer pursuant to this section together with the amount invested in such securities pursuant to any other provision of law exceeds, or by the making of such investment will exceed, two per cent of the deposits of such corporation, and no investment shall be made by such corporation in a loan to, or in the debt securities of, any one issuer pursuant to this section, if the aggregate amount invested by it pursuant to this section together with the amount invested in a loan to, or in the debt securities of, such issuer pursuant to any other provision of law exceeds two per cent of the deposits of such corporation; (c) any loan made or debt security purchased pursuant to this section shall be secured over the term of the loan or the debt security; (d) this section shall not be deemed to alter any provision of this chapter or other provision of law limiting the aggregate amount that may be invested in any class of loan or investment; and (e) investments authorized solely by this section shall not be deemed investments in which savings banks may legally invest for the purposes of any other provision of law which restricts investments to those in which savings banks may legally invest;

9. To hold real estate suitable for the transaction of its business; provided, however, that if the aggregate amount invested and proposed to be invested therein, including the cost of alterations and additions in the nature of permanent fixtures exceeds, directly or indirectly, thirty per cent of its capital stock and surplus account or one hundred per cent of its capital stock whichever is greater, for a stock corporation or if such amount exceeds one hundred per cent of surplus or four and one-half per cent of assets for a thrift institution such excess investment shall be made only with the approval of the commissioner. The amount of any mortgage on real estate owned by a bank directly or indirectly and used by it in whole or in part for the transaction of its business and the amount of money invested by a bank in the securities of any corporation, trust or other organization which holds real estate used in whole or in part for the transaction of the business of such bank or intended for such use, shall be included in determining the amount of real estate that may be held by such bank under this section;

Any sums that may be recovered by a bank through the sale or other disposal of real estate or any part thereof held under this section, together with such sums as are allowable for ordinary depreciation under the provisions of the federal income tax law, and such additional sums as are taken on account of depreciation or obsolescence, or for other reason shall, with the consent of the commissioner or at his direction, be deducted from the amount considered to be invested in such real estate;

10. To invest an amount to be approved by the commissioner, subject to such regulations, if any, as he may deem necessary, in a corporation or association formed for the purpose of furnishing to such bank, or to other banks as hereinafter provided, statistical or bookkeeping services or information of the kind generally required by a bank. A bank may also, in participation with any other bank or national banking association, invest its deposits in such corporation or association, subject however to the same approval and regulation, if any, as above provided. The provisions of section two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven shall apply to such corporations or associations. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to preclude a bank from renting or subscribing for the services of such corporations or association or any other corporation or association rendering such services;

11. To consent to any settlement, modification or readjustment of any investment in securities legally made by such corporation, and to accept and hold as investments bonds, notes, stocks and other securities offered in full or partial settlement, modification or readjustment of any such investment, pursuant to a reorganization or otherwise;

12. To act as trustee or custodian under a retirement plan or individual retirement account which in the judgment of such corporation at the time such trustee or custodian is accepted, is established pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 87-792 entitled "Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962", Public Law 93-406 entitled "Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974" or section 152 of Public Law 95-600 entitled "Revenue Act of 1978", if the provisions of said plan have been approved by the commissioner and permit any of the funds of said trust or custodial account to be invested in savings deposits or time deposits of said bank. No funds held by said bank as trustee or custodian shall be invested otherwise than in bank deposits, properly qualified life insurance retirement income policies or other investments authorized by law for banks, or any combination thereof as such plan may prescribe or permit. Every advertisement, announcement, or solicitation for such a plan or account shall state in a clear and conspicuous manner the amounts of any contributions and earnings thereon, subject to state and federal taxable income;

13. To act as trustee for the holders of any bond issued by the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency, pursuant to the provisions of chapter twenty-three A or by any industrial development authority of any city or town pursuant to the provisions of chapter forty D or by the Massachusetts Health and Educational Facilities Authority, pursuant to the provisions of chapter six hundred and fourteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-eight. No funds held as a trustee shall be invested otherwise than in bank deposits or other legal investments for banks or any combination thereof, as may be prescribed by the trust instrument;

14. To issue or participate with other persons in the issuance of mortgage-backed securities which are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States or by an agency of the United States and are backed in whole or in part by mortgages held by such corporation, and may sell, assign or transfer to the United States or any agency of the United States any mortgage loan or interest in any mortgage loan held by such corporation; and in connection therewith such corporation may enter into and perform such agreements relating to the custody and servicing of such mortgages and to other matters as may be required pursuant to applicable regulations of any such agency. For purposes of this section, the Government National Mortgage Association and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation shall be deemed to be agencies of the United States;

15. To issue or participate with other persons in the issuance of securities representing units of interest in specific mortgage loans or pools or mortgage loans held by such corporation or other issuer, and in connection therewith may enter into and perform such arrangements relating to the custody and servicing of such mortgages and to other related matters, including without limitation provisions for guaranteeing collection or payment of the principal and interest on such securities, as may be found necessary and appropriate by the board of investment of such corporation; provided, however, that the commissioner may from time to time promulgate regulations governing the terms and conditions upon which any such securities may be issued;

16. To purchase by itself with other banks, under regulations established by the commissioner, group life insurance on the lives of debtors who request such insurance. The premium for such insurance, or the premium on an individual life insurance policy held to cover the indebtedness, may be added to the payments required of those who elect to become insured. In the event of the death of any debtor so insured, the insurance proceeds shall be applied to reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness to the extent of such payment. If a dividend or premium refund is received by the bank from such group life insurance under one or more group policies to which the debtors contribute to the cost of premiums, the excess, if any, of the aggregate of such dividends and premium refunds over the aggregate expenditure of the bank toward the cost of such insurance, including its administration, shall be applied by the bank for the sole benefit of debtors who are then insured or who subsequently become insured under such group policies or any policies replacing such group policies. No trustee, director, officer or employee of such bank shall benefit financially, directly or indirectly from the sale of such insurance;

17. To purchase by itself or with other banks, under regulations established by the commissioner, group accident and health insurance covering debtors of such bank or group of banks if the debtors request such insurance. Such insurance shall cover all or part of the indebtedness of such debtors. The premium for such insurance, or the premium on an individual accident and health insurance policy held to cover the indebtedness, may be added to the payments required of any such debtor who elects to become insured, and the proceeds of any such dividends or premium refunds on such insurance, shall be applied by the bank, or group of banks, for the sole benefit of the debtors in the manner provided in paragraph 15. No trustee, director, officer or employee of such bank or group of banks shall benefit financially, directly or indirectly, from the sale of such insurance. Such bank or group of banks may take or receive a service charge which shall be reasonably related to the cost to such bank or group of banks of administering such insurance;

18. To indemnify its directors, trustees, officers, employees and other agents to whatever extent specified in or authorized by a by-law adopted pursuant to law. Such indemnification may include payment by the bank of expenses incurred in defending a civil or criminal action or proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such action or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by the person indemnified to repay such payment if he shall be adjudicated to be not entitled to indemnification under this section. Any such indemnification may be provided although the person to be indemnified is no longer an officer, director, trustee, employee or agent of the bank;

No indemnification shall be provided for any person with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been adjudicated in any proceeding not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the bank;

A bank shall have power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, trustee, officer, employee or other agent of the bank, against any liability incurred by him in any such capacity, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the bank would have the power to indemnify him against such liability;

19. To provide group life insurance, group accident and health insurance or group medical, surgical or hospital insurance or benefits, or all or any combination thereof, for its employees, officers, and directors. The commissioner may, if he deems it necessary, establish regulations providing reasonable restrictions in connection therewith;

20. To establish, participate in, and act as trustee in an educational savings program approved by the commissioner whereby any person may purchase a specific plan in such program designed to provide for the education of a child upon his attaining college age. Such bank may purchase group life insurance on the lives of the debtors participating in such program. The premium for such insurance, or the premium on an individual life insurance policy held to cover the indebtedness, may be added to the payments required of any such debtor and the proceeds of any such insurance, dividends or premium refunds shall be applied by the bank for the sole benefit of the debtors, officer or employee of such paragraph 15. No trustee, director, officer or employee of such bank shall benefit financially, directly or indirectly, from the sale of such insurance;

21. To buy and sell gold and silver bullion, foreign coin and exchange;

22. Subject to such restrictions as may be imposed by the commissioner, to accept for payment at a future date drafts and bills of exchange drawn upon it and to issue letters of credit authorizing holders thereof to draw drafts upon it, or its correspondents, at sight or on time; provided, that such acceptance of drafts be based upon actual values; and, provided, that no such corporation shall accept such bills or drafts to an aggregate amount exceeding at any one time one-half of its capital stock and surplus account for a stock corporation and one-half of its surplus account for a thrift institution, except with the approval of the commissioner, and in no case to an aggregate amount in excess of its capital stock and surplus account for a stock corporation or its surplus account for a thrift institution;

23. To accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it and arising out of transactions involving the import or export of goods, having not more than six months' sight to run; provided, however, that no such corporation shall accept such bills to an aggregate amount exceeding at any time one-half of its capital stock and surplus account for a stock corporation or its surplus account for a thrift institution;

24. To rediscount notes, drafts and bills of exchange arising out of actual commercial transactions;

25. To act as financial or other agent for a person, association, trust, corporation, municipal corporation or government, and in their behalf to negotiate loans and the sale, purchase or other disposition or acquisition of securities or other property;

26. To act as fiscal agent of the United States, and of any corporation, state, county municipality, board, commission or other body politic, and to perform all duties as such fiscal agent as may lawfully be required of it;

27. To assist customers or act for customers in the preparation of payrolls and payroll deductions and in the preparation, maintenance and furnishing of records and statistical information;

28. To lease equipment, machinery, or personal property to customers provided that such equipment, machinery or personal property was acquired at the request of the customer and to maintain, and rent out for hire, at any location occupied by its principal office or any branch office, safe deposit boxes or other receptacles for the safe keeping of personal property upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon; and

29. To contribute such sum or sums of money as the board of investment in a savings bank or the board of directors in a co-operative bank or trust company may determine to be reasonable, (a) to any private nonprofit organization organized for the purpose of improving the social and economic conditions in the community where such corporation is established, including any educational institution, and to any educational institution located outside that community for the purpose of providing scholarships for the benefit of residents of that community; or (b) to any fund being raised by a committee or agency for the purpose of relieving suffering or distress resulting from disaster or other calamity occurring in any part of the commonwealth. For the purposes of promoting, protecting or conserving the assets of banking institutions, such bank may subscribe for services, including advertising and professional services, rendered or to be rendered collectively through any association referred to in or through any group of banking institutions; and in each such case the corporation with the approval of said board may pay for such services its proportionate share of the total cost thereof or such other amount as said board shall deem reasonable and proper.

Section 3. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or any other provision of law, any bank may invest in the following classes of stocks in accordance with the conditions, limitations and requirements prescribed herein:

1. Insurance Company Stocks - In the capital stock of any insurance company authorized to conduct a fire and casualty insurance business in the commonwealth, subject to the following conditions, limitations and requirements.

(i) Kind of Business - In the calendar year immediately preceding the date of investment not less than one-fourth of the net premiums written by such company and its subsidiaries shall have been in respect to risks involving loss of or damage to property belonging to or in the custody of the insured, which risks shall be deemed to be fire and allied risks. As used herein, the term "fire and allied risks" shall be deemed to include homeowners, commercial and industrial multiple period risks, boiler and machinery, glass, burglary and theft and fidelity risk. Net premiums written in the same period in respect to casualty risks shall have been not less than one-fourth of the net premiums written by the company and its subsidiaries. The term "casualty risks" shall be deemed to include risks involving liability of the insured for injury or damage to the person or property of others, workmen's compensation, accident and health, hospital and medical, surety and credit risks. Not more than one-half of the net premiums written in the same period shall have been in respect to liability of owners or operators of motor vehicles for personal injury or property damage. If more than one-fifth of the net premiums written by the company and its subsidiaries in the same period shall have been life insurance premiums, the company or the subsidiary or subsidiaries writing such life insurance shall be licensed to conduct such business in this commonwealth.

(ii) Subsidiary Defined - For the purposes of this section, "subsidiary" shall be construed to mean any insurance company fifty per cent or more of the capital stock of which is owned by such insurance company or by any other subsidiary thereof.

(iii) Large Company Requirement - At the end of the calendar year immediately preceding the date of investment the total admitted assets of such company shall be not less than one hundred million dollars, and it shall be one of the companies which meet the provisions of clause (i) and of which a majority of stock is not owned by five or less stockholders.

(iv) Operating Profit Ratio - Of the companies referred to in clause (iii), such company shall be one of the fifteen having the highest average operating profit ratio for the five years immediately preceding the date of investment. The annual operating profit ratio of each of the five years preceding the date of investment shall be calculated by subtracting from one hundred per cent the ratio of loss and loss adjustment expense to net premiums earned and thereafter subtracting from the remainder the ratio of other operating expenses, excluding all income taxes, to net premiums written. The ratios of the five years immediately preceding the date of investment shall be averaged to obtain the measurement. The losses, expenses, premiums written and profits earned referred to above shall be the totals of such items for such company and all its fire and casualty insurance subsidiaries except that, if less than ninety per cent of the capital stock of a subsidiary is owned by such company, the totals of said items for such subsidiary shall be included in the calculation only in proportion of the percentage of stock so owned.

(v) Ratio of Assets to Liabilities - At the end of the calendar year immediately preceding the date of investment, the total admitted assets of the company shall be equal to or in excess of one hundred and twenty-five per cent of all liabilities of the company excluding capital, surplus and voluntary reserves.

(vi) Dividends - Such company shall have paid a dividend in cash in each of the ten years preceding the date of investment.

(vii) Other Limitations - The following additional limitation also shall apply to stocks of insurance companies:

(a) Preferred Stock, etc. - Such company shall have no preferred stock or other senior securities outstanding at the date of investment.

(b) Aggregate Investment Limit - No insurance stock shall be purchased (a) if the cost thereof added to the cost of insurance stocks and bank stocks already owned shall exceed sixty-six and two-thirds per cent of the total of the surplus accounts of such corporation, referred to in section twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, if the cost thereof added to the amount already invested in stocks and in shares of beneficial interest of the Savings Bank Investment Fund shall exceed the total of such surplus accounts.

(c) Investment Limit in One Company - No investment shall be made in the stock of any one insurance company if the cost thereof added to the amount already invested in its stock shall exceed one-fifteenth of the total of said surplus accounts of such corporation, as so appearing.

2. Shares of Savings Investment Fund - In the shares of beneficial interest of the Savings Bank Investment Fund; provided that no such corporation shall invest in any such shares of any class representing a beneficial interest in any distinct investment fund consisting in whole or in part of equity securities (a) if the cost thereof added to the cost of such shares of an equity fund already owned shall exceed fifty per cent of the total of the surplus accounts of such corporation, referred to in section twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, if the cost thereof added to the amount already invested in such shares of such surplus accounts; and provided, further, that no such corporation shall invest in any such shares of any class representing a beneficial interest in any distinct investment fund which is not an equity fund if the cost thereof added to the cost of such shares of the class which is proposed for investment already owned shall exceed ten per cent of the total deposits of such corporation.

3. Utility Company Stocks - In the preferred and common stocks of any company which, at the time of such investment, is incorporated under the laws of the United States or any state thereof, or the District of Columbia, and authorized to engage, and engaging, in the business of furnishing telephone service in the United States, or any gas, electric light or water company incorporated or doing business in this commonwealth and subject to the control and supervision thereof; provided, that in at least four of the five years immediately preceding the date of investment such company shall have earned and paid dividends on each class of outstanding stock and the after tax net operating income, as hereinafter defined, of such company shall have been not less than twice the sum of the amount necessary to pay the interest for the same periods, excluding interest charged to fixed assets during construction thereof, if any, on all of its outstanding indebtedness and of the amount required to pay dividends on all of its preferred stock, if any. As used in this paragraph the words "after tax net operating income" shall mean the amount available for payment of interest and dividend charges after deduction from total operating revenues of all operating expenses, including current maintenance, provision for depreciation, all taxes including federal income taxes, rentals and guaranteed interest or dividends. No such corporation shall invest in such preferred or common stocks (a) if the cost thereof added to the cost of such preferred or common stocks, as the case may be, already owned shall exceed thirty-five per cent of the total of the surplus accounts of such corporation referred to in section twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, if the cost thereof added to the amount already invested in stocks and in shares of the Savings Bank Investment Fund of a class representing a beneficial interest in any distinct investment fund consisting in whole or in part of equity securities, shall exceed the total of such surplus accounts; and provided that no such corporation shall invest more than one-half of one per cent of its deposits in the stock of any one such company.

4. Preferred and Common Corporate Stock - In the preferred and common stock of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or any state and any association defined herein to mean an association the business of which is conducted or transacted by trustees under a written instrument or declaration of trust; provided, however, not more than four per cent of its deposits shall be invested in the stocks so authorized and provided, further, that in addition to such four per cent, an amount equivalent to one per cent of its deposits may be invested in stocks of Massachusetts corporations or companies with substantial employment in the commonwealth which have pledged to the commissioner that such monies will be used for further development within the commonwealth.

5. Prudent Investments - In the shares of stock registered on a national securities exchange as provided in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 USC 78a or for which quotations are available through the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotations System, or any comparable service designated by the commissioner; provided that not more than fifteen per cent of the assets of such corporation shall be invested pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph, and such investment shall be made in the exercise of the judgment and care consistent with the prudent man rule, so-called.

Section 4. Any bank, a national banking association or savings and loan association authorized to do business in the commonwealth, may engage directly in the business of selling, issuing or registering checks or money orders, except that trust companies and national banks may engage in such business through agents who shall not be deemed to be branches of such banks. No person, other than the foregoing, shall engage in such business directly or indirectly unless he files on or before January fifteenth in each year a sworn statement setting forth his name and address, the names and business addresses of his agents, other than a bank, a national banking association or savings and loan association, authorized to receive money and transact such business on his behalf. Such person shall deposit and maintain with the state treasurer a surety bond, cash or securities, in a sum of one hundred thousand dollars. Any such bond or deposit shall be held as security for the payment of checks or money orders sold by such person or his agents, and the commissioner may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section, including an investigation relative to reputation, integrity and net worth, the cost of which investigation shall be chargeable to such person.

Each person to whom a certificate to engage in such business has been issued shall on or before the fifteenth of April, July and October of each year notify the commissioner of any change in the list of agents contained in the annual statement, and shall file with him the name of any additional agent appointed or of any agent whose authority has been revoked.

There shall be a fee for the filing of such annual statement payable to the commissioner and for each agent listed in the annual statement or in any addition thereto, the amount of such fees shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven for the filing thereof.

The commissioner may issue a certificate to engage in such business to any person who in his judgment has complied with the provisions of this section, but he may, at any time, revoke such certificate for failure to comply with the provisions of this section, or of any rule or regulation promulgated by him, or for failure to pay any check or money order upon presentation for payment.

Whoever violates any provision of this section or any rule or regulation established hereunder shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each day during which such violation continues.

Section 5. A bank may become a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank established for the district of New England under the provisions of an act of Congress, approved July twenty-second, nineteen hundred and thirty-two, as amended, and known as the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, or of any successor of said bank; and may terminate such membership at any time. A bank may subscribe to and invest in such amounts of the stock of said home loan bank or of any such successor as may be required by law to qualify such corporation for membership therein.

Section 6. A bank may become a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, subject to the provisions of the act of Congress approved in nineteen hundred and fifty, known as the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, or any successor of that corporation, and may terminate its membership at any time. A Member of the Deposit Insurance Fund of the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., established by chapter forty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, shall also be subject to sections twelve to seventeen, inclusive, of said chapter forty-three, as amended by section ten of chapter three hundred and twenty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, upon payment of the insured portion of any deposit in a bank so insured, shall, subject to the provisions of said section seventeen of said chapter forty-three, as amended by sections one and two of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-one, be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom the insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of the assets and claims of the bank as would have been payable to that person on a claim for the portion of the deposit insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation; but that person shall retain the right to receive distribution on so much of the person's claim as represents the uninsured portion of the deposit.

Section 7. A bank may become a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, subject to the provisions of the act of Congress, approved in nineteen hundred and thirty-four, known as the National Housing Act, or any successor of that corporation, and may terminate its membership at any time. A member of the Share Insurance Fund of the Co-operative Central Bank, established by chapter seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, shall also be subject to the provisions of sections eleven to sixteen, inclusive, of said chapter seventy-three.

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, upon payment of the insured portion of any share, deposit, or other accounts in a bank so insured, shall subject to the provisions of section sixteen of said chapter seventy-three, be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom the insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of the assets and claims of the bank as would have been payable to that person of a claim for the portion of the account insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; but that person shall retain the right to receive distribution on so much of the person's claim as represents the uninsured portion of the account.

Section 8. Any such bank may subscribe for and acquire stock issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston for the purpose of qualifying for membership in the federal reserve system, and while a member of such system may have and exercise any and all of the corporate powers and privileges which may be exercised by federal reserve member banks.

Section 9. Such bank may, by vote of its board of investment, or board of directors, obtain memberships in certain organizations, and may make contributions and donations and subscribe for services, subject to the conditions, and requirements of this section.

1. Banking Association Memberships. - Such corporation may become a member of any association organized to protect and promote the interests of banking institutions, and may pay for such membership its proportionate share of the expenses as is reasonable and necessary.

2. Miscellaneous Memberships. - Such corporation may become a member of or contribute to any other association or organization in the commonwealth if, in the opinion of said board, such membership or contribution is reasonable and of substantial benefit to such corporation and its depositors.

3. Subscriptions to Services. - For the purposes of promoting, protecting or conserving the assets of banking institutions, such corporation may subscribe for services, including advertising and professional services, rendered or to be rendered collectively through an association referred to in paragraph 1 or through any group of banking institutions; and in each such case the corporation, with the approval of the board, may pay for such services its proportionate share of the total cost thereof or such other amount as said board shall deem reasonable and proper.

CHAPTER 167G.
TRUST DEPARTMENT.

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, shall have the following meanings:

"Bank" or "such bank", a savings bank, co-operative, or trust company subject to the supervision of the commissioner of banks.

"Capital stock", the sum of the par value of the preferred and common shares of capital stock, issued and outstanding.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Officer", any individual designated as such in accordance with the by-laws including, whether or not so designated, the president, vice-president, treasurer, and the clerk or secretary or any individual who performs the duties appropriate to those offices.

Section 2. With the written authority of the commissioner any such bank may have a trust department in which all business conducted by such department shall be segregated from its general business. The commissioner may grant or refuse such authority after such investigation of the affairs of the bank as the commissioner deems appropriate.

Section 3. The trust department of such bank shall, subject to the limitations contained in this chapter, have the following powers:

1. To hold money or property in trust or on deposit from executors, administrators, assignees, guardians, conservators and trustees upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon;

2. To be appointed and to act as executor of a will, codicil, or writing testamentary, administrator with the will annexed, administrator of the estate of any person, receiver, assignee, guardian, conservator or trustee under a will or instrument creating a trust for the care and management of property, under the same circumstances, in the same manner, and subject to the same control by the court having jurisdiction of the same, as a legally qualified individual; to act in any other fiduciary capacity not expressly prohibited by the laws of this commonwealth; provided, however, that any such appointment as guardian shall apply to the estate and not to the person of the ward;

3. To act as agent for the purpose of issuing, transferring, registering, or countersigning the certificates of stock, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness or legal or beneficial ownership of a corporation, association, trust, municipal corporation, state or national government, on such terms as may be agreed upon;

4. To act as trustee or financial or other agent for a person, association, trust, corporation, municipal corporation or government and in their behalf to negotiate loans and the sale, purchase or other disposition or acquisition of securities or other property; to act as trustee for the holders of obligations, shares, or evidences of interest or ownership of a corporation or other issuer, and for any such purposes to receive transfers or deposits of money or of real and personal property upon such terms as may be agreed upon;

5. Any association or corporation authorized to do a banking business and to exercise trust powers in the commonwealth, may hold securities held by it as custodian for any fiduciary, or in a fiduciary capacity pursuant to the exercise of such trust powers in a manner such that, without certification as to ownership attached, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer and from time to time constituting assets of particular fiduciary accounts are held in bulk, including, to the extent feasible, the merging of certificates of small denomination into one or more certificates of large denomination, provided that such association or corporation shall be subject to such rules and regulations as may from time to time be issued in the case of national banking associations, by the comptroller of the currency, and in the case of all other such associations and corporations, by the commissioner. Such association or corporation shall, on demand by any court, fiduciary, co-fiduciary, beneficiary, or other interested party to an accounting, or by the attorney for any such fiduciary, co-fiduciary, beneficiary, or other interested party to an accounting, certify in writing the securities held by such association or corporation as such fiduciary.

6. Any individual, partnership, association or corporation authorized to do a banking business and to exercise trust powers in the commonwealth, and any resident of the commonwealth appointed by a trustee by a probate court or who is required to file an account in a probate court, may cause any stock or security held in a fiduciary capacity to be registered and held in the name of a partnership or corporate nominee residing or having a principal place of business within the commonwealth named by him or it, provided, however, that every individual trustee of the same estate or trust consents thereto, and any fiduciary may deposit stocks or other securities held in a fiduciary capacity with one so exercising trust powers, with authority to register and hold the same in the name of a partnership or corporate nominee residing or having a principal place of business within the commonwealth. Such a depository shall not, without first causing the stock or security to be registered in the name of the depositing fiduciary as such, redeliver the same to him, but this provision shall not apply to other transfers or to sales made by the depository pursuant to directions of the depositing fiduciary, and the depository and his or its partnership or corporate nominee residing or having a principal place of business within the commonwealth shall be held to have discharged their responsibilities by accounting for or paying over the proceeds of any sale or transfer made as so directed. A fiduciary holding securities in the manner authorized by this section shall retain possession of said securities, shall maintain adequate records indicating the ownership thereof, shall segregate the same from his or its own assets, and shall be absolutely liable for any loss occasioned by the acts of a nominee.

7. Any association or corporation authorized to do a banking business and to exercise trust powers in the commonwealth, while acting as a fiduciary or as an agent or custodian for any other fiduciary, or any individual fiduciary holding securities in the capacities aforementioned, may deposit or arrange for the deposit of such securities in a securities depository, or in a clearing corporation, as defined in section 8-102 of chapter one hundred and six. Ownership of, and other interests in, such securities may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of such clearing corporation without physical delivery of certificates representing such securities. The records of any bank, acting in the capacities described, or of any individual fiduciary, shall at all times show the name of the party for whose account the securities are so deposited. A bank depositing securities pursuant to this section shall be subject to such rules and regulations as, in the case of state chartered institutions, the commissioner of banks and, in the case of national banking associations, the comptroller of the currency, may from time to time issue. Any bank or any other fiduciary which has deposited securities with a clearing corporation shall on demand by any court, fiduciary, co-fiduciary, beneficiary or other interested party to an accounting, or by the attorney for any such fiduciary, co-fiduciary, beneficiary or other interested party to an accounting, certify in writing that the securities are held by such association or corporation as such fiduciary, and shall therein hold harmless any interested party to the account who has relied upon such certification.

8. Any association or corporation authorized to do a banking business and to exercise trust powers in the commonwealth, while acting as a fiduciary, or as an agent or custodian for any other fiduciary or private banker, is authorized to deposit, or arrange for the deposit of, with any federal reserve bank, any securities, the principal and interest of which the United States or any department, agency, or instrumentality thereof has agreed to pay, or has guaranteed payment, such securities to be credited to one or more accounts on the books of the federal reserve bank and to be designated fiduciary or safekeeping accounts to which account or accounts other similar securities held in other accounts may be credited. Ownership of and other interests in such securities may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of such federal reserve banks without actual issue or physical delivery of such securities. The records of any bank, acting in the capacities described, or of any individual fiduciary, shall, at all times, show the name of the party for whose account the securities are so deposited. Any bank or any other fiduciary which has deposited securities with a federal reserve bank, shall on demand by any court, fiduciary, co-fiduciary, beneficiary or other interested party to an accounting, or by the attorney for any such fiduciary, co-fiduciary, beneficiary or other interested party to an accounting, certify, in writing, that the securities are held by such association or corporation as such fiduciary, and shall therein hold harmless any interested party, or fiduciary or guardian representing such party for loss arising from reliance upon such certification.

9. Any association or corporation authorized to do a banking business and to exercise trust powers in the commonwealth while acting as a fiduciary is authorized to utilize one or more collective investment funds for the purpose of providing for temporary investments of cash which it or any other such association or corporation lawfully holds in such capacity.

Any such collective investment fund shall be administered in accordance with a written declaration of trust which shall provide that if property is held by such corporation or associatior as a fiduciary together with a co-fiduciary or co-fiduciaries, such property may be invested in such collective investment fund only with the written consent of such co-fiduciary or co-fiduciaries, but that in no case shall any other notice or consent be required for the making of any such investment. An account of the administration of each such collective investment fund shall be prepared annually, shall be audited by an independent certified public accountant and a copy of such account and of the audit report thereon shall be made available to any interested party upon written request and, if any cash held for charitable purposes is invested in such collective investment fund, shall be filed with the attorney general, division of public charities. All expenses of the administration of such collective investment fund, including the cost of the annual audit, shall be borne by the fund, but the corporation or association shall absorb the costs of establishing any such collective investment fund.

10. Any corporation qualified to act as a fiduciary in the commonwealth may establish one or more common trust funds or may utilize one or more common trust funds previously established by it, for funds held in a fiduciary capacity by itself or by other corporate fiduciaries located in the commonwealth. Each such corporate fiduciary may invest and reinvest in one or more such common trust funds the monies of any fiduciary account which would be eligible under chapter two hundred and three A for investment in a common trust fund established and maintained by such corporate fiduciary. The corporate fiduciary establishing, maintaining or so utilizing such common trust fund shall comply with and be subject to all of the provisions of said chapter two hundred and three A as though such corporate fiduciary and other corporate fiduciaries participating in such fund were one and the same entity.

11. To perform any and all functions and engage in any and all business customarily engaged in by trust departments of banks in this commonwealth, provided that the same is not expressly prohibited by the laws of this commonwealth.

Section 4. Money, property or securities received, invested or loaned by the trust department of any such bank, shall be a special deposit in such corporation, and the accounts thereof shall be kept separate. Such funds and the investment or loans thereof shall be specially appropriated to the security and payment of such deposits, shall not be mingled with the investments of the capital stock or other money or property belonging to such bank, or be liable for the debts or obligations thereof.

Section 5. Such bank in its trust department may invest the funds or assets which it may receive and hold in a fiduciary capacity in the same way, to the same extent, and under the same restrictions as an individual holding a similar position may invest such funds or assets.

Section 6. No surety shall be required upon the bonds filed by such bank as fiduciary except that the court making such an appointment other than of a trustee, may, upon application by an interested person, require the bank so appointed to give such security, in addition to that provided by section nine as the court may consider proper, and upon failure of such bank to give the security required, may revoke such appointment and remove such bank.

Section 7. In all proceedings in the probate court or elsewhere, connected with any authority exercised by the trust department, all accounts, returns and other papers may be signed and sworn to, in behalf of such bank by any officer thereof duly authorized by it, who has knowledge of the subject matter covered therein, and the answers and examinations under oath of said officer shall be received as the answers and examinations of such bank. The court may order and compel an officer of such bank to answer and attend said examination in the same manner as if he, instead of the bank, were a party to the proceeding.

Section 8. Notwithstanding any provision of section four, funds held in the trust department of any bank awaiting investment or distribution may be deposited in its banking department if such bank shall first transfer to its trust department, to be held as security therefor, bonds, notes, bills and certificates of indebtedness of the United States, of this commonwealth, or of the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut or New York, or any of them, or any other securities in which the bank may legally invest, of an aggregate value of not less in amount than funds so deposited, and such bank shall at all times maintain the value of such security at such amount.

Section 9. The capital stock of a trust company, or such funds of a savings bank or co-operative bank as determined by the commissioner shall be security for the faithful performances of duties undertaken by the trust department of a bank.

SECTION 10. Section 5 of chapter 168 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by section 359 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

After such notice and hearing as the commissioner may require and with his written permission and under such conditions as he may approve, such corporation may establish and maintain one or more branch offices or depots (a) in the city or town where its main office is located, or (b) in other cities or towns within the same county where, in the opinion of the commissioner, the public convenience and advantage would be served by the establishment of additional savings bank facilities, or (c) on a site in the commonwealth within forty miles from the premises of the main office where, in the opinion of the commissioner, the public convenience and advantage would be served by the establishment of additional savings bank facilities. Every application to establish and maintain one or more such branch offices or depots shall be accompanied by payment of an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, for each branch office or depot applied for. Not more than three applications by a savings bank to establish a branch office or depot under this paragraph outside of the county wherein its principal office is located shall be approved in any calendar year.

SECTION 11. Section 5 of said chapter 168 is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 293 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any bank consolidated or merged under section seventy-two, seventy-two A, seventy-two B or seventy-two D, or all or substantially all of the assets and liabilities or stock of which have been acquired and assumed or purchased by a savings bank under section seventy-three, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of such savings bank, with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner. No savings bank shall be given permission pursuant to this section more than three times in any one calendar year either to acquire and maintain offices of any other bank whose main office is located outside of the county wherein the main office of such savings bank is located, or to establish a branch office outside of the county wherein its main office is located.

SECTION 12. Paragraph 1 of section 21 of said chapter 168, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 75 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 15, the word "four" and inserting in place thereof the word:- six.

SECTION 13. The second paragraph of section 22 of said chapter 168, as most recently amended by section 2 of said chapter 75, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 4, the word "four" and inserting in place thereof the word:- six.

SECTION 14. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 22C, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 343 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 22C. Any of the deposits authorized by sections twenty-one and twenty-two may, if the trustees of such corporation determine, be received as term deposits subject to regulations promulgated by the commissioner and to any other applicable law or regulation. Term deposits shall be evidenced by a certificate or other written instrument issued to the depositor to acknowledge receipt of such deposits and which sets forth the terms of the deposit.

For any such deposit with a maturity in excess of thirty days, any such corporation shall be required to mail to the depositor a written notification of maturity at least thirty days prior to the date of maturity of said deposit but in no event more than forty-five days prior to said date of maturity of said deposit.

SECTION 15. Paragraph 6A of section 35 of said chapter 168 is hereby amended by striking out the fifth sentence, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 204 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 16. Paragraph 6B of said section 35 of said chapter 168 is hereby amended by striking out the fifth sentence, as most recently amended by section 2 of said chapter 204, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 17. Paragraph 6C of said section 35 of said chapter 168, inserted by section 1 of chapter 775 of the acts of 1977, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 18. Paragraph 6D of said section 35 of said chapter 168, inserted by section 1 of chapter 267 of the acts of 1981, is hereby amended by striking out the third sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 19. Section 37 of said chapter 168, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 248 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The total obligation of any one person to any such corporation outstanding at any one time in this class of investment, including, in the case of a savings and insurance bank, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-eight, any obligation on account of any such loan or loans made or acquired from funds of the insurance department pursuant to section nine of said chapter, shall not exceed thirty thousand dollars exclusive of interest or discount.

SECTION 20. Said section 37 of said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth sentence, as most recently amended by section 19 of this act, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The total obligation of any one person to any such corporation outstanding at any one time in this class of investment, including, in the case of a savings and insurance bank, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-eight, any obligation on account of any such loan or loans made or acquired from funds of the insurance department pursuant to section nine of said chapter, shall not exceed forty thousand dollars exclusive of interest or discount.

SECTION 21. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 37C, as amended by chapter 138 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 37C. Such corporation may make or acquire loans upon real estate for any purpose secured by a mortgage other than a first lien, of the several classes specified in paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4, 6A, 6B and 6C of section thirty-five, subject in each instance to the provisions and limitations applicable to the particular class except that, any provision of said section thirty-five notwithstanding, the note or mortgage need not require payment of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessments on the mortgaged real estate, such loan may be made or acquired without regard to the location of the real estate loaned upon, and such loan may be made or acquired for an amount less than or equal to the greater of twenty-five thousand dollars or the amount by which the loan limitation applicable to the particular class under said section thirty-five exceeds the principal balance outstanding on any first mortgage loan secured by a mortgage on the property loaned upon. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said section thirty-five to a limitation upon the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class, such aggregate balance shall be determined by adding the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class authorized by said section thirty-five to the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of the same class authorized by this section. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said section thirty-five to a condition that the mortgagor furnish to the board of investment an affidavit that the mortgagor does not require junior financing, such condition shall be deemed satisfied by an affidavit which states that the mortgagor requires no further junior financing.

SECTION 22. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 39A, inserted by section 2 of chapter 547 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 39A. Such corporation may make such other commercial, corporate, and business loans not otherwise authorized under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law; provided, however, that not more than ten per cent of the assets of such corporation shall be invested at any one time in loans made under this section; and provided, further, that such loans may only be made within the commonwealth or within seventy-five miles of the main office of such corporation.

SECTION 23. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 39A, as amended by section 22 of this act, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 39A. Such corporation may make such other commercial, corporate, and business loans not otherwise authorized under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law; provided, however, that not more than twelve per cent of the assets of such corporation shall be invested at any one time in loans made under this section; and provided, further, that such loans may only be made within the commonwealth or within seventy-five miles of the main office of such corporation.

SECTION 24. Section 47 of said chapter 168, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 367 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by striking out paragraphs 3 to 5, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

3. Bank Holding Company Stocks. - (a) In the common stock of a bank holding company, as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A, provided such stock is received pursuant to an offer made by such bank holding company to exchange shares of its common stock for shares of a trust company incorporated under the laws of this commonwealth or for shares of a national banking association doing business in this commonwealth, or provided that such stock is received pursuant to a plan for the merger or consolidation of such a trust company or of such a national banking association with or into, or the transfer, sale or exchange of property or of assets of such a trust company or of such a national banking association to or with a trust company incorporated under the laws of this commonwealth or a national banking association doing business in this commonwealth the stock of which trust company or national banking association, as the case may be, is at the time owned by such bank holding company. (b) In the common stock of a bank holding company, as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A, acquired otherwise than as set forth in the foregoing provisions of subdivision (a) of this paragraph, or in the common stock of a bank holding company, as defined in the federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, provided, however, that in either case at least one bank in the holding company at the end of its fiscal year immediately preceding the date of investment is of the kind referred to in paragraph 1 or 2. Also the holding company shall own eighty per cent or more of the voting stock of the qualifying bank. If at any time after an investment in the common stock of any such bank holding company, no bank of such holding company meets the requirements of paragraph 1 or 2, such holding company's stock shall be disposed of within such reasonable time as the commissioner shall determine.

4. One Bank Holding Company Stocks. - In the common stock of a company as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A or in the federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, which owns, controls, or holds with power to vote eighty per cent or more of the voting stock of a banking institution, as defined in said chapter, or a bank, as defined in said federal Bank Holding Company Act, provided such banking institution or bank is of the kind referred to in paragraph 1 or 2 and such stock of such banking institution or bank represents at least fifty per cent of such company's assets at book value at the end of its fiscal year immediately preceding the date of investment or at the date of investment in the case of a newly formed company. If at any time after an investment in the common stock of any such company at least fifty per cent of the assets of each company at book value shall cease to consist of such stock of such banking institution or bank such company's stock shall be disposed of within such reasonable time as the commissioner shall determine. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as limiting the authority of such corporation to invest in the common stock of a bank holding company pursuant to paragraph 3 of this section.

SECTION 25. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 47 the following section:-

Section 47A. Such corporation may purchase the whole or any part of the stock of a savings bank, co-operative bank, federal savings and loan association or federal savings bank provided that any such bank or association meets the criteria established by the commissioner for such purchase.

SECTION 26. The first paragraph of section 72 of said chapter 168, as amended by section 360 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

SECTION 27. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 72A, inserted by section 1 of chapter 454 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following four sections:-

Section 72A. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more co-operative banks, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy, may merge or consolidate into a single savings bank or into a single co-operative bank, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of trustees of each corporation and of the board of directors of each co-operative bank, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the corporators of each corporation and shareholders of each co-operative bank in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of trustees and directors, and certified copies of the vote of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearing as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the depositors and shareholders of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each corporation at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each co-operative bank present, qualified to vote, and voting at meetings of each co-operative bank specially called for that purpose. Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section nine of this chapter and section forty-seven of chapter one hundred and seventy. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and co-operative banks setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. and from the insurer for such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided for:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeding such percentage of any other consolidating institution, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any savings bank and the offices of any co-operative bank merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

Section 72B. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more federal thrift institutions may merge or consolidate into a single savings bank or into a single federal thrift institution, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of trustees of each corporation and by the board of each federal thrift institution, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the corporators of each corporation and by each federal thrift institution in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of trustees and directors, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearings as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the depositors and shareholders of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, which hereinafter may be referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each corporation at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of each such federal thrift institution as required by any applicable law or regulation governing such institution.

Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section nine of this chapter and any applicable provision governing a federal thrift institution. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and federal thrift institutions setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions as herein provided:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institution actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the guaranty fund, surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any savings bank and the offices of any federal thrift institution merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, a federal thrift institution shall mean a federal savings and loan association or a federal mutual savings bank which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 72C. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary a savings bank subject to approval of the commissioner, may convert to a stockholder owned form of corporation.

Any savings bank which converts to a stockholder owned form of corporation shall have all the powers and privileges of a savings bank.

The commissioner shall prescribe from time to time such rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper in carrying out the provisions of this section. Such regulation shall be similar to regulations promulgated under Title 12 USC section 1725 or Title 12 USC section 1464, provided herewith, that the commissioner may make such adjustments and exceptions as in his judgment are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section or to facilitate compliance therewith.

Any regulation, or any amendment or repeal of any such regulation issued under the provisions of this section after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A shall be submitted to the general court for approval. The commissioner shall file the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal with the clerk of the house of representatives, together with a statement that the pertinent provisions of said chapter thirty A have been complied with. Any regulations filed with the general court under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a summary of the regulations in layman's terms. The clerk shall refer such regulation to the joint committee on banks and banking within five days of the filing thereof. The committee shall consider the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal and shall report to the general court within forty-five days whether the same should be adopted in the manner submitted. The clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house shall recommend to the general court the form and procedure which shall be followed in considering the approval of a proposed regulation, amendment or repeal; provided, however, that approval or disapproval shall be by joint resolution.

The clerk of the senate shall cause any regulation, amendment or repeal, approved by both branches of the general court within seventy-five days from the time of filing of the same with the clerk of the house of representatives, to be forwarded to the governor for his approval; provided, however, that any such regulation, amendment or repeal which is not approved by the general court and the governor within thirty days of such filing shall be deemed to have been disapproved.

If the governor approves any regulation, amendment or repeal submitted to him, as hereinbefore provided, he shall forward the same to the state secretary who shall publish the same in accordance with section five of said chapter thirty A.

Emergency regulations may be adopted during the prorogation of the general court in the manner provided by section five of chapter thirty A; provided, however, that such regulation shall be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives for submission the next session of the general court for approval as hereinbefore provided; and provided, further, that such regulation shall not remain in force for more than ninety days after the general court has convened for such session.

Section 72D. Any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section eighty-five or section seventy-six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company or a savings bank or co-operative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law. A federally-chartered stock corporation shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation, which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

SECTION 28. Said chapter 168 is hereby further amended by striking out section 73, as most recently amended by section 361 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 73. With the approval of the commissioner, any such corporation may advance or loan upon or purchase the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or of any federally-chartered bank, including any state-chartered bank in possession of the commissioner under sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven and any state-chartered bank assisted by or in possession of its insurer and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more banks so located. The request for such approval shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. Such advance, loan or purchase may be made upon such terms and conditions as shall have been approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the trustees of the corporation and the applicable board of such other bank.

Such corporation or corporations making or participating in such an advance, loan or purchase for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the deposit and other liabilities of any other state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. In the event of such approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the investment of funds of savings banks and to the limitations upon deposits therein shall not apply.

The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. and the insurer for each such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each affected insurer have been made for such action.

The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to the deposit or other liabilities as hereinbefore provided. In the case of any new savings bank formed for the purpose of purchasing any or all the assets and assuming any or all the liabilities of any state-chartered bank in possession or assisted as aforesaid, the commissioner may impose such other and further conditions and restrictions concerning the business, investments and operations of such new savings bank as he may deem necessary or advisable. So much of sections ten and thirteen as provide that no person shall hold an office in two savings banks at the same time shall not prevent an officer or trustee of any other savings bank from serving as an officer or trustee of such new bank, or of a state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank or the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a savings bank hereunder.

Before all or substantially all of the assets or stock of any such corporation shall be sold to a corporation other than one chartered under chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those corporators present and voting at a special meeting called for that purpose, of the corporation proposing to sell its assets or stock. Notice of such special meeting shall be given by the clerk in accordance with the provisions of section nine.

For the purposes of this section, a federally-chartered bank shall mean a federal savings bank, a federal savings and loan association, a national bank association which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

CHAPTER 168.
SAVINGS BANKS.

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, shall have the following meanings:-

"Annual meeting", the meeting of corporators required by section nine A to be held annually.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Corporator", an original incorporator, or a person elected as a corporator as provided by section nine.

"Deposit book", the book or other instrument issued to the depositor as evidence of his deposit.

"Dividends" or "interest", payments to depositors from earnings or profits as provided by sections twenty-nine and thirty.

"Guaranty fund, surplus, unallocated reserves and undivided profits", the surplus accounts required to be established and maintained by section twenty-seven.

"Savings bank", a savings bank, institution for savings or savings institution incorporated as such in this commonwealth.

"Such corporation" or "such bank", a savings bank, institution for savings and a savings institution incorporated as such in this commonwealth.

Section 2. A savings bank shall have all the powers expressly granted by law and whatever further incidental powers may fairly be implied from those expressly conferred and such as are reasonably necessary to enable it to exercise fully those powers according to common or accepted banking customs and usages.

Section 3. Any such corporation organized prior to January first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five, shall be subject to this chapter so far as is consistent with the provisions of its charter, and may, by vote of its corporators at its annual meeting or at a meeting called for the purpose, accept any provision of this chapter which is inconsistent with its charter. Any such corporation organized after January first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five, shall be subject to this chapter.

Section 4. Twenty-five or more persons who associate themselves by an agreement in writing for the purpose of forming a savings bank, may, upon compliance with this section and sections five, six and seven, become a corporation with all the powers and privileges and subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities set forth in all general laws now or hereafter in force relating to such corporations. Said agreement shall set forth that the subscribers thereto associate themselves with the intention of forming a corporation to transact business within the commonwealth, and shall specify:

First. - The name by which the corporation shall be known, the words "savings bank" or "institution for savings" to form a part thereof.

Second. - The purpose for which it is to be formed.

Third. - The town wherein its main office is to be located.

Fourth. - The occupation, residence and post office address of each subscriber.

Each subscriber shall deposit at least two hundred dollars in cash with the corporation before it commences business; provided, however, that an aggregate of not less than ten thousand dollars shall be so deposited by the subscribers. Except with the written approval of the commissioner, none of such deposits shall be assigned, pledged or paid prior to the expiration of two years from the date the deposits are made.

Each subscriber shall sign the agreement which shall not be invalidated by reason of the death or incapacity of one or more of the subscribers.

Section 5. The subscribers to said agreement shall give notice to the board of bank incorporation of their intention to form a savings bank, and shall apply to said board for a certificate that public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment thereof. Said application shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. Said board may grant such certificate, which shall be deemed to be revoked if the applicants therefor do not become incorporated and begin business within six months after its date of issue. Upon receipt of such application, said board shall furnish the subscribers a form of notice, specifying the names, occupations and addresses of the proposed incorporators and the name and location of the proposed savings bank, and assigning a date and place for a public hearing on the application. The subscribers shall publish the notice at least once a week for three successive weeks, in one or more newspapers designated by said board and published in the town wherein it is desired to establish the savings bank; or, if there is no newpaper in such town, in the town wherein a newspaper is published which is nearest to the proposed location of the bank; and at least fourteen days before the date fixed for said public hearing the subscribers shall mail a copy of said notice by registered mail, postage prepaid, to the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. If said board refuses to issue such certificate, no further proceedings shall be had, but the application may be renewed after one year from the date of such refusal, in which case notice of a public hearing thereon shall be published as herein provided.

Such board may require the subscribers to establish or provide for the establishment of a special guaranty fund, in an amount determined by the board, which shall be represented by cash, deposits or securities eligible for investment under any of the provisions of this chapter. Such fund shall be paid in, in full, to the corporation before it commences business. Said board shall issue regulations government the maintenance of and withdrawals from any such fund.

Section 6. The first meeting of the subscribers to the agreement of association shall be called by a notice signed either by that subscriber to the agreement who is designated therein for the purpose, or by a majority of the subscribers. Such notice shall state the time, place and purpose of the meeting. Seven days at least before the day appointed for the meeting, a copy of the notice shall be given to each subscriber, or left at his residence or usual place of business, or deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, and addressed to him at his residence or usual place of business. Another copy of said notice and an affidavit by one of the signers that the notice has been duly served shall be recorded with the records of the proposed corporation. If, however, all the incorporators shall, in writing endorsed upon the agreement of association, waive such notice and fix the time and place of the meeting, no notice shall be required. The subscribers to the agreement of association shall hold the franchise until the organization has been completed. At the first meeting, or at any adjournment thereof, the incorporators shall organize by the election by ballot of a temporary clerk, by the adoption of by-laws and by the election, in such manner as the by-laws may determine, of a president, a clerk of the corporation, a treasurer, a board of not less than eleven trustees, and such other officers as the by-laws may prescribe. All the officers so elected shall be sworn to the faithful performance of their duties. The temporary clerk shall make and attest a record of the proceedings until the clerk has been elected and sworn, including a record of the election and qualification of the clerk.

Section 7. The president and a majority of the trustees who are elected at the first meeting shall make, sign, and make oath to articles in duplicate, setting forth:-

(a) A true copy of the agreement of association, the names of the subscribers thereto, and the name, residence and post office address of each of the officers of the corporation; and

(b) The date of the first meeting and the successive adjournments thereof, if any.

One duplicate original of the articles so signed and sworn to shall be submitted to the board of bank incorporation, and the other, together with the records of the proposed corporation, to the commissioner of corporations and taxation, who shall examine the same and may require such amendments thereof or such additional information as he considers necessary. If he finds that the articles conform to sections four, five and six, and that section five has been complied with, he shall so certify and endorse his approval thereon. Thereupon the articles shall be filed in the office of the state secretary who upon receipt of fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, shall issue a certificate of incorporation in the following form:-

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Be it known that whereas (the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association) have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of (the name of the corporation), for the purpose (the purpose declared in the agreement of association) and have complied with the provisions of the statutes of this commonwealth in such case made and provided, as appears from the articles of organization of said corporation, duly approved by the commissioner of corporations and taxation and recorded in this office: Now, therefore, I (name of the secretary), secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby certify that said (the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association), their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as, and are hereby made, an existing corporation under the name of (name of the corporation) with the powers, rights and privileges, and subject to the limitations, duties and restrictions, which by law appertain thereto.

Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed, and the great seal of the commonwealth of Massachusetts hereunto affixed, this day of in the year (the date of the filing of the articles of organization).

The state secretary shall sign the certificate of incorporation and cause the great seal of the commonwealth to be affixed thereto, and such certificate shall have the force and effect of a special charter. The existence of every such corporation which is not created by special law shall begin upon the filing of the articles of organization in the office of the state secretary, who shall also cause a record of the certificate of incorporation to be made, and such certificate or such record, or a certified copy thereof, shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of the corporation.

Section 8. Meetings of the corporators and of the board of trustees of such corporation may be held in the town wherein the main office of the corporation is located, in a town of the commonwealth contiguous to such town, or in a town within the same county wherein such main office is located. Meetings of the board of investment of such corporation shall be held in the building wherein its main office is located, at any place in a town of the commonwealth contiguous to the town in which such main office is located, or at any other place within the same county wherein such main office is located.

Section 9. Such corporation shall have at least twenty-five corporators and may, at a legal meeting of the corporators, elect by ballot to be a corporator, any person who is a resident of the commonwealth, or any person who resides in a state contiguous thereto and within twenty-five miles of the main office of such corporation; provided, however, that not more than three corporators shall be nonresidents of the commonwealth at any one time. Corporators shall be elected for a term of ten years, except that any corporator may not continue serving upon reaching the age of seventy-five. No person shall serve as a corporator of more than one savings bank, and no corporator shall, after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, serve as an officer or director of a national bank, trust company, cooperative bank, savings and loan association or credit union. A corporator shall, at the time of his election or within thirty days thereafter, be a depositor of such corporation. Any person serving as a corporator of a savings bank may at the same time serve as a director or other officer of a trust company that does not make real estate mortgage loans and does not accept savings deposits from natural persons.

No person shall continue to be a corporator after removing from the commonwealth unless, at the annual meeting following such removal, the corporators shall vote to continue such person as a corporator subject to the limitations of this section applicable to nonresident corporators.

Any person may, at an annual or special meeting of the corporators, cease to be a corporator if, at least three days before such meeting, he has filed with the clerk a written notice of his intention so to do. If a corporator fails to attend two consecutive annual meetings, his membership may, by vote of the corporators at their next annual meeting, be declared forfeited; and such action and vote when recorded shall be evidence of such forfeiture. Not more than three-fifths of the corporators of any such corporation shall be trustees or officers thereof at any one time.

Section 9A. The annual meeting of the corporators of such corporation shall be held at such time as the by-laws direct. Special meetings may be held by order of the trustees or upon written request of the ten corporators addressed to the clerk who shall give notice of special meetings upon such order or request. In the absence or inability of the clerk to serve, the president or a vice president may give the notice or notices required by this section. At least seven days before the date of such meeting, notice of the meeting shall be given by mailing to each corporator a written or printed notice thereof and by advertisement in a newspaper published daily or weekly in the town wherein the main office of such corporation is situated, or if there be no such newspaper, then in a newspaper either published in the county wherein the town is situated or published in a county contiguous to said county and of general distribution. The names of those present at meetings shall be entered in the records of the corporation. A quorum shall consist of not less than thirteen incorporators or twenty-five per cent of the total number of corporators, whichever is the greater; provided, however, that not more than fifty corporators shall be necessary to constitute a quorum.

Section 10. Such corporation shall have a board of trustees, subject to the following provisions:-

1. Number. - The board shall consist of not less than eleven trustees and such additional number, if any, as may be provided in the by-laws.

2. Qualifications. - Each trustee shall be a resident of the commonwealth or be a resident of a state contiguous thereto and within twenty-five miles of the main office of such corporation; provided, that not more than one trustee shall be a nonresident of the commonwealth at any one time. A trustee shall at the time of his election or within thirty days thereafter, be a depositor of such corporation and shall not have reached the age of seventy-two years at the time of election. At least two trustees of each such board shall at the time of their election be residents of the city or town wherein the main office of such corporation is located.

3. Interlocking Restrictions. - No person shall be a trustee or other officer of two savings banks at the same time, except in the case of the purchase of assets and assumption of liabilities provided under section thirty-five. After January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, a trustee or other officer of a savings bank may at the same time be a director or other officer of a co-operative bank, credit union, state or federally-chartered savings and loan association, trust company, a bank holding company or an affiliate, or national banking association if, in such case, there is in force a permit therefor issued by the commissioner in writing with the reasons thereon stating why the public interest warrants its issuance, after reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard, who is hereby authorized to issue such permit if, in his judgment, it is not incompatible with the public interest, and to revoke any such permit whenever he finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, that the public interest warrants its revocation except that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any trustee or other officer who held such position at the time of incorporation of said savings bank. Any person serving as a trustee or other officer of a savings bank may at the same time serve as a director or other officer of a company that does not make real estate mortgage loans and does not accept savings deposits from natural persons.

4. Election. - All trustees shall be elected by and from the corporators, except that any vacancy in the board arising between annual meetings from death, resignation or otherwise, may be filled by the trustees until the next annual meeting at which the corporators may elect a trustee for the balance, if any, of the unexpired term. The trustees shall be divided into three groups as nearly equal in number as possible, and one of such groups shall be elected annually for a term of three years, provided, however, that during the minimum time necessary to accomplish the foregoing, one of said groups may be elected for a term of one year and one for a term of two years. Upon the election as trustee of a person who has not been theretofore a trustee of such corporation, the clerk shall send forthwith to the commissioner the name and address of such person and the commissioner thereupon shall transmit to such person a copy of the laws relating to savings banks as most recently compiled under the direction of the commissioner.

5. Termination of Office. - If a trustee fails to attend four consecutive regular quarterly meetings of the board of trustees, said board may declare his office to be vacant at its next regular quarterly meeting, and if a trustee fails to attend eight consecutive regular quarterly meetings of said board, it shall declare his office to be vacant at its next regular quarterly meeting, but this provision shall not apply to a trustee while he is serving on active duty as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States. Any trustee whose office is declared to be vacant as provided in this paragraph shall not be re-elected as a trustee except upon vote of at least two-thirds of all the corporators of such corporation passed at a subsequent annual meeting.

The by-laws may authorize the continuance, as honorary trustees, of those persons who shall have served as trustee for ten years or more. Such honorary trustee may be elected for an indefinite term and shall not be included in determining the minimum number of trustees provided under paragraph 1, or the number of trustees to be elected annually as provided in paragraph 4 of this section. Such honorary trustee shall not be deemed to be an officer or member of the board of trustees of such corporation, shall not receive compensation or be required to attend meetings or be authorized or required to perform any duties.

The office of any trustee who takes the benefit of any law of bankruptcy or insolvency, or who, on examination in a supplementary process proceeding, has been found unable to pay a judgment, shall thereby be vacated.

The commissioner may recommend the removal of any trustee, officer or employee who in his opinion has abused his trust, or has been negligent in the performance of his duties, and upon such recommendation the trustees may remove or discharge such trustee, officer or employee. The trustees shall act upon such recommendation within thirty days after receiving the same and neither such trustees nor the commissioner shall be personally liable for any action taken by them in good faith in connection with any such recommendation or removal.

Section 11. A regular meeting of the board of trustees of such corporation shall be held at least once in three months, for the purposes set forth in this section and for the transaction of other business. Special meetings may be called by the president, or shall be called by the clerk if requested in writing by at least three trustees. Notices of meetings shall be given in the manner and to the extent provided in the by-laws. A quorum shall consist of not less than a majority of the trustees, and if there be less than a quorum then a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting until the next regular meeting or until another time or times prior thereto. At each regular meeting the following action shall be taken:-

1. Statement of Condition. - The treasurer shall submit a statement of assets and liabilities of the corporation showing its condition as appears from its books, as of the close of the last business day of the preceding month or as of the close of a business day not more than ten days prior to the date of the meeting; and a copy of such statement shall be posted in a conspicuous place in its main office and in each office where it may be easily read by the public, and shall there remain until the next regular meeting of said board.

2. Report of Board of Investment. - The board of investment shall submit a report consisting of a detailed written statement containing the following information:- (a) for the period since the last regular meeting of the trustees, lists showing all loans made by the corporation; all changes in security pledged for loans and in the rates of interest charged thereon; all purchases and sales of stocks, bonds and notes; all securities acquired; all payments of taxes and insurance made by the corporation for the accounts of mortgagors and not repaid; all real estate acquired by foreclosure or of which possession shall have been taken; all contributions, donations and payments for memberships and services made pursuant to paragraph 29 of section two or section nine of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F and the total of all commissions paid for making or acquiring real estate loans; and (b) as of the date of the statement of condition referred to in paragraph 1 of this section, all real estate mortgage loans on which interest or required principal payments or both shall be more than six months overdue; all real estate mortgage loans concerning which taxes on the mortgaged property are unpaid for more than twelve months; all time loans, other than real estate mortgage loans, any payments upon which are more than ninety days overdue; and all bonds and other interest-bearing obligations on which principal and interest are overdue and unpaid for more than thirty days.

Said report shall be presented to the trustees present at the meeting or a copy thereof shall be furnished to each such trustee. A summary of said report containing a recapitulation of the several items, and such other portion of the contents thereof as may be determined at the meeting, shall be read or presented to the trustees present thereat.

3. Report of Payments. - The treasurer shall report at each regular meeting, in detail, all amounts paid by the corporation since the last regular meeting for services, fees or otherwise, to any member of the board of trustees or to any attorney of the corporation and all increases in salaries of officers granted since the last regular meeting; and shall report annually, at the first regular meeting of the trustees, following the annual meeting, the salaries, including bonuses if any, of all officers.

4. Records. - A record shall be made by the clerk at each meeting of the transactions of the trustees and of the names of those present, and a copy of the aforesaid report of the board of investment shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation.

Section 12. Such corporation shall have a board of investment of not less than five members, who shall be trustees of such corporation. Only one of the persons holding the offices or performing the duties of president, executive vice president, treasurer or clerk, shall, at the same time, be a member of the board of investment. Said board shall elect a clerk who may but need not be a member of the board.

The board shall approve all loans made or acquired by the corporation, all changes in security pledged, and the rates of interest charged, for loans; all purchases and sales of bonds, stocks or other securities; all foreclosures of mortgages of real estate and the sale of property held in foreclosure; and shall perform such other duties as the by-laws may prescribe; provided, however, that no member of such a board shall vote on any transaction involving a member of his immediate family. The board of investments may invite one or more trustees who are not members of said board to attend its meetings during such monthly, quarterly or semi-annual periods as said board may determine.

Meetings of the board of investment shall be held at least once in each month. A record shall be made at each meeting of the transactions of the board and of the names of those present; provided, however, that lists of loans or securities submitted to and considered or acted upon at such meeting may be incorporated by reference in said record if such lists are filed with the records of such meeting and are identified by the signatures of the clerk of said board and one or more members thereof. The approval of changes in security for loans made may be evidenced either by vote of the board of investment or by a statement signed by at least two of its members.

Section 13. In addition to the trustees and members of the board of investment, the officers of such corporation shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a treasurer, a clerk and, subject to applicable provisions of the by-laws, such other officers as from time to time may be determined by the trustees to be necessary for the management of the affairs of such corporation, provided that the duties of any such other officer shall not be in conflict with those of the president or treasurer. As used in this section and in sections sixteen, eighteen, nineteen and twenty-three, the term "operating officers" shall mean and include the president, vice presidents, any assistant vice presidents, the treasurer, any vice treasurer, assistant treasurers, any branch managers, any person performing the duties of auditor, and such other officers as may be designated as operating officers by vote of the board of trustees.

The president and at least one vice president shall be trustees. A vice president may perform the duties of the president to the extent authorized in the by-laws. The treasurer may, at the same time, be a vice president. A vice treasurer or an assistant treasurer may perform all the duties of the treasurer.

The clerk shall be the clerk of the corporation and of the trustees, but no operating officer shall be the clerk. No operating officer of such corporation shall hold the office or perform the duties of president, vice president, cashier or treasurer of a national banking association or a trust company, and such operating officer shall be governed by the provisions of section ten with respect to holding office in another savings bank or in a co-operative bank or federal savings and loan association.

Section 14. The president, vice presidents, clerk of the corporation and such members of the board of trustees as may be required to be elected under the provisions of section ten shall be elected at the annual meeting. If any such office becomes vacant during the year the trustees may, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, fill the vacancy until the next annual meeting.

The members of the board of investment, the treasurer, vice treasurer, assistant treasurers and such other officers as may be determined to be necessary as provided in section thirteen, shall be elected by the trustees and shall hold office during their pleasure, and the trustees may fill vacancies in such offices at any time.

All trustees and other officers shall be sworn, and shall hold their several offices until others are elected and qualified in their stead; and a record of such qualification shall be made and preserved with the records of such corporation. If a person elected as trustee or other officer of such corporation does not, within forty-five days thereafter, take the oath of office, his office thereupon shall become vacant; provided, that such oath may be taken in person at any office of such corporation or may be taken in writing before a notary public or justice of the peace and transmitted to such corporation within said period.

Section 15. Each person elected to office at the annual meeting or at any other meeting of the corporators or trustees who is not present at the meeting at which he was elected shall be notified, in writing, of such election by the clerk of the corporation. Such notice shall be sent within ten days after such meeting to the last known address of such person.

Within sixty days after the annual meeting, the clerk shall cause to be published in a newspaper, as provided in section nine A, a list containing the following information: (a) the names of the corporators indicating those who are trustees; and (b) the names of the president, vice presidents, treasurer, members of the board of investment, and members of the auditing committee referred to in section sixteen.

Said list of names so published shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation. A copy of said list shall be furnished to the commissioner within ten days after such publication, and shall be open to public inspection for such reasonable time as the commissioner may determine.

A clerk who knowingly neglects to give such notice of election or to cause said list to be published, or who knowingly causes a false list to be published, and a person who, subsequent to the period prescribed by section fourteen for taking the oath of office, knowingly publishes or circulates or knowingly causes to be published or circulated a printed notice containing the name of a person as an officer of such corporation who has not taken the oath of office, shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars.

Section 16. At the first meeting of the trustees following the annual meeting they shall elect an auditing committee of not less than three trustees who shall not be operating officers or members of the board of investment. The members of such committee shall take an oath of office in the manner and within the period prescribed by section fourteen, and a record thereof shall be made and preserved as provided in said section. The trustees may elect or authorize to be appointed such other committees as the by-laws may provide or as the trustees from time to time may determine. The trustees shall authorize the compensation, if any, to be paid to the members of the committees.

Section 17. The by-laws of such corporation may be amended by the corporators at any regular or special meeting. The clerk shall attest and transmit to the commissioner a copy of all by-laws adopted and, within fourteen days after the adoption of any amendment, a copy of such amendment.

Section 18. All operating officers and employees of such corporation, and all other officers having access to its cash or negotiable securities, shall give bond to such corporation at its expense in such amounts and with such surety or sureties and conditions as the commissioner may prescribe. The trustees may require bonds of such other officers or agents as they deem advisable. The persons required to give bond may be included in one or more blanket or schedule bonds; provided, however, that such bonds are approved by the commissioner as to the amounts and conditions thereof and as to the sureties thereon. The commissioner may prescribe the manner of custody and safekeeping of such bonds by the corporation.

Section 19. No such corporation shall, except as hereinafter provided, make any loan or extend credit in any other manner to any of its operating officers or to any member of its board of investment, and no such operating officer or member shall, except as hereinafter provided, borrow from or otherwise become indebted to such corporation or be surety for loans by it to others or, directly or indirectly, whether acting individually or as trustee holding property in trust for another person, be an obligor for money borrowed of the corporation; provided, however, that with the prior approval of a majority of the entire board of investment, such corporation may make a loan or extend credit to an operating officer, who is not a trustee of such corporation, whether acting individually or as trustee holding property in trust for another person, in an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars on a loan or extension of credit, secured or unsecured, and in an amount not exceeding sixty thousand dollars on a loan secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a single family dwelling which is occupied or which is to be occupied by such operating officers; and provided, further, that such corporation shall not give a preferential rate of interest, or other preferential terms on any such loan or extension of credit to such operating officer.

If any operating officer or member, either individually or as such trustee, becomes the owner of real estate upon which a mortgage is held by the corporation, his office shall become vacant at the expiration of sixty days thereafter unless prior thereto he has ceased to be the owner of the real estate or the mortgagee shall have been discharged or assigned; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not apply to any operating officer, who is not a trustee of such corporation and becomes the owner of real estate upon which a mortgage is held by the corporation, securing a loan in an amount not exceeding sixty thousand dollars on real estate improved with a single family dwelling which is occupied or which is to be occupied by such operating officer. The provisions of this section shall not apply to loans made to any operating officer or member of the board of investment on deposit books, or to loans as are guaranteed or insured in whole or in part as authorized by chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five or by any regulation thereunder.

Section 20. Every such corporation shall be required to make an annual report to the commissioner of any loan or extension of credit in any manner to any officer, trustee, or corporator of the corporation. Said corporation shall also be required to make an annual report to the commissioner of any loan or extension of credit in any manner to a fraternal organization, voluntary association, partnership or corporation, the majority interest of which is owned or controlled by an officer, trustee or corporator of said corporation.

Said report to the commissioner shall consist of, but not be limited to, the following (a) the original amount of the loan, (b) the date of the loan, (c) the type of loan, (d) if the loan is secured in any manner, the type of secured asset and its valuation, (e) the terms of the payment, (f) the current balance, and (g) the amount of any principal or interest payments in default, if any, and the length of such default.

Section 21. In addition to the duties imposed by law upon the treasurer of a bank, or the officer or employee thereof charged with the duties and functions usually performed by the treasurer, he shall also be responsible for the performance of all acts and duties required of such corporation by the provisions of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven to one hundred and sixty-eight, inclusive, except in so far as such performance has been expressly imposed on some other officer or employee of such bank by its regulations or by-laws or by provision of law.

Section 22. Any officer, director, trustee or employee of any bank, who knowingly and wilfully does any act forbidden to him or to such bank by any provision of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven to one hundred and sixty-eight, inclusive, or who knowingly and wilfully aids or abets the doing of any act so forbidden to such bank or to any other officer, director, trustee, agent or employee thereof, or who knowingly and wilfully fails to do any act required of him by any such provision, or who knowingly and wilfully fails to do any act which is required of such bank by any such provision the performance of which is placed upon him by section twenty-one, shall, if no other penalty against him in his aforesaid capacity is specifically provided, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 23. Such corporation shall not negotiate, take or receive a fee, brokerage, commission, gift or other consideration, for or on account of a loan made by or on behalf of such corporation, other than appears on the face of the note or contract by which such loan purports to be or is made; but this section shall not prohibit a reasonable charge for services in the examination of property and titles and for the preparation and recording of conveyances and other instruments pertaining to its loans, nor charges by such corporation for any services which by law it is authorized to render, nor premiums or charges in connection with its construction loans or the sale or purchase, or commitments therefor, of real estate mortgages for its own account.

No trustee, officer or employee of such corporation shall ask for, take or receive, directly or indirectly, a fee, brokerage, commission, gift or other consideration for or on account of a loan made or acquired by or on behalf of such corporation; except that with the prior approval of the board of investment evidenced by a unanimous vote of its members present and entitled to vote at the meeting at which the vote is passed such corporation may pay to any trustee who is not an operating officer or member of the board of investment, or to any partnership, association or corporation with which he is connected, a reasonable commission for obtaining real estate mortgage loans made or acquired for the account of such bank, provided, however, that such trustee and such partnership, association or corporation, if any, is or are engaged in the business of purchasing, selling, procuring or placing real estate mortgage loans.

Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 24. Any officer, agent, clerk or servant of a savings bank who pays or authorizes the payment of any dividend or interest in violation of the provisions of section twenty-nine shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

Section 25. At least once during each twelve months following their elections and oftener if required by the commissioner, the auditing committee, referred to in this section sixteen, shall cause an examination and audit to be made of the books, securities, cash, assets, liabilities, income and expenditures of such corporation, including a trial balance of the deposit accounts. Such examination and audit shall be made in such form and manner and at such time within said twelve months as the commissioner may prescribe, by a certified public accountant not connected with the corporation. Within thirty days after their election, the auditing committee shall appoint such accountant and written notice thereof shall be given forthwith to the commissioner, and such appointment shall be subject to his approval. Such examination and audit shall be made for the period elapsed since the preceding examination and audit or for such other period as may be prescribed by the commissioner.

Such accountant shall direct and supervise the making of said examination and audit and shall report to the auditing committee the result thereof. At the next meeting of the trustees thereafter, the committee shall render a report which shall be read, stating in detail the nature, extent and result of the examination and audit. The committee shall file with the commissioner a copy of the report of the accountant within ten days after its receipt by the committee. Said accountant and the auditing committee shall certify and make oath that the reports made by them under this section are correct according to their best knowledge and belief and such reports shall be filed and preserved with the records of such corporation. If the committee fails to cause to be made an examination and audit as herein provided, the commissioner shall cause such examination and audit to be made by a certified public accountant in such form and manner as the commissioner may prescribe, and the expense thereof shall be paid by such corporation.

Section 26. Every such corporation shall, annually, within fifteen days after the last business day of October, make a report to the commissioner in such form as he may prescribe, showing accurately its condition at the close of business on that day, and containing such other information as the commissioner may require. The president or in his absence or disability a vice president, the treasurer or in his absence or disability the vice treasurer or any assistant treasurer, and a majority of the auditing committee shall sign the report and certify on oath that it is correct according to their best knowledge and belief.

Every such corporation shall post in a prominent place and in a conspicuous manner in the lobby of each of its banking offices, a balance sheet which presents fairly, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, including required footnote disclosure, its conditions as of the last business day of its fiscal year, with comparative figures as of the end of the previous fiscal year. Said balance sheet shall be posted not later than fifteen days after the end of the corporation's fiscal year and shall remain posted until replaced by the following year's posting. Said balance sheet shall be printed at the expense of the corporation and copies shall be made available to its depositors upon request. Each such corporation which fails to post or print any such balance sheet in accordance with this section shall pay to the state treasurer ten dollars for each day that it fails to so post or print such balance sheet, unless excused by the commissioner for cause.

Section 27. Such corporation shall establish and maintain such surplus accounts as may be determined by the trustees of such corporation to be reasonable and prudent to transact the business for which the corporation is organized. Such surplus accounts may be used to meet losses, contingencies and adjustments arising out of or incidental to the operation of its business and for such other purposes as the trustees from time to time may determine. As used in this chapter, the term "surplus" shall mean and include profit and loss, undivided profits and surplus accounts.

The trustees shall, as of the close of its fiscal year, transfer from profit and loss or undivided profits to a specially designated surplus account, a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the whole amount of deposits. Such surplus account shall be determined by the trustees upon depletion of the other surplus accounts. The amount required to be transferred to such specially designated surplus account shall constitute and be considered a required minimum addition to surplus for purposes of section eleven of chapter sixty-three.

Such corporation shall notify the commissioner by written notice in the event that the net income listed in the annual report required under section twenty-six indicates a deficit. Such notification shall be transmitted as soon as possible after the annual report is completed, describing in summary form the circumstances surrounding any such deficit.

Section 27A. Such corporation shall maintain the reserve balances required by the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 461 (b)), and in the event such reserves are less than required by said act, such corporation shall not make any new loans or investments until the required reserves shall be restored. The commissioner may notify such corporation to make good such reserve and if it fails to do so within thirty days thereafter, he may certify to the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., pursuant to section four of chapter forty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, that such corporation is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized and thereafter such fund shall have and may exercise all of the powers and privileges granted to it by said chapter forty-three.

Section 28. Before the declaration of any dividends as provided in sections twenty-nine, thirty and thirty-one, the auditing committee, referred to in section sixteen, shall report to the trustees the actual or estimated surplus at the beginning of the accounting period, the estimated income, expenses, gains, losses, and taxes for such period, the estimated dividends to be paid and the estimated surplus remaining at the end of such period. A copy of such report shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation. All dividends must be authorized and declared by the trustees.

Section 29. The payment of ordinary dividends shall be subject to the conditions, limitations and requirements of this section.

1. Dividend Period. - An ordinary dividend shall be authorized and declared by the trustees at least every six months, for such periods as shall be provided by the by-laws. In the event that such corporation at any time changes its dividend periods, an ordinary dividend may be authorized and declared for such time as may be necessary to effect an adjustment in dividends to the new periods. Ordinary dividends shall be declared, not more than four months before the date payable as shown by the report required by section twenty-eight, after making such provisions as the trustees shall determine, to credit to systematic savings account deposits or to reserve, subject to the approval of the commissioner, the bonus dividends on such deposits.

2. Rate and Computation. - Ordinary dividends shall be at such rate as the trustees shall determine and, if not withdrawn, shall be treated as deposits in computing any dividends thereafter paid. If the by-laws or regulations so provide, such dividends may be declared (a) upon deposits of one, two, three, four or five months standing at the end of each dividend period; provided, however, that in such case, if the by-laws or regulations of the corporation so provide, a deposit made on or before the ninth day after the day on which deposits begin to draw dividends or interest, or if such ninth day be a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, on or before the next business day succeeding such ninth day, and remaining on deposit through the balance of the monthly period may be construed as having been on deposit one full month within the meaning of this section, or (b) from the date of deposit to the end of the dividend period on sums which are on deposit at the end of the dividend period or (c) from the date of deposit to the date of withdrawal on sums withdrawn before the end of the dividend period, so long as the account in which such sums were on deposit shall remain open until the end of the dividend period with a balance of at least ten dollars, and from the date of deposit to the end of the dividend period on all sums remaining on deposit at the end of each dividend period. If the by-laws and regulations so provide, and if ordinary dividends are declared on deposits as provided in either of clauses (a) and (b) of this paragraph, and of the deposits authorized by chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D may be received in a separate class of account on which dividends shall be declared at the time when and for the same dividend period as that for which any ordinary dividend. Dividends on any such class of account shall be payable at the end of the dividend period on deposits as provided in clause (c) of this paragraph. Such dividends shall be treated as ordinary dividends for all other purposes of this chapter. If the by-laws and regulations so provide, dividends declared as provided in this section and in section thirty may be computed as if such dividends had been declared and paid at uniform intervals, daily or otherwise, within the dividend period and the amount so paid for each such interval had been added to deposits for the succeeding interval.

3. Minimum Deposits. - Such corporation, by its by-laws, may provide that fractional parts of a dollar shall not be included in principal in computing dividends, and may provide that a dividend shall not be declared or paid on deposits of less than ten dollars; but dividends for each full dollar shall be paid on school savings deposit accounts having balances of three dollars or more.

4. Limitations. - If the net income available for an ordinary dividend, as shown by said report of the auditing committee, does not amount to one per cent of the deposits if said period is six months, or a proportional percentage thereof if the period is less than six months, no dividend shall be declared or paid except such as shall be approved in writing by the commissioner. The aggregate amount of ordinary dividends declared with respect to any twelve-month period, other than in the case of a change in dividend periods referred to in paragraph 1 of this section, shall not exceed the estimated net income of the corporation for such twelve-month period except with the written approval of the commissioner.

Section 30. The payment of additional dividends on special notice account deposits and the crediting and payment of bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall be subject to the conditions, limitations and requirements of this section.

1. Dividend Period. - An additional dividend on special notice account deposits shall be authorized and declared by the trustees at the same time and for the same periods as and for which ordinary dividends are declared. Additional dividends on special notice account deposits shall be declared as shown by the report required by section twenty-eight, after making such provisions as the trustees shall determine, to credit to systematic savings account deposits or to reserve, subject to the approval of the commissioner, for the payment of bonus dividends on such deposits. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall, in accordance with such election, be credited thereto either on each of the dates fixed for ordinary dividend payments or when such bonus dividends become payable under the provisions of the applicable systematic savings account agreements and shall be paid from the sum or sums so credited or from the reserve therefor.

2. Rate and Computation. - Additional dividends on special notice account deposits shall be at such rate, not less than one-eighth of one per cent per annum nor more than the maximum established by the appropriate federal supervisory agency, as the trustees shall determine. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall be at the rate specified in the applicable systematic savings account agreement. If not withdrawn, additional dividends on special notice account deposits shall be treated as deposits added to the account upon which declared and, in computing the dividend next following, shall be considered as having been on deposit for the preceding dividend period. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits, to the extent that they become payable and subject to withdrawal, shall be treated as deposits added to the account upon which paid and, in computing the dividend next following, shall be considered as having been on deposit since the date upon which such bonus dividends become payable. By-laws and regulations to provide additional dividends may be declared on special notice account deposits as provided with respect to ordinary dividends in any of clauses (a), (b) and (c) of paragraph 2 of section twenty-nine. Bonus dividends on systematic savings account deposits shall be computed as specified in the applicable systematic savings account agreement.

Section 31. Dividends on term deposits shall be paid at such rates, at such times, and in such manner, as may be provided in the plan or plans pursuant to which such term deposits were received.

Section 32. The treasurer of such corporation, at least once in each year, shall send notice by mail to each depositor who for the six months last preceding has not been entitled to a dividend on the whole amount standing to his credit because the same exceeds the amount on which a dividend is allowed, specifying the amount not entitled to dividend.

Section 33. Such corporation may, if authorized by vote of at least two-thirds of its corporators at a meeting specially called to consider the subject, liquidate its affairs and be dissolved subject to the conditions, limitations and requirements of this section.

1. Commissioner's Approval. - Before such a liquidation and dissolution may be effected, the commissioner shall be satisfied that such corporation has given at least thirty days' notice to each other savings bank having its main office in the same county, of its willingness to enter into negotiations with a view to consolidation or merger and that no consolidation or merger with any such other savings bank can be arranged upon terms satisfactory to the commissioner. Prior to the vote authorizing such liquidation and dissolution the commissioner shall have approved in writing the proposed liquidation and dissolution of such corporation as being in the best interests of its depositors.

2. Liquidating Committee. - If such liquidation and dissolution are so approved and voted, a committee of three shall thereupon be elected by and from the trustees and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner, shall liquidate the assets. After satisfying all debts of the liquidating corporation, said committee shall distribute the remaining proceeds among the depositors as of the date of the vote of liquidation, and other persons entitled thereto, according to their several interests.

3. Termination of Charter. - Upon such a vote to liquidate and dissolve by such corporation, its charter shall become void except for the purpose of discharging its existing obligations and liabilities.

4. Unclaimed Dividends. - Funds representing unclaimed dividends in liquidation and remaining in the hands of the liquidating committee for six months after the date of the final payment in liquidation shall be deposited by them, together with all books and papers of the liquidating corporation, with the commissioner. Such funds shall be deposited in one or more trust companies or national banks to the credit of the commissioner in his official capacity, in trust for the depositors of the liquidating corporation and other persons entitled thereto, according to their several interests. Upon receipt of evidence satisfactory to him, the commissioner may pay over the moneys so held by him to the persons respectively entitled thereto. In case of doubt or of conflicting claims, he may require an order of the supreme judicial court authorizing and directing the payment thereof. He may apply the interest earned by the money so held to the defraying of expenses incurred in the payment of such unclaimed dividends. At the expiration of twelve months from the date of receipt of such funds by the commissioner, such portion thereof as still remains in his possession shall be disposed of as provided in section thirty-five of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, and such portion shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter two hundred A.

Section 34. Any two or more such corporations may merge or consolidate into a single corporation upon such terms as shall have been approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the board of trustees of each corporation and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration. If the commissioner is satisfied that a merger or consolidation of a savings bank proposing liquidation, as provided in section thirty-three, can be effected, upon terms approved by him, with another savings bank and if he finds that such merger or consolidation is in the interests of depositors of the savings banks concerned, such merger or consolidation may be effected on such terms and subject to the direction of the commissioner. If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each of the consolidating corporations at meetings specially called to consider the subject. Notice of each such meeting shall be given by the clerk in accordance with the provisions of section nine A. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of the consolidating corporation, respectively, has complied with all the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. Upon consolidation of any such corporations, as herein provided:-

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating corporations shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining corporation, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing corporation and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing corporation, without further act or deed, and such continuing corporation shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing corporation from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such corporations, and shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing corporation's rights, obligations and relations to any depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing corporation shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any depositor in any such corporation, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any such consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions of section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C relative to the limitations on deposits shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating corporations is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation had not been made; or the continuing corporation may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing corporation was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing corporation that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing corporation if consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any of the discontinuing corporations may be completed by the continuing corporation, and publication begun by the discontinuing corporation may be continued in the name of the discontinuing corporation. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such corporation actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing corporation shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing corporation which commenced the foreclosure.

A new name, or the name of any of the consolidating corporations may be adopted as the name of the continuing corporation at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing corporation upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing corporation.

Any merger or consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus accounts as defined in section twenty-seven, and other surplus accounts, of any of the consolidating corporations, bears to its liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating corporations, and any consolidating corporation having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its depositors.

Section 34A. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more co-operative banks, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy, may merge or consolidate into a single savings bank or into a single co-operative bank, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of trustees of each corporation and of the board of directors of each co-operative bank, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the corporators of each corporation and shareholders of each co-operative bank in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of trustees and directors, and certified copies of the vote of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearing as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the depositors and shareholders of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each corporation at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each co-operative bank present, qualified to vote, and voting at meetings of each co-operative bank specially called for that purpose. Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section nine A and section forty-seven of chapter one hundred and seventy. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and co-operative banks setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. and from the insurer for such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided for:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeding such percentage of any other consolidating institution, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any savings bank and the offices of any co-operative bank merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

Section 34B. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more federal thrift institutions may merge or consolidate into a single savings bank or into a single federal thrift institution, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of trustees of each corporation and by the board of each federal thrift institution, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the corporators of each corporation and by each federal thrift institution in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of trustees and directors, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearings as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the depositors and shareholders of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each corporation at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of each such federal thrift institution as required by any applicable law or regulation governing such institution.

Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section nine A and any applicable provision governing a federal thrift institution. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and federal thrift institutions setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. or the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions as herein provided:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institution actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the guaranty fund, surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any savings bank and the offices of any federal thrift institution merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, a federal thrift institution shall mean a federal savings and loan association or a federal mutual savings bank which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 34C. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a savings bank, subject to approval of the commissioner, may convert to a stockholder owned form of corporation.

Any savings bank which converts to a stockholder owned form of corporation shall have all the powers and privileges of a savings bank.

The commissioner shall prescribe from time to time such rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper in carrying out the provisions of this section. Such regulation shall be similar to regulations promulgated under Title 12 USC 1725 or Title 12 USC 1464, provided, however, that the commissioner may make such adjustments and exceptions as in his judgment are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section or to facilitate compliance therewith.

Any regulation, or any amendment or repeal of any such regulation issued under the provisions of this section after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A shall be submitted to the general court for approval. The commissioner shall file the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal with the clerk of the house of representatives, together with a statement that the pertinent provisions of said chapter thirty A have been complied with. Any regulations filed with the general court under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a summary of the regulations in layman's terms. The clerk shall refer such regulation to the joint committee on banks and banking within five days of the filing thereof. The committee shall consider the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal and shall report to the general court within forty-five days whether the same should be adopted in the manner submitted. The clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives shall recommend to the general court the form and procedure which shall be followed in considering the approval of a proposed regulation, amendment or repeal, provided, however, that approval or disapproval shall be by joint resolution.

The clerk of the senate shall cause any regulation, amendment or repeal, approved by both branches of the general court within seventy-five days from the time of filing of the same with the clerk of the house of representatives, to be forwarded to the governor for his approval; provided, however, that any such regulation, amendment or repeal which is not approved by the general court and the governor within thirty days of such filing shall be deemed to have been disapproved.

If the governor approves any regulation, amendment or repeal submitted to him, as hereinbefore provided, he shall forward the same to the state secretary who shall publish the same in accordance with section five of said chapter thirty A.

Emergency regulations may be adopted during the prorogation of the general court in the manner provided by section five of chapter thirty A; provided, however, that such regulation shall be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives for submission of the next session of the general court for approval as hereinbefore provided; and provided, further, that such regulation shall not remain in force for more than ninety days after the general court has convened for such session.

Section 34D. Any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company or a savings bank or cooperative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law. A federally-chartered stock corporation shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation, which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 35. With the approval of the commissioner, any such corporation may advance or loan upon or purchase the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or of any federally-chartered bank, including any state-chartered bank in possession of the commissioner under sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven and any state-chartered bank assisted by or in possession of its insurer and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more banks so located. The request for such approval shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. Such advance, loan or purchase may be made upon such terms and conditions as shall have been approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the trustees of the corporation and the applicable board of such other bank.

Such corporation or corporations making or participating in such an advance, loan or purchase for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the deposit and other liabilities of any other state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. In the event of such approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the investment of funds of savings banks and to the limitations upon deposits therein shall not apply.

The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. and the insurer for each such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each affected insurer have been made for such action.

The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to the deposit or other liabilities as hereinbefore provided. In the case of any new savings bank formed for the purpose of purchasing any or all the assets and assuming any or all the liabilities of any state-chartered bank in possession or assisted as aforesaid, the commissioner may impose such other and further conditions and restrictions concerning the business, investments and operations of such new savings bank as he may deem necessary or advisable. So much of sections ten and thirteen as provide that no person shall hold an office in two savings banks at the same time shall not prevent an officer or trustee of any other savings bank from serving as an officer or trustee of such new bank, or of a state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank or the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a savings bank hereunder.

Before all or substantially all of the assets or stock of any such corporation shall be sold to a corporation other than one chartered under chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those corporators present and voting at a special meeting called for that purpose, of the corporation proposing to sell its assets or stock. Notice of such special meeting shall be given by the clerk in accordance with the provisions of section nine A.

For the purposes of this section, a federally-chartered bank shall mean a federal savings bank, a federal savings and loan association, a national bank association which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 36. Any such corporation may upon a majority vote of its board of investment, petition the board of bank incorporation for authority to surrender its charter in order to accept a savings bank charter from the federal government. If the board of bank incorporation determines that public convenience and advantage will be promoted thereby, it shall grant such authority, which grant shall be valid for one year from the date thereof. Upon the receipt of such petition, said board shall assign a date and place for public hearing thereon and shall furnish such corporation a form of notice relative thereto. Such corporation shall publish the notice at least once a week for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers designated by said board and published in the town wherein the main office of such corporation is located or, if there is no newspaper in said town, in the town wherein a newspaper is published and which is nearest to the location of the main office of such corporation. If the board refuses to approve such petition, no further proceeding therein, except as authorized by chapter thirty A, shall be had, but the petition may be renewed after one year from the date of the refusal, in which case notice of a public hearing thereon shall be published as hereinbefore provided. If the board grants approval of said petition, the state charter of said bank shall become void provided: (1) the action of said board of investment in filing such petition has been approved by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the corporators at the annual meeting, or at a meeting specially called for the purpose and by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the trustees at a regular meeting or at a meeting specially called for the purpose, and (2) the commissioner has been notified in writing by the federal supervisory authority that such corporation has been granted a federal charter.

Upon the acceptance by such corporation of a federal charter, it shall cease to be a member bank in the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., and shall be entitled to receive from the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., an amount not to exceed the actual deposits made by it pursuant to the provisions of section four of chapter forty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two, as amended, less its indebtedness, if any, to said Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc. All amounts required to be paid by the corporation pursuant to the provisions of section one of chapter forty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, as amended, shall be retained by the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., as a charge for the insurance of the deposits of such corporation while it was a member bank. Such corporation shall, however, participate in any distribution made under the provisions of section ten of said chapter forty-three, but such distribution shall be limited to an amount equal to the amount the corporation would have received had the Deposit Insurance Fund been liquidated at the time such corporation accepted its federal charter.

Section 37. Any such corporation involved in the business of home financing may convert to a federal savings and loan association in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of the Federal Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 upon a vote of fifty-one per cent of the votes of the corporators present and voting at an annual meeting or at a special meeting called to consider such action. Notice of such meeting to vote on conversion shall be mailed at least twenty, and not more than thirty, days prior to the date of the meeting to each corporator of record at his last known address as shown on the books of such corporation. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of such meeting of the members, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed in the office of the commissioner within ten days after the date of such meeting. Such certified copy of the proceedings of such meeting, when so filed, shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. Within three months after the date of such meeting, the corporation shall take such action in the manner prescribed and authorized by the laws of the United States as shall make it a federal savings and loan association.

There shall be filed with the commissioner a copy of the charter issued to such federal savings and loan association by the federal home loan bank board or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal savings and loan association, certified by the secretary or assistant secretary of the federal home loan bank board. A copy of the charter, or of such certificate, shall be filed by the association with the state secretary and with the office of the clerk of the city or town in which the association conducts its business. Any failure to file any such instruments as aforesaid shall not affect the validity of such conversion. Upon the grant to any association of a charter by the federal home loan bank board, the savings bank receiving such charter shall cease to be a savings bank incorporated under this chapter and shall no longer be subject to the supervision and control of the commissioner.

After compliance with this section and approval of such conversion by the shareholders and upon the approval of the conversion by the appropriate federal supervising authority to the extent required by applicable provisions of federal law and regulations thereunder, and the issuance by such authority of a federal savings and loan association charter, such corporation shall cease to be a member bank of the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., and shall cease to be a participating bank in the Savings Bank Employees Retirement Association.

Upon the conversion of any such corporation into a federal savings and loan association, the corporate existence of such bank shall not terminate, but such federal association shall be deemed to be a continuation of the entity of the association so converted and all property of the converted savings bank, including its rights, titles, and interests in and to all property of whatsoever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, or pertaining to it or which would inure to it, shall immediately, by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed, remain and be vested in and continue and be the property of such federal association into which the savings bank has converted itself, and such federal association shall have, hold and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held and enjoyed by the converting savings bank, and such federal association as of the time of the taking effect of such conversion shall continue to have and succeed to all the rights, obligations, and relations of the converting savings bank. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the converting savings bank is a party shall not be deemed to have been abated or to have been discontinued by reason of such conversion, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order, or decree in the same manner as if such conversion into such federal association had not been made and such federal association resulting from such conversion may continue such action in its corporate name as a federal association, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against it, which might have been rendered for or against the converting savings bank theretofore involved in such judicial proceedings.

After receipt by the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., hereinafter called the Fund, of notice from the commissioner that he had been notified in writing by such federal supervising authority that the conversion of such corporation has been completed and that such federal savings and loan association, and that he has received from the state secretary a certificate that such corporation, hereinafter called the predecessor corporation, has been duly recorded for dissolution, the following further provisions shall apply.

The Fund shall pay to said succeeding association from the fund representing deposits of member banks, hereinafter called the liquidity fund, an amount equal to not more than the aggregate of all deposits made by the predecessor corporation held in said liquidity fund on the effective date of the conversion, less all indebtedness of such corporation to the Fund; provided, that no part of the surplus, undivided profits or other reserves held by the central fund in said liquidity fund shall be so paid.

An amount equal to the annual assessments paid and which have become due and payable by the predecessor corporation while a member bank to the deposit insurance fund of the Fund shall be retained by the Fund as a charge for insurance of the shares of such corporation while a member bank of said deposit insurance fund. All other assessments paid by the predecessor corporation to said deposit insurance fund shall continue to be held by the central fund until all losses and estimated losses and expenses of all corporations being assisted by the Fund from said deposit insurance fund shall and being liquidated at the time that such corporation ceased to be a member bank shall have been paid or provided for. Thereafter the succeeding association shall be entitled to receive from the Fund the portions, if any, of such other assessments not so paid or required as shall be determined by the Fund with the approval of the commissioner and such determination shall be final and conclusive upon the Fund, the predecessor corporation and the succeeding association and all other persons then or thereafter interested; provided, however, that the supreme judicial court shall have jurisdiction to receive and to confirm or modify such determination upon the petition of the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association filed within ten days after receipt thereby of notice of such determination. The Fund, in its discretion and subject to the approval of the commissioner, may make disposition of such other assessments, at any time after such conversion is completed, by adjustment pursuant to an agreement with the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association and may pay thereto such amount as may be so agreed upon.

The predecessor corporation or the succeeding association shall pay to said deposit insurance fund or make provision for payment thereto of a sum equal to three annual assessments, at the percentage rate in effect at the time the predecessor corporation ceased to be a member bank and computed on the basis of its deposits as shown by its last annual report to the commissioner preceding such conversion or, at its option or at the option of the succeeding association, as shown by the records of the predecessor corporation on the effective date of conversion. Until such sum shall have been paid in full, payments on account thereof shall be made annually or oftener by the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association; provided, that not less than one-third of such sum shall be paid annually. If any such one-third shall not be so paid or if, at the end of three years from the time the predecessor corporation ceased to be a member bank such sum shall not have been paid in full, the entire balance thereof may be recovered by the Fund, together with interest thereon, in any manner provided by law for the collection of debts. The predecessor corporation or the succeeding association may authorize the deduction of such sum in whole or in part, from the amount, if any, of the portions of said other assessments to which the succeeding association may be entitled as hereinbefore provided. If, however, by federal law or regulation a federal savings and loan association converting therefrom to a savings bank, is required to pay to the federal savings and loan insurance corporation a sum equal to annual premiums or assessments for other than a period of three years, then the number of annual assessments payable to said share insurance fund under this section shall be for the same number of years as is so required.

Section 38. Any federal savings and loan association may convert a savings bank under the provisions of this chapter upon a vote of fifty-one per cent or more votes of members of such federal savings and loan association present and voting at an annual meeting or at any special meeting called to consider such action. Notice of such meeting to vote on such conversion shall be mailed at least twenty, and not more than thirty, days prior to the date of the meeting to each member of record at his last known address as shown on the books of the associations.

Copies of the minutes of the proceedings of such meeting or members, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed in the office of the commissioner and mailed to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, D.C., within ten days after such meeting. Such verified copies of the proceedings of the meeting when so filed shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. At the meeting at which conversion is voted upon, the members shall also vote upon the persons who shall be the corporators and trustees of the state-chartered savings bank after conversion takes effect.

The commissioner may provide, by regulation, for the procedure to be followed by any such federal savings and loan association converting into a savings bank.

Upon the conversion of a federal savings and loan association into a savings bank authorized to conduct business in the commonwealth the corporate existence of such association shall not terminate, but such savings bank shall be deemed to be a continuation of the entity of the association so converted and all property of whatsoever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest, and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, or pertaining to it, or which would inure to it, shall immediately by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed remain and be vested in and continue and be the property of such savings bank into which the federal association has converted itself, and such savings bank shall have, hold and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held and enjoyed by the converting association and such savings bank as of the time of the taking effect of such conversion shall continue to have and succeed to all the rights, obligations, and relations of the converting association. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the converting federal association is a party shall not be deemed to have been abated or to have been discontinued by reasons of such conversion, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if such conversion into such savings bank had not been made and such savings bank resulting from such conversion may continue such action in its corporate name as a savings bank, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against it, which might have been rendered for or against the converting federal association theretofore involved in such judicial proceedings.

Upon the completion of the conversion of a federal savings and loan association into a savings bank under the provisions of this chapter, said savings bank shall become a member of the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., hereinafter called the Fund, and of the deposit insurance fund thereof. Before such succeeding corporation shall commence business as a savings bank, it shall pay into the liquidity fund of the Fund, an amount equal to the deposit required of a member bank thereof a similar size, as of the date of said certificate, plus such additional amount based upon the surplus of said reserve fund, as the directors of the Fund, with the approval of the commissioner, shall determine to be equitable. In addition to the payment to said reserve fund, the succeeding corporation shall pay to said deposit insurance fund or make provisions for payment thereto of a sum based upon the relation which the total amount of all assessments paid into said deposit insurance fund by all member banks, exclusive of annual assessments, plus the amount of the earned surplus account of said fund, less all losses and expenses incurred by said fund with respect to savings banks which it has assisted or liquidated, bears to the insured liabilities of all member banks; provided, that such payment shall be not less than the sum of six times the average applicable annual assessments paid by member banks during the preceding five years; and provided, further, that the succeeding corporation shall pay to said deposit insurance fund such proportion of the current annual assessments as shall have accrued to the date of said certificate.

After compliance with the foregoing requirements, the succeeding corporation shall thereafter be entitled to exercise all of the rights and privileges, and shall be subject to all of the duties and obligations of a savings bank and shall conduct its business subject to the provisions of this chapter and of other applicable laws, provided that, with the approval of the commissioner, the succeeding corporation shall have reasonable time after the effective date of the conversion within which to comply with any particular provisions of such laws not hereinbefore specifically provided for and which it shall be unable to comply with on or before said date.

The commissioner may require the succeeding corporation to divest itself, within a reasonable time after the effective date of the conversion, of any branch office not in conformity with law, if he shall determine that the public interest so requires.

Section 39. Fifteen or more savings banks may form the Savings Banks Employees Retirement Association, in this section and in sections forty and forty-one called the association, for the purpose of providing pensions for eligible employees of the participating banks who retire on account of age or disability. The association, in its name and by or through its authorized officers may (a) make agreements and investments subject to such limitations as from time to time may be prescribed by law or the by-laws of the association, (b) sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, (c) enforce liens and other obligations and foreclose mortgages held by the association on or with respect to real or personal property situated in the commonwealth or in any state or territory of the United States, (d) adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure, and (e) do such other acts and things as may be necessary to carry out the powers conferred upon it by law and its by-laws.

All savings banks established under the laws of the commonwealth, the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts, the Savings Banks Employees Retirement Association, the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council, and such other Massachusetts savings bank organizations as from time to time may be provided for in the by-laws of the association, and such of the respective employees of each of the foregoing as may be provided by such by-laws, shall be eligible for membership in the association. For the purposes of this section and sections forty and forty-one reference to "bank" or "banks" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include any or all of the organizations named or referred to in this paragraph, and a reference to "trustees" of a bank shall also, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include the governing body of each of such organizations.

Eligible employees may contribute a portion of their salaries or wages, to be deducted by the employing banks and paid to the association.

A participating bank may contribute to the funds of the association to the extent determined by its trustees, but its contributions for current services, as defined in the by-laws, on account of any employee shall not exceed fifteen per cent of his compensation.

A participating bank may also contribute for service, as defined in the by-laws, amounts necessary to provide eligible employees with an annuity or pension to begin at age sixty-five or later, such annuity or pension not to exceed sixty per cent of the highest average salary for any three successive years within the five years preceding retirement.

In the event that any employee who has been continuously in the employ of such a bank for ten years or more becomes incapacitated for further service by reason of physical or mental disability before age sixty-five, the employing bank may pay him a pension in an amount not to exceed two per cent of his average salary for the three years preceding the date of retirement for each year, not exceeding thirty years of continuous service with any and all banks as defined in the second paragraph of this section. Any pension paid on account of disability may be discontinued at any time by trustees of the employing bank, and shall be discontinued when any such pensioner substantially recovers his earning capacity or attains age sixty-five or the date the employee elects to have his pension or annuity commence.

The funds contributed by participating banks and member employees shall be held or used by the trustees of the association for the purchase of annuities or payment of pensions to eligible employees upon their retirement from service, for the payments to beneficiaries or representatives of any member employee of the participating bank dying before reaching the age of retirement, and for the payment to any such employee retiring from service before becoming entitled to a pension or annuity. Expenses necessary for the administration of the association shall be paid by participating banks, on a proportionate basis as provided in the by-laws.

In any calendar year, the association or a bank, by vote of its board of trustees, may directly supplement the retirement benefits being paid to the former employees or their beneficiaries on account of bank service provided, no supplement of a retirement benefit shall exceed the retirement benefit multiplied by the increase in the cost of living since the retirement began. The increase in the cost of living is the percentage by which the national monthly consumer price index for all urban consumers issued by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the last November before the year in which payment is made is greater than the beginning index figure. The beginning index figure is the average of such monthly consumer price index figures for the year in which a retirement benefit was first paid to or with respect to a former employee. No bank may become obligated to pay in future years any supplement authorized by this paragraph.

Section 40. The by-laws of the association shall be submitted to the commissioner and shall prescribe the manner in which, and the officers and agents by whom, the association may be conducted and the manner in which its funds may be invested and paid out. Such association shall be formed when its by-laws have been approved and agreed to by a majority of the trustees of each of fifteen or more savings banks, and have been approved by the commissioner. Such association shall annually, on or before December first, report to the commissioner such statements of its membership and financial transactions for the year ending on the preceding October thirty-first as the commissioner may consider necessary to show its business and standing. The commissioner may verify such statement by an examination of the books and papers of the association.

The association shall not be subject to chapter thirty-two or chapter one hundred and seventy-five or to such other provisions of law as relate to insurance companies or other retirement associations.

Section 41. The property of the association, the portion of the wages or salary of any employee deducted or to be deducted under sections thirty-nine and forty, the right of an employee to an annuity or pension, and all his rights in the funds of the association, shall be exempt from taxation and from the operation of any law relating to insolvency, and shall not be attached or taken on execution or other process to satisfy any debt or liability of the association, a participating bank, or any employee member of the association. No assignment of any right in or to said funds or of any pension or annuity payable under section thirty-nine shall be valid, except that deferred annuity contracts purchased by a participating bank on account of past service of eligible employees may be assigned to such bank prior to actual retirement.

Nothing in this section shall prevent an employee's annuity or pension from being attached, taken on execution, assigned, or subject to other process to satisfy a support order under chapter two hundred and eight, two hundred and nine, or two hundred and seventy-three.

SECTION 30. Section 12 of chapter 170 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by section 367 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Such corporation shall carry on its principal business at its main banking office, which shall not be changed except with the approval of the commissioner. The corporation, after such notice and hearing as the commissioner may require and with his written permission and under such regulations as he may approve, may establish and maintain one or more depots where moneys due the bank may be collected by the treasurer or other persons duly empowered by the directors upon such days as may be designated by vote of the board of directors; or may establish and maintain one or more branch offices (a) in the town wherein its main office is located, or (b) in other towns within the same county where, in the opinion of the commissioner, the public convenience and advantage would be served by the establishment of additional co-operative bank facilities, or (c) on a site in the commonwealth within forty miles from the premises of the main office where, in the opinion of the commissioner, the public convenience and advantage would be served by the establishment of additional co-operative bank facilities. Every application to establish and maintain one or more depots or branch offices shall be accompanied by payment of an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, for each depot or branch office applied for. Not more than three applications by a co-operative bank to establish a branch office under this paragraph outside of the county wherein its principal office is located shall be approved in any calendar year. Such corporation, upon the vote of two-thirds of the members present at a meeting called for that purpose and with the approval of the board of bank incorporation, may change the location of its main office to another town within the commonwealth by appropriate amendment of its agreement of association, a copy of which shall be filed forthwith with the state secretary. With the written consent of the commissioner, a branch office or depot may be closed, or the location thereof may be changed subject to the requirements and restrictions contained in this paragraph for the establishment of such branch or depot.

SECTION 31. Said section 12 of said chapter 170 is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 293 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The offices in the commonwealth of any bank consolidated or merged under sections forty-eight, forty-eight A, forty-eight B, forty-eight C or forty-eight E or all or substantially all of the assets and liabilities or stock which have been acquired under section forty-seven may be maintained as branch offices of such co-operative bank, with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner. No co-operative bank shall be given permission pursuant to this section more than three times in any one calendar year, either to acquire and maintain offices of any other bank whose main office is located outside of the county wherein the main office of such co-operative bank is located, or to establish a branch office outside of the county wherein its main office is located.

SECTION 32. Section 13 of said chapter 170 is hereby amended by striking out subsection 3B, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 343 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

3B. Any of the deposits in savings share accounts referred to in subsection 3 may, if the board of directors of such corporation so determine, be received as term deposits subject to regulations promulgated by the commissioner and to any other applicable law or regulation. Term deposits shall be evidenced by a certificate or other written instrument issued to the depositor to acknowledge receipt of such deposits and which sets forth the terms of the deposit.

For any such deposit with a maturity in excess of thirty days, any such corporation shall be required to mail to the depositor a written notification of maturity at least thirty days prior to the date of maturity of said deposit but in no event more than forty-five days prior to said date of maturity of said deposit.

SECTION 33. Section 16 of said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by chapter 116 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter and in other applicable provisions of law, no person individually and no two or more persons, as provided in section fifteen, shall hold more than six hundred serial shares and more than the combined total of six thousand paid-up and savings shares in the denomination of one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred serial shares and more than the combined total of three thousand paid-up and savings shares in the denomination of two hundred dollars. Each person so holding shares with one or more other persons also may hold shares individually, but the total amount of shares in such corporation held at the same time by such person both individually and with one or more other persons shall not exceed in the denomination of one hundred dollars six hundred serial shares and the combined total of six thousand paid-up and savings shares, or in the denomination of two hundred dollars three hundred serial shares and the combined total of three thousand paid-up and savings shares. Of the shares which are permitted to be held as aforesaid, other than serial shares, no person individually shall hold in one corporation, at the same time, more than a combined total of eighteen hundred paid-up and saving shares in the denomination of one hundred dollars other than term deposit account savings shares issued pursuant to a term deposit account plan approved by the commissioner pursuant to subsection three B of section thirteen, nor more than the combined total of nine hundred paid-up and savings shares in the denomination of two hundred dollars other than term deposit account savings shares. No two or more persons, as provided in section fifteen, shall hold more than the combined total of three thousand six hundred paid-up and savings shares in the denomination of one hundred dollars other than term deposit account savings shares, nor more than the combined total of eighteen hundred paid-up and savings shares in the denomination of two hundred dollars other than term deposit account savings shares. Each person so holding shares with one or more other persons also may hold shares individually, but the total amount of shares in such corporation held at the same time by such person both individually and with one or more other persons shall not exceed in the denomination of one hundred dollars the combined total of three thousand six hundred paid-up and savings shares other than term deposit account savings shares, or in the denomination of two hundred dollars the combined total of eighteen hundred paid-up and savings shares other than term deposit account savings shares. Said limitations upon individual holdings shall apply to shares held by more than one fiduciary in the same estate and to shares held for each estate where the same person is fiduciary in two or more distinct estates. Deposits in a trust or fiduciary account subject to the provisions of this paragraph shall not be deemed unlawful under the provisions of the second paragraph as the result of the trust or fiduciary estate becoming subject to the jurisdiction of the probate or any other court.

SECTION 34. Subsection 3A of section 24 of said chapter 170 is hereby amended by striking out clause (a), as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 204 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(a) a loan under this subsection shall not be in excess of an amount to be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 35. Subsection 3B of said section 24 of said chapter 170 is hereby amended by striking out clause (a), as most recently amended by section 5 of said chapter 204, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(a) a loan under this subsection shall not be in excess of an amount to be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 36. Subsection 3D of said section 24 of said chapter 170, as most recently amended by section 9 of chapter 795 of the acts of 1981, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 37. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 24B, as amended by chapter 549 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 24B. Such corporation may make or acquire loans upon real estate for any purpose secured by a mortgage other than a first lien of the several classes specified in subsections 3, 3A, 3B and 4 of section twenty-four, subject, in each instance, to the provisions and limitations applicable to the particular class except that, any provision of sections twenty-three and twenty-four notwithstanding, the note or mortgage need not require payment of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessments on the mortgaged real estate, such loan may be made or acquired without regard to the location of the real estate loaned upon, and such loan may be made or acquired for an amount less than or equal to the greater of twenty-five thousand dollars or the amount by which the loan limitation applicable to the particular class under said section twenty-four exceeds the principal balance outstanding on any first mortgage loan secured by a mortgage on the property loaned upon. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said section twenty-four to a limitation upon the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class, such aggregate balance shall be determined by adding the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class authorized by said section twenty-four to the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of the same class authorized by this section. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said section twenty-four to a condition that the security committee has certified in writing that the mortgagor does not require junior financing, such condition shall be deemed satisfied by a certification which states that the mortgagor requires no further junior financing.

SECTION 38. Section 26 of said chapter 170 is hereby amended by striking out subsection 2, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 507 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

2. In the case of any such corporation having assets totalling more than five million dollars, in any of the securities named in sections forty-four to forty-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, provided, however, to the provisions of said sections and in the following limitations:- not more than an amount equal to five per cent of the assets of any such corporation shall be invested in railroad bonds or other obligations referred to in said section forty-four, and not more than an amount equal to one and one-half per cent of such assets shall be invested in the bonds or other obligations of any one railroad corporation; not more than an amount equal to ten per cent of the assets of any such corporation shall be invested in bonds or other obligations of telephone companies referred to in said section forty-five, and not more than an amount equal to two per cent of such assets shall be invested in the bonds or other obligations of any one telephone company; not more than an amount equal to five per cent of the assets of any such corporation shall be invested in the bonds of gas, electric light or water companies referred to in subdivision A of said section forty-six, and not more than an amount equal to one and one-half per cent of such assets shall be invested in the bonds or other obligations of any one such company; not more than an amount equal to ten per cent of the assets of any such corporation shall be invested in bonds or other obligations of the other companies referred to in subdivision B of said section forty-six, and not more than an amount equal to two per cent of such assets shall be invested in the bonds or other obligations of any one such other company; not more than an amount equal to one-half of the total of the surplus accounts of any such corporation shall, in the aggregate, be invested and fire insurance stocks referred to in section forty-eight, and not more than an amount equal to five per cent of said aggregate amount shall be invested in any one such stock. The aggregate amount held by such corporation under this subsection in all of the aforesaid securities shall not at any one time exceed twenty per cent of its assets.

SECTION 39. Subsection 8 of said section 26 of said chapter 170 is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence, as amended by section 3 of chapter 248 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The total obligation of any one person to any such corporation outstanding at any one time in this class of investment shall not exceed thirty thousand dollars, exclusive of interest or discount.

SECTION 39A. Said subsection 8 of said section 26 of said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth sentence, as most recently amended by section 39 of this act, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The total obligation of any one person to any such corporation outstanding at any one time in this class of investment shall not exceed forty thousand dollars, exclusive of interest or discount.

SECTION 40. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 26B, inserted by section 2 of chapter 289 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 26B. Such corporation may make such other commercial, corporate and business loans not otherwise authorized under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law; provided, however, that not more than ten per cent of the assets of such corporation shall be invested at any one time in loans made under this section; and provided, further, that such loans may only be made within the commonwealth or within seventy-five miles of the main office of such corporation.

SECTION 41. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 26B, as most recently amended by section 40 of this act, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 26B. Such corporation may make such other commercial, corporate, and business loans not otherwise authorized under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law; provided, however, that not more than twelve per cent of the assets of such corporation shall be invested at any one time in loans made under this section; and provided, further, that such loans may only be made within the commonwealth or within seventy-five miles of the main office of such corporation.

SECTION 42. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 47, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 71 of the acts of 1982, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 47. With the approval of the commissioner, any such corporation may advance or loan upon, or purchase, the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or any federally-chartered bank and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more banks at such valuations and upon such terms and conditions as shall have been agreed upon by vote of two-thirds of the directors and by a two-thirds vote of the applicable board of a state-chartered bank or by a vote of a federally-chartered bank as required by any applicable law or regulation governing such bank; and the corporation or corporations making or participating in such an advance, loan or purchase, for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the share liabilities or deposits, and other liabilities of any other state-chartered bank or federally-chartered bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. The request for such approval shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. In the event of approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the number of directors, the investment of funds of co-operative banks and to the limitation upon share and accounts referred to in section sixteen, shall not apply. The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to the share liabilities or deposits, and other liabilities assumed as hereinbefore provided. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Co-operative Central Bank or the insurer for each such other bank, that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such an advance, loan or purchase.

So much of section eight A as provides that no person shall hold an office in two co-operative banks at the same time shall not prevent an officer or director of any co-operative bank from serving as an officer or director of a state-chartered bank or a federally-chartered bank the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a co-operative bank hereunder.

Before all or substantially all of the assets of any such corporation shall be sold, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those shareholders present, qualified to vote and voting, at a special meeting called for the purpose, of the shareholders of the corporation proposing so to sell its assets. Notice of such special meeting, containing a statement of the time, place and purpose of the meeting, and setting forth the terms of sale tentatively agreed upon, shall be advertised three times in one or more newspapers published in the town in which the main office and any branch office of said corporation is situated or if there be no such newspaper, then in one or more newspapers published in the county where said town is situated, the last publication to be at least one day before the meeting. In addition, such notice shall be conspicuously posted in the main office and branch offices for a period of no less than thirty days immediately before said meeting unless this requirement of posting such notice is waived in writing by the commissioner.

For the purposes of this section, a federally-chartered bank shall mean a federal savings bank, a federal savings and loan association, a national banking association which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

SECTION 43. The introductory paragraph of section 48 of said chapter 170, as amended by section 2 of chapter 71 of the acts of 1982, is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

SECTION 44. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 48A the following four sections:-

Section 48B. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more savings banks, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight may merge or consolidate into a single co-operative bank or into a single savings bank upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and of the board of trustees of each savings bank, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the shareholders of each corporation and corporators of each savings bank in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of directors and trustees, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearing as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such merger or consolidation is in the interests of the shareholders and depositors of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each corporation present, qualified to vote and voting at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each savings bank present, qualified to vote, and voting at meetings of each savings bank specially called for that purpose. Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section forty-seven of this chapter and section nine of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight.

respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Co-operative Central Bank or the insurer for each such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under the unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by such consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any co-operative bank and the offices of any savings bank merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

Section 48C. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more federal thrift institutions may merge or consolidate into a single co-operative bank or into a single federal thrift institution, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and of the board of directors of each federal thrift institution, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the shareholders of each corporation and by each federal thrift institution in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of directors, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearings as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the shareholders and depositors of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each corporation present, qualified to vote and voting at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of each federal thrift institution as required by any applicable law or organization governing such institution.

Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section forty-seven and any applicable provision governing a federal thrift institution. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and federal thrift institutions setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the co-operative central bank and the insurer for any such federal thrift institution, that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided:-

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the guaranty fund, surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any co-operative bank and the offices of any federal thrift institution merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, a federal thrift institution shall mean a federal savings and loan association, or a federal mutual savings bank which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in, the commonwealth.

Section 48D. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary a co-operative bank subject to approval of the commissioner, may convert to a stockholder owned form of corporation.

Any co-operative bank which converts to a stockholder owned form of corporation shall have all the powers and privileges of a co-operative bank.

The commissioner shall prescribe from time to time such rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper in carrying out the provisions of this section. Such regulation shall be similar to regulations promulgated under Title 12 USC section 1725 or Title 12 USC section 1464 provided that the commissioner may make such adjustments and exceptions as in his judgment are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section or to facilitate compliance therewith.

Any regulation, or any amendment or repeal of any such regulation issued under the provisions of this section after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A shall be submitted to the general court for approval. The commissioner shall file the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal with the clerk of the house of representatives, together with a statement that the pertinent provisions of said chapter thirty A have been complied with. Any regulations filed with the general court under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a summary of the regulations in layman's terms. The clerk shall refer such regulations to the joint committee on banks and banking within five days of the filing thereof. The committee shall consider the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal and shall report to the general court within forty-five days whether the same should be adopted in the manner submitted. The clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives shall recommend to the general court the form and procedure which shall be followed in considering the approval of a proposed regulation, amendment or repeal, provided that approval or disapproval shall be by joint resolution.

The clerk of the senate shall cause any regulation, amendment or repeal, approved by both branches of the general court within seventy-five days from the time of filing of the same with the clerk of the house of representatives, to be forwarded to the governor for his approval; provided, that any such regulation, amendment or repeal which is not approved by the general court and the governor within thirty days of such filing shall be deemed to have been disapproved.

If the governor approves any regulation, amendment or repeal submitted to him, as hereinbefore provided, he shall forward the same to the state secretary who shall publish the same in accordance with section five of said chapter thirty A.

Emergency regulations may be adopted during the prorogation of the general court in the manner provided by section five of chapter thirty A; provided, that such regulation shall be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives for submission the next session of the general court for approval as hereinbefore provided; and provided, further, that such regulation shall not remain in force for more than ninety days after the general court has convened for such session.

Section 48E. Any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be to the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company or a savings bank or co-operative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law. A federally-chartered stock corporation shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation, which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

SECTION 45. Said chapter 170 is hereby further amended by striking out section 49, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 430 of the acts of 1965, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 49. Any such corporation may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association, or other federal agency of a like nature, if authorized by a vote of a majority of all the shareholders of such corporation, entitled to vote, voting in person or by proxy, at a meeting especially called to consider the subject. Notice of such special meeting, containing a statement of the time, place and the purpose of the meeting shall be sent by the clerk of the corporation to each shareholder at his last address appearing upon the records of the corporation, by mail, postage prepaid, at least thirty days before the date of the meeting. Notice of the meeting also shall be advertised three times in one or more newspapers published in the city or town in which the main office of the corporation is situated or if there be no such newspaper, then in one or more newspapers published in the county wherein the town is situated, the last publication to be at least one day before the meeting.

There also shall be mailed with the notice of such special meeting such form of letter concerning the proposed conversion as the commissioner may approve; provided, however, that if the commissioner shall fail to approve the form of such a letter within thirty days after receipt by him of a written request therefor, such corporation may mail with said notice such form of letter as the board of directors may approve.

A proxy used at such meeting shall not be valid unless it is in writing, signed by the shareholder and is in such form as clearly will enable such shareholder to select and indicate his choice as to whether he favors or opposes the proposed conversion.

After compliance with the first paragraph of this section and approval of such conversion by the shareholders as required thereby, and upon the approval of the conversion by the appropriate federal supervising authority to the extent required by applicable provisions of federal law and regulations thereunder, and the issuance by such authority of a federal savings and loan association charter, such corporation shall cease to be a member bank of the Co-operative Central Bank, referred to in section one of chapter forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two and in section one of chapter seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four hereinafter called the central bank, and shall cease to be a participating bank in the Co-operative Banks Employees Retirement Association referred to in sections fifty-one to fifty-three, inclusive.

After receipt by the central bank of notice from the commissioner that he has been notified, in writing, by such federal supervising authority that the conversion of such corporation has been completed and that such federal charter has been issued to the succeeding federal savings and loan association, and that he has received from the state secretary a certificate that such corporation, hereinafter called the predecessor corporation, has been duly recorded for dissolution, the following further provisions shall apply:

1. The central bank shall pay to said succeeding association from the fund representing deposits of member banks made pursuant to said chapter forty-five, hereinafter called the reserve fund, an amount equal to not more than the aggregate of all deposits made by the predecessor corporation held in said reserve fund on the effective date of the conversion, less all indebtedness of such corporation to the central bank; provided, that no part of the surplus, undivided profits or other reserves held by the central bank in said reserve fund shall be so paid.

2. An amount equal to the annual assessments paid and which shall have become due and payable by the predecessor corporation while a member bank, to the share insurance fund of the central bank, pursuant to section one of said chapter seventy-three shall be retained by the central bank as a charge for insurance of the shares of such corporation while a member of said share insurance fund. All other assessments paid by the predecessor corporation to said share insurance fund pursuant to said chapter seventy-three shall continue to be held by the central bank until all losses and estimated losses and expenses of all corporations being assisted by the central bank from said share insurance fund and being liquidated at the time that such corporation ceased to be a member bank shall have been paid or provided for. Thereafter, the succeeding association shall be entitled to receive from the central bank the portions, if any, of such other assessments not so paid or required as shall be determined by the central bank with the approval of the commissioner, and such determination shall be final and conclusive upon the central bank, the predecessor corporation and the succeeding association and all other persons then or thereafter interested; provided, however, that the supreme judicial court shall have jurisdiction to review and to confirm or modify such determination upon the petition of the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association filed within ten days after receipt thereby of notice of such determination. The central bank, in its discretion and subject to the approval of the commissioner, may make disposition of such other assessments, at any time after such conversion is completed, by adjustment pursuant to an agreement with the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association and may pay thereto such amount as may be so agreed upon.

3. The predecessor corporation or the succeeding association shall, subject to the last sentence of this paragraph, pay to said share insurance fund or make provision for payment thereto of a sum equal to three annual assessments, refered to in section one, at the percentage rate in effect at the time the predecessor corporation ceased to be a member bank and computed on the basis of its share liabilities and notes payable as shown by its last annual report to the commissioner preceding such conversion or, at its option or at the option of the succeeding association, as shown by the records of the predecessor corporation on the effective date of conversion. Until such sum shall have been paid in full, payments on account thereof shall be made annually or oftener by the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association; provided, however, that not less than one-third of such sum shall be paid annually. If any such one-third shall not be so paid or if, at the end of three years from the time the predecessor corporation ceased to be a member bank such sum shall not have been paid in full, the entire balance thereof may be recovered by the central bank, together with interest thereon, in any manner provided by law for the collection of debts. The predecessor corporation or the succeeding association may authorize the deduction of such sum in whole or in part, from the amount, if any, of the portions of said other assessments to which the succeeding association may be entitled as hereinbefore provided. If, however, by federal law or regulation, a federal savings and loan association converting therefrom to a co-operative bank, is required to pay to the federal savings and loan insurance corporation a sum equal to annual premiums or assessments for other than a period of three years, then the number of annual assessments payable to said share insurance fund under this section shall be for the same number of years as is so required.

CHAPTER 170.
CO-OPERATIVE BANKS.

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank day", the day in each month on which payments upon serial shares shall be due.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Corporation" or "bank", a co-operative bank incorporated as such in this commonwealth.

"Co-operative bank mortgage", a loan represented by a note secured by a mortgage upon real estate and a pledge of a share of the corporation for each two hundred dollars loaned.

"Net profits", the profits appearing before payment or provision for payment of federal taxes based on income, and before making the transfers and distributions provided by section twenty and subsection (2) of section twenty-one.

"Share capital" or "share liability", the total sum due at any given time upon all shares and accounts referred to in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D which shares and accounts shall be deemed to be deposits.

"Shareholder" or "member", a depositor or holder of any shares or accounts referred to in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D.

"Shareholders' meeting" or "meeting of shareholders", any annual or special meeting of members of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 1A. A co-operative bank shall have all the powers expressly granted by law and whatever further incidental powers may fairly be implied from those expressly conferred and such as are reasonably necessary to enable it to exercise fully those powers according to common or accepted banking customs and usages.

Section 2. Twenty or more persons who associate themselves by a written agreement, signed by each of them, to form a co-operative bank for the purpose of accumulating, loaning and investing the savings of its members may, upon compliance with this section and sections four, five and six, become a corporation with all the powers and privileges and subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities set forth in all general laws relating to such corporations. Said agreement shall set forth that the subscribers thereto associate themselves with the intention of forming a corporation to transact business within the commonwealth, and shall specify:

First. - The name by which the corporation shall be known, the words "co-operative bank" to form a part thereof.

Second. - The purpose for which it is to be formed.

Third. - The town where its main office is to be located.

Fourth. - The residence and post office address of each associate.

Fifth. - The number of shares of each class subscribed for by each associate.

Each associate shall subscribe for at least one paid-up share; provided, however, that an aggregate of not less than fifty paid-up shares shall be subscribed for by the associates. Such shares shall be paid for in cash to the corporation before it commences business and, except with the written approval of the commissioner, none of such shares shall be assigned, pledged or redeemed prior to the expiration of two years from the date of their issue.

Section 3. A corporation formed pursuant to section two may authorize, at a meeting duly called for the purpose, by vote of two-thirds of the shareholders present and voting a change of its corporate name. Within sixty days after any meeting at which such change has been authorized, articles of amendment, signed under the penalties of perjury by the executive officer and by the clerk, setting forth such change and the due adoption thereof, shall be submitted to the state secretary and the commissioner. If such amendment is approved by the commissioner, it shall take effect upon the filing of such approval with the state secretary.

Section 4. The subscribers to said agreement shall give notice to the board of bank incorporation of their intention to form a co-operative bank, and shall apply to said board for a certificate that public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment thereof. Said application shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. Said board may grant such certificate, which shall be deemed revoked if the applicants therefor do not become incorporated and begin business within six months after its date of issue. Upon receipt of such application, said board shall furnish the subscribers a form of notice, specifying the names of the proposed incorporators and the name and location of the proposed co-operative bank and assigning a date and place for a public hearing on the application. The subscribers shall publish the notice at least once a week for three successive weeks, in one or more newspapers designated by said board and published in the town wherein it is desired to establish the bank or, if there is no newspaper in such town, in the town wherein a newspaper is published which is nearest to the proposed location of the bank; and at least fourteen days before the date fixed for said public hearing the subscribers shall mail a copy of said notice by registered mail, postage prepaid, to The Co-operative Central Bank, organized under chapter forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two. If said board refuses to issue such certificate, no further proceedings shall be had, but the application may be renewed after one year from the date of the refusal, in which case notice of a public hearing thereon shall be published and mailed as hereinbefore provided.

Said board may require the subscribers to establish or provide for the establishment of a special surplus fund in an amount determined by the board, which shall be represented by cash, deposits or securities eligible for the liquidity reserve referred to in section twenty-two and which shall be paid in, in full, to the corporation before it commences business. Said board shall issue regulations governing the maintenance of and withdrawals from any such fund.

Section 5. The first meeting of the subscribers to the agreement of association shall be called by a notice signed either by that subscriber to the agreement who is designated therein for the purpose, or by a majority of the subscribers. Such notice shall state the time, place and purpose of the meeting. Seven days at least before the day appointed for the meeting, a copy of the notice shall be given to each subscriber, or left at his residence or usual place of business, or deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, and addressed to him at his residence or usual place of business. Another copy of said notice and an affidavit by one of the signers that the notice has been duly served shall be recorded with the records of the proposed corporation. If, however, all the incorporators shall, in writing, endorsed upon the agreement of association waive such notice and fix the time and place of the meeting, no notice shall be required. The subscribers to the agreement of association shall hold the franchise until the organization has been completed. At the first meeting, or at any adjournment thereof, the incorporators shall organize by the election by ballot of a temporary clerk, by the adoption of by-laws and by the election, in such manner as the by-laws may determine of a president, a clerk of the corporation, a treasurer, a board of not less than five nor more than fifteen directors, and such other officers as the by-laws may prescribe. All the officers so elected shall be sworn to the faithful performance of their duties. The temporary clerk shall make and attest a record of the proceedings until the clerk has been elected and sworn, including a record of the election and qualification of the clerk.

Section 6. The president and a majority of the directors who are elected at the first meeting shall make, sign and make oath to articles in duplicate setting forth:

(a) A true copy of the agreement of association, the names of the subscribers thereto, and the name, residence and post office address of each of the officers of the corporation; and

(b) The date of the first meeting and the successive adjournments thereof, if any.

One duplicate original of the articles so signed and sworn to shall be submitted to the board of bank incorporation and the other, together with the records of the proposed corporation, to the state secretary, who shall examine the same and may require such amendment thereof or such additional information as he considers necessary. If he finds that the articles conform to sections two, four and five and that sections four and seven have been complied with, he shall so certify and endorse his approval thereof. Thereupon the articles shall be filed in the office of the state secretary, who upon receipt of a fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, the state secretary shall issue a certificate of incorporation in the following form:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Be it known that whereas (the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association) have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of (the name of the corporation), for the purpose (the purpose declared in the agreement of association), and have complied with the provisions of the statutes of this commonwealth in such case made and provided, as appears from the articles of organization of said corporation, duly approved by the commissioner of revenue and recorded in this office: Now, therefore, I (the name of the state secretary) secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby certify that said (the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association), their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as, and are hereby made, an existing corporation under the name of (name of the corporation), with the powers, rights and privileges, and subject to the limitations, duties and restrictions, which by law appertain thereto.

Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed, and the great seal of the commonwealth of Massachusetts hereunto affixed, this day of in the year (the date of the filing of the articles of organization).

The state secretary shall sign the certificate of incorporation and cause the great seal of the commonwealth to be affixed thereto, and such certificate shall have the force and effect of a special charter. The existence of every such corporation which is not created by special law shall begin upon the filing of the articles of organization in the office of the state secretary, who shall also cause a record of the certificate of incorporation to be made, and such certificate or such record, or a certified copy thereof, shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of the corporation.

Section 7. The shareholders of every such corporation shall make and adopt the necessary by-laws consistent with law for the government of its affairs. Copies of all by-laws and changes therein or additions thereto or other amendments thereof shall be filed with the commissioner immediately upon their adoption. All such by-laws, changes, additions and other amendments shall be effective on the date they are filed with the commissioner.

The by-laws shall provide for and determine as follows:

(a) The time and place for holding the annual meeting of the shareholders and the monthly meeting of the board of directors;

(b) The manner of calling meetings of the shareholders and of the board of directors, including special meetings;

(c) The number necessary to constitute a quorum at meetings of the shareholders and of the board of directors, respectively;

(d) The voting qualifications of members at shareholders' meetings;

(e) The monthly bank day;

(f) The number, title, eligibility, powers and duties of directors, other officers and committees, their terms of office, and the manner of their election or appointment and of their removal;

(g) The manner in which the by-laws may be amended; and

(h) That the clerk of the corporation shall give notice of all regular and special meetings of the shareholders by publishing notice thereof, at least seven days before the meeting, in one or more newspapers published in the city or town wherein the main office of the corporation is situated or, if there is no newspaper published therein, then in a newspaper published in a nearby city or town in the same county; and for this purpose a newspaper which by its title page purports to be printed or published in such city, town or county and which has a circulation therein, shall be deemed to have been published therein. Such notice shall state the day, hour and place of the meeting and shall contain a brief statement of the nature of the business to be acted upon, except as may be provided in the by-laws with respect to the removal of officers and directors.

The by-laws also may provide for such other matters relative to the business and affairs of the corporation as may be deemed necessary or desirable.

Section 8. Each person who is recorded on the books of the corporation as the holder of one or more shares or accounts referred to in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D shall be deemed a member and shareholder of and depositor in the corporation.

Each member shall be entitled to one vote at all shareholders' meetings, subject to the limitations contained in this section and such limitations, if any, as may be contained in the by-laws.

At any meeting, no person who votes in one capacity shall be entitled to vote in any other capacity. A co-owner of any shares or accounts who does not vote in any other capacity may vote as the representative of the co-owners. A corporate fiduciary or other corporation or a partnership or association may vote by a person duly authorized, if such person does not otherwise vote, but a fiduciary, whether individual, corporate or otherwise, may vote on behalf of one trust or estate only. No person shall be entitled to vote either as a member or in any representative capacity unless such person shall have attained the age of eighteen years. No person shall vote by proxy except as otherwise may be expressly authorized by law.

Section 9. The business and affairs of every such corporation shall be managed by a board of not less than five and, except as otherwise provided by law, not more than fifteen directors. The shareholders shall elect the directors, each of whom shall be a citizen of the United States, a resident of the commonwealth and under the age of seventy-two at the time of election. Directors shall be divided into three classes as nearly equal in number as possible, and one of such classes shall be elected annually for a term of three years; provided, that during the minimum time necessary to accomplish the foregoing, one of said classes may be elected for a term of one year and one for a term of two years. All vacancies in the board or in any office may be filled by the board of directors for the unexpired term. The directors may employ such additional assistance and appoint or constitute such committees and advisory directors as they may deem necessary and determine the reasonable compensation therefor. The directors may authorize the continuance as honorary directors of those persons who shall have served as directors for ten years or more and such honorary directors may be designated by the directors for an indefinite term and shall not be included in determining the minimum number of directors or the number of directors to be elected annually as provided herein. No such honorary director shall be deemed to be an officer or member of the board of directors of such corporation, nor shall he receive compensation or be required to attend meetings or be authorized or required to perform any duties. Except as otherwise provided in the by-laws, the directors may delegate to any officers, assistants and employees such functions, powers and authority as the directors deem advisable.

The clerk of the corporation shall be chosen by the shareholders, and the president, vice president, treasurer, assistant treasurers, if any, and other officers whose election is not otherwise herein expressly provided for, shall be chosen by the board of directors.

All directors and other officers shall be elected by ballot and shall be shareholders when nominated and elected. Each officer when appointed or elected shall take an oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties devolving upon him, and the fact that the oath has been taken shall be entered in the records of the corporation; and if a person appointed or elected does not, within thirty days thereafter, take the oath, his office shall thereupon become vacant. All officers shall continue to hold their offices until their successors shall have been chosen and qualified.

If an officer ceases to be a shareholder, his office may be declared vacant by the board of directors. If a director fails both to attend the regular meetings of the board and to perform any of the duties devolving upon him as such director for six consecutive months, his office may be declared to be vacant by the board at the next regular meeting and if he so fails for twelve consecutive months, his office shall be declared to be vacant by the board at the next regular meeting. A record of any vacancy shall be entered upon the books of the corporation, and a transcript shall be sent by mail to the person whose office has been made vacant.

The records of all meetings of the corporation shall be read at such meetings by a shareholder other than the clerk and the records of all meetings of the board of directors shall be read at such meetings by a director.

Section 10. No person shall be a director or other officer of two co-operative banks at the same time, except in the case of the purchase of assets and the assumption of liabilities pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-four. After January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, a director or other officer of a co-operative bank may, at the same time, serve as a trustee, director or other officer of a savings bank, credit union, state or federally chartered savings and loan association, trust company, a bank holding company or any affiliate, or national banking association if, in such case, there is in force a permit therefor issued by the commissioner, in writing, with the reasons thereon stating why the public interest warrants its issuance, after reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard, who is hereby authorized to issue such permit if, in his judgment, it is not incompatible with the public interest, and to revoke any such permit whenever he finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, that the public interest warrants its revocation except that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any director or officer who held such position at the time of incorporation of said co-operative bank. Any person serving as a director or other officer of a co-operative bank may at the same time serve as a director or other officer of a trust company that does not make real estate mortgage loans and does not accept savings deposits from natural persons.

Section 11. At the first meeting of the board of directors, after the annual meeting of shareholders, the board shall elect from its own members a security committee of at least three members, at least two of whom shall report upon all real estate offered as security for loans made by the corporation, after having examined such real estate or after it shall have been examined by one or more appraisers considered to be qualified by the directors and appointed by them for that purpose. In no case, however, shall any member of the security committee or any appraiser make an official report upon property offered as security for a loan if he has a personal interest in the property or in the proposed loan.

The security committee shall perform such other duties as may be requested of them by law, and shall exercise such other powers as may be delegated to them by the board of directors. Whenever loans are made and completed pursuant to power delegated by the board of directors, a report including a list of all such loans shall be submitted by the president or treasurer to the directors at their next monthly meeting in such form as the directors may require and such report and any action taken by the board thereon, shall be made part of the records of such meeting.

At said first meeting the board shall elect a finance committee of not less than three directors who shall not be operating officers or members of the security committee. The members of the finance committee shall take an oath of office in the manner and within the period prescribed by section nine and a record thereof shall be made and preserved as provided in said section. The directors shall determine the compensation, if any, to be paid to the members of the security committee and the finance committee.

Section 12. The treasurer shall keep the financial accounts and have charge of all books and papers necessary therefor, and dispose of and secure the safekeeping of all money, securities and property of the corporation, in the manner and subject to the limitations from time to time designated by the board of directors, subject to applicable provisions of law.

Such corporation may provide in its by-laws for assistant treasurers. An assistant treasurer may perform all the duties of the treasurer.

Section 13. In addition to the duties imposed by law upon the treasurer of a bank, or the officer or employee thereof charged with the duties and functions usually performed by the treasurer, he shall also be responsible for the performance of all acts and duties required of such corporation by the provisions of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven or one hundred and seventy except in so far as such performance has been expressly imposed on some other officer or employee of such bank by its regulations or by-laws or by provision of law.

Section 14. The commissioner shall have the same powers and duties in respect to co-operative banks which he has in respect to savings banks. At least once during each calendar year, and oftener if required by the commissioner, the finance committee, referred to in section eleven, shall cause an examination and audit to be made of the books, securities, cash, assets, liabilities, income and expenditures of such corporation, including a trial balance of the deposit and share accountants. Such examination and audit shall be made in such form and manner and at such time as the commissioner may prescribe, except that in any such bank having assets of over ten million dollars such examination and audit shall be made by a certified public accountant not connected with the corporation. Within thirty days after their election, the finance committee shall appoint such accountant and written notice thereof shall be given forthwith to the commissioner, and such appointment shall be subject to his approval. Such examination and audit shall be made for the period elapsed since the preceding examination and audit or for such other period as may be prescribed by the commissioner.

Such accountant shall direct and supervise the making of said examination and audit and shall report to the finance committee and the commissioner, if he so requests, the result thereof. At the next meeting of the directors thereafter, the committee shall render a report, which shall be read, stating in detail the nature, extent and result of said examination and audit. The committee shall file with the commissioner a copy of the report of the accountant within ten days after its receipt by the committee. Said accountant and the finance committee shall certify and make oath that the reports made by them under this section are correct according to their best knowledge and belief, and such reports shall be filed and preserved with the records of such corporation. If the committee fails to cause to be made an examination and audit as herein provided, the commissioner shall cause such examination and audit to be made by a certified public accountant in such form and manner as the commissioner may prescribe, and the expense thereof shall be paid by such corporation.

Section 15. The treasurer and all other permanent employees and officers having access to the cash or negotiable securities of the corporation shall give to it bonds in such amounts and with such surety or sureties and conditions as the directors may require, subject to such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe. The commissioner may prescribe the manner of custody and safekeeping of such bonds. The directors may require bonds of such other officers or employees as they deem advisable. Blanket or schedule bonds may be used with the approval of the commissioner. The commissioner shall keep a record of all bonds filed with him hereunder, and of any changes therein of which he is so notified, and when in his judgment it is necessay for the security of the shareholders he may require new or further bonds or sureties.

Section 16. Any officer, director, agent or employee of any bank, who knowingly and wilfully does any act forbidden to him or to such bank by any provision of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven or one hundred and seventy, or who knowingly and wilfully aids or abets the doing of any act so forbidden to such bank or to any other officer, director, agent or employee thereof, or who knowingly and wilfully fails to do any act required of him by any such provision, or who knowingly and wilfully fails to do any act which is required of such bank by any such provision the performance of which is imposed on him by the by-laws or regulations of the bank or by law or the responsibility for the non-performance of which is placed upon him by section thirteen shall, if no other penalty against him in his aforesaid capacity is specifically provided, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 17. No such corporation, and no officer or employee thereof, shall ask for, take or receive a fee, brokerage, commission, gift or other consideration for or on account of a loan made by or on behalf of such corporation, other than appears on the face of a note or contract by which the loan purports to be made; but this section shall not apply to a reasonable charge for services in the examination of property and title and for the preparation and recording of conveyances and other instruments pertaining to its loans, nor to charges by the corporation for any services which by law it is authorized to render. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

Section 18. Every such corporation shall annually, within thirty days after its April bank day, make a report to the commissioner in such form as he may prescribe, showing accurately its condition at the close of business on such bank day. The president, treasurer or other executive officer shall sign the report and certify on oath that it is correct according to his best knowledge and belief.

Every such corporation shall post in a prominent place and in a conspicuous manner in the lobby of each of its banking offices, a balance sheet which presents fairly, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, including required footnote disclosures, its condition as of the last business day of its fiscal year, with comparative figures as of the end of the previous fiscal year. Said balance sheet shall be posted not later than fifteen days after the end of the corporation's fiscal year and shall remain posted until replaced by the following year's posting. Said balance sheet shall be printed at the expense of the corporation and copies shall be made available to its depositors upon request. Each such corporation which fails to post or print any such balance sheet in accordance with this section shall pay to the state treasurer ten dollars for each day that it fails to so post or print such balance sheet, unless excused by the commissioner for cause.

Section 19. No officer of a bank shall, except as hereinafter provided, borrow from or otherwise become indebted to the bank of which he is an officer, and no bank shall, except as hereinafter provided, make any loan or extend credit in any other manner to any of its own officers; provided, however, that with the prior approval of a majority of the entire board of directors, a bank may loan or extend credit to any such officer and such officer may become indebted to such bank, in any amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars on a loan or extension of credit, secured or unsecured and in an amount not exceeding sixty thousand dollars on a loan secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a single family dwelling which is occupied or which is to be occupied by such officer; and provided, further, that such bank shall not give a preferential rate of interest, or other preferential terms, on any loan to such officer.

Every such corporation shall be required to make an annual report to the commissioner of any loan or extension of credit in any manner to any officer or director of the corporation. Said corporation shall also be required to make an annual report to the commissioner of any loan or extension of credit in any manner to a fraternal organization, voluntary association, partnership or corporation, the majority interest of which is owned or controlled by an officer or director of said corporation.

Said report to the commissioner shall consist of, but not be limited to, the following: (a) the original amount of the loan, (b) the date of the loan, (c) the type of loan, (d) the type of secured asset and its valuation, if the loan is secured in any manner, (e) the terms of the payment, (f) the current balance, (g) the amount of any principal or interest payments in default, if any, and the length of time of such default.

Section 20. The board of directors, at each distribution date which shall be monthly, quarterly, semiannually or annually on a bank day, shall distribute the net profits in the following manner:

(a) Dividends and interest shall be distributed to the various classes of shares and accounts referred to in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D then existing, at such dividend and interest rates respectively applicable to each class as shall be determined by the directors. Such distributions to each class of shares shall be made on the basis of their value at that time and shall be computed on the basis of a single share fully paid to the date of distribution. Distributions to paid-up shares, as to each holder thereof, shall be credited or reserved for credit to a savings account or a dividend savings account in his name, or shall be paid to him if he or the corporation so elects. Section twenty A shall apply to distributions to savings accounts and to dividend savings accounts. Distributions to club accounts shall be in accordance with the terms thereof. Any distributions which are to be credited to savings accounts, dividend savings accounts and club accounts may, at the option of the directors, be reserved for credit at a later date which shall be within three months as to savings accounts and dividend savings accounts, and within one year as to club accounts. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as preventing any such corporation from making, within its taxable year as determined for federal income tax purposes, at least four distributions if on a quarterly basis, or at least two distributions if on a semiannual basis, or at least one distribution if on an annual basis.

(b) After such distribution or provision therefor, any balance of net profits then remaining shall be transferred to one or more of the following accounts to the surplus account referred to in section twenty-one to a reserve for bad debts, to other reserve accounts, to a profit and loss account, or to an undistributed earnings account; provided, however, to such appropriate adjustments of amounts so transferred during the taxable year of such corporation as may be made for federal income tax purposes prior to or as of the end of such taxable year. No supplementary or extra distribution of dividends or interest shall be made from any amounts so transferred unless, at the time of such distribution, the combined surplus account, reserve for bad debts and unallocated reserves, in the judgment of the board of directors, shall equal at least eight per cent of the share liability of such corporation, nor shall any supplementary or extra distribution of dividends or interest be made which will reduce said reserves to an amount less than eight per cent of the share liability of said corporations; unless the required transfer to reserves shall have first been made from current earnings. Upon written approval of the commissioner a supplementary or extra distribution of dividends may be made in part or in full from the surplus account.

Section 20A. Dividends and interest shall be at such rate as the directors determine and, if the directors so determine, may be computed as if such dividends had been declared and paid at uniform intervals, daily or otherwise, within the dividend period and the amount so paid for each such interval had been added to deposits for the succeeding interval.

There shall be credited to each savings account of ten dollars or more at every distribution date applicable to savings interest on such rate basis as the directors from time to time may determine, computed without regard to fractions of a dollar; provided, however, that interest shall not be credited on amounts withdrawn between distribution dates. Interest shall be credited upon amounts deposited from and after the bank day next following, and may be credited upon amounts deposited within ten days subsequent to the preceding bank day, or with the approval of the commissioner may be credited from the date of deposit. Additional interest may be credited on deposits in savings accounts designated as special notice accounts. Interest or dividends on term deposits shall be paid at such rates, at such times, and in such manner as may be provided for in the agreement under which such term deposits were received.

Any savings deposits may be received in a separate class of account on which interest shall be credited at the time when, and for the same distribution period as that for which, any ordinary interest is credited. Interest on such accounts shall be credited at the distribution date from the day of deposit to the day of withdrawal on sums withdrawn before the distribution date, so long as the account in which such sums were on deposit shall remain open until the distribution date with a balance of at least ten dollars; and from the date of deposit to the distribution date on all sums remaining on deposit on such date.

Section 21. (1) Every such corporation shall establish and maintain a surplus account to which all undivided profits and earnings of the corporation shall be transferred. The surplus account shall be used to meet losses, contingencies, and adjustments arising out of or incidental to the operation of the corporation's business. The directors may authorize payments from the surplus account of amounts sufficient to enable the corporation to distribute dividends and interest to shares and accounts. The aggregate amount of the surplus account required by this section shall not exceed at any time twenty per cent of the deposits of the corporation.

(2) Every such corporation shall establish and maintain as part of surplus a restricted surplus account to provide for specific liabilities or for depreciation, to effect reductions in book values of specific assets or, upon depletion of the surplus account authorized by subection (1) and with written notice to the commissioner, to provide funds for general use by the corporation in the conduct of its business. Immediately prior to the April bank day of such corporation, there shall be transferred from surplus to restricted surplus an amount equal to five per cent of the net profits of the corporation for the twelve months ending with said bank day. Additions or transfers shall continue to be made to restricted surplus until such time as it is at least equal to five per cent of deposits.

Section 22. Every such corporation shall establish and at all times maintain as a minimum reserve to meet withdrawals of shares and accounts and applications for loans on shares and accounts and payments of taxes received from mortgagors an amount equal to not less than six and one-half per cent of its share liability, plus amounts equal to its liabilities upon club accounts and upon payments received by it from mortgagors for the purpose of payment of taxes of mortgaged real estate. Such reserve shall consist of any or all of the following:- (a) cash on hand, (b) balances payable on demand or certificates of deposit due from any trust company, national banking association or banking company, (c) bonds and other direct obligations of the United States or such obligations as are unconditionally guaranteed as to the payment of principal and interest by the United States, (d) bonds and notes of this commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, (e) any federal agency obligations which have unexpired terms of five years or less, (f) deposits in and stocks of the Federal Home Loan Bank, and (g) federal funds, defined to include a transaction involving the transfer of deposits of co-operative banks among member banks of the Federal Reserve System, which are immediately available funds. If at any time the reserve of any such corporation falls below the minimum amount herein required, such corporation shall not, except to the extent approved by the commissioner, make any real estate loans, other than additional loans and reloans upon property already mortgaged to such corporation, until such minimum reserve shall have been fully restored.

Section 23. Such corporation shall maintain the reserve balances required by the Federal Reserve Act, 12 U.S.C. 461 (b), and in the event such reserves are less than required by said act, such corporation shall not make any new loans or investments until the required reserves shall be restored. The commissioner may notify such corporation to make good such reserve and if it fails to do so within thirty days thereafter, he may certify to the Co-operative Central Bank, pursuant to section four of chapter seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, that such corporation is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized and thereafter said central bank shall have, and may exercise all of, the powers and privileges granted to it by said chapter seventy-three.

Section 24. With the approval of the commissioner, any such corporation may advance or loan upon, or purchase, the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or any federally-chartered bank and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more banks at such valuations and upon such terms and conditions as shall have been agreed upon by vote of two-thirds of the directors and by a two-thirds vote of the applicable board of a state-chartered bank or by a vote of a federally-chartered bank as required by any applicable law or regulation governing such bank; and the corporation or corporations making or participating in such an advance, loan or purchase, for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the share liabilities of any other state-chartered bank or any federally-chartered bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. The request for such approval shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration. In the event of approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the number of directors, the investment of funds of co-operative banks and to the limitation upon shares and accounts referred to in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D, shall not apply. The commissioner may impose such conditions and restrictions as he may deem necessary or advisable in respect to the share liabilities or deposits, and other liabilities assumed as herein before provided. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereon until he has received notice from the Co-operative Central Bank or the insurer for each such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such an advance, loan or purchase.

So much of section ten as provides that no person shall hold an office in two co-operative banks at the same time shall not prevent an officer or director of any co-operative bank from serving as an officer or director of a state-chartered bank or a federally-chartered bank, the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a co-operative bank hereunder.

Before all, or substantially all, of the assets of any such corporation shall be sold, such action shall be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of those shareholders present, qualified to vote and voting at a special meeting called for the purpose, of the shareholders of the corporation proposing so to sell its assets. Notice of such special meeting, containing a statement of the time, place and purpose of the meeting, and setting forth the terms of sale tentatively agreed upon, shall be advertised three times in one or more newspapers published in the town in which the main office and any branch office of said corporation is situated or if there be no such newspaper, then in one or more newspapers published in the county where said town is situated, the last publication to be at least one day before the meeting. In addition such notice shall be conspicuously posted in the main office and branch offices for a period of no less than thirty days before said meeting unless this requirement of posting such notice is waived in writing by the commissioner.

For the purposes of this section, a federally-chartered bank shall mean a federal savings bank, a federal savings and loan association or a national banking association which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 25. Any two or more such corporations may consolidate into a single corporation, upon such terms as shall have been agreed upon by vote of two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and as shall have been approved, in writing, by the commissioner; provided, however, that such action shall have been approved by the shareholders of each corporation at a special meeting thereof called for that purpose, by a vote of at least two-thirds of those shareholders present, qualified to vote, and voting at each such meeting. If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of directors of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation. The request for approval of the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration. Notice of such special meeting, setting forth the terms tentatively agreed upon, shall be posted and published in the manner and to the extent provided for the notices referred to in section twenty-four. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all such corporations, setting forth that each said corporation, respectively, has complied with all the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. Upon consolidation of any such corporation with another, as herein provided:-

(1) The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating corporations shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining corporation, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing corporation and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit, then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing corporation, without further act or deed, and such continuing corporation shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing corporation from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors and on the investment of funds of such corporations, shall not apply.

(2) A discontinuing corporation's rights, obligations and relations to any member, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain unimpaired, and the continuing corporation shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any member in any such corporation, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any such consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D relative to the limitations on shares and accounts, shall not apply.

(3) A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating corporations is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation had not been made; or the continuing corporation may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing corporation was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing corporation that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing corporation if consolidation had not occurred.

(4) After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any of the discontinuing corporations may be completed by the continuing corporation, and publication begun by the discontinuing corporation may be continued in the name of the discontinuing corporation. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such corporations actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing corporation shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing corporation which commenced the foreclosure.

A new name, or the name of any of the consolidating corporations may be adopted as the name of the continuing corporation at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing corporation upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing corporation.

Any merger or consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating corporations, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating corporations, and any consolidating corporation having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders.

Section 26. If the commissioner has certified to the Co-operative Central Bank that it is unsafe or inexpedient for a corporation to continue to transact business, as provided in section four of chapter seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, such corporation may be consolidated with or sell its assets to another co-operative bank on an expedited basis, notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions contained in sections twenty-four and twenty-five provided that the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation or purchase and sale of assets are set forth in a written plan or agreement between the continuing corporation and the Co-operative Central Bank on behalf of the certified corporation.

(2) The consolidation or purchase and sale of assets and the written plan or agreement setting forth such arrangement be approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of the continuing corporation at a meeting duly called for such purpose and by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of the Co-operative Central Bank at a meeting duly called for such purpose.

(3) The commissioner determines that (a) failure to take immediate action to effect a consolidation or sale of assets of the certified corporation with or to another co-operative bank is likely to undermine public confidence in banks, (b) the best interests of the shareholders of the certified corporation, the shareholders of the continuing corporation and the Co-operative Central Bank will be served by an expedited consolidation or sale of assets, and (c) the public convenience and advantage will be served by the proposed consolidation or sale of assets.

(4) The commissioner approves in writing the proposed consolidation or purchase and sale of assets, subject to such terms and conditions as may be deemed appropriate by him.

Upon the effective date of any consolidation pursuant to this section, the rights and obligations of the certified corporation, the continuing corporation and their respective shareholders, debtors and creditors shall be governed by paragraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, of the first paragraph and the second and third paragraphs of section twenty-five.

A certificate endorsed by the president and clerk, or two other duly authorized officers of the continuing corporation and the Co-operative Central Bank on behalf of the certified corporation stating that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner who, if he approves such consolidation or sale of assets, shall endorse said approval upon such certificate and thereupon such consolidation or sale of assets shall become effective at the close of business on such date.

At any time, and from time to time after the consolidation has become effective, copies of the certificate may be certified and issued by the commissioner and may be filed in the several registries of deeds and land court registry districts of the commonwealth and in any filing offices established under chapter one hundred and six. Such certification shall be conclusive evidence for all purposes of the succession by the continuing corporation to all rights and interests of the certified corporation.

In the event the Share Insurance Fund of the Co-operative Central Bank ceases to insure the deposits or shares of a corporation and the commissioner determines that grounds exist to require his immediate assumption of possession and control of its assets under section twenty-two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, he shall, upon assumption of possession and control of such corporation's assets, have all powers granted in this section to the Co-operative Central Bank to effect a consolidation or sale of assets on behalf of such corporation.

Section 26A. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more savings banks, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight may merge or consolidate into a single co-operative bank or into a single savings bank upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and of the board of trustees of each savings bank, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the shareholders of each corporation and corporators of each savings bank in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of directors and trustees, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearing as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such merger or consolidation is in the interests of the shareholders and depositors of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each corporation present, qualified to vote and voting at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the corporators of each savings bank present, qualified to vote, and voting at meetings of each savings bank specially called for that purpose. Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section twenty-four of this chapter and section nine A of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight.

A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and savings banks setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Co-operative Central Bank or the insurer for each such other bank that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under the unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain umimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully and to the same extent as the same existed before the consolidation and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is the successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings called as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any co-operative bank and the offices of any savings bank merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

Section 26B. Any one or more such corporations and any one or more federal thrift institutions may merge or consolidate into a single co-operative bank or into a single federal thrift institution, upon such terms as shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the board of directors of each corporation and of the board of directors of each federal thrift institution, and as shall have been approved in writing by the commissioner. The terms of any such merger or consolidation shall be approved by the shareholders of each corporation and by each federal thrift institution in the manner prescribed herein. A request for such approval by the commissioner shall be accompanied by an investigation fee the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration, a copy of the terms of any agreement reached by the respective boards of directors, and certified copies of the votes of such boards. If the commissioner, after such notice and hearings as he may require, is satisfied that a merger or consolidation can be effected on terms approved by him and he finds that such a merger or consolidation is in the interests of the shareholders and depositors of the institutions concerned, such merger or consolidation may be approved by him subject to his direction. Before becoming effective, any merger or consolidation authorized by this section, hereinafter sometimes referred to as a "consolidation", shall have been approved by a vote of at least two-thirds of the shareholders of each corporation present, qualified to vote and voting at meetings specially called to consider the subject, and approved by a vote of each federal thrift institution as required by any applicable law or organization governing such institution.

Notice for such meetings shall be given in accordance with the relevant provisions of section twenty-four and any applicable provision governing a federal thrift institution. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks, or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations and federal thrift institutions setting forth that each institution, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section, shall be submitted to the commissioner, who, if he shall approve such consolidation, shall endorse his approval upon such certificate, and thereupon such consolidation shall become effective. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the Co-operative Central Bank and the insurer for any such federal thrift institution, that arrangements satisfactory to each insurer have been made for such consolidation. Upon consolidation of any such institutions, as herein provided:

1. The corporate existence of all but one of the consolidating institutions shall be discontinued and consolidated into that of the remaining institution, which shall continue. All and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each discontinuing institution and its right, title and interest to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest or asset of conceivable value or benefit then existing which would inure to it under an unconsolidated existence, shall be deemed fully and finally, and without any right of reversion, transferred to or vested in the continuing institution, without further act or deed, and such continuing institution shall have and hold the same in its own right as fully as if the same was possessed and held by the discontinuing institution from which it was, by operation of the provisions hereof, transferred, and other provisions of law relative to limitations on the number of directors, corporators or trustees and on the investment of funds of such institutions shall not apply.

2. A discontinuing institution's rights, obligations and relations to any shareholder, or depositor, creditor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, or other person, as of the effective date of the consolidation, shall remain umimpaired, and the continuing institution shall, by the consolidation, succeed to all such relations, obligations and liabilities, as though it had itself assumed the relation or incurred the obligation or liability; and its liabilities and obligations to creditors existing for any cause whatsoever shall not be impaired by the consolidation; nor shall any obligation or liability of any shareholder or depositor in any such institution, continuing or discontinuing, which is party to the consolidation, be affected by any consolidation, but such obligations and liabilities shall continue as fully, and to the same extent, as the same existed before the consolidation, and the provisions relative to the limitations on shares and deposits, shall not apply.

3. A pending action or other judicial proceeding to which any of the consolidating institutions is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of the consolidation, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if the consolidation has not been made; or the continuing institution may be substituted as a party to any such action or proceeding to which the discontinuing institution was a party, and any judgment, order or decree may be rendered for or against the continuing institution that might have been rendered for or against such discontinuing institution if such consolidation had not occurred.

4. After such consolidation, a foreclosure of a mortgage begun by any discontinuing institution may be completed by the continuing institution, and publication begun by the discontinuing institution may be continued in the name of the discontinuing institution. Any certificate of possession, affidavit of sale or foreclosure deed relative to such foreclosure shall be executed by the proper officers in behalf of whichever of such institutions actually took possession or made the sale, but any such instrument executed in behalf of the continuing institution shall recite that it is successor of the discontinuing institution which commenced the foreclosure.

5. A new name may be adopted as the name of the continuing institution at the special meetings as herein provided, and it shall become the name of the continuing institution upon the approval of the consolidation, without further action under the laws of the commonwealth as to change or adoption of a new name on the part of the continuing institution.

6. Any consolidation may be approved and effected pursuant to this section, notwithstanding that the percentage which the aggregate value of the guaranty fund, surplus and other reserves, of any of the consolidating institutions, bears to its liabilities including share liabilities, exceeds such percentage of any of the other consolidating institutions, and any consolidating institution having such an excess of percentage shall not be required to pay an extra dividend or make any other distribution to its shareholders or depositors.

The offices and depots of any co-operative bank and the offices of any federal thrift institution merged or consolidated under this section, may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of, and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, a federal thrift institution shall mean a federal savings and loan association or a federal mutual savings bank which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in, the commonwealth.

Section 26C. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary a co-operative bank subject to approval of the commissioner, may convert to a stockholder owned form of corporation.

Any co-operative bank which converts to a stockholder owned form of corporation shall have all the powers and privileges of a co-operative bank.

The commissioner shall prescribe from time to time such rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper in carrying out the provisions of this section. Such regulations shall be similar to regulations promulgated under Title 12 USC 1725 or Title 12 USC 1464; provided, that the commissioner may make such adjustments and exceptions as in his judgment are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section or to facilitate compliance therewith.

Any regulation, or any amendment or repeal of any such regulation issued under the provisions of this section after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A shall be submitted to the general court for approval. The commissioner shall file the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal with the clerk of the house of representatives, together with a statement that the pertinent provisions of said chapter thirty A have been complied with. Any regulations filed with the general court under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a summary of the regulations in layman's terms. The clerk shall refer such regulations to the joint committee on banks and banking within five days of the filing thereof. The committee shall consider the proposed regulation, amendment or repeal and shall report to the general court within forty-five days whether the same should be adopted in the manner submitted. The clerk of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives shall recommend to the general court the form and procedure which shall be followed in considering the approval of a proposed regulation, amendment or repeal, provided that approval or disapproval shall be by joint resolution.

The clerk of the senate shall cause any regulation, amendment or repeal, approved by both branches of the general court within seventy-five days from the time of filing of the same with the clerk of the house of representatives, to be forwarded to the governor for his approval; provided, however, that any such regulation, amendment or repeal which is not approved by the general court and the governor within thirty days of such filing shall be deemed to have been disapproved.

If the governor approves any regulation, amendment or repeal submitted to him, as hereinbefore provided, he shall forward the same to the state secretary who shall publish the same in accordance with section five of said chapter thirty A.

Emergency regulations may be adopted during the prorogation of the general court in the manner provided by section five of chapter thirty A; provided, that such regulation shall be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives for submission to the next session of the general court for approval as hereinbefore provided; and provided, further that such regulation shall not remain in force for more than ninety days after the general court has convened for such session.

Section 26D. Any one or more of such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company or a savings bank or co-operative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law. A federally-chartered stock corporation shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation, which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 27. Subject to the written approval of the commissioner, any co-operative bank may be dissolved and liquidate its affairs if authorized by a vote passed, at a meeting specially called to consider the subject, by at least two-thirds of the shareholders in a co-operative bank. A committee of three shareholders shall thereupon be elected, and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner, shall liquidate the assets, and after satisfying all debts of the corporation shall distribute the remaining proceeds among those entitled thereto in proportion to their respective interests therein.

Section 28. Any such corporation may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association, or other federal agency of a like nature, if authorized by a vote of a majority of all the shareholders of such corporation, entitled to vote, voting in person or by proxy, at a meeting especially called to consider the subject. Notice of such special meeting, containing a statement of the time, place and the purpose of the meeting shall be sent by the clerk of the corporation to each shareholder at his last address appearing upon the records of the corporation, by mail, postage prepaid, at least thirty days before the date of the meeting. Notice of the meeting also shall be advertised three times in one or more newspapers published in the city or town in which the main office of the corporation is situated or if there be no such newspaper, then in one or more newspapers published in the county wherein the town is situated, the last publication to be at least one day before the meeting.

There also shall be mailed with the notice of such special meeting such form of letter concerning the proposed conversion as the commissioner may approve; provided, however, that if the commissioner shall fail to approve the form of such a letter within thirty days after receipt by him of a written request therefor, such corporation may mail with said notice such form of letter as the board of directors may approve.

A proxy used at such meeting shall not be valid unless it is in writing, signed by the shareholder, and is in such form as clearly will enable such shareholder to select and indicate his choice as to whether he favors or opposes the proposed conversion.

After compliance with the first paragraph of this section and approval of such conversion by the shareholders as required thereby and upon the approval of the conversion by the appropriate federal supervising authority to the extent required by applicable provisions of federal law and regulations thereunder, and the issuance by such authority of a federal savings and loan association charter, such corporation shall cease to be a member bank of The Co-operative Central Bank, referred to in section one of chapter forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two, as amended, and in section one of chapter seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, as amended, hereinafter called the central bank, and shall cease to be a participating bank in the Co-operative Banks Employees Retirement Association referred to in sections thirty to thirty-two, inclusive.

After receipt by the central bank of notice from the commissioner that he has been notified in writing by such federal supervising authority that the conversion of such corporation has been completed and that such federal charter has been issued to the succeeding federal savings and loan association, and that he has received from the state secretary a certifcate that such corporation, hereinafter called the predecessor corporation, has been duly recorded for dissolution, the following further provisions shall apply:

1. The central bank shall pay to said succeeding association from the fund representing deposits of member banks made pursuant to said chapter forty-five, hereinafter called the reserve fund, an amount equal to not more than the aggregate of all deposits made by the predecessor corporation held in said reserve fund on the effective date of the conversion, less all indebtedness of such corporation to the central bank; provided, that no part of the surplus, undivided profits or other reserves held by the central bank in said reserve fund shall be so paid.

2. An amount equal to the annual assessments paid and which shall have become due and payable by the predecessor corporation while a member bank, to the share insurance fund of the central bank, pursuant to section one of said chapter seventy-three, as amended, shall be retained by the central bank as a charge for insurance of the shares of such corporation while a member of said share insurance fund. All other assessments paid by the predecessor corporation to said share insurance fund pursuant to said chapter seventy-three, as amended, shall continue to be held by the central bank until all losses and estimated losses and expenses of all corporations being assisted by the central bank from said share insurance fund and being liquidated at the time that such corporation ceased to be a member bank shall have been paid or provided for. Thereafter the succeeding association shall be entitled to receive from the central bank the portions, if any, of such other assessments not so paid or required as shall be determined by the central bank with the approval of the commissioner, and such determination shall be final and conclusive upon the central bank, the predecessor corporation and the succeeding association and all other persons then or thereafter interested; provided, that the supreme judicial court shall have jurisdiction to review and to confirm or modify such determination upon the petition of the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association filed within ten days after receipt thereby of notice of such determination. The central bank, in its discretion and subject to the approval of the commissioner, may make disposition of such other assessments, at any time after such conversion is completed, by adjustment pursuant to an agreement with the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association and may pay thereto such amount as may be so agreed upon.

3. The predecessor corporation or the succeeding association shall, subject to the last sentence of this paragraph, pay to said share insurance fund or make provision for payment thereto of a sum equal to three annual assessments, referred to in said section one of chapter seventy-three at the percentage rate in effect at the time the predecessor corporation ceased to be a member bank and computed on the basis of its share liabilities and notes payable as shown by its last annual report to the commissioner preceding such conversion or, at its option or at the option of the succeeding associations, as shown by the records of the predecessor corporation on the effective date of conversion. Until such sum shall have been paid in full, payments on account thereof shall be made annually or oftener by the predecessor corporation or the succeeding association; provided, however, that not less than one-third of such sum shall be paid annually. If any such one-third shall not be so paid or if, at the end of three years from the time the predecessor corporation ceased to be a member bank such sum shall not have been paid in full, the entire balance thereof may be incurred by the central bank, together with interest thereon, in any manner provided by law for the collection of debts. The predecessor corporation or the succeeding association may authorize the deduction of such sum in whole or in part, from the amount, if any, of the portions of said other assessments to which the succeeding association may be entitled as hereinbefore provided. If, however, by federal law or regulation a federal savings and loan association converting therefrom to a co-operative bank, is required to pay to the federal savings and loan insurance corporation a sum equal to annual premiums or assessments for other than a period of three years, then the number of annual assessments payable to said share insurance fund under this section shall be for the same number of years as is so required.

Section 29. Any federal savings and loan association may convert itself into a co-operative bank upon the same terms and conditions that from time to time shall apply under federal law and regulations to the conversion of a co-operative bank to such an association; provided, however, that where authority is conferred upon the federal home loan bank board or the federal home loan bank, in the case of a conversion from a co-operative bank to such an association, similar authority, in the case of a conversion from such an association to a co-operative bank, unless otherwise expressly provided in this section, is hereby conferred upon the board of bank incorporation.

Any such association shall first give notice in writing to the board of bank incorporation of its intention to convert to a co-operative bank and shall submit such preliminary financial statements and other information concerning its assets, liabilities and affairs as said board may request, together with a plan for proposed conversion showing the intended treatment of the various classes of its assets and liabilities before and after conversion. The commissioner, at the expense of such association, shall make such examination of its assets, liabilities and affairs as said board may deem advisable in order to determine the qualifications of such association for doing the business of a co-operative bank.

If, after such examination, said board finds that the percentage that the total reserves of such association bears to its total assets is at least equal to the average percentage that the total reserves of all co-operative banks established under this chapter, including surplus accounts, bears to their total assets, said board may approve such application, but if said percentage of reserves of such association is below such average it shall reject such application, provided, however, that if such association shall comply with such conditions as said board determines, within such time as it specifies, it may thereafter approve such application and plan for conversion, as amended. In its approval, said board also may make provision for such association to carry, for a sufficient period to permit their orderly liquidation or transfer into qualified assets and liabilities, assets and liabilities that are not legally proper for co-operative banks under this chapter. It may also approve the retention by such association of its interest, if any, in any employees' retirement associations or funds.

If such application is approved by said board as above provided, such association shall cause to be filed with the state secretary the name, residence and post-office address of each of the officers and directors of such association, a copy of its proposed by-laws amended to conform with the requirements of section seven and such other information as said secretary may require.

After approval of such conversion by said board, and receipt by it of satisfactory evidence that all provisions of federal laws and regulations relative to such conversion have been or will be duly complied with, the said board shall cause to be filed with the state secretary a certificate of its approval. After receipt of such certificate by said state secretary, if he finds that the requirements of this section have been satisfactorily complied with, he shall so certify and upon receipt of a fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, said secretary shall issue to said officers and directors in such form as he may prescribe, a certificate of incorporation as a co-operative bank.

Simultaneously with the receipt of such certificate such bank, hereinafter referred to as the succeeding corporation, shall become a member of The Co-operative Central Bank, hereinafter called the central bank, and of the share insurance fund thereof, referred to in section twenty-eight. Before such succeeding corporation shall commence business as a co-operative bank, it shall pay into the reserve fund, referred to in said section twenty-eight of the central bank, an amount equal to the deposit required of a member bank thereof of similar size, as of the date of said certificate, plus such additional amount based upon the surplus of said reserve fund, as the directors of the central bank, with the approval of the commissioner, shall determine to be equitable.

In addition to the payment to said reserve fund, the succeeding corporation shall pay to said share insurance fund or make provision for payment thereto of a sum based upon the relation which the total amount of all assessments, referred to in section one of chapter seventy-three, paid into said share insurance fund by all member banks, exclusive of annual assessments, plus the amount of the earned surplus account of said fund, less all losses and expenses incurred by said fund with respect to co-operative banks which it has assisted or liquidated, bears to the insured liabilities of all member banks; provided, that such payment shall be not less than the sum of six times the average applicable annual assessments paid by member banks during the preceding five years; and provided, further, that the succeeding corporation shall pay to said share insurance fund such proportion of the current annual assessment as shall have accrued to the date of said certificate.

After compliance with the foregoing requirements, the succeeding corporation shall thereafter be entitled to exercise all of the rights and privileges, and shall be subject to all of the duties and obligations of a co-operative bank and shall conduct its business subject to the provisions of this chapter and of other applicable laws; provided that, with the approval of the commissioner, the succeeding corporation shall have reasonable time after the effective date of the conversion within which to comply with any particular provisions of such laws not hereinbefore specifically provided for and which it shall be unable to comply with on or before said date.

Section 30. Fifteen or more co-operative banks may form the Co-operative Banks Employees Retirement Association, in this section and in sections thirty-one and thirty-two called the association, for the purpose of providing pensions for eligible employees of the participating banks who retire on account of age or disability. The association, in its name and by or through its authorized officers, may (a) make agreements and investments subject to such limitations as from time to time may be prescribed by law or the by-laws of the association, (b) sue and be sued, plead and be pleaded, (c) enforce liens and other obligations and foreclose mortgages held by the association on or with respect to real or personal property situated in the commonwealth or in any state or territory of the United States, (d) adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure, and (e) do such other acts and things as may be necessary to carry out the powers conferred upon it by law and its by-laws.

All co-operative banks established under the laws of the commonwealth, the Co-operative Bank League of Massachusetts, the Co-operative Banks Employees Retirement Association, The Co-operative Central Bank, and such other Massachusetts co-operative bank organizations as from time to time may be provided for in the by-laws of the association, and such of the respective employees of each of the foregoing as may be provided by such by-laws, shall be eligible for membership in the association. For the purposes of this section and sections thirty-one and thirty-two a reference to "bank" or "banks" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include any or all of the organizations named or referred to in this paragraph, and a reference to "board of directors" of a bank shall also, unless the context otherwise requires, mean and include the governing body of each of such organizations.

Eligible employees may contribute a portion of their salaries or wages, to be deducted by the employing banks and paid to the association. A participating bank may contribute to the funds of the association to the extent determined by its board of directors, but its contributions for current service, as defined in the by-laws, on account of any employee shall not exceed fifteen per cent of his compensation. A participating bank may also contribute for service, as defined in the by-laws, amounts necessary to provide eligible employees with an annuity or pension to begin at age sixty-five or later, such annuity or pension not to exceed sixty per cent of the highest average salary for any three successive years of an employee's participation.

In the event that any employee who has been continuously in the employ of such a bank for ten years or more becomes incapacitated for further service by reason of physical or mental disability before age sixty-five, the employing bank may pay him a pension in an amount not to exceed two per cent of his average salary for the three years preceding the date of retirement for each year, not exceeding thirty years, of continuous service with any and all banks as defined in the second paragraph of this section. Any pension paid on account of disability may be discontinued when such pensioner substantially recovers his earning capacity or attains age sixty-five or the date the employee elects to have his pension annuity commence.

The funds contributed by participating banks and member employees shall be held or used by the trustees of the association for the purchase of annuities or payment of pensions to eligible employees upon their retirement from service, for the payments to beneficiaries or representatives of any member employee of the participating bank dying before reaching the age of retirement, and for the payment to any such employee retiring from service before becoming entitled to a pension or annuity. Expenses necessary for the administration of the association shall be paid by participating banks, on a proportionate basis as provided in the by-laws.

A bank, by vote of its board of directors, may directly or indirectly by means of a contribution to one or more of the trust funds held by the trustees of the association supplement the retirement benefits being paid to its former employees or their beneficiaries on account of bank service, provided that no supplement of a retirement benefit shall exceed the retirement benefit multiplied by the increase in the cost of living since the retirement benefit began. The increase in the cost of living is the percentage by which the national monthly consumer price index figure for all urban consumers issued by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the last November before the year in which payment is made is greater than the beginning index figure. The beginning index figure is the average of such monthly consumer price index figures for the year in which a retirement benefit was first paid to or with respect to a former employee. Except with respect to supplements first voted by the bank's board of directors on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and which are paid through one or more of the trust funds held by the trustees of the association, no bank may become obligated to pay in future years any supplement authorized by this paragraph.

Section 31. The by-laws of the association shall be submitted to the commissioner and shall prescribe the manner in which, and the officers and agents by whom, the association may be conducted and the manner in which its funds may be invested and paid out. Such association shall be formed when its by-laws have been approved and agreed to by a majority of the directors of each of fifteen or more co-operative banks, and have been approved by the commissioner. Such association shall annually, on or before December first, report to the commissioner such statements of its membership and financial transactions for the year ending on the preceding October thirty-first as the commissioner may consider necessary to show its business and standing. The commissioner may verify such statement by an examination of the books and papers of the association.

The association shall not be subject to chapter thirty-two or chapter one hundred and seventy-five or to such other provisions of law as relate to insurance companies or other retirement associations.

Section 32. The property of the association, the portion of the wages or salary of any employee deducted or to be deducted under, or under authority of, sections thirty and thirty-one the right of an employee to an annuity or pension, and all his rights in the funds of the association, shall be exempt from taxation and from the operation of any law relating to insolvency, and shall not be attached or taken on execution or other process to satisfy any debt or liability of the association, a participating bank, or any employee member or of the association. No assignment of any right in or to said funds or of any pension or annuity payable under said section thirty shall be valid, except that deferred annuity contracts purchased by a participating bank on account of past service of eligible employees may be assigned to such bank prior to actual retirement.

Nothing in this section shall prevent an employee's annuity or pension from being attached, taken on execution, assigned or subject to other process to satisfy a support order under chapters two hundred and eight, two hundred and nine, or two hundred and seventy-three.

SECTION 47. Section twenty-six of chapter one hundred and seventy-one of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

SECTION 48. Said chapter 171 is hereby further amended by adding the following section:-

Section 37. Section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C; sections nine, ten, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty-three, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight and thirty-one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D; paragraph 10 of subsection B of section two, section three and paragraphs 10, 11 and 14 of section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven E; paragraphs 10, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 of section two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F and section four of said chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F shall apply to credit unions.

SECTION 49. Section 11 of chapter 172 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a), as most recently amended by section 373 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(a) After such notice and hearing as the board may prescribe, a trust company may, with the approval of the board, establish and operate one or more branch offices in the city or town where its principal office is located, in any other city or town in the same county having no commercial banking facilities or having banking facilities which, in the opinion of the board, are inadequate for the public convenience, or on a site in the commonwealth within forty miles from the premises of the principal office in any city or town in another county having no commercial banking facilities or having facilities which, in the opinion of the board, are inadequate for the public convenience. All petitions for the establishment of a branch office shall state therein the specific area, location or street address, if available where such proposed branch is to be located. All such petitions shall be accompanied by payment of an investigation fee for each branch office applied for, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. A branch office so authorized shall be established within one year of the board's approval thereof, except that the board may extend the time in which such branch may be established, without further notice or hearing unless the board shall order it. If the board refuses to grant a petition for the establishment of a branch office, no further action may be taken by the petitioner in relation to such branch office during the year following the date of such refusal except with the approval of the board, but the petitioner may as of right renew his petition to establish such branch office after the expiration of one year from the date of such refusal; provided, however, that not more than three applications by a trust company to establish a branch office under this paragraph outside of the county wherein its principal office is located shall be approved in any calendar year.

SECTION 50. Section 11 of said chapter 172 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b), as most recently amended by section 5 of chapter 80 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(b) With the approval of the commissioner under such conditions as he may prescribe, such corporation may maintain as a branch office or offices any office in the commonwealth of any state-chartered bank or any federally-chartered bank the business of which has been taken over under section thirty-two or thirty-eight or under section seventy-three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven. No trust company shall be given permission pursuant to this section more than three times in any one calendar year either to take over a bank under section thirty-two or thirty-eight whose main office is located outside the county wherein the main office of such trust company is located or to establish a branch office outside of the county wherein its main office is located.

SECTION 51. Said chapter 172 is hereby amended by striking out section 32, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 493 of the acts of 1961, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 32. With the approval of the commissioner, a trust company may advance or loan upon, or purchase the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or of any federally-chartered bank including trust companies in possession of the commissioner under sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more other such banks. Such advance, loan or purchase may be made upon such terms and conditions as shall have been approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the directors of the trust company and the applicable board of such other bank. A trust company making or participating in such advance, loan or purchase for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the deposit and other liabilities of any such bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. In the event of such approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the investment of funds of trust companies and to the limitations upon deposits therein shall not apply. In the case of any new trust company formed for the purpose of purchasing any or all of the assets and assuming any or all of the liabilities of any trust company in his possession under said sections, he may impose such other and further conditions and restrictions concerning the business, investments and operation of such new trust company as he may deem necessary or advisable.

The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice that arrangements satisfactory to each affected insurer have been made for such action.

So much of section sixteen as provides that no person shall hold an office in two trust companies at the same time shall not prevent an officer or director of any other trust company from serving as an officer or director of such new trust company or of any other bank the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a trust company hereunder.

For the purpose of this section, a federally-chartered bank shall mean a federal savings bank, a federal savings and loan association and a national banking association which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in, the commonwealth.

SECTION 52. Subsection A of section 38 of said chapter 172, as most recently amended by section 375 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by adding the following clause:-

(4) Any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company or a savings bank or cooperative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law. A federally-chartered stock corporation shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation, which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in, the commonwealth.

The provisions of this clause shall not apply to a consolidation or merger authorized by clause (a).

SECTION 53. Said section 38 of said chapter 172 is hereby further amended by striking out subsection D, as amended by section 8 of chapter 293 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

D. The continuing trust company into which a trust company, banking company or a national banking association shall have been consolidated or merged or into which a national banking association shall have been converted under this section shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as that of the consolidating or merging or converting institution and the rights, powers and duties of the continuing trust company shall be those established by its charter; provided, however, that if the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of directors of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, further, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

SECTION 54. Section 48 of said chapter 172 is hereby amended by striking out clause 7, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 493 of the acts of 1961, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

7. To invest in (a) the capital stock of any other trust company or a national banking association incorporated or doing business in the commonwealth and (b) the stock of a savings bank, co-operative bank, federal savings and loan association or federal savings bank; provided that a bank or association, the stock of which is invested in under subclause (b) meets the criteria established by the commissioner.

SECTION 55. Section 48A of said chapter 172 is hereby amended by striking out clause (a), as amended by chapter 42 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(a) Such corporation may make or acquire loans upon real estate for any purpose secured by a mortgage other than a first lien, of the several classes specified in paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 6A of subsection B of section fifty-five subject in each instance to the provisions and limitations applicable to the particular class except that, any provision of said section fifty-five notwithstanding, the note or mortgage need not require payment of a proportionate part of the estimated real estate taxes and betterment assessments on the mortgaged real estate, such loan may be made or acquired without regard to the location of the real estate loaned upon, and such loan may be made or acquired for an amount less than or equal to the greater of twenty-five thousand dollars or the amount by which the loan limitation applicable to the particular class under said section fifty-five exceeds the principal balance outstanding on any first mortgage loan secured by a mortgage on the property loaned upon. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said section fifty-five to a limitation upon the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class, such aggregate balance shall be determined by adding the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of that class authorized by said section fifty-five to the aggregate balance of principal outstanding on loans of the same class authorized by this section. In any case in which loans of the particular class are subject by said section fifty-five to a condition that the mortgagor furnish to the committee an affidavit that the mortgagor does not require junior financing, such condition shall be deemed satisfied by an affidavit which states that the mortgagor requires no further junior financing.

SECTION 56. Paragraph 5 of subsection B of section 55 of said chapter 172, as appearing in chapter 407 of the acts of 1980, is hereby amended by striking out the fifth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 57. Paragraph 6 of said subsection B of said section 55 of said chapter 172, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fifth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 58. Paragraph 6A of said subsection B of said section 55 of said chapter 172, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

SECTION 59. The first paragraph of paragraph 6B of said subsection B of said section 55 of said chapter 172, as appearing in section 4 of chapter 267 of the acts of 1981, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The maximum sum for a loan of this class to be made or acquired shall be determined by regulation of the commissioner.

CHAPTER 172
TRUST COMPANIES.

Section 1. Wherever used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Board" or "board of bank incorporation", a board consisting of the commissioner of banks, the commissioner of revenue, and the state treasurer.

"Capital stock", the sum of the par value of the preferred and common shares of capital stock, issued and outstanding.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Common stock", the shares of capital stock of a trust company, other than preferred stock, issued under the provisions of this chapter.

"Deposit book" or "pass book", the book or other instrument issued to a depositor as evidence of his savings account.

"Incorporators", subscribers to the agreement of association for the purpose of forming a trust company under the provisions of this chapter.

"Officer", any individual designated as such in accordance with the by-laws including, whether or not so designated, the president, vice-president, treasurer, and the clerk or secretary, or any individual who performs the duties appropriate to those offices.

"Stockholder", a registered owner of shares of capital stock of a trust company.

"Surplus account", an account so designated on the books of a trust company and consisting of such amounts as shall be required by law or shall be transferred thereto by vote of the board of directors, which may not be reduced except by vote of the board of directors, and with the written approval of the commissioner.

"Trust company" or "such corporation", a trust company incorporated as such in the commonwealth.

Section 1A. A trust company shall have all the powers expressly granted by law and whatever further incidental powers may fairly be implied from those expressly conferred and such as are reasonably necessary to enable it to exercise fully those powers according to common or accepted banking customs and usages.

Section 2. (a) Except as herein otherwise specifically provided, this chapter shall apply to all trust companies.

(b) A trust company doing business under a charter issued prior to May twenty-eighth, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, shall not be subject to any provision of this chapter which is inconsistent with its charter or any provision of its by-laws adopted pursuant to its charter. Such trust company may adopt as part of its charter this chapter, or any provision thereof, by vote of a majority of its stockholders at its annual meeting or at a meeting called for the purpose and by filing within ten days from the date of such meeting, with the state secretary and with the commissioner, a certificate of such adoption sworn to by the clerk of such trust company.

Section 3. No person, other than a trust company, shall use the words "trust company", even though said words may be separated by one or more other words, as part of his or its name or in any representation describing his or its business, powers, services or functions. Any person who violates this section shall be punished by a fine of one hundred dollars for each day during which such violation continues.

Section 4. A trust company shall upon its incorporation have such capital structure as the board of bank incorporation shall deem adequate but not less than the following:

(a) Capital stock as follows:

Located in a city or town having a population of	Minimum Capital Stock
Less than 50,000	$100,000.00
50,000 or more	200,000.00

(b) A surplus account amounting to fifty per cent of its capital stock.

(c) An undivided profits account amounting to fifty per cent of its capital stock.

Section 5. Fifteen or more individuals who associate themselves by a written agreement for the purpose of forming a trust company may, upon compliance with sections four to nine, inclusive, become a corporation, with all the powers and privileges and subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities set forth in all general laws relating to such corporations. The agreement of association shall specifically state:

(a) That the subscribers thereto associate themselves with the intention of forming a corporation;

(b) The name by which the corporation shall be known;

(c) The location of the principal office of the corporation, which shall be within the commonwealth;

(d) The purposes for which the corporation is formed and the nature of the business to be transacted;

(e) The amount and classes of its capital stock, and the number of shares into which any class is to be divided;

(f) The amount of the surplus account;

(g) The amount of the undivided profits account; and

(h) The name of each incorporator and his residence, post office address, and the number of shares of capital stock, if any, which he agrees to take and the class or classes of such shares.

Each incorporator shall subscribe his name to the agreement of association.

Section 6. A notice of the intention of the subscribers to form such a trust company shall be given to the board of bank incorporation.

A notice in such form as said board shall approve, shall be published at least once a week, for three successive weeks, in one or more newspapers designated by the board, and published in the city or town in which it is proposed to establish the trust company, or if there is no newspaper in such city or town, in a newspaper published in the city or town which is nearest to the proposed location. Such notice shall specify the names of the proposed incorporators, the name of the corporation and the location of the same, as set forth in the agreement of association. Within thirty days after the first publication of said notice the subscribers to said agreement shall apply to the board for a certificate that public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment of such trust company. Such an application for a proposed trust company or proposed credit union shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven. In determining whether the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment of such trust company, the board shall consider the adequacy of its capital structure, the general character of its management, the adequacy of banking facilities in the area, and the convenience and needs of the community to be served. The board may grant such certificate, which shall be deemed to be revoked if the applicants therefor do not become incorporated and begin business within one year after its date of issue. If the board refuses to issue such certificate, no further proceeding may be taken by the applicant during the year next following the date of such refusal except with the approval of the board, but the applicant may renew his application as of right after one year from the date of such refusal, and he may dispense with further notice or publication unless the board orders such notice or publication.

Section 7. The first meeting of the incorporators shall be called by a notice signed either by that incorporator who is designated in the agreement for the purpose, or by a majority of the incorporators, and such notice shall state the time, place and purposes of the meeting. A copy of the notice shall, at least seven days before the day appointed for the meeting, be given to each incorporator or left at his residence or usual place of business, or deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, and addressed to him at his residence or usual place of business, and another copy thereof and an affidavit of one of the signers that the notice has been duly served shall be recorded with the records of the corporation. If all the incorporators shall, in writing endorsed upon the agreement of association, waive such notice and fix the time and place of the meeting, no notice shall be required. At such first meeting, or at any adjournment thereof, the incorporators shall organize by the choice by ballot of a temporary clerk who shall be sworn, by the adoption of by-laws and by the election in such manner as the by-laws may determine, of directors, a clerk or secretary, and such other officers as the by-laws may prescribe. The temporary clerk shall make and attest a record of the proceedings until the clerk or secretary has been chosen and sworn, including a record of such choice and qualification.

Section 8. The clerk or secretary and a majority of the directors elected at such first meeting shall make and sign under penalties of perjury articles of organization in duplicate, setting forth-

(a) A true copy of the agreement of association, the names of the subscribers thereto, and the name, residence and post office address of each of the officers and directors of the company;

(b) The date of the first meeting and the successive adjournments thereof, if any.

One duplicate original of the articles so signed shall be submitted to the commissioner, and the other, together with the records of the proposed corporation, to the state secretary, who shall examine the same, and who may require such amendment thereof or such additional information as he may consider necessections relative to the organization of the corporation and that section six has been complied with, he shall so certify and endorse his approval thereon. The articles shall be filed within thirty days thereafter in the office of the state secretary, who, upon receipt of a fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven, said state secretary shall issue a certificate of incorporation in the following form:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Be it known that whereas (the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association) have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of (the name of the corporation), for the purpose (the purpose declared in the agreement of association), with a capital stock of (the amount fixed in the agreement of association), and have complied with the statutes of the commonwealth in such case made and provided, as appears from the articles of organization of said corporation, duly approved by the state secretary and recorded in this office: Now, therefore, I (the name of the state secretary), secretary of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby certify that said (the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association), their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as, and are hereby made, an existing corporation under the name of (name of the corporation), with the powers, rights and privileges, and subject to the limitations, duties and restrictions, which by law appertain thereto.

Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed and the great seal of the commonwealth of Massachusetts hereunto affixed, this day of in the year (the date of the filing of the articles of organization).

The state secretary shall sign the certificate of incorporation and cause the great seal of the commonwealth to be thereto affixed, and such certificate shall have the force and effect of a special charter. The existence of every such corporation shall begin upon the filing of the articles of organization in the office of the state secretary. He shall also cause a record of the certificate of incorporation to be made, and such certificate, or such record, or a certified copy thereof, shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of such corporation.

Section 9. When all the capital stock has been issued, a list of the stockholders, with the name, residence and post office address of each, and the number of shares in each class held by each stockholder, shall be filed with the board of bank incorporation, which list shall be verified by the clerk of the corporation. Upon receipt of such list the board shall cause an examination to be made of the method of payment of the capital stock, of the personnel of the corporation, including the officers and directors thereof, and if, after such examination, it appears that the whole capital stock, surplus account and undivided profits account have been paid in cash, that all requirements of law have been complied with, that the bank is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and that the qualifications of the personnel are satisfactory, the board shall, if satisfied that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted thereby, issue a certificate authorizing such corporation to begin the transaction of business. No such corporation shall begin the transaction of business until such a certificate has been granted.

Section 10. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of bank incorporation may grant a certificate, if satisfied that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted, to establish a trust company, owned as provided in section eight-one hundred and two of chapter one hundred and six, for the sole purpose of holding, receiving, and delivering securities and making book entries with respect to the transfer and pledge or the transfer and pledge thereof as a clearing corporation and as a custodian bank for other clearing corporations as contemplated by sections eight-one hundred and two and eight-three hundred and twenty of said chapter one hundred and six; provided, however, that said trust company shall not receive deposits, loan moneys, act in any other fiduciary capacity or as transfer agent or registrar of stocks, or otherwise carry on a banking business under the laws of the commonwealth.

Section 11. Such corporation may adopt by-laws for the proper management of its affairs and may establish regulations controlling the assignment and transfer of its shares. A majority in interest of the stockholders entitled to vote shall constitute a quorum at any meeting unless the by-laws require more than a majority. A copy of the by-laws and a copy of any regulations established hereunder shall be transmitted to the commissioner. A copy of any change in or amendment to any by-law or regulation shall be transmitted to the commissioner immediately after adoption. To all copies there shall be appended a written statement, signed by the clerk or secretary and the president, declaring that the copies are true and correct. The statement shall contain a declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. Said copies shall be kept in a suitable place by the commissioner and shall be competent evidence in all cases, equally with the originals thereof.

Section 12. Stockholders entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy. No proxy dated more than six months before the date of the meeting named therein shall be valid, and no proxy shall be valid after the final adjournment of such meeting. A proxy with respect to stock held in the name of two or more persons shall be valid if executed by any one of them unless at or prior to the exercise of the proxy such corporation receives a specific written notice to the contrary from any one of them. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a stockholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise, and the burden of proving invalidity shall rest on the challenger.

Section 13. The business of such corporation shall be managed by a board of not less than seven nor more than twenty-five directors. Three-fourths of the directors shall be citizens of the commonwealth and resident therein. The directors shall be elected, in such manner as is provided in the by-laws, by the stockholders at their annual meeting or at a special meeting called for the purpose; provided, however, that if the by-laws so prescribe, a number of directors, not exceeding two, may be elected by vote of a majority of the directors then in office.

The directors shall hold office for such term, not exceeding three years, as is provided in the by-laws and until their successors are selected and have qualified. A director shall be eligible for reelection. Any vacancy in the board may be filled by appointment by the remaining directors and any director so appointed shall hold his office until the next election.

Each director shall own, in his own right and free of any lien or encumbrance, common stock, either of such corporation or of a company owning seventy-five per cent of the stock of such corporation, having a par value of not less than one thousand dollars. Any director who ceases to be the owner of the required number of shares of stock, or who becomes in any other manner disqualified, shall vacate his office forthwith. Each director, when appointed or elected, shall take an oath that he will faithfully perform the duties of his office and that he is the owner, in his own right and free of any lien or encumbrance, of the amount of stock required by this section. The oath shall be taken before a notary public or justice of the peace, who is not an officer of such corporation, and a record of the oath shall be made a part of the records of such corporation.

Each such corporation shall have an executive committee of not less than three members, who shall be elected by and from the directors and shall hold office during their pleasure.

Section 14. The clerk or secretary shall be elected by the stockholders at their annual meeting or at a special meeting duly called for the purpose.

The president shall be elected by and from the board of directors and shall be chairman thereof unless the board designates a director in lieu of the president to be chairman. The directors shall elect the treasurer and such other officers as may be required or permitted by law or by-law. The officers elected by the board shall hold their respective offices during the pleasure of the directors. The directors may fill a vacancy in the office of clerk or secretary until the next meeting of the stockholders.

Section 15. The officers of such corporation shall be a president, a clerk or secretary, a treasurer and such other officers as may be prescribed in accordance with its by-laws, and they shall be sworn to the faithful performance of their duties, and shall give to the corporation bond in such amounts and with such surety or sureties and conditions as the commissioner may prescribe. Any officer and employees required to give bond may be included in one or more blanket or schedule bonds; provided, that such bonds are approved by the commissioner as to the amounts and conditions thereof, and as to the sureties thereon.

Section 16. The board of directors shall meet at least once in each calendar month. At intervals of not more than two months each, the treasurer or any other officer designated by the board of directors shall submit to a meeting of the board of directors a written report, over his signature, for the period running from the closing date of the last report to a date not more than eighteen days prior to the date of the meeting at which the report is submitted. Such report shall be filed with the records of the meeting and shall be retained for a period of six years from the date of the meeting; such report shall cover the following transactions:

1. All changes in investments, including a list of the securities purchased or sold.

2. All changes in any reserve or contingency account, however designated, and an itemized list of the credits and debits to profit and loss and reserve accounts.

3. Lists of the following loans, the date thereof, and the date to which interest has been paid, setting forth the total liabilities of the borrower to the corporation, both secured and unsecured:

(a) All loans payable on demand in excess of five thousand dollars each, other than real estate mortgage loans;

(b) All time loans in excess of five thousand dollars each, overdue for more than thirty days, other than real estate mortgage loans;

(c) All real estate mortgage loans on which interest is more than six months in arrears;

(d) All real estate mortgage loans concerning which any tax upon the underlying security is more than twelve months overdue; and

(e) All real estate mortgage loans concerning which any tax upon the underlying security has been paid by and not repaid to such corporations, specifying the amounts of taxes so paid and the years for which they were paid.

4. A statement setting forth the number and aggregate amount of all real estate mortgage loans exceeding legal limitations based on valuation, together with the aggregate of the excess, and indicating the number, aggregate amount and aggregate excess of such loans concerning which no principal payment program is in operation; and

5. A list of all loans, secured or unsecured, and discounts of any borrower including both direct and indirect liabilities made during such period which brings the aggregate of the liabilities of such borrower to an amount in excess of five thousand dollars, with a notation of any line of credit possessed by such borrower.

Upon application in writing by any such corporation the commissioner in his discretion may waive or modify the list of transactions to be included in such report.

Section 17. In addition to the duties imposed by law upon the treasurer of a bank, or the officer or employee thereof charged with the duties and functions usually performed by the treasurer, he shall also be responsible for the performance of all acts and duties required of such corporation by the provisions of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven or one hundred and seventy-two except in so far as much performance has been expressly imposed on some other officer or employee of such bank by its regulations or by-laws or by provision of law.

Section 18. No officer of a trust company shall, except as hereinafter provided, borrow from or otherwise become indebted to a trust company of which he is an officer, and no trust company shall, except as hereinafter provided, make any loan or extend credit in any other manner to any of its own officers; provided, however, that with the prior approval of a majority of the entire board of directors, a trust company may loan or extend credit to any such officer and such officer may become indebted to such trust company, in any amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars on a loan or extension of credit, secured or unsecured and in an amount not exceeding sixty thousand dollars on a loan secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a single family dwelling which is occupied or which is to be occupied by such officer; and provided, further, that such trust company shall not give a preferential rate of interest, or other preferential terms, on any loan to such officer.

Such trust company shall be required to make an annual report to the commissioner of any loan or extension of credit in any manner to any officer, director or majority shareholder of said trust company. Said trust company shall also be required to make an annual report to the commissioner of any loan or extension of credit in any manner to a fraternal organization, voluntary association, partnership or corporation, the majority interest of which is owned or controlled by an officer, director or majority shareholder of said trust company.

Said report to the commission shall consist of, but not be limited to, the following: (a) the original amount of the loan, (b) the date of the loan, (c) the type of loan, (d) if the loan is secured in any manner, the type of secured asset and its valuation, (e) the terms of the payment, (f) the current balance, and (g) the amount of any principal or interest payments in default, if any, and the length of time of such default.

Section 19. No person shall serve as a director, officer or employee of a trust company if he is, at the same time, engaged, individually or as a partner, in the business of making loans secured by stock or bond collateral or is a director, officer or employee of any person engaged in such business if such business is not subject to the supervision of the commissioner. After January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-five, a director or other officer of a trust company may at the same time be a director, trustee or other officer of a savings bank, co-operative bank or credit union, state or federally chartered savings and loan association, trust company, or national banking association if, in such case, there is in force a permit therefor issued by the commissioner in writing with the reasons thereon stating why the public interest warrants its issuance, after reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard, who is hereby authorized to issue such permit if, in his judgment, it is not incompatible with the public interest, and to revoke any such permit whenever he finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, that the public interest warrants its revocation except that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any director or other officer who held such position at the incorporation of said trust company. Any person serving as a director or other officer of a trust company that does not make real estate mortgage loans and does not accept savings deposits from natural persons, may at the same time serve as a director, corporator, trustee or other officer of a savings bank, co-operative bank, state or federally chartered savings and loan association, or national banking association.

Section 20. No officer, director, employee or attorney of a trust company shall be a beneficiary of or receive, directly or indirectly, any fee, commission, gift or other consideration for or in connection with any business of such corporation. This section shall not prohibit any such officer, director, employee or attorney from receiving interest on a deposit made by him or his usual salary or director's fee or a reasonable fee for services rendered to such corporation or from borrowing from such corporation in accordance with law, or from sharing in commissions, profits or other benefits derived by any firm, association or corporation, in which he is interested, arising out of any transaction with said trust company if such transaction is made in the regular course of business upon terms as favorable to the trust company as those offered to other persons. The commissioner may require a full disclosure to be made on such forms as he may prescribe by regulations or otherwise, of all commissions, profits and other benefits realized in any such transaction.

Section 21. Any officer, director, agent or employee of any bank, who knowingly and wilfully does any act forbidden to him or to such bank by any provision of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or one hundred and seventy-two, or who knowingly and wilfully aids or abets the doing of any act so forbidden to such bank or to any other officer, director, agent or employee thereof, or who knowingly and wilfully fails to do any act required of him by any such provision, or who knowingly and wilfully fails to do any act which is required of such bank by any such provision the performance of which is imposed on him by the by-laws or regulations of the bank or by law or the responsibility for the non-performance of which is placed upon him by section seventeen shall, if no other penalty against him in his aforesaid capacity is specifically provided, be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 22. Each trust company shall prepare an annual report which shall contain, in such form as the commissioner may approve, a statement of condition and of profit and loss. Each annual report and the general books of each trust company shall be available for examination for reasonable purposes by stockholders or their authorized agents at the principal office during business hours.

Each trust company shall post in a prominent place and in a conspicuous manner in the lobby of each of its banking offices a balance sheet which presents fairly, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, including required footnote disclosures, its condition as of the last business day of its fiscal year with comparative figures as of the end of the previous fiscal year. Said balance sheet shall be posted not later than fifteen days after the end of the trust company's fiscal year and shall remain posted until replaced by the following year's posting. Said balance sheet shall be printed at the expense of the trust company and copies shall be made available to its depositors upon request. Each such trust company which fails to post or print any such balance sheet in accordance with this section shall pay to the state treasurer ten dollars for each day that it fails to so post or print such balance sheet, unless excused by the commissioner for cause.

Section 22A. Every trust company shall at such times as the commissioner orders, but not exceeding five times in any calendar year and within thirty days after the day designated in the order, make a return in the form of a trial balance to the commissioner.

The return shall be signed and sworn to by an officer designated by the board of directors and by at least three directors, and shall show the condition of the trust company at the close of business on the day designated. It shall be made on a form furnished by the commissioner and shall specify the different kinds of assets and liabilities.

The return shall be published by and at the expense of the trust company, at such times and in such manner as the commissioner may require, in a newspaper published in the city or town where the principal office of the trust company is located, or, if there is no such newspaper, in a newspaper published in the city or town nearest to such principal office.

Section 23. Whoever violates any provision of section eighteen or twenty shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 24. The capital stock of a trust company shall be subject to the following provisions:

A. Classes. - The capital stock of such corporation may consist of common stock and one or more classes of preferred stock. The issuance of any such capital stock shall require the prior approval of the commissioner, and shall be subject to such conditions as the commissioner may impose.

B. Preferred Stock. - The preferred stock may contain such provisions relative to preferences, voting powers, retirement, dividend and conversion rights and participation in control and management as the by-laws and articles of organization may, with the approval of the commissioner, provide; but the holders thereof shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts or engagements of such corporation and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in its capital. In case dividends on the preferred stock are to be cumulative, no dividends shall be declared or paid on common stock until all such cumulative dividends shall have been paid in full and all requirements of any retirement fund shall have been met; and if such corporation is placed in voluntary liquidation, or a conservator is appointed therefor, or possession of its property and business has been taken by the commissioner, no payments shall be made to the holders of the common stock until the holders of the preferred stock shall have been paid in full such amounts as may, with the approval of the commissioner, be provided in the articles of organization or amendments thereof, not in excess of the purchase price or other consideration received by the corporation for such preferred stock, plus all accumulated unpaid dividends.

C. Issue. - No stock specified in the agreement of association shall be issued until the par value and pro rata portion of surplus account and undivided profits account shall be paid in full in cash. No additional stock shall be issued until the par value thereof is paid in full in cash or such other consideration as shall be approved by the commissioner or is in its possession as surplus account; provided, that no stock shall be issued against the surplus account unless, after such issue, the surplus account shall amount to at least fifty per cent of the total capital stock.

D. Increase or Reduction. - Any such corporation may, subject to the approval of the commissioner, increase or reduce its capital stock in the manner provided by sections seventy and seventy-two of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B; provided, however, that the capital stock shall not be reduced to less than the minimum amounts set forth in section four; and provided, further, that, in the case of reorganization of any such corporation in possession of the commissioner under section twenty-two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or in possession of a conservator under section forty of this chapter, the capital stock outstanding at the time of possession taken by the commissioner or conservator may be cancelled in whole or in part or other disposition thereof made in accordance with any plan of reorganization approved by the commissioner and the supreme judicial court.

E. Change of Par Value. - Any such corporation may change the par value of its shares in the manner provided by sections seventy and seventy-two of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

Section 25. Such corporation may grant options to purchase, issue and sell shares of its capital stock to its employees, or to a trustee on their behalf, without first offering the same to its shareholders, for such consideration, not less than par value, and upon such terms and conditions as shall be approved by its board of directors, by the holders of two-thirds of the stock entitled to vote with respect thereto and by the commissioner. In the absence of fraud, the sufficiency of consideration as so approved shall be conclusively presumed.

Section 26. The registrar, transfer agent or other officer or agent of any such corporation having charge of its stockholders' records or ledger shall, within ten days after recording thereon any transfer of stock of the corporation which makes the transferee the owner of record of ten per cent or more of the outstanding stock with voting power, report such transfer to the commissioner. Any agent or broker holding ten per cent or more of such stock for the benefit of one or more persons shall, upon written request of the commissioner, report to him the names of such persons. Whoever violates this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

Section 27. The directors may fix in advance a time, which, unless a shorter period is provided in the by-laws, shall be not more than sixty days before the date of any meeting of the stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the making of any distribution to stockholders or the last day on which the consent or dissent of stockholders may be effectively expressed for any purpose, as the record date for determining the stockholders having the right to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof or the right to receive such dividend or distribution or the right to give such consent or dissent, and in such case only stockholders of record on such record date shall have such right, notwithstanding any transfer of stock on the books of the corporation after the record date; or without fixing such record date the directors may for any of such purposes close the transfer books for all or any part of such period.

Section 28. A. The board of directors may, subject to the restrictions contained in this section, declare and pay dividends on capital stock, out of net profits, from time to time and to such extent as they deem advisable.

B. No cash dividend shall be paid unless, following the payment of each such dividend, the capital stock and the surplus account will be unimpaired.

C. No dividends on common stock shall be paid unless prior thereto:

(1) dividends on any preferred stock have been paid; and

(2) the requirements of any preferred stock retirement fund have been complied with.

D. If at the date on which any dividend on common stock is declared the capital stock and surplus account of such corporation do not amount in the aggregate to at least ten per cent of its deposit liability, there shall be transferred from net profits to the surplus account prior to the payment of said dividend.

(1) the amount required to increase the surplus account so that it, together with the capital stock, will amount to at least ten per cent of deposit liability; or

(2) the amount required to increase the surplus account so that it shall amount to fifty per cent of the common stock, and thereafter, the amount, not exceeding fifty per cent of net profits, required to increase the surplus account so that it shall amount to one hundred per cent of capital stock.

E. Dividends on common stock may be declared and paid only out of that portion of the net profits on hand that is not required by this section to be transferred to the surplus account after deducting from such net profits losses and bad debts in excess of reserves specifically established therefor. All debts on which interest is in default for a period of six months shall be considered bad debts, except to the extent that such debts and the accrued interest thereon are well secured or in the process of collection and reasonably certain of payment in full.

F. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the reduction of capital stock as provided in section twenty-four.

Section 29. Any such corporation whose capital stock has, in the opinion of the commissioner, become impaired by losses or otherwise, shall within three months after receiving notice from the commissioner, pay the deficiency in the capital stock by assessment upon the common stockholders pro rata to the shares held by each. If such corporation shall fail to pay such deficiency in its capital stock for three months after receiving such notice, the commissioner may apply to the supreme judicial court for an injunction; and if a common stockholder of such corporation neglects or refuses, after three months' notice, to pay the assessment as provided in this section, the board of directors shall cause an amount of his stock sufficient to make good his assessment to be sold by public auction, after thirty days' notice given by posting such notice in the office of the corporation and by publishing it in a newspaper of the city or town where the corporation is located or in a newspaper published nearest thereto; and the balance, if any, shall be returned to such delinquent stockholder.

Section 30. A trust company may, subject to the approval of the commissioner and upon vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of each class of its capital stock at an annual meeting or a special meeting duly called for the purpose, preceded in either case by a notice in writing sent to each stockholder of record by registered mail at least ten days before said meeting, issue and sell its capital notes or debentures of any maturity. The indebtedness evidenced by any such capital notes or debentures, including the principal thereof and premium, if any, and interest thereon, shall be subordinate to the claims of depositors and other creditors of such corporation, except claims in respect of other capital notes or debentures of such corporation at least equally subordinated, in accordance with such provisions for subordination as shall be approved by the commissioner, and such subordination shall be specifically enforceable by any interested person, including the commissioner or any conservator appointed by the commissioner whenever possession of the property and business of such corporation shall have been taken by the commissioner or such conservator. Any such issue of capital notes or debentures may contain such other provisions as the commissioner may approve, including provision for conversion rights. The commissioner in his discretion may by regulation provide that any such capital notes or debentures shall to the extent set forth in such regulation be treated as part of the capital funds of the issuing trust company for purposes of any of the provisions of this chapter.

B. Nothing in subsection A shall be construed as limiting the power of any such corporation to borrow money otherwise than through the issuance and sale of such capital notes or debentures, provided that no such corporation shall engage in the business of issuing and selling to depositors, customers or others its unsecured promissory notes except in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner in his discretion may adopt as to the conduct of such business or, in the absence of such regulations, with the prior approval of the commissioner. Any regulations adopted by the commissioner in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this subsection B may impose limitations on the aggregate amount of such promissory notes at any time outstanding, and the interest cost thereof, and may further require that reserves shall be maintained against the indebtedness evidenced thereby, all by classes of trust companies or otherwise.

Section 31. A. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, every trust company shall at all times maintain, as a reserve, an amount equal to fifteen per cent of the total of its demand and time deposits withdrawable within thirty days computed on a weekly average basis.

No reserve shall be required for savings deposits and time deposits not withdrawable within thirty days.

B. The composition of the reserve shall be as follows:

1. Lawful currency of the United States, silver certificates or notes and bills issued by a federal reserve bank. Not less than fifteen per cent.

2. Bonds, notes, bills and certificates of indebtedness of the commonwealth, its political subdivisions or of the United States, computed at their current market value, which are unpledged and the absolute property and under the control of the corporation. Not more than eighty per cent.

3. Balance payable on demand due from any member of the federal reserve system located in this commonwealth or in any reserve city, as designated by or under authority of an act of Congress, or from any trust company insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and located in the commonwealth; or from any trust company located in the commonwealth having capital stock and surplus accounts aggregating at least ten million dollars. Not more than eighty per cent.

C. The commissioner may, from time to time and in his discretion, increase or decrease the percentage required by subsection A hereof.

D. The treasurer or other officer or employee charged with the functions or duties usually performed by the treasurer shall report in writing to the commissioner, once in each week, the amount and composition of the reserve for each business day of the preceding week. Whoever violates this subsection shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 32. A trust company which is a member of the federal reserve system shall maintain the reserve balances required by or pursuant to the Federal Reserve Act, as amended or supplemented from time to time and shall be exempt from the requirements of section thirty-one.

Section 33. If the reserve of any trust company is at any time less than the amount which it is required to keep on hand, it shall not make any new loans or investments until the required percentages shall be restored. The commissioner may notify such corporation to make good such reserve, and if it fails so to do for thirty days thereafter, he may appoint a conservator in the manner provided in section forty, or he may proceed to take possession of its property and business and liquidate its affairs in the manner provided in sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven.

Section 34. Every trust company shall within thirty days of the close of the calendar year transfer from net profits to its surplus account a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the total amount of such company's savings deposits as of such year end; provided, however, that such transfer shall not be required of any trust company whose surplus account at that time equals or exceeds the amount of its capital stock.

Section 35. Any such corporation may pay interest on regular savings accounts at such rate as its board of directors may determine and may pay variable rates of interest on other types of savings accounts; provided, however, that the rates so paid shall be consistent with the maximum rates from time to time established by the appropriate federal supervisory agencies. In the event that such federal supervisory agencies cease to establish such maximum rates, then any such corporation may pay interest on regular savings accounts at such rate as its board of directors may determine, and may, with the approval of the commissioner, pay variable rates of interest on other types of savings accounts; provided, however, that no such rate shall exceed seven per cent per annum.

Interest may be paid on savings deposits from the date of deposit to the date of withdrawal and if its by-laws or regulations so provide such corporation may also pay interest on a savings deposit received during the first ten calendar days of the month calculated from the first day of such month until such deposit is withdrawn.

Interest not withdrawn shall be treated as deposits and, in computing the dividend next following, shall be considered as having been on deposit for the preceding dividend period.

Section 36. A. With the written approval of the commissioner:

(1) any trust company, any banking company, or any national banking association engaged in the business of banking in the commonwealth may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases, and subject, as to any such trust company or banking company, to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any trust company. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven.

(2) any trust company or banking company may, subject to the provisions of sections seventy-five and seventy-six of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purpose of this section by the provisions hereof, or any such national banking association may sell or exchange all or substantially all of its property and assets to or with any trust company, and any trust company may purchase all or substantially all of the assets of any trust company or any banking company of any such national banking association. A request for approval by the commissioner pursuant to this clause shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven.

(3) by vote, at a meeting duly called for the purpose, of two-thirds of each class of its stock outstanding and entitled to vote and upon execution by a majority of its directors in form satisfactory to the commissioner of an agreement of association, an organization certificate and such other instruments as the commissioner shall prescribe, any such national banking association having an unimpaired capital stock sufficient in value or amount to satisfy the provisions of section five may, upon approval by the board of bank incorporation, be converted into a trust company and shall not, in connection with or upon such conversion, be subject to the requirements of this chapter with respect to the organization and commencement of business of trust companies; provided, however, that such conversion shall not be in contravention of the laws of the United States.

(4) any one or more such stock corporations may, upon compliance with the provisions of section seventy-eight of chapter

one hundred and fifty-six B, which are hereby made applicable in all such cases and subject as to any such corporation to the provisions of section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B as modified for the purposes of this section by the provisions hereof, consolidate or merge into any single state or federally-chartered stock corporation. A request for approval by the commissioner of such a consolidation or merger shall be accompanied by an investigation fee, the amount of which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration. A certificate under the hands of the presidents and clerks or other duly authorized officers of all merging or consolidating corporations setting forth that each corporation, respectively, has complied with the requirements of this section shall be submitted to the commissioner. The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice from the insurer for each corporation that arrangements satisfactory to each such insurer have been made for such consolidation. The offices and depots in the commonwealth of any such corporation merged or consolidated under this section may be maintained as branch offices or depots, respectively, of the continuing institution with the written permission of and under such conditions, if any, as may be approved by the commissioner.

If the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, however, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

For the purposes of this section, the value of the stock of stockholders of a state-chartered stock corporation who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized herein shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of state-chartered stock corporations authorized under this section provided, however, that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be the chapter of the General Laws governing such stock corporation, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

For the purposes of this section, a state-chartered stock corporation shall mean a trust company or a savings bank or cooperative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law. A federally-chartered stock corporation shall mean a national banking association or a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation, which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in, the commonwealth.

The provisions of this clause shall not apply to a consolidation or merger authorized by clause (1).

B. A trust company or banking company by vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of each class of capital stock at a meeting duly called for the purpose, preceded by a notice in writing sent to each stockholder of record and to the commissioner by registered mail at least sixty days before said meeting, may consolidate or merge into or convert into a national banking association in accordance with the laws of the United States and without the approval of any authority of the commonwealth.

C. For the purposes of either clause (1) or clause (2) of subsection A hereof, the value of the stock of stockholders of a trust company or banking company who have, as provided in section seventy-six or section eighty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B, voted against any action authorized by either of such clauses shall be ascertained in the manner provided in sections eighty-six to ninety-eight, inclusive, of said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

D. The continuing trust company into which a trust company, banking company or a national banking association shall have been consolidated or merged or into which a national banking association shall have been converted under this section shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as that of the consolidating or merging or converting institution and the rights, powers and duties of the continuing trust company shall be those established by its charter; provided that if the consolidating corporations have main offices in different counties, the main office of the continuing corporation shall be the main office of that consolidating corporation which has the greater total assets on the date on which the merger or consolidation is approved by the board of directors of the last consolidating corporation so to approve; provided, further, that upon a determination by the commissioner that such consolidation is not for the purpose of circumventing any geographic restrictions on the establishment of branch offices, he may allow the main office of the consolidating corporation which has the lesser total assets on such date to be the main office of the continuing corporation.

E. The charter of any trust company or banking company which shall have been converted into a national banking association, or consolidated or merged into, or the business and substantially all of the property and assets of which shall have been purchased or absorbed by a trust company or national banking association, or the affairs of which shall have been liquidated, shall be void except for the purpose of discharging existing obligations and liabilities.

F. The provisions of section eighty of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall apply to consolidations and mergers of trust companies authorized under this section provided that, for this purpose, references in said section eighty to said chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be deemed to be to this chapter, and references in said section eighty to articles of organization shall be deemed to be to the articles of organization, including any special act of incorporation, as from time to time amended.

Section 37. A trust company which succeeds or has succeeded to the business of a national bank may continue to hold the real estate owned and used by such national bank in the transaction of its business.

Section 38. With the approval of the commissioner, a trust company may advance or loan upon, or purchase the whole or any part of the assets or stock of any state-chartered bank or of any federally-chartered bank including trust companies in possession of the commissioner under sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, and may participate in such an advance, loan or purchase with one or more other such banks. Such advance, loan or purchase may be made upon such terms and conditions as shall have been approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the directors of the trust company and the applicable board of such other bank. A trust company making or participating in such advance, loan or purchase for the purpose of effecting the same, may assume and agree to pay the whole or any part of the deposit and other liabilities of any such bank upon such terms and conditions and subject to such adjustments as may be approved by the commissioner. In the event of such approval by the commissioner, other provisions of law applicable to the investment of funds of trust companies and to the limitations upon deposits therein shall not apply. In the case of any new trust company formed for the purpose of purchasing any or all of the assets and assuming any or all of the liabilities of any trust company in his possession under said sections, he may impose such other and further conditions and restrictions concerning the business, investments and operation of such new trust company as he may deem necessary or advisable.

The commissioner shall not endorse his approval thereupon until he has received notice that arrangements satisfactory to each affected insurer have been made for such action.

So much of section sixteen as provides that no person shall hold an office in two trust companies at the same time shall not prevent an officer or director of any other trust company from serving as an officer or director of such new trust company or of any other bank or credit union the assets and liabilities or stock of which shall have been purchased and assumed by a trust company hereunder.

For the purpose of this section, a federally-chartered bank shall mean a federal savings bank, a federal savings and loan association and a national banking association which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 39. Subject to the written approval of the commissioner, any trust company may be dissolved and liquidate its affairs if authorized by a vote passed, at a meeting specially called to consider the subject, by at least two-thirds of the stockholders of a trust company representing at least two-thirds of its outstanding capital stock. A committee of three stockholders shall thereupon be elected, and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner, shall liquidate the assets, and after satisfying all debts of the corporation shall distribute the remaining proceeds among those entitled thereto in proportion to their respective interests therein.

Section 40. In addition to all other powers conferred upon him by law, the commissioner, whenever he shall deem it necessary in order to conserve the assets of any trust company for the benefit of the depositors and creditors thereof, may, under his hand and official seal, appoint a conservator for such trust company, and require of such conservator such bond and security as the commissioner may deem proper.

A certificate of the appointment of such conservator shall forthwith be filed in the office of the commissioner. The conservator, with the approval of the commissioner, may procure such expert assistance and advice as he considers necessary in the administration of the affairs of such trust company and with like approval may retain such of the officers and employees of such trust company as he deems necessary.

The conservator, under the direction and subject to the control of the commissioner, shall take possession forthwith of the property and business of such trust company and take such action as may be necessary to carry on its business and to conserve its assets, pending further disposition thereof, as provided by law.

Upon taking possession of the property and business of a trust company, the conservator shall forthwith give notice thereof to all persons holding or having possession of any assets of such trust company. No bank, trust company, association, firm or individual, knowing that a conservator has taken such possession, or having been notified thereof as aforesaid, shall have a lien or charge for any payment advance or clearance thereafter made, or liability thereafter incurred, against any of the assets of the trust company of whose property and business the conservator shall have taken possession as aforesaid, except as otherwise provided in this section and sections forty-one to forty-six, inclusive.

During the time that such conservator remains in possession of such trust company, the rights of all parties with respect thereto shall, subject to the other provisions of this section and sections forty-one to forty-six, inclusive, be the same as if the commissioner had taken possession of such trust company.

Section 41. Such conservator, subject to such orders, rules and regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the commissioner, may collect moneys due to the trust company, and do all acts necessary to continue its business or to conserve its assets. He shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to it, and with the approval of the commissioner, may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts, and on like approval may sell all, or any part of, the real and personal property of the trust company on such terms as the commissioner shall approve; and, in the name of such trust company, may take a mortgage on such real property from a bona fide purchaser to secure the whole or a part of the purchase price, upon such terms and for such periods as the commissioner may approve.

To execute and perform the powers and duties conferred upon him, the conservator may, in the name of any such trust company prosecute and defend all suits and other legal proceedings and may, in the name of the trust company, execute, acknowledge and deliver all deeds, assignments, releases and other instruments necessary and proper to effectuate any sale of real or personal property or any compromise approved by the commissioner; and any deed or other instrument executed pursuant to the authority hereby given, shall be valid and effective for all purposes to the same extent as though executed by the officers of the trust company by authority of its board of directors or of its stockholders.

Such conservators, and their assistants, shall be subject to all the penalties, and except as provided in sections forty to forty-six, inclusive, to all other provisions of law, to which agents appointed by the commissioner for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of a bank are subject.

Section 42. While a trust company is in the hands of a conservator, the commissioner may require the conservator to set aside and make available for withdrawal by depositors and for payment to other creditors such amounts or proportions of their deposits or claims in any department thereof as the commissioner may deem necessary or expedient and may authorize the conservator to receive new deposits, as provided in section three of chapter fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three.

Section 43. Whenever any trust company shall have resumed business with or without a reorganization, or whenever the commissioner shall have taken possession of its property or business as provided in section twenty-two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, the provisions of section three of chapter fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three with respect to the segregation of new deposits received under section forty-two shall no longer apply and the deposits received thereunder shall be disposed of in such manner as the commissioner shall direct, unless the owner of any such deposit, within fifteen days after notice given by the conservator or the commissioner in such manner as the commissioner shall prescribe, shall have withdrawn the same.

Section 44. The compensation of the conservator and of counsel, employees and assistants and all other expenses of such conservatorship, including costs and expenses incurred by the commissioner in relation to such trust company, shall be fixed by the commissioner and approved by the governor and council and paid out of the funds of such trust company; provided, however, that the compensation paid the conservator shall in no event be at a higher rate than the highest salary established in said trust company, and that the total payroll of the trust company at the time of the appointment of the conservator shall not be increased by reason of such compensation; and provided, further, that the commissioner may, subject to approval of the governor and council, upon the written request of any such trust company, increase the compensation of the conservator for good cause to an amount not to exceed an additional fifty per cent of the compensation paid to the chief executive officer of that trust company.

Section 45. If the commissioner shall be satisfied that it may be safely done and that it would be in the public interest, he may terminate the conservatorship and permit such trust company to resume business subject to such terms, conditions, restrictions or limitations as he may prescribe.

Section 46. Nothing contained in sections forty to forty-five, inclusive, shall, unless otherwise expressly provided therein, be deemed to abridge any power or authority to take possession of a trust company conferred upon the commissioner by chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or any power or authority conferred by any other provision of law.

Section 47. The supreme judicial court, or any justice thereof, shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce the provisions of sections forty to forty-six, inclusive, and to act upon all applications and in all proceedings thereunder.

SECTION 61. Section 60 of chapter 183 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may, by further conditions and restrictions, provide that the rate of amortization may be varied, including utilizing a period of negative amortization, in order to adjust the rate of interest.

SECTION 62. Chapter 43 of the acts of 1934 is hereby amended by striking out section 7, as most recently amended by section 22 of chapter 432 of the acts of 1955, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the corporation may exercise all the powers, rights and franchises of any bank the control, possession and operation of which has been taken over by it under this act, and may exercise all the powers and rights of the corporators of such bank relative to a merger or consolidation conferred upon them by sections seventy-two, seventy-two A, seventy-two B, and seventy-two D of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight.

SECTION 63. Section 7 of chapter 73 of the acts of 1934 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 72 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the corporation may exercise all the powers, rights and franchises of any bank the control, possession and operation of which has been taken over by it under this act, and may exercise all powers and rights of the shareholders of such bank relative to a sale of assets or consolidation conferred upon them by section seventy-three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven and sections forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-eight A, forty-eight B, forty-eight C and forty-eight E of chapter one hundred and seventy of the General Laws.

SECTION 64. Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect or alter the validity of any investment or any amount loaned or invested under the provisions of any applicable chapters of the General Laws in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this act.

SECTION 65. Sections twenty, twenty-three, thirty-nine A and forty-one shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

Sections five, nine, twenty-nine, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, sixty and sixty-four shall take effect whenever, pursuant to P.L. 94-200 Title I Sec. 102, the federal law controlling the deposit interest rate differential as set forth in clause (a) of said Sec. 102 is eliminated or repealed, or April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, whichever occurs first.

Approved June 15, 1982.

Chap. 160. AN ACT DESIGNATING A PUBLIC SQUARE IN THE TOWN OF AVON AS VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS SQUARE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The public square bounded by East Main street and Memorial drive, also known as state highway route 28, in the town of Avon, shall be designated and known as the Veterans of Foreign Wars square. A suitable marker bearing such designation shall be attached thereon by the department of public works in accordance with the standards of said department.

Approved June 22, 1982.

Chap. 161. AN ACT ESTABLISHING A WATER AND SEWER DEPARTMENT IN THE TOWN OF MONSON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the town of Monson is hereby authorized to establish a water and sewer department. Said town shall elect a board of three water and sewer commissioners. Such commissioners shall, in the first instance, be elected by ballot to hold office, one until the expiration of three years, one until the expiration of two years, and one until the expiration of one year, and at the annual town meeting held on the day on which the shortest of such terms expires, and at each annual town meeting thereafter, one such commissioner shall be elected by ballot for the term of three years. A majority of said commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. After the election of a board of water and sewer commissioners under authority of this act, any vacancy occurring in said board from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by said town at any legal town meeting called for the purpose. Any such vacancy may be filled temporarily in the manner provided by section eleven of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, and the person so appointed shall perform the duties of the office until the next annual meeting of said town or until another person is qualified. Such board shall have all the powers and duties of both water commissioners and sewer commissioners under the provisions of sections sixty-five and sixty-nine B of chapter forty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. This act shall be submitted for acceptance to the voters of the town of Monson at the next annual town meeting in the form of a question which shall be placed on the official ballot to be used for the election of town officers at said meeting:- "Shall an act passed by the general court in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, entitled 'An Act establishing a water and sewer department in the town of Monson' be accepted?" If a majority of the votes cast in answer to said question is in the affirmative this act shall take full effect, but not otherwise.

Approved June 22, 1982.

Chap. 162. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF STONEHAM TO PAY CERTAIN LEGAL FEES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The town of Stoneham is hereby authorized to appropriate and after such appropriation the treasurer of said town is hereby authorized to pay attorney's fees, not in excess of twelve thousand dollars, for the criminal defense services rendered for Paul Agostino of the police department of said town.

Approved June 22, 1982.

Chap. 163. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR RECALL ELECTIONS IN THE TOWN OF SUTTON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Any holder of an elective town office may be recalled therefrom by the registered voters of the town of Sutton as herein provided by this act.

SECTION 2. (a) A recall affidavit shall contain the grounds for recall and shall contain the signatures of registered voters with at least fifty signatures from each of the three precincts. The town clerk of said town, within five working days from the day that such affidavit is returned, shall issue the recall petitions. The petitions shall be numbered and shall be issued by said town clerk with his signature and official seal attached thereto. The petitions shall be dated, shall be addressed to the selectmen of said town, and shall contain the names of all persons to whom they are issued, the name of the person whose recall is sought, the grounds of recall as stated in the affidavit, and shall demand the election of a successor in the said office. A copy of the petition shall be entered in a record book to be kept in the office of the town clerk.

(b) Such petitions shall contain the signatures of qualified voters equal in number to at least fifty per cent of those who voted in the last annual town election.

(c) Such petitions shall be returned to the town clerk within fourteen calendar days.

(d) Upon receipt of such petitions, the town clerk shall have twenty-four hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, to submit such petitions to the registrars of voters.

(e) The registrars shall certify the signatures within five working days.

If such petition shall be found and certified by the town clerk to be sufficient, he shall submit the same to the selectmen of said town with his certificate without delay. Said selectmen shall give written notice to the officer sought to be recalled and shall, if the officer does not resign within five days thereafter, order an election to be held on a date not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty-five days after the date of the town clerk's certificate that a sufficient petition has been filed; however, if an annual town election is to occur within sixty days after the date of the certificate, said selectmen shall postpone the holding of the recall election to the date of such other election. If a vacancy occurs in said office after a recall election has been ordered, the election shall proceed as provided. If, within the five days, the officer resigns, said selectmen shall follow the town by-law and fill the office with an appointment.

SECTION 3. Any officer sought to be removed may be a candidate to succeed himself unless he requests otherwise in writing and the town clerk shall place the officer's name on the ballot without nomination. The nomination of other candidates, the publication of the warrant for the removal election, and the conduct of the same, shall all be in accordance with the provisions of law relating to elections.

SECTION 4. The incumbent shall continue to hold office until the recall election. If then re-elected, he shall continue in office until the term expires, subject to recall except as provided in section six. If not re-elected in the recall election, he shall be deemed removed upon the qualification of his successor, who shall hold office during the unexpired term. If the successor failed to qualify within five days after receiving notification of his election, the incumbent shall be removed and the office declared vacant.

SECTION 5. Ballots used in a removal election shall submit the following propositions in the order indicated:

For the removal of (name of officer).

Against the removal of (name of officer).

Immediately at the right of each proposition there shall be a square in which the voter, by making a cross mark (X) may vote for either of such propositions. Under the proposition shall appear the word "Candidates" and the direction "Vote for one" and beneath this the names of candidates nominated as hereinbefore provided.

A majority vote of the voters to recall such elective officer shall not be effective unless a total of at least fifty per cent of the electors entitled to vote on the question shall have voted.

If a majority of votes on the question is in the negative, the ballots for candidates need not be counted. If a majority of the votes cast upon the question of recall is in the affirmative, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.

SECTION 6. No recall petition shall be circulated against an officer within three months after he takes office, nor, in the case of an officer subjected to recall and not recalled, until at least three months after the election at which his recall was submitted to the voters has elapsed.

SECTION 7. No person who has been recalled from an office, or who has resigned from office while recall proceedings were pending against him, shall be appointed to any town office within two years after such recall or resignation.

SECTION 8. This act shall be submitted for acceptance to the voters of the town of Sutton at the next annual town election, in the form of the following question, which shall be placed upon the official ballot to be used for the election of town officers at said election:- "Shall an act passed by the general court in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, entitled 'An Act providing for recall elections in the town of Sutton', be accepted?" If a majority of the votes cast in answer to said question is in the affirmative, then this act shall take full effect, but not otherwise.

SECTION 9. The town of Sutton may revoke its acceptance of this act by a majority vote at an annual town election.

Approved June 22, 1982.

SECTION 2. The city of Fall River is hereby authorized to grant to EG&G, Inc., by grant instrument, approved as to form by the corporation counsel of said city, an easement in a parcel of land in the city of Fall River for a transportation and access corridor containing railroad tracks, access and maintenance roads, pipes, wires, and associated structures. Said parcel, consisting of approximately 4.2 acres located within the confines of Parcel 114A of a 1926 map of North Watuppa Pond and shown as Parcel 8 on sheet 3 of 10 of a plan entitled "New England Energy Park, Fall River, Massachusetts, Transportation Corridor Study, Layout Defined By: Charles L. Rowley & Associates, Civil Engineers and Surveyors, West Wareham, Massachusetts, dated November 20, 1981, as revised March 16, 1982, Scale 1"-200'" is bounded and described as follows:

Parcel 8

The land in the city of Fall River consisting of 4.2 acres more or less and being bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a northerly corner of the parcel to be described at the most southeasterly corner of Parcel 3 above described at a point in line of land of the commonwealth of Massachusetts department of environmental management; thence S 24°-28'-33" E, a distance of 390 feet more or less to an angle point; thence S 13°-28'-33" E, a distance of 400 feet more or less to a point in line of land of the commonwealth of Massachusetts and a corner of Parcel 5 as described above; thence in line of said commonwealth land and said Parcel 5, westerly, a distance of 190 feet more or less; thence by a curve to the left having a radius of 1340.00 feet, a distance of 1045 feet more or less as measured along the arc to a point in line of land of said commonwealth; thence easterly in line of said commonwealth land, a distance of 560 feet more or less to the point of beginning.

SECTION 3. Said conveyances shall be subject to such conditions and restrictions, including restoration, as may be deemed advisable by the commissioner of the department of public works with respect to the parcel within the right of way for state highway route 24, the commissioner of the department of environmental management with respect to the parcels within the Freetown-Fall River state forest, and the mayor and council of the city of Fall River with respect to the parcel owned by the city. The conveyances shall also be conditioned upon the preparation of a final environmental impact report which is found by the secretary of the executive office of environmental affairs to adequately and properly comply with sections sixty-two to sixty-two H of chapter thirty of the General Laws.

The consideration for said conveyances shall be the average of the full and fair market value of the easements as determined by three independent appraisers; provided that, in lieu of said consideration the commissioner of the department of environmental management is authorized to accept on behalf of the commonwealth, and the mayor and council of the city of Fall River is authorized to accept on behalf of said city, all right, title and interest of EG&G, Inc. in one or more parcels of land or other appropriate consideration which shall be acceptable to the respective grantor and which shall be determined to be at least equal in market value to the easements granted.

SECTION 4. All rights in the aforesaid easements shall revert to the commonwealth and the city of Fall River if work to develop a transportation and access corridor along such easements is not commenced within five years of the date of recording the instruments of grant creating the easements, and if such rights revert, the consideration shall be reimbursed to said corporation.

SECTION 5. All rights in the aforesaid easements shall revert to the commonwealth and to the city of Fall River when the easements are no longer used as a transportation and access corridor.

The city of Boston, for the purposes specified in section four, may borrow, at one time or from time to time prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, a sum in the aggregate not exceeding forty-five million dollars, and may issue and sell bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness of said city therefor as provided herein. Bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness may be issued hereunder by the collector-treasurer of said city with the approval of the mayor, and, notwithstanding sections sixteen and nineteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, may be issued as serial bonds or term bonds or any combination thereof, shall mature on such date or dates and in such amounts, may be redeemable prior to their maturity at the option of the city with or without premium, and may be sold in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as the collector-treasurer may, with the approval of the mayor, determine to be reasonable and proper.

SECTION 2. Subject to section sixteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, bonds and notes issued under this act shall bear on their face the words, City of Boston Funding Loan, Act of 1982. Each issue shall constitute a separate loan and such loans shall be payable in not more than ten years from their dates. Debt incurred under authority of this act shall not be included in determining the limit of indebtedness of the city as established by law, but shall, except as herein provided, be subject to the provisions of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, including the provisions of section seventeen of said chapter forty-four relative to temporary loans in anticipation of the issue of bonds and notes.

SECTION 3. In addition to the authority provided by section seventeen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws to issue notes in anticipation of the issue of bonds and notes, the city, acting by its collector-treasurer with the approval of the mayor, may enter into agreements with banks or trust companies, within or without the commonwealth, whether in the form of lines of credit or other banking arrangements, for the making by the city from time to time of temporary loans in anticipation of the money to be derived from the sale of bonds and notes under section one in such aggregate principal amounts outstanding from time to time, not exceeding the amount authorized by section one, as the collector-treasurer may determine with the approval of the mayor. Any temporary loans incurred under authority of this section, and notes if any issued to evidence such loans, may be renewed from time to time, provided all such loans and renewals thereof shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three. Any agreement entered into by the city under this section, and notes of the city if any issued thereunder, whether in coupon or registered form or payable to order, shall be signed by the collector-treasurer and the auditor of the city and countersigned by the mayor. Temporary loans incurred under this section may, in the discretion of the collector-treasurer and the mayor, provide for prepayment at any time with or without premium at the option of the city, and may bear interest at such rate or rates as the collector-treasurer may, with the approval of the mayor, deem proper, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate or other method specified in such agreement. Any such agreement may also include such other covenants and provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the lenders as may, in the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor, be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law.

SECTION 3A. Bonds and notes issued under this act, whether original or refunding are hereby made securities in which all insurance companies, trust companies, banking associations, savings banks, cooperative banks, investment companies, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons whatsoever who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or notes or other obligations of a similar nature may properly and legally invest funds, including capital, deposits or other funds in their control or belonging to them. Such bonds and notes are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivison of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the commonwealth now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

SECTION 3B. Notwithstanding the provision of any law to the contrary, prior to the issuance of bonds and notes pursuant to sections one and three the commonwealth acting by and through the secretary of administration may enter a contract with the city of Boston providing that the commonwealth will advance during the life of such bonds and notes to the city amounts sufficient to pay interest and maturing principal on said bonds and notes. Such advances shall occur provided the collector-treasurer of the city of Boston certifies to the secretary of administration the city has insufficient funds to pay debt service on the bonds or notes. The secretary of administration shall notify the state treasurer of the amount needed by the city of Boston to pay the debt service. Upon receipt of such notification the state treasurer shall advance the city of Boston the amount needed to pay the debt service on the bonds. In the year following any advance the state treasurer shall deduct the amount so advanced plus a reasonable interest charge from the distribution of local aid made to the city of Boston pursuant to section eighteen A or eighteen C of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws.

SECTION 4. All proceeds of any borrowing authorized by section one and section three of this act, after payment, unless otherwise provided for, of all expenses of the borrowing, shall be deposited in a separate fund which shall be set up on the books of the city or otherwise established pursuant to the trust agreement, if any, securing such borrowing, and maintained separate and apart from all other funds and accounts of the city. Such fund shall be called the city of Boston Disproportionate Assessment Fund. Amounts deposited in such fund shall, upon written direction of the collector-treasurer, and approval by the disproportionate assessment board as provided in section five of this act, but without further authority, be used for no purpose other than to meet refunds and other recoveries of real property taxes after payment, including interest accrued thereon, and to reimburse the treasury of the city for such refunds and recoveries, paid by the city after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three on account of abatements of taxes assessed by the assessors of the city for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and all years prior thereto. Notwithstanding the foregoing, amounts deposited in said Disproportionate Assessment Fund shall be applied only to refunds and other recoveries of taxes arising from abatements granted after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three pursuant to applications for abatements or the filing or settlement of appeals before the appellate tax board on account of a claimed disproportionate assessment of property; provided a certificate to such effect, signed by the commissioner of assessing of the city and filed with said disproportionate assessment board pursuant to section five of this act shall be conclusive evidence of the proper application of such amounts. Prior to application of any amounts on deposit in said Disproportionate Assessment Fund to the payment of or reimbursement for payment of any refund or other recovery of tax, the collector-treasurer shall also file with said disproportionate assessment board as provided in said section five, a description of the refund to be granted, the address of the property, the owner of record, the amount to be refunded or reimbursed, the date the abatement was granted and the date or proposed date of payment of such refund or reimbursement. No more than twenty days after the date of payment of any refund hereunder, a record of each such refund, including the address of the property, the owner of record, the amount refunded, the date the abatement was granted, the date of payment of such refund and the date of approval of such payment by said disproportionate assessment board shall be filed with the city council and published in the city record.

When assessing taxes for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and any subsequent year, the assessors of the city shall exclude from the calculation of the amount required to be assessed under section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws all abatements met or reimbursed from amounts borrowed under this act.

The expenses of any borrowing made under authority of section one or section three of this act shall be paid from the proceeds of such borrowing or from the general funds of the city to the extent not otherwise provided for. Income earned on investment of any proceeds of such borrowing shall be credited to said Disproportionate Assessment Fund or with the approval of the city council transferred to the general fund of the city to be used solely to meet payments of principal or interest on debt issued under authority of section one and section three of this act. If on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three any amount borrowed under authority of section one of this act remains unexpended for the purposes provided herein, such amount shall be applied without further appropriation to the payment of principal and interest coming due in the next fiscal year on debt incurred under said section. Any amount in excess of such principal and interest shall be transferred to the general fund of the city as of such date, and shall be applied, without further appropriation, to the payment of principal and interest coming due in the next fiscal year on any debt of the city.

The auditor of the city, in accordance with section sixteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, shall annually notify the assessors of the city of the amount of debt and interest charges matured and maturing during the next fiscal year on all debt of the city incurred under section one of this act and what provision if any has been made for the payment of such debt and interest, and said assessors shall include the amount of such debt and interest not otherwise provided for in the tax levy of that year notwithstanding any limit provided by law on the total taxes assessable by the city for such year; provided inclusion of any such amount in the levy of any year shall not operate to increase the amount otherwise available within any limits thereon to meet other appropriations of the city.

SECTION 5. Upon the issuance of any bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of the city under authority of section one and section three of this act, a disproportionate assessment board shall be established consisting of the treasurer and receiver-general, the secretary of administration and the commissioner of revenue of the commonwealth. Said disproportionate assessment board shall be constituted and empowered to approve disbursements from the city of Boston Disproportionate Assessment Fund established by section four of this act solely as provided in this section. Upon presentation by the collector-treasurer of a request for approval of a proposed disbursement from said Disproportionate Assessment Fund, said board shall determine if all certificates and information required to be filed with said board under the provisions of section four of this act with respect to disbursement have been so filed. Within twenty-one days of the presentation of such request, said board shall notify the collector-treasurer either that such certificates and information have been so filed and that the proposed disbursement is therefore approved or that the required information and certificates have not been filed, specifically identifying the required information. The board shall act on any request of the collector-treasurer not so approved within five days after the collector-treasurer shall file with said board any information specified by said board to be lacking. If said board shall fail to act on a request of the collector-treasurer for disbursements from said Disproportionate Assessment Fund within twenty-one days of presentation of such request, or within five days of filing of any lacking information as aforesaid, the request of the collector-treasurer shall for all purposes of this act be deemed approved.

SECTION 6. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary or section four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, the city of Boston, when authorized by vote of a two-thirds of all the city councillors passed after two separate readings and by two separate votes taken not less than twenty-four hours apart, may incur debt in any fiscal year for temporary loans in anticipation of revenue, as defined in section one of said chapter forty-four, of such fiscal year in an amount not exceeding the total tax levy of such fiscal year or, if said levy has not yet been established by the assessors of the city, not exceeding eighty-five per cent of the total tax levy of the preceding fiscal year.

Notes issued under authority of this section may be sold in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as the collector-treasurer may, with the approval of the mayor, determine to be reasonable and proper. Each note issued under authority of this section and any renewal thereof shall, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter seven hundred and seventeen of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, be payable no later than June thirtieth of the year in which such note or renewal thereof is issued, provided that notes may be issued or renewed under authority of this section after May thirty-first in any year, payable not later than one year from their dates if the aggregate amount thereof does not exceed the aggregate amount remaining unpaid at such May thirty-first on real and personal property taxes assessed in such year and not included in a tax title account.

SECTION 7. Pursuant to the authority provided in section six of this act to issue notes in anticipation of the revenue of a fiscal year, the city, acting by its collector-treasurer with the approval of the mayor, may enter into agreements with banks or trust companies, within or without the commonwealth, whether in the form of lines of credit or other banking arrangements, for the making by the city from time to time of temporary loans in anticipation of the revenue of the fiscal year in which such loans are made in such principal amounts outstanding from time to time, not exceeding the amounts authorized by the city council pursuant to the provisions of said section six, as the collector-treasurer may determine with the approval of the mayor. Any temporary loans incurred under authority of this section, and notes, if any, issued to evidence such loans, may be renewed from time to time, provided all such loans shall be payable not later than the dates provided in said section six. Any agreement entered into by the city pursuant to this section, and notes of the city, if any, issued thereunder, whether in coupon or registered form or payable to order, shall be signed by the collector-treasurer and the auditor of the city and countersigned by the mayor. Temporary loans incurred under this section may, in the discretion of the collector-treasurer, provide for prepayment at any time with or without premium at the option of the city and may bear interest at such rate or rates as the collector-treasurer may, with the approval of the mayor, deem proper, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate or other method specified in such agreement. Any such agreement may also include such other covenants and provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the lenders as may, in the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor be reasonable and proper and not in violation of the law.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter sixty-four G of the General Laws or chapter five hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine the net proceeds from the excise imposed upon the transfer of any room or rooms in a hotel or motel as defined in section one of said chapter sixty-four G, which is located in the city of Boston and which was first opened for patronage on or after August first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, shall, on or before the last day of each calendar quarter, be distributed by the state treasurer upon certification of the commissioner of revenue without further appropriation to the city of Boston and credited to the Excise Fund established in section ten of this act.

The excise collected under this section shall be dedicated to the city of Boston on and after the first full calendar month following the effective date of this act. Said funds shall be used solely for the payment of interest and principal on any bonds issued pursuant to section one of this act.

Notwithstanding the second paragraph, the dedication of the excise provided in this section shall cease, and the obligation of the state treasurer to pay such excise to the city of Boston shall expire when all bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness authorized and issued to refund any such indebtedness, shall be paid or, if earlier, when such indebtedness shall be deemed to have been paid under any trust or other security agreement securing the same, or, if no such indebtedness shall then be outstanding, on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, or if the balance in said fund shall be equal to or greater than the principal and interest on bonds issued pursuant to section one.

SECTION 8A. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter sixty-four D of the General Laws and chapter five hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine the net proceeds from the excise imposed upon deeds, instruments, and writings in Suffolk county shall on or before the last day of each calendar quarter, be distributed by the state treasurer upon the certification of the commissioner of revenue to the city of Boston and credited to the Excise Fund established in section ten of this act.

The excise collected under this section shall be dedicated to the city of Boston on and after the first full calendar month following the effective date of this act. Said funds shall be used solely for the repayment of interest and principal on any bonds issued pursuant to section one of this act.

Notwithstanding the second paragraph, the dedication of the excise provided in this section shall cease and the obligation of the state treasurer to pay such excise to the city of Boston shall expire when all bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness authorized and issued to refund any such indebtedness, shall be paid or; if earlier, when such indebtedness shall be deemed to have been paid under any trust or other security agreement securing the same, or, if no such indebtedness shall then be outstanding, on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, or if the balance in said fund shall be equal to or greater than the principal and interest on bonds issued pursuant to section one.

SECTION 9. For purposes of this section, the following words shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings:

"Applicant", any person, as defined in section one of chapter sixty-four H of the General Laws, who seeks to register a master deed or a subdivision plan in the registry of deeds or who seeks a building permit for the construction or alteration of a structure or other appurtenances thereto on one or more lots included in a consolidation.

"Condominium, master deed and unit", shall have the meanings given such words by chapter one hundred and eighty-three A of the General Laws.

"Consolidation", the consolidation of two or more lots, as shown on the records of the building department of the city, into one parcel of land for purposes of construction or alteration on one or more lots in such parcel or structures, or appurtenances thereto, for which a building permit is required to be granted by the commissioner of said department in accordance with the state building code or chapter one hundred and forty-three of the General Laws.

"Consolidation plan", a plan of a proposed consolidation, in such form as the building commissioner of the city shall prescribe, showing the boundaries of each lot in such consolidation and the names of each record owner and the applicant and such other information as the building commissioner of the city may reasonably require or as is required by law and includes a site plan as provided in the state building code.

"Lot", an area of land in one ownership, with definite boundaries, used, or available for use, as the site of one or more structures as defined in chapter one hundred and forty-five of the General Laws.

"Subdivision", the division of a tract of land into two or more lots and includes re-subdivision.

"Subdivision plan", a plan of a proposed subdivision showing the boundaries of each lot to be established thereby, the record owner and the applicant and such other information as may be required by law.

"Registry of deeds", the registry of deeds of Suffolk county and, when appropriate, includes the land court.

Whether or not any loan authorized by section one of this act is outstanding, on and after the thirtieth day following the effective date of this act, an excise is hereby imposed upon the creation of any condominium or subdivision located in whole or in part in the city of Boston at the uniform rate of five hundred dollars for each unit, in excess of one unit, in the condominium, as shown by the master deed, and five hundred dollars for each lot in excess of two lots, in the subdivision as shown by the subdivision plan. Such excise shall be in addition to any other excise or fee payable under any other provision of law applicable to the creation of condominiums or subdivisions or the recording of a master deed or a subdivision plan or instrument conveying interests in units or lots. Payment of the excise imposed hereby shall be made by the applicant to the collector-treasurer of the city prior to recording any master deed or subdivision plan. No master deed or plan shall be accepted for recording in Suffolk county registry of deeds or in the land court, where applicable, unless the collector-treasurer certifies thereon that the excise imposed by this section has been paid. The collector-treasurer shall deposit all amounts so collected in the Excise Fund established in section ten of this act, or if such fund shall have been dissolved, in the general fund of the city. The excise imposed under this section, unless paid as provided herein, shall, with all incidental charges and fees, be a lien on each unit or lot from the date of filing of the master deed and shall be subject to the provisions of chapter sixty, section thirty-seven of the General Laws in the same manner as taxes assessed on land.

Whether or not any loan authorized by section one of this act is outstanding, on and after the thirtieth day following the effective date of this act, an excise is hereby imposed upon each consolidation located in whole or in part in the city of Boston at the uniform rate of five hundred dollars for each lot, in excess of two lots, as shown on the consolidation plan. Such excise shall be in addition to any other excise or fee payable under any other provision of law applicable to such consolidation or the issuance of a building permit for the construction or alteration of any structure on any lot thereon. Payment of the excise shall be made by the applicant to the collector-treasurer of the city prior to the issuance by the building commissioner of any permit applicable to contruction or alteration of any structure in any lot in such consolidation and said commissioner shall not issue any such permit until a consolidation plan has been filed with the commissioner accompanied by a certificate of the collector-treasurer, on such form as he shall prescribe, attesting to the payment of the excise applicable thereto. The collector-treasurer shall deposit all amounts so collected in the Excise Fund established in section ten of this act, or if such fund shall have been dissolved, in the general fund of the city.

The administration of this section is hereby vested in the collector-treasurer of the city of Boston and all forms necessary and proper for the enforcement of this section shall be prescribed and furnished by the collector-treasurer. The collector-treasurer may prescribe regulations not inconsistent with law, to carry into effect the provisions of this section, which regulations when reasonably designed to carry out the intent and purpose of the provisions hereof shall be prima facie evidence of the proper interpretation of such provisions. The collector-treasurer shall furnish the city council and the commissioner of revenue of the commonwealth with a copy of any regulation proposed to be prescribed under this section and shall publish such proposed regulation in the city record. Such regulation shall be effective twenty days after the date of publication unless prior thereto the city council, by majority vote of all its members, shall vote to rescind such regulation. All remedies provided by sections thirty-five, thirty-six, and thirty-seven of chapter sixty of the General Laws or otherwise provided by law shall be available to and are hereby vested in the collector-treasurer for the proper administration and enforcement of this section.

SECTION 10. Not later than thirty days after the effective date of this act, the collector-treasurer of the city shall set up on the books of the city, or otherwise establish pursuant to the trust or other security agreement, if any, securing any indebtedness incurred under authority of sections one and three of this act, a separate fund entitled the City of Boston Excise Fund. Such fund shall be maintained as provided in this act by the collector-treasurer or, with the approval of the mayor, by the corporate trustee under such trust or security agreement. All receipts from the excises established under sections eight, eight A and nine of this act shall be deposited in the Excise Fund. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all amounts so deposited shall be used solely to pay the cost of administration and collection of said excises, under such supplementary appropriation orders as the mayor may submit and the city council approve in accordance with the city charter, and to pay or provide for, without further appropriation, the principal of and premium and interest on all bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued under authority of section one of this act including the establishment and maintenance of such reserves therefor as may be provided for in any trust or other security agreement securing the same and the costs of administration of such trust or other security agreement.

The Excise Fund shall be dissolved on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three if no indebtedness issued under the authority of section one of this act shall then be outstanding or otherwise when all such indebtedness, including any indebtedness issued to refund any such indebtedness, shall be paid or, if earlier, shall be deemed to have been paid within the meaning of any trust or other security agreement securing the same. Any balance remaining in the Excise Fund on such date of dissolution shall be deposited in the general fund of the city and applied to the payment of debt and interest on any debt of the city.

SECTION 11. Notwithstanding anything in section five of chapter seven hundred and seventeen of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-seven as amended, for the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, and each fiscal year thereafter, whether or not any loan issued under authority of section one and section three of this act is outstanding, deductions made by the assessors of the city under clause (a) of section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws on account of estimated receipts from the special excise taxes authorized by sections eight and eight A and nine hereof may be made up to such amounts as the auditor of the city shall estimate, subject to approval of the commissioner of revenue.

SECTION 12. In the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor, when authorized by two-thirds vote of the city council, any debt or temporary loan incurred under authority of this act or under authority of any other general or special law heretofore or hereafter enacted may be secured by one or more trust agreements or other security agreements between the city and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the commonwealth, or directly between the city and the lender of such debt or temporary loan. Any such trust or security agreement shall be in such form as determined by the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, and shall be executed by the collector-treasurer and city auditor and countersigned by the mayor.

Any trust or security agreement directly or indirectly securing debt or temporary loans incurred under authority of this act or under authority of any other general or special law heretofore or hereafter enacted may, in addition to other security provided by law, pledge or assign, and may create a security interest, in whole or in part, in the receipts and other monies held or to be received by the city in the then current or any future fiscal year from the special excise taxes authorized by sections eight, eight A and nine of this act in conformity with section ten of this act and from any other tax or fee heretofore or hereafter imposed by any general or special law the receipts from which are payable to or for the account of the city and the receipts, distributions and reimbursements held or to be received by the city in the fiscal years or parts thereof during which such debt or loans will be outstanding from the commonwealth under chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws and under any other local reimbursement or assistance program authorized by law, including, without limitation, reimbursement and assistance programs described in section twenty-five A of said chapter fifty-eight except such distributions and reimbursements as are required by law to be specifically used for statutorily defined purposes. Any such trust or security agreement may also pledge or assign, pending their use for the purposes for which borrowed, all or any part of the proceeds of such debt or temporary loans and may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the holders of such debt or temporary loans as the collector-treasurer may, with the approval of the mayor, deem reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including, without limitation, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof including the acceleration of maturities, provisions establishing reserves for the payment of such debt or loans and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the city in relation to the custody, safeguarding, investment and application of the proceeds, receipts, distributions, reimbursements and other monies pledged thereunder.

In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, in the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor, when authorized by two-thirds vote of the city council, debt and temporary loans incurred by the city under any provision of this act or under any other general or special law heretofore or hereafter may be secured, in whole or in part, by letters of credit, as defined in Article five of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws, issued to the city by any bank, trust company or other financial institution, within or without the commonwealth, authorized to issue the same, and the city may pledge or assign, and may create security interests in, any of the proceeds, receipts, distributions, reimbursements or other monies described in this section as security for the reimbursement by the city to the issuers of such letters of credit of any payments made under the letters of credit.

It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company organized under the laws of the commonwealth to act as a depository or trustee of any proceeds, receipts, distributions, reimbursements or other monies pledged or held under any trust or security agreement authorized hereby including the City of Boston Disproportionate Assessment Fund, established by section four of this act, and the City of Boston Excise Fund, established by section ten of this act, and to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities and issue such letters of credit as may be requested or required by the city. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust or security agreement or in obtaining any such letters of credit may be treated as an expense of borrowing hereunder. Any pledge made in accordance with this act shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected from the time when the pledge is made, the proceeds, receipts, distributions, reimbursements and other monies so pledged and then held or thereafter received by the city shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act; and the lien of such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the city, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. No trust or security agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the city kept by the city clerk, and no filing need be made under the provision of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 13. Section 2 of chapter 263 of the acts of 1929, as most recently amended by chapter 253 of the acts of 1973, is hereby further amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

The commission shall also have exclusive authority, except as otherwise herein provided, to adopt, amend, alter and repeal rules and regulations, not inconsistent with general law as modified by this act, relative to vehicular street traffic in the city, and to the movement, stopping, standing or parking of vehicles on, and their exclusion from, all or any streets, ways, highways, roads and parkways, under the control of the city, including rules and regulations designating any way or part thereof under said control as a through way under and subject to the provisions of section nine of chapter eighty-nine of the General Laws. Such rules may provide for resident parking zones.

The commissioner of traffic and parking in the city of Boston shall, upon the written request of the fire commissioner of the city of Boston, designate certain public ways or parts thereof as fire lanes. Violation of said regulation promulgated by the commissioner, in accordance with law, shall contain a fine not to exceed the maximum fine specified in the second paragraph of section twenty-two A of chapter forty of the General Laws.

SECTION 13A. Said section 2 of said chapter 263 is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The commission may adopt, amend and repeal rules and regulations prescribing a penalty, set by ordinance with the approval of the mayor and city council, for any violation of a rule or regulation adopted under this section or promulgated under section two B; provided, that no penalty in excess of fifteen dollars shall be imposed except by ordinance; and provided, further, that no penalty shall be imposed upon any disabled veteran whose vehicle bears the distinctive number plate authorized by section two of chapter ninety of the General Laws, or upon any handicapped person whose vehicle displays the distinctive number plate authorized by said section two, for parking such vehicle on any way for a longer period of time than permitted by a rule or regulation adopted under this section or promulgated under section two B. A penalty imposed under this section may, if so provided in the regulation imposing the penalty, be increased by up to thirty-three and one-third per cent if it remains unpaid for at lease twenty-one days after issuance of a notice of a violation of a parking regulation as provided under section four A.

SECTION 13B. Said chapter 263 is hereby further amended by striking out section 4, as most recently amended by chapter 754 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following eight sections:-

Section 4. In the city of Boston, the mayor, with the approval of the city council, shall designate or appoint a parking clerk. The parking clerk shall supervise and coordinate the processing of parking notices in the city of Boston. The parking clerk shall have the authority, subject to appropriation, to hire or designate such personnel as may be necessary, or contract for such services as may be necessary, to implement the provisions of this section; provided, however, that such positions shall be filled in the city of Boston by granting preferences to persons who had been employees of the city of Boston in the fire, police or traffic and crossing guard service, and all such positions in said city of Boston shall be subject to chapter thirty-one, and in no case in the city of Boston shall the amount appropriated for personnel costs exceed five per cent of the total amount of receipts collected by the parking clerk in the previous fiscal year.

Section 4A. It shall be the duty of every police officer, and every person or persons assigned such responsibility, who takes cognizance of a violation of any provision of any rule, regulation, order, ordinance or by-law regulating the parking of motor vehicles established for the city of Boston, forthwith, to give the offender a notice, which shall be in tag form as provided in this section, to appear before the parking clerk at any time during regular office hours, not later than twenty-one days after the date of such violation. All tags shall be prepared in triplicate and shall be prenumbered.

Said tag shall be affixed to the motor vehicle and shall contain, but shall not be limited to, the following information: The registration number of the motor vehicle involved, the date, time and place and specific offense charged and, if a meter violation, the number of said meter, the name and badge number of the officer or employee issuing the ticket and his division, a schedule of established fines, instructions for the return of the tag, and a notice which reads as follows: This notice may be returned by mail, personally or by an authorized person. A hearing may be obtained upon the written request of the registered owner. Failure to obey this notice within twenty-one days after the date of violation may result in the non-renewal of the license to drive and the registration of the registered owner.

At or before the completion of each tour of duty, the officer or employee shall give to his commanding officer those copies of each notice of such violation taken cognizance of during such tour. Said commanding officer shall retain and safely preserve one of such copies and shall at a time no later than the beginning of the next business day of the city of Boston after receipt of such notice, deliver another of such copies to the parking clerk before whom the offender has been notified to appear. The parking clerk shall maintain a docket of all such notices to appear.

Any person notified to appear before the parking clerk, as provided herein, may appear before such parking clerk, or his designee, and confess the offense charged, either personally or through an agent duly authorized in writing or by mailing to such parking clerk the notice accompanied by the fine provided therein such payment to be made only by postal note, money order or check made out to the parking clerk. Payment of the fine established shall operate as a final disposition of the case. Notice affixed to a motor vehicle as provided in this section, shall be deemed a sufficient notice, and a certificate of the officer affixing such notice that it has been affixed thereto in accordance with this section, shall be deemed prima facie evidence thereof and shall be admissible in any judicial or administrative proceeding as to the facts contained therein.

Section 4B. Parking violations which remain unpaid after the exhaustion of the administrative procedures available to the violator, shall constitute accounts owed to the city and shall be collected by the collector-treasurer as such in accordance with applicable laws.

If a person charged with a violation of a parking regulation appears and requests a hearing before the expiration of the twenty-first day from the date of issuance of said parking violation notice, the parking clerk shall forthwith schedule the matter before a person referred to as a hearing officer, said hearing officer to be the parking clerk or such other person or persons as the parking clerk may designate. Written notice of the date, time and place of said hearing shall be sent by first class mail to the registered owner. Said hearing shall be informal, and the rules of evidence shall not apply. The hearing officer shall keep a record of the hearing and the decision of the hearing officer, which shall be in writing, shall be final subject to judicial review as provided by section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

Section 4C. Proceedings under sections four B, four C and four D of this act, shall not be deemed criminal. If any person fails to pay any parking violation notice within twenty-one days or fails to appear in accordance with said hearing notice the parking clerk shall notify the registrar of motor vehicles who shall place the matter on record and not renew the license to operate motor vehicle of the registered owner of the vehicle or the registration of said vehicle until after notice from the parking clerk that the matter has been disposed of in accordance with law. Upon such notification to the registrar, an additional five dollar charge, payable to the registrar of motor vehicles, shall be assessed against the registered owner of said vehicle. It shall be the duty of the parking clerk to notify the registrar forthwith that such case has been so disposed of in accordance with law; provided, however, that a certified receipt of full and final payment from the parking clerk shall also serve as legal notice to the registrar that said violation has been disposed of.

The parking violation notice provided herein shall be printed in such form as the registrar of motor vehicles may approve. The parking clerk shall distribute such notices to the commissioner of the police department or his designee, or the commissioner of traffic and parking or his designee, upon request, and shall take a receipt therefor. The registrar shall approve such other forms as he deems appropriate to implement this section, and said forms shall be printed and used by the city of Boston.

Section 4D. If any person shall have failed to appear in accordance with five or more parking violation notices, notwithstanding any notification to the registrar, the parking clerk shall notify the registered owner of said motor vehicle and the commissioner of police or his designee or commissioner of traffic and parking or his designee that the vehicle involved in said multiple violations should be removed and stored, or otherwise immobilized by a mechanical device, at the expense of the registered owner of said vehicle until such time as the matter has been disposed of in accordance with law. No vehicle shall be removed, stored, or otherwise immobilized until and unless the registered owner of said vehicle shall have received ten days notification by mail of said person's failure to appear on five or more parking violation notices and that the registered vehicle may be removed, stored, or immobilized without further notice. It shall be sufficient for the purposes of such notice for the parking clerk to mail, postage prepaid, a notice to the last known address of the registered owner. If shall be sufficient for the parking clerk in the case of vehicles registered in other states to mail notice to the registrar of motor vehicles or like officer of said jurisdiction.

As used in this section, the words "motor vehicle" shall, so far as apt, include trailer, semi-trailer and semi-trailer unit.

The provisions of this section shall apply to violations of rules and regulations relative to use of parking areas subject to the control of the courthouse commission.

Section 4E. In the city of Boston, whenever there are outstanding against the registered owner of a motor vehicle more than five unpaid parking violations and the owner has appeared before the parking clerk in accordance with law, said owner may apply to the clerk of the division of the district or municipal court having jurisdiction to have the matter of these alleged violations treated criminally, and the district or municipal court shall take jurisdiction of the matter. Said court having jurisdiction of the matter may conduct a hearing only upon written notification to the parking clerk ten days prior to said hearing. The matter shall thereafter be deemed criminal and the procedures established for criminal cases be followed, provided, however that the provisions of the second and third paragraphs of section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and eighteen of the General Laws shall not apply to such cases. Any such fines imposed by the court shall not exceed double the maximum fine provided for in the city of Boston. Said fine imposed by the court shall be paid back to the city of Boston.

Section 4F. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections four B, four C and four D of this act, the city of Boston may by ordinance regulate the hearing notifications, hearing adjudication and enforcement monitoring of said section four B, four C and four D, except that requirements of compliance with general or other special law shall not be regulated in a manner to lessen any such requirement.

Section 4G. The parking clerk may contract with other municipalities and with the Massachusetts Port Authority, for the administration of parking violations, in which event the parking clerk shall have authority to do so, in like manner as those administered hereunder.

SECTION 13C. In the event of a conflict between the provisions of sections thirteen, thirteen A or thirteen B of this act with sections twenty A to twenty D, inclusive, of chapter ninety of the General Laws, inserted by section one hundred and fifteen of chapter three hundred and fifty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, or with the provisions of section four A of chapter ninety C of the General Laws, or section two of chapter two hundred and eighty of the General Laws, or section four of chapter forty of the General Laws, or clause (73) of section five of said chapter forty, said sections thirteen, thirteen A and thirteen B shall be deemed to be in effect; provided, however, that nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to alter, amend or repeal section twenty E of chapter ninety of the General Laws.

SECTION 14. There shall be appointed by the mayor subject to confirmation by the city council, an audit committee of five members, all residents of the city of Boston, whose members shall serve for five years, except that of those first appointed, one shall be appointed for a term of five years, another for four years, another for three years, another for two years, and another for one year. Members shall serve without compensation but may be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred, and shall be deemed special municipal employees for the purposes of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws.

The city shall retain the services of an independent, certified public accounting firm which shall annually audit the accounts of the city. The audit committee shall monitor the progress of such audit and shall meet with the accounting firm at least quarterly. The said committee shall review the recommendations of the firm and shall present to the mayor and city council such recommendations as it may have.

SECTION 15. Chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 is hereby amended by striking out section 3, as most recently amended by section 53 of chapter 276 of the acts of 1974, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 3. All appropriations, excepting those for school purposes, to be met from taxes, revenue or any source other than loans, shall originate with the mayor. The mayor, not later than the second Wednesday in April of each year, shall submit to the city council the annual budget of the current expenses of the city and county for the forthcoming fiscal year, and may submit thereafter such supplementary appropriation orders as he may deem necessary. The city council may reduce or reject any item but, except upon the recommendation of the mayor, shall not increase any item in, nor the total of, a budget, nor add any item thereto, nor shall it originate a budget. Not later than the second Wednesday in June, the city council shall take definite action on the annual budget by adopting, reducing or rejecting it, and in the event of their failure so to do, the items and the appropriation orders in the budget as recommended by the mayor shall be in effect as if formally adopted by the city council and approved by the mayor. The city council shall take definite action on any supplementary appropriation order and any order for a transfer of appropriations by adopting, reducing or rejecting it within thirty days after it is filed with the city clerk; and in the event of their failure so to do, such supplementary appropriation order or transfer as submitted by the mayor shall be in effect as if formally adopted by the city council and approved by the mayor. It shall be the duty of the city and county officials when requested by the mayor, to submit to the mayor forthwith in such detail as the mayor may require estimates for the next fiscal year of the expenditures of the department or office under their charge, which estimates shall be transmitted to the city council; provided, however, that the mayor shall neither submit, nor thereafter reduce, the appropriations for the city council at or to a level below that which existed for the previous fiscal year, nor shall the city council reduce the appropriations for the mayor's office below that which existed for the previous fiscal year.

SECTION 16. Section 17F of chapter 452 of the acts of 1948, inserted by chapter 376 of the acts of 1951, is hereby amended by inserting after the second sentence the following sentence:- Specific information, as used in this section, shall include any and all records, other than those exempt from disclosure under clause Twenty-six of section seventy-seven of chapter four of the General Laws, within the control of any executive department or agency of the city, including the Boston water and sewer commission and the Boston Redevelopment Authority, whether the information is in printed or electronic form. For the purposes of enforcing this section, the city council shall have standing to request a justice of the superior court department of the trial court of the commonwealth to issue appropriate orders to compel compliance with this section.

SECTION 17. Section 16 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following three sentences:- No official of said city or county except in case of extreme emergency involving the health and safety of the people or their property, shall expend intentionally in any fiscal year any sum in excess of the appropriations duly made in accordance with law, nor involve the city in any contract for the future payment of money in excess of such appropriations, except as provided in section six of this act. Any official who violates the provisions of this section shall be personally liable to the city for any amounts expended intentionally in excess of an appropriation to the extent the city does not recover such amounts from the person to whom paid. The trial court of the commonwealth or a single justice of the supreme judicial court shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate claims brought by the city hereunder and to order such equitable relief as the court may find appropriate to prevent further violations of this section.

SECTION 18. On or before August first of each year, or within ten days after the approval of the city council and the mayor of the annual appropriation order for such fiscal year, whichever shall occur later, the city or county officials in charge of departments or agencies, including the superintendent of schools for the school department, shall submit to the city auditor, with a copy to the city clerk, in such form as the city auditor may prescribe, an allotment schedule of the appropriations of all personnel categories included in said budget, indicating the amounts to be expended by the department or agency for such purposes during each of the fiscal quarters of said fiscal year.

The allotment specified by the school department for the first fiscal quarter in each fiscal year may not exceed twenty per cent of the total appropriations of all personnel categories for said fiscal year, and the allotment specified for any one of the remaining three quarters may not exceed in such quarter thirty per cent of the total appropriation.

The allotment specified for each of the departments and agencies, except for the school department, for either the first or second fiscal quarter in each fiscal year may not exceed thirty per cent of the total appropriations of all personnel categories in said fiscal year, and the allotment specified for each of the departments and agencies, except for the school department, for both the third and fourth fiscal quarter in each fiscal year may not be less than twenty-one per cent of the total appropriations of all personnel categories in said fiscal year.

Whenever the city auditor determines that any department or agency, including the school department, will exhaust or has exhausted its quarterly allotment and any amounts unexpended in previous quarters, he shall give notice in writing to such effect to the department head, the mayor and the city clerk, who shall transmit the same to city council.

The mayor, within seven days after receiving such notice, shall determine whether to waive or enforce such allotment. If the allotment for such quarter is waived or not enforced, as provided above, the department or agency head shall reduce the subsequent quarters' allotments appropriately. If the allotment for such quarter is enforced or not waived, thereafter the department shall terminate all personnel expenses for the remainder of such quarter. All actions, notices, and decisions provided for in this section shall be transmitted to the city council and the city clerk within seven days.

No personnel expenses earned or accrued, within any department, shall be charged to or paid from such department's or agency's allotment of a subsequent quarter without approval by the mayor, except for subsequently determined retroactive compensation adjustments. Approval of a payroll for payment of wages, or salaries or other personnel expenses which would result in an expenditure in excess of the allotment shall be a violation by the department or agency head, including the superintendent of schools and the school committee of section sixteen of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine. If the continuation of operations is not approved in a quarter where a department has exhausted the quarterly allotment or allotments as specified above, or, in any event, if a department has exceeded its entire appropriation for a fiscal year, the city shall have no obligation to pay any personnel cost or expense arising after such allotment or appropriation has been exhausted. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, every collective-bargaining agreement entered into by the city, the school department, or the county shall be subject to and shall expressly incorporate the provisions of this section.

To insure that the overall city and county spending program remains in balance, the mayor may reallocate no more than three million dollars of nonpersonnel appropriations other than school appropriations during a fiscal year to other departmental purposes provided that in no department from which appropriations have been reallocated in accordance with this section shall any transfers be made under section three B of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine from personal services to non-personal services, except with the approval of a two-thirds vote of the city council, if such transfer would require the layoff of departmental personnel, who have been permanently appointed to a position in the department under the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws. No reallocation may be made under this section after April fifteenth in any fiscal year.

SECTION 19. Except as provided by section thirty-eight of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws, all officers and employees of the school department of the city of Boston shall be subject to the residency ordinances of said city as the same are now in effect or from time to time may be amended.

SECTION 20. The first paragraph of section 1 of chapter 231 of the acts of 1906, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 333 of the acts of 1978, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sentences and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The school committee may remove the superintendent for just cause by a vote of three-fifths of the members after proper notice and public hearing. The superintendent shall upon taking employment be, and during such employment remain, a resident of the city of Boston as the term resident may be defined by ordinance. Failure to maintain such residence shall be deemed a voluntary termination of employment. Any vacancy in the office of the superintendent shall be filled by the school committee for the unexpired term with a person qualified in all respects for the office.

SECTION 20A. Said section 1 of said chapter 231 is hereby further amended by inserting after the first paragraph the following four paragraphs:-

No employee of the school department of the city of Boston shall be hired, fired, promoted, or demoted by the school committee without the expressed written approval of the superintendent of schools.

No contract, except for collective bargaining agreements, made by the school committee shall be binding on the city without having been approved in writing by the superintendent and otherwise conforms to the requirements of the city charter. The school committee may delegate to the superintendent the authority to make on behalf of the committee and without further approval of the committee, contracts or amendments to contracts, except for collective bargaining agreements, subject to requirements of special and general contract law for the purchase or rental of goods or supplies, leases of property and for professional or other services.

The school committee may delegate to the superintendent the authority to approve for the school department without further authority proposals for state and federal funding.

The superintendent shall submit to the committee for appropriation the annual budget of the school department for the forthcoming fiscal year no later than the second Wednesday in April prior to the beginning of each fiscal year. The school committee may adopt, reject or reduce or increase any item subject to chapter two hundred and twenty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-six. After adoption of the annual budget by the school committee, the superintendent shall not approve the appointment of any person except to a budgeted position.

SECTION 20B. Section 1A of said chapter 231, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 333 of the acts of 1978, is hereby further amended by striking out the first three paragraphs thereof.

SECTION 21. Chapter 224 of the acts of 1936 is hereby amended by striking out section 2, as most recently amended by chapter 583 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 2. (1) The school committee, by vote of at least two-thirds of all of its members, taken by yeas and nays, may make appropriations as follows:

(A) For the alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in the case of fire, and for fire protection of existing buildings and for improving existing school yards: for the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two:- six million dollars.

(i) For subsequent fiscal years, the school committee, by a like vote, may appropriate up to the same amount as was appropriated by the school committee for the immediately preceding fiscal year for such purposes, plus an amount equal to amounts, if any, appropriated for the immediately preceding fiscal year by the city council with the approval of the mayor for such purposes, unless such appropriation is by its terms excluded from the calculation established herein.

(B) For all other school purposes: for the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two:- two hundred five million five hundred thousand dollars.

(i) For subsequent fiscal years, the school committee, by a like vote, may appropriate up to the same amount as was appropriated by the school committee for the immediately preceding fiscal year for such purposes, plus an amount equal to amounts, if any, appropriated for the immediately preceding fiscal year by the city council with the approval of the mayor for such purposes, unless such appropriation is by its terms excluded from the calculation established herein.

(2) On or before the first Monday in March of each year, the city auditor shall certify to the school committee the amount available for appropriation for the forthcoming fiscal year as calculated in subsection (1). The mayor, on request of the school committee, may recommend a supplementary appropriation for school purposes and the city council may pass the same in accordance with the charter, but any such appropriation, shall be excluded from the certification by the city auditor as to the subsequent year's appropriating authority if such appropriation by its terms requires such exclusion. By the same vote required to appropriate, the school committee may transfer appropriations from the purposes of paragraph (B) of subsection (1) to the purposes of paragraph (A) of said subsection (1), and the city council, after the request of the school committee in accordance with section three B of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine may transfer appropriations freely between the purposes of paragraphs (A) and (B) of said subsection (1), but no such transfer shall affect the calculations made by the city auditor hereunder. Any appropriations, which are made after the city auditor's certification required herein, shall be deemed appropriated in the subsequent fiscal year for the purposes of this section. Unexpended appropriation balances may be reappropriated for their respective purposes. Nothing herein shall be construed as authorizing the school committee to appropriate sums distributed or distributable under chapter seventy of the General Laws, which sums constitute general revenues of the city.

SECTION 21A. Section two B of chapter two hundred and twenty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-six is hereby repealed.

SECTION 21B. Chapter 224 of the acts of 1936 is hereby amended by striking out section 3, as amended by chapter 513 of the acts of 1945, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 3. The votes of the school committee of said city making appropriations as aforesaid shall have the same force and effect as orders or votes of the city council thereof appropriating money, and shall be subject to the same provisions of law in respect to approval by the mayor, except that a vote of four-fifths of all the school committee, taken by yeas and nays, shall be necessary to pass such appropriations over the veto of the mayor.

The school committee shall submit to the mayor estimates of the proposed expenditures for school purposes not later than the second Wednesday in April of each fiscal year. All appropriations for said school purposes shall be passed by said committee not later than the second Wednesday in June.

All appropriations to be raised by taxation made by the school committee of said city shall be certified by said committee to the board of assessors thereof not later than July first in each year and the assessors shall include the same in the levy of that year.

In any year in which the school committee fails to certify to the board of assessors its appropriations to be raised by taxation, as provided in this act, the mayor shall, on or before July tenth, certify to the board of assessors an appropriation in the form adopted by the school committee in the preceding year in the amount expended in that year, which amount shall be used by the assessors in the computation of the tax rate for the then current year; and the mayor shall transmit to the school committee on or before July tenth of that year a copy of such certification which shall thereby become the budget of the school committee for the then current year.

SECTION 22. Section 17D of chapter 452 of the acts of 1948 is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Every order of the city council approving a petition to the general court pursuant to Clause (1) of Section 8 of Article 2 of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth shall be presented to the mayor who shall forthwith consider the same, and, within fifteen days of presentation, either approve it, or file with the city council a statement in detail of his reasons for not approving the same, including any objection based on form, on content, or both; provided, that no such order shall be deemed approved or in force unless the mayor affixes his signature thereto.

SECTION 23. Chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 is hereby amended by striking out section 3B, as amended by chapter 24 of the acts of 1954, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 3B. After an appropriation of money has been made by the city for any specific purpose, or for the needs and expenditures of any city department or county office, no transfer of any part of the money thus appropriated, between such department or office and another department or office, shall be made, except in accordance with and after the written recommendation of the mayor to the city council, approved by a yea and nay vote of two-thirds of all the members of the city council, provided that the city auditor, with the approval in each instance of the mayor, may make transfers, other than for personal service, from any item to any other item within the appropriations for a department, division of a department or county office. After the close of the fiscal year, the city auditor may, with the approval of the mayor in each instance, apply any income and taxes not disposed of and make transfers from any appropriation to any other appropriation for the purpose only of closing the accounts of such fiscal year.

SECTION 24. Said chapter 486 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 31B the following two sections:-

Section 31C. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary the proceeds from the disposition of any surplus property other than that acquired through tax title foreclosure shall be deposited in a separate fund which shall be set up on the books of the city and shall be known as the Surplus Property Disposition Fund, and shall be used only as follows:

(1) The amount equivalent to the debt incurred, and interest paid or payable thereon, as a result of the acquisition or improvement from time to time of the property shall be used only for purposes for which the city is authorized to incur debt for a period of ten years or more;

(2) All proceeds in excess of such amount shall be credited to the general fund of the city to be used only to service the cost of debt as it becomes due.

Section 31D. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter four hundred and seventy-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-six or any other general or special law to the contrary, the public facilities commission of the city of Boston may dispose of any or all of the off-street parking structures, including the real estate related thereto, owned by the city of Boston, as surplus property in accordance with sections thirty-one B and thirty-one C of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, only when transferred to the commission by a majority vote of the city council.

SECTION 25. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the appointing authority of the police department and the fire department of the city of Boston shall reinstate to active service as of the effective date of this act any uniformed officer of either department who was in service or on injured leave as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, or was temporarily suspended as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, which suspension has expired, except for disciplinary reasons consistent with chapter thirty-one of the General Laws or in pursuit of an involuntary retirement under section seven of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws and shall not thereafter terminate any such officer or take any other personnel action the effect of which would be to separate such officer from active service in the future for lack of funds. During the fiscal years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three the city of Boston shall maintain in the police department and the fire department of the city of Boston, either in active service, training or recruitment, no fewer uniformed employees than the total of the number in service or on injured leave on March twenty-fourth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two plus the number of uniformed employees eligible for reinstatement pursuant to this section, without regard to the number of eligible uniformed employees who actually return to service in either department. Nothing herein shall prevent an employee of either department from being placed in injured leave under the provisions of section one hundred and eleven F of chapter forty-one of the General

Laws. The mayor shall annually request and the city council shall annually appropriate sufficient amounts to the respective departments to cover the costs imposed by this section, but nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the officers in charge of said departments to expend funds in excess of available appropriations in violation of the city charter.

SECTION 26. The provisions of this act shall be deemed to provide an additional, alternative and complete method for actions authorized hereby and shall be deemed and construed to be supplemental and additional to, and not in derogation of, powers conferred on the city by law, provided, however, that insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special law, ordinance or regulation, the provisions hereof shall be controlling.

SECTION 27. The assessed valuation of any parcel of real estate which is or has been reduced on account of the abatements of taxes assessed by the assessors of the city for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty or for the fiscal years ending on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one and on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, pursuant to an order of the appellate tax board, shall not be increased by the assessors of the city for at least three consecutive years after the fiscal year for which the abatement was granted unless the parcel so assessed has been improved by construction or by substantial reconstruction or rehabilitation or has been converted to the condominium form of ownership pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A of the General Laws as evidenced by the issuance of a certificate of occupancy by the city or the recording of a master deed, whichever is appropriate, or there has been an increase in the fair economic rent of the parcel so assessed, or is the result of and consistent with a general revaluation of all of the property within the city which conforms to the provisions of chapter seven hundred and ninety-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, as certified by the commissioner of revenue.

SECTION 28. The assessed valuation of any parcel of real estate that was not exempt from taxation under chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty, shall not be increased by the assessors of the city for a period of two consecutive fiscal years following the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one unless the parcel so assessed has been improved by construction or by substantial reconstruction or rehabilitation or has been converted to the condominium form of ownership pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A of the General Laws as evidenced by the issuance of a certificate of occupancy by the city or the recording of a master deed, whichever is appropriate or there has been an increase in the fair economic rent of the parcel so assessed, or unless the increase in the assessed valuation of the parcel so assessed is the result of and consistent with a general revaluation of all of the property within the city which conforms to the provisions of chapter seven hundred and ninety-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, as certified by the commissioner of revenue.

SECTION 29. After a general revaluation of all the property within the city conforming to requirements of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws and certified thereunder by the commissioner of revenue, any assessment of a parcel with respect to a fiscal year beginning after such revaluation, which is thereafter reduced by the appellate tax board or by a court of competent jurisdiction, shall continue without change for at least two consecutive years after the fiscal year for which the abatement was granted unless the parcel so valued has been improved by construction, reconstruction or rehabilitation or has been converted to the condominium form of ownership, or if there has been an increase in the fair economic rent or in the event of any other occurrence which increases the value of the property; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not prevent changes in assessments resulting from a general program to maintain assessments at full and fair valuations under standards and guidelines established by the commissioner of revenue.

SECTION 30. The cost of providing the availability of fire protection to certain structures in the city of Boston is greater than the cost of providing the availability of fire protection to the majority of structures, by reason of their size, type of construction, use and other relevant factors. The provision of fire protection to such structures requires the city to employ additional firefighters, deploy additional equipment and purchase equipment different in kind from that required to provide fire protection for the majority of structures. The availability of such additional fire services is being provided to a small proportion of the buildings in the city. Therefore, the city of Boston is authorized to impose a fee for augmented fire services availability pursuant to the following or pursuant to an ordinance enacted by the city of Boston not inconsistent with the following.

(2) The purpose of this act is to assure the city's continued ability to provide the availability of fire fighting services in excess of the degree of such services provided to the general public by imposing the cost of making available such extra services on those to whom such extra services are made available.

(3) The following words and phrases shall have the meanings:-

(i) "Augmented fire services availability (AFSA)", the capacity to deliver a total fire flow in excess of three thousand five hundred gallons per minute.

(ii) "Total fire flow (TFF)", the total fire fighting capacity, expressed in gallons per minute, necessary to extinguish a fully involved fire in any given structure, taking into account fire suppression and detection equipment and life risk as provided herein. Total fire flow shall be determined by the fire commissioner according to the following formula: TFF = (NFF) x (1-S) x (LRF).

(iii)"Needed fire flow (NFF)", a factor, expressed in gallons per minute, to be determined by the fire commissioner, taking into account a construction type factor, an effective area factor, a use factor, an exposure factor, and a connecting passageways factor.

(iv) "Suppression Credit (S)", a credit to be used in determining total fire flow, taking into account the existence of fire suppression and detection equipment in a structure.

(v) "Life risk factor (LRF)", a factor, to be determined by the fire commissioner, taking into account density of occupancy, hours of occupancy, number of stories, and the existence of smoke removal equipment.

Prior to March first of each year the fire commissioner shall determine which structures in the city are being provided augmented fire services. Availability shall be assessed a fee by the fire commissioner, to be determined by said fire commissioner as provided in this act, for the provision of augmented fire services availability. Said fee shall be based on the cost of providing augmented fire services availability and shall be due and payable in two equal installments; the first installment due and payable no later than May first of the year in which the assessment is made, and the second installment due and payable no later than November first of the same year. The fire commissioner shall in his order of assessment designate as the owner of the parcel assessed the person or entity who was liable to assessment therefor on the preceding January first under the provisions of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. In the case of a condominium, as defined by section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A of the General Laws, the fire commissioner shall in his order of assessment designate as the owner of the parcel assessed thereto pursuant to clause (i) of section eight of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A of the General Laws.

The fire commissioner may estimate the fee to be paid for a particular structure. In such cases, the assessment shall be labelled as an estimated fee, shall be assessed to the owner of a structure subject to such fee on or before March first, and shall be due and payable in two equal installments as hereinbefore provided and shall be paid to the collector-treasurer.

Following payment of the first installment of an estimated fee, or in cases in which the fee assessed on or before March first is appealed as provided herein, the fire commissioner shall determine the fee as provided for in this act. In cases where the estimated fee is less than the final fee, the fire commissioner shall assess to the owner of each structure subject to such fee the difference between the estimated fee and the final fee. Said fee shall be assessed no later than December thirty-first of the year in which the estimated fee was assessed, shall be due and payable no later than the following March first, and shall be paid to the collector-treasurer. In cases in which the first installment of the estimated fee has been paid by May first, and said estimated fee is greater than the final or corrected fee as determined by the fire commissioner, the fire commissioner shall so inform the collector-treasurer, who shall refund the difference between the final or corrected fee and the estimated fee to the person or entity so assessed, plus interest of eight per cent per annum, provided said estimated fee has been paid in full. If said determination that the estimated fee is greater than the final or corrected fee is made prior to payment of the full estimated fee, a notice shall be sent to the person or entity so assessed abating the difference between the estimated fee and said final or corrected fee.

Upon payment of the first installment of the fee or estimated fee as assessed on or before March first, the person or entity paying such fee may appeal the correctness of such fee by filing a notice of appeal with the fire commissioner on or before June first. Upon receiving a notice of appeal the fire commissioner shall schedule a hearing and shall notify the person or entity appealing of the date of said hearing. The person or entity who filed the appeal shall be entitled to appear at the hearing and present evidence challenging the correctness of the fee or estimated fee assessed. The fire commissioner or his designee shall preside at said hearing, shall render a decision affirming the correctness of the fee assessed or correcting said fee, and shall so notify the person or entity who filed the appeal. The filing of an appeal and the pendency of any proceedings pursuant thereto shall not operate to stay the payment of any fee as otherwise provided in this act. The fire commissioner shall notify the collector-treasurer of the correction of any fee pursuant to an appeal.

The fire commissioner may promulgate rules and regulations for the administration of this act.

(4) Revenues. Revenues received hereunder shall be used to restore and maintain adequate public safety forces in the city of Boston which shall be defined as police and fire services.

SECTION 31. It is hereby found and declared that there is not presently within the commonwealth a structure of sufficient size and having adequate facilities to attract and accommodate large gatherings of governmental, civic, trade, industry, and other groups who wish to conduct conventions, conferences and other similar events within the commonwealth. Major conventions and conferences of such groups represent an important facet of the tourism industry for which there is an ever increasing market on both a national and an international scale. The lack of a convention facility within the commonwealth with the capacity to service major national and international conventions has seriously impaired the commonwealth's ability to compete within that market and to develop this important aspect of our tourism industry. There is, however, satisfactory evidence that a substantial number of national and international conventions could be induced to locate their activities within the commonwealth if a suitable convention center is made available to them.

There are substantial benefits to be derived by the citizens of the commonwealth from the development of a convention center capable of servicing major national and international conventions. Such major conventions would most often be attended by large numbers of nonresident visitors to the commonwealth who would wish to take advantage of the many, fine entertainment and recreational opportunities that the commonwealth has to offer.

The tourism industry is both one of the most valuable and one of the least developed resources in the commonwealth's economy, and it is in the public interest to develop and enhance this important asset. By attracting nonresident visitors to the commonwealth through the development of a suitable convention center, it is expected that substantial economic development will be stimulated in such tourism-related industries as transportation, hotels, restaurants, recreation, entertainment and retail sales establishments. Stimulation of these industries will in turn promote the overall economic development of the commonwealth and will provide new and enhanced employment opportunities for our citizens. In addition, the development of a suitable convention center will further promote the economic health of the commonwealth by encouraging private investment and development within the immediate area of the convention center. Thus, the development of a convention center will increase the tax base, provide important, new employment opportunities and otherwise benefit the general welfare of the citizens of the commonwealth.

Moreover, development of a suitable convention center will generate substantial, new revenues for the commonwealth. Nonresident visitors to the convention center may be expected to take advantage of the many fine hotels, restaurants, entertainment establishments and stores within the commonwealth, which will in turn generate revenues to the commonwealth through existing room occupancy, meals and sales taxes. This substantial source of new revenue, which will be provided in large part by nonresident visitors to the commonwealth, is essential to the commonwealth's ability to continue to provide necessary services to our citizens.

In order to obtain full occupancy and utilization of a major convention center by national and international conventions, it is hereby found and determined that the most appropriate location for such a convention center is within the city of Boston. That location affords immediate access to the primary transportation facilities within the commonwealth which would be used by such national and international groups. The city of Boston and the communities within its immediate vicinity also have at present, and are expected to further develop in the immediate future, the necessary hotel and related service establishments with the capacity to accommodate major national and international conventions. Moreover, the greater Boston area is endowed with unique historical, recreational and entertainment attractions which should prove to be a valuable asset in attracting major national and international conventions to the commonwealth.

Most importantly, there is presently located within the city of Boston a facility, known as the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium, which, with appropriate reconstruction, expansion and remodeling, would be amply suited to accommodate major national and international conventions.

There is satisfactory evidence that expansion of that existing facility is the most cost effective means of developing a major convention center within the commonwealth. Moreover, the existing facility is located in an area which is both likely to attract and to be able to accommodate major national and international conventions.

In view of the limited financial resources available to the city of Boston, particularly in light of the limitations imposed on the city's ability to generate revenues by recent legislation commonly known as proposition two and one-half, so-called, it is hereby found and determined that the city is unable to finance the establishment and operation of a major convention center. Moreover, the capital expenditures and initial operating deficits associated with the development of a major convention center have proven to be prohibitive for any private party which might otherwise undertake such a project. There is, however, satisfactory evidence that if the commonwealth were to initiate and undertake the development of a major convention center in the city of Boston, the city and businesses and industries within the commonwealth will cooperate and assist in the development and promotion of the center.

Although the development of a major convention center will significantly benefit economic development within the commonwealth, it is likely that the center itself will operate at a deficit, particularly during the initial stages of its operation. Such operating deficits have historically been associated with major convention centers located throughout the nation. In order to offset that projected deficit and to assure the continued financial integrity of the convention center, it will be necessary to provide the center with a source of revenue which is independent of the center itself. Moreover, it is in the public interest that the necessary revenues be generated in a manner which does not increase the tax burden to the citizens of the commonwealth.

It is hereby found and determined that revenues sufficient to defray the expected operating deficits of the proposed convention center may be most appropriately provided by combining within the Authority both the convention center and a separate revenue-producing facility located in the vicinity of the center. There presently exists within the city of Boston a facility, known as the Boston Common Parking Garage, which is most suited for this purpose. The consolidation under one Authority of the Boston Common Parking Garage with the convention center will assure the financial feasibility of both endeavors without increasing the tax burden to the citizens of the commonwealth.

Therefore, it is found that it is in the public interest of the commonwealth to benefit the prosperity and general welfare of its citizens, a public purpose for which public money may be expended, by creating the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority which is enabled, subject to the provisions of this chapter, to acquire and operate the facilities known as the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium and the Boston Common Parking Garage for the purpose of promoting the economic development of the commonwealth by developing and operating a convention center suitable for accommodating major national and international conventions.

SECTION 32. The following words and phrases, as used in this act, shall unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings:-

"Authority", the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority created by section thirty-three of this act or, if said Authority shall be abolished, the board, body or commission succeeding to the principal functions thereof or to which the powers given by this act to the Authority shall be given by law.

"Boston Common Parking Garage", the facility, presently under control of the Massachusetts Parking Authority, used for the parking of motor vehicles and located under the Boston Common in the city of Boston.

"City", the city of Boston.

"Cost of a project" shall embrace the cost, whenever incurred, of carrying out a project pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and placing it in operation, the cost of architectural and engineering services, plans, specifications, surveys, estimates of cost and of revenues, other expenses necessary or incident to determining the feasibility or practicability of the project, administrative expenses, legal expenses and such other expenses as may be necessary or incident to the aforesaid.

"John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium", the facility presently bearing that name located in, and presently under the control of, the city of Boston.

"Massachusetts Parking Authority", the Authority bearing that name and established pursuant to chapter six hundred and six of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight.

"Mayor", the mayor of the city of Boston.

"Project", the acquisition, construction, expansion or rehabilitation, or any combination of the foregoing, of a convention center, garage, or other facility authorized pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the provision and installation therein or in respect thereof of furnishings, furniture, machinery, equipment, facilities, approaches, driveways, walkways, parking facilities, planting and landscaping, the acquisition of land or other property, or rights, easements and interests acquired for or in respect to any such land or property, the demolition or removal of any buildings or structures on land so acquired or in or with respect to which interest are so acquired and site preparation. Whenever appropriate the word shall also mean such land, buildings or structures and such appurtenances.

SECTION 33. There is hereby established and placed in the executive office for administration and finance a body politic and corporate to be known as the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority, which shall not be subject to the supervision or control of the executive office for administration and finance or any department, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth except to the extent and in the manner provided in this act. The Authority is hereby constituted a public instrumentality and the exercise by the Authority of the powers conferred by this act shall be deemed and held to be the performance of an essential public function.

The Authority shall consist of seven members, who shall be appointed as provided hereunder. Four members shall be appointed by the governor and two members shall be appointed by the mayor. The remaining member shall be the treasurer and receiver-general of the commonwealth, who shall also serve as chairman. The members of the Authority first appointed by the governor shall continue in office for terms expiring on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, respectively, the term of each such member to be designated by the governor, and to continue until his successor shall be duly appointed and qualified. The members of the Authority first appointed by the mayor shall continue in office for terms expiring on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, respectively, the term of each such member to be designated by the mayor, and to continue until his successor shall be duly appointed and qualified. The successor of each such member shall be appointed for a term of six years and until his successor shall be duly appointed and qualified, except that any person appointed to fill a vacancy shall serve only for the unexpired term. Each member of the Authority shall be eligible for reappointment. Each member of the Authority may be removed by the governor, if appointed by the governor, or by the mayor, if appointed by the mayor, for misfeasance, malfeasance or willful neglect of duty but only after reasonable notice and a public hearing unless the same are in writing expressly waived. Each member of the Authority before entering upon his duties shall take an oath before the governor to administer the duties of his office faithfully and impartially, and a record of such oaths shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth.

The members of the Authority shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for all expenses reasonably incurred by them in the performance of their duties.

The Authority shall elect a secretary and a treasurer, who may be the same person, and may elect an assistant secretary or assistant treasurer, or both, in which case they may be the same person, who need not be a member of the Authority. The secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the Authority and shall be the custodian of all books, documents and papers filed with the Authority and of the minute book or journal of the Authority and of its official seal. The secretary and the assistant secretary, if any, shall each have authority to cause copies to be made of all minutes and other records and documents of the Authority and to give certificates under the official seal of the Authority to the effect that such copies are true copies and all persons dealing with the Authority may rely upon such certificates.

The Authority shall provide for regular and special meetings. A majority of the Authority shall constitute a quorum and, unless a greater number is required by the by-laws of the Authority, the act of a majority of the full membership of the Authority shall be deemed an act of the Authority.

No member, agent or employee of the Authority shall, directly or indirectly, have any financial interest in any property to be included in, or any contract for property or materials to be furnished or used in connection with, a project. Whoever violates any provisions of the preceding sentence shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 34. The Authority shall appoint an executive director who shall be the chief executive officer of the Authority, who shall devote his full time during business hours to the duties of his office, and who shall receive such compensation as the Authority shall determine, but such compensation shall not be reduced without his consent during his tenure of office. The executive director shall employ such other officers and employees as are necessary to the functioning of the Authority. Officers and employees of the Authority shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one or section nine A of chapter thirty of the General Laws. Salaries for officers and employees shall be set by the Authority. The Authority may remove the executive director for cause after public notice and hearing.

SECTION 35. In addition to all powers otherwise granted to the Authority by law, the Authority shall have the following powers:-

(a) To adopt by-laws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business and to issue rules, regulations and policies in connection with the performance of its functions and duties;

(b) To adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure;

(c) To maintain an office in the city of Boston;

(d) To sue and be sued and plead and be impleaded in its own name;

(e) To make and execute all contracts and all other instruments necessary or convenient for the exercise of its power and functions;

(f) To acquire, lease, use, hold and mortgage real, personal or mixed property or any interest, easements or rights therein, as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this chapter;

(g) To enter into agreements or other transactions with the commonwealth or any political subdivision or public instrumentality thereof, the United States government or any federal, state or other governmental agency;

(h) To invest any funds held in reserve funds, or any funds not required for immediate disbursement, in such investments as may be lawful for fiduciaries in the commonwealth;

(i) To enter into a contract or contracts with any architect, engineer, consultant or contractor; provided, that in so doing the Authority shall comply with the provisions of chapter five hundred and seventy-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty which are applicable to public authorities;

(j) To employ architects, consulting engineers, attorneys, construction, financial and other experts, superintendents, managers and such other employees as may be necessary in its judgment and to fix their compensation;

(k) To receive funds, property, labor and other things of value from any source, public or private, by gift, grant, bequest, loan or otherwise, either absolutely or in trust, and to expand or utilize the same on behalf of the Authority for any of its purposes or to act as an agent or conduit in administering or disbursing funds or financial or other aid from any source;

(l) To appear in its own behalf before boards, commissions, departments or other agencies of government, municipal, state or federal;

(m) To procure insurance against any loss in connection with the property of the Authority, in such amounts and from such insurers as may be necessary or desirable;

(n) To formulate plans for the project involving the acquisition and operation of facilities pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and to reconstruct, expand, remodel, maintain and manage such facilities; provided, that in so doing the Authority shall comply with the provisions of chapter five hundred and seventy-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty, which are applicable to public authorities;

(o) To fix and revise from time to time, and to charge and collect rates, fees, rentals and other charges for the use of any building, structure, other property or portion thereof under its control;

(p) To receive funds from the commonwealth, including funds provided pursuant to chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty for the construction, rehabilitation or expansion of convention centers;

(q) To enter into one or more agreements with one or more private entities or parties that, in exchange for such consideration and upon such terms and conditions as the Authority may deem appropriate, any facility or facilities, or portion or portions thereof, of the Authority shall be known and referred to by a particular name, commercial or otherwise, designated by any such private party or parties or entity or entities;

(r) To do any and all things necessary or convenient to carry out its purposes and exercise the powers conferred by this act.

SECTION 36. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the income, assets and activities of the Authority shall be exempt from all taxes and assessments and the Authority shall not be subject to any of the provisions of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws or to any taxes based upon or measured by property or income which may be enacted hereafter by the commonwealth or by any subdivision thereof. The Authority is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into an agreement or agreements with the assessor of the city, with the approval of the mayor of the city, wherein the Authority will undertake to make to the city annual payments in lieu of taxes in connection with any real property acquired and owned by the Authority, the amounts of such payments to be reasonable sums stipulated in such agreement or agreements or determined in accordance with a reasonable formula so stipulated. Criteria to be employed by the parties to such agreement or agreements in agreeing upon the amount of such sums or upon any such formula shall include (i) the general level of property taxation in effect in the city, (ii) the effect of the facilities and activities of the Authority on the city and (iii) the needs of the Authority to maintain or improve its facilities. The Authority shall not be required under such agreement or agreements to make any such payments in lieu of taxes in any year in excess of the balance of the revenues of the Authority remaining after (a) payment of the cost of maintaining, repairing and operating the project, (b) payment of the current operating and administrative expenses of the Authority and (c) creation and maintenance of replacement reserves for property of the Authority.

SECTION 37. The Authority is hereby authorized to establish and revise rules and regulations to insure the use and occupancy of, and to fix, revise and collect fees, rents, rates, and other charges for use of, projects undertaken pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Such rules and regulations shall provide that such projects shall be available to prospective users of the facilities in a nondiscriminatory manner. Such rules and regulations and fees, rents, rates and other charges shall be fixed and adjusted, with respect to the aggregate of the revenues from such project, so as to provide revenues sufficient, after taking into account all other available monies, (a) to pay the cost of maintaining, repairing and operating such project, (b) to pay the current operating and administrative expenses of the Authority relating to such project, and (c) to create and maintain reserves for the foregoing purposes. Such fees, rents, rates and other charges shall not be subject to supervision or regulation of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof.

SECTION 38. Not later than November first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, the Authority shall prepare and submit to the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairman of the senate committee on ways and means and the chairman of the house committee on ways and means, and the secretary of administration, a proposal for a project of developing and operating a convention center of sufficient size and with adequate facilities to accommodate major national and international conventions, which shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the following:-

(a) a detailed description of the lands, structures, fixtures, facilities, easements, rights and other property in and around the facility known as the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium, the acquisition of which is required to reconstruct, expand and remodel the existing facility so as to develop and establish a convention center of sufficient size and with adequate facilities to accommodate major national and international conventions; together with a description of all parties having any title or interest in such lands, structures, facilities, easements, rights or other property and a description of such title or interest; an analysis of the present market value of such lands, structures, facilities, easements, rights or other property and such titles and interests therein; a detailed breakdown of all bonds, notes, mortgages, restrictions, covenants or liens outstanding relative to such properties; recommendations as to the method of acquisition of such properties by or on behalf of the Authority, including the amounts, if any, to be paid to such parties in consideration for the transfer to the Authority of their title or interest in such properties and evidence of any contracts, memoranda of understanding, options, or other agreements entered into between the Authority and such parties with regard to the transfer of their title or interest in such properties;

(b) a detailed description of the lands, structures, fixtures, facilities, easements, rights and other property owned by the Massachusetts Parking Authority, including all such lands, structures and other property which comprise the facility known as the Boston Common Parking Garage, together with a description of all parties having any title or interest in such lands, structures, facilities, easements, rights or other property and a description of such title or interest; an analysis of the present market value of such lands, structures, facilities, easements, rights or other property and such titles and interests therein; a detailed breakdown of all bonds, notes, mortgages, restrictions, covenants or liens outstanding relative to such properties; recommendations regarding the method of acquisition of such properties by or on behalf of the Authority, including possible successorship by the Authority to all rights, titles and interests of the Massachusetts Parking Authority, and including the amounts, if any, to be paid to such parties in consideration for the transfer of the Authority of their title or interest in such properties and the terms and conditions of such transfers; and evidence of any contracts, memoranda of understanding, options or other agreements entered into between the Authority and such parties with regard to the transfer of their title or interest in such properties;

(c) a detailed proposal for a project of reconstruction, expansion, and remodeling of the facility known as the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium in order to develop and establish a convention center of sufficient size and with adequate facilities to accommodate major national and international conventions; including a description of the size, capacity, structure, lay-out, design, and facilities of the proposed convention center and an analysis of the planning, construction and related activities which will be required to develop and establish the proposed convention center together with a projected timetable for such planning, construction and related activities;

(d) a detailed statement of the costs of the project which shall include the acquisition of the lands, structures, fixtures, facilities, easements, rights and other property, including the facility known as the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium, and the reconstruction, expansion and remodeling of such properties necessary to develop and establish the proposed convention center; and the acquisition of the lands, structures, fixtures, facilities, easements, rights and other property presently under the control of the Massachusetts Parking Authority, including all properties which comprise the facility known as the Boston Common Parking Garage;

(e) a detailed statement of the projected, annual operating budget of the Authority, including an analysis of all projected costs associated with the maintenance and operation of the proposed convention center and the Boston Common Parking Garage; and including any payments to be made to the city of Boston in lieu of taxes for such facilities; and an analysis of all projected revenues to be generated by the Authority through the operation of such facilities;

(f) a description of any and all gifts, grants, bequests or loans of funds, property, labor or other things of value provided or to be provided to the Authority by the city of Boston or any other governmental or private party or entity, together with a statement of any terms or conditions thereof, and a description of any agreements with, or commitments by, such parties to cooperate with and to provide assistance to the Authority in furtherance of the purposes and provisions of this chapter;

(g) a proposal for assistance by the commonwealth to the Authority including such capital outlay appropriations grants, and other legislation as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes and provisions of this chapter; provided, that such proposal may, in the Authority's discretion, include applications on behalf of the Authority for grant pursuant to chapters four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty.

SECTION 38A. Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-four of this act or of any other general or special law to the contrary, the city of Boston by its mayor shall convey the Hynes Auditorium to the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority established by section thirty-three of this act for a sum equal to the fair market value of such auditorium as determined by the secretary of administration and finance based upon three independent appraisals filed within one hundred and fifty days of the passage of this act; provided, that such sum shall not be less than twenty-five million dollars; and provided, further, that such sum shall be deposited in the city of Boston Disproportionate Assessment Fund established pursuant to section four of this act and that such conveyance shall take effect December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

SECTION 38B. On December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, all books, maps, papers and records of whatever description relating to the design, construction, management and operation of the Hynes Auditorium in the custody or control of the city of Boston, the Boston Auditorium Commission, the Boston Redevelopment Authority and any other public agency shall be transferred to the use, ownership, custody and control of the Authority and the Authority is authorized to take possession thereof for its uses and purposes. The city of Boston shall, on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, provide the Authority with a statement listing all property transferred to the Authority and shall, on January fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three provide the Authority with a financial statement itemizing expenses, liabilities and income relating to operation of the Hynes Auditorium (a) during the twelve months ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, (b) during the six months ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and (c) during each twelve month period ending on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and thereafter with respect to which the city has authorized expenditures or incurred liabilities or has received or has the right to receive income relating to operation of the Hynes Auditorium. Such financial statement shall indicate which items have been paid or received and which items remain payable or receivable as of the end of each period and shall also indicate the period to which all items relate.

SECTION 38C. Expenses, liabilities and income relating to operation of the Hynes Auditorium prior to January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall be borne and receivable by the city of Boston whether or not billed, incurred or received by then. Expenses, liabilities and income relating to operation of the Hynes Auditorium after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall be borne and receivable by the Authority provided that no such expense or liability authorized or incurred by the city of Boston or any agency other than the Authority after May first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall be borne by the Authority except to the extent approved by the Authority.

SECTION 38D. Upon acquisition of the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium and the Boston Common Parking Garage by the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority, all employees who then hold full-time, permanent positions at those facilities and who held such positions as of June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two under a permanent appointment classified under chapter thirty-one of the General Laws or with tenure by reason of section nine A of chapter thirty of the General Laws, shall become employees of the Authority without impairment of civil service status, seniority, retirement and other rights, and without interruption of service within the meaning of said chapter thirty-one or section nine A of said chapter thirty, and without reduction in compensation and salary grade, notwithstanding any change in their job titles or duties, subject, however, to the provisions of chapter thirty-one, and the rules and regulations thereunder. All said employees who upon such acquisition hold, without such tenure, positions not so classified, and who held such positions as of June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall become employees of the Authority without impairment of seniority, retirement, and other rights, without interruption of service within the meaning of the said section nine A of said chapter thirty, and without reduction in compensation and salary grade; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to confer upon any employee any rights not held prior to the transfer or to prohibit any subsequent reduction in compensation or salary grade if such were not prohibited prior to the transfer; and provided, further, that this section shall not apply to persons employed by the Authority who were not employed at the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium or the Boston Common Parking Garage prior to acquisition of said facilities by the Authority.

SECTION 38E. Subsequent to the preparation and submission of the proposals required under section thirty-eight of this act, the Authority shall be authorized to prepare and submit to the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, the chairman of the senate committee on ways and means, the chairman of the house committee on ways and means and the secretary of administration a feasibility study relative to the development and operation by the Authority of a multi-purpose arena of sufficient size and with adequate facilities to accommodate major civic, athletic, recreational and entertainment events, which study shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the following:

(a) a description of the location deemed suitable by the Authority for said multi-purpose arena;

(b) a description of the lands, structures, fixtures, and facilities deemed necessary or appropriate by the Authority for the construction or reconstruction of said multi-purpose arena;

(c) an estimate of the capital expenses estimated by the Authority as necessary for the construction or reconstruction of said multi-purpose arena;

(d) an estimate of the operational expenses estimated by the Authority as necessary for the operation and maintenance of said multi-purpose arena;

(e) a proposal by the Authority for the provision of funds sufficient to meet the capital and operating costs, including projected income, associated with said multi-purpose arena;

(f) such feasibility study shall be conducted by an independent firm; and

(g) and a description of the environmental and economic affects on the immediate community, the housing and parking needs of the community and the arena's affect on residential and commercial displacement.

SECTION 39. The Authority shall establish a special fund, to be known as the Civic and Convention Center Fund and shall deposit in such fund any grant funds received under the provisions of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty which amounts may be expended by the treasurer as authorized by vote of the Authority and without further appropriation; provided, that all such funds shall be used solely for the purpose of paying for the cost of a project under the provisions of this act. A report including an audit prepared by a certified public accountant shall be submitted annually by the Authority to the secretary of administration and finance and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 40. The Authority shall, within one hundred and twenty days following the close of the fiscal year, submit an annual report of its activities for the preceding year to the governor and the clerks of the senate and house of representatives. Each such report shall set forth a complete operating and financial statement of the Authority.

SECTION 41. The books and records of the Authority shall be subject to an annual audit by the auditor of the commonwealth.

SECTION 41A. The provisions of chapter twelve A of the General Laws which are applicable to public authorities shall apply to the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority.

SECTION 42. Chapter 486 of the acts of 1980 is hereby amended by striking out section 2 and inserting in place thereof

the following section:-

Section 2. The secretary of administration hereinafter called the secretary, is hereby authorized and directed to establish a program to assist the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority and cities and towns or consortiums of contiguous cities, towns or any combination thereof, hereinafter to be called a consortium, in undertaking any project to acquire land, including buildings thereon, to construct, reconstruct, rehabilitate finish or expand facilities to be used as municipal civic or convention centers or exhibition halls, without acceptance by the commonwealth of responsibility for maintenance.

The secretary may, under the provisions of this act, provide grant funds to the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority and such cities, towns or consortiums for projects authorized by this section.

SECTION 43. The first paragraph of section 4 of said chapter 486 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The Massachusetts Convention Center Authority may, by vote of its members, and any city, town or consortium may, by vote of the city council and approval of the city manager in a city having a Plan D or Plan E form of charter, or with the approval of the mayor in any other city, by vote of a town at an annual town meeting or at a special town meeting called for that purpose, or in a municipality having a town council form of government by the town council, make application to the secretary for financial assistance in undertaking a project described in section one of this act, provided that such assistance does not exceed one hundred per cent of the total cost of any one project undertaken by the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority or seventy per cent of the total cost of any other project.

SECTION 44. The first paragraph of section 16 of chapter 606 of the acts of 1958 is hereby amended by adding the following two sentences:- The Authority is hereby authorized to enter into an agreement with the mayor of the city of Boston under which the Authority will undertake to make annual payments in lieu of taxes in connection with any real property acquired and owned by the Authority, the amounts of such payments to be reasonable sums stipulated in such agreement or agreements or determined in accordance with a reasonable formula so stipulated. Criteria to be employed by the parties to such agreement or agreements in agreeing upon the amount of such sums or upon any such formula shall include (i) the general level or property taxation in effect in the municipality, (ii) the effect of the facilities and activities of the Authority on the municipality and (iii) the needs of the Authority to maintain or improve its facilities.

SECTION 44A. In undertaking any projects authorized by this chapter, the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority shall comply with the provisions of sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws.

SECTION 45. Section 4 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1980 is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The secretary shall make a determination within forty-five days from the date of application. Upon the approval of said application, the secretary shall notify the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority or the city, town or consortium as to the total amount of state aid for such project.

SECTION 46. Section 8 of said chapter 486 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:-

To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of sections two and four of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the secretary of administration, with the approval of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale, bonds or notes of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as he may deem best, to an amount specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, one hundred million dollars.

SECTION 47. Upon receipt of the proposals required under the provisions of section thirty-eight of this act and upon application of the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority for grants under chapter four hundred and eighty-siv of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty the secretary of administration shall provide grant funds to the Authority in an amount determined by the secretary to be necessary or appropriate to cover the costs of the projects as set forth in said section thirty-eight.

SECTION 48. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, the state treasurer is hereby authorized to advance to the city of Boston upon the request of its mayor, a pro tanto payment of fifteen million dollars to be applied towards the consideration to be paid for the conveyance of the John B. Hynes Veterans Memorial Auditorium to the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority. Any such sum so advanced shall be deposited in the city of Boston Disproportionate Assessment Fund established pursuant to section four of this act, and shall be deducted from the amount to be paid by or on behalf of the Authority to the city in consideration for conveyance to the Authority of all of the city's rights, title and interest in the Hynes Auditorium. If the conveyance of the Hynes Auditorium has not been completed by July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the city shall repay to the Commonwealth all amounts advanced to it pursuant to this section, such repayment to be subject to the provisions of section twenty A of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws.

SECTION 49. The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or circumstances. This act being necessary for the welfare of the commonwealth and its inhabitants, shall be construed in all respects so as to meet all constitutional requirements. In carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act, all steps shall be taken which are necessary to meet constitutional requirements whether or not such steps are required or expressly authorized by statute.

SECTION. 50. This act shall take effect upon its passage except that the provisions of section eighteen as to the enforcement or waiver of allotments shall be in effect only with respect to quarters ending forty-five days or more after the passage of this act, and an allotment schedule must be submitted as provided within fifteen days of the effective date of this act.

Approved June 29, 1982.

as determined by the commissioner of revenue on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

For the purposes of this item "additional sum distributed" for a city or town shall be the difference between the amount said city or town received by the distribution of item 0611-5500 of chapter three hundred and fifty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one as amended by chapter six hundred and thirty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, and the amount said city or town received by the distribution of item 0611-5500 of chapter three hundred and twenty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty.

For the purposes of this item, the phrase "cities and towns having an adjusted gross loss" shall mean any city or town which is not required to reduce its property tax levy in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three pursuant to the provisions of chapter five hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty.

For the purposes of this item the phrase "adjusted gross loss" for a city or town shall mean the gross loss of a city or town less the additional sum distributed.

For the purposes of this item the phrase "fiscal capacity per capita" shall mean and be determined for each city and town as follows:- (1) the sum of (a) the equalized valuation for the city or town as reported to the general court in nineteen hundred and eighty multiplied by twenty-five dollars per thousand; (b) state aid for the city or town as estimated for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two under the provisions of section twenty-five A of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws, plus state aid as estimated for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two by the commissioner of revenue for the regional school district of which the city or town is a member, if any apportioned to the city or town in proportion to the ratio of the population of the city or town bears to the total population of all the cities and towns comprising the membership of the regional school district; provided, however, that the amount under said item 0611-5500 shall be based upon a total distribution of one hundred and forty-three million dollars; (c) the amount received by the city or town from the United States government under the federal fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two appropriation for general revenue sharing to localities; and (d) revenues from the motor vehicle excise for the city or town for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two as estimated by the commissioner of revenue on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, divided by (2) the population of the city or town as determined by the national census of the year nineteen hundred and eighty, provided however, that the population of any city or town shall be adjusted to reflect the resident population exclusive of persons residing at a military base operated by the United States government.

For additional assistance to the cities and towns, there is hereby appropriated the sum of four hundred and eighty-one million dollars from the General Fund to be credited to the Local Aid Fund established under the provisions of section two D of chapter twenty-nine of the EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF ENERGY RESOURCES.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the executive office of energy resources shall administer the programs described herein. These programs shall be limited to: (1) the energy conservation and alternative energy bond program pursuant to section eleven of chapter twenty-five A of the General Laws, (2) the energy data and collection program, (3) the solar action program, and (4) the passive solar program; provided that these programs follow the guidelines listed herein.

The energy conservation and alternative bond program shall administer the twenty million dollar bond program of chapter seven hundred and ninety-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and additions thereto, shall establish an energy audit program to determine the energy consumption levels of and appropriate energy conservation measures for buildings owned by the commonwealth and its political subdivisions, shall administer an energy conservation improvement program to carry out and assist energy conservation projects for such buildings and facilities, shall establish an alternative energy property program to provide alternative energy sources for buildings owned by the commonwealth and its political subdivisions and shall monitor the use and effectiveness of alternative energy sources.

The solar action program shall provide activities including public information, technological innovation, solar demonstration, and consumer assistance, which improve opportunities for the commercialization of solar energy; shall disseminate information to the general public on the use of solar energy and shall provide support to Massachusetts solar industries.

The passive multi-family housing program shall encourage the utilization of passive solar within the commonwealth by contracting with architects to design passive solar components for new multi-family housing and shall focus on reducing energy costs for low income people.

The energy data collection program shall generate a data base for the purpose of analyzing the demand and availability of energy; shall evaluate potential conversions to coal, alternative fuels, and cogeneration of electric generating facilities and major fuel burning installations; shall monitor and analyze price, supply, production and distribution planning and storage capacity for potential energy interruptions, and to ensure an adequate energy supply for the commonwealth at the least cost and with minimal environmental impact.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the secretary of the executive office of energy resources shall provide the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means notification of any alterations in programmatic undertakings from those listed and described herein; whereupon the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means shall have thirty days to reject alterations.

	Provided, further that the executive office of energy resources shall report quarterly to the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means the status of all programs listed herein, including the total cost of each program, the number of energy audits conducted, the amount awarded as a result of audits and the number of passive solar components designed for multi-family housing construction projects; provided further, that these reports include detailed descriptions of expenditures made by program, and such other information as may be requested by said committees from time to time.

SECTION 3. Section 291 of chapter 351 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

A chairperson and vice-chairperson shall be elected from and by the membership of the commission. The commission may employ such staff persons as it may deem necessary for the performance of its functions and responsibilities.

SECTION 4. The fourth paragraph of said section 291 of said chapter 351 is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Said commission shall file with the clerk of the senate no later than the first Wednesday of December, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, an interim report containing the recommendations and results of its investigation and study and by filing a final report containing the results of its investigation and study and recommendations, if any, of proposed legislation deemed necessary to carry its recommendations into effect by June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 5. Said section 291 of said chapter 351 is hereby amended by striking out the seventh paragraph.

SECTION 6. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-one of chapter thirty of the General Laws or any other provision of law, the state purchasing agent is hereby authorized during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three to incur liabilities and incidental expenses for the purchase of supplies, as provided by said section fifty-one, including material to be disposed of as surplus, so-called, by the federal government through agencies of the federal government in an amount not exceeding five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for the purpose, and the comptroller may certify for payment such incidental expenses and liabilities so incurred to an amount not exceeding five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for said purpose.

SECTION 7. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, all persons eligible for public assistance, as determined by the department of public welfare, under the provisions of chapters one hundred and seventeen, one hundred and eighteen A, and one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws, who are not maintaining their own homes but are receiving care in a licensed nursing home, any licensed rest home, a licensed chronic hospital or in an approved public medical institution, shall retain the first forty dollars of their monthly income for clothing, personal needs and leisure time activities.

If there is no such income, or if it is less than forty dollars, the recipient shall be paid monthly in advance the difference between such income and forty dollars.

The department of public welfare shall by regulation provide that personal laundry costs shall not be charged to the amount retained by or paid to the recipient pursuant to this section. Personal laundry costs shall instead be reimbursable through the per diem rates established through the rate setting commission.

GL SECTION 8. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the administrator of any facility licensed pursuant to section seventy-one of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws shall deposit in an individual, interest-bearing account of any bank organized and existing under the laws of the commonwealth funds of any person who is an inpatient or resident at such facility if such administrator agrees to manage such funds at the request of such person, or the fiduciary of such person, or if the administrator is a fiduciary for such person. The words "fiduciary" and "funds" shall have the same meanings found in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-three of the General Laws. The interest earned by any such funds so deposited will be credited to the individual account of such person. The department of public health shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement this section.

SECTION 9. The department of public welfare shall require the use of interchangeable drug products as listed in the most recent Massachusetts drug formulary, to the extent that such drugs are available, and determined by the prescriber to be appropriate as regulated by the provisions of section thirteen of chapter seventeen of the General Laws.

The provisions of this section shall apply to recipients of medical services authorized by Title XIX of the Social Security Act.

SECTION 10. The department of public welfare shall require a second medical opinion as a precondition to reimbursement for certain elective surgical procedures as specified by department regulation.

SECTION 11. Notwithstanding any provision of sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws, a salary differential shall be paid to employees in the nursing services who are employed on evening or night tours of duty, and to employees engaged in professional nursing, as defined in section eighty B of chapter one hundred and twelve of the General Laws, at the Lemuel Shattuck Hospital and the Soldiers' Home in Massachusetts.

SECTION 12. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, revenues in an amount not to exceed five million dollars accrued through the program of selling of correctional industries products and services, excluding monies received from the sale of farm products and services under programs maintained by the division of farm services, may be expended without further appropriation, subject to the approval of the commissioner of correction and the state comptroller, for said program including costs of materials, supplies and equipment, maintenance of industrial facilities and compensation to correctional industry employees. This program shall be subject to a full audit and annual report by the state auditor.

SECTION 13. All state agencies expending funds under the provisions of this act shall be required to purchase articles and materials pursuant to lists distributed under section fifty-seven of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven of the General Laws.

SECTION 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, payments made by the department of public welfare under Title XIX of the United States Social Security Act for administrative days, so-called, in acute care hospitals shall be at rates established by the rate setting commission. Said rates shall reflect payment for appropriate levels of care as determined by the department.

SECTION 15. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, payments to be made during the nineteen hundred and eighty-three fiscal year by the department of public welfare for authorized medical services, excluding primary care, shall be reduced by fifteen per cent of the rates in effect on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and seventy-five for medical practitioners. The secretary of human services shall file a schedule of rates for medical services established pursuant to this section and a proposed schedule of increased rates for such services with the house and senate committees on ways and means no later than December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 16. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, any department, board, commission or institution expending federal funds appropriated in section two of this act shall submit a spending plan of such federal funds, by subsidiary breakdown, with the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint standing committee on federal financial assistance no later than sixty days after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 17. For the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, the secretary of each executive office, the commissioner of education, and the president of each public institution of higher education in the commonwealth, shall designate a finance officer as custodian of all monies, funds or accounts, if any, including federal funds under the direct control of said secretary, commissioner, or president or under the control of any agency, commission, or department under each executive office, department or institution who shall have fiduciary responsibility for investing all monies, funds, or accounts, including non-appropriated funds held by a public institution of higher education, in a bank account or other investment permitted pursuant to sections thirty-eight and thirty-eight A of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws, so as to maximize the income from the investment of such monies, funds, or accounts during the period that such monies, funds, or accounts are under the control of the office, department or institution. The secretary of each executive office, the commissioner of education, and the president of each public institution of higher education shall file a preliminary report with the house and senate committees on ways and means by December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, and a final report by June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three listing the names of said finance officers named custodians, and the income attributable to investments made under this section. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the state treasurer or any funds under his control.

SECTION 18. In order to meet that portion of the cost of state employees retirement system attributable to retired employees of the metropolitan district commission, the comptroller shall transfer from the following funds to the General Fund the amounts stated:

Highway Fund	$2,120,000
Metropolitan District Parks Fund	1,040,000
Metropolitan Sewerage District Fund	860,000
Metropolitan Water District Fund	1,330,000

provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions of item 0612-1000 of section two, the aforesaid amounts shall not be available for expenditure.

SECTION 19. Appropriations made in section two of this act from the General Federal Grants Fund shall be recorded on the books of the commonwealth only in the amount of the actual receipts of federal funds and only the recorded amount shall be available for expenditure. Federal funds received in excess of the amount appropriated in said section two of this act shall be expended only in accordance with the provisions of section six B of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 20. All sums appropriated under the provisions of this act shall be expended in a manner reflecting and encouraging a policy of nondiscrimination and equal opportunity for members of minority groups, women, and handicapped persons. All officials and employees of any agency, board or division of the commonwealth receiving monies under section two shall rigorously take affirmative steps to ensure equality of opportunity in the internal affairs of state government, as well as in their relations with the public, including those persons and organizations doing business with the commonwealth.

Each agency, board or division, in spending appropriated sums and discharging its statutory responsibilities, shall adopt aggressive measures to ensure equal opportunity in the areas of hiring, promotion, demotion or transfer, recruitment, layoff or termination, rates of compensation, inservice or apprenticeship training programs, and all terms and conditions of employment. Such affirmative action programs shall include efforts required to remedy the effects of present and past discriminatory patterns and practices and any action necessary to guarantee equal opportunity for members of minority groups, women, and handicapped persons.

The commissioner of administration and finance shall conduct an ongoing review of affirmative action steps taken by the various agencies, boards or divisions, to determine whether such agencies are complying with the intent of this section. Whenever such noncompliance is determined by the commissioner, he shall hold a public hearing on the matter and report his resulting recommendations to the head of the particular agency, board or division, to the governor, and to the Massachusetts commission against discrimination.

SECTION 21. A board of trustees, established under the provisions of section ten of chapter fifteen A of the General Laws, of a state college or university, shall establish the fee for application for admission of residents of the commonwealth at no less than eighteen dollars and all other fees for application for admission shall not be less than twenty-five dollars. A board of trustees of a community college shall establish the fee for application for admission of residents of the commonwealth at no less than fourteen dollars and all other fees for application for admission shall not be less than twenty-five dollars. All such fees from applications for admission shall be transferred to the General Fund. A board of trustees shall also establish procedures for the waiver of such fees for indigent applicants.

SECTION 22. No positions authorized and funded by federal funds on or after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall be funded with appropriations authorized in section two of this act during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three without prior approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means, except appropriations out of the General Federal Grants Fund. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the employment of persons in positions funded by federal reimbursements to the commonwealth.

SECTION 23. The department of public welfare is hereby prohibited from implementing any savings steps, so-called, with regard to the conservation of income of nursing home residents who are also recipients of medical assistance under chapter one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws without statutory authorization.

SECTION 24. The department of elder affairs is hereby authorized and directed to conduct, either through existing resources or with a private contractor, a comprehensive system-wide assessment of the needs of the elderly in the commonwealth for programs provided for in item 9110-1630 of section two of this act, using a standard measuring tool. Such assessment shall be conducted in each of the twenty-seven home care services areas with the cooperation of the directors of the home care corporations.

An updated report of such assessment, shall be sent to the house and senate committees on ways and means and each home care corporation not later than December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two. Such updated report shall contain an explanation of the variations in client costs among the home care corporations and recommendations for actions to be taken to reduce excessive variations. The use of said report in the determination of the level of program expenditures shall be subject to the approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 25. Notwithstanding the provisions of section nine A or thirteen A of chapter seven hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency shall, for the purposes of the interest subsidy program authorized by said section thirteen A, expend from its unrestricted fund balance, a sum not exceeding thirteen million dollars.

SECTION 26. The department of public works is hereby authorized to assist the outdoor advertising board in the conduct of its responsibilities under chapter ninety-three of the General Laws by the expenditure of funds from line item 6016-0001, under the direction of the commissioner of public works to provide clerical and administrative assistance to the outdoor advertising board.

SECTION 27. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the department of public welfare is directed to request a waiver of certain provisions of the Federal Medical Assistance Program pursuant to Section 2176 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 (PL 97-35) in order to establish demonstration projects involving the provision of respite care and personal emergency response service at a minimum of two locations. The department of public welfare shall enter into contracts with nonprofit corporations providing services under the home care program as established under section four of chapter nineteen A of the General Laws for the provision of services mandated by this section. The location and evaluation of the demonstration projects required by this section shall be established jointly by the department of public welfare and the department of elder affairs.

SECTION 28. The commissioner of administration and finance shall prepare annually an inventory of all property owned by the commonwealth. All officers and employees of the commonwealth, including those in the judicial and legislative branches, shall assist in this inventory in the manner directed by the commissioner in such rules and regulations as he may adopt from time to time. The report shall be filed with the state auditor on or before October first of each year and shall be a public record when filed. The state auditor shall audit each such report.

SECTION 29. Any reduction in work force within the mental health centers and hospitals within the department of mental health shall consist of nondirect care positions and nonpatient positions.

SECTION 30. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, revenues in an amount not to exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars accrued from the sale of farm products and services under programs maintained by the division of farm services of the department of correction may be expended without further appropriation, subject to the approval of the commissioner of correction and the state comptroller, for said programs including costs of materials, supplies and equipment, maintenance and construction of agricultural facilities, and compensation to farm employees. This program shall be subject to a full audit and annual report by the state auditor.

SECTION 31. Notwithstanding the provisions of section one of this act to the contrary, items 0320-0001 to 0340-1100, inclusive, in section two of this act are hereby charged as follows:-

General Fund	20.0%
Local Aid Fund	80.0%.

SECTION 32. The commissioner of the department of public health is hereby authorized to establish an inspection crew to be known as the poisoning prevention inspections team to inspect for lead-based paint in day care facilities licensed or registered by the commonwealth and residential properties owned by public housing authorities, and to impose a fixed fee for such inspections, provided that the department shall establish standards for the waiver of such fees upon the showing of need. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, revenues in an amount not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars accrued from said fees may be expended without further appropriation subject to the approval of the commissioner and the state comptroller for the expenses of the poisoning prevention inspections team, including materials, supplies, equipment and compensation for employees. No funds appropriated in item 4516-0201 of section two shall be expended for the poisoning prevention inspections team.

SECTION 33. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, revenues in excess of two million dollars but not exceeding three million dollars from the collection of admission fees, parking fees, and concessions at pools, rinks, parks, forests, beaches, ski areas and golf courses maintained by the metropolitan district commission may be expended without further appropriation by the commission, subject to the approval of the secretary of environmental affairs and the state comptroller, for improvement of pools, rinks, parks, forests, beaches, ski areas and golf courses maintained by said commission, including materials, supplies, equipment, promotional activities and interpretive materials; provided, however, that said revenues shall not be expended for the compensation of employees.

SECTION 34. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, revenues in excess of five million dollars but not exceeding six million dollars from the collection of admission fees, parking fees, and concessions at pools, rinks, parks, forests and beaches maintained by the department of environmental management may be expended without further appropriation by the department, subject to the approval of the secretary of environmental affairs and the state comptroller, for improvements at pools, rinks, parks, forests and beaches maintained by said department, including materials, supplies, equipment, promotional activities and interpretive materials; provided, however, that said revenues shall not be expended for the compensation of employees.

SECTION 35. The amount of any unexpended balance of federal grant funds received prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and not included as part of an appropriation item in section two of this act, is hereby made available for expenditure during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, in addition to any amount appropriated in section two of this act; provided that the state comptroller shall report to the senate and house committees on ways and means, no later than October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, the amounts of any such unexpended balances for each item of appropriation including such unexpended balances as are appropriated in said section two of this act.

SECTION 36. The department of public health is hereby designated as the lead agency under the administrative and financial supervision of the executive office of human services for the provision of state funded childhood early intervention services. Said department is hereby authorized and directed to establish consistent state-wide standards for such services and to promote the development of such services. The departments of mental health, public welfare, and education are hereby authorized and directed to enter into interagency agreements with the department of public health to ensure stability for present programs, uniformity of standards, and reasonable growth of such programs. The department of mental health is further authorized and directed to enter into an interagency agreement with the department of public health to ensure that all employees providing early intervention services in positions currently funded by the department of mental health through the "01" and "02" subsidiary accounts shall continue to be funded in the department of mental health accounts while providing said services in the department of public health funded programs without interruption of employment or loss of status or benefits. This interagency agreement shall continue for as long as the commonwealth provides these services. As of January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, all purchase of service contracts that are funded with state appropriations shall be administered by the department of public health; provided, that reimbursement for such services may be allowed under the medical assistance program administered by the department of public welfare. The commissioner of the department of public health is hereby authorized to establish an advisory committee on childhood early intervention programs to consist of representatives from appropriate state agencies, providers, employee unions, existing citizen advisory boards, and consumers, for the purposes of developing program standards, ensuring a smooth transition period, and resolving administrative and collective bargaining issues.

SECTION 37. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three the department of mental health may, with the prior written approval of the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means, transfer sums between the following items of appropriation provided in section two of this act which, in the aggregate, shall not exceed the following amounts:

Items 5146-0000 and 5148-0000 -- $850,000.
Items 5246-0000 and 5248-0000 -- $355,000.
Items 5346-0000 and 5348-0000 -- $580,000.
Items 5446-0000 and 5448-0000 -- $280,000.
Items 5546-0000 and 5548-0000 -- $340,000.
Items 5646-0000 and 5648-0000 -- $395,000.
Items 5846-0000 and 5848-0000 -- $350,000.

SECTION 38. The secretary of the executive office of human services is hereby authorized and directed to make a study of the purchase of services system administered by the department of mental health to develop recommendations for the improvement of said system. The goal of such study is to eliminate wasteful practices so that necessary services can be delivered in a more cost-effective manner. The study shall consider such improvements as universal sliding fees, collective purchasing, bulk purchasing, streamlined contracting and auditing regulations, and tax exempt financing for program start-up costs and for cash flow assistance. Said study shall determine what impact these recommendations will have on program costs and shall provide an estimate as to how such recommendations would affect the need for vendor adequacy funding. Such report shall be filed by September fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two with the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 39. There shall be established and set up on the books of the commonwealth a separate fund, to be known as the Recession Revenue Replacement Fund, to which shall be credited the sum appropriated in item 0680-0001 of section two of this act and such other sums as may be appropriated therefor from time to time by the general court. Amounts credited to said fund shall be available for transfer to the General Fund only upon certification to the state treasurer and the state comptroller by the commissioner of revenue that a total tax revenue shortfall is anticipated for the then current fiscal year. Said certification shall be made by the commissioner based upon the following calculation: (1) the commissioner shall establish a base ratio which shall be the average of the total tax revenues collected at the end of the third quarter of each of the three previous fiscal years divided by the total fiscal year tax revenue collections for each such fiscal year; (2) the commissioner shall then establish a current revenue collection factor by dividing the amount of total tax revenues collected at the end of the third quarter of the then current fiscal year by the base ratio; (3) the commissioner shall then establish a projected revenue collection factor by subtracting the current revenue collection factor from the total amount of tax revenues for the then current fiscal year as estimated in the governor's budget recommendations for the next preceding fiscal year; (4) the commissioner shall then establish a collection ratio by dividing the projected revenue collection factor by the total amount of tax revenues for the then current fiscal year as estimated in the governor's budget recommendations for the next preceding fiscal year. The commissioner shall certify that a total tax revenue shortfall is anticipated for the then current fiscal year if, upon performing the above calculation, it is determined that the collection ratio indicates a total tax revenue shortfall for the then current fiscal year that is greater than or equal to one per cent. Any unexpended balance remaining in the Recession Revenue Replacement Fund at the close of business on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four shall be transferred to the General Fund. Upon such transfer to the General Fund, the commissioner shall report the source to the general court, together with a recommendation as to appropriate reductions in existing taxes.

SECTION 40. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner of public health is hereby prohibited from discontinuing any inpatient program and activities at the Rutland Heights Hospital located in the town of Rutland.

SECTION 41. Each member of the general court shall be paid an allowance for each day after prorogation of the general court when on legislative business affairs in accordance with the schedule contained in section nine B of chapter three of the General Laws.

SECTION 42. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, expenditures for items of equipment having a purchase price less than six thousand dollars may be approved by the secretary of administration and finance or paid for by the comptroller without prior approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, no state agency shall initiate any encumbrance or make any expenditure of funds, whether appropriated or not, for the lease or purchase of data or word processing equipment or systems including microcomputers, all computer accessories and software, unless prescribed in schedules approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, no state agency shall initiate any encumbrance or make any expenditure of funds, whether appropriated or not, for the purchase of motor vehicles unless prescribed in schedules approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means; and provided, that no state agency shall deviate from said schedules after said approval unless certified by the secretary of administration and finance and approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means.

This section shall not apply to any office in the general court, the office of the governor, the office of the lieutenant governor, the office of the state secretary, the office of the state treasurer, the office of the state auditor, the office of the attorney general, and any public institution of higher learning in the commonwealth.

SECTION 43. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, amounts appropriated for permanent and temporary offices and positions in section two are authorized to be expended at the salary rates indicated in the schedules approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means, a copy of which is filed with the personnel administrator. No part of the sums appropriated in section two shall be available for payment of salaries for any additional permanent or temporary positions or for payments due to reallocations of permanent and temporary positions, or for payments due to changes in salaries or compensation rates except as approved in said schedules. The provisions of this section shall include all personnel in the judiciary, including district attorneys offices. The comptroller shall not authorize payment of funds except pursuant to schedules as provided under the provisions of this section. The provisions of this section and of clause (d) of paragraph (4) of section forty-five of chapter thirty of the General Laws shall not apply to any office or position in the general court, the office of the governor, the office of the lieutenant governor, the office of the state secretary, the office of the state treasurer, the office of the state auditor, the office of the attorney general; item 1100-1100, the executive office of administration and finance, office of the commissioner; item 1101-2100, the executive office of administration and finance, fiscal affairs division; item 1102-5201, the executive office of administration and finance, motor vehicles management bureau; item 1103-1000, the executive office of administration and finance, comptrollers division; item 1201-0100, the department of revenue; item 4000-0100, the executive office of human services, office of the secretary; and item 4400-1000, department of public welfare, office of the commissioner.

SECTION 44. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, there shall be no interchange or interchanges between any subsidiary account and any account entitled "01, Salaries, Permanent Positions" or "08, Heat and Other Plant Operations" within the same appropriation account by the officer in charge of any department, office, commission or institution which involves more than ten per cent of the amount originally appropriated to that subsidiary account or by an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars, whichever is less, unless such proposed transfer has received the prior approval of the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 45. This act shall take effect as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

I disapprove item 0612-1550

Chap. 202. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter 109 and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 109.
LIMITED PARTNERSHIP.
GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Section 1. As used in this chapter, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

(1) "Certificate of limited partnership", the certificate referred to in section eight, and the certificate as amended.

(2) "Contribution", any cash, property, services rendered, or a promissory note or other binding obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services, which a partner contributes to a limited partnership in his capacity as a partner.

(3) "Event of withdrawal of a general partner", an event that causes a person to cease to be a general partner as provided in section twenty-three.

(4) "Foreign limited partnership", a partnership formed under the laws of any state other than the commonwealth and having as partners one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

(5) "General partner", a person who has been admitted to a limited partnership as a general partner in accordance with the partnership agreement and named in the certificate of limited partnership as a general partner.

(6) "Limited partner", a person who has been admitted to a limited partnership as a limited partner in accordance with the partnership agreement and named in the certificate of limited partnership as a limited partner.

(7) "Limited partnership" and "domestic limited partnership", a partnership formed by two or more persons under the laws of the commonwealth and having one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

(8) "Partner", a limited or general partner.

(9) "Partnership agreement", any valid agreement, written or oral, of the partners as to the affairs of a limited partnership and the conduct of its business.

(10) "Partnership interest", a partner's share of the profits and losses of a limited partnership and the right to receive distributions of partnership assets.

(11) "Person", a natural person, partnership, limited partnership (domestic or foreign), trust, estate, association, or corporation.

(12) "State", a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Section 1A. This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Limited Partnership Act.

Section 2. The name of each limited partnership as set forth in its certificate of limited partnership:

(1) shall contain without abbreviation the words "limited partnership";

(2) may not contain the name of a limited partner unless

(i) it is also the name of a general partner or the corporate name of a corporate general partner, or (ii) the business of the limited partnership had been carried on under that name before the admission of that limited partner;

(3) may not contain any word or phrase indicating or implying that it is organized other than for a purpose stated in its certificate of limited partnership;

(4) may not be the same as, or deceptively similar to, the name of any corporation or limited partnership organized under the laws of the commonwealth or licensed or registered as a foreign corporation or limited partnership in the commonwealth, except with the written consent of said corporation or limited partnership previously filed with the secretary of state.

Section 3. (a) The exclusive right to the use of a name may be reserved by:

(1) any person intending to organize a limited partnership under this chapter and to adopt such name;

(2) any domestic limited partnership or any foreign limited partnership registered in the commonwealth which, in either case, intends to adopt such name;

(3) any foreign limited partnership intending to register in the commonwealth and adopt such name; and

(4) any person intending to organize a foreign limited partnership and intending to have it registered in the commonwealth and adopt such name.

(b) The reservation shall be made by filing with the secretary of state an application, executed by the applicant and accompanied by the requisite fee, to reserve a specified name. If the secretary of state finds such name is available for use by a domestic or foreign limited partnership, he shall reserve the name for the exclusive use of the applicant for a period of thirty days. The secretary of state may extend the reservation for an additional thirty days upon written request of the applicant accompanied by the requisite fee. The right to the exclusive use of a reserved name may be transferred to any other person by filing in the office of the secretary of state a notice of the transfer, executed by the applicant for whom the name was reserved, specifying the name and the address of the transferee and accompanied by the requisite fee.

Section 4. Each limited partnership shall continuously maintain in the commonwealth:

(1) an office, which may, but need not be a place of its business in the commonwealth, at which shall be kept the records required by section five to be maintained; and

(2) an agent for service of process on the limited partnership, which agent must be an individual resident of the commonwealth, a domestic corporation, or a foreign corporation authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 5. Each limited partnership shall keep at the office referred to in clause (1) of section four the following: (1) a current list of the full name and last known business address of each partner set forth in alphabetical order, (2) a copy of the certificate of limited partnership and all certificates of amendment thereto, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any certificate has been executed, (3) copies of the limited partnership's federal, state and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years, and (4) copies of any then effective written partnership agreements and of any financial statements of the limited partnership for the three most recent years. Those records are subject to inspection and copying at the reasonable request, and at the expense, of any partner during ordinary business hours.

Section 6. A limited partnership may carry on any business that a partnership without limited partners may carry on.

Section 7. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner may lend money to and transact other business with the limited partnership and, subject to other applicable law, has the same rights and obligations with respect thereto as a person who is not a partner.

FORMATION: CERTIFICATE OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP.

Section 8. (a) In order to form a limited partnership two or more persons must execute a certificate of limited partnership. The certificate shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and set forth:

(1) the name of the limited partnership;

(2) the general character of its business;

(3) the address of the office and the name and address of the agent for service of process required to be maintained by section four;

(4) the name and the business address of each partner specifying separately the general partners and limited partners;

(5) the amount of cash and a description and statement of the agreed value of the other property or services contributed by each partner and which each partner has agreed to contribute in the future;

(6) the times at which or events on the happening of which any additional contributions agreed to be made by each partner are to be made;

(7) any power of a limited partner to grant the right to become a limited partner to an assignee of any part of his partnership interest, and the terms and conditions of the power;

(8) if agreed upon, the time at which or the events on the happening of which a partner may terminate his membership in the limited partnership and the amount of, or the method of determining the distribution to which he may be entitled respecting his partnership interest, and the terms and conditions of the termination and distribution;

(9) any right of a partner to receive distributions of property, including cash, from the limited partnership;

(10) any right of a partner to receive, or of a general partner to make, distributions to a partner which include a return of all or any part of the partner's contribution;

(11) any time at which or events upon the happening of which the limited partnership is to be dissolved and its affairs wound up;

(12) any right of the remaining general partners to continue the business on the happening of an event of withdrawal of a general partner; and

(13) any other matters the partners determine to include therein.

(b) A limited partnership is formed at the time of the filing of the certificate of limited partnership in the office of the secretary of state or at any later time specified in the certificate of limited partnership if, in either case, there has been substantial compliance with the requirements of this section.

Section 9. (a) A certificate of limited partnership is amended by filing a certificate of amendment thereto in the office of the secretary of state. The certificate of amendment shall set forth:

(1) the name of the limited partnership;

(2) the date of filing the certificate; and

(3) the amendment to the certificate.

(b) Within thirty days after the happening of any of the following events, an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership reflecting the occurrence of the event or events shall be filed:

(1) a change in the amount or character of the contribution of any partner, or in any partner's obligation to make a contribution;

(2) the admission of a new partner;

(3) the withdrawal of a partner; or

(4) the continuation of the business under section forty-four after an event of withdrawal of a general partner.

(c) A general partner who becomes aware that any statement in a certificate of limited partnership was false when made or that any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the certificate inaccurate in any respect, shall promptly amend the certificate, but an amendment to show a change of address of a limited partner need be filed only once every twelve months.

(d) A certificate of limited partnership may be amended at any time for any other proper purpose the general partners determine.

(e) No person has any liability because an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership has not been filed to reflect the occurrence of any event referred to in subsection (b) if the amendment is filed within the thirty-day period specified in subsection (b).

Section 10. A certificate of limited partnership shall be cancelled upon the dissolution and the commencement of winding up of the partnership or at any other time there are no limited partners. A certificate of cancellation shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and set forth:

(1) the name of the limited partnership;

(2) the date of filing of its certificate of limited partnership;

(3) the reason for filing the certificate of cancellation;

(4) the effective date, which shall be a date certain, of cancellation if it is not to be effective upon the filing of the certificate; and

(5) any other information the general partners filing the certificate determine.

Section 11. (a) Each certificate required by sections eight to sixteen, inclusive, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be executed in the following manner:

(1) an original certificate of limited partnership must be signed by all partners named therein;

(2) a certificate of amendment must be signed by at least one general partner and by each other partner designated in the certificate as a new partner or whose contribution is described as having been increased; and

(3) a certificate of cancellation must be signed by all general partners;

(b) Any person may sign a certificate by an attorney-in-fact, but a power of attorney to sign a certificate relating to the admission, or increased contribution, of a partner must specifically describe the admission or increase.

(c) The execution of a certificate by a general partner constitutes an affirmation under the penalties of perjury that the facts stated therein are true.

Section 12. If a person required by section eleven to execute a certificate of amendment or cancellation fails or refuses to do so, any other partner, and any assignee of a partnership interest, who is adversely affected by the failure or refusal, may petition the superior court department of the trial court to direct the amendment or cancellation. If the court finds that the amendment or cancellation is proper and that any person so designated has failed or refused to execute the certificate, it shall order the secretary of state to record an appropriate certificate of amendment or cancellation.

Section 13. (a) Two signed copies of the certificate of limited partnership and of any certificates of amendment or cancellation, or of any judicial decree of amendment or cancellation, shall be delivered to the secretary of state. A person who executes a certificate as an agent or fiduciary need not exhibit evidence of his authority as a prerequisite to filing. Unless the secretary of state finds that any certificate does not conform to law, upon receipt of all filing fees required by law he shall:

(1) endorse on each duplicate original the word "filed" and the day, month and year of the filing thereof;

(2) file one duplicate original in his office; and

(3) return the other duplicate original to the person who filed it or his representative.

(b) Upon the filing of a certificate of amendment, or judicial decree of amendment, in the office of the secretary of state, the certificate of limited partnership shall be amended as set forth therein, and upon the effective date of a certificate of cancellation, or a judicial decree thereof, the certificate of limited partnership is cancelled.

Section 14. If any certificate of limited partnership or certificate of amendment or cancellation contains a false statement, one who suffers loss by reliance on the statement may recover damages for the loss from:

(1) any person who executes the certificate, or causes another to execute it on his behalf, and knew, and any general partner who knew or should have known, the statement to be false at the time the certificate was executed; and

(2) any general partner who thereafter knows or should have known that any arrangement or other fact described in the certificate has changed, making the statement inaccurate in any respect within a sufficient time before the statement was relied upon reasonably to have enabled that general partner to cancel or amend the certificate, or to file a petition for its cancellation or amendment under section twelve.

Section 15. The fact that a certificate of limited partnership is on file in the office of the secretary of state is notice that the partnership is a limited partnership and the persons designated therein as limited partners are limited partners, but it is not notice of any other fact.

Section 16. Upon the return by the secretary of state pursuant to section thirteen of a certificate marked "filed", the general partners shall promptly deliver or mail a copy of the certificate of limited partnership and each certificate to each limited partner unless the partnership agreement provides otherwise.

LIMITED PARTNERS.

Section 17. (a) After the filing of a limited partnership's original certificate of limited partnership, a person may be admitted as an additional limited partner:

(1) in the case of a person acquiring a partnership interest directly from the limited partnership, upon the compliance with the partnership agreement or, if the partnership agreement does not so provide, upon the written consent of all partners; and

(2) in the case of an assignee of a partnership interest of a partner who has the power, as provided in section forty-two, to grant the assignee the right to become a limited partner, upon the exercise of that power and compliance with any conditions limiting the grant or exercise of the power.

(b) In each case under subsection (a), the person acquiring the partnership interest becomes a limited partner only upon amendment of the certificate of limited partnership reflecting that fact.

Section 18. Subject to section nineteen, the partnership agreement may grant to all or a specified group of the limited partners the right to vote, on a per capita or other basis, upon any matter.

Section 19. (a) Except as provided in subsection (d), a limited partner is not liable for the obligations of a limited partnership unless he is also a general partner or, in addition to the exercise of his rights and powers as a limited partner, he takes part in the control of the business; provided, however, that if the limited partner's participation in the control of the business is not substantially the same as the exercise of the powers of a general partner, he is liable only to persons who transact business with the limited partnership with actual knowledge of his participation in control.

(b) A limited partner shall not participate in the control of the business within the meaning of subsection (a) solely by doing one or more of the following:

(1) being a contractor for or an agent or employee of the limited partnership or of a general partner;

(2) consulting with and advising a general partner with respect to the business of the limited partnership;

(3) acting as surety for the limited partnership;

(4) approving or disapproving an amendment to the partnership agreement; or

(5) voting on one or more of the following matters:

(i) the dissolution and winding up of the limited partnership;

(ii) the sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, pledge, or other transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the limited partnership other than in the ordinary course of its business;

(iii) the incurrence of indebtedness by the limited partnership other than in the ordinary course of its business;

(iv) a change in the nature of the business; or

(v) the removal of a general partner.

(c) The enumeration in subsection (b) shall not mean that the possession or exercise of any other powers by a limited partner constitutes participation by him in the control of the business of the limited partnership.

(d) A limited partner who knowingly permits his name to be used in the name of the limited partnership, except under circumstances permitted by subclause (i) of clause (2) of section two, is liable to creditors who extend credit to the limited partnership without actual knowledge that the limited partner is not a general partner.

Section 20. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), a person who makes a contribution to a business enterprise and erroneously but in good faith believes that he has become a limited partner in the enterprise is not a general partner in the enterprise and is not bound by its obligations by reason of making the contribution, receiving distributions from the enterprise, or exercising any rights of a limited partner, if, on ascertaining the mistake, he:

(1) causes an appropriate certificate of limited partnership or a certificate of amendment to be executed and filed; or

(2) withdraws from future equity participation in the enterprise.

(b) A person who makes a contribution of the kind described in subsection (a) is liable as a general partner to any third party who transacts business with the enterprise (i) before the person withdraws and an appropriate certificate is filed to show withdrawal, or (ii) before an appropriate certificate is filed to show his status as a limited partner and, in the case of an amendment, after expiration of the thirty-day period for filing an amendment relating to the person as a limited partner under section nine, but in either case only if the third party actually believed in good faith that the person was a general partner at the time of the transaction.

Section 21. Each limited partner has the right to:

(1) inspect and copy any of the partnership records required to be maintained by section five, and

(2) obtain from the general partners from time to time upon reasonable demand (i) true and full information regarding the state of the business and financial condition of the limited partnership, (ii) promptly after becoming available, a copy of the limited partnership's federal, state and local income tax returns for each year, and (iii) other information regarding the affairs of the limited partnership as is just and reasonable.

GENERAL PARTNERS.

Section 22. After the filing of a limited partnership's original certificate of limited partnership, additional general partners may be admitted only with the specific written consent of each partner or, if otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, with the specific written consent of each general partner and of limited partners representing at least two-thirds in interest of the limited partners.

Section 23. Except as approved by the specific written consent of all partners at the time, a person ceases to be a general partner of a limited partnership upon the happening of any of the following events:

(1) the general partner withdraws from the limited partnership as provided in section thirty-two;

(2) the general partner ceases to be a member of the limited partnership as provided in section forty;

(3) the general partner is removed as a general partner in accordance with the partnership agreement;

(4) unless otherwise provided in the certificate of limited partnership, the general partner: (i) makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors; (ii) files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy; (iii) is adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent; (iv) files a petition or answer seeking for himself any reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution or similar relief under any statute, law, or regulation; (v) files an answer or other pleading admitting or failing to contest the material allegations of a petition filed against him in any proceeding of this nature; or (vi) seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the general partner or of all or any substantial part of his properties;

(5) unless otherwise provided in the certificate of limited partnership, one hundred and twenty days after the commencement of any proceeding against the general partner seeking reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution or similar relief under any statute, law, or regulation, the proceeding has not been dismissed, or if within ninety days after the appointment without his consent or acquiescence of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the general partner or of all or any substantial part of his properties, the appointment is not vacated or stayed or within ninety days after the expiration of any such stay, the appointment is not vacated;

(6) in the case of a general partner who is a natural person:

(i) his death; or

(ii) the entry by a court of competent jurisdiction adjudicating him incompetent to manage his person or his estate;

(7) in the case of a general partner who is acting as a general partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, the termination of the trust but not merely the substitution of a new trustee;

(8) in the case of a general partner that is a separate partnership, the dissolution and commencement of winding up of the separate partnership;

(9) in the case of a general partner that is a corporation, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the corporation or the revocation of its charter; or

(10) in the case of an estate, the distribution by the fiduciary of the estate's entire interest in the partnership.

Section 24. Except as provided in this chapter, a general partner of a limited partnership is subject to the liabilities of a partner in a partnership without limited partners and, except as provided in this chapter or in the partnership agreement, has the rights and powers and is subject to the restrictions of a partner in a partnership without limited partners.

Section 25. A general partner of a limited partnership may make contributions to the partnership and share in the profits and losses of, and in distributions from, the limited partnership as a general partner. A general partner also may make contributions to and share in profits, losses, and distributions as a limited partner. A person who is both a general partner and a limited partner has the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a general partner and, except as provided in the partnership agreement, also has the powers, and is subject to the restrictions, of a limited partner to the extent of his participation in the partnership as a limited partner.

Section 26. The partnership agreement may grant to all or certain identified general partners the right to vote, on a per capita or any other basis, separately or with all or any class of the limited partners, on any matter.

FINANCE.

Section 27. The contribution of a partner may be in cash, property, or services rendered, or a promissory note or other obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services.

Section 28. (a) Except as provided in the certificate of limited partnership, a partner is obligated to the limited partnership to perform any promise to contribute cash or property or to perform services, even if he is unable to perform because of death, disability or any other reason. If a partner does not make the required contribution of property or services, he is obligated at the option of the limited partnership to contribute cash equal to that portion of the value as stated in the certificate of limited partnership of the stated contribution that has not been made.

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, the obligation of a partner to make a contribution or return money or other property paid or distributed in violation of this chapter may be compromised only by consent of all the partners. Notwithstanding the compromise, a creditor of a limited partnership who extends credit, or whose claim arises, after the filing of the certificate of limited partnership or an amendment thereto which, in either case, reflects the obligation, and before the amendment or cancellation thereof to reflect the compromise, may enforce the original obligation.

Section 29. The profits and losses of a limited partnership shall be allocated among the partners, and among classes of partners, in the manner provided in the partnership agreement. If the partnership agreement does not so provide, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of the value as stated in the certificate of limited partnership of the contributions made by each partner to the extent they have been received by the partnership and have not been returned.

Section 30. Distributions of cash or other assets of a limited partnership shall be allocated among the partners, and among classes of partners, in the manner provided in the partnership agreement. If the partnership agreement does not so provide, distributions shall be made on the basis of the value as stated in the certificate of limited partnership of the contributions made by each partner to the extent they have been received by the partnership and have not been returned.

DISTRIBUTIONS AND WITHDRAWAL.

Section 31. Except as provided in sections thirty-one to thirty-eight, inclusive, a partner is entitled to receive distributions from a limited partnership before his withdrawal from the limited partnership and before the dissolution and winding up thereof:

(1) to the extent and at the times or upon the happening of the events specified in the partnership agreement; and

(2) if any distribution constitutes a return of any part of his contribution under paragraph (c) of section thirty-eight, to the extent and at the times or upon the happening of the events specified in the certificate of limited partnership.

Section 32. A general partner may withdraw from a limited partnership at any time by giving written notice to the other partners, but if the withdrawal violates the partnership agreement, the limited partnership may recover from the withdrawing general partner damages for breach of the partnership agreement and offset the damages against the amount otherwise distributable to him.

Section 33. A limited partner may withdraw from a limited partnership at the time or upon the happening of events specified in the certificate of limited partnership and in accordance with the partnership agreement. If the certificate does not specify the time or the events upon the happening of which a limited partner may withdraw or a definite time for the dissolution and winding up of the limited partnership, a limited partner may withdraw upon not less than six months prior written notice to each general partner at his address on the books of the limited partnership at its office in the commonwealth.

Section 34. Except as provided in sections thirty-one to thirty-eight, inclusive, upon withdrawal any withdrawing partner is entitled to receive any distribution to which he is entitled under the partnership agreement and, if not otherwise provided in the agreement, he is entitled to receive, within a reasonable time after withdrawal, the fair value of his interest in the limited partnership as of the date of withdrawal based upon his right to share in distributions from the limited partnership.

Section 35. Except as provided in the certificate of limited partnership, a partner, regardless of the nature of his contribution, has no right to demand and receive any distribution from a limited partnership in any form other than cash. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner may not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind from a limited partnership to the extent that the percentage of the asset distributed to him exceeds a percentage of that asset which is equal to the percentage in which he shares in distributions from the limited partnership.

Section 36. At the time a partner becomes entitled to receive a distribution, he has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the limited partnership with respect to the distribution.

Section 37. A partner may not receive a distribution from a limited partnership to the extent that, after giving effect to the distribution, all liabilities of the limited partnership, other than liabilities to partners on account of their partnership interests, exceed the fair value of the partnership assets.

Section 38. (a) If a partner has received the return of any part of his contribution without violation of the partnership agreement or this chapter, he is liable to the limited partnership for a period of one year thereafter for the amount of the returned contribution, but only to the extent necessary to discharge the limited partnership's liabilities to creditors who extended credit to the limited partnership during the period the contribution was held by the partnership.

(b) If a partner has received the return of any part of his contribution in violation of the partnership agreement or this chapter, he is liable to the limited partnership for a period of six years thereafter for the amount of the contribution wrongfully returned.

(c) A partner receives a return of his contribution to the extent that a distribution to him reduces his share of the fair value of the net assets of the limited partnership below the value, as set forth in the certificate of limited partnership, of his contribution which has not been distributed to him.

ASSIGNMENT OF PARTNERSHIP INTERESTS.

Section 39. A partnership interest is personal property.

Section 40. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partnership interest is assignable in whole or in part. An assignment of a partnership interest shall not dissolve a limited partnership or entitle the assignee to become or to exercise any rights of a partner. An assignment entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner ceases to be a partner upon assignment of all his partnership interest.

Section 41. On application to a court of competent jurisdiction by any judgment creditor of a partner, the court may charge the partnership interest of the partner with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment with interest. To the extent so charged, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the partnership interest. This chapter shall not deprive any partner of the benefit of any exemption laws applicable to his partnership interest.

Section 42. (a) An assignee of a partnership interest, including an assignee of a general partner, may become a limited partner if and to the extent that (1) the assignor gives the assignee that right in accordance with authority described in the certificate of limited partnership, or (2) all other partners consent.

(b) An assignee who has become a limited partner has, to the extent assigned, the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a limited partner under the partnership agreement and this chapter. An assignee who becomes a limited partner also is liable for the obligations of his assignor to make and return contributions as provided in sections thirty-one to thirty-eight, inclusive; provided, however, that the assignee is not obligated for liabilities unknown to the assignee at the time he became a limited partner and which could not be ascertained from the certificate of limited partnership.

(c) If an assignee of a partnership interest becomes a limited partner, the assignor is not released from his liability to the limited partnership under sections fourteen and twenty-eight.

Section 43. If a partner who is an individual dies or a court of competent jurisdiction adjudges him to be incompetent to manage his person or his property, the partner's executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, or other legal representative may exercise all the partner's rights for the purpose of settling his estate or administering his property, including any power the partner had to give an assignee the right to become a limited partner. If a partner is a corporation, trust, or other entity and is dissolved or terminated, the powers of that partner may be exercised by its legal representative or successor.

DISSOLUTION.

Section 44. A limited partnership is dissolved and its affairs shall be wound up upon the happening of the first to occur of the following:

(1) at the time or upon the happening of events specified in the certificate of limited partnership;

(2) written consent of all partners;

(3) an event of withdrawal of a general partner unless at the time there is at least one other general partner and the certificate of limited partnership permits the business of the limited partnership to be carried on by the remaining general partner and that partner does so, but the limited partnership is not dissolved and is not required to be wound up by reason of any event of withdrawal, if, within ninety days after the withdrawal, all partners agree in writing to continue the business of the limited partnership and to the appointment of one or more additional general partners if necessary or desired; or

(4) entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under section forty-five.

Section 45. On application by or for a partner the superior court department of the trial court may decree dissolution of a limited partnership whenever it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with the partnership agreement.

Section 46. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, the general partners who have not wrongfully dissolved a limited partnership or, if none, the limited partners, may wind up the limited partnership's affairs; provided, however, that the superior court department of the trial court may wind up the limited partnership's affairs upon application of any partner, his legal representative, or assignee.

Section 47. Upon the winding up of a limited partnership, the assets shall be distributed as follows:

(1) to creditors, including partners who are creditors, to the extent permitted by law, in satisfaction of liabilities of the limited partnership other than liabilities for distributions to partners under sections thirty-one and thirty-four;

(2) except as provided in the partnership agreement, to partners and former partners in satisfaction of liabilities for distributions under sections thirty-one and thirty-four; and

(3) except as provided in the partnership agreement, to partners (i) for the return of their contributions and (ii) respecting their partnership interests, in the proportions in which the partners share in distributions.

FOREIGN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS.

Section 48. A foreign limited partnership shall not do any business in the commonwealth which is prohibited to a limited partnership organized under this chapter. A general partner or other agent of a foreign limited partnership shall be subject to such liabilities, and shall have such defenses, with respect to such foreign limited partnership, as officers, directors and the other agents of a foreign corporation have under sections ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen and fourteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-one relative to such foreign corporation. Subject to the constitution of the commonwealth, its organization and internal affairs and the liability of its limited partners shall be governed by the laws of the state under which it is organized.

Section 49. A foreign limited partnership shall be considered to be doing business in the commonwealth for the purposes of this section if it would be considered to be doing business in the commonwealth for the purposes of chapter one hundred and eighty-one if it were a foreign corporation. Every foreign limited partnership doing business in the commonwealth shall submit to the secretary of state, within ten days after it commences doing business in the commonwealth, an application for registration as a foreign limited partnership, which shall be signed and sworn to by a general partner. The application shall be in such form as the secretary of state shall require, and shall be accompanied by a certificate of legal existence of the foreign limited partnership, issued by an officer or agency properly authorized in the jurisdiction in which the foreign limited partnership is organized, or such other evidence of legal existence as the secretary of state shall approve. If the certificate or such evidence is in a foreign language, a translation thereof, under oath of the translator, shall be attached thereto.

The application for registration shall set forth the following information:-

(1) the name of the foreign limited partnership and, if different, the name under which it proposes to do business in the commonwealth;

(2) the jurisdiction where such partnership was organized and the date of its organization;

(3) the general character of the business it proposes to do in the commonwealth;

(4) the business address of its principal office;

(5) the names, business addresses and residence addresses of its general partners;

(6) the business address of its principal office in the commonwealth, if any; and

(7) the name and business address of its resident agent.

If the foreign limited partnership's certificate of partnership from its jurisdiction of organization sets forth any part of the information required to be set forth in the application for registration in the commonwealth, the foreign limited partnership may submit a certified copy of such certificate, with a sworn translation, if necessary, in lieu of such part of the application for registration.

Section 50. The secretary of state shall examine and endorse his approval on the application for registration if the business of the foreign limited partnership is not prohibited by law to a limited partnership formed under this chapter and if the secretary of state determines that the application complies with this section. Upon such approval and payment of the required fee, the application shall be deemed to be filed with the secretary of state and the foreign limited partnership shall be deemed to be registered to do business in the commonwealth. The secretary of state shall keep such records and have such other duties with respect to foreign limited partnerships as are provided in section six of chapter one hundred and eighty-one relative to foreign corporations.

Section 51. A foreign limited partnership may register with the secretary of state and do business in the commonwealth under any name, whether or not it is the name under which it is registered in its jurisdiction of organization, that could be assumed by a limited partnership.

Section 52. Each foreign limited partnership doing business in the commonwealth shall appoint a resident agent as its true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful processes in any action or proceeding against such foreign limited partnership in the commonwealth may be served. The provisions of section forty-nine of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B relative to the appointment and qualifications of a resident agent for a corporation shall be applicable to the appointment of a resident agent pursuant to this section. A foreign limited partnership may revoke any such appointment or appoint a new resident agent, and any such resident agent may change his or its business address or resign in substantially the manner set forth in said section forty-nine; provided that each certificate required or permitted to be filed with the secretary of state by the officers of a corporation under said section forty-nine shall be signed on behalf of a foreign limited partnership by a general partner thereof, and each action required or permitted to be taken by the directors of a corporation under said section forty-nine shall be required or permitted in the manner provided in the foreign limited partnership's governing instrument. Compliance with this section shall be deemed compliance with the provisions of section five of chapter two hundred and twenty-seven.

Section 53. If any statement in the application for registration of a foreign limited partnership was false when made or any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the application inaccurate in any respect, the foreign limited partnership shall promptly file in the office of the secretary of state a certificate, signed and sworn to by a general partner, correcting such statement.

Section 54. The registration of a foreign limited partnership doing business in the commonwealth shall be cancelled or amended in the manner and at such times as are provided in section ten except that the cancellation or amendment shall be signed by a general partner. A foreign limited partnership doing business in this commonwealth may withdraw from the commonwealth by submitting to the secretary of state a certificate of withdrawal, in such form as the secretary of state shall require, signed and sworn to by a general partner, stating:

(1) the name of the foreign limited partnership and, if different, the name under which it is registered and doing business in the commonwealth;

(2) the business address of its principal office;
(3) the business address of its principal office in the commonwealth, if any, and the name and business address of its resident agent in the commonwealth;
(4) that the foreign limited partnership is not doing business in the commonwealth; and
(5) that all taxes and fees owed the commonwealth have been paid or provided for.

The secretary of state shall examine and endorse his approval on the certificate of withdrawal if he determines that the certificate complies with this section. Upon such approval and payment of the required fee, the certificate of withdrawal shall be deemed to be filed with the secretary of state.

Section 55. (a) A foreign limited partnership doing business in the commonwealth which fails to register with the secretary of state shall, for each year that such failure shall continue, be fined not more than five hundred dollars. No such failure shall affect the validity of any contract involving the foreign limited partnership, nor is a limited partner of a foreign limited partnership liable as a general partner thereof solely by reason of such failure, but no action shall be maintained or recovery had by the foreign limited partnership in any of the courts of the commonwealth as long as such failure continues. Fines provided for under this section shall be recovered as provided under section nine of chapter one hundred and eighty-one.

(b) Foreign limited partnership shall be liable to be sued and to have their property attached in the same manner and to the same extent as individuals who are residents of other jurisdictions. Every foreign limited partnership doing business in the commonwealth without having registered as prescribed in this section, and every foreign limited partnership which shall have withdrawn from the commonwealth shall be deemed to have appointed the secretary of state and his successor in office to be its true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceeding in the commonwealth may be served, in the manner set forth in section fourteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-one relative to foreign corporations.

DERIVATIVE ACTIONS.

Section 56. A limited partner may bring an action in the right of a limited partnership to recover a judgment in its favor if general partners with authority to do so have refused to bring the action or if an effort to cause those general partners to bring the action is not likely to succeed.

Section 57. In a derivative action, the plaintiff must be a partner at the time of bringing the action and (1) at the time of the transaction of which he complains or (2) his status as a partner had devolved upon him by operation of law or pursuant to the terms of the partnership agreement from a person who was a partner at the time of the transaction.

Section 58. In a derivative action, the complaint shall set forth with particularity the effort of the plaintiff to secure initiation of the action by a general partner or the reasons for not making the effort.

Section 59. If a derivative action is successful, in whole or in part, or if anything is received by the plaintiff as a result of a judgment, compromise or settlement of an action or claim, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, and shall direct him to remit to the limited partnership the remainder of those proceeds received by him.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Section 60. This chapter shall apply and be construed to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of this chapter among states enacting it.

Section 61. The fee for filing in the office of the secretary of state of any original certificate of limited partnership or application for registration as a foreign limited partnership shall be one hundred and fifty dollars. The fee for filing a certificate of amendment, cancellation or withdrawal shall be seventy-five dollars. The fee for the reservation of a name or the extension of a reservation shall be ten dollars.

Section 62. In any case not provided for in this chapter, the provisions of the Uniform Partnership Act as provided in chapter one hundred and eight A shall control.

SECTION 2. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SECTION 3. Sections twenty-seven, twenty-eight and thirty-eight shall apply only to contributions and distributions made on or after the effective date of this act and section forty-two shall apply only to assignments made on or after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

Approved June 30, 1982.

EMERGENCY LETTER - July 30, 1982 @ 3:00 P.M.

Chap. 203. AN ACT RELATIVE TO LEAVES WITHOUT LOSS OF PAY FOR CERTAIN INCAPACITATED EMERGENCY MEDICAL TECHNICIANS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 41 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 111L the following section:-

Section 111M. In any city or town which accepts this section, an employee of a city or town or fire or water district who is responsible for delivering emergency medical services under the provisions of chapter one hundred and eleven C, and who is incapacitated for duty because of injury sustained in the performance of his duty without fault of his own shall be granted leave without loss of pay for the period of such incapacity; provided, that no such leave shall be granted for any period after such emergency medical personnel has been retired or pensioned in accordance with law or for any period after a physician designated by the board or personnel authorized to appoint emergency medical personnel in such city, town or district determines that such incapacity no longer exists. All amounts payable under this section shall be paid at the time and in the same manner as, and for all purposes shall be deemed to be, the regular compensation of such emergency medical personnel. This section shall also apply to any such employee who is subject to the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-two if he is injured while delivering emergency medical services and if he waives the provisions of said chapter.

Where the injury causing the incapacity of an emergency medical personnel for which he is granted a leave without loss of pay and is paid compensation in accordance with the provisions of this section, was caused under circumstances creating legal liability in some person to pay damages in respect thereof, either the person so injured or the city, town or fire or water district paying such compensation may proceed to enforce the liability of such person in any court of competent jurisdiction. The sum recovered shall be for the benefit of the city, town or fire or water district paying such compensation, unless the sum is greater than the compensation paid to that person so injured.

For the purposes of this section, "excess" shall mean the amount by which the total sum received in payment for the injury, exclusive of interest and costs, exceeds the amount paid under this section as compensation to the person so injured. The party bringing the action shall be entitled to any costs recovered by him. Any interest received in such action shall be apportioned between the city, town, or fire or water district and the person so injured in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively, inclusive of interest and costs. The expense of any attorney's fees shall be divided between the city, town, or fire or water district and the person so injured in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively.

Whoever intentionally or negligently injures an emergency medical personnel for which he is granted a leave without loss of pay and is paid compensation in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be liable in tort to the city, town or fire or water district paying such compensation for all costs incurred by such city, town, or fire or water district in replacing such injured emergency medical personnel which are in excess of the amount of compensation paid.

Approved June 30, 1982.

Chap. 204. AN ACT DESIGNATING A CERTAIN BRIDGE TO BE CONSTRUCTED OVER THE MERRIMACK RIVER IN THE CITY OF LOWELL AS THE ROURKE BRIDGE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The temporary bridge over the Merrimack river in the city of Lowell extending from the intersection of Middlesex and Wood streets on the southerly side of said river to Pawtucket boulevard just west of Townsend avenue on the northerly side of said river, and, when completed, the permanent bridge over said river in said city, shall be designated and known as the Rourke Bridge, in recognition of the numerous and outstanding contributions made to the commonwealth and the Lowell area by Raymond F. Rourke and Timothy M. Rourke. The department of public works shall erect a suitable marker bearing said designation in compliance with standards of said department, and as authorized by the federal highway administration.

Approved June 30, 1982.

Chap. 205. AN ACT INCREASING THE AMOUNT OF MONEY THE TOWN OF BELCHERTOWN MAY BORROW TO INSTALL WATER MAINS IN THE WATER DISTRICT WITHIN SAID TOWN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 258 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by striking out section 2 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 2. For the purpose aforesaid, the town of Belchertown may appropriate the sum of one hundred and two thousand dollars. To meet said appropriations the town treasurer of said town with the approval of the board of selectmen of said town, may borrow an amount not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of one hundred and five thousand dollars and may issue bonds or notes therefor, which shall bear on their face the words, Town of Belchertown Water District Program, Act of 1981, each issue of such bonds or notes to mature in not more than fifteen years from its date, provided that the amount of such bonds or notes actually issued shall be reduced by the amount of any federal or state grants that may be received for such purpose prior to sale of such bonds or notes, and that said board of selectmen be authorized to apply for, accept and extend any such federal or state grants that may be available for the purposes stated above.

SECTION 2. Any action taken by the town of Belchertown pursuant to section one is hereby validated, confirmed and is effective as though said section one was in effect at the time such action was taken.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 206. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF WAREHAM TO PAY A CERTAIN SUM OF MONEY TO CERTAIN EMPLOYEES OF THE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT OF SAID TOWN FOR SERVICES RENDERED IN PRIOR FISCAL YEARS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the town of Wareham is hereby authorized to appropriate money for the payment of, and after such appropriation, the treasurer of said town is hereby authorized to pay to Gregory K. Ouellette, Renelle LeBlanc, Diane McNab and Deborah Parkinson, employees of the school department of said town, a sum not to exceed one thousand two hundred sixty-three dollars and ninety-three cents in the aggregate for services rendered in fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty and nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 2. No bill shall be approved by the town accountant of said town or paid by the treasurer thereof under authority of this act unless and until a certificate has been signed and filed with said town accountant stating under penalties of perjury that the services for which said bill was submitted were ordered by an official or an employee of said town and that such services were rendered to said town.

SECTION 3. Any action taken pursuant to section one is hereby validated, confirmed and is effective as though this act was in effect at the time of the posting of the warrant of the annual town meeting of the town of Wareham held on April twenty-sixth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 207. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE TIME LIMITS FOR THE OPERATION OF THE GAME COMMONLY CALLED BEANO.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide for a change in the time limits for the game commonly called beano, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 38 of chapter 10 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the fourth paragraph, as amended by section 1 of chapter 944 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Each license shall limit the playing of such game to the hours between six o'clock post meridian and twelve o'clock midnight, except that on Sunday the playing of said game shall be limited to a five-hour period between one o'clock post meridian and twelve o'clock midnight. Each such organization licensed hereunder shall be limited to conducting such game to one day in each calendar week and said day shall be set forth in the license.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 208. AN ACT VALIDATING THE PROCEEDINGS AT THE ELECTION SESSION OF THE ANNUAL TOWN MEETING OF THE TOWN OF DOUGLAS HELD ON MAY ELEVENTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-TWO.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. All acts and proceedings of the town of Douglas at its election session of the annual town meeting held on May eleventh, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, and all actions subsequently taken pursuant thereto are hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed to the same extent as if there were no defects or errors in the publication of the warrant.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 209. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE BLACKSTONE-MILLVILLE REGIONAL SCHOOL DISTRICT TO HOLD ANNUAL DISTRICT WIDE ELECTIONS WITH RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS AND VALIDATING CERTAIN PROCEEDINGS TAKEN IN SAID DISTRICT AND IN THE MEMBER TOWNS OF BLACKSTONE AND MILLVILLE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The Blackstone-Millville regional school district, consisting of the member towns of Blackstone and Millville, may, by amendment to its regional school district agreement, provide that the members of its regional district school committee may be elected from the district at an annual district wide election called by said district. Said amendment may provide for residency requirements relating to the composition of the regional district school committee. Said amendment may also provide for the duties to be performed by the secretary and other officials of said district and by the clerks, registrars of voters and other officials of said member towns with respect to the annual district wide election, which duties may be the same as, or similar to, the duties performed for town elections. Said amendment may further provide for the annual district wide election to be combined with and held at the same time and place as the annual town election in all of the member towns and such annual town election shall be held on the same date as the annual district wide election.

SECTION 2. The amendments to its regional school district agreement proposed by the regional district school committee by the vote passed on April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two containing provisions authorized by section one and other provisions are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed.

SECTION 3. The proceedings taken by the regional district school committee of said district on April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and at town meetings held in the town of Blackstone on April twenty-fourth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and in the town of Millville on April twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, at which said amendments were considered, are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed in all respects and as though this act had been in full force and effect at the time of said proceedings.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 210. AN ACT VALIDATING AND CONFIRMING THE PROCEEDINGS AT ANNUAL TOWN MEETINGS OF THE TOWN OF WINTHROP IN THE YEARS NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY AND NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-ONE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. All actions taken by the town of Winthrop at its annual town meetings held April twenty-eight, May first and May fifth, nineteen hundred and eighty, and April twenty-seventh,

April thirtieth and May fourth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, and all actions taken subsequently pursuant thereto are hereby validated and confirmed notwithstanding that, due to a printing omission, the warrants for said annual town meetings failed to state the place for holdings of said meetings.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 211. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF HOLYOKE TO SELL, ASSIGN OR TRANSFER ITS SHARES OF THE CAPITAL OR OTHER STOCK OF THE HOLYOKE AND WESTFIELD RAILROAD COMPANY TO THE PENN CENTRAL CORPORATION.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary the city of Holyoke is hereby authorized to sell, assign or transfer its shares of the capital or other stock of the Holyoke and Westfield Railroad Company to The Penn Central Corporation or its assignee.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 212. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS THROUGH THE MASSACHUSETTS COLLEGE SYSTEM AND UNIVERSITIES FOR ANY LEGISLATIVE AGENT OR ORGANIZATION ATTEMPTING TO INFLUENCE LEGISLATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 15A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 18. (a) As used in this chapter and in chapters seventy-three, seventy-five, seventy-five A, and seventy-five B, the following words shall have the following meanings:

"Waivable fee", any amount payable on a student tuition bill, but not a mandatory charge, appearing as a separately assesed item, accompanied by a statement as to the nature of said item and that said item is not a charge required to be paid by the student but rather the student may deduct said charge from the total amount due, and that said item appears on the bill at the request of the student body and does not necessarily reflect the endorsement of the board of trustees.

"Student organization", any organization of students at public postsecondary educational institutions which is open to membership of all students who pay the waivable fee and is controlled by its student members.

"Nonpartisan", as applied to student organizations not endorsing or adhering to particular ideological or religious positions in the articles of incorporation, charter, constitution, or by-laws.

"Official student referendum", a referendum vote of the student body which is sanctioned by the college-recognized student governmental association and certified by said student government association as valid.

(b) Nonmandatory student fees to nonpartisan student organizations which employ legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of chapter three, or to nonpartisan student organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three, shall be paid on student tuition bills by a waivable fee whenever students have authorized said fee by a majority vote of those students voting in an official student referendum. The continuation of said waivable fee on the student tuition bill may be subject to reauthorization by an official student referendum every two years. Necessary administrative costs arising in connection with the collection of said fee may be billed by the board of trustees to the student organization at the time of the transfer of funds collected to said student organizations.

(c) The boards of trustees shall not allow any funds for legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of said chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three to be assessed on student tuition bills; provided, however, that waivable fees for nonpartisan student organizations which employ said legislative agents or attempt to influence legislation shall be collected by the boards of trustees whenever students have authorized a waivable fee by a majority vote of those students voting in an official student referendum. Said waivable fees shall be collected as provided in paragraph (b).

(d) No funds collected as a mandatory student activities fee shall be paid to legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of said chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three.

(e) As used in this section, the term "legislative agent" or "organization attempting to influence legislation" shall not include any official representative of the student body.

SECTION 2. Chapter 73 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 1E the following section:-

Section 1F. The board of trustees shall not allow any funds for legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three to be assessed on student tuition bills; provided, however, that waivable fees for nonpartisan student organizations which employ said legislative agents or attempt to influence legislation shall be collected by the boards of trustees whenever students have authorized a waivable fee by a majority vote of those students voting in an official student referendum. Said waivable fee shall be collected as provided in paragraph (b) of section eighteen of chapter fifteen A.

No funds collected as a mandatory student activities fee shall be paid to legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of said chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three. As used in this section, the term "legislative agent" or "organization attempting to influence legislation" shall not include any official representative of the student body.

SECTION 3. Chapter 75 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 11 the following section:-

Section 11A. The board of trustees shall not allow any funds for legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three to be assessed on student tuition bills; provided, however, that waivable fees for nonpartisan student organizations which employ said legislative agents or attempt to influence legislation shall be collected by the boards of trustees whenever students have authorized a waivable fee by a majority vote of those students voting in an official student referendum. Said waivable fees shall be collected as provided in paragraph (b) of section eighteen of chapter fifteen A.

No funds collected as a mandatory student activities fee shall be paid to legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of said chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three. As used in this section, the term "legislative agent" or "organization attempting to influence legislation" shall not include any official representative of the student body.

SECTION 4. Chapter 75A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 24. The board of trustees shall not allow any funds for legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three to be assessed on student tuition bills; provided, however, that waivable fees for nonpartisan student organizations which employ said legislative agents or attempt to influence legislation shall be collected by the boards of trustees whenever students have authorized a waivable fee by a majority vote of those students voting in an official student referendum. Said waivable fees shall be collected as provided in paragraph (b) of section eighteen of chapter fifteen A.

No funds collected as a mandatory student activities fee shall be paid to legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of said chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three. As used in this section, the term "legislative agent" or "organization attempting to influence legislation" shall not include any official representative of the student body.

SECTION 5. Chapter 75B of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 18. The board of trustees shall not allow any funds for legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three to be assessed on student tuition bills; provided, however, that waivable fees for nonpartisan student organizations which employ said legislative agents or attempt to influence legislation shall be collected by the boards of trustees whenever students have authorized a waivable fee by a majority vote of those students voting in an official student referendum. Said waivable fees shall be collected as provided in paragraph (b) of section eighteen of chapter fifteen A.

No funds collected as a mandatory student activities fee shall be paid to legislative agents as defined in section thirty-nine of said chapter three or organizations attempting to influence legislation as defined in section forty-four of said chapter three. As used in this section, the term "legislative agent" or "organization attempting to influence legislation" shall not include any official representative of the student body.

SECTION 6. A vote of the student body of any state college or university to which this act is applicable, taken prior to the effective date of this act, which approved the collection of any fee referred to in this act on student tuition bills, shall not be negated by the provisions of this act and is to be deemed to be a vote taken under the provisions of section eighteen of chapter fifteen A of the General Laws so long as the collection of said fee is otherwise in compliance with the provisions of this act. Said vote shall be deemed to be the approval of a waivable fee.

SECTION 7. This act shall take effect as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 213. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE AUTHORITY OF BANKS TO MAKE CERTAIN INVESTMENTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 168 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 51A, inserted by chapter 363 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 51A. Such corporation may make any investment not otherwise eligible under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law, including but not limited to investment in any capital stock of a corporation organized for the purposes of acquiring and managing interests in real property and acquiring, constructing, rehabilitating, leasing, financing and disposing of housing facilities, or in any other interest in real or personal property, debt security, equity security or loan; provided that (a) no more than five per cent of the deposits of such corporation shall be invested pursuant to the provisions of this section; provided, however, that any amount in excess of three of said five per cent shall be invested by any such corporation in capital stock of a corporation organized for the purposes of acquiring, constructing, rehabilitating, leasing, financing and disposing of housing facilities; (b) no investment shall be made by such corporation in the equity securities of any one issuer pursuant to this section if the aggregate amount invested by it in the equity securities of such issuer pursuant to this section together with the amount invested in such securities pursuant to any other provision of law exceeds, or by the making of such investment will exceed, two per cent of the deposits of such corporation, and no investment shall be made by such corporation in a loan to, or in the debt securities of, any one issuer pursuant to this section, if the aggregate amount invested by it pursuant to this section together with the amount invested in a loan to, or in the debt securities of, such issuer pursuant to any other provision of law exceeds two per cent of the deposits of such corporation; (c) any loan made or debt security purchased pursuant to this section shall be secured over the term of the loan or the debt security; (d) this section shall not be deemed to alter any provision of this chapter or other provision of law limiting the aggregate amount that may be invested in any class of loan or investment; and (e) investments authorized solely by this section shall not be deemed investments in which savings banks may legally invest for the purposes of any other provision of law which restricts investments to those in which savings banks may legally invest.

SECTION 2. Section 48 of chapter 172 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out clause 20, as amended by chapter 627 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

20. To make any investment not otherwise eligible under any other provision of this chapter or any other provision of law, including but not limited to investment in any capital stock of a corporation organized for the purposes of acquiring and managing interests in real property and acquiring, constructing, rehabilitating, leasing, financing and disposing of housing facilities, or in any other interest in real or personal property, debt security, equity security or loan; provided that (a) no more than five per cent of the deposits of such corporation shall be invested pursuant to the provisions of this section; provided, however, that any amount in excess of three of said five per cent shall be invested by any such corporation in capital stock of a corporation organized for the purposes of acquiring, constructing, rehabilitating, leasing, financing and disposing of housing facilities; (b) no investment shall be made by such corporation in the equity securities of any one issuer pursuant to this section if the aggregate amount invested by it in the equity securities of such issuer pursuant to this section, together with the amount invested in such securities pursuant to any other provision of law exceeds, or by the making of such investment will exceed, two per cent of the deposits of such corporation, and no investment shall be made by such corporation in a loan to, or in the debt securities of, any one issuer pursuant to this section, if the aggregate amount invested by it pursuant to this section together with the amount invested in a loan to, or in the debt securities of, such issuer pursuant to any other provision of law exceeds two per cent of the deposits of such corporation; (c) any loan made or debt security purchased pursuant to this section shall be secured over the term of the loan or the debt security; (d) this section shall not be deemed to alter any provision of this chapter or other provision of law limiting the aggregate amount that may be invested in any class of loan or investment; and (e) investments authorized solely by this section shall not be deemed investments in which banks may legally invest for the purposes of any other provision of law which restricts investments to those in which banks may legally invest.

Approved July 1, 1982.

Chap. 214. AN ACT AUTHORIZING PLYMOUTH COUNTY TO PAY A CERTAIN SUM OF MONEY TO THE LIBERTY PRINTING CO., INC.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chap. 237. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF RENT REGULATIONS AND THE CONTROL OF EVICTIONS IN MOBILE HOME PARK ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE TOWN OF CHELMSFORD.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of this act, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Rent board" and "Board", shall mean the mobile home park rent control board as established by this act.

"Mobile home", shall mean a dwelling unit built on a chassis and containing complete electrical, plumbing and sanitary facilities, and designed to be installed on a temporary or a permanent foundation for permanent living quarters.

"Mobile home park", shall mean a park licensed by the board of health pursuant to section thirty-two B of chapter one hundred and forty of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. The town of Chelmsford may, by adoption of by-laws, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said town, establish a rent control board for the purpose of regulating rents, minimum standards for use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and eviction of tenants therefrom and may, by its by-laws, require information under penalties of perjury from said mobile park owners relative to their parks. Such rents, standards and evictions may be regulated by the rent board so as to remove hardships or correct inequities for both the owner and the tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Said rent board shall consist of five residents of Chelmsford appointed by a majority vote of the selectmen for terms established by by-law. Said rent board may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to perform its functions. The board may sue and be sued, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers and information, and issue appropriate orders which shall be binding on both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Violations of any by-laws adopted pursuant to this act or any order of said rent board shall be punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for any one offense.

SECTION 3. In regulating rents, for such mobile home park accommodations, the rent board established under section two may make such individual or general adjustments, either upward or downward, as may be necessary to assure that rents for mobile home park accommodations in said town are established at levels which yield to owners a fair net operating income for such units. Fair net operating income shall be that income which yields a return, after all reasonable operating expenses, on the fair market value of the property equal to the debt service rate generally available from institutional first mortgage lenders or such other rates of return as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

The rent board by regulation may establish further standards and rules consistent with this act.

SECTION 4. The initial maximum rent of a mobile home lot or unit shall be that rent in effect for that lot or unit as of June fourteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one; provided, however, that the initial maximum rent may be subsequently adjusted by the board under the provisions of section three.

SECTION 5. The provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be applicable to the rent board, as if the rent board were an agency of the commonwealth.

SECTION 6. The rent board may regulate the eviction of tenants at mobile home parks and may issue orders which shall be a defense to an action of summary process for possession.

SECTION 7. The Lowell division of the district court department shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with the superior court, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act and any by-laws adopted thereunder and may restrain by injunction violations thereof.

SECTION 8. If any provision of this act or the application of such provision to any person or circumstances shall be held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 9. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 3, 1982.

SECTION 16. Notwithstanding the provisions of section forty G of chapter seven, section eight A of chapter twenty-nine, section forty-four A of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws or of any other general or special law to the contrary, a payment in the amount of twelve thousand eight hundred dollars for obligations of the department of social services shall be allowed and paid from federal account number 4899-0001; provided further however that as a condition precedent to said payment, the department of social services shall execute for the property on which such improvements were made, a lease for a period of no less than three years from the effective date of this act.

SECTION 17. For the purpose of discharging a moral obligation of the commonwealth there be allowed and paid out of the state treasury, subject to appropriation, to John P. Vallillo, the sum of five thousand dollars as compensation for land which was taken from him, but for which compensation was erroneously paid to another individual.

SECTION 18. For the purpose of discharging a moral obligation of the commonwealth there be allowed and paid out of the state treasury, subject to appropriation, to Mr. Francis M. Bashara, the sum of one hundred and ninety dollars, for sales and use tax assessed on an automobile which was voluntarily repossessed.

SECTION 19. For the purpose of discharging a moral obligation, there shall be paid out of the treasury of the commonwealth the sum of eight thousand five hundred dollars to Richard Fargnoli of the town of Framingham for reimbursement for legal fees incurred and paid by him in his defense of acts relating to his position as financial director of the Walter E. Fernald state school. No payment shall be paid by the treasurer of the commonwealth under authority of this act unless and until a certificate has been signed and filed with the state treasurer stating under penalties of perjury that the legal fees referred to in this section were incurred and paid by said Richard Fargnoli. Any person who knowingly files a certificate required by this section, which is false and who thereby receives reimbursement for said legal fees not actually paid by said Richard Fargnoli, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 20. Section 2 of chapter 604 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:- The department of public utilities is hereby further authorized to expend said funds in the conduct of said audit to be performed by department staff or by consultants hired by said department.

SECTION 21. The surplus property agency established by section twenty-one A of chapter eight hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one and administratively assigned to the purchasing agent, is hereby authorized to expend during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three for the purposes of the surplus property agency fund, in addition to amounts available in said fund, an amount not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars; provided, however, that no expenditure or commitment shall be incurred from the amount of the aforesaid one hundred thousand dollar authorization in excess of amounts approved therefrom by the commissioner of administration, at the written request of the surplus property agency; and provided, further, that any amounts expended or commitments incurred under this authorization shall be paid, or provided for, from receipts of said surplus property agency fund prior to the close of the fiscal year.

SECTION 22. A special commission is hereby established for the purpose of making an investigation and study to determine the extent and nature of alcohol and other drug misuse and abuse in the commonwealth's primary and secondary school systems and for the purpose of meeting the commonwealth's need for effective, credible and high quality alcohol and drug abuse education, with a view to reducing alcohol and drug abuse both in the public schools and throughout the commonwealth; and to investigate and study such other matters as may be necessary to accomplish the aforesaid purposes of this legislation.

The commission shall consist of four members of the senate, seven members of the house of representatives, the commissioner of education or his designee, the director of the division of alcoholism within the department of public health or his designee, the director of the division of drug rehabilitation within the department of public health or his designee, and seven persons to be appointed by the governor, of whom one shall be a member of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees; one a member of the Massachusetts Teachers Association; one a member of the Massachusetts Federation of Teachers, AFT, AFL-CIO; one a member of the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents; one a member of the Massachusetts Parent-Student-Teacher Association; one a parent of a child in school; and one a student attending school.

Said commission may travel within the commonwealth and may take testimony under oath. The commission shall file reports from time to time containing the results of its investigation and study, and its recommendations, if any for legislation together with drafts of such legislation, and shall file with the clerk of the house of representatives and the clerk of the senate a final report not later than the fourth Wednesday in January, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

SECTION 23. Notwithstanding any provisions of sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws, a salary differential may be paid to patient care related, non-unit employees on evening or night or weekend tours of duty at the University of Massachusetts at Worcester.

SECTION 24. Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-nine A of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws or of any other general or special law to the contrary, a payment in the amount of three thousand seven hundred and twenty-five dollars and seventy-five cents as compensation for contract services during the period from October second, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, shall be allowed and paid from account number 0340-0100.

SECTION 25. Notwithstanding the provisions of section seventeen B of chapter ten of the General Laws or any general or special law to the contrary, the department of youth services is hereby authorized to expend during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three for the purpose of providing bonds in the amount of one hundred dollars to deserving youths such sums in item 4202-0605 which are credited as interest on the Mary Dorothea Deveraux Character Award Bond Trust, the principal of which is credited to item 4202-0604.

SECTION 26. Section 14 of chapter 808 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, professional employees (a) who were employed at Boston State College on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, and (b) who are not on said date of discontinuance employed at another public institution of higher education with the approval of the board of regents of higher education shall continue to be deemed to be employees of said board of regents until August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two or until they are offered employment at another public institution of higher education, whichever is sooner; and said board of regents are hereby authorized and directed to expend such portion of the funds appropriated by item 1599-3277 of section two as is necessary to continue the employment of said professional employees until they are all offered employment at another public institution of higher education or until August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, whichever is sooner.

SECTION 27. This act shall take effect as of June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

I disapprove item 6005-0023
The remainder of this bill I hereby approve.

Approved July 6, 1982

(The Governor having failed to transmit his reasons for disapproval of item 6005-0023 to the House of Representatives within five days after the bill was presented to him said item had the "force of law" as prescribed by the Constitution.)

Chap. 242. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE CORPORATE CHARTER OF ROGERSON HOUSE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 153 of the special acts of 1860 is hereby amended by striking out section 1, as amended by chapter 533 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 1. A corporation by the name of Rogerson House is hereby formed exclusively for charitable purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, including providing residential, recreational, health care and day care facilities for, and otherwise assisting, elderly or low income men and women.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 153 is hereby further amended by striking out section 2, as amended by chapter 599 of the acts of 1967, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 2 Said corporation may participate in any organization, association, program or undertaking serving similar purposes. Said corporation may have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to further any or all of the purposes for which it is formed, including without limitation all powers provided for by section nine of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B of the General Laws, except in clause (m) thereof, and the power to be a partner in any enterprise which it would have the power to conduct by itself; provided that no such power shall be exercised in a manner inconsistent with chapter one hundred and eighty or any other applicable statutory or common law of the commonwealth or Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 153 is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, added by chapter 216 of the acts of 1971, and inserting in place thereof the following five sections:-

Section 3. No part of the assets or net earning of the corporation shall inure to the benefit of, or be distributable to its members, officers, directors or any other private persons, except that the corporation is authorized and empowered to pay reasonable compensation for services rendered and to make payments and distributions in furtherance of its purposes as set forth above.

Section 4. No substantial part of the activities of the corporation shall be or include the carrying on of propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation or participating in or intervening in (including the publishing or distributing of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office.

Section 5. The corporation shall distribute its income for each taxable year at such time and in such manner as not to become subject to the tax on undistributed income imposed by Section 4942 of the Internal Revenue Code. The corporation shall not engage in any act of self-dealing as defined in Section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code; nor retain any excess business holdings as defined in Section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code; nor make any investments in such manner as to incur tax liability under Section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code; nor make any taxable expenditures as defined in Section 4945(d) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Section 6. Upon the liquidation or dissolution of the corporation, after payment of all of the liabilities of the corporation or due provision therefor, all of the assets of the corporation shall be disposed of to one or more organizations exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Section 7. All references herein to provisions of the Internal Revenue Code shall be deemed to refer to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as now in force or hereafter amended, or to the corresponding provisions of any future United States Internal Revenue Law.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 6, 1982

EMERGENCY LETTER - July 8, 1982 @ 1:51 P.M.

Chap. 243. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF RENT REGULATIONS AND THE CONTROL OF EVICTIONS IN MOBILE HOME PARK ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE CITY OF NORTH ADAMS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a public emergency exists in the city of North Adams with respect to the housing of a substantial number of the citizens of said city, which emergency has been created by excessive, abnormally high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and eviction of tenants are regulated and controlled, such emergency and the further inflationary pressures resulting therefrom will produce serious threats to the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of North Adams; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the city of North Adams.

SECTION 2. The city of North Adams may, by ordinance, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in the city, establish a mobile home rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, minimum standards for use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in the city and evictions of tenants therefrom and may, by ordinance, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, under penalty of perjury, of information relating to the mobile home park accommodations. Such rents, standards and evictions may be regulated by the mobile home rent board to remove hardships or correct inequities for both the owner and the tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. It may make rules and regulations, require registration by owners of mobile home park accomodations, under penalty of perjury, of information relating to the mobile home park accomodations, sue and be sued, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers and information, and issue appropriate orders which shall be binding on both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accomodations. Violations of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this act or any order of the mobile home rent board shall be punishable of a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for any one offense.

SECTION 3. In regulating such rents, the mobile home rent board established under section two, may make such individual or general adjustments, either upward or downward, as may be necessary to assure that rents for mobile home park accomodations in the city are established at levels which yield to owners a fair net operating income for such units. Fair net operating income shall be that income which will yield a return, after all reasonable operating expenses, on the fair market value of the property equal to the debt service rate generally available from institutional first mortage lenders or such other rates of return as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

The city in its ordinance, or the mobile home rent board by regulation, may establish further standards and rules consistent with the foregoing.

SECTION 4. The provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be applicable to the mobile home rent board, established under section two, as if said mobile home rent board were an agency of the commonwealth, including those provisions giving agencies the power to issue, vacate, modify and enforce subpoenas, as well as those provisions relating to judicial review of an agency order.

SECTION 5. The district court of northern Berkshire shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with the superior court, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

The superior court shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act and and any ordinance adopted thereunder, and may restrain violations thereof.

SECTION 6. The city of North Adams may by ordinance regulate the evictions of tenants, and the mobile home rent board, established under section two, may issue orders which shall be a defense to an action of summary process for possession and such order shall be reviewable pursuant to the provisions of sections three and four.

SECTION 7. The personnel of the mobile home rent board established under section two shall not be subject to the provisions of section nine A of chapter thirty of the General Laws or chapter thirty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 8. If any provision of this act or the application of such provision to any person or circumstances shall be held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 9. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 6, 1982.

Chap. 244. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ADOPTION OF COUNTY BUDGETS BY ADVISORY BOARDS ON COUNTY EXPENDITURES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 806 of the acts of 1981 is hereby amended by inserting after section 2 the following section:-

Section 2A. Said section 28B of said chapter 35, as most recently amended by said section 144 of said chapter 351, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (f) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(f) If the advisory board on county expenditures shall fail to finally adopt an expenditure resolution for the ensuing fiscal year on or before April second, the itemized budget as proposed by the county commissioners together with such changes, alterations and revisions as shall have been made by a majority vote of the advisory board on or before June first, as set forth in subsection (a), shall constitute the approved budget for the ensuing year, and the expenditure resolution shall be deemed to have been passed by the advisory board as of that date.

Chap. 255. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF HANSON TO RECALL ELECTED OFFICIALS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Any holder of an elective office in the town of Hanson may be recalled, and removed therefrom by the qualified voters of said town as herein provided.

SECTION 2. Any qualified voter of the town of Hanson may file with the town clerk of said town an affidavit containing the name of the officer sought to be recalled and a statement of the grounds of recall. Said town clerk shall thereupon deliver to the voter making such affidavit a sufficient number of copies of petition blanks demanding such recall, printed forms of which he shall keep on hand. The blanks shall be issued by the town clerk with his signature and official seal attached thereto; they shall be dated and addressed to the selectmen of said town, shall contain the name of the person to whom issued, the number of blanks so issued, the name of the person sought to be recalled, the grounds of recall as stated in said affidavit, and shall demand the election of a successor to such office. A copy of the petition shall be entered in a record book to be kept in the office of the town clerk. Said recall petition shall be returned and filed with said town clerk within twenty days after the filing of the affidavit. Said petition before being returned and filed shall be signed by ten per cent of the qualified voters from each precinct in said town and to every signature shall be added the place of residence of the signer, giving the street and number. The said recall petition shall be submitted, at or before five o'clock in the afternoon of the Monday preceding the day on which it must be filed, to the registrars of voters in said town, and the registrars shall forthwith certify thereon the number of signatures which are names of voters of said town.

SECTION 3. If the petition shall be found and certified by said town clerk to be sufficient, he shall submit the same with his certificate to said selectmen without delay and said selectmen shall forthwith give written notice to said officer of the receipt of said certificate and shall, if the officer sought to be removed does not resign within five days thereafter, thereupon order an election to be held on a date fixed by them not less than twenty-five days after the date of the town clerk's certificate that a sufficient petition is filed; provided, however, that if any other town election is to occur within sixty days after the date of said certificate, said selectmen may, in their discretion, postpone the holding of said recall election to the date of such other election. If a vacancy occurs in said office after a recall election has been so ordered, the election shall nevertheless proceed as in this section provided.

SECTION 4. Any officer sought to be recalled may be a candidate to succeed himself, and, unless he requests otherwise in writing, said town clerk shall place his name on the official ballot without nomination. The nomination of other candidates, the publication of the warrant for the recall election, and the conduct of the same, shall all be in accordance with the provisions of law relating to elections, unless otherwise provided in this act. A majority of those voting at the recall election shall be sufficient to recall such elected officer.

SECTION 5. The incumbent shall continue to perform the duties of his office until the recall election. If then re-elected, he shall continue in office for the remainder of his unexpired term, subject to recall as before, except as provided in section seven. If not re-elected in the recall election, he shall be deemed removed upon the qualification of his successor, who shall hold office during the unexpired term. If the successor fails to qualify within five days after receiving notification of his election, the incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed and the office vacant.

SECTION 6. Ballots used in a recall election in said town shall submit the following propositions in the order indicated:

For the recall of (name of officer).

Against the recall of (name of officer).

Immediately at the right of each proposition there shall be a square in which the voter by making a cross mark (X) may vote for either of such propositions. Under the proposition shall appear the word "Candidates" and the direction "Vote for one" and beneath this the names of candidates nominated as hereinbefore provided. In case of machine voting, or punch card balloting, or other forms of balloting, appropriate provision shall be made to allow the same intent of the voter.

SECTION 7. No recall petition shall be filed against an officer of said town within six months after he takes office, nor in the case of an officer subjected to a recall election and not removed thereby, until at least six months after that election.

SECTION 8. No person who has been recalled from an office in said town, or who has resigned from office while recall proceedings were pending against him, shall be appointed to any town office within two years after such removal by recall or resignation.

If a majority of the votes cast on the recall question is in the affirmative, then the candidate that received the highest number of votes in the special election to fill the vacancy shall be elected. If a majority of the votes on the question is in the negative, the ballots for candidates to fill the potential vacancy need not be counted.

EMERGENCY LETTER - July 13, 1982 @ 12:52 P.M.

Chap. 259. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE LARCENY OF CERTAIN LEASED OR RENTED PROPERTY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 266 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 87, as most recently amended by chapter 540 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 87. Any person leasing or renting personal property who, with the intent to place such property beyond the control of the owner, conceals or aids or abets the concealment of such property or any part thereof, or fails or refuses to return such property to the owner within ten days after expiration of the lease or rental agreement, or sells, conveys or pledges such property or any part thereof without the written consent of the owner, shall be guilty of larceny of leased or rented personal property.

Any person convicted of larceny of leased or rented personal property shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both. A person found guilty of violating this section shall, in all cases upon conviction in addition to any other punishment, be ordered to make restitution to the owner for any financial loss.

It shall be prima facie evidence of intent to place such property beyond the control of the owner when a person in obtaining such property presents identification or information which is materially false, fictitious, misleading or not current with respect to such person's name, address, place of employment or any other material matter or fails to return such property to the owner or his representative within ten days after proper notice to return such property. For purposes of this section proper notice shall be actual notice or a written demand sent by certified or registered mail to such person at the address given at the time of making the lease or rental agreement.

It shall be a defense to prosecution for conversion of leased or rented property that the defendant was unaware the property belonged to another or that he had a right to acquire or dispose of the property as he did.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 6, 1982.

Chap. 264. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE MASSACHUSETTS HOUSING FINANCE AGENCY AND THE MASSACHUSETTS HOME MORTGAGE FINANCE AGENCY.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to increase the availability of housing to the low and moderate income families of the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 708 of the acts of 1966 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (d), as amended by section 15 of chapter 1215 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(d) "Low income persons or families" shall mean those persons and families whose annual income is equal to or less than the maximum amount which would make them eligible for units owned or leased by the housing authority in the city or town in which the project or the residence for which the mortgage loan is sought is located or, in the event that there is no housing authority, that amount which is established as the maximum for eligibility for low-rent units by the department of community affairs.

SECTION 2. Said section 1 of said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (h), added by section 1 of chapter 643 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(h) "Moderate income persons or families" shall mean those persons or families other than low income persons or families whose annual income is less than the amount necessary to enable them to obtain and maintain decent, safe and sanitary housing without the expenditure of over twenty-five per cent of such income for housing expenses, including the provision of heat, electricity, hot water and an allowance for maintenance and repairs.

SECTION 3. Said section 1 of said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by adding the following two paragraphs:-

(j) "Mortgage lender" shall mean any bank, mortgage broker, mortgage company or mortgage banker, trust company, savings bank, credit union, national banking association, federal savings and loan association, or building and loan association maintaining an office in the commonwealth or an insurance company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth.

(k) "New residential mortgage" shall mean a loan, including a home improvement loan, made by a mortgage lender and secured by a mortgage constituting a lien upon real property or a lease of the fee of real property located in the commonwealth and improved by a residential building or unimproved if the proceeds of such loan shall be used for the purpose of erecting, acquiring or rehabilitating a residential building thereon, or for the purpose of purchasing a condominium unit or a cooperative share in a residential condominium or cooperative provided that each such mortgage loan made from the proceeds of a loan made by MHFA to such mortgage lender shall be made to an owner-occupant pursuant to paragraph (a) of section five.

SECTION 4. Section 2 of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by adding the following five paragraphs:-

It is hereby found that as a result of the continuing increases in the cost of construction or rehabilitation, municipal taxes, heating and electricity expenses, maintenance and repair expenses and the cost of land, low income persons and families and moderate income persons and families in many areas within the commonwealth, including areas which contained formerly stable neighborhoods, are unable to purchase, rehabilitate and maintain decent, safe and sanitary housing which provide an opportunity for home ownership either directly or through a condominium or cooperative form of ownership. The inability of such families to purchase and hold housing in the commonwealth results in the decline of new housing and in the decay of the existing housing stock and of existing neighborhoods with attendant increases in municipal costs for welfare, police and fire protection. The decline in new housing, together with the decay of existing housing stock, has produced a critical shortage of adequate housing in the commonwealth adversely affecting the economy of the commonwealth and the well-being of its residents. Private enterprise without the assistance contemplated by this act cannot achieve the construction or rehabilitation of any housing for persons and families of low or moderate income, and the alternative of forcing such persons or families to live in substandard housing is undesirable since it tends to decrease the interest of such persons or families in their communities, the maintenance of their property and the preservation of their neighborhoods.

A large and significant number of commonwealth residents have and will be subject to hardship in finding decent, safe and sanitary housing unless new facilities are constructed and existing housing, where appropriate, is rehabilitated. Unless the supply of housing and the ability of low income persons and families and moderate income persons and families to obtain mortgage financing is increased significantly and expeditiously, a large number of residents of the commonwealth will be compelled to live in unsanitary, overcrowded and unsafe conditions to the detriment of the health, welfare and well-being of these persons and of the whole community of which they are a part. By increasing the housing supply of the commonwealth and the ability of low income persons and families and moderate income persons and families to obtain mortgage financing, the clearance, replanning, development and redevelopment of blighted areas will be aided, and the critical shortage of adequate housing will be ameliorated.

It is hereby found that a major cause of this housing crisis is the lack of funds at interest rates which are at a level at which low and moderate income persons and families can afford to own and maintain decent, safe and sanitary housing, and further, it is hereby found that an additional major cause of such a housing crisis is the lack of funds available to finance housing by the private mortgage lending institutions of the commonwealth. It is further found that this lack of funds has frustrated the maintenance, sale and purchase of existing residences in the commonwealth.

It is hereby further found that to aid in remedying these conditions, to promote the expansion of the supply of funds at low interest rates available for new residential mortgages for low income persons and families and moderate income persons and families and thereby help alleviate the shortage of adequate housing, a corporate agency of the commonwealth shall be created with power (i) to raise funds from private investors in order to make those funds available, through mortgage lending institutions, for new residential mortgage loans to low income persons and families and moderate income persons and families, (ii) to insure such new residential mortgage loans, and (iii) to provide technical assistance to low income persons and families and moderate income persons and families desiring such new residential mortgage loans. By utilizing such powers the agency created shall help develop the financial resources available to meet such housing needs.

It is hereby further found that the authority and powers conferred under this act and the expenditure of public monies pursuant thereto constitutes a serving of a valid public purpose and that the enactment of the provisions hereinafter set forth is in the public interest and is hereby so declared to be such as a matter of determination by the general court.

SECTION 5. Section 3 of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as most recently amended by chapter 263 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The MHFA shall consist of the secretary of communities and development or his designated representative and the secretary of administration and finance or his designated representative, ex officiis, and seven persons to be appointed by the governor, of whom one shall be experienced in mortgage banking, one shall be trained in architecture or city or regional planning, one shall be experienced in real estate transactions, two shall be experienced in single-family residential development, and one shall be a representative of organized labor appointed from a list of at least five names submitted by the Massachusetts State Labor Council, AFL-CIO. Each appointive member shall be appointed for a term of seven years, except that in making his initial appointments, the governor shall appoint three members to serve for terms of three, five, and six years, respectively, as he may designate. Each appointive member shall serve until his successor is appointed and duly qualified. Any person appointed to fill a vacancy shall serve only for the unexpired term. Any member shall be eligible for reappointment.

SECTION 6. Said section 3 of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph, as amended by section 1 of chapter 709 of the acts of 1968, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The governor shall designate one of the members as chairman of the MHFA who shall serve as such chairman during his term of office as a member. The MHFA shall annually elect one of its members as vice-chairman and shall also annually elect a secretary, a treasurer and such other officers as it may determine, none of whom need be members of MHFA. The secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the MHFA and shall be custodian of all books, documents, and papers filed with the MHFA and of its minute book and seal. He shall have authority to cause to be made copies of all minutes and other records and documents of the MHFA and to give certificates under the seal of the MHFA to the effect that such copies are true copies and all persons dealing with the MHFA may rely upon such certificates. The treasurer shall be the chief financial and accounting officer of the MHFA and shall be in charge of its funds, books of account, and accounting records.

SECTION 7. Said section 3 of said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Five members of the MHFA shall constitute a quorum and the affirmative vote of five members shall be necessary for any action taken by the MHFA. No vacancy in the membership of the MHFA shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the MHFA.

SECTION 8. Section 4 of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by striking out clause (f) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(f) Acquire, hold and dispose of personal and real property for its corporate purposes.

SECTION 9. Said section 4 of said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (r) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(r) Accept gifts or grants or loans of, or act as an agent or conduit in administering the disbursement of funds or property or financial or other aid from any federal or state agency or private fund.

SECTION 10. Said section 4 of said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by adding after clause (v), added by section 9 of chapter 789 of the acts of 1981, the following clause:-

(w) Loan or grant any monies in its Working Capital Fund available to MHFA for its general purposes to the Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency to be used for its general purposes.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 4 the following section:-

Section 4A. Grant of Additional Powers. The MHFA is hereby also authorized to:

(a) Make loans to mortgage lenders under terms and conditions requiring the proceeds thereof to be used by such mortgage lenders for the making of new residential mortgages, all subject to the provisions of section five A.

(b) Provide technical assistance to potential borrowers from mortgage lenders, subject to the provision of section seven.

(c) Collect, enforce the collection of, and foreclose on any collateral securing its loans to mortgage lenders and acquire or take possession of such collateral and sell the same at public or private sales, with or without public bidding, and otherwise deal with such collateral as may be necessary to protect the interest of the MHFA therein, all subject to any agreement with bondholders or noteholders.

(d) Make and publish rules and regulations respecting the grant of loans under this act and the regulation of borrowers and any other regulations necessary to fulfill the purposes of this act.

(e) Establish, and revise from time to time, and charge and collect fees and charges in connection with, loans made by the MHFA to mortgage lenders and in connection with MHFA's mortgage insurance program.

(f) Establish a program to insure loans made by mortgage lenders with the proceeds of loans made by MHFA to such mortgage lenders, subject to the provisions of section five B.

(g) Establish in areas covered by a neighborhood preservation program approved by the MHFA under section five A a program to encourage mortgage lenders to make loans within such areas to persons or families of low and moderate income who are, or intend to be, owner-occupants.

(h) Sell, purchase and contract and enter into advance commitments to purchase and take assignments from mortgage lenders of new residential mortgages owned or to be owned by mortgage lenders, including securities and other obligations of mortgage lenders secured by or representing an interest in new residential mortgages, all subject to the provisions of section five A. Acquire or accept by pledge Government National Mortgage Association guaranteed mortgage-backed securities, backed by new residential mortgages or interests therein, or other instruments of indebtedness issued or guaranteed by the United States of America thereof which have been or will be issued to finance new residential mortgages.

(i) Engage in or assist in the rehabilitation of housing or the development of home ownership under any federal program providing assistance for low or moderate income housing as from time to time may be established and funded by the federal government.

(j) Enter into contribution contracts with any federal or state agency or private fund, and contracts with owners or tenants of dwelling units, with respect to the making of federal or state rent subsidy payments.

(k) Do any and all things necessary or convenient to carry out its purposes and exercise the powers expressly given and granted in this act.

SECTION 12. Said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 5 the following three sections:-

Section 5A. Loans to Mortgage Lenders. The MHFA may from time to time purchase, and contract and make commitments to purchase new residential mortgages and notes, bonds or other obligations issued by mortgage lenders, and make loans to mortgage lenders, for the purpose of financing new residential mortgages for persons and families of low and moderate income, provided that such persons or families are or intend to be owner-occupants and provided that in the case of a loan to a mortgage lender, such mortgage lender secures such loan as to the payment of principal and interest by a pledge of and lien upon collateral in such amounts and consisting of such obligations and securities as the MHFA shall by resolution determine to be necessary to assure payment of such loans and the interest thereon as the same become due.

The MHFA shall from time to time adopt, modify, amend or repeal rules and regulations governing the making, purchasing or financing of new residential mortgages, including rules and regulations as to any or all of the following:

(a) Procedures for the submission of requests or the invitation of proposals for the making, purchasing or financing of new residential mortgages;

(b) Standards and requirements as to allocations of loans or purchase commitments among all or certain of the mortgage lenders or awards of loans or purchase commitments and determining the amounts and interest rates thereof;

(c) Limitations or restrictions as to the number of family units, location or other qualifications or characteristics of residences to be financed by new residential mortgages;

(d) Requirements as to purchase or loan commitments from MHFA to mortgage lenders with respect to new residential mortgages;

(e) The terms and conditions of new residential mortgages including their principal amount, loan to value ratio, rate or rates of interest and restrictions thereon and restrictions on the return realized thereon by mortgage lenders;

(f) Schedules of any fees and charges necessary to provide expenses and reserves of MHFA;

(g) Procedures and other standards for foreclosure and subsequent resale;

(h) The time within which mortgage lenders must make commitments and disbursements for new residential mortgages;

(i) Any other matters related to the duties, and the exercise of the powers of the MHFA, and other regulations and restrictions governing the selection of mortgagors and the making, purchasing and financing of mortgage loans and security therefore as the MHFA shall deem advisable to accomplish the purposes of this act.

Such rules and regulations shall be designed to effectuate the general purposes of this act and the following specific objectives: (i) the expansion of the supply of funds in the commonwealth available for new residential mortgages; (ii) the provision of the additional housing needed to remedy the shortage of adequate housing in the commonwealth and to eliminate the existence of a large number of substandard dwellings; and (iii) the effective participation by mortgage lenders in the program authorized by this act and the restriction of the financial return and benefit thereto from such program to that which is necessary and reasonable to induce such participation.

Loans to mortgage lenders shall be general obligations of the respective mortgage lenders owing the same and shall bear such date or dates, shall mature at such time or times, shall be evidenced by such note, bond or other certificate of indebtedness, shall be subject to prepayment, and shall contain such other provisions as the MHFA shall by resolution determine.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, the interest rate or rates and other terms borne by residential mortgage loans purchased by MHFA or loans to mortgage lenders made from the proceeds of any issue of bonds of the MHFA shall be at least sufficient so as to assure the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon as the same become due.

The MHFA shall require as a condition of each loan to a mortgage lender that such mortgage lender shall, on or prior to the ninetieth day or such earlier day as shall be prescribed by rules and regulations of the MHFA following the receipt of the loan proceeds, have entered into written commitments to make, and shall thereafter proceed as promptly as practicable to make and disburse from such loan proceeds new residential mortgages as defined in section one of this act to low income persons and families or moderate income persons or families, such mortgage loans to be an aggregate principal amount equal to the amount of such loan from the MHFA.

No new residential mortgage shall be purchased by MHFA unless the mortgage lender who made the new residential mortgage certifies to MHFA that the residential building securing such new residential mortgage is or will be owned and occupied by a person or family of low or moderate income or the mortgage lender is obligated by the terms of such purchase to re-invest the new proceeds thereof in new residential mortgages for persons or families of low or moderate income in an aggregate principal amount substantially equal to the amount of such net proceeds.

The MHFA shall from time to time adopt, modify, amend or repeal rules and regulations governing the making of new residential mortgage loans for the purpose of rehabilitation of dwellings of two or more units so as to afford protection to existing tenants. Such rules and regulations shall be designed to effectuate the general purposes of this act and the following specific objectives: (i) insuring that tenants residing in such dwellings have income reasonably sufficient to pay any increase in rent resulting from such rehabilitation so that residential mortgage loans made with MHFA loan funds minimize residential displacement, unless the proceeds of such mortgage loans are to be used to alleviate conditions which violate the state sanitary code or applicable building or housing codes or to carry out essential maintenance; (ii) notification of tenants residing in such dwellings as to the repairs or improvements to be undertaken with the proceeds of such mortgage loans and the estimated increase in rent, if any, attributable to such repairs or improvements; and (iii) agreements between borrowers and tenants residing in such dwelling which limit rent increases during such reasonable periods as the MHFA may prescribe to those properly resulting from such mortgage loans or those necessitated by increases in property taxes, operating or maintenance expenses or additional capital improvement. Nothing in this act shall authorize a rent increase not otherwise authorized by law.

A district court or housing court within the jurisdiction in which a dwelling unit affected by an action, regulation or order of MHFA under this section is located shall have original jurisdiction over proceedings contesting such action, regulation or order and shall be authorized to take such action with respect thereto as is provided in the case of the superior court under the provisions of chapter two hundred and thirty-one A of the General Laws. All orders, judgments and decrees of such district court or housing court may be appealed as is provided in the case of a civil action in such district court or housing court.

It shall be the policy of MHFA in making loans to mortgage lenders to consider the ability of a mortgage lender to make loans consistent with the policies expressed in this act from existing reserves held by such mortgage lender for the purpose of making loans. MHFA shall require participating mortgage lenders to make periodic reports including but not limited to, information on the geographic distribution, terms and type, as in first or second lien, of mortgages made with proceeds of MHFA bonds, the distribution and terms of those mortgages insured by the MHFA, and individual citation as to where and by how much rent levels have been projected to increase by the mortgage lender and the borrower in the course of processing the loan. Such information shall be published by the MHFA and submitted annually to the general court and the department of community affairs. In addition, the MHFA may require as a condition to mortgage lenders that in any city or town with an approved neighborhood preservation program proposed to MHFA by a city or town, an agreed upon dollar volume of bonding authorization as a minimum commitment shall be located in priority areas set forth in the neighborhood preservation program within an agreed upon time period, not greater than five years; provided, however, that local community organizations such as community action agencies or other recognized low income organizations shall be included in reviewing the neighborhood preservation program.

In proposing a neighborhood preservation program to the MHFA, a city or town, acting through the local chief executive, shall submit, in a manner as may be required by the MHFA, the following items:

(1) The degree of blight, decay or deterioration of housing accommodations, or the imminent threat of such blight, decay or deterioration within the area;

(2) The degree to which conventional financing or refinancing of repairs, remodeling or rehabilitation of such housing accommodation is available;

(3) The proportion of residential structures within the area which are owner-occupied;

(4) The degree to which the project income and the financial resources of owner-occupants, where relevant, of the housing accommodations within the area provide reasonable assurances of the economic feasibility of the financing of the repairs, remodeling or rehabilitation to be insured hereunder and;

(5) The proportion of residential structures in the area where rehabilitation work can be done with financing as provided herein, without necessitating a substantial increase in carrying costs and rental charges to any owner-occupant or tenant beyond their capacity to absorb, and the extent of suitable vacant housing in such an area.

Before giving approval of a neighborhood preservation program, the MHFA shall consider the expressed commitment of a city or town to provide a concentrated effort to enforce the building and housing codes within certain priority areas in such city or town, and the expressed commitment of a city or town to provide capital improvements and other city services to improve and restore such areas.

The MHFA may revoke its approval of a neighborhood preservation program if it determines that a city or town in which an area for said program is located has failed to initiate and continue tangible activity on such a program.

Before authorizing an applicant to proceed with a final application for a neighborhood preservation program, the MHFA shall submit the preliminary application to the secretary of communities and development for review. The secretary shall review the appropriateness of the proposed program with regard to overall state and local growth and housing policy. If the secretary does not disapprove the application within thirty days the application shall be deemed to be approved for processing by the MHFA. In the event of a major change in the proposed neighborhood preservation program, including but not limited to significant changes in the proposed boundaries of the neighborhood area, the loan amount, or the state or federal subsidies requested, after the initial review by the secretary, the MHFA shall submit each proposed change to the secretary for his review. If the secretary does not disapprove the revision within thirty days, the revised application shall be deemed to be approved for processing by the MHFA.

The MHFA shall require the submission, by each mortgage lender to which the MHFA has made a loan, or from whom MHFA has purchased a new residential mortgage, of evidence satisfactory to the MHFA of the making of new residential mortgages as required by this section and prescribed by rules and regulations of the MHFA and in connection therewith may inspect the books and records of such mortgage lender.

The MHFA may require as a condition of any loans to mortgage lenders, or of any purchase of new residential mortgages from mortgage lenders, such representations and warranties as it shall determine to be necessary to secure such loans and carry out the purposes of the act.

Prior to issuing any notes or bonds to make loans pursuant to this section, the MHFA shall consult with the Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency advisory committee established pursuant to section fourteen of chapter eight hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

Notwithstanding any provisions of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws, a present or former employee of the commonwealth, or any political subdivision thereof, or of any state, county or municipal agency as defined in said chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A may be a mortgagor of a new residential mortgage hereunder.

Section 5B. Mortgage Insurance Program. MHFA may, pursuant to regulations adopted by it, establish a program of mortgage insurance to insure those loans made by mortgage lenders as a condition to the receipt of a loan from the MHFA under section five A and also to insure conventional mortgage loans to resident owners made for purposes of acquisition and rehabilitation or rehabilitation in areas designated for neighborhood preservation programs under said section five A.

Such sums as may be appropriated or otherwise acquired may be used for the purpose of establishing a Mortgage Insurance Fund administered by the MHFA. Such sums, to the extent necessary, shall be applied to the payment of (i) claims made by lenders who have made new residential mortgages as a condition to the receipt of a loan from the MHFA under section five A and which new residential mortgages are in default and (ii) claims made by lenders of conventional mortgage loans, in default, made to resident owners for purposes of acquisition and rehabilitation in areas designated for neighborhood preservation programs under section five A. Claims shall be made against the mortgage insurance fund in accordance with procedures established by MHFA. Pursuant to this section, and to rules and regulations adopted by it, MHFA may have at any time a total amount of insurance risk outstanding not in excess of the amount contained in the fund multiplied by thirty. At such times as premiums and other sources of income to the fund provide adequate protection against potential losses, MHFA shall, to the extent it deems it prudent, return to the General Fund of the commonwealth from the Mortgage Insurance Fund all or a portion of such funds appropriated.

The commissioner of insurance shall prepare regulations to govern the issuance of mortgage insurance which shall be included without amendment in the regulations adopted by the MHFA pursuant to this section. To the full extent practicable said regulations shall require compliance with the general provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws.

Section 5C. Technical Assistance. The MHFA may, subject to appropriation by the general court or funds made available from any other public or private source, and pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by it, contract with nonprofit organizations incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth or qualified public agencies for technical assistance to potential borrowers from such mortgage lenders, including without limitation the following services:

(i) consultation as to the nature, extent and manner of new construction, or the repair, remodeling or rehabilitation financed hereunder and consultation regarding the nature, extent and manner of repairs required to ensure that the dwelling structure shall not contain a substantial violation of the housing or building codes after such work is completed;

(ii) consultation regarding the laws, rules, regulations and codes regulating the nature, extent and manner of undertaking such work;

(iii) consultation as to the contractors, subcontractors, individuals, or other entities to perform such work;

(iv) consultation as to the proper manner, mode and method of financing such work;

(v) consultation regarding the manner, method or mode by which such borrowers may undertake all or any portion of the work themselves;

(vi) consultation regarding the progress of the work, including technical assistance regarding the quality of such work;

(vii) consultation regarding debt consolidation, debt management and money management to ensure the stability and repayment of any mortgage insured hereunder;

(viii) consultation regarding ongoing management of the premises.

SECTION 13. Paragraph (b) of section 8 of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by striking out the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth sentences, as amended by section 9 of chapter 632 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following five sentences:- The aggregate principal amount of notes and bonds of the MHFA issued to make mortgage loans pursuant to section five, outstanding at any one time shall not exceed the sum of one billion five hundred million dollars of which one hundred and fifty million dollars shall be used only to make mortgage loans in cities or towns which have been found to have a rate of unemployment of at least six percentum in the issue of "Area Trends in Employment and Unemployment" published by the United States Department of Labor for the October preceding the making of any such loan. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the aggregate principal amount of notes and bonds of the MHFA outstanding at any time shall equal the aggregate principal amount of notes and bonds of the MHFA issued and unpaid less (A) an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of notes issued to fund construction loans with respect to which the United States government or an agency of the United States government is committed to insure or approve construction advances in an amount in excess of ninety per cent of the mortgage amount and with respect to which a person other than the MHFA has agreed to provide permanent financing and (B) an amount equal to monies irrevocably escrowed in trust exclusively for the payment of the principal of either notes or bonds, provided that either (i) other monies so escrowed are sufficient to pay when due the interest to accrue on such notes or bonds or (ii) such monies have been invested in investments permitted under the resolution of the MHFA authorizing the issuance of such notes or bonds in such manner that the income thereon will be sufficient to pay when due the interest to accrue on such notes or bonds prior to the time the principal of such notes or bonds shall mature. At any time after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, the MHFA shall not be authorized to issue notes other than (i) notes issued to refund notes previously issued, (ii) notes issued to fund mortgage loan increases for projects for which notes have previously been issued and (iii) notes issued to fund construction loans with respect to which a person other than the MHFA has agreed to provide permanent financing, if after such issuance the aggregate principal amount of all notes, other than notes described in clauses (ii) and (iii) of this sentence, then outstanding shall exceed twenty-five per cent of the aggregate principal amount of all bonds of the MHFA then outstanding. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the aggregate principal amount of all such notes outstanding at any time shall equal the aggregate principal amount of such notes issued and unpaid less an amount equal to monies irrevocably escrowed in trust exclusively for the payment of the principal of such notes, provided that either (i) other monies so escrowed are sufficient to pay when due the interest to accrue on such notes or (ii) such monies have been invested in investments permitted under the resolution of the MHFA authorizing the issuance of such notes in such manner that the income thereon will be sufficient to pay when due the interest to accrue on such notes. The aggregate principal amount of notes and bonds of the MHFA and the Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency issued to make loans pursuant to section five A of this chapter and chapter eight hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-four outstanding at any one time shall not exceed the sum of five hundred million dollars.

SECTION 14. Said section 8 of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by adding after paragraph (e), added by chapter 348 of the acts of 1981, the following paragraph:-

(f) The MHFA and the Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency shall be allocated, for purposes of Section 103A(g) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, one hundred per cent of the state ceiling applicable to the commonwealth for any calendar year of the aggregate amount of qualified mortgage bonds, as defined in said Section 103A(g). The MHFA shall establish the allocation of such aggregate amount between the MHFA and the Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency.

SECTION 15. Paragraph (a) of section 9B of said chapter 708 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as amended by section 13 of chapter 632 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The MHFA may create and establish one or more special funds, herein individually referred to as a Capital Reserve Fund, and to the extent so created, shall pay into each such Capital Reserve Fund any monies appropriated and made available by the commonwealth for the purposes of such fund, any proceeds of sale of notes or bonds to the extent provided in the resolution of the MHFA authorizing issuance thereof, and any other monies which may be available to the MHFA for the purpose of such fund from any other source or sources.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 9B the following section:-

Section 9C. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, as security for the payment of bonds issued for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of section five A, the MHFA may create and establish one or more special funds, herein individually referred to as a Capital Reserve Fund, and to the extent so created, shall pay into each such Capital Reserve Fund any monies appropriated and made available by the commonwealth for the purposes of such fund, any proceeds of sale of notes or bonds to the extent provided in the resolution of the MHFA authorizing issuance thereof, and any other monies which may be available to the MHFA for the purpose of such fund from any other source or sources. All monies held in a Capital Reserve Fund pursuant to this section, except as hereinafter provided, shall be used solely for the payment of the principal of bonds of the MHFA which are secured by such Capital Reserve Fund as the same become payable, the purchase of such bonds, the payment of interest on such bonds, or the payment of any redemption premium required to be paid when such bonds are redeemed prior to maturity; provided, however, that monies in a Capital Reserve Fund shall not be withdrawn therefrom at any time in such amount as would reduce the amount of such fund to less than the minimum requirement thereof established by resolution of the MHFA except for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest and premium on bonds secured by such fund becoming due and for the payment of which other monies of the MHFA are not available.

The MHFA shall not at any time issue bonds secured by a Capital Reserve Fund if following the issuance of such bonds the amount of the Capital Reserve Fund shall be less than the minimum requirement thereof established by the resolution of the MHFA providing for the issuance of bonds secured by such fund unless the MHFA, at the time of issuance of such bonds, shall deposit in such fund from the proceeds of the bonds so to be issued, or otherwise, an amount which, together with the amount then in such fund, will not be less than the minimum requirement; provided that at no time shall the minimum requirement of a Capital Reserve Fund be established by the MHFA at an amount less than one-quarter of the maximum amount of interest becoming due in the current or any succeeding fiscal year of the MHFA or at an amount greater than the maximum amount of principal and interest becoming due in the current or any succeeding fiscal year of MHFA on all outstanding bonds which are secured by such Capital Reserve Fund.

In order to assure the maintenance of a Capital Reserve Fund at the minimum requirement thereof established by resolution of the MHFA, there shall be annually appropriated and paid to the MHFA for deposit in such Capital Reserve Fund such sum, if any, as shall be certified by the chairman of the MHFA to the governor as necessary to restore such Capital Reserve Fund to such minimum requirement. The chairman of the MHFA shall annually, on or before December first, make and deliver to the governor his certificate stating the amount, if any, required to restore a Capital Reserve Fund to the amount aforesaid and the amount so stated, if any, shall be appropriated and paid to the MHFA during the then current fiscal year of the commonwealth as soon as possible by the MHFA from monies in excess of the amount required to make and keep MHFA self-supporting.

For purposes of this section, the term "outstanding bonds" shall exclude bonds for the payment or redemption of which refunding bonds have been issued pursuant to section eight.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the MHFA may create and establish a Capital Reserve Fund for any issue of bonds under such provisions as are necessary to comply with the provisions of Section 103A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

SECTION 17. Section 13 of said chapter 708, as most recently amended by chapter 807 of the acts of 1973, is hereby further amended by adding the following sentence:- Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, all mortgage lenders may properly and legally invest funds, including capital in their control or belonging to them, in new residential mortgages and interests therein and other securities or obligations held by or for the account of the MHFA under this act, and may participate with the MHFA in making or acquiring new residential mortgages or jointly owned interests in new residential mortgages with the MHFA, and may otherwise transact business with the MHFA as contemplated herein.

SECTION 18. Said chapter 708 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 16 the following section:-

Section 16A. The MHFA shall be liable on all claims made as a result of the activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, of any member, officer, or employee of the MHFA acting as such, except for willful dishonesty or intentional violation of the law, in the same manner and to the same extent as a private person under like circumstances; provided, however, that the MHFA shall not be liable to levy of execution on any real or personal property to satisfy judgment, for interest prior to judgment, for punitive damages or for any amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.

No person shall be liable to the commonwealth, to the MHFA or to any other person as a result of his activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, as a member, officer or employee of the MHFA except for willful dishonesty or intentional violation of the law; provided, however, that such person shall provide reasonable cooperation to the MHFA in the defense of any claim. Failure of such person to provide reasonable cooperation shall cause him to be jointly liable with the MHFA, to the extent that such failure prejudiced the defense of the action.

The MHFA may indemnify or reimburse any person, or his personal representative, for losses or expenses, including legal fees and costs, arising from any claim, action, proceeding, award, compromise, settlement or judgment resulting from such person's activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, as a member, officer, or employee of the MHFA; provided that the defense or settlement thereof shall have been made by counsel approved by the MHFA. The MHFA may procure insurance for itself and for its members, officers and employees against liabilities, losses and expenses which may be incurred by virtue of this section or otherwise.

No civil action hereunder shall be brought more than three years after the date upon which the cause thereof accrued.

SECTION 19. Chapter 846 of the acts of 1974 is hereby amended by striking out section 3, as most recently amended by section 8 of chapter 789 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 3. Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency. There is hereby established in the department of community affairs a body politic and corporate known as the Massachusetts Home Mortgage Finance Agency, which shall not be subject to the supervision or control of the department of community affairs or of any department, commission, board or bureau or agency of the commonwealth except to the extent and in the manner provided in this act. The MHMFA is hereby constituted a public instrumentality and the exercise by the MHMFA of the powers conferred by this act shall be deemed and held to be the performance of an essential governmental function.

The MHMFA shall consist of the nine members of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, ex officiis.

The chairman of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency shall serve as chairman of the MHMFA, and the MHMFA shall annually elect one of its members as vice chairman and shall also annually elect a secretary, a treasurer, and such other officers as it may determine, none of whom need be a member of the MHMFA. The secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the MHMFA and shall be custodian of all books, documents, and papers filed with the MHMFA and of its minute book and seal. He shall have authority to cause to be made copies of all minutes and other records and documents of the MHMFA and to give certificates under the seal of the MHMFA to the effect that such copies are true copies and all persons dealing with the MHMFA may rely upon such certificates. The treasurer shall be the chief financial and accounting officer of the MHMFA and shall be in charge of its funds, books of account and accounting records. The executive director of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency shall serve as the executive director of the MHMFA.

Five members of the MHMFA shall constitute a quorum and the affirmative vote of five members shall be necessary for any action taken by the MHMFA. No vacancy in the membership of the MHMFA shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the MHMFA.

The members, chairman and executive director of MHMFA shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for their necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, no officer or employee of the commonwealth or of any public instrumentality thereof shall be deemed to have forfeited or shall forfeit his office or employment by reason of his acceptance of compensation from MHMFA or employment therewith.

SECTION 20. Section 4 of said chapter 846 is hereby amended by adding the following clause:-

(y) Loan or grant any monies available to MHMFA for its general purposes to the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency to be used for its general purposes.

SECTION 21. The ninth paragraph of section 5 of said chapter 846 is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence, as amended by section 8 of chapter 793 of the acts of

SECTION 22. Said ninth paragraph of said section 5 of said chapter 846 is hereby further amended by striking out the fifth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- In addition, the MHMFA may require as a condition to mortgage lenders that in any city or town with an approved neighborhood preservation program proposed to MHMFA by a city or town, an agreed upon dollar volume of bonding authorization as a minimum commitment shall be located in priority areas set forth in the neighborhood preservation program within an agreed upon time period, not greater than five years; provided, however, that local community organizations such as community action agencies or other recognized low income organizations shall be included in reviewing the neighborhood preservation program.

SECTION 23. The second paragraph of section 8 of said chapter 846 is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence, as amended by section 13 of chapter 789 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- The aggregate principal amount of notes and bonds of the MHMFA and the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency issued pursuant to section five A of chapter seven hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six outstanding at any one time shall not exceed the sum of five hundred million dollars; provided that notes and bonds for the payment or redemption of which, either at or prior to maturity, refunding bonds shall have been issued pursuant to this section shall be excluded in the computation of outstanding notes and bonds. The notes and bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act may be issued in the discretion of the MHMFA with such terms as will cause the interest thereon to be subject to federal income taxation.

SECTION 24. Said section 8 of said chapter 846 is hereby further amended by striking out the last paragraph, added by section 14 of said chapter 789, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The MHMFA and the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency shall be allocated, for purposes of Section 103A(g) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as amended, one hundred per cent of the state ceiling applicable to the commonwealth for any calendar year of the aggregate amount of qualified mortgage bonds, as defined in said Section 103A(g). The Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency shall establish the allocation of such aggregate amount between the MHMFA and the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency.

SECTION 25. Said chapter 846 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as amended by section 15 of said chapter 789, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 10. Capital Reserve Fund. The MHMFA may create and establish one or more special funds, herein individually referred to as a Capital Reserve Fund, and to the extent so created, shall pay into each such Capital Reserve Fund any monies appropriated and made available by the commonwealth for the purposes of such fund, any proceeds of sale of notes or bonds to the extent provided in the resolution of the MHMFA authorizing issuance thereof, and any other monies which may be available to the MHMFA for the purpose of such fund from any other source or sources. All monies held in a Capital Reserve Fund pursuant to this section, except as hereinafter provided, shall be used solely for the payment of the principal of bonds of the MHMFA which are secured by such Capital Reserve Fund as the same become payable, the purchase of such bonds, the payment of interest on such bonds or the payment of any redemption premium required to be paid when such bonds are redeemed prior to maturity; provided, however, that monies in a Capital Reserve Fund shall not be withdrawn therefrom at any time in such amount as would reduce the amount of such fund to less than the minimum requirement thereof established by resolution of the MHMFA, except for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest and premium on bonds secured by such fund becoming due and for the payment of which other monies of the MHMFA are not available.

The MHMFA shall not at any time issue bonds secured by a Capital Reserve Fund if following the issuance of such bonds the amount of the Capital Reserve Fund shall be less than the minimum requirement thereof established by the resolution of MHMFA providing for the issuance of bonds secured by such fund unless the MHMFA, at the time of issuance of such bonds, shall deposit in such fund from the proceeds of the bonds so to be issued, or otherwise, an amount which, together with the amount then in such fund, will not be less than the minimum requirement; provided that at no time shall the minimum requirement of a Capital Reserve Fund be established by the MHMFA at an amount less than one-quarter of the maximum amount of interest becoming due in the current or any succeeding fiscal year of MHMFA or at an amount greater than the maximum amount of principal and interest becoming due in the current or any succeeding fiscal year of MHMFA on all outstanding bonds which are secured by such Capital Reserve Fund.

In order to assure the maintenance of a Capital Reserve Fund at the minimum requirement thereof established by the MHMFA, there shall be annually appropriated and paid to the MHMFA for deposit in such Capital Reserve Fund such sum, if any, as shall be certified by the chairman of the MHMFA to the governor as necessary to restore such Capital Reserve Fund to such minimum requirement. The chairman of the MHMFA shall annually, on or before December first, make and deliver to the governor his certificate stating the amount, if any, required to restore a Capital Reserve Fund to the amount aforesaid and the amount so stated, if any, shall be appropriated and paid to the MHMFA during the then current fiscal year of the commonwealth. Such amount, if any, shall be repaid to the commonwealth as soon as possible by the MHMFA from monies in excess of the amount required to make and keep MHMFA self-supporting.

For purposes of this section, the term "outstanding bonds" shall exclude bonds for the payment or redemption of which refunding bonds have been issued pursuant to section eight.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the MHMFA may create and establish a Capital Reserve Fund for any issue of bonds under such provisions as are necessary to comply with the provisions of Section 103A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

SECTION 26. The last paragraph of section 11 of said chapter 846, added by section 16 of chapter 793 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by striking out clause (5) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:-

(5) the lien of such pledge shall be valid and binding against any and all parties having a claim of any kind, in tort, contract or otherwise, against MHMFA, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof.

SECTION 27. Said chapter 846 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 16 the following section:-

Section 16A. Claims Against the MHMFA. The MHMFA shall be liable on all claims made as a result of the activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, of any member, officer, or employee of the MHMFA acting as such, except for willful dishonesty or intentional violation of the law, in the same manner and to the same extent as a private person under like circumstances; provided, however, that the MHMFA shall not be liable to levy of execution on any real or personal property to satisfy judgment, for interest prior to judgment, for punitive damages or for any amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.

No person shall be liable to the commonwealth, to the MHMFA or to any other person as a result of his activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, as a member, officer or employee of the MHMFA except for willful dishonesty or intentional violation of the law; provided, however, that such person shall provide reasonable cooperation to the MHMFA in the defense of any claim. Failure of such person to provide reasonable cooperation shall cause him to be jointly liable with the MHMFA, to the extent that such failure prejudices the defense of the action.

The MHMFA may indemnify or reimburse any person, or his personal representative, for losses or expenses, including legal fees and costs, arising from any claim, action, proceeding, award, compromise, settlement or judgment resulting from such person's activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, as a member, officer, or employee of the MHMFA; provided that the defense or settlement thereof shall have been made by counsel approved by the MHMFA. The MHMFA may procure insurance for itself and for its members, officers and employees against liabilities, losses and expenses which may be incurred by virtue of this section or otherwise.

No civil action hereunder shall be brought more than three years after the date upon which the cause thereof accrued.

Approved July 7, 1982.

Said licenses shall be subject to all the provisions of said chapter one hundred and thirty-eight except section seventeen.

(The foregoing was laid before the Governor of the 24th day of June, 1982 and after ten days it had "the force of a law", as prescribed by the Constitution, as it was not returned by him with his objections thereto within that time.)

Chap. 270. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR AN ADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY FOR THE CITY OF BROCKTON.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is, in part, to ensure an adequate supply of water to the residents of those communities, including the city of Brockton, served by the department of public works of the city of Brockton, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section two of chapter nine hundred and eighty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-three or any other general or special law to the contrary, the city of Brockton acting through its department of public works, or through its legal counsel, may purchase or take by eminent domain under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws from the owners of record by deed approved as to form by the attorney general, land including all water rights in the town of Kingston for the purpose of providing an adequate long term water supply to the residents of the city of Brockton, and the residents of the towns of Avon, Abington, Hanson, Pembroke and Whitman served by the department of public works of the city of Brockton. Said land consists of three hundred acres more or less, as identified by plans recorded in the Plymouth county registry of deeds, plan book 3495, page 500. After the land has been acquired for the above purpose and the conditions of this act have been met, said city shall, within one year, commence the utilization of water from such site for delivery to the residents served by said department of public works upon the approval by the department of environmental quality engineering of the quality of such water. Said department of public works may erect on said property proper dams, pumps, pipes, buildings and related appurtenances as may be necessary for the establishment of the aforementioned system of water works, and may further make excavations and remove materials as deemed necessary after proper approval has been granted by said department of environmental quality engineering and the environmental impacts, if any, have been identified and minimized. Said department of public works may further negotiate for and obtain through purchase of agreement or by eminent domain under the provisions of said chapter seventy-nine all such easements and rights of ways as may be necessary for the installation and maintenance of pipes, conduits and related appurtenances as may be necessary for the provision of said water to said residents. No construction shall begin nor water be taken until an environmental impact statement has been completed and plans for such work have been approved by the department of environmental quality engineering. Any such environmental impact report shall set forth the maximum amounts of water to be pumped from said property including, but not limited to, Pine brook, so-called.

SECTION 2. After an environmental impact report has been prepared by the city of Brockton under the provisions of sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws; and provided, that any adverse impacts are minimized, the department of public works of the city of Brockton may, for the purpose of increasing storage capacity, excavate and remove materials within the boundaries of Silver lake situated in the towns of Halifax, Kingston, Pembroke and Plympton. The department of environmental quality engineering shall monitor said excavation and removal of any materials from said lake.

SECTION 3. The amount of ground and surface water to be withdrawn for said land, shall be at rates and periods of time as determined by the commissioner of said department of environmental quality engineering, who shall, at least annually, review such determination.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 271. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ALLEVIATION OF THE FINANCIAL BURDEN IMPOSED ON THE CITY OF SALEM BY THE FIRE OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-TWO AND THE TOWN OF NEW BRAINTREE BY THE FIRE OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVEN.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide funds immediately for the costs of public services destroyed by the fire of February, nineteen hundred and eighty-two in the city of Salem, and the town of New Braintree by the fire of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety.

Be it enacted etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. To provide for the purpose of disaster relief and to meet the expense of restoring and providing police, fire, public works and other public services destroyed by fire in the city of Salem the sum of four hundred thousand dollars is hereby made available for transfer by the secretary of administration to the mayor of said city.

To provide for the purpose of disaster relief and to meet the expense of restoring town offices, police, fire and other public services destroyed by fire in the town of New Braintree the sum of two hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars is hereby made available for transfer by the secretary of administration to the board of selectmen in said town.

SECTION 2. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments authorized by section one of this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven.

SECTION 3. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section one of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time.

All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, city of Salem Disaster Relief Loan, Act of 1982, or town of New Braintree Disaster Relief Loan, Act of 1982, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding ten years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund.

Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 272. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ALLEVIATION OF THE FINANCIAL BURDEN IMPOSED ON THE CITY OF FALL RIVER BY THE FIRE OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-TWO.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide funds immediately for the costs of those public services destroyed by the fire of May, nineteen hundred and eighty-two in the city of Fall River, therefore it is hereby declared to be emergency law necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chap. 276. AN ACT RELATIVE TO SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 178 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 10, as most recently amended by chapter 391 of the acts of 1976, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 10. The aggregate amount of savings bank life insurance which may be issued or in force at any time on any one life under life insurance policies issued by all savings and insurance banks shall not exceed an aggregate amount which would be equal to one thousand dollars in each such savings and insurance bank, exclusive of group insurance, payor insurance, dividends and profits. The aggregate amount of annual income which may be paid to any individual under all annuity contracts issued or in force by all savings and insurance banks shall not exceed an aggregate amount which would be equal to one thousand two hundred dollars in each such savings and insurance bank, exclusive of dividends or profits.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 277. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL.

Be it enacted etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 12A of the General Laws is hereby further amended by striking out section 7, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 388 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 7. The office of inspector general shall act to prevent and detect fraud, waste and abuse in the expenditure of public funds, whether state, federal, or local, in programs and operations involving the procurement of any supplies, services, or construction, by agencies, bureaus, divisions, sections, departments, offices, commissions, institutions and activities of the commonwealth, including those districts, authorities, instrumentalities or political subdivisions created by the general court and including the cities and towns.

SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 9 of said chapter 12A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "correspondence", in line 4, the words:- including information relative to the purchase of services or anticipated purchase of services from any contractor by any public body.

SECTION 3. The second paragraph of said section 9 of said chapter 12A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "assistance", in line 8, the words:- , including information relative to the purchase of services or anticipated purchase of services from any contractor by any public body.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 278. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE MASSACHUSETTS CREDIT UNION SHARE INSURANCE CORPORATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 294 of the acts of 1961 is hereby amended by striking out section 1, as appearing in by section 1 of chapter 306 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 1. Creation, purpose.- There is hereby constituted a corporation under the name of Massachusetts Credit Union Share Insurance Corporation, hereinafter referred to as the corporation, for the purpose of creating and maintaining a fund for the insurance of shares and deposits of members of the Central Credit Union Fund, Inc. and of credit unions doing business in Massachusetts which are established under the laws of the commonwealth or of the United States and which become regular or excess members of the corporation, as hereinafter provided.

Section 1A. Definitions.- In this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Excess member", an inactive member or a federally chartered credit union whose excess shares and deposits, as hereinafter defined, shall become insured by the corporation pursuant to section six D.

"Excess shares and deposits", the portions of the shares and deposits of a credit union in excess of those sums which from time to time may be insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration.

"Inactive member", a regular member which withdraws from regular membership as provided in section six C.

"Member", a regular member of the corporation as defined below, except where the context otherwise requires.

"Regular member", a state-chartered credit union which is admitted to regular membership in the corporation pursuant to section six A, and which thereafter maintains its membership in good standing, or which is readmitted to regular membership pursuant to section six G.

SECTION 2. Section 4 of said chapter 294 is hereby amended by striking out the first and second paragraphs, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

There shall be a board of fifteen directors of the corporation who shall be elected by the delegates of the members as follows:

(a) Eleven directors shall be elected from the member credit unions; provided however, that any person who is serving as a director on the effective date of this act shall be eligible to be re-elected to said office upon the expiration of his then current term of office and of each succeeding term, if any, notwithstanding that the re-election of said directors may result for the time being in a board of directors of more than fifteen persons.

(b) Of the total number of directors elected from the member credit unions, not more than one-third at any one time shall represent members in any one county of the commonwealth.

(c) There shall be four outside directors, as defined in subparagraph (d). Four such directors shall be elected at the first annual meeting following the effective date of this act to initial terms of office of such respective durations, not in any case to exceed three years, as shall be determined by the board of directors so that not more than two such terms shall expire in any year.

(d) Outside directors shall be elected from a list of persons nominated by member credit unions, none of whom shall be directors, officers, employees, or agents of a member credit union or a director, trustee or other officer of any other financial institution. Each member credit union may nominate persons to be such a director by filing the name of such person with the board of directors not later than sixty days prior to the annual meeting; provided, however, that any such person shall be qualified by training and experience in one of the following fields: business judgment, insurance, investments, real estate, accounting or law.

Each director shall be elected for a three year term, except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (c). All directors shall be sworn and hold office until their successors are qualified. If a person elected does not within thirty days thereafter take the oath of office, his office shall thereupon become vacant. The directors shall fill any vacancies on the board until the next annual meeting. The directors may from time to time adopt such rules and regulations as they may deem necessary to effect the purposes of this act, provided that such rules and regulations shall not become effective until they have been approved by the commissioner, and for such purposes the commissioner may confer and advise with the directors and furnish them with such information as they may request.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 294 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 6A and 6B and inserting in place thereof the following seven sections:-

Section 6A. Regular Membership.- Any applicant for regular membership shall first give notice in writing to the corporation of its intention to become a member and shall submit such preliminary financial statements and other information concerning its assets, liabilities and affairs as the commissioner and the directors of the corporation may determine.

Before admission or readmission to regular membership in the corporation, an applicant shall be subject to such audit as the commissioner and the directors of the corporation determine to be necessary, the auditor to be approved by the directors of the corporation and the commissioner. The directors shall be the sole judges of the eligibility of each applicant for admission or readmission, with the approval of the commissioner.

Section 6B. Termination of Membership.- The insurance of a member by the corporation may be terminated by the directors of the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, after a hearing to be held before the commissioner and a committee of said directors upon at least fifteen days prior notice, in the following circumstances:

(a) if a regular or excess member shall have failed to pay any assessment lawfully required under this act within fifteen days after notice from the treasurer of the corporation that such payment is overdue; or,

(b) if a regular member has conducted its business in an unsafe or unsound manner, or has knowingly or negligently permitted any of its officers or agents to violate any provision of any law or regulation to which the member is subject.

In the event of termination of the insurance of a member, the commissioner may order the member to give such notice to its shareholders and depositors as he may require. In the event of failure to give the notice required to said shareholders and depositors as herein provided, the commissioner is authorized to give such notice in such manner as he may determine and for such purpose the member shall provide a list of all names and addresses of its depositors and shareholders to the commissioner.

Section 6C. Withdrawal from Regular Membership; Member Credit Union Becoming Insured Under Federal Credit Union Act; Inactive Membership.- Any member may withdraw from regular membership in the corporation pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) and of section thirty-five of chapter one hundred and seventy-one of the General Laws. Upon such withdrawal, a member shall become an inactive member of the corporation.

(a) Except with the approval of at least two-thirds of the directors of the corporation, and subject to such conditions as they may approve, no member may withdraw from regular membership in the corporation so long as any financial assistance granted by the corporation to such member remains unpaid or has not been compromised or settled.

Subject to the preceding paragraph, when any regular member which has applied for insurance of its shares and deposits under the Federal Credit Union Act shall have received notice in writing from the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration that it is insured by him, such member shall give written notice thereof to the corporation and shall file with it copies of said notice from the administrator and of the vote of its directors provided in section thirty-five of chapter one hundred and seventy-one of the General Laws.

On the effective date of such insurance by the administrator, the insurance of the shares and deposits of such member by the corporation shall terminate to the extent that such shares and deposits shall then or thereafter be insured by said administrator, and such inactive member shall not be liable for any further assessments required by sections seven or eight, except for any unpaid assessments then due and payable. An inactive member shall not be entitled to any of the rights and benefits of members except as expressly provided in subsection

(b) of this section.

(b) Upon the withdrawal of a regular member to inactive membership, the corporation shall retain all assessments theretofore paid to it by such member.

Thereafter, except as otherwise provided in section six F of this act, such inactive member shall be entitled (1) to receive such dividends, if any, on its retained assessments as may become payable to regular members pursuant to section seven and (2) to participate in the net assets of the share insurance fund in the event of the dissolution and liquidation of the corporation, in the manner and to the extent provided in section ten.

The provisions of this subsection shall apply to member credit unions which withdrew from the corporation prior to the effective date of this act.

Section 6D. Excess Insurance of Federally Insured Credit Unions; Excess Members.- The excess shares and deposits of excess members shall be insured in full by the corporation, subject to the following conditions and limitations:-

(a) Applications for excess membership shall be governed by the provisions of section six A of this act. If the applicant is then insured by the Administrator of the National Credit Union Administration, said administrator's certification of its sound and safe condition may be submitted in lieu of approval by the commissioner.

(b) Such excess member shall semi-annually pay to the corporation insurance assessments at the same percentage rates fixed for additional assessments of regular members under section eight, computed upon its excess shares and deposits as shown by a statement filed with the corporation and certified by an authorized officer of such excess member.

(c) Excess members of the corporation shall not have any of the rights and privileges of regular members except as expressly provided otherwise herein.

(d) Upon payment by the corporation of any excess share or deposit insured by the corporation in any excess member, the corporation shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such excess member as would have been payable to such person on a claim for the portion of such person's share or deposit so paid by the corporation, subject to the rights of the National Credit Union Administration.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, if the National Credit Union Administration is at any time a depositor in any excess member, either directly or through any other governmental agency, the amounts deposited, directly or indirectly, by the National Credit Union Administration shall not be deemed insured to any extent by the corporation.

Section 6E. Contracts With National Credit Union Administration.- The corporation may make such contracts as it deems appropriate with the National Credit Union Administration in order to carry out the purpose of this act and of the Federal Credit Union Act.

Section 6F. Acquisition of Member by Other Financial Institutions; Termination of Membership.- In case any regular, inactive or excess member of the corporation shall be acquired by another financial institution by merger, consolidation, sale of assets or otherwise, the acquired member's membership in the corporation shall automatically terminate. If the acquiring financial institution is itself a regular member of the corporation, but not otherwise, the corporation shall continue to insure the shares and deposits so acquired, and the acquiring member shall succeed to the same rights with respect to the retained assessments of the acquired member as are provided to inactive members by paragraph (b) of section six C.

Section 6G. If at any time an excess or inactive member, except a federally-chartered credit union, which has theretofore been insured by the administrator of the National Credit Union Administration shall cease to be so insured, and upon compliance with the requirements of section six A, such excess or inactive member may be admitted or readmitted to regular membership in the corporation. Thereupon, all of the shares and deposits of such member theretofore insured by said administrator shall forthwith be insured by the corporation as provided in this act, and such member shall thereafter be entitled to all the rights, benefits and privileges and subject to all the obligations of a regular member the shares and deposits of which are fully insured by the corporation. Such member shall be credited with all assessments, if any, previously paid by it and retained by the corporation pursuant to paragraph (b) of section six C.

Each readmitted member shall pay to the corporation those assessments provided by sections seven and eight which would have been due and payable on the semi-annual assessment date next preceding its admission or readmission had the shares and deposits of such member been at such time fully insured by the corporation.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 294 is hereby further amended by striking out section 7, as most recently amended by chapter 427 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 7. Initial Assessments; Semiannual and Annual Assessments; Excess Assessments; Refunds of Excess Assessments; Dividends; Examinations and Audits.- (a) For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, in addition to the assessments hereinafter provided for, the directors of the corporation shall require each new regular member, but not a readmitted inactive member except as provided for in section six G, to pay over in cash to the corporation an initial assessment consisting of one per cent of its total member share and deposit balances as shown by its most recent June thirtieth or December thirty-first statement. This assessment shall be made within ten days after the acceptance of a member by the corporation. Such assessments may be charged by the member to its undivided earnings account or any other surplus accounts, or established as a prepaid asset to be charged against its undivided earnings account or other surplus accounts over a ten year period.

(b) (i) With respect to the six semiannual assessment dates next following the effective date of this act, the directors of the corporation shall declare growth assessments, consisting of the following percentages of each regular member's total share and deposit balances in excess of the highest amount of its share and deposit balances on which such member has theretofore paid a one per cent assessment:

(a) for the first and second semiannual assessment periods, three-fourths of one per cent;

(b) for the third and fourth semiannual assessment periods, one-half of one per cent;

(c) for the fifth and sixth assessment periods, one-fourth of one per cent.

Thereafter, no growth assessments shall be declared.

(ii) If at the close of any fiscal year of the corporation its total assets, valued in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, shall be less than one and one-fourth per cent of the aggregate member share and deposit liabilities insured by the corporation, each member shall pay to the corporation a series of annual assessments, in addition to the assessments provided for above, in an amount not to exceed one-twelfth of one per cent of the member's share and deposit liabilities in any year. Said annual assessments shall continue until the total assets of the corporation shall be at least equal to one and one-fourth per cent of the aggregate insured share and deposit liabilities.

(c) The directors may also, subject to the approval of the commissioner following a hearing, and subject to the approval of a majority of the delegates present and voting representing regular member credit unions who shall be given thirty days written notice of the purpose of a meeting called by the directors to obtain such approval, semiannually declare additional assessments of regular members, to be designated as "excess assessments," so as to maintain from time to time the aggregate assessment of each regular member under this section at a level not greater than two per cent of such member's share and deposit liabilities. With like approval the directors may, on the semiannual assessment dates, in lieu of declaring such an excess assessment, effect a uniform refund in whole or in part of the excess assessments.

(d) The directors may, with the approval of the commissioner, pay to the members a dividend computed on the aggregate of assessments paid by each member pursuant to this section.

(e) The corporation shall be subject to such examinations and audits to such extent and manner and at such times as the commissioner may determine. The cost of any such examination or audit, as well as the cost of administration of the fund, shall be borne by the corporation.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 294 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as appearing in section 4 of chapter 306 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 10. Dissolution of the Corporation.- The directors of the corporation at a special meeting called for this special purpose and held in accordance with the by-laws and section five may determine by vote of four-fifths of all directors that as a fact the corporation is no longer needed for the insurance of shares and deposits of members. If such fact is so determined by the directors and also is determined by the commissioner then, by vote of four-fifths of all regular member delegates, at a meeting of delegates called for that special purpose, with the approval of the commissioner, the members may dissolve and liquidate the corporation. When voting for the purpose provided in this section, each regular member, by a delegate authorized by its board of directors, shall have one vote. Upon any dissolution and liquidation of the corporation, the directors of the corporation shall proceed to distribute to all of the then members including the regular, inactive and excess members as their interests may appear, the proceeds of the fund after payment of all losses, expenses and obligations of the corporation, in the following order of priority: First, in payment pro rata of the assessments referred to in section seven. Second, in payment pro rata of all assessments paid by the then members under section eight. Third, the balance, if any, of the proceeds from such dissolution and liquidation shall be distributed pro rata to the then members.

SECTION 6. Section two of this act shall take effect on August first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 279. AN ACT AUTHORIZING CITIES AND TOWNS TO CONTRACT WITH AN EXECUTIVE OR ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER RELATIVE TO CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 41 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 108M the following section:-

Section 108N. Notwithstanding the provision of any general or special law to the contrary, any city or town acting through its board of selectmen or city council or mayor with the approval of the city council, as the case may be, may establish an employment contract for a period of time to provide for the salary, fringe benefits, and other conditions of employment, including but not limited to, severance pay, relocation expenses, reimbursement for expenses incurred in the performances of duties or office, liability insurance, and leave for its town manager, town administrator, executive secretary, administrative assistant to the board of selectmen or city manager, or the person performing such duties having a different title.

Said contract shall be in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the city or town charter and shall prevail over any conflicting provision of any local personnel by-law, ordinance, rule, or regulation. In addition to the benefits provided municipal employees under chapters thirty-two and thirty-two B, said contract may provide for supplemental retirement and insurance benefits.

Nothing contained in this section shall affect the appointment or removal powers of any city or town over its town manager, town administrator, executive secretary, administrative assistant to the board of selectmen or city manager, or such person performing such duties with a different title, nor shall it grant tenure to such officer, nor shall it abridge the provisions of section sixty-seven of chapter forty-four.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 280. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE STANDARD FORM OF FIRE INSURANCE POLICY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 99 of chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after clause Twelfth the following clause:-

Twelfth A, Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the commissioner may approve for use in the commonwealth a provision which changes the loss settlement clauses of the standard policy which requires coverage to the extent of actual cash value. Such changes must provide a reasonable, clearly specified coverage definition, and may be equivalent to, greater than or less than actual cash value.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 281. AN ACT REGULATING THE REQUIREMENT OF A BOND OF A NATURAL PARENT IN CERTAIN GUARDIANSHIP CASES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 2 of chapter 201 of the General Laws, as amended by section 1 of chapter 171 of the acts of 1958, is hereby further amended by inserting after the first sentence the following sentence:- If a bond is required for an appointment under the provisions of this section, a parent of a minor child may file a bond, without sureties, relative to his appointment as guardian of said child.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 282. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES IN CERTAIN CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS IN THE PROBATE COURT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 34A of chapter 215 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 68 of chapter 400 of the acts of 1975, is hereby amended by adding the following two paragraphs:-

In entering a judgment of contempt for failure to comply with an order or judgment for monetary payment, there shall be a presumption that the plaintiff is entitled to receive from the defendant, in addition to the judgment on monetary arrears, all of his reasonable attorney's fees and expenses relating to the attempted resolution, initiation and prosecution of the complaint for contempt. The contempt judgment so entered shall include reasonable attorney's fees and expenses unless the probate judge enters specific findings that such attorney's fee and expenses shall not be paid by the defendant.

Any monetary contempt judgment shall carry with it interest, from the date of filing the complaint, at the rate determined under the provisions of section six C of chapter two hundred and thirty-one of the General Laws.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 283. AN ACT EXTENDING THE TIME IN WHICH NOMINATION PAPERS FOR CITY AND TOWN OFFICERS MAY BE CERTIFIED BY LOCAL REGISTRARS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows

SECTION 1. The second paragraph of section 7 of chapter 53 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 927 of the acts of 1977, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Every nomination paper of a candidate for a city or town office shall be submitted to the registrars of the city or town where the signers appear to be voters on or before five o'clock post meridian of the fourteenth day preceding the day on which it must be filed with the city or town clerk.

SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 46 of said chapter 53 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as appearing in section 11 of said chapter 927, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Every nomination paper of a candidate for a city or town office shall be submitted, on or before five o'clock post meridian of the fourteenth day preceding the day on which it must be filed, to the registrars of the city or town in which the signers appear to be voters.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 284. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE APPOINTMENT OF THE TREASURER-COLLECTOR IN THE TOWN OF FRAMINGHAM.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the treasurer-collector of the town of Framingham shall be appointed for a term of three years by the board of selectmen of said town with the advise and consent of the finance committee of said town, and the person so appointed shall have all the powers and duties now or from time to time vested by the General Laws in the office of treasurer-collector.

Upon the appointment of a person for a third consecutive three year term, said person shall then serve until his resignation or removal for cause on written charges preferred against him by the board of selectmen and so proven after a public hearing. Said town may establish by by-law such qualifications for said office as deemed necessary and appropriate. Upon the qualification and appointment of the treasurer-collector pursuant to the authority contained in this act, the incumbent of the office of treasurer-collector of said town shall cease to exercise the powers and duties of treasurer-collector under his authority as provided in chapter seven hundred and ten of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

SECTION 2. Any person serving as treasurer-collector for a third consecutive three year term on the effective date of this act shall be deemed to have been qualified and appointed under this act and shall be entitled to all of the benefits and privileges as provided in section one.

Approved July 8, 1982.

Chap. 285. RELATIVE TO HOSPITAL CHARGES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately establish charge controls for hospitals for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, Sturdy Memorial Hospital is hereby exempted from the provisions of chapter four hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one; provided, however, that said exemptions shall be effective only for those hospital charges issued between the effective date of this act and the end of said hospital's current budget year.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 286. AN ACT PROVIDING FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO CITIES, TOWNS AND DISTRICTS FOR WATER POLLUTION CONTROL PURPOSES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide financial assistance to cities, towns and districts for water pollution control purposes, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30A of chapter 21 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 4 of chapter 557 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 5, the word "forty" and inserting in place thereof the following word:- fifty.

SECTION 2. Said section 30A, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 15, the word "one" and inserting in place thereof the following word:- two.

SECTION 3. Section 33 of said chapter 21 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 6 of chapter 557 of the acts of 1979, is hereby further amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

Where the federal government has awarded a seventy-five per cent grant for the eligible costs of the project, the division may award a fifteen per cent grant for such eligible project costs; provided, that in the event the grant awarded by the federal government is less than seventy-five per cent of such eligible costs, the division may award a grant in such amount to assure that the public entity's share of the eligible costs of such project does not exceed ten per cent. Where, because the project entails the use of innovative or alternate technology, the federal government has awarded an eighty-five per cent grant for the eligible costs of the project, the division may award a nine per cent grant for such eligible project costs; provided, that in the event the grant awarded for such a project is less than eighty-five per cent, the division may award a grant in such amount to assure that public entity's share of the eligible costs of such project does not exceed six per cent.

In the event that the federal government does not award grants for the planning and design of such facilities, the division may advance such funds as may be necessary to enable the public entity to complete the eligible portions of said approved projects; provided, that funds advanced for planning and design shall be considered part of the total grant for said project, and the division shall deduct from the construction grant such sums as it deems necessary.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 38, as most recently amended by chapter 678 of the acts of 1972, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 38. The director, from funds appropriated or provided by grants, with the approval of the commissioner, shall provide for the conduct of research and demonstration projects relating to water pollution control and other scientific and engineering studies relating to environmental quality. Such projects and studies may include, but shall not be limited to, new and improved methods of controlling and discharge of untreated or inadequately treated sewage, stormwater, or industrial, chemical, radioactive, flammable, toxic, explosive or other wastes hazardous to the public or the environment. The director may also contract for the development of comprehensive river basin, water quality management, or waste treatment management plans. The director shall provide for inservice training programs in methods of water pollution control, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-eight A of chapter seven, and may conduct or support programs for the training of waste treatment plant operators. For the purposes of this section, the director may contract with any person, or any instrumentality or agency of the federal government or of any other state, or any interstate agency.

SECTION 5. Section 160 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, as most recently amended by chapter 526 of the acts of 1977, is hereby further amended by inserting at the end thereof the following paragraph:-

The department of environmental quality engineering shall establish a program to assist the cities, towns, and districts of the commonwealth to acquire, by purchase, gift, lease, eminent domain, or otherwise, lands and waters and easements therein to protect and conserve groundwater aquifers and recharge areas, and land adjacent to, or nearby, such aquifers and recharge areas as it determines necessary to meet the future water resource needs of the commonwealth for municipal or regional water supply. The said department shall develop criteria and procedures for the administration of said program, subject to the approval of the water resources commission. No such city, town, or district shall receive such assistance hereunder unless such city, town, or district has adopted a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission.

SECTION 6. Section 1 of chapter 687 of the acts of 1966, as most recently amended by section 13 of chapter 873 of the acts of 1967, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 2, the words "natural resources" and inserting in place thereof the following words:- environmental quality engineering.

SECTION 7. Section 4 of chapter 648 of the acts of 1968 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 705 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- To meet the expenditures necessary for carrying out the provisions of sections one and two of this act, the director of the division is authorized to expend a sum not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars in any one fiscal year provided that any unexpended balance from fiscal year nineteen hundred and sixty-eight forward and any sums recovered to reimburse the commonwealth under clause (14) of section twenty-seven of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws may be carried over, and the division of water pollution control may expend such additional sums.

SECTION 8. Said section 4 of said chapter 648 is hereby further amended by adding the following sentence:- For fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four and subsequent years, funding for the expenditures authorized by said clause (14) shall be provided by the Water Pollution Control and Water Conservation Loan, Act of 1982.

SECTION 9. Section four of chapter seven hundred and forty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy, added by chapter two hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, is hereby repealed.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 747 is hereby amended by striking out section 5, as most recently amended by section 5 of chapter 705 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 5. To meet the expenditures necessary for carrying out the provisions of clause (14) of section twenty-seven of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws, the director of the division of water pollution control is authorized to expend a sum not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars in any one fiscal year and to meet the expenditures necessary for carrying out the provisions of section thirty-eight of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws. The director of the division of water pollution control is authorized to expend a sum not to exceed one million dollars in any one fiscal year. Said expenditures shall be made from the proceeds of the bonds authorized by section four of chapter six hundred and eighty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six, as amended by section four of chapter eight hundred and seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven, and when there are no funds available from such proceeds then the director is authorized to use funds from the proceeds of the bonds authorized by section three of this act. For the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four and subsequent years, funding for said expenditures shall be provided by the Water Pollution Control and Water Conservation Loan, Act of 1982.

SECTION 11. Section 6 of said chapter 747, added by section 9 of chapter 557 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to this act, the director of the division of water pollution control is authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed twelve million dollars in each fiscal year, in each of fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty through nineteen hundred and eighty-three, inclusive, for the purpose of making the grants authorized by section thirty A of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws; provided, that any funds left unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and shall also be available for expenditure in the subsequent fiscal year.

SECTION 12. The division of water pollution control in the department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum, not to exceed two hundred and fifty million dollars, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Massachusetts Clean Waters Act, as set forth in section fifty-three of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws. Funds provided in this act shall be in addition to funds authorized by chapter six hundred and eighty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six, by chapter seven hundred and forty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy, and by chapter seven hundred and ninety-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine. The director of said division is hereby authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed one million dollars, which shall be made available to the city known as the town of Methuen for the purposes of carrying out the provisions relating to water pollution control projects as provided in this act.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, the director of said division is authorized to make grants for the purposes of section thirty-three of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, said director is authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed twelve million dollars in any fiscal year, in each of fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-four through nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, inclusive, for the purpose of making the grants authorized by section thirty A of said chapter twenty-one; provided, however, that any funds left unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and shall be made available for expenditure in the subsequent fiscal year.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two of this act, said director is authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed one million dollars in any one fiscal year, for the purpose of section thirty-eight of said chapter twenty-one; provided, that any funds left unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and available for expenditure in the subsequent fiscal year.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, the director is authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars in any one fiscal year, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of clause (14) of section twenty-seven of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws; provided, that any unexpended balance from any prior fiscal year and all sums recovered to reimburse the commonwealth under said clause (14) shall be carried over and also shall be available for expenditure in subsequent fiscal years.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, said director is authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed three million dollars in any one fiscal year, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of section thirty-seven A of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws; provided, that any funds left unexpended in any fiscal year shall also be available for expenditure in the subsequent fiscal year; and provided further, that the total amount of unexpended funds carried over in any one fiscal year shall not exceed five million dollars.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, the director is authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of constructing facilities to treat effluents from the Charles M. McLaughlin Fish Hatchery, established by chapter six hundred and fifty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six, to conform to the requirements of discharge permits issued to said hatchery; provided, however, that said facilities be designed and constructed in accordance with plans approved by said division of water pollution control.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, said director may grant to any public entity which, as of the effective date of this act, has received a ninety per cent grant from said division, pursuant to the provisions of section fourteen of chapter five hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-three, a sum not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars to reimburse said public entity for ninety per cent of the cost of the design and construction of a facility to process sewage sludge into compost; provided, however, that the design and construction of said facility shall be subject to the approval of said division. Said facility shall be operated in accordance with requirements specified by said department.

From funds made available by bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-one and twenty-two, said director may increase, from forty per cent to fifty per cent, the amounts which have been granted public entities, under the authority of section thirty A of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws, for the construction of collection systems; provided, however, that said division may not so increase such a grant where the total amount received by the public entity from federal and state funds for such collection sewer project will exceed one hundred per cent of said construction costs. For the purposes of this section, the terms "public entity" and "collection system" shall be as defined in section twenty-six A of said chapter twenty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 13. In making the grants authorized by the third paragraph of section ten, the director, as to twenty-five per cent of the sums available for expenditure in any one fiscal year, shall give highest priority in the selection of projects for grants to those projects which he has identified, after consultation with such agencies of the commonwealth as he may deem appropriate, as providing the greatest economic benefit to the commonwealth; provided, however, that for the purposes of this paragraph such projects may include interceptor sewers, and provided, further, that any funds designated for projects with such economic benefit left unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and shall be available for expenditure for other collection sewer system projects in the subsequent fiscal year.

SECTION 14. For the purposes of developing ongoing programs of investigating and identifying sources of loss of potable water and for rehabilitating water supply distribution system, including cleaning and relining mains, laterals and associated distribution elements or replacement of the same, there is hereby made available the sum of sixty million dollars which shall be expended by cities, towns and districts of the commonwealth under the direction and subject to the approval of the department of environmental quality engineering; provided, however, that said sums shall be matched by an equal sum appropriated by said cities, towns, and districts; and provided, further, that five per cent of said funds shall be set aside specifically for a program of investigation of loss of potable water; and the remaining ninety-five per cent shall be designated for system rehabilitation assistance. No single city, town or district shall be eligible for more than five per cent of the total amount designated for a program of investigation of the loss of potable water and five per cent of the total amount designated for system rehabilitation assistance.

SECTION 14A. The department of environmental quality engineering shall establish standards and guidelines for the administration and disbursement of said funds; provided, that said department shall be responsible for the establishment of criteria and priorities for the receipt of such funds which shall include but not be limited to the amount of unaccounted for water usage in a city, town, or district, the institution of an ongoing leak detection program, repair of leaks identified by leak detection programs, repair of distribution system to provide adequate pressure for fire protection and the repair of distribution systems to maintain public health standards, provided, further, that the said department shall consult with the water resources commission before establishing the criteria and priorities for the disbursement of such funds.

No city, town, or district shall receive such assistance unless such city, town, or district has adopted or is in the process of adopting a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission.

SECTION 15. In developing standards and guidelines for the administration and disbursement of funds pursuant to sections twelve and thirteen, the department of environmental quality engineering shall establish procedures whereby the cities, towns, or districts that submitted applications pursuant to chapter eight hundred and five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine shall have the opportunity to submit additional information to supplement and clarify those applications that were not awarded leak detection or system rehabilitation grants pursuant to said chapter eight hundred and five; provided, however, that such additional information shall be considered in the determination of grants to be made pursuant to sections fourteen and fourteen A. Any city, town, or district in the commonwealth shall be eligible to apply for said funds.

SECTION 16. For the purposes of developing new water conservation projects specifically designed to promote the utilization of less water supply in public buildings in the commonwealth, including the retrofit of water using fixtures in state, county, city, town, and district buildings with water conserving devices, projects which demonstrate the feasibility of devices or methods of decreasing the total amount of water used in public or private buildings, and projects which demonstrate the effectiveness of reusing grey water for non-potable uses, there is hereby made available the sum of two million five hundred thousand dollars which shall be expended by the division of capital planning, for grants to counties, cities, towns, and districts of the commonwealth, in conformity with standards and criteria established by the department of environmental quality engineering, and approved by the water resources commission; provided, however, that any such grants approved by the department and provided hereunder to cities, towns, or districts shall be matched by an equal sum appropriated by said cities, towns, and districts. No city, town, or district shall receive such assistance unless such city, town, or district has adopted or is in the process of adopting a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission. Said funds granted to any city, town, or district, shall not be used to finance the costs of construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, or enlargement of any pipes, standpipes, reservoirs, filtration plants, filter beds, or administrative, garaging, or maintenance facilities, the maintenance of any of the foregoing or of any facility whose construction is financed wholly or in part by any grant funds, nor the acquisition or rental of land or any interest therein.

SECTION 17. The division of capital planning is hereby authorized and directed to develop and implement a plan for the retrofit, where necessary, of all water fixtures in state owned buildings with water conserving devices, consistent with the provisions contained in section sixteen.

SECTION 18. There is hereby made available the sum of ten million dollars, which shall be expended by the department of environmental quality engineering, for the purposes of devising solutions to the contamination of public sources of drinking water, including but not limited to conducting hydrological evaluations at sites of contamination to determine the appropriate treatment needs, the treatment of water supply at the site of contamination or at the source of supply, the augmentation of water supplies on a short term basis, and the management or alteration of the direction of contaminated groundwater flow.

SECTION 19. The department of environmental quality engineering shall establish standards and guidelines for the administration and expenditure of said funds as provided in section eighteen; provided, however, that said standards and guidelines shall be subject to the approval of the water resources commission. No city, town, or district shall receive such assistance unless such city, town, or district has adopted or is in the process of adopting a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission.

SECTION 20. The department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized to expend a sum not to exceed ten million dollars for grants to cities, towns, and districts for the acquisition of lands and waters and easements by said cities, towns, and districts to protect and conserve groundwater aquifers and recharge areas, and surface or underground lands adjacent to such aquifers and recharge areas, for the protection of groundwater that is determined by the department to be of potential use for water supply purposes, consistent with section one hundred and sixty of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws, as amended by section five of this act; provided, however, that the department of environmental quality engineering shall establish standards and guidelines for the administration and disbursement of said funds and criteria for the receipt of such funds.

Expenditures for any such acquisition shall include not more than five hundred thousand dollars for expenses in connection therewith, including the cost of planning therefor and geological, hydrological and other studies. The department may enter into contracts with agencies of the United States to obtain federal grants or reimbursements under related federal programs.

SECTION 21. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments, as authorized by this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. Notes and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act shall be general obligations of the commonwealth payable from the General Fund.

SECTION 22. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount in the aggregate not to exceed three hundred and thirty-three million, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to be specified by the governor from time to time.

All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Water Pollution Control and Water Conservation Loan, Act of 1982, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, provided, however, that all such bonds be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and seven. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 23. Chapter 406 of the acts of 1978, as most recently amended by chapter 771 of the acts of 1979, is hereby further amended by striking out section 1 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 1. The department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed one hundred million dollars for the purpose of carry out the provisions of sections one hundred and fifty-nine, one hundred and sixty and one hundred and sixty-two of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws as relate to the construction, commenced after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, of drinking water filtration plants for the treatment of public water supplies; provided, however, that said construction grant shall not exceed fifty per cent of the total cost of said construction project; and provided further, that said construction grants shall be made available to cities, towns and districts for drinking water filtration plants for water supply systems which they own; and provided further, that said construction grants shall be made available only for drinking water filtration plants that filter water not provided by the metropolitan district commission.

Section 2. Said chapter 406 is hereby further amended by striking out the first paragraph of section 3 and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

To meet a portion of the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section one of this act, or to refinance notes issued as provided in section two of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the commissioner of the department of environmental quality engineering and with the approval of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale bonds of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as the state treasurer may deem best, to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time but no later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-three; provided, that in no event shall the amount of bonds authorized under this section exceed, in the aggregate, the sum of one hundred million dollars.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 287. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ACQUISITION BY THE DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT OF SOUTH CAPE BEACH IN THE TOWN OF MASHPEE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Item 2120-8777 in section 4 of chapter 481 of the acts of 1976 is hereby amended by striking out the wording and inserting in place thereof the following wording:-

For the acquisition of land and waters in the town of Mashpee, including expenses in connection therewith; and for the development, redevelopment, construction, and improvement of outdoor recreation and conservation areas, including a four hundred car main parking area, transportation between main parking area and beach, an area to be designated for boat launching, parking facilities and appropriate support facilities at Waquoit Bay and the planning and design thereof, as authorized by chapter one hundred and thirty-two A of the General Laws; and provided further, that certain repairs and reconstruction to Great Oak road be made contingent upon at least fifty per cent reimbursement from the federal government and future maintenance of said road by said town; and provided further, that the town of Mashpee shall construct an adequate parking area at the New Town beach; to be in addition to any amounts previously appropriated for the general purpose of said chapter one hundred and thirty-two A and such funds as may from time to time be appropriated to the department of environmental management for said general purpose or for the acquisition of coastal lands.

SECTION 2. The purpose of this section is to implement and to comply in strict accordance with the agreement entered into by the town of Mashpee and the department of environmental management in June, nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

The department of environmental management reserves the right to transfer title, or lesser interest in land acquired for recreation or conservation purposes pursuant to item 2120-8777 of section four of chapter four hundred and eighty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six, to the town of Mashpee without further agreement, subject, however, to the provisions of Article XCVII of the Amendments to the Constitution, and provided, further, that the agreement relative to the use of such land executed between the department of environmental management and the town of Mashpee is approved by the attorney general. The town of Mashpee may transfer title, or lesser interest in, land used for recreation or conservation purposes to the department of environmental management without further agreement, subject, however, to the provisions of Article XCVII of the Amendments to the Constitution, and subject to said agreement being approved by the attorney general. All such lands shall be used by the department of environmental management and the town of Mashpee only in accordance with said agreement. Except as provided for in section one, nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the use of said land by the public. All laws relating to state forests and parks not inconsistent with this act shall remain in effect.

SECTION 3. A south cape beach state park advisory committee consisting of eleven voting members and four non-voting members is hereby established. Said voting membership of the committee shall consist of eight residents of the town of Mashpee to be appointed by the board of selectmen of the town and one resident each of the town of Sandwich, Falmouth and Barnstable to be appointed by those respective boards of selectmen. The non-voting membership of the committee shall consist of one representative each from the office of coastal zone management and the department of fisheries, wildlife and recreational vehicles to be appointed by their respective agency heads, together with the representative from the Third Barnstable representative district and the senator from the Cape and Islands senatorial district to the general court. All succeeding members shall be appointed in the same manner and the term of all voting members shall be three years. The committee shall advise the department of environmental management on care, maintenance, development and use of South Cape beach.

SECTION 4. The provisions of this act are hereby declared to be severable and if any provision or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not be construed to affect the validity or constitutionality of any of the remaining provisions of said sections or the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that said sections would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provisions not been included therein.

SECTION 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 9, 1982.

The portion of land is forty (40) feet Northeasterly of, and parallel to the five (5) courses described above, and contains about 16,160 square feet.

The easements shall be approved as to form by the Attorney General, and contain such provisions as the commissioner of environmental management shall determine including such terms and conditions which are necessary to comply with all laws in relation to the protection, preservation and development of state parks and all laws regarding public drinking water supply. Said easements shall be granted upon the express condition that the land shall be used for water supply purposes only and if said land ceases to be used as such, or if the water works are not operative within two years, from recording of deed, said rights shall revert to the department of environmental management.

SECTION 2. The consideration for the easements described in section one shall be subject to an agreement between the division of capital planning and operations and the town of Ashland.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding the easements provided for in section one, the commissioner of the department of environmental management shall maintain the supervision of the land.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 291. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT TO TRANSFER A PORTION OF RIVERFRONT PARK IN THE CITY OF LOWELL TO THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS FOR HIGHWAY PURPOSES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Subject to the provisions of section one of chapter six hundred and ninety-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-five, the department of environmental management is hereby authorized to transfer the care, custody and control of the public lands hereinafter described, or such portions thereof as may be necessary, to the department of public works, and that the said department of public works is hereby authorized to divert said hereinafter described public lands from their present public uses to highway uses, as provided in section 2.

Said public lands to be so transferred consist of rectangular parcel of land shown on a map entitled "Parsons Brinckerhoff Preliminary Property Plan dated May 7, 1982," which map said department of public works is hereby directed to file with the office of the chief engineer of the said department, and which parcel is bounded and described as follows:

SECTION 2. The parcel of land described in section one shall be used by the department of public works for the approaches to a bridge over the Merrimack river from state highway route 113. In the event that said bridge is not constructed within three years of the transference to the department of public works, or in the event that it ceases to be used, said property shall revert to the department of environmental management.

SECTION 3. The provisions of sections sixty-two A through sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General laws shall not apply to the construction and related activities associated with the above proposed project.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 292. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF NEWTON TO SELL AND CONVEY A CERTAIN PARCEL OF LAND KNOWN AS THE EMERSON SCHOOL PROPERTY AND A PORTION OF PLAYGROUND LAND ADJACENT THERETO.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The city of Newton is hereby authorized to sell and convey a certain parcel of land for such consideration as deemed reasonable by the mayor and the board of aldermen of said city, containing approximately seventy-five thousand three hundred and five square feet in area, shown as a portion of section 51, block 8, lot 1 on the books of the assessors of said city. Said land is located at the intersection of High street and Pettee street in said city, and includes a portion of adjacent playground land, with improvements thereon, known as the Emerson School property, part of said parcel being originally acquired by said city for schoolhouse and school yard purposes.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 293. AN ACT EXEMPTING ALL POSITIONS AT THE RAY MEMORIAL LIBRARY IN THE TOWN OF FRANKLIN FROM THE PROVISIONS OF THE CIVIL SERVICE LAW.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. All positions at the Ray Memorial Library in the town of Franklin shall be exempt from the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. The provisions of section one shall not impair the civil service status of any person employed in a position at the Ray Memorial Library in the town of Franklin on the effective date of this act.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 294. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE USE OF PROCEEDS OF SALE OF SCHOOL PROPERTY BY THE TOWN OF NEEDHAM.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section sixty-three of chapter forty-four or the provisions of any other general or special law to the contrary, the town of Needham is hereby authorized to expend for any governmental purpose, the proceeds from the sales of the Harris school, the Highland school, the Dwight school, the William Carter school and the Avery school, all located in said town, provided that there is no indebtedness outstanding on such properties at the time of sale by said town.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 295. AN ACT EXTENDING THE TIME WITHIN WHICH APPLICATIONS FOR CERTAIN ABATEMENTS OR EXEMPTION OF TAXES LEVIED IN THE YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-ONE MAY BE FILED.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to further regulate immediately the filing of real estate tax exemptions, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary applications for abatements and exemptions under the provisions of Clause Seventeenth C of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws on taxes levied in the year commencing on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, may be filed not later than December fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 296. AN ACT AUTHORIZING CITIES AND TOWNS TO COMPENSATE THEIR SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEMBERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 52 of chapter 71 of the General Laws, as amended by chapter 90 of the acts of 1932, is hereby further amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The school committee shall serve without compensation, except that a member of a school committee of a city, town, regional school district or superintendency union may be compensated for his services by a majority vote of the city council in a city having a Plan D or Plan E charter; in a city not having a Plan D or Plan E charter by vote of the city council, subject to the provisions of the charter of such a city; in a town by a majority vote at a town meeting; and in a regional school district or school superintendency by a majority vote of the voting member towns authorized at their respective town meetings, the amount of such compensation, in each case, to be set by the respective cities, towns or groups of towns.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 297. AN ACT RELATIVE TO ANNUAL REIMBURSEMENT OF THE COSTS OF CHEMICALS FOR THE OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF CERTAIN WATER POLLUTION ABATEMENT FACILITIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 37 of chapter 21 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second and third paragraphs, added by chapter 510 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Any public entity which has contructed abatement facilities shall be eligible, subject to appropriation, for reimbursement of up to fifty per cent of the annual costs involved in the purchase of chemicals used for chlorination, sludge dewatering, odor control and advanced waste treatment for phosphorous removal and nitrification during the operation and maintenance of said abatement facilities. Any such public entity seeking such reimbursement shall prior to the end of any calendar year submit a statement of the cost of such chemicals used by it for said facilities during the preceding fiscal year. The division shall verify the statements of costs submitted and report upon the same to the general court. Reimbursements under this program shall be paid from amounts appropriated therefor from the Local Aid Fund under the provisions of section eighteen A of chapter fifty-eight.

Approved July 9, 1982.

Chap. 298. AN ACT GOVERNING THE SELECTION AND MANAGEMENT OF JURORS IN MIDDLESEX COUNTY AND AUTHORIZING THE EXPANSION OF THE MIDDLESEX COUNTY JUROR SYSTEM TO ALL COUNTIES IN THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter two hundred and thirty-four A, added by section two of chapter four hundred and fifteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 234A.
OFFICE OF JURY COMMISSIONER FOR THE COMMONWEALTH.

Section 1. This chapter shall apply in every county in the commonwealth which has been designated as a participating county as hereinafter provided. Middlesex county shall be a participating county as of the effective date of this chapter. The supreme judicial court shall designate such further participating counties and the dates on which the various sections of this chapter shall become applicable within such participating counties. The supreme judicial court shall make such designations in a manner that will expand the application of this chapter to all counties in an orderly, prudent, and expeditious manner.

Whenever any section of this chapter shall become applicable within a participating county, all provisions of law which are inconsistent with such section shall cease to be effective within such participating county. Hereinafter in this chapter, the word "county" shall mean "participating county" unless specifically stated otherwise.

Section 2. The judicial districts for purposes of this chapter shall be the counties unless modified by the supreme judicial court. The supreme judicial court may, by rule of court, define judicial districts for purposes of this chapter which differ in geographical area and population from the counties in accordance with the following principles: a judicial district shall be the geographical area encompassing a designated list of cities and towns; a judicial district may be defined for, or associated with, a single court or court location, or it may be defined for, or associated with, several courts or court locations.

Every citizen shall have the opportunity to serve as a grand and trial juror in at least one judicial district. There shall be no proscription against citizens of certain cities and towns being eligible or subject to perform grand or trial juror service in more than one judicial district.

Section 3. Juror service in the participating counties shall be a duty which every person who qualifies under this chapter shall perform when selected. All persons selected for juror service on grand and trial juries shall be selected at random from the population of the judicial district in which they reside. All persons shall have equal opportunity to be considered for juror service. All persons shall serve as jurors when selected and summoned for that purpose except as hereinafter provided. No person shall be exempted or excluded from serving as a grand or trial juror because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, economic status, or occupation. Physically handicapped persons shall serve except where the court finds such service is not feasible. The court shall strictly enforce the provisions of this section.

Section 4. As of the date of receipt of the juror summons, any citizen of the United States who is a resident of the judicial district or who lives within the judicial district more than fifty per cent of the time, whether or not he is registered to vote in any state or federal election, shall be qualified to serve as a grand or trial juror in such judicial district unless one of the following grounds for disqualification applies:-

1. Such person is under the age of eighteen years.
2. Such person is seventy years of age or older and indicates on the juror confirmation form an election not to perform juror service.
3. Such person is not able to speak and understand the English language.
4. Such person is incapable, by reason of a physical or mental disability, of rendering satisfactory juror service. Any person claiming this disqualification must submit a letter from a registered physician stating the nature of the disability and the physician's opinion that such disability prevents the person from rendering satisfactory juror service. In reaching such opinion, the physician shall apply the following guideline: a person shall be capable of rendering satisfactory juror service if such person is able to perform a sedentary job requiring close attention for six hours per day, with short work breaks in the morning and afternoon sessions, for three consecutive business days. For the purposes of this section, "physician" shall include any accredited Christian Science practitioner.

5. Such person is solely responsible for the daily care of a permanently disabled person living in the same household and the performance of juror service would cause a substantial risk of injury to the health of the disabled person. Any person claiming this disqualification must submit a letter from a registered physician stating the name, address, and age of the disabled person, the nature of the daily care provided by the prospective juror, and the physician's opinion that the performance of juror service would cause a substantial risk of injury to the health of the disabled person. Any person who is regularly employed at a location other than that of his household shall not be entitled to this disqualification.

6. Such person is outside the judicial district and does not intend to return to the judicial district at any time during the following year.

7. Such person has been convicted of a felony within the past seven years or is a defendant in pending felony case or is in the custody of a correctional institution.

8. Such person has served as a grand or trial juror in any state or federal court within the or previous three calendar years or the person is currently scheduled to perform such service. Any person claiming this disqualification must submit a letter or certificate from the appropriate clerk of court or jury commissioner verifying such prior or pending juror service unless such service was performed or is pending in a court of the commonwealth.

Section 5. There shall be an office of jury commissioner for the commonwealth, hereinafter called the office. The office shall have authority to implement the provisions of this chapter in the participating counties. It shall be a department within the judicial branch and under the supervision and control of the supreme judicial court. The office, with the approval of the supreme judicial court, may establish branch offices for all regions of the commonwealth.

Section 6. A jury management advisory committee, consisting of six members, one of whom shall be appointed as chairman, shall be established as a standing committee of the supreme judicial court. The chairperson and committee members shall be appointed by the chief justice of the supreme judicial court and shall be chosen from among the justices of any trial or appellate court of the commonwealth.

The jury management advisory committee, hereinafter referred to as the committee, shall be authorized to assist and counsel the chief justice and the supreme judicial court in supervising the office of jury commissioner, to perform direct supervision of the office of jury commissioner pursuant to duties specified in this chapter and in matters delegated to the committee by the chief justice of the supreme judicial court. The committee is authorized to assist and counsel the office of jury commissioner in the implementation and administration of this chapter; to foster continuing study, research, and improvement of all aspects of the jury system; to encourage increased public interest and education in this field; to encourage improved cooperation and efficiency between the state and federal courts in matters of juror selection and management; and to encourage improved cooperation and efficiency between the judicial branch, other branches, and local units of government in the preparation and utilization of population lists and other materials. The committee may appoint such non-judicial members as it deems appropriate, provided, however, that these non-judicial members shall not vote on the official business of the committee. The office shall reimburse members of the jury management advisory committee for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

Section 7. The office of jury commissioner shall be composed of a jury commissioner and such staff positions as the jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, shall find necessary for the implementation and administration of this chapter. The jury commissioner shall be appointed by the supreme judicial court for the term of five years. The salaries of all employees of the office, including the jury commissioner, shall be established pursuant to the classification and compensation plan applicable to employees of the supreme judicial court. The jury commissioner shall be the executive head of the office of jury commissioner.

Section 8. The supreme judicial court may make and amend rules of court not inconsistent with this chapter, designating the participating counties and regulating all aspects of the selection and management of grand and trial jurors. The jury commissioner, with the approval of the supreme judicial court, may promulgate regulations setting forth policies, procedures, and forms for the selection and management of grand and trial jurors at local levels, in the juror pools, in courtrooms, and in other appropriate circumstances in furtherance of the ojectives of this chapter.

Section 9. The mayor, city manager, or other executive head of a city and the city clerk, jointly and severally, shall have the duty of fulfilling all obligations imposed upon such city under this chapter. The board of selectmen, town manager, or other executive head of a town and the town clerk, jointly and severally, shall have the duty of fulfilling all obligations imposed upon such town under this chapter. Obligations imposed upon cities and towns under this chapter shall include obligations established in the rules of the supreme judicial court and in the regulations of the jury commissioner made and duly promulgated under the provisions of this chapter. Cities and towns having boards of election commissioners or boards of registrars of voters may by letter to the jury commissioner signed by the executive head of the city or town delegate certain responsibilities under this chapter to such boards, but ultimate responsibility for compliance shall not be delegated.

Section 10. On or before the first day of June of each year, each city and town shall make a sequentially numbered list of the names, addresses, and dates of birth of all persons who were seventeen years of age or older as of the first day of January of the current year and who resided as of the first day of January of the current year in such city or town. The names of residents shall be listed and numbered, without duplication, in alphabetical order, one name to each number, along with such other information and in such form and format as shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. On or before the said date, each city and town shall submit one copy of this list to the office of jury commissioner and make a copy of such list available for inspection by members of the public. Hereinafter in this chapter, such list shall be referred to as the "numbered resident list" and a particular individual on such list shall be referred to as a "numbered resident". The cost of preparing the numbered resident list shall be paid by the city or town.

Section 11. On or before the first day of June of each year, each city and town having twenty thousand or more residents on its numbered resident list shall submit to the office of jury commissioner an automated copy of such list. Such automated copy, hereinafter in this chapter referred to as the "numbered resident file", shall be a data processing file contained on a magnetic computer tape or disk of such kind and in such format as shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. Any city or town having less than twenty thousand residents on its numbered resident list may comply with this section. Any city or town that complies with this section shall have fulfilled all of its obligations for submission of population data to the office of jury commissioner for the current year. The cost of preparing the numbered resident file shall be paid by the city or town. The office of jury commissioner shall return said computer tapes to the cities and towns within a reasonable time.

Section 12. On or before the first day of July of each year, the office of jury commissioner shall determine the number of prospective jurors to be drawn from each city and town. This number shall be as nearly as possible equal to the ratio of the population of the city or town to the entire population of the judicial district in which the particular city or town is situated, multiplied by the total number of prospective jurors required for the judicial district. The total number of prospective jurors required for each judicial district shall be determined by the jury commissioner as a matter of discretion. The population of the cities, towns, and judicial districts required under this section shall be determined from the numbered resident lists.

Section 13. On or before the first day of July of each year, the office of jury commissioner shall randomly select prospective jurors for each city and town from the corresponding numbered resident list or numbered resident file as follows: The office shall generate a sequence or list of random numbers for each city or town. On or before the said date, the office shall mail to each city or town that has not submitted a numbered resident file under section eleven of this chapter the particular sequence of random numbers generated for that city or town. The number of random numbers in each sequence shall be equal to the total number of prospective jurors to be drawn from the corresponding city or town. No random number shall appear twice in the same sequence. No random number in any sequence shall be greater than the highest number or total number of residents on the numbered resident list for the corresponding city or town. Each random number in each sequence shall correspond to the numbered resident having the identical number on the numbered resident list or numbered resident file of the city or town. Each such numbered resident, so identified and selected, shall be a prospective juror of the city or town. The method of generation of random numbers shall be approved by the jury commissioner and shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. Technical data on the integrity of the random number generation method used under this section shall be compiled by the office of jury commissioner. Such data shall be available to members of the public upon request.

Section 14. On or before the first day of August of each year, each city and town that has not submitted a numbered resident file pursuant to section eleven of this chapter shall submit to the office of jury commissioner a typewritten list of the randomly selected prospective jurors from such city or town. This list shall be typed on special forms, supplied by the office of jury commissioner without cost, in order that the list will be suitable for conversion into a data processing file by the office of jury commissioner. The content and format of such list and the special forms shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. The cost of typing the special forms shall be paid by the city or town. The cost of preparing a data processing file from the typewritten list shall be paid by the office of jury commissioner.

Section 15. On or before the first day of September of each year, the office of jury commissioner shall prepare the prospective juror list for each city and town. Each list shall contain the names, addresses, dates of birth, and related information for all randomly selected prospective jurors from the city or town. The list shall be in alphabetical order. The content and format of the prospective juror list shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. On or before the first day of October of each year, the office of jury commissioner shall mail two copies of the prospective juror list to each city and town. Each city and town shall make this list available for inspection by members of the public. The office of jury commissioner shall make the prospective juror list of any city or town available for inspection by members of the public upon request; provided, however, that such lists shall be available only to insure the integrity of the juror selection process and the accountability of the office of jury commissioner, and that the jury commissioner shall have discretionary authority to refuse to provide such lists for commercial or research purposes.

Section 16. On or before the first day of October of each year, the office of jury commissioner shall prepare the master juror list for each judicial district. The master juror list for a judicial district shall contain the aggregate of all prospective juror lists of cities and towns within the judicial district. Such list shall be randomly shuffled by the office of jury commissioner and stored as a data processing file on a magnetic tape or disk. After the random shuffling of the master juror list has occurred, the office of jury commissioner shall summon grand and trial jurors for a judicial district in sequence from the master juror list for the judicial district commencing with juror service to be performed on the first business day in January of the succeeding calendar year, unless the supreme judicial court shall order otherwise.

The office of jury commissioner may inhibit the summoning of a person on the master juror list on the ground that such person has been determined to be not-qualified to perform juror service under section four of this chapter in the current or previous three calendar years. The content and form of the master juror list shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner. The method of generation of random numbers and the method of randomly shuffling the master juror list shall be specified in the regulations of the jury commissioner.

Section 17. At least twelve weeks prior to the time when the services of grand or trial jurors are required, the clerk of each court requiring such jurors shall send or deliver a letter of venire to the office of jury commissioner. The letter of venire shall state the number of jurors required for grand jury service or for trial jury service, the court, and the judicial district. In the case of grand juror service, the letter shall state the beginning date and the estimated length of the term. In the case of a special grand jury, the letter may require the jury commissioner to summon jurors to appear for service forthwith or within a lesser period than would otherwise be required under this section. In the case of trial juror service, the letter shall state the period or periods of juror service to which the letter applies and the number of jurors required for each day during each period. The letter shall contain any further information which the jury commissioner deems appropriate.

Section 18. At least twelve weeks prior to the commencement of any term of grand or trial juror service, the jury commissioner shall determine, as a matter of discretion, the numbers of jurors to be summoned from each judicial district for grand and trial juror service. In making these discretionary determinations, the jury commissioner shall consider, among other factors, the experience of each court with respect to the numbers of grand and trial jurors who are impanelled or whose services are used during the impanelling process as compared to the numbers of jurors who are summoned.

Section 19. At least twelve weeks prior to the commencement of any term of grand or trial juror service, the office of jury commissioner shall summon by first-class mail, grand and trial jurors from the corresponding master juror list to appear for juror service within each judicial district. The summons shall state whether the anticipated service is that of a grand or trial juror, the beginning date of the term; the name, address, hour and room number, if any, of the courthouse or office to which the juror is directed to report on the first day of service; the fact that a trial juror has the right to one postponement of his term of juror service for not more than one year; the fact that a knowing failure to obey the summons without justifiable excuse is a crime, which, upon conviction, may be punished by fine of not more than two thousand dollars; and such other information and instructions as are deemed appropriate by the jury commissioner.

Section 20. Enclosed with the juror summons shall be a notice of qualifications for juror service. A summary of section four of this chapter shall be included in the said notice. This notice shall contain any further information and directions that the jury commissioner deems appropriate.

Section 21. Enclosed with the juror summons shall be a juror confirmation form. When completed by the juror, this form shall certify whether or not the juror is qualified to serve as a trial or grand juror. The form shall contain the following: a place where the juror may insert the month, day, and year, and an alternate month, day, and year, to which the juror elects to postpone his juror service; a place where the juror may make or acknowledge a declaration that hardship would be imposed upon him if he were required to serve at the court location to which he was summoned; a place where the juror may designate a more convenient jury-trial location within the judicial district; a place where the juror may insert name and address corrections, if applicable; and such other information and instructions as the jury commissioner deems appropriate. The form shall also contain a place for the signature of the juror, and it shall be signed under the penalties of perjury.

Section 22. Enclosed with the juror summons shall be a confidential juror questionnaire. The information elicited by the questionnaire shall be such information as is ordinarily raised in voir dire examinations of jurors, including the juror's name, sex, age, residence, marital status, number and ages of children, education level, occupation, employment address, spouse's occupation, spouse's employment address, previous service as a juror, present or past involvement as a party to civil or criminal litigation, relationship to a police or law enforcement officer, and such other information as the jury commissioner deems appropriate. The questionnaire shall contain the prospective juror's declaration that the information supplied in the completed questionnaire is true to the best of his knowledge and that he understands that a wilful misrepresentation of a material fact therein is a crime, which, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars. Immediately below such declaration, the questionnaire shall contain a place for the signature of the juror. A notice of the confidentiality of the completed questionnaire shall appear prominently on the face of the questionnaire.

Section 23. Unless the court orders otherwise, the clerk of court or an assistant clerk shall provide copies of the appropriate completed questionnaires to the trial judge and counsel for use during voir dire. Except for disclosures made during voir dire or unless the court orders otherwise, the information inserted by jurors in the questionnaires shall be held in confidence by the court, the clerk or assistant clerk, the parties, trial counsel, and their authorized agents. Upon completion of voir dire, the parties and their counsel shall return all copies of the completed questionnaire to the clerk or the assistant clerk. The clerk of court shall retain in a secure place all original completed questionnaires for each impanelled jury and alternate jurors until final disposition of the case. These completed questionnaires shall not constitute a public record. All copies of juror questionnaire, other than the copy retained by the trial judge and the original retained by the clerk, shall be destroyed as soon as practicable after the completion of voir dire.

Section 24. Every grand or trial juror shall return the juror confirmation form, duly completed and signed, within ten days after receipt by him of the juror summons. The office of jury commissioner shall provide a prepaid and addressed envelope for this purpose. If the juror is unable to complete and sign the form, he may authorize person to complete and sign the form on his behalf. A notice of the juror's duty to return the completed confirmation form within ten days of its receipt shall appear prominently on the face of the confirmation form. Where a juror is unable to return a juror confirmation form because of its loss or destruction or where there is insufficient time for the juror to confirm by mail, the office of jury commissioner may accept an oral confirmation from the juror by telephone or in person. Such oral confirmation shall be as valid and binding as if the confirmation were made in writing.

Section 25. Any grand or trial juror from whom the office of jury commissioner has not received a duly completed and signed juror confirmation form by the eighth week preceding the term of service for which the juror was summoned shall be summoned a second time. The second summons shall have the same content and form as the first summons, except the words "Second summons" shall appear prominently on the face of the summons. The second summons shall be sent by first-class mail, registered mail, or served by a sheriff or constable. A juror confirmation form and questionnaire shall be enclosed with the second summons. Any juror who receives a second summons shall return a duly completed and signed juror confirmation form within five days of its receipt.

Section 26. On or before the sixth week preceding any term of grand or trial juror service, the office of jury commissioner may summon additional grand or trial jurors if it appears from the returned juror confirmation forms that the number of previously summoned jurors who will report for service will be inadequate for the needs of the court. Any juror who is summoned under this section shall return a duly completed and signed confirmation form within ten days of its receipt by him. Any grand or trial juror summoned under the provision of this section from whom the office of jury commissioner has not received a duly completed and signed juror confirmation form by the third week preceding the term of service for which he was summoned shall be summoned a second time. The second summons shall have the same content and form as the first summons except the words "second summons" shall appear prominently on the face of the summons. The second summons shall be sent by first-class mail, registered mail, or served by a sheriff or constable. A juror who receives a second summons shall return a duly completed and signed juror confirmation form within five days of its receipt.

Section 27. The office of jury commissioner may summon additional grand and trial jurors to appear for juror service forthwith or at a time certain, with or without the right of postponement of juror service, with or without the opportunity to change the selection of the courthouse to which the juror has been assigned, in order to meet the urgent needs of the court. The office of jury commissioner shall employ whatever means of notice, including telephone notice, that is appropriate under the circumstances.

Section 28. The office of jury commissioner may cancel grand or trial juror service whenever it appears that the number of jurors scheduled to appear is in excess of the number reasonably required to conduct the business of the court without delay. The office of jury commissioner shall employ whatever means of notice, including telephone notice, that is appropriate under the circumstances. Any juror or standby juror whose service has been cancelled shall not be required to perform service at another time or place because of the cancellation, but such juror shall not be entitled to be disqualified under section four of this chapter if he should be randomly selected again within the succeeding three-year period.

Section 29. The office of jury commissioner may modify the date, location, or other condition of grand or trial juror service in order to meet the urgent needs of the court. The office of jury commissioner shall employ whatever means of notice, including telephone notice, that is appropriate under the circumstances.

Section 30. The office of jury commissioner or the court may impose a standby status condition on any trial or grand juror before or during his term of service. A juror on whom such condition has been imposed shall be referred to as a standby juror. The standby juror shall be prepared to serve on each day of his term or service, but he shall not appear for service unless directed to do so in the following manner. The standby juror shall make telephone inquiry to a designated office or court after three o'clock in the afternoon on the court day preceding his term of service in order to obtain specific instructions as to whether or not he should appear for juror service on the following court day. A juror may be continued on standby status from day to day, but his term of service shall not be enlarged because of the standby condition unless the juror has been impanelled on a case or unless ordered by the court. The designated office or court may use an automatic telephone answering device for the purpose of giving instructions to and receiving messages from standby jurors. A notice of standby status may be enclosed with the juror summons or may be sent separately. Any other form of standby notice reasonably contemplated to give actual notice may be used. The court shall have discretionary authority to excuse a juror from the standby condition upon a showing of unusual hardship caused by the condition, but such juror shall serve or be available to serve without the standby condition unless further excused by the court. The office of jury commissioner or the court may order a standby juror to serve or to appear for service upon a date and time certain without the necessity of telephone inquiry by the standby juror. The office of jury commissioner or the court may make further modifications of the standby condition as are reasonably contemplated to facilitate the management of cases before the court.

Section 31. On the first day of his term of grand or trial juror service, each juror shall bring to court and present to the officer in charge of jurors his summons, his confidential juror questionnaire, duly completed and signed, and any subsequent notices of postponement or location transfer received by him. Notice of these duties shall appear prominently on the summons, questionnaire, and notice of postponement, respectively.

Section 32. Any juror or other person who wilfully misrepresents a material fact in the confidential questionnaire for the purpose of either avoiding or securing service as a grand or trial juror shall be guilty of a crime, and, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars.

Section 33. The court, the office of jury commissioner, and the clerk of court or assistant clerk shall have authority to inquire into the criminal history records of grand and trial jurors for the limited purpose of corroborating and determining their qualifications for juror service. Notwithstanding any other special or General Law to the contrary, the said authority shall include the right to request and receive such criminal history records and information from the criminal offender record information system as is necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter. All criminal offender record information obtained under this section shall be held confidential by persons authorized hereunder.

Section 34. A trial juror shall have the right to one postponement of his term of juror service for not more than one year. The trial juror must exercise this right by duly completing and returning the juror confirmation form in which his election to postpone shall be indicated. The month and date, and an alternate month and date, to which the service is postponed shall be indicated in the confirmation form. The office of jury commissioner shall have authority to effectuate such first postponements. If the postponement date designated by a trial juror is improper, unavailable, or inconvenient for the court, the office of jury commissioner shall assign the alternate postponement date unless date is also improper, unavailable, or inconvenient in which case the office of jury commissioner shall assign a date of service which is reasonably close to the postponement date selected by the trial juror. The jury commissioner, with the approval of the jury management advisory committee, shall have discretionary authority to limit the numbers of postponements allowed each day in each courthouse in order to maintain the integrity of the demographic cross-sections appearing in the juror pools.

Section 35. Grand and trial jurors shall be summoned at random from the entire judicial district to perform juror service at any particular location within the judicial district, unless the supreme judicial court, by rule of court, orders otherwise. The office of jury commissioner and the court shall have discretionary authority to permit a juror to perform his juror service at a different jury-trial location within the judicial district upon a finding that hardship will be imposed upon the juror if he were required to serve at the original location. The jury commissioner, with the approval of the jury management advisory committee, shall have discretionary authority to limit the numbers of courthouse transfers allowed each day to or from each courthouse in order to maintain the integrity of the demographic cross-sections appearing in the juror pools.

Section 36. Not later than two weeks after the receipt of the juror confirmation form containing an election to postpone or a request to transfer juror service to a different location, the office of jury commissioner shall send a notice to the juror by first class mail. This notice shall state the date of postponement, if any, effectuated by the office of jury commissioner. The notice shall also state whether or not the request for a location transfer has been allowed and the current location to which the juror is assigned. The juror shall appear for service on the date and at the location indicated in this notice without further summoning. Such notice shall contain a statement to this effect prominently on its face.

Section 37. The legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the commonwealth and of the United States shall not be impeded by the provisions of this chapter from freely exercising their independent powers and duties. Any of the following persons who has been summoned as a juror or who is performing juror service and who certifies in writing to the court that there is important business of the commonwealth or the United States which requires his presence away from the court during his term of service shall be granted, as a matter of right, an immediate postponement of his term of service as a grand or trial juror: the governor, the lieutenant-governor, councillors, other state constitutional officers, senators, representatives, and justices of the supreme judicial court; the president, vice president, other constitutional officers of the United States, senators, representatives, and justices of the supreme court. In the certificate to the court, the persons requesting the postponement shall state a period of time reasonably contemplated for the completion of such official business. The length of the postponement granted by the court shall not be less than the period stated in the certificate. Any person who qualifies under this section may request and shall receive any number of postponements.

Section 38. A grand or trial juror may be permitted by the court to be available for juror service or continued juror service upon telephone notice. A juror who agrees to be available on telephone notice shall provide to the court a telephone number and a named individual by which he may be notified with certainty during court hours to begin or resume his juror service not more than one hour after such notice has been given. Such juror shall conduct his affairs during court hours so that he shall insure his compliance with the conditions of telephone notice.

Section 39. The court or the office of jury commissioner shall have authority to defer or advance any term of grand or trial juror service upon a finding of hardship, inconvenience, or public necessity provided the juror recognizes his firm obligation to perform juror service on the new date. The court shall have authority to excuse a grand juror from juror service, in part or in full, upon a finding of hardship, inconvenience, or public necessity, taking into consideration the length of grand juror service. The court shall have authority to excuse a trial juror from juror service, in part or in full, upon a finding of extreme hardship; the court shall exercise this authority strictly. Notwithstanding the fact that a juror has been summoned as a grand or trial juror, with or without right of postponement of service, the court shall have the discretionary authority to require the juror to serve either as a grand or trial juror, immediately or at a future date, at the original court location or at a different court location. The court may impose reasonable conditions and limitations, including appropriate time limitations, upon a term of juror service. It shall be the policy of this chapter that every trial juror shall be prepared to serve three trial days; the court shall not grant term limitations of less than three trial days exept upon a finding that extreme hardship would be imposed upon the juror in the absence of such limitation. The court shall have the discretionary authority to dismiss a juror at any time in the best interests of justice. The court shall have authority to excuse and discharge an impanelled juror prior to jury deliberations after a hearing upon a finding of extreme hardship. The court shall have authority to excuse and discharge a juror participating in jury deliberations after a hearing only upon a finding of an emergency or other compelling reason. The court shall have authority to discharge an impanelled juror who has not appeared for juror service upon a finding that there is a stong likelihood that an unreasonable delay in the trial would occur if the court were to await the appearance of the juror. At any time during the trial, the court shall discharge any juror whose term limitation has expired upon the demand of the juror except where the court finds unusual circumstances; such discharge shall not be a ground for mistrial or objection by any party. The court may exercise any authority granted in this section at any time before or during a juror's term of service.

Section 40. In the event a trial is expected by the court to last more than three trial days, the trial judge shall announce this fact to jurors before the jury is impanelled. The trial judge may excuse a juror from performing his juror service on such an extended trial upon a finding of hardship, inconvenience, or public necessity taking into consideration the expected length of the extended trial, but any juror so excused shall otherwise complete his term of juror service.

Section 41. The length of the term of service for trial jurors shall be one day unless a juror is assigned to or impanelled on an incompleted trial when the term ends or unless the court orders otherwise. Nothing in this section shall prevent a trial juror from serving or participating on more than one trial during his term, except that a trial juror who has participated in the rendering of a verdict shall not be required to participate in a second trial even though the juror may not have completed his first day of juror service at the time of commencement of the second trial. Jurors in the juror pool awaiting assignment to a trial shall be discharged as early in the afternoon as possible after it has been determined that their services as jurors will not be needed. The length of the term of service for grand jurors shall be three months unless the court enlarges such term. The court shall have authority to enlarge grand jurors' terms of service upon a finding that the efficient administration of justice requires such enlargement.

Section 42. The court shall take whatever actions are appropriate to enforce the provisions of this chapter. Upon a finding by the court that a juror will not appear to perform or complete juror service or in response to the court's order, the court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the juror or may take such other appropriate actions as are likely to compel the juror to appear before the court. Any grand or trial juror who fails to appear for juror service or who fails to perform any condition of his juror service shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction thereof, may be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars.

Section 43. The office of jury commissioner may send a delinquency notice by certified or first-class mail or by delivery by a sheriff or constable to any grand or trial juror who has failed to appear for juror service based upon the records in the office of jury commissioner; provided, however, that the purpose of the delinquency notice shall be only to notify the juror of his delinquency status and to rectify the problem by appropriate means. The office of jury commissioner shall have discretionary authority to resolve problems with delinquent jurors or with jurors appearing to be delinquent in accordance with guidelines approved by the committee.

Section 44. The office of jury commissioner may prepare an application for the issuance of a criminal complaint against any grand or trial juror who has not been removed from delinquency status by the office of jury commissioner within thirty days after the date of a delinquency notice sent to such juror. The application shall aver that the named person was duly selected and summoned to perform trial or grand juror service at a specified location on a specified date and that such person has failed to appear for jury service without justifiable excuse in violation of section forty-two. The information provided in the application shall be based upon the records of the office of jury commissioner. The application shall contain the name, address, and identification number of the juror and a summary of all official transactions between the juror and the office of jury commissioner that have occurred as of the date of the application. At the bottom of the application, there shall be a certificate signed by the legal counsel for the office of jury commissioner declaring that the information provided in the application is true and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief. The application shall contain such further information as deemed appropriate by the jury commissioner with the approval of the jury management advisory committee. The application may be submitted by mail or personal delivery to any superior or district court having criminal jurisdiction over such juror. The office of jury commissioner shall send a copy of this application to the juror by first-class or certified mail. The legal counsel or his delegate shall be authorized to represent the jury commissioner and the office of jury commissioner in all judicial proceedings arising out of any application for the issuance of a criminal complaint under this section or otherwise.

Section 45. The office of jury commissioner shall perform studies, foster research, and implement new procedures which are contemplated to accomplish the following: improvement of all aspects of the administration of jurors; reduction of the costs of selection, management, and compensation of jurors; monitoring and improvement of the integrity of jury pools and jury panels; more effective utilization of jurors in the jury pools; improved understanding by jurors of their duties and of the court's charge and instructions; providing for the reasonable comfort and convenience of jurors during their terms of service; and providing jurors with a heightened appreciation of the judicial system.

Section 46. The committee or the court may delegate to the jury commissioner of the office of jury commissioner such authority as is appropriate for the efficient administration of this chapter in accordance with guidelines approved by the committee or the court.

Section 47. The compensation and reimbursement policy of this chapter shall be to prevent financial hardship being imposed upon any juror because of performance of juror service insofar as possible.

Where financial hardship exists, the court shall attempt to place the juror into the same financial position as such juror would have been were it not for the performance of juror service. The jury commissioner may issue regulations, not inconsistent with this chapter, further defining rights and obligations of jurors and employers with respect to compensation and reimbursements to jurors during such service.

Section 48. Each regularly employed trial or grand juror shall be paid regular wages by his employer for the first three days, or part thereof, of juror service. Regular employment shall include part-time, temporary, and casual employment as long as the employment hours of a juror reasonably may be determined by a schedule or by custom and practice established during the three-month period preceding the term of service of such juror. Each self-employed trial or grand juror shall compensate himself for the first three days, or part thereof, of juror service.

Section 49. The court shall have the authority to excuse an employer from the duty to compensate a juror-employee or to excuse a self-employed juror from the duty to compensate himself for the first three days, or part thereof, of trial or grand juror service upon a finding that extreme financial hardship would be imposed upon the employer or self-employed juror if such duty were not removed. If an employer or self-employed juror is so excused, the court shall award reasonable compensation in lieu of wages to the juror to be paid by the commonwealth for the first three days, or part thereof, of juror service. Such award shall not exceed fifty dollars per day of trial or grand juror service. The hearing on the employer's extreme financial hardship shall occur no later than thirty days after the tender of the juror service certificate to the employer.

Section 50. Each unemployed trial or grand juror upon application shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth for reasonable travel, child-care, and other necessary out-of-pocket expenses, except food, incurred during the first three days, or part thereof, of juror service. The office of jury commissioner, with the approval of the committee, shall establish guidelines for reimbursement of jurors under this section. Each reimbursement award falling outside such guidelines shall be approved by the court prior to such reimbursement. A reimbursement award under this section shall not exceed fifty dollars per day of juror service. Any juror who is not regularly employed, as provided in section forty-eight, including but not limited to retired persons, homemakers, students, and unemployed persons, shall be entitled to reimbursement upon application under this section. The application for reimbursement by a juror under this section shall be made prior to or during the judicial discretion hearings on the first morning of the term of service of such juror. An unemployed trial or grand juror receiving benefits under the laws of employment security of this commonwealth shall not lose such benefits on account of his performance of the first three days of juror service.

Section 51. Each trial juror who serves more than three days shall be paid by the commonwealth for the fourth day of service and each day thereafter at the rate of fifty dollars per day of service. A trial juror receiving payment under this section shall not be entitled to additional reimbursement for travel or other out-of-pocket expenses.

Section 52. Upon the commencement of grand juror service, each grand juror shall complete and sign a financial questionnaire under the penalties of perjury. The completed questionnaire shall contain the financial data necessary for the determination of a daily compensation rate for the grand juror to be paid by the commonwealth for the fourth and subsequent days of grand juror service. The questionnaire shall indicate whether or not the grand juror is employed and, if so, the regular daily wages of the juror and the daily compensation the juror expects to receive from his employer while performing grand juror service. The questionnaire shall indicate travel expenses, if any, in excess of those ordinarily incurred by the juror, as a result of grand juror service. The questionnaire shall be in such form and shall contain such further information as deemed appropriate by the jury commissioner with the approval of the committee. The court, clerk of court, or assistant clerk may make inquiry to a grand juror's employer for the purpose of corroborating or clarifying information supplied by the grand juror or to ascertain relevant policies of the employer. The information supplied by grand jurors in these questionnaires shall be held confidential by the court, clerk of court, and assistant clerks. A grand juror shall notify the court if at any time during the period of his grand juror service the information provided by the juror in the financial question changes or becomes obsolete. A notice of this duty shall appear prominently on the questionnaire. The completed questionnaires shall be kept on file in the office of the clerk of court for one year after the discharge of the grand jury. Completed questionnaires shall not constitute a public record.

Section 53. On the first day of grand juror service, the court shall hold a private hearing with each impanelled grand juror. The purpose of this hearing shall be to determine a daily compensation rate for each grand juror, not exceeding fifty dollars per day of service, to be paid by the commonwealth to the juror for the fourth and subsequent days of grand juror service. In this hearing the court shall consider the information contained in the grand juror financial questionnaire and other relevant information. For each day of service, a grand juror shall be entitled to receive, cumulatively from his employer and the commonwealth, an amount equal to the greater of the following two rates: fifty dollars per day or an amount not in excess of the regular daily wages plus daily travel expenses in excess of those ordinarily incurred by the juror; provided, however, that the contribution by the commonwealth to this amount shall not exceed fifty dollars per day.

Section 54. Each grand juror who serves more than three days shall be paid by the commonwealth for the fourth day of service and each day of service thereafter at the daily compensation rate for the particular grand juror determined under the section fifty-three.
