Chap. 7. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE PREVENTION OF AND RESPONSE TO RELEASES OF OIL AND HAZARDOUS MATERIALS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to clarify and improve the commonwealth's capability for responding to releases of oil and hazardous material and to recover response costs from persons responsible for releases for which it has incurred such costs, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of public health and safety.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 26A of chapter 21 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the definition of "Hazardous material", inserted by section 1 of chapter 705 of the acts of 1979.

The commissioner of administration, in consultation with the commissioner of the department of environmental quality engineering, shall establish and annually review a schedule of reasonable fees to be paid by persons licensed to transport hazardous waste under this section. To the extent practical such fees shall be established at a rate or rates intended to generate monies equal to the costs, including costs of debt service, incurred by the commonwealth on account of projects to assess, contain and remove releases and threats of release of oil and hazardous material, less amounts recovered by the commonwealth from persons liable for such releases and threats of release. Such fees shall be established by regulations adopted after public hearing and in accordance with section two of chapter thirty A. Such fees shall be based on the quantity and type of hazardous waste transported or such other factors as the commissioner of administration may deem appropriate; provided, however, that said commissioner may provide reasonable exemptions from such fees for the transport of hazardous waste for recycling or reuse in a manufacturing process. Annually, the commissioner of administration shall report to the house and senate committees on ways and means the amounts received as fees and expended on account of projects to assess, contain and remove releases and threats of release of oil and hazardous material during the preceding year, and the amounts anticipated to be received as such fees and to be expended on account of such projects during the following year.

SECTION 5. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 21D the following chapter:-

(b) For the purpose of implementing this chapter, FWPCA, CERCLA, and other pertinent federal laws and regulations, the department is authorized and directed to prepare and from time to time update a Massachusetts Contingency Plan which, as nearly as the department deems appropriate and practicable, shall comport with and complement the National Contingency Plan prepared under the authority of 33USCSec.1321(c) and 42USCSec. 9605. In preparing said plan the department shall consider and take into account regionally and locally developed contingency plans.

(c) The department shall promulgate such regulations as it deems necessary for the implementation, administration and enforcement of this chapter, FWPCA, CERCLA and other pertinent laws. Such regulations may include provisions waiving or limiting the applicability of this chapter as to any matter which the department determines to be adequately regulated by another program or government agency. The department shall integrate its implementation and enforcement of this chapter with other programs established for the protection of the public health, safety, welfare and the environment.

Section 4. The department, whenever it has reason to believe that oil or hazardous material has been released or that there is a threat of release of oil or hazardous material, is authorized to take or arrange for such response actions as it reasonably deems necessary. Releases and threats of release for which the department undertakes such response actions, and the extent of such response actions, shall be determined by reference to the Massachusetts contingency plan. Prior to undertaking any response action, the department shall notify the owner or operator of the site or vessel of its intent to take such action. Such notice shall not be required when the department does not know the identity or location of the owner or operator, or when because of an emergency or other circumstance, the giving of such notice would be impractical. In the event the department and the department of public health jointly determine the need for, scope and cost of a study of the public health effects of a release or threat of release of oil or hazardous material, the department shall provide for the conduct of such a study under the direction of the department of public health.

Nothing in this section shall preclude assessment, containment and removal by any person threatened or damaged by such release or threat of release, provided such assessment, containment and removal is conducted in accordance with the Massachusetts contingency plan and consistently with assessment, containment and removal actions conducted by the department. Chemicals shall not be used in the assessment, containment and removal of released oil or hazardous materials unless and until their use has been authorized by the department.

Any person who undertakes assessment, containment or removal action regarding the release or threat of release of oil or hazardous material shall be entitled to reimbursement from any other person liable for such release or threat of release for the reasonable costs of such assessment, containment and removal. If such release resulted from the negligence of two or more persons, each shall be liable to the others for his pro rata share of the costs of assessment, containment and removal. Any person who without charge renders assistance at the request of a duly authorized representative of the department in removing oil or hazardous material released shall not be held liable, notwithstanding any other provision of law, for civil damages as a result of any act or omission by him in removing such oil or hazardous material, except for acts or omissions of gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Section 5. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, (1) the owner or operator of a vessel or a site from or at which there is or has been a release or threat of release of oil or hazardous material; (2) any person who at the time of storage or disposal of any hazardous material owned or operated any site at or upon which such hazardous material was stored or disposed of and from which there is or has been a release or threat of release of hazardous material; (3) any person who by contract, agreement, or otherwise, directly or indirectly, arranged for the transport, disposal, storage or treatment of hazardous material to or in a site or vessel from or at which there is or has been a release or threat of release of hazardous material; (4) any person who, directly or indirectly, transported any hazardous material to transport, disposal, storage or treatment vessels or sites from or at which there is or has been a release or threat of release of such material; and (5) any person who otherwise caused or is legally responsible for a release or threat of release of oil or hazardous material from a vessel or site, shall be liable, without regard to fault, (i) to the commonwealth for all costs of assessment, containment and removal incurred pursuant to section four and section eight relative to such release or threat of release, (ii) to the commonwealth for all damages for injury to and for destruction or loss of natural resources, including the costs of assessing and evaluating such injury, destruction or loss, incurred or suffered as a result of such release or threat of release, and (iii) to any person for damage to his real or personal property incurred or suffered as a result of such release or threat of release. Except as provided in paragraph (b), such liability shall be joint and several.

(b) Any person otherwise liable for any costs or damages set forth in subclauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of paragraph (a) who establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that only a portion of such costs or damages is attributable to a release or threat of release of such oil or hazardous material for which he is included as a party under clauses (1), (2), (3), (4) or (5) of said paragraph (a) shall be required to pay only for such portion.

(c) Subject to the limitation provided in paragraph (d), there shall be no liability under paragraph (a) for a person otherwise liable who can establish by a preponderance of the evidence, (A) that the release or threat of release of oil or hazardous material and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by:

(1) an act of God;

(2) an act of war;

(3) an act or omission of a third party other than an employee or agent of the person, or than one whose act or omission occurs in connection with a contractual relationship existing directly or indirectly, with the person, except where the sole contractual arrangement arises from a published tariff and acceptance for carriage by a common carrier by rail, if the person establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that he exercised due care with respect to the oil or hazardous material, that he took precautions against forseeable acts or omissions of any third party and the consequences that could forseeably result from such acts or omissions, and that he complied with all notification requirements of section seven; or

(4) any combination of the foregoing paragraphs, or (B) with respect to liabilities under subclauses (i) and (ii) of paragraph (a), that the substance or amount thereof released or threatened to be released does not represent a long or short term danger to the public health, safety, welfare or the environment.

(d) Any person whose land has been the site of a release of hazardous material for which the department has incurred costs for assessment, containment and removal under section four and who can establish by a preponderance of the evidence that he is otherwise eligible for the defenses set forth in paragraph (c) shall be liable to the department for such expenses only to the extent of the value of the property following the department's assessment, containment and removal actions.

(e) All persons liable under this section who are liable for a release or a threat of release for which the department incurs costs for assessment, containment and removal, shall be liable, jointly and severally, to the commonwealth in an amount up to three times their liability as set forth in this section.

(f) No indemnification, hold harmless, or similar agreement or conveyance shall be effective to transfer from the owner or operator of any vessel or site or from any person who may be liable for a release or threat of release of hazardous material under this section, to any other person the liability imposed under this section. Nothing in this paragraph shall bar any agreement to insure, hold harmless, or indemnify a party to such agreement for any liability under this section.

Section 6. The department may specify reasonable requirements, applicable to sites and vessels where releases of hazardous material might occur and to activities which might cause, contribute to, or exacerbate a release of hazardous material, to prevent and control, and to counter the effects of, such releases. Such requirements may be prescribed by regulations adopted under section three for classes of sites and vessels which the department reasonably has determined to pose a threat of release of hazardous material, and by order under section nine for specific sites and vessels which the department has determined to have a record of releases, or to have failed to respond properly to a release or threat of release of hazardous material, or to be conducting an activity which poses a threat of release of hazardous material. Such requirements may include, without limitation, but without duplication of requirements prescribed in other programs of the department, the preparation of contingency plans, the acquisition, construction, maintenance and operation of equipment, facilities and resources for the monitoring, prevention and control of releases, and the staffing and training of personnel regarding the prevention and control of releases of hazardous material.

Section 7. Any owner or operator of a site or vessel, and any person otherwise described in paragraph (a) of section five, as soon as he has knowledge of a release or a threat of release of oil or hazardous material, shall immediately notify the department thereof. Such notice shall not be required hereunder for any release which conforms to the terms of a currently valid permit or license issued by the department. Such notice shall not be required hereunder for the application of a pesticide product registered under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act 7USCSec.136 et seq., and under the provisions of chapter one hundred and thirty-two B, or to the handling and storage of such a pesticide product by an agricultural producer.

Section 8. For the purpose of the administration and enforcement of this chapter and for the protection of the public health, safety, welfare and the environment, authorized personnel of the department may enter any site or vessel, at reasonable times and upon reasonable notice, to investigate, sample and inspect any records, conditions, equipment, practice or property. In the event that the department reasonably determines as a result of such investigation, sampling or inspection that there has been a release or that there is a threat of release of oil or hazardous material from or at such site or vessel, the department and its authorized personnel, agents and contractors may enter such site and vessel and areas proximate thereto and undertake such actions pursuant to section four relative to the assessment, containment and removal of oil or hazardous material as it reasonably deems necessary.

In the event that it has reason to believe that the owner or operator of a vessel or site has made fraudulent representations to the department or has destroyed or concealed evidence relating to a release or threat of release or to the assessment, containment or removal of a release or threat of release, the department may seize any records, equipment, property or other evidence it deems necessary. During the course of any assessment, containment and removal actions, the department may restrict and deny entry to the site or vessel and proximate property to protect the public health, safety, welfare and the environment and to provide for the efficient, expeditious and safe conduct of such actions; such restriction and denial shall not preclude access by the owner or operator of such site or vessel, provided that such owner or operator complies with all safety and operational protocols and requirements imposed by and to the satisfaction of the department and provided such owner or operator does not interfere with the efficient, expeditious and safe conduct of the department's assessment, containment and removal actions.

Section 9. Whenever it has reason to believe that oil or hazardous material has been released or that there is a threat of release of oil or hazardous material, the department may order any person causing or legally responsible for such release or threat of release to conduct an assessment of such release or threat of release. Releases and threats of release for which the department orders such assessment shall be determined by reference to the Massachusetts contingency plan.

Whenever in the opinion of the department release or threat of release poses a significant danger to the public health, safety, welfare or the environment, the department may issue to any person causing or legally responsible for such release or threat of release an order requiring such person to conduct such containment and removal actions, consistent with the Massachusetts contingency plan, as the department reasonably deems necessary.

Whenever there is a violation of this chapter, the department may issue to such person causing or contributing to such violation an order requiring the production or analysis of samples and the production of records, or imposing such restraints of or requiring such action by said persons.

Issuance of an order under this section shall not preclude, and shall not be deemed an election to forego, any action authorized by section four or any action to recover damages, costs, or to seek civil penalties, criminal fines and sanctions, or injunctive relief.

Section 10. Any person aggrieved by a determination by the department to issue, deny, modify, revoke or suspend any order under the provisions of this chapter may request an adjudicatory hearing before the department under the provisions of chapter thirty A. Any such determination shall contain a notice of the right to request a hearing and may specify a reasonable time limit, not to exceed twenty-one days, within which said person shall request said hearing. If no such request is timely made, the determination shall be deemed assented to. If a timely request is received, the department within a reasonable time shall act upon such request in accordance with the provisions of said chapter thirty A.

If in making a determination which under the provisions of the first paragraph may be the subject of an adjudicatory hearing, the department finds that an imminent threat to the public health, safety or the environment could result, pending the conclusion of the adjudicatory hearing requested thereon, the department may order that the determination become provisionally effective and enforceable immediately upon issuance, and shall remain so notwithstanding and until the conclusion of any adjudicatory hearing procedures.

A person aggrieved by a final decision in an adjudicatory hearing held under the provisions of this section may obtain judicial review thereof pursuant to the provisions of chapter thirty A.

Section 11. Any violation of this chapter, or of any regulation adopted or order issued thereunder, shall be presumed to constitute irreparable harm to the public health, safety, welfare or the environment. Such presumption may be rebutted by a preponderance of evidence.

In addition to liability for costs incurred by the commonwealth for the investigation, assessment, containment and removal of a release or a threat of a release of oil or hazardous material, any person who violates any provision of this chapter, or any order or regulation issued or adopted thereunder: (a) shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars for each such violation; or (b) shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than five years or both, for each such violation. Each day such violation occurs or continues shall be considered a separate violation.

The superior court department of the trial court shall have jurisdiction to enjoin violations of, or grant such additional relief as it deems necessary or appropriate to secure compliance with, the provisions of this chapter, or any order or regulation issued or adopted thereunder upon the petition of the attorney general or the commissioner. Upon request of the commissioner, the attorney general may bring an action to recover all costs incurred by the commonwealth in the assessment, containment and removal of any release or threat of release of oil or hazardous material. Actions brought by the attorney general to recover such costs shall be commenced within five years from the date the commonwealth incurs all such cost or five years from the date the commonwealth discovers the person responsible for the release or threat of release on account of which the commonwealth has incurred such costs, whichever occurs later.

Section 12. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, any information, record, or particular part thereof, obtained by the department, its personnel or contractors pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, upon request shall be confidential and shall not be considered to be a public record when it is determined by the commissioner that such information, record or report relates to secret processes, methods of manufacture, or production, or that such information, record or report, if made public, would divulge a trade secret. This section shall not prevent disclosure of any information necessary for an enforcement or cost recovery action or to comply with CERCLA or FWPCA.

Section 13. Any liability to the commonwealth under this chapter shall constitute a debt to the commonwealth. Any such debt together with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date such debt becomes due, shall constitute a lien on all property, and rights to property, real and personal, presently owned or after acquired, of the persons liable under this chapter if a statement of claim, describing the property subject to the lien and signed by the commissioner, is filed within ninety days after the incurrence of costs and expenses. In the case of real property, the statement shall be filed in, accepted and recorded by the appropriate registry of deeds. In the case of personal property, whether tangible or intangible, the statement shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of section 9-401 of chapter one hundred and six.

Any lien filed pursuant to this section shall have priority over any prior encumbrancer or levying creditor, and over any subsequent purchaser, encumbrancer, or levying creditor of the owner of the property subject to the lien. Such lien shall continue until the liability for the amount so assessed is satisfied. Such lien against real property may be dissolved by filing with the appropriate register of deeds a certificate signed by the commissioner that the debt for which such lien attached, together with interest and costs thereon, has been paid or legally abated.

SECTION 6. The department of environmental quality engineering is authorized and directed to expend a sum, not to exceed twenty-five million dollars, to be raised by the sale of notes and bonds authorized by sections seven and eight of this act, for the purpose of carrying out the actions authorized by section four of chapter twenty-one E of the General Laws. Funds provided by this act shall be in addition to funds provided by chapter six hundred and eighty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six, chapter seven hundred and forty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy, chapter seven hundred and ninety-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and by chapter two hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two. Any funds received as fines or penalties under chapters twenty-one C and twenty-one E of the General Laws as well as any funds received as cost recovery from persons liable under section five of said chapter twenty-one E shall be applied to payment of interest and principal on notes and bonds issued under sections seven and eight of this act, as the commissioner of administration may direct.

SECTION 7. In addition to any federal funds received, the state treasurer may borrow from time to time on credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments under this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Said notes may be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes shall be not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety.

SECTION 8. To meet a portion of the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section six of this act, or to refinance notes issued as provided in section seven of this act, the state treasurer, upon request of the governor, shall issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth, registered or with coupons attached, as he deems best, to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of twenty-five million dollars.

All bonds so issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Oil and Hazardous Material Response Loan, Act of 1983, and shall be issued for such maximum terms of years, not exceeding thirty-five years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and seventeen. SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists with respect to the housing of a substantial number of citizens in the town of Bernardston, which emergency has been created by excessive, abnormally high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile home parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and eviction of tenants are regulated and controlled, such emergency will produce serious threats to the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of said town, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Bernardston.

SECTION 2. The town of Bernardston may, by its by-laws, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said town, establish a rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, establishing minimum standards for use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and eviction of tenants therefrom and may, by its by-laws, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, under penalty of perjury, of information relating to the mobile home park accommodations. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 47A of chapter 94C of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second and third paragraphs, inserted by chapter 798 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following four paragraphs:-

In the event of an appeal as prescribed by law, the evidence officer shall retain possession of such controlled substances or narcotic drugs until final disposition of the case, at which time, the district attorney or attorney general may petition the superior court for summary destruction of such controlled substances or narcotic drugs.

The department shall keep a record of the place where such controlled substances or narcotic drugs were seized, of the kinds and quantities of drugs received, by whose order the controlled substance or narcotic drugs were received, by whom the controlled substance or narcotic drugs were delivered and received, the date and manner of destruction or disposition of such controlled substances or narcotic drugs, and a report under oath of such destruction or disposition shall be made to the court, which record shall be open to inspection by attorneys of record in the case and by all federal and state officers charged with enforcement of federal and state narcotic laws.

SECTION 4. The planning director, the chief of police, the chief of the fire department, the superintendent of public works, the city engineer, the parking clerk and city solicitor of the city shall be available to said traffic commission to advise on matters relating to their respective departments and shall be responsible for putting into effect the rules and regulations adopted by said traffic commission in so far as such rules and regulations relate to their respective departments. For purposes of this section, "total income" means the sum of (i) the Part A adjusted gross income, (ii) the Part B adjusted gross income, (iii) the amount deducted under subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph (2) of subsection (a) of section two, and (iv) interest on governmental obligations excluded under section one hundred and three of the Code to the extent not includable in Massachusetts gross income under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of section two. With respect to a person who is a nonresident for all or part of the taxable year, total income shall be determined as if he were a resident of the commonwealth throughout the entire taxable year.

For purposes of this chapter and chapter sixty-two C, such payment of winnings shall be treated as if it were wages paid by an employer to an employee. Every person who is to receive a payment of winnings which is subject to withholding under this section shall furnish to the person making such payment a statement, made under penalties of perjury, containing the name, address and taxpayer identification number of the person receiving the payment and of each person entitled to any portion of such payment.

SECTION 31. Said chapter 62B is hereby further amended by inserting after section 12 the following section:-

All taxes so deducted and withheld and paid over to the commissioner shall be deemed and credited as payments on account of the tax imposed under chapter sixty-two or sixty-three, as the case may be, and shall be considered estimated taxes paid on account of such liability.

SECTION 35. Said chapter 62C is hereby further amended by inserting after section 47 the following section:-

Section 47A. (a) Every department, board, commission, division, authority, district or other agency of the commonwealth or any subdivision of the commonwealth, including a city, town or district, issuing or renewing a license or other authority to conduct a profession, trade or business shall annually, on or before February first, furnish to the commissioner, in such form as the commissioner may by regulation determine, a list of all licenses or certificates of authority issued or renewed by such agency during the preceding year.

(c) The lists provided to the commissioner shall contain the name, address, social security or federal identification number of such licensee or provider, and such other information as the commissioner may by regulation provide.

Upon the written request of the commissioner, and after a hearing and notice to the licensee as required under any applicable provision of law, such agency, if a department, board, commission, division, authority, district or other agency of the commonwealth, shall revoke or suspend such license or certificate of authority if such agency finds that the returns and taxes required under this chapter have not been filed or paid and that the licensee has not filed in good faith a pending application for abatement of such tax or a pending petition before the appellate tax board contesting such tax. For the purpose of such findings, the written representation to that effect by the commissioner to the agency shall constitute prima facie evidence thereof. The commissioner shall have the right to intervene in any hearing conducted with respect to such license revocation or suspension. Any findings made by the agency with respect to such license revocation or suspension shall be made only for the purposes of such proceeding and shall not be relevant to or introduced in any other proceeding at law, except for any appeal from such license revocation or suspension. Any license or certificate of authority suspended or revoked under this section shall not be reissued or renewed until the agency receives a certificate issued by the commissioner that the licensee is in good standing with respect to any and all returns due and taxes payable to the commissioner as of the date of issuance of said certificate, including all taxes and returns referenced in the initial notification. Any person aggrieved by the decision of the agency may appeal therefrom pursuant to the provisions of section fourteen of chapter thirty A.

(c) Any such agency, which has been notified by the commissioner pursuant to section forty-seven that a person who holds a license or certificate of authority issued by such agency or who has agreed to furnish goods, services or real estate space to such agency has neglected or refused to file any returns or to pay any tax required under this chapter and that such person has not filed in good faith a pending application for abatement of such tax or a pending petition before the appellate tax board contesting such tax, shall refuse to reissue, renew or extend such license, certificate of authority, contract or agreement until the agency receives a certificate issued by the commissioner that the person is in good standing with respect to any and all returns due and taxes payable to the commissioner as of the date of issuance of said certificate, including all returns and taxes referenced in the initial notification.

The period so agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon. When any question relative to such taxes is pending before any agency or court at the end of such ten year period, the commissioner's right to collect any tax due shall continue until one year after the final determination of such question.

SECTION 38. Said chapter 62C is hereby further amended by inserting after section 67A the following section:-

Section 67B. Any such agreement with such other state is conditional upon such state granting equivalent waivers to vendors located in the commonwealth who do business in such other state.

SECTION 39. Said chapter 62C is hereby further amended by inserting after section 67B, inserted by section 38 of this act, the following section:-

Section 67C. If the commissioner determines that significant tax evasion is attributable to the improper use of sales or use tax resale, exemption, exempt use and other types of certificates issued under chapters sixty-four H and sixty-four I, he is authorized to revise the procedures for the issuance, acceptance and recognition of such certificates. He may, in his discretion, prohibit the use of blanket certificates, require such certificates to contain additional or more specific information relating to the sale or use, or require the periodic transmittal of copies of such certificates, or a summary thereof, to him as part of the return otherwise due from the vendor.

Section 11. Every savings bank as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, every co-operative bank as defined in chapter one hundred and seventy, every state or federal savings and loan association and every federal savings bank, located in the commonwealth shall pay to the commissioner an annual excise equal to the following:

(b) on or before the twenty-fifth day of the first month following the close of the taxable year, there shall be paid (1) one and two hundred and fifty-four one-thousandths per cent of its net operating income, as hereinafter defined, for the taxable year, less the estimated amount previously paid with respect to such income, and (2) one-sixteenth of one per cent of the average amounts of its deposits or of its savings accounts and share capital for the second six months of the taxable year, after deducting from such average amount (i) its real estate used for banking purposes, valued at cost less reasonable depreciation, and (ii) the unpaid balances on its loans secured by the mortgage of real estate, both as of the close of the taxable year.

Any corporation may carry over and apply to its excise for any subsequent taxable year the portion of those credits, as reduced from year to year, which were not allowed by this section.

SECTION 44. Section 38 of said chapter 63 is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:-

(j) If the apportionment provisions of this section are not reasonably adapted to approximate the net income derived from business carried on within this commonwealth by any type of industry group, the commissioner may, by regulation, adopt alternative apportionment provisions to be applied to such an industry group in lieu of the foregoing provisions.

SECTION 45. Section 52A of said chapter 63 is hereby amended by striking out subdivision (3), as appearing in section 1 of chapter 641 of the acts of 1951, and inserting in place thereof the following subdivision:-

(3) The portion of net income derived from business carried on within the commonwealth by a corporation subject to tax under this section shall be determined under the provisions of sections thirty-eight and forty-two; provided, however, that under subsection (c) of section thirty-eight its taxable net income shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus the sales factor, and the denominator is three.

SECTION 46. Paragraph (a) of section 6 of chapter 63B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as amended by section 8 of chapter 27 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- In the case of any underpayment of estimated tax by a corporation, except as provided in paragraph (b), there shall be added to the taxes due under chapter sixty-three or any act in lieu thereof, and under any act in addition thereto, for the taxable year an amount determined at the rate of eighteen per cent per annum upon the amount of the underpayment for the period of the underpayment.

SECTION 47. Section 6 of chapter 64C of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first two sentences, as amended by section 3 of chapter 481 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- Every licensee who is required to file a return under section sixteen of chapter sixty-two C shall, at the time of filing such return, pay to the commissioner an excise equal to thirteen mills for each cigarette so sold during the calendar month covered by the return; provided, however, that cigarettes with respect to which the excise under this chapter has once been imposed and has not been refunded, if paid, shall not be subject upon a subsequent sale to the excise imposed by this chapter. Each unclassified acquirer shall, at the time of filing a return required by section sixteen of chapter sixty-two C, pay to the commissioner an excise equal to thirteen mills for each cigarette so imported or acquired and held for sale or consumption, and cigarettes, with respect to which such excise has been imposed and has not been refunded, if paid, shall not be subject, when subsequently sold, to any further excise under this chapter.

SECTION 48. The last paragraph of section 8 of said chapter 64C, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 547 of the acts of 1945, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "thirty-eight", in line 14, the words:- , except that the sale of any such property shall be conducted by the commissioner.

Section 34. Whoever, not being a licensed transportation company or a person specifically authorized by the commissioner, holds for sale, offers for sale, sells, possesses with intent to sell, or otherwise disposes of cigarettes within the commonwealth, unless each individual package containing said cigarettes has affixed thereto a Massachusetts stamp showing that said excise has been paid, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment in state prison for not more than five years, or both; provided, however, that a violation involving fewer than twelve thousand cigarettes, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

The absence of such stamp on any package containing said cigarettes which is held for sale, possessed with intent to sell, offered for sale, sold or otherwise disposed of within the commonwealth shall be prima facie evidence that said excise has not been paid thereon. If such a stamp on a package of cigarettes is stained or smudged and its characteristics are so blurred, obscured or indistinct that it cannot be distinguished as a Massachusetts excise stamp, it shall be presumed that the said excise has not been paid with respect to said package of cigarettes. It shall be presumed that all sales of cigarettes are subject to the said excise until the contrary is established, and the burden of proof that a sale is not taxable shall be upon the vendor.

If any cigarettes are found within the commonwealth in the place of business of any licensee, other than a stamper or such other licensee as the commissioner may authorize, without the stamp affixed thereto, it shall be prima facie evidence that such licensee in whose place of business said cigarettes were found possessed said unstamped cigarettes with the intent to sell the same.

Except as otherwise provided, the possession of cigarettes in unstamped packages by any person, other than a stamper or a licensee, shall be prima facie evidence that such person possessed said unstamped cigarettes with the intent to sell the same.

SECTION 50. Said chapter 64C is hereby further amended by striking out section 35, as appearing in section 5 of chapter 435 of the acts of 1966, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 35. Whoever, not being a stamper or licensed transportation company or such other person as the commissioner may authorize, knowingly possesses or delivers or transports unstamped cigarettes in the commonwealth shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment in state prison for not more than five years, or both; provided, however, that a violation involving fewer than twelve thousand cigarettes shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Any such person shall be subject to all the provisions as to arrest, search and seizure, as set forth in section eight, insofar as applicable, and the unstamped cigarettes, the vending machines, receptacles, boxes or cartons in which the same are contained, any vehicle used in the illegal transportation and any records relating to the purchase and sale of such cigarettes shall be subject to seizure in the manner provided in said section eight and shall be turned over to the commissioner and shall be forfeited to the commonwealth. Proceedings shall be had as provided in section eight, and on the judgment of the court after verdict, whether a forfeiture of the whole or any part of the cigarettes, machines, receptacles, vehicles, and the records seized, or otherwise, similar proceedings shall be had as are directed in sections fifty to fifty-five, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight, except that the sale of such property shall be conducted by the commissioner.

The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

Said town in its by-laws or said rent board by regulation may establish further standards and rules consistent with this act.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists in the town of Ludlow with respect to the housing of a substantial number of citizens of said town, which emergency has been created by excessive, abnormally high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and eviction of tenants are regulated and controlled, such emergency will produce serious threats to the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of Ludlow, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Ludlow.

Fair net operating income shall be that income which will yield a return, after all reasonable operating expenses, on the fair market value of the property equal to the debt service rate generally available from institutional first mortgage lenders or such other rates of return as the board on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

The town in its by-laws or the rent board by regulation may establish further standards and rules consistent with the foregoing.

SECTION 5. The fifth paragraph of said section 34 O of said chapter 90, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subparagraph (2) and inserting in place thereof the following subparagraph:-

The insurer shall pay either to the insured or to a repair shop if the insured so indicates in writing to his insurance company for direct and accidental loss of or damage to the insured motor vehicle in cases described in clauses (a) to (d), inclusive, subject to a deductible of three hundred dollars, up to a limit equal to the actual cash value of the vehicle less such deductible without regard to comparative negligence attributable to the operator of the vehicle which is not in excess of fifty per cent; except that the policy or bond shall provide that benefits under this coverage shall not be payable if said loss of or damage to the insured motor vehicle occurs when the operator of such vehicle is a household member, other than the insured, who is not listed as an operator on such policy or bond and, if listed, would be classified as an inexperienced driver or would subject the policy to increased premiums under the provisions of the safe driver insurance plan established by the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and thirteen B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

SECTION 8. Section 22C of chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by section 8 of chapter 266 of the acts of 1976, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

No company shall issue any policy of insurance which provides coverage, as described in section thirty-four O of chapter ninety, or coverage against loss or damage to, or loss of, motor vehicles resulting from collision, fire, lightning, larceny, pilferage, theft, malicious mischief, vandalism or other perils usually insured against; or provides personal injury protection or which insures any person against legal liability for loss or damage on account of the bodily injury or death of any other persons or on account of any damages to property of another, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, control or use of motor vehicles, including a motor vehicle liability policy as defined in section thirty-four A of chapter ninety, unless said policy contains a provision that, except with respect to a notice of cancellation issued either before or after the effective renewal date by the company to take effect within the first ninety days of the renewal policy period for those policies not renewed in accordance with section twenty-two E or except with respect to a notice of cancellation issued for failure of the applicant to complete and furnish the insurance company a renewal application on a form prescribed by the commissioner at least thirty days before the expiration of the previous policy period, it shall be noncancellable by the company, except for nonpayment of premiums, fraud or a material misrepresentation in the application for insurance or renewal thereof, or unless the operator's license or motor vehicle registration of the named insured or of any other person who resides in the same household as the named insured and who usually operates a motor vehicle insured under the policy has been under suspension or revocation during the policy period, or for coverages which insurers refuse to offer under the provisions of paragraph (A) of section one hundred and thirteen H. Every company cancelling an insurance policy under authority of this paragraph shall, upon demand, refund within thirty days all money due to the insured as the result of such cancellation. Any company violating the provisions of the preceding sentence shall be liable to the insured in an action of contract for double the amount of the refund plus reasonable legal fees.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 175 is hereby further amended by striking out section 22E, as most recently amended by section 9 of said chapter 266, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 22E. No insurance company, and no officer or agent thereof in its behalf, shall refuse to issue, renew or execute as surety a motor vehicle liability policy or bond, or any other insurance based on the ownership or operation of a motor vehicle because of age, sex, race, occupation, or principal place of garaging of the vehicle. A particular company may make a general reduction in volume of automobile insurance in the commonwealth if such a reduction is determined by the commissioner not to be an attempt to circumvent the purposes of this section and that the company's refusal to write motor vehicle liability policies or bonds is not contrary to the public interest by disrupting the market for said insurance in the commonwealth. Any company which does not intend to issue a renewal policy shall give written notice of its intent not to issue a policy for the ensuing policy period in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and thirteen F and such notice shall specify the reasons for such nonrenewal.

SECTION 10. Section 113B of said chapter 175, as most recently amended by chapter 401 of the acts of 1979, is hereby further amended by inserting after the second sentence the following sentence:- In fixing and establishing premium charges in accordance with the provisions of this section, the deficit of the plan, established under section one hundred and thirteen H, shall not be distributed to risks based on classification or territory.

SECTION 11. Said section 113B of said chapter 175, as most recently amended by said chapter 401, is hereby further amended by inserting after the fifth paragraph the following six paragraphs:-

In so fixing and establishing classifications of risks under this section, the commissioner shall establish a safe driver insurance plan to equitably reflect the driving records of insureds. Such plan shall reflect an adjustment of insurance premium based on at-fault accidents, convictions of moving violations of motor vehicle laws, including payments pursuant to chapter ninety C, or any combination thereof, and based on four or more comprehensive claims totalling two thousand dollars or more, unless fire, theft, comprehensive and collision coverages are not purchased by the insured, as compiled and recorded by the motor vehicle insurance merit rating board established pursuant to section one hundred and eighty-three of chapter six.

Such an adjustment shall reflect an aggregate credit to safe drivers' premiums, which shall equal the increase in aggregate premiums to be charged to those not defined as safe drivers, categorized under the safe driver plan.

No safe driver insurance plan shall use any records or factors which occurred more than three years prior to the policy year for which an adjustment of insurance cost is reflected.

The commissioner shall establish reasonable rules to assure that all insureds are informed of any premium adjustments, and the reasons therefore, made as the result of this safe driver insurance plan.

If the method of operation of any company other than those operating pursuant to the so-called American Agency System results in excessive profits above nine per cent return on its earned premiums averaged over three years, the commissioner shall order a refund or dividend to current policyholders in the amount of such profit attributable to the difference between the amount allowed for expenses including acquisition costs in the rates for motor vehicle insurance and the company's actual expenses including acquisition costs incurred over the same three year period, provided such profits have not been previously returned to the holders of policies issued by such company.

In so fixing and establishing premium charges to be used and charged in accordance with the provisions of this section, the commissioner shall consider, in establishing said rates, the reduction of fraud achieved through the entity created pursuant to section one hundred and thirteen H.

SECTION 12. The first sentence of the second paragraph of section 113C of said chapter 175, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 707 of the acts of 1975, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 1, the word "No" and inserting in place thereof the words:- Except for coverages which insurers may refuse to offer under the provisions of paragraph (A) of section one hundred and thirteen H, no.

SECTION 13. Said chapter 175 is hereby further amended by striking out section 113E, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 551 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 113E. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit an insurance company, its agent or any broker, from requiring a deposit premium before issuance of a policy or execution of a bond, providing the per vehicle deposit does not exceed thirty per cent of the annual premium or the full short term premium for the insurance requested, whichever is less, unless the applicant has been in default in the payment of any premium for automobile insurance during the preceding twenty-four months.

SECTION 14. The first paragraph of section 113F of said chapter 175, as appearing in chapter 545 of the acts of 1970, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Such notice shall, except as hereinafter provided, be sent to the registrar of motor vehicles, and it shall be irrefutably presumed to be the notice of cancellation, and such notice shall also be sent either to said insured or principal or to the insurance agent of the company or insurance broker who negotiated the issue of the policy or the execution of the bond.

SECTION 15. The fifth sentence of the first paragraph of said section 113F of said chapter 175, as appearing in chapter 545 of the acts of 1970, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 1, the words "form satisfactory to" and inserting in place thereof the following words:- standard form prescribed by.

SECTION 16. Said section 113F of said chapter 175, as most recently amended by chapter 333 of the acts of 1973, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth and fifth paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The insured or principal shall be advised in any such notice that, in accordance with the provisions of the plan established by section one hundred and thirteen H, he shall be eligible for nonrenewed coverages if he is unable to obtain such coverages by the method which insurance is voluntarily made available. Any company failing to send notice as hereinbefore provided, or which sends such notice and subsequently renews such policy or bond, shall, upon request of such insured or principal, issue a new policy or execute a new bond as surety to at least the amount of coverages provided by the expiring policy covering said insured or principal and the same or replacement motor vehicle or vehicles and shall recognize the agent or broker designated by the insured in the same manner as provided by any contract, custom, or usage then in effect between such agent or broker and such company.

SECTION 17. Said chapter 175 is hereby further amended by striking out section 113H, as most recently amended by chapter 180 of the acts of 1982, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 113H. (A) Insurance companies undertaking to issue motor vehicle liability policies or bonds, both as defined in section thirty-four A of chapter ninety, shall cooperate in the preparation and submission of a plan which shall provide motor vehicle insurance to applicants who have been unable to obtain insurance through the method by which insurance is voluntarily made available; except that the plan shall provide that no insurance company shall be required to issue such policy or execute such bond if:

(1) The applicant or any person who usually drives the motor vehicle has failed to pay an insurance company any motor vehicle insurance premiums due or contracted during the preceding twelve months; or

(2) Any person who usually drives the motor vehicle does not hold or is not eligible to obtain an operator's license.

Such a plan shall provide for the fair and equitable apportionment among such insurance companies of premiums, losses or expenses, or any combination thereof.

Such a plan shall provide that at least the following coverages be made available at the option of the applicant:

(1) bodily injury liability and property damage liability coverage in at least the minimum amounts required by law;

(2) personal injury protection;

(3) medical payments coverage, to a limit of at least five thousand dollars;

(4) increased limits of bodily injury liability coverage in an amount to bring the total bodily injury liability coverage available for any one accident to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars per person and five hundred thousand dollars per accident;

(5) increased property damage liability limits in an amount to bring the total property damage liability coverage available for any one accident to fifty thousand dollars;

(6) uninsured motorist limits in an amount up to the bodily injury liability limits of the policy;

(7) physical damage insurance, which shall mean: (a) collision coverage or limited collision coverage, (b) fire and theft coverage, or (c) comprehensive coverage, so-called, as those coverages are defined in sections thirty-four A and thirty-four O of chapter ninety and section one hundred and thirteen O. The plan shall permit the refusal of collision, fire, theft or comprehensive coverage under the following circumstances:

(i) comprehensive, fire and theft or collision coverage on a vehicle customarily driven by or owned by persons convicted within the most recent five year period of any category of vehicular homicide, auto insurance related fraud, or motor vehicle theft;

(ii) comprehensive, fire and theft or collision coverage on a vehicle customarily driven by or owned by persons who have, within the most recent five year period, made an intentional and material misrepresentation in making claim under such coverages;

(iii) collision coverage on a vehicle customarily driven by or owned by persons who have been involved in four or more accidents in which such person has been deemed to be at fault in excess of fifty per cent within the three years immediately preceding the effective date of the policy, or

(iv) comprehensive or fire and theft coverages on a vehicle customarily driven by or owned by persons who have had two or more total theft or fire claims within the three years immediately preceding the effective date of the policy.

(B) Such a plan shall be prepared and administered by a governing committee appointed by the commissioner for terms of six years, consisting of six members from insurance companies participating in the plan and one additional representative from a domestic insurer in the commonwealth whose annual motor vehicle policy premiums amount to ten million dollars or less and unaffiliated with any other insurance company and six members from associations of insurance producers. Effective as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, the governing committee shall consist of three members from insurance companies participating in the plan and two members from associations of insurance producers appointed for terms of six years, two members from insurance companies participating in the plan, two members from associations of insurance producers appointed for terms of four years, two members from insurance companies participating in the plan and two members from the associations of insurance producers appointed for terms of two years. The provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to alter or amend the terms of the present governing members. As of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, one of the producer representatives shall be a producer who writes private passenger automobile insurance exclusively through a servicing carrier assigned pursuant to the provisions of the plan approved under this section. The governing committee shall be responsible for the hiring of the employees of the plan.

In the event that a company represented on the committee decreases its book of automobile business in the commonwealth by more than ten per cent from the previous calendar year, as determined by the commissioner, the member representing such company shall cease to be a member of the committee and a new company and a member thereof shall be appointed as prescribed herein. Not more than one insurer in a group under the same management shall serve on the committee at the same time.

(C) The plan shall provide that every licensed agent or broker shall be assigned to at least one servicing carrier; except that the governing committee shall not be required to make any such assignment if subject, to reasonable standards adopted by the governing committee:

(i) the agent or broker has been convicted of a dishonest act related to his occupation as an insurance agent or broker;

(ii) the broker's license to engage as an insurance broker has been revoked;

(iii) there has been a material and substantial breach of a contract between a servicing carrier and a producer by a broker or agent; or

(iv) the broker or agent has an uncured default in remittance of any premiums due the servicing carrier.

The plan shall require the appointment and participation at all times of no fewer than twenty servicing carriers and the plan shall establish reasonable eligibility requirements for appointment as a servicing carrier, including but not limited to, the maintenance of a specific investigative unit to investigate suspicious or questionable motor vehicle insurance claims for the purpose of eliminating fraud. Not more than one insurer in a group under the same management shall serve as a servicing carrier at the same time. There shall be provided within the plan a specific investigative unit to monitor the effectiveness of servicing carrier fraud control efforts. No domestic insurance company shall be denied participation as a servicing carrier based solely upon its share of the Massachusetts motor vehicle insurance market.

In order to insure an orderly transition from the existing plan, the plan shall provide for assignment of licensed agents and brokers, as far as is practicable, to a servicing carrier through whom such agent or broker is currently writing a substantial portion of his private passenger automobile insurance business and such carrier shall service such agent or broker under substantially the same contractual terms and conditions governing their normal agency relationship and may not endorse or declare that the policy is underwritten by the plan.

Changes of assignment of servicing carriers, for reasonable business purposes, may be made upon application to and approval by the governing committee, provided there is not significant disruption of the marketplace and no unfair or inequitable apportionment of premiums, losses or expenses.

The plan shall include guidelines for installment payment plans to be provided by servicing carriers.

To control the size of the population of the plan, the plan shall annually provide for territorial and classification credits for those companies voluntarily writing private passenger automobile insurance within those territories and classifications that would otherwise be disproportionately represented in the plan. The size of the credits shall be such as to enhance the prospects that no classification or territory is disproportionately represented in the plan.

(D) The plan shall provide for the payment of a commission to independent insurance agents or brokers on business insured through the plan which shall be stated in the filing of rates as a percentage equal to the average percentage commission paid for risks not insured through the plan to agents by companies which do business through independent insurance agents pursuant to the so-called American Agency System.

The plan shall provide that the allocation of premiums, losses and expenses among companies for all policies issued during the first year of operation of the plan shall be based on the total number of risks written by each company during the calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-two, excluding risks written through designated producers. Adjustment and consideration may be given to those companies that, due to percentage of business ceded during the base year, fall at either extreme as a result of this method of allocating premiums, losses and expenses under this plan. For policy years thereafter, the allocation shall be based on a method so that no company materially or substantially reduces its percentage of participation by reducing its writings, nor shall any company have their participation materially or substantially increased because of the action of other companies.

All policies insured through the plan shall be rated in accordance with the manual of classifications, rules and rates, and rating plans filed by or on behalf of the plan under the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five A. The statistical data previously and hereafter recorded under this section for risks insured through the plan shall be given due consideration in developing the rates for such risks.

Each risk insured through the plan shall be subject to the provisions of the safe driver insurance plan established by the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and thirteen B in the same manner as risks who are not insured in the plan.

The premium charges filed by or on behalf of the plan shall provide that such premium charges for any risks, other than those so-called fleet risks rated under the provisions of the Massachusetts Commercial Automobile Insurance Manuals, which is approved by the commissioner for use in nineteen hundred and eighty-two, shall not exceed the premium charges which would be used by each such risk's servicing carrier for that risk if such risk were not insured in the plan.

(E) Meetings of the governing committee of the plan shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of section eleven A½ of chapter thirty A.

Before becoming effective and upon any written request of the commissioner on a new plan thereafter, any such plan shall be filed with the commissioner, who shall conduct a public hearing within thirty days to determine whether such plan is consistent with public policy and meets the requirements of this section. At such hearing, insurance companies and any other party having a direct interest shall have an opportunity to be heard. Unless sooner approved or disapproved in writing by the commissioner, such plan shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this section within thirty days after the public hearing.

Amendments to such plan shall be prepared and filed in the same manner as herein provided with respect to the original plan. Such amendments, unless sooner approved or disapproved in writing by the commissioner, shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this section in thirty days from the date of filing. The commissioner shall, prior to the disapproval of any such amendments, issue a notice specifying in what respects the amendments do not meet the requirements of this section and fixing a date for a public hearing thereon, at which insurance companies and any other parties having a direct interest shall have an opportunity to be heard.

If the commissioner shall have requested the submission of a new plan or amendments to the plan, and no such plan or amendments have been filed with and approved by the commissioner within sixty days after such request, the commissioner may, if he deems it necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, prepare and publish proposed amendments or a proposed plan that in his opinion would carry out the purposes of this section. He shall submit a copy of such proposed amendments or proposed plan to the joint committee on insurance at the time of publication, and shall schedule a public hearing thereon not less than ten days after the publication thereof. After such hearing the commissioner may promulgate such plan or amendments thereto as he finds will best carry out the purposes of this section.

When such plan or amendment has been approved or promulgated, no insurer may thereafter issue a motor vehicle policy or bond unless such insurer shall participate in such an approved or promulgated plan.

Any insurer and any other party affected may appeal to the commissioner from any ruling or decision with reference to the operation of such plan.

The rules for such plan shall require that separate statistical data be recorded for risks insured in the plan and may provide incentives and penalties to prevent abuse of such plan. Any insurer or group of insurers participating in such plan and other person aggrieved shall be authorized to bring a complaint to the commissioner alleging unfair or unreasonable or improper practices by any insurer, agent, or broker. The commissioner shall, in all such cases, cause a proper hearing on such complaint to be held and shall issue such orders as he then deems appropriate.

The commissioner may also expend said funds to provide for the lease of data processing equipment; provided, however, said commissioner shall not expend said funds for the payment of a lease obligation related to the first three months of usage in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four by the commonwealth of any data processing equipment, except for data processing equipment leases originally executed on or after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three for activities funded by appropriation items 1101-2300.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-one of chapter thirty of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the state purchasing agent is hereby authorized during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four to incur liabilities and incidental expenses for the purchase of supplies, as provided by said section fifty-one, including material to be disposed of as surplus, so-called, by the federal government through agencies of the federal government in an amount not exceeding five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for the purpose, and the comptroller may certify for payment such incidental expenses and liabilities so incurred to an amount not exceeding five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for said purpose.

SECTION 6. Section 7A of chapter 90 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the sixth paragraph, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 761 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Each applicant to become a licensee shall remit a fee established by the registrar before any license is issued pursuant to section seven W. Said fee shall be deposited in the Highway Fund.

SECTION 7. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, all persons eligible for public assistance, as determined by the department of public welfare, under the provisions of chapters one hundred and seventeen, one hundred and eighteen A, and one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws, who are not maintaining their own homes but are receiving care in a licensed nursing home, any licensed rest home, a licensed chronic hospital or in an approved public medical institution, shall retain the first forty-five dollars of their monthly income for clothing, personal needs and leisure time activities.

If there is no such income, or if it is less than forty-five dollars, the recipient shall be paid monthly in advance the difference between such income and forty-five dollars.

The department of public welfare shall by regulation provide that personal laundry costs shall not be charged to the amount retained by or paid to the recipient pursuant to this section. Personal laundry costs shall instead be reimbursable through the per diem rates established by the rate setting commission.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the administrator of any facility licensed pursuant to section seventy-one of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws shall deposit in an interest-bearing account of any bank organized and existing under the laws of the commonwealth funds of any person who is an inpatient or resident at such facility if such administrator agrees to manage such funds at the request of such person or the fiduciary of such person or if the administrator is a fiduciary for such person. The words "fiduciary" and "funds" shall have the same meaning found in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-three of the General Laws. The interest earned on any interest-bearing account shall be distributed in one of the following ways, at the election of the facility: (a) pro-rated to each patient on an actual interest earned basis for individual accounts, or (b) pro-rated to each patient on the basis of his or her end of quarter or nearest end of month balance for collective accounts. The department of public health shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement this section.

SECTION 9. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws, a salary differential shall be paid to employees in the nursing services who are employed on evening or night tours of duty, and to employees engaged in professional nursing, as defined in section eighty B of chapter one hundred and twelve of the General Laws, at the Lemuel Shattuck Hospital and the Soldiers' Home in Massachusetts.

SECTION 10. Such written agreements shall include provisions requiring the administering agencies, their subgrantees, or local administering agencies, including local housing authorities, to provide at a date specified by the commissioner a list of persons receiving benefits from such programs. Information in such lists shall include the recipient's name, social security number and other data required to assure positive identification. Such information shall be utilized in the reporting system as a post audit mechanism for the purpose of verifying eligibility and detecting and preventing fraud, error and abuse in said programs, or additional programs included by the commissioner, pursuant to provisions below. Said administering agencies, their subgrantees, or local administering agencies, including local housing authorities are hereby authorized and directed to obtain and provide to the commissioner the information requested for the purposes of this reporting system.

The commissioner is also authorized and directed to investigate and identify other programs administered by state agencies which consider income, financial resources or both in determining eligibility therefor. The commissioner shall, with the approval of the commissioner of administration and finance, propose such other programs for inclusion in the reporting system by submitting a proposal to the house and senate committees on ways and means. If within fourteen days of receipt of any such proposal no action has been taken by the house or senate committee on ways and means, the commissioner may incorporate into the reporting system the program covered by the proposal. The commissioner is authorized and directed to enter into such interagency agreements as he deems necessary to incorporate such additional programs into said reporting system. For the purposes of the bank match portion of this reporting system, the commissioner is further authorized and directed to request in writing from a treasurer if a savings bank, national bank, trust company, cooperative bank, benefit association, insurance company or safe deposit company authorized to do business in the commonwealth, the amount deposited in the corporation or association to the credit of a persons named or listed in such request as a charge upon the commonwealth, or as an applicant to the commonwealth for financial assistance. In order to comply with this request, a treasurer, as aforesaid is authorized and directed to furnish said information within thirty days of receipt of the commissioner's request.

If after written request signed by the commissioner, said treasurer unreasonably refuses to inform him of the amount deposited in the corporation or association to the credit of a person named or listed in such request as a charge upon the commonwealth, or as an applicant to the commonwealth for financial assistance, or who willfully renders false information in reply to such request, shall forfeit fifty dollars to the use of the commonwealth. Upon such request, a treasurer, as aforesaid, shall furnish to the commissioner the records on deposits and withdrawals during the past five years concerning any person named or listed in the request, mitigating circumstances shall be considered in determining unreasonableness of a refusal to so provide information.

The commissioner shall examine the data available to him, so as to indentify any cases in which recipients of programs included in this reporting system also are receiving wages or have financial resources such as to render them ineligible for participation in the programs. The commissioner shall thereupon furnish the administering agencies the cases of any recipients in their respective programs who are identified as receiving wages or having financial resources. The information furnished to such agencies shall include the name of the recipient, social security number and other data to assure positive identification, the name and identification number of the employer or the name and location of the savings bank, national bank, trust company, cooperative bank, benefit association, insurance company or safe deposit company, and the amount of wages received or amount of financial resources. If after such informal inquiry an administering agency, or where appropriate, local administering agencies or local housing authorities, determines that a recipient has incorrectly received benefits under such a program, such agency shall take appropriate formal action in accordance with state and federal law to correct the situation, including, but not limited to, termination of benefits. No adverse action shall be taken against any recipient in the unemployment insurance benefits program or the public assistance programs of the department of public welfare, except after affording such recipient full opportunity to contest such action in accordance with law, including prior notice and hearing. No adverse action shall be taken against recipients in the other programs included in the reporting system except after meeting with such recipients, providing them with an explanation for the proposed action, detailing the evidence upon which the action is based, and allowing for any other procedures which an administering agency uses to take an adverse action against a recipient in its programs.

When any administering agency has probable cause to believe that the receipt of incorrect benefits under any such program was a result of a fraudulent action by the recipient, such agency shall refer the case to the bureau of special investigations for further action; provided, however, that such agency shall consider the willingness of such recipient to make restitution or to submit to voluntary recoupment before making such a referral. If such an agency determines the financial solvency of its programs can better be served through restitution or recoupment, referrals to said bureau may be waived by such an agency.

No employee or agent of the commonwealth shall divulge any information referred to in this section, except in the manner herein prescribed, to any public or private agency or individual; provided, however, that information may be disclosed and shared by and between any employee of an administering agency and any subgrantee, local administering agency, or any local housing authority for the purpose of verifying eligibility and or detecting and preventing fraud, error and abuse in the programs included in the reporting system. Unauthorized disclosure of any such information shall be a violation punishable by a fine of one hundred dollars per offense; provided that the unauthorized release of such information about any individual shall be a separate offense from information released about any other individual. Such unauthorized release of information shall also be cause for administrative discipline of any employee who engages in such unauthorized release.

The commissioner is hereby directed to make the reporting system fully operational by June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four. The commissioner shall submit quarterly reports to the house and senate committees on ways and means describing the status of said system and his plans to implement it. Where the provisions of the wage reporting system established pursuant to chapter sixty-two E of the General Laws, as amended, conflict with the provisions set forth in this section, the provisions set forth in this section shall govern.

SECTION 79. On or before November first of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, February first of nineteen hundred and eighty-four and May first of nineteen hundred and eighty-four, the governor shall file with the clerks of the house of representatives and senate a report detailing the preceding quarter and fiscal year to date tax and departmental revenue collections by source, relative to the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four tax estimates revised by the governor on May eighteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and as modified by chapter two hundred and thirty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four departmental revenue estimate of five hundred and fifty-nine million dollars. The report shall also contain the fiscal year to date collection of federal reimbursements relative to the federal reimbursement estimate of August fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three made in accordance with section five B of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws and hereinafter referred to as the August fifteenth estimate.

Tax revenue shall be the net taxes collected for budgetary purposes as reported by the commissioner of revenue in the "monthly report of collections and refunds", so-called.

Departmental revenues shall include all budgetary revenues classified as fees, fines, penalties, gifts, contributions, interest income, reimbursements for services, license and permit charges, rents, sales, special assessments, unclaimed funds and miscellaneous revenues as reported by the comptroller for all non-restricted revenues from the General Fund, Highway Fund, Local Aid Fund and Inland Fisheries and Game Fund, hereinafter referred to as the state operating funds.

If any two consecutive reports contain a notification of a revenue shortfall, as required by this section, the governor shall, within ten calendar days after filing such second notification, file with the clerks of the house of representatives and senate a message recommending reductions in expenditures, revisions in the state tax laws or alternative revenue proposals in order to increase the amount of revenue in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four. The reduction in expenditures, revisions of tax laws or alternative revenue proposals recommended in the message shall compensate for the difference on an annualized basis between actual revenues reported for the state operating funds and the sum of five billion nine hundred and eighty-seven million dollars and one hundred per cent of said August fifteenth estimate. If no tax program is enacted or alternative revenue proposal implemented within thirty days following the submission of a message recommending such actions, the governor shall file with the clerks of the house of representatives and the senate a message recommending reductions in the operating budget for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

Chap. 353. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING NOTICE REQUIREMENTS FOR EXCAVATIONS IN PUBLIC WAYS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 82 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 40, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 502 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 40. No person shall, except in an emergency, contract for, or make an excavation, which shall include, but not be limited to, the discharge of explosives and the demolition of any structure but which shall not be deemed to include gardening or tilling the soil in the case of privately owned land, in any public way, any public utility company right of way or easement, or any privately owned land under which any public utility company, municipal utility department, natural gas pipeline company, or cable television company maintains underground facilities, including pipes, mains, wires or conduits, unless at least seventy-two hours, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, but not more than thirty days, before the proposed excavation is to be made such person has given an initial notice in writing of the proposed excavation to such natural gas pipeline companies, public utility companies, cable television companies and municipal utility departments as supply gas, electricity, telephone or cable television service in or to the city or town where such excavation is to be made. Such notice shall set forth the name of the street or the route number of said way and a reasonably accurate description of the location in said way or on private property the excavation is to be made. In addition, such initial notice shall indicate whether any such excavation will involve blasting and, if so, the date on which the specific location at which such blasting is to occur; provided, however, that in no event shall any excavation by blasting take place unless written notice thereof, either in the initial notice or a subsequent notice, accurately specifying the date and location of such blasting shall have been given and received at least twenty-four hours in advance, except in the case of an unanticipated obstruction requiring blasting when such notice should not be less than four hours in advance to such natural gas pipeline companies, public utility companies, cable television companies and municipal utility departments as supply gas, electricity, telephone or cable television services in or to the city or town where such excavation by blasting is to be made. If any such notice cannot be given as aforesaid because of an emergency, it shall be given as soon as may be practicable. Copies of such notices together with a statement certifying that they have been mailed or delivered to such cable television companies and public utility companies as required by this section shall be filed with the officer or board having charge of any such public way before a permit to excavate or to blast may be approved or issued, except in case of an emergency.

Where an excavation is to be made by a contractor as part of the work required by a contract with the commonwealth or with any political subdivision thereof or other public agency, for the construction, reconstruction, relocation or improvement of a public way or for the installation of a railway track, conduit, sewer or water main, such contractor shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this section by giving such notices as required by this section setting forth the location and the approximate time required to perform the work involved to each of said companies.

Within seventy-two hours, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, from the time said initial notice is received or at such time as said company and the excavator agree in writing, said company shall respond to the original written notice or to subsequent oral or written notice by designating at the locus, the location of pipes, mains, wires or conduits, in that portion of the public way, public utility company right-of-way or easement or privately owned land in which the excavation is to be made; provided, however, that in the event that the excavator has given notice of proposed excavation as aforesaid at a locus at which because of its length or size the company cannot reasonably designate the location of all such pipes, mains, wires or conduits within such seventy-two hour period, then the excavator shall notify the company of the portion of the locus in which excavation is to be first made and the company shall designate the location of such pipes, mains, wires or conduits in such portion within seventy-two hours and shall designate the location of the pipes, mains, wires or conduits in the remaining portion of the locus within a reasonable time thereafter; and the providing of such designation by the company shall constitute prima facie evidence of an exercise of reasonable precaution by the company as required by this section. After a company has designated the location of such pipes, mains, wires and conduits at the locus of the excavation in accordance with the provisions of this section, the excavator shall be responsible for maintaining the designation markings at such locus, unless the said excavator requests re-marking at the locus due to the obliteration, destruction or other removal of such markings and the company shall then have twenty-four hours following the receipt of such request to re-mark such locus.

Any such excavation shall be performed in such manner, and such reasonable precautions taken to avoid damage to the pipes, mains, wires or conduits in use under the surface of said public way, public utility company right-of-way or easement, or privately owned land, including, but not limited to, any substantial weakening of structural or lateral support of such pipe, main, wire, or conduit, penetration or destruction of any pipe, main, wire or the protective coating thereof, or the severance of any pipe, main or conduit.

When any damage of any such pipe, main, wire or conduit or its protective coating occurs, the public utility company, natural gas pipeline company, cable television company or municipal utility department shall be notified immediately by the person or public agency responsible for the excavation causing the damage.

The making of an excavation without providing any or all notice or notices required by this section with respect to any proposed excavation which results in any damage to a pipe, main, wire or conduit or its protective coating shall be prima facie evidence in any legal or administrative proceeding that such damage was caused by the negligence of such person.

Notice to the public utility underground plant damage prevention system pursuant to section seventy-six D of chapter one hundred and sixty-four, which notice is given during normal business hours each day of the year exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, and which notice is given with the time periods established in this section, shall constitute compliance with the written notice requirements of this section.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to affect or impair local ordinances or by-laws requiring permits to be obtained before excavation in a public way, except that, notwithstanding any contrary provision of local ordinances or by-laws, no permit to excavate in a public way shall be approved or issued by the officer or board having charge of any such way, except in any emergency, until such time as copies of such notices to public utility companies and cable television companies are filed by the applicant for a permit as required by this section.

Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of two hundred dollars for the first offense and not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for any subsequent offense.

Section 51A - For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, a factor for increased acute hospital productivity shall be imposed as follows:

(a) For the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, the basis of payment computed in accordance with the hospital agreement shall be reduced by applying a productivity factor of two per cent to said basis of payment exclusive of costs recognized as exceptions under the hospital agreement.

(b) For the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the basis of payment under the hospital agreement shall be computed using the basis of payment for the preceding fiscal year, as reduced in accordance with clause (a), and shall then be further reduced by applying a productivity factor of two per cent to said basis of payment exclusive of costs recognized as exceptions under the hospital agreement.

(c) For the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the basis of payment under the hospital agreement shall be computed using the basis of payment for the preceding fiscal year, as reduced in accordance with clause (b), and shall then be further reduced by applying a productivity factor of two per cent to said basis of payment exclusive of costs recognized as exceptions under the hospital agreement.

(d) For the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, the basis of payment under the hospital agreement shall be computed using the basis of payment for the preceding fiscal year, as reduced in accordance with clause (c), and shall then be further reduced by applying a productivity factor of one per cent to said basis of payment exclusive of costs recognized as exceptions under the hospital agreement.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 6A is hereby amended by striking out section 54, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 54. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, approved gross patient service revenues shall be determined from the gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two approved by the commission under the provisions of chapter four hundred and nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six as amended by chapter four hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one (hereafter referred to in this section as "1982 approved GPSR"), multiplied by the sum of one plus the prospectively calculated percentage change in the basis of payment calculated under hospital agreement 29 less one and four-tenths per cent; provided, however, that the commission shall, prior to such multiplication, make a volume adjustment to the 1982 approved GPSR based on the following:

(a) For each acute hospital, actual volume statistics for the fiscal year ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall be substituted for the projected volume statistics for such fiscal year and the commission shall recalculate gross patient service revenues for such fiscal year in accordance with applicable regulations issued pursuant to chapter four hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one to reflect such substitution. With respect to this clause (a), no acute hospital shall be required to file any additional data or information with the commission other than that which is necessary to effect such volume substitution.

(b) For each acute hospital, the amount of the increase in gross patient service revenues resulting from clause (a) shall be divided by such acute hospital's 1982 approved GPSR and the result converted to a percentage.

(c) For each acute hospital, the commission shall determine a percentage equal to the percentage of such hospital's 1982 approved GPSR attributable to purchasers and third party payors that pay on the basis of charges less the percentage of such hospital's 1982 approved GPSR attributable to bad debt and free care. The percentages used in this calculation shall be computed from the budget submission used to calculate such hospital's 1982 approved GPSR.

(d) For each acute hospital, the percentage determined under clause (b) shall be multiplied by the percentage determined by the commission under clause (c).

(e) For each acute hospital, the percentage determined under clause (d) shall be multiplied by such hospital's 1982 approved GPSR.

(f) The amounts for all acute hospitals determined under clause (e) shall be added together.

(g) If the amount determined under clause (f) exceeds four million four hundred thousand dollars, the commission shall compute a percentage, to be applied uniformly to each hospital, which, when subtracted from the percentage for each acute hospital determined under clause (d), shall cause the amount determined under clause (f), after application of clause (e), to equal four million four hundred thousand dollars. If the percentage for any acute hospital under clause (d) shall be reduced to zero or below by operation of this clause (g), such hospital shall not receive a volume adjustment.

(h) For each acute hospital, the percentage determined under clause (d), as reduced by clause (g) if clause (g) applies, shall be divided by the percentage determined by the commission under clause (c).

(h) For each acute hospital, the percentage determined under clause (g) plus one hundred per cent shall be multiplied by such hospital's 1982 approved GPSR. The resulting amount shall be used as the basis for determining such hospital's approved gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

In no event shall approved gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, as otherwise determined in accordance with the provisions of this section for any acute hospital, be less than such hospital's basis of payment for such fiscal year as computed under hospital agreement 29 and the provisions of section fifty hereof.

SECTION 3. Section 55 of said chapter 6A, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:-

In no event shall approved gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, as otherwise determined in accordance with the provisions of this section for any acute hospital, be less than such hospital's basis of payment for such fiscal year as computed under hospital agreement 29 and the provisions of section fifty hereof.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 6A is hereby amended by striking out section 57, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 57. (a) For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning July first nineteen hundred and eighty-three, approved gross patient service revenues shall be determined from the gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three approved by the commission under the provisions of chapter four hundred and nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six, multiplied by the sum of one plus the prospectively calculated percentage change in the basis of payment calculated under hospital agreement 29 less one and four-tenths per cent.

(b) For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and for each fiscal year thereafter, approved gross patient service revenues shall be determined in the same manner and shall be subject to the same calculations as set forth in sections fifty-five and fifty-six; except that wherever fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-three and eighty-four are referenced in either of said sections, fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-four and eighty-five, respectively, shall be substituted.

(c) In no event shall approved gross patient service revenues, as otherwise determined in accordance with the provisions of this section for any acute hospital, for the fiscal year beginning on either July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, be less than such hospital's basis of payment for such fiscal year as computed under hospital agreement 29 and the provisions of section fifty-two hereof.

SECTION 5. Section 58 of said chapter 6A, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence of the fifth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:-

If a hospital's fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX per diem rates were adjusted to reflect a deactivation of beds, the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three medicaid payment ratio shall be calculated using fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX rates adjusted to reflect said bed deactivation as if such deactivation were in effect for all of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

If, during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the hospital increases the number of beds in the service category to which such deactivation applies, the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three medicaid payment ratio shall be recalculated utilizing the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two per diem rates which would have been established if the additional beds had been in service throughout fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two. Such recalculation shall reflect only the increase in beds up to the number which were deactivated in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

The calculation of the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three medicaid payment ratio shall be revised to incorporate the actual proportions of Title XIX patient days which are categorized as adult and children days, newborn days and administratively necessary days during the period beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending on the last day of the hospital's fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 7. Section 68 of said chapter 6A, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982, is hereby amended by striking out paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection C and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs:-

(b) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, the medicaid costs computed pursuant to the hospital agreement, exclusive of costs recognized as exceptions under the hospital agreement and as adjusted pursuant to section fifty-two A, for each of the following fiscal years shall be reduced by the productivity factor indicated: beginning with the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three and continuing through the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, the productivity factors shall be two per cent, four per cent, four per cent, three per cent, two per cent and one per cent, respectively.

(c) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on July first, the medicaid costs computed pursuant to the hospital agreement, exclusive of costs recognized as exceptions under the hospital agreement and as adjusted pursuant to section fifty-two A, for each of the following fiscal years shall be reduced by the productivity factor indicated: beginning with the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three and continuing through the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, the productivity factors shall be two per cent, four per cent, six per cent, five per cent, four per cent, two per cent and one per cent, respectively.

SECTION 8. Section 68 of said chapter 6A, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982, is hereby amended by striking out subsections E and F and inserting in place thereof the following subsections:-

E. For each acute hospital's fiscal year commencing in nineteen hundred and eighty-two, interim payments made by the medicaid program for inpatient care shall, for each acute hospital, be paid on a per diem basis computed as follows and shall become effective on October first of such year:

1. The initial medicaid costs for the hospital shall be computed pursuant to the hospital agreement, reviewed by the hospital service corporation, and approved by the commission effective October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two. The initial medicaid costs for the hospital, as approved by the commission, shall be apportioned between inpatient and outpatient services.

2. The "inpatient medicaid payment ratio" for the hospital shall be computed as follows:

(a) The proportions computed in clauses (b), (c), and (d) below are computed relative to the total number of Title XIX days, including Title XIX newborn days and administratively necessary days provided by the hospital.

(b) The proportion of total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX inpatient days of the hospital, excluding Title XIX newborn days and administratively necessary days, shall be multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX adult and children per diem rate.

(c) The proportion of total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX newborn days shall be multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX newborn per diem rate.

(d) The proportion of total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX administratively necessary days shall be multiplied by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two Title XIX administratively necessary day rate.

(e) The sum of the amounts computed in clauses (b), (c), and (d) shall be multiplied by the total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two inpatient days of the hospital and the result divided by the total fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two inpatient portion of the medicaid costs for the hospital computed pursuant to the hospital agreement.

The resulting ratio shall be termed the "inpatient medicaid payment ratio".

3. The calculation of the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three inpatient medicaid payment ratio shall be revised to reflect the actual proportions of Title XIX patient days which are categorized as adult and children days, newborn days and administratively necessary days during the period commencing October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending March thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

4. The inpatient portion of the initial medicaid costs for the hospital, as approved by the commission and reduced by a productivity factor of two per cent, shall be multiplied by the inpatient medicaid payment ratio and the result shall be termed the "interim medicaid basis of payment".

5. The interim medicaid basis of payment shall, for each hospital, be apportioned to Title XIX by multiplying the amount of the interim medicaid basis of payment by the proportion of hospital inpatient days in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two provided to Title XIX beneficiaries multiplied by ninety-four and one-half per cent. The result of this computation shall be divided by the number of inpatient days provided to Title XIX beneficiaries by the hospital in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-two. The resulting per diem shall be termed the "actual interim per diem".

6. The interim medicaid basis of payment may be revised from time to time to reflect changes in the medicaid costs computed pursuant to hospital agreement 29 or changes in the inpatient medicaid payment ratio computed pursuant to paragraph 2 and 3 of this subsection E.

7. The commission shall promulgate regulations establishing revisions to the interim medicaid basis of payment to ensure that interim medicaid payment rates reflect the projected payments of medicaid for the fiscal year.

The commission shall promulgate regulations establishing interim medicaid payment rates for outpatient services with respect to fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for both inpatient and outpatient services with respect to fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-four and thereafter. Such interim medicaid payment rates for any fiscal year shall reflect the projected payments of medicaid for such fiscal year.

F. The interim medicaid basis of payment used when calculating the actual interim per diem in effect on the final day of the fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three, shall be termed the "actual interim Medicaid basis of payment". The actual interim medicaid basis of payment shall be apportioned to Title XIX by multiplying the amount of such actual interim medicaid basis of payment by the proportion of hospital inpatient days in the period commencing on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending on the last day of the hospital's fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three provided to Title XIX beneficiaries, as determined in accordance with regulation promulgated by the commission, multiplied by ninety-four and one-half per cent. The result of this computation shall be divided by the number of inpatient days provided to Title XIX beneficiaries by the hospital in such period. The result of this computation shall be multiplied by the number of days allocated to Title XIX, pursuant to regulations promulgated by the commission, during the period commencing on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending on the last day of the hospital's fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three. The result of this computation shall be termed the "actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services".

The actual interim medicaid payments for inpatient services shall be compared with the amount such payments would have been if the per diem for interim payments had been computed as follows: the actual interim medicaid basis of payment was apportioned to Title XIX utilizing the charges for the period commencing on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending on the last day of the hospital's fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and the apportionment method specified in the hospital agreement and the result divided by the number of inpatient days provided to Title XIX beneficiaries, as determined pursuant to regulations promulgated by the commission, during such period by the hospital. The result of this computation shall be multiplied by the number of days allocated to Title XIX, pursuant to regulations promulgated by the commission, during the period commencing on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two and ending on the last day of the hospital's fiscal year ending in nineteen hundred and eighty-three. The result of this computation shall be termed the the "alternative interim medicaid payments for inpatient services". inpatient services. The resulting per cent (positive or negative) shall be multiplied by the proportion of Title XIX acute hospital payments made for inpatient services and the result shall be termed the "medicaid payment ratio adjustment".

For each hospital's fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the medicaid payment ratio, as calculated and revised pursuant to subsection B of this section, shall be further revised by dividing it by one minus the percentum (positive or negative) of the medicaid payment ratio adjustment.

SECTION 9. Section 68 of said chapter 6A, as inserted by section 1B of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982 is hereby amended by adding the following new subsection G:-

G. For the fiscal year beginning in nineteen hundred and eighty-two, the commission may adjust pursuant to hospital request the Title XIX rate of payment for one or more services of an acute hospital if it determines that an adjustment is necessary to ensure provision of the service or services to Title XIX clients and if the Department of Public Welfare determines that provision of the service or services by the hospital is essential for the adequate provision of hospital services to Title XIX clients. When determining what, if any, adjustment to make the commission shall at a minimum consider all of the following:

1. The opinion of the Department of Public Welfare.
2. The hospital's charge structure for that service.
3. The proportion of the service or services which is provided to Title XIX clients.
4. The cost of providing an additional unit of the service.

The adjustment granted, if any, shall not result in hospital net revenues attributable to the service which exceed the costs which must be incurred by an efficient and economically operated facility in order to maintain the service.

SECTION 10. In furtherance of the federal medicare waiver granted in September, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, by the Health Care Finance Administration of the United States Department of Health and Human Services, denominated as experimental project number 95-P-98199/1-01, it is affirmed that no provision of the general laws of the commonwealth precludes any health maintenance organization organized under chapter one hundred and seventy-six G from (i) negotiating directly with any hospital or hospitals with respect to such health maintenance organizations' rate of payment for hospital services and (ii) entering into an agreement with such hospital or hospitals reflecting such rate of payment without the approval of the rate setting commission established under section thirty-two of chapter six A.

SECTION 11. The volume adjustment referred to in section fifty-four of chapter six A, as amended by section two of this act, shall not be applied to any acute hospital, as defined in section thirty-one of chapter six A, which does not file with the rate setting commission established under section thirty-two of chapter six A a request for such adjustment within thirty days following the effective date of this act. No acute hospital shall be required to file such a request.

SECTION 12. If any section, or part thereof, of this act shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof.

Approved September 30, 1983.

Chap. 395. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE SALE AND REPAIR OF CERTAIN NEW MOTOR VEHICLES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 90 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 7N the following section:-

Section 7N½. (1) For purposes of this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:-

"Business day", any day during which the service departments of authorized dealers of the manufacturer of the motor vehicle are normally open for business.

"Consumer", a buyer, other than for purposes of resale, of a motor vehicle, any person to whom such motor vehicle is transferred during the duration of any express or implied warranty applicable to such motor vehicle, and any other person entitled by the terms of such warranty to enforce its obligations.

"Dealer", any class one seller of motor vehicles as defined in section fifty-eight of chapter one hundred and forty.

"Manufacturer", any person who is engaged in the business of manufacturing motor vehicles, or, in the case of motor vehicles not manufactured in the United States, any person who is engaged in the business of importing motor vehicles.

"Motor vehicle" or "vehicle", any motor vehicle as defined in section one sold or replaced by a dealer or manufacturer after the effective date of this section, except that it shall not include auto homes, vehicles built primarily for off-road use or any vehicle used primarily for business purposes.

"Nonconformity", any specific or generic defect or malfunction, or any concurrent combination of such defects or malfunctions that substantially impairs the use, market value or safety of a motor vehicle.

"Term of protection", one year or fifteen thousand miles of use from the date of original delivery of a new motor vehicle, whichever comes first; or, in the case of a replacement vehicle provided by a manufacturer to a consumer under this section, one year or fifteen thousand miles from the date of delivery to the consumer of said replacement vehicle, whichever comes first.

(2) If a motor vehicle does not conform to any applicable express or implied warranty, and the consumer reports the nonconformity to the manufacturer of the vehicle, its agent or its authorized dealer during the term of protection, the manufacturer, its agent or its authorized dealer shall effect such repairs as are necessary to conform the vehicle to such warranty.

(3) If the manufacturer, its agent or authorized dealer does not conform the motor vehicle to any such applicable express or implied warranty by curing any nonconformity after a reasonable number of attempts, the manufacturer shall accept return of the vehicle from the consumer and, at the manufacturer's option, refund the full contract price of the vehicle including all credits and allowances for any trade-in vehicle, less a reasonable allowance for use, or replace it with a motor vehicle acceptable to the consumer. A manufacturer exercising its option to replace such motor vehicle shall have thirty days from the date of return of such motor vehicle under the provisions of this section to deliver to the consumer, a motor vehicle acceptable to said consumer. If, within said thirty days, no motor vehicle acceptable to the consumer has been delivered, the manufacturer shall refund the full contract price less a reasonable allowance for use. In instances in which a vehicle is replaced by a manufacturer under the provisions of this section, said manufacturer shall reimburse the consumer for any fees for the transfer of registration or any sales tax incurred by the consumer as a result of such replacement. In instances in which a vehicle which was financed by the manufacturer or its subsidiary, or agent is replaced under the provisions of this section, said manufacturer, subsidiary or agent shall not require the consumer to enter into any refinancing agreement which would create any financial obligations upon such consumer beyond those implied by the original financing agreement. In instances in which a refund is tendered under the provisions of this section, the manufacturer shall also reimburse the consumer for incidental costs including sales tax, registration fee, finance charges and any cost of options added by an authorized dealer. Whenever a vehicle is replaced or refunded under the provisions of this section, in instances in which towing services and rental vehicles were not made available at no cost to the consumer, the manufacturer shall also reimburse the consumer for towing and reasonable rental costs that were a direct result of vehicle nonconformity. Refunds shall be made to the consumer and lienholder, if any, as their interests may appear. A reasonable allowance for use shall be obtained by multiplying the total contract price of the vehicle by a fraction having as its denominator one hundred thousand and having as its numerator the number of miles that the vehicle travelled prior to the manufacturer's acceptance of its return.

It shall be an affirmative defense to any claim under this section: (i) that an alleged nonconformity does not substantially impair the use, market value or safety of the vehicle; (ii) that a nonconformity is the result of owner negligence, damage caused by accident, vandalism, or attempt to repair the vehicle by a person other than the manufacturer, its agent or authorized dealer; (iii) that a nonconformity is the result of any attempt to substantially modify the vehicle which was not authorized by the manufacturer; or (iv) that a consumer has not first resorted to a qualified dispute settlement mechanism as defined in subsection (6); provided, however, that clear and conspicuous written notice of the requirement of first resort to such mechanism is provided to the consumer by the manufacturer upon original delivery of a new motor vehicle.

A consumer shall have the option of retaining the use of any vehicle returned under the provisions of this section until such time as said consumer has been tendered a full refund or replacement vehicle acceptable to the consumer. The use of any vehicle retained by a consumer after its return to a manufacturer under the provisions of this section, shall in instances in which a refund is tendered, be reflected in the above mentioned reasonable allowance for use.

(4) A reasonable number of attempts shall be deemed to have been undertaken to conform a motor vehicle to any applicable express or implied warranties if (a) the same nonconformity has been subject to repair three or more times by the manufacturer or its agents or authorized dealers within the term of protection, but such nonconformity continues to exist or such nonconformity has recurred within the term of protection, or (b) the vehicle is out of service by reason of repair of any nonconformity for a cumulative total of fifteen or more business days during the term of protection; provided, however, that the manufacturer shall be afforded one additional opportunity, not to exceed seven business days, to cure any nonconformity arising during the term of protection, notwithstanding the fact that such additional opportunity to cure commences after the term of protection. Such additional opportunity to cure shall commence on the day the manufacturer first knows or should have known that the limits specified in clause (a) or (b) have been met or exceeded. The term of protection, said fifteen business day period and said additional opportunity to cure shall be extended by any period of time during which repair services are not available to the consumer as a direct result of a war, invasion, fire, flood or other natural disaster. The term of protection, said fifteen business day period and said additional opportunity to cure shall also be extended by that period of time during which repair services are not available as a direct result of a strike; provided, however, that the manufacturer, its agent, or authorized dealer provides or makes provision for the free use of a vehicle to any consumer whose vehicle is out of service by reason of repair during a strike. The burden shall be on the manufacturer to show that any event claimed as a reason for an extension under the provisions of this paragraph was the direct cause for the failure of the manufacturer, its agent or authorized dealer to cure any nonconformity during the time of said event. Extensions for concurrent events shall not be cumulative.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed as imposing any liability on an authorized dealer or creating any cause of action by a consumer against a dealer under the provisions of this section.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the rights or remedies which are otherwise available to a consumer or manufacturer under any other applicable provision of law.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as imposing any liability on a dealer or creating a cause of action by a manufacturer against its authorized dealer under this section except with respect to (i) failure by an authorized dealer to properly effect preparation, installation of options or repairs when such preparation, installation of options or repairs would have prevented the occurrence of or cured a nonconformity; (ii) express warranties offered by an authorized dealer which exceed the provisions of the manufacturer's express warranties; and (iii) that portion of the cost of reimbursing a consumer for dealer-added options which represents the dealer profit from the addition of such options. The manufacturer shall reimburse its authorized dealer for all incidental and consequential damages, including attorney's fees, incurred by such dealer as a direct result of any legal action brought by a consumer under this section.

No consumer shall be required by any manufacturer, its agent or its authorized dealer to give notice directly to a manufacturer of the existence of any nonconformity before resorting to a qualified dispute settlement mechanism.

No motor vehicle that is returned to the manufacturer under the provisions of this section shall be resold in the commonwealth without clear and conspicuous written disclosure of the fact that it was so returned prior to resale of the vehicle. The attorney general shall prescribe the exact form and content of any such disclosure statement.

(6) A qualified dispute settlement mechanism shall be one which complies in all respects with the provisions of 15 USC sections 2301 to 2312, inclusive, and any rule or regulation promulgated under said authority, in effect on April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three; that renders decisions that are binding on the manufacturer if the buyer elects to accept the decision; that prescribes a reasonable time not to exceed thirty days within which the manufacturer must perform its obligations under the decision, if any, whose members are all persons having no direct involvement in the design, manufacture, distribution, sale or service of motor vehicles or their parts; that has at least one-half of its membership appointed by the secretary of consumer affairs; and that provides a copy of the annual audit required by 15 USC sections 2301 to 2312, inclusive, to the department of the attorney general.

(7) Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair or deceptive act under the provisions of chapter ninety-three A.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

Approved October 3, 1983.

Section 44A. A petition conforming to the requirements hereinafter provided and requesting the city council, or school committee to pass a measure, therein set forth or designated shall be termed an "initiative petition", and shall be acted upon as hereinafter provided. For the purposes of this section "measure" shall mean an ordinance, resolution, order or vote that could be passed by a city council, or a resolution order or vote that could be passed by a school committee, as the case may be:

(A) Signatures to initiative petitions need not be all on one paper. All such papers pertaining to any one measure shall be fastened together and shall be filed in the office of the city clerk as one instrument, with the endorsement thereon of the names and addresses of three persons designated as filing the same. With each signature to the petition shall be stated the place of residence of the signer, giving the street and number, if any.

Within five days after the filing of said petition the registrar of voters shall ascertain by what number of registered voters the petition is signed, and what percentage that number is of the total number of registered voters, and shall attach thereto their certificate showing the result of such examination.

The city clerk shall forthwith transmit the said certificate with the said petition to the city council or to the school committee, according as the petition is addressed, and at the same time shall send a copy of said certificate to one or more of the persons designated on the petition as filing the same.

When such certificate has been so transmitted, said petition shall be deemed to be valid unless written objections are made thereto by a registered voter of the city within forty-eight hours after such certification by filing such objections with the city council or the school committee, and a copy thereof with the registrars of voters or the board or commission having similar duties. A copy of the objections so filed shall forthwith be transmitted to the state ballot law commission which shall hold a public hearing on said objections, shall render a decision on the matter referred to it within fourteen days after the objections were filed and transmit a copy of its decision to the city council or the school committee.

(ii) the city council shall call a special election to be held on a Tuesday fixed by it not less than thirty nor more than forty-five days after the date of the certificate hereinbefore mentioned, and shall submit the proposed measure without alteration to a vote of the registered voters of the city at that election; provided, that if any city election is otherwise to occur within ninety days after the date of said certificate, the city council may, at its discretion, omit calling the special election and submit the proposed measure to the voters at such approaching election.

(C) If an initiative petition is signed by registered voters equal in number to at least eight per cent but less than fifteen per cent of the total number of registered voters, and said measure is not passed without alteration within twenty days by the city council or the school committee, as provided in subsection (B), such proposed measure, without alteration, shall be submitted by the city council to a vote of the registered voters of the city at the next regular municipal election.

(D) A proposed measure under this section shall become effective if it shall be approved by registered voters of the city equal in number to one-third of the whole number thereof and also by a majority of the voters voting on such measure, but not otherwise.

(E) The city council may, of its own motion, and shall, upon request of the school committee if a measure originates with that committee and pertains to the affairs under its administration, submit to a vote of the registered voters of the city for adoption or rejection at a general or special city election any proposed measure in the same manner and with the same force and effect as are hereby provided for submission on initiative petition.

(F) If two or more proposed measures passed at the same election contain conflicting provisions, only the one receiving the greater number of affirmative votes shall take effect.

If, within twenty days after the final passage of any measure, except a revenue loan order, by the city council or by the school committee, a petition signed by registered voters of the city, equal in number to at least twelve per cent of the total number of registered voters, and addressed to the city council or to the school committee, as the case may be, protesting against such measure or any part thereof taking effect, is filed with the city clerk, the same shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from taking effect.

Signatures to referendum petitions need not be all on one paper. All such papers pertaining to any one measure or part protested against shall be fastened together and shall be filed in the office of the city clerk as one instrument, with the endorsement thereon of the names and addresses of three persons designated as filing the same. With each signature to the petition shall be stated the place of residence of the signer, giving the street and number, if any.

Within five days after the filing of said petition the registrar of voters shall ascertain by what number of registered voters the petition is signed; and what percentage that number is of the total number of registered voters, and shall attach thereto

The city council or the school committee, as the case may be, shall immediately reconsider such measure or part thereof; and if such measure or part thereof is not entirely rescinded, the city council shall submit the same, by the method herein provided, to a vote of the registered voters of the city, either at the next regular city election, or at a special election which may, in its discretion, be called for the purpose, and such measure or part thereof shall forthwith become null and void unless a majority of the registered voters voting on the same at such election vote in favor thereof.

The city council may, of its own motion, and shall, upon request of the school committee if a measure originates with that committee and pertains to the affairs under its administration, submit to a vote of the registered voters of the city for adoption or rejection at a general or special city election any proposition for the repeal or amendment of any measure in the same manner and with the same force and effect as are hereby provided for submission on referendum petition.

If the mayor and the city council, with at least eight affirmative votes, approve, or the school committee, with at least five affirmative votes, approves an emergency preamble may be attached to any measure. The emergency preamble will allow any measure enacted to take effect immediately and to remain in effect notwithstanding any referendum action. If a referendum petition is submitted and approved pursuant to the requirement of sections governing procedures it shall have the effect of repealing the measure effective as of the date of the election.

SECTION 2. This act shall be submitted for acceptance to the voters of the city of Pittsfield at the city election in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-three in the form of the following question, which shall be placed upon the official ballot to be used for the election of city officers at said election:- "Shall an act passed by the general court in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-three, entitled 'An Act establishing a procedure for initiative and referendum petitions in the city of Pittsfield', be accepted?" "Work area", a room or defined space in a workplace where toxic or hazardous substances are produced, used and where employees are present in the course of their employment.

"Workplace", an establishment or business of an employer at one geographic location at which work is performed and containing one or more work areas, but not including a police station or public armory in which ammunition is stored. In the case of the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions acting as an employer, the workplace shall be defined as all work areas wholly owned or controlled by the commonwealth or said subdivisions; in the case of an independent contractor, the workplace shall be defined as all work areas wholly owned or controlled by said independent contractor; provided however, that employees of the commonwealth, or any of its political subdivisions, or an independent contractor shall have certain rights to examine MSDS's as provided in section eleven (f).

Section 2. The responsibility for administering the provisions of this chapter, and for assuring an appropriate state response to alleged violations thereof, shall be assigned in the following manner:

(a) The commissioner of DPH shall be responsible for the administration of sections four through six, twelve and twenty, which relate to the establishment and amendment of the Massachusetts substance list, the dissemination of information pertaining to toxic or hazardous substances, the granting of certain waivers or alternative conditions to the disclosure requirements contained in this chapter, and trade secrets.

(b) The commissioner of DLI shall be responsible for the administration of sections seven through eleven, and thirteen through fifteen, which define the rights and duties of employees and employers under this chapter.

(c) The commissioner of DEQE, on behalf of the commonwealth, and the municipal coordinator of each city or town, on its behalf, shall be responsible for the administration of sections sixteen through nineteen, which relate to requests by state officials, municipal officials, and community residents for actions and information available under this chapter.

The commissioners of the DPH, DLI, and DEQE shall have the authority to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to carry out their respective responsibilities under this chapter. In order to avoid the promulgation of conflicting rules and regulations, the commissioners shall take such steps as are necessary to assure that proposed rules and regulations are consistent with the rules and regulations of the other departments with responsibilities under this chapter in conformance with the statutory responsibilities set forth herein. Said rules and regulations shall be promulgated in accordance with chapter thirty A, no later than one hundred and eighty days after the date of enactment of this chapter.

Section 3. (a) If any of the commissioners with responsibilities under this chapter have cause to believe that an employer or manufacturer has wrongfully failed to comply with any provision of this chapter for which that commissioner has been delegated responsibility, that commissioner may, within one hundred and twenty days of the alleged violation or within one hundred and twenty days from the date on which the commissioner obtained knowledge of the violation, undertake an investigation.

The commissioner shall immediately notify the employer or manufacturer by certified mail, return receipt requested, that an investigation will be undertaken and shall also include in the notice a statement detailing the nature of the alleged violation and when it was alleged to have occurred. The employer or manufacturer may respond to the notice of the commissioner, but must do so within twenty days. The commissioner shall consider all matters in mitigation or extenuation of the alleged violation during the course of the investigation. If such commissioner shall determine after such investigation that good cause does not exist to believe that a wrongful violation of the provisions of this chapter has occurred, he or she shall within ten days notify the employer or manufacturer of such finding.

If such commissioner shall determine after such investigation that good cause does exist to believe that a wrongful violation of the provisions of this chapter has occurred, he shall immediately notify the employer or manufacturer of such finding, and shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the alleged violation by conference, conciliation, and persuasion. In case of failure so to eliminate the alleged wrongful violation by conference, conciliation, and persuasion, the commissioner may order such remedial action as may be appropriate including the issuance of a cease or desist order to any recurrence. The commissioner may also request the attorney general to enforce any order issued or any fine or penalty authorized by this section in the appropriate court of the commonwealth. In such enforcement action the court shall have jurisdiction to restrain violations and to levy penalties as provided herein.

Any employer or manufacturer aggrieved by an order of any commissioner pursuant to this section may obtain judicial review thereof in the Superior court for the county in which the alleged violation of this chapter which is the subject of the commissioner's order occurred. The order of the commissioner shall be reviewed in accordance with the standards for review provided in section fourteen of chapter thirty A.

Any employer or manufacturer who wrongfully fails to comply with or otherwise violates the provisions of this chapter shall be liable for a civil penalty not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars for each day that each such violation continues.

(b) If any of the commissioners with responsibilities under this chapter have cause to believe that an employer or manufacturer has willfully and intentionally violated any provisions for which that commissioner has been delegated responsibility, that commissioner may report such alleged violation to the attorney general and may request that the attorney general bring an action in the appropriate court of the commonwealth to restrain such violations and to seek such penalties as are provided herein.

Any person who willfully and intentionally violates the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished, for a first offense, by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars for each day that such violation continues, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days or both; for a subsequent offense, by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for each day that such violation continues, or by imprisonment for no more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) This chapter shall not be construed to create any independent private right of action, and the responsibility for enforcement of this chapter shall lie exclusively with the attorney general.

(d) This chapter shall not be construed to enlarge or diminish any rights or privileges created by collective bargaining agreements or any other provisions of law.

Section 4. (a) For the purposes of this chapter, the commissioner of DPH shall establish the Massachusetts substance list and make said list available to manufacturers, employers, municipal coordinators, and the commissioners of DLI and DEQE. Substances on the list may be designated by their chemical name or common name(s), and CAS number. Only those substances specifically enumerated on the list shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, and no articles as defined in section one shall be included on the list. The commissioner of DPH shall prepare and amend the list according to the following procedures, and shall promulgate said list pursuant to the rulemaking provisions of chapter thirty A on an annual basis. The annual list shall become effective ninety days after its promulgation. In the case of substances which are extraordinarily hazardous and a threat to public health, the commissioner of DPH may promulgate emergency amendments to the list according to the laws of the commonwealth, provided that appropriate procedures for amending the list, as specified in this section, are followed.

(b) The list shall consist initially of all chemical substances enumerated in any of the following designated source lists, exclusive of generic categories:

1. Environmental Protection Agency
   Restricted Use Pesticides - 40 CFR 162.30
2. International Agency for Research on Cancer
   (Sublist: "Substances found to have at least sufficient evidence of carcinogenicity in animals")
3. National Toxicology Program
   List of chemicals published in the Annual Report on Carcinogens

4. Occupational Safety and Health Administration
   Toxic and Hazardous Substances - 29 CFR 1910, Subpart Z
5. National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health/Occupational Safety and Health Administration
   Occupational Health Guidelines for Chemical Hazards
6. American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists
   Threshold Limit Value for Chemical Substances and Physical Agents in the Workplace
7. National Fire Protection Association
   Hazardous Chemicals Data (NFPA 49)
8. National Fire Protection Association
   Fire Hazard Properties of Flammable Liquids, Gases, Volatile Solids (NFPA 325 M)
   (All items rated II through IV as health hazards or III through IV as flammability or reactivity hazards.)
9. Environmental Protection Agency
   Carcinogen Assessment Group's List of Carcinogens
10. National Cancer Institute
    (Substances that meet the NTP criteria for significant carcinogenic effect.)

(c) The commissioner, in promulgating the Massachusetts substance list and its amendments shall designate on said list any substance which is a carcinogen, mutagen, teratogen, or neurotoxin, based on a preponderance of substantial and valid scientific evidence.

(d) For the purposes of this chapter, a toxic or hazardous substance is present in any mixture if it is one per cent or more of the mixture or two per cent if the toxic or hazardous substance exists as an impurity in the mixture; provided, however, that the commissioner of DPH may, by regulation, raise the concentration requirement for a toxic or hazardous substance which he or she finds is not toxic or hazardous at the threshold levels; and may lower the concentration requirement for a toxic or hazardous substance including carcinogens, mutagens, teratogens, and neurotoxins for which there is valid and substantial scientific evidence that the substance is extraordinarily hazardous.

The manufacturer of a toxic or hazardous substance shall notify the commissioner of DPH of any valid evidence which indicates either: that the concentration requirement for a toxic or hazardous substance is higher than what is necessary to protect employees who work with, or may be exposed to, the substance; or that the concentration levels should be lowered because there is valid and substantial evidence that the substance is extraordinarily hazardous.

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to impurities which develop as intermediate materials during chemical processing but are not present in the final mixture, and to which employee or community resident exposure is unlikely.

(e) The commissioner of DPH shall amend the Massachusetts Substance List by adding, in place of the generic categories excluded pursuant to subsection (b) of this section, those specific toxic or hazardous substances which fall within said generic categories and which, in his judgment, should be subjected to the provisions of this act. Provided that such amendment shall be made only after opportunity has been provided for public comment and hearing pursuant to the rulemaking provisions of chapter thirty A and upon the commissioner's finding that according to the preponderance of the evidence, substantial and valid scientific evidence exists that any substances added pursuant to this subsection may result in an acute or chronic risk to human health or safety.

(f) Any substance added to or deleted from the source lists designated in subsection (b) of this section by the agency responsible for preparing and amending said list shall be added to, or deleted from, the Massachusetts substance list as part of its annual amendment by the commissioner of DPH.

(g) Further amendments to the Massachusetts substance list may be established by the commissioner of DPH, pursuant to the following process:

The commissioner shall publish a notice of intent to add a substance to the Massachusetts substance list. This notice shall identify the proposed substance and shall inform interested persons of their right to request a proceeding pursuant to this section. Any person showing that he may be substantially and specifically affected by the proposed addition to the substance list may file a request for such hearing provided that such request is filed in writing with the commissioner within thirty days of the date that the notice was published.

Upon receipt of a request for a hearing, the commissioner shall set a hearing date. Reasonable notice of the hearing shall be afforded all persons requesting a hearing and shall include statements of the time and place of the hearing. Parties shall have sufficient notice of the issues involved to afford them reasonable opportunity to prepare evidence and argument.

The commissioner shall allow any other interested person to participate by presentation of argument orally or in writing, or for any other limited purpose, as the agency may order.

Unless otherwise provided by law, the commissioner, or his hearing officer, need not observe the rules of evidence observed by courts, but shall observe the rules of privilege recognized by law. Evidence may be admitted and given probative effect only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs. The commissioner may exclude unduly repetitious evidence.

Every party shall have the right to call and examine witnesses, to introduce exhibits, and to submit rebuttal evidence. Cross-examination shall not be allowed.

All evidence, including any records, investigation reports, and documents in the possession of the agency of which it desires to avail itself as evidence in making a decision, shall be offered and made a part of the record in the proceeding, and no other factual information or evidence shall be considered. Documentary evidence may be received in evidence in the form of copies or excerpts, or by incoporation by reference.

The commissioner shall make available an official record, which shall include testimony and exhibits, and which may be in narrative form, but need not arrange to transcribe shorthand notes or sound recordings unless requested by a party. If so requested, the commissioner may, unless otherwise provided by any law, require the party to pay the reasonable costs of the transcript before the agency makes the transcript available to the party.

A decision to place a substance on the list pursuant to this subsection, must be based upon the commissioner's finding that according to the preponderance of the evidence, substantial and valid scientific evidence exists that the substance poses an acute or chronic risk to human health or safety. The commissioner's decision shall be in writing or stated in the record. The decision shall be accompanied by a statement of reasons for the decision, including determination of each issue of fact or law necessary to the decision. Parties to the proceeding shall be notified in person or by mail of the decision, of their right to appeal the decision to the Superior court and the time limits on their right to appeal. A copy of the decision and of the statement of reasons shall be delivered or mailed upon request to each party and to his attorney of record.

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the commissioner may appeal such decision to the Superior court for Suffolk county. The standards for review shall be in accordance with the standards provided in section fourteen of chapter thirty A.

(h) Substances not present on the Massachusetts substance list established pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(i) The commissioner of DPH shall be responsible for the dissemination of all information available on the nature and hazards of toxic or hazardous substances, from the chemical substances information networks of the federal environmental protection agency, the health hazard evaluation program of the national institute of occupational safety and health and any and all other information sources. DPH shall promptly assist employers, employees, community residents, municipal coordinators and state personnel with inquiries concerning the toxic or hazardous nature of such substances. DPH shall assist DLI in its responsibilities with respect to preparing or obtaining MSDS information pursuant to section nine (b).

Section 5. The preparer of an MSDS may omit from the MSDS the chemical name, common name, or CAS number if the release of said information which would disclose a trade secret as defined by this chapter. The preparer shall provide all other information on the properties and effects of the hazardous substance required for the MSDS and shall indicate which category of information is being withheld on trade secret grounds. An employer may withhold from a label of a container as required by section seven the chemical name of a substance if said name is a trade secret as defined in section one.

(a) In order to make a trade secret claim pursuant to this section, a manufacturer or other preparer of an MSDS must submit to the commissioner of DPH a duplicate of the MSDS which excludes the information claimed as a trade secret, and shall also submit a complete justification and statement of the grounds on which the information is claimed to be a trade secret, at the same time he provides the MSDS to DEQE pursuant to section sixteen. Provided that said complete justification and statement of the grounds shall not be required to include the information claimed to be a trade secret.

(b) If the commissioner of DPH has cause to believe that the data withheld is not a trade secret and that good cause exists for requiring the withheld information, he or she shall notify the preparer of the MSDS by certified mail.

(c) The commissioner of DPH shall determine whether such withheld information is protected as a trade secret within fifteen days after receipt of the duplicate MSDS, justification and statement, and shall notify by certified mail the preparer of the MSDS and any party who has requested the withheld information of that determination. If the commissioner of DPH determines that the withheld information is not protected as a trade secret, the final notice shall also specify a date, not sooner than fifteen days after the date of mailing of the final notice, when the withheld information shall be made available to the commissioner of DEQE.

If the commissioner of DPH determines that the withheld information is a trade secret, he or she shall notify by certified mail the preparer of the MSDS and any party who has requested the withheld information, and immediately return to the preparer of the MSDS all information and documents submitted concerning the validity of the trade secret claim.

(d) Prior to the date specified in the final notice the preparer of the MSDS may appeal all adverse determinations in the Superior court for the county in which the employer's workplace is located or in Suffolk county. The order of the commissioner shall be reviewed in accordance with the standards for review provided in section fourteen of chapter thirty A. Filing a timely appeal under this section shall act as an automatic stay of the preparer's obligation to supply the withheld information.

(e) Any information reported to or otherwise obtained by the commissioner of DEQE or any of his representatives or employees, which is exempt or protected from disclosure under any provisions of this chapter, may be disclosed to an officer or employee of the United States, in connection with the official duties of such officer or employee under any law for the protection of health.

(f) Information certified to by appropriate officials of the United States, as necessarily kept secret for national defense purposes, shall be accorded the full protections against disclosure as specified by such official or in accordance with the laws of the United States.

Section 6. A research laboratory, as defined in section one, shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter. In order to qualify a work area of a workplace or a workplace as a research laboratory, an employer shall file a sworn statement with the commissioner of DPH which shall include sufficient information pertaining to the workplace or area and the personnel employed therein to enable the commissioner to determine whether the workplace or work area is qualified for the research laboratory exemption, and assurance that the employer has notified the employees of said workplace or work area that this exemption is being claimed.

If the commissioner fails to receive sufficient information to determine whether a workplace or work area qualifies as a research laboratory, or if the commissioner has reason to believe that the workplace or work area does not qualify as a research laboratory, or that the operation of the workplace or work area for which a research laboratory exemption has been claimed poses a threat to the health and safety of employees employed at that workplace or work area, he shall notify the employer in writing and offer the employer an opportunity for a hearing pursuant to chapter thirty A of the General Laws. If the employer fails to substantiate his claim that a workplace or work area is a research laboratory and that said laboratory is being operated in a manner which does not pose a threat to the health and safety of employees employed at that workplace or work area, the commissioner may issue an order revoking the research laboratory exemption in part, or in its entirety for that workplace or work area. The commissioner of DPH may establish by regulation the conditions under which a research laboratory may retain its exemption. An employer may appeal an order of revocation pursuant to the procedures of chapter thirty A.

Section 7. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, an employer shall label with the chemical name each container in his or her workplace containing a toxic or hazardous substance. Said label shall also contain the proper NFPA Code applicable to any contents of the container for which an NFPA Code has been published in NFPA 49, Hazardous Chemical Data, but only in those instances where the container contains more than five gallons or thirty pounds of materials to which the NFPA Code is applicable.

(b) The employer is not required to label any container of a toxic or hazardous substance weighing five pounds or less or having a volume of one gallon or less; and is not required to label any container of a toxic or hazardous substance if said substance constitutes less than one per cent of the contents of the container, or two per cent if the toxic or hazardous substance exists as an impurity in a container, subject to the provisions for revised concentration requirements specified in section four (d) of this chapter.

(c) The employer is not required to label any container if the container is currently labeled pursuant to regulations promulgated by the United States Department of Transportation, or pursuant to the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (61 Stat. 163, 7 U.S.C. Sec. 121 et seq.); the Atomic Energy Act; or the Food, Drug and Cosmetics Act. The commissioner of DPH may by regulation certify containers labeled pursuant to any other federal act as labeled in compliance with this chapter.

(d) The employer is not required to label any container of ten gallons or less in volume into which a toxic or hazardous substance or mixture is transferred by an employee from labeled containers and which is intended only for the immediate use of the employee who performed the transfer.

(e) In cases where a pipe or piping system, a fixed storage tank, or a reaction vessel is used, on a regular basis, for different toxic or hazardous substances at different times, an employer may choose to convey the information required by this section by posting signs, placards, or operating instructions, rather than affixing labels. Provided that for any pipe or piping system, the information required by this section shall be provided at points where direct employee exposure to the toxic or hazardous substances contained in said pipe or piping system is likely to occur under normal operating conditions.

(f) The employer may elect to withhold from any label otherwise required by this section the names of chemicals which qualify as trade secrets pursuant to section five. In the event such an election is made, the employer must instead place on the label a reference to the MSDS prepared for such substance and must otherwise comply with the labeling provisions of this section. When a substance has been designated a carcinogen, mutagen, teratogen, or neurotoxin pursuant to section four (c) of this chapter, and the name of said substance is withheld from the label as a trade secret pursuant to this subsection, the label shall display the letter "C", "M", "T", or "N", indicating the substance is, respectively, a carcinogen, mutagen, teratogen, or neurotoxin.

Section 8. The manufacturer of any toxic or hazardous substance shall prepare and provide direct purchasers of said toxic or hazardous substances with an MSDS which, to the best of the manufacturer's knowledge, is current, accurate, and complete, based on information then reasonably available to the manufacturer.

Any person other than a manufacturer who sells a mixture of toxic hazardous substance as defined in this chapter shall provide its direct purchasers of the mixture at the time of sale with a copy of the most recent MSDS or equivalent information.

Any person who produces a mixture may, for the purposes of this section, prepare and use a mixture MSDS, subject to the provisions of section ten.

A manufacturer who is responsible for preparing and transmitting an MSDS under the provisions of this section shall revise said MSDS, on a timely basis, as appropriate to the importance of any new information which would affect the contents of the existing MSDS, and in any event within one year of such information becoming available to the manufacturer.

Any employer who receives, compiles, or prepares new information which would serve to update the MSDS for any toxic or hazardous substance present in his workplace, and who has filed a copy of said MSDS with DEQE and the municipal coordinator pursuant to section sixteen of this chapter, shall file an updated MSDS containing said new information on a semi-annual basis, and shall concurrently update his own copy of said MSDS.

Section 9. (a) Any person subject to the provisions of section eight shall be relieved of the obligation to provide a specific purchaser of a toxic or hazardous substance with a MSDS if he has a record of having provided the specific purchaser with the most recent version of the MSDS; or if the substance is labeled pursuant to the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act; the Atomic Energy Act; the Food, Drug and Cosmetics Act; or if the article is one sold at retail and is incidentally sold to an employer or the employer's employees, in the same form, approximate amount, concentration, and manner as it is sold to consumers, and, to the seller's knowledge, employee exposure to the article is not significantly greater than the consumer exposure occurring during the principal consumer use of the article.

(b) If an employer is not supplied with an MSDS by a manufacturer or an intermediate seller for a toxic or hazardous substance pursuant to the mandates of section eight, said employer shall within a reasonable amount of time after discovering that an MSDS has not been supplied use diligent efforts to obtain said MSDS from the manufacturer or intermediate sellers. For purposes of this paragraph, "diligent efforts" shall mean a prompt inquiry by the employer to the manufacturer or intermediate seller of the toxic or hazardous substance requesting the MSDS with a copy of the request and any written response from the manufacturer or intermediate seller to be filed with the commissioners of DPH and DLI.

Provided, however, that for an independent contractor, or the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions acting as an employer, "diligent efforts" shall mean a prompt inquiry to the workplace employer, rather than the manufacturer or intermediate seller, in cases where the relevant workplace is not wholly owned or controlled by the employing independent contractor, the commonwealth, or said political subdivisions.

If after having used diligent efforts an employer still fails to obtain an MSDS, he shall request the commissioner of DLI to obtain said MSDS on his or her behalf. The commissioner of DLI shall, in such cases, obtain any available assistance from the commissioner of DPH or DEQE in locating or compiling an up-to-date MSDS for the toxic or hazardous substance.

An employer who has used diligent efforts as defined herein and who has made a documented request to the commissioner of DLI pursuant to this section shall not be found in violation of sections eleven, fourteen or sixteen of this chapter with respect to the MSDS which was not supplied by the manufacturer or intermediate seller as required by section eight of this chapter.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to require an employer to conduct studies to develop new information.

Section 10. A manufacturer or employer may provide the information required by section eight of this chapter on an entire mixture, instead of on each toxic or hazardous substance in it, when all of the following conditions exist:

(a) Hazard test information exists on the mixture itself, or adequate information exists to form a valid judgment of the hazardous properties of the mixture itself and the MSDS indicates that the information presented and the conclusions drawn are from some source other than direct test data on the mixture itself, and that an MSDS on each constituent hazardous substance identified on the MSDS is available upon request.

(b) Provision of information on the mixture will be as effective in protecting employee health as information on the ingredients.

(c) The toxic or hazardous substances in the mixture are identified on the MSDS unless it is either unfeasible to describe all the ingredients in the mixture or the identity of the ingredients is itself a valid trade secret; provided, that in either case the reason why the hazardous substances in the mixture are not identified shall be stated on the MSDS.

A single mixture MSDS may be provided for more than one formulation of a product mixture if the information provided pursuant to section fourteen does not vary for the formulation.

Section 11. (a) Every employer who manufactures, processes, uses or stores toxic or hazardous substances in the workplace shall provide a MSDS for each product which is present in said workplace. All MSDS's shall be available at a central location in the workplace.

(b) A completed federal OSHA Form 20 material safety data sheet shall constitute prima facie evidence of compliance with the requirements of this chapter relative to material safety data sheets, provided that said form includes a description of the acute and chronic health risks associated with exposure to the substance described.

(c) Any employee or his designated representative, may request in writing and shall have the right to examine and obtain the MSDS's for the toxic or hazardous substances to which he is, has been or may be exposed. The employer shall provide the MSDS within four working days, subject to the provisions of section nine (b). The employer may adopt reasonable procedures for acting upon such requests to avoid interruption of normal work operations.

(d) If an employee who has requested an MSDS pursuant to this section has not received said MSDS within four working days subject to the provisions of section nine (b), that employee may refuse to work with the substance for which he has requested the MSDS, until said MSDS is provided. Provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be construed to permit any employee of the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions to refuse to perform essential services.

(e) Every employer who manufactures, processes, uses or stores toxic or hazardous substances in the workplace shall post a notice in a central location in the workplace informing employees of their rights under this section.

(f) For the purposes of this section and section fourteen, an independent contractor, or the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions shall maintain MSDS's for their own workplaces only, as defined in section one; provided, however, that employees of such employers, insofar as they are exposed in the course of their employment to toxic or hazardous substances in other workplaces, shall have the right to examine MSDS's for those substances to which they are exposed from the workplace employer through a written request to their own employer.

Section 12. An employer or the preparer of an MSDS shall provide said MSDS, including information withheld as a trade secret, immediately on a confidential basis to an employee's treating physician who states in writing that in his professional judgment said employee's medical condition may be the result of occupational exposure to a toxic or hazardous substance present in the employee's workplace; provided, however, that such treating physician shall be required to sign concurrently, or in the case of geographical separation within twenty-four hours a confidentiality agreement, the form of which shall be promulgated by the commissioner of DPH. This agreement shall restrict the use of information to health purposes, prohibit disclosure of the information to anyone other than the treating physician and necessary medical personnel, and may provide for compensation or other legally appropriate relief for any competitive harm which may result from a breach of the agreement.

Section 13. No person shall discharge or cause to be discharged or otherwise discipline or in any manner discriminate against any employee for the reason that such person has exercised any right, made any claim or filed any complaint or suit or has instituted, or caused to be instituted, any proceeding under this chapter, or has testified, or is about to testify in any proceeding in his own behalf or on behalf of others; nor shall any pay, seniority or other benefits be lost by or denied to any such employee who has exercised any right provided by this chapter.

An employee who believes that he has been discharged, disciplined or in any other manner discriminated against by his employer for reason or reasons of exercising rights under this chapter may, within one hundred and eighty days of such violation or within one hundred and eighty days after obtaining knowledge that a violation did occur, file a verified complaint with the commissioner of DLI. A copy of the verified complaint shall also be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, by the employee or his attorney to the employer at the time of filing with the commissioner of DLI. The employer, if he so chooses, may file with the commissioner of DLI an answer to the verified complaint, but must do so within twenty days of the receipt of the verified complaint from the employee or his attorney.

Upon receipt of a verified complaint and an answer, if one is so filed within the time period set forth in this section, the commissioner of DLI shall undertake an investigation of the alleged violation. If after a preliminary investigation, the commissioner determines that there is insufficient cause to believe a violation occurred, he shall so notify the complainant and employer within ten days of such determination. The employee or his attorney may, within ten days of such notice, request in writing with a copy to the employer an adjudicatory hearing pursuant to the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

If after a preliminary investigation, the commissioner of DLI determines that there is cause to believe a violation occurred, he or she shall so notify the complainant and employer within ten days, and shall conduct an adjudicatory hearing pursuant to chapter thirty A of the General Laws. If after such a hearing, the commissioner determines that the employer did violate the provisions of this chapter, he may take such remedial action as is appropriate, including the issuance of a cease or desist order or the ordering of any other affirmative steps to correct the violation and prevent its recurrence.

Any time an employee exercises the rights specified in subsection (d) of section eleven of this chapter, and files a complaint pursuant to this section and section three of this chapter, the commissioner of DLI shall hold an adjudicatory hearing to resolve said complaint within ten days.

Any person aggrieved by the determination of the commissioner may appeal such determination in the Superior court for the county in which the employer's workplace is located. Such determination shall be reviewed in accordance with the standards for review provided in section fourteen of chapter thirty A.

Section 14. Employers subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be required to maintain as records for a period of thirty years only the MSDS's required by section eleven. Such records shall be made available within a reasonable period of time to each former employee, or his designated representative for examination and copying.

Section 15. Employers shall furnish employees with instruction on the nature and effects of those hazardous substances present in the workplace either in written form or in training programs as may be appropriate. Such instruction shall be in nontechnical language but may be generic to the extent appropriate and related to the job. Such instruction shall include the chemical name and any common names, unless withheld from an MSDS as a trade secret, of the toxic or hazardous substance to which an employee may be exposed under normal operating conditions, the location of the substance in the workplace, appropriate first aid treatment and antidotes in the event of improper exposure or overexposure, the proper and safe handling of said substance, the health effects of said substance as described in the relevant MSDS, and the rights and duties of employees as set forth in this chapter. Employers shall provide their current employees with instruction as described herein within ninety days of the effective date of this chapter and annually thereafter, and for employees hired thereafter, within the first month of employment, and annually thereafter.

Section 16. Every employer subject to the provisions of this chapter shall file with the regional office of DEQE for the region in which the workplace of the employer is located, and upon request with the municipal coordinator for the city or town in which the workplace of the employer is located, a copy of an MSDS for each toxic or hazardous substance listed on the Massachusetts substance list and present in the employer's workplace. The municipal coordinator shall retain said MSDS's for at least five years and the regional office of DEQE shall retain said MSDS's for forty years.

Section 17. The commissioner of DEQE shall make a copy of an MSDS available to DLI or DPH upon request, and may make a copy of an MSDS available to any other agency of the commonwealth, but only upon written request including a justification by the requesting agency that the information contained in the MSDS is essential to the performance of a duty to protect the public health and safety imposed by statute or regulation. Provided, however, that when such action is taken by the commissioner of DEQE upon such request, he shall notify the employer or employers who provided the MSDS. And provided, further, that in the event of an imminent threat to public health or safety, the commissioner of DEQE shall waive the requirement for written request and justification.

Section 18. (a) A community resident in a city or town in which an employer subject to the provisions of this chapter is located, who has reason to believe that the utilization of a toxic or hazardous substance in the workplace by the employer is or may be endangering public health or safety, may file a petition with the municipal coordinator requesting an investigation. The petition shall state the grounds upon which the resident bases his belief that a toxic or hazardous substance is or may be endangering the public health and safety and shall inform the municipal coordinator of any information or data of which the resident has knowledge and which would assist the municipal coordinator in an investigation.

(b) The municipal coordinator shall within fifteen days review the petition and information submitted by the community resident to determine whether an investigation is warranted, and he may within ten additional days conduct an investigation of the charges contained in the petition pursuant to the authority provided by existing statutes, ordinances, or by-laws. The municipal coordinator shall notify the employer by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the filing of a petition within five days of said filing with the municipal coordinator and shall afford the employer an opportunity to comment on the petition and submit information or data which the employer deems pertinent to the petition.

(c) If upon review of the information and data submitted by the community resident and the employer, the information available under this chapter and the data obtained in the municipal coordinator's investigation, should he have determined to conduct one pursuant to the provisions of this section, the municipal coordinator determines that action is required to protect the public health and safety, he shall promptly notify the commissioner of DEQE of his findings and may take such action or request the commissioner to take such actions as are authorized by statute, ordinance or by-law to protect the public health and safety. If the commissioner is requested to take action by the municipal coordinator pursuant to this section, he may take such actions as are necessary to protect the public health and safety. The commissioner shall also, where appropriate, provide relevant MSDS's to the petitioning resident provided, however, that the commissioner of DEQE determines that said request is not frivolous or intended to harass the employer. The commissioner's decision on release of the MSDS to the petitioning community resident shall be made within fifteen working days. Simultaneously, the municipal coordinator shall notify the community resident of the determination and shall provide the resident with a summary of the information contained in the petition, the response of the employer, the reasons for the determination, and a statement of the specific actions proposed by local or state officials to alleviate the danger to the public health or safety.

(d) If upon review of the information and data submitted by the community resident and the employer, and the information available through this chapter and the data obtained in the municipal coordinator's investigation, should he have determined to conduct one pursuant to the provisions of this section, the municipal coordinator determines that no action is required in order to protect the public health and safety, he shall promptly forward to the commissioner of DEQE for review, a report of the investigation including a summary of the information or data obtained by the municipal coordinator and the basis for the conclusion that no further action is required in response to the petition. Simultaneously, the municipal coordinator shall notify the community resident of his determination and shall provide the resident with a summary of the information contained or supplied with the petition, the response of the employer, and the reasons for the determination.

(e) If upon review of a petition of a community resident, the municipal coordinator determines that no investigation is necessary, he shall promptly notify the commissioner of DEQE of his decision and the reason for the determination. Simultaneously, the municipal coordinator shall notify the petitioning community resident that no investigation will be made and the reasons for this determination.

(f) Any petitioning community resident who believes that the response of the municipal coordinator to the petition does not adequately address the matters contained therein may request in writing within fifteen days of such response that the commissioner of DEQE review said response and take such action as the commissioner deems appropriate. The commissioner shall also, where appropriate, provide the relevant MSDS's to the petitioning resident, provided, however, that the commissioner of DEQE determines that said request is not frivolous or intended to harass the employer.

The commissioner shall review the request of the petitioning resident and make a determination thereon within fifteen days of its filing. The commissioner shall promptly notify the employer of the petitioning community resident's request within five days of its filing, and shall notify said employer of any release of an MSDS at the time of said release.

(g) A community resident or employer aggrieved by an action of the municipal coordinator or the commissioner of DEQE may appeal such determinations in the Superior court for the county in which the resident resides or in which the employer's workplace is located. The determinations shall be reviewed in accordance with the standards for review provided in section fourteen of chapter thirty A.

(h) Except as provided in section nineteen, any municipal official other than the municipal coordinator shall be deemed a community resident and shall have those rights and obligations provided to community residents herein.

(i) Nothing contained herein shall be construed to confer additional or reduce current powers of local public officials under existing laws, ordinances, or by-laws.

Section 19. A municipal coordinator who has obtained an MSDS from an employer pursuant to section sixteen may make available to another municipal official for the city or town in which the workplace of the employer is located, a copy of an MSDS, if he determines that an imminent threat to public health or safety exists for which immediate access to information contained in the MSDS is critical to that other municipal official's performance of a duty imposed by statute, regulation, ordinance, or by-law. The municipal coordinator shall so inform the employer of the release of the MSDS to another municipal official.

Section 20. (a) A preparer shall provide an MSDS without trade secret information immediately on a confidential basis to a community resident's treating physician who states in writing that said resident's medical condition may be the result of exposure to a toxic or hazardous substance present in the said employer's workplace; provided, however that such treating physician shall be required to sign concurrently a confidentiality agreement, the form of which shall be established by the commissioner of DPH. This agreement shall restrict the use of information to health purposes, prohibit disclosure of information to anyone other than the treating physician and necessary medical personnel, and may provide for compensation or other legally appropriate relief for any competitive harm which may result from a breach of the agreement.

(b) A preparer shall provide the information withheld from an MSDS as a trade secret immediately on a confidential basis to a community resident's treating physician who states in writing that a medical emergency as defined in section one exists with respect to the resident; provided, however, that such treating physician shall be required to sign concurrently, or in the case of geographical separation, within twenty-four hours a confidentiality agreement, the form of which shall be established by the commissioner of DPH. This agreement shall restrict the use of information to health purposes, prohibit disclosure of the information to anyone other than the treating physician and necessary medical personnel, and may provide for compensation or other legally appropriate relief for any competitive harm which may result from a breach of this agreement.

Section 21. (a) Any information provided to state or local agencies or instrumentalities by manufacturers and employers pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and any information provided to their public agencies or coordinator pursuant to this chapter shall not be a public record for the purposes of chapter sixty-six of the General Laws.

(b) Any person who has obtained possession of or has access to information pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall not disclose said information to any person not specifically authorized to receive it hereunder. Violation of this provision shall be punishable by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Provided, however, that disclosure by an employee to his or her spouse, or to a fellow employee exposed to the same toxic or hazardous substance as is involved in the disclosure, shall not constitute a violation of this chapter.

SECTION 2. If any section of this act shall be held unconstitutional either on its face or as applied, the unconstitutionality of that section shall not affect the remaining sections of this act.

SECTION 3. This chapter shall take effect on the one hundred
