(a) the issuer must honor the draft or demand for payment if honor is demanded by a negotiating bank or other holder of the draft or demand which has taken the draft or demand under the credit and under circumstances which would make it a holder in due course (section 3-302) and in an appropriate case would make it a person to whom a document of title has been duly negotiated (section 7-502) or a bona fide purchaser of a certificated security (section 8-302); and

SECTION 5. Said chapter 106 is hereby further amended by striking out Article 8 and inserting in place thereof the following article:

ARTICLE 8.
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

PART 1. SHORT TITLE AND GENERAL MATTERS.

Section 8-101. Short Title.
This Article shall be known and may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code-Investment Securities.

Section 8-102. Definitions and Index of Definitions.
(1) In this Article, unless the context otherwise requires:
(a) A "certificated security" is a share, participation, or other interest in property of or an enterprise of the issuer or an obligation of the issuer which is
(i) represented by an instrument issued in bearer or registered form;
(ii) of a type commonly dealt in on securities exchanges or markets or commonly recognized in any area in which it is issued or dealt in as a medium for investment; and
(iii) either one of a class or series or by its terms divisible into a class or series of shares, participations, interests, or obligations.
(b) An "uncertificated security" is a share, participation, or other interest in property or an enterprise of the issuer or an obligation of the issuer which is
(i) not represented by an instrument and the transfer of which is registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the issuer;
(ii) of a type commonly dealt in on securities exchanges or markets; and
(iii) either one of a class or series or by its terms divisible into a class or series of shares, participations, interests, or obligations.
(c) A "security" is either a certificated or an uncertificated security. If a security is certificated, the terms "security" and "certificated security" may mean either the intangible interest, the instrument representing that interest, or both, as the context requires. A writing that is a certificated security is governed by this Article and not by Article 3, even though it also meets the requirements of said Article 3. This Article does not apply to money. If a certificated security has been retained by or surrendered to the issuer or its transfer agent for reasons other than registration of transfer, other temporary purpose, payment, exchange, or acquisition by the issuer, that security shall be treated as an uncertificated security for purposes of this Article.

(d) A certificated security is in "registered form" if

(i) it specifies a person entitled to the security or the rights it represents; and

(ii) its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the issuer, or the security so states.

(e) A certificated security is in "bearer form" if it runs to bearer according to its terms and not by reason of any indorsement.

(2) A "subsequent purchaser" is a person who takes other than by original issue.

(3) A "clearing corporation" is a corporation registered as a "clearing agency" under the federal securities laws or a corporation:

(a) at least ninety per cent of whose capital stock is held by or for one or more organizations, none of which, other than a national securities exchange or association, holds in excess of twenty per cent of the capital stock of the corporation, and each of which is

(i) subject to supervision or regulation pursuant to the provisions of federal or state banking laws or state insurance laws,

(ii) a broker or dealer or investment company registered under the federal securities laws, or

(iii) a national securities exchange or association registered under the federal securities laws; and

(b) any remaining capital stock of which is held by individuals who have purchased it at or prior to the time of their taking office as directors of the corporation and who have purchased only so much of the capital stock as is necessary to permit them to qualify as directors.

(4) A "custodian bank" is a bank or trust company that is supervised and examined by state or federal authority having supervision over banks and is acting as custodian for a clearing corporation.

(6) In addition, Article 1 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this Article.

Section 8-103. Issuer's Lien.

A lien upon a security in favor of an issuer thereof is valid against a purchaser only if:

(a) the security is certificated and the right of the issuer to the lien is noted conspicuously thereon; or

(b) the security is uncertificated and a notation of the right of the issuer to the lien is contained in the initial transaction statement sent to the purchaser or, if his interest is transferred to him other than by registration of transfer, pledge, or release, the initial transaction statement sent to the registered owner or the registered pledgee.

Section 8-104. Effect of Overissue; "Overissue".

(1) The provisions of this Article which validate a security or compel its issue or reissue do not apply to the extent that validation, issue, or reissue would result in overissue; but if:

(a) an identical security which does not constitute an overissue is reasonably available for purchase, the person entitled to issue or validation may compel the issuer to purchase the security for him and either to deliver a certificated security or to register the transfer of an uncertificated security to him, against surrender of any certificated security he holds; or

(b) a security is not so available for purchase, the person entitled to issue or validation may recover from the issuer the price he or the last purchaser for value paid for it with interest from the date of his demand.

(2) "Overissue" means the issue of securities in excess of the amount the issuer has corporate power to issue.

Section 8-105. Certificated Securities Negotiable; Statements and Instructions Not Negotiable; Presumptions.

(1) Certificated securities governed by this Article are negotiable instruments.

(2) Statements (section 8-408), notices, or the like, sent by the issuer of uncertificated securities and instructions (section 8-308) are neither negotiable instruments nor certificated securities.

(3) In any action on a security:

(a) unless specifically denied in the pleadings, each signature on a certificated security, in a necessary indorsement, on an initial transaction statement, or on an instruction, is admitted;

(b) if the effectiveness of a signature is put in issue, the burden of establishing it is on the party claiming under the signature, but the signature is presumed to be genuine or authorized;

(c) if signatures on a certificated security are admitted or established, production of the security entitles a holder to recover on it unless the defendant establishes a defense or a defect going to the validity of the security;

(d) if signatures on an initial transaction statement are admitted or established, the facts stated in the statement are presumed to be true as of the time of its issuance; and

(e) after it is shown that a defense or defect exists, the plaintiff has the burden of establishing that he or some person under whom he claims is a person against whom the defense or defect is ineffective (section 8-202).

Section 8-106. Applicability.

The law, including the conflict of laws rules, of the jurisdiction of organization of the issuer governs the validity of a security, the effectiveness of registration by the issuer, and the rights and duties of the issuer with respect to:

(a) registration of transfer of a certificated security;

(b) registration of transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security; and

(c) sending of statements of uncertificated securities.

Section 8-107. Securities Transferable; Action for Price.

(1) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to any applicable law or regulation respecting short sales, a person obligated to transfer securities may transfer any certificated security of the specified issue in bearer form or registered in the name of the transferee, or indorsed to him or in blank, or he may transfer an equivalent uncertificated security to the transferee or a person designated by the transferee.

(2) If the buyer fails to pay the price as it comes due under a contract of sale, the seller may recover the price of:

(a) certificated securities accepted by the buyer;

(b) uncertificated securities that have been transferred to the buyer or a person designated by the buyer; and

(c) other securities if efforts at their resale would be unduly burdensome or if there is no readily available market for their resale.

Section 8-108. Registration of Pledge and Release of Uncertificated Securities.

A security interest in an uncertificated security may be evidenced by the registration of pledge to the secured party or a person designated by him. There can be no more than one registered pledge of an uncertificated security at any time. The registered owner of an uncertificated security is the person in whose name the security is registered, even if the security is subject to a registered pledge. The rights of a registered pledgee of an uncertificated security under this Article are terminated by the registration of release.

PART 2. ISSUE-ISSUER.

Section 8-201. "Issuer".

(1) With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security, "issuer" includes a person who:

(a) places or authorizes the placing of his name on a certificated security, otherwise than as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent, or the like, to evidence that it represents a share, participation, or other interest in his property or in an enterprise, or to evidence his duty to perform an obligation represented by the certificated security;

(b) creates shares, participations, or other interests in his property or in an enterprise or undertakes obligations, which shares, participations, interests, or obligations are uncertificated securities;

(c) directly or indirectly creates fractional interests in his rights or property, which fractional interests are represented by certificated securities; or

(d) becomes responsible for or in place of any other person described as an issuer in this section.

(2) With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security, a guarantor is an issuer to the extent of his guaranty, whether or not his obligation is noted on a certificated security or on statements of uncertificated securities sent pursuant to section 8-408.

(3) With respect to registration of transfer, pledge, or release (Part 4 of this Article), "issuer" means a person on whose behalf transfer books are maintained.

Section 8-202. Issuer's Responsibility and Defenses; Notice of Defect or Defense.

(1) Even against a purchaser for value and without notice, the terms of a security include:

(a) if the security is certificated, those stated on the security;

(b) if the security is uncertificated, those contained in the initial transaction statement sent to such purchaser or, if his interest is transferred to him other than by registration of transfer, pledge, or release, the initial transaction statement sent to the registered owner or registered pledgee; and

(c) those made part of the security by reference, on the certificated security or in the initial transaction statement, to another instrument, indenture, or document or to a constitution, statute, ordinance, rule, regulation, order or the like, to the extent that the terms referred to do not conflict with the terms stated on the certificated security or contained in the statement. A reference under this paragraph does not of itself charge a purchaser for value with notice of a defect going to the validity of the security, even though the certificated security or statement expressly states that a person accepting it admits notice.

(2) A certificated security in the hands of a purchaser for value or an uncertificated security as to which an initial transaction statement has been sent to a purchaser for value, other than a security issued by a government or governmental agency or unit, even though issued with a defect going to its validity, is valid with respect to the purchaser if he is without notice of the particular defect unless the defect involves a violation of constitutional provisions, in which case the security is valid with respect to a subsequent purchaser for value and without notice of the defect. This subsection applies to an issuer that is a govenment or governmental agency or unit only if either there has been substantial compliance with the legal requirements governing the issue or the issuer has received a substantial consideration for the issue as a whole or for the particular security and a stated purpose of the issue is one for which the issuer has power to borrow money or issue the security.

(3) Except as provided in the case of certain unauthorized signatures (section 8-205), lack of genuineness of a certificated security or an initial transaction statement is a complete defense, even against a purchaser for value and without notice.

(4) All other defenses of the issuer of a certificated or uncertificated security, including nondelivery and conditional delivery of a certificated security, are ineffective against a purchaser for value who has taken without notice of the particular defense.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the right of a party to a "when, as and if issued" or a "when distributed" contract to cancel the contract in the event of a material change in the character of the security that is the subject of the contract or in the plan or arrangement pursuant to which the security is to be issued or distributed.

Section 8-203. Staleness as Notice of Defects or Defenses.
(1) After an act or event creating a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation represented by a certificated security or that sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange, a purchaser is charged with notice of any defect in its issue or defense of the issuer if:

(a) the act or event is one requiring the payment of money, the delivery of certificated securities, the registration of transfer of uncertificated securities, or any of these on presentation or surrender of the certificated security, the funds or securities are available on the date set for payment or exchange, and he takes the security more than one year after that date; and

(b) the act or event is not covered by paragraph (a) and he takes the security more than two years after the date set for surrender or presentation or the date on which performance became due.

(2) A call that has been revoked is not within subsection (1).

Section 8-204. Effect of Issuer's Restrictions on Transfer.
A restriction on transfer of a security imposed by the issuer, even if otherwise lawful, is ineffective against any person without actual knowledge of it unless:

(a) the security is certificated and the restriction is noted conspicuously thereon; or

(b) the security is uncertificated and a notation of the restriction is contained in the initial transaction statement sent to the person or, if his interest is transferred to him other than by registration of transfer, pledge, or release, the initial transaction statement sent to the registered owner or the registered pledgee.

Section 8-205. Effect of Unauthorized Signature on Certificated Security or Initial Transaction Statement.
An unauthorized signature placed on a certificated security prior to or in the course of issue or placed on an initial transaction statement is ineffective, but the signature is effective in favor of a purchaser for value of the certificated security or a purchaser for value of an uncertificated security to whom the initial transaction statement has been sent, if the purchaser is without notice of the lack of authority and the signing has been done by:

(a) an authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent, or other person entrusted by the issuer with the signing of the security, of similar securities, or of initial transaction statements or the immediate preparation for signing of any of them; or

(b) an employee of the issuer, or of any of the foregoing, entrusted with responsible handling of the security or initial transaction statement.

Section 8-206. Completion or Alteration of Certificated Security or Initial Transaction Statement.

(1) If a certificated security contains the signatures necessary to its issue or transfer but is incomplete in any other respect:

(a) any person may complete it by filling in the blanks as authorized; and

(b) even though the blanks are incorrectly filled in, the security as completed is enforceable by a purchaser who took it for value and without notice of the incorrectness.

(2) A complete certificated security that has been improperly altered, even though fraudulently, remains enforceable, but only according to its original terms.

(3) If an initial transaction statement contains the signatures necessary to its validity, but is incomplete in any other respect:

(a) any person may complete it by filling in the blanks as authorized; and

(b) even though the blanks are incorrectly filled in, the statement as completed is effective in favor of the person to whom it is sent if he purchased the security referred to therein for value and without notice of the incorrectness.

(4) A complete initial transaction statement that has been improperly altered, even though fraudulently, is effective in favor of a purchaser to whom it has been sent, but only according to its original terms.

Section 8-207. Rights and Duties of Issuer With Respect to Registered Owners and Registered Pledgees.

(1) Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer of a certificated security in registered form, the issuer or indenture trustee may treat the registered owner as the person exclusively entitled to vote, to receive notifications, and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsections (3), (4), and (6), the issuer or indenture trustee may treat the registered owner of an uncertificated security as the person exclusively entitled to vote, to receive notifications, and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner.

(3) The registered owner of an uncertificated security that is subject to a registered pledge is not entitled to registration of transfer prior to the due presentment to the issuer of a release instruction. The exercise of conversion rights with respect to a convertible uncertificated security is a transfer within the meaning of this section.

(4) Upon due presentment of a transfer instruction from the registered pledgee of an uncertificated security, the issuer shall:

(a) register the transfer of the security to the new owner free of pledge, if the instruction specifies a new owner, who may be the registered pledgee, and does not specify a pledgee;

(b) register the transfer of the security to the new owner subject to the interest of the existing pledgee, if the instruction specifies a new owner and the existing pledgee; or

(c) register the release of the security from the existing pledge and register the pledge of the security to the other pledgee, if the instruction specifies the existing owner and another pledgee.

(5) Continuity of perfection of a security interest is not broken by registration of transfer under paragraph (b) of subsection (4) or by registration of release and pledge under paragraph (c) of subsection (4), if the security interest is assigned.

(6) If an uncertificated security is subject to a registered pledge:

(a) any uncertificated securities issued in exchange for or distributed with respect to the pledged security shall be registered subject to the pledge;

(b) any certificated securities issued in exchange for or distributed with respect to the pledged security shall be delivered to the registered pledgee; and

(c) any money paid in exchange for or in redemption of part or all of the security shall be paid to the registered pledgee.

(7) Nothing in this Article shall be construed to affect the liability of the registered owner of a security for calls, assessments, or the like.

Section 8-208. Effect of Signature of Authenticating Trustee, Registrar, or Transfer Agent.

(1) A person placing his signature upon a certificated security or an initial transaction statement as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent, or the like, warrants to a purchaser for value of the certificated security or a purchaser for value of an uncertificated security to whom the initial transaction statement has been sent, if the purchaser is without notice of the particular defect, that:

(a) the certificated security or initial transaction statement is genuine;

(b) his own participation in the issue or registration of the transfer, pledge, or release of the security is within his capacity and within the scope of the authority received by him from the issuer; and

(c) he has reasonable grounds to believe the security is in the form and within the amount the issuer is authorized to issue.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed, a person by so placing his signature does not assume responsibility for the validity of the security in other respects.

PART 3. TRANSFER.

Section 8-301. Rights Acquired by Purchaser.

(1) Upon transfer of a security to a purchaser (section 8-313), the purchaser acquires the rights in the security which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey unless the purchaser's rights are limited by subsection (4) of section 8-302.

(2) A transferee of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest transferred. The creation or release of a security interest in a security is the transfer of a limited interest in that security.

Section 8-302. "Bona Fide Purchaser"; "Adverse Claim"; Title Acquired by Bona Fide Purchaser.

(1) A "bona fide purchaser" is a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of any adverse claim:

(a) who takes delivery of a certificated security in bearer form or in registered form, issued or indorsed to him or in blank;

(b) to whom the transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security is registered on the books of the issuer; or

(c) to whom a security is transferred under the provisions of paragraph (c), (d)(i), or (g) of subsection (1) of section 8-313.

(2) "Adverse claim" includes a claim that a transfer was or would be unauthorized or wrongful or that a particular adverse person is the owner of or has an interest in the security.

(3) A bona fide purchaser in addition to acquiring the rights of a purchaser (section 8-301) also acquires his interest in the security free of any adverse claim.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of section 8-301, the transferee of a particular certificated security who has been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the security, or who as a prior holder of that certificated security had notice of an adverse claim, cannot improve his position by taking from a bona fide purchaser.

Section 8-303. "Broker".

"Broker" means a person engaged for all or part of his time in the business of buying and selling securities, who in the transaction concerned acts for, buys a security from, or sells a security to, a customer. Nothing in this Article determines the capacity in which a person acts for purposes of any other statute or rule to which the person is subject.

Section 8-304. Notice to Purchaser of Adverse Claims.

(1) A purchaser, including a broker for the seller or buyer, but excluding an intermediary bank, of a certificated security is charged with notice of adverse claims if:

(a) the security, whether in bearer or registered form, has been indorsed "for collection" or "for surrender" or for some other purpose not involving transfer; or

(b) the security is in bearer form and has on it an unambiguous statement that it is the property of a person other than the transferor. The mere writing of a name on a security is not such a statement.

(2) A purchaser, including a broker for the seller or buyer, but excluding an intermediary bank, to whom the transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security is registered is charged with notice of adverse claims as to which the issuer has a duty under subsection (4) of section 8-403 at the time of registration and which are noted in the initial transaction statement sent to the purchaser or, if his interest is transferred to him other than by registration of transfer, pledge, or release, the initial transaction statement sent to the registered owner or the registered pledgee.

(3) The fact that the purchaser, including a broker for the seller or buyer, of a certificated or uncertificated security has notice that the security is held for a third person or is registered in the name of or indorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of inquiry into the rightfulness of the transfer or constitute constructive notice of adverse claims. However, if the purchaser, excluding an intermediary bank, has knowledge that the proceeds are being used or the transaction is for the individual benefit of the fiduciary or otherwise in breach of duty, the purchaser is charged with notice of adverse claims.

Section 8-305. Staleness as Notice of Adverse Claims.

An act or event that creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation represented by a certificated security or sets a date on or after which a certificated security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange does not itself constitute any notice of adverse claims except in the case of a transfer:

(a) after one year from any date set for presentment or surrender for redemption or exchange; or

(b) after six months from any date set for payment of money against presentation or surrender of the security if funds are available for payment on that date.

Section 8-306. Warranties on Presentment and Transfer of Certificated Securities; Warranties of Originators of Instructions.

(1) A person who presents a certificated security for registration of transfer or for payment or exchange warrants to the issuer that he is entitled to the registration, payment, or exchange. But, a purchaser for value and without notice of adverse claims who receives a new, reissued, or reregistered certificated security on registration of transfer or receives an initial transaction statement confirming the registration of transfer of an equivalent uncertificated security to him warrants only that he has no knowledge of any unauthorized signature (section 8-311) in a necessary indorsement.

(2) A person by transferring a certificated security to a purchaser for value warrants only that:

(a) his transfer is effective and rightful;

(b) the security is genuine and has not been materially altered; and

(c) he knows of no fact which might impair the validity of the security.

(3) If a certificated security is delivered by an intermediary known to be entrusted with delivery of the security on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against delivery, the intermediary by delivery warrants only his own good faith and authority, even though he has purchased or made advances against the claim to be collected against the delivery.

(4) A pledgee or other holder for security who redelivers a certificated security received, or after payment and on order of the debtor delivers that security to a third person, makes only the warranties of an intermediary under subsection (3).

(5) A person who originates an instruction warrants to the issuer that:

(a) he is an appropriate person to originate the instruction; and

(b) at the time the instruction is presented to the issuer he will be entitled to the registration of transfer, pledge, or release.

(6) A person who originates an instruction warrants to any person specially guaranteeing his signature (subsection (3) of section 8-312) that:

(a) he is an appropriate person to originate the instruction; and

(b) at the time the instruction is presented to the issuer

(i) he will be entitled to the registration of transfer, pledge, or release; and

(ii) the transfer, pledge, or release requested in the instruction will be registered by the issuer free from all liens, security interests, restrictions, and claims other than those specified in the instruction.

(7) A person who originates an instruction warrants to a purchaser for value and to any person guaranteeing the instruction (subsection (6) of section 8-312) that:

(a) he is an appropriate person to originate the instruction;

(b) the uncertificated security referred to therein is valid; and

(c) at the time the instruction is presented to the issuer

(i) the transferor will be entitled to the registration of transfer, pledge, or release;

(ii) the transfer, pledge, or release requested in the instruction will be registered by the issuer free from all liens, security interests, restrictions, and claims other than those specified in the instruction; and

(iii) the requested transfer, pledge, or release will be rightful.

(8) If a secured party is the registerd pledgee or the registered owner of an uncertificated security, a person who originates an instruction of release or transfer to the debtor or, after payment and on order of the debtor, a transfer instruction to a third person, warrants to the debtor or the third person only that he is an appropriate person to originate the instruction and, at the time the instruction is presented to the issuer, the transferor will be entitled to the registration of release or transfer. If a transfer instruction to a third person who is a purchaser for value is originated on order of the debtor, the debtor makes to the purchaser the warranties of subparagraph (ii) of paragraphs (b), (c) and subparagraph (iii) of said paragraph (c) of subsection (7).

(9) A person who transfers an uncertificated security to a purchaser for value and does not originate an instruction in connection with the transfer warrants only that:

(a) his transfer is effective and rightful; and

(b) the uncertificated security is valid.

(10) A broker gives to his customer and to the issuer and a purchaser the applicable warranties provided in this section and has the rights and privileges of a purchaser under this section. The warranties of and in favor of the broker, acting as an agent are in addition to applicable warranties given by and in favor of his customer.

Section 8-307. Effect of Delivery Without Indorsement; Right to Compel Indorsement.

If a certificated security in registered form has been delivered to a purchaser without a necessary indorsement he may become a bona fide purchaser only as of the time the indorsement is supplied; but against the transferor, the transfer is complete upon delivery and the purchaser has a specifically enforceable right to have any necessary indorsement supplied.

Section 8-308. Indorsements; Instructions.

(1) An indorsement of a certificated security in registered form is made when an appropriate person signs on it or on a separate document an assignment or transfer of the security or a power to assign or transfer it or his signature is written without more upon the back of the security.

(2) An indorsement may be in blank or special. An indorsement in blank includes an indorsement to bearer. A special indorsement specifies to whom the security is to be transferred, or who has power to transfer it. A holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement.

(3) An indorsement purporting to be only of part of a certificated security representing units intended by the issuer to be separately transferable is effective to the extent of the indorsement.

(4) An "instruction" is an order to the issuer of an uncertificated security requesting that the transfer, pledge, or release from pledge of the uncertificated security specified therein be registered.

(5) An instruction originated by an appropriate person is:

(a) a writing signed by an appropriate person; or

(b) a communication to the issuer in any form agreed upon in a writing signed by the issuer and an appropriate person.

If an instruction has been originated by an appropriate person but is incomplete in any other respect, any person may complete it as authorized and the issuer may rely on it as completed even though it has been completed incorrectly.

(6) "An appropriate person" in subsection (1) means the person specified by the certificated security or by special indorsement to be entitled to the security.

(7) "An appropriate person" in subsection (5) means:

(a) for an instruction to transfer or pledge an uncertificated security which is then not subject to a registered pledge, the registered owner; or

(b) for an instruction to transfer or release an uncertificated security which is then subject to a registered pledge, the registered pledgee.

(8) In addition to the persons designated in subsections (6) and (7), "an appropriate person" in subsections (1) and (5) includes:

(a) if the person designated is described as a fiduciary but is no longer serving in the described capacity, either that person or his successor;

(b) if the persons designated are described as more than one person as fiduciaries and one or more are no longer serving in the described capacity, the remaining fiduciary or fiduciaries, whether or not a successor has been appointed or qualified;

(c) if the person designated is an individual and is without capacity to act by virtue of death, incompetence, infancy, or otherwise, his executor, administrator, guardian, or like fiduciary;

(d) if the persons designated are described as more than one person as tenants by the entirety or with right of survivorship and by reason of death all cannot sign, the survivor or survivors;

(e) a person having power to sign under applicable law or controlling instrument; and

(f) to the extent that the person designated or any of the foregoing persons may act through an agent, his authorized agent.

(9) Unless otherwise agreed, the indorser of a certificated security by his indorsement or the originator of an instruction by his origination assumes no obligation that the security will be honored by the issuer but only the obligations provided in section 8-306.

(10) Whether the person signing is appropriate is determined as of the date of signing and an indorsement made by or an instruction originated by him does not become unauthorized for the purposes of this Article by virtue of any subsequent change of circumstances.

(11) Failure of a fiduciary to comply with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer, pledge, or release, does not render his indorsement or an instruction originated by him unauthorized for the purposes of this Article.

Section 8-309. Effect of Indorsement Without Delivery.

An indorsement of a certificated security, whether special or in blank, does not constitute a transfer until delivery of the certificated security on which it appears or, if the indorsement is on a separate document, until delivery of both the document and the certificated security.

Section 8-310. Indorsement of Certificated Security in Bearer Form.

An indorsement of a certificated security in bearer form may give notice of adverse claims (section 8-304) but does not otherwise affect any right to registration the holder possesses.

Section 8-311. Effect of Unauthorized Indorsement or Instruction.

Unless the owner or pledgee has ratified an unauthorized indorsement or instruction or is otherwise precluded from asserting its ineffectiveness:

(a) he may assert its ineffectiveness against the issuer or any purchaser, other than a purchaser for value and without notice of adverse claims, who has in good faith received a new, reissued, or reregistered certificated security on registration of transfer or received an initial transaction statement confirming the registration of transfer, pledge, or release of an equivalent uncertificated security to him; and

(b) an issuer who registers the transfer of a certificated security upon the unauthorized indorsement or who registers the transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security upon the unauthorized instruction is subject to liability for improper registration (section 8-404).

Section 8-312. Effect of Guaranteeing Signature, Indorsement or Instruction.

(1) Any person guaranteeing a signature of an indorser of a certificated security warrants that at the time of signing:

(a) the signature was genuine;

(b) the signer was an appropriate person to indorse (section 8-308); and

(c) the signer had legal capacity to sign.

(2) Any person guaranteeing a signature of the originator of an instruction warrants that at the time of signing:

(a) the signature was genuine;

(b) the signer was an appropriate person to originate the instruction (section 8-308) if the person specified in the instruction as the registered owner or registered pledgee of the uncertificated security was, in fact, the registered owner or registered pledgee of the security, as to which fact the signature guarantor makes no warranty;

(c) the signer had legal capacity to sign; and

(d) the taxpayer identification number, if any, appearing on the instruction as that of the registered owner or registered pledgee was the taxpayer identification number of the signer or of the owner or pledgee for whom the signer was acting.

(3) Any person specially guaranteeing the signature of the originator of an instruction makes not only the warranties of a signature guarantor (subsection (2)) but also warrants that at the time the instruction is presented to the issuer:

(a) the person specified in the instruction as the registered owner or registered pledgee of the uncertificated security will be the registered owner or registered pledgee; and

(b) the transfer, pledge, or release of the uncertificated security requested in the instruction will be registered by the issuer free from all liens, security interests, restrictions, and claims other than those specified in the instruction.

(4) The guarantor under subsections (1) and (2) or the special guarantor under subsection (3) does not otherwise warrant the rightfulness of the particular transfer, pledge, or release.

(5) Any person guaranteeing an indorsement of a certificated security makes not only the warranties of a signature guarantor under subsection (1) but also warrants the rightfulness of the particular transfer in all respects.

(6) Any person guaranteeing an instruction requesting the transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security makes not only the warranties of a special signature guarantor under subsection (3) but also warrants the rightfulness of the particular transfer, pledge, or release in all respects.

(7) No issuer may require a special guarantee of signature (subsection (3)), a guarantee of indorsement (subsection (5)), or a guarantee of instruction (subsection (6)) as a condition to registration of transfer, pledge, or release.

(8) The foregoing warranties are made to any person taking or dealing with the security in reliance on the guarantee, and the guarantor is liable to the person for any loss resulting from breach of the warranties.

Section 8-313. When Transfer to Purchaser Occurs; Financial Intermediary as Bona Fide Purchaser; "Financial Intermediary".

(1) Transfer of a security or a limited interest, including a security interest therein to a purchaser occurs only:

(a) at the time he or a person designated by him acquires possession of a certificated security;

(b) at the time the transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security is registered to him or a person designated by him;

(c) at the time his financial intermediary acquires possession of a certificated security specially indorsed to or issued in the name of the purchaser;

(d) at the time a financial intermediary, not a clearing corporation, sends him confirmation of the purchase and also by book entry or otherwise identifies as belonging to the purchaser

(i) a specific certificated security in the financial intermediary's possession;

(ii) a quantity of securities that constitute or are part of a fungible bulk of certificated securities in the financial intermediary's possession or of uncertificated securities registered in the name of the financial intermediary; or

(iii) a quantity of securities that constitute or are part of a fungible bulk of securities shown on the account of the financial intermediary on the books of another financial intermediary;

(e) with respect to an identified certificated security to be delivered while still in the possession of a third person, not a financial intermediary, at the time that person acknowledges that he holds for the purchaser;

(f) with respect to a specific uncertificated security the pledge or transfer of which has been registered to a third person, not a financial intermediary, at the time that person acknowledges that he holds for the purchaser;

(g) at the time appropriate entries to the account of the purchaser or a person designated by him on the books of a clearing corporation are made under section 8-320;

(h) with respect to the transfer of a security interest where the debtor has signed a security agreement containing a description of the security, at the time a written notification, which, in the case of the creation of the security interest, is signed by the debtor, which may be a copy of the security agreement, or which, in the case of the release or assignment of the security interest created pursuant to this paragraph, is signed by the secured party, is received by

(i) a financial intermediary on whose books the interest of the transferor in the security appears;

(ii) a third person, not a financial intermediary, in possession of the security, if it is certificated;

(iii) a third person, not a financial intermediary, who is the registered owner of the security, if it is uncertificated and not subject to a registered pledge; or

(iv) a third person, not a financial intermediary, who is the registered pledgee of the security, if it is uncertificated and subject to a registered pledge;

(i) with respect to the transfer of a security interest where the transferor has signed a security agreement containing a description of the security, at the time new value is given by the secured party; or

(j) with respect to the transfer of a security interest where the secured party is a financial intermediary and the security has already been transferred to the financial intermediary under paragraph (a), (b), (c), (d), or (g), at the time the transferor has signed a security agreement containing a description of the security and value is given by the secured party.

(2) The purchaser is the owner of a security held for him by a financial intermediary, but cannot be a bona fide purchaser of a security so held except in the circumstances specified in paragraphs (c), (d)(i), and (g) of subsection (1). If a security so held is part of a fungible bulk, as in the circumstances specified in subparagraphs (ii) and (iii) of paragraph (d) of subsection (1), the purchaser is the owner of a proportionate property interest in the fungible bulk.

(3) Notice of an adverse claim received by the financial intermediary or by the purchaser after the financial intermediary takes delivery of a certificated security as a holder for value or after the transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security has been registered free of the claim to a financial intermediary who has given value is not effective either as to the financial intermediary or as to the purchaser. However, as between the financial intermediary and the purchaser the purchaser may demand transfer of an equivalent security as to which no notice of adverse claim has been received.

(4) A "financial intermediary" is a bank, broker, clearing corporation, or other person, or the nominee of any of them, which in the ordinary course of its business manintains security accounts for its customers and is acting in that capacity. A financial intermediary may have a security interest in securities held in account for its customer.

Section 8-314. Duty to Transfer, When Completed.

(1) Unless otherwise agreed, if a sale of a security is made on an exchange or otherwise through brokers:

(a) the selling customer fulfills his duty to transfer at the time he:

(i) places a certificated security in the possession of the selling broker or a person designated by the broker;

(ii) causes an uncertificated security to be registered in the name of the selling broker or a person designated by the broker;

(iii) if requested, causes an acknowledgment to be made to the selling broker that a certificated or uncertificated security is held for the broker; or

(iv) places in the possession of the selling broker or of a person designated by the broker a transfer instruction for an uncertificated security, providing the issuer does not refuse to register the requested transfer if the instruction is presented to the issuer for registration within thirty days thereafter; and

(b) the selling broker, including a correspondent broker acting for a selling customer, fulfills his duty to transfer at the time he:

(i) places a certificated security in the possession of the buying broker or a person designated by the buying broker;

(ii) causes an uncertificated security to be registered in the name of the buying broker or a person designated by the buying broker;

(iii) places in the possession of the buying broker or of a person designated by the buying broker a transfer instruction for an uncertificated security, providing the issuer does not refuse to register the requested transfer if the instruction is presented to the issuer for registration within thirty days thereafter; or

(iv) effects clearance of the sale in accordance with the rules of the exchange on which the transaction took place.

(2) Except as provided in this section or unless otherwise agreed, a transferor's duty to transfer a security under a contract of purchase is not fulfilled until he:

(a) places a certificated security in form to be negotiated by the purchaser in the possession of the purchaser or of a person designated by the purchaser;

(b) causes an uncertificated security to be registered in the name of the purchaser or a person designated by the purchaser; or

(c) if the purchaser requests, causes an acknowledgment to be made to the purchaser that a certificated or uncertificated security is held for the purchaser.

(3) Unless made on an exchange, a sale to a broker purchasing for his own account is within subsection (2) and not within subsection (1).

Section 8-315. Action Against Transferee Based Upon Wrongful Transfer.

(1) Any person against whom the transfer of a security is wrongful for any reason, including his incapacity, as against anyone except a bona fide purchaser, may:

(a) reclaim possession of the certificated security wrongfully transferred;

(b) obtain possession of any new certificated security representing all or part of the same rights;

(c) compel the origination of an instruction to transfer to him or a person designated by him an uncertificated security constituting all or part of the same rights; or

(d) have damages.

(2) If the transfer is wrongful because of an unauthorized indorsement of a certificated security, the owner may also reclaim or obtain possession of the security or a new certificated security, even from a bona fide purchaser, if the ineffectiveness of the purported indorsement can be asserted against him under the provisions of this Article on unauthorized indorsements (section 8-311).

(3) The right to obtain or reclaim possession of a certificated security or to compel the origination of a transfer instruction may be specifically enforced and the transfer of a certificated or uncertificated security enjoined and a certificated security impounded pending the litigation.

Section 8-316. Purchaser's Right to Requisites for Registration of Transfer, Pledge, or Release on Books.

Unless otherwise agreed, the transferor of a certificated security or the transferor, pledgor, or pledgee of an uncertificated security on due demand must supply his purchaser with any proof of his authority to transfer, pledge, or release or with any other requisite necessary to obtain registration of the transfer, pledge, or release of the security; but if the transfer, pledge, or release is not for value, a transferor, pledgor, or pledgee need not do so unless the purchaser furnishes the necessary expenses. Failure within a reasonable time to comply with a demand made gives the purchaser the right to reject or rescind the transfer, pledge, or release.

Section 8-317. Creditors' Rights.

(1) Subject to the exceptions in subsections (3) and (4), no attachment or levy upon a certificated security or any share or other interest represented thereby which is outstanding is valid until the security is actually seized by the officer making the attachment or levy, but a certificated security which has been surrendered to the issuer may be reached by a creditor by legal process at the issuer's chief executive office in the United States.

(2) An uncertificated security registered in the name of the debtor may not be reached by a creditor except by legal process at the issuer's chief executive office in the United States.

(3) The interest of a debtor in a certificated security that is in the possession of a secured party not a financial intermediary or in an uncertificated security registered in the name of a secured party not a financial intermediary, or in the name of a nominee of the secured party, may be reached by a creditor by legal process upon the secured party.

(4) The interest of a debtor in a certificated security that is in the possession of or registered in the name of a financial intermediary or in an uncertificated security registered in the name of a financial intermediary may be reached by a creditor by legal process upon the financial intermediary on whose books the interest of the debtor appears.

(5) Unless otherwise provided by law, a creditor's lien upon the interest of a debtor in a security obtained pursuant to subsection (3) or (4) is not a restraint on the transfer of the security, free of the lien, to a third party for new value; but in the event of a transfer, the lien applies to the proceeds of the transfer in the hands of the secured party or financial intermediary, subject to any claims having priority.

(6) A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a security is entitled to aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction or otherwise, in reaching the security or in satisfying the claim by means allowed at law or in equity in regard to property that cannot readily be reached by ordinary legal process.

Section 8-318. No Conversion by Good Faith Conduct.
An agent or bailee who in good faith, including observance of reasonable commercial standards if he is in the business of buying, selling, or otherwise dealing with securities, has received certificated securities and sold, pledged, or delivered them or has sold or caused the transfer or pledge of uncertificated securities over which he had control according to the instructions of his principal, is not liable for conversion or for participation in breach of fiduciary duty although the principal had no right so to deal with the securities.

Section 8-319. Statute of Frauds.
A contract for the sale of securities is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless:

(a) there is some writing signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker, sufficient to indicate that a contract has been made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price;

(b) delivery of a certificated security or transfer instruction has been accepted, or transfer of an uncertificated security has been registered and the transferee has failed to send written objection to the issuer within ten days after receipt of the initial transaction statement confirming the registration, or payment has been made, but the contract is enforceable under this provision only to the extent of the delivery, registration, or payment;

(c) within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the sale or purchase and sufficient against the sender under paragraph (a) has been received by the party against whom enforcement is sought and he has failed to send written objection to its contents within ten days after its receipt; or

(d) the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony, or otherwise in court that a contract was made for the sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price.

Section 8-320. Transfer or Pledge Within Central Depository System.
(1) In addition to other methods, a transfer, pledge, or release of a security or any interest therein may be effected by the making of appropriate entries on the books of a clearing corporation reducing the account of the transferor, pledgor, or pledgee and increasing the account of the transferee, pledgee, or pledgor by the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred, pledged, or released, if the security is shown on the account of a transferor, pledgor, or pledgee on the books of the clearing corporation; is subject to the control of the clearing corporation; and

(a) if certificated,

(i) is in the custody of the clearing corporation, another clearing corporation, a custodian bank, or a nominee of any of them; and

(ii) is in bearer form or indorsed in blank by an appropriate person or registered in the name of the clearing corporation, a custodian bank, or a nominee of any of them; or

(b) if uncertificated, is registered in the name of the clearing corporation, another clearing corporation, a custodian bank, or a nominee of any of them.

(2) Under this section entries may be made with respect to like securities or interests therein as a part of a fungible bulk and may refer merely to a quantity of a particular security without reference to the name of the registered owner, certificate or bond number, or the like, and, in appropriate cases, may be on a net basis taking into account other transfers, pledges, or releases of the same security.

(3) A transfer under this section is effective (section 8-313) and the purchaser acquires the rights of the transferor (section 8-301). A pledge or release under this section is the transfer of a limited interest. If a pledge or the creation of a security interest is intended, the security interest is perfected at the time when both value is given by the pledgee and the appropriate entries are made (section 8-321). A transferee or pledgee under this section may be a bona fide purchaser (section 8-302).

(4) A transfer or pledge under this section is not a registration of transfer under Part 4.

(5) That entries made on the books of the clearing corporation as provided in subsection (1) are not appropriate does not affect the validity or effect of the entries or the liabilities or obligations of the clearing corporation to any person adversely affected thereby.

Section 8-321. Enforceability, Attachment, Perfection and Termination of Security Interests.

(1) A security interest in a security is enforceable and can attach only if it is transferred to the secured party or a person designated by him pursuant to a provision of subsection (1) of section 8-313.

(2) A security interest so transferred pursuant to agreement by a transferor who has rights in the security to a transferee who has given value is a perfected security interest, but a security interest that has been transferred solely under subparagraph (i) of paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section 8-313 becomes unperfected after twenty-one days unless, within that time, the requirements for transfer under any other provision of subsection (1) of section 8-313 are satisfied.

(3) A security interest in a security is subject to the provisions of Article 9, but:

(a) no filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

(b) no written security agreement signed by the debtor is necessary to make the security interest enforceable, except as provided in paragraph (h), (i), or (j) of subsection (1) of section 8-313. The secured party has the rights and duties provided under section 9-207, to the extent they are applicable, whether or not the security is certificated, and, if certificated, whether or not it is in his possession.

(4) Unless otherwise agreed, a security interest in a security is terminated by transfer to the debtor or a person designated by him pursuant to a provision of subsection (1) of section 8-313. If a security is thus transferred, the security interest, if not terminated, becomes unperfected unless the security is certificated and is delivered to the debtor for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or presentation, collection, renewal, or registration of transfer. In that case, the security interest becomes unperfected after twenty-one days unless, within that time, the security, or securities for which it has been exchanged, is transferred to the secured party or a person designated by him pursuant to a provision of subsection (1) of section 8-313.

PART 4. REGISTRATION.

Section 8-401. Duty of Issuer to Register Transfer, Pledge, or Release.

(1) If a certificated security in registered form is presented to the issuer with a request to register transfer or an instruction is presented to the issuer with a request to register transfer, pledge, or release, the issuer shall register the transfer, pledge, or release as requested if:

(a) the security is indorsed or the instruction was originated by the appropriate person or persons (section 8-308);

(b) reasonable assurance is given that those indorsements or instructions are genuine and effective (section 8-402);

(c) the issuer has no duty as to adverse claims or has discharged the duty (section 8-403);

(d) any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes has been complied with; and

(e) the transfer, pledge, or release is in fact rightful or is to a bona fide purchaser.

(2) If an issuer is under a duty to register a transfer, pledge, or release of a security, the issuer is also liable to the person presenting a certificated security or an instruction for registration or his principal for loss resulting from any unreasonable delay in registration or from failure or refusal to register the transfer, pledge, or release.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if the issuer of an uncertificated security not subject to a registered pledge is presented with an instruction from an appropriate person requesting the registration of pledge and the issuer regularly maintains a system for issuing certificated securities to the category of owners which included the registered owner, the issuer may elect to treat the instruction as a transfer instruction under the provisions of subsection (3) of section 8-407. If the issuer so elects, the issuer shall in lieu of registering the pledge:

(a) cancel the uncertificated security;

(b) issue, in the name of the registered owner, an equivalent certificated security on which must be noted conspicuously any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security was subject;

(c) deliver the certificated security to the registered owner; and

(d) notify the intended registered pledgee that the issuer has so elected.

Section 8-402. Assurance that Indorsements and Instructions Are Effective.

(1) The issuer may require the following assurance that each necessary indorsement of a certificated security or each instruction (section 8-308) is genuine and effective:

(a) in all cases, a guarantee of the signature (subsection (1) or (2) of section 8-312) of the person indorsing a certificated security or originating an instruction including, in the case of an instruction, a warranty of the taxpayer indentification number or, in the absence thereof, other reasonable assurance of identity;

(b) if the indorsement is made or the instruction is originated by an agent, appropriate assurance of authority to sign;

(c) if the indorsement is made or the instruction is originated by a fiduciary, appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency;

(d) if there is more than one fiduciary, reasonable assurance that all who are required to sign have done so; and

(e) if the indorsement is made or the instruction is originated by a person not covered by any of the foregoing, assurance appropriate to the case corresponding as nearly as may be to the foregoing.

(2) A "guarantee of the signature" in subsection (1) means a guarantee signed by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to responsibility if they are not manifestly unreasonable.

(3) "Appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency" in subsection (1) means:

(a) in the case of a fiduciary appointed or qualified by a court, a certificate issued by or under the direction or supervision of that court or an officer thereof and dated within sixty days before the date of presentation for transfer, pledge, or release; or

(b) in any other case, a copy of a document showing the appointment or a certificate issued by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible or, in the absence of that document or certificate, other evidence reasonably deemed by the issuer to be appropriate. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to the evidence if they are not manifestly unreasonable. The issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any document obtained pursuant to this paragraph (b) except to the extent that the contents relate directly to the appointment or incumbency.

(4) The issuer may elect to require reasonable assurance beyond that specified in this section, but if it does so and, for a purpose other than that specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (3), both requires and obtains a copy of a will, trust, indenture, articles of co-partnership, by-laws, or other controlling instrument, it is charged with notice of all matters contained therein affecting the transfer, pledge, or release.

Section 8-403. Issuer's Duty as to Adverse Claims.

(1) An issuer to whom a certificated security is presented for registration shall inquire into adverse claims if:

(a) a written notification of an adverse claim is received at a time and in a manner affording the issuer a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to the issuance of a new, reissued, or reregistered certificated security, and the notification identifies the claimant, the registered owner, and the issue of which the security is a part, and provides an address for communications directed to the claimant; or

(b) the issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument it has elected to require under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-402.

(2) The issuer may discharge any duty of inquiry by any reasonable means, including notifying an adverse claimant by registered or certified mail at the address furnished by him or, if there be no such address, at his residence or regular place of business that the certificated security has been presented for registration of transfer by a named person, and that the transfer will be registered unless within thirty days from the date of mailing the notification, either:

(a) an appropriate restraining order, injunction, or other process issues from a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(b) there is filed with the issuer an indemnity bond, sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer and any transfer agent, registrar, or other agent of the issuer involved from any loss it or they may suffer by complying with the adverse claim.

(3) Unless an issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-402 or receives notification of an adverse claim under subsection (1), if a certificated security presented for registration is indorsed by the appropriate person or persons the issuer is under no duty to inquire into adverse claims. In particular:

(a) an issuer registering a certificated security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent, or correct description of the fiduciary relationship; and thereafter the issuer may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the issuer receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting as such with respect to the particular security;

(b) an issuer registering transfer on an indorsement by a fiduciary is not bound to inquire whether the transfer is made in compliance with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer; and

(c) the issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any court record or file or other recorded or unrecorded document even though the document is in its possession and even though the transfer is made on the indorsement of a fiduciary to the fiduciary himself or to his nominee.

(4) An issuer is under no duty as to adverse claims with respect to an uncertificated security except:

(a) claims embodied in a restraining order, injunction, or other legal process served upon the issuer if the process was served at a time and in a manner affording the issuer a reasonable opportunity to act on it in accordance with the requirements of subsection (5);

(b) claims of which the issuer has received a written notification from the registered owner or the registered pledgee if the notification was received at a time and in a manner affording the issuer a reasonable opportunity to act on it in accordance with the requirements of subsection (5);

(c) claims, including restrictions on transfer not imposed by the issuer, to which the registration of transfer to the present registered owner was subject and were so noted in the initial transaction statement sent to him; and

(d) claims as to which an issuer is charged with notice from a controlling instrument it has elected to require under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-402.

(5) If the issuer of an uncertificated security is under a duty as to an adverse claim, he discharges that duty by:

(a) including a notation of the claim in any statements sent with respect to the security under subsections (3), (6), and (7) of section 8-408; and

(b) refusing to register the transfer or pledge of the security unless the nature of the claim does not preclude transfer or pledge subject thereto.

(6) If the transfer or pledge of the security is registered subject to an adverse claim, a notation of the claim must be included in the initial transaction statement and all subsequent statements sent to the transferee and pledgee under section 8-408.

(7) Notwithstanding subsections (4) and (5), if an uncertificated security was subject to a registered pledge at the time the issuer first came under a duty as to a particular adverse claim, the issuer has no duty as to that claim if transfer of the security is requested by the registered pledgee or an appropriate person acting for the registered pledgee unless:

(a) the claim was embodied in legal process which expressly provides otherwise;

(b) the claim was asserted in a written notification from the registered pledgee;

(c) the claim was one as to which the issuer was charged with notice from a controlling instrument it required under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-402 in connection with the pledgee's request for transfer; or

(d) the transfer requested is to the registered owner.

Section 8-404. Liability and Non-Liability for Registration.

(1) Except as provided in any law relating to the collection of taxes, the issuer is not liable to the owner, pledgee, or any other person suffering loss as a result of the registration of a transfer, pledge, or release of a security if:

(a) there were on or with a certificated security the necessary indorsements or the issuer had received an instruction originated by an appropriate person (section 8-308); and

(b) the issuer had no duty as to adverse claims or has discharged the duty (section 8-403).

(2) If an issuer has registered a transfer of a certificated security to a person not entitled to it, the issuer on demand shall deliver a like security to the true owner unless:

(a) the registration was pursuant to subsection (1);

(b) the owner is precluded from asserting any claim for registering the transfer under the provisions of subsection (1) of section 8-405; or

(c) the delivery would result in overissue, in which case the issuer's liability is governed by section 8-104.

(3) If an issuer has improperly registered a transfer, pledge, or release of an uncertificated security, the issuer on demand from the injured party shall restore the records as to the injured party to the condition that would have obtained if the improper registration had not been made unless:

(a) the registration was pursuant to subsection (1); or

(b) the registration would result in overissue, in which case the issuer's liability is governed by section 8-104.

Section 8-405. Lost, Destroyed, and Stolen Certificated Securities.

(1) If a certificated security has been lost, apparently destroyed, or wrongfully taken, and the owner fails to notify the issuer of that fact within a reasonable time after he has notice of it and the issuer registers a transfer of the security before receiving notification, the owner is precluded from asserting against the issuer any claim for registering the transfer under section 8-404 or any claim to a new security under this section.

(2) If the owner of a certificated security claims that the security has been lost, destroyed, or wrongfully taken, the issuer shall issue a new certificated security or, at the option of the issuer, an equivalent uncertificated security in place of the original security if the owner:

(a) so requests before the issuer has notice that the security has been acquired by a bona fide purchaser;

(b) files with the issuer a sufficient indemnity bond; and

(c) satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the issuer.

(3) If, after the issue of a new certificated or uncertificated security, a bona fide purchaser of the original certificated security presents it for registration of transfer, the issuer shall register the transfer unless registration would result in over-issue, in which event the issuer's liability is governed by section 8-104. In addition to any rights on the indemnity bond, the issuer may recover the new certificated security from the person to whom it was issued or any person taking under him except a bona fide purchaser or may cancel the uncertificated security unless a bona fide purchaser or any person taking under a bona fide purchaser is then the registered owner or registered pledgee thereof.

Section 8-406. Duty of Authenticating Trustee, Transfer Agent, or Registrar.

(1) If a person acts as authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar, or other agent for an issuer in the registration of transfers of its certificated securities or in the registration of transfers, pledges, and releases of its uncertificated securities, in the issue of new securities, or in the cancellation of surrendered securities:

(a) he is under a duty to the issuer to exercise good faith and due diligence in performing his functions; and

(b) with regard to the particular functions he performs, he has the same obligation to the holder or owner of a certificated security or to the owner or pledgee of an uncertificated security and has the same rights and privileges as the issuer has in regard to those functions.

(2) Notice to an authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar or other agent is notice to the issuer with respect to the functions performed by the agent.

Section 8-407. Exchangeability of Securities.

(1) No issuer is subject to the requirements of this section unless it regularly maintains a system for issuing the class of securities involved under which both certificated and uncertificated securities are regularly issued to the category of owners, which includes the person in whose name the new security is to be registered.

(2) Upon surrender of a certificated security with all necessary indorsements and presentation of a written request by the person surrendering the security, the issuer, if he has no duty as to adverse claims or has discharged the duty (section 8-403), shall issue to the person or a person designated by him an equivalent uncertificated security subject to all liens, restrictions, and claims that were noted on the certificated security.

(3) Upon receipt of a transfer instruction originated by an appropriate person who so requests, the issuer of an uncertificated security shall cancel the uncertificated security and issue an equivalent certificated security on which must be noted conspicuously any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security was subject. The certificated security shall be registered in the name of and delivered to:

(a) the registered owner, if the uncertificated security was not subject to a registered pledge; or

(b) the registered pledgee, if the uncertificated security was subject to a registered pledge.

Section 8-408. Statements of Uncertificated Securities.

(1) Within two business days after the transfer of an uncertificated security has been registered, the issuer shall send to the new registered owner and, if the security has been transferred subject to a registered pledge, to the registered pledgee a written statement containing:

(a) a description of the issue of which the uncertificated security is a part;

(b) the number of shares or units transferred;

(c) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the new registered owner and, if the security has been transferred subject to a registered pledge, the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the registered pledgee;

(d) a notation of any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security is or may be subject at the time of registration or a statement that there are none of those liens, restrictions, or adverse claims; and

(e) the date the transfer was registered.

(2) Within two business days after the pledge of an uncertificated security has been registered, the issuer shall send to the registered owner and the registered pledgee a written statement containing:

(a) a description of the issue of which the uncertificated security is a part;

(b) the number of shares or units pledged;

(c) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the registered owner and the registered pledgee;

(d) a notation of any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security is or may be subject at the time of registration or a statement that there are none of those liens, restrictions, or adverse claims; and

(e) the date the pledge was registered.

(3) Within two business days after the release from pledge of an uncertificated security has been registered, the issuer shall send to the registered owner and the pledgee whose interest was released a written statement containing:

(a) a description of the issue of which the uncertificated security is a part;

(b) the number of shares or units released from pledge;

(c) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the registered owner and the pledgee whose interest was released;

(d) a notation of any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security is or may be subject at the time of registration or a statement that there are none of those liens, restrictions, or adverse claims; and

(e) the date the release was registered.

(4) An "initial transaction statement" is the statement sent to:

(a) the new registered owner and, if applicable, to the registered pledgee pursuant to subsection (1);

(b) the registered pledgee pursuant to subsection (2); or

(c) the registered owner pursuant to subsection (3).

Each initial transaction statement shall be signed by or on behalf of the issuer and must be identified as "Initial Transaction Statement".

(5) Within two business days after the transfer of an uncertificated security has been registered, the issuer shall send to the former registered owner and the former registered pledgee, if any, a written statement containing:

(a) a description of the issue of which the uncertificated security is a part;

(b) the number of shares or units transferred;

(c) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the former registered owner and of any former registered pledgee; and

(d) the date the transfer was registered.

(6) At periodic intervals no less frequent than annually and at any time upon the reasonable written request of the registered owner, the issuer shall send to the registered owner of each uncertificated security a dated written statement containing:

(a) a description of the issue of which the uncertificated security is a part;

(b) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the registered owner;

(c) the number of shares or units of the uncertificated security registered in the name of the registered owner on the date of the statement;

(d) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of any registered pledgee and the number of shares or units subject to the pledge; and

(e) a notation of any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security is or may be subject or a statement that there are none of those liens, restrictions, or adverse claims.

(7) At periodic intervals no less frequent than annually and at any time upon the reasonable written request of the registered pledgee, the issuer shall send to the registered pledgee of each uncertificated security a dated written statement containing:

(a) a description of the issue of which the uncertificated security is a part;

(b) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the registered owner;

(c) the name and address and any taxpayer identification number of the registered pledgee;

(d) the number of shares or units subject to the pledge; and

(e) a notation of any liens and restrictions of the issuer and any adverse claims, as to which the issuer has a duty under the provisions of subsection (4) of section 8-403, to which the uncertificated security is or may be subject or a statement that there are none of those liens, restrictions, or adverse claims.

(8) If the issuer sends the statements described in subsections (6) and (7) at periodic intervals no less frequent than quarterly, the issuer is not obliged to send additional statements upon request unless the owner or pledgee requesting them pays to the issuer the reasonable cost of furnishing them.

(9) Each statement sent pursuant to this section must bear a conspicuous legend reading substantially as follows: "This statement is merely a record of the rights of the addressee as of the time of its issuance. Delivery of this statement, of itself, confers no rights on the recipient. This statement is neither a negotiable instrument nor a security".

SECTION 6. Subsection (3) of section 9-103 of said chapter 106, as appearing in section 7 of chapter 512 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

SECTION 7. Said section 9-103 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following subsection:-

(6) Uncertificated securities.

The law, including the conflict of laws rules, of the jurisdiction of organization of the issuer governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or nonperfection of a security interest in uncertificated securities.

(i) "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument, as defined in section 3-104, or a certificated security, as defined in section 8-102, or any other writing which evidences a right to the payment of money and is not itself a security agreement or lease and is of a type which is in ordinary course of business transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment;.

SECTION 9. Section 9-203 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (1) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(1) Subject to the provisions of section 4-208 on the security interest of a collecting bank, section 8-321 on security interests in securities and section 9-113 on a security interest arising under the Article on Sales, a security interest is not enforceable against the debtor or third parties with respect to the collateral and does not attach unless:

(a) the collateral is in the possession of the secured party pursuant to agreement, or the debtor has signed a security agreement which contains a description of the collateral and in addition, when the security interest covers crops growing or to be grown or timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned;

(b) value has been given; and

(c) the debtor has rights in the collateral.

SECTION 10. Subsection 1 of section 9-302 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (f) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(f) a security interest of a collecting bank (section 4-208) or in securities (section 8-321) or arising under the Article on Sales (see section 9-113) or covered in subsection (3);.

SECTION 11. Section 9-304 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (1) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(1) A security interest in chattel paper or negotiable documents may be perfected by filing. A security interest in money or instruments, other than certificated securities or instruments which constitute part of chattel paper, can be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession, except as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section and subsections (2) and (3) of section 9-306 on proceeds.

SECTION 12. Said section 9-304 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (4) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(4) A security interest in instruments, other than certificated securities, or negotiable documents is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of twenty-one days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under a written security agreement.

SECTION 13. Said section 9-304 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (5) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(5) A security interest remains perfected for a period of twenty-one days without filing where a secured party having a perfected security interest in an instrument, other than a certificated security, a negotiable document or goods in possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor

(a) makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or for the purpose of loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange, but priority between conflicting security interests in the goods is subject to subsection (3) of section 9-312; or

(b) delivers the instrument to the debtor for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or of presentation, collection, renewal or registration of transfer.

SECTION 14. Said chapter 106 is hereby further amended by striking out section 9-305, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

A security interest in letters of credit and advices of credit (paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 5-116), goods, instruments, other than certificated securities, money, negotiable documents, or chattel paper may be perfected by the secured party's taking possession of the collateral. If such collateral other than goods covered by a negotiable document is held by a bailee, the secured party is deemed to have possession from the time the bailee receives notification of the secured party's interest. A security interest is perfected by possession from the time possession is taken without a relation back and continues only so long as possession is retained, unless otherwise specified in this Article. The security interest may be otherwise perfected as provided in this Article before or after the period of possession by the secured party.

SECTION 15. Said chapter 106 is hereby further amended by striking out section 9-309, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 9-309. Protection of Purchasers of Instruments, Documents and Securities.

Nothing in this Article limits the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument (section 3-302) or a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated (section 7-501) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (section 8-302) and the holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest even though perfected. Filing under this Article does not constitute notice of the security interest to such holders or purchasers.

SECTION 16. Section 9-312 of said chapter 106, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (7) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(7) If future advances are made while a security interest is perfected by filing, the taking of possession, or under section 8-321 on securities, the security interest has the same priority for the purposes of subsection (5) with respect to the future advances as it does with respect to the first advance. If a commitment is made before or while the security interest is so perfected, the security interest has the same priority with respect to advances made pursuant thereto. In other cases a perfected security interest has priority from the date the advance is made.

SECTION 17. Chapter 156B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 19, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 723 of the acts of 1964, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 19. Stock issued for cash may be paid for in full before it is issued or by instalments. If it is paid for by instalments and the shares are certificated, the stock certificate shall be legibly stamped with the words "per cent paid up, balance payable, stating the manner and time of payment, and shares subject to forfeiture if unpaid," the facts being truly stated; and, as each instalment is paid, the certificate shall be stamped accordingly. If it is paid for by instalments, and the shares are uncertificated, the same words shall appear on the initial transaction statement issued with respect to the shares pursuant to Article 8 of chapter one hundred and six, the facts being duly stated; and, as each instalment is paid, a periodic statement shall be issued pursuant to said Article 8 reflecting the payment.

Except as provided in section twenty-five, stock shall not be transferred on the books of a corporation if any instalments thereon remain overdue and unpaid.

SECTION 18. Said chapter 156B is hereby further amended by striking out section 25, as amended by section 10 of chapter 392 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 25. If capital stock is issued payable by instalments, and a stockholder refuses or neglects to pay an instalment for thirty days after the time limited for payment in the demand under section twenty-two, the treasurer of the corporation may sell such stockholder's shares by public auction, and, out of the proceeds of such sale, shall pay to the corporation all instalments then due from such stockholder with interest and incidental charges. A notice stating the time and place of such sale and the amount of the instalment due and payable and, if the shares are certificated, the number or numbers of the certificate or certificates and the number of shares of stock thus offered for sale shall be sent by the treasurer by mail not less than ten days prior to such sale to such stockholder and also the person who originally subscribed to the said delinquent stock. Upon the sale of such stock as aforesaid, the directors shall transfer the shares so sold to the purchaser. If the transfer is by delivery of a stock certificate therefor, such certificate shall be so stamped as to indicate the instalments paid. If the transfer is by registration of uncertificated shares on the books of the corporation, the initial transaction statement issued pursuant to Article 8 of chapter one hundred and six shall indicate the instalments paid. In either case the purchaser shall be liable under this section for all subsequent instalments. Upon such transfer any certificate or certificates previously outstanding with respect to the shares shall be void except as provided in said Article 8. The balance, if any, of the proceeds of such sale shall be held by the corporation for such stockholder, his representatives or assigns, and be paid to him or them at any time upon surrender and delivery to the corporation of his certificate. If no person offers an amount sufficient to pay all instalments due upon such stock with interest and incidental charges, it may or may not be sold, and the delinquent stockholder shall be liable to the corporation in an action at law for such instalments, interest and incidental charges, if the stock is not sold, or for the deficiency, if it is sold, and if a judgment rendered in such action remains unsatisfied for thirty days, the original subscriber shall be so liable. Instead of offering such stock for sale, the directors, at the expiration of the time limited in the notice for payment of such instalments, may proceed by an action at law against the delinquent stockholder, and, if a judgment rendered against him in such action remains unsatisfied for thirty days, against the original subscriber, for the recovery of such instalments, interest and incidental charges. The delinquent stockholder or the original subscriber, as the case may be, upon the payment of such instalments, interest and incidental charges, or of the judgment therefor, shall, if the shares are certificated, be entitled to a certificate of stock, so stamped as to indicate the instruments paid, whereupon the certificate outstanding for such shares shall be void, except as provided in said Article 8 and, if the shares are uncertificated, shall, if the payment is made by the delinquent stockholder, be entitled to a periodic statement reflecting such payment or, if the payment is made by the original subscriber, be entitled to an initial transaction statement reflecting such payment. If a judgment rendered in an action against the original subscriber remains unsatisfied for thirty days, said stock shall be forfeited to the corporation, an entry or transfer to it shall be made on its books, and, thereupon, if the shares are certificated, the certificate outstanding shall be void as aforesaid. While the stock remains the property of the corporation, no dividends shall be declared nor instalments paid upon it; but it shall remain subject to the control of the corporation according to its by-laws.

SECTION 19. Said chapter 156B is hereby further amended by striking out sections 27 to 30, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following four sections:-

Section 27. (a) The shares of a corporation shall be represented by certificates or shall be uncertificated shares. Each such certificate shall be signed by the president or a vice president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer. Such signatures may be facsimiles if the certificate is signed by a transfer agent, or by a registrar, other than a director, officer or employee of the corporation. In case any officer who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed on such certificate shall have ceased to be such officer before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the corporation with the same effect as if he were such officer at the time of its issue.

(b) Every certificate issued after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and sixty-five by a corporation for shares of stock at a time when such shares are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to the articles of organization, the by-laws or any agreement to which the corporation is a party shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate and shall also set forth on the face or back of the certificate either

(2) a statement of the existence of such restriction and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

(c) Every stock certificate issued after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and sixty-five by a corporation at a time when it is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth upon the face or back of the certificate either

(1) the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series, if any, authorized to be issued, as set forth in the articles of organization, or

(2) a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights, and a statement that the corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

(d) Unless otherwise provided by the articles of organization or by-laws, the board of directors of a corporation may provide by resolution that some or all of any or all classes and series of its shares shall be uncertificated shares. Such resolutions shall not apply to shares represented by a certificate until such certificate is surrendered to the corporation. If a corporation entitles any stockholders of a class or series to receive a certificate representing shares of such class or series, all other holders of shares of such class or series shall be so entitled. The initial transaction statement sent with respect to the issuance or transfer of uncertificated shares shall contain the information required to be set forth or stated on certificates pursuant to subsection (b) and (c). certificates representing shares of the same class and series shall be identical.

Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization or by-laws, a corporation may issue fractional shares of stock, and may issue in lieu thereof scrip in registered or bearer form which, depending upon how the shares of the corporation are evidenced, shall entitle the holder to receive a certificate for a full share or have an uncertificated share registered in his name upon the surrender of such scrip aggregating a full share. A fractional share shall, but scrip shall not unless otherwise provided therein, entitle the holder to exercise voting rights, to receive dividends thereon, or to participate in any of the assets of the corporation in the event of liquidation. The directors shall fix the terms and conditions and manner of issue of such scrip, which may include a condition that it shall become void if not exchanged for full shares before a specified date, or a condition that the shares for which such scrip is exchangeable may be sold by the corporation and the proceeds thereof distributed to the holders of such scrip.

Section 29. The directors of a corporation may, subject to section 8-405 of chapter one hundred and six and to the by-laws of the corporation, determine the conditions upon which a new certificate of stock or uncertificated shares may be issued in place of any certificate alleged to have been lost, mutilated or destroyed. They may, in their discretion, require the owner of a lost, mutilated or destroyed certificate, or his legal representative, to give a bond, sufficient in their opinion, with or without surety, to indemnify the corporation against any loss or claim which may arise by reason of the issue of the shares in place of such lost, mutilated or destroyed stock certificate.

Section 30. A pledgee of certificated stock transferred as collateral security shall be entitled to a new certificate if the instrument of transfer substantially describes the debt or duty which is intended to be secured thereby. Such new certificate shall express on its face that it is held as collateral security, and the name of the pledgor shall be stated thereon, who alone shall be liable as a stockholder, and entitled to vote thereon.

Chap. 527. AN ACT ENABLING CITIES AND TOWNS TO REGULATE THE CONVERSION OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY TO THE CONDOMINIUM FORMS OF OWNERSHIP.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. DECLARATION OF EMERGENCY. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists within the commonwealth with respect to the housing of a substantial number of the citizens of the commonwealth. This rental housing emergency has been created by the lack of sufficient new rental housing production, by prolonged increases in housing costs at a rate substantially exceeding increases in personal income, by housing abandonment, by increased costs of new housing construction and finance, and by increased residential mortgage interest rates. It has also been created by the effect of conversion of rental housing into condominiums or cooperatives. These forms of home ownership constitute an important and positive dimension in addressing the housing needs of the commonwealth. However, absent sufficient new rental housing production, such conversion necessarily reduces the stock of rental housing otherwise available. A substantial and increasing shortage of rental housing accommodations, especially for the elderly, the handicapped, and persons and families of low and moderate income, has been and will continue to be the result of this emergency. Unless the available stock of rental housing, and the tenants who reside therein, receive further protection from the consequences of conversion of said accommodations to condominiums and cooperatives than the law now affords, this rental housing shortage will generate serious threats to the public health, safety, and general welfare of the citizens of the commonwealth, particularly the elderly, the handicapped, and persons and families of low and moderate income. It is therefore necessary that such emergency be dealt with immediately.

SECTION 2. The provisions of section four of this act shall be applicable to all housing accommodations in any city or town of the commonwealth, unless otherwise provided in this section.

Any city or town may, by ordinance or by-law, impose provisions or requirements to regulate for the protection of tenants with respect to the conversion of housing accommodations to the condominium or cooperative forms of ownership and evictions related thereto which differ from those set forth in this act, upon a two-thirds vote of the city council with the approval of the mayor, in the case of a city, or a two-thirds vote of a town meeting, or town council, in the case of a town; provided, however, that no such ordinance or by-law which imposes additional provisions or requirements than those set forth in this act shall be applicable to any of the following housing accommodations: (i) housing accommodations constructed or converted from a non-housing to a housing use after the effective date of this act; (ii) housing accommodations which were constructed or substantially rehabilitated pursuant to any federal mortgage insurance program, without any interest subsidy or tenant subsidy attached thereto; and (iii) housing accommodations financed through the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, with an interest subsidy attached thereto.

Any city or town, which has adopted an ordinance or by-law for the regulation of the conversion of housing accommodations to the condominium or cooperative forms of ownership and evictions related thereto pursuant to the authority conferred upon such city or town by special act, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act, and this act shall not be construed to restrict the authority of any such city or town to amend or repeal any ordinance or by-law in accordance with the provisions of such special act.

Local legislative action shall be accompanied by a declaration, in the form of findings, that local conditions constitute an acute rental housing emergency requiring local action, on account of the aggravating impact of the factors set forth in section one of this act.

SECTION 3. As used in this act, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

"Condominium unit", a unit in a housing condominium as that term is defined in chapter one hundred and eighty-three A.

"Cooperative unit", a unit in a housing cooperative as set forth in chapter one hundred and fifty-seven.

"Condominium or cooperative conversion eviction", an eviction of a tenant for the purpose of removing such tenant from a housing accommodation in order to facilitate the initial sale and transfer of legal title to that housing accommodation as a condominium or cooperative unit to a prospective purchaser or an eviction of a tenant by any other person who has purchased a housing accommodation as a condominium or cooperative unit when the tenant whose eviction is sought was a resident of the housing accommodation at the time the notice of intent to convert is given to convert the building or buildings to the condominium or cooperative form of ownership pursuant to section four; provided, however, that the eviction of a tenant for non-payment of rent or other violation of a rental agreement shall in no event be deemed a condominium or cooperative conversion eviction.

"Elderly tenant", a tenant who is a person or group of persons residing in the same housing accommodation any of whom has reached the age of sixty-two years or over as of the date of receipt of the notice provided for hereunder.

"Handicapped tenant", a person entitled to occupy a housing accommodation who is physically handicapped as defined in section thirteen A of chapter twenty-two as of the date of receipt of the notice provided for hereunder.

"Housing accommodation", any building, structure, or part thereof or land appurtenant thereto, or any other real or personal property rented or offered for rent for living or dwelling purposes, together with all services connected with the use or occupancy of such property, but not including the following:

(i) housing accommodations which the United States or the commonwealth or any authority created under the laws thereof either owns or operates;

(ii) housing accommodations in any hospital, convent, monastery, asylum, public institution or college or school dormitory operated exclusively for charitable or educational purposes, or in any nursing or rest home for the aged;

(iii) buildings containing fewer than four housing accommodations;

(iv) housing accommodations in hotels, motels, inns, tourist homes, and rooming and boarding houses which are occupied by transient guests staying for a period of fewer than fourteen consecutive calendar days.

"Interest subsidy", any payment made by the federal or state government to reduce the effective interest rate payable by a mortgagor.

"Low or moderate income tenant", a tenant who is a person or group of persons residing in the same housing accommodation so long as the total income for all such tenants for the twelve months immediately preceding the date of notice provided for hereunder is less than eighty per cent of the median income for the area set forth in regulations promulgated from time to time by the Department of Housing and Urban Development pursuant to 42 USC 1437 et seq., and calculated pursuant to said regulations.

"Tenant", a person or group of persons collectively entitled to occupy a housing accommodation pursuant to a rental agreement written or implied.

"Tenant subsidy", any payment made by the federal or state government for or on behalf of any tenant to be applied toward the reduction of the tenant's rental payment.

SECTION 4. (a) If a building submitted to the provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A or chapter one hundred and fifty-seven has been used in whole or in part for residential purposes within one year prior to the recording of a master deed creating a condominium or the filing of the articles of organization creating a housing cooperative, the owner thereof shall give each tenant of all housing accommodations in such building or buildings notice of intent to convert the building or buildings to the condominium or cooperative form of ownership. Such notice shall state in clear and conspicuous language the following:-

(i) that the owner has filed or intends to file a master deed at a registry of deeds whose location is stated in the notice or has filed or intends to file articles of organization with the secretary of the commonwealth;

(ii) that any tenant residing on the date the notice of intent is given in the building or buildings converted or to be converted to the condominium or cooperative forms of ownership shall have a period of time which shall be stated in the notice, from the date of receipt of such notice, as authorized by this act, before the tenant shall be required to vacate the housing accommodation occupied on the date the notice is received;

(iii) that any tenant residing on the date the notice of intent was given in the building or buildings to be converted shall have a period of time, which shall be stated in the notice, from the date of receipt of such notice, as authorized by this act, to purchase the unit occupied by the tenant on the date the notice is received on terms and conditions which are substantially the same as or more favorable than those which the owner extends to the public generally for the ninety days following the expiration of said tenant's right to purchase as may be required by paragraph (b).

All notices required under this section shall be deemed to have been given when a written notice is delivered in person or mailed by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, to the party to whom the notice is being given.

Whenever an owner is required to give notice of intent provided for in this section, the period of notice shall not be less than the expiration of any written agreement between the owner and the tenant of the housing accommodation which governs the use and occupancy of said housing accommodation or one year from the date the tenant of such housing accommodation is given said notice of intent, whichever is greater; provided, however, that in the case of a housing accommodation occupied in whole or in part by a handicapped tenant or occupied by an elderly or low or moderate income tenant the period of notice shall not be less than two years from the date the tenant of such housing accommodation receives said notice of intent.

No person shall bring any action seeking a condominium or cooperative eviction until the expiration of the periods of time for notice to tenants specified in this act.

The burden of proving qualifications with respect to age, handicap, and income shall rest with the tenant.

(b) Any owner of residential property who converts such property to the condominium or cooperative form of ownership shall give to any tenant who is entitled to receive notice pursuant to this section the right to purchase the housing accommodation occupied by such tenant at the time such notice is delivered on terms and conditions which are substantially the same as or more favorable than those which the owner extends to the public generally for the ninety days following the expiration of said tenant's right to purchase. Such tenant may exercise a right to purchase such housing accommodations by executing a purchase and sale agreement prior to the expiration of ninety days after the date of receiving a copy of the purchase and sale agreement properly executed by the person offering the housing accommodation for sale.

(c) The owner of residential property converted to the condominium or cooperative form of ownership shall pay to any tenant who is entitled to receive a notice pursuant to this section and who does not purchase the housing accommodation which he occupies or another housing accommodation in the same building or buildings relocation benefits for the actual, documented costs of moving, not to exceed seven hundred and fifty dollars per housing accommodation; provided, that if such housing accommodation is occupied in whole or in part by a handicapped tenant or is occupied by an elderly or low or moderate income tenant, the maximum relocation benefit shall not exceed one thousand dollars per housing accommodation. Such relocation benefits shall be payable within ten days after the date on which the tenant vacates the housing accommodation occupied by him; provided, however, that no tenant shall be eligible for such relocation benefits unless all rent due and payable for said unit under the rental agreement or extension of such agreement, if any, has been paid by the tenant prior to the date on which the housing accommodation is vacated and only as long as the tenant voluntarily vacates the housing accommodation for which recovery of possession is sought on or before the expiration of the notice period.

(d) Any owner of residential property converted to the condominium or cooperative form of ownership shall assist elderly, handicapped and low or moderate income tenants who qualified as such as of the date of receipt of the notice authorized pursuant to this section locating, within the period of the notice to such tenants, comparable rental housing within the same city or town in which such tenant resides which rents for a sum which is equal to or less than the sum which such tenant had been paying for the housing accommodation occupied at the time of receipt of the notice authorized by this section. The failure of the owner of such residential property to find such substitute housing accommodation shall extend the period of notice for up to an additional two years.

(e) Any owner of residential property converted to the condominium or cooperative form of ownership shall give to any tenant who is entitled to receive a notice pursuant to this section an extension of the rental agreement at the expiration thereof. Such extension, where required, shall be for such period or periods of one year or such fraction thereof as shall equal the period of notice to which such tenant is entitled pursuant to the provisions of this section. The provisions of such rental agreement may not otherwise be modified by the property owner except with respect to the amount of annual rent, any increase in which shall not exceed an amount equal to the sum which would result by multiplying said rent by the percentage increase in the consumer price index for all urban consumers as published by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, during the calendar year immediately preceding the date upon which such rental agreement is commenced, or ten per cent, whichever is less; provided, however, nothing herein shall limit the right of a property owner to any amounts which may be due under a valid tax escalation clause.

SECTION 5. Any owner who converts residential property in violation of any provisions of this act, or any ordinance or by-law adopted pursuant to this act, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than sixty days. Each unit coverted in violation of this act constitutes a separate offense.

Any violation of this act, or any ordinance or by-law adopted pursuant to this act, by an owner of residential property shall not affect the validity of a conveyance of a condominium unit or an interest in a housing cooperative to a purchaser for value who has no knowledge of the violation.

The district and superior courts, and the housing courts in the city of Boston and Hampden county, shall have jurisdiction over an action arising from any violation of this act, or any ordinance or by-law adopted pursuant to this act, and shall have jurisdiction in equity to restrain any such violation.

SECTION 5A. In the case of any housing accommodation for which sufficient notice, as hereinafter defined, was given subsequent to April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the period of notice required pursuant to section four of this act shall be deemed to have commenced on the date such sufficient notice was received by the tenant. Provided that sufficient notice for purposes of this section shall be defined as written notice to the tenant informing him, in substance, that said housing accommodation was being or had been converted to a condominium or cooperative form of ownership and that the tenant would be required to vacate not earlier than one year from the date of receipt of such notice. Sufficient notice given on or prior to April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, shall be deemed to have been given on April second, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 5B. (15) To delegate authority to the administrator as it deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

SECTION 8. Standards applicable to development within the downtown district shall be adopted by the board, after notice and public hearing as provided in section six, within one hundred and twenty days after holding its first meeting. Interim standards may be adopted by the board, after notice and hearing as provided in section eleven, except that no notice is required to abutters, for use until the final standards are adopted. The standards shall be consistent with those approved by the Secretary of the Interior on January nineteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-one which are contained in "Details of the Preservation Plan", published by the Lowell historic preservation commission. Specific standards may be adopted to apply only to certain portions of the downtown district, such as commercial streets, entry routes to the city of Lowell, and buffer zones to historic buildings. The standards shall set forth, at minimum: acceptable materials, techniques, height, massing, setback, and architectural detailing for the exteriors of structures; standards for signage, landscaping and design of open spaces and parking areas. The board may amend the standards as it deems necessary. Any such amendments shall be made in the same manner as original adoption of the standards.

SECTION 9. Upon its own motion, or upon nomination in writing by the board or any group of ten residents or property owners within the city of Lowell, the city council of said city may designate by a three-fourths vote of its members a neighborhood district. Upon the designation of a neighborhood district, the board shall appoint five of its members as a neighborhood committee, which shall advise the board in carrying out the purposes of this act with regard to the neighborhood district. The neighborhood committee shall consist of at least one member of the board who is a resident of the neighborhood district, and one member who is a property owner, within said neighborhood district. If the board has no such members, the city manager of said city shall appoint, with assistance from the board, residents and property owners of the neighborhood district to serve as members of the neighborhood committee. Members of a neighborhood committee shall have such powers and duties as shall be delegated by the board in its regulations.

As soon as practicable after designation of a neighborhood district, the neighborhood committee shall propose, and the board shall adopt, with any additions or amendments as the board shall see fit, neighborhood standards which shall be applicable to such neighborhood district. Neighborhood districts shall not be subject to the downtown district standards except as any or all of those standards are specifically incorporated into the neighborhood standards; provided, however, that all development within a neighborhood district shall require an historic permit or certificate of nonapplicability. The board, or, where appropriate, the administrator, shall grant, grant with conditions or deny historic permits or certificates of nonapplicability for development within the neighborhood district upon recommendation by the neighborhood committee. Procedures applicable to the neighborhood committee shall be provided for by the board in its regulations.

SECTION 10. No person shall perform any development within any districts without having filed an application with the administrator and having received from the board or, where applicable, the administrator, an historic permit or certificate of nonapplicability; nor shall any building or other city permit be issued to such person until an historic permit or certificate of nonapplicability has been so received. Within seven days after receipt of an application, the administrator shall render a determination, based upon the standards, or where applicable, neighborhood standards, whether the development proposed by the application is a major development or minor development. If the administrator determines that a proposed development is a minor development, he shall in writing grant, grant with conditions, or deny an historic permit within seven days after receipt of the application and shall without delay send a copy of such decision to the board. If the administrator determines that a proposed development is a major development, or is not subject to the standards or neighborhood standards, he shall refer the application for such development to the board for consideration for an historic permit or a certificate of nonapplicability. The administrator shall prepare written comments and send them to the board on any application within ten days after receipt thereof.

All applications for development which the administrator has referred to the board shall be placed on the agenda and discussed at a meeting of the board. Historic permits or certificates of nonapplicability shall be issued by the board by a vote of five of its members. An applicant may request in the application a preliminary review by the administrator, but any guidance offered shall not constitute nor guarantee the granting of an historic permit or certificate of nonapplicability.

Within twenty-one days after receipt by the administrator of an application for a major development, the board shall conduct a public hearing on the application after providing notice pursuant to section eleven. A written decision on the application, granting, granting with conditions, or denying an historic permit or certificate of nonapplicability and setting forth the reasons for the board's decision, shall be rendered by the board and filed with the city clerk of said city within sixty days after such hearing. Failure by the board to file its decision with said city clerk within sixty days after the hearing on the application shall be deemed to be approval of the application. A copy of the decision shall also be mailed to the applicant by certified mail within sixty days after such hearing. Historic permits for major development shall be recorded by the applicant in the registry of deeds within ten days after the expiration of the period of appeal provided in section twelve.

All time requirements contained within this section, except the requirements of section eleven referred to herein; may be modified by written agreement of the board and an applicant for an historic permit or certificate of nonapplicability.

SECTION 11. All hearings required by this act, except as provided in section four, shall be held by the board only after notice of the time, place and sufficient identification of the subject matter of such hearing shall have been given by the board by advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation in the city of Lowell not less than seven days before the day of such hearing, and by posting such notice in a conspicuous place in the office of the city clerk of said city and the office of the director of the city division of plannning and development for a period of not less than seven days before the day of such hearing. Notice for a hearing on an application shall be given at the expense of the applicant and shall also require mailing a copy of such notice to the applicant and to all owners of land abutting the land included in the application as appear on the most recent city tax list.

SECTION 12. No claim of invalidity of the standards, neighborhood standards, boundaries of the districts or any amendment thereto, designation of a neighborhood district, or the board's regulations or any amendment thereto, shall be made in any legal proceeding, unless commenced within thirty days after the adoption thereof and unless notice specifying the court, parties, invalidity claimed and date of filing is filed together with a copy of the complaint with the city clerk of said city within seven days after the commencement of the action.

Within seven days after the issuance of any written decision by the administrator, any person aggrieved may file an appeal to the board.

Within twenty days after the filing by the board of a decision on an application with said city clerk, any party aggrieved may file an appeal to the trial court department of the superior court. Notice of the action with a copy of the complaint shall be given to the city clerk so as to be received within such twenty days. The complaint shall allege that the decision exceeds the authority of the board, and any factors pertinent to the issue, and shall contain a prayer that the decision be annulled. There shall be attached to the complaint a copy of the decision appealed from, bearing the date of filing thereof, certified by said city clerk.

If the complaint is filed by someone other than the original applicant, such original applicant, and all members of the board, shall be named as parties defendant with their addresses. To avoid delay in the proceedings, instead of the usual service of process, the plaintiff shall within fourteen days after the filing of the complaint, send written notice thereof, with a copy of the complaint, by delivery or certified mail to all defendants, including the members of the board and shall within twenty-one days after the entry of the complaint file with the clerk of the court an affidavit that such notice has been given. If no such affidavit is filed within such time the complaint shall be dismissed. No answer shall be required, but an answer may be filed and notice of such filing with a copy of the answer and an affidavit of such notice given to all parties as provided above within seven days after the filing of the answer. Other persons may be permitted to intervene upon motion. The clerk of the court shall give notice of the hearing as in other cases without jury, to all parties whether or not they have appeared. The court shall hear all evidence pertinent to the authority of the board and, upon the facts as so determined, annul such decision if found to exceed the authority of the board or make such other decree as justice and equity may require. The foregoing remedy shall be exclusive, notwithstanding any defect of procedure or of notice other than notice by publication, mailing or posting as required by this act.

Costs shall not be allowed against the board unless it shall appear to the court that the board in making the decision appealed from acted with gross negligence, in bad faith or with malice. Costs shall not be allowed against the party appealing from the decision of the board unless it shall appear to the court that said appellant or appellee acted in bad faith or with malice in making the appeal to the court. All issues in any proceeding under this section shall have precedence over all other civil actions and proceedings.

SECTION 13. The administrator shall issue a certificate of compliance in recordable form upon determination by the board that the development has been completed in accordance with the historic permit.

SECTION 14. Upon determination by the board that any person is in violation of this act or regulations promulgated hereunder, the board shall issue an order requiring that such violation be corrected and that any development in violation of this act cease and desist. The superior court department of the trial court shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act and any regulations promulgated hereunder, and may restrain by injunction violations hereof.

Any person found by the board to be in violation of this act or regulations promulgated by the board hereunder shall be assessed a maximum penalty of one hundred dollars per day for each day of such violation.

SECTION 15. All books, papers, records, documents, equipment, lands, interest in land, buildings, facilities, and other property, both personal and real, which, immediately prior to the effective date of this act, are in the custody of the historical commission of the city of Lowell established pursuant to chapter forty C of the General Laws, and which relate to or are maintained for the purpose of the exercise of powers or as a performance of duties under said chapter forty C or this act shall be transferred by said commission to the board.

All orders, actions, guidelines, rules and regulations, procedures, by-laws, ordinances, licenses, permits, authorities, permissions, certificates, approvals, and endorsements duly granted by the city of Lowell, any agency of said city, or the historical commission of the city of Lowell and which are in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this act, shall continue in full force and effect and the provisions thereof shall thereafter be enforced, until superseded, revised, rescinded or cancelled in accordance with this act or any other applicable law. All applications for development within any districts which are pending before the historical commission of the city of Lowell for which no final decision has been rendered by that commission must be resubmitted as an application pursuant to this act.

SECTION 16. Effective upon the date of the first meeting of the board: Chapter Two, Article XIV of the Code of the city of Lowell is hereby repealed.

SECTION 17. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 13, 1983.

Chap. 573. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE CONTROL AND REMOVAL OF OIL AND HAZARDOUS MATERIALS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately clarify the law relative to the prevention of and response to release of oil and hazardous materials, therefore, it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of chapter 21E of the General Laws, as appearing in section 5 of chapter 7 of the acts of 1983, is hereby amended by striking out the definition of "Owner" or "Operator", and inserting in place thereof the following definition:-

SECTION 2. Said section 2 of said chapter 21E, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by inserting after the definition of "Site" the following definition:-

"Statement of claim" or "statement", an instrument signed by the commissioner, describing a particular site or sites and naming the person or persons then deemed by the commissioner to be liable under this chapter with respect to each such site and their residential addresses, to the extent known to the commissioner, and declaring a lien upon the property of such person or persons for the payment of amounts due or to become due from such person or persons to the commonwealth under this chapter; provided, however, that neither failure to state any such address nor the designation of an incorrect address shall invalidate such statement; and provided, further, that successive statements, naming other persons so deemed to be liable, may be issued.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 21E is hereby further amended by striking out section 13, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 13. Any liability to the commonwealth under this chapter shall constitute a debt to the commonwealth. If the site described in such statement comprises real property, the statement shall be recorded in each registry of deeds in the commonwealth; and shall also be registered in each registry district in which any person named in such statement of claim holds record title to registered land as shown on the current index of registered land owners in such district. Such lien, other than a lien on real property the greater part of which is devoted to single or multi-family housing, shall continue in force with respect to any particular real or personal property until a release of the lien signed by the commissioner is recorded, registered or filed in the place where the statement of claim as to such property affected by the lien was recorded, registered or filed. In addition to discretionary releases of liens, the commissioner shall forthwith issue such a release in any case where the debt for which such lien attached, together with interest and costs thereon, has been paid or legally abated. This section shall not apply to any property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, any money, fees, charges, revenues or otherwise, owned, payable to or by, held in trust by or for, or otherwise owned, operated or managed by the Massachusetts Municipal Wholesale Electric Company established pursuant to chapter seven hundred and seventy-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, Massachusetts municipal light departments organized under chapter one hundred and sixty-four or any other special law, or with respect to any property real or personal whatsoever of municipal light departments administered pursuant to chapters forty-four and one hundred and sixty-four A. 3722-8844 For state financial assistance in the form of a grant by the commonwealth acting by and through the department of community affairs; provided, however, that said department may enter into a contract or contracts with a housing authority for projects undertaken pursuant to clause (j) of section twenty-six of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws $65,000,000

SECTION 6.

3722-8845 For state financial assistance in the form of a loan or grant by the commonwealth acting by and through the department of community affairs; provided, however, that said department may enter into a contract or contracts with a housing authority for projects undertaken pursuant to clause (k) of section twenty-six of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, or for projects involving disposition of federally assisted low-rent housing owned by such housing authorities which meet the requirements of said clause (k) except for paragraph (5) of said clause; and provided, further, that a housing authority shall have the power to enter into projects involving the disposition of federally assisted low-rent housing owned by such housing authorities which meet the requirements of said clause (k) except for paragraph (5) of said clause $10,000,000

SECTION 7. Chapter 23B of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following three sections:-

Section 25. As used in sections twenty-six to twenty-seven, inclusive, the following words shall have the following meanings, unless a different meaning clearly is indicated from the context:

"Annual income", a person's or family's gross annual income less such reasonable allowances for dependents, other than spouse, and for medical expenses, as determined by the department.

"Housing development area", any blighted open area, or any decadent area, or any substandard area, as respectively defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B, as determined by the department.

"Low income persons and families", those persons and families whose annual income is equal to or less than the maximum amount which would make them eligible for housing assistance pursuant to chapter one hundred and twenty-one B, as determined by the department.

"Low and moderate income rental housing project", a rental housing project which shall be rented to (a) low income persons or families; (b) moderate income persons or families; or (c) other persons or families whose annual rental for the unit to be occupied shall be equal to the lesser of (i) the market rate rental, or (ii) twenty-five per cent of such person's or family's annual income.

"Market rate rental", the rental which would be charged if the project received no financial assistance pursuant to section twenty-seven, as determined by the department.

"Moderate income persons or families", those persons and families, other than low income persons or families, whose annual income is less than the amount necessary to enable them to obtain and maintain decent, safe and sanitary housing without the expenditure of over twenty-five per cent of such income for housing expenses, including the provision of heat, electricity, or hot water, as determined by the department.

"Rental housing project", the construction or rehabilitation of two or more dwelling units in which no less than twenty-five per cent of the dwelling units shall at all times during the period of any contract entered into pursuant to section twenty-seven be rented to persons and families who are, at the time of initial occupancy, of low income.

"Sponsors", any individual, firm, association, partnership, including limited partnerships, trust, corporation, and other legal entities, including public bodies as well as natural persons.

Section 26. It is hereby found and declared that there now exists in many cities and towns in the commonwealth an acute shortage of decent, safe and sanitary housing for persons and families of low or moderate income and others. That this shortage is inimical to the safety, health, morals and welfare of the residents of the commonwealth and the sound growth of communities therein.

That a large and significant number of commonwealth residents have and will be subject to hardship in finding decent, safe and sanitary housing unless new facilities are constructed and existing housing, where appropriate is rehabilitated. Unless the supply of housing is increased significantly and expeditiously, a large number of residents of the commonwealth, especially low or moderate income persons or families, will be compelled to live in unsanitary, overcrowded and unsafe conditions to the detriment of the health, welfare and well-being of these persons and of the whole community of which they are a part. By increasing the housing supply of the commonwealth, the clearance, replanning, development and redevelopment of blighted areas will be aided, and the critical shortage of adequate housing will be ameliorated.

It is further found and declared that this public exigency, emergency and distress has not been met in any way by private agencies. Private enterprise, without the assistance contemplated in this chapter cannot achieve the construction of decent, safe and sanitary housing at rentals which persons and families of low or moderate income can afford in situations where permanent betterment of living conditions is to be hoped for. Moreover, experience has demonstrated that concentration of low income persons and families even in standard structures built with public subsidy does not eliminate slum conditions. It is, therefore, imperative that private enterprise be encouraged to build housing which will prevent the recurrence of slum conditions and assist in their permanent elimination by housing persons of varied economic means in the same project and neighborhoods, and which will promote the development, or redevelopment of blighted open areas, decadent or substandard areas by eliminating blight, decay or deterioration in such areas, or the imminent threat of such blight, decay or deterioration in such areas.

It is hereby further found and declared that the authority and powers conferred under this chapter and the expenditure of public monies pursuant thereto constitutes a serving of a valid public purpose and the enactment of the provisions hereinafter set forth is in the public interest and is hereby so declared to be such as a matter of determination by the general court.

Section 27. The commonwealth, acting by and through the department, may, to the extent of appropriations provided for such purpose, enter into contracts with sponsors of rental housing projects, financed through the agency established pursuant to chapter seven hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six, for financial assistance in the form of a loan by the commonwealth to facilitate the construction or rehabilitation of rental housing projects in locations where there is a need for such housing.

Each such contract shall provide for annual disbursements of loan proceeds in such amounts as the department determines appropriate, for a period not to exceed fifteen years; provided, however, that the amount of such disbursements shall not exceed in any one year, on a per unit basis, the difference between the amount determined by the department to be necessary to pay debt service on a typical, newly constructed rental housing project at prevailing interest rates on bonds whose interest is exempt from federal or state taxation, and the amount necessary to pay such debt service at an interest rate of five per cent per annum; and provided further, that the total amount of, and schedule for, such disbursements shall be determined by the department to be consistent with the repayment of the loan as hereinafter provided.

Prior to entering into any such contract, the department shall find: (1) that the area in which the proposed rental housing project is to be located is a housing development area, or that the proposed rental housing project is a low and moderate income rental housing project; (2) that the proposed rental housing project is itself designed to house persons and families of varied economic means, and will not contribute to undue concentration of low income persons and families in any one neighborhood; and (3) that the amount of any loan to be provided appears to be the minimum amount necessary to make the proposed rental housing project feasible, and to ensure that twenty-five per cent of the units in such project will be occupied by persons and families, who are, at the time of initial occupancy, of low income.

In the case of a rental housing project that is determined to be a low and moderate income rental housing project, the department shall require that the sponsor of such project make every reasonable effort to rent available units, other than units reserved for low income persons and families, to moderate income persons or families, prior to renting such units to other persons and families.

Any loan made pursuant to this section shall be secured by a lien on real or personal property, or both, satisfactory to the department. Such loans shall be subject to such terms and conditions as the department may prescribe, including but not limited to, such interest rate as may be set by the department.

Any loan made pursuant to this section shall be repaid to the MHFA, according to terms and conditions established by MHFA; provided, however, that such repayment proceeds shall be used for the benefit of low and moderate income tenants pursuant to this program; and provided, further, that MHFA shall not waive any loan in whole or in part.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any special or general law to the contrary, and as a condition precedent to entering into any contracts financed pursuant to this section, the MHFA shall make a determination for each development financed pursuant to this section whether:

(1) the allocation of state rental assistance funds is necessary to achieve a fiscally sound project, and;

(2) alternative sources of funding are inappropriate; provided, however, that the secretary of the executive office of communities and development shall, pursuant to said determination, allocate funds appropriated for the state rental assistance program to eligible units within MHFA developments financed pursuant to this section, the number of said units to which state rental assistance funds shall be allocated, not to exceed twenty-five per cent of the total number of units in each development.

SECTION 8. Clause (12) of paragraph (a) of section 402 of chapter 110A of the General Laws, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 694 of the acts of 1974, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "fifty-seven", in line 2, the words:- or organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-seven A.

SECTION 9. Section 34 of chapter 121B of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 490 of the acts of 1980, is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- The total amount of grants financed by bonds authorized prior to September first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall not exceed the sum of one hundred and thirty-eight million dollars.

SECTION 10. Said chapter 121B is hereby further amended by striking out section 41, as most recently amended by section 1 of said chapter 490, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 41. The commonwealth, acting by and through the department, may enter into a contract or contracts with a housing authority for state financial assistance in the form of a grant by the commonwealth for the development cost of a housing project or projects or a part or parts of a housing project or projects for elderly persons of low income. The total amount of grants financed by bonds authorized prior to September first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall not exceed the sum of seven hundred and one million dollars; provided, however, that the amount expended pursuant to this section during any one fiscal year shall not exceed thirty-three million three hundred thousand dollars. The contract or contracts for financial assistance may provide for additional state financial assistance in the form of a guarantee by the commonwealth of notes of the housing authority issued to temporarily finance the development cost of such a project but the amount guaranteed on account of any project shall not exceed the amount of grant for that project. The total amount of all notes guaranteed pursuant to this section prior to September first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall not exceed seven hundred and one million dollars, exclusive of notes which may be issued for refunding purposes. Any excess between the completed cost of a project as determined by the department and the notes outstanding therefore may be retired from the proceeds of such notes and if so retired, shall not be used in computing the total amount of notes guaranteed by the commonwealth under this section. The provisions of sections thirty-four, thirty-four B and thirty-five shall, so far as apt, be applicable to contracts, grants, guarantees and notes authorized by this section.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 121B is hereby further amended by striking out section 41A, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 714 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 41A. The commonwealth acting through and by the department, may enter into a contract or contracts with a housing authority for financial assistance in the form of a grant by the commonwealth of the development cost of a project or projects or a part or parts of a project or projects for handicapped persons of low income or families of low income of which one or more persons is handicapped. The total amount of grants financed by bonds authorized prior to September first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five million dollars. Such contract or contracts may provide for additional state financial assistance in the form of a guarantee by the commonwealth of notes of the housing authority issued to finance temporarily the development cost of such a project but the amount guaranteed on account of any project shall not exceed the amount of grant for that project. The total amount of all notes guaranteed pursuant to this section prior to September first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall not exceed the sum of twenty-five million dollars, exclusive of notes which may be issued for refunding purposes. Housing units for handicapped persons of families of low income, of which one or more persons is handicapped, provided as a project or a part of a project for housing for elderly persons and subject to a contract for financial assistance pursuant to section forty-one, shall not be included in the computation of the dollar or unit limits of this section. The provisions of sections thirty-four, thirty-four B and thirty-five, shall, so far as apt, be applicable to contracts for financial assistance, grants, notes and guarantees authorized under this section. The department shall report to the general court the use for which such funds were expended prior to requesting additional funds for further construction under this program.

SECTION 12. Said chapter 121B is hereby amended by striking out sections 42 to 44A, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following five sections:-

Section 42. It is hereby declared (a) that there does not now exist within the commonwealth an adequate supply of decent, safe and sanitary dwelling and such other housing units subject to regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs not inconsistent with the standards required for dwelling units, which are available at rents which families of low income and handicapped persons of low income or families of low income of which one or more persons is handicapped can afford without depriving themselves of the other necessities of life, (b) that the elimination of decadent or substandard areas in the commonwealth and the rehousing of the families now in such areas, many of them of low income, in decent, safe and sanitary housing is a public necessity, (c) that experience has demonstrated that the construction of the new low-rent housing projects on the large scale required to provide the needed dwelling and said other housing units would be unduly expensive and would generate undesirable social consequences, (d) that there exists a supply of moderate rental dwelling and said other housing units within the commonwealth presently under construction or vacant which could be used to house such families of low income and handicapped persons of low income or families of low income of which one or more persons is handicapped as cannot presently afford decent, safe and sanitary housing, provided public funds are available to supplement the portion of their income which they can afford to spend on housing, and (e) a program of rental assistance operated through the housing authorities in the cities and towns would help end the undesirable concentration and segregation of families of low income, in separate, concentrated areas of our cities and towns and help give every citizen an equal opportunity to enjoy decent, safe and sanitary housing in a neighborhood of his own choice.

Section 43. In addition to its other powers and for the purpose of implementing a program of rental assistance a housing authority may rent or lease dwelling units or such other housing units subject to regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs not inconsistent with the standards required for dwelling units for periods of not less than one nor more than five years. Any such lease shall contain a provision conditioning the obligations of the housing authority thereunder upon the prior certification by the board of health of the city or town that such dwelling unit or said other housing units are in compliance with the provisions of the minimum standards of fitness for human habitation set forth in the state sanitary code. No housing authority shall enter into any such lease until (a) the housing authority has adopted a scale of maximum rents, including specified utility charges, payable by the authority for housing units of various types under such leases and the department has approved such scale as being consistent with the purposes of the rental assistance program, (b) the housing authority has determined that an adequate supply of the type of housing to be leased is not presently available in the low-rent housing projects located within the city or town, and (c) the housing authority has determined that the rent payable under the lease is not in excess of rents payable for similar types of housing units within the city or town. A housing authority shall, in order to encourage the construction and remodeling of dwelling units or such other housing units subject to regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs not inconsistent with the standards required for dwelling units, endeavor to lease units recently constructed, reconstructed or remodeled but may enter into leases for other units. The number of units leased by any housing authority in any one building or development shall not exceed the following limits: In a building or development containing one to twelve units, no limit, in a building or development containing thirteen to thirty units, twelve units, in a building or development containing thirty-one or more units, forty per cent of the total units, rounded up to the next highest whole number; provided, however, that the department may, in its discretion, permit a housing authority to lease additional units in a building or development containing more than twenty but less than one hundred units if the department determines that the owner of said buildings or development needs and will use the proceeds from said lease for the sole purpose of improving said building or development.

A housing authority which, as a lessee or tenant, enters into a lease or rental agreement with a cooperative corporation or other legal entity which is the owner of a cooperative project may require that any tenant occupying the leased premises with the consent of the authority shall have all the rights of a member of the corporation.

If a resident of a city or town is eligible for rental assistance and locates or occupies a standard dwelling unit or said other housing unit other than the one leased by the local housing authority and if said dwelling unit or said other housing unit and the rental thereof is reasonable and acceptable to said housing authority in accordance with this section, and if the owner of said unit is willing to enter into a leasing agreement with said authority, said authority shall within thirty days of application to it by said resident execute a lease for occupancy of said unit for not less than one nor more than five years by said resident under the guidelines of the rental assistance program as established by the department. All housing authorities shall make application to the department of community affairs for funds with which to participate in the rental assistance program. The department may enter directly into leases and exercise all other rights and duties of housing authorities under the rental assistance program in cities and towns where no local housing authority exists or where the department finds that the local housing authority has not carried out the provisions of the rental assistance program.

The department of community affairs is hereby authorized and directed to allocate funds appropriated for the state rental assistance program to eligible units within developments financed by the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, hereinafter known as MHFA, pursuant to the provisions of sections twenty-five to twenty-seven, inclusive, of chapter twenty-three B.

Section 43A. If a person resides in a private dwelling unit or such other housing unit subject to regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs not inconsistent with the standard required for dwelling units leased by a local housing authority under any federal or state rent subsidy program and if that unit does not meet reasonable standards of human habitation, provided that the tenant shall not have caused such conditions, and the authority has terminated the lease as to said substandard unit then the resident may vacate the substandard unit and may relocate in another unit. The housing authority shall assist the resident in locating another unit. The rental subsidy shall be withdrawn from the vacated substandard unit and shall be transferred to the unit in which the resident may relocate. If the alternate dwelling unit or said other housing unit is standard or if the owner of said unit agrees to make the unit standard and if the rental thereof is reasonable and acceptable to the housing authority in accordance with section forty-three, and if the owner of said unit is willing to enter into a leasing agreement with said authority, said authority shall expeditiously execute a lease for occupany of said unit by said resident under the guidelines of the rent subsidy program affected.

Whenever a local housing authority determines that a unit leased by it under a federal or state rent subsidy program is going to be withdrawn from such program by termination or expiration of the rental agreement with the owner of said unit, the occupant of said unit may relocate to another unit. Such unit shall be leased by the Authority, provided that it meets all the requirements of the subsidy program under which the original unit was leased.

Section 44. The requirements with respect to rentals and tenant selection for low-rent housing projects shall apply to units leased by a housing authority under the rental assistance program, except that (a) as between applicants, who need not be residents of the city or town, but shall be residents of the commonwealth who applied at the same time and who are eligible for occupancy, preference shall be given in the selection of tenants to the following types of applicants: first to families with four or more minor dependents, then to families displaced by public action, then to elderly persons of low income, and then to handicapped persons of low income or families of low income of which one or more persons is handicapped; provided, however, that in the case of any project financially assisted by the federal government, preference shall be given in the selection of tenants in whatever manner is required by federal legislation or regulation; (b) rentals payable by selected tenant families or persons shall not exceed twenty-five per cent of the income of the household, not including any student income, if heat, cooking fuel and electricity are provided by the landlord or twenty per cent of that income if said utilities are not so provided; (c) a housing authority shall release and assign its rights under any lease to the tenant then occupying a dwelling unit or such other housing units subject to regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs not inconsistent with the standards required for dwelling units under the rental assistance program provided the tenant so requests, and provided the tenant demonstrates financial ability to pay the full rent called for under the lease; and (d) payments to the owner of a dwelling unit or said other housing unit leased under the rental assistance program shall be made in the manner determined by the housing authority and agreed to by said owner. Amounts paid on behalf of tenant families under the rental assistance program shall not be considered in determining the amount of welfare or other public assistance payments to which they may be entitled.

Funds appropriated for the rental assistance program established by sections forty-two to forty-four, inclusive, or which may become available therefor from the federal government or any other sources, shall be allocated within the following limits:- cities with over five hundred thousand population, not in excess of fifty per cent of such funds for any one such city; cities and towns with between one hundred thousand and five hundred thousand population, not in excess of twenty per cent of such funds for any one such city or town; and cities and towns under one hundred thousand population, not in excess of ten per cent of such funds for any one such city or town. The department shall allocate funds on the basis of applications therefor from the housing authorities; provided, however, that if, after May the thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy, a housing authority has expended all of the funds allocated pursuant to this paragraph, the department may, in its discretion, utilize funds appropriated but not allocated pursuant to sections forty-two to forty-four, inclusive of this chapter to provide additional rental assistance funds to such an authority. The department may make advances of funds to a local housing authority in such amount not to exceed five thousand dollars to an authority in each calendar year for purposes of negotiating leases for the rental assistance program; provided, however, such advances of funds shall be made upon the condition that such advances of funds shall be repaid out of any monies which become available to such authority for said rental assistance program.

No more than five per cent of the funds allocated by the department for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of the rental assistance program shall be used for the leasing of units other than dwelling units.

Section 44A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a housing authority, in addition to its other powers and for the purpose of replacing dwelling units or said other housing units subject to regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs not inconsistent with the standards required for dwelling units for persons and families of low income which will be eliminated through the demolition, clearance, sale or other disposition of low rent housing projects or to provide relocation housing for persons and families of low income and elderly persons of low income displaced thereby, may lease dwelling units or said other housing units in projects financed by the MHFA for a period not to exceed forty years from the completion of such MHFA project, as determined by the department. The requirements with respect to rentals and tenant selection for low rent housing projects shall apply to units leased by such housing authorities pursuant to this section, except that preference shall be given to displaced occupants of the low rent housing projects so demolished, cleared, sold or otherwise disposed of.

SECTION 13. Paragraph (a) of section 3 of chapter 156B of the General Laws, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 392 of the acts of 1969, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "fifty-seven", in line 16, the words:- and corporations subject to chapter one hundred and fifty-seven A.

Section 5D. Loans to Mortgage Lenders For Multi-Family

Housing Projects. (a) The MHFA may make, or contract to make, loans to mortgage lenders for multi-family housing projects at such interest rates, terms and conditions as it shall determine pursuant to rules or regulations adopted by it. The MHFA shall require that the proceeds of its loans to mortgage lenders or an equivalent amount shall be used by such mortgage lenders to make mortgage loans with respect to housing projects containing two or more dwelling units which meet the requirements of section five located with the commonwealth, subject to such terms and conditions as the MHFA may prescribe.

(b) The MHFA shall require that each mortgage lender which is the recipient of a loan pursuant to this section shall issue and deliver to the MHFA an evidence of its indebtedness to the MHFA, which shall constitute a general obligation of such mortgage lender and shall bear such date or dates, shall mature at such time or times, shall be subject to such prepayment, and shall contain such other provisions consistent with this section as the MHFA shall determine.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section to the contrary, the interest rate or rates and other terms of such loans to mortgage lenders made from the proceeds of any issue of bonds of the MHFA shall be at least sufficient to assure the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon as the bonds become due.

(d) The MHFA may require that loans made to mortgage lenders pursuant to this section be additionally secured as to payment of both principal and interest by a pledge of collateral security in such amounts and consisting of such obligations, securities or mortgages as the MHFA shall determine to be necessary to assure the payment of such loans and the interest thereon as the same become due.

(e) The MHFA may require that any collateral for loans to mortgage lenders be deposited with a bank, trust company or other financial institution acceptable to the MHFA located either within or outside the commonwealth as designated by the MHFA. In the absence of such requirement a mortgage lender that is the recipient of a loan from the MHFA shall enter into an agreement with the MHFA containing such provisions as the MHFA shall deem necessary or desirable to adequately identify and maintain such collateral, if any, to service such collateral, and to require that such mortgage lender shall hold such collateral as agent for the MHFA and shall be accountable to the MHFA as the trustee of an express trust for the application and disposition thereof and the income therefrom solely to the uses and purposes in accordance with the provisions of such agreement. A copy of each agreement and any revisions or supplements thereto shall be filed with the state secretary and no further filing or other

The MHFA may also establish such additional requirements as it shall deem necessary with respect to the pledging, assigning, setting aside or holding of such collateral and the making of substitutions therefor or additions thereto and the disposition of income and receipts therefrom.

(f) The MHFA shall require mortgage lenders that are the recipients of loans from the MHFA to submit evidence satisfactory to the MHFA that the mortgage lender has used the proceeds of such loans by the MHFA, or any equivalent amount, to make mortgage loans with respect to housing projects and that the mortgage lender has complied with the terms and conditions of such loans as prescribed by the MHFA. In connection therewith, the MHFA, through its employees or agents, may inspect the books and records of such mortgage lender.

(g) The MHFA may require as a condition of any loans to mortgage lenders such representations and warranties as it shall determine to be necessary or desirable to service such loans and implement the provisions of this section.

(h) Subject to the rights of holders of bonds of the MHFA, the MHFA may collect, enforce the collection of, and foreclose on any collateral securing its loans to mortgage lenders and acquire or take possession of such collateral and sell the same at private or public sale, with or without public bidding, and otherwise deal with such collateral as may be necessary to protect the interest of the MHFA therein.

(i) To the extent that any provisions of this section may be inconsistent with any provision of the law of the commonwealth governing mortgage lenders, the provisions of this section shall control.

Up to an additional five per cent of the units in each project shall be rented to low or moderate income persons or families if: (1) the MHFA determines the additional low or moderate income units are needed in the area in which the project is located; and (2) state or federal housing subsidy funds are available to the MHFA to pay to the mortgagor the difference between the rental paid by such persons or families, which in the case of low-income persons and families shall not exceed the adjusted rental, and the below market rental for each additional unit rented to such low or moderate income persons or families. The remaining units not made available to such low-income persons or families shall be made available at rentals not lower than the below-market rental for the unit or the rent level established pursuant to any state or federal housing subsidy program and sufficiently high as determined by MHFA to achieve and maintain a fiscally sound project. Any employee or agent of said division may, at any reasonable time, enter upon any premises while engaged in the performance of any duties required under sections nine to sixteen, inclusive. The division may negotiate with any property owners such terms, agreements or contracts as may be necessary or convenient in carrying out the duties required under sections nine to sixteen, inclusive.

The term "works of improvement" as used in this section and in sections twelve to fifteen, inclusive, shall mean any undertaking for (1) flood prevention, including structural and land treatment measures, or (2) conservation, development, utilization and disposal of water in watershed or subwatershed areas not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand acres and including any single structure which provides more than twelve thousand five hundred acre feet of flood-water detention capacity and more than twenty-five thousand acre feet of total capacity. A number of such watersheds when they are component parts of a larger watershed may be planned together when the local sponsoring organizations so desire.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 9A, as amended by section 1 of chapter 167 of the acts of 1983, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 9A. The division may, subject to the approval of the water resources commission and after proper consideration of the criteria established by the water resources commission, acquire by purchase, gift, lease, eminent domain, or otherwise lands and waters and easements therein to protect and conserve water impoundment sites and land adjacent to such sites which it deems necessary to meet the water resource needs of the commonwealth for flood control, low flow augmentation, and municipal water supply, provided that the excercise of the power of eminent domain shall be subject to the approval of the governor, the board of selectmen in a town or the city council in a city in which the land is located. If such board or council fails to approve or disapprove such proposed taking within ninety days after receipt of written notice of the proposed taking from the division, such board or council shall be deemed to have approved the same. No subsequent transfer or sale of such lands or waters by the division to any agency of the commonwealth or to any city, town, or district shall be made and no construction or water resources improvement thereon shall be undertaken without the approval of the general court. The division may enter into an agreement for the temporary supervision and maintenance of such lands and waters with any appropriate public agency, and may permit temporary compatible private uses subject to such conditions as it may impose. Said lands shall be subject to payments in lieu of taxes as provided in sections thirteen to seventeen, inclusive, of chapter fifty-eight. The division of water resources and its duly authorized agents, without being liable for trespass, shall have the right after giving due notice, accompanied by a detailed plan to enter upon any lands for the purpose of making surveys, test pits, borings and geologic investigation. Any damages to property resulting by the exercise of the aforementioned rights shall be reimbursed by the division to the owner of the property so damaged.

The water resources commission may also reimburse a city, town or district for acquisition costs of lands, waters and easements necessary for the development and protection of water impoundments for a regional municipal water supply system, provided that said regional water supply system meets criteria which may be established by the water resources commission. For purposes of this section, a regional municipal water supply system shall consist of two or more municipalities.

In the event that said city, town or district does not begin said regional water supply system project as authorized by law within a number of years to be determined by said commission, then said city, town or district receiving such reimbursement shall repay all monies at the prevailing interest rates to the commonwealth.

When an impoundment site is acquired under the provisions of this section which has the capacity for future development to meet substantially more than the needs of the cities, towns or districts served by the initial regional water supply system, provisions shall be included in the agreement with the water resources commission and in the agreement forming the district which will preserve the opportunity for other cities, towns or districts to later join the district and to share the impounded waters after having participated in the cost of the reservoir enlargement. The water resources commission shall enter into an agreement under this section to facilitate development of a water system to serve the original district and to preserve the opportunity for future expansion of said district.

Section 9B. The division shall be the administrator of the state's contribution to the cooperative survey program of the United States Geological Survey, hereinafter referred to as the USGS, for detailed groundwater assessments and related hydrological studies. Said division, with the approval of and according to the criteria established by the commission, shall contract or cause a contract to be executed, with the USGS to conduct a ten year program of detailed groundwater appraisals, aquifer assessments, and such other appropriate geologic and hydrologic studies as may be required for the protection of existing sources of groundwater supply and for the identification of new groundwater sources.

Said groundwater survey program shall include aquifer identification and assessments of quality and yield, and direct technical assistance to localities to solve groundwater problems of less than regional scale. Assistance to localities shall be based on criteria and priorities to be established by the commission which shall include, but not be limited to, the following: a present or recurrent water supply deficit; areas in which the survey would serve more than one community; communities which have suffered loss of supply due to contamination; communities in which demands are placed on supply systems by state institutions; and local commitment to participation. Direct local assistance shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars and shall be funded fifty per cent by USGS and fifty per cent by the commonwealth, and the total cost of said program shall not exceed, in the aggregate, five million dollars.

For the purposes of this section, groundwater shall mean water which is below the surface of the earth.

SECTION 5. Section ten of said chapter twenty-one is hereby repealed.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 11, as most recently amended by section 2 of chapter 201 of the acts of 1977, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 11. The division may employ such technical and clerical assistance and consultants as may be necessary to fulfill the responsibilities of the division as specified in section nine. The division may establish rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper administration of sections nine to sixteen, inclusive.

SECTION 7. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 12, as appearing in section 3 of chapter 620 of the acts of 1956, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 12. Applications for assistance under the federal Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act shall be initiated by the local organization, and may not be initiated by the division. Such applications shall be filed with the division, which may disapprove the same within forty-five days from the date of filing. The division may give approval only to applications submitted by local organizations, but any local or regional voluntary citizens' group, established under chapter one hundred and eighty for the purpose of furthering water conservation and flood prevention, may join with any local organization in making application to the division for assistance under the federal Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 13, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 13. The division shall require, as a condition to providing assistance from the commonwealth for the installation and operation and maintenance of works of improvement, that local organizations shall (1) assume responsibility for all planning for works of improvement to be constructed within the watershed area, but the local organization may, nevertheless, request, through the division, technical advice from any appropriate agency of the commonwealth; (2) acquire, in the name of the commonwealth, and without cost to the commonwealth, such land, easements or rights of way as will be needed in connection with works of improvement installed with the assistance of the commonwealth; (3) acquire, or provide assurance that landowners have acquired, such water rights, pursuant to the laws of the commonwealth, as may be needed in the installation and operation of the works of improvement; and (4) obtain agreements to carry out recommended soil conservation measures and proper farm plans from owners of not less than fifty per cent of the lands situated in the drainage area above each retention reservoir to be installed with the assistance of the commonwealth.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 14, as amended by section 62 of chapter 706 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 14. At such time as the United States Secretary of Agriculture and the interested local organization have agreed upon a plan for works of improvement, the division may (1) assume such proportionate share of the nonfederal cost of installing any works of improvement involving federal assistance as it determines to be equitable in consideration of anticipated benefits from such improvements; provided, that no part of the construction cost for providing any capacity in structures for purposes other than flood prevention and features related thereto shall be borne by the commonwealth; and (2) make arrangements, through the local organizations satisfactory to the said Secretary of Agriculture for defraying the costs of operating and maintaining such works of improvement, in accordance with regulations presented by the said Secretary of Agriculture.

In order to carry out the provisions of clause (1) the division shall be the contracting authority for the construction of any works of improvement involving assistance from the commonwealth, but shall designate the appropriate department or departments of the commonwealth or subdivision or subdivisions thereof as the agent or agents of the division for the purpose of making such contracts or performing the work of construction; provided, that whenever the said works of improvement involve stream clearance, channel improvement or construction of dams the division shall designate the division of waterways in the department of environmental management as the contracting agent, except that when the work to be done involves property under the care and control of the metropolitan district commission the division shall designate the said metropolitan district commission as the contracting agent.

In order to carry out the provisions of the above clause (2) the commission is authorized to assume such proportionate share of the costs of operation and maintenance of said works of improvement as it determines to be equitable in consideration of anticipated benefits from such improvements.

In order to insure the continued operation and maintenance of any and all works of improvement that have been installed with the assistance of state funds, the division is authorized and directed to designate as its agent or agents for this purpose the department or departments of the commonwealth or the subdivision or subdivisions thereof which constructed or contracted for the construction of said works of improvement.

Any funds received from local organizations or any other source, including funds made available by the federal government, shall be in addition to funds made available to the division by the general court.

With respect to all projects for which funds of the commonwealth have been appropriated as partial or total payment of the nonfederal share of the costs of constructing, operating or maintaining the proposed works of improvement, the division shall be the recipient of any federal, state, or local funds appropriated for such projects. Funds made available from any source for a specific project shall be held by the division for said project, and may not be allocated to any other project.

Nothing in this section or in section fourteen shall be construed to prevent or limit a local organization from assuming the full amount of the nonfederal share of the cost of installing any works of improvement.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16, as most recently amended by section 5 of chapter 572 of the acts of 1980, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

The activities of the department of environmental management pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to the licensing and permitting authority of the department of environmental quality engineering.

SECTION 23. Section 10 of said chapter 91, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:- The department of environmental quality engineering shall protect the interests of the commonwealth in areas described herein in issuing any license and permit authorized pursuant to this chapter.

SECTION 24. Section 14 of said chapter 91 is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Except as provided in section eighteen, no structures or fill may be licensed on private tidelands or commonwealth tidelands unless such structures or fill are necessary to accommodate a water dependent use; provided that for commonwealth tidelands said structures or fill shall also serve a proper public purpose and that said purpose shall provide a greater public benefit than public detriment to the rights of the public in said lands.

SECTION 25. Said chapter 91 is hereby further amended by striking out section 15, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 15. Every authority or license granted since eighteen hundred and sixty-eight or hereafter granted by the commonwealth to any person to build a structure or do other work in, over and under the Connecticut river or the nontidal part of the Merrimack river or in, over or under the waters of any great pond or at any outlet thereof below high water mark, or upon ground over which the tide ebbs and flows, or to fill up or to enclose the same, whether such ground is above or below low water mark, or within or beyond one hundred rods from high water mark, or whether private property or property of the commonwealth, shall be subject to the following conditions, whether expressed in the act, resolve or license granting the same or not. Said authority or license shall be revocable at the discretion of the general court or for noncompliance with the terms and conditions set forth therein. The license shall expire unless all work authorized or licensed is completed within five years from the date of such authorization or license; provided however, that revocation by the general court for authorization of licenses issued after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four for any reasons other than noncompliance or expiration requires compensation in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-nine for valuable structures, fillings or enclosures actually and in good faith built or made under said authorization or license during the term thereof. The grant of a license pursuant to this chapter shall not convey a property right, nor authorize any injury to property or invasion of other rights.

SECTION 26. Said chapter 91 is hereby further amended by striking out section 18, as amended by chapter 528 of the acts of 1956, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 18. Every license granted under this chapter shall be signed by the department, shall state the condition on which it is granted, including, but not limited to the specific use to which the license structure or fill is restricted, and shall specify by metes, bounds and otherwise the location, dimensions, and limits and mode of performing the work authorized thereby. Any changes in use or substantial structural alteration of a licensed structure or fill, whether said structure or fill first was licensed prior to or after the effective date of this section, shall require the issuance by the department of a new license in accordance with the provisions and procedures established in this chapter. Any unauthorized change in use or structural alteration shall render the license void. Licenses granted by the department pursuant to this chapter shall be revocable by the department for noncompliance with the conditions set forth therein.

Forty-five days before any license is granted pursuant to this chapter, the department shall give notice to the selectmen of the town or the mayor of the city and the conservation commission of the town or city where the work is to be performed that they may be heard, except in the case of a proposed bridge, dam or similar structure across a river, cove, or inlet, the department shall give notice to the selectmen or mayor, and conservation commission of every municipality into which the tidewater of said river, cove or inlet extends, and the department shall cause said notice to be published at the same time in a newspaper or newspapers having a circulation in the area affected by said license at the expense of the applicant.

A public hearing shall be held in the affected city or town on any license application for nonwater dependent uses of tidelands. No structures or fill for nonwater dependent uses of tidelands may be licensed unless a written determination by the department is made following a public hearing that said structures or fill shall serve a proper public purpose and that said purpose shall provide a greater public benefit than public detriment to the rights of the public in said lands and that the determination is consistent with the policies of the Massachusetts coastal zone management program. For those license applications where a public hearing is not mandated, a public hearing may be held, upon the request of the municipality or at the discretion of the department in the affected city or town.

Any person aggrieved by a decision by the department to grant a license pursuant to this chapter shall have the right to an adjudicatory hearing in accordance with chapter thirty A.

The department shall keep a record of each license and a plan of the work or structure. Said license shall be void unless, within sixty days after its date, it and the accompanying plan are recorded in the registry of deeds for the county or district where the work is to be performed. Work or change in use authorized under the license shall not commence until said license is recorded and the department has received notification of said recordation.

No license shall be granted for private tidelands unless the application therefor contains a certification by the clerk of the affected cities or towns that the work to be performed or changed in use is not in violation of local zoning ordinances and by-laws.

Each license granted shall contain a statement of the tidewater displacement assessments made with respect thereto and that payment has been received therefor, or that performance of other conditions in lieu of such payment has been completed to the satisfaction of the department and a statement of the assessment for occupation of commonwealth tidelands, any, made with respect thereto for which payment has been received or shall be required in accordance with regulations of the department.

SECTION 27. Said chapter 91 is hereby further amended by striking out sections 21 and 22 and inserting in place thereof the following sections:-

Section 21. The amount of tidewater displaced by any structure below high water mark, or any filling of flats, shall be ascertained by the department, which shall require the person, his heirs or assignees who are responsible for such displacement to make compensation therefor by excavating, under its direction, between high and low water mark in some part of the same harbor a basin for a quantity of water equal to that displaced; or by paying to the commonwealth, in lieu of such excavation, an amount assessed by the department, or by improving the harbor in any other manner satisfactory to the department. The department shall by regulation determine a schedule of rates of assessment to be charged pursuant to this section per cubic yard of water displaced. In determining said rate of assessment the department may consider the following factors: the costs incurred by the department in the licensing of tidelands; the costs typically associated with excavation or improvement of harbors or basins as permitted in lieu of payment of an assessment under this section; and the level of assessments historically charged in the commonwealth or in other states with respect to the displacement of tidewater. An assessment for the tidewater which has been displaced may be recovered in contract in the name of the state treasurer.

Section 22. If authority or a license is granted by the general court or by the department to a person to build a wharf or other structure upon, or to fill or otherwise occupy, land in tide water, or to build or extend any structure or drive piles, fill land or make any obstruction, encroachment or excavation in, over or upon the waters of any great pond, he shall pay to the commonwealth such compensation for the rights granted in any land the title to which is in the commonwealth as shall be determined pursuant to regulations of the department. The department shall by regulation provide for a uniform method for determination of such compensation which may in the department's discretion be based on either a uniform rate per square yard of commonwealth tidelands occupied or on an appraisal of the fair market value of the rights granted by the commonwealth, and which may in the department's discretion be assessed either as a lump sum payable in full prior to issuance of the license or as a series of annual payments which shall be required as a condition of the license. This section shall not apply to authority granted to a county, city or town for the construction, widening or maintenance of a bridge constituting a part of a highway.

SECTION 28. Section 44 of chapter 253 of the General Laws, as appearing in chapter 722 of the acts of 1979, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- In this section and in sections forty-five to forty-seven, inclusive, the term "commissioner" shall mean the commissioner of environmental management or his designee.

SECTION 29. The general court hereby finds and declares that, in the interests of more efficient administration of government, that certain functions of the division of waterways, within the department of environmental quality engineering, shall be transferred to the department of environmental management. The following functions of the division of waterways within the department of environmental quality engineering as provided in chapters ninety-one and two hundred and fifty-three of the General Laws, are hereby transferred to the department of environmental management: the authority to construct projects and facilities, the authority to dredge the waterways of the commonwealth, the ownership and management of the state piers, the ownership and management of certain land, and the dam maintenance and safety program. All rules, regulations, procedures, standards, guidelines and policies duly made by the executive office of environmental affairs which relate to the Massachusetts coastal zone management program and are in force immediately prior to the effective date of this act, shall continue in force and the provisions thereof shall thereafter be enforced, until superseded, revised, rescinded or cancelled in accordance with law, by the Massachusetts coastal zone management office.

SECTION 31. Upon the effective date of this act, all persons then employees of the department of environmental management and whose salaries are provided through budget account number 2130-0010 shall remain employees of the department of environmental management but may be temporarily transferred to the office of the secretary of the executive office of environmental affairs, without impairment of civil service status, seniority, retirement, or other rights, and without interruption of service under the provisions of chapter thirty A and section nine A of chapter thirty of the General Laws, and without reduction in compensation or salary grade notwithstanding any change in title or duties resulting from such transfer, and all such employees of the commission shall have unrestricted right to take civil service examinations for and from the positions in which they are incumbent.

SECTION 32. Members of the water resources commission appointed by the governor and serving at the time of passage of this act shall continue to serve until the expiration of their present term and may be reappointed by the governor.

SECTION 33. All employees who, immediately prior to said effective date, hold positions related to the exercise of such powers or the performance of duties, as are transferred to a department, commission, or other unit of state government, but neither hold permanent appointment in such positions, nor have such tenure, are hereby transferred to said department, commission, or unit to which said powers and duties are so transferred, every such transfer to be without impairment of seniority, retirement and other rights of the employee, and without interruption of service within the meaning of said section nine A of chapter thirty and without reduction in compensation or salary grade, notwithstanding any change in title or duties resulting from such transfer.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to confer upon any employee any rights not held immediately prior to the effective date of this act or to prohibit any reduction of salary or grade, transfer, reassignment, suspension, discharge, layoff, or abolition or position not prohibited prior to said effective date.

The status of the incumbent in any office or position placed within the classified civil service by this act shall be determined pursuant to the provisions of section forty-seven A of said chapter thirty-one.

SECTION 35. All petitions, hearings and other proceedings duly brought before, and all prosecutions and legal and other proceedings duly begun by a department, commission, or other unit of state government, the powers and duties which are transferred by passage of this act, and which arise from or relate to the exercise of such powers or the performance of such duties, and which are pending immediately prior to the effective date of this act, shall continue unabated and remain in force notwithstanding the passage of this act, and shall thereafter be completed before or by said department, commission, or other unit of state government to which said powers and duties are so transferred.

All orders, rules and regulations duly made, and all licenses, permits, certificates and approvals duly granted, by any department, commission, or unit of state government concerning the powers and duties which are transferred by this act, which arise from or relate to the exercise of such powers or the performance of such duties, and which are in force immediately prior to the effective date of this act, shall continue in force and the provisions thereof shall thereafter be enforced, until superseded, revised, rescinded or cancelled in accordance with law, by the appropriate department, commission, or other unit of state government to which said powers and duties are so transferred.

All questions regarding the identification of such petitions, hearings, prosecutions, proceedings, orders, rules, regulations, licenses, permits, certificates and approvals, and of the agencies to which the completion or enforcement thereof is so transferred, shall be determined by the secretary of environmental affairs.

All questions regarding the identification of such property and of the agencies to which custody thereof is transferred shall be determined by the secretary of environmental affairs.

SECTION 37. All duly existing contracts, leases and obligations of any department, commission or other unit of state government concerning the powers and duties which are transferred by passage of this act, which relate to the exercise of such powers or the performance of such duties, and which are in force immediately prior to the effective date of this act, shall thereafter be performed by the department, commission, or other unit of state government to which said powers and duties are so transferred. No existing right or remedy of any character shall be lost, impaired or affected by the provisions of this act.

SECTION 38. All monies heretofore appropriated for a department, commission, or other unit of state government, concerning the powers and duties which are transferred by passage of this act, for the purpose of the exercise of such powers or the performance of said duties, and remaining unexpended on the effective date of this act, are hereby transferred to, and shall be available for expenditure by, said department, commission, or other unit of state government to which said powers and duties are so transferred, for the purposes for which such funds were originally appropriated.

All questions regarding the identification of such monies and of the agencies to which they are so transferred shall be determined by the secretary of environmental affairs.

SECTION 39. Wherever the name of a department, commission, or other unit of state government concerning the powers and duties which are transferred by passage of this act, appears in any general or special law, or in any order, rule, regulation or other document related to the exercise of such powers or the performance of such duties, such name shall mean and shall be construed as referring to the department, commission, or other unit of state government to which said powers and duties are so transferred.

SECTION 40. All powers, duties and other statutory provisions which prior to the effective date of this act were assigned to, or exercised by, a department, commission, or other unit of state government or were assigned to or exercised by any officer of any such unit shall continue to be exercised and performed by, and to be assigned to, such unit or officer except as such powers, duties or other statutory provisions are modified by this act.

SECTION 41. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section nineteen and nineteen A of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of twenty-five million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Public Piers Reimbursement Loan, Act of 1983, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and eight.

Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 42. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting payments authorized by section nineteen of this act and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

Approved December 17, 1983.

Chap. 590. AN ACT RELATIVE TO DEPOSITS AND ACCOUNTS IN BANKS AND OTHER CHANGES TO THE BANKING LAWS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately authorize certain deposits and accounts in banks and other changes to the banking laws of the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13 of chapter 167 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 5 of chapter 155 of the acts of 1982, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 22 to 24, inclusive, the words "February, a statement of the condition, as of the last business day of October" and inserting in place thereof the words:- May, a statement of the condition, as of the last business day of December.

SECTION 2. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter 167D, as most recently amended by section 17 of chapter 371 of the acts of 1983, and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 167D.
DEPOSITS AND ACCOUNTS.

Section 1. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

"Bank", a savings bank, co-operative bank or trust company incorporated as such in the commonwealth.

"Board", the board of trustees in a savings bank, the board of directors in a co-operative bank and the board of directors in a trust company.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of banks.

"Federally-chartered bank", a national bank association, a federal savings and loan association, a federal savings bank or a federal credit union authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

Section 2. Every bank in its banking department shall, subject to any limitations imposed by this chapter, have the following powers and whatever further incidental powers may fairly be implied from those expressly conferred and such as are reasonably necessary to enable it to exercise fully those powers according to common banking customs and usages:

1. To receive deposits as authorized by sections two to twelve, inclusive, and sections twenty-one and thirty-one and to receive demand, time and other types of deposits upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the depositor and the bank.

2. To receive on deposit, storage or otherwise, money, government securities, stocks, bonds, coin, jewelry, plate, valuable papers and documents, evidences of debt, and other property of any kind, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the depositor and the bank; and to collect and disburse, at the request of the depositor, the interest or income or principal of said property upon terms to be prescribed by such bank.

Section 3. A bank may receive demand, time and other types of deposits without limitation.

Section 4. A bank may receive deposits in denominations of one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars in the form of shares as hereinafter described:

1. Serial Shares. - (a) Issue: Serial shares in either denomination may be issued in quarterly, half-yearly or yearly series, in such amounts and at such times as the board, from time to time, may determine. Shares of a prior series may be sold with the approval of the board. Purchasers of shares of a prior or current series shall pay therefor their value computed from the date of their issue.

(b) Dues: On or before each bank day every serial shareholder shall pay one dollar as dues upon each serial share held by him until it is withdrawn, forfeited, suspended, retired and matured.

(c) Maturity: Serial shares shall mature when they reach the value of either one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars, depending on which denomination such series is in, by the accumulation of dues, distributed earnings and other credits. When maturity of any shares would occur between distribution dates by the crediting of interest at the last rate of distribution, such interest shall be so credited and such shares thereupon shall mature.

(d) Exchange of Serial Shares: The withdrawal value of the serial shares of a nonborrower who continues in arrears for more than six months, at the option of the board, if he fails to pay the arrears within thirty days after notice, may be transferred into paid-up shares or into a savings account, or both, or into a suspended share account. In the event of any withdrawal before maturity of interest paid or credited upon serial shares, the remaining withdrawal value of such shares may, unless withdrawn by the holder, be transferred by the bank into paid-up shares or into a savings share account, or both.

2. Paid-up Shares. - Paid-up shares may be sold in denominations of either one hundred dollars or two hundred dollars each payable when issued either with or without interest adjusted from the last distribution of profits at a rate fixed by the board. When serial shares mature they shall be deemed paid-up shares.

No person individually and no two or more persons in a joint account shall hold more than six hundred serial shares in the denomination of one hundred dollars nor more than three hundred serial shares in the denomination of two hundred dollars. Each person so holding shares with one or more other persons also may hold shares individually, but the total amount of shares in a bank held at the same time by such person both individually and with one or more other persons shall exceed in the denomination of one hundred dollars, six hundred serial shares, or in the denominations of two hundred dollars, three hundred serial shares.

Paid-up shares shall be governed by the limitations contained in section three.

Limitations upon individual holdings shall apply to shares held by more than one fiduciary in the same estate and to shares held for each estate where the same person is fiduciary in two or more distinct estates.

For other applicable provisions of law, shares shall be deemed deposits.

Section 5. Any bank or federally-chartered bank may receive deposits in the name of two or more persons as joint tenants, payable to two or more persons or the survivor or survivors of them, and any part or all of the deposits and interest represented by joint accounts may be withdrawn, assigned or transferred in whole or in part by any of the individual parties. Payments to any of the parties to a joint account while all of them are living shall discharge the liability of the bank or federally chartered bank to all persons and, in the event of the death of any of them, the bank or federally chartered bank shall be liable only to the survivor or survivors and the payment to any of the survivors shall discharge the liability of the bank or federally chartered bank to all persons.

Any party to a joint account also may make deposits to an individual account.

The surviving owner or owners of a joint account may maintain the balance of the account in the amount appearing at the time of the decease of a joint owner, and such bank or federally chartered bank may allow interest additions and accumulations thereon.

Such deposits or any part thereof, or any interest thereon, may be paid to any of such persons or to any assignee or pledgee of any of such persons, whether the other such persons be living or not, provided they are not then attached at law or in equity in a suit against any such person, and the bank or federally chartered bank then has no notice in writing of any assignment or pledge of the account by any of such persons to any person other than the person to whom payment is being made hereunder. All such payments shall be valid.

Section 6. Any bank or federally-chartered bank may receive deposits made by one or two persons in trust for another. The name and residence of the person for whom such deposit is made shall be disclosed and the deposit shall be credited to the depositors as trustees for such person. Payments may be made to the trustee, or if there are two trustees, to both or to either or the survivor. If no other notice of the existence and terms of a trust has been received in writing by the bank or federally chartered bank upon the death of the trustee, or if there are two trustees upon the death of both, the amount then on deposit together with the interest thereon may be paid to the person for whom such deposit was made, or to his legal representative. Withdrawals and payments made in accordance with this section shall fully discharge the liability of the bank or federally chartered bank to all persons.

Section 7. Any bank or federally-chartered bank having funds on deposit in the name of a minor may, unless in violation of a written agreement to which such bank or federally chartered bank is a party, pay the same in whole or in part directly to such minor, to his legal representative, to either parent of such minor or to others on his written order; and any such payments shall discharge the liability of such bank or federally chartered bank to all persons to the extent of such payment.

Section 8. For any time deposits with a maturity in excess of thirty days, any such bank shall be required to mail to the depositor a written notification of maturity at least thirty days prior to the date of maturity of said plan or deposit but in no event more than forty-five days prior to said date of maturity of said deposit.

No general requirement of notice of withdrawal or loan under section seventeen shall apply to the withdrawal of such deposits pursuant to a withdrawal notice, if so required, received by a bank before such general requirement was imposed.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any time deposit or of any agreement made pursuant to the authority thereof relative to notice of intent to withdraw funds from such an account, no such requirement of notice shall be applicable after the death of the depositor in such an account to a duly appointed and qualified executor or administrator of the estate of such depositor.

Section 9. Any such bank may contract, on terms to be agreed upon, for club deposits, so-called, which deposits may be made at intervals within any period of twelve months, of sums of money in the aggregate not in excess of the statutory limit on deposits which deposits interest shall be paid.

Section 10. In order to encourage savings among school children, any bank may arrange for the collection, by collectors or by the school principal or teachers, of deposits from school children of private schools and, with the approval of the school committee of the town or regional district wherein the school is situated, from school children of public schools. To give effect to the purposes of this section any such bank may, in participation and under an agreement in writing with one or more other such banks, all such banks having their main offices in the same town, arrange for such collection in one or more public or private schools in any town in which a participating bank has its main office or a branch office, or in any contiguous or surrounding town in which no other bank or bank branch office is located; subject, however, to the approval of the commissioner and, in the case of public schools, of the commissioner and the school committee of the town or regional district wherein such school or schools are situated. Subject to conditions approved by the commissioner and notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty-seven of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, such participation may be effected through an association or through a corporation established under chapter one hundred and eighty, organized for that purpose by some or all of the participating banks or by persons on their behalf, and any such association or corporation shall be subject to the supervision of the commissioner. Whenever used in this section, the word "association" shall mean an association the business of which is conducted or transacted by trustees under a written instrument or declaration of trust.

Section 11. A bank may receive on deposit to any amount, funds in trust for the purposes of setting out shade trees in streets and parks and improving the same, purchasing land for parks or playgrounds and improving the same, maintaining cemeteries or cemetery lots, or erecting and maintaining drinking fountains in public places, subject to the following provisions:

1. Payments. - The interest on such deposits shall be paid at least annually to such town or cemetery authorities as may be designated by the donors of said funds or by the will of the person bequeathing the same, and shall be expended by such authorities within their respective towns or cemeteries for any or all of said purposes as may be specified by such donors or such will. Such deposits and interest shall be exempt from attachment or levy on execution. No part of the principal of such deposits shall be withdrawn or expended, but nothing in this sentence shall prevent the withdrawal of the principal of or interest on deposits made by a cemetery corporation under section three, and nothing in this sentence shall prevent the withdrawal by the city or town treasurer of cemetery perpetual care funds deposited by a city or town.

2. Court Order. - A judge of probate, after notice and a hearing, may authorize an executor, administrator or trustee holding money or other personal property for any of the purposes mentioned in this section, to deposit such money, or the avails arising from such personal property, in any such bank designated by the judge, to be held by it in the manner and for such purposes and upon the trusts upon which the executor, administrator or trustee held the same; and upon the deposit of such money and its receipt and acceptance by such bank the executor, administrator or trustee shall be discharged from further care and responsibility therefor.

3. Statement Every Three Years. - The deposits held in accordance with this section shall be known as the "Shade Tree and Cemetery Accounts" and the treasurer of the bank with which they are deposited shall give a receipt therefor to the depositor, and shall send by mail or delivery, in January in each third year after the first deposit, to the mayor of a city or the chairman of the selectmen of a town, a written statement, signed by such treasurer, of the amount of deposits held for any of the purposes aforesaid in the name or for the benefit of such city or town or of any instrumentality thereof. Such statement shall be recorded in the office of the city or town clerk.

4. Transfer of Deposit. - If a bank holding such deposits surrenders its charter or ceases to do business, the supreme judicial court may order said deposits to be transferred and deposited in another such bank, upon the same trusts, and if the laws authorizing such banks are repealed, the court may order such deposits to be transferred and deposited in such banking institutions as it may find proper, to be held upon the trusts aforesaid.

Section 12. A bank may receive deposits, under the terms of a written plan approved by the commissioner from any labor union, association, trust, public utility, partnership, corporation, college, university, insurance company, charity, any city, town, county or district of the commonwealth, or by any instrumentality thereof, or individual for the sole purpose of making loans guaranteed in whole or in part by the Massachusetts higher education assistance corporation; provided, however, that no such plan shall discriminate against any applicant otherwise eligible for such a loan; and provided, further, that such deposits shall not exceed twenty per cent of the assets of the bank.

Section 13. A depositor's vouchers may be returned by mailing the same to him, at his last known address, postage prepaid, and such depositor may, when required to notify the bank, give notice in like manner.

Section 14. Without the consent of the commissioner, no bank shall advertise in any manner more than four months prior to the date interest or dividends on deposits or shares will be payable, the rate at which it is anticipated or estimated such interest or dividends will be paid.

Section 15. 1. As used in this section the following words shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Nonfederally-insured bank", any bank, except a credit union as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-one, which is subject to supervision by the commissioner, which is not a "member" of a Federal Home Loan Bank as defined in Section 2 of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (12 U.S.C. 1422), and the deposits of which are not insured in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1811-1831);

(b) "Insured nonmember bank", the same meaning that such term has in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act;

(c) "Member", the same meaning that such term has in the Federal Home Loan Bank Act;

(d) "Insured institution", the same meaning that such term has in section 401 (a) of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1724 (a));

(e) "Deposits", all deposits authorized under section two; and

(f) "Affiliate", the same meaning that such term has in section 2(b) of the Banking Act of 1933 (12 U.S.C. 221a), except that the term "member bank", as used in said section 2(b), shall be deemed to refer to a nonfederally-insured bank.

2. The advertising and payment of interest on deposits, shares or withdrawable accounts, shall be subject to regulation by the commissioner as herein provided. Said commissioner may, from time to time, prescribe rules and regulations governing the payment and advertisement of interest on deposits, including limitations on the rates of interest that may be paid on deposits, by all nonfederally-insured banks. Said commissioner may prescribe different rate limitations for different classes of deposits, for deposits of different amounts or with different maturities or subject to different conditions regarding withdrawal or repayment, according to the nature or location of such nonfederally-insured banks or their depositors, or according to such other reasonable bases as the commissioner may deem desirable in the public interest. The commissioner is authorized, for the purposes of this section to classify types of deposit, to determine what shall be deemed a payment of interest and to prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section and to prevent evasions thereof. Such regulations shall prohibit any nonfederally-insured bank from paying any time deposit before its maturity except upon such conditions and in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner and from waiving any requirement of notice before payment of any deposit except as to all deposits having the same requirement. The provisions of this section and of regulations hereunder shall also apply, in the discretion of the commissioner, to obligations other than deposits that are undertaken by nonfederally-insured banks or their affiliates for the purpose of obtaining funds to be used in the banking business. The commissioner shall also have any such authority with respect to nonfederally-insured banks as the board of directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation now has or may in the future have with respect to insured nonmember banks pursuant to Section 18 (g) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1828 (g)) and as the Federal Home Loan Bank Board now has or may in the future have with respect to members and insured institutions pursuant to Section 5B of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act (12 U.S.C. 1425b). Any authority conferred on the commissioner by this section with respect to nonfederally-insured banks shall be effective only during such time as the board of directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation shall have comparable authority with respect to insured nonmember banks or as the Federal Home Loan Bank board shall have comparable authority with respect to members and insured institutions.

3. (a) Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any bank is engaged or has engaged or is about to engage in any act or practice which constitutes or will constitute a violation of the provisions of this section or of any regulation hereunder, the commissioner may, in his discretion, bring an action in the superior court for the county in which the principal office of such bank is located to enjoin such act or practice, to enforce compliance with this section or any regulation prescribed hereunder or for a combination of the foregoing, and such court shall have jurisdiction of such action, and, upon a proper showing, an injunction, restraining order or other appropriate order may be granted without bond.

(b) In addition to any other penalty provided by this or any other law, any bank, subject to this section, which violates a rule promulgated pursuant to this section shall be subject to such civil penalties, which shall not exceed one hundred dollars for each violation, as may be prescribed by the commissioner by regulation, and such regulation may provide, with respect to any or all such violations, that each day on which the violation continues shall constitute a separate violation. The commissioner may recover any such civil penalty for his own use, through action or otherwise, including recovery thereof in any other action or proceeding under this section. The commissioner may, at any time before collection of any such penalty, whether before or after the bringing of an action or other legal proceeding, the obtaining of any judgment or other recovery or the issuance or levy of any execution or other legal process therefor, and with or without consideration, compromise, remit or mitigate in whole or in part any such penalty of any such recovery.

4. Any regulation made by the commissioner pursuant to the authority conferred by this section shall be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A, except that the commissioner may from time to time change the maximum rate of interest on deposits without holding a public hearing by publishing in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the commonwealth selected by the commissioner, and delivering to any banks subject to such maximum rate, a notice which states the substance of the proposed maximum rate limitation and fixes an effective date for such limitation not earlier than thirty days after the date of publishing or delivering such notice.

Section 16. All deposits in any bank may be withdrawn at such time and in such manner as the by-laws direct. The treasurer or other authorized officer of any bank may, at any time, require a depositor to give a written notice, not exceeding ninety days, of his intention to withdraw the whole or any part of any deposit other than a demand deposit loan secured by any such deposit. Whenever said notice is required from depositors on any one day, such bank shall be deemed to have made a general requirement and shall file with the commissioner, within forty-eight hours thereafter, a written notice thereof. Until such general requirement has been removed and notice thereof filed with the commissioner, no payment by way of withdrawal or loan shall be made to any such depositor on account of any such deposit, except that, with the approval of the commissioner, such sum or sums not exceeding, in the aggregate, an amount fixed by the board may be so paid to each such depositor.

Whenever in the judgment of the board there is an unusual demand by such depositors for withdrawals the bank may, with the approval of the commissioner, and whenever in the opinion of the commissioner there is such an unusual demand the bank shall upon his order, require such a depositor to give written notice of his intention to withdraw the whole or any part of such deposits or to apply for a loan secured by such deposit, such notice to be for such period not exceeding six months, as may be determined by the commissioner, which period may, in his discretion, be extended but not beyond one year from the date of notice, and until such a requirement has been revoked by the commissioner, the foregoing limitations as to payments by way of withdrawal or loan applicable in case of a general requirement as aforesaid shall apply to such deposits.

Such bank shall not advertise for such deposits in newspapers, by posters or other written solicitation, while any requirement of notice of intention to withdraw is in effect, unless the advertisement shall contain, in type not smaller than the largest type thereof, a statement that such deposits may not be paid out, by way of withdrawal or loan, except in accordance with the terms of the requirement, which terms shall be set forth in such statement.

Section 17. Any agreement between a depositor and any bank which exculpates such bank when a deposit account, or any part thereof, is paid by such bank to a person unlawfully presenting a passbook, or other instrument as evidence of such account is hereby declared to be contrary to public policy and void.

Section 18. When a passbook or other instrument as evidence of a depositor's account issued by any bank has been lost, stolen or destroyed, the person in whose name it was issued, or in the case of a joint account, by the joint owners thereof may make written application to such bank for payment of the amount of the deposit represented by said book or other instrument or for issuance of a duplicate book or other instrument therefor. The application shall include an affidavit signed and sworn to that the person, or persons, making such application is a lawful owner, or are the lawful owners, of said passbook or other instrument, that said passbook or other instrument has been lost, stolen or destroyed, and that no lawful owner has, in any way, transferred, pledged or assigned said passbook or other instrument or any interest in the deposits therein. The application shall further include an agreement, in writing, to indemnify the bank from and against any and all claims, expenses and liabilities in any way resulting from the bank's action on the application by the payment of amounts due on said passbook or other instrument or by the issuance of a duplicate book or other instrument therefor. All signatures contained with such application shall be duly notarized. Upon receipt of such application, the bank may pay the amount due on said passbook or other instrument or may issue a duplicate book or other instrument therefor. The provisions of this section shall apply to passbooks and other instruments issued by a bank which subsequently has merged in, consolidated with or transferred its deposit liabilities to another bank.

When payment is made or a duplicate book or other instrument is issued in accordance with this section and after presentation of reasonable identification, a bank shall not be liable to any person on account of its action on the application, payments of the amount due on said passbook or other instrument or issuance of a duplicate book or other instrument therefor, except that a bank may be liable to a transferee, pledgee or assignee who, prior to such action, payment or issuance, has given the bank written notice of the transfer, pledge or assignment.

Section 19. Whenever a bank as a consequence of a default of a debt owed to said bank by a depositor or shareholder, makes a transfer of funds of such depositor or shareholder to reduce or extinguish said debt, such depositor or shareholder shall be notified forthwith of such transfer by written notice sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, directed to his last known address; provided, however, that no such transfer shall be made if such debt is the result of consumer credit granted under the provisions of chapter one hundred and forty D unless the written notice required by section twenty-three of said chapter one hundred and forty D has been given. A depositor or shareholder to whom such notice has not been sent shall be entitled to recover the amount of any actual damages.

Section 20. A person indebted to a bank may, when proceeded against for the collection of such indebtedness or for the enforcement of any security therefor, set off or recoup the amount of a deposit in such bank held and owned by him at the time of the commencement of such proceeding; provided, however, that if a proceeding in equity has been commenced to restrain the bank from doing its actual business, or if possession of such bank has been taken over by the commissioner as provided in section twenty-two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven or as otherwise provided by law, no deposit shall be so set off or recouped by any such person unless held and owned by him on the date of the commencement of such proceeding or of possession so taken, and the right of set off or recoupment shall be determined as of such date whether the indebtedness of the depositor, or the deposit, is then due or payable or becomes due or payable at a later date. Any indebtedness against which a deposit is permitted to be set off or recouped as aforesaid may be secured or unsecured. Section three of chapter two hundred and thirty-two shall not apply to a set off hereunder, except that any party to a joint account may set off the joint deposit against his individual debt to such bank. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a judgment shall not be rendered against such bank in favor of the defendant for any balance found due from it if a proceeding in equity has been commenced against the bank or possession thereof has been taken as aforesaid. The word "deposit", as used in this section, shall include interest due thereon.

Section 21. No bank shall give collateral or other security for a deposit of money received in its banking department, except that such bank may make such a deposit of securities as may be required by the laws of the United States or the rules and regulations of any department, agency or instrumentality thereof as security for deposits of funds made with such bank and may give such collateral or other security for deposits of public or other funds as may be required by any public authority making such deposits or controlling the terms upon which they may be made and except as provided in section eight of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven G.

Section 22. A bank may act as a depository of funds of the United States or any department, agency or instrumentality thereof, and in connection therewith and in accordance with applicable federal law, rules and regulations, may satisfy any requirement, including, without limitation, the pledging of collateral, and enter into such arrangements necessary or incidental to the receipt and administration of such deposit accounts.

Section 23. Any bank may cause any stock or security in registered form held for its account and not in a fiduciary capacity to be registered and held in the name of a partnership or corporate nominee named by it and residing or having a principal place of business in the commonwealth; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed as to permit any bank to deliver any security held for its account into the possession and control of any other person except in accordance with the regulations of the commissioner pursuant to section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven. A depository having possession of securities of a bank registered as authorized by this section shall maintain adequate records indicating the ownership thereof, shall segregate the same from his or its own assets and shall be absolutely liable for any loss occasioned by the acts of a nominee.

Section 24. If, in an action against a bank for money on deposit therewith, it appears that the same fund is claimed by another party than the plaintiff, whether by the husband or wife of the plaintiff, or otherwise, the court in which such action is pending, on the petition of the bank and on such notice to the plaintiff and to such claimants as the court considers proper, may order the proceedings to be amended by making such claimants defendants thereto, and thereupon the rights and interests of the several parties in and to said funds shall be heard and determined. Such deposits may remain with the bank until final judgment and shall be paid as the court orders, or may be paid into court to await final judgment, and when so paid into court, the action shall be discontinued as to such bank and its liability for such deposit shall cease. The taxable costs of the bank in such actions shall be in the discretion of the court and may be charged upon the fund.

Section 25. Subject to section twenty-eight of chapter two hundred and six, the probate and family court department of the trial court, or other court, respectively, shall, upon the application of a person interested or of the attorney general, and after public notice, order and decree that all amounts of money deposited with a bank by authority of any of said courts or of any judge thereof, and which shall have remained unclaimed for more than twenty years from the date of such deposit shall be paid, together with the interest accumulated thereon, to the state treasurer, to be held and used by him according to law, subject to be repaid to the person having and establishing a lawful right thereto, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum from the time when it is so paid to said treasurer to the time when it is paid over by him to such person, as hereinafter provided in this section. The registers and the clerks of said courts shall, annually, submit to the attorney general a list of all said deposits over twenty years old, setting forth the docket numbers, the names of the estates, depositors, depositories, the numbers and the balances of any passbooks or other instruments evidencing such accounts.

Any person claiming a right to money deposited with the state treasurer under this section pursuant to a decree of a probate and family court department in any county may establish the same by a petition to the probate and family court department of such county, or if so deposited, pursuant to the order of any other court, by a petition to the superior court department of the trial court under section one of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight; provided, however, that in cases where claims amount to less than fifty dollars each, such claims may be presented to the comptroller of the commonwealth who shall examine the same and allow and certify for payment such as may be proved to his satisfaction.

Section 26. The supreme judicial court or any justice thereof sitting in equity may, on petition of a bank or the board of the bank, approved by the commissioner, approve or order a reduction of the deposit account of each depositor therein whenever the value of its assets is less than the total amount of its deposits so as to divide the loss equitably among said depositors. If thereafter the bank shall realize from said assets a greater sum than was fixed by said order reduction, such excess shall be divided among the depositors whose accounts have been reduced but to the extent of such reduction only; provided, however, that at any time after the entry of a decree approving or ordering such a reduction of deposit accounts, said court or any justice thereof may, by order, finally determine the amount which said depositors are equitably entitled to receive in full settlement of their said deposit accounts and the manner of distribution of said amount.

Section 27. Any bank or federally-chartered bank which accepts deposits for demand deposit or other accounts subject to withdrawal by negotiable or transferable instrument for the purpose of making transfers to third parties shall, if requested by the depositor, return the cancelled negotiable or transferable instruments of such accounts and shall not charge a fee for such return and if any such cancelled instrument becomes lost prior to such return the corporation shall provide, without charge, photostats of such instruments.

Section 28. Any advertisement, within the commonwealth, in a language other than English made by a bank, or federally-chartered bank to aid, promote or assist directly or indirectly any deposit account offered by such bank or federally chartered bank shall state in such other language what language the forms associated with the opening and maintenance of such account are in.

For the purposes of this section, "advertisement" shall mean any commercial message in any newspaper, magazine, leaflet, flyer or catalog, on radio, television or public address system, in direct mail literature or other printed material, on any interior or exterior sign or display, in any window display, in any point-of-transaction literature or price tag which is delivered or made available to a customer or prospective customer in any manner whatsoever.

Section 29. A city, state, county or municipal treasurer or other official or private employer who receives a written request from a pensioner or retiree, shall, at the direction of said pensioner or retiree, forward any payment made under a pension or retirement fund or plan to a bank or federally-chartered bank that shall be designated by said pensioner or retiree. Such payment shall be deposited, with the approval of said pensioner or retiree in his savings or checking account. Such bank or federally chartered bank shall notify promptly the pensioner or retiree of any deposit made pursuant to this section.

Section 30. Any designation of any beneficiary in connection with and as provided by an instrument intended to establish a pension, profit-sharing, or other deferred compensation or retirement plan, trust or custodial account described in one or more of the following sections of the Internal Revenue Code of the United States, and in effect from time to time, shall be effective according to its terms, notwithstanding any purported testamentary disposition allowed by statute, by operation of law or otherwise to the contrary; section four hundred and one (a), section four hundred and one (f), section four hundred and three (b) (7), section four hundred and five (a), section four hundred and eight (a), and section four hundred and eight (h). Nothing in this section is intended to limit, by implication or otherwise, any nonstatutory right of an employee to designate one or more beneficiaries in the employee's interest under any retirement plan not described in this section or under any other employee benefit plan.

Section 31. No bank, federally-chartered bank or other corporation doing a banking business in the commonwealth, in this section called the depository, shall be required to recognize an adverse claim to a deposit standing on his or its books to the credit of or to securities held for the account of any person, except by virtue of the service upon him or it of appropriate process issued by a court of competent jurisdiction in a suit or action to which such person, or his executors or administrators, has been made a party, unless the adverse claimant gives bond satisfactory to the depository and the adverse claimant to hold harmless and indemnify it from any liability, loss, damage, costs and expenses whatsoever on account of such adverse claim, or files with the depository an affidavit setting forth facts showing a reasonable cause for belief that a fiduciary relationship exists between such person and said adverse claimant and that such person is about to misappropriate the deposit or securities in question.

Section 32. Any bank or federally-chartered bank may establish an account to receive deposits from a lessor acting as a trustee for funds received and held by such trustee pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (3) of section fifteen B of chapter one hundred and eighty-six. Such account may be established as required by said section fifteen B for the purpose of holding security deposits taken by a lessor of residential dwelling units owned or managed by said lessor, but the terms of said account shall be such as to place said deposit beyond the claim of a creditor of the lessor, including a foreclosing mortgagee or trustee in bankruptcy, and as will provide for the transfer of said deposit to a subsequent owner of any property for which such security deposit was taken. Interest accruing on said deposit shall be paid to the lessor pursuant to the terms of the deposit. Withdrawals and payments made by the corporation from said account shall discharge the liability of said corporation to all persons.

Section 33. Deposits standing in the individual name of a deceased depositor of a bank or federally-chartered bank shall be paid to his legal representative; provided, however, that if the deposit does not exceed three thousand dollars and there has been no demand for payment for a duly appointed executor or administrator, payment may be made, in the discretion of the treasurer or other duly authorized officer of the bank or federally chartered bank, or pursuant to special vote of its board, after the expiration of thirty days from the death of such depositor, to the surviving husband, wife or next of kin of such deceased, upon presentation of a copy of the death certificate and the surrender of the deposit book or other instrument, if any, evidencing the deposit. Any such bank or federally chartered bank may pay an order, drawn by a person who has funds on deposit to meet the same, notwithstanding the death of the drawer, if presentation is made within thirty days after the date of such order, and at any time if the corporation has not received written notice of the death of the drawer; provided, however, that in either event, that such funds would, on the date of such payment, have been subject to withdrawal by the drawer if living. Payments made under authority of any provision of this section shall discharge the liability of the bank or federally chartered bank to all persons to the extent of such payments.

SECTION 4. Section 5 of said chapter 151B, as most recently amended by section 3 of chapter 463 of the acts of 1976, is hereby further amended by striking out the first and second paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged unlawful practice or alleged violation of clause (e) of section thirty-two of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B or sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A of chapter two hundred and seventy-two may, by himself or his attorney, make, sign and file with the commission a verified complaint in writing which shall state the name and address of the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency alleged to have committed the unlawful practice complained of or the violation of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A which shall set forth the particulars thereof and contain such other information as may be required by the commission. The attorney general may, in like manner, make, sign and file such complaint. The commission, whenever it has reason to believe that any person has been or is engaging in an unlawful practice or violation of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A, may issue such a complaint. Any employer whose employees, or some of them, refuse or threaten to refuse to cooperate with the provisions of this chapter, may file with the commission a verified complaint asking for assistance by conciliation or other remedial action.

After the filing of any complaint, the chairman of the commission shall designate one of the commissioners to make, with the assistance of the commission's staff, prompt investigation in connection therewith. If such commissioner shall determine after such investigation that no probable cause exists for crediting the allegations of the complaint, the commission shall, within ten days from such determination, cause to be issued and served upon the complainant written notice of such determination, and the said complainant or his attorney may, within ten days after such service, file with the commission a written request for a preliminary hearing before the commission to determine probable cause for crediting the allegations of the complaint, and the commission shall allow such request as a matter of right; provided, however, that such a preliminary hearing shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A. If such commissioner shall determine after such investigation or preliminary hearing that probable cause exists for crediting the allegations of the complaint, he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the unlawful practice complained of or the violation of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A by conference, conciliation and persuasion. The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose what has occurred in the course of such endeavors, provided that the commission may publish the facts in the case of any complaint which has been dismissed, and the terms of conciliation when the complaint has been so disposed of. In case of failure so to eliminate such practice or violation, or in advance thereof if in his judgment circumstances so warrant, he shall cause to be issued and served in the name of the commission, a written notice, together with a copy of such complaint, as the same may have been amended, requiring the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency named in such complaint, hereinafter referred to as respondent, to answer the charges of such complaint at a hearing before the commission, at a time and place to be specified in such notice. The place of any such hearing shall be the office of the commission or such other place as may be designated by it. After a determination of probable cause hereunder such commissioner may also file a petition in equity in the superior court in any county in which the unlawful practice which is the subject of the complaint occurs, or in a county in which a respondent resides or transacts business, or in Suffolk county, seeking appropriate injunctive relief against such respondent, including orders or decrees restraining and enjoining him from selling, renting or otherwise making unavailable to the complainant any housing accommodations or public accommodations with respect to which the complaint is made, pending the final determination of proceedings under this chapter. An affidavit of such notice shall forthwith be filed in the clerk's office. The court shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining orders as it deems just and proper. The case in support of the complaint shall be presented before the commission by one of its attorneys or agents or by an attorney retained by the complainant, and the commissioner who shall have previously made the investigation and caused the notice to be issued shall not participate in the hearing except as a witness, nor shall he participate in the deliberations of the commission in such case except when necessary to decide an appeal to the full commission; and the aforesaid endeavors at conciliation shall not be received in evidence. If an investigating commissioner determines that probable cause exists to credit the allegations of a complainant that a respondent has refused to sell, rent or lease, or to negotiate in the sale, rental, or leasing of, housing accommodations or commercial space and if he determines that such respondent is a nonresident of the commonwealth and cannot be personally served with process in the commonwealth, such investigating commissioner may file a petition in equity in the nature of an in rem proceeding seeking appropriate injunctive relief against such property with respect to which a complaint has been made, including orders or decrees restraining and enjoining any sale, rental, lease, or other disposition of such property which would render it unavailable to the complainant pending the final determination of proceedings under this chapter. Such commissioner shall send by registered mail, with return receipt requested, a copy of such petition to the last address of such respondent known to the commissioner. An affidavit of compliance herewith, and the respondent's return receipt or other proof of actual notice, if received, shall be filed in the case on or before the return day of the process or within such further time as the court may allow. A copy of the order or decree of the court running against such property of a nonresident respondent shall be recorded in the registry of deeds in the county wherein such housing accommodations or commercial space is located, and a copy of such order or decree shall be attached in a conspicuous place to the property which has been the subject of a complaint under section four by the sheriff of the county wherein such property is located, or by his authorized agent or employee. Any person purchasing housing accommodations or commercial space, subsequent to the recording of the order or decree in the registry of deeds, shall be, as a matter of law, bound by the terms of any order which the commission has made or may make relating to such property which has been the subject of an order or decree of the superior court. Any person renting or leasing housing accommodations or commercial space subsequent to the attachment of a copy of an order or decree referred to above by the sheriff of the county wherein such property is located or by his authorized agent or employee shall be, as a matter of law, bound by the terms of any order which the commission has made or may make relating to such property. The respondent may file a written verified answer to the complaint and appear at such hearing in person or otherwise, with or without counsel, and submit testimony. In the discretion of the commission, the complainant may be allowed to intervene and present testimony in person or by counsel. The commission or the complainant shall have the power reasonably and fairly to amend any complaint, and the respondent shall have like power to amend his answer. The commission shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity. The testimony taken at the hearing shall be under oath and be transcribed at the request of any party. If, upon all the evidence at the hearing the commission shall find that a respondent has engaged in any unlawful practice as defined in section four or violation of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unlawful practice or violation of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A to take such affirmative action, including but not limited to, hiring, reinstatement or upgrading of employees, with or without back pay, or restoration to membership in any respondent labor organization, as, in the judgment of the commission, will effectuate the purposes of this chapter or of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A, and including a requirement for report of the manner of compliance. Such cease and desist orders and orders for affirmative relief may be issued to operate prospectively. If, upon all the evidence, the commission shall find that a respondent has not engaged in any such unlawful practice or violation of said clause (e) of said section thirty-two or said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing the said complaint as to such respondent. A copy of its order shall be delivered in all cases to the attorney general and such other public officers as the commission deems proper. The commission shall establish rules of practice to govern, expedite and effectuate the foregoing procedure and its own actions thereunder. Any complaint filed pursuant to this section must be so filed within six months after the alleged act of discrimination. The institution of proceedings under this section, or an order thereunder, shall not be a bar to proceedings under said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A, nor shall the institution of proceedings under said sections ninety-two A, ninety-eight and ninety-eight A, or a judgment thereunder, be a bar to proceedings under this section.

SECTION 5. The third paragraph of said section 5 of said chapter 151B, as amended by section 12 of chapter 752 of the acts of 1969, is hereby further amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- If upon all the evidence at any such hearing the commission shall find that a respondent has engaged in any such unlawful practice relative to housing or real estate or violated clause (e) of said section thirty-two it may, in addition to any other action which it may take under this section, award the petitioner damages, not to exceed two thousand dollars, which damages shall include, but shall not be limited to, the expense incurred by the petitioner for obtaining alternative housing or space, for storage of goods and effects, for moving and for other costs actually incurred by him as a result of such unlawful practice or violation; provided, however, that such damages shall not include attorneys' fees.

They shall also include a recommendation as the mode of procurement of such facility, including but not limited to, sequential, construction management, turnkey, design/build procurement, and the phasing of such procurement, including but not limited to approval of design and construction stages as separate or combined phases, which will most efficiently, economically and best serve the interests of the commonwealth. The governor's and the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations' capital facility budget shall include provision for establishment of a design and construction contingency reserve account, the purpose of which shall be to provide monies for the design and construction of capital facility projects by state agencies which, because of unforeseeable circumstances, not within the contemplation of the using or the administering agency, and for justifiable reasons, would cause the project cost to exceed the sums then appropriated or authorized therefor. Allocation of monies from such reserve account shall be made according to the provisions of section two F. Priority in the allocation of monies from such account shall be given to projects for which the delay in seeking monies through the normal capital budget process provided for by this chapter would cause a serious loss in use of the capital facility if it were unavailable when needed or cause a percentage increase in total project cost substantially larger than that for other projects at a comparable stage of progress.

In no case shall a request for monies be made or monies be allocated for projects for which a similar request is currently being considered according to the capital budget process for the current fiscal year provided for by this chapter, or which was so considered during the capital budget process for the previous fiscal year and failed to receive an appropriation or authorization. Further, in no case shall a request for monies be made or monies be allocated if as a result of the review provided for by section two F the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations finds (a) that the proposal for use of such monies will result in a substantial deviation from any study or program for the project most recently approved by him or from any design for the project most recently approved by the administering agency or (b) that the proposal for use of such monies will result in a cumulative increase in the number of gross square feet to be constructed in the project in excess of ten per cent of the number most recently specified in an appropriation or authorization for the project.

Requests for monies from the design and construction contingency reserve account may be made by state agencies which are the using agencies of those projects.

In establishing priorities and procedures for allocation of monies from the design and construction reserve account pursuant to section two F, the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations shall establish specific limits for the amount of money which may be allocated from the account for any particular project, the amount which may be allocated for the construction of any particular project excluding price inflation contingencies, and the amount which may be allocated for the construction of any particular project for price inflation contingencies. In no event shall the cumulative amount allocated from the account to any one capital facility project exceed ten percentum of the total cost specified by the appropriation or authorization for that project.

Chap. 637. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR A TRANSPORTATION DEVELOPMENT AND IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM FOR THE COMMONWEALTH.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide forthwith funds for a comprehensive program of development, construction and improvement of the commonwealth's extensive network of highway, bridge, rail, public transit and transport facilities, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The department of public works, hereinafter referred to as the "department", is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed four hundred and sixty-four million dollars and the metropolitan district commission, hereinafter referred to as the "commission", is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed twenty-seven million seven hundred thousand dollars for the following purposes:

Projects for the laying out, construction, reconstruction, resurfacing, relocation or improvement of highways, bridges, bicycle paths or facilities, parking facilities, auto-restricted zones, scenic easements, grade crossing eliminations and alterations of other crossings, traffic safety devices on state highways and on roads constructed under the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter ninety of the General Laws, highway or mass transportation studies, including without limitation, traffic, environmental or parking studies, establishment of school zones in accordance with section seventeen of said chapter ninety, improvements on routes not designated as state highways without assumption of maintenance responsibilities, and notwithstanding any law to the contrary, to alleviate the contamination of public and private water supplies caused by the storage and use of snow removal chemicals, the storage and use of which is necessary for the purposes of highway safety, and for the relocation of persons, or businesses, or replacement of dwellings or structures, including, without limitation, the provisions of last resort housing under federal law and such functional replacement of structures in public ownership as may be necessary for the foregoing purposes and for relocation benefits equal to those provided for by the policies of the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Act, 42 USC 4601 et seq., PL 90-646, and to sell, at public or private sale, any structure the title to which has been acquired for highway purposes. Funds authorized by this section shall, except as otherwise specifically provided in this act, be subject to the provisions of the first paragraph of section six and sections seven and nine of chapter seven hundred and eighteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six and, notwithstanding any law to the contrary, may be used for the purposes stated in this act in conjunction with funds of cities, towns, and any political subdivision of public agencies and commissions of the commonwealth.

(1) to expend funds made available by this section to acquire from any person land or rights in land by lease, purchase, eminent domain, under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or otherwise for parking facilities adjacent to any public way, to be operated by the department or under contract with any person; and

SECTION 19. Chapter 161A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 23, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 732 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 23. The authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of bonds of the authority for any one or more of the following purposes:

Bonds may be issued for any costs of the foregoing incurred either before or after the issue of the bonds. Bonds issued under any of the foregoing clauses may be issued in sufficient amount to pay the expenses of issue and to establish such reserves as may be required by any applicable trust agreement or bond resolution. No bonds of the authority shall be sold by the authority unless prior to such sale the authority shall have consulted with the finance advisory board established by section ninety-seven of chapter six as to the timing and terms thereof.

The amount of bonds of any such issue outstanding at any time, for the purposes of the above paragraphs and for the purpose of clause A of the second sentence of the first paragraph of section twenty-eight, shall be determined by multiplying the face amount of the bonds of such issue outstanding at such time by a fraction, the numerator of which is the net proceeds of such issue, as determined above, and the denominator of which is the face amount of such issue. For the purpose of determining the amount of bond proceeds expended by the authority for purposes specified by any general or special law heretofore or hereinafter enacted, such proceeds shall in the case of any issue of bonds sold by the authority at the discount be equal to the expenditure of the net proceeds of such issue, as determined above.

Each application or reapplication of the authority for grants from the federal government, whether directly or through an intermediary, shall be filed with the joint legislative committee on transportation at the same time as such application is filed with the federal government. The authority shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and the manner of execution of the bonds, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. All bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Uniform Commercial Code. The bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both, as the authority may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone, and also as to both principal and interest and for the exchange of coupon or registered bonds. Subject to the requirement of consultation with the finance advisory board established by section ninety-seven of chapter six, the authority may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as it may determine to be for the best interests of the authority.

The proceeds of such bonds shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the authority may provide. The authority may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Bonds and bond anticipation notes may be issued under the provisions of this chapter without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required by this chapter. Provisions of this chapter relating to the preparation, adoption or approval of plans, programs, projects, budgets and expenditures shall not affect the issue of bonds and notes and the bonds and notes may be issued either before or after such preparation, adoption or approval.

In addition to the foregoing the authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issue of refunding bonds of the authority for the purpose of refunding any principal, interest and sinking fund requirements on any bond issued by the authority or on any indebtedness assumed by the authority pursuant to law, including payment of any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued, or to accrue to the date of payment or redemption of the bonds or indebtedness being refunded, and any expenses of issuing and refunding bonds. Such refunding bonds may be issued at such time prior to the payment or redemption of the bonds or indebtedness being refunded as the authority may determine to be in the best interests of the authority. The issue of such bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, and the duties of the authority in respect to the same, shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter in so far as the same may be applicable.

While any bonds or notes issued or assumed by the authority remain outstanding, the powers, duties and existence of the authority and the provisions for payments by the commonwealth to the authority shall not be diminished or impaired in any way that will affect adversely the interests and rights of the holders of such bonds or notes. This section shall constitute specific authorization as required by paragraph (k) of section three for the construction of projects of the kind described in paragraph (l) for which not more than fifty-five million dollars of bond proceeds may be expended.

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or the provisions of any bond act or any other general or special law or ordinance of the city to the contrary, whenever the city of Boston has authorized a debt to be incurred under authority of any bond act, any bonds issued by the city to evidence such debt shall be issued and sold by the city in accordance with, and subject to the limitations of, this act. The provisions of this act shall apply to the issuance and sale of all bonds issued by the city under authority of any bond act heretofore enacted and, unless the applicable bond act expressly provides to the contrary, under authority of any bond act hereafter enacted. Provision in any bond act heretofore or hereafter enacted to the effect that bonds issued thereunder by the city shall be issued subject to or in accordance with chapter forty-four of the General Laws shall, for all purposes of such bond act, mean this act. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein shall be construed as affecting the manner of voting and other procedures and limitations relating to the authorization of indebtedness of the city by the city council and mayor provided in section two of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, chapter two hundred and six of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-one or in any bond act.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section sixteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or any provision of any bond act to the contrary, when the city has authorized a debt to be incurred under authority of any bond act, the collector-treasurer of the city, at the request of the mayor, shall issue bonds to evidence such debt in accordance with this act and, where applicable, the bond act. such debt, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the collector-treasurer with the approval of the mayor prior to the issue of the bonds. The bonds of each issue may be issued as serial bonds or term bonds or any combination thereof with such provision, if any, for sinking funds for the payment of bonds as the collector-treasurer may determine with the approval of the mayor. The collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine the form of the bonds, and the interest coupons, if any, to be attached thereto, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of bonds and the place or places of payment of the principal, premium, if any, and interest, which may be any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth.

(c) Bonds of the city issued for different purposes and under different authorizations may be consolidated and issued at the same time or from time to time. The collector-treasurer shall fix the designation of such bonds, which need not refer to any one or more of the purposes for which they are issued or whether such bonds are subject to section ten of chapter forty-four, and shall maintain records showing the portion of each consolidated issue allocable to each authorization, and each such portion shall comply with the maturity requirements applicable thereto as provided in this act.

(d) Bonds of the city shall be signed by the manual or facsimile signatures of the collector-treasurer and city auditor and countersigned by the manual or facsimile signature of the mayor and coupons, if any, appertaining to bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the collector-treasurer. Bonds of the city, other than notes, shall bear thereon the seal of the city or a facsimile thereof. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient as if such officer had remained in office until after such delivery.

(e) Bonds may be issued by the city in bearer or in registered form, or both, and, if notes, may be made payable to bearer or to order, as the collector-treasurer and city auditor, with the approval or the mayor, may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal or interest or both, for the reconversion into coupon bonds at any time prior to maturity of bonds registered as to both principal and interest and for the interchange of registered and coupon bonds. In the discretion of the collector-treasurer and city auditor, the city may also establish and maintain a system of registration for any bonds whereby the name of the registered owner, the rights evidenced by the bonds, the transfer of the bonds and such rights and other similar matters are recorded in books or other records maintained by or on behalf of the city and no instrument evidencing such bond or rights need be delivered to the registered owner by the city. A copy of the books or other records of the city pertaining to any bond registered under such registration system, certified as such by the collector-treasurer or by the agent of the city maintaining such system, shall be admissible before any court of record, administrative body or arbitration panel without further authentication. The collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor and the city auditor, may adopt regulations with respect to the operation of such system.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of section sixteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or any provision of any bond act to the contrary, bonds of the city may be sold in such manner, either at public or private sale and with or without public advertisement prior to sale, for such price, at premium or at discount, at such rate or rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest, as the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may determine. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no bonds shall be sold at a discount from their face amount greater than twenty per cent unless authorized by a two-thirds vote prior to issue of the bonds. For purposes of section ten of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or any other calculation of authorized indebtedness of the city, the amount of any indebtedness authorized by the city under any order of the city council heretofore or hereafter adopted, or in any bond act, shall be deemed to be the principal amount of such indebtedness as determined in accordance with section two of this act, and the collector-treasurer may, subject to the limitations of this section, issue bonds from time to time under such authorization in an aggregate face amount greater than the amount stated in such authorization provided the principal amount of such bonds calculated on the date of their issuance is no greater than the amount provided in the applicable authorization. For purposes of determining the net indebtedness of the city outstanding at any time under any provision of law, the net indebtedness represented by all bonds of the city outstanding shall be equal to the sum of the principal amounts of such bonds as determined in accordance with section two of this act.

(g) Pending delivery of any bonds duly authorized under any bond act, the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons and in such form as the collector-treasurer may determine, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. The collector-treasurer and city auditor may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which have become mutilated or shall have been destroyed, stolen or lost.

(h) The collector-treasurer may, with the approval of the mayor and city auditor, purchase and invite offers to purchase any bonds of the city for the payment of the principal amount of which amounts have been appropriated by the city or are held under a trust or security agreement securing such bonds provided no such purchase shall be made at a price exceeding par or, if such bonds are than subject to redemption, the redemption price thereof unless authorized by a two-thirds vote.

SECTION 4. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of any bond act to the contrary, debts of the city, except as otherwise provided in this act, issued for any work or purpose, other than as provided in section four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and section six of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two, shall be payable within a period not exceeding the greater of (1) the period, if any, specified in the applicable bond act or (2) the useful life of the work or purpose financed by such debt, as determined by the city auditor, or, if incurred to finance more than one work or purpose, the average useful life of the works or purposes financed. The determination of the useful life of a work or purpose by the city auditor shall be conclusive evidence of such useful life and shall be based upon the useful life of such work or purpose used in computing the allowance for depreciation for federal income tax purposes or on any such other method of computation which the city auditor may deem more appropriate in the circumstances. Notes of the city issued under authority of section four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and section six of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall be payable within the periods specified in said sections.

(b) Notwithstanding section nineteen of chapter forty-four or any other general or special law to the contrary, debts of the city, except as otherwise provided in this act, shall be payable by such installment or installments, annual or otherwise, as will extinguish the same at maturity as may be determined by the collector-treasurer with the approval of the city auditor. Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless otherwise provided in the applicable bond act, debts of the city shall be payable, whether by maturity, by mandatory redemption or otherwise, in annual installments of principal, the first installment of principal shall be payable no later than one year after the date of issuance of such debt or one year after the expected completion date of the work or purpose financed by such debt, as determined by the city auditor, whichever date is later, and no installment of principal payable on such debt in any year shall be less than the installment of principal payable on such debt in any subsequent year; provided that the foregoing limitations shall not apply to debt incurred in accordance with section eight of this act or to debt incurred in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section four or in accordance with section ten of this act or to debt incurred under authority of section four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and section six of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two; and provided, further, that any or all of the foregoing limitations may be waived as to any debt of the city prior to issuance thereof by vote of the emergency finance board existing under section forty-seven of chapter ten of the General Laws.

(c) Notwithstanding anything in sections seventeen and seventeen A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws to the contrary, if the city has authorized the issuance of bonds under any bond act, the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may without further authority issue notes in anticipation of the receipt of the proceeds of sale of such bonds. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the maturity date of such notes shall not exceed two years from the date of issue of such notes provided that notes issued for less than two years may be refunded by the issue of other notes maturing no later than two years from the date of issue of the original loan. The second sentence of section seventeen A of said chapter forty-four shall not apply to the city.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act or any other law, whenever the city has authorized the issuance of bonds and the collector-treasurer has determined, with the approval of the mayor, to issue and sell all or a portion of such bonds in denominations of less than five thousand dollars (minibonds), the collector-treasurer may without further authority issue and sell such minibonds payable at such time or times and in such manner, at par or at discount, and upon such terms and conditions, not inconsistent with this act, as he shall determine. Each minibond may provide that it shall be redeemed by or on behalf of the city upon due presentation by an appropriate person on any business day at such price as the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine according to a schedule established with respect to each issue of minibonds prior to the issuance thereof. Minibonds redeemed by or on behalf of the city prior to maturity may be resold by the collector-treasurer with the approval of the mayor and city auditor at prices determined according to such schedule. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no minibond shall mature more than five years after its date and no one sale to a purchaser of minibonds, other than banks or other financial institutions underwriting the sale of minibonds, shall be in an aggregate principal amount equal to or greater than five thousand dollars. The city shall not issue minibonds, except minibonds issued under authority of section four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or section six of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two (mininotes), if following their issuance the aggregate principal amount of all minibonds outstanding, excluding mininotes, would exceed ten per cent of the aggregate principal amount of all bonds of the city outstanding, excluding mininotes and all other temporary loans in anticipation of revenue of the city, calculated as of the date of issue of such minibonds. No more than five million dollars principal amount of minibonds, other than mininotes, shall be issued and sold by the city in any one fiscal year. The aggregate principal amount of mininotes of the city outstanding at any one time shall not exceed five per cent of the real and personal property tax levy for the immediately preceding fiscal year. The collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor and city auditor, may adopt regulations with respect to the issuance and sale of minibonds and mininotes. The facsimile signatures of the mayor, collector-treasurer and city auditor on minibonds and mininotes shall have the same validity and effect as their manual signatures and no minibond or mininote need bear the manual signature of such officers or of any trustee or other authenticating agent.

SECTION 6. (a) Except as otherwise provided in section eight of this act or in the applicable bond act, all bonds of the city shall be general obligations of the city for which its full faith and credit are pledged and for the payment of which all taxable property in the city shall be subject to ad valorem taxation without limit as to rate or amount except as otherwise provided by law.

(b) The auditor of the city, in accordance with section sixteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, shall annually notify the assessors of the city of the amount of debt and interest charges matured and maturing during the next fiscal year on all debt of the city, other than debt issued in accordance with section eight of this act, and what provision, if any, has been made for the payment of such debt and interest, and said assessors shall include the amount of such debt and interest not otherwise provided for in the tax levy of that year notwithstanding any limit provided by law on the total taxes assessable by the city for such year; provided inclusion of any such amount in the levy of any year shall not operate to increase the amount otherwise available within any limits thereon to meet other appropriations of the city. The auditor of the city shall also annually notify the assessors of the amount required in the next fiscal year to pay the cost, not otherwise provided for, of the annual audit of the accounts of the city and its related parties in accordance with section fourteen of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two and said assessors shall include the amount of such cost not otherwise provided for in the tax levy of that year. Such authority and obligations imposed on the city auditor under section twenty-three of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine shall be applicable to all entities and parties included in the annual audit of the accounts of the city and its related parties in accordance with section fourteen of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two.

SECTION 7. In the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor, when authorized by a two-thirds vote, bonds issued by the city under authority of any bond act, including bonds issued in accordance with section eight of this act, may be issued with such terms as will cause the interest thereon to be subject to federal income taxation.

SECTION 8. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section six of this act, in the discretion of the collector-treasurer, when authorized by a two-thirds vote, bonds of the city duly authorized in accordance with law to finance all or any part of the cost of any revenue producing facility may be issued and sold by the city as special obligation bonds payable solely from facility revenues pledged to their payment in accordance with section nine of this act. Bonds of the city issued in accordance with this section shall not be deemed to be a pledge of the full faith and credit of the city or payable out of any receipts of real and personal property taxes. Every such bond shall recite on its face that it is a special obligation bond payable solely from facility revenues pledged for its repayment. Such bonds shall not at any time be included in the debt of the city for the purpose of ascertaining its legal borrowing capacity.

(b) Bonds of the city issued in accordance with this section shall bear such terms and conditions and shall be sold in such manner, not inconsistent with this act, as the collector-treasurer and city auditor with the approval of the mayor shall determine. Such bonds shall be payable in such amount or amounts and at such time or times, not in excess of the maximum period provided in paragraph (a) of section four, as the collector-treasurer and city auditor with the approval of the mayor shall determine.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections seventeen and seventeen A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, if the city has authorized the issuance of bonds in accordance with this section, the collector-treasurer and city auditor with the approval of the mayor may without further authority issue notes in anticipation of such bonds pursuant to paragraph (c) of section four of this act. The maturity date of any such notes shall not exceed three years from the date of issue of such notes or six months after the date of completion of the revenue producing facility, as determined by the city auditor, whichever date is later, provided that notes issued to mature earlier than such date may be refunded by other notes maturing no later than three years from the date of issue of the original loan or six months after the completion date of the facility, whichever date is later.

SECTION 9. (a) In the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor, when authorized by a two-thirds vote, bonds of the city issued under any bond act may be secured by one or more trust or security agreements between the city and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the commonwealth, or directly between the city and the lenders on such bonds. Any such trust or security agreement shall be in such form as determined by the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, and shall be executed by the collector-treasurer and city auditor and countersigned by the mayor.

(b) Any trust or security agreement directly or indirectly securing bonds, other than bonds issued in accordance with section eight of this act, may, in addition to other security provided by law, pledge or assign, and create a security interest in, all or any part of the revenue of the city. A trust or security agreement securing bonds issued in accordance with section eight of this act may pledge or assign, and create a security interest in, all or any part of the facility revenues derived from the revenue producing facilities finance by such bonds or derived from any other revenue producing facility of the city, but shall not otherwise pledge or assign any other revenues of the city. Any trust or security agreement may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the lenders as may be reasonable and not in violation of law, including, without limitation, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof, which may include the acceleration of maturities, and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the city in relation to the custody, safeguarding, investment and application of moneys, the issue of additional and refunding bonds, the establishment of reserves, the establishment of sinking funds for the payment of bonds, and the use of surplus bond proceeds and revenues. A trust or security agreement securing bonds issued in accordance with section eight hereof may also include covenants and provisions regarding the acquisition, construction, operation and carrying out of the revenue producing facilities financed by such bonds or the facility revenues from which secure the same, the fixing and collection of facility revenues and the making and amending of contracts relating thereto.

(c) In the discretion of the collector-treasurer and mayor when authorized by a two-thirds vote, bonds issued under any bond act may be issued in the form of lines of credit or other banking arrangements and under such terms and conditions, not inconsistent with this act, and under such agreements with the purchasers or makers thereof, as the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, may determine. In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds issued by the city under any bond act may be secured, in whole or in part, by insurance or by letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities issued to the city by any bank, trust company or other financial institution, within or without the commonwealth, and the city may pledge or assign any of its revenues or facility revenues, as appropriate, as security for the reimbursement by the city to the issuers of such letters or lines of credit, insurance or credit facilities of any payments made thereunder.

(d) It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company to act as a depository or trustee of the proceeds of bonds, revenue or other moneys under any such trust or security agreement and to furnish such indemnification or to pledge such securities and issue such letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities as may be required by the city. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust or security agreement may be treated as a cost of issuance hereunder. Any such trust or security agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders. Any pledge of revenue made by the city under the provisions of this act shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected for the purpose of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws and other laws from the time when such pledge is made. The revenue, moneys, rights and proceeds so pledged and then held or thereafter acquired or received by the city shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act, and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the city, regardless of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the trust agreement nor any other agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the city clerk and no filing need be made under the provisions of said chapter one hundred and six.

(e) Any holder of a bond issued by the city under the provisions of this act or of any of the coupons appertaining thereto and any trustee under a trust or security agreement securing the same, except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by such trust agreement, may bring suit upon the bonds or coupons and may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceeding for legal or equitable relief, including, in the case of bonds issued in accordance with section eight of this act, proceedings for the appointment of a receiver to take possession and control of the revenue producing facilities financed by such bonds or the facility revenues from which secure the same, to operate and maintain the same, to make any necessary repairs, renewals and replacements in respect thereof and to fix, revise and collect fees and charges, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under such trust agreement or other agreement, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this act or by such trust agreement to be performed by the city or by any officer thereof.

(f) A pledge of revenue in accordance with this act shall constitute a sufficient appropriation thereof for the purposes of any provision for appropriation for so long as such pledge shall be in effect and, notwithstanding section thirty-one C of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine or any other general or special law to the contrary, such revenues may be applied as required by the pledge and the trust or security agreement evidencing the same without further appropriation.

SECTION 10. Notwithstanding the provisions of section six A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or section three of chapter seventy-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five or any other provision of law to the contrary, if the city has an agreement with any governmental unit whereby said governmental unit has agreed to provide to the city a grant or other aid or contribution to defray all or any part of the cost of any work or purpose undertaken by the city, for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to meet such cost prior to receipt of such grant, aid or contribution, the collector-treasurer, with the approval of the mayor and city auditor, may incur debt outside the debt limit of the city and issue notes therefor to an amount not exceeding the amount of the grant, aid or contribution as shown by the agreement. The issue of such notes shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of bonds other than temporary notes as the same may be applicable provided that notes so issued, and renewals thereof, shall mature no later than six months after the expected date of final receipt of such grant, aid or contribution, as determined by the city auditor, but in no event later than five years from their dates. The proceeds of such grant, aid or contribution shall be applied to the discharge of the loan without the necessity of further appropriation.

SECTION 11. (a) In addition to any other authority provided by law, if the city has voted to undertake any work for the payment of all or any part of the cost of which it is authorized by law to incur debt and issue bonds, in lieu of issuing bonds for all or part of such cost, the city, acting by or through the board, commission or other officer of the city having the care, custody or control of such work, may, when authorized by a two-thirds vote, enter into lease, purchase, installment sale, lease-purchase, sale and leaseback or other similar agreements with any person, public or private, in order to acquire or otherwise carry out such work. Any such agreement and the obligations of the city thereunder shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to bonds as the same may be applicable including, without limitation, the provisions of section eight relative to bonds issued to finance revenue producing facilities. In addition to execution by any other person required by law, any such agreement shall be signed by the collector-treasurer and city auditor and countersigned by the mayor. Notwithstanding the provisions of section three or section four of chapter forty of the General Laws, any such agreement may be for such term and may include such provisions, consistent with this act, as the signing officers may determine, provided that the maximum term of any such agreement, and all renewals thereof, shall not exceed the maximum term permitted by this act for the bonds that could have been issued for the applicable work. In connection with any such agreement the city may also mortgage, grant a security interest in, or otherwise encumber any real or personal property acquired by the city thereunder or leased by the city in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. The provisions of paragraph (e) of section one of chapter four hundred and seventy-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-six shall not apply to any such agreement or to any lease or sale of real property in connection therewith made in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. Except as provided in section eight of this act or in the applicable agreement, any agreement entered into by the city in accordance with this section shall constitute a general obligation of the city for which its full faith and credit are pledged and rentals and other payments to be made by the city thereunder shall for all purposes of law, including without limitation chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, be treated as payments on a debt of the city.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of sections thirty-one, thirty-one A and thirty-one B of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine or any other general or special law to the contrary, in connection with any agreement authorized by the city pursuant to this section, the city may, when authorized by a two-thirds vote, lease to the lessor or seller of the work to be provided under such agreement for a term not exceeding the term of such agreement, or sell, transfer or otherwise convey to such person, in either case with or without public auction and for such consideration, if any, as may be provided in such vote, any real property owned by the city, other than parks and playgrounds, or any interest therein or in the air space above, within or contiguous to such real property, whether then used for the same municipal purpose as the work to be provided under such agreement or otherwise and whether then improved or unimproved, provided that any such agreement shall require that upon expiration of such agreement and all renewals thereof title to the real property so leased, sold, transferred or otherwise conveyed, and to all improvements thereon, shall either revert to the city or may be repurchased by the city at its option for a price no greater than the fair market value of such property and improvements at the date of such expiration as determined by independent appraisal of the premises. Any lease, sale, transfer or conveyance of real property in accordance with this section may be made by the city subject to the rights of any lessee or other owner of any interest in the real property or, prior to such lease, sale, transfer or conveyance, the city may acquire such interest and, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter four hundred and seventy-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-six, terminate such rights, by purchase, gift or devise or by the exercise of eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A of the General Laws, provided no right or interest of the federal government, the commonwealth, the Boston Redevelopment Authority or the Boston Housing Authority shall be so acquired or terminated without its consent.

SECTION 12. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, the proceeds of sale of any bonds of the city, including premiums but excluding accrued interest, shall, subject to any agreement securing the bonds and except as otherwise provided in the applicable bond act, be applied to the work or purpose for which authorized, including without limitation payment of the costs of such work or purpose, costs of issuance, such reserves as may be required by any agreement securing such bonds and, if such bonds are issued to pay the cost of a revenue producing facility, interest prior to and during the acquisition and construction of the revenue producing facility and for a reasonable time, not in excess of six months, thereafter. Any accrued interest received upon the sale of bonds shall be applied to the first interest payable thereon.

(b) Subject to any agreement securing bonds and except as otherwise provided in the applicable bond act, if any part of the proceeds of sale of any bonds remains unexpended after the work or purpose for which such bonds were issued is completed, or if such work or purpose is not completed and the city by a two-thirds vote has voted to abandon such work or purpose and no liability remains outstanding and unpaid on account thereof, such proceeds may be applied by the collector-treasurer and city auditor, at the direction of the mayor, to any other work or purpose for which a loan has been authorized for a term equal to or longer than the term of such bonds but only to the extent that the loan has not been incurred and provided that the total amount expended pursuant to such loan authorization shall not exceed the amount of the authorization, or may be appropriated by the city to pay the principal, premium or interest on such bonds or on any other debt of the city or to any other purpose for which a loan may be incurred for a term equal to or longer than the term of such bonds, but may not be applied or appropriated to any other purpose.

(c) Subject to any agreement securing bonds, the collector-treasurer and city auditor, when directed by the mayor, may use for any appropriation to be met by a loan not yet incurred any moneys in the city treasury raised by a loan not then required to pay all or any part of the cost of the work or purpose for which borrowed, the moneys so used to be replaced upon the issuance of the loan to fund such appropriation.

SECTION 13. In addition to authority otherwise granted by law, the city may, when authorized by a two-thirds vote, issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying any of its bonds outstanding under any bond act at or prior to maturity or upon acceleration or redemption. Refunding bonds may be issued at such times prior to the maturity or redemption of the refunded bonds as the collector-treasurer and mayor deem to be in the best interest of the city. The refunding bonds may be issued in sufficient amounts to pay or provide for the principal of the bonds being refunded, together with any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment of such bonds, the costs of issuance of the refunding bonds, the costs of redeeming the bonds being refunded and such reserves as may be required by any agreement securing the refunding bonds. The issue of refunding bonds, the maturity or maturities and other details thereof, the security therefor, and the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties and obligations of the city in respect of the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of bonds other than refunding bonds insofar as the same may be applicable; provided that the refunding bonds shall be payable no later than the last date on which any portion of the bonds being refunded are payable or within the remaining useful life of the work or purpose financed by the refunded bonds, as determined by the city auditor, whichever is later. Refunding bonds issued in accordance with this section shall be subject to the same limit of indebtedness, if any, as the bonds refunded; provided, however, that upon the issuance of the refunding bonds the bonds refunded shall no longer be counted in determining any limit of indebtedness of the city. Section twenty-one A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws shall not apply to the city.

SECTION 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-five of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, but subject to any agreement securing bonds, funds over which the city has exclusive control, including without limitation the proceeds of bonds, revenues pledged for the payment of bonds and other revenue cash of the city, may be invested by the collector-treasurer in any investments which are legal investments for funds of the commonwealth under chapter twenty-nine or chapter thirty-two of the General Laws. For the purpose of providing for the payment of the principal, premium and interest due on bonds of the city, the city may keep on deposit in any national bank or trust company in any city or town, within or without the commonwealth, where such principal, premium or interest is payable, in addition to any amounts required to be held on deposit therein under any trust or security agreement securing bonds, a sum not exceeding in the aggregate the amount of principal, premium and interest due on such bonds during the next succeeding three months.

SECTION 15. Bonds of the city issued under authority of any bond act are hereby made securities in which all insurance companies, trust companies, banking associations, savings banks, cooperative banks, investment companies, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons whatsoever who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or notes or other obligations of a similar nature may properly and legally invest funds, including capital, deposits or other funds in their control or belonging to them. Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the commonwealth now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

SECTION 16. Bonds of the city issued under authority of any bond act, their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall be at all times free from taxation within the commonwealth whether or not any such bond shall so provide on its face.

SECTION 17. Bonds of the city may be issued under any bond act as herein provided without the consent of any department, division, commission or agency of the commonwealth and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things other than those consents, proceedings, conditions or things expressly required therefor herein or in the applicable bond act, and the validity of and security for any such bonds shall not be affected by the existence or nonexistence of any such consent or other proceedings, conditions or things.

SECTION 18. Section seven of chapter four hundred and eighteen of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety, chapter ninety-three of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-one, chapter one hundred and ninety-two of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-three, chapter one hundred and sixty-three of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-six, chapter four hundred and seventy-one of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, chapter one hundred and ninety-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and three, section twenty-six of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, chapter fifty-two of the special acts of nineteen hundred and eighteen, chapter one hundred and seventy-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight and chapter one hundred and seventy-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two are hereby repealed.

SECTION 19. The foregoing provisions of this act shall be deemed to provide an additional and alternative means for the doing of things authorized hereby, and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to, and not in derogation of, powers conferred upon the city by other laws, provided that if any provision of this act shall be contrary to or conflict with any provision of any other general or special law or any ordinance of the city in any circumstances, the provision of this act shall control in such circumstances.

SECTION 20. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any provision hereof shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or circumstances. This act shall be construed in all respects so as to meet all constitutional requirements. In carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act, all steps shall be taken which are necessary to meet constitutional requirements whether or not such steps are required by statute.

SECTION 21. This act shall take effect as of January second, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section seventy-five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, if any portion of the real or personal estate of a person, to an amount not less than one hundred dollars and liable to taxation, has been omitted from the annual assessment of taxes for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three by the town of Warwick, the assessors for said town shall, at such time as the commissioner of revenue may in writing approve, but not later than December thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, assess such person for such estate. The assessors of said town shall also deliver to the collector their warrants for the collection of all taxes so entered on the tax list. Such additional assessment shall not render the tax of said town invalid although its amount, in consequence thereof, shall exceed the amount authorized by law to be raised.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 20, 1983.

Chap. 645. AN ACT REQUIRING THE PAYMENT OF INTEREST ON RENT COLLECTED IN ADVANCE FOR THE LAST MONTH OF TENANCY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Clause (a) of subsection (2) of section 15B of chapter 186 of the General Laws, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 553 of the acts of 1978, is hereby amended by adding the following ten sentences:- If said rent for the last month of tenancy is held for a period of one year or longer from the commencement of the term of tenancy, then the landlord shall, beginning with the first day of the tenancy, pay interest at the rate of five per cent per year, payable to the tenant at the end of each year of such tenancy. Such interest shall be paid over to the tenant each year as provided in this clause; provided, however, that in the event that the tenancy is terminated before the anniversary date of such tenancy, the tenant shall receive all accrued interest within thirty days of such termination. Interest shall not accrue for the last month for which the rent was paid in advance. Any rent collected in advance by such lessor shall be held in a separate interest-bearing account in a bank located within the commonwealth under such terms which place such rent beyond the claim of creditors of the lessor, including a foreclosing mortgagee or trustee in bankruptcy, and which provides for its transfer to a subsequent owner of said property. A receipt shall be given to the tenant within thirty days after such rent is received by the lessor and such receipt shall contain the name and location of the bank in which such rent has been deposited, the account number and the amount of said rent. Failure to comply with this subsection shall entitle the tenant to immediate return of the rent. At the end of each year of a tenancy, such lessor shall deliver to the tenant from whom rent in advance was collected a statement which shall indicate the name and address of the bank in which said advance payment has been placed, the amount of the deposit, the account number, and the amount of interest payable by such lessor to the tenant. The lessor shall at the same time deliver to each such tenant the interest which is due or shall notify the tenant that he may deduct the interest from the next rental payment of such tenant. If, after thirty days from the end of each year of the tenancy, the tenant has not received such notice of payment, the tenant may deduct from his next rent payment the interest due. Said rent collected in advance shall continue to be the property of the tenant making such rent payment, shall not be commingled with the assets of the lessor, and shall not be subject to the claims of any creditor of the lessor or of the lessor's successor in interest, including a foreclosing mortgagee or trustee in bankruptcy; provided, however, that the tenant shall be entitled only to such interest as provided in this clause.

SECTION 2. Said section 15B of said chapter 186 is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (5), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(5) Whenever a lessor who receives a security deposit or rent in advance for the last month of tenancy transfers his interest in the dwelling unit for which the security deposit or rental advance is held, whether by sale, assignment, death, appointment of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, or otherwise, the lessor shall transfer such security deposit or rental advance together with any interest which has accrued thereon for the benefit of the tenant who made such security deposit or rental advance to his successor in interest, and said successor in interest shall be liable for the retention and return of said security deposit or rental advance in accordance with the provisions of this section from the date upon which said transfer is made; provided, however, that the granting of a mortgage on such premises shall not be a transfer of interest. The successor in interest shall, within forty-five days from the date of said transfer, notify the tenant who made such security deposit or rental advance that such security deposit or rental advance was transferred to him and that he is holding said security deposit or rental advance. Such notice shall also contain the lessor's name, business address, and business telephone number, and the name, business address, and business telephone number of his agent, if any. Said notice shall be in writing.

Upon such transfer, the lessor or his agent shall continue to be liable with respect to the provisions of this section until:

(a) there has been a transfer of the amount of the security deposit or rental advance so held to the lessor's successor in interest and the tenant has been notified in writing of the transfer and of the successor in interest's name, business address, and business telephone number;

(b) there has been compliance with this clause by the successor in interest; or

(c) the security deposit or rental advance has been returned to the tenant.

In the event that the lessor fails to transfer said security deposit or rental advance to his successor in interest as required by this subsection the successor in interest shall, without regard to the nature of the transfer, assume liability for payment of the security deposit or rental advance to the tenant in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that if the tenant still occupies the dwelling unit for which the security deposit or rental advance was given, said successor in interest may satisfy such obligation by granting the tenant free occupation and use of the dwelling unit for a period of time equivalent to that period of time for which the dwelling unit could be leased or occupied if the security deposit were deemed to be rent or for a period of one month in the case of a rental advance. The liability imposed by this paragraph shall not apply to a city or town which acquires title to property pursuant to chapter sixty or to a foreclosing mortgagee or a mortgagee in possession which is a financial institution chartered by the commonwealth or the United States. The term "rent", as used in the preceding sentence, shall mean the periodic sum paid by the tenant for the use and occupation of the dwelling unit in accordance with the terms of his lease or other rental agreement.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 128 is hereby amended by inserting after section 101 the following fourteen sections:-

Section 102. It is hereby declared that the marketing of fresh and processed apples in this commonwealth in excess of reasonable and normal market demands therefor, disorderly marketing of such apples, improper preparation for market and lack of uniform grading and classification of such apples, unfair methods of competition in the marketing of such apples and the inability of individual producers to develop new and larger markets for them, result in an unreasonable and unnecessary economic waste of the agricultural wealth of this commonwealth. Such conditions and the accompanying waste jeopardize the future continued production of adequate food supplies for the people of the commonwealth and other states. These conditions vitally concern the health, safety and general welfare of the people of this commonwealth.

It is therefore declared the legislative purpose and the policy of this commonwealth:

(a) to enable apple producers of this commonwealth, with the aid of the commonwealth, more effectively to correlate the marketing of their apples with market demands therefor;

(b) to establish orderly, efficient and equitable marketing of apples;

(c) to provide for uniform grading and proper preparation of apples for market;

(d) to provide methods and means for the development of new and larger markets for fresh and processed apples produced in this commonwealth;

(e) to eliminate or reduce the economic waste in the marketing of fresh and processed apples.

Section 104. Pursuant to section two of this chapter, and in order to promote and develop the agricultural resources of the commonwealth and encourage the marketing of fresh and processed apples, and to effectuate the declared policy of this chapter, the commissioner may, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, approve marketing agreements, which marketing agreements shall thereupon be binding upon the signatories thereto exclusively.

Section 105. The commissioner may make and issue marketing orders, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, subject to

(2) approval of not less than fifty-one per cent of the producers participating in a referendum vote, and having marketed not less than sixty-five per cent of the total quantity of apples marketed in the next preceding marketing season by all producers that voted in the referendum.

The commissioner may, and upon written petition duly signed by at least twenty-five per cent of the affected producers shall amend or terminate such order after due notice and opportunity for hearing, but subject to the approval of at least fifty-one per cent of such producers paticipating in a referendum vote.

Section 106. With respect to any marketing order or marketing agreement implemented under the provisions of sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen of this chapter, the commissioner shall prepare a budget of the administration and operating costs and expenses, including advertising and sales promotion, of such order or agreement, which shall be funded solely by assessments authorized under section one hundred and seven of this chapter. In implementing any such marketing order or agreement, the commissioner shall confer and cooperate with the legally constituted authorities of other states and the federal government involved in the promotion and marketing of apples and apple products.

Section 107. Said assessments shall be established in an amount sufficient to fund the necessary costs and expenses involved in the implementation of such order or agreement, but shall in no event exceed five per cent of the gross dollar volume of apple sales or amount of apples handled by the person subject to the assessment. Funds so collected by the commissioner shall be held in trust in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and thirteen of this chapter and shall be expended in accordance with the budget adopted by the commissioner under section one hundred and six of this chapter.

Section 108. Any marketing agreement or order issued by the commissioner pursuant to said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen shall be limited to the following:

(a) provisions for the establishment of uniform grading, standards, and inspection of any apples delivered by producers or other persons to handlers, processors, distributors or others engaging in the handling thereof, and for the establishment of grading or standards of quality, condition, size, maturity or pack for any apples, and the inspection and grading of such apples, in accordance with such grading or standards so established; and for provisions that no producer, handler processor or distributor of any fresher processed apples for which grading or standards are so established may, except as otherwise provided in such marketing agreement or order; sell, offer for sale, process, distribute or otherwise handle any such apples, whether produced within or without this commonwealth, not meeting and complying with such established grading or standards. For the purposes of this article, the federal and state inspection service shall perform all inspections made necessary by such provisions.

Section 109. The commissioner may temporarily suspend the operation of an effective marketing order or agreement for a continuing period of not longer than one growing and marketing season, found by the commissioner after due notice and an opportunity for a hearing to be unnecessary during such season to fulfill the policy and purposes of said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen.

Section 110. In carrying out the purposes of said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen, the commissioner may take into consideration any and all facts available to him with respect to the following economic factors:

(b) the quantity of such fresh and processed apples normally required by consumers;

(c) the cost of producing such fresh and processed apples;

(d) the purchasing power of consumers;

(e) the level of prices of commodities, services and articles which the farmers commonly buy;

(f) the level of prices of other commodities which compete with or are utilized as substitutes for such fresh and processed apples.

Section 111. The execution of one or more marketing agreements pursuant to section one hundred and four of this chapter shall in no manner affect the issuance, administration or enforcement of any marketing order provided for in said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen. The commissioner may issue such marketing order without executing a marketing agreement or may execute a marketing agreement without issuing a marketing order covering the same fresh or processed apples. The commissioner, in his discretion, may hold a concurrent hearing upon a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed marketing order after giving due notice and opportunity for hearing.

Section 112. Prior to the issuance, amendment or termination of any marketing order pursuant to section one hundred and five of this chapter, the commissioner may require the applicants for such issuance, amendment or termination to deposit with him such amount as he may deem necessary to defray the expenses of preparing and making effective, amending or terminating a marketing order. Such funds shall be received, deposited and disbursed by the commissioner in the same manner as assessments received by him under section one hundred and thirteen of this chapter. In the event the application for adoption, amendment or termination of a marketing order is approved in a referendum, the commissioner shall reimburse any such applicant on a pro rata basis, up to the amount of any such deposit, to the extent that any unexpended monies collected under such marketing order remain in the trust fund established under section one hundred and thirteen of this chapter with respect to such order.

Section 113. Any assessments collected by the commissioner pursuant to section one hundred and seven of this chapter shall not be deemed state funds, but shall be deemed to be held pursuant to section four of this chapter by the commissioner, as trustee, in trust for and on behalf of all persons from and on behalf of whom assessments therefor were collected, allocated to each marketing order or agreement under which they are collected, and shall be disbursed by the commissioner only for the necessary expenses incurred by the commissioner with respect to each such separate marketing order or agreement, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commissioner.

Any moneys remaining in such fund allocable to any assessments for fresh or processed apples affected by a marketing order or agreement may, in the discretion of the commissioner, be refunded at the close of any marketing season on a pro rata basis to all persons from whom assessments therefor were collected or, whenever the commissioner finds that such moneys may be necessary to defray the cost of operating such marketing order or agreement in a succeeding marketing season, he may carry over all or any portion of such moneys into the next such succeeding season.

Upon the termination by the commissioner of any marketing order or agreement, all moneys remaining and not required by the commissioner to defray the expenses of operating such marketing order or agreement shall be refunded by the commissioner upon a pro rata basis to all persons from whom assessments therefor were collected; provided, however, that if the commissioner finds that the amounts so refundable are so small as to make impracticable the computation and refunding of such refunds, the commissioner may use such moneys to defray the expenses incurred by him in the formulation, issuance, administration or enforcement of any subsequent marketing order or agreement for fresh or processed apples.

The commissioner shall file an annual report with the clerks of the senate and the house of representatives detailing the activities undertaken, assessments collected and expenditures made in the preceding year with respect to any marketing order or agreement implemented under said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen. All assessments collected and expenditures made with respect to any such marketing order or agreement shall be subject to an annual audit by the auditor of the commonwealth.

Section 114. Any marketing order issued pursuant to said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen shall provide for the establishment of an advisory board, to consist of not less than five members nor more than nine members, to advise the commissioner in the administration of such marketing order in accordance with its terms and provisions. The members of said board shall be appointed by the commissioner from nominations received from the Massachusetts apple industry, including, without limitation, producers, handlers and processors. Nominating procedures, qualifications, and representation on and size of the advisory board shall be prescribed in each marketing order for which such board is appointed. Each advisory board shall be composed of such producers and handlers or processors as are directly affected by the marketing order in such proportion of representation as the order shall prescribe. The commissioner may appoint one person who is neither a producer nor processor nor other handler to represent the department of food and agriculture or the public generally.

No member of an advisory board shall receive a salary, but each shall be entitled to reasonable expenses incurred while engaged in performing his duties herein authorized, which shall be paid from the trust fund established with respect to the marketing order under section one hundred and thirteen of this chapter. The duties and responsibilities of the advisory board shall be prescribed by the commissioner, and he may specifically delegate to the advisory board, by inclusion in the marketing order, all or any of the following duties and responsibilities:-

(a) recommending to the commissioner administrative rules and regulations relating to the marketing order;

(b) recommending to the commissioner such amendments to the marketing order as seem advisable;

(c) preparing and submitting to the commissioner the estimated budget required for the proper operation of the marketing order;

(e) assisting the commissioner in the collection and assembling of information and data necessary to the proper administration of the order;

(f) performing such other duties in connection with the marketing order as the commissioner shall designate.

Section 115. The commissioner may make and promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions and intent of said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen and to enforce the provision of any marketing agreement or order, all of which shall have the force and effect of law.

The commissioner may institute such action at law or in equity as may appear necessary to enforce compliance with any provision of said sections one hundred and two through one hundred and fifteen or any rule or regulation, marketing agreement or order, committed to his administration, and in addition may apply for relief by injunction if necessary to protect the public interest. Costs incurred by the commissioner in such proceedings shall be paid from the trust fund established under section one hundred and thirteen of this chapter with respect to the marketing order or agreement in the proceedings.

The criteria for determining any insignificance shall be established by the commission based upon the impact to the donor basin.

(5) that reasonable instream flow in the river from which the water is diverted is maintained, said reasonable instream flow shall be determined by the commission in making its determination of applicability of the proposed interbasin transfer of water.

The decision of the commission to approve or deny a proposed interbasin transfer shall be determined after at least two public hearings, one of which shall be held in the proposed donor community and one of which shall be held in the receiving community and which shall take place after compliance with said sections sixty-one and sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty. Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court hereby finds and declares that the land in the city of Fall River in the county of Bristol described in section two consists in part of historic flats and historic submerged lands; as a result of its former tidelands status title to said land is subject to the condition subsequent that it be used for a public purpose; the use of said land described in section three assists the economic revival of the city of Fall River and because of the public access provisions provided therein said use promotes the enjoyment of the waterfront by all citizens of the Commonwealth; the loss of public rights from said use are incidental to the public benefits conferred. Any and all rights of the public and of the Commonwealth in and to the historic flats and submerged land within the boundaries of that parcel of land described in section two of this act are declared relinquished and extinguished subject to compliance to the use and conditions set forth in section three.

SECTION 2. This act pertains to a certain parcel of land located in and owned by the city of Fall River in the county of Bristol and consisting of existing solid fill, riprap, bulkheads, and seawalls, the maintenance of which was authorized in license number nine hundred and ninety-five, issued by the department of environmental quality engineering on October twenty-fifth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three. An existing filled area of irregular shape lying at the northerly end of the parcel and southerly of land now or formerly owned by the Point Gloria Building and Development Co.; and Such existing bulkheads, seawalls, and riprap as are shown on said plan in the areas described above.

SECTION 3. The rights of the public and of the Commonwealth in the parcel of land described in section two are relinquished and extinguished subject to the following conditions:

(a) that said land be used for the construction of facilities for residential, commercial or marina uses as approved by the Fall River Redevelopment Authority pursuant to the urban renewal plan, known as the "Central Waterfront Project", developed by said Authority;

(b) that prior to completion of construction of the facilities referred to in clause (a) there be constructed, and thereafter maintained in good repair, by the owner or developer of said land a pedestrian walkway which shall be open to the public and located along the perimeter of said land on the Taunton River, said walkway to be of such dimensions and design as are compatible with the wharf walkway associated with the Heritage State Park of Fall River and such dimensions and design and schedule for construction of said walkway to be subject to approval pursuant to an agreement between said owner or developer, the city of Fall River and the department of environmental management;

(c) that the operation of residential, commercial or marina facilities on said land shall not be detrimental to the public navigation and shall not have an adverse environmental impact on the waters of the Taunton River; and

(d) that in no event shall this act be construed to authorize any dredging or filling in the waters of the Taunton River without approval pursuant to the procedures provided in the General Laws for approval of such activities.

In the event that said conditions are not complied with, the title to said lands shall revert to the status held prior to the effective date of this act. This act shall not be construed to extinguish any rights that the Commonwealth or the public may have in lands lying outside of the property described in section two.

SECTION 4. In the event of a taking by the Commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions of the land described in section two and held in compliance with section three, the measure of damages recoverable by reason of such taking shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws.

Said records and accounts shall be subject to examination by the director of accounts or his agent pursuant to section forty-five of chapter thirty-five of the General Laws.

The county treasurer shall keep a full and accurate account stating when, from or to whom, and on what account money has been paid or received relative to the activities of the commission and the land bank. SECTION 10. There is hereby imposed a fee equal to two per cent of the purchase price upon the transfer of any real property interest in any real property situated in Nantucket county. Said fee shall be the liability of the purchaser of such real property interest, and any agreement between the purchaser and the seller or any other person with reference to the allocation of the responsibility for bearing said fee shall not affect such liability of the purchaser. The fee shall be paid to the Commission, or its designee, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the deed or other instrument evidencing such transfer, if any, and an affidavit signed under oath or under the pains and penalties of perjury by the purchaser or his legal representative, attesting to the true and complete purchase price and the basis, if any, upon which the transfer is claimed to be exempt in whole or in part from the fee imposed hereby. The Commission, or its designee, shall promptly thereafter execute and issue a certificate indicating that the appropriate fee has been paid or that the transfer is exempt from the fee, stating the basis for the exemption. The register of deeds for Nantucket county, and the assistant recorder for the registry district of Nantucket county, shall not record or register, or receive or accept for recording or registration, any deed, except a mortgage deed, to which has not been affixed such a certificate, executed by the commission or its designee. Failure to comply with this requirement shall not affect the validity of any instrument. The commission shall deposit all fees received hereunder with the county treasurer of Nantucket county, as a part of the fund established by section eight. The fee imposed hereunder shall be due simultaneously with the time of transfer of the transfer upon which it is imposed.

SECTION 11. At any time within seven days following the issuance of the certificate of payment of the fee imposed by section ten, the purchaser or his legal representative may return said certificate to the Commission or its designee for cancellation, together with an affidavit signed under oath or under the pains and penalties of perjury that the transfer, with respect to which such certificate was issued, has not been consummated, and thereupon the fee paid with respect to such transfer shall be forthwith returned to the purchaser or his legal representative.

SECTION 12. The following transfers of real property interests shall be exempt from the fee established by section ten. Except as otherwise provided, the purchaser shall have the burden of proof that any transfer is exempt hereunder.

(a) Transfers to the government of the United States, the commonwealth, and any of their instrumentalities, agencies or subdivisions.

(b) Transfers which, without additional consideration, confirm, correct, modify or supplement a transfer previously made.

(c) Transfers made as gifts without consideration. In any proceeds to determine the amount of any fee due hereunder, it shall be presumed that any transfer for consideration of less than fair market value of the real property interests transferred was made as a gift without consideration to the extent of the difference between the fair market value of the real property interests transferred and the amount of consideration claimed by the purchaser to have been paid or transferred, if the purchaser shall have been at the time of transfer the spouse, the lineal descendant, or the lineal ancestor of the seller, by blood or adoption, and otherwise it shall be presumed that consideration was paid in an amount equal to the fair market value of the real property interests transferred, at the time of transfer.

(d) Transfer to the trustees of a trust in exchange for a beneficial interest received by the seller in such trust; distributions by the trustees of a trust to the beneficiaries of such trust.

(e) Transfers by operation of law without actual consideration, including but not limited to transfers occurring by virtue of the death or bankruptcy of the owner of a real property interest.

(f) Transfers made in partition of land and improvements thereto, under chapter two hundred and forty-one of the General Laws.

(g) Transfers to any charitable organization as defined in clause Third of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, or any religious organization, provided that the real property interests so transferred will be held by the charitable or religious organization solely for its public charitable or religious purposes.

(h) Transfers to a mortgagee in foreclosure of the mortgage held by such mortgagee, and transfers of the property subject to a mortgage to the mortgagee in consideration of the forbearance of the mortgagee from foreclosing said mortgage.

(i) Transfers made to a corporation or partnership at the time of its formation, pursuant to which transfer no gain or loss is recognized under the provisions of section three hundred and fifty-one of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

(j) Transfers made to a stockholder of a corporation in liquidation of the corporation, and transfers made to a partner of a partnership in dissolution of the partnership.

(k) Transfers consisting of the division of marital assets under the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter two hundred and eight of the General Laws or other provisions of law.

(l) Transfers of property consisting in part of real property interests situated in Nantucket county and in part of other property interests, to the extent that the property transferred consists of property other than real property situated in Nantucket county; provided that the purchaser shall furnish the Commission with such information as it shall require or request in support of the claim of exemption and manner of allocation of the consideration for such transfers.

(m) The first one hundred thousand dollars of the purchase price of a transfer made to a purchaser who, or whose spouse at the time of transfer, has at no time prior to said transfer owned or possessed any real property interest as defined in section one either within or without Nantucket county; provided that the purchaser intends to make the real property interest which is the subject of the transfer the purchaser's actual domicile within one year of the time of transfer, with the intention to remain permanently or for an indefinite time and without any certain purpose to return to a former place of abode; provided further that in the event of a subsequent transfer within five years of the transfer exempted from the fee under this subsection, other than the transfer of a mortgage to an institutional lender, the fee exempted shall become due, together with accumulated interest and penalties, and in addition to any fee otherwise due as a result of the subsequent transfer. The purchaser shall certify as to the foregoing, and the Commission shall attach to the deed a certificate which shall recite the fact that there is running with the land a lien equal to the amount of the fee exempted plus accumulated interest and penalties until such time as all conditions of this subsection have been met.

SECTION 13. A purchaser who fails to pay all or any portion of the fee established by section ten on or before the time when the same is due shall be liable for the following additional payments in addition to said fee:

(a) Interest: The purchaser shall pay interest on the unpaid amount of the fee to be calculated from the time of transfer at a rate equal to fourteen per cent per annum.

(b) Penalties: Any person who, without fraud or willful intent to defeat or evade a fee imposed by this chapter, fails to pay all or a portion of the fee within thirty days after the time of transfer, shall pay a penalty equal to five per cent of the outstanding fee as determined by the Commission for each month or portion thereof thereafter that the fee is not paid in full; provided, however, that in no event shall the amount of any penalty imposed hereunder exceed twenty-five per cent of the unpaid fee due at the time of transfer. Whenever the Commission determines that all or a portion of a fee due under this chapter was unpaid due to fraud with intent to defeat or evade the fee imposed by this chapter, a penalty equal to the amount of said fee as determined by the Commission shall be paid by the purchaser in addition to said fee.

SECTION 14. (a) The Commission shall notify a purchaser by registered or certified mail of any failure to discharge in full the amount of the fee due under this Act and any penalty or interest assessed. The Commission shall grant a hearing on the matter of the imposition of said fee, or of any penalty or interest assessed, if a petition requesting such hearing is received by the Commission within thirty days after the mailing of said notice. The Commission shall notify the purchaser in writing by registered or certified mail of its determination concerning the deficiency, penalty or interest within fifteen days after said hearing. Any party aggrieved by a determination of the Commission concerning a deficiency, penalty or interest may, after payment of said deficiency, appeal to the district or superior court within three months after the mailing of notification of the determination of the Commission. Upon the failure to timely petition for a hearing, or appeal to said courts, within the time limits hereby established, the purchaser shall be bound by the terms of the notification, assessment or determination, as the case may be, and shall be barred from contesting the fee, and any interest and penalty, as determined by the Commission. All decisions of said courts shall be appealable. Every notice to be given under this section by the Commission shall be effective if mailed by certified or registered mail to the purchaser at the address stated in a recorded or registered instrument by virtue of which the purchaser holds any interest in land, the transfer of which gives rise to the fee which is the subject of such notice; and if no such address is stated or if such transfer is not evidenced by an instrument recorded or registered in the public records in Nantucket county, such notice shall be effective when so mailed to the purchaser in care of any person appearing of record to have a fee interest in such land, at the address of such person as set forth in an instrument recorded or registered in Nantucket county.

(b) All fees, penalties and interest required to be paid pursuant to this chapter shall constitute a personal debt of the purchaser and may be recovered in an action of contract or in any other appropriate action, suit or proceeding brought by the Commission; said action, suit or proceeding shall be subject to the provisions of chapter two hundred and sixty of the General Laws.

(c) If any purchaser liable to pay the fee established by this act neglects or refuses to pay the same, the amount, including any interest and penalty thereon, shall be a lien in favor of the Commission upon all property and rights to property, whether real or personal, belonging to such purchaser. Said lien shall arise at the time of transfer and shall continue until the liability for such amount is satisfied. Said lien shall in any event terminate not later than six years following the time of transfer. Said lien shall not be valid as against any mortgagee, pledgee, purchaser or judgment creditor unless notice thereof has been filed by the Commission (a) with respect to real property or fixtures, in the registry of deeds for Nantucket county, or (b) with respect to personal property, in the office in which a security or financing statement or notice with respect to the property would be filed in order to perfect a nonpossessory security interest belonging to the person named in the relevant notice, subject to the same limitations as set forth in section fifty of chapter sixty-two of the General Laws.

In any case where there has been a refusal or neglect to pay any fee, interest or penalties imposed by this act, whether or not levy has been made, the commission, in addition to other modes of relief, may direct a civil action to be filed in a district or superior court of the commonwealth to enforce the lien of the Commission under this section with respect to such liability or to subject any property of whatever nature, of the delinquent, or in which he has any right, title or interest, to the payment of such liability.

The Commission may issue a waiver or release of any lien imposed by this section. Such waiver or release shall be conclusive evidence that the lien upon the property covered by the waiver or release is extinguished.

SECTION 15. This act shall become effective upon its acceptance by vote of a town meeting of the town of Nantucket on February first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

Each member of the committee shall serve until his successor in office has been appointed and qualified. No member of the committee shall receive any compensation for his services, but each member shall be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in attending the committee meetings.

The provisions of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A shall apply to all members, officers and employees of the committee, except that the committee may provide representation or enter into a contract pursuant to the provisions of sections three or six although a member of the committee may have an interest or involvement in any such matter; provided, however, that such interest and involvement is disclosed in advance to the other members of the committee and recorded in the minutes of the committee; and provided, further, that no member having an interest or involvement in any contract under section three may participate in any particular matter, as defined in section one of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A, relating to such contract.

Section 2. Said definition and standards, and any amendments thereto, shall be subject to the approval of the supreme judicial court and shall be used by the courts of the commonwealth in determining assignment of cases to the committee pursuant to section five. In the formulation of said definition, standards, and procedures, the committee shall consider the reporting system operated by the commissioner of revenue for the purpose of verifying financial eligibility of participants in state or federally funded programs, and its potential applicability to the provision of legal services for indigent defendants. Payment of any reduced fee by an indigent person for the appointment of counsel shall be made to the probation department of the appointing court, and shall be forwarded to the state treasurer who shall deposit such in the general fund.

SECTION 2. Chapter 211D of the General Laws, inserted by section 2 of this act, is hereby amended by adding the following thirteen sections:-

The committee may also establish a system for the provision of counsel in any pre-arraignment procedure. A justice or associate justice shall assign a case to the committee, as hereafter provided, after receiving from the probation officer a written report containing the probation officer's opinion as to the defendant's ability to pay for counsel, based on the standards and procedures provided for in section two.

Section 6. In carrying out its duties as prescribed in section five, the committee shall:

any state, county or local bar association or voluntary charitable group, corporation or association, including bar advocate groups. Said committee may also contract with such other organized groups of attorneys as may be formed to afford representation to indigent defendants and may appoint and compensate private attorneys, on a case-by-case basis, as counsel for indigents entitled to representation. Neither individuals nor members nor participants in any group, corporation or association with whom the committee may contract under this paragraph shall be considered to be or have any rights as state employees.

Chap. 680. AN ACT RELATIVE TO INTERSTATE CHILD CUSTODY PROCEEDINGS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 209A the following chapter:-

CHAPTER 209B.

MASSACHUSETTS CHILD CUSTODY JURISDICTION ACT.

Section 1. As used in this chapter the following words, unless the context requires otherwise, shall have the following meanings:-

"Contestant", a person who claims a legal right to custody or visitation with respect to a child;

"Custody determination", any court order, instruction or judgment, whether temporary or final, providing for the custody of or visitation rights with a child; it shall not be deemed to include any order or judgment concerning other child-related matters except to the extent such order of judgment contains a custody determination as above-stated;

"Custody proceeding", includes proceedings in which a custody determination is one of several issues presented for resolution, such as an action for divorce or separation, guardianship, and care and protection;

"Judgment" or "Custody judgment", a custody determination made in a custody proceeding, and includes an initial judgment and a modification judgment;

"Home state", the state in which the child immediately preceding the date of commencement of the custody proceeding resided with his parents, a parent, or a person acting as parent, for at least 6 consecutive months, and in the case of a child less than 6 months old the state in which the child lived from birth with any of the persons mentioned. Periods of temporary absence of any of the named persons are counted as part of the 6-month or other period;

"Initial judgment", the first custody determination concerning a particular child;

"Modification judgment", a custody determination which modifies or replaces a prior custody determination, whether made by the court which rendered the prior determination or by another court;

"Physical custody", actual possession and control of a child;

"Person acting as parent", a person other than a parent who has physical custody of a child and who has either been awarded custody of a child or claims a legal right to custody and includes an authorized social service agency exercising legal or physical custody of a child; and

"Parent", a biological, foster, or adoptive parent whose parental rights have not previously been terminated;

"State", any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

Section 2. (a) Any court which is competent to decide child custody matters has jurisdiction to make a custody determination by initial or modification judgment if:

(1) the commonwealth (i) is the home state of the child on the commencement of the custody proceeding, or (ii) had been the child's home state within six months before the date of the commencement of the proceeding and the child is absent from the commonwealth beacuse of his or her removal or retention by a person claiming his or her custody or for other reasons, and a parent or person acting as parent continues to reside in the commonwealth; or

(2) it appears that no other state would have jurisdiction under paragraph (1) and it is in the best interest of the child that a court of the commonwealth assume jurisdiction because (i) the child and his or her parents, or the child and at least one contestant, have a significant connection with the commonwealth, and (ii) there is available in the commonwealth substantial evidence concerning the child's present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships; or

(3) the child is physically present in the commonwealth and (i) the child has been abandoned or (ii) it is necessary in an emergency to protect the child from abuse or neglect or for other good cause shown, provided that in the event that jurisdictional prerequisites are not established pursuant to any other paragraph of this subsection and a court of another state shall be entitled to assert jurisdiction under any other subparagraph of this paragraph then a court exercising jurisdiction pursuant to this clause of paragraph (3) may do so only by entering such temporary order or orders as it deems necessary unless the court of the other state has declined to exercise jurisdiction, has stayed its proceedings or has otherwise deferred to the jurisdiction of a court of the commonwealth; or

(4) (i) it appears that no other state would have jurisdiction under prerequisites substantially in accordance with paragraph (1), (2) or (3), or another state has declined to exercise jurisdiction on the ground that the commonwealth is the more appropriate forum to determine the custody of the child, and (ii) it is in the best interest of the child that a court of the commonwealth assume jurisdiction.

(b) Except under subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (a), physical presence in the commonwealth of the child or of the child and one of the contestants, is not alone sufficient to confer jurisdiction on a court of the commonwealth to make a custody determination.

(c) Physical presence of the child, while desirable, is not a prerequisite for jurisdiction to make a custody determination.

(d) A court of the commonwealth shall not exercise jurisdiction in any custody proceeding commenced during the pendency of a proceeding in a court of another state where such court of that state is exercising jurisdiction consistently with the provisions of this section for the purpose of making a custody determination, except in accordance with paragraph (3) of subsection (a), unless the court of the other state shall decline jurisdiction pursuant to paragraph (4) of subsection (a) or shall stay its proceedings or otherwise defer to the jurisdiction of a court of the commonwealth.

(e) If a court of another state has made a custody determination in substantial conformity with this chapter, a court of the commonwealth shall not modify that determination unless (1) it appears to the court of the commonwealth that the court which made the custody determination does not now have jurisdiction under jurisdictional prerequisites substantially in accordance with this chapter or that such court has declined to assume jurisdiction to modify its determination and (2) a court of the commonwealth now has jurisdiction pursuant to this chapter.

Section 3. (a) Every party in any custody proceeding shall state in an affidavit which shall be filed together with his first pleading the following information:-

(1) the child's present address of residence;

(2) each address at which the child has resided during the two years immediately prior to the filing of the instant custody proceeding;

(3) the names and, if known, the current residential addresses or, if unknown, the last and usual residential addresses, of all persons who have been parties to any custody proceedings involving the child during the said two-year period, other than any person whose rights have been terminated in any parental rights termination proceeding, and any other persons who, according to the knowledge and belief of the affiant, claim a legal right to the custody or physical possession of the child; and

(4) whether or not the party knows of or has participated in any prior custody proceeding involving the child in the commonwealth or in any other jurisdiction and the nature of his participation, as party, witness, or in any other capacity, in such prior proceeding.

(b) Unless the same have already been filed by another party, every party in any custody proceeding shall attach to the affidavit a certified copy of each pleading and of any determination entered in any custody proceeding he knows of or has participated in involving the child in the commonwealth or in any other jurisdiction.

(c) The court may examine any one or more of the parties under oath concerning the information required to be furnished under this section and concerning other matters pertinent to any jurisdictional or other issues before the court.

(d) Each party shall amend the affidavit at any time after filing to inform the court of any custody proceeding filed in any jurisdiction after the date of filing of the instant custody proceeding of which the affiant becomes aware after filing the affidavit and shall further amend the affidavit to include the names and addresses, in conformity with paragraph (3) of subsection (a), of any person of whom the affiant becomes aware after filing the affidavit who claims a legal right to the custody or physical possession of the child.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a court may waive disclosure of the present or prior address of the child or of a contestant when such waiver is necessary to protect the child or the contestant from physical or emotional abuse. Application for an order waiving disclosure under this paragraph shall be made upon such notice as the court shall prescribe. The court shall waive disclosure whenever the present or prior address of the child or of a contestant is a shelter for battered persons and their dependent children. The reasons for waiver of any disclosure requirement of this section shall be stated by the court in the record of the custody proceeding.

(f) The court may impose sanctions against any party who fails to act in conformity with this section without leave of court granted for good cause shown.

Section 4. (a) After examination of the pleadings, affidavits, certified copies of the documentation relative to other custody proceedings and such oral testimony as it may require, the court shall determine the proper parties to the custody proceeding.

(b) During the pendency of the proceeding, the court may require the joinder of additional parties and in that event, the court shall specify that such additional parties be served with process in accordance with section five or six, as applicable, or that they be otherwise notified in such manner as the court shall determine.

Section 5. (a) Reasonable notice in conformity with section six and an opportunity to be heard shall be given to the contestants, to any parent whose parental rights have not been previously terminated, to any person acting as parent, and to any other persons designated proper parties by the court pursuant to section four, provided that in the event a court of the commonwealth assumes jurisdiction pursuant to clause (ii) of paragraph (3) of subsection (a) of section two, then the court may waive such notice requirement for such period as may be allowed under applicable court rules.

(b) Any notice shall include the nature of the action, copies of all pleadings filed with the court, and the statement that any person so notified may apply to the court concerning allocation of the costs of those reasonable and necessary expenses to be incurred in connection with the custody proceeding in accordance with applicable sections of this chapter.

Section 6. (a) Notice to a person in the commonwealth shall be given in accordance with the applicable Massachusetts rules of court or in such other manner as is prescribed by law.

(b) Notice required for the exercise of jurisdiction over a person outside the commonwealth shall be given in accordance with the applicable Massachusetts Rules of Court or statute or, in the discretion of the court, in the manner prescribed by the law of the place in which the service is made concerning service of process in an action of its court of general jurisdiction, provided, however, that in no event shall notice under this paragraph be served, mailed, delivered or last published less than twenty days before any custody determination is made in this state, other than a determination made pursuant to clause (ii) of paragraph (3) of subsection (a) of section two.

(c) Proof of service outside the commonwealth may be made by affidavit of the individual who made the service, in accordance with the applicable law or the Massachusetts rules of court, in accordance with the order pursuant to which the service is made, or, in the discretion of the court, otherwise in accordance with the law of the place in which the service is made.

(d) Notice is not required to be given to a contestant who submits to the jurisdiction of the court.

Section 7. (a) A court which has jurisdiction pursuant to section two may decline to exercise its jurisdiction at any time prior to making a custody determination upon finding that its assumption of jurisdiction would be (i) violative of the purposes of this chapter; or (ii) would be based upon the illegal or otherwise wrongful conduct of a party; or (iii) would constitute an inconvenient forum and that a court of another state would constitute a more convenient forum.

(b) A court may decline jurisdiction for any of the reasons set forth in paragraph (a) upon motion of a party or of any representative of the child entitled to appear before the court or upon the court's own motion.

(c) In order to determine whether it is the appropriate forum, a court of the commonwealth may, in its discretion, at any time during the pendency of the custody proceeding, communicate and exchange information with a court or courts of any other relevant jurisdiction.

(d) For the purposes of this section, a court may consider the following factors:

(1) whether another state is or recently was the child's home state;

(2) whether another state has a closer connection with the child and his family or with the child and one or more of the contestants;

(3) whether more substantial evidence concerning the child's present or future care, protection, training, and personal relationships is available or whether such evidence is more readily available in another state;

(4) whether the parties have agreed on another forum which is not less appropriate; and

(5) whether the exercise of jurisdiction by a court of the commonwealth would contravene any of the purposes of this chapter.

(e) If a court shall find that a court of another jurisdiction is or may be a more appropriate forum under the terms of this chapter for the adjudication of the custody proceeding, it may do one or more of the following:

(1) dismiss the proceeding with or without prejudice;

(2) vacate any order or judgment already entered;

(3) stay the proceeding upon condition that a custody proceeding be intitiated or prosecuted in another state in a timely manner or upon any other condition that the court might deem just;

(4) retain jurisdiction over any action to which the custody proceeding is incident, while declining to render a custody determination;

(5) enter such temporary order or orders as may be required, in the court's discretion, pursuant to clause (ii) of paragraph (3) of section two;

(6) assess any or all of the costs of the custody proceeding in this state, having due regard for the purposes of this chapter, including the reasonable travel and other expenses of any party and his or her witnesses, the reasonable attorneys' fees of any party, the costs of the court's communications and information exchanges with other courts and the fees and costs of any person entitled to appear before the court as the representative of a child;

(7) assess sanctions against any party whom the court finds has engaged in illegal or otherwise wrongful conduct;

(8) enter any other order or judgment which may be meet and just under the circumstances of the case.

(f) A court shall communicate to the court of any other relevant jurisdiction any determination or finding made pursuant to this section.

Section 8. (a) The court may order any party to the proceeding who is in the commonwealth to appear personally before the court. If that party has physical custody of the child the court may order that he or she appear personally with the child.

(b) If a party to the proceeding whose presence is desired by the court is outside the commonwealth with or without the child, the court may order that the notice given under section five include a statement directing the party to appear personally with or without the child and declaring that failure to appear may result in a decision adverse to that party.

(c) If a party to the proceeding who is outside the commonwealth is directed to appear under paragraph (b) or desires to appear personally before the court with or without the child, the court may require another party to pay to the clerk or register of the court travel and other necessary expenses of the party so appearing and of the child if this is just and proper under the circumstances.

Section 9. In addition to other procedural devices available to a party, any party to the proceeding or a guardian ad litem or other representative of the child may adduce testimony of witnesses, including parties and the child, by deposition or otherwise, in another state. The court on its own motion may direct that the testimony of a person be taken in another state and may prescribe the manner in which and the terms upon which the testimony shall be taken.

Section 10. (a) A court of the commonwealth may request the appropriate court of another state to hold a hearing to adduce evidence, to order a party to produce or give evidence under other procedures of that state, or to have an investigation made with respect to the custody of a child involved in proceedings pending in the court of the commonwealth; and to forward to the court of the commonwealth certified copies of the transcript of the record of the hearing, the evidence otherwise adduced, or any investigation prepared in compliance with the request. The cost of these services may be assessed against the parties.

(b) A court of the commonwealth may request the appropriate court of another state to order a party to custody proceedings pending in the court of the commonwealth to appear in the proceedings, and if that party has physical custody of the child, to appear with the child. The request may state that travel and other reasonable and necessary expenses of the party and of the child whose appearance is desired may be assessed against another party or may otherwise be paid.

Section 11. (a) Upon request of the court of another state the courts of the commonwealth which are competent to hear custody matters may order a person in the commonwealth to appear at a hearing to adduce evidence or to produce or give evidence under other procedures available in the commonwealth or may order investigations to be made for use in a custody proceeding in another state. A certified copy of the transcript of the record of the hearing or the evidence otherwise adduced and of any investigation shall be forwarded by the clerk or register of the court to the requesting court.

(b). Upon request of the court of another state a competent court of the commonwealth may order a person in the commonwealth to appear alone or with the child in a custody proceeding in another state. The court may condition compliance with the request upon assurance by the other state that travel and other necessary expenses will be advanced or reimbursed.

Section 12. (a) A certified copy of a custody judgment of another state may be filed in the office of the clerk or register of any court of competent jurisdiction in the commonwealth. The clerk or register shall treat the judgment in the same manner as a custody judgment of a court of the commonwealth. A custody judgment so filed has the same effect and shall be enforced in like manner as a custody judgment rendered by a court of the commonwealth.

(b) A person violating a custody judgment of another state the violation of which makes it necessary to enforce the judgment in the commonwealth may be required to pay the reasonable and necessary travel, witness and other expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by the party entitled to custody of the child.

Section 13. In any custody proceeding in the commonwealth the court shall preserve the pleadings, orders and judgments and any record that has been made of its hearings, investigations and other pertinent documents until the child reaches eighteen years of age. Upon appropriate request of the court of another state and receipt of payment therefor the court shall forward to the other court certified copies of any or all of such documents.

Section 14. To the extent that the legal institutions of other nations have rendered custody determinations in substantial conformity with the provisions of this chapter, the courts of the commonwealth shall grant due recognition to such determinations.

SECTION 2. (a) The general purposes of this act are to:

(1) avoid jurisdictional competition and conflict with courts of other states in matters of child custody which have in the past resulted in the shifting of children from state to state with harmful effects on their well-being;

(2) promote cooperation with the courts of other states to the end that a custody judgment is rendered in that state which can best decide the case in the interest of the child;

(3) assure that litigation concerning the custody of a child takes place ordinarily in the state with which the child and his or her family have the closest connection and where significant evidence concerning the child's care, protection, training, and personal relationships is most readily available, and that courts of the commonwealth decline the exercise of jurisdiction when the child and his family have a closer connection with another state;

(4) discourage continuing controversies over child custody in the interest of greater stability of home environment and of secure family relationships for the child;

(5) deter abductions and other unilateral removals of children undertaken to obtain custody awards;

(6) avoid relitigation of custody decisions of other states in the commonwealth insofar as feasible;

(7) facilitate the enforcement of custody decrees of other states rendered in substantial conformity with this act;

(8) promote and expand the exchange of information and other forms of mutual assistance between the courts of the commonwealth and those of other states concerned with the same child; and

(9) increase the uniform application of law with respect to the subject of this act;

(b) This act shall be construed to promote the general purposes stated in this section.

Section 47A. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections six and twenty-eight, an appointment to a position subject to this chapter may be made to a position in the lowest title in a series as determined by the personnel administrator; provided, however, that the appointee has successfully completed a certified work-training program for disadvantaged persons. The executive office of manpower affairs shall be responsible for certifying programs that are state-administered, federally-funded employment and training programs, except for such programs in the employment and training program administered by the department of public welfare which shall be certified by said department, the department of personnel administration shall be responsible for certifying inservice state agency programs; the board of regents shall be responsible for certifying two-year and four-year college training education programs, and the department of education shall be responsible for certifying secondary public schools, vocational schools and other certified education facilities that are work training programs which meet the qualifications and work specifications of the positions and prepare the trainee to perform the duties of said positions, and shall furnish a list of such programs to the personnel administrator; and provided, further that such training programs shall have been advertised to the public and made available to permanent employees of the commonwealth and its political subdivisions who meet the criteria as hereinafter established for disadvantaged persons and shall have been sponsored or conducted by, or in cooperation with, the commonwealth, a political subdivision thereof or the federal government.

When an eligible list exists for the position for which such examination has been given, the personnel administrator shall certify names alternately from such eligible list and such special eligible list; provided, however, that persons on such list shall be grouped according to the provisions of this chapter; and, provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to affect other provisions of this chapter concerning promotional examinations. Names from a departmental promotional list shall be certified before names from a special eligible list.

For the purpose of this section a disadvantaged person shall be a person whose annual family net income, in relation to size and location, does not exceed low-income guidelines established by the federal government, and who is a person lacking a high school education or its equivalent or belonging to a minority group, or under twenty-one years of age or who is forty-five years of age or older, or is handicapped; provided, however, that a permanent state or municipal employee who otherwise meets the foregoing criteria shall not be barred from consideration as a disadvantaged person by reason of his receiving a salary from the commonwealth or its political subdivisions; and provided, further, that a public service employment enrollee who is unsuitably employed as defined by regulations promulgated pursuant to the comprehensive employment and training act or other similarly enacted federally sponsored training programs, shall not be barred from consideration as a disadvantaged person by reason of the amount of his salary.

SECTION 2. Bonds and notes issued under this act shall bear on their face the words, City of Quincy Tax Abatement Funding Loan, Act of 1983. Each issue shall constitute a separate loan and such loans shall be payable in not more than twelve years from their dates. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the initial payment of principal of each loan shall be made not later than two years from the date of the loan and all or any part of the interest accruing on such loan from the date thereof to and including the date of the first payment of principal thereon may, in the discretion of the city treasurer and the mayor, be added to the principal amount of such loan, payable, with interest thereon at the rate or rates provided in such loan, on such date or dates and in such amounts as the city treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, shall determine; provided, however, that no such deferral of interest payments on any loan issued hereunder shall cause the aggregate principal amount of all loans issued hereunder to exceed the amount provided in section one of this act or extend the period within which all such loans must be payable as provided herein.

The maturities of each loan issued in accordance with this act shall be arranged so that, commencing with the first year in which a principal payment is required hereunder, the amounts payable in the several years for principal and interest combined shall be as nearly equal as it is practicable to make them in the opinion of the city treasurer and mayor or, in the alternative, in accordance with a schedule providing a more rapid amortization of principal.

All bonds and notes issued by the city under authority of section one of this act shall be general obligations of the city for the payment of the principal of the interest on which the full faith and credit of the city are pledged and each such bond and note shall contain a statement to that effect.

Indebtedness incurred under authority of section one shall not be included in determining the statutory limit of indebtedness of the city prescribed by section ten of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, but, except as provided herein, shall be subject to the provisions of the city charter of the city applicable to the issuance of bonds and notes and to all other applicable provisions of said chapter forty-four. In the case of such issuance to General Dynamics Corporation no accrued interest from the date of the bonds or notes to the date of delivery thereof need be paid to the city, provided, however, that the delivery date is no more than six months later than the date of the bonds or notes.

Any such trust, fiscal agency or other security agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bond and note holders thereunder, and of any trustee, paying agent, fiscal agent, registrar or transfer agent for such bonds and notes, and may restrict the individual rights of bond and note holders. All expenses incurred by the city in carrying out the provisions of such trust, fiscal agency or other security agreement shall be paid from any available city funds without appropriation. Any such expenses so paid shall be reported by the city auditor to the assessors, who shall include the amount so reported in the aggregate appropriations assessed in the determination of the next subsequent tax tevy, unless the city has otherwise made provision therefor.

Said order shall constitute full authorization for the issuance by the city treasurer and mayor of bonds or notes under authority of section one of this act and no further order shall be required for such issuance.

SECTION 7. The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or circumstances.

Except for ceilings or maximum rates of reimbursement which are determined in accordance with rate determination methods imposed on nursing homes, any ceiling or maximum imposed by the rate setting commission upon the rate of reimbursement to be paid to rest homes shall reflect the actual costs of rest home providers and shall not prevent any such rest home provider from receiving full payment for costs necessarily incurred in the provision of services in compliance with federal or state regulations and requirements.

SECTION 2. The rate setting commission shall redetermine and recertify the rate of payment which has been established, as of the effective date of this act, for every provider of rest home services where the rate initially determined for said provider was limited by a ceiling on rest home rates adopted by the commission by regulation and where the actual costs to said provider were in excess of said ceiling. The provisions of this section shall apply only to rates in effect subsequent to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

(b) Orders relative to such minimum prices shall apply to the locality in which the milk in question is produced or to the market in which such milk is sold, or to both, and may vary in different localities or markets according to the varying and differing conditions therein. Any such order may classify such milk by such forms, classes, grades or uses as the commissioner may deem advisable and may specify the minimum prices therefor, and may require that producers of milk purchased or received under such provisions shall be paid for all such milk on the basis of the class, grade or use in which it is ultimately sold by milk dealers.

(c) Each such order may provide rules and regulations for the sharing of the value of milk sold, used or disposed of in each class, grade or use, between milk dealers who are also producers, and the producers from whom milk is received or purchased by such dealers, in proportion, to their respective deliveries of milk.

SECTION 27. Said chapter 94A is hereby further amended by striking out section 12, as most recently amended by section 4 of said chapter 604, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 12. Upon petition in writing, with an affidavit that it is signed by not less than twenty-five per cent of the Massachusetts producers who, during the month of April in the license year next preceding that in which such petition is filed, produced and delivered milk for sale or distribution as fluid milk in any particular market the boundaries and limits of which shall be set forth in said petition, and which said petition alleges that the price to the producer established under authority of this chapter or by any agreement, license, regulation or order made or issued pursuant to any federal law cannot otherwise be maintained, and further alleging that the maintenance of such price is necessary in order to secure a regular, continuous and adequate supply of fresh, pure milk sufficient to meet the requirements of the market named in said petition and to protect the public health therein, and which petition requests the commissioner to establish minimum prices, wholesale or retail, or both, for milk for such market, and if after making such examination and investigation as is authorized by this chapter or is necessary to ascertain the facts, and after public hearing held after due notice, the commissioner finds at the close of such hearing and investigation that such petition is signed by not less than twenty-five per cent of such producers who, during said month or such subsequent month as the commissioner may find is a more representative period, produced and delivered milk for sale or distribution as fluid milk in said market, that the price to the producer established under authority of this chapter or by any agreement, license, regulation or order made or issued pursuant to any federal law, cannot otherwise be maintained, and that the maintenance of such price is necessary in order to insure a regular, continuous and adequate supply of fresh, pure milk sufficient to meet the requirements of said market and to protect the public health therein, the commissioner may declare that a state of emergency exists. The commissioner is thereupon authorized to issue such orders, rules and regulations as may be necessary, including the fixing by official order of minimum wholesale or retail prices, or both, for milk sold within the market affected, irrespective of where such milk is produced. The commissioner may in like manner at any time alter, revise, amend or rescind the prices so fixed. Any such action taken by the commissioner shall be reviewed by the commissioner at least once in each year thereafter, and, if not thus reviewed, the orders issued shall terminate upon the expiration of the period of one year after the date of the issuance of such orders, and any action may likewise at any time be thus reviewed on the order of the governor. Due notice shall be given of any such review. Any price fixed pursuant to this section, and any alteration, revision or amendment thereof shall be fair, just and reasonable and shall be published as provided in section nineteen.

SECTION 28. Said chapter 94A is hereby further amended by striking out section 12A, as amended by section 3 of said chapter 604, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 12A. If any producer is paid by a milk dealer less than the minimum price for the sale or delivery of milk, as fixed by official order or orders of the commissioner, such producer may recover in a civil action against such milk dealer the full amount that would have been due him for such milk at the minimum price as so fixed, less the amount actually paid him for said milk, together with costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court, and any agreement between such producer and such milk dealer to sell or deliver milk for less than such minimum price shall be no defence to such action. At the written request of any such producer paid less than the minimum price for such sale or delivery of milk to which such producer is entitled under the provisions of the official order or orders of the commissioner, the commissioner may take an assignment of such claim in trust for the assigning producer and may bring an action to collect such claim, and such milk dealer shall be required to pay the costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court. The commissioner shall not be required to pay any entry fee in connection with any such court action.

SECTION 29. Said chapter 94A is hereby further amended by striking out section 13, as most recently amended by said section 3 of said chapter 604, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 13. (a) For the purpose of administering this chapter, the commissioner or any employee or other representative designated by the commissioner for the purpose, may enter, at all reasonable hours, every place where milk is being produced, stored, bottled or otherwise packaged, processed, sold or otherwise handled for sale or distribution. Any such person may also, at all reasonable hours, inspect and verify by reference to the actual operations and transactions all books and records relating to milk in any place within the commonwealth for the purpose of ascertaining facts required for proper administration of this chapter.

(b) All milk dealers required to be licensed under this chapter, their affiliates and subsidiaries shall from time to time furnish to the commissioner such information as he may by order, rule or regulation require, upon and in conformity to forms or reports approved and supplied by him for the purpose of enabling him to administer and enforce this chapter and the orders, rules and regulations made thereunder. All such reports shall be on oath or made under the penalties of perjury.

(c) Each milk dealer required to be licensed under this chapter shall permit any member, the commissioner or any representative designated for the purpose by him, at all reasonable hours, to enter any place occupied or controlled by such milk dealer where milk is produced, stored, bottled or otherwise packaged, pasteurized, processed, sold or otherwise handled. Each such dealer shall at all reasonable hours identify and make available to any such person all books and records relating to milk or to such milk dealer's business which are in his possession or custody or under his control, and permit such person to inspect and verify the same as provided in subsection (a).

(d) The information obtained by any inspection authorized or reports required by this chapter or by similar provisions of earlier law shall be treated as confidential and shall not be disclosed by any person except as may be required in the proper administration of this chapter; provided, however, that the commissioner may use such information together with other similiar information, for compilation and publication of statistics of the milk industry in this commonwealth. Such statistics shall not contain the name of, or disclose, by inference or otherwise, information obtained from the books and records of any milk dealer.

(e) Except as to markets in which there is in operation and effect an order or regulation issued by the legally constituted authorities of the United States regulating the marketing of milk in such markets, and except as to markets in which there is in operation and effect an order issued by the commissioner regulating the marketing of milk in such markets upon a market-wide pool basis, each milk dealer required to be licensed under this chapter, except a milk dealer eligible for exemption under subsection (b) of section four, and except a milk dealer who is also a producer selling to consumers not more than fifty quarts of milk daily, shall, within such period as the commissioner by order, rule or regulation requires, but not later than ten days after the close of each delivery period with respect to milk or cream received by such milk dealer, file with the director, in detail and form approved by the commissioner, a report as follows:-

(1) The receipts at each plant from producers, including the quantity, if any, of his own production;

(2) The receipts at each plant from any other milk dealer, including a milk dealer who is also a producer;

(3) The respective quantities of milk which were sold, distributed or used within each market, including sales to other milk dealers, in each use classification established by the commission.

The commissioner shall compute for each such milk dealer who purchases or receives milk from producers on the composite or on a base rating plan the percentage of milk sold, distributed or used by him in each such use classification and, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d), shall announce by mail, postage prepaid, to all such milk dealers and to all milk producers associations within the commonwealth the results of such computation, and the minimum composite price, or minimum base and excess prices which on the basis of said report such milk dealer, pursuant to the orders, rules and regulations of the commissioner, is required to pay per hundredweight of milk containing three and seven-tenths per cent butter fat content, delivered to the plant of such milk dealer by producers during each delivery period.

Such announcement shall be made on or before the fifteenth day after the end of each delivery period. If any such milk dealer receives milk from producers at more than one plant subject to the provisions of this subsection, such percentage and such minimum price or prices shall be separately computed and announced by the director for each such plant.

The words "delivery period", as used in this subsection, shall mean, with respect to milk dealers who buy no milk from producers, a monthly period beginning on the first day of each month and, with respect to all other milk dealers, the delivery period applicable to such milk dealers as determined by order of the commissioner. The composite plan and base rating plan referred to in this subsection shall mean the composite plan and base rating plan as determined by order of the commissioner.

(f) Subsection (e) shall be construed as being in addition to and in no way limiting the power and authority of the commissioner under subsection (b).

SECTION 30. Section 14 of said chapter 94A, as amended by said section 3 of said chapter 604, is hereby further amended by striking out subsections (a), (b) and (c) and inserting in place thereof the following three subsections:-

(a) No milk dealer shall distribute or sell in any market within the commonwealth milk obtained from a producer or from another milk dealer if such milk was acquired from the producer within the commonwealth at a cost less than the price fixed by the commissioner to be paid for milk so aquired and distributed.

(b) Any sale within the commonwealth, by any milk dealer licensed or required to be licensed under this chapter, of any milk produced within the commonwealth or received from any other source at a price less than the minimum price fixed by the commissioner for such milk shall be a violation of this chapter.

(c) After the commissioner shall have fixed the price to be charged or paid for milk, whether by form, class, grade or use, no milk dealer shall purchase, receive, sell or distribute or offer to purchase, receive, sell or distribute milk at any price less than such price as shall have been made applicable to the particular transaction; and no method or device shall be lawful whereby milk is purchased, received, sold or distributed, or offered to be purchased, received, sold or distributed, at a price less than such price whether by discount, rebate, free service, advertising allowance, or by a combined price for such milk together with another commodity or service, as a result of which the total price for the milk and such other commodity or service is less than the aggregate of the prices for the same when sold or offered for sale or performed separately, or other-

SECTION 31. Said chapter 94A is hereby amended by striking out section 14A, inserted by chapter 108 of the acts of 1972, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 14A. Each institution supported in whole or in part by funds of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, shall furnish to the commissioner, upon issue, a copy of each invitation to bid and all related specifications prepared for the purpose of soliciting proposals to supply milk for use in such institution and shall within ten days following the award of a contract for such milk supply, inform the commissioner by letter showing the name and address of and proposals submitted by each milk dealer responding to such invitation and identifying the supplier to whom the contract was awarded. The commissioner shall analyze and evaluate the above required information in relation to applicable laws, rules and regulations and shall prepare such reports thereon as he deems appropriate for distribution, upon request, to other agencies and departments of the commonwealth and other subsidiaries thereof.

If a contract so awarded provides for supplying milk containing a greater percentage of milk fat or milk solids, not fat, or both, than the minimum percentages prescribed by section twelve of chapter ninety-four, the commissioner or his agent shall, from time to time during the life of such contract, take representative samples of such milk and test the same, or cause them to be tested, in an approved laboratory by officially recognized methods of analysis to determine the milkfat and milk solids not fat content thereof. The results of such tests shall be reported to the awarding institution and, if the same indicate any violation of said section twelve, to the commissioner of public health. If, in the course of sampling and testing as above described, the commissioner or his agent has reason to believe that the net quantity of milk per container is less than the quantity required to be disclosed pursuant to section one hundred and eighty-one of said chapter ninety-four, the awarding institution and the director of standards shall be so advised.

SECTION 32. Said chapter 94A is hereby further amended by striking out section 15, as amended by said section 3 of said chapter 604, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

(b) When the net return to be made for milk by a co-operative association to its members is below the net applicable return for milk as fixed by the orders of the commissioner for a nonmember of a co-operative association, said co-operative association shall submit in writing to the commission a full and complete statement in detail, setting forth the amount of the deductions which have been made from the fixed minimum prices of the commissioner and, in addition, a detailed statement of such deductions shall accompany every such payment to the member.

(b) Before adopting, altering or rescinding any general order, rule or regulation, the commissioner shall hold a general hearing upon the subject matter thereof, and afford all persons interested an opportunity to offer evidence pertinent thereto.

(c) Before declining to grant a license, or granting a conditional or limited license, or suspending or revoking a license, or adopting any other special order, rule or regulation applying only to one or more persons named therein, the commissioner shall hold a special hearing, and afford to the applicant or licensee, or such person or persons, opportunity to appear and be heard with respect thereto.

Each such applicant, milk dealer or person may be so heard in person or by attorney, and may offer evidence pertinent to the subject of the hearing, and to that end may request the commissioner to exercise its powers with respect to the compulsory attendance of witnesses and the production of books and records.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 23B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 24, added by chapter 1179 of the acts of 1973, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 24. As used in this section the following words, unless the context requires otherwise, shall have the following meaning:

"Community action agency", a nonprofit agency which has previously been designated and authorized to accept funds from the federal Community Services Administration for community action agencies under the federal Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, unless such designation is rescinded by the secretary in accordance with the provisions of this section, or any agency formed as may be designated as a community action agency by the secretary to succeed any agency that the secretary determines fails to meet federal requirements, or fair and reasonable requirements established by the secretary, or any agency designated as a community action agency by the secretary to serve previously unserved areas in accordance with the provisions of this section.

"Community services block grant", funds designated to ameliorate the causes of poverty in communities within the commonwealth, distributed by the federal government to the commonwealth pursuant to section 672(a) et. seq. of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981, or its successor.

"Density of poverty", percentage of total population in area to be served representing persons at one hundred per cent of poverty as defined by the United States Office of Management and Budget.

A community action agency shall maintain a board structure which consists of the following:

(i) one-third of the members shall be elected public officials, currently, holding office, or their representatives, except that if the number of elected officials reasonably available and willing to serve is less than one-third of the membership on the board, membership on the board of appointive public officials may be counted in meeting such one-third requirement; (ii) at least one-third of the members shall be persons chosen in accordance with democratic selection procedures adequate to assure that they are representative of the poor in the area served; and (iii) the remainder of the members shall be officials or members of the business, industry, labor, religious, welfare, education, or other major groups and interests in the community.

In order to qualify as a community action agency, such agency must be one which is community based and operated as set forth in this section and which:-

(i) is designed to provide a range of services and activities having a measurable and potentially major impact on causes of poverty in the community or those areas of the community where poverty is a particularly acute problem; (ii) has been developed and has organized and combined projects and activities undertaken by the agency in a manner appropriate to carry out all the purposes of this section; and (iii) includes programs to assist low income participants, including the elderly poor, such as programs to: secure and maintain meaningful employment, attain an adequate education; provide and maintain adequate housing and a suitable living environment; receive energy assistance and weatherization services; obtain emergency assistance through loans or grants to meet immediate and urgent individual and family needs, including the need for health services, nutritious food, housing and employment-related assistance; remove obstacles and solve personal and family problems which block the achievement of self-sufficiency; and achieve greater participation in the affairs of the community.

The commonwealth, acting by and through the secretary, may enter into contracts with community action agencies, and such other organizations as the secretary determines, to provide services consistent with the purposes of this section. Any such agency shall comply with such requirements as the secretary may establish by regulation or otherwise, including, but not limited to, reporting and monitoring requirements, and evaluation procedures, and, in the case of community action agencies, procedures for the designation and the suspension or recision of designation as a community action agency. Procedures for the suspension or recision of designation as a community action agency shall include adequate notice and an opportunity for a hearing.

The secretary may designate an agency as a community action agency to serve a previously unserved area, if the secretary finds that: there are sufficient additional community services block grant funds appropriated to provide for the addition and continuing operation of such agency, and that such agency will serve an area having a population in excess of seventy-five thousand and a density of poverty which exceeds seven per cent.

The provisions of this section shall be applicable to the awarding of contracts by the secretary under the federal community services block grant program. Not less than ninety per cent of the total of any such community services block grant funds received by the commonwealth during any fiscal federal year shall be contracted directly with community action agencies in existence at the beginning of such fiscal year. Not more than five per cent of the total of any such community services block grant funds received by the commonwealth shall be allocated to the secretary for administrative expenses. Not more than five per cent of the total of any such community services block grant funds received by the commonwealth shall be awarded by the secretary for innovative anti-poverty projects or programs operated by nonprofit organizations.

The commonwealth, acting by and through the secretary, may, subject to appropriation, provide supplementary funds to community action agencies in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Recognition of a community action agency by the secretary shall not preclude the agency from receiving other grants or contracts from federal or local agencies, private organizations, or individuals or state agencies to pay the cost of providing services to the poor.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 773 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as most recently amended by section 5 of chapter 868 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 10. The commonwealth, acting by and through the trustees, may enter into a contract or contracts with the Authority for state financial assistance in the form of a guaranty by the commonwealth of bonds of the Authority issued to achieve any of its corporate purposes or to refund outstanding indebtedeness of the Authority incurred under this act or any other authority for any such purpose. Such guaranty shall be executed on each bond by an officer of the trustees. Each such contract shall contain such limitations as to the cost of any project or projects to be financed by the bonds to be guaranteed pursuant thereto and current operating and administrative expenses of the Authority to be allocated thereto, and such other provisions, as the trustees may require.

The Authority shall create a reserve for principal and interest on all bonds with respect to which such a contract or contracts shall have been executed and which are secured by a single trust agreement and shall make deposits in such reserve as hereinafter provided. For the purposes of this paragraph the term "annual series requirement" shall mean one-twelfth of the largest amount of principal and interest payments due in any year on any one issue or series of bonds secured by a single trust agreement and the term "year" shall mean a calendar year. Such annual series requirement shall be in effect as to any such issue or series of bonds for and only for the twelve years succeeding the next year in which the same was issued. At the time of initial issue of any issue or series of bonds the Authority may deposit in such reserve an amount, from the proceeds of such bonds or from other available funds of the Authority, not greater than the aggregate of the annual series requirements in respect of such issue. If the amount of such deposit is less than such aggregate, the Authority shall, at the time such deposit is made, designate to which of such annual series requirements such deposit shall apply. In each year commencing with the first year succeeding the year in which the initial such issue or series of bonds shall be issued the Authority shall deposit in such reserve an amount equal to the aggregate of the annual series requirements in effect for such year in respect of all such issues or series of bonds bonds of which are outstanding on the first day of such year plus or, at the option of the Authority, minus, as the case may be, the deficiency or excess of the amount on deposit in such reserve on such first day, including in such amount interest accrued but unpaid on obligations in which such amount may then be invested, under or over the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years in respect of all such issues or series of bonds bonds of which are outstanding on such first day; provided, however, that if there shall be any application of such reserve or any portion thereof to the payment of principal or interest on bonds, the amount of any deficiency in the amount thereafter on deposit in such reserve resulting from such application shall be taken into account in computing the amount required to be deposited in such reserve in any year thereafter only to the extent that it is practicable to do so. The principal and interest payments due in any year on any issue or series of bonds shall be determined in accordance with the following when applicable: (1) the principal of bonds for the payment, prepayment, redemption or refunding of which funds are held in trust by the trustee appointed pursuant to the trust agreement under which such bonds were issued shall be treated as not outstanding, and after notice of any prepayment, redemption or refunding of bonds has been given in accordance with such trust agreement, all interest accruing on such bonds after the date with respect to which the requirements of such trust agreement for prepayment, redemption or refund thereof have been fulfilled shall be treated as not due, and (2) if the Authority shall establish a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of bonds at or prior to maturity, such principal amount of bonds as will be paid or prepaid from any deposit required to be made into such sinking fund shall be treated as if it matured on the date of such deposit and not on the maturity date of such bonds. Unless the trust agreement or a resolution of the Authority shall otherwise provide, all amounts required to be deposited into a reserve under any trust agreement shall be held for the equal benefit and security of all issues and series of bonds issued under such trust agreement. Any reserve may be used whenever necessary to pay principal or interest on bonds of any such issue or series of bonds, but such reserve shall be restored to the required level as soon as practicable. At any time when the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds (a) the aggregate of the twelve annual series requirements to be in effect with respect to any particular such issue or series of bonds bonds of which are then outstanding plus (b) all annual series requirements in effect for all prior years and for the then current year with respect to all other such issues or series of bonds bonds of which are then outstanding, and when such aggregate plus any other funds of the Authority available for the purpose shall equal or exceed the aggregate amount required to pay in full the principal and redemption price of and interest on all bonds of such particular issue or series then outstanding, the Authority may apply to such payment an amount from such reserve not exceeding such aggregate. If on the first day of any year the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds the sum of (i) the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years plus (ii) the annual series requirements for such year, in each case in respect of all such issues or series of bonds bonds of which are outstanding on such first day, the Authority shall not be obliged to make a deposit in such reserve in respect of such year, and, if such amount on deposit exceeds such sum but the conditions for application of the preceding sentence are not then met, the Authority may apply such excess to the payment of interest coming due in such year on bonds of such issues or series.

Any such contract may provide for the guaranty by the commonwealth of notes of the Authority issued under section seven, the total amount of which shall not exceed the amount specified in the contract for state financial assistance.

The guaranty of the commonwealth provided pursuant to such contract shall be of the payment of the principal of, and interest on, all such notes and bonds as the same become due and payable, and the full faith and credit of the commonwealth is hereby pledged for any such guaranty; provided, that the total amount of notes and bonds so guaranteed and outstanding at any one time shall not exceed one hundred million dollars in the aggregate, exclusive of bonds and notes refunded or being refunded thereby.

SECTION 12. In addition to the right of University of Massachusetts Building Authority pursuant to the trust agreement dated as of October thirty-first, nineteen hundred and sixty-five between said Authority and The First National Bank of Boston, as Trustee, and to the resolution of said Authority adopted April twelfth, nineteen hundred and seventy-six to redeem certain of the Dormitory or Other Facility Revenue Bonds, Series 1976-A, dated May first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six of said Authority, said Authority may at any time on or after May first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three call for redemption all, but not less than all, of said bonds stated to mature May first in the years nineteen hundred and eighty-four, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Upon such call and notice of such redemption given in accordance with section three hundred and two of said trust agreement and deposit with said trustee of sufficient moneys for the purpose of paying the whole amount of the principal and the interest due and payable upon all of such bonds stated to mature as aforesaid, the provisions of section one thousand two hundred and one of said trust agreement shall thereupon have effect provided that on or before the date upon which occurs the last to occur of said call, the giving of such notice or such deposit said Authority shall also have called for redemption all other bonds then outstanding under said Trust Agreement, notice of such redemption shall have been given in accordance with section three hundred and two of said trust agreement and the Authority shall have deposited with the Trustee sufficient moneys to cause the moneys then held by the trustee and available for the purpose to be sufficient for the purpose of paying the whole amount of the principal and the interest and the premium, if any, due and payable upon all of such bonds at or before the date at which such bonds shall be redeemed pursuant to said trust agreement, said resolution and said call.
