ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 4.

(2) With respect to the calendar year beginning on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the experience rate of an employer qualifying therefor under subsection (b) shall be the rate which appears in the column designated "B" and on the line with the applicable employer account reserve percentage as set forth in the foregoing table.

(3) Each employer newly subject to this chapter shall pay contributions at the rate of three per cent until it has been an employer for not less than the twelve consecutive months' period specified in paragraph (1) of subsection (b); thereafter, its contribution rate shall be determined in accordance with the preceding provisions of this subsection.

For the purposes of this subsection, an employer newly subject to this chapter is one which was never previously subject to this chapter or, if previously subject, ceased to be subject under the provisions of section eleven and, in either case, is not a transferee within the meaning of subsection (n) and is not newly subject under the provisions of subsection (d), (g) or (h) of section eight.

SECTION 9. Said section 14 of said chapter 151A is hereby amended by striking out section (j), as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 866 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:—

(j) For any calendar year beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, each employer whose experience rate is determined under paragraph (1) of subsection (i) shall have its account as of a computation date adjusted by the product of the reserve percentage for the solvency account and the employer's total taxable payroll for the period of twelve consecutive months ending on said computation date.

SECTION 10. Paragraph (5) of subsection (n) of said section 14 of said chapter 151A, as appearing in section 6 of chapter 473 of the acts of 1976, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:— If a transferee had no contribution rate applicable to it for that calendar year, the contribution rate of the transferee shall be the rate which appears in the column headed by the unemployment compensation fund reserve percentage as of the applicable computation date and on the line with an employer account reserve percentage of 0.0 but less than 0.5 positive as set forth in the experience rate table of subsection (i), or five and four-tenths per cent, whichever is the lesser.

SECTION 11. The first paragraph of subsection (a) of section 14A of said chapter 151A, as appearing in section 24 of chapter 720 of the acts of 1977, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 1 and 2, the word "subsection (f)" and inserting in place thereof the word:— subsection (d).

SECTION 13. Section 14C of said chapter 151A is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:-

(1) The director may for good cause extend the period within which a notice of election, or a notice of termination, shall be filed and may permit an election to be retroactive but not earlier than January first of the calendar year immediately preceding the date said notice was filed.

SECTION 14. Section 15 of said chapter 151A, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (b), as amended by section 6 of chapter 603 of the acts of 1948, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(b) The director may collect such overdue amounts, together with such interest or penalty, in a civil action or by petition for entry of judgment in the name of the commonwealth commenced within six years from January thirty-first next succeeding the last day of the calendar year in which wages were paid.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, if the director believes that the collection of contributions, interest or penalty will be jeopardized by delay, he may in his discretion commence a civil action to collect such amounts at any time prior to January thirty-first next succeeding the last day of the calendar year in which wages were paid, without regard to the date on which such contributions are due.

If an employer has failed to give notice to the director of the fact, not otherwise determined, that he believes he is subject to the provisions of this chapter and to request a determination of his liability, or if an employer has failed to file the wage and contribution reports required of him under this chapter showing the amounts of such wages and the contribution due thereon, or has filed false reports as to the amounts of such wages with intent to defraud, then the provisions of this subsection shall not apply and the director may bring a civil action at any time for all periods, without regard to the year in which wages were paid.

Actions brought under this subsection shall be given precedence over other civil cases except petitions for review arising under section forty-two.

Execution shall be issuable at the request of the director, the director's agent or attorney, in the same manner as a duly entered judgment of the court. No recording fee shall be paid by the director for the filing of a certificate, no exemption shall be allowed from the levy of an execution and no indemnifying bond shall be required by the sheriff or other officer before making a levy.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 151A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 15 the following section:-

Section 15A. In addition to and as an alternative to any other remedy provided by this chapter, and provided that a judgment under any provision of section fifteen has been obtained, the director may utilize for the collection of payments due the division the remedy provided in this section.

(a) If any employer fails to pay any amount required under this chapter within ten days from the date notice to satisfy a judgment has been mailed to such employer, the director may levy upon the account of such employer being maintained by any bank or other depository in the commonwealth. Upon such levy the bank or depository shall surrender the proceeds in the account, or discharge such obligation on behalf of the employer, to the director or the director's agent, except such part of the account that is, at the time of such demand, subject to an attachment or execution under any judicial process. The notice of levy may be served on the bank or depository by any designated agent of the director with a copy of said notice being mailed to the employer. (b) Any bank or other depository which fails or refuses to surrender the proceeds of such account subject to levy shall be liable in a sum equal to the value of the collection of which such levy has been made, together with costs and interests on such sum at the rate specified in section fifteen from the date of such levy. Any amount, other than costs, recovered under this section shall be credited against the liability for the collection of which such levy was made.

(c) Compliance with the levy shall discharge the bank or other depository from any obligation or liability to the delinquent employer with respect to the proceeds or payments surrendered.

Section 16. Judgments obtained under any provision of section fifteen and overdue contributions or payments in lieu of contributions, with interest thereon or penalties assessed in lieu of interest thereof, shall until collected be a lien upon the entire interest of the employer, legal or equitable, in any property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, subordinate, however, to claims for unpaid wages and prior recorded liens; provided, however, that no lien created by this section shall be valid against a subsequent purchaser or mortgagee in good faith and for value of real or personal property from or of such employer, or against a subsequent attaching creditor, unless with respect to real estate of the employer, a notice of such lien is recorded in the registry of deeds for the county where such real estate is located; and provided, further, with respect to personal property of the employer said notice is recorded with the clerk of the city or town where such personal property is located.

The notice of lien shall be filed within six years from January thirty-first next succeeding the last day of the calendar year in which wages were paid or within three years from the date the judgment was entered, whichever is later, and shall state the name and address of the employer, and the total amount then unpaid of the aforesaid overdue contributions, or payments in lieu of contributions, and interest thereon or penalties assessed in lieu of interest thereof, or of said judgment. A lien which results from a judgment shall terminate not later than twenty years from the date it was created. All other liens shall terminate not later than six years from January thirty-first next succeeding the last day of the calendar year in which wages were paid.

In any case where there has been a refusal or neglect to pay any amount owed by the employer under this chapter, the director, in addition to other modes of relief, may cause a civil action to be filed in a district or superior court department of the commonwealth in which the employer has real or personal property or in the municipal court department of the city of Boston or in the superior court department of Suffolk county to enforce a lien created by this section or to subject any property of whatever nature of the employer, or in which it has any rights, title or interest, to the payment of the amount owed the division by the employer.

SECTION 19. Section 30 of said chapter 151A is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as amended by section 11 of chapter 473 of the acts of 1976, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

If in the opinion of the director, it is necessary for an unemployed individual to obtain further industrial or vocational training to realize employment, the total benefits which such individual may receive shall be extended by eighteen times the individual's benefit rate, if such individual is attending an industrial or vocational retraining course approved by the director, provided, that such additional benefits shall be paid to the individual only when attending such course and only if such individual has exhausted all rights to regular and extended benefits under this chapter and has no rights to benefits or compensation under this chapter or any other state unemployment compensation law or under any federal law; and provided, further, that any benefits paid to an individual under the provisions of this paragraph which would not be chargeable to the account of any particular employer under the provisions of section fourteen shall be charged to the solvency account.

Debts incurred under the authority of this act shall not be included in determining the limit of indebtedness of the city of Lynn as established by law.

Section 3. All proceeds of any borrowing authorized by section two shall be deposited in a separate fund which shall be set up on the books of the city and maintained separate and apart from all other funds and accounts of said city. Such fund shall be called the City of Lynn Finance Control Fund of 1984, hereinafter in this act referred to as the fund. Amounts deposited in the fund shall, upon written direction of the school superintendent, approved by a majority vote of the school committee and by a majority vote of the finance control board of the city of Lynn as established in section four, be expended without further appropriation for the purpose of maintenance and operations of public schools in said city in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

Section 4. Upon issuance of loans from the commonwealth to the city of Lynn under the authority of section two, there shall be established in the executive office for administration and finance, a city of Lynn finance control board, hereinafter referred to as the board, consisting of the secretary of administration and finance, or his designee; the commissioner of education or his designee; the commissioner of revenue, or his designee; the mayor of the city of Lynn, or his designee; the president of the city council of the city of Lynn, or his designee; the chief financial officer of the city of Lynn; a member of the city of Lynn school committee, to be selected by the said school committee; and a representative of the Lynn business community, to be appointed by the governor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE REQUIRED BY LAW

The rules set forth below govern the terms of your lease of occupancy arrangement with this mobile home park. If these rules are changed in any way, the addition, deletion or amendment must be delivered to you, along with a copy of the certified mail receipts indicating that such change has been submitted to and received by the Attorney General and the Secretary of Communities and Development. If the park will undergo a change of use, you must receive notification of the change at least two years prior to its occurrence. In addition, no eviction proceedings may be commenced against you until you have received notice by certified mail of the reason for the eviction proceeding and you have been given fifteen days from the date of the notice in which to pay the overdue rent or to cease and desist from any substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the park; provided, however, that only one notice of a substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the park is required to be sent to you during any six month period. If a second or additional violation occurs, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months from the date of the first notice then eviction proceedings may be commenced against you immediately.

If this park requires you to deal exclusively with a certain fuel dealer or other merchant for goods or services in connection with the use or occupancy of your mobile home lot, the price you pay for such goods or services may not be more than the prevailing price in this locality for similar goods and services.

You may not be evicted for reporting any violations of law or health and building codes to boards of health, the attorney general, or any other appropriate government agency. Receipt of notice of termination of tenancy by you, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months after your making such a report shall create a rebuttable presumption that such notice is a reprisal and may be pleaded by you in defense to any eviction proceeding brought within one year.

SECTION 2. The treasurer of the city of Medford, with the approval of the city manager of said city, is hereby authorized to issue or sell the bonds described in section one of such denomination or denominations of not less than five hundred nor more than five thousand dollars, as the treasurer, with such approval, may determine. Each minibond may provide that it shall be redeemed by or on behalf of the city upon due presentation by an appropriate person on any business day at the principal amount thereof plus interest accrued at such rate, or rates, which rate may be determined prior to the issuance thereof, provided that no minibond, so-called, shall mature more than five years from its date. SECTION 3. Whenever the city of Medford shall have issued minibonds which are not payable in annual serial installments, the city shall appropriate annually an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of each issue of such minibonds divided by the number of years from the date thereof to the maturity date of such issue, plus an amount equal to the interest thereon payable in that year less any amounts previously appropriated to pay such interest and available for such purposes in the fund hereinafter provided for or otherwise. The amount appropriated annually for the payment of minibonds, so-called, shall be held in a separate fund and in trust solely for the payment of redemption of such minibonds and the interest thereon. SECTION 4. The treasurer of the city of Medford, with the approval of the city manager, may enter into arrangements with a financial institution for a letter or line of credit or other credit facility in order to ensure that funds will be available to redeem any minibonds that may be presented for payment at any time in excess of the amount then available therefor, in the fund described in section three or otherwise, and, in that connection, may enter into agreements providing for reimbursement to the issuer of any such letter or line of credit or other credit facility for any sums advanced thereunder.

Chapter 95.    AN ACT IMPOSING ADMINISTRATIVE PENALTIES FOR CERTAIN ENVIRONMENTAL VIOLATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 21A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

Section 16. As used in this section the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

"Department", the department of environmental quality engineering.

"Person", any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth, any state, public or private corporation or authority, individual, trust firm, joint stock company, partnership, association or other entity or any group thereof or any officer, employee or agent thereof.

The department may assess a civil administrative penalty on a person who fails to comply with any provision of any regulation, order, license or approval issued or adopted by the department, or of any law which the department has the authority or responsibility to enforce; provided, however, that such noncompliance occurred after the department had given such person written notice of such noncompliance, and after reasonable time, as determined by the department and stated in said notice, had elapsed for coming into compliance; and provided, further, that the department may assess such penalty without providing such written notice if such failure to comply: (1) was part of a pattern of noncompliance and not an isolated instance, or (2) was willful and not the result of error, or (3) resulted in significant impact on public health, safety, welfare or the environment, or (4) consisted of failure to promptly report to the department (a) any unauthorized disposal of hazardous waste, as is defined by chapter twenty-one C, or (b) any unauthorized release or discharge of hazardous material into the environment, as are defined by chapter twenty-one E. Any such penalty shall be an alternative to any other civil penalty that may be prescribed by law. For the purpose of determining whether such noncompliance was part of a pattern of noncompliance and not an isolated instance, the department shall consider, but not be limited to, the following: whether the department had previously notified the person of such noncompliance on two occasions during the previous four-year period or of any noncompliance with the same provision of a law, regulation, order, license or approval as the current noncompliance during the previous five-year period; whether the current and previous noncompliances occurred at the same facility; and whether the current and previous noncompliances, considered together, indicate a potential threat to public health, safety, welfare or the environment or an interference with the department's ability to efficiently and effectively administer its programs or to enforce any regulation, order, license or approval it has issued or adopted or any law which it has authority or responsibility to enforce. If a person who has received a notice of noncompliance fails to come into compliance within the time period stated in such notice, the civil administrative penalty may be assessed by the department upon such person from the date of receipt of such notice.

Whenever the department seeks to assess a civil administrative penalty on any person, the department shall cause to be served upon such person, either by service, in hand, or by certified mail, return receipt requested, a written notice of its intent to assess a civil administrative penalty which shall include a concise statement of the alleged act or omission for which such civil administrative penalty is sought to be assessed, each law, regulation, order, license or approval which has not been complied with as a result of such alleged act or omission, the amount which the department seeks to assess as a civil administrative penalty for each such alleged act or omission, a statement of such person's right to an adjudicatory hearing on the proposed assessment, the requirements such person must comply with to avoid being deemed to have waived the right to an adjudicatory hearing and the manner of payment thereof if such person elects to pay the penalty and waive an adjudicatory hearing. After written notice of noncompliance or intent to assess a civil administrative penalty has been given, each such day thereafter during which such noncompliance occurs or continues shall constitute a separate offense and shall be subject to a separate civil administrative penalty if reasonable efforts have not been made to promptly come into compliance.

Whenever the department seeks to assess a civil administrative penalty on any person, such person shall have the right to an adjudicatory hearing under chapter thirty A whose provisions shall apply except when they are inconsistent with the provisions of this section.

Such person shall be deemed to have waived such right to an adjudicatory hearing unless, within twenty-one days of the date of the department's notice that it seeks to assess a civil administrative penalty, such person files with the department a written statement denying the occurrence of any of the acts or omissions alleged by the department in such notice, or asserting that the money amount of the proposed civil administrative penalty is excessive. In any adjudicatory hearing authorized pursuant to chapter thirty A, the department shall, by a preponderance of the evidence, prove the occurrence of each act or omission alleged by the department.

If a person waives his right to an adjudicatory hearing, the proposed civil administrative penalty shall be final immediately upon such waiver.

If a civil administrative penalty is assessed at the conclusion of an adjudicatory hearing, said civil administrative penalty shall be final upon the expiration of thirty days if no action for judicial review of such decision is commenced pursuant to chapter thirty A.

Any person who institutes proceedings for judicial review of the final assessment of a civil administrative penalty shall place the full amount of the final assessment in an interest-bearing escrow account in the custody of the clerk/magistrate of the reviewing court. The establishment of such an interest-bearing escrow account shall be a condition precedent to the jurisdiction of the reviewing court unless the party seeking judicial review demonstrates in a preliminary hearing held within twenty days of the filing of the complaint either the presence of a substantial question for review by the court or an inability to pay. Upon such a demonstration, the court may grant an extension or waiver of the interest-bearing escrow account or may require, in lieu of such interest-bearing escrow account, the posting of a bond payable directly to the commonwealth in the amount of one hundred and twenty-five per cent of the assessed penalty. If, after judicial review, in a case where the requirement for an escrow account has been waived, and in cases where a bond has been posted in lieu of such requirement, the court affirms, in whole or in part, the assessment of a civil administrative penalty the department shall be paid the amount thereof together with interest at the rate set forth in section six C of chapter two hundred and thirty-one. If, after such review in a case where an interest-bearing escrow account has been established, the court affirms the assessment of such penalty, in whole or in part, the department shall be paid the amount thereof together with the accumulated interest thereon in such interest-bearing escrow account. If the court sets aside the assessment of a civil administrative penalty in a case where the amount of such penalty has been deposited in an interest-bearing escrow account, the person on whom the civil administrative penalty was assessed shall be repaid the amount so set aside, together with the accumulated interest thereon.

Each person who fails to pay a civil administrative penalty on time, and each person who issues a bond pursuant to this section and who fails to pay to the commonwealth on time the amount required hereunder, shall be liable to the commonwealth for up to three times the amount of the civil administrative penalty, together with costs, plus interest from the time the civil administrative penalty became final and attorneys' fees, including all costs and attorneys' fees incurred directly in the collection thereof. The rate of interest shall be the rate set forth in section six C of chapter two hundred and thirty-one.

In determining the amount of each civil administrative penalty, the department shall include, but not be limited to, the following in its considerations: the actual and potential impact on public health, safety and welfare and the environment of the failure to comply; the actual and potential damages suffered, and actual or potential costs incurred, by the commonwealth, or by any other person; whether the person being assessed the civil administrative penalty took steps to prevent noncompliance, to promptly come into compliance and to remedy and mitigate whatever harm might have been done as a result of such noncompliance; whether the person being assessed the civil administrative penalty has previously failed to comply with any regulation, order, license or approval issued or adopted by the department, or any law which the department has the authority or responsibility to enforce; making compliance less costly than noncompliance; deterring future noncompliance; the financial condition of the person being assessed the civil administrative penalty; and the public interest.

No civil administrative penalty assessed hereunder shall be less than one hundred dollars. For each of the following failures to comply, the civil administrative penalty shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars; each release, discharge, or disposal of material into the environment without the approval of the department, or in a manner not approved by the department, whenever such release, discharge or disposal requires the approval of the department; engaging in any business or activity without a license or other authorization from the department, whenever engaging in such business or activity requires such license or authorization by the department; failure to promptly report to the department each unauthorized disposal of hazardous waste, as defined by chapter twenty-one C; and failure to promptly report to the department each unauthorized release or discharge of hazardous materials into the environment, as defined by chapter twenty-one E.

Any person who fails to comply with or otherwise violates the provisions of chapter one hundred and eleven F enforceable by the department shall be liable for a civil administrative penalty not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars per day for each day that such violation continues and the department shall follow the procedures set forth therein in assessing such penalty. For any other failure to comply with any regulation, order, license or approval issued or adopted by the department, or any law which the department has authority or responsibility to enforce, the civil administrative penalty for each failure to comply shall not exceed one thousand dollars.

SECTION 2. No civil administrative penalty shall be assessed by the department pursuant to section sixteen of chapter twenty-one A of the General Laws, until the commissioner has promulgated regulations for assessing civil administrative penalties as required by chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

SECTION 3. By June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the commissioner of the department shall promulgate, in compliance with chapter thirty A of the General Laws, regulations for assessing civil administrative penalties pursuant to section sixteen of chapter twenty-one A of the General Laws, inserted by section one of this act, for failure to comply with any provision of chapter twenty-one C of the

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 96.

General Laws, or any regulation, order, or license adopted or issued thereunder. Said commissioner shall submit any regulations promulgated under the provisions of this section to the joint legislative committee on natural resources and agriculture for its review within sixty days prior to the effective date of said regulations.

SECTION 4. There is hereby established within the department an administrative penalties advisory committee, hereinafter called the committee, to provide advice and consultation to the department concerning civil administrative penalties. Said committee shall review the development and implementation of regulations for civil administrative penalties, and shall make recommendations for regulations establishing the manner in which the amount of civil administrative penalties shall be assessed. The committee shall consist of the attorney general or his designee and six members to be appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Municipal Association, one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Health Officers Association, one of whom shall be a representative of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, one of whom shall be a representative of the Small Business Association of New England, one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions, and one of whom shall be a representative of a statewide organization for the promotion of protection of the environment. Members of the committee shall serve without compensation.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-one of chapter thirty of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the state purchasing agent is hereby authorized during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six to incur liabilities and incidental expenses for the purchase of supplies, as provided by said section fifty-one, including material to be disposed of as surplus, so-called, by the federal government through agencies of the federal government in an amount not exceeding five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for the purpose, and the comptroller may certify for payment such incidental expenses and liabilities so incurred to an amount not exceeding five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to any amount heretofore provided for said purpose.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, all persons eligible for public assistance, as determined by the department of public welfare, under the provisions of chapters one hundred and seventeen, one hundred and eighteen A, and one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws, who are not maintaining their own homes but are receiving care in a licensed nursing home, a licensed rest home, a licensed chronic hospital or in an approved public medical institution, shall retain the first fifty-five dollars of their monthly income for clothing, personal needs and leisure time activities.

If there is no such income, or if it is less than fifty-five dollars, the recipient shall be paid monthly in advance the difference between such income and fifty-five dollars.

The department of public welfare shall by regulation provide that personal laundry costs shall not be charged to the amount retained by or paid to the recipient pursuant to this section. Personal laundry costs shall instead be reimbursable through the per diem rates established by the rate setting commission.

SECTION 6. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the administrator of any facility licensed pursuant to section seventy-one of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws shall deposit in an interest-bearing account of any bank organized and existing under the laws of the commonwealth funds of any person who is an inpatient or resident at such facility if such administrator agrees to manage such funds at the request of such person or the fiduciary of such person or if the administrator is a fiduciary for such person. The words "fiduciary" and "funds" shall have the same meaning found in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-three of the General Laws. The interest earned on any interest-bearing account shall be distributed in one of the following ways, at the lection of the facility: (a) pro-rated to each patient on an actual interest earned basis or individual accounts, or (b) pro-rated to each patient on the basis of his or her end of quarter or nearest end of month balance for collective accounts. The department of public health shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement this section.

SECTION 7. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, revenues in an amount not to exceed five million dollars accrued through the program of selling correctional industries products and services, excluding monies received from the sale of farm products and services under programs maintained by the division of farm services, may be expended without further appropriation, subject to the approval of the commissioner of correction and the state comptroller, for said program including costs of materials, supplies and equipment, maintenance of industrial facilities and compensation to correctional industry employees; provided, however, that any remaining balance of the amount available to the department as provided in section twenty-nine of chapter two hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four shall not revert to the General Fund at the end of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five and shall be available to the department for use on the purposes provided herein during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six. The sale of correctional industries products and services, as provided in this section, shall be subject to a full audit and annual report by the state auditor.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, any department, board, commission or institution expending federal funds appropriated in section two of this act shall submit a spending plan of such federal funds, by subsidiary breakdown, with the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint standing committee on federal financial assistance no later than sixty days after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 9. Appropriations made in section two from the General Federal Grants Fund shall be recorded on the books of the commonwealth only in the amount of the actual receipts of federal funds and only the recorded amount shall be available for expenditure. Federal funds received in excess of the amount appropriated in said section two shall be expended only in accordance with the provisions of section six B of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 10. All sums appropriated under the provisions of this act shall be expended in a manner reflecting and encouraging a policy of nondiscrimination and equal opportunity for members of minority groups, women and handicapped persons. All officials and employees of any agency, board or division of the commonwealth receiving monies under section two shall take affirmative steps to ensure equality of opportunity in the internal affairs of state government, as well as in their relations with the public, including those persons and organizations doing business with the commonwealth.

Each agency, board or division, in spending appropriated sums and discharging its statutory responsibilities, shall adopt measures to ensure equal opportunity in the areas of hiring, promotion, demotion or transfer, recruitment, layoff or termination, rates of compensation, inservice or apprenticeship training programs, and all terms and conditions of employment. Such affirmative action program shall include efforts required to remedy the effects of present and past discriminatory patterns and practices and any action necessary to guarantee equal opportunity for members of minority groups, women, and handicapped persons.

The commissioner of administration shall conduct an ongoing review of affirmative action steps taken by the various agencies, boards or divisions, to determine whether such agencies are complying with the intent of this section. Whenever such noncompliance is determined by the commissioner, he shall hold a public hearing on the matter and report his resulting recommendations to the head of the particular agency, board or division, the governor, and to the Massachusetts commission against discrimination.

SECTION 11. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the department of mental health, or any other state agency or department, shall not authorize or approve the construction of new facilities or the renovation or rehabilitation of existing facilities, to house either mental health or mental retardation community-based programs, including, but not limited to, intermediate care facilities, limited group residences, community residences and apartments, until such time as a schedule of start-up and full operating costs of the program to be housed at said location has been submitted to and approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 12. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, no department, board, commission, or other agency within the jurisdiction of the executive office of human services shall authorize contracted or purchased services to their client populations at an annualized cost which exceeds the amount of monies appropriated for such services in section two; provided, however, that the above provisions shall not apply to new programs funded in line items 4202-0021, 4800-0023, 5011-0006, 5011-0015, 5016-0104, 5021-0000, and 5024-0100 from which accounts new programming may be authorized at an annualized cost which is not greater than twice the amount of funding appropriated to start the programs. No expenditures or commitment of monies for such services, either by contract or other agreement, shall be made in excess of the amount of monies appropriated for such services.

SECTION 13. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, revenues in an amount not to exceed two million dollars accrued from the sale of farm products and services under programs maintained by the division of farm services of the department of correction may be expended without further appropriation, subject to the approval of the commissioner of correction and the state comptroller, for said programs including costs of materials, supplies and equipment, maintenance and construction of agricultural facilities, and compensation to farm employees; provided, however, that any remaining balance of the amount available to the department as provided in section forty-two of chapter two hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four shall not revert to the General Fund at the end of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five and shall be available to the department for use on the purposes provided herein during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six. The sale of farm products and services, as provided in this section, shall be subject to a full audit and annual report by the state auditor.

SECTION 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of section one of this act to the contrary, items 0320-0001 to 0340-1111, inclusive, in section two of this act are hereby charged as follows:-

General Fund	20.0%

SECTION 15. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, ten per cent, but not more than two million dollars, of the revenues derived from the collection of admission fees, parking fees, and concessions at pools, rinks, parks, forests and beaches maintained by the department of environmental management may be expended by the department without further appropriation, subject to the approval of the secretary of environmental affairs and the state comptroller, for improvements to recreational programs at pools, rinks, parks, forests, and beaches maintained by said department, including material, supplies, equipment, promotional activities and interpretive materials; provided, however, that said revenues shall not be expended for the compensation of employees; and provided, further, that any remaining balance of the amount available to the department for expenditure without further appropriation, as provided in section forty-five of chapter two hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four, at the end of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five shall not revert to the General Fund and shall be available to the department for use as provided herein during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six. The department shall report the amounts of revenue generated from the collection of admission fees, parking fees, and concessions, by category from each such pool, rink, park, forest and beach maintained by it, including a detailed summary of the expenditures made by it for each allowable purpose as provided herein at each such facility or area from the maximum two million dollars authorized for expenditure pursuant to this section, and shall file said report for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five with the house and senate committees on ways and means on or before October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six, a similar report shall be filed with said committees on or before December thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and a final report shall be filed with said committees on or before August first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 16. The amount of any unexpended balance of federal grant funds received prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and not included as part of an appropriation item in section two, is hereby made available for expenditure during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six, in addition to any amount appropriated in said section two; provided that the state comptroller shall report to the senate and house committees on ways and means, no later than October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the amounts of any such unexpended balances for each item of appropriation including such unexpended balances as are appropriated in said section two.

SECTION 17. Each member of the general court shall be paid an allowance for each day after prorogation of the general court when on legislative business affairs in accordance with the schedule contained in section nine B of chapter three of the General Laws.

SECTION 18. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the comptroller shall not authorize the payment of regular compensation, including paid leave, vacations, salary in lieu of vacations, payments in lieu of maintenance, holiday pay, overtime pay, and salary differentials from any account funded by an appropriation in section two unless the following requirements are met: Each state agency receiving an appropriation in section two shall neither fill a total number of permanent positions which exceeds the number of permanent positions nor fill a total number of temporary positions which exceeds the number of temporary positions as specifically provided for in each item in said section two. For the purposes of this section, a "position" shall mean a full-time equivalent office or position in which one or more persons are currently employed. "Position" shall not mean any office or position in which no one is currently employed, provided, that for the purposes of this section such unfilled offices or positions shall be referred to as "vacant titles". "Permanent position" shall mean an authorized position created by statute or under the civil service law whether the incumbent holding the position is on a permanent, provisional, or temporary appointment. "Temporary position" shall mean all authorized positions other than permanent positions, seasonal positions as defined in section one of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, excess quota positions, and positions for a period of ninety days or less.

The house and senate committees on ways and means shall forward to the commissioner of administration an approved list of all new permanent or temporary positions funded for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six on or before August fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

No person shall be hired by a state agency and assigned a permanent or temporary position or a previously vacant title unless such position or vacant title is included on said list of all new permanent or temporary positions or on a previously approved schedule; provided that the hiring of any persons from said list of all new permanent or temporary positions shall not cause any item of appropriation in section two of this act to be deficient at any time during the course of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

The secretary of administration and finance shall file a recommended schedule of all permanent or temporary positions and vacant titles no later than September fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five with the house and senate committees on ways and means. Such schedules shall include recommendations of the list of new permanent or temporary positions which were forwarded to said secretary on or before August fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five. Such schedules shall also include for approval all reallocation of permanent and temporary positions and vacant titles and changes in compensation rates.

The personnel administrator shall, not later than two weeks after the receipt of a personnel schedule approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means, notify said committees of the action taken by the personnel administrator regarding new permanent or temporary positions or reallocations of positions contained in said schedules.

The commissioner of administration shall file, when appropriate, a recommended schedule of all seasonal positions and titles as defined in section one of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, excess quota positions, and positions and titles to be appointed for a period of ninety days or less with the house and senate committees on ways and means. No seasonal position, excess quota position or position to be appointed for less than ninety days shall be hired by a state agency until it has been authorized by a schedule approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means. Until such time as a new schedule is so approved, the previous schedule shall remain in effect. Seasonal positions, excess quota positions and positions for a period of ninety days or less, so approved, shall be allowed in addition to permanent and temporary positions.

Nothing in this section shall be interpreted so as to affect any employee's civil service rights. Any employee who exercises any such right to return to a permanent position in any agency shall be allowed to exercise such right, notwithstanding the fact that such agency may have filled all the permanent and temporary positions allowed pursuant to this section. In such circumstances, said commissioner shall file a notice of the exercise of such right, including the position, number and agency affected, with the house and senate committees on ways and means.

State agencies are hereby authorized to transfer any authorized job title from the list of vacant titles to and from the list of scheduled permanent and temporary positions, subject only to notification of the personnel administrator and subject to the total number of permanent and temporary positions allowed under this section.

The provisions of this section, and of clause (d) of paragraph (4) of section forty-five of chapter thirty of the General Laws shall not apply to any office or position in the general court, the office of the governor, the office of the lieutenant governor, the office of the state secretary, the office of the state auditor, the office of the attorney general, the office of the state treasurer and any office or position included in item 5095-0100.

SECTION 19. Notwithstanding the provisions of section six of chapter fifteen A and of section twenty-nine of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws to the contrary, all departments, offices, commissions, and institutions may transfer monies designated to subsidiary accounts within appropriations made in section two of this act without the prior approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means. The budget director of the fiscal affairs division shall report quarterly to the house and senate committees on ways and means any transfer of monies between subsidiary accounts for each item of appropriation contained in said section two.

SECTION 20. The rate setting commission is hereby authorized and directed to assume the costs incurred in the transfer of the responsibilities previously contracted for by said commission pursuant to section five of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A of the General Laws, subject to the reimbursement pursuant to section sixty-five of chapter six A of the General Laws, in an amount not to exceed the sum appropriated for this purpose in item 4100-0010 in section two of this act.

SECTION 21. Notwithstanding any special or general law to the contrary, no agency of the executive branch shall expend funds in excess of five hundred dollars for costs of printing, photocopying or for related graphic art or design work without the prior approval of the print review board within the purchasing agent's division of the executive office for administration and finance. The commissioner of administration may charge other such agencies for the cost of printing, photocopying and related graphic art or design work produced by the bureau of central services; provided, that the proceeds received from such charges not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six shall be credited to the central supply fund. Any charges so received by the commissioner of administration in excess of two hundred thousand dollars shall be credited to the General Fund. The purchasing agent is hereby authorized to incur liabilities and incidental expenses for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six for the purchase of printing and graphic art supplies and equipment. The comptroller may certify for payment such incidental expenses and liabilities so incurred to an amount not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars in addition to any amount provided in this act. The purchasing agent is hereby authorized and directed to file quarterly reports with the house and senate committees on ways and means stating the total amount charged to agencies under this section in the previous quarter and a detailed list of liabilities incurred by said purchasing agent pursuant to this section.

SECTION 22. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the commissioner of administration is authorized and directed to investigate and identify programs administered by state agencies which consider income, financial resources or both in determining eligibility therefor, and to propose other programs for inclusion in a wage reporting and bank match system, provided that he deems the inclusion of such program in the reporting system to be cost-effective, by submitting a proposal to the house and senate committees on ways and means. If within fourteen days of receipt of any such proposal no action has been taken by the house or senate committees on ways and means, the commissioner of administration may incorporate into the reporting system the program covered by the proposal. The commissioner of administration is authorized and directed to enter into such interagency agreements as he deems necessary to incorporate such additional programs into said reporting system.

The commissioner of revenue is hereby authorized and directed to design, develop, implement and operate a wage reporting and bank match system, hereinafter referred to as the reporting system, for the purpose of verifying financial eligibility of participants in those state or federally funded programs listed in sections three and four of chapter sixty-two E of the General Laws and in such other programs as may be identified and approved for such procedure pursuant to the first paragraph hereof.

The commissioner of revenue is hereby further authorized and directed to enter into such interagency agreements with other agencies of the commonwealth as said commissioner deems necessary to facilitate the implementation and utilization of the reporting system. Such written agreements shall include provisions requiring such agencies, their subgrantees, or local administering agencies, including local housing authorities to provide at a date specified by the commissioner a list of persons receiving benefits from such programs. Information in such lists shall include the recipient's name, social security number and other data required to assure positive identification. Such information shall be utilized in the reporting system as a post audit mechanism for the purpose of verifying eligibility and detecting and preventing fraud, error and abuse in said programs, or additional programs, included by the commissioner of administration. Said agencies, their subgrantees, or local administering agencies, including local housing authorities, are hereby authorized and directed to obtain and provide to the commissioner of revenue the information requested for the purposes of this reporting system.

ACTS, 1985. - Chap. 140.

Under the bank match system, the commissioner of revenue shall annually request in writing from the treasurer of every federal or state commercial or savings bank, including savings and loan associations and cooperative banks, federal or state credit unions, benefit associations, insurance or safe deposit companies or any other similar entity authorized to do business in the commonwealth, the amount deposited in such corporation, association or other entity to the credit of the persons listed in such request. Such listing shall include the names and other identifying data of persons receiving benefits under the foregoing programs and transmitted by the administering agencies to the commissioner of revenue for the purpose of verifying financial eligibility and detecting and preventing fraud, error and abuse in said programs. Said treasurer shall furnish said information within thirty days of the commissioner's request.

The said treasurers shall also furnish, upon request of the commissioner of revenue from time to time, the record of deposits and withdrawals during the past five years of any person listed in such request.

If any of the treasurers fail, without reasonable cause, to comply with such reporting requirements after notification by certified mail return receipt requested, and such failure continues for more than fifteen business days after mailing of such notification of the failure to comply, without reasonable cause, or if such treasurer willfully renders false information in reply to such request, said treasurer shall be liable for a penalty of one thousand dollars.

The commissioner of revenue shall examine the data available to him under the reporting system; make positive identification of cases in which recipients of programs included in the reporting system are receiving wages or have other assets in excess of any threshold requirement established by the administering agency or agencies, and furnish such agency or agencies the cases of recipients so identified. The information furnished to such agency or agencies shall include the name of the recipient, social security number and other data to assure positive identification, the name and identification number of the employer or the name and location of the state and federally chartered savings banks, state and federally chartered savings and loan associations, cooperative banks, state and federally chartered credit unions, trust companies, national banking associations, benefit associations, insurance companies or safe deposit companies, and the amount of wages received or amount of financial resources. Upon the receipt of such information, such agencies, and where appropriate, local administering agencies or local housing authorities, shall seek to verify the accuracy of the information presented in accordance with regulations promulgated by the fraudulent claims commission within the executive office for administration and finance which shall include the requirement of consultation with the recipient whose status is in question. If after such informal inquiry an agency, or where appropriate, local administering agencies or local housing authorities, determine that a recipient has incorrectly received benefits under such a program, such agency shall take appropriate formal action in accordance with state and federal law to correct the error, including, but not limited to termination of benefits. No adverse action shall be taken against any recipient in the unemployment insurance benefits program or the public assistance program of the department of public welfare, except after affording such recipient full opportunity to contest such action in accordance with law, including prior notice and hearing. No adverse action shall be taken against recipients in the other programs included in the reporting system except after meeting with such recipients, providing them with an explanation for the proposed action, detailing the evidence upon which the action is based, and allowing for any other procedures which an administering agency uses to take an adverse action against a recipient in its program.

When any agency has probable cause to believe that the receipt of incorrect benefits under any such program was a result of a fraudulent action by the recipient, such agency shall refer the case to the bureau of special investigations for further action in accordance with regulations promulgated by the fraudulent claims commission. Such regulations shall provide for consideration of the willingness of the recipient to make restitution or to submit to voluntary recoupment and shall include guidelines and procedures for administrative action and recoupment. The fraudulent claims commission shall promulgate said regulations in accordance with section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws and after consultation with agencies as to how the financial solvency and the maintenance of integrity of their programs can be best served by restitution and referrals.

The director of the bureau of special investigations shall have access to agency, subgrantee or local administering agencies' records and accounts at reasonable times and may require the production of books, documents and vouchers by agencies, subgrantees and local administering agencies, relating to any matter within the scope of an investigation pursuant to this section.

Whenever the bureau finds probable cause to believe that a person has engaged in fraud in any such program, the bureau may, pursuant to procedures established by said commission, notify other state agencies of such information so that such state agencies may investigate whether such person has engaged in fraud in other programs.

No employee or agent of the commonwealth shall divulge any information referred to in this section, except in the manner herein prescribed, to any public or private agency or individual; provided, however that information may be disclosed and shared by and between any employee of an administering agency and any subgrantee, local administering agency, or any local housing authority for the purpose of verifying eligibility and detecting and preventing fraud, error and abuse in the programs included in the reporting system. Unauthorized disclosure of any such information shall be a violation punishable by a fine of one hundred dollars per offense; provided that the unauthorized release of such information about any individual shall be a separate offense from information released about any other individual. Such unauthorized release of information shall also be cause for administrative discipline of any employee who engages in such unauthorized release.

The commissioner of revenue shall file quarterly reports with the house and senate committees on ways and means describing the status of said system and a plan to implement it. The commissioner may process only a sample of the caseload of a program, when this method is determined to be cost-effective, provided that prior notification of such sampling technique is provided to the house and senate committees on ways and means.

Where the provisions of the wage reporting system established pursuant to chapter sixty-two E of the General Laws conflict with the provisions set forth in this section, the provisions set forth in this section shall govern.

SECTION 23. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, a housing authority, as defined by section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, is hereby authorized to purchase materials, supplies, or services pursuant to the consolidated supply program of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development; provided, however, that the provisions of section thirty-nine M of chapter thirty, and sections forty-four A to forty-four H, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws shall not apply to such purchases; and provided, further, that no such purchase shall be undertaken if the amount involved therein is one thousand dollars or over, unless a notice thereof shall have been posted, not less than one week prior to the time of said purchase in a conspicuous place on or near the premises of the officer having charge of any such housing authority making such purchase, and, if the amount therein is in excess of five thousand dollars, unless such a notice shall also have been posted at least once not less than two weeks prior to the time so specified; and published at such other times prior thereto, if any, as the commissioner of administration shall direct, in the central register published by the state secretary pursuant to section twenty of chapter nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 24. Any reduction in the work force within the mental health centers and hospitals within the department of mental health, exclusive of Northampton State Hospital, shall consist of nondirect care positions and positions not providing services to patients.

SECTION 25. Each department, office, institution or agency assigned a single subsidiary account entitled "00 Subsidiary Expenditures" shall file a quarterly report with the commissioner of administration, the budget bureau, the comptroller, the appropriate executive office, if any, and the house and senate committees on ways and means which shall contain a listing of actual expenditures by each subsidiary account for the prior quarter and the year to date and a revised spending plan for the balance of the fiscal year. Each such report shall be filed within thirty days of the close of each quarter. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the offices of the governor, the general court and the supreme judicial court. Except as otherwise provided in section eighteen of this act, each department, office, institution or agency listed in this section shall be subject to the authorization by the house and senate committees on ways and means of personnel schedules as provided in this act. Single subsidiary accounts of "00 Subsidiary Expenditures" will apply to the legislature, the office of the governor, the supreme judicial court, the appeals court, the Lawrence Experimental Station, and the following line-items: 0330-0300, 0610-0000, 1100-1100, 1101-2100, 4380-0001.

SECTION 26. The department of public welfare shall provide for coverage under chapter one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws, of psychiatric institutional services for children under the age of twenty-one. The department shall implement this benefit with administrative requirements to ensure appropriate provision and utilization of such services to persons eligible under the law. Such requirements may include but need not be limited to utilization review and case management. The department shall report on the status of the provision of coverage of such services quarterly to the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 27. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, hospitals within the department of public health may expend certain revenues without further appropriation, subject to the approval of the commissioner of public health and the state comptroller, and further subject to the following schedule, for patient care. Each hospital shall report the amounts of revenue generated from the collection of charges for services from third party reimbursements and from individuals, by category of payor, and a detailed summary of the expenditures made by each hospital for inpatient care. Such reports shall be filed quarterly with the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means. The hospitals and the authorized amounts of revenues to be expended are as follows: for Lakeville Hospital, revenues in excess of four million eight hundred and five thousand dollars but not exceeding five million five hundred and ninety thousand dollars; for Lemuel Shattuck Hospital, revenues in excess of seven million three hundred thousand dollars but not exceeding eight million seven hundred and thirty thousand dollars; for the Massachusetts Hospital School, revenues in excess of two million eight hundred and forty thousand dollars but not exceeding three million two hundred thousand dollars; for Rutland Heights Hospital, revenues in excess of three million five hundred thousand dollars but not exceeding four million four hundred thousand dollars; for Tewksbury Hospital, revenues in excess of ten million six hundred and five thousand dollars but not exceeding twelve million one hundred and seventy thousand dollars; for Western Massachusetts Hospital, revenues in excess of three million seven hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars but not exceeding four million two hundred and ninety thousand dollars; and for Cushing Hospital, revenues in excess of five million twenty thousand dollars but not exceeding five million eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Any remaining balances of the amounts available to the hospitals within the department, at the end of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five, pursuant to section sixty-one of chapter two hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four, shall not revert to the General Fund, but shall be available to said hospitals within the department for the purposes provided herein during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 28. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the commissioner of administration is hereby authorized during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six to incur liabilities and incidental expenses for the purchase or rental of telecommunication lines, services and equipment in an amount not to exceed one million dollars, and is further authorized during said fiscal year to charge to other items of appropriation such costs as necessary to fairly allocate the costs of certain telecommunication lines, services and equipment that are centrally billed to the commonwealth. Amounts received from charges made against other items of appropriation shall be credited to the telecommunications account to be established by the comptroller. Said comptroller, with the approval of the commissioner of administration, may certify for payment such incidental expenses and liabilities incurred by the commissioner on behalf of state agencies for certain telecommunications services and equipment.

SECTION 29. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, monies received by the commonwealth from rentals, commission fees, parking fees and from any and all other sources pertaining to the operation of the state transportation building shall be credited on the books of the commonwealth to a fund to be known as the State Transportation Building Management Fund. Said fund shall be used for maintenance and operation of said building.

The division of capital planning and operations shall enter into a contract for the provision of building management services for the operation and maintenance of the state transportation building with one of the public agency tenants of said building, which agency shall have experience in operating building facilities.

The building manager shall collect all monies payable to the commonwealth relating to the operation of the State Transportation Building and deposit the same in the State Transportation Building Management Fund and may expend, without further appropriation, such monies from said fund as may be required to meet expenses for the maintenance and operation of said building provided, however, that such monies collected in excess of seven million five hundred thousand dollars shall be transferred to the General Fund; and provided, further, that any remaining balance of the amount available to said building manager at the end of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five shall not revert to the commonwealth and shall be available to said building manager for use on the purposes as provided herein during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

The division of capital planning and operations shall file, on a quarterly basis, an itemization of all such expenditures from the fund with the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

No person other than a licensed supplier shall maintain storage facilities for aircraft fuel and dispense aircraft fuel therefrom into any fuel tank attached to an aircraft unless such person is the holder of an uncanceled license as a user-seller issued by the commissioner.

No person shall sell or deliver aircraft fuel within this commonwealth to a licensed user-seller unless such person is the holder of an uncanceled license as a supplier issued by the commissioner.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 145.

Section 3. Each licensee shall keep a complete and accurate record of all purchases, sales and use of aircraft fuel, including the name and address of the person accepting delivery of said aircraft fuel to be used in an aircraft in the commonwealth, its place and date of delivery, the gross sales price or cost and the number of gallons of aircraft fuel purchased, sold and used and the complete and accurate record of the number of gallons imported, produced, refined, manufactured or compounded and the date of the importation, production, refining, manufacturing or compounding.

Every licensee shall also present with every consignment of aircraft fuel or delivery of the same to any person other than himself a written statement containing the date of the sale or use within the commonwealth, the date of delivery, the name of the person making the delivery and the name of the person receiving the same, the gross sales price and the number of gallons of aircraft fuel delivered and shall retain a duplicate of each such statement. In the case of use of aircraft fuel by the licensee himself, he shall keep an accurate record of all the deliveries received by him and the names and addresses of the persons from whom he received the same, giving the dates of deliveries, the cost of the aircraft fuel delivered and the number of gallons of such fuel involved in each delivery. Such records and written statements shall be in such form as the commissioner shall prescribe and shall be preserved by said licensees for a period of three years and shall be offered for inspection at any time upon oral or written demand by the commissioner or his duly authorized agent.

Section 4. At the time of filing a return required by section sixteen of chapter sixty-two C, every licensee shall pay to the commissioner an excise at the tax per gallon determined by the commissioner upon each gallon of aircraft fuel sold or used by him in any city or town within the commonwealth that has adopted the provisions of this chapter in accordance with section thirteen.

Section 5. Any person who shall buy any aircraft fuel on which an excise has been paid or is chargeable under this chapter, and shall consume the same in any manner except in the operation of an aircraft, shall be reimbursed the amount of said excise in the manner and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth. All claims for reimbursement shall be for not less than one dollar, shall be made by affidavit in such form and containing such information as the commissioner shall prescribe, and shall be accompanied by original invoices or sales receipts of aircraft fuel. The commissioner may require such further information as he shall deem necessary for the determination of such claims, and shall transmit all claims approved by him to the comptroller for certification; and the amount approved by the commissioner and certified as aforesaid shall be paid forthwith from the proceeds of the excise tax levied under this chapter, without specific appropriation.

Section 6. Except as otherwise provided in section five, the tax in every instance shall be borne by the purchaser, and no person offering aircraft fuel for sale shall sell, advertise or offer for sale said aircraft fuel separately from the tax imposed by this chapter. For any violation of this section, the license to keep and sell crude petroleum or any of its

Section 7. Any person who violates any provision of this chapter for which a penalty is not otherwise provided shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 8. Whenever any licensee ceases to be a supplier or user-seller within the commonwealth by reason of the discontinuance, sale or transfer of the business of such licensee, he shall give notice thereof in writing to the commissioner. Such notice shall contain the date of discontinuance, and, in the event of a sale or transfer of the business, the date thereof and the name and address of the purchaser or transferee thereof. All taxes, penalties and interest due and payable under this chapter and current taxes shall, notwithstanding such provisions, become due and payable concurrently with such discontinuance, sale or transfer, and any such licensee shall make a return and pay all such taxes, interest and penalties, and shall surrender to the commissioner his license.

Unless such notice is given to the commissioner, the purchaser or transferee shall be liable to the commonwealth for the amount of all taxes, penalties and interest accrued under this chapter on the date of such sale or transfer against any such licensee, but only to the extent of the value of the property thereby acquired from such licensee.

Section 9. Any person not licensed under this chapter who delivers to any person other than a licensee under this chapter aircraft fuel upon which the tax due hereunder has not been paid, knowing, or who reasonably should know, that such aircraft fuel is to be used or sold for the purpose of propelling aircraft, shall be liable for the tax imposed by this chapter.

Any user who shall acquire aircraft fuel in the commonwealth for the purpose of propelling aircraft owned or leased by him upon which aircraft fuel the tax due hereunder has not been paid shall be liable for the tax imposed by this chapter, and the commissioner may collect said tax either from the seller thereof or from said user of aircraft fuel.

Section 10. No provision of this chapter shall apply or be construed to apply to foreign or interstate commerce, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution and laws of the United States.

Section 11. The supreme judicial or the superior court shall have jurisdiction to restrain the collection, upon any sale exempted by the constitution and laws of the United States, of the excise imposed by this chapter. The complaint shall be brought against the commissioner, whether the question of the collection of the excise is in the hands of the attorney general or pending before the appellate tax board or is still in the hands of the commissioner.

Section 12. All sums received under this chapter as excise, penalties or forfeitures, interest, costs of suit and fines shall be paid to the commissioner at the time required for filing required by section sixteen of chapter sixty-two C, and shall at least semi-annually, be distributed, credited and paid by the state treasurer upon certification of the commissioner to each city or town that has adopted the provisions of this chapter in accordance with section thirteen in proportion to the amount of such sums received from the sale or use of aircraft fuel in each such city or town.

Section 13. The provisions of this chapter relative to the imposition, payment, collection and distribution of an excise tax on the sale or use of aircraft fuel shall apply in a city after acceptance by a majority vote of the city council with the approval of the mayor, in the case of a city with a Plan A, Plan B, or Plan F charter; by a majority vote of the city council, in the case of a city with a Plan C, Plan D or Plan E charter; by a majority vote of the annual town meeting or a special meeting called for the purpose, in the case of a municipality with a town meeting form of government; or by a majority vote of the town council, in the case of a municipality with a town council form of government. The provisions of this chapter shall take effect on the first day of the first calendar month following such acceptance; provided, however, that such day is at least fifteen days after such acceptance; and, provided further, that if such day is less than fifteen days after such acceptance it shall take effect on the first day of the second calendar month following such acceptance.

Section 14. Any city or town accepting the provisions of this chapter pursuant to section thirteen shall also establish a reserve to provide for extraordinary and unforeseen expenditures. Prior to the date when the tax rate for a fiscal year is fixed each city or town shall include in the appropriations for such fiscal year as a segregated reserve fund a sum not less than one per cent nor more than five per cent of the tax levy of the then current fiscal year; provided, however, that the amount required to be appropriated for such reserve fund in any fiscal year may be reduced by the amount, if any, remaining in the reserve fund established for the preceding fiscal year after all transfers have been made therefrom as hereinafter authorized, and such remaining amount shall be retained in the reserve fund provided for such fiscal year. Any direct draft or transfer against this fund shall be made by the mayor only with the approval of the city council, and in a city having a Plan D or Plan E form of charter only after approval by the city council with the consent of the city manager, or by the appropriating authority as specified in the charter of the city or town. Each draft or transfer made by the mayor, manager or board of selectmen shall be accompanied by written documentation detailing the amount of such draft or transfer and an explanation of the reason for the draft or transfer. If the reserve fund for a fiscal year beginning on or after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, is exhausted through transfers and the city incurs an appropriation or revenue deficit in such fiscal year, the reserve fund appropriation requirement shall increase by fifty per cent for the fiscal year following such fiscal year up to an amount no greater than five per cent of the tax levy of the current fiscal year. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the reserve fund established pursuant to this section shall become effective for the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Parents or guardians of students in special education programs may waive, on behalf of such students, the testing requirements of this section, after such parents or guardians and students have been informed in writing of the consequences of such a waiver.

The board shall be responsible for the development of all tests required under this section and shall deliver at no cost to each school district an amount of test instruments sufficient to permit the testing of each student required to be tested under this section.

The results of both the curriculum testing and basic skills testing required by this section shall be a part of the basis for the annual assessment by the board of each school and school district, as provided for in section forty-nine.

Each school district shall administer all tests required pursuant to this section in accordance with the instructions of the board, and shall be reimbursed for reasonable costs incurred thereby in accordance with section sixty of this chapter.

Such funds shall not be used for current operating costs, supplies, utilities, existing building and equipment maintenance, existing staff salaries and wages, or to supplant current school costs.

At each school the expenditure of said funds shall be determined exclusively by a council consisting of the school principal who shall serve as chairman; three teachers, elected annually by the teachers of the building; two parents of children attending said school building chosen in elections held annually by the local parent-teacher organization under the direction of the principal of such school or, if none exists chosen by the school committee, and one person who is not a parent of a child attending said school building, appointed by the school committee.

To the extent possible said councils shall be broadly representative of the racial and ethnic diversity of the school building and community.

All decisions of the local school improvement council regarding the expenditure of funds under this section shall be submitted to the school committee who may veto same by a majority recorded vote. The operation of the councils shall be subject to the provisions of section eleven A one-half of chapter thirty A, sections thirty-five to forty-six A, inclusive, of chapter forty-four and section ten of chapter sixty-six.

Proposals which provide matching funds from local, federal and private sources shall be given priority. Each school committee applying for funds for a dropout prevention program shall appoint an advisory council comprised of parents, teachers, administrators and representatives of business, labor, higher education and other community agencies. Council members shall be broadly representative of the racial and ethnic diversity of the commonwealth. The advisory council shall assist in the development of the application proposal and in program implementation.

The board shall evaluate proposals, provide technical assistance. Programs and services provided under this section shall supplement, not supplant, programs and services provided under chapters seventy-one A, seventy-one B, and seventy-four. Seventy-five per cent of funds appropriated for the essential skills grant programs shall be allocated to the basic skills remediation programs, and twenty-five per cent of said funds shall be allocated to dropout prevention programs.

Such combined programs may include, but not be limited to, extended day programs and day care programs in schools. In the case of transitional classrooms, no child shall be required to participate in such classroom beyond age six without the permission of parents or guardians. Programs approved under the provisions of this section shall be funded for a two year period, subject to appropriation.

At least seventy-five per cent of the funds appropriated for grants awarded under this section shall be allocated to programs serving low income sites, as determined by the board. Criteria for determining what constitutes a low income site shall include, but not be limited to, the same criteria which are used to qualify schools for Chapter 1 of the Federal Education Consolidation and Improvement Act of 1981.

Funds under this provision shall be used to assist current pre-kindergarten programs or to supplement and establish new programs in pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and transitional first grade.

The board shall establish standards for pre-kindergarten programs which meet or exceed the existing office for children standards for programs which serve three and four year old children in whole and half day programs.

School committees applying for funds under this grant program shall appoint an advisory council comprised of a principal, teacher, parent, a member of the local resource and referral agency and others with experience in the care and education of young children. Council members shall be broadly representative of the racial and ethnic diversity of the community. The council shall develop a proposal for funds which shall be approved by the school committee.

School committees may contract with other public and private agencies for services, provided that any teacher employed by the contracting school committee in pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and transitional first grade classes is not displaced as a result of such contract.

Proposals which describe linkages with other human service agencies and which seek to combine a number of funding sources shall be given priority by the board. Other agencies and programs may include, but are not limited to, state and federal nutrition programs, public health programs, and state funded day care programs.

Applications for said grants shall include the following: a statement of need, a description of unmet needs and existing resources, program objectives and implementation plan, evaluation and dissemination components, contractual arrangements with other service providers, and linkages and funding arrangements with other public or private agencies. ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 188.

direct service expenditure per pupil in regular day programs in all cities, towns and regional school districts of the same classification of school districts, except vocational schools, multiplied by the sum of weighted full time equivalent pupils in each such city, town or regional school district, or (b) if such minimum had been the product of eighty-five per cent of the average direct service expenditure per pupil in vocational education programs in cities, towns, regional school districts and independent vocational schools of the vocational schools classification of school district multiplied by the sum of weighted full time equivalent pupils in each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school, and (2) the actual amount so expended.

Immediately after completing the calculations required, the said commissioner shall determine and certify to the commissioner of administration (1) each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school in which the actual amount expended was less than the minimum amount which should have been expended and (2) an amount equal to the difference between the minimum amount which should have been so expended and the actual amount so expended.

Section 4. One-sixth of the amount determined to be the difference between the minimum amount which should have been expended and the actual amount so expended as calculated pursuant to section three shall be made available by the department as an equal educational opportunity grant in the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, to each city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school which is certified as provided in the last paragraph of section three. In the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, and in each fiscal year thereafter, the amount of the grant shall be equal to the total of the amount of the grant in the preceding fiscal year and an additional amount for the current fiscal year equal to one-sixth of the amount so determined for the most recent year in accordance with section three, between the minimum amount which should have been so expended and the actual amount so expended.

The equal educational opportunity grant shall be deposited with the treasurer of such city, town, regional school district or independent vocational school to be expended by the school committee, without further appropriation, for the purpose of increasing direct service expenditures for pupils in public schools.

Section 5. Each city, town or district, which accepts, by majority vote of both the school committee and the appropriating authority of such city or town, and each regional school district which accepts by majority vote of the school committee and by majority vote of two-thirds of the appropriating authorities of the member towns and cities an equal educational opportunity grant made available under the provisions of section four shall expend for direct service expenditures for pupils in public school in the current year, an amount which is at least as great as the sum of (1) the product of the number of weighted full time equivalent pupils for the current year multiplied by the amount expended per weighted full time equivalent pupil in the preceding fiscal year, including amounts received under the provisions of section four in that year, and (2) a proportionate share of the excess of the sum of any increase in the total of school aid and additional assistance received by such city, town, or regional school district and any increase in the property tax levy in such city or town in the current fiscal year over the sum of increases in the costs of debt service, court judgments, and pensions in the current fiscal year over the preceding fiscal year; or an amount sufficient to reduce by one-third the difference between the minimum amount of direct service expenditures as determined by the commissioner of education under section three and the actual amount expended in the preceding fiscal year for direct service expenditures by such city, town, or regional school district. For the purposes of this paragraph, "proportionate share" shall mean the proportion which (a) direct service expenditures for pupils in public schools in the preceding fiscal year less the total amount received pursuant to section four in said preceding fiscal year bears to (b) the sum total of school aid and additional assistance received by such city, town, or regional school district in said preceding fiscal year and the total property tax levy of such city or town in said preceding fiscal year.

In order for a city, town or district which does not qualify for an equal educational opportunity grant under the provisions of section four in the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six to so qualify in any fiscal year thereafter such city or town must expend in the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six and in each fiscal year thereafter an amount which is at least as great as the sum of (1) the product of the number of weighted full time equivalent pupils for the current year multiplied by the amount expended per weighted full time equivalent pupil in the preceding fiscal year and (2) a proportionate share of the excess of the sum of any increase in the total of school aid and additional assistance received by such city or town and any increase in the property tax levy in such city or town in the current fiscal year over the sum of increases in the costs of debt service, court judgments, and pensions in the current fiscal year over the preceding fiscal year. For the purposes of this paragraph, "proportionate share" shall mean the proportion which total expenditures for all pupils in all programs, as defined in section two of chapter seventy, in the preceding fiscal year bears to the sum of the total of school aid and additional assistance received by such city or town in the preceding fiscal year and the total property tax levy of such city or town in the preceding fiscal year.

In order for a regional school district or independent vocational school which does not qualify for an equal educational opportunity grant under the provisions of section four in the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six to so qualify in any fiscal year thereafter, such regional school district or independent vocational school shall expend in the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six and in each fiscal year thereafter an amount per weighted full time equivalent pupil not less than the amount per such pupil expended in the preceding fiscal year and any increase in the total of school and regional school aid received by such regional school district or independent vocational school in that fiscal year.

In cases where unusual changes in enrollment or educational costs occur and the requirements of the preceding paragraph would impose an

Payments shall be made to each such town in the same proportions of such excess as those in which deficits were apportioned to each of such towns under the provisions of said section six. If there should be a net surplus remaining at the end of any fiscal year after the payment of all costs of operation and the aforesaid reimbursements, such net surplus shall be applied to pay costs of operation for the district for the succeeding fiscal year. SECTION 6. If for any reason the revenues and available funds of the district, including revenues from prices and rates for the use of water as provided in section five hereof, shall be determined by the board of water commissioners not to be sufficient to pay the full cost of operation of the district, said board of water commissioners shall levy a tax upon the property of the district, and promptly thereafter the clerk

A certified list of the estates exempt from taxation under the provisions of this section shall be sent by said board of water commissioners to said assessors, at the same time at which the clerk shall send a certified copy of the vote as aforesaid. The assessments shall be committed to the respective town collectors, who shall collect said tax in the manner provided by law for the collection of town taxes, and shall deposit the proceeds thereof with the district treasurer for the use and benefit of the district. The district may collect interest on overdue taxes in the manner in which interest is authorized to be collected on town taxes, provided the board of water commissioners at the time of voting to levy the tax shall so determine and shall also fix a time when said tax is due.

SECTION 7. The management and control of all property acquired by, and the exercise of all the powers, privileges and duties conferred upon, the district pursuant to any of the provisions of this act shall be vested in and exercised by a board of water commissioners which shall be constituted as provided in section eight; provided, that no vote of the board of water commissioners authorizing the issue of bonds or notes under the provisions of section four, other than for temporary borrowings in anticipation of revenue, shall become effective before the expiration of twenty days from the date on which notice of such vote, stating the principal amount of the bonds or notes to be issued and the purposes of such issue, shall have been published in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the towns of Dedham and Westwood. If no petition as hereinafter provided for relative to any such vote is filed within said period of twenty days, such vote shall become effective upon the expiration of said period. If within said period a petition signed by registered voters of the towns of Dedham and Westwood at least equal in number to twenty per cent of the total number of such registered voters in the district shall be filed with the clerk of the district asking that the question of approving or disapproving such vote be submitted to the voters of the towns of Dedham and Westwood, such vote shall be further suspended from becoming effective and the board of water commissioners shall forthwith request the respective selectmen of the towns of Dedham and Westwood to call town meetings in their respective towns to act upon the question of approving or disapproving such order. The selectmen of the towns of Dedham and Westwood shall thereupon call town meetings of their respective towns for the purposes specified in such request. If a vote of the district submitted as aforesaid shall be approved by a majority of those voting at each of such town meetings, or shall be approved by a majority of those voting at one of such meetings and disapproved by less than two-thirds of those voting at the other one of such town meeting, such vote shall at once become effective, but not otherwise in case of such petition.

SECTION 8. The board of water commissioners provided for in section seven shall consist of six members, three of whom shall be inhabitants of and registered voters in the town of Dedham and three of whom shall be inhabitants of and registered voters in the town of Westwood. Beginning January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven and annually thereafter one inhabitant of and registered voter in each town shall be appointed by the board of selectmen of that town to serve as a member of the board of water commissioners for the term of three years, or until a successor is appointed and qualified. Members of the board of water commissioners shall serve without pay but may be compensated for their actual expenses as approved by the board of water commissioners.

The district acting through its initial board of water commissioners shall promptly adopt bylaws describing by whom and how meetings of the board may be called, notified and conducted, establish rules and regulations for the management of its affairs not inconsistent with this act or any other provision of law, shall appoint, each for such term as it may determine, a clerk and a treasurer of the district, and such other officers and employees not specifically provided for in this act as it may deem necessary and proper and shall fix their compensation. The treasurer shall not be a member of the board of water commissioners and shall give bond to the district in such amount as may be approved by said board with a surety company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth as surety. At meetings of the board of water commissioners four members, of which two must be from the town of Dedham and two must be from the town of Westwood shall constitute a quorum. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the board of water commissioners from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by the board of selectmen entitled to appoint such member. No vacancy occurring in the membership of the board of water commissioners shall disqualify the board of water commissioners from taking any action authorized or permitted by this act.

In appointing officers and employees of the district, if it shall have taken by eminent domain or otherwise acquired the properties of the Dedham Water Company, the district, in its sole discretion, may give preferential recognition to the prior experience in the employment of employees of the Dedham Water Company at the time of said taking or acquisition.

The district shall annually prepare and provide to the board of selectmen of both of the towns of Dedham and Westwood and to each user of water in the district who requests the same a written report of the condition of the system, the actions of the board of water commissioners and the receipts and expenditures of the district for the preceding fiscal year. The district shall furnish the selectmen of the towns of Dedham and Westwood with such other information as to the condition of the system, the actions of the board of water commissioners and the district and the receipts and expenditures of the district as may be reasonably requested by the selectmen of either of said towns, and such information shall be furnished within a reasonable time after receipt of such a request.

SECTION 9. Whoever wilfully or wantonly corrupts, pollutes or diverts any water obtained or supplied under this act, or wilfully or wantonly injures any reservoir, well, standpipe, aqueduct, pipe or other property owned or used by the district for any of the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to the district three times the amount of damages assessed therefor, to be recovered in an action of tort, and upon conviction of any of the above wilful or wanton acts shall be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 10. The district, upon the acceptance of this act as hereinafter provided by the towns of Dedham and Westwood, is hereby authorized and empowered to purchase all the rights, franchises, privileges, and properties, tangible and intangible, real and personal, including furniture and equipment, inventories and material supplies, of the Dedham Water Company, at a price and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the district and said corporation. In the event that the district shall elect to purchase such rights and properties, it shall give said corporation written notice of such intention, addressed to such corporation at its principal place of business, mailed by registered mail, postage prepaid. If at the expiration of sixty days after the date of such notice the district and said corporation shall have been unable to agree upon the price for such rights and properties, the district may take the same by eminent domain, or by purchase pursuant to the rights described below.

In addition to the right of the district to take or otherwise acquire the rights, franchises and properties of the Dedham Water Company as above provided, the district shall have the right, with the consent of said corporation and its stockholders, to purchase at a price to be agreed upon between the district and said corporation or its stockholders all the outstanding capital stock of said corporation for the sole purpose of dissolving and liquidating said corporation and immediately acquiring by transfer all its franchises, properties, rights, powers and privileges. Such purchase may, but need not necessarily be, conditioned upon the stockholders paying any excess of the current liabilities over current assets, discharging its tax liability and assuming all other liabilities, fixed or contingent.

The district shall not acquire the assets or capital stock of the Dedham Water Company pursuant to an agreed purchase price until said price shall have been approved by majority votes adopted at town meetings of each of the towns of Dedham and Westwood.

Failing agreement on a price as set out in the first three paragraphs of this section, the district may purchase the corporate property, rights and privileges of the Dedham Water Company pursuant to any one or more of the rights granted to the towns of Dedham and Westwood by section ten of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of eighteen hundred and seventy-six, as amended by chapter twelve of the acts of eighteen hundred and eighty-two, and by section five of Part I of chapter two hundred and forty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty. The purchase price for the corporate property, rights and privileges of the Dedham Water Company pursuant to the foregoing statutes shall be determined by the department of public utilities, subject to acceptance of said determination by the supreme judicial court. Upon tender of said purchase price by the district, the Dedham Water Company shall deliver to the district good and sufficient conveyances of all of its right, title and interest in all of its corporate privileges, rights and property. The provisions of this section shall be enforceable in equity in the event of refusal by the Dedham Water Company of said tender immediately upon the deposit by the district of the tendered purchase price with the clerk of the superior court in the county of Norfolk. A justice of said superior court may thereafter convey all of the right, title and interest of the Dedham Water Company in all of its corporate property, rights and privileges to the district.

No rights granted to the district by this section shall be deemed to diminish or supersede the rights of the town of Dedham under section ten of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of eighteen hundred and seventy-six, as amended by chapter twelve of the acts of eighteen hundred and eighty-two, or the rights of the town of Westwood under section five of Part I of chapter two hundred and forty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty, except that upon acquisition of the assets of the Dedham Water Company by the district said rights shall terminate.

SECTION 11. The acceptance of this act by the towns of Dedham and Westwood shall constitute an acceptance by the district of sections

SECTION 12. This act shall be accepted by each town in the same manner as is provided by section four of chapter four of the General Laws for acceptance of statutes by towns; provided both towns shall have accepted this act within four years after its passage.

SECTION 13. The provisions of this act are severable, and if any provision hereof shall be held invalid in any circumstances, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or circumstances. This act shall be construed in all respects so as to meet all constitutional requirements. In carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act, all steps shall be taken that are necessary to meet constitutional requirements whether or not such steps are required by statute.

SECTION 14. This section and sections twelve and thirteen shall take effect upon their passage, and the remaining sections shall take effect upon acceptance of this act by both of the towns of Dedham and Westwood as provided in section twelve.

SECTION 2. There is hereby established a temporary, nonexclusive, joint underwriting association consisting of all insurers authorized to write and engage in writing, within the commonwealth on a direct basis, personal injury liability insurance pursuant to the provisions of chapters ninety and one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws including insurers covering such perils in multiple peril packages policies. Every such insurer shall be a member of the association and shall remain a member as a condition of its authority to continue to transact such kind of insurance within the commonwealth. The purpose of the association shall be to provide liquor legal liability insurance on a self supporting basis.

SECTION 3. The association shall, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the plan of operation with respect to liquor legal liability insurance, on behalf of its members, issue or cause to be issued, policies of insurance to applicants, including incidental coverages and subject to limits as specified in the plan of operation, but not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars for each claimant under one policy and one million dollars for all claimants under one policy in any one cause of action to underwrite such insurance and to adjust and pay losses with respect thereto, to appoint service companies to perform these functions; to assume reinsurance from its members; and to assign reinsurance.

Said plan of operation shall provide for economic, fair and non-discriminatory administration, and for the prompt and efficient provision of liquor legal liability insurance, and shall contain other provisions including, but not limited to, preliminary assessment of all members for initial expenses necessary to commence operations, establishment of necessary facilities, management of the association, assessment of members to defray losses and expenses, commission arrangements, reasonable and objective underwriting standards, acceptance and cession of reinsurance, appointment of servicing carriers and procedures for determining amounts of insurance to be provided by the association. Said plan of operation shall establish specific limits of coverage based upon type of license, gross volume of liquor sales or service, employee participation in alcohol awareness training programs approved by the governing board of the association, and such other criteria as the directors shall develop. Said plan shall also provide for the offering of an installment payment plan for each policy which either gives the insured the option to pay the annual premium in a minimum of six monthly installments or gives the insured the option to pay the annual premium in a minimum of six monthly installments or gives the insured the option to pay the annual premium in four quarterly installments. Said plan shall also provide for sufficient levels of reserves achieved by the association. Amendments to the plan of operation may be made by the directors of the association subject to the approval of the commissioner, or shall be made at the direction of the commissioner.

Such application shall be made on behalf of an applicant by a broker or agent authorized by the applicant. If the association determines that the applicant meets the underwriting standards of the association as prescribed in the plan of operation, and there is no unpaid, uncontested premium due from the applicant for prior insurance as shown by the insured having failed to make written objection to premium charges within thirty days after billing, the association, upon receipt of the premium, or such portion thereof as is prescribed in the plan of operation, shall cause to be issued a policy of liquor legal liability insurance for a term of one year. The joint underwriting association shall establish and promulgate rules and regulations for a mandatory offer for insurance, and the criteria pertaining thereto under the provisions of this statute and subject to the approval of the commissioner.

SECTION 6. The rates, rating plans, rating rules, rating classifications and policy forms applicable to the insurance written by the association and statistics relating thereto shall be subject to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five A of the General Laws. Within such time as the commissioner shall direct, the association shall submit for the approval of the commissioner, in such form as he shall require, an initial filing, of policy forms applicable to liquor legal liability insurance to be written by the association. In the event the commissioner disapproves such initial filing, the association shall amend such filing, in whole or in part, in accordance with the direction of the commissioner. If the commissioner is unable to approve such filing or amended filing, within the time specified, he shall promulgate the policy forms, and rules to be used by the association in writing such insurance.

Any deficit sustained by the association in any one year shall be recouped, pursuant to the plan of operation and the rating plan then in effect by an assessment upon the policyholders, or a rate increase applicable prospectively, or both; provided however, that in no event shall a deficit incurred by the association be charged directly or indirectly, to any person other than the insured under a policy of liquor legal liability insurance; and provided, further, that for purposes of this sentence, when deficits sustained on account of liquor legal liability coverage are being recouped, the term "policyholders" shall mean all those licensees insured under a policy of liquor legal liability insurance, whether obtained through the joint underwriting association or not.

Effective after the initial year of operation, rates, rating plans and any provision for recoupment through policyholder assessment or premium rate increase, shall be based upon the association's loss and expense experience, and investment income from unearned premium and loss reserves together with such other information based upon such experience as the commissioner may deem appropriate. The resultant premium rates shall be on an actuarially sound basis and shall be calculated to be self-supporting. In the event that sufficient funds are not available for the sound financial operation of the association, pending recoupment as provided hereinbefore, all members shall, on a temporary basis contribute to the financial requirements of the association in the manner hereinafter provided. Any such contribution shall be reimbursed to the members following recoupment as provided in this section. The association shall offer policies on both a claims made and occurrence basis so that applicants may select either policy at their option; provided, however, that the rates charged for both claims made and occurrence policies shall be at rates established on an actuarially sound basis and which are calculated to be self-supporting.

SECTION 7. All insurers which are members of the association shall participate in its writings, expenses, and losses in the proportion that the net direct premiums of each such member, excluding that portion of premiums attributable to the operation of the association written during the preceding calendar year, bears to the aggregate net direct premiums written in the commonwealth by all members of the association. Each insurer's participation in the association shall be determined annually on the basis of such net direct premiums of each such member, excluding that portion of premiums attributable to the operation of the association written during the preceding calendar year, bears to the aggregate net direct premiums written in the commonwealth by all members of the association. Each insurer's participation in the association shall be determined annually on the basis of such net direct premiums written during the preceding calendar year, bears to the aggregate net direct premiums written in the commonwealth by all members of the association. Each insurer's participation in the association shall be determined annually on the basis of such net direct premiums written during the preceding calendar year, as reported in the annual statements and other reports filed by the insurer with the commissioner. No member shall be obligated in any one year to reimburse the association on account of its proportionate share in the deficit from operations of the association in that year in excess of one per cent of its surplus to policyholders and the aggregate amount not so reimbursed shall be reallocated among the remaining members in accordance with the method of determining participation prescribed in this chapter after excluding from the computation the total net direct premiums of all members not sharing in such excess deficit. In the event that the deficit from operation allocated to all members of the association in any calendar year shall exceed one per cent of their respective surplus to policyholders, the amount of such deficit shall be allocated to each member in accordance with the method of determining participation prescribed in this chapter.

SECTION 8. The association shall be governed by a board of thirteen directors, eight of whom shall be elected by cumulative voting by the members of the association, whose votes in such election shall be weighed in accordance with each member's net direct premiums written during the preceding calendar year. Four directors shall be appointed by the commissioner as representatives of the licensees. One shall be appointed by the commissioner as a representative of the insurance producers. The eight elected directors serving on the first board shall be elected at a meeting of members, or their authorized representatives, which shall be held at a time and place designated by the commissioner. The other five directors serving on the first board shall be appointed on or before the date of such meeting.

SECTION 9. Any applicant to the association, any person insured pursuant to this section, or their representatives, or any affected insurer, may appeal for review to the commissioner within thirty days after any ruling, action, or decision by or on behalf of the association, with respect to those items the plan of operation defines as appealable matters. On receipt of any such appeal, the commissioner shall, after due hearing and investigation enter such finding or decision as he deems shall best meet the purpose of this section.

SECTION 10. Any person aggrieved by any such finding, order or decision and any person aggrieved by any other rule or regulation of the commissioner made pursuant to this chapter may, within thirty days of the filing of any such finding, order, decision, rule or regulation in the office of the commissioner, appeal therefrom to the superior court for the county in which the complainant resides. Said estimated assessment shall be in an amount determined and certified by the commissioner as necessary to cover the costs to be incurred by the division of insurance in carrying out its responsibilities under sections one through twelve, inclusive, of this act. Chapter 277. AN ACT TO IMPLEMENT THE SETTLEMENT OF GAY HEAD INDIAN LAND CLAIMS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. It is hereby found and declared that:–

(a) there is pending before the United States Court for the District of Massachusetts a civil action that involves Indian claims to certain lands within the town of Gay Head;

(b) pendency of this lawsuit has resulted in severe economic hardships for the residents of the town of Gay Head by clouding the titles to much of the land in said town, including lands not involved in the lawsuits;

(c) the general court shares with the United States and the parties to the lawsuit a desire to remove all clouds on titles resulting from such Indian land claims; and

(d) the parties to the lawsuit and others interested in the settlement of Indian land claims within the commonwealth executed a settlement agreement which requires implementing legislation by the Congress of the United States and by the general court.

SECTION 2. For the purpose of this act, the following words shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Tribal council", the Wampanoag Tribal Council of Gay Head, Inc.;

(b) "Lawsuit", means the actions entitled Wampanoag Tribal Council of Gay Head, et al v. Town of Gay Head, et al., C.A. No. 74-5826-McN (D. Mass.).

(c) "Private settlement lands", approximately one hundred and seventy-five acres of privately held land described in paragraph 6 of the settlement agreement that are to be acquired by the Secretary of the Interior from certain private landowners;

(d) "Public settlement lands", the lands described in paragraph 4 of the settlement agreement that are to be conveyed by the Town of Gay Head to the tribal council;

(e) "Settlement lands", those lands defined in clauses (c) and (d);

(f) "Settlement agreement", the document entitled "Joint Memorandum of Understanding concerning Settlement of the Gay Head, Massachusetts Indian Land Claims", executed as of November nineteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and November twentieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, by representatives of the parties to the lawsuit, as filed with the state secretary, or any extension or renewal thereof;

(g) "Cook lands", the lands described in paragraph 5 of the settlement agreement that are to be conveyed by the town of Gay Head to the Tribal council.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 277.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the town of Gay Head is hereby authorized to convey to the Tribal council, or an appropriate subsidiary, the Cook lands and the public settlement lands.

SECTION 4. All federal, state, and town laws shall apply to the settlement lands subject only to the following special provisions:–

(a) The settlement lands shall not be treated as real property subject to taxation pursuant to chapter fifty-nine of the Massachusetts General Laws, or any successor provision of law, but the Tribal council or any successor in interest will make payments in lieu of property taxes to the town of Gay Head or other appropriate entity if and when improvements are placed on those lands. The quantity of land subject to such payments in connection with each improvement shall be the minimum land area established by the density requirements of the town zoning ordinance for such an improvement. The amount of such payment shall be determined by assessing the value of the improvement and the value of the land attributable to such improvement, as determined in accordance with this section, and applying the town property tax rate or any other applicable tax rates just as though the improvements and attributable land were held by any private person. With respect to in-lieu payments that remain unpaid, neither the town nor any other person shall have the right of foreclosure against the settlement lands. Instead of its right of foreclosure, the town or any other person otherwise entitled to foreclosure may enforce a lien against other assets of the Tribal council or any subsidiary thereof, or any other entity controlled by the Tribal council. If the in-lieu payments are not fully paid three years after they are due, the town may seize the land and improvements on which the in-lieu payments are in arrears and lease such land and improvements on reasonable terms for periods of time not to exceed five years, the sums realized from such leases to be applied, after costs, to the payment of the amount in arrears. Seizure by the town under this provision shall in no way affect title to the land, which shall remain with the Tribal council, and at the expiration of any lease period during which all arrearages have been paid in full, control of the land and improvements shall be returned to the Tribal council.

(b) The Tribal council or any successor in interest will have the right, after consultation with appropriate state and local officials, to establish its own regulations concerning hunting, but not trapping or fishing, by Indians on the settlement lands by means other than firearms or crossbow. These regulations by the Tribal council need not conform to state or local law, but shall impose reasonable standards of safety for persons and protection of wild life, and the absence of such safety regulations shall be deemed unreasonable. These safety and protection standards shall be subject to review for reasonableness in an action in the superior court and may be enforced by state and local law enforcement officers. Hunting by firearm or crossbow shall remain subject to state law.

(c) The zoning and subdivision ordinances and regulations of the town of Gay Head shall not be applicable to the settlement lands except to the extent and in the manner provided in the settlement agreement. The settlement lands shall be subject to the land use plan made a part of the settlement agreement which shall be enacted as part of the zoning ordinance of the town of Gay Head, and such plan as embodied in the zoning ordinance may be amended only with the agreement of the Tribal council or any successor in interest, and by the town of Gay Head at two town meetings not less than one month apart, at least one of which shall be held during the month of July or August.

(d) The zoning laws of the town of Gay Head which are currently in force shall continue to apply to the Cook lands and any changes in those zoning laws shall apply to the Cook lands only if adopted in the manner provided by the settlement agreement.

SECTION 5. Except as provided in this act, all laws, statutes and bylaws of the commonwealth, the town of Gay Head, and any other properly constituted legal body, shall apply to all settlement lands and any other lands owned now or at any time in the future by the Tribal council or any successor organization.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect upon enactment of legislation by the United States providing for extinguishment of aboriginal and all other Indian tribal land claims in the town of Gay Head which are maintained under laws of the United States that are specifically applicable to transfers of land or natural resources from, by or on behalf of any Indian nation or tribe of Indians, provided that the conveyance of the Cook lands and the public settlement lands authorized by section three shall take effect upon the actual extinguishment of such aboriginal and other Indian tribal land claims.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 123 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 8A the following section:-

Section 8B. (a) With respect to any patient who is the subject of a petition for a commitment or an order of commitment for care and treatment under the provisions of section seven, eight, fifteen, sixteen or eighteen, the superintendent of a facility or medical director of the Bridgewater state hospital may further petition the district court in whose jurisdiction the facility is located (i) to adjudicate the patient incapable of making informed decisions about proposed medical treatment, (ii) to authorize, by an adjudication of substituted judgment, treatment with antipsychotic medications, and (iii) to authorize according to the applicable legal standards such other medical treatment as may be necessary for the treatment of mental illness.

(b) A petition filed under this section shall be separate from any pending petition for commitment and shall not be heard or otherwise considered by the court unless the court has first issued an order of commitment on the pending petition for commitment.

(c) Whenever a court receives a petition filed under the provisions of this section, such court shall notify the person, and his nearest relative or guardian of the receipt of such petition and of the date a hearing on such petition is to be held. The hearing shall be commenced within fourteen days of the filing of the petition unless a delay is requested by the person or his counsel, provided that the commencement of such hearing shall not be delayed beyond the date of the hearing on the commitment petition if the petition was filed concurrently with a petition for commitment.

(d) After a hearing on the petition regarding antipsychotic medication treatment, the court shall not authorize medical treatment unless it (i) specifically finds that the person is incapable of making informed decisions concerning the proposed medical treatment (ii) upon application of the legal substituted judgment standard, specifically finds that the patient would accept such treatment if competent, and (iii) specifically approves and authorizes a written substituted judgment

The court may base its findings exclusively upon affidavits and other documentary evidence if it (i) determines, after careful inquiry and upon representations of counsel, that there are not contested issues of fact and (ii) includes in its findings the reasons that oral testimony was not required.

(e) The court may delegate to a guardian who has been duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction the authority to monitor the antipsychotic medication treatment process to ensure that an antipsychotic medication treatment plan is followed, provided such a guardian is readily available for such purpose. Approval of a treatment plan shall not be withheld, however, because such a guardian is not available to perform such monitoring. In such circumstances, the court shall monitor the treatment process to ensure that the treatment plan is followed.

(f) Any authorization for treatment that is ordered pursuant to the provisions of this section shall expire at the same time as the expiration of the order of commitment that was in effect when the authorization for treatment was ordered; provided that subsequent authorizations may be ordered and any party may at any time petition the court for modification of a medical treatment authorization that has been ordered pursuant to the standards and procedures established in this section.

(g) An adjudication of competency or incompetency with respect to treatment for mental illness by a court pursuant to this section shall be binding upon the probate court in any subsequent guardianship proceedings only with respect to matters which were the subject of the district court adjudication.

(h) Any privilege established by section one hundred and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and twelve or by section twenty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-three, relating to confidential communications, shall not prohibit the filing of reports or affidavits, or the giving of testimony, pursuant to this section, for the purpose of obtaining treatment of a mentally ill or mentally retarded person, provided that such person has been informed prior to making such communications that they may be used for such purpose and has waived the privilege.

The justice within seven days thereof shall order notice of the time and place for a hearing to be given to the superintendent or medical director or director of the I.C.U. and to such other persons as he considers proper; and such hearing shall be given promptly before a justice of the superior court in any county. The justice shall appoint an attorney to represent any applicant whom he finds to be indigent. The alleged mentally ill person may be brought before the justice at the hearing upon a writ of habeas corpus, upon a request approved by the justice. Pending the decision of the court such person may be retained in the custody of the superintendent or medical director or the director of the I.C.U. If the justice decides that the person is not mentally ill or that failure to retain the person in a facility or the Bridgewater state hospital would not create a likelihood of serious harm, or finds that the woman in the I.C.U. is not mentally ill; has not engaged in repeated and recent incidents of serious self-destructive behavior or assaultive behavior as an inpatient at a facility or an inmate of a place of detention; can be properly treated in any other facility licensed, operated or regulated by the department or a place of detention in the case of a woman under the sentence; and there is not a substantial likelihood that the woman's condition will continue to cause her to inflict serious harm upon herself or others, said person shall be discharged. If the justice decides that a patient at the Bridgewater state hospital does not require strict security, he shall be transferred to a facility. If the justice decides that a person who is the subject of a medical treatment order issued by a district court pursuant to section eight B should not be so treated, the justice shall issue an appropriate order modifying or vacating such order and, where such previous order is modified, the court shall monitor said modified order by means of a guardian or otherwise as provided in paragraph (e) of section eight B.

If it appears to the directors that such practices or policies have impaired or are likely to impair the solvency of such bank, or are unreasonably increasing the insurance risk of the Deposit Insurance Fund with respect to such federally chartered bank, the directors may include a statement to such effect, together with a report of the facts and circumstances, in the aforesaid notice to the commissioner who may include such a statement and report in his aforesaid notice to the federally chartered bank and to the appropriate federal regulatory agency and to the federal deposit insurance agency for such federally chartered bank.

SECTION 13. Section 3 of said chapter 43, as amended by section 5 of chapter 276 of the acts of 1984, is hereby further amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– In the case of a merger or consolidation of a savings bank with one or more other savings banks under section thirty-four of said chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, or in the case of a sale of assets of such bank to and the assumption of the liabilities by one or more other savings banks under section thirty-five of said chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, the continuing bank shall succeed to any of the rights of the discontinuing bank in the assessments theretofore paid by the discontinuing bank; provided, however, that if the continuing bank is, and the discontinuing bank is not, a member of a federal deposit insurance agency the provisions of section fifteen shall apply to such assessments of the discontinuing bank as though such bank had become a member of a federal deposit insurance agency as provided in sections twelve to fifteen, inclusive.

SECTION 14. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 3A the following section:–

Section 3B. The directors of the corporation, with the prior approval of the commissioner, may take any action which they deem necessary to facilitate for member banks the acquisition of membership in a federal deposit insurance agency.

SECTION 15. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by striking out section 8 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 8. So much of the deposits of member banks as is deposited with the corporation under the provisions of this act shall, so long as they remain deposited therewith, be exempt from taxation; provided, however, that within thirty days of the vote of the corporation to dissolve and liquidate the Deposit Insurance Fund, declared eligible for distribution, in accordance with section ten, and prior to any distribution to member banks, an excise of sixteen million dollars shall be paid by the corporation to the commissioner of revenue as an excise for the privilege of dissolving and liquidating said fund in whole or in part. No such excise shall be paid for such privilege subsequent to the initial distribution made in accordance with section ten. After payment of such excise, the balance of the proceeds declared eligible for distribution shall be distributed in accordance with section ten. Such excise shall be subject to all other relevant provisions of applicable law consistent with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that the application of such relevant provisions shall in no way diminish the amount of such excise. The revenues received by the commonwealth from the excise imposed by this section shall be placed in a separate fund to be applied solely to defray the cost of the purposes set forth in chapter twenty-one E of the General Laws.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 10. The corporation, at special county or district meetings held in accordance with the bylaws and with section two of said chapter forty-four, and called by the directors for this special purpose, may determine, by four-fifths vote of all member banks, that, as a fact, the deposits of all member banks are adequately insured by a federal deposit insurance agency and that the Deposit Insurance Fund is needed solely for the insurance of deposits in excess of the sum covered by a federal deposit insurance agency hereinafter referred to as excess insurance or that the fund is no longer needed for such excess insurance. If the commissioner concurs with such determination of fact, he shall determine the portion of the fund, if any, required for the excess insurance of deposits of member banks and shall declare any balance of such fund, after payment of losses, expenses and obligations of the corporation, eligible for distribution to member banks upon any dissolution and liquidation of the fund in whole or in part; provided, however, that the corporation, by simple majority vote of its board of directors, agrees with the commissioner on the amount required for said excess insurance. If the corporation does not agree with the commissioner's determination of said amount, then a three-member panel, consisting of the commissioner or his designee, a member chosen by the corporation and a member chosen by agreement of the commissioner and the corporation, shall, by majority vote, determine the amount required for said excess insurance. The corporation shall immediately furnish to the commissioner any and all information he deems necessary to assist him in his determination of what is required for excess insurance. The corporation may, by a like four-fifths vote of all member banks and with the approval of the commissioner, vote to dissolve and liquidate the balance of the fund so declared eligible for distribution. When voting for the purposes provided in this section, each member bank shall have one vote for each ten million dollars or fraction thereof of deposits then insured by the Deposit Insurance Fund, including excess deposits, if any, referred to in section seventeen, as shown by such member bank's latest report to the commissioner or to the corporation. Upon any such vote to dissolve and liquidate the Deposit Insurance

Fund, the corporation shall distribute, over a period of not more than twelve months, the amount of the fund so voted for distribution pro rata to the member banks based upon their total amounts of assessments and participations in said fund. Loans made by the corporation to member banks shall not be deemed part of any amount required for the excess insurance of deposits.

SECTION 17. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by striking out section 12, as amended by section 88 of chapter 371 of the acts of 1983, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 12. Any member bank which shall apply for membership in a federal deposit insurance agency referred to in section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F of the General Laws, shall forthwith give written notice thereof to the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., and to the commissioner. If such application is accepted and such member bank is notified that said corporation is willing to insure its deposits, such member bank may become a member of a federal deposit insurance agency subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this section and in sections thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and seventeen; provided, however, that such membership shall have been approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the trustees or directors of such banks.

SECTION 18. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by striking out section 13, inserted by section 10 of chapter 324 of the acts of 1956, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 13. When any member bank which has applied for membership in a federal deposit insurance agency shall have complied with all requirements prerequisite to such membership and shall have received notice in writing from said agency that it is a member thereof and its deposits are insured thereby, such member bank shall file copies of said notice and of the votes of its trustees or directors, provided in section twelve, certified by its president and its clerk, with the commissioner and with the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., and shall thereupon give written notice thereto and to the commissioner of the acquisition of such membership. On the effective date of such membership, the insurance of the deposits of such bank by the Deposit Insurance Fund, to the extent that such deposits shall then or thereafter be insured by a federal deposit insurance agency shall terminate, and such bank shall not be liable for any further annual or other assessments required by section one except for (a) unpaid annual assessments due and payable on or before the preceding October first, and (b) for any other unpaid assessments due and payable prior to the effective date of such membership, but shall be liable for all annual excess insurance assessments required of such bank by section seventeen.

SECTION 19. Section fourteen of said chapter forty-three is hereby repealed.

and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 15. Upon the acquisition of membership by any member bank in a federal deposit insurance agency, the following provisions shall apply to the assessments theretofore paid by such bank into the Deposit Insurance Fund:

(a) The Deposit Insurance Fund shall repay in cash to such bank an amount equal to its assessment of one-fourth of one per cent of its deposits paid or payable to said fund in nineteen hundred and thirty-four, sometimes referred to as the "original assessment"; provided, however, that such payment shall not be made to such bank prior to the expiration of six months from the effective date of its membership in the federal deposit insurance agency as provided in section thirteen, but the directors of the Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., with the approval of the commissioner may, by a two-thirds vote, provide for earlier payment thereof by agreement with such bank;

(b) The sums representing all annual assessments, referred to in section one, and any other assessments at any time paid by such bank as provided in sections one and seventeen, including the income, surplus, undivided profits and other reserves of the Deposit Insurance Fund, shall be retained by the Deposit Insurance Fund, and such bank shall be entitled to participate in the net assets of the fund in the event of its dissolution and liquidation in the manner and to the extent provided in section ten.

SECTION 21. Section sixteen of said chapter forty-three is hereby repealed.

SECTION 22. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by striking out section 17, as most recently amended by section 89 of chapter 371 of the acts of 1983, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 17. The portions of the deposits of all member banks which shall have become members of a federal deposit insurance agency, in excess of ten thousand dollars or of such other sums as from time to time shall be covered by the insurance of the federal deposit insurance agency, hereinafter referred to as excess deposits, shall continue to be insured in full by the Deposit Insurance Fund, hereinafter referred to as excess insurance, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) On October first of each year after becoming a member of a federal deposit insurance agency, such member bank shall pay to the Deposit Insurance Fund an annual excess insurance assessment at the same percentage rate fixed for the annual assessment for such year under section one, computed upon the member bank's excess deposits as of the date of the trial balance of deposit accounts of such member bank taken immediately after the payment or provision for payment of the bank's last preceding dividend, as shown by a statement filed with the Deposit Insurance Fund at least ten days prior to said October first and certified by an authorized officer of such bank.

(b) During the time that such member bank is a member of a federal deposit insurance agency, it shall not be liable for any assessments to the Deposit Insurance Fund except as hereinbefore provided in paragraph (a).

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of section eleven of this act, sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws shall apply and sections four, five and six of this act shall not apply to a member bank so long as it is a member of and its deposits are insured in whole or in part in a federal deposit insurance agency.

(d) Upon payment by the Deposit Insurance Fund of all or any part of the portion of any deposit insured by the fund in any member bank, the fund shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such bank as would have been payable to him on a claim for the portion of his deposit so paid by the Deposit Insurance Fund, but he shall retain his right to receive distribution of so much of his claim against said assets to which he may be entitled after reimbursement pro rata of the claims for subrogation to the Deposit Insurance Fund as provided in this paragraph and to a federal deposit insurance agency as provided in section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F of the General Laws.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, if the federal deposit insurance agency is at any time a depositor, either directly or through any other governmental agency, in any member bank which is a member of a federal deposit insurance agency, the amounts deposited, directly or indirectly, by the federal deposit insurance agency shall not be deemed insured to any extent by the Deposit Insurance Fund.

SECTION 22A. Said chapter 43 is hereby further amended by adding the following two sections:-

Section 19. The portions of the deposits of any state-chartered savings bank which accepts or has accepted a federal charter after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three in excess of those insured by a federal deposit insurance agency, hereinafter referred to as excess deposits, may be insured in full by the Deposit Insurance Fund, hereinafter referred to as excess insurance, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) Any such bank shall first give notice in writing to the corporation and the commissioner of its desire to obtain such excess insurance and shall make application for the same on such form and in such manner as the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, may prescribe. Any such bank shall also submit such financial statements and other information concerning its assets, liabilities and affairs as the commissioner and the corporation may require.

(b) No such bank shall apply for such excess insurance unless such bank shall have capital and surplus if a stock institution or surplus if a mutual institution, less any intangible asset value, equal to or greater than six per cent of the total assets.

(c) Any such bank shall first enter into a binding agreement with the corporation. Under such agreement, which shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner, such bank shall be required to provide to the corporation copies of examination reports and other reports and information regarding such bank comparable in form and substance to

(d) The directors of the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, shall determine the eligibility of each such bank for acceptance. The directors shall not accept for excess insurance any such bank which fails to meet the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c).

(e) Any such bank, upon acceptance by the corporation for excess insurance, shall be categorized as a "federal member bank", which, for the purposes of this act, shall mean any state-chartered savings bank which has accepted a federal charter and which has been accepted for excess insurance by the corporation.

(f) Federal member banks shall not have any of the rights and privileges of member banks except as expressly provided otherwise herein.

(g) On October first of each year, such bank shall pay to the Deposit Insurance Fund an annual excess insurance assessment at the same percentage rate fixed for the annual assessment for such year for a member bank under section one, computed on such bank's excess deposits as of the date of the trial balance of deposit accounts of such bank taken immediately after the payment or provision for payment of the bank's last preceding dividend, as shown by a statement filed with the Deposit Insurance Fund at least ten days prior to said October first and certified by an authorized officer of such bank.

(h) Such bank shall not be liable for any assessments to the Deposit Insurance Fund except as hereinbefore provided in paragraph (g).

(i) Upon payment by the Deposit Insurance Fund of all or any part of the portion of any deposit insured by the fund in such bank, the fund shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such bank as would have been payable to him on a claim for the portion of his deposit so paid by the Deposit Insurance Fund, but he shall retain his right to receive distribution of so much of his claim against said assets to which he may be entitled after reimbursement pro rata of the claims for subrogation to the Deposit Insurance Fund as provided in this paragraph and to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation as provided in section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F of the General Laws.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, if a federal deposit insurance agency is at any time a depositor, either directly or through any other governmental agency, in any federal member bank, the amounts deposited, directly or indirectly, by such federal deposit insurance agency shall not be deemed insured to any extent by the Deposit Insurance Fund.

If such breach is not cured within sixty days after such written notice or if such capital and surplus requirements are not cured by a reasonable time specified, the directors may at any time thereafter, subject to the approval of the commissioner, terminate the excess insurance of such federal member bank. Notice of such termination shall be given to the federal member bank and subsequently to all of its depositors in such manner as the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, may require.

out section 9 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 9. The corporation, at a special meeting called for this purpose and held in accordance with the by-laws and with section five of said chapter forty-five, may determine, by four-fifths vote of all member banks, that, as a fact, the deposits of all member banks are adequately insured by a federal deposit insurance agency and that the Share Insurance Fund is needed solely for the insurance of deposits in excess of the sum covered by a federal deposit insurance agency hereinafter referred to as excess insurance or that the fund is no longer needed for such excess insurance. If the commissioner concurs with such determination of fact, he shall determine the portion of the fund, if any, required for the excess insurance of deposits of member banks and shall declare any balance of such fund, after payment of losses, expenses and obligations of the corporation, eligible for distribution to member banks upon any dissolution and liquidation of the fund in whole or in part; provided, however, that the corporation, by simple majority vote of its board of directors, agrees with the commissioner on the amount required for said excess insurance. If the corporation does not agree with the commissioner's determination of said amount, then a three-member panel, consisting of the commissioner or his designee, a member chosen by the corporation and a member chosen by agreement of the commissioner and the corporation, shall, by majority vote, determine the amount required for said excess insurance. The corporation shall immediately furnish to the commissioner any and all information he deems necessary to assist him in his determination of what is required for excess insurance. The corporation may, by a like four-fifths vote of all member banks and with the approval of the commissioner, vote to dissolve and liquidate the balance of the fund so declared eligible for distribution. When voting for the purposes provided in this section, each such member bank, by a delegate authorized by its board of directors, shall have one vote. Section 16. The portions of the shares and accounts of all member banks which shall have become members of a federal deposit insurance agency, in excess of ten thousand dollars or of such other sums as from time to time shall be insured by a federal deposit insurance agency, hereinafter referred to as excess accounts, shall continue to be insured in full by the Share Insurance Fund, hereinafter referred to as excess insurance, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(d) Upon payment by the Share Insurance Fund of all or any parts of the portion of any account insured by the fund in any member bank, the fund shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such bank as would have been payable to him on a

The corporation may, by majority vote of its board of directors and with the approval of the commissioner, authorize the advance dividend distribution in the amount so declared eligible for distribution by the commissioner. Upon such vote, the corporation shall proceed to distribute forthwith the amount of the fund so declared eligible for advance dividend distribution pro rata to the member banks based upon their total amounts of assessments and participations in said fund.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, each member bank shall pay as part of its excise imposed under chapter sixty-three of the General Laws a tax to the commonwealth in an amount equal to ten per cent of any advance dividend distribution or other dividend distribution made to it by the corporation in connection with the partial dissolution and liquidation of the fund under this section. The proceeds subject to tax under this section shall not be considered gross income for purposes of determining net income as defined in section one of said chapter sixty-three.

SECTION 35. There is hereby established and set up on the books of the commonwealth a fund to be known as the Massachusetts Housing Partnership Fund, hereinafter referred to as the fund. It shall be the sole purpose of the fund to provide funds within the limits and in the manner hereinafter described to provide programs designed to: (a) produce housing for low and moderate income households, (b) broaden opportunities for homeownership for low and moderate income persons and families, and (c) aid in the reclamation of abandoned property for use as housing. Each such appointment shall be made by letter to the appointee with a copy to the secretary of administration and finance and each person so appointed shall serve at the pleasure of the governor or organization which made the appointment and until his successor has been appointed

(b) The initial organizational meeting of the board of directors shall be held at a date and time to be determined by the secretary of the executive office of administration and finance; provided, however, that at least two weeks prior notice shall be given to the other members of such meeting. At such meeting, said board shall elect a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary from among the members.

(c) The board of directors shall have the authority to exercise all the powers of the fund. Said board shall have the authority to make, amend, and repeal by-laws, rules and regulations to govern the management and affairs of the fund. A majority of the members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of conducting the business of said board and said board shall act by a majority vote of the whole board in exercising its authority. A meeting of said board shall be held at least monthly and at such other times as may be provided in its by-laws.

(d) Said board of directors shall have the authority to enter into such service and other contracts as it deems necessary or incidental to the performance of its duty to conduct the management and affairs of the fund.

(e) The members of said board of directors shall serve without compensation but shall be paid their necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties.

executed by the deputy commissioner, shall be deemed conclusively authorized hereby; provided, however, that all provisions therein are consistent with the provisions of this act. The deputy commissioner from time to time is hereby authorized to execute and deliver, in the name and on behalf of the commonwealth, a notice of such lease or leases for recording and any and all other agreements and instruments related to the lease or leases authorized hereby which the division may determine appropriate from time to time. Any such notice of lease, lease instrument, or instruments, when executed by the deputy commissioner shall be deemed conclusively authorized hereby; provided, however, that all provisions therein are consistent with this act.

No sub-lease of such land or any portion thereof shall be executed without the prior approval of the general court.

No privately owned, occupied, or financed building of any kind may be erected upon said land without the written approval of the division, and a written notification to the clerk of the house of representatives who shall forward copies to the joint committee on state administration. Plans for any such building shall be submitted to said division for approval prior to any construction thereon. In like manner any alteration, addition, destruction or demolition thereof shall also require the prior written approval of said division, and a written notification to said clerk. Copies of any and all such plans, together with all such written approvals by said division, shall be sent by said division to said clerk to be kept on file.

The owner of any such building, other than the commonwealth should it take possession thereof, shall be assessed and taxed in accordance with the provisions of section two B of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, except that no part of the value of the land shall be included in any such assessment. No tax assessed to the owner under section two B of said chapter fifty-nine shall be retained out of any rent due the commonwealth or recovered under section twelve C of said chapter fifty-nine.

The annual rental payment to the commonwealth for the lease or leases authorized by this act shall be increased each year after the third year by the annual percentage increase of the Boston consumer price index as prepared by the United States Department of Labor; provided, however, that said rental payment shall not be reduced from year four or, below the preceding year's annual rent paid to or due to the commonwealth for any year in which said consumer price index should go below the index for the year preceding; and, provided further, that said rental shall be in accordance with the terms of said lease or leases and of the provisions of this act, and said rental payment shall not be subordinated to any leasehold mortgage of the lessee or lessees.

The lease or leases shall provide that the commonwealth may repossess the leased premises together with any buildings erected thereon if payment of the rent or any other sum is not timely paid, or if the lessee otherwise defaults and that notwithstanding such default, the lessee will continue to owe the rent and any other sums due the commonwealth under the provisions of said lease or leases. The lessee shall carry, in an amount approved in writing by the deputy commissioner of the division, comprehensive general liability insurance protecting the lessee and the commonwealth against personal injuries and property damage occurring on said leased premises or within any structure or building erected thereupon, and such fire and extended risk insurance, as said deputy commissioner deems appropriate.

No lease or leases, other than that provided for by the first and second paragraphs, nor any sale, transfer, conveyance, or any other disposition of such land, and buildings, if any, may be made without the prior approval of the general court; provided, however, that any such lease or leases, other than that provided for by said first and second paragraphs, sale, transfer, conveyance, or any other disposition of said land, and buildings if any, shall be carried out in accordance with the provisions of sections forty A to forty L, inclusive, except for section forty F 1/2 of chapter seven of the General Laws and any other restrictions or requirements as the general court may deem necessary.

The provisions of the first, second, sixth, and ninth paragraphs of subsection (a) of section forty F 1/2 of said chapter seven, the first sentence of the seventh paragraph of said subsection (a), and subsection (b) of said section forty F 1/2, shall apply to all leases authorized by this section. For purposes of any lease authorized by this act, the declaration required by the ninth paragraph of said subsection (a) of said section forty F 1/2 shall apply only to those provisions of said section forty F 1/2 as set forth in this section.

SECTION 5. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized and directed to enter into and deliver in the name of and on behalf of the commonwealth in one or more instruments for a temporary lease or leases for any or all land described in section one or any other land owned by the commonwealth at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Framingham in the town of Framingham which said division may deem necessary for use by General Motors Corporation, or Anchor Motor Freight, or General Motors Corporation and Anchor Motor Freight for motor vehicles manufactured at the General Motors Corporation assembly plant in the town of Framingham, equipment and materials necessary for the construction of the new paint facility, motor vehicles of employees of General Motors Corporation and Anchor Motor Freight and Corporations or other firms working on the construction of said new paint plant.

Consideration for said temporary lease or leases shall be for fair market value for comparable rentals.

Said temporary lease or leases shall not exceed six months; provided, however, that said division may renew said lease or leases for an additional three month period, and any additional renewals shall require the prior approval of the general court; provided, however, that the clerk of the house of representatives who shall forward copies to the joint committee on state administration shall be sent a copy of all such leases at least fourteen working days in advance of the execution of any such leases, or any renewal thereof.

Said lease may be renewed, at the option of the lessee, for an additional term of up to twenty-five years upon such terms as may be mutually agreed upon by the parties; provided, however, that at the end of said extended period said lease may be renewed upon such additional terms as may be agreed by the aforementioned parties, which shall be subject to general court approval. Said land shall be contained in or adjacent to land bounded and described as follows:–

Said parcel shall include no more or less than a total of ten acres enclosed; provided, however, that said division shall determine a more precise description of the land after conducting a survey within sixty days of the effective date of this act, and the lease from the commonwealth to the town of Framingham shall be amended to reflect such more precise description.

The initial lease entered into between the division and the town of Framingham pursuant to this section shall provide that the commonwealth shall offer to the town another parcel of land, of equivalent size, at a location mutually agreed upon by the parties before taking any action to re-acquire the leased parcel.

Plans for said snow dumping facility, and any alterations or additions thereto, shall be submitted to said division for its written approval; provided, however, that a copy of such plans and alterations and additions thereto, together with written approval of said division, shall be sent by both the town and said division to the clerk of the house of representatives who shall forward copies to the joint committee on state administration of the general court to be kept on file. In the event that said land is not used for the aforementioned purpose, or that such plans constitute a sewer district and is hereby made a body corporate entitled the Chelmsford Center Industrial Sewer District hereinafter referred to as the district.

SECTION 7. Nothing contained in this act shall reduce the amount of land available for use by the Massachusetts National Lancers suitable for grazing purposes under the provisions of current agreements between the commonwealth and said Massachusetts National Lancers.

SECTION 2. The purpose of the district shall be to lay out, construct, maintain, improve and operate a system or systems of sanitary sewers within or without the district which services a part or whole of the territory within the district, contracting with the town of Chelmsford for such purposes, and for assessing and raising revenues as provided herein to pay for such services.

SECTION 3. The powers conferred by this act shall be exercised by a board of district sewer commissioners, to be hereinafter called the "board", consisting of seven members. One member shall be a member of the board of selectmen, one member shall be a member of the sewer commission, and the remaining five members shall be appointed by the board of selectmen of the town of Chelmsford, said members being operators of businesses or landowners located within the district. The board of selectmen shall immediately upon notice appoint a new member to complete the unexpired term and said appointment to become effective on the thirty-first day after the occurrence of the change. Four members of the board shall constitute a quorum and the affirmative vote of four members shall be necessary for any action taken by vote of the board; provided, however, that an affirmative vote of five members shall be necessary to exercise any of the powers enumerated in clause (i) of section four. No vacancy in the membership of the board shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise the powers of the board. Any action by the board shall take effect immediately unless otherwise provided and need not be published or posted.

SECTION 4. The board, acting for and on behalf of the district, shall have all the rights and powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate this act, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following rights and powers:

(n) consistent with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, the board shall have such other powers, including all powers pertaining to the sewer works system within its boundaries held by the town of Chelmsford not inconsistent herewith, as may be necessary for or incident to carrying out the foregoing powers and the accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

SECTION 5. The board is authorized and empowered to fix, revise, charge, collect and abate reasonable fees, rates, rents and assessments, and other charges for sewer and other services, improvements, maintenance, facilities, and commodities furnished or supplied to real property in the district. In providing for the payment of the cost of said system or systems or the improvements thereof, or for the use of said system or systems, the board may avail itself of the provisions of the General Laws relative to the assessment, apportionment, division, reassessment, abatement and collection of sewer charges, including betterments, or the establishment of liens therefor and interest thereon. In order to provide for the collection and enforcement of its fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges, the board is hereby granted all the powers and privileges with respect thereto held by the town of

Chelmsford on the effective date of this act or as otherwise provided in this act, to be exercised concurrently with the town.

The fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges of the board of general application shall be adopted and revised by the board at least annually in accordance with procedures to be established by the board for assuring that interested persons are afforded notice and an opportunity to present data, views and arguments. The board shall hold at least one public hearing on its schedule of fees, rates and charges or any revision thereof prior to adoption, notice of which shall be delivered to the board of selectmen and be published in a newspaper of substantial circulation in the town at least one month in advance of the hearing. No later than the date of such publication, the board shall make available to the public and deliver to the board of selectmen the proposed schedule of fees, rates and charges.

The fees, rates, rents, assessments, abatements and other charges established by the board shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any department, division, commission, board, bureau, or agency of the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions, including, without limitation, the town, nor shall the district be subject to the provisions of section twenty A of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. Notwithstanding the foregoing, except to the extent of betterments assessed by the board, the board shall have no power of taxation. The board's operating budget shall be limited to the sum of five thousand dollars for current administrative expenses approved by the board in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-five. Each year thereafter said sum may be increased two and one-half per cent per year.

The fees, rates, rents, assessments and other charges established by the board in accordance with this section shall be so fixed and adjusted in respect of the aggregate thereof so as to provide revenues at least sufficient (i) to pay the current expenses of the board, (ii) to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the board under this act as the same become due and payable, (iii) to create and maintain such reasonable reserves as may be reasonably required by any trust agreement or resolution securing bonds, (iv) to provide funds for paying the cost of all necessary maintenance, repairs, replacements and renewals of the sewer works system and (v) to pay or provide for any amounts which the board may be obligated to pay or provide for by law or contract including any resolution or contract with or for the benefit of the holders of its bonds.

SECTION 6. The board is hereby authorized and empowered to provide by resolution for the issuance, at one time or from time to time of notes of the district in the aggregate principal amount of two million dollars outstanding at any one time, excluding notes refunded by other notes issued under this paragraph, for the purpose of providing funds for paying the cost of constructing or acquiring such improvements, extensions, enlargements, alterations, reconstruction or remodeling for the sewer works system as may be authorized by such resolution, including the funding of interest on any notes of the district issued pursuant to section seven hereof in anticipation of federal, state or local grants for such

Except as otherwise provided herein, notes issued by the district in accordance with this section shall be issued in anticipation of bonds to be issued by the district pursuant to section seven of this act and shall be authorized, issued and sold in the same manner as, and shall otherwise be subject to section eight and other provisions of this act relating to such bonds. Such notes shall mature at such time or times as provided by resolution of the board and may be renewed from time to time; provided, however, that all such notes and renewals thereof shall mature on or prior to twenty years after their date of issuance.

The proceeds of the notes authorized by this section shall be used solely for paying or providing for the cost of extensions, improvements or enlargements of the sewer works system including repayment of interest on notes of the district as provided in the second paragraph and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions as may be provided in the resolution of the board.

SECTION 7. In addition to the notes issued under the provisions of section six, the board may provide by resolution for the issuance from time to time of bonds of the district for any of its corporate purposes. Bonds may be issued hereunder as general obligations of the district or as special obligations payable solely from particular funds. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such bonds may be issued to pay or refund notes issued by the board pursuant to section six, to pay the cost of maintenance, extension, enlargement, or improvement of the sewer works system, to provide such reserves for debt service, repairs and replacements or other costs as may be required by a trust agreement or resolution securing bonds of the district, or for any combination of the foregoing purposes. The board may also provide by resolution for the issuance from time to time of temporary notes in anticipation of the revenues to be collected or received by the board in any year, or in anticipation of the receipt of federal, commonwealth or local grants or other aid. The issuance of such notes shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issuance of bonds other than such temporary notes as the same may be applicable; provided, however, that notes issued in anticipation of revenues shall mature no later than one year from their respective dates and notes issued in anticipation of federal, commonwealth or local grants or other aid and renewals thereof shall mature no later than the expected date of receipt of such grants or aid. Notes in anticipation of revenues issued to mature less than one year from their dates may be renewed by the board from time to time by the issue of other temporary notes hereunder; provided, however, that the period from the date of an original note to the maturity of any note issued to renew or pay the same or the interest thereon shall not exceed one year.

SECTION 8. The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all bonds or notes issued under the provisions of this act, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be payable solely from the funds provided therefor from revenues as herein provided. Bonds or notes of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, bankers loan rate or other method determined by the board and shall mature at such time or times, as may be determined by the board, and may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the board at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the board prior to the issue of bonds or notes. The board shall determine the form of bonds or notes, including interest coupons, if any, to be attached thereto, and the manner of execution of bonds or notes and shall fix the denomination or denominations of bonds or notes and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or notes or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office until after such delivery. The board may also provide for authentication of bonds by a trustee or fiscal agent. Bonds or notes may be issued in bearer form, if not in conflict with federal law, or in registered form, or both, and, if notes, may be made payable to bearer or to order, as the board may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, for the reconversion into coupon bonds or bonds registered as to both principal and interest and for the interchange of bonds registered as to both principal and interest and for the interchange of registered and coupon bonds. The board may by resolution delegate to any member of the board or any combination of them the power to determine any of the matters set forth in this section including the power to award such bonds or notes to a purchaser or purchasers at public sale. The board may sell its bonds or notes in such manner, either at public or private sale, for such price, at such rate or rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest, as it may determine will best effect the purposes of this act.

The board may issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. The board may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall have become mutilated or shall have been destroyed or lost.

In the discretion of the board, any bonds issued hereunder may be secured by a resolution of the board or by a trust agreement between the board and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the commonwealth, and such trust agreement shall be in such form and executed in such manner as may be determined by the board. Such trust agreement or resolution may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues and other moneys held or to be received by the board, including the revenues from any improvements already existing when the pledge or assignment is made, and any contract or other rights to receive the same, whether then existing or thereafter coming into existence and whether then held or thereafter acquired by the board, and the proceeds thereof. Such trust agreement or resolution may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the bondholders as may, in the discretion of the board, be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof which may include the acceleration of maturities and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the board in relation to the acquisition, construction, improvement, enlargement, alteration, equipping, furnishing, maintenance, use, operation, repair, insurance and disposition of property of the district, the custody, safeguarding, investment and application of moneys, the issue of additional or refunding bonds, the fixing, revision and collection of fees, rates, rents, assessments or other charges, the use of any surplus bond proceeds, the establishment of reserves, and the making and amending of contracts.

In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds or notes issued by the district under any provision of this act, including section six hereof, may be secured, in whole or in part, by letters of credit issued to the district by any bank, trust company or other financial institution, within or without the commonwealth, and the board may pledge or assign any of its revenues as security for the reimbursement by the district to the issuers of such letters of credit of any payments made under the letters of credit.

It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company to act as depository or trustee of the proceeds of bonds, revenues or other moneys under any such trust agreement or resolution and to furnish such indemnification or pledge such securities and issue such letters of credit as may be required by the board. Any such trust agreement or resolution may set forth the rights and remedies of bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders. In addition to the foregoing, any such trust agreement or resolution may contain such other provisions as the board may deem reasonable and proper for the security of bondholders. Any pledge of revenues or other property made by the board under this section shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected for the purposes of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws from the time when the pledge is made; the revenues, moneys, rights and proceeds so pledged and then held or thereafter acquired or received by the board shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act; and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the board, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution, any trust agreement nor any other agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the board, and no filing need be made under the provisions of said chapter one hundred and six.

Any holder of a bond or note issued by the district under the provisions of this act or any of the coupons appertaining thereto and any trustee under a trust agreement or resolution securing the same, except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by such trust agreement or resolution, may bring suit upon the bonds, notes, or coupons and may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceedings for legal or equitable relief, including proceedings for the appointment of a receiver to take possession and control of the business properties of the board, to operate and maintain the same, to make any necessary repairs, renewals and replacements in respect thereof and to fix, revise and collect fees and charges, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under such trust agreement, resolution or other agreement, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this act or by such trust agreement or resolution to be performed by the board or by any officer thereof.

SECTION 9. The board may issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying any of its bonds at maturity or upon acceleration or redemption. Refunding bonds may be issued at such time or times prior to the maturity or redemption of the refunded bonds as the board deems to be in the public interest. Refunding bonds may be issued in sufficient amounts to pay or provide the principal of the bonds being refunded, together with any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment of such bonds, the expenses of issue of refunding bonds, the expenses of redeeming bonds being refunded and such reserves for debt service or other capital or current expenses from the proceeds of such refunding bonds as may be required by a trust agreement or resolution securing bonds. The issue of refunding bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the security therefor, the rights of the holders thereof, and the right, duties and obligations of the board in respect of the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of bonds other than refunding bonds insofar as the same may be applicable.

SECTION 10. Bonds, notes, and other evidences of indebtedness issued or entered into under the provisions of this act shall not be deemed to be a debt or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or the town of Chelmsford, but shall be payable solely from the revenues of the district. All bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the commonwealth nor the town of Chelmsford shall be obligated to pay the same and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the commonwealth or of the town of Chelmsford is pledged to the payment of the principal of or interest on such bonds or notes. Each bond shall also recite whether it is a general obligation of the district or a special obligation thereof payable solely from particular funds pledged to its payment. Each bond or note shall bear on its face the words, Chelmsford Center Industrial Sewer district Loan, Act of 1985. The outstanding debt of the district shall not exceed in the aggregate, two million dollars. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan and such loans shall be payable in not more than twenty years from their dates. Any indebtedness issued under this act with the exception of renewal notes issued pursuant to section six or refunding bonds issued pursuant to section nine shall be issued within two years of the effective date of this

Chapter 428. AN ACT PROHIBITING THE SO-CALLED SUM-OF-THE-DIGITS METHOD IN THE
COMPUTATION OF REBATE IN CERTAIN CONSUMER CREDIT TRANSACTIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 100 of chapter 140 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 284 of the acts of 1981, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

The small loans regulatory board shall investigate from time to time the economic conditions and other factors relating to and affecting the business of making loans under sections ninety-six to one hundred and thirteen, inclusive, and shall ascertain all pertinent facts necessary to determine what maximum rate of charge should be permitted. Upon the basis of such ascertained facts, the board shall determine and establish by regulation or order a maximum rate of charge in connection with such loans which will induce efficiently managed commercial capital to be invested in such business in sufficient amounts to make available adequate credit facilities to individuals seeking such loans at reasonable rates, and which will afford those engaged in such business a fair and reasonable return upon the assets. Such maximum rate of charge established by the board may be the aggregate of two or more different maximum rates applicable to different portions of the unpaid principal balance, so that as the size of the loan or the unpaid principal balance increases the aggregate rate decreases. The board may reestablish the maximum monthly rate of charge from time to time on the basis of changed conditions and facts. When the board establishes a maximum rate of charge it shall also by order permit licensees to precompute the monthly rate of charge contracted for on scheduled unpaid principal balances of loans contracted to be repaid in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges combined with such installments applied to the unpaid balance of principal and the precomputed charge combined, subject to such provisions as the board shall by order prescribe for a refund or credit in the event of prepayment and for extension and default charges in the event of an extension or default. Such refund or credit shall be computed on a method which is at least as favorable to the borrower as the actuarial method, so-called. If the prepayment is made other than on an installment due date, it shall be deemed to have been made on the first installment due date if the payment is before that date, and in any other case it shall be deemed to have been made on the next preceding or next succeeding installment due date, whichever is nearer to the date of prepayment. Where the amount of the credit for anticipation of payment is less than one dollar, no refund need be made. The details of application and the rules for a fraction of a month or partial prepayments shall be subject to the order of the board.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. For purposes of this act the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

(a) "Authorized officers", the mayor, the city auditor, and the chairman of the board of managers of the hospital, acting unanimously; provided, that each of said individuals may designate any other officer of the city to act on his behalf as an authorized officer for any or all purposes under this act; and provided, further, that any designation by the city auditor shall be subject to approval by the city council and that the chairman of the board of managers may designate only another member of the board. - (d) "City", the city of Quincy.
- (e) "City auditor", the city auditor of the city of Quincy.
- (f) "City council", the city council of the city of Quincy.
- (g) "Director", the director of the hospital.

SECTION 2. The city, on behalf of the hospital, is hereby authorized to borrow from time to time such sums as may be necessary, not exceeding, in the aggregate, seventy-five million dollars, and to issue bonds of the city therefor and borrow money in anticipation of such bonds, for the purposes of demolishing a portion of the current facilities of the hospital and constructing and originally equipping and furnishing a structure as a replacement therefor. No bonds shall be issued under this act, until the director, with the approval of the board, shall cause a financial feasibility study to be conducted concerning the ability of the hospital to pay the debt service on the bonds and based on such study the board, with the concurrence of the mayor and the city auditor, determines that the revenues of the hospital can be expected to meet all debt service payments on the bonds as they come due without the expectation of any payments or reimbursements from city funds.

SECTION 3. (a) The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all bonds, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be payable solely from the particular funds provided therefor under this act. The bonds shall be issued in such amounts as the city council may authorize by a two-thirds vote, with the approval of the mayor. Bonds may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the city at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the authorized officers prior to the issue of bonds. The authorized officers shall determine the form and details and the manner of execution of bonds. The city may sell the bonds in such manner, at either public or private sale, for such price, at such rate or rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest, as the authorized officers may determine will best effect the purposes of this act. For the purposes of determining the amount of bonds issued or outstanding pursuant to this act, the amount of any bonds sold by the city at a discount shall be equal to the net proceeds thereof determined by subtracting the discount from the face amount of such bonds.

(b) The authorized officers may provide for a system of registration and exchange or transfer of registered bonds and in connection therewith the board, subject to approval of the authorized officers, may contract for and engage the services of any banks or other financial institutions within or without the state to perform authentication, registration, transfer, exchange, and paying agent functions, including without limitation the preparation, signing and issuance of checks in payment of such bonds, the preparation and maintenance of records, reports and accounts and the performance of such related duties as may be necessary or desirable in connection with such bonds.

(c) Any authorized officer may execute bonds or cause them to be executed by a facsimile signature in lieu of his manual signature, provided that at least one signature required or permitted to be placed thereon, which may be the signature of an authorized signer of a bank or other financial institution acting as trustee, authenticating agent, transfer agent or similar agent, shall be manually subscribed. The facsimile signature of an authorized officer on a bond or note shall have the same legal effect as his manual signature. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds shall cease to be an officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes as if he had remained in office until after such delivery.

(d) The city may secure any bonds issued hereunder by an insured or uninsured mortgage of the real and personal property of the hospital, with the approval of the mayor and the city council, and by a trust agreement between the city and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the commonwealth, and such mortgage and trust agreement shall be in such form and executed in such manner as may be determined by the authorized officers. Such mortgage and trust agreement may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues held or to be received by the hospital or by the city for hospital purposes, and any contract or other rights to receive the same, whether then existing or thereafter coming into existence and whether then held or thereafter acquired by the hospital, together with the proceeds thereof. Such mortgage and trust agreement may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the bondholders as may, in the discretion of the authorized officers, be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof, which may include the acceleration of maturities, and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the hospital in relation to the custody, safeguarding, investment and application of moneys, the issue of additional or refunding bonds, the fixing, revision and collection of hospital fees and charges, the use of any surplus bond proceeds, the establishment of reserves, and the making and amending of contracts.

(e) The real property of the hospital which the city may mortgage hereunder consists of those certain parcels of land including any buildings and improvements located thereon shown on Plan 1177A of the Quincy city assessor's maps as Plots 12, 16, 22, 23, 26 and 81, and those certain parcels of land including any buildings and improvements located thereon shown on Plan 1177E of the Quincy city assessor's map as Plots 13 and 50, and that certain parcel of land including any buildings and improvements located thereon shown on plan 1187 of the Quincy city assessor's map as plot 1 (pt. 1+2). The present use of such real property is as a community hospital which is a department of the city. Such real property may be mortgaged to secure any bonds issued under authority of this act.

(f) Any bonds issued under authority of this act may be issued by the city on behalf of the hospital in the form of lines of credit or other banking arrangements under such terms and conditions, not inconsistent with this act, and under such agreements with the purchasers or makers thereof as the authorized officers may determine to be in the interest of the hospital and the city. In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds issued by the city under this act may be secured, in whole or in part, without limitation, by bond insurance issued by commercial insurers or by any agency or department of the commonwealth or of the federal government, by letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities issued by any bank, trust company, or other financial institution, within or without the commonwealth, or by any agency or department of the commonwealth or of the federal government, or by insurance of a mortgage of the real and personal property of the hospital issued by commercial insurers or by any agency or department of the commonwealth or of the federal government, and the city and the hospital may pledge or assign any of the revenues of the hospital as security for the reimbursement to the issuers of such letters or lines of credit, insurance or credit facilities of any payments made thereunder.

(g) It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company to act as a depository or trustee of the proceeds of bonds, revenues or other moneys under a trust agreement and to furnish such indemnification or to pledge such securities and issue such letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities as may be required by the hospital. Any such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders. Any pledge of revenues or other property made by the city or the hospital under this act shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected for the purposes of the uniform commercial code and other laws from the time when the pledge is made; the revenues, moneys, rights and proceeds so pledged and then held or thereafter acquired or received by the hospital or the city for hospital purposes shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act; and the lien of such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the city and the hospital, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Any trust agreement or any other agreement by which a pledge is created need not be filed or recorded except in the records of the city and no filing need be made under chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

(h) Any owner of a bond issued by the city under the provisions of this act and any trustee under a trust agreement securing the same, except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by such trust agreement, may bring suit upon the bonds and may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceeding for legal or equitable relief, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under such trust agreement and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this act or by such trust agreement to be performed by the hospital or by any officer thereof.

(i) The city, on behalf of the hospital, may issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying any of the bonds issued pursuant to this act at or prior to maturity or upon acceleration of redemption. Such refunding bonds may be issued in such amounts as the city council may determine by a two-thirds vote, with the approval of the mayor, may be issued at such times prior to the maturity or redemption of the refunded bonds as the board, with the approval of the mayor and the city council, deems to be in the interest of the hospital and the city, and each such bond shall bear a maturity date no later than forty years from the date of the issuance of the original bond or bonds for which such refunding bond is paying. The refunding bonds may be issued in sufficient amounts to pay or provide the principal of the bonds being refunded, together with any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment of such bonds, the expenses of issue of the refunding bonds, the expenses of redeeming the bonds being refunded, and such reserves for debt service or other capital or current expenses from the proceeds of such refunding bonds as may be required by a trust agreement securing the bonds. The issue of refunding bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the security therefor, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties and obligations of the city in respect to the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of the bonds other than refunding bonds insofar as the same may be applicable.

(j) Bonds may be issued under this act without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any condition or thing other than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required therefor by this act, and the validity of and security for any bonds issued by the city pursuant to this act shall not be affected by the existence or nonexistence of any such consent or other proceedings, conditions or things.

(k) Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this act or any recitals in any bonds issued under this act, all such bonds shall be deemed to be investment securities under chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 4. Any bonds issued pursuant to this act shall not be included in determining the limits of indebtedness of the city as established by law nor shall the principal and interest payments thereof be included in any computation under section twenty-one C of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 5. Any debt service fund, construction fund, debt service reserve fund, depreciation reserve fund or other fund established in connection with the issuance of bonds under this act shall be kept separate from the general fund of the city and from the general operating funds of the hospital. The moneys deposited in any such funds, together with income derived from any investments held as part of such funds, all of which income shall be considered revenues of the hospital, shall be expended without further authorization or appropriation as provided for in the trust agreement establishing such funds.

SECTION 6. In addition to other lawful items, the project costs to be financed by the issue of bonds under this act may include: interest for a period of up to six months after the date, as determined or estimated by the director, of commencing regular use of the new structure by the hospital; the cost of architectural, engineering, financial and legal services, plans, specifications, studies of cost and of revenues; administrative expenses related to the construction of the project; expenses as may be necessary or incident to determining the feasibility or practicability of constructing the project or to reviewing the impact of the project on the city and on the city's general financial condition; capital equipment purchased within one year of the date, as determined or estimated by the director, of commencing regular use of the new structure by the hospital; and such other expenses incurred by either the city or the hospital as may be necessary or incident to the construction of the project, the financing of such construction, including, without limitation, any reserve funds described in section five of this act, and the placing of the project in operation.

SECTION 7. Subject to any limitation imposed by law, the hospital shall be required to fix and collect rates and charges which together with other available hospital revenues shall provide moneys sufficient at all times to make payments of principal of, premium if any, and interest on bonds issued under this act, including the required payments to any debt service fund established under this act, as they come due, and to satisfy all other obligations to be paid from hospital revenues in a timely fashion. The hospital shall at all times keep full and accurate accounts of its receipts, expenditures, disbursements, assets and liabilities.

SECTION 8. All revenues received pursuant to the provisions of this act, whether as proceeds from the issue of bonds, investment earnings, or otherwise, shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this act.

SECTION 9. Bonds issued under this act, their transfer and income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all

Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency, authority or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or obligations of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision is now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

SECTION 11. The hospital shall submit to the city council quarterly reports describing the progress made in completing the construction of the replacement project for which bonds are issued under this act, including costs incurred in said construction.

Chapter 525. AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR PROBATE COURT ADJUDICATIONS OF COMPETENCY AND SUBSTITUTED ADJUDICATIONS OF COMPETENCY AND SUBSTITUTED JUDGMENT IN CERTAIN CASES INVOLVING TREATMENT WITH ANTIPSYCHOTIC MEDICATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 201 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out section 6 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 6. (a) A parent of a mentally ill person, two or more relatives or friends of a mentally ill person, a nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth whose corporate charter authorizes the corporation to act as a guardian of a mentally ill person or any agency within the executive offices of human services or educational affairs may file a petition in the probate court asking to have a guardian appointed for such mentally ill person and if, after notice as provided in section seven and a hearing, the court finds that he is incapable of taking care of himself by reason of mental illness, it shall appoint a guardian of his person and estate. A copy of such appointment shall be sent by mail by the register to the department of mental health. The court may require additional medical or psychological testimony as to the mental condition of the person alleged to be mentally ill and may require him to submit to examination. It may also appoint one or more physicians, or licensed psychologists, expert in mental illness, to examine such person and report their conclusions to the court. Reasonable expenses incurred in such examination shall be paid out of the estate of such person, by the petitioner, or by the commonwealth, as the court may determine.

(b) No guardian so appointed shall have the authority to cause to admit or commit such person to a mental health or retardation facility unless the court specifically finds the same to be in the best interests of such person and specifically so authorizes such admission or commitment by its order or decree. The court shall not authorize such admission or commitment except after a hearing for the purposes of which counsel shall be provided for any indigent, allegedly mentally ill person.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 525.

(c) No guardian so appointed shall have the authority to consent to treatment with antipsychotic medication, provided however, that the court shall authorize such treatment when it (1) specifically finds using the substituted judgment standard that the person, if competent, would consent to such treatment and (2) specifically approves and authorizes an antipsychotic medication treatment plan by its order or decree, after considering the testimony or affidavit of a licensed physician regarding such plan. The court shall not authorize such treatment plan except after a hearing for the purpose of which counsel shall be provided for any indigent mentally ill person. Said hearing shall be held as soon as is practicable; provided, however, that if the petitioner requests a temporary order on the grounds that the welfare of the ward requires an immediate authorization of treatment with antipsychotic medications, the court shall act on such request in accordance with the procedures set forth in section fourteen.

(d) The court may delegate to a guardian the authority to monitor the treatment process to ensure that an antipsychotic medication treatment plan is followed, provided a guardian is readily available for such purpose. Approval of a treatment plan shall not be withheld, however, because a guardian is not available to serve as monitor. In such circumstances, the court shall appoint a suitable person to monitor the treatment process to ensure that the antipsychotic medication treatment plan is followed. Reasonable expense incurred in such monitoring may be paid out of the estate of such person, by the petitioner, or, subject to appropriation, by the commonwealth, as the court may determine.

(e) At a hearing relative to authority to cause to admit or commit or authority to administer antipsychotic medication, the court shall require the attendance of the allegedly mentally ill person unless the court finds that there exists extraordinary circumstances requiring his absence, in which event the attendance of his counsel shall suffice; provided that the court may base its findings exclusively upon affidavits and other documentary evidence if it (1) determines, after careful inquiry and upon representations of counsel, that there are no contested issues of fact and (2) includes in its findings the reasons that oral testimony was not required. The court may also appoint one or more persons experienced in the evaluation, care and treatment of mentally ill persons to examine such person and report their conclusions to the court.

(f) Any privilege established by section one hundred and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and twelve or by section twenty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-three, relating to confidential communications, shall not prohibit the filing of reports or affidavits, or the giving of testimony, pursuant to this chapter, for the purpose of obtaining treatment of a mentally ill person; provided, however, that such person has been informed prior to making such communications that they may be used for such purpose and has waived the privilege.

SECTION 2. Chapter 201 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out section 6A and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 6A. A parent of a mentally retarded person, two or more relatives or friends of a mentally retarded person, a nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of the commonwealth whose corporate charter authorizes the corporation to act as guardian of a mentally retarded person, or any agency within the executive offices of human services or educational affairs may file a petition in the probate court asking to have a guardian appointed for such mentally retarded person. If, after notice as provided in section seven and a hearing, the court finds that the person is mentally retarded to the degree that he is incapable of making informed decisions with respect to the conduct of his personal and financial affairs, that failure to appoint a guardian would create an unreasonable risk to his health, welfare and property, and that appointment of a conservator pursuant to section sixteen B would not eliminate such risk, it may appoint a guardian of his person and estate. The court shall not so find unless the petition is accompanied by a report from a clinical team consisting of a physician, a licensed psychologist and a social worker, each of whom is experienced in the evaluation of mentally retarded persons, that it has examined the said person and has determined that he is mentally retarded to the degree that he is incapable of making informed decisions with respect to the conduct of his personal and financial affairs. The court shall not, pursuant to this section, appoint as guardian any person or organization which, in its opinion, has any interest, responsibilities or powers which would render such person or organization unable to perform the duties of guardian in the best interest of the mentally retarded person. A copy of such appointment shall be sent by mail by the register to the department of mental health. The court may require additional testimony as to the existence and degree of mental retardation, and may require the person subject to the petition to submit to examination.

(b) No guardian so appointed shall have the authority to cause to admit or commit such mentally retarded person to a mental health or retardation facility unless the court specifically finds the same to be in the best interests of such person and specifically authorizes such admission or commitment by its order or decree. The court shall not authorize such admission or commitment except after a hearing for the purposes of which counsel shall be provided for any indigent mentally retarded person.

(c) No guardian so appointed shall have the authority to consent to treatment with antipsychotic medication, provided that the court shall authorize such treatment when it (1) specifically finds using the substituted judgment standard that the person, if competent, would consent to such treatment and (2) specifically approves and authorizes an antipsychotic medication treatment plan by its order or decree. The court shall not authorize such treatment plan except after a hearing for the purpose of which counsel shall be provided for any indigent mentally retarded person. Said hearing shall be held as soon as is practicable; provided, however, that if the petitioner requests a temporary order on the grounds that the welfare of the ward requires an immediate authorization of treatment with antipsychotic medications, the court shall act on such request in accordance with the procedures set forth in section fourteen.

(d) The court may delegate to a guardian the authority to monitor the treatment process to ensure that an antipsychotic medication treatment plan is followed, provided a guardian is readily available for such purpose. Approval of a treatment plan shall not be withheld, however, because a guardian is not available to serve as monitor. In such circumstances, the court shall appoint a suitable person to monitor the treatment process to ensure that the antipsychotic medication treatment plan is followed. Reasonable expense incurred in such monitoring may be paid out of the estate of such person, by the petitioner, or, subject to appropriation, by the commonwealth, as may be determined by the court.

(e) At a hearing relative to authority to cause to admit or commit or authority to administer antipsychotic medication, the court shall require the attendance of such allegedly mentally retarded person unless the court finds that there exists extraordinary circumstances requiring his absence, in which event the attendance of his counsel shall suffice; provided that the court may base its findings exclusively upon affidavits and other documentary evidence if it (1) determines, after careful inquiry and upon representations of counsel, that there are no contested issues of fact and (2) includes in its findings the reason that oral testimony was not required. The court may also appoint one or more persons experienced in the evaluation, care and treatment of mentally retarded persons to examine such person and report their conclusions to the court.

(f) Reasonable expenses incurred in any examination conducted pursuant to this section shall be paid by the petitioner, the estate of such persons, or by the commonwealth as the court may determine.
