(g) The guardian of a mentally retarded person shall act to protect the welfare of such person and may utilize the services of agencies and individuals to provide necessary and desirable social and protective services of different types appropriate to such person including, but not limited to, counseling services, advocacy services, legal services, and other aid as he deems to be in the interest of such person.

(h) Any privilege established by section one hundred and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and twelve or by section twenty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-three, relating to confidential communications, shall not prohibit the filing of reports or affidavits, or the giving of testimony, pursuant to this chapter, for the purpose of obtaining treatment of a mentally retarded person; provided, however, that such person has been informed prior to making such communication that they may be used for such purpose and has waived the privilege.

SECTION 3. Chapter 201 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out section 14 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 14. (a) Upon the petition of any agency within the executive offices of human services or educational affairs or other person in interest, the court may, if it finds that the welfare of a minor, a mentally ill or mentally retarded person or spendthrift requires the immediate appointment of a temporary guardian of his person and estate, appoint a temporary guardian of such minor, mentally ill or mentally retarded person or spendthrift, with or without notice, and may in like manner remove or discharge him or terminate the trust; or in the absence of a person to serve as temporary guardian, the court by order or decree may authorize and monitor, as appropriate, medical treatment; provided, however, that if the court makes the findings required in paragraph (c) it shall authorize treatment with antipsychotic medication and shall, in the absence of a person to serve as temporary guardian, appoint a suitable person to monitor the treatment process to ensure that the treatment plan approved by the court is followed. A temporary guardian may proceed and continue in the execution of his duties, notwithstanding an appeal from the decree appointing him, until it is otherwise ordered by the supreme judicial court, or until the appointment of a permanent guardian, or until the trust is otherwise legally terminated. Reasonable expense incurred in such monitoring may be paid out of the estate of such person, by the petitioner, or, subject to appropriation, by the commonwealth, as the court may determine.

(b) No temporary guardian so appointed shall have the authority to cause to admit or commit such minor, mentally ill or mentally retarded person or spendthrift to a mental health or retardation facility unless the court specifically finds the same to be in the best interests of such person and specifically authorizes such admission or commitment by its order or decree.

(c) No temporary guardian so appointed shall have the authority to consent to treatment with antipsychotic medication, provided that the court shall authorize such treatment when it (i) specifically finds using the substituted judgment standard that the person, if competent, would consent to such treatment and (ii) specifically approves and authorizes an antipsychotic medication treatment plan by its order or decree.

(d) The court shall not authorize such admission or commitment or treatment with antipsychotic medication except after a hearing for the purpose of which counsel shall be provided for any indigent person subject to such admission or commitment or such treatment and the court shall require the attendance of such person at such hearing unless the court finds that there exists extraordinary circumstances requiring his absence, in which event the attendance of his counsel shall suffice; provided that the court may base its findings exclusively on affidavits and other documentary evidence if it (1) determines after careful inquiry and upon representation of counsel, that there are not contested issues of fact, and (2) includes in its findings the reasons that oral testimony was not required; provided, however, that in cases of extreme emergency the court may authorize an admission or commitment by an ex parte proceeding, if it finds that the remedies under the emergency provisions of section twelve of chapter one hundred and twenty-three are not applicable or would not be available to deal with the present emergency.

(e) No separate petition shall be necessary for the appointment of a temporary guardian, and, except as otherwise specified herein, the procedures relative to filing, notice, hearings, and related matters normally incident to equitable proceedings and relief prior to final decree, shall apply to these proceedings, provided that a hearing on a request to authorize the administration of antipsychotic medication shall be held as soon as is practicable, and the principles of equity normally applicable to the issuance, denial and expiration of temporary or preliminary relief and orders shall also so apply.

(f) Whenever a temporary guardian is so appointed, the decree or order shall indicate the nature of the emergency requiring such appointment and the particular harm sought to be avoided, and shall state that the temporary guardian so appointed is only authorized to take such actions with regard to the ward as are reasonably necessary to avoid the occurrence of that harm.

(g) Any privilege established by section one hundred and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and twelve or by section twenty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-three, relating to confidential communications, shall not prohibit the filing of reports or affidavits, or the giving of testimony, pursuant to this section, for the purpose of obtaining treatment of a mentally ill or mentally retarded person; provided, however, that such person has been informed prior to making such communications that they may be used for such purpose and has waived the privilege.

SECTION 4. The court shall, as soon as is practicable, promulgate rules establishing the maximum number of days within which a hearing shall be held on any petition seeking the appointment of a guardian, under section six or six A, or a temporary guardian, under section fourteen, authorized to consent to the administration of antipsychotic medication; provided, however, that pending the promulgation of such rules, the chief justice of the probate court department shall issue directives establishing such maximum time periods as he deems appropriate.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 527.

Chapter 527. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 31, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby further amended by striking out the definition of "Certification" and inserting in place thereof the following definition:–

"Certification", the designation to an appointing authority by the administrator of sufficient names from an eligible list or register for consideration of the applicants' qualifications for appointment pursuant to the personnel administration rules.

SECTION 2. Section 1 of said chapter 31 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the definition of "Entrance requirements" and inserting in place thereof the following definition:–

"Entrance requirements", the experience and educational prerequisites which an applicant must satisfy in addition to passing a civil service examination to be qualified for appointment to a civil service position.

SECTION 3. Section 6 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

An appointing authority desiring to make an original appointment in the official service shall submit a requisition to the administrator. Upon receipt of such requisition, the administrator shall certify from the eligible list sufficient names of persons for consideration of their qualifications for appointment by the appointing authority pursuant to section twenty-five and the personnel administration rules. If no suitable eligible list exists, or if the list contains the names of fewer than three persons who are qualified for appointment and willing to accept employment, the appointing authority may make a provisional appointment pursuant to sections twelve, thirteen and fourteen.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out section 13 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 13. An appointing authority, in requesting authorization to make a provisional appointment, shall file with the administrator or, if the appointing authority is a department, board, commission, institution or other agency within a executive office, with the secretary in charge of such office, a notice containing: (1) the information which the appointing authority believes is necessary to prepare and conduct an examination for the position for which such authorization is being requested, including a statement of the duties of the position, and the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to perform such duties; (2) a proposal specifying the type of examination which should be held by the administrator; (3) a substantiation that the person proposed for the provisional appointment meets the proposed requirements for appointment to the position and possesses the knowledge, skills and abilities necessary to perform such duties.

SECTION 5. The first paragraph of section 22 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 6, the words "of the examination" and inserting in place thereof the following words:— designated by the administrator.

SECTION 6. Clause (3) of the second paragraph of said section 22 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 7, the words "the examination" and by inserting in place thereof the following words:— appointment to the position.

SECTION 7. The third paragraph of said section 22 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 21 and 24, the words "the examination" and inserting in place thereof the following words:— appointment to the position.

SECTION 8. The first paragraph of section 23 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 8, the words "the examination" and inserting in place thereof the following words:— appointment to the position.

SECTION 9. The second paragraph of said section 23 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 8, the words "of the examination" and inserting in place thereof the following words:— designated by the administrator.

SECTION 10. The first paragraph of section 24 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 5, the words "the examination" and inserting in place thereof the following words:— appointment to the position.

SECTION 11. The second paragraph of said section 24 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 22 and 23, the words "of the examination" and inserting in place thereof the following words:— designated by the administrator.

SECTION 12. Section 25 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:— The administrator shall establish, maintain and revise eligible lists of persons who have passed each examination for appointment to a position in the official service.

SECTION 13. Said section 25 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

Persons on an eligible list shall be eligible for certification from such list for such period as the administrator shall determine, but in any event not to exceed two years, unless one of the following exceptions applies:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 527.

(1) such eligibility is extended by law because such persons are in the military or naval service; (2) the administrator is temporarily enjoined by a court order from certifying names from an eligible list, in which case eligibility of persons on such list shall be extended for a period equal to the duration of such order; or (3) no new list is established, in which case eligibility of all persons on such list shall be extended until a new list is established for the same position for which the original list was established; provided, however, that the administrator may revoke the eligibility of the entire list or of any persons on such list subsequent to said two-year period if he shall determine that the effective maintenance of the merit system so requires such revocation and, provided further, that a written notice and explanation for said revocation is sent to the clerks of the senate and house of representatives.

SECTION 14. Said section 25 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourth paragraph.

SECTION 15. Said section 25 of said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fifth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Following the certification of names to an appointing authority, such appointing authority shall submit a written report to the administrator indicating (a) with respect to each person whose name was certified, whether such person appeared to sign the certification, (b) whether each person who so appeared declined or expressed willingness to accept employment, and (c) each person selected for appointment. Such report shall include such verification as the administrator may require that each person willing to accept employment meets or fails to meet the entrance requirements for appointment designated by the administrator. Failure to submit such report on or prior to the date of expiration of the eligibility of a person on such list shall nullify an appointment of such person.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 31, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out section 27 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 27. Except as provided otherwise by section fifteen, if the administrator certifies from an eligible list the names of three persons who are qualified for and willing to accept appointment, the appointing authority, pursuant to the civil service law and rules, may appoint only from among such persons. If such eligible list contains the names of fewer than three such persons, the appointing authority may appoint from among those persons or may request authorization to make a provisional appointment pursuant to sections twelve, thirteen and fourteen.

If an appointing authority makes an original or promotional appointment from a certification of any qualified person other than the qualified person whose name appears highest, and the person whose name is highest is willing to accept such appointment, the appointing authority shall immediately file with the administrator a written statement of his reasons for appointing the person whose name was not highest. Such an appointment of a person whose name was not highest shall be effective only when such statement of reasons has been received by the administrator. The administrator shall make such statement available for public inspection at the office of the department.

Chapter 532. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE UNIFORM DETERMINATION OF APPEALS OF UTILITY COMPANIES IN CASES BEFORE THE APPELLATE TAX BOARD CONCERNING THE CORRECT CLASSIFICATION OF CERTAIN TAXABLE PROPERTY.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide for an equitable and uniform procedure for the determination of the proper classification and taxation of the taxable property of utility companies, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Chapter 58A of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 12C, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, the following section:—

Section 12D. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, in any appeal under the provisions of sections sixty-four or sixty-five of chapter fifty-nine from the refusal of the assessor to abate a tax or reclassify any real or personal property by an electric company or gas company, both as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-four, upon motion of any party after an appeal has been filed but before a decision is rendered concerning real or personal property of an electric or gas company for any fiscal year certified or following certification for classification by the commissioner under the provisions of section fifty-six of chapter forty or any determination of the commissioner made pursuant to section one A of chapter fifty-eight, the board shall properly classify all the taxable property at issue as either real or personal and determine the fair cash value of such property, and the tax that should have been paid, notwithstanding the assessor's original classification of such property or the amount or form of the tax bill received and paid; provided, however, that upon a determination that any property should be reclassified, the taxpayer shall be allowed to file an appeal late concerning the valuation of such property, if an appeal has not been previously filed, within thirty days of such determination and order of the board.

In any determination made under this section, the board shall make subsidiary findings of the proper classification of all taxable property at issue, as either real or personal, the fair cash value and the total taxes that should have been paid for each parcel or item of such property, reduced by abatements, if any, for each fiscal year. Upon such determination, the board shall further find the taxes that were paid or owed for such property at issue as it was originally assessed and taxed, and shall then allocate and credit such taxes as part or all of the taxes that should have been paid for such property as properly classified by it, and such allocation shall be binding on the taxpayer and the assessor and shall be deemed to be the original tax assessed and owed, subject only to any appeal taken pursuant to section thirteen; provided, however, that if the total amount of taxes that should have been paid under the board's de novo determination under this section is equal to or greater than the amounts actually paid or owed, as determined under this section, the appellant shall not be entitled to an abatement, notwithstanding the local assessor's original classification of the taxable property or the form of the original tax bill received and paid. Upon a determination under this section, the existing official records of the city or town shall be amended and corrected, and assessments and tax bills shall be deemed to have been issued in conformance with the board's determination.

Chapter 536. AN ACT PROHIBITING THE PRACTICE OF HAZING.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 269 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following three sections:–

Section 17. Whoever is a principle organizer or participant in the crime of hazing as defined herein shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 537.

The term "hazing" as used in this section and in sections eighteen and nineteen, shall mean any conduct or method of initiation into any student organization, whether on public or private property, which wilfully or recklessly endangers the physical or mental health of any student or other person. Such conduct shall include whipping, beating, branding, forced calisthenics, exposure to the weather, forced consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug or other substance, or any other brutal treatment or forced physical activity which is likely to adversely affect the physical health or safety of any such student or other person, or which subjects such student or other person to extreme mental stress, including extended deprivation of sleep or rest or extended isolation.

Section 18. Whoever knows that another person is the victim of hazing as defined in section seventeen and is at the scene of such crime shall, to the extent that such person can do so without danger or peril to himself or others, report such crime to an appropriate law enforcement official as soon as reasonably practicable. Whoever fails to report such crime shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars.

Section 19. Each secondary school and each public and private school or college shall issue to every group or organization under its authority or operating on or in conjunction with its campus or school, and to every member, plebe, pledgee or applicant for membership in such group or organization, a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen. An officer of each such group or organization, and each individual receiving a copy of said sections seventeen and eighteen shall sign an acknowledgement stating that such group, organization or individual has received a copy of said sections seventeen and eighteen.

Each secondary school and each public or private school or college shall file, at least annually, a report with the regents of higher education and in the case of secondary schools, the board of education, certifying that such institution has complied with the provisions of this section and also certifying that said school has adopted a disciplinary policy with regards to the organizers and participants of hazing. The board of regents and in the case of secondary schools, the board of education shall promulgate regulations governing the content and frequency of such reports, and shall forthwith report to the attorney general any such institution which fails to make such report.

Chapter 537. AN ACT AUTHORIZING CERTAIN ELECTRONIC VOTING EQUIPMENT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 33A of chapter 54 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the third sentence the following sentence:– Voting machines which contain electronic components need not be equipped with a protective counter, and, instead of candidate and question counters, may be equipped with internal components which register votes electronically.

SECTION 2. Section 33E of said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

If the system used requires the employment of a punch card or data processing card, each voter shall be supplied with an envelope for such card or an equivalent means for preserving the secrecy of the ballot, approved by the state secretary under the provisions of section thirty-two. If a voter wishes to vote for a candidate whose name is not printed upon the official ballot for an office, he may write in the name and address of the candidate of his choice or may affix a sticker or paster containing such name and address inside said envelope or in another approved place. After voting, the voter shall remove his card from the marking unit, shall enclose it at once in any envelope required, and shall insert the card, in any required envelope, in the ballot box. So far as practical, the same proceedings shall be had in each polling place as are required by sections seventy-six to eighty-five A, inclusive.

SECTION 3. The second paragraph of section 35B of said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the second sentence the following sentence:– Such results and votes may be read by means of a printer mechanism, if the voting machine is so equipped, and such results may be accumulated through the use of memory cartridges which are read directly or indirectly to a central computer.

SECTION 4. Section 105A of said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the first paragraph the following paragraph:–

Notwithstanding other provisions of this section to the contrary, if the approved electronic voting system is equipped to count votes electronically while the polls are open, the election officers shall read the vote totals from the counting device after the polls close, by means of a printer mechanism or otherwise and any person who in any manner ascertains or discloses the count of such votes before the polls close shall be punished as provided in section sixty-eight.

Chapter 542. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE FINANCING OF CERTAIN SCHOOL PROJECTS BY THE CITY OF LAWRENCE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The proceeds of grants made pursuant to chapter six hundred and forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-eight for the Robert E. Frost and North Lawrence elementary school construction or re-construction projects in the city of Lawrence, to the extent disbursed to said city and not otherwise expended by said city, shall be paid by the treasurer of said city, and to the extent remaining to be disbursed to said city on or after the effective date of this act, by the state treasurer, to the trustee appointed in accordance with section four and shall be held in trust and applied by said trustee in accordance with the provisions of the trust agreement entered into pursuant to said section four, which may require such application, without limitation, to pay principal and interest on the bonds issued by the city for said projects, principal and interest on any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, and premiums, fees or charges for trust or credit enhancement facilities or services issued or rendered to said city in accordance with agreements entered into pursuant to sections four or five, all of which shall be eligible costs of the projects for all purposes of the grants and of chapter six hundred and forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-eight. The annual payments provided for by the terms of said grants shall be paid to the trustee on the first day in May of each year commencing in nineteen hundred and eighty-six; provided, however, that if such first day of May is a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, said grants shall be paid on the next day which is not a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday.

SECTION 2. At least fifteen days prior to each due date for a payment of principal or interest on bonds or notes issued by said city of Lawrence for the projects, or for a payment with respect to trust or credit enhancement facilities or services pursuant to sections four or five, the treasurer of said city shall deposit with the trustee the amount necessary to make such payment, after taking into account all other monies held by the trustee that are available for that purpose.

SECTION 3. Pending their use in accordance with applicable contract or other requirements, the proceeds of the bonds or notes issued by said city of Lawrence for each project shall be segregated from all other funds and accounts of said city and shall be held in trust by said trustee.

SECTION 4. Any funds to be held in trust under the provisions of this act shall be deposited for the account of the city of Lawrence with a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within the commonwealth. The treasurer of said city, with the approval of the mayor, shall appoint the trustee, and shall execute a trust agreement in such form as they may determine to be necessary or appropriate. Any such funds held in trust may be invested in accordance with section fifty-four of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, but unless otherwise provided in the trust agreement any investment earnings shall be paid into the general fund of said city of Lawrence immediately upon receipt.

SECTION 5. In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds or notes issued by said city of Lawrence for said projects may be secured in whole or in part by insurance, or by letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities issued to said city by any bank, trust company or other financial institution. In connection therewith the treasurer of said city with the approval of the mayor, may enter into agreements with insurers, banks, or other financial institutions within or without the commonwealth and any such agreement may include covenants and provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the insurers or lenders as, in the discretion of said treasurer, may be reasonable and proper.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 4, 1985.

SECTION 1. Chapter 54 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 86, as most recently amended by section 31 of chapter 477 of the acts of 1985, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 86. Any voter who during the hours that polling places are open on the day of a special state election or the biennial state election or of any special or regular state primary or of a presidential primary is absent from the city or town where he is a voter by reason of his employment in another community or for any other reason or who will be unable by reason of temporary or permanent physical disability to cast his vote in person at the polling place or who for reasons of religious belief will be unable to cast his vote in person on the day of an election and whose application for an official absent voting ballot has been filed with the city or town clerk as provided in section eighty-nine, and certified under section ninety-one, may vote in accordance with sections eighty-seven to one hundred and three, inclusive. A voter who will be unable by reason of permanent physical disability to cast his vote in person at the polling place may file once with the city or town clerk a certificate executed by a registered physician who is personally acquainted with the voter and aware of his permanent physical disability, stating that it is reasonably certain because of permanent physical disability that the voter will be unable to cast his vote in person at the polling place on the day of the election. The city or town clerk shall maintain a list of such permanently disabled voters and such voters shall not be required to file any such certification thereafter with their applications for an absent voting ballot.

SECTION 2. Section 87 of said chapter 54, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (c) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:–

(c) Envelopes of sufficient size to contain the ballots specified in subsection (a) bearing on their reverse the affidavits of the voter and of the witness to his oath that they have complied with the requirements of section ninety-two.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out section 89 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 89. The blank forms of application set forth in subsection (b) of section eighty-seven, and the other papers described in the second paragraph of said section eighty-seven, shall, as soon as they can be prepared, be delivered to any person who by mail or otherwise applies therefor to the state secretary or to any city or town clerk. The official absentee voting ballot and all other papers described in said section eighty-seven shall be delivered:–

(a) To a voter who is a patient or resident at a designated health care facility, the official absent voting ballot and all accompanying papers described in section eighty-seven shall be delivered in person as provided in subsection (c) of section ninety-two. "Designated health care facility" shall mean a health care facility as defined by section twenty-five B of chapter one hundred and eleven, within the city or town, which has been designated for the purpose of supervised absent voting in a writing filed with the city or town clerk, not later than twenty-eight days before any primary or election, by the city or town clerk or by any two registrars or election commissioners.

(b) To any other absent voter, the ballot and accompanying papers shall be mailed postage prepaid as provided in subsection (a) of said section ninety-two, or if the voter so requests, be delivered when called for at the office of the clerk as provided in subsection (b) of said section ninety-two. No ballot shall be mailed to a designated health care facility within the city or town where the voter is registered.

(c) To a voter who states under penalty of perjury that he has been admitted, after noon of the fifth day before the relevant election, to any health care facility, as defined by section twenty-five B of chapter one hundred and eleven, the ballot and accompanying papers shall be delivered as provided in subsection (d) of said section ninety-two.

No such application shall be deemed to be seasonably filed unless it is received in the office of the city or town clerk or the registrars of voters before noon on the day preceding the election for which such absent voting ballot is requested, but if the day preceding the election is a Sunday or legal holiday, then before five o'clock post meridian on the last previous day on which the office is open. Any voter who has received the blank form of said application under this or the following section may file said application with the city or town clerk. The provisions of section eighty-one shall be applicable to absent voting ballots; provided, that no request for a substitute ballot from a voter who has received his ballot by mail shall be valid unless it is accompanied by the spoiled ballot and unless it is received in the office of the city or town clerk or the registrars of voters before noon on the day preceding the election for which such substitute absent voting ballot is requested.

No ballot shall be mailed or delivered as provided in this section until the voter has first filed his application and it has been certified by the registrars and returned to the clerk as provided in section ninety-one.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 54 is hereby further amended by striking out section 92, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 92. (a) A voter who has received by mail an official absent voting ballot as provided in subsection (b) of section eighty-nine may vote by mailing it to the city or town clerk. A voter within the United States, whose name does not appear on the list of permanently disabled voters under section eighty-six, shall mark said ballot in the presence of some person eighteen years of age or older and of no other person. Before marking the ballot he shall exhibit it to said witness, who shall satisfy himself that it is unmarked, but he shall not allow said witness to see how he marks it. Except as provided in section ninety-eight, said witness shall hold no communication with the voter, nor he with said witness, as to how he is to vote. Thereafter the voter shall enclose and seal the same in the envelope provided for by subsection (c) of section eighty-seven. He shall then execute before said witness the necessary affidavit on said envelope as provided for in said subsection (c), and the witness shall sign his name and residential address on said envelope. The voter shall then enclose and seal said envelope in the envelope provided for in subsection (d) of said section eighty-seven, and mail the same within the time prescribed in section ninety-three, postage prepaid. A voter outside the United States, or a voter whose name appears on the list of permanently disabled voters under section eighty-six, shall mark the ballot in the presence of no person, except as provided in section ninety-eight, enclose and seal it in the envelope provided for in said subsection (c), execute the affidavit on such envelope, enclose and seal such envelope in the envelope provided for in said subsection (d) and mail the envelope within the time prescribed in section ninety-three, postage prepaid.

(b) A voter whose ballot is delivered in person at the office of the clerk as provided in subsection (b) of section eighty-nine shall not remove it from that office, but shall mark or, in the case of a punch card electronic voting system ballot, shall punch said ballot as prescribed in subsection (a) in the presence of said clerk or some other witness. Thereafter the voter shall enclose and seal the same in the envelope provided for by subsection (c) of section eighty-seven. He shall then execute before said witness the necessary affidavit on said envelope as set forth in said subsection (c) and shall enclose and seal the envelope with the ballot in the envelope provided for in subsection (d) of said section eighty-seven, endorse thereon his name, address and voting place and hand the same to said clerk.

(c) Delivery of the official absent voting ballot in person, as provided in subsection (a) of said section eighty-nine, shall be by a registrar, or by two assistant registrars or absent registration officers who shall not be enrolled in the same political party, at the designated address. The voter shall mark or, in the case of an electronic voting system ballot, shall punch the ballot as prescribed in said subsection (a) in the presence of the official or officials who delivered it and, except as provided in section ninety-eight, of no other person. The voter shall next enclose and seal the ballot in the envelope provided for in subsection (c) of section eighty-seven. He shall then execute before the official or officials the necessary affidavit on that envelope. The official or officials shall certify on that envelope that the affidavit was executed in his or their presence. The voter shall then enclose and seal that envelope in the outer envelope provided for in subsection (d) of said section eighty-seven, endorse on it his name, address, and voting place, and hand it to an official, who shall return it in his custody to the office of the city or town clerk.

(d) Delivery of the official absent voting ballot to a voter in a health care facility, as provided in subsection (c) of section eighty-nine, shall be in the same manner as provided in subsection (c) of this section, but if allowed in the sole discretion of the city or town clerk, a person who is kindred of the voter, as defined in section one hundred and three B, may instead perform the functions of the election official.

(e) Any ballot cast under the provisions of sections eighty-six to one hundred and three A, inclusive, shall be defective if the witness, excepting a city or town clerk, in whose presence it was marked and before whom the affidavit required was executed is a candidate for any office.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 54 is hereby further amended by striking out section 93, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 93. All ballots cast as provided in subsection (a) of section ninety-two shall be mailed, and as provided in subsection (b) in said section ninety-two shall be delivered, on or before the day of election; a postmark, if legible, shall be evidence of the time and place of mailing. All ballots cast as provided in subsection (c) of said section ninety-two shall be delivered before the day of election.

SECTION 6. Section 94 of said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 14, the words "an official" and inserting in place thereof the words:– a witness.

SECTION 7. Said chapter 54 is hereby further amended by striking out section 98, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 98. An absent voter who because of blindness or other physical disability or inability to read or read in the English language is unable to prepare his ballot may at his discretion be assisted in marking it by any person whom he may designate.

SECTION 8. The third paragraph of section 103E of said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– There shall be included in the certificate to be executed by the witness in whose presence such person makes his affidavit a statement setting forth that such person has signed his name in the witness's presence, or that he was prevented by physical disability or inability to write from so signing, and that said signature was added by said witness.

SECTION 9. Section 103H of said chapter 54 is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence, as appearing in section 40 of chapter 477 of the acts of 1985, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– He shall mark such ballot in the manner prescribed by subsection (a) of section ninety-two.

SECTION 10. Section 103 O of said chapter 54, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(b) Blank forms to be printed on the envelopes for enclosing the official absent ballots, for the affidavits of the voter and of the witness to his oath that they have complied with the requirements of law.

Chapter 565. AN ACT AUTHORIZING ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENTS FOR THE CITY OF LAWRENCE FOR THE FIRST HALF OF FISCAL YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SIX.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the city of Lawrence is hereby authorized to issue a first half notice of the estimated tax in lieu of the actual assessment and issuance of the tax bill for the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six and require the payment of such estimated tax, which shall in no event exceed fifty per cent of the tax payable during the preceding fiscal year. Payment of the balance of the tax bill after the establishment of the tax rate for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six, after credit is given for the estimated tax payment previously made, shall represent the second payment upon such bill; such payment shall be payable without interest on or before May first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or thirty days after the mailing of the actual tax bill, whichever is later, and any interest upon such payment shall be calculated from April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or the date of mailing of the bill, whichever is later.

All provisions of law regarding the procedures for issuing, mailing and collecting tax assessments upon real and personal property and betterment assessments shall be applicable to the notice of estimated tax provided hereunder, including the payments of interest under section fifty-seven of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. To the extent that any rights or remedies under law accrue from the date that the tax bill is issued, only the tax bill issued upon the establishment of the tax rate for the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six shall govern such rights or remedies. The provisions of section twenty-one C of said chapter fifty-nine shall apply to the tax rate for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six established by said city of Lawrence.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Chapter 569. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF HAVERHILL TO REFUND CERTAIN HOSPITAL BONDS AND TO ESTABLISH A HOSPITAL ENTERPRISE FUND.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The city of Haverhill may issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying or refunding all or any designated part of its bonds then outstanding issued under chapter four hundred fifty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-eight. Except as provided in this act the issuance of refunding bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the security therefor, and the rights, duties and obligations of the city in respect to the same shall be governed by the applicable provisions of said chapter four hundred and fifty-one relating to the issuance of bonds other than refunding bonds, including the provisions of section one A of said chapter four hundred and fifty-one relating to establishment of a hospital debt service fund. The refunding bonds may be issued in amounts sufficient to pay or provide for the payment of the principal of the bonds being refunded, together with any redemption premium thereon, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment of such bonds, the expenses of issue of the refunding bonds, and the expense of redeeming the bonds being refunded. Such refunding bonds may be issued at one time or from time to time and may be refunded by the issuance of additional refunding bonds under this act; provided, however, that no refunding bonds shall be payable over a period longer than thirty years from the date of the original bonds issued under said chapter four hundred and fifty-one. If such refunding bonds are issued prior to the maturity or redemption date of the bonds being refunded, an amount of the proceeds of the refunding bonds and other moneys then available or to become available to the city, which moneys may include income to be derived from the investment of such proceeds, sufficient to pay or provide for the payment of the principal, redemption premium, if any, and interest on the bonds so refunded to the date fixed for their payment or redemption shall be held in a separate fund and in trust solely for the payment of such principal, redemption premium and interest. The funds so held may be invested pursuant to section fifty-five of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and the income derived from such investment may be expended to pay the principal, redemption premium, if any, and interest on the bonds being refunded until they are paid or redeemed; provided that notwithstanding any limitation on the maturity of investments under said section fifty-five, any such investment may have a maturity not later than the date fixed for the payment or redemption of the bonds being refunded. Upon payment of the refunded bonds or establishment of a refunding trust fund in accordance with this section, any hospital debt service fund established under section one A of said chapter four hundred and fifty-one for the bonds being refunded and any trust agreement or credit agreement executed in connection with the issuance of the bonds being refunded may be terminated or modified so as to apply to and provide security for the refunding bonds; provided, however, that any moneys in such a hospital debt service fund on the date of issuance of the refunding bonds that the city treasurer determines to be unnecessary to pay debt service on the refunded bonds shall be credited to the city's unreserved general fund balance.

SECTION 2. In connection with any bond insurance to secure bonds issued under the provisions of this act, the city may enter into an agreement with the insurer containing such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the insurer as may, in the discretion of the mayor city council and the treasurer, be reasonable and proper, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof, and covenants setting forth the duties of and limitations on the hospital and the city in relation to the custody, investment and application of moneys, the fixing, revision and collection of hospital fees and charges, the establishment of reserves, and the making and amending of contracts. Any such agreement may, under certain circumstances relating to the financial condition of the hospital, require the city to retain independent financial or management consultants or a hospital management company, and make any contract with such a consultant or management company subject to approval by the insurer, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.

SECTION 3. The loan order approved by the mayor on November twenty-second, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, authorizing a borrowing of up to thirty-seven million dollars for the purposes set forth in section one, is hereby validated, ratified and confirmed, and the treasurer with the approval of the mayor is authorized to incur such indebtedness without further action by the city council.

SECTION 4. The city of Haverhill is hereby authorized to establish an enterprise fund to be known as the "Hale Municipal Hospital Enterprise Fund" to account for the activities of the hospital. In connection with the establishment of this enterprise fund, the city may establish a separate bank account, to be known as the "Hale Hospital Operations Account", for the city hospital. Into such account shall be deposited all receipts, revenues and funds from any source derived from any activity of the city hospital. The account authorized by this section shall be maintained by the city treasurer in a bank or trust company in the commonwealth and expenditures from such account shall be made by the director of the city hospital, subject to appropriation in accordance with chapter forty-four of the General Laws, and used solely for the operation and maintenance of and the provision of capital equipment and plant for said hospital. The city treasurer shall be authorized to invest the monies in such account in accordance with sections fifty-five and fifty-five A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and the interest accruing thereon shall inure to the benefit of the city hospital. The city may also establish a separate "Hale Hospital Fund Balance" account in the accounting records of the city. The fund balance shall be credited as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five with the opening fund balance of the Hale Municipal Hospital Enterprise Fund. The opening fund balance shall be equal to the net assets of the hospital transferred to said enterprise fund as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and shall include all of the assets and liabilities related to the operation of the hospital, including but not limited to, cash, accounts receivable, inventories, prepaid expense, warrants and accounts payable and other liabilities, trust funds and property, plant and equipment.

The accounting for said enterprise fund shall be in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and accordingly the activities of the hospital shall be accounted for on a full accrual basis and shall be audited annually by a certified public accountant. Such audit reports shall be submitted to the board of trustees of said hospital, the mayor and the members of the city council of said city. For the purpose of providing health care, said city may from time to time appropriate monies to said enterprise fund from other available funds and donations from private sources may be received into such fund. At the close of each fiscal year any deficit in the Hale Hospital Fund Balance Account shall be reported by the auditor to the assessors, who shall include the amount so reported in the aggregate appropriations to be assessed in the next subsequent annual tax levy, unless the city has provided funds to eliminate such deficit. Any deficit so incurred shall be subject to all applicable provisions of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws. Any surplus in the Hale Hospital Fund Balance account at the close of a fiscal year shall be retained in said account and, subject to appropriation in accordance with chapter forty-four of the General Laws, shall be used solely for the operation and maintenance of and the provision of capital equipment and plant for said hospital.

SECTION 5. The city treasurer, upon the written request of the director of the city hospital, may advance funds from the general fund of the city in any fiscal year in anticipation of the receipt of revenues of the city hospital for that same fiscal year. Such advances outstanding at any one time in any fiscal year shall not exceed, in the aggregate, twenty-five per cent of the annual expense of the current fiscal year as certified by the director, or such larger amount as may be approved by the mayor and the city council. All such sums so advanced shall be deposited into the operations account established under section four and the director shall prior to the end of each fiscal year repay such advances to the general fund together with an amount equal to the interest as determined by the city treasurer to be allocable to any debt incurred during that fiscal year by the city in anticipation of revenue in order to make such advances.

SECTION 6. The director of the city hospital shall file with the mayor, the city council, the treasurer of said city and the bureau of accounts a written report of the enterprise fund established under the provisions of section four within one hundred and twenty days after the books are closed for the fiscal year. Such report shall include financial statements relating to the operations, maintenance, capital and real and personal properties of said hospital.

SECTION 7. Sections one, two, three and seven of this act shall take effect upon its passage. Sections four, five and six shall take effect as of July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

Chapter 570. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE SALE OF CERTAIN PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECTS.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 571.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 34 of chapter 121B of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:–

If the department shall determine that an acute shortage of housing for veterans constituting a public exigency, emergency or distress no longer exists and that a shortage of low-rent housing no longer exists in a particular city or town, any project, or a part of any project with the land appurtenant thereto, constructed under this section may, with the approval of the department, be sold for the fair market value thereof as determined by the department, but for not less than the total of the outstanding obligations of the housing authority with respect to such project if the whole is sold, or not less than that percentage of the total outstanding obligations of the authority with respect to such project which the cost of the part sold bears to the total cost of the entire project if a part is sold.

There is hereby established the Housing Authority Bonds Sinking Fund and the state treasurer is hereby designated custodian thereof. He shall administer such fund in accordance with the provisions of chapter twenty-nine. So long as any bonds issued by a housing authority to finance the cost of a project under this section or section thirty-five and guaranteed by the commonwealth are outstanding, the proceeds of any sale of such project shall be paid by the housing authority into such fund and shall be expended from time to time by the state treasurer to pay interest and principal of any bonds issued by such housing authority to finance such project.

Approved December 9, 1985.

Chapter 571. AN ACT AUTHORIZING CITIES TO ISSUE BONDS AND NOTES SECURED BY INSURANCE OR BY LETTERS OR LINES OF CREDIT OR OTHER CREDIT FACILITIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 44 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after section 22 the following section:–

Section 22A. Bonds or notes issued by a city may be secured in whole or in part by insurance or by letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities upon a two-thirds vote of the city council with the approval of the mayor. Any such insurance, letter or line of credit or credit facility may provide for reimbursement to be made over such period of time, not to exceed two years beyond the maturity date of the bonds or notes so secured, as the treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, shall deem proper and may provide for reimbursement to be made, and any such notes or bonds may be issued, at such rate or rates of interest as the treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, shall deem proper, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate or other method as may be specified in such agreement or such bond or note. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of law, bonds or notes secured as described in this section may, in the discretion of the treasurer, with the approval of the mayor, be subject to prepayment at the option of the holder thereof at such times and prices and under such circumstances as the treasurer and the mayor shall specify. For the purpose of securing bonds and notes a city, acting by its treasurer, upon a two-thirds vote of all the city council, with the approval of the mayor, may enter into a trust agreement between the city and a corporate trustee which shall be a bank or trust company doing business in the commonwealth. Any such trust agreement, and any remarketing or other agreements necessary or incidental to the issuance of such bonds or notes, shall be in such form as may be deemed proper by the treasurer of such city, with the approval of its mayor, and shall be executed by its treasurer and countersigned by its mayor. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company doing business in the commonwealth to act as a depository or trustee under any such trust agreement and to furnish such indemnification and pledge such securities as may be required by any such city. Any trustee under a trust agreement established pursuant to this section may bring suit upon the bonds or notes and may, either at law or equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings for legal or equitable relief, enforce all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under such trust agreement, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required under such trust agreement to be performed by the city or by any officer thereof. In a city with a plan D or plan E form of government, the powers granted in this section to the mayor shall be exercised by the city manager. The provisions of this section shall not apply to towns. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this section may be treated by the city as a cost of issuance.

SECTION 2. The first paragraph of section 23 of chapter 59 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the first sentence the following sentence:– Any estimate of interest charges attributable to variable interest rates on obligations issued pursuant to section twenty-two A of chapter forty-four shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

Chapter 572. AN ACT RELATIVE TO WORKERS' COMPENSATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17B of chapter 6A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The following agencies are hereby declared to be within the executive office of labor: the department of labor and industries, the department of industrial accidents; the minimum wage commission; and health, welfare and retirement trust funds board.

SECTION 2. Section 17C of said chapter 6A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The department of industrial accidents and all other state agencies within said department are hereby declared to be within the executive office of labor, but shall not be subject to its jurisdiction thereof.

SECTION 3. Sections fourteen to twenty-four, inclusive, of chapter twenty-three of the General Laws are hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 23D the following chapter:–

CHAPTER 23E.
DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS.

Section 1. There shall be a department of industrial accidents under the supervision and control of a commissioner of industrial accidents, hereinafter in this chapter and in chapter one hundred and fifty-two, called the commissioner. The governor shall appoint the commissioner to serve for a term coterminous with that of the governor. Upon the expiration of the term of office of the commissioner, he may be reappointed by the governor. The position of commissioner shall be classified in accordance with section forty-five of chapter thirty and the salary shall be determined in accordance with section forty-six C of said chapter thirty. The commissioner shall devote his full time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in other employment or business activities during regular business hours.

Section 2. The commissioner shall be the executive and administrative head of the department. He shall have charge of the administration of the department and enforcement of all laws, rules and regulations which it is the duty of the department to administer and enforce. He shall have authority pursuant to the provisions of chapter thirty A to issue any regulation for the enforcement and administration of the provisions of this chapter and chapter one hundred and fifty-two. The commissioner shall prepare an annual operating budget and other funding requirements and requests pursuant to said chapter one hundred and fifty-two to be submitted to the secretary of labor.

Section 3. There shall be within the department a division of administration, under the supervision and control of a director of administration and a division of dispute resolution, under the supervision and direction of a director of dispute resolution, both of whom shall be appointed by the commissioner.

There shall also be within the division of administration a first deputy director of administration who shall perform the duties of the director of administration in the absence of the director of administration and who shall have responsibility for the budget required by chapter twenty-nine. There shall also be within the division of dispute resolution a deputy director of dispute resolution who shall perform the duties of the director of dispute resolution in the absence of said director and who shall also be responsible for scheduling within said division.

Section 4. There shall be within the division of dispute resolution an industrial accident board, in this chapter and in chapter one hundred and fifty-two called the board, which shall consist of sixteen members, who shall be administrative judges appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the council, not more than nine of whom shall be from the same political party, for six year terms. Upon the expiration of the term of office of a member, such member or his successor shall be appointed or reappointed, as the case may be, for a term of six years by the governor with the advice and consent of the council, except that any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term of his predecessor shall be appointed for the unexpired portion of such term. Nominees shall be submitted to the governor from a nominating panel under procedures to be established by the governor. Prior to the expiration of the term of office of a member, the conduct of said member shall be reviewed by such nominating panel, which shall recommend whether said member shall be retained in office. Such review shall include a report from the commissioner.

Notwithstanding any provision of chapter thirty to the contrary, the commissioner shall be placed in Job Group M-X, as set forth in section forty-six C of chapter thirty, and the members of the board shall be placed in Job Group M-IX, as set forth in said section forty-six C at not less than Step 7, of the management salary schedule, the first deputy director of administration and the deputy director of dispute resolution shall be placed in Job Group M-VII, as set out in said section forty-six C, at not less than Step 7.

Members of the board shall devote their full time during ordinary business hours to the respective duties assigned them and shall not engage in outside employment or business activities during such hours.

Section 5. There shall be within the division of dispute resolution an industrial accident reviewing board, in this chapter and in chapter one hundred and fifty-two called the reviewing board which shall consist of four members, not more than two of whom shall be of one political party. Members of the reviewing board shall be administrative law judges appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the council, for six year terms. Upon the expiration of the term of office of a member, such member or his successor shall be appointed or reappointed, as the case may be, for a term of six years by the governor with the advice and consent of the council, except that any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term of his predecessor shall be appointed for the unexpired portion of such term. Nominees shall be submitted to the governor from a nominating panel under procedures to be established by the governor. Prior to the expiration of the term of office of a member, the conduct of said member shall be reviewed by such nominating panel, which shall recommend whether said member shall be retained in office. Such review shall include a report from the commissioner.

Notwithstanding any provision of chapter thirty to the contrary, the members of the reviewing board shall be placed in Job Group M-X, as set forth in section forty-six C of said chapter thirty. Reviewing board members shall devote their full time during ordinary business hours to the duties of their office and shall not engage in any other employment or business activities during such hours.

Section 6. The industrial accident board and the industrial accident reviewing board shall be under the supervision and administrative control of the director of dispute resolution. The director shall direct and supervise the activities of all members of the board and the reviewing board. The commissioner shall assign such necessary support staff to the division as he deems necessary. The director shall cause a statistical list to be maintained of all matters heard or conferred on by each board member along with a list of conference orders and decisions filed by each member and all lump sum settlements approved by the reviewing board and at the end of each month shall cause said list to be published forthwith and made available for inspection by the public. Every decision and order of any member of the board and every decision by the reviewing board shall be open to the public. Decisions of the reviewing board shall be indexed and published. Members of the industrial accident board and the industrial accident reviewing board shall be subject to the provisions of chapters two hundred and sixty-eight A and two hundred and sixty-eight B.

Section 7. If the workload of the board so requires, the governor with the advice and consent of the council, may, upon request of the commissioner, recall any former member of the board to sit as a member in any conference or hearing conducted under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-two. Such former member when recalled, shall be assigned to such proceedings as the commissioner shall determine, and when so recalled and assigned he shall have all the powers and duties of a member of the board. The period for which a former member may be recalled shall not exceed one hundred and eighty days, but the governor may upon the advice and consent of the council, upon request of the commissioner once again recall the member for one additional period of time not to exceed ninety days. No former member of the board shall represent any person before the board during the period for which he has been recalled as a member or decide cases in which he had an interest or involvement during his absence from the board. A former member so recalled shall be paid by the commonwealth in addition to any pension or retirement allowance received by him, the amount by which the regular salary of a member of the board exceeds such pension of retirement allowance which he is entitled to receive for the period.

Section 8. The commissioner shall have authority to initiate proceedings for the removal of a board or reviewing board member when the commissioner is of the opinion that the member has been guilty of misconduct, material neglect of duty, or incompetence in the conduct of office. Upon recommendation of the commissioner, the governor shall commence an investigation of the member's record and practices. Upon completion of the investigation, the governor may, with the advice and consent of the council remove such member for misconduct, material neglect of duty, or incompetence in the conduct of his office. The substance of the decisions of a member in individual cases and in all cases in which the member sits shall not constitute cause for removal.

The member shall be provided with a written statement of the grounds for removal and a summary of the investigation by the governor. Removal procedures shall afford confidentiality, subject to considerations of due process and the provisions of section ten of chapter sixty-six. Any member so removed shall have the right to appeal his removal to the superior court department of the trial court.

Section 9. There shall be within the division of administration an office of claims administration. In addition to any duties assigned to it by the director of administration, the office shall receive and maintain reports of injury and other reports required under chapter one hundred and fifty-two, and shall provide claims conciliation services.

Section 10. There shall be within the division of administration an office of education and vocational rehabilitation. Said office shall perform such functions of the department relating to the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-two and as the director of administration may from time to time determine, and shall provide such vocational rehabilitation services as required by said chapter one hundred and fifty-two. Said office shall also maintain a toll-free number to respond to any inquiries regarding workers' compensation.

The office shall prepare and make available to employers and employees informational materials which explain the provisions of the worker's compensation law in the commonwealth, and shall update such materials upon the passage of any legislation which substantially alters said laws.

Section 11. (1) There shall be within the division of administration an office of insurance. The office shall perform the duties of the division with respect to the enforcement of the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-two relating to insurers and self-insurers, and as the director of administration may from time to time require. The office shall also perform the duties of the division with respect to the operation of the special fund, as required by section sixty-five of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two.

(2) The office of insurance shall examine on a continuous basis the case files in possession of the department in order to identify questionable claims handling techniques, questionable patterns of claims, or a pattern of repeated unreasonable controverted claims by employers or insurers and shall certify its finding to the commissioner of insurance. Only such questionable techniques, patterns, or repeated unreasonably controverted claims as constitute a general business practice of a carrier or employer in the judgment of the office of insurance shall be certified in its findings by the office to the commissioner of insurance. Upon receipt of any such certification, the commissioner of insurance and the office of insurance shall take appropriate action as necessary to terminate such general business practices. Upon receipt by the office of insurance of a written request for an investigation of an insurer or employer concerning such questionable techniques, patterns, or repeated unreasonable controverted claims, the said office of insurance shall investigate such insurer or employer and shall certify its findings to the said commissioner of insurance and send a copy of such certified findings to the party who requested such investigation.

(3) The office of insurance shall publish annually a report which indicates the promptness of first payment of compensation records of each insurer or self-insuring employer. Such annual report may also include information concerning other aspects of claims procedures. A copy of the report shall be submitted to the commissioner of insurance, who shall take appropriate action to insure, where warranted, the prompt payment of compensation.

(4) The office of insurance shall promulgate rules providing guidelines to insurers and self-insuring employers concerning the behavior that may be construed as questionable claims handling techniques, questionable patterns of claims, repeated unreasonably controverted claims, or poor payment practices.

Section 12. There shall be within the division of administration an office of administration and data processing. The office shall be responsible for providing the administrative services to the division and shall perform such additional duties as the director of administration may from time to time require. Said office shall receive requests for data from the general court and advisory council and shall annually report its statistical findings to the advisory council and to the clerks of the house and senate of the general court.

Section 12A. There shall be within the division of administration an office of safety. The office shall assist in the dissemination of information on health and safety in the workplace to employees and employers in the commonwealth, shall establish and supervise programs for the education and training of employees and employers in the recognition, avoidance and prevention of unsafe or unhealthful working conditions in employment, and shall perform such duties as the director of administration requires. The office shall consult with and advise employees and employers as to the effective means of preventing occupational injuries and illnesses.

Section 13. The office of claims administration, the office of education and vocational rehabilitation, the office of insurance, the office of administration and data processing, and the office of safety shall be under the supervision and control of the director of administration, who shall be the executive administrative head of said office. The director shall direct and supervise the activities of all employees of the division of administration.

Section 14. The commissioner shall establish four permanent regional offices, and shall appoint a least one management level employee as supervisor of each such office, and such other officers, clerks, and assistants as are necessary for the discharge of duties in connection with such offices.

Section 15. There is hereby established an advisory council on workers' compensation in this chapter and in chapter one hundred and fifty-two called the advisory council to be appointed by the governor.

ACTS, 1985. -- Chap. 572.

The voting membership of said council shall be composed of five members representing employers in the commonwealth, at least one of whom shall represent manufacturing classifications, at least one of whom shall represent small business, at least one of whom shall represent contracting classifications, and at least one of whom shall represent self-insurers, and five members representing employees, all of whom shall be members of a duly recognized and independent employee organization, council, or union, and at least one of whom shall be a disabled worker. At least one employer representative shall be from a list of nominees provided by Associated Industries of Massachusetts. At least one employee representative shall be from a list of nominees provided by the Massachusetts AFL-CIO. The governor shall also appoint one member representing the workers' compensation claimants' bar, one member representing the commonwealth's medical providers, and one member representing vocational rehabilitation providers, none of whom shall be voting members. The executive secretary of labor and the executive secretary of economic affairs shall be ex officio, nonvoting members. Any person appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term of his predecessor shall be appointed for the unexpired portion of such term. The chairman and the vice-chairman of such advisory council, one of whom shall be an employee representative and one of whom shall be an employer representative, shall be appointed from among voting members by the governor for two year terms. Such appointees shall not succeed themselves as chairman or vice-chairman. No member of said advisory council shall be subject to chapter thirty-one. Members shall receive their traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. Such expenses shall be paid from the special fund established in section sixty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-two. Meetings of said advisory council shall be called by the chairman or upon petition by a majority of voting members. Such meetings shall be subject to the provisions of section eleven A 1/2 of chapter thirty A. Said advisory council shall take no action pursuant to its authority under this chapter or said chapter one hundred and fifty-two unless a quorum of its voting members are present.

The presence of seven voting members of the advisory council, at least two of whom shall be representatives of employees, shall constitute a quorum. No action shall be taken by the advisory council without the affirmative vote of at least seven members.

Section 16. The advisory council shall appoint such personnel as are necessary for the proper discharge of its duties, subject to the approval of the secretary of labor. The staff of the advisory council shall be funded from monies collected for the special revenue fund in accordance with the provisions of section sixty-five of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two. The advisory council may expend for personnel and office expenses funds appropriated to the department for that purpose.

Section 17. The advisory council shall monitor, recommend, give testimony, and report on all aspects of the workers' compensation system, except the adjudication of particular claims or complaints. Its power include the issuance of reports, recommendations for legislation, policies and programs, the conducting of research, the collecting of data from public and private sources, and powers granted under the provisions of by chapter one hundred and fifty-two.

The advisory council shall report at least annually in writing by the last day of the fiscal year of the commonwealth to the executive secretary of labor on the state of the workers' compensation system, and shall cause a copy of such report to be filed with the clerks of the house and senate of the general court who shall send copies of such report to the joint committee on commerce and labor and the house and senate committees on ways and means. The report shall include an evaluation of the operations of the department along with recommendations for improving the workers' compensation system. Said advisory council shall also review the annual operating budget of the department, as prepared by the commissioner and as submitted to the executive secretary of labor. Upon the affirmative vote of at least seven voting members, the advisory council may submit its own recommendation for the total operating budget to the secretary of labor.

The advisory council shall make an investigation and study of the costs and benefits associated with the institution of competitive rating among workers' compensation insurance carriers. Such study shall consider the effect of open competition on premiums within the various classes of employers and within different geographical regions of the commonwealth and include recommendations concerning the advisability of adopting the practice of competitive rating within test classes or regions for a specific period of time. The council shall also make an investigation and study of the use of credits against insurance premiums and against assessments levied pursuant to section sixty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-two that encourage rehabilitation and the rehiring of injured workers, and that provide safe workplaces. The council shall also make a study of the practicability of instituting a system by which parties to a dispute under said chapter one hundred and fifty-two may schedule proceedings before the industrial accident board by the use of a "mark up", so-called, or similar system. The advisory council shall also make a study of occupational diseases and their relationship to the workers' compensation system.

The advisory council shall also make a continuous investigation and study of worker compensation issues involving public employees, including, but not limited to, the circumstances of public employees not subject to the workers compensation law, and problems resulting from the claims processing time periods for public employees.

The advisory council may expend, for the legal, actuarial, research, clerical, and other expenses involved in the completion of such investigations and studies, such sums as may be appropriated therefor.

The costs of such investigations studies shall be paid from the special fund created under said section sixty-five of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two. Said council shall file the results of its investigations and studies, and its recommendations, if any, together with any drafts of legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect with the governor and with the clerks of the house and senate of the general court within eighteen months of its first meeting.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 572.

SECTION 5. Paragraph (2) of section 1 of chapter 30A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 24, the words "industrial accidents of the department of labor and industries" and inserting in place thereof the words:- dispute resolution of the department of industrial accidents.

SECTION 13A. Said section 1 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:–

(12) "Vocational rehabilitation", nonmedical services reasonably necessary at a reasonable cost to restore a disabled employee to suitable employment as near as possible to pre-injury earnings. Such services may include vocational evaluation, counseling, education, workplace modification, and retraining, including on-the-job training or training for alternative employment with the same employer, and job placement assistance. It shall also mean reasonably necessary related expenses.

The department shall promulgate rules concerning the qualifications and performance of any person, agency or institution providing vocational rehabilitation services pursuant to this chapter. The commissioner may penalize, disqualify, or suspend a vocational rehabilitation service provider from receiving payment for services rendered under this chapter, or from providing future services under this chapter, if the commissioner or his designee determines that the provider has violated any part of this chapter or rule adopted under this chapter. The commissioner shall have the sole authority to make determinations pursuant to this paragraph; provided, however, that aggrieved parties shall have a right to appeal to the superior court.

SECTION 14. Section 2 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 1, the word "division" and inserting in place thereof the word:– department.

SECTION 15. Section four of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two is hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 5, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 5. The commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations consistent with this chapter for carrying out the functions of the department.

Section 6. Within five days, not including Sundays and legal holidays, of receipt of notice or knowledge of any injury resulting in loss of five or more days of work for any employee, the employer shall furnish notice of the injury to the division of administration, the employee, and the insurer. The notice shall be submitted on a form prescribed by the division and shall contain the name and nature of the business of the employer, the name, age, sex and occupation of the injured employee, the date of such lost-time injury, the nature, circumstances and cause of the injury, and such additional information as the division shall prescribe. The form also shall include a summary of the employee's rights and obligations under this chapter. The department shall provide by rule for a quarterly reporting system for those cases involving injuries in which the employee does not lose more than four days of work.

Additional reports may be required from employers, insurers and medical services providers with respect to such injury and of the condition of such employee, including copies of medical, hospital, and rehabilitation reports and records, and the payments made or to be made for compensation shall be filed with the division of administration at such times and in such manner as the division may prescribe.

The division of administration shall prepare statistical summaries of reports filed under this section.

The provisions of this section shall apply also to the head of each employing board, commission and department of the commonwealth and of the several counties, cities, towns and districts subject to the provisions of section sixty-nine and copies of the report hereby required shall be furnished to the appropriate retirement board, if any and to the agent set forth in section seventy-five or the insurer, if any.

Any person who violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of one hundred dollars for each such violation.

Section 6A. Upon receipt of notice of injury from the employer, or any other indication of a compensable injury, the division of administration shall immediately mail, post paid, to the injured worker an informational brochure as prescribed by the division which sets forth in clear and understandable language a summary statement of the rights, benefits, and obligations of injured workers under this chapter. The division shall monitor the furnishing of benefits by the employer or insurer to ascertain that correct benefits are being provided in cases accepted as compensable injuries. In the event of controversy or dispute, the division shall attempt to resolve the dispute promptly and informally, and, upon failing to do so, shall promptly forward a claim form to the employee.

Section 6B. Any proceeds resulting from the imposition of any fine levied under this chapter shall be paid into the Special Revenue Fund, established pursuant to section sixty-five.

SECTION 18. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 7, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 7. (1) Within fourteen days of receipt of the employer's notice of injury, the insurer shall either commence payment of weekly incapacity benefits under section thirty-four or thirty-five to the employee or shall notify the division of administration, the employer, and the employee by certified mail of its refusal to commence the payments and of its intent to contest a claim should the employee file a claim with the department. The notice shall specify the grounds and factual basis for the refusal to commence payment of such benefits and intention to contest, and shall state that in order to secure benefits the employees shall file a claim with the department within any time limits provided under this chapter. Any grounds and basis for noncompens– ability specified by the insurer shall be the sole basis of the insurer's defense on the issue of compensability in any subsequent proceeding, unless based upon newly discovered evidence.

(2) If an insurer fails to commence such payment or make such notification within said fourteen days, it shall pay to the employee an amount equal to the compensation due under section thirty-four or thirty-five as calculated from the date that the insurer first received the employer's report of injury as required under section six until the date that compensation is actually paid, plus a penalty of twenty per cent of such compensation. Such penalty may be waived if the division of administration finds that the failure to comply with said fourteen day requirement was due to events not within the control of the insurer or its agents. No amount paid as a penalty under this section shall be included in any formula utilized to establish premium rates for workers' compensation insurance.

SECTION 19. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 7C, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 7C. Any party appearing before the division of dispute resolution may be heard in person, or may be represented by an attorney or by any other person designated by such party; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to supersede the provisions of section twenty-five D. No person who is not an attorney shall be compensated for representing a claimant in such a proceeding; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall bar payment by a labor organization, employee association, or insurer of any payment of regular wages or salary to a full time employee for time spent in representing a claimant.

SECTION 20. Section seven E of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two is hereby repealed.

SECTION 21. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 8, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 8. (1) An insurer who begins payments of benefits in a timely fashion may make such payments for a period of sixty calendar days from the commencement of disability without affecting its right to contest any issue arising under this chapter. An insurer may terminate or modify payments at any time within such sixty day period without penalty if such change is based on the actual income of the employee or if it gives the employee and the division of administration at least seven days written notice of its intent to stop payments and contest any claim filed. The notice shall specify the grounds and factual basis for stopping payment of benefits and intention to contest and shall state that in order to secure benefits the employee shall file a claim with the department within any time limits provided by this chapter.

Any grounds and basis for noncompensability specified by the insurer shall be the sole basis of the insurer's defense on the issue of compensability, unless based on newly discovered evidence. The insurer remains at all times obligated to pay all benefits due the employee under this chapter within fourteen days of knowledge from any source that such benefits are due.

(2) An insurer may terminate payments for temporary total disability pursuant to section thirty-four after such sixty day period only if such action is based upon:

(a) return to actual employment; provided, however, that the department may by regulation provide for a reasonable time period after such return to employment during which payments may be resumed for such employee if upon such return his disability renders him incapable of performing such work; and provided, further, that, if due, compensation shall be paid under section thirty-five; or

(b) a medical report from the treating physician indicating that the employee is capable of return to the job held at the time of injury, and a written report from the employer that such job is open and has been made available to the employee; or

(c) an order of the board or reviewing board.

(3) An insurer may terminate or modify payments for partial disability pursuant to section thirty-five after such sixty day period only if such action is based upon:

(a) actual earnings of the employee during each week; or

(b) an order of the board or reviewing board.

(4) An insurer who begins payments under section seven and pays under this section for sixty days or more, without terminating payments or contesting liability, may, no sooner than ninety days following filing a complaint for termination or reduction of benefits under section thirty-four, thirty-four A or thirty-five, if no order or decision has issued within such ninety day period, request the division of dispute resolution to appoint an impartial physician to examine the employee. The director of the division of dispute resolution shall, within seven days of such request, appoint a physician from the appropriate roster to conduct an examination of the employee and make a report within fourteen days. If such report contains evidence of increased capability to work the insurer may reduce or terminate benefits in accordance with such report, pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-five D. In such instances, if the requirements of this subsection have been complied with, when an order is issued on the insurer's complaint, if such order requires that additional compensation be paid, double back benefits shall be paid the employee, but no penalty shall be assessed upon the insurer.

(5) Except as specifically provided above, if the insurer terminates, reduces, or fails to make any payments required under this chapter, and additional compensation is later ordered, the employee shall be paid by the insurer a penalty payment equal to twenty per cent of the additional compensation due on the date of such finding. No amount paid as a penalty under this section shall be included in any formula utilized to establish premium rates for workers' compensation insurance. No termination or modification of benefits not based on actual earnings or an order of the board shall be allowed without seven days written notice to the employee and the department.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 572.

SECTION 22. Section eight A of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two is hereby repealed.

SECTION 23. Section nine of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two is hereby repealed.

SECTION 24. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:–

Section 10. No written claim for benefits shall be required or permitted to be filed until such time as the employee believes that there are benefits presently due from and unpaid by the insurer. Any claim for benefits shall be filed with the division of administration on a form prescribed by the division, and shall specifically state the benefits claimed to be due and unpaid. On receipt of a claim for compensation or a complaint from the insurer requesting a modification or discontinuance of benefits, the division of administration shall notify the parties that it is in receipt of such claim or complaint, and may request the parties to appear and submit relevant information. The division shall attempt to resolve the subject of the claim or complaint by informal means and the parties shall cooperate with the division. Unless the party filing the claim or complaint fails to appear on request or provide requested information in its possession, the division of administration shall forward the claim or the complaint and the case file to the division of dispute resolution within ten days of initial receipt of such claim or complaint. In each instance in which a claim for compensation is referred to the division of dispute resolution, the insurer shall pay a fee of thirty per cent of the average weekly wage in the commonwealth. Such fee shall be paid into the Special Revenue Fund established pursuant to section sixty-five.

Section 10A. Upon referral from the division of administration of a claim for compensation or a complaint requesting a modification or discontinuance of benefits, the case shall be immediately assigned by the director of dispute resolution to a board member. The board member shall require the parties to appear before him within twenty-eight days of receipt of the case by the division of dispute resolution for a conference, at which time the issues in dispute shall be identified and all evidence to be presented shall be specified. If, on the evidence available at the conference, or if there is no conference within twenty-eight days, based on evidence available at the time, the member determines that weekly compensation or medical benefits are due, he shall forthwith file a written temporary order for such compensation or benefits. If on the evidence available at the conference, or if there is no conference with twenty-eight days, based on evidence available at the time, the member determines that weekly compensation or medical benefits should be modified or terminated, he shall forthwith file a written temporary order modifying or discontinuing weekly compensation or medical benefits. In any event, a hearing shall be held within forty-nine days of receipt of the case by the division of dispute resolution. Failure of a party to appear shall not prevent the issuance of an order. Any temporary orders shall become permanent upon receipt of notice by the member from both parties of an indication that they are satisfied with the provisions of such temporary order and in such instances any subsequent scheduled proceedings shall be cancelled.

Section 11. At the hearing the member shall make such inquiries and investigations as he deems necessary, and may require and receive any documentary or oral matter not previously obtained as shall enable him to issue a decision with respect to the issues before him. Such decision shall issue within twenty-eight days of the conclusion of the hearing. Failure of a party to appear at a hearing shall not delay the issuance of an order.

The member conducting the hearing may grant a continuance only for reasons beyond the control of a party or his attorney. Any continuance shall be set forth in writing by the member and shall be compiled quarterly by the department and shall be submitted to the advisory council.

Section 11A. (1) With the assistance of the the medical consultant to the commission, the director of dispute resolution shall establish and periodically review and update separate rosters of duly qualified impartial physicians who are specialists in various medical fields, one of which shall be the field of mental and emotional disabilities.

(2) When any claim or complaint is dealing with incapacity benefits for an alleged mental or emotional disability is forwarded to the division of dispute resolution, the member may appoint an impartial physician from the appropriate roster to examine the employee and make a report. The report of the impartial physician in such a case shall, where feasible, contain a determination by such physician of whether or not a mental or emotional disability exists, of whether or not any such disability is total or partial and permanent or temporary, and of whether or not any such disability is of a kind whose contributing cause is likely to have been a work-related event or series of events. The determination by an impartial physician of the existence or nonexistence of a temporary or permanent, partial or total disability shall be prima facie evidence of the existence or nonexistence, as the case may be, of such a condition, in any subsequent proceeding. Each party shall have the right to engage a physician to appear, or be deposed, for the purpose of rebutting the report of the impartial physician. If a decision of a member or reviewing board is in favor of the employee, the reasonable fee of each such physician appearing on behalf of the employee shall be paid by the insurer.

(3) In any other proceeding in which medical evidence is required for the resolution of a dispute arising under this chapter, a member may appoint a physician from the appropriate roster to examine the claimant and to make a report. Failure of an employee to report to a physician appointed under this section, after due notice and without cause, shall constitute sufficient cause for a denial, discontinuance or modification of benefits, as the case may be.

(4) The fee for the service of any physician appointed by a member under this chapter shall be a reasonable amount approved by the commissioner, and shall be paid by the insurer directly to the physician promptly upon receipt of the approved bill.

Section 11B. Procedures within the division of dispute resolution shall be as simple and summary as reasonable. The commissioner shall promulgate rules providing for the use of depositions and interrogatories. In any proceeding under this chapter, the division shall give notice of the date, time, and place of the proceeding to all parties in interest. Any member of the board may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, and examine such parts of the books and records of the parties to a proceeding as relate to questions before such member. The fee for attending as witness before the department or a member of the board shall be that provided for witnesses before the superior court department of the trial court. The superior court shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this section relating to the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the examination of books and records.

A member may upon the filing of a written request of any party appearing before him, together with interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, if any, request officers in other jurisdictions, having power and duties similar to those of a member of the board, to take depositions or testimony of persons or witnesses residing in such jurisdictions. On the return of any such deposition to the division it shall be forwarded to the appropriate member. A reasonable fee for services in connection with the taking of such depositions and the expenses thereof shall be assessed upon the requesting party.

The expenses for services in connection with the taking of depositions shall be paid by the party requesting that such witness be deposed or whose witness is ordered to be deposed; provided, however, that if the decision of the member or reviewing board is in favor of the employee, the cost of such proceeding shall be added to the amount awarded to the employee and be paid by the insurer under the provisions of this chapter.

The evidence at the hearing shall be taken both stenographically and with the aid of an electronic recording device operated by an employee of the department sworn to record the entire proceeding. Any party may copy the audio recording at the department at reasonable hours or require the department to provide a copy of such recording at no charge to such party after the conclusion of the proceeding. The original recording shall remain in the control of the department. Verbatim transcripts shall be made manually from the stenographic notes only if a certified copy of the proceedings is required by the reviewing board or a court of the commonwealth. Decisions of members of the board shall set forth the issues in controversy, the decision on each and a brief statement of the grounds for each such decision. Decisions shall issue no more than twenty-eight days following the close of testimony, unless further extension is authorized in writing by the director of dispute resolution.

Section 11C. Any party aggrieved by a decision of a member after a hearing held pursuant to section eleven may, within thirty days of the date of such decision, appeal to the reviewing board. Appeals to the reviewing board must be accompanied by a fee of thirty per cent of the average weekly wage in the commonwealth, which shall be paid into the special fund pursuant to section sixty-five. Such fee may be waived by the reviewing board for indigent claimants. The reviewing board shall reverse the decision of a member only if it determines on the basis of such member's written opinion and on an examination of a written transcript of the hearing, that the member's decision is beyond the scope of his authority, arbitrary or capricious, contrary to law, or unwarranted by the facts. The reviewing board may weigh evidence, but may not review determinations by the member who conducted the hearing regarding the credibility of witnesses who have given testimony. No oral arguments shall be allowed except when explicitly requested by the reviewing board, but briefs shall be considered if seasonably submitted by a party. Decisions of the reviewing board shall be in writing, shall decide all issues presented, and shall be issued by the reviewing board no more than thirty days from the filing of the appeal and fee, unless an extension is authorized in writing by the director of dispute resolution.

SECTION 26. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 12, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 12. (1) Whenever any party in interest presents a certified copy of an order or decision of a board member or of the reviewing board and any papers in connection therewith to the superior court department of the trial court for the county in which the injury occurred or for the county of Suffolk, the court shall enforce the order or decision, notwithstanding whether the matters at issue have been appealed and a decision on the merits of the appeal is pending. In the event that the order or decision is reversed on appeal, the enforcement order shall be deemed vacated and unenforceable from the date of such reversal. If the request for an enforcement order is presented to the superior court for the county of Suffolk, the court may, on motion of any party in interest, order the case removed to the superior court for the county in which the injury occurred.

(2) Any appeal from a decision by a reviewing board shall be taken pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A, except that such appeal shall be filed with the appeals court of the commonwealth.

(3) In rendering an order or judgement under this section or following a rescript of the supreme judicial court after an appeal from such an order or judgement the court shall award costs to the prevailing party, to be assessed as in actions at law. This paragraph shall not authorize the awarding of costs to or against the industrial accident board or reviewing board.

(4) In the event of a judgement of the appeals court, the court may, on motion of either party, by a brief statement of facts agreeable to the parties, report questions of law raised by the decree to the supreme judicial court for determination.

(5) Immediately after the entry of a judgement under this section, whether final or interlocutory, the clerk of the court shall prepare and forward to the department and to the parties an attested copy of such judgement. Upon the entry of an interlocutory judgement under this section recommitting a case to the board, counsel for the parties shall immediately notify said board by appropriate motion for action in accordance with the requirements of such judgement.

SECTION 27. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 12A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 12A. If on appeal to the appeals court or the supreme judicial court pursuant to section twelve the claimant prevails, the court shall allow the claimant, in addition to the award in the judgement, an amount equal to the reasonable cost of his attorney's fees, briefs and other necessary expenses that result from the appeal. When any party in interest obtains an enforcement order from the superior court department of the trial court pursuant to said section twelve, the court shall also allow the party the reasonable cost of attorney's fees, briefs and other expenses provided for by this section.

SECTION 28. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 13, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 13. (1) The rate of payment by insurers for health care services adjudged compensable under this chapter shall be established by the rate setting commission under the provisions of chapter six A.

No insurer shall be liable for hospitalization expenses, adjudged compensable under this chapter at a rate in excess of the rate set by the rate setting commission, or for other health services in excess of the rate established for that service by the rate setting commission. Nor shall any employee be liable for services adjudged compensable under this chapter which have been paid for at the rates established by the rate setting commission.

Except with respect to rates to be paid for health care services, as defined in said chapter six A, which shall be reviewable under said chapter six A, the commissioner shall by rule establish procedures for determining whether or not the charge for a health service is excessive. In order to accomplish this purpose, the commissioner shall consult with insurers, associations and organizations representing the medical and other providers of treatment services, and other appropriate groups. The charges for such health services shall be reasonable.

(2) The department shall review the clinical health care providers who render services to injured employees. This review shall be achieved by establishing a quality control system within the department. The commissioner may hire a medical consultant or consultants, full or part-time, to assist in the administration of this section. Any medical consultant shall be a physician licensed under the laws of the commonwealth.

Such medical consultant shall perform all duties assigned by the commissioner relating to the supervision of the total range of care of injured employees and shall also advise the department on matters on which the commissioner requests the consultant's advice.

The commissioner shall monitor the medical and surgical treatment provided to injured employees and the services of other health care providers, and shall also monitor hospital utilization as it relates to the treatment of injured employees. The monitoring shall include determinations concerning the appropriateness of the service, whether the treatment is necessary and effective, the proper costs of services, and the quality of treatment. The commissioner with the advice of the health care service board may penalize, disqualify, or suspend a provider from receiving payment for services rendered under this chapter if the commissioner or his designee determines that the provider has violated any part of this chapter or rule adopted under this chapter.

The commissioner shall have the sole authority to make determinations under this section; provided, however, that aggrieved parties shall have a right to appeal to the superior court.

(3) There is hereby created a health care services board composed of the commissioner or his designee as an ex officio member and chairman, two persons representing chiropractic and osteopathy, one person representing hospital administrators, one person representing physical therapists, and six physicians representing different medical specialties which the commissioner determines are the most frequently utilized by injured employees. The board shall also have one person representing employees, one person representing employers, and one person representing the public. Members shall be appointed by the commissioner for two-year terms. The board shall advise the commissioner on matters arising under this section.

SECTION 28A. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 13 the following section:–

Section 13A. (1) Whenever an insurer contests a claim for benefits, including unpaid medical bills, and then accepts liability for the claim, or files a complaint and then withdraws such complaint after said claim or complaint has been referred to the division of dispute resolution but prior to a conference pursuant to section ten A, the member to whom the case has been assigned shall approve a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid by the insurer sufficient to compensate the employee for the reasonable costs of counsel. Unless there is a finding of an unusual complexity of the dispute or of any untypical effort expended by the attorney, such fee shall be of an amount equal to one hundred and fifty per cent of the average weekly wage in the commonwealth, plus necessary expenses.

(2) Whenever an insurer (i) contests a claim for benefits, including unpaid medical bills or a request for a modification, and then accepts such claim after a conference has been held, but prior to the fifth day before the date set for a hearing; or (ii) is ordered to pay benefits by a temporary order, or (iii) brings any proceeding as to a modification or discontinuance of benefits which is withdrawn subsequent to a conference or in which the employee prevails pursuant to a temporary order, the member to whom the case has been assigned shall approve a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid by the insurer sufficient to compensate the employee for the reasonable costs of counsel. Unless there is a finding of an unusual complexity of the dispute or of any untypical effort expended by the attorney, such fee shall be of an amount equal to three times the average weekly wage in the commonwealth, plus necessary expenses.

(3) Whenever an insurer brings a complaint or contests a claim and (i) accepts the employee's claim or withdraws its own complaint within five days of the date set for a hearing pursuant to section eleven; or (ii) the employee prevails at such hearing, the member or reviewing board shall approve a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid by the insurer sufficient to compensate the employee for the reasonable costs of counsel. Unless there is a finding of an unusual complexity of the dispute or of any untypical effort expended by the attorney, such fee shall be an amount equal to seven times the average weekly wage in the commonwealth, plus necessary expenses.

(4) Whenever an insurer appeals a decision of the board and the employee prevails in the decision of the reviewing board, said reviewing board shall approve a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid by the insurer sufficient to compensate the employee for the reasonable costs of counsel. Unless there is a finding of an unusual complexity of the dispute or of any untypical effort expended by the attorney, such fee shall be an amount equal to three times the average weekly wage in the commonwealth, plus necessary expenses.

(5) Whenever an employee appeals a decision of a member and such employee prevails in the decision of the reviewing board, a reasonable attorney's fee shall be paid by the employee to his attorney subject to the agreement between the employee and his counsel; provided, however, that in the event of a dispute as to the amount of the fee, a request for a determination may be filed with the reviewing board who shall determine such fee.

(6) Whenever an insurer and an employee agree to a settlement under section forty-eight, the attorney's fee shall be paid from the settlement in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) When the insurer and the employee reach such settlement prior to insurer acceptance of liability and prior to any determination by the board or reviewing board of insurer liability, such fee shall be no more than fifteen per cent of the amount of such settlement.

(b) When the insurer and the employee reach such settlement subsequent to such insurer's acceptance of liability or to any determination of the board or reviewing board that such insurer is liable for compensation, such fee shall be no more than twenty per cent of such settlement.

(7) No attorney's fee shall be paid under this chapter for services rendered any employee relative to any injury unless a claim, complaint, settlement request or other proceeding relative to such injury has at some time been referred to the division of dispute resolution.

SECTION 29. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 14, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 14. (1) If any member of the board, the reviewing board, or any court before which proceedings under this chapter are brought determines that such proceedings have been brought, prosecuted, or defended without reasonable ground, the whole cost of the proceedings shall be assessed upon the party who has so brought, prosecuted or defended them.

(2) If it is determined that any party has brought, prosecuted, or defended proceedings with the intent to defraud, the party shall be assessed, in addition to the whole costs of such proceedings and attorney's fees, a penalty, payable to the aggrieved insurer or employee, in an amount not less than the average weekly wage in the commonwealth multiplied by three. Any employee who has received payments for compensation pursuant to a claim found to be fraudulent under this subsection shall reimburse the amount of such payments with interest to the insurer. Any action provided in this subsection shall be brought by an employee, employer or insurer in the superior court department of the trial court for the county in which the injury occurred or in the county of Suffolk, provided, however, that if presented to the superior court for the county of Suffolk, the court may, on motion of any party in interest, order the case removed to the superior court for the county in which the injury occurred.

SECTION 30. Section 15 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the eighth and ninth sentences and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– Except in the case of a settlement by agreement by the parties to, and during a trial of, such an action at law, no settlement by agreement shall be made with such other person without the approval of either the board, the reviewing board, or the court in which the action has been commenced after an opportunity has been afforded both the insurer and the employee to be heard on the merits of the settlement and on the amount, if any, to which the insurer is entitled out of such settlement by way of reimbursement, which amount shall be determined at the time of such approval. In the case of a settlement by agreement by the parties to and during a trial of such an action at law, only the justice presiding at the trial shall have and exercise, relative to the approval of such settlement by agreement and to the protection of the rights and interests of the employee, the powers granted in the preceding sentence.

SECTION 31. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 16, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 16. When in any case before the department it appears that compensation has been paid or when in any such case there appears of record a finding that the employee is entitled to compensation, no subsequent finding by a member or the reviewing board discontinuing compensation on the ground that the employee's incapacity has ceased shall be considered final as a matter of fact or res adjudicata as a matter of law, and such employee or his dependents, in the event of his death, may have further hearings as to whether his incapacity or death is or was the result of the injury for which he received compensation; provided, however, that if the board shall determine that the petition for such rehearing is without merit or frivolous, the employee or his dependents shall not thereafter be entitled to file any subsequent petition thereof except for cause shown and in the discretion of the member to whom such subsequent petition may be referred; and, provided further, that, in the event of the death of the employee, such a petition for a rehearing shall be filed within three months from the time of his decease and within one year from the date of the finding terminating his compensation.

SECTION 32. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 17, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 17. All orders or decisions issued in accordance with this chapter shall be enforceable under section twelve unless and until reversed by a decision of a member of the board or a reviewing board, or a judgement or decision of a court of the commonwealth; and payment of compensation, when ordered, shall commence immediately, with the first payment to be received by the employee within fourteen days of the issuance of any such order or decision, and shall cover all periods for which compensation is due under this chapter. No penalties shall be assessed during the pendency of any appeal.

SECTION 33. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 19, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 19. Subject to the approval of the department, questions arising under this chapter may be settled by agreement by the parties interested therein, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. The agreements shall for all purposes be enforceable in the same manner as an order under section twelve. A party to such agreement may file a complaint to vacate or modify the agreement on grounds of law or equity.

SECTION 34. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 23, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 23. If an employee files any claim or accepts payment of compensation on account of personal injury under this chapter, or submits to a proceeding before the department under sections ten to twelve, inclusive, such action shall constitute a release to the insurer of all claims or demands at common law, if any, arising from the injury. If an employee accepts payment of compensation under this chapter on account of personal injury or makes an agreement under section forty-eight, such action shall constitute a release to the insured of all claims or demands at common law, if any, arising from the injury.

SECTION 35. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 24, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 24. An employee shall be held to have waived his right of action at common law or under the law of any other jurisdiction in respect to an injury that is compensable under this chapter, to recover damages for personal injuries, if he shall not have given his employer, at the time of his contract of hire, written notice that he claimed such right, or, if the contract of hire was made before the employer became an insured person self-insurer, if the employee shall not have given the said notice within thirty days of the time said employer became an insured person or self-insurer. An employee who has given notice to his employer that he claimed his right of action as aforesaid may waive such claim by a written notice, which shall take effect five days after it is delivered to the employer or his agent. The notices required by this section shall be given in such manner as the department may approve. If an employee has not given notice to his employer that he preserves his right of action at common law as provided by this section, the employee's spouse, children, parents and any other member of the employee's family or next of kin who is wholly or partly dependent upon the earnings of such employee at the time of injury or death, shall also be held to have waived any right of action at common law against such employer for damage due to loss of consortium, parental guidance, companionship or the like, when such loss is a result of any injury to the employee that is compensable under this chapter.

SECTION 36. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 25D the following seventeen sections:–

Section 25E. Sections twenty-five E to twenty-five U, inclusive, shall apply to workers' compensation self-insurance groups. A workers' compensation self-insurance group that is issued a certificate of approval by the commissioner shall not be deemed to be insurers or insurance companies and shall not be subject to the provisions of the insurance laws and regulations of the commonwealth except as otherwise provided herein. Workers' compensation self-insurance groups shall be subject to all provisions of this chapter and all regulations promulgated hereunder governing the conduct of insurers with respect to the payment of workers' compensation benefits, and shall be subject to all fees, fines, penalties and assessments levied upon insurers for failure to comply with the claim procedure of this chapter.

As used in this section and sections twenty-five F to twenty-five U, inclusive, the following words, unless the context requires otherwise, shall have the following meanings:–

"Administrator", an individual, partnership, corporation or unincorporated association engaged by a workers' compensation self-insurance group's board of trustees to carry out the policies established by the group's board of trustees and to provide daily management of the group.

"Insolvent" or "Insolvency", the inability of a workers' compensation self-insurance group to pay its outstanding lawful obligations as they mature in the regular course of business, as may be shown either by an excess of its required reserves and other liabilities over its assets or by its not having sufficient assets to reinsure all of its outstanding liabilities after paying all accrued claims owed by it.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 572.

"Net premium", premium derived from standard premium adjusted by any advance premium discounts.

"Standard premium", the premium derived from the manual rates adjusted by experience modification factors but before advance premium discounts.

"Workers' compensation", when used as a modifier of benefits, liabilities or obligations, shall mean both workers' compensation and employer's liability.

"Public employer workers' compensation self-insurance group", or "public employer group", a not-for-profit association consisting of five or more employers, all of whom are public entities, who enter into agreements to pool their liabilities for workers' compensation benefits and employer's liability in this state.

"Workers' compensation self-insurance group" or "group", a public employers group or a not-for-profit unincorporated association consisting of five or more employers who are engaged in the same or similar type of business, who are members of the same bona fide industry, trade or professional association which has been in existence for not less than two years, and who enter into agreements to pool their liabilities for workers' compensation benefits and employer's liability in this state.

"Commissioner of insurance", the commissioner of the department of insurance.

Section 25F. No person, association, or entity shall act as a workers' compensation self-insurance group unless it has been issued a certificate of approval by the commissioner of insurance.

Section 25G. (1) A proposed workers' compensation self-insurance group shall file with the commissioner of insurance its application for a certificate of approval accompanied by a nonrefundable filing fee in the amount of one hundred dollars. The application shall include the group's name, the location of its principal office, the date of organization, the name and address of each member, and such other information as said commissioner may reasonably require, together with the following:

(a) a copy of the by-laws of the proposed group, and a copy of the articles of association, if any;

(b) an individual application of each member of the group applying for coverage by the group on the inception date of the group;

(c) a current certified financial statement of each member, including at a minimum, a balance sheet, a profit and loss statement, a statement of change in fund position, and a statement showing the combined net worth of all members applying for coverage on the inception date of the fund. The combined net worth shall be of an amount that establishes the financial strength and liquidity of the businesses;

(d) a pro forma financial statement on a form acceptable to the commissioner showing the financial ability of the group to pay the workers' compensation obligations of its members;

(e) a composite listing of the estimated standard premium and annual net premium to be developed for each member individually and in total as a group. Payroll data for each of the three preceding years shall be furnished by risk classification;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 572.

(f) a documented agreement by each member to pay to the group not less than twenty-five per cent of that member's estimated annual net premium not later than the initial day of coverage afforded by the group;

(g) a confirmation of any required reinsurance by a recognized carrier in an amount estimated acceptable to the commissioner of insurance;

(h) the designation of the initial board of trustees and administrator;

(i) an indemnity agreement jointly and severally binding the group and each member thereof to comply with the provisions of the chapter, which shall conform to an indemnity agreement prescribed by the commissioner of insurance;

(j) a breakdown of all projected administrative expenses for the group year in dollar amount and as a percentage of the estimated annual normal premium;

(k) proof provided by the trustees, satisfactory to the commissioner of insurance, that the annual gross premiums of the group shall be not less than one hundred thousand dollars, except that the annual gross premium for public employers groups will not be less than one million dollars;

(2) To obtain and to maintain its certificate of approval, a workers' compensation self-insurance group shall comply with the following requirements as well as any other requirements established by law or regulation:

(a) A combined net worth of all members of a group of private employers of at least one million dollars;

(b) Security in a form and amount prescribed by the commissioner which shall be provided by either a surety bond, or security deposit, or any combination thereof. If a surety bond is used to meet the security requirement, it shall be issued by a corporate surety company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth. If a security deposit is used to meet the security requirement, securities shall be limited to bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the United States of America, or by an agency or instrumentality thereof; certificates of deposit in a federally insured savings and loan association or credit union; or any bond or security issued by a state of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit.

The bond, or security deposit, shall be for the benefit of the commonwealth solely to pay claims and associated expenses and payable on the failure of the group to pay workers' compensation benefits which it is legally obligated to pay. The commissioner may establish requirements for the amount of security based on differences among groups in their size, types of employment, years in existence, and other relevant factors; provided, however, that the commissioner of insurance may not require an amount lower than one hundred thousand dollars for any group during its first year of operation;

(c) Specific and aggregate excess insurance in a form, in an amount, and by an insurer acceptable to the commissioner of insurance. The commissioner of insurance may establish minimum requirements for the amount of specific and aggregate excess insurance based on differences among groups in their size, types of employments, types of local government services provided by members of public employers groups, years in existence, and other relevant factors and may permit a group to meet this requirement by placing in a designated depository securities of the type referred to in paragraph (b) of this subsection.

(d) A fidelity bond for the administrator, if any, in a form and amount prescribed by the commissioner of insurance;

(e) A group shall notify the commissioner of insurance of any change in the information required to be filed under subsection (1) or in the manner of its compliance with subsection (2) no later than thirty days after such change.

(3) The commissioner of insurance shall evaluate the information provided by the application required to be filed under subsection (1) of this section to assure that no gaps in funding exist and that funds necessary to pay workers' compensation benefits shall be available on a timely basis.

(4) The commissioner of insurance shall act on a completed application for a certificate of approval within ninety days.

(5) The commissioner of insurance shall issue to the group a certificate of approval on finding that the proposed group has met all requirements, or shall issue an order refusing such certificate setting forth reasons for such refusal on finding that the proposed group does not meet all requirements.

(6) Each workers' compensation self-insurance group shall be deemed to have appointed the commissioner of insurance as its attorney to receive service of legal process issued against it in the commonwealth. The appointment shall be irrevocable, shall bind any successor in interest and shall remain in effect as long as there is in the commonwealth any obligation or liability of the group for workers' compensation benefits.

(7) The provisions of paragraphs (c) and (i) of subsection (1) and paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (2) shall not apply to public employer groups.

Section 25H. (1) The certificate of approval issued by the commissioner of insurance to a workers' compensation self-insurance group authorizes the group to provide workers' compensation benefits. The certificate of approval remains in effect until terminated at the request of the group or revoked by the commissioner of insurance pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-five U.

(2) The commissioner of insurance shall not grant the request of any group to terminate its certificate of approval unless the group has insured or reinsured all incurred workers' compensation obligations with an authorized insurer under an agreement filed with and approved in writing by said commissioner. Such obligations shall include both known claims and expenses associated therewith. Subject to the approval of the commissioner of insurance, a group may merge with another group engaged in the same or similar type of business only if the resulting group assumes in full all obligations of the merging groups. A public employer group may only merge with another public employer group. The commissioner of insurance may hold a hearing on the merger and shall do so if any party, including a member of either group, so requests.

Section 25I. The commissioner of insurance shall examine the affairs, transactions, accounts, records and assets of each group as often as the commissioner deems advisable, but not less often than once every three years. The expense of such examinations shall be assessed against the group in the same amount and manner that insurers are assessed for examinations.

Section 25J. (1) Each group shall be operated by a board of trustees which shall consist of not less than three persons whom the members of a group elect for stated terms of office. At least two of the trustees shall be employees, officers or directors of members of the group, except for public employer groups for whom the three trustees shall be elected officials or employees of public entities within this state. The administrator of a self-insurance group, if any, shall not serve on the board of trustees of the group, unless the group is a public employer group, in which case the administrator may serve as a trustee. All trustees shall be residents of the commonwealth or officer of corporations authorized to do business in the commonwealth.

(2) The board of trustees of each group shall ensure that all claims are paid promptly and shall take all necessary precautions to safeguard the assets of the group, including the following:

(a) Maintain responsibility for all monies collected or disbursed from the group and segregate all monies in a claims fund account and an administrative fund account. Net premium shall be placed in a designated depository in an amount equal to the aggregate retained workers' compensation liability of the group, and such deposits shall be called the claims fund account. The remaining net premium after any payments for reinsurance or excess insurance shall be placed in a designated depository for the payment of taxes, general regulatory fees and assessments and administrative costs and such deposits shall be called the administrative fund account.

(b) Maintain minutes of its meetings and make such minutes available to the commissioner of insurance; and

(c) Designate an administrator to carry out the policies established by the board of trustees and to provide day to day management of the group and delineate in the written minutes of its meetings the areas of authority it delegates to the administrator.

(3) Funds not needed for current obligations may be invested by the board of trustees in accordance with the provisions of section sixty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

(4) The board of trustees shall not:

(a) Extend credit to individual members for payment of a premium, except pursuant to payment plans approved by the commissioner of insurance.

(b) Borrow any monies from the group or in the name of the group except in the ordinary course of business, without first advising the commissioner of insurance of the nature and purpose of the loan and obtaining prior approval from the commissioner of insurance.

Section 25K. (1) An employer joining a workers' compensation self-insurance group after the group has been issued a certificate of approval shall submit an application for membership to the board of trustees or its administrator and, unless the employer is a public employer, enter into the indemnity agreement required by paragraph (i) of subsection (1) of section twenty-five G. Membership shall take effect no earlier than each member's date of approval. The application for membership and its approval shall be maintained as permanent records of the board of trustees.

(2) Individual members of the group shall be subject to cancellation by the group pursuant to the by-laws of the group. In addition, individual members may elect to terminate their participation in the group. The group shall notify the commissioner of insurance and the department of industrial accidents of the termination or cancellation of a member within ten days and shall maintain coverage of each cancelled or terminated member for thirty days after such notice, with the cancelled or terminated member responsible for the premium for such period, unless the group is notified sooner by the workers' compensation agency that the cancelled or terminated member has procured workers' compensation insurance, has become a self-insurer, or has become a member of another group.

(3) The group shall pay all workers' compensation benefits for which each member incurs liability during its period of membership. A member of a group, unless the group is a public employer group, who elects to terminate its membership or is cancelled by the group shall remain jointly and severally liable for the workers' compensation obligations of the group and its members which were incurred during the cancelled or terminate member's period of membership.

(4) A group member is not relieved of its workers' compensation liabilities incurred during its period of membership except through payment by the group or the member of required workers' compensation benefits.

(5) The insolvency or bankruptcy of a member shall not relieve the group or, unless the group is a public employer group, any other member of the group of liability for the payment of workers' compensation benefits incurred during the insolvent or bankrupt member's period of membership.

Section 25L. Except for the trustees, officers, directors or salaried employees of a group or its administrator, any person soliciting membership in a workers' compensation self-insurance group must be a licensed agent as provided by section sixty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

Section 25M. No person shall make a material misrepresentation or omission of a material fact in connection with the solicitation of a membership of a group.

Section 25N. Each group shall submit to the commissioner of insurance thirty days prior to the end of its policy year a performance report estimating total outstanding liability, including incurred but not reported claims, for that policy year.

Each group shall submit to the commissioner of insurance a statement of financial condition audited by an independent certified public accountant on or before the last day of the sixth month following the end of the group's fiscal year. Said financial statement shall be on a form prescribed by said commissioner and shall include, but not be limited to, actuarially appropriate reserves for known claims and expenses associated therewith, claims incurred but not reported and expenses associated therewith, reinsurance in force, unearned premiums, and bad debts, which reserves shall be known as liabilities.

The commissioner of insurance may prescribe the format and frequency of other reports which may include, but shall not be limited to, payroll audit reports, summary loss reports and quarterly financial statements.

Section 25 O. (1) Every workers' compensation self-insurance group shall adhere to the uniform classification system, uniform experience rating plan, and manual rules filed with the commissioner of insurance by an advisory organization designated by said commissioner.

(2) Premium contributions to the group shall be determined by applying the manual rates and rules to the appropriate classification of each member which shall be adjusted by each member's experience credit or debit. Subject to approval by the commissioner of insurance, premium contributions may also be reduced by an advance premium discount reflecting the group's expense levels and loss experience.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2), a group may apply to the commissioner of insurance for authority to make its own rates. Such rates shall be based on at least two years of the group's experience. Public employer safety groups in operation for at least two consecutive years prior to their application as a public employer self insurance group may apply to the commissioner of insurance to make its own rates effective the first year of operation as a self insured group.

(4) Each group shall be audited at least annually by an auditor approved by the commissioner of insurance to verify proper classifications, experience rating, payroll and rates. A report of the audit shall be filed with said commissioner of insurance in a form acceptable to him. A group or any member thereof may request a hearing on any objections to the classifications. If the commissioner of insurance determines that, as a result of an improper classification, a member's premium contribution is insufficient, he shall order the group to assess that member an amount equal to the deficiency. If said commissioner determines that as a result of an improper classification a member's premium is excessive, he shall order the group to refund to the member the excess collected. The audit shall be at the expense of the group.

Section 25P. Any monies for a fund year in excess of the amount necessary to fund all obligations for such fund year may be declared to be refundable by the board of trustees not less than six months after the end of the fund year.

Each member shall be given a written description of the refund plan at the time of application for membership. A refund for any fund year shall be paid only to those employers who remain participants in the group for the entire fund year. Payment of a refund based on a previous fund year shall not be contingent on continued membership in the group after that fund year.

Section 25Q. (1) Each group shall establish with the approval of the commissioner of insurance a premium payment plan which shall include an initial payment by each member of at least twenty-five per cent of that member's annual premium before the start of the group's fund year and payment of the balance of each member's annual premium within the first eight months of that fund year in monthly or quarterly installments.

(2) Each group shall establish and maintain actuarially appropriate loss reserves which shall include reserves for known claims and expenses associated therewith and claims incurred but not reported and expenses associated therewith.

(3) Each group shall establish and maintain bad debt reserves based on the historical experience of the group or other groups.

(4) Subsections (1) and (3) shall not apply to public employer groups; provided, however, that public employer groups shall establish a premium payment plan acceptable to the commissioner.

Section 25R. If the assets of a group are at any time insufficient to enable the group to discharge its legal liabilities and other obligations and to maintain the reserves required of it under this chapter, it shall forthwith make up the deficiency or levy an assessment on its members for the amount needed to make up the deficiency.

In the event of a deficiency in any fund year, such deficiency shall be made up immediately, either from surplus from a fund year other than the current fund year, administrative funds, assessment of the membership, if ordered by the group or, such alternate method as the commissioner of insurance may approve of direct. Said commissioner shall be notified prior to any transfer of surplus funds from one fund year to another.

If the group fails to assess its members or to otherwise make up such deficit within thirty days the commissioner of insurance shall order it to do so.

If the group fails to make the required assessment of its members within thirty days after the commissioner of insurance orders it to do so, or if the deficiency is not fully made up within sixty days after the date on which such assessment is made, then after such longer period of time as may be specified by said commissioner, the group shall be deemed to be insolvent.

The commissioner of insurance shall proceed against an insolvent group in the same manner as said commissioner would proceed against an insolvent domestic insurer in the commonwealth pursuant to section six of chapter one hundred and seventy-five. Said commissioner shall have the same powers and limitations in such proceedings as are provided under said section six, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

In the event of the liquidation of a group, the commissioner of insurance shall levy an assessment on its members for such an amount as he determines to be necessary to discharge all liabilities of the group, including the reasonable cost of liquidation.

Section 25S. After notice and opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner of insurance may impose a monetary penalty on any person or group found to be in violation of any of the provisions of section twenty-five E to twenty-five V, inclusive, or of any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder. The monetary penalty shall not exceed one thousand dollars for each act or violation, not to exceed an aggregate monetary penalty of ten thousand dollars. The amount of any such monetary penalty shall be paid to said commissioner for the use of the

Section 25T. After notice and opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner of insurance may issue an order requiring a person or group to cease and desist from engaging in an act or practice found to be in violation of any provision of sections twenty-five E to twenty-five U, inclusive, or of any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder.

Upon a finding, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, that any person or group has violated any cease and desist order, the commissioner of insurance may: impose a monetary penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each act or violation of such order not to exceed an aggregate monetary penalty of one hundred thousand dollars and may revoke the group's certificate of approval.

Section 25U. After notice and opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner of insurance may revoke a group's certificate of approval if it is found to be insolvent, regulatory or assessment, or special fund or trust fund contribution imposed on it, or fails to comply with any of the applicable provisions of sections twenty-five E to twenty-five U, inclusive, with any rules lawfully promulgated, or with any lawful order of said commissioner within the time prescribed. In addition, said commissioner of insurance may revoke a group's certificate of approval if, after notice and opportunity for hearing, the commissioner finds that any certificate of approval that was issued to the group was obtained by fraud; that there was a material misrepresentation in the application for the certificate of approval; or that the group or its administrator has misappropriated, converted, illegally withheld, or refused to pay over on proper demand any monies that belong to a member, an employee of a member, or a person otherwise entitled thereto and that have been entrusted to the group or its administrator in its fiduciary capacities.

This section shall apply to public employer groups; provided, however, that the failure of a public employer group to pay a premium tax shall not be grounds for revocation of the public employer group's certificate of approval.

SECTION 37. Section 28 of said chapter 152, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

As used in this section the term "minor" shall not include mentally retarded persons eighteen years of age or older if:

(1) the employment takes place in a sheltered workshop which holds either a license from the department of mental health or accreditation from the commission on accreditation of rehabilitation facilities; and

(2) a professional vocational specialist evaluates the employee at the employment site, for the specific job performed and such evaluation determines in writing that the employee is appropriate for and capable of such employment; and

(3) the employee has agreed in writing to the written rehabilitation plan or to an accurate verbal description of such written plan.

The division of administration shall keep statistical records on injuries that occur at sheltered workshops. If there appears to be a pattern of such injuries at a particular sheltered workshop, the office of claims administration shall notify the division of accreditation in the department of mental health and such division shall take whatever action it deems appropriate.

SECTION 38. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 29, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 29. No compensation pursuant to section thirty-four or thirty-five shall be paid for any injury which does not incapacitate the employee from earning full wages for a period of five or more days. If incapacity extends for a period of five days or more, compensation shall be paid from the date of injury; provided, however, that, except as otherwise provided in this chapter no compensation shall be paid for any period for which any wages were earned. No mental or emotional disability arising principally out of a bona fide, personnel action including a transfer, promotion, demotion, or termination except such action which is the intentional infliction of emotional harm shall be deemed to be a personal injury within the meaning of this chapter.

SECTION 39. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 30A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 30A. Any medical report pertaining to a compensable injury shall be furnished by the physician or other medical provider to the employee, the insurer, and the department within fourteen days of completion of the examination of the employee. Each failure to comply with such reporting requirement shall be punishable by a civil fine to be determined by the director of administration, not to exceed one thousand dollars.

SECTION 40. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 30D, as so appearing, the following five sections:–

Section 30E. It shall be the policy of the department to encourage and assist in the development of voluntary agreements between injured employees and insurers to provide and utilize vocational rehabilitation services when necessary to return such employees to suitable gainful employment. The department shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement such policy.

Section 30F. The commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations for the identification and reporting to the office of education and rehabilitation of cases in which vocational rehabilitation services may be required.

The purpose of said rules and regulations shall be to facilitate the earliest possible identification of such cases.

Section 30G. The office of education and vocational rehabilitation shall contact and meet with each injured employee who it believes may require vocational rehabilitation services in order to return to suitable employment. Any such employee who refuses to meet with the office of education and vocational rehabilitation shall not be entitled to weekly compensation benefits during the period of such refusal.

The commissioner shall provide by rule a procedure for promptly following up on such meeting by assisting an employee who needs rehabilitation services to obtain such services from the insurer, and shall monitor the progress of rehabilitation agreements and programs.

Section 30H. If the insurer and employee fail to agree to a vocational rehabilitation program, the employee may apply to the office of education and vocational rehabilitation for vocational rehabilitation services. The office shall determine if vocational rehabilitation is necessary and feasible to return the employee to suitable employment. Such determination by the office shall be final and not subject to review by the board or reviewing board, but may be appealed to the commissioner. If the office determines that vocational rehabilitation is necessary and feasible, it shall promptly develop, after such consultation as it judges reasonable with the employee and the insurer, an appropriate program of no greater than fifty-two weeks for the employee. It shall inform the insurer and the employee of its determination and of the program developed. The insurer shall have ten days in which to review such determination and program. If the insurer refuses to provide the vocational rehabilitation program developed by the office, the office shall provide it to the employee with trust fund money pursuant to section sixty-five. The commissioner shall provide by rule for efficient procedures and quality controls in the office's management of such programs, which may be carried out under contract by private rehabilitation service providers. If, upon the completion of the program, the office determines that the program was successful and returned the employee to suitable employment, it shall assess the insurer no less than twice the cost incurred by the office and such assessment shall be paid into said trust fund. The insurer may contest any aspect of the assessment by filing a complaint with the division of dispute resolution. The injured employee shall not be a party to such proceedings.

Section 30I. The department shall assist and cooperate with the division of employment security, the United States Department of Labor, and any other appropriate state or federal agency, in attempting to make available to disabled employees eligible to receive compensation benefits, new jobs and job training programs, including, but not limited to, those conducted under the job training partnership act of nineteen hundred and eighty-two and successor programs. The division of employment security shall assist in such efforts.

SECTION 41. Section 31 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the seventh, eighth and ninth paragraphs.

SECTION 42. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 34, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 34. While the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is total, during each week of incapacity the insurer shall pay the injured employee a weekly compensation equal to two-thirds of his average weekly wage before the injury, but not more than the maximum weekly compensation rate nor less than the minimum weekly compensation rate, unless the average weekly wage of the employee is less than the minimum weekly compensation rate, in which case said weekly compensation shall be equal to his average weekly wage.

The total number of weeks of compensation due the employee under this section shall not exceed two hundred and sixty.

SECTION 43. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 34A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 34A. While the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is both permanent and total during each week of incapacity, the insurer shall pay the injured employee compensation equal to two-thirds of his average weekly wage before the injury, but not more than the maximum weekly compensation rate nor less than the minimum weekly compensation rate.

SECTION 43A. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 34A the following section:–

Section 34B. October first of each year shall be the review date for the purposes of this section.

Any person receiving or entitled to receive the benefits under the provisions of section thirty-one or section thirty-four A whose benefits are based on a date of personal injury at least twenty-four months prior to the review date shall be paid, without application, a supplement to weekly compensation to the extent such supplement shall not reduce any benefits such person is receiving pursuant to federal social security law. The supplemental benefits shall be paid in accordance with the following provisions:–

(a) The director of administration shall determine the percentage increase between (i) the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the date the permanently and totally disabled employee was injured or on the date the deceased worker was injured, and (ii) the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the review date. For purposes of this section, the increase in the average weekly wage in the commonwealth shall not exceed ten per cent in any year.

(b) The death benefit under section thirty-one or the permanent and total disability benefit under section thirty-four A that was being paid prior to any adjustments under this section shall be the base benefit. The base benefit shall be increased on each review date by the percentage increase in the average weekly wage in the commonwealth as calculated in the paragraph (a); the resulting amount shall be termed the adjusted benefit and is the amount of benefit to be paid on and after the review date. The difference between the base benefit and the adjusted benefit shall be termed the supplemental benefit.

(3) The supplemental benefits under this section shall be paid by the insurer concurrent with the base benefit. Insurers shall be entitled to quarterly reimbursements for supplemental benefits, pursuant to section sixty-five, for cases involving injuries that occurred on or before October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and for those cases occurring thereafter, to the extent such supplemental benefits are due to the increase of greater than five per cent in the average weekly wage in the commonwealth in any single year.

SECTION 44. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 35, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 35. While the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is partial, during each week of incapacity the insurer shall pay the injured employee a weekly compensation equal to two-thirds of the difference between his average weekly wage before the injury and the weekly wage he is capable of earning after the injury, but not more than the maximum weekly compensation rate.

The total number of weeks of compensation due the employee under this section shall not exceed six hundred.

SECTION 45. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 35B the following four sections:–

Section 35C. When there is a difference of five years or more between the date of injury and the initial date on which the injured worker or his survivor first became eligible for benefits under section thirty-one, thirty-four, thirty-four A, or section thirty-five, the applicable benefits shall be those in effect on the first date of eligibility for benefits.

For purposes of adjustments to compensation under sections thirty-four B and thirty-five F for employees subject to this section, the first date of eligibility for benefits rather than the date of injury shall be used for purposes of computing such supplemental benefits.

Section 35D. For purposes of sections thirty-four, thirty-four A and thirty-five, the weekly wage the employee is capable of earning, if any, after the injury, shall be the greatest of the following:–

(1) The actual earnings of the employee during each week.

(2) The earnings that the employee is capable of earning in the job the employee held at the time of injury, provided, however, that such job has been made available to the employee and he is capable of performing it. The employee's receipt of a written offer of his former job from the employer, together with a written report from the treating physician that the employee is capable of performing such job shall be prima facie evidence of an earnings capability under this clause.

(3) The earnings the employee is capable of earning in a particular suitable job; provided, however, that such job has been made available to the employee and he is capable of performing it. The employee's receipt of a written report that a specific suitable job is available to him together with a written report from the treating physician that the employee is capable of performing such job shall be prima facie evidence of an earnings capability under this clause.

(4) The earnings that the employee is capable of earning.

(5) Implementation of this section is subject to the procedures contained in section eight. For purposes of this chapter, a suitable job or employment shall be any job that the employee is physically and mentally capable of performing, including light work, considering the nature and severity of the employee's injury, so long as such job bears a reasonable relationship to the employee's work experience, education, or training, either before or after the employee's injury.

Section 35E. Any person receiving old age benefits pursuant to federal social security law or receiving pension benefits paid in part or entirely by an employer shall not be entitled to benefits under section thirty-five, unless such employee can establish that but for the injury, such employee would have remained active in the labor market. Claims for compensation, or complaint for modification, or discontinuance of benefits based on this section shall not be filed more often than once every twelve months.

Section 35F. (1) October first of each year shall be the review date for the purposes of this section.

(2) Any person receiving or entitled to receive benefits under section thirty-five whose benefits are based on a date of personal injury at least thirty-six months prior to the review date shall be paid, without application, a supplement to weekly compensation to the extent such supplement shall not reduce any benefits such person is receiving pursuant to federal social security law. The supplemental benefits shall be paid in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) The director of administration shall determine the percentage increase between (i) the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the date the partially disabled employee was injured and (ii) the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the review date. For purpose of this section, the increase in the average weekly wage in the commonwealth shall not exceed five per cent in any year.

(b) During the twelve months after the review date, any weekly benefit the employee is entitled to receive under section thirty-five shall be the base benefit. During the twelve months after the review date, the base benefit for any week shall be increased by the percentage increase in the average weekly wage in the commonwealth as calculated in the preceding paragraph; the resulting amount shall be termed the adjusted benefit and is the amount of benefit to be paid for the week. The difference between the base benefit and the adjusted benefit shall be termed the supplemental benefit.

(3) The supplemental benefits under this section shall be paid by the insurer concurrent with the base benefit.

SECTION 46. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 36, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 36. (1) In addition to all other compensation the employee shall be paid the sums hereafter designated for the following specific permanent injuries:

(a) For the loss by enucleation or otherwise or the total loss of use of one eye, or for injury to one eye which produces an inability which is not correctible to use both eyes together for single binocular vision, or the reduction to twenty-seventieths of normal vision in one eye, with glasses, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by thirty-nine.

(b) For the loss by enucleation or otherwise, or the total loss of use of both eyes, or the reduction to twenty-seventieths of normal vision in both eyes, with glasses, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by ninety-six.

(c) For any correctible permanent but partial reduction in either the acuity or field of vision of one or both eyes, such sum in proportion to the amount applicable in the event of total loss, total loss of use, or the reduction to twenty-seventieths of normal vision of one or both eyes as the correctible partial reduction bears to such total loss, total loss of use or reduction to twenty-seventieths of normal vision; provided that, for any permanent but partial reduction in either acuity or field of vision of either eye which requires the use of corrective device, such as glasses or contact lens, to produce normal vision, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by seven.

(d) For the loss of hearing of one ear, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by twenty-nine; for the loss of hearing of both ears, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by seventy-seven.

(e) For the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of the major arm, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by forty-three; for the amputation or permanent total loss of use of the minor arm, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by thirty-nine; for the amputation or permanent total loss of use of both arms, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by ninety-six.

(f) For the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of the major hand at the wrist, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by thirty-four; for the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of the minor hand at the wrist, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by twenty-nine; for the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of both hands at the wrist, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by seventy-seven.

(g) For the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of either leg, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of the injury multiplied by thirty-nine; for the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of both legs, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the date of injury multiplied by ninety-six.

(h) For the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of either foot at any point above the ankle joint, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by twenty-nine; for the amputation or permanent, total loss of use of both feet at any point above the ankle joints, a sum equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by sixty-eight.

(i) For any permanent but partial loss of use of a member, whether leg, foot, arm, or hand, such sum in proportion to the amount applicable in the event of amputation or permanent, total loss of use of said member as the said partial loss bears to the total loss of use of said member.

(j) For each loss of bodily function or sense, other than those specified in preceding paragraphs of this section, the amount which, according to the determination of the member or reviewing board, is a proper and equitable compensation, not to exceed the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by thirty-two; provided, however, that the total amount payable under this paragraph shall not exceed the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by eighty.

(k) For bodily disfigurement, an amount which, according to the determination of the member or reviewing board, is a proper and equitable compensation, not to exceed the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by thirty-two; which sum shall be payable in addition to all other sums due under this section.

(2) Where applicable, losses under this section shall be determined in accordance with standards set forth in the American Medical Association Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairments. Nothing in this section shall adversely affect the employee's rights to any compensation which is or may become due under the provisions of any other section.

SECTION 47. The second paragraph of section 36A of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Where any specified loss, losses or disfigurement under section thirty-six is a result of an injury involving brain damage, payment in total under that section for the sum of such loss, losses or disfigurement resulting from said brain damage shall not exceed an amount equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the date of injury multiplied by one hundred and five.

Section 36B. (1) No benefits shall be payable under section thirty-four or section thirty-four A for any week in which the employee has received or is receiving unemployment compensation benefits.

(2) Any employee claiming or receiving benefits under section thirty-five who may be entitled to unemployment compensation benefits shall upon written request from the insurer apply for such benefits. Failure to do so within sixty days after written request shall constitute grounds for suspension of benefits under said section thirty-five. Any unemployment compensation benefits received shall be credited against partial disability benefits payable for the same time period, or, if for a period of time for which partial disability benefits have already been paid, shall be credited against any future partial disability benefits which are or may become payable.

SECTION 48. The first paragraph of section 37 of said chapter 152, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The insurer or self insurer shall, however, be reimbursed by the state treasurer from the trust fund created by section sixty-five in an amount equal to seventy-five per cent of all compensation paid subsequent to that paid for the first one hundred and four weeks of disability.

SECTION 49. Said section 37 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the last paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The attorney general shall in all instances have the authority to defend claims against the fund. No liability for any case arising under this section shall be redeemed by a lump sum payment as provided in section forty-eight, unless the attorney general or his designee has been given an opportunity to appear and be heard on behalf of the fund, but reimbursement from the trust fund may be made without the necessity of further approval of the lump sum by the state treasurer. No reimbursement shall be made covering the first one hundred and four weekly payments or for medical benefits during that period, whether paid under an agreement, decision, or lump sum settlement.

SECTION 50. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 41, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 41. No proceedings for compensation payable under this chapter shall be maintained unless a notice thereof shall have been given to the insurer or insured as soon as practicable after the happening thereof, and unless any claim for compensation due with respect to such injury is filed within four years from the date the employee first became aware of the causal relationship between his disability and his employment. In the event of death, no claim shall be made later than four years after the death. Where an action against a third person, as provided by section fifteen, is discontinued, no claim for compensation shall be made later than sixty days after such discontinuance.

The payment of compensation for any injury pursuant to this chapter or the filing of a claim for compensation as provided in this chapter shall toll the statute of limitations for any benefits due pursuant to this chapter for such injury.

SECTION 51. Section forty-one A of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two is hereby repealed.

SECTION 52. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 48, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 48. (1) Under the conditions and limitations specified in this chapter, the insurer and employee may by agreement redeem any liability for compensation, in whole or in part, by the payment by the insurer of a lump sum of an amount to be approved by the reviewing board.

(2) Where insurer liability for compensation of any kind under this chapter has been established for an injury by acceptance or by a standing decision of the board, the reviewing board, or a court of the commonwealth, prior to such lump sum agreement, the settlement shall not redeem liability for the payment of medical benefits or vocational rehabilitation benefits with respect to such injury.

No lump sum agreement made prior to the establishment of liability for compensation shall prohibit an employee from subsequently filing a claim for medical benefits only, in any instance in which such employee has suffered a substantial deterioration of his medical condition which (i) could not reasonably have been foreseen at the time said agreement was entered into, (ii) is the result of an injury for which the insurer would have been liable under this chapter, absent the lump sum settlement. Claims under this paragraph shall be considered only if brought within one year of the date the employee first became aware of the causal relationship between the substantial deterioration and the employment. Claims shall be consistent with the procedures set forth in sections ten, ten A, and eleven. No liability for such claims shall be redeemed by any additional lump sum settlement.

(3) Prior to approval of any lump sum settlement, the office of education and vocational rehabilitation shall review the following factors with the employee and his attorney:

(a) the employee's rights under this chapter and the effect a lump sum settlement would have upon such rights;

(b) in the case of a lump sum settlement that includes the redemption of future medical benefits, the likelihood that the employee may require such services and the present cost of insurance or other means of defraying such potential expenses;

(c) the total income and financial prospectus of the employee including all means of support;

(d) the purpose for which the settlement is requested;

(e) the employee's post-injury earnings and prospects, including the projected income and financial security of any proposed project of employment, self employment, business venture, or investment and the prudence of consulting with a financial or other expert to review the likelihood of success of such projects; and,

(f) any other information, including the age of the employee and of his dependents, which would bear upon whether the settlement is in the best interest of the claimant.

The office of education and vocational rehabilitation shall initiate such review within fourteen days of its receipt of a request by an employee for a settlement review. Said office shall send a report on the review to the reviewing board within five days of the completion of the review. A settlement review shall be considered to have taken place and a report on such review to have been received by the reviewing board if the office of education and vocational rehabilitation does not initiate a review within fourteen days of receipt of request or send a report to the reviewing board within five days of completion of the review; but in any case, no more than twenty-eight days shall transpire from the date of a receipt of said request to the date of the report to the reviewing board; provided, however, that no settlement shall be approved for any employee who fails to attend a scheduled review without good cause. Nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to create any additional liability on the part of the commonwealth.

(4) No lump sum shall be approved by the reviewing board unless the members of the reviewing board, after receiving a report on the settlement from the office of education and vocational rehabilitation, deem such settlement to be in the employee's best interest in light of the factors reviewed by the office of education and vocational rehabilitation pursuant to subsection (3).

(5) No lump sum agreement shall be approved which contains as part of a settlement a general or specific release that would serve as a bar to (i) employment with any employer, (ii) the receipt by the employee of any pay or benefits due him by an employer, (iii) the bringing of any future workers' compensation claim or (iv) the bringing of any claims of wrongful discharge or breach of contract. All such general or specific releases shall be null and void. Any employer, insurer, or attorney attempting to obtain such release from an employee shall be punished by a fine of ten times the average weekly wage in the commonwealth. The office of education and vocational rehabilitation shall inform each employee seeking a lump sum settlement of the unlawfulness of such general or specific releases.

(6) Whenever a lump sum agreement or payment has been approved by the reviewing board in accordance with the terms of this section, such agreement shall affect only the insurer and employee who are parties to such lump sum agreement and shall not affect any other action or proceeding arising out of a separate and distinct injury resulting in an incapacity whether the injury precedes or arises subsequent to the date of settlement.

SECTION 53. Section 49 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last two sentences.

SECTION 54. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 53 the following section:–

Section 53A. (1) Any insurance company authorized to transact business in this commonwealth under subclause (b) or (e) of clause Sixth of section forty-seven of chapter one hundred and seventy-five may, except as provided in clause (c) of section fifty-four of said chapter one hundred and seventy-five, insure the payment of the compensation provided for by this chapter, and when any such company insures such payment, it shall file with the commissioner of insurance, or, if it is a member of or subscriber to a rating organization under section fifty-two C, authorize such rating organization to file with the commissioner on its behalf, its classification of risks and premiums relating thereto and subsequent proposed classifications of premiums.

(2) Such classifications of risks and premiums shall be filed at least every two years on January first or such other date as the commissioner of the department of insurance initially designates. Within sixty days after the first filing subsequent to January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the commissioner of the department of insurance shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the classifications and rates are not excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory for the risks to which they respectively apply and that they fall within a range of reasonableness.

(3) When a filing is not accompanied by the information upon which the insurer supports such filing, and the commissioner of the department of insurance does not have sufficient information to determine whether such filing meets the requirements of this section, he may require such insurer to furnish the information upon which it supports such filing. Any filing may be supported by the experience or judgment of the insurer or rating organization making the filing, the experience of other insurers or rating organizations, and any other factors which the insurer or rating organization deems relevant.

(4) Where a claim against an insured that has affected such insured's experience rating has been found noncompensable, or where an insurer recovers previously paid workers' compensation benefits from a negligent third party, the insurer shall submit a revised statistical unit report to the appropriate rating bureau within sixty days of such finding or recovery. Failure to make such submission shall be an unfair or deceptive act under chapter one hundred and seventy-six D.

(5) The commissioner of insurance shall, by the use of experience rating credits, the institution of a payroll cap on premium computation, or other method, provide for equitable distribution of premiums among employers paying higher than average wages and those paying lower than average wages.

(6) (a) The advisory council, established pursuant to section fifteen of chapter twenty-three E may request without limitation any loss data, from any insurance company or rating organization. Any insurance company or rating organization which is the recipient of such a request may, if it believes that the request is unduly burdensome or unreasonable, file a motion to be heard by the commissioner of insurance concerning whether all or part of the request requires response. The commissioner of insurance may, if he finds the request is unduly burdensome or unreasonable, deny the request in whole or in part.

(b) At any hearing conducted pursuant to this section, the advisory council may present a written statement and oral testimony relating to any issues which may arise during the course of the hearing. Said advisory council may not cross-examine witnesses produced by other parties, or appeal any decision of the commissioner.

(7) No proposed classifications or premiums shall take effect until approved by the commissioner of insurance as not excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory for the risks to which they respectively apply, and as within a range of reasonableness. If the commissioner does not approve or disapprove proposed classifications or premiums within six months after a filing made pursuant to subsection (2), such classifications and premiums shall be deemed approved and shall be immediately effective. If said commissioner disapproves proposed premiums and classifications, stating his reasons for disapproval, any insurance company or rating organization may file new proposed classifications and premiums.

(8) If, after the conclusion of a hearing on classification and premiums pursuant to subsection (2), the commissioner of insurance determines that any already effective premium is excessive, he shall order a specific decrease in that premium to be effective six months from the date of the insurance company or rating organization filing under consideration. He shall order a specific decrease irrespective of whether any insurance company or rating organization has filed for a decrease in any premium rate.

(9) Any insurance company may make written application to the commissioner of insurance for permission to use, in place of premium rates approved pursuant to subsections (7) and (8), a percentage decrease from said premium rates which shall be uniform within any classification of risk in the commonwealth. The commissioner shall issue an order permitting the decrease for such insurance company unless he finds that the resulting premium would be inadequate or unfairly discriminatory.

(10) Upon petition of an insurance company, rating organization, or other aggrieved party, any order or decision of the commissioner of insurance under this chapter shall be subject to review by the supreme judicial court.

SECTION 55. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 65, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 65. (1) There is hereby established a special revenue fund in the state treasury, known as the Workers' Compensation Special Fund, the proceeds of which may be expended by the department, subject to appropriation, for the operating expenses of the department.

(2) There is hereby established a trust fund in the state treasury, known as the Workers' Compensation Trust Fund, the proceeds of which shall be used to pay for the following compensation: (a) adjustments to compensation pursuant to section thirty-four B; (b) adjustments to compensation pursuant to section thirty-five C; (c) reimbursements for second injury compensation in accordance with section thirty-seven; (d) rehabilitation compensation as specified in section thirty H; (e) approved claims against uninsured employers; (f) approved claims resulting from an injury caused by the activities of a fellow worker pursuant to section twenty-six; and (g) compensation payable to a disabled war veteran pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-seven A. Revenues for the special fund and the trust fund established herein shall be raised by an assessment on all employers subject to this chapter.

(3) Each insurer authorized to write workers' compensation in the commonwealth, each self-insurer, each self-insurance group, and the commonwealth shall report to the department annually on or before May first, the assessment base amount for employers subject to this chapter. The Massachusetts workers' compensation rating bureau shall report aggregate base amount data for employers insured by its members. The assessment base amount for all employers shall be the losses paid under this chapter for the preceding twelve month period beginning January first and ending on the last day of December.

If an insurer, self-insurer, or self-insurance group fails to report such base amounts to the department on or before May first, the department may assess a one thousand dollar fine for each month or part thereof that its report is late and may estimate a base amount, until the actual base amount is determined, by taking into consideration the actual base amount last reported for the assessment payor; provided, however, that no estimated base amount shall be greater than one hundred and twenty per cent of the actual base amount reported.

(4) The department shall determine the special fund and trust fund assessment rates pursuant to the following procedures:

(a) The total amount of funds appropriated each year to pay the operating expenses of the department pursuant to subsection (1) shall be known as the special fund budget.

(b) On or before July first of each year the department shall estimate the total amount of funds required to make payments during the following twelve months for the compensation payable pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The total amount of this estimate, subject to the approval of the secretary of labor, shall be known as the trust fund budget. The trust fund budget shall be reviewed by the advisory council. Upon the affirmative vote of at least seven voting members, the advisory council may submit its own estimate of the trust fund budget to the secretary of labor. The department's estimate shall separately state that portion of projected disbursements pursuant to subsection (2) that is attributable to expected claims against (i) private employers and (ii) the commonwealth and its political subdivisions subject to this chapter. The separately stated estimate for private employers shall be known as the private employer trust fund budget. The separately stated estimate for the commonwealth and its political subdivisions shall be known as the public employer trust fund budget.

(c) If the balance of the special fund at the end of the fiscal year exceeds thirty-five per cent of the previous year's disbursements from that fund, the budget for that fund, for the purpose of calculating the fund assessment rate, shall be reduced by that part of the balance in excess of thirty-five per cent of the previous year's disbursements. If the balance of either the private employer portion or the public employer portion of the trust fund at the end of the fiscal year, exceeds thirty-five per cent of the previous year's disbursements from that portion of the fund, as reported pursuant to subsection (9), the budget for that portion of the fund, for the purpose of calculating the fund assessment rate shall be reduced by that part of the balance for that portion of the fund in excess of thirty-five per cent of the previous year's disbursements, reported pursuant to subsection (9). Additional assessments may be levied by the commissioner, subject to the approval of the secretary of labor, if he finds such assessments necessary in order to make disbursements for any expenses or compensation payments in the fiscal year which exceed the revenue generated by the assessments for the fiscal year levied pursuant to subsection (5). Any additional assessment proposed by the commissioner shall be reviewed by the advisory council. Upon the affirmative vote of at least seven voting members, the advisory council may submit its estimate of the necessary additional assessment to the secretary of labor.

(d) For each assessment payor, except for the commonwealth and any of its political subdivisions subject to this chapter, the assessment rate shall be determined by dividing the sum of the special fund and the private employer trust fund budgets, by the sum of the base amounts reported by such assessment payors pursuant to subsection (3). For the commonwealth and any of its political subdivisions subject to this chapter, the assessment rate shall be determined by dividing the amount of the public employer trust fund budget by the sum of the base amounts reported by such assessment payors pursuant to said subsection (3).

(5) Each self-insurance group shall pay to the treasurer of the commonwealth a sum assessed by the department equal to the product of the assessment rates determined pursuant to subsection (4) and the base amount determined pursuant to subsection (3). For each insured employer the assessment shall be equal to the product of its standard workers' compensation premium and the assessment rate determined pursuant to subsection (4), multiplied by the expected loss ratio used in determining manual rates in effect on July first as approved by the commissioner of insurance. Insurers shall bill and collect assessments on insured employers. Such assessments shall be separately stated amounts on all premium notices, and shall not be reported as premiums for any tax or regulatory purposes under chapter sixty-three, chapter one hundred and seventy-five, or any other law of the commonwealth. Assessment rates for insured employers shall apply to standard premiums for policy years beginning on or after July first following the determination of such rates. The assessment for each self-insurer shall be equal to the product of the assessment rate and the self-insurer's imputed premium multiplied by the total base amount for all self-insurers, divided by the total imputed premium for all self-insurers as determined by the department. Insurers shall transmit assessments collected during each quarter, and self-insurers and self-insurance groups shall pay assessments due each quarter to the treasurer of the commonwealth no later than one month after the end of the quarter.

Failure to pay the assessed sum will result in a fine of ten per cent of any unpaid amounts every thirty days. The commissioner may establish a commonwealth lien on any employer to collect assessments and fines for which such employer is liable under this section. Similar fines and liens may be imposed on insurers for failure to transmit assessments collected under this section.

(6) The revenue received from assessments levied under this section shall be kept in the special fund or the trust fund separate and apart from all other monies received by the commonwealth. The proceeds from any fine or fee imposed pursuant to this chapter shall be kept in the special fund. The treasurer of the commonwealth shall be the custodian of the special fund and trust fund, and revenues received shall be deposited in each fund proportional to that fund's share of the total budget. The monies in the special fund and trust fund shall be invested by the treasurer in accordance with law; provided, however, that the treasurer shall make no investments that prevent the treasurer from making timely payment of disbursements pursuant to subsections (1) and (2). Interest income and dividends from such investments shall be credited to the fund from which the interest or dividends accrue.

(7) The treasurer shall make payments from accounts of the trust fund on the submission of a warrant listing all payments to be made and the accounts to be debited, which has been approved in writing by the secretary of labor or his designee.

(8) If an insurer, self-insurer, or member of a self-insurance group is liable for a claim, all or part of which may be paid from the trust fund pursuant to clauses (a) to (d), inclusive of subsection (2), it shall first pay the claimant and then apply to the trust fund for reimbursement. If the trust fund pays compensation to a claimant pursuant to clause (e) of subsection (2), it may seek recovery from the uninsured employer for an amount equal to the amount the fund has paid to the claimant plus any necessary and reasonable attorney fees.

(9) The treasurer shall, on or before October first of each year, submit to the advisory council, the governor, the clerk of the senate, and the clerk of the house of representatives, an annual report for the previous fiscal year. The report shall include a statement of the revenues and disbursements of the special fund and trust fund for the fiscal year, the balance existing at the beginning and the end of the fiscal year for each fund, and any other information the treasurer deems appropriate. The report shall include a statement of revenues, disbursements, and the balance existing at the beginning and end of the fiscal year for private employers and a separate statement of these amounts for the commonwealth and its political subdivisions subject to this chapter.

(10) The books and records of the special fund and trust fund shall be subject to an annual audit by the auditor of the commonwealth.

(11) The intent of the separate financial reports and assessment calculations for public employers under this section is to prevent said employers from bearing inappropriate costs. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the rights of any political subdivision of the commonwealth to rescind acceptance of this chapter pursuant to section sixty-nine; provided, however, that any such rescinding political subdivision shall be deemed to be an uninsured person and shall be subject to the provisions of section sixty-six.

SECTION 56. Section 69 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "notwithstanding", in line 35, the words:- except as otherwise provided in a collective bargaining agreement.

SECTION 57. Section 69B of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 9, the words "The commissioner" and inserting in place thereof the words:- Said commissioner of public employee retirement.

SECTION 58. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 75 the following two sections:-

Section 75A. Any person who has lost a job as a result of an injury compensable under this chapter shall be given preference in hiring by the employer for whom he worked at the time of compensable injury over any persons not at the time of application for reemployment employed by such employer; provided, however, that a suitable job is available. Actions may be filed under this section with the superior court department of the trial court for the county in which the alleged violation occurred. An employer found to have violated this section shall be exclusively liable to pay to the employee lost wages, shall grant the employee a suitable job, and shall reimburse such reasonable attorney fees incurred in the protection of rights granted by this section as shall be determined by the court.

In the event that any right set forth in this section is inconsistent with an applicable collective bargaining agreement or chapter thirty-one, the collective bargaining agreement or said chapter thirty-one shall prevail.

Section 75B. (1) Any employee who has sustained a work-related injury and is capable of performing the essential functions of a particular job, or who would be capable of performing the essential functions of such job with reasonable accommodations, shall be deemed to be a qualified handicapped person under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-one B.

(2) No employer or duly authorized agent of an employer shall discharge, refuse to hire or in any other manner discriminate against an employee because the employee has exercised a right afforded by this chapter, or who has testified or in any manner cooperated with an inquiry or proceeding pursuant to this chapter, unless the employee knowingly participated in a fraudulent proceeding. Any person claiming to be aggrieved by a violation of this section may initiate proceedings in the superior court department of the trial court for the county in which the alleged violation occurred. An employer found to have violated this paragraph shall be exclusively liable to pay to the employee lost wages, shall grant the employee suitable employment, and shall reimburse such reasonable attorney fees incurred in the protection of rights granted as shall be determined by the member. The court may grant whatever equitable relief it deems necessary to protect rights granted by this section.

(3) In the event that any right set forth in this section is inconsistent with an applicable collective bargaining agreement, such agreement shall prevail. An employee may not otherwise waive rights granted by this section.

SECTION 59. Of the initial voting appointees to the advisory council, as set forth in section fifteen of chapter twenty-three E of the General Laws, one employer and one employee representative shall be appointed for a one year term, one employer, and one employee representative shall be appointed for a two year term, one employer and one employee representative shall be appointed for a three year term, one employer and one employee representative shall be appointed for a four year term, and one employer and one employee representative shall be appointed for a five year term. Of the initial nonvoting appointees to the advisory council, the representative of the insurance industry shall be appointed for a one year term, the representative of the workers' compensation claimant's bar shall be appointed for a two year term, the representative of the commonwealth's medical community for a three year term, and the representative of rehabilitation providers for a four year term. Upon the expiration of the term of an initial council member his successor shall be appointed by the governor for a term of five years.

SECTION 60. The advisory council, established pursuant to section fifteen of chapter twenty-three E of the General Laws, may contract for a comprehensive evaluation of the workers' compensation system to be initiated on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, and completed not later than December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine. Such evaluation shall be conducted by a party or parties with expertise in the analysis of policy and financial issues relating to workers' compensation. The study shall be paid from funds appropriated for that purpose from the special fund established in section sixty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the General Laws.

SECTION 61. All members of the industrial accident board appointed to and currently serving terms in accordance with the provisions of section fifteen of chapter twenty-three of the General Laws, shall continue to serve as such members until the expiration of the terms to which they were appointed. All employees of the division on the effective date of this act, including those holding civil service or statutory tenure, shall be transferred to the department without impairment of rights or salaries. The chairman of the industrial accident board serving on the effective date of this act shall be the commissioner of the department of industrial accidents during the remainder of the term of the governor holding office on the effective date of this act. Failing reappointment as commissioner at any time during the remainder of his original term of appointment to the board, he shall serve as a member of the industrial accident board for the remainder of his original term in which event there shall be seventeen members of said board. The secretary of the industrial accident board serving on the effective date of this act shall serve as the deputy director of dispute resolution. The executive assistant, division of industrial accidents serving on the effective date of this act shall serve as the first deputy director of administration. The currently serving administrative head of the office of self-insurance shall serve as the first administrative head of the office of insurance.

All monies heretofore appropriated for the division of industrial accidents and remaining unexpended on the effective date of this section are hereby transferred to and shall be available for expenditure by the department of industrial accidents for the purpose of the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties for which such monies were appropriated.

All duly existing contracts, leases and obligations of the division of industrial accidents which are in force immediately prior to the effective date of this section, shall be performed by the department of industrial accidents.

All claims, complaints, hearings and other proceedings duly brought before, and all legal and other proceedings duly begun by the division of industrial accidents or any official or agency thereof, and which are pending immediately prior to the effective date of this section, shall continue unabated and remain in force notwithstanding the passage of this act, and shall thereafter be completed before or by the department of industrial accidents.

All orders, rules and regulations duly made, by the division of industrial accidents or by any official or agent thereof, and which are in force immediately prior to the effective date of this section, shall continue in force and the provisions thereof shall thereafter be enforced, until superseded, revised, rescinded or cancelled in accordance with law, by the department of industrial accidents.

All books, papers, records, documents, equipment, and other property which immediately prior to the effective date of this section are in the custody of or maintained by the division of industrial accidents, are hereby transferred to the department of industrial accidents.

SECTION 62. To provide for supplementing the general appropriation act and for a certain new activity and project, the sum set forth in section sixty-three of this act, for the several purposes and subject to the provisions of law regulating the disbursement of public funds and the conditions pertaining to appropriations in chapter one hundred and forty of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-five, are hereby appropriated from the General Fund, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the sum so appropriated to be in addition to any amount available for the purpose.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF LABOR.

9440-0200 For a reserve to fund the costs incurred by the division of industrial accidents and its successor agency, the department of industrial accidents, in the implementation of this act; provided, however, that the secretary of labor is authorized to expend directly from this reserve or to transfer from this item to other items of appropriation such amounts as are necessary to meet the costs of implementing this act; provided, further, that the amount expended from this item shall be added to the special fund budget for the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six for the purpose of calculating the assessment rate pursuant to subsection (4) of section sixty-five of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the General Laws, inserted by section fifty-five of this act; and provided, further, that the amount expended from this item shall be fully reimbursed pursuant to said section sixty-five on or before July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven; and provided, further, that no such expenditures or transfers from this item shall be made without the prior approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means

SECTION 64. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act or any general or special law to the contrary, the rate setting commission shall conduct a review of all rates for health care services that are provided under chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the General Laws and for which rates are set pursuant to chapter six A of the General Laws. Based upon such review, the commission shall, no later than July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, revise rates that are determined to be inadequate with respect to such services. Pending such revisions, the rates for such health care services shall be set at: (1) the rate allowed in the medicare program in the commonwealth pursuant to Federal Title XVIII reimbursements for such services which are reimbursable under said program or one hundred and fifty per cent of the rate allowed on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five for such services, whichever is less; provided, however, that no rate for such services which is greater than that allowed under said medicare program shall be reduced under this provision; or (2) one hundred and fifty per cent of the rate allowed on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five for such services which are not reimbursable under said program.

SECTION 65. For the purposes of section two A of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the General Laws, section twenty-eight A, thirty-five, thirty-eight, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty and fifty-two of this act shall be deemed to be substantive in character.

SECTION 66. For purposes of section two A of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the General Laws, section thirty-five C of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two, as appearing in section forty-five of this act, shall be deemed to be procedural in character.

SECTION 67. Sections thirty-five, thirty-eight, fifty-five, sixty-two and sixty-three of this act shall take effect upon its passage.

SECTION 68. Sections six, six A, nine, eleven, thirteen, twenty-nine, thirty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-seven A, fifty, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-six, fifty-eight and sixty-four of this act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 69. Sections one, two, three, four, five, seven, eight, ten, twelve, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, twenty-eight, thirty, thirty-six, thirty-seven, fifty-seven, fifty-nine, sixty and sixty-one of this act shall take effect on April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 70. Sections thirteen A, seventeen to twenty-seven, inclusive, twenty-eight A, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-three A, forty-five, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty-one and fifty-two of this act shall take effect on November first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 10, 1985.

For a study, and the preparation of plans, if necessary, and construction of a parking lot and grounds improvements at Massasoit Community College in Brockton and Canton.

SECTION 11. Item 2120–8841 of section 4 of said chapter 723 is hereby amended by striking out the wording and inserting in place thereof the following:–

For a study, and the preparation of plans, if necessary, and for the rehabilitation and restoration of the Olmsted parks in the commonwealth including the Olmsted park system in the city of Boston and the town of Brookline including Franklin park, Olmsted Park and Jamaica Pond, the Riverway and the Back Bay Fens; the Kennedy Park in the city of Fall River; the Lynn Woods and High Rock Reservation in the city of Lynn; Forest Park in the city of Springfield; D.W. Field Park in the city of Brockton; Buttonwood Park in the city of New Bedford; and Elm Park in the city of Worcester; provided that the department of environmental management is authorized to make grants to the above municipalities for studies, planning, engineering services, and construction in the restoration of said Olmsted parks.

SECTION 12. Section 11Q of said chapter 723 is hereby further amended by striking out the third sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund.

SECTION 13. The second paragraph of section 3 of chapter 431 of the acts of 1984 is hereby amended by striking out, in line 9, the word "ninety-four" and inserting in place thereof the word:– ninety-nine.

SECTION 14. The first paragraph of section 4 of chapter 435 of the acts of 1984 is hereby amended by striking out, in line 2, the words "section two" and inserting in place thereof the words:– sections one and two.

SECTION 15. The second paragraph of said section 4 of said chapter 435 is hereby amended by striking out, in line 8, the word "ninety-four" and inserting in place thereof the word:– ninety-nine.

SECTION 16. The metropolitan district commission is hereby authorized to expend during fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six an amount not to exceed three million dollars for the purpose of repairing and replacing pipes underneath the Lynnway in the city of Lynn. No monies herein authorized for expenditure shall be expended until the Lynn water and sewer commission, established pursuant to chapter three hundred and eighty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two, shall have entered into an agreement with the commissioner of the metropolitan district commission, acting on behalf of the commonwealth, to reimburse the commonwealth for amounts expended to repair and replace said pipes. Such agreement shall provide

Chapter 574. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF HOSPITAL RATES OF PAYMENT AND CHARGES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide for the establishment of hospital rates and charges, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 6A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 31, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 31. As used in sections thirty-two to seventy-five A, inclusive, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:–

"Acute hospital", any hospital licensed under section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and eleven, and the teaching hospital of the University of Massachusetts Medical School, which contains a majority of medical-surgical, pediatric, obstetric, and maternity beds as defined by the department of public health.

"Approved gross inpatient service revenues", for any fiscal year shall be the total approved gross patient service revenues as defined in this chapter less actual gross outpatient service revenues for that year.

"Bad debt", an account receivable based on services furnished to any patient which (i) is regarded as uncollectible, following reasonable collection efforts, (ii) is charged as a credit loss, (iii) is not the obligation of any governmental unit or of the federal government or any agency thereof, and (iv) is not free care.

"Basis of payment", the total reimbursable costs included in the basis upon which Blue Cross payments are calculated pursuant to any hospital agreement.

"Board", the rate setting commission hospital policy review board established under section thirty-four A.

"Case mix", the description and categorization of a hospital's patient population according to relevant criteria approved by the commission such as: primary and secondary diagnoses, primary and secondary procedures, illness severity, patient age, and source of payment.

"Case mix adjusted discharges", the sum of the cost weights of each discharge as stipulated in the current hospital agreement.

"Charge", the amount to be billed or charged by a hospital for each specific service within a revenue center.

"Commission", the rate setting commission established under section thirty-two.

"Community health centers", health centers operating in conformance with the requirements of section 330 of United States Public Law 95-626, as most recently amended by Public Law 97-35, and shall include all community health centers which file cost reports as requested by the commission.

"Disproportionate share hospital", any acute hospital that exhibits a payor mix where a minimum of sixty-eight per cent of the acute hospital's gross patient service revenue was attributable to Title XVIII and Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act and local and state government subsidy and free care and bad debt.

"Eligible person", a person who qualifies for financial assistance from a governmental unit in meeting all or part of the cost of general health supplies, care, social, rehabilitative or educational services and accommodations.

"Free care", a revenue deduction associated with the provision of services to patients who have reasonably been deemed financially unable to pay, in whole or in part, for their care.

"General health supplies, care, social, rehabilitative or educational services and accommodations", all supplies, care and services of medical, optometric, dental, surgical, podiatric, psychiatric, therapeutic, diagnostic, rehabilitative, education, supportive or geriatric nature, including in-patient and out-patient hospital care and services, and accommodations in hospitals, sanatoria, infirmaries, convalescent and nursing homes, rest homes, facilities established, licensed, or approved pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and eleven B, and similar institutions including those providing treatment, training, instruction and care of children and adults.

"Governmental unit", the commonwealth, any department, agency, board or commission of the commonwealth, and any political subdivision of the commonwealth.

"Gross patient service revenue", the total dollar amount of a hospital's charges for services rendered in a fiscal year.

"Hospital", any hospital licensed under section fifty-one of chapter one hundred and eleven, the teaching hospital of the University of Massachusetts Medical School, and any psychiatric facility licensed under section twenty-nine of chapter nineteen.

"Hospital agreement 29", the agreement between Blue Cross of Massachusetts, Inc. and the participating hospitals approved by the commission pursuant to section five of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A and first taking effect on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

ACTS, 1985. -- Chap. 574.

"Hospital agreement", an agreement between a nonprofit hospital service corporation and the hospital signatory thereto approved by the commission under section five of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A.

"Medicaid costs", reimbursable costs included in the basis of payment as calculated pursuant to the hospital agreement then in effect, exclusive of any costs attributable to: free care and bad debt expense or, in any hospital fiscal year beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the uniform allowance for the statewide uncompensated care pool as calculated pursuant to section fifty-one, price level depreciation in excess of historical cost depreciation, and costs or revaluation of assets associated with a transfer of ownership occurring on or after July eighteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, which exceed those permitted by section 2314 of Public Law 98-369.

"Non-acute hospital", any hospital which is not an acute hospital.

"Non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues", gross inpatient service revenues less gross inpatient service revenues associated with Title XVIII patients.

"Patient", any natural person receiving health care services from a hospital.

"Patient care cost", reimbursable costs as defined in hospital agreement 29, exclusive of: free care and bad debt expense, and price level depreciation in excess of historical costs depreciation.

"Private sector share of projected patient care costs", for any hospital in a fiscal year shall be the sum of the projected patient care costs of a hospital service corporation and the projected patient care costs for purchasers and third-party payors who reimburse acute hospitals on the basis of charges.

"Provider of health care services", any person, corporation, partnership, governmental unit, state institution and other entity which furnishes general health supplies, care, social, rehabilitative or educational services and accommodations to an eligible person.

"Projected net patient service revenues from purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges", the product of the projected basis of payment as specified in the hospital agreement increased by the differential calculated pursuant to section fifty-eight, multiplied by the proportion of services, computed as a proportion of gross patient service revenue, rendered to such purchasers and payors in the acute hospital in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Projected payments of a hospital service corporation", the projected basis of payment as specified in the hospital agreement multiplied by the proportion of services, computed as a proportion of gross patient service revenue, rendered to a hospital service corporation's members in the acute hospital in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Projected payments of medicaid", the product of the projected medicaid basis of payment computed in accordance with this chapter multiplied by the proportion of services, computed as a proportion of gross patient service revenue, rendered to patients covered under the reimbursement system of Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act in the acute hospital in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Projected payments of medicare", the product of the projected medicare basis of payment under the provisions of a waiver granted by the Health Care Financing Administration, Department of Health and Human Services, multiplied by the proportion of services, computed as a proportion of gross patient service revenue, rendered to patients covered under the reimbursement system of Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act in the acute hospital in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Projected patient care costs for purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges", the product of patient care costs as projected in the basis of payment specified in the hospital agreement, multiplied by the proportion of services rendered to such purchasers and payors in the acute hospital in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Projected patient care costs for a hospital service corporation", the patient care costs of the acute hospital as projected in its basis of payment, multiplied by the proportion of services rendered to the hospital service corporation's members by the hospital in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Projected patient care costs of all patient services which are written off as free care or bad debt", the patient care costs of the acute hospital as projected in its basis of payment, multiplied by the proportion of services written off as free care or bad debt in the most recently completed fiscal year.

"Purchaser", a natural person responsible for payment for health care services rendered by a hospital.

"Revenue center", a functioning unit of a hospital which provides distinctive services to a patient for a charge.

"State institution", any hospital, sanatorium, infirmary, clinic and other such facility owned, operated or administered by the commonwealth, which furnishes general health supplies, care, social, rehabilitative or educational services and accommodations.

"Third-party payor", any entity, including, but not limited to, Title XVIII and Title XIX programs, insurance companies, health maintenance organizations and nonprofit hospital service corporations but not including a purchaser, responsible for payment, either to the purchaser or the hospital, for health care services rendered by a hospital.

SECTION 2. Section 37 of said chapter 6A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

If charges are approved pursuant to this section or section thirty-nine for fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight for an acute hospital which had deficit revenue, as defined in section sixty-three, in the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, then the commission shall add to such hospital's projected reasonable financial requirements an amount equal to the sum for the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven of: (i) the product of the amount of deficit revenue, multiplied by the proportion of services rendered to purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges; plus (ii) the product of the amount of deficit revenue, multiplied by the proportion of services rendered to the members of a hospital service corporation, multiplied by one divided by one plus the differential determined pursuant to section fifty-eight, minus (iii) the amount of any settlement for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven paid to the hospital by a hospital service corporation pursuant to the hospital agreement.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 51, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 51. A. For each acute hospital, the basis of payment under the successor hospital agreement to hospital agreement 29 shall include the following limitation for the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five:

The sum of: (a) the projected payments of a hospital service corporation computed pursuant to the successor hospital agreement, plus

(b) the projected net patient service revenues from purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges established pursuant to sections fifty-six and fifty-seven shall be the lesser of:

(i) the sum of: (1) the projected patient care costs for a hospital service corporation and to purchasers and third-party payors who reimburse acute hospitals on the basis of charges, and (2) the projected patient care costs of all patient services which are written off as free care or bad debt, and (3) a working capital allowance to be specified by the commission consistent with any discount provided a third party payor for prompt payment; or

(ii) one hundred per cent plus the greater of: (1) one hundred and fourteen per cent or (2) the per cent of free care and bad debt services of the hospital, multiplied by the projected patient care costs for a hospital service corporation and to purchasers and third party payors who reimburse acute hospitals on the basis of charges.

B. For each acute hospital, the basis of payment under the successor hospital agreement to hospital agreement 29 shall include the following limitation for the fiscal years beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five:

The sum of (a) the projected payments of a hospital service corporation computed pursuant to the successor hospital agreement, plus

(b) the projected net patient service revenues from purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges established pursuant to sections fifty-six and fifty-seven shall be equal to the sum of:

(1) the projected patient care costs for a hospital service corporation and to purchasers and third party payors who reimburse hospitals on the basis of charges, and

(2) a working capital allowance to be specified by the commission consistent with any discount provided by a third party payor for prompt payment, and

(3) the uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care as calculated pursuant to subsection C, multiplied by the sum of subclauses (1) and (2).

C. The uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care for each acute hospital with fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six shall be calculated by the commission as follows:

(1) for each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, calculate the lesser of: (i) the projected patient care costs of all patients' services which are written off as free care or bad debt net of free care payments made pursuant to section sixty-eight and net of any extra uncompensated care distribution, if any, made pursuant to section sixty-eight A, and net of any net Title XIX differential, if any, as calculated pursuant to said section sixty-eight A, or (ii) the sum of (a) one hundred and fourteen per cent multiplied by the projected patient care cost for a hospital service corporation and for purchasers and third party payors who reimburse acute care hospitals on the basis of charges, and (b) the payments the Title XVIII program made for free care to the acute hospital for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five trended to the current fiscal year by the most recently available update to the composite inflation index in the current hospital agreement;

(2) sum, across all acute hospitals, the amounts calculated in (1). Add to this sum one-half of the aggregate net Title XIX differential, if any, as calculated pursuant to said section sixty-eight A. Add to this sum the amount of one hundred thousand dollars;

(3) for each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, calculate the sum of (a) the private sector share of projected patient care costs and (b) a working capital allowance to be specified by the commission consistent with any discount provided a third party payor for prompt payment. Sum these amounts across all acute hospitals;

(4) divide the sum calculated in clause (2) by the sum calculated in clause (3). The result shall be the uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care for each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

The uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care for each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven shall be calculated as specified in (1) to (4), except that wherever fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six are referenced, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven shall be substituted respectively.

SECTION 3A. Section 51A of said chapter 6A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (d).

SECTION 4. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 52, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 52. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for each fiscal year thereafter the basis of payment shall be determined in the same manner as set forth in section fifty and the reduced basis of payment shall be determined in the same manner and shall be subject to the same productivity factors as are set forth in section fifty-one A; except that wherever fiscal years beginning in nineteen hundred and eighty-two, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and nineteen hundred and eighty-six are referenced in section fifty or fifty-one A, fiscal years beginning in nineteen hundred and eighty-three, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, respectively, shall be substituted.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 53, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:–

Section 53. Every acute hospital shall establish its charges to the general public in accordance with the provisions of this chapter for determining approved gross patient service revenues in each fiscal year. Charges shall be established and revised periodically in accordance with the compliance standards set forth in section sixty-three and in the following manner:

(a) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, approved gross patient service revenues for each fiscal year shall be earned without excess or shortfall.

(b) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues for each fiscal year shall be earned without excess or shortfall.

The commission shall require that charges for health care services rendered in each acute hospital shall be uniform for all patients receiving comparable services.

Section 53A. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for each fiscal year thereafter, charges shall be established and revised in the same manner as set forth in section fifty-three; except that wherever fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six are referenced in section fifty-three, fiscal years beginning July first nineteen hundred and eighty-three, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, respectively, shall be substituted.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 56, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 56. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and for each fiscal year thereafter, approved gross patient service revenues shall be equal to the basis of payment established under section fifty-one A, increased by the uniform statewide differential determined under section fifty-eight.

For each acute hospital with fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the amount of approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue shall be determined by first calculating the ratio of the per cent of actual gross inpatient service revenue attributable to non-medicare patients to the per cent of case mix adjusted discharges attributable to non-medicare patients. Said calculation shall utilize gross inpatient service revenues and case mix adjusted discharges for the final six months of the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and the first six months of the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four. This ratio will then be multiplied by approved gross inpatient service revenues calculated for the rate year and the resultant product shall be multiplied by the per cent of case mix adjusted discharges attributable to non-medicare patients in the rate year.

SECTION 7. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 57, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 57. (a) For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, approved gross patient service revenues shall be determined from the gross patient service revenues for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-three approved by the commission under the provisions of chapter four hundred and nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-six, multiplied by the sum of one plus the prospectively calculated percentage change in the basis of payment calculated under hospital agreement 29 less one and four-tenths per cent.

(b) For each acute hospital with fiscal years beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and for each fiscal year thereafter, approved gross patient service revenues shall be determined in the same manner and shall be subject to the same calculations as set forth in sections fifty-five and fifty-six; except that wherever fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-three and eighty-four are referenced in either of said sections fifty-five and fifty-six, fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-four and nineteen hundred and eighty-five, respectively, shall be substituted.

(c) In no event shall approved gross patient service revenues, as otherwise determined in accordance with the provisions of this section for any acute hospital, for the fiscal year beginning on either July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, be less than such hospital's basis of payment for such fiscal year as computed under hospital agreement 29 and the provisions of section fifty-two hereof.

(d) For each acute hospital with fiscal years beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, the calculation of approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue shall be determined in the same manner as set forth in section fifty-six; except that wherever fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six are referenced in section fifty-six, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, respectively, shall be substituted.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 59 the following section:–

Section 59A. Any health maintenance organization organized under chapter one hundred and seventy-six G may (i) negotiate directly with any hospital or hospitals with respect to such health maintenance organization's rate of payment for hospital services and (ii) enter into an agreement with such hospital or hospitals reflecting such rate of payment without the approval of the commission established under section thirty-two. The specification in this section of contracting rights of health maintenance organizations shall not be construed as affirming or denying such rights with respect to any other third party payor.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 63, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:–

Section 63. Every acute hospital shall file with the commission within ninety days after the beginning of each fiscal year and at least once during the fiscal year, as deemed appropriate by the commission, a summary of revenues, costs and such statistical information as the commission may require in order to document the following:

(a) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four the relationship of actual gross patient service revenues to approved gross patient service revenues for such fiscal year and for any prior fiscal year so that the commission may determine the extent to which excess revenue, the amount by which actual gross patient service revenues exceed approved gross patient service revenues, or deficit revenue, the amount by which approved gross patient service revenues exceed actual gross patient service revenues, was generated for such fiscal year or the prior fiscal year.

(b) For hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the relationship of actual non-medicare gross inpatient

service revenues to approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues so that the commission may determine the extent to which excess revenue, the amount by which actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues exceed approved non-medicare gross inpatient services revenues, or deficit revenue, the amount by which approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues exceed actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues, was generated for such fiscal years.

For each fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, approved gross patient service revenues shall be adjusted by the commission downward or upward, as the case may be, by the percentage amount by which actual gross patient service revenues in any prior fiscal year beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, exceeded, or was less than, approved gross patient service revenues for such prior fiscal year.

For the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues will be adjusted by the commission downward or upward, as the case may be, by the percentage amount by which actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues, in the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, exceeded, or were less than, approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues for such fiscal year.

The commission shall revise approved gross patient service revenues for fiscal years beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues for the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and approved charges within thirty days after it has approved an exception to the basis of payment under a hospital agreement.

The commission shall make such adjustments as necessary during the fiscal year, pursuant to regulations promulgated under the authority of this chapter to ensure that, for fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, approved gross patient service revenue shall be earned without excess or shortfall and for fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenues shall be realized without excess or shortfall.

If a subsequently enacted statute establishes a system of hospital revenue controls for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight and later, said system should reflect excess or deficit revenue for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. If no subsequently enacted statute establishes a system of hospital revenue controls for fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-eight and later which reflects excess or deficit revenue for the fiscal year beginning

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 574.

October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, then each acute hospital which has excess revenue for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six shall pay to the statewide uncompensated care pool in addition to its net liability to the pool as specified in paragraph (1) of section seventy-five, an amount equal to: (i) the product of the amount of excess revenue, multiplied by the proportion of non-medicare inpatient services rendered to purchasers and third party payors who pay on the basis of charges, plus (ii) the product of the amount of excess revenue, multiplied by the proportion of non-medicare inpatient services rendered to the members of a hospital service corporation, multiplied by one divided by one plus the differential determined pursuant to section fifty-eight, minus (iii) the amount of any settlement for the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six paid by the hospital to a hospital service corporation pursuant to the hospital agreement.

Section 63A. For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and for each fiscal year thereafter, excess or deficit revenue shall be determined in the manner set forth in section sixty-three; except that wherever fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six are referenced in section sixty-three, fiscal years beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, respectively, shall be substituted.

SECTION 10. Subsection B of section 68 of said chapter 6A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (d) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(d) medicaid payments shall be computed in the following manner:

(1) For acute hospitals with fiscal years beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, the medicaid basis of payment derived under paragraph (c) shall be apportioned to medicaid and all other payors pursuant to the apportionment methods specified in the hospital agreement using the charge data applicable to Title XIX beneficiaries. For the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, the resulting medicaid payments shall be adjusted by subtracting the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (e). For the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the medicaid basis of payment derived under paragraph (c) shall be apportioned to medicaid in the following manner: (i) approved gross inpatient service revenue shall be multiplied by the ratio of actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue divided by approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue; (ii) the resultant product shall be apportioned to all inpatient settlement areas specified in the current hospital agreement, based upon the percentage of actual gross inpatient service revenues attributable to the respective inpatient settlement areas. Actual outpatient charges shall continue to be apportioned to the outpatient settlement area specified in the current hospital agreement; (iii) medicaid's per cent liability within each settlement area will then be obtained by dividing medicaid actual charges by the charges apportioned in accordance with clause (ii); (iv) said percentages will then be multiplied by the medicaid basis of payment apportioned to the respective settlement area. The resulting sum of the individual products will then be further adjusted by subtracting the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (e). For the fiscal year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the medicaid basis of payment derived under paragraph (c) shall be apportioned to medicaid in the following manner: (i) approved gross inpatient service revenue shall be multiplied by the ratio of actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue divided by approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue unadjusted for any excess or deficit non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue earned in the preceding year; (ii) the resultant product shall be apportioned to all inpatient settlement areas specified in the current hospital agreement based upon the percentage of actual gross inpatient service revenues attributable to the respective inpatient settlement areas. Actual outpatient charges shall continue to be apportioned to the outpatient settlement area specified in the current hospital agreement; (iii) medicaid's per cent liability within each settlement area will then be obtained by dividing medicaid actual charges within each settlement area by the charges apportioned in accordance with clause (ii); (iv) said percentages will then be multiplied by the medicaid basis of payment apportioned to the respective settlement area. The resulting sum of the individual products will then be further adjusted by subtracting the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (e).

(2) For acute care hospitals with fiscal years beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-two, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three, July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the medicaid basis of payment derived under paragraph (c) shall be apportioned to medicaid and all other payors pursuant to the apportionment methods specified in the hospital agreement using the charge data applicable to Title XIX beneficiaries. For fiscal years beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the resulting medicaid payments shall be further adjusted by subtracting the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (e). For fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the medicaid basis of payment derived under paragraph (c) shall be apportioned to medicaid in the following manner: (i) approved gross inpatient service revenue shall be multiplied by the ratio of actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue divided by approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue; (ii) the resultant product shall be apportioned to all inpatient settlement areas specified in the current hospital agreement based upon the percentages of actual gross inpatient service revenues attributable to the respective inpatient settlement areas. Actual outpatient charges shall be apportioned to the outpatient settlement area specified in the current hospital agreement; (iii) medicaid's per cent liability within each settlement area will then be obtained by dividing medicaid actual charges within each settlement area by the charges apportioned in accordance with clause (ii); (iv) said percentages will then be multiplied by the medicaid basis of payment apportioned to the respective settlement area. The resulting sum of the individual products will then be further adjusted by subtracting the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (e). For the fiscal year beginning July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, the medicaid basis of payment derived under paragraph (c) shall be apportioned to medicaid in the following manner: (i) approved gross inpatient service revenue shall be multiplied by the ratio of actual non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue divided by approved non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue unadjusted for any excess or deficit non-medicare gross inpatient service revenue earned in the preceding year; (ii) the resultant product shall be apportioned to all inpatient settlement areas specified in the current hospital agreement, based upon the percentage of actual gross inpatient service revenues attributable to the respective inpatient settlement area. Actual outpatient charges shall continue to be apportioned to the outpatient settlement area specified in the current hospital agreement; (iii) medicaid's per cent liability within each settlement area will then be obtained by dividing medicaid actual charges within each settlement area by the charges apportioned in clause (ii); (iv) said percentages will then be multiplied by the medicaid basis of payment apportioned to the respective settlement area. The resulting sum of the individual products will then be further adjusted by subtracting the amount determined pursuant to paragraph (e).

SECTION 11. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by striking out section 68A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 68A. If the Title XIX payment methodology set forth in section sixty-eight is not approvable by the Health Care Finance Administration hereinafter referred to as HCFA, the commission is hereby authorized and directed to modify the Title XIX payment methodology set forth in section sixty-eight as may be required to secure HCFA approval. In making said modification, the commission shall seek a methodology which provides Title XIX payments to acute hospitals which are in aggregate comparable to those provided for by the methodology of said section sixty-eight.

If, in order to gain HCFA approval, modifications are required affecting only disproportionate share hospitals which for any disproportionate share hospital result in reimbursement which is not approximately equal to reimbursement provided by the methodology of said section sixty-eight for the fiscal year beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, then for each such disproportionate share hospital, the commission shall calculate the difference between (a) the expected Title XIX payments to that hospital under the methodology set forth in said section sixty-eight and (b) the Title XIX payments to that hospital as modified to obtain HCFA approval. This difference shall be called the Title XIX differential. The sum of the Title XIX differentials across all disproportionate share hospitals shall be called the aggregate Title XIX differential. The commission is authorized and directed to modify the Title XIX payment methodology so that Title XIX payments to acute hospitals other than disproportionate share hospitals are increased to the extent approvable by HCFA by an amount, equal in the aggregate, to the aggregate Title XIX differential. In the event that the commission modifies the payment methodology pursuant to this paragraph, the increased payments to such hospitals shall be called Title XIX increments, and shall be paid into the statewide uncompensated care pool in accordance with the provisions of section seventy-five. The sum of the Title XIX increments across all acute hospitals shall be called the aggregate Title XIX increment. The aggregate Title XIX increment shall be distributed to disproportionate share hospitals in accordance with the provisions of said section seventy-five. The amount distributed to each disproportionate share hospital shall be equal to its respective Title XIX differential multiplied by the aggregate Title XIX increment divided by the aggregate Title XIX differential. The amount so distributed shall be called the extra uncompensated care distribution.

In the event that there is an aggregate Title XIX differential; and in the event that the aggregate Title XIX increment is not approximately equal to the aggregate Title XIX differential, then for each disproportionate share hospital, the commission shall subtract the extra uncompensated care distribution from the Title XIX differential. This difference shall be called the net Title XIX differential. The sum of this difference across all disproportionate share hospitals shall be called the aggregate net Title XIX differential. The commission is hereby authorized and directed to provide that each disproportionate share hospital be paid one-half of its net Title XIX differential by the Medical Assistance Program.

SECTION 12. Said chapter 6A is hereby further amended by adding the following two sections:–

Section 75. In order to more equitably distribute the burden of financing uncompensated acute hospital services across all acute hospitals, there shall be a statewide uncompensated care pool. Each acute hospital's approved gross patient service revenue shall include a uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care, as specified pursuant to section fifty-one. It is the intention that all nongovernmental payors shall contribute to the cost of uncompensated care as funded through said pool, either through the payment of charges or the payment of negotiated rates.

Said pool shall be administered as follows:

(1) For each acute hospital with a fiscal year beginning on or after October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, multiply the corresponding fiscal year's uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care by the sum of the private sector share of projected patient care costs and the working capital allowance specified by the commission pursuant to section fifty-one. Add to this product the Title

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 574.

XIX increment, if any, as calculated pursuant to section sixty-eight A for the current year. Define this sum as the hospital's gross liability to the said pool. Subtract from this amount the lesser of (i) the projected patient care costs of all patients' services which are written off as free care or bad debt, net of free care payments made pursuant to section sixty-eight and net of any extra uncompensated care distribution, if any, made pursuant to said section sixty-eight A, and net of any net Title XIX differential, if any as calculated pursuant to said section sixty-eight A, or (ii) the sum of (a) one hundred and fourteen per cent multiplied by the projected patient care costs for a hospital service corporation and for purchasers and third party payors who reimburse acute hospitals on the basis of charges, and (b) the payments made by the Title XVIII program for free care to the acute hospital for the fiscal year, beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, for hospitals with fiscal years that begin on October first or July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, for hospitals with fiscal years that begin on July first, trended to the current fiscal year by the most recently available update to the composite inflation index in the current hospital agreement. Subtract from this result the extra distribution for uncompensated care calculated pursuant to section sixty-eight A, if any; and subtract from this result one-half of the net Title XIX differential, if any, as defined in said section sixty-eight A. The result, if positive, is the net hospital liability to said pool; the result, if negative, is the net liability of said pool to the hospital.

(2) Prior to the beginning of each hospital fiscal year, the commission shall, using the most appropriate and accurate data available, estimate the uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care. These estimates shall be updated, on a timely basis, as significant new information becomes available. The commission shall use these same data and estimates to calculate each acute hospital's net estimated liability to the pool, and the commission shall notify the hospital and said pool's administrative agent of the estimated net liability to said pool, or adjustment thereof, no later than thirty days in advance of the first periodic payment and fifteen days in advance of any subsequent adjustment to said periodic payment. The commission shall, no later than June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, re-estimate the uniform allowance for statewide uncompensated care and hospital specific interim payments to be effective for the fiscal year ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven or June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, so as to assure that there will be no year-end deficit in said pool. The commission shall, where it deems necessary, conduct audits of the fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six bad debt and free care data in arriving at this re-estimate.

(3) The commission shall establish an interim payment system to assure periodic payments of estimated liabilities to and from the pool. Acute hospitals that have an estimated annual net liability to the pool shall be required to pay monthly one-twelfth of their estimated net annual liability to said pool and acute hospitals to which said pool owes an estimated net liability shall receive monthly payments from said pool equal to one-twelfth of this estimated annual net liability, beginning with the third month of the first fiscal year in which the hospital participates in said pool, except that in the last month of the first fiscal year in which the hospital participates in said pool the net liability paid to or from said pool shall equal one-fourth of the hospital's estimated annual net liability to or from said pool for said fiscal year.

(4) The commission shall contract with a nonprofit hospital service corporation to act as its administrative agent for payments to and from said pool. Said agent shall maintain any cash balance in the pool in a separate interest-bearing account and any interest on this account shall accrue and be applied to the final settlement of said pool. Said agent shall disburse payments determined by the commission, subject to paragraph (5). Said agent shall provide the commission with the detail of monthly receipts to and payments from said pool at the end of each monthly period, including the name of any acute hospital which did not make its scheduled periodic payment to said pool. Upon proper notification by said agent and verification by the commission, the commission shall instruct said agent to offset payments on hospital claims from the agent in the amount of the payment owed to the pool, plus a surcharge of five per cent on that amount, and to transfer the withheld funds into said pool.

(5) At no time shall said agent make periodic pay-outs from said pool in excess of monies that have been paid into the pool for the same period. Each acute hospital having an estimated net liability to said pool shall make payment to said agent on the first day of each month, beginning December, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, for hospitals with fiscal years beginning October first, and beginning September, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, for hospital with fiscal years beginning July first, for its periodic net liability. On the fifteenth day of the same months, the agent shall make payment to each hospital that is to receive a periodic payment for an amount which shall equal said pool's periodic net liability to the hospital multiplied by the lesser of (i) one, or (ii) the ratio of said pool's total receipts to the pool's total expected receipts for that period; except that any late payments to said pool made in one period for prior periods shall be added on a pro rata basis to the next periodic payment to hospitals.

(6) Acting upon the instructions of the commission and as its administrative agent, the nonprofit hospital service corporation shall be immune from all liability, legal actions, damages or other penalty for administration of said pool, except for its own fraudulent or negligent acts. If said agent offsets claims payments as ordered by the commission, it shall be deemed not to be in breach of contract, and hospitals to which payment is offset under order of the commission must serve all subscribers and members of the nonprofit hospital service corporation in accordance with HA-30 or other hospital agreements then in effect. For the cost of administering said pool, the administrative agent shall collect from said pool its reasonable costs up to one hundred thousand dollars per hospital fiscal year that it serves as agent. Such payment is to be financed by an increment to the uniform statewide allowance for uncompensated care, as specified in section fifty-one.

(7) There shall be rendered, at the conclusion of each calendar year, starting with nineteen hundred and eighty-five, an audit opinion of said agent's administration of said pool. This audit opinion shall be made by the outside auditors employed by said agent to audit its other financial operations, and the audit results shall be reported to the commission for review.

Section 76. There is hereby established a program, subject to appropriation, to assist community health centers deliver services to uninsured individuals. For fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six, the commission shall develop a distribution formula based upon community health center cost reports for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five arrived at in consultation with the Massachusetts league of community health centers and other interested parties. The amount of assistance for services provided to uninsured individuals for fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, subject to appropriation, shall be the amount provided in uncompensated care by the community health centers for nineteen hundred and eighty-six according to a distribution formula to be developed by the commission, after consultation with the Massachusetts league of community health centers and other interested parties.

The commission shall establish criteria which include provision that community health centers make reasonable efforts to collect payment for community health center services prior to attributing those services to uncompensated care. In developing such criteria, the commission shall identify those populations which shall not require collection action; provided, however, that the commission, in carrying out its duties set forth in this section, shall not consider the following resources of such community health center: unrestricted grants, gifts, and donations, and restricted grants, gifts and donations which are not restricted to subsidy for uncompensated care.

Section 51D. No acute hospital shall impose any discriminatory restrictions or conditions relating to admission, availability of services, treatment, transfer or discharge with respect to any patient because that patient is a medicare beneficiary. Prohibited practices include, but are not limited to, any such discrimination based on the diagnostically related group classification of such a beneficiary or any other criteria, including cost of treatment, severity of illness, and average length of stay, which are not equally applied to all patients with comparable medical needs seeking or receiving the services of the hospital. For medicare patients, admission and discharge shall be consistent with Public Laws 97–248, 98–21 and 09–369 and any other applicable federal statutes and regulations.

The department shall establish an advocacy office for the receipt of complaints of alleged violations of the provisions of this section. Said advocacy office shall investigate such alleged violations and if the advocacy office finds cause for crediting the allegations of a complaint, it will seek to resolve such complaint through negotiation. Hospitals shall cooperate with the said advocacy office in the investigation and resolution of an alleged violation. Such cooperation shall include, but not be limited to, the provisions of nonconfidential information reasonably related to the alleged violation, and the provision of patient records with the consent of the patient.

If the advocacy office cannot promptly negotiate a resolution to a complaint, the department may forward the complaint and any information obtained to the attorney general. The attorney general may bring a civil action for injunctive or other equitable relief to enforce the provisions of this section.

If the advocacy office cannot negotiate a resolution to the complaint and has cause to believe there exists a practice or pattern of violations of this section at any hospital, the department may also forward the complaints to the regional office of the health care financing administration for appropriate action.

Any information supplied by a hospital to the department which is provided to the attorney general shall not, unless otherwise ordered by a court for good cause shown, be disclosed to any person other than the patient, the authorized agent of the patient or representative of the attorney general, unless with the consent of the hospital providing the same.

The department shall have the authority to promulgate such regulation as may be necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

The attorney general may bring a civil action for injunctive or other equitable relief to enforce the provisions of this section.

In any action brought by the attorney general under this section, the court may also award a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars for each violation unless the peer review organization of said health care financing administration has formally commenced sanction proceedings against an institution as provided in 42 CFR 474.30.

Hospitals shall provide written notice of the rights established by this section to every medicare eligible person seeking services in the facility. In addition, notice of such rights shall be conspicuously posted in the facility.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a hospital from implementing a decision relating to patient care which is in the best interest of a patient and in conformity with good medical and hospital practice.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as limiting any other rights or remedies provided by law to medicare patients. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the applicability of section sixty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-one. Nothing in this section shall give rise to or limit an otherwise available cause of action in negligence or medical malpractice.

The department shall conduct an evaluation as to whether the introduction of the medicare prospective payment system has affected the delivery of quality care to medicare beneficiaries including the appropriateness of admissions and discharges to acute care hospitals. Said department shall submit an interim report of its findings to the clerk of the house of representatives to the general court no later than March first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, and a final report not later than March first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, including any applicable recommendations for legislation arrived after consultation with the Massachusetts Hospital Association, the Massachusetts Medical Society, and others. Acute hospitals are hereby required to submit to the department relevant data reasonably necessary to conduct this evaluation. The department shall not seek information directly from hospitals when such information is available from other sources. The department shall protect the confidentiality of patient information provided by the hospitals. No data, findings, conclusions or reports developed by the department during or as a result of such evaluation from hospital/practitioner data shall be released without thirty days prior notice to such hospital. Comments by the hospital shall accompany the release of the data, findings, conclusions or reports.

SECTION 14. Section 10 of chapter 372 of the acts of 1982 is hereby amended by striking out the third sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Sections one, one A, one B, two, five, five A, six, and eight of this act shall not apply to services provided after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, for hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first or to services provided after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, for hospitals with fiscal years beginning July first.

SECTION 15. Section eight of chapter three hundred and forty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four is hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 347 is hereby further amended by striking out section 11 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 11. No other section of this act shall become operative prior to October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five unless any federal approval of the provisions of sections three, four, and five of this act required by the terms of the waiver of Title XIX principles of reimbursement dated September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-two is obtained and in effect; provided, however, that lack of federal approval of the provisions contained in the second sentence of subparagraph (3) of paragraph (c) of subsection B of section sixty-eight of chapter six A and the last sentence of paragraph (e) of subsection C of said section sixty-eight shall not prevent any other provisions of this act from becoming operative.

SECTION 17. Said chapter 347 is hereby further amended by adding the following section:–

Section 12. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any services provided after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven for hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, or to services provided after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight for hospitals with fiscal years beginning July first.

SECTION 18. Within thirty days after the effective date of this act, the parties to the existing hospital agreement shall develop an amendment to said agreement which has the purpose of bringing the agreement into conformance with this act. The Massachusetts Hospital Association may act as a negotiating agent pursuant to section five of chapter one hundred and seventy-six A of the General Laws. The executed hospital agreement amendment shall be submitted to the commission for approval pursuant to said section five.

Within thirty days of the approval of the rate setting commission, a nonprofit hospital service corporation shall offer the approved hospital agreement amendment developed pursuant to this section to the individual acute hospital for execution.

The hospital agreement in effect at the time of the passage of this act shall terminate as to those acute hospitals choosing not to execute the amendment developed pursuant to this section. The provisions of section sixty of chapter six A of the General Laws shall apply to such acute hospitals.

SECTION 19. There is hereby established a special commission on health care financing and delivery reform. Said commission shall consist of the secretary of the executive office of human services or his designee, the secretary of the executive office of consumer affairs and business regulation or his designee, the secretary of the executive office of elder affairs or his designee, and eight persons to be appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a consumer of health care, one of whom shall be a representative from each of the following organizations, to be selected from a list of recommendations provided by that organization: the state council of the AFL-CIO, Blue Cross of Massachusetts, Inc., the Life Insurance Association of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Association of Health Maintenance Organizations, the Massachusetts Business Roundtable, the Massachusetts Hospital Association and the Massachusetts Medical Society.

Said commission shall investigate health care financing options, for hospital, ambulatory, and post-hospital care, including the impact of increased competitiveness on the health care delivery system of the commonwealth and on access to affordable, high quality health care for every citizen of the commonwealth. In recognition of the increasingly competitive environment, said commission is charged with addressing: necessary changes in the method of provider payments; market entry requirements at both the provider and insurer level; the provision of insurance and the development of a competitive insurance market; funding, delivery, and utilization of health services for the uninsured and underinsured and recipients of benefits under chapter one hundred and seventeen funding a continuum of health care services, including preventive care, ambulatory care, acute hospital care, aftercare, and chronic care; funding graduate medical education; and the economic impact of potential dislocation in the health care industry.

Said commission shall also examine, but not be restricted to, the following issues: the extent to which hospital prices will be deregulated; the extent to which funding for services to the underinsured and uninsured should be removed from the charges of medical providers; the extent to which the uninsured are employees who lack health care coverage as a fringe benefit; the treatment of monopoly providers; the contracting rights of all purchasers of health care services; the role of insurance rate regulation; and the role of the Determination of Need program. Said commission shall also examine incentives to insurers to underwrite individuals that are clinically high risk, utilization review principles, the need for information in a competitive market, developing physician payment methodologies which are consistent with a competitive market, and insuring that a viable market is maintained for Medicare supplement subscribers and nongroup populations.

Said commission shall also be charged with recommending any special consideration that must be given to existing payor and provider responsibilities that may not be appropriately accommodated in a transition from a prospective rate-regulated financing system to a more competitive system. Said commission shall propose specific legislative solutions for any transition issues which are identified. This shall include a recommendation of a method for settling the liability of the pool to the hospitals on the basis of the actual costs of bad debt and free care incurred in the fiscal years covered by the statewide uncompensated care pool, established by section seventy-five of chapter six A of the General Laws. It is intended that all monies remaining in said pool after all payments to and from the pool have been made shall be transferred to the mechanism for funding uncompensated care that said commission might recommend. It is further intended that said funding mechanism should include provisions to make a final settlement of said pool which ensures that each acute hospital recovers no more and no less than its actual bad debt and free care costs for the fiscal years covered by said pool.

It is also intended that all companies authorized to sell accident and health insurance under chapter one hundred and seventy-five, of the General Laws, nonprofit hospital service corporations, corporations doing business in Massachusetts, other employers including governmental employers, and health care providers including health maintenance organizations, shall cooperate fully with any efforts by the study commission to investigate sources of broad-based financing for uncompensated care that do not rely upon the hospital charge structure. Said commission may establish a data bank into which the data gathered to carry out the requirements of this section may be deposited. Said commission is hereby authorized to contract for the services necessary for the establishment of such data bank.

There shall be an advisory group to said commission known as the health service access and quality advisory group. Said group shall include a representative selected by each organization represented on said commission, and shall also include thirteen others to be appointed by the secretary of human services, one of whom shall be a representative of the uninsured, one of whom shall be a representative of a public hospital, one of whom shall be a Medicaid recipient, one of whom shall be a Medicare recipient, one whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Nurses Association, one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts league of community health centers, one of whom shall be a representative of a health systems agency, one of whom shall be a representative of small business, one of whom shall be a health policy analyst with background in the problems of the uninsured and the underinsured, one of whom shall be a representative of a major teaching hospital, one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Federation of Nursing Homes, and one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Association of Community Health Agencies.

Said group shall investigate the needs of the uninsured and the underinsured in the commonwealth for health care services and issues of quality health care in a changing health care environment.

Said group shall make recommendations to said commission concerning adequate means to provide health care coverage for all citizens of the commonwealth and the financial and regulatory requirements necessary to ensure the effective delivery and efficient utilization of health services. Said group shall meet with said commission three times prior to said commission's reporting deadline and at any other time as it deems necessary by agreement between the chairpersons of said group and said commission.

Said group shall submit its findings and recommendations no later than April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six to said commission and to the clerk of the house of representatives who shall refer a copy of said findings and recommendations to the joint committee on health care and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

Said commission shall be subject to the open meeting law as provided for under the provisions of section two A of chapter four of the General Laws. Said commission shall issue a final report to the clerk of the house of representatives on or before June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 20. The commissioner of the division of insurance is hereby authorized and directed to render an opinion on the status of so-called "preferred provider organizations." Said commissioner shall present his results by December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, and the membership of the special commission on health care financing and delivery reform, established by section nineteen of this act.

SECTION 21. After the effective date of this act no waiver of the Medicare principles of reimbursement for acute hospital inpatient services for Title XVIII services pursuant to the Social Security Act shall be implemented in the commonwealth.

SECTION 22. The provisions of chapter three hundred and eighty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and chapter one hundred and eighty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four, shall not apply to any services provided after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven for hospitals with fiscal years beginning on October first, or to services provided after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight for hospitals with fiscal years beginning July first.

SECTION 23. Notwithstanding the provisions to the contrary of chapter six hundred and thirty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, the provisions of sections thirty-seven to forty-seven, inclusive, of chapter six A of the General Laws shall apply to acute hospitals as well as to non-acute hospitals.

SECTION 24. This act shall take effect as of October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five; provided, however, that sections two and twenty-three shall take effect as of October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven; and provided, further, that, with the exceptions of sections one, two, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, seventeen, twenty-two and twenty-three, the provisions of this act shall not apply to services provided after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven for community health centers and for hospitals with fiscal years beginning October first, or to services provided after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight for hospitals with fiscal years beginning July first.

Approved December 10, 1985.

Chapter 576. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DIVISION OF CAPITAL PLANNING AND OPERATIONS TO EXCHANGE CERTAIN LAND IN THE TOWNS OF HUBBARDSTON AND PRINCETON WITH THEODORE H. CURTIS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The division of capital planning and operations, acting for and on behalf of the commonwealth, in consultation with the metropolitan district commission, subject to the provisions of sections forty E to forty J, inclusive, of chapter seven of the General Laws, is hereby authorized to convey to Theodore H. Curtis, by deed approved as to form by the attorney general, all the right, title and interest of the commonwealth in and to certain parcels of land in the towns of Hubbardston and Princeton. Said parcels of land are bounded and described as follows:

Parcel #1.

Starting at a steel rod at a corner of walls on the easterly side of Old Colony Road, in the town of Hubbardston at land of grantee.

Thence by the northerly sideline of said Old Colony Road eleven hundred and fifty feet (1150') more or less to a steel rod set at a corner of walls at land of Richard C. Kelton.

Thence north fifty-two degrees and nine minutes east (N52°-09'E) one hundred eighty and no tenths feet (180.0') by a stone wall of land of said Kelton to a drill hole set in a boulder at a corner of walls at land now or formerly of James McNerny et ux.

Thence south thirty-eight degrees and thirty-seven minutes east (S38°-37') sixteen hundred and eighteen feet (1618'+) more or less by land of said McNerny to a stone bound at a wall corner.

Thence north fifty-one degrees and fifty minutes east (N51°-50'E) five hundred and thirteen and no tenths feet (513.0'), still by a stone wall and land of said McNerny to a wall corner at land of Gordon and Jacqueline Smith.

Thence south forty-five degrees and fifty minutes east (S45°-50'E) six hundred and forty feet (640') more or less following a stone wall and by land of said Smith to the beginning of a curve to the right in the wall.

ACTS, 1985. -- Chap. 576.

Thence following said curve to the right still by land of said Smith ninety-five feet (95') more or less to a point in the northerly sideline of Old Colony Road. Then westerly by the northerly sideline of Old Colony Road eleven hundred feet (1100') more or less to a point at land of grantee.

Thence north fifty-one degrees and forty-eight minutes east (51°-48') two hundred and fifty feet (250') more or less by land of grantee to a stone bound.

Thence north westerly three hundred feet (300') more or less by a stone wall and land of grantee to a wall corner. Thence northerly thirty-six feet (36') more or less following a stone wall and land of grantee to a wall corner. Thence westerly three hundred and sixty feet (360') more or less by a stone wall and land of grantee to the point of beginning. Chapter 577. AN ACT FURTHER CLARIFYING THE DUTIES OF SCHOOL COMMITTEES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The vote on the election, contract or promotion of a teacher, assistant principal, principal, department chairman, director, supervisor, assistant supervisor, assistant superintendent or deputy superintendent shall be by yeas and nays. No election, contract or promotion of a teacher, assistant principal, principal, department chairman, director, supervisor, assistant supervisor, assistant superintendent or deputy superintendent shall be made by a school committee unless such person shall have been nominated for such election, contract or promotion by the superintendent of schools. If there is a negative vote of the school committee on any name submitted by him, the superintendent shall submit a new recommendation, which recommendation may be the same as that previously submitted; provided, however, that after a third negative vote the new recommendation shall not be the same as that previously submitted; and provided, further, that after the fifth negative vote the new recommendation may be the same as that originally submitted.

No school committee shall require that an individual reside within the city, town or regional school district as a condition of promotion, assignment, transfer or continued employment as a school teacher, assistant principal, principal, director, supervisor, deputy superintendent or professional employee unless such requirement was imposed on the initial day of such individual's appointment; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any individual appointed, reappointed or promoted to the position of superintendent, associate superintendent or assistant superintendent.

Chapter 580. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE CONDUCT OF HORSE RACING.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide forthwith for the continuation of the racing industry in the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 494 of the acts of 1978 is hereby amended by striking out sections 11 and 12 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:—

Section 11. During the calendar years nineteen hundred and eighty-five through nineteen hundred and ninety, each running horse track licensee under section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall daily pay: (a) the total sum of the so-called breaks, as defined in section five of said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A, and a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the total amount wagered by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of running horses into the trust fund known as the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust; and (b) a sum equal to one-quarter of one per cent of the total amount wagered by patrons so wagering into a trust fund to be known as the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust. Said trustees shall deposit all monies in said trust funds in one or more banks, at interest, within the commonwealth.

Said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund to a running horse track licensee for use as all or part of a capital expenditure for alterations, additions, replacements, changes, improvements or major repairs to or upon the property owned or leased by such licensee and used by it for the conduct of racing; and said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund to such licensee for use in promotional marketing, to reduce the costs of admission, programs, parking and concessions, and to offer other entertainment and give-aways; provided, however, that no licensee shall receive an amount in excess of the amount attributable to said licensee in such trust funds.

Said trustees may prescribe terms and conditions for such grants, provided, however, that, prior to approving any expenditures from said trust funds, the trustees shall require the licensee to submit to them detailed business plans describing the specific promotions and capital improvements contemplated by the licensee and shall formally vote to permit such expenditures; and, provided further, that under no circumstances shall the trustees permit the expenditure of trust funds for purposes not directly related to the improvement of running horse racing or for the raising of handles and attendance. Such licensee shall comply with all applicable provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws unless such compliance is waived by the commission in writing for cause.

No such expenditure for such capital improvements or for such promotions shall be approved by the trustees if such improvements or promotions are to be accomplished pursuant to a contract with a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity owned wholly or in part by a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity which owns or operates or holds any interest in any racetrack in the commonwealth.

The trustees shall hire the services of such architectural and engineering consultants as they deem appropriate to advise them generally and to evaluate proposed capital improvement projects submitted to them for their approval.

Nothing herein contained shall preclude a running horse track from making capital improvements or undertaking promotional operations not funded in whole or in part from such funds; provided, however, that all sums approved by said trustees hereunder shall be expended in their entirety for capital improvements or for promotions; and provided, further, that any revision by said licensee in the making of capital improvements or in promotional plans as hereinbefore provided, shall require separate written approval by the trustees therefor. All financial statements required under section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws shall be accompanied by a statement signed under the pains and penalties of perjury by the chief financial officer of the licensee, setting forth the capital improvements made and the promotions completed with funds obtained under this section and further certifying that such expenditures are treated as capital expenditures and promotional expenditures in the accompanying financial statement.

The trustees shall require from a running horse racetrack such vouchers, cancelled checks or other documents as said trustees they deem necessary to verify that the expenditures from said funds were carried out in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Funds paid by licensees and deposited by the commission in the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and in the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund shall remain in said funds until expended under this section; provided, however, that any amount in said accounts as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety which has not been so expended or as to which no binding commitment has been made by said trustees shall thereupon be deposited in the General Fund.

Section 12. During the calendar years nineteen hundred and eighty-five through nineteen hundred and ninety, each harness horse track licensee under section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair shall daily pay: (a) the total sum of the so-called breaks, as defined in section five of said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A, and a sum equal to one per cent of the total amount wagered by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of a combination of more than one harness horse in a single pool, exotic wagering, so-called, into the trust fund known as the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust; and (b) a sum equal to one per cent of the total amount wagered by patrons so wagering on said exotic races into a trust fund to be known as the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust. Said trustees shall deposit all monies in said trust funds in one or more banks, at interest, within the commonwealth.

Said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund to a harness horse track licensee for use as all or part of a capital expenditure for alterations, additions, replacements, changes, improvements or major repairs to or upon the property owned or leased by such licensee and used by it for the conduct of racing; and said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund to such licensee for use in promotional marketing, to reduce the costs of admission, programs, parking and concessions, and to offer other entertainment and give-aways; provided, however, that no licensee shall receive an amount in excess of the amount attributable to said licensee in such trust funds.

Said trustees may prescribe terms and conditions for such grants; provided however, that prior to approving any expenditures from said trust funds, the trustees shall require the licensee to submit to them detailed business plans describing the specific promotions and capital improvements contemplated by the licensee and shall formally vote to permit such expenditures; and, provided further, that under no circumstances shall the trustees permit the expenditure of trust funds for purposes not directly related to the improvement of harness horse racing or for the raising of handles and attendance. Such licensee shall comply with all applicable provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws unless such compliance is waived by the commission in writing for cause.

No such expenditure for capital improvements or for promotions shall be approved by the trustees if such improvements or promotions are to be accomplished pursuant to a contract with a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity owned wholly or in part by a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity which owns or operates or holds any interest in any racetrack in the commonwealth.

Nothing herein contained shall preclude a harness horse track from making capital improvements or undertaking promotional operations not funded in whole or in part from such funds; provided, however, that all sums approved by said trustees hereunder shall be expended in their entirety for capital improvements or for promotions; and provided, further, that any revision by said licensee in the making of capital improvements or in promotional plans as hereinbefore provided, shall require separate written approval by the trustees therefor. All financial statements required under section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws shall be accompanied by a statement signed under the pains and penalties of perjury by the chief financial officer of the licensee, setting forth the capital improvements made and the promotions completed with funds obtained under this section and further certifying that such expenditures are treated as capital expenditures and promotional expenditures in the accompanying financial statement.

The trustees shall require from a harness racetrack such vouchers, cancelled checks or other documents as said trustees deem necessary to verify that the expenditures from said funds were carried out in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Funds paid by licensees and deposited by the commission in the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and in the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund shall remain in said funds until expended under this section; provided, however, that any amount in said accounts as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety which has not been so expended or as to which no binding commitment has been made by said trustees shall thereupon be deposited in the General Fund.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 580.

SECTION 2. Section 13 of said chapter 494, as amended by section 4 of chapter 558 of the acts of 1981, is hereby further amended by striking out the introductory paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Notwithstanding the provisions of clause (5) of the first paragraph of section two and of clauses (a) to (q), inclusive, of the third paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, during the calendar year nineteen hundred and seventy-eight through nineteen hundred and eighty-six, for clauses (c) and (f), and during the calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-five through nineteen hundred and ninety, for clauses (a), (b), (d), (e), (g) and (h), the licenses to conduct racing meetings shall only be issued under the following conditions:–.

SECTION 3. Said section 13 of said chapter 494 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (b) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(b) no license shall be issued for more than an aggregate of four hundred and forty racing days in any one year at all harness horse racing meetings combined, including harness horse racing meetings at state or county fairs; provided, however, that one hundred and thirty such days may be awarded only for racing in Hampden county during the period between the first day of January and the fourteenth day of April and between the twenty-second day of October and the twenty-first day of December; provided, further, that ten of the remaining three hundred and ten days may be awarded only in connection with a state or county fair; and provided, further, that the harness racing days awarded in Norfolk county, not to exceed three hundred days, shall be awarded over a period of not fewer than forty-five weeks in any calendar year.

SECTION 4. Said section 13 of said chapter 494 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (d) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(d) licenses shall permit racing meetings only between the hours of ten o'clock ante meridian and twelve o'clock midnight; provided, however, that in Suffolk county no dog racing meet shall be conducted prior to seven o'clock post meridian and no running horse racing meet shall be conducted after seven o'clock post meridian except as otherwise provided herein. The state racing commission shall grant authorized dates at such times that are consistent with the best interests of racing and the public; provided, however, that dates for racing meetings held in connection with a state or county fair may only be awarded during the period between the fifteenth day of June and the fifteenth day of October. Said commission may, in its discretion, on written application from a racing licensee made at least seven days prior to the date or dates of any proposed change of time stated in said racing license and without necessity for further public hearing, change the hours of conducting such race meeting between any of the aforesaid hours, notwithstanding the hours set forth on the license; provided, however, that if by reason of national emergency, night illumination is forbidden by public authority, then said commission may, in its discretion, issue a license to permit racing at such hours as said commission may determine between the hours of ten o'clock ante meridian and twelve o'clock midnight. For the purpose of imposing the fee provided for in section four of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, computing the sums payable to the racing commission pursuant to section fourteen of this chapter, and counting the number of days authorized by clause (a), (b) or (c) of this section, any racing held after seven o'clock post meridian on the same day on which racing is held at the same racetrack prior to seven o'clock post meridian shall be considered a separate day of racing.

SECTION 5. Said section 13 of said chapter 494 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (h) and inserting in place the following clause:–

(h) in granting authorized dates hereunder the state racing commission shall take into consideration, in addition to any other appropriate and pertinent factors, the following: the maximization of state revenues, the suitability of racing facilities for operation at the time of the year for which dates are assigned; the circumstance that large groups of spectators require safe and convenient facilities; the interest of members of the public in racing competition honestly managed and of good quality; the necessity of having and maintaining proper physical facilities for racing meetings and the necessity of according fair treatment to the economic interests and investments of those who in good faith have provided and maintain such facilities.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 494 is hereby further amended by striking out section 15 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 15. During calendar years nineteen hundred and eighty-six through nineteen hundred and ninety, the state racing commission shall include in its annual report filed with the general court pursuant to section forty-eight of chapter six of the General Laws, the following information with respect to the previous calendar year: statements of monies deposited in the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund, the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund, both established pursuant to section eleven of this act, the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund, both established pursuant to section twelve of this act, together with a detailed account of monies disbursed from said funds, and the specific capital improvements and promotions for which the disbursements were intended, and a report on which such improvements and promotions have been accomplished; a statement of racing dates awarded to licensees, including those awarded in connection with a state or county fair; and a statement of the total amounts wagered at each racetrack, together with the monies paid to the commonwealth and the commission, purses paid to horse and dog owners and monies retained by each licensee, together with a statement of the net profit of each licensee taken from the financial statements filed under section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws. Copies of said report shall be transmitted to the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house and the chairmen of the house and senate committees on ways and means, the joint committee on government regulations and the joint committee on taxation.

SECTION 7. Paragraph (g) of section 2 of chapter 128 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 47, the word "five" and inserting in place thereof the word:– twenty.

SECTION 8. Said paragraph (g) of said section 2 of said chapter 128, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:–

The department is further authorized to expend up to eight per cent of the amount appropriated each fiscal year to said program for advertising, marketing and promotion of thoroughbred breeding in Massachusetts.

SECTION 9. The third paragraph of section 5 of said chapter 128A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– No other place or method of betting, poolmaking, wagering or gambling shall be used or permitted by the licensee, nor shall this chapter be deemed to authorize or legalize the pari-mutuel or certificate system of wagering on any races except horse and dog races at the track where such pari-mutuel or certificate system of wagering is conducted; provided, however, that the licensees of running horse racing tracks, harness horse racing tracks, or dog racing tracks, other than running horse racing, harness horse racing, or dog racing conducted in connection with a state or county fair, may, to the full extent permitted under federal law, enter into a contract with a duly licensed racing association in another state to accept wagers on races of national or general interest which are legally held or conducted in that other state and shown by means of live television, such acceptance of wagers and televising of races to be conducted only at the licensee's track; provided, further, that no licensee shall accept wagers on, or televise more than one such race at the licensee's track in any one racing performance; and provided, further, that nothing in this section shall require such races to be of the same kind as are conducted by the Massachusetts licensee seeking said contract and that said contract shall be filed with the commission for its information and said contract shall be considered a public document and shall be open to inspection during normal business hours.

SECTION 10. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fourteen of chapter four hundred and ninety-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-eight during the calendar years nineteen hundred and eighty-five through nineteen hundred and ninety, inclusive, each licensee conducting a running horse or a harness horse racing meeting shall return to the winning patrons wagering on the speed or ability of any one harness horse or of any one or more running horses in a race or races all sums so deposited as an award or dividend, according to the acknowledged and recognized rules and method under which such pari-mutuel or certificate system has been operated, less the so-called breaks, as defined in section five of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, and less an amount not to exceed nineteen per cent of the total amount so deposited by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of any one harness horse or of any one or more running horses, and less the so-called breaks; and each licensee conducting a harness horse racing meeting shall return to the winning patrons wagering on the speed or ability of a combination of more than one harness horse in a single pool, exotic wagering, so-called, all sums so deposited as an award or dividend, according to the acknowledged and recognized rules and method under which such pari-mutuel or certificate system has been operated, less the so-called breaks and less an amount not to exceed twenty-three per cent of the total amount so deposited, and less the so-called breaks.

Each person licensed to conduct a running horse racing meeting, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall pay to the state racing commission on the day following each day of such horse racing meeting, a sum equal to three per cent of the total amount deposited on the preceding day by the patrons so wagering at such meeting, said percentage to be paid from the nineteen per cent withheld, as provided in this section, from the total amount wagered. A sum equal to one-half of one per cent of the total amount deposited by the patrons wagering on the speed or ability of running horses at pari-mutuel running horse tracks, less the so-called breaks, and taken from the three per cent paid daily to the commission under this paragraph, shall, subject to appropriation, be allocated to the Massachusetts Thoroughbred Breeding Program established under the provisions of section two of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight of the General Laws; provided, however, that a sum equal to twenty per cent of this allocation shall, subject to appropriation, be expended for equine research, scholarships and loans at the Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine.

Each licensee conducting a running horse racing meeting, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall allocate a sum equal to eight and one-half per cent of the total amount deposited daily by the patrons wagering at such meeting. Said percentage shall be used for the payment of purses to the horseowners in accordance with the rules and established customs of conducting running horse racing meetings provided, however, that not less than seven and one-half per cent of the sum so allocated shall be used for the payment of purses on stakes races; and said eight and one-half per cent shall be paid from the nineteen per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered. On and after the effective date of this act, the payment of all purses shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall affect contractual provisions, except provisions relating to the payment of purses on stakes races, in existence before the effective date of this act for payment of monies from purses to the association representing a majority of horseowners at the racetrack.

Each such licensee may retain as its commission on the total of all sums so deposited, a sum not exceeding the balance of the nineteen per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered after deducting therefrom the amount hereinbefore required to be paid to said commission, after deducting therefrom the amount required to be paid for purses at running horse racing meetings, and after deducting therefrom the amounts required to be paid into the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and into the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, once a licensee conducting a running horse racing meeting has reached the level of the total amount wagered during the previous year, such licensee shall retain daily as its commission a sum not exceeding the balance of the nineteen per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered in the current year after deducting therefrom three per cent to be paid to the commission and after deducting therefrom seven per cent to be paid as purses, and less the so-called breaks to be paid into the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund. For purposes of this paragraph, the total amount wagered at a running horse racing meeting during the previous year shall be the product of the average amount wagered at such licensee's track during the previous year multiplied by the number of available racing days for the current year.

Each person licensed to conduct a harness horse racing meeting, including a licensee holding a harness racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall pay to the commission on the day following each day of such horse racing meeting, a sum equal to three per cent of the total amount deposited on the preceding day by the patrons so wagering at such meeting, said percentage to be paid from the nineteen per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered, or from the twenty-three per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered on exotic races, excluding races conducted in connection with a state or county fair. A sum equal to one per cent of the total amount deposited by the patrons wagering on the speed or ability of harness horses at pari-mutuel harness horse racing meetings in the commonwealth, less the so-called breaks, and taken from the three per cent paid daily to the commission under this paragraph, shall, subject to appropriation, be allocated to the Massachusetts standardbred agricultural fair and breeding fund committee established under the provisions of section ten of chapter twenty of the General Laws.

Each licensee conducting a harness racing meeting, including a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall allocate a sum equal to eight per cent of the total amount deposited daily by the patrons wagering at such meeting, and a sum equal to ten per cent of the total amount deposited daily by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of a combination of more than one harness horse in a single pool, exotic wagering, so-called, said percentages to be used for the payment of purses to the horseowners in accordance with the rules and established customs of conducting harness racing meetings. Said eight per cent is to be paid from the nineteen per cent withheld, as provided in this section from the total amount wagered. Said ten per cent is to be paid from the twenty-three per cent withheld, as provided in this section, from the total amount wagered on exotic races. On and after the effective date of this act the payment of all purses is to be computed in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall affect contractual provisions for payment of monies from purses, except purses on exotic races, so-called, to the association representing a majority of horseowners at the racetrack.

Each such licensee may retain as its commission on the total of all sums so deposited, a sum not exceeding the balance of the nineteen or twenty-three per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered after deducting therefrom the amount hereinbefore required to be paid to the racing commission, after deducting therefrom the applicable amount required to be paid for purses at harness racing meetings, and after deducting therefrom, as applicable, the amounts required to be paid into the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and into the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, once a licensee conducting a harness horse racing meeting has reached the level of the total amount wagered during the previous year, such licensee shall retain daily as its commission a sum not exceeding the balance of the nineteen or twenty-three per cent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered in the current year after deducting therefrom the amount hereinbefore required to be paid to the racing commission and after deducting therefrom the applicable amounts required to be paid as purses, and less the so-called breaks to be paid into the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund. For purposes of this paragraph, the total amount wagered at a harness horse racing meeting during the previous year shall be the product of the average amount wagered at such licensee's track during the previous year multiplied by the number of available racing days for the current year.

SECTION 11. Notwithstanding the provisions of clauses (a) to (q), inclusive, of the third paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, any person licensed to conduct a harness horse racing meet, not including harness horse meetings held in connection with a state or county fair, may, within seven days of the effective date of this act, make application for additional racing dates for the remainder of nineteen hundred and eighty-five to the state racing commission. The commission shall award no more than the additional dates authorized by this act for calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-five to said licensee and issue a license therefor upon application so filed for such racing meet to be held or conducted in calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-five. Said commission's procedures for hearings upon all such applications shall be the same as the procedures on supplementary applications for racing meetings filed under said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A; provided, however, that nothing in this paragraph shall authorize the commission to change the hours or dates of any racing meet granted to any licensee prior to the effective date of this act.

For racing dates authorized for the calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-six, a harness track licensee who held or conducted racing meetings during calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-five may submit, resubmit, or amend its application for a license to hold or conduct racing meetings for calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-six within fifteen days after the effective date of this act, notwithstanding the provisions of said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A. The commission may award such racing meetings and issue a license therefor upon application so filed for all harness racing meetings to be held in calendar year nineteen hundred and eighty-six; provided, however, that said commission's procedures shall be the same as for original applications for racing meetings filed under the provisions of said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A.

SECTION 12. There is hereby established a special commission, to consist of four members of the senate, seven members of the house of representatives and ten persons to be appointed by the governor, for the purpose of making an investigation and study of current issues and problems in the greyhound racing industry within the commonwealth.

Said commission shall, in the course of its investigation and study, consider the general impact of the greyhound racing industry on the Massachusetts economy, the new competitive conditions resulting from the reopening of Rockingham Park in the state of New Hampshire, trends in the total amounts wagered at greyhound racetracks operating within the commonwealth and the greyhound pari-mutuel tax structure.

Said commission shall report to the house of representatives the results of its investigation and study, and its recommendations, if any, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, by filing the same with the clerk of the house of representatives on or before April thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 16, 1985.

GENERIC DRUGS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12D of chapter 112 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the second to sixth paragraphs, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following five paragraphs:—

Every prescription written in the commonwealth by a practitioner shall be on prescription forms approved by the department containing a signature line for the practitioner's signature. Only by placing his signature on the signature line shall the practitioner validate the prescription.

The prescription form shall contain a space below the signature line in which the practitioner may instruct the pharmacist to dispense a brand name drug product by writing in the practitioner's own handwriting the words "no substitution". Below this space, at the bottom of the prescription form, shall be printed the words: "Interchange is mandated unless the practitioner writes the words no substitution in this space". Where the practitioner has written "no substitution" the pharmacist shall dispense the exact drug product as written by the practitioner. No other form or procedure, including initialing, checking or initialing a box, or pre-printing or stamping a prescription form shall be deemed by the pharmacist to be the equivalent of the practitioner's hand written statement "no substitution".

Except in cases where the practitioner has indicated "no substitution", the pharmacist shall dispense a less expensive, reasonably available, interchangeable drug product as allowed by the most current formulary or supplement thereof. The pharmacist shall also indicate on the label in the following manner the fact of the interchange:

"Interchange (name of exact drug product dispensed)"

In cases where the practitioner has instructed that the pharmacist dispense a brand name drug product, the pharmacist shall dispense the exact drug product as written by such practitioner.

In the event of noncompliance by a pharmacist or a practitioner, the drug purchaser or patient may inform the secretary of the executive office of consumer affairs of such noncompliance. Said secretary shall refer the matter to the board of registration in pharmacy and, where appropriate, to the board of registration in medicine, for appropriate action.

Chapter 587. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE USE OF LIE DETECTORS, SO-CALLED.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 149 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 19B, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 19B. (1) As used in this section the term "lie detector test" shall mean any test utilizing a polygraph or any other device, mechanism, instrument or written examination, which is operated, or the results of which are used or interpreted by an examiner for the purpose of purporting to assist in or enable the detection of deception, the verification of truthfulness, or the rendering of a diagnostic opinion regarding the honesty of an individual.

(2) It shall be unlawful for any employer or his agent, with respect to any of his employees, or any person applying to him for employment, including any person applying for employment as a police officer, to subject such person to, or request such person to take a lie detector test within or without the commonwealth, or to discharge, not hire, demote or otherwise discriminate against such person for the assertion of rights arising hereunder. This section shall not apply to lie detector tests administered by law enforcement agencies as may be otherwise permitted in criminal investigations.

(a) The fact that such lie detector test was to be, or was, administered outside the commonwealth for employment within the commonwealth shall not be a valid defense to an action brought under the provisions of subsection (3) or (4).

(b) All applications for employment within the commonwealth shall contain the following notice which shall be in clearly legible print:

"It is unlawful in Massachusetts to require or administer a lie detector test as a condition of employment or continued employment. An employer who violates this law shall be subject to criminal penalties and civil liability."

(3) Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars nor less than three hundred dollars. Second and subsequent violations of any provision of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not more than fifteen hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment.

In the case of a corporation, the responsible individual shall be the president, chief operating officer or any managerial or supervisory person who allows or condones such violation.

No waiver of the provisions of this section by an employee or prospective employee shall be a defense to either criminal prosecution or civil liability.

(4) Any person aggrieved by a violation of subsection (2) may institute within three years of such violation and prosecute in his own name and on his own behalf, or for himself and for other similarly situated, a civil action for injunctive relief and any damages thereby incurred, including treble damages for any loss of wages or other benefits. The total awarded damages shall equal or exceed a minimum of five hundred dollars for each such violation. A person so aggrieved and who prevails in such action shall be entitled to an award of the costs of the litigation and reasonable attorney fees.

SECTION 2. Paragraph (b) of subsection two of section nineteen B of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws, as appearing in section one of this act, shall take effect on September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 16, 1985.

Chapter 588. AN ACT AUTHORIZING HAMPDEN COUNTY TO BORROW FUNDS AND PROVIDE A GUARANTY FOR FUNDS TO FUND THE JAIL INDUSTRY PROGRAM FOR HAMPDEN COUNTY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The county commissioners of Hampden county, with the approval of the Hampden county advisory board, are hereby authorized to borrow, guaranty, bond, accept donation of funds and provide for funds from a commercial lender in accordance with procedures and terms as approved by the commissioner of corrections. The county commissioners of Hampden county, with the approval of the Hampden county advisory board, are further authorized to enter into rental agreements, sales contracts and any and all other documents necessary to establish, maintain and operate the Hampden county jail industry program.

SECTION 2. All money received by the treasurer of Hampden county from or on account of the jail industry program shall be deposited in a fund established by and under the direction and control of the sheriff of Hampden county. All bills for expenses of the jail industry program shall be approved by the county commissioners of Hampden county and the Hampden county advisory board and paid by the treasurer of Hampden county. Said funds shall be administered by the Hampden county treasurer in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated by the department of corrections and bureau of accounts, and shall be separate and distinct from any other accounts under the control of the Hampden county treasurer.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the Hampden county commissioners, with the approval of the Hampden county advisory board, are authorized, for purposes of operating a jail industry program, to borrow on notes or bonds on the credit of the county, including notes to private commercial lenders, and to grant security interests in assets used in connection with or received as a result of the jail industry program. Such notes and bonds are to be signed by the county treasurer and co-signed by a majority of the county commissioners who are also authorized to execute loan agreements, security agreements, rental agreements, sales contracts and any other instruments or documents which, in the discretion of a majority of the county commissioners, are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

IN SAID DWELLING.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 231 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 85S, inserted by section 18 of chapter 223 of the acts of 1985, the following section:—

Section 85T. No person who is a lawful occupant of a dwelling shall be liable in an action for damages for death or injuries to an unlawful occupant of said dwelling resulting from the acts of said lawful occupant; provided, however, that said lawful occupant was in the dwelling at the time of the occurrence and that he acted in the reasonable belief that the person unlawfully in said lawful dwelling was about to inflict great bodily injury or death upon said occupant or upon another person lawfully in said dwelling, and that said lawful occupant used reasonable means to defend himself or such other person lawfully in said dwelling. There shall not be a duty on said occupant to retreat from such person unlawfully in said dwelling.

Approved December 17, 1985.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 590.

Chapter 590. AN ACT LIMITING ACID RAIN AND ACID DEPOSITION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of preventing, mitigating, or alleviating damage to the resources of the commonwealth or to the property or health of its citizens resulting from the deposition of precipitation, particles, or particulates containing sulfur or sulfur compounds, the department of environmental quality engineering, hereinafter referred to as the Department, shall by regulation adopt and implement a limitation on the total statewide actual annual sulfur dioxide emissions in accordance with the provisions of this act.

SECTION 2. Prior to March first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and after notice and a public hearing, said department shall make a determination of the total statewide actual annual sulfur dioxide emissions, from all sources in Massachusetts, for the years nineteen hundred and seventy-nine to nineteen hundred and eighty-two, inclusive. Said department shall make this determination using such reasonably accurate and mathematically and scientifically appropriate methods as said department may find necessary.

SECTION 3. The department shall annually prepare an emissions report and shall make said report available to the public by July first or, in the year during which this act takes effect, as soon as practicable thereafter. Such report shall set forth the department's determination of the total statewide actual annual sulfur dioxide emissions of each of four calendar years, which shall be selected in accordance with the requirements of this section. The years selected shall be those in the 4-year period commencing January first of the year five years prior to the year in which the report is being prepared and ending December thirty-first of the year two years prior to the year in which said report is being prepared. The department's determination of emissions in these four years shall be arrived at using a reasonably accurate and mathematically and scientifically appropriate method not inconsistent with the method used to make the determination required by section two. The report shall also set forth the average of the levels of sulfur dioxide emissions for the four-year period described in this section.

SECTION 4. Prior to August first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, said department shall adopt regulations prohibiting any four-year average set forth pursuant to section three from exceeding the average of total statewide actual annual sulfur dioxide emissions in the years nineteen hundred and seventy-nine to nineteen hundred and eighty-two, inclusive, as determined pursuant to section two. The regulations shall set forth a trigger level of sulfur dioxide emissions ten thousand tons lower than the average of total statewide actual annual sulfur dioxide emissions in the years nineteen hundred and seventy-nine to nineteen hundred and eighty-two, inclusive. The regulations shall require that if said trigger level is exceeded by the amount of annual emissions in the most recent year for which data have been reported pursuant to section three, then said department shall, after notice and a public hearing, prepare a reasonable forecast of what total statewide actual annual sulfur dioxide emissions will be five years from that time. Such forecast shall set forth an analysis of the reasons why the trigger was exceeded and whether the factors producing such excesses are of a temporary or long-term nature. Said department shall make a determination of whether the forecast demonstrates a reasonable likelihood that the four year average of emissions will exceed, within five years, the average of emissions for the years nineteen hundred and seventy-nine to nineteen hundred and eighty-two, inclusive. If said department determines that the forecast does demonstrate such a likelihood, said department shall adopt such further regulations as may be necessary to maintain or reduce the four year average of sulfur dioxide emissions, as calculated pursuant to section three, below the average of sulfur dioxide emissions for the years nineteen hundred and seventy-nine to nineteen hundred and eighty-two, inclusive.

SECTION 5. In the event that any four-year average of emissions, as set forth in section 3, exceeds the limitation set forth pursuant to section four, said department shall implement measures to achieve promptly, and to maintain, compliance with the limitation.

SECTION 6. On or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, said department shall determine whether any federal statute or program exists that requires national sulfur dioxide emissions to be reduced, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five, to a level that is ten million tons per year lower than the national sulfur dioxide emissions in nineteen hundred and eighty or a national plan that will protect the public health, welfare, and environment of Massachusetts. If said department determines that no such federal statute or program exists, the department shall draft regulations to reduce the average emission rate of all facilities in the state that burn fossil fuel and that have the capacity to burn fuel at a rate greater than or equal to one hundred million British thermal units of fuel input per hour. Such regulations shall require that the average emission rate of all such facilities in the commonwealth shall, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five, be less than or equal to one and two tenths pounds of sulfur dioxide released per million British thermal units of fuel input. Such regulations shall be promulgated prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. Said department shall commence and continue implementation and enforcement of such regulations beginning on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, unless a federal statute or program shall have been adopted by such time, which requires national sulfur dioxide emissions to be reduced, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five to a level that is ten million tons per year lower than the national sulfur dioxide emissions in nineteen hundred and eighty or a national plan that will protect the public health, welfare, and environment of Massachusetts.

SECTION 7. Said department may negotiate with representatives of other states and Canadian provinces with the aim of developing a regional program to reduce acidic deposition. If, prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, the commonwealth shall have become a participant in regional program to reduce acidic deposition, the provisions of section six of this act shall be unenforceable. To be deemed a participant in a regional program, said department shall have reasonably determined that:

(i) the commonwealths' responsibilities in such program have been enacted or adopted as legally enforceable regulations, legislation, state implementation plan provisions, treaty provisions, or compact provisions; and (ii) every other state or province participating in the program has enacted, adopted, or agreed to its responsibilities in a manner making those responsibilities legally enforceable; and (iii) the clear and convincing weight of the available evidence shows that, by the year nineteen hundred and ninety-five, the implementation of the commonwealths' responsibilities under the regional program shall result in a cumulative reduction in acidic deposition in the commonwealth equal to or greater than the cumulative reduction in acidic deposition in the commonwealth that would be accomplished, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five, by implementation of the regulations set forth in section six; and (iv) if the regional program requires sources in the commonwealth to reduce their sulfur dioxide emissions, such reductions are required to commence by January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine and are required to continue in each subsequent year until all necessary reductions have been accomplished.

Prior to February fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, said department shall determine whether the results of such regional program reasonably justify a conclusion that, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five, the implementation of the commonwealths' responsibilities under the regional program shall result in a cumulative reduction in acidic deposition in Massachusetts equal to or greater than the cumulative reduction in acidic deposition in the commonwealth that would be accomplished, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five, by implementation of regulations specified in section 6. Unless said department reasonably determines that such a conclusion is justified, said department shall, promptly after February fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, adopt and implement regulations calculated to reduce the average emission rate of all facilities in the state that burn fossil fuel and that have the capacity to burn fuel at a rate greater than or equal to one hundred million British thermal units of fuel input per hour. The regulations shall require that the average emission rate of all such facilities in the state shall, by nineteen hundred and ninety-five, be less than or equal to one and two tenths pounds of sulfur dioxide released per million British thermal units of fuel input.

SECTION 8. As part of any regulations adopted pursuant to section four, six, or seven, said department shall promulgate regulations: (a) permitting the owner or operator of more than one sulfur dioxide emitting facility in Massachusetts to average the rate of sulfur dioxide emissions and/or the total annual sulfur dioxide emissions from such facilities in order to meet applicable emission requirements; (b) providing for the trading, selling or retaining for future use of actual emission reductions of sulfur dioxide beyond the requirements of any applicable law or regulation; and (c), which allow emission reduction techniques to reduce the demand for fossil fuel generated energy such as but not limited to conservation or hydro generation to receive full credit in the calculation of the statewide average emission rate. Said department may establish such reasonable conditions or restrictions as it deems necessary to meet the purpose of this act. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to reduce or revoke any responsibility of any person regulated hereunder to comply with all other applicable laws and regulations.

SECTION 9. It is the intent of the general court that all actual reductions in sulfur dioxide emissions made by the commonwealth facilities pursuant to sections six and seven shall be credited toward the commonwealth's share of sulfur dioxide emission reductions required by any national acid deposition control legislation enacted by the United States Congress or program implemented by the United States Environmental Protection Agency after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 10. Said department shall submit all regulations promulgated under the provisions of this act to the clerk of the house of representatives who shall forward such rules and regulations to the house and senate committees on ways and means and the committee on natural resources and agriculture for their review and comment ninety days prior to the effective date of said regulations. Said committees shall submit written comments and suggested changes, if any, to said department at least sixty days prior to said effective date. Said department shall consider the comments and suggested changes and submit revised regulations, or a detailed explanation of why the suggested changes will not be adopted, to the house and senate committees on ways and means at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the regulations.

Approved December 17, 1985.

Chapter 591. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF CAPITAL PLANNING AND OPERATIONS TO ACQUIRE CERTAIN PARCELS OF PUBLIC LAND IN THE TOWN OF BILLERICA AND TO TRANSFER SAID PARCELS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS FOR HIGHWAY PURPOSES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations, acting for and on behalf of the commonwealth, is hereby authorized to acquire by eminent domain, under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine of the

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 592.

General Laws, or by purchase or otherwise certain parcels of public land, hereinafter described, in the town of Billerica, being used by said town for public recreational and playground purposes, and to transfer said parcels of land to the department of public works for highway purposes.

Parcels A & B. A certain parcel of land situated on High Street, in the town of Billerica, being bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the southwest corner of said parcel, said point being on the existing county location line; thence leaving said existing county location line north 81°-26'-03" east 45.85 feet; thence north 30°-00'-00" east 33.36 feet and 206.46 feet, totalling 239.82 feet; thence south 86°-00'-21" west 3.54 feet to a point on the aforesaid existing county location line; thence along said existing county location line south 29°-07'-07" west 101.19 feet and south 10°-51'-28" west 115.19 feet and 42.56 feet, totalling 167.75 feet to said point of beginning, said parcel containing in all about 9,600 square feet of land, more or less.

Parcel C. A certain parcel of land situated on High Street, in the town of Billerica, being bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the northwest corner of said parcel, said point being on the northerly property line of the town of Billerica; thence leaving said property line in a southerly direction a distance of about 24 feet; thence southeasterly for a distance of about 65 feet; thence northerly for a distance of about 20 feet; thence northwesterly for a distance of about 53 feet; thence northerly for a distance of about 10 feet to a point on the aforesaid northerly property line of the town of Billerica; thence following said property line in a westerly direction for a distance of about 20 feet to said point of beginning, said parcel containing about 1,520 square feet of land.

Said parcels A, B, and C are shown on a plan entitled "Plan of Land in Billerica, Massachusetts for Legislative Purposes Scale: 1" = 40", date: March 15, 1985", which plan shall be kept on file in the office of the chief engineer of the department of public works.

Chapter 592. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A MASSACHUSETTS WATER MANAGEMENT ACT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 21F the following new chapter:—

CHAPTER 21G.

MASSACHUSETTS WATER MANAGEMENT ACT.

Section 1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Massachusetts Water Management Act".

Section 2. As used in this chapter, the following words shall, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, have the following meanings:—

"Annual statement of withdrawal", an annual statement of the volume of water a person is withdrawing pursuant to a registration statement or permit, filed with the department in accordance with section five or eleven and the regulations adopted thereunder.

"Commission", the water resources commission of the executive office of environmental affairs.

"Department", the department of environmental quality engineering.

"Existing withdrawal", except as provided in section five, the average volume of water withdrawn from a particular water source during the five years prior to January, nineteen hundred and eighty-six; provided, however, that if, during such period of five years, withdrawals from the water source have been interrupted due to contamination of the water source, the periods of such interruptions shall be excluded pro rata from the computation of existing withdrawal; and, provided further, that no person shall be deemed to have an existing withdrawal unless such person files a registration statement and an annual statement of withdrawal with the department, in accordance with the provisions of section five and section six and the regulations adopted thereunder.

"New withdrawal", any withdrawal of water which is not an existing withdrawal.

"Nonconsumptive use", any use of water which results in its being discharged back into the same river basin, as defined by the water resources commission, in substantially unimpaired quality and which conforms to the definition adopted by regulation pursuant to section four.

"Permit", a permit issued by the department under section seven and authorizing the withdrawal of water in excess of the threshold volume.

"Person", any agency or political subdivision of the federal government or the commonwealth, any state, public or private corporation or authority, individual, trust, firm, joint stock company, partnership, association, or other entity, and any officer, employee or agent of said person, and any group of said persons.

"Public water system", a system for the provision to the public of piped water for human consumption, if such system has at least fifteen service connections or regularly serves an average of at least twenty-five individuals daily at least sixty days of the year. Such term shall include any collection, treatment, storage, and distribution facilities under control of the operator of such a system and used primarily in connection with such system, and any collection or pretreatment storage facilities not under such control which are used primarily in connection with such system.

"Registration statement", a statement of an existing withdrawal, filed with the department in accordance with section five and the regulations adopted thereunder.

"Safe yield", the maximum dependable withdrawals that can be made continuously from a water source including ground or surface water during a period of years in which the probable driest period or period of greatest water deficiency is likely to occur; provided, however, that such dependability is relative and is a function of storage and drought probability.

"Threshold volume", the volume of water specified in section four or the regulations adopted thereunder.

"Water", all water beneath or on the surface of the ground whether wholly or partly within the commonwealth.

"Water resources management plan", a local plan to meet water needs within a city or town, submitted by the chief elected official or designee to the commission pursuant to the regulations of the commission.

"Water resources management official", the local official, designated by the chief elected official within a city or town, responsible for submitting and administering the water resources management plan in that city or town.

"Water source", any natural or artificial aquifer or body of surface water, including its watershed where ground and surface water sources are interconnected in a single hydrological system.

"Withdrawal" or "withdrawal of water", the removal or taking of water from a water source; provided, however, that all removals or takings of water from a particular water source which are made or controlled by a single person shall be deemed to be a single withdrawal of water.

Section 3. The department and commission shall cooperate in the planning, establishment and management of programs to assess the uses of water in the commonwealth and to plan for future water needs.

The commission shall adopt principles, policies and guidelines necessary for the effective planning and management of water use and conservation in the commonwealth and for the administration of this chapter as necessary and proper to ensure an adequate volume and quality of water for all citizens of the commonwealth, both present and future. Such principles, policies and guidelines shall be designed to protect the natural environment of the water in the commonwealth; to assure comprehensive and systematic planning and management of water withdrawals and use in the commonwealth, recognizing that water is both finite and renewable; and to allow continued and sustainable economic growth throughout the commonwealth and increase the social and economic well being and safety of the commonwealth's citizens and of its work force.

There is hereby established within the department a water resources management advisory committee to provide advice and consultation to the department concerning matters covered by this chapter. The committee shall review the development of standards, rules and regulations for water resources management and shall supply recommendations concerning methods by which existing water management practices and the laws regulating them may be supplemented and improved and their administration financed.

The committee shall consist of at least eleven members appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be representative of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, one of whom shall be a representative of the Massachusetts Municipal Association, one of whom shall be a representative of a watershed association, one of whom shall be a representative of the water works industry, one of whom shall be a representative of an agricultural association, one of whom shall be a representative of a consumer organization, one of whom shall be a representative of an environmental organization, one of whom shall be a representative of a water well driller association, one of whom shall be a representative from a regional planning agency, and two of whom shall be representatives of the public knowledgeable in environmental and water management affairs. The members of the committee shall have no financial interest in any recommendation or studies of the committee.

Said members shall serve without compensation and shall be eligible for reappointment. In making initial appointments to said committee, the governor shall appoint two members for terms of one year, three members for terms of two years, three members for terms of three years, and three members for terms of four years. Upon the expiration of the term of any such member, his successor shall be appointed for a term of four years. Persons appointed to fill vacancies shall serve for the unexpired term of said vacancy.

Pursuant to chapter thirty A, the department, after consultation with the advisory committee and with the approval of the commission, shall adopt such regulations as it deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter, establishing a mechanism for managing ground and surface water in the commonwealth as a single hydrological system and ensuring, where necessary, a balance among competing water withdrawals and uses. Within one year of the effective date of this chapter, the department shall adopt, and thereafter from time to time may amend, regulations establishing procedures and forms for filing notifications and registration statements; reasonable registration fees; a mechanism to control water in the commonwealth during water supply and water quality emergencies, and a program for the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter and the regulations adopted thereunder. Within two years of the effective date of this chapter, the department shall adopt, and thereafter from time to time may amend, regulations establishing criteria, standards and procedures for issuing permits, requirements for the content and form of permit applications, reasonable permit application fees, and requirements for monitoring, inspection and reporting of water withdrawals and usage by permitted water users'. The decision to approve or deny a permit shall take place after compliance, where applicable, with section sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive of chapter thirty, and sections eight B to eight D, inclusive of chapter twenty-one. All regulations adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter shall conform to, and implement, the principles, policies and guidelines established by the commission under this section.

Section 4. The withdrawal volume threshold to be applied pursuant to sections five and seven shall be one hundred thousand gallons per day. The department may, by regulation, raise or lower the threshold volume established in this section upon a finding that such different threshold is necessary and adequate to protect the public health, safety and welfare. The department shall not require any approval, other than that provided for in section thirty-nine C of chapter forty, for withdrawals less than such threshold volume.

The department may, by regulation, establish, for any particular water source, a lower threshold volume than that generally applicable in the commonwealth upon findings that such water source is in need of special protection because of the nature or volume of demands made upon it, and that the reduced threshold is therefore necessary and adequate to protect the public health, safety and welfare.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 592.

The department shall, no later than January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, and no less than every five years thereafter, initiate rulemaking procedures in accordance with chapter thirty A, to review and reassess the necessity and adequacy of the volume threshold in effect.

For the purposes of determining whether a withdrawal is in excess of the threshold volume, any withdrawal of water for a nonconsumptive use, as defined by regulation adopted by the department, shall not be counted in the volume of water withdrawn; provided, however, that any person withdrawing or proposing to withdraw water for a nonconsumptive use shall file, in accordance with regulations adopted by the department, a notification stating the amount being or to be withdrawn and demonstrating that the use is or will be nonconsumptive.

Section 5. Each person making an existing withdrawal in excess of the threshold volume shall file a registration statement in accordance with the regulations adopted by the department, on or before January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight; provided, however, that, if the department lowers the threshold volume pursuant to section four, it shall, by regulation, provide a procedure and deadline for persons making existing withdrawals, in excess of the new threshold volume, from water sources to which the new threshold volume is applicable, to file registration statements. Each registrant shall file an annual statement of withdrawal in accordance with regulations adopted by the department. No person shall continue an existing withdrawal in excess of the threshold volume after the applicable deadline for filing registration statements unless such person has complied with the requirements of this section and the regulations adopted hereunder. The department may assist any person making withdrawals in the collection of data and the filing of said registration statement.

The department shall, by regulation, specify a schedule of expiration dates applicable to each water source from which there are existing withdrawals for which registration statements can be filed. All initial registration statements filed for existing withdrawals from the water source shall authorize such withdrawals until the next applicable expiration date thus specified; provided, however, that no registration statement shall authorize the continuation of existing withdrawals for a term greater than ten years.

The department shall, by regulation, establish a procedure for recognizing, as an existing withdrawal, a volume of water in excess of the average volume of water withdrawn from a particular water source during the period from January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one to January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six if such volume of water is within the normal variation of withdrawals made by the registrant; provided that the department shall not use such procedures to recognize, as existing withdrawals, such volumes of water which together exceed the safe yield of the water source from which the withdrawals are being made. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit any person making an existing withdrawal from obtaining a permit pursuant to section eleven.

Upon the expiration of any initial or renewal registration statement under this section, the registrant shall be entitled, upon the filing of a renewal registration statement, to continue existing withdrawals specified in the registration statement for a period of ten years.

Section 6. The regulations issued by the department shall specify the form and required contents of a registration statement and the terms under which an existing withdrawal may be continued by a person other than the original registrant. At a minimum, such regulations shall specify that the registration statement must contain the following:

- (1) The use for which the water is being withdrawn;
- (2) An identification of the water source from which the withdrawal is being made, in sufficient detail to describe the water source adequately;
- (3) The location of the withdrawal;
- (4) The existing withdrawal; provided, however, that persons whose volume of withdrawals varies seasonally according to a substantially established pattern shall describe that variation;
- (5) Conservation measures instituted, or to be instituted, by the registrant; and
- (6) The point or points at which the water is to be discharged after use.

Section 7. The department shall, by regulation, specify, for each water source from which withdrawals are to be permitted, a date upon which its regulations establishing criteria, standards and procedures for issuing permits shall become effective. No person may, after the effective date thus specified, make a new withdrawal of more than the threshold volume of water from any water source, or construct any building or structure which may require that person to make such a new withdrawal of water unless such person obtains a permit in accordance with regulations adopted by the department.

In adopting regulations establishing criteria and standards for obtaining permits, the department shall assure, at a minimum, that the following factors are considered:-

- (1) The impact of the proposed withdrawal on other water sources which are hydrologically interconnected with the water source from which the withdrawal is to be made;
- (2) The anticipated times of year when withdrawals will be made;
- (3) The water available within the safe yield of the water source from which the withdrawal is to be made;
- (4) Reasonable protection of water uses, land values, investments and enterprises that are dependent on previously allowable withdrawals;
- (5) The use to be made of the water proposed to be withdrawn and other existing, presently permitted or projected uses of the water source from which the withdrawal is to be made;
- (6) Any water resources management plan for any city or town in which the affected water source is located;
- (7) Any state water resources management plan adopted by the commission;
- (8) Reasonable conservation practices and measures, consistent with efficient utilization of the water;
- (9) Reasonable protection of public drinking water supplies, water quality, wastewater treatment capacity, waste assimilation capacity,

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 592.

groundwater recharge areas, navigation, hydropower resources, water-based recreation, wetland habitat, fish and wildlife, agriculture, and flood plains; and

(10) Reasonable economic development and the creation of jobs in the commonwealth.

Section 8. The regulations adopted by the department shall specify the form and required contents of a permit application. At a minimum, such regulations shall specify that the application must contain:–

- (1) The need for the proposed withdrawal;
- (2) The reasons for the withdrawal and the use of the water to be withdrawn;
- (3) A description of the water source from which the withdrawal is proposed;
- (4) The location of the withdrawal;
- (5) The volume, frequency and rate of water the applicant proposes to withdraw;
- (6) The length of time for which the permit is sought;
- (7) The effect of the proposed withdrawal on public drinking water supplies, water quality, wastewater treatment, waste assimilation, groundwater recharge areas, navigation, hydropower resources, water-based recreation, wetland habitats, fish and wildlife, agriculture, and flood plains;
- (8) The alternatives, if any, to the proposed withdrawal including a study of cost factors, feasibility and environmental effects of such alternatives; and
- (9) Conservation measures instituted, or to be instituted, by the applicant.

The regulations adopted by the department shall allow the applicant to submit, in support of the permit application, a negotiated agreement with any other owner of property conveying by deed an easement restricting that property owner's right to withdraw from the water source from which the applicant proposes to make withdrawals. The department shall consider such easement in making its findings relative to the sufficiency of the water available within the safe yield of the water source from which the withdrawal is to be made.

The regulations issued by the department may specify the conditions under which the department will approve the transfer of a permit.

Section 9. All applications for permits shall be submitted to the department in conformance with the rules and on the forms adopted under sections seven and eight for the processing of permit applications. A copy of the application shall be filed in the office of the water resources management official of the city or town in which the withdrawal is proposed. Thereafter, an applicant shall cause a notice of the proposed withdrawal to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town in which the withdrawal is proposed, and in other cities and towns where the same water source is located. Such a notice shall state the location of the water source from which the withdrawal is to be made, and the volume of water to be withdrawn, and shall state further that a copy of the application is available for inspection at the office of the water resources management official of the city or town in which the withdrawal is proposed, and that any party wishing to comment on the grant of the withdrawal permit may file a written statement with the water resources management official within thirty days of the date of publication of the notice. The applicant shall send copies of the notice, return receipt requested, to the owners of record of all properties abutting the property on which the withdrawal is proposed and all properties abutting such properties. The applicant shall file with the department an affidavit that copies of the notice were sent in accordance with this section.

Upon receipt of such an affidavit, the department shall send copies of the notice to all persons making withdrawals, pursuant to a registration statement or permit, from the water source from which the proposed withdrawal is to be made.

The applicant may file with the department, in support of the application, certificates from the water resources management official that:– (1) the proposed withdrawal is not inconsistent with the local water resources management plan; and (2) no statement of opposition has been received within thirty days of the date of publication of the notice of the proposed withdrawal. The department shall rule on any completed withdrawal application, for which the requirements of sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty and the regulations adopted thereunder have been met within thirty days of the time such certificates are filed. If such certificates are not filed by the applicant, or if the secretary of environmental affairs issues a certificate, pursuant to section sixty-two A of said chapter thirty stating that an environmental impact report is required for the permit application, the department shall rule on any completed withdrawal application within ninety days of the completion of compliance with the requirements of sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty and the regulations adopted thereunder.

In order for an application to be considered completed the department may require additional information to be submitted before ruling on the permit application. No application shall be deemed completed unless it contains all information required by regulation or requested by the department.

The deadlines established in this section for ruling on withdrawal applications may be extended for a reasonable period of time, not to exceed nine months, by the department in individual cases upon a finding that additional time is necessary to give proper consideration to an application.

Failure by the department to rule on a completed application within the time specified in this section or within the time specified in any extension made pursuant to this section shall be deemed to be an approval of the application.

Section 10. The department shall, by regulation, establish a procedure to be followed in obtaining recommendations from local officials or bodies, regional planning agencies, or others including any comments received by the water resources management official pursuant to section nine, for use by the department in making findings under section eleven; provided, however, that failure of any local official or body or regional planning agency to make timely recommendations in accordance with such procedures shall not bar the department from ruling on any application if it determines that it has an adequate basis for making the findings required by regulation.

Section 11. In accordance with rules adopted under section seven, the department may issue permits for any new withdrawal of water if it determines that the withdrawal will conform to the regulatory standards established. The department may attach to any permit whatever conditions it deems necessary to further the purposes of this chapter or to assure compliance with its regulations. If the department finds that the combined volume of existing, permitted and proposed withdrawals exceeds the safe yield of a water source or that existing, permitted or proposed water withdrawals are otherwise in conflict, it shall deny all applications for permits for withdrawals from that water source.

The department shall make written findings of fact in support of its decision and shall state with specificity the reasons for issuance or denial of the permit and for any conditions of approval imposed and may, in the case of any denial of a permit, advise the applicant in negotiating an agreement pursuant to section eight, so as to allow the permit to be granted. Every permit issued pursuant to this chapter may include provisions:-

- (1) fixing the term of the permit;
- (2) fixing the maximum allowable withdrawal expressed in terms of an average annual daily withdrawal;
- (3) identifying and limiting the use or uses to which the water may be put;
- (4) requiring the applicant to meter the water being withdrawn and report the amount and quantity of the water being withdrawn;
- (5) governing the operation and maintenance of the specific facilities, equipment or premises;
- (6) allowing the department to enter the applicant's facilities or property to inspect and monitor the withdrawal;
- (7) permitting the department to modify, suspend or terminate the permit, after notice and hearing, for violations of its conditions, of this chapter, or of regulations adopted or orders issued by the department, and when deemed necessary for the promotion of the purposes of the chapter.

The department shall, by regulation, specify a schedule of expiration dates applicable to each water source from which withdrawals are to be permitted. All permits for withdrawals from that water source shall be valid until the next expiration date thus specified; provided that no permit issued under this section shall be valid for a term greater than twenty years. Each person to whom a permit has been issued pursuant to this section shall file an annual statement of withdrawal, in accordance with regulations adopted by the department.

No permit shall be issued under this section after January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four unless the city or town in which the water is to be used has obtained approval from the commission of its water resources management plan.

Section 12. Any person aggrieved by a decision of the department with respect to a permit application or an addition to an existing withdrawal may request an adjudicatory hearing before the department under the provisions of chapter thirty A. Any such decision shall contain a notice of this right to request a hearing and shall specify a time limit of twenty-one days, within which aggrieved persons may request such a hearing. If no such request is timely made, the decision shall be deemed assented to. If a timely request is received, the department shall, within a reasonable time, act upon the request in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A. A person aggrieved by a final decision in an adjudicatory hearing held under the provisions of this section shall be entitled to judicial review thereof in the superior court, in accordance with chapter thirty A; provided, however, that in any action seeking judicial review pursuant to this section, the court in which such action is pending may appoint a master to investigate and report on any scientific or hydrological issue relevant to a question of law presented in the case.

Section 13. For the purpose of determining compliance with this chapter or any regulations adopted thereunder, the duly authorized agents and employees of the department may at all reasonable times enter and examine any property, facility, operation or activity involving the withdrawal of water. The owner, operator or other person in charge of the property, facility, operation or activity, upon presentation of proper identification and purpose for inspection by the agents or employees of the department, shall give such agents and employees free and unrestricted entry and access. Such agents and employees are authorized to make such inspection, conduct such tests, reviews, studies, monitoring or sampling or examine books, papers and records pertinent to any matter relevant to the administration or enforcement of this chapter as it deems necessary.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, any information, record, or particular part thereof, obtained by the department pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall, upon request, be kept confidential and not be considered to be a public record when it is deemed by the department that such information, record or report relates to secret processes, methods of manufacture or production, or that such information, record or report, if made public, would divulge a trade secret.

Section 14. The department may issue such orders as are reasonably necessary to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter. The orders shall include, but shall not be limited to, orders modifying, suspending or revoking permits and orders requiring persons to cease any activity which is in violation of the provisions of this chapter or any regulation adopted hereunder. The department may, in its order, require compliance with such terms and conditions as are reasonably necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter. If the department finds, in accordance with the procedures established in section sixteen of chapter twenty-one A and the regulations adopted thereunder, that any person is not in compliance with any order issued pursuant to this section, it shall assess a civil administrative penalty on such person as provided in said section sixteen of said chapter twenty-one A and the regulations adopted thereunder. The penalty may be assessed whether or not the violation was willful. In determining the amount of the civil penalty, the department shall consider the willfulness of the violation, damage or injury to the water resources and other water users, the cost of restoration of the water resources, the cost to the commonwealth of enforcing the provisions of this chapter against such person and other relevant factors.

In addition to collecting any civil penalties recoverable under this section, the department may request the attorney general to bring an action in the superior court to restrain, prevent or enjoin any conduct prohibited by this chapter or to compel action to comply immediately and fully with any order issued by the department. Except in cases of emergency where, in the opinion of the court, immediate abatement of the unlawful conduct is required to protect the public interest, the court may in its decree fix a reasonable time during which the person responsible for the unlawful conduct may abate and correct the violation. The expense of the proceeding shall be recoverable from the violator in such manner as may now or hereafter be provided by law.

It shall be unlawful for any person to:–

- (1) Violate or assist in the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or of any rules and regulations adopted hereunder;
- (2) Fail to comply with any order by the department;
- (3) Make a water withdrawal contrary to the terms and conditions of the chapter, or of any regulation adopted or permit or order issued hereunder; or
- (4) Attempt to obtain a permit by misrepresentation or failure to disclose all relevant facts.

Any person who engages in unlawful conduct as defined in this section shall, upon conviction, for each separate offense, pay a fine of not less than one thousand dollars, nor more than ten thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a period of not more than one hundred and eighty days, or both. Each day of continued violation of any provision of this chapter or of any regulation adopted or permit or order issued hereunder shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 15. Any city or town or any water company, public agency or authority of the commonwealth or its political subdivisions which is the operator of a public water system may petition the department for a declaration of a state of water emergency pursuant to this section. The department may require such city, town or operator to submit for review and approval by the department, a plan designed to bring about an expeditious end to the state of water emergency. Such plan may include provisions for taking actions authorized in section sixteen and provisions for restraining the use of water on public or private premises by shutting off the water at the meter or at the curb cock or by other means, and the department may require any further provisions it deems appropriate and feasible, including, but not limited to:

- (1) an approved water resources management plan;
- (2) a leak detection program;
- (3) a program for auditing water use;
- (4) a program for overall system rehabilitation;
- (5) conservation programs for public and private buildings;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 592.

- (6) bans or restrictions on certain water uses;
- (7) a moratorium on the issuance of building permits;
- (8) a plan for establishing priority for distribution of water among competing uses; and
- (9) drought management or contingency plans.

Upon receiving a petition pursuant to this section, the department may declare a state of water emergency if it finds that there exists or impends a water supply shortage of a dimension which endangers the public health, safety or welfare. The department shall limit the applicability of any state of water emergency to the city or town submitting a petition pursuant to this section or the geographical area served by the public water system operator submitting a petition pursuant to this section. The department may amend the declaration or terminate the state of water emergency upon a finding that the public health, safety or welfare is no longer endangered by a water supply shortage in part or all of the area to which the emergency had been made applicable. The state of water emergency shall be in effect for no more than six months in the aggregate in any twelve month period unless the department determines that a longer state of emergency is required to protect the public health, safety or welfare.

Section 16. During a state of water emergency, declared under section fifteen, if the department has approved a plan designed to bring about an expeditious end to the emergency, a water company, public agency or authority of the commonwealth or its political subdivisions which is the operator of a public water system affected by the emergency may, for such periods of time as may be approved by the department, not to exceed six months cumulatively in any twelve month period, take by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine the right to use any land for the time necessary to use such water, or purchase water from another public water system; provided, however, that during a state of water emergency affecting the water system of the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, such power of eminent domain may be exercised by the division of watershed management of the metropolitan district commission. Any operator of a public water system may, for such periods of time as may be approved by the department, sell to any water company, public agency or authority of the commonwealth or its political subdivisions, which has been authorized to make purchases of water pursuant to this section, such volumes of water as may be available for sale from time to time.

No taking, purchase or sale shall be made pursuant to this section unless the department issues an order, pursuant to section seventeen, authorizing the taking, purchase or sale. Nothing in this section shall exempt the operator of a public water system from any provision of this chapter or of any regulations issued hereunder.

No taking, purchase or sale shall be made pursuant to this section unless, in the case of cities, the city council has voted to authorize the taking, purchase or sale, or, in the case of towns and water supply and fire and water districts, the taking, purchase or sale has been authorized by a vote of the voters at a town meeting or a district meeting, or, in the case of water companies, notice of such taking, purchase or sale, including a copy of plans and specifications, has been given to the city council or to the board of selectmen of the city or town, as the case may be, in which the affected water source is located, by certified mail at least ten days prior thereto.

Pursuant to any taking, purchase or sale made pursuant to this section, temporary pipes and other works may be installed in any city or town, provided that the installation or repair of such pipes or other works or along any highway shall be accomplished with the least possible hindrance to public travel, and shall be subject to the direction and approval of the officers or departments in charge of the maintenance of said highway where applicable.

Section 17. During a state of water emergency declared under section fifteen, the department, to the extent not in conflict with applicable federal law or regulation but notwithstanding any general or special law, local law or contractual agreement to the contrary, shall be empowered to issue orders, applicable within or outside the area in which a water emergency exists to:-

(1) Establish priorities for the distribution of any water or quantity of water use;

(2) Permit any person engaged in the operation of a water supply system to reduce or increase by a specified amount or to cease the distribution of that water; to distribute a specified amount of water to certain users as specified by the department; or to share any water with other water supply systems;

(3) Direct any person to reduce, by a specified volume, the withdrawal or use of any water; or to cease the withdrawal or use of any water;

(4) Require the implementation of specific water conservation measures; and

(5) Mandate the denial, for the duration of the state of water emergency, of all applications for withdrawal permits within the areas of the commonwealth to which the state of water emergency applies.

The commission shall adopt guidelines for use by the department in issuing orders under this section.

The department shall consult with the appropriate executive agency overseeing the activities of any person affected by this section.

Section 18. The department shall, by regulation, establish reasonable registration and permit application fee schedules which shall be based upon, and not exceed, a reasonable portion of the estimated cost of processing, monitoring, administering and enforcing the registration statements and permits. The department shall collect registration and permit application fees in accordance with the fee schedule adopted pursuant to this section.

Section 19. Nothing in this chapter shall limit the authority of the department of public utilities to rule on the propriety of any rates charged by any public water system subject to its jurisdiction; provided, however, that in making such a ruling the department of public utilities may consider any fees required by registration adopted pursuant to section eighteen; and, provided further, that such ruling shall not impose any condition inconsistent with the provisions of any order issued by the department or the terms and conditions of a permit issued under this chapter or the regulations adopted hereunder. Compliance with any requirement imposed by the department of public utilities shall not exempt any public water supply systems from requirements of this chapter or the regulations adopted hereunder.

SECTION 2. Section forty of chapter forty of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. The department shall submit to the clerk of the house of representatives any regulations promulgated under the provisions of this act and shall forward such regulations to the joint committee on natural resources and agriculture and the special commission on water supply for its review within sixty days prior to the effective date of said regulations.

Approved December 18, 1985.

Chapter 593. AN ACT TO PROVIDE TAX RELIEF.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6 of chapter 14 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 6 and 7, the word "consistent" and inserting in place thereof the word:– inconsistent.

SECTION 2. Section 1 of chapter 62 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out subsection (c), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:–

(c) "Code", the Internal Revenue Code of the United States, as amended on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and in effect for the taxable year.

SECTION 3. Paragraph (2) of subsection (a) of section 2 of said chapter 62, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following subparagraph:–

(H) Social security benefits included in federal gross income under section eighty-six of the Code.

SECTION 4. Said section 2 of said chapter 62, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:–

(g) Massachusetts adjusted gross income shall be the sum of Part A adjusted gross income and Part B adjusted gross income.

SECTION 5. Paragraph (a) of subsection B of section 3 of said chapter 62, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subparagraph (9) and inserting in place thereof the following subparagraph:–

(9) In the case of an individual who pays rent for his principal place of residence and such residence is located in the commonwealth, an amount equal to fifty per cent of such rent; provided, however, that such deduction shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars for a single person or for a husband and wife.

SECTION 6. Paragraph (b) of said section 3 of said chapter 62, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subparagraphs (1) to (3), inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following three subparagraphs:–

(1) In the case of a single person,

(A) (i) a personal exemption of three thousand eight hundred dollars, if the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income is less than or equal to six thousand dollars,

(ii) a personal exemption of three thousand eight hundred dollars minus twenty dollars for each one hundred dollars by which the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds six thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds six thousand dollars but is less than or equal to nine thousand dollars,

(iii) a personal exemption of three thousand two hundred dollars minus seventeen dollars for each two hundred dollars by which the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds nine thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts gross income exceeds nine thousand dollars,

(iv) notwithstanding the provisions of clause (iii), no single person shall receive a personal exemption of less than six hundred dollars,

(B) an additional exemption of two thousand two hundred dollars if the taxpayer was totally blind at the close of his taxable year, and

(C) an additional exemption of seven hundred dollars if the taxpayer had attained the age of sixty-five before the close of his taxable year.

(2) In the case of a husband and wife filing a joint return,

(A) (i) a personal exemption of eight thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income is less than or equal to ten thousand dollars,

(ii) a personal exemption of eight thousand dollars minus twenty dollars for each one hundred dollars by which the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds ten thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds ten thousand dollars but is less than or equal to eighteen thousand dollars,

(iii) a personal exemption of six thousand four hundred dollars minus seventeen dollars for each two hundred dollars by which the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds eighteen thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts gross income exceeds eighteen thousand dollars,

(iv) notwithstanding the provisions of clause (iii), no husband and wife filing a joint return shall receive a personal exemption of less than one thousand two hundred dollars,

(B) an additional exemption of two thousand two hundred dollars for each spouse who was totally blind at the close of his taxable year, and

(C) an additional exemption of seven hundred dollars for each spouse who had attained the age of sixty-five before the close of his taxable year.

(3) In the case of a married person filing a separate return,

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 593.

(A) (i) a personal exemption of one thousand nine hundred dollars, if the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income is less than or equal to six thousand dollars,

(ii) a personal exemption of one thousand nine hundred dollars minus ten dollars for each one hundred dollars by which the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds six thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds six thousand dollars but is less than or equal to nine thousand dollars,

(iii) a personal exemption of one thousand six hundred dollars minus seventeen dollars for each four hundred dollars by which the person's Massachusetts adjusted gross income exceeds nine thousand dollars, if the person's Massachusetts gross income exceeds nine thousand dollars,

(iv) notwithstanding the provisions of clause (iii), no married person filing a separate return shall receive a personal exemption of less than three hundred dollars,

(B) an additional exemption of two thousand two hundred dollars if the taxpayer was totally blind at the close of his taxable year, and

(C) an additional exemption of seven hundred dollars if the taxpayer had attained the age of sixty-five before the close of his taxable year.

SECTION 7. Section 5 of said chapter 62 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a), as most recently amended by section 22 of chapter 233 of the acts of 1983, and inserting in place thereof the following:—

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section four, Part A taxable income and Part B taxable income shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by this chapter if the Massachusetts adjusted gross income of the taxable year does not exceed six thousand dollars for a single individual or ten thousand dollars in the aggregate for a husband and wife. No tax shall be imposed under this chapter which shall reduce such Massachusetts adjusted gross income below six thousand dollars and ten thousand dollars respectively. No exemption shall be allowed under this section to any married individual unless a joint return is filed. In the case of a short taxable year, occurring for any reason other than residence during one portion of the normal taxable year and nonresidence during another portion, there shall be substituted for the amounts of six thousand dollars and ten thousand dollars those amounts which bear the same relation to such sums as the number of days in the taxable year bears to three hundred and sixty-five. With respect to a person who is a nonresident for all or part of the taxable year, total income shall be determined as if he were a resident of the commonwealth throughout the entire taxable year.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 62 is hereby further amended by striking out section 25, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 25. Every individual who while an inhabitant of the commonwealth, and every executor, administrator, trustee or other fiduciary who while such an inhabitant or while acting under an appointment derived from a court in the commonwealth has received any income taxable under this chapter, and the estate of every deceased inhabitant of the commonwealth, shall be subject to the taxes imposed by this chapter.

SECTION 9. Paragraph (a) of section 63 of said chapter 62, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (1) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(1) is treated for federal income tax purposes under section four hundred and fifty-three of the Code, and.

SECTION 9A. Paragraph (c) of said section 63 of said chapter 62, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 28, the word "four hundred and fifty-three (a)" and inserting in place thereof the words:– four hundred and fifty-three.

SECTION 10. Section 4 of chapter 62B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a), as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(a) Every employee on or before the date of commencement of employment shall furnish his employer with a signed withholding exemption certificate setting forth the number of dependency exemptions which he claims, which shall in no event exceed the number to which he is entitled under chapter sixty-two plus one for his own personal exemption under said chapter. The term "dependency exemptions", as used in this chapter, shall include an exemption for a spouse meeting the requirements of chapter sixty-two. If any employee fails to furnish such signed certificate, the number of his exemptions shall be considered zero.

SECTION 11. Said chapter 62B is hereby amended by striking out sections 13 to 18, inclusive, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections:–

Section 13. Every taxpayer who in any taxable year can reasonably expect to receive income taxable under chapter sixty-two from sources other than wages upon which a tax is required to be withheld under section two and for whom the amount of estimated tax is more than two hundred dollars shall make payments of estimated tax pursuant to section fourteen. For the purposes of this section, the amount of estimated tax shall be the amount which the taxpayer estimates as the tax due under chapter sixty-two with respect to the taxable year less the amount which the taxpayer estimates as the credits to which he will be entitled under section nine for taxes withheld during the taxable year.

Section 14. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, in the case of any underpayment of estimated tax, there shall be added to the tax due under chapter sixty-two for the taxable year an amount determined at the rate of eighteen per cent per annum upon the amount of the underpayment for the period of underpayment.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), the amount of the underpayment shall be the excess of the required installment, over the amount, if any, of the installment paid on or before the due date for the installment; and the period of the underpayment shall run from the due date for the installment to the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year, or, with respect to any portion of the underpayment, the date on which such portion is paid, whichever is the earlier. A payment of estimated tax shall be credited against unpaid required installments in the order in which such installments are required to be paid.

(c) For purposes of this section, there shall be four required installments for each taxable year. The first installment shall be paid on April fifteenth of the taxable year, the second on June fifteenth of the taxable year, the third on September fifteenth of the taxable year, and the fourth on January fifteenth of the succeeding taxable year. The amount of any required installment shall be twenty-five per cent of the required annual payment. The term "required annual payment" means the lesser of

(i) eighty per cent, or sixty-six and two-thirds per cent in the case of a farmer or fisherman as defined in subsection (h), of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year or, if no return is filed, eighty or sixty-six and two-thirds per cent, as the case may be, of the tax for such year, or

(ii) one hundred per cent of the tax shown on the return of the taxpayer for the preceding taxable year, provided the taxpayer filed a return for the preceding taxable year and such preceding year was a taxable year of twelve months.

In the case of any required installment, if the taxpayer establishes that the annualized income installment is less than the amount determined under this subsection, the amount of such required installment shall be the annualized income installment, and any reduction in a required installment resulting therefrom shall be recaptured by increasing the amount of the next required installment or installments. The annualized income installment shall be based upon an estimated tax computed by placing on an annualized basis the taxable income for months in the taxable year ending before the due date for the installment.

(d) No addition to tax shall be imposed under subsection (a) for any taxable year if –

(i) the tax shown on the return for such taxable year or, if no return is filed, the tax is less than two hundred dollars; or

(ii) the preceding taxable year was a taxable year of twelve months, the taxpayer did not have any liability for tax for the preceding taxable year, and the taxpayer was an inhabitant of the commonwealth throughout the preceding taxable year.

(e) No addition to tax shall be imposed under subsection (a) with respect to any underpayment –

(i) to the extent the commissioner determines that by reason of casualty, disaster, or other unusual circumstances the imposition of such addition to tax would be against equity and good conscience; or

(ii) if the commissioner determines that the taxpayer retired after having attained age sixty-two or became disabled in the taxable year for which estimated payments were required to be made or in the taxable year preceding such taxable year, and such underpayment was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

(f) For the purpose of applying this section the estimated tax shall be computed without any reduction for the amount which the individual estimates as his credit under section nine, and the amount of the credit allowed under said section nine for the taxable year shall be deemed a payment of estimated tax, and an equal part of such amount shall be deemed paid on each installment date, as indicated in subsection (c), unless the taxpayer establishes the dates on which all amounts were actually withheld, in which case the amounts so withheld shall be deemed payments of estimated tax on the dates on which such amounts were actually withheld.

(g) For the purposes of this section, the term "tax" means the tax imposed by chapter sixty-two and by any act in addition thereto, reduced by the credits against tax allowed by section six of said chapter sixty-two.

(h) If, on or before March first of the following taxable year, a taxpayer who is a farmer or fisherman files a return for the taxable year and pays in full the amount computed on the return as payable then no addition to tax shall be imposed under subsection (a) with respect to any underpayment of estimated tax required to be made under this section. For the purposes of this subsection, an individual is a farmer or fisherman for any taxable year if his gross income from farming or fishing for the taxable year, or as shown on his return for the preceding taxable year, is at least two-thirds of his total gross income for the taxable year.

Section 15. All payments of estimated tax made by any taxpayer pursuant to section thirteen shall be deemed and credited as payments on account of the tax imposed on income for the taxable year under chapter sixty-two, and any taxes in addition thereto.

SECTION 12. Section 6 of chapter 62C of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out in line 3, the second time it appears, and in line 6, the word "two" and inserting in place thereof, in each instance, the word:– six.

SECTION 13. Section 11 of said chapter 62C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b).

SECTION 14. Section 19 of said chapter 62C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

An extension of six months for filing any return required by section eleven or twelve shall be allowed any corporation if, in such manner and at such time as the commissioner may prescribe, such corporation files a request, in such form as the commissioner may require, and pays, on or before the date prescribed for payment of the tax, the amount of tax reasonably estimated to be due under this chapter; but this extension may be terminated at any time by the commissioner by mailing to the corporation notice of such determination at least ten days prior to the date for termination fixed in such notice.

SECTION 15. Section 26 of said chapter 62C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 11, the word "thirty-three" and inserting in place thereof the word:– thirty-two.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 62 is hereby further amended by striking out section 30, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 30. If the federal taxable income of a person subject to taxation under chapter sixty-two is finally determined by the federal government to be different from the taxable income as originally reported, such final determination shall be reported, accompanied by payment of any additional tax due with interest as provided in section thirty-two, to the commissioner within one year of receipt of notice of such final determination. If the taxable income of a person subject to taxation under chapter sixty-three is finally determined by the federal government to be different from the taxable income as originally reported, such final determination, shall be reported, accompanied by payment of any additional tax due with interest as provided in section thirty-two, to the commissioner within three months of receipt of notice of such final determination. If the federal taxable estate of an estate subject to taxation under chapter sixty-five C is finally determined by the federal government to be different from the taxable estate as originally reported, such final determination shall be reported, accompanied by payment of any additional tax due with interest as provided in section thirty-two, to the commissioner within two months of receipt of notice of such final determination. The report shall include a statement of the reasons for the difference in such form as the commissioner may require. If from such report or upon investigation it shall appear that any tax under chapters sixty-two or sixty-five C or that the tax with respect to income under chapter sixty-three has not been fully assessed, the commissioner shall, notwithstanding the three-year limitation in section twenty-six, assess an additional tax, if any, with respect thereto, with interest as provided in section thirty-two. An assessment under this section shall be made in the manner provided in section twenty-six within one year of the receipt of such report or within two years of the receipt by the commissioner of information from the federal government that it has made a final determination of such person's federal taxable income or of the federal taxable estate different from that report where no report is filed with the commissioner and shall be limited to changes in such person's tax liability under chapter sixty-two, sixty-three or in such estate's tax liability under chapter sixty-five C arising out of or related to the items which resulted in the change in federal taxable income or in the federal taxable estate.

If, as a result of the change by the federal government in a person's federal taxable income or in a federal taxable estate, such person or estate believes that a lesser tax was due the commonwealth than was paid, such person or estate may apply in writing to the commissioner for an abatement thereof under section thirty-seven within one year of the date of notice of such final determination by the federal government. The commissioner shall not be limited in his consideration of such application to the items which comprise the federal change but shall abate only such portion of the tax assessed or paid as exceeds the proper tax due under chapters sixty-two, sixty-three, or sixty-five C, as the case may be.

Any person or estate failing to comply with the provisions contained in the first paragraph hereof shall be assessed a penalty in the sum of one hundred dollars, or ten per cent of the additional tax found due, whichever sum is smaller said penalty to become part of the additional tax found due. For reasonable cause shown, the commissioner may, in his discretion, abate such penalty in whole or in part.

For purposes of this section, the term "person" shall include any individual, partnership, trust, corporate trust or any other fiduciary subject to taxation under chapters sixty-two or sixty-five C, or any corporation subject to taxation under chapter sixty-three.

Section 31A. If a person fails to pay to the commissioner any required tax of a corporation or partnership and such person is personally and individually liable therefor to the commonwealth under section five of chapter sixty-two B, section seven B of chapter sixty-four G, section sixteen of chapter sixty-four H or section seventeen of chapter sixty-four I, the commissioner shall so notify such person in writing at any time during the period of time that such assessment against the corporation or partnership remains in existence and unpaid. Such person or his representative may confer with the commissioner or his duly authorized representative as to the assessment of the tax or the proposed determination that he is personally and individually liable therefor within thirty days after the date of such notification. After the expiration of thirty days from the date of such notification, such person shall be personally and individually liable for the tax of the corporation or partnership, which shall be deemed to be assessed against such person, and a lien under section fifty upon all property and rights of property, whether real or personal, belonging to such person shall arise in favor of the commonwealth.

If such person is aggrieved by the assessment of the tax or the determination that he is personally and individually liable therefor, he may apply, in writing to the commissioner, on a form approved by him, for an abatement thereof at any time within the dates provided in section thirty-seven or within sixty days from the date of the notice under this section, whichever is later. All provisions of sections thirty-seven to thirty-nine, inclusive, shall apply to such application for abatement.

SECTION 18. Subsection (d) of section 33 of said chapter 62C, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– For purposes of subsections (b) and (c), the amount of tax shown on the return shall, for the purpose of computing the addition for any month, be reduced by the amount of any part of the tax which is paid before the beginning of such month.

SECTION 19. Said chapter 62C is hereby further amended by inserting after section 37 the following section:–

Section 37A. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, prior to a court judgment or decision by the appellate tax board, the commissioner may accept a lesser amount than the tax liability owed by a taxpayer in final and full settlement thereof; provided, however, that the following conditions are met:

(a) The commissioner finds that there is serious doubt either as to the collectibility of the tax due or as to the taxpayer's liability;

(b) The commissioner finds that the taxpayer has not acted with intent to defraud;

(c) The settlement is approved by the commissioner and at least two deputy commissioners of the department of revenue; and

(d) There is a written agreement, signed by all parties, setting forth the commissioner's reasons for the settlement and all relevant information, including, but not limited to, the names of all parties, the amount and type of tax, interest, penalties and charges settled, and the amount actually paid in accordance with the terms of the settlement. Any amount assessed that is not collected pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be abated by the commissioner.

Upon request the commissioner shall make available for public inspection the written agreement containing a settlement pursuant to this section.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any tax liability settlement under this section which proposes to accept an amount which is twenty thousand or more dollars less than the full amount of the tax liability owed by the taxpayer or which proposes to accept an amount which is less than fifty per cent of the full amount of the tax liability owed by the taxpayer shall be submitted to the attorney general for review. Any such settlement proposal shall take effect twenty-one days after its receipt by the attorney general, unless the attorney general objects in writing to the settlement. In the event the attorney general objects to a settlement proposal, such settlement shall not take effect until the objection is resolved by the commissioner and the attorney general. Any settlement approved under the terms of this section will not be subject to the confidentiality provisions of section twenty-one of this chapter.

Neither the taxpayer nor the commissioner, upon signing the agreement, shall be permitted to reopen the case except by reason of (1) falsification or concealment of assets by the taxpayer, or (2) mutual mistake of a material fact sufficient to cause a contract to be reformed or set aside.

The authority granted hereunder to the commissioner and deputy commissioners may not be delegated to other officials of the department.

The commissioner shall, as part of his annual report under section six of chapter fourteen, list all settlements entered into pursuant to this section during the fiscal year. Such report shall list the name of each taxpayer agreeing to a settlement and the amount of such settlement.

SECTION 20. Said chapter 62C is hereby further amended by striking out section 38, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 38. No tax assessed on any person liable to taxation shall be abated unless the person assessed shall have filed, at or before the time of bringing his application for abatement, a return as required by this chapter for the period to which his application relates; and if he filed a fraudulent return, or having filed an incorrect or insufficient return, has failed, after notice, to file a proper return, the commissioner shall not abate the tax below double the amount for which the person assessed was properly taxable under this chapter.

SECTION 21. Section 45A of said chapter 62C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

If any person required by this section or section two of chapter sixty-two B or by regulation of the commissioner to deposit or to make payment of tax in advance of the filing of the return with respect to such payment and such person fails to make such deposit or payment on or before the date prescribed therefor, unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall be imposed upon such person a penalty of five per cent of the amount of the underpayment. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "underpayment" means the excess of the amount of the tax required to be so made over the amount, if any, thereof made on or before the date prescribed therefor.

SECTION 22. Section 49A of said chapter 62C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 14, the word "forty-seven" and inserting in place thereof the word:– forty-seven A.

SECTION 23. Clause (b) of paragraph 5 of section 30 of chapter 63 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– A deduction shall be allowed for that portion of wages or salaries paid or incurred for the taxable year equal to the amount of the credit allowable for the taxable year under section fifty-one of the Federal Internal Revenue Code and otherwise disallowed under section two hundred and eighty C of said Code.

SECTION 24. Chapter sixty-three C of the General Laws is hereby repealed.

SECTION 25. Section 1 of chapter 64C of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

Whenever used in this chapter or chapter sixty-two C, unless the context otherwise requires, the word "cigarette" shall include within its meaning smokeless tobacco; and the words "smokeless tobacco" shall mean snuff, snuff flour and any other tobacco or tobacco product prepared in such manner as to be suitable for chewing, including, but not limited to cavendish, plug, twist and fine-cut tobaccos. The provisions of sections twenty-nine to thirty-nine, inclusive, however, shall not apply to smokeless tobacco.

SECTION 26. Section 6 of said chapter 64C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "mills", in lines 3 and in line 10, in each instance, the words:– plus any amount by which the federal excise tax on cigarettes is less than eight mills.

SECTION 27. Said section 6 of said chapter 64C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:–

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the excise imposed by this chapter shall equal twenty-five per cent of the price paid by such licensee or unclassified acquirer to purchase smokeless tobacco so sold, imported, or acquired.

SECTION 28. Said chapter 64C is hereby further amended by striking out section 28, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 28. All sums received under this chapter as excises, penalties, forfeitures, interest, costs of suits and fines, less all amounts refunded or abated thereunder, shall be credited as follows:

(a) Forty per cent of the amount in excess of one hundred sixty-nine million, eight hundred thousand dollars received during a fiscal year shall be credited to the Local Aid Fund.

(b) Eighty and seventy-seven hundredths per cent of the balance remaining after crediting the amount required under paragraph (a) shall be credited to the General Fund.

(c) Nineteen and twenty-three hundredths per cent of the balance remaining after crediting the amount required under said paragraph (a) shall be credited to the Highway Fund.

SECTION 29. Section 3 of chapter 64H of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 21, the words ", with the approval of the commission,".

SECTION 30. Section 6 of said chapter 64H, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 341, the words "public and private nonprofit primary and secondary schools" and inserting in place thereof the words:– an educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly enrolled body of pupils or students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are regularly carried on.

SECTION 31. Section 27 of chapter 64I of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– Where a trade in of a motor vehicle or trailer is received by a dealer in such vehicles holding a valid vendor's registration, upon the sale of another motor vehicle or trailer to a consumer or user, the tax shall be imposed only on the difference between the sales price of the motor vehicle or trailer purchased and the amount allowed on the motor vehicle or trailer traded in on such purchase. When any such motor vehicle or trailer traded in is subsequently sold to a consumer or user, the tax provided for this chapter shall apply.

SECTION 32. Section 27 of chapter 65 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 9 and 10, the words "section thirty-three of".

SECTION 33. Section 32 of said chapter 65, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 11, the word "thirty-three" and inserting in place thereof the word:– thirty-two.

SECTION 34. Section 2 of chapter 65A of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 6, the word "thirty-three" and inserting in place thereof the word:– thirty-two.

SECTION 35. Paragraph (d) of section 100 of chapter 156B of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– Notwithstanding the foregoing, the dissolution of the corporation shall not become effective unless and until the state secretary has received a certificate of the commissioner of revenue that all taxes due and payable under chapter sixty-two C by the corporation to the commonwealth have been paid or provided for.

SECTION 36. Section 101 of said chapter 156B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

If a corporation has failed to comply with the provisions of law requiring the filing of reports with the state secretary or the filing of any tax returns or the payment of any taxes under chapter sixty-two C for two or more consecutive years, or if the state secretary is satisfied that a corporation has become inactive and that its dissolution would be in the public interest, the state secretary may dissolve the corporation, subject to the provisions of sections one hundred and two, one hundred and four, and one hundred and eight.

SECTION 37. The third paragraph of said section 101 of said chapter 156B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Notwithstanding the foregoing, a corporation shall not be dissolved if the reports that give rise to the state secretary's notice have been filed at least ten days before the effective date of dissolution, if the tax returns or tax payments that gave rise to the state secretary's notice have been filed, paid or provided for at least ten days before the effective date of dissolution and the state secretary has received a certificate issued by the commissioner of revenue that the corporation is in good standing with respect to any and all returns due and taxes payable to said commissioner, or if the state secretary determines before the effective date of dissolution that the dissolution would not be in the public interest.

SECTION 38. Section eighty-eight of chapter six hundred and eighty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five is hereby repealed.

SECTION 39. Section forty-nine of chapter three hundred and sixty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-eight is hereby repealed.

SECTION 40. Section twenty-three of chapter two hundred and thirty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three is hereby repealed.

SECTION 41. Said chapter 233 is hereby further amended by striking out section 99 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 99. For the purposes of collecting certain taxes, the commissioner is authorized to enter into agreements with one or more private persons, companies, associations or corporations doing business in the commonwealth to provide collection services within and outside the commonwealth with respect to unpaid taxes. No such agreement shall be entered into unless proposals for the same have been invited by public notice published in at least one newspaper once a week for at least two consecutive weeks and the last publication to be at least one week prior to the time specified for the opening of said proposals. All such proposals shall be opened in public. The commissioner may reject any or all of such proposals. The commissioner shall not assign the account of any taxpayer to a private collection agency until such taxpayer has been sent a notice at least thirty days prior thereto, of the intention of the commissioner to so assign the collection of such unpaid taxes of such taxpayer. Any such agreement may provide, in the discretion of the commissioner, the manner in which the compensation for such services will be paid. Under standards established by the commissioner, such compensation shall be added to the amount of the tax and collected as a part thereof by the contractor; deducted and retained by the contractor from the amount of tax collected; or paid by the commonwealth from the amount of tax collected without further appropriation therefor.

The commissioner shall, as part of his annual report under section six of chapter fourteen, list all private persons, companies, associations or corporations with whom the commissioner has agreements for collection services during the fiscal year and the amount of taxes collected by and the compensation paid to each such person, company, association or corporation.

The provisions of this section shall become inoperative on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 593.

SECTION 42. Section one hundred of said chapter two hundred and thirty-three is hereby repealed.

SECTION 43. Section 101 of said chapter 233, as amended by section 169 of chapter 189 of the acts of 1984, is hereby further amended by striking out the fourteenth sentence.

SECTION 44. For taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and before January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, there is hereby imposed, in addition to the taxes levied under the provisions of chapter sixty-two of the General Laws, a tax equal to three and three-fourths per cent of the taxes levied under the provisions of said chapter sixty-two. All provisions of law relative to the assessment, collection, payment, abatement, verification, and administration of taxes, including penalties, levied under said chapter shall, so far as pertinent, be applicable to the tax imposed by this section.

SECTION 45. The special commission making an investigation and study relative to all state, local, special district and county taxation within the commonwealth in order to develop a tax reform program for the commonwealth, established by section eighty-two A of chapter two hundred and eighty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, is hereby authorized and directed to investigate and study the feasibility of allowing the commissioner of revenue to utilize unitary accounting procedures for calculating the corporate excise tax. Said commission shall report to the general court the result of its investigation and study pursuant to this section, with its recommendations together with drafts of legislation, if any, necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, by filing the same with the clerk of the house of representatives on or before the last Wednesday in December, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 46. Every manufacturer, wholesaler, vending machine operator, unclassified acquirer or retailer, as defined in section one of chapter sixty-four C of the General Laws, who, at the commencement of business on February first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, has on hand for sale any smokeless tobacco, as defined in section one of chapter sixty-four C of the General Laws, as amended by section twenty-five of this act, shall make and file with the commissioner of revenue within twenty days thereafter a return, subscribed under the penalties of perjury, showing a complete inventory of such smokeless tobacco and shall, at the time he is required to file such return, pay an excise at the rate of twenty-five per cent of the price paid by such manufacturer, wholesaler, vending machine operator, unclassified acquirer, or retailer to purchase such smokeless tobacco on all smokeless tobacco upon which an excise has not been paid. All provisions of chapters sixty-two C and sixty-four C of the General Laws relative to the assessment, collection, payment, abatement, verification and administration of taxes, including penalties, shall, so far as pertinent, be applicable to the excise imposed by this section.

SECTION 47. Section fourteen of this act shall apply only to requests for extensions of time for corporate tax returns filed on or after its effective date.

SECTION 48. Section seventeen of this act shall apply to all state taxes due on or after its effective date.

SECTION 49. Section twenty-one of this act shall apply to payments of tax required to be made on or after its effective date.

SECTION 50. Sections two, three, nine and nine A of this act shall apply to tax years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Sections four, seven, twelve, thirty-eight, forty, and forty-three shall apply to tax years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Sections six and eleven shall apply to tax years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven. Sections nineteen, forty-one, and forty-two shall take effect as of September fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five. Sections twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, and forty-six shall take effect on February first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Sections thirty-five, thirty-six, and thirty-seven shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and shall apply to dissolutions of corporations taking effect on or after said date. Section forty-four shall apply to tax years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and before January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven.

Approved December 18, 1985.

EMERGENCY LETTER: December 18, 1985 @ 4:22 P.M.

Chapter 594. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DIVISION OF CAPITAL PLANNING AND OPERATIONS TO CONVEY A CERTAIN PARCEL OF LAND SITUATED IN THE TOWN OF BARNSTABLE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to authorize the conveyance of certain land in the town of Barnstable, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The deputy commissioner of the division of capital planning and operations, acting for and on behalf of the commonwealth, is hereby authorized to convey for consideration of one dollar by a deed approved as to form by the attorney general, a certain parcel of land with structures appurtenant thereto in that part of the town of Barnstable known as Centerville, currently under the control of the department of mental health, to the Barnstable Housing Authority, subject to the requirements of section two and to such terms and conditions as the deputy commissioner may prescribe in consultation with the executive offices of human services and communities and development. Said land and appurtenant structures being bounded and described as follows:– Southeasterly by Monument Avenue, ninety-eight and 11/100 (98.11) feet; Southwesterly by Lot A, one hundred and thirty-nine and 92/100 (139.92) feet; and Northwesterly one hundred thirty and 44/100 (130.44) feet; and Northeasterly one hundred two and 37/100 (102.37) feet, by Lot 41.

All of said boundaries are located as shown on subdivision plan 12422–G dated September 24, 1965, drawn by Nelson Bearse – Richard Law, Surveyors, and filed in the Land Registration Office at Boston, a copy of which is filed in the registry of deeds in the county of Barnstable in land registration Book 130, Page 42 with Certificate of Title No. 17702 and said land is shown thereon as Lot 42.

SECTION 2. No deed conveying by or on behalf of the commonwealth the property described in section one shall be valid unless the deed provides that said property shall be used for housing that is partially or fully funded by the commonwealth under chapters five hundred and seventy-four and seven hundred and twenty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Approved December 19, 1985.

Chapter 595. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE LICENSING PROCEDURES FOR CERTAIN HYDROPOWER FACILITIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 164 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 69H 1/2, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 69H 1/2. For the purpose of this section, the following words shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings:–

"Federal Energy Regulatory Commission", the federal hydropower licensing and permitting agency or its successor.

"Hydropower generating facility", any electric or mechanical power generating unit whose power source is water flow and which is not a facility as defined in section sixty-nine G.

"Permitting and licensing agencies", all agencies, authorities, and departments of the commonwealth, and local conservation commissions, whose approval, order, order of conditions, permit, license, certificate, or permission in any form is required prior to or for construction of a hydropower generating facility, except the secretary of environmental affairs acting under the provisions of sections sixty-two to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty and shall include, but not be limited to, the department of environmental quality engineering including the division of water pollution control, the department of environmental management, the department of fisheries, wildlife and recreational vehicles, the conservation commission with jurisdiction over the proposed site, the Massachusetts Historical Commission, the department of public utilities, and any other agency, authority, or department of the commonwealth, county, city or town government, as may be from time to time so designated by the energy facilities siting council.

Said council shall coordinate the permitting and licensing of hydropower generating facilities by simplifying requirements for permits and licenses.

Said council, after consultation with the permitting and licensing agencies, shall establish a preliminary notification form and other forms to be employed by such agencies for permitting and licensing review of proposed hydropower generating facilities. These forms shall include all information required by the permitting and licensing agencies to make decisions on hydropower projects while minimizing duplication of information required for such agencies and for federal licensing. In order to reduce duplication and burdensome filing requirements the council shall provide whenever practicable that such forms utilize the basic Federal Energy Regulatory Commission application and shall make provisions for developers to respond to state filing requirements by reference to their Federal Energy Regulatory Commission application. No other forms shall be required by these agencies for permitting and licensing review of hydropower generating facilities.

Said council shall provide that developers shall commence the state permitting process and file the preliminary notification form required under such process no later than sixty days after official notice that such hydropower developer has filed for a license or exemption with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. Said council may extend this filing time upon a showing of good cause, as said council shall determine.

Prior to the submission of any application to any of the permitting and licensing agencies, the developer of a proposed hydropower generating facility shall file a preliminary notification form with all the permitting and licensing agencies and said council. Such preliminary notification form shall be deemed the first agency application for the purposes of notification under section sixty-two A of chapter thirty. Within thirty days after publication of the notification forms prescribed by the secretary of environmental affairs under said section sixty-two A, said council and the secretary of environmental affairs shall convene a meeting of the permitting and licensing agencies, all agencies which may provide financial assistance, other interested persons, parties or entities, including federal regulatory agencies, and the developer. At such meeting, the permitting and licensing agencies shall consult with the developer and shall determine the information, data and studies required in addition to the forms specified for compliance with the provisions of the permitting and licensing agencies in resolving disputes between the developer and the permitting and licensing agencies concerning the form, content, level of detail and schedules of such requirements.

At the option of a developer or licensing and permitting agency and upon request to the council, a second meeting of all interested parties including the developer, permitting and licensing agencies, federal regulatory agencies and other interested parties and persons shall be convened for the purposes of reviewing a revised application and forms and other changes made subsequent to the initial meeting. Such second meeting may be held at the project site, at a department of environmental quality engineering regional office, or at the Boston offices of said council or other state agency, whichever shall be deemed most reasonable by said council.

Prior to the submission of any notification form to any and all of the permitting and licensing agencies, the council shall require the project proponent to file a proposed notification form and shall determine whether such notification form is substantially complete in meeting with the various filing requirements of the permitting and licensing agencies asserting jurisdiction over the project. Said council shall make a determination, not later than ten days after receiving such proposed application, whether or not it is complete. Said council may reject an application which is patently deficient or it may accept it but recommend to the project proponent that supplementary information be included that would improve and expedite the permitting and licensing agencies' review process. Said council shall inform the project proponent in writing of its action within ten days of submission of the proposed application.

All licensing and permitting agencies asserting jurisdiction over the hydropower project shall notify said council when informational requirements have been satisfied. At such time said council shall establish a deadline for all agency action, such deadline to be no later than ninety days after receipt of the appropriate complete forms and any other additional requirements of this section. In the event that a developer has been required to file an environmental impact report pursuant to section sixty-two B of chapter thirty, said council shall set a deadline for agency action no later than ninety days after receipt of such forms or thirty days after issuance of the statement of adequacy of the final environmental impact report, as required by section sixty-two C of said chapter thirty, whichever is later. Prior to either such deadline as the case may be, each of the permitting and licensing agencies shall determine whether or not to issue, approve, or grant any application, permit, license, certificate, or other evidence or approval. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, the department of environmental quality engineering shall act on a request for a final order of the department within the time limitations specified in section forty of chapter one hundred and thirty-one.

Any party aggrieved by the action, or failure to act, of the permitting and licensing agencies pursuant to this section may, after exhausting all other administrative remedies, appeal to said council within ten days of final agency action or failure to act.

Failure to exercise such right of appeal shall not be deemed a waiver of the right to judicial appeal of an action or failure to act of the permitting and licensing agencies. Said council shall hold a hearing and may consider jointly all pending appeals and shall issue a written decision and order on such appeals considered within ninety days of the appeal. Such decision shall be based upon the energy needs, cost, and environmental impact, and shall for all purposes, including judicial appeal, be deemed equivalent to final licensing or permitting agency action on the approval, permit, license, certificate or permission which is the subject of the appeal. Any party, who is aggrieved by the decision of said council may seek judicial review in the manner provided by chapter thirty A.

SECTION 2. The energy facilities siting council shall conduct rulemaking proceedings pursuant to section two of chapter thirty A of the General Laws to determine whether there exists a class or classes of hydropower projects whose environmental impacts are insignificant and if such project exist, may provide for the exemption of such projects from the requirements of the prelicensing conference provision of section sixty-nine H 1/2 of chapter one hundred sixty-four of the General Laws, and may allow such projects to utilize such abbreviated informational forms of the council and council licensing procedures as the council may determine will ensure the expeditious licensing of such projects without impairment of the public interest. In determining whether there exists a class or classes of hydropower generating facilities appropriate for exemption or expedited review the council shall consider projects which by virtue of their small size or installed generating capacity or location on a conduit or other man-made watercourse would have minimal impacts on the natural environment.

Said council shall promulgate rules and regulations are necessary to carry out provisions and promote the purposes of this section.

SECTION 3. No provision of this act shall apply or be construed to apply to foreign or interstate commerce, except insofar as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution and laws of the United States.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage and shall only affect projects filed with the energy facilities siting council on or after the effective date of this act.

Chapter 605. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE COMPENSATION OF VICTIMS OF VIOLENT CRIMES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 258A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 1, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 1. The following words as used in this chapter shall have the following meanings, unless the context requires otherwise:

"Crime", an act committed by an adult or a juvenile in the commonwealth which, if committed by a mentally competent, criminally responsible adult, who had no legal exemption or defense, would constitute a crime; provided that such act involves the application of force or violence or the threat of force or violence by the offender upon the victim; and provided, further, that no act involving the operation of a motor vehicle which results in injury to another shall constitute a crime for the purpose of this chapter unless such injury was intentionally inflicted through the use of a motor vehicle.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 605.

"Dependent", mother, father, spouse, spouse's mother, spouse's father, child, grandchild, adopted child, illegitimate child, brother, sister, niece or nephew, who is wholly or partially dependent for support upon and living with the victim at the time of his injury or death due to a crime alleged in a claim pursuant to this chapter.

"Family", the spouse, parent, grandparent, stepmother, stepfather, child, grandchild, brother, sister, half brother, half sister, adopted children of parent, or spouse's parents of the offender or of the victim, as applicable.

"Medical care", the medical, psychological, surgical, dental, optometric, chiropractor, podiatric, and hospital care provided to a victim, including: medicines, medical, dental and surgical supplies; crutches; artificial members; appliances; and training in the use of artificial members and appliances.

"Offender", a person who commits a crime.

"Out-of-pocket loss", unreimbursed or unreimbursable expenses for services eligible for compensation pursuant to this chapter.

"Victim", a person who suffers personal injury or death as a direct result of a crime.

SECTION 2. Section 2 of said chapter 258A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:—

If the claimant did not reside in the commonwealth at the time the crime occurred or is not a resident of the commonwealth at the time the claim is filed, his claim shall be brought in the district court within the territorial jurisdiction in which the crime occurred. A claimant who is not a resident of the commonwealth at the time the claim is filed shall be eligible for compensation pursuant to this chapter only upon a showing, by written documentation provided to the attorney general or his representative by the district attorney for the county in which the crime occurred or his representative, that the claimant has cooperated with law enforcement efforts or the prosecution of the case or, in the alternative, that such claimant can demonstrate to the court that he possesses or possessed a reasonable excuse for failing to cooperate.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 258A is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 3. Except as hereinafter provided, the following persons shall be eligible for compensation for the following losses and services pursuant to this chapter:

(a) A victim of a crime shall be eligible for compensation for loss of earnings and for medical care or other necessary services, including his own reasonable mental health counseling, required because of the crime upon which the claim is based. In the case of rape victims, such services shall include emergency funds for housing but shall not include funds for abortion or funds for counseling for abortion.

(b) In the case of the death of the victim as a direct result of the crime, a dependent of the victim shall be eligible for compensation for loss of the victim's support, for medical care and mental health counseling provided to the victim, and for other necessary services required because of said crime.

(c) In the case of the death of the victim as a direct result of the crime, any legal guardian, dependent or other family member of a victim who incurs funeral expenses directly related to the victim's death, shall be eligible for compensation for said funeral expenses up to the amount of two thousand dollars.

(d) In the case of the death of a victim as a direct result of a crime, a member of the victim's family, whether or not a dependent of the victim, shall be eligible for compensation for his own reasonable mental health counseling, necessitated by the claimant's psychological or emotional problems resulting from the victim's death.

(e) In the case of the death of a minor victim as a direct result of a crime, any person who incurs a legally enforceable indebtedness reasonably incurred for medical care to the victim or for necessary services required because of said crime shall be eligible for compensation for said care and services.

An offender or an accomplice of an offender shall not be eligible to receive compensation with respect to a crime committed by the offender. Except in the case of rape, a member of the family of the offender or a person maintaining sexual relations with the offender shall not be eligible to receive compensation for injuries sustained in an alleged crime committed by the offender unless:

(1) such compensation would be in the interests of justice;

(2) such compensation would not unjustly benefit the offender; and

(3) the claimant verifies, through written documentation provided to the attorney general or his representative by the district attorney for the county in which the alleged crime occurred or his representative, that the claimant has cooperated with law enforcement or the prosecution of the crime in which the claimant was injured or, in the alternative, the claimant demonstrates to the court that he possesses or possessed a reasonable excuse for failing to cooperate.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 258A is hereby further amended by striking out section 4, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 4. A claim for compensation may be filed by a person eligible for compensation or, if he is a minor or is incompetent, by his parent or guardian.

A claim shall be filed not later than one year after the occurrence of the crime upon which it is based; provided, however, that for good cause, the court may either before or after the expiration of said filing period extend the time for filing such claim; and provided, further, that in no event shall a late entry be allowed after the expiration of three years following the date of the occurrence of the crime.

Each claim shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court in person or by mail. Said clerk shall immediately notify the attorney general of the claim. Such notification shall be in writing, with copies of such material as is included in the claim or in support thereof. The attorney general shall investigate such claim, prior to the opening of formal court proceedings. Said clerk of court shall notify the claimant and the attorney general of the date and time of any hearing on such claim.

The attorney general shall present any information he may have in support of or in opposition to the claim. The claimant may present evidence and testimony on his own behalf or may retain counsel. The court may, as part of any order entered under this chapter, determine and allow reasonable attorney's fees, which shall not exceed fifteen per cent of the amount awarded as compensation under this chapter, which fee shall be said out of, but not in addition to, the amount of compensation to the attorney representing the claimant. No attorney for the claimant shall ask for, contract for or receive any larger sum than the amount so allowed.

The court may, as part of any order entered under this chapter for compensation, direct that the warrant for payment by the treasurer be made jointly to the claimant and to any provider of medical or funeral services rendered, and if the claimant is represented by an attorney, the court may direct that the attorney also be named as a joint payee in order to facilitate the payment of medical or funeral bills incurred by the claimant as a result of the crime.

The person filing a claim shall, prior to any hearing thereon, submit reports, if available, from all hospitals, physicians, surgeons, or mental health professionals who treated or examined the victim for the injury for which compensation is sought. If, in the opinion of the court, an examination of the injured victim and a report thereon, or a report on the cause of death of the victim, would be of material aid, the court may appoint a duly qualified impartial physician or mental health professional to make such examination and report.

Section 5. No compensation shall be paid unless the claimant has incurred an out-of-pocket loss of at least one hundred dollars or has lost two continuous weeks of earnings or support. The foregoing provision shall not apply to a claimant who was over sixty-five years of age on the date of the alleged crime or was the victim of rape.

No compensation shall be paid unless the court finds that a crime was committed, that such crime directly resulted in personal physical injury to, or the death of, the victim, and that police records show that such crime was promptly reported to the proper authorities. In no case may compensation be paid if the police records show that such report was made more than forty-eight hours after the occurrence of such crime, except in the case of rape, unless the court finds said report to the police to have been delayed for good cause.

Any compensation paid under this chapter shall be in an amount not exceeding out-of-pocket loss, together with loss of earnings or support resulting from such injury.

Any compensation for loss of earnings or support shall be in an amount equal to the actual loss sustained, provided, however, that no compensation for funeral expenses under this chapter shall exceed two thousand dollars and no award under this chapter shall exceed a total of twenty-five thousand dollars, including any award for funeral expenses. If two or more persons are entitled to compensation as a result of a death of a victim which is the direct result of a crime, the compensation shall be apportioned by the court among the claimants in proportion to their loss, and the total of all awards based on said crime shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars.

When determining the loss of a victim's earnings or support, the following shall be considered:

(1) If the victim was employed at the time of the injury, loss of actual earnings shall be based upon the victim's net salary at the time of the injury.

(2) If the sole employment of the victim at the time of the injury or death, and for the preceding five years was limited to performing duties and responsibilities of a homemaker, the award shall be sufficient to ensure that the duties and responsibilities are continued until the victim is able to resume the performance of the duties, or until the cost of services reaches the maximum under this section, whichever is less.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 258A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 7 the following two sections:–

Section 7A. Any person who: (a) submit a fraudulent application or claim for an award; (b) intentionally make or cause to be made any false statement or representation of a material fact; or (c) intentionally conceal or fail to disclose information affecting the amount of or the initial or continued right to any such award when reasonably requested to provide such information by the office of the attorney general shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than six months, or both. Said person shall further forfeit any benefit received and shall reimburse the commonwealth for payments received or paid to or on behalf of said person.

The commonwealth shall have a cause of action for relief against any person who violates the provisions of this section for the amount of damages which the commonwealth sustains by reason of such violation and, in addition, for punitive damages of not more than double the amount of damages which the commonwealth sustains, together with interest, and the costs of the action. The attorney general may bring any such action and shall enforce this section.

Section 7B. Each hospital, whether public or private, shall display prominently in its emergency room, posters giving notice of the availability of compensation to victims of crime, their families, or their dependents pursuant to this chapter. Each law enforcement agency of the commonwealth or any political municipality thereof shall inform victims of crime, their families, or their dependents of their rights pursuant to this chapter.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 93 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding after section 77, added by chapter 279 of the acts of 1985, the following eleven sections:-

Section 78. For purposes of sections seventy-nine to eighty-eight, inclusive, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings:-

"Buyer", any person who enters into a contract for health club services with a health club.

"Contract for health club services", a contract which has the primary purpose of providing a person with the right to use the facilities of a health club or with instruction, training, or assistance by a health club in the preservation, maintenance, encouragement or development of physical fitness, conditioning or well-being, including physical culture, bodybuilding, exercising, weight control, figure development or the teaching of martial arts including judo, karate and self-defense, or any similar course of physical fitness training or assistance.

"Health club", each facility or location or group or chain of facilities or locations, in which any person, firm, corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, franchise or other business enterprise offers facilities for or instruction, training or assistance in the preservation, maintenance, encouragement or development of physical fitness, conditioning or well being. Such term shall include, but not be limited to, health spas, sports, tennis, racquet ball, platform tennis and health clubs, figure salons, health studios, gymnasiums, weight control centers or studios, martial arts and self-defense schools, or any other similar course of physical training.

"Seller", any person, firm, corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, franchise, franchisor, or other business enterprise which operates a health club or which offers or enters into contracts for health club services.

Section 79. Prior to the execution of any contract for health club services and for a period of five years after initially commencing operation of a health club, every seller which sells contracts for health club services shall, for each individual health club location or facility, maintain a bond issued by a surety company admitted to do business in the commonwealth. The principal sum of the bond shall be twenty-five thousand dollars for each health club location or facility, and evidence of such bond shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days of its procurement. The bond shall be in favor of the commonwealth for the benefit of any buyer or class of buyers who suffers any loss or damage because a health club facility ceases operation, fails to open or fails to honor a buyer's right to cancel a contract for health club services pursuant to section eighty-two, and who obtains a judgment for said loss or damage which is not satisfied within thirty days of its entry. Said bond shall provide for the surety to pay the amount of such unsatisfied judgment either directly to said buyer or class of buyers or, if the attorney general obtains said judgment on behalf of said buyer or buyers and so directs, then to the attorney general for distribution to said buyers.

The liability of the surety on the bond shall be limited to indemnifying the claimant only for his actual damages. The aggregate liability of the surety to all persons for all breaches of the conditions of the bonds provided for herein shall in no event exceed the amount of the bond.

A change in ownership of a health club or location shall not release, cancel or terminate liability under any bond filed for such health club or location under this section as to any buyer who purchases a health club contract while such bond is in effect, unless the transferee, purchaser, successor or assign of such health club or location obtains a bond under this section for the benefit of such buyer. The fact that any health club is in bankruptcy proceedings, or that its debts have been discharged in bankruptcy, shall not be a bar or defense to a surety's obligation under any such bond.

Section 80. No contract for health club services shall be for a term measured by the life of the buyer. No contract for health club services shall be for a term longer than twenty-four months, except that upon expiration of the contract, the seller may offer to the buyer the right to renew his contract for a similar, shorter or longer period not to exceed twenty-four months.

No contract for health club services shall require payments or financing by the buyer over a period in excess of twenty-five months from the date on which the contract is executed. The installment payments shall be in substantially equal amounts exclusive of the down payment and shall be required to be made at substantially equal intervals, not more frequently than one payment per month.

No contract for health club services may contain any provisions whereby the buyer agrees not to assert against the seller or any assignee or transferee of the health club services contract any claim or defense arising out of the health club services contract or the buyer's activities at the health club. No contract for services may require the buyer to execute a promissory note or series of promissory notes which, when negotiated, cuts off as to third parties a defense which the buyer may have against the seller. No contract may be assigned by one health club to another health club without written consent of the buyer.

Section 81. Every contract for health club services shall provide clearly and conspicuously in writing that such contract may be cancelled within three business days after the date of receipt by the buyer of a copy of the written contract or written receipt indicating the buyer's payment for health club services. The contract for health club services shall contain the following written notice in at least ten point bold type:

"CONSUMER'S RIGHT TO CANCELLATION. YOU MAY CANCEL THIS CONTRACT WITHOUT ANY PENALTY OR FURTHER OBLIGATION BY CAUSING A WRITTEN NOTICE OF YOUR CANCELLATION TO BE DELIVERED IN PERSON OR POSTMARKED BY CERTIFIED OR REGISTERED UNITED STATES MAIL WITHIN THREE (3) BUSINESS DAYS OF THE DATE OF THIS CONTRACT OR THE DATE OF YOUR RECEIPT TO THE ADDRESS SPECIFIED IN THIS CONTRACT."

Notice of the buyer's right to cancel and the method of cancellation under this section shall also be posted clearly and conspicuously on the premises of the health club.

The notice of the buyer's cancellation of his contract shall be in writing and delivered in person or by certified or registered United States mail at the address specified in the contract. Such notice shall be accompanied by the contract forms, membership cards and any other documents or evidence of membership previously delivered to the buyer. All monies paid pursuant to such contract shall be refunded within fifteen business days of receipt of such notice of cancellation. If the buyer has executed any credit or loan agreement to pay for all or part of the health club services, any such negotiable instrument shall be void upon cancellation under this section and shall also be returned to the buyer within said fifteen days.

Section 82. Every contract for health club services shall provide clearly and conspicuously in writing that after the expiration of the three day period for cancellation as provided in section eighty-one, in the event of the buyer's death, the buyer's estate may cancel the contract for health club services. The contract shall also provide that the buyer may cancel if he becomes significantly physically or medically disabled for a period in excess of three months, or if the health club services or facilities are not available to the buyer because the seller fails to open a planned health club or location, permanently discontinues operation of the health club or location, or substantially changes the operation of the health club or location. The contract shall also provide that the buyer may also cancel if he moves his residence to a location more than twenty-five miles from a health club operated by the seller or a substantially similar health club which will accept the seller's obligation under the contract. Nothing contained herein shall restrict or prohibit the seller from offering or providing in such contract additional or broader reasons for cancellation.

The seller may require reasonable evidence of the reason for cancellation by the buyer pursuant to this section. The contract for health club services shall contain the following notice captioned in at least ten point bold type:

"ADDITIONAL RIGHTS TO CANCELLATION

You or your estate may also cancel this contract for any of the following reasons:

if upon a doctor's order, you cannot physically or medically receive the services because of significant physical or medical disability for a period in excess of three months;

in case of your death;

If the health club services to be provided under this contract are not available because the seller fails to open a planned health club or location, permanently discontinues operation of a health club or location, or substantially changes the operation of a health club or location.

If you move your residence more than twenty-five miles from any health club operated by the seller or a substantially similar health club which will accept the seller's obligation under the contract."

All monies paid by the buyer pursuant to a contract for health club services which has been cancelled for one of the reasons contained in this section shall be refunded to the buyer or his estate within fifteen days of the seller's receipt of such notice of cancellation; provided, however, that the seller may retain the portion of the total contract price representing the amount of time that the services or facilities were used by the buyer prior to cancellation; and provided, further, that the seller may demand the reasonable cost of goods and services which the buyer has consumed or wishes to retain after cancellation of the contract. In no instance shall the seller demand more than the full contract price from the buyer. If the buyer has executed any credit or loan agreement to pay for all or part of the price of the contract for health club services, any such negotiable instrument executed by the buyer shall also be returned and terminated within fifteen days. The buyer shall no longer be liable for any obligation under such credit or loan agreement.

Section 83. No assignee or creditor who takes a note or other obligation as consideration for a contract for health club services shall fail to honor the consumer's right of cancellation as provided in section eighty-one or eighty-two. No assignee of a contract shall fail to give notice of the assignment to the consumer. A notice of assignment shall be in writing addressed to the consumer at the address shown on the contract and shall identify the contract.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 607.

Section 84. It is hereby declared to be an unfair and deceptive trade practice in violation of chapter ninety-three A for a seller, or his agents, employees or other representatives to:

- (1) misrepresent directly or indirectly, including in its advertising, promotional materials, or in any other manner, the size, location, available facilities, or equipment of its health club or health clubs, or the location or locations at which its services, facilities or equipment will be offered;
- (2) misrepresent directly or indirectly, including in its advertising, promotional materials, or in any other manner, the nature of its courses, membership programs, training devices or methods, services, pricing structure, price discounts, sales or offers;
- (3) misrepresent, directly or indirectly, including in its advertising, promotional material, or in any other manner, the number, qualifications, title, status, training or experience of its personnel, agents, employees or other representatives, whether by means of endorsements or otherwise;
- (4) use or refer, directly or indirectly, including in its advertising, promotional material, or in any other manner, to fictional organizational divisions or personnel position titles, or make any representation which has the tendency or capacity to mislead or deceive consumers as to the size or importance of the health club, its franchisor, parent, subsidiary or affiliated business, its divisions, or its personnel, or in any other material respect;
- (5) fail to clearly and conspicuously post on its health club premises all of its courses and membership prices, discounts, sales or offers;
- (6) misrepresent, directly or indirectly, including in its advertising, promotional material, or in any other manner, the nature, extent or availability of any services, guidance, instruction, counseling, assistance, or other attention which the health club will provide to buyers;
- (7) misrepresent, directly or indirectly, including in its advertising, promotional material, or in any other manner, or fail to disclose the buyer's rights to cancel under sections eighty-one to eighty-three, inclusive; or
- (8) violate or fail to comply with any other provision of sections seventy-eight to eighty-eight, inclusive.

This section shall not be construed to prevent other acts or practices of a seller from being declared to be in violation of said chapter ninety-three A.

Section 85. Any contract for health club services which does not comply with the applicable provisions of this chapter shall be void and unenforceable as contrary to public policy. Any waiver by the buyer of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed void and unenforceable by the seller as contrary to public policy.

Section 86. Any buyer who has suffered any injury as a result of a violation of sections seventy-eight to eighty-eight, inclusive, or the attorney general, may bring an action for recovery of damages or other relief, including injunctive relief, multiple damages and attorney's fees, as and to the extent provided for under chapter ninety-three A. Nothing in sections seventy-eight to eighty-eight, inclusive, shall be construed so as to nullify or impair any right or rights which a buyer may have against a seller at common law, by statute, or otherwise. The provisions of said sections seventy-eight to eighty-eight, inclusive, are not exclusive and do not relieve the seller or his assignees or the contracts subject to said sections from compliance with all other applicable provisions of law.

Section 87. Any seller or his assignees who violates any provision of sections seventy-eight to eighty-eight, inclusive, or who shall counsel, aid or abet such violation shall be liable for a civil penalty of not more than twenty-five hundred dollars for each such violation. The attorney general may file a civil action in the superior or district court in the name of the commonwealth to recover such penalties.

Section 88. In addition to other remedies provided herein, the attorney general may bring an action on behalf of the commonwealth to enforce the bonding provisions of section seventy-nine.

SECTION 2. The provisions of section seventy-nine shall not apply to any health club or location which is being operated as of the effective date of this act and has been operated continuously at the same location since its operation commenced.

The provisions of section seventy-nine shall apply to any health club or location the ownership of which changes in any way on or after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 608. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF RENT REGULATIONS AND THE CONTROL OF EVICTIONS IN THE MOBILE HOME PARK ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE TOWN OF ORANGE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists with respect to the housing of a substantial number of citizens in the town of Orange, which emergency has been created by excessive, abnormally high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile home parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and evictions of tenants are regulated and controlled, such emergency will produce serious threats to the public safety, health and general welfare of the citizens of said town, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Orange.

SECTION 2. The town of Orange may, by the adoption of by-laws, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said town, establish a rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, minimum standards for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and the evictions of tenants therefrom and may, by its by-laws, require registration by owners of the mobile home park accommodations. Such rents, standards and evictions may be regulated by the rent board so as to remove hardships, or correct inequities for both the owner and the tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Said rent board shall have all powers necessary or convenient to perform its functions, may make rules and regulations, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, information, under penalty of perjury, relating to the mobile home park accommodations, sue and be sued, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers and information, issue appropriate orders which shall be binding on both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Violations of any by-laws adopted pursuant to this act or any order of said rent board shall be punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for any one offense.

SECTION 3. In regulating such rents, the mobile home rent board established under section two, may make such individual or general adjustments, either upward or downward, as may be necessary to assure that rents for mobile home park accommodations in the town are established at levels which yield to owners a fair net operating income for such units. Fair net operating income shall be that income which will yield a return, after all reasonable operating expenses, on the fair market value of the property equal to the debt service rate generally available from institutional first mortgage lenders or such other rates of return as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

The town in its by-law, or the mobile home rent board by regulation, may establish further standards and rules consistent with this act.

SECTION 4. The provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be applicable to the rent board established under the provisions of section two, as if said rent board were an agency of the commonwealth, including those provisions giving agencies the powers to issue, vacate, modify and enforce subpoenas and those provisions relating to judicial review of an agency order.

SECTION 5. The eastern Franklin division of the district court department shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with the superior court, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty of the General Laws.

The superior court department shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act and any by-laws adopted thereunder and may restrain violations thereof.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 609.

SECTION 6. The town of Orange may by its by-laws regulate the evictions of tenants and the rent board, established under the provisions of section two, shall issue orders which may be a defense to an action of summary process for possession and such orders shall be reviewable pursuant to section two and three.

SECTION 7. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 609. AN ACT PROVIDING THAT STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATIONS AT STATE COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES SHALL BE THE OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE STUDENT BODY.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide that student government associations at state colleges and universities shall be official representatives of the student body, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 15A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 2, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 2. The board of regents of higher education, hereinafter referred to as the board of regents, shall consist of sixteen members appointed by the governor, at least one of whom shall be a representative of organized labor, and one of whom shall be a member which the governor shall choose from among no more than three full-time undergraduate students who shall be nominated, and who are currently enrolled in a public institution set forth in section three. Nominated students shall have maintained a satisfactory academic progress as determined by the policy of the institution at which such student is enrolled. Nominations shall be submitted by student members of the board of trustees for each such institution who, for the purpose of this section, shall be referred to as the student advisory committee. Such nominations may include, but not be limited to, students elected as trustees in accordance with the provisions of section nine. There shall be an office of the board of regents, consisting of a chancellor and employees appointed by said board.

Members of the board of regents shall be appointed to serve five year terms, except that the undergraduate student members shall be appointed annually to serve a term of one year's duration commencing initially upon the appointment by the governor and expiring on April thirtieth and every year thereafter commencing on May first and expiring on April thirtieth, for as long as he remains a full-time undergraduate; provided, however, that within three consecutive years said student appointee shall in the first year be a student attending a community college, and in the second year be a student attending a state college, and in the third year be a student attending a state university. This cycle shall repeat. For the purpose of this section the Massachusetts College of Art and the Massachusetts Maritime Academy shall be deemed to be a state college. Each of the student government associations at each of said public institutions may submit to the student advisory committee an individual nominated to be the undergraduate student member of the board of regents. All guidelines for procedures and deadlines for the selection process of the undergraduate board members shall be established by the said student advisory committee, except as herein provided. No member shall be appointed for more than two consecutive terms, except that any student member may serve for one term only. Upon expiration of the term of office of a member, a successor shall be appointed in like manner. A vacancy shall be filled by the governor for the remainder of the term. The chairperson of the board of regents shall forthwith notify the governor of any such vacancy.

The board of regents shall, unless otherwise enumerated, be the successor of the secretary of the executive office of educational affairs, the board of higher education, the board of trustees of state colleges and the board of trustees of regional community colleges, the board of trustees of the University of Lowell, the board of trustees of the University of Massachusetts, the board of trustees of Southeastern Massachusetts University, and shall have all the duties and exercise the powers previously vested in said secretary and board, unless otherwise enumerated.

The members of the board of regents shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for all expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of their duties.

No member of said board of regents shall be principally employed by any public educational institution or by the commonwealth. A member of the board of regents shall cease to be a member if such member ceases to be qualified for appointment or if he is absent from five regularly scheduled meetings during any calendar year.

The board of regents shall meet each month except that the chairperson, with the board of regents approval, may omit meetings in the months of July and August, and the chairperson may call additional meetings at other times.

Eight members of the board of regents shall constitute a quorum, and the affirmative vote of eight members shall be necessary for any action to be taken by the board.

The chairperson shall be appointed by the governor from among the members.

SECTION 2. Section 5 of said chapter 15A of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 153, the second time it appears, the word "and", – and by inserting after the word "professor", in line 167, the following clause:– (aa) recognize the duly elected student government association at each public university, college or community college as the official representative of the student body.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 610. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF RENT REGULATIONS AND THE CONTROL OF EVICTIONS IN MOBILE HOME PARK ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE CITY OF SPRINGFIELD.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists in the city of Springfield with respect to the housing of substantial number of citizens of said city, which relates to unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and eviction of tenants are regulated and controlled, such emergency will produce serious threats to the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of Springfield, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the city of Springfield.

SECTION 2. The city of Springfield, may, by adoption of ordinances, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said city, establish a mobile home rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, minimum standards for use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and eviction of tenants therefrom and may, by its ordinances, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, information, under penalty of perjury, relating to the mobile home park accommodations. Such rents, standards and evictions may be regulated by the rent board so as to remove hardships or correct inequities for both the owner and the tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. The rent board shall consist of five residents of the city appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the city council after review by its planning and economic development committee. The first five appointments to this board shall be staggered in length of service, the first appointee to serve one year, the second appointee to serve two years, the third appointee to serve three years, the fourth appointee to serve four years and the fifth appointee to serve five years. All subsequent appointments shall be for five year periods. Said rent board shall have all powers necessary or convenient to perform its functions may make rules and regulations, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, require information, under penalty of perjury, relating to the mobile home park accommodations, sue and be sued, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers and information, and issue appropriate orders which shall be binding on both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accommodation. Violations of any ordinance adopted pursuant to this act or any order of the mobile home rent board shall be punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for any one offense.

SECTION 3. In regulating such rents, the mobile home rent board established under section two may make such individual or general adjustments, either upward or downward, as may be necessary to assure that rents for mobile home park accommodations in the city are established at levels which yield to owners a fair net operating income for such units. Fair net operating income shall be that income which will yield a return, after all reasonable operating expenses, on the fair market value of the property equal to the debt service rate generally available from institutional first mortgage lenders or such other rates of return as the board on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

Said city in its ordinance or the rent board by regulation may establish further standards and rules consistent with this act.

SECTION 4. The provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be applicable to the rent board, established under the provisions of section two, as if said rent board were an agency of the commonwealth, including those provisions giving agencies the power to issue, vacate, modify and enforce subpoenas, and those provisions relating to judicial review of an agency order.

SECTION 5. The Springfield division of the district court department, shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with housing court department and the superior court department, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

The superior court department and the housing court department shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act, and any by-laws adopted thereunder, and may restrain violations thereof.

SECTION 6. The city of Springfield may by its ordinances, regulate the evictions of tenants, and the rent board, established under the provisions of section two, may issue orders which shall be a defense to an action of summary process for possession and such orders shall be reviewable pursuant to sections two and three.

SECTION 7. The personnel of the mobile home rent board established under section two shall not be subject to the provisions of section nine A of chapter thirty or chapter thirty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 8. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 611. AN ACT PROVIDING THAT CAPTAIN THOMAS NASTASIA MAY CONTINUE EMPLOYMENT WITH THE POLICE DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF LAWRENCE.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 612.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, Thomas Nastasia, a captain in the police department of the city of Lawrence, is hereby authorized to continue in such office or position until he reaches age seventy; provided, however, that he is mentally and physically capable of performing the duties of his office or position; and provided, further, that he shall hold said office or position subject to the approval of the appointing authority, and may be removed therefrom in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws. The appointing authority may, at its own expense, require said Thomas Nastasia to be examined by an impartial physician designated by the retirement board of the city of Lawrence to determine his capability for continued service. Deductions shall continue to be made from the regular compensation of said Thomas Nastasia under the provisions of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws for any service performed between age sixty-five and seventy, and upon retirement said Thomas Nastasia shall receive a superannuation allowance, or a veteran's pension allowance, as applicable, equal to that appropriate for his full years of creditable service, including any such actual service between age sixty-five and seventy. Should said Thomas Nastasia be determined to be not capable of continuing in service pursuant to an examination by an impartial physician as provided for in this act, he shall be retired for superannuation, and shall not be presumed by virtue of such determination to be disabled for the purposes of said chapter thirty-two.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 612. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE NOMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR TOWN MEETING MEMBERS IN THE TOWN OF MILFORD.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 271 of the acts of 1983 is hereby amended by striking out section 4, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 403 of the acts of 1985, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 4. Notwithstanding the provisions of the fourth paragraph of section ten of chapter fifty-three of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, nominations of all candidates for town meeting members, including incumbents, to be elected under the provisions of this act shall be made by nomination papers, which shall bear no political designation, shall be signed by not less than thirty voters of the precinct in which the candidate resides, and shall be filed with the town clerk at least twenty-eight days before any such election. No nomination papers shall be valid in respect to any candidate whose

Chapter 613. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE RIGHT TO FARM.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to facilitate the right to farm certain lands, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 40K the following chapter:–

CHAPTER 40L.

AGRICULTURAL INCENTIVE AREAS.

Section 1. Definitions.– as used in this chapter the following words shall, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, have the following meaning:–

"Agricultural land", land suitable for agricultural or horticultural use, including land rated by the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service as Class I through Class IV, uniques, or of statewide or local area importance.

"Agricultural lands preservation committee", committee established under the provisions of section eleven B of chapter one hundred and thirty-two A.

"Commissioner", commissioner of the department of food and agriculture.

"Committee", municipal agricultural incentive areas committee established pursuant to section two.

"Department", the department of food and agriculture.

"Land in agricultural or horticultural use", land which meets the requirements for such land for classification under chapter sixty-one A, whether or not such land is so classified.

Section 2. The board of selectmen in a town or the mayor of a city with approval of the city council may establish an agricultural incentive area committee for the purpose of investigating, delineating, and establishing an agricultural incentive area in the municipality, hereinafter called area.

Said committee shall consist of seven members appointed by the board of selectmen or by the mayor with the approval of the city council. Said members shall include one member of the board of selectmen or city council, one member of the planning board, one member of the conservation commission, three residents of the municipality whose principal occupation is agriculture or horticulture and one person from the public at large.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 613.

Each member shall serve for a term of three years, except that in the initial appointments two members shall serve for a term of one year, three members shall serve for a term of two years and two members shall serve for a term of three years.

Any member of said committee so appointed may, after a public hearing if requested, be removed for cause and a new member appointed by the appointing authority.

All members of the committee shall serve without compensation.

The committee shall elect annually a chairman and vice-chairman from its own members and a secretary who need not be a member of the committee. The committee shall hold an annual meeting in March and from time to time at the call of the chairman or upon the request of any two members. Four members of the committee shall constitute a quorum. The committee may, by a vote of a majority of its members then in office, adopt rules and regulations for the conduct of its business. Rules and regulations adopted may be amended or repealed by a two-thirds vote of its members.

Section 3. The committee shall locate and map all land in agricultural or horticultural use within the town or city showing such soil classification information as is available from the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service. Such map or maps shall indicate property boundaries, the owner of the land, and the present zoning classification of said land. Conservation districts as established pursuant to the provisions of chapter twenty-one, regional planning districts as established pursuant to the provisions of chapter forty B, and the department of food and agriculture shall make available to the committee such maps, data, and other available information as is pertinent to the work of the committee.

The committee shall make available in one or more public places, the aforementioned maps, and provide printed information to all affected landowners. Said committee shall hold one or more public informational meetings in order to explain the purposes and requirements of such agricultural incentive areas. Notice of said meetings shall be given by registered mail to all affected or abutting landowners and by publication.

Section 4. Upon completion of the requirements of section three, the committee shall formulate its recommendations for the formation of an agricultural incentive area within the town or city. Such areas shall be composed principally of agricultural land, land in agricultural or horticultural use, and certain lands contiguous thereto. The committee shall submit said recommendations to local conservation commissions, planning boards, selectmen, or mayor or city manager, and city council, the area conservation district and the regional planning district for their review, and comment within thirty days from receipt thereof. Within the next sixty days following the above mentioned review period, the committee may make such revisions as are in their opinion indicated by said comments and shall hold a public hearing within the municipality. Following the public hearing, the committee may adopt as a plan the proposal or any revisions thereto it deems appropriate; provided, however, that no land may be included in an agricultural incentive area plan pursuant to this section unless the owner of the land has approve in writing the inclusion of his land in the area. The committee shall act to adopt or reject the proposed agricultural incentive area no later than thirty days from the time of the public hearing. The adoption of an agricultural incentive area plan shall be by a two-thirds vote of the committee. The committee shall submit the area plan to the commissioner of food and agriculture for certification by the agricultural lands preservation committee.

The agricultural lands preservation committee shall have sixty days after receipt of the area plan within which to certify to the committee whether the proposed plan is eligible, whether the area to be included consists primarily of suitable agricultural land, and whether the plan of the proposed area appears feasible. If the agricultural lands preservation committee disapproves the area plan, it shall state its reasons for such disapproval in writing together with such suggestions as it deems appropriate. If the agricultural lands preservation committee fails to certify the area plan, the agricultural incentive area committee may resubmit such plan only after the committee has held another public hearing at which hearing any modifications proposed by the agricultural lands preservation committee shall be considered.

Upon certification of an area plan by the agricultural lands preservation committee, the agricultural incentive area committee shall submit the plan to the selectmen or mayor. Approval of the area plan shall require a two-thirds vote of the city council in a city or town meeting in a town. If approved, the area shall be in effect sixty days from the date of approval.

If the area plan is approved by the city or town, the committee shall file a description of the area and a map thereof with the chairman of the planning board, the clerk of the municipality, and the commissioner. The selectmen, mayor or city manager shall file such plan in the public restriction tract index established pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-three of chapter one hundred and eighty-four, of the appropriate registry of deeds.

Section 5. Land within an agricultural incentive area shall not be sold for or converted to residential, industrial or commercial use or removed from the area unless the city or town in which such land is located and the department of food and agriculture on behalf of the state has been notified of the intent to sell or convert to such other use or remove said land from the area; provided, however, that the discontinuance of the use of such land for agricultural or horticultural purposes shall not be deemed a conversion to another use. Specific use of land for a residence for the owner or a parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, or brother or sister of the owner, or the surviving husband or wife of any deceased such relative, or for living quarters for any person actively employed full time in the agricultural or horticultural use of such land, shall not be deemed a conversion to another use for the purposes of this section, and a certificate of the board of assessors, recorded at the appropriate registry of deeds or land registration office, shall conclusively establish that a particular use is such use. Such notice of intent shall be sent by the landowner by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the mayor and city council of a city, or to the board of selectmen of a town, to its planning board and conservation commission, and to the commissioner of the department of food and agriculture. For a period of sixty days subsequent to the mailing of such notice, the city or town, or the commonwealth shall have, in the case of intended sale, a first refusal option to meet a bona fide offer to purchase said land or, in the case of intended conversion to residential, commercial or industrial use not involving sale and not specifically exempted herein, an option to purchase said land at full and fair market value to be determined by impartial appraisal in accordance with recognized professional standards. No sale or conversion to another use of such land shall occur until either said option period shall have expired or the landowner shall have been notified in writing by the mayor or board of selectmen of the city or town in question, and by the commissioner that said option will not be exercised. Such option shall be exercised by written notice signed by the mayor or board of selectmen or by the commissioner mailed within the option period to the landowner by registered mail at such address as may be specified in his notice of intent and recorded with the appropriate registry of deeds or land registration office. Such option may only be exercised by the municipality or the department upon a showing that there are sufficient funds available to exercise said option.

The notice of intent, notice of exercise of the option and notice of nonexercise of the option, shall contain the name of the record owner of the land and a description of the premises so to be sold or converted adequate for identification thereof.

The option to purchase may be exercised by the commissioner, or municipality acting jointly or individually in one or more of the following ways; provided, however, that a determination has been made in writing that such purchase will likely result in the land remaining actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural, or agricultural and horticultural use as defined in sections one to five, inclusive, of chapter sixty-one A:

(a) purchase of all or part of the property in fee; provided, however, that there is a purchaser for the remaining property.

(b) purchase of an agricultural preservation restriction on all or part of the property pursuant to the provisions of section eleven A to eleven D, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and thirty-two A; provided however, that there is a purchaser for the remaining property and the residual agricultural interest in the property under the above restriction.

(c) purchase of all or part of the property by a private land trust or other charitable corporation which has received authorization from the commissioner to exercise such option on behalf of the department of food and agriculture for the purpose of acquiring an agricultural preservation restriction on the agricultural land provided, however that such trust or charitable corporation has been established at least twelve months prior to such notice of intent.

If the municipality or the commissioner does not exercise said option to purchase, said land shall be removed from the area.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable with respect to a mortgage foreclosure sale, except that the holder of a mortgage shall, at least thirty days before a foreclosure sale, send written notice, by registered mail, of the time and place of such sale, to the parties and in the manner provided for in this section for notice of intent to sell or convert.

Notwithstanding the aforesaid provisions, a landowner may notify the committee by registered mail, return receipt requested, of his intent to withdraw from an agricultural incentive area. Said withdrawal shall be effective two years from the date of said notification.

Section 6. Land in an agricultural incentive area, determined by the local assessor to be actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural, or agricultural and horticultural use as defined in sections one to five, inclusive, of chapter sixty-one A, shall be assessed for general property tax purposes at values no greater than those determined by the methods and provisions of section ten of said chapter sixty-one A.

Section 7. Land in an agricultural incentive area, determined by the local assessor to be actively devoted to agricultural, horticultural, or agricultural and horticultural use as defined in sections one to five, inclusive, of chapter sixty-one A and which is subject to special assessments or betterment assessments shall be so assessed as provided under section eighteen of said chapter sixty-one A.

Section 8. Land in an agricultural incentive area shall receive priority for a determination of eligibility for the purchase of agricultural preservation restrictions by the commonwealth pursuant to the program established by section eleven A to eleven D, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and thirty-two A.

Section 9. The commissioner of the department of food and agriculture is hereby empowered to promulgate such rules and regulations and to prescribe such forms as he shall deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

Section 10. The provisions of this chapter shall apply in a city after acceptance by a majority vote of the city council with the approval of the mayor, in the case of a city with a Plan A, Plan B or Plan F charter; by a majority vote of the city council, in the case of a city with a Plan C, Plan D or Plan E charter; by a majority vote of the annual town meeting or a special town meeting called for the purpose, in the case of a municipality with a town meeting form of government; or by a majority vote of the town council, in the case of a municipality with a town council form of government.

SECTION 2. Section 125A of chapter 111 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

If, in the opinion of the board of health, a farm or the operation thereof constitutes a nuisance, any action taken by said board to abate or cause to be abated said nuisance under sections one hundred and twenty-two, one hundred and twenty-three and one hundred and twenty-five shall, notwithstanding any provisions thereof to the contrary, be subject to the provisions of this section; provided, however, that the odor from the normal maintenance of livestock or the spreading of manure upon agricultural and horticultural or farming lands, or noise from livestock or farm equipment used in normal, generally acceptable farming procedures or from plowing or cultivation operations upon agricultural and horticultural or farming lands shall not be deemed to constitute a nuisance.

SECTION 2A. Section 143 of chapter 111 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

Notwithstanding any provision in section one hundred and twenty-five A of this chapter, this section shall apply to the operations of piggeries.

SECTION 3. The first paragraph of section 143 of said chapter 111, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 6 to 8, inclusive, the words ", however, to the provisions of any ordinance or by-law adopted therein under sections twenty-five to thirty A, inclusive, of chapter forty, or corresponding provisions of earlier laws," and inserting in place thereof the words:– to the provisions of chapter forty A.

Chapter 614. AN ACT PROVIDING FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO CITIES, TOWNS, AND REGIONAL SCHOOL DISTRICTS FOR THE REMOVAL, CONTAINMENT OR ENCAPSULATION OF ASBESTOS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The board of education is hereby authorized to expend a sum not to exceed twenty-five million dollars for a program to provide grants to reimburse cities, towns, counties and regional school districts for the removal, containment, or encapsulation of asbestos found in public school buildings; provided, that said city, town, county or regional school district has submitted for approval an application and cost estimate to the state board of education; and provided, further, that said removal, containment, or encapsulation has been conducted in accordance with procedures set forth by the special legislative commission on asbestos, established by chapter fifty-eight of the resolves of nineteen hundred and seventy-five and by the division of occupational hygiene; and provided, further, that said reimbursements are in accordance with the estimates approved by the said board and are for work contracted prior to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine.

SECTION 2. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting the payments authorized by section one of this act and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether the original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety.

Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 3. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section one, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate twenty-five million dollars.

All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, "Asbestos Removal and Containment In Public Schools Loan, Act of 1985," and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 4. The board of education is hereby authorized to expend a sum not to exceed five million dollars for a program for removing, containing or encapsulating asbestos found in any private elementary or secondary school. Said program shall make direct payment to the contractors removing, containing or encapsulating asbestos, provided that the governing body of said school has submitted an application and cost estimate to said board of education. Said application shall be on such form as approved by the commissioner of education and shall contain instructions and procedures established in cooperation with the division of occupational hygiene. Said board of education shall, jointly with the said division of occupational hygiene, promulgate such rules and regulations as necessary to administer the program, and provided, further, that no payments under this section shall be made directly to any private school.

SECTION 5. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting the payments authorized by section four and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 614.

Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether the original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety.

Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 6. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section four, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding the aggregate five million dollars.

All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, "Asbestos Removal and Containment In Private Schools Loan, Act of 1985," and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the general fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 7. As a condition of the receipt of any funds under this act, the recipient shall:

(a) Permit the commonwealth to sue on behalf of such recipient any person potentially liable for damages, including the costs of any activities undertaken by the recipient relative to the removal, containment, encapsulation or other method of control of asbestos found in school buildings within the recipient's control; and

(b) Agree to repay to the commonwealth an amount not to exceed the amount of any funds received by the recipient under this act from the proceeds of any judgment or settlement relative to a suit brought by or on behalf of the recipient for damages, including costs incurred as a result of asbestos control activities described in paragraph (a).

SECTION 8. The proceeds from any judgment or settlement relative to a suit brought by the commonwealth in accordance with section seven shall be retained by the commonwealth to the extent such proceeds exceed costs incurred by a school or school district, on whose behalf the suit was brought, in the control of asbestos within its schools, for which the school or school district has received no state or federal funds.

The proceeds from any judgment or settlement relative to a suit brought by or on behalf of a school or school district, other than a suit brought by or on behalf of the commonwealth, shall be used to repay the commonwealth for funds received by the school or school district under this act, provided that said proceeds exceed costs incurred by the school or school district in the control of asbestos within its schools for which the school or school district has received no state or federal funds, plus any litigation costs incurred by the school or school district as a result of such suit.

SECTION 9. Funds available under this act may be used for state or local matching funds, if such is required in conjunction with any federal program.

SECTION 10. The provisions of this act are intended to be severable, and if any provision of this act, or its application to any set of facts or circumstances, shall be held to be unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not impair all the remaining provisions of this act and the application of said provisions to all other sets of circumstances.

Chapter 615. AN ACT REGULATING CERTAIN HEALTH CARE PLAN RESTRICTIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 110J the following section:–

Section 110K. Each employer or other organization which employs or has twenty-five or more employees or members during the full preceding calendar year and which contributes to a health insurance contract providing comprehensive dental benefits, which restricts the covered persons in selecting the providers of dental services to a single provider or limited number of providers but not including a comprehensive dental benefits plan established by a non-profit medical services corporation under chapter one hundred and seventy-six B and available from any participating dentist, shall also offer its employees and their eligible dependents and members and members' eligible dependents at the time such a dental benefits plan is offered or renewed, the option of selecting alternative coverage which permits covered persons to obtain dental services from any licensed dentist.

No employer or other organization shall be required to pay for or contribute towards the provisions of alternative coverage an amount greater than the premium or cost which it pays or contributes to the health insurance contract which limits the number of providers of dental services.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if any of the employees of an employer required by paragraph one to offer employees the option of selecting such alternative dental coverage as described in said paragraph are represented by a certified collective bargaining representative, the offer of the option of selecting such alternative coverage as required by said paragraph one shall first be made to such collective bargaining representative. Said representative shall have the right not to accept such offer, thereby exempting the employer from the provisions of this section. If such offer is accepted by such representative, the offer of the option of selecting such alternative coverage shall then be made to each employee. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a union management trust created pursuant to collective bargaining shall, whenever a restricted dental benefits plan as described in paragraph one is proposed, consider offering such alternative dental coverage as described in said paragraph one, provided, however, said trust may offer the dental plan or plans of its choice.

The commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary to effectuate the purpose of this section, including procedures for notice to covered persons, employers and other organizations of the provisions of this section.

SECTION 2. Chapter 176G of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 11 the following section:–

Section 11A. Each employer or other organization which employs or has twenty-five or more employees or members during the full preceding calendar year and which contracts with and contributes to a health maintenance organization for the purpose of providing comprehensive dental benefits to its employees or members, shall, if the health maintenance organization restricts the covered persons in selecting the providers of dental services to a single provider or limited number of providers of dental services, offer its employees and their eligible dependents and members and members' eligible dependents at the time such a contract is offered or renewed, the option of selecting alternative coverage which permits covered persons to obtain dental services from any licensed dentist.

No employer or other organization shall be required to pay for or contribute toward the provision of alternative coverage an amount greater than the premium or cost which it pays or contributes to the health maintenance organization contract which limits the number of providers of dental services.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, if any of the employees of an employer required by paragraph one to offer employees the option of selecting such alternative dental coverage as described in said paragraph are represented by a certified collective bargaining representative, the offer of the option of selecting such alternative coverage as required by said paragraph one shall first be made to such collective bargaining representative. Said representative shall have the right not to accept such offer, thereby exempting the employer from the provisions of this section. If such offer is accepted by such representative, the offer of the option of selecting such alternative coverage shall then be made to each employee. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a union management trust created pursuant to collective bargaining shall, whenever a restricted dental benefits contract as described in paragraph one is proposed, consider offering such alternative dental coverage as described in said paragraph one, provided, however, said trust may offer the dental plan or plans of its choice.

The commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary to effectuate the purpose of this section, including procedures for notice to covered persons, employers and other organizations of the provisions of this section.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 616. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE COMPENSATION OF LOCAL ASSESSMENT COMMITTEE MEMBERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The first paragraph of section 5 of chapter 21D of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– Each member of the committee shall receive, subject to appropriation, fifty dollars for each day or part thereof for his services and shall also receive all reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of his official duties.

SECTION 2. The local assessment committee of any town, established under the authority of section five of chapter twenty-one D of the General Laws, shall be paid, subject to appropriation, the amounts incurred by its members, in accordance with section one, prior to the effective date of this act.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 617. AN ACT AUTHORIZING QUALIFIED PSYCHOLOGISTS TO PERFORM CERTAIN COMPETENCY EVALUATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 15 of chapter 123 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(a) Whenever a court of jurisdiction doubts whether a defendant in a criminal case is competent to stand trial or is criminally responsible by reason of mental illness or mental defect, it may, at any stage of the proceedings after the return of an indictment or the issuance of a criminal complaint against the defendant, order an examination of such defendant to be conducted by one or more qualified physicians or one or more qualified psychologists. Whenever practicable, examinations shall be conducted at the court house or place of detention where the person is being held. When an examination is ordered, the court shall instruct the examining physician or physicians or the examining psychologist or psychologists in the law for determining mental competence to stand trial and criminal responsibility.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 617.

SECTION 2. Paragraph (b) of said section 15 of said chapter 123, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second and third sentences and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:— Copies of the complaints or indictments and the physician's or psychologist's report under paragraph (a) shall be delivered to the facility or said hospital with the person. If, before the expiration of such twenty-day period, an examining qualified physician or an examining qualified psychologist believes that observation for more than twenty days is necessary, he shall so notify the court and shall request in writing an extension of the twenty-day period, specifying the reason or reasons for which such further observation is necessary.

SECTION 3. Said section 15 of said chapter 123, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (c) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

(c) At the conclusion of the examination or the observation period, the examining qualified physician or physicians or the examining qualified psychologist or psychologists shall forthwith give to the court written signed reports of their findings including the clinical findings bearing on the issue of competence to stand trial or criminal responsibility. Such reports shall also contain an opinion, supported by clinical findings, as to whether the defendant is in need of treatment and care offered by the department.

SECTION 4. Said section 15 of said chapter 123, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (f) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

(f) In like manner to the proceedings under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (e), a court may order a psychiatric or psychological examination or a period of observation for an alleged delinquent in a facility to aid the court in its disposition. Such period of observation shall not exceed forty days.

SECTION 5. Section 18 of said chapter 123, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (a) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

(a) If the person in charge of any place of detention within the commonwealth has reason to believe that a person confined therein is in need of hospitalization by reason of mental illness at a facility of the department or at the Bridgewater state hospital, he shall cause such prisoner to be examined at such place of detention by a physician or physicians, or psychologist or psychologists, designated by the department as qualified to perform such examination. Said physician or physicians, or psychologist or psychologists, shall report the results of the examination to the district court which has jurisdiction over the place of detention or, if the prisoner is awaiting trial, to the court which has jurisdiction of the criminal case. Such report shall include an opinion, with reasons therefor, as to whether such hospitalization is actually required. The court which receives such report may order the prisoner to be taken to a facility or, if a male, to the Bridgewater state hospital to be received for examination and observation for a period not to exceed thirty days. After completion of such examination and observation, a written report shall be sent to such court and to the person in charge of the place of detention. Such report shall be signed by the physician or physicians or psychologist or psychologists conducting such examination and shall contain an evaluation, supported by clinical findings, of whether the prisoner is in need of further treatment and care at a facility, or, if a male, the Bridgewater state hospital by reason of mental illness. The person in charge of the place of detention shall have the same right as a superintendent of a facility to file a petition with the court which received the results of the examination for the commitment of the person to a facility or to Bridgewater state hospital; provided, however, that notwithstanding the court's failure, after an initial hearing or after any subsequent hearing, to make the finding required for commitment to the Bridgewater state hospital, the prisoner shall be confined at said hospital if the findings required for commitment to a facility are made and if the commissioner of correction certifies to the court that confinement of the prisoner at said hospital is necessary to insure his continued retention in custody. An initial court order of commitment issued subject to the provisions of this section shall be valid for a six-month period, and all subsequent commitments during the term of the sentence shall take place under the provisions of sections seven and eight and shall be valid for one year.

SECTION 6. Chapter 123 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 19, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 19. In order to determine the mental condition of any party or witness before any court of the commonwealth, the presiding judge may, in his discretion, request the department to assign a qualified physician or psychologist, who, if assigned shall make such examinations as the judge may deem necessary.

Chapter 618. AN ACT ESTABLISHING CERTAIN LICENSING AND PERMIT REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CONDUCT OF AUCTIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter 100 and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:–

CHAPTER 100.
AUCTIONEERS.

Section 1. In this chapter, the following words and terms, unless the context otherwise requires, shall have the following meanings:–

"Auction" or "Public auction", any sale, coming within its ordinary meaning, by public outcry, including in addition thereto, any sale by public outcry where property is offered first at a stated price and thereafter successively or gradually at lower prices until an acceptor or purchaser is found.

"Auctioneer", any person who, for a fee, commission, profit or any other valuable consideration, or with the intention or expectation of receiving the same, by means of, or process of, an auction or sale at auction, offers, negotiates or attempts to negotiate, a listing contract, sale, purchase or exchange of goods, chattels, merchandise, real or personal property, or of any other commodity which may lawfully be kept or offered for sale by or at public auction.

"Auctioneering", the business or act of selling real, personal or mixed property by successive, competitive bids.

"Director", the director of the division of standards in the executive office of consumer affairs, established by section eleven of chapter six A.

"Goods", any chattels, livestock, merchandise, real or personal property, or commodities of any form or type which may be lawfully kept or offered for sale.

"Local auction permit agent", the person or persons so designed in a city by the mayor or in a town by the board of selectmen, or upon a failure to so designate or in the absence, incapacity or unavailability of any person or persons so designated, the chief of police.

"Person", individuals, associations, partnerships and corporations, and the officers, directors and employees of a corporation.

Section 2. No person shall act as an auctioneer in the commonwealth unless licensed therefor by the director. Any adult resident of the commonwealth, and any adult resident of any other state which extends equivalent license eligibility to residents of the commonwealth, shall be eligible for such a license.

Section 3. Any person desiring to be licensed as an auctioneer shall make written application under oath to the director on a form provided by him. Said application shall set forth the name and address of the applicant and of any other person having a financial interest, direct or indirect, in the business to be conducted by the applicant, and such other information as the director shall require. Said application shall be accompanied by a license fee in the amount of one hundred dollars, or such other amount as the secretary of administration and finance pursuant to the provisions of section three B of chapter seven shall establish, together with two letters of recommendation for licensure signed by a licensed auctioneer or by an elected public official or a member of the Massachusetts bar. Said application shall be further accompanied by a bond upon the applicant in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable to the director or his successors with sureties approved by the director, and conditioned on applicant's compliance with the provisions of this chapter. Said bond shall guarantee the payment of all fines and penalties incurred by applicant as a licensee for his violations of the said provisions, and also guarantee the payment or satisfaction of any final judgments on claims by creditors against licensee arising in connection with business done under a license granted under this chapter, all such payments under said bond to be limited to the amount of said bond. Such a creditor's claim, however, must have been duly filed by giving written notice to the director prior to the expiration of sixty days from the return, surrender of said license or date of the filing of an affidavit of loss of the license held by the licensee against whom the claim is made.

The acceptance by an applicant of a license issued by the director to him as a licensee shall be deemed equivalent to an appointment by the licensee of the director, or his successors in office, to be the licensee's true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action or proceeding against him or his executor or administrator, arising out of the transaction of business by him under said license. Any process against the licensee so served shall, if said licensee is notified as hereinafter provided, be of the same legal force and validity as if served on him personally, and the mailing by the director of a copy of such process to said licensee at his last address, as appearing on the director's records, shall be sufficient notice to him of such service. Service of such process shall be made by delivering or mailing duplicate copies thereof together with a fee of two dollars to the office of the director, and the director shall forthwith send one of said copies by mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the defendant licensee named in such process at his last address as appearing on the director's records.

An affidavit of the director, or of any person authorized by him to send such copy, that such copy has been so mailed shall be prima facie evidence thereof. One of the duplicates of such process, certified by the director as having been delivered to the office of the director, shall be sufficient evidence of service upon him as attorney for the licensee named as defendant in the process.

Section 4. No license application conforming to the requirements of section three shall be denied except after a public hearing held by the director in accordance with and subject to the conditions of chapter thirty A. No such application shall be denied except upon a finding by the director after said hearing of one or more of the following grounds for denial: (a) that the applicant has been convicted of a felony; (b) that the applicant has followed a continuous and flagrant course of misrepresentations or the making of false promises, through agents, advertising or otherwise, in the conduct of auctioneering or otherwise; or (c) that the applicant has failed to meet or has violated any of the requirements for licensees set forth in this chapter. Upon denial of an application, the director shall surrender to the applicant the bond filed with his application within the time set forth.

Section 5. Each license issued by the director shall bear a number, shall be valid for one year from the date of its issuance, may be renewed upon application to the director on a form provided by him, shall not be transferable, and may be exercised only by the licensee; provided, however, that the licensee may employ agents to conduct auctioneering under licensee's immediate direction and control.

Section 6. Prior to its expiration date, a license may be suspended or revoked by the director in accordance with the procedure and on the grounds set forth in section four, or may be terminated by voluntary surrender by the licensee.

Upon the expiration, termination or surrender of a license, the licensee shall deliver the license to the director who shall cancel the license, endorse the date of expiration, termination or surrender and shall, after a sixty-day period from the date of delivery or after all claims made against the licensee have been satisfied or settled, surrender the licensee's bond and so notify the surety on the bond.

If a license is lost, misplaced or destroyed, the licensee shall file an affidavit to that effect and the director shall issue a replacement license, clearly identified as such on the license and in the records of the director.

Section 7. The director shall keep on file, in convenient form and open to public inspection, all license applications and copies of licenses issued and shall annually publish a list of names and addresses of all auctioneers licensed by him, and the names of all persons whose licenses have been revoked, suspended or surrendered during the period and the specific time for which such suspension, revocation or surrender became effective.

Section 8. Each licensee shall keep a complete and accurate account of all goods and chattels sold by him, including the names and addresses of the persons from whom they were received. Each licensee shall be responsible for the reporting and collection of sales and use taxes for all sales made by him.

Section 9. No licensee or other person shall: (a) sell or offer for sale at auction goods known by him to be owned by a minor; (b) advertise an auction or goods for sale at an auction in the commonwealth without including the number of the license issued by the director as a part of the advertisement; (c) advertise for sale or sell goods at auction falsely representing that said goods are, in whole or in part, bankrupt or insolvent stock or damaged goods saved from fire, or otherwise falsely represent or mislead any person as to their origin, history or condition; (d) sell, offer for sale or give away in connection with an auction, any goods as prize packages, gifts, premiums or bonus or otherwise as an inducement to purchase any other goods; (e) sell, offer for sale or dispose of goods at auction by chance or lot, or without first exhibiting to prospective bidders all such goods, including those in packages, bundles or containers, except as to auctions of unclaimed articles; (f) employ or knowingly allow, directly or indirectly, any person to act at any auction as a "capper" or "by bidder" or in any like capacity, for the purpose of bidding up the price of any goods in competition with bona fide bidders or for the purpose of encouraging or enticing bona fide bidders to purchase, or for the purpose of stimulating competitive bidding or sales; or personally act in such capacity; or (g) make or knowingly accept any false bid to buy, or pretend to sell or buy goods.

Section 10. No person shall conduct an auction without a special or annual permit issued by the city or town in which the auction is to be conducted. Application for such a permit shall be filed with the local auction permit agent and shall contain the name of the applicant; the name, address and license number of the auctioneer; the hours between which the auction is to be conducted; the location of the auction; and a general description of the goods to be auctioned. As to a special permit, the estimated value of the goods and the date or dates, not to exceed ten, on which the auction shall be held shall also be included.

Within three days of the filing of an application for a special permit, the local auction permit agent shall either approve the permit subject to stated reasonable terms and conditions relating to public safety as he may establish, or deny the application on stated grounds, which must be reasonable grounds relating to public safety. Failure of an agent to act within the three day period shall constitute approval of the application. Upon approval, express or implied, the applicant shall tender to the city or town treasurer the permit fee established by said agent, which fee shall be reasonable.

No person shall be eligible for an annual permit unless he maintains a regular place of business for the conduct of auctioneering in the city or town. Said permit shall be issued or denied on the same terms applicable to a special permit, except that an application which is not acted upon within fourteen days of the date of filing with the local auction permit agent shall be deemed approved. Each annual permit issued shall be valid for a term of one year commencing on the date of the express or implied approval of the application therefor. Any applicant for a special or annual permit who is aggrieved by the action of the local auction permit agent on his application shall be entitled to a public hearing by the appointing authority of the agent in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A.

Section 11. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any auction held or conducted by an order or judgment of any court of the commonwealth or of the United States or by any officer of a municipality, county or state of the United States; sales held by sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables, collectors of taxes, executors, administrators, lien holders, assignees for the benefit of creditors; sales by any other person specifically authorized by law to sell real, personal or mixed property; casual and isolated sales by an owner of his own goods; and any auction held or conducted by any resident member of a charitable, educational, religious or other nonprofit organization within the commonwealth; provided, however, that any person acting as agent for any of the foregoing shall be subject to all of the provisions of this chapter except section ten.

Section 12. Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter may be fined not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any provision of chapter one hundred of the General Laws to the contrary, the director shall issue a license to any auctioneer applying within six months after the effective date of this act who shall pay the required license fee, file the required bond, and give satisfactory proof to the director that he was engaged in the business of auctioneering in the commonwealth at the time that this chapter took effect.

SECTION 3. The provisions of this act shall not affect rights and duties which have matured, penalties which have been incurred, and proceedings which were begun prior to its effective date.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 619. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ENFORCEMENT OF COURT ORDERS UNDER THE MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL RIGHTS ACT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 12 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 11 I the following section:–

Section 11J. In actions brought pursuant to section eleven H or eleven I, whenever the court issues a temporary restraining order or a preliminary or permanent injunction, ordering a defendant to refrain from certain conduct or activities, the order issued shall contain the following statement: VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS A CRIMINAL OFFENSE.

After any such order has been served upon the defendant, any violation of such order shall be punishable by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than two and one-half years in a house of correction, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided, however, that if bodily injury results from such violation, the violation shall be punishable by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than ten years, or both.

The clerk shall transmit two certified copies of each such order issued under section eleven H or eleven I to each appropriate law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over locations where such defendant is alleged to have committed the act giving rise to the action, and such law enforcement agency shall serve one copy of the order upon such defendant. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, service shall be by delivering a copy in hand to the defendant. Law enforcement agencies shall establish procedures adequate to ensure that all officers responsible for the enforcement of the order are informed of the existence and terms of such order. Whenever any law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe that such defendant has violated the provisions of this section, such officer shall have the authority to arrest said defendant.

Following the final disposition of a criminal contempt proceeding initiated by the attorney general for violation of an order issued in an action brought by the attorney general under section eleven H, the commonwealth shall move to dismiss any charges brought under this section against such defendant for such violation of the order.

Whenever the court vacates a temporary restraining order or a preliminary or permanent injunction issued under section eleven H or eleven I, the clerk shall promptly notify in writing each appropriate law enforcement agency which had been notified of the issuance of the order and shall direct each such agency to destroy all record of such vacated order, and such agency shall comply with such directive.

Chapter 624. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR OBJECTIONS TO NOMINATION PAPERS AND PETITIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 55B of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 7, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 7. Objections to certificates of nomination papers, or local ballot questions for city offices shall be filed with the city clerk within two working days of the last day fixed for filing nomination papers, except where city charters provide otherwise. Objections to certificates of nomination, nomination papers, or local ballot questions for town offices shall be filed with the town clerk within two working days of the last day fixed for filing nomination papers, except where town charters provide otherwise.

Objections filed with the city or town clerk shall forthwith be transmitted by him to the board authorized to hear such objections as provided under this section.

Objections to nomination for city offices, except in the city of Boston, or local ballot questions shall be considered by the board of registrars and the city solicitors.

Objections to nominations for town offices, or local ballot questions shall be considered by the board of registrars. Boards in cities and towns may, at hearings on such objections and questions, summon witnesses, administer oaths and require the production of books, records and papers. Such witnesses shall be summoned in the same manner, be paid the same fees, and be subject to the same penalties for default, as witnesses in civil cases before the courts. A summons may be signed, and an oath may be administered by any member of such board.

When such objection has been filed, notice thereof shall be sent forthwith by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, by the city or town clerk to the candidates affected thereby, addressed to their residences as given in the certificate of nomination or nomination papers, and to any party committee interested in the nomination to which such objection has been made; or in the case of local ballot questions to the first five names appearing on the petition or any other persons designated as sponsors of the petition. If more candidates bearing the same designation are nominated for an office, otherwise than by nomination papers, than are to be elected thereto, such boards shall determine the candidates, if any, entitled to such designation. Such boards shall render a decision on any matter referred to them, pertaining to certificates of nomination or nomination papers or local ballot questions for any regular or special city or town primaries or any regular or special city or town election, or to withdrawals of nomination therefore, not later than four days after the last day fixed for filing objections to such certificates papers or questions, or for filing such withdrawals, as the case may be, under this chapter. In the event that any such board fails to render within the aforesaid period its decision on any matter so referred, the city or town clerk shall, notwithstanding such failure, proceed forthwith to cause to be printed the ballots of such primaries of elections.

Chapter 627. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS OF PLUMBERS AND GAS FITTERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 142 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 13, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 13. In all cities and towns, the examiners shall make and from time to time in like manner alter, amend and repeal rules and regulations relative to the construction, alteration, repair and inspection of plumbing in such cities and towns, which rules and regulations shall be reasonable, uniform and based on generally accepted standards of plumbing practice; provided, however, that the application of such rules and regulations may be varied by the examiners in a particular city or town upon petition of the board of health or health department thereof. The examiners shall adopt a regulation requiring all cities and towns to use a uniform application for a permit to perform plumbing work.

The examiners shall make and from time to time in like manner alter, amend, and repeal rules and regulations relative to gas fitting in buildings throughout the commonwealth, and relative to liquefied petroleum gas fitting in buildings throughout the commonwealth, and relative to liquefied petroleum gas fitting containers and regulating

Chapter 628. AN ACT REQUIRING THAT CERTAIN HEALTH INSURANCE PLANS PROVIDE FOR CARDIAC REHABILITATION EXPENSES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 47C the following section:—

Section 47D. Any blanket or general policy of insurance, except a blanket or general policy of insurance which provides supplemental coverage to medicare or other governmental programs, described in subdivision (A), (C) or (D) of section one hundred and ten which provides hospital expense and surgical expense insurance and which is issued or subsequently renewed by agreement between the insurer and the policy holder, within or without the commonwealth, during the period this provision is effective, or any policy of accident or sickness insurance as described in section one hundred and eight which provides hospital expense and surgical expense insurance, except a policy which provides supplemental coverage to medicare or other governmental programs, and which is delivered or issued for delivery or subsequently renewed by agreement between the insurer and the policy holder in the commonwealth, during the period that this provision is effective, or any employees' health and welfare fund which provides hospital expense and surgical expense benefits and which is promulgated or renewed to any person or group of persons in the commonwealth, while this provision is effective, shall provide benefits for the expense of cardiac rehabilitation. Cardiac rehabilitation shall mean multidisciplinary, medically necessary treatment of persons with documented cardiovascular disease, which shall be provided in either a hospital or other setting and which shall meet standards promulgated by the commissioner of public health after reviewing proposals submitted by the Massachusetts Society for Cardiac Rehabilitation, Inc. and after notice and public hearing on the proposed standards. Such standards shall include, but not be limited to, outpatient treatment which is to be initiated within twenty-six weeks after the diagnosis of such disease.

SECTION 2. Chapter 176A of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 8F the following section:–

Section 8G. Any contract, except contracts providing supplemental coverage to medicare or other governmental programs, between a subscriber and the corporation under an individual or group hospital service plan which shall be delivered or issued or renewed in the commonwealth shall provide, as a basic benefit to all individual subscribers and members within the commonwealth and to all group members having a principal place of employment within the commonwealth, for expense for cardiac rehabilitation. Cardiac rehabilitation shall mean multidisciplinary, medically necessary treatment of persons with documented cardiovascular disease, which shall be provided in either a hospital or other setting and which shall meet standards promulgated by the commissioner of public health after reviewing proposals submitted by the Massachusetts Society for Cardiac Rehabilitation, Inc. and after notice and public hearing on the proposed standards. Such standards shall include, but not be limited to, outpatient treatment which is to be initiated within twenty-six weeks after the diagnosis of such disease.

SECTION 3. Chapter 176B of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 4E the following section:–

Section 4F. Any subscription certificate under an individual or group medical service agreement, except certificates which provide supplemental coverage to medicare or other governmental programs, which shall be delivered or issued or renewed in the commonwealth shall provide, as a basic benefit to all individual subscribers and members within the commonwealth and to all group members having a principal place of employment within the commonwealth for expense for cardiac rehabilitation. Cardiac rehabilitation shall mean multidisciplinary, medically necessary treatment of persons with documented cardiovascular disease which shall be provided in either a hospital or other setting and which shall meet standards promulgated by the commissioner of public health after reviewing proposals submitted by the Massachusetts Society for Cardiac Rehabilitation, Inc. and after notice and public hearing on the proposed standards. Such standards shall include, but not be limited to, outpatient treatment which is to be initiated within twenty-six weeks after the diagnosis of such disease.

SECTION 4. Section 4 of chapter 176G of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– Such health maintenance contract shall also provide coverage for cardiac rehabilitation as set forth in section forty-seven D of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

Chapter 631. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE AUTHORITY OF EDUCATION COLLABORATIVES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 40 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 4E, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 631.

Section 4E. Pursuant to the provisions hereof, two or more school committees of cities, towns and regional school districts may enter into a written agreement to conduct education programs and services which shall complement and strengthen the school programs of member school committees and increase educational opportunities for children. The school committees shall collaborate to offer such programs and services, and the association of school committees which is formed pursuant hereof to deliver such programs and services shall be known as an education collaborative.

The education collaborative shall be managed by a board of directors which shall be comprised of one person appointed by each member school committee. Such person shall be either a school committee member or his designee or the superintendent of schools or his designee. Members of said board of directors shall be entitled to a vote according to the terms of the education collaborative agreement. The department of education shall appoint an individual to serve in an advisory capacity to the education collaborative board. Said individual shall not be entitled to vote on any matter which comes before the board of directors of the education collaborative.

The written agreement which shall form the basis of the education collaborative shall set forth the purposes of the program or service, the financial terms and conditions of membership of the education collaborative, the method of termination of the education collaborative and of the withdrawal of member school committees, the procedure for admitting new members and for amending the collaborative agreement, the powers and duties of the board of directors of the education collaborative to operate and manage the education collaborative and any other matter not incompatible with law which the member committees deem advisable. The agreement shall be subject to the approval of the member school committees and the commissioner of education.

Each board of directors of an education collaborative shall establish and manage a trust fund, to be known as an Education Collaborative Trust Fund, and each such fund shall be designated by an appropriate name. All monies contributed by the member municipalities, and all grants or gifts from the federal government, state government, charitable foundations, private corporations, or any other source, shall be paid to the board of directors of the education collaborative and deposited in the aforesaid Fund.

The board of directors of the education collaborative shall appoint a treasurer who may be a treasurer of a city, town or regional school district belonging to such collaborative. Such treasurer shall be authorized, subject to the direction of the board of directors of the education collaborative, to receive and disburse all monies of the trust fund without further appropriation. The treasurer shall give bond annually for the faithful performance of his duties as collaborative treasurer in a form approved by the department of revenue and in such sum, not less than the amount established by said department, as shall be fixed by the board of directors of the education collaborative. The board of directors of the education collaborative in its discretion may pay compensation to the treasurer for his services. No member of the board of directors of the education collaborative shall be eligible to serve as treasurer of said collaborative.

The treasurer of the education collaborative board of directors shall have the authority to make appropriate investments of the monies of the Education Collaborative Trust Fund consistent with the provisions of section fifty-four of chapter forty-four.

The board of directors of the education collaborative shall have the authority to borrow money in anticipation of income for up to ninety days to meet ongoing payroll obligations.

The board of directors of the education collaborative shall have the authority to employ an executive officer who shall serve under the general direction of such board and who shall be responsible for the care and supervision of the education collaborative.

The board of directors of the education collaborative shall be deemed to be a public employer and have the authority to employ personnel, including teachers, to carry out the purposes and functions of the education collaborative. No person shall be eligible for employment by said board of directors as an instructor of children with severe special needs, teacher of children with special needs, teacher, guidance counselor or school psychologist unless such person has been granted a certificate by the board of education under the provisions of section thirty-eight G of chapter seventy-one or section six of chapter seventy-one A or an approval under the regulations promulgated by the board of education under chapter seventy-one B or chapter seventy-four with respect to the type of position for which he seeks employment; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent a board of directors of an education collaborative from prescribing additional qualifications. A board of directors of an education collaborative may, upon its request, be exempted by the board of education for any one school year from the requirements of this section to employ certified or approved personnel when compliance therewith would in the opinion of the board constitute a great hardship.

The board of directors of an education collaborative may contract for the purchase of supplies, materials and services and for the leasing of land, buildings and equipment as deemed necessary by such board of directors.

The education collaborative shall be deemed to be a public entity and shall have standing to sue and to be sued to the same extent as a city, town or regional school district.

A school committee of any city, town or regional school district may authorize the prepayment of monies for any educational program or service of the education collaborative, to the treasurer of an education collaborative, and the city, town or regional school district treasurer shall be required to approve and pay such monies in accordance with the authorization of the school committee.

SECTION 2. Chapter 71 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 71D, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 71D. A school committee of any city, town, or regional school district may authorize the prepayment of tuition for a period not exceeding three months to any approved private school or approved program source which a student is attending under the provisions of chapter seventy-one B, and the city, town or regional school district treasurer shall be required to approve and pay such monies in accordance with the authorization of the school committee.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, no education collaborative agreement between or among the school committees of two or more cities, towns or regional school districts requiring the approval of the department of education, shall be made except under the provisions of this section. Any education collaborative formed under the provisions of section four E of chapter forty of the General Laws shall revise its agreement to conform to the provisions of this section within two years of its passage. Such agreements or any subsequent amendments to collaborative agreements shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner of education.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 632. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PARKING IDENTIFICATION PLATES TO HANDICAPPED PERSONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21 of chapter 40 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out clause (23) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:– (23) For requiring that designated parking spaces for vehicles either owned and operated by disabled veterans or by handicapped persons and bearing the distinctive number plates authorized by section two of chapter ninety, or for vehicles transporting handicapped persons and displaying the special parking identification plate authorized by said section two of said chapter ninety, or for vehicles bearing the official identification of a handicapped person issued by any other state, be provided in public and private off-street parking areas.

(a) Any ordinance or by-law made hereunder shall require any person or body that has lawful control of a public or private way or of improved or enclosed property used as off-street parking areas for businesses, shopping malls, theaters, auditoriums, sporting or recreational facilities, cultural centers, residential dwellings, or for any other place where the public has a right of access as invitees or licensees, to reserve parking spaces in said off-street parking areas for any vehicle owned and operated by a disabled veteran or handicapped person whose vehicle bears the distinguishing license plate authorized by said section two of said chapter ninety or for any vehicle transporting a handicapped person and displaying the special identification plate authorized by section two of chapter ninety or for any vehicle bearing the official identification of a handicapped person issued by any other state, according to the following formula:–

If the number of parking spaces in any such area is more than fifteen but not more than twenty-five, one parking space; more than twenty-five but not more than forty, five per cent of such spaces but not less than two; more than forty but not more than one hundred, four per cent of such spaces but not less than three; more than one hundred but not more than two hundred, three per cent of such spaces but not less than four; more than two hundred but not more than five hundred, two per cent of such spaces but not less than six; more than five hundred but not more than one thousand, one and one-half per cent of such spaces but not less than ten; more than one thousand but not more than two thousand, one per cent of such spaces but not less than fifteen; more than two thousand but less than five thousand, three-fourths of one per cent of such spaces but not less than twenty; and more than five thousand, one-half of one per cent of such spaces but not less than thirty.

(b) Parking spaces designated as reserved under the provisions of paragraph (a) shall be identified by the use of above grade signs with white lettering against a blue background and shall bear the words "Handicapped Parking: Special Plate Required. Unauthorized Vehicles May be Removed at Owner's Expense"; shall be as near as possible to a building entrance or walkway; shall be adjacent to curb ramps or other unobstructed methods permitting sidewalk access to a handicapped person; and shall be twelve feet wide or two eight-foot wide areas with four feet of cross hatch between them.

SECTION 2. Section 22 of said chapter 40, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

No penalty shall be imposed upon any disabled veteran or handicapped person, whose vehicle bears the distinctive number plates, or displays the special parking identification plate authorized by section two of chapter ninety or bears the official identification of a handicapped person issued by any other state, for parking such vehicle on any way for a longer period of time than permitted by said ordinances, by-laws, rules or orders.

SECTION 3. The first paragraph of section 22A of said chapter 40, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– No fee shall be exacted and no penalty shall be imposed for the parking of any vehicle owned and driven by a disabled veteran or by a handicapped person and bearing the distinctive number plates authorized by section two of chapter ninety, or for any vehicle transporting a handicapped person and displaying the special parking identification plate authorized by said section two of said chapter ninety or for any vehicle bearing the official identification of a handicapped person issued by any other state.

SECTION 4. The second paragraph of section 22A of said chapter 40, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– Any city or town acting under this section may further regulate the parking of vehicles on ways within its said control by restricting certain areas thereon for the parking of any vehicle owned and driven by a disabled veteran or handicapped person whose vehicle bears the distinctive number plates authorized by section two of chapter ninety or for any vehicle transporting a handicapped person and displaying the special parking identification plate authorized by said section two of said chapter ninety, or for any vehicle bearing the official identification of a handicapped person issued by any other state, or by prohibiting the parking or standing of any vehicles in such a manner as to obstruct any curb ramp designed for use by handicapped persons. Parking spaces designated as reserved under the provisions of this paragraph shall be identified by the use of above grade blue signs with white lettering against a blue background and shall bear the words "Handicapped Parking: Special Plate Required Unauthorized Vehicles May Be Removed at Owner's Expense"; shall be as near as possible to a building entrance or walkway; shall be adjacent to curb ramps or other unobstructed methods permitting sidewalk access to a handicapped person; and shall be twelve feet wide or two eight-foot wide areas with four feet of cross hatch between them.

SECTION 5. Section 22D of said chapter 40, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– In a city or town which accepts this section, as hereinafter provided, the city council or board of selectmen, or if, in any city or town, some other board or commission is empowered to establish traffic regulations, such other board or commission, may adopt, amend, alter or repeal rules and regulations, with such limitations, if any, as may be deemed proper, authorizing the chief officer of the police department or such sergeants or other officers of higher rank in the police department as he may from time to time designate, to remove, to some convenient place through the agency of a person or persons in the employ of the police department or by an independent contractor selected in accordance with law, by-law, or ordinance, on the basis of competitive bids, any vehicle parked or standing on any part of any way under the control of the municipality in such a manner as to obstruct any curb ramp designed for use by handicapped persons as means of egress to a street or public way, or to occupy or obstruct any parking space reserved for a vehicle used by a disabled veteran or handicapped person whose vehicle bears the distinguishing license plate, or displays the special parking identification plate authorized by section two of chapter ninety, or bears the official identification of a handicapped person issued by any other state, or to impede in any way the removal or plowing of snow or ice or in violation of any rule or regulation which prohibits the parking or standing of all vehicles on such ways or portions thereof at such time and recites that whoever violates it shall be liable to charges for the removal and storage of the vehicles as well as subject to punishment by fine.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 633.

SECTION 6. The sixth paragraph of section 2 of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the third sentence.

SECTION 7. Said section 2 of said chapter 90, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by inserting after the sixth paragraph the following paragraph:–

The registrar may furnish plates displaying the "International Symbol of Access" for a pleasure passenger vehicle owned or leased by and used by a blind person or a person who has suffered the loss or permanent loss of use of one or both feet, or of one or both hands, and the medical advisory board as established by section eight C, may determine such other standards of disability and handicap and of qualification for the issuance of said plates as said board deems proper. The registrar may also furnish a special parking identification plate bearing the "International Symbol of Access" to any person who meets the eligibility requirements for handicapped plates prescribed herein. Said parking identification plate shall be of such size and design as the registrar shall require and shall be numbered and contain the name and a photograph of the person to whom such plate is issued, and shall verify that such person is handicapped and eligible to receive such plate. When used by the bearer, said plate shall be displayed so as to be visible through the left portion of the windshield of a private passenger motor vehicle, and shall be for the exclusive use of the bearer while being transported in said vehicle. Use of the card by any person other than the bearer shall be cause for revocation. Anyone who wrongfully displays a special parking identification plate in a motor vehicle shall be subject to a fine of one hundred dollars. At no time shall the registrar issue to any person both plates displaying the "International Symbol of Access" and a special parking identification plate prescribed herein.

Chapter 637. AN ACT PROMOTING SOLAR ENERGY AND PROTECTING ACCESS TO SUNLIGHT FOR SOLAR ENERGY SYSTEMS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1A of chapter 40A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the definition of "Permit granting authority" the following two definitions:–

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 637.

"Solar access", the access of a solar energy system to direct sunlight.

"Solar energy system", a device or structural design feature, a substantial purpose of which is to provide daylight for interior lighting or provide for the collection, storage and distribution of solar energy for space heating or cooling, electricity generating, or water heating.

SECTION 2. Section 3 of said chapter 40A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

No zoning ordinance or by-law shall prohibit or unreasonably regulate the installation of solar energy systems or the building of structures that facilitate the collection of solar energy, except where necessary to protect the public health, safety or welfare.

SECTION 3. The second paragraph in section 9 of said chapter 40A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Zoning ordinances or by-laws may also provide for special permits authorizing increases in the permissible density of population or intensity of a particular use in a proposed development; provided that the petitioner or applicant shall, as a condition for the grant of said permit, provide certain open space, housing for persons of low or moderate income, traffic or pedestrian improvements, installation of solar energy systems, protection for solar access, or other amenities.

SECTION 4. The fifth paragraph of said section 9 of said chapter 40A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the third sentence the following sentence:– Such open land may be situated to promote and protect maximum solar access within the development.

SECTION 5. The sixth paragraph of said section 9 of said chapter 40A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– Such open space, if any, may be situated to promote and protect maximum solar access within the development.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 40A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 9A, as so appearing, the following section:–

Section 9B. Zoning ordinances or by-laws adopted or amended pursuant to section five of this chapter may encourage the use of solar energy systems and protect solar access by regulation of the orientation of streets, lots and buildings, maximum building height limits, minimum building set back requirements, limitations on the type, height and placement of vegetation and other provisions. Zoning ordinances or by-laws may also establish buffer zones and additional districts that protect solar access which overlap existing zoning districts. Zoning ordinances or by-laws may further regulate the planting and trimming of vegetation on public property to protect the solar access of private and public solar energy systems and buildings. Solar energy systems may be exempted from set back, building height, and roof and lot coverage restrictions.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 637.

Zoning ordinances or by-laws may also provide for special permits to protect access to direct sunlight for solar energy systems. Such ordinances or by-laws may provide that such solar access permits would create an easement to sunlight over neighboring property. Such ordinances or by-laws may also specify what constitutes an impermissible interference with the right to direct sunlight granted by a solar access permit and how to regulate growing vegetation that may interfere with such right. Such ordinances or by-laws may further provide standards for the issuance of solar access permits balancing the need of solar energy systems for direct sunlight with the right of neighboring property owners to the reasonable use of their property within other zoning restrictions. Such ordinances or by-laws may also provide a process for issuance of solar access permits including, but not limited to, notification of affected neighboring property owners, opportunity for a hearing, appeal process and recordation of such permits on burdened and benefited property deeds. Such ordinances or by-laws may further provide for establishment of a solar map identifying all local properties burdened or benefited by solar access permits. Such ordinances or by-laws may also require the examination of such solar maps by the appropriate official prior to the issuance of a building permit.

SECTION 7. The first paragraph of section 7 of chapter 40C of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the second sentence the following sentence:– When ruling on applications for certificates of appropriateness for solar energy systems, as defined in section one A of chapter forty A, the commission shall also consider the policy of the commonwealth to encourage the use of solar energy systems and to protect solar access.

SECTION 8. Section 81M of chapter 41 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the second sentence the following sentence:– Such powers may also be exercised with due regard for the policy of the commonwealth to encourage the use of solar energy and protect the access to direct sunlight of solar energy systems.

SECTION 9. Section 81Q of said chapter 41, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the seventh sentence the following two sentences:– The rules and regulations may encourage the use of solar energy systems and protect to the extent feasible the access to direct sunlight of solar energy systems. Such rules and regulations may include standards for the orientation of new streets, lots and buildings; building set back requirements from property lines; limitations on the type, height and placement, of vegetation; and restrictive covenants protecting solar access not inconsistent with existing local ordinances or by-laws.

SECTION 10. Chapter 184 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 23B, as so appearing, the following section:–

Section 23C. Any provision in an instrument relative to the ownership or use of real property which purports to forbid or unreasonably restrict the installation or use of a solar energy system as defined in section one A of chapter forty A or the building of structures that facilitate the collection of solar energy shall be void.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 638.

SECTION 11. Chapter 187 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 1, as so appearing, the following section:–

Section 1A. An easement of direct sunlight may be acquired over the land of another by express grant or covenant, or by a solar access permit as set forth in section nine B of chapter forty A.

Any instrument creating a solar easement may include, but the contents are not limited to, all of the following:–

(1) A description of the dimensions of the easement expressed in measurable terms, such as verticle or horizontal angles measured in degrees, or the hours of the day on specified dates during which direct sunlight to a specified surface of a solar collector, device, or structural design feature may not be obstructed, or a combination of these descriptions.

(2) The restrictions placed upon vegetation, structures, and other objects which would impair or obstruct the passage of sunlight through the easement.

(3) The amount, if any, of permissible obstruction of the passage of sunlight through the easement, expressed in measurable terms, such as a specific percentage of sunlight that may be obstructed.

(4) The provisions for trimming vegetation that would impermissibly obstruct the passage of sunlight through the easement including any compensation for trimming expenses.

(5) Any provisions for compensation of the owner of property benefiting from the easement in the event of impermissible obstruction of the easement.

(6) The terms or conditions, if any, under which the easement may be revised or terminated.

Any instrument creating a solar easement shall be recorded in the registry of deeds in the county or district or, in the case of registered land, in the registry district of the land court in which the land affected is situated.

SECTION 12. The executive office of energy resources and the executive office of communities and development shall provide technical assistance, including model solar ordinances, by-laws and easement provisions upon request to municipalities and citizens of the commonwealth to aid in the implementation of section one A of chapter one hundred and eighty-seven of the General Laws, inserted by section eleven.

Chapter 640. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE GRANTING OR RENEWING OF CERTAIN LICENSES AND PERMITS IN CITIES AND TOWNS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 40 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following section:–

Section 57. Any city and town which accepts the provisions of this section, may by by-law or ordinance deny any application for, or revoke or suspend any local license or permit including renewals and transfers issued by any board, officer, department for any person, corporation or business enterprise who has neglected or refused to pay any local taxes, fees, assessments, betterments or any other municipal charges. Such by-law or ordinances shall provide that:

(a) The tax collector or other municipal official responsible for records of all municipal taxes, assessments, betterments and other municipal charges, hereinafter referred to as the tax collector, shall annually furnish to each department, board, commission or division, hereinafter referred to as the licensing authority, that issues licenses or permits including renewals and transfers, a list of any person, corporation, or business enterprise, hereinafter referred to as the party, that has neglected or refused to pay any local taxes, fees, assessments, betterments or other municipal charges for not less than a twelve month period, and that such party has not filed in good faith a pending application for an abatement of such tax or a pending petition before the appellate tax board.

(b) The licensing authority may deny, revoke or suspend any license or permit, including renewals and transfers of any party whose name appears on said list furnished to the licensing authority from the tax collector; provided, however, that written notice is given to the party and the tax collector, as required by applicable provisions of law, and the party is given a hearing, to be held not earlier than fourteen days after said notice. Said list shall be prima facie evidence for denial, revocation or suspension of said license or permit to any party. The tax collector shall have the right to intervene in any hearing conducted with respect to such license denial, revocation or suspension. Any findings made by the licensing authority with respect to such license denial, revocation or suspension shall be made only for the purposes of such proceeding and shall not be relevant to or introduced in any other proceeding at law, except for any appeal from such license denial, revocation or suspension. Any license or permit denied, suspended or revoked under this section shall not be reissued or renewed until the license authority receives a certificate issued by the tax collector that the party is in good standing with respect to any and all local taxes, fees, assessments, betterments or other municipal charges, payable to the municipality as the date of issuance of said certificate.

(c) Any party shall be given an opportunity to enter into a payment agreement, thereby allowing the licensing authority to issue a certificate indicating said limitations to the license or permit and the validity of said license shall be conditioned upon the satisfactory compliance with said agreement. Failure to comply with said agreement shall be grounds for the suspension or revocation of said license or permit; provided, however, that the holder be given notice and a hearing as required by applicable provisions of law.

(d) The board of selectmen may waive such denial, suspension or revocation if it finds there is no direct or indirect business interest by the property owner, its officers or stockholders, if any, or members of his immediate family, as defined in section one of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight in the business or activity conducted in or on said property.

This section shall not apply to the following licenses and permits: open burning; section thirteen of chapter forty-eight; bicycle permits; section eleven A of chapter eighty-five; sales of articles for charitable purposes, section thirty-three of chapter one hundred and one; children work permits, section sixty-nine of chapter one hundred and forty-nine; clubs, associations dispensing food or beverage licenses, section twenty-one E of chapter one hundred and forty; dog licenses, section one hundred and thirty-seven of chapter one hundred and forty; fishing, hunting, trapping license, section twelve of chapter one hundred and thirty-one; marriage licenses, section twenty-eight of chapter two hundred and seven and theatrical events, public exhibition permits, section one hundred and eighty-one of chapter one hundred and forty.

A city or town may exclude any local license or permit from this section by by-law or ordinance.

Chapter 641. AN ACT ESTABLISHING AN HISTORIC BUSINESS DISTRICT COMMISSION IN THE TOWN OF CHATHAM

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 641.

AND ESTABLISHING CERTAIN AREAS AS AN HISTORIC BUSINESS DISTRICT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. PURPOSE

The purpose of this act is to promote the cultural, economic and general welfare of the inhabitants of the town of Chatham through the appropriate development of commercial and business districts by (1) protecting and preserving the distinctive characteristics of building and places significant in the history and development of Chatham; (2) maintaining and improving the settings of these buildings and places; and (3) encouraging designs which are compatible with buildings existing in the area, so as to continue to maintain the rural, fishing and residential character and other qualities which distinguish the town as a desirable community for permanent and summer residence.

SECTION 2. ESTABLISHMENT OF AN HISTORIC BUSINESS DISTRICT COMMISSION

There is hereby established in the town of Chatham an historic business district commission consisting of five unpaid members who shall be appointed by the board of selectmen. Said board, in making such appointments, shall use reasonable efforts to include one architect, one realtor and one historian. The original appointment of the members of the historic business district commission shall be one for one year, one for two years, one for three years, one for four years and one for five years from the date of the annual town elections following such appointment, and thereafter there shall be appointed immediately following the annual town elections in each year one member to such commission to serve for the term of five years. Said board shall also appoint two alternate commissioners annually, each to serve for a one year term. Vacancies occurring in the commission, other than by expiration of term of office, shall be filled by appointment by said board, but such appointment shall be only for the unexpired portion of the term of the member replaced.

SECTION 3. DISTRICTS

There is hereby established in the town of Chatham an historic business district, which shall include all the land within the following commercially zoned districts in effect on September ninth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five: General Business- (GB-1), General Business -2 (GB-2), General Business -3 (GB-3), Limited Business - 1 (LB-1) and Residential Business (RB).

SECTION 4. CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS OR STRUCTURES

No building or structure shall hereafter be erected, reconstructed, altered or restored within the historic business district nor shall any building permit be issued by the building inspector unless and until an application for a certificate of appropriateness has been approved or a certificate of nonapplicability issued. Evidence of such required approval shall be a certificate of appropriateness or certificate on nonapplicability issued by the historic business district commission.

SECTION 5. RAZING OR MOVING OF BUILDING OR STRUCTURES

No building or structure within the historic business district shall be razed or moved without first obtaining a permit approved by the historic business district commission. Said commission shall be empowered to refuse such a permit for the removal or razing of any building or structure of such architectural or historic interest, which in the opinion of said commission would be detrimental to the public interest. Any building or structure which, in the opinion of the building inspector, is unsafe or dangerous may be razed if so ordered by the building inspector without a permit being issued by the historic business district commission.

SECTION 6. SIGNS

The erection or display of any sign exceeding two feet in length and six inches in height or the erection or display of more than one such sign, irrespective of size, on any lot, building or structure located within the historic business district must be approved by the historic business commission. Evidence of such approval shall be a certificate of appropriateness or a certificate of nonapplicability issued by said commission. Preexisting signs may remain for a period of twenty-four months following the effective date of this act. Upon expiration of said twenty-four month period, any preexisting sign not approved as set forth in this section shall be removed.

SECTION 7. ORGANIZATION

The historic business district commission shall elect a chairman and secretary. The commission shall meet within twenty-one days after notification by the secretary of the receipt of an application for a certificate of appropriateness, permit for removal or certificate of nonapplicability and at such other times as the commission may determine necessary. The commission shall hold public meetings and keep permanent records of its resolutions, transactions and determinations. The commission may make such rules and regulations consistent with this act as may appear desirable and necessary. The commission shall have the power and authority to perform all the duties as herein enumerated and provided. The commission may incur expenses necessary to the carrying on of its work within the amount of its annual appropriation. The commission is also empowered to charge reasonable application fees to defray its expenses. The commission is empowered to receive and use gifts, bequests and donations for the purposes set forth herein and defray its expenses.

SECTION 8. RULES AND REGULATIONS

The commission shall adopt rules and regulations after a public hearing on the same. Notice of such public hearing shall be advertised in a local newspaper for two consecutive weeks prior to said public hearing. The rules and regulations shall become effective when filed with the town clerk.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 641.

SECTION 9. FUNCTION AND DUTY

It shall be the function and duty of the historic business district commission to pass judgment upon the appropriateness of exterior architectural features of buildings and structures hereafter to be erected, reconstructed, altered or restored in the historic business district, wherever such exterior features are subject to public view from a way, public or private. All plans, elevations and other information deemed necessary by the commission to determine the appropriateness of the exterior features shall be made available to the Commission by the applicant. It shall also be the duty of the Commission to pass judgment upon the razing or moving of any building within said district as set forth in section five and the erection or display of any sign set forth in section six.

SECTION 10. CONSIDERATIONS

The historic business district commission, in passing judgment upon the appropriateness of exterior architectural features, shall keep in mind the purposes set forth in section one and shall consider, among other things, the general design, scale, color, location on the lot, arrangement, texture, material of the building or structure, setting, topography, and landscaping, and the comparison of such features to similar features of buildings and structures in the surrounding area, and the position of such buildings or structures in relation to the streets or ways and to other buildings or structures.

SECTION 11. EXEMPT FEATURES

The historic business district commission shall not consider interior arrangement or building features, not subject to public view.

SECTION 12. DISAPPROVAL

In the case of disapproval, the commission shall state its reasons therefor in writing. The commission may make recommendations to the applicant with respect to appropriateness of design scale, location on lot, arrangement, texture and material, of the building or structure involved, and other features referred to in section ten.

SECTION 13. APPROVAL

Upon approval of the plans by a majority of the commission, the commission shall cause a certificate of appropriateness or permit for removal, dated and signed by the chairman, to be issued to the applicant.

SECTION 14. CONSTRUCTIVE APPROVAL

If the commission fails to take a final vote on any application within sixty days after receipt of an application for a certificate of appropriateness or a permit for removal, the application shall be deemed to be approved except where the applicant has assented to an extension of time.

SECTION 15. VIOLATIONS

Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined two hundred dollars, which shall be forfeited to the use of the town. Each day that a violation continues to exist shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION 16. APPEALS TO BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Appeals may be taken to the board of selectmen within fourteen calendar days of the date appearing on the commission's written decision on appropriateness, by any person aggrieved by the ruling of the historic business district commission. The board of selectmen shall hear and act upon such appeals promptly and the decision of the board shall be as determined by a majority vote of the members of the board.

SECTION 17. APPEALS TO SUPERIOR COURT

Any person or the historic business district commission, aggrieved by the decision of the board of selectmen, may appeal to the superior court sitting in equity for Barnstable county; provided, that such appeal is filed in said court within twenty days after such decision has been mailing to all parties concerned. The court shall hear all pertinent evidence and determine the facts, and upon the facts so determined annul such decision of found to exceed the authority of such Board, or make such other decree as justice and equity may require. The foregoing remedy shall be exclusive, but the parties shall have all rights of appeal and exception as in other equity cases.

SECTION 18. APPEAL AGAINST COMMISSION

Costs shall not be allowed against the historic business district commission or the board of selectmen unless it shall appear to the court that the Commission or the board, in making the appealed decision, acted in bad faith or with malice.

SECTION 19. APPEAL AGAINST APPELLANT

Costs shall not be allowed against the party appealing the decision of the historic business district commission or the board of selectmen unless it shall appear to the court that said appellant or appellants acted in bad faith or with malice in making the appeal to the court.

SECTION 20. SUPERIOR COURT JURISDICTION

The superior court shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce the provisions of this act and the rulings issued thereunder and may restrain by injunction violations thereof.

Chapter 642. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF RENT REGULATION AND THE CONTROL OF EVICTIONS IN MOBILE HOME PARK ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE TOWN OF WARREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 642.

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists in the town of Warren with respect to the housing of a substantial number of the citizens of said town, which emergency has been created by excessive, abnormally high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile home parks located therein: that unless mobile home park rents and eviction of tenants are regulated and controlled, such emergency and the further inflationary pressures resulting therefrom will produce serious threats to the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of Warren, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Warren.

SECTION 2. The town of Warren may, by the adoption of by-laws, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said town, establish a rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, minimum standards for use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and evictions of tenants therefrom and may, by its by-laws, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, information, under penalty of perjury, relating to the mobile home park accommodations. Such rents, standards and evictions may be regulated by the rent board so as to remove hardships or correct inequities for both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Said board shall have all powers necessary or convenient to perform its functions. Said board may make rules and regulations, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, information, under penalty of perjury, relating to the mobile home park accommodations, sue and be sued, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers and information, and issue appropriate orders which shall be binding on both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Violations of any by-laws adopted pursuant to this act or any order of said rent board shall be punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for any one offense.

SECTION 3. In regulating such rents, the rent board established under section two may make such individual or general adjustments, either upward or downward, as may be necessary to assure that rents for mobile home park accommodations in the town are established at levels which yield to owners a fair net operating income for such units. Fair net operating income shall be that income which yields a return, after all reasonable operating expenses, on the fair market value of the property equal to the debt service rate generally available from institutional first mortgage lenders or such other rate of return as said board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as said board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

Said town in its by-laws, or the rent board by regulation, may establish further standards and rules consistent with this act.

SECTION 4. The provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be applicable to the rent board, established under section two, as if said board were an agency of the commonwealth, including those provisions giving agencies the power to issue, vacate, modify and enforce subpoenas, and those provisions relating to judicial review of an agency order.

SECTION 5. The Spencer division of the district court department shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with the superior court, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

The superior court department shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act, and any by-laws adopted thereunder, and may restrain violations thereof.

SECTION 6. The town of Warren may by by-laws regulate the evictions of tenants, and the rent board, established under section two, may issue orders which shall be a defense to an action of summary process for possession and orders shall be reviewable pursuant to sections two and three.

SECTION 7. The personnel of the rent board established under section two shall not be subject to the provisions of section nine A of chapter thirty or chapter thirty-one of the General Laws.

SECTION 8. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the town of Warren.

Approved December 23, 1985.

Chapter 643. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENT FUND IN THE TOWN OF SAUGUS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the town of Saugus is hereby authorized to establish and create a separate fund to be known as the Water System Improvement Fund. There shall be credited to such fund an amount from collected water receipts equal to fifteen cents of the water rate, and such further amounts from water receipts or any other source as the town meeting may, from time to time, designate by majority vote. All income earned on amounts deposited in said fund shall be added to and become a part of the fund.

Amounts deposited or credited to said fund shall be appropriated by a majority vote of the town meeting for no other purpose other than for capital improvements to the water system of the town. In no event shall such amounts be used for salaries or expenses relating to the operation or ordinary maintenance of said system.

The treasurer of the town of Saugus shall be the custodian of said fund and may deposit or invest amounts deposited or credited thereto in such manner as may be authorized under section fifty-five of chapter forty-four of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. All votes and acts of the town of Saugus heretofore reserving and appropriating amounts deposited or credited for water improvements are hereby ratified, validated and confirmed.

Chapter 644. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE INSTALLATION OF CABLE TELEVISION SYSTEM FACILITIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19 of chapter 166A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:-- The hearing provided for in sections eleven, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen and twenty-two, shall be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A.

SECTION 2. Section 22 of said chapter 166A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fifth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following six paragraphs:--

No person owning, leasing, controlling or managing a multiple dwelling unit or units served by a CATV system shall discriminate in rental or other charges between tenants who subscribe to such CATV services, and those who do not; provided, however, that the owner of such real estate may require reasonable compensation in exchange for permitting the installation of CATV system equipment within and upon such real estate, to be paid by an operator, said compensation to be determined in accordance with the provisions of this section.

No person owning, leasing, controlling or managing a multiple dwelling unit or units shall prohibit or otherwise prevent an operator from entering such buildings for the purposes of constructing, installing or servicing CATV system facilities if one or more tenants or occupants of a multiple dwelling unit or units have requested such CATV services. A cable television operator shall not make an installation in an individual dwelling unit unless permission has been given by the tenant occupying said unit.

If the owner of such multiple dwelling unit intends to require the payment of a sum in excess of one dollar in exchange for permitting the installation of CATV system facilities, such owner shall serve written notice thereof upon the operator within twenty days of the date when such owner is notified that the operator intends to construct or install CATV system facilities in his multiple dwelling unit. Unless timely notice, as herein provided, is given by the owner to the operator, it shall be presumed conclusively that the owner does not claim or intend to require the payment of a sum in excess of a one time payment of one dollar in exchange and as compensation for permitting the installation of CATV system facilities.

Any owner who has given timely notice to the operator may assert a claim for reasonable compensation in excess of one dollar for permitting the installation of CATV system facilities. Within thirty days after notice has been given by said owner of his intent to demand additional compensation, the owner shall advise the operator in writing of the amount claimed as reasonable compensation. If within sixty days after the receipt of the owner's claim the operator has not agreed to pay the amount claimed or some other amount acceptable to the owner, the owner may bring an action before the commission pursuant to such rules and regulations as the commission may promulgate to enforce such claim for compensation. Any such action shall be brought within six months of the notice informing the operator of the amount claimed. In any action brought to enforce such right, it shall be presumed that reasonable compensation therefor shall be one dollar, but such presumption may be rebutted and, overcome by evidence that the owner has a specific alternative use for the space occupied by CATV system facilities or equipment, the loss of which shall result in a monetary loss to the owner, or that installation of CATV system facilities or equipment upon such multiple dwelling unit will otherwise substantially interfere with the use and occupancy of such unit to an extent which causes a decrease in the resale or rental value of such real estate. In determining the damages to any such real estate injured when no part of it is being taken, consideration is to be given only to such injury as is special and peculiar to such real estate and there shall be deducted therefrom the amount of any benefit to such real estate by reason of the installation of CATV system facilities.

Neither the giving of a notice as described above, nor the assertion of a specific claim, nor the initiation of legal action to enforce such claim, shall delay or impair the right of an operator to construct, install or repair CATV system facilities and maintain said CATV services. The superior court shall have original jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this section.

A cable television operator shall indemnify the landlord for any damage caused by the installation, operation or removal of cable television facilities. An owner of property may require that the installation of cable television facilities conform to such reasonable conditions as are necessary to protect the safety, functioning and appearance of the premises, and the convenience and well being of other tenants.

Chapter 654. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE USE OF CERTAIN EYE DROPS BY OPTOMETRISTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 13 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 16, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 654.

inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 16. There shall be a board of registration in optometry, in the following sections called the board, consisting of five members, citizens of the commonwealth to be appointed by the governor, four of whom shall have been engaged in the practice of optometry as defined in section sixty-six of chapter one hundred and twelve for the five years next preceding their appointment, and one of whom shall be a representative of the public, subject to the provisions of section nine B. One member shall annually, in September, be appointed by the governor for a term of five years. No member of the board shall be a stockholder of any school of optometry, a member of the faculty or on the board of trustees thereof, or financially interested in a manufacturing or wholesale optical business. No registered optometrist shall be appointed or reappointed to the board unless he is certified for use of diagnostic pharmaceutical agents under the provisions of section sixty-six A of said chapter one hundred and twelve.

SECTION 2. Paragraph (d) of section 7 of chapter 94C of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following subparagraph:–

(10) a duly licensed optometrist who utilizes diagnostic pharmaceutical agents, as defined in section sixty-six A of chapter one hundred and twelve, and who qualifies to utilize such agents for the purpose of conducting an examination of the eye as provided in sections sixty-six A and sixty-eight A of chapter one hundred and twelve; provided, however, that a wholesale distributor or pharmacist may dispense such diagnostic pharmaceutical agents to a licensed optometrist for subsequent administration to optometry patients only if such optometrist provides the wholesale distributor or pharmacist with the number of the optometrist's certification of qualification to administer such diagnostic pharmaceutical agents.

SECTION 3. Chapter 112 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 66, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:–

Section 66. The practice of optometry, as referred to in section sixty-seven to seventy-three, inclusive, shall mean the employment of any method or means, other than the use of drugs except as authorized under the provisions of sixty-six A, for the diagnosis of any optical defect, deficiency or deformity of the human eye or visual or muscular anomaly of the visual system or the adaptation or prescribing of lenses, prisms or ocular exercises for the correction, relief or aid of the visual functions.

Section 66A. Any registered optometrist qualified by examination for practice under the provisions of section sixty-eight subsequent to January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four or duly certified in accordance with the provisions of section sixty-eight A may for the purpose of conducting an examination of the eye, and not for therapeutic purposes, utilize the topical application to the eye of diagnostic pharmaceutical agents; provided, however, that such diagnostic pharmaceutical agents shall not be administered to children under the age of four years or used in the examination of pseudophakes with intraocular lens implants.

For purposes of this section and sections sixty-eight and sixty-eight A, the term "diagnostic pharmaceutical agents" shall mean any topical anesthetic, mydriatic, or cyclopegic drug, except atropine and phenylephrine hydrochloride in ten per cent concentration, suitable for ocular examination procedures.

If during the course of examining a patient, the optometrist determines the existence of: (a) ocular pressure greater than twenty-four MM, or (b) any unexplained loss of visual field, or (c) a failure on the part of the individual being examined to achieve 20/40 or better corrected vision in each eye, or (d) signs of disease, the patient shall be referred to a licensed physician, unless such condition has been previously evaluated by a physician or unless the optometrist reports in writing that such referral is not warranted and documents the reasons therefor on the records of such patient.

Section 68A. The board of registration in optometry shall annually administer an examination designed to measure the qualifications necessary in order to safely utilize the optical application of the diagnostic pharmaceutical agents provided for in section sixty-six A. Said examination shall be held in conjunction with the examination provided for in section sixty-eight and shall include any portion of the annual examination prepared by the National Board of Examiners in Optometry which covers the subject matter of pharmacology.

Such examination shall be open upon application to any optometrist registered under the provisions of this chapter and to any person who meets the qualifications for examination under section sixty-eight; provided, however, that each applicant shall furnish to the board satisfactory evidence of the completion of a qualifying course of study relating to the topical application to the eye of diagnostic pharmaceutical agents. Such a qualifying course of study shall be at a duly accredited medical school or college of optometry. The board shall, from time to time, adopt rules and regulations prescribing the content of said course of study; provided, however, that said course of study shall require a combined total of at least ninety-five hours of study and shall include the following areas of study or their equivalent:

(A) General pharmacology: four hours in biochemistry; eight hours in general physiology; eight hours in pharmacology; and ten hours in indications and ocular effects of commonly prescribed drugs.

(B) Ocular pharmacology: eight hours in ocular pharmacology and eight hours in the study of particular topically applied agents, including but not limited to, anesthetics, dyes, mydriatics, cyclopegics, and contact lens solutions.

(C) Interpretation and patient management: six hours each in the study of anterior and posterior segment; two hours in glaucoma; and one hour in ocular emergency.

ACTS, 1985. – Chaps. 655, 656.

(D) Cardiopulmonary resuscitation: four hours.

(E) Supervised clinical practice: thirty hours.

Chapter 656. AN ACT AUTHORIZING REAL ESTATE TAX EXEMPTIONS TO CERTAIN VETERANS WHO RESIDE IN THE CITY OF NEWTON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Real estate of any persons who is a resident of the commonwealth and who resides in the city of Newton and who is a veteran, as defined in clause forty-three of section seven of chapter four of the General Laws, and whose last discharge or release from the armed forces of the United States was under other than dishonorable conditions, and who was domiciled in the commonwealth for at least six months prior to entering such service, or who has resided in the commonwealth for five consecutive years next prior to the date of filing for exemption under this act, who according to the records of the Veterans Administration or of any branch of the armed forces by reason of such wartime service in the armed forces of the United States has suffered in the line of duty the loss or loss of use of both legs so as to preclude locomotion without the aid of a wheel chair, regardless of whether the Veterans Administration has certified such veteran to be a paraplegic, shall be exempt from taxation under chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, provided, that such real estate is occupied as his domicile by such person, and provided, further, that if said property be greater than a single family house then only that value of so much of said house as is occupied by said person as his domicile shall be exempted from taxation under said chapter fifty-nine.

The date of determination as to ownership or other qualifying factors required under this act shall be July first of each year. Any person who receives an exemption under this act shall not receive another exemption under any other provision of section five of said chapter fifty-nine, except clauses Eighteenth or Forty-fifth.

After the assessors have allowed an exemption under this act, no further evidence of the existence of the facts required by this act shall be required in any subsequent year.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-seven C of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws, the state treasurer shall not reimburse the city of Newton for any loss of taxes resulting from an exemption allowed under this act.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Chapter 657. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE PAYMENT OF CERTAIN COMMONWEALTH CHECKS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate the payment of certain commonwealth checks, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 29 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 32, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

ACTS, 1985. – Chaps. 658, 659.

Section 32. Any check issued by the state treasurer or by any agent or agency of the commonwealth, other than checks issued in payment of obligations of the state board of retirement and the teachers' retirement board, which is not presented for payment within one year from its date shall be payable only at the office of the state treasurer. On the thirtieth day of June in each year the comptroller shall transfer to the abandoned property fund all funds which are identified by the state treasurer as funds of the commonwealth which have remained in the unclaimed check fund for at least one year. On such date, the comptroller also shall refund to the unemployment compensation fund and to each applicable account of monies separately accounted for by the comptroller as other than commonwealth monies, such amounts which in the opinion of the state treasurer represent all monies of such unemployment compensation fund or such account which have remained in the unclaimed check fund for at least one year. All checks issued in payment of obligations of the state board of retirement and the teachers' retirement board shall be payable only in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (3) of section eleven of chapter thirty-two.

Chapter 659. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE PENALTY FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF A SHIP OR VESSEL.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 108 of chapter 266 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "years", in line 5, the words:– or imprisonment in a jail for not more than two and one-half years.

SECTION 2. Said section 108 of said chapter 266, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following six paragraphs:–

A person found guilty of violating this section shall, in addition to any other punishment, be ordered to make restitution to the insurer or owner for any financial loss sustained as a result of the commission of the crime except as hereinafter provided. Restitution shall be imposed in addition to incarceration or fine. In the case of an indigent defendant, the court may determine that the interests of the victim and of justice would not be served by ordering such restitution. In such case, the court shall make specific written findings of the evidence presented which militated against the imposition of restitution.

The court shall, after conviction, conduct an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the extent of the damages or financial loss suffered as a result of the defendant's crime and may then determine the amount and method of restitution. In so determining, the court shall consider the financial resources of the defendant and the burden restitution will impose on the defendant. The defendant's present and future ability to make such restitution shall be considered.

A defendant ordered to make restitution may petition the court for remission from any payment of restitution or from any unpaid portion thereof. If the court finds that the payment of restitution due will impose an undue financial hardship on the defendant or his family, the court may grant remission from any payment of restitution or modify the time and method of payment.

If a defendant who is required to make restitution defaults in any payment of restitution or installment thereof, the court may hold him in contempt unless said defendant has made a good faith effort to make restitution. If the defendant has made such good faith effort, the court may, upon motion of the defendant, modify the order requiring restitution by:

- (a) providing for additional time to make any payment in restitution;
- (b) reducing the amount of any payment in restitution or installment thereof;
- (c) granting a remission from any payment of restitution or part thereof.

Restitution shall not be authorized to a party whom the court determines to be aggrieved, without such party's consent.

Chapter 671. AN ACT RELATIVE TO MEDICAL MALPRACTICE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is, in part, to guarantee the continued affordability of medical malpractice insurance, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding any provision of the general or special laws to the contrary, premium charges for medical malpractice insurance for physicians and surgeons insured by the medical malpractice joint underwriting association established pursuant to section six of chapter three hundred and sixty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five and by any insurance company with respect to policies issued on or after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, shall be equal to the premium charges contained in the decision of the Commissioner of Insurance dated May eighteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

Premium charges with respect to policies of medical malpractice insurance for physicians and surgeons issued by the Joint Underwriting Association or any insurance company on or after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four shall be subject, effective May first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, to the provisions of section five A of chapter one hundred and seventy-five A of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any provisions of the general or special laws to the contrary, the medical malpractice joint underwriting association established pursuant to section six of chapter three hundred and sixty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five shall be subject to an audit by the State Auditor. The State Auditor shall be reimbursed by the Massachusetts Medical Society for the actual cost of performing said audit.

An audit performed pursuant to this section shall include, but not be limited to, the following matters: an analysis of the ratio of premium dollars to incurred but not reported losses, management procedures, risk management procedures, the composition of the board of directors, reserve limits and adequacy, reserve methodologies, claims nature and breakdown in accordance with settlements and judgements, general accounting procedures, and overall fiscal soundness.

The State Auditor shall report its findings and recommendations to the Joint Legislative Committee on Insurance on or before April thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 3. Section two of this act shall expire on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Chapter 672. AN ACT INCREASING AMOUNTS OF LOANS BY BANKS TO CERTAIN OFFICERS AND BOARD MEMBERS OF SAID CORPORATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 168 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 19, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 19. No such corporation shall, except as hereinafter provided, make any loan or extend credit in any other manner to any or its operating officers or to any of its trustees, including a member of its board of investment, and no such operating officer or such trustee shall, except as hereinafter provided, borrow from or otherwise become indebted to such corporation or be surety for loans by it to others or, directly or indirectly, whether acting individually or as trustee holding property in trust for another person, be an obligor for money borrowed of the corporation; provided, however, that with the prior approval of a majority of the entire board of investment, excluding any member thereof involved in the loan or extension of credit, such corporation may make a loan or extend credit to such operating officer in an amount not exceeding twenty thousand dollars on a loan or extension of credit, secured or unsecured and in an amount not exceeding sixty thousand dollars on a loan or extension of credit intended or secured for educational purposes, and in an amount not exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars on a loan secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a single family dwelling which is, or is to be, occupied by such operating officer, or to such trustee, who is not an operating officer of such corporation, subject to the limitations contained in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven E. Such corporation shall not give a preferential rate of interest or other preferential terms on any such loan or extension of credit to any such operating officer or to any such trustee. Any loans or extensions of credit made hereunder shall be subject to the provisions of section twenty.

No operating officer, whether acting individually or as trustee holding property in trust for another person, shall become the owner of real estate upon which a mortgage is held by the corporation; provided, however, that this prohibition shall not apply to any operating officer who becomes the owner of real estate upon which a mortgage is held by the corporation securing a loan in an amount not exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars on real estate improved with a single family dwelling which is occupied or which is to be occupied by such operating officer. The provisions of this section shall not apply to loans made to any operating officer on deposit books, or to loans as are guaranteed or insured in whole or in part as authorized by chapter forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-five or by any regulations thereunder.

The above described premises are subject to easements and rights-of-way as may exist.

"Lands", the land and the abutting reservation land.

"Master Planner", the person selected by the department who shall formulate the plan.

"Permanently alienate", to sell the fee simple, to lease for a term of more than ninety-nine years or otherwise to dispose of real estate without a reversionary right retained in the commonwealth.

"Plan", a master plan, as defined in section thirty-nine A of chapter seven of the General Laws, which plan shall outline the uses of the Land as well as the facilities and improvements thereon.

"Purposes", those general recreational purposes to be established pursuant to the plan as well as the residential and commercial use developed in connection therewith.

SECTION 2. The first sentence of the second paragraph of section one of chapter four hundred and forty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. The Mount Greylock state reservation benefits the commonwealth with unique scenic, natural and historic qualities. Said reservation shall be managed so as to preserve and protect those qualities. In particular, no downhill ski facilities, including without limitation any aerial tramway, ski lift or associated equipment, shall be constructed within the Mount Greylock state reservation.

SECTION 3A. In addition to and not in derogation of the protection provided in sections three A and three B, the unanimous consent of all members of the board shall be required for any of the following actions:

(1) any new disposition of any interest in, or any part of any interest in, the Mount Greylock state reservation, but not including renewals or extensions of existing leasehold interests;

(2) the construction of an aerial tramway, chair lift or associated downhill ski facilities within the Mt. Greylock State Reservation;

(3) major capital improvements within the Mt. Greylock State Reservation, as defined in regulations to be promulgated by the board of environmental management; provided however, that the foregoing provisions of clauses (1) and (3) shall not apply to the lands.

SECTION 4. Chapter 21 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 2 and 2A, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 676.

Section 2. The department shall be under the control of a board, which board shall consist of seven members appointed by the governor for terms of seven years. Upon the expiration of the terms of the current members of the board, all additional appointments by the governor, except those made to fill a vacancy in an unexpired term, shall be for terms of seven years.

The two new members of the board of environmental management provided for in this section shall be appointed to serve terms of six and seven years, respectively, but thereafter the appointments of the successors of such new members, except an appointment made to fill a vacancy in an unexpired term, shall be for seven years.

Section 2A. The members of the board of environmental management shall be selected with due regard to geographical distribution; provided, however, that except as hereinafter provided no more than one such member shall be appointed from the same county and one member of said board shall be a resident of Berkshire county.

The commissioner shall request each of the boards of trustees or directors of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, the Massachusetts Chapter of the Sierra Club, the Massachusetts Chapter of the Appalachian Mountain Club, and the Trustees of Reservations, to nominate three candidates for the seventh member of the board. From the nominations received from the several boards of such organizations, the commissioner shall select three candidates whom he shall recommend to the governor. The governor shall appoint the seventh member of the board from among the candidates recommended by the commissioner, which member shall be appointed without regard to the county membership restrictions outlined above.

SECTION 4A. Section 2B of said chapter 21, as amended by chapter 272 of the acts of 1985, is hereby further amended by adding the following two paragraphs:–

Prior to such removal, however, the chairperson of the board of environmental management shall certify the unexcused absence of said board member from three consecutive meetings by filing a certificate to that effect with the commissioner of the department of environmental management and the secretary of the commonwealth. Upon the filing of such certificates, such a member's position shall be deemed vacant and the governor shall appoint a successor thereto. In case of the resignation, removal or death of a board member, said member's successor shall be appointed to fill the remainder of the unexpired term subject to the same terms and conditions as said member, so-called.

The provisions concerning the absence of a board member from three consecutive meetings shall not apply to the absence of any current board members from meetings prior to the passage of such provisions.

SECTION 4B. Said chapter 21 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 2E the following section:–

Section 2F. The commissioner shall submit management plans to the board for such board's adoption with respect to the Mount Greylock state reservation and all other state reservations, parks, and forests under the management of the department. The management plans shall include guidelines for the operation and land stewardship of the aforementioned state reservations, parks, and forests. Within thirty days of the adoption of such management plan or plans, as amended from time to time, the commissioner shall file a copy of such plan or plans as adopted by the board with the state secretary.

SECTION 5. Except as expressly specified in this act, the provisions of sections thirty-eight A one-half to forty M, inclusive, of chapter seven of the General Laws shall not apply to the acquisition, control and disposition of real property pursuant to this act, and any buildings, structures, facilities and improvements to be constructed or altered on the lands shall not be capital facility projects as defined by section thirty-nine A of said chapter seven.

The commonwealth, through the division and in consultation with the commissioner, is hereby authorized to acquire the Land located in the town of Adams by purchase, eminent domain, pursuant to chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or otherwise, for general recreational purposes and for the development of those residential and commercial facilities and improvements thereon which the commissioner deems appropriate for the successful realization of said recreational purposes; provided, however, that, in exercising its authority to acquire the land hereunder, the division shall comply with the provisions of sections forty H and forty I of said chapter seven, and, provided, further, that the land shall be considered to possess unique qualities for purposes of section forty H of said chapter seven. Prior to acquiring the land, the commissioner shall obtain two appraisals of the land in accordance with section twelve of said chapter seventy-nine and shall file such appraisals with the department before acquiring the land.

In connection with the development, operation and implementation of the plan, there is hereby authorized a change in the use of the abutting reservation land from its current use as conservation and recreation land to those recreational, residential and commercial uses necessary or appropriate to implement the plan and the purposes of this act; provided, however, that the Mount Greylock state reservation shall remain open to the public and no user fee shall be paid to any private party involved in the operations of the land for the use of the Mount Greylock state reservation, except for the use of said abutting reservation land and for certain ski-touring trails to be operated on the Mount Greylock state reservation. In no event may the division permanently alienate the abutting reservation land.

The division, in consultation with the department, is further authorized to dispose of the lands, in whole or in part, pursuant to a sale or sales, long term lease or leases or otherwise, to one or more individuals, partnerships, corporations or joint ventures, as the department shall deem appropriate upon a finding by the commissioner that (a) the disposition will promote the realization of the purposes of this act; (b) the disposition implements the plan; (c) under the disposition documents, and as more fully set forth below, the department or the division will retain sufficient design review approval and such other means of design and use control authorized hereunder as will protect the unique scenic, natural and historic qualities of the adjacent Mount Greylock state reservation; provided, however, that the abutting reservation land may not be permanently alienated, and any disposition of the lands shall be on such terms and conditions determined by the commissioner to be in the best interests of the commonwealth; and provided, further, that any such disposition shall comply with the terms of section eight.

The execution of a quitclaim deed, lease, memorandum of lease or other instrument on behalf of the commonwealth by the division conveying an interest in the lands, or any part of any interest therein, shall be conclusive for all third parties and grantees of any such interests relying thereon in good faith as to the power and authority of the division to execute such instruments, except as to any instrument purporting to permanently alienate the abutting reservation land.

SECTION 6. The department shall produce a report on the proposed development of the lands, and shall file such report with the clerk of each branch of the General Court at least thirty days prior to the acquisition of any of the land. Such report shall contain a finding by the commissioner, which may be based upon reports from consultants or expressions of interest from prospective developers with appropriate financial resources, that the facilities and improvements anticipated to be financed by private investment may be reasonably expected to attract such investment.

Said report on the proposed development of the lands shall include a master plan, and information concerning (1) anticipated publicly paid capital and operating costs over the first five years of operation; (2) sources and application of revenues; (3) market study results indicating the probability of success of the project; (4) minimum private investment needed for success; (5) feasibility of obtaining the minimum required private investment; (6) public benefits to be realized from development of the project; (7) a copy of the plan of the abutting reservation land as defined in section two; and (8) a copy of the plan of the land as defined in section two.

The master planner shall formulate, and the commissioner shall approve, a plan for the development of the lands, which plan shall implement the purposes by outlining the proposed uses of the lands as well as the facilities and improvements thereon with sufficient specificity so as to serve as a basis for the solicitation of proposals by private parties for the development of the lands. The master planner may request the assistance of the director of programming under section forty-one B of chapter seven of the General Laws in the development of the plan and its constituent facilities and improvements.

The commissioner shall provide at least thirty days' notice of a hearing on reuse restrictions with respect to the lands, said hearing to be conducted pursuant to paragraphs six and seven of section forty F one-half of said chapter seven; provided, however, that there need be only one such hearing on reuse restrictions after the adoption of the plan.

The plan shall not permit any ski-lift equipment, including, without limitation, chair lifts and aerial tramways, to extend into the Mount Greylock state reservation.

SECTION 7. The department shall select a master planner for the project pursuant to the procedures outlined in sections thirty-eight A one-half to thirty-eight O, inclusive, of chapter seven of the General Laws, which master planner shall formulate the plan described in section six. The department shall control and supervise all aspects of the project which are not building projects as defined in section thirty-nine A of said chapter seven. Any public building projects on the lands shall be subject to section thirty-eight A one-half to thirty-eight O, inclusive, of said chapter seven.

SECTION 8. The division, in consultation with the commissioner, shall dispose of such portion or portions of the lands as he deems necessary or appropriate to implement the plan and the purposes hereof in accordance with the provisions of sections forty H, forty J and forty K of chapter seven of the General Laws. The division, in consultation with the commissioner, shall select such means of disposition, by sale, lease or otherwise, as he deems appropriate to implement the plan. The commissioner may negotiate with and select from among those persons submitting proposals so as to best implement the plan and the purposes of this act. No less than two weeks before first publishing notice under section forty H of said chapter seven of a request for proposals or bids for any disposition of the lands and any improvements thereon, the commissioner shall provide a draft of the request for proposals or bids to the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations for his comments and recommendations.

All instruments of acquisition and disposition shall be transmitted to the division of capital planning and operations pursuant to section forty K of said chapter seven.

Compliance with section forty-nine A of chapter sixty-two C of the General Laws shall be required of all persons and entities acquiring any interest in the lands.

The design and construction of any public building project shall be subject to the control and supervision of the division; but the use, maintenance or alteration of the lands or any facility, structure or improvement on the lands by developers, lessees or other transferees shall be subject to the supervision and design review approval of the commissioner, and the commissioner is hereby authorized to enter into contracts for the use, maintenance and alteration of the lands or any facilities improvements thereon. Any development or construction contract, and all leases, sales or other disposition documents executed in connection with the implementation of the plan shall comply with the provisions hereof and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the division and the commissioner are hereby authorized to place restrictive covenants in instruments disposing of the lands, or providing for the use, maintenance or alteration of the lands or any facilities or improvements thereon, to ensure compliance with the plan and the terms of this act, and the division may retain such rights of reversion as it deems advisable in such instruments to protect against uses and structures in violation of the plan and the terms of this act; provided, however, that the department shall require a reasonable return from the developer or developers; and provided further, that the department shall deposit all revenues collected pursuant to the provisions of this section in the state recreation areas fund.

SECTION 9. To satisfy the expenditures necessary to carry forward the provisions of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of eight million five hundred thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face Greylock Glen Development Loan Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to section three of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments authorized by this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rate as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such term, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the General Court in accordance with section three of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-six. Notes and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this act notwithstanding any other provisions of this act shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

The department is authorized to use the proceeds of the bonds and notes to be issued pursuant to this act and those funds previously appropriated to it for its general purposes for the acquisition and development of the lands and for associated costs including, without limitation, pilot operations programs, general planning, furnishings, equipment, and grants to the town of Adams, which grants shall not exceed forty-five thousand dollars, for land use planning studies in connection with the proposed development.

The department is further authorized to receive and accept any federal aid grants or private gifts or bequests to aid it in the development of the project.

Proceeds of the bonds and notes issued under the authority of this act and amounts appropriated to the use of the department may also be used for the acquisition, by purchase, eminent domain, pursuant to chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or otherwise, of the development rights in (a) the Gould Farm and (b) the Jaeschke Apple Orchard.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 677.

SECTION 10. Prior to the implementation of the plan and prior to the commencement of any construction or the execution of any disposition agreement conveying any of the department's interests in the Lands to third parties, the department shall prepare an environmental impact report subject to the approval of the secretary of environmental affairs, and the implementation of the plan shall comply with the terms and conditions of sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

Approved December 27, 1985.

Town of Eastham;

Thence S 02°-31'-30"E, a distance of 40 feet along said land of said Town, to a concrete bound and the point of beginning.

Being shown on a plan of land entitled "Plan of Easement For: Town of Eastham Eastham, Mass.," scale: 1"=40', dated December 14, 1984, prepared by James H. Bowman, Civil Engineer and Land Surveyor, of Orleans, Mass., recorded in the registry of deeds in Barnstable county, in Plan Book 391, Page 56.

SECTION 2. In consideration for the conveyance provided for in section one, the town of Eastham shall pay fair market value to the commonwealth, which value may be based on an appraisal or appraisals done by independent, commissioned appraisers from a list approved by the department of environmental management and paid for by said town, but shall in no event be less than the proportionate amount of the monetary damages awarded The Penn Central Corporation, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by said department pursuant to an order of taking dated September 28, 1984, and recorded with the registry of deeds in Barnstable county in Book 4281, Page 93. Payment may be money or land or other mutually agreeable consideration.

The department shall not restrict the uses to which the proposed easement or way may be put to less than those normally associated with town public ways unless necessary to ensure the safety of the public using the recreational trail developed on remaining land of the commonwealth.

Said town shall not use or allow uses of the easement hereby authorized which disrupt use of said trail or significantly detract from the public's enjoyment thereof. To ensure the public safety and convenience, the town shall erect and maintain a fence along the westerly sideline of the easement area described above, and shall maintain a minimum of ten feet of buffer along said sideline. The buffer shall be of trees and shrubs and other greenery to act as a screen from the potential traffic and noise attendant to the use of the way by the Town.

The easement shall not be assignable without the express approval of the department, nor may it be used to provide access to any other property than that owned by the town of Eastham.

The terms and conditions of the rights hereby authorized shall be set out in an instrument to be recorded in the Barnstable County Registry of Deeds.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 30, 1985.

Chapter 679. AN ACT AUTHORIZING A PENSION TO DONALD J. LAPORTE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of promoting the public good, the State-Boston retirement board shall forthwith retire on an annual pension to be paid in equal monthly installments, to Donald J. LaPorte, a firefighter in the fire department of said city, who is permanently incapacitated for further service as a firefighter as a result of injuries sustained by him in the performance of his duty on October second, nineteen hundred and eighty-two at an arson fire in the South Boston section of the city of Boston. Such pension shall be equal to the annual rate of regular compensation which would have been paid to him had he continued in service in the grade held by him at the time of his retirement. Upon the death of Donald J. LaPorte leaving Patricia A. LaPorte his wife surviving him, the city of Boston shall pay her, so long as she remains unmarried, an annuity in the amount of three-quarters of the amount of the pension payable to said Donald J. LaPorte at the time of his death.

SECTION 2. Upon the retirement of Donald J. LaPorte under the provisions of section one of this act, the State-Boston retirement board shall forthwith pay to the said Donald J. LaPorte all amounts standing to his credit, in the annuity savings fund of the State-Boston retirement board.

SECTION 3. The provisions of section one hundred of chapter forty-one of the General Laws shall continue to apply to Donald J. LaPorte relative to his indemnification by the city of Boston for any hospital, medical and related expenses which may be incurred by him after the date of his retirement as a result of the aforementioned incapacity.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 30, 1985.

ACTS, 1985. – Chaps. 680, 681.

Chapter 680. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING FEES FOR THE SERVICE OF PROCESS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 92 of chapter 41 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:— A constable who has filed such a bond, in a sum of not less than five thousand dollars, may, within his town, also serve any such writ or other process in which the damages are laid at a sum not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars, and any process in replevin in which the subject matter does not exceed in value two thousand five hundred dollars.

SECTION 2. Subdivision A of section 8 of chapter 262 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clauses (1) and (2) and inserting in place thereof the following two clauses:—

(1) For service of an original summons or scire facias, either by reading it or by leaving a copy thereof, ten dollars for each defendant upon whom service is made, except as herein otherwise provided.

(2) For service of an original summons and complaint for divorce or for any other service required to be served in hand, fifteen dollars for each defendant upon whom service is made.

SECTION 3. Section 10 of said chapter 262, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 3 and 4, the words "one way".

Approved December 30, 1985.

Chapter 682. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE VIDEOTAPING OF CERTAIN TESTIMONY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 278 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 16C the following section:–

Section 16D. (a) For the purposes of this section, the following words shall have the following meanings:–

"Child witness", a person who is under the age of fifteen years and who is alleged to have been a victim of, or a witness to an alleged violation of section thirteen B, thirteen F, thirteen H, twenty-two, twenty-two A, twenty-three, twenty-four or twenty-four B of chapter two hundred and sixty-five, or section two, three, four, four A, four B, five, six, seven, eight, twelve, thirteen, sixteen, seventeen, twenty-four, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, twenty-nine A, twenty-nine B, thirty-three, thirty-four or thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and seventy-two.

"Simultaneous electronic means", Any device capable of projecting a live visual and aural transmission such as closed-circuit television.

(b) (1) At any time after the issuance of a complaint or indictment alleging an offense punished by any of the statutes listed herein, the court on its own motion or on motion of the proponent of a child witness, and after a hearing, may order the use of a suitable alternative procedure for taking the testimony of the child witness, in proceedings pursuant to said complaint or indictment, provided that the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence at the time of the order that the child witness is likely to suffer psychological or emotional trauma as a result of testifying in open court, as a result of testifying in the presence of the defendant, or as a result of both of testifying in open court and of testifying in the presence of the defendant. If the court orders the use of a suitable alternative for taking the testimony of a child witness pursuant to this section, the court shall make and enter specific findings upon the record describing with particularity the reasons for such order.

(2) An order issued under paragraph (1) shall provide that the testimony of the child witness be recorded on videotape or film to be shown in court at a later time or that the testimony be transmitted to the courtroom by simultaneous electronic means.

(3) Testimony taken by an alternative procedure pursuant to an order issued under paragraph (1) shall be taken in the presence of the judge, the prosecutor, defense counsel and such other persons as the court may allow. The defendant shall also have the right to be present unless the court's order under paragraph (1) is based wholly or in part upon a finding that the child witness is likely to suffer trauma as a result of testifying in the presence of the defendant. If the order is based on such a finding, the testimony of the child witness shall not be taken in the presence of the defendant except as provided in paragraph (4).

(4) Testimony taken by an alternative procedure pursuant to an order issued under paragraph (1) shall be taken in a suitable setting outside the courtroom, except that an order based only on a finding that the child witness is likely to suffer trauma as a result of testifying in the presence of the defendant may provide that the testimony be taken in a suitable setting inside the courtroom in a manner so that the child witness is not able to see or hear the defendant.

(5) When testimony is taken by an alternative procedure pursuant to an order issued under paragraph (1), counsel shall be given the opportunity to examine or cross-examine the child witness to the same extent as would be permitted at trial, and the defendant shall be able to see and hear the child witness and to have constant private communication with defense counsel.

(6) The film, videotape or transmission of testimony taken by an alternative procedure pursuant to an order issued under paragraph (1) shall be admissible as substantive evidence to the same extent as and in lieu of live testimony by the child witness in any proceeding for which the order is issued or in any related criminal proceeding against the same defendant when consistent with the interests of justice, provided that such an order is entered or re-entered based on current findings at the time when or within a reasonable time before the film, videotape or transmission is offered into evidence. Subsequent testimony of a child witness in any such proceeding shall also be taken by a suitable alternative procedure pursuant to this section.

(7) Whenever pursuant to an order issued under paragraph (1), testimony is recorded on videotape or film or is transmitted to the courtroom by simultaneous electronic means, the court shall ensure that:

(a) The recording or transmitting equipment is capable of making an accurate recording or transmission and is operated by a competent operator;

(b) The recording or transmission is in color and the witness is visible at all times;

(c) Every voice on the recording or transmission is audible and identified;

(d) The courtroom is equipped with monitors which permit the jury and others present in the courtroom to see and hear the recording or transmission;

(e) In the case of recorded testimony, the recording is accurate and has not been altered;

(f) In the case of recorded testimony, each party is afforded the opportunity to view the recording before it is shown in the courtroom.

(8) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the court from using other appropriate means, consistent with this section and other laws and with the defendant's rights, to protect a child witness from trauma during a court proceeding.

Approved December 30, 1985.

ACTS, 1985. - Chap. 683.

Chapter 683. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR REIMBURSEMENT BY INSURANCE COMPANIES AND OTHERS FOR SERVICES PERFORMED BY CERTIFIED NURSE MIDWIVES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 47C the following section:-

Section 47D. Any blanket or general policy of insurance described in sub-division (A), (C), or (D) of section one hundred and ten which is issued or subsequently renewed by agreement between the insurer and the policyholder, within or without the commonwealth, during the period this provision is effective, or any policy of accident and sickness insurance as described in section one hundred and eight which provides hospital expense and surgical expense insurance and which is delivered or issued for delivery or subsequently renewed by agreement between the insurer and the policyholder in the commonwealth during the period that this provision is effective shall provide benefits for services of a certified nurse midwife; provided, however, that expenses for such services are reimbursed when such services are performed by any other duly licensed practitioner; and provided, further, that such services are within the lawful scope of practice for a certified nurse midwife.

SECTION 2. Section 1 of chapter 176B of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting before the definition of "Commissioner" the following definition:-

"Certified nurse midwife", a nurse midwife authorized to practice midwifery in the commonwealth by the board of registration in nursing pursuant to section eighty B of chapter one hundred and twelve.

SECTION 3. Said section 1 of said chapter 176B, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by inserting after the definition of "Nonprofit medical service plan" the following definition:-

"Participating nurse midwife", a certified nurse midwife who agrees in writing with a medical service corporation to perform midwifery service for subscribers and covered dependents and to abide by the by-laws, rules and regulations of such corporation.

SECTION 4. Section 4 of said chapter 176B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Any medical service corporation may enter into contracts with its subscribers and with participating physicians, chiropractors, nurse midwives, optometrists, dentists, podiatrists, and other providers of health services licensed under the laws of the commonwealth for such medical, chiropractic, visual, surgical, midwifery and other health services as may lawfully be rendered by them to subscribers and to their dependents and may pay for such services. The form of agreement with such participating physicians, chiropractors, nurse midwives, optometrists, dentists, podiatrists, and other providers of health services and the methods of compensating such physicians, chiropractors, nurse midwives, optometrist, dentists, podiatrists and other providers of health services for their services to subscribers or covered dependents shall at all times be subject to the written approval of the commissioner, but no participating physicians, chiropractors or nurse midwives shall be denied their right to enter into a contract with any medical service corporation by reason of any unfair or arbitrary discrimination.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 176B is hereby further amended by inserting after section 4E the following section:–

Section 4F. Any subscription certificate under an individual or group medical service agreement which shall be delivered or issued or renewed in this commonwealth shall provide as benefits to all individual subscribers and members within the commonwealth and to all group members having a principal place of employment within the commonwealth, for expense for services of a certified nurse midwife; provided, however, that such services are reimbursed when rendered by any other duly licensed practitioner; and provided, further, that such services are within the lawful scope of practice for a certified nurse midwife.

SECTION 6. The first paragraph of section 7 of said chapter 176B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Every registered physician, chiropractor and nurse midwife shall have the right, on complying with such rules and regulations as the corporation may make, to enter into a written agreement with a medical service corporation, doing business in the city or town where the said physician, chiropractor or nurse midwife resides or has a usual place of business, to perform medical, chiropractic, or midwifery services.

SECTION 7. Said first paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 176B, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sentences and inserting in place thereof the following five sentences:– This chapter shall not change the relations between physician, chiropractor, or nurse midwife and patient. No restriction shall be placed by any such corporation upon its participating physicians, chiropractors, or nurse midwives as to methods of diagnosis or treatment. No officer, agent, or employee of a medical service corporation shall influence or attempt to influence a subscriber or a covered dependent in the choice of a participating physician, chiropractor, or nurse midwife. A subscriber or a covered dependent, subject to the by-laws, rules and regulations of a medical service corporation and the terms and provisions of the subscription certificate, shall be entitled to the benefits of this chapter upon receiving medical, chiropractic, or midwifery service from any participating physician, chiropractor, or nurse midwife or, in the discretion of the corporation, upon receiving medical, chiropractic or midwifery service from any non-participating physician, chiropractor, or nurse midwife in an emergency or when outside the commonwealth. A corporation may terminate its agreement with any participating physician, chiropractor, nurse midwife or any other participating provider of health services licensed under the laws of the commonwealth at any time (a) for failure to comply with the reasonable rules and regulations of such corporation, including without limitation, such rules and regulations governing the keeping of accounts, records and statistics, the making of reports and proof of services rendered, or (b) for presenting any fraudulent, unreasonable, or improper claim for payment, or compensation.

SECTION 8. Said section 7 of said chapter 176B, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Nothing in section four or in this section shall be construed to prohibit any medical service corporation from entering into written agreements with its subscribers and with participating nurse midwives to furnish midwifery services to subscribers and covered dependents or from including midwifery services in its non-profit medical service plan, nor shall any medical service corporation discriminate in any way against participating nurse midwives in the furnishing of midwifery service to its subscribers and covered dependents.

SECTION 9. Section 13 of said chapter 176B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

If the right of any person or group of persons to become a participating physician, chiropractor, or nurse midwife, as defined in section one, is denied because of arbitrary or unfair discrimination, any such person or group of persons so aggrieved may apply to the supreme judicial court for an injunction restraining such corporation from further proceeding with its business.

Approved December 30, 1985.

Chapter 686. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE BANNING OF CONTINUOUSLY BURNING PILOT LIGHTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 148 of the General Laws, as appearing in the

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 687.

1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after section 25D the following section:–

Section 25E. As used in this section, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:–

"Gas appliance", any furnace, air conditioner, heater, refrigerator, stove, range, dishwasher, clothes dryer, clothes washer, or other such device, which uses a gaseous fuel other than propane for the operation thereof, and which is manufactured after June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight and is automatically ignited by a means other than an intermittent ignition device, but not including a water heater which heats water for domestic use, a kitchen heating range or a space heater.

"Automatic gas appliance", any furnace, air conditioner, heater, refrigerator, stove, range, dishwasher, clothes dryer, clothes washer, or other such device, which uses a gaseous fuel other than propane for the operation thereof, and which is manufactured after the effective date of this section, and is automatically ignited by an intermittent ignition device, but not including a water heater which heats water for domestic use, a kitchen heating range or a space heater.

"Residence", any building or structure in this state used principally for dwelling purposes, including, but not limited to single and multiple family dwellings or residences of any nature, including apartments, apartment buildings, apartment projects, condominiums and mobile homes, but not including hotels or motels.

"Intermittent ignition device", a device which ignites an automatic gas appliance to begin normal operation thereof, and which is activated only at the time such automatic gas appliance is to be so ignited.

It shall be unlawful to:–

(a) Sell or offer for sale by advertisement or otherwise or display for sale of gas appliances for use in, or in connection with, a residence.

(b) Install or cause to be installed a gas appliance in a residence.

(c) Import into the commonwealth a gas appliance for use in, or in connection with, a residence.

(d) Deliver in the commonwealth after sale or pursuant to a contract for a sale of a gas appliance for use in, or in connection with, a residence.

(e) Sell or display for sale an automatic gas appliance, for use in, or in connection with a residence, unless such automatic gas appliance is labeled in a manner visible to the purchaser or prospective purchaser with the words "intermittent ignition".

Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars for each such violation; provided, however, that each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on June first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight.

Chapter 687. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE REGULATION OF

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 687.

ELEVATORS BY THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 143 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 62 to 66, inclusive, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following six sections:–

Section 62. The commissioner shall cause a system of elevator inspection to be instituted and maintained in the commonwealth. The commissioner shall assign an adequate number of competent inspectors for all elevators in the commonwealth. The commissioner shall have supervision of the installation, alteration, maintenance, inspection and approval of all elevators and shall enforce the regulations of the board of elevator regulations. No elevator shall be installed or altered until a copy of the plans and specifications of such elevator or of the proposed alterations shall have been filed by the owner of the premises where such elevator is to be installed or altered, or by the manufacturer of such elevator, and a certificate of approval or a specification of requirements shall have been issued by the commissioner. The word "elevator" shall include moving stairways.

Section 62A. The owner or person in control of a building in which an elevator is operated shall pay fees to be determined annually by the secretary of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven for inspection and safety tests by an inspector assigned by the commissioner; provided, however, that said fees shall be set at a rate sufficient to meet the cost of the department of public safety for providing said inspections and safety tests; and, provided further, that each city and town may annually set a reasonable fee, and may collect such fee, for elevator registration of each elevator within such city or town. The owner or person in control of a building in which an elevator is operated shall be subject to the following inspections and safety tests:

(1) For the inspection of a new installation, repair, or replacement of power passenger and freight elevators, hydraulic and electric passenger and freight elevators, hand power operated service elevators and temporary workmen's elevators.

(2) For each safety test and inspection of elevators and devices as described in paragraph (1).

(3) For the inspection of a new installation of a private residence elevator or an inclined lift.

Section 63. On completion of the work of installation or alteration, the manufacturer of the elevator or the person making the alterations shall make a practical test of the safety devices of the elevator in the presence of an inspector assigned by the commissioner. If the test is satisfactory to said inspector, he shall issue a certificate approving the elevator and safety devices thereof.

Section 64. All elevators shall be thoroughly inspected and a practical test made of the safety devices required therefor at intervals of not more than one year and at such other times as may be deemed necessary by the inspector; provided, however, that the chief executive officer of any city or town may cause the commissioner to order an inspection of any elevator in such officers jurisdiction, within fourteen calendar days by notifying said commissioner, in writing, of the facts and circumstances which lead such officer to believe that the inspection is necessary; provided, further, that if such inspection is not made within such fourteen day period, such officer may cause an inspection to be made by a state certified elevator inspector selected from a list approved by the secretary of public safety, and the commonwealth shall reimburse any such city or town for the reasonable costs incurred as a result thereof. The inspection and practical test shall be made by a licensed elevator construction man, maintenance or repairman in the presence of an inspector assigned by the commissioner. The owner or person in control of a building in which the elevator is located shall arrange for such inspection and practical test within six months from the time of notice from an inspector assigned by the commissioner. Within ten days after the inspection, said inspector shall file a complete written report of all changes and defects in apparatus or equipment to the commissioner and the chief executive officer of the city or town in which such inspection occurred, upon forms to be furnished by him.

Section 65. If in the judgment of an inspector assigned by the commissioner that an elevator is safe, and if the elevator has been constructed in the manner required by law or by the regulations of the board of elevator regulations or the state building code, the inspector shall issue a certificate to that effect to the owner of the elevator or to the person in charge thereof, who shall post the certificate in a conspicuous place in or near the cab or car of such elevator. If such elevator is judged unsafe, the inspector shall immediately post conspicuously upon the entrance or door of the cab or car of such elevator, or upon the elevator, a notice of its dangerous condition, and shall prohibit the use of the elevator until it has been made safe to his satisfaction; provided, however, that said inspector shall also immediately notify the chief executive of the city or town wherein such unsafe condition exists. No person shall remove such notice or operate such elevator until the inspector has issued his certificate as aforesaid.

Section 66. Any owner, operator or person in charge of an elevator or any person employed to inspect, repair or install an elevator shall immediately, if an accident occurs during such installation or repair, or if he thinks such elevator is unsafe, make a written report thereof to an inspector assigned by the commissioner, who shall forthwith inspect such elevator. If an accident occurs to an elevator, the operator, person in charge or owner having knowledge thereof shall immediately report such accident to an inspector assigned by the commissioner, who shall forthwith inspect such elevator. Upon completion of his inspection, said inspector shall upon request provide a copy of any accident report received by him in accordance with this section to each person who reported, or was involved in the accident so reported, and said inspector shall obtain a receipt for each report so provided.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 143 is hereby further amended by striking out section 68, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 687.

Section 68. The board of elevator regulations shall promulgate amendments to the regulations relating to the construction, installation, alteration and operation of all elevators, and relative to the location, design and construction of shafts or enclosures for elevators, safety devices, gates and other safeguards, protection against the elevator or hoisting machinery, and means to prevent the spread of fire, and also amendments to the regulations designed to make uniform the work of inspectors assigned to the division of inspection by the commissioner of public safety.

SECTION 3. Paragraph (a) of section 70 of said chapter 143, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 2, the words:– "or local inspector".

SECTION 4. Paragraph (d) of said section 70 of said chapter 143, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 77, the words:– "or inspector of buildings".

SECTION 5. Section 71B of said chapter 143, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– No person shall work as an elevator inspector or supervising elevator inspector in the employ of the department of public safety unless he holds a license granted by the board, for the construction, maintenance, or repair of elevators as provided by this section.

SECTION 6. The commissioner of the department of public safety shall provide a detailed written report on the estimated cost for the implementation of this act to the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means no later than April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Said report shall include, but not be limited to, the department's estimate of the total increase in the number of annual inspections the division of inspection will be required to conduct under the provisions of this act, the total number of inspections the division was required to conduct prior to the effective date of this act, the current staffing level of the division, the estimated staffing requirements of the division for the implementation of this act, including salary expenses, travel costs, equipment costs and a detailed list of all other necessary expenses associated with the implementation of this act.

SECTION 7. The secretary of administration and the commissioner of public safety shall establish a schedule of fees to be charged for the testing and inspection of elevators which shall be set at a level sufficient to meet the cost to the commonwealth for providing such service and shall file such schedule with the house and senate committees on ways and means no later than April first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Said schedule of fees shall be effective January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven.

ACTS, 1985. -- Chaps. 688, 689.

SECTION 8. Sections one to five, inclusive, shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven.

Approved December 30, 1985.

Chapter 689. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES IN CERTAIN CIVIL CASES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5C of chapter 93B of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

A manufacturer or other person entitled to indemnification under this section may bring an action in superior court by way of original complaint, counter-claim or third-party action. If the court finds for the manufacturer, or for such other person recovery shall be in the amount of actual damages, plus reasonable attorneys' fees and costs; provided, however, that the franchisee or dealer against whom any such claim is asserted under this section may tender with his answer in any such action a written offer of settlement for actual damages, not including any attorneys' fees or costs incurred by the manufacturer or such other person in asserting its claim against a dealer or franchisee under this section. If such tender of settlement is rejected by the manufacturer or such other person, and if the court finds that the relief tendered was reasonable in relation to the injury actually suffered by said manufacturer or such other person, the court award shall not exceed the amount tendered.

SECTION 2. Section 12A of said chapter 93B, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:–

If the court finds for the franchisee or motor vehicle dealer in any action commenced hereunder, that there has been a violation of sections three to eleven, inclusive, or of any rule or regulation issued under paragraph (c) of section three, such franchisee or motor vehicle dealer shall, in addition to any other relief provided for by this section and irrespective of the amount, if any, in controversy, be awarded reasonable attorneys' fees and costs; provided, however, that the person against whom any such claim is asserted under this section may tender with his answer in any such action a written offer of settlement for actual damages, not including any attorneys' fees or costs incurred by the dealer or franchisee in asserting its claim under this section. If such tender of settlement is rejected by the franchisee or motor vehicle dealer, and if the court finds that the relief tendered was reasonable in relation to the injury actually suffered by said franchisee or motor vehicle dealer, the court award shall not exceed the amount tendered.

Chapter 691. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE TIME FOR THE ISSUANCE OF A JUDGMENT OF A DIVORCE NISI.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1A of chapter 208 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– An action for divorce on the ground of an irretrievable breakdown of the marriage may be commenced with the filing of: (a) a petition signed by both joint petitioners or their attorneys; (b) a sworn affidavit that is either jointly or separately executed by the petitioners that an irretrievable breakdown of the marriage exists; and (c) a notarized separation agreement executed by the parties except as hereinafter set forth and no summons or answer shall be required.

SECTION 2. Said section 1A of said chapter 208 is hereby further amended by striking out the second and third paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:–

If the finding is in the affirmative, the court shall approve the agreement and enter a judgment of divorce nisi. The agreement either shall be incorporated and merged into said judgment or by agreement of the parties, it shall be incorporated and not merged, but shall survive and remain as an independent contract. In the event that the court does not approve the agreement as executed, or modified by agreement of the parties, said agreement shall become null and void and of no further effect between the parties; and the action shall be treated as dismissed, but without prejudice. Following approval of an agreement by the court but prior to the entry of judgment nisi, said agreement may be modified in accordance with the foregoing provisions at any time by agreement of the parties and with the approval of the court, or by the court upon the petition of one of the parties after a showing of a substantial change of circumstances; and the agreement, as modified, shall continue as the order of the court.

Thirty days from the time that the court has given its initial approval to a dissolution agreement of the parties which makes proper provisions for custody, support and maintenance, alimony, and for the disposition of marital property, where applicable, notwithstanding subsequent modification of said agreement, a judgment of divorce nisi shall be entered without further action by the parties.

SECTION 3. Said section 1A of said chapter 208 is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 43, the word "complaint" and inserting in place thereof the word:– petition.

Chapter 696. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING CERTAIN PARKING OFFENSES IN CITIES AND TOWNS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 90 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 20E, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 20E. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections twenty A, twenty A 1/2, or any other general or special law to the contrary concerning parking laws, if the registered owner of a motor vehicle involved in a parking violation is a person or entity engaged in the taxicab business or the business of leasing or renting motor vehicles, and such motor vehicle is under lease or rent or being operated for hire at the time of such violation, the provisions of this section shall be applicable, and the registered owner shall not be liable for any unpaid fines; provided, however, that such owner has complied with the procedures hereinafter set forth:

(a) The parking clerk shall give to the registered owner notice in writing of each violation in which a motor vehicle owned by such owner is involved, including the registration number of the vehicle, the state of issuance of such registration of the vehicle involved and the date, time and place of the violation.

(b) Within forty-five days, the registered owner shall furnish to such parking clerk in writing the name and address of the lessee or rentee of such motor vehicle at the time of such violation; and if the lessee or rentee is also the operator, the lessee's or rentee's driver's license number, state of issuance of such driver's license and the lessee's or rentee's date of birth.

(c) The parking clerk shall thereupon issue a notice of violation to such lessee or rentee in the form prescribed by section twenty A or twenty A 1/2

(d) If such lessee or rentee does not appear in person or by writing as otherwise provided in section twenty A, twenty A 1/2, or any general or special law concerning parking violations, or make payment within twenty-one days from the date on which such notice is issued, the parking clerk shall notify the registrar as provided by the provisions of section twenty A, twenty A 1/2, or any other general or special law concerning parking violations, and the clerk of the division of the district court department or Boston municipal court department of the trial court having jurisdiction. Upon notification by the parking clerk, the registrar shall suspend and shall not renew the license to operate a motor vehicle of such lessee or rentee or suspend the right to operate of a lessee or rentee not licensed in this commonwealth; and the clerk of the district court of the trial court having jurisdiction shall forthwith issue a criminal complaint against the lessee or rentee and thereafter proceed against such lessee or rentee following the procedures established for criminal cases. The registrar shall remove any suspension and nonrenewal of license or right to operate made under the provisions of this section upon the payment in full to the parking clerk of the fine and penalty for such violation by the lessee or rentee.

(e) The provisions of section twenty A, section twenty A 1/2, or any other general or special law concerning parking violations, shall be applicable to lessees and rentees of motor vehicles as provided herein.

(f) Any registered owner and parking clerk may, by agreement upon such terms and conditions as they may deem appropriate, provide for the transmission of the information referred to in subsections (a) and (b), on magnetic tape or in other computer readable format, in order to expedite completion of the foregoing provisions.

(g) The written notice referred to in subsection (a) shall be sent to the registered owner no later than two years after the date that such violation occurred; provided, however, that if such notice is sent within such two year period the parking clerk may proceed against the lessee or rentee, as provided herein, at any time after the sending of such notice.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 696.

(h) Upon a showing of cause, any fine may be reduced, dismissed, or otherwise disposed of by the parking clerk or any other designated governmental authority handling such parking violations, fines or penalties.

(i) Notwithstanding any general law or special law to the contrary, a surcharge of thirty cents per lease or rental transaction shall be collected and paid pursuant to this section to the city or town within whose borders the rental or lease transaction was initiated as specified in the rental or lease agreement. A rental shall consist of a bailment of thirty-one consecutive days or less and a lease or leasing shall consist of a bailment of more than thirty-one consecutive days. Amounts received by a city or town under this section shall not be considered in the determination of the amount of any distribution of state assistance to such city or town.

Such surcharge amount shall be thirty cents per rental or lease transaction as specified in the rental or lease agreement.

The money collected by a lessor or rentor pursuant to this section shall be paid monthly on or before the twentieth of the following month to the city or town where the rental or lease transaction was initiated and such surcharges may be added to the cost of the lease or rental.

For the purpose of determining compliance with payment of the surcharge, the city or town shall have the authority to examine the books, records and pertinent documents of any person or entity engaged in the taxicab business, or the business of leasing or renting motor vehicles; provided however, that said examination shall be conducted by the auditor or treasurer of the city or town or his designee. Whenever the amount of surcharge paid has been less than that required by subsection (i), the city or town may file a claim for surcharges underpaid or undercollected plus the statutory rate of interest on such charges. No payment for such underpayment or undercollection of surcharges shall be allowed unless the claim for such underpayment or undercollection is filed with the taxicab business or the business leasing or renting motor vehicles within two years of the date upon which the payment was due.

Whenever the amount of surcharge has been paid in error to the city or town or overcollected by the city or town, the rentor or lessor may file a claim for refund on surcharges overpaid or overcollected plus the statutory rate of interest on such surcharges. No refund shall be allowed unless the claim for refund is filed with the city or town within two years of the date upon which the payment was made.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary or section three, any parking violation, fine or penalty subject to section twenty E of chapter ninety of the General Laws prior to the effective date of this act may be reduced, dismissed or otherwise disposed of by the parking clerk or any other designated governmental authority handling such parking violations, fines or penalties.

SECTION 3. The provisions of this act shall apply only to contracts or agreements or parking violations entered into or issued on or after the effective date of this act and parking violations issued prior to the

Chapter 701. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF BOSTON TO GRANT A PENSION TO MANUEL J. GREGORIO.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any law to the contrary, and in order to promote the public good, the State-Boston retirement board is hereby authorized and directed to retire Manuel J.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 702.

Gregorio, a firefighter of the city of Boston, who as the result of injuries sustained while in the performance of his duties at an arson fire at the United States Marine Barracks, located at "E" Street in the South Boston section of the city of Boston on October second, nineteen hundred and eighty-two is totally and permanently incapacitated for further service as a firefighter. The annual amount of pension payable to Manuel J. Gregorio under this act shall be fixed in an amount equal to the regular rate of compensation which would have been paid had he continued in service as a firefighter in said city at the grade held by him at the time of his retirement.

Such retirement shall become effective as of the date following the last day on which he is entitled to receive regular compensation.

Upon the retirement of Manuel J. Gregorio, the retirement board of said city shall forthwith pay to him all amounts standing to his credit in the annuity savings fund of the retirement system of said city.

SECTION 2. The provisions of section one hundred of chapter forty-one of the General Laws shall continue to apply to Manuel J. Gregorio relative to his indemnification by the city of Boston for any hospital, medical and related expenses which may be incurred by him after the date of his retirement as a result of the aforementioned incapacity.

SECTION 3. Upon the death of Manuel J. Gregorio, if his wife, Mary E. Gregorio survives him and as long as she remains unmarried, the city shall pay to Mary E. Gregorio an annual annuity equal to the sum of three-fourths of the amount of the pension payable to him at the time of his death and three hundred and twelve dollars for each child of Manuel J. Gregorio for such time as such child is either under eighteen years of age or totally physically or mentally incapacitated from working. If Mary E. Gregorio remarries, the city shall pay to her, in lieu of the aforesaid annuity, an annual annuity of five hundred and twenty dollars for each child of Manuel J. Gregorio for such time as such child is residing with her and is either under eighteen years of age on January first of the year in question or totally or mentally incapacitated from working.

Chapter 702. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE SALE AND REPAIR OF CERTAIN MOTOR VEHICLES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to afford a right of recourse to consumers who purchase motor vehicles, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 702.

SECTION 1. Section 7N 1/2 of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (3) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:–

(3) If the manufacturer, its agent or authorized dealer does not conform the motor vehicle to any such applicable express or implied warranty by curing any nonconformity after a reasonable number of attempts, the manufacturer shall accept return of the vehicle from the consumer and refund the full contract price of the vehicle including all credits and allowances for any trade-in vehicle, less any cash award that was made by the manufacturer in an attempt to resolve the dispute and was accepted by the consumer, and a reasonable allowance for use, or shall offer to replace the vehicle; provided, however, that the consumer shall have an unqualified right to reject a manufacturer's offer of replacement and demand a refund. In instances in which a vehicle is replaced by a manufacturer under the provisions of this section, said manufacturer shall reimburse the consumer for any fees for the transfer of registration or any sales tax incurred by the consumer as a result of such replacement. In instances in which a vehicle which was financed by the manufacturer or its subsidiary or agent is replaced under the provisions of this section, said manufacturer, subsidiary or agent shall not require the consumer to enter into any refinancing agreement which would create any financial obligations upon such consumer beyond those implied by the original financing agreement. In instances in which a refund is tendered under the provisions of this section, the manufacturer shall also reimburse the consumer for incidental costs including sales tax, registration fee, finance charges and any cost of options added by an authorized dealer. Whenever a vehicle is replaced a refund is given under the provisions of this section, in instances in which towing services and rental vehicles were not made available at no cost to the consumer, the manufacturer shall also reimburse the consumer for towing and reasonable rental costs that were a direct result of vehicle nonconformity. Refunds shall be made to the consumer and lienholder, if any, as their interests may appear. A reasonable allowance for use for all motor vehicles other than motorcycles shall be obtained by multiplying the total contract price of the vehicle by a fraction having as its denominator one hundred thousand and having as its numerator the number of miles that the vehicle travelled prior to the manufacturer's acceptance of its return. A reasonable allowance for use for motorcycles shall be obtained by multiplying the total contract price of the motorcycle by a fraction having as its denominator twenty-five thousand and having as its numerator the number of miles that the vehicle travelled prior to the manufacturer's acceptance of its return.

It shall be an affirmative defense to any claim under this section: (i) that an alleged nonconformity does not substantially impair the use, market value or safety of the vehicle; (ii) that a nonconformity is the result of owner negligence, damage caused by accident, vandalism, or attempt to repair the vehicle by a person other than the manufacturer, its agent or authorized dealer; or (iii) that a nonconformity is the result of any attempt substantially to modify the vehicle which was not authorized by the manufacturer.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 702.

A consumer shall have the option of retaining the use of any vehicle returned under the provisions of this section until such time as said consumer has been tendered a full refund or a replacement that is acceptable to the consumer. The use of any vehicle retained by a consumer after its return to a manufacturer under the provisions of this section, shall, in instances in which a refund is tendered, be reflected in the above mentioned reasonable allowance for use.

SECTION 2. Subsection (5) of said section 7N 1/2 of said chapter 90, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

No consumer shall be required by any manufacturer, its agent or its authorized dealer to give notice directly to a manufacturer of the existence of any nonconformity before resorting to state-certified, new car arbitration.

SECTION 3. Said section 7N 1/2 of said chapter 90, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (6) and inserting in place thereof the following four subsections:–

(6) All manufacturers shall submit to state-certified, new car arbitration, if such arbitration is requested by the consumer within eighteen months from the date of original delivery to such consumer of a new motor vehicle. State-certified, new car arbitration shall be performed by a professional arbitrator or arbitration firm appointed by the secretary of consumer affairs and business regulation and operating in accordance with the regulations promulgated pursuant to this section, and shall result in a written finding of whether the motor vehicle in dispute meets the standards set forth by this section for vehicles that are required to be replaced or refunded. Said finding shall be issued within forty-five days of receipt by said secretary of a request by a consumer for state-certified arbitration under this section. Said secretary shall promulgate rules and regulations governing the proceedings of state-certified, new car arbitration which shall promote their fairness and efficiency. Such rules and regulations shall include, but not be limited to, a requirement of the personal objectivity of each arbitrator in the results of the dispute he will hear, and the protection of the right of each party to present its case and to be in attendance during any presentation made by the other party. All findings of fact issuing from a state-certified, new car arbitration shall be taken as prima facie evidence of whether the standards set forth in this section for vehicles required to be refunded or replaced have been met in any subsequent action brought by either party ensuing from the matter considered in said arbitration.

If a motor vehicle is found by state-certified, new car arbitration to have met the standards set forth by this section for vehicles required to be replaced or refunded, and if the manufacturer of said motor vehicle is found to have failed to provide said refund or replacement as required, such manufacturer shall, within twenty-one days from the issuance of such finding, deliver such refund or replacement, including the incidental and other costs set forth in subsection (3), or appeal the finding in superior court. No appeal by a manufacturer shall be heard unless the petition for such appeal is filed with the clerk of the superior court within twenty-one days of issuance of the finding of the state-certified arbitration and is accompanied by a bond in a principal sum equal to the money award made by the state-certified arbitrator plus two thousand five hundred dollars for anticipated attorneys' fees, secured by cash or its equivalent, payable to the consumer.

The liability of the surety of any bond filed pursuant to this section shall be limited to the indemnification of the consumer in the action. Such bond shall not limit or impair any right of recovery otherwise available pursuant to law, nor shall the amount of the bond be relevant in determining the amount of recovery to which the consumer shall be entitled. In the event that any state-certified arbitration, resulting in an award of a refund or replacement, is upheld by the court, recovery by the consumer shall include continuing damages in the amount of twenty-five dollars per day for each day, subsequent to the day the motor vehicle was returned to the manufacturer pursuant to subsection three, that said vehicle was out of use as a direct result of any nonconformity not issuing from owner negligence, accident, vandalism, or any attempt to repair or substantially modify the vehicle by a person other than the manufacturer, its agent or authorized dealer; provided, however, that the manufacturer did not make a comparable vehicle available to the consumer free of charge. In addition to any other recovery, any prevailing consumer shall be awarded reasonable attorneys' fees and costs. If the court finds that the manufacturer did not have any reasonable basis for its appeal or that the appeal was frivolous, the court shall double the amount of the total award made to the consumer. Any consumer dissatisfied with any finding of state-certified, new car arbitration shall have the right to file a claim pursuant to chapter ninety-three A.

(6A) A clear and conspicuous listing of the rights of the consumer under this section shall be affixed by a sticker to a window of each new motor vehicle offered for sale in the commonwealth. An enumeration of these rights shall also be provided along with ownership manual materials. The form and manner of these notices shall be prescribed by the secretary of consumer affairs and business regulations.

(7) Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair or deceptive act under the provisions of chapter ninety-three A. The failure of a manufacturer either to abide by the decision of a state-certified arbitration or to file a timely appeal shall entitle any prevailing consumer to an award of no less than two times the actual damages, unless said manufacturer can prove that such failure was beyond his control. For the purposes of said chapter ninety-three A, the timely delivery by a manufacturer of a refund or acceptable replacement, pursuant to a finding by state-certified arbitration, shall constitute the granting of relief upon demand.

The secretary of consumer affairs and business regulation shall inform the office of the attorney general of any method, act or practice of which she is aware that is deemed by her to be a violation of any provision of this section.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 703.

(8) Whoever, within twenty-one days of any finding in favor of the consumer of the state-certified, new car arbitration, fails to appeal such finding and does not deliver a refund or replacement vehicle or notify the consumer of the estimated delivery date of the replacement vehicle, shall be punished by a fine of five thousand dollars per day until the delivery of such refund or replacement. The estimated delivery date shall not exceed sixty days from the date the manufacturer notifies the consumer that a delivery will be made. Said fine shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars for each such violation. The amount of said fine shall begin to accumulate on the twenty-second day following the arbitration decision. If eighty-one days has elapsed from the issuance of a finding in favor of the consumer of the state-certified, new car arbitration and no appeal has been taken and no award delivered and no fine paid, the attorney general shall initiate proceedings against said manufacturer for failure to pay said fine. The proceedings initiated pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be commenced in superior court department of the trial court.

In addition to the remedies hereinbefore provided, the attorney general may bring an action on behalf of the commonwealth to restrain further violation of this section, to enforce any provision, and for such other relief as may be appropriate.

Approved December 31, 1986.

Chapter 703. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF RENT REGULATIONS AND THE CONTROL OF EVICTIONS IN THE MOBILE HOME PARK ACCOMMODATIONS IN THE TOWN OF MIDDLEBOROUGH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists with respect to the housing of a substantial number of citizens in the town of Middleborough, which emergency has been created by high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some park owners of mobile home parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and evictions are regulated and controlled, such emergency will produce serious threats to the public safety, health and general welfare of the citizens of said town, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Middleborough.

SECTION 2. The town of Middleborough shall regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said town, establish a rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, minimum standards for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and the evictions of tenants therefrom and shall, by its by-laws, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations. Such rents, standards and evictions shall be regulated by the rent board so as to remove hardships, or correct inequities for both the owner and the tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Said rent board shall have all powers necessary or convenient to perform its functions, may make rules and regulations, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations, under penalty of perjury, of information relating to the mobile home park accommodations, sue and be sued, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers and information, issue appropriate orders which shall be binding on both the owner and tenants of such mobile home park accommodations. Violations of any by-laws adopted pursuant to this act or any order of said rent board shall be punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars for any one offense.

SECTION 3. In regulating such rents, for such mobile home park accommodations, the rent board established under section two shall make such individual or general adjustments, either upward or downward, as may be necessary to assure that rents for the mobile home park accommodations in said town are established at levels which yield to owners a fair net operating income for such units. The following factors, among other relevant factors, which the board by regulation may define, shall be considered in determining whether a controlled unit yields a fair net operating income:

- (1) Increases or decreases in property taxes.
- (2) Unavoidable increases or decreases in operating and maintenance expenses.
- (3) Capital improvements to the park as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.
- (4) Increases or decreases in living space, services or equipment.
- (5) Failure to perform ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

The rent board may refuse to grant a rent increase under this section, if it determines that the affected park does not comply with state sanitary codes of the commonwealth and any municipal codes or by-laws, and if it determines that such lack of compliance is due to the failure of the park operator to provide normal and adequate repair and maintenance.

SECTION 4. The provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws shall be applicable to the rent board, established under section two, as if said rent board were an agency of the commonwealth, including those provisions giving agencies the powers to issue, vacate, modify and enforce subpoenas and those provisions relating to judicial review of an agency.

SECTION 5. The district court department shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with the superior court department, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws. The superior court department shall have jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act and any by-laws adopted thereunder and may restrain violations thereof.

SECTION 6. The town of Middleborough may by its by-laws regulate the evictions of tenants and the rent board, established under section two, shall issue orders which shall be a defense to an action of summary process for possession and such orders shall be reviewable pursuant to sections two and three.

SECTION 7. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 704. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to make more attractive and enhance the status of the teaching profession, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13 of chapter 188 of the acts of 1985 is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

Each city, town, regional school district, educational collaborative or independent vocational school which accepts the provisions of this section in accordance with the second paragraph after the first payment date of February fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, but before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, shall be eligible to receive the full amount of said payment which said city, town, regional school district, educational collaborative or independent vocational school would have otherwise received. Said grant payment shall be sent by the department of education upon receipt of certification of formal votes of acceptance.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 188 is hereby further amended by striking out section 17 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 17. Any city, town, regional school district, educational collaborative or independent vocational school district which employs teachers at salaries below eighteen thousand dollars and which accepts the minimum salary provisions of section forty of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws for school years commencing after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five shall receive a minimum teachers salary grant from the commonwealth in fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-six and nineteen hundred and eighty-seven equal to the cost incurred by such city, town or regional school district during said fiscal years as a result of increasing to eighteen thousand dollars the salary of each teacher whose salary was below that level prior to October thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 705.

Any city, town, regional school district, educational collaborative or independent vocational school which employs teachers at salaries below eighteen thousand dollars and which accepts the minimum salary provisions of section forty of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws for school years commencing after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, shall receive a minimum teachers' salary grant from the commonwealth in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-seven equal to the cost incurred by such city, town or regional school district during said fiscal year, as a result of increasing to eighteen thousand dollars the salary of each teacher whose salary was below that level prior to October thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. As a condition of receiving funds under this section, the city, town, regional school district, educational collaborative or independent vocational school shall certify to the department that all teachers with respect to whom funds are sought under this section have been hired at a salary not less than that offered to teachers hired in comparable positions as of July 1, 1985.

SECTION 2A. Section 11 of chapter 188 of the acts of 1985 is hereby amended by striking out the last paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

The chapter seventy minimum guarantee of any regional school district or independent vocational school shall be the chapter seventy guarantee received in either of the fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-three or nineteen hundred and eighty-four, whichever is greater.

SECTION 3. Upon the effective date of this act, any such teacher who is employed in a city, town, regional school district, educational collaborative, or independent vocational school district which has accepted or does accept the minimum salary provisions of section forty of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six at a salary below the minimum salary level of eighteen thousand dollars shall be compensated retroactive to July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, or said teacher shall be compensated retroactive to the date he is first employed, whichever is later.

SECTION 4. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to discourage local acceptance of the provisions of section thirteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-five prior to February fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 705. AN ACT REGULATING THE PRACTICE OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTANCY.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate the practice of public accountancy in the commonwealth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 13 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 33, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 33. (a) There shall be a board of public accountancy, in this section and in sections thirty-four and thirty-five called the board, consisting of five members, to be appointed by the governor. Each member shall be a citizen of the commonwealth. Four of the members shall hold a valid biennial permit issued under section eighty-seven B of chapter one hundred and twelve and shall have been actively engaged on his own account or as a member of a partnership in the practice of public accountancy for at least seven years, or as an officer, director, or shareholder of a professional corporation organized pursuant to chapter one hundred fifty-six A. Three of the members shall be certified public accountants holding certificates issued under section eighty-seven A of chapter one hundred and twelve, or under prior laws of the commonwealth, and the fourth member shall be a public accountant registered under the laws of the commonwealth. The fifth member shall be a representative of the public, subject to the provisions of section nine B.

Upon the expiration of the term of a member his successor, qualified as aforesaid, shall be appointed by the governor for a term of five years.

The governor shall remove from the board any accountant member whose certificate of registration or license has become void, or has been revoked or suspended.

(b) There shall be a public accountants administrative committee, hereinafter and in sections thirty-four and thirty-five called the "committee", consisting of the public accountant member of the board, who shall be a member ex officio, the representative of the public member of the board, and three members to be appointed by the board. Each appointive member of the committee shall be a citizen of the commonwealth, a public accountant registered under the laws of the commonwealth, and the holder of a valid biennial permit issued under section eighty-seven B of chapter one hundred and twelve, and shall have been actively engaged on his own account or as a member of a partnership in the practice of public accountancy for at least five years, or as an officer, director, or shareholder of a professional corporation organized pursuant to chapter one hundred and fifty-six A.

Each appointive member of the committee shall serve for a term of three years. Vacancies occurring during a term shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term. Upon the expiration of his term of office a member shall continue to serve until his successor shall have been appointed and shall have qualified. The board shall remove from the committee any member whose registration or biennial license has become void, or has been revoked or suspended, and may, after hearing, remove any member of the committee for just cause. Before entering office, each member shall be sworn to the faithful performance of his duties.

The committee shall have the following powers and duties and shall be vested with the powers of the board with respect to such powers and duties, subject, however, to the provisions of clause (4):–

(1) to investigate complaints and to initiate and conduct investigations or hearings, with or without the filing of any complaint, and to obtain information and evidence, relating to any matter involving the conduct of public accountants, and any violation or alleged violation of any of the provisions of sections eighty-seven A to eighty-seven E, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and twelve;

(2) to pass upon the qualifications of any applicant for registration as a public accountant or as a partnership of public accountants, or as a professional corporation of public accountants organized pursuant to chapter one hundred and fifty-six A, and to register qualified applicants;

(3) to advise the board in any and all matters affecting public accountants; serve as a liaison between the board and the public accountants, keep informed on contemplated actions of the board primarily affecting public accountants, and to have access to the files of the board for the purpose of carrying out its advisory duties;

(4) to make recommendations and forward a report to the board on any matter on which the committee is authorized to act, which recommendations and report the board may accept or reject in whole or in part. The foregoing clause (4) shall not apply to clause (2).

Whenever any statute or rule or regulation of any agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, requires that any reports, financial statements, audits, and other documents for any department, division, board, commission or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof be prepared by certified public accountants, such requirements shall be construed to mean public accountants or certified public accountants.

SECTION 2. Subsection (a) of section 34 of said chapter 13, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the third paragraph the following paragraph:–

Meetings of the board shall be open to the public except insofar as they are concerned with investigations under the provisions of section eighty-seven A 1/2 to eighty-seven E, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and twelve and except as may be necessary to protect information which is required to be kept confidential by board rules or by the laws of the commonwealth. The board shall have a seal which shall be judicially noticed. The board shall retain or arrange for the retention of all applications and all documents under oath which are filed with the board, and records of its proceedings, and shall maintain a registry of the names and addresses of all licensees. A duplicate list shall also be open to inspection in the office of the secretary of state. In any proceedings in court, civil or criminal, arising out of or founded upon any provisions of said sections eighty-seven A 1/2 to eighty-seven E, copies of any of said records certified as true copies under the seal of the board shall be admissible in evidence as tending to prove the contents of said records.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 705.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 13 is hereby further amended by striking out section 35, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 35. Each member of the board shall receive fifty dollars for each day or part of a day actually spent in the performance of his duties, but in any one year not more than three thousand dollars shall be paid to any member. Each member shall be reimbursed for his actual and necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his official duties. Each appointive member of the committee shall receive thirty dollars for each day or part of a day actually spent in the performance of his duties, but in any one year not more than two thousand dollars shall be paid to any member. Each member shall be reimbursed for his actual and necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his official duties. The public accountant member of the board shall receive compensation as a board member whether he performs duties as a board member or as a committee member, but shall not receive more than three thousand dollars in any one year for such duties.

The board shall employ an executive secretary, who shall be a certified public accountant, and shall determine his salary. The executive secretary shall not be subject to the provisions of sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty, or to the provisions of chapter thirty-one. The board may appoint such committees or persons to advise it or assist it in such administration as it may see fit. It may seek counsel to advise and assist it as may be provided by the attorney general.

SECTION 4. Chapter 112 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 87A to 87E, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following nine sections:–

Section 87A. As used in sections eighty-seven A 1/2 to eighty-seven E, inclusive, the following words shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the following meanings:–

"Board", the board of public accountancy established under the provisions of section thirty-three of chapter thirteen.

"Certificate", a certificate issued to a certified public accountant under the provisions of section eighty-seven A 1/2 or a certificate issued to a public accountant issued under the provisions of section eighty-seven C or a corresponding certificate as a certified public accountant issued after examination under the laws of any other state.

"Committee", the public accountants administrative committee.

"Firm", a corporation or a partnership.

"Licensee", the holder of a certificate issued under the provisions of section eighty-seven B or eighty-seven B 1/2.

"Practice of public accountancy", the performance or the offering to perform by a person or firm holding itself out to the public as a licensee, for a client or potential client, of one or more kinds of services involving the use of accounting or auditing skills, including the issuance of reports on financial statements, or of one or more kinds of management advisory or consulting services, or the preparation of tax returns or the furnishing of advice on tax matters.

"Quality review", a study, appraisal, or review of one or more aspects of the professional work of a person or firm in the practice of public accountancy, by a person or persons who hold licenses and who are not affiliated with the person or firm being reviewed.

"Report", when used with reference to financial statements, an opinion, report or other form of language which states or implies assurance as to the reliability of any financial statements and which also includes or is accompanied by any statement or implication that the person or firm issuing it has special knowledge or competence in accounting or auditing. Such a statement or implication of special knowledge or competency may arise from use by the issuer of the report of names or titles indicating that he or it is an accountant or auditor, or from the language of the report itself. The term "report" includes any form of language which disclaims an opinion when such form of language is conventionally understood to imply a positive assurance as to the reliability of the financial statements referred to or special competence on the part of the person or firm issuing such language; and it includes any other form of language that is conventionally understood to imply such assurance and such special knowledge or competence.

Section 87A 1/2. The board shall have the power to sue and be sued in its official name as an agency of the commonwealth; to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents; to administer oaths; to take testimony and to receive evidence concerning all matters within its jurisdiction. In case of disobedience of a subpoena, the board may invoke the aid of any court of the commonwealth in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence. The board, its members and its agents, shall be immune from personal liability for actions taken in good faith in the discharge of the board's responsibilities, and the commonwealth shall hold the board, its members and its agents, harmless from all costs, damages and attorneys' fees arising from claims and suits against them with respect to matters to which such immunity applies.

The board may adopt such rules as it deems necessary which shall include, but not be limited to:

- (1) rules governing the board's meetings and the conduct of its business;
- (2) rules of procedure governing the conduct of investigations and hearings by the board;
- (3) rules specifying the educational and experience qualifications for the issuance of certificates under section eighty-seven A 1/2, and the continuing professional education required for renewal of licenses under the provisions of paragraph (e) of section eighty-seven B;
- (4) rules of professional conduct directed to controlling the quality and probity of the practice of public accounting by license holders, and dealing among other things with independence, integrity and objectivity; competence and technical standards; responsibilities to the public; and responsibilities to clients;
- (5) rules regarding quality reviews that may be required to be performed under provisions of this chapter.

At least sixty days prior to the proposed effective date of any rule or amendment thereto or any other provisions of sections eighty-seven A 1/2 to eighty-seven E, inclusive, the board shall publish notice of such proposed action and of a public hearing to be held, no more than thirty days prior to such effective date, in accordance with chapter thirty A.

The board shall grant the certificate of certified public accountant to any person who meets the requirements of good character, education, experience and examination, and who pays the fees established by the commissioner of administration and finance.

Good character for purposes of this section means lack of a history of dishonest or felonious acts. The board may refuse to grant a certificate on the grounds of failure to satisfy this requirement only if there is a substantial connection between the lack of good character of the applicant and the professional responsibilities of a licensee, and if the finding of the board of lack of good character is supported by clear and convincing evidence. When an applicant is found to be unqualified for a certificate because of lack of good character, the board shall furnish the applicant a statement containing the findings of the board, a complete record of the evidence upon which the determination was based, and a notice of the applicant's right of appeal.

The educational requirement for a certificate, which must be met no later than one hundred and twenty days after an applicant sits for the examination, shall be at least a bachelor's degree or its equivalent from a college or university approved by the board with an accounting concentration or its equivalent as approved by the board. No person shall be required to have an accounting concentration as a prerequisite to the granting of a certificate until July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

The experience requirement for a certificate shall be:

(1) Three years of public practice, or its equivalent, as approved by the board, with a bachelor's degree.

(2) Two years of public practice, or its equivalent, as approved by the board, with a bachelor's degree supplemented by a master's degree; provided, however, that the applicant's education has included twenty-four semester hours, or the equivalent thereof, in the study of accounting.

(3) At the board's discretion:

(i) one year of requisite experience for every three full years of service in field audit work with the United States Government in Grade 7 or for field audit work of any agency of the commonwealth or a subdivision thereof equivalent to United States Government Grade 7; provided, however, that, in the opinion of the board, it is substantially equivalent to that of public accounting practice, or

(ii) one year of requisite experience for every two full years of service in field audit work with the United States Government in Grade 9 or higher or for field audit work of any agency of the commonwealth or subdivision thereof equivalent to United States Government Grade 9 or higher and; provided further, that, in the opinion of the board, it is substantially equivalent to that of public accounting practice.

(a) The examination required to be passed as a condition for the granting of a certificate shall be in writing, shall be held twice a year, and shall test the applicant's knowledge of the subjects of accounting theory, accounting practice, auditing, business law, and such other related subjects as the board may specify by rule. An applicant who is a member of the Massachusetts bar shall not be required to take the written examination in business law. But in order to be excused from this examination an applicant must present a certificate from the clerk of the supreme judicial court attesting to the fact that the applicant is a member of the bar in good standing. The time for holding such examination shall be fixed by the board and may be changed from time to time. The board shall prescribe by rule the methods of applying for and conducting the examination, including methods for grading papers and determining a passing grade entitling an applicant to a certificate; provided, however, that the board shall, to the extent possible, see to it that the grading of the examination and the passing grades are uniform with those applicable in all other states. The board may make such use of all or any part of the uniform certified public accountant examination and the advisory grading service of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and may contract with third parties to perform such administrative services with respect to the examination, as it deems appropriate to assist it in performing its duties hereunder.

(b) An applicant shall be required to pass all parts of the examination provided for in paragraph (a) in order to qualify for a certificate. If at a given sitting of the examination an applicant passes two or more but not all parts, with the accounting practice part of the examination being treated for this purpose as two parts, then the applicant shall be given credit for those parts that he has passed and need not sit for reexamination in those parts; provided that:—

- (1) the applicant wrote all parts of the examination at that sitting;
- (2) the applicant attained a minimum grade of fifty on each of the parts not passed at that sitting;
- (3) the applicant passes the remaining parts of the examination within six consecutive examinations given after the one at which the first parts were passed;
- (4) at each subsequent examination at which the applicant seeks to pass any additional parts, the applicant writes all parts not yet passed; and

(5) in order to receive credit for passing additional parts in any such subsequent sitting, the applicant attains such grades on parts written but not passed on such sitting as specified by the board by rule.

(c) An applicant shall be given credit for any and all parts of any examination passed in another state if such credit would have been given, under then applicable requirements, if the applicant had taken the examination in the commonwealth.

(d) The board may in particular cases waive or defer any of the requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) regarding the circumstances in which the various parts of the examination must be passed upon a showing that, by reasons of circumstances beyond the applicant's control, he was unable to meet such requirements.

The board may charge, or provide for a third party administering the examination to charge, each applicant a fee for each part of the examination or reexamination taken by the applicant.

Section 87B. The board shall grant or renew licenses to practice public accountancy to persons who make application and demonstrate their qualifications therefor in accordance with the following paragraphs:–

(a) Licenses shall be initially issued, and renewed, for periods of two years. Each such license shall expire on the last day of June of the next year following the year of issuance of renewal. Applications for such licenses shall be made in such form, and in the case of applications for renewal between such dates, as the board shall by rule specify; and the board shall grant or deny any such application no later than ninety days after the application is filed in proper form. In any case where the applicant seeks the opportunity to show that issuance of a renewal of a license was mistakenly denied, or where the board is not able to determine whether it should be granted or denied, the board may issue to the applicant a provisional license, which shall expire ninety days after its issuance or when the board determines whether or not to issue or renew the license for which application was made, whichever shall first occur.

(b) An applicant for initial issuance of a license under this section shall show that he holds a valid certificate.

(c) If an applicant has received a license which has not been renewed for at least two renewal periods the applicant will be required to complete at least one hundred and sixty hours of qualified continuing professional education within twenty-four months prior to issue, of which at least eighty hours must be in the attest function. On the subsequent renewal of the biennial license, said applicant will be given no credit for the prior said one hundred and sixty hours.

(d) The board shall issue a license to a holder of a certificate issued by another state upon a showing that:–

(1) The applicant passed the examination required for issuance of his certificate with grades that would have been passing grades at the time in the commonwealth;

(2) The applicant

(A) meets all current requirements in the commonwealth for issuance of a certificate at the time application is made; or

(B) at the time of the issuance of the applicant's certificate in the other state, met all such requirements then applicable in the commonwealth; or

(C) had five years of experience in the practice of public accountancy or equivalent, meeting requirements prescribed by the board by rule, after passing the examination upon which his certificate was based and within the ten years immediately preceding his application; and

(3) The applicant meets the requirements of paragraphs (1) and (2) of (d),

(e) An applicant for renewal of a license under this section shall show that he has fulfilled requirements of continuing professional education since the license was last renewed, or, if never renewed, first issued, of such general kinds and in such subjects and number of hours as shall have been specified by the board by rule. The board may provide by rule that fulfillment of continuing professional education requirements of other states will be accepted in lieu of the foregoing requirements. The board may also provide by rule for pro-rated continuing professional education requirements to be met by applicants whose initial licenses were issued substantially less than two years prior to the renewal date; and it may prescribe by rule special lesser requirements to be met by applicants for license renewal whose prior license lapsed substantially prior to their applications for renewal, and as to whom it would in consequence be inequitable to require a full compliance with all requirements of continuing professional education that would otherwise have been applicable to the period of lapse.

(f) The board shall, after payment of a fee, issue an initial license or renewal.

(g) Applicants for initial issuance or renewal of license under this section shall in their applications list all states and foreign countries in which they have applied for or hold certificates, licenses or foreign licenses; and each holder of or applicant for a license under this section shall notify the board in writing, within thirty days after its occurrence, of any issuance, denial, revocation or suspension of a certificate, license, or foreign license, by another state or country.

Section 87B 1/2. The board shall grant or renew licenses to practice public accountancy to firms that make application and demonstrate their qualifications therefor in accordance with the following paragraphs:–

(a) Licenses shall be issued initially, and renewed, for periods of two years but in any event expiring on the last day of June of the next year following issuance or renewal. Applications for licenses shall be made in such form, and in the case of applications for renewal between such dates, as the board may by rule specify; and the board shall grant or deny any such application no later than ninety days after the application is filed in proper form. In any case where the applicant seeks the opportunity to show that issuance or renewal of a license was mistakenly denied, or where the board is not able to determine whether it should be granted or denied, the board may issue to the applicant a provisional license, which shall expire ninety days after its issuance or when the board determines whether or not to issue or renew the license for which application was made, whichever shall first occur.

(b) An applicant for initial issuance or renewal of a license to practice under this section shall be required to show that each partner, officer or shareholder who regularly works in the commonwealth holds a valid individual license to practice issued under section eighty-seven B and that each other partner, officer or shareholder holds a certificate and is licensed to practice public accountancy in some other state.

(c) An applicant for initial issuance or renewal of a license to practice under this section shall be required to register each office of the firm within the commonwealth with the board, and to show that each such office is under the charge of a person holding a valid license to practice issued under section eighty-seven B.

(d) The board shall issue an initial license or renewal upon payment of a fee.

(e) Applicants for initial issuance or renewal of licenses under this section shall in their application list all states in which they have applied for or hold licenses to practice public accountancy; and each holder of or applicant for a license under this section shall notify the board in writing, within thirty days after its occurrence, of any change in the identities of partners, officers, or shareholders who work within the commonwealth, any change in the number or location of offices within the commonwealth, any change in the identity of the persons in charge of such office, and any issuance, denial, revocation or suspension of a license by any other state.

(f) A partnership engaged in the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting may register with the board as a partnership of certified public accountants; provided, however, that

(1) each partner thereof personally and regularly engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as a member thereof is a certified public accountant registered under section eighty-seven A 1/2 and holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B or is a professional corporation registered under paragraph (g);

(2) each active partner thereof who is a resident of the United States is a certified public accountant in good standing of one state or is a professional corporation registered under paragraph (g);

(3) each resident manager in charge of an office of the firm located within the commonwealth is a certified public accountant registered under section eighty-seven A 1/2 and holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B or is a professional corporation registered under paragraph (g).

Application for such registration shall be made upon the affidavit of a member of such partnership who is a certified public accountant registered under section eighty-seven A 1/2 and who holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B. The board shall in each case determine whether the applicant is eligible for registration. A partnership which is so registered and which holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 may use the words "certified public accountants" or the abbreviation "CPA" in connection with its partnership name. Such a partnership may also use the words "public accountants" or the abbreviation "PA" in connection with its partnership name. Notification shall be given the board, within ninety days, after the admission to or withdrawal of a partner from any partnership registered, and after the commencement or termination of any partner's personal and regular practice of public accounting in the commonwealth as a member thereof. The board shall collect a fee for the registration of such a partnership.

(g) A professional corporation engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting may register with the board as a professional corporation of certified public accountants; provided, however, that such professional corporation is organized pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred fifty-six A. Application for such registration shall be made upon the affidavit of an officer, director or shareholder of such professional corporation who is a certified public accountant registered under section eighty-seven A 1/2 and who holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B. The board shall in each case determine whether the applicant is eligible for registration.

A professional corporation which is so registered and which holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 may use the words "certified public accountants" or the abbreviation "CPA" in connection with the professional corporate name. Notification shall be given the board within ninety days after the admission to or withdrawal of an officer, director or shareholder from any professional corporation so registered, and after the commencement or termination of any officer's, director's or shareholder's personal and regular practice of public accounting in this state as a member thereof. The board shall collect a fee for the registration of such a professional corporation.

(h) The board shall revoke the registration of a partnership or a professional corporation registered as certified public accountants under this section, or corresponding provisions of prior law or as public accountants under the laws of the commonwealth if at any time it does not have all the qualifications prescribed by the provisions of law under which it qualified for registration, and the board may revoke, suspend or refuse to renew any biennial license issued to such partnership or professional corporation so registered for any of the causes enumerated in section eighty-seven D and for the following additional causes:—

(1) the revocation or suspension of the certificate, registration or biennial license of any partner or any officer, director, shareholder or employee thereof;

(2) the cancellation, revocation, suspension or refusal to renew the authority or the partnership or the professional corporation or any partner or officer, director, shareholder or employee thereof to practice public accounting in any other state, for any cause other than failure to pay a registration fee in such another state.

Section 87C. (a) Persons and firms who hold registrations as public accountants and licenses to practice public accountancy issued under prior law of the commonwealth shall be entitled to have their licenses to practice renewed under sections eighty-seven B and eighty-seven B 1/2; provided, however, that they fulfill all requirements for renewal under those provisions. So long as such licensees hold valid licenses to practice under sections eighty-seven B and eighty-seven B 1/2, they shall be entitled to engage in the practice of public accountancy to the same extent as other holders of such licenses, and in addition they shall be entitled to use the designations "public accountants" and "PA", but no other designation in connection with the practice of public accountancy.

(b) Any person who is a citizen of the United States, is domiciled in the commonwealth, has attained the age of twenty-one years, is of good moral character, and who meets the requirements of any of the following clauses shall upon application to the public accountants administrative committee be registered by said committee as a public accountant and may, if he also holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B so style himself and may use the abbreviation PA:

(1) a person who holds himself out to the public as a public accountant and who was engaged in the commonwealth on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership and who makes application to said committee on or before the thirtieth day of October, nineteen hundred and sixty-four, for registration as a public accountant;

(2) a person who, on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, was serving in the armed forces of the United States or of the United Nations, and who, immediately prior to entering such service held himself out to the public as a public accountant and was engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership and who made application to said committee for registration as a public accountant within twelve months from the time of his discharge from such service;

(3) a person who, on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, was employed as a staff accountant by a certified public accountant or by a public accountant and was regularly assigned to accounting engagements, or who at said date was serving in the armed forces of the United States or of the United Nations and was employed as aforesaid immediately prior to such service, and who filed with said committee, not later than the thirtieth day of October, nineteen hundred and sixty-four, a declaration of intent to register as a public accountant, or, if in said armed forces files such declaration within twelve months from the time of his discharge therefrom, when such person who has filed such declaration applies for registration, he shall state in his application for registration his intention to engage within six months from the filing thereof in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership; registration under this clause shall be revoked unless the person so registered shall within twelve months of such registration furnish evidence satisfactory to said committee that he is actually engaged in this commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership.

(4) a person who, on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, was engaged in field audit work with the United States government in civil service Grade 7 or higher, or who, at said date, was serving in the armed forces of the United States or of the United Nations and was engaged as aforesaid immediately prior to such service, and who has had at the time he applies for registration at least two years experience in such field audit work, and who satisfies said committee that his qualifications are substantially equivalent to those of persons who may register under clause (1), (2) or (3); provided, however, that such person filed with the committee not later than the thirtieth day of October, nineteen hundred and sixty-four a declaration of intent to register as a public accountant, or if serving in the above armed forces filed such declaration of intent within twelve months from the time of his discharge therefrom; when such person who has filed such declaration applies for registration under this clause, he shall state in his application for registration his intention to engage within six months from the filing thereof in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership; registration under this clause shall be revoked unless the person so registered shall within twelve months of such registration furnish evidence satisfactory to said committee that he is actually engaged in this commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership.

(5) a person who, on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, was engaged in field audit work with this commonwealth or a political subdivision of the commonwealth, or who

at said date was serving in the armed forces of the United States or of the United Nations and was engaged as aforesaid immediately prior to such service, and who has had at the time he applies for registration at least two years experience in such field audit work, and who satisfies said committee that such field audit work was substantially equivalent to the field audit work required of persons who may register under clause (4), and that his qualifications are substantially equivalent to those of persons who may register under clause (1), (2) or (3); provided, however, that such person filed with said committee not later than the thirtieth day of October, nineteen hundred and sixty-four, a declaration of intent to register as a public accountant, or if serving in the above armed forces files such declaration of intent within twelve months from the time of his discharge therefrom; when such person who has filed such declaration applies for registration under this clause, he shall state in his application for registration his intention to engage within six months from the filing thereof in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership; registration under this clause shall be revoked unless the person so registered shall within twelve months of such registration furnish evidence satisfactory to the committee that he is actually engaged in this commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as his principal occupation on his own account or as a member of a partnership.

(6) a person who, on or before the thirtieth day of June, nineteen hundred and sixty-six, was a public accountant registered or licensed under the laws of a state of the United States which grants to public accountants registered under this section a comparable reciprocal right of registration of licensing, and at the time of his application for registration under this clause is still so registered or licensed; in the event an application for registration under this clause meets all the requirements for such registration other than the requirement of domicile in the commonwealth, said committee may, in its discretion, allow him to register temporarily, effective only until it shall notify him that his application has either been granted or rejected; in no event shall such temporary registration be in effect for more than eighteen months after the date of its allowance; no fee shall be charged for such temporary registration.

(7) a person who, at the time of his application for registration under this clause is registered or licensed under the laws of a state which grants to public accountants registered under this section a comparable reciprocal right of registration; provided, however, that the state under whose laws such application is licensed or registered had, on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, no provision for the licensing or registration of public accountants; and provided any registration under this clause shall be discretionary with said committee and subject to the prior approval of the board of public accountancy; in the event an applicant for registration under this clause meets all the requirements for such registration other than the requirement of domicile in the commonwealth, said committee may in its discretion, and subject to the prior approval of said board, allow him to register temporarily, effective only until said committee shall notify him that his application has either been granted or rejected; in no event shall such temporary registration be in effect for more than eighteen months after the date of its allowance; no fee shall be charged for such temporary registration.

(8) a person who on the seventeenth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixty-three, is engaged in the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting on a part-time basis and has been doing public accounting as part-time work for a period of five years next prior to said effective date, and who makes application to the committee on or before the thirtieth day of October, nineteen hundred and sixty-four for registration as a public accountant.

(c) A partnership engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting may register with the public accountants administrative committee as a partnership of public accountants; provided, however, that each partner personally and regularly engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as a member thereof is a certified public accountant holding a license to practice under sections eighty-seven B and eighty-seven B 1/2, or is a public accountant registered under section eighty-seven B as a public accountant and holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 or a professional corporation registered under the provisions of paragraph (g) of section eighty-seven B 1/2; and provided, further, that each resident manager in charge of an office of a firm within the commonwealth is so qualified. Application for such registration shall be made upon the affidavit of a partner who meets the requirements of this paragraph.

The public accountants administrative committee shall in each case determine whether the partnership is eligible for registration. A partnership which is so registered and which holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 may use the words "public accountants" or the abbreviation "PA" in connection with its partnership name. Notification shall be given said committee, within ninety days, after the admission to or withdrawal of a partner from any partnership so registered, and after the commencement or termination of any partner's personal and regular practice of public accounting within the commonwealth as a member thereof.

(d) A professional corporation engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting may register with the public accountants administrative committee as a professional corporation of public accountants; provided, however, that each officer, director or shareholder personally and regularly engaged within the commonwealth in the practice of public accounting as a member thereof, is a certified public accountant registered under section eighty-seven A 1/2 or a registered public accountant under section eighty-seven C and holds a valid biennial license issued under said section eighty-seven B 1/2. Application for such registration shall be made upon the affidavit of an officer, director or shareholder who meets the requirements of this paragraph. The committee shall collect a fee for the registration of such a partnership.

The public accountants administrative committee shall in each case determine whether the professional corporation is eligible for registration. A professional corporation which is so registered and which holds a valid biennial license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 may use the words "public accountants" or the abbreviation "PA" in connection with its professional corporate name. Notification shall be given said committee within ninety days, after the admission to or withdrawal of an officer, director or shareholder from any professional corporation so registered, and after the commencement or termination of any officer's, director's or shareholder's personal and regular practice of public accounting in this state as a member thereof. The committee shall collect a fee for the registration of such a professional corporation.

Section 87C 1/2. (a) After notice and hearing, the board may revoke any certificate or license issued under sections eighty-seven A 1/2, eighty-seven B and eighty-seven B 1/2 suspend any such certificate or license or refuse to renew any such license for a period of not more than five years, reprimand, censure or limit the scope of practice of any license on probation, all with or without terms, conditions and limitations, for any one or more of the following reasons:–

- (1) Fraud or deceit in obtaining a certificate or license;
- (2) Cancellation, revocation, suspension or refusal to renew authority to engage in the practice of public accountancy in any other state or foreign country for any cause;
- (3) Failure, on the part of a holder of a license under section eighty-seven B or eighty-seven B 1/2, to maintain compliance with the requirements for issuance or renewals or such license or to report changes to the board;
- (4) Revocation or suspension of the right to practice before any state or federal agency;
- (5) Dishonesty, fraud or gross negligence in the practice of public accountancy or in the filing or failure to file his own income tax returns;
- (6) Violation of any of the provisions of sections eighty-seven A to eighty-seven E, inclusive, or any rules promulgated by the board;
- (7) Conviction of a felony, or of any crime an element of which is dishonesty or fraud, under the laws of the United States, or the commonwealth, or of any other state, if the acts would have constituted such a crime under the laws of the commonwealth;
- (8) Performance of any fraudulent act while holding a certificate or license issued under prior law dealing with registration and the conduct of public accountancy;
- (9) Any conduct reflecting adversely upon the licensee's fitness to engage in the practice of public accountancy.

(b) In lieu of or in addition to any remedy specifically provided in paragraph (a) the board may require of a licensee:

- (1) A quality review conducted in such fashion as the board may specify; and
  - (2) Satisfactory completion of such continuing professional education programs as the board may specify.
- (c) In any proceeding in which a remedy provided by paragraph (a) or (b) is imposed, the board may also require the respondent licensee to pay the cost of the proceeding.

The board may, upon receipt of a complaint or other information alleging violations of section eighty-seven A 1/2 to eighty-seven E, inclusive, or of the rules of the board, conduct investigations to determine whether there is probable cause to institute proceedings against any person or firm for such violation; but an investigation under this section shall not be a prerequisite to such proceedings in the event that a determination of probable cause can be made without investigation. In aid of such investigations, the board or the chairman thereof may issue subpoenas to compel witnesses to testify and to produce evidence.

The board may designate a member, or any other person of appropriate competence, to serve as investigating officer to conduct an investigation. Upon completion of an investigation, the investigating officer shall file a report with the board. The board shall find probable cause or lack of probable cause upon the basis of the report, or shall return the report to the investigating officer for further investigation. Unless there has been a determination of probable cause, the report of the investigating officer, the complaint, if any, the testimony and documents submitted in support of the complaint or gathered in the investigation, and the fact of pendency of the investigation shall be treated as confidential information and shall not be disclosed to any person except law enforcement authorities and, to the extent deemed necessary in order to conduct the investigation, the subject of the investigation, persons whose complaints are being investigated, and witnesses questioned in the course of the investigation.

Upon a finding of probable cause, if the subject of the investigation is a licensee, the board shall direct that a complaint be issued and, if the subject of the investigation is not a licensee, the board shall take appropriate action pursuant to the provisions of section eighty-seven D 1/2. Upon a finding of no probable cause, the board shall close the matter and shall thereafter release information related thereto only with the consent of the person or firm under investigation.

In the case where probable cause with respect to a violation by a licensee has been determined by the board, whether following an investigation, or upon receipt of a written complaint furnishing grounds for a determination of such probable cause, or upon receipt of notice of a decision by the board of accountancy of another state furnishing such grounds, the board shall issue a complaint setting forth appropriate charges and set a date for hearing before the board on such charges. The board shall, not less than thirty days prior to the date of the hearing, serve a copy of the complaint and notice of the time and place of the hearing upon the licensee, together with a copy of the board's rules governing proceedings under this section, either by personal delivery or by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to the licensee at his last known address.

A licensee against whom a complaint has been issued under this section shall have the right, reasonably in advance of the hearing, to examine and copy the report of investigation, if any, and any documentary or testimonial evidence and summaries of anticipated evidence in the board's possession relating to the subject matter of the complaint. The board's rules governing proceedings under this section shall specify the manner in which such right may be exercised.

In a hearing under this section the respondent licensee may appear in person, or, in the case of a firm, through a partner, officer, director, or shareholder, by counsel, examine witnesses and evidence presented in support of the complaint, and present evidence and witnesses on his own behalf. The licensee shall be entitled, on application to the board, to the issuance of subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence.

The evidence supporting the complaint shall be presented by the investigating officer, by a board member designated for that purpose, or by counsel. A board member who presents the evidence, or who has conducted the investigation of the matter shall not participate in the board's decision of the matter.

In a hearing under this section the board shall be advised by counsel, who shall not be the same counsel who presents or assists in presenting the evidence supporting the complaint.

In a hearing under this section the board shall not be bound by technical rules of evidence.

In a hearing under this section a stenographic or electronic record shall be made, and filed with the board. A transcript need not be prepared unless review is sought or the board determines that there is other good cause for its preparation.

In a hearing under this section a recorded vote of a majority of all members of the board then in office, excluding members disqualified, shall be required to sustain any charge and to impose any penalty with respect thereto.

If, after service of a complaint and notice of hearing the respondent licensee fails to appear at the hearing, the board may proceed to hear evidence against the licensee and may enter such order as it deems warranted by the evidence, which order shall be final unless the licensee petitions for review; provided, however, that within thirty days from the date of any such order, upon a showing of good cause for the licensee's failure to appear and defend, the board may set aside the order and schedule a new hearing on the complaint, to be conducted in accordance with applicable subsections of this section.

Any person or firm adversely affected by any order of the board entered after a hearing may obtain review thereof by filing a written petition for review with the supreme judicial court within thirty days after the entry of said order. The procedures for review, and the scope of the review shall be as specified in chapter thirty A.

In any case where the board renders a decision imposing discipline against a licensee under this section, the board shall examine its records to determine whether the licensee holds a certificate or a license to practice public accountancy in any other state; and if so, the board shall notify the board of accountancy of such other state of its decision by mail within forty-five days of rendering the decision. The board may also furnish information relating to proceedings resulting in disciplinary action to other public authorities and to private professional organizations having a disciplinary interest in the licensee.

In any case where the board has suspended or revoked a certificate or a license or refused to renew a license, the board may, upon application in writing by the person or firm affected and for good cause shown, modify the suspension or reissue the certificate or license.

The board shall by rule specify the manner in which such applications shall be made, the times within which they shall be made, and the circumstances in which hearings will be held thereon.

Before reissuing or terminating the suspension of a certificate or license, and as a condition thereto, the board may require the applicant to show successful completion of specified continuing professional education; and the board may make the reinstatement of a certificate or permit conditional, and subject to satisfactory completion of a quality review conducted in such fashion as the board may specify.

Section 87D. (a) No person or firm not holding a valid license issued under section eighty-seven B or eighty-seven B 1/2 shall issue a report on financial statements of any other person, firm, organization or governmental unit. This prohibition does not apply to an officer, partner or employee of any firm or organization affixing his signature to any statement or report in reference to the financial affairs of such firm or organization or subsidiary or franchise of said organization with any wording designating the position, title or office that he holds therein; nor does it apply to any act of a public official or employee in the performance of his duties as such; nor does it apply to the performance by persons other than licensees of other services involving the use of accounting skills, including the preparation of tax returns, and the preparation of financial statements without the issuance of reports thereon.

(b) The prohibition contained in paragraph (a) is applicable to issuance, by a person or firm not holding a valid license, of a report using any form of language conventionally used by licensees with respect to a review of financial statements.

(c) The prohibition contained in paragraph (a) is applicable to issuance by a person or firm not holding a valid license, of a report using any form of language conventionally used by licensees with respect to a compilation of financial statements.

(d) No person not holding a valid certificate and a valid license shall use or assume the title or designation "certified public accountant", or the abbreviation "CPA", or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such person is a certified public accountant.

(e) No firm shall assume or use the title or designation "certified public accountants", or the abbreviation "CPA", or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such firm is composed of certified public accountants, unless (1) the firm holds a valid license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 and (2) all partners, officers and shareholders of the firm hold certificates and valid licenses.

(f) No person shall assume or use the title designation "public accountant", or the abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such person is a public accountant unless he holds a valid license issued under section eighty-seven B.

(g) No firm not holding a valid license issued under section eighty-seven B 1/2 shall assume or use the title or designation "public accountant", or the abbreviation "PA", or any other title, designation, words, letters, abbreviation, sign, card, or device tending to indicate that such firm is composed of public accountants.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 705.

(h) No person or firm not holding a valid license issued under section eighty-seven or eighty-seven B 1/2 shall assume or use the title or designation "certified accountant", "chartered accountant", "enrolled accountant", "licensed accountant", "registered accountant", "accredited accountant", or any other title or designation likely to be confused with the titles "certified public accountant" or "public accountant", or use any of the abbreviations "CA", "EA", "LA", "RA", "AA", or similar abbreviation likely to be confused with the abbreviations "CPA" or "PA"; provided, however, that a holder of a certificate who does not also hold a license may use the titles pertaining to such certificate in any manner not prohibited by rules promulgated by the board.

(i) No person or firm not holding a valid license issued under section eighty-seven B or eighty-seven B 1/2 shall assume or use any title or designation that includes the words "accountant", "auditor", or "accounting", in connection with any other language, including the language of a report, which implies that such person or firm holds such a license or has special competence as an accountant or auditor; provided, however, that this subsection does not prohibit any officer, partner or employee of any firm or organization from affixing his signature to any statement or report in reference to the financial affairs of such firm or organization or subsidiary or franchisee of said organization with any wording designating the position, title or office that he holds therein; nor prohibit any act of a public official or employee in the performance of his duties as such.

(j) No person holding a certificate shall engage in the practice of public accountancy unless he also holds a valid license issued under section eighty-seven B.

(k) No person or firm holding a license under section eighty-seven B or eighty-seven B 1/2, shall engage in the practice of public accountancy using a professional or firm name or designation which is misleading as to the legal form of the firm, or as to the persons who are partners, officers or shareholders of the firm, or as to any other matter; provided, however, that names of one or more former partners or shareholders may be included in the name of a firm or its successor.

(l) None of the foregoing provisions of this section shall have any application to a person or firm holding a certificate, designation, decree or license granted in a foreign country entitling the holder thereof to engage in practice of public accountancy or its equivalent in such country, whose activities within the commonwealth are limited to the provision of professional services to persons or firms who are residents of or government of or business entities of the country in which he holds such entitlement, who issues no reports with respect to the financial statements of any other persons, firms or governmental units within the commonwealth, and who does not use in the commonwealth any title or designation other than the one under which he practices in such country, followed by a translation of such title or designation into the English language, if it is in a different language, and by the name of such country.

Any person or firm who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine or not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Section 87D 1/2. Whenever, as a result of an investigation or otherwise, the board believes that any person or firm has engaged, or is about to engage, in any acts or practices which constitute or will constitute a violation of section eighty-seven D, the board may make application to the appropriate court for an order enjoining such acts or practices, and upon a showing by the board that such person or firm has engaged, or is about to engage, in any such acts or practices, an injunction, restraining order or other order as may be appropriate shall be granted by such court.

Whenever, by reason of an investigation, the board has reason to believe that any person or firm has knowingly engaged in acts or practices which constitute a violation of section eighty-seven D, the board may bring its information to the attention of the attorney general, or other appropriate law enforcement officer, who may, in his discretion, cause appropriate criminal proceedings to be brought thereon.

In any action brought pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, evidence of the commission of a single act prohibited by said provisions shall be sufficient to justify a penalty, injunction, restraining order or conviction, respectively, without evidence of a general course of conduct.

Section 87E. All statements, records, schedules, working papers, and memoranda made by a licensee or a partner, shareholder, officer, director, or employee of a licensee, incident to, or in the course of, rendering services to a client in the practice of public accountancy, except the reports submitted by the licensee to the client and except for records which are part of the client's records, shall be and remain the property of the licensee in the absence of an express agreement between the licensee and the client to the contrary. No such statement, record, schedule, working paper, or memorandum shall be sold, transferred, or bequeathed, without the consent of the client or his personal representative or assignee, to anyone other than one or more surviving partners or stockholders or new partners or stockholders of the licensee, or any combined or merged firm or successor in interest to the licensee.

A licensee shall furnish to his client or former client, upon request and reasonable notice:

(1) a copy of the licensee's working papers, to the extent that such working papers include records that would ordinarily constitute part of the client's records and are not otherwise available to the client; and

(2) any accounting or other records belonging to, or obtained from or on behalf of, the client which the licensee removed from the client's premises or received for the client's account. The licensee may make and retain copies of such documents of the client when they form the basis for work done by him.

Except by permission of the client engaging a licensee or the heirs, successors or personal representatives of such client, a licensee or any partner, officer, shareholder or employee of a licensee shall not voluntarily disclose information communicated to him by the client relating to and in connection with services rendered to the client by the licensee in the practice of public accountancy. Such information shall be deemed confidential; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the disclosure of information required to be disclosed by the standards of the public accounting profession in reporting on the examination of financial statements, or as prohibiting disclosures in court proceedings, in investigations or proceedings conducted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, in ethical investigations conducted by private professional organizations, or in the course of quality reviews.

SECTION 5. This act shall take effect on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 706. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE TOWN OF AMHERST TO ESTABLISH A HOUSING REVIEW BOARD.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists in the town of Amherst with respect to availability and quality of the housing of a substantial number of town residents. This emergency has been caused by the rapid inflation in the costs of new housing construction; by prolonged high interest rates which have retarded new housing construction; by the substantial increase in the town's student population since the year nineteen hundred and sixty; and by increases in residential mortgage rates, which have made home ownership more difficult or impossible, especially for low- and moderate-income families and elderly persons on fixed incomes. The general court further finds that because of the continuing critical shortage of rental housing accommodations, abnormally high rents have resulted and, unless residential rents become subject to review and control on a case-by-case basis, such emergency and the further inflationary pressures resulting therefrom will produce serious threats to the public health, safety, and general welfare of the residents of Amherst; and that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Amherst.

SECTION 2. The town of Amherst is hereby authorized to establish, by by-law, a housing review board, hereinafter referred to as the board, to accept petitions by tenants on a form approved by the board, and to determine when rent levels appear, in the judgment of the board, to be excessive and unreasonable.

SECTION 3. The board shall consist of five members who shall be residents of the town of Amherst. The board members shall be appointed by the town manager and approved by the board of selectmen to serve without compensation. Members shall be appointed to two-year terms and two shall be appointed to one-year terms. Vacancies, other than by reason of expiration of terms, shall be filled by the town manager, with the approval of the board of selectmen.

Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 706.

The board shall promulgate rules and regulations for the conduct of its business as are allowed and are consistent with the provisions of this act. The board shall have jurisdiction to accomplish the purpose of this act over all rental units in the town of Amherst except: (1) rental units in hotels, motels, inns, and tourist homes which are rented primarily to transient guests for periods of less than fourteen days, and rental units in rooming or boarding houses in which the tenant petitioner has resided for a period of three months or less; (2) rental units which a governmental unit, agency, or authority either owns, operates, finances, or subsidizes; (3) rental units in any hospital, convent, monastery, asylum, public institution, or college or school dormitory operated exclusively for charitable or educational purposes; (4) rental units in nursing homes and rest homes for the aged; and (5) rental units in owner-occupied one, two, or three-family homes.

The board shall secure such information and conduct such studies, either directly or through other municipal agencies, and may summons such persons, papers, or documents as it finds necessary for the performance of its duties.

SECTION 4. The board may regulate or modify rent levels which it finds after a hearing to be unreasonable or excessive.

The board shall deny rent increases when it determines that the affected premises do not comply with chapter two of the State Sanitary Code, the State Building Code, or any other applicable municipal code, by-law, or state law, regulating the conditions of residential housing accommodations. However, the board may allow a rental increase in any case if it determines that the tenant is more than thirty days in arrears in tendering rent, unless such arrearage is due to a withholding of rent pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-seven L of chapter one hundred and eleven or section eight A of chapter two hundred and thirty-nine of the General Laws.

The board shall deny a rent increase in any case where it finds that the landlord has not served the tenant with a written notice to quit including an offer to establish a new tenancy pursuant to section twelve of chapter one hundred and eighty-six of the General Laws.

SECTION 5. Within thirty days of receipt of a petition of a tenant or tenants presenting a rental dispute, the board shall conduct a hearing to settle said dispute in a fair and equitable manner and to adjust the rent of the rental unit involved, if said unit is not exempt under section three, in a fair and reasonable manner, and to determine whether a decision in a particular case applies to other, comparable rental units within the same building or apartment complex, and the board shall allow the landlord in each case a fair and reasonable net operating income, in accordance with such standards as shall be established by the board.

Every decision of the board shall be rendered within fourteen days of the close of a hearing. The decision shall be in writing and parties to the proceedings shall be notified of the decision in person or by mail.

Any orders issued by the board shall remain in effect for a period of one year unless modified by the board.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 706.

SECTION 6. Any aggrieved party may file a civil action against the board in the Northampton division of the district court department of the trial court, or in any housing court having jurisdiction, within thirty days of receipt of a decision by the board. The court shall review and decide such action pursuant to the standards set forth in paragraph (7) of section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws. The Northampton division of the district court department of the trial court, or such housing court, shall have jurisdiction to enjoin any violation of this act.

SECTION 7. Any person who demands, accepts, receives, or retains any payment of rent in excess of the amount authorized by the board shall be liable to the person from whom such payment is demanded, accepted, received, or retained, or to the municipality, for reasonable attorney's fees and costs as determined by the court, plus liquidated damages in the amount of four hundred dollars.

The board shall be authorized to seek enforcement of its orders in the Northampton division of the district court department of the trial court.

SECTION 8. The board shall provide in writing a comprehensive annual report of its activities to town meeting in May of each year.

SECTION 9. Any owner of residential property within the town of Amherst which is not exempt under the provisions of section three may not bring eviction proceedings against a tenant for a period of one year after the tenant has filed a complaint with the board, unless (1) the tenant has failed to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled; (2) the tenant has violated an obligation or covenant of his tenancy other than the obligation to surrender possession upon proper notice and has failed to cure such violation after having received notice thereof from the landlord; (3) the tenant is committing or permitting to exist a nuisance in or is causing substantial interference with the comfort, safety, or enjoyment of the landlord or other occupants of the same or any adjacent accommodation; (4) the tenant is convicted of using or permitting the rental unit to be used for any illegal purpose; (5) the tenant, following the termination of a written lease or rental agreement after this act has taken effect, has refused, after written request or demand by the landlord, to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration and on such terms that are not inconsistent with or violative of any provisions of law; (6) the tenant has refused the landlord reasonable access to the unit for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by the laws of the United States, the commonwealth, or the town of Amherst, or for the purpose of inspection as permitted or required by the lease or by law, or for the purpose of showing the rental unit to any prospective purchaser or mortgagor; (7) the person holding at the end of a lease term is a subtenant not approved by the landlord; (8) the landlord seeks to recover possession in good faith for use and occupancy of himself, or his children, parents, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, daughter-in-law, or son-in-law; (9) the landlord seeks to recover possession to demolish or otherwise remove the unit from housing use; or (10) the landlord seeks to recover possession for any other just cause, provided that his purpose is not in conflict with the provisions and purpose of this act.

SECTION 10. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 707. AN ACT VALIDATING CERTAIN ACTION TAKEN BY THE TOWN OF CHATHAM AT ITS ANNUAL TOWN ELECTION IN THE YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FOUR.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The vote taken by the town of Chatham on question number three placed on the official ballot for the annual town election held on May seventeenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-four, which question approved by a majority of the voters voting thereon, is hereby ratified, validated and confirmed, notwithstanding any defect or omission in the warrant calling said election.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 708. AN ACT EXTENDING THE TIME AVAILABLE FOR RESIDENTIAL TAX CREDIT FOR RENEWABLE ENERGY SYSTEMS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately extend the time available to claim a certain tax credit, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 35 of chapter 796 of the acts of 1979 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as amended by section 1 of chapter 518 of the acts of 1983, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Section nine shall take effect as of January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and shall become inoperative on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven.

SECTION 2. Section 6 of chapter 64H of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (hh).

SECTION 3. Section two of this act shall take effect on December

Chapter 709. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR A COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT FOR VETERANS' BENEFITS PAID IN FISCAL YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SIX.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide for a cost of living adjustment for veterans' benefits paid in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-six, therefore, it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Veterans' benefits paid pursuant to section five of chapter one hundred fifteen of the General Laws shall be increased by nine per cent effective July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and the Commonwealth shall reimburse cities and towns for all expenses incurred as a result of said benefit increase. The Commonwealth shall continue to reimburse cities and towns for seventy-five per cent of all other costs incurred thereby in the same manner as other veterans' benefit are reimbursed by the Commonwealth.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 711. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE ESTATE TAX.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate the estate tax, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Paragraph (a) of section 17 of chapter 62C of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– In all cases where the Massachusetts gross estate of a resident decedent or the Massachusetts gross estate of a non-resident decedent, computed as if the decedent had been a resident, exceeds two hundred thousand dollars the executor, as defined in chapter sixty-five C, shall make a return within nine months after the date of the decedent's death with respect to the tax imposed by said chapter sixty-five C.

SECTION 2. Chapter 65 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 13, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 13. Except as otherwise provided in this section and section fourteen, the tax imposed by this chapter shall be assessed upon the value of the property at the time of the death of the decedent. In case of a devise, descent, bequest or grant to take effect in possession or enjoyment after the expiration of one or more life estates or of a term of years, the tax shall be assessed on the value of the property or interest therein coming to the beneficiary at the time when he becomes entitled to the same in possession or enjoyment. The value of an annuity or a life interest in any such property, or any interest therein less than an absolute interest, shall be determined by the tables used by the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the valuation of property interests under the federal estate tax law for persons dying on the valuation date in question and not the tables in effect on the date of death of the decedent who created the interest; but when an annuity or a life interest is terminated by the death of the annuitant or life tenant, and the tax upon such interest is not due and has not been paid in advance, the value of said interest for the purposes of taxation under this chapter shall be the amount of the annuity or income actually paid or payable to the annuitant or life tenant during the period for which he was entitled to the annuity or was in possession of the life estate.

SECTION 3. Chapter 65A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 5, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 5. Whenever it appears upon any accounting, or in any appropriate action or proceeding, that an executor, administrator, trustee or other person acting in a fiduciary capacity, has paid or may be required to pay an estate tax levied or assessed under the provisions of chapter sixty-five C or under the provisions of this chapter, or under the provision of any estate tax law of the United States heretofore or hereafter enacted, upon the transfer of the estate of any person who at the time of his death was an inhabitant of this commonwealth, the net amount of said tax shall be apportioned among and borne by recipients and beneficiaries of the property and interests included in the gross estate in the following manner:–

(1) If any portion of the estate passed under the will of the decedent, such proportion of the net amount of the tax so levied or assessed, other than any tax payable from property described in paragraph (3) shall, except as otherwise provided or directed by the will, be charged to and paid from the general funds of the estate as the net amount of the property passing under the will and included in the measure of such tax, exclusive of property over which the decedent had any power of appointment as defined from time to time by the estate tax laws of the United States, bears to the amount of the net estate as hereafter defined in this section.

(2) If any portion of the property with respect to which such tax is levied or assessed, other than property described in paragraph three of this section, is held under the terms of any trust created inter vivos or is subject to such a power of appointment, such proportion of the net amount of the tax so levied or assessed, other than any tax payable from property described in paragraph (3), shall, except as otherwise provided or directed by the trust instrument with respect to the fund established thereby, or by the decedent's will, be charged to and paid from the corpus of the trust property or the property subject to such power of appointment, as the case may be, as the net amount of the property of such trust or property subject to such power of appointment and included in the measure of such tax bears to the amount of the net estate as hereafter defined in this section. The amount so charged shall not be apportioned between temporary and remainder estates.

(3) If any portion of the property with respect to which such tax is levied or assessed is property in which the decedent had a qualifying income interest for life within the meaning of section three A of chapter sixty-five C or section two thousand and forty-four of the Internal Revenue Code or any statutes of similar import in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, such portion of the net amount of the tax so levied or assessed, including, in the case of the Massachusetts estate tax, any tax imposed under the provision of subsection (b) of section two of said chapter sixty-five C, shall, except as otherwise provided or directed by the decedent's will, be charged to and paid from the corpus of such property as equals the amount by which the total net amount of such tax levied or assessed exceeds the total net amount of such tax which would have been levied or assessed if the value of such property which is included in the measure of such tax had not been so included. The amount so charged shall not be apportioned between temporary and remainder estates.

(4) The balance of the net amount of the tax so levied or assessed, or if paragraphs (1), (2) and (3) are inapplicable the whole of the net amount of such tax shall, except as otherwise provided or directed by the decedent's will, be equitably apportioned among and charged to and paid by the recipients and beneficiaries of property or interests included in the measure of such tax and passing or arising otherwise than under the will of the decedent or by virtue of any such trust or by the exercise or nonexercise of any such power of appointment or by reason of the termination of any such qualifying income interest for the decedent's life in the proportion that the net amount of such property or interest bears to the amount of the net estate as hereafter defined in this section; provided, however, that where any provision is made whereby any person is given an interest in income or an estate for years or for life or other temporary interest in any property or fund the amount so charged to such recipients or beneficiaries shall not be apportioned between temporary and remainder estates but shall be charged to and paid out of the corpus of such property or fund; and provided, further, that any apportionment made under this section shall accord with applicable estate tax laws of the United States where such laws specify with respect to an apportionment or a right of recovery.

(5) For the purposes of the apportionment of the tax levied or assessed under the provisions of chapter sixty-five C or this chapter, or under the provisions of any estate tax law of the United States, the term "net estate" as used in this section shall mean the gross estate as defined for purposes of the particular tax less (i) any property described in paragraph (3) which is included in the gross estate for purposes of the particular tax and (ii) any deductions, other than specific exemptions, allowed for purposes of the particular tax other than deductions attributable to such property described in said paragraph (3).

(6) If the court shall determine that it is inequitable, because of special circumstances, to apportion interest and penalties in connection with estate taxes as provided herein, it may direct apportionment thereof in such manner as it shall find equitable.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 65A is hereby further amended by striking out section 5A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 5A. In all cases in which any property required to be included in the gross estate as defined by the applicable estate tax laws of the United States or the commonwealth does not come into the possession of the executor or administrator as such, he shall, in cases where property of a trust created inter vivos, property subject to a power of appointment, or property in which the decedent had a qualifying income interest for life is included in the gross estate for purposes of either such tax, be entitled to recover from the fiduciary in possession of the corpus of such trust or of such property, and in all other cases from the recipients or beneficiaries of property or interests with respect to which the federal or the commonwealth estate tax is levied or assessed the proportionate amount of the federal or the commonwealth tax, as the case may be, payable by such fiduciary or persons with which they are chargeable under the provisions of section five; provided, however, that no such tax or any part thereof shall be recovered from any company issuing (1) any policy of insurance, annuity or endowment contract on the life of or insuring the decedent, including accident and health policies, or (2) any such policy or contract insuring the decedent and one or more other persons jointly, or (3) any such policy or contract on the life of or insuring one or more persons other than the decedent in which the decedent owned any interest at the time of his death; or from any bank, trust company or other banking institution with respect to any account standing in the joint names of the decedent and any other person of which it is the depository. Any person who shall have paid more than the proportionate amount of the tax apportionable to him under section five on any property or interest passing to him, or in his possession, shall be entitled to a just and equitable contribution from those who shall not have paid the full amount of the tax apportionable to them respectively.

SECTION 5. Section 1 of chapter 65C of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (d) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(d) "Federal gross estate", the gross estate as defined under the Code except that, (1) notwithstanding section two thousand and thirty-five of the Code, the value of the gross estate shall include the value of all property to the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, relinquished a power, or exercised or released a general power of appointment, except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, by trust or otherwise, during the three year period ending with the date of the decedent's death; provided, however, that the value of such property or interest therein so transferred or subject to the power so relinquished, exercised or released exceeds ten thousand dollars for any person during a calendar year; and (2) notwithstanding section two thousand and forty of the Code, one-half of the value of any interest in any property shall be included in the gross estate if such interest is held by the decedent and the decedent's spouse as tenants by the entirety, or joint tenants with right of survivorship, but only if the decedent and the spouse of the decedent are the only joint tenants.

SECTION 6. Said section 1 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (f) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(f) "Massachusetts gross estate", the federal gross estate, whether or not a federal estate tax return is required to be filed, plus the value of any property (i) in which the decedent had at death a qualifying income interest for life described in subsection (j)c) of section three A, or to the extent of any such interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, under any circumstances which would require the property to be included in the gross estate under the provisions of this chapter and (ii) for which a deduction was allowed for Massachusetts estate tax purposes with respect to the transfer of such property to the decedent; and less the value of real and tangible personal property having an actual situs outside the commonwealth. The Massachusetts gross estate shall not include the value of any property in which the decedent had a qualifying income interest for life which is not otherwise includible in the Massachusetts gross estate under the first sentence of this paragraph, notwithstanding the right of the executor of the decedent's estate to recover federal or Massachusetts estate taxes from such property.

SECTION 7. Subsection (a) of section 2 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "table", in line 1, the following words:– less the credit, if any, provided in subsection (a) of section three,.

SECTION 7A. Said subsection (a) of said section 2 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 6, the words "sixty thousand dollars" and inserting in place thereof the following words:– two hundred thousand dollars.

SECTION 8. Said section 2 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (b) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:–

(b) If the maximum credit for state death taxes allowable to the estate of a deceased resident or nonresident against the federal estate tax, computed according to the rate schedule found in section two thousand and eleven of the Code based upon an amount equal to the Massachusetts taxable estate, computed, with respect to a nonresident, as if the decedent had been a resident and apportioned in accordance with subsection (b) of section four, exceeds the tax imposed under subsection (a), the amount of such excess shall be added to the tax imposed under said subsection (a). In the case of a decedent who was a nonresident of the United States, however, the Massachusetts taxable estate shall be computed as if such decedent had been a resident without apportionment in accordance with subsection (b) of section four. For purposes of this subsection, the Massachusetts taxable estate shall include the value of any property subject to a power of appointment to the extent that such value has been excluded from the computation in said subsection (a) because a tax had been paid thereon pursuant to section fourteen of chapter sixty-five and shall also include the value of qualified terminable interest property, as defined in subsection (b) (7) (B) of section two thousand and fifty-six of the Internal Revenue Code in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, to the extent that such property has been included in the gross estate of the decedent as finally determined for federal estate tax purposes but has not been included in the gross estate of the decedent for Massachusetts estate tax purposes, in each case less the deductions described in subsection (b) of section three attributable thereto and the value of real and tangible personal property includible therein and having an actual situs outside the commonwealth.

SECTION 9. Section 3 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (a) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:–

(a) If the Massachusetts net estate is two hundred thousand dollars or less there shall be an exemption equal to the Massachusetts net estate. If the Massachusetts net estate exceeds two hundred thousand dollars no exemption shall apply and a credit equal to the Massachusetts estate tax liability or one thousand five hundred dollars, whichever is less, shall be allowed.

SECTION 10. Subsection (b) of said section 3 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– No deduction for interest shall be allowed hereunder unless the same has been paid or has, solely through the passage of time, accrued within three years from the due date of the return, without regard to any extension granted.

SECTION 11. Said section 3 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (c) and inserting in place thereof the following two subsections:–

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b) or any general or special law to the contrary, if a deduction from any federal estate tax would not be allowed because of a failure to meet the requirements set forth pursuant to section two thousand and fifty-five of the Code in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, and if the relevant governing instrument is the subject of a qualified reformation as hereinafter defined as a result of which a deduction under said section two thousand and fifty-five would be allowable from any federal estate tax, then a similar deduction shall be allowed from any tax imposed pursuant to this chapter to the extent that it can be attributed to property included in the Massachusetts gross estate. For purposes of this subsection, the term "qualified reformation" shall mean a change of a governing instrument which is a qualified reformation as defined in section two thousand and fifty-five (e) of the Internal Revenue Code in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

(d) If the right to claim any deduction otherwise allowable is waived for federal estate tax purposes, such right shall be considered waived for Massachusetts estate tax purposes.

SECTION 12. Said chapter 65C is hereby further amended by inserting after section 3 the following section:–

Section 3A. (a) In the case of qualified terminable interest property, (i) for purposes of subsection (a) of section two thousand and fifty-six of the Code, such property shall be treated as passing to the surviving spouse, and (ii) for purposes of subsection (b)(1)(A) of section two thousand and fifty-six of the Code, no part of such property shall be treated as passing to any person other than the surviving spouse, to the extent that a deduction with respect to such qualified terminable interest property which, when added to the value of all other property which has passed or passes to the surviving spouse, will not cause the total deductions for property which has passed or passes to the surviving spouse to exceed fifty per cent of the Massachusetts adjusted gross estate.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "qualified terminable interest property" shall mean property (i) which is included in the Massachusetts gross estate, (ii) which passes from the decedent, (iii) in which the surviving spouse has a qualifying income interest for life, and (iv) to which an election under this section applies.

(c) The surviving spouse has a qualifying income interest for life if (i) the surviving spouse is entitled to all the income from the property, payable annually or at more frequent intervals, and (ii) no person has a power to appoint any part of the property to any person other than the surviving spouse. Clause (ii) of this subsection shall not apply to a power exercisable only at or after the death of the surviving spouse.

(d) The term "property" includes an interest in property.

(e) A specific portion of property shall be treated as separate property.

(f) An election under this section with respect to any property shall be made by the executor on the Massachusetts estate tax return filed within the time prescribed for filing such return, or any extension of such time granted by the commissioner, to have the property treated as qualified terminable interest property for Massachusetts estate tax purposes. Such election, once made, shall be irrevocable and shall be separate from and independent of any election made by the executor for federal estate tax purposes.

(g) If the surviving spouse of the decedent is the only noncharitable beneficiary of a qualified charitable remainder trust, subsection (b) (1) of section two thousand and fifty-six of the Code shall not apply to any interest in such trust which passes or has passed from the decedent to such surviving spouse. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "noncharitable beneficiary" shall mean any beneficiary of the qualified charitable remainder trust other than an organization described in subsection (c) of section one hundred and seventy of the Code and the term "qualified charitable remainder trust" shall mean a charitable remainder annuity trust or charitable remainder unitrust as described in section six hundred and sixty-four of the Code.

(h) Nothing in this section or any other provision of this chapter shall allow the value of any interest in property to be deducted under this chapter more than once with respect to the same decedent.

SECTION 13. Section 4 of said chapter 65C is hereby amended by striking out subsection (b), as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:–

(b) The tax imposed under subsection (a) shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the tax that would be due if the decedent had been a resident as (i) the value of all real and tangible personal property, diminished by any mortgage or lien thereon, having an actual situs in Massachusetts, the transfer of which is subject to tax under said subsection (a) bears to (ii) the value of the decedent's Massachusetts gross estate, diminished by any mortgage or lien or property included therein, determined as if he had been a resident.

SECTION 14. Said chapter 65C is hereby further amended by striking out section 5, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 5. (a) Property in the Massachusetts gross estate shall be valued as of the date of death of the decedent; provided, however, that if an alternate valuation has been properly elected for purposes of the federal estate tax in accordance with section two thousand and thirty-two of the Code in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five the property in the Massachusetts gross estate shall be valued as of the dates used for federal estate tax valuation purposes; and provided, further, that if no federal estate tax is payable under federal estate tax laws applicable to the decedent's estate, whether or not a federal estate tax return is required to be filed, the executor may elect to value the property in the Massachusetts gross estate on the alternate valuation dates and in the manner provided under the provisions of section two thousand and thirty-two of said Code on the Massachusetts estate tax return.

(b) The value of an annuity, a life estate or an interest in property less than an absolute interest shall be determined in accordance with the actuarial tables in effect as of the decedent's death under section two thousand and thirty-one of the Code in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five at such time and regulations issued thereunder.

(c) If the gross estate of a decedent includes real property devoted to use as a farm for farming purposes, the estate may elect to value such property in accordance with section two thousand and thirty-two A of the Code, in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five. If a federal return is required to be filed the election under this subsection shall be consistent with the election made for federal estate tax purposes. All the substantive and procedural provisions of said section two thousand and thirty-two A shall, insofar as pertinent and consistent, apply to the election made under this subsection. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to carry out the provisions of this subsection.

SECTION 15. Section 14 of said chapter 65C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (b) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:—

(b) If the tax imposed by this chapter is not paid when due, then the spouse, transferee, trustee, surviving tenant, person in possession of the real or personal property by reason of the exercise, nonexercise, or release of a power of appointment, or beneficiary, who receives, or has on the date of the decedent's death, real or personal property included in the Massachusetts gross estate to the extent of the value, at the time of the decedent's death, of such property shall be personally liable for such tax. Any part of such real property, which, prior to the decedent's death, was conveyed by a deed of the decedent not disclosing an intention that it take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death and such deed was recorded or registered prior to the decedent's death, and any part of such personal property transferred by, or transferred by a transferee of, such spouse, transferee, trustee, surviving tenant, person in possession of property by reason of the exercise, nonexercise, or release of a power of appointment, or beneficiary, to a bona fide purchaser, mortgagee or pledgee, for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth shall be divested of the lien provided in subsection (a), and a lien shall then attach to all the property of such spouse, transferee, trustee, surviving tenant, person in possession, beneficiary, or transferee of any such person, except any part transferred to a bona fide purchaser, mortgagee or pledgee for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

(f) In the case of any interest in qualified real property, devoted to use as a farm for farming purposes and valued pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) of section 5, an amount equal to the adjusted tax difference attributable to such interest within the meaning of section two thousand and thirty-two A of the Code in effect on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five shall be a lien in favor of the commonwealth on the property in which such interest exists. Such lien shall arise at the time an election is filed under subsection (c) and shall continue with respect to any interest in the qualified real property (1) until the liability of tax under subsection (c) of section two thousand and thirty-two A of said Code, with respect to such interest has been satisfied or (2) until it is established to the satisfaction of the commissioner that no further tax liability may arise under section two thousand and thirty-two A of said Code, with respect to such interest. For purposes of this section, the term "qualified real property" includes qualified replacement property (within the meaning of section two thousand and thirty-two A (h) (3) (B) of said Code, and qualified exchange property (within the meaning of section two thousand and thirty-two A (i) (3) of said Code.

SECTION 17. Section 32 of chapter 202 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "appointed", in line 15, the following words:– that the executor or administrator has filed in the probate court a certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing either that the amount of tax under chapter sixty-five C has been paid, that payment thereof has been secured as provided in section ten of said chapter sixty-five C, or that no tax is due.

SECTION 18. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, and in addition to any rights granted under section thirty-seven of chapter sixty-two C of the General Laws, any taxpayer claiming the deduction authorized by subsection (c) of section three of chapter sixty-five C or the deduction authorized by section one of chapter five hundred and thirty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two from any tax assessed pursuant to said chapter sixty-five C may apply within one year from the effective date of this section for abatement of so much of said tax as would become excessive in amount upon allowance of the aforesaid deduction; provided, however, that this section shall apply only to wills executed before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, or trusts created before such date, which have been amended or conformed in accordance with the requirements of said chapter five hundred and thirty-one on or before either December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, or, if later, on or before the thirtieth day after any judicial proceedings which are required to amend or conform such instrument and which are commenced on or before said December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-one, become final. Any such application shall be considered as timely for the purposes of chapter sixty-two C, notwithstanding the expiration of the time ordinarily allowed for making abatement applications pursuant to section thirty-seven of said chapter sixty-two C.

SECTION 19. Sections one, five, six, seven, nine, twelve, fourteen, and sixteen of this act shall apply to estates of decedents dying on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six; provided, however, that subsection (b) of section five of chapter sixty-five C of the General Laws, as inserted by section fourteen of this act, shall apply to the estate of a decedent without regard to the date of death of such decedent. Section two of this act shall apply with respect to property or interests therein which become possessory on or after the effective date of this act without regard to the date of death of the decedent who created the interest.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 716. AN ACT ESTABLISHING A COMMISSION FOR THE DEAF AND HARD OF HEARING.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Sections eighty-four A to eighty-four I, inclusive, of chapter six of the General Laws are hereby repealed.

SECTION 2. Chapter 6 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following nine sections:—

Section 191. As used in sections one hundred and ninety-one to one hundred and ninety-nine, inclusive, the following words shall, unless the context clearly requires otherwise, have the following meanings:—

"Commission", the commission for the deaf and hard of hearing.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of the commission for the deaf and hard of hearing.

"Deaf", a condition of or person with severe or complete absence of auditory sensitivity where the primary effective receptive communication mode is visual or tactile or both.

"Deaf community", a cultural minority with distinct modes of visual and tactile communication, languages and social mores.

"Hard of hearing", a condition of or person with some absence of auditory sensitivity with residual hearing which may be sufficient to process linguistic information through audition with or without amplification under favorable listening conditions, or a condition of or person with other auditory handicapping conditions.

Section 192. There shall be a commission for the deaf and hard of hearing to be known as the Massachusetts commission for the deaf and hard of hearing consisting of a commissioner and an advisory board in this section and sections one hundred and ninety-three to one hundred and ninety-nine, inclusive.

The commission may apply for and accept on behalf of the commonwealth any federal, local or private grants, bequests, gifts or contributions to aid in the financing of any of the programs or policies of the commission. Such funds shall be received by the state treasurer on behalf of the commonwealth and deposited in a separate account and shall be expended, in accordance with state law relative to appropriation, under the direction of the commissioner.

The commission may make agreements with other departments and agencies of the commonwealth and may contract with other individuals, organizations, corporations, associations or other legal entities including private agencies, or any other departments or agencies of the federal government, the commonwealth or any political subdivisions thereof, to carry out any of its functions and procedures.

The commissioner, pursuant to the provisions of chapter thirty A shall make, and from time to time revise, such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the functions of said commission including, but not limited to, eligibility requirements for receipt of various services.

Section 193. The secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, the commissioner. Said commissioner shall be classified in accordance with section forty-five of chapter thirty and the salary shall be determined in accordance with section forty-six C of said chapter thirty and he shall devote his full time during business hours to the duties of his office. Every effort shall be made to locate and appoint a deaf or hard of hearing commissioner. Said commissioner shall be experienced in the administration and delivery of services to deaf and hard of hearing persons, and shall be fluent in sign language.

Said commissioner shall be the executive and administrative head of the commission. Said commissioner shall establish divisions and regional offices subject to appropriation. Said commissioner may appoint and remove such directors, assistants, supervisors, consultants and other agents as, from time to time, may be necessary to enable him to perform his duties. Every effort shall be made to locate and appoint deaf and hard of hearing personnel.

The provisions of chapter thirty-one shall not apply to the office of commissioner or of any deputy commissioner, assistant to the commissioner, assistant commissioner, director or regional director or other employees as the commissioner may appoint.

Section 194. The commission shall serve as the principal agency of the commonwealth, on behalf of deaf and hard of hearing persons, shall advocate, provide and coordinate promulgation of public policies, regulations and programs, shall improve accessibility and quality of existing services and shall promote development of new services when necessary. In the performance of this function, the commission shall increase public awareness of deaf and hard of hearing individuals and shall provide services to the deaf and hard of hearing population including but not limited to interpreting services, telecommunication liaison services, information and referral, case management and social services, independent living services and access to telecommunication and assistive listening devices. The commission shall determine the extent and availability of services to deaf and hard of hearing individuals within the commonwealth, determine the need for further services, make recommendations to the governor and shall file a copy thereof with the state secretary.

Section 195. The governor shall appoint an advisory council of no fewer than twelve and no more than twenty members. Persons shall be eligible for appointment if their position, knowledge or experience enables them to represent the concerns, needs and recommendations of deaf and hard of hearing persons, and if they have been nominated by the commissioner. The majority of council members shall be deaf. At least one council member shall be hard of hearing. Each member shall serve for a term of four years.

The commissioner shall nominate persons whose service will assure representation of the interests of parents, interpreters, the deaf community and deaf and hard of hearing persons from all geographic areas of the commonwealth. The commissioner's nominations shall be names from a list provided by consumer groups and individuals representing such parents, interpreters and deaf and hard of hearing persons.

Advisory council members shall elect a chairperson, shall meet at least eight times per year, and shall serve without compensation. They shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties.

Section 196. The commission shall maintain and coordinate a statewide interpreter referral service for use by any public and private agencies and individuals for any situations including emergencies.

Departments and agencies of the commonwealth and other public and private agencies and individuals shall reimburse the commission where so required by the commission's regulations for the compensation and travel expenses of any interpreter appointed by the commission pursuant to this section, but said departments, agencies and individuals shall not reimburse the commission for indirect costs or fringe benefits paid to such interpreter. The commission is authorized to treat reimbursements of prior year expenditures for the services of interpreters as reimbursements of current year expenditures for such services. Monies collected under the provisions of this section shall be retained by the commission in a revolving fund or funds, and shall be expended subject to the approval of the secretary of the executive office of human services and the state comptroller to purchase interpreter services; provided, however, that the commission shall provide quarterly reports to the house and senate committees on ways and means detailing the amounts of revenues received or expended under this section. Said fund or funds shall be subject to annual audit by the state auditor.

The commission is authorized to work with the board of regents, the department of education and private institutions to insure ongoing interpreter educational programs designed to increase the number of competent interpreters.

Section 197. Subject to the appropriation of funds therefor, the commission shall purchase, pursuant to sections fifty-one and fifty-two of chapter thirty, telecommunication devices for the deaf and shall rent, lease or sell such equipment to persons certified by the commission pursuant to its regulations as deaf or severely hard of hearing, at terms or prices which are fair and reasonable; provided, however, that no such device shall be sold by the commission at a price less than one-half of the wholesale market price of such device prevailing at the time of sale. The commission shall promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of this section. Such regulations shall include a schedule of fees to be charged for such rentals or sales and shall be based upon a consideration of the circumstances, need and annual income of the deaf or severely hard of hearing person seeking such equipment. Monies collected under the provisions of this section shall be retained by the commission in a revolving fund or revolving funds, and shall be expended subject to the approval of the secretary of the executive office of human services and the state comptroller to purchase telecommunication devices for the deaf; provided that the commission shall provide quarterly reports to the house and senate committees on ways and means detailing the amounts of revenues received or expended under this section. Said fund or funds shall be subject to annual audit by the state auditor.

Section 198. In order to facilitate appropriate delivery of state services to deaf and hard of hearing individuals the commission shall advise other agencies of the needs of deaf and hard of hearing persons and shall, subject to appropriation, provide such resources as other agencies reasonably request.

Section 199. All records pertaining to clients and applicants of the commission and all personal and medical information or records given or made available to the commission, including but not limited to, names and addresses of clients and applicants, shall be confidential and for the exclusive use of the commission in the discharge of its duties. Notwithstanding any other general or special law to the contrary, the commission may publish information in statistical form without disclosing the identity of the clients or applicants involved.

SECTION 3. Section 16 of chapter 6A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "commission", in line 32, the words:– ; and the Massachusetts commission for deaf and hard of hearing people and its advisory board.

SECTION 4. Section 92A of chapter 221 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 69, the words "office of deafness" and inserting in place thereof the words:– commission for the deaf and hard of hearing, established pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-two of chapter six.

SECTION 5. Said section 92A of said chapter 221, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the seventh paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

A client has a privilege to prevent a certified sign language interpreter from disclosing a confidential communication between one or more persons where the communication was facilitated by said interpreter. For purposes of this paragraph a client is a person rendered interpreting services by an interpreter; a communication is confidential if a client has a reasonable expectation or intent that it not be disclosed to persons other than those to whom such disclosure is made.

SECTION 6. Within its initial two years of operation, the commission shall undertake a study of state agencies providing services to the deaf or hearing impaired for the purposes of identifying which services offered by such agency may appropriately be transferred to the commission.

SECTION 7. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 31, 1985.

Chapter 719. AN ACT DESIGNATING THE BOARD OF REGISTRATION OF HAIRDRESSERS AS THE BOARD OF REGISTRATION OF COSMETOLOGISTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 13 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the caption preceding section 42 and inserting in place thereof the following caption:-

BOARD OF REGISTRATION OF COSMETOLOGISTS.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 13 is hereby further amended by striking out section 42, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 42. There shall be a board of registration of cosmetology to be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, consisting of three members, citizens of the commonwealth, each of whom at the time of his original appointment shall be a registered hairdresser operating his own establishment in the commonwealth and shall have had at least five years practical experience as a registered hairdresser. The governor shall designate the chairman of the board and may at any time change such designation. The chairman shall be the executive head of the board. No member shall, while in office, actually do the work of cosmetology for compensation. No two members of the board, while in office, shall be in any way interested in any cosmetology establishments in the same town, nor shall any member, while in office, be a teacher at, or have any financial interest in, any school giving courses of instruction in cosmetology. As the term of office of a member expires, his successor shall be appointed by the governor, with like advice and consent to serve for three years. The governor may also, with like advice and consent, fill any vacancy in the board for the unexpired term. Definitions contained in section eighty-seven T of chapter one hundred and twelve shall, so far as appropriate, apply to this and the two following sections.

SECTION 3. Section 87F of chapter 112 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "person", in line 25, the following words: , or any person who is registered to

Chapter 726. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IMPASSES INVOLVING MEMBERS OF THE BARGAINING UNIT OF THE UNIFORMED BRANCH OF THE STATE POLICE, OR THE UNIT REPRESENTING METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COMMISSION POLICE OFFICERS SUBORDINATE TO THE RANK OF CAPTAIN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 1078 of the acts of 1973 is hereby amended by striking out section 4B, inserted by section 2 of chapter 594 of the acts of 1979, and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:-

Section 4B. If an employee organization duly recognized as representing the bargaining unit of the uniformed branch of the state police is engaged in an impasse which has continued for thirty days after the publication of the fact-finder's report pursuant to section nine of chapter one hundred and fifty E of the General Laws, or, if the parties have mutually waived the fact-finding provisions contained in said section nine of said chapter one hundred and fifty E, said employee organization shall petition the board to make an investigation. If, after an investigation, the board determines that:

(1) the requirements of section nine of said chapter one hundred and fifty E have been complied with in good faith by the employee organization;

(2) thirty days have passed since the date of publication of the fact-finding report pursuant to said section nine;

(3) the proceedings for the prevention of any prohibited practices have been exhausted, provided that any such complaints have been filed with the commission prior to the date of the fact-finder's report; and

Said panel shall be comprised of three arbitrators, one selected by the employer, one selected by the employee organization, and a third impartial arbitrator, who shall act as chairman of the panel, who shall be selected by the two previously selected arbitrators. In the event that either party fails to select an arbitrator or for any reason there is a delay in the naming of an arbitrator, or if the arbitrators fail to select a third arbitrator within the time prescribed by the board, the board shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators necessary to complete the panel, which shall act with the same force and effect as if the panel had been selected without intervention of the board.

In the event that the parties mutually elect to use a single arbitrator, selected by the board, the parties shall immediately request the board to appoint said arbitrator, who shall act with the same force and effect as if a three-member panel had been selected by the parties.

The single arbitrator or the arbitration panel acting through its chairman, shall conduct a hearing within ten days after the date of appointment of its chairman. The chairman shall give at least seven days notice of the time and place of such hearing in writing to each of the other arbitrators and to the representatives of such employer and employee organizations.

The single arbitrator or chairman shall preside over the hearing and shall take testimony. Upon application and for good cause shown, a person, labor organization, or governmental unit having substantial interest therein may be granted leave to intervene by the arbitration panel. The proceedings shall be informal. Any oral or documentary evidence and other data deemed relevant by the arbitration panel or single arbitrator may be received into evidence. The arbitrators shall have the power to administer oaths and to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses, the production of books, records, and other evidence relative to or pertinent to the issues presented to them for determination. If any person refuses to obey a subpoena, refuses to be sworn or to testify, or if any witness, party, or attorney is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing, the arbitration panel or single arbitrator may, or the district attorney if requested, shall invoke the aid of the superior court within the jurisdiction in which the hearing is being held, whereupon the court shall issue an appropriate order.

A record of the proceedings shall be kept, and the chairman or single arbitrator shall arrange for the necessary recording service. Transcripts may be ordered at the expense of the party ordering them, but the transcripts shall not be necessary for an award by the panel or single arbitrator. The hearing may be continued at the discretion of the panel or single arbitrator and shall be concluded within forty days from the time of commencement. At the conclusion of the hearing, each party shall submit a written statement containing its last and best offer for each of the issues in dispute to the panel or single arbitrator, who shall take said statements under advisement. Within ten days after the conclusion of the hearing, a majority of the panel, or the single arbitrator, shall select as the last and best arbitration award either the employer's written statement of its last and best offer, the employee organization's written statement of its last and best offer, or the recommendations of the fact-finder, if a fact-finding report and recommendations have been issued, and immediately shall give written notice of the selection to the parties. The selection shall be final and binding upon the parties, subject to appropriation. Within thirty calendar days of the last and best offer selection and award, the impartial chairperson of the arbitration panel, or the single arbitrator, shall issue a written opinion inclusive of an analysis of all statutory factors applicable to the proceedings.

At any time before the rendering of an award, the chairman of the arbitration panel or single arbitrator, if he is of the opinion that it would be useful or beneficial to do so, may remand the dispute to the parties for further collective bargaining for a period not to exceed three weeks and notify the board of the remand. If the dispute is remanded for further collective bargaining the time provisions of this act shall be extended for a time period equal to that of the remand.

In the event that the representatives of the parties mutually resolve each of the issues in dispute and agree to be bound accordingly, said representatives may, at any time prior to the final decisions by the panel or single arbitrator, request that the arbitration proceedings be terminated. The panel, acting through its chairman or single arbitrator, shall terminate the proceedings.

The factors, among others, to be given weight by the arbitration panel or single arbitrator in arriving at the decision shall include, when applicable:

- (1) The financial ability of the commonwealth to meet the costs. Such factors which shall be taken into consideration shall include, but not be limited to, the commonwealth's long and short term bonded indebtedness.
- (2) The interests and welfare of the public.
- (3) The hazards of employment, physical, educational and mental qualifications, job training and skills involved.
- (4) A comparison of wages, hours and conditions of employment of the employees involved in the arbitration proceedings with the wages, hours and conditions of employment of other employees performing similar services and with other employees generally in public or private employment in comparable districts, communities, or other state or federal jurisdictions.

(5) The decisions and recommendations of the fact-finder, if any.

(6) The average consumer prices for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living.

(7) The overall compensation presently received by the employees, including direct wages and fringe benefits.

(8) Changes in any of the foregoing circumstances during the pendency of the arbitration proceedings.

(9) Such other factors not confined to the foregoing, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours and conditions of employment through voluntary collective bargaining, mediation, fact-finding, arbitration or otherwise between parties, in the public service or in private employment.

(10) The stipulation of the parties.

Any determination or decision of the arbitration panel or single arbitrator if supported by material and substantive evidence on the whole record shall be subject to appropriation, binding upon the parties and may be enforced at the instance of either party, the single arbitrator or the arbitration panel in the superior court in equity, provided however, that the scope of arbitration in police matters shall be limited to wages, hours, and conditions of employment and shall not include the following matters of inherent managerial policy: the right to appoint, promote, assign, and transfer employees. Assignments shall not be within the scope; provided, however, that the subject matters of initial station assignment upon appointment or promotion shall be within the scope of arbitration. The subject matter of transfer shall not be within the scope of arbitration; provided, however, that the subject matters of relationship of seniority to transfers and disciplinary and punitive transfers shall be within the scope of arbitration.

The commencement of a new fiscal year prior to the final awards by the arbitration panel shall not be deemed to render a dispute moot, or to otherwise impair the jurisdiction or authority of the arbitration panel or its award. Any award of the arbitration panel may be retroactive to the expiration date of the last contract.

If an employer, or an employee organization willfully disobeys a lawful order of enforcement pursuant to this section, or willfully encourages or offers resistance to such order, whether by strike or otherwise, the punishment for each day that such contempt continues may be a fine for each day to be determined at the discretion of said court.

Each of the parties shall provide compensation for the arbitrator which he has selected pursuant to this section. The remaining costs of arbitration proceedings under this section shall be divided equally between the parties. Compensation for the arbitrators shall be in accordance with a schedule of payment established by the American Arbitration Association.

Section 4C. If an employee organization duly recognized as representing the bargaining unit of the metropolitan district commission police officers subordinate to the rank of captain is engaged in an impasse which has continued for thirty days after the publication of the fact-finder's report pursuant to section nine of chapter one hundred and fifty E of the General Laws; or, if the parties have mutually waived the fact-finding provisions contained in said section nine of said chapter one hundred and fifty E, said employee organization shall petition the board to make an investigation. If, after an investigation, the board determines that:

(1) the requirements of section nine of said chapter one hundred and fifty E have been complied with in good faith by the employee organization;

(2) thirty days have passed since the date of publication of the fact-finding report pursuant to said section nine;

(3) the proceedings for the prevention of any prohibited practices have been exhausted, provided that any such complaints have been filed with the commission prior to the date of the fact-finder's report; and

Said panel shall be comprised of three arbitrators, one selected by the employer, one selected by the employee organization, and a third impartial arbitrator, who shall act as chairman of the panel, who shall be selected by the two previously selected arbitrators. In the event that either party fails to select an arbitrator or for any reason there is a delay in the naming of an arbitrator, or if the arbitrators fail to select a third arbitrator within the time prescribed by the board, the board shall appoint the arbitrator or arbitrators necessary to complete the panel, which shall act with the same force and effect as if the panel had been selected without intervention of the board.

In the event that the parties mutually elect to use a single arbitrator, selected by the board, the parties shall immediately request the board to appoint said arbitrator, who shall act with the same force and effect as if a three-member panel had been selected by the parties.

The single arbitrator or the arbitration panel acting through its chairman, shall conduct a hearing within ten days after the date of appointment of its chairman. and other evidence relative to or pertinent to the issues presented to them for determination. If any person refuses to obey a subpoena, refuses to be sworn or to testify, or if any witness, party, or attorney is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing, the arbitration panel or single arbitrator may, or the district attorney if requested, shall invoke the aid of the superior court within the jurisdiction in which the hearing is being held, whereupon the court shall issue an appropriate order.

A record of the proceedings shall be kept, and the chairman or single arbitrator shall arrange for the necessary recording service. Transcripts may be ordered at the expense of the party ordering them, but the transcripts shall not be necessary for an award by the panel or single arbitrator. Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The department of public health, hereinafter called the department, is hereby authorized to establish and maintain a homeowners' urea formaldehyde foam insulation program, hereinafter called the UFFI program. Said program shall: establish a testing procedure for the detection of the levels of formaldehyde gas in the ambient air in residential dwellings insulated with urea formaldehyde foam insulation, hereinafter called UFFI, in order to achieve uniformity of testing; establish a listing of approved testing and UFFI removal services in the commonwealth; reimburse owners of residential dwellings insulated with UFFI for the cost of testing the levels of formaldehyde gas in the ambient air, such reimbursement to be paid from the UFFI Trust Fund established pursuant to section four; and provide payments from said fund for the reasonable cost of removal of UFFI from any such residential dwelling, or for other remedial relief to be defined by regulation by the commissioner of public health, hereinafter called the commissioner, when either the level of formaldehyde gas is greater than 0.10 parts per million or an occupant of the dwelling has suffered adverse health effects from the presence of UFFI in said dwelling.

SECTION 2. Any owner of a residential dwelling located in the commonwealth insulated with UFFI prior to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty, may apply for and receive payment out of the UFFI Trust Fund, for testing the ambient air level for formaldehyde gas in said dwelling, upon providing suitable evidence of the installation of UFFI in said dwelling. Said testing shall be by a testing service approved by the department and by means of testing procedures established by the department. The department shall be provided with a copy of the test results.

SECTION 3. Any owner of a residential dwelling located in the commonwealth insulated with UFFI may apply for and receive payment from said trust fund, for the reasonable cost of removal of UFFI from said dwelling, or for other remedial relief to be defined by the commissioner by regulation, when either: (1) the level of formaldehyde gas is greater than 0.10 parts per million, according to a testing service approved by the department, using testing procedures established by the department, or (2) an occupant of the dwelling has suffered adverse health effects from the presence of UFFI in said dwelling. The commissioner shall define by regulation the meaning of reasonable cost of removal.

For the purposes of this act, adverse health effects shall be deemed to have been demonstrated if: (1) an occupant, after exposure to UFFI in said dwelling, has experienced health effects of a type which can occur in people exposed to formaldehyde or UFFI, and presents evidence of medical evaluation or treatment relative to such health effects; or (2) an occupant presents evidence of medical evaluation or treatment for health effects which his physician reasonably believes are related to exposure to formaldehyde or UFFI in said dwelling, and, in either case, there is no objection from the three member panel established by this section.

Applications for payment for removal of UFFI based upon an air level of formaldehyde gas greater than 0.10 parts per million shall be accompanied by a statement from a testing service approved by the department, stating the test results and describing the testing procedure used.

Applications for payment for removal of UFFI based upon an occupant's having suffered adverse health effects shall be accompanied by such documentation as the commissioner shall specify by regulation. Such applications shall be reviewed by a three-member panel consisting of a physician who is trained in immunology, a toxicologist, and an industrial hygienist. Members of the panel shall be appointed by the commissioner for three year terms, except that initially one member shall be appointed for a one year term and one member shall be appointed for a two year term. Persons appointed to fill vacancies shall serve for the unexpired term of said vacancy. Each member of the panel shall receive not less than one hundred dollars for each day or part thereof for his services and shall also receive all reasonable expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his official duties. If the decision of the panel is adverse to an applicant, the applicant shall have an opportunity to present oral testimony in support of his application before the panel. If, after hearing such testimony, the decision of the panel remains adverse to the applicant, the applicant may seek judicial review, in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

Any owner of a residential dwelling which was formerly insulated with UFFI and from which the UFFI was removed by or at the direction of said owner prior to the effective date of this act, may qualify to receive payment for the reasonable cost of removal of UFFI if he has not previously received payment for such removal from any source and either: (1) the level of formaldehyde gas was tested prior to said removal and found to be greater than 0.10 parts per million by a laboratory using a reasonable test method; or (2) an occupant of said dwelling suffered adverse health effects within the meaning of this section, prior to said removal; or (3) the owner removed the UFFI for valid economic reasons, including the sale of said dwelling, and provides a demonstration of reasons therefor, including documentation of inability to secure a mortgage or a buyer, or of otherwise having been compelled to sell said dwelling at a price substantially lower than fair market value.

SECTION 4. There shall be established on the books of the commonwealth a separate trust fund to be known as the UFFI Trust Fund. Said fund shall consist of moneys donated or contributed to the UFFI program by persons, corporations, companies or entities previously engaged in the business of manufacturing, distributing, or installing, or which acted as wholesalers or retailers of UFFI or its component ingredients for use in the commonwealth, hereinafter called the industry, and all other monies credited or transferred thereto from any other fund or source pursuant to law. For the purpose of this section, component ingredients of UFFI shall mean urea formaldehyde resin and foaming agent. The amount of said donations or contributions shall be based upon criteria established by the commissioner, with the advice of the UFFI advisory council created by section eight, taking into account such factors as the proportionate share of the commonwealth UFFI market occupied by the various industry members and any other factors which the commissioner with the advice of the UFFI advisory council believes may lead to a reasonable and equitable distribution of contributed shares. In the course of determining the amount of such donations or contributions for each industry member, the commissioner shall determine which, if any, affiliates, subsidiaries or parent companies of such industry member shall be subject to the protection against private rights of action and any other benefits conferred upon industry members making contributions pursuant to this act. Donations and contributions to the trust fund by industry members and participation in the trust fund by owners of residential dwellings shall be voluntary; provided, however, that the decision of the commissioner as to the amount of donations or contributions by particular industry members to the UFFI Trust Fund and the amount of payments to be made from the trust fund to such owners shall be final and not subject to judicial review, either directly or by certiorari or otherwise.

The revenue received from donations or contributions made under this section shall be kept in the trust fund separate and apart from all other monies received by the commonwealth. The treasurer of the commonwealth shall be the custodian of the trust fund. The monies in the trust fund shall be invested by the treasurer in accordance with law; provided, however, that the treasurer shall make no investments that prevent the treasurer from making timely payment of disbursements. Interest income and dividends from such investments shall be credited to the fund.

The treasurer shall make payments from the trust fund on the submission of a warrant listing all payments to be made, which has been approved in writing by the commissioner of public health or his designee.

The books and records of the trust fund shall be subject to an annual audit by the auditor of the commonwealth.

The UFFI Trust Fund shall be expended for providing payments or reimbursements to owners of residential dwellings in the commonwealth insulated with UFFI, pursuant to the UFFI program established by this act. Up to ten per cent of the UFFI Trust Fund, not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars annually, may be expended by the commissioner for the ongoing administrative costs of the UFFI Trust Fund.

Any industry member who fails to contribute a reasonable amount to the UFFI Trust Fund, as determined by the commissioner with the advice of the UFFI advisory council pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall not be entitled to any of the rights or benefits conferred under the provisions of this act. The commissioner or his designee may notify all persons, manufacturers, distributors, installers and entities otherwise doing business in the commonwealth related to the production of UFFI of the existence of the UFFI program, enter into contribution agreements with said persons or businesses, and perform all other duties necessary to authorize payments from said fund.

SECTION 5. Any owner of a residential dwelling in the commonwealth which was insulated with UFFI and who meets the criteria established in section three may elect to participate in the UFFI trust fund; provided, however, that no more than one payment from the trust fund may be made with respect to any one dwelling. Private rights of action which presently exist shall not be impaired; provided, however, that any person who obtains payment for relief from the UFFI trust fund shall, as a condition of such payment, waive all his private rights of action, including actions for damage to health, if the cause or consequence of such damage to health was reasonably discoverable at the time payment for removal of UFFI was received, against any industry member who has contributed to the UFFI Trust Fund an amount as determined by the commissioner pursuant to section four. If the cause or consequence of such damage to health was not reasonably discoverable at the time payment for relief was received, such private rights of action for such damage, including rights of action for latent effects or disease, are hereby preserved.

Any industry member who contributes to the UFFI Trust Fund, an amount determined by the commissioner pursuant to section four, shall waive all pending or prospective claims challenging the UFFI Trust Fund or the regulations of the department governing the ban and repurchase of UFFI. Any such industry member shall have no obligation or liability under regulations of the department governing repurchase of UFFI.

Any person who obtains payment for removal of UFFI from the UFFI Trust Fund shall assign to the department all claims under the repurchase regulations against industry members who have not contributed a reasonable amount to the UFFI Trust Fund, as determined by the commissioner pursuant to section four.

SECTION 6. The department shall establish procedures for removal of UFFI in conformity with current scientific knowledge, shall approve those firms and individuals qualified to remove UFFI, and shall publish and issue a list of such approved firms and individuals.

In order to qualify for receipt of payment for the removal of UFFI from the UFFI Trust Fund, an owner of a residential dwelling containing

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 728.

UFFI shall engage the services only of an approved firm or individual to perform such removal, unless such owner is approved and performs such removal himself, or unless the removal of UFFI took place prior to the effective date of this act.

SECTION 7. The department shall establish a hotline program, so-called, for the purpose of informing the public about the UFFI program and other provisions of this act.

SECTION 8. There is hereby established a UFFI advisory council, consisting of the commissioner of public health or his designee, and four members to be appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a UFFI homeowner and one of whom shall be a representative of the UFFI industry. Said appointed members shall serve for three year terms and shall advise the department of public health on the implementation and administration of this act. Said council shall file an annual report detailing revenues and expenditures, with the clerks of the senate and the house of representatives on or before the last Wednesday of December.

SECTION 9. No real estate agent, broker or salesman licensed under the provisions of chapter one hundred and twelve of the General Laws, and no bank or other lending institution which offers a mortgage on a residential dwelling containing UFFI, shall be liable for any damage to health resulting from exposure to UFFI; provided, however, that the seller of the dwelling has stated to such real estate agent, broker, salesman, bank or lending institution that he has made, prior to closing, the disclosure to the purchaser specified by section twelve I of chapter two hundred and fifty-five of the General Laws.

No seller of a residential dwelling containing UFFI shall be liable for any damage to health resulting from exposure to UFFI, provided, however, that he has made the disclosure to the purchaser specified by section twelve I of said chapter two hundred and fifty-five prior to the sale of such dwelling.

A landlord of a residential dwelling containing UFFI shall, prior to entering into any lease or rental agreement, or, in the case of existing tenants, upon discovery that UFFI is present in dwelling, disclose to such tenant or prospective tenant the presence of UFFI and the formaldehyde level of the premises. No landlord of a residential dwelling containing UFFI who makes such disclosure shall be liable to any person for any damage to health resulting from exposure to UFFI in such dwelling.

Any seller or landlord of a residential dwelling containing UFFI shall have the obligation to determine the presence of UFFI, and any such seller shall make the disclosure required by section twelve I of said chapter two hundred and fifty-five.

SECTION 10. Chapter 112 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 87AAA the following section:–

Section 87AAA 1/2. No real estate agent, broker or salesman licensed under the provisions of this chapter, shall refuse to offer for sale or otherwise discriminate in any manner, including by written or oral statement, in the sale, lease, or purchase of a residence, house or dwelling, against homeowners of dwellings with urea formaldehyde foam insulation where the indoor ambient formaldehyde level is 0.10 parts per million or below.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 728.

SECTION 11. Chapter 167 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:–

Section 47. No bank, lending institution or mortgagee doing business in the commonwealth, which for the purpose of this section shall include any bank as defined in section one and shall include any national bank, national banking association, federal savings bank, federal savings and loan association, and federal credit union, shall discriminate in any manner in the financing of a home or dwelling, against homeowners or dwellings where the indoor ambient formaldehyde level is 0.10 ppm or below. Said banks, lending institutions, or mortgagees shall be relieved from all liability resulting from urea formaldehyde foam insulation (UFFI), if the seller, buyer, or mortgagor has disclosed the presence of UFFI and the formaldehyde level in the ambient air of the home or dwelling to the bank, lending institution, or mortgagee. A statement from the seller, buyer, or mortgagor that there is no UFFI in the home shall relieve such lending institution or mortgagee from all liability resulting from UFFI. Nothing contained in this section shall restrict the right of any bank, lending institution or mortgagee to process or deny a mortgage application in accordance with accepted underwriting practices or criteria.

SECTION 12. Chapter 225 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 12H the following section:–

Section 12I. Any person offering for sale a residential dwelling insulated with urea formaldehyde foam insulation, hereinafter called UFFI, shall determine whether UFFI is in the dwelling and, if it is, shall have the dwelling tested for formaldehyde gas and shall make the following disclosure to any prospective purchaser: (1) where such UFFI is located within the building, and, if known, when it was installed; (2) a copy of the test results; and (3) a copy of information developed by the department of public health concerning formaldehyde levels in dwellings insulated with UFFI and dwellings not insulated with UFFI.

The commissioner of public health shall provide by regulation for the form of notice which meets the requirements of this section.

SECTION 13. Upon receipt by the state treasurer and receiver general of the sum of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars for this program from industry members, the UFFI Trust Fund shall become operative and payments may be made therefrom.

The commissioner shall submit to the advisory council and the clerk of the house of representatives a semiannual report detailing the amount of funds received from industry members, and the costs of implementing the provisions of this act based on the number of approved requests for funding.

ACTS, 1985. – Chaps. 729, 730.

In the event that the monies in the UFFI Trust Fund are insufficient to provide for the needs of qualified applicants to the UFFI program, applicants whose applications are pending and prospective applicants at the time such fund is exhausted shall have no right to any payment or testing from the UFFI program, the department of public health, or the commonwealth, but shall retain all private rights of action.

Upon certification by the commissioner of public health to the treasurer that moneys remaining in the trust fund after the purposes of this act have been completed are not needed for implementation and operation of this act, said moneys shall be returned to industry donors or contributors in proportion to their donations or contributions; provided, however, that the department and the commonwealth shall not be liable to industry members or UFFI homeowners for such certification.

SECTION 14. The commissioner of public health may promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

SECTION 15. This act shall take effect July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 31, 1985.

education surplus space in a school building of the district to house public or private profit-making businesses or nonprofit organizations; provided, however, that if said school building is in actual use such joint occupancy shall not interfere with education programs being conducted therein; and provided, further, that if said school building is not in actual use, such lease must be approved by the city or town in which the said building is located. Such leases may be made for periods not exceeding ten years. The monies received from such rental or lease shall be kept separate and apart from other funds in the district treasury by the district treasurer, and the principal and interest thereon may be expended without further appropriation by the regional school district committee for the upkeep of the facility in which such surplus space is located; provided, however, that any balance remaining in such account at the close of a fiscal year shall be paid into the excess and deficiency fund, so called, of the regional school district as unencumbered funds and expended as provided in section sixteen B 1/2.

Approved January 3, 1986.

Chapter 733. AN ACT EXEMPTING CONCESSIONS AT CERTAIN SKATING RINKS FROM PROVISIONS OF THE BIDDING LAW.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to give preference to nonprofit community organizations in the awarding of contracts for the operation of certain concessions at certain skating rinks, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of sections two B and two D of chapter one hundred and thirty-two A or sections thirty-three and forty-eight of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws or any other general or special law or rule or regulation to the contrary, the department of environmental management and the metropolitan district commission shall establish and promulgate rules and regulations which shall set reasonable minimum fees which shall be paid for the operation of concessions at skating rinks under their respective control. Said rules and regulations shall provide that any nonprofit youth hockey group or organization which submits a bid equal to or higher than such minimum fee shall be awarded the contract for the operation of that concession; provided, however, that if more than one such group or organization submits a bid equal to or higher than said minimum fee, the contract for the operation of the concession shall be awarded to the group or organization submitting the highest bid; and provided, further, that the Massachusetts commission for the blind does not intend to establish a vending facility at said site.

Chapter 735. AN ACT PROVIDING THAT CERTAIN BANKS RECEIVE PUBLIC DEPOSITS AND ALLOWING DEPOSITS IN EXCESS OF DEPOSIT INSURANCE WHEN COLLATERAL IS PLEDGED.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 29 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 34A, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 34A. The state treasurer may deposit any portion of the public monies in his possession and funds over which the commonwealth has exclusive control in savings banks as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-eight, in co-operative banks as defined in chapter one hundred and seventy, subject, however, to the limitations set forth in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D, or in federal savings banks, and in federal savings and loan associations lawfully doing business in the commonwealth for one year or more. The amount deposited hereunder shall not exceed the amount covered by deposit insurance unless collateral, deemed satisfactory by the state treasurer, is pledged.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 29 is hereby further amended by striking out section 34A, as amended by section 1 of this act, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 736.

Section 34A. The state treasurer may deposit any portion of the public monies in his possession and funds over which the commonwealth has exclusive control in savings banks as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-eight or in co-operative banks as defined in chapter one hundred and seventy for one year or more, subject, however, to the limitations set forth in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D and in federal savings and loan associations lawfully doing business in the commonwealth for one year or more which shares and accounts are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, but the amount so invested in any one association shall not exceed the amount covered by such insurance.

SECTION 3. Section two of this act shall take effect on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight.

Approved January 3, 1986.

Chapter 736. AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE DUKES COUNTY LAND BANK.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. For purposes of this act, the words and phrases set forth in this section shall have the following meanings:-

"Fund", shall refer to the Martha's Vineyard Land Bank Fund established under the provisions of section eight.

"Institutional lender", any bank as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws, any insurance company as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-five of the General Laws, and any mortgage company or investment company that made more than twenty mortgage loans in the calendar year preceding the year of the relevant mortgage for the purposes of subsection (m) of section twelve, and any national bank, federal savings and loan, federal savings bank, bank holding company, or state or federally chartered credit union.

"Land bank", the Martha's Vineyard Land Bank, established by section two.

"Land bank commission", the Martha's Vineyard land bank commission, established by section three.

"Purchaser", the transferee, grantee or recipient of any real property interests.

"Purchase price", all consideration paid or transferred by or on behalf of a purchaser to a seller or his nominee, or for his benefit, for the transfer of any real property interest, and shall include, but not be limited to, all cash or its equivalent so paid or transferred, all cash or other property paid or transferred by or on behalf of the purchaser to discharge or reduce any obligation of the seller; the principal amount of all notes or their equivalent, or other deferred payments, given or promised to be given by or on behalf of the purchaser to the seller or his nominee; the outstanding balance of all obligations of the seller which are assumed by the purchaser or to which the real property interest transferred remains subject after the transfer, determined at the time of transfer but excluding real estate taxes and other municipal liens or assessments which are not overdue at the time of transfer; and the fair market value at the time of transfer of any other consideration or thing of value paid or transferred by or on behalf of the purchaser, including, but not limited to, any property, goods or services paid, transferred or rendered in exchange for such real property interest.

"Real property interest", any present or future legal or equitable interest in or to real property, and any beneficial interest therein, including the interest of any beneficiary in a trust which holds any legal or equitable interest in real property, but shall not include any interest which is limited to any or all of the following: the dominant estate in any easement or right of way; the right to enforce any restriction; any estate at will or at sufferance, and any estate for years having a term of less than thirty years; the reversionary right, condition, or right of entry for condition broken; the interest of a mortgagee or other secured party in any mortgage or security agreement; and the interest of a stockholder in a corporation, or a partner in a partnership.

"Seller", the transferor, grantor or immediate former owner of any real property interests.

"Time of transfer", of any real property interest shall mean, the time at which such transfer is legally effective as between the parties thereto, and, in any event, with respect to a transfer evidenced by an instrument recorded with the appropriate registry of deeds or filed with the assistant recorder of the appropriate registry district, not later than the time of such recording or filing.

"Town advisory board", a town board created in each of the towns of Chilmark, Edgartown, Gay Head, Oak Bluffs, Tisbury, and West Tisbury to assist the land bank commission in administering this act, such advisory board to consist of one representative duly appointed, either from its membership or otherwise, by each of the following town boards should they exist: conservation commission, planning board, board of assessors, board of health, park and recreation commission, board of selectmen and water commission.

SECTION 2. There is hereby established a Martha's Vineyard land bank, to be administered by a land bank commission established by section three, for the purpose of acquiring and holding and managing land and interests in land of the types set forth in section five.

This act shall not affect the eligibility of any member town to receive funds under the land conservation program created under section eleven of chapter one hundred and thirty-two A of the General Laws, or under any similar state program.

SECTION 3. The land bank shall be administered by a land bank commission, a public body corporate, consisting of seven persons, of whom there shall be one person who is a legal resident of each of the towns of Chilmark, Edgartown, Gay Head, Oak Bluffs, Tisbury, and West

Tisbury, each person to be elected for a three year term, in the same manner as other elected town officials, provided that the initial terms, drawn by lot by the initial six appointed members, shall be staggered so that two members are elected each year, following the initial election of members; and provided, further, that the county commissioners shall, respectively, appoint the initial six members, including one person who is a legal resident of each of the six towns that comprise the land bank to serve from the effective date of this act until the first elections of the regular members at each town's first regular or special town election following the effective date of this act. The secretary of environmental affairs or his designee shall be a voting member of the land bank commission. Members shall serve without compensation. The initial appointed members shall adopt temporary rules and regulations to the extent necessary to conduct business until the regular members are elected. The land bank commission shall elect a chairman and a secretary/treasurer from among its regular members; shall adopt, after holding a public hearing and after requesting recommendations from the town advisory board of each of the six member towns that comprise the commission, rules and regulations for conducting its internal affairs and procedural guidelines for carrying out its responsibilities under this act. The land bank commission shall also adopt a management plan for managing each of its land holdings in a manner consistent with section five. In preparing a management plan for any parcel of land, the land bank commission shall use, as guidelines, the open space and master plans, if any, of the town or towns in which such parcel is located and shall request the recommendations of the town advisory board of any such town or towns; and the adoption or change of any such management plan shall be subject to the approval of the town advisory board of any such town or towns. Decisions of the land bank commission shall be by a majority vote, of those present and voting, and no business shall be transacted without four town representative members present; provided that decisions to acquire interests in land and to request state approval of any proposed disposition of an interest in any parcel of land or of any change in its use shall require the affirmative approval of at least four town representative members of the land bank commission. The land bank commission shall keep accurate records of its meetings and actions and shall file an annual report which shall be printed in the annual report of each member town.

SECTION 4. The land bank commission shall, subject to the provisions of this act, have the power and authority to: (a) acquire, by purchase or gift, fee simple interests, and any lesser interests, in any parcel of land situated within any of the towns that comprise the land bank commission, of the types set forth in section five, including any improvements thereon; provided, however, that the land bank commission shall, in considering any such acquisition, use as guidelines the open space and master plans, if any, of the town or towns in which such parcel is located, and provided further that any such acquisition shall require the approval of the town advisory board of any such town or towns; (b) accept gifts of funds to further the purposes of the land bank;

(c) take any such interests in land by eminent domain pursuant to chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, but only by a vote of the land bank commission in which at least four town representative members vote in favor of such taking and further, only after having been authorized to do so in each instance by a two-thirds majority vote of each town that comprises the land bank commission at its annual or special town meeting, and further, only after first making a reasonable effort to negotiate the acquisition thereto by purchase; (d) dispose of all or any part of its interests in any parcel of land, or change the use of such parcel, but only with the approval of the town advisory board of the town or towns in which such parcel is located and with the approval of the secretary of environmental affairs and subject to the provisions of Article XCVII of the Articles of Amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, to the extent applicable; (e) incur debt, pledging the full faith and credit of each of the towns that comprise the land bank commission but only after having been authorized to do so in each instance by a two-thirds majority town meeting vote of each town; or of the county of Dukes County, but only after having been authorized to do so in each instance by a two-thirds majority town meeting vote of each town in the county of Dukes County; and incur debt, without such town meeting authorization, by pledging the full faith and credit of the land bank commission; (f) prepare an annual budget, which shall be subject to approval by the town advisory boards of the majority of the member towns of the land bank commission; (g) hire such staff and obtain such professional services as are necessary in order to perform its duties; (h) administer and manage its interests in any parcel of land in a manner consistent with section five and with the land management plan adopted for such parcel under section three; and (i) expend funds to supplement municipal, state, or federal funds for the purchase of interests in land of the types set forth in section five.

SECTION 5. Interests in land to be acquired shall be situated in a member town and may consist of any of the following: (a) land to protect existing and future well fields, aquifers and recharge areas; (b) agricultural lands; (c) forest land; (d) fresh and salt water marshes and other wetlands; (e) ocean and pond frontage, beaches, dunes, and adjoining backlands, to protect their natural and scenic resources; (f) land to protect scenic vistas; (g) land for nature or wildlife preserve; (h) easements for trails and for publicly owned lands; and (i) land for passive recreational use.

SECTION 6. The land bank commission shall retain any real property interest acquired pursuant to this act predominantly in its natural, scenic or open condition, and shall not restrict access to any property interest on the basis of residency or domicile. With respect to any such real property interest, the land bank commission shall not permit any of the following without the approval of the town advisory board of the town or towns in which such real property is located and without the approval of the secretary of environmental affairs: (a) construction or placing of buildings, roads, signs, billboards, or other advertising utilities or other structures on or above the surface, (b) dumping or placing of soil or other substance or material as landfill, or dumping or placing of trash, waste or unsightly or offensive materials, (c) removal or destruction of trees, shrubs, or other vegetation, (d) excavation, dredging, or removal of loam, peat, gravel, soil, rock, or other mineral substance in such manner as to affect the surface, (e) surface use except for purposes permitting the land or water area to remain predominantly in its natural condition, (f) activities detrimental to drainage, flood control, water conservation, erosion control, or soil conservation, or (g) other acts or uses detrimental to such retention of land or water areas. In determining whether or not to approve a request from the land bank commission to use or improve any real property interest acquired by the land bank commission in a manner otherwise prohibited by this section, the secretary of environmental affairs shall consider whether such request is in the interest of conservation and any national, state, regional or local program in furtherance thereof, and also any public, state, regional or local comprehensive land use or development plan affecting the land, and any known proposal by a governmental body for use of the land.

SECTION 7. The land bank commission shall file annually with the secretary of environmental affairs a report of its activities during the year preceding such filing. The report shall list all real property interests currently held by the land bank commission, including a description of the use thereof, and shall include all acquisitions, improvements and dispositions of real property interests by the land bank commission during such year. The report shall also include a current plan for its future operations which shall be, as far as possible, consistent with the open space and master plans of each of the towns and with any regional planning in the area. The secretary of environmental affairs may require any other information which said secretary deems important.

SECTION 8. The land bank commission shall meet its financial obligations by drawing upon a fund, to be set up as a revolving or sinking account within the treasury of the county of Dukes County. Deposits into the fund shall include (a) funds appropriated, borrowed, or transferred to be deposited into the fund by vote of the county commissioners of the county of Dukes County or of town meetings of the towns that comprise the land bank commission; (b) voluntary contributions of money and other liquid assets to the fund; (c) revenues from fees imposed upon the transfer of real property interests as set forth in section ten occurring after the effective date of this act as set forth in section fifteen, together with payments of interest and penalties under section thirteen; and (d) proceeds from disposal of real property or interests. All expenses lawfully incurred by the land bank commission in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be evidenced by proper vouchers and shall be paid by the county treasurer of said county only upon submission of warrants duly approved by the land bank commission. The county treasurer of said county shall prudently invest available assets of the fund, and all income thereon shall accrue to the fund.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 736.

SECTION 8A. An account shall be established by the land bank commission for each member town of the land bank. The county treasurer shall administer all transactions for the individual town accounts. Of the revenues collected under this act, fifty per cent shall remain in the fund, to be directly administered by the land bank commission in accordance with the provisions of this act. The remaining fifty per cent of the revenues collected shall be transferred to the individual town accounts in proportion to the amount of collected land bank revenues derived from transfer of any real property interest in any real property within each respective town. The town advisory board of each member town shall control the disbursement of funds of its respective land bank account; such revenue to be used for purchases allowable under this act within its town borders and for land bank purchases outside its town borders.

SECTION 9. The land bank commission shall keep a full and accurate account of its actions including a record as to when, from or to whom, and on what account money has been paid or received relative to this act, and as to when, from and to whom and for what consideration real property interests have been acquired, improved, or disposed of. Said records or accounts shall be subject to examination by the director of accounts or his agent pursuant to section forty-five of chapter thirty-five of the General Laws.

Said county treasurer shall keep a full and accurate account stating when, from or to whom, and on what account money has been paid or received relative to the activities of the land bank commission and the land bank. Said account shall be subject to examination by the director of accounts or his agent pursuant to section forty-four of chapter thirty-five of the General Laws.

SECTION 10. There is hereby imposed a fee equal to two per cent of the purchase price upon the transfer of any real property interest in any real property situated in a member town or towns provided that the fee percentage may be reduced by a two-thirds vote in favor of such reduction at the annual town meetings of a majority of the member towns in a single calendar year. Said fee shall be the liability of the purchaser of such real property interest, and any agreement between the purchaser and the seller or any other person with reference to the allocation of the responsibility for bearing said fee shall not affect such liability of the purchaser. Such fee shall be paid to the land bank commission or its designee, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the deed or other instrument evidencing such transfer, if any, and an affidavit signed under oath or under the pains and penalties of perjury by the purchaser or his legal representative, attesting to the true and complete purchase price and the basis, if any, upon which the transfer is claimed to be exempt in whole or in part from the fee imposed hereby. The land bank commission, or its designee, shall promptly thereafter execute and issue a certificate indicating that the appropriate fee has been paid or that the transfer is exempt from the fee, stating the basis for the exemption. The register of deeds for the county of Dukes

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 736.

County, and the assistant recorder for the registry district of the county of Dukes County, shall not record or register, or receive or accept for recording or registration, any deed, except a mortgage deed, relative to a real property interest in land situated in any town that is a member of the land bank commission to which has not been affixed such a certificate, executed by the land bank commission or its designee. Failure to comply with this requirement shall not affect the validity of any instrument. The land bank commission shall deposit all fees received hereunder with the county treasurer of the county of Dukes County as a part of the fund established by section eight. The fee imposed hereunder shall be due simultaneously with the time of transfer upon which it is imposed.

SECTION 11. At any time within seven days following the issuance of the certificate of payment of the fee imposed by section ten, the purchaser or his legal representative may return said certificate to the land bank commission or its designee for cancellation, together with an affidavit signed under oath or under the pains and penalties of perjury that the transfer, with respect to which such certificate was issued, has not been consummated, and thereupon the fee paid with respect to such transfer shall be forthwith returned to the purchaser or his legal representative.

SECTION 12. The following transfers of real property interests shall be exempt from the fee established by section ten. Except as otherwise provided, the purchaser shall have the burden of proof that any transfer is exempt hereunder:

(a) transfers to the government of the United States, the commonwealth, and any of their instrumentalities, agencies, or subdivisions;

(b) transfers which, without additional consideration, confirm, correct, modify or supplement a transfer previously made;

(c) transfers made as gifts without consideration; in any proceedings to determine the amount of any fee due hereunder, it shall be presumed that any transfer for consideration of less than fair market value of the real property interests transferred was made as a gift without consideration to the extent of the difference between the fair market value of the real property interests transferred and the amount of consideration claimed by the purchaser to have been paid or transferred, if the purchaser shall have been at the time of transfer the spouse, the lineal descendant, or the lineal ancestor of the seller, by blood or adoption, and otherwise it shall be presumed that consideration was paid in an amount equal to the fair market value of the real property interests transferred, at the time of transfer;

(d) transfer to the trustees of a trust in exchange for a beneficial interest received by the seller in such trust; distributions by the trustees of a trust to the beneficiaries of such trust;

(e) transfers by operation of law without actual consideration, including but not limited to transfers occurring by virtue of the death or bankruptcy of the owner of a real property interest;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 736.

(f) transfers made in partition of land and improvements thereto, under the provisions of chapter two hundred and forty-one of the General Laws;

(g) transfers to any charitable organization as defined in clause third of section five of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, or any religious organization, provided that the real property interests so transferred shall be held by the charitable or religious organization solely for its public, charitable or religious purposes;

(h) transfers to a mortgagee in foreclosure of the mortgage held by such mortgagee, and transfers of the property subject to a mortgage to the mortgagee in consideration of the forbearance of the mortgagee from foreclosing said mortgage;

(i) transfers made to a corporation or partnership at the time of its formation, pursuant to which transfer no gain or loss is recognized under the provisions of section three hundred and fifty-one of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954;

(j) transfers made to a stockholder of a corporation in liquidation of the corporation, and transfers made to a partner of a partnership in dissolution of the partnership;

(k) transfers consisting of the division of marital assets under the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter two hundred and eight of the General Laws or other provisions of law;

(l) transfers of property consisting in part of real property interests situated within a town that is a member of the land bank commission and in part of other property interests, to the extent that the property transferred consists of property other than real property situated within a town that is a member of the land bank commission provided that the purchaser shall furnish the land bank commission with such information as it shall require or request in support of the claim of exemption and manner of allocation of the consideration for such transfers; and

(m) the first one hundred thousand dollars of the purchase price of a transfer made to a purchaser who, or whose spouse at the time of transfer, has at no time prior to said transfer owned or possessed any real property interest as defined in section one either within or without a town that is a member of the land bank commission provided that the purchaser intends to make the real property interest which is the subject of the transfer the purchaser's actual domicile within two years of the time of transfer, with the intention to remain permanently or for an indefinite time and without any certain purpose to return to a former place of abode; provided, further, that in the event of a subsequent transfer within five years of the transfer exempted from the fee under this subsection, other than the transfer of a mortgage to an institutional lender, the fee exempted shall become due, together with accumulated interest and penalties, and in addition to any fee otherwise due as a result of the subsequent transfer. The purchaser shall certify as to the foregoing, and the land bank commission shall attach to the deed a certificate which shall recite the fact that there is running with the land a lien equal to the amount of the fee exempted plus accumulated interest and penalties until such time as all conditions of this subsection have been met.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 736.

SECTION 13. A purchaser who fails to pay all or any portion of the fee established by section ten on or before the time when the same is due shall be liable for the following additional payments in addition to said fee:

(a) Interest. The purchaser shall pay interest on the unpaid amount of the fee to be calculated from the time of transfer at a rate equal to fourteen per cent per annum.

(b) Penalties. Any person who, without fraud or willful intent to defeat or evade a fee imposed by this act, fails to pay all or a portion of the fee within thirty days after the time of transfer, shall pay a penalty equal to five per cent of the outstanding fee as determined by the land bank commission for each month or portion thereof thereafter that the fee is not paid in full; provided, however, that in no event shall the amount of any penalty imposed hereunder exceed twenty-five per cent of the unpaid fee due at the time of transfer. Whenever the land bank commission determines that all or a portion of a fee due under this chapter was unpaid due to fraud with intent to defeat or evade the fee imposed by this chapter, a penalty equal to the amount of said fee as determined by the land bank commission shall be paid by the purchaser in addition to said fee.

SECTION 14. (a) The land bank commission shall notify a purchaser by registered or certified mail of any failure to discharge in full the amount of the fee due under this act and any penalty or interest assessed. The land bank commission shall grant a hearing on the matter of the imposition of said fee, or of any penalty or interest assessed, if a petition requesting such hearing is received by the land bank commission within thirty days after the mailing of said notice. The land bank commission shall notify the purchaser in writing by registered or certified mail of its determination concerning the deficiency, penalty or interest within fifteen days after said hearing. Any party aggrieved by a determination of the land bank commission concerning a deficiency, penalty or interest may, after payment of said deficiency, appeal to the district or superior court within three months after the mailing of notification of the land bank commission. Upon the failure to timely petition for a hearing, or appeal to said courts, within the time limits hereby established, the purchaser shall be bound by the terms of the notification, assessment or determination, as the case may be, and shall be barred from contesting the fee, and any interest and penalty, as determined by the land bank commission. All decisions of said courts shall be appealable. Every notice to be given under this section by the land bank commission shall be effective if mailed by certified or registered mail to the purchaser at the address stated in a recorded or registered instrument by virtue of which the purchaser holds any interest in land, the transfer of which gives rise to the fee which is the subject of such notice; and if no such address is stated or if such transfer is not evidenced by an instrument recorded or registered in the public records in the county of Dukes County, such notice shall be effective when so mailed to the purchaser in care of any person appearing of record to have a fee interest in such land, at the address of such person as set forth in an instrument recorded or registered in the county of Dukes County.

(b) All fees, penalties and interest required to be paid pursuant to this act shall constitute a personal debt of the purchaser and may be recovered in an action of contract or in any other appropriate action, suit or proceeding brought by the land bank commission; said action, suit or proceeding shall be subject to the provisions of chapter two hundred and sixty of the General Laws.

(c) If any purchaser liable to pay the fee established by this act neglects or refuses to pay the same, the amount, including any interest and penalty thereon, shall be a lien in favor of the land bank commission upon all property and rights to property, whether real or personal, belonging to such purchaser. Said lien shall arise at the time of transfer and shall continue until the liability for such amount is satisfied. Said lien shall in any event terminate not later than six years following the time of transfer. Said lien shall not be valid as against any mortgagee, pledgee, purchaser or judgment creditor unless notice thereof has been filed by the land bank commission (i) with respect to real property or fixtures, in the registry of deeds for the county of Dukes County, or (ii) with respect to personal property, in the office in which a security or financing statement or notice with respect to the property would be filed in order to perfect a nonpossessory security interest belonging to the person named in the relevant notice, subject to the same limitations as set forth in section fifty of chapter sixty-two of the General Laws.

In any case where there has been a refusal or neglect to pay any fee, interest or penalties imposed by this act, whether or not levy has been made, the land bank commission, in addition to other modes of relief, may direct a civil action to be filed in a district or superior court of the commonwealth to enforce the lien of the land bank commission under this section with respect to such liability or to subject any property of whatever nature, of the delinquent, or in which he has any right, title or interest, to the payment of such liability.

The land bank commission may issue a waiver or release of any lien imposed by this section with the approval of the town advisory board of the town or towns in which the property subject to the lien is located. Such waiver or release shall be conclusive evidence that the lien upon the property covered by the waiver or release is extinguished.

SECTION 15. Any town that is a member of the land bank may withdraw therefrom by the affirmative vote of a majority of the voters at any regular or special town election; provided, however, that any real property interest held by the land bank and situated in a town that withdraws from the land bank shall remain within the land bank until such time as the land bank is dissolved. Any town that withdraws from the land bank shall remain liable for all debts and obligations incurred by the land bank for any real property interests situated within said town during the period of such town's membership to the same extent as if the town had remained a member; provided that, such town shall not be liable for debts and obligations incurred by the land bank subsequent to the town's withdrawal. A town that has so withdrawn may petition the legislature to renew its membership.

If membership in the land bank is reduced to fewer than three of the original members, the land bank shall be dissolved. Upon dissolution of the land bank, title to all funds and other properties held by the land bank shall vest in the towns of the county of Dukes County as herein provided after provision is made for payment of all bonds, notes and other obligations of the land bank. Interests in land held by the land bank at the time of dissolution shall be transferred to the town or towns in which the land is situated, and placed under the control and management of the local conservation commission who shall maintain, protect, limit the future use of, improve, or otherwise conserve and properly utilize open spaces of land. Such land shall remain subject to the provisions of Article XCVII of the Articles of Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth. Funds held by the land bank shall be transferred to the towns of the county of Dukes County to be used to further the purposes of this act. Funds shall be transferred to each town in proportion to the fees generated by lands situated within such town over the life of the land bank under this act.

The land bank commission shall submit no amendment of this act to the general court unless and until such amendment has been approved by two-thirds of the member towns by the affirmative vote of a majority of the voters of the towns at any regular or special election.

SECTION 16. Acceptance of this act, by each of the towns of Chilmark, Edgartown, Gay Head, Oak Bluffs, Tisbury, and West Tisbury shall be by the affirmative vote of a majority of the voters at any regular or special town election at which the question of acceptance has been placed on the ballot. This act shall become effective on the date on which acceptance by all of said towns has been effected.

Approved January 3, 1986.

commission, the Port of Boston commission, the Massachusetts commission against discrimination, the office of handicapped affairs, the state airport management board, weather amendment board, the boxers' fund board, finance advisory board, medical, dental and nursing scholarship board, retirement law commission, the Massachusetts aeronautics commission, the obscene literature control commission, the mobile homes commission, the consumers' council, the Massachusetts police training council, the Massachusetts rehabilitation commission, the service corps commission, the World War II memorial commission, the health and welfare commission, the advisory council on home and family, state council on juvenile behavior, governor's mansion commission, the American and Canadian French cultural exchange commission, Massachusetts education communications commission, the committee on criminal justice, the commission of employment of the handicapped, and the nutrition board, shall serve under the governor, and shall be subject to such supervision as the governor deems necessary and proper.

Section 22. There shall be an officer to be known as the commissioner of veterans' services, who shall be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time subject to the approval of the governor. This position shall be classified in accordance with section forty-five of chapter thirty and the salary shall be determined in accordance with section forty-six C of said chapter thirty. The commissioner shall devote his whole time to the duties of his office. He shall be state agent for the settlement of pension, bounty, back pay, compensation and other claims of citizens of the commonwealth against the government of the United States, or of any state thereof, on account of military or naval service, and he shall assist and advise war veterans, and their dependents, heirs or legal representatives, with respect to the filing, prosecution and settlement of such claims.

There shall be under the control of the commissioner a supervisor of benefits who for the purpose of insuring fair and compassionate treatment of the problems of mothers of deceased veterans, shall have supervision of all applications by mothers of deceased veterans for aid under chapter one hundred and fifteen. Such supervisor shall be the mother of a deceased veteran. She shall be appointed and may be removed by the commissioner with the approval of the secretary of human services and her salary shall be determined by the commissioners with the secretary's approval. All her decisions shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

SECTION 3. Section 24 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commissioner of veterans' services, with the approval of the secretary of human services, shall appoint and may remove a deputy and a second deputy commissioner of veterans' services who shall devote their whole time to the duties of their offices.

SECTION 4. Section 40 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second and third sentences and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– Upon the expiration of the term of office of a member, his successor shall be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, to serve for seven years. The secretary shall designate one of the members as chairman.

SECTION 5. Said section 40 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following paragraph:–

The secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, the superintendent of the soldiers' home, who shall have the title of commandant, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 6. Paragraph (a) of section 75 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commission shall be under the direction, supervision and control of the commissioner of rehabilitation, in sections seventy-five to eighty-four, inclusive, called the commissioner, who shall be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 7. Section 76 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– There shall be an advisory council to consist of fourteen members to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor.

SECTION 8. Said section 76 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Upon notification by the chairman that a vacancy exists, the secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, another member to fill the unexpired term.

SECTION 9. Section 84H of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second and third sentences and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– In addition, twelve members shall be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, nine of whom shall be deaf persons selected from a list submitted by one or more organizations serving the deaf, two of whom shall be two parents selected from a list submitted by one or more organizations of parents of deaf persons, and one of whom shall be a licensed physician specializing in otolaryngology.

SECTION 10. Section 32 of chapter 6A of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commission shall consist of three members appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor.

SECTION 11. Said section 32 of said chapter 6A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the seventh sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The secretary of human services may, with the approval of the governor, remove any member for cause, and, with like approval, shall fill any vacancy for the unexpired term.

SECTION 12. The second paragraph of section 129 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commissioner for the blind shall be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor for a term of five years and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified.

SECTION 13. The third paragraph of said section 129 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The advisory board shall consist of five persons, qualified by training, experience, or demonstrated interest in the amelioration of the condition of the blind to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, for a term of five years.

SECTION 14. Said third paragraph of said section 129 of said chapter 6, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The chairman of the board shall forthwith notify the secretary of human services that such vacancy exists.

SECTION 15. Section 2 of chapter 17 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the third sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, shall appoint the commissioner who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 16. Section 3 of chapter 18 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, the commissioner who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 737.

SECTION 17. Section 6 of said chapter 18, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first and second paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:–

There shall be in the department a state advisory board consisting of the commissioner, who shall serve ex officio, and twenty-five members to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, not more than eight of whom shall be providers of assistance, and not more than eight of whom shall be recipients of assistance. The members of such board shall serve for terms of three years. The commissioner shall not be entitled to vote on any matter before the board.

The board shall meet at least ten times a year upon call of the chairman, who shall be designated by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, and the board shall meet at any time upon call of the secretary or the commissioner. If any appointed member is absent for four regularly scheduled meetings, exclusive of July and August, in any calendar year, his office as a member of the board shall be deemed vacant. The chairman shall forthwith notify the secretary of human services that such vacancy exists.

SECTION 18. Section 1 of chapter 18A of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, the commissioner who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 19. Section 3 of said chapter 18A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commissioner shall appoint, with the approval of the secretary of human services, a deputy commissioner who shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one and to whom the provisions of section nine A of chapter thirty shall not apply, but who shall possess the same qualifications required of the commissioner, except that he shall have had not less than five years of experience in work related to juvenile delinquency, of which at least two shall have been as an administrator.

SECTION 20. The first paragraph of section 9 of said chapter 18A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first five sentences and inserting in place thereof the following five sentences:– There shall be in the department an advisory committee consisting of the commissioner of youth services, the commissioner of welfare, the director of the office for children, the commissioner of mental health, the commissioner of education, the chairman of the parole board, the commissioner of correction, the commissioner of probation, the commissioner of rehabilitation, the chairman of the Massachusetts commission against discrimination, the executive secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and the executive secretary of the Massachusetts Committee on Children and Youth, all of whom shall serve ex officio, and nine other persons to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor. Such persons shall have demonstrated professional involvement and expertise in the area of delinquency prevention, rehabilitation, and treatment. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any appointed member, his successor shall be appointed for a term of three years. Any vacancy shall be filled by the secretary of human services for the remainder of the unexpired term. The secretary of human services shall appoint from the members of said committee a chairman and a vice chairman.

SECTION 21. Section 6 of chapter 18B of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The department shall be under the direction, supervision and control of the commissioner of social services, in this chapter called the commissioner, who shall be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary, and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 22. Section 2 of chapter 19 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, a commissioner of mental health who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 23. The first paragraph of section 3 of said chapter 19, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commissioner shall appoint, with the approval of the secretary of human services, a person qualified to serve as deputy commissioner of mental health.

SECTION 24. Section 11 of said chapter 19, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– There shall be an advisory council for the planning, construction, operation or utilization of community mental health centers, consisting of the commissioners of mental health, public health, social services and public welfare, ex officio, and twelve persons to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, who shall include representatives of nongovernmental organizations or groups, of agencies of the commonwealth concerned with planning, construction, operation or utilization of community mental health centers or other mental health facilities, including representatives of consumers of the services provided by such centers and facilities who are familiar with the need for such services.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 737.

SECTION 25. Section 12 of said chapter 19, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– There shall be an advisory council for the planning, construction, operation or utilization of facilities for the mentally retarded, consisting of the commissioners of mental health, public health, social services and public welfare, serving ex officiis, and twelve other persons to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, who shall include representatives of agencies of the commonwealth concerned with planning, construction, operation or utilization of facilities for the mentally retarded and of nongovernmental organizations or groups concerned with education, employment, rehabilitation, welfare, and health, and including representatives of consumers of the services provided by such facilities.

SECTION 26. Section 16 of said chapter 19, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– There shall be a mental health advisory council consisting of thirty persons to be appointed by the secretary of human services, with the approval of the governor, fifteen of whom shall be members of community mental health and retardation area boards, and of the remaining fifteen at least seven shall be appointed to represent one of the following professions and groups: state level medical, psychological, nursing, educational, social work, occupational therapy, or bar associations, associations for mental health and for mental retardation, industrial and labor groups and the clergy.

SECTION 27. Section 1 of chapter 27 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The secretary of human services shall appoint, with the approval of the governor, the commissioner who shall serve at the pleasure of the secretary and may be removed by the secretary at any time, subject to the approval of the governor.

SECTION 28. Section 2 of said chapter 27, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The commissioner shall, with the approval of the secretary of human services, appoint and may, with like approval, remove a deputy commissioner for institutional services, a deputy commissioner for personnel and training, and a deputy commissioner for community services. The position of deputy commissioner shall be classified in accordance with section forty-five of chapter thirty and the salary shall be determined in accordance with section forty-six C of said chapter thirty and he shall devote his full time during business hours to the duties of his office.

SECTION 29. The first paragraph of section 3 of said chapter 27, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first five sentences and inserting in place thereof the following five sentences:– There shall be in the department an advisory committee on correction consisting of the

Chapter 738. AN ACT MAKING CERTAIN CHANGES IN THE PROBATE LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1A of chapter 191 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out clause 6 and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

6. A direction in a will or instrument of trust to pay taxes caused by, resulting from, or imposed by reason of the death of the testator or donor, as the case may be, out of the decedent's probate estate or trust estate or other property, shall not include, unless the will or instrument of trust or a provision of such tax laws specifically provides otherwise, taxes levied or assessed under the tax laws of the United States or of the commonwealth or of any foreign state or commonwealth (i) on generation-skipping transfers or (ii) on any qualified terminable interest property in which the decedent had a qualifying income interest for life.

SECTION 2. Section 2 of chapter 192 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (iii) and inserting in place thereof the following two clauses:– (iii) without testimony if it is executed, attested and made self-proved by affidavits of the testator and the witnesses, each affidavit being made before an officer authorized to administer oaths under the laws of the state where executed, and under official seal. The same signature shall be sufficient for the execution, or attestation and the affidavit. The form and content shall be substantially as follows:

I, the undersigned testator, do hereby declare that I sign (or direct another to sign for me) and execute this instrument as may last will, that I sign it willingly (or willingly direct another to sign for me) in the presence of each of said witnesses, and that I execute it as my free and voluntary act for the purposes herein expressed.

Chapter 739. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE UPPER BLACKSTONE WATER POLLUTION ABATEMENT DISTRICT RELATIVE TO INDUSTRIAL PRETREATMENT REQUIREMENTS AND CONSTRUCTION OF OPERATOR TRAINING FACILITY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 752 of the acts of 1968 is hereby amended by striking out section 7 and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 7. The Board shall prevent the discharge into the sewers of substances which may damage or impair the sewage collection and sewage treatment system or interfere with its maintenance or operation. The Board shall have the right to enter any premises from which any sewer or drain is connected with any part of the sewerage system under its control or with any tributary sewerage or with the systems of any member city, town or sewer district, to determine the condition of said sewer, drain, sewage pumping station, trunk or treatment works, determine the amount and character of sewage, drainage or other wastes flowing therefrom, determine whether such sewage, drainage or other wastes does, or is likely to, damage or impair the sewerage system or the system of any member city, town or sewer district or interfere with its maintenance and operation, and inspect records required to be kept by regulation of the Board or other governmental entity. The Board shall, for the proper and reasonable operation of its works, make regulations as to the quantity and character of any sewage, drainage or other wastes discharged into any sewer under its control or any sewer tributary thereto, but such regulations shall not be less than those established by the division of water pollution control. Such regulations may impose federal, state and other industrial pretreatment requirements directly upon industrial and other users of the sewage collection systems tributary to the district's sewerage system and may require such industrial and other users to obtain discharge permits directly from the district. The district may charge permit application fees to recover the costs of processing permit applications and may directly bill industrial users to recover the district's annual cost of implementing an industrial pretreatment program. The district may enforce its regulations directly against industrial and other users of sewer systems tributary to district sewage works by court action seeking injunctive relief and penalties or by other action deemed appropriate by the district. Violation of district regulations is subject to a civil penalty up to ten thousand dollars, with each day of a continuing violation being a separate violation.

Chapter 740. AN ACT AUTHORIZING CITIES, TOWNS AND DISTRICTS TO ENTER INTO CERTAIN AGREEMENTS WITH BANKING INSTITUTIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 44 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 53E the following section:–

Section 53F. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a treasurer or collector of a city, town or district is authorized to enter into written agreements for a period not to exceed one year, with banking institutions having their principal offices in the commonwealth, pursuant to which such treasurer or collector agrees to maintain on deposit in said institutions specified amounts of the funds of the municipality in return for said institutions providing banking services. The type of services that so qualify shall be prescribed by the commissioner of revenue.

Such agreements shall be in a form approved by said commissioner and shall contain such terms and conditions as he may deem appropriate to ensure fiscal stability and full disclosure. Each such agreement shall include the total amount that may be required to be on deposit at all times; and, if said amount may vary from time to time, every such agreement shall specify a minimum total amount that may be required to be on deposit at any time. If the city, town or district fails to maintain the agreed amount on deposit, the city, town or district shall not be authorized to appropriate funds for such purpose.

No such agreement shall be effective unless and until it has been approved in a town having a town council, by the town council; in a city by the city council and the mayor if required by law; in a regional school district, by the regional school committee; and in any other district, by the district meeting. With respect to any other town, no such agreement shall be effective unless and until the town meeting has authorized its treasurer or collector to enter into such agreements under the provisions of this section during the fiscal year in which such agreement takes effect and such agreement has been approved by the selectmen of such town.

Said commissioner shall promulgate, and from time to time revise, reasonable rules, regulations, standards and guidelines necessary to promote prudent fiscal management and to ensure that such agreements are not utilized to circumvent the appropriation process or other provisions of law.

As used in this section, "district" shall include a regional school district.

A treasurer or collector who has entered into an agreement pursuant to this section shall file with the commission, in such form and at such time as the commissioner shall prescribe, such information as the commissioner shall require in order to determine whether funds maintained on deposit with a banking institution have exceeded the amount required by said agreement. The commissioner shall report annually on agreements maintained pursuant to this section. Such report shall identify, for each city, town or district maintaining such agreement, each banking institution with which such agreement was maintained in the year covered by the report, and the average daily amount, if any, maintained on deposit with such banking institution in excess of the amount necessary to fulfill the terms of agreement. A copy of such report shall be provided to the collector or treasurer, the mayor and city council, the selectmen, the regional school committee, the prudential committee, if any, otherwise the commissioners, of each city, town, or district named therein, and a copy of the same shall be furnished to the inspector general.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 44 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 55A the following section:–

Section 55B. All moneys held in the name of a city, town, district or regional school district or any other account under the jurisdiction of a city, town, district, or regional school district or officer thereof, which are not required to be kept liquid for purposes of distribution, shall be invested in such a manner as to require the payment of interest on the money at the highest possible rate reasonably available, taking account of safety liquidity and yield. All officers of a city, town district or regional school district who control the investment of such funds shall invest them prudently, consistent with the provisions of sections fifty-four and fifty-five and, if the funds are the result of gift or grant or bequest, the terms of such gift or grant or bequest, so as to accrue the highest amount of interest reasonably available on such funds taking account of safety, liquidity and yield. The provisions of section sixty-two shall not apply to this section.

Chapter 741. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE RETIREMENT SYSTEMS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Paragraph (c) of subdivision (4) of section 28 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following three sentences:–

Notwithstanding any provisions of this paragraph to the contrary, educational collaboratives, as authorized by the provisions of section four E of chapter forty, shall annually reimburse the state board of retirement for the employer's normal cost as determined by the actuary, of benefits earned during each year by such collaborative employees who are members of the state employees' retirement systems. The actuary shall determine such cost as a percentage of the payroll of the collaborative for such employees based upon the most recent actuarial valuation of the state retirement system. Said reimbursed amount shall be deposited in the pension reserve fund of the state employees' retirement system.

SECTION 2. Section 5D of chapter 40 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the fifth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The commissioner of revenue shall establish rules, regulations and procedures requiring counties, cities, towns, and districts to recover employee pension costs from federal grant monies. Each spending agency of said counties, cities, towns and districts shall, at such time and in the manner as said commissioner shall prescribe, authorize and direct the treasurer to initiate such procedures as said commissioner shall establish to transfer to the pension reserve fund for the system of which such federally funded employee is a member, an amount equal to the employer's normal cost, of retirement benefits, as determined by the actuary pursuant to chapter thirty-two, which are incurred as a result of said federal grant. Expenditures for the payment of salaries to be made from any federal grant shall not be made until the full amount of such pension costs are recovered in accordance with such procedures as said commissioner shall establish. The commissioner of administration shall develop a schedule phasing in the full assessment of such normal costs, provided that full normal costs shall be assessed against all federal grant payrolls not later than October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. If any federal granting authority refuses to allow the pension cost recovery provided for in this paragraph, the amount of any such recovery so refused, upon final adjudication of said refusal, shall be transferred from the pension reserve fund back to the spending agency.

Chapter 742. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE CERTIFICATION OF BACKFLOW PREVENTION DEVICE TESTERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 160A of chapter 111 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:—

The department of environmental quality engineering may establish a program for the certification of persons desiring to engage in inspection and testing of backflow prevention devices installed in accordance with regulations adopted pursuant to section one hundred and sixty. Said department shall adopt regulations for the certification program prescribing the minimum qualifications which such persons must meet in order to be certified. A certificate issued pursuant to this paragraph shall be valid for not longer than three years, after which it shall be renewed by said department upon receipt of an application from the person desiring to be so certified and a determination by said department that the applicant meets the qualifications established by the regulations adopted pursuant to this section. An application to renew a certificate shall be filed not later than one month prior to expiration of such certificate. After notice and opportunity for hearing, said department may suspend or revoke for cause any such certification. Said department may prescribe reasonable application fees for the issuance of such a certificate. Any person who engages in inspecting or testing backflow prevention devices in violation of this paragraph, shall, in addition to any other remedy provided by law, be punished by fine not to exceed five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

Chapter 743. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE ISSUANCE OF CERTAIN LICENSES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 143 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 71G, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 743.

Section 71G. No person shall work as an elevator operator unless he has received a license therefor from the commissioner of public safety. Licenses shall be valid throughout the commonwealth but shall not be assignable or transferable. A license shall continue in force until the date of birth of the licensee occurring more than twelve months but not more than twenty-four months after the date of such license unless suspended or revoked for incompetence or untrustworthiness of the licensee. If any such license or the renewal thereof expires in an even year, any subsequent renewal shall expire on the next anniversary of the licensee's date of birth occurring in an even year. If any such license or renewal thereof expires in an odd year any subsequent renewal shall expire on the next anniversary of the licensee's date of birth occurring in an odd year. A license issued to a person born on February twenty-ninth shall for the purposes of this section expire on March first. Licenses not renewed at the expiration date shall become void, and shall after one year be reinstated only by reexamination of the licensee. A notice of the date of expiration of a license shall, at least thirty days prior to such date, be sent to the licensee. The fee for said license and for each renewal thereof shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

SECTION 2. Section 75 of said chapter 143, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth and fifth sentences and inserting in place thereof the following eight sentences:– Licenses shall be valid throughout the commonwealth but shall not be assignable or transferable. A license shall continue in force until the date of birth of the licensee occurring more than twelve months but not more than twenty-four months after the date of such license unless suspended or revoked for incompetence or untrustworthiness of the licensee. If any such license or the renewal thereof expires in an even year, any subsequent renewal shall expire on the next anniversary of the licensee's date of birth occurring in an even year. If any such license or renewal thereof expires in an odd year any subsequent renewal shall expire on the next anniversary of the licensee's date of birth occurring in an odd year. A license issued to a person born on February twenty-ninth shall for the purpose of this section expire on March first. A notice of the date of the expiration of a license shall, at least thirty days prior to such date, be sent to the licensee. The fee for said license and each renewal thereof shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

SECTION 3. The second paragraph of section 85 of chapter 146 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following seven sentences:– Licenses shall be valid throughout the commonwealth but shall not be assignable or transferable. A license shall continue in force until the date of birth of the licensee occurring more than twelve months but not more than twenty-four months after the date of such license unless suspended or revoked for incompetence or untrustworthiness of the licensee. If any such license or the renewal thereof expires in an even year, any subsequent renewal shall expire on the next anniversary of the licensee's date of birth occurring in an even year. If any such license or renewal thereof expires in an odd year, any subsequent renewal shall expire on the next anniversary of the licensee's date of birth occurring in an odd year. A license issued to a person born on February twenty-ninth shall for the purpose of this section expire on March first. Licenses not renewed at the expiration date shall become void, and shall after one year be reinstated only by reexamination of the licensee. A notice of the date of expiration of a license shall, at least thirty days prior to such date, be set to the licensee.

SECTION 4. The first paragraph of section 10D of chapter 148 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– Licenses not renewed at the expiration date shall become void, and shall after one year be reinstated only by reexamination of the licensee. A notice of the date of expiration of a license shall, at least thirty days prior to such date, be sent to the licensee.

SECTION 5. Section 20B of said chapter 148, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the ninth sentence the following two sentences:– Licenses not renewed at the expiration date shall become void, and shall after one year be reinstated only by reexamination of the licensee. A notice of the date of expiration of a license shall, at least thirty days prior to such date, be sent to the licensee.

engaged or is a bank chartered or incorporated under the laws of the United States or any state thereof.

SECTION 5. Clause (2) of paragraph 14C of said section 63 of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subclause (b) and inserting in place thereof the following subclause:– (b) the net earnings of any lessee under clause (2), or of any such company, association or trust assuming or guaranteeing said lease, during either of the last two fiscal years next preceding the date of investment and the average net earnings of such lessee, or company, association or trust assuming or guaranteeing said lease, during the five fiscal years next preceding the date of investment, have been not less than (1) one and one-half times the average fixed charges for said period if such company, association or trust is not engaged in wholesale, retail, installment, commercial or consumer financing, factoring or the small loan business, or is not a bank chartered or incorporated under the laws of the United States or any state thereof: or (2) one and fifteen one-hundredths times the average fixed charges for said period if such company, association or trust is so engaged or is a bank chartered or incorporated under the laws of the United States or any state thereof.

SECTION 6. The second paragraph of section 64 of said chapter 175, as most recently amended by chapter 336 of the acts of 1985, is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The board of directors, or committee thereof, referred to above, may authorize by vote duly recorded in the books of the company, one or more officers of the company or of any other person in the investment advisory business to acquire or dispose of investments for such company between meetings of said board or committee, under such restrictions and conditions as said board, or committee thereof, shall deem advisable, and a copy of such authorization shall be filed with the commissioner; provided, however, that for the purpose of this sentence any such person in the investment advisory business, except a company which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such domestic company, shall be registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 enacted by Congress on August twenty-second, nineteen hundred and forty as amended from time to time, or any similar statute enacted in substitution therefor, and have at least one hundred million dollars of assets under management.

SECTION 7. Section 65 of said chapter 175, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 19, the word "five", and inserting in place thereof the word:– ten.

SECTION 8. Said section 65 of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 4 and in line 25, the words "paragraph 7 or paragraph 7A" and inserting in place thereof, in each instance the words:– paragraph 7, 7A or 7B.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 745.

SECTION 9. The first paragraph of section 66 of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second and third sentences and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– No domestic life company shall invest in, acquire or hold directly or indirectly more than twenty-five per cent of the capital stock of any corporation, other than a life company or except as otherwise provided in either section sixty-six C or section sixty-six D; nor, except as otherwise provided in section sixty-six C, shall more than two per cent of its assets be invested in the capital stock of any one corporation, other than a life company, without the approval of the commissioner, and such approval shall be granted only if after making such investment such life company's surplus shall be reasonable in relation to its outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. The disposition of the property of a domestic life company shall be at all times the responsibility of its board of directors.

SECTION 10. The second paragraph of said section 66 of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and by inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Nothing in this section or in section sixty-three shall prevent such a life company from investing or loaning any funds, not required to be invested as provided in section sixty-three, in any manner that the directors may determine; provided, however, that no loan of such funds shall be made to an individual unless it is secured by collateral security; and provided further, that such funds shall not be invested in the purchase of stock or evidence of indebtedness prohibited by the preceding paragraph except as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 11. Said section 66 of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Nothing in this section or in section sixty-three shall prevent such a life company from investing or loaning any funds, not required to be invested as provided in section sixty-three, in the transferable certificates of participation or shares, bonds, notes or other evidences or indebtedness whether or not secured by collateral, of an association or trust as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-two. Any such association or trust shall be treated as if it were a corporation for purposes of this section and of section sixty-six D.

SECTION 12. The second paragraph of section 132F of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "contracts", in line 11, the words:– or any other policies or contracts.

SECTION 12A. Said second paragraph of said section 132F of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out in lines 13, 14, 15 and 16, the words:– "which meets the requirements for the tax treatment specified in sections 402(a), 402(c), 402(d), 403(a), or 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as such sections may at any time be in force".

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 745.

SECTION 13. The third paragraph of said section 132F of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– If and to the extent so provided under the applicable contracts, that portion of the assets of a separate account equal to the reserves and other contract liabilities with respect to such account shall not be chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business the life company may conduct.

SECTION 14. Section 132H of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence.

SECTION 15. The first paragraph of section 141 of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– This safety fund shall be in addition to any safety fund accumulated from a mutual domestic life company's surplus funds attributable to its nonparticipating business, which funds may be appointed equitably, in the discretion of the company, as part of any annual dividend on participating business.

SECTION 16. Said chapter 175 is hereby further amended by striking out section 149, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 149. A domestic life company is authorized to issue both participating and nonparticipating policies of life, endowment and accident and sickness insurance, and annuity and pure endowment contracts, but no such company shall issue any such participating policies or contracts which do not by their terms give to the holders thereof full right to participate in the accumulations of said company attributable to such business as provided in section one hundred and forty.

Every domestic mutual and stock life company issuing both participating and nonparticipating policies or contracts shall file with the commissioner each year together with its annual statement for the year a separate calculation of its annual analysis of operations by line of business.

A domestic life company issuing policies or contracts on the nonparticipating plan may provide therein that, in addition to the rate of interest guaranteed by the company to be paid on deferred payments of the proceeds, excess interest may be paid thereon at such rate as the company may annually declare; and the inclusion in any nonparticipating policy or contract of such provision shall not be construed to make the policy or contract participating.

The provisions of sections ninety-four, one hundred and ten, one hundred and thirty-two D and one hundred and thirty-seven relative to membership and voting rights shall not apply to nonparticipating policies and contracts issued by a domestic mutual life company under this section, unless the domestic mutual life company elects to provide membership and voting rights in the policy or contract.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to policies of reinsurance.

SECTION 17. Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 745.

inserting after section 146A, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, the following section 147:–

Section 147. 1. This section may be referred to and cited as the "Massachusetts Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Law".

2. The following words as used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, shall have the following meanings:

"Account", any of the three accounts created under subsection 6.

"Association", the Massachusetts Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association created under subsection 6.

"Contractual obligation", any obligation under a policy or contract or portion thereof for which coverage is provided under subsection 4.

"Covered policy or contract", any policy, contract or group certificate within the scope of this section as provided in subsection 4.

"Impaired insurer", a member insurer which, is not an insolvent insurer, and (a) is deemed by the commissioner to be potentially unable to meet its obligations, or (b) is placed under an order of rehabilitation or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction.

"Insolvent Insurer", a member insurer which is placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction with a finding of insolvency.

"Member Insurer", any insurer licensed or which holds a certificate of authority to transact in the commonwealth any kind of insurance for which coverage is provided under subsection 4 and any insurer whose license or certificate of authority to transact in the Commonwealth such insurance may have been suspended, revoked, not renewed, or voluntarily withdrawn after the effective date of this section, other than a (a) fraternal benefit society, (b) mutual protective association, (c) mutual assessment company or other entity that operates on an assessment basis, (d) medical service corporation, (e) hospital service corporation, (f) health maintenance organization, (g) dental service corporation, (h) optometric service corporation, (i) mandatory state pooling plan, (j) insurance exchange, (k) savings and insurance bank as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and seventy-eight or other depository underwriting insurance subject to analagous terms and conditions, or (j) any other entity similar to any of the above.

"NAIC", the National Association of Insurance Commissioners or its successor organization.

"Person", any individual, corporation, partnership, association or voluntary organization.

"Premiums", amounts received on covered policies or contracts, less premiums, considerations and deposits returned thereon, and less dividends and experience credits thereon. Premiums does not include any amount received for any policies or contracts or for the portions of any policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided under subdivision paragraph (B) of subsection 4, except for subclause (d) of clause (2) of said paragraph (B) and clause (3) of paragraph (B).

"Published monthly average", the monthly average of the composite yield on seasoned corporate bonds as:– (a) published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or any successor thereto, or (b) established by regulation promulgated by the commissioner setting forth a substantially similar average in the event that such monthly average is no longer so published.

"Resident", any person who resides in the commonwealth at the time a member insurer is determined to be an impaired or insolvent insurer and to whom a contractual obligation is owed. A person may be a resident of only one state, which in the case of a person, other than a natural person, shall be its principal place of business.

"Supplemental contract", any agreement entered into for the distribution of policy or contract proceeds.

3. The purpose of this section is to protect, subject to certain limitations, the persons specified in paragraph (A) of subsection 4, against failure in the performance of contractual obligations, under life and health insurance policies and annuity contracts specified in paragraph (B) of said subsection 4, because of the impairment or insolvency of the member insurer that issued the policies or contracts. To provide such protection, an association of insurers, the members of which are subject to assessment, is hereby created to pay benefits and to continue coverages, as limited herein.

4. (A) This section shall provide coverage for the policies and contracts specified in paragraph (B) of this subsection:

(1) To persons who, regardless of where they reside except for non-resident certificate holders under group policies or contracts, are the beneficiaries, assignees or payees of the persons covered under subclause (2), and

(2) To persons who are owners of such policies or contracts, or are insureds or annuitants under such policies or contracts, and who (a) are residents, or (b) are not residents, but only under all of the following conditions: (i) the insurers which issued such policies or contracts are domiciled in the commonwealth, (ii) such insurers never held a license or certificate of authority in the states in which such persons reside, (iii) such states have a life and health insurance guaranty association, and (iv) such persons are not eligible for coverage by such guaranty association.

(B) (1) This section shall provide coverage to the persons specified in paragraph (A) of this subsection for direct, non-group life, health, annuity, and supplemental policies or contracts, and for certificates under direct group life and health insurance policies or annuity or supplemental contracts issued by member insurers, except as otherwise limited in this section.

(2) This section shall not provide coverage under:–

(a) any portion of a policy or contract not guaranteed by the insurer, or under which the risk is borne by the policy or contract holder;

(b) any policy or contract of reinsurance, other than reinsurance for which assumption certificates have been issued;

(c) any annuity contract or group annuity certificate that is not issued to and owned by an individual, except to the extent of any annuity benefits guaranteed to an individual by the insurer under any such contract or certificate;

(d) any portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the rate of interest on which it is based, (i) averaged over the period of four years prior to the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to such policy or contract, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting two percentage points from the published monthly average as averaged for the same four year period, and (ii) on and after the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to such policy or contract, exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting three percentage points from the published monthly average as most recently available on the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to such policy or contract;

(e) any plan or program of an employer, association or similar entity to provide life, health, or annuity benefits to its employees or members to the extent that such plan or program is self-funded or uninsured, including but not limited to benefits payable by an employer, association or similar entity under (i) a Multiple Employer Welfare Arrangement as defined in Section 514 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended; (ii) a minimum premium group insurance plan; (iii) a stop-loss group insurance plan; or (iv) an administrative services only contract;

(f) any portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it provides dividends or experience rating credits, or provides that any fees or allowances be paid to any person, including the policy or contract holder, in connection with the service to or administration of such policy or contract; and

(g) any policy or contract issued in the Commonwealth by a member insurer at a time when it was not licensed or did not have a certificate of authority to issue such policy or contract in the commonwealth.

(3) The benefits for which the Association may become liable shall in no event exceed the lesser of:

(a) the contractual obligations for which the insurer is liable or would have been liable if it were not an impaired or insolvent insurer, or

(b) with respect to any one life: (i) three hundred thousand dollars in life insurance death benefits, but not more than one hundred thousand dollars in net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values under life insurance policies; (ii) one hundred thousand dollars in health insurance benefits, including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values; (iii) one hundred thousand dollars in the present value of annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values; but in no event shall the Association's liability exceed three hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate for all life insurance, health insurance and annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values.

(C) The protection provided by this section shall not apply where any guaranty protection is provided, independent of this section, to residents of the commonwealth by laws of the domiciliary state or jurisdiction of an impaired or insolvent insurer.

5. This section shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose under subsection 3 which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

6. (A) There is created a nonprofit, legal entity to be known as the Massachusetts Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association. All member insurers shall be and remain members of the Association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in the commonwealth.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 745.

The Association shall perform its functions under the plan of operation established and approved under subsection 10 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under subsection 7. For purposes of administration and assessment, the Association shall maintain three accounts:

- (1) the health insurance account;
- (2) the life insurance account; and
- (3) the annuity account.

(B) The Association shall be under the immediate supervision of the commissioner.

7. (A) The board of directors of the Association shall consist of not less than five nor more than nine member insurers serving terms as established in the plan of operation. The members of the board of directors shall be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board of directors shall be filled for the remaining period of the term by a majority vote of the remaining board members, subject to the approval of the commissioner. To select the initial board of directors, and initially organize the Association, the commissioner shall give notice to all member insurers of the time and place of the organizational meeting. In determining voting rights at the organizational meeting each member shall be entitled to one vote in person or by proxy. If the board of directors is not selected within sixty days after notice of the organizational meeting, the commissioner may appoint the initial members.

(B) In approving selections or in appointing members to the board of directors, the commissioner shall consider, among other things, whether member insurers are fairly represented.

(C) Members of the board of directors may be reimbursed from the assets of the Association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors but shall not otherwise be compensated by the Association for their services.

8. (A) If a member insurer is an impaired domestic insurer, the Association may, in its discretion, and subject to any conditions imposed by the Association that (i) do not defeat the reasonable expectations of the policyholder or contractholder as to the benefits afforded under a policy or contract, (ii) that are approved by the commissioner, and (iii) that are, except in cases of court ordered conservation or rehabilitation, also approved by the impaired insurer:–

(1) guarantee, assume or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured, any or all of the policies or contracts of the impaired insurer;

(2) provide such monies, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means as are proper to effectuate subsection (1) and assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action pursuant thereto; or

(3) loan money to the impaired insurer.

(B)(1) If a member insurer is an impaired insurer, whether domestic, foreign or alien, and the insurer is not paying claims in a timely fashion, then subject to the preconditions specified in clause (2) of this paragraph the Association shall, in its discretion, either (a) take any of the actions specified in paragraph (A), subject to the conditions therein, or (b) provide substitute benefits, with respect to covered policies or contracts, in lieu of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer, solely for: health claims and death benefits, pursuant to paragraph (D); periodic annuity benefit payments; supplemental benefits; and cash withdrawals for policy or contract owners who petition therefor under claims of emergency or hardship in accordance with standards proposed by the Association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) The Association shall be subject to the requirements of clause (1) only if: (a) (i) in the case of an impaired domestic insurer, an order instituting a rehabilitation proceeding has been entered pursuant to section one hundred and eighty B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five; or (ii) in the case of an impaired foreign or alien insurer a petition for rehabilitation or liquidation of the impaired insurer has been filed in a court of competent jurisdiction in its state of domicile by the commissioner of that state;

(b) the laws of the impaired insurer's state of domicile provide that until all payments of or on account of the impaired insurer's contractual obligations by all guaranty associations, along with all expenses thereof and interest on all such payments and expenses, shall have been repaid to the guaranty associations or a plan of repayment by the impaired insurer shall have been approved by the guaranty associations (i) the delinquency proceedings shall not be dismissed; (ii) neither the impaired insurer nor its assets shall be returned to the control of its shareholders or private management; and (iii) it shall not be permitted to solicit or accept new business or have any suspended or revoked license restored.

(c) in the event the impaired insurer is a foreign or alien insurer, (i) it has been prohibited from soliciting or accepting new business in the commonwealth, and (ii) its certificate of authority has been suspended or revoked.

(C) If a member insurer is an insolvent insurer, the Association shall, in its discretion, either:

(1) (a) guaranty, assume or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed or reinsured, the covered policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer; or

(b) assure payment of the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer; and

(c) provide such monies, pledges, guarantees, or other means as are reasonably necessary to discharge such duties; or

(2) With respect only to life and health insurance policies provide benefits and coverages in accordance with paragraph (D).

(D) (1) When proceeding under subclause (b) of clause (1) of paragraph (B) or clause (2) of paragraph (C), the Association shall, with respect to only life and health insurance policies:

(a) assure payment of benefits for premiums identical to the premiums and benefits, except for terms of conversion and renewability, that would have been payable under the group policies of the insurer for claims incurred not later than the earlier of the next renewal date under such policies or contracts or forty-five days, but in no event for a claim incurred less than thirty days after the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to such policies. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Association may, if it finds the premium rate under a group policy to be inadequate, increase such premium rate in an amount approved by the commissioner.

(b) (i) with respect to individual policies, assure payment of benefits for premiums identical to the premiums and benefits, except for terms of conversion and renewability, that would have been payable under such policies of the insurer, for claims incurred not later than the earlier of the next renewal date, if any, under such policies, or one year from the date on which the Association becomes obligated with respect to such policies, but in any event for claims incurred not later than the thirtieth day after the Association becomes obligated with respect to such policies; and (ii) make diligent efforts to provide all known insureds, or owners, if other than the insureds, and group policyholders with respect to group policies, thirty days notice of the termination of the benefits provided; and (iii) with respect to individual policies, make available to each known insured, or owner if other than the insured, and with respect to an individual formerly insured under a group policy who is not eligible for replacement group coverage, make available substitute coverage on an individual basis in accordance with the provisions of clause (2) of paragraph (D), if such insured or owner had a right under law or under the terminated policy to convert coverage to individual coverage or to continue an individual policy in force until a specified age or for a specified time, during which the insurer had no right unilaterally to make changes in any provision of the policy or had a right only to make changes in premium by class.

(2) In providing the substitute coverage required under paragraph (D), the Association may offer either to reissue the terminated coverage or to issue an alternative policy. Alternative or reissued policies shall be offered without requiring evidence of insurability, and shall not provide for any waiting period or exclusion that would not have applied under the terminated policy. Any alternative or reissued policy may be reinsured by the Association.

(3) (a) Alternative policies adopted by the Association shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner. The Association may adopt alternative policies of various types for future issuance without regard to any particular impairment or insolvency.

(b) Alternative policies shall contain at least the minimum statutory provisions required in the commonwealth and provide benefits that shall not be unreasonable in relation to the premium charged. The Association shall set the premium in accordance with the table of rates which it shall adopt. The premium shall reflect the amount of insurance to be provided and the age and class of risk of each insured, but shall not reflect any changes in the health of the insured after the original policy was last underwritten.

(c) Any alternative policy issued by the Association shall provide coverage of a type similar to that of the policy issued by the impaired or insolvent insurer, as determined by the Association.

(4) If the Association elects to reissue the insured's terminated coverage at a premium rate different from that charged under the terminated policy, the premium shall be set by the Association in accordance with the amount of insurance provided and the age and class of risk of the insured, and shall be subject to approval by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) The Association's obligations with respect to coverage under any policy of the impaired or insolvent insurer or under any reissued or alternative policy shall cease on the date such coverage or policy is replaced by another similar policy by the policyholder, the insured, or the Association.

(E) Nonpayment of premiums within thirty-one days after the date required under the terms of any guaranteed, assumed, alternative or reissued policy or contract or substitute coverage shall terminate the Association's obligations under such policy or coverage under this section with respect to such policy or coverage, except with respect to any claims incurred or any net cash surrender value which may be due in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(F) Premiums due after entry of an order of liquidation of an insolvent insurer shall belong to, and be payable at the direction of the Association, and the Association shall be liable for unearned premiums due to policy or contract owners arising after the entry of such order.

(G) In carrying out its duties under paragraphs (B) and (C) of this subsection, the Association may, subject to approval by the court:

(1) impose permanent policy or contract liens in connection with any guarantee, assumption or reinsurance agreement, if the Association finds that the amounts which can be assessed under this section are less than the amounts needed to assure full and prompt performance of the Association's duties under this section, or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the imposition of such permanent policy or contract liens, to be in the public interest;

(2) impose temporary moratoriums or liens on payments of cash values and policy loans, or any other right to withdraw funds held in conjunction with policies or contracts, in addition to any contractual provisions for deferral of cash or policy loan value.

(H) If the Association fails to act within a reasonable period of time as provided in paragraphs (B), (C), and (D), the commissioner shall have the powers and duties of the Association under this section with respect to impaired or insolvent insurers.

(I) The Association may render assistance and advice to the commissioner, upon his request, concerning any insurer which is insolvent, impaired or potentially impaired, or concerning the rehabilitation, payment of claims, continuance of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of any impaired or insolvent insurer.

(J) The Association, shall have standing to appear before any court in the commonwealth with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer concerning which the Association is or may become obligated under this section. Such rights shall extend to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the Association, including, but not limited to, proposals for reinsuring, modifying or guaranteeing the covered policies or contracts of the impaired or insolvent insurer and the determination of the covered policies or contracts and contractual obligations. The Association shall also have the right to appear or intervene before a court in the commonwealth or in another state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer for which the Association is or may become obligated or with jurisdiction over a third party against whom the Association may have rights through subrogation of the insurer's policyholders.

(K) (1) Any person receiving benefits under this section shall be deemed to have assigned the rights under, and any causes of action relating to, the covered policy or contract to the Association to the extent of the benefits received because of this section, whether the benefits are payments of or on account of contractual obligations, continuation of coverage or provision of substitute or alternative coverages. The Association may require an assignment to it of such rights and causes of action by any payee, policy or contract owner, beneficiary, insured or annuitant, as a condition precedent to the receipt of any rights or benefits conferred by this section upon such person. The Association also shall be subrogated to these rights and causes of action against the assets of any impaired or insolvent insurer, or any other person.

(2) The subrogation rights of the Association under this subsection shall have the same priority against the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer as that possessed by the person entitled to receive benefits under this Act.

(3) In addition to clauses (1) and (2) above, the Association shall have all common law rights of subrogation and any other equitable or legal remedy which would have been available to the impaired or insolvent insurer or holder of a policy or contract with respect to such policy or contracts.

(L) The Association may: (i) enter into such contracts as are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this section; (ii) sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper for recovery of any unpaid assessments under subsection 9; (iii) borrow money to effect the purposes of this section, such notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the Association not in default being legal investments for domestic insurers which may be carried as admitted assets; (iv) employ or retain such persons as are necessary to handle the financial transactions of the Association, and to perform such other functions as become necessary or proper under this section; (v) take such legal action as may be necessary to avoid payment of improper claims; (vi) exercise, for the purposes of this section and to the extent approved by the commissioner, the powers of a domestic life or health insurer, but in no case may the Association issue insurance policies or annuity contracts other than those issued to perform its obligations under this section; (vii) join an organization of one or more other state Associations of similar purposes, to further the purposes and administer the powers and duties of this Association; (viii) enter into agreements with other state Associations of similar purposes to determine the residence of persons for purposes of this section.

9. (A) For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the Association, the board of directors shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at such time and for such amounts as the board of directors finds necessary. Assessments shall be due not less than thirty days after prior written notice to the member insurers and shall accrue interest at ten per cent per annum on and after the due date.

(B) There shall be two classes of assessments, as follows:

(1) Class A assessments shall be made for the purpose of meeting administrative costs and other expenses and examinations conducted under the authority of paragraph (E) of subsection 12, which assessments may be made whether or not related to a particular impaired or insolvent insurer.

(2) Class B assessments shall be made to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the Association under paragraphs (A), (B) or (C) of subsection 8.

(C) (1) The amount of any Class A assessment shall be determined by the board of directors and may be made on a pro rata or non-pro rata basis. If made on a pro rata basis, the board of directors may provide that it be credited against future Class B assessments. If it is made on a non-pro rata basis, such assessment shall not exceed one hundred and fifty dollars per member insurer in any one calendar year. The amount of any Class B assessments shall be allocated for assessment purposes among the accounts pursuant to an allocation formula which may be based on the premiums or reserves of the impaired or insolvent insurer or on any other standard deemed by the board of directors in its sole discretion as being fair and reasonable under the circumstances.

(2) Class B assessments against member insurers for each account shall be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in the commonwealth by each assessed member insurer on policies or contracts covered by each account for the most recent three calendar years for which information is available preceding the year in which the insurer became impaired or insolvent, as the case may be, bears to such premiums received on business in the commonwealth for such calendar years by all assessed member insurers.

(3) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the Association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer shall not be made until necessary to implement the purposes of this section. Classification of assessments and computation of assessments under this subsection shall be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible.

(D) The Association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board of directors, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated, or deferred in whole or in part, the amount by which such assessment is abated or deferred may be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this subsection.

(E) The total of all assessments upon a member insurer for each account shall not in any one calendar year exceed two per cent of such insurer's average premiums received in the Commonwealth on the policies covered by the account during the three calendar years preceding the year in which the insurer became an impaired or insolvent insurer. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in any account, does not provide in any one year in any account an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, the necessary additional funds shall be assessed as soon thereafter as permitted by this Act.

(F) The board of directors may, by an equitable method as established in the plan of operation, refund to member insurers, in proportion to the contribution of each insurer to that account, the amount by which the assets of the account exceed the amount the board of directors finds is necessary to carry out during the coming year the obligations of the Association with regard to that account, including assets accruing from assignment, subrogation, net realized gains and income from investments. A reasonable amount may be retained in any account to provide funds for the continuing expenses of the Association and for future losses.

(G) It shall be proper for any member insurer, in determining its premium rates and policyowner dividends as to any kind of insurance within the scope of this section, to consider the amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations under this section.

(H) The Association shall issue to an insurer paying an assessment under this section, other than a Class A assessment, a certificate of contribution, in a form approved by the commissioner, for the amount of the assessment so paid. All outstanding certificates shall be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or dates of issue. A certificate of contribution may be shown by the insurer in its financial statements as an asset in such form and for such amount, if any, and for such period of time as the commissioner may approve.

10. (A) (1) The Association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments thereto necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the Association. The plan of operation and any amendments thereto shall become effective upon the commissioner's written approval or unless the commissioner has not disapproved it within thirty days.

(2) If the Association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within one hundred twenty days following the effective date of this section, or if at any time thereafter the Association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules as are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this section. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the Association and approved by the commissioner.

(B) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(C) The plan of operation shall, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this section:

(1) establish procedures for handling the assets of the Association;

(2) establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under subsection 7;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 745.

(3) establish regular places and times for meetings, including telephone conference calls, of the board of directors;

(4) establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the Association, its agents, and the board of directors.

(5) establish the procedures whereby selections for the board of directors will be made and submitted to the commissioner;

(6) establish any additional procedures for assessments under subsection 9; and

(7) contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the Association.

(D) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the Association, except those under clause 3 of paragraph (K) of subsection 8 and of subsection 9, are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this Association, or its equivalent, in two or more states. Such corporation, association, or organization shall be reimbursed for any payments made on behalf of the Association and shall be paid for its performance of any function of the Association. A delegation under this paragraph shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this section.

11. In addition to the duties and powers enumerated elsewhere in this section:

(A) The commissioner shall:

(1) upon request of the board of directors, provide the Association with a statement of the premiums in this and any other appropriate state for each member insurer;

(2) when an impairment is declared and the amount of the impairment is determined, serve a demand upon the impaired insurer to make good the impairment within a reasonable time; notice to the impaired insurer constituting notice to its shareholders, if any, and failure of the impaired insurer to promptly comply with such demand not excusing the Association from the performance of its powers and duties under this Act;

(3) in any liquidation or rehabilitation proceeding involving a domestic insurer, be appointed as the receiver;

(4) in any liquidation proceeding involving a foreign or alien member insurer in such insurer's domiciliary jurisdiction or state of entry, be appointed as conservator.

(B) The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in the commonwealth of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a forfeiture on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such forfeiture shall not exceed five per cent of the unpaid assessment per month, but no forfeiture shall be less than one hundred dollars per month.

(C) Any action of the board of directors or the Association may be appealed to the commissioner by any member insurer if such appeal is taken within sixty days of the action being appealed. If a member company is appealing an assessment, the amount assessed shall be paid to the Association and available to meet Association obligations during the pendency of an appeal. If the appeal on the assessment is upheld, the amount paid in error or excess shall be returned to the member company. Any final action or order of the commissioner shall be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(D) The receiver, liquidator, rehabilitator, or conservator of any impaired or insolvent insurer may notify all interested persons of the effect of this section.

12. To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies or impairments:

(A) It shall be the duty of the commissioner:

(1) To notify the commissioners of all the other states, territories of the United States and the District of Columbia when he takes any of the following actions against a member insurer:

(a) revocation of license;

(b) suspension of license;

(c) makes any formal order that such company restrict its premium writing, obtain additional contributions to surplus, withdraw from the state, reinsure all or any part of its business, or increase capital, surplus, or any other account for the security of policyholders or creditors. Such notice shall be mailed to all insurance commissioners within thirty days following the action taken or the date on which such action occurs.

(2) To report to the board of directors when he has taken any of the actions set forth in paragraph (A), subsection (1) or has received a report from any other insurance commissioner indicating that any such action has been taken in another state. Such report to the board of directors shall contain all significant details of the action taken or the report received from another commissioner.

(3) To report to the board of directors when he has reasonable cause to believe from any examination, whether completed or in process, of any member company that such company may be an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(4) To furnish to the board of directors the NAIC Insurance Regulatory Information System tests and listings of companies not included in the tests developed by the NAIC, for the use of the board of directors in carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this subsection. Such report and the information contained therein shall be kept confidential by the board of directors until such time as made public by the commissioner or other lawful authority.

(B) The commissioner may seek the advice and recommendation of the board of directors concerning any matter affecting his duties and responsibilities regarding the financial condition of member insurers and companies seeking admission to transact insurance business in the commonwealth.

(C) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, rehabilitation, conservation, or liquidation of any member insurer or germane to the solvency of any company seeking to do an insurance business in the Commonwealth. Such reports and recommendations shall not be considered public documents.

(D) It shall be the duty of board of directors, upon majority vote, to notify the commissioner of any information the board of directors possesses which indicates any member insurer may be an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(E) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be an impaired or insolvent insurer. Within thirty days of the receipt of such request, the commissioner shall begin such examination. The examination may be conducted as an NAIC examination or may be conducted by such persons as the commissioner designates. The cost of such examination shall be paid by the Association and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports. In no event shall such examination report be released to the board of directors of the Association prior to its release to the public, but this shall not preclude the commissioner from complying with paragraph (A). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination shall be kept on file by the commissioner but it shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public.

(F) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies.

(G) The board of directors may, at the conclusion of any insurer insolvency in which the Association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report to the commissioner containing such information as it may have in its possession bearing on the history and causes of such insolvency. The board shall cooperate with the boards of directors of guaranty associations in other states in preparing a report on the history and causes of insolvency of a particular insurer, and may adopt by reference any report prepared by such other associations.

13. (A) Assessments described in paragraph (H) of subdivision 9, paragraph (H) may be applied as an offset to the premium, excise, franchise, or income tax liability of member insurers to the commonwealth, to the extent of ten per cent of the amount of such assessments for each of the five calendar years following the year in which such assessments are paid. If the sum of the offsets, so determined, for all member insurers for a calendar year exceeds three million dollars, the excess shall be carried forward and shall be allowed as an offset in calendar years in which, and to the extent that the sum of member insurer's offsets are less than three million dollars. In the event that the total of the offsets reported by all member insurers on their premium, excise, franchise or income tax returns exceeds three million dollars for a calendar year, the commissioner of revenue shall assess each member insurer with an additional tax equal to the amount offset for the calendar year which is in excess of such member insurer's pro rata share of three million dollars. Each member insurer's pro rata share of three million dollars shall be determined by dividing three million dollars by the total of all member insurer offsets reported in such calendar year and multiplying the result by the offset taken by each such member insurer.

(B) Any sums which are acquired by refund, pursuant to paragraph (F) of subsection 9, from the Association by member insurers, and which have theretofore been offset against premium, excise, income or franchise taxes as provided in paragraph (A) above, shall be paid by such insurers to the commonwealth in such manner as the department of revenue may require. The Association shall notify the commissioner that such refunds have been made.

14. (A) Nothing in this section shall be construed to reduce the liability for unpaid assessments of the insureds of an impaired or insolvent insurer operating under a plan with assessment liability.

(B) Records shall be kept of all negotiations and meetings in which the Association or its representatives are involved to discuss the activities of the Association in carrying out its powers and duties under subsection 8. Records of such negotiations or meetings shall be made public only upon the termination of a liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation proceeding involving the impaired or insolvent insurer, upon the termination of the impairment of insolvency of the insurer, or upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. Nothing in this subsection shall limit the duty of the Association to render a report of its activities under subdivision 15.

(C) For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this section, the Association shall be deemed to be a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies reduced by any amounts to which the Association is entitled as subrogee pursuant to paragraph (K) of subdivision 8. Assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies shall be used to continue all covered policies and pay all contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer as required by this section. Assets attributable to covered policies, as used in this subsection, are that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies bear to the reserves that should have been established for all policies of insurance written by the impaired or insolvent insurer.

(D) (1) Prior to the termination of any liquidation, rehabilitation or conservation proceeding, the court may take into consideration the contributions of the respective parties, including the Association, the shareholders and policyowners of the insolvent insurer, and any other party with a bona fide interest, in making an equitable distribution of the ownership rights of such insolvent insurer. In such determination, consideration shall be given to the welfare of the policyholders of the continuing or successor insurer.

(2) No distribution to stockholders, if any, of an impaired or insolvent insurer shall be made until and unless the total amount of valid claims of the Association with interest thereon for funds expended in carrying out its powers and duties under subdivision 8 with respect to such insurer have been fully recovered by the Association.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 745.

(E) (1) If an order for rehabilitation or liquidation of an insurer domiciled in the commonwealth has been entered, the receiver appointed under such order shall have a right to recover on behalf of the insurer, from any affiliate that controlled it, the amount of distributions, other than stock dividends paid by the insurer on its capital stock, made at any time during the five years preceding the petition for liquidation or rehabilitation subject to the limitations of clauses (2) and (4) of this paragraph.

(2) No such distribution shall be recoverable if the insurer shows that when paid the distribution was lawful and reasonable, and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely and materially affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(3) Any person who was an affiliate that controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were paid shall be liable up to the amount of distributions he received. Any person who was an affiliate that controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were declared, shall be liable up to the amount of distributions he would have received if they had been paid immediately. If two or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they shall be jointly and severally liable.

(4) The maximum amount recoverable under this subsection shall be the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the insurer.

(5) If any person liable under paragraph (3) of this paragraph is insolvent, all its affiliates that controlled it at the time the distribution was paid, shall be jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the insolvent affiliate.

15. The Association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the commissioner. The board of directors annually shall submit to the commissioner, not later than five months after the end of the Association's prior fiscal year, a financial report for the preceding fiscal year in a form approved by the commissioner and a report of its activities during the preceding fiscal year.

16. The Association shall be exempt from payment of all fees and all taxes levied by the commonwealth or any of its subdivisions, except taxes levied on real property.

17. There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any member insurer or its agents or employees, the Association or its agents or employees, the board of directors or any member thereof, or the commissioner or his representatives, for any action or omission by them pursuant to the purposes and provisions of this section or in the performance of their powers and duties under this section. Such immunity shall extend to the participation in any organization of one or more other state associations of similar purposes as provided in subclause (vii) of paragraph L subsection 8, and to any such organization and its agents and employees.

18. All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party in any court in the commonwealth shall be stayed sixty days from the date an order of rehabilitation or liquidation is final to permit proper legal action by the Association on any matters germane to its powers or duties. As to judgment under any decision, order, verdict, or finding based on default the Association may apply to have such judgment set aside by the same court that made such judgment and shall be permitted to defend against such suit on the merits.

19. No person, including an insurer, agent or affiliate of an insurer shall make, publish, disseminate, circulate, or place before the public, or cause directly, to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public, in any newspaper, magazine or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter or poster, or over any radio station or television station, or in any other way, any advertisement, announcement or statement, written or oral, which uses the existence of the Massachusetts Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association for the purposes of sales, solicitation, or inducement to purchase any form of insurance covered by this section, provided, however, that this section shall not apply to the Massachusetts Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association or any other entity which does not sell or solicit insurance.

20. This section shall not apply to any insurer which is insolvent or unable to fulfill its contractual obligations on the effective date of this section.

SECTION 18. The second paragraph of section 180B of said chapter 175 as so appearing is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The court, if satisfied after due notice and a full hearing that the purposes of the proceedings have been substantially accomplished, shall grant such application, provided that no such application instituted on behalf of an impaired insurer, as defined in section one hundred and forty-seven of chapter one hundred and seventy-five, shall be granted except upon compliance with the terms and conditions of subclause (b) of clause (2) of paragraph (B) of subsection 8 of said section 147.

SECTION 19. The third paragraph of section 180C of said chapter 175 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Within one hundred and twenty days of a final determination of insolvency of a company by the supreme judicial court, the receiver shall make application to the supreme judicial court for approval of a proposal to disburse assets out of such company's marshalled assets from time to time as such assets become available, to the Massachusetts Insurers Insolvency Fund, the Massachusetts Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association, and to any similar organization in another state, such fund, association or organization hereinafter collectively referred to as Funds.

SECTION 20. The third paragraph of section 180F of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (4), and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(4) Claims by policyholders, beneficiaries, and insurers arising from and within the coverage of and not in excess of the applicable limits of Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 9. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section three, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of sixty-six million six hundred thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Elderly Public Housing Production Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 10. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section four, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of thirty million three hundred thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Handicapped Public Housing Production Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 11. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section five, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of ninety-one million five hundred thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Public Housing Modernization and Renovation Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 748.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 12. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section six, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of thirty-five million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Federally Assisted Public Housing Modernization and Renovation Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 13. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section seven of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of twenty million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Community Development Action Grants Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 14. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting payments authorized by sections two to seven, inclusive, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-eight.

Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 15. The department of community affairs shall submit a report to the house and senate committees on ways and means and to the joint committee on housing and urban development on or before January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, which describes in detail and evaluates the demonstration program established pursuant to section six of this act. Said report shall include: (1) the extent to which state funds leveraged additional federal funds for the rehabilitation of federally-assisted low-rent housing; (2) the extent to which the program has proven to be cost effective; (3) the housing authorities which applied for such funds, including the number of units which each housing authority proposed to be rehabilitated and the total amount of funds which each housing authority requested; (4) an estimate of the number of federally-assisted low-rent housing units in need of rehabilitation which is not being funded under section six and of the cost of rehabilitating such units; and (5) the recommendation of the department on the continuation of the program, together with a recommended method of allocating future funds available for similar purposes.

SECTION 16. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, housing authorities shall make maximum effort consistent with regulations promulgated by the department of community affairs and consistent with emergency case plans adopted pursuant thereto to make housing units developed with funding provided in sections two, five, and six available for homeless families of low income and receiving AFDC benefits, in areas where the department determines that such a need exists.

SECTION 17. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the department is hereby authorized to set aside two hundred and fifty rental assistance certificates, pursuant to section forty-four of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B of the General Laws, to housing authorities for use by residents in lodging houses and single room occupancy units.

SECTION 18. Section 1 of chapter 121B of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the definition of "Urban Renewal project" the following definition:–

"Urban Revitalization and Development Project", any urban renewal project undertaken after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six for such residential, commercial, or industrial redevelopment projects as the department deems appropriate.

SECTION 19. Section 39 of said chapter 121B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting, after the word "buildings," in line 6, the following words:– or through the purchase of condominium units..

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 748.

SECTION 20. Said chapter 121B, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out section 53 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 53. Any city or town, acting by and through its urban renewal agency, may apply to the department for an urban renewal assistance grant to meet in part the cost of an approved urban renewal project. Any city or town, acting by and through its urban renewal agency, may apply to the department for an urban revitalization and development grant to meet in part the cost of an approved urban revitalization and development project. Such application shall be in the form prescribed by the department, and shall be accompanied by such additional information, drawings, plans, reports, estimates and exhibits as the department may require. The department may make such rules and regulations as are necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section and sections fifty-four to fifty-seven, inclusive.

SECTION 21. Said chapter 121B is hereby further amended by striking out section 54, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 54. Upon receipt of an application under the provisions of section fifty-three the department shall examine such application and any facts, estimates or other information relative thereto, and shall determine whether the proposed project complies with the provisions of the general laws and with rules and regulations prescribed in accordance therewith governing the approval and administration of urban renewal assistance grants or urban revitalization and development grants. Upon the determination of satisfactory compliance, the department shall determine the estimated approved cost of such project, and compute the amount of the urban renewal assistance grant or urban revitalization and development grant to which the city or town would be entitled under section fifty-five.

Within a reasonable time after receipt of such application, the department shall notify such city or town of its approval or rejection thereof, and, in the event of its rejection, of the reasons therefor. If the department rejects such application, the city or town may elect to proceed with such project without the benefit of said urban renewal assistance grant or urban revitalization and development grant. Notice of approval hereunder shall be accompanied by a statement of the estimated approved cost as determined by the department and an estimate of the amount of urban renewal assistance grant or urban revitalization and development grant to which such city or town may be entitled under the provisions of section fifty-five.

The final approved cost shall be determined by the department within a reasonable time after the completion of the urban renewal project by the urban renewal agency.

If the determination of the final approved cost is delayed because the project is not completed, the payments preceding determination of the final approved cost may be based upon the estimated approved cost, and adjustments shall be made in the payment or payments which are made subsequent to the determination of the final approved cost.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 749.

SECTION 22. Section 57 of said chapter 121B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the words "urban renewal assistance grants", in line 23, the following words:– or urban revitalization and development grants.

SECTION 22A. Said section 57 of said chapter 121B, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following clause:–

(d) The total amount of urban revitalization and development grants to be paid under the provisions of this section shall not exceed one million dollars in any one fiscal year or a total of twenty million dollars in the aggregate, including amounts authorized by the department to be advanced for the estimated expenses as provided in the first paragraph.

SECTION 23. All of the amounts appropriated under the provisions of this act shall be in addition to any amounts appropriated for such purposes prior to the passage of this act.

SECTION 24. Subsection (r) of section 3 of Chapter 23B of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following:– No regulation promulgated by the Executive Office of Communities and Development which concerns tenant selection in state aided housing shall supercede the tenant selection requirements outlined in sections 32 & 34 chapter 121B as they relate to local preference, emergency cases, or veterans preference.

because of entering or re-entering the service after attaining age sixty, except as otherwise provided for in subdivision (1) of section five or in section ninety F or in section ninety G or in section ninety-one, or in section twenty-six of chapter six hundred and seventy of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, or in chapter sixteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-two, shall remain in service after attaining the maximum age for his group or for the group in which he would have been classified had he become a member or after the date any retirement allowance becomes effective for him, whichever event first occurs.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 32 is hereby further amended by striking out section 90F, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 90F. Any member in service classified in Group 1, or any other person who would be classified in Group 1 except for the fact that he is not a member, shall continue in service, at his option, notwithstanding the fact that he has attained age seventy; provided, however, that he is mentally and physically capable of performing the duties of his office or position. Such member or other person shall annually, at his own expense, be examined by an impartial physician designated by the retirement authority to determine such capability. No deductions shall be made from the regular compensation of such member or other person under the provisions of this chapter for service after he has attained age seventy and upon retirement such member or other person shall receive a superannuation retirement allowance equal to that which he would have been entitled had he retired at age seventy.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 32 is hereby further amended by striking out section 90G, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 90G. Any member in service classified in Group 1, or any other person who would be classified in Group 1 except for the fact that he is not a member, who is a veteran, shall continue in service, at his option, notwithstanding the fact that he has attained age seventy; provided, however, that he is mentally and physically capable of performing the duties of his office or position. Such member or other person shall annually, at his own expense, be examined by an impartial physician designated by the retirement authority to determine such capability. No deductions shall be made from the regular compensation of such member or other person under the provisions of this chapter for service after he has attained age seventy and upon retirement such member or other person shall, to the extent eligible, receive a veteran's pension allowance equal to that to which he would have been entitled had he retired at age seventy. Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny any veteran or his surviving spouse any benefit under any section of chapter thirty-two to which he would have been entitled had he retired at age seventy.

SECTION 4. The provisions of this act shall not be deemed to allow any person to become a member of the contributory retirement system who is not otherwise authorized to do so. The provisions of this act shall not be deemed to increase or decrease the retirement rights of any member of the contributory retirement system.

Chapter 752. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE TREATMENT AND RELEASE OF SEXUALLY DANGEROUS PERSONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 123A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out sections 1 to 11, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following twelve sections:—

Section 1. The following words and phrases when used in this chapter shall, except as otherwise provided, have the following meanings:

"Qualified examiner" a physician who is licensed pursuant to section two of chapter one hundred and twelve who is either certified in psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or eligible to be so certified, or a psychologist who is licensed pursuant to sections one hundred and eighteen to one hundred and twenty-nine of chapter one hundred and twelve; provided that the examiner has had two years of experience with diagnosis or treatment of sexually aggressive offenders and is designated by, and satisfies the qualifications required by, the department of mental health. A "qualified examiner" need not be an employee of the department or of any facility of the department.

"Sexual offense", includes any of the following crimes: indecent assault and battery on a child under fourteen under the provisions of section thirteen B of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; indecent assault and battery on a mentally retarded persons under the provisions of section thirteen F of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; indecent assault and battery on a person who has obtained the age of fourteen under the provisions of section thirteen H of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; rape under the provisions of section twenty-two of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; rape of a child under sixteen with force under the provisions of section twenty-two A of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; rape and abuse of a child under sixteen under the provisions of section twenty-three of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; assault with intent to commit rape under the provisions of section twenty-four of chapter two hundred and sixty-five; unnatural and lascivious acts with a child under the age of sixteen under the provisions of section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and seventy-two; and any attempt to commit any of the above listed crimes under the provisions of section six of chapter two hundred and seventy-four.

"Sexually dangerous person" any person whose misconduct in sexual matters indicates a general lack of power to control his sexual impulses, as evidenced by repetitive or compulsive sexual misconduct by either violence against any victim, or aggression against any victim under the age of sixteen years, and who, as a result, is likely to attack or otherwise inflict injury on such victims because of his uncontrolled or uncontrollable desires.

Section 2. The commissioner of mental health shall establish and maintain subject to the jurisdiction of the department of mental health a treatment center, hereinafter referred to in this chapter as the "center", or branch thereof at a correctional institution approved by the commissioner of correction for the care, custody, treatment and rehabilitation of persons described as being sexually dangerous. The commissioner of correction shall appoint custodial personnel who shall be subject to the control of the commissioner of mental health with respect to the care, treatment and rehabilitation of persons in their custody, but who shall at all times be under the administrative, operational and disciplinary control of the commissioner of correction. The commissioner of mental health shall appoint to such center, in addition to the personnel appointed by the commissioner of correction, adequate personnel for the care, treatment and rehabilitation of such persons committed to the center or branch thereof.

Section 3. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, when a person is brought before a district court charged with a sexual offense, as defined in section one, the court shall, if it appears that said person is guilty of the crime and appears to be a sexually dangerous person, commit or bind over said person for trial in the superior court. In such cases the clerk of the district court shall forthwith transmit to the clerk of the superior court a copy of the complaint and of the record, the original recognizances, a list of the witnesses, a statement of the expenses and the appearance of the attorney for the defendant, if any is entered, and the report of the department of mental health as to the mental condition of the defendant, if such report has been filed under the provisions of section fifteen of chapter one hundred and twenty-three. No other papers need be transmitted.

Section 4. Upon the determination of guilt of a person in the superior court of a sexual offense, as defined in section one, the court may, on its own motion or upon motion of the commonwealth, prior to imposing sentence, cause the person to be examined by a qualified examiner at the court or jail in which the person is held, or at any other place if the person is not in custody. The examiner shall conduct a screening examination for sexual dangerousness, and shall report within ten days to the court in writing on a form provided by the commonwealth. Such report shall include the examiner's recommendation as to whether or not the person examined should be committed to the center for further observation and diagnosis.

With or without a screening examination, the court may, on its own motion or upon the motion of the commonwealth, commit the person to the center for a period not exceeding sixty days for the purpose of examination and diagnosis under the supervision of two qualified examiners who shall, within said period, file with the court a written report of the examination and diagnosis, and their recommendations for the disposition of such person.

The court shall supply to the qualified examiners copies of the juvenile and adult court records, and the probation officer shall supply them with the juvenile and adult probation record of the person committed for examination. The probation record shall contain a history, where available, of such person's previous adult and juvenile offenses and previous psychiatric and psychological examinations and such other information as may be helpful to the examiners in making their diagnosis. The district attorney shall provide the examiners with a narrative summary of the facts, where available, of each sexual offense of which the person has been convicted as an adult or a juvenile.

Section 5. If, after a person's sixty day period of observation, the report filed with the court by the two qualified examiners clearly indicates that the person is a sexually dangerous person, the court shall give notice to such person that a hearing will be held to determine whether or not he is a sexually dangerous person. If said report does not clearly indicate that the person is a sexually dangerous person, the court shall proceed to impose sentence as provided by law for the original offense.

Upon the motion of a person for whom a hearing is to be held or upon its own motion, the court shall, if necessary to protect the rights of such person, appoint counsel for him. Such person shall be entitled to have process issued from the court to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf. Upon such hearing it shall be competent to introduce evidence of the person's juvenile and adult court and probation records, psychiatric and psychological records, and any other evidence that tends to indicate that he is a sexually dangerous person. Any qualified examiner's report filed under this chapter shall be admissible in evidence in such hearing.

If the court finds upon such hearing that the person is not a sexually dangerous person, it shall proceed to impose sentence as provided by law for the original offense. If the court finds upon such hearing that the person is a sexually dangerous person, it shall sentence such person as provided by law for the original offense and may also commit such person to the center, or branch thereof, for an indeterminate period of a minimum of one day and a maximum of such person's natural life. A person who is both committed and sentenced under this section shall serve such sentence concurrently with the commitment. The court shall forward its order to the commissioner of correction who shall thereupon transfer the person to the center, or a branch thereof, for the purpose of treatment and rehabilitation, where he shall be held until discharged therefrom under the provisions of section nine. Persons committed shall be subject to all laws, rules and regulations which govern inmates of the institution to which they have been committed insofar as may be compatible with the treatment provided for by this chapter, and they shall be entitled to such rights and privileges of such inmates as may be compatible with such treatment.

Section 6. If a prisoner under sentence in any jail, house of correction or prison, or in the custody of the department of youth services, engages in sexually assaultive behavior while under such sentence or in such custody and appears to the sheriff, keeper, master, superintendent or director of the facility in which he is under sentence or in custody to be a sexually dangerous person and in need of the care and treatment provided at the center, such officer may notify the commissioner of mental health, who shall thereupon cause such prisoner to be examined by a qualified examiner at the institution wherein he is confined. Such officer shall also provide a written report of such notification of the commissioner of mental health, including a statement of such sexually assaultive behavior, to the commissioner of correction, the commissioner of youth services, the sheriff, or, for prisoners confined in institutions in Suffolk county, the penal institutions commissioner of Boston, as appropriate. Such qualified examiner shall report the results of his examination in writing to the appropriate commissioner or sheriff, and if such report indicates that such person may be a sexually dangerous person, the appropriate commissioner or sheriff, after having notified said person of the nature of the proceedings and the possibility of his commitment to the center, may thereupon transmit the report to the clerk of the courts for the county wherein such prisoner was sentenced, and if such prisoner was sentenced in Suffolk county, to the clerk of the superior court for the transaction of criminal business, together with a motion to commit such person to the center or a suitable branch thereof for examination and diagnosis for a period not exceeding sixty days. At least fourteen days prior to acting upon said motion, the court shall notify said person that it is considering his commitment to the center or a suitable branch thereof for a period not exceeding sixty days, and shall inform said person of his right to be represented by counsel during the pendency of said motion or any subsequent commitment petition. If the court grants the motion, it shall commit such person under the provisions of section four insofar as may be applicable.

If there be no sitting of the superior court in the appropriate county at the time the motion and report are transmitted to the clerk, the clerk shall then transmit a copy of the motion and report to the administrative justice for the superior court department, who may act upon the motion.

If the report of the qualified examiners to the court as required under section five indicates that such prisoner is not a sexually dangerous person, the court shall order such prisoner to be reconveyed to the institution wherein he was serving his sentence, there to be held until the termination of his sentence or until otherwise discharged.

If such report clearly indicates that such prisoner is a sexually dangerous person, the clerk shall thereupon notify the court and the district attorney, and the district attorney shall file a petition for commitment of the prisoner to the center, or a branch thereof, for treatment and rehabilitation, and he shall give notice to the prisoner or to his parents, spouse, issue, next of kin, guardian, or next friend, if it appears to the district attorney that such prisoner is incapable of conducting his contest to the report. The court may require such further notice as it deems necessary to protect the interest of the prisoner, may continue the hearing pending such notice and may appoint a guardian ad litem, if necessary. The hearing shall be conducted in the manner described in section five.

Pending the completion of such hearing, the court may order that the prisoner be retained in the custody of the superintendent of the institution in which the center, or branch thereof, is located or may commit him to the custody of a sheriff or keeper of a jail or place of detention, until such time as the matter is heard on the merits.

If the court finds that the prisoner is not a sexually dangerous person, it shall order him to be reconveyed to the institution wherein he was serving his sentence, there to be held until the termination of his sentence or until otherwise discharged. If the court finds that such prisoner is a sexually dangerous person, it shall commit him to the center, or a branch thereof, for an indeterminate period of a minimum of one day and a maximum of such person's natural life, or it may commit such person to a mental institution or place him upon out-patient treatment, or make such other disposition upon the recommendation of the department of mental health consistent with the purpose of treatment and rehabilitation. A person who is committed under this section shall serve his sentence concurrently with the commitment. The court shall forward its order to the appropriate commissioner or sheriff who shall thereupon transfer the person to the center, or a branch thereof, for the purpose of treatment and rehabilitation, where he shall be held until discharged therefrom under the provisions of section nine. Persons committed shall be subject to all laws, rules and regulations which govern inmates of the institution to which they have been committed insofar as may be compatible with the treatment provided for by this chapter, and they shall be entitled to such rights and privileges of such inmates as may be compatible with such treatment.

Section 6A. Except as provided in section eight, any person committed as a sexually dangerous person to the center or a branch thereof under the provisions of this chapter shall be held in secure custody.

Section 7. Any person believing himself to be suffering from a physical or mental condition which may result in sexual trends dangerous to the welfare of the public may make application to the department of mental health upon forms prescribed by said department for admission to the center, or a suitable branch thereof. All information pertaining to this application shall be confidential, and may not be used in any criminal proceeding or proceeding under this chapter against such person. Subject to such rules and regulations and conditions relative to payment therefor, as the commissioner of mental health shall prescribe, persons may be admitted to the center or a suitable branch thereof, for examination, diagnosis and treatment.

Section 8. The department of mental health shall establish a program at the center, which program shall provide, in a manner consistent with security considerations, for the restrictive integration of the patient into a non-custodial environment. Said program shall be administered pursuant to the rules and regulations promulgated by the department of mental health. A person shall be eligible for such a program if (a) he has completed at least two years custody within the center, and (b) restrictive integration is appropriate and will significantly advance his treatment, and (c) he will not present a danger to the community under the controls provided by the program.

As part of its program of restrictive integration the department of mental health shall establish a board known as the "restrictive integration review board," which board shall consist of six members appointed by the commissioner of mental health for a two year term, consistent with the rules and regulations of the department. Membership shall include the head of the Massachusetts Treatment Center custodial staff, two members of the center clinical staff and three persons who are not employees of the center, but who may be consultants. The non-employee members shall include one psychiatrist licensed by the commonwealth, one psychologist licensed by the commonwealth, and either a psychiatrist or a psychologist licensed by the commonwealth. The board shall evaluate patients at the restrictive integration program and establish conditions to ensure the safety of the community. All records concerning the progress, diagnosis and examinations of the person made by the qualified examiners pursuant to section nine shall be available to the restrictive integration review board to assist in its determination of eligibility for restrictive integration.

The restrictive integration review board shall make periodic examinations at least once every year of any person committed to the center in order to determine the progress of treatment and the advisability of the person's participation in the restrictive integration program, and shall give a report of its findings to the administrator of the center. Such annual report shall include a statement regarding the person's current sexual dangerousness, and the findings of the restrictive integration review board. The restrictive integration review board shall update the annual report for the purposes of a hearing under section nine. The administrator of the center shall give a copy of the annual report to the district attorney for the district from which the person was committed, and to the department of the attorney general.

Any person participating in a restrictive integration program under this section shall be under constant evaluation by center personnel to determine if he presents a danger to the community and if the program continues to advance his treatment. Any person who does not return to the center, according to the conditions of the program, will be considered an escapee, in violation of section sixteen of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight, and a warrant will issue for his arrest.

Section 9. Any person committed to the center shall be entitled to file a petition for examination and discharge once in every twelve months. Such petition may be filed by either the committed person, his parents, spouse, issue, next of kin or any friend. The department of mental health may file a petition at any time it feels a person is no longer a sexually dangerous person. A copy of any petition filed under this subsection shall be sent within fourteen days after the filing thereof to the department of the attorney general and to the district attorney for the district where the original proceedings were commenced. Said petition shall be filed in the district of the superior court department in which said person was committed. The petitioner shall have a right to a speedy hearing on a date set by the administrative justice of the superior court department. The hearing may be held in any court or any place designated for such purpose by the administrative justice of the superior court department. The hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as is provided by the second paragraph of section five of this chapter. The court shall issue whatever process is necessary to assure the presence in court of the committed person. The commissioner of mental health shall appoint two qualified examiners who shall conduct examinations of the person on whose behalf such petition is filed and file with the court written reports of their examinations and diagnoses, and their recommendations for the disposition of such person. The qualified examiners shall have access to all records of the person being examined. The reports of the qualified examiners shall be available to the parole board to assist in future determinations on criminal sentences. In addition to the evidence admissible pursuant to section five, the updated annual report of the restrictive integration review board pursuant to section eight shall be admissible in a hearing under this section. The administrator of the center or his designee may testify at the hearing regarding the annual report and his recommendations for the disposition of the petition. Unless the court finds that such person remains a sexually dangerous person, it shall order such person to be discharged from the treatment center. Discharge from the center shall not operate to terminate the sentence given concurrently with the commitment, or any other unexpired sentence. Upon such discharge, notice must be given to the center, the district attorney in the district from which the commitment first originated, and the department of the attorney general.

Section 10. Any attorney retained by or on behalf of any person committed to the center shall be admitted to visit such person at reasonable times if in the opinion of the commissioner of mental health such visit would not be injurious to such person, or if a justice of the superior court orders in writing that such visit shall be allowed. Such attorney upon request shall be entitled to receive from the clerk of the court copy of the reports of qualified examiners filed under sections four, five, six and nine.

Section 11. The commissioner of mental health may make available on a voluntary and confidential basis the facilities of the department of mental health to persons who are victims of sexual attack.

SECTION 2. If any of the provisions of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provisions or applications, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared severable.

SECTION 3. The executive office of human services is hereby authorized and directed to conduct an investigation and study of the need for and the feasibility of utilization of the treatment center for sexually dangerous persons, or the clinical staff thereof, in the evaluation of the potential for sexually violent conduct on the part of persons committed to correctional institutions in the commonwealth and under consideration for parole or early release. Said executive office shall report the results of its study together with a descriptive of the actions being undertaken by said executive office to implement such use of the treatment center, or the staff thereof, by filing a copy of the same with the clerks of the senate and the house of representatives no later than six months after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 4. The first and third paragraphs of section five and the provisions of section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-three A of the General Laws shall apply only to persons sentenced for offenses committed on or after the effective date of this act. Said provisions as they appeared prior to the effective date of this act shall apply to persons sentenced for offenses committed prior to said effective date.

All other provisions of said chapter one hundred and twenty-three A shall apply to all persons awaiting trial, under examination, under commitment for examination or diagnosis, under sentence, or under commitment as a sexually dangerous person as of the effective date of this act and to all persons sentenced on or after the effective date of this act. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as affecting the validity of any procedure instituted under the former provisions of said chapter one hundred and twenty-three A.

Chapter 756. AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE LAKE BUEL RESTORATION/PRESERVATION DISTRICT IN THE TOWNS OF MONTEREY AND NEW MARLBOROUGH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby authorized the establishment of a district within the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough, to be known as the Lake Buel Restoration/Preservation District which, upon its establishment in the manner hereinafter set forth shall constitute a body politic and corporate. Said District shall be generally bounded and described as follows:

A. GENERAL BOUNDARIES. The district within said towns of Monterey and New Marlborough shall be generally bounded on the north and east by Pixley road extending from the Great Barrington–Monterey town line to its intersection with the Hartsville–Mill River road, so called, at the village of Hartsville; on the south and southwest by Mill River–Great Barrington road also known as the Lake Buel road from its intersection with the Great Barrington–New Marlborough town line and continuing on the county and town roads leading therefrom to the village of Hartsville at the intersection of said Pixley road; on the west by that portion of the Great Barrington–New Marlborough and Great Barrington–Monterey town lines which lie between said Pixley road on the north and the said Mill River–Great Barrington road on the south.

B. ACTUAL BOUNDARIES. With the exception of the town line westerly boundary set forth above, the remaining boundaries so referred to are intended as guidelines only. The actual District boundaries shall be deemed to include those separately assessed parcels within said towns as shown from time to time on the maps maintained by the board of assessors for each town and which parcels either:

- (1) Abut directly on the shoreline of Lake Buel or;
- (2) Have a recorded private right of access to land which abuts the shoreline of Lake Buel in such manner that the owner or proprietor of such land is afforded by such recorded right access to Lake Buel for bathing, boating or other lake recreational activities at a location where members of the general public may lawfully be excluded from such use.

The actual boundaries of the District, as so comprised, shall likely include certain parcels situated outside of the general boundaries set forth at subsection A and may also exclude several parcels lying within said general boundaries. In no event, however, shall the boundaries as finally determined and as from time to time revised be deemed to include any parcel or portion of parcel of land lying within the town of Great Barrington.

SECTION 2. Membership in the District shall consist of the proprietors from time to time of one or more separately assessed parcels of land lying within the District. For the purposes of this act, a proprietor shall be deemed to include not only natural persons, but also other entities empowered to own real estate in the commonwealth including corporations, partnerships, realty trusts and federal, state and local governmental units. Any mortgagee of record in possession of any one or more separately assessed parcels shall be deemed a proprietor under the act. Persons or entities who shall jointly own one or more separately assessed parcels within the District shall collectively constitute a proprietor for all purposes hereunder.

SECTION 3. The District, upon establishment in the manner hereafter set forth, shall have the following powers:

A. To initiate and coordinate research and surveys for the purpose of gathering data on the lake, related shore lands, watershed and the drainage basin and other matters directly pertaining to the reclamation, preservation and maintenance of the lake for general recreational use.

B. To plan lake rehabilitation, enhancement, maintenance and preservation projects, and also public recreational projects.

C. To implement such projects and to conduct, coordinate and supervise the implementation thereof at all times subject to the obtaining of necessary approvals from and, where required, under the supervision of appropriate local, state and federal governmental agencies including the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough, the department of environmental management, environmental quality engineering, and the department of fisheries, wildlife and recreational vehicles and appropriate funding and/or regulatory agencies of the Federal Government.

D. To make and enter into all manner of contracts and agreements necessary or incidental to the exercise of any power permitted to the district by this act.

E. To adopt an annual budget and to raise and appropriate funds in amount necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district is formed.

F. To acquire, dispose of and encumber real and personal property for the purposes of the district, including the power to acquire real estate or a limited interest in real estate by eminent domain under and subject to the provision of chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws; provided, however, that the power of the District to so acquire real estate shall be subject in each instance to approval by a two-thirds vote of the voters of the town in which the land is located.

G. To manage, control and supervise equipment and facilities necessary or appropriate in the accomplishment of the purposes of this act, including, but not limited to, weed harvesting equipment, dredging apparatus, lake draw down facilities for either temporary or permanent water level control and also recreational swimming and boating facilities for public use, provided, however, that an area of shorefront beach suitable for the development of recreational swimming facilities shall be reserved for such development and shall remain open and accessible for use by all residents of the commonwealth.

H. To construct, acquire by lease or purchase, improve, maintain and operate such equipment and facilities and such other equipment, materials, supplies facilities and services as shall be required to accomplish the purposes of this act, to the same extent and subject to the same limitations as shall apply to towns in the commonwealth from time to time under the General Laws.

I. To apply for, accept and expend financial assistance from the federal government, the commonwealth, Berkshire county and the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough either directly or jointly with and through said towns, or either of them.

J. To apply for, receive and expend funds from charitable foundations or other private entities and individuals in the form of grants, gifts, loans and advances for or in aid of the purposes of the District.

K. To employ such persons, including consultant experts as may be deemed necessary in its judgment, and to fix their compensation.

L. To adopt by-laws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business, which by-laws shall be consistent with the powers conferred by this act and with other applicable provisions of the General Laws.

M. To perform all duties and exercise all responsibilities called upon to be exercised or performed by the town of Monterey pursuant to a grant awarded by the division of water pollution control in the department of environmental quality engineering pursuant to the authority granted by chapter six hundred and twenty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, chapter two hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two, and chapter seven hundred and twenty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine. Said exercise and acceptance shall be subject to approval by the commissioner of environmental quality engineering or his designee so as to permit the District to act as direct grantee or sub-grantee under the town of Monterey.

N. To reimburse the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough and the Lake Buel Association, Inc., with respect to monies advanced or expended in satisfaction of the local share required under the terms of the grant next above referred to, and also for legal and legal related expenses for the formation of the District, and consultant fees for actions required under said grant, which expenditures are required to be made or incurred prior to the enactment of this act and the formation of the district pursuant hereto but excluding such expenses as were made or incurred prior to May first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

O. To borrow at the first or any subsequent meeting of the district for the purpose of meeting preliminary or current expenses such sums as may be necessary and to issue therefore general obligation temporary notes for a period of not more than two years, provided that such notes shall be issued only in anticipation of assessments and other revenues of the district of the fiscal year in which such notes are issued or in anticipation of money to be received from the sale of longer term bonds or notes for such purposes as are otherwise hereafter permitted in this act.

P. To sue and be sued in its own name and to plead and be impleaded; provided, however, that neither the District nor any officer or employee thereof shall be liable in tort except pursuant to the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight of the General Laws; and provided further, that the district may indemnify its officers and employees to the extent provided in said chapter two hundred and fifty-eight.

Q. To invest any funds not required for the immediate use of the District in such manner and to the extent permitted under the General Laws for the investment of such funds by the town treasurer of a town.

R. To procure insurance against any loss or liability which may be sustained or incurred in the carrying out the purposes of this act in such amount as the district shall deem necessary and appropriate and with one or more insurers who shall be licensed to furnish such insurance in the commonwealth.

S. To perform generally all acts which are necessary or convenient to implement the powers which are expressly or by necessary implication conferred upon the district by this act and which are not otherwise prohibited under any provision of the General Laws.

SECTION 4. The boards of selectmen of the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough shall, within sixty days of the effective date of this act, call a meeting of the proprietors of the lands to be included in the District as set forth under section two. For the purposes of establishing an initial list of proprietors, the board of selectmen of each town shall consult with their respective boards of assessors who shall furnish to the board of selectmen with a listing of all record property owners, as of January first in the year in which this act became effective who are owners of one or more separately assessed shore front parcels, or who within the reasonable knowledge or belief of the assessors are owners of one or more separately assessed parcels which do not have frontage on Lake Buel but which possess deeded easement rights to the use of said lake frontage property as set forth in section two. The board of selectmen upon receiving such lists shall prepare and mail by certified mail a notice to each such proprietor signed by the selectmen and setting forth a time and place of a meeting to occur within said sixty day period but not less than fourteen days from the date of mailing of said notice. The notice shall be in the form of a warrant specifying the matters upon which action is to be taken at the meeting and shall further clearly state that the purpose of the meeting is to consider the organization of the District. The board of selectmen shall not later than fourteen days prior to the date of such meeting cause a copy of the notice to be posted in one or more public access locations within each town. The meeting shall be held at a public access building in the village of Hartsville in the town of New Marlborough unless some other location within the town of New Marlborough or the town of Monterey shall be jointly agreed upon by the respective boards of selectmen.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 756.

At the first meeting of the district, one selectman each from the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough shall initially jointly preside and shall call the meeting to order. Said selectmen shall thereupon determine whether or not the proprietors constituting a majority in interest in either aggregate assessed evaluation of land and improvements or land area, are present or represented by proxies duly executed and placed in the hands of other proprietors prior to said meeting. Lacking such a majority, the meeting shall have no power to act, but the selectmen of both towns may, in the manner above provided, call additional meetings for the same purpose within a further sixty day period.

Provided that a quorum has been determined to be present in the manner above specified, the meeting shall then proceed to the following order of business:

A. Election of a temporary clerk, who shall be sworn by one of the selectmen present, and a moderator who shall thereupon preside.

B. The taking of a vote to determine whether or not the district authorized by this act shall be established and organized, which vote shall require an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the proprietors present and voting in person or by proxy. If such vote shall be in the negative, the meeting shall thereupon adjourn. If such vote shall be in the affirmative and upon the required majority, the meeting shall next proceed to consider the order of business set forth in sub-paragraphs C through F, inclusive.

C. The adoption of district by-laws and a form of District seal.

D. The election by ballot of a district clerk and a district treasurer, who may be the same person, and who shall be legal residents of the commonwealth, to hold office until one year from the next succeeding annual meeting and at each annual meeting after the first a clerk and treasurer shall be elected by ballot for one year. There shall also be elected by ballot three members of the prudential committee, constituted in its entirety as hereafter set forth, said three members to hold office, one for three years, one for two years, and one for one year, from the next succeeding annual meeting. At each annual meeting after the first, a member of the committee shall be elected by ballot for three years. The aforesaid officers of the district shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified. Persons eligible for nomination and election to the prudential committee shall be at least eighteen years of age and shall include persons entitled to vote as proprietors or as representatives of proprietors at district meetings, and also other persons who are legal residents of the commonwealth.

E. The adoption of an initial budget for the remainder of the fiscal year and the appropriation of monies to be raised by assessment upon the proprietors in support thereof.

F. The consideration of such other business as shall be consistent with the power and authority conferred by this act.

The district clerk shall retain all proxy votes cast at the initial meeting, together with the minutes of the meeting and as part of the permanent record of the district. The clerk shall further prepare a certificate of the vote taken to organize the district and shall affix the form of seal thereto as adopted by the initial district meeting and shall obtain the endorsement of the selectmen initially presiding at the meeting thereon. Such certificate shall be forwarded to the attorney general within thirty days following the adjournment of the meeting and upon filing said certificate, the provisions of this act shall take full effect.

SECTION 5. At the initial district meeting, at all subsequent annual and special district meetings, voting by proprietors shall be governed by the requirements of this section. Persons or entities owning one or more separately assessed parcels of land within the district shall be entitled to cast one vote on any matter or issue to be voted upon at any such meeting and notwithstanding the total number of parcels owned by such person, persons or entities. Joint owners and entity proprietors shall designate in writing to the clerk prior to the commencement of the meeting, the person authorized to vote on behalf of the proprietor at such meeting and such person shall be presumed as qualified and authorized to represent the proprietor if such person shall be a listed record owner of such parcel or parcels or if such person shall, as evidenced by any public record maintained under the laws of the commonwealth be listed as a partner, trustee, agent, officer, or employee of a proprietor. A person owning one or more parcels together with his spouse shall not be required to furnish a written designation from his spouse and either shall be presumed to be qualified to vote.

The authority of a person to cast a proxy vote on behalf of a proprietor shall likewise be determined by the clerk. Further, all proxies must be tendered in writing prior to the commencement of any District meeting and shall clearly set forth the name and address of the proprietor entering the proxy, the name and address of the person who is to exercise the proxy, the signature of the proprietor granting same and the date of execution. The district, may, if it so elects, adopt in its by-laws an approved form of proxy to satisfy the requirements of this section. The duration of a proxy shall be established by district by-law.

SECTION 6. Annual meetings of the District shall be held on the last Saturday in May in each year or at such other time as the district shall establish from time to time in its by-laws. Annual and other special meetings of the district shall be called by warrant under the hands of the prudential committee, notice of which shall be given fourteen days at least before such meeting. The warrant shall be mailed first class, postage pre-paid to each proprietor of record in the district and copy of the same shall be directed to a constable of the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough or to some other person who shall cause a copy of said notice to be posted in one or more public places within each town or by advertising in a newspaper published at least weekly within Berkshire county and having a general circulation within both towns. The warrant for all district meetings shall state the time and place of the meeting and the subjects to be acted upon thereat. The prudential committee shall insert in the warrant of the annual meeting all subjects, the insertion of which shall be required of them in writing by ten or more proprietors of the district and in the warrant for every special district meeting all subjects the insertion of which shall be requested of them in writing by twenty or more proprietors. The prudential committee shall call a special district meeting at its behest or upon request in writing of not less than twenty proprietors or proprietors constituting at least twenty per cent in interest, either in assessed evaluation of land improvements or in total land area within the district. Special meetings so requested shall be held not later than thirty days after the receipt of such request. No action taken at the annual or any special District meeting shall be valid unless the subject matter thereof shall have been set forth in the warrant for such meeting. Two or more District meetings for distinct purposes may be called for by the same warrant. At every District meeting a moderator shall be chosen by ballot and shall have the powers of the moderator of a town meeting.

District meetings shall be governed by chapter thirty-nine of the General Laws except as otherwise expressly provided in this act.

The board of assessors of the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough shall, at least thirty days prior to the annual district meeting, prepare and forward to the prudential committee a true and complete alphabetical listing with addresses of the proprietors reflected in their records as of January first of that year and from the records maintained by the assessors pursuant to chapter fifty-nine and other related provisions of the General Laws. A copy of such list shall be maintained in a manner accessible to the proprietors and the general public at all reasonable times by the prudential committee and the district clerk and shall further be available for inspection at the annual meeting and any special meeting of the District. The boards of assessors shall likewise maintain a list of proprietors within their town by separate list or special designation on their list of all assessed parcels.

Quorum requirements for annual meetings and special meetings of the district shall be as specified for the initial district meeting set forth above or otherwise as the district shall determine from time to time in its by-laws; provided, however, that the quorum requirements at such meeting will not be reduced below a number of proprietors constituting one-third in interest, either in aggregate assessed evaluation of land and improvements or land area, whether voting in person or by proxy as aforesaid.

Any matter to be voted upon at an annual or special meeting of the District shall require only a majority of those proprietors present in person or by proxy and voting on the question, except for the following actions which shall require a two-thirds vote:

- A. A vote to petition for dissolution of the District.
- B. A vote to purchase or otherwise acquire real property.
- C. A vote to finance any undertaking which is authorized by this act to be financed in whole or in part by the issuance by the District of long term notes or bonds.

SECTION 7. In addition to the three members elected by the district as provided in this act, the prudential committee shall comprise the following additional persons:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 756.

A. One member each from the board of selectmen of the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough or such other resident voter of each town as shall be appointed by its board of selectmen to serve on the prudential committee. Such selectman or other person shall serve at the pleasure of the board of selectmen appointing same and each shall be a full voting member of the committee.

B. One representative each as designated from time to time in writing by the commissioner of environmental quality engineering and the commissioner of fisheries, wildlife and recreational vehicles.

The above town and state appointed members shall serve for an indefinite term at the pleasure of their appointing authorities from time to time in office and the state appointed members shall be non-voting members of the prudential committee but shall nonetheless be permitted to participate fully in all discussions and deliberations of the committee. In the event that either town or the commissioner of either department shall fail from time to time to so designate its member of if such member shall resign and no replacement shall have been designated in like manner, the prudential committee shall nonetheless be legally constituted with full power to carry out its duties and responsibilities as set forth herein with the three members elected by the district.

The prudential committee shall have and shall exercise, the following powers and duties:

A. The expenditure for the purposes permitted to the district, of the money raised and borrowed by the district.

B. The annual preparation of a budget for the management and operation of the district and the submission of such budget to the annual District meeting for its approval. Such budget shall include the committee's estimate of those monies required to be raised and appropriated by means of assessment upon the district proprietors, by borrowing, or otherwise to be received.

C. To apply in the name of the district for grants, loans, and other assistance from both governmental and non-governmental entities.

D. Subject to prior appropriation therefore, to enter into agreements and contracts involving the purchase or lease of services, equipment and supplies consistent with the powers granted by this act.

E. Subject to prior appropriation therefore, to hire, supervise, suspend and discharge such employees as the committee shall deem necessary or appropriate for the conduct of the work to be performed by the district including, but not limited to, a District superintendent who shall have charge on a day to day basis of all district employees and who shall be responsible on behalf of the prudential committee for the conduct and supervision of any and all work to be performed by or on behalf of the district pursuant to this act. Compensation and benefits for the district superintendent and all other employees shall, subject to prior appropriation therefore, be as determined from time to time by vote of the prudential committee.

SECTION 8. That the prudential committee shall meet as necessary, but in no event less frequently than every three months. A quorum of the prudential committee shall be required at all meetings for the conduct of any business thereat and shall consist of its voting members. The initial meeting of the prudential committee shall be not later than thirty days following the establishment of the district. Thereafter the committee shall schedule one meeting to occur in each year immediately following the adjournment of the annual district meeting. At such initial meeting and at all subsequent meetings following the annual district meeting, the committee shall elect from its members a chairman who shall preside at all committee meetings and who shall serve until his successor shall be elected at the meeting following the annual district meeting. The committee shall also elect a vice-chairman who shall be empowered to preside over committee meetings in the absence of the chairman and who shall serve for like term. The district, may, subject to a prior appropriation therefor, provide appropriate compensation for District officers including members of the prudential committee and including the expense of travel, meals and lodging for such officers and committee members residing outside the district.

SECTION 9. Without the limiting its powers as set forth above in this act, the prudential committee shall have charge of expenditures on account of the District, duly budgeted and appropriated pursuant to the powers granted to the District, and shall exercise the authority conferred upon it by the district by-law, except as otherwise expressly provided in this act.

SECTION 10. The district treasurer shall receive and take charge of all money belonging to the district, and pay over and account for the same according to the order of the district or of its prudential committee. No other persons shall pay any district bill; provided, however, that this provision shall not prohibit the treasurer from paying such bill by the use of a bank treasurer's or cashier's check. He shall further have the authority given to an auditor by section fifty-one of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, and shall annually render a true account of his receipts and disbursements and report of his official acts to the District. The treasurer shall give bond annually for the performance of his duties in a form approved by the commissioner of revenue and in such sum, not less than the amount established by said commissioner, as shall be fixed by the prudential committee, and, if he fails to give such bond within ten days after his election or appointment, or if within ten days after the expiration of said bond or any renewal of said bond, he fails to file a renewal thereof, the prudential committee shall declare the office vacant and the vacancies shall be filled by the committee in the manner set forth in section twelve.

SECTION 11. The district clerk shall, in addition to the other duties specified herein, take all minutes at District meetings and at meetings of the prudential committee and maintain a record of such minutes in a manner provided for the maintenance of records of minutes of town meetings and of meetings by the boards of selectmen in the commonwealth. The clerk shall further be the official responsible for certifying copies of any and all votes taken at a District meeting or a meeting of the prudential committee.

SECTION 12. Any vacancy occurring in the office of clerk, treasurer or member of the prudential committee elected by the district may be filled by the district for the remainder of the unexpired term at any special meeting called for that purpose, or in the case of a vacancy in the office of clerk or treasurer or disability effecting either of said officers, the prudential committee may appoint a person to fill said vacancy until an election can be held or the disability is removed. Such temporary appointee shall be sworn and shall perform the duties of the office to which he is appointed during his tenure thereof. A temporary treasurer appointed to fill a vacancy, as above provided, shall give bond in the same manner as the treasurer.

SECTION 13. At its initial meeting, and at the annual meeting each and every year thereafter, the district shall adopt by two-thirds vote as set forth in this act, a method to be employed during the fiscal year to which the meeting relates for financing the share of its annual budget which is anticipated to be required to be funded by the district. The district may vote to adopt any of the following methods of financing, or combination thereof:

A. The district may raise by assessments upon the proprietors and by voluntary contributions the total sum required to meet such estimated expense.

B. The district may pay the whole of such expense from time to time as the work, material, labor and services shall be performed and for this purpose may incur debt by a temporary loan in anticipation of the collection of assessments from the district members during the fiscal year in which said debt is incurred or during the next succeeding fiscal year and except as further modified on the initial fiscal year under subsection O of section three.

C. At such district meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose, the district may incur debt to the amount necessary to pay that portion of such expense which relates solely to proposed long term district improvements and major equipment purchases and may issue therefor notes or bonds, and may, if the district further so approves, issue notes or bonds on the condition that the first payment on account of the principal shall be deferred for a period of not more than five years from the date of issue of such notes or bonds and that the whole amount of such debt shall be payable within a period of not more than twenty-five years after such notes or bonds are issued. No such issue shall be for a term longer than the reasonably estimated useful life of the improvements, facilities and equipment to be so funded.

Indebtedness incurred by the district under the provision of this sub-section shall be subject to chapter forty-four and to other provisions of the General Laws applicable to notes and bonds of districts except as otherwise provided in this act. If the district issues notes or bonds and thereafter it shall receive an appropriation from another governmental entity to cover such part, if any, of the expenses of such improvements, the district, in its discretion, unless otherwise mandated by the terms and conditions of the grant from such governmental unit, shall make all or any part of such appropriation available to redeem notes or bonds of the District and shall hold the balance, if any, to the credit of the district to be used for the payment of the expense of such improvements, facilities and for equipment. Bonds or notes issued under this section shall be the general obligations of the district.

That portion, if any, of the budgeted expense for the initial fiscal year and for each subsequent fiscal year which shall be required by the district for the payment of principal and interest on bonds and notes issued or to be issued by the district and which shall be due during the ensuing fiscal year together with those amounts necessary to be raised by the district to maintain and operate the district during said fiscal year for capital outlay items, the costs of which is not otherwise funded, and all other budgeted expenses for which the district is authorized to raise money, the costs of which items the district shall have voted to raise by assessment upon land and improvements of the proprietors within the district shall be the subject of a separate vote at the initial district meeting. If the District so votes, the schedule of assessed valuations of land and improvements established by the boards of assessors in each town for the same fiscal year under the provisions of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws shall be relied upon as the basis for determination of the pro-rata share of the district budget voted to be raised and appropriated and paid by the proprietors upon their lands and improvements lying within the district.

Following the adjournment of the initial district meeting and each annual District meeting thereafter, the clerk of the district shall certify to the assessors of the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough all sums of money voted to be raised by District assessment and the method and means of assessment voted upon at such meeting, which votes shall have been adopted by a two-thirds majority as provided in this act, together with the amount to be paid by each proprietor according to the determination made by such votes. The assessors of both towns shall without further vote, assess such amounts upon the lands of the proprietors within the district and commit to the collector of taxes of the town wherein the land is situated, who thereupon shall have and exercise the same powers and duties in relation to the collection of such assessments as he has and exercises relative to the collection of town taxes. The collector shall remit weekly to the district treasurer all sums collected by him on account of such assessments. An assessment made hereunder shall be a lien upon the land assessed therefor, in the same manner as a lien for real estate taxes assessed by the town under the provisions of section thirty-seven of chapter sixty, and other related provisions of the General Laws.

SECTION 14. The fiscal year of the District shall be the same fiscal year as established by the General Laws for cities and towns in the commonwealth.

SECTION 15. Unless otherwise specified in this act, or otherwise required by General Law, all actions permitted to be taken at annual or special districts meetings shall require a majority vote of those proprietors present in person or by proxy at said meeting and entitled to vote thereat, who shall constitute a quorum in accordance with this act or otherwise by by-law of the District. All actions permitted to be taken by the prudential committee shall require a majority vote of the committee members present at said meeting who shall constitute a quorum in accordance with this act.

SECTION 16. The district shall include in its initial and in all subsequent annual appropriations, compensation for the board of assessors and the tax collector of the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough, pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and eight B of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, with respect to their duties and expenses hereunder.

SECTION 17. Notwithstanding their membership on the prudential committee, neither the town of New Marlborough nor the town of Monterey nor any agency or department of the commonwealth shall be obligated for any debts of the district, nor shall they by virtue of this act be required to pay for any liability, obligation or expense made, suffered or incurred by the district. In like manner, the proprietors of the district shall not be individually liable or obligated with respect to debts or other obligations made, suffered or incurred by the district except with respect to the payment of assessments upon their land as provided for in this act.

SECTION 18. No provision of this act shall be deemed to modify or amend any power, authority or jurisdiction now or hereafter vested in any agency, department or unit of state, local or federal government as it relates to the use, operation or enjoyment of Lake Buel as a great pond available for use by the general public not only for recreational use but for other purposes now or hereafter permitted or required by federal, state and local law, regulation and local by-law.

SECTION 19. The district shall establish in its initial budget and in all subsequent fiscal year budgets an overlay account and a reserve fund as provided for towns under the provisions of section twenty-five of chapter fifty-nine and section five C of chapter forty of the General Laws except for the initial fiscal year, or portion thereof, of the operation of the district, the district may add to the amount to be raised by district assessment a sum voted by the district for not more than twenty per cent thereof for the purposes of and subject to the limitations as set forth in said section twenty-five of chapter fifty-nine. The District is further authorized to establish and maintain a stabilization fund under the provisions of section five B of chapter forty of the General Laws. The district shall further be subject to an audit of its accounts in the manner provided in section forty of chapter forty-four of the General Laws.

SECTION 20. Immediately upon the formation of the district, the district clerk, shall, in addition to the other duties to be performed by such District officer, cause a review to be made at that time and from time to time thereafter of the records required to be maintained by the boards of assessors for the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough including copies of deeds furnished to said boards by the southern district registry of deeds in the county of Berkshire, and shall otherwise take such actions as shall be reasonably necessary to verify the list of proprietors to be included within the district. The clerk shall further cause to be prepared one or more maps based in whole or in part upon the maps required to be maintained by the assessors of said towns on which shall be maintained by the assessors of said towns on which shall be shown the location of all proprietors' lands initially included as well as those which upon such review should, in the opinion of the district clerk be included within the district. Thereafter, at any special meeting called for that purpose and not later than the next annual meeting, the district clerk shall furnish the prudential committee with a list of proprietors proposed for inclusion in the district and such maps depicting the approximate location and boundaries of such parcels as well as the existing parcels within the district. The committee shall furnish written notice in the manner provided for furnishing notice to a proprietor of a district meeting to the record owners of such parcels proposed for inclusion in the district. At the district meeting called for such purpose, the district shall, by its vote, determine whether or not its parcel or parcels shall be included within the district and shall furnish the record owners thereof with full opportunity to be heard prior to such vote as though such persons were proprietors of record, entitled to vote thereon.

Any original proprietor of the district and any record owner of real estate hereafter included within the district as a proprietor in the manner set forth in this section, shall have the right to petition the district through its prudential committee for exclusion from the district based upon an alleged lack of sufficient direct benefit to said proprietor's land with respect to the purposes for which the district has been established. Such petition shall be in writing and shall set forth in summary form the reasons relied upon in support thereof. Said committee shall, upon receipt of such petition, conduct such investigation thereof as it shall deem appropriate, and shall, at its next regular meeting, or sooner at a special meeting, and upon at least seven days written notice to the petitioner, consider the petition and vote thereon. A vote by the prudential committee to exclude the land of the petitioner from the District shall be final. In the event that the prudential committee shall vote to disapprove the petition or shall fail to act thereon prior to the next annual meeting of the district, the petition shall be included in the warrant for said meeting and the district shall vote on same at that time. If the district shall vote to disallow the petition, the petitioner may appeal to the superior court within the county in which the District is located for a remedy. Upon such appeal, said court shall, if the reasons set forth by the petitioner shall be satisfactory to the court, grant such exclusion. Such exclusion, if the petition shall have been filed in writing therefor prior the December thirty-first of the then current fiscal year, result in an abatement of district assessment from the commencement of such fiscal year; otherwise, such abatement shall not be effective until the commencement of the next fiscal year.

SECTION 21. Once established pursuant to this act, the district shall not dissolve without specific authorization by the general court, which shall not be given until provision has been made for the payment of the obligations of said district. Such dissolution may be initiated by the general court, by two-thirds vote at a regular or special district meeting or by joint petition by the towns of Monterey and New Marlborough under the provisions of Section 8 of Article LXXXVIII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

SECTION 22. This act shall take effect upon its passage; provided, however, that if the initial meeting of the district shall not occur and the certified vote evidencing the establishment of the district shall not be filed with the attorney general within one year after its passage, this act shall cease to be operative.

Approved January 7, 1986.

Chapter 757. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE COMMONWEALTH'S SHARE OF ASSISTANCE PURSUANT TO A PRESIDENTIAL DISASTER DECLARATION RELATED TO HURRICANE GLORIA.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. To provide for disaster relief and meet the expenses of public services incurred as a result of the hurricane which struck the commonwealth on September twenty-seven, nineteen hundred and eighty-five, the sum set forth in section two is hereby appropriated, subject to the provisions of law regulating the disbursements of public funds and the conditions pertaining to appropriations in chapter one hundred and forty of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-five.

SECTION 2.
EXECUTIVE OFFICE FOR ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE.

Item

Chapter 758. AN ACT ESTABLISHING THE NORTHERN BERKSHIRE INDUSTRIAL PARK AND DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. In this act, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:–

"Corporation", the Northern Berkshire Industrial Park and Development Corporation, established by section two of this act.

"Cost of a project", all costs, whether incurred prior to or after the issue of bonds or notes hereunder, of acquisition, site development, construction, improvement, enlargement, reconstruction, alteration, machinery, equipment, furnishings, demolition or removal of existing buildings or structures, including the cost of acquiring any lands to which such buildings or structures may be moved, financing charges, interest prior to and during the carrying out of any project, interest for up to two years after the completion or estimated completion date of any project, planning, engineering and legal services, administrative expenses, the funding of notes issued for capital purposes, such reserve for debt service or other capital or current expenses as may be required by a trust agreement or resolution securing notes or bonds, and all other expenses incidental to the determination of the feasibility of any project or to carrying out the project or to placing the project in operation.

"Department", the executive office of communities and development.

"Economic development area", any blighted, or any decadent area, as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and twenty-one B, or any open or largely undeveloped area which is located in the region and is zoned for general or restricted manufacturing uses or industrial uses whether restricted or not, and within which there are not more than forty-five dwelling units.

"Economic development plan", a detailed plan for one or more economic development projects within economic development areas which plan shall be consistent with local objectives respecting appropriate land uses, and shall be sufficiently complete to indicate the boundaries of the area, such land acquisition, such demolition, removal, and rehabilitation of structures, and such development, redevelopment and general public improvements as may be proposed to be carried out within such areas, zoning and planning changes, if any, and proposed land uses, maximum densities and building requirements.

"Economic development project", (1) a project to be undertaken in accordance with an economic development plan for acquisition by purchase or otherwise by the corporation of land and the improvements thereon, if any, within economic development areas covered by an economic development plan and for clearance and development of the land so acquired; or (2) a project for the rehabilitation or conservation of an economic development area, or for the demolition, removal, or rehabilitation of improvements on land within economic development areas whenever necessary to eliminate unhealthful, unsanitary or unsafe conditions, lessen density, mitigate or eliminate traffic congestion, reduce traffic hazards, or eliminate obsolete or other uses detrimental to the public welfare; or (3) a project involving any combination of the foregoing types of project. An economic development project may include improvements necessary for carrying out the objectives of the economic development project, together with such site improvements as are necessary for the preparation of any site for uses in accordance with the economic development plan, and making any land or improvements acquired in the area of the project available for redevelopment or rehabilitation by private enterprise, including sale, initial leasing or retention by the corporation for industrial or manufacturing uses in accordance with the economic development plan. An economic development project may also include the construction by the corporation of any of the buildings, structures or other facilities for industrial or manufacturing uses contemplated by the economic development plan and the repair, removal, or rehabilitation by the corporation of any of the buildings, structures or other facilities located in the area covered by the economic development plan which under such plan, are to be repaired, moved or rehabilitated.

"Region", the city of North Adams and towns of Adams, Cheshire, Florida, Clarksburg, Hancock, New Ashford, Savoy and Williamstown.

"Secretary", the secretary of the executive office of communities and development.

SECTION 2. There is hereby established the Northern Berkshire Industrial Park and Development Corporation, a public body and corporate, hereinafter referred to as the corporation.

There shall be nine members of the board of directors of the corporation. Each of the nine members shall be sworn to the faithful performance of his official duties as a director of the corporation. A majority of the nine directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, but any action shall require the vote of a majority of the entire board. The corporation shall be subject to the provisions of section eleven A of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

The board of directors shall annually choose from its members a chairman and vice-chairman. The members of the board of directors shall be qualified as follows: one member shall be the person holding the position of economic development coordinator for the city of North

Adams; one member shall be the person holding the position of economic development coordinator, or the equivalent position, or, if such a position does not exist, or shall exist and be abolished, then the town administrator or his designee, for the town of Adams; one member shall be the person holding the position of economic development coordinator, or the equivalent position, or, if such a position does not exist, or shall exist and be abolished, then the town manager, or his designee, for the town of Williamstown; and of the remaining six members, one member shall reside in the city of North Adams; one member shall reside in the town of Adams; one member shall reside in the town of Williamstown, and of the remaining three members, at least one member shall reside in one of the remaining communities of Hancock, New Ashford, Cheshire, Clarksburg, Savoy, or Florida. Of these six remaining members, one shall be experienced in industrial development, one shall be experienced in finance, one shall be experienced in real estate matters, and one shall be a representative of labor. Said six remaining members of the board of directors shall be appointed by the governor. Their terms of office shall be for three years, except that the initial term of two members shall be for one year, the initial term of two members shall be for two years, and the initial term of two members shall be for three years in order to create staggered terms for the six gubernatorial appointments. Each of the gubernatorial appointments shall be made from the most highly qualified people available without regard to political affiliation.

Upon the expiration of the term of office of any member, or of any subsequent member, his successor shall be appointed in like manner for a term of three years. In the event of a vacancy in the office of a member, his successor shall be appointed in like manner to serve for the unexpired term. Unless reappointed, no member of the corporation shall hold office after the expiration of his term; and the appointment of a successor to any person whose term has expired shall be for the remainder of the term which would have begun at such expiration if the successor had then been appointed.

Any member may be removed by the appointing authority for malfeasance, misfeasance, or wilful neglect of duty, but only after reasonable notice and a public hearing, unless the same are in writing expressly waived, and after approval by the department. For purposes of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A of the General Laws, the members of the corporation shall be deemed to be special municipal employees.

Before the issuance of any bonds under the provisions of this act, each member of the corporation shall execute a surety bond with a surety company authorized to transact business in this commonwealth as surety, in the penal sum of fifty thousand dollars conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office, each such surety bond to be approved by the legal counsel of the municipality and filed in the office of the state secretary. The members of the corporation shall receive no compensation for the performance of their duties hereunder, but each member shall be reimbursed for expenses actually incurred in the performance of his duties. Every such reimbursement shall be open to public inspection from and after the requisition therefor.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 758.

SECTION 3. The directors of the corporation shall adopt a corporate seal for the corporation, and designate the custodian thereof; may from time to time appoint and at pleasure remove a clerk, a treasurer or such other officers of the corporation as they may deem necessary, and may determine their duties and their compensation, which shall be paid by the corporation; shall cause at all times accurate accounts to be kept of all receipts and expenditures of the funds of the corporation and shall make a report annually in December to each of the municipalities in the region and to the secretary, containing an abstract of such accounts and detailed information of all receipts and expenditures, including prices paid for land purchased or taken and any buildings constructed thereon, contracts for construction of facilities and for the leasing thereof, and such other detailed information as may be deemed helpful. The office of treasurer and clerk may be held by the same person. The corporation shall cause an audit of its books and accounts to be made at least once in each fiscal year by certified public accountants and the cost thereof shall be treated as an item of current expense. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the corporation shall have full power to exercise care of its property and the management of its business and affairs, and to sell and convey any real estate or other property not needed for its business or affairs, by deed or other instrument sealed with the corporate seal, signed and acknowledged by a majority of the board of directors or in like manner to authorize such sale and conveyance by any of its officers or agents. The treasurer shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, with a surety company authorized to do business in this commonwealth as surety, in such sum as the said board may determine, the premium therefor to be paid by the corporation. Neither chapter thirty-one of the General Laws nor any rule made thereunder shall apply to any person employed or engaged by the corporation.

SECTION 4. The corporation is hereby authorized:

(a) To sue and be sued in its own name and to plead and to be so impleaded.

(b) To adopt by-laws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business, and to alter the same at its pleasure.

(c) To make and enter into all contracts and agreements necessary or incidental to the performance of its duties and the execution of its powers under this act, and to employ consulting engineers, superintendents, managers, and such other engineers, construction and accounting experts and attorneys and such other employees, agents, and consultants as may be necessary in its judgment and to fix their compensation.

(d) To receive and accept from any federal agency the commonwealth or any of the municipalities in the region grants, loans or advances for or in aid of an economic development project or projects and to receive and accept contributions from any source of either money, property, labor or other things of value, to be held, used and applied for the purposes for which such grants, loans, advances and contributions may be made.

(e) To borrow money, and, from time to time, to make, accept, endorse, execute, and issue bonds, debentures, promissory notes, bills of exchange, and other obligations of the corporation, for moneys borrowed or in payment for property acquired or for any of the other purposes of the corporation, and to secure the payment of such obligations by mortgage, pledge, deed, indenture, agreement, or other instrument of trust, or by other lien upon, assignment of, or agreement in regard to all or any part of the property, rights, or privileges of the corporation.

(f) To issue revenue bonds of the corporation, payable solely from revenues, for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of a project or projects.

(g) To invest any funds not required for immediate use or disbursement in certificates of deposit or in obligations of the government of the United States or in obligations the payment of the principal of, and interest on, which is guaranteed by the government of the United States.

(h) To provide such advisory services and technical assistance as may be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this act.

(i) To prepare or cause to be prepared plans, designs, drawings, specifications and estimates of cost for the construction, reconstruction, development, redevelopment, rehabilitation, remodeling, alteration or repair of economic development projects and from time to time modify such plans, designs, drawings, specifications and estimates.

(j) To designate areas within the municipalities in the region as economic development areas.

(k) To acquire and hold by bequest, devise, grant, gift, purchase, exchange, lease, judicial order or decree, or otherwise, for any of its objects and purposes, any property, either real or personal, or any interest therein; and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to acquire by purchase or otherwise, on such terms and conditions and in such manner as it may deem proper, or by the exercise of the power of eminent domain subject to the prior approval of the city or town within which the land is located by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the city council, following a public hearing, with the approval of the mayor or, as the case may be, by an affirmative two-thirds vote at an annual town meeting or a special town meeting called for the purpose with the advice of the secretary, the provisions of chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A in so far as such provisions may be applicable, such private lands, or any interests therein, as it may deem necessary for carrying out the provisions of this act or for providing for the relocation of persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out an economic development plan. The provisions of section forty of said chapter seventy-nine shall apply to any taking by the corporation, except that the security therein required shall be deposited with the treasurer of the municipality where the land is located and shall be in an amount at least twenty-five per cent higher than the aggregate average assessed valuations in the three previous calendar years of all real estate to be taken by eminent domain.

(l) To make relocation payments to persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out an economic development plan, including such payments on a pro tanto basis.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 758.

(m) To procure insurance against any loss in connection with its property and other assets and operations in such amounts and from such insurers as it deems desirable.

(n) To clear and improve property acquired by it, and to engage in or contract for the construction, reconstruction, development, redevelopment, rehabilitation, remodeling, alteration or repair thereof.

(o) To arrange or contract with the municipalities in the region for the planning, replanning, opening, grading or closing of street, roads, alleys or other places or for the furnishing of facilities or for the acquisition by the municipality of property or property rights or for the furnishing of property of services in connections with a project or projects.

(p) To manage any project whether owned or leased by the corporation and to enter into agreements with the commonwealth or any of the municipalities in the region, or any agency or instrumentality thereof or with any person, firm, partnership or corporation either public or private for the purpose of causing any project to be managed.

(q) To invest any funds held in reserves or sinking funds, or any funds not required for immediate disbursement, in such investments as may be lawful for fiduciaries in the commonwealth pursuant to the provisions of sections thirty-eight and thirty-eight A of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws.

(r) To exercise any other powers of a corporation organized under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B of the General Laws and

(s) To do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this act.

The corporation is hereby directed to pay the reasonable relocation costs of persons and businesses displaced as a result of carrying out an economic development plan as authorized by clause (k).

SECTION 5. No economic development project shall be undertaken until there has been compliance with the following procedures:

A preliminary economic development plan shall be filed with each of the municipalities in the area and with the secretary requesting comments and recommendations to be submitted to the corporation within forty-five days; Within thirty days after such period has elapsed, or after each municipality and the secretary have submitted their comments and recommendations, whichever occurs first, a public informational meeting shall be held in the region;

Within thirty days after the holding of such meeting, the corporation, may by an affirmative majority vote, approve and file a final economic development plan with the secretary. Said plan shall contain, in addition to the requirements of section one, a certificate by the corporation that it shall comply with environmental zoning and land use laws and regulations prior to implementation of the projects in the plan, and, with such other requirements as may be prescribed by the by-laws of the corporation.

Upon the filing of the final plan with the secretary, the corporation shall have the powers and duties imposed by this act to undertake and carry out the economic development projects covered by such plan.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 758.

SECTION 6. Except as provided herein rents and charges for service of facilities furnished or supplied by the corporation shall not be subject to supervision or regulation by any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, and, if derived from a project in connection with which revenue bonds have been issued, shall, with all other revenues derived from the project, except such part thereof as may be necessary to pay such cost of maintenance, repair and operation and to provide such reserves therefor as may be provided for in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or in the trust agreement, but including such part thereof as may be necessary to provide such reserves for the payment of the principal of and the interest on said revenue bonds as may be provided for in such resolution or trust agreement, and including also the proceeds of any and all sales by the corporation of property within the project area, be set aside at such regular intervals as may be provided for in such resolution or trust agreement, in a sinking fund which is hereby pledged to and charged with the payment of (1) the interest upon such bonds as such interest shall fall due, (2) the principal of the bonds as the same shall fall due, (3) the necessary charges of paying agents for paying principal and interest, and (4) the redemption price or the purchase price of bonds retired by call or purchase as therein provided.

SECTION 7. The corporation shall be liable in contract or in tort in the same manner as a private corporation. The directors, employees, officers and agents of the corporation shall not be liable as such on its contracts or for torts not committed or directly authorized by them. The property or funds of the corporation shall not be subject to attachment or to levy and sale on execution, but if the corporation refuses to pay a judgment entered against it in any court of competent jurisdiction, the superior court, sitting within and for the county in which the corporation is situated, may, by writ of mandamus, direct the treasurer of such agency to pay such judgment. The real estate of the corporation shall not be subject to liens under chapter two hundred and fifty-four of the General Laws but the provisions of sections twenty-eight and twenty-nine of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws shall be applicable to any construction work by the corporation.

SECTION 8. The real estate and tangible personal property of the corporation shall be deemed to be public property used for essential public and governmental purposes and shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments; provided, that in lieu of such taxes, betterments and special assessments, the municipality may determine a sum to be paid to it annually in any year or period of years, such sum to be in any year not in excess of the amount that would be levied at the then current tax rate upon the average of the assessed value of such real estate, including buildings and other structures, for the three years preceding the year of acquisition thereof, the valuation for each year being reduced by all abatements thereon.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 758.

The municipality may, however, agree with the corporation upon the payments to be made or the corporation may make and the municipality may accept such payments the amount of which shall not in either case be subject to the foregoing limitation.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the taxation, to the same extent and in the same manner as other real estate is taxed, of real estate acquired by the corporation for an economic development project and sold by it, or the taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as real estate of the commonwealth is taxed of real estate so acquired by the corporation and leased by it provided, however, that real estate so acquired by the corporation and sold or leased to an urban redevelopment corporation or other entity operating under chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws or to an insurance company or savings bank or group of savings banks operating under said chapter, shall be taxed as provided in said chapter and not otherwise.

The corporation and the debentures, revenue bonds and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this act, their transfer and the income therefrom including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be free from taxation by the commonwealth or any subdivision thereof.

SECTION 9. To provide funds for general purposes of the corporation including working capital, the corporation may from time to time issue debentures: provided, however that such debentures outstanding at any one time shall not exceed ten million dollars unless specifically approved by the department and the secretary. Such debentures shall not constitute a debt of the commonwealth or of the municipalities in the area or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or of the municipalities in the area and shall be subordinated to all other obligations of the corporation and shall be payable at such time or times and in such installments, if any, as the corporation shall determine, but solely out of the net assets of the corporation; and the holders thereof shall be entitled to interest thereon but only out of the net earnings of the corporation, and in no event at a rate higher than the rate specified therein.

Such debentures may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the corporation and a corporate trustee, which shall be located within the commonwealth and shall be a trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company. Such trust agreement shall contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the debenture holders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth which may act as depository under such trust agreement to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the corporation. Such trust agreement shall set forth the rights and remedies of the debentureholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by debentureholders. In addition to the foregoing such trust agreement may contain such other provisions as the corporation may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the debentureholders.

All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust agreement may be treated as an item of current expense.

SECTION 10. The corporation is hereby authorized to provide by resolution, one time or from time to time, for the issuance of revenue bonds of the corporation for the purposes of paying all or any part of the cost of a project or projects. The principal of and interest on such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided for such payment. The bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rates, and shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their date or dates, as may be determined by the corporation, and may be redeemable before maturity, at the option of the corporation, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the corporation prior to the issuance of the bonds. The corporation shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and the manner of execution of the bonds, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and the place or places of payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within the commonwealth. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds, or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. The bonds may be issued in coupon or registered form or both, as the corporation may determine and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest. The corporation may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or at private sale, and for such price, as it may determine to be for the best interests of the corporation.

The proceeds of such bonds shall be used solely for the payment of the cost of the project or projects, and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the corporations may provide. Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the corporation may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds have been executed and are available for delivery. The corporation may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Revenue bonds may be issued under the provisions of this act subject only to those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required by this act.

The corporation is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for issuance of revenue refunding bonds of the corporation for the purpose of refunding any revenue bonds then outstanding and issued under the provisions of this act, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such bonds, and, if deemed advisable by the corporation, for the additional purpose of constructing or reconstructing any extensions or improvements of the project. The issue of such bonds, the maturities, and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the duties of the corporation in respect of the same may be applicable.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 758.

Revenue and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this section shall not constitute a debt of the commonwealth or of the municipalities in the area, or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or of the municipalities in the area, but such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided therefor from revenues. All such revenue and revenue refunding bonds shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the corporation nor the commonwealth nor the municipality shall be obliged to pay the same or the interest thereon and that neither the faith and credit nor taxing power of the commonwealth or of the municipality is pledged to the payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds.

All revenue and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments as defined in section 3-104 of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 11. In the discretion of the corporation such revenue bonds or revenue refunding bonds may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the corporation and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within the commonwealth. Such trust agreement may pledge or assign the revenues to be received, but shall not convey or mortgage any project or part thereof.

Either the resolution providing for the issuance of bonds or such trust agreement may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including without limiting the generality of the foregoing provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event thereof, which may include the acceleration of maturities, and covenants setting forth the duties of, and limitations on, the corporation in relation to the acquisition, construction, improvement, enlargement, alteration, equipping, furnishing, maintenance, operation, repair, insurance and disposition of property, the custody, safeguarding, investment, and application of moneys, the use of any surplus bond or note proceeds and the establishment of reserves. Such resolution or trust agreement may also contain covenants by the corporation in relation to, among other things, (a) the establishment, revision and collection of such rents and charges for services of facilities furnished or supplied by the corporation as shall provide revenues sufficient with other revenues of the project, if any, to pay (i) the cost of maintaining, repairing and operating the project and of making renewals and replacements in connection therewith, (ii) the principal of and the interest on said revenue bonds as the same shall become due and payable, (iii) payments in lieu of taxes, betterment and special assessments, and (iv) reserves for all such purposes, (b) the purpose or purposes for which the proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be applied and the use and disposition thereof, (c) the use and disposition of the gross revenues of the corporation from the project, any additions thereto and extensions and improvements thereof, including the creation and maintenance of funds for working capital and for renewals and replacements to the project, (d) the amount, if any, of additional revenue bonds payable from the revenues of the project and the limitations, terms and conditions on which such additional revenue bonds may be issued, and (e) the operation, maintenance, management, accounting and auditing of the project and of the income and revenues of the corporation. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth to act as depository of the proceeds of bonds or of revenues and to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the corporation. Such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and of the trustee, and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders as is customary in trust agreements or trust indentures securing bonds and debentures of corporations. In addition to the foregoing, such trust agreement may contain such other provisions as the corporation may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of such trust agreement may be treated as a part of the cost of the operation of the project. The pledge by any such trust agreement or resolution shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made; the revenues or other moneys so pledged and then held on thereafter received by the corporation shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act; and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the corporation, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any trust agreement by which pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the corporation, and no filing need be made under chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

SECTION 12. Revenue bonds and revenue refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this act are hereby made securities in which all public officers and public bodies of the commonwealth and its political subdivisions, all insurance companies, trust companies in their commercial departments and within the limits set by section fourteen of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven E of the General Laws, banking associations, investment companies, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons whatsoever who are now or may hereafter be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of a similar nature may properly and legally invest funds, including capital in their control or belonging to them; and such bonds are hereby made obligations which may properly and legally be made eligible for the investment of savings deposits and the income thereof in the manner provided by section two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F of the General Laws. Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the commonwealth is now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 759.

SECTION 13. Any holder of bonds or debentures issued under the provisions of this chapter or of any coupon appertaining thereto, and the trustee, except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by the trust agreement, may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action mandamus or other proceeding, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under the trust agreement, and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this act or by the trust agreement, to be performed by the corporation or by any officer thereof.

SECTION 14. The provisions of this chapter are severable; and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions.

SECTION 15. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved January 7, 1986.

Chapter 759. AN ACT RELATIVE TO ACUPUNCTURE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 112 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following fifteen sections:–

Section 148. As used in sections 149 to 162, inclusive of this chapter, section one of chapter one hundred and fifty-six A, section forty-seven D of chapter one hundred and seventy-five, section sixty B of chapter two hundred and thirty-one, the following words shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the following meanings:–

"Acupuncture", the practice of medicine based on Traditional Oriental Medical Theories; primarily the insertion of metal needles through the skin at certain points on the body, with or without the application of electric current, and with or without the application of heat to the needles, skin, or both, in an attempt to relieve pain or improve body function. Electroacupuncture, whether utilizing electrodes on the surface of the skin or current applied to inserted needles will be considered the practice of acupuncture.

"Board", the board of registration in medicine, established under the provisions of section one hundred and ten of chapter thirteen.

"Committee", the committee on acupuncture of the board of registration in medicine, established under the provisions of section one hundred and forty-nine.

"Acupuncturist", a person licensed under the provisions of sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, to practice acupuncture.

"Acupuncture intern", an acupuncture student engaged in practical training including needle insertion on human subjects in an acupuncture internship program approved by the committee on acupuncture.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 759.

Section 149. The board of registration in medicine shall form a committee on acupuncture. Committee members will be appointed by the board with the following qualifications: one member shall be a licensed physician member of the board, one member shall be a licensed physician who has been actively involved with the practice of Acupuncture for at least two years, one member shall be from the general public and shall not be engaged in or have a financial interest in the delivery of health services, and four members shall be acupuncture practitioners, chosen from a list of recommended individuals submitted by the Massachusetts Acupuncture Society, the New England School of Acupuncture, the Acupuncture Practitioners Association, the Oriental Traditional Medical Association, and any other professional Acupuncture organization or institution engaged in teaching acupuncture under the provisions of chapter seventy-five D.

The board shall appoint four of the initial members to terms of three years, and three of the initial members to terms of two years. Thereafter, all appointees shall serve for terms of three years. Vacancies shall be filled by the board with persons who possess the qualification required of the original appointees. Those members appointed to the initial committee as acupuncturists need not be licensed as acupuncturists. Such members so appointed after the initial committee is appointed shall be licensed under the provisions of sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, prior to such appointment.

Section 150. The committee may adopt reasonable rules to carry into effect sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, and may amend and revoke such rules at its discretion. The committee shall keep a record of its proceedings under said sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, and a register of all persons registered and licensed by it. The register shall contain the name of every living registrant, his last known place of business and last known place of residence, and the date and number of his registration and certificate as a licensed acupuncturist. The committee shall during the month of May in every year in which the renewal of registration is required, compile a list of the name and address of every licensed acupuncturist in the commonwealth.

The committee shall meet not less than four times per calendar year. At the first meeting of each year, the committee shall elect a chairperson, vice-chairperson, and secretary.

Committee members will receive the same compensation as members of the board of registration in medicine as set forth in section ten of chapter thirteen.

All monies received by the committee shall be paid monthly to the General Fund. All expenses and compensation of the committee shall be paid by the commonwealth, but said expenses and compensation shall not be in excess of the amounts received by the commonwealth for any license application, license renewal, or examination fee collected by the committee under the authority of this chapter.

Section 151. A person who desires to be licensed and registered as an acupuncturist shall apply to the committee in writing on an application form prescribed and furnished by the committee. He shall include in his application statements under oath satisfactory to the committee, showing that he possess the qualifications preliminary to examination required by section one hundred and fifty-two. He shall pay to the committee at the time of his filing such application a fee which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

Section 152. To be eligible for registration and licensure by the committee as an acupuncturist an applicant shall:

- (a) Be at least eighteen years of age,
- (b) be of good moral character,
- (c) demonstrate sufficient knowledge of the English language so that he may understand and be understood by patients and physicians, or have a translator available to communicate with patients and physicians,

(d) fulfill one of the following criteria:

(1) the applicant has successfully completed the equivalent of two academic years at an accredited university or college, including courses in anatomy, physiology, and biology, or has taken courses at a facility which is approved by the department of education to offer such courses, and has successfully completed a committee approved course of training in acupuncture of not less than two academic years, and one year of a committee approved acupuncture internship which may run concurrently with the two year academic course in acupuncture; and passes to the satisfaction of the Committee an examination conducted by it to determine his fitness to engage in the practice of acupuncture, or

(2) the applicant may possess a current, valid acupuncture license or certificate from another state or foreign nation that is equivalent in its requirements to clauses (a), (b), and (d), or has equivalent training and experience as determined by the committee, and passes the examination administered by the committee as in clause (d).

(3) the applicant has legally practiced acupuncture as his primary activity since January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-three and has legally practiced acupuncture in the commonwealth for the twelve months immediately preceding the date of his application; and the applicant files his application within sixty days from the time the committee first accepts applications for the license to practice Acupuncture; or

(4) the applicant is a legally practicing Acupuncturist in the commonwealth on January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and the applicant files his application within sixty days from the time the committee first accepts applications for the license to practice acupuncture; and passes the examination administered by the committee as in clause (d). If any person so practicing acupuncture fails to pass the first announced examination, he may continue to practice acupuncture under the supervision of a licensed medical practitioner, as defined by the board of registration in medicine until the applicant takes the second announced examination. If any person so practicing acupuncture fails to pass the first and second announced examination, they must cease the practice of acupuncture upon due notice to the applicant of such failure.

Section 153. The committee may enter into agreements with medical or acupuncture examination boards of other states and territories of the United States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, having qualifications and standards at least as high as those of the commonwealth, providing for reciprocal licensing in this state, without further examination, of persons who hold a valid license granted by written examination in the other state or territory, and who apply and remit fees as indicated in section one hundred and fifty-one.

Section 154. The committee shall examine applicants for licensure as Acupuncturists at such times and places as it may determine, and shall conduct at least two examinations in each calendar year. The examination shall test the applicants competency in and knowledge of the theory and practice of acupuncture, medical ethics, medical terminology, and sufficient knowledge of anatomy and physiology so that safe practice could be expected. The type of examination shall be determined by the committee. Any applicant who fails to pass such examination may take a second examination upon the payment of an additional application fee which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration and finance under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven, and must be so re-examined at the next scheduled examination. Upon failure of an applicant to pass a second examination, the committee may require him to complete additional courses of study as designated by the committee, in which case he shall be required, before taking another examination, to present to the committee satisfactory evidence of having completed the required additional courses, and shall pay the re-examination fee as noted above.

Section 155. The committee shall register and license as an acupuncturist each applicant who proves to the satisfaction of the committee his fitness for licensure under the provisions of sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive. It shall issue to each person registered a Certificate of Registration, which shall be prima facie evidence of the right of such person to represent himself as a licensed acupuncturist and authorized to use the initials L.Ac.

Section 156. Every licensed acupuncturist shall, during January of every year, apply to the committee for a renewal of his license and pay a fee which shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven. Any license not so renewed prior to April 1st in any such year shall automatically lapse on said date. The committee may in its discretion revive and extend a lapsed license on the payment of all unpaid renewal fees.

Section 157. A student of Acupuncture who has creditably completed not less than one year of study in a committee approved acupuncture school, may practice acupuncture, but only in a committee approved internship program. Said internship program will require the supervision of interns by an instructor; which instructor shall be a registered and licensed acupuncturist in the commonwealth and a duly appointed field faculty member of a committee approved school of acupuncture. Said intern shall be identified as an acupuncture intern when in a clinical setting.

Section 158. The committee, after due notice and hearing, may refuse to issue a license to an acupuncturist, or may suspend or revoke said license if such acupuncturist has:

(a) practiced acupuncture other than upon the referral or receipt of written diagnosis of a physician or dentist duly licensed in the commonwealth;

(b) used drugs or intoxicants to an extent which adversely affects his professional competence;

(c) been convicted of a felony or of a crime involving moral turpitude;

(d) obtained or attempted to obtain licensure as an Acupuncturist by fraud or deception;

(e) been grossly negligent in his practice as an Acupuncturist;

(f) been adjudged insane by a court of competent jurisdiction and has not thereafter been legally declared sane;

(g) acted in a manner which is professionally unethical according to ethical standards of the professions of acupuncture.

Section 159. The committee shall investigate every alleged violation of sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, coming to its notice. If as a result of such an investigation the committee has reasonable cause to believe that a violation has occurred, it shall forthwith report such violation to a appropriate law enforcement agency.

Any person who violates any provisions of sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, or who makes a willfully false oath or affirmation in any case in which an oath or affirmation is required under said sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, or who obtains or attempts to obtain licensure by any fraudulent representation shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than three months, or both.

The committee may maintain in any court of competent jurisdiction a suit for an injunction against any person or persons practicing acupuncture or any branch thereof without a license. Such an injunction may be issued without proof of actual damage sustained by any person, this provision being understood to be a preventive as well as a punitive measure. An injunction shall not relieve such person from criminal prosecution for practicing without a license. The committee may seek and obtain adequate legal counsel.

Section 160. A person who does not possess a valid license and existing and current certificate of registration as an Acupuncturist pursuant to the provisions of sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, shall not in any manner represent himself as an acupuncturist nor use in connection with his name the words or letters "Acupuncturist", "Licensed Acupuncturist", "Doctor of Acupuncture", "Acupuncture Therapist", "L.Ac.", "R.Ac.", or any other letter, words, abbreviations, or insignia indicating or implying that he is an acupuncturist. Whoever, not being lawfully authorized to practice acupuncture within the commonwealth and Registered under section one hundred and fifty-five, holds himself out as a practitioner of Acupuncture or practices or attempts to practice acupuncture, or whoever practices Acupuncture under a false or assumed name or under a name other than that by which he is registered, or whoever impersonates another practitioner, or whoever practices or attempts to practice any fraud in connection with the filing of an application, or whoever files an application under a false or assumed name or under a name other than his own, or whoever impersonates or attempts to impersonate another applicant for registration during an examination, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not less than one month nor more than one year, or both. A person rendering acupuncture services in violation of this section shall recover no compensation therefore.

Section 161. A licensed and registered acupuncturist may commence acupuncture treatments on a patient only after the acupuncturist has on file a written letter of referral or a written diagnosis from a physician, doctor of osteopathy, or dentist, duly registered in the commonwealth.

Section 162. Nothing contained in sections one hundred and forty-nine to one hundred and sixty-two, inclusive, shall prohibit any person employed as an acupuncturist by an agency of the federal government from practicing acupuncture while discharging his official duties as such employee. Nothing contained herein shall prevent physical therapists from practicing transcutaneous nerve stimulation, the stimulation of muscle contractions for the purpose of diagnosis or rehabilitation, or other techniques in the context of standard Western Medical Procedure and neither defined as nor held out to be acupuncture. Nothing contained herein shall prevent licensed physicians, according to the laws set forth by the board of registry in medicine from practicing Acupuncture.

SECTION 2. Section 1 of chapter 156A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

(b) "Professional service", the personal service performed by registered physicians and surgeons, chiropractors, podiatrists, engineers, electrologists, physical therapists, psychologists, certified public accountants, public accountants, dentists, veterinarians, optometrists and acupuncturists, all of whom are registered under chapter one hundred and twelve, and by attorneys-at-law admitted to practice in the courts of the commonwealth under the provisions of chapter two hundred and twenty-one.

SECTION 3. Section 60B of chapter 231 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the seventh paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

For the purposes of this section, a provider of health care shall mean a person, corporation, facility or institution licensed by the commonwealth to provide health care or professional services as a Physician, hospital, clinical or nursing home, dentist, registered or licensed nurse, optometrist, podiatrist, chiropractor, physical therapist, Psychologist, or acupuncturist, or an officer, employee or agent thereof acting in the course and scope of his employment.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 6A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding after section 76, added by section 12 of chapter 574 of the acts of 1985, the following section:–

Section 77. Except as otherwise provided under sections forty-seven and seventy, the commission in carrying out its duties, in relation to the establishment of rates of payment and reimbursement for providers of health care services, as defined in section thirty-one, shall not consider in any computation involving such actions, the following as resources of such providers of health care services: unrestricted grants, gifts, contributions, bequests, fund principal or endowment balances, or any income therefrom, unless the provider voluntarily requests the commission to consider any or all such resources in establishing rates of payment or reimbursement of services under this section. Restricted grants, gifts, contributions, bequests, fund principal or endowment balances, or any income therefrom used to defray allowable operating costs associated with providing general health supplies, care, social, rehabilitative or educational services, and accommodations for eligible persons shall be offset by the commission against allowable operating costs unless such monies are specifically designated for the provision of free care to persons not eligible for public assistance.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Chapter 762. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE APPLICATION FOR ALL LICENSES TO CONSTRUCT A CERTAIN BRIDGE IN THE TOWN OF DANVERS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of the second sentence of section fourteen of chapter ninety-one of the General Laws, Joseph DeLorenzo is hereby authorized to make application for and the department of environmental quality engineering may issue all licenses and approvals necessary to construct a permanent bridge to replace a temporary bridge in the town of Danvers between a parcel of land containing eleven acres, shown as Lot 26 on Map 53 of the assessor's map of said town of Danvers and a parcel of land containing fourteen and sixty-two one hundredths acres shown as Lot 70 on said Map 53 at a point approximately one thousand feet northerly of the junction of the Porter river and Millett creek in said town of Danvers; provided, however, that no objection to such application is made by the selectmen of said town.

Any authorization to construct a permanent bridge under this act shall be subject to the provisions of section forty of chapter one hundred and thirty-one, sections sixty-one to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty and chapter ninety-one of the General Laws, excepting the second sentence of section fourteen of said chapter ninety-one, and any other applicable General Law. Such authorization shall also be subject to the

Chapter 763. AN ACT TO PROVIDE ANNUAL FUNDING FOR REGIONAL PLANNING AGENCIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The executive office of communities and development is hereby authorized to establish a program of grants to regional planning agencies in the commonwealth, including, but not limited to, regional planning agencies operating under the provisions of chapter forty B of the General Laws; the Cape Cod planning and economic development commission, operating under the provisions of chapter four hundred and fifty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-five; the commissioners of the county of Franklin, operating under the provisions of chapter four hundred and twenty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-three; the Nantucket Planning and Economic Development Commission, operating under the provisions of chapter five hundred and sixty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-three; and the Old Colony Planning Council, operating under the provisions of chapter three hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven. Grants shall be provided under said program, subject to appropriation, to all such regional planning agencies in the commonwealth, except the Martha's Vineyard Commission, in the following proportions: a base grant of twenty thousand dollars shall be allocated to each regional planning agency qualifying under this section, and, of the funds remaining under said program after such allocation, fifty per cent of such funds shall be distributed among such regional planning agencies in proportion to the population of the area served by each such agency, compared to the total population served by all such agencies, and the remaining fifty per cent of such funds shall be distributed among such agencies in proportion to the number of cities and towns which are members of each such agency, compared to the total number of cities and towns which are members of all such agencies; provided, however, that no grant shall exceed the amount paid by or on account of member cities and towns to a regional planning agency during the prior fiscal year. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the population of an area served by a regional planning agency shall be the population determined for such area in the most recent federal or state census. Appropriations to fund the program authorized herein shall be charged to the Local Aid Fund.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 764.

Funds received by such regional planning agencies under said program shall be used only in accordance with a plan of activities approved by the secretary of the executive office of communities and development, which may include (a) regional planning and economic development; (b) technical assistance to member cities and towns; (c) data management and provision to cities and towns and agencies of the commonwealth; (d) assessment of need for the repair and replacement of public service systems and facilities, including water supply, sewerage, waste management, treatment, and disposal, bridges, tunnels, and underpasses, including estimates of costs and priorities; and (e) intergovernmental review, including local participation as appropriate, of applications for federally supported projects, federal and state plans and major projects, environmental assessments and reviews, industrial revenue bond applications, capital expenditures of the commonwealth, and other programs subject to regional review by law, regulation, or custom. The Berkshire county, Central Massachusetts, Franklin county, and Pioneer Valley regional planning agencies shall file with said executive office and with the house and senate committees on ways and means a report including (A) an inventory of state facilities and state owned land in each community, and (B) a detailed analysis of the impact which the state facility or state owned land has upon (i) the economic condition of the member community (ii) the reduced potential for economic development available to the private sector in each member community (iii) the infrastructure needs and public service delivery needs of each member community (iv) the lost tax revenue accruing to each member community and (v) the economy of the region served by the planning agency. Said report shall be filed by December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six. Each regional planning agency receiving such funds shall annually file with said executive office and with the house and senate committees on ways and means a report detailing the use of such funds, and the expenditure of such funds shall be subject to an annual audit by the state auditor. Prior to the receipt of any grant under this section, a regional planning agency shall certify to the executive office of communities and development that the voting membership of its governing body consists at least half of elected officials of the member local governments, or their designees, or that the elected officials of three-quarters of such member communities, or their designees, have endorsed the plan of activities of such agency.

Approved January 7, 1986.

Chapter 764. AN ACT RELATIVE TO SAVINGS BANK MERGERS AND CONVERSIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 168 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 34D the following section:–

Section 34E. (a) (1) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a savings bank may convert to a stockholder owned form of corporation pursuant to this section, either as part of a transaction in which an existing holding company acquires upon issuance all of the capital stock of the converting savings bank, or by merging into an existing stock form bank which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of an existing holding company.

(2) In both of such transactions, eligible account holders, and supplemental eligible account holders if applicable, of the converting savings bank shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights to purchase the capital stock of the holding company, in accordance with this section and such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, in lieu of all the capital stock of the converting savings bank. All the shares of capital stock of the holding company not purchased in the subscription offering shall be sold in a public offering through an underwriter or directly by the holding company in a direct community offering, subject to the converting savings bank demonstrating to the commissioner the feasibility of the method of sale and to such conditions as are provided in the plan of conversion. Such conditions shall include, but not be limited to, such conditions as are applicable, under regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under section thirty-four C, to a similar sale in a public offering or direct community offering of the shares of capital stock of such converting savings bank not sold in the subscription offering.

In connection with a conversion under this subsection, no consideration or benefit of any kind whatsoever shall accrue or be transferred or paid to any eligible account holder or supplementary eligible account holder by or on behalf of any other party to the conversion transaction or by or on behalf of any other entity, except for the subscription rights provided for in this subsection and such rights with respect to liquidation accounts as may be provided in regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under said section thirty-four C.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a savings bank may convert to a stockholder owned form of corporation pursuant to this section by merging with an existing stock bank, either as part of the transaction in which the capital stock of the converting savings bank is issued, or as part of the transaction in which the capital stock of an existing stock form bank is issued.

(2) In both transactions, eligible account holders, and supplemental account holders if applicable, shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights to purchase the capital stock of the converting savings bank or the capital stock of the existing stock form bank, as the case may be, in accordance with this section and such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe. All the shares of capital stock of the issuing bank not purchased in the subscription offering shall be sold in a public offering through an underwriter or directly by the issuing bank in a direct community offering, subject to the converting savings bank demonstrating to the commissioner the feasibility of the method of sale and to such conditions as are provided in the plan of conversion. Such conditions shall include, but not be limited to, such conditions as are applicable, under regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under said section thirty-four C, to a similar sale in a public offering or direct community offering of the shares of capital stock of such converting savings bank not sold in the subscription offering.

In connection with a conversion under this subsection, no consideration or benefit of any kind whatsoever shall accrue or be transferred or paid to any eligible account holder or supplementary eligible account holder by or on behalf of any other party to the conversion transaction or by or on behalf of any other entity, except for the subscription rights provided for in this subsection and such rights with respect to liquidation accounts as may be provided in regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under said section thirty-four C.

(c) No conversion shall be permitted under this section unless the following requirements have been fulfilled:

(1) The board of trustees of the converting savings bank has authorized the conversion and approved the plan of conversion by an affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of all trustees of the converting savings bank;

(2) The commissioner has made such findings as are required for his approval of a plan of conversion in regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under said section thirty-four C or in regulations issued pursuant to this section;

(3) The corporators of the converting savings bank have approved the plan of conversion and proposed amendments to the agreement of association and articles of organization by a vote of at least two-thirds of all corporators present and voting at a special meeting called for the purpose of such vote or at the annual meeting; and

(4) The total price at which the capital stock shall be sold shall be based upon an appraisal in accordance with the requirements applicable to price and sale of securities contained in regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under said section thirty-four C. In addition to meeting the requirements contained in such regulations, the appraisal report shall include a conclusion that the capital proposed to be raised is at least equal to the amount which could be raised by the converting savings bank if it sold its own capital stock independently in a subscription and a direct community and underwritten public offering. Such appraisal report shall further contain data that are sufficient to support such conclusion.

(d) In any conversion pursuant to this section, the stock holders of the existing stock bank or holding company thereof which is issuing capital stock as part of such conversion may receive, without payment, nontransferable rights from such stock bank or holding company thereof, as applicable, to purchase shares of its capital stock, to the extent such shares are not purchased by the eligible account holders and supplemental eligible account holders of the converting savings bank in their capacities as such; provided, however, that no stock holder of the existing stock bank or holding company thereof which is issuing capital stock as part of the conversion may purchase any amount of such capital stock which, when added to the amount of the issuing institution's stock of the same class previously owned by such stockholder, will exceed five per cent of the total number of shares of such capital stock which will be outstanding after completion of such conversion.

(e) The terms used herein shall have the same meanings as those applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under said section thirty-four C and for purposes of this section a holding company shall mean a company or bank holding company as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A and a stock bank shall mean a trust company, commercial bank or a savings bank, co-operative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law, chartered by the commonwealth or a state referred to in clause (b) of the first paragraph of section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C or a national banking association, federal savings and loan association or a federal mutual savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth or a state referred to in said clause (b). In any conversion under this section involving any such institution, as listed above, chartered by or which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in a state referred to in said clause (b), the applicable provisions of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven to one hundred and sixty-eight, inclusive, shall apply. Unless clearly inapplicable or waived by the commissioner, all of the regulations applicable to a savings bank converting to stock form under section thirty-four C shall apply to a savings bank converting under this section and the commissioner shall prescribe from time to time such other regulations as he deems appropriate. Any regulation, or any amendment or repeal of any such regulation issued under this section shall be subject to the applicable provisions of section thirty-four C.

SECTION 2. Chapter 170 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 26D the following section:–

Section 26E. (a) (1) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a co-operative bank may convert to a stock holder owned form of corporation pursuant to this section, either, as part of a transaction in which an existing holding company acquires upon issuance all of the capital stock of the converting co-operative bank; or by merging into an existing stock form bank which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of an existing holding company.

(2) In both transactions, eligible account holders, and supplemental eligible account holders if applicable, of the converting co-operative bank shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights to purchase the capital stock of the holding company, in accordance with this section and such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, in lieu of all the capital stock of the converting co-operative bank. All the shares of capital stock of the holding company not purchased in the subscription offering shall be sold in a public offering through an underwriter or directly by the holding company in a direct community offering, subject to the converting co-operative bank demonstrating to the commissioner the feasibility of the method of sale and to such conditions as are provided in the plan of conversion. Such conditions shall include, but not be limited to, such conditions as are applicable, under regulations applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under section twenty-six C, to a similar sale in a public offering or direct community offering of the shares of capital stock of such converting co-operative bank not sold in the subscription offering.

In connection with a conversion under this subsection, no consideration or benefit of any kind whatsoever shall accrue or be transferred or paid to any eligible account holder or supplementary eligible account holder by or on behalf of any other party to the conversion transaction or by or on behalf of any other entity, except for the subscription rights provided for in this subsection and such rights with respect to liquidation accounts as may be provided in regulations applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under said section twenty-six C.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a co-operative bank may convert to a stock holder owned form of corporation pursuant to this section by merging with an existing stock bank, either, as part of the transaction in which the capital stock of the converting co-operative bank is issued; or as part of the transaction in which the capital stock of an existing stock form bank is issued.

(2) In both of such transactions, eligible account holders, and supplemental account holders if applicable, shall receive, without payment, nontransferable rights to purchase the capital stock of the converting co-operative bank or the capital stock of the existing stock form bank, as the case may be, in accordance with this section and such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe. All the shares of capital stock of the issuing bank not purchased in the subscription offering shall be sold in a public offering through an underwriter or directly by the issuing bank in a direct community offering, subject to the converting co-operative bank demonstrating to the commissioner the feasibility of the method of sale and to such conditions as are provided in the plan of conversion. Such conditions shall include, but not be limited to, such conditions as are applicable, under regulations applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under said section twenty-six C, to a similar sale in a public offering or direct community offering of the shares of capital stock of such converting co-operative bank not sold in the subscription offering.

In connection with a conversion under this subsection, no consideration or benefit of any kind whatsoever shall accrue or be transferred or paid to any eligible account holder or supplementary eligible account holder by or on behalf of any other party to the conversion transaction or by or on behalf of any other entity, except for the subscription rights provided for in this subsection and such rights with respect to liquidation accounts as may be provided in regulations applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under said section twenty-six C.

(c) No conversion shall be permitted under this section unless the following requirements have been fulfilled:

(1) The board of directors of the converting co-operative bank has authorized the conversion and approved the plan of conversion by an affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of all directors of the converting co-operative bank;

(2) The commissioner has made such findings as are required for his approval of a plan of conversion in regulations applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under said section twenty-six C or in regulations issued pursuant to this section;

(3) The shareholders of the converting co-operative bank have approved the plan of conversion and proposed amendments to the agreement of association and articles of organization by a vote of at least two-thirds of all shareholders present and voting at a special meeting called for the purpose of such vote or at the annual meeting; and

(4) The total price at which the capital stock shall be sold shall be based upon an appraisal in accordance with the requirements applicable to price and sale of securities contained in regulations applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under said section twenty-six C. In addition to meeting the requirements contained in such regulations, the appraisal report shall include a conclusion that the capital proposed to be raised is at least equal to the amount which could be raised by the converting co-operative bank if it sold its own capital stock independently in a subscription and a direct community and underwritten public offering. Such appraisal report shall further contain data that are sufficient to support such conclusion.

(d) In any conversion pursuant to this section, the stockholders of the existing stock bank or holding company thereof which is issuing capital stock as part of such conversion may receive, without payment, nontransferable rights from such stock bank or holding company thereof, as applicable, to purchase shares of its capital stock, to the extent such shares are not purchased by the eligible account holders and supplemental eligible account holders of the converting cooperative bank in their capacities as such; provided, however, that no stockholder of the existing stock bank or holding company thereof which is issuing capital stock as part of the conversion may purchase any amount of such capital stock which, when added to the amount of the issuing institution's stock of the same class previously owned by such stockholder, will exceed five per cent of the total number of shares of such capital stock which will be outstanding after completion of such conversion.

(e) The terms used herein shall have the same meanings as those applicable to a co-operative bank converting to stock form under said section twenty-six C and for purposes of this section a holding company shall mean a company or bank holding company as defined in chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A and a stock bank shall mean a trust company, commercial bank or a savings bank, co-operative bank which has converted under applicable provisions of law, chartered by the commonwealth or a state referred to in clause (b) of the first paragraph or section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven C or a national banking association, federal savings and loan association or a federal mutual savings bank which has converted to a stock corporation which has its main office located in, and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth or a state referred to in said clause (b). In any conversion under this section involving any such institution, as listed above, chartered by or which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in a state referred to in said clause (b), the applicable provisions of chapters one hundred and sixty-seven to one hundred and seventy, inclusive, shall apply. Unless clearly inapplicable

Chapter 771. AN ACT RELATIVE TO FACILITATING INTRA AND INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION FOR CERTAIN MOTOR VEHICLES AND SEMI-TRAILERS.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide for orderly intra and interstate transportation for certain motor vehicles and semitrailers, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety and convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30A of chapter 85 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the second paragraph the following paragraph:–

Application for a special permit under this section may be approved, and a permit may be issued, to allow the operation of a vehicle for a weight in excess of the weight for which such vehicle is registered if such vehicle is owned or leased by a carrier not domiciled in this commonwealth. In connection with the issuance of a permit to a vehicle owned or leased by a carrier that is not domiciled in this commonwealth, the commissioner of public works may collect a reasonable fee therefor based upon the difference between the weight for which the permit is issued and the weight for which the vehicle is registered, but in no event shall such fee exceed the registration fee that would be collected from a carrier domiciled in this commonwealth to register a vehicle for such weight differential. The receipts from such fee shall be deposited into the highway fund.

SECTION 2. Section 19A of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

No motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit or tandem unit shall be operated, nor shall the owner or bailee thereof require or authorize such operation, when the gross weight of such motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit, or tandem unit exceeds the weight provided by this chapter or that specified in any permit issued by the commissioner of public works under sections thirty and thirty A of chapter eighty-five, whichever is greater, but in no event in excess of the gross weight for which such vehicle is registered, except in the case of a vehicle owned or leased by a carrier that is not domiciled in this commonwealth and which has a permit under section thirty A of chapter eighty-five to operate in excess of its registered gross weight; nor shall any person load or cause to be loaded such vehicles in excess of such weights. If the gross weight of any such motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit or tandem unit does not exceed one hundred and five per cent of the maximum gross weight provided by such permit, such motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit or tandem unit shall not be deemed to be operating in violation of the provisions of sections thirty and thirty A of chapter eighty-five; but if the gross vehicle weight of such motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit or tandem unit does exceed the said one hundred and five per cent of the maximum gross weight provided by said permit, any penalty provided by this chapter shall be determined on the difference between the actual gross weight of such motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit or tandem unit and the weight authorized by this section or the weight authorized by the said permit for such motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, semitrailer unit or tandem unit, whichever weight is greater, at the time of such violation.

Upon the finding by an officer authorized to enforce the provisions of this chapter that a motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer or semitrailer unit exceeds the said one hundred and five per cent of the maximum gross weight provided in said permit, or otherwise violates the conditions of any permit issued under sections thirty and thirty A of chapter eighty-five or section nineteen of this chapter, said officer may exercise reasonable discretion to prevent the continued transport of a load that is the principle cause of the violation. Neither the finding of such violation, nor the exercise of such reasonable discretion, however, shall be construed as nullifying or revoking any such permit, or as having any effect, beyond the actual citation of the violation, on the assessment of any penalties provided under section twenty.

Approved January 8, 1986.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 772.

Thence turning and running along the property division lines of land of COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT, and land now or formerly of WHITEHALL REALTY TRUST in four courses:

S 82°-57'-25" W, 122.64 feet to a point;

N 60°-56'-40" W, 282.44 feet to a stone bound;

S 60°-38'-15" W, 230.62 feet to a stone bound; and S 83°-56'-39" W, 295.01 feet to the point of beginning.

The above described parcel, containing about 9.96 acres is shown as Parcel No. 1 on a plan to be filed with the Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds and which is entitled "Plan of Land – Hopkinton, Mass., Property of Whitehall Realty Trust and Property of Commonwealth of Massachusetts", dated January 30, 1985, and drawn by Connorstone, Inc., Engineers and Surveyors, Ashland, Massachusetts.

The easement shall be approved as to form by the attorney general and shall contain the following provisions as the commissioner of environmental management shall determine including such terms and conditions as are necessary to comply with all laws in relation to the protection, preservation and development of state parks and all laws regarding public drinking water supply:

1. The town of Hopkinton shall have the exclusive right and easement to draw water from the two well sites as shown on the above referenced plan and to construct all appropriate wells, pumping stations, pipes, access roadways and any and all other appurtenances as may be necessary to accomplish the development of a public water supply.

2. The department of environmental management shall have the right to utilize those portions of the premises subject hereof being in excess of the area of contribution as determined by the department of environmental quality engineering from the well sites as well as the areas at the shoreline of the Whitehall Reservoir, for passive recreational and environmental use including walking, hiking and similar uses by the public, such uses to expressly exclude motorized vehicles, boat ramps or public sanitary facilities. Should such uses within the area of contribution as determined by the department of environmental quality engineering cause adverse affects upon the use of the premises by the Town of Hopkinton, the town shall have the right to terminate such use.

The department of environmental management shall have no right of access or authority to permit the public to have access within the area of contribution as determined by the department of environmental quality engineering and as above described except as otherwise set forth herein.

3. The town of Hopkinton shall limit access on the roadways to be built upon said premises to authorized representatives of the departments of the town of Hopkinton by installation of a gate at the entrance of all access roadways to said premises.

4. The town of Hopkinton shall be responsible for plowing the boat landing parking area off Route No. 135 on the northerly side of the Whitehall reservoir as appropriate during the entire term of this grant of easement.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 773.

5. The department of environmental management shall continue to maintain the easement area in excess of the area of contribution as determined by the department of environmental quality engineering from the well sites aforesaid and to be responsible for the mowing of grass and trash and litter removal. The use of pesticides, herbicides, etc., shall be strictly prohibited from use within the area of contribution as determined by the department of environmental quality engineering.

6. The town of Hopkinton shall not construct a fence around the said easement area but may construct fences within, the area of contribution as determined by the department of environmental quality engineering of each well site as it deems necessary or appropriate.

7. Said easement shall be granted upon the express condition that the land shall be used for public water supply purposes only if said land ceases to be used as such, said right and easement shall terminate and revert to the department of environmental management. The cessation of use of the land for water supply purposes of the easement to said department shall be accomplished through compliance with section fifteen B of chapter forty, and Article ninety-seven of the Amendments to the Massachusetts Constitution.

SECTION 2. The consideration for the easement described in section one shall be the obligation of the town of Hopkinton to plow the parking area on the northerly side of the Whitehall reservoir during the entire term of this grant of easement.

SECTION 3. Notwithstanding the easement provided for in section one, the commissioner of the department of environmental management shall maintain the obligation for the supervision of the land subject to the terms set forth above.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 773. AN ACT ESTABLISHING A SPECIAL ACCOUNT FOR THE SPRINGFIELD MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-three of chapter forty-four of the General Laws or any other provision of law to the contrary, the city of Springfield is hereby authorized to establish a special account to be known as the "Springfield Municipal Hospital Operations Account". Into such account shall be deposited all receipts, revenues and funds from any source derived from any activity of the Springfield municipal hospital so established under the provisions of chapter four hundred and fifty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-eight.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 773.

SECTION 2. The account authorized by section one shall be maintained by the city treasurer in a banking institution in the city and expenditures from such account shall be made by the director of the Springfield municipal hospital without appropriation, and not subject to line-item restrictions, and used solely for the operation and maintenance and for the provision of capital, equipment and plant for said hospital. Such account shall be maintained in accordance with generally accepted principles of accounting, and shall be audited annually by a certified public accountant. Such audits shall be submitted to the board of trustees of said hospital, the mayor and the members of the city council of said city. The city treasurer shall be authorized to invest the monies in such special account as authorized by sections fifty-five and fifty-five A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws and the interest accruing thereon shall inure to the benefit of Springfield municipal hospital. For the purpose of providing health care for the citizens of the city of Springfield, said city may from time to time appropriate monies into said account and donations from private sources may be received into such special account.

SECTION 3. The city treasurer, upon the written request of the director of the Springfield municipal hospital, and approval by the board of trustees, the mayor, and by two-thirds vote of the city council, shall advance funds from the general fund of the city in any fiscal year in anticipation of the receipt of revenues of said Springfield Municipal Hospital for that same fiscal year. All such sums so advanced shall be deposited into such account established under section one and the said hospital shall prior to the end of each fiscal year repay such advances to the general fund together with an amount equal to the interest as determined by the city treasurer to be allocable to any debt incurred during that fiscal year by the city in anticipation of revenue in order to make such advances. Any deficiency resulting from advances hereunder may be raised by taxation, subject to all applicable provisions of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 4. The director of the Springfield municipal hospital shall file with the mayor, the city council and the treasurer of said city and the bureau of accounts a written report of the special account established in section one within one hundred and twenty days after the books are closed for the fiscal year. Such report shall include financial statements relating to the operations, maintenance, capital and real properties of said hospital. The city council may review and comment upon such report and the city council may file such comment with the bureau of accounts. The director shall annually, not later than ninety days prior to the expiration of each fiscal year, submit to the mayor a proposed line-item budget as approved by the board of trustees of said hospital. The mayor shall transmit to the city council, within thirty days thereafter, his recommendation concerning approval thereof in whole or in part. The city council may by majority vote make appropriations for the purposes recommended and may reduce or reject any amount recommended in the annual budget, but except on recommendation of the mayor, shall not increase any amount in or the total of the annual budget, nor add thereto any amount for a purpose not included therein. The city council shall act upon the budget within thirty days of its receipt and, once approved, the vote of the city council shall establish the total budget but may not limit the authority of the director to determine expenditures within the total budget. The provisions of sections thirty-two to thirty-three B, inclusive, of chapter forty-four of the General Laws shall not apply to such budget.

SECTION 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 774. AN ACT RELATIVE TO PROFESSIONAL CORPORATIONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter 156A and inserting in place thereof the following chapter:–

CHAPTER 156A.

PROFESSIONAL CORPORATIONS.

Section 1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Professional Corporation Law.

Section 2. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Professional corporation", a domestic corporation organized under this chapter for the purpose of rendering one or more professional services. As used in sections five, six, eight, ten and nineteen, the term "professional corporation" shall also include foreign professional corporations.

(b) "Professional service", (i) the service performed by registered physicians and surgeons, chiropractors, podiatrists, engineers, electrologists, physical therapists, psychologists, certified public accountants, public accountants, dentists, veterinarians, and optometrists, so long as the foregoing are registered or licensed under the provisions of chapter one hundred and twelve; and by attorneys-at-law admitted to practice in the courts of the commonwealth under chapter two hundred and twenty-one; (ii) any other type of service which may be rendered only pursuant to a license issued under law of the commonwealth, if the applicable regulating boards permit the licensed person to incorporate his profession under this chapter, or if such licensed person elects to incorporate his profession under this chapter and such incorporation is not prohibited by law or by regulations of the applicable regulating board.

(c) "Regulating board", a board or governing authority which is charged with licensing and regulating the profession of any person performing a professional service.

(d) "Foreign professional corporation", a corporation organized for the purpose of rendering professional service under a law other than the law of the commonwealth.

(e) "Qualified person", with respect to any professional corporation means a natural person, general partnership, or professional corporation which is eligible under this chapter to own shares issued by such professional corporation.

(f) "Disqualified person", with respect to any professional corporation means any natural person, corporation, partnership, or other entity which for any reason is or becomes ineligible under this chapter to own shares issued by such professional corporation.

Section 3. (a) Except as hereinafter provided, a professional corporation may be organized under this chapter only for the purpose of rendering professional services and services ancillary thereto within a single profession.

(b) A professional corporation may be organized for the purpose of rendering professional services within two or more professions except to the extent expressly prohibited by the licensing laws of the commonwealth applicable to such professions or the regulations of any of the applicable regulating boards.

(c) The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed as prohibiting the organization of a corporation to render professional services, or as limiting the rendering of professional services or the practice of any profession under any other provisions of law except to the extent expressly prohibited or limited by such provisions of law or the regulations of the applicable regulating boards.

Section 4. (a) All of the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B shall be applicable to professional corporations and such corporations shall enjoy the powers and privileges, and be subject to the duties, restrictions and liabilities of corporations organized under said chapter, except where inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(b) A professional corporation may own real and personal property necessary or appropriate for rendering the professional service it was organized to render, and may invest its funds in real estate, mortgages, stocks, bonds, or any other type of investment.

Section 5. A professional corporation may render professional services in the commonwealth only through its officers, employees and agents who are duly licensed to render such professional services in the commonwealth; provided, however, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed (a) to require any person who is employed by a professional corporation to be licensed to perform services for which no license is otherwise required, (b) to prohibit the rendering of professional services by a licensed natural person acting in his individual capacity, notwithstanding that such person may be a shareholder, director, officer, employee or agent of a professional corporation, or (c) to prohibit unlicensed persons employed by a professional corporation from rendering professional services under the supervision of licensed officers, employees or agents of such professional corporation, to the extent permitted by law or the regulations of the applicable regulating board.

Section 6. (a) Except as otherwise provided by law or regulation, the personal liability of a shareholder of a professional corporation organized under this chapter shall be no greater in any respect than that of a shareholder of a corporation organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-six B.

(b) This chapter shall not alter any law applicable to the relationship between a person rendering professional services and a person receiving such services, including liability arising out of such professional services.

(c) Any privilege applicable to communications between a person rendering professional services and the person receiving such services shall extend to communications between a professional corporation or its employees rendering professional services and the person receiving such services.

Section 7. One or more individuals, each of whom is licensed to perform a professional service, may organize a professional corporation by complying with the provisions of section twelve of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B. The articles of organization of a professional corporation shall contain the following:

(a) corporate purposes indicating the professional services to be rendered;

(b) the names and residence addresses of all of the original shareholders, directors and officers;

(c) a certificate by the appropriate regulating board or boards that each of the incorporators, the president and any vice presidents, a majority of the directors and each shareholder is duly licensed to render a professional service permitted by the articles of organization of the corporation.

Section 8. The corporate name of every professional corporation shall end with the word "Professional Corporation", "Corporation" or "Incorporated" or the abbreviation "P.C.", "Corp." or "Inc." or any other word or words which in the judgment of the state secretary indicates that the professional corporation is incorporated; provided, however, that a regulating board may by rule adopt further requirements as to the names of professional corporations organized to render a professional service subject to the jurisdiction of such regulating board.

Section 9. A majority of directors of a professional corporation and all of its officers except the treasurer, clerk, secretary and any assistant treasurer, assistant clerk or assistant secretary shall be licensed in the commonwealth to render a professional service permitted by the articles of organization of the corporation.

Section 10. (a) A professional corporation may issue shares, fractional shares, and rights or options to purchase shares only to:

(1) natural persons who are licensed in the commonwealth or in any other state or territory of the United States or the District of Columbia to render a professional service permitted by the articles of organization of the corporation;

(2) general partnerships in which all the partners are natural persons described in subparagraph (1); and

(3) professional corporations authorized by law to render a professional service permitted by the articles of organization of the corporation.

(b) A regulating board may by rule further restrict the authority of professional corporations to issue or transfer shares, but no such rule shall have the effect of causing a shareholder of a professional corporation at the time such rule becomes effective to become a disqualified person.

(c) A shareholder of a professional corporation may transfer shares and rights or options to purchase shares of the corporation only to qualified persons, as defined herein; provided, however, that, subject to sections twelve and thirteen, nothing herein shall prohibit the pledge of shares of a professional corporation to a disqualified person or the transfer of such shares by operation of law or court decree to a disqualified person.

(d) Nothing herein shall prevent a professional corporation from adopting other restrictions on the transfer of its shares or requiring that transferees be approved by its shareholders or directors under provisions of its articles of organization, by-laws or an agreement binding upon all of its shareholders.

(e) Every certificate issued representing shares of a professional corporation shall state thereon in bold print that the shares represented thereby are subject to restrictions on transfer imposed by this chapter and any further restrictions on transfer imposed by the appropriate regulating board or boards from time to time pursuant to this chapter.

(f) All transfers of shares in violation of this section shall be void.

Section 11. No proxy for shares of a professional corporation shall be valid unless it shall be given to a qualified person, or unless it is limited to voting for one or more of the actions described in subsection (a) of section thirteen under the circumstances described therein. A voting trust with respect to shares of a professional corporation shall not be valid unless all the trustees and beneficiaries thereof are qualified persons, except that such voting trust may be validly continued for a period of not more than six months after the death of a trustee or beneficiary or for a period of not more than six months after a trustee or beneficiary has become a disqualified person.

Section 12. (a) It shall be provided in the articles of organization or by-laws of a professional corporation, or in an agreement binding upon all of its shareholders, that the corporation shall redeem all of the shares of a shareholder upon the occurrence of any one or more of the following events, unless the provisions of section thirteen apply or said shares are transferred to a qualified person within twelve months after occurrence of the event:

- (1) If such shareholder dies;
- (2) If such shareholder is determined to be disqualified to render professional service for a period of six months or more;
- (3) If such shareholder is determined, in the manner set forth in the applicable instrument, to be incompetent or permanently disabled so as to be unable to render any professional services on behalf of the corporation;
- (4) If such shareholder voluntarily withdraws from the active practice of professional services on behalf of the corporation;
- (5) If any of the shares of such shareholder are transferred voluntarily or by operation of law to a disqualified person; or
- (6) If any other event specified in the articles of organization or by-laws or said shareholder agreement shall occur.

(b) The redemption of shares shall take place within twelve months after the occurrence of any of the events described in subsection (a), unless a shorter time is specified in the articles of organization, by-laws or said shareholder agreement. The consideration for such redemption shall be an amount equal to the fair value of such shares on the date of said event, unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, by-laws or said shareholder agreement. In lieu of such redemption, all the shares of such shareholder may be transferred to a qualified person within such twelve month period.

(c) If a redemption or transfer of any shares of a professional corporation is not completed within the prescribed time period, such shares may be cancelled by the corporation and the holder shall have no further interest or rights of a shareholder of the corporation other than the right to receive an amount equal to the fair value of his shares under subsection (b), unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization, by-laws or said shareholder agreement.

(d) Nothing herein shall affect the obligations of a professional corporation to a shareholder whose interest in the corporation is terminated hereunder with respect to compensation, benefits or other matters accrued prior to his termination or disqualification.

(e) During the pendency of a redemption or transfer hereunder of the shares of a shareholder who is deceased, disabled or incompetent, said shares may be voted by the personal representatives of such shareholder.

Section 13. (a) If any of the events described in subsection (a) of section twelve shall occur with respect to the sole shareholder of a professional corporation or if the corporation is disqualified from rendering, or will cease rendering, any further professional services pursuant to this chapter, in lieu of or in addition to the redemption or transfer of the shares of such shareholder under said section twelve, within twelve months thereafter

(1) the corporation shall be liquidated and dissolved;

(2) the corporation shall be merged into or consolidated with a corporation qualified to render the same professional service or services; or

(3) the corporation shall be merged into, consolidated with or changed by articles of amendment into a corporation organized pursuant to chapter one hundred and fifty-six B in accordance with section fourteen.

In the event that such action has not been taken within such twelve month period, the corporation shall cease rendering any professional service until all its shares are owned by one or more qualified persons and the corporation is otherwise in compliance with the terms of this chapter.

(b) During the pendency of action under subsection (a) of this section, so long as a professional corporation has ceased to render professional services under this chapter, persons may be elected or appointed as its officers or directors who are not qualified to render professional services on its behalf, and its shares may be voted by the personal representative of a deceased or incapacitated shareholder.

Section 14. A professional corporation which has ceased to render any professional services under this chapter or which is permitted to render professional services as a business corporation organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-six B may change its status by merging into or consolidating with such a business corporation or by filing articles of amendment to change its name, where necessary, and purposes to those of such a business corporation.

Section 15. If action required by sections twelve or thirteen is not taken within the prescribed time period, or if it shall be established that a professional corporation has failed to comply with any other provisions of this chapter, the state secretary may dissolve the corporation in accordance with section one hundred and one of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B. The state secretary may also dissolve a professional corporation upon receipt of a certificate from any regulating board with jurisdiction stating that such corporation has failed to comply with the requirements of such board so as to give due cause for its dissolution, which certificate shall recite pertinent facts to support the requested dissolution. A copy of such certificate shall be given to such corporation at least sixty days in advance of said dissolution.

Section 16. (a) Except as provided in section fourteen, a professional corporation may merge or consolidate with another corporation, domestic or foreign, only if every shareholder of each corporation is a qualified person with respect to the surviving or resulting corporation.

(b) Upon the merger or consolidation of a professional corporation, if the surviving or resulting corporation is to render professional services in the commonwealth, it shall comply with the provisions of this chapter.

Section 17. (a) A foreign professional corporation shall register under the provisions of this section if (1) it maintains an office in the commonwealth; or (2) any of its shareholders, officers, or directors conducts such activity on behalf of the corporation in the commonwealth as to require licensing under the provisions of chapter one hundred and twelve or chapter two hundred and twenty-one.

(b) Any foreign professional corporation, including corporations subject to subsection (a), may register under the provisions of this section in order to render one or more professional services in the commonwealth; provided, however, that (1) the name of the corporation meets the requirements of this chapter and of section five of chapter one hundred and eighty-one; (2) the corporation is organized only for one or more purposes for which a professional corporation organized under this chapter may be organized; and (3) all the shareholders, a majority of the directors and all of its officers except the treasurer, clerk, secretary and any assistant treasurer, assistant clerk and assistant secretary are qualified persons and all the shareholders, directors, officers and employees who will render a professional service in the commonwealth are duly licensed in the commonwealth to do so.

(c) A foreign professional corporation shall register to practice in the commonwealth by filing with the state secretary the certificate and evidence of legal existence in the jurisdiction of incorporation required by section four of chapter one hundred and eighty-one. Such certificate shall in addition contain the following information and exhibits: (1) a description of the professional services to be rendered in the commonwealth through the professional corporation; (2) the names and residence addresses of all the shareholders, directors, and officers of the professional corporation and designations of which of them will render professional services in the commonwealth; (3) a statement that a majority of the directors and all of the officers, except the treasurer, clerk, secretary, and any assistant treasurer, assistant clerk and assistant secretary are natural persons who are licensed in a state or territory of the United States or the District of Columbia to render a professional service authorized by the corporation's articles of organization, or the equivalent, and that all of the shareholders are such persons, general partnerships comprised solely of such persons, or professional corporations authorized to render such professional services; and (4) a certificate by the appropriate regulating board or boards that the persons required by clause (3) of subsection (b) to be licensed in the commonwealth are so licensed.

(d) Every foreign professional corporation shall, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, be subject to the provisions of sections six and eight to sixteen, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and eighty-one.

(e) The certificate of registration of a foreign professional corporation may be revoked by the state secretary if such corporation fails to comply with any provision of this chapter applicable to it or upon receipt by the state secretary of a certificate from any regulating board with jurisdiction stating that such corporation has failed to comply with the requirements of such authority so as to give due cause for revocation of its registration, which certificate shall recite pertinent facts to support the proposed revocation. No certificate of registration of a foreign professional corporation shall be revoked by the state secretary unless he shall have given the corporation not less than sixty days' notice thereof and the corporation shall have failed prior to the effective date of the revocation to correct such noncompliance.

Section 18. The annual report of a professional corporation or a foreign professional corporation shall, in addition to the information required by section one hundred and nine of chapter one hundred and fifty-six B or section four of chapter one hundred and eighty-one, as the case may be, list the names and residence addresses of all shareholders and shall contain a certification that all such shareholders or all of the partners of a shareholder which is a general partnership are duly licensed to render one or more professional services for which the corporation was organized or are professional corporations authorized to render such professional services. A duplicate original copy of each annual report shall be filed at the same time with the regulating board. No filing fee shall be charged by the regulating board for such filing.

Section 19. Each regulating board in the commonwealth is hereby authorized to promulgate rules for professional corporations consistent with this chapter which are deemed necessary in the public interest or required by the public health or welfare or by generally recognized standards of professional conduct. Nothing in this chapter shall restrict or limit in any manner the authority or duty of regulating board with respect to natural persons rendering a professional service within the jurisdiction of the licensing authority, or any law, rule or regulation pertaining to standards of professional conduct.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 775.

SECTION 2. Section 3 of chapter 156B of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the introductory clause and by inserting in place thereof the following introductory clause:–

Except so far as such application may be inconsistent with (i) provisions still in force of any special acts of incorporation, enacted before March eleventh, eighteen hundred and thirty-one, and not subject to amendment, alteration or repeal by the general court, or (ii) provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-six A applicable to professional corporations incorporated thereunder, this chapter shall apply to:.

SECTION 3. Section 4 of chapter 180 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:–

If a corporation is formed under this chapter for the purpose of rendering one or more professional services as defined in chapter one hundred and fifty-six A, the relationship between the corporation or an employee thereof rendering professional service and the person receiving such service shall be the same as if such corporation or employee rendered such service to said person as an individual practitioner, including any liability arising out of the rendering of such service.

SECTION 4. Chapter 182 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 5 the following section:–

Section 5A. If a trust is formed under this chapter for the purpose of rendering one or more professional services as defined in chapter one hundred and fifty-six A, the relationship between the trust or a trustee or employee thereof rendering professional service and the person receiving such service shall be the same as if such trust or trustee or employee rendered such service to said person as an individual practitioner, including any liability arising out of the rendering of such service.

SECTION 5. Any corporation organized under chapter one hundred and fifty-six A may file with the state secretary within ninety days after the effective date of this act an election to be governed by this act signed by all of the stockholders of the corporation.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Chapter 775. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DIVISION OF CAPITAL PLANNING AND OPERATIONS TO CONVEY TO THE TOWN OF WEST TISBURY CERTAIN LAND LOCATED IN MARTHA'S VINEYARD STATE FOREST FOR THE PURPOSE OF ACCESS TO TOWN CONSERVATION LAND.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 775.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The division of capital planning and operations, in consultation with the department of environmental management, is hereby authorized to convey to the town of West Tisbury, by deed approved as to form by the attorney general, a certain parcel of land in the Martha's Vineyard State Forest, under the care and control of the department of environmental management, for the purpose of access to town conservation land, as shown on a plan drawn by Peter W. Soule dated April 19, 1983, a copy of which is on file with the department of environmental management, particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone bound, being the point of common tangency among the towns of West Tisbury, Tisbury, Oak Bluffs, and Edgartown, commonly known as the Four-Town Bound, and running North  $89^{\circ} 41' 50''$  East a distance of 3237.15 feet along the borderline between the towns of Oak Bluffs and Edgartown to a stone bound in the sideline of Airport Road,

Thence running South  $08^{\circ} 57' 47''$  West a distance of 30.39 feet along the sideline of Airport Road to a point,

Thence running South  $89^{\circ} 41' 50''$  West a distance of 3228.03 feet through land formerly of the Department of Environmental Management to a point in the borderline between the towns of West Tisbury and Edgartown, Thence running North  $08^{\circ} 24' 13''$  West a distance of 30.30 feet along the borderline between the towns of West Tisbury and Edgartown to the stone bound, commonly known as the Four-Town Bound, which marks the point of beginning.

This parcel of land contains 2.23 Acres more or less.

SECTION 2. In consideration of the above conveyance, the town of West Tisbury shall convey to the commonwealth a parcel of land in the town of Tisbury, particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone bound, being the point of common tangency among the towns of West Tisbury, Tisbury, Oak Bluffs, and Edgartown, commonly known as the Four-Town Bound, and running North  $08^{\circ} 28' 33''$  West along the borderline between the towns of Tisbury and Oak Bluffs to a point in the sideline of Little Pond Road,

Thence turning Westerly and running along the Southerly sideline of Little Pond Road to a point in the borderline between the towns of Tisbury and West Tisbury, Thence running South  $33^{\circ} 09' 52''$  East to a stone bound, being the point of common tangency among the towns of West Tisbury, Tisbury, Oak Bluffs, and Edgartown, commonly known as the Four-Town Bound.

All of said boundaries except the line of Little Pond Road are determined by the Land Court to be located as shown on a plan drawn by William A. Colby, Surveyor, dated April 13, 1928, as modified and approved by the court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion is filed with Certificate #361.

This parcel of land contains 15 acres, more or less.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 776.

SECTION 3. This conveyance authorized by sections one and two shall be subject to the terms and conditions of a memorandum of understanding that will be executed by the division of capital planning and operations in consultation with the department of environmental management and the town of West Tisbury which shall provide that the land conveyed to the town pursuant to section one shall revert to the commonwealth in the event the land known as the "Greenlands", to which access is provided by said land conveyed pursuant to section one, is no longer restricted to passive recreational and wellfield use, and shall be filed with the department of environmental management on or before the effective date of this act.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 776. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE REPORTING OF CERTAIN INSTITUTIONAL ABUSE AND NEGLECT CASES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10 of chapter 28A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:—

(f) The office shall promptly investigate and evaluate any notice transmitted to the office by the department of social services under clause (9) of section fifty-one B of chapter one hundred and nineteen. Such investigation and evaluation shall determine whether the facility being operated by a person subject to licensure under this section is being operated in compliance with this chapter and with the rules and regulations established under paragraph (c). If, during the course of any such investigation or licensing study conducted by the office, any agent or employee of the office receives or discovers information concerning the occurrence of child abuse or neglect, such agent or that employee shall make a report to the department of social services, pursuant to the provisions of section fifty-one A of chapter one hundred and nineteen.

SECTION 2. Section 51B of chapter 119 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following two clauses:—

(9) notify in writing the office for children by transmitting to said office a copy of the report received under section fifty-one A and a copy of the report prepared under section fifty-one B if and when such report alleges that abuse or neglect occurred at a facility operated by a person subject to licensure or approval by said office under section ten of chapter twenty-eight A, and when the department has substantiated said report. Said department and said office may coordinate their activities conducted under this section and paragraph (f) of said section ten. No provision of chapter sixty-six A, section one hundred and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and twelve, sections fifty-one E and fifty-one F of this chapter, or any other provision of law, shall prohibit the department from transmitting a copy of the reports prepared under the provisions of sections fifty-one A and fifty-one B to said office, or from conducting coordinated activities and sharing information with said office as herein provided, or from having its employees testify at administrative hearings held by said office in connection with matters about which said department has provided notice to said office under this section. Said department and said office shall make all reasonable efforts to minimize the number of interviews of any child-victim which may be necessary. If as a result of any report made under the provisions of said section fifty-one A or an investigation made under the provisions of said section fifty-one B, said department is made aware of information or circumstances indicating a licensing violation in any facility operated by a person subject to licensure or approval by said office, said department shall forthwith notify said office of such information. No provision of chapter sixty-six A, sections fifty-one E and fifty-one F of this chapter, or any other provision of law shall prohibit said office from providing information to said department in connection with matters about which said department has provided notice to said office under this section.

(10) notify in writing the department of mental health, the department of public health, and the department of youth services by transmitting to any of said departments a copy of the report received under section fifty-one A and a copy of the report prepared under section fifty-one B if and when that report alleges that abuse or neglect occurred at a facility owned, operated or funded, in whole or in part, by any of said departments, and when the department of social services has substantiated said report. Said department of social services and any of said departments may coordinate their respective activities conducted under this section, and shall make all reasonable efforts to minimize the number of interviews of any child-victim which may be necessary. No provision of chapter sixty-six A, section one hundred and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and twelve, sections fifty-one E and fifty-one F of this chapter, or any other provision of law, shall prohibit said department of social services from transmitting a copy of said reports made under the provisions of said sections fifty-one A and fifty-one B to any of said departments or from conducting coordinated activities and sharing information with any of said departments as herein provided, or from having its employees testify at administrative hearings held by any of said departments in connection with matters about which said department of social services has provided notice to any of said departments under this section.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 777. AN ACT REGULATING THE PENALTIES TO BE ASSESSED FOR VIOLATION OF REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE STORAGE, TRANSPORTATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF GAS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 778.

SECTION 1. Section 40 of chapter 82 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the last paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Any person, contractor or company found by the department of public utilities, after a hearing, to have violated any provision of this section shall forfeit to the commonwealth the sum of two hundred dollars for the first offense and not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for any subsequent offense.

SECTION 2. Section 105A of chapter 164 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following two paragraphs:–

Any person, firm or corporation who violates any provision of any code adopted by the department pertaining to the safety of pipeline facilities and the transportation of gas, or of any regulation or rule thereunder, at a time when the department has submitted and has in effect the annual certification to the United States Secretary of Transportation provided for in section five A of the Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act amendments of 1974 (see section 1674 of Title 49 of the United States Code), shall be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation for each day that the violation persists; provided, however, that the maximum civil penalty shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars for any related series of violations.

Any such civil penalty shall be determined by the department. In determining the amount of the penalty, the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the person, firm, or corporation charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person, firm or corporation charged in attempting to achieve compliance, after notification of a violation, shall be considered. The amount of the penalty, when finally determined, may be deducted from any sums which the commonwealth may owe to the person, firm or corporation charged or may be recovered in a civil action commenced in the superior court.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 778. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF DISTINCTIVE LICENSE PLATES TO MEMBERS OF THE LEGION OF VALOR.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The sixth paragraph of section 2 of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by inserting after the fourth sentence the following sentence:–
The registrar may issue, to a member of the Legion of Valor of the United States of America, Inc., upon presentation of satisfactory evidence of such membership, as determined by the registrar, distinctive registration plates for one pleasure passenger vehicle owned and principally used by said member.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 779.

SECTION 2. Section 33 of said chapter 90, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the penultimate paragraph the following paragraph:–

No fee shall be exacted for the registration of a pleasure passenger vehicle owned and principally used by a member of the Legion of Valor of America, Inc. who is entitled to display thereon the distinctive number plates authorized by section two.

Chapter 779. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE COMMONWEALTH TO GRANT CERTAIN EASEMENTS FOR SEWER PURPOSES TO THE TOWN OF TEWKSBURY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The division of capital planning and operations, acting in the name and on behalf of the commonwealth, is hereby authorized to grant, by deed approved as to form by the attorney general, the following easements in land located in the town of Tewksbury under the control of the department of public health for sewer purposes to the town of Tewksbury.

An easement 20 feet in width running from land of Hupper Realty Trust Northwesterly to an existing 20 foot sewer easement being shown on a plan entitled "Easement Plan of Land in Tewksbury, Massachusetts, prepared for the Town of Tewksbury, July 2, 1984, William G. Troy & Associates" which plan is to be recorded herewith and being more specifically bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the boundary line between land of Kathleen R. Hupper et al, Trustees of Hupper Realty Trust and land of Commonwealth of Massachusetts as shown on said plan; thence NORTH 25° 23' 39" West, 138.40 feet to a point; thence NORTH 70° 21' 30" West, 342.81 feet to a point at "Existing 20' Sewer Easement" as shown on said plan; thence

SOUTHWESTERLY along said easement 20 feet to a point; thence

SOUTHEASTERLY 337.33 feet to a point; thence

SOUTHEASTERLY 122.28 feet to the aforesaid boundary line; thence SOUTHEASTERLY 20 feet to the point of beginning.

Said division is hereby authorized to grant two temporary construction easements, each fifty feet wide running parallel to and along both sides of the sewer easement. Said easements are for the purpose of installation and maintenance of a permanent sewer line through the premises including the right to make repairs when necessary. The temporary construction easements shall expire at such time as the sewer line is completed; provided, however, that grantee or its assigns shall have the right to go on said temporary easements for the purpose of making repairs to said sewer line.

Consideration to be paid for said easements shall be the average of three independent appraisals. The appraisers shall be selected by the division of capital planning and operations in consultation with the executive office of human services. The costs of preparing these appraisals and all other expenses relative to acquiring this easement shall be the responsibility of the developer.

SECTION 2. The division of capital planning and operations acting for and on behalf of the commonwealth is hereby authorized to grant by deed, approved as to form by the attorney general, to the town of Tewksbury the following easements in land located in said town, under the control of the department of public health to be used for the installation and maintenance of a permanent sewer line, including the right to make necessary repairs.

An easement being shown on a plan entitled "Plan of Easements in Tewksbury, Massachusetts for Sewer Main Construction and Maintenance as ordered by the Board of Selectmen/Public Works Scale 1"=40', April 2, 1985, William G. Troy & Associates" which plan is to be recorded herewith and being more specifically bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point which is 25 feet northerly of East Street at land of the town of Tewksbury, thence NORTH 40° 36' 47" West at a distance of 33 feet by land of the town of Tewksbury to a point, thence SOUTH 77° 00' 00" East at a distance of 245 feet more or less, to the northerly line of East Street, thence

Chapter 781. AN ACT RELATIVE TO PENSIONS TO SURVIVING SPOUSES OF FIREFIGHTERS OR POLICE OFFICERS KILLED IN THE PERFORMANCE OF DUTY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 32 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 100, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 100. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or any other general or special law to the contrary, if a firefighter while in the performance of his duties and as the result of an accident while responding to or returning from an alarm of fire or any emergency, or as the result of an accident involving a fire department vehicle, which the firefighter is operating or in which he is riding, or while at the scene of a fire or any emergency is killed or sustains injuries which result in his death, or if a police officer while in the performance of his duties and as the result of an assault on his person or as a result of an accident involving a police department vehicle which he is operating or in which he is riding in the performance of his duties as a police officer is killed or sustains injuries which result in his death, or if a corrections officer while in the performance of his duties and as the result of an assault on his person is killed or sustains injuries which result in his death, there shall be paid to the surviving spouse of such firefighter, police officer or corrections officer an annual amount of pension which shall be equal to the amount of salary which would have been paid to such firefighter, police officer or corrections officer had he continued in service in the position held by him at the time of his death; provided, however, that the amount of pension immediately payable shall be equal to the maximum salary set for the position whether or not such firefighter, police officer or corrections officer had reached the maximum at the time of his death. Any pension payable to a surviving spouse under this section shall be paid to the surviving spouse so long as such surviving spouse remains unmarried. In the event of the death or remarriage of any surviving spouse eligible to receive a pension under this section, and in case there is any child of such deceased firefighter, police officer or corrections officer, there shall be paid to the legal guardian for the benefit of each such child the sum of three hundred and twelve dollars per annum in addition to a payment equal to seventy-two per cent of the pension which said surviving spouse was receiving at the time of such surviving spouse's death or remarriage, such payment to be made in proportionate shares to the legal guardian for the benefit of each such child until such time as all such children have attained age eighteen or have attained age twenty-one if full-time students, and such payment shall continue for the benefit of such children who are over age eighteen and physically or mentally incapacitated from earning. The words "full-time student" shall mean a child who is in full-time attendance in an accredited educational institution offering full-time courses of study equivalent to or higher than secondary school study. The words "accredited educational institution" shall mean any school, college or university that is licensed, approved or accredited, as the case may be, in the state in which it is located.

The benefits provided by this section shall be in the alternative to the benefits provided by any other section of this chapter; provided, however, that if any such deceased firefighter, police officer or corrections officer was a member of a contributory retirement system established under the provisions of section twenty, any accumulated total deductions credited to his account in the annuity savings fund of such system shall be paid in one sum in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (2) of section eleven, to his surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled thereto.

The benefits payable under this section to the surviving spouse of such deceased firefighter, police officer or corrections officer shall be paid as follows:— if the decedent was a member of the state employees' retirement system, the Massachusetts Port Authority employees' retirement system or any county, city or town contributory retirement system, as the case may be, established under the provisions of sections one to twenty-eight, inclusive, or under corresponding provisions of earlier laws, and subject thereto, or any contributory retirement system established for the employees of any governmental unit under the provisions of any special law, from the same appropriation, and in the same manner, as accidental death benefits payable under the provisions of section nine; if the decedent was not a member of a contributory retirement system, from the same appropriation, and in the same manner, as annuities to dependents payable under the provisions of section eighty-nine or section eighty-nine A.

If any firefighter, police officer or corrections officer is killed or sustains injuries resulting in his death in the manner set forth in this section, and he was so killed or sustained such injuries while assisting another governmental unit, pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (4) of section seven, the benefits provided by this section shall be paid to the surviving spouse as provided in the preceding paragraph, but the governmental unit which requested such assistance shall annually, on or before January fifteenth, reimburse the governmental unit which had employed such deceased firefighter, police officer or corrections officer in the amount of any benefits paid to his surviving spouse during the preceding calendar year.

The presumptions created by sections ninety-four and ninety-four A shall not be applicable to the death of any firefighter, police officer or corrections officer for which a pension is provided under this section.

ACTS, 1985. – Chaps. 782, 783.

This section shall be administered by the state board of retirement as to employees of the commonwealth or the metropolitan district commission; by the appropriate retirement board, established under section twenty, having jurisdiction in the governmental unit in which any such firefighter or police officer was employed at the time of his death; or by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority police retirement board; or if such firefighter, police officer, or corrections officer was employed by a town and was not a member of any contributory retirement system, by the board of selectmen of such town.

Chapter 785. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR IMPROVEMENTS TO LOCKUP FACILITIES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby established a program within the office of the commissioner of administration and finance to fund the cost of improvements to lockup facilities of cities and towns of the commonwealth, metropolitan district commission lockup facilities and state police facilities as prescribed by section thirty-six B of chapter forty of the General Laws, for which the amount of ten million dollars is made available. The commissioner of administration and finance is authorized to distribute the amount made available to procure the materials, to fund the reasonable costs of making the improvements, and to pay such other related costs as he deems necessary.

SECTION 2. Cities and towns which have incurred costs in making improvements pursuant to contracts entered into between January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-five and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-five may be reimbursed by said commissioner for their documented, reasonable costs upon certification to said commissioner by the city or town that the facility is in compliance with said section thirty-six B. Cities and towns which have not made such improvements shall submit to said commissioner detailed estimates of the costs thereof, based on specifications prepared by said commissioner. Said commissioner shall promptly review the estimated costs and if he approves them shall distribute the necessary funds to the city or town. If the funds provided are not sufficient to cover the costs of making improvements, the city or town shall immediately notify the commissioner of the amount necessary to complete the improvements. Said commissioner shall review such further request and, if he approves, shall distribute the funds to the city or town.

Cities and towns shall maintain all such funds in a separate interest-bearing account and shall expend the funds and any interest earned thereon only for the purposes of making the improvements prescribed by said section thirty-six B. Said commissioner is hereby authorized to inspect, examine or audit the books and records of any city or town receiving funds for such improvements.

After completion of such improvements, the city or town shall inspect the facility, certify to said commissioner that the facility is in compliance with said section thirty-six B, and submit to said commissioner a statement of the actual costs of making the improvements and of the balance remaining in the account. If the actual costs are less than the monies advanced for estimated costs and interest earned thereon, the city shall forthwith remit to the commonwealth the balance of funds maintained in the separate account.

If the city or town fails to remit any such balance, or if the city or town fails to certify the completion of the improvements to the secretary within one year of the advance of any funds under this act, said commissioner shall certify to the state treasurer the full amount distributed to said city or town by the commonwealth, and the state treasurer shall deduct said amount from any amount otherwise certified to the state treasurer for payment to the city or town as receipts, distributions, reimbursements and assistance under sections eighteen A, eighteen B, eighteen C and eighteen D of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws and any other amount for local reimbursement grant or assistance programs entitled to be received by such city or town until such time as the full amount distributed is set off or the said city or town remits the balance or provides such necessary certification. At the time said city or town remits the balance or provides the necessary certification, the state treasurer shall pay to the city or town the amount so deducted.

SECTION 3. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section one and two inclusive, of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, not exceeding in the aggregate, the sum of ten million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Lockup Facilities Improvements Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years not exceeding seven years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-five. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund. Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 4. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting payments authorized by sections one and two, inclusive, of this act and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments of the Constitution of the commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-five.

Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth, and shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 786. AN ACT RELATIVE TO WATER POLLUTION CONTROL AND WATER SUPPLY CONSERVATION.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is relative to water pollution control and water supply conservation, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The division of water pollution control in the department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum, not to exceed three hundred and fifty-seven million dollars, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Massachusetts Clean Waters Act, as set forth in section fifty-three of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws.

From funds made available for expenditure by the first paragraph of this section, the director of said division is authorized to expend a sum, not to exceed thirteen million dollars in any fiscal year, in each of fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-six through nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, inclusive, for the purpose of making the grants authorized by section thirty A of said chapter twenty-one; provided, however that any funds left unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and shall be made available for expenditure in the subsequent fiscal year; provided, further, that for twenty-five per cent of the sums available for expenditure under this paragraph through fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-five and four million dollars in each fiscal year thereafter, said director shall give highest priority in the selection of projects for grants to those projects, including interceptor sewers, which he has identified, after consultation with such agencies of the commonwealth as he may deem appropriate, as providing the greatest economic benefit to the commonwealth; and provided, further, that any funds designated for projects with such economic benefit and left unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and shall be available for expenditure for other collection sewer system projects in the subsequent fiscal year.

From funds made available for expenditure by the first paragraph of this section, said director is authorized to obligate and expend a sum, not to exceed seventy-five million dollars per year in each of federal fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-six through nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, inclusive, for the purpose of matching federal grants to public entities, as defined in section twenty-six A of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws, for water pollution control purposes. Any funds up to the seventy-five million dollar annual ceiling left unobligated or unexpended in any federal fiscal year shall be carried over and shall be available for obligation and expenditure through federal fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. Any funds obligated but not expended prior to the close of federal fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight shall be available for expenditure after the close of federal fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. In the event that federal grant funds received during federal fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-six through nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, inclusive, which state funds are authorized to match remain unobligated at the close of federal fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, said state funds shall remain available for obligation and expenditure consistent with then applicable federal laws and regulation.

From funds made available for expenditure by the first paragraph of this section, said director is authorized to make grants pursuant to clause (iv) of section thirty-three of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws in an amount not to exceed twenty million dollars per year in each of fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-six through nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, inclusive. Any funds up to the twenty million dollar annual ceiling left unobligated or unexpended in any fiscal year shall be carried over and shall be available for expenditure through fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. Any funds obligated but not expended prior to the close of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight shall be available after the close of fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-eight. Said director shall establish criteria and priorities for the disbursement of funds under this paragraph which may include criteria applied in administering the Federal Pollution Control Act FWPCA, as defined in section twenty-six A of chapter twenty-one of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition.

SECTION 2. The department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized to expend a sum not to exceed twenty-five million dollars for a program of grants to cities, towns, districts, and water and sewer commissions of the commonwealth for the purposes of developing ongoing programs of investigating and identifying sources of loss of potable water and for rehabilitating water supply distribution systems, including cleaning and relining mains, laterals and associated distribution elements or replacement of the same; provided, however, that said sums shall be matched by an equal sum appropriated by said cities, towns, districts, and commissions; and provided, further, that five per cent of said funds shall be set aside specifically for a program of investigation of loss of potable water and the remaining ninety-five per cent shall be designated for system rehabilitation assistance. No single city, town, district, or commission shall be eligible for more than five per cent of the total amount designated for a program of investigation of the loss of potable water and five per cent of the total amount designated for system rehabilitation assistance.

Said department shall establish standards, guidelines, criteria and priorities for the administration and disbursement of said funds which shall include, but need not be limited to: the amount of water usage unaccounted for in a city, town, or district; the institution of an ongoing leak detection program; repair of leaks identified by leak detection programs; repair of distribution systems to provide adequate pressure for fire protection; and the repair of distribution systems to maintain public health standards. Said department shall consult with the water resources commission before establishing the criteria and priorities for the disbursement of such funds. Any city, town, district, or commission shall be eligible to apply for such funds. No city, town, district, or commission shall receive such assistance unless it has adopted or is in the process of adopting a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission.

Said department shall establish procedures whereby the cities, towns, or districts that submitted applications pursuant to chapter eight hundred and five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine or pursuant to chapter two hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two shall have the opportunity to submit additional information to supplement and clarify those applications that were not awarded leak detection or system rehabilitation grants pursuant to said chapter eight hundred and five or said chapter two hundred and eighty-six. Such additional information shall be considered in the determination of grants to be made pursuant to this section.

SECTION 3. The department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized to expend a sum not exceeding five million dollars for the purposes of devising solutions to the contamination of public sources of drinking water including but not limited to: conducting hydrogeological evaluations at sites of contamination to determine the appropriate treatment needs; the treatment of the water supply at the source of contamination, at the source of supply, or at any appropriate intermediate point; the augmentation of water supplies on a short term basis; and the management of alteration of the direction of contaminated groundwater flows.

Said department shall establish standards and guidelines for the administration and expenditure of such funds. Such standards and guidelines shall be subject to the approval of the water resources commission. No city, town, or district shall receive such assistance unless it has adopted or is in the process of adopting a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 786.

SECTION 4. The department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized to expend a sum not to exceed twenty-five million dollars for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of sections one hundred and fifty-nine, one hundred and sixty, and one hundred and sixty-two of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws as relate to the construction, commenced after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, of drinking water filtration plants for the treatment of public water supplies; provided, however, that such construction grants shall not exceed fifty per cent of the total cost of such construction project; provided, further, that such construction grants shall be made available to cities, towns, districts, and water and sewer commissions for drinking water filtration plants for water supply systems which they own; and provided, further, that such construction grants shall be made available only for drinking water filtration plants that filter water not provided by the water resources authority.

Construction grants may be made under this section upon the approval by said department of a plan submitted in accordance with criteria used by said department in determining the priority of projects for assistance; provided, however, that a priority shall be granted for a project in a city, town, or water district where said department has mandated or ordered such city, town, or water district to improve the quality of its public water supply by boiling.

Upon receipt by any city, town, district, or commission of federal funds granted expressly for the purpose of constructing a drinking water filtration plant for the treatment of public water supply, such city, town, district, or commission receiving assistance under this section shall reimburse the commonwealth for such assistance the amount by which such federal funds exceed forty per cent of said construction costs.

SECTION 5. The department of environmental quality engineering is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed fifteen million dollars for a program of grants to cities, towns, districts, and water and sewer commissions of the commonwealth for the purposes of developing an ongoing program of meter installation, modernization, or rehabilitation, or centralized utility metering for public water supply systems; provided that said grants shall be matched by an equal amount appropriated by such city, town, district, or commission; provided, further, that up to one-half of the match provided by cities, towns, districts, or water and sewer commissions may be provided through in-kind services; and provided, further, that no city, town, district, or water and sewer commission shall be eligible for such assistance unless it has adopted a comprehensive water resources management plan pursuant to regulations established by the water resources commission. Said department shall establish standards, guidelines, criteria and priorities for the administration and disbursement of said funds which shall include, but need not be limited to, the age of the system, the need to install or replace meters, the percentage of the system currently metered, the age of the meters being replaced or rehabilitated, the per cent of the water budget which is covered by charges or fees, and the degree of cooperation among utilities.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 786.

Of the funds made available by the first paragraph of this section, five million dollars shall specifically be set aside for the use by cities, towns, districts, and water and sewer commissions for the installation of water meters; five million dollars shall specifically be set aside for use by cities, towns, districts, and water and sewer commissions for an accelerated program of meter rehabilitation or replacement; and five million dollars shall be set aside for use by cities, towns, districts, and water and sewer commissions in the installation of multi-use meters, shared by more than one utility.

SECTION 6. It is hereby found and declared that the contamination of public and private drinking water supplies is a significant threat to public health, welfare, and safety. It is further found and declared that there is a scarcity of affordable housing in the commonwealth and that it is in the public interest to protect the habitability of any residence threatened by contamination of its public or private water supply. Therefore, it is found that it is in the public interest of the commonwealth to benefit the general welfare of its citizens, a public purpose for which public money may be expended, by authorizing the department of environmental quality engineering to assist in devising solutions to the contamination of public and private drinking water supplies. To accomplish that purpose, the department of environmental quality engineering shall also establish standards and guidelines for expending such funds as provided in section three for assistance to private drinking water supplies; provided, however, that said standards will provide only emergency interim and intermediate solutions to contamination of such water supplies which serve at least twenty-five residential units; and provided, further, that no such assistance shall be provided unless said department determines that a viable long-term solution to the contamination is being actively pursued.

SECTION 7. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting payments authorized by sections one to five, inclusive, of this act and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-five.

Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth, and shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund.

SECTION 8. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of sections one to five, inclusive, of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of four hundred and twenty-seven million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Water Pollution Control and Water Supply Conservation Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten.

Bonds and interest thereon under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth, and shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund.

SECTION 9. Section 30A of chapter 21 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 13, the word "two" and inserting in place thereof the word:—three.

SECTION 10. The second paragraph of section 33 of said chapter 21, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:— Where (i) the federal government has awarded a seventy-five per cent grant for the eligible costs of the project, the division may award a fifteen per cent grant for such eligible project costs, or (ii) the federal government has awarded a fifty-five per cent grant for the eligible costs of the project the division may award a thirty-five per cent grant for such eligible project costs; provided, however, that in the event the grant awarded by the federal government is less than seventy-five per cent or fifty-five per cent of such eligible costs, as the case may be, the division may award a grant in such amount to assure that the public entity's share of the eligible costs of such project does not exceed ten per cent; or (iii) that in the event that a project eligible for such a federal grant has not been awarded a federal grant, the divisions may award a grant of up to thirty-five per cent of the eligible costs of such project; or (iv) that in the event that a combined sewer outfall project or a project eligible for such a federal grant has not been awarded a federal grant, the division may, in fiscal years nineteen hundred and eighty-six through nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, inclusive, award a grant of up to seventy per cent of the costs of such project.

SECTION 11. The third paragraph of said section 33 of said chapter 21, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:— The division may award grants in an amount not exceeding ninety per cent of the approved eligible costs for the planning and design of such facilities; provided, however, that in the event the federal government includes an allowance for such costs in their construction grant, the division shall deduct from its construction grant such sums as it deems necessary.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 787.

SECTION 12. Item 2150–8843 in section 2 of chapter 723 of the acts of 1983 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "Dam", in line 2, the words:– and the construction of the necessary water storage tanks to complete rehabilitation of the water supply system.

SECTION 13. Funds provided in this act shall be in addition to funds authorized by chapter six hundred and eighty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-six, chapter seven hundred and forty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy, chapter seven hundred and ninety-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, chapter two hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two, and by chapter four hundred and seventy-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

SECTION 14. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved January 9, 1986.

Chapter 788. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE DEVELOPMENT OF CONDOMINIUMS ON CERTAIN LEASED LAND.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate the development of condominiums on certain leased land, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The definition of "Common areas and facilities" in section 1 of chapter 183A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out clause (4) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:—

(4) The land on which the building is located, or the lessee's interest in any lease of such land which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 788.

SECTION 2. Said section 1 of said chapter 183A, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out the definition of "Condominium" and inserting in place thereof the following definition:–

"Condominium", the land or the lessee's interest in any lease of such land which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter, the building or buildings, all other improvements and structures thereon, and all easements, rights and appurtenances belonging thereto, which have been submitted to the provisions of this chapter.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 183A is hereby further amended by striking out section 2, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 2. This chapter shall apply only when the owner of the land, or the lessee of the land located within an area for which a land assembly and redevelopment plan has been established, submits the same to the provisions hereof by duly executing and recording a master deed or assignment of lease, with an assent by the lessor, containing a statement to the effect that the owner or lessee proposes to create a condominium to be governed by the provisions of this chapter; provided, however, that any parcel or building which is subject to such lease and is located within a land assembly area or is subject to a redevelopment plan shall have been either an abandoned building or parcel or a building or parcel designated for residential development; and provided, further, that the term of such lease shall be not less than sixty years. The provisions of this chapter shall not be deemed to preclude or regulate the creation or maintenance of other interests in real property not expressly declared by the owner or lessee to be subject hereto.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 183A is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 3. Each unit together with its undivided interest in the common areas and facilities, whether or not such unit is built on owned or leased land shall constitute real estate, and may be the subject of demise, devise, gift, mortgage, ownership, possession, sale, trust, the laws of descent and distribution and all other rights incidental to the holding of real estate as if it were sole and entirely independent of the other units in the condominium of which it forms a part.

SECTION 5. Section 4 of said chapter 183A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (1) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(1) No unit shall be devoted to a use prohibited in the master deed or any lease which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter.

SECTION 6. Said section 4 of said chapter 183A, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out clause (3) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(3) Each unit owner shall comply with the by-laws and with any administrative rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, as either of the same may be amended from time to time, and with the lawful covenants, conditions and restrictions set forth in the master deed or in the deed to his unit and with each lease which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter.

SECTION 7. Section 8 of said chapter 183A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following clause:–

(j) The name of the lessor of each lease which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter and the recording data for each such lease or notice thereof.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 183A is hereby further amended by inserting after section 8 the following section:–

Section 8A. (a) The consent of every lessor of each lease which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter shall be recorded and shall provide:

(1) the recording data for the lease or the notice thereof, and in the latter case, a statement of where the complete lease may be inspected;

(2) the date on which the lease is scheduled to expire, including a provision in said lease requiring the lessor to give a twelve month written notice of said date of expiration to each unit owner;

(3) a legally sufficient description of the real estate subject to the lease;

(4) any right of the unit owners to redeem the reversion and the manner whereby those rights may be exercised, or a statement that they do not have those rights;

(5) any right of the unit owners to remove any improvements within a reasonable time after the expiration or termination of the lease, or a statement that they do not have those rights; and

(6) any rights of the unit owners to renew the lease and the conditions of any renewal, or a statement that they do not have those rights.

(b) After the consent of a lessor is recorded, neither the lessor nor any successor in interest of the lessor may terminate the leasehold interest of a unit owner, who makes timely payment or tender of said timely payment by certified mail of such unit owner's share of the rent and otherwise complies with all covenants and conditions which, if violated, would entitle the lessor to terminate the lease. A unit owner's leasehold interest is not affected by failure of any other person to pay rent or fulfill any other covenant or condition.

(c) Acquisition of the leasehold interest of any unit owner by the owner of the reversion or remainder does not merge the leasehold and fee simple interests unless the leasehold interests of all unit owners subject to that reversion or remainder are acquired.

(d) If the expiration or termination of a lease reduces the number of units in a condominium, the common element interests, votes in the association, and common expense liabilities shall be reallocated among the remaining unit owners in proportion to their respective percentage interests. Reallocations shall be confirmed by a duly recorded amendment of the master deed.

(e) The rent and all other amounts payable under the lease shall be declared common expenses.

(f) Prior to the expiration of said lease, the lessor shall obtain three independent real estate appraisals of said parcel and shall offer the right to purchase said parcel for the average of the three appraisals to the organization of unit owners to purchase such parcel. In the event that the organization of unit owners chooses not to purchase such parcel, said organization may negotiate a renewal of said lease for a term of not less than sixty years.

SECTION 9. Paragraph (a) of section 9 of said chapter 183A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– If the condominium relates to a lease which is submitted to the provisions of this chapter, the name of the condominium shall contain the word "Lease" or "Leasehold" and the deed or assignment or each unit shall indicate that the condominium relates to a lease.

SECTION 10. Section 13 of said chapter 183A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– All claims involving the common areas and facilities shall be brought against the organization of unit owners, and all attachments and executions related to such claims shall be made only against common funds or property held by the organization of unit owners and not against the common areas and facilities themselves other than the leasehold of any lease included therein.

Approved January 8, 1986.

Chapter 790. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING CHARITABLE SOLICITATION.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 68 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 18 to section 33, inclusive, and inserting in place thereof the following eighteen sections:–

Section 18. When used in this section, and in sections nineteen to thirty-five, inclusive, the following terms shall have the following meanings:–

"Charitable", including but not limited to benevolent, educational, philanthropic, humane, patriotic, scientific, literary, religious, eleemosynary, health, safety or welfare-related, or in furtherance of governmental or civic objectives, and benefiting the general public or some indefinite class thereof;

"Charitable organization", any person whose purposes or actual operation are charitable in nature or one holding himself out to be a charitable organization in whole or in part, including any person who in any manner employs a charitable appeal as the basis of any solicitation or an appeal which could be reasonably interpreted to suggest that there is a charitable purpose to any such solicitation;

"Commercial co-venturer", any person who for profit or other commercial consideration, conducts, produces, promotes, underwrites, arranges or sponsors a performance, event, or sale to the public of a good or service which is advertised in conjunction with the name of any charitable organization or as benefiting to any extent any charitable purpose. Any such person who will benefit in good will only shall not be deemed a commercial co-venturer if the collection and distribution of the proceeds of the performance, event or sale are supervised and controlled by the benefiting charitable organization;

"Contributions", the promise or grant of any money, property, credit, financial assistance, sponsorship or anything of value including the payment or promise to pay in consideration of a performance, event or sale of a good or service by a charitable organization or a commercial co-venturer. Payments by members of a charitable organization for membership fees, dues, fines or assessments or for services rendered to individual members, if such fees, dues, fines or assessments confer a bona fide right, privilege, professional standing, honor or other direct benefit, shall not be deemed contributions;

"Director", the director of the division of public charities in the department of the attorney general;

"Division", the division of public charities in the department of the attorney general;

"Parent organization", that part of a charitable organization which co-ordinates, supervises or exercises control over policy, fund-raising and expenditures; or assists or advises one or more chapters, branches or affiliates in this commonwealth;

"Person", any individual, organization, trust, foundation, group, association, partnership, corporation, society or any combination of them;

"Professional fund-raising counsel", any person who is retained for a financial or other consideration by a charitable organization to plan, conduct, manage, carry on, advise or act as a consultant whether directly or indirectly in connection with the solicitation of contributions in this commonwealth for or on behalf of any charitable organization but who actually solicits no contributions and has neither custody nor control of contributions as part of such services. A bona fide salaried officer or regular, nontemporary employee of a charitable organization maintaining a permanent establishment within the commonwealth shall not be deemed to be a professional fund-raising counsel;

"Professional solicitor", any person who is retained for a financial or other consideration by a charitable organization to solicit in this commonwealth contributions for charitable purposes directly or in the form of payment for goods or services, whether such solicitation is done individually or through other persons under the direction of the professional solicitor. A person who otherwise is a professional fund-raising counsel shall be deemed a professional solicitor if at any time he has custody or control of contributions. A bona fide salaried officer or regular, nontemporary employee of a charitable organization maintaining a permanent establishment within the commonwealth shall not be deemed to be a professional solicitor. No attorney, investment counselor or banker who advises an individual corporation or association to make a charitable contribution shall be deemed, as the result of such advice, to be a professional fund-raising counsel or a professional solicitor;

"Solicit" or "solicitation", any direct or indirect request for a contribution on the representation that such contribution will be used in whole or in part for a charitable purpose, including but not limited to:

(1) any oral request that is made in person, by telephone, radio or television or other advertising or communications media;

(2) any written or otherwise recorded or published request that is mailed, sent, delivered, circulated, distributed, posted in a public place, or advertised or communicated by press, telegraph, television or other media;

(3) any sale of, offer or attempt to sell, any advertisement, advertising space, sponsorship, book, card, chance, coupon, device, food, magazine, merchandise, newspaper, subscription, ticket or other service or tangible good, thing or item of value; or

(4) any announcement requesting the public to attend an appeal, assemblage, athletic or competitive event, carnival, circus, concert, contest, dance, entertainment, exhibition, exposition, game, lecture, meal, party, show, social gathering or other performance or event of any kind.

Section 19. Every charitable organization, except one granted an exemption under the provisions of section twenty, which intends to solicit contributions from persons within the commonwealth or have contributions solicited on its behalf by other charitable organizations, commercial co-venturers, or professional solicitors shall, prior to any such solicitation, file an annual registration statement with the division upon prescribed forms, which shall be refiled in the next and each following year in which such charitable organization is engaged in solicitation activities; provided, that the provisions of this chapter have been complied with, the director of the division shall issue a certificate of registration to a charitable organization within ten days of receipt of the registration statement. No charitable organization required to be registered under this section shall solicit funds without a valid certificate of registration. The president, chairman or principal officer of such charitable organization shall file the statements required under sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive. Such statements shall be sworn to and shall contain the following information: (1) The name of the organization and the purpose for which it was organized; (2) the address of the organization and the address of any offices in this commonwealth or, if the organization does not maintain an office, the name and address of the person having custody of its financial records; (3) the place where and the date when the organization was legally established, the form of its organization and its tax exempt status for federal income tax purposes; (4) the names and the addresses of the officers, directors and trustees and the principal salaried executive staff officers; (5) a copy of the annual financial report for the organization's immediate preceding fiscal year as required under section eight F of chapter twelve; (6) whether the organization intends to solicit contributions from the public; (7) whether the organization is authorized by any other governmental authority to solicit contributions and whether it is or has ever been enjoined by any court from soliciting contributions; (8) the charitable purpose or purposes for which the contributions to be solicited shall be used; (9) the name or names under which it intends to solicit contributions; (10) the names of the individuals or officers of the organization who shall have final responsibility for the custody of the contributions; (11) the names of the individuals or officers of the organization responsible for the final distribution of the contributions. The registration forms and any other documents prescribed by the division shall be signed by any two authorized officers, including the chief fiscal officer, of the charitable organization and shall be verified under oath. Every charitable organization except one granted said exemption under section twenty shall pay a registration fee to be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven, subject to the approval of the general court. If no action is taken by the general court within sixty days of receipt of said fee, it shall be deemed approved. Every charitable organization having one or more chapters, branches or affiliates in this commonwealth and filing on behalf of such chapter, branches or affiliates shall pay a single registration fee.

Section 20. The following shall not be required to file registration statements with the division or to have a certificate of registration under section nineteen: (1) any religious corporation, trust, foundation, association or organization incorporated or established for religious purposes, nor any agency or organization incorporated or established for charitable, purposes and engaged in effectuating one or more of such purposes, which is affiliated with, operated by, or supervised or controlled by a corporation sole or other religious corporation, trust, foundation, association, or organization incorporated or established for religious purposes, nor any other religious agency or organization which serves religion by the preservation of religious rights and freedom from persecution or prejudice or by fostering religion, including the moral and ethical aspects of a particular religious faith; (2) charitable organizations which do not actually raise or receive contributions from the public in excess of five thousand dollars during a calendar year or do not receive contributions from more than ten persons during a calendar year, if all of their functions, including fund-raising activities, are carried on by persons who are unpaid for their services and if no part of their assets or income inures to the benefit of, or is paid to any officer or member; provided, however, that if the contributions raised from the public, whether or not all is received by any charitable organization during any calendar year, is in excess of five thousand dollars, it shall within thirty days after the date it shall have received total contributions in excess of five thousand dollars, register with and report to the division as required by section nineteen.

Section 21. (a) No professional solicitor or commercial co-venturer or their agents, servants or employees, including agents, servants or employees assigned to work under the direction of a professional solicitor or commercial co-venturer, shall receive compensation which in the aggregate amounts to a total in excess of twenty-five per cent of the total moneys, pledges or other property raised or received by reason of any solicitation activities or campaigns, including reimbursement for all expenses incurred in the solicitation. (b) For purposes of this section, the total moneys, funds, pledges or other property raised or received shall be adjusted by first deducting therefrom the actual cost, not to exceed fair market value, to the charitable organization or professional solicitor or commercial co-venturer of performances, events or goods sold to the public.

Section 22. (a) Every contract or agreement between a professional fund-raising counsel or a commercial co-venturer or a professional solicitor and a charitable organization required to have a certificate of registration pursuant to section nineteen shall be in writing, signed by two officers of the charitable organization, and filed with the director of the division within ten days after such contract or agreement is entered into. No solicitation shall be conducted prior to the filing of such contract or agreement. (b) Every contract or agreement between a professional solicitor or a commercial co-venturer and a charitable organization shall include: (1) a statement of the charitable purposes to be described in the solicitation; and (2) a statement of the guaranteed minimum percentage of the gross receipts from fund-raising which will be utilized exclusively for the charitable purposes described in the solicitation.

Section 23. (a) All solicitations by professional solicitors and all solicitations by commercial co-venturers shall contain, at the time of solicitation, the following disclosures: (1) the name, address and telephone number of the charitable organization and a description of how the contributions raised by the solicitation will be utilized for charitable purposes, or if there is no charitable organization, the name, address and telephone number of the professional solicitor or commercial co-venturer and a description of how the contributions raised by the solicitation will be utilized for charitable purposes; (2) the statement that the solicitation is being conducted by a "paid fund-raiser"; (3) the guaranteed minimum percentage of the gross receipts from fund-raising that will be utilized exclusively for the charitable purposes described in the solicitation; and such other disclosures as required by relevant rules and regulations promulgated under section twenty-nine. If the solicitation is for advertising, the disclosure shall also include the geographic distribution and the circulation of the publication in which the advertising will appear. (b) For purposes of this section, the guaranteed minimum percentage required to be disclosed by clause (3) of subsection (a) shall be the percentage stated in the contract or written agreement between the professional solicitor or commercial co-venturer and the charitable organization.

Section 24. (a) No person shall act as a professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor for a charitable organization required to have a certificate of registration pursuant to the provisions of section nineteen, unless first having registered with the division. Applications for such registration shall be in writing under oath in the form prescribed by the division and shall contain such information as the division may require. The application for registration by a professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor shall be accompanied by an annual fee to be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven. A partnership or corporation which is a professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor may register for and pay a single fee on behalf of all its members, officers, agents and employees. (b) Commercial co-venturers and professional solicitors shall, at the time of making application, file with and have approved by the division a bond in which the applicant shall be the principal obligor in the sum of ten thousand dollars with one or more sureties satisfactory to the division whose liability in the aggregate shall at least equal said sum. Said bond shall run to the division for the use of the commonwealth and to any charitable organization which may have a cause of action against the obligor of said bond for any malfeasance or misfeasance in the conduct of solicitation activities. A partnership or corporation which is a commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor may file a consolidated bond on behalf of all its members, officers and employees. The aggregate liability of the surety for all breaches of the conditions of the bond shall, in no event, exceed the sum of said bond. (c) For each calendar year, commercial co-venturers and professional solicitors shall file with the division on a form prescribed by the division a financial report stating, for each contract or agreement with a charitable organization, the name of the charitable organization, the gross receipts collected pursuant to that contract or agreement, the amounts paid to the charitable organization to be utilized exclusively for the charitable purposes described in the solicitation, the amounts paid to the commercial co-venturer and the professional solicitor; all additional expenses not otherwise stated; and such other information as the director may require. This report shall be co-signed by representatives of the charitable organizations for whom solicitation was conducted. (d) Each completed registration shall be valid for a period of one calendar year or a part thereof and may be renewed for additional one-year periods upon written application under oath in the form prescribed by the division and containing such information as it may require, the filing of all contracts or agreements as required by section twenty-two, the bond, where applicable, and the fee prescribed by this section.

Section 25. Registration statements, applications, reports, contracts or agreements of professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturers and professional solicitors, and all other documents and information required to be filed under sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, or by the division, shall be public records in the office of the division and shall be open to the general public for inspection at such times as the division may prescribe.

Section 26. Every professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer, professional solicitor, and charitable organization required to have a certificate of registration under section nineteen, shall, in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the division, keep true fiscal records as to such activities within the commonwealth as may be covered by sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, in such form as will enable them accurately to provide the information required by said sections. Upon demand such records shall be made available to the division for inspection. Such records shall be retained for a period of at least three years after the end of the period of registration to which they relate.

Section 27. The division may enter into reciprocal agreements with the appropriate authority of any other state or of the United States for the purpose of exchanging information with respect to charitable organizations, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturers and professional solicitors. Pursuant to such agreements the division may accept information filed by a charitable organization with the appropriate authority of another state or of the United States in lieu of the information required to be filed by the charitable organization in accordance with the provisions of sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, if such information is substantially similar to the information required under said sections.

Section 28. (a) No charitable organization, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor subject to the provisions of sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, shall use or exploit the fact of registration so as to lead the public to believe that such registration in any manner constitutes an endorsement or approval by the commonwealth. (b) No person shall, in connection with the solicitation of contributions for or the sale of goods or services of a person other than a charitable organization, misrepresent to or mislead any one by any manner, means, practice or device whatsoever to believe that the person on whose behalf such solicitation or sale is being conducted is a charitable organization or that the proceeds of such solicitation or sale will be used for charitable purposes if such is not the fact. (c) No person shall in connection with the solicitation of contributions or the sale of goods or services for charitable purposes represent to or lead any one by any manner, means, practice or device whatsoever to believe that any other person sponsors or endorses such solicitation of contributions, sale of goods or services for charitable purposes or approves of such charitable purposes or a charitable organization connected therewith when such other person has not given consent to the use of his name for these purposes. Any member of a board of directors or trustees of a charitable organization or any other person who has agreed either to serve or to participate in any voluntary capacity in the campaign shall be deemed thereby to have given his consent to the use of his name in connection with the progress of such campaign. (d) No person shall make any representation that he is soliciting contributions for or on behalf of a charitable organization or shall use or display any emblem, device or printed matter belonging to or associated with a charitable organization for the purpose of soliciting or inducing the contribution of funds from the public without first being authorized to do so by the charitable organization. (e) No commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor shall solicit in the name of or on behalf of any charitable organization unless he has in his possession the written authorization of two officers of such organization, a copy of which shall be filed with the division, and exhibits such written authorization on request to any person solicited, to any police officer or to any agent of the division. Such authorization shall bear the signature of the solicitor and shall state on its face the period for which it is valid, which shall not exceed one year from the date issued.

Section 29. The director shall from time to time formulate such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive.

Section 30. (a) The attorney general, whenever he believes a person has violated the provisions of sections nineteen to thirty-five, inclusive, or has filed any application required under said sections which contains false or misleading information, may conduct an investigation to determine whether in fact such person is in violation of said provisions, or has filed any false or misleading information. In conducting such investigation the attorney general may: (1) take testimony under oath; (2) examine or cause to be examined any documentary material of whatever nature relevant to such alleged violations or false or misleading information; and (3) require attendance during such examination of documentary material of any person having knowledge of the documentary material and take testimony under oath or acknowledgement in respect of any such documentary material. Such testimony and examination shall take place in the county where such person resides or has a place of business or, if the parties consent or such person is a non-resident or has no place of business within the commonwealth, in Suffolk county.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 790.

(b) Notice of the time, place and cause of such taking of testimony, examination or attendance shall be given by the attorney general at least ten days prior to the date of such taking of testimony or examination.

(c) Service of any such notice may be made by (1) delivering a duly executed copy thereof to the person to be served or to a partner or to any officer or agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process on behalf of such person; (2) delivering a duly executed copy thereof to the principal place of business in the commonwealth of the person to be served; or (3) mailing by registered or certified mail a duly executed copy thereof addressed to the person to be served at the principal place of business in the commonwealth or, if said person has no place of business in the commonwealth, to his principal office or place of business.

(d) Each such notice shall: (1) state the time and place for the taking of testimony or the examination and the name and address of each person to be examined, if known, and, if the name is not known, a general description sufficient to identify him or the particular class or group to which he belongs; (2) state the statute and section thereof, if any, of the alleged violation which is under investigation and state the general subject matter of the investigation; (3) describe the class or classes of documentary material to be produced thereunder with reasonable specificity, so as fairly to indicate the material demanded; (4) prescribe a return date within which the documentary material is to be produced; and (5) identify the members of the attorney general's staff to whom such documentary material is to be made available for inspection and copying.

(e) No such notice shall contain any requirement which would be unreasonable or improper if contained in a subpoena duces tecum issued by a court of the commonwealth; or require the disclosure of any documentary material which would be privileged or which for any other reason would not be required by a subpoena duces tecum issued by a court of the commonwealth.

(f) Any documentary material or other information produced by any person pursuant to this section shall not, unless otherwise ordered by a court of the commonwealth for good cause shown, be disclosed to any person other than the authorized agent or representative of the attorney general, unless with the consent of the person producing the same.

(g) The superior court for the county of Suffolk or for any county in which any person served in accordance with the section resides or has his usual place of business may, at any time prior to the date specified in the notice, or within twenty-one days after the notice has been served, whichever period is shorter, upon motion for good cause shown, extend such reporting date or modify or set aside the notice provided for in this section.

This section shall not be applicable to any criminal proceeding, nor shall information obtained under the authority of this section be admissible in evidence in any criminal prosecution for substantially identical transactions.

Section 31. Any charitable organization or professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor having its principal place of business without the commonwealth or organized under and by virtue of the laws of a foreign state which solicits contributions from people in the commonwealth, subject to sections nineteen to thirty-five, inclusive, shall be subject to the provisions of said sections, and shall be deemed to have irrevocably appointed the state secretary as its agent upon whom may be served any summons, subpoena duces tecum or other process directed to such charitable organization or any partner, principal officer or director thereof, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor in any action or proceeding brought under the provisions of said sections. Service of such process upon the state secretary shall be made by personally delivering to and leaving with him a copy thereof at the office of said secretary in Boston and such service shall be sufficient service; provided notice of such service and a copy of such process shall be forthwith sent by said secretary to such charitable organization or professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor by registered mail, with return receipt requested at its or his office as set forth in the registration form required to be filed in the division pursuant to sections nineteen and twenty-four, or in default of the filing of such form, at the last address known to said secretary.

Section 32. (a) If any registered charitable organization, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor fails to file any registration application or statement, annual report or other information required to be filed by the division under sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, the division may notify the delinquent charitable organization, professional fund-raising counsel or professional solicitor by mailing a notice by registered mail to its last known address. If the required registration application or statement, annual report or other information is not filed within two weeks after the formal notification of receipt of such notice, the division may cancel or suspend the registration of such delinquent charitable organization, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor.

(b) If as the result of an investigation the division finds that any information contained in any application required under sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, is false or misleading or that a registrant under said sections has violated said sections, it may, subject to the provisions of section thirteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, suspend or cancel the registration and revoke the certificate of registration.

(c) The registration of any charitable organization, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor which or who knowingly makes a false statement in any registration application or statement, annual report or other information required to be filed by the division or sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, may, subject to the provisions of section thirteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, be revoked by the division.

(d) Any person who knowingly violates any provision of sections nineteen to thirty-five, inclusive, or who willfully and knowingly gives false or incorrect information to the division in filing statements or reports required by said sections, whether such report or statement is verified or not, may be fined not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(e) Whenever the attorney general or any district attorney has reason to believe that any charitable organization, professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor is operating in violation of the provisions of sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, or has knowingly and willfully made any false statement in any registration application or statement, report or other information required to be filed under said sections, or whenever a charitable organization has failed to file a registration statement required under said sections, or whenever there is employed or is about to be employed in any solicitation or collection of contributions for a charitable organization any unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as defined by chapter ninety-three A, or any device, scheme or artifice to defraud or to obtain money or property by means of any false pretense, representation or promise, or whenever any of the principal officers of any charitable organization have refused or failed after notice to produce any records of such organization, in addition to all other actions authorized by law, the attorney general or district attorney may bring an action in the name of the commonwealth against such charitable organization and its officers, such professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor or any other person who has violated said sections or who has participated or is about to participate in any solicitation or collection by employing any unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as defined by said chapter ninety-three A, or any device, scheme, artifice, false representation or promise, to defraud or obtain money or other property, to enjoin such charitable organization or professional fund-raising counsel, commercial co-venturer or professional solicitor or other person from continuing such violation, solicitation or collection or engaging therein or doing any acts in furtherance thereof and for such other relief as to the court seems appropriate.

Section 33. Every person soliciting, collecting or expending, for charitable purposes, contributions from the public, and every officer and employee of any such person concerned with the solicitation, collection or expenditure of such funds, shall be deemed to be a fiduciary and acting in a fiduciary capacity.

Section 34. Any organization organized under the laws of the commonwealth, if eligible for membership, may become a member of The Common Fund for Nonprofit Organizations, a New York nonprofit membership corporation authorized under section eight E of chapter twelve to operate in the commonwealth and organized to aid and strengthen such corporations, community chests, funds and foundations as are organized and operated exclusively for nonproprietary and nonprofit-making purposes and otherwise eligible for membership by providing means for the investment of their funds in shares or interests in one or more common funds. Any such organization may, either as fiduciary or otherwise, and in addition to any other lawful investment, invest any part or all of the funds which it holds for investment in shares or interests in a common fund or funds established by The Common Fund for Nonprofit Organizations; provided, however, that in the case of funds held as fiduciary, such investment is not prohibited by the language of the will, deed or other instrument creating the fiduciary relationship.

Section 35. Any person who solicits contributions from the public by door-to-door visitation or in person for any charitable, civic or political cause or purpose, and who receives for such solicitation a wage, salary, percentage of the donations received, or other contractual remuneration or thing of value, but not to include reimbursements for expenses incurred in soliciting, shall inform each person so solicited that the solicitation is a paid solicitation. Such information shall be so provided in writing or in the form of a clearly displayed badge or sign bearing the words "Paid Solicitor". Any person who violates this section shall be punished by a fine of one hundred dollars for each such violation.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the finance chairman, accountant, treasurer or auditor of any organization, trust committee, foundation, group, association, partnership, corporation, society, or any combination thereof; provided, however, that such financial officer is not directly soliciting; nor shall such provisions apply to any ordained clergyman, minister, priest, rabbi, officer or any duly authorized member of any religious order or any other tax exempt religious organization.

SECTION 2. If any provision of sections eighteen to thirty-five, inclusive, of chapter sixty-eight of the General Laws, amended by section one of this act, or the application of such provisions to any person, body or circumstances shall be held invalid, the remainder of said sections of said chapter, or the application of such provisions thereof to persons, bodies or circumstances other than those which shall have been held invalid shall not be affected hereby.

Chapter 791. AN ACT REGARDING DRUG TREATMENT FOR CERTAIN CHILDREN IN NEED.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 111E of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 13 the following section:—

Section 13A. The division shall, in accordance with the provisions of this section, accept for referral children determined to be in need of services pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-nine G of chapter one hundred and nineteen and referred to the division by the department of social services, hereinafter referred to as the department, or the juvenile court. Such referral shall be made to the director of the division.

Upon receipt by the director of a request for referral he may, unless the child has been examined pursuant to section ten, designate a qualified physician to make an examination of the child to determine whether or not he is a drug dependent child who would benefit from treatment.

The physician designated shall report his findings in writing to the director stating the facts upon which the findings are based and the reasons therefore, and said report shall be kept confidential by the division and shall not be disclosed to any person, other than the department or the court, without the written approval of the child or his parent or legal guardian.

If the director finds that the child is a drug dependent person who would benefit from treatment and that adequate treatment is available at an appropriate drug treatment facility, he may recommend to the department or the court that the child be admitted to the facility on an inpatient or an outpatient basis.

The director may also recommend to the department or the juvenile court the period of time necessary to accomplish adequate and appropriate treatment, not to exceed one year; the nature of the treatment to be afforded and the facility to which the child could be admitted. If the department or court determines that admission to the facility, the nature of the treatment to be afforded and the period deemed necessary to accomplish treatment are appropriate and the child and his parent or legal guardian agree to the treatment, the child may, subject to the availability of funds appropriated for that purpose, be admitted to the facility for such treatment. Said determination shall be provided in writing.

If the director decides that referral to the division is inappropriate because the child is not a drug dependent person who would benefit by treatment or because adequate treatment is not available at an appropriate facility, he shall make known in writing to said department or said court the basis for this decision.

The referral to the division shall terminate at the conclusion of the period of treatment to which the department or the court consents, or upon a determination by the director that the child will no longer benefit by treatment, whichever first occurs. If the director determines before the conclusion of such period of treatment that the child will no longer benefit by treatment, he shall make known in writing to the department or the court the basis for his decision.

Children in need of services referred to the division pursuant to this section shall remain subject to the jurisdiction and control of the department or the court for all purposes, including, but not limited to, discharge and release; provided, however, that the treatment to be afforded the child in need of services referred to the division shall be within the jurisdiction and control of the division. In no event, however, shall a child in need of services be referred for a period longer than the period during which he is subject to the jurisdiction and control of the department or the court.

Chapter 792. AN ACT RELATING TO REIMBURSEMENTS TO THE MEMBER TOWNS OF THE FRONTIER REGIONAL SCHOOL DISTRICT FOR CERTAIN TRANSPORTATION COSTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The towns of Conway, Deerfield, Sunderland and Whately, as member towns of the Frontier Regional School District, shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth under section sixteen C of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws for costs incurred by them in transporting pupils in grades seven through twelve to schools in said Frontier Regional School District, notwithstanding that the agreement establishing said regional school district does not provide for furnishing transportation by said district.

SECTION 2. This act shall apply to reimbursements paid to the towns named in section one for the fiscal year commencing July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-four and for two fiscal years thereafter.

Approved January 9, 1986.

Chapter 793. AN ACT RELATIVE TO CERTAIN ADOPTION RECORDS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 210 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 5C the following section:—

Section 5D. (a) A placement agency, as defined in section nine of chapter twenty-eight A, holding records relating to an adopted person, the biological parents of an adopted person or the adoptive parents of an adopted person shall:

(1) release to such adopted person, if he has reached the age of eighteen years, upon his written request, information about his biological parents which will not identify or tend to lead to the identification of the biological parents or their present or former locations.

(2) release to a biological parent of an adopted person, upon the biological parent's written request, information about such adopted person which will not reveal or tend to reveal his identity after adoption or his present or former locations, and which will not tend to lead to his identity after adoption or present or former locations.

(3) release to an adoptive parent, if the adopted person is under the age of eighteen years, upon the adoptive parent's written request, information about the adopted person and his biological parents which will not identify or tend to lead to the identification of the biological parents or their present or former locations.

Such information shall include such nonidentifying information which the agency holds concerning the medical, ethnic, socio-economic, and educational circumstances of the person. The agency, in its discretion, shall further release such nonidentifying information concerning the circumstances under which the adopted person became available for adoption as it deems to be in the best interest of the person so requesting.

(b) If a placement agency, as defined in section nine of chapter twenty-eight A, has received written permission from a biological parent of an adopted person to release the identity of the biological parent to the adopted person and the said agency has received written permission from the adopted person, or written permission from the adoptive parents if the adoptive person is under the age of twenty-one, to release the identity after adoption of the adopted person to the biological parent, then the agency shall release the identity of the adopted person to the biological parent and the identity of the biological parent to the adopted person; provided, however, that if the biological parent is surviving, that he or she has given written consent at least thirty days before the release of said identifying information. The term "biological parent", as used in this subsection, shall mean a biological mother, or a father named on the birth certificate of the adopted person filed in court with the adoption papers, or a man who has signed, as father, an adoption surrender filed in court with the adoption papers.

(c) Information released to a person pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) shall be provided in writing if such person so requests.

(d) Such placement agency shall:

(1) release to the biological parent of an adopted person, upon the biological parent's written request, any personal data, as defined in section one of chapter sixty-six A, which it holds relating to the biological parent.

(2) release to an adoptive parent, upon his written request, any personal data, as defined in section one of chapter sixty-six A, which it holds relating to the adoptive parent.

(3) in making any disclosure of information pursuant to this paragraph, the agency shall remove personal identifiers relating to a third person. No agency shall rely on any exception contained in clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four to withhold personal data otherwise accessible under this paragraph.

(e) All other adoption records held by such placement agency shall be confidential and shall not be released.

Approved January 9, 1986.

Chapter 794. AN ACT RELATIVE TO MINOR MOTOR VEHICLE OFFENSES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 90 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 21, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 794.

Section 21. Any officer authorized to make arrests may arrest without a warrant and keep in custody for not more than twenty-four hours, unless a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday intervenes, any person who, while operating a motor vehicle on any way, as defined in section one, violates the provisions of the first paragraph of section ten of chapter ninety and relating to a license to operate a motor vehicle also violates any statute, by-law, ordinance or regulation relating to the operation or control of motor vehicles as defined in section one of chapter ninety C, whether such violation is capable of being judicially heard and determined as a civil motor vehicle infraction or a criminal offense. Any arrest made pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed an arrest for the criminal offense or offenses involved and not for any civil motor vehicle infraction arising out of the same incident.

Any officer authorized to make arrests, provided such officer is in uniform or conspicuously displaying his badge of office, may arrest without a warrant and keep in custody for not more than twenty-four hours, unless Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday intervenes, any person, regardless of whether or not such person has in his possession a license to operate motor vehicles issued by the registrar, if such person upon any way or in any place to which the public has the right of access, or upon any way or in any place to which members of the public have access as invitees, operates a motor vehicle after his license or right to operate motor vehicles in this state has been suspended or revoked by the registrar, or whoever upon any way or place to which the public has the right of access, or upon any way or in any place to which members of the public have access as invitees, or who the officer has probable cause to believe has operated or is operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, marihuana or narcotic drugs, or depressant or stimulant substances, all as defined in section one of chapter ninety-four C, or under the influence of the vapors of glue, carbon tetrachloride, acetone, ethylene, dichloride, toluene, chloroform, xylene or any combination thereof, or whoever uses a motor vehicle without authority knowing that such use is unauthorized, or any person who, while operating or in charge of a motor vehicle, violates the provisions of section twenty-five of chapter ninety, or whoever operates a motor vehicle upon any way or in any place to which members of the public have a right of access as invitees or licensees and without stopping and making known his name, residence and the register number of his motor vehicle goes away after knowingly colliding with or otherwise causing injury to any person.

Any person who is arrested pursuant to this section shall, at or before the expiration of the time period prescribed, be brought before the appropriate district court and proceeded against according to the law in criminal or juvenile cases, as the case may be, provided, however, that any violation otherwise cognizable as a civil infraction shall retain its character as, and be treated as, a civil infraction notwithstanding that the violator is arrested pursuant to this section for a criminal offense in conjunction with said civil infraction.

An investigator or examiner appointed under section twenty-nine may arrest without a warrant, keep in custody for a like period, bring before a magistrate and proceed against in like manner, any person operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or marihuana, narcotic drugs, depressants or stimulant substances, all as defined in section one of chapter ninety-four C, irrespective of his possession of a license to operate motor vehicles issued by the registrar.

SECTION 2. The definition of "Automobile law violation" in section 1 of chapter 90C of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following two sentences:– A recreation vehicle, as defined in section twenty of chapter ninety B, and a motorized bicycle shall be considered a motor vehicle for purposes of this chapter. A motor boat, as defined in section one of chapter ninety B, shall not be considered a motor vehicle for purposes of this chapter.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 90C is hereby further amended by striking out sections 2 to 4, inclusive, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following three sections:–

Section 2. Each police chief shall issue citation books to each permanent full-time police officer of his department whose duties may or will include traffic duty or traffic law enforcement, or directing or controlling traffic, and to such other officers as he at his discretion may determine. Each police chief shall obtain a receipt on a form approved by the registrar from such officer to whom a citation book has been issued. Each police chief shall also maintain citation books at police headquarters for the recording of automobile law violations by police officers to whom citation books have not been issued.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law, other than a provision of this chapter, to the contrary, any police officer assigned to traffic enforcement duty shall, whether or not the offense occurs within his presence, record the occurrence of automobile law violations upon a citation, filling out the citation and each copy thereof as soon as possible and as completely as possible and indicating thereon for each such violation whether the citation shall constitute a written warning and, if not, whether the violation is a criminal offense for which an application for a complaint as provided by subsection B of section three shall be made, whether the violation is a civil motor vehicle infraction which may be disposed of in accordance with subsection (A) of said section three, or whether the violator has been arrested in accordance with section twenty-one of chapter ninety. Said police officer shall inform the violator of the violation and shall give a copy of the citation to the violator. Such citation shall be signed by said police officer and by the violator, and whenever a citation is given to the violator in person that fact shall be so certified by the police officer. The violator shall be requested to sign the citation in order to acknowledge that it has been received. If a written warning is indicated, no further action need be taken by the violator. No other form of notice, except as provided in this section, need be given to the violator.

A failure to give a copy of the citation to the violator at the time and place of the violation shall constitute a defense in any court proceeding for such violation, except where the violator could not have been stopped or where additional time was reasonably necessary to determine the nature of the violation or the identity of the violator, or where the court finds that a circumstance, not inconsistent with the purpose of this section to create a uniform, simplified and non-criminal method for disposing of automobile law violations, justifies the failure. In such case the violation shall be recorded upon a citation as soon as possible after such violation and the citation shall be delivered to the violator or mailed to him at his residential or mail address or to the address appearing on his license or registration as appearing in registry of motor vehicles records.

At or before the completion of his tour of duty, a police officer to whom a citation book has been issued and who has recorded the occurrence of an automobile law violation upon a citation shall deliver to his police chief or to the person duly authorized by said chief all remaining copies of such citation, duly signed, except the police officer's copy which shall be retained by him. If the police officer has directed that a written warning be issued, the part of the citation designated as the registry of motor vehicles record shall be forwarded forthwith by the police chief or person authorized by him to the registrar and shall be kept by the registrar in his main office. If the registrar receives three such written warnings to the same offender within any twelve-month period, starting with the date of the first violation, the registrar shall, after due hearing pursuant to section twenty-two of chapter ninety, forthwith suspend the license or right to operate of such person for a period of seven days.

If the police officer has not directed that a written warning be issued and has not arrested the violator, said police chief or person duly authorized by him shall retain one copy of the citation for department use and shall at a time not later than the end of the fourth court day after the date of the violation cause to have delivered all remaining copies to the clerk-magistrate of the appropriate district court. The clerk-magistrate of each district court shall maintain a record of all such citations in the form prescribed by the chief justice of the district court department for said department and by the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department, and shall, following payment or adjudication of such citation, forward forthwith one copy of such citation with the court abstract thereon to the registrar, which shall constitute compliance with the provisions of section twenty-seven of chapter ninety with regard to said citation.

If a citation is spoiled, mutilated or voided, it shall be endorsed with a full explanation thereof by the police officer voiding such citation, and shall be returned to the registrar forthwith and shall be duly accounted for upon the audit sheet for the citation book from which said citation was removed.

Section 3. (A) If a police officer records the occurrence of an automobile law violation as defined in section one for which the maximum penalty or fine, does not exceed one hundred dollars for the first offense and does not provide for a penalty of imprisonment, excepting operation of a motor vehicle in violation of the first paragraph of section ten of chapter ninety, or violation of section twenty-five of chapter ninety, the police officer may direct that a written warning be issued or may cite the violator for a civil motor vehicle infraction in accordance with this subsection.

If the police officer cites the violator for a civil motor vehicle infraction, the citation shall notify the violator that he may, whether he is an adult or a juvenile, contest the violation at a non-criminal hearing before a clerk-magistrate of the district court of the judicial district in which the violation occurred, or that, in the alternative, he may waive said hearing and pay the assessment for the violation as established by schedules of assessments promulgated by the chief justice of the district court department for said department and by the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department; provided, however, that these shall be the only alternatives available to the violator, and provided further that if a criminal violation cognizable under subsection (B) is recorded in conjunction with and arising from the same occurrence as the civil infraction, the provisions of the third paragraph of subsection B shall govern. The scheduled assessments shall not exceed the maximum assessments, heretofore considered penalties or fines, established by law for the particular violation. A copy of such schedule of assessments shall be so posted in the office of the clerk-magistrate of each district court so as to be plainly visible to the public. The total amount of the assessment payable by the violator in accordance with such schedule shall be indicated by the police officer on the citation.

If the violator elects to waive the hearing before the clerk-magistrate and pay the scheduled assessment, he must, not later than twenty days after the date of said violation, appear before the clerk-magistrate of the appropriate district court, either personally or through an agent duly authorized in writing, with the citation appropriately marked, or within said time mail to said clerk-magistrate, with the citation appropriately marked, the scheduled assessment provided therein. Such payment, when made by mail, shall be made only by postal note, money order, or check. The payment of such assessment shall operate as a final disposition of the case.

Section 4. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent a person other than a police officer from applying for a criminal complaint for an automobile law violation capable of being judicially heard and determined under subsection B of section three, and such person need not show that the alleged violator has been issued a citation in connection with such violation.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent a police officer from arresting any person without a warrant pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-one of chapter ninety for such criminal offenses and in such circumstances as are specified in said section. If any such arrest is made, it shall be noted on the citation and all copies of the citation except the police officer's copy and the police department copy shall be forwarded to the clerk-magistrate of the appropriate district court and one copy of same shall serve as the application for complaint. The police chief may from time to time designate one person to sign all such complaints. If such arrest is made in good faith, the arresting officer shall not be liable in civil proceedings arising from such arrest.

Any provision of this chapter to the contrary notwithstanding, any payment of a penalty, fine or assessment made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, including the payment of an assessment for a civil motor vehicle infraction, shall operate as a conviction for purposes of registry of motor vehicles action pursuant to chapter ninety and for purposes of the safe driver insurance plan established pursuant to section one hundred and thirteen B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent access by probation officers to driving records of offenders maintained by the registrar or by the motor vehicle insurance merit rating board.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 90C is hereby further amended by striking out section 7, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 7. The clerk-magistrate of a district court or his designee shall accept waiver of trial, plea of guilty, and payment of fine from any person summoned to appear before such court on a complaint alleging violation of any law relating to the operation, parking or control of bicycles, or on a complaint alleging violation of the weight limits provided in section nineteen A of chapter ninety. Judgment shall be entered against any person filing such waiver of trial and plea of guilty. Such waivers and pleas shall be made in writing on forms which shall be established by the chief justice of the district court department for said department and the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department. Such forms shall contain instructions to offenders as to procedure under this section and shall not contain information for the use of probation officers.

Fines under this section shall be in accordance with the schedule of fines which shall be established by the chief justice of the district court department for said department and the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department. A copy of such schedule of fines shall be posted in the office of the clerk-magistrate of each district court and shall be plainly visible to the public. The fines listed on said schedule shall not exceed the maximum fines established by law for the particular type of violation.

No such waiver, plea and payment of fine shall be accepted under this section unless made before said clerk-magistrate, either personally or by an agent duly authorized in writing, or by mailing to such clerk-magistrate such payment. If by mail, payment should be made only by postal note, money order, or check made out to the clerk-magistrate of the court.

SECTION 5. Chapter 119 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 74, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 74. Except as hereinafter provided, no criminal proceeding shall be begun against any person who prior to his seventeenth birthday commits an offense against the law of the commonwealth or who violates any city ordinance or town by-law, unless proceedings against him as a delinquent child have been begun and dismissed as required by section sixty-one or seventy-two A; provided, however, that a criminal complaint alleging violation of any city ordinance or town by-law regulating the operation of motor vehicles, which is not capable of being judicially heard and determined as a civil motor vehicle infraction pursuant to the provisions of chapter ninety C may issue against a child between sixteen and seventeen years of age without first proceeding against him as a delinquent child.

SECTION 6. Section 62C of chapter 221 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (e) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(e) receive citations and hold hearings pursuant to subsection A of section three of chapter ninety C.

SECTION 7. Section 108 of chapter 231 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– There shall be an appellate division of each district court for the rehearing of matters of law arising in civil cases therein, in claims for compensation of victims of violent crimes, and in civil motor vehicle infractions.

SECTION 8. Section 1 of chapter 258B of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the definition of "Court" and inserting in place thereof the following definition:–

"Court", a forum established under the General Laws for the adjudication of criminal complaints, indictments and civil motor vehicle infractions.

SECTION 9. Section 8 of said chapter 258B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fourth and fifth sentences and inserting in place thereof the following three sentences:– The court, including the clerk-magistrate, shall impose an assessment of fifteen dollars against any person who fails to pay the scheduled civil assessment for a civil motor vehicle infraction or request a hearing within the twenty-day period provided for in subsection (A) of section three of chapter ninety C, except where the person is required by law to exercise the right to pay before a justice. When multiple criminal offenses arising from a single incident are charged or when multiple civil motor vehicle infractions arising from a single incident are charged or when one or more criminal offenses and one or more civil motor vehicle infractions arising from a single incident are charged, the total assessment shall not exceed twenty-five dollars; provided, however, that the total assessment against a person who has not attained seventeen years shall not exceed fifteen dollars. In the discretion of the court, including the clerk-magistrate in the case of a civil motor vehicle infraction that has not been heard by or brought before a justice, any assessment imposed pursuant to this section which would cause the person against whom the assessment is imposed severe financial hardship, may be reduced or waived.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 794.

SECTION 10. Chapter 279 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 42, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 42. If judgment is rendered against a corporation upon an indictment or complaint under the laws of the commonwealth, or if in the case of a civil motor vehicle infraction a corporation has defaulted or has failed or refused to pay an assessment, the court may issue a warrant of distress to compel payment of the amount prescribed by law, with interest. Such warrant may be served by any officer authorized to serve criminal process.

SECTION 11. Section 2 of chapter 280 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Fines imposed under the provisions of chapters eighty-nine and ninety, including fines, penalties and assessments imposed under the provisions of chapter ninety C for the violation of the provisions of chapters eighty-nine and ninety, fines assessed by a hearing officer of a city or town as defined in sections twenty A and twenty A 1/2 of chapter ninety and forfeitures imposed under the provisions of section one hundred and forty-one of chapter one hundred and forty, shall be paid over to the treasury of the city or town wherein the offense was committed; provided, however, that any increase in the amount of fines, penalties and assessments collected pursuant to violations of section seventeen of chapter ninety or of a special speed regulation lawfully made under the authority of section eighteen of said chapter ninety over the amount collected in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three which is attributable solely to an increase in the authorized levels of such fines, penalties and assessments over the levels existing in fiscal year nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall be paid over to the state treasurer and credited to the Highway Fund.

SECTION 12. Upon the effective date of this act, all automobile law violations, as defined in section one, for which the assessment, heretofore considered a penalty or fine, does not exceed one hundred dollars for the first offense and does not provide for a penalty of imprisonment, excepting operation of a motor vehicle in violation of the first paragraph of section ten of chapter ninety, or violation of section twenty-five of chapter ninety, shall be deemed civil motor vehicle infractions and not criminal offenses, and all statutes, ordinances, by-laws or regulations heretofore providing for such automobile law violations shall be so interpreted. Appearances and proceedings pursuant to this subsection shall not be deemed criminal, and payments, heretofore considered penalties or fines, made, whether after hearing or otherwise, shall be deemed civil assessments and not criminal penalties or fines. The violator shall not be required to report to a probation officer and no record of the case shall be entered in any probation records except as prescribed by the commissioner of probation.

If any person notified to appear hereunder indicates by return of the citation, appropriately marked, within twenty days after the date of the violation, that he requests a hearing on the violation charged, the clerk-magistrate shall as soon as practicable, unless a hearing date was entered on the citation at the time of its issuance pursuant to procedures established or approved by the chief justice of the district court department for one or more divisions of said department or by the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department, notify the officer concerned and the violator of the date on which they shall appear ready for hearing before the clerk-magistrate or the date on which they shall appear ready for a combined hearing and trial before a justice if the violator has been cited for a violation cognizable under subsection B in conjunction with and arising from the same occurrence as a violation capable of being judicially heard and determined under this subsection. A person who does not request a hearing on the violation charged within said twenty days shall not be entitled to a hearing thereafter.

Clerk-magistrates shall exercise their authority to conduct civil motor vehicle infraction hearings and all other authority hereunder subject to the limitations of section sixty-two C of chapter two hundred and twenty-one. Either party may appeal the decision of the clerk-magistrate to a justice, who shall hear the case de novo. There shall be no right of jury trial for civil motor vehicle infractions. The clerk-magistrate or justice shall, after hearing, and the justice shall, after hearing on an appeal de novo, find the violator responsible if he determines by a preponderance of the credible evidence that the alleged violator committed the violation charged; otherwise the clerk-magistrate or justice shall find the violator not responsible. If the violator is found responsible, the clerk-magistrate or justice shall impose an assessment which shall be within the range permitted by law; provided, however, that the chief justice of the district court department for said department and the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department shall be authorized to issue guidelines for the imposition of assessments in civil motor vehicle infractions to the end that said assessments are made as uniformly as possible, which guidelines shall be binding on justices and clerk-magistrates; and provided, further, that, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, said guidelines may include provisions requiring that a prescribed assessment, or minimum assessment, within the range permitted by law, be made by all clerk-magistrates or all justices or both in the case of any specified civil motor vehicle infraction for which a violator is found responsible. The clerk-magistrate or justice may allow the violator a reasonable time to pay any assessment imposed.

Appeal on matters of law from the decision of a justice in the case of a civil motor vehicle infraction shall be to the appellate division, and shall be governed by rules promulgated by the chief justice of the district court department for said department and by the chief justice of the Boston municipal court department for said department, which rules shall provide for a simplified method of appeal. Appeals from the Boston division of the juvenile court department shall be to the appellate division of the juvenile court of the city of Boston, and appeals from any other division of the juvenile court department shall be heard by the justices assigned to the appellate division district of the juvenile court department within the territorial jurisdiction of which said division is located.

Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to limit the availability of any remedies which may be available to the court in the case of a violator who has failed within twenty days of the date of the violation either to pay the scheduled assessment or notify the clerk-magistrate that he wishes to contest the violation, failed or refused to pay an assessment within the time allowed or failed without good cause to appear for a hearing. Issuance of a summons or warrant, including a warrant of distress as provided in section forty-two of chapter two hundred and seventy-nine, and issuance of notices as the court deems necessary, shall specifically be allowed. Proceedings for civil contempt, including incarceration therefor, also shall specifically be allowed, and shall be prosecuted by the district attorney or police prosecutor and heard by a justice pursuant to rules of court. Any summons or warrant issued pursuant to this section may be served by any officer authorized to serve criminal process.

(B) If a police officer records the occurrence of an automobile law violation as defined in section one for which the maximum penalty or fine for the first offense exceeds one hundred dollars or provides for a penalty of imprisonment, or operation of a motor vehicle in violation of the first paragraph of section ten of chapter ninety, or violation of section twenty-five of chapter ninety, the police officer may direct that a written warning be issued, may arrest the violator without a warrant in accordance with the provisions and limitations of section twenty-one of chapter ninety, for such offenses as specified in said section or may direct that an application for a complaint be filed.

If the police officer directs that an application for a complaint be filed, he shall so indicate on the citation. If he so indicates, the citation given to the violator shall have printed thereon a statement that the violator shall, if he so requests in writing to the appropriate district court within four days of the alleged violation, be granted a hearing on said violation before any process shall issue, as provided in section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and eighteen, and such printed statement shall be deemed to satisfy the notice requirements of said section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and eighteen. If an application for a complaint is so indicated and a complaint is issued, with or without the above-mentioned hearing, the procedure established for criminal cases shall then be followed. If the police officer directs that an application for a complaint be filed, the citation shall serve as the application and the police chief or person authorized by him shall deposit all parts of the citation, except the police officer's copy and the police department copy, with the clerk-magistrate of the appropriate district court at a time no later than the end of the second court day after the date of the violation. The police chief may, from time to time, designate one person to sign all such complaints.

If a criminal violation capable of being judicially heard and determined under this subsection is recorded by a police officer, the violator shall not have the option to dispose of the violation as provided in subsection (A). If a criminal violation capable of being judicially heard and determined under this subsection is recorded by a police officer in conjunction with and arising from the same occurrence as a civil motor vehicle infraction cognizable under the provisions of subsection (A), the criminal violation and the civil motor vehicle infraction shall be recorded on the same citation whenever feasible; any hearing on the civil motor vehicle infraction shall be heard by a justice and shall be heard at the same time as the related criminal or delinquency proceeding, provided that in such a case the civil motor vehicle infraction shall retain its character as such and shall be decided and disposed of by the justice under the same general procedures and with the same provisions as to disposition and assessments that would be applicable in the absence of a related criminal or delinquency proceeding; and the violator shall retain the right to dispose of the civil motor vehicle infraction by payment of the same scheduled assessment that would be applicable in the absence of a related criminal or delinquency proceeding, but the right to pay said scheduled assessment shall be exercised only before a justice and in open court and at such time as the justice prescribes. If the violator exercises his right to trial by jury in the first instance with respect to the criminal violation, the civil motor vehicle infraction shall be heard by the justice presiding over such trial. The justice may conduct such hearing simultaneously with the criminal trial, or may sever the hearing of the civil motor vehicle infraction from the trial of the criminal violation if justice so requires. The several divisions of the juvenile court department shall have jurisdiction over civil motor vehicle infractions that are recorded in conjunction with and that arise from the same occurrence as a violation that is treated as a delinquency matter in said divisions.

(C) If a violator in the case of a civil motor vehicle infraction cognizable under subsection (A) fails within twenty days of the date of the violation either to pay the scheduled assessment or notify the clerk-magistrate that he wishes to contest the violation, or if a violator in the case of any automobile law violation, whether capable of being judicially heard and determined under subsection (A) or subsection (B), fails without good cause to appear for a hearing before the clerk-magistrate or a justice at the time required, said defendant having been summoned or notice of such hearing having been given either personally or by mail to the address shown on registry of motor vehicles records unless another address is indicated on the citation or on the request for hearing, or fails to pay a fine, penalty, assessment, or other lawful amount within the time allowed, the clerk-magistrate shall notify the registrar. Such notice to the registrar may be given more than once in the same case if necessary. Nothing herein shall be deemed to prevent, in addition to notice to the registrar, the sending of such additional written notices or court process to the violator as may be deemed necessary.

Upon receipt of said notice, the registrar shall give such person written notice by first class mail directed to his residential or mail address, as reported to the registrar pursuant to section twenty-six A of chapter ninety, or to such person's last known address as furnished by such person to the citing officer or to the court, that his operator's license, learner's permit or right to operate will be suspended by operation of law and without further notice or hearing at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the mailing of such written notice, which expiration date shall be specifically indicated by the registrar in said notice, and that any license to operate a motor vehicle or any registration of a motor vehicle issued to said violator by the registrar will not be renewed upon or after the expiration date of said license or registration, unless and until the violator presents the registrar with a certificate of the justice or clerk-magistrate of the court that the violation has been disposed of in accordance with law or that the violator is attending to the matter to the satisfaction of the court. The court shall not unreasonably withhold such certificate.

If any person fails to present the certificate provided above in the time provided above, his operator's license, learner's permit or right to operate shall be deemed suspended by operation of law on the date indicated on the notice mailed to him by the registrar. The registrar shall place such suspension on record and shall not reinstate such license, learner's permit or right to operate, nor renew any operator's license or motor vehicle registration issued to said violator, until the certificate referred to above is presented; provided, however, that the registrar shall be authorized to revoke the notice to the violator provided for in the preceding paragraph if he is satisfied that said notice was issued through error of the registrar or the court; and provided, further, that the court shall be notified of any such revocation by the registrar.

The registrar is hereby authorized to enter into reciprocal and mutual agreements with other states with regard to the interstate enforcement of motor vehicle violations and all other matters relating to motorists and motor vehicles, upon approval by the secretary of public safety.

SECTION 13. Any citation issued pursuant to chapter ninety C of the General Laws prior to the effective date of this act shall be processed and heard in all respects in accordance with the provisions of said chapter existing prior to the effective date of this act, notwithstanding that all or part of said processing and hearing takes place on or after said effective date.

SECTION 14. This act shall take effect on July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Chapter 795. AN ACT AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COMMISSION TO ACQUIRE CERTAIN LAND ALONG THE CARSON BEACH WATERFRONT IN SOUTH BOSTON AND TO CONSTRUCT CERTAIN PARKS THEREON.

ACTS, 1985. - Chap. 796.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized, subject to the provisions of section forty F 1/2 and forty H to forty J, inclusive, of chapter seven and chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, to acquire, approved as to form by the attorney general, certain real properties or any interest therein located in the part of the city of Boston known as South Boston from an individual or entity, subject to the requirements of section two and to such additional terms and conditions as the deputy commissioner may prescribe, in consultation with the Metropolitan District Commission, said property being, . . .

A) "a two hundred foot wide strip of land bounded on the ocean side by the high water mark and running along Carson Beach, in that part of South Boston known as South Boston from the southerly end of said beach to the southerly boundary of the site of the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library, more specifically described in plans on file in the department of public works and said commission".

B) "a strip of land two hundred feet wide running along Day boulevard between Shore drive and Castle Island in said South Boston, more specifically described in plans on file in the department of public works and said commission".

SECTION 2. No deed conveying by or on behalf of the Commonwealth the property described in section one or by any interest therein, and no lease of said property, shall be valid unless such deed or lease provides that said properties shall be used for an urban waterfront public park.

Approved January 9, 1986.

Chapter 796. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE AUTHORITY OF CERTAIN GUARDIANS OR RELATIVES OF RETARDED PERSONS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3 of chapter 123 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

The provisions of this section shall not apply to transfers of mentally retarded persons who reside at a facility for the mentally retarded.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 123 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 3 the following section:-

Section 3A. The department shall notify and consult with the permanent guardian or, if there is no such guardian and the mentally retarded person does not knowingly object, the nearest relative of a mentally retarded person, prior to the transfer of said person from one residential facility for the mentally retarded to another. Such notice shall be given at least forty-five days prior to the proposed transfer.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 796.

If a permanent guardian has been appointed for a mentally retarded person who is receiving residential services through the department, said department shall request said guardian's consent prior to the transfer by the department of said mentally retarded person from one residential facility for the mentally retarded to another. Said consent shall be requested in writing by registered mail, at least forty-five days prior to the proposed transfer. The request for consent shall include (1) a statement of how the proposed residential transfer from the current facility to the proposed residential facility will result in improved services and quality of life for the retarded ward, (2) the location of the proposed facility and a statement that said guardian may examine the facility, and (3) a statement of the rights of said guardian established by this section. Any objection by the guardian to the proposed transfer shall be in writing and shall contain a statement of the reasons upon which the objection is based. Failure to object in writing within said forty-five days shall be deemed to be a consent to said transfer. If the guardian files an objection, the transfer shall not occur unless the department prevails at an adjudicatory proceeding pursuant to this section.

If the individual service plan developed for the mentally retarded person by the department pursuant to its regulations cannot be fully implemented as a result of the guardian's objection to a proposed transfer, the department shall, within twenty days of receipt of said objection, file a request for an adjudicatory proceeding with the division of administrative law appeals established by section four H of chapter seven, whereupon said division shall be authorized to conduct said proceeding to determine whether the transfer should proceed. The division shall conduct an adjudicatory hearing within ninety days in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A, and the burden of proof shall be on the department. During the pendency of said hearing the proposed residential transfer shall not occur. Said mentally retarded person shall have the right to be represented by counsel. The hearings officer shall determine which placement meets the best interest of the ward giving due consideration to the objections of the placement made by the relative and permanent guardian. The hearing officer shall issue a decision within thirty days of the hearing. After the hearing officer renders a written decision the parties shall have twenty days in which to appeal the decision to the superior court and the court shall hear such appeal as expeditiously as possible in open court or in chambers, and at such time and upon such notice, if notice is required as it in its discretion determines.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, in the case of an emergency, a transfer from one residential facility for the mentally retarded to another may be made immediately, provided, however, that no mentally retarded person shall be transferred to a facility for the mentally ill and notice of said transfer shall be given to said guardian or relative pursuant to this section within eight hours after said transfer. Failure by said guardian to object in writing within forty-five days of said notice shall be deemed to be a consent to said transfer. In all other respects, the standards and procedures governing a non-emergency transfer shall be the same as those governing an emergency transfer.

ACTS, 1985. – Chaps. 797, 798.

SECTION 3. Section 4 of said chapter 123, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Following the review of a mentally retarded person, if the person is still in need of care as a resident, the superintendent shall notify the person and his nearest relative or legal guardian.

Chapter 798. AN ACT INCORPORATING THE HOUSATONIC RAILROAD COMPANY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. John R. Hanlon, Jr., his associates and successors, are hereby made a corporation by the name of Housatonic Railroad Company, Inc., with all the powers and privileges, and subject to all restrictions and liabilities set forth in all General Laws now or hereafter in force relating to railroad companies, except as otherwise provided herein.

SECTION 2. Said corporation is hereby authorized, subject to the approval of the department of public utilities, to operate its trains and other equipment upon an existing right of way to be leased or purchased by said corporation. Said corporation shall also operate its trains and other equipment on any other railroad track in the commonwealth over which it may acquire a lease or other right of way from any other railroad or from the commonwealth.

SECTION 3. The capital stock of the corporation shall consist of not less than five thousand shares divided into such classes, either with or without par value, as may be determined by its incorporators. The corporation is authorized to increase, reduce or alter its capital stock from time to time as provided by chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws.

SECTION 4. The affairs of the corporation shall be managed by a board of directors in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws. The board of directors is expressly authorized to make, adopt, alter and repeal the by-laws of the corporation.

SECTION 5. The corporation may exercise, in addition to all other powers specifically granted under this act, all the powers and privileges granted by law to railroads and to corporations organized under the General Laws.

SECTION 6. The principal office of said corporation shall be located at such place as the board of directors may designate within the commonwealth.

SECTION 7. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the rights and powers conferred upon the corporation by this act shall be of no force or effect if the corporation fails to begin operating or performing railroad business under the provisions of section two within five years of the effective date of this act.

SECTION 8. If the corporation fails to start or ceases rail operations, the commonwealth shall have a first option to purchase any land acquired by the corporation from any railroad company authorized to do business in the commonwealth at a price not in excess of that paid by said corporation for such land, plus the reasonable cost of improvements.

SECTION 9. If the commonwealth acquires land, including the railroad right of way which is the subject of this charter, the corporation may lease from the commonwealth, and the commonwealth is hereby authorized to lease to the corporation, such rights of way and any additional land required for the conduct of rail service.

Chapter 799. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ORDERLY ADMINISTRATION AND IMPROVEMENT OF JAILS, HOUSES OF CORRECTION, AND CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS IN THE COMMONWEALTH.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to facilitate the takeover by the commonwealth from the counties of the maintenance and operation of jails and houses of correction in the several counties of the commonwealth, and to provide for immediate relief to the counties and cities and towns by relieving them of the said costs, and to integrate and coordinate said facilities into a statewide modern correctional system, and to relieve the serious overcrowding problems in the correctional institutions of the commonwealth, which will lead to improved health, safety and sanitary conditions therein; therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 34 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 3, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 3. Each county shall provide suitable jails, houses of correction, fireproof offices and other public buildings, including both the structures and the land upon which such structures are sited, necessary for its use; provided, however, that the county of Dukes need not provide a house of correction; provided, further, that the city of Boston shall provide necessary public buildings, including both the structures and the land upon which such structures are sited, for Suffolk county; provided, further, that the obligation to provide suitable structures of jails and houses of correction shall become that of the commonwealth and shall cease to be that of such counties or city in the event that the commonwealth constructs such facilities for such county or city; provided, further, that in any such county or city which has been ordered by a court to construct a new correctional facility, state assumption of the responsibility to provide such structure shall occur when the state appropriates funds therefor and such county or city has complied with any conditions attached to such appropriation, if any; and, provided further, that notwithstanding the fact that the commonwealth may have assumed the responsibilities of providing a suitable structure for such facilities, the counties and the city shall retain the obligation to provide for the operation and maintenance of such facilities. No courtroom of the superior court shall contain a cage for defendants.

SECTION 2. Section 7 of chapter 126 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:– In the event that the commonwealth constructs a house or houses of correction in a county, then such county shall no longer be responsible for providing for the structure of such facility or facilities, but shall continue to be required to maintain and operate such facility; provided, however, that in any county which has been ordered by a court to construct a new house of correction, state assumption of the responsibility to provide such structure shall occur when the state appropriates funds therefor and such county has complied with any conditions attached to such appropriation, if any.

SECTION 3. Item 4343–8831 of section 2 of chapter 347 of the acts of 1982 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "Shirley", in line 7, the words:– ; provided, however, that the division of capital planning and operations shall perform a study and design of a five hundred bed medium security facility; and provided that a grant of fifty thousand dollars shall be made available to the town of Shirley for a feasibility study of a solid waste disposal and cogeneration facility.

SECTION 4. To provide for a program of studies, preparation of plans, construction, reconstruction, alteration, improvement, lease and purchase of various state and county correctional facilities, the sums set forth in sections five, six, seven, eight and eleven of this act, for the several purposes and subject to the conditions specified under provisions of this act, are hereby made available, subject to the provisions of law regulating disbursement of public funds and the approval thereof.

SECTION 5. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized to expend forty-three million dollars for studies, the preparation of plans, the acquisition of land, and the construction, including furnishings and equipment, of a new facility in Suffolk county to replace the Charles street jail; provided, that no funds appropriated herein shall be expended on the planning, design, and construction of a combined facility which replaces both the Suffolk county house of correction at Deer Island and said Charles street jail; provided, further, that no funds appropriated herein shall be expended for the planning, design or construction of any such replacement facility on the site of the existing Charles street jail; provided, further, that no funds appropriated herein shall be expended for the purposes of replacing said Charles street jail until such time as the city of Boston shall convey for one dollar to the division of capital planning and operations on behalf of the commonwealth, in a deed approved as to form by the attorney general, the title to the land and buildings at the site of the existing Charles street jail, including the Master's House so-called; provided, further, that the city of Boston is hereby authorized to convey such title to such land as provided herein; provided, however, that such action shall take place on or before February eighteen, nineteen hundred and eighty-six; provided, further, that said division is hereby authorized to acquire, by purchase and/or by land exchange, real property located in the vicinity of Nashua street in the city of Boston determined by said division to be necessary and appropriate as a site for the replacement facility for the Charles street jail, such acquired real property to be used, if necessary, in conjunction with real property currently owned by the commonwealth or by any subdivisions thereof; provided further, that, notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, said division is authorized to agree with present owners of real property so acquired for such replacement facility, to convey to said owners title to all or a portion of the Charles street jail site, as conveyed to the commonwealth by the city of Boston, provided that the fair market value of the real property for said replacement facility together with such other consideration, if any, to be paid to the commonwealth by such owners is comparable to the fair market value of that portion of the Charles street jail site to be conveyed; provided, however, that any such conveyance by the division to said owners shall be subject to the condition that control and possession of said Charles street jail site shall remain with the city of Boston until such time as said replacement facility is constructed and until all occupants of the present facility have been removed; provided, further, that all liability with respect to the land and buildings at said Charles street jail site including that for acts which occur after the effective date of this act shall continue to rest upon the same parties as it did prior to the effective date of this act and shall shift only upon the transfer of control and possession as herein provided; and provided, further, that the deputy commissioner of said division shall within thirty days of the effective date of this act file with the clerks of the Senate and the House of Representatives a report detailing the real property determined by the division to be necessary and appropriate for the construction of a replacement facility for said Charles street jail, and provided, further, that said report shall also include an analysis of the fair market value of the real property so detailed.

SECTION 6. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized to expend fifty-one million two hundred and forty thousand dollars for studies, the preparation of plans, and the renovation, upgrading, and expansion of existing state correctional facilities, including the costs of furnishings and equipment, located at Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Shirley; Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Concord; Lancaster pre-release center; Norfolk pre-release center; Bay State correctional center; Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Bridgewater; Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Warwick; Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Plymouth; Northeastern Correctional Center; Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Cedar Junction; North Central Correctional Institution; the South Middlesex pre-release center at Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Framingham; provided, however, that no more than nine million, six hundred thousand dollars shall be expended on maximum security facilities; provided, further, that no more than thirteen million, one hundred forty thousand dollars shall be expended on medium security facilities; provided, further, that two million five hundred thousand dollars is authorized to be expended for the study, preparation of plans, demolition, renovation, and alteration of certain buildings owned by the department of correction on Commonwealth avenue in the town of Concord, known as "White Row," and on Elm Place in said town, known as "Green Row," and for the construction of certain replacement facilities, including the cost of furnishings and equipment; and, provided further, that said existing or newly constructed buildings known as "White Row" and "Green Row" shall not be used for inmate housing.

SECTION 7. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized to expend thirty million dollars for the study, design, and construction of projects in accordance with a deferred maintenance program for correctional facilities of the commonwealth; provided, however, that within four months of the effective date of this act and on a quarterly basis thereafter, the deputy commissioner of said division shall submit a schedule to the house and senate committees on ways and means identifying the locations and estimated construction costs of deferred maintenance projects to be undertaken hereunder.

SECTION 8. The secretary of the executive office of human services, hereinafter in this act called the secretary, is hereby authorized to expend one hundred thirty-four million dollars for the purpose of a grant program to assist counties in undertaking feasibility studies, acquiring land, including buildings thereon, making preliminary plans, and designing, constructing, expanding, reconstructing, rehabilitating, renovating, or finishing a jail, house of correction or other correctional facility and a grant program of study, design, and construction of projects for deferred maintenance of such a jail, house of correction, or other correctional facility.

The secretary shall provide grant monies to the counties up to the limits established herein; provided, however, that no grant shall be made without the approval of the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means. The maximum amounts to be provided to counties under each program are as follows:

thirty-five million dollars for design and construction of the Bristol county house of correction;

five million dollars for feasibility studies and for designs of Norfolk and Essex county houses of correction;

thirty million dollars for construction of Norfolk county house of correction;

thirty million dollars for construction of Essex county house of correction;

twenty-four million dollars for land acquisition, a feasibility study, a design of and construction of a regional house or regional houses of correction combining medium and minimum levels of security to be used solely for female prisoners; and ten million dollars for the study, design, and construction of projects for deferred maintenance.

SECTION 9. The secretary shall establish rules and regulations which shall govern the application for and distribution of grant funds for counties under the provisions of this act. Any such rules and regulations, or any amendment or repeal of any such rules or regulation shall, after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives and the clerk of the senate. Any such regulation may require a commitment on the part of a county to accept persons who are housed in state correctional facilities and may require a county to develop housing units at all security levels.

Such regulations shall require that all construction and design of facilities undertaken by counties pursuant to this act shall be in accordance with the provisions of chapter five hundred and seventy-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty, and that, except for the deferred maintenance program, the county commissioners convey to the commonwealth sufficient land, by a deed approved by the commissioner of correction and the commissioner of administration, on which to construct said facility, and upon completion thereof shall be operated and maintained by the county as county house of correction; provided, however, that two or more counties may jointly operate and maintain a regional house of correction.

SECTION 10. Any county, except Suffolk county or Nantucket county, may, by a vote of the county commissioners make application to said secretary for financial assistance in undertaking a project described in section eight. In Suffolk county said application shall be made by the mayor of Boston and in Nantucket county the board of selectmen. A joint application requires the approval of each county involved in such application in like manner. Such application shall include the proposed cost of the project, the proposed location of such project and any such other information specified by such rules or regulations. The amount of assistance for any project shall not exceed one hundred per cent of the total cost of any one project.

In determining the level of such funding the secretary shall consider among others, the following factors: (a) the existing space available in the county, (b) the condition of existing facilities, (c) the current inmate population, (d) the existence of separate facilities to house male and female inmates, and (e) recent legislation which may affect inmate population.

Said secretary shall make such determination within one hundred and eighty days of the date of such application. Upon the approval of said application, as provided for herein and in sections eight and nine, the secretary shall notify the applicant of the amount of such financial assistance for such projects.

SECTION 11. Said secretary is also hereby authorized to expend fifteen million dollars for the purpose of a grant program to assist cities and towns to finance infrastructure repairs, purchases, replacement, or construction which is necessitated by the increased demands placed on such cities and towns due to the expansion of existing state correctional facilities provided for in section six or due to construction of a regional house of correction provided for in section eight. Such infrastructure repairs, purchases, replacement or construction shall include, but not be limited to, sewers, water mains, streets and highways, public safety communication equipment, other public safety equipment and vehicles, solid waste recovery or disposal facilities, street lighting, and traffic lights.

Said secretary may provide grant monies to such city or town in an amount which shall be no greater than twenty-five per cent of the amount expended within such city or town pursuant to the provisions of section six or the applicable provisions of section eight; provided, however, that no grant shall be made without the approval of the commissioner of administration and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 12. Said secretary shall establish rules and regulations which shall govern the application for and distribution of grant funds to cities and towns under the provisions of this act. Any such rules or regulations, or any amendment or repeal of any such rules or regulations shall, after compliance with all applicable provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, be filed with the clerk of the house of representatives and the clerk of the senate. Any such regulation shall require a commitment on the part of the city or town to allow the expansion of existing state correctional facilities or construction of a regional house of correction in the city or town to proceed without delay.

In any city such application for such a grant shall be made by the mayor, except that in a city with a plan D or plan E form of government, such application shall be made by the city council, and in a town such application shall be made by the selectmen.

Such application shall include the proposed cost of the infrastructure project, the proposed location of such project and any such other information required by such rules or regulations. The amount of assistance for any such project shall not exceed one hundred per cent of the total cost of any such project.

Said secretary shall forward any such application to the department of correction and to any other appropriate state agency which has experience with or jurisdiction over the subject matter of the infrastructure project for their comments and recommendations.

In determining the appropriateness of such an infrastructure project and the level of funding for such project, said secretary shall consider, among others, the following factors: (a) the degree of impact on the infrastructure of the city or town expected to be caused by the construction or expansion of the correctional facility in such city or town, (b) the extent to which the proposed infrastructure project addresses such expected impact; and (c) the extent to which such infrastructure projects further related goals and objectives of the state.

Said secretary shall make a determination within one hundred and eighty days of the date of such application. Upon the approval of such application, as provided for herein and in section eleven, said secretary shall notify such applicant of the amount of such grant for such project.

SECTION 12A. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section five of this act, the state treasurer, upon request of the governor, shall issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of forty-three million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid shall be designated on their face, Suffolk County Jail Facility Loan Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, in the year two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of the principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 799.

SECTION 13. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section six of this act, the state treasurer, upon the request of the governor, shall issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of fifty-one million two hundred and forty thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face Correctional Loan Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of the principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 14. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section seven of this act, the state treasurer, upon request of the governor, shall issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of thirty million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid shall be designated on their face Deferred Maintenance-Correctional Loan Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding ten years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, in the year two thousand. All interest and payments on account of the principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 15. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section eight of this act, the state treasurer, upon the request of the governor, shall issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of one hundred thirty-four million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face County Correctional Facilities Loan Act of 1985 and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest payments on account of the principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 16. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section eleven of this act, the state treasurer, upon request of the governor, shall issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of fifteen million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid shall be designated on their face, Local Infrastructure Projects Loan Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding ten years, as the governor may recommend to the General Court pursuant to section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, in the year two thousand. All interest and payments on account of the principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Local Aid Fund. Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 17. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purposes of meeting payments as authorized by this act, and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth thereof, bearing interest payable at such time and at such rate as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such term, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the General Court in accordance with section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-six. Notes and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this act, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 18. The amount appropriated by this act shall be in addition to previous appropriations made for the development of state and county correctional facilities, including amounts made available pursuant to chapter three hundred and forty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two and chapter seven hundred and twenty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 19. For the purpose of alleviating overcrowded conditions in the state correctional facilities in as little time as possible while maintaining economy of construction, the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations, with respect to the projects authorized by sections five and six of this act, may after consultation with the director of the office of project management, the commissioner of correction, the secretary, and such other persons as said deputy commissioner deems appropriate, recommend to the general court, in accordance with the provisions of this section, alternative methods for procurement of design and construction services, including but not limited to construction management, fast-tracked or phased construction, turnkey procurement, design and build procurement, lease-purchase of facilities, the utilization of modular buildings, and the utilization of inmate work crews.

For the purposes of alleviating the conditions at the Charles Street jail in as little time as possible, the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations, with respect to the replacement of the Charles Street jail, may after consultation with the director of the office of project management, the commissioner of correction, the sheriff of Suffolk county, the secretary and such other persons as said deputy commissioner deems appropriate, recommend to the general court, in accordance with the provisions of this section, alternative methods for the acquisition of any real property owned by the Commonwealth or any agency or subdivision thereof deemed necessary and appropriate for said replacement, for the procurement of design and construction services, including but not limited to construction management, fast-tracked or phase construction, turnkey procurement, design and build procurement, lease-purchase of facilities, the utilization of modular buildings and the utilization of inmate work crews.

In making a recommendation to the general court, said deputy commissioner shall, as to each project for which an alternative method is recommended, set forth in full the procedures by which design and construction services for that project would be procured; provided, however, that a study shall be completed pursuant to section seven K of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws prior to contracting for any services for the design or construction of such project; and provided, further, that such recommended procedures shall provide for an open competition for design and construction publicly advertised pursuant to paragraph one of section forty-four J of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws. Said deputy commissioner shall file with his recommendation a report to the general court specifying his reasons for determining that such recommended alternative method is necessary and feasible and setting forth a comparison of costs, time schedules, and quality of construction between the recommended alternative and the procurement procedures that will apply if the alternative method is not approved.

Said deputy commissioner shall file his recommendation and report with the inspector general at least fifteen days before said deputy commissioner files said recommendation and report with the general court. The inspector general shall review the recommendation and report with respect to the prevention of fraud, waste and abuse and shall make such comments as said inspector general deems warranted. At the request of said inspector general, said deputy commissioner shall annex the comments of said inspector general to the report of said deputy commissioner to the general court.

Said deputy commissioner shall file his recommendation and report, together with the comments, if any, of the inspector general with the clerks of the senate and the house of representatives, the senate and house committees on ways and means, the joint committee on human services and elderly affairs, and the joint committee on state administration.

For the purposes of section forty-two B of chapter seven of the General Laws, the alternative method recommended in a report by said deputy commissioner for the procurement of design and construction services for a specified project filed with the general court on or before the effective date of this act is hereby approved.

SECTION 20. The deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations shall establish a special unit to be assigned exclusively to expedite the planning, design, and construction of capital facility projects funded by this act. A similar special unit shall also be established by the commissioner of correction. Said deputy commissioner or the commissioner of correction may, in accordance with a schedule annually approved by the commissioner of administration, temporarily hire additional employees or consultants and assign any employee of the division of capital planning and operations or the department of correction, respectively, to the special units required for the supervision of said projects; provided, however, that the salaries and administrative expenses for both of the special units shall be paid from funds made available by this act as a part of the cost of the development and construction of said projects; and, provided further, that thirty days prior to the hiring or transfer of said additional employees, said deputy commissioner or the commissioner of correction shall notify the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 21. The commissioner of correction is hereby authorized and directed to report quarterly on the status of overcrowding in the state and county correction facilities. Such report shall include, by facility, the average daily census for the period of the report and the actual census on the first and last days of the report period. Said report shall also contain such information for the previous twelve months and a comparison to the rated capacity of each such facility.

Said commissioner shall file such report with the supreme judicial court, the chief administrative justice of the trial court, the secretary, the commissioner of administration, the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations, and the house and senate committees on ways and means and shall make sufficient copies available to the general public.

Until such time as said reports indicate that the census of no state or county correctional facility exceeds the rated capacity of each such facility, the deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized and directed to take all lawful steps necessary to bring state and county correction capacity up to adequate levels in as short a time as possible, including the development of additional alternative methods of construction as authorized by section forty-two B of chapter seven of the General Laws.

SECTION 22. Said secretary, said commission of correction, and said deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations are hereby authorized and directed to develop additional plans to eliminate overcrowding in state and county correctional facilities. Said plans shall be based on a recalculation of the projected excess census over rated capacity that will exist when the expansion of capacity authorized by this and prior acts is completed. The governor shall submit a special message to the general court making recommendations relative to said additional plans within one hundred twenty days of the effective date of this act.

SECTION 23. A special commission consisting of three members of the senate and six members of the house of representatives is hereby established to make an investigation and study of the feasibility of the department of corrections contracting for correctional services for correctional facilities, to include jails and houses of correction, from private entities. Said investigation shall include, but not be limited to a comprehensive analysis of all the financial, legal, security, and public safety aspects of such contracts. Said study shall also include an analysis of similar contracting in other states and any impact on the quality of life of the inmates including the opportunity for their rehabilitation.

Said study shall also include an analysis of the correctional needs of women including but not limited to prerelease placements, diversion programs, drug and alcohol programs, educational and training programs, housing needs of women released from prison; and programs to maintain ties between prisoners and their children.

Said commission (1) shall be provided with quarters in the state house; (2) may expend for expenses and for expert, legal, clerical and other assistance such sums as may be appropriated therefore; (3) may travel within and without the commonwealth; (4) may hold hearings; (5) shall report to the general court the results of its investigation and study and its recommendations, if any, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry out its recommendations, by filing the same with the clerks of both branches; (6) may report from time to time but shall file its final report not later than the last Wednesday in December nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 24. The department of correction is hereby authorized to enter into a land use agreement with the town of Concord regarding land owned by said department in said town.

SECTION 25. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the commissioner of correction is hereby authorized to enter into a contract with a private organization for the financing, operation, and maintenance of one state correctional facility constructed pursuant to this act. Said commissioner shall not so contract with a private organization in which an employee of the department of correction has a direct or indirect financial interest.

SECTION 26. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved January 10, 1986.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 800.

Chapter 800. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE BORROWING POWER AND CERTAIN OTHER POWERS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE COLLEGE BUILDING AUTHORITY.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would cause great inconvenience in the issuance of bonds and notes by the Massachusetts State College Building Authority to carry out its purposes of providing urgently needed facilities for the state colleges and improvements to existing facilities, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety and convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 703 of the acts of 1963 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(b) "Trustees", the board of regents, established under section two of chapter fifteen A of the General Laws, to be the governing authority of the system of public institutions of higher education, or if such regents shall hereafter be abolished, the board, body or commission succeeding to the principal functions thereof or to which the powers given by said chapter fifteen A with respect to state colleges shall be given by law.

SECTION 2. Said section 1 of said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (e) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(e) "Project", the construction of new buildings or structures and the acquisition, addition to, alteration, enlargement, reconstruction, rehabilitation, remodeling and other work, including, but not limited to, the alteration or modification of existing facilities or the construction of additional or new facilities required or made desirable by changes in or enactments of new law or regulation or changes in or new circumstances such as, by way of example and not by way of limitation, provision for access or use by handicapped persons, provision for conservation of energy, provision for safety and security of persons and property, provision for other compliance with changed or new law, regulation or circumstance, in or upon or respecting existing buildings or structures, the provision and installation therein or in respect thereof of furnishings, furniture, machinery, equipment, facilities, approaches, driveways, walkways, parking areas, planting and landscaping, the acquisition of land, other property, rights, easements and interests acquired for or in respect to any thereof, the demolition or removal of any buildings or structures on land so acquired or interests in which are so acquired and site preparation, with respect to which the Authority shall provide by resolution for the issuance of a series of bonds or notes. Whenever appropriate the word shall also mean such land, buildings or structures and such appurtenances.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 800.

SECTION 3. Said section 1 of said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (h) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(h) "State college", any of the following public institutions of higher education: Bridgewater State College, Fitchburg State College, Framingham State College, the Massachusetts College of Art, the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, North Adams State College, Salem State College, Westfield State College, Worcester State College.

SECTION 4. Section 2 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph, as most recently amended by chapter 347 of the acts of 1968, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The Authority shall consist of nine members to be appointed by the governor, of whom three members shall be appointive members of the trustees and may, but need not, be graduates of a state college. The members appointed from the appointive members of the trustees shall continue in office so long as they continue in office as trustees, and such dual membership shall not invalidate any action heretofore or hereafter taken by the Authority or by the trustees in which such a member of the Authority holding such dual membership has participated or may participate. Each member appointed other than from the appointive members of the trustees shall continue in office for a term expiring on June thirtieth in the sixth calendar year next after the calendar year in which the term of office of such member began, except that a person appointed to fill a vacancy in any such membership shall serve only for the unexpired term. Each member shall continue in office until the successor of such member shall have been appointed and qualified, but the term of office of a member appointed other than from the appointive members of the trustees shall be deemed to have commenced in the calendar year in which the stated term of office of the predecessor of such member shall have expired. Any member of the Authority may be removed by the governor for cause after notice and a public hearing unless such notice and hearing are expressly waived in writing. The Authority shall annually elect from its members a chairman and a vice-chairman, and shall also elect a secretary-treasurer and may elect an assistant secretary-treasurer who need not be members of the Authority. If any member is absent from four regular monthly meetings in any calendar year, the office of such member as a member of the Authority shall be deemed vacant. The chairman shall forthwith notify the governor that such vacancy exists.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out section 3 and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 3. Purposes.– The Authority is created for the general purposes of aiding and contributing to the performance of the educational and other purposes of the state colleges by providing dormitories, dining commons and other buildings and structures for the use of one or more state colleges, students, staff and their dependents, which may be located at such place or places as the trustees may designate and which may be provided in collaboration with, and for joint use by, other agencies, boards, commissions or departments of the commonwealth and authorities created by the laws of the commonwealth. The Authority shall not initiate any project except upon written request made by authority of the trustees and upon written approval from the commissioner of administration and the chancellor of the board of regents of higher education, and notwithstanding any other provisions of this act the Authority shall have power to initiate only such projects as the trustees determine to be designed primarily to provide facilities for the housing, feeding, medical care or extra curricular use by students, staff and dependents or facilities for use by a research foundation or other research organization as defined above.

SECTION 6. Section 4 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out clause (g) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(g) To borrow from time to time to achieve any one or more of its corporate purposes and to refund obligations earlier incurred for any such purpose and for refunding, and to sell its bonds and notes therefor, payable solely from its revenues, as provided in section seven.

SECTION 7. Said section 4 of said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (i) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(i) To acquire, by lease, purchase or otherwise, provided that the Authority shall have no power to acquire property by any eminent domain proceedings, hold and dispose of real and personal property and rights and interests therein in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties under this act.

SECTION 8. Said section 4 of said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (n) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(n) To invest any funds held by it pending disbursement, which investment may be made in any one or more of the following:

(i) direct obligations of, or obligations the payment of the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by, the United States of America;

(ii) obligations of the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Government National Mortgage Association, the Federal Financing Bank, the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Federal Banks for Cooperatives, Federal Land Banks, Federal Home Loan Banks, Farmers Home Administration and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, or of any other agency or corporation which has been or is hereafter created pursuant to an act of Congress of the United States as an agency or instrumentality thereof;

(iii) interest-bearing time deposits or certificates of deposit of banking institutions or trust companies organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any national banking association, provided that such deposits or certificates shall be continuously and fully secured by obligations described in subclauses (i) and (ii) having a market value, exclusive of accrued interest, at least equal to the aggregate amount of such deposits and certificates; or

(iv) any of the securities described in subclauses (i) and (ii) which are subject to repurchase agreements with any bank or trust company organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any national banking association.

SECTION 9. Section 7 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 845 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The Authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of bonds of the Authority to achieve any of its corporate purposes or for the purpose of refunding outstanding indebtedness of the Authority incurred under this act or incurred under any other similar act or any other authority, including the payment of all or any part of the cost of projects, the payment of interest on notes and bonds of the Authority, the establishment of reserves to secure such bonds and notes, including the reserve funds created pursuant to section ten, and the payment of all other expenditures of the Authority incident to and necessary or convenient to carry out its corporate purposes and powers and any refunding; provided, that the Authority shall not issue bonds the principal amount of which, when added to the principal amount of bonds and notes theretofore issued hereunder, excluding bonds and notes previously refunded or being or to be refunded thereby, shall exceed one hundred five million dollars; and provided, further, that the Authority shall not issue notes or bonds for the purpose of refunding bonds theretofore issued and then outstanding hereunder except with the prior written approval of the trustees of such refunding issue, which approval need not be of the interest rate, the maturity or any of the other terms thereof; and provided, further, that the Authority shall not issue such notes or bonds until a majority of the members of the Authority certify in writing to the secretary of administration and finance: (1) that they have notified all qualified managing underwriters based in the commonwealth of the Authority's intention to issue said notes or bonds; and (2) that said underwriters have been given an equal opportunity to submit proposals.

SECTION 10. Said section 7 of said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out the third and fourth paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:–

The Authority is further authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of interest-bearing or discounted notes for the purposes and in the amounts that bonds may be issued as provided above. Such notes shall be payable within five years from their respective dates, but the principal of and any interest on notes issued for such period or for a shorter period may be renewed or paid from time to time by the issue of other notes hereunder; provided, that the period from the date of an original note to the maturity of any note issued to renew or pay the same debt or the interest thereon shall not exceed ten years.

The principal and interest of any bonds or notes issued hereunder shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided for such payment. The bonds of each issue shall be dated; shall bear interest at such rate or rates, but not including rates variable from time to time, determined in such manner as the Authority shall approve; shall mature or otherwise be payable at such time or times, not exceeding fifty years from their date or dates as may be determined by the Authority; and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the Authority, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the Authority prior to the issuance of any such bonds. The bonds may be issued as serial bonds with maturities in such years as the Authority may determine or as term bonds or as a combination of both.

SECTION 11. The fifth paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out the fourth and fifth sentences and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The Authority may sell such bonds and notes in such manner, either at public or at private sale, and for such price as it may determine to be for the best interests of the Authority; provided, however, that no bonds or notes shall be sold by the Authority unless such sale and the terms thereof have been approved by the treasurer and receiver general or his designee and the commissioner of administration or his designee.

SECTION 12. The sixth paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The proceeds of such bonds and notes shall be used solely for the purposes for which they are issued and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the Authority may provide in the resolution authorizing the issuance thereof or in the trust agreement securing the same.

SECTION 13. Said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 639 of the acts of 1969, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 10. Guaranty by Commonwealth.– The commonwealth, acting by and through the trustees, may enter into a contract or contracts with the Authority for state financial assistance in the form of a guaranty by the commonwealth of bonds of the Authority issued to achieve any of its corporate purposes or to refund outstanding indebtedness of the Authority incurred under this act or any other authority for any such purpose. Such guaranty shall be executed on each bond by the signature or facsimile signature of an officer of the trustees. In case any officer of the trustees whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bond shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or facsimile signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until such delivery. Each such contract shall contain such limitations as to the cost of any project or projects to be financed by the bonds to be guaranteed pursuant thereto and current operating and administrative expenses of the Authority to be allocated thereto, and such other provisions as the trustees may require.

The Authority shall create a reserve for principal and interest on all bonds with respect to which such a contract or contracts shall have been executed and which are secured by a single trust agreement and shall make deposits in such reserve as hereinafter required. For the purposes of this paragraph the term "annual series requirement" shall mean one-twelfth of the largest amount of principal and interest payments due in any one year on any one issue or series of bonds secured by a single trust agreement and the term "year" shall mean a calendar year. Such annual series requirement shall be in effect as to any such issue or series of bonds for and only for the twelve years next succeeding the year in which the same was issued. At the time of initial issue of any issue or series of bonds the Authority may deposit in such reserve an amount, from the proceeds of such bonds or from other available funds of the Authority, not greater than the aggregate of the annual series requirements in respect of such issue. If the amount of such deposit is less than such aggregate, the Authority shall, at the time such deposit is made, designate to which of such annual series requirements such deposit shall apply. In each year commencing with the first year succeeding the year in which the initial such issue or series of bonds shall be issued the Authority shall deposit in such reserve an amount equal to the aggregate of the annual series requirements in effect for such year in respect of all such issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on the first day of such year plus or, at the option of the Authority, minus, as the case may be, the deficiency or excess of the amount on deposit in such reserve on such first day, including in such amount interest accrued but unpaid on obligations in which such amount may then be invested, under or over the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years in respect of all such issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on such first day; provided, however, that if there shall be any application of such reserve or any portion thereof to the payment of principal or interest on bonds, the amount of any deficiency in the amount thereafter on deposit in such reserve resulting from such application shall be taken into account in computing the amount required to be deposited in such reserve in any year thereafter only to the extent that it is practicable to do so. The principal and interest payments due in any year on any issue or series of bonds shall be determined in accordance with the following when applicable: (1) the principal of bonds for the payment, prepayment, redemption or refunding of which funds are held in trust by the trustee appointed pursuant to the trust agreement under which such bonds were issued shall be treated as not outstanding, and after notice of any prepayment, redemption or refunding of bonds has been given in accordance with the trust agreement, all interest accruing on such bonds after the date with respect to which the requirements of such trust agreement for prepayment, redemption or refund thereof have been fulfilled shall be treated as not due, and (2) if the Authority shall establish a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of bonds at or prior to maturity, such principal amount of bonds as will be paid or prepaid from any deposit required to be made into such sinking fund shall be treated as if it matured on the date of such deposit and not on the maturity date of such bonds. Unless the trust agreement or a resolution of the Authority shall otherwise provide, all amounts required to be deposited into a reserve under any trust agreement shall be held for the equal benefit and security of all issues and series of bonds issued under such trust agreement. Any reserve may be used whenever necessary to pay principal or interest on bonds of any such issue or series of bonds, but such reserve shall be restored to the required level as soon as practicable. At any time when the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds (a) the aggregate of the twelve annual series requirements to be in effect with respect to any particular such issue or series of bonds of which are then outstanding plus (b) all annual series requirements in effect for all prior years and for the then current year with respect to all other such issues or series of bonds of which are then outstanding, and when such aggregate plus any other funds of the Authority available for the purpose shall equal or exceed the aggregate amount required to pay in full the principal and redemption price of and interest on all bonds of such particular issue or series then outstanding, the Authority may apply to such payment an amount from such reserve not exceeding such aggregate. If on the first day of any year the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds the sum of (i) the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years plus (ii) the annual series requirements for such year, in each case in respect of all such issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on such first day, the Authority shall not be obliged to make a deposit in such reserve in respect of such year and, if such amount on deposit exceeds such sum but the conditions for application of the preceding sentence are not then met, the Authority may apply such excess to the payment of interest coming due in such year on bonds of such issues or series.

Any such contract may provide for the guaranty by the commonwealth of notes of the Authority issued under section seven, the total amount of which shall not exceed the amount specified in the contract for state financial assistance. Such guarantee shall be executed on each note by the signature or facsimile signature of an officer of the trustees. In case any officer of the trustees whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any note shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or facsimile signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until such delivery.

The guaranty of the commonwealth provided pursuant to such contract shall be of the payment of the principal of, and interest on, all such notes and bonds as the same become due and payable, and the full faith and credit of the commonwealth is hereby pledged for any such guaranty; provided, however, that the total principal amount of notes and bonds so guaranteed shall not exceed one hundred five million dollars in the aggregate, exclusive of bonds and notes refunded or being refunded or to be refunded thereby.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

SECTION 14. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to affect the tenure of any member of the Authority appointed thereto prior to the effective date of this act, and each such member shall continue to serve as a member of said Authority until the expiration of the term for which such member was appointed. Upon the expiration of the term of any such member, or in the event of a vacancy in the membership of the said Authority due to the death, resignation, or removal of any such member, the successor to such member shall be appointed as provided in section two of said chapter seven hundred and three.

Approved January 10, 1986.

Chapter 801. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE VOTERS OF BARNSTABLE COUNTY TO ADOPT A CHARTER DEFINING THE FUNCTIONS TO BE PERFORMED BY THE COUNTY TO PRESERVE, PROTECT, AND DEVELOP THE RESOURCES OF THE COUNTY.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide for Barnstable county to adopt a charter defining the functions to be performed by the county to preserve, protect, and develop the resources of the county, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. As used in this act, the terms "board of registrars of voters", and "board of selectmen" shall include any local authority of different designation performing like duties.

SECTION 2. Barnstable county shall have the power to adopt a charter or to amend an existing charter in accordance with procedures prescribed by this act. This act shall not limit any charter adoption or amendment procedures allowed by prior law or the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

SECTION 3. Submission of the charter study question.

(A) Whenever authorized by resolution of the Barnstable county commissioners or by the Barnstable advisory board on county expenditures, or on petition of the registered voters of Barnstable county, an election shall be held in Barnstable county upon the question "Shall a charter study commission be created to study the present governmental structure of Barnstable county to consider and make findings concerning the form of government and make recommendations thereon?".

(B) A petition calling for such an election must be signed by at least five per cent of the number of registered voters residing in said county at the preceding state election, but in determining the number of signatures contained in said petition, no signature placed on such petition more than six months prior to the date on which said petition is filed with the state secretary shall be counted. The petition shall be filed with the state secretary not later than the last Tuesday in February in the year in which the question is to appear on the state election ballot. Such petition may consist of a number of separate sheets, but each sheet shall be in substantially the form hereinafter prescribed and shall be signed in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The state secretary shall furnish forms for such petition to any registered voter of the county requesting the same. The signatures contained on said petition shall be certified by the board of registrars of voters of the towns in the county prior to the filing of said petition with the state secretary. Such certification shall be performed in the manner prescribed for the certification of signatures on nominating petitions, under section seven of chapter fifty-three of the General Laws. Any petition or separate sheet of a petition submitted for certification shall be processed and returned to the person who submitted it within ten days after the submission. Objections to the sufficiency and validity of the signatures on any such petition as certified by the boards of registrars of voters shall be made in the same manner as provided by law for objections to nominations for county offices. Upon the filing with the state secretary of a petition, the state secretary shall furnish a receipt for the same to the person or persons filing the petition, and within thirty days after the filing of any such petition which contains the necessary number of certified signatures, the state secretary shall notify the board of selectmen of each town in the county that the question of the adoption or revision of a charter under this chapter is to be submitted to the voters of the county. Provided, however, no election of the charter commission may be held in the nineteen hundred and eighty-six state election on petition of the registered voters as provided in paragraphs (A) and (B) shall be inapplicable in nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

(C) When a resolution or petition for the creation of a charter study commission has been duly filed with the county commissioners no other resolution or petition and no other proceedings for the adoption of any other charter or form of government available to the county may be filed unless the voters shall decide the aforesaid question in the negative or until the charter study commission created by the voters shall have been discharged.

SECTION 4. Election of Charter Study Commission.

(A) At the same election as the public question is submitted, fifteen members of a charter study commission shall be elected by the county's registered voters, one member by the registered voters of each town. The voting instructions shall state that the voter may vote on the question and that, regardless of how and whether he voted on the charter question, he may vote for a member of the charter study commission who shall serve if the question is determined in the affirmative.

(B) The ballots to be used in said county at said election shall be prepared and furnished by the state secretary in accordance with the requirements of this chapter and of chapter fifty-four. The charter commission candidates shall appear on the ballot as the last candidates to be elected. The question in section three (A) shall be the first question on the ballot and shall be designated by the letter "A".

SECTION 5. Nominating Procedures.

(A) Candidates for the charter commission shall be persons who are registered voters of Barnstable county, and of the town in which they seek election.

(B) The signatures of twenty registered voters of the town shall be required to nominate charter commission members. Nominating papers containing required number of signatures shall be filed with the state secretary not later than the tenth Tuesday prior to the election in which charter commission members are to be chosen. Nominations for charter commission members shall be governed by the provisions of chapter fifty-three which are applicable to nominations for state office, except that no party or political designations shall be used and that the eight-word statements provided for in section forty-five of chapter fifty-three shall not be used. The clerk of each city and town in the county shall furnish to each candidate for charter commission for that town upon request one copy of the list of registered voters of such city or town and one copy of the list of residents provided for in section six of chapter fifty-one.

SECTION 6. Election Procedures.

(A) A charter commission shall consist of fifteen registered voters of the county, one member elected by and from the registered voters of each town, by official ballot, without party or political designation, at an election held in accordance with relevant provisions of general law and this act. In addition, each Barnstable county commissioner, or his designee, and the chairman of the Barnstable county advisory board on county expenditures, or his designee, shall be non-elected members of the charter commission.

(B) The names of the candidates from each town nominated in accordance with section five shall be placed on such ballot in alphabetical order, preceded by the instruction in section four A.

(C) The provisions of chapter fifty-four regarding votes on amendments to the constitution shall govern the canvassing and counting of votes on the question and the custody and disposition of ballots and related records.

SECTION 7. Organization Meeting of the Commission.

The commission member who received the highest number of votes shall convene the first meeting of the charter commission as soon as possible and in no event later than fifteen days after certification of the results of the state election by the governor and governor's council. If said member does not act, the state secretary shall designate another member of the charter commission to convene the first meeting. At that meeting the charter commission shall promptly organize by the election from among its members of a chairman, a vice chairman, a treasurer and a clerk and shall file a notice of such organization with the secretary of the commonwealth. If no notice of organization is received by the state secretary within ten days after the organizational meeting, he shall immediately designate one of the charter commission members to call a meeting of the commission for the purpose. A charter commission shall continue to exist until thirty days after the election at which its charter adoption or revision proposal, if any, is required to be submitted to the voters under this chapter or until thirty days after submission to the state secretary of a final report recommending no new charter or revision.

If any member dies, resigns or ceases to be a registered voter of the town from which such member was elected, such vacancy shall be filled by the unsuccessful candidate who received the greatest number of votes in the election of said charter commission member. If the vacancy cannot be filled in this manner, the selectmen of the town shall fill the vacancy. The commission may continue to act notwithstanding the existence of any vacancy. Members shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed from the commission's account for expenses lawfully incurred by them in the performance of their duties.

SECTION 8. Function of Charter Commission.

It shall be the function and duty of the charter commission to study the form of government of Barnstable county, to compare it with other forms available under the laws of this state, to determine whether or not in its judgment the government of the county could be strengthened, made more clearly responsive or accountable to the people or whether its operation could be more economical or efficient, under a changed form of government.

SECTION 9. Commission Finance and Operations.

(A) On all votes taken in the charter commission, the fifteen elected members shall each cast votes weighted by the populations of their respective towns, determined from the most recent federal or state census. The four non-elected members, or their designee, shall each cast a vote which is the average of the weighted votes of the elected members. If the charter commission may adopt rules governing the conduct of its meetings and proceedings and may employ such legal, research, clerical or other employees, who shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one, or consultants as its account may permit. In addition to funds made available by the county the charter commission account may receive funds from any other source, public or private, provided, however, that no contribution of more than five dollars shall be accepted from any source other than the county unless the name and address of the person or agency making the contribution, the amount of the contribution and the conditions or stipulations as to its receipt or use, if any, are disclosed in writing filed with the Barnstable county commissioners. The consent of a charter commission to any such condition or stipulation shall not be binding upon the county. Within thirty days after submission of its final report the charter commission shall file with the Barnstable county commissioners a complete account of all its receipts and expenditures for public inspection. Any balance remaining in its account shall be credited to the county's surplus revenue account.

(B) The county shall provide its charter commission with suitable office space, and each town within the county shall provide the county charter commission, with reasonable access to facilities for holding public hearings.

The county commissioners and the advisory board on county expenditures shall, upon request of the county charter commission contribute reasonable clerical and other assistance to such commission, to supplement the resources of the commission provided for in this act, and the town within the county, shall permit the charter commission to consult with and obtain advice and information from county or town officers and employees during ordinary working hours.

Within twenty days after the election of a charter commission the county treasurer shall credit to the account of the charter commission, with or without appropriation, the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars, provided, however, that in no event shall the county or its treasurer provide said commission with more than one per cent of the total county budget unless said appropriation has been approved by the advisory board on county expenditures.

If payment is to be made after the annual tax levy of the county, it shall be provided by transfer from available funds, or by exercise of emergency borrowing powers without, however, any reference of the question to the registered voters of the county. The county through its advisory board on county expenditures may appropriate additional funds for its charter commission provided the aggregate contribution to the charter commission does not exceed five times the initial contribution required under this section.

SECTION 10. Role of Other County Officials.

(A) The members of the Barnstable county advisory board on county expenditures shall have the right to participate in the deliberations of the charter commission, but without the right to vote, except for chairperson as provided in section six, on commission recommendations or to endorse or dissent from any report of the commission by virtue of their official advisory role, although this shall in no way be deemed to inhibit their comments as individuals after release of the charter commission report, or as an elected member of a charter commission.

(B) The secretary of administration or his designee shall serve ex-officio as non voting advisor on the charter commissions established under this act. It shall be his duty to collect, evaluate and transmit to the commission such information, advice, plans, and policies as he may deem pertinent to the Barnstable county government and its relationship to the state and municipal government. He shall meet with the commission as frequently as the commission shall request in order to assist the commission in determining the best form to recommend for the county's government.

SECTION 11. Charter Commission Process.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(A) The charter commission shall hold public hearings, sponsor public forums and otherwise provide for the widest possible dissemination of information and the stimulation of public discussion respecting the purposes and progress of its work.

(B) The charter commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the citizens of the county on or before the eighteenth calendar month next following the date of its election in the form of a final report which it shall file with the county clerk who shall distribute it to all elected county and municipal officials, and all members of the counties' legislative delegation, and the state secretary. In addition, there shall be printed and made available at cost to the public at large a number of copies equal to at least one per cent of the county's registered voters as of forty days before the most recent primary or general election.

The commission shall publish on two successive weeks the full text of the proposed charter, together with a summary of its finding and recommendations, a summary of the provisions of the plan, if any, which it recommends for approval, and an analysis of and commentary on such plans.

SECTION 12. Charter Commission Report.

(A) The charter study commission may report and recommend:

(i) that a referendum be held to submit to the voters of the county the question of adopting one of the optional forms of the government set forth in sections seventeen to nineteen, inclusive, of the act that the commission has designated; or

(ii) that the charter commission shall petition the general court for the enactment of a special charter, the text of which shall be appended to the charter commission's report; or

(iii) that the form of government of the county remain unchanged.

The commission may also draft and submit to the commissioners whatever recommendations it deems appropriate for the efficient administration of the county. Such recommendations may include a model administrative code. Such recommendations may be adopted by the commissioners in whole or in part whether or not a new charter is recommended by the commission or approved by the voters.

(B) If the charter commission shall vote to recommend adoption of one of the optional forms set forth in sections seventeen to nineteen, inclusive, of this act, it shall also consider and make findings with respect to each of the three subjects set forth below, and determine which plan would provide the best representation of the people of the county. The final report shall set forth said findings and determination in detail.

(i) Commissioners, number and term. The commission shall make recommendations as to changes if any in the number and terms of service of the county commissioners.

(ii) Concurrency of terms. The commission shall recommend either a continuation of the present system of noncurrent terms or the adoption of a new system of concurrent terms.

(iii) Constituencies. The commission can recommend that the commissioners be elected at large or that they be elected by districts.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

SECTION 13. The Charter Referendum.

(A) If the charter commission shall have recommended the adoption of one of the optional forms of government authorized by this chapter, the charter commission shall notify the state secretary by the first Wednesday in August to place the following referendum question on the election ballot:

"Shall the (designating caption of section ____ of the County Charter Reform Law) be adopted for Barnstable county, with the provision for a board of commissioners of ____ members elected for (concurrent or non-concurrent as the case may be) terms and elected (at large, or from districts)?"

This question shall be framed by the charter commission to conform with its recommendations.

The commission may specify that the question be submitted at a general election occurring not less than sixty days or more than two hundred and forty days next following such filing of the report. At such election, the referendum question shall appear on the ballot in the same manner as other public questions are printed on the ballot. The attorney general shall prepare the summary to accompany such question.

(B) If the charter commission shall have proposed a special charter, it shall be the duty of the commission to petition the legislature forthwith for a special law or laws, pursuant to the state constitution and in the manner provided by general enabling legislation thereunder, to carry out the recommendations of the charter commission.

Upon enactment of such enabling legislation, the special charter shall be submitted to the voters of Barnstable county for adoption in a manner provided in part A of this section, or as may otherwise be appropriate. No special charter shall become operative until approved by a majority of all votes cast for and against said adoption.

SECTION 14. Subsequent Charter Revisions.

The charter may be revised or amended in the same manner as provided for in its original adoption by section three.

(a) A petition for the adoption or revision of a charter shall conform with the requirements of subsection (c) and shall have a sentence in substantially the following form at the top of each page.

Each of the undersigned requests that Barnstable county revise its present charter or adopt a new charter, and each of the undersigned certifies that he is a registered voter of said county whose residence addresses at the times set forth below were as shown below, and that he has not signed this petition more than once.

(b) A petition suggesting a charter amendment under this section shall conform with the requirements of subsection (c) and shall have a sentence in substantially the following form at the top of each page.

Each of the undersigned requests that the charter commission propose the charter amendments attached hereto to the voters of Barnstable county.

Each of the undersigned certifies that he is a registered voter of said county whose residence addresses at the times set forth below were as shown below, and that he has not signed this petition more than once.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(c) All petitions shall require the following information to be furnished by each signer in accordance with the following instructions which shall be printed on each page:

Name*	Present Address (Street and Number)	Registered Address (Street and Number January 1, 19 **)
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

Instructions:

*Written signature to voter to be supplied; provided that a registered voter prevented from writing by physical disability may authorize another person to write his signature and address.

**If a voter was registered later than this date, the registered address on such later date shall be used.

If a petition is expected to be filed on or after July fifteenth of any year, the registered address on the preceding January first shall be used. If a petition is expected to be filed before July fifteenth of any year, the registered address on the second preceding January first shall be used.

No petition shall contain or be accompanied by any indication of party or political designation.

(A) Duplicate certificates shall be prepared setting forth any charter amendments approved, and shall be signed by the state secretary. One such certificate shall be deposited in the office of the state secretary and another shall be recorded in the records of the county and deposited among its archives. All courts may take judicial notice of the charter and charter amendments of Barnstable county.

The executive body of the county shall, at intervals of not greater than ten years, cause the charter of said county as revised or amended to be reprinted for distribution to such registered voters of said county as may apply therefor at the office of the executive body of the county. Acts of the general court which are included in such charter may be referred to by appropriate subject headings and statutory citations instead of being set forth at length. Copies of said document may be sold at a price not to exceed the cost of paper, printing and binding thereof, plus mailing charges if any, as determined by the county executive body.

(B) A new charter or charter revision approved by a majority of the voters of the county voting thereon shall take effect on the day specified in such charter or revision, and any proposed amendment to be approved shall take effect upon the date specified therein. If two or more charter adoption, revision or amendment proposals are submitted to the voters in the alternative and are approved, only the alternative proposal receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall take effect. If two or more charter adoption, revision or amendment proposals containing conflicting provisions are submitted to the voters, but not as alternatives, and are approved, all such proposals shall take effect, but the proposal receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall be construed to prevent all conflicting provisions containing in other proposals from taking effect.

SECTION 15. Applicability of Other Laws.

(A) Upon adoption by the registered voters of Barnstable county of any optional form of government set forth in this act, the county shall thereafter be governed by the plan adopted, by the provisions of this law applicable to all optional plans and by all general laws, subject to provisions of this act.

(B) For the purposes of this act, a "general law" shall be deemed to be such a law or part thereof, heretofore or hereafter enacted, that:

- (i) is not consistent with this act; and
- (ii) is by its terms applicable to or available to all counties; or,
- (iii) is applicable to all counties or to any category or class of counties and deals with one or more of the following subjects: the administration of the judicial system, education, elections, health, county public authorities, taxation, and finance, and welfare.

(C) Except as it relates to judicial or penal administration, nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent Barnstable county from abolishing or consolidating agencies the existence of which has heretofore been mandated by general law provided that if such abolition or consolidation shall alter the obligation of the county to continue services theretofore rendered by such abolished or consolidated agency, said alteration must be approved by the general court prior to taking effect.

(D) The intent of this act is to enable Barnstable county to cause any duty that has been mandated to it by the legislature to be performed in the most efficient and expeditious manner, and, absent a clear legislative declaration to the contrary, without regard to organizational structural, or personnel provisions contained in prior general law, and further, the intent of this act is to encourage a review of the functions which Barnstable provides.

SECTION 16. County Powers.

Barnstable county after adoption of a charter pursuant to this act may, in accordance with the provisions of such charter, and subject to the provisions of general law and the Constitution of the Commonwealth:

(i) Organize and regulate its internal affairs; create, alter, abolish offices, positions and employments and define functions, powers and duties thereof; establish qualifications for persons holding offices, positions and employments; and provide for the manner of their appointment and removal and for their term, tenure and compensation.

(ii) Adopt, amend, enforce, and repeal ordinances and resolutions notwithstanding the effect of any referendum conducted prior to the county's adoption of its charter pursuant to this act.

(iii) Construct, acquire, operate and maintain public improvements, projects or other enterprises for any public purposes, subject to such referendum as may otherwise be imposed by law.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(iv) Exercise powers of eminent domain, borrowing and taxation only as provided by general law;

(v) Exercise all powers of county government in such manner as its board of commissioners and advisory board on county expenditures may determine.

(vi) Sue and be sued, have a corporate seal; contract and be contracted with, buy, sell, lease, hold and dispose of real and personal property; appropriate and expend monies for county purposes;

(vii) Contract with or sign agreements with other governmental units for the provision of joint, coordinated, or cooperative service provision.

(B) Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair, diminish or infringe on the powers and duties of the towns of the commonwealth under the General Laws. It is the intent of this act to permit said towns to employ services and facilities of the county for more effective, efficient and adequate provision of services if and when said towns may deem it desirable to do so. Said towns are and shall remain the broad repository of local police power in terms of the right and power to legislate for the general health, safety, and welfare of their residents.

(C) The grant of powers under this act is intended to be as broad as consistent with the construction of the Constitution of the Commonwealth and the General Laws relating to local government. The grant of powers shall be construed as liberally as possible in regard to the county's right to reorganize its own form of government, to reorganize its structure and to alter and abolish its agencies, subject to the general mandate of performing services whether they be performed by the agency previously established or by a new agency or other department of county government. Based on the need to develop effective services to meet problems which cross town boundaries and which cannot be met effectively on an individual basis by the municipalities, or the state, this act shall be construed as intending to give the county power to establish innovative programs and to perform such regional services as the Constitution of the Commonwealth and the General Laws permit and to establish such other programs and services as may from time to time be permitted.

SECTION 17. County Executive Plan.

(A) Form of Government.

(i) Form, designation.

The form of government provided in this section shall be known as the "county executive plan," and shall together with sections fifteen, sixteen and twenty of this act, govern Barnstable county if adopted pursuant to this act.

(ii) Elected officers; governing body defined; exercise of administrative or executive functions by county executive.

(a) Barnstable county shall be governed by an elected board of commissioners and an elected county executive and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this act, the General Laws, or ordinance.

(b) The term "governing body" of the county shall be construed to include both the commissioners and the county executive. For the purpose of the construction of any applicable law, any and all administrative or executive functions heretofore assigned by general law to the commissioners shall be exercised by the county executive, and any and all legislative and investigative functions heretofore assigned by general law to the commissioner shall be exercised by the board.

(B) County Executive.

(i) Qualifications, election, term.

The county executive shall be a qualified voter of the county residing in the county. He shall be elected from the county at large for a term of four years commencing on January first next following his election.

(ii) Salary.

The salary of the county executive shall be fixed by ordinance of the commissioners; such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the duties of the office and with the fact that the position of county executive is and shall be a full-time position. The salary of the county executive may not be lowered during his tenure in office.

(iii) Vacancies.

The office of county executive shall be deemed vacant if the incumbent moves his residence from the county or he is by physical or mental illness or other casualty unable to continue to serve as county executive. Any vacancy in the office of county executive shall be filled in the manner prescribed by law for the election of county officers at the next general election occurring not less than sixty days after the occurrence of the vacancy. The commissioners may appoint one of their number to serve as acting county executive until a successor has been elected. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the county executive the chief administrator shall serve as acting county executive.

(iv) Duties.

The executive power of the county shall be exercised by the county executive. He shall:

(a) Report annually to the board of commissioners, the advisory board on county expenditures and to the people on the state of the county, and the work of the previous year; he shall also recommend to the board of commissioners whatever action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any court of action or programs he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake;

(b) Prepare and submit to the board of commissioners and advisory board for consideration and adoption an annual operating budget and a capital budget and a capital program, establish the schedules and procedures to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budgetary process;

(c) Enforce the county charter, the countys' laws and all general laws applicable thereto;

(d) Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;

(e) Supervise the collection of revenues, and audit and control all disbursements and expenditures and shall prepare a complete account of all expenditures. He shall also designate the repositories of county funds;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(f) Sign all contracts, bonds or other instruments requiring the consent of county;

(g) Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend thereon to the board;

(h) Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures as may be authorized by the administrative code;

(i) Negotiate contracts for the county subject to board and, where appropriate, advisory board approval; make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvement and execute improvements determined by the board;

(j) Assure that all terms and conditions, imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract, are faithfully kept and performed;

(k) Serve as an ex-officio nonvoting member of all appointive bodies in county government;

(v) Powers.

The county executive:

(a) Shall supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;

(b) With the advice and consent of the board of commissioners, shall appoint the county-counsel, the administrator, the heads of all departments and any divisions created within such departments, and the members of all county boards, commissions and authorities;

(c) May, at his discretion, remove or suspend any official in the unclassified service of the county over whose office the county executive has power of appointment;

(d) May, at his discretion, but subject to any pertinent provision of the General Laws or civil service regulations, delegate to department heads powers of appointment and removal of their departmental employees. If the county executive does not so delegate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service regulations, all employees;

(e) May require reports and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government;

(f) May, at his discretion, order any agency under his jurisdiction to undertake any task for any other agency on a temporary basis if he deems it necessary for the proper and efficient administration of county government to do so;

(g) Shall approve each ordinance of the board of commissioners by signing it, or may veto any ordinance by returning it to the clerk of the board within ten days of passage with a written statement of his objections to the ordinance. If two-thirds of the full membership of the board, upon reconsideration of the measure, shall vote for it, the executive's veto shall be overridden and the ordinance shall become law without the executive's signature in accordance with the provisions of law.

(C) Board of Commissioners.

(i) Legislative power; exercise by ordinance; exceptions; exercise by resolution.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

The legislative power of the county shall be vested in the board of commissioners. Such legislative power shall be exercised by ordinance, except for the exercise of the following powers which are required to be or are permitted to be, exercised by resolution:

- (a) The conduct of an inquiry; or investigation;
- (b) The expression of disapproval of the suspension or dismissal of officers or employees;
- (c) The exercise of the power of advice and consent to actions of the executive;
- (d) The override of a veto of the county executive;
- (e) The adoption of rules for the board;
- (f) The establishment of times and places for board meetings;
- (g) The establishment of the board as a committee of the whole and the delegation of any number of its members as an ad hoc committee;
- (h) The declaration of emergencies;
- (i) The identification of emergency situations;
- (j) The establishment of county personnel policies;
- (k) Designation of newspapers for required advertisements and notices;
- (l) The appointment and removal of such officers and employees as the board is permitted by law;
- (m) Approval of contracts presented by the county executive;
- (n) Actions specified as resolutions; and
- (o) The expression of such board policies or opinions as require no formal action by the governing body.

(ii) Chairman and vice-chairman; selection

At its organizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as chairman and one as vice-chairman; for the year.

(iii) County executive at meetings

The county executive may be present and participate in the discussions at all board meetings.

(iv) Board powers.

The board of commissioners.

(a) Shall advise and consent to all appointment by the executive for which board confirmation is specified under this article;

(b) Shall pass in accordance with this act whatever ordinances and resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good governance of the county;

(c) Shall appoint a clerk to the board who shall keep the records and minutes of the board, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term, not to exceed three years, as may be provided by the commissioners provided, however, that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year;

(d) May appoint counsel to the board, if such position is created by the administrative code, to serve at the pleasure of the board;

(e) May pass a resolution of disapproval or dismissal;

(f) May override a veto of the county executive by a two-thirds vote of its full membership;

(g) Shall approve the annual operating and capital budgets, prior to presenting the budgets for advisory board appropriation.

(D) Chief Administrator.

(i) Appointment.

The county executive shall appoint a chief administrator who shall serve at his pleasure. The board shall advise and consent to his nomination but shall not prevent his suspension or dismissal by passage of a resolution of disapproval.

(ii) Qualifications.

The chief administrator shall by education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him.

He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure he may live outside the county only with the permission of the county executive.

(iii) Duties.

The chief administrator shall be responsible only to the executive. He shall, under the direction and supervision of the executive, undertake to assist in the orderly and efficient administration of the county, performing whatever supervisory or administrative duties the executive deems necessary and proper.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the chief administrator's being appointed to head one or more departments on a temporary or permanent basis.

SECTION 18. County Manager Plan.

(A) Form of Government.

(i) Form; designation.

The form of government provided in this section shall be known as the "county manager plan," and shall, together with sections fifteen, sixteen and twenty of this act, govern Barnstable county if adopted pursuant to this act.

Barnstable county shall be governed by an elected board of commissioners and an appointed county manager and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this section, the General Laws or ordinance.

(B) County Manager.

(i) Qualifications, appointment, term.

The county manager shall be qualified by administrative and executive experience and ability to serve as the chief executive of the county. He shall be appointed by a majority vote of the commissioners and shall serve for an indefinite term. He may be removed by a majority vote of the board subject to due notice and a public hearing. Such notice shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a written bill of particular charges and complaints and public hearing on these charges shall be no less than fifteen nor more than thirty days after personal service of notice and charges.

At the time of his appointment the manager need not be a resident of the county but after his appointment he may reside outside the county only with permission of the board.

(ii) Salary.

The salary of the county manager shall be fixed by the commissioners;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the fact that the position of county manager is and shall be a full-time position. The salary of the county manager may not be lowered during his tenure in office.

(iii) Vacancies.

The office of county manager shall be deemed vacant if: the incumbent moves his residence from the county without board permission; or he is by physical or mental illness or other casualty unable to continue to serve as county manager. The commissioners may appoint the deputy manager or any department head to serve as acting county manager until a successor has been appointed. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the county manager the deputy manager or a department head designated by the manager if there be no deputy manager, shall serve as acting county manager.

(iv) Duties.

The executive power of county shall be exercised by the county manager. The county manager shall:

(a) Report annually to the commissioners, the advisory board on county expenditures and to the people, on the state of the county, the work of the previous year, and he shall also recommend to the board whatever action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any course of action or programs he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake;

(b) Prepare and submit to the board for its consideration and adoption an annual operating budget, and a capital budget, establish the schedules and procedures to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budgetary process.

(c) Enforce the county charter, the county's laws and all General Laws applicable thereto;

(d) Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;

(e) Through the county treasurer, have oversight on the collection of revenues, audit and control all disbursements and expenditures and shall prepare a complete account of all expenditures;

(f) Sign all contracts, bonds or other instruments requiring the consent of the county;

(g) Organize the work of county departments subject to the administrative code adopted by the board. He shall further review their administration and operation and make recommendations pertaining thereto to the board;

(h) Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend thereon to the board.

(i) Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures as may be authorized.

(j) Negotiate contracts for the county subject to board and where appropriate, advisory board approval and make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvements and execute

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

improvements determined by the board;

(k) Assure that all terms and conditions imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract, are faithfully kept and performed;

(l) Serve as ex-officio nonvoting member of all appointive bodies in county government.

(v) Powers.

The county manager:

(a) Shall supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;

(b) Shall appoint the deputy manager, if that position is created by the board, the heads of all county departments and divisions created within such departments, and all other administrative officers and county personnel the manner of whose appointment is not prescribed elsewhere in this section;

(c) May, at his discretion, remove or suspend any official in the unclassified service of the county over whose office the county manager has power of appointment;

(d) May at his discretion, but subject to any pertinent provisions of the General Laws and civil service regulations delegate any department head powers of appointment and removal of their departmental employees. If the county manager does not so delegate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service regulations, all employees whose positions have been created.

(e) May require and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government;

(f) May, at his discretion, order any agency under his jurisdiction to undertake any task for any other agency on a temporary basis if he deems it necessary for the proper and efficient administration to do so.

(C) Board of Commissioners.

(i) Legislative power; exercise by ordinance; exceptions; exercise by resolution.

The legislative power of the county shall be vested in the board of commissioners. Such legislative power shall be exercised by ordinance, except for the exercise of the following powers which are required to be, or are permitted to be, exercised by resolution:

(a) The establishment of a municipal advisory council;

(b) The conduct of an inquiry of investigation;

(c) The expression of disapproval of the suspension or dismissal of officers or employees;

(d) The adoption of rules for the board;

(e) The establishment of times and places for board meetings;

(f) The establishment of the board as a committee of the whole and the delegation of any number of its members as an ad hoc committee.

(g) The declaration of emergencies;

(h) The identification of emergency situations;

(i) The establishment of county personnel policies;

(j) The election, appointment and removal of such officers and employees as the board is permitted by law;

(k) Designation of newspapers for required advertisements and notices;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

- (l) Approval of contracts presented by the county manager;
- (m) Actions specified as resolutions; and
- (n) The expression of such board policies or opinions as require no formal board action.

(ii) Chairman and vice-chairman; election; duties.

At its organizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as chairman and one to serve as vice-chairman of the year. The chairman shall preside over board meetings during his tenure, and in his absence the vice-chairman shall preside.

(iii) County manager; rights at meetings.

The county manager may be present at all board meetings and participate in all deliberations, without the right to vote.

(iv) Board powers.

(a) The board shall appoint a county manager under the provisions of this act and may create the office of deputy manager;

(b) Shall appoint a clerk to the board who shall serve at its pleasure and keep the records and minutes of the board, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term, not to exceed three years, as may be provided by the commissioners; provided, however, that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year;

(c) Shall appoint a county counsel, who shall head the county's legal department; and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term, not to exceed four years, as may be provided by the administrative code; provided, however, that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year. An administrative code may also establish a term, not to exceed three years, for the position of assistant county counsel;

(d) Shall appoint members of all boards and commissions and other bodies whose manner of appointments is not otherwise specified in this section;

(e) May pass a resolution of disapproval of a suspension or dismissal;

(f) Shall approve the annual operating and capital budgets; prior to presenting them for advisory board appropriation; and

(g) Shall pass in accordance with this act whenever ordinances and resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good governance of the county.

(D) Deputy Manager.

(i) Appointment.

Subject to creation of such position the county manager may appoint a deputy manager who shall serve at his pleasure; the board may not prevent his suspension or dismissal by passage of a resolution of disapproval.

(ii) Qualifications.

The deputy manager shall by education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him.

He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure may live outside the county only with the permission of the manager.

(iii) Duties.

The deputy manager shall be responsible only to the manager. He shall, under the direction and supervision of the manager, undertake to assist in the orderly and efficient administration of the county, performing whatever supervisory or administrative duties the manager deems necessary and proper.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the deputy manager's being appointed to head one or more departments on a temporary or permanent basis.

SECTION 19. Board Chairperson Plan.

(A) Form of Government.

(i) Form; designation.

The form of government provided in this article shall be known as the "board chairperson plan," and shall, together with sections fifteen, sixteen and twenty of this act, govern Barnstable county if adopted pursuant to this act.

(ii) Elected officers.

Barnstable county shall be governed by an elected board of commissioners and a commissioner board chairperson and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this article, general law or ordinance.

(B) Board Chairperson.

(i) Qualifications, election, term.

The board chairperson shall be a duly elected member of the board of commissioners. He shall be elected by the board of commissioners at their organizational meeting for a term of one year, such term to begin immediately after his election on January first.

(ii) Salary.

The salary of the board chairperson shall be fixed by ordinance of the board of commissioners, such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the duties of the office.

(iii) Vacancies.

The office of board chairperson shall be deemed vacant if: the incumbent moves his residence from the county; or he is by, physical or mental illness or other casualty unable to continue to serve as board chairperson. Any vacancy in the office of board chairperson shall appoint one of their number to serve as board chairperson for the remainder of the unexpired term. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the board chairperson the vicechairperson shall serve as acting chairperson.

(iv) Duties.

The executive power of the county shall be exercised by the board chairperson. He shall:

(a) Report annually to the board of commissioners, the advisory board on county expenditures, and to the people of the county on the work of the previous year and he shall also recommend to the board whatever action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any course of action or programs he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake;

(c) Serve as an ex-officio nonvoting member of all appointive bodies in county government;

(d) At his discretion, require from the administrative officer reports and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government;

(e) At his discretion, remove or suspend anyone occupying one of the offices specified in subsection b of this section.

(C) Board of Commissioners.

(i) Legislative power; exercise by ordinance; exceptions; exercise by resolution.

The legislative power of the county shall be vested in the board of commissioners. Such legislative power shall be exercised by ordinance, except for the exercise of the following powers which are required to be, or are permitted to be, exercised by resolution:

- (a) The establishment of a municipal advisory council;
- (b) The conduct of an inquiry or investigation;
- (c) The expression of disapproval of the suspension or dismissal of officers or employees;
- (d) The exercise of the power of advice and consent to actions of the chairperson and administrative officer;
- (e) The adoption of rules for the board;
- (f) The establishment of times and places for board meetings;
- (g) The establishment of the board as a committee of the whole and the delegation of any number of its members as an ad hoc committee;
- (h) The declaration of emergencies;
- (i) The identification of emergency situations;
- (j) The establishment of county personnel policies;
- (k) Designation of newspapers for required advertisements and notices;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(l) The appointment and removal of such officers and employees as the board is permitted by law;

(m) Approval of contracts presented by the county administrator;

(n) Actions specified as resolutions and,

(o) The expression of such board policies or opinions as require no formal board action.

Chairperson and vice-chairperson; election.

The board shall elect a chairperson as specified in this section. At its reorganizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as vice-chairperson for the year.

(ii) Board Powers.

The board of commissioners:

(a) Shall pass in accordance with this act whatever ordinances or resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good governance of the county;

(b) Shall appoint and remove the administrative officer by a majority vote and may create the office of, appoint and remove, a deputy administrative officer by a majority vote.

(c) Shall advise and consent to all appointments by the president and administrative officer for which board confirmation is specified under this section.

(d) Shall appoint a clerk to the board who shall serve at its pleasure and keep the records and minutes of the board and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term not to exceed three years as may be provided by the commissioners provided however that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January of the succeeding year.

(e) Shall appoint the county counsel to the county's legal department to serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term not to exceed four years as may be provided by the commissioner, provided, however, that no ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year. The commissioner may also establish a term not to exceed three years for the position of assistant county counsel.

(f) May pass a resolution of disapproval of a suspension or dismissal.

(g) Shall approve the annual operating and capital budget prior to presenting the budgets for advisory board appropriation.

(D) Chief Administrator.

(i) Appointment.

The county administrative officer shall serve at the pleasure of the board.

(ii) Qualification.

The chief administrative officer shall by education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him. He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure he may live outside the county only with the permission of the board.

(iii) Duties.

The administrative officer shall be responsible to the board through the chairperson except as specified below. He shall be responsible for the efficient administration of the county's government. He shall:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(a) Prepare and submit directly to the board for its consideration and adoption an annual operating budget and a capital budget, establish the schedules and procedures to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budgetary process;

(b) Through the treasurer, supervise the collection of revenues, and audit and control disbursements and expenditures and prepare a complete account of all expenditures;

(c) Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;

(d) Organize the work of county departments, subject to the administrative code adopted by the board. He shall further review their administration and make recommendations pertaining thereto to the board;

(e) Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend to the board;

(f) Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures;

(g) Negotiate contracts for the county with the approval of the county commissioners, and, where appropriate the advisory board on county expenditures, and make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvements and executive improvements determined by the board; and

(h) Assure that all terms and conditions imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract are faithfully kept and performed.

(iv) Powers.

The administrative officer shall:

(a) Supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;

(b) Appoint the heads of all county departments and if so provided in the administrative code of any designated divisions within such departments with the advice and consent of the board and appoint all other county personnel the manner of whose appointment is not prescribed elsewhere in this section;

(c) At his discretion, remove or suspend any official in the unclassified service of the county over whose office the administration officer has power of appointment;

(d) At his discretion, but subject to any pertinent provisions of the General Laws or civil service regulations, delegate to any department head powers of appointment and removal of his departmental employees. If the administrative officer does not so delegate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service regulations, all employees whose positions have been created in accordance with actions of the commissioners and the manner of whose appointment is not specified elsewhere in this section;

(e) At his discretion, require reports and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government; and

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 801.

(f) At his discretion, order any agency under his jurisdiction to undertake any task for any other agency on a temporary basis if he deems it necessary for proper and efficient administration to do so.

SECTION 20. Provisions Applicable To All Plans.

Relations between the Legislative and Executive Branches.

(A) Separation of Powers.

The commissioners shall deal with county employees only through the officials responsible for the overall executive management of the county's affairs as designated in sections of this act, through the county executive, the county manager, and the board chairperson respectively, as the case may be. All contact with county employees, all actions and communications concerning the administration of the county's government and provision of services shall be through the aforementioned officials, except as otherwise provided in this act. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the board's inquiry into any act or problem of the county's administration. Any commissioner may require a report on the aspect of the government of the county at any time by making a written request to the head of the executive branch of county government. The board may, by majority vote of the whole number of its members, require the head of the executive branch to appear before the board sitting as a committee of the whole, and to bring before the board such records and reports and such officials and employees of the county as the board shall deem necessary to insure clarification of the matter under study.

The board further may, by majority vote of the whole number of its members, delegate any number of its members as an ad hoc committee to consult with the head of the executive branch to study any matter and to report to the board thereon.

It is the intent of this act to confer on the board general legislative and such investigative powers as are germane to the exercise of its legislative powers, but to retain in the head of the executive branch full control over the county administration and over the administration of county services provided for in this act.

(B) Appointments and dismissal; suspension procedure.

(i) No member of the board of commissioners shall individually or collectively seek to influence the head of the executive branch to dismiss any person from, or to appoint, or to promote any person to any position in the executive branch of county government, except that the board may, by a resolution of disapproval adopted by a two-thirds vote of the whole number of the board, prevent the dismissal of certain employees under conditions as set forth in subsection ii of this section.

(ii) Suspensions will take effect immediately upon personal service of notice setting forth the order of suspension or dismissal. Dismissal or suspension for a definite term shall occur automatically in thirty calendar days from receipt of notice. But, if the officer or employee requests a hearing on his dismissal or suspension for a definite term, no action beyond temporary suspension may be taken until the individual to be suspended or dismissed is given a hearing not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days after personal service of written notice of contemplated action. A copy of such notice shall be filed with the clerk to the board of commissioners immediately upon service of notice to the individual to be suspended or dismissed. In the event that within thirty-five days of receiving such notice, the board shall pass by a two-thirds vote of the whole number of the board, a resolution of disapproval, all proceedings and any suspension or dismissal of the individual shall be voided. In terms of recompense to the individual, a vote of disapproval shall be deemed to negative the suspension or dismissal order and for purposes of pay and civil service standing the action shall be deemed never to have transpired. If, however, the suspension or dismissal order shall allege that the individual against whom action is contemplated or pending has committed a criminal act in the conduct of his public trust, no resolution of the board shall stay proceedings and the matter shall be brought to a hearing in the manner prescribed above. If at that hearing probable cause for prosecution is found, all evidence shall immediately be forwarded to the county prosecutor for further action. If any suspension or dismissal order is resolved upon hearing in favor of the office or employee, he shall be restored to his original position without record of the action, or prejudice therefrom, and shall receive full compensation retroactive to the date of his suspension.

Approved January 10, 1986.

Chapter 802. AN ACT REGULATING GOVERNMENTAL UNITS POOLED INSURANCE.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to authorize governmental units to enter into agreements for insurance purposes, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 40L the following chapter:—

CHAPTER 40M.
GOVERNMENTAL UNITS POOLED INSURANCE.

Section 1. Five or more public entities may participate in an organization in which the governmental units are members, and agree to effect such property and casualty insurance coverage as the governmental unit may otherwise purchase by itself.

A self-insurance group that is issued a certificate of approval by the commissioner shall not be deemed to be insurers or insurance companies and shall not be subject to the provisions of the insurance laws and regulations of this commonwealth except as otherwise provided herein.

The provision of this chapter shall not be construed to prohibit municipal electric departments from participating in a municipal electric department self-insurance trust fund establishing pursuant to chapter one hundred and sixty-four.

Section 2. "Administrator", an individual, partnership, corporation, or unincorporated association engaged by a public employer self-insurance group's board of trustees and to provide day to day management of the group.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of insurance.

"Insolvent" or "Insolvency", the inability of a public employer self-insurance group to pay its outstanding lawful obligations as they mature in the regular course of business, as may be shown either by an excess of its required reserves and other liabilities over its assets or by its not having sufficient assets to reinsure all of its outstanding liabilities after paying all accrued claims owed by it.

"Public employers self-insurance group" or "group", a not-for-profit association consisting of five or more employers, all of whom are public entities, who enter into agreements to pool their liabilities for property and casualty benefits. For purposes of this chapter, a municipal electric department self-insurance trust fund established pursuant to sections one hundred and twenty-nine to one hundred and thirty-two, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-four shall not be a "public employers self-insurance group" or "group".

Section 3. No person, association or other entity shall act as a public employer self-insurance group unless it has been issued a certificate of approval by the commissioner.

Section 4. (A) A proposed public employer self-insurance group shall file with the commissioner its application for a certificate of approval accompanied by a nonrefundable filing fee in the amount of one hundred dollars. The application shall include the group's name, location of its principal office, date of organization, name and address of each member, and such other information as the commissioner may reasonably require, together with the following:

- (1) A copy of the articles of association, if any;
- (2) A copy of the by-laws of the proposed group;
- (3) A copy of the agreement between the group and each member securing the payment of benefits, which shall include provision for payment of assessments as provided for in section fourteen;
- (4) Designation of the initial board of trustees and administrator;
- (5) The address in this state where the books and records of the group will be maintained at all times;
- (6) A pro forma financial statement on a form acceptable to the commissioner showing the financial ability of the group to pay the obligations of its members;
- (7) A documented agreement by each member to the group that at least thirty-three per cent of that member's estimated annual net premium is payable the initial day of coverage afforded by the group;
- (8) A confirmation of any required reinsurance by a recognized carrier in an amount acceptable to the commissioner of insurance;
- (B) To obtain and to maintain its certificate of approval a public employer self-insurance group shall comply with the following requirements as well as any other requirements established by law or regulation:–

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 802.

(1) Specific and aggregate excess insurance in a form, in an amount, and by an insurance company acceptable to the commissioner. Each group shall maintain aggregate excess insurance in a minimum amount equal to two million dollars. The commissioner may establish higher minimum requirements for the amount of specific and aggregate excess insurance based on differences among groups in their size, types of local government services provided by members of the group, years in existence and other relevant factors.

(2) An estimated annual standard premium of at least two hundred and fifty thousand dollars during a group's first year of operation.

(3) A fidelity bond for the administrator in a form and amount prescribed by the commissioner of insurance.

(C) A group shall notify the commissioner of any change in the information required to be filed under subsection (A) or in the manner of its compliance with subsection (B) no later than thirty days after such change.

(D) The commissioner shall act upon a completed application for a certificate of approval within ninety days.

(E) The commissioner shall issue to the group a certificate of approval upon finding that the proposed group has met all requirements or the commissioner shall issue an order refusing such certificate setting forth reasons for such refusal upon finding that the proposed group does not meet all requirements.

Upon refusal, the commissioner shall hold a hearing within thirty days after said refusal, upon notice requesting such hearing by applicant within ten days of said refusal.

(F) Each public employer self-insurance group shall be deemed to have appointed the commissioner as its attorney to receive service of legal process issued against it in this state. The appointment shall be irrevocable, shall bind any successor in interest, and shall remain in effect as long as there is in this commonwealth any obligation or liability of the group for benefits.

section 5. (A) The certificate of approval issued by the commissioner to a public employer self-insurance group authorizes the group to provide insurance coverage. The certificate of approval remains in effect until terminated at the request of the group or revoked by the commissioner pursuant to provisions of section sixteen.

(B) The commissioner shall not grant the request of any group to terminate its certificate of approval unless the group has insured or reinsured all incurred obligations with an authorized insurer under an agreement filed with and approved in writing by the commissioner. Such obligation shall include both known claims and expenses associated therewith and claims incurred but not reported and expenses associated therewith.

Subject to the approval of the commissioner, a group may merge with another public employer self-insurance group only if the resulting group assumes in full all obligations of the merging groups. The commissioner may hold a hearing on the merger and shall do so if any party, including a member of either group, so requests.

Section 6. The commissioner may examine the affairs, transactions, accounts, records and assets of each group as often as the commissioner deems advisable.

Section 7. Each public employee self-insurance group shall be operated by a board of trustees which shall consist of not less than three persons who are elected officials or employees of public entities within this commonwealth. The board of trustees of each group shall ensure that all claims are paid promptly and take all necessary precautions to safeguard the assets of the group, including all of the following:

(A) The board of trustees shall:

(1) Maintain responsibility for all monies collected or disbursed from the group and segregate all monies in a claims fund account and an administrative fund account. Net premiums shall be placed into a designated depository for the sole purpose of paying claims, allocated claims expenses, reinsurance or excess insurance, and special fund contributions. This shall be called the claims fund account. The remaining net premium after any payments for reinsurance or excess insurance shall be placed in a designated depository for the payment of taxes, general regulatory fees and assessments and administrative costs. This shall be called the administrative fund account.

(2) Maintain minutes of its meetings and make such minutes available to the commissioner.

(3) Designate an administrator to carry out the policies established by the board of trustees and to provide day to day management of the group and delineate in the written minutes of its meetings the areas of authority it delegates to the administrator.

(4) Funds not needed for current obligations may be invested by the board of trustees in accordance with section fifty-four of chapter forty-four.

(5) Retain an independent certified public accountant to prepare the statement of financial conditions required by subsection (A) of section ten.

(B) The board of trustees shall not borrow any monies from the group or in the name of the group except in the ordinary course of business, without first advising the commissioner of the nature and purpose of the loan and obtaining prior approval from the commissioner.

Section 8. (A) A public employer joining a public employer's self-insurance group after the group has been issued a certificate of approval shall submit an application for membership to the board of trustees or its administrator. Membership takes effect no earlier than each member's date of approval. The application for membership and its approval shall be maintained as permanent records of the board of trustees.

(B) Individual members of a group shall be subject to cancellation by the group pursuant to the by-laws of the group. In addition, individual members may elect to terminate their participation in the group. A voluntary termination may not be tendered prior to the members participation in the group for a period of less than one year. The group shall notify the commissioner of the termination or cancellation of a member within ten days and shall maintain coverage of each cancelled or terminated member for thirty days after such notice, at the terminating member's expense, unless the group is notified sooner by the insurance department that the cancelled or terminated member has insurance, has become a self-insurer, or has become a member of another public employer self-insurance group.

(C) The agreement between the group and the member shall specify the terms and conditions of payment of benefits for each member's incurred liabilities during its period of membership.

(D) A group member is not relieved of its liabilities incurred during its period of membership except through payment by the group or the member or a combination thereof. Payment of benefits by the group to the member shall be limited to the terms specified in the agreement between the group and the member.

(E) There shall be a minimum period of at least one year for which a member shall contract to participate in the group.

Section 9. Except for trustees, officers, directors or salaried employees of a group or its administrator, any person soliciting membership in a property and casualty self-insurance group must be a licensed agent as provided by section sixty-three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

Section 10. (A) Each group shall submit to the commissioner of insurance thirty days before the end of its policy year a performance report estimating total outstanding liability, including incurred but not reported claims, for that policy year.

(B) Each group shall submit to the commissioner a statement of financial condition audited by an independent certified public accountant on or before the last day of the sixth month following the end of the group's fiscal year. The financial statement shall be on a form prescribed by the commissioner and shall include, but not be limited to, actuarially appropriate reserves for (1) known claims and expenses associated therewith, (2) claims incurred but not reported and expenses associated therewith, (3) unearned premiums and (4) bad debts, which reserves shall be shown as liabilities.

(C) The commissioner may prescribe a uniform financial reporting system for all public employer self-insurance groups to ensure the accurate and complete reporting of groups' financial information.

(D) The commissioner may prescribe the format and frequency of other reports which may include, but shall not be limited to, payroll audit reports, summary loss reports, and quarterly financial statements.

section 11. (A) A group shall file with the commissioner its rating plan.

(B) Each group shall be audited at least annually by an auditor acceptable to the commissioner to verify proper rating. A report of the audit shall be filed with the commissioner in a form prescribed by the commissioner. A group or any member thereof may request a hearing on any objections to the rating. If the commissioner determines that as a result of an improper rating a member's premium contribution is insufficient, he shall order the group to assess that member an amount equal to the deficiency. If the commissioner determines that as a result of an improper rating a member's premium is excessive, he shall order the group to refund to the member the excess collected. The audit shall be at the expense of the group.

Section 12. (A) Any monies for a fund year in excess of the amount necessary to fund all obligations, including reserves for claims and reserves for incurred but not reported claims for that fund year may be declared to be refundable by the board of trustees not less than six months after the end of the fund year.

(B) Each member shall be given a written description of the refund plan at the time of application for membership. A refund for any fund year shall be paid only to those employers who remain participants in the group for the entire fund year.

Section 13. (A) Each group shall establish to the satisfaction of the commissioner a premium payment plan in which at least thirty-three per cent of each members estimated net annual premium is payable at the start of the groups fund year and payment of the balance of each member's annual premium is payable within the first nine months of that fund year in monthly or quarterly installments.

(B) Each group shall establish and maintain actuarially appropriate loss reserves which shall include reserves for (1) known claims and expenses associated therewith and (2) claim incurred but not reported and expenses associated therewith.

Section 14. (A) If the assets of a group are at any time insufficient to enable the group to discharge its legal liabilities and other obligations and to maintain the reserves required of it under this chapter, it shall forthwith make up the deficiency or levy an assessment upon its members for the amount needed to make up the deficiency.

(B) In the event of a deficiency in any fund year, such deficiency shall be made up immediately, either from (a) administrative funds, (b) assessment of the membership, if ordered by the group or, (c) such alternate method as the commissioner may approve or direct.

(C) If the group fails to assess its members or to otherwise makeup such deficit within ninety days the commissioner shall order it to do so.

(D) If the group fails to make the required assessment of its members within ninety days after the commissioner orders it to do so, or if the deficiency is not fully made up within one hundred and twenty days after the date on which such assessment is made, or within such longer period of time as may be specified by the commissioner, the group shall be deemed to be insolvent.

Section 15. After notice and opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner may issue an order requiring a person or public employer self-insurance group to cease and desist from engaging in an act or practice found to be in violation of any provision of this chapter or of any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder.

Section 16. (A) After notice and opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner may revoke a public employer self-insurance group's certificate of approval if it (1) is found to be insolvent, (2) fails to pay any regulatory fee or assessment, imposed upon it, or (3) fails to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter, with any rules promulgated thereunder, or with any lawful order of the commissioner within the time prescribed. In addition, the commissioner may revoke a group's certificate of approval if, after notice and opportunity for hearing, the commissioner finds that (a) any certificate of approval that was issued to the group was obtained by fraud; (b) there was a material misrepresentation in the application for the certificate of approval; or (c) the group or its administrator has misappropriated, converted, illegally withheld, or refused to pay over upon proper demand any monies that belong to a member, an employee of a member, or a person otherwise entitled thereto and that have been entrusted to the group or its administrator in its fiduciary capacities.

(B) Any ruling, order or decision of the commissioner under authority of this section shall be subject to review by appeal to the superior court department of the trial court at the instance of any party in interest, which appeal shall be on the basis of the record of the proceeding before the commissioner. Said court shall have jurisdiction to modify, amend, annul, review, or affirm such action, order, finding or decision, shall review all questions of fact and of law involved therein, and may make any other appropriate order or decree. Said court shall determine whether the filing of the appeal shall operate as a stay of any such order or decision of the commissioner.

Chapter 805. AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE BORROWING POWER AND CERTAIN OTHER POWERS OF THE SOUTHEASTERN MASSACHUSETTS UNIVERSITY BUILDING AUTHORITY AND THE UNIVERSITY OF LOWELL BUILDING AUTHORITY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of chapter 557 of the acts of 1961 is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (d), as amended by section 2 of chapter 685 of the acts of 1963, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

(d) The word "project" shall mean the construction or leasing of new buildings or structures and the acquisition, leasing, addition to, alteration, enlargement, reconstruction, rehabilitation, remodeling and other work in or upon or respecting existing buildings or structures, including but not limited to the alteration of existing facilities or the provision of additional or new facilities necessary or desirable in view of changed or new requirements of law or other circumstances such as, by way of example and not by way of limitation, use by or access for handicapped persons, conservation of energy, or improved safety or security of persons and property, the provision and installation therein or in respect thereof of furnishings, furniture, machinery, equipment, facilities, approaches, driveways, walkways, parking areas, planting and landscaping, the acquisition of land, other property, rights, easements and interests acquired for or in respect of any thereof, the demolition or removal of any buildings or structures on land so acquired or interests in which are so acquired and site preparation, with respect to which the Authority shall provide by resolution for the issuance of a series of bonds or notes. Whenever appropriate the word shall also mean such land, buildings or structures and such appurtenances.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 805.

SECTION 2. Said section 1 of said chapter 557 is hereby further amended by striking out paragraph (g), as amended by section 3 of chapter 708 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

(g) The word "trustees" shall mean the trustees of the University of Lowell under section nine of chapter fifteen A of the General Laws, as inserted by chapter three hundred and twenty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty, or if such trustees shall hereafter be abolished, the board, body or commission succeeding to the principal functions thereof or to which the powers given by said chapter fifteen A and chapter seventy-five A of the General Laws with respect to the University shall be given by law.

SECTION 3. Said chapter 557 is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, as most recently amended by chapter 868 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 3. Purpose. The Authority is created for the general purposes of aiding and contributing to the performance of the educational and other purposes of the University by providing dormitories, dining commons and other buildings, structures and facilities for the use of the University, its students and staff, their dependents, and others as hereinafter provided. Such use shall include, but not be limited to, use by an organization or association, in any form, of students or others the activities of which are a part of the activities of the University and subject to regulation by the trustees or use by a research foundation or other research organization the operation of which in conjunction with the University is approved by the trustees, or use by any other entity whose activities are approved by the trustees as furthering the purposes of the University; such use may be in the discretion of the Authority be in the form of a lease of facilities to such organization, association, research foundation or other research organization. The Authority shall not initiate any project except upon written request made by authority of the trustees and upon written approval from the commissioner of administration and the board of regents of higher education and notwithstanding any other provisions of this act the Authority shall have power to initiate only such projects as are designed primarily to provide facilities for the housing, feeding, medical care or extra curricular use by students, staff and dependents or facilities for use by an organization or association of students or others, a research foundation or other research organizations or other entity as above defined.

SECTION 4. Section 4 of said chapter 557 is hereby amended by striking out clause (g) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(g) To borrow money from time to time to achieve any one or more of its corporate purposes or to refund obligations earlier incurred for any such purpose or for prior refundings, to issue and sell its revenue bonds and notes therefor, as provided in section seven.

SECTION 5. Said section 4 of said chapter 557 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (i), as amended by section 6 of chapter 684 of the acts of 1963, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(i) To acquire, by lease, purchase or otherwise, provided that the Authority shall have no power to acquire property by any eminent domain proceedings, hold and dispose of real and personal property and rights and interests therein in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties under this act.

SECTION 6. Said section 4 of said chapter 557 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (n) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(n) To invest any fund held by it pending disbursement, which investment may be made in any one or more of the following:

(i) direct obligations of, or obligations the payment of the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by, the United States of America;

(ii) obligations of the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Government National Mortgage Association, the Federal Financing Bank, the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Federal Banks for Cooperatives, Federal Land Banks, Federal Home Loan Banks, Farmers Home Administration and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, or by any other agency or corporation which has been or is hereafter created pursuant to an act of the Congress of the United States as an agency or instrumentality thereof;

(iii) interest-bearing time deposits or certificates of deposit of banking institutions or trust companies organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any national banking association, provided that such deposits or certificates shall be continuously and fully secured by obligations described in subclauses (i) and (iii) having a market value, exclusive of accrued interest, at least equal to the aggregate amount of such deposits and certificates; or

(iv) any of the securities described in subclauses (i) and (ii) which are subject to repurchase agreements with any bank or trust company organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any national banking association.

SECTION 7. Clause (a) of section 5 of said chapter 557 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "Lowell", in line 2, the words:– or in other sites off the campus of the University.

SECTION 8. Section 7 of said chapter 557 is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 189 of the acts of 1970, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The Authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of bonds of the Authority to achieve any of its corporate purposes, including the payment of all or any part of the cost of a project, the payment of interest on notes or bonds of the Authority, the establishment of reserves to secure such bonds and notes, including the reserve funds created pursuant to section ten, and the payment of all other expenditures of the Authority incident to or necessary or convenient to the execution of its corporate purposes and powers, for the purpose of refunding outstanding indebtedness of the Authority incurred under this act or any other authority; provided, that the Authority shall not issue bonds the principal amount of which, when added to the principal amount of bonds and notes theretofore issued hereunder, excluding bonds and notes previously refunded or being or to be refunded thereby, shall exceed forty-two million dollars.

SECTION 9. The third paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 557, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 738 of the acts of 1974, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 4, the word "three" and inserting in place thereof the word:– five,– and by striking out, in line 10, the word "seven" and inserting in place thereof the word:– ten.

SECTION 10. The fourth paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 557 is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:– Bonds issued hereunder shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rates, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their date or dates as may be determined by the Authority, and may be redeemable before maturity at the option of the Authority at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the Authority prior to the issuance of any such bonds. The bonds may be issued as serial bonds with maturities in such years as the Authority may determine, or as term bonds, or as a combination of both.

SECTION 11. The fifth paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 557 is hereby amended by striking out the fifth and sixth sentences.

SECTION 12. The sixth paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 557 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The proceeds of such bonds and notes shall be used solely for the purposes for which they are issued or for the payment of the principal amount of the bonds or notes which they are issued to refund, together with accrued interest, premium if any, and related fees and expenses, and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the Authority may provide in the resolution authorizing the issuance thereof or in the trust agreement securing the same.

SECTION 13. Said chapter 557 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as most recently amended by section 13 of chapter 868 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 10. Guaranty by Commonwealth.– The commonwealth, acting by and through the trustees, may enter into a contract or contracts with the Authority for state financial assistance in the form of a guaranty by the commonwealth of bonds of the Authority issued under section seven.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 805.

Such guaranty shall be executed on each bond by an officer of the trustees. Each such contract shall contain such limitations as to the cost of the project or projects, if any, to be financed by the bonds to be guaranteed under this section and current operating and administrative expenses of the Authority to be allocated thereto, and such other provisions as the trustees may require.

The Authority shall create a reserve for principal and interest on all bonds with respect to which such a contract or contracts shall have been executed and which are secured by a single trust agreement and shall make deposits in such reserve as hereinafter required.

For the purposes of this paragraph the term "annual series requirement" shall mean one-twelfth of the largest amount of principal and interest payments due on any one issue or series of bonds secured by a single trust agreement in any year after the twelfth year next succeeding the year in which such issue or series of bonds was issued, and the term "year" shall mean a calendar year.

Such annual series requirement shall be in effect as to any issue or series of bonds for and only for the twelve years next succeeding the year in which the same was issued. In each year commencing with the first year succeeding the year in which the initial such issue or series of bonds shall be issued the Authority shall deposit in such reserve an amount equal to the aggregate of the annual series requirements in effect for such year in respect of all issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on the first day of such year minus or plus, as the case may be, the excess or deficiency of the amount on deposit in such reserve on such first day, including in such amount interest accrued but unpaid on obligations in which such amount may then be invested, over or under the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years in respect of all issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on such first day; provided, however, that if there shall be any application of such reserve or any portion thereof to the payment of principal or interest on bonds, the amount of any deficiency in the amount thereafter on deposit in such reserve resulting from such application shall be taken into account in computing the amount required to be deposited in such reserve in any year thereafter only to the extent that it is practicable to do so. The principal and interest payments due in any year on any issue or series of bonds shall be determined in accordance with the following when applicable: (1) the principal of bonds for the payment, prepayment, redemption or refunding of which funds are held in trust under the trust agreement shall be treated as not outstanding, and, after notice of any prepayment, redemption or refunding of bonds has been given in accordance with the trust agreement, all interest accruing on such bonds after the date with respect to which the requirements of the trust agreement for prepayment, redemption or refund thereof have been fulfilled shall be treated as not due, and (2) if the Authority shall establish a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of bonds at or prior to maturity, such principal amount of bonds as will be paid or prepaid from any deposit required to be made into such sinking fund shall be treated as if it matured on the date of such deposit and not on the maturity date of such bonds. Unless the trust agreement or a resolution of the Authority shall otherwise provide, all amounts required to be deposited into a reserve under any trust agreement shall be held for the equal benefit and security of all issues and series of bonds issued under such trust agreement. Any reserve may be used whenever necessary to pay principal or interest on bonds of any issue or series of bonds entitled to the benefits thereof, but such reserve shall be restored to the required level as soon as practicable. At any time when the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds (a) the aggregate of the twelve annual series requirements to be in effect with respect to any particular such issue or series of bonds of which are then outstanding plus (b) all annual series requirements in effect for all prior years and for the then current year with respect to all other such issues or series of bonds of which are then outstanding, and when such aggregate plus any other funds of the Authority available for the purpose shall equal or exceed the aggregate amount required to pay in full the principal and redemption price of and interest on all bonds of such particular issue or series then outstanding, the Authority may apply to such payment an amount from such reserve not exceeding such aggregate. If on the first day of any year the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds the sum of (i) the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years plus (ii) the annual series requirements for such year, in each case in respect of all such issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on such first day, the Authority shall not be obliged to make a deposit in such reserve in respect of such year, and, if such amount on deposit exceeds such sum but the conditions for application of the preceding sentence are not then met, the Authority may apply such excess to the payment of interest coming due in such year on bonds of such issue or series.

Any such contract may provide for the guaranty by the commonwealth of notes of the Authority issued under section seven, the total amount of which shall not exceed the amount specified in the contract for state financial assistance.

The guaranty of the commonwealth provided pursuant to such contract shall be of the payment of the principal of, and interest on, all such notes and bonds as the same become due and payable, and the full faith and credit of the commonwealth is hereby pledged for any such guaranty; provided, that the total amount of notes and bonds so guaranteed shall not exceed forty-two million dollars in the aggregate for all projects of the Authority, exclusive of bonds and notes previously refunded or being or to be refunded thereby.

SECTION 14. Section 1 of chapter 703 of the acts of 1964, as most recently amended by chapter 347 of the acts of 1970, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (d) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:—

(d) "Project", the construction or leasing of new buildings or structures and the acquisition, addition to, alteration, enlargement, reconstruction, rehabilitation, remodeling and other work, including, but not limited to, the alteration or modification of existing facilities or the construction of additional or new facilities required or made desirable by changes in or enactments of new law or regulation or changes in or new circumstances such as, by way of example and not by way of limitation, provision for access or use by handicapped persons, provision for conservation of energy, provision for safety of persons and property, provision for other compliance with changed or new law, regulation or circumstance, in or upon or respecting existing buildings or structures, the provision and installation therein or in respect thereof of furnishings, furniture, machinery, equipment, facilities, approaches, driveways, walkways, parking areas, planting and landscaping, the acquisition of land, other property, rights, easements, and interests acquired for or in respect to any thereof, the demolition or removal of any buildings or structures on land so acquired or interests in which are so acquired and site preparation, with respect to which the Authority shall provide by resolution for the issuance of a series of bonds or notes. Whenever appropriate the word shall also mean such land, buildings or structures and such appurtenances.

SECTION 15. Said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, as most recently amended by section 14 of chapter 868 of the acts of 1975, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 3. Purposes.– The Authority is created for the general purposes of aiding and contributing to the performance of the educational and other purposes of the University by providing dormitories, dining commons and other buildings, structures, and facilities for the use of the University, its students, staff and their dependents, which may be located at such place or places as the trustees may designate and which may be provided in collaboration with, and for joint use by, other agencies, boards, commissions or departments of the commonwealth and authorities created by the laws of the commonwealth. The Authority shall not initiate any project except upon written request made by authority of the trustees and upon written approval from the commissioner of administration and the chancellor of the board of regents of higher education, and notwithstanding any other provisions of this act the Authority shall have power to initiate only such projects as are designed primarily to provide facilities for the housing, feeding, medical care or extracurricular use by students, staff and dependents or facilities for use by an organization or association of students or others, a research foundation or other research organization, or other entity as above defined.

SECTION 16. Section 4 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out clause (g), as amended by section 19 of chapter 513 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(g) To borrow from time to time to achieve any one or more of its corporate purposes including to finance and refinance the costs of projects and to refund obligations earlier incurred for any such purpose and for refunding, and to sell its bonds and notes therefor, payable solely from its revenues, as provided in section seven.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 805.

SECTION 17. Clause (i) of said section 4 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "acquire", in line 1, the words:– by lease, purchase or otherwise, provided that the Authority shall have no power to acquire property by an eminent domain proceedings.

SECTION 18. Said section 4 of said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out clause (n), as amended by section 3 of chapter 665 of the acts of 1966, and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(n) To invest any funds held by its pending disbursements, which investment may be made in any one or more of the following:

(i) direct obligations of, or obligations the payment of the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by, the United States of America;

(ii) obligations of the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Government National Mortgage Association, the Federal Financing Bank, the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Federal Banks for Cooperatives, Federal Land Banks, Federal Loan Banks, Farmers Home Administration and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, or of any other agency or corporation which has been or is hereafter created pursuant to an act of Congress of the United States as an agency or instrumentality thereof;

(iii) interest-bearing time deposits or certificates of deposit of banking institutions or trust companies organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any national banking association, provided that such deposits or certificates shall be continuously and fully secured by obligations described in subclauses (i) and (ii) having a market value, exclusive of accrued interest, at least equal to the aggregate amount of such deposits and certificates; or

(iv) any of the securities described in said subclauses (i) and (ii) which are subject to repurchase agreements with any bank or trust company organized under the laws of any state of the United States or any national banking association.

SECTION 19. Section 7 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out the first, second, third and fourth paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following four paragraphs:–

The Authority is hereby authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of bonds of the Authority for achieving any of its corporate purposes or for the purpose of refunding outstanding indebtedness of the Authority incurred under this act or any other authority, including the payment of all or any part of the cost of projects, the payment of interest on notes and bonds of the Authority, the establishment of reserves to secure such bonds and notes, including the reserve funds created pursuant to section ten, and the payment of all other expenditures of the Authority incident to and necessary or convenient to carry out its corporate purposes and powers and any refunding provided, that the Authority shall not issue bonds the principal amount of which, when added to the principal amount of bonds and notes theretofore issued hereunder, excluding bonds and notes previously refunded or being or to be refunded, thereby, shall exceed forty million and provided, further, that the Authority shall not issue notes or bonds for the purpose of refunding bonds theretofore issued and then outstanding hereunder except with the prior written approval of the trustees of such refunding issue, which approval need not be of the interest rate, the maturity or any of the other terms thereof.

The Authority is further authorized to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue of interest-bearing or discounted notes for the purposes and in the amounts that bonds may be issued as provided above. Such notes shall be payable within five years from their respective dates, but the principal of and any interest on notes issued for such period or for a shorter period may be renewed or paid from time to time by the issue of other notes hereunder; provided, that the period from the date of an original note to the maturity of any note issued to renew or pay the same debt or the interest thereon shall not exceed ten years.

The principal and interest of any bonds or notes issued hereunder shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided for such payment. The bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, but not including rates variable from time to time, determined in such manner as the Authority shall approve, shall mature or otherwise be payable at such time or times, not exceeding fifty years from their date or dates as may be determined by the Authority, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the Authority, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the Authority prior to the issuance of any such bonds. The bonds may be issued as serial bonds with maturities in such years as the Authority may determine or as term bonds or as a combination of both.

The Authority is further authorized, subject to such conditions, limitations and restrictions as may be set forth in the resolution or resolutions authorizing or the trust agreement or agreements securing any bonds or notes theretofore issued, to provide by resolution at one time or from time to time for the issue under this act of such additional bonds for the above purposes as may hereafter be authorized by the general court.

SECTION 20. The sixth paragraph of said section 7 of said chapter 703 is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The proceeds of such bonds and notes shall be used solely for the purposes for which they are issued and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the Authority may provide in the resolution authorizing the issuance thereof or in the trust agreement securing the same.

SECTION 21. Said chapter 703 is hereby further amended by striking out section 10, as most recently amended by chapter 868 of the acts of 1978, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 10. Guaranty by Commonwealth.– The commonwealth, acting by and through the trustees, may enter into a contract or contracts with the Authority for state financial assistance in the form of a guaranty by the commonwealth of bonds of the Authority issued to achieve any of its corporate purposes or to refund outstanding indebtedness of the Authority incurred under this act or any other authority for any such purposes. Such guaranty shall be executed on each bond by the signature or facsimile signature of an officer of the trustees. In case any officer of the trustees whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bond shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or facsimile signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until such delivery. Each such contract shall contain such limitations as to the cost of any project or projects to be financed by the bonds to be guaranteed pursuant thereto and current operating and administrative expenses of the Authority to be allocated thereto, and such other provisions as the trustees may require.

The Authority shall create a reserve for principal and interest on all bonds with respect to which such a contract or contracts shall have been executed and which are secured by a single trust agreement and shall make deposits in such reserve as hereinafter required. For the purposes of this paragraph the term "annual series requirement" shall mean one-twelfth of the largest amount of principal and interest payments due in any one year on any one issue or series of bonds secured by a single trust agreement and the term "year" shall mean a calendar year. Such annual series requirement shall be in effect as to any such issue or series of bonds for and only for the twelve years next succeeding the year in which the same was issued. At the time of initial issue of any issue or series of bonds the Authority may deposit in such reserve an amount, from the proceeds of such bonds or from other available funds of the Authority, not greater than the aggregate of the annual series requirements in respect of such issue. If the amount of such deposit is less than such aggregate, the Authority shall, at the time such deposit is made, designate to which of such annual series requirements such deposit shall apply. In each year commencing with the first year succeeding the year in which the initial such issue or series of bonds shall be issued the Authority shall deposit in such reserve an amount equal to the aggregate of the annual series requirements in effect for such year in respect of all such issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on the first day of such year plus or, at the option of the Authority, minus, as the case may be, the deficiency or excess of the amount on deposit in such reserve on such first day, including in such amount interest accrued but unpaid on obligations in which such amount may then be invested under or over the aggregate of all such annual series requirements in effect for prior years in respect of all such issues or series of bonds of which are outstanding on such first day; provided, however, that if there shall be any application of such reserve or any portion thereof to the payment of principal or interest on bonds, the amount of any deficiency in the amount thereafter on deposit in such reserve resulting from such application shall be taken into account in computing the amount required to be deposited in such reserve in any year thereafter only to the extent that it is practicable to do so. The principal and interest payments due in any year on any issue or series of bonds shall be determined in accordance with the following when applicable (1) the principal of bonds for the payment, prepayment, redemption or refunding of which funds are held in trust by the trustee appointed pursuant to the trust agreement under which such bonds were issued shall be treated as not outstanding and after notice of any prepayment, redemption or refunding of bonds has been given in accordance with the trust agreement, all interest accruing on such bonds after the date with respect to which the requirements of such trust agreement for prepayment, redemption or refund thereof have been fulfilled shall be treated as not due, and (2) if the Authority shall establish a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of bonds at or prior to maturity, such principal amount of bonds as will be paid or prepaid from any deposit required to be made into such sinking fund shall be treated as if it matured on the date of such deposit and not on the maturity date of such bonds. Unless the trust agreement or a resolution of the Authority shall otherwise provide, all amounts required to be deposited into a reserve under any trust agreement shall be held for the equal benefit and security of all issues and series of bonds issued under such trust agreement. Any reserve may be used whenever necessary to pay principal or interest on bonds of any such issue or series of bonds, but such reserve shall be restored to the required level as soon as practicable. At any time when the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds (a) the aggregate of the twelve annual series requirements to be in effect with respect to any particular such issue or series of bonds bonds of which are then outstanding plus (b) all annual series requirements in effect for all prior years and for the then current year with respect to all other such issues or series of bonds bonds of which are then outstanding, and when such aggregate plus any other funds of the Authority available for the purpose shall equal or exceed the aggregate amount required to pay in full the principal and redemption price of and interest on all bonds of such particular issue or series then outstanding, the Authority may apply to such payment an amount from such reserve not exceeding such aggregate. If on the first day of any year the amount on deposit in any reserve equals or exceeds the sum of (i) the aggregate of all annual series requirements in effect for prior years plus (ii) the annual series requirements for such year, in each case in respect of all such issues or series of bonds bonds of which are outstanding on such first day, the Authority shall not be obliged to make a deposit in such reserve in respect of such year, and if such amount on deposit exceeds such sum but the conditions for application of the preceding sentence are not then met, the Authority may apply such excess to the payment of interest coming due in such year on bonds of such issues or series.

Any such contract may provide for the guaranty by the commonwealth of notes of the Authority issued under section seven, the total amount of which shall not exceed the amount specified in the contract for state financial assistance. Such guarantee shall be executed on each note by the signature or facsimile signature of an officer of the trustees. In case any officer of the trustees whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any note shall cease to be such officer before the delivery thereof, such signature or facsimile signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until such delivery.

The guaranty of the commonwealth provided pursuant to such contract shall be of the payment of the principal of, and interest on, all such notes and bonds as the same become due and payable, and the full faith and credit of the commonwealth is hereby pledged for any such guaranty; provided, however, that the total principal amount of notes and bonds so guaranteed shall not exceed forty million dollars in the aggregate, exclusive of bonds and notes refunded or being funded thereby.

SECTION 22. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized, in the name and on behalf of the commonwealth, located on the campus of the University of Lowell Building Authority, for a nominal sum, two parcels of real property of the commonwealth, located on the campus of the University of Lowell in the City of Lowell and under the control of the trustees of the University of Lowell, the first such parcel of real property being the land and building thereon known as Concordia Hall and the second parcel of such real property being the land and building thereon known as the South Campus Cafeteria.

Chapter 806. AN ACT RELATIVE TO UNINSURED MOTOR VEHICLES.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 34J of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– Whoever operates or permits to be operated a motor vehicle which is subject to the provisions of section one A during such time as the motor vehicle liability policy or bond or deposit required by the provisions of this chapter has not been provided and maintained in accordance therewith shall be punished by a fine of not less than three hundred dollars nor more than one thousand five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year in a house of correction, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided, however, that any municipality that enforces the provisions of this section shall retain two hundred dollars of any such fine.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 90 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 34 O the following section:–

Section 34P. The registrar after receipt of a notice as referred to in section thirty-four H, that a motor vehicle which is subject to the provisions of section one A and for which a motor vehicle liability policy or bond or deposit required by the provisions of this chapter has not been provided and maintained in accordance therewith, and upon the effective date of revocation pursuant to said section thirty-four H, shall notify state law enforcement agencies and the municipal police department of the city or town of principal garaging of said motor vehicle of such failure to provide and maintain said policy or bond or deposit. Further, such notice shall include the name and address of the owner of the motor vehicle and the address of the principal place of garaging.

State law enforcement personnel or the police of the city or town in which such motor vehicle is so garaged shall, upon receipt of said notice from the registrar seize the registration plates in use on said motor vehicle and return them forthwith, unless the owner shall present a notice of reinstatement from the insurer or evidence of a new motor vehicle insurance policy dated at least two days prior to the effective date of revocation pursuant to section 34H.

Chapter 807. AN ACT ESTABLISHING PROCEDURES FOR THE ADOPTION OF HOME RULE CHARTERS BY COUNTIES.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately provide for counties to study and adopt home rule charters, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 34 the following chapter:–

CHAPTER 34A.
COUNTY CHARTER PROCEDURES.

Section 1. This chapter may be cited as the "County Charter Procedures Act". As used in this chapter, the terms "board of registrars of voters", "city council", and "board of selectmen" shall include any local authority of different designation performing like duties.

Section 2. Every county, except Barnstable county, shall have the power to adopt a charter or to amend an existing charter in accordance with procedures prescribed by this chapter. This chapter shall not limit any charter adoption or amendment procedures allowed by prior law or the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Section 3. (A.) Whenever authorized by resolution of the county commissioners or by the advisory board on county expenditures, or on petition of the registered voters of any county, except in Barnstable county an election shall be held in the county upon the question, "Shall a charter study commission be created to study the present governmental structure of ... county to consider and make findings concerning the form of government and make recommendations thereon?"

(B.) A petition calling for such an election must be signed by at least five per cent of the number of registered voters residing in said county at the preceding state election. The petition shall be filed with the state secretary not later than the last Tuesday in February in the year which the question is to appear on the state election ballot. Such petition may consist of a number of separate sheets, but each sheet shall be in substantially the form prescribed therefore in section fourteen and shall be signed in accordance with the instructions contained therein. The state secretary shall furnish forms for such petition to any registered voter of the county requesting the same; no sooner than six months prior to the date by which the petition is to be filed with the state secretary. The signature contained on said petition shall be certified by the board of registrars of voters of the cities and towns in the county prior to the filing of said petition with the state secretary. Such certification shall be performed in the manner prescribed for the certification of signatures on nominating petitions, under section seven of chapter fifty-three. Any petition or separate sheet of a petition submitted for certification shall be processed and returned to the person who submitted it within ten days after the submission. Objections to the sufficiency and validity of the signatures on any such petition as certified by the boards of registrars of voters shall be made in the same manner as provided by law for objections to nominations for county offices. Upon the filing with the state secretary of a petition under section three, the state secretary shall furnish a receipt for the same to the person or persons filing the petition, and within thirty days after the filing of any such petition which contains the necessary number of certified signatures, the state secretary shall notify the city council of each city in such county and the board of selectmen of each town in such county that the question of the adoption or revision of a charter under this chapter is to be submitted to the voters of such county; provided, however, that no election of the charter commission may be held on the nineteen hundred and eighty-six state election on petition of the registered voters as provided in subsection A of section three and subsection B of section three and shall be inapplicable in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

(C.) When a resolution or petition for the creation of a charter study commission has been duly filed with the county commissioners no other resolution or petition and no other proceedings for the adoption of any other charter or form of government available to the county may be filed unless the voters shall decide the aforesaid question in the negative or until the charter study commission created by the voters shall have been discharged.

section 4. (A.) At the same election as the public question is submitted, fifteen members of a charter study commission shall be elected by the county's registered voters. The voting instructions shall state that the voter may vote on the question and that, regardless of how and whether he voted on the charter question, he may vote for members of the charter study commission who shall serve if the question is determined in the affirmative.

(B.) The ballots to be used in such county at such election shall be prepared and furnished by the state secretary in accordance with the requirements of this chapter and of chapter fifty-four. The charter commission candidates shall appear on the ballot as the last candidates to be elected. The question in subsection (A) of section three shall be the first question on the ballot and shall be designated by the letter "A".

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(C.) Said election shall be a statewide general election.

Section 5. (A.) Candidates for the charter commission shall be persons who are registered voters of such county in which they are a candidate.

(B.) The signatures of three hundred registered voters residing in such county shall be required to nominate at-large charter commission members, and signatures of one hundred and fifty registered voters residing in the district shall be required to nominate district charter commission members. Nominating papers containing required number of signatures shall be filed with the state secretary not later than the tenth Tuesday prior to the election in which charter commission members are to be chosen. Nominations for charter commission members shall be governed by the provisions of chapter fifty-three which are applicable to nominations for state office, except that no party or political designations shall be used and that the eight-word statements provided for in section forty-five of chapter fifty-three shall not be used. The clerk of each city and town in such county shall furnish to each candidate for charter commission upon request one copy of the list of registered voters of such city or town and one copy of the list of residents provided for in section six of chapter fifty-one.

Section 6. (A.) A charter commission shall consist of fifteen registered voters of such county elected by official ballot, without party or political designation, at an election held in accordance with relevant provisions of general law and this chapter. In addition, each county commissioner, or his designee, and the chairman of the county advisory board, or his designee, shall be non-elected members of the charter commission. In order to take into account widely differing population sizes of counties, charter commission members shall be elected at large or individually by district or both as follows: where the inhabitants of a county number less than fifty thousand persons, the election of all charter commission members in such county shall be at large; where the inhabitants of a county number at least fifty thousand but less than two hundred thousand persons, five charter commission members shall be elected at large and ten shall be elected by district; where the inhabitants of a county number two hundred thousand persons or more, the election of all charter commission members shall be by district.

The boundaries of the districts, for the purposes of electing charter commission members, shall be determined by the state secretary; not later than June first of the year in which members are to be elected, by dividing the county into districts of contiguous territory so that each representative shall represent an equal number of inhabitants, as nearly as may be.

Such districts shall also be so formed that no town containing less than six thousand inhabitants shall be divided.

(B.) For the purpose of this section, population shall be determined from the latest federal or state census. The names of the at-large candidates and the names of the candidates from each district nominated in accordance with section five shall be placed on such ballot in alphabetical order, preceded by the instruction in subsection A of section four.

(C.) The provisions of chapter fifty-four regarding votes on amendments to the constitution shall govern the canvassing and counting of votes on the question and the custody and disposition of ballots and related records.

(D.) The secretary shall provide a thirty day comment and review period prior to a final determination of district boundaries.

Section 7. The commission member who received the highest number of votes shall convene the first meeting of the charter commission as soon as possible but in no event later than fifteen days after certification of the results of the state election by the governor and governor's council. If said member does not act, the state secretary shall designate another member of the charter commission to convene the first meeting. At that meeting the charter commission shall promptly organize by the election from among its members of a chairman, a vice chairman, a treasurer and a clerk and shall file a notice of such organization with the secretary of the commonwealth. If no notice of organization is received by the state secretary within twenty-four days after the organizational meeting he shall designate a charter commission for such purpose. A charter commission shall continue to exist until thirty days after the election at which its charter adoption or revision proposal, if any, is required to be submitted to the voters under this chapter or until thirty days after submission to the state secretary of a final report recommending no new charter or revision.

If any member dies, resigns or ceases to be a registered voter of such county or the district of such county from which such member was elected, such vacancy shall be filled by the unsuccessful candidate who received the greatest number of votes in the election of said charter commission member. If the vacancy cannot be filled in this manner, the remaining members of the charter commission shall fill the vacancy. The commission may continue to act notwithstanding the existence of any vacancy. Members shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed from the commission's account for expenses lawfully incurred by them in the performance of their duties.

Section 8. It shall be the function and duty of the charter commission to study the form of government of the county, to compare it with other forms available under the laws of this state, to determine whether or not in its judgment the government of the county could be strengthened, made more clearly responsive or accountable to the people or whether its operation could be more economical or efficient, under a changed form of government.

Section 9. (A.) A charter commission may adopt rules governing the conduct of its meetings and proceedings and may employ such legal, research, clerical or other employees, who shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one, or consultants as its account may permit. In addition to funds made available by a county the charter commission account may receive funds from any other source, public or private, provided, however, that no contribution of more than five dollars shall be accepted from any source other than the county unless the name and address of the person or agency making the contribution, the amount of the contribution and the conditions or stipulations as to its receipt or use, if any, are disclosed in writing filed with the office of the county commissioners. The consent of a charter commission to any such condition or stipulation shall not be binding upon the county. Within thirty days after submission of its final report the charter commission shall file with the office of the county commissioners a complete account of all its receipts and expenditures for public inspection. Any balance remaining in its account shall be credited to such county's surplus revenue account.

(B.) Each such county shall provide its charter commission, free of charge, with suitable office space, and each county, and each city and town within the county shall provide the county charter commission free of charge, with reasonable access to facilities for holding public hearings.

The board of commissioners and the advisory board on county expenditures shall, upon request of the county charter commission contribute reasonable clerical and other assistance to such commission, to supplement the resources of the commission provided for in this chapter, and each county and each city and town within the county, shall permit the charter commission to consult with and obtain advice and information from county, city, or town officers and employees during ordinary working hours.

Within twenty days after the election of a charter commission the county treasurer shall credit to the account of the charter commission, with or without appropriation, the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars, provided, however that, in no event shall a county or its treasurer provide said commission with more than one-tenth of one per cent of the total county budget unless said appropriation has been approved by the advisory board on county expenditures.

If payment is to be made after the annual tax levy of the county, it shall be provided by transfer from available funds, or by exercise of emergency borrowing powers without, however, any reference of the question to the registered voters of the county. In any other county, such sum shall be levied against the cities and towns in the county in proportion to their respective borrowing limits, as determined under the provisions of chapter forty-four. Such levies shall be met in the manner provided in subsection (b) of section eight of chapter forty-three B. A county through its advisory board on county expenditures may appropriate additional funds for its charter commission provided the aggregate contribution to the charter commission does not exceed five times the initial contribution required under this section.

Section 10. (A.) In any county in which a charter commission has been established under this chapter, the members of the advisory board on county expenditures shall have the right to participate in the deliberations of the charter commission, but without the right to vote; except the chairman of the advisory board on county expenditures as provided in section six, on commission recommendations or to endorse or dissent from any report of the commission by virtue of their official advisory role, although this shall in no way be deemed to inhibit their comments as individuals after release of the charter commission report, or as an elected member of a charter commission.

(B.) The secretary of administration or his designee shall serve

ex-officio as nonvoting advisor on all charter commissions established under this chapter. It shall be his duty to collect, evaluate and transmit to each commission such information, advice, plans, and policies as he may deem pertinent to county government and its relationship to the state and municipal government. He shall meet with the commission as frequently as the commission shall request in order to assist the commission in determining the best form to recommend for the county's government.

section 11. (A.) The charter commission shall hold public hearings, sponsor public forums and otherwise provide for the widest possible dissemination of information and the stimulation of public discussion respecting the purposes and progress of its work.

(B.) The charter commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the citizens of the county on or before the eighteenth calendar month next following the date of its election in the form of a final report which it shall file with the county clerk who shall distribute it to all elected county and municipal officials, all members of the counties' legislative delegation, and the state secretary.

In addition there shall be printed and made available at cost to the public at large a number of copies equal to at least one-tenth of one per cent of the county's registered voters as of forty days before the most recent primary or general election.

The commission shall publish in two newspapers of known general circulation within said county on two successive weeks the full text of the proposed charter, together with a summary of its finding and recommendations, a summary of the provisions of the plan, if any, which it recommends for approval, and an analysis of and commentary on such plans.

section 12. (A.) The charter study commission may report and recommend:

(i) That a referendum be held to submit to the voters of the county the question of adopting one of the optional forms of the government set forth in sections seventeen, eighteen, and nineteen of this chapter that the commission has designated; or (ii) That the charter commission shall petition the legislature for the enactment of a special charter, the text of which shall be appended to the charter commission's report; or (iii) That the form of government of the county remain unchanged.

The commission may also draft and submit to the commissioners whatever recommendations it deems appropriate for the efficient administration of the county. Such recommendations may include a model administrative code. Such recommendations may be adopted by the commissioners in whole or in part whether or not a new charter is recommended by the commission or approved by the voters.

(B.) If the charter commission shall vote to recommend adoption of one of the optional forms set forth in sections seventeen, eighteen, and nineteen of this chapter, it shall also consider and make findings with respect to each of the three subjects set forth below, and determine which plan would provide the best representation of the people of the county. The final report shall set forth said findings and determinations in detail.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(i) Commissioners, number and term. The commission shall make recommendations as to changes if any in the number and terms of service of the county commissioners.

(ii) The commission shall recommend either a continuation of the present system of nonconcurrent terms or the adoption of a new system of concurrent terms.

(iii) Constituencies. The commission can recommend that the commissioners be elected at large or that they be elected by districts.

Section 13. (A.) If the charter commission shall have recommended the adoption of one of the optional forms of government authorized by this chapter; the charter commission shall notify the state secretary by the first Wednesday in August to place the following referendum question on the election ballot.

"Shall the (designate the caption of section _____ of the County Charter Procedures Act) be adopted for ..... county, with the provision for a board of commissioners of _____ members elected for (concurrent or non-concurrent as the case may be) terms and elected (at large, or from districts)?"

The commission may specify that the question be submitted at a general election occurring not less than sixty days or more than two hundred and forty days next following such filing of the report. At such election, the referendum question shall appear on the ballot in the same manner as other public questions are printed on the ballot. The attorney general shall prepare the summary to accompany such question.

(B.) If the charter commission shall have proposed a special charter, it shall be the duty of the commission to petition the legislature forthwith for a special law or laws, pursuant to the state constitution and in the manner provided by general enabling legislation thereunder, to carry out the recommendations of the charter commission.

Upon enactment of such enabling legislation, the special charter shall be submitted to the voters of the petitioning county for adoption in a manner provided in subsection (A), or as may otherwise be appropriate. No special charter shall become operative unless approved by a majority of all votes cast on the question.

section 14. The charter may be revised or amended in the same manner as provided for in its original adoption by section three.

(a) A petition for the adoption or revision of a charter shall: conform with the requirements of subsection (c) and shall have a sentence in substantially the following form at the top of each page.

Each of the undersigned requests that the county revise its present charter or adopt a new charter, and each of the undersigned certifies that he is a registered voter of said county whose residence addresses at the times set forth below were as shown below, and that he has not signed this petition more than once.

(b) A petition suggesting a charter amendment under this section shall conform with the requirements of subsection (c) and shall have a sentence in substantially the following form at the top of each page.

Each of the undersigned requests that the charter commission propose the charter amendments attached hereto to the voters of the county.

Each of the undersigned certifies that he is a registered voter of said county whose residence addresses at the times set forth below were as shown below, and that he has not signed this petition more than once.

(c) All petitions shall require the following information to be furnished by each signer in accordance with the following instructions which shall be printed on each page:

_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

Instructions:

*Written signature to voter to be supplied; provided that a registered voter prevented from writing by physical disability may authorize another person to write his signature and address.

**If a voter was registered later than this date, the registered address on such later date shall be used.

If a petition is expected to be filed on or after July fifteenth of any year, the registered address on the preceding January first shall be used. If a petition is expected to be filed before July fifteenth of any year, the registered address on the second preceding January first shall be used.

No petition shall contain or be accompanied by any indication of party or political designation.

(A) Duplicate certificates shall be prepared setting forth any charter amendments approved, and shall be signed by the state secretary. One such certificate shall be deposited in the office of the state secretary and another shall be recorded in the records of the county and deposited among its archives. All courts may take judicial notice of the charter and charter amendments of the county.

The executive body of the county shall, at intervals of not greater than ten years, cause the charter of said county as revised or amended to be reprinted for distribution to such registered voters of said county as may apply therefor at the office of the executive body of the county. Acts of the general court which are included in such charter may be referred to by appropriate subject headings and statutory citations instead of being set forth at length. Copies of said document may be sold at a price not to exceed the cost of paper, printing and binding thereof, plus mailing charges if any, as determined by the county executive body.

(B) A new charter or charter revision approved by a majority of the voters of the county voting thereon shall take effect on the day specified in such charter or revision, and any proposed amendment to be approved shall take effect upon the date specified therein. If two or more charter adoption, revision or amendment proposals are submitted to the voters in the alternative and are approved, only the alternative proposal receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall take effect. If two or more charter adoption, revision or amendment proposals containing conflicting provisions are submitted to the voters, but not as alternatives, and are approved, all such proposals shall take effect, but the proposal receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall be construed to prevent all conflicting provisions containing in other proposals from taking effect.

Section 15. Upon adoption by the registered voters of any county, except Barnstable county: of any optional form of government set forth in this chapter, the county shall thereafter be governed by the plan adopted, by the provisions of this chapter applicable to all optional plans and by all general laws, subject to provisions of this chapter.

(B.) For the purposes of this chapter, a "general law" shall be deemed to be such a law or part thereof, heretofore or hereafter enacted, that:

(i) is not inconsistent with this chapter; and (ii) is by its terms applicable to or available to all counties, or, (iii) is applicable to all counties or to any category or class of counties and deals with one or more of the following subjects: the administration of the judicial system, education, elections, health, county public authorities, taxation, and finance, and welfare.

(C.) Except as it relates to judicial or penal administration, or the administration of the registry of deeds nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent counties from abolishing or consolidating agencies the existence of which has heretofore been mandated by general law provided that if such abolition or consolidation shall alter the obligation of the county to continue services theretofore rendered by such abolished or consolidated agency, said alteration must be approved by the general court prior to taking effect.

(D.) The intent of this chapter is to enable a county that has adopted a charter pursuant to this chapter to cause any duty that has been mandated to it by the General Laws to be performed in the most efficient and expeditious manner, and, absent a clear legislative declaration to the contrary, without regard to organizational structural, or personnel provisions contained in prior general law, and further, the intent of this chapter is to encourage a review of the functions which a county provides.

Section 16. (A.) Any county that has adopted a charter pursuant to this chapter may, in accordance with the provisions of such charter, and subject to the provisions of general law and the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

(i) Organize and regulate its internal affairs; create, alter, abolish offices, positions and employments and define functions, powers and duties thereof; establish qualifications for persons holding offices, positions and employments; and provide for the manner of their appointment and removal and for their term, tenure and compensation.

(ii) Adopt, amend, enforce, and repeal ordinances and resolutions notwithstanding the effect of any referendum conducted prior to the county's adoption of its charter pursuant to this chapter.

(iii) Construct, acquire, operate and maintain public improvements, projects or other enterprises for any public purposes, subject to such referendum as may otherwise be imposed by law.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(iv) Exercise powers of eminent domain, borrowing and taxation only as provided by general law;

(v) Exercise all powers of county government in such manner as its board of commissioners and advisory board on county expenditures may determine.

(vi) Sue and be sued, have a corporate seal; contract and be contracted with, buy, sell, lease, hold and dispose of real and personal property; appropriate and expend monies for county purposes;

(vii) Contract with or sign agreements with other governmental units for the provision of joint, coordinated, or cooperative service provision.

(B.) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to impair or diminish or infringe on the powers and duties of cities and towns under the General Laws. It is the intent of this chapter only to permit cities and towns to employ services and facilities of the county for more effective, efficient and adequate provision of services if and when cities and towns may deem it desirable to do so. Cities and towns are and shall remain the broad repository of local police power in terms of the right and power to legislate for the general health, safety, and welfare of their residents.

(C.) The grant of powers under this act is intended to be as broad as consistent with the construction of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the General Laws relating to local government. The grant of powers shall be construed as liberally as possible in regard to the county's right to reorganize its own form of government, to reorganize its structure and to alter and abolish its agencies, subject to the general mandate of performing services whether they be performed by the agency previously established or by a new agency or other department of county government. Based on the need to develop effective services to meet problems which cross city or town boundaries and which cannot be met effectively on an individual basis by the cities and towns, or the state, this chapter shall be construed as intending to give the county power to establish innovative programs and to perform such regional services as the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the General Laws permit and to establish such other programs and services as may from time to time be permitted.

Section 17. (A.) Form of Government.

(i) The form of government provided in this section shall be known as the "county executive plan," and shall together with sections fifteen, sixteen and twenty of this chapter, govern any county whose voters have adopted it pursuant to this chapter.

(ii) Elected officers; governing body defined; exercise of administrative or executive functions by county executive.

(a) Each county operating under this section shall be governed by an elected board of commissioners and an elected county executive and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this act, general law, or ordinance.

(b) In each county operating under this section the term "governing body" of the county shall be construed to include both the commissioners and the county executive. For the purpose of the construction of any applicable law, any and all administrative or executive functions heretofore assigned by general law to the commissioners shall be exercised by the county executive, and any and all legislative and investigative functions heretofore assigned by general law to the commissioner shall be exercised by the board.

(B.) County Executive.

(i) The county executive shall be a qualified voter of the county residing in the county. He shall be elected from the county at large for a term of four years commencing on January first, next following his election.

(ii) The salary of the county executive shall be fixed by ordinance of the commissioners; such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the duties of the office and with the fact that the position of county executive is and shall be a full-time position. The salary of the county executive may not be lowered during his tenure in office.

(iii) The office of county executive shall be deemed vacant if the incumbent moves his residence from the county or he is by physical or mental illness or other casualty unable to continue to serve as county executive. Any vacancy in the office of county executive shall be filled in the manner prescribed by law for the election of county officers at the next general election occurring not less than sixty days after the occurrence of the vacancy. The commissioners may appoint one of their number or the chief administrator to serve as acting county executive until a successor has been elected. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the county executive the chief administrator shall serve as acting county executive.

(iv) The executive power of the county shall be exercised by the county executive. He shall:

(a) Report annually to the board of commissioners, the advisory board on county expenditures and to the people on the state of the county, and the work of the previous year; he shall also recommend to the board of commissioners whatever action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any course of action or programs he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake;

(b) Prepare and submit to the board of commissioners and advisory board for consideration and adoption an annual operating budget and a capital budget and a capital program, establish the schedules and procedures to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budgetary process;

(c) Enforce the county charter, the county's laws and all general laws applicable thereto;

(d) Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;

(e) Supervise the collection of revenues, and audit and control all disbursements and expenditures and shall prepare a complete account of all expenditures. He shall also designate the repositories of county funds;

(f) Sign all contracts, bonds or other instruments requiring the consent of county;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(g) Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend thereon to the board;

(h) Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures as may be authorized by the administrative code;

(i) Negotiate contracts for the county subject to board and, where appropriate, advisory board approval; make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvements and execute improvements determined by the board;

(j) Assure that all terms and conditions, imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract, are faithfully kept and performed;

(k) Serve as an ex-officio nonvoting member of all appointive bodies in county government;

(v) The county executive:

(a) Shall supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;

(b) With the advice and consent of the board of commissioners, shall appoint the county-counsel, the administrator, the heads of all departments and any divisions created within such departments, and the members of all county boards, commissions and authorities;

(c) May, at his discretion, remove or suspend any official in the unclassified service of the county over whose office the county executive has power of appointment;

(d) May, at his discretion, but subject to any pertinent provision of the general laws or civil service regulations, delegate to department heads powers of appointment and removal of their departmental employees. If the county executive does not so delegate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service regulations, all employees;

(e) May require reports and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government;

(f) May, at his discretion, order any agency under his jurisdiction to undertake any task for any other agency on a temporary basis if he deems it necessary for the proper and efficient administration of county government to do so;

(g) Shall approve each ordinance of the board of commissioners by signing it, or may veto any ordinance by returning it to the clerk of the board within ten days of passage with a written statement of his objections to the ordinance. If two-thirds of the full membership of the board, upon reconsideration of the measure, shall vote for it, the executive's veto shall be overridden and the ordinance shall become law without the executive's signature in accordance with the provisions of law.

(C.) Board of Commissioners.

(i) The legislative power of the county shall be vested in the board of commissioners. Such legislative power shall be exercised by ordinance, except for the exercise of the following powers which are required to be or are permitted to be, exercised by resolution:

(a) The conduct of an inquiry; or investigation;

(b) The expression of disapproval of the suspension or dismissal of

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

officers or employees;

(c) The exercise of the power of advice and consent to actions of the executive;

(d) The override of a veto of the county executive;

(e) The adoption of rules for the board;

(f) The establishment of times and places for board meetings;

(g) The establishment of the board as a committee of the whole and the delegation of any number of its members as an ad hoc committee;

(h) The declaration of emergencies;

(i) The identification of emergency situations;

(j) The establishment of county personnel policies;

(k) Designation of newspapers; for required advertisements and notices;

(l) The appointment and removal of such officers and employees as the board is permitted by law;

(m) Approval of contracts presented by the county executive;

(o) Actions specified as resolutions; and

(p) The expression of such board policies or opinions as require no formal action by the governing body.

(ii) At its organizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as chairman and one as vice-chairman for the year.

(iii) The county executive may be present and participate in the discussions at all board meetings.

(iv) The board of commissioners.

(a) Shall advise and consent to all appointment by the executive for which board confirmation is specified under this article;

(b) Shall pass in accordance with this chapter whatever ordinances and resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good governance of the county;

(c) Shall appoint a clerk to the board who shall keep the records and minutes of the board, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term, not to exceed three years, as may be provided by the commissioners provided, however, that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year;

(d) May appoint counsel to the board, if such position is created by the administrative code, to serve at the pleasure of the board;

(e) May pass a resolution of disapproval or dismissal;

(f) May override a veto of the county executive by a two-thirds vote of its full membership;

(g) Shall approve the annual operating and capital budgets, prior to presenting the budgets for advisory board appropriation.

(D.) Chief Administrator.

(i) The county executive shall appoint a chief administrator who shall serve at his pleasure. The board shall advise and consent to his nomination but shall not prevent his suspension or dismissal by passage of a resolution of disapproval.

(ii) The chief administrator shall by education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure he may live outside the county only with the permission of the county executive.

(iii) The chief administrator shall be responsible only to the executive. He shall, under the direction and supervision of the executive, undertake to assist in the orderly and efficient administration of the county, performing whatever supervisory or administrative duties the executive deems necessary and proper.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the chief administrator's being appointed to head one or more departments on a temporary or permanent basis.

Section 18. (A.) Form of Government.

(i) The form of government provided in this section shall be known as the "county manager plan," and shall, together with sections fifteen, sixteen and twenty of this chapter, govern any county whose voters have adopted it pursuant to this chapter.

(ii) Each county operating under this section shall be governed by an elected board of commissioners and an appointed county manager and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this section, the general laws, or ordinance.

(B.) County Manager.

(i) The county manager shall be qualified by administrative and executive experience and ability to serve as the chief executive of the county. He shall be appointed by a majority vote of the commissioners and shall serve for an indefinite term. He may be removed by a majority vote of the board subject to due notice and a public hearing. Such notice shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a written bill of particular charges and complaints and said public hearing on these charges shall be held no less than fifteen nor more than thirty days after personal service of notice and charges.

At the time of his appointment the manager need not be a resident of the county but after his appointment he may reside outside the county only with permission of the board.

(ii) The salary of the county manager shall be fixed by the commissioners; such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the fact that the position of county manager is and shall be a full-time position. The salary of the county manager may not be lowered during his tenure in office.

(iii) The office of county manager shall be deemed vacant if: the incumbent moves his residence from the county without board permission; or he is by physical or mental illness or other casualty unable to continue to serve as county manager. Any vacancy in the office of county manager shall be filled in the manner prescribed by clause (i) of subsection (B) of this section. The commissioners may appoint the deputy manager or any department head to serve as acting county manager until a successor has been appointed. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the county manager the deputy manager or a department head designated by the manager if there be no deputy manager, shall serve as acting county manager.

(iv) The executive power of county shall be exercised by the county manager. The county manager shall:

(a) Report annually to the commissioners, the advisory board on county expenditures and to the people, on the state of the county, the work of the previous year, and he shall also recommend to the board whatever action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any course of action or programs he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake;

(b) Prepare and submit to the board for its consideration and adoption an annual operating budget, and a capital budget, establish the schedules and procedures to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budgetary process.

(c) Enforce the county charter, the county's laws and all general laws applicable thereto;

(d) Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;

(e) Through the county treasurer, have oversight on the collection of revenues, audit and control all disbursements and expenditures and shall prepare a complete account of all expenditures;

(f) Sign all contracts, bonds or other instruments requiring the consent of the county;

(g) Organize the work of county departments subject to the administrative code adopted by the board. He shall further review their administration and operation and make recommendations pertaining thereto to the board;

(h) Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend thereon to the board;

(i) Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures as may be authorized.

(j) Negotiate contracts for the county subject to board and where appropriate, advisory board approval and make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvements and execute improvements determined by the board;

(k) Assure that all terms and conditions imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract, are faithfully kept and performed;

(l) Serve, as ex-officio, nonvoting member of all appointive bodies in county government.

(v) The county manager:

(a) Shall supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;

(b) Shall appoint the deputy manager, if that position is created by the board, the heads of all county departments and divisions created within such departments, and all other administrative officers and county personnel the manner of whose appointment is not prescribed elsewhere in this section;

(c) May, at his discretion, remove or suspend any official in the unclassified service of the county over whose office the county manager

has power of appointment;

(d) May at his discretion, but subject to any pertinent provisions of the general laws and civil service regulations delegate any department head powers of appointment and removal of their departmental employees. If the county manager does not so delegate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service regulations, all employees whose positions have been created.

(e) May require and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government; and

(C.) Board of Commissioners.

(i) The legislative power of the county shall be vested in the board of commissioners. Such legislative power shall be exercised by ordinance, except for the exercise of the following powers which are required to be, or are permitted to be, exercised by resolution:

(a) The establishment of a municipal advisory council;

(b) The conduct of an inquiry or investigation;

(c) The expression of disapproval of the suspension or dismissal of officers or employees;

(d) The adoption of rules for the board;

(e) The establishment of times and places for board meetings;

(f) The establishment of the board as a committee of the whole and the delegation of any number of its members as an ad hoc committee.

(g) The declaration of emergencies;

(h) The identification of emergency situations;

(i) The establishment of county personnel policies;

(j) The election, appointment and removal of such officers and employees as the board is permitted by law;

(k) Designation of newspapers; for required advertisements and notices.

(l) Approval of contracts presented by the county manager;

(m) Actions specified as resolutions; and

(n) The expression of such board policies or opinions as require no formal board action.

(ii) At its organizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as chairman and one to serve as vice-chairman of the year. The chairman shall preside over board meetings during his tenure, and in his absence the vice-chairman shall preside.

(iii) The county manager may be present at all board meetings and participate in all deliberations, without the right to vote.

(iv) (a) The board shall appoint a county manager under the provisions of this chapter and may create the office of deputy manager;

(b) Shall appoint a clerk to the board who shall serve at its pleasure and keep the records and minutes of the board, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term, not to exceed three years, as may be provided by the commissioners; provided, however, that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year;

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(c) Shall appoint a county counsel, who shall head the county's legal department, and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term, not to exceed three years, as may be provided by the administrative code; provided, however, that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year. An administrative code may also establish a term, not to exceed three years, for the position of assistant county counsel;

(d) Shall appoint members of all boards and commissions and other bodies whose manner of appointment is not otherwise specified in this section;

(e) May pass a resolution of disapproval of a suspension or dismissal;

(f) Shall approve the annual operating and capital budgets; prior to presenting them for advisory board appropriation; and

(g) Shall pass in accordance with this chapter whenever ordinances and resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good governance of the county.

(D.) Deputy Manager.

(i) Subject to creation of such position the county manager may appoint a deputy manager who shall serve at his pleasure; the board may not prevent his suspension or dismissal by passage of a resolution of disapproval.

(ii) The deputy manager shall by education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him.

He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure may live outside the county only with the permission of the manager.

(iii) The deputy manager shall be responsible only to the manager. He shall, under the direction and supervision of the manager, undertake to assist in the orderly and efficient administration of the county, performing whatever supervisory or administrative duties the manager deems necessary and proper.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the deputy manager's being appointed to head one or more departments on a temporary or permanent basis.

Section 19. (A.) Form of Government.

(i) The form of government provided in this article shall be known as the "board chairperson plan," and shall, together with sections fifteen, sixteen and twenty of this chapter govern any county whose voters have adopted it pursuant to this chapter.

(ii) Each county operating under this article shall be governed by an elected board of commissioners and a commissioner board chairperson and by such other officers and employees as may be duly appointed pursuant to this chapter, the general laws or by ordinance.

(B.) Board Chairperson.

(i) The board chairperson shall be a duly elected member of the board of commissioners. He shall be elected by the board commissioners at their organizational meeting for a term of one year, such term to begin immediately after his election on January first.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(ii) The salary of the board chairperson shall be fixed by ordinance of the board of commissioners, such salary shall be reasonable and commensurate with the duties of the office.

(iii) The office of board chairperson shall be deemed vacant if: the incumbent moves his residence from the county; or he is by physical or mental illness or other casualty unable to continue to serve as board chairperson. Any vacancy in the office of board chairperson shall be filled by the board of commissioners which shall appoint one of their number to serve as board chairperson for the remainder of the unexpired term. During the temporary absence or temporary disability of the board chairperson the vice chairperson shall serve as acting chairperson.

(iv) The executive power of the county shall be exercised by the board chairperson. He shall:

(a) Report annually to the board of commissioners, the advisory board on county expenditures, and to the people of the county on the work of the previous year and he shall also recommend to the board whatever action or programs he deems necessary for the improvement of the county and the welfare of its residents. He may from time to time at his discretion recommend any course of action or programs he deems necessary or desirable for the county to undertake;

(b) Preside over board meetings with the right to vote on all questions;

(c) Serve as spokesman for the board on matters concerning policies and programs;

(d) Serve as representative of the board at ceremonial and civic occasions;

- (l) The appointment and removal of such officers and employees as the board is permitted by law;
- (m) Approval of contracts presented by the county administrator;
- (n) Actions specified as resolutions and,
- (o) The expression of such board policies or opinions as require no formal board action.

(D.) Chairperson and vice-chairperson; election.

(i) The board shall elect a chairperson as specified in this section. At its reorganizational meeting each January the board shall select one of its members to serve as vice-chairperson for the year.

(ii) The board of commissioners:

(a) Shall pass in accordance with this chapter whatever ordinances or resolutions it deems necessary and proper for the good governance of the county;

(b) Shall appoint and remove the administrative officer by a majority vote and may create the office of, appoint and remove, a deputy administrative officer by a majority vote.

(c) Shall advise and consent to all appointments by the president and administrative officer for which board confirmation is specified under this section.

(d) Shall appoint a clerk to the board who shall serve at its pleasure and keep the records and minutes of the board and who shall serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term not to exceed three years as may be provided by the commissioners provided however that an ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January of the succeeding year.

(e) Shall appoint the county counsel to the county's legal department to serve at the pleasure of the board or for such term not to exceed four years as may be provided by the commissioner, provided, however, that no ordinance providing for the adoption of any such term shall not be enacted between October first of any year and January first of the succeeding year. The commissioner may also establish a term not to exceed three years for the position of assistant county counsel.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

(f) May pass a resolution of disapproval of a suspension or dismissal.

(g) Shall approve the annual operating and capital budget prior to presenting the budgets for advisory board appropriation.

(E.) Chief Administrator.

(i) The county administrative officer shall serve at the pleasure of the board.

(ii) The chief administrative officer shall by education, experience and ability be qualified to perform the duties established for him. He need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment, but during his tenure he may live outside the county only with the permission of the board.

(iii) The administrative officer shall be responsible to the board through the chairperson except as specified below. He shall be responsible for the efficient administration of the county's government. He shall:

(a) Prepare and submit directly to the board for its consideration and adoption an annual operating budget and a capital budget, establish the schedules and procedures to be followed by all county departments, offices and agencies in connection therewith, and supervise and administer all phases of the budgetary process.

(b) Through the treasurer, supervise the collection of revenues, and audit and control disbursements and expenditures and prepare a complete account of all expenditures;

(c) Supervise the care and custody of all county property, institutions and agencies;

(d) Organize the work of county departments, subject to the administrative code adopted by the board. He shall further review their administration and make recommendations pertaining thereto to the board;

(e) Review, analyze and forecast trends of county services and finances and programs of all boards, commissions, agencies and other county bodies, and report and recommend to the board;

(f) Develop, install and maintain centralized budgeting, personnel and purchasing procedures.

(g) Negotiate contracts for the county with the approval of the county commissioners, and, where appropriate the advisory board on county expenditures, and make recommendations concerning the nature and location of county improvements and executive improvements determined by the board; and

(h) Assure that all terms and conditions imposed in favor of the county or its inhabitants in any statute, franchise or other contract are faithfully kept and performed.

(iv) Powers.

The administrative officer shall:

(a) Supervise, direct and control all county administrative departments;

(b) Appoint the heads of all county departments and if so provided in the administrative code of any designated divisions within such departments and the advice and consent of the board of commissioners and appoint all other county personnel the manner of whose appointment

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 807.

is not prescribed elsewhere in this section;

(c) At his discretion, remove or suspend any official in the unclassified service of the county over whose office the administration officer has power of appointment;

(d) At his discretion, but subject to any pertinent provisions of the General Laws or civil service regulations, delegate to any department head powers of appointment and removal of his departmental employees. If the administrative officer does not so delegate his power he may appoint and remove, subject to civil service regulations, all employees whose positions have been created in accordance with actions of the commissioners and the manner of whose appointment is not specified elsewhere in this section;

(e) At his discretion, require reports and examine the accounts, records and operations of any agency of county government; and section 20. Relations between the Legislative and Executive Branches.

A. Separation of Powers.

In any county that shall have adopted a charter under this chapter, the commissioners shall deal with county employees only through the officials responsible for the overall executive management of the county's affairs as designated in sections of this chapter –, through the county executive, the county manager, and the board chairperson respectively. All contact with county employees, all actions and communications concerning the administration of the county's government and provision of services shall be through the aforementioned officials, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the board's inquiry into any act or problem of the county's administration. Any commissioner may require a report on the aspect of the government of the county at any time by making a written request to the head of the executive branch of county government. The board may, by majority vote of the whole number of its members, require the head of the executive branch to appear before the board sitting as a committee of the whole, and to bring before the board such records and reports and such officials and employees of the county as the board shall deem necessary to insure clarification of the matter under study.

The board further may, by majority vote of the whole number of its members, delegate any number of its members as an ad hoc committee to consult with the head of the executive branch to study any matter and to report to the board thereon.

It is the intent of this chapter to confer on the board general legislative and such investigative powers as are germane to the exercise of its legislative powers, but to retain in the head of the executive branch full control over the county administration and over the administration of county services provided for in this chapter.

B. Appointments and dismissal; suspension procedure.

(i) No member of any board of commissioners in a county operating under a charter adopted pursuant to this chapter shall individually or collectively seek to influence the head of the executive branch to dismiss any person from, or to appoint, or to promote any person to any position in the executive branch of county government, except that the board may, by a resolution of disapproval adopted by a two-thirds vote of the whole number of the board, prevent the dismissal of certain employees under conditions as set forth in clause (ii) of this subsection.

(ii) Suspensions will take effect immediately upon personal service of notice setting forth the order of suspension or dismissal. Dismissal or suspension for a definite term shall occur automatically in thirty calendar days from receipt of notice. But, if the officer or employee requests a public hearing on his dismissal or suspension for a definite term, no action beyond temporary suspension may be taken until the individual to be suspended or dismissed is given a public hearing not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days after personal service of written notice of contemplated action. A copy of such notice shall be filed with the clerk to the board of commissioners immediately upon service of notice to the individual to be suspended or dismissed. In the event that within thirty-five days of receiving such notice, the board shall pass by a two-thirds vote of the whole number of the board, a resolution of disapproval, all proceedings and any suspension or dismissal of the individual shall be voided. In terms of recompense to the individual, a vote of disapproval shall be deemed to negative the suspension or dismissal order and for purposes of pay and civil service standing the action shall be deemed never to have transpired. If, however, the suspension or dismissal order shall allege that the individual against whom action is contemplated or pending has committed a criminal act in the conduct of his public trust, no resolution of the board shall stay proceedings and the matter shall be brought to a public hearing in the manner prescribed above. If at that hearing probable cause for prosecution is found, all evidence shall immediately be forwarded to the county prosecutor for further action. If any suspension or dismissal order is resolved upon hearing in favor of the office or employee, he shall be restored to his original position without record of the action, or prejudice therefrom, and shall receive full compensation retroactive to the date of his suspension.

Section 21. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the county of Barnstable.

Chapter 808. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE ENFORCEMENT BY THE COMMISSIONER OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIES OF THE PROCUREMENT OF THE DESIGN SERVICE FOR CERTAIN PUBLIC BUILDING PROJECTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 149 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 44H, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 809.

Section 44H. Except as otherwise provided by the provisions of sections forty-four A to forty-four H, inclusive, of this chapter, and of section four H of chapter seven, and except for the consideration and determination after contract award as to whether an item is equal to an item named or described in the specifications for a contract, the commissioner of labor and industries or his designee shall enforce sections forty-four A to forty-four H, inclusive, of this chapter and section thirty-nine M of chapter thirty, and sections thirty-eight C to thirty-eight N, inclusive, of chapter seven. He shall have all the necessary powers to require compliance therewith including the power to institute and prosecute proceedings in the superior court to restrain the award of contracts and the performance of contracts in all cases where, after investigation of the facts, s/he has made a finding that such award or performance has resulted in a violation, directly or indirectly, of the provisions of said sections forty-four A to forty-four H, inclusive, or of said section thirty-nine M or of said sections thirty-eight C to thirty-eight N, inclusive, and he shall not be required to pay the clerk of the court any entry fee in connection with the institution of any such proceeding.

Chapter 809. AN ACT REGULATING THE RECORDING AND REGISTRATION OF MEMORANDA OF LIS PENDENS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 15 of chapter 184 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Upon motion of any party, a justice of the court before which the action is pending shall, if the subject matter of the action constitutes a claim of a right to title to real property or the use and occupation thereof or the buildings thereon, make a finding to that effect and endorse said finding upon said memorandum. No register of deeds nor assistant recorder of any district of the land court shall accept such memorandum for recording unless it contains such endorsement and is accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that the moving party has served notice of the allowance of such motion by certified mail addressed to all other parties prior to the recording of the memorandum. In the event the finding is made pursuant to an ex parte proceeding, any party aggrieved thereby may by motion move the dissolution of the memorandum and the court shall hear said motion forthwith. At such hearing, the party whose motion was allowed ex parte shall have the burden of justifying any finding in the ex parte order which is challenged by the party aggrieved thereby. Any party aggrieved by any ruling under this section may appeal pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred and eighteen of chapter two hundred and

Chapter 810. AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DIVISION OF CAPITAL PLANNING AND OPERATIONS TO LEASE A CERTAIN PARCEL OF DESIGNATED LAND AT CASTLE ISLAND IN SOUTH BOSTON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The deputy commissioner of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized, subject to the provisions of section forty F 1/2 and forty H through forty J inclusive of chapter seven of the General Laws to lease to the present lessee of the original establishment, for a term not to exceed twenty-five years, which may be renewed and extended up to four additional consecutive five year terms, the parcel of land adjacent to the original establishment and buildings presently located at castle island in the South Boston section of the city of Boston. Such parcel and building shall be in the master plan of the metropolitan district commission castle island plan and will be mutually agreed upon by all parties involved. The parcel shall contain at least 2,000 square feet and no more than 6,000 square feet and shall have an agreed upon acceptable building constructed and whatever additional features are necessary to public safety, health regulations and easements for delivery and construction purposes.

SECTION 2. No lease of the property described in section one shall be valid unless such lease provides that said property shall be used exclusively for a concession stand with products including food, beverage (non-alcoholic), dairy products and concession stand non-food products. Further said lease shall provide that there be adequate space and planning for trash storage and removal and deliveries of products and supplies needed to operate said establishment. Compliance with the terms of lease shall be monitored every five years with reports to the general court.

Chapter 811. AN ACT PROVIDING FOR AN ACCELERATED TRANSPORTATION DEVELOPMENT AND IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM FOR THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 811.

SECTION 1. The department of public works, hereinafter referred to as the "department", is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed nine hundred and thirteen million dollars and the metropolitan district commission, hereinafter referred to as the "commission", is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed thirty-three million dollars for the following purposes:

Projects for the laying out, construction, reconstruction, resurfacing, relocation or improvement of highways, bridges, bicycle paths or facilities, parking facilities, auto-restricted zones, scenic easements, grade crossing eliminations and alterations of other crossings, traffic safety devices on state highways and on roads constructed under the provisions of section thirty-four of chapter ninety of the General Laws, highway or mass transportation studies, including without limitation, traffic environmental or parking studies, establishment of school zones in accordance with section seventeen of said chapter ninety, improvements on routes not designated as state highways without assumption of maintenance responsibilities, and notwithstanding any law to the contrary, projects to alleviate the contamination of public and private water supplies caused by the department's storage and use of snow removal chemicals which are necessary for the purposes of highway safety, and for the relocation of persons or businesses, or replacement of dwellings or structures including, without limitation, the provision of last resort housing under federal law and such functional replacement of structures in public ownership as may be necessary for the foregoing purposes and for relocation benefits to the extent necessary to satisfy the requirements of the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Act, 42 USC 4601 et. seq., and to sell, at public or private sale, any structure the title to which has been acquired for highway purposes. When dwellings or other structures are removed, in furtherance of any of the foregoing projects, the excavations or cellar holes remaining shall be filled in and brought to grade within one month.

Funds authorized by this section shall, except as otherwise specifically provided in this act, be subject to the provisions of the first paragraph of section six and sections seven and nine of chapter seven hundred and eighteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six and, notwithstanding any law to the contrary, may be used for the purposes stated in this act in conjunction with funds of cities, towns, and any political subdivision of the commonwealth.

In carrying out the provisions of this section the department may enter into such contracts or agreements as are appropriate with other state, local or regional public agencies or authorities. In relation to such agreements between the department and other state agencies or authorities, the department is hereby authorized to and may advance to such agencies or authorities, without prior expenditure by such agencies or authorities, monies necessary to carry out such agreements; provided, however, the department certifies to the comptroller the amounts so advanced; provided further, that such agreement contains provisions satisfactory to the department for the accounting of such monies as expended by said agency or authority; and provided, further, that all monies not expended under such agreement be credited to the account of the department from which it was advanced.

In addition to the foregoing the department is further authorized:

(1) to expend funds made available by this act to acquire from any person land or rights in land by lease, purchase, eminent domain under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or otherwise for parking facilities adjacent to any public way, to be operated by the department or under contract with any person; and

(2) to expend funds made available by this act for the acquisition of van-type vehicles used for multipassenger, commuterdriven carpools; and

(3) to exercise all powers and do all things necessary and convenient to carry out the purpose of this act.

SECTION 1A. None of the funds authorized for expenditure by the commission under section one shall be expended until sixty days after the governor submits to the clerk of the senate, the clerk of the house of representatives, the senate committee on ways and means, the house committee on ways and means, the joint committee on transportation, and the inspector general a report which describes the improvements made in the commission's management capabilities in accordance with a comprehensive improvement plan, and which demonstrates that the commission has the necessary technical, managerial, and financial capability to execute one or more projects to be funded under this act and to maintain such projects in good repair. Within thirty days after receiving said report, the inspector general shall provide his written comments thereon to the clerk of the senate, the clerk of the house of representatives, the senate committee on ways and means, the house committee on ways and means, and the joint committee on transportation.

SECTION 2. Amounts authorized by section one of this act shall be available for expenditure and shall be allocated on the accounting records of the comptroller to the department as follows:

(a) a sum not to exceed three hundred million dollars to the department for projects, pursuant to the provisions of section one, on the interstate federal aid highway system;

(b) a sum not to exceed five hundred and forty million dollars to the department for projects, pursuant to the provisions of section one, on the federal aid highway system, other than interstate;

(c) a sum not to exceed sixty million dollars to the department for engineering and other consultant services essential to the purposes and projects authorized by this section; provided, however, that a sum of not less than three million dollars of this amount shall be expended for salaries of engineering employees of the department, other than engineers appointed as provided in this section; and provided, further, that the commissioner of public works may appoint, without regard to chapter thirty-one of the General Laws or any collective bargaining agreement pursuant to chapter one hundred and fifty E of the General Laws, persons qualified as described herein to serve in engineering and construction inspection titles of the department as specified herein. Except as otherwise specified herein, following appointment under this paragraph, no such person shall be subject to the provisions of said chapter thirty-one; and no such person shall be terminated or otherwise removed from such position as a result, directly or indirectly, of the establishment or operation of any civil service list pursuant to said chapter thirty-one. Employees of the department who meet the qualifications stated herein shall be eligible to apply for promotion to a position governed by this paragraph, such promotion to be deemed an "appointment" for purposes of this paragraph. Any employee previously holding a position in the department who is terminated from any position under this paragraph shall be restored to his previous title. All appointments under this paragraph shall be terminated prior to any reduction in force of department employees due to lack of work, lack of funding for positions subject to said chapter thirty-one, or abolition of positions subject to said chapter thirty-one.

(1) The commissioner may appoint to serve as junior civil engineers in the department persons, not to exceed a total of one hundred in any fiscal year, who have received the degree of bachelor of science in an appropriate engineering discipline from an accredited college or university. Following their appointment, persons appointed under this subparagraph shall be subject to all other applicable provisions of any collective bargaining agreement under said chapter one hundred and fifty E, but shall not be subject to any provisions of said chapter thirty-one except as otherwise specified below. Within one year of their appointment, persons appointed under this subparagraph shall have secured certification as an engineer-in-training by the board of registration of professional engineers and land surveyors under the provisions of section eighty-one of chapter one hundred and twelve of the General Laws. Following their appointment, persons appointed under this subparagraph shall be eligible to take, and shall take, the next promotional civil service examination for the title of junior civil engineer held more than one year following their appointment. If the employee secures certification as an engineer-in-training, and passes the promotional civil service test, such employee shall be appointed as a permanent junior civil engineer in the order of his ranking on the applicable promotional civil service list, and the provisions of said chapter thirty-one shall thereafter apply to such employee. If such a person appointed under this subparagraph fails to pass the engineer-in-training examination within one year of his appointment, or to take or pass the first promotional examination held more than one year following his appointment, the commissioner shall, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter thirty-one or any collective bargaining agreement, terminate the employment of such person.

(2) The commissioner may appoint persons qualified in construction inspection to serve temporarily as junior engineering aids, senior engineering aids, general construction inspectors, or senior general construction inspectors, for the purpose of construction inspection of department projects. The total number of appointments under this subparagraph shall not exceed one hundred and fifty at any one time. Notice of the availability of positions under this subparagraph shall be given to qualified employees of the department. At least forty per cent of the total appointments under this subparagraph shall be posted within the department in accordance with the posting provision of the applicable collective bargaining agreement, and shall be offered to qualified employees of the department, whose applications shall be considered in accordance with the promotional criteria contained in the applicable collective bargaining agreement. Following their appointment, persons appointed under this subparagraph, notwithstanding said chapter thirty-one or any applicable collective bargaining agreement, shall be considered temporary, and may be continued as construction inspectors on other department projects or terminated because of reduced need for construction inspectors; provided, that, in the event of a reduction in force because of reduced need for construction inspectors, persons appointed under this subparagraph shall be laid off in accordance with the layoff and recall provisions of the applicable collective bargaining agreement, except that seniority and bumping rights for purposes of such layoffs shall be determined only with respect to other persons appointed under this subparagraph, and recall rights shall extend only to the temporary positions established herein.

(3) The commissioner may appoint, to serve in any civil engineering title in the department at the assistant, senior, principal, associate, or supervising level, for the purposes of planning, preliminary engineering, and final engineering of department projects, any person who (i) holds a permanent position in the department in the next title lower than the position applied for, in the same or a similar career ladder, and who is qualified by training and experience for said position; or (ii) has received the degree of bachelor of science in an appropriate engineering or environmental discipline from an accredited college or university, and has been certified as an engineer-in-training or a registered professional engineer by the board of registration of professional engineers and land surveyors under the provisions of section eighty-one of chapter one hundred and twelve of the General Laws. The total number of appointments under this subparagraph shall not exceed one hundred at any one time; and after one hundred such appointments have been made, additional appointments may be made under this subparagraph only to fill vacancies created by termination of appointments previously made under this subparagraph. The total number of appointments under this subparagraph shall include no more than fifty-two appointments at the assistant level, thirty-six at the senior level, twenty at the principal level, twelve at the associate level, and four at the supervising level. Notice of availability of positions under this subparagraph shall be given to qualified employees of the department. At least one-quarter of the appointments under this subparagraph at each level shall be posted within the department in accordance with the posting provision of the applicable collective bargaining agreement, and shall be offered to qualified employees of the department, whose applications for such positions shall be considered in accordance with the promotional criteria contained in the applicable collective bargaining agreement. Following their appointment, persons appointed under this subparagraph shall be eligible to take, and shall take, the first promotional civil service examination for the title to which they have been appointed held more than one year following their appointment; provided, that prior to such examination, there shall have been added to the schedule of permanent offices and positions approved by the joint committee on ways and means, as it exists on the effective date of this act, a number of permanent positions within the department in said title equal to the number of persons appointed in said title under this subparagraph who are taking such examination, which additional permanent positions shall be filled from the civil service list to be established on the basis of such examination. In the event that the number of persons appointed in said title under this subparagraph exceeds the number of permanent positions added to the schedule as provided in the preceding sentence, persons appointed under this subparagraph shall be eligible to take the promotional examination to the extent of the available additional positions in the order of their appointment. If the employee passes such promotional examination, such employee shall be appointed as permanent in such title in the order of his or her ranking on the applicable civil service list, without regard to requests for lateral transfers to such positions under any applicable collective bargaining agreement, and the provisions of chapter thirty-one shall thereafter apply to such employee. Until such time as a person appointed under this subparagraph may be permanently appointed to the title as a result of such promotional examination; or if such person fails to take or fails to pass the first promotional examination for which he or she is eligible held more than one year following his or her appointment; the commissioner may, notwithstanding chapter thirty-one or any collective bargaining agreement, terminate the employment of such person in his sole discretion. No appointments may be made under this subparagraph after September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety. Persons appointed under this subparagraph who have not, on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety, either been permanently appointed from an applicable civil service list or taken a promotional civil service examination, shall be terminated from positions established under this subparagraph. Termination under the preceding sentence shall be deemed to be a layoff due to reduction in force under the layoff and recall provisions of the applicable collective bargaining agreement, and such persons shall be laid off in accordance with such provisions, except that an employee laid off under the preceding sentence may not bump any employee of the department holding a position subject to chapter thirty-one.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve the department of any appointment obligations pursuant to any relevant court orders or consent decrees. To the extent practicable, preference in initial appointments made pursuant to this section shall be given first to disabled veterans as defined in section one of said chapter thirty-one; second to veterans as defined in said section one of said chapter thirty-one; and third to all other qualified persons. The commissioner of the department shall institute appropriate recruitment procedures to effectuate the purposes of this paragraph.

(d) a sum not to exceed twelve million dollars to the department for direct expenses in connection with research and planning projects and work to be done on a cooperative basis with educational institutions and other state, regional and federal agencies;

(e) a sum not to exceed one million dollars for administrative and engineering expenses directly attributable to the purposes and projects authorized by section one.

SECTION 3. In addition to the funds and purposes authorized by section one of this act, the department is hereby authorized and directed to expend the following sums:

(a) a sum not to exceed three million dollars for the acquisition and improvement of maintenance sites, including the construction of sanitary facilities, the erection of protective fences, and the construction of salt storage sheds; provided, however, that the department shall make available to cities and towns a sum of two million dollars for the construction of salt storage sheds;

(b) a sum not to exceed twenty-five million dollars for the design and reconstruction of, and improvements to state highway bridges and other bridges; provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, the provisions of section forty of chapter one hundred and thirty-one of the General Laws and sections sixty-one and sixty-two of chapter thirty of the General Laws shall not apply to the repair, reconstruction or replacement of existing state highway bridges and other bridges in which the design is substantially the functional equivalent of, and in similar alignment to, the structure to be reconstructed or replaced; provided, further, that the provisions of sections eleven, twelve, twelve A, and fourteen of chapter ninety-one of the General Laws shall not apply to bridge projects of the department; provided, further, that in case of any state highway or other bridge crossing over a railroad right-of-way or railroad tracks, the department shall seek the opinion of any railroad company operating on said track of a desirable clearance between said track and the state highway bridge, but said clearance shall be at the discretion of the department; provided, further, that the department may enter upon any land or premises of a railroad company for such purposes as it may deem necessary or convenient to carry out the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that the department shall develop and utilize, whenever feasible, a standard bridge design for reconstruction of such bridges;

(c) a sum not to exceed one hundred million dollars for the design and construction, repair or improvement to non-federally reimbursable projects; provided, however, that the secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed three million five hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of determining the feasibility of the design and construction of a deck in the air rights over that portion of the Southeast Expressway, Routes I-93 and I-95, that runs through East Milton Square in the town of Milton.

(d) a sum not to exceed sixty million dollars for projects for construction and reconstruction of town and county ways under subdivision (a) of clause (2) of section thirty-four of chapter ninety of the General Laws; provided, however, that the department shall certify to the comptroller the amount to be apportioned to each city and town; and provided, further, that said apportionments shall be a direct grant to each city and town which shall not require the prior expenditure of any funds by any city or town as a condition for receipt of any such direct grant;

(e) a sum not to exceed five million dollars for non-federal aid highway expenditures which are potentially reimbursable by the federal government;

(f) a sum not to exceed one million dollars to alleviate the contamination of public or private water supplies caused by the department's storage and use of snow removal chemicals which are necessary for the purposes of highway safety;

(g) a sum not to exceed twenty-five million dollars for the design and construction of roads, roadways and any other transportation-related public works projects deemed necessary for economic development by the secretary of transportation upon the petition of the appropriate local executive government body. Said twenty-five million dollars shall be expended in accordance with the provisions of chapter nineteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three;

(h) a sum not to exceed six million dollars for the construction and reconstruction of or alteration and improvements to the department's garages and maintenance shops. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, such projects shall be carried out by the department;

(i) a sum not to exceed five million dollars for the purpose of implementing the provisions of section thirty-two of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three;

(j) a sum not to exceed three million dollars for laying out, construction, reconstruction or other improvement of bicycle paths and facilities;

(k) a sum not to exceed one million dollars for capital projects necessary for the provision of boat services for commuter operations;

(l) a sum not to exceed five million dollars for the design and construction in the town of Wareham of a District 7 office, so-called;

(m) a sum not to exceed ten million dollars for the acquisition, by eminent domain under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine or by purchase or otherwise, of land or rights in land within or adjacent to public ways for the purpose of restoring, preserving, or enhancing areas of scenic beauty or special environmental value. Such acquisition shall be made following consultation with the secretary of environmental affairs and appropriate advisory committees and with the prior approval of the house and senate committees on ways and means.

(n) a sum not to exceed one million dollars to establish a program to assist towns with populations of fifteen thousand or less undertaking projects to construct, reconstruct, widen, resurface, rehabilitate, and otherwise improve roads, highways, and bridges within the commonwealth that provide access to state-owned land. Said program shall provide grant funds to towns for projects authorized by this section. Towns shall be eligible to receive only one grant and the amount of any such grant shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

In carrying out the provisions of this section, the department may enter into such contracts or agreements as are appropriate with other state, local or regional public agencies, authorities, or political subdivisions, which are hereby granted the authority to enter into such contracts or agreements with the department; and may enter into appropriate agreements with private persons. In relation to such agreements between the department and other state agencies or authorities, the department is hereby authorized to and may advance to such agencies or authorities, without prior expenditure by such agencies or authorities, monies necessary to carry out such agreements; provided, however, that the department certifies to the comptroller the amounts so advanced; provided further, that such agreement contain provisions satisfactory to the department for the accounting of such monies as expended by said agency or authority; and provided, further, that all monies not expended under such agreement be credited to the account of the department from which it was advanced. The commissioner of said department shall prepare and file semi-annual reports with the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint committee in transportation detailing the expenditures made under the provisions of this program.

SECTION 4. Pursuant to the provisions of section one, the department is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not less than two hundred million dollars for projects in the following four areas: not less than fifty million dollars in the counties of Berkshire, Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin; not less than fifty million dollars in the counties of Norfolk and Worcester; not less than fifty million dollars in the counties of Essex and Middlesex and not less than fifty million dollars in the counties of Barnstable, Bristol, Dukes, Nantucket and Plymouth.

SECTION 5. No payment in excess of one hundred thousand dollars by way of purchase of real estate or any interest therein shall be made by the department and no settlements in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and in excess of the amount recommended by the real estate review board established by section six of chapter seven hundred and eighteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six shall be made out of court for damage recoverable under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, by reason of a purchase or taking under this act or under chapter six hundred and seventy-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-five or chapter six hundred and sixteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven or chapter seven hundred and sixty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine or chapter seven hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-two or chapter eight hundred and fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five or chapter three hundred and fifty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven or chapter four hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine or chapter seven hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one or chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two or chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three. Each recommendation of the real estate review board shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a written statement of the reasons for such recommendation.

No settlement by reason of taking under this act or under said chapters six hundred and seventy-nine, six hundred and sixteen, seven hundred and sixty-eight, seven hundred and sixty-five, eight hundred and fifty-nine, three hundred and fifty-six, four hundred and eighty, seven hundred and thirty-two, three hundred and thirty-five, six hundred and thirty-seven in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and in excess of the recommendation of the real estate review board, shall be made by agreement of the parties during or after trial except with the written approval of the court; provided, however, that the settlements in excess of the recommendation of the board may be made without such approval if the settlement does not exceed the amount of any verdict or finding which may have been rendered, together with interest and costs.

SECTION 6. The department may provide functional replacement of real property in public ownership whenever the department has acquired such property under the provisions of this act as a result of a highway or highway-related project and whenever the department determines such functional replacement is made necessary by such project and is in the public interest. Functional replacement is defined as the replacement of real property, either land or facilities or both, which will provide equivalent utility.

Whenever the department determines it is necessary that any utility, as defined in 23 USC 123, is required to be relocated because of construction of a project authorized under the provisions of this act which is to be reimbursed federally in whole or in part, then such facilities shall be relocated by the owner thereof in accordance with the order of the department; provided, however, that the commonwealth may reimburse the owner of such utility facility for the "cost relocation" as such cost is defined in said 23 USC 123; and provided, further, that any relocation of facilities carried out under this section which is not performed by employees of the owner shall be subject to the provisions of section twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 7. Any amounts made available by sections one and three of this act or heretofore made available by section one of chapter six hundred and sixteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven and section one of chapter seven hundred and sixty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine and sections one and four of chapter seven hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-two and sections six and eight of chapter eight hundred and fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five and sections one and two of chapter three hundred and fifty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven and sections one and two A of chapter four hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine and sections fifteen and seventeen of chapter seven hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one and section one of chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two and sections one and three of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall be available for expenditure until June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, the department is hereby authorized and directed to take all necessary actions to secure federal highway or mass transportation assistance which is or may become available to said department, including, without limitation, actions authorized under or in compliance with the provisions of Title 23 of the United States Code and section one hundred and forty-five of the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1982, PL 97-424, and actions such as filing applications for federal assistance, supervising the expenditure of funds under federal grants or other assistance agreements, and making any determinations and certifications necessary or appropriate to the foregoing. If any federal law, administrative regulation or practice requires any action relating to such federal assistance to be taken by any department, agency or other instrumentality of the commonwealth other than said department, such other department, agency or instrumentality is hereby authorized and directed to take such action.

In furtherance of the foregoing purposes, said department shall apply for and accept any federal funds available for projects authorized in sections one and three of this act and such federal funds when received shall be credited to the Federal Highway Construction Program Fund. To meet a portion of the expenditures authorized by sections one and three, there is hereby appropriated from the Federal Highway Construction Program Fund a sum of seven hundred and eleven million dollars which shall be expended, subject to the limitation contained in Article LXXXVIII of the Amendments to the Constitution and which shall be in addition to the amounts appropriated in section six of chapter six hundred and seventy-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-five, section seven of chapter six hundred and sixteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven, section six of chapter seven hundred and sixty-seven, section six of chapter seven hundred and sixty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine, section six of chapter seven hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-two, section eleven of chapter eight hundred and fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, section eight of chapter three hundred and fifty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, section eight of chapter four hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, section twenty-three of chapter seven hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, section one of chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two and section one of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

SECTION 9. To meet a portion of the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of sections one and three, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate, the sum of four hundred and eighty-five million dollars, to be in addition to bonds authorized to be issued and sold in section eleven of chapter six hundred and sixteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven, section nine of chapter seven hundred and sixty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-two, section fourteen of chapter eight hundred and fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, section nine of chapter three hundred and fifty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, section nine of chapter four hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-nine, section twenty-four of chapter seven hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, section two of chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two and section ten of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three. All bonds issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face the words, Highway Improvement Loan, Act of 1985 and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments of the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Highway Fund.

Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 10. The state treasurer may borrow from time to time on the credit of the commonwealth such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of meeting payments authorized by this act and may issue and renew from time to time notes of the commonwealth therefor bearing interest payable at such time and at such rates as shall be fixed by the state treasurer. Such notes shall be issued and may be renewed one or more times for such terms, not exceeding one year, as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, but the final maturities of such notes, whether original or renewal, shall not be later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-eight.

Notes and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall be general obligations of the commonwealth. All payments on account of principal on the notes allocable to the Federal Highway Construction Program Fund shall be repaid from said Fund.

SECTION 11. The secretary of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed two million dollars for the purposes of further implementing the provisions of section thirteen of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 811.

SECTION 12. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section eleven the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of two million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Mobility Assistance Program Loan, Act of 1985 and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding five years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-three. Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provision of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 13. There is hereby appropriated a sum of two million dollars from the General Fund, for the continued implementation of emergency measures to alleviate traffic congestion and continue traffic management measures on the Southeast Expressway, Route 3, and Route 128. Said amount shall be held in a reserve account under the control of the secretary of transportation and construction. Said secretary is authorized, with the prior approval of the commissioner of administration, to transfer amounts from said reserve account to the appropriate accounts of the agencies and authorities within the executive office of transportation and construction in order to carry out the purposes of this section, provided that all future towing contracts are competitively bid.

Said secretary shall prepare and file semi-annual reports with the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint committee on transportation detailing expenditures by item from this reserve.

SECTION 14. The secretary of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed five million dollars for the purposes set forth in section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-one D of the General Laws.

Said secretary shall prepare a report semi-annually detailing revenues and expenditures under said program and file the same with the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint committee on transportation within thirty days after each filing period.

SECTION 15. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section fourteen of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate, the sum of five million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face the words, Intercity Bus Capital Assistance Loan, Act of 1985 and shall be issued for such maximum term of years not exceeding ten years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 811.

3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-eight. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the Intercity Bus Capital Assistance Program Fund to the extent that there are funds available therein for such payments. Notwithstanding the foregoing, bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

Said bonds shall not be subject to section fifty-three of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 16. The Massachusetts aeronautics commission is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed three million three hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of airport systems improvement and development in the commonwealth, for payments, reimbursements or both to cities, towns and counties for planning, design and construction of airports pursuant to sections thirty-nine F and fifty-one K of chapter ninety of the General Laws, for providing navigational aids pursuant to section forty of chapter ninety of the General Laws and for the purpose of implementing the provisions of section thirty-nine of chapter ninety of the General Laws. Sums authorized by this section shall be in addition to any prior sums authorized for such purposes; provided further that of the above amount said commission is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of establishing and administering an airport safety and maintenance program to assist in the maintenance and repair of airports in the Massachusetts airports system plan, excluding those airports owned and operated by the Massachusetts Port Authority.

The commission shall establish rules and regulations governing this program, which shall include a provision that the commonwealth's share of the total cost of each project shall not exceed seventy per cent.

SECTION 16A. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section sixteen, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth to an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate, the sum of three million three hundred thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face, Airport Capital Outlay Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund. Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 811.

SECTION 17. There is hereby appropriated from the Passenger Rail Transportation Fund, established under the provisions of paragraph (a) of section two of chapter eight hundred and fifty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-five, the sum of three million dollars for the purchase, rehabilitation, design and construction of such rail rights of way, stations, maintenance facilities and related facilities as are necessary for restoring passenger rail service between Attleboro and Cape Cod.

SECTION 18. The secretary of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed seventeen million dollars for the purpose of implementing the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty-one C of the General Laws.

SECTION 18A. The secretary of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed one million five hundred thousand dollars for passenger rail improvements to the so-called Inland Route in the town of Framingham. Said improvements shall be in addition to those provided for in section twenty-eight of chapter seven hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one.

SECTION 19. To meet the expenditures necessary for carrying out the provisions of sections eighteen and eighteen A of this act, the state treasurer shall, upon request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth, in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time but not exceeding in the aggregate eighteen million five hundred thousand dollars; provided, however, that proceeds not to exceed thirteen million five hundred thousand dollars of such bonds shall be expended only for passenger rail transportation purposes; and provided, further, that proceeds not to exceed five million dollars of such bonds shall be expended only for freight rail purposes.

All bonds issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face, Rail Transportation Loan, Act of 1985 and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund.

Bonds and the interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 20. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund the sum of five hundred thousand dollars to provide financial assistance for the continued operation of rail freight services on lines acquired by the commonwealth or on lines over which any railroads corporation may operate. The secretary of transportation and construction may expend said sum for said purposes, which shall be in addition to any other sums made available for this purpose.

SECTION 21. The provisions of section thirty-two of this act shall not affect the civil service status, seniority, retirement, or any other rights of any employee of the department who, on April eleventh, nineteen hundred and seventy-eight, held a permanent appointment under chapter thirty-one or had tenure under the provisions of sections nine A, nine B, or nine D of chapter thirty, in the position of highway engineer, district highway engineer, highway and structures engineer or bridge engineer.

SECTION 22. The proceeds of three hundred and eighty-four million eight hundred eighty thousand dollars of additional bond authorization provided under section thirty-five of this act shall be expended for the capital needs of the authority, including but not limited to the following: (a) purchase, long term leasing and rehabilitation of rolling stock, (b) construction, rehabilitation and expansion of shops and carhouses, (c) commuter rail improvements, (d) subway construction and subway structural and ventilation improvements, (e) system wide track and power improvements, (f) station expansion, modernization and improvements, (g) plant and facility improvements and material and equipment procurements, and (h) construction of rapid transit or steel wheeled surface lines.

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority shall on or before a date set by the secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction, no later than December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, and annually thereafter, prepare and submit to the house and senate committees on ways and means a report detailing expenditures made for the purposes enumerated above. In addition, said report shall contain statements which include the authorized, unissued, and outstanding bonds and notes of the authority at the end of the preceding fiscal year, an estimate of the amount of said bonds and notes at the end of the current fiscal year, and an estimate of amount of said bonds and notes, including the amount to be sold, retired or refinanced, at the end of the subsequent fiscal year and shall indicate the source of revenues to finance such bonds and notes, including any financial assistance from the commonwealth, such as guarantees, contract assistance, or other such assistance.

SECTION 23. The secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction, is hereby authorized to establish a program to provide capital assistance funds to regional transit authorities organized pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and sixty-one B of the General Laws. Funds provided for this purpose shall be awarded to regional transit authorities for capital projects; said projects shall be limited to purchase of vehicles and engineering, design, acquisition or construction of facilities. Said secretary shall make, and from time to time revise, guidelines for the allocation and distribution of capital assistance funds made available for this purpose among the regional transit authorities; provided, however, that ninety per cent of such funds shall be expended only for projects for which the regional transit authority has agreements with the federal government providing for funds of at least three-quarters of the estimated eligible cost of such projects or for expenditures that are preliminary to obtaining federal funds. Said secretary shall report to the house and senate committees on ways and means no later than December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six and thereafter annually on the status of the program.

SECTION 23A. The executive office of transportation and construction is hereby directed to expend a sum not to exceed four million dollars for the purposes set forth in section twenty-three of this act. To meet said expenditures, the state treasurer shall upon the request of the governor, issue and sell at public or private sale, bonds or notes of the commonwealth, registered or with interest coupons attached, as the treasurer may deem best, to an amount specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate, four million dollars. All bonds or notes issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face by the words Regional Transit Authority Capital Assistance Program Loan, act of nineteen hundred and eighty-five and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding twenty years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of the Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, two thousand and ten. Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 24. The department of public works, notwithstanding any other special or general law to the contrary, is hereby authorized and directed to expend a sum not to exceed ten million dollars for the purchase of heavy maintenance fleet equipment.

SECTION 25. To meet the expenditures necessary in carrying out the provisions of section twenty-four, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell bonds of the commonwealth in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time but not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of ten million dollars. All bonds issued by the commonwealth as aforesaid shall be designated on their face Heavy Maintenance Fleet Equipment Loan, Act of 1985, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding ten years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and ninety-six. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligation shall be payable from the Highway Fund. Bonds and interest thereon issued under the authority of this section shall be general obligations of the commonwealth.

SECTION 25A. Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifteen of chapter five hundred and ninety-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred fifty-eight or any other law inconsistent with the provisions of this section, the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, or any authority or other public instrumentality may lay out and construct as a state highway an additional harbor crossing within one mile downstream from the center line of either the Sumner or the Callahan tunnel, provided that such additional crossing may be operated by the Authority as part of an integrated system of tunnels and shall be opened for traffic only after one of the following conditions has been met:

(a) The commonwealth has paid to the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, in this section called the Authority, an amount sufficient to redeem the bonds and interim receipts which have been issued and which are outstanding under said chapter five hundred and ninety-eight as of the date on which any such crossing is opened for traffic;

(b) The commonwealth has set aside in trust for the benefit of the bondholders a sufficient amount of funds for the payment of all such bonds and interim receipts and the interest thereon to the maturity thereof; or

(c) The commonwealth has entered into an agreement with the Authority which provides that if, at any time after such crossing is opened for traffic, the Authority determines that the revenues of the Sumner-Callahan tunnels are not sufficient to provide for the payment of current expenses, to make deposits to the credit of the Replacement Reserve Fund and to make deposits to the credit of the Sinking Fund in accordance with Section 501(d) of the Trust Agreement Relating to Tunnel Revenue Bonds by and between the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and the First National Bank of Boston, as Trustee, dated as of April first, nineteen hundred and fifty-nine, then in such event (i) the Authority shall certify to the state treasurer the amount of such insufficiency which is not attributable to loss of revenue from major maintenance on, damage or injury to, or destruction of the Sumner-Callahan tunnels or any part thereof; (ii) upon any such certification, the commonwealth shall pay to the Authority the amount so certified; (iii) the obligation of the commonwealth to make any such payment to the Authority pursuant to such agreement shall be in the nature of a contractual obligation pledging the full faith and credit of the commonwealth, and shall be enforceable as a contract of the commonwealth by the Authority, or on behalf of the Authority, by any holder or holders of the tunnel revenue bonds then outstanding or by the trustee under said trust agreement securing such bonds; and (iv) whenever the commonwealth shall make any payments to the Authority pursuant to the agreement entered into as provided in this paragraph, the Authority shall review the schedule of tolls then being charged for the use of the Sumner-Callahan tunnels, and whenever it shall appear necessary, revise such tolls, as provided in Section 501 of said trust agreement. For the purposes of any such review or revision, the Authority shall include, as revenues within the meaning of said trust agreement, only that portion of such payment which is attributable to an insufficiency of revenues resulting from a decrease in traffic which otherwise would have used the Sumner-Callahan tunnels but for the operation of any such additional crossing.

SECTION 26. Whenever such bonds and interim receipts have been redeemed as provided in section twenty-five A of this act, or whenever the commonwealth has established said trust for the purpose set forth in said section twenty-five A or whenever such bonds and interim receipts and the interest thereon shall otherwise have been paid, title to the control over the Sumner-Callahan tunnels shall pass to the commonwealth as provided in section sixteen of said chapter five hundred and ninety-eight.

SECTION 27. The secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to develop, in cooperation with the city of Boston and representatives of affected neighborhoods and commercial areas, a planning and design process for the development of air-rights to be created as a result of the proposed Central Artery project, which process shall assure that (i) future uses of said Central Artery air-rights are environmentally sound and compatible with the character of the neighborhoods, historic districts and commercial areas traversed, and (ii) priority in planning, design and development is accorded to neighborhoods and businesses affected by the Central Artery project. The secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction shall seek the establishment of any financing and development mechanisms and procedures determined to be necessary to facilitate the development of Central Artery air-rights in accordance with the results of the planning and design process.

SECTION 28. The secretary of transportation and construction is hereby authorized and directed to undertake a study for the purpose of recommending to the General Court the method or methods by which the commonwealth should finance its share of the proposed Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel project, so-called.

Said secretary is further authorized to enter into agreements with the Massachusetts Port Authority and the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority for the performance or funding of such analyses, evaluations or services as he may require for said project.

Said secretary shall submit his recommendations to the clerk of the house of representatives who shall forward said recommendations to the joint committee on transportation on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 29. There is hereby established a special commission on marine transit, comprised of three members of the senate, seven members of the house of representatives, the secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction or his designee, the commissioner of the department of public works or his designee, the commissioner of the metropolitan district commission or his designee, the commissioner of the department of environmental management or his designee, the general manager of the Massachusetts Bay Transit Authority or his designee, the executive director of the Massachusetts

ACTS, 1985. – Chap. 811.

Port Authority or his designee, the executive director of the Woods Hole, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket steamship authority or his designee, and three persons appointed by the governor, for the purpose of conducting an investigation and study relative to the establishment and expansion of marine passenger transportation in the commonwealth. Said investigation and study shall include, but not be limited to, a determination of the feasibility of increased marine commuter service to and from the city of Boston, the accessibility of ground transportation to marine transit facilities, passenger shuttle service between Boston and Logan international airport via Boston harbor, the operation of ferry service as currently provided to Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket, the use of navigable rivers for marine passenger service, the means of financing and operating said services, methods of managing marine traffic in the commonwealth, and the effect of expanded marine passenger service upon ground transportation facilities. Said commission shall retain the services of a licensed naval architect and marine engineer who shall, in conjunction with said commission, conduct a comprehensive study of marine transit in the commonwealth and make recommendations thereto to said commission. Said commission shall report the findings of its study and any recommendations for legislation thereto to the clerk of the house of representatives and to the joint committee on transportation on or before the first Wednesday of December, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 30. Any interest earned from the deposit or investment of any funds made available to any city or town under the provisions of clauses (d), (g) and (i) of section three of this act, or paragraph (c) of section seventeen of chapter seven hundred and thirty-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-one, or paragraph (b) of section one of chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two, or clause (d) or (h) section three of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three shall only be used for the purposes that said funds were originally made available to such city or town without further appropriation. This section shall apply to any interest earned after the effective date of this act and also to any interest earned prior to the effective date of this act and still available for expenditure by such city or town. Any interest not so expended shall be returned to the commonwealth.

SECTION 31. The department of public works shall continue its investigation and study relative to the feasibility of increasing the number of lanes on state highway Route 3, a divided highway extending from the New Hampshire border through the town of Burlington, as provided in section fourteen of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-four. Said department shall file quarterly reports as to the status of the study and including, but not limited to, an analysis of costs, time tables for completion, the agencies involved and approvals required, with the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint committee on transportation no later than thirty days after each of said quarters, and provided that the first of said quarterly reports shall be filed no later than January thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

SECTION 32. Chapter 16 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 4, as appearing in the 1984 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:–

Section 4. The commissioner shall appoint and may remove all employees in the department under the public works commission. Except as provided herein or as otherwise provided by law, all such appointments and removals shall be made in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty-one. From time to time the commissioner may, subject to appropriation and regulation, employ such consultants as he may deem necessary.

The commissioner may appoint and remove without regard to chapter thirty-one, but with the approval of the secretary, a chief engineer; five deputy chief engineers; and assistant chief engineer; a highway and structures engineer; a bridge engineer; highway engineers; district highway engineers; a chief counsel to serve in the office of the commissioner; a director to serve in the division of administrative services; four executive assistants to the commissioner; a personnel director; a director of the right of way bureau; and a director of public information. The total number of appointments to be made by the commissioner under this paragraph shall not exceed thirty-five. No person holding an appointment under this paragraph shall be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty-one or section nine A of chapter thirty. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to exempt the positions named herein from the provisions of sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty.

So far as practicable in the judgment of the commissioner, appointments to said positions not classified under chapter thirty-one shall be made by promoting employees of the commonwealth serving in positions so classified. Any person appointed to the position of chief engineer, deputy chief engineer, assistant chief engineer, highway and structures engineer, bridge engineer, highway engineer or district highway engineer, shall be a person of experience and skill as an engineer and shall be (i) an employee of the department holding an office or position classified under said chapter thirty-one with permanent status of senior civil engineer or higher; or (ii) a registered professional engineer; or (iii) a person who has received the degree of bachelor of science in an appropriate engineering discipline from an accredited college or university. Where an employee of the commonwealth having permanent status in a position classified under or having tenure by reason of section nine A of chapter thirty is so promoted to such unclassified position, upon termination of service in such unclassified position the employee shall be restored to the position from which he was promoted; or to a position equivalent thereto in the salary grade in the same state agency; or if he had been promoted in accordance with said chapter thirty-one during promotion in the unclassified position, to the position to which he was so promoted or to a position equivalent thereto in salary grade in the same state agency. In cases of restoration under said chapter thirty-one, or under said section nine A of said chapter thirty, such restoration shall be without impairment of civil service status or tenure under said section nine A, and without loss of the seniority, retirement and other rights to which uninterrupted service in the position would have entitled the employee, provided, however, that if his service in such unclassified position shall have been terminated for cause, the employee's right to be restored shall be determined by section forty-three of said chapter thirty-one. During the period of such appointment the person so appointed shall be eligible to take any competitive promotional examination for which he would otherwise have been eligible.

SECTION 33. Section 29A of chapter 81 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

The department may lay out or alter ways other than state highways in any county, city or town provided that the county commissioner of the county, or the mayor of the city or the board of selectmen of the town consents thereto. Land or rights in land may be acquired for this purpose by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine by the department in behalf of the county, city or town in which the land lies. Any person whose property has been taken or injured by any action of said department under authority of this section may recover from the commonwealth under chapter seventy-nine such damages therefor as he may be entitled to. For this purpose the department may use any funds which may be available for highway purposes, including federal aid, and may also use any money appropriated for a county, or by a city or town, toward the damages sustained, provided that the county commissioners, selectmen or mayor have agreed in writing to pay the money thus appropriated upon the order of the department.

SECTION 34. Clause (2) of section 34 of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clauses (i), (j) and (k).

SECTION 34A. Section 5 of chapter 161A of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsections (b) and (c) and inserting in place thereof the following two subsections:–

(b) No real estate shall be sold unless notice of the intent to sell such real estate shall have been given to the advisory board not less than thirty days prior to the date of sale and unless the sale shall have been advertised at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the date of sale in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town in which the real property to be sold is located; provided that no such advertising shall be required if a sale or conveyance of such real estate is made to the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof or to any agency or instrumentality of either of them. Such real property shall, unless sold to the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof or to any agency or instrumentality of either of them, be sold to the highest bidder subject to any restrictions, covenants, or conditions the authority shall find that sound reasons in the public interest require.

(c)(i) Any concession or lease of property for a term of more than one year or development agreement shall be awarded to the highest responsible and eligible bidder therefor unless the authority shall find that sound reasons in the public interest require otherwise.

(ii) Any property which is the subject of a lease or development agreement pursuant to paragraph (i) shall not be subject to subsection (o).

SECTION 35. Section 23 of said chapter 161A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:–

Not more than one billion two hundred fifty-two million one hundred eighty thousand dollars of bonds of the authority under clauses (1), (2), (3), and (4) shall be outstanding at any time; provided, however, that such funds are expended for capital projects; and provided, further, that any bonds which are redeemed on or after January first, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight shall not be reissued.

SECTION 36. The first paragraph of section 28 of said chapter 161A, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the second sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:– The portion of the net cost of service not to be so assessed, hereinafter called contract assistance, is limited to (A) the annual debt service on bonds issued prior to January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-one for which such contract assistance has been provided by contract, and the annual debt service on ninety per cent of the bonds issued thereafter, but not exceeding under this clause the debt service on one billion one hundred twenty million one hundred eighty thousand dollars of bonds outstanding at any time, and (B) not more than a total of five million dollars to be paid to the authority for not more than one-half of the cost to the authority of agreements with railroads authorized by paragraph (2) of section twenty-three, and (C) not more than three million dollars annually to pay interest, principal and sinking fund requirements due upon indebtedness incurred or assumed by the authority issued to finance or refinance mass transportation facilities or equipment for express service; provided that all facilities, title to which was transferred to the Metropolitan Transit Authority, pursuant to paragraph (d) of section eight A of chapter five hundred and forty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-seven shall be considered to be express service mass transportation facilities for the purpose of this clause (C); and provided, further, that such indebtedness shall not be subject to the limitations contained in the following paragraph; and (D) ninety per cent of the lease payments arising from lease obligations of the Authority providing for the long term use of mass transportation facilities and equipment.

SECTION 37. Section 5 of chapter 161D of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out clause (3) and inserting in place thereof the following clause:–

(3) Said rate shall be set by the secretary, and shall as nearly as possible, produce sufficient revenues to the commonwealth in

RESOLVED, That a special commission, to consist of three members of the senate, one of whom shall serve as co-chairman, three members of the house of representatives, one of whom shall serve as co-chairman, the state fire marshal or his designee, the commissioner of public health or his designee, the chairman of the state building code commission or his designee, and nine persons to be appointed by the governor, each of whom shall be qualified by training or experience and interest in the fields of fire safety, combustion toxicology or the combustibility of materials, and one of whom shall be a member of the Fire Chiefs

RESOLVES, 1985 – Chap. 8.

Association of Massachusetts, Inc., one of whom shall be a member of the Professional Firefighters Association of Massachusetts, one of whom shall be a member of the Massachusetts Fire Prevention Association, one of whom shall be the member of the board of fire prevention regulations who sits as graduate fire chemist with fire testing experience and a full member of a national organization of chemists pursuant to section fourteen of chapter twenty-two of the General Laws, three of whom shall be professional scientists who have affiliations with academic institutions, expertise and experience in the areas of combustion toxicology, combustibility or public health, and shall be independent of any entities which have any commercial interest in the results of said investigation and study, and two of whom shall be concerned citizens of the commonwealth, is hereby established for the purpose of making an investigation and study relative to the serious fire safety problem caused by the combustibility of materials used in building construction and furnishings, and by the toxic smoke and gases produced by the combustion of such materials and furnishings.

Such investigation and study shall include a complete analysis of test methods in the fields of both combustion toxicology and combustibility, of all building materials and furnishings used in or as a part of high density human occupancy buildings, such buildings being those as are determined by the commission to pose, by virtue of their size, height, use, public access, density of human occupancy, location or any other relevant characteristic, a potential danger of injury or loss of life as a result of a fire.

Said commission shall further study and investigate test methods relative to the combustibility and toxicity of materials used in building construction and furnishings in order to assure that such testing shall demonstrate an acceptable level of accuracy and reproducibility based upon principles of scientific research; shall be relevant to actual building fire scenarios; and shall be used in conjunction with other appropriate fire tests in an overall hazard analysis, including, but not limited to, ignitability, flame spread, rate of heat release, and rate and extent of smoke propagation. Such hazard analysis shall take into account other fire protection measures such as the use of early detection and fast acting suppression systems.

Before making recommendations, said commission shall hold at least one public hearing and shall consult with, receive evidence from, and solicit the opinions of, the board of fire prevention regulations, interested state agencies, professional firefighters, fire chiefs, firefighters' unions, other fire professionals, the health professions, industries which manufacture or supply such building materials and furnishings, public interest groups, and the general public as it may determine appropriate.

Said commission may also request that officials of the commonwealth or its various subdivisions or that officials of the federal government and its various agencies or that other state governments and their agencies provide it with information it may desire to study. Said commission may expend for expenses and for expert, legal, clerical and other assistance such funds as may be appropriated therefor.

RESOLVES, 1985 – Chaps. 9, 10.

Said commission shall make such recommendations with respect to fire safety measures needed to achieve a greater degree of fire safety in high density human occupancy buildings as it determines appropriate.

Said commission shall report to the general court the results of its investigation and study, and its recommendations, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, by filing the same with the clerk of the house of representatives on or before the first Wednesday in December, nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved December 23, 1985.

NUMBER OF ACTS AND RESOLVES APPROVED, APPROVAL WITHHELD, ACTS VETOED
BY THE GOVERNOR, PASSED OVER HIS VETO AND ACTS DECLARED EMERGENCY LAWS
BY THE GOVERNOR UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE CONSTITUTION.

The General Court during its first session held in 1985 passed 812 Acts and 14 Resolves of which 811 Acts and 14 Resolves received executive approval. One Act from which executive approval was withheld became law by virtue of Chapter 1, Section 1, Article II of the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

Chapter 109 was passed but failed to receive executive approval; as, however, it was not returned, with objections thereto, within ten day after it was received in the executive department, the General Court not having dissolved in the meantime, said Act has the force of law, under the provisions of the Constitution governing such a case and has been so certified.

Seventy-two Acts and one Resolve were declared to be emergency laws by the Governor in accordance with provisions of the forty-eighth amendment to the Constitution, the Referendum II, Emergency Measures; respectively Chapters 3, 4, 9, 16, 25, 26, 36, 48, 68, 83, 84, 91, 102, 103, 114, 130, 150, 155, 165, 183, 188, 201, 207, 208, 214, 231, 237, 241, 259, 286, 288, 307, 310, 326, 329, 361, 370, 373, 374, 379, 410, 416, 417, 438, 460, 477, 481, 514, 536, 540, 562, 572, 579, 588, 591, 593, 602, 631, 639, 643, 648, 652, 655, 680, 682, 713, 737, 739, 741, 783, 805, 811; and Chapter 1 of the Resolves.

The General Court was dissolved on Tuesday, December 31, 1985 at twelve o'clock midnight, the session having occupied 364 days.
