SECTION 1. Chapter 44 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 56, as amended by section 228 of chapter 138 of the acts of 1991, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 56. The fiscal year of all towns of the commonwealth shall begin with July first and end with the following June thirtieth, and the returns made to the director under section forty-three shall show the financial condition of the town at the close of business on June thirtieth; provided, however, that the treasurer shall, until July fifteenth, enter in his books all items for the payment of bills incurred and salaries and wages earned during the previous fiscal year, excepting payment of school teachers' salaries which have been deferred under the provisions of section forty of chapter seventy-one, and expenditures thereof shall be deemed to be as of June thirtieth preceding.

Section 56A. The fiscal year of all cities of the commonwealth shall begin with July first and end with the following June thirtieth, notwithstanding the provisions of their respective charters, and the returns made to the director under section

SECTION 3. Section 40 of chapter 71 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out the first paragraph, as amended by section 230 of said chapter 138, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

The compensation of each teacher, except a person in training and except a person employed as a temporary substitute, upon a majority vote of the respective school committee and the appropriating authority or, in the case of a regional school district, upon acceptance as provided hereafter, shall be at a rate of not less than eighteen thousand dollars or at a rate not less than twenty thousand dollars, as designated by said vote, for the school year commencing after July first, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven. In the case of a regional school district, acceptance shall require the approval of the regional school district committee and two-thirds of the appropriating authorities of the municipalities in such regional school district. The compensation paid to such teachers shall be deemed to be fully earned at the end of the school year, and proportionately earned during the school year. Payment of such compensation may be deferred to the extent that equal payments may be established for a twelve month period including amounts payable in July and August subsequent to the end of the school year. Educational collaboratives, formed under the provisions of section four E of chapter forty, may accept the provisions of this section by a majority vote of the collaborative board and the approval by a vote of the majority of the appropriating authorities of the member cities and towns.

SECTION 4. Chapter 138 of the acts of 1991 is hereby amended by striking out section 231 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 231. In any city, town or regional school district which accepts or declines to reject the provisions of this section, teachers' compensation shall be deemed to be fully earned by August thirty-first and proportionately earned during the contract year. In such fiscal year, payment of such compensation for July and August may be deferred to the end of said months at the election of such teachers; provided, however, that teachers may elect, to receive as an accelerated payment, one-tenth of such compensation each of the ten months from September to June of the contract year; and provided, further, that teachers so receiving accelerated payments shall receive one-twentieth of such compensation on July second. Compensation in any such fiscal year shall be treated as an expenditure for the fiscal year in which the compensation is paid, provided, however, no city, town or regional school district may defer more than one-twelfth of the compensation due to any teacher in any year under the provisions of this section.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the first paragraph, for the contract year beginning September first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one and ending August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, payments to teachers for compensation earned for the months September through July, inclusive, of said contract year shall be made on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, and payments to teachers for compensation for the month of August of said contract year must be made on July second, nineteen hundred and ninety-two; provided, however, that teachers may elect to receive such August payments after such date; and provided, further, that teachers that receive one-tenth of their salaries each month from September to June of said contract year shall have one-twentieth of their salaries paid on July second, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, for the contract year beginning on September first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one and ending on August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, in such city, town or regional school districts where the manner of compensation described in this section would violate collective bargaining agreements in effect as of June fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, actual payments shall be made in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement unless such payments are changed through the collective bargaining process; provided, however, that any such payments which are made in accordance with such contracts and which deviate from such payments which would otherwise be made pursuant to this section shall not be considered a budget liability to said city, town or regional school district making such payments until July second, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, for fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the school committee of each regional school district shall, by August first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, reduce the budget of each regional school district to reflect the reduction in expenditures that result from the provisions of this section, shall not increase any other expenditures of such regional school district, and shall proportionately reduce the assessments on the member cities and towns of the regional school district.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, no reduction shall be made in the budget of any regional school district until such budget has been adopted and approved in accordance with the provisions of section sixteen B of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, for fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, any amount of reduction in expenditures for the budget of a city or town that results from this section, including reductions in regional school assessments, if any, shall not be used to increase any other expenditures of such budgets and the budget for every city and town shall be reduced by the amount of reduction in teachers' salary payments that result from the provisions of this section, including reductions in regional school district assessments, if any. In order to reduce such budgets, the school superintendent in each city and town is hereby authorized and directed to calculate the amount of the reduction in teachers' salaries and to report the amount of such reduction to the town accountant, or to the city auditor, or to any other municipal official with authority over the municipal budget, whichever is appropriate. Such municipal official shall forthwith reduce the budget by such amount and by an amount equal to the reduction in regional school district assessments, if any.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit a city or town that has had its school budget or regional school district assessment reduced in accordance with this section from increasing its budget for any municipal purpose by appropriation.

The provisions of this section shall take effect for fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two in a city upon a vote of the city council with the approval of the mayor, in a town by a vote of the board of selectmen, in a town having a town council form of government by a vote of the town council by October fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

The provisions of this section shall take effect for the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two in a regional school district unless the regional school district committee and a majority of the city councils, boards of selectmen, and town councils in the district vote to reject by October fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

In any city or town whose tax rate has been approved by the commissioner of revenue in accordance with section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws before the enactment of this act, and the calculation of whose tax rate included a reduction in the amount of its local school budget or any regional school assessment on the basis of a deferral of teachers' pay in accordance with section two hundred and thirty-one of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-one; the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed to have been accepted with respect to the amount of any such reduction in the local school budget, unless the city or town reduces appropriations by the amount of the deferral used to calculate its tax rate and the city's or town's appropriation for its regional school assessment shall be deemed to be increased by the amount of any regional school assessment that is increased on account of the regional school district's rejection of this section. To the extent that such a deemed increase in an appropriation for a regional school district assessment results in a deficit for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the city or town shall raise the amount of such deficit in the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-three.

Chapter 248.        AN ACT FURTHER REGULATING THE SURVEYING OF LAND.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 97 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out sections 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13 and inserting in place thereof the following ten sections:-

Section 8. The system of plane rectangular coordinates shall be the North American Datum of 1983 as established by the National Ocean Services/National Geodetic Survey (NOS/NGS), or its successors for defining and stating the geographic positions or locations of points on the surface of the earth within the commonwealth and shall be known as the Massachusetts Coordinate System North American Datum (NAD), 1983.

For the purposes of the use of said system the commonwealth is hereby divided into a mainland zone and an island zone.

The area now included in the following counties shall constitute the mainland zone: Barnstable, Berkshire, Bristol, Essex, Franklin, Hampden, Hampshire, Middlesex, Norfolk, Plymouth, Suffolk and Worcester.

The area now included in the counties of Dukes County and Nantucket shall constitute the island zone.

Section 9. As established for use in the mainland zone, said system shall be named, and in any land description in which it is used it shall be designated, the "Massachusetts Coordinate System, NAD 1983, Mainland Zone".

As established for use in the island zone, said system shall be named, and in any land description in which it is used it shall be designated, the "Massachusetts Coordinate System, NAD 1983, Island Zone".

Section 10. The plane rectangular coordinates of a point on the earth's surface, shall be used in expressing the position or location of such point in the appropriate zone of said system, and shall consist of two distances, either expressed in meters and decimals of meters or in the United States survey feet and decimals of a foot. One of these distances, to be known as the easting or "X" coordinate shall give the position in an east-west direction; the other to be known as the northing or "Y" coordinate shall give the position in a north-south direction. Such coordinates shall be made to depend upon and conform to the plane rectangular metric coordinates values for the horizontal control stations of the North American Horizontal, Geodetic Control Network as published by said National Ocean Service, National Geodetic Survey or its successors, and whose plane coordinates have been computed on the systems defined in this chapter.

Section 11. Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the conversion of the coordinates on the metric system to the United States Survey Foot nor shall the use of distances in feet and decimals of a foot be prohibited from any map, report of survey, deed, or other document. For conversion of meters to United States survey feet, the meters shall be multiplied by 39.37 and divided by 12 which results in a constant multiplier having a value of 3.28083333333 to 12 significant figures.

Section 12. For the purpose of more precisely defining said system:

1. The Massachusetts Coordinate System, NAD, 1983, Mainland Zone, Federal Zone Code M2001, is a Lambert conformal conic projection of the North American Datum of 1983, having standard parallels at north latitudes 41° (degrees) 43' (minutes), and 42° (degrees) 41' (minutes), along which parallels the scale shall be exact. The origin of coordinates is at the intersection of meridian 71° (degrees) 30' (minutes), west of Greenwich and the parallel 41° (degrees) 00' (minutes), north latitude. This origin shall have the coordinates: North (Y) = 750,000 meters and

East (X) = 200,000 meters.

2. The Massachusetts Coordinate System, NAD 1983, Island Zone, Federal Zone Code I 2002 is a Lambert conformal conic projection of the North American Datum of 1983, having standard parallels at north latitudes  $41^{\circ}$  (degrees) 17' (minutes) and  $41^{\circ}$  (degrees) 29' (minutes), along which parallels the scale shall be exact. The origin of coordinates is at the intersection of the meridian,  $70^{\circ}$  (degrees) 30' (minutes), west of Greenwich and the parallel  $41^{\circ}$  (degrees) 00' (minutes), north latitude. This origin shall have the coordinates North (Y) = 0 meters and East (X) = 500,000 meters.

Section 13. The use of the term "Massachusetts Coordinate System" on any map, report of survey, or deed or other document, shall be limited to coordinates based on the Massachusetts State Plane Coordinate System as defined in sections eight to thirteen, inclusive.

Section 14. The coordinate system based upon the North American Datum of 1927 which prior to the enactment of this statute was defined as the Massachusetts Coordinate System shall be now designated the Coordinate System, North American Datum of 1927, (NAD 1927), and can continue in use for the preparation of any maps, reports of survey, or other documents, until such time as the Board of Registration of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors declares, with the concurrence of the chief engineer of the Massachusetts department of public works, by regulation that said Coordinate System, (North American Datum of 1927), shall no longer be used except for interpreting existing maps, reports of surveys, deeds or other documents. For the Coordinate System, North American Datum, 1927 the commonwealth is divided into the same two zones defined in section eight.

Section 15. The plane rectangular coordinates of a point on the earth's surface, to be used in expressing the position or location of such point in the appropriate zone of said system, shall consist of two distances, expressed in feet and decimals of a foot. One of these distances, to be known as the "X coordinate", shall give the position in an east-west direction; the other to be known as the "Y coordinate", shall give the position in a north-south direction. Such coordinates shall be referred to the appropriate origin as defined in section sixteen, and shall be made to depend upon and conform to the plane rectangular coordinates of the triangulation and traverse stations of the former United States Coast and Geodetic Survey within the commonwealth, as these coordinates had been determined by said survey.

Section 16. The Coordinate System, North American Datum of 1927, Mainland Zone, consists of a Lambert conformal projection of the Clarke spheroid of eighteen hundred and sixty-six, having the standard parallels at north latitude  $41^{\circ}$  (degrees) 43' (minutes) and  $42^{\circ}$  (degrees) 41' (minutes), along which parallels the scale shall be exact. The origin of coordinates for this zone is at the intersection of the meridian  $71^{\circ}$  (degrees) 30' (minutes) west longitude and the parallel  $41^{\circ}$  (degrees)

00' (minutes) north latitude. This origin is given the coordinates: X=600,000 feet; Y=0 feet.

The NAD 1927 Coordinate System, North American Datum of 1927, Island Zone, consists of a Lambert conformal projection of the Clarke spheroid of eighteen hundred and sixty-six, having the standard parallels at north latitudes 41° (degrees) 17' (minutes) and 41° (degrees) 29' (minutes), along which parallels the scale shall be exact. The origin of coordinates for this zone is at the intersection of the meridian 70° (degrees) 30' (minutes) west longitude and the parallel 41° (degrees) 00' (minutes) north latitude. This origin is given the coordinates: X=200,000 feet; Y=0 feet.

The position of said system shall be as marked on the ground by triangulation of traverse stations established in conformity with the standards adopted by the former United States Coast and Geodetic Survey for first-order and second-order work, whose geodetic positions had been rigidly adjusted on the North American Datum of nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, and whose plane coordinates have been computed on the system herein defined. Any such station may be used for establishing a survey connection with said NAD 1927 coordinate system.

Section 17. For the purpose of describing the location of any survey station or land boundary point in the commonwealth it shall be a complete, legal and satisfactory description of such location to give the position of said survey station or land boundary point on the Massachusetts Coordinate System. Nothing contained in sections eight to seventeen, inclusive, shall be interpreted as requiring any purchaser or mortgagee to rely exclusively on a description based on said system.

Approved October 8, 1991.

This Article shall not apply to a funds transfer any part of which is governed by the Electronic Fund Transfer Act of 1978 (Title XX, Public Law 95-630, 92 Stat. 3728, 15 U.S.C. 1693 et seq.).

PART 2. ISSUE AND ACCEPTANCE OF PAYMENT ORDER.

Section 4A-201. Security Procedure.

"Security procedure" means a procedure established by agreement of a customer and a receiving bank for the purpose of (i) verifying that a payment order or communication amending or cancelling a payment order is that of the customer, or (ii) detecting error in the transmission or the content of the payment order or communication. A security procedure may require the use of algorithm or other code, identifying word or number, encryption, callback procedure, or similar security device. Comparison of a signature on a payment order or communication with an authorized specimen signature of the customer is not by itself a security procedure.

Section 4A-202. Authorized and Verified Payment Orders.

(a) A payment order received by the receiving bank is the authorized order of the person identified as sender if such person authorized the order or is otherwise bound by it under the law of agency.

(b) If a bank and its customer have agreed that the authenticity of a payment order issued to the bank in the name of the customer as sender will be verified pursuant to a security procedure, a payment order received by the receiving bank is effective as the order of the customer, whether or not authorized, if (i) the security procedure is a commercially reasonable method of providing security against an unauthorized payment order, and (ii) the bank proves that it accepted the payment order in good faith and in compliance with the security procedure and any written agreement or instruction of such customer restricting acceptance of a payment order issued in the name of such customer. The bank is not required to follow an instruction that violates a written agreement with the customer or notice of which is not received at a time and in a manner affording the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it before the payment order is accepted.

(c) Commercial reasonableness of a security procedure is a question of law to be determined by considering the wishes of the customer expressed to the bank, the circumstances of the customer known to the bank, including the size, type, and frequency of payment orders normally issued by the customer to the bank, alternative security procedures offered to the customer, and security procedures in general use by customers and receiving banks similarly situated. A security procedure is deemed to be commercially reasonable if (i) the security procedure was chosen by the customer after the bank offered, and the customer refused, a security procedure that was commercially reasonable for such customer, and (ii) the customer expressly agreed in writing to be bound by any payment order, whether or not authorized, issued in its name and accepted by the bank in compliance with the security procedure chosen by such customer.

(d) The term "sender" in this Article includes the customer in whose name a payment order is issued if the order is the authorized order of the customer under subsection (a), or it is effective as the order of the customer under subsection (b).

(e) This section shall apply to an amendment or cancellation of a payment order to the same extent it applies to a payment order.

(f) Except as provided in this section and in paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of section 4A-203, rights and obligations arising under this section or said section 4A-203 may not be varied by agreement.

Section 4A-203. Unenforceability of Certain Verified Payment Orders.

(a) If an accepted payment order is not, under subsection (a) of section 4A-202, an authorized order of a customer identified as sender, but is effective as an order of the customer pursuant to subsection (b) of said section 4A-202, the following rules shall apply:

(1) By express written agreement, the receiving bank may limit the extent to which it is entitled to enforce or retain payment of the payment order.

(2) The receiving bank is not entitled to enforce or retain payment of the payment order if the customer proves that the order was not caused, directly or indirectly, by a person (i) entrusted at any time with duties to act for the customer with respect to payment orders or the security procedure, or (ii) who obtained access to transmitting facilities of the customer or who obtained, from a source controlled by the customer and without authority of the receiving bank, information facilitating breach of the security procedure, regardless of how the information was obtained or whether the customer was at fault. Information includes any access device, computer software, or the like.

(b) This section shall apply to an amendment to a payment order to the same extent it applies to a payment order.

Section 4A-204. Refund of Payment and Duty of Customer to Report with Respect to Unauthorized Payment Order.

(a) If a receiving bank accepts a payment order issued in the name of its customer as sender which is (i) not authorized and not effective as the order of the customer under section 4A-202, or (ii) not enforceable, in whole or in part, against the customer under section 4A-203, the bank shall refund any payment of the payment order received from the customer to the extent the bank is not entitled to enforce payment and shall pay interest on the refundable amount calculated from the date the bank received payment to the date of the refund. However, the customer is not entitled to interest from the bank on the amount to be refunded if the customer fails to exercise ordinary care to determine that the order was not authorized by the customer and to notify the bank of the relevant facts within a reasonable time not exceeding ninety days after the date the customer received notification from the bank that the order was accepted or that the customer's account was debited with respect to the order. The bank is not entitled to any recovery from the customer on account of a failure by the customer to give notification as stated in this section.

(b) A reasonable time under subsection (a) may be fixed by agreement as stated in subsection (1) of section 1-204, but the obligation of a receiving bank to refund payment as stated in subsection (a) may not otherwise be varied by agreement.

Section 4A-205. Erroneous Payment Orders.

(a) If an accepted payment order was transmitted pursuant to a security procedure for the detection of error and the payment order (i) erroneously instructed payment to a beneficiary not intended by the sender, (ii) erroneously instructed payment in an amount greater than the amount intended by the sender, or (iii) was an erroneously transmitted duplicate of a payment order previously sent by the sender, the following rules apply:

(1) If the sender proves that the sender or a person acting on behalf of the sender pursuant to section 4A-206 complied with the security procedure and that the error would have been detected if the receiving bank had also complied, the sender is not obliged to pay the order to the extent stated in paragraphs (2) and (3).

(2) If the funds transfer is completed on the basis of an erroneous payment order described in clause (i) or (iii) of subsection (a), the sender is not obliged to pay the order and the receiving bank is entitled to recover from the beneficiary any amount paid to the beneficiary to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

(3) If the funds transfer is completed on the basis of a payment order described in clause (ii) of subsection (a) the sender is not obliged to pay the order to the extent the amount received by the beneficiary is greater than the amount intended by the sender. In that case, the receiving bank is entitled to recover from the beneficiary the excess amount received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

(b) If (i) the sender of an erroneous payment order described in subsection (a), is not obliged to pay all or part of the order, and (ii) the sender receives notification from the receiving bank that the order was accepted by the bank or that the sender's account was debited with respect to the order, the sender has a duty to exercise ordinary care, on the basis of information available to the sender, to discover the error with respect to the order and to advise the bank of the relevant facts within a reasonable time, not exceeding ninety days, after the bank's notification was received by the sender. If the bank proves that the sender failed to perform that duty, the sender is liable to the bank for the loss the bank proves it incurred as a result of the failure, but the liability of the sender may not exceed the amount of the sender's order.

(c) This section shall apply to an amendment to a payment order to the same extent it applies to a payment order.

Section 4A-206. Transmission of Payment Order Through Funds Transfer or Other Communication System.

(a) If a payment order addressed to a receiving bank is transmitted to a funds transfer system or other third-party communication system for transmittal to the bank, the system is deemed to be an agent of the sender for the purpose of transmitting the payment order to the bank. If there is a discrepancy between the terms of the payment order transmitted to the system and the terms of the payment order transmitted by the system to the bank, the terms of the payment order of the sender are those transmitted by the system. This section does not apply to a funds transfer system of the federal reserve banks.

(b) This section shall apply to an amendment or cancellation of a payment order to the same extent it applies to a payment order.

Section 4A-207. Misdescription of Beneficiary.

(a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (b), if, in a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank, the name, bank account number, or other identification of the beneficiary refers to a nonexistent or unidentifiable person or account, no person shall have rights as a beneficiary of the order and acceptance of the order shall not occur.

(b) If a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank identifies the beneficiary both by name and by an identifying or bank account number and the name and number identify different persons, the following rules shall apply:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), if the beneficiary's bank does not know that the name and number refer to different persons, it may rely on the number as the proper identification of the beneficiary of the order. The beneficiary's bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person.

(2) If the beneficiary's bank pays the person identified by name or knows that the name and number identify different persons, no person shall have rights as beneficiary except the person paid by the beneficiary's bank if such person was entitled to receive payment from the originator of the funds transfer. If no person has rights as beneficiary, acceptance of the order shall not occur.

(c) If (i) a payment order described in subsection (b) is accepted, (ii) the originator's payment order described the beneficiary inconsistently by name and number, and (iii) the beneficiary's bank pays the person identified by number as permitted by paragraph (1) of subsection (b), the following rules shall apply:

(1) If the originator is a bank, the originator is obliged to pay its order.

(2) If the originator is not a bank and proves that the person identified by number was not entitled to receive payment from the originator, the originator is not obliged to pay its order unless the originator's bank proves that the originator, before acceptance of the originator's order, had notice that payment of a payment order issued by the originator might be made by the beneficiary's bank on the basis of an identifying or bank account number even if it identifies a person different from the named beneficiary. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The originator's bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the originator, before the payment order was accepted, signed a writing stating the information to which the notice relates.

(d) In a case governed by paragraph (1) of subsection (b), if the beneficiary's bank rightfully pays the person identified by number and that person was not entitled to receive payment from the originator, the amount paid may be recovered from that person to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution as follows:

(1) If the originator is obliged to pay its payment order as stated in subsection (c), the originator has the right to recover.

(2) If the originator is not a bank and is not obliged to pay its payment order, the originator's bank has the right to recover.

Section 4A-208. Misdescription of Intermediary Bank or Beneficiary's Bank.

(a) This subsection shall apply to a payment order identifying an intermediary bank or the beneficiary's bank only by an identifying number.

(1) The receiving bank may rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank and need not determine whether the number identifies a bank.

(2) The sender is obliged to compensate the receiving bank for any loss and expenses incurred by the receiving bank as a result of its reliance on the number in executing or attempting to execute the order.

(b) This subsection shall apply to a payment order identifying an intermediary bank or the beneficiary's bank both by name and an identifying number if the name and number identify different persons.

(1) If the sender is a bank, the receiving bank may rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank, when it executes the sender's order, does not know that the name and number identify different persons. The receiving bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person or whether the number refers to a bank. The sender is obliged to compensate the receiving bank for any loss and expenses incurred by the receiving bank as a result of its reliance on the number in executing or attempting to execute the order.

(2) If the sender is not a bank and the receiving bank proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, had notice that the receiving bank might rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank even if it identifies a person different from the bank identified by name, the rights and obligations of the sender and the receiving bank are governed by paragraph (1) of this subsection, as though the sender were a bank. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The receiving bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, signed a writing stating the information to which the notice relates.

(3) Regardless of whether the sender is a bank, the receiving bank may rely on the name as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank, at the time it executes the sender's order, does not know that the name and number identify different persons. The receiving bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person.

(4) If the receiving bank knows that the name and number identify different persons, reliance on either the name or the number in executing the sender's payment order is a breach of the obligation stated in paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of section 4A-302.

Section 4A-209. Acceptance of Payment Order.

(a) Subject to subsection (d), a receiving bank other than the beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order when it executes the order.

(b) Subject to subsections (c) and (d), a beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order at the earliest of the following times:

(1) when the bank (i) pays the beneficiary as stated in subsection (a) of section 4A-405 or subsection (b) of 4A-405, or (ii) notifies the beneficiary of receipt of the order or that the account of the beneficiary has been credited with respect to the order unless the notice indicates that the bank is rejecting the order or that funds with respect to the order may not be withdrawn or used until receipt of payment from the sender of the order;

(2) when the bank receives payment of the entire amount of the sender's order pursuant to paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (a) of section 4A-403; or

(3) the opening of the next funds transfer business day of the bank following the payment date of the order if, at that time, the amount of the sender's order is fully covered by a withdrawable credit balance in an authorized account of the sender or the bank has otherwise received full payment from the sender, unless the order was rejected before that time or is rejected within (i) one hour after that time, or (ii) one hour after the opening of the next business day of the sender following the payment date if that time is later. If notice of rejection is received by the sender after the payment date and the authorized account of the sender does not bear interest, the bank is obliged to pay interest to the sender on the amount of the order for the number of days elapsing after the payment date to the day the sender receives notice or learns that the order was not accepted, counting that day as an elapsed day. If the withdrawable credit balance during that period falls below the amount of the order, the amount of interest payable is reduced accordingly.

(c) Acceptance of a payment order cannot occur before the order is received by the receiving bank. Acceptance does not occur under paragraph (2) or (3) of subsection (b) if the beneficiary of the payment order does not have an account with the receiving bank, the account has been closed, or the receiving bank is not permitted by law to receive credits for the beneficiary's account.

(d) A payment order issued to the originator's bank cannot be accepted until the payment date if the bank is the beneficiary's bank, or the execution date if the bank is not the beneficiary's bank. If the originator's bank executes the originator's payment order before the execution date or pays the beneficiary of the originator's payment order before the payment date and the payment order is subsequently cancelled pursuant to subsection (b) of section 4A-211, the bank may recover from the beneficiary any payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

Section 4A-210. Rejection of Payment Order.

(a) A payment order is rejected by the receiving bank by a notice of rejection transmitted to the sender orally, electronically, or in writing. A notice of rejection need not use any particular words and is sufficient if it indicates that the receiving bank is rejecting the order or will not execute or pay the order. Rejection is effective when the notice is given if transmission is by a means that is reasonable in the circumstances. If notice of rejection is given by a means that is not reasonable, rejection is effective when the notice is received. If an agreement of the sender and receiving bank establishes the means to be used to reject a payment order, (i) any means complying with the agreement is reasonable and (ii) any means not complying is not reasonable unless no significant delay in receipt of the notice resulted from the use of the noncomplying means.

(b) This subsection applies if a receiving bank other than the beneficiary's bank fails to execute a payment order despite the existence on the execution date of a withdrawable credit balance in an authorized account of the sender sufficient to cover the order. If the sender does not receive notice of rejection of the order on the execution date and the authorized account of the sender does not bear interest, the bank is obliged to pay interest to the sender on the amount of the order for the number of days elapsing after the execution date to the earlier of the day the order is cancelled pursuant to subsection (d) of section 4A-211 or the day the sender receives notice or learns that the order was not executed, counting the final day of the period as an elapsed day. If the withdrawable credit balance during that period falls below the amount of the order, the amount of interest is reduced accordingly.

(c) If a receiving bank suspends payments, all unaccepted payment orders issued to it are deemed rejected at the time the bank suspends payments.

(d) Acceptance of a payment order precludes a later rejection of the order.

Rejection of a payment order precludes a later acceptance of the order.

Section 4A-211. Cancellation and Amendment of Payment Order.

(a) A communication of the sender of a payment order cancelling or amending the order may be transmitted to the receiving bank orally, electronically, or in writing. If a security procedure is in effect between the sender and the receiving bank, the communication is not effective to cancel or amend the order unless the communication is verified pursuant to the security procedure or the bank agrees to the cancellation or amendment.

(b) Subject to subsection (a), a communication by the sender cancelling or amending a payment order is effective to cancel or amend the order if notice of the communication is received at a time and in a manner affording the receiving bank a reasonable opportunity to act on the communication before the bank accepts the payment order.

(c) After a payment order has been accepted, cancellation or amendment of the order is not effective unless the receiving bank agrees or a funds transfer system rule allows cancellation or amendment without agreement of the bank.

(1) With respect to a payment order accepted by a receiving bank other than the beneficiary's bank, cancellation or amendment is not effective unless a conforming cancellation or amendment of the payment order issued by the receiving bank is also made.

(2) With respect to a payment order accepted by the beneficiary's bank, cancellation or amendment is not effective unless the order was issued in execution of an unauthorized payment order, or because of a mistake by a sender in the funds transfer which resulted in the issuance of a payment order (i) that is a duplicate of a payment order previously issued by the sender, (ii) that orders payment to a beneficiary not entitled to receive payment from the originator, or (iii) that orders payment in an amount greater than the amount the beneficiary was entitled to receive from the originator. If the payment order is cancelled or amended, the beneficiary's bank is entitled to recover from the beneficiary any amount paid to the beneficiary to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

(d) An unaccepted payment order is cancelled by operation of law at the close of the fifth funds transfer business day of the receiving bank after the execution date or payment date of the order.

(e) A cancelled payment order cannot be accepted. If an accepted payment order is cancelled, the acceptance is nullified and no person has any right or obligation based on the acceptance. Amendment of a payment order is deemed to be cancellation of the original order at the time of amendment and issue of a new payment order in the amended form at the same time.

(f) Unless otherwise provided in an agreement of the parties or in a funds transfer system rule, if the receiving bank, after accepting a payment order, agrees to cancellation or amendment of the order by the sender or is bound by a funds transfer system rule allowing cancellation or amendment without the bank's agreement, the sender, whether or not cancellation or amendment is effective, is liable to the bank for any loss and expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred by the bank as a result of the cancellation or amendment or attempted cancellation or amendment.

(g) A payment order is not revoked by the death or legal incapacity of the sender unless the receiving bank knows of the death or of an adjudication of incapacity by a court of competent jurisdiction and has reasonable opportunity to act before acceptance of the order.

(h) A funds transfer system rule is not effective to the extent it conflicts with paragraph (2) of subsection (c).

Section 4A-212. Liability and Duty of Receiving Bank Regarding Unaccepted Payment Order.

If a receiving bank fails to accept a payment order that it is obliged by express agreement to accept, the bank is liable for breach of the agreement to the extent provided in the agreement or in this Article, but does not otherwise have any duty to accept a payment order or, before acceptance, to take any action, or refrain from taking action, with respect to the order except as provided in this Article or by express agreement. Liability based on acceptance arises only when acceptance occurs as stated in section 4A-209, and liability is limited to that provided in this Article. A receiving bank is not the agent of the sender or beneficiary of the payment order it accepts, or of any other party to the funds transfer, and the bank owes no duty to any party to the funds transfer except as provided in this Article or by express agreement.

PART 3. EXECUTION OF SENDER'S PAYMENT ORDER BY RECEIVING BANK.

Section 4A-301. Execution and Execution Date.

(a) A payment order is "executed" by the receiving bank when it issues a payment order intended to carry out the payment order received by the bank. A payment order received by the beneficiary's bank can be accepted but cannot be executed.

(b) "Execution date" of a payment order means the day on which the receiving bank may properly issue a payment order in execution of the sender's order. The execution date may be determined by instruction of the sender but cannot be earlier than the day the order is received and, unless otherwise determined, is the day the order is received. If the sender's instruction states a payment date, the execution date is the payment date or an earlier date on which execution is reasonably necessary to allow payment to the beneficiary on the payment date.

Section 4A-302. Obligations of Receiving Bank in Execution of Payment Order.

(a) Except as provided in subsections (b) to (d), inclusive, if the receiving bank accepts a payment order pursuant to subsection (a) of section 4A-209, the bank has the following obligations in executing the order:

(1) The receiving bank is obliged to issue, on the execution date, a payment order complying with the sender's order and to follow the sender's instruction concerning (i) any intermediary bank or funds transfer system to be used in carrying out the funds transfer, or (ii) the means by which payment orders are to be transmitted in the funds transfer. If the originator's bank issues a payment order to an intermediary bank, the originator's bank is obliged to instruct the intermediary bank according to the instruction of the originator. An intermediary bank in the funds transfer is similarly bound by an instruction given to it by the sender of the payment order it accepts.

(2) If the sender's instruction states that the funds transfer is to be carried out telephonically or by wire transfer or otherwise indicates that the funds transfer is to be carried out by the most expeditious means, the receiving bank is obliged to transmit its payment order by the most expeditious available means, and to instruct any intermediary bank accordingly. If a sender's instruction states a payment date, the receiving bank is obliged to transmit its payment order at a time and by means reasonably necessary to allow payment to the beneficiary on the payment date or as soon thereafter as is feasible.

(b) Unless otherwise instructed, a receiving bank executing a payment order may (i) use any funds transfer system if use of that system is reasonable in the circumstances, and (ii) issue a payment order to the beneficiary's bank or to an intermediary bank through which a payment order conforming to the sender's order can expeditiously be issued to the beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank exercises ordinary care in the selection of the intermediary bank. A receiving bank is not required to follow an instruction of the sender designating a funds transfer system to be used in carrying out the funds transfer if the receiving bank, in good faith, determines that it is not feasible to follow the instruction or that following the instruction would unduly delay completion of the funds transfer.

(c) Unless the provisions of paragraph (2) of subsection (a) apply or the receiving bank is otherwise instructed, the bank may execute a payment order by transmitting its payment order by first class mail or by any means reasonable in the circumstances. If the receiving bank is instructed to execute the sender's order by transmitting its payment order by a particular means, the receiving bank may issue its payment order by the means stated or by any means as expeditious as the means stated.

(d) Unless instructed by the sender, (i) the receiving bank may not obtain payment of its charges for services and expenses in connection with the execution of the sender's order by issuing a payment order in an amount equal to the amount of the sender's order less the amount of the charges, and (ii) may not instruct a subsequent receiving bank to obtain payment of its charges in the same manner.

Section 4A-303. Erroneous Execution of Payment Order.

(a) A receiving bank that (i) executes the payment order of the sender by issuing a payment order in an amount greater than the amount of the sender's order, or (ii) issues a payment order in execution of the sender's order and then issues a duplicate order, is entitled to payment of the amount of the sender's order under section 4A-402(c) if that subsection is otherwise satisfied. The bank is entitled to recover from the beneficiary of the erroneous order the excess payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

(b) A receiving bank that executes the payment order of the sender by issuing a payment order in an amount less than the amount of the sender's order is entitled to payment of the amount of the sender's order under subsection (c) of section 4A-402 if (i) that subsection is otherwise satisfied and (ii) the bank corrects its mistake by issuing an additional payment order for the benefit of the beneficiary of the sender's order. If the error is not corrected, the issuer of the erroneous order is entitled to receive or retain payment from the sender of the order it accepted only to the extent of the amount of the erroneous order. This subsection does not apply if the receiving bank executes the sender's payment order by issuing a payment order in an amount less than the amount of the sender's order for the purpose of obtaining payment of its charges for services and expenses pursuant to instruction of the sender.

(c) If a receiving bank executes the payment order of the sender by issuing a payment order to a beneficiary different from the beneficiary of the sender's order and the funds transfer is completed on the basis of that error, the sender of the payment order that was erroneously executed and all previous senders in the funds transfer are not obliged to pay the payment orders they issued. The issuer of the erroneous order is entitled to recover from the beneficiary of the order the payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

Section 4A-304. Duty of Sender to Report Erroneously Executed Payment Order.

If the sender of a payment order that is erroneously executed as stated in section 4A-303 receives notification from the receiving bank that the order was executed or that the sender's account was debited with respect to the order, the sender has a duty to exercise ordinary care to determine, on the basis of information available to the sender, that the order was erroneously executed and to notify the bank of the relevant facts within a reasonable time not exceeding ninety days after the notification from the bank was received by the sender. If the sender fails to perform that duty, the bank is not obliged to pay interest on any amount refundable to the sender under subsection (d) of section 4A-402 for the period before the bank learns of the execution error. The bank is not entitled to any recovery from the sender on account of a failure by the sender to perform the duty stated in this section.

Section 4A-305. Liability for Late or Improper Execution or Failure to Execute Payment Order.

(a) If a funds transfer is completed but execution of a payment order by the receiving bank in breach of section 4A-302 results in delay in payment to the beneficiary, the bank is obliged to pay interest to either the originator or the beneficiary of the funds transfer for the period of delay caused by the improper execution. Except as provided in subsection (c), additional damages are not recoverable.

(b) If execution of a payment order by a receiving bank in breach of section 4A-302 results in (i) noncompletion of the funds transfer, (ii) failure to use an intermediary bank designated by the originator, or (iii) issuance of a payment order that does not comply with the terms of the payment order of the originator, the bank is liable to the originator for its expenses in the funds transfer and for incidental expenses and interest losses, to the extent not covered by subsection (a), resulting from the improper execution. Except as provided in subsection (c), additional damages are not recoverable.

(c) In addition to the amounts payable under subsections (a) and (b), damages, including consequential damages, are recoverable to the extent provided in an express written agreement of the receiving bank.

(d) If a receiving bank fails to execute a payment order it was obliged by express agreement to execute, the receiving bank is liable to the sender for its expenses in the transaction and for incidental expenses and interest losses resulting from the failure to execute. Additional damages, including consequential damages, are recoverable to the extent provided in an express written agreement of the receiving bank, but are not otherwise recoverable.

(e) Reasonable attorneys' fees are recoverable if demand for compensation under subsection (a) or (b) is made and refused before an action is brought on the claim. If a claim is made for breach of an agreement under subsection (d) and the agreement does not provide for damages, reasonable attorneys' fees are recoverable if demand for compensation under subsection (d) is made and refused before an action is brought on the claim.

(f) Except as stated in this section, the liability of a receiving bank under subsections (a) and (b) may not be varied by agreement.

PART 4. PAYMENT.

Section 4A-401. Payment Date.

"Payment date" of a payment order means the day on which the amount of the order is payable to the beneficiary by the beneficiary's bank. The payment date may be determined by instruction of the sender but cannot be earlier than the day the order is received by the beneficiary's bank and, unless otherwise determined, is the day the order is received by the beneficiary's bank.

Section 4A-402. Obligation of Sender to Pay Receiving Bank.

(a) This section is subject to the provisions of sections 4A-205 and 4A-207.

(b) With respect to a payment order issued to the beneficiary's bank, acceptance of the order by the bank obliges the sender to pay the bank the amount of the order, but payment is not due until the payment date of the order.

(c) This subsection is subject to the provisions of subsection (e) and section 4A-303. With respect to a payment order issued to a receiving bank other than the beneficiary's bank, acceptance of the order by the receiving bank obliges the sender to pay the bank the amount of the sender's order. Payment by the sender is not due until the execution date of the sender's order. The obligation of that sender to pay its payment order is excused if the funds transfer is not completed by acceptance by the beneficiary's bank of a payment order instructing payment to the beneficiary of that sender's payment order.

(d) If the sender of a payment order pays the order and was not obliged to pay all or part of the amount paid, the bank receiving payment is obliged to refund payment to the extent the sender was not obliged to pay. Except as provided in sections 4A-204 and 4A-304, interest is payable on the refundable amount from the date of payment.

(e) If a funds transfer is not completed as stated in subsection (c) and an intermediary bank is obliged to refund payment as stated in subsection (d) but is unable to do so because not permitted by applicable law or because the bank suspends payments, a sender in the funds transfer that executed a payment order in compliance with an instruction, as stated in paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of section 4A-302, to route the funds transfer through that intermediary bank is entitled to receive or retain payment from the sender of the payment order that it accepted. The first sender in the funds transfer that issued an instruction requiring routing through that intermediary bank is subrogated to the right of the bank that paid the intermediary bank to refund as stated in subsection (d).

(f) The right of the sender of a payment order to be excused from the obligation to pay the order as stated in subsection (c) or to receive refund under subsection (d) may not be varied by agreement.

Section 4A-403. Payment by Sender to Receiving Bank.

(a) Payment of the sender's obligation under section 4A-402 to pay the receiving bank occurs as follows:

(1) If the sender is a bank, payment occurs when the receiving bank receives final settlement of the obligation through a federal reserve bank or through a funds transfer system.

(2) If the sender is a bank and the sender (i) credited an account of the receiving bank with the sender, or (ii) caused an account of the receiving bank in another bank to be credited, payment occurs when the credit is withdrawn or, if not withdrawn, at midnight of the day on which the credit is withdrawable and the receiving bank learns of that fact.

(3) If the receiving bank debits an account of the sender with the receiving bank, payment occurs when the debit is made to the extent the debit is covered by a withdrawable credit balance in the account.

(b) If the sender and receiving bank are members of a funds transfer system that nets obligations multilaterally among participants, the receiving bank receives final settlement when settlement is complete in accordance with the rules of the system. The obligation of the sender to pay the amount of a payment order transmitted through the funds transfer system may be satisfied, to the extent permitted by the rules of the system, by setting off and applying against the sender's obligation the right of the sender to receive payment from the receiving bank of the amount of any other payment order transmitted to the sender by the receiving bank through the funds transfer system. The aggregate balance of obligations owed by each sender to each receiving bank in the funds transfer system may be satisfied, to the extent permitted by the rules of the system, by setting off and applying against that balance the aggregate balance of obligations owed to the sender by other members of the system. The aggregate balance is determined after the right of setoff stated in the second sentence of this subsection has been exercised.

(c) If two banks transmit payment orders to each other under an agreement that settlement of the obligations of each bank to the other under section 4A-402 will be made at the end of the day or other period, the total amount owed with respect to all orders transmitted by one bank shall be set off against the total amount owed with respect to all orders transmitted by the other bank. To the extent of the setoff, each bank has made payment to the other.

(d) In a case not covered by subsection (a), the time when payment of the sender's obligation under subsection (b) or (c) of section 4A-402 occurs is governed by applicable principles of law that determine when an obligation is satisfied.

Section 4A-404. Obligation of Beneficiary's Bank to Pay and Give Notice to Beneficiary.

(a) Subject to subsection (e) of section 4A-211 and subsections (d) and (e) of section 4A-405, if a beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order, the bank is obliged to pay the amount of the order to the beneficiary of the order. Payment is due on the payment date after the close of the funds transfer business day. If the bank refuses to pay after demand by the beneficiary and receipt of notice of particular circumstances that will give rise to consequential damages as a result of nonpayment, the beneficiary may recover damages resulting from the refusal to pay to the extent the bank had notice of the damages, unless the bank proves that it did not pay because of a reasonable doubt concerning the right of the beneficiary to payment.

(b) If a payment order accepted by the beneficiary's bank instructs payment to an account of the beneficiary, the bank is obliged to notify the beneficiary of receipt of the order before midnight of the next funds transfer business day following the payment date. If the payment order does not instruct payment to an account of the beneficiary, the bank is required to notify the beneficiary only if notice is required by the order. Notice may be given by first class mail or any other means reasonable in the circumstances. If the bank fails to give the required notice, the bank is obliged to pay interest to the beneficiary on the amount of the payment order from the day notice should have been given until the day the beneficiary learned of receipt of the payment order by the bank. No other damages are recoverable. Reasonable attorneys' fees are also recoverable if demand for interest is made and refused before an action is brought on the claim.

(c) The right of a beneficiary to receive payment and damages as stated in subsection (a) may not be varied by agreement or a funds transfer system rule. The right of a beneficiary to be notified as stated in subsection (b) may be varied by agreement of the beneficiary or by a funds transfer system rule if the beneficiary is notified of the rule before initiation of the funds transfer.

Section 4A-405. Payment by Beneficiary's Bank to Beneficiary.

(a) If the beneficiary's bank credits an account of the beneficiary of a payment order, payment of the bank's obligation under subsection (a) of section 4A-404 occurs when and to the extent (i) the beneficiary is notified of the right to withdraw the credit, (ii) the bank lawfully applies the credit to a debt of the beneficiary, or (iii) funds with respect to the order are otherwise made available to the beneficiary by the bank.

(b) If the beneficiary's bank does not credit an account of the beneficiary of a payment order, the time when payment of the bank's obligation under said subsection (a) of said section 4A-404 occurs is governed by principles of law that determine when an obligation is satisfied.

(c) Except as stated in subsections (d) and (e), if the beneficiary's bank pays the beneficiary of a payment order under a condition to payment or agreement of the beneficiary giving the bank the right to recover payment from the beneficiary if the bank does not receive payment of the order, the condition to payment or agreement is not enforceable.

(d) A funds transfer system rule may provide that payments made to beneficiaries of funds transfers made through the system are provisional until receipt of payment by the beneficiary's bank of the payment order is accepted. A beneficiary's bank that makes a payment that is provisional under the rule is entitled to refund from the beneficiary if (i) the rule requires that both the beneficiary and the originator be given notice of the provisional nature of the payment before the funds transfer is initiated, (ii) the beneficiary, the beneficiary's bank and the originator's bank agreed to be bound by the rule, and (iii) the beneficiary's bank did not receive payment of the payment order that it accepted. If the beneficiary is obliged to refund payment to the beneficiary's bank, acceptance of the payment order by the beneficiary's bank is nullified and no payment by the originator of the funds transfer to the beneficiary occurs under section 4A-406.

(e) This subsection applies to a funds transfer that includes a payment order transmitted over a funds transfer system that (i) nets obligations multilaterally among participants, and (ii) has in effect a loss-sharing agreement among participants for the purpose of providing funds necessary to complete settlement of the obligations of one or more participants that do not meet their settlement obligations. If the beneficiary's bank in the funds transfer accepts a payment order and the system fails to complete settlement pursuant to its rules with respect to any payment order in the funds transfer, (i) the acceptance by the beneficiary's bank is nullified and no person has any right or obligation based on the acceptance, (ii) the beneficiary's bank is entitled to recover payment from the beneficiary, (iii) no payment by the originator to the beneficiary occurs under section 4A-406, and (iv) subject to subsection (e) of section 4A-402, each sender in the funds transfer is excused from its obligation to pay its payment order under subsection (c) of said section 4A-402 because the funds transfer has not been completed.

Section 4A-406. Payment by Originator to Beneficiary; Discharge of Underlying Obligation.

(a) Subject to subsection (e) of section 4A-211, and subsection (d) and (e) of section 4A-405, the originator of a funds transfer pays the beneficiary of the originator's payment order (i) at the time a payment order for the benefit of the beneficiary is accepted by the beneficiary's bank in the funds transfer and (ii) in an amount equal to the amount of the order accepted by the beneficiary's bank, but not more than the amount of the originator's order.

(b) If payment under subsection (a) is made to satisfy an obligation, the obligation is discharged to the same extent discharge would result from payment to the beneficiary of the same amount in money, unless (i) the payment under subsection (a) was made by a means prohibited by the contract of the beneficiary with respect to the obligation, (ii) the beneficiary, within a reasonable time after receiving notice of receipt of the order by the beneficiary's bank, notified the originator of the beneficiary's refusal of the payment, (iii) funds with respect to the order were not withdrawn by the beneficiary or applied to a debt of the beneficiary, and (iv) the beneficiary would suffer a loss that could reasonably have been avoided if payment had been made by a means complying with the contract. If payment by the originator does not result in discharge under this section, the originator is subrogated to the rights of the beneficiary to receive payment from the beneficiary's bank under subsection (a) of section 4A-404.

(c) For the purpose of determining whether discharge of an obligation occurs under subsection (b), if the beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order in an amount equal to the amount of the originator's payment order less charges of one or more receiving banks in the funds transfer, payment to the beneficiary is deemed to be in the amount of the originator's order unless upon demand by the beneficiary the originator does not pay the beneficiary the amount of the deducted charges.

(d) Rights of the originator or of the beneficiary of a funds transfer under this section may be varied only by agreement of the originator and the beneficiary.

PART 5. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Section 4A-501. Variation by Agreement and Effect of Funds Transfer System Rule.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the rights and obligations of a party to a funds transfer may be varied by agreement of the affected party.

(b) "Funds transfer system rule" means a rule of an association of banks (i) governing transmission of payment orders by means of a funds transfer system of the association or rights and obligations with respect to such orders, or (ii) to the extent the rule governs rights and obligations between banks that are parties to a funds transfer in which a federal reserve bank, acting as an intermediary bank, sends a payment order to the beneficiary's bank. Except as otherwise provided in this Article, a funds transfer system rule governing rights and obligations between participating banks using the system may be effective even if the rule conflicts with this Article and indirectly affects another party to the funds transfer who does not consent to the rule. A funds transfer system rule may also govern rights and obligations of parties other than participating banks using the system to the extent stated in subsection (c) of section 4A-404, subsection (d) of section 4A-405, and subsection (c) of section 4A-507.

Section 4A-502. Creditor Process Served on Receiving Bank; Setoff by Beneficiary's Bank.

(a) As used in this section, "creditor process" means levy, attachment, garnishment, notice of lien, sequestration, or similar process issued by or on behalf of a creditor or other claimant with respect to an account.

(b) This subsection applies to creditor process with respect to an authorized account of the sender of a payment order if the creditor process is served on the receiving bank. For the purpose of determining rights with respect to the credit process, if the receiving bank accepts the payment order the balance in the authorized account is deemed to be reduced by the amount of the payment order to the extent the bank did not otherwise receive payment of the order, unless the creditor process is served at a time and in a manner affording the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it before the bank accepts the payment order.

(c) If a beneficiary's bank has received a payment order for payment to the beneficiary's account in the bank, the following rules apply:

(1) The bank may credit the beneficiary's account. The amount credited may be set off against an obligation owed by the beneficiary to the bank or may be applied to satisfy creditor process served on the bank with respect to the account.

(2) The bank may credit the beneficiary's account and allow withdrawal of the amount credited unless creditor process with respect to the account is served at a time and in a manner affording the bank a reasonable opportunity to act to prevent withdrawal.

(3) If creditor process with respect to the beneficiary's account has been served and the bank has had a reasonable opportunity to act on it, the bank may not reject the payment order except for a reason unrelated to the service of process.

(d) Creditor process with respect to a payment by the originator to the beneficiary pursuant to a funds transfer may be served only on the beneficiary's bank with respect to the debt owed by that bank to the beneficiary. Any other bank served with the creditor process is not obliged to act with respect to the process.

Section 4A-503. Injunction or Restraining Order with Respect to Funds Transfer.

For proper cause and in compliance with applicable law, a court may restrain (i) a person from issuing a payment order to initiate a funds transfer, (ii) an originator's bank from executing the payment order of the originator, or (iii) the beneficiary's bank from releasing funds to the beneficiary or the beneficiary from withdrawing the funds. A court may not otherwise restrain a person from issuing a payment order, paying or receiving payment of a payment order, or otherwise acting with respect to a funds transfer.

Section 4A-504. Order in Which Items and Payment Orders May Be Charged to Account; Order of Withdrawals from Account.

(a) If a receiving bank has received more than one payment order of the sender or one or more payment orders and other items that are payable from the sender's account, the bank may charge the sender's account with respect to the various orders and items in any sequence.

(b) In determining whether a credit to an account has been withdrawn by the holder of the account or applied to a debt of the holder of the account, credits first made to the account are first withdrawn or applied.

Section 4A-505. Preclusion of Objection to Debit of Customer's Account.

If a receiving bank has received payment from its customer with respect to a payment order issued in the name of the customer as sender and accepted by the bank, and the customer received notification reasonably identifying the order, the customer is precluded from asserting that the bank is not entitled to retain the payment unless the customer notifies the bank of the customer's objection to the payment within one year after the notification was received by the customer.

Section 4A-506. Rate of Interest.

(a) If, under this Article, a receiving bank is obliged to pay interest with respect to a payment order issued to the bank, the amount payable may be determined (i) by agreement of the sender and receiving bank, or (ii) by a funds transfer system rule if the payment order is transmitted through a funds transfer system.

(b) If the amount of interest is not determined by an agreement or rule as stated in subsection (a), the amount is calculated by multiplying the applicable federal funds rate by the amount on which interest is payable, and then multiplying the product by the number of days for which interest is payable. The applicable federal funds rate is the average of the federal funds rates published by the Federal Reserve

Bank of New York for each of the days for which interest is payable divided by three hundred and sixty. The federal funds rate for any day on which a published rate is not available is the same as the published rate for the next preceding day for which there is a published rate. If a receiving bank that accepted a payment order is required to refund payment to the sender of the order because the funds transfer was not completed, but the failure to complete was not due to any fault by the bank, the interest payable is reduced by a percentage equal to the reserve requirement on deposits of the receiving bank.

Section 4A-507. Choice of Law.

(a) The following rules shall apply unless the affected parties otherwise agree or subsection (c) applies:

(1) The rights and obligations between the sender of a payment order and the receiving bank are governed by the law of the jurisdiction in which the receiving bank is located.

(2) The rights and obligations between the beneficiary's bank and the beneficiary are governed by the law of the jurisdiction in which the beneficiary's bank is located.

(3) The issue of when payment is made pursuant to a funds transfer by the originator to the beneficiary is governed by the law of the jurisdiction in which the beneficiary's bank is located.

(b) If the parties described in each paragraph of subsection (a) have made an agreement selecting the law of a particular jurisdiction to govern rights and obligations between each other, the law of such jurisdiction shall govern such rights and obligations, whether or not the payment order or the funds transfer bears a reasonable relation to that jurisdiction.

(c) A funds transfer system rule may select the law of a particular jurisdiction to govern (i) rights and obligations between participating banks with respect to payment orders transmitted or processed through the system, or (ii) the rights and obligations of some or all parties to a funds transfer any part of which is carried out by means of the system. A choice of law made pursuant to clause (i) is binding on participating banks. A choice of law made pursuant to clause (ii) is binding on the originator, other sender, or a receiving bank having notice that the funds transfer system might be used in the funds transfer and of the choice of law by the system when the originator, other sender, or receiving bank issued or accepted a payment order. The beneficiary of a funds transfer is bound by the choice of law if, when the funds transfer is initiated, the beneficiary has notice that the funds transfer system might be used in the funds transfer and of the choice of law by the system. The law of a jurisdiction selected pursuant to this subsection may govern, whether or not that law bears a reasonable relation to the matter in issue.

(d) In the event of inconsistency between an agreement made under subsection (b) and a choice-of-law rule under subsection (c), the agreement under said subsection (b) shall prevail.

(e) If a funds transfer is made by use of more than one funds transfer system and there is inconsistency between choice-of-law rules of the systems, the matter in issue shall be governed by the law of the selected jurisdiction that has the most significant relationship to the matter in issue.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, but, subject to the provisions of section 4A-501 of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws, shall apply only to funds transfers in which the originator's bank received the payment order after said date.

RECEIPTS OF DEPOSITS FOR TRANSMITTAL TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Section 1. This chapter shall apply to all persons who engage or are financially interested in the business of receiving deposits of money for the purpose of transmitting the same or equivalents thereof to foreign countries, except banks chartered by the commonwealth, banks chartered by the federal government or another state of the United States and authorized to do banking business in the commonwealth, persons doing business under sections thirty-eight to forty-three, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, express companies having contracts with transportation companies for the operation of an express service upon the lines of such companies or express companies doing an international express business or global transportation companies or telegraph companies.

Section 2. Every person subject to section one, before engaging or becoming financially interested or continuing to engage or be financially interested in the business of receiving deposits of money for the purpose of transmitting the same or equivalents thereof to foreign countries, shall make, execute and deliver to the state treasurer a bond in a sum equal to twice the average weekly amount of money or equivalents thereof transmitted to foreign countries by such person, as determined by the commissioner of banks, hereinafter called the commissioner, but in no event shall the sum of the bond be less than fifty thousand dollars; provided, however, that a person carrying on business at more than one location need post only one such bond which shall be in the sum of fifty thousand dollars or twice the average total weekly amount of money or equivalents thereof transmitted to foreign countries from all locations, whichever is greater; and, provided further, that the sum of such bond shall be increased on order of the commissioner at any time to such amount as shall be shown by examination to be necessary. Such bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful holding and transmission of any money or equivalents thereof which shall have been delivered to such person for transmission to a foreign country and, in the event of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the principal, upon the payment of the full amount of such bond to the assignee, receiver or trustee of the principal, as the case may require, for the benefit of such persons as shall have delivered money or equivalents thereof to said principal for the purpose of transmitting the same to a foreign country.

Section 3. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, the provisions of this section shall apply to the bonds required by section two. Each such bond shall be executed by the person of whom it is required, as principal, and a surety company, approved by the commissioner, as surety. In lieu of the aforesaid surety, the person may deposit and the state treasurer shall accept as security for the fulfillment of the provisions of the bond, money, bonds of the United States, of the commonwealth or of any municipality thereof or, if approved by the commissioner, other bonds, certificates of deposit issued by a savings bank, cooperative bank, credit union, trust company, federal savings bank, federal savings and loan association, federal credit union or national bank, or savings accounts in such institutions. The money or securities so deposited shall be held upon the conditions specified in the bond. If securities be deposited in lieu of an approved surety and be accepted, the state treasurer shall require the depositor to maintain such deposit at a value equal to the amount fixed as the penalty of the bond and he may, in his discretion, permit the substitution of securities for money, or of money for securities, in whole or in part, or of money or securities for an approved surety, or of a bond for money or securities deposited or the withdrawal of securities deposited and the substitution of others of equal value in their place and, if the total value of the securities becomes substantially impaired, he shall require the deposit of money or additional securities sufficient to cover the impairment in value. No bond required by section two shall be accepted until it has been first examined and approved by the commissioner and the state treasurer and, upon such approval by the state treasurer, it shall be filed in his office. Upon notice of such approval by the state treasurer, the commissioner shall issue a license authorizing said person to carry on the business of receiving deposits of money for the purpose of transmitting the same or equivalents thereof to foreign countries. Such license shall be for a period of one year from July first. No person shall engage or become financially interested or continue to engage or be financially interested in the aforesaid business without such authority. The fee for such license shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven. The license shall not be transferred or assigned. It shall not authorize the transaction of business at any place other than that described in the license, except with the written approval of the commissioner. Immediately upon the receipt of the license issued by the commissioner, the licensee named therein shall cause the license to be posted and at all times conspicuously displayed in the place of business for which it is issued, so that all persons visiting such place may readily see the same. It shall be unlawful for any licensee to post the license or permit the license to be posted upon premises other than those described therein or those to which it has been transferred with the written approval of the commissioner, or knowingly to deface or destroy any such license. The money and securities deposited with the state treasurer as herein provided and the money which in case of breach of the bond shall be paid by any licensee or surety thereon, shall constitute a trust fund for the benefit of such persons as shall deposit money with the licensee for transmission as aforesaid and such beneficiaries shall be entitled to an absolute preference as to such money or securities over all general creditors of the licensee. The license shall be revocable at all times by the commissioner for cause shown and in the event of such revocation or a surrender of the license, no refund shall be made in respect to any license fee paid. Every license shall be surrendered to the commissioner within twenty-four hours after written notice to the holder that the license has been revoked. In case of revocation or surrender of, or failure to renew, a license, the money and securities and the bond, if there be one, shall continue to be held by the state treasurer for a period of one year from the date of such revocation, surrender or failure to renew and until the expiration of sixty days after final judgment in any action or suit commenced prior to the end of said period, unless otherwise directed by the order or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 4. The state treasurer shall keep a record, which shall be open to public inspection, of such bonds filed with him with the names and places of business of the principals and the name of any surety company, and the name of the officer before whom the bond was executed or acknowledged and any money or securities deposited in lieu of an approved surety as provided in section three.

Section 5. An action to recover on such bond may be brought by an aggrieved party in the superior court department of the trial court.

Section 6. The application for a license shall be in writing and on a form prescribed by the commissioner which shall contain the name and complete address where the business of such applicant is located and, if the applicant is a partnership, association, corporation or other business organization, the names and addresses of each member, director and principal officer thereof. Further such application shall include a description of the activities of the applicant, in such detail and for such periods as the commissioner may require, and such further information as the commissioner may require. Each application for a license shall be accompanied by an investigation fee to be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven. Said commissioner may reject an application for a license or an application for a renewal of a license if he finds that the financial responsibility, character, reputation, integrity and general fitness of the applicant and the members thereof if such applicant is a partnership or association, and of the officers and directors if the applicant is a corporation are not such as to warrant belief that the business will be operated in accordance with law and in the public interest. Each license shall state the name and address of the licensee and the city or town of the place where such business is to be carried on. If a licensee intends to carry on a business at more than one location, such licensee shall procure a license for each location where such business shall be conducted. Any change of location of a place of business of a licensee shall require prior written approval of the commissioner. Such request for relocation shall be in writing setting forth the reason for such request and shall be accompanied by a relocation investigation fee to be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of said section three B of said chapter seven.

Section 7. The commissioner may, from time to time, prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. Such rules and regulations may contain such classifications, differentiations or other provisions and may provide for such adjustments and exceptions for any class of transaction as in the judgment of the commissioner may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

Section 8. All money received for transmission to a foreign country by any licensee shall be forwarded to the person to whom the same is directed within seven days following receipt thereof. Receipts given for deposits of money received for transmission to a foreign country shall be on forms approved by the commissioner.

Section 9. Licensees shall, annually, within thirty days after the last business day in December and at such other times as the commissioner may specify, make a return to said commissioner in such form as said commissioner may prescribe, signed and sworn to by such officer or person as said commissioner may designate, which form shall disclose the condition of such licensee as of the close of business on the last day of December or such other day as the commissioner may prescribe.

A licensee who fails to make such annual report or fails to amend such report within fifteen days of notice from the commissioner to so amend such report shall, unless such failure is for good cause, pay to the commonwealth five dollars for each day which such neglect or failure continues.

Section 10. A licensee shall keep such books, accounts and records as will enable the commissioner to determine whether such licensee is in compliance with the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations made pursuant thereto and any other law, rule and regulation applicable to the conduct of such business. A licensee shall preserve such books, accounts and records for a period of at least three years. Preservation of such books, accounts and records by photographic reproduction thereof or record in photographic form shall constitute compliance with the requirements of this section. The books, accounts and records of every licensee shall be kept and audited in such manner and form as the commissioner may prescribe.

A licensee shall, when directed by the commissioner, permit the commissioner or his duly authorized representative to inspect its records and evidence of compliance with this chapter or any rule or regulation issued thereunder and with any other law, rule and regulation applicable to the conduct of its business. For the purposes of such inspection, the commissioner or his representative shall have access to the offices and place of business, books, accounts, papers, records and files of licensee. The commissioner and any person designated by him may require the attendance and testimony of all persons as he may deem necessary relative to the inspection of such business. The total cost for any such inspection, which shall be paid by the licensee within thirty days after the receipt of invoice therefor, shall be determined by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

Section 11. The commissioner, if he has reason to believe that a person other than a licensee has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, shall be authorized to make such investigations as he shall deem necessary and may examine such other person and shall compel the production of all relevant books, records, accounts and documents.

Section 12. The commissioner may suspend or revoke any license issued pursuant to this chapter if he finds that: (a) the licensee has violated any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation adopted hereunder or any other law applicable to the conduct of such business; or (b) any fact or condition exists which, if it had existed at the time of the original application for such license, would have warranted the commissioner to refuse to issue such license.

Except as provided in section thirteen, no license shall be revoked or suspended except after notice and hearing pursuant to chapter thirty A.

A licensee may surrender any license by delivering to the commissioner written notice thereof and such surrender shall not affect the civil or criminal liability of such licensee for acts committed before the effective date of such surrender. No revocation, suspension or surrender of any license shall impair or affect the obligation of any pre-existing contract between the licensee and any other person.

Section 13. (a) If the commissioner determines, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, that a licensee has engaged in or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of any provision of this chapter or any rule, regulation or order pursuant hereto, said commissioner may order such licensee to cease and desist from such unlawful act or practice and take such affirmative steps as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

(b) If the commissioner makes written findings that the public interest will be irreparably harmed by delay in issuing an order under subsection (a), he may issue a temporary cease and desist order. Upon the entry of a temporary cease and desist order, the commissioner shall promptly notify the licensee affected thereby, in writing, that such order has been so entered, the reasons therefor, and that within twenty days after the receipt of a written request from such licensee, the matter will be scheduled for hearing to determine whether or not such temporary order shall become permanent and final. If no such hearing is requested and none is ordered by the commissioner, the order shall remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the commissioner. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the commissioner, after giving notice and opportunity for a hearing to the licensee subject to said order, shall, by written finding of facts and conclusions of law, vacate or modify such order including making such order permanent.

(c) No order under this section, except a temporary order issued pursuant to subsection (b), shall be entered without prior notice and opportunity for a hearing. The commissioner may vacate or modify an order under this section upon finding that the conditions which required such an order have changed and that it is in the public interest to so vacate or modify such order.

An order issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to review as provided in chapter thirty A.

Section 14. If, after examination, it appears that a licensee is insolvent or that its capital is impaired or that its condition is such as to render the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or to those having funds in its custody, the commissioner shall apply or, if a licensee appears to have exceeded his powers or failed to comply with any provision of law, the commissioner may apply to the supreme judicial court to restrain such licensee from further proceeding with its business and to make such further order or decree as the court deems necessary. The court may appoint one or more receivers to take possession of the property and effects of such licensee, subject to such directions as may from time to time be prescribed by the court.

Section 15. The commissioner may enforce the provisions of this chapter or restrain violations thereof by filing a civil action in the superior court department of the trial court.

Section 16. Whoever violates any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation made hereunder by the commissioner shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, all licenses issued prior to the effective date of this act pursuant to chapter one hundred and sixty-nine of the General Laws and in effect on the effective date of this act and licenses issued pursuant to said chapter one hundred and sixty-nine on or after the effective date of this act shall expire on June thirtieth following the date of issuance of such license.

Chapter 339.        AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE CONVERSION OF A MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Chapter 175 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 19D the following section:-

Section 19E. Upon compliance with the requirements and completion of the proceedings prescribed by this section, a domestic mutual life insurance company may either (i) convert into a domestic stock life insurance company or (ii) so convert as part of a plan of reorganization in which a majority or all of the common shares of the domestic stock life insurance company is acquired by a parent corporation which may be organized for such purposes.

Such conversion shall be accomplished pursuant to a plan which complies with the following:

(1) Such plan shall be filed with the commissioner and shall be approved by him as conforming to the requirements of this section and as not prejudicial to the policyholders of such company or to the insuring public, after a hearing thereon for which notice was given to the insurer, its directors, officers, employees and policyholders, all of whom shall have the right to appear and be heard at the hearing.

(2) Such plan shall be approved by vote of not less than two-thirds of the votes of the insurer's policyholders voting thereon in person, by proxy or by mail at a meeting of policyholders called for that purpose pursuant to such reasonable notice and procedure as may be approved by the commissioner. Upon such approval, the conversion shall be effective as of the date specified in the plan. On and after such date, all the rights, franchises and interests of the insurer in and to every species of property shall be vested in the converted insurer without any deed or transfer and the converted insurer shall succeed to all the obligations and liabilities of the insurer.

(3) In exchange for all membership interests in the company, such plan shall give each eligible policyholder appropriate consideration. Said consideration shall be determinable under a fair and reasonable formula approved by the commissioner, and shall be based upon the insurer's entire surplus as shown by the insurer's financial statement most recently filed with the commissioner pursuant to section twenty-five, including all voluntary reserves but excluding contingently repayable funds and outstanding guaranty capital shares at the redemption value thereof, and without taking into account the value of nonadmitted assets or insurance business in force.

(4) Such plan shall give each eligible policyholder a pre-emptive right to acquire his proportionate part of all of the proposed capital stock of the insurer or of the proposed parent corporation within a designated reasonable period, and to apply upon the purchase thereof the amount of his consideration, as determined under subparagraph (3), except that the plan may provide that a policyholder may not purchase or receive stock pursuant to this section if it has an aggregate subscription price of two thousand dollars or less and that such pre-emptive right will not apply to policyholders who reside in jurisdictions in which the issuance of stock is impossible, would involve unreasonable delay or would require the insurer to incur unreasonable costs, provided that any such policyholder shall receive his consideration in cash.

(5) The policyholder eligible to participate in the distribution of consideration and to purchase stock shall be the person whose name appears on the conversion date on the insurer's records as owner of a policy under which there is a right to vote and which, on both the December thirty-first immediately preceding the conversion date and the date the insurer's board of directors first votes to convert to stock form, is in full force for its full basic benefits with no unpaid premium or consideration at the expiration of any applicable grace period, or which is being continued under a nonforfeiture benefit and continues to be eligible for participation in the insurer's annual distribution of divisible surplus.

(6) Shares are to be offered to policyholders at a price not greater than to be thereafter offered under the plan to others.

(7) Such plan shall provide for payment to each policyholder of consideration which may consist of cash, securities, a certificate of contribution, additional life insurance or annuity benefits, increased dividends or other consideration or any combination of such forms of consideration.

(8) Such plan, when completed, shall provide for the converted insurer's paid-in capital stock to be in an amount not less than the minimum paid-in capital stock and the net cash surplus required of a new domestic stock insurer upon initial authorization to transact like kinds of insurance.

(9) The commissioner shall find that the insurer's management has not, through reduction in volume of new business written, or cancellation or through any other means sought to reduce, limit or affect the number or identity of the insurer's policyholders to be entitled to participate in such plan or to otherwise secure for the individuals comprising management any unfair advantage through such plan.

---

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the inclusion in the conversion plan of provisions under which the individuals comprising the insurer's management and employee group shall be entitled to purchase for cash at the same price as offered to the insurer's policyholders, shares of stock not taken by policyholders on the pre-emptive offering to policyholders, in accordance with such reasonable classification of such individuals as may be included in the plan and approved by the commissioner.

The conversion plan may also include provisions restricting the ability of any person or persons acting in concert from directly or indirectly offering to acquire or acquiring the beneficial ownership of ten percent or more of any class of common stock of the converted insurer or the parent corporation.

No director, officer, agent or employee of the insurer, or any other person, shall receive any fee, commission or other valuable consideration whatsoever, other than their usual regular salaries and compensation, for in any manner aiding, promoting or assisting in such conversion, except as set forth in the plan approved by the commissioner. This provision shall not be deemed to prohibit the payment of reasonable fees and compensation to attorneys at law, accountants and actuaries for services performed in the independent practice of their professions, even though also directors of the insurer.

For the purpose of determining whether a conversion plan meets the requirements of this section and any other relevant provisions of this chapter, the commissioner may employ staff personnel and outside consultants. All reasonable costs related to the review of a plan of conversion, including those costs attributable to the use of staff personnel, shall be borne by the insurer making the filing.

The notice shall specify the grounds and factual basis for the refusal to commence payment of said benefits and shall state that if no claim has yet been filed, benefits will not be secured for the alleged injury unless a claim is filed with the department and insurer within any time limits provided under this chapter. Any grounds and basis for noncompensability specified by the insurer shall, unless based upon newly discovered evidence, be the sole basis of the insurer's defense on the issue of compensability in any subsequent proceeding. An insurer's inability to defend on any issue shall not relieve an employee of the burden of proving each element of any case.

(2) If an insurer fails to commence such payment or to make such notification within fourteen days, it shall pay to the employee a penalty in an amount equal to two hundred dollars. Where compensation is later ordered and interest is due the employee under section fifty, such penalty shall be considered compensation for the purpose of computing interest. No additional penalties shall be levied for continuing violations under this section, but the insurer shall be allowed no defenses against any initial claim for weekly benefits until any penalty owed under this section has been paid. No amount paid as a penalty under this section shall be included in any formula utilized to establish premium rates for workers' compensation insurance. SECTION 22. Chapter 152 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking section 7C and inserting in place thereof, the following section:-

Section 7C. Any party appearing before the division of dispute resolution may be heard in person, or may be represented by an attorney or by any other person designated by such party. No person who is not an attorney shall be compensated for representing a claimant in such a proceeding; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall bar payment by a labor organization, employee association, or insurer of any payment of regular wages or salary to a full time employee for time spent in representing a claimant. Any person denied or suspended under this provision shall have the right to appeal to the commissioner any denial or suspension within fourteen days of receipt of the notice. Section 7G. The senior judge in consultation with the commissioner shall promulgate rules setting forth the required documentation to be attached to any claim for benefits or complaint for modification or discontinuance of benefits. The attachment of all required documentation shall be a prerequisite for the acceptance of said claim or complaint for processing by the office of claims administration.

SECTION 23. Section 8 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsections (1), (2) and (3) and inserting in place thereof the following two subsections:-

(1) An insurer which makes timely payments pursuant to subsection one of section seven, may make such payments for a period of one hundred eighty calendar days from the commencement of disability without affecting its right to contest any issue arising under this chapter. An insurer may terminate or modify payments at any time within such one hundred eighty day period without penalty if such change is based on the actual income of the employee or if it gives the employee and the division of administration at least seven days written notice of its intent to stop or modify payments and contest any claim filed. The notice shall specify the grounds and factual basis for stopping or modifying payment of benefits and the insurer's intention to contest any issue and shall state that in order to secure additional benefits the employee shall file a claim with the department and insurer within any time limits provided by this chapter.

Any grounds and basis for noncompensability specified by the insurer shall be the sole basis of the insurer's defense on the basis of compensability, unless based on newly discovered evidence; provided, however, that an insurer's inability to defend on any issue shall not relieve an employee of the burden of proving each element of any case. Any failure of an insurer to make all payments due an employee under the terms of an order, decision, arbitrator's decision, approved lump sum or other agreement, or certified letter notifying said insurer that the employee has left work after an unsuccessful attempt to return within the time frame determined pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section within fourteen days of the insurer's receipt of such document, shall result in a penalty of two hundred dollars, payable to the employee to whom such payments were required to be paid by the said document; provided, however, that such penalty shall be one thousand dollars if all such payments have not been made within forty-five days, two thousand five hundred dollars if not made within sixty days, and ten thousand dollars if not made within ninety days. No penalty shall be assessed a self-administered public employer or the Workers' Compensation Trust Fund under this paragraph where delivery has been made to the employee or other recipient of a copy of an official request made by such employer or fund to the appropriate authority for the issuance of a check in the appropriate amount to said recipient, provided that delivery of such copy to said employee or recipient has been made within fourteen days of the employer or fund's receipt of the order, decision or agreement.

(2) An insurer paying weekly compensation benefits shall not modify or discontinue such payments except in the following situations:

(a) compensation has been modified or discontinued pursuant to an order or decision of an arbitrator, an administrative judge, the reviewing board or court of the commonwealth;

(b) the compensation recipient has assented thereto in writing on a form prescribed by the department and the original of such form has been filed with the department;

(c) the employee has returned to work; provided, however, that the insurer shall forthwith resume payments if, within twenty-eight calendar days of return to such employment, the employee leaves such employment and, within twenty-one calendar days thereafter, informs the employer and insurer by certified letter that the disability resulting from the injury renders him incapable of performing such work; provided, further, that if due, compensation shall be paid under section thirty-five;

(d) the insurer has possession of (i) a medical report from the treating physician, or, if an impartial medical examiner has made a report pursuant to section eleven A or subsection (4) of this section, the report of such examiner, and either of such reports indicates that the employee is capable of return to the job held at the time of injury, or other suitable job pursuant to section thirty-five D consistent with the employee's physical and mental condition as reported by said physician and (ii) a written report from the person employing said employee at the time of the injury indicating that such a suitable job is open and has been made available, and remains open to the employee; provided, however, that if due, compensation shall be paid under section thirty-five; provided, further, that if such employee accepts said employment subsequent to a modification or termination pursuant to this paragraph, compensation shall be reinstated at the prior rate if the employee should cease work in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section or should be terminated by the employer because of the employee's physical or mental incapacity to perform the duties required by the job;

(e) payments are terminated or modified pursuant to subsection (1);

(f) the insurer has received a communication from the office of education and vocational rehabilitation authorizing suspension or reduction of payment under section thirty G;

(g) the benefits payable to the employee have been exhausted pursuant to sections thirty-one, thirty-four, or thirty-five;

(h) payments are suspended or reduced pursuant to section eleven D for failure to respond to an insurer's written request to provide an earnings report, or for past overpayments;

(i) payments are suspended pursuant to section forty-five, provided that the department shall provide by rule for the manner of any such suspension, and subsequent reinstatement or forfeiture;

(j) the employee has been incarcerated pursuant to conviction for a felony or misdemeanor and has thereby forfeited any right to compensation during such period; or

(k) payments are suspended or reduced pursuant to section thirty-six B; or

(l) the employee has died. For purposes of clause (d) of this section, any termination of an employee within one year of resumption of work with his prior employer will be presumed to be for the reason that the employee was physically or mentally incapable of performing the duties required by the job or that the job was unsuitable for the employee, unless the insurer demonstrates the contrary by a preponderance of evidence at a subsequent proceeding.

SECTION 24. Said section 8 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (4) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(4) An insurer who makes prompt payment of benefits pursuant to section seven and continues payment for one hundred eighty days or more, without contesting liability, may, no sooner than sixty days following the referral to the industrial accident board of a complaint for termination or reduction of benefits under section thirty-four, thirty-four A or thirty-five, if no conference order has been issued during such sixty day period, request the senior judge to appoint an impartial physician to examine the employee. The senior judge shall, within seven days of a request for an impartial examination, appoint a physician from the appropriate roster to conduct an examination of the employee and make a report within fourteen days. If such report contains evidence of increased capability to work, the insurer may reduce or terminate benefits in accordance with such report, pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-five D. In such instances, if the requirements of this subsection have been complied with, when an order is issued on the insurer's complaint, if such order requires that retroactive weekly benefits are due the employee, an additional payment equal to two times the average weekly wage in the commonwealth shall also be paid to the employee.

At any time subsequent to the filing of a claim or complaint solely regarding the reasonableness or necessity of a particular course of medical treatment, any party to such claim or complaint may request the senior judge to appoint a physician from the appropriate roster to conduct an examination of the employee and make a report within fourteen days. If the senior judge determines that said claim or complaint involves only the issue of reasonable and necessary medical treatment, he shall make such appointment within seven days. The impartial physician shall determine the appropriateness of any medical treatment claimed or denied by the parties, using any guidelines adopted by the health care services board or promulgated by the department. The determination by the impartial physician shall be binding upon the parties until any subsequent proceeding within the division of dispute resolution. The determination of the impartial physician shall be prima facie evidence of the appropriateness or inappropriateness of the course of medical treatment in question at any hearing at which such treatment is at issue.

SECTION 25. Said section 8 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (6) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(6) Any one hundred eighty day payment without prejudice period herein provided may be extended to a period not to exceed one year by agreement of the parties provided that:

(a) the agreement sets out the last day of such extension; and

(b) a conciliator, administrative judge, or administrative law judge approves such agreement as not detrimental to the employee's case.

---

Chap. 398

All the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall apply to any period of payment without prejudice extended as provided in this subsection. Any payment without prejudice under this section shall toll the statute of limitations pursuant to section forty-one.

SECTION 26. Said chapter 152, is hereby amended by striking out section 10, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 10. (1) Any claim for benefits shall be filed with the division of administration and the insurer on a form prescribed by the division, and shall specifically state the benefits claimed to be due and unpaid. No claim for weekly compensation shall be accepted by the department unless it is either accompanied by a copy of an insurer's notification of denial pursuant to section seven, or at least thirty days have passed from the alleged onset of disability.

Unless otherwise expressly provided, on the receipt of a claim for compensation, a complaint from the insurer requesting a modification or discontinuance of benefits, or a complaint from any party requesting resolution of any other issue arising under this chapter, the division of administration shall notify the parties that it is in receipt of such claim or complaint, and may request the parties to appear and submit relevant information. The conciliation unit within the division of dispute resolution may attempt to resolve the claim or complaint by informal means and the parties shall cooperate with any conciliator assigned to the case. The assigned conciliator shall withdraw without prejudice the claim or complaint of any party that fails to cooperate or to produce requested material.

In order for an attorney's fee to be required under section thirteen A, pursuant to a dispute over a claim for benefits under this chapter, such claim shall have been sent to the insurer by certified mail. No attorney's fee shall be due for services involving a claim sent to the insurer which does not include a copy of a medical report relevant to the alleged claim in the possession of the employee or his attorney. In order for any attorney's fee to be due for services involving a claim for health care services, such claim shall include a copy of any relevant bill and a description from the health care provider of the services rendered. No attorney's fee shall be due for services involving claim for benefits for loss of function or disfigurement under section thirty-six unless such claim includes a copy of a letter from a physician describing the location and extent of the alleged loss of function or disfigurement and the specific amount requested for compensation therefor. No attorney's fee shall be due for services involving claims for mileage reimbursement unless such claims delineate the date and purpose for the travel, identity of the medical provider and mileage of each trip for which reimbursement is sought. No attorney's fee shall be due for any claim solely involving unpaid attorney's fees or expenses for past services.

(2) Any claim or complaint shall be referred to the industrial accident board within fifteen business days of its receipt by the division of administration unless:

(a) the moving party fails to appear on request of the conciliation unit or provide requested information;

(b) a conciliator authorizes an extension of the conciliation period, attaching the reasons therefor to the case file, or

(c) the conciliator receives an agreement signed by the parties, on a form prescribed by the department, indicating that they will abide by the findings of an independent arbitrator chosen by such parties to make findings as to compensation pursuant to section ten B. Any conciliator, within their departmental capacity, may also be chosen by the parties to serve as the arbitrator. Said agreement may specify that any subsequent claim or complaint regarding the instant injury shall, after having been filed with the department, and, provided that such subsequent claim or complaint has not been successfully mediated by the assigned conciliator, be forwarded to the same or other agreed upon arbitrator and not be referred to the division of dispute resolution. When presented with such a signed agreement, the assigned conciliator shall mark the case as forwarded to arbitration.

Any party aggrieved by an extension of the conciliation period or by the conciliator's withdrawal of a claim or complaint may file a written appeal with the senior judge who, if all requested information has been submitted, shall set a date for referral to the industrial accident board.

(3) In any instance in which the respondent to a claim or complaint either fails to appear or is not authorized to negotiate, enter into and sign agreements as to compensation at a conciliation, said claim or complaint shall forthwith be referred to the industrial accident board.

(4) In each instance in which a claim or complaint is referred to the industrial accident board following a conciliation, the conciliator to whom the case was assigned shall forward a written report setting out the issues in controversy and the information he deems to support:

(a) his recommendation that weekly compensation or other benefits should or should not be paid;

(b) his recommendation that weekly compensation or other benefits should or should not be modified or terminated; or

(c) his report that the information available at the conciliation is insufficient for determining whether weekly compensation or other benefits should be paid, modified, or terminated.

(5) In each instance in which a claim for compensation is referred to the industrial accident board, the insurer shall pay a fee of sixty-five percent of the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at that time; provided, however, that in the event that the insurer failed to appear at a scheduled conciliation, and such failure was not beyond the control of said insurer, the referral fee shall be one hundred and thirty percent of the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at that time. In such event the referral fee shall not be included in any formula utilized to establish premium rates for workers' compensation insurance. Any referral fee shall be paid into the Special Revenue Fund established pursuant to section sixty-five. If, prior to a claim or complaint being scheduled before an administrative judge, the parties shall forward to the senior judge a written arbitration agreement pursuant to section ten B, the department shall refund any referral fee for such claim or complaint paid under this section.

(6) Whenever, with respect to a case in which liability is not an issue, a claim for additional compensation or a complaint to discontinue or modify compensation is the subject of conciliation the case shall not be referred to the industrial accident board until each party shall have filed with the conciliator a written offer which such party believes to be the amount of weekly compensation due the claimant under this chapter. If the claimant fails to file such offer within any time limit set forth by the conciliator assigned to the case, such conciliator shall file, on behalf of such claimant, an amount equal to the last best offer made by such claimant, or if no offer was made, the maximum compensation rate in the commonwealth, indicating that it was filed by said conciliator. If the insurer fails to file such offer within any time limit set forth by the conciliator assigned to the case, such conciliator shall file, on behalf of such insurer, an amount equal to the last best offer made by such insurer, or if no offer was made, the amount of zero, indicating that it was filed by said conciliator.

SECTION 27. Subsection (1) of said section 10A of chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the first sentence the following sentence:- Except where events beyond the control of the department make such scheduling impracticable, the administrative judge assigned to any case referred to the division of dispute resolution shall retain exclusive jurisdiction over the matter and any subsequent claim or complaint related to the alleged injury shall be referred to the same administrative judge.

SECTION 28. Subsection (2) of said section 10A of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

Whenever the subject of the conference is a claim or complaint for which written offers have been filed pursuant to section ten, the order or arbitrator's award modifying, terminating, or denying modification or termination of weekly compensation benefits shall reflect the amount so filed by one or other of the parties, or by a conciliator on behalf of a party, and shall not require any payment, modification or termination which has not been proposed by either party unless the judge or arbitrator provides a detailed written explanation of why neither submitted amount could reasonably be believed to accurately compensate the employee for his or her earning capacity. Whenever, with respect to a case in which liability is not an issue, a claim for additional compensation or a complaint to discontinue or modify compensation is among the issues before the administrative judge or arbitrator, if written amounts have not been filed at conciliation as hereinbefore provided, or are unavailable on the date of the conference or arbitration for any other reason or if the judge or arbitrator determines that a party that has previously filed an amount with a conciliator in good faith has subsequently acquired new information regarding earning capacity not available at the time of conciliation, the administrative judge or arbitrator shall require or, in case of newly discovered information, allow such filings at the close of the conference or arbitration, and the order or award shall reflect one of the offers so filed and not substitute any other amount unless the judge or arbitrator provides a detailed written explanation of why neither submitted amount could reasonably be believed to accurately compensate the employee for his or her earning capacity.

Nothing in this section shall restrict the authority of an administrative judge to order weekly benefits or health care services for a closed period into the future or to order that such benefits or services be initiated, modified, or terminated at a particular date in the future.

SECTION 29. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 10A the following two sections:-

Section 10B. (1) At any time prior to five days before a conference held pursuant to section ten A, the parties to a claim or complaint may agree to refer the matter to an independent arbitrator; provided, however, that such arbitrator shall not have appeared before an administrative judge or the reviewing board as an advocate on behalf of any party for at least one year. Parties who wish to refer a matter to arbitration shall sign a written agreement to arbitrate which shall be enforceable in accordance with the provisions of section one of chapter two hundred and fifty-one. The agreement shall require that the arbitrator determine all questions regarding this chapter, and, except as provided in subsection four, it shall provide that the parties will abide by the findings and award of the arbitrator which shall be final and binding upon them. The agreement shall also identify all costs and fees which may be payable in the arbitration and shall state which party shall be responsible for the payments.

(2) Upon receipt of a written agreement to arbitrate signed by the parties, the department shall mark the case as forwarded to arbitration, and all further proceedings on the case before the division of dispute resolution shall be stayed. No further claim or complaint may be filed with the department with respect to the same injury or condition that is the subject of the arbitration until the department is in receipt of the arbitrator's award or a written withdrawal from arbitration signed by both parties.

(3) An agreement to arbitrate entered into by the parties may also provide that any subsequent claim or complaint filed by either party with respect to the same injury or condition that is the subject of the initial arbitration must likewise be referred for findings by the same arbitrator or another arbitrator agreed to by the parties. Whenever a subsequent claim or complaint is filed with the department

after the parties have entered into an agreement for arbitration of successive claims and complaints in accordance with this paragraph, the department shall mark the case as forwarded to arbitration and paragraph two shall apply.

(4) Any arbitration authorized pursuant to this section shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-one. The arbitrator shall have all of the powers and duties provided in said chapter two hundred and fifty-one, and the arbitrator's award may be reviewed, modified or set aside only as provided in that chapter. The arbitrator's award shall include his findings as to compensation, an order requiring or denying payment of compensation, modifying or terminating compensation, or denying modification or termination of compensation. The arbitrator's award may be enforced pursuant to section twelve of this chapter. The arbitrator shall provide the department with a copy of the arbitration award upon its issuance. Any party seeking to vacate or modify an arbitration award shall do so pursuant to the provisions of sections twelve and thirteen, respectively, of chapter two hundred fifty-one.

(5) At any stage of the proceedings before the department the parties to a claim or complaint may agree to mediate the matter before an independent mediator selected by the parties. Agreement by the parties to mediation shall not result in the postponement or stay of any proceedings before the department, nor shall any party be considered to have waived its right to proceed with its case before the department by virtue of its agreement to mediate. The work product and case files of the mediator shall be confidential and subject to the evidentiary privilege set forth in section twenty-three C of chapter two hundred and thirty-three. The costs and fees of mediation shall be subject to the agreement of the parties and the mediator.

Section 10C. (1) Any employer, and the recognized or certified and exclusive representative of its employees may agree by collective bargaining to establish certain binding obligations and procedures relating to workers' compensation; provided, however, that the scope of the agreement shall be limited to:

(a) benefits supplemental to those provided in sections thirty-four, thirty-four A, thirty-five and thirty-six;

(b) an alternative dispute resolution system which may include but is not limited to arbitration, mediation and conciliation;

(c) the use of a limited list of providers for medical treatment;

(d) the use of a limited list of impartial physicians;

(e) the creation of a light duty, modified job or return to work program;

(f) the adoption of twenty-four hour health care coverage plan;

(g) the establishment of safety committees and safety procedures; and

(h) the establishment of vocational rehabilitation or retraining programs.

SECTION 30. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 11A, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 11A. (1) With the assistance of the medical consultant to the commissioner and the administrative judges, the senior judge shall periodically review and update a roster of impartial medical examiners who are certified specialists in various medical fields and who are willing to make prompt reports and be deposed as hereinafter provided. The department shall establish criteria for being named to and remaining on said roster.

(2) When any claim or complaint involving a dispute over medical issues is the subject of an appeal of a conference order pursuant to section ten A, the parties shall agree upon an impartial medical examiner from the roster to examine the employee and submit such choice to the administrative judge assigned to the case within ten calendar days of filing the appeal, or said administrative judge shall appoint such examiner from the roster. The insurer or any claimant represented by counsel who files such appeal shall also submit a fee equal to the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the time of the appeal to defray the cost of the medical examination under this section within ten days of filing said appeal; provided, however, that where more than one party appeals, the fee shall be divided equally among all appealing parties; provided, further, that such amount paid by a claimant shall be refunded by the insurer to any claimant who prevails at the hearing.

The impartial medical examiner, so agreed upon or appointed, shall examine the employee and make a report at least one week prior to the beginning of the hearing, which shall be sent to each party. No hearing shall be commenced sooner than one week after such report has been received by the parties. The report of the impartial medical examiner shall, where feasible, contain a determination of the following: (i) whether or not a disability exists, (ii) whether or not any such disability is total or partial and permanent or temporary in nature, and (iii) whether or not within a reasonable degree of medical certainty any such disability has as its major or predominant contributing cause a personal injury arising out of and in the course of the employee's employment. Such report shall also indicate the examiner's opinion as to whether or not a medical end result has been reached and what permanent impairments or losses of function have been discovered, if any. Such impartial physician's report shall constitute prima facie evidence of the matters contained therein.

Failure of an employee to report to an impartial medical examiner agreed upon or appointed under this section or under section eight, after due notice and without cause, and failure to submit to such examiner all relevant medical records, medical reports, medical histories, and any other relevant information requested without good reason, shall constitute sufficient cause for suspension of benefits pursuant to section forty-five. The report of the impartial medical examiner shall be admitted into evidence at the hearing. Either party shall have the right to engage the impartial medical examiner to be deposed for purposes of cross examination. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, no additional medical reports or depositions of any physicians shall be allowed by right to any party; provided, however, that the administrative judge may, on his own initiative or upon a motion by a party, authorize the submission of additional medical testimony when such judge finds that said testimony is required due to the complexity of the medical issues involved or the inadequacy of the report submitted by the impartial medical examiner. The fact that the impartial examiner has not treated the employee shall not constitute sufficient reason for finding any report of an impartial medical examiner inadequate.

(3) The fee for the provision of a medical report by any impartial medical examiner engaged under this section shall be a reasonable amount approved by the commissioner, and shall be paid by the department to the physician promptly upon receipt of the report. The fee for the provision of a deposition by any impartial medical examiner engaged under this section shall be a reasonable amount approved by the commissioner, and shall be paid by the deposing party directly to the physician promptly upon receipt of the report; provided, however, that if the decision of the administrative judge is in favor of the employee, the cost of such deposition shall be added to the amount awarded to the employee and be paid by the insurer under the provisions of this chapter. In reviewing and updating said roster, the senior judge shall utilize the criteria developed by the health care services board pursuant to section thirteen.

SECTION 31. Section 11C of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the fifth to eighth sentences and inserting in place thereof the following three sentences:- The reviewing board shall reverse the decision of an administrative judge only if it determines that such administrative judge's decision is beyond the scope of his authority, arbitrary or capricious, or contrary to law. The reviewing board may, when appropriate, recommit a case before it to an administrative judge for further findings of fact. Where the reviewing board affirms the decision of an administrative judge, it may do so in summary fashion and without discussion of the issues raised on appeal.

SECTION 32. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 11C the following section:-

Section 11D. (1) Any employee entitled to receive weekly compensation under this chapter shall have an affirmative duty to report to the insurer all earnings, including wages or salary earned from self-employment. Insurers shall notify employees of said duty on a form approved by the department. Such form shall indicate that failure to report any earnings may subject the employee to civil or criminal penalties, and shall further indicate that failure to file an earnings report on a form approved by the department within thirty days of an insurer's request for such filing may result in the insurer's suspension of the employee's weekly benefits; provided, however, that no employee shall be required to file an earnings report more often than once every six months.

(2) An insurer in receipt of an earnings report indicating that overpayments have been made shall be entitled to recover such overpayments by unilateral reduction of weekly benefits, by no more than thirty percent per week, of any remaining compensation owed the employee; provided, however, that the reported earnings are of a kind that could have been considered in the computation of the employee's compensation rate. Where overpayments have been made that cannot be recovered in this manner, recoupment may be ordered pursuant to the filing of a complaint under section ten or by bringing an action against the employee in superior court.

(3) An insurer that has paid compensation pursuant to a conference order, shall, upon receipt of a decision of an administrative judge or a court of the commonwealth which indicates that overpayments have been made be entitled to recover such overpayments by unilateral reduction of weekly benefits, by no more than thirty percent per week, of any remaining compensation owed the employee. Where overpayments have been made that cannot be recovered in this manner, recoupment may be ordered pursuant to the filing of a complaint pursuant to section ten or by bringing an action against the employee in superior court.

(4) Where an order of recoupment against an employee has not been fulfilled, and weekly benefits are owed to an employee under this chapter by an insurer other than that to which recoupment has been ordered, such insurer shall reduce by thirty percent said weekly benefits payable to the employee, and shall pay such thirty percent excess directly to the insurer to whom recoupment has been ordered, until full recovery has been made.

SECTION 32A. Section 12 of said chapter 152 is hereby amended by adding at the end of subsection (2), the following:- and provided further that clause (e) of paragraph seven of section fourteen of chapter thirty A shall not apply to such appeals.

SECTION 33. Subsection (1) of section 13 of said chapter 152, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first and second paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

The rate of payment by insurers for health care services adjudged compensable under this chapter shall be established by the rate setting commission under the provisions of chapter six A; provided, however, that a different rate for services may be agreed upon by the insurer, the employer and the health care service provider.

Except as provided above, no insurer shall be liable for hospitalization expenses adjudged compensable under this chapter at a rate in excess of the rate set by the rate setting commission, or for other health services in excess of the rate established for that service by the rate setting commission regardless of the setting in which the service is administered. Requests for reimbursement for health services under this chapter must be signed by the person performing such service and must be accompanied by a detailed description of the service rendered as well as the name and licensure number of the person performing such service. All health services provided under this chapter shall be subject to the provisions of section three of chapter one hundred and seventy-five H and 42 CFR 1001.951-1001.953, the so-called "safe harbor regulations" as adopted by the federal government on July twenty-nine, nineteen hundred and ninety-one. No employee shall be liable for health care services adjudged compensable under this chapter.

SECTION 34. Subsection (3) of said section 13 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following eight sentences:- The health care services board shall receive and investigate complaints from employees, employers and insurers regarding health care providers who provide services under this chapter who are alleged to have engaged in patterns of (i) discrimination against compensation claimants, (ii) overutilization of procedures, (iii) unnecessary surgery or other procedures, or (iv) other inappropriate treatment of compensation recipients. Where such board finds a pattern of abuse, it shall refer its findings to the appropriate board of registration. No member of the health care services board shall be liable for damages resulting from any investigation under this paragraph in any action brought by any party against such board or any individual member thereof, provided that the performance of the duties of such member were undertaken in good faith. The health care services board shall develop itself or the commissioner may contract with one or more organizations with demonstrated expertise in the treatment of work-related injuries and illnesses to develop written guidelines for appropriate and necessary treatment based on diagnosis of injuries and illnesses. Said guidelines shall include appropriate mechanisms for deviation of treatment. The board shall no later than July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, distribute said guidelines in draft form for public comment and no later than January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, endorse the first version of said guidelines for use by health care providers in the treatment of injuries and illnesses under this chapter. The board shall at least annually review and where appropriate revise said guidelines. The cost of any contract for development, review, revision or dissemination of said guidelines shall be paid out of the Workers' Compensation Special Fund pursuant to section sixty-five.

The health care services board shall develop criteria in order to select and maintain a roster of qualified impartial physicians to provide objective medical opinions pursuant to sections eight and eleven A of this chapter. Said criteria shall further be used, when necessary, to remove any impartial physicians from the roster when a medical provider fails to comply with the criteria. Upon the establishment of criteria, the health care services board shall refer said criteria to the senior administrative judge who shall develop a roster of impartial physicians.

The commissioner shall have the authority to hire the personnel necessary to carry out the duties of the board pursuant to this section.

SECTION 35. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 13A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 13A. (1) Whenever an insurer contests an initial liability claim for benefits submitted on a form prescribed by the department, by failing to commence the compensation requested within twenty-one days of receipt of such claim, and then, at any time prior to a conference held under section ten A, the insurer agrees to pay, with or without prejudice, the compensation claimed to be due, said insurer shall pay an attorney's fee to the employee's counsel in the amount of seven hundred dollars, plus necessary expenses; provided, however, that only one such fee shall be paid with respect to any such written claim under this paragraph. An insurer shall reduce such a fee to three hundred fifty dollars when pursuant to a conciliator's finding said attorney failed to appear at a scheduled conciliation and such failure was not beyond the control of said attorney. Only one fee under this paragraph shall be paid with respect to any written claim. A conciliator shall have the authority to extend the twenty-one day period within which no attorney's fee is due to no more than thirty-five days, if in the opinion of the conciliator such extension increases the likelihood of the payment of the claim prior to referral to the industrial accident board. Such extensions shall be granted after consultation with the parties and a written indication shall be appended to the case file.

(2) Whenever an insurer contests an initial liability claim for benefits as provided by subsection (1), and then is ordered to pay such benefits by an administrative judge pursuant to a conference held under section ten A, said insurer shall pay an attorney's fee to the employee's counsel in the amount of one thousand dollars, plus necessary expenses; provided, however, that an administrative judge may increase or decrease such fee based on the complexity of the dispute or the effort expended by the attorney; provided, further, that only one such fee under this paragraph shall be paid with respect to any such written claim. An insurer shall reduce such a fee to five hundred dollars when, pursuant to a conciliator's finding said attorney failed to appear at a scheduled conciliation and such failure was not beyond the control of said attorney.

(3) Whenever an insurer contests a claim for benefits on a form prescribed by the department other than an initial liability claim as provided by subsection (1), by failing to commence the compensation requested within twenty-one days of receipt of such claim and then, at any time prior to a conference pursuant to section ten A the insurer agrees to pay the compensation claimed to be due, said insurer shall pay an attorney's fee to the employee's counsel in the amount of five hundred dollars, plus necessary expenses; provided, however, that only one such fee shall be paid with respect to any such written claim under this paragraph. An insurer shall reduce such a fee to two hundred fifty dollars when, pursuant to a conciliator's finding, said attorney failed to appear at a scheduled conciliation and such failure was not beyond the control of said attorney. For purposes of this subsection, the filing of a subsequent written request on a prescribed form shall be deemed an additional written claim for benefits. A conciliator shall have the authority to extend the twenty-one day period within which no attorney's fee is due to no more than thirty-five days, if, in the opinion of the conciliator, such extension increases the likelihood of the payment of the claim prior to referral to the industrial accident board. Such extensions shall be granted after consultation with the parties and a written indication shall be appended to the case file.

(4) Whenever an insurer files a complaint to reduce or discontinue an employee's benefits or whenever an insurer contests a claim for benefits on a form prescribed by the department other than an initial liability claim as provided by subsection (1), by failing to commence the compensation requested within twenty-one days of receipt of such claim, if the order of the administrative judge pursuant to a conference held under section ten A, reflects the written offer submitted by the claimant or by a conciliator on the claimant's behalf, pursuant to section ten or section ten A, said insurer shall pay an attorney's fee to the employee's counsel in the amount of seven hundred dollars, plus necessary expenses. If the order of the administrative judge, reflects the written offer submitted by the insurer or by a conciliator on the insurer's behalf, pursuant to section ten or section ten A, no attorney's fee shall be payable to the employees' counsel. If the order reflects an amount different from both submissions, the fee shall be in the amount of three hundred fifty dollars, plus necessary expenses. Any fee payable under this paragraph shall be reduced by half when the attorney failed to appear at a scheduled conciliation, and such failure was not beyond the control of said attorney. Only one such fee shall be paid with respect to any particular written claim under this paragraph.

(5) Whenever an insurer files a complaint or contests a claim for benefits and then either (i) accepts the employee's claim or withdraws its own complaint within five days of the date set for a hearing pursuant to section eleven; or (ii) the employee prevails at such hearing the insurer shall pay a fee to the employee's attorney in an amount equal to three thousand five hundred dollars plus necessary expenses. An administrative judge may increase or decrease such fee based on the complexity of the dispute or the effort expended by the attorney.

(6) Whenever an insurer appeals a decision of an administrative judge and the employee prevails in the decision of the reviewing board, the insurer shall pay a fee to the employee's attorney in the amount of one thousand dollars, plus necessary expenses. An administrative judge may increase or decrease such fee based on the complexity of the dispute or the effort expended by the attorney.

(7) Whenever an employee appeals a decision of an administrative judge and the employee prevails in the decision of the reviewing board, the employee shall pay an attorney's fee sufficient to defray the reasonable costs of counsel retained by said employee. Subject to the approval of the reviewing board, such fee shall be an amount agreed to by the employee and his attorney.

(8) Whenever an insurer and an employee agree to a settlement under section forty-eight, the attorney's fee shall be paid from the settlement in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) when the insurer and the employee reach such settlement prior to insurer acceptance of liability or prior to a decision of an administrative judge, the reviewing board, or the appeals court of the commonwealth finding insurer liability, such fee shall be no more than fifteen percent of the amount of such settlement;

(b) when the insurer and the employee reach such settlement subsequent to insurer acceptance of liability or subsequent to a decision of an administrative judge, the reviewing board, or the appeals court of the commonwealth finding insurer liability which is in effect at the time such agreement is entered into, such fee shall be no more than twenty percent of amount of such settlement.

(9) In any hearing or review requested by an insurer aggrieved by an order or decision with respect to an injury occurring prior to November first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six or in a proceeding brought by an insurer or self-insurer as to the continuance of compensation being paid under this chapter for an injury occurring prior to November first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, there shall be awarded an amount sufficient to compensate the employee for the reasonable costs of such hearing review or proceeding including reasonable counsel fees and expenses, provided that the employee prevails at such hearing review or proceeding. Such amounts shall be paid by the insurer. Any other attorneys' fees for services provided claimants for injuries prior to November first, nineteen hundred and eighty-six, shall be of an amount agreed upon between the employee and the attorney.

(10) The attorneys' fees specified in this section shall be the only fees payable for any services provided to employees under this chapter unless otherwise provided by an arbitration agreement pursuant to section ten B. In any instance in which an attorney's fee under subsection (1) to (6), inclusive, is due as a result of a cash award being made to the employee either voluntarily, or pursuant to an order or decision, the insurer may reduce the amount payable to the employee within the first month from the date of the voluntary payment order or decision, by the amount owed the claimant's attorney; provided, however, that the amount paid to the employee shall not be reduced to a sum less than seventy-eight percent of what the employee would have received within that month if no attorney's fee were payable. The dollar amounts specified in said subsections (1) to (6), inclusive, of this section shall be changed October first of each year by the percentage change in adjusted benefits from the preceding year as calculated and limited in paragraph

(a) of section thirty-four B. The department shall provide by rule the necessary expenses that are reimbursable under this section. No fees shall be payable under subsection (1), (2), (3) or (4) unless the claim subject to the dispute was filed according to the provisions of section ten.

(11) In any proceeding at which a penalty pursuant to section seven or section eight is awarded an employee by an administrative judge, the attorney's fee payable for such proceeding shall not be included in any formula utilized to establish premium rates for workers' compensation.

SECTION 36. Section 14 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (1) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(1) Except as provided in subsection three, if any administrative judge or administrative law judge determines that any proceedings have been brought, prosecuted, or defended by an insurer without reasonable grounds:

(a) the whole cost of the proceedings shall be assessed upon the insurer; and

(b) if a subsequent order requires that additional compensation be paid, a penalty of double back benefits of such amount shall be paid by the insurer to the employee, and such penalty shall not be included in any formula utilized to establish premium rates for workers' compensation insurance.

If any administrative judge or administrative law judge determines that any proceedings have been brought or defended by an employee or counsel without reasonable grounds, the whole cost of the proceedings shall be assessed against the employee or counsel, whomever is responsible.

SECTION 37. Said section 14 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (2) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(2) If it is determined that in any proceeding within the division of dispute resolution, a party, including an attorney or expert medical witness acting on behalf of an employee or insurer, concealed or knowingly failed to disclose that which is required by law to be revealed, knowingly used perjured testimony or false evidence, knowingly made a false statement of fact or law, participated in the creation or presentation of evidence which he knows to be false, or otherwise engaged in conduct that such party knew to be illegal or fraudulent, the party's conduct shall be reported to the general counsel of the insurance fraud bureau. Notwithstanding any action the insurance fraud bureau may take, the party shall be assessed, in addition to the whole costs of such proceedings and attorneys' fees, a penalty payable to the aggrieved insurer or employee, in an amount not less than the average weekly wage in the commonwealth multiplied by six. A copy of any order or decision requiring the payment of penalties by an attorney under this section shall be referred to the board of bar overseers. Any expert medical witness who knowingly makes false statements in any medical report or deposition or who provides testimony of any kind in a proceeding under this chapter on behalf of a party he knows to be engaging in a fraudulent claim or defense, shall be subject to the same penalties applicable to attorneys herein. A copy of any order or decision requiring the payment of penalties by a physician under this section shall be reported to the appropriate board of registration. Any action provided in this subsection shall be brought by an employee or insurer in the department, or by an employee, employer or insurer in the superior court department of the trial court for the county in which the injury occurred or in the county of Suffolk; provided, however, that if presented to the superior court for the county of Suffolk, the court may, on motion of any party in interest, order the case removed to the superior court for the county in which the injury occurred.

SECTION 38. Said section 14 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following subsection:-

(3) Notwithstanding any provision of section one hundred and eleven A of chapter two hundred and sixty-six to the contrary, any person who knowingly makes any false or misleading statement, representation or submission or knowingly assists, abets, solicits or conspires in the making of any false or misleading statement, representation or submission, or knowingly conceals or fails to disclose knowledge of the occurrence of any event affecting the payment, coverage or other benefit for the purpose of obtaining or denying any payment, coverage, or other benefit under this chapter; and any person or employer who knowingly misclassifies employees or engages in deceptive employee leasing practices for the purpose of avoiding full payment of insurance premiums; and any law firm, healthcare establishment or agent thereof that employs or contracts persons or firms to personally coerce or encourage individuals to file compensation claims, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or by imprisonment in jail for not less than six months nor more than two and one-half years or by a fine of not less than one thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The court shall, after conviction, conduct an evidentiary hearing to ascertain the extent of the damages or financial loss suffered as a result of the defendant's crime. A person found guilty of violating this section shall, in all cases, upon conviction, in addition to any other punishment, be ordered to make restitution for any financial loss sustained to an aggrieved person as a result of the commission of the crime. Such restitution shall be ordered in accordance with the provisions contained in section one hundred and eleven B of chapter two hundred and sixty-six and shall be reduced by any amount previously recovered under subsection (2).

SECTION 38A. Chapter 152 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after section 14, the following section:-

Section 14A. (1) As used in this section, the following words shall have the following meanings:-

(a) "Client company", a person, association, partnership, corporation or other entity that utilizes workers provided by an employee leasing company pursuant to a contract.

(b) "Commissioner", the commissioner of insurance.

(c) "Employee leasing company", a sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation or other form of business entity whose business consists largely of leasing employees to one or more client companies under contractual arrangements that retain for such employee leasing companies a substantial portion of personnel management functions, such as payroll, direction and control of workers, and the right to hire and fire workers provided by the employee leasing company; provided, however, that the leasing arrangement is long term and not an arrangement to provide the client company temporary help services during seasonal or unusual conditions.

(2) The commissioner may establish by regulation the circumstances and conditions, if any, under which any employee leasing company may be the policyholder of a workers' compensation insurance policy providing coverage to employees leased to client companies, and the manner and method of determining the appropriate premiums of client companies and employee leasing companies.

(3) An employee leasing company that does not meet the requirements of this section shall be subject to the provisions of section twenty-five C and where applicable, section fourteen.

SECTION 39. Chapter 152 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out section 15 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 15. Where the injury for which compensation is payable was caused under circumstances creating a legal liability in some person other than the insured to pay damages in respect thereof, the employee shall be entitled, without election, to the compensation and other benefits provided under this chapter. Either the employee or insurer may proceed to enforce the liability of such person, but the insurer may not do so unless compensation has been paid in accordance with sections seven, eight, ten A, eleven C, twelve or nineteen nor until seven months following the date of such injury. The sum recovered shall be for the benefit of the insurer, unless such sum is greater than that paid by it to the employee, in which event the excess shall be retained by or paid to the employee. For the purposes of this section, "excess" shall mean the amount by which the gross sum received in payment for the injury exceeds the compensation paid under this chapter. The party which brings the actions or which pays the costs associated with the action, if the party bringing the action does not pay those costs, shall be entitled to retain those costs recovered in the action. Any interest received in such action shall be apportioned between the insurer and the employee in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively, exclusive of interest and costs. The expenses of attorney's fees shall be divided between the insurer and the employee in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively, under this section. Except in the case of settlement by agreement by the parties to, and during a trial of, such an action at law, no settlement by agreement shall be made with such other person without the approval of either the board, the reviewing board, or the court in which the action has been commenced after a hearing in which both the employee and the insurer have had an opportunity to be heard. At such hearing the court shall inquire and make a finding as to the taking of evidence on the merits of the settlement, on the fair allocation of amounts payable to the employee and the employee's spouse, children, parents and any other member of the employee's family or next of kin who may have claims arising from the injury for which are payable, under this chapter in which the action has been commenced after an opportunity has been afforded both the insurer and the employee to be heard on the merits of the settlement and on the amount, if any, to which the insurer is entitled out of such settlement by way of reimbursement, and on the amount of excess that shall be subject to offset against any future payment of benefits under this chapter by the insurer, which amount shall be determined at the time of such approval. In determining the amount of "excess" that shall be subject to offset against any future compensation payment the board, the reviewing board, or the court in which the action has been commenced shall consider the fair allocation of amounts payable to and amongst family members who may have claims arising from the injury for which said compensation is payable. In the case of a settlement by agreement by the parties to and during a trial of such an action at law, only the justice presiding at the trial shall have and exercise, relative to the approval of such settlement by agreement and to the protection of the rights and interests of the employee, his family members, and the insurer, the powers granted in the preceding sentence. Nothing in this section, or in section eighteen or twenty-four shall be construed to bar an action at law for damages for personal injuries or wrongful death by an employee against any person other than the insured person employing such employee and liable for payment of the compensation provided by this chapter for the employee's personal injury or wrongful death and said insured person's employees. For purposes of this section, the Workers' Compensation Trust Fund, as established under subsection (2) of section sixty-five, shall be deemed an insurer.

SECTION 40. Section 26 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

If an employee is injured by reason of such physical activities of fellow employees and the department finds that such activities are traceable solely and directly to a physical or mental condition resulting from the service of any of such fellow employees in the armed forces of the United States, the entire amount of compensation that may be found due shall be paid by the insurer, self-insurer or self-insurance group; provided, however, that upon an order or pursuant to an approved agreement of the department, the insurer, self-insurer or self-insurance group shall be reimbursed by the state treasurer from the trust fund established by section sixty-five for all amounts of compensation paid under this section.

SECTION 41. Subsection (1) of section 19 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence.

SECTION 42. Subsection (2) of said section 19 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following four sentences:- The parties shall be deemed to have agreed to all of the findings contained in a written decision of an arbitrator on a case forwarded to arbitration pursuant to the provisions of section ten. The department shall approve any agreement received on a prescribed form unless such agreement is deemed to be in violation of law. Any agreement not approved shall be returned to the party submitting it. Except as provided by section ten B, a party to any agreement under this chapter may file a complaint with the superior court to vacate or modify such agreement on grounds of law or equity.

SECTION 43. Said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking section 24, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof, the following section:-

Section 24. Any person receiving or entitled to receive benefits under the provisions of section thirty-one or section thirty-four A whose benefits are based on a date of personal injury at least twenty-four months prior to the review date shall have his weekly benefit adjusted, without application, in accordance with the following provisions; provided, however, that no increase in benefits shall be payable which would reduce any benefits the recipient is receiving pursuant to federal social security law.

(a) The director of administration shall determine the percentage change between the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the date of the injury and the average weekly wage in the commonwealth on the review date. For purposes of this section, no increase in the average weekly wage in the commonwealth shall exceed the lesser of the following: (i) the percentage change in the most recent annual consumer price index calculated by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the northeast region for all urban consumers; (ii) five percent.

If the adjusted benefit is larger than the base benefit, the difference shall be termed the supplemental benefit. In no instance shall the adjusted benefit under this section be greater than three times the base benefit.

Section 35. While the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is partial, during each week of incapacity the insurer shall pay the injured employee a weekly compensation equal to sixty percent of the difference between his or her average weekly wage before the injury and the weekly wage he or she is capable of earning after the injury, but not more than seventy-five percent of what such employee would receive if he or she were eligible for total incapacity benefits under section thirty-four. An insurer may reduce the amount paid to an employee under this section to the amount at which the employee's combined weekly earnings and benefits are equal to two times the average weekly wage in the commonwealth at the time of such reduction.

The total number of weeks of compensation due the employee under this section shall not exceed two hundred sixty; provided, however, that this number may be extended to five hundred twenty if an insurer agrees or an administrative judge finds that the employee has, as a result of a personal injury under this chapter, suffered a permanent loss of seventy-five percent or more of any bodily function or sense specified in paragraph (a), (b), (e), (f), (g), or (h) of subsection (1) of section thirty-six, developed a permanently life-threatening physical condition, or contracted a permanently disabling occupational disease which is of a physical nature and cause. Where applicable, losses under this section shall be determined in accordance with standards set forth in the American Medical Association Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent Impairments. Where the insurer agrees or the administrative judge finds such permanent partial disability as is described in this paragraph, the total number of weeks the employee may receive benefits under both this section and section thirty-four shall not exceed five hundred twenty. The presumption of non-entitlement to benefits created by this section shall not be overcome by the employee's uncorroborated testimony, or that corroborated only by any of his family members, that but for the injury, such employee would have remained active in the labor market.

SECTION 67. Section thirty-five F of said chapter one hundred and fifty-two is hereby repealed.

compensation is required by this chapter and which results in a disability that is substantially greater by reason of the combined effects of such impairment and subsequent personal injury than that disability which would have resulted from the subsequent personal injury alone, the insurer or self-insurer shall pay all compensation provided by this chapter. If said subsequent injury is caused by the preexisting impairment or if said subsequent personal injury of such an employee shall result in the death of the employee, and it shall be determined that the death would not have occurred except for such pre-existing physical impairment, the insurer shall pay all compensation provided by this chapter.

Insurers making payments under this section shall be reimbursed by the state treasurer from the trust fund created by section sixty-five in an amount not to exceed seventy-five percent of all compensation due under sections thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four A, thirty-six A, and, where benefits are due under any of such sections, section thirty; provided, however, that the insurer is not a self-insurer, a group self-insurer or municipality that has chosen not to be subject to the assessments which fund said reimbursements; and, provided, further, that no reimbursement shall be made for any amounts paid during the first one hundred and four weeks from the onset of disability or death.

Proof of the pre-existence of such impairment shall be established only by the production of medical records existing prior to the date of employment or retention in employment of the employee. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to allow employers to compel an employee or job applicant to disclose any information regarding physical impairments in violation of any applicable law.

The office of legal counsel shall in all instances have the authority to defend claims against the fund. Such office shall have the right to contest any amount accredited to the above named sections which has been redeemed by an insurer by payment of a lump sum settlement pursuant to section forty-eight, but reimbursement shall not require the approval of the lump sum by said office or by the state treasurer. No reimbursement shall be made for payments due during the first one hundred and four weeks from the date of onset of disability or death, whether paid under an agreement, decision, or lump sum settlement. Any petition for reimbursement under this section shall be filed no later than two years from the date on which the benefit payment for which the reimbursement request is being filed was made.

SECTION 72. The first paragraph of section 45 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:- The employee's right to compensation shall also be suspended during any period the employee refuses the insurer's written request that the employee be evaluated by a vocational rehabilitation specialist within the department. This written request may occur only once every six months.

SECTION 73. Section 46 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence:- Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the parties from entering into an agreement to submit to binding arbitration pursuant to the provisions of section ten as an exclusive alternative to proceedings within the division of dispute resolution.

In all other cases the agreement shall not have been perfected until reviewed and approved as complete by a conciliator, administrative judge or administrative law judge as appropriate. any claims of wrongful discharge or breach of contract. All such general or specific releases shall be null and void. Any employee who receives an amount in violation of this paragraph shall have the right to re-open his or her claim for compensation. Any employee who accepts a lump sum settlement for benefits claimed under section 34A shall be precluded from any further lump sum settlements for said benefits.

(4) Whenever a lump sum agreement has been perfected in accordance with the terms of this section, such agreement shall affect only the insurer and the employee who are parties to such lump sum agreement and shall not affect any other action or proceeding arising out of a separate and distinct injury under this chapter, whether the injury precedes or arises subsequent to the date of settlement, and whether or not the same insurer is claimed to be liable for such separate and distinct injury.

Notwithstanding any provision of this section or of sections seventy-five A or seventy-five B, the acceptance of any amount in return for the right to claim future weekly benefits shall create a presumption that the employee is physically incapable of returning to work with the employer where the alleged injury occurred. Such presumption shall continue for a period of one month for each fifteen hundred dollar amount included in the settlement for future weekly benefits. No re-employment rights shall inure to such employee under this chapter during any period of presumption of incapacity as herein provided.

Within sixty days after any filing the commissioner shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the classifications and rates are not excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory for the risks to which they respectively apply and that they fall within a range of reasonableness.

SECTION 82. Said section 53A of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out subsection (4) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(4) Where a claim against an insured that has affected such insured's experience rating has been found non-compensable, or where an insurer recovers previously paid workers' compensation benefits from a negligent third party, or where an insurer has been reimbursed by the insured or the Workers' Compensation Trust Fund for payments made pursuant to subsection two of section sixty-five, the insurer shall submit a revised statistical unit report to the appropriate rating bureau within sixty days of such finding, recovery or reimbursement. The commissioner shall establish a procedure for reviewing and adjusting the premium of any insured subject to experience rating whose premium is adversely affected by changes in claim valuation by its insurer after those claims are removed from the experience rating calculation. A pattern or practice of making such changes shall be an unfair or deceptive act or practice under chapter one hundred and seventy-six D.

SECTION 83. Said section 53A of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following six subsections:-

(12) Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-two C, the commissioner of insurance shall not approve any classifications or rates that contain provisions for any dividends, unabsorbed premium deposits, savings, or other payments allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, subscribers, or stockholders, or that contain provisions for expenses that exceed the expense need of the insurance company filing classifications or rates under this section or that exceed the average expense need of the members and subscribers authorizing the rating organization to file classifications or rates under this section, or that contain provisions for the agent or broker commission allowance that are not demonstrated both to be reasonable and to reflect the actual cost to agents or brokers of the services they provide.

(13) The commissioner shall make a finding on the basis of information submitted in any filing made pursuant to this section that the insurer or insurers employ cost control programs and techniques acceptable to the commissioner which have had or are expected to have a substantial impact on fraudulent claim costs, unnecessary health care costs, and any other unreasonable costs and expenses, as well as on the collection of the appropriate premium charges owed to the insurer or insurers. If the commissioner does not so find, the commissioner may disapprove such filing. The commissioner shall also have authority to make findings, after a hearing on any filing made pursuant to this section, that the proposed rates or classifications are excessive and that the excess is due to the failure of the insurer or insurers to utilize adequate programs to control costs or expenses or to collect the appropriate premium charges. If the commissioner so finds, he shall disapprove such a filing or, in the alternative, shall limit in any manner he determines to be appropriate the amount of any adjustment in premium charges based upon changes in costs, expenses, and premium collections. The commissioner may issue regulations designed to further achievement by insurers of adequate controls on costs and expenses and of adequate collection of the appropriate premium charges owed to the insurers.

(14) Unless otherwise authorized by the commissioner, classifications or rates approved under this section shall remain in effect for a period of not less than twelve months.

(15) Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-two C the commissioner of insurance shall, prior to April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, and at such later times as the commissioner authorizes, establish after a hearing the amounts of all agent or broker commission fees paid to licensed insurance agents or brokers in connection with workers' compensation insurance policies written through the reinsurance pool. The amounts of the fees must be reasonable and must consider the actual cost to agents or brokers of the services they provide. When the commissioner sets the commission fees for the reinsurance pool established pursuant to section sixty-five C, the commissioner may also consider incentives to agents and brokers to place such insurance policies through their customary markets when that is practicable. The commissioner shall set commission fees paid on original issue of coverage and on each renewal or reissue thereof.

(16) The commissioner of insurance shall establish loss control standards for insureds that meet criteria designed to identify those insureds that would significantly benefit from the adoption of a program to control workers' compensation costs. Such criteria shall be established by the commissioner and may include the number of persons employed by the insured, the amount of the insured's annual payroll, the amount of the insured's workers' compensation insurance premium, the experience modifier of the insured, the class code of the insured, the injury and illness lost workday rate of the insured, and any other relevant criteria as the commissioner may determine. Said loss control standards may require that an insured, in cooperation with its insurer, establish and maintain a safety committee, prepare and maintain a plan for medical evaluation and treatment, including immediate post-injury offsite care, establish and maintain a written plan for providing reasonable accommodation for injured workers to return to work, and implement other cost control measures acceptable to the commissioner. The commissioner shall have the authority to establish a rating plan to effectuate compliance with the loss control standards established pursuant to this subsection. In establishing any such rating plan, the commissioner may create financial incentives to employees of insureds to encourage said employees to assist in controlling workers' compensation costs.

(17) The commissioner may promulgate rules and regulations as necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

SECTION 84. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 55, the following section:-

Section 55A. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, a mid-term notice of cancellation of a workers' compensation policy shall be effective only if based on one or more of the following reasons: (i) nonpayment of premium; (ii) fraud or material misrepresentation affecting the policy or insured; (iii) a substantial increase in the hazard insured against. Nothing in this section shall limit an insurer's right to refuse to renew a workers' compensation policy.

SECTION 85. Section 65 of said chapter 152, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (2) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

Such costs shall include, but not be limited to: the taking of depositions, the hiring of private investigators, the filing and service of summonses and subpoenas and other associated court costs, the retention of outside legal counsel and medical providers, and the provision of services relating to the management of the fund. Such notice shall be made to the commissioner on or before March first of any year in order to be effective as of July first of that year. Notice of non-participation shall be irrevocable and shall be signed by the chief executive officer or board of trustees of the employer or group. Non-participation shall not be allowed any employer or group that has not paid all assessments due at the time of the department's receipt of notice of non-participation. No private employer or group shall be relieved of the requirement to pay assessments levied to fund disbursements under clause (d) or (e).

A public employer which has a policy with a workers' compensation insurer shall have the ability to file a notice of non-participation as specified above; provided, however, that its insurer shall not be entitled to reimbursement from the

from the Workers' Compensation Trust Fund, and the insured public employer shall be required to reimburse its insurer for any payments the insurer makes on its behalf that would otherwise be subject to reimbursement under clauses (a) to (g), inclusive.

SECTION 86. Subsection (4) of section 65 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (d) and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(d) For each assessment payor, except for the commonwealth and any of its political subdivisions subject to this chapter, the assessment rate shall be determined by dividing the sum of the special fund and the total of those portions of the private employer trust fund and the total of those portions of the private employer trust budget from which such payor is entitled to seek reimbursement pursuant to subsection (2) by the sum of the base amounts reported by such assessment payors pursuant to subsection (3). For the commonwealth and any of its political subdivisions subject to this chapter, the assessment rate shall be determined by dividing the total of those portions of the public employer trust fund budget from which such payor is entitled to seek reimbursement pursuant to subsection (2) by the sum of the base amounts reported by such assessment payors pursuant to subsection (3).

SECTION 87. The second paragraph of subsection (5) of said section 65 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:- Each failure to pay an assessment within thirty days of the payor's receipt of any bill from the department shall result in a separate fine in the amount of five percent of the balance of any such overdue assessment.

SECTION 88. Said section 65 of said chapter 152, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (8) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(8) If the trust fund pays compensation to a claimant pursuant to clause (e) of subsection (2), it may seek recovery from the uninsured employer for an amount equal to the amount paid on behalf of the claimant under this chapter, plus any necessary and reasonable attorney fees. Any action by the trust fund to seek recovery from the uninsured employer shall be commenced within twenty years of the claimant's filing a claim for benefits under this chapter against the trust fund.

No voluntary payment for any period of time shall alone be held to foreclose the fund from defending any issue involved in a claim for compensation. On a motion of a claimant or representative of the fund, an administrative judge may join the uninsured employer as a party.

SECTION 90. Said chapter 152 is hereby further amended by striking out section 65A, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 65A. (1) Any employer whose application for workers' compensation insurance has been rejected or not accepted within five days by two insurers may appeal to the commissioner of insurance and if it shall appear that such employer has complied with or will comply substantially with all laws, orders, rules and regulations in force and effect relating to the welfare, health and safety of his employees, and shall not be in default of payment of any premium for such insurance, then the commissioner shall designate an insurer who shall forthwith, upon the receipt of the payment for the premium therefore, issue to such employer a policy of insurance contracting to pay the compensation provided for by this chapter. The commissioner of insurance shall make equitable distribution of such risks among insurers in a reasonable manner that, so far as practicable, does not discriminate against any insurer or group of insurers. Subject to subsection (4), the commissioner may establish a servicing carrier fee for insurers, third party administrators or other claims service handling companies as authorized by the commissioner which shall be paid by the reinsurance pool established under section sixty-five C, and which shall not be unreasonable or discriminatory.

(2) The commissioner of insurance may delegate his duties under this section to the rating organization designated by him under section sixty-five C to administer the reinsurance pool established under that section; provided, however, that such organization shall adopt rules and procedures for assigning rejected risks, shall incorporate such rules and procedures into its plan of operation subject to the approval of the commissioner under section sixty-five C, and shall each year submit to the commissioner a report of the assigned risks for the preceding year. (b) The commissioner may authorize an additional service fee of up to five percent of the total written premium serviced by the servicing carrier or administrator. In determining whether to authorize an additional service fee amount the commissioner shall consider:

(i) the performance of the carrier, third party administrator, or other claims service handling companies as authorized by the commissioner in reducing the loss costs of the insured risks to which it was assigned during the previous calendar year;

(ii) evidence that the carrier, administrator, or other claims service handling company as authorized by the commissioner has aggressively and effectively assisted employers to improve workplace safety;

(iii) whether the carrier, administrator, or other claims service handling company as authorized by the commissioner has complied in all respects with established performance standards approved by the commissioner; and

(iv) whether the carrier, administrator, or other claims service handling company as authorized by the commissioner has a superior record in handling and investigating claims promptly and properly.

(c) The commissioner may establish a different service carrier fee than is specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) if the commissioner holds a hearing regarding the appropriate service fee to be established and determines that a different fee is indicated. Thereafter, the commissioner may, after a hearing, establish a new service carrier fee whenever the commissioner determines that such a fee is appropriate.

Chapter 399.      AN ACT ESTABLISHING CERTAIN ASSESSMENTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8E of chapter 26 of the General Laws, as so appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following three paragraphs:-

There shall also be within the rating bureau at least the following persons who shall perform the duties of the rating bureau relating to workers' compensation insurance: an actuary, a rate attorney, a mathematician, a researcher and an accountant. The actuary shall be a member of the Casualty Actuarial Society or shall have attained a doctoral degree in a related discipline. The mathematician shall be engaged in the program of study recommended by said Casualty Actuarial Society or shall have substantial mathematical and statistical training.

Such actuary, rate attorney, mathematician, researcher and accountant shall be appointed by the commissioner and shall be exempt from the provisions of chapter thirty and chapter thirty-one.

The commissioner is authorized to make an assessment against any corporation, unincorporated association, partnership or individual licensed as a rating organization pursuant to section fifty-two C of chapter one hundred and fifty-two to pay for the rating bureau's expenses as they relate to workers' compensation. Such assessment shall be deposited into the Rating Bureau's Workers' Compensation Trust Fund. All monies deposited into the trust fund shall be expended, without appropriation, exclusively by the rating bureau. Such assessment shall be made at a rate sufficient to produce five hundred thousand dollars in nineteen hundred and ninety-two, and may be increased annually thereafter by a rate not to exceed the most recent annual consumer price index calculated by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor for the northeast region for all urban consumers. In addition to such assessment, the commissioner of insurance shall also collect, for the persons within the rating bureau who perform the duties relating to workers' compensation insurance, an amount equal to the cost of fringe benefits as established by the commissioner of administration pursuant to section five D of chapter twenty-nine to be credited to the General Fund. Said amount shall be expended, without appropriation, to pay for such persons' fringe benefits. If the commissioner shall fail to expend any money collected under this paragraph in any fiscal year, such unexpended amount shall be credited against the assessment to be made in the following year and the assessment in the following year shall be reduced accordingly. Funds collected under this section may be used to compensate consultants retained by the rating bureau and to defray its reasonable operating expenses and administrative overhead costs. The assessment, including the collection for fringe benefits, shall be collected by the commissioner of insurance. Any rating organization licensed pursuant to section fifty-two C of chapter one hundred and fifty-two shall pay the amount assessed within thirty days after the date of the notice of assessment from the commissioner. The rating bureau shall regularly perform market conduct examinations as often as the commissioner deems appropriate.

SECTION 2. Chapter 152 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 65C, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 65C. (1) All losses incurred under policies issued to employers under section sixty-five A shall be equitably distributed among all insurers authorized to transact and transacting workers' compensation insurance in the commonwealth. Such distribution of losses shall be effected through a reinsurance pool constituted by and comprised of all insurers writing workers' compensation insurance in the commonwealth. No insurer, as defined in subparagraph (7) of section one, and including any insurance company, reciprocal or interinsurance exchange which has contracted with an employer to pay the compensation provided for by this chapter, shall be authorized to write or to continue to write workers' compensation insurance in this commonwealth unless such insurer is a member of the reinsurance pool established herein.

The commissioner of insurance shall designate a rating organization, duly qualified under section fifty-two C, to administer the reinsurance pool in such manner as shall be approved by the commissioner. Such rating organization shall adopt a plan of operation, which shall be submitted for approval to the commissioner of insurance and, upon approval by the commissioner, shall be binding upon all members of the reinsurance pool. If a rating organization fails to adopt a plan of operation within a reasonable period of time of its designation by the commissioner, the commissioner may promulgate a plan of operation for the administration of the reinsurance pool. Such plan of operation shall contain rules and procedures for the allocation of losses of the reinsurance pool among its members consistent with this section, and shall otherwise be consistent with law. Amendments to such plan of operation may be made by the rating organization designated by the commissioner or may be made at the direction of the commissioner upon reasonable notice to such rating organization and after a hearing. All amendments to the plan of operation proposed by the rating organization designated to administer the reinsurance pool shall be submitted for approval to the commissioner of insurance.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), in order to reduce the number of risks in and the volume of premium in the reinsurance pool the commissioner shall establish and maintain cost containment programs in the reinsurance pool, including a program requiring service carriers to establish and maintain a comprehensive employer safety assistance program, and may take any or all of the following actions:

(a) require all insurers that write workers' compensation insurance to participate as service carriers, but allow any such carrier to contract with another insurer or third party administrator approved by the commissioner to service the claims;

(b) in conjunction with paragraph (a), require insurers to assume a percentage of losses for an individual risk for which the insurer is designated as the servicing carrier, such percentage to be as the commissioner shall reasonably determine;

(c) consider, in allocating the losses of the pool, the number of risks and the volume of premium rejected, non-renewed, cancelled, or terminated by an insurer;

(d) prohibit a service carrier, in its handling and servicing of claims, from differentiating claims originating from insureds in the pool and claims originating from insureds written voluntarily by the insurer;

(e) establish credits, discounts or other incentives to encourage insurers to voluntarily write coverage;

(f) impose an assessment on insurers to pay for the pool's cost containment and anti-fraud programs; and

(g) establish rates or rating plans which reasonably estimate the additional risk of business in the reinsurance pool.

(3) On or before January fifteen, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the commissioner shall hold a hearing regarding the development of a plan, based on the powers authorized under this section, designed to reduce the number of risks and amount of premium in the pool. The commissioner may issue regulations designed to implement the plan. These regulations shall be effective no later than

April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

(4) In developing the plan required to be submitted under this section, the insurance commissioner shall attempt to reduce the number of risks, at a minimum, in the pool as percentage of all risks in the state to sixty percent by September first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, fifty percent by February first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three; forty-five percent by September first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three; and thereafter, such reductions as the commissioner may determine are reasonable and appropriate.

SECTION 3. The commissioner of insurance is hereby authorized and directed to make an annual assessment each year in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars against the Automobile Insurers Bureau of Massachusetts, or its successor licensed under the provisions of section eight of chapter one hundred and seventy-five A of the General Laws and also to make an annual assessment each year in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars against the Workers' Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of Massachusetts or its successor licensed under the provisions of section fifty-two C of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the General Laws. Said assessments shall be paid to the commissioner within thirty days after the date of notice from the commissioner of said assessment. Said assessments shall be utilized by the attorney general for the purpose of the investigation and prosecution of automobile insurance fraud matters and workers' compensation insurance fraud matters referred to the attorney general by said insurance fraud bureau established pursuant to the provisions of chapter three hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety. The attorney general shall designate at least one assistant attorney general who shall devote full-time to the investigation and prosecution of automobile insurance fraud matters which are referred by said insurance fraud bureau, and shall designate at least one assistant attorney general who shall devote full-time to the investigation and prosecution of workers' compensation insurance fraud matters which are referred by said insurance fraud bureau. In conducting such review, the court, in its discretion, may direct that the record of the departmental trial board be supplemented by such additional evidence or testimony as the court deems necessary for a just resolution of such review. If the court finds that such finding and punishment was justified, the action of the department trial board shall be affirmed; otherwise it shall be reversed and the petitioner shall be reinstated to his office without loss of compensation or other benefits. The decision of the court shall be final and conclusive upon the parties, and a copy of the decision shall be forwarded forthwith by the clerk of the court to the colonel. In determining the right of any such trainee or officer of the department performing police service, or his legal representatives, to receive compensation under any provision of law on account of injuries or death suffered by such trainee or officer during the course of his employment, such trainee or officer shall be deemed to be so engaged while travelling on public ways from his home to his station of duty and from such station to his home.

required under section three of chapter twenty-nine, a statement of the approximate proportion of the time of the department devoted to the service of patrolling the highways of the commonwealth for the purpose of controlling and supervising traffic. Said statement shall be the basis for a recommendation by the governor as to the proportion of the appropriations made for expenses of said department which it appears may fairly be charged to the Highway Fund.

Section 18. The colonel may, in the event of any public emergency, or of any unusual demand for the services of members of the state police serving in any bureau of the department, or whenever he deems it in the public interest, require such members to work additional hours of duty and prevent such members from taking time off when entitled thereto, or at the time assigned therefor; provided, however, that such members shall be compensated for any additional work in accordance with the provision of section thirty C of chapter one hundred and forty-nine.

Section 24. If uniformed members of the state police in positions in the same rank are to be separated from such positions because of lack of work, lack of money or abolition of positions, said uniformed members shall be separated from such employment according to their seniority in such rank and shall be reinstated to such position in such rank according to such seniority, so that members senior in length of service in such rank shall be retained the longest and reinstated first. Uniformed members separated from positions pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be reinstated prior to the appointment of any other person under section ten, provided that the right to such reinstatement shall continue for no fewer than two years from the date of such separation and shall be subject to such rules and regulations as prescribed by the colonel.

Nothing in this subsection prohibits a person engaged in the business of furnishing appraisals of real property from considering factors other than race, color, sex, age, religious creed, disability, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, military status, or source of income.

2. For any person to deny another person access to, or membership or participation in, a multiple listing service, real estate brokers' organization, or other service, organization, or facility relating to the business of selling or renting dwellings, or to discriminate against such person in the terms or conditions of such access, membership, or participation, on account of race, color, religious creed, sex, age, disability, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, military status, or source of income.

3. For any person to refuse to rent, lease, sell, or negotiate for sale, or otherwise to deny or withhold from any person or persons a dwelling or any services or facilities in connection therewith, or to print, publicize, advertise, make any written or oral statement, or otherwise communicate publicly or privately, in a manner that indicates any preference, limitation, or discrimination because of race, color, religious creed, sex, age, disability, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, military status, or source of income.

4. For any person to misrepresent that a dwelling is not available for inspection, sale, or rental because of race, color, religious creed, sex, age, disability, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, military status, or source of income.

5. For any person to engage in blockbusting by making implicit or explicit representations regarding the entry or prospective entry into the neighborhood or representations regarding the effects or consequences of any such entry or prospective entry of a person or persons of a particular race, color, sex, age, religious creed, disability, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, military status, or source of income.

9. For any person to discriminate against any person in the terms, conditions or privileges of sale or rental of a dwelling, or in the provision of services or facilities in connection therewith, because of race, color, sex, age, religious creed, disability, national origin or ancestry, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, military status, or source of income.

B. For the purposes of this section, discrimination on the basis of disability includes:

A refusal to permit, at the expense of the handicapped person, reasonable modifications of existing premises occupied or to be occupied by the handicapped person, if the modifications may be necessary to afford the handicapped person full enjoyment of the premises except that, in the case of a rental, that landlord may, where it is reasonable to do so, condition permission for a modification on the renter's agreeing to restore the interior of the premises to the condition that existed before the modification, reasonable wear and tear excepted;

2. A refusal to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, or services, when such accommodations may be necessary to afford a handicapped person equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling;

3. In connection with the design and construction of covered multifamily dwellings for first occupancy after March thirteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, a failure to design and construct dwellings in such a manner that:

b. With respect to dwellings with a building entrance on an accessible route:

i. The public use and common use portions of the dwellings are readily accessible to and usable by handicapped persons;

ii. All the doors designed to allow passage into and within all premises are sufficiently wide to allow passage by handicapped persons in wheelchairs; and

Compliance with the appropriate requirements of the American National Standard for Buildings and Facilities providing Accessibility and Usability for Physically Handicapped People ("ANSI A117.1") satisfies the requirements of this subsection.

C. The following practices shall not be deemed unlawful:

1. The leasing, rental, or other provision with or without a fee, of a space within a church, temple, synagogue, religious school, or other facility used for other than a commercial purpose, to persons of the same religion, or from giving preference to such persons, unless membership in such religion is restricted on account of race, color, or national origin;

D. The following practices shall be exempt from the provisions of this ordinance:

1. The leasing or renting of a room or rooms within a dwelling unit which is occupied by the owner as his or her residence and in which the roomer or boarder must pass through the space or a portion thereof occupied by such owner in order to gain access to the room or rooms thus let or rented;

2. The leasing or renting of a single apartment in a two family dwelling, the other residential unit of which is occupied by the owner as his or her residence.

14.04.050 Complaint Procedures

1. Any aggrieved person may make, sign, and file with the Commission a verified complaint in writing which shall state the name and address of the person alleged to have committed a violation of this ordinance and the particulars and other information as may be required by the Commission. The Commission may, in like manner, make, sign, and file such a complaint whenever it has reason to believe that any person has engaged in, or is engaging in an unlawful practice.

2. No complaint shall be considered unless it is filed within 180 days after the occurrence of the alleged unlawful practice, or in the case of continuing unlawful practices, within 180 days after the termination of the unlawful practices. A complaint may be reasonably and fairly amended at any time. A complaint referred to the Commission by the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination after having been timely filed there will be considered filed for the purposes of this Ordinance.

3. The filing of a complaint, the failure to file a complaint, or the dismissal of a complaint by the Commission shall not bar an aggrieved person from filing a civil action in the Superior Court within two years after the occurrence or termination of an alleged discriminatory practice; provided that, the aggrieved person may not initiate an action with respect to an alleged discriminatory practice that forms the basis of a charge issued by the Commission, if a Commission's hearing has begun with respect to the charge. The court shall be empowered to award the plaintiff actual and punitive damages; grant as relief, as it deems appropriate, any temporary or permanent injunction, temporary restraining order or other order; and allow reasonable attorney's fees and costs. The plaintiff shall be liable for reasonable attorney's fees and costs only to the extent that the plaintiff's participation in the proceeding was frivolous or vexatious or was for the purpose of harassment; to the extent that the plaintiff is the prevailing party, the respondent shall be liable for reasonable attorney's fees and costs, unless special circumstances make recovery of such fees and costs unjust.

4. Upon the filing of the complaint, the Commission shall, by certified mail, return receipt requested, serve notice upon the complainant acknowledging the filing and advising the complainant of the time limits and choice of forum under the law. At any time after the filing of the complaint, the Commission, by its attorneys, may seek temporary or preliminary injunctive relief in the Superior Court, pending final disposition of the complaint, if the Commission concludes such action is necessary to carry out the purposes of this Ordinance.

5. The Commission shall promptly serve a copy of the complaint and a notice upon the respondent advising him of his procedural rights and obligations under the law, by certified mail, return receipt requested. The respondent may, in response to said notice, file a verified answer with the Commission not later than 10 days after receipt of the notice of the complaint.

6. The chairperson of the Commission shall designate the Executive Director or one or more of the Commissioners to make, with the assistance of the staff of the Commission, a prompt investigation of the alleged discriminatory act. The investigation shall be commenced within thirty days after receipt of the complaint.

7. The Commission shall complete its investigation and issue a final investigative report consistent with Section 14.04.059 within one hundred days after receipt of the complaint unless impracticable, and if impracticable, shall notify the complainant and the respondent in writing and state the reasons for the delay.

---

8. Any conciliation agreement arising out of conciliation efforts by the Commission shall be an agreement between the respondent and the complainant and shall be approved by the Commission and shall be made public unless the complainant and the respondent otherwise agree and the Commission determines disclosure is not necessary to further the purposes of this Ordinance.

9. At the close of the investigation, the Commission shall issue a final investigative report. Said report shall conclude whether or not probable cause exists for crediting the allegations of the complaint.

10. If lack of probable cause is found, the Commission shall dismiss the complaint, notify the parties of its finding, and inform the complainant of his right to commence a private civil action in the Superior Court. Said action shall be commenced within ninety days from the date of the dismissal or within two years from the date of the violation alleged, whichever occurs later. The court shall be empowered to award the plaintiff actual and punitive damages; grant as relief, as it deems appropriate, any temporary or permanent injunction, temporary restraining order or other order; and allow reasonable attorney's fees and costs as permitted under 15.24.053.

11. If probable cause is found, both the complainant and the respondent shall be notified in writing. Either party may elect, within twenty days from receipt of the Commission's finding, to file a civil action in the Superior Court.

A. If a timely election is made by either party, the Commission shall immediately notify the office of the Attorney General, who shall file a civil action on behalf of the aggrieved person within thirty days after a timely election is made. Any complainant may intervene as of right in said civil action. The Commission shall administratively close the case, without prejudice.

B. If a timely election is not made, the case shall proceed to a public hearing. No Commissioner participating in the aforementioned hearing shall have been involved in the prior investigation. The Massachusetts law of evidence shall apply at the Commissioner's hearing. At any such hearing before the Commission all parties and witnesses shall have the right to be advised and represented by counsel at their own expense. The Complainant shall be represented by the Executive Director of the Commission as prescribed by the Commission's Rules of Procedure.

C. Hearings shall be conducted in accordance with the Commission's Rules of Procedure which shall ensure that all parties are afforded due process of law.

12. The hearing Commissioners shall issue a report which lists findings of fact and conclusions of law within sixty days after the conclusion of the hearing. If the hearing Commissioners concludes that the charges of discriminatory conduct by the respondent cannot be substantiated, the case shall be dismissed with prejudice.

13. The decision of the hearing Commissioners is subject to review by the entire Commission. The review must be initiated within thirty days from the date of the decision or said decision becomes the Final Administrative Decision.

14. The Commission shall make a final administrative disposition of the complaint within one year from the date of the receipt of the complaint, unless impracticable. If impracticable, it must notify the complainant and the respondent in writing and list the reasons for not doing so.

14.04.060 *Remedies-Relief Sought and Granted

1. After a finding of probable cause is made, the Commission may file a petition in equity in the Superior Court seeking injunctive relief against the respondent. If justice so requires, the court shall be authorized to grant relief including:

A. orders or decrees restraining the respondent from selling, renting, or otherwise making the real estate transaction unavailable to the complainant;

B. any appropriate injunctive relief the court deems necessary to protect the rights of the complainant.

2. If the Commission, in the Final Administrative Report of its Decision, finds that any respondent committed any unlawful practice under this Ordinance, said Commission may:

Damages for emotional distress may also be awarded to the complainant;

B. assess to the respondent civil penalties not to exceed ten thousand dollars for the first offense; twenty-five thousand dollars for the second offense within a five year period ending at the time of filing the complaint; fifty thousand dollars for a third or subsequent offense within a seven year period ending at the time of filing the complaint. In a proceeding involving two or more respondents, the hearing Commissioners may assess a civil penalty against each respondent that the hearing Commissioners determines has been engaged or is about to engage in a discriminatory housing practice;

(b) supply water to persons outside of the town of Oak Bluffs with the permission of any water department or any water district existing in a town outside of the district or in the absence of any such water department or district, with the permission of the board of selectmen of such town; provided, however, that the district meeting must authorize each extension of waterworks outside the district;

(c) take by eminent domain under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A of the General Laws, or acquire, by lease, purchase or otherwise, and hold, the waters, or any portion thereof, of any pond, spring or stream, or of any ground sources of water supply by means of driven, artesian or other wells, within the territorial limits of the town of Oak Bluffs not already appropriated for the purposes of a public water supply by another governmental body, and the water and flowage rights connected with any such water sources; may take as aforesaid, or acquire by purchase or otherwise, and hold, all lands, rights of way and other easements necessary for collecting, storing, holding, purifying and preserving the purity of the water and for conveying the same to any part of the District and for carrying out the purposes of the District; provided, however, that no source of water supply or lands necessary for preserving the quality of such water shall be so taken or used without first obtaining the advice and approval of the department of environmental protection, and that the location and arrangement of all dams, reservoirs, springs, wells, pumping, purification and filtration plants and such other waterworks as may be necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be subject to the approval of said department;

(e) for the purpose of constructing, laying, maintaining, operating and repairing such aqueducts, conduits, pipes and other works, and for all other purposes of this act, dig up or raise and embank any such lands, highways or other ways in such manner as to cause the least hindrance to public travel on such way; provided, however, that the manner in which all things are done upon any such way shall be subject to the direction of the board of selectmen of the town in which such lands, highways or other ways are located;

(f) enter upon any lands for the purpose of making surveys, test wells or pits and borings, or any of them, and may take by eminent domain or otherwise acquire the right to occupy temporarily any lands necessary for the construction of any work or for any other purpose authorized by this act;

(g) from time to time sell such real property of the District as shall, in the opinion of its board of water commissioners hereinafter provided for, be no longer useful in the conduct of the affairs of the District; provided, however, that the district meeting has authorized each such sale;

(h) act as a wastewater treatment and water pollution abatement district, to be known as the Oak Bluffs Sanitary District, for the purpose of receiving, collecting, treating, neutralizing or stabilizing sewage and such industrial and other wastes as are disposed of by means of such facilities, including treatment or disposal plants, necessary common, intercepting, outfall and outlet sewers, and pumping stations integral to such facilities, with sewers, equipment, furnishings and other appurtenances connected therewith; provided, however, that said sanitary District shall only assume the powers and duties given such districts by the General Laws upon a two-thirds vote of the district voters at an annual district meeting or special

SECTION 3. Any person sustaining damages in his property by any taking under this act or any other thing done under authority thereof may recover such damages from the District under the provisions of chapter seventy-nine or chapter eighty A of the General Laws; but the right to damages for the nonexclusive taking of any water, water right or water source, or for any injury thereto, shall not vest until water is actually withdrawn or diverted under authority of this act.

SECTION 4. The District, for the purposes of paying the expenses and liabilities incurred in connection with this act, including the funding of reserves for debt service or other district expenses and in anticipation of revenue, but excluding operating and maintenance expenses, may, from time to time, borrow such sums, as may be necessary, and may issue bonds or notes therefor. Any bonds or notes issued pursuant to this act shall be in form, detail and at such rate or rates of interest as the board of water commissioners deem proper. Bonds of the District shall be authorized at a district meeting by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the district voters then present and voting, shall be for a term of twenty years or for such greater term as may be approved by the board of water commissioners. Maturities of bonds or notes issued by the District under this act or under the General Laws, other than temporary loans, may be arranged so that for each issue, the annual combined payments of principal and interest payable in each year shall be as nearly equal as practicable in the opinion of the district treasurer, or be arranged in accordance with a schedule providing for a more rapid amortization of principal; provided, however, that the first annual debt service payment associated with an issue may be deferred to the extent permitted by section nineteen of chapter forty-four of the General Laws. Any net earnings derived from the investment of proceeds of bonds or notes of the District may be expended by the district treasurer to pay interest on bonds or notes of the District or otherwise used for the construction, equipping, operation or maintenance of the water supply system or related facilities. In addition to other security provided herein or otherwise by law, bonds or notes issued by the District may be secured by insurance or by letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities issued to the District under such terms and conditions and under such agreements, not inconsistent with this act, as the board of water commissioners determine to be in the best interest of the District. Except as otherwise provided in this act, indebtedness incurred by the District shall be subject to the applicable provisions of said chapter forty-four.

SECTION 5. The District, upon appropriate authorization by a two-thirds majority vote at a district meeting, may, with the consent of the town of Oak Bluffs acting by and through its board of selectmen, undertake financial arrangements resulting in the assumption of debt service obligations, the issuance of district bonds or other financial accommodations on behalf of said town of Oak Bluffs for all or any portion of the bond indebtedness then outstanding and relating to expenditures incurred by said town in connection with water department improvements.

SECTION 6. The District, after a two-thirds majority vote at a district meeting and acting by and through said board of water commissioners, may establish and operate a separate account classified as a Water Supply Materials "Enterprise Fund" for the purchase, storage and sale of water supply pumps, piping, appurtenances and other materials. Such account shall be maintained by the treasurer, and all receipts, revenues and funds from any source derived, from all sales and rental of the water supply materials and equipment shall be deposited in such separate account. The treasurer may invest the funds in such separate account in the manner authorized by sections forty-five and fifty-five A of chapter forty of the General Laws. Any interest earned thereon shall be credited to and become part of such separate account. The books and records for the account shall be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and in accordance with the requirements of section thirty-eight of said chapter forty.

SECTION 7. The District, acting by and through said board of water commissioners, shall, subject to the applicable provisions of law, fix just and equitable fees, prices and rates for the use of water and the extension or expansion of its waterworks and shall prescribe the time and manner of payment. Notwithstanding the foregoing, such prices and rates shall be fixed and adjusted so as to provide funds at least sufficient in each fiscal year, together with other revenues and funds of the District, if any, available therefor, to pay the full cost of operation of the District for that fiscal year, including all current expenses; all debt service on bonds or notes of the District; all costs of maintenance, repair and replacement, including the establishment of reasonable sinking funds, stabilization funds, replacement reserves and other similar funds in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, as determined by the board of water commissioners to be necessary or desirable to be funded as current expenses; and all other amounts which the District may be obligated to pay or provide for by law or contract. Such prices and rates shall be reviewed on not less than an annual basis and as necessary shall be revised. After the water system operated by the District shall have been acquired from the town of Oak Bluffs, the District, acting through said board of water commissioners, shall immediately fix the rates to be paid within the territorial limits of said town of Oak Bluffs and by any customers in other towns. If in any fiscal year a tax has been levied upon the inhabitants of the District under the provision of section eight, the board of water commissioners shall fix such prices and rates for the use of water as to raise within the shortest practicable period as determined by the board of water commissioners the amount of such tax and shall, at the end of each fiscal year thereafter until said town of Oak Bluffs shall have been reimbursed an amount equal to the amount of the taxes so paid to the District by the inhabitants of said town, pay to such town so much, if any, of the revenue of the District as is in excess of the cost of operation. If there should be a net surplus remaining at the end of any fiscal year after the payment of all costs of operation and the aforesaid reimbursements, such net surplus shall be applied to pay costs of operation for the District for the succeeding fiscal year or for capital improvements to the District's facilities or to the reduction of its indebtedness. The fiscal year of the District shall commence on July first and end on June thirtieth, or as otherwise provided in the by-laws of the District.

SECTION 8. If for any reason the revenues and available funds of the District, including revenues from prices and rates for the use of water as provided in section seven, shall be determined by the board of water commissioners not to be sufficient to pay the full cost of operation of the District, said board of water commissioners shall levy a tax upon the property of the District, and promptly thereafter the clerk of the District shall apportion the amount of said tax among the property subject to tax under this act in the town of Oak Bluffs in proportion to the assessors' valuation of said property in the town and shall furnish a certified copy of the vote imposing said tax together with said apportionment of the tax, to the assessors of said town, who shall assess said tax on the property within the District in the same manner in all respects in which town taxes are required by law to be assessed.

No estate shall be subject to any tax assessed on account of the system of water supply under this act, if, in the judgment of the board of water commissioners, after a hearing, due notice whereof shall have been given, such estate is so situated that it will receive no aid in the extinguishment of fire from said system of water supply, and if such estate is so situated that the buildings thereon, or the buildings that might be constructed thereon, could not be supplied with water from said systems in any ordinary or reasonable manner; but all other estates in the District shall be deemed to be benefited and shall be subject to such tax. A certified list of the estates exempt from taxation under the provisions of this section shall be sent by said board of water commissioners to said assessors, at the same time at which the clerk shall send a certified copy of the vote as aforesaid.

The assessments shall be committed to the respective town collectors, who shall collect said tax in the manner provided by law for the collection of town taxes, and shall deposit the proceeds thereof with the district treasurer for the use and benefit of the District. The District may collect interest on overdue taxes in the manner in which interest is authorized to be collected on town taxes, provided the board of water commissioners at the time of voting to levy the tax shall so determine and shall also fix a time when said tax is due.

SECTION 9. The management and control of all property acquired by, and the exercise of all the powers, privileges and duties conferred upon, the District pursuant to any of the provisions of this act shall be vested in and exercised by a board of water commissioners which shall be constituted as provided in section ten except where a power or duty is expressly reserved to the district voters by this act.

SECTION 10. The District shall, after the acceptance of this act, elect by ballot, either at the same meeting at which this act shall have been accepted, or thereafter, at an annual district meeting or at a special meeting called for the purpose, three persons, inhabitants of and registered voters in the town of Oak Bluffs, to hold office, one until the expiration of one year, one until the expiration of two years, and one until the expiration of three years from the day of the next succeeding annual district meeting to constitute a board of water commissioners; and at every annual district meeting following such next succeeding annual district meeting one such commissioner shall be elected by ballot for the term of three years. The date of the next annual meeting shall be fixed by by-law or by vote of the board of water commissioners, but in no event shall it be later than fifteen months subsequent to the date on which the water commissioners were first elected. The first district meeting shall be called by the board of selectmen of the town of Oak Bluffs within two months after the acceptance hereof by a town meeting of said town of Oak Bluffs. The town clerk shall cause notice of the time and place of the first district meeting to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in said town for two consecutive weeks, the second notice to appear no fewer than seven days before the meeting.

The district meeting shall annually appropriate funds for the District's purposes and may appropriate funds for any of the purposes specified for the District in this act, and for any purpose permitted to water districts by the General Laws. In the event the District assumes the powers of a wastewater treatment and water pollution abatement district, the district meeting may appropriate funds for the purposes of such districts under this act and under the General Laws. All the authority granted to said District by this act, except section four, and not otherwise specifically reserved to the district meeting, shall be vested in said board of water commissioners, who shall be subject, however, to such instructions, rules and regulations as the District may by vote impose.

At the meeting at which said water commissioners are first elected and at each annual district meeting held thereafter, the District shall elect by ballot, each for such term as it may determine, a clerk and a treasurer of the District. The treasurer shall not be a member of the board of water commissioners and shall give bond to the District in such an amount as may be approved by said board with a surety company authorized to transact business in the commonwealth as surety.

A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Any vacancy occurring in the membership of the board of water commissioners from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by the District at any legal meeting called for the purpose. No money shall be drawn from the treasury of the District on account of its waterworks except upon a written order of said board or a majority of them.

SECTION 11. Whoever contaminates, corrupts, pollutes or diverts any source of water used by the District or any water obtained or supplied under this act, or injures any reservoir, well, standpipe, aqueduct, pipe or other property owned or used by the District for any of the purposes of this act, shall be liable for and pay to the District three times the District's cost of assessing, remedying and removing such contamination, corruption, pollution, diversion or injury, and for the District's costs, expenses and attorney's fees to be recovered in an action of tort. Any person convicted of any of the above wilful or wanton acts shall be punished by a fine of not more than three thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 12. The District, upon the acceptance of this act as hereinafter provided by the town of Oak Bluffs, is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire all the rights, franchises, privileges, easements, land, and properties, tangible and intangible, real and personal, now used by or for the benefit of the water department of said town of Oak Bluffs, at a price and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the District and said town.

The District shall not acquire the assets of said water department unless such acquisition shall have been approved by a majority vote adopted at a town meeting of the town of Oak Bluffs. The District shall not charge said town any fees for fire hydrants and all property owned by the District shall be exempt from taxation under chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 13. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by a majority vote of the voters of the District established by section one present and voting thereon at a district meeting called, in accordance with section ten, within four years after its passage.

(b) In the alternative, an owner may request that a dispute resulting from and relating to residential contracting be decided under the terms of a private arbitration program approved by the secretary.

Section 4. (a) There shall be a private arbitration services program approved by the secretary, to consider disputes between owners and registered contractors and subcontractors, concerning or arising from contracts for residential contracting services. No claim may be filed for arbitration after two years from the date of the contract. Such arbitration shall be performed by private arbitration services approved by said secretary, and shall operate in accordance with the regulations promulgated by the secretary. Either party may elect to pursue an action in small claims court if the amount of the dispute is within small claims jurisdiction.

(b) All registered contractors and subcontractors who enter into contracts for residential contracting impliedly consent to the provisions contained in this section.

(c) A contractor or subcontractor who is required to submit to arbitration as a result of an owner's application for arbitration may file a counterclaim, based on or arising from the same contract, in that arbitration.

(d) All findings of fact issuing from arbitration shall be taken as prima facie evidence in any subsequent appeal brought by either party ensuing from the matter considered in said arbitration.

(e) A contractor, subcontractor or homeowner may also appeal the decision of an arbitrator for a trial de novo in superior court or district court. Such appeal must be filed within twenty-one days from the issuance of such findings and shall stay any work or payment to the owner, contractor or subcontractor.

Section 5. There shall be established a Residential Contractor's Guaranty Fund within the executive office of consumer affairs and business regulation, to compensate owners for actual losses incurred by them as a result of registered contractor or subcontractor conduct which has been found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be work performed in a poor or unworkmanlike manner or which is a common law violation or a violation of any statute or regulation designed for the protection of consumers, including but not limited to, prohibited acts listed in section seventeen; provided, however, that the owner has exhausted all customary and reasonable efforts to collect the judgment but the contractor has filed for bankruptcy, fled the jurisdiction or the owner is otherwise unable to collect such judgment after execution. The secretary shall promulgate such regulations as he may deem necessary to implement the fund under this chapter. Prior to the adoption, amendment or repeal of any regulation, the secretary shall give notice and hold a public hearing in accordance with the requirements of chapter thirty A. The fund administrator shall be responsible for implementing the provisions of this chapter and such regulations as the secretary may promulgate as they relate to the fund.

For purposes of recovery against the fund, the conduct of a registered contractor or subcontractor shall be deemed to include the conduct of his employees, salespersons and subcontractors, whether or not an express relationship exists, provided the work or activities of such individuals is within the scope of the contract and not for additional work beyond the contract which such individuals undertake by separate agreement with the owner.

Section 6. The fund administrator shall operate the fund in accordance with this chapter and maintain the fund at a level which is commensurate with claims anticipated to be made against it. All monies collected shall be deposited to the credit of the fund into a special interest bearing account to be administered by the fund administrator who shall invest or reinvest the money of the fund. No portion of monies in said account shall be used for the administration of the fund, except as required by this paragraph. Interest accruing from investment of money in the fund shall be credited to the fund, with a portion of the interest, the amount of which shall be determined by the fund administrator, to be applied to educating consumers, contractors and others as to the requirements of this chapter.

Section 7. An owner may make a claim to the fund only if he has complied with the provisions of section three of this chapter, and has filed his claim with the fund within six months after the owner has obtained a judgment or arbitration award, and has exhausted all such customary and reasonable efforts to collect the judgment or award.

A claim under this section shall not be construed to limit the availability of other legal or equitable remedies unless the claim made is for the full amount of the value of the work claimed as damages, in which case the contractor or subcontractor, upon repayment to the fund, may use repayment as a defense via settlement.

The fund administrator may not award: (1) more than ten thousand dollars or any amount necessary to compensate the owner for his actual loss, whichever is less to any one claimant or; (2) more than seventy-five thousand dollars to claimants on account of the conduct of any one registered contractor or subcontractor within a twelve month period, unless after the fund administrator has paid out said seventy-five thousand dollars the registrant has repaid the fund the full amount; provided, however, that it is within the discretion of the fund administrator to waive the limit with cause; or (3) any amount for consequential damages, except as may be allowed under section four, or for personal injury, punitive damages, attorney's fees, court costs or interest.

If at any time the money deposited in the fund is insufficient to satisfy any approved claim or portion thereof, the fund administrator, when sufficient money has been deposited in the fund, shall satisfy the unpaid claims or portions thereof in the order that the claims were originally filed with the fund administrator.

The pendency of a claim against the fund shall not limit the director from taking disciplinary action against any registered contractor or subcontractor pursuant to this chapter.

Section 8. When the fund administrator has paid from the fund any sum to a claimant, the fund administrator shall be subrogated to all the rights of the claimant up to the amount paid, and the claimant shall assign all the claimant's right, title, and interest in the claim up to the amount paid to the claimant by the fund administrator.

Payment from the fund of any sum to a claimant under this section shall vest in the fund administrator a right to reimbursement to the fund, with interest, any money paid on account of the registered contractor or subcontractor found by the fund administrator to be responsible for the claim.

If the amount paid from the fund, plus interest at a rate set by the fund administrator, is not repaid by the registered contractor or subcontractor on whose account a claim was paid in full, within thirty days after notice, the attorney general may seek legal proceedings to recover against the registered contractor or subcontractor the amount unpaid. The fund administrator shall be entitled to a judgment for such amount upon a showing that: (1) the registrant was afforded notice and an opportunity to be heard in legal actions which resulted in the judgment against the registrant, or in an arbitration proceeding pursuant to section four, and (2) no appeal is pending, and (3) the fund administrator has directed payment from the fund based on the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, or an award of an arbitrator pursuant to section four.

The fund shall be deemed a creditor with respect to any amount paid from the fund for the purpose of excepting to any discharge of the registered contractor or subcontractor under federal bankruptcy law.

Section 9. (a) No contractor or subcontractor shall undertake, offer to undertake, or agree to perform residential contracting services unless registered therefor with the approval of the bureau of building regulations and standards.

(b) It shall be the duty of the director to issue and deliver a certificate of registration to all applicants who have been approved for registration.

(c) In the case of registration by a corporation or partnership, an individual shall be designated to be responsible for the corporation's or partnership's work. The corporation or partnership and its designee shall be jointly and severally liable for: the payment of the registration fee, the payment to the fund, as required herein, and for violations of any provisions of this chapter, including actions by the registrant's employees, subcontractors or salespersons.

Section 10. In order to be registered as a contractor or subcontractor, an applicant shall make a written application under oath to the director on a form provided by him. Said application shall set forth information that includes, but shall not be limited to:-

(a) applicant's name, home address, business address exclusive of post office box addresses, and social security number;

(b) the names and addresses of any and all owners, partners or trustees of an applicant including, in case of corporate entities, the names and addresses of any and all officers, directors and principal shareholders, and copy of a business certificate if a registrant is not incorporated. If such corporate information is accurately reflected in the articles of organization or amendments thereto, or a current annual report of condition or other documents on file with the secretary of state or the Securities and Exchange Commission, a copy of the relevant sections of such filing shall satisfy the application requirements specified herein. If a person is conducting business in the commonwealth under any title other than his real name, individually or as a partnership, a copy of the certificate filed with the clerk of the city or town where an office of such person or partnership may be situated pursuant to section five of chapter one hundred and ten shall satisfy the application requirements specified herein.

(c) whether the applicant has ever been previously registered in the commonwealth as a contractor or subcontractor pursuant to this chapter, under what other names he was previously registered, whether there have been previous judgments or arbitration awards against him, whether there is money owing to the fund on account of such judgments or awards against him, and whether his registration has ever been suspended or revoked.

Section 11. (a) Every contractor or subcontractor as defined in this chapter shall pay a registration fee in an amount equal to the fee paid by construction supervisors pursuant to section ninety-four of chapter one hundred and forty-three. Every individual construction supervisor licensed in accordance with said section ninety-four of chapter one hundred and forty-three and every individual motor vehicle repair shop registered in accordance with section two of chapter one hundred A who is also acting as a contractor as defined in this chapter, shall register pursuant to sections nine and ten, but shall be exempt from said registration fee, upon presentation to the director of documentation that the license or registration fee has been paid and that the license or registration is current. Such licensee or registrant shall be required to submit to the director such information as the director may require under sections nine and ten, and shall be issued a certificate of registration under paragraph (b) of section nine. The registration fee required under this paragraph shall be payable upon application for registration and renewal.

In addition, every contractor and subcontractor as defined in this chapter, shall pay a fee to the fund with his application for registration. The amount of such fee shall be based upon the number of persons in his employ at the time of application. A contractor or subcontractor with fewer than four employees shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars; with four to ten employees, the fee shall be two hundred dollars; with eleven to thirty employees the fee shall be three hundred dollars; with more than thirty employees the fee shall be five hundred dollars. Such payment shall be refunded if the application is denied by the director. No contractor or subcontractor shall be required to pay this fee more than once unless the fund administrator determines that the amount of the fund is insufficient to maintain it at a level commensurate with claims made against said fund. If such a determination is so made, after conducting a public hearing, the director, in consultation with the fund administrator, may assess each home improvement contractor or subcontractor an appropriate fee, the amount to be determined by the commissioner of administration and finance which shall not exceed the amount of the original assessment; provided, however, that the director shall not assess any registrant more than once in any twelve month period.

Each certificate of registration issued by the director shall bear a number which shall be valid for two years from the date of its issuance and may be renewed upon approval by the director of an application to be provided by him. Said certificate shall not be transferable.

Section 12. No application for registration or renewal conforming to the requirements of this chapter may be denied except for a finding by the director that the applicant has done one or more of the following acts which are grounds for denial:

- (1) made material omissions or misrepresentations of fact on application for registration or renewal under this chapter or on an application for licensure or renewal under section ninety-four I of chapter one hundred and forty-three; or
- (2) failed to pay either the registration fee or the payment to the fund required by this chapter; or
- (3) failed consistently to perform contracts or has performed said contracts in an unworkmanlike manner or has failed to complete said contracts with no good cause or has engaged in fraud or bad faith with respect to said contracts; or

(4) failed to meet or has violated any of the requirements for registered contractors or subcontractors set forth in this chapter or has performed or is attempting to perform any act prohibited by this chapter.

If a registration is refused, the applicant may, within ten days from the date notice of refusal is mailed, make a request for reconsideration. The director must render his decision within a reasonable period of time, but not more than sixty days following the request.

Section 13. (a) The director shall keep on file, in convenient form and open to public inspection, all applications for registration and copies of registrations issued and the names of all contractors or subcontractors whose registration has been revoked, suspended or surrendered.

(b) All building permits shall clearly state that persons contracting with unregistered contractors do not have access to the guaranty fund under this chapter.

(c) Every contract, building permit and advertisement shall display the contractor's or subcontractor's certificate of registration number.

(d) Every registered contractor or subcontractor shall notify the director within thirty days of any change of trade name or address.

(e) Upon the expiration, termination or voluntary surrender of a registration, the registrant shall deliver the registration to the director who shall cancel the registration and endorse the date of expiration, termination or surrender.

(f) If a certificate of registration is lost, misplaced or destroyed, the registrant shall file an affidavit to that effect and the director for a nominal fee, shall issue a replacement registration, clearly identified as such, both on the certificate of registration and in the records of the director.

Section 14. The following persons are not required to be registered under this chapter: the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions; any school, public or private, offering as part of a vocational education program courses and training in any aspects of home construction or home improvements; electricians, plumbers, architects or any other persons who are required by law to attain standards of competency or experience as a prerequisite to licensure for and engaging in such profession and who are acting exclusively within the scope of the profession for which they are currently licensed pursuant to such other law, construction supervisors excepted; persons dealing in the sale of goods or materials who neither arrange to perform nor perform directly or indirectly any work or labor in connection with the installation of or application of the goods or materials; persons building their own home or personally doing the renovations; any individual who performs labor or services for a contractor or subcontractor, for wages or salary and who does not act in the capacity of a contractor; any contractor or subcontractor who works on one undertaking or project by one or more contracts where the aggregate contract price is less than five hundred dollars; provided, however, that the contract is not in an amount of less than five hundred dollars for the purpose of evading this chapter; any person who engages in the business of a contractor or subcontractor on other than a full-time basis, and who has earned in gross revenues, as a contractor or subcontractor, less than five thousand dollars in the previous twelve-month period; any person acting as a contractor or subcontractor who was enrolled as a full-time student in a secondary school or college with degree granting authority from the government of the state in which the school is located, for the immediately preceding academic semester and is also enrolled as a full-time student for the next academic semester, in the same or a similar degree granting secondary school or college provided that at least two-thirds of the number of the employees of the contractor or subcontractor are similarly enrolled in secondary schools or colleges and that the contractor or subcontractor does not reasonably expect to earn or does not in fact earn, in gross revenues, more than five thousand dollars; persons who install central heating, air-conditioning systems, energy-conservation devices, or provide conservation services conducted by or on behalf of a public utility under a program approved by the department of public utilities; any contractor or subcontractor who works exclusively in any of the following home improvement areas: landscaping; interior painting or wall covering; or finished floor covering, including but not limited to carpeting, vinyl floor covering, tile; or fencing or freestanding masonry walls; or above-ground swimming pools; or shutter or awning installation; or ground level patios; or asphalt and driveway installation and maintenance.

Section 15. Prior to its expiration date, a certificate of registration may be suspended or revoked by the director, upon recommendation by the advisory board and in accordance with the procedures and on the grounds set forth in section eleven, or may be terminated by voluntary surrender by the registrant. Further grounds for suspension or revocation are: (a) a violation by a registrant or any agent or employee of the registrant of any of the provisions of this chapter and (b) the payment of any amount from the fund because of the conduct of a registered contractor or subcontractor where said contractor or subcontractor has not repaid the fund in full, including the appropriate amount of annual interest.

Section 16. The director shall be responsible for the implementation of the provisions of this chapter and the promulgation of such rules and regulations as he shall deem necessary to implement the provisions of this chapter. Prior to the adoption, amendment or repeal of any regulation, the director shall give notice and hold a public hearing in accordance with the requirements of chapter thirty A.

Section 17. The following acts are prohibited by contractors or subcontractors:

- (1) operating without a certificate of registration issued by the director;
- (2) abandoning or failing to perform, without justification, any contract or project engaged in or undertaken by a registered contractor or subcontractor, or deviating from or disregarding plans or specifications in any material respect without the consent of the owner;

(3) failing to credit to the owner any payment they have made to the contractor or his salesperson in connection with a residential contracting transaction;

(4) making any material misrepresentation in the procurement of a contract or making any false promise of a character likely to influence, persuade or induce the procurement of a contract;

(5) knowingly contracting beyond the scope of the registration as a contractor or subcontractor;

(6) acting directly, regardless of the receipt or the expectation of receipt of compensation or gain from the mortgage lender, in connection with a residential contracting transaction by preparing, offering or negotiating or attempting to or agreeing to prepare, arrange, offer or negotiate a mortgage loan on behalf of a mortgage lender;

(7) acting as a mortgage broker or agent for any mortgage lender;

(8) publishing, directly or indirectly, any advertisement relating to home construction or home improvements which does not contain the contractor's or subcontractor's certificate of registration number or which does contain an assertion, representation or statement of fact which is false, deceptive, or misleading;

(9) advertising in any manner that a registrant is registered under this chapter unless the advertisement includes an accurate reference to the contractor's or subcontractor's certificate of registration;

(10) violation of the building laws of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof;

(11) misrepresenting a material fact by an applicant in obtaining a certificate of registration;

(12) failing to notify the director of any change of trade name or address as required by section thirteen;

(13) conducting a residential contracting business in any name other than the one in which the contractor or subcontractor is registered;

(14) failing to pay for materials or services rendered in connection with his operating as a contractor or subcontractor where he has received sufficient funds as payment for the particular construction work, project or operation for which the services or materials were rendered or purchased;

(15) failing to comply with any order, demand or requirement lawfully made by the director or fund administrator under and within the authority of this chapter;

(16) demanding or receiving payment in violation of clause (6) of paragraph (a) of section two;

(17) violating any other provision of this chapter.

Violations of this section shall subject the violator to the administrative sanctions of section eighteen and to criminal prosecution as prescribed in section nineteen.

Violations of any of the provisions of this chapter shall constitute an unfair or deceptive act under the provisions of chapter ninety-three A.

Section 18. (a) If the director determines that any registrant is liable for a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, the director may suspend the registrant's certificate of registration for such period of time as shall be determined by the director, revoke the registrant's certificate of registration, or reprimand the registrant.

The director may assess an administrative penalty not to exceed two thousand dollars, payable within thirty days of his order, for each violation of any provision of this chapter committed by contractors or subcontractors who are registered or who are required to be registered under this chapter. This penalty shall be deposited in the fund.

In determining whether to impose an administrative penalty, the director shall consider the seriousness of the violation, the deleterious effect of the violation on the complainant, any good faith on the part of the contractor or subcontractor, and the contractor's or subcontractor's history of previous violations.

Section 19. Any contractor or subcontractor who shall knowingly, willfully, or negligently operate without obtaining a certificate of registration as required by this chapter and who is not otherwise exempt from the registration requirement or any contractor or subcontractor who continues to operate after revocation of or during suspension of, or who fails to renew his certificate of registration, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both.

Any person who knowingly and willfully violates any of the provisions of this chapter, with respect to which a greater penalty is not otherwise provided by the provisions of this chapter or by any other law may be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both.

Such fines and imprisonment shall be in addition to any administrative penalty otherwise applicable thereto and may be sought in an action brought by the attorney general or the district attorney.

Section 20. If the director concludes that the continuing conduct of any person alleged to be in violation of this chapter may result in substantial or irreparable harm to any citizen of the commonwealth, he may seek:

(a) A permanent or temporary injunction with respect to the conduct from the superior court of any county in which the alleged violation is occurring, or in which the violator has its principal place of business; or

(b) Restitution or an order requiring satisfactory completion of the contractor's

(c) The director shall not be required to file a bond or to show a lack of an adequate remedy at law when seeking an injunction under this section against any person, association, partnership, or corporation not registered under this chapter.

Section 21. This chapter shall not be construed to relieve or lessen the responsibility of any person registered under this chapter or licensed under section ninety-four I of chapter one hundred and forty-three, nor shall the commonwealth be deemed to have assumed any such liability by reason of the issuance of registration or licensure.

Upon the motion of the person concerning whom the transfer hearing is to be held or upon its own motion, the court may appoint counsel for said person if it finds him to be indigent and where necessary to protect his rights.

The parole board shall develop special standards to govern parole determinations for repeat sex offenders which shall give due consideration to the person's history of repetitive sexual violence.

If the court does not find, after a full hearing on the petition to transfer, that the person has posed a substantial threat of physical harm to staff or other patients or a substantial risk of escape, it shall dismiss the petition and order such person conveyed to the center subject to the terms of his commitment thereto.

Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the commissioner of correction from exercising his authority pursuant to section fifty-two A of chapter two hundred and seventy-six.

Each member of the board shall be entitled to cast weighted votes equal to one vote for every one hundred residents as of the latest official federal census, rounded to the nearest one hundred, in the municipality represented by that member, and shall also be entitled to cast one member vote for that municipality.

For the purposes of transacting business, the presence of members whose weighted votes represent a majority of the total weighted votes and whose member votes represent a majority of the member municipalities shall constitute a quorum; provided, however, that a smaller number may adjourn to another date. Any action adopted by a majority of the weighted votes cast at a meeting of the board at which a quorum is present shall be the action of the board, except as otherwise required by this act. As used in this act, a two-thirds vote of the board means the vote of board members whose weighted votes represent at least two-thirds of the total weighted votes and a two-thirds vote of the member municipalities means the vote of board members whose member votes represent at least two-thirds of the member municipalities.

SECTION 3. The ninth paragraph of section 3 of said chapter 135 is hereby amended by striking out subparagraphs (b) and (c) and inserting in place thereof the following two subparagraphs:-

---

(b) Annually prior to March thirty-first, the board of commissioners shall, by two-thirds vote of the board and two-thirds vote of the member municipalities as defined above, adopt a budget to appropriate the sums which it deems necessary to operate the district and carry out its functions for the ensuing fiscal year, assess each member municipality for its proportionate share of the sum appropriated and adopt a schedule designating when such assessments are due and payable by the member municipalities; provided, however, that in case of any failure of the board to take timely action under this sentence, amounts necessary to provide for costs of debt service or of payments exempted from sections twenty A, twenty B and twenty-one C of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws pursuant to clause (b) or clause (o) of the fourth paragraph of section one shall be deemed to have been assessed and apportioned and be payable in the manner most recently voted under this sentence or, absent a prior vote, to have been assessed upon and apportioned among member municipalities on the basis of their relative populations as of the last official federal census and to be payable quarterly on the first days of September, December, March and June. The total amounts so apportioned for each member municipality shall, prior to March thirty-first in each year, be certified by the district treasurer to the treasurers of the member municipalities. The obligation of each member municipality to pay apportionments pursuant to this act and the district by-laws shall be included in the amounts to be assessed annually in such member municipality under section twenty-three of said chapter fifty-nine without appropriation and the treasurer of each member municipality shall pay to the district the amounts so apportioned at the times specified in the district by-laws. The amounts apportioned or to be apportioned pursuant to this act shall not be included in the statutory limit of indebtedness of any member municipality. A member municipality may raise all or a portion of the amounts apportioned or to be apportioned pursuant to this act through equitable and proportional charges against the inhabitants and other users of the services provided by the district in such member municipality.

(c) Assessments shall be apportioned according to the by-laws adopted by the board of commissioners.

SECTION 4. Said section 3 of said chapter 135 is hereby further amended by striking out the tenth and eleventh paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

Annually on or before the first day of August, the treasurer of the district shall issue and present a warrant to each member municipality requiring that the amount of such assessment be paid to him in accordance with the schedule for payments adopted by the board. If any member municipality shall fail to pay when due any assessment assessed against it by the district, it shall incur a penalty of interest for late payment at one point five percent per month. Such penalty and interest, together with the amount due, court costs, and reasonable attorney fees of the district, may be recovered by the district in a civil action under this section.

Action or resolution of the board for the annual appropriations in any year shall not cease to be operative at the end of the fiscal year for which they were adopted except as otherwise provided by the district by-laws. Appropriations made by the board shall be expended only for such estimates, but by majority vote of the board the budget may be amended from time to time to transfer funds between or among such estimates, except as otherwise limited herein. Any balance left or unexpended in any such estimate shall be returned at the end of the fiscal year to the general fund of the district. The amount of any deficit at the end of the fiscal year shall be included in and paid out of the operating budget and appropriations in the next fiscal year.

(a) The board may borrow money for the purpose of paying current expenses of the district through the issuance and refunding of notes of the district in anticipation of assessments made upon member municipalities, or in anticipation of such assessments to be made, to an amount not exceeding the amount of such assessments made in the preceding fiscal year, or in anticipation of any revenues of the district other than such assessments, to an amount not exceeding the greater of revenues contracted for and revenues of the preceding fiscal year. Any such notes shall be issued subject to the applicable provisions of sections sixteen to twenty-eight, inclusive, of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, except that said notes shall be countersigned by the chairman of the district instead of by a majority of the commissioners, and the period from the date of issue of the original loan to the date of maturity of the original or any refunding loan shall not exceed one year.

(b) The district may incur debt for the purposes of clauses (d) and (n) of the fourth paragraph of section one and any purposes incidental thereto for a term not exceeding twenty years, and may issue bonds and notes therefor in the name and upon the full faith and credit of said district subject to the applicable provisions of sections sixteen to twenty-eight, inclusive, of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, except that said bonds and notes shall be countersigned by the chairman of the district instead of by a majority of the commissioners, and except that the maturities of bonds or notes issued by said district either shall be arranged so that for each issue the annual combined payments of principal and interest payable in each year shall be as nearly equal as practicable in the opinion of the board of commissioners, or shall be arranged in accordance with a schedule providing for a more rapid amortization of principal; provided, however, that such annual payments need not commence earlier than one year after the date of commencing regular use of the facilities, as projected or determined by the board of commissioners.

SECTION 5. Section 4 of said chapter 135 is hereby amended by striking out section 4 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 4. A member municipality may by vote of its legislative body withdraw from the district if five years have passed since it became a body politic and corporate, and if the district has not voted to bond for construction and improvements or to authorize a long-term contract pursuant to this agreement. If a majority of the voters of a member municipality's legislative body present and voting at a meeting of such municipality duly warned, or of the city council, for such purpose shall vote to withdraw from the district, the vote shall be certified to the district by the city or town clerk. Thereafter, the board shall give notice to the remaining member municipalities of the vote to withdraw and shall hold a meeting to discuss the withdrawal and to determine if it is in the best interests of the district to continue to exist. Representatives of the member municipalities shall be given an opportunity to be heard at such meeting together with any other interested persons. The membership of the withdrawing municipality shall terminate as of one year following the vote to withdraw or as soon after such one year period as the financial obligations of said withdrawing municipality have been paid to the district. A vote of withdrawal taken after the district has voted to bond itself for construction and improvements or to authorize a long-term contract shall be null and void.

The board may authorize the inclusion of additional member municipalities in the district upon such terms and conditions as it in its sole discretion shall deem to be fair, reasonable, and in the best interests of the district. The legislative body of any nonmember municipality which desires to be admitted to the district shall make application for admission to the board of the district. The board shall determine the effects and impacts which are likely to occur if such municipality is admitted and shall thereafter either grant or deny authority for admission of the petitioning municipality. If the board grants such authority, it shall also specify any terms and conditions, including but not limited to financial obligations upon which such admission is predicated. If a majority of the voters of the petitioning municipality present and voting at a meeting of such municipality duly warned for such purpose shall vote to approve the agreement and the terms and conditions for admission, the vote shall be certified by the clerk of that municipality to the board. Thereafter upon satisfactory performance of the terms and conditions for admission, said municipality shall by resolution of the board become and thereafter be a member municipality of the district.

(A) If the board by resolution approved by two-thirds vote of the board and two-thirds vote of the member municipalities as defined above determines that it is in the best interests of the public, the member municipalities and the district, that the district be dissolved, and if the district then has no outstanding debt or obligations under long-term contracts, or will have no such debt or obligations upon completion of the plan of dissolution, it shall prepare a plan of dissolution and thereafter adopt a resolution direction that the question of such dissolution and the plan of dissolution be submitted to the voters of the member municipalities. If the member municipalities representing two-thirds of the votes of the district vote to approve the plan of dissolution, the district shall cease to conduct its affairs except insofar as may be necessary for the winding up thereof. The board shall immediately cause a notice of the proposed dissolution to be mailed to each known creditor of the district and shall proceed to collect the assets of the district and apply and distribute them in accordance with the plan of dissolution.

(B) The plan of dissolution shall:

(1) identify and value all unencumbered assets of the district;

(2) identify and value all encumbered assets of the district;

(3) identify all creditors of the district and the nature or amount of all liabilities and obligations of the district;

(4) identify all obligations under long-term contracts;

(5) specify the means by which assets of the district shall be liquidated and all liabilities and obligations of the district shall be paid and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made for the satisfaction thereof;

(6) specify the amount of monies due from each member municipality, if necessary, to extinguish the liabilities of the district;

(7) specify the nature and amount of any liabilities or obligations to be assumed and paid by the member municipalities;

(8) specify the means by which any assets remaining after discharge of all liabilities shall be liquidated if necessary;

(9) specify that any assets remaining after payment of all liabilities shall be apportioned and distributed among the member municipalities according to the same basic formula used in apportioning the annual assessments of the district.

(C) When the plan of dissolution has been implemented, the board shall adopt a resolution certifying that fact to the member municipalities whereupon this agreement and the district created hereby shall be terminated.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Such conditional license may be suspended or revoked in accordance with the provisions of said section thirty-two B.

Section 32I. Every holder of a license for a manufactured housing community shall keep or cause to be kept, in permanent form, a register in which shall be recorded the true name or name in ordinary use, address and registration of each owner and occupant of a manufactured home or motor vehicle renting space at such park, the date of entering and the date of leaving such manufactured home or motor vehicle. Such register shall be retained by the holder of the license for a period of at least one year after the date of the last entry, and shall be open to the inspection of the licensing authorities, their agents and the police. Whoever willfully and knowingly violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

Section 32J. If the manufactured home owner or person holding under him holds possession of a manufactured home site in a manufactured housing community without right, after the determination of a tenancy or other estate at will or lease as provided in this section, the licensee entitled to the manufactured home site may recover possession thereof by summary process.

Any tenancy or other estate at will or lease in a manufactured housing community, however created, and including any existing contract for occupancy of a manufactured home site in a manufactured housing community, may be terminated by the licensee entitled to the manufactured home site or his agent only for one or more of the following reasons:

- (1) nonpayment of rent;
- (2) substantial violation of any enforceable rule of the manufactured housing community;
- (3) violation of any laws or ordinances which protect the health or safety of other manufactured housing community residents;
- (4) a discontinuance in good faith by the licensee, of the use of part or all of the land owned by the licensee as a manufactured housing community subject to any existing contractual rights or agreements between the licensee and the tenants located in the manufactured housing community. No such discontinuance shall be valid for any manufactured home sold the licensee and for which a manufactured home site was made available at the time of said sale, by the licensee, for a period of five years from the date of said sale.

No action shall be maintained under this section unless:

- (1) the manufactured housing community licensee has given at least thirty days'

written notice, delivered by certified or registered mail, stating the reasons for termination and notifying the manufactured housing community resident that he has fifteen days from the date of the mailing of the notice in which to pay the overdue rent, or cure the substantial violation of the community rules or of the law or ordinance, in order to avoid eviction;

(2) the manufactured home resident has not paid the overdue rent or cured said violations within twenty days from the day on which such written notice was received; and

(3) such action, other than for nonpayment of rent, is brought within thirty days from the date of the last alleged violation; provided, however, that an action may be maintained under this section without further notice or opportunity to cure, if the same substantial violation of rules, other than nonpayment of rent, occurs within six months from the date on which such notice was delivered.

For the purposes of this section, upon the death of a manufactured housing community tenant, such tenancy shall continue in the estate of such tenant for a period of one year from the date of death or one year from the appointment of an executor or administrator, whichever first occurs.

Section 32K. Any person aggrieved by any act, rule, order or decision of the licensing board may appeal to the superior court. After suspension or revocation, the license may be reinstated or reissued if the conditions leading to such suspension or revocation have been remedied and the community is being maintained and operated in full compliance with the law.

Section 32L. The following requirements and restrictions shall apply to all manufactured housing communities:

(1) A manufactured housing community licensee may promulgate rules governing the rental or occupancy of a manufactured home site but no such rule shall be unreasonable, unfair or unconscionable.

(2) Any rule or change in rent which does not apply uniformly to all manufactured home residents of a similar class shall create a rebuttable presumption that such rule or change in rent is unfair.

(3) A manufactured housing community licensee, directly or indirectly engaged in the business of selling manufactured homes, who has sold a number of manufactured homes equal to the number of sites in a manufactured housing community, shall not then impose any conditions of rental or occupancy which restricts the manufactured home owner in his choice of manufactured home dealer nor shall a manufactured housing community licensee impose any conditions of rental or occupancy which restrict the manufactured home owner in his choice of a seller of fuel, furnishings, goods, services or accessories connected with the rental or occupancy of a manufactured home site, unless such conditions are necessary to protect the health, safety or welfare of manufactured home residents in the community. Said licensee may also impose reasonable conditions relating to central fuel and gas meter systems in the community, providing the charges for such goods or services shall not exceed the average prevailing price in the locality for similar goods and services.

(3A) No manufactured housing community owner shall refuse to allow the transfer of a manufactured home located in said community on the ground that such manufactured housing community owner has not sold as many manufactured homes as there are sites.

(4) A manufactured housing community licensee shall not impose by any rule or condition of occupancy, any fee, charge or commission for the sale of a manufactured home located in a manufactured housing community. The licensee may, however, upon the proposed sale of such a home, contract with the manufactured home owner to sell the home for a fee not to exceed ten percent of the sale price of such home.

(5) If any manufactured housing community licensee promulgates, adds, deletes or amends any rule governing the rental or occupancy of a manufactured home site in a manufactured housing community, a new copy of all such rules shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, for review to the attorney general and the secretary of communities and development at least forty-five days prior to the effective date of such promulgation, addition, deletion or amendment. A copy of such rules shall be furnished to each manufactured housing community resident in such community along with a copy of the certified mail receipts signed by a representative of the attorney general and a representative of the secretary of communities and development. Such copies shall be furnished by the manufactured housing community licensee to said residents at least thirty days prior to the effective date of such promulgations, addition, deletion or amendment. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to be an approval of such rules by the attorney general or said secretary.

(6) Any rule or condition of occupancy which is unfair or deceptive or which does not conform to the requirements of this section shall be unenforceable.

(7) Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair or deceptive trade practice under the provisions of paragraph (a) of section two of chapter ninety-three A. Enforcement of compliance and actions for damages shall be in accordance with the applicable provisions of section four to ten, inclusive, of said chapter ninety-three A.

(7A) Any manufactured housing community licensee having given notice, pursuant to this section, of a pending discontinuance shall survey within the period of notice given to tenants, all of the manufactured housing communities within a one hundred mile radius which are known to the licensee or which reasonably can be ascertained by him, to determine if any manufactured home sites are available or will become available during the notice period. The licensee shall prominently post at the community all of the information received regarding such available sites.

Such survey shall be done at least once each year during the two year notice period. The second survey shall be completed and posted not less than one hundred and twenty days prior to the end of the notice period. The manufactured housing community licensee shall pay to a tenant who is entitled to receive notice pursuant to this section, relocation benefits of two thousand dollars. Such relocation benefits shall be payable within fourteen days of the departure of such tenant and the removal of the manufactured home from the community. In the event that such tenant fails to remove the home from the community and the community owner is required to remove said home pursuant to the provisions of chapter two hundred and thirty-nine, the relocation benefits shall be reduced by an amount equal to the documented out-of-pocket moving costs incurred by the community owner for the physical removal of said home. Any manufactured housing community licensee shall provide to each tenant who is entitled to receive relocation benefits pursuant to this section, a rental agreement. Such agreement shall begin on the date of the issuance of the notice of discontinuance. The provisions of such rental agreement shall not alter in any manner the tenancy arrangement existing between the community owner and tenant prior to issuance of the notice of discontinuance, except with respect to the amount of annual rent, which may be increased by an amount not to exceed the increase in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Consumers, published by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, for the calendar year immediately preceding the date upon which such rental agreement is commenced plus the proportionate amount of any documented increase in real estate taxes or other municipal fee or charge; provided, however, that the total amount of such increase shall not exceed ten percent of the annual rent charged in the immediately preceding year; and, provided further, that once a tenant has received a notice of discontinuance, his rent shall not be increased unless a year has passed from the date of the last increase imposed upon such tenant.

(8) A manufactured housing community licensee shall give at least fifteen days written notice, delivered by certified or registered mail, to each manufactured housing community tenant, that the licensee will be appearing before a governmental board, commission or body to request a permit for a change of use or discontinuance of the manufactured housing community. Upon a change of use approved by the governmental board, commission or body, or a change that requires no local governmental permit or permits, the licensee shall give to each manufactured housing community tenant at least two years written notice, delivered by certified or registered mail, prior to the manufactured housing community licensee's determination that a change of use or discontinuance will occur. The licensee shall disclose and describe in the notice the nature of the change of use or discontinuance.

(9) The manufactured housing community licensee shall give each prospective tenant written notice prior to the inception of tenancy that the licensee is requesting a change of use before local governmental bodies, or that a change of use has been granted, or that a change of use which requires no governmental approval will occur, noting the effective date of change of use or discontinuance.

Section 32M. Upon the sale or proposed sale of a manufactured home located on a lot in a manufactured housing community and which is not owned by the manufactured housing community licensee, the prospective purchaser and members of his household may not be refused entrance if they meet the current rules of the community.

Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall constitute an unfair or deceptive trade practice under the provisions of section two (a) of chapter ninety-three A.

Section 32N. Any manufactured housing community licensee or his agent who threatens to or takes reprisals against any manufactured housing community resident for reporting a violation or suspected violation of section thirty-two L or section thirty-two M or any applicable building or health code to the board of health of a city or town in which the manufactured housing community is located, the department of public health, the department of the attorney general or any other appropriate government agency, shall be liable for damages which shall not be less than one month's rent or more than five months' rent, or the actual damages sustained by the manufactured housing community resident, whichever is greater, and the costs of the court action brought for said damages including reasonable attorney's fees. The receipt of any notice of termination of tenancy by such manufactured housing community resident, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months after making such a report of a violation or a suspected violation, shall create a rebuttable presumption that such notice is a reprisal against the manufactured housing community resident for making such report and said presumption may be pleaded in defense to any eviction proceeding against such manufactured housing community resident brought within a year after such report.

Section 32 O. In any action to enforce the provisions of section thirty-two L or section thirty-two M, the clerk of the court shall mail copies of any judgment, decree, permanent injunction or order of the court upon the entry thereof to the attorney general and to the board of health of the city or town in which the manufactured housing community of the licensee is located.

Section 32P. All terms and conditions of occupancy must be fully disclosed in writing by the manufactured housing community owner to any prospective manufactured housing community resident at a reasonable time prior to the rental or occupancy of a manufactured home lot. Said disclosure shall include, but shall not be limited to, the amount of rent, an itemized list of any charges or fees, the names and addresses of all the owners of the manufactured housing community, and the rules and regulations governing the use of the manufactured home lot and community. Such writing shall be signed by the manufactured housing community owner and contain the following notice printed verbatim in a clear and conspicuous manner:

IMPORTANT NOTICE REQUIRED BY LAW

The rules set forth below govern the terms of your lease of occupancy arrangement with this manufactured housing community. If these rules are changed in any way, the addition, deletion or amendment must be delivered to you, along with a copy of the certified mail receipts indicating that such change has been submitted to and received by the Attorney General and the Secretary of Communities and Development. This notification must be furnished to you at least thirty days before the change goes into effect. The law requires all of these rules and regulations to be fair and reasonable or else said rules and regulations cannot be enforced against you.

You may continue to stay in the community as long as you pay your rent and abide by the rules and regulations of the community. You may only be evicted for nonpayment of rent, violation of law, or for substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the community. If the community will undergo a change of use, you must receive notification of the change at least two years prior to its occurrence. In addition, no eviction proceedings may be commenced against you until you have received notice by certified mail of the reason for the eviction proceeding and you have been given fifteen days from the date of the notice in which to pay the overdue rent or to cease and desist from any substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the community; provided, however, that only one notice of a substantial violation of the rules and regulations of the community is required to be sent to you during any six month period. If a second or additional violation occurs, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months from the date of the first notice, then eviction proceedings may be commenced against you immediately.

If this community requires you to deal exclusively with a certain fuel dealer or other merchant for goods or services in connection with the use or occupancy of your manufactured home lot, the price you pay for such goods or services may not be more than the prevailing price in this locality for similar goods and services.

You may not be evicted for reporting any violations of law or health and building codes to boards of health, the Attorney General, or any other appropriate government agency. Receipt of notice of termination of tenancy by you, except for nonpayment of rent, within six months after your making such a report shall create a rebuttable presumption that such notice is a reprisal and may be pleaded by you in defense to any eviction proceeding brought within one year.

This law is enforceable by the consumer protection division of the Attorney General's office.

Section 32Q. As used in sections thirty-two A to thirty-two P, inclusive, the words "manufactured home" shall mean a structure, built in conformance to the National Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards which is transportable in one or more sections, which in the traveling mode, is eight body feet or more in width or forty body feet or more in length, or, when erected on site, is three hundred twenty or more square feet, and which is built on a permanent chassis and designed to be used as a dwelling unit with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities, and includes the plumbing, heating, air conditioning, and electrical systems contained therein.

Chap. 481

Section 32R. In any instance in which a manufactured housing community owner has been sent a certified letter from an incorporated home owners' association indicating that such association has at least fifty-one percent of the home owners residing within said community as members and has articles of incorporation specifying all rights and powers, including the power to negotiate for, acquire and operate the manufactured housing community on behalf of the member residents, then, before a manufactured housing community may be sold for any purpose and before it may be leased for any purpose that would result in a discontinuance, the owner shall notify said association by certified mail of any bona fide offer that the owner intends to accept, to buy the community or to lease it for a use that would result in a discontinuance. The community owner shall also give notice by certified mail to the incorporated home owners' association of any intention to sell or lease the community for a use which will result in a discontinuance within fourteen days of any advertisement or other public notice by the owner or his agent that the community is for sale or the land upon which the community is located is for lease.

The notice to the home owners' association shall include the price, calculated as a single lump sum amount which reflects the present value of any installment payments offered and of any promissory notes offered in lieu of cash payments or, in the case of an offer to rent the capitalized value of the annual rent, and the terms and conditions of the offer. Any incorporated home owners' association entitled to notice under this section shall have the right to purchase, in the case of a third party bona fide offer to purchase, or to lease in the case of a third party bona fide offer to lease, the said community, provided it meets the price and substantially equivalent terms and conditions of any offer of which it is entitled to notice under this section by (1) executing a contract or purchase and sale or lease agreement with the owner within forty-five days of notice of the offer and (2) obtaining any necessary financing or guarantees within an additional forty-five days. No owner shall unreasonably refuse to enter into or unreasonably delay the execution of a purchase and sale or lease agreement with a home owners' association that has made a bona fide offer to meet the price and substantially equivalent terms and conditions of an offer for which notice is required to be given pursuant to this section. Failure of the incorporated home owner's association to execute such a purchase and sale agreement or lease within the first forty-five day period or to obtain a binding commitment for financing within the second forty-five day period shall serve to terminate the right of such association to purchase or lease the manufactured housing community. The time periods herein provided may be extended by agreement of the association and the owner. Nothing herein shall be construed to require an owner to provide financing to any association or to prohibit an owner from requiring an association which is offering to lease a community to have within its possession a sum equivalent to the capitalized value of the proposed rent of the community and requiring that a portion of such sum, of an amount necessary to pay the rent on said community for a period of no greater than two years, be kept in escrow for such purpose during the term of the lease.

The right of first refusal created herein shall inure to a home owners' association for the time periods hereinbefore provided, beginning on the date of notice to the home owners' association. The effective period of such right of first refusal shall obtain separately for each substantially different bona fide offer to purchase the community or to lease it for a purpose that would result in a discontinuance, and for each offer substantially equivalent to an offer made more than three months prior to the later offer; provided, however, that in the case of a substantially equivalent offer made by a prospective buyer who has previously made an offer for which notice to a home owners' association was required by this section, the right of first refusal shall obtain only if such subsequent offer is made more than six months after the earlier offer. The right of first refusal shall not apply with respect to any offer received by the owner for which notice to a home owners' association is not required pursuant to this section.

No right of first refusal shall apply to a government taking by eminent domain or negotiated purchase, a forced sale pursuant to a foreclosure, transfer by gift, devise or operation of law, or a sale to a person who would be included within the table of descent and distribution if there were to be a death intestate of a community owner.

In any instance in which the incorporated home owners' association of a manufactured housing community is not the successful purchaser or lessee of such manufactured housing community, the seller or lessor of such community shall prove compliance with this section by filing an affidavit of compliance in the official records of the county where the property is located within seven days of the sale or lease of the community.

A credit union may make a loan for the purpose of financing the purchase of a movable dwelling, hereinafter called a manufactured home, containing living facilities suitable for year-round occupancy by one family, including permanent provision for eating, sleeping, cooking and sanitation; provided, however, that (a) such manufactured home is to be maintained as a residence of the purchaser; (b) such manufactured home will, within ninety days after purchase, be located at a manufactured housing community or other semipermanent site within the commonwealth or within a radius of thirty-five miles of the credit union office without regard to geographical location; (c) the principal amount of such loan, including interest and other costs, shall not exceed eighty percent of the purchase price of such manufactured home, excluding any taxes, transportation expenses, insurance premiums, registration fees and other costs paid or required to be paid by the purchaser in connection with such purchase; or thirty-five thousand dollars, whichever is less; (d) such loan is required to be repaid in substantially equal monthly installments within a period of not more than twenty-five years after the date of such purchase; and (e) the note or other instrument evidencing such loan shall expressly grant to such credit union a security interest in such manufactured home and shall include such provisions as the credit committee may deem necessary for the protection of such credit union's security interest including, specifically, provisions with respect to insurance, taxes, maintenance and repairs.

SECTION 22. Section 14 of chapter 186 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 3, the word "mobile" and inserting in place thereof the word:- manufactured.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 64 of chapter 29 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by adding the following three paragraphs:-

The state treasurer, on behalf of the commonwealth, shall contract with every person, who is receiving compensation from the commonwealth for services performed for the commonwealth and who is not eligible for membership or has exercised an option not to participate in the state retirement system set forth in chapter thirty-two, to defer a portion of that person's compensation, and shall invest the deferred portion of that person's income in a deferred compensation program established in accordance with said Code. For persons holding positions which would have rendered the holder of the position eligible for participation in the commonwealth's deferred compensation program on November fifth, nineteen hundred and ninety, the state treasurer shall contract for plan years prior to January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, to defer six percent of that person's regular compensation, as defined in section one of chapter thirty-two for the period subsequent to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and forty-five, but no greater than the maximum deferral allowable for that person pursuant to the provisions of said Code for government deferred compensation programs. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the state treasurer need not contract with any part-time, seasonal or temporary employee not required by said Code to participate in a public retirement system. All contracts formed with part-time, seasonal or temporary employees pursuant to the provisions of the previous paragraph shall entitle the employee to a single-sum distribution of the employee's deferrals plus reasonable interest.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to create or grant any rights not previously enjoyed under chapter thirty-two A or one hundred and fifty E.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 29 is hereby further amended by inserting after section 64C the following section:-

The treasurer, or if there is no treasurer, the chief financial officer by whatever name that person is called, on behalf of a governmental body which has accepted the provisions of this section shall contract with any person, who is receiving compensation from the governmental body for services performed for the governmental body and who is not eligible for membership in the retirement system set forth in said chapter thirty-two that pertains to the governmental body, to withhold from that person's compensation at least such amounts as are necessary to provide the minimum level of benefits required to qualify said deferred compensation program, tax sheltered annuity or other defined contribution plan as a retirement system for said person as defined under said Section 3121 (b)(7)(F) of said Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder but no greater than permitted under other provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

All contracts formed with part-time, seasonal or temporary employees pursuant to the provisions of the first paragraph shall entitle the employee to a single-sum distribution of the employee's deferral plus reasonable interest.

A governmental body may accept the provisions of this section by a majority vote of the selectmen for a town, the city council for a city, the county council for a county, the district members in a district, the members of the authority in an authority, and the governing body, by whatever name and in whatever form composed, in any other political subdivision, body politic and corporate, or public instrumentality created by the commonwealth.

Any governmental body already requiring, on the effective date of this act, participation in a public retirement system for persons who are receiving compensation from the governmental body for services performed and who are not members of a retirement system as provided under said chapter thirty-two shall be deemed to have accepted the provisions of this section without the requirement of a majority vote of the selectmen for a town, the city council for a city, the county council for a county, the district members in a district, the members of the authority in an authority, and the governing body, by whatever name and in whatever form composed, in any other political subdivision, body politic and corporate, or public instrumentality created by the commonwealth.

Whenever the department is required to pay for such care rendered in a nonemergency room setting, said department shall pay all reasonable costs for such services in such hospital, as determined by the commission pursuant to this chapter and consistent with the provisions of Title XIX laws.

(d) No acute hospital may charge to a governmental unit for services provided to publicly aided patients at a rate higher than the rate payable by the department of public welfare under Title XIX for the same service, unless such service is provided by said department pursuant to a unique arrangement such as a selective contract or a managed care contract.

(e) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to conflict with the provisions of a waiver of otherwise applicable federal requirements which the department of public welfare may obtain from the secretary of health and human services for the purpose of implementing a primary care case management system for delivering services, or for the purpose of implementing any other type of managed care service delivery system in which the eligible recipient is directed to obtain services exclusively from one provider or one group of providers.

(f) If the department of public welfare contracts with any third party payer for the provision of medical benefits for medical assistance recipients under Title XIX, said department shall assure that on a quarterly basis such contracted third party payers notify each acute hospital of the number of inpatient days of service provided by the hospital to such recipients covered by such contracts.

Section 3. No acute hospital shall deny access to care and services which the hospital would provide under chapter one hundred and eighteen E to recipients of benefits under chapter one hundred and seventeen A.

Section 4. Except to the extent prohibited by federal law or regulation, any third party payer shall have the option to require utilization review for acute hospital admissions and continued acute hospital stays, as well as ancillary services and outpatient services, if applicable. The payer shall have the option to contract with a medical peer review organization or the acute hospital to perform utilization review or to conduct its own utilization review. A medical peer review organization may also contract with acute hospitals to perform review on a delegated basis. In any such hospital performing reviews on a delegated basis, the medical peer review organization shall monitor the effectiveness of such hospital's review plans to determine whether continued delegation is warranted. The utilization review process shall provide for the timely notification of patients by the third party payer that further services are deemed inappropriate or not medically necessary. Such notification shall inform the patient that the patient's third party payer will cease coverage after a stated period from the date of such notification. No third party payer shall be liable for charges for acute hospital services provided subsequent to the end of the notification period, except that the Medicaid program under Title XIX shall be liable for appropriate payments consistent with the provisions of Title XIX for acute hospital services for Title XIX recipients.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to authorize a third party payer or other person, other than through the use of persons licensed to practice medicine, with or without the assistance of other licensed health care personnel, or through the use of licensed health care personnel under the guidance of persons licensed to practice medicine, to conduct utilization review.

Section 5. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize any person not licensed to practice medicine to exercise supervision or control over the practice of medicine or the manner in which medical services are provided, except as provided in section four.

Section 6. A hospital aggrieved by any action or failure to act by the commission under this chapter or the department of medical security, under chapter one hundred and eighteen F, may file an appeal pursuant to the provision of section thirty-six of chapter six A.

Section 7. All purchasers and third party payers may enter into contractual arrangements with acute hospitals for services. No such arrangement, including but not limited to prices or charges which may be charged for non-contracted services or which may be negotiated in individual contracts between such purchasers or third party payers and such acute hospitals, shall be subject to prior approval by any public agency; provided, however, that charges established by an acute hospital for health care services rendered shall be uniform for all patients receiving comparable services.

Section 8. There is hereby established the hospital payment system advisory commission, hereinafter known as "HospPAC", to be composed of seven members appointed by the governor one of whom shall be an attorney at law proficient in the areas of anti-trust and contract law; one of whom shall have knowledge and experience in the area of hospital financial management; and the remainder of whom shall be selected from among recognized experts in the fields of health economics, general management and economics, public health policy, or medical science and practice. The governor shall appoint one member to serve as chairman.

Two HospPAC members shall be first appointed to terms of one year. Two HospPAC members shall be first appointed to terms of two years, and three members first appointed shall be appointed to terms of three years. All subsequent appointments shall be for a term of three years.

HospPAC may appoint an executive director to serve at its pleasure, who may employ a qualified staff. Such director and staff shall not be subject to provisions of chapter thirty-one. HospPAC may point advisory committees of knowledgeable experts and interested parties to assist it in carrying out its duties and may enter into agreements for services of attorneys at law, accountants, financial experts and other consultants as it deems necessary and appropriate.

The annual budget of HospPAC and the compensation for its staff shall be set by appropriation. Any such appropriation shall be reimbursed, directly through assessments to acute hospitals and public and private grant funds as may be secured. Meetings shall be governed by section eleven A 1/2 of chapter thirty A. Records of reports shall be public records as defined by the twenty-sixth clause of section seven of chapter four and shall be disclosed in accordance with the provisions of chapter sixty-six.

The department of public health, department of public welfare, department of medical security, the rate setting commission and the division of insurance shall provide relevant data to HospPAC except where prohibited by law from releasing such data. Where necessary to perform its function, HospPAC may require the collection of additional data through the rate setting commission, or through other agencies pursuant to their data collection authority.

The principal duties of HospPAC shall be as follows:

(i) to oversee and evaluate in an advisory capacity to the rate setting commission the implementation of the hospital rates of payment for disproportionate share hospitals pursuant to section two;

(ii) to annually evaluate rates of payment contracted by the department of public welfare pursuant to section two to ensure that such rates do not jeopardize access to necessary hospital services of appropriate scope and quality in the commonwealth, with particular attention to services provided by facilities recognized by the rate setting commission as sole community providers, disproportionate share hospitals and specialty hospitals;

(iii) to assess adherence by payers and providers to recognized fair market contracting standards and to propose to the general court, whenever deemed appropriate, additional safeguards to prevent unfair or discriminatory contracting or pricing practices;

(iv) make an assessment of the determination of need program in the commonwealth and submit recommendations, as deemed necessary, by July fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, to the legislature to repeal or modify such program to make it consistent with the hospital payment environment established by this act, including, but not limited to, the impact, if any, of the proximity to state borders on the competitive position of health care facilities.

Section 9. Each acute hospital shall pay to the commonwealth an amount for the estimated expenses of the commission. Such amount shall be equal to the amount appropriated by the general court for the purposes of the commission each year multiplied by the ratio of the hospital's gross patient service revenues to the total of all such hospital's gross patient service revenues. On October first of each year each acute hospital shall make a preliminary payment to the commission of an amount equal to one-half of the previous year's total assessment. Thereafter, each hospital shall pay, within thirty days notice from the commission, the balance of the total assessment for the current year based upon its most current projected gross patient service revenue. The commission shall subsequently adjust the assessment for any variation in actual and estimated expenses of the commission and for changes in hospital gross patient service revenue. Such estimated and actual expenses shall include an amount equal to the cost of fringe benefits as established by the commissioner of administration pursuant to section six B of chapter twenty-nine. In the event of late payment by any such hospital, the treasurer shall advance the amount of due and unpaid funds to the commission prior to the receipt of such monies in anticipation of such revenues up to the amount authorized in the then current budget attributable to such assessments, and the commission shall reimburse the treasurer for such advances upon receipt of such revenues. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any state institution or to any acute hospital which is operated by a city or town.

Section 10. The commission shall, by regulation, designate information necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter including, without limitation, the filing of a charge book, the filing of cost data and audited financial statements, and the submission of merged billing and discharge data. Further, said commission shall, by regulation, designate standard systems for determining, reporting and auditing volume, case-mix, proportion of low income patients and any other information necessary to permit the commission to effect the purposes of this chapter and to prepare reports comparing acute care hospitals in terms of cost, utilization and outcome. Such regulations may not require information in excess of that which is necessary to serve reasonably the purpose of collection and shall avoid imposing duplicative or prohibitively expensive reporting requirements. Such regulations may require acute hospitals to file required information and data by electronic means; provided, however, that the commission shall allow reasonable waivers from such requirement.

The commission shall, at least annually, publish a report analyzing such comparative information for the purpose of assisting third-party payers and other purchasers of health services in making informed decisions. Such report shall contain comparative price and service information relative to outpatient mental health services.

The commission shall work with other agencies including, without limitation, the departments of public health, mental health and public welfare and the division of insurance to collect and disseminate data concerning the cost of health insurance in the commonwealth and the health status of individuals. Said commission shall work with such other agencies to publish such data and to make it available to the public.

Section 11. For purposes of this section, unless specifically noted otherwise, the terms used herein shall have the same definitions as provided in section two of chapter one hundred and eighteen F.

(1) There shall be a separate and identifiable uncompensated care fee assessed by acute hospitals on all accounts charged to purchasers and third party payers exclusive of Titles XVIII and XIX and publicly aided patients, payment of which shall be required in full, in addition to any other payments for services established pursuant to contract or otherwise. Such uncompensated care fee shall reflect the product of the uncompensated care percentage to be calculated by the commission and the charges for patient care services on such accounts; provided, however, that such charges shall appear on each such account notwithstanding the actual amount of payments for such services established pursuant to contract or otherwise. The proceeds of such fees shall be deposited into the fund established pursuant to section seventeen of chapter one hundred and eighteen F.

(2) For each fiscal year, the commission shall calculate the uncompensated care percentage on a prospective basis using available information and such percentage need not be recalculated thereafter except at the commission's discretion. The percentage so calculated shall equal the ratio of the uncompensated care liability of purchasers and third party payers for said fiscal year, as determined by the general court, to the estimated charges to purchasers and third party payers for patient care services for said fiscal year, exclusive of charges to Titles XVIII and XIX and publicly aided patients and eligible free care charges.

(3) In establishing the percentage on a prospective basis, the commission shall require each acute hospital to file a schedule thirty days before the beginning of the fiscal year with the rate setting commission, setting forth estimated patient care charges to purchasers and third party payors exclusive of Titles XVIII and XIX and publicly aided patients and eligible free care charges for said fiscal year. The commission shall review said projected charges for reasonableness, taking into account the hospital's actual charges to said purchasers and third party payers for the current fiscal year. The commission may update this percent as more current data becomes available throughout the year.

(4) The commission shall calculate for each hospital a cost to charge ratio which shall be used by the department of medical security in determining the uncompensated care pool's liability to the hospital in accordance with section fifteen of chapter one hundred and eighteen F. In the case of nondisproportionate share hospitals such calculation shall represent the ratio of the reasonable actual costs of patient care services, as determined by the commission, to gross patient service revenue for the most recent year for which audited financial statements for the hospital are available. In the case of disproportionate share hospitals, such calculation shall represent the ratio of the hospital's reasonable financial requirements, as determined by the commission, to gross patient service revenue for the most recent year for which audited financial statements for such hospital are available. The commission shall, throughout the year, update each acute hospital's ratio in the event more current audited financial statement information becomes available. Further, said commission shall further establish, for each nondisproportionate share acute hospital for any given fiscal year, a final ratio using the reasonable costs for patient care services and gross patient service revenues as appearing in the audited financial statements for fiscal year. For disproportionate share hospitals, said commission shall establish a final ratio based upon its reasonable financial requirements, as defined by the commission, and actual gross patient service revenues as appearing in the audited financial statements for the fiscal year.

Section 12. An acute hospital which makes a charge or accepts payment based upon a charge in excess of that filed with the commission under sections seven and ten or approved by the commission or which fails to file any data, statistics or schedules or other information required under this chapter or by any regulation promulgated by the commission or which falsifies same, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each day on which such violation occurs or continues, which penalty may be assessed in an action brought on behalf of the commonwealth in any court of competent jurisdiction. The attorney general shall bring any appropriate action, including injunctive relief, as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter.

Section 13. The commission, in carrying out its duties as set forth in this chapter and in relation to the establishment, review or approval of acute hospital rates and charges, shall not, in any computation involving such actions, consider the following as resources of such hospital: restricted and unrestricted grants, gifts, contributions, bequests, fund principle, term endowments and endowment balances, restricted gifts, unrestricted gifts and all income from any of the foregoing, including unrestricted income from endowment funds and income and gains from investment of unrestricted funds.

As used in this section, the following words shall have the following meanings:

"Income and gains from investment of unrestricted funds", interest, dividends, rents or other income on investments, including net gains or losses resulting from investment transactions.

"Term endowment", funds available upon termination of restrictions.

"Unrestricted gifts", gifts, grants, contributions, and bequests upon which there are no restrictions imposed by the donor.

"Unrestricted income from endowment funds", income earned on investment of endowment funds which have no restrictions on income.

Section 14. Notwithstanding any provisions of this chapter to the contrary, all costs and charges for patients who are residents of other countries shall, as provided herein, be exempted from the limitations imposed by this chapter. Any hospital shall be allowed to impose a surcharge on the normal charges that would otherwise be allowed for such residents of other countries. Such surcharges shall not be included in the calculation of gross patient service revenues. The normal charge and the patient discharge statistics shall otherwise be included under the provisions of this chapter.

Section 15. A health maintenance organization organized under chapter one hundred and seventy-six G may (i) negotiate directly with any hospital with respect to such health maintenance organization's rate of payment for hospital services and (ii) enter into an agreement with such hospital reflecting such rate of payment without the approval of the commission established under section thirty-two of chapter six A. The specification in this section of contracting rights of health maintenance organizations shall not be construed as affirming or denying such rights with respect to any other third party payer.

Section 16. (a) There shall be within the executive office of human services an acute hospital conversion board, hereinafter referred to as "the board", to consist of the commissioner of public health, who shall serve as the chairman, the chairman of the rate setting commission, the executive director of the Massachusetts health and educational facilities authority, the deputy commissioner for medical assistance in the department of public welfare and the commissioner of the department of medical security. Said board shall administer the provisions of this section concerning the closing of acute hospitals or their conversion to other health, rehabilitative or public purposes and shall review the results of negotiations between sole community providers and federally designated rural referral centers and Blue Cross/Blue Shield or any other third party payor to determine whether such negotiations fairly took account of the importance of such sole community provider or rural referral center to its service area. Further said board shall provide assistance to acute hospitals in the identification and development of alternative financial resources and site uses, and in the expedition of state regulatory processes. Further said board shall advise the division of employment security, the Massachusetts industrial service program and any other appropriate agencies or institutions regarding the need for re-employment training incentive programs for employees of acute hospitals whose employment is or will be terminated because of the closing or conversion of an acute hospital. Said board shall further continue to provide guidance and advice as necessary to hospitals granted regulatory relief before January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

(b) Upon receiving certification pursuant to this section of a hospital's intention to close or convert to another purpose, the board shall immediately notify the Massachusetts industrial service program established under chapter twenty-three D.

(c) The board shall further have the authority to exempt such closing or converting hospital or any hospital undertaking to purchase or merge with such closing or converting hospital from the provisions of sections twenty-five B to twenty-five G, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and eleven with regard to any substantial change in services, as defined in said sections any regulations pursuant thereto, proposed as a result of such closing or converting hospital's cessation of operation as an acute hospital; provided, however, that said board approves such proposal pursuant to this section; and provided further, that the result of any such exempted proposal shall be a net reduction in the number of medical-surgical, pediatric, obstetric and maternity beds equal to the number of such beds contained in such closing or converting hospital; provided, however, that any such proposal which is not approved or disapproved within ninety days of its submission shall be deemed approved for purposes of this section and shall thereupon be exempt from the provisions of said sections twenty-five B to twenty-five G, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and eleven.

(d) Any acute hospital which qualifies for and receives regulatory relief pursuant to this section shall give its employees at least ninety days prior written notice of the termination of their employment; provided, however, that such notice shall be in a form and manner prescribed by the board and shall include, but not be limited to, the following: notice of their right to continued health benefits pursuant to statute or applicable collective bargaining agreement, notice of their rights pursuant to sections seventy-one A to seventy-one J, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A, and notice of the availability of the comprehensive job placement and reemployment training program established pursuant to section four of chapter twenty-three D.

(e) In carrying out its duties pursuant to this section, the board shall seek the advice of an advisory council to consist of the following members: one representative each designated by the Massachusetts hospital association, the Massachusetts nurses' association, and Blue Cross of Massachusetts, Inc., a representative of a collective bargaining unity for hospital workers designated by the Massachusetts

AFL-CIO, and one representative each to be appointed by said board from the following: a large teaching hospital, a community hospital, a large business, a small business, a commercial insurance company, and a health care consumer.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary of this chapter or of any general or special law, the board is authorized to continue any rate adjustments, compliance relief, regulatory relief, or any other assistance granted to any hospital prior to January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two to the extent such relief was authorized prior to said date.

Section 15. (1) The department shall administer the uncompensated care pool consisting of revenues produced by the uncompensated care fee established pursuant to section twelve of chapter six B, matching funds received through federal financial participation for uncompensated care payments to disproportionate share hospitals and legislative appropriations.

(2) The hospital's liability to the pool shall equal the product of the uncompensated care fee percentage established by the commission pursuant to paragraph two of section twelve of chapter six B times charges for purchasers and third party payers, excluding charges for Title XVIII, Title XIX, publicly-aided patients and free care services eligible for payment by the uncompensated care pool.

(3) The pool's liability to the hospital shall equal the product of allowable free care charges multiplied by the applicable ratio developed by the commission pursuant to paragraph four of section twelve of chapter six B.

(4) The department shall administer the pool and require payments to the pool or disburse funds from the pool consistent with each hospital's net liability to or from the pool. The department shall specify, by regulation, appropriate mechanisms that provide for interim determination and payment of a hospital's liability to or from the pool during the year and final settlement of each year's pool. The final pool settlement shall be determined using actual gross patient service revenues, actual free care charges, adjusted for any audit findings, and any final ratios calculated by the commission in accordance with section twelve of chapter six B. The department shall also provide for an appropriate reconciliation of any interim payments and estimated liabilities to or from the pool with a hospital's actual liability to or from the pool for each year.

(5) The department shall not at any time make payments from the pool for any period in excess of amounts that have been paid into or are available in the pool for such period; provided, however, that the department may temporarily prorate payments from the pool for cash flow purposes; provided, however, that should there exist a shortfall of pool revenue, in any fiscal year, to cover allowable free care payments, the department shall allocate such payments so that those hospitals with the greatest proportional requirement for pool income shall receive a greater proportional payment from the pool.

(6) The department shall establish an appropriate mechanism for enforcing a hospital's obligation to the pool in the event a hospital does not make a scheduled payment to the pool. Such enforcement mechanism will include notification to the department of public welfare to offset payments on a hospital's Title XIX claims from the department of public welfare in the amount of payment owed to the pool plus a surcharge of five percent on the amount, and to transfer the withheld funds into said pool. If the department of public welfare offsets claims payments as ordered by the department, it shall be deemed not to be in breach of contract or any other obligation for payment of non-contracted services, and hospitals to which payment is offset under order of the department shall serve all Title XIX recipients in accordance with the contract then in effect with the department of public welfare, or, in the case of a non-contracting or disproportionate share hospital, in accordance with its obligation for providing services to Title XIX recipients pursuant to this act. In no event shall the department direct the department of public welfare to offset claims unless the hospital has maintained an outstanding obligation to the uncompensated care pool for a period longer than forty-five days and has received proper notification of the department's intention in accordance with regulations to be developed by the department.

(7) Payments by acute hospitals to the pool, state revenues appropriated for the purposes of the pool, and federal financial participation funds deposited in the pool shall be placed in an uncompensated care trust fund established in section seventeen. Amounts placed in the fund may be expended by the department for the purposes of said pool; and provided further, the department shall establish mechanisms to make payments from the pool to community health centers for free care expenses. Such payments for such free care expenses shall be at the level of actual cost.

(8) The department shall manage the pool in order to encourage maximum efficiency and appropriateness in the utilization of acute hospital services and may require utilization review in accordance with section four of chapter six B. Said department may refuse to allow payments to hospitals for free care for which reimbursement is available from other sources including, but not limited to, the medicare program. Said department may adopt regulations prohibiting payments from the pool for the costs of health care provided to residents of foreign countries. Said department may adopt regulations requiring disproportionate share hospitals to use a portion of payments received from the pool to reimburse physicians for the costs of free care which such physicians provide in such hospitals. Said department shall promulgate regulations detailing the definition of free care, including regulations setting standards for reasonable efforts to collect costs of emergency care and standards to determine medical hardship. Said department shall also adopt any other regulations necessary to manage said pool including, but not limited to, regulations providing audit standards for said pool, regulations establishing an enforcement mechanism pursuant to subdivision (7), and regulations containing reasonable controls on utilization.

SECTION 20. Said chapter 118F is hereby further amended by inserting after section 12 the following section:-

Section 12A. The department shall establish an advisory board relating to small business health insurance reform issues in connection with chapter one hundred and seventy-six J. Said board shall advise the department relative to small business health insurance access and affordability. Said board shall consist of nine members appointed by the governor, five of whom shall represent small businesses, one of whom shall be a health insurance underwriter, one of whom shall represent a nonprofit hospital service corporation, one of whom shall represent a commercial insurance company and one of whom shall represent a health maintenance organization.

“Actuarial opinion”, a signed written statement by a member of the American Academy of Actuaries based upon the person’s examination, including a review of the appropriate records and of the actuarial assumptions and methods utilized by the carrier in establishing premium rates for applicable health benefit plans.

“Adjusted average market premium price”, the arithmetic mean of all premium rates for a given prototype plan sold to eligible insureds with similar case characteristics by all carriers selling prototype plans in the commonwealth.

If employees are covered, such coverage shall be for the benefit of persons other than the employees’ employer. A minimum of one hundred persons shall be eligible for coverage under the group policy as of its original issue date. The association shall have been organized and maintained in good faith for purposes other than that of obtaining insurance, as determined by the commissioner, shall have a constitution and by-laws or other governing documents analogous thereto and shall have been in active existence for at least one year.

“Benefit level”, the health benefits provided by, and the benefit payment structure of, a health benefit plan.

“Case characteristics”, age, sex, rate basis type, industry, number of eligible persons, and participation rate of a group.

“Class of business”, all or a distinct grouping of eligible insureds as shown on the records of the carrier which is provided with a health benefit plan through a health care delivery system operating under a license distinct from that of another grouping.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of the division of insurance.

"Eligible employee", an employee who: (1) works on a full-time basis with a normal work week of thirty or more hours, and includes an owner, a sole proprietor or a partner of a partnership; provided however, that such owner, sole proprietor or partner is included as an employee under a health care plan of an eligible small business but does not include an employee who works on a temporary or substitute basis, and (2) is hired to work for a period of not less than five months.

"Eligible dependent", the spouse or child of an eligible person, subject to the applicable terms of the health benefit plan covering such employee.

"Eligible small business" or "group", any sole proprietorship, firm, corporation, partnership or association actively engaged in business who, on at least fifty percent of its working days during the preceding year employed from among one to not more than twenty-five eligible employees, the majority of whom worked in the commonwealth; provided, however, that a health carrier may offer health insurance to a business of more than twenty-five employees in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. In determining the number of eligible employees, companies which are affiliated companies or which are eligible to file a combined tax return for purposes of state taxation shall be considered one business. Except as otherwise specifically provided, provisions of this chapter which apply to an eligible small business shall continue to apply through the end of the rating period in which an eligible insured no longer meets the requirements of this definition.

"Emergency services", covered services provided after the sudden onset of a medical condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms, including severe pain, which are severe enough that the lack of immediate medical attention could reasonably be expected to result in: (1) placing the patient's health in serious jeopardy; (2) serious impairment of bodily functions; or, (3) serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part.

"Financial impairment", a condition in which, as determined by the commissioner, the applicant is, or if subjected to the provisions of this chapter could reasonably be expected to be, insolvent, or otherwise in an unsound financial condition such as to render its further transactions of business hazardous to the public or its policyholders or members, or compelled to compromise, or attempt to compromise, with its creditors or claimants on the grounds that it is financially unable to pay its claims.

"Group average premium rates", a set of numbers, one for each rate basis type, where each number is the total of the premiums charged to an eligible small business for all eligible employee and eligible dependents of that rate basis type, divided by the number of insured eligible employees of that rate basis type.

"Group base premium rates", the group average premium rates that would be charged by a carrier at the beginning of the rating period if the premiums were based solely upon the age, gender, industry, group size, participation rate, and rate basis type of the members of the group. The group base premium rates for every group shall be adjusted to a January first basis by dividing each group base premium rate by a deflator. The deflator equals the sum of trend for that carrier and the number one (1), raised to the power of the fraction of the calendar year which has elapsed at the time the new rating period begins.

"Health benefit plan", any individual, general, blanket or group policy of health, accident and sickness insurance issued by an insurer licensed under chapter one hundred and seventy-five; a group hospital service plan issued by a non-profit hospital service corporation under chapter one hundred and seventy-six A; a group medical service plan issued by a non-profit hospital service corporation under chapter one hundred and seventy-six B; a group health maintenance contract issued by a health maintenance organization under chapter one hundred and seventy-six G; an insured group health benefit plan that includes a preferred provider arrangement under chapter one hundred and seventy-six I; and any multiple employer welfare arrangement (MEWA) required to be licensed under chapter one hundred and seventy-five; offered to an eligible small business. "Late enrollee", an eligible employee or dependent who requests enrollment in an eligible small business' health insurance plan or insurance arrangement after the group's initial enrollment period, their initial eligibility date provided under the terms of the plan or arrangement, or the group's annual open enrollment period, provided however, that an eligible employee or dependent shall not be considered a late enrollee if the request for enrollment to the insurer is made within thirty days after termination of coverage provided under another health insurance plan or arrangement where such coverage has ceased due to termination of the spouse's employment or death of the spouse.

"Mandated benefit", a health service or category of health service provider which a carrier is required by its licensing or other statute to include in its health benefit plan.

"MEWA", or "multiple employer welfare arrangement", also called a "multiple employer trust", either: (1) a fully-insured multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in sections 3 and 514 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), 29 USC 1002 and 1144, as amended; or, (2) an entity holding itself out to be a multiple employer welfare arrangement or so-called "multiple employer trust" which is not fully insured and, therefore, shall be required to be licensed under chapter one hundred and seventy-five. An arrangement that constitutes a MEWA is considered a separate group health plan with respect to each employer maintaining the arrangement.

"Participation rate", the percentage of eligible employees electing to participate in a health benefit plan out of all eligible employees, or the percentage of the sum of eligible employees and eligible dependents electing to participate in a health benefit plan out of the sum of all eligible employees and eligible dependents at the election of the carrier. In either case, the numbers used to compute these percentages shall not include any eligible employee or eligible dependent who does not participate in the eligible small business' health benefit plan, but who is enrolled in a health benefit plan through a source other than the eligible small business.

"Participation requirement", a policy provision, or a carrier's underwriting guideline if there is no such provision, which requires that a group attain a certain participation rate in order for a carrier to accept the group for enrollment in the plan. For groups of five or fewer eligible persons, a carrier may require a participation rate not to exceed one hundred percent. For groups of six or more eligible persons, a carrier may require a participation rate not to exceed seventy-five percent.

"Preexisting conditions provision", a health benefit plan provision which excludes coverage for charges or expenses incurred during a specified period following the insured's effective date of coverage (i) as to a condition which, during a specified period immediately preceding the effective date of coverage, had manifested itself in such a manner as would cause an ordinarily prudent person to seek medical advice, diagnosis, care or treatment or for which medical advice, diagnosis, care or treatment was recommended or received or (ii) as to a pregnancy existing on the effective date of the coverage.

"Prototype plan", a health benefit plan which meets the criteria established by the commissioner. At least one prototype plan shall have benefit and cost sharing levels that are consistent with the basic method of operation and the benefit plans of health maintenance organizations, including any restrictions imposed by federal law.

"Qualifying health plan", any (i) blanket or general policy of medical, surgical or hospital insurance described in subdivisions (A), (C) or (D) of section one hundred and ten of chapter one hundred and seventy-five; (ii) policy of accident or sickness insurance as described in section one hundred and eight of chapter one

The commissioner may, by regulation, define other health coverage as a qualifying health plan for the purposes of this chapter.

"Rate basis type", each category of individual or family composition for which separate rates are charged for a health benefit plan as determined by the carrier subject to restrictions set forth in regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

"Rating period", the period for which premium rates established by a carrier are in effect, as determined by the carrier.

"Trend", the annual change, from the first day of a group's prior rating period to the first day of that group's new rating period, in the average of all groups' base premium rates attributable to factors other than changes in benefit levels, adjusted for rating periods greater or lesser than one year.

"Waiting period", a period immediately subsequent to the effective date of an insured's coverage under a health benefit plan during which the plan does not pay for some or all hospital or medical expenses.

Section 2. (a) Except as otherwise provided, this chapter applies to all health benefit plans issued, made effective, delivered or renewed to any eligible small business after April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, whether issued directly by a carrier, or through an intermediary. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require a carrier which does not issue health benefit plans subject to the provisions of this chapter to issue health benefit plans subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(b) Coverage to an eligible small business through an association group policy issued for delivery outside of the commonwealth and providing coverage for residents of at least five of the states of the United States of America including for these purposes, the District of Columbia, shall be exempted from the requirements of this chapter by the commissioner, except that such coverage shall be considered a "health benefit plan" and a "health benefit plan covering eligible small businesses" for purposes of section eight of this chapter.

No association group policy shall qualify for the exemption provided in this paragraph if

(i) the majority of insured persons reside in the commonwealth; or

(ii) the premium contribution payable under any such policy by any eligible small business is determined by reference to the actual or anticipated claim experience of such eligible small business as opposed to the claim experience of the association as a whole.

(c) Coverage provided to an eligible small business through an association group policy not granted an exemption pursuant to paragraph (b) shall be subject to all of the requirements of this chapter, except that, notwithstanding subsection (a) of section four, if a carrier would, as of the effective date of this chapter, be subject to the requirements of this chapter solely as a result of providing such coverage, then such carrier shall not be required to issue a health benefit plan to any eligible small business that is not a member of any such association group insured by such carrier unless the association group conditions membership in the association or eligibility of members in the association group's health benefit plan coverage on health status, claim experience or duration of coverage since issue.

(d) Coverage provided by an insurer for non-group health insurance or by any other carrier for non-group health care coverage shall not be subject to the requirements of this chapter.

(e) To qualify for the exemptions provided in paragraphs (b) and (c), the carrier providing coverage must report annually, within ninety days of the end of each calendar year, a certified statement containing the following information to the commissioner, and such other information as the commissioner may specify by regulation: (1) the number of persons insured within the association group policy in total, and the number who reside in the commonwealth, (2) a complete listing of the states, including the District of Columbia, in which these persons reside, (3) a statement describing whether the association conditions health benefit plan coverage on health status, claims experience, or duration of coverage since issue, and (4) a statement describing whether premium rates for health benefit plan insureds vary based on claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage since issue.

Section 3. (a) Premiums charged to every eligible small business for a health benefit plan issued or renewed on or after April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two shall satisfy the following requirements:

(1) For every health benefit plan issued or renewed on or after April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the group base premium rates charged by a carrier to each group during a rating period shall not exceed two times the group base premium rate which could be charged by that carrier to the group with the lowest group base premium rate for that rate basis type within that class of business.

(2) A carrier may establish a benefit level rate adjustment for all groups which shall be expressed as a number. The number shall represent the relative actuarial value of the benefit level of the health benefit plan issued to that group as compared to the actuarial value of other health benefit plans within that class of business. If a carrier chooses to establish benefit level rate adjustments, every group shall be subject to the applicable benefit level rate adjustment.

(3) The commissioner shall annually establish not less than five distinct regions of the state for the purposes of area rate adjustments. A carrier may establish an area rate adjustment for each distinct region, the value of which shall range from eight-tenths to one and one-fifth. If a carrier chooses to establish area rate adjustments, every group within each area shall be subject to the applicable area rate adjustment.

(4) A carrier may establish a group size rate adjustment, the value of which shall range from ninety-five one-hundredths to one and five one-hundredths. The group size rating must be based only upon actual administrative costs or other business costs borne by the carrier for serving groups of varying sizes. If a carrier chooses to establish group size rate adjustments, every group shall be subject to the applicable group size rate adjustment.

(5) A carrier may establish participation-rate rate adjustments for any health benefit plan or plans for any ranges of participation rates below the minimum participation requirements established in accordance with the definition of participation requirement in section two, the value of which shall be expressed as a number. The participation-rate rate adjustments must be based upon actuarially sound analysis of the differences in the experience of groups with different participation rates. If a carrier chooses to establish participation-rate rate adjustments, every group with a participation rate within the ranges defined by the carrier shall be subject to the applicable participation-rate rate adjustment.

(6) A carrier may establish a wellness program rate discount for any eligible small businesses which provide employees wellness programs which meet minimum standards established by the commissioner. The value of the wellness program rate discount shall range from ninety-five one-hundredths to ninety-nine one-hundredths. If a carrier establishes a wellness program rate discount, every eligible insured with a wellness program that meets such standards shall be subject to the applicable wellness program rate discount.

(7) A carrier who, as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, varies rates by health status, claims experience, duration, or any factors other than case characteristics or area may establish a phase-out rate adjustment for each group. The phase-out rate adjustments shall range from sixty-seven one-hundredths to one and thirty-three one-hundredths between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, inclusive. The phase-out rate adjustment shall range from three-quarters to one and one-quarter between January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, inclusive. The phase-out rate adjustments shall range from eighty-five one-hundredths to one and fifteen one-hundredths between January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four, inclusive. No phase-out rate adjustments shall be permitted after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four. If a carrier chooses to establish phase-out rate adjustments, every group which was part of the carrier's in-force business on April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two shall be subject to a phase-out rate adjustment, but all groups which were not part of the carrier's in-force business on April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two shall not be subject to a phase-out rate adjustment.

A carrier who, as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one varies rates by health status, claims experience, duration, group size, or any factors other than case characteristics or area, may base its phase-out rate adjustments only upon those factors other than case characteristics or area which it used to vary its rates on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one and may vary its rates due to these factors only by the amount of the phase-out rate adjustments established in this section, or by the amount which it varied its rates due to those factors on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, whichever is less. A carrier who, as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, does not vary rates by any factors other than case characteristics may not establish a phase-out rate adjustment for any group. Effective January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-five, no carrier may charge a premium rate to an eligible small business which is based upon a group's health status, duration of coverage, or actual or expected claims experience.

(8) A carrier who, as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, varies rates by the age of the insured may establish an age rate adjustment for each eligible small business. The age rate adjustments shall range from sixty-seven one-hundredths to one and thirty-three one-hundredths between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, inclusive.

The premium rate charged by a carrier to each group on the date the group's policy is issued or renewed shall be established such that the average premium rates charged for each rate basis type at the beginning of the rating period, adjusted to a January first basis, equals that rate basis type's group base premium rate, multiplied by the benefit level rate adjustment, multiplied by the area rate adjustment, multiplied by the group size rate adjustment, multiplied by the participation-rate rate adjustment, multiplied by the wellness program rate discount, multiplied by the phase-out rate adjustment, multiplied by the age rate adjustment, as may be applicable pursuant to this section.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, including the provisions of this section, any carrier that issues, delivers or renews a health benefit plan on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four, subject to this chapter without a phase-out rate adjustment may charge a group base premium rate which does not exceed the rate band allowable for any other carrier under paragraph (1) of subsection (a).

(b) For all rating periods which begin between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four, inclusive, the premium rate for each group which renews its coverage with a carrier shall not exceed the premium rate charged by that carrier for that group during the prior rating period by more than: (1) trend within that class of business for that carrier; plus, (2) the sum of any premium changes due to changes in the age, sex, group size, area, participation rate, or rate basis types represented in the group and any change in the applicable wellness program discount; plus (3) ten percent; plus, (4) the change in the actuarial value of the benefits due to changes in the benefit level for that eligible insured.

Section 4. (a) (1) Every carrier shall make available to every eligible small business every health benefit plan which it provides to any eligible small business. Upon the request of an eligible small business, a carrier must provide that business with a price for every health benefit plan which it provides to any eligible small business. Except under the conditions set forth in paragraph (3) of subsection (a) and paragraph (2) of subsection (b), every carrier shall accept for enrollment any eligible small business which seeks to enroll in a health benefit plan. Every carrier shall permit every eligible small business group to enroll all eligible persons and all eligible dependents; provided that the commissioner shall promulgate regulations which limit the circumstances under which coverage must be made available to an eligible employee who seeks to enroll in a health benefit plan significantly later than he was initially eligible to enroll.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit a carrier from offering coverage in a group to a person, and his dependents, who does not satisfy the hours per week or period employed portions of the definition of eligible employee.

Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, a carrier may deny a group enrollment in a health benefit plan if the carrier certifies to the commissioner that the carrier intends to discontinue selling that health benefit plan to new eligible small businesses. The commissioner is authorized to promulgate regulations which ensure that a carrier cannot use the provisions of this paragraph to circumvent the intent of this chapter. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four, inclusive, a carrier may choose to limit the time during which it will accept new groups for coverage to a period of not less than ninety consecutive days during each consecutive twelve month period. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, for between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, inclusive, a carrier may choose not to accept a new group if the group was covered by a health benefit plan on the day this chapter is enacted.

Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, a carrier may deny a group of five or fewer eligible persons enrollment in a health benefit plan unless the group enrolls through an intermediary. If a group of five or fewer eligible employees elects to enroll through an intermediary, a carrier may not deny that group enrollment. The carrier shall implement such requirements consistently, treating all similarly situated groups in a similar manner.

(3) A carrier shall not be required to issue a health benefit plan to an eligible small business if the carrier can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that within the prior twelve months, (a) the small business has repeatedly failed to pay on a timely basis the required health premiums; or, (b) the small business has committed fraud, misrepresented whether or not a person is an eligible employee, or misrepresented other information necessary to determine the size of a group, the participation rate of a group, or the premium rate for a group; or, (c) the small business has failed to comply in a material manner with a health benefit plan provision, including carrier requirements regarding employer contributions to group premiums; or, (d) the small business has been covered by three or more health benefit plans within the same class of business during the four years prior to the date of application for coverage. A carrier shall not be required to issue a health benefit plan to an eligible small business if the small business fails to comply with the carrier's requests for information which the carrier deems necessary to verify the application for coverage under the health benefit plan.

(4) A carrier shall not be required to issue a health benefit plan to an eligible small business if the carrier can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that: (a) the small business fails at the time of issuance or renewal to meet a participation requirement established in accordance with the definition of participation rate in section one; or, (b) acceptance of an application or applications would create for the carrier a condition of financial impairment, and the carrier makes such a demonstration to the same commissioner.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a health maintenance organization shall only be required to offer coverage or accept applications for a prototype plan.

A health maintenance organization shall not be required to accept applications from or offer coverage: (a) to a group, where the group is not physically located in the health maintenance organization's approved service area; or (b) to an eligible employee who applies as part of a group, where the employee does not meet the health maintenance organization's requirements regarding residence or employment with the health maintenance organization's approved service area; or, (c) within an area, where the health maintenance organization reasonably anticipates, and demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commissioner, that it will not, within that area, have the capacity in its network of providers to deliver services adequately to the members of such groups because of its obligations to existing contract holders and enrollees; provided that, a health maintenance organization that makes such a demonstration to the satisfaction of the commissioner may not offer coverage in the applicable area to any new cases of business groups of any size until the later of ninety days after each such refusal or the date on which the carrier notifies the commissioner that it has regained capacity to deliver services to eligible small business groups.

(b) (1) Every health benefit plan shall be renewable with respect to all eligible persons and eligible dependents at the option of the eligible small business.

(2) A carrier shall not be required to renew the health benefit plan of an eligible small business if the small business: (a) has not paid the required premiums; or, (b) has committed fraud, misrepresented whether or not a person is an eligible employee, or misrepresented information necessary to determine the size of a group, the participation of a group, or the premium rate for a group; or, (c) failed to comply in a material manner with health benefit plan provisions including carrier requirements regarding employer contributions to group premiums; or, (d) fails, at the time of renewal, to meet the participation requirements of the plan; or, (e) fails, at the time of renewal, to satisfy the definition of an eligible small business; or, (f) is not actively engaged in business.

(3) A carrier may refuse to renew enrollment for an eligible employee or eligible dependent if: (a) the individual has committed fraud, misrepresented whether or not he is an eligible employee, or misrepresented information necessary to determine his eligibility for a health benefit plan or for specific health benefits; or, (b) the individual fails to comply in a material manner with health benefit plan provisions.

(c) The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to enforce the provisions of this section.

Section 5. (a) No policy shall exclude any eligible employee or eligible dependent on the basis of an actual or expected health condition of such person.

(b) Preexisting conditions provisions shall not exclude coverage for a period beyond six months following the individual's effective date of coverage and may only relate to (i) conditions which had, during the six months immediately preceding the effective date of coverage, manifested themselves in such a manner as would cause an ordinarily prudent person to seek medical advice, diagnosis, care or treatment or for which medical advice, diagnosis, care or treatment was recommended or received or (ii) a pregnancy existing on the effective date of coverage.

In determining whether a preexisting condition provision applies to an eligible employee or dependent, all health benefit plans shall credit the time such person was covered under a previous qualifying health plan provided by a carrier if the previous coverage was continuous to a date not more than thirty days prior to the effective date of the new coverage, exclusive of any applicable service waiting period under such new coverage, and if the previous qualifying coverage was reasonably actuarially equivalent to the new coverage, as determined by the commissioner.

(c) No policy may provide for a waiting period of more than six months beyond the insured's effective date of coverage under the health benefit plan; provided, however, that a carrier may not impose any waiting period upon a new employee who had coverage under a previous qualifying health plan immediately prior to, or until, employment by the eligible small business. If a policy includes a waiting period, emergency services must be covered during the waiting period. In determining whether a waiting period applies to an eligible employee or dependent, all health benefit plans shall credit the time such person was covered under a previous qualifying health plan if the insured experiences only a temporary interruption in coverage, and if the previous qualifying coverage was reasonably actuarially equivalent to the new coverage, both as determined by the commissioner. The waiting period may only apply to services which the new plan covers, but which were not covered under the old plan.

When a group changes from one health benefit plan to another, whether such plan is with the same carrier or a different carrier, the carrier may impose a new waiting period of not more than six months on all members of the group.

The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to enforce the provisions of this section.

Section 6. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the commissioner shall be authorized to approve health insurance policies submitted to the division of insurance for the purpose of being provided to eligible small businesses. Said health insurance policies shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter and may exclude coverages of mandated benefits. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations regarding eligibility criteria. Said eligibility criteria shall require that health insurance policies which exclude mandated benefits shall only be offered to small businesses which did not provide health insurance to its employees as of April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two. Said eligibility criteria may require an employer contribution of at least fifty percent of the health insurance premium for employees. Said eligibility criteria shall also provide that small businesses shall not have any health insurance policies which exclude mandated benefits for more than a five year period.

Section 7. Every carrier shall make reasonable disclosure to prospective small business insureds, as part of its solicitation and sales material of:

(a) between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four, inclusive, the extent, if any, to which premium rates are established or adjusted in part based upon the actual or expected variation in claim costs, the actual or expected variation in health conditions of employees or dependents of small businesses, or the time elapsed since initial enrollment in a health benefit plan; and

(b) the surcharge, if any, which shall be applied to a group's premium if one or more members are covered in the plan set forth in section eight of this chapter; and,

(c) the participation requirements or participation rate adjustments of the carrier with regard to each health benefit plan.

Every carrier, as a condition of doing business under the jurisdiction of this chapter, shall file with the commissioner an actuarial opinion that the carrier's rating methodologies and rates comply with the requirements of this chapter and any regulations promulgated under the authority of this chapter. Every carrier shall maintain at its principal place of business a complete and detailed description of its rating practices including information and documentation which demonstrates that its rating methods and practices are based upon commonly accepted actuarial assumptions, are in accordance with sound actuarial principles, and comply with the provisions of this chapter. Such information shall be made available to the commissioner upon request, but shall remain confidential.

If the commissioner determines that a carrier is not complying with the provisions of this chapter, the commissioner may disapprove the rating methodologies and the rates which the carrier uses.

Section 8. There is established a nonprofit entity to be known as the "Massachusetts Small Employer Health Reinsurance Plan". All commercial carriers issuing health benefit plans to an eligible small business on or after April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two shall be members of the reinsurance program. Non-profit hospital and medical service corporations and health maintenance organizations shall not participate in the reinsurance program established by this section.

Such plan shall be prepared and administered by a governing committee appointed by the governor for terms of three years, consisting of seven members representing small business health insurers participating in the plan. At least one member of the governing committee shall be a small business domestic health insurer. The governing committee shall be responsible for the hiring of the employees of the plan.

On or before March thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the governing committee shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation. The commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, approve or disapprove the plan of operation. Subsequent amendments to such plan shall be deemed approved by the commissioner if not expressly disapproved in writing by the commissioner within thirty days from the date of the filing. The plan shall not reimburse a carrier with respect to the claims of a reinsured employer or dependent in any calendar year until the carrier has paid five thousand dollars in benefits in a calendar year for benefits otherwise covered by the plan. The governing board may increase said dollar amount upon the approval of the commissioner.

Chap. 495

Meetings of the governing committee of the plan shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of section eleven A of chapter thirty A.

Premium rates charged for coverage reinsured by the plan shall be established as follows or as the commissioner may direct, in consultation with the governing committee:

(1) one and one-half times the adjusted average market premium price established by the plan for that classification or group with similar characteristics and coverage, with respect to the eligible employees, and their dependents, of a small employer, all of whose coverage is reinsured with the plan, minus a ceding expense factor determined by the plan.

(2) five times the adjusted average market premium price established by the program for that classification or group with similar characteristics and coverage, with respect to an eligible employee or his dependents, minus a ceding expense determined by the reinsurance program.

To control the size of the population of the plan, the plan shall annually provide for territorial and classification credits for those companies voluntarily writing small business health insurance within those territories and classifications that would otherwise be disproportionately represented in the plan. The size of the credits shall be such as to enhance the prospects that no classification or territory is disproportionately represented in the plan.

Any member may reinsure coverage of an eligible employee of an eligible insured, or any dependent of such an employee with the reinsurance program, provided:

(1) with respect to a prototype plan, the reinsurance program shall reinsure the level of coverage provided;

(2) with respect to other plans issued to eligible small businesses, the reinsurance program shall reinsure the level of coverage provided, up to, but not exceeding, the level of coverage provided in a prototype plan;

(3) with respect to eligible employees and their dependents, who are employed by a small business as of the date such employer's coverage by the carrier, or other benefit arrangement commences coverage may be reinsured within sixty days of the commencement of such employer's coverage with the carrier, or other benefit arrangement except in the case of late enrollees.

(4) with respect to eligible employees, and their dependents who are hired subsequent to the commencement of such employer's coverage by a carrier, or other benefit arrangement, coverage may be reinsured within sixty days of the commencement of their coverage under the plan except in the case of late enrollees.

(5) with respect to eligible employees, and their dependents, when a carrier, or other benefit arrangement reinsures the entire employer group, coverage may be reinsured:

(a) within sixty days of the commencement of the groups coverage under the plan; or

(b) in the case where a new entrant to an employer group is reinsured under the provisions of clause (5), on the first plan anniversary after the new entrant became a member of the employer's plan;

(6) no carrier, or other benefit arrangement may reinsure through the reinsurance program, the health benefit plan coverage of all of the eligible employees, and their dependents, of any small employer unless:

(a) such coverage provides at least the benefits contained in the prototype plan, and

(b) such coverage uses cost containment and managed care techniques as established by the reinsurance program.

(c) such plan contains a participation requirement at issuance of at least seventy-five percent of eligible employees, for plans with six or more eligible employees, and at renewal, the participation requirements that the carrier, or other benefit arrangement required at issuance.

(7) if an eligible small business group is covered under a plan other than a prototype plan and the carrier chooses to reinsure the group subsequent to the initial coverage period, or if a new individual joins the group and the carrier wants to reinsure that individual, the carrier cannot force the small business to change to a prototype plan. The carrier must allow the small business to maintain the same benefit plan and reinsure only the portion of the plan consistent with a prototype plan.

Following the close of each fiscal year, the governing committee shall determine the premiums charged for reinsurance coverage, the reinsurance plan expenses for administration, and the incurred losses, if any, for the year, taking into account investment income and other appropriate gains and losses. Any net loss for the year shall be recouped by assessment of the members. Said assessments shall be apportioned in proportion to said members' respective shares of the total premiums earned in the commonwealth from health benefit plans covering eligible small businesses. Such assessments shall not exceed five percent of such premiums from such health benefit plans.

If the assessment level is inadequate, the governing committee may adjust reinsurance thresholds, retention levels or consider other forms of reinsurance. The governing committee shall report annually to the commissioner and the joint committee on insurance on its experience, the effect of reinsurance and small group rates on individual ceding and recommendations, if any, on additional funding sources, if needed. If other funding sources are not made available, the committee may enter into negotiations with plan members to resolve any deficit through reductions in future payment levels for reinsurance plans. Any such recommendations shall take into account the findings of an actuarial study to be undertaken within the first three years of the plan's operation to evaluate and measure the relative risks being assumed by differing types of health benefit plan carriers. The study shall be conducted by three actuaries appointed by the commissioner, one of whom shall represent risk assuming carriers, one of whom shall represent reinsuring carriers and one of whom shall represent the commissioner.

SECTION 49. Section three of chapter three hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-nine is hereby repealed.

SECTION 51. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, for fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-two and nineteen hundred and ninety-three, acute hospitals, except for specialty hospitals, as defined in chapter six B, shall be subject to price caps and to maximum gross inpatient service revenue limitations which shall be determined as follows:

(i) Using merged billing and discharge tapes submitted by each hospital including specialty hospitals pursuant to commission regulations, the commission shall group all discharges for inpatient services provided from October first, nineteen hundred and ninety through September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one into DRGs, as defined in section one of chapter six B of the General Laws, utilizing the New York Version 8.0 Grouper. After grouping said discharges, the commission shall calculate, by hospital, an average charge for each DRG by dividing total charges by total discharges in each DRG;

(ii) The commission shall then rank all hospitals' including specialty hospitals average charge for each DRG and determine the ninetieth percentile highest charge level in each DRG;

(iii) The commission shall then multiply each charge level determined in subparagraph (ii) by one plus an inflation index for the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one. Said inflation index shall account for the projected annual increase in the market basket of goods and services purchased by hospitals for said fiscal year. The resultant amounts shall constitute the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two price caps in each applicable DRG;

(iv) The commission shall multiply the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two price cap for each DRG by one plus an inflation index for the fiscal year beginning on October first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two. Said inflation index shall account for the projected annual increase in the market basket of goods and services purchased by hospitals for said fiscal year. The resultant amounts shall constitute the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-three price caps in each applicable DRG;

(v) Within one hundred and twenty days after the end of each quarter, each hospital shall file with the commission a schedule listing all admissions of non-insured, non-contracting purchasers where charges for the admission exceeded the applicable price cap. Said schedule shall also list the payment received by the hospital. If the commission determines that any non-contracting, non-insured purchaser paid an amount in excess of said price cap, the commission shall direct the hospital to refund said overpayment;

(vi) Within one hundred and twenty days after the end of each quarter, each hospital except for a specialty hospital shall also file with the commission a schedule comparing actual gross inpatient service revenues to the maximum gross inpatient service revenue limitation calculated pursuant to subparagraph (vii);

(vii) A hospital's maximum gross inpatient service revenue limitation shall be determined by multiplying the total number of discharges in each DRG by the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two or fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-three charge cap as appropriate for that DRG, summing the resulting amounts for all DRGs;

(viii) In cases where a hospital's actual gross inpatient service revenues exceed its maximum gross inpatient service revenue limitation the commission shall ensure that future charges are reduced to effect compliance with said maximum gross inpatient service revenues.

If, at the end of fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-three, the commission determines a hospital's actual gross inpatient service revenues for fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-two and nineteen hundred and ninety-three exceeded its maximum gross inpatient service revenue limitation for those years, the commission shall require the hospital to pay a portion of said excess revenue into the uncompensated care pool, as established pursuant to chapter one hundred and eighteen F of the General Laws, within a reasonable time frame. The commission shall determine said amount by multiplying that portion of the excess charges attributable to purchasers and third party payers, excluding Title XVIII, Title XIX, publicly aided patients, inpatient free care and charges that were listed on the quarterly schedules submitted in accordance with subparagraph five of this section, by one minus the average inpatient discount provided to purchasers and third party payers, excluding Title XVIII, Title XIX, publicly aided patients, inpatient free care, and non-contracting, non-insured purchasers.

The commission shall develop by regulation the methodologies and schedules necessary to implement this section.

For purposes of this section, the terms and definitions used herein shall have the same meanings ascribed to them in section one of chapter six B of the General Laws.

SECTION 52. (1) The department of public health shall establish a pilot loan assistance program for teaching hospitals. Hospitals participating in the pilot program shall administer said program. Further, said hospitals agree to provide loan repayment assistance to medical residents at their institutions who: (a) have a minimum of fifty thousand dollars in education debts upon graduation from medical school; (b) are training in primary care; (c) agree to continue practicing in Massachusetts for at least three years upon completion of residency in a location approved by the Area Health Education Center the University of Massachusetts at Worcester; (d) agree to treat those patients covered for health and medical services under Title XIX (Medicaid) of the federal Social Security Act. (2) The loan repayment assistance would: (a) be paid in the amount of ten thousand dollars directly by each participating hospital to the banks holding the loans for the three participating residents from that hospital; (b) begin after the second year of residency when the federal deferment period ends; (c) be offered by each participating hospital beginning in July nineteen hundred and ninety-two for a period of three years. (3) Said department would: (a) provide listings of available positions meeting the commonwealth's criteria; (b) maintain a record of residents in the loan forgiveness program to ensure their compliance with its terms. (4) Said department, in consultation with participating teaching hospitals shall evaluate the loan repayment assistance program in its third year and make any recommendations therefor.

SECTION 53. The department of public health, in consultation with local boards of health, shall investigate the health service needs of the commonwealth to ensure that critical health services are available in communities of the commonwealth. In determining critical services to be preserved, the department shall analyze the health status of the community, existing alternative medical care available, and population-based monitoring of hospital use patterns. Such analysis shall further include consideration of the existence of viable health care providers located within an acute hospital facility and determination of the feasibility of conversion of underutilized or non-essential acute operations, consolidation of shared services and expansion of services while ensuring the availability of critical services to the community. The department shall report periodically to the governor and the senate and house of representatives on the status of access to critical health services in communities of the commonwealth and identify, analyze, and recommend solutions to any significant access problems.

SECTION 54. (a) For fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two only, the uncompensated care pools liability to a hospital shall be calculated net of any payments received during said fiscal year prior to calculations made in accordance with this act.

(b) For fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two only, a hospital's liability to the pool for the period prior to implementation of the uncompensated care fee pursuant to section eleven of chapter six B of the General Laws shall equal the product of the uniform statewide allowance previously in effect, multiplied by private sector patient care costs established pursuant to the most recent hospital agreement. This liability shall be calculated net of all payments made by the hospital to the extent it participated in the uncompensated care pool on a voluntary basis prior to the calculations made in accordance with this act. For fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, if the fee as authorized pursuant to said section eleven of said chapter six B of the General Laws is initially calculated after the beginning of the hospitals' fiscal year, payments by purchasers and third party payers exclusive of Titles XVIII and XIX and publicly aided patients shall be made through a combination of the allowance previously included in charges for the period prior to said calculation, and said fee.

SECTION 55. For hospital fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the uncompensated care liability of purchasers and third party payers to the uncompensated care pool established pursuant to section seventeen of chapter one hundred eighteen F of the General Laws and derived from the uncompensated care fee assessed by acute hospitals on all accounts charged to purchasers and third party payers exclusive of Titles XVIII and XIX and publicly aided patients shall not exceed three hundred million dollars. For state fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, thirty-five million dollars generated by federal financial participation made available under Title XIX of the Social Security Act to match the costs of said pool for disproportionate share hospitals shall be deposited into said pool, and five million dollars of said federal financial participation shall be deposited into the Health Care Access Fund established pursuant to section seventeen A of chapter one hundred eighteen F of the General Laws.

SECTION 56. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, for

Section 3. No insurance institution, insurance representative, or insurance-support organization shall use or authorize the use of pretext interviews to obtain information in connection with an insurance transaction; provided, however, that a pretext interview may be undertaken to obtain information from a person or institution that does not have a generally or statutorily recognized privileged relationship with the person about whom the information relates for the purpose of investigating a claim where, based upon specific information available for review by the commissioner, there is a reasonable basis for suspecting criminal activity, fraud or material misrepresentation in connection with the claim.

Section 4. (a) An insurance institution or insurance representative shall provide a notice of information practices to all applicants or policyholders in connection with insurance transactions as follows:

(1) that each individual may request to be interviewed in connection with the preparation of the investigative consumer report; and

(2) that upon a request pursuant to section eight, such individual is entitled to receive a copy of the investigative consumer report.

(b) If an investigative consumer report is to be prepared by an insurance institution or insurance representative, such insurance institution or insurance representative shall institute reasonable procedures to conduct a personal interview requested by an individual.

(c) If an investigative consumer report is to be prepared by an insurance-support organization, the insurance institution or insurance representative desiring such report shall inform the insurance-support organization whether a personal interview has been requested by the individual. holder, beneficiary or any other person, or for such persons, information relating to counseling for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) or AIDS-related Complex (ARC) as defined by the Centers for Disease Control of the United States Public Health Service. For purposes of this subsection, "counseling" shall not mean diagnosis of or treatment for AIDS or ARC.

(a) An insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall make any personal information collected or maintained in connection with an insurance transaction in its possession or control available to the individual to whom it refers, or to the authorized representative of such individual, as provided in this section.

(b) If any individual, after identification, submits a written request to an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization for access to recorded personal information about such individual which is reasonably described by such individual and reasonably locateable and retrievable by the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization, the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall within thirty business days from the date such request is received:

(1) either provide such individual with a copy of such recorded personal information or inform such individual of the nature and substance of such recorded personal information in writing;

medical professional or medical care institution which provided such information, shall be supplied either directly to the individual or to a medical professional designated by such individual and licensed to provide medical care with respect to the condition to which the information relates, whichever such individual prefers. Mental health record information shall be supplied directly to such individual, pursuant to this section, only with the approval of the qualified professional person with treatment responsibility for the condition to which the information relates or another equally qualified mental health professional. Upon release of any medical or mental health record information to a medical professional designated by such individual, the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall notify such individual, at the time of the disclosure, that it has provided the information to the medical professional.

(e) Except for personal information provided under section ten, an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization may charge a reasonable fee to cover the costs incurred in providing a copy of recorded personal information to an individual but no other fee may be charged.

(f) The obligations imposed by this section upon an insurance institution or insurance representative may be satisfied by another insurance institution or insurance representative authorized to act on its behalf. With respect to the copying and disclosure of recorded personal information pursuant to a request under subsection (b), an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization may make arrangements with an insurance-support organization or a consumer reporting agency to copy and disclose recorded personal information on its behalf so long as the insurance-support organization or consumer reporting agency has established and maintains procedures for maintenance of records to assure confidentiality.

(g) The rights granted to an individual in this section shall extend to a natural person to the extent information about such person is collected and maintained by an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization in connection with an insurance transaction. such individual within its possession, an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall either:

(1) correct, amend or delete the portion of the recorded personal information in dispute; or

(1) any person who, according to the records of the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization, has, within the preceding two years received such recorded personal information from the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization, and any person specifically designated by the individual who may have, within the preceding two years, received such recorded personal information; provided, however, that this subsection shall apply only to personal information which is medical record information or which relates to the individual's character, general reputation, personal characteristics or mode of living;

(2) any insurance-support organization whose primary source of personal information is insurance institutions if the insurance-support organization has systematically received such recorded personal information from the insurance institution within the preceding seven years; provided, however, that the correction, amendment or fact of deletion need not be furnished if the insurance-support organization no longer maintains recorded personal information about the individual; and

(3) any insurance-support organization that furnished the personal information that has been corrected, amended or deleted.

(d) Whenever an individual disagrees with an insurance institution's, insurance representative's or insurance-support organization's refusal to correct, amend or delete recorded personal information, such individual shall be permitted to file with the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization:

(1) a concise statement setting forth what such individual thinks is the correct, relevant or fair information; and

(2) a concise statement of the reasons why such individual disagrees with the insurance institution's, insurance representative's or insurance-support organization's refusal to correct, amend or delete recorded personal information.

(e) In the event an individual files a statement as described in subsection (d), the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall:

(1) file the statement with the disputed personal information and provide a means by which anyone reviewing the disputed personal information will be made aware of the individual's statement and have access to it;

(2) in any subsequent disclosure by the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization of the recorded personal information that is the subject of disagreement, clearly identify the matter in dispute and provide the individual's statement along with the recorded personal information being disclosed; and

(3) furnish the statement to the persons and in the manner specified in subsection (c).

(f) The rights granted to an individual in this section shall extend to a natural person to the extent information about such person is collected and maintained by an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization in connection with an insurance transaction. The rights granted to a natural person by this subsection shall not extend to information about such person that relates to and is collected in connection with or in reasonable anticipation of a claim or civil or criminal proceeding involving such person.

(g) For purposes of this section, the term "insurance-support organization" shall not include "consumer reporting agency".

Section 10. (a) In the event of an adverse underwriting decision, the insurance institution or insurance representative responsible for the decision shall:

(1) either provide the applicant, policyholder or individual proposed for coverage with the specific reason for the adverse underwriting decision in writing or advise such person that upon written request such person may receive the specific reason in writing; and

(2) provide the applicant, policyholder or individual proposed for coverage with a summary of the rights established under subsection (b) and sections eight and nine.

(b) Upon receipt of a written request within ninety business days from the date of the mailing of notice or other communication of an adverse underwriting decision to an applicant, policyholder or individual proposed for coverage, the insurance institution or insurance representative shall furnish to such person within twenty-one business days from the date of receipt of such written request:

(1) the specific reason for the adverse underwriting decision, in writing, if such information was not initially furnished in writing pursuant to paragraph (1) of subsection (a); and

(2) the specific items of personal and privileged information that support such reason; provided, however, that:

(i) the insurance institution or insurance representative shall not be required to furnish specific items of privileged information if it has a reasonable suspicion, based upon specific information available for review by the commissioner, that the applicant, policyholder or individual proposed for coverage has engaged in criminal activity, fraud, or material misrepresentation; and

(ii) specific items of medical record information supplied by a medical care institution or medical professional shall be disclosed either directly to the individual about whom the information relates or to a medical professional designated by such individual and licensed to provide medical care with respect to the condition to which the information relates, whichever such individual prefers. Mental health record information shall be supplied directly to such individual, pursuant to this subsection, only with the approval of the qualified professional person with treatment responsibility for the condition to which the information relates or of another equally qualified mental health professional. Upon release of any medical or mental health record information to a medical professional designated by such individual, the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall notify such individual, at the time of the disclosure, that it has provided the information to the medical professional; and

(3) the name and address of the source that supplied the specific items of information pursuant to paragraph (2) of subsection (b); except that a source that is a natural person acting in a personal capacity need not be revealed if confidentiality was specifically promised; provided, however, that the identity of any medical professional or medical-care institution shall be disclosed either directly to the individual or to the designated medical professional other than the one who initially supplied the information, whichever such individual prefers.

(c) The obligations imposed by this section upon an insurance institution or insurance representative may be satisfied by another insurance institution or insurance representative authorized to act on its behalf.

(d) When an adverse underwriting decision results solely from an oral request or inquiry, the explanation of reasons and summary of rights required by subsection (a) may be given orally.

Section 11. No insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization may seek information in connection with an insurance transaction concerning any previous adverse underwriting decision experienced by an individual unless such inquiry also requests the reasons for any previous adverse underwriting decision.

Section 12. No insurance institution or insurance representative may base an adverse underwriting decision in whole or in part:

(1) on the fact of a previous adverse underwriting decision or on the fact that an individual previously obtained insurance coverage through a residual market mechanism; provided, however, that an insurance institution or insurance representative may base an adverse underwriting decision on further information obtained from an insurance institution or insurance representative responsible for a previous adverse underwriting decision;

(2) on personal information received from an insurance-support organization whose primary source of information is insurance institutions; provided, however, that an insurance institution or insurance representative may base an adverse underwriting decision on further personal information obtained as the result of information received from such insurance-support organization; or

(3) on the basis of sexual orientation; provided, however, that neither the national origin, marital status, lifestyle or living arrangements, occupation, gender, medical history, beneficiary designation, nor zip code or other territorial classification of the applicant may be used to establish, or aid in establishing, the applicant's sexual orientation.

Section 13. An insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization shall not disclose any personal or privileged information about an individual collected or received in connection with an insurance transaction unless the disclosure is:

(1) with the written authorization of the individual, provided that:

(i) if such authorization is submitted by another insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization, the authorization meets the requirement of section six; or

(ii) if such authorization is submitted by a person other than an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization, the authorization is:

(A) dated;

(B) signed by the individual; and

(C) obtained one year or less prior to the date a disclosure is sought pursuant to this subsection; or

(2) to a person other than an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization; provided, however, that such disclosure is reasonably necessary:

(i) to enable such person to perform a specific business, professional or insurance function for the disclosing insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization and such person agrees not to disclose the information further without such individual's written authorization unless the further disclosure:

(ii) information allowing the individual to be identified is removed to the extent practicable and where such removal is not practicable, is returned or destroyed as soon as it is no longer needed; and

(iii) the actuarial or research organization agrees not to disclose the information unless the disclosure would otherwise be permitted by this section if made by an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization and the disclosure is made in connection with such actuarial or research studies; or

(10) to a party or representative of a party to a proposed or consummated sale, transfer, merger or consolidation of all or part of the business of the insurance of the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization, provided that:

(i) prior to the consummation of the sale, transfer, merger or consolidation only such information is disclosed as is reasonably necessary to enable the recipient to make business decisions about the purchase, transfer, merger or consolidation; and

(ii) the recipient agrees not to disclose the information unless the disclosure would otherwise be permitted by this section if made by an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization and the disclosure is made in connection with such sale, transfer, merger or consolidation; or

(11) to a person whose only use of such information will be in connection with the marketing of a product or service, provided that:

(1) no medical-record information, privileged information, or personal information relating to an individual's health, character, personal habits, mode of living or general reputation is disclosed, and no classification derived from such information is disclosed;

(2) the individual has been given an opportunity to indicate that he does not want personal information disclosed for marketing purposes and has given no indication that he does not want the information disclosed; and

(3) the person receiving such information agrees not to use it except in connection with the marketing of a product or service; or

(12) to an affiliate whose only use of the information will be in connection with an audit of the insurance institution or insurance representative or the marketing of an insurance product or service; provided, however, that the affiliate agrees not to disclose the information for any other purpose or to unaffiliated persons; or

(13) by a consumer reporting agency; provided, however, that the disclosure is to a person other than an insurance institution or insurance representative; or

(i) no medical-record information is disclosed unless the disclosure would otherwise be permitted by this section; and

(ii) the information disclosed is limited to that which is reasonably necessary to permit such person to protect its interests in such policy.

Section 14. (a) The commissioner shall have power to examine and investigate into the affairs of every insurance institution or insurance representative doing business in the commonwealth to determine whether such insurance institution or insurance representative has been or is engaged in any conduct in violation of this chapter.

(b) The commissioner shall have the power to examine and investigate into the affairs of every insurance-support organization acting on behalf of an insurance institution or insurance representative which either transacts business in the commonwealth or transacts business outside the commonwealth that has an effect on a person residing in the commonwealth in order to determine whether such insurance-support organization has been or is engaged in any conduct in violation of this chapter.

Section 15. (a) Whenever the commissioner has reason to believe that an insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization has been or is engaged in conduct in the commonwealth which violates this chapter, or if the commissioner believes that an insurance-support organization has been or is engaged in conduct outside the commonwealth which has an effect on a person residing in the commonwealth and which violates this chapter, the commissioner shall issue and serve upon such insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization a statement of charges and notice of hearing to be held at a time and place fixed in the notice, the date of such hearing shall be not less than twenty-one business days after the date of service.

(b) At the time and place fixed for such hearing the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization charged shall have an opportunity to answer the charges against it and present evidence on its behalf. Upon good cause shown, the commissioner shall permit any adversely affected person to intervene, appear and be heard at such hearing by counsel or in person.

(c) At any hearing conducted pursuant to this section the commissioner may administer oaths, examine and cross-examine witnesses and receive oral and documentary evidence. The commissioner shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance and require the production of books, papers, records, correspondence and other documents which are relevant to the hearing. A stenographic record of the hearing shall be made upon the request of any party or at the discretion of the commissioner. If no stenographic record is made and if judicial review is sought, the commissioner shall prepare a statement of the evidence for use on the review. Hearings conducted under this section shall be governed by the same rules of evidence and procedure applicable to administrative proceedings conducted under the laws of the commonwealth.

(d) Statements of charges, notices, orders and other processes of the commissioner under this chapter may be served by anyone duly authorized to act on behalf of the commissioner. Service of process may be completed in the manner provided by law for service of process in civil actions or by registered mail. A copy of the statement of charges, notice, order or other process shall be provided to the person or persons whose rights under this chapter have been allegedly violated. A verified return setting forth the manner of service, or return postcard receipt in the case of registered mail, shall be sufficient proof of service.

Section 16. For the purpose of this chapter, an insurance-support organization transacting business outside the commonwealth which has an effect on a person residing in the commonwealth shall be deemed to have appointed the commissioner to accept service of process on its behalf; provided, however, that the commissioner causes a copy of such service to be mailed forthwith by registered mail to the insurance-support organization at its last known principal place of business. The return postcard receipt for such mailing shall be sufficient proof that the same was properly mailed by the commissioner.

Section 17. (a) If, after a hearing pursuant to section fifteen, the commissioner finds that the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization charged has engaged in conduct or practices in violation of this chapter, the commissioner shall put such findings in writing and shall issue and cause to be served upon such insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization a copy of such findings and an order requiring such insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization to cease and desist from the conduct or practices constituting a violation of this

(b) If, after a hearing pursuant to section fifteen, the commissioner determines that the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization charged has not engaged in conduct or practices in violation of this chapter, the commissioner shall prepare a written report which sets forth findings of fact and conclusions of law. Such report shall be served upon the insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization charged and upon the person or persons, if any, whose rights under this chapter were allegedly violated.

(c) Until the expiration of the time allowed under section nineteen for filing a petition for review or until such petition is actually filed, whichever occurs first, the commissioner may modify or set aside any order or report issued under this section. After the expiration of the time allowed under section nineteen for filing a petition for review, if no such petition has been duly filed, the commissioner may, after notice and opportunity for hearing, alter modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any order or report issued under this section whenever conditions of fact or law warrant such action or if the public interest so requires.

Section 18. (a) In any case where a hearing pursuant to section fifteen results in the findings of a knowing violation of this chapter, the commissioner may, in addition to the issuance of a cease and desist order as prescribed in section seventeen, order payment of a monetary penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each such violation; provided, however, that:

(1) in a hearing to which an insurance representative is a party, the monetary penalty imposed against such insurance representative shall not exceed ten thousand dollars in the aggregate for multiple violations; and

(2) in a hearing to which an insurance institution or insurance-support organization is a party, the monetary penalty imposed against such insurance institution or insurance-support organization shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars in the aggregate for multiple violations.

(b) Any person who violates a cease and desist order of the commissioner under section seventeen may, after notice and hearing and upon order of commissioner, be subject to one or more of the following penalties, at the discretion of the commissioner:

(1) a monetary fine of not more than ten thousand dollars for each such violation;

(2) a monetary fine of not more than fifty thousand dollars if the commissioner finds that such violation has occurred with such frequency as to constitute a general business practice; or

(3) suspension or revocation of an insurance institution's or insurance representative's license.

Section 19. (a) Any person subject to an order of the commissioner under section seventeen or section eighteen or any person whose rights under this chapter were allegedly violated may obtain a review of any order or report of the commissioner by filing in the supreme judicial court, within twenty days from the date of the service of such order or report, a written petition requesting that the order or report of the commissioner be set aside. A copy of such petition shall be simultaneously served upon the commissioner, who shall forthwith certify and file in such court a transcript of the entire record of the proceeding giving rise to the order or report which is the subject of the petition. Upon filing of the petition and transcript, the supreme judicial court shall have jurisdiction to make and enter a decree modifying, affirming or reversing any order or report of the commissioner, in whole or in part. The findings of the commissioner as to the facts supporting any order or report, if supported by clear and convincing evidence, shall be conclusive.

(b) To the extent an order or report of the commissioner is affirmed, the court shall issue its own order commanding obedience to the terms of the order or report of the commissioner. If any party affected by an order or report of the commissioner shall apply to the court for leave to produce additional evidence and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there are reasonable grounds for the failure to produce such evidence in prior proceedings, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the commissioner in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as the court may deem proper. The commissioner may modify his findings of fact or make new findings by reason of the additional evidence so taken and shall file such modified or new findings along with any recommendation, if any, for the modification or revocation of a previous order or report. If supported by clear and convincing evidence, the modified or new findings shall be conclusive as to the matters contained therein.

(c) An order or report issued by the commissioner under sections seventeen or eighteen shall become final:

(1) upon the expiration of the time allowed for the filing of a petition for review, if no such petition has been duly filed; except that the commissioner may modify or set aside an order or report to the extent provided in subsection (c) of section seventeen; or

(2) upon a final decision of the supreme judicial court if the court directs that the order or report of the commissioner be affirmed or the petition for review dismissed.

(d) No order or report of the commissioner under this chapter or order of a court to enforce the same shall in any way relieve or absolve any person affected by such order or report from any liability under any law of the commonwealth.

Section 20. (a) If any insurance institution, insurance representative or insurance-support organization fails to comply with sections eight, nine or ten with respect to the rights granted under said sections, any person whose rights are violated may apply to the superior court, or any other court of competent jurisdiction, for appropriate equitable relief.

Except for inter-line or inter-account transfers, the Authority shall not expend funds except pursuant to an annual budget. Funds contributed by the town of Groton shall be expended only for the purposes for which such contribution was made.

recommendation. If the budget shall include any capital expenditures to be contributed from said town from authorized bonds or notes or otherwise, the budget shall, prior to town meeting, be presented to the capital planning committee of said town as well as the finance committee for review and recommendation. No transfers shall be made from the operating account into the emergency reserve fund account or into the capital fund account in any subsequent year until such deficit has been resolved. In the case of funds borrowed from said town, the Authority shall pay interest to said town at the prevailing investment rate earned by said town. Said town may, by majority vote at annual town meeting, add a deficit of the Authority to the tax levy for the next fiscal year with or without a stipulation that the amount be repaid from future Authority income.

In addition to the public hearings required with respect to the annual and any amended or supplemental budget, the Authority shall hold a public hearing at least thirty days prior to the establishment of any new, or modification of any existing, usage fees or membership fees that are assessed individual or corporate users of the recreational facilities. All public hearings required by this act shall be held in the town of Groton and notice for any such hearing shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in said town and posted on the town clerk's bulletin board at least fourteen days prior to the date of the hearing.

At least by the third full year of operations, the Authority shall include in its annual estimate of expenditures from the operating account an amount to be paid to said town in lieu of taxes. Such amount shall be negotiated between the Authority and board of selectmen.

SECTION 9. Any provision of this act may be amended, as is not inconsistent with the General Laws, by majority vote at any annual or special town meeting.

Reacceptance by the town of Groton as, aforesaid, must, therefore, occur every five years for the Authority to continue to be in existence. If said town does not reaccept the provisions of this act, the Authority shall dissolve and all assets of the Authority shall be transferred to said town.

When a city, town or district votes to borrow money otherwise than by the issue of bonds, the treasurer thereof may make notes for the amount of the proposed loan, and may use one or more, in serial order, of the forms provided for in section twenty-three, with the blank spaces properly filled in. Notes issued hereunder shall be signed and countersigned as provided in section sixteen or other applicable provisions of law in the presence of the clerk of the city, town or district, who shall certify to the fact on the face thereof. The treasurer of the city, town or district, after making a record of the transaction in accordance with section twenty-three, shall forward, with the fee required by section twenty-six, every such note to the director, with a copy of said record and a copy of the order or vote authorizing the loan, certified by the clerk of the city, town or district, and a certification by said clerk that the person whose signature appears upon the note as treasurer was the duly authorized treasurer of the city, town or district when such signature was made, and that the persons whose countersignatures appear upon the note were duly qualified as such when such countersignatures were made; and the treasurer of such city, town or district shall furnish such other information as the director may require to enable the director properly to certify the note. If upon examination the note appears to the director to have been duly issued in accordance with law and the vote of the city, town, or district authorizing it, or in accordance with an act of the general court, and to have been signed by the duly qualified officials of such city, town or district, he shall so certify and shall thereupon return the note by registered mail to the treasurer of such city, town or district or shall deliver it in hand to such treasurer or to his duly authorized agent; but, under such regulations as he may prescribe, if so authorized by the signers of the note, the director may deliver a certified note to the payee thereof or deliver it to a bank or trust company to be credited to the account of such city, town or district. He may certify to the issue of a note on any date not earlier than five days prior to the date of issue appearing on the note, if the other conditions of this chapter have been complied with. He shall not certify a note payable on demand, nor shall he certify any note unless the laws relating to municipal indebtedness have been complied with, or if it appears that the proceeds of the note are not to be used for the purpose specified in the vote authorizing the loan for which the note is issued. The director may use a facsimile signature machine or stamp for the purpose of certifying notes under this section and such facsimile shall have the same legal effect as the director's manual signature.

Section 24A. City, town and district notes may be made payable to "bearer", and when so issued section twenty-four may be construed by the director as being properly complied with in so far as it relates to the proper filling in of any space provided for the name of the purchaser or registered holder of the loan, and the director may certify such notes; provided that before certification there shall be filed with the director by the city, town or district treasurer, as the case may be, the name of the purchaser of such loan.

Section 25. Whenever a note issued by a city, town or district is paid, the treasurer thereof shall immediately notify the director of such payment, stating the source from which such payment was made.

Section 26. The director shall establish a reasonable fee for every note certified, to be turned over monthly to the commonwealth; and the state treasurer may refund the amount of any fee deposited with him by said director for the certification of any note which may be cancelled before money is obtained thereon; provided, however, that application for such refund shall be made to the director within twenty days after the certification of the notes for which the fee was paid.

Section 27. The certification of city, town or district notes by the director shall be prima facie evidence of the liability of such city, town or district therefor.

Section 27A. The provisions of sections twenty-three to twenty-seven, inclusive, shall be deemed to provide an additional and alternative means of carrying out the purposes thereof and shall not effect the power of cities, towns and districts to issue notes under and subject to other provisions of law.

SECTION 2. Section 31 of said chapter 44, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "accounts", in line 27, the words:- if the amount of the judgment or award is over ten thousand dollars.

PROCEDURES OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 29 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 29E the following section:-

Section 29F. (a) As used in this section the following words shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the following meanings:-

"Affiliates", entities which are affiliates of each other when either directly or indirectly one concern or individual controls or has the power to control another, or when a third party controls or has the power to control both.

"Commissioner", the commissioner of the division of capital planning and operations or his designee within such division.

"Contractor", any person that has furnished or seeks to furnish supplies or services under a contract with a public agency or with a person under a contract with a public agency.

"Debarment", an exclusion from public contracting or subcontracting for a reasonable, specified period of time commensurate with the seriousness of the offense.

"Public agency", a department, agency, board, commission, authority, activity or instrumentality of the commonwealth, or of any political subdivision of the commonwealth, or of two or more subdivisions thereof.

"Person", any natural person, business, partnership, corporation, union, committee, club or other organization, entity or group of individuals.

"Secretary", the head of an executive office established under chapter six A or his designee within such executive office, or the secretary of administration appointed pursuant to section four of chapter seven or his designee within the executive office.

"Suspension", the temporary disqualification of a contractor who is suspected upon adequate evidence of engaging or having engaged in conduct which constitutes grounds for debarment.

(b) The secretary of administration shall establish and maintain a consolidated list of contractors to whom public contracts shall not be awarded and from whom offers, bids, or proposals shall not be solicited.

The list shall show at a minimum the following information: (1) the names of those persons debarred or suspended in alphabetical order with appropriate cross reference where more than one name is involved in a single debarment or suspension; (2) the basis of authority for each debarment or suspension, including the secretary or other official who imposed the debarment or suspension; (3) the extent of restrictions imposed; (4) the termination date of each debarment or suspension; and (5) in the case of a suspension, the hearing date, if and when set, for debarment proceedings.

The secretary of administration shall cause the list to be kept current by the issuance of notices of additions and deletions. The list shall be published on a periodic basis, together with notices of additions and deletions therefrom, in the goods and services bulletin and the central register published by the state secretary and in such other publications as the secretary of administration shall designate. The secretary of administration shall also forward said list to the inspector general, the attorney general, and the state auditor. A secretary or the commissioner, as the case may be, upon imposing a debarment or suspension or removing a suspension shall forthwith notify the secretary of administration of all information required for inclusion on such list.

(c) Debarment may be imposed for the following causes:

(1) conviction or final adjudication by a court or administrative agency of competent jurisdiction of any of the following offenses: (i) a criminal offense incident to obtaining or attempting to obtain a public or private contract or subcontract, or in the performance of such contract or subcontract; (ii) a criminal offense involving embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, receiving stolen property or any other offense indicating a lack of business integrity or business honesty which seriously and directly affects the contractor's present responsibility as a public contractor; (iii) a violation of state or federal antitrust laws arising out of the submission of bids or proposals; (iv) a violation of state or federal laws regulating campaign contributions; (v) a violation of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight A; (vi) a violation of any state or federal law regulating hours of labor, prevailing wages, minimum wages, overtime pay, equal pay, child labor, or worker's compensation; (vii) a violation of any state or federal law prohibiting discrimination in employment; or (viii) repeated or aggravated violation of any state or federal law regulating labor relations or occupational health or safety; or

(2) substantial evidence, as determined by a secretary or the commissioner, of any of the following acts: (i) willfully supplying materially false information incident to obtaining or attempting to obtain or performing any public contract or subcontract; (ii) willful failure to comply with record-keeping and accounting requirements prescribed by law or regulation; (iii) a record of failure to perform or of unsatisfactory performance in accordance with the terms of one or more public contracts, provided that such failure to perform or unsatisfactory performance has occurred within a reasonable period of time preceding the determination to debar and provided further that such failure to perform or unsatisfactory performance was not caused by factors beyond the contractor's control; (iv) a record of health and safety violations of a sufficient frequency and severity so as to evidence a pattern of noncompliance with existing state and federal laws, or any rules and regulations applicable thereto; (v) any other cause affecting the responsibility of a contractor which the secretary or the commissioner determines to be of such serious and compelling nature as to warrant debarment. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, any contractor debarred or suspended by any agency of the United States shall by reason of such debarment or suspension be simultaneously debarred or suspended under this section, with respect to non-federally aided contracts; the secretary or the commissioner may determine in writing that special circumstances exist which justify contracting with the affected contractor. The secretary or the commissioner shall give written notice to the secretary of administration of any such determination.

(d) No contractor may be suspended unless a secretary or the commissioner has first informed the contractor by written notice of the proposed suspension mailed by registered or certified mail to the contractor's last known address, except when the secretary or the commissioner determines that immediate suspension is necessary to prevent serious harm to the commonwealth, in which case the suspension shall take effect immediately upon signing by the secretary or the commissioner of an order of suspension, and notice shall be mailed to the contractor at the earliest opportunity. The notice shall inform the contractor of the reasons for the proposed suspension and shall state that the contractor may within fourteen days respond in writing and may in such response request a hearing. The secretary or the commissioner may extend the period for response at the request of the contractor. The secretary or the commissioner shall determine whether to impose the suspension or, in the case of an emergency suspension imposed prior to notice to the contractor, whether to continue the suspension after reviewing the contractor's response, if any, and making such investigation as the secretary or the commissioner determines is necessary and appropriate. An indictment, or any information or other filing by a public agency charging a criminal offense, for any of the offenses listed in paragraph (1) of subsection (c) shall constitute adequate evidence to support a suspension.

If the contractor requests a hearing, and the suspension is not based on an indictment, the secretary or the commissioner shall conduct a hearing according to the rules for the conduct of adjudicatory hearings established by the secretary of administration pursuant to chapter thirty A. Such hearing shall be initiated within thirty days of the imposition of the suspension, unless the contractor requests that the hearing be delayed. Officers and employees of the office of the inspector general and records of said office shall not be subject to subpoena for such hearing, if in the opinion of the inspector general production of records or testimony would prejudice any pending investigation by said office.

A suspension shall not exceed twelve months unless a pending administrative or judicial proceeding in which the contractor is a party may result in a conviction or final adjudication of an offense listed in paragraph (1) of subsection (c).

(e) No contractor may be debarred under this section unless a secretary or the commissioner proposing the debarment has first informed the contractor by written notice of the proposed debarment mailed by registered or certified mail to the contractor's last known address. The notice shall inform the contractor of the reasons for the debarment and shall state that the contractor will be accorded an opportunity for a hearing if the contractor so requests within fourteen days of receipt of the notice. A hearing requested under this paragraph shall be conducted by the secretary or the commissioner within sixty days of receipt of the request, unless the secretary or the commissioner grants additional time therefor at the request of the contractor. The hearing shall be conducted according to the rules for the conduct of adjudicatory hearings established by the commissioner of administration pursuant to chapter thirty A. A debarment shall not be imposed until (i) fourteen days after receipt by the contractor of notice of the proposed debarment if no hearing is requested, or (ii) the issuance of a written decision by the secretary or the commissioner which makes specific findings that there is sufficient evidence to support the debarment and that debarment for the period specified in the decision is required to protect the integrity of the public contracting process. A contractor shall be notified forthwith of the decision by registered or certified mail, and of the contractor's right to judicial review in the event that the decision is adverse to the contractor. If a suspension precedes a debarment, the suspension period shall be considered in determining the debarment period.

(f) A debarment or suspension may include all known affiliates of a contractor. The decision to include a known affiliate within the scope of a debarment or suspension shall be made on a case-by-case basis, after giving due regard to all relevant facts and circumstances. The offense or act of an individual justifying suspension, or the evidence justifying a suspension, may be imputed to the entity with which the individual is connected when such offense or act occurred in connection with the individual's performance of duties for or on behalf of the entity or with the knowledge, approval, or acquiescence of the entity or one or more of its principals. The entity's acceptance of the benefits derived from the conduct shall be evidence of such knowledge, approval, or acquiescence. The offense or act of an entity justifying debarment, or the evidence justifying a suspension, may be imputed to any officer, director, shareholder, partner, employee or other individual associated with the entity who participated in, knew of, or had reason to know of the entity's act. An entity or individual may not be suspended or debarred except in accordance with the procedures set forth in this section, provided that a public agency may reject a bid or proposal from any contractor when the public agency reasonably determines that such contractor is not responsible or eligible.

(g) In determining whether to debar a contractor, or the period of a debarment, all mitigating facts and circumstances shall be taken into consideration. Except as precluded by statute, a debarment may be removed or the period thereof may be reduced by the secretary or the commissioner who imposed the debarment or suspension upon the submission of an application supported by documentary evidence setting forth appropriate grounds for the granting of relief, such as newly discovered material evidence, reversal of a judgment or conviction, bona fide change of ownership or management, or the elimination of the cause for which the debarment was imposed.

(h) During the period for which a person has been debarred or suspended, that person shall not submit or cause to be submitted offers, bids, or proposals to any public agency, nor shall any public agency solicit or consider offers, bids, or proposals from, nor execute, renew, or extend any contract with, a debarred or suspended contractor, and a contractor shall not contract for supplies or services from a debarred or suspended subcontractor on any public contract.

(i) The secretary of administration shall by regulation drawn up in consultation with each secretary and the commissioner provide for, upon the request of any secretary or the commissioner the timely commencement by, the removal to, or consolidation at the executive office of administration and finance of debarment or suspension proceedings. Such regulations also shall provide that the contractor against whom debarment or suspension proceedings have been initiated may apply to the secretary of administration for consolidation of such proceedings at the executive office of administration. Such proceedings shall be conducted by the secretary of administration or his designee in accordance with the provision of this section.

SECTION 2. Chapter 149 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 44C, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 44C. The commissioner may suspend or debar contractors in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-nine F of chapter twenty-three.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES ESTABLISHMENTS IN THE CITY OF CAMBRIDGE.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The board of license commissioners of the city of Cambridge is hereby authorized to impose a condition on a license issued under the provisions of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight of the General Laws limiting the occupancy of a licensed premise to a number less than that certified by any person or state or local agency charged with the administration or enforcement of the state building code or any of its rules and regulations if said board finds that a higher number would not serve the public need or would not protect the common good.

In making such findings the board may consider the area where said premises are located and that a higher occupancy would unreasonably increase disruption, criminal activity, noise, pedestrian traffic, vehicular traffic or parking problems in said area.

Nothing in this section shall authorize said board to invalidate in any way a certificate of occupancy, a certificate of inspection, or other certificate setting an occupancy level for licensed premises pursuant to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts State Building Code or any of its rules or regulations; provided, however, said board under the provisions of this section may deny liquor license applications citing the occupancy level, in whole or in part, as the basis for such denial, and may condition a liquor license on an occupancy level lower than the occupancy level set pursuant to the said Building Code or any of its rules and regulations.

Chapter 554.      AN ACT TO PROTECT CONDOMINIUM RESIDENTS AND TENANTS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6 of chapter 183A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (c), as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

(c) A unit owner's share of the common expenses, which shall include without limitation all costs of collection, including all reasonable attorneys' fees, plus interest, late fees, and fines lawfully assessed by the organization of unit owners, shall constitute a lien upon the unit, which shall be enforced in the manner provided in sections five and five A of chapter two hundred and fifty-four. Such lien shall have priority over all other liens, except municipal liens in the event of a tax taking or a foreclosure or a first mortgage of record in the event of a foreclosure.

If a unit owner fails to pay his share of the common expenses to the organization of unit owners for at least twenty-five days from the date it was due, the organization of unit owners may, as a separate and additional remedy, subject to the existing rights of a holder of a first mortgage of record, collect from any tenant renting the unit any rent then or thereafter due to the owner of such unit. Such organization shall apply such rent collected against the amount owed to it by the unit owner. Prior to taking any action hereunder, the organization of unit owners shall give to the delinquent unit owner written notice of its intent to collect the rent owed. Such notice shall be sent by any form of mail or other delivery requiring or providing a signed receipt, shall set forth the exact amount the organization of unit owners claims is due and owing by the unit owner and shall indicate the intent of the organization to collect such amount from rent, along with any other amounts which become due within the current fiscal year and which remain unpaid for twenty-five days after they become due. Further, a copy of such notice shall also be provided to any first mortgagee of record on such unit who has previously requested in writing that the organization of unit owners notify it of any delinquency in the payment amounts due to the organization by the owner of such unit.

The unit owner shall have ten days after receipt of such notice to file a written response with the organization of unit owners. Such response shall be signed under the pains and penalties of perjury; shall, in the case of monthly installments of common expenses, include proof, in the form of a cancelled check, receipt or other document, that the installment was paid or shall, in the case of any other charge, state in short and plain terms all grounds upon which said unit owner maintains that the amount claimed to be owed to the organization was incorrectly calculated or charged and shall state exactly what amount, if any, the unit owner admits he owes to the organization of unit owners.

If the unit owner fails to timely file a response in compliance with the foregoing requirements or admits in such response that he owes any amount to the organization of unit owners, the organization shall be entitled to immediately notify and direct each tenant renting such unit from such owner to thereafter pay all or a portion of the rent otherwise due by such unit owner to the organization, such rent or portion thereof to be limited to the lesser of: (i) the amount the organization claimed is due on its notice to the unit owner, if the unit owner failed to timely file a response in compliance with the requirements set forth above; or (ii) the amount such unit owner admitted was due in his timely filed response. The organization shall have a continuing right to collect any rent otherwise payable by the tenant to such unit owner, until such amount, plus any charges thereafter becoming due, are satisfied in full; provided, however, that nothing herein shall preclude the unit owner from seeking equitable relief from a court of competent jurisdiction or seeking a judicial determination of the amount owed; and, provided further, that nothing herein shall prevent the organization of unit owners from bringing an action under section five of chapter two hundred and fifty-four or to otherwise establish the amount owed to it by the unit owner or otherwise to seek and obtain an order requiring the tenant in such unit or tenants in other units owned by the unit owner in the condominium to pay to the organization rent otherwise due to the unit owner. If in any action brought to establish the amount owed by a unit owner to the organization, it is established that such unit owner knowingly misrepresented any material fact on any response filed pursuant to the provisions of this section, the organization shall be entitled to recover from such unit owner three times the amount determined to be owed by said unit owner at the time of his response. Further, the organization of unit owners shall be entitled to collect any charges thereafter becoming due and all of the organization's costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred in such action.

In no event shall a unit owner take any retaliatory action against any tenant who pays rent, or any portion thereof, to the organization of unit owners as provided in this section. The provisions of section eighteen of chapter one hundred and eighty-six and section two A of chapter two hundred and thirty-nine shall apply to any reprisal taken by a unit owner against a tenant who made or expressed an intention to make a payment to the organization pursuant to this section. Any waiver of the provisions of this section in any lease or rental agreement shall be void and unenforceable as against public policy.

Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent an organization of unit owners from adopting or amending its master deed, trust, by-laws or rules and regulations to provide additional protections, remedies, or rights for said organization.

To the extent that any first mortgagee of record is entitled to an assignment of rents and to the extent that it exercises its rights by written notice recorded at the registry of deeds or the registry district of the land court in which the property lies and by written notice sent by certified or registered mail to the presiding officer of the governing board of the condominium, then commencing with the next rental period, but not for any prior period, the first mortgagee may collect such rents. If the first mortgagee commences collection of such rents, it shall be obligated to pay all prospective expenses lawfully assessed by the organization of unit owners, including late fees, interest, late charges, collection costs, reasonable attorneys' fees, assessments and special assessments and shall be subject to all other provisions of this chapter, the master deed, trust, by-laws and rules and regulations. Further, the first mortgagee shall be obligated to pay any such expenses or other charges which were, prior to the commencement of the collection of rents by the first mortgagee, due and payable to the organization, to the extent that the rent collected monthly by the first mortgagee exceeds the installment of principal and interest which was due monthly to the first mortgagee prior to default, the monthly installments of real estate taxes and mortgage insurance, the monthly share of common expenses, and the customary and ordinary unit repair, operation and maintenance costs, until such time as all arrearages due to the organization by the prior unit owner are paid in full. The organization shall have priority to receive funds collected from the tenant of a delinquent unit owner as to any junior lien holder.

proceeded with or obtained relief in such action, exercised such rights, made such report, organized or joined such tenants' union, or made or expressed an intention to make a payment of rent to an organization of unit owners, or within six months after any other person has taken such action or actions on behalf of the tenant or relating to the building in which such tenant resides, shall create a rebuttable presumption that such summary process action is a reprisal against the tenant for engaging in such activities or was taken in the belief that the tenant had engaged in such activities.

SECTION 5. Nothing in this act shall be construed to create additional rights of a holder of a first mortgage of record.

SECTION 6. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, a first mortgage on a "unit" as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-three A of the General Laws executed after the effective date of this act shall not contain a condition which affects the right of the "organization of unit owners", as so defined, to the right to collect rent as provided by this chapter.
