SECTION 4. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (2) the state treasurer and receiver general of the commonwealth shall not exercise the authority to issue bonds or to substitute any such bonds for any appropriation pursuant to said subdivision (2) unless said treasurer determines that the exercise of such authority shall not threaten the commonwealth's pension plans as qualified plans pursuant to section four hundred and one of the Internal Revenue Code of the United States, and that the exercise of such authority is deemed to be the only feasible remaining course of action available to ensure that the amount of expenditures for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one shall not exceed the amount of total available revenues for said fiscal year as determined by the commissioner of administration pursuant to section five B of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws. Such determination by said treasurer made pursuant to this subdivision shall include a decision, made with the advice of the finance advisory board established by section ninety-seven of chapter six of the General Laws, that any other borrowing mechanism, including, but not limited to, the issuance of deficit reduction bonds, would be more expensive to the commonwealth than the issuance of bonds in accordance with the provisions of said subdivision (2) of this section. Said treasurer shall submit a detailed report of such determination made pursuant to this subdivision to the members of the pension reserves investment management board, to the state employees' and teachers' retirement boards, to the house and senate committees on ways and means, and to the joint committee on public service prior to exercising the authority to issue bonds pursuant to the provisions of said subdivision (2).

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, bonds issued under the authority of this section shall not be included in the computation of outstanding bonds for purposes of the limit imposed by the second paragraph of section sixty A of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws, nor shall debt service with respect to such bonds be included in any computation of the limit imposed by section sixty B of said chapter twenty-nine.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the appropriation for payments to the Commonwealth's Pension Liability Fund authorized by item 0612-1010 of section two of chapter one hundred and fifty of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety pursuant to the requirements of section twenty-two C of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws shall be reduced by an amount equal to the principal amounts of all bonds issued pursuant to this section, and the delivery of said bonds shall be substituted for the payment of said portion of the appropriation for purposes of satisfying the commonwealth's obligations to said Commonwealth's Pension Liability Fund.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary of section fifty-three A of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws, the state treasurer is hereby authorized, upon the request of the governor, to issue and sell refunding bonds of the commonwealth pursuant to said section fifty-three A of said chapter twenty-nine in an amount up to five hundred million dollars without a finding by the state treasurer that such refunding will result in present value savings to the commonwealth; provided, however, that such refunding shall occur not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two; provided, further, that such refunding shall be accomplished in a manner cost efficient to the commonwealth to the extent reasonably possible; provided, further, that a report containing statements of (1) the net present cost or savings of such refunding, (2) the costs of issuance incurred by the commonwealth pursuant to such refunding, including, but not limited to costs for legal counsel, payments, discounts and other incentives provided to investment bankers, underwriters and others, and costs related to credit or liquidity enhancements, and (3) projected principal and interest debt service costs, shall be filed within fifteen days of such refunding sale with the finance advisory board and the house and senate committees on ways and means; provided, further, that the finance advisory board shall hold a public hearing relative to the refunding authorized by this section no later than forty-five days after the issuance of such refunding bonds; provided, further, that such public hearing shall in no way affect the validity of such bond sale and shall in no way impair the rights of any purchasers of such refunding bonds. Such costs of issuance shall be, if appropriate, paid out of the proceeds of the refunding; and, provided, further, that the governor shall identify the portion of the debt service attributable to such costs of issuance of the refunding as part of any request for an appropriation for debt service payments resulting from such refunding issue. Any refunding bonds issued pursuant to this section shall not be counted as part of "issued indebtedness" for the purposes of the debt ceiling calculation.

SECTION 6. In anticipation of the proceeds from the sale or other disposition of specifically identified real property of the commonwealth, the state treasurer shall, upon the request of the governor, issue and sell notes or bonds of the commonwealth, in an amount to be specified by the governor from time to time, but not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of ninety million dollars. All bonds or notes issued by the commonwealth, as aforesaid, shall be designated on their face Asset Disposition Anticipation Loan, Act of 1991, and shall be issued for such maximum term of years, not exceeding five years, as the governor may recommend to the general court pursuant to Section 3 of Article LXII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth; provided, however, that all such bonds or notes shall be payable not later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-six. All interest and payments on account of principal of such obligations shall be payable from the General Fund. Upon the completion or acquisition of a housing project by a housing authority, it shall be maintained and operated by such authority. It is hereby declared to be the policy of this commonwealth that each housing authority shall manage and operate decent, safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations at the lowest possible cost, and that no housing authority shall manage and operate any such project for profit. To this end an authority shall fix the rentals for dwelling units in its projects so that no tenant is required to pay a rental of more than twenty-seven percent of his income if heat, cooking fuel and electricity are provided by the authority or twenty-two percent of his income if said utilities are not so provided. provisions for a full operating reserve. Said rentals together with all other available moneys, revenues, income and receipts of the authority, from whatever sources derived, and together with the requisite annual contribution, will be sufficient (a) to pay, as the same become due, the principal and interest on the bonds of the authority; (b) to meet the cost of insurance and the payments in lieu of taxes provided by section sixteen and to provide for maintaining, operating and using the projects and the administrative expenses of the authority; (c) to create, during not less than the twelve years immediately succeeding its issuance of any bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, a reserve sufficient to meet the largest principal and interest payments which will be due on such bonds in any one year thereafter and to maintain such reserve; and (d) to provide such tenant services for residents of housing projects as the department may approve.

SECTION 81. There is hereby established a special commission for the purpose of making an investigation and study of the provision of health insurance to public employees. The special commission shall consist of seven members to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and four members to be appointed by the president of the senate. Said commission's investigation and study shall examine, but not be limited to, the benefits, premiums, copayments and deductibles incorporated in the health maintenance organization and indemnity plans available to state, municipal and other governmental employees; the use of cost containment mechanisms; the efficacy of alternatives to current methods of grouping public employees for insurance purchasing; the costs and benefits of the current system of administering such benefits and the adequacy of information available for making such insurance purchases, including the cost and utilization of benefits provided under such health care plans. insurance plans offered by other governmental and quasi-governmental bodies, as well as by private-sector employers and unions. The commission shall issue an interim report, covering the results of its investigation and recommendations, if any, on the aforesaid issues, and file said report with the clerks of the house of representatives and the senate on or before April fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

Said special commission shall also be charged with investigating and studying the benefits, if any, of cafeteria plans that permit employees to select from among various optional plan coverages, as well as the issue of insurance coverage in two-wage-earner households. Finally, the commission shall evaluate and address the cost effectiveness of the commonwealth's contract with the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, as well as potential savings that might be generated by utilization of preferred payor organizations and increased managed care. The commission shall report final results of its investigation and study, its recommendations, if any, and address the issues listed in this paragraph, by filing a final report with the clerks of the house of representatives and the senate on or before April fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

SECTION 82. Effective July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, for the purposes of sections sixteen C and sixteen D of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws, the Norfolk County Agricultural School, Bristol County Agricultural School and the Essex County Agricultural and Technical Institute shall be considered to be Regional Schools. Provided further, that notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, Norfolk County Agricultural School, Bristol County Agricultural School, and the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute shall be allowed to expend at the level of appropriation both direct and indirect for fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-one for said schools plus whatever additional revenue shall be generated as a result of this act and any other additional revenue.

Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the several counties within the aforementioned schools shall as a first obligation of said counties expend monies at the same level as fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-one for direct and indirect costs of said schools and shall not be obligated to expend more than the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-one levels. Provided further, that the Board of Trustees of the several Agricultural Schools may charge tuition in excess of the state approved rate for out of district students in proportion to the appropriation approved in excess of the mandatory appropriations contained in this section. The aforementioned Board of Trustees are further hereby authorized to charge tuition to in-district students an amount which shall be no greater than the net difference between the total direct and indirect costs per student, and the state approved rate.

Any appropriation not spent or obligated in a fiscal year shall be deemed to be appropriated in the succeeding fiscal year. For the purposes of this section, indirect costs shall include but not be limited to: health insurance for employees, liability insurance, pension costs, interest and reduction of debt, unemployment and worker's compensation costs. Provided further, that the obligation of Bristol County for the purposes of this section shall not exceed one million dollars.

SECTION 83. There is hereby established a medicaid task force on property deeds information consisting of the commissioner of the department of public welfare or his designee, the attorney general or his designee, a representative of the Massachusetts Registers of Deeds and Assistant Registers of Deeds Association, and a representative of the Massachusetts Conveyancers Association. Said task force shall investigate methods of collecting and transmitting to the department of public welfare information concerning property transactions in the commonwealth involving recipients of or applicants for medical assistance, and the impact of the Federal Privacy Act (P.L. 93-579) on any effort to collect and transmit such information. Said task force shall make any recommendations for legislation to the senate and house committees on ways and means no later than June first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

SECTION 84. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections three hundred and seventy-five and three hundred and eighty-three of chapter one hundred and fifty of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety, no certificate of release of any lien imposed by section sixteen C of chapter one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws need be obtained, recorded or filed with respect to the estate of any person dying prior to July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, and no license to sell real estate or other decree shall be defective on account of the failure to obtain such certificate of release with respect to any such estate.

SECTION 85. The commissioner of education is hereby directed to conduct a study of and develop a plan, if appropriate, to address the transportation requirements of children who participate in the program established by this section. Said commissioner shall also conduct a study of the impact, if any, on the METCO program by the program established by section twenty-three of this act. Both studies shall consider the impact of the implementation of the program established by said section twenty-three for the complete school year nineteen hundred and ninety-one and nineteen hundred and ninety-two and shall be filed with the clerks of the senate and house of representatives who shall forward the same to the senate and house committees on ways and means no later than August first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

benefits supplement plan offered by the group insurance commission under section ten C or section fourteen of said chapter thirty-two A; provided, that benefits under said plan and medicare part A and part B together shall be of comparable actuarial value to those under the retiree's existing coverage. Each retiree shall provide the commission, in such a form as the commission shall prescribe, such information as is necessary to transfer to a medicare health benefits supplement plan. If a retiree does not submit the information required, he shall no longer be eligible for his existing health coverage. The commonwealth shall pay any medicare part B premium penalty assessed by the federal government on said retirees as a result of enrollment in medicare part B at the time of transfer into the medicare health benefits supplement plan. The commission shall analyze the effect of the transfer of coverage under this section on both the health coverage of said retirees and the health insurance expenditures of the commonwealth, and shall report its findings, and recommendations, if any, by filing a report with the clerks of the senate and house, who shall forward the same to the senate and house committees on ways and means, no later than January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three.

SECTION 87. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the secretary of administration and finance in consultation with the secretary of human services and the secretary of elder affairs may establish a sliding schedule of fees for the provision of certain services funded by departments and commissions within the executive office of human services and the executive office of elder affairs; provided, however, that no such fee shall be charged to individuals and families whose incomes are at or below two hundred percent of the federal poverty line; provided, further, that any sliding fee scale which is in effect on or before the effective date of this section shall be exempt from the provisions of this section; provided, however, that exemption from this section shall not preclude the secretary of administration and finance, the secretary of executive office of human services or the secretary of elder affairs from adjusting or changing the fee structure of any existing sliding fee scales; provided, further, that the commissioner of such department or commission shall be authorized to adjust or waive a recipient's sliding fee copayment if the commissioner determines that imposition of such a fee would interfere with the recipients ability to receive services for reasons including, but not limited to, financial hardship due to recent disaster or extraordinary medical or rental expenses; provided, further, that the secretary of administration and finance shall file a schedule of such fees, including an estimate of the new costs and revenues resulting therefrom, with the senate and house committees on ways and means at least sixty days before implementation of such fees; and provided, further, that each such department or commission shall provide affected recipients at least sixty days notice of such fees before implementation of such fees.

SECTION 88. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the comptroller shall transfer any amount in excess of three million dollars, not to exceed twelve million five hundred thousand dollars from the Environmental Challenge Fund to the General Fund; provided, that the secretary of environmental affairs shall certify that said revenues have been generated as a result of new initiatives to collect outstanding obligations to said Environmental Challenge Fund; provided further, that the transfer shall be executed no later than June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

SECTION 89. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to submit to the legislature an early retirement incentive program together with any recommended legislation. In developing said plan, the governor shall review and take into account the recommendations put forth by the senate post audit and oversight committee. The governor's submission to the legislature shall set forth the incentives to be used, the employees to whom the program will be offered, the time limits within which the program will be offered to the employees and an analysis of the costs and savings that the commonwealth will incur in offering said program. The governor shall submit said program and legislation to the clerk of the house of representatives and the clerk of the senate on or before May fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

SECTION 90. (a) A state of fiscal emergency exists in the commonwealth by reason of the current budget deficit and the probability of future budget deficits. It is imperative that the consequences of such financial condition be mitigated and corrected as soon as possible, so as to avert the necessity of a permanent reduction in force of government employees that will jeopardize program operations and the delivery of services vital to the health, welfare and safety of the citizens of this commonwealth. Therefore, as a matter of paramount public policy, during this period of fiscal exigency, the general court finds and declares that a temporary program of furloughs for employees and officers, under the terms of this section, is the least painful means of conserving and utilizing the commonwealth's available monies during this extraordinary period of fiscal constraint while permitting the continuation, without any interruption, of the provision of vital services.

(b) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, if, as of April seventh, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, revenues for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one are estimated by the commissioner of administration, pursuant to section five B of chapter twenty-nine, to be insufficient to meet the expenditures authorized and anticipated in said fiscal year, a temporary program of furloughs, according to the schedule set forth in subdivision (c) of this section, shall be implemented. Said furlough program shall apply to each employee or officer, whether or not elected, in all branches, offices, departments, agencies and authorities of the commonwealth, whose compensation is partially or fully funded by (i) state appropriation; (ii) receipts from bond revenues; (iii) federally funded or reimbursed programs; (iv) trust funds as defined in section one of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws, including without limitation trust funds of the board of regents and institutions of higher education; or (v) authority expenditures; provided, that the furlough program shall not be mandatory for judges, who are, however, recommended to take voluntary leaves of absences in accordance with subdivision (j) of this section.

Each said employee shall elect finally in writing to his immediate manager, by April twelfth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, one of the following three options, which shall apply to all of the days said employee is furloughed under subdivision (c): He shall take said days as unpaid days off, with the exception that this option shall not be available to critical and essential employees, under the provisions of subdivision (c); continue to work said days without pay and receive a number of bonus paid vacation days, at a rate of one and one-quarter days for each day without pay worked, to be available for use beginning in fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two; or continue to work said days without pay and receive a lump sum, under the terms of subdivision (d) of this section. Employees failing to make such an election shall have an election made for them by their immediate managers. Said temporary furlough program shall take place between April fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

In the event that implementation of such furlough program in a given authority of the commonwealth would result in no savings to the commonwealth, said authority shall make payment in lieu of such furlough program to the commonwealth, in the amount a reduction of staff payroll expenses, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (c) of this section, would represent, and it is recommended that said authorities absorb the costs of said payment by instituting a temporary furlough program for their employees, under the same terms as those set forth in this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, but in conformance with federal law, all savings in personnel expenditures yielded from said temporary furlough program, including savings to agencies and departments funded entirely or in part through assessments, and all payments in lieu of monies owing to implementation of a furlough program, shall be transmitted forthwith to the general fund or to the commonwealth for deposit in the general fund, as appropriate.

(c) Between April fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, employees covered by this section shall be furloughed according to the following schedule:

For each employee whose annual compensation is less than $20,000, no days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $20,000 or greater but not more than $24,999, two days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $25,000 or greater but not more than $29,999, four days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $30,000 or greater but not more than $34,999, six days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $35,000 or greater but not more than $39,999, seven days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $40,000 or greater but not more than $49,999, eight days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $50,000 or greater, but not more than $59,999, ten days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $60,000 or greater but not more than $69,999, twelve days; for each employee whose annual compensation is $70,000 or greater, fifteen days. For the purposes of this section, compensation shall be defined as salary which reflects routine payment for regular work assignments as defined in the glossary of key terms for the PARIS system, so-called.

For determining the number of furlough days for part-time employees, the compensation paid to such employees on a per diem basis shall be adjusted to an annualized basis as if such employees were full-time employees. The number of furlough days employees would be required to take at such annualized compensation, under the schedule set forth in this paragraph, shall then be pro-rated to reflect the percentage of time such part-time employees serve.

The governor, with respect to the executive branch, the speaker of the house of representatives and the senate president, with respect to their chambers of the legislative branch, the chief justice with respect to the judicial branch, and all heads of other constitutional offices and authorities for their offices, are hereby authorized and directed to make rules and regulations, not subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, after consultation with and approval of the commissioner of administration and the comptroller, for implementing and administering said temporary furlough program, including, but not limited to, procedures for scheduling said furloughs and bonus vacations days, and maintaining records of such matters as employees' options regarding their furlough days, the reduction of each employee's compensation during said period, the bonus vacation days and the lump sum amounts due employees who choose those respective options. In addition, the governor shall determine those positions critical or essential for public safety or public health, and employees in such positions shall not have the option to take their furlough days off without pay, but may choose between one of the other two options; provided, the governor shall notify the senate and house committees on ways and means of his determinations regarding said positions.

(d) Employees who have chosen the option of continuing to work their furlough days unpaid through the temporary furlough period for receipt of a lump sum, and who subsequently retire or otherwise terminate employment, or the beneficiary of such an employee who dies, shall be entitled, within thirty days of such retirement, termination or death, to said lump-sum payment, in an amount equal to said employee's per diem salary foregone as a result of furlough for the number of days required in subdivision (c), as that salary stands either at the time of the furlough, or at the time of such retirement, termination or death, whichever is greater; provided, however, no such payment shall be made prior to fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two. The commissioner of administration is hereby authorized and directed to establish and implement a plan to carry out the provisions of this paragraph. Said plan shall provide that no such payment is to be made from the commonwealth's appropriation to a branch, office, department, agency or authority of the commonwealth.

Employees who have chosen the option of continuing to work their furlough days unpaid through the temporary furlough period for receipt of bonus vacation days, and who subsequently retire or otherwise terminate employment before having used all or part of said bonus vacation days, or the beneficiary of such an employee who dies before having used all or part of said bonus vacation days, shall be entitled to payment in an amount equal to said unused bonus vacation days, computed on the basis of said employee's salary as it stands either at the time of the furlough or at the time of such retirement, termination or death, whichever is greater; provided, however, no such payment shall be made prior to fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two. The commissioner of administration is hereby authorized and directed to establish and implement rules, not subject to the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws, to carry out the provisions of this paragraph.

For the purposes of this subdivision, a transfer of employment from one branch, office, department, agency, authority or instrumentality of the commonwealth to another shall not constitute termination of employment.

(e) No employee shall be eligible to use vacation, personal, sick, disability time, compensatory time, or other such leave credits to make up the difference in their level of compensation on account of the temporary furlough program; provided, however, that those employees who return to work during the furlough period, after having been on military leave serving in the Persian Gulf in Operation Desert Shield or Desert Storm shall not be subject to the temporary furlough provisions of this section.

(f) For employees hired and starting work on or after April fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, and for employees returning to work after having been on unpaid leave status that began prior to March fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, the temporary furlough program provided for in this section shall be applied in the initial days of such employment in accordance with the schedule in subdivision (c).

(g) The temporary furlough program pursuant to this section shall not impair any rights, privileges, status or eligibility of any employee with respect to seniority and employee benefits, other than level of compensation for nineteen hundred and ninety-one, including, but not limited to, health insurance, accidental death and disability benefits, retirement service credit and final average salary under the retirement laws. The provisions of this section shall not result in the loss of any accrued vacation days otherwise eligible to be carried over to a subsequent fiscal year.

(h) The governor, commissioner of administration and all other appropriate officials are hereby authorized and directed to take all actions necessary relative to all existing and future collective bargaining agreements to meet the requirements of this section. All public employers covered by this section shall meet and negotiate in good faith with all employee organizations representing collective bargaining units of officers and employees affected by the temporary furlough program, concerning said program. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (b), (c) and (f) of this section, where any such public employer and employee organization enter into an agreement on or before April fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one for an alternative procedure for realizing personnel savings equivalent to the savings which would be effectuated by the furlough program under this section, for all members of that collective bargaining unit, such alternative procedure may be implemented in lieu of said furlough program. Employees of any branch, agency, department, office or authority which has by March fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one implemented, or signed an agreement to implement, a plan to achieve personnel savings involving the reduction of compensation for employees, shall be credited for the number of days of compensation foregone under said plan, against the number of days of furlough required under subdivision (c) of this section; provided, said credit shall not extend beyond the number of days of furlough required under subdivision (c).

(i) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, if as of April seventh, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, revenues for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one are estimated by the commissioner of administration to be insufficient to meet the expenditures authorized and anticipated in said fiscal year, the commissioner of administration is hereby directed to reduce all consultant contracts by one percent, and to reduce by one percent all purchase of service contracts, based on the total value provided in section two of chapter one hundred and fifty of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety, as further reduced by section one A of said chapter one hundred and fifty and any amounts withheld by the governor pursuant to section nine C of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws. Said commissioner is directed to recommend to consultants and providers under such contracts, that they absorb said reduction by instituting a furlough program for themselves and their employees, under the same terms as those set forth in this section.

(j) In addition to any and all existing rights under general or special laws, or agreements, employees may, entirely at their option, be entitled to take leaves of absences between April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, of at least one working day, and not to exceed three months, in duration, after providing notice to, and receiving the approval of, the heads of their branches, agencies, departments, offices or authorities, by April seventh, nineteen hundred and ninety-one. Any employee who takes such a leave of absence shall not receive pay during the period of leave; provided, however, that time spent on leave of absence shall not impair any other rights, privileges, status or eligibility of any state employee based on length of service, including seniority, allowed vacation time, retirement service credit and final average salary under the retirement laws. Health and insurance benefits including, without limitation, policies of group life insurance, group accidental death and disability insurance, and the group general or blanket hospital, surgical, medical, dental and other health insurance provided for an employee of the commonwealth shall be continued for said employee for such period of leave of absence; provided, however, that notwithstanding any general or special law, rule or regulation to the contrary, the employee shall make payment of the portion of the total monthly premium or rate that would have otherwise been deducted from his salary, wages or other compensation had such employee not taken such leave, and the commonwealth shall contribute the remaining amount of any such premium cost. Any employee taking such leave of absence shall be credited for the number of days of said leave against the number of days of furlough required under subdivision (c) of this section; provided, said credit shall not extend beyond the number of days of furlough required under subdivision (c); and provided further, all savings realized as a result of such leaves of absences shall be transmitted forthwith to the general fund.

(k) The commissioner of administration shall authorize and direct all agency heads to develop, and encourage implementation of, job-sharing plans for their employees.

(l) Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, the governor is hereby authorized and directed to set the level of compensation paid to every cabinet secretary, undersecretary, or commissioner at the level of compensation that the person holding such position received on October first, nineteen hundred and ninety; provided, moreover, that the level of compensation for any cabinet secretary, undersecretary and commissioner position created since October first, nineteen hundred and ninety shall be comparable to the compensation level for comparable positions affected by this paragraph.

(m) Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to establish the following public employee pension account draw-down program with the following provisions:

(i) Every public employee who is a member of the contributory retirement system established pursuant to chapter thirty-two of the General Laws and who is required to participate in the temporary furlough program under this section is hereby authorized to draw down on the accumulated total deductions in such employee's account in the annuity savings fund of the system to which such employee belongs.

(ii) The amount which such employee is hereby authorized to so draw down shall not exceed either the total amount of such employee's compensation which shall be reduced on account of said furlough program or the total amount of accumulated total deductions for such member as of March thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, whichever is the lesser amount.

(iii) The state treasurer shall notify such employees of said drawn-down program no later than April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one. Each such employee may elect to draw down a portion of the amount allowed under said program in each of the three months of April, May, and June of nineteen hundred and ninety-one. The amounts elected to be drawn-down shall be paid as an emergency draw to the employee but shall not be deducted from the compensation paid to such employee during such months. The amount of draw-down shall be deducted from the accumulated total deductions in his account in the annuity savings fund.

(iv) Each employee who elects to draw-down from his annuity savings account must repay to said account the entire amount of the draw-down plus regular interest prior to the date of his retirement in order to be eligible for a retirement allowance, or within five years of the date of such draw-down, whichever is sooner. The state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to establish reasonable schedules that will allow such employees to repay such draw-down and regular interest through installments. If such employee leaves government service and requests a return of his accumulated total deductions, he shall receive the amount of his accumulated total deductions less any amount of accumulated total deductions plus regular interest drawn down and not repaid in accordance with this subdivision.

(n) The provisions of this section shall be deemed severable, and if any part of this section shall be adjudged unconstitutional or invalid, such judgment shall not affect the validity of other parts thereof.

SECTION 91. There is hereby established a special commission on special education, to consist of three members of the senate, five members of the house of representatives, the commissioner of administration, the commissioner of education, the secretary of the executive office of human services, a representative of the Massachusetts advocacy center, a representative of the disability law center, a representative of the Massachusetts association of 766 approved private schools, a representative of the Massachusetts association of special education administrators, a representative of the Massachusetts municipal association, a representative of the Massachusetts association of school superintendents, a representative of the Massachusetts association of school committees, a representative of the Massachusetts association of regional schools, one parent of a Massachusetts public school

The first payment of principal of each issue of bonds or notes issued for such purposes shall be payable either in accordance with said section nineteen of said chapter forty-four or not later than one year from the estimated date of commencing regular operation of the project or projects being financed by that issue, as determined by the treasurer, but under no circumstances more than three years after the date of issue of the original borrowing. SECTION 1. Declaration of Emergency. The general court finds and declares that a serious public emergency exists with respect to the housing of a substantial number of citizens in the town of Wales, which emergency has been created by excessive, abnormally high and unwarranted rental increases imposed by some owners of mobile parks located therein; that unless mobile home park rents and eviction of tenants is regulated and controlled, such emergency will produce serious threats to the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of said town, particularly the elderly; that such emergency should be met by the commonwealth immediately and with due regard for the rights and responsibilities of the town of Wales.

SECTION 2. General Powers. The town of Wales may, by its by-laws, regulate rents for the use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations in said town, establish a rent board for the purpose of regulating rents, setting minimum standards for use or occupancy of mobile home park accommodations and regulating evictions of tenants therefrom and may by its by-laws, require registration by owners of mobile home park accommodations and under penalty of perjury, require information relating to the mobile home park accommodations. The fair market value of the property shall be the assessed valuation of the property or such other valuation as the board, on the basis of evidence presented before it, deems more appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

SECTION 5. *Conference of Jurisdiction. (a) The eastern Hampden division of the district court department shall have original jurisdiction, concurrently with the superior court, of all petitions for review brought pursuant to section fourteen of chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

For the purpose of imposing the fee provided for in section four of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, computing the sums payable to the racing commission pursuant to section fourteen of this chapter, and counting the number of days authorized by clause (a), (b) or (c) of this section, any racing held after seven o'clock post meridian on the same day on which racing is held at the same racetrack prior to seven o'clock post meridian shall be considered a separate day of racing.

(e) no licenses shall be issued to permit running horse race meetings to be held or conducted at the same time of day at more than one racetrack within the commonwealth except in connection with a state or county fair located at a distance greater than seventy-five miles from Suffolk county; provided, however, that in no case shall more than two such licenses be issued for meetings to be held or conducted at the same time of day.

(f) no licenses shall be issued to permit dog racing meetings to be held or conducted at more than four racetracks within the commonwealth, excluding dog racing meetings held in connection with a state or county fair at a racetrack owned and operated by said fair, nor at a dog track having a racing strip of less than three-sixteenths of a mile for outdoor tracks and one-fifth of a mile for indoor tracks, nor at any location where racing has not been conducted for at least five years prior to the effective date of this act and where the surrounding property is substantially of a residential character, as determined by or defined by a zoning ordinance or by-law, if any, controlling such location; provided, however, that one such license may be issued only for racing in Hampden county; provided, further, that any such licenses issued in Bristol county shall require that racing shall be held or conducted at a single location which has winterized spectator areas and which has a heated racing surface, if the applicants for such licenses agree that any such races be held or conducted at a single location.

(g) no license shall be issued to any person who is in any way in default, under the provisions of this act, in the performance of any obligation or in the payment of any debt to the racing commission; provided, however, that no license shall be issued to any person who has, within ten years of the time of filing the application for such license been convicted of violating the provisions of section five of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws.

(b) in granting authorized dates hereunder the state racing commission shall take into consideration, in addition to any other appropriate and pertinent factors, the following: the financial ability of an applicant to operate a racetrack, the maximization of state revenues, the suitability of racing facilities for operation at the time of the year for which dates are assigned; the circumstances that large groups of spectators require safe and convenient facilities; the interest of members of the public in racing competition honestly managed and of good quality; the necessity of having and maintaining proper physical facilities for racing meetings and the necessity of according fair treatment to the economic interest and investments of those who in good faith have provided and maintain such facilities. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the racing commission shall have the right to review and reconsider without further notice or public hearing any application made prior to October first for which racing dates have been requested for the following year; provided, however, that such application has had a public hearing prior to November fifteenth; provided, further, that any applicant who has been denied said racing dates makes a written request for review and reconsideration within ninety days of receiving notice of such denial; provided, further, that said commission shall reconsider and review said request within one hundred and eighty days of such denial.

SECTION 3. During the calendar years nineteen hundred and ninety-two through nineteen hundred and ninety-five, each running horse track licensee under section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall daily pay: (a) the total sum of the so-called breaks, as defined in section five of said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A, less one hundred thousand dollars, into the trust fund known as the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust; provided, however, that the aforementioned sum of one hundred thousand dollars shall be allocated, subject to appropriation, to the Massachusetts council on compulsive gambling and (b) a sum equal to one-quarter of one percent of the total amount wagered by patrons so wagering into a trust fund known as the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust. Said trustees shall deposit all monies in said trust funds in one or more banks, at interest, within the commonwealth.

Said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund to a running horse track licensee in proportion to the amount deposited in said fund by said running horse track licensee for use as all or part of a capital expenditure for alterations, additions, replacements, changes, improvements or major repairs to or upon the property owned or leased by such licensee and used by it for the conduct of racing, but not for the costs of maintenance or of other ordinary operations, whether such costs have been incurred or not; and said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund to such licensee in proportion to the amount deposited in said fund by said licensee for use in promotional marketing, to reduce the costs of admission, programs, parking and concessions, and to offer other entertainment and giveaways. Said trustees may expend to a licensee all amounts accumulated in such trust funds which are attributable to racing operations conducted at a running horse track.

Said trustees shall prescribe terms and conditions for such grants and may designate specific capital improvements or promotions to be undertaken by a licensee; provided, however, that, prior to approving any expenditures from said trust funds for purposes not designated by the trustees, the trustees shall require the licensee to submit to them detailed business plans describing the specific promotions and capital improvements contemplated by the licensee and shall formally vote to permit such expenditures; provided, further, that under no circumstances shall the trustees permit the expenditure of trust funds for purposes not directly related to the improvement of running horse racing or for the raising of handles and attendance; and provided, further, that such terms and conditions for capital improvement projects shall include schedules of periodic payments to be prepared by the trustees in accordance with schedules contained in construction contracts for such capital improvement projects. Such licensee shall comply with all applicable provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws unless such compliance is waived by the commission for cause.

No such expenditure for such capital improvements or for such promotions shall be approved by the trustees if such improvements or promotions are to be accomplished pursuant to a contract with a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity owned wholly or in part by a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity which owns or operates or holds any interest in any racetrack in the commonwealth.

The trustees shall hire the services of such architectural and engineering consultants or the services of such other consultants as they deem appropriate to advise them generally and to evaluate proposed capital improvement and promotional projects submitted to them for their approval.

Nothing herein contained shall preclude a running horse track from making capital improvements or undertaking promotional operations not funded in whole or in part from such funds; provided, however, that all sums approved by said trustees hereunder shall be expended in their entirety for capital improvements or for promotions; provided, further, that any revision by said licensee in the making of capital improvements or in promotional plans as hereinbefore provided, shall require separate written approval by the trustees therefor. All financial statements required under section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws shall be accompanied by a statement signed under the pains and penalties of perjury by the chief financial officer of the licensee, setting forth the capital improvements made and the promotions completed with funds obtained under this section and further certifying that such expenditures are treated as capital expenditures and promotional expenditures in the accompanying financial statements.

The trustees shall require from a running horse racetrack such vouchers, cancelled checks or other documents as said trustees deem necessary to verify that the expenditures from said funds were carried out in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Funds paid by licensees and deposited by the commission in the Running Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and in the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund shall remain in said funds until expended under this section; provided, however, that any amount in said accounts as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-five which has not been so expended or as to which no binding commitment has been made by said trustees shall thereupon be deposited in the General Fund.

SECTION 4. During the calendar years nineteen hundred and ninety-two through nineteen hundred and ninety-five, each harness horse track licensee under section three of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair shall daily pay: (a) the total sum of the so-called breaks, as defined in section five of said chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A, and a sum equal to one percent of the total amount wagered by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of a combination of more than one harness horse in a single pool, exotic wagering, so-called, into the trust fund known as the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust; and (b) a sum equal to one percent of the total amount wagered by patrons so wagering on said exotic races into a trust fund known as the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund under the direction and supervision of the state racing commissioners, as they are individuals, as trustees of said trust. Said trustees shall deposit all monies in said trust funds in one or more banks, at interest within the commonwealth.

Said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund to a harness horse track licensee for use as all or part of a capital expenditure for alterations, additions, replacements, changes, improvements or major repairs to or upon the property owned or leased by such licensee and used by it for the conduct of racing, but not for the costs of maintenance or of other ordinary operations, whether such costs have been incurred or not; and said trustees may expend without appropriation all or any part of the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund to such licensee for use in promotional marketing, to reduce the costs of admission, programs, parking and concessions, and to offer other entertainment and giveaways. Said trustees may expend to a licensee all amounts accumulated in such trust funds which are attributable to racing operations conducted at a harness horse track.

Said trustees shall prescribe terms and conditions for such grants and may designate specific capital improvements or promotions to be undertaken by the licensee; provided, however, that prior to approving any expenditures from said trust funds for purposes not designated by the trustees, the trustees shall require the licensee to submit to them detailed business plans describing the specific promotions and capital improvements contemplated by the licensee and shall formally vote to permit such expenditures; provided, further, that under no circumstances shall the trustees permit the expenditure of trust funds for purposes not directly related to the improvement of harness horse racing or for the raising of handles and attendance; provided, further, that such terms and conditions for capital improvement projects shall include schedules of periodic payments to be prepared by the trustees in accordance with schedules contained in construction contracts for such capital improvement projects. Such licensee shall comply with all applicable provisions of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws unless such compliance is waived by the commission in writing for cause.

No such expenditure for capital improvements or for promotions shall be approved by the trustees if such improvements or promotions are to be accomplished pursuant to a contract with a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity owned wholly or in part by a person, corporation, partnership, trust or any combination of the same or any other entity which owns or operates or holds any interest in any racetrack in the commonwealth.

The trustees shall hire the services of such architectural and engineering consultants or the services of such other consultants as they deem appropriate to advise them generally and to evaluate capital improvement and promotional projects submitted to them for their approval.

Nothing herein contained shall preclude a harness horse track from making capital improvements or undertaking promotional operations not funded in whole or in part from such funds; provided, however, that all sums approved by said trustees hereunder shall be expended in their entirety for capital improvements or for promotions; provided, further, that any revision by said licensee in the making of capital improvements or in promotional plans as hereinbefore provided, shall require separate written approval by the trustees therefor. All financial statements required under section six of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws shall be accompanied by a statement signed under the pains and penalties of perjury by the chief financial officer of the licensee, setting forth the capital improvements made and the promotions completed with funds obtained under this section and further certifying that such expenditures are treated as capital expenditures and promotional expenditures in the accompanying statements.

The trustees shall require from a harness racetrack such vouchers, cancelled checks or other documents as said trustees deem necessary to verify that the expenditures from said funds were carried out in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Funds paid by licensees and deposited by the commission in the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and in the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund shall remain in said funds until expended under this section; provided, however, that any amount in said accounts as of December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-five which has not been so expended or as to which no binding commitment has been made by said trustees shall thereupon be deposited in the General Fund.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of section five of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, during the calendar years nineteen hundred and ninety-two through nineteen hundred and ninety-five, each licensee conducting a running horse or a harness horse racing meeting shall return to the winning patrons wagering on the speed or ability of any one harness horse or any one running horse in a race or races all sums so deposited as an award or dividend, according to the acknowledged and recognized rules and method under which such pari-mutuel or certificate system has been operated, less the so-called breaks, as defined in section five of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws, and less an amount not to exceed nineteen percent of the total amount so deposited by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of any one harness horse or of any one running horse, and less the so-called breaks; and each licensee conducting a running horse or a harness horse racing meeting shall return to the winning patrons wagering on the speed or ability of a combination of more than one horse in a single pool, exotic wagering, so-called, all sums so deposited as an award or dividend, according to the acknowledged and recognized rules and method under which such pari-mutuel or certificate system has been operated, less the so-called breaks and less an amount not to exceed twenty-five percent of the total amount so deposited, and less the so-called breaks; provided, however, that a sum equal to one-half of one percent of the total amount deposited on said exotic wagering pool at a running horse racing meeting shall be sent on a daily basis to Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine for equine research scholarships and loans.

Each person licensed to conduct a running horse racing meeting, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall pay to the state racing commission on the day following each day of such running horse racing meeting, a sum equal to three-quarters of one percent of the total amount deposited on the preceding day by the patrons so wagering at such meeting, said percentage to be paid from the nineteen percent and twenty-five percent withheld, as provided in this section, from the total amount wagered. A sum equal to one percent of the total amount deposited by the patrons, less the so-called breaks, and taken from the nineteen percent withheld, and from the twenty-five percent withheld from so-called exotic wagers, shall be on a daily basis sent to the Massachusetts Thoroughbred Breeders Association, Inc. for the purposes of the provisions of subsection (g) of section two of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight of the General Laws.

Each licensee conducting a running horse racing meeting, other than a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall allocate a sum equal to eight and one-half percent of the total amount deposited daily by the patrons wagering at such meeting. Said percentage shall be used for the payment of purses to the horseowners in accordance with the rules and established customs of conducting running horse racing meetings and said eight and one-half percent shall be paid from the nineteen percent or twenty-five percent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered.

Each such licensee may retain as its commission on the total of all sums so deposited, a sum not exceeding the balance of the nineteen or twenty-five percent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered after deducting therefrom the amount hereinbefore required to be paid to said commission, after deducting therefrom the amount required to be paid from purses at running horse racing meetings, and after deducting therefrom the amounts required to be paid into the Running Horse Capital Improvements Fund, the Running Horse Promotional Trust Fund, the Massachusetts Thoroughbred Breeding Association, Inc., the Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine and the Massachusetts council on compulsive gambling.

Each person licensed to conduct a harness horse racing meeting, including a licensee holding a harness horse racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall pay to the state racing commission on the day following each day of such horse racing meeting, a sum equal to one and one-quarter percent of the total amount deposited on the preceding day by the patrons so wagering at such meeting, said percentage to be paid from the nineteen percent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered, or from the twenty-five percent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered on exotic races, excluding races conducted in connection with a state or county fair.

Each licensee conducting a harness racing meeting, including a licensee holding a racing meeting in connection with a state or county fair, shall allocate a sum equal to eight percent of the total amount deposited daily by the patrons wagering at such meeting, and a sum equal to ten percent of the total amount deposited daily by patrons wagering on the speed or ability of a combination of more than one harness horse in a single pool, exotic wagering, so-called, said percentages to be used for the payment of purses to the horseowners in accordance with the rules and established customs of conducting harness horse racing meetings. Said eight percent is to be paid from the nineteen percent withheld, as provided in this section from the total amount wagered. Said ten percent is to be paid from the twenty-five percent withheld, as provided in this section, from the total amount wagered on exotic races.

Each such licensee may retain as its commission on the total of all sums so deposited, a sum not exceeding the balance of the nineteen or twenty-five percent withheld as provided in this section from the total amount wagered after deducting therefrom the amount hereinbefore required to be paid to the racing commission, after deducting therefrom the applicable amount required to be paid for purses at harness racing meetings, and after deducting therefrom, as applicable, the amounts required to be paid into the Harness Horse Capital Improvements Trust Fund and into the Harness Horse Promotional Trust Fund.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, upon the legalization of off-track pari-mutuel wagering at locations in Massachusetts other than licensed racetracks, "OTB" so-called, within the commonwealth, the amount withheld from exotic wagers shall be twenty-three percent.

SECTION 6. The provisions of the third paragraph of section five of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight A of the General Laws shall not apply to any licensee who is licensed pursuant to the provisions of this act.

SECTION 7. Notwithstanding the provisions of section thirteen of chapter four hundred and ninety-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and seventy-eight as amended by section two of this act, any person may, after seven days of the effective date of this act, make application for a license to conduct racing meetings on such thoroughbred and harness horse racing dates as the state racing commission shall award in calendar year nineteen hundred and ninety-one; provided, however, that no license shall be granted to licensees to conduct harness horse or running horse racing meetings before November first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

Procedures for granting any such license for calendar year nineteen hundred

Any route of reasonable access to a terminal is hereby deemed to be a route of reasonable access to any facilities for food, fuel, repair or rest which abut said route. As to facilities for food, fuel, repair and rest which do not abut a designated route of reasonable access to a terminal, the department may, at the request of the operator of any such facility, designate a route of reasonable access to the facility. The department shall deny a requested route of reasonable access only on the basis of safety and engineering analysis of the requested access route. SECTION 4. The first paragraph of section 2 of chapter 118 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended in line 4 by striking the period after the word "commonwealth" and inserting therein the following words:- and unless the applicant has resided in the commonwealth for at least ninety consecutive days prior to the date of application.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of clause forty-first of section seven of chapter four of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the commissioner of revenue or any other official responsible for a local reimbursement or assistance program reported by said commissioner pursuant to section twenty-five A of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws shall use the nineteen hundred and eighty-eight city and town population estimates of the United States bureau of the census in calculating distributions or assessments under said local reimbursement or assistance programs. Such distribution programs shall include, but not be limited to, the chapter seventy school aid program and regional public libraries. Such assessments shall include but not be limited to air pollution control districts; the metropolitan area planning council; the old colony planning council; and the Massachusetts bay transportation authority, and any other for which said commissioner is required to give notice pursuant to said section twenty-five A.

SECTION 6. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, the lottery distribution to cities and towns of the balance of the State Lottery Fund, as paid by the treasurer from the Local Aid Fund in accordance with the provisions of clause (c) of section thirty-five of chapter ten of the General Laws, shall consist of a "base distribution" and an "incremental adjustment". The base distribution for each city and town shall equal the distribution to each city and town in fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-one. The incremental adjustment shall equal the amount by which the total balance under said clause (c) exceeds or is less than the total base distribution. The distribution of said incremental adjustment to each city and town shall be made according to the provisions of section eighteen C of chapter fifty-eight of the General Laws.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the first seventy-five million dollars available for transfer from the Lottery Fund to the Local Aid Fund for the purposes of lottery distribution to cities and towns, in the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, shall be transferred to and shall be expended for the purposes set forth in item 7061-0008 of section two, in accordance with the distribution of local aid set forth in section three of this act.

SECTION 7. (a) The division of local services within the department of revenue shall develop guidelines governing the disbursement of emergency assistance funds retained by the state treasurer pursuant to item 1599-3850 of section two of this act. Said guidelines shall require that said division certify, after study and analysis, that a serious financial emergency exists in a city or town requesting such assistance. Certification of a serious financial emergency shall be based upon (1) the city's or town's excess levy capacity, net free cash and overlay surplus; (2) the total bonded indebtedness as a percentage of equalized property valuation of the municipality, less reserves or appropriations available for payment thereof; (3) the inability of the municipality to provide for the public safety, health, education and welfare within the revenues available to the municipality; (4) the degree to which the city or town has taken advantage of opportunities to lower the costs of municipal government or to raise own-source revenues as provided in various sections of this act or of any other general or special law; and (5) any other financial criteria deemed appropriate by said division.

(b) Guidelines developed pursuant to this section shall also require: (1) that each city or town develop and implement financial management plans to remediate the cause of its financial emergency; (2) that no city or town may receive more than twenty percent of the total amount appropriated in said item; and (3) that the house and senate committees on ways and means shall be notified of the approval of any distribution of monies to be made from said item at least fifteen days prior to such distribution.

(c) The state treasurer shall, in addition, make advance payments for some or all of periodic local reimbursement or assistance programs to any city, town, or regional school district that demonstrates an emergency cash shortfall, as certified by the commissioner of revenue and approved by the secretary of administration and finance, pursuant to guidelines established by said secretary.

SECTION 8. Notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty-one of chapter eighty-one of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the portion of the Highway Fund allocated for reimbursements to cities and towns for costs actually incurred in constructing, maintaining and policing city or town streets or roads, as appropriated in item 6005-0017 of section two of this act, shall be distributed in fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two proportionally to the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety distribution of said Highway Fund reimbursements.

SECTION 9. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, monies received by the commonwealth from rentals, commission fees, and parking fees and from any and all other sources pertaining to the operation of the state transportation building shall be credited to a fund on the books of the commonwealth to be known as the State Transportation Building Management Fund. Said fund shall be used for the maintenance and operation of said building.

The division of capital planning and operations shall enter into a contract for the provision of building management services for the operation and maintenance of the state transportation building with one of the public agency tenants of said building; said agency shall have experience in operating building facilities.

The building manager shall collect all monies payable to the commonwealth relating to the operation of the state transportation building and deposit the same in the State Transportation Building Management Fund to be expended as provided in item 1102-3214 of section two of this act.

The division of capital planning and operations shall file, on a quarterly basis, an itemization of all such expenditures paid from said fund with the secretary of administration and finance and the house and senate committees on ways and means.

from rents charged to agencies occupying the Springfield state office building pursuant to agreements entered into between the division of capital planning and operations and such agencies shall be credited to a fund on the books of the commonwealth to be known as the Springfield State Office Building Management Fund. Said fund shall be used solely for the maintenance and operation of said building.

SECTION 11. In accordance with the provisions of section forty G of chapter seven of the General Laws, the commissioner of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized to include an escalator clause in state agency leases of space entered into between July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one and June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, provided that the maximum escalation rate shall not exceed limits to be established in regulations promulgated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall file with the house and senate committees on ways and means any regulations adopted pursuant to this section and any amendments thereto, immediately upon their adoption, and shall report quarterly to said committees on any leases entered into subject to the provisions of this section and the maximum escalation rate pertaining thereto.

SECTION 13. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized and directed to conduct a study relative to the market rent that could be charged for space in certain state-owned buildings, which shall include the McCormack Building, the Saltonstall Building, the Lindemann Center, the Hurley Building, and 100 Nashua street. The study shall consider factors including, but not limited to, the locations, conditions, and amenities of the buildings. The study shall also recommend a method to establish a chargeback system based on market rents, with or without adjustments or credits to phase in the system, in order to promote the efficient utilization of state-owned space and to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of these state-owned buildings. The study shall be filed with the house and senate committees on ways and means on or before January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

SECTION 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the commissioner of administration shall report quarterly to the house and senate committees on ways and means any lease, tenancy-at-will or other rental agreement, or any extensions thereof, made pursuant to section forty G of chapter seven of the General Laws; provided, that said quarterly report shall include, by agency, the amount and location of such rental space, any new or additional space, the duration of the lease or agreement, the cost per square foot of such rental space, any increase or decrease in said cost, and the cost of the preceding lease or agreement.

SECTION 15. The division of capital planning and operations is hereby directed to prepare a report regarding the current status of all higher education capital projects. The report shall be submitted to the house and senate committees on ways and means no later than September first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

SECTION 16. Notwithstanding the provisions of section forty-four A of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws, the commissioner of the division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized, during fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, to solicit proposals for and award contracts to the lowest bidder demonstrably possessing the skill, ability, and integrity necessary to perform faithfully energy management services at buildings owned by state agencies or building authorities; provided, however, that such awards shall be made pursuant to the provisions of section twenty A of chapter nine, and sections forty-four D and forty-four J of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws; and provided further, that any invitation to bid on such energy conservation contracts, as authorized in this section, shall be filed with the division of energy resources at least fourteen days prior to the publication of any notice of such invitations to bid.

Such contracts shall be subject to appropriation and may include terms of ten years or less, provisions allocating between the parties any cost savings attributable to a reduction in energy and water consumption due to the contractor's performance or revenues gained due to contractor's services which are aimed at energy and water cost savings, and authorization for the contractor, subject to the approval of said commissioner, to undertake various repairs and modifications to the mechanical systems of said buildings. Energy management contracts that include cogeneration projects shall include terms of twenty years or less.

Notwithstanding the provisions of sections forty-four A to forty-four H, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws, cities, towns, local housing authorities, and counties are hereby authorized, during fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, to award contracts for the purchase of energy management services to the bidder demonstrably possessing the skill, ability, and integrity to perform faithfully such services on the terms most favorable to the awarding authority; provided, that such awards shall be made after (i) public advertising for proposals, at least two weeks before the date specified for the submission of proposals, in at least one newspaper, if any, published in the town, city, or county and in the central register published by the state secretary pursuant to section twenty A of chapter nine of the General Laws and (ii) prompt publication of the successful bidder.

For the purposes of this section, the term "energy management services" shall include, but not be limited to, energy audits, energy conservation projects as defined by section three of chapter twenty-five A of the General Laws, as well as building maintenance and financing services designed to decrease the cost of energy and water in operating said buildings.

SECTION 17. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the office of management information services is hereby authorized and directed to develop a plan for the bureau of computer services to become fully self-funded as of July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two. The plan shall include a financial report with current and projected monthly revenues derived from computer service provision and other sources, and an expenditure report outlining current and projected monthly costs, broken down by personnel number, job title and category, salary levels, civil service classifications, equipment purchase and leasing costs, as well as an assessment of office space rental needs and a market price assessment of current and projected office space use. The plan shall also set forth the services that would be provided, the method by which prices would be established by the bureau, how the provision of credits to state agencies would be changed or eliminated, and the prices charged by comparable public and private vendors. The plan shall be filed with the house and senate committees on ways and means by November first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one.

SECTION 18. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the secretary of administration is authorized and directed to charge agencies, other than the general court, for the cost of computer resources and services provided by the office of management information system's bureau of computer services in accordance with policies, procedures and rates approved by the secretary of administration and finance.

The bureau shall submit a report to the house and senate committees on ways and means by the end of each month summarizing each agency's charges for the preceding month and for the fiscal year to date, each agency's monthly credits, the credits carried forward for each agency from previous months, the difference between the charges and the sum of the credits, and the rate structure upon which the charges were based. The report shall also show the balance in the bureau's revenue account at the beginning of the month, the amount of funds deposited to the account during the month, the amount billed to but not yet paid by agencies, the amount of funds expended from the account during the month, a listing of the goods or services obtained by those expenditures, and the balance at the end of the month.

The secretary of administration is authorized to establish regulations and procedures to further implement this section including, but not limited to, the development and distribution of forms and instructions to be included as part of the agency's submission to the budget director under section three of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws for the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two budget cycle.

SECTION 19. Section 13 of chapter 29 of the General Laws, as so appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking the first paragraph, and by inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

That portion of an appropriation for ordinary maintenance representing encumbrances outstanding on the records of the comptroller's bureau at the close of the fiscal year may be applied to the payment thereof in the two months immediately succeeding such fiscal year; provided, however, that the budget director at the written request of the spending agency may, prior to the close of said two months, extend for an additional two months the recorded encumbrances outstanding and the funds reserved therefor, by furnishing the comptroller with a copy of such request and the approval thereof.

SECTION 20. The department of procurement and general services is hereby authorized and directed to conduct a study relative to agencies' use of micrographics, reprographics, and postal services. The study shall identify those services that are independently procured by state agencies and their associated costs, and compare them with the costs of providing these services centrally, taking into account any courier services that may be needed and any other ancillary costs incurred to centrally procure those services. The study shall be filed with the house and senate committees on ways and means on or before January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

SECTION 21. The secretary of administration and finance shall annually on or before February first submit to the house and senate committees on ways and means the following information for each state authority as defined by section one of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws and for each regional transit authority which has debt authorized but unissued, or currently outstanding, whether or not such state or regional transit authority receives a periodic appropriation from the commonwealth: (1) a statement of authorized but unissued, and currently outstanding bonds and notes of the authority as of the end of the preceding state fiscal year; (2) an estimate of the amounts of said bonds and notes to be authorized but unissued and currently outstanding at the end of the current state fiscal year; and (3) an estimate of the amount of said bonds and notes, including the amounts to be sold, retired, or refinanced, at the end of the subsequent state fiscal year; and (4) a summary, by sources, of revenues to finance said bonds and notes including any dedicated funding or any other financial assistance from the commonwealth, such as guarantees, contract assistance, or other such assistance.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, every chief executive officer of each such state or regional transit authority is hereby authorized and directed to provide the necessary information to the secretary of administration and finance to ensure his timely compliance with the provisions of this section.

To defray the costs to the commonwealth of complying with the provisions of this section, the secretary of administration and finance is hereby authorized to make an assessment against each state or regional transit authority subject to the reporting requirements of this section sufficient to produce an annual amount from all such authorities equal to two hundred thousand dollars. Said amount shall be assessed proportionally against each such state or regional transit authority, in the ratio of the reported amount of authorized but unissued, and currently outstanding bonds and notes of each such authority as of the end of the preceding fiscal year to the total reported amount of authorized but unissued, and currently outstanding bonds and notes of all such authorities as of the end of the preceding fiscal year.

The secretary shall annually bill each such state or regional transit authority on or before March first for such assessment. Upon receipt of said bill, each state or regional transit authority shall, within thirty days, pay said assessment to the secretary provided that all amounts so received shall be credited to the General Fund.

SECTION 22. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, no expenditure shall be made from any revenue retention account established in section two of this act until any applicable personnel schedule and an expenditure subsidiary classification schedule which have been established therefor, are approved by the house and senate committees on ways and means.

SECTION 23. All sums appropriated under the provisions of this act shall be expended in a manner reflecting and encouraging a policy of nondiscrimination and equal opportunity for members of minority groups, women, and handicapped persons. All officials and employees of any agency, board, or division of the commonwealth receiving monies under section two of this act shall take affirmative steps to ensure equality of opportunity in the internal affairs of state government, as well as in their relations with the public, including those persons and organizations doing business with the commonwealth.

Each agency, board, or division, in spending appropriated sums and discharging its statutory responsibilities, shall adopt measures to ensure equal opportunity in the areas of hiring, promotion, demotion or transfer, recruitment, layoff or termination, rates of compensation, in service or apprenticeship training programs, and all terms and conditions of employment. Such affirmative action program shall include efforts required to remedy the effects of present and past discriminatory patterns and practices and any action necessary to guarantee equal opportunity for members of minority groups, women, and handicapped persons.

The secretary of administration and finance shall conduct an ongoing review of affirmative action steps taken by various agencies, boards, or divisions, to determine whether such agencies are complying with the intent of this section. Whenever such noncompliance is determined by the commissioner, he shall hold a public hearing on the matter and report his resulting recommendations to the head of the particular agency, board or division, to the governor, and to the Massachusetts commission against discrimination.

SECTION 24. Notwithstanding any general or special law to the contrary, amounts appropriated for permanent offices and positions in section two are authorized to be expended at the salary rates indicated in the schedules approved by the house committee on ways and means, a copy of which is filed with the personnel administrator. No part of the sums appropriated in section two shall be available for payment of salaries for any additional permanent positions or for payments due to reallocations of permanent positions, or for payments due to changes in salaries or compensation rates except as approved in said schedules.

SECTION 25. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law or sections of this act to the contrary, no funds shall be expended for excess quota positions without prior approval of the house committee on ways and means.

SECTION 26. Each member of the general court shall be paid an allowance for each day after prorogation of the general court when on legislative business affairs at the state house in accordance with the schedule contained in section nine B of chapter three of the General Laws.

SECTION 27. All positions vacant, or which become vacant, other than positions essential for the care of patients, on or after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, shall remain vacant during the fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two; provided, that vacancies for which there exists a critical need may be filled upon certification of such critical need by the commissioner of administration and the house committee on ways and means and notification of such critical need to the senate committee on ways and means. No funds shall be allocated for overtime compensation unless it is essential to the safety and care of persons under the care and jurisdiction of the commonwealth.

SECTION 28. The state treasurer shall prepare and submit to the house and senate committees on ways and means on or before August fifteenth, November fifteenth, February fifteenth, and May fifteenth official cash-flow projections for the current fiscal year and for the fiscal quarters beginning October first, January first, April first, and July first, respectively. Included in said projections shall be estimated spending and revenue, along with assumptions used to derive said estimates and identification of any cash-flow gaps. Variance reports, which compare actual revenues and spending with planned revenues and spending, shall be produced weekly by the treasurer and distributed to the comptroller's division, the department of revenue, and the executive office for administration and finance. All data required by the treasurer's office for production of annual and quarterly cash-flow projections and weekly variance reports shall be submitted by state agencies in a timely fashion, on or before deadlines established by the treasurer's office. The department of revenue shall be responsible for providing estimates of receipts and the office of the comptroller for providing estimates of agency spending and non-tax revenue receipts.

The executive office for administration and finance and the treasurer's office shall jointly develop and approve annual and quarterly cash management plans to address gaps identified by cash-flow projections and variance reports. Said management plans shall clearly identify the roles to be played by short-term borrowing, investment policy, expenditure controls, and revenue.

SECTION 29. The commissioner of the division of capital planning and operations is hereby authorized and directed to develop a project accounting system for all pool accounts including, but not limited to, asbestos, handicapped access, demolition, fire protection improvement, environmental hazards, air pollution, energy, preventive maintenance, waste water treatment and toxic waste clean up. In the event that the assigned nurse or physician is absent for the day, or any part thereof, or the pupil is on a school outing and the nurse is unavailable, such medication may be administered by a school employee who has volunteered to administer such medication and who has received training prescribed by the department of public health. No employer shall discharge or in any manner discriminate or retaliate against any employee who declines to volunteer to administer psychotropic drugs under the direction of a nurse or physician. Any employer who discharges, discriminates or retaliates against such a person shall be liable to such person for treble damages, costs and attorney's fees. No person shall administer psychotropic drugs to such a pupil for the purposes of clinical research.

The department of public health shall adopt rules and regulations under the provisions of chapter thirty A of the General Laws to govern the administration or psychotropic drugs to pupils in public schools consistent with this section. Said rules and regulations shall include, but not be limited to:

(d) requirements regarding training, supervision and administration as specified by protocols established by the department including requirements for training and supervision by medical personnel of any persons other than the nurse or doctor assigned to the pupil's school who may volunteer to administer such medication as provided above;

(e) a record keeping system, maintained in a confidential manner by the public school for each pupil receiving such drugs;

(f) requirement of annual reporting from the public schools to the department of public health on all pupils receiving psychotropic drugs, on forms supplied by the department of public health, which shall include but not be limited to descriptions of the number of instances in which medication was administered by a person other than the nurse or doctor assigned to the school and the reason that the nurse or physician was unavailable; provided that data compiled by the department shall be a matter of public record; provided further that such data shall not include any information which may identify the name of any pupil receiving any psychotropic drug; and

(g) requirement that the department of public health prepare an annual report to be made available to the public which report shall include the number of instances in which medication was administered by a person other than the nurse or physician assigned to the school and the reason that the nurse or doctor was unavailable.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to affect the rights, duties, obligations, privileges or immunities granted by or under the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight of the General Laws.

SECTION 136. Section 1 of chapter 71B of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the definition of "School age child with special needs" and inserting in place thereof the following definition:- "School age child with special needs", a school age child who, because of temporary or more permanent adjustment difficulties or attributes arising from intellectual, sensory, emotional, or physical factors, cerebral dysfunctions, perceptual factors or other specific learning disabilities or any combination thereof is unable to progress effectively in a regular school program and requires special classes, instruction periods, or other special education services in order successfully to develop his individual educational potential; provided, however, that no child shall be determined to be a school age child with special needs solely because the child's behavior violates the school's disciplinary code;

SECTION 137. Said section 1 of said chapter 71B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following definition:-

"Least restrictive environment", the educational placement that assures that, to the maximum extent appropriate, children with special needs, including children in public or private institutions or other care facilities, are educated with children who do not have special needs, and that special classes, separate schooling, or other removal of children with special needs from the regular educational environment occur only when the nature or severity of the special needs is such that education in regular classes with the use of supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfactorily.

SECTION 138. Section 2 of said chapter 71B, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the first sentence the following sentence:- Prior to referral of a school age child for evaluation under the provisions of this chapter, the principal of the child's school shall ensure that all efforts have been made to meet such child's needs within the regular education program. Such efforts may include, but are not limited to: modifying the regular education program, the curriculum, teaching strategies, environments or materials; the use of support services; the use of consultative services; and building based teams to meet the child's needs in the regular education classroom. Such efforts and their results shall be documented and placed in the child's school record; provided, that such efforts shall not be construed to limit or condition the right to refer a school age child for an evaluation under the provisions of this chapter.

SECTION 139. Section 3 of said chapter 71B, as appearing in the 1990 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

No school committee shall refuse a school age child with special needs admission to or continued attendance in public school without the prior written approval of the department, and without complying with the department's regulations and procedures for disciplining students with special needs, where applicable. During the pendency of administrative or judicial proceedings, a court of competent jurisdiction shall have the authority to change a child's educational placement, including removing the child from school, in any circumstances when the school committee shows that the child's behavior poses a substantial likelihood of injury to himself or others; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not be construed to abrogate any authority concerning discipline for such a child which is available to a school committee under said regulations and procedures or any other law. No child who is so refused or removed shall be denied an alternative form of education approved by the department, as provided for in section ten, through a tutoring program at home, through enrollment in an institution operated by a state agency, or through any other program which is approved for the child by the department.

SECTION 140. The twelfth paragraph of said section 3, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the third and fourth sentences and inserting in place thereof the following four sentences:- The hearing officer shall order such educational placement and services as he deems appropriate and consistent with this chapter to assure the child's maximum possible development in the least restrictive environment; provided, however, that a presumption shall exist to direct such placement to the regular educational environment. Such order may provide for: the placement or services requested by the school committee, the placement or services requested by the parent, either of those placements or services with modifications, or such alternative programs or services as may be required to assure such development of such child. Said parents, guardians or persons with custody may either consent to or reject such placement, program or services. If rejected, and the program desired by the parents, guardian or person with custody is a regular education program, the department and the local school committee shall provide the child with the educational program chosen by the parent, guardian or persons with custody except where such placement would seriously endanger the health or safety of the child, substantially disrupt the program for other students or, if the child is currently placed in a special education program, deny the child a free appropriate public education.

SECTION 141. Chapter 71B of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 3 the following section:-

The school committee of the new community of residence shall assume all responsibilities for reviewing the child's progress, monitoring the effectiveness of the placement, and reevaluating the child's needs from the date of new residence; provided, however, that during the period when the financial obligation of the former community of residence for such day or residential placement continues pursuant to this section, the school committee of such new community of residence shall provide the school committee of the former community of residence with notice of any such review, monitoring, and reevaluation, and an opportunity to participate; and provided, further, that the school committee of such new community of residence shall be financially responsive for any increase, and the obligation of the school committee of such former community of residence shall be reduced by any decrease, in the costs of such day or residential placement during such period which results from any such review, monitoring or reevaluation.

"Criminal" shall include a delinquency matter under chapter one hundred and nineteen.

"District court", a division of the district court department or a session thereof for holding court and the Boston municipal court department or a session thereof for holding court. It shall also include the divisions of the juvenile court department with respect to automobile law violations that are treated as a delinquency matter in such department and with respect to civil motor vehicle infractions that are recorded in conjunction with and that arise from the same occurrence as automobile law violations that are treated as a delinquency matter in such department.

"Violator", a person, corporation, society, association or partnership accused of an automobile law violation.

SECTION 160. Section 2 of said chapter 90C, as appearing in the 1988 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the fifth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following two paragraphs:-

If the police officer has not directed that a written warning be issued and has not arrested the violator, the police chief or a person duly authorized by him shall retain the police department copy of each citation, and not later than the end of the fourth business day after the date of the violation:

(a) in the case of citations alleging only one or more civil motor vehicle infractions, shall cause all remaining copies of such citations to be mailed or delivered to the registrar; or

(b) in the case of citations alleging one or more criminal automobile law violations, shall cause all remaining copies of such citations to be delivered to the clerk-magistrate of the district court for the judicial district where the violation occurred. Failure to comply with the provisions of this paragraph shall not constitute a defense to any complaint or indictment charging a violation of section twenty-four, twenty-four G or twenty-four L of chapter ninety if such violation resulted in one or more deaths. Each clerk-magistrate shall maintain a record in the form prescribed by the administrative justice of the district court department of such citations and shall notify the registrar of the disposition of such citations in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-seven of said chapter ninety.

SECTION 161. Said chapter 90C is hereby amended by striking out section 3, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 3. (A) (1) If a police officer observes or has brought to the officer's attention the occurrence of a civil motor vehicle infraction, the officer may issue a written warning or may cite the violator for a civil motor vehicle infraction in accordance with this subsection. If the officer issues a citation solely for one or more civil motor vehicle infractions without any associated criminal violations, the officer shall indicate on the citation the scheduled assessment for each civil motor vehicle infraction alleged.

(2) The citation shall notify the violator that within twenty days of the date of the citation the violator must, for each civil motor vehicle infraction alleged, either pay the scheduled assessment or contest responsibility for the infraction by requesting a noncriminal hearing before a magistrate of the district court.

(3) The violator shall pay the assessment indicated by the officer for each such infraction within twenty days of the date of the citation: (a) by mailing the total amount of the indicated assessment, along with the citation appropriately marked, to the registrar at the address indicated on the citation, or (b) by delivering, personally or through an agent duly authorized in writing, the total amount of the indicated assessment, along with the citation appropriately marked, to any office of the registrar during normal business hours. Payment may be made in such forms, including payment by credit card or other recognized form of electronic payment, as the registrar shall determine.

Payment of the indicated assessment shall operate as a final disposition of the matter. The violator shall not be required to report to any probation officer, and no record of the matter shall be entered in any criminal or probation records of any court. The payment of the indicated assessment shall not be admissible as an admission of guilt, responsibility or negligence in any criminal or civil proceeding, except that such payment shall be an admission of responsibility and shall operate as a conviction for purposes of any action by the registrar pursuant to chapter ninety and for purposes of the safe driver insurance plan established by section one hundred and thirteen B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

(4) A violator may contest responsibility for the infraction by making a signed request for a noncriminal hearing on the back of the citation, and mailing such citation to the registrar at the address indicated on the citation within twenty days of the date of the citation.

A violator who does not, within twenty days of the date of the citation, request a noncriminal hearing shall not thereafter be given such a hearing, unless the registrar shall determine that the failure to make such a request timely was for good cause that was not within the control of the violator. The registrar's determination of such issue shall be final.

The registrar shall notify the clerk-magistrate of the district court for the judicial district in which the infraction occurred of such request for a noncriminal hearing, in such manner as the administrative justice of the district court department and the registrar shall jointly determine. Unless a hearing date and time has already been assigned pursuant to procedures jointly established by the administrative justice of the district court department and the registrar, the clerk-magistrate shall notify the police agency concerned and the violator of the date and time of the hearing before a magistrate of the court.

If the hearing is conducted by a magistrate other than a justice, either the violator or the police agency concerned may appeal the decision of the magistrate to a justice, who shall hear the case de novo. There shall be no right of jury trial for civil motor vehicle infractions.

In any such hearing before a magistrate or justice, the citation shall be admissible and shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. Compulsory process for witnesses may be had by either party in the same manner as in criminal cases. On a showing of need in advance of such hearing, the magistrate or justice may direct that the violator be permitted to inspect specific written documents or materials in the possession of the police officer or agency concerned that are essential to the violator's defense.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the magistrate or justice shall announce a finding of responsible or not responsible. The magistrate or justice shall enter a finding of responsible if it was shown by a preponderance of the credible evidence that the violator committed the infraction alleged; otherwise the magistrate or justice shall enter a finding of not responsible. No other disposition shall be permitted, and such matters shall not be continued without a finding, dismissed, or filed.

If the violator is found responsible after a noncriminal hearing, the magistrate or justice shall require the violator to pay to the registrar an assessment which shall not exceed the scheduled assessment for that infraction. Such assessment shall be in accordance with any guidelines promulgated by the administrative justice of that department of the trial court, which shall be binding on magistrates and justices, to the end that such assessments are made as uniformly as possible, and which may include provisions requiring a prescribed or a minimum assessment for specified civil motor vehicle infractions.

The violator shall pay to the registrar the assessment imposed by the magistrate or justice within twenty days of the date the violator is personally notified or is mailed notice of the decision of the magistrate or justice, unless for good cause the magistrate or justice allows the violator a longer time to pay the imposed assessment.

The violator's obligation to pay such imposed assessment shall automatically be stayed during the pendency of any timely appeal to the appellate division or any subsequent appeal to an appellate court. The violator shall be required to pay such imposed assessment to the registrar within twenty days of the date the appellate division or the appellate court renders a decision that is adverse to the violator and that has not been further appealed.

(5) Questions of law arising in the disposition of a civil motor vehicle infraction in a noncriminal hearing before a justice may be appealed to the appellate division. Such appeals shall be governed by a simplified method of appeal established by rules promulgated by the administrative justice of the district court department, subject to the approval of the supreme judicial court. Claims of appeal shall be accompanied by an entry fee in an amount established by the chief administrative justice of the trial court. Proceedings under this chapter shall not be reviewable by a civil action in the nature of certiorari.

(6) (a) If a violator:

(i) fails either to pay the full amount of the scheduled assessment to the registrar or to request a noncriminal hearing within twenty days of the date of the citation plus such grace period as the registrar shall allow, or

(ii) fails to appear for a noncriminal hearing before a magistrate or a justice at the time required after having been given notice of such hearing either personally or by first class mail directed to such violator's mail address as reported to the registrar and after notice of such failure has been given to the registrar by the clerk-magistrate, the registrar shall notify such violator by first class mail directed to such violator's mail address that unless and until the violator pays to the registrar the full amount of the scheduled or imposed assessments for such civil motor vehicle infractions, plus any late fees or other administrative fees provided for by law or regulation:

(i) in the case of an operator violation, such violator's operators license, learners permit or right to operate will be suspended by operation of law and without further notice or hearing at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the mailing of such notice, and any license to operate a motor vehicle issued to such violator by the registrar will not be renewed upon or after the expiration date of such license; or

(ii) in the case of an owner violation, any registration of a motor vehicle issued to such violator will be suspended by operation of law and without further notice or hearing at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the mailing of such notice, and any registration of a motor vehicle issued to such violator by the registrar will not be renewed upon or after the expiration date of such registration.

Unless such notice is sooner cancelled by the registrar, in the case of an operator violation, such violator's operators license, learners permit or right to operate, or in the case of an owner violation any registration of a motor vehicle issued to such violator by the registrar, shall be deemed suspended by operation of law on the date indicated on the notice mailed by the registrar, and shall remain suspended until reinstated by the registrar upon payment of the scheduled or imposed assessments for such civil motor vehicle infractions, plus any late fees or other administrative fees which the registrar is required or authorized by law or regulation to impose, unless such fees are waived in whole or in part by the registrar.

(b) If a violator attempts to pay a scheduled assessment with a check that is returned unpaid, or fails to pay the full amount of an assessment imposed by a magistrate or justice pursuant to this section within the time allowed plus such grace period as the registrar shall allow, the registrar shall revoke any operators license, learners permit, certificate of registration or title, number plate, sticker, decal or other item issued by the registrar and held by the violator and order the return thereof forthwith. Such violator may not apply for or receive any operators license, learners permit, certificate of registration or title, number plate, sticker, decal or other item issued by the registrar until such amount has been paid in full, plus any late fees or other administrative fees which the registrar is required or authorized by law or regulation to impose, unless such fees are waived in whole or in part by the registrar.

(c) Payment of a scheduled assessment or an assessment imposed by a magistrate or justice pursuant to this section, plus any late fees or other administrative fees provided for by law or regulation, shall operate as a final disposition of the matter. The violator shall not be required to report to any probation officer, and no record of the matter shall be entered in any criminal or probation records of any court.

(B) (1) If a police officer observes or has brought to the officer's attention the occurrence of an automobile law violation that constitutes a criminal offense, the police officer: (a) may direct that a written warning be issued; (b) may arrest the violator without a warrant in accordance with the provisions and limitations of section twenty-one of chapter ninety for such offenses as are specified in that section; or (c) may determine that an application for criminal complaint shall be filed.

(2) If the police officer determines that an application for criminal complaint shall be filed, the officer shall so indicate on the citation. The citation shall notify the violator that a violator accused of a misdemeanor, with no accompanying felony, will be granted a hearing before such complaint issues, as provided in section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and eighteen, if the violator so requests in writing within four days of the violation to the clerk-magistrate of the district court for the judicial district where the offense occurred. Such notification on the citation shall satisfy the notice requirements of section thirty-five A of chapter two hundred and eighteen.

The citation shall serve as the application for criminal complaint, supplemented if necessary with such additional information as shall be required by the administrative justice of the district court department. If a criminal complaint is issued, the procedure established for criminal cases shall then be followed. Each police chief may, from time to time, designate one person to sign all such complaints.

(3) If a violator in the case of a citation which alleges one or more criminal automobile law violations:

(a) fails without good cause to appear in court as required after having been summonsed or after having been given notice to appear either personally or by first class mail directed to such person's mail address as reported to the registrar, or such person's last known address as furnished by such person to the citing officer or to the court; or

(b) fails to pay within the time allowed the full amount of a fine, penalty, assessment, or other lawful amount required by a justice pursuant to law; or

(c) attempts to pay such fine, penalty, assessment, or other lawful amount with a check that is returned, unpaid, the clerk-magistrate shall notify the registrar. Such notice to the registrar may be given more than once in the same case if necessary.

Upon receipt of such notice, the registrar shall revoke any operators license, learners permit, certificate of registration or title, number plate, sticker, decal or other item issued by the registrar and held by the violator and order the return thereof forthwith. Such violator may not apply for or receive any operators license, learners permit, certificate of registration or title, number plate, sticker, decal or other item issued by the registrar unless and until the violator presents the registrar with a certificate of the clerk-magistrate of the court that the matter has been fully disposed of in accordance with law or, in the case of a matter still pending before the court, that the violator is attending to the matter to the satisfaction of the court. The court shall not unreasonably withhold such certificate. The registrar may cancel such revocation, and so notify the court, if satisfied that it resulted through error of the registrar or the court.

Nothing herein shall limit the availability to the court of other enforcement mechanisms in addition to notice to the registrar, including the issuance of additional written notices, summonses or warrants, including warrants of distress as provided for in section forty-two of chapter two hundred and seventy-nine, or proceedings for civil or criminal contempt. Civil contempt actions shall be prosecuted by the district attorney or police prosecutor and heard by a justice pursuant to rules of court. Any summons or warrant issued pursuant to this subsection may be served by any officer authorized to service criminal process.

(C) If a violator is cited for a civil motor vehicle infraction in conjunction with and arising from the same occurrence as an automobile law violation that constitutes a criminal offense, both shall be recorded on the same citation whenever feasible and all parts of the citation shall be deposited with the clerk-magistrate as provided in section two.

The civil motor vehicle infraction shall retain its character as such and shall be decided and disposed of under the same general procedures and with the same provisions as to disposition and assessments as provided in subsection (A), with the following exceptions:

(1) The violator may not dispose of the civil motor vehicle infraction by paying the scheduled assessment to the registrar until there has been an adjudication of the associated automobile law violation.

(2) The violator may request a noncriminal hearing on such civil motor vehicle infraction by making a written request therefor at any time prior to the commencement of trial on the associated criminal automobile law violation. Within thirty days of receipt of the water fees certified by said commissioner, the treasurer of the authority shall remit the total billed amount to the commission. The commissioner of the commission shall forward to the treasurer of the commonwealth the revenues generated by this section which shall be credited to the Watershed Management Fund, established in section two T of chapter twenty-nine.

SECTION 166. Chapter 111H of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding, after section 4 thereof, the following two sections:-

Section 4A. (a) There is hereby established on the books of the commonwealth a separate fund, to be known as the Low Level Radioactive Waste Management Fund. For the purpose of providing funds to implement the management plan adopted pursuant to section twelve and to carry out the powers and duties conferred by this chapter, the board shall annually assess each person licensed or registered to receive, possess, use, transfer or acquire radioactive materials in the commonwealth, amounts sufficient to defray the costs annually incurred by the board for such purposes. Amounts assessed shall be deposited in said fund and may be expended by the board, subject to appropriation, to carry out the powers and duties conferred by this chapter. The total amount to be assessed shall be apportioned annually in accordance with a schedule, sufficient to produce an amount not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars, adopted by regulation by the board, after notice to interested persons and a public hearing. In establishing such schedule, the board shall reduce the total amount to be assessed by the amount of any other donations, loans, grants, reimbursements, payments or unexpended assessments received, or other funds appropriated to implement the management plan and to carry out the powers and duties conferred by this chapter. Such schedule shall be based on the volume and classification of radioactivity of waste produced by each licensee and registrant which is shipped for disposal off site or stored for later disposal; provided, however, that the board shall make a minimum assessment on all licensees and registrants. Such schedule may further provide for surcharges based on the classification scheme contained in the management plan. Assessments shall be due and payable not less than ninety days after written notice to the person upon whom such assessment is imposed, and shall accrue interest at twelve percent per annum on and after the due date. Failure without just cause to pay any lawful assessment pursuant to this section shall constitute a violation of this section.

(b) The board may, subject to appropriation and by an equitable method established by regulation, refund to persons who have paid an assessment pursuant to this section, the amount by which the assessments, interests and penalties collected in the prior fiscal year pursuant to this section and section four B exceeds the amounts expended by the board, including fringe benefits, for the purposes specified in this section.

(c) The board shall, on or before July first of each year, submit to the governor and the house and senate committees on ways and means, an annual report of the assessments, interest and penalties collected pursuant to this section and section four B for the previous fiscal year. Said annual report shall include a statement of disbursements for that fiscal year from said fund, and any other information the board deems appropriate.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve the board of its duty, pursuant to section four, to prepare and submit to the secretary of administration and finance an estimate of the amount required for the maintenance of the board, or of its duty, pursuant to section nine E of chapter twenty-nine, to notify said secretary and the house and senate committees on ways and means if the appropriation for the implementation of the management plan and to carry out the powers and duties conferred by this chapter will be insufficient to meet all of the expenditures required in the current fiscal year and of the estimated amount of such additional requirements.

(e) No assessment shall be due and payable pursuant to this section after June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, unless the board has submitted the schedule of assessments it has adopted to the house and senate committees on ways and means at least ninety days prior to sending any notice of such assessment pursuant to this section.

Section 4B. (a) If the board finds, after notice of any violation of section four A and an opportunity for a hearing have been provided, that any person is not in compliance with any requirement of section four A, or with any provision of any regulation adopted thereunder, it may assess civil penalties in an amount determined pursuant to this section. Such civil penalty may be imposed whether or not the violation was willful. In determining the amount of the civil penalty, the board shall consider the willfulness of the violation; the actual and potential cost to the commonwealth of collecting the assessment and penalty to enforce such requirement; whether the person being assessed the civil penalty did everything reasonable to pay the assessment, and to pay promptly after a notice of violation was issued; whether the person being assessed the civil penalty has previously failed to comply with any requirement of section four A, or with any provision of any regulation adopted thereunder; the financial condition of the person being assessed the civil penalty. The board shall also consider the goals of making compliance less costly than noncompliance, deterring future noncompliance, and the public interest.

(b) In addition to assessing civil penalties under this section, the board may request the attorney general to bring an action in the superior court to compel payment of assessments and penalties and immediate and full compliance with any order issued by the board. The expense of the proceedings shall be recoverable from the violator in such manner as provided by law.

Section 1. The Mutual Savings Central Fund, Inc., established by chapter forty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two, hereinafter called the corporation, shall, in the manner herein provided, establish a fund, to be known as the Deposit Insurance Fund, for the purpose of insuring deposits in excess of those insured by a federal deposit insurance agency, hereinafter called excess deposits, in certain accounts in any savings bank established under the laws of the commonwealth, hereinafter referred to as member banks, and in any federal savings bank or federal savings and loan association which complies with the provisions of this chapter and is certified by the commissioner of banks, hereinafter called the commissioner, under rules and regulations adopted by the directors of the corporation and approved by the commissioner, to be in a safe and sound condition to transact and to continue to transact the business for which they were organized, hereinafter referred to as federal member banks. Such insurance coverage shall be limited to excess deposits in member and federal member banks in accounts, as defined in chapter one hundred and forty E of the General Laws, and including retirement accounts, all of which accounts are (a) standing individually or jointly in the name of a natural person or persons who are residents of the commonwealth; or (b) standing individually or jointly in the name of a natural person or persons who are residents of a state other than the commonwealth who were depositors of a bank whose principal place of business was located in such other state and which, prior to June fifteenth, nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, had merged with a member bank; or (c) standing individually or jointly in the name of a natural person or persons, regardless of residence, on the effective date of this section; provided, however, that the corporation shall continue to insure any term deposits insured by it as of said effective date of this section until the maturity date of such term deposits. The commissioner shall determine those excess deposits eligible for insurance coverage under this section in a manner prescribed by him. For such insurance coverage purposes, the directors of the corporation may, with the approval of the commissioner, and at this direction shall, make assessments from time to time upon member banks and federal members banks in accordance with sections three and four. All amounts received by the corporation pursuant to assessments made pursuant to section one and section seventeen of said chapter forty-three of the acts nineteen hundred and thirty-four, in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this section, and pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be held in the deposit Insurance Fund, shall be invested as hereinafter provided, and shall not be liable for obligations of the corporation other than those created by or under this act. The cost of administering the Deposit Insurance Fund, as determined by the directors of the corporation and approved by the commissioner, shall be paid therefrom.

The corporation may enter into contracts with member banks and federal member banks for insurance coverage purposes as provided therein, which contracts shall be consistent with this chapter and in a form of forms specified by said directors and approved by the commissioner.

The term "federal deposit insurance agency" as used in this chapter shall mean the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or Resolution Trust Corporation, or any successor to either corporation.

Section 2. As used in this chapter, the term "allocated reserves", with respect to any member bank and to any federal member bank, shall mean the sum of all assessments from time to time paid over by any such bank to the Deposit Insurance Fund, including the amount of all annual assessments due and payable on October first, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and on October first of each year thereafter, together with any amounts paid to the Deposit Insurance Fund as special assessments and, except to the extent otherwise provided in section four, all reserve coverage contributions paid over by any such bank to the Deposit Insurance Fund, together with any such bank's proportionate share of the surplus of said Fund, based on any such bank's relative amount of assessments and contributions, calculated in such manner as the directors of the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, may determine.

The assessments and the reserve coverage contributions maintained in the Deposit Insurance Fund by a member bank may be carried by such bank as an asset to the extent authorized by the commissioner.

Member banks and federal member banks, to the extent they maintain allocated reserves in the Deposit Insurance Fund, shall make such reports and provide such information as is required by the directors and approved by the commissioner. If any such bank fails to make any such report or provide any such information, the directors shall notify the commissioner thereof. The commissioner shall forthwith notify any such bank and, in the case of a federal member bank, the federal supervisory agency, in writing. The failure of a member bank to make such report or provide such information within fifteen days after such notice from the commissioner shall constitute a violation of section twelve of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws and, in the case of a federal member bank, shall constitute a basis for the termination of any such bank's insurance coverage.

Section 3. (a) On October first of each year following the effective date of this section, each member bank, and federal member bank, whose excess deposits are insured pursuant to this act, shall pay to the corporation an annual assessment equal to one sixteenth of one percent of deposits as shown by its last preceding annual report to the commissioner; provided, however, that the directors may, with the approval of the commissioner, by action taken not more than sixty days prior to the first of October in any year reduce the rate of such annual assessment in respect to such year or waive the same. When the net fair value of the assets of said fund, as determined by the commissioner is less than five percent of the aggregate share liabilities of all member banks, the corporation shall, at the direction of the commissioner, require such banks to pay such additional amounts as are necessary so that the net fair value of such assets as so determined again equals at least five percent.

Section 4. (a) Each member bank and federal member bank shall maintain in the Deposit Insurance Fund funds in the amount, hereinafter referred to as its required reserve, determined by multiplying the greater of (i) such bank's excess deposits eligible for insurance coverage in accordance with section one as calculated by the directors of the corporation on a regular periodic basis and approved by the commissioner, or (ii) such bank's average of such excess deposits by its then applicable insurance coverage percentage. Said directors shall, with the approval of the commissioner, establish the insurance coverage percentage for all such banks in accordance with the following categories of risk: (1) normal risk, and (2) greater than normal risk, and shall assign each such bank to the appropriate category. In determining the appropriate category of risk for each such bank, said directors shall consider the following factors: capital adequacy, asset quality, management quality, earnings, liquidity and exposure to losses from interest rate movement. The insurance coverage percentage for all banks assigned to category (1) shall be three percent, and the directors, with the approval of the commissioner, may establish higher insurance coverage percentages from time to time for all banks assigned to category (2); provided, however, that such higher insurance coverage percentage shall not exceed nine percent; and provided, further, that the aggregate required reserve shall not be less than six percent of the total of excess deposits insured by the corporation. The corporation shall forthwith notify each bank of the risk category to which it has been assigned.

(b) Within ninety days of the effective date of this section, the corporation shall determine and so notify each member bank and federal member bank of said bank's required reserve and of the allocated reserve as of the most recent practicable date. If the required reserve of any such bank is greater than its allocated reserve, such bank shall pay over to the Deposit Insurance Fund the deficiency in equal annual installments over a ten-year period. Any such amount so paid shall be added to the amount of such bank's allocated reserve. If the required reserve of any such bank is less than its allocated reserve, the corporation shall pay over to such bank the excess in equal annual installments over a three-year period. Each such payment by the corporation to such bank shall be in reduction of such bank's allocated reserve. Following the initial determination of each such bank's required reserve and allocated reserve, the corporation shall make such a determination on a regular periodic basis, as approved by the commissioner, for each such bank and every such bank shall either pay over any deficiency to the Fund or receive any excess from said Fund, as applicable.

(c) In the case of any member bank or federal member bank assigned to category (2), there shall be excluded from the amount of any such bank's allocated reserve, for the purposes of determining the amount of dividends, if any, payable in respect of such allocated reserve, the amount by which its allocated reserve exceeds three percent of its average of excess deposits eligible for insurance coverage in accordance with section one.

Section 5. Member banks and federal member banks shall pay over to the corporation all payments required to be made by them from time to time within ten days after receiving notice in writing from the treasurer of the corporation of the amount due. If any such bank shall fail to make any such payment within ten days after notice as aforesaid, said treasurer shall notify the commissioner thereof. The commissioner shall forthwith notify any such bank and, in the case of a federal member bank, the federal supervisory agency, in writing. The failure of any member bank to make such payment within thirty days after such notice from the commissioner shall constitute a violation of section twelve of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws and the failure of any federal member bank to make any such payment within thirty days of said notice from the commissioner shall constitute a basis for the termination of such federal member bank's membership in the Deposit Insurance Fund in accordance with section twelve. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the directors of the corporation may, with the approval of the commissioner, extend or shorten the time for any payments required by any such banks which may affect all such banks generally, or which may be made on a case by case basis with respect to individual banks.

Section 6. So much of the deposits in member banks and federal member banks as are paid over to the corporation under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation under section eleven of chapter sixty-three of the General Laws.

Section 7. The excess deposits, as defined in section one, of member banks may be insured in full by the deposit insurance fund, hereinafter referred to as excess insurance, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) Any such banks shall first give notice in writing to the corporation of its desire to obtain such excess insurance and shall make application for the same on such form and in such manner as the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, may prescribe. Any such bank shall also submit such financial statements and other information concerning its assets, liabilities and affairs as the commissioner and the corporation may require.

(b) No such bank may apply for such excess insurance unless it shall have capital and surplus, if a stock institution, or surplus, if a mutual institution, less any intangible asset value, equal to or greater than six percent of total assets.

(c) The directors may, with the approval of the commissioner, establish from time to time additional minimum qualification standards and application procedures for such banks. Each such bank shall be required to pay to the Deposit Insurance Fund, as a precondition to acquiring excess insurance, an additional assessment equal to that percentage of its average excess deposits eligible for insurance coverage in accordance with section one or, if greater, of the amount of such excess deposits as of the date of its application that is equal to the insurance coverage percentage for the category of risk to which the directors have determined such bank would be assigned.

(d) Sections twenty-two to thirty-six, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws shall apply to a member bank so long as its excess deposits are insured by the Deposit Insurance Fund.

(e) Upon payment by the Deposit Insurance Fund of all or any part of the portion of any deposit insured by it in a member bank, it shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such bank as would have been payable to such person on a claim for the portion of his deposit so paid by the Fund, but such person shall retain his right to receive distribution of so much of his claim against said assets to which he may be entitled after reimbursement pro rata of the claims for subrogation to the Deposit Insurance Fund as provided in this paragraph and to a federal deposit insurance agency as provided in section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F of the General Laws.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, if a federal deposit insurance agency is at any time a depositor, either directly or through any other governmental agency, in any member bank, the amounts deposited, directly or indirectly, by the federal deposit insurance agency shall not be deemed insured to any extent by the Deposit Insurance Fund.

The provisions of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall not apply to any such bank whose excess deposits were insured by the Deposit Insurance Fund on the effective date of this section.

Section 8. The excess deposits, as defined in section one, of any federal savings bank or federal savings and loan association which has its main office located in and is authorized to do business in the commonwealth and which derives a substantial portion of its deposits from within the commonwealth may, with the approval of the commissioner, be insured in full by the Deposit Insurance Fund, hereinafter referred to as excess insurance, subject to the following conditions and limitations.

(a) Any such bank shall first give notice in writing to the corporation of its desire to obtain such excess insurance and shall make application for the same on such form and in such manner as the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, may prescribe. Any such bank shall also submit such financial statements and other information concerning its assets, liabilities and affairs as the commissioner and the corporation may require.

(b) No such bank shall apply for such excess insurance unless such bank shall have capital and surplus, if a stock institution, or surplus, if a mutual institution, less any intangible asset value, equal to or greater than six percent of its total assets.

(c) Any such bank shall first enter into a binding agreement with the corporation. Under such agreement, which shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner, such bank shall be required to provide to the corporation copies of examination reports and other reports and information regarding such bank comparable in form and substance to information requested and received by the corporation with respect to member banks and to comply with such other terms and conditions, including a provision permitting the corporation to terminate, subject to the approval of the commissioner, such bank's excess insurance if arrangements satisfactory to the corporation have not been made by such bank in connection with any merger, consolidation or purchase of assets and assumption of liabilities affecting such bank, as the directors deem to be appropriate.

(d) The directors of the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, shall determine the eligibility of any such bank for acceptance. The directors shall not accept for excess insurance any such bank which fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (a), (b), and (c). The directors may, with the approval of the commissioner, establish from time to time additional minimum qualification standards and application procedures for such banks. Each such bank shall be required to pay to the Deposit Insurance Fund, as a precondition to acquiring excess insurance, an additional assessment equal to that percentage of its average excess deposits eligible for insurance coverage in accordance with section one or, if greater, of the amount of such excess deposits as of the date of its application that is equal to the insurance coverage percentage for the category of risk to which the directors have determined such bank would be assigned.

(e) Any such bank, upon acceptance by the corporation for excess insurance, shall be categorized as a "federal member bank."

(f) Federal member banks shall not have any of the rights and privileges of member banks except as expressly provided otherwise herein.

(g) Upon payment by the Deposit Insurance Fund of all or any part of the portion of any deposit insured by the fund in such bank, the fund shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such bank as would have been payable to him on a claim for the portion of his deposit so paid by the Deposit Insurance Fund, but he shall retain his right to receive distribution of so much of his claim against said assets to which he may be entitled after reimbursement pro rata of the claims for subrogation to the Deposit Insurance Fund as provided in this paragraph and to a Federal Deposit Insurance Agency as provided in section six of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven F of the General Laws.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, if a federal deposit insurance agency is at any time a depositor, either directly or through any other governmental agency, in any federal member bank, the amounts deposited, directly or indirectly, by such federal deposit insurance agency shall not be deemed insured to any extent by the Deposit Insurance Fund.

Section 9. If the corporation determines that any federal member bank has breached the agreement made pursuant to paragraph (c) of section eight or has failed to maintain the capital and surplus requirement of paragraph (b) of said section eight, it shall give written notice thereof to such federal member bank specifying said breach or failure. If such breach is not cured within sixty days of such written notice or if such capital and surplus requirements are not reestablished within the time period specified in said notice, the directors of the corporation shall forthwith notify the commissioner and may at any time thereafter, with the approval of the commissioner, terminate the excess insurance of such federal member bank pursuant to this chapter.

Section 10. Any member bank may withdraw from membership in the corporation in accordance with the following procedures:

(a) The member bank shall, not later than October first, nineteen hundred and ninety-one, give written notice to the corporation and to the commissioner of its intention to so withdraw, which notice shall become effective on January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, hereinafter referred to as the termination date. No member bank which has withdrawn from membership shall be readmitted to membership except in accordance with the provisions of section seven.

(b) The corporation shall distribute to the withdrawing bank the amount of its allocated reserve in the Deposit Insurance Fund, less any liabilities to the corporation, computed as of their termination date, in the following manner: fifty percent thereof on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and ninety-three and the balance thereof on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and ninety-four; provided, however, that the corporation shall withhold from such initial distribution an amount equal to the aggregate of all term deposits insured by said Fund, which withheld amount shall be paid from time to time as such deposits mature to the extent that the amounts then retained exceed the said deposits then insured by the corporation. The corporation shall pay to any withdrawing bank dividends upon the allocated reserve from time to time maintained by such withdrawing bank in said Fund to the same extent that dividends, if any, are declared and paid to member banks. The corporation shall, on January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, also return to any withdrawing bank an amount equal to the actual deposits made by it to the Liquidity Fund pursuant to the provisions of section four of chapter forty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two, less its indebtedness, if any, to the corporation.

(c) Any bank which, prior to the effective date of this section, had ceased to be a member bank by reason of its conversion to federal charter or its merger or consolidation with a non-member bank in which such non-member bank was the continuing entity, and that maintains any allocated reserve in the Deposit Insurance Fund, shall be deemed to have withdrawn from the corporation, for which purpose, the termination date shall be deemed to be the termination date as provided in paragraph (a) of this section. The amount of such allocated reserve and an amount equal to the unexpended portion of such bank's actual deposits into the Liquidity Fund, less its indebtedness, if any, to the corporation, shall be returned to such bank in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) The corporation shall continue to insure the deposits of a withdrawing member bank for a period of one year from the member bank's termination date; provided, however, that any term deposits insured by the corporation as of a member bank's termination date shall be insured until the maturity date of such term deposits. Any member bank, upon notification to the corporation and to the commissioner of its intent to withdraw from membership in the corporation, shall also notify depositors of insured accounts, in writing, of such intention in a manner prescribed by the commissioner.

All amounts returned by the corporation to a withdrawing bank pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be held by such bank and applied to its loan loss reserve account until the completion of said bank's next regulatory review, audit or examination relative to its safety and soundness, whether such review, audit or examination is conducted by the commissioner or by an appropriate federal bank regulatory agency.

Section 11. Any federal member bank may terminate its excess insurance in accordance with procedures established by the corporation and approved by the commissioner. Such procedures shall be included in the agreement required by paragraph (c) of section eight.

Section 12. Said directors from time to time may, to the extent which the commissioner deems desirable, review the financial condition of any member bank or federal member bank as it relates to excess deposit insurance and shall report thereon to the commissioner with the recommendations of said directors. The commissioner may, upon request of said directors and notwithstanding the provisions of section two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws, furnish to the directors, for the purposes of the Deposit Insurance Fund, such factual information in his possession as the commissioner may deem to be of assistance to the Fund in determining the financial condition of any member bank. The commissioner shall, in any event, furnish to the treasurer of the corporation one copy of the report of any examination of the books, securities, cash, assets and liabilities of any member bank made by him pursuant to section two of said chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, in the form furnished to such bank as provided in said section two, and every federal member bank shall furnish to said treasurer, in the form furnished to such bank, one copy of the report of any such examination made by a federal deposit insurance agency and by the federal regulatory agency having regulatory supervisory authority over such federal member bank, hereinafter referred to as the federal supervisory agency. Every member bank shall furnish to the treasurer of the corporation, in the form furnished to such bank, one copy of any report of examination and audit made pursuant to section twenty-five of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight of the General Laws within fifteen days after any such report is filed with or otherwise furnished to the commissioner.

If the directors determine that a special examination and audit, including a current appraisal of the assets, of any member bank would be in the interests of its depositors or in the interests of the sound and effective operation of the Deposit Insurance Fund, the board of directors, by vote of at least two-thirds of its members, may request the commissioner to cause such special examination, audit and appraisal to be made; and if the commissioner determines the same to be advisable, he shall cause the same to be made by a certified public accountant in such form and manner as the commissioner may prescribe, together with a current appraisal of such member bank's assets by a qualified person or persons, and the directors may furnish to the commissioner such evidence of current values of any or all of such member bank's assets as they may deem material to such appraisal. The expense of such an examination, audit and appraisal shall be paid by the Deposit Insurance Fund. After receiving the report of the said certified public accountant and of said appraisal, the commissioner shall furnish to the directors, and to the member bank, copies of such reports.

The directors shall have authority to make recommendations to any member bank designed to correct practices or policies of such bank in conducting its business, including loan or dividend policies, which the directors deem to be unsafe or unsound, or to have a tendency to impair the financial condition of the bank or the Deposit Insurance Fund, and if such bank fails to follow such recommendations within a reasonable time, the directors shall give notice thereof to the commissioner. If it appears to the directors that such practices or policies have impaired or are likely to impair the solvency of such bank, or are unreasonably increasing the insurance risk of the Deposit Insurance Fund with respect to such bank, they shall include a statement to such effect, together with a report of the facts and circumstances related thereto, in the aforesaid notice to the commissioner. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to abridge any power or authority conferred upon the commissioner by this chapter or any other provision of law.

If the directors determine that a special examination and audit, including a current appraisal of the assets, of any federal member bank would be in the interests of its depositors or in the interest of the sound and effective operation of the Deposit Insurance Fund, the board of directors may, by vote of at least two-thirds of its members, cause a special examination, audit and appraisal to be made by a certified public accountant, in such form and manner as the directors, with the approval of the commissioner, may prescribe. The corporation may engage any qualified appraiser for the purpose of making an appraisal of the current assets of any such federal member bank. The expense of such examination, audit and appraisal shall be paid by the Deposit Insurance Fund. After receiving the reports of such account or appraiser, the corporation shall promptly furnish to the federal member bank copies of such reports. The directors shall have the authority to make recommendations to any federal member bank for the purpose of correcting practices or policies of the bank in conducting its business, including loan or dividend policies, which the directors deem to be unsafe or unsound, or to have a tendency to impair the financial condition of such federal member bank or of the Deposit Insurance Fund. If such federal member bank fails to follow such recommendation within a reasonable time, the directors may give written notice of such failure to the commissioner who may give written notice thereof to the federal member bank and to the federal regulatory agency having regular supervisory authority over such banks and the federal deposit insurance agency for such member bank. If it appears to the directors that such practices or policies have impaired or are likely to impair the solvency of such bank, or are unreasonably increasing the insurance risk of the Deposit Insurance Fund with respect to such federal member bank, the directors may include a statement to such effect, together with a report of the facts and circumstances related thereto, in the aforesaid notice to the commissioner who may include such a statement and report in his aforesaid notice to the federal member bank, the federal supervisory agency and the federal deposit insurance agency for such federal member bank.

Section 13. If the directors determine at any time that the financial condition or operations of any federal member bank makes it inadvisable to continue the excess insurance of such bank, the corporation shall give written notice thereof to such bank, the commissioner, the federal supervisory agency and the appropriate federal deposit insurance agency, stating the reasons for such determination. If such bank so requests within fifteen days of the receipt of such notice, the commissioner shall conduct such review and examination of the financial condition and operations of such bank as he deems appropriate, which may include a special examination and audit in accordance with said section two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws. If on the basis of such review and examination and such other information concerning such bank as he may have in the exercise of his supervisory functions, the commissioner concurs in such determination, he shall so notify such bank and the corporation in writing. The directors may, with the approval of the commissioner, terminate the excess insurance of such bank at any time after the issuance of such notice by the commissioner. If any such bank fails to request such review and examination within the said fifteen day period, the determination of the directors shall become final and the directors may, with the approval of the commissioner, terminate the excess insurance of such bank at any time after the conclusion of the said fifteen day period. Any such termination shall be effected in accordance with procedures established by the directors, with the approval of the commissioner, and such procedures shall be included in the agreement required by paragraph (c) of section eight.

Section 14. Whenever it shall appear to the commissioner that it is inadvisable or inexpedient for any member bank to continue to transact the business for which it is organized without receiving financial assistance as provided in this section, he may so notify the corporation, and thereupon, if in the judgement of the directors of the corporation such action may reduce the risk or avert a threatened loss to the corporation, he may facilitate a merger or consolidation of such bank with another financial institution, or may facilitate the sale of the assets of such bank to and the assumption of its liabilities by one or more such financial institutions. The corporation may, with the approval of the commissioner and in order to effect the purposes of this act, do any one or more of the following: (a) purchase from said bank its assets at the book value thereof, or at some other value mutually agreed upon by said bank and said directors, notwithstanding that either of such values may exceed the market value of the assets so purchased, and upon such terms and conditions as said directors, with the approval of the commissioner, may determine; (b) make loans to such bank, secured in whole or in part, in such amounts, and upon such terms and conditions as said directors, with the approval of the commissioner, may determine; (c) pay to such bank in accordance with an agreement entered into between such bank and the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, an amount not in excess of the difference between the book value of certain or all its assets and the fair value thereof as determined by said agreement, in consideration for which said bank shall agree to write down such assets to such fair value and pay over to the corporation so much of any net proceeds realized from the sale or other disposition of each and all such assets as is in excess of such fair value, such payment to be made in such amounts, at such times and upon such terms and conditions as said directors, with the approval of the commissioner, may determine; provided, that any amount paid by the corporation hereunder to such bank and the agreement of such bank to repay the excess, as hereinbefore provided, shall constitute liabilities of such bank only to the extent of any such excess from time to time actually realized; (d) pay into the surplus accounts of such bank in accordance with an agreement entered into between such bank and the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, an amount not in excess of the difference between the book value of certain or all its assets and the fair value thereof as determined by said agreement, such bank being hereby authorized and empowered, notwithstanding any other provisions of law, to repay such amount to the corporation at such time or times and in such manner as such agreement may prescribe; provided, that any such payment made by the corporation to such bank, and any agreement of any such bank to repay the same, shall constitute liabilities of such bank only to the extent provided by said agreement; (e) make a deposit in such bank of such amount that the directors deem advisable which deposit shall not be subject to limits imposed by section three of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven D of the General Laws or by the bylaws of the bank, and which may or may not be a subordinated deposit and may or may not be in accordance with an agreement that dividends thereon will be at a lower rate than is paid to other depositors; (f) assume any liabilities of such member bank; (g) make loans or contributions to or deposits in, or purchase any assets of, any financial institution which will acquire control of or merge or consolidate with such member bank or will purchase the assets and assume the liabilities of such member bank; (h) guarantee such member bank, or any financial institution which will acquire control of or merge or consolidate with such member bank or will purchase the assets and assume the liabilities of such member bank, against loss by reason of such acquisition of control merger or consolidation or purchase of assets and assumption of liabilities.

After January first, nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, in addition to or apart from the financial assistance authorized under the preceding paragraph, the corporation by vote of at least two thirds of its directors and in order to effect the purposes of this act may, by agreement with the member bank and with the approval of the commissioner, grant financial assistance to such member bank by any or all of the methods prescribed and subject to the terms, conditions and benefits contained in clauses (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section, for any of the purposes stated in this section or for the purpose of providing reserve funds for the protection of the depositors of such member bank; provided, that the total financial assistance granted to a member bank under the authority of this paragraph shall not at any one time exceed a sum equal to the greater of five percent of the deposits of such bank or five hundred thousand dollars.

Such bank, by the vote of least two thirds of its trustees, may take any and all action necessary or advisable to enable it to carry out any or all provisions of this section.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty-three of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight of the General Laws relative to voluntary dissolution and liquidation of a savings bank, in order to give effect to the purpose of this section and subject to the approval of the commissioner and of the corporation, such member bank may be dissolved and liquidate its affairs if authorized by a vote of at least two thirds of its trustees; provided, that another member bank shall have assumed and agreed to pay the whole of the deposits of such member bank under section thirty-five of said chapter one hundred and sixty-eight. A liquidating committee of three persons, subject to the approval of the corporation, shall thereupon be elected by and from said trustees, and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner, shall liquidate any remaining assets, and after satisfying and adjusting all such debts of and claims against such member bank not assumed by such other member bank, shall distribute the remaining proceeds among those entitled thereto proportionate to their respective interest therein. The supreme judicial court, or any justice thereof, shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce the provisions of this paragraph and to act upon all applications and in all proceedings thereunder.

At any time after ten years from the date financial assistance shall have been granted to a member bank under any of the provisions of this section, any unpaid balance thereof may be compromised or settled for such cash payment or other consideration as the corporation and the member bank, with the approve of the commissioner, may agree upon, and upon such compromise or settlement the member bank shall be deemed to be released and discharged from any further obligation to repay the unpaid balance of such financial assistance except to the extent provided by such agreement; provided, however, that any such agreement shall require that any subsequent dividends accruing to such member bank shall be offset against any loss sustained by the corporation as the result of any such compromise and settlement and retained by the corporation until the amount of such loss has been recovered. The supreme judicial court shall have jurisdiction in equity to approve any such agreement for compromise or settlement and to enforce the provisions of this paragraph and to act upon all applications and in all proceedings thereunder.

Section 15. Whenever it shall appear to the commissioner that any member bank is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized, he may so certify to the corporation, and upon receipt of such certificate the corporation shall, by notice in writing to the commissioner and to the bank, take possession and control forthwith of the property and business of such bank and shall operate such bank, subject to such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, until the bank shall resume business or until its affairs shall be liquidated. The corporation may, while thus carrying on such business, pay to such bank out of the Deposit Insurance Fund, such sums as the corporation's directors deem necessary for the protection of the bank's depositors, and may order the same to be repaid when no longer required for that purpose, or may purchase assets from said bank to effect the purposes of this act on such terms and conditions and at such valuations as said directors, with the approval of the commissioner may determine.

Section 16. At any time after the corporation has taken over the control, possession and operation of any member bank as provided in section fifteen, it may, with the approval of the commissioner, turn back the control, possession and operation thereof to such member bank which may resume business free from any control by the corporation acquired under section fourteen, subject to such conditions as the commissioner may approve. The corporation shall not thus turn back the control, possession and operation of any bank until there has been repaid into the Deposit Insurance Fund all sums paid out by the corporation from such fund to such bank or its depositors or until it has received security for such repayment satisfactory to the directors.

Section 17. The corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, may, and at the request of the commissioner shall, at any time after it has taken over the control, possession and operation of any member bank under section fifteen, discontinue the business of such bank and proceed to liquidate its affairs. The corporation shall in such event pay to the depositors of such bank the full amount of their deposits at the date of the discontinuance of the business of the bank with interest from the last dividend date to the date of discontinuance at a rate at least equal to the rate paid on regular savings accounts during such period and in the case of term deposits, at the contractual rate applicable to any such term deposit, such payments to be made within three years from such discontinuance and at such times and in such installments as the directors, with the approval of the commissioner, shall determine. For such purpose the corporation shall use, in addition to the assets to the bank, such sums as may be required from the Deposit Insurance Fund. In case of liquidation, the corporation shall be subject to such orders, rules and regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the commissioner. The corporation shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to such bank and, with the approval of the commissioner, may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts and with like approval may sell all or any part of the real or personal property of the bank on such terms as the commissioner may approve. To execute and perform the powers and duties conferred upon the corporation, it may in the name of any such bank prosecute and defend all suits and other legal proceedings and may in the name of the bank execute, acknowledge and deliver all deeds, assignments, leases and other instruments necessary and proper to effectuate any sale of real or personal property or any compromise approved by the commissioner and any deed or other instrument executed pursuant to the authority hereby given shall be valid and effectual for all purposes to the same extent as though executed by the officers of the bank by authority of its board of trustees or directors. The compensation of employees, council, and other assistance, and all expenses incurred in connection with the liquidation of any such bank shall be fixed, subject to the approval of the commissioner, by the directors. The officers of the corporation or any other persons employed by the directors to liquidate the affairs of any member bank under this section shall give bond to the directors for the faithful performance of their duties in relation to such liquidation in such amount and with such surety or sureties as the commissioner may approve. The persons appointed for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of any such bank shall be subject to all the penalties to which agents appointed by the commissioner for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of a bank are now or may hereafter be subject. All accounts for which no claimant can be found for six years following the discontinuance of the business of any such bank shall, if no other provisions to care for said claim have been made, be turned over to the commissioner of revenue pursuant to the provisions of chapter two hundred A of the General Laws. Said accounts may be reclaimed in the manner provided in section ten of said chapter but no interest shall be paid thereon for the time held by the commissioner.

Section 18. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the corporation may exercise all the powers, rights and franchises of any bank the control, possession and operation of which has been taken over by it under this act and may exercise all the powers and rights of the incorporators of such bank relative to a merger or consolidation conferred upon them by section thirty-four A, thirty-four B, thirty-four D and thirty-five of chapter one hundred and sixty-eight.

Section 19. (a) The corporation may pay dividends to member banks and to federal member banks at such rates and at such times as the directors may determine, subject to the prior approval of the commissioner of any such payment, rates and times and subject to his prior approval as to the terms, conditions and use of such payment to any such banks, upon the allocated reserves from time to time maintained by such banks in the Deposit Insurance Fund. With the approval of the commissioner, the directors may, in determining whether and at what rate to pay dividends, distinguish between that component of any such banks' allocated reserves that represents amounts paid to the corporation as annual or special assessments and the component that represents amount paid thereto as reserve coverage contributions. (b) The Deposit Insurance Fund may be invested by the corporation only as provided in subsections (a), (b), (c) and (e) of section seven of chapter forty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-two except that the Fund may be used as provided by section three A, and except, further, that the Fund may be used for the purchase of all or any part of the property of any member bank in possession of the commissioner under sections twenty-two to thirty-six inclusive, of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws or, in the case of a federal member bank, for the purchase of all or any part of the property of any such bank under the receivership of a federal deposit insurance agency, on such terms and conditions and at such valuations as the directors may determine. The corporation may, by vote of its directors, borrow money for the purposes of the Deposit Insurance Fund and pledge any assets in which said Fund is invested as security for such loans. In the case of a merger of consolidation of a member bank or a federal member bank with one or more other such banks, or in the case of a sale of assets of any such banks to and the assumption of the liabilities by one or more other such banks each such continuing member bank, and each such continuing federal member bank shall succeed to the rights of the discontinuing banks in the allocated reserves theretofore paid by the discontinuing bank.

Section 20. The corporation, at special county or district meetings held in accordance with the bylaws and with section two of said chapter forty-four, and called by the directors for this special purpose, may determine, by a two thirds vote of all member banks, that, as a fact, the Deposit Insurance Fund is no longer needed for the excess insurance provided for in section one. If the commissioner concurs with such determination of facts, he shall declare any balance of such fund, after payment of losses, expenses and obligations of the corporation, eligible for distribution to member banks and federal member banks upon a dissolution and liquidation of the fund. The corporation may, by a like two thirds vote of all member banks and with the approval of the commissioner, vote to dissolve and liquidate the Deposit Insurance Fund. When voting for this purpose, each member bank shall have one vote for each ten million dollars or fraction thereof of deposits then insured by the Deposit Insurance Fund, as shown by such bank's latest report to the commissioner or to the corporation. Upon any such vote to dissolve and liquidate the Deposit Insurance Fund, the corporation shall distribute, over a period of not more than twelve months, the said balance pro rata to member banks and federal member banks based upon their total amounts of assessments and participations in said Fund.

Section 21. A director of the corporation shall in no event be individually liable for anything done or for any liability incurred or assumed by virtue of this act, except for his own willful neglect or default, nor shall any member bank or federal member bank be subject to any liability by virtue of this act except for the payments of its assessments to the fund.

Section 22. The directors of the corporation may make such rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the commissioner, as they may deem necessary in order to carry out the provisions of this act, and for the purposes of this act the commissioner may confer and advise with the directors and may furnish them such information, records, statements and reports of examination or copies thereof, relating to any member bank, as the directors may request.

It is hereby found that: (1) Massachusetts has recently entered a period of severe economic distress, with increasing unemployment and with many areas of the commonwealth's economic base exhibiting an undesirable rate of growth; (2) these developments, while underscoring the economic importance of continued investments in technology education, place new and increasing pressures on such investments to advance the commonwealth's more immediate economic development interests while decreasing their reliance on scarce public funds; (3) accordingly, the Massachusetts technology park corporation must aggressively use the full breadth of the resources of its microelectronics center to directly support firms in the electronics and related industries to maintain, expand and locate their business activities in the commonwealth and thereby create and retain increased and more rewarding employment opportunities for our citizens; (4) further, the corporation must respond to pressing fiscal constraints by striving to make the center self-sufficient of regular, annual public maintenance funding through a comprehensive program of cost reduction, increased support from participating businesses and universities, the pursuit of federal and industry grants, and the full exploitation of the revenue generation potential of its essential governmental functions; (5) to those ends, and to otherwise account for changed economic circumstances since the corporation's creation, it is required to amend the corporation's public purpose, designated powers and essential governmental functions as set forth in its enabling act.

Therefore, it is found in the public interest of the commonwealth to promote the prosperity and general welfare of its citizens, a public purpose for which public money may be expended, to amend the enabling act and certain related statutes of the corporation to authorize the corporation to foster the expansion of industrial and commercial activity and employment opportunities in the commonwealth by employing its resources, to the extent consistent with its educational activities, to advance additional, more direct economic development initiatives which support firms to maintain, expand and locate their business activities within the commonwealth and thereby create and retain increased and more rewarding employment opportunities for our citizens.

This paragraph shall not preclude any school system from admitting children, including those described above, under the provisions of said section 12B of said chapter 76 of the General Laws.

SECTION 305. Chapter 10 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 35L the following section:-

Section 35J. There is hereby established and set up on the books of the commonwealth a separate fund known as the Massachusetts Tourism Fund, into which shall be deposited thirty-five percent of the revenues received from the tax imposed by section three of chapter sixty-four G, and section twenty-two of chapter five hundred and forty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine. Monies in said fund shall be applied subject to appropriation by the General Court as follows:

- (a) forty percent to the office of travel and tourism for tourism promotion programs;
- (b) thirty-eight percent to the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority established under the provisions of chapter one hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-two for operating expenses in excess of income from convention activities;
- (c) nineteen percent for financial assistance to tourist promotion agencies under the provisions of section fourteen of chapter twenty-three A;
- (d) three percent for the expenses of the Massachusetts International Trade Council.

SECTION 306. If any provision of section thirty-five J of chapter ten of the General Laws, as added by section one hundred twenty-one of this act or the application of any such provision to any person or circumstance shall be held invalid or unconstitutional, the other provisions of said section or the application of said section or provision to any person or circumstance other than that as to which it is held invalid or unconstitutional, shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 307. Section 31 of chapter 190 of the acts of 1982 is hereby amended by striking out the tenth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs:-

The overwhelming proportion of specific and precisely measurable revenues generated by the convention center (as distinguished from excises such as the meals tax) will be in the form of hotel and motel room taxes collected from persons attending conventions and paid by the various hostelries directly to the commonwealth and those of its cities and towns which opt to impose local excises. However, the comparatively small but still substantial costs of operations in the highly competitive convention and meeting industry will be paid out by the authority. This may be expected to result in an apparent operating deficit similar to that experienced by the generality of convention centers throughout the nation. It is hereby found and determined that one appropriate means of defraying a portion of the expected operating deficits of the convention center is the combination within the authority of both the convention center and a separate revenue producing facility situated in the vicinity of said center. There presently exists within the city of Boston a facility, known as the Boston common parking garage, which is most suited for this purpose. The consolidation under one authority of the Boston common parking garage with the convention center shall help to assure the financial feasibility of both endeavors without increasing the tax burden to citizens of the commonwealth. It is further found and determined that to the extent revenues from the operation of the combined facilities may be insufficient to defray the operating deficits of an internationally prominent convention center by the authority, it is in the interest of both the commonwealth and its cities and towns that sufficient revenues be made available from other sources to the authority to assure the accomplishment of its statutory purposes.

It is further found and determined that the interest of the commonwealth as well as that of its cities and towns in the development of properly maintained and operated convention, civic and conference centers and exhibition halls or like facilities, shall best be served by the involvement of the Authority in the establishment of a statewide plan of funding, development, and promotion of such centers. Statewide coordination of such activities is necessary to assure that local development needs will be most appropriately assisted through the provision of financial assistance, technical consultation, and promotional activities in both the national and international markets.

In order to provide the authority with the resources needed to operate and maintain an internationally prominent convention center as well as to coordinate a statewide plan of funding, development and promotion of local facilities, the commonwealth must be willing to commit to the provision of long-term financial assistance to the authority. Both the commonwealth and those of its cities and towns which opt to impose local excises will realize substantially increased room occupancy excise collections as a result of the endeavors of the authority. To the degree not inconsistent with the provisions of sections thirty-one through fifty, inclusive, of this act, the authority shall be considered a municipal corporation.

SECTION 308. Chapter 100 of the acts of 1982 is hereby amended by striking out section 32, as most recently amended by section 4 of chapter 629 of the acts of 1982, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 32. The following words and phrases, as used in sections thirty-one to fifty, inclusive, shall unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings:

"Act", the provisions of sections thirty-one to fifty, inclusive, of this chapter, as amended and supplemented from time to time.

"Authority", the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority created by section thirty-three of this act or, if said authority shall be abolished, the board, body or commission succeeding to the principal functions thereof or to which the powers given by this act to the authority shall be given by law.

"Bonds", any bonds, notes, or evidences of indebtedness by the authority.

(a) Sell, convey or lease to HEFA or any community college affiliate real or personal property owned by the commonwealth in a city or town in which a community college is located or grant easements, licenses or any other rights or privileges therein to HEFA to any community college affiliate. Neither HEFA nor any community college affiliate shall be liable to taxation upon any real property, including any building or buildings erected thereon, or personal property sold, conveyed or leased under this section;

In connection with any financing or refinancing provided by HEFA, the provisions of this paragraph shall apply. No lease or other agreement made under this section or section twelve made by HEFA, or the commonwealth acting through the council, or any other community college affiliate to HEFA, the commonwealth acting through the council, or any other community college affiliate shall be subject to any provision of law relating to publication or advertising for bids, and any such lease or agreement may be entered into and shall become effective without any necessity for any order of court or other action or formality other than the regular and formal action of the authorities concerned. No sale, conveyance, lease, or grant made under this section to HEFA or any community college affiliate by the council or by any community college affiliate shall be subject to the provisions of section forty F, section forty F 1/2, section forty H or section forty I of chapter seven; provided, however, that the council may elect for any such sale, conveyance, lease, or grant to be subject to the provisions of said sections; provided, further, that in connection with (i) any project upon any real property or right thereto obtained by HEFA or any community college affiliate pursuant to the sale, conveyance, lease, or grant hereby exempted from said sections, or (ii) any disposition to a person or entity other than HEFA, the commonwealth acting through the council or otherwise, or a community college affiliate of any real property or right thereto obtained by HEFA or any community college affiliate pursuant to the sale, conveyance, lease, or grant hereby exempted from said sections, HEFA or such community college affiliate, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be a state agency for the purpose of paragraph (v) of section thirty-nine A of said chapter seven and shall be deemed to be a public agency for the purpose of subsection (1) of section forty-four A of chapter one hundred and forty-nine.

Section 12. To provide for the expenses of HEFA and for the payment of indebtedness incurred by it in connection with any project financed by HEFA on behalf of any community college or any community college affiliate, or in connection with any transfer for such purpose by HEFA, or the commonwealth acting through the council under the provisions of section eleven, or any other community college affiliate to HEFA, or the commonwealth acting through the council, or any other community college affiliate of buildings or other property, the council may, in the name and on behalf of the commonwealth, (i) transfer or pledge that they will periodically transfer to HEFA, or to any community college affiliate under terms permitting further transfer or pledge to HEFA, any part or all of any funds held as trust funds for any community college under the provisions of

The council may impose such terms and conditions as to the application of the funds so transferred as it deems appropriate for the carrying out of the provisions of said chapter six hundred and fourteen and of this chapter. Any such pledge shall be valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made; the funds so pledged shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further act, and the lien of any such pledge shall be valid and binding as against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the council, any community college, or any other community college affiliate, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any trust agreement by which such a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of HEFA.

Section 13. HEFA may sell the buildings or other structures upon any land acquired by it pursuant to section eleven and which are not included in a project, or may remove the same, and may sell or lease any lands or rights or interest in lands or other property acquired for the purposes of this act whenever the same shall, in the opinion of HEFA, cease to be needed for such purposes. The proceeds of any such sale or lease shall be held and disposed of as revenues from the project for or with respect to which the property sold or leased shall have been acquired; provided, however, that except as permitted by section eleven, no property acquired from the commonwealth shall be sold or leased without prior approval of the governor and council; and provided further that the proceeds of any sale or lease of any such property shall be paid to the treasurer and receiver-general of the commonwealth and shall be credited on the books of the commonwealth to the General Fund.

In the event that the council shall sell, convey or lease to HEFA any dormitory, dining commons or boarding hall faculty or student apartment building or student union building at any community college and owned by the commonwealth or any Section 15. The council shall periodically prepare and submit to the budget director an estimate, in detail, for the ordinary maintenance of the entire system of public institutions of higher education, and revenue therefrom, as provided in section three of chapter twenty-nine. Said statement shall include the salaries of all officers and employees within said system and all program costs which are to be borne by any source other than the commonwealth, including such sources as federal financing or federal research, demonstration, or training grants, community contributions and other grants, endowments or trusts.

The council shall also periodically submit requests for capital outlay for the entire system of public institutions of higher education to the secretary of administration and finance as provided by section seven of said chapter twenty-nine and to the house and senate committees on ways and means. The council shall use the estimates and requests prepared by each board of trustees for the purposes of this section attaching whatever recommendations it may desire or deem necessary. The general court shall appropriate funds for the system of public institutions of higher education in various line items, including, but not limited to four separate appropriations; one each for the university, state colleges, community colleges, and scholarships.

The board of trustees of the university shall receive its appropriation directly, in one sum. Funds appropriated for the state college system and the community college system shall be disbursed by the council to each board of trustees by the establishment of allocation accounts; provided, however, that the council shall not allocate an amount less than that appropriated by the general court for the expenses of "01, salaries, permanent positions"; "02, salaries, other"; or "03, services, nonemployee" without prior approval of the commissioner of administration; and provided, further, that no such funds allocated for the expenses of "01 salaries, permanent" to a board of trustees shall be transferred without the prior approval of the commissioner of administration.

Each board of trustees shall prepare their estimates and requests according to the funding formulas prescribed in section fifteen A of this chapter.

The council shall review the institutional budget requests prepared by each board of trustees attaching whatever comments and recommendations it may desire or deem necessary. Said comments and recommendations shall be consistent with the aforementioned funding formulas, statewide needs and the adopted institutional and system long range plans. In reviewing the various estimates and requests the council may comment on the overall level of funding for the system of public higher education and may comment regarding funding priorities among segments of the system of public higher education and among the various institutions. The council shall submit the recommendations and comments of the council to the secretary of administration and finance, the house and senate committees on ways and means and the joint committee on education, arts and humanities. The council shall include in addition to the information provided by the boards of trustees all program costs which are to be borne by any other source other than the commonwealth, including such sources as federal financing or federal research, demonstration or training grants, community contributions and other grants, endowments or trusts.

any other approved institution furnishing a program of higher education. Such aid and assistance shall consist of awarding of full or partial scholarships to worthy and qualified students in need of financial assistance.

The amount of awards to qualified students shall be determined by using an indexing system which shall be included in the guidelines established by the council to govern this program. The council shall file a report of current year general scholarship program expenditures, appropriations needed to fund full need for all students, and projections of general scholarship expenditures for the following year by family contribution ranges and independent student contribution ranges. Said report shall be filed with the clerk of the house and senate no later than the end of each calendar year.

There shall be a Christian A. Herter Memorial Scholarship Program which authorizes the council to guarantee the payment of full or partial scholarships to no more than twenty-five students annually of extraordinary need and ability selected in tenth or eleventh grades by persons or agencies designated by said council under such regulations as the council shall deem necessary. These awards shall be guaranteed to the student at the time of the student's selection; provided however, that said student successfully completes high school and is enrolled in and pursuing a program of higher education in any approved public or independent college, scientific or technical institution, or any other approved institution furnishing a program of higher education, and shall be payable from the general scholarship funds at the time of the student's matriculation.

There shall be a program, administered by the council, providing for the matching of scholarship grants to participating Massachusetts independent regionally accredited colleges, universities and schools of nursing; provided, that the council shall establish policies and regulations relating to the program, including an audit procedure to insure that institutions are in compliance with such policies and regulations; provided, further, that a participating institution shall be eligible to receive an amount equal to such institution's expenditure for scholarship aid to needy Massachusetts undergraduate students enrolled in such institutions as full-time matriculating students in a course of study leading to an associate or bachelor degree; provided further, that each participating institution shall agree to expend an amount equal to one hundred percent of the grant awarded hereunder in direct financial assistance to the needy Massachusetts students; provided further, that each participating institution shall agree to comply with the information requests of the council in accordance with this chapter, and provided, further, that students receiving such aid shall be ineligible for additional scholarship assistance provided by the commonwealth.

There shall be a Christa McAuliffe Teacher Incentive Program for the purpose of providing financial assistance for undergraduate and graduate students in approved institutions of higher education within the commonwealth who agree to teach on a full time basis within a public education system located in the commonwealth. The council shall institute and maintain learning contracts for all students admitted in the teacher incentive program, which shall include provisions for "payback" service for a period commencing after such students have fulfilled all graduation requirements, or for repayment to the commonwealth of the full amount of such grants on terms established by said council. Said council shall establish guidelines governing said program which shall include but not be limited to eligibility requirements, selection criteria, and period of time which must be spent teaching in the commonwealth.

There shall be a part-time student grant program to provide assistance to part-time undergraduate students attending approved institutions of higher education within the commonwealth who have demonstrated financial need. The council shall establish guidelines governing said program.

The council may award full or partial scholarships to worthy and qualified students who have been residents of the commonwealth for a period of four years immediately prior to receiving such award and who are in need of financial assistance in order to pursue graduate studies. The council shall award scholarships and notify all applicants on or before July first in each year. No scholarship may be awarded for more than five years to any one student. The council may expend such sums as may be appropriated to carry out the provisions of this paragraph. The council shall establish guidelines governing said program which shall include but not be limited to eligibility requirements and selection criteria.

There shall be a Council Grant for Campus-based Assistance Program for adult learners and work study opportunities. Participating approved institutions of higher education within Massachusetts shall receive an allocation from the council to provide grant or work study assistance to eligible students with demonstrated financial need. The council shall establish guidelines to govern this program which shall insure that those students receiving assistance include part-time students, graduate students and adult learners.

There shall be a Public Service Scholarship Program to provide scholarships to children and widowed spouses of Massachusetts police officers, firefighters and correction officers, who are killed or die from injuries received while in the performance of duties including authorized training duty; to children of prisoners of war or military or service persons missing in action in Southeast Asia whose wartime service is credited to the commonwealth and whose service was between February first, nineteen hundred and fifty-five, and the termination of the Vietnam campaign; and to the children of veterans whose service was credited to the commonwealth and who were killed in action or otherwise died as a result of such service. Such scholarships shall be awarded by the council pursuant to its guidelines established to govern this program and shall go to those persons referenced above who are admitted to an institution of higher education in the commonwealth to pursue undergraduate studies.

There shall be a dedicated grant program for undergraduate students enrolled at an approved institution of higher education within the commonwealth. The council shall establish guidelines to govern said program.

There shall be a consortium scholarship program for undergraduate students to pursue programs that are not currently offered by public institutions of higher education within the commonwealth. The council shall establish guidelines to govern said program.

Any student receiving financial assistance under any program listed above shall maintain satisfactory academic progress in order to continue to receive such assistance. Each institution which recipients attend shall maintain documentation of each recipient's academic standing and provide requested documentation to the council in accordance with guidelines promulgated by the council.

All programs of financial assistance above shall be subject to appropriation.

Any institution of higher education participating in any of the programs set forth above shall annually execute a participating agreement for each such program and place such contracts on file with the council's scholarship office.

When applicable federal law requires, each applicant for assistance under any program established herein shall provide appropriate documentation to verify his compliance with the Military Selective Service Act in effect at the time of such application.

With the exception of the public service scholarship program grants, all financial assistance provided for in this section shall be based on ability to pay, as provided for in guidelines promulgated by the council.

Upon adoption by the council of guidelines promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this section, said council shall file a copy thereof with the secretary of administration and finance, and with the clerk of the house of representatives, who shall refer such guidelines to the joint committee on education, arts and humanities, and the house and senate ways and means committees.

Section 17. The council, subject to appropriation, shall establish a program entitled the "teaching learning corps".

The program shall provide school districts choosing to participate, which contain a significant proportion of low-income students or a significant proportion of students deficient in basic skills, as determined by the board of education with college students as instructional aides. Instructional aides shall assist teachers in instructional activities during regular school programs or extended day programs, but shall not replace existing school personnel. Funds provided under this section shall be used first to provide matching funds for work-study college students, and in the case where work-study students are not available, to hire college students not enrolled in work-study programs. The council, in cooperation with the board of education, shall promulgate rules and regulations for said program, including selection criteria for public school sites, cooperative agreements between colleges and public schools, yearly programs evaluation procedures, program duration standards, and other rules.

For the purposes of this section, "part-time student" shall mean a student participating in at least seventy-five percent of the full-time curriculum. Such an institution may elect to allow students to waive participation in its student health insurance program or any part thereof; provided, however, that an institution permitting such waivers shall require students waiving participation to certify in writing prior to any academic year in which they will not participate in the institution's plan that they are participating in a health insurance program having comparable coverages.

Each public and independent institution of higher education shall submit an annual report to the department of medical security detailing its procedures for complying with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that prior to the implementation of this section the department of medical security and the council shall submit a report to the house and senate committees on ways and means. Such a report shall include, but not be limited to, an analysis of the number of students lacking health insurance, the costs of the requirements of this section to the students and the public and independent institutions of higher education, and a proposed method for meeting such costs.

Any public or independent institution of higher learning failing to carry out its responsibilities under this section shall pay a penalty per student for every day during which the failure continues, equal to the penalty per employee per day imposed upon noncomplying employers by subsection (i) of section fourteen G of chapter one hundred and fifty-one A. Any penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the public responsibility account of the medical security trust fund established by chapter one hundred and eighteen F. Any institution which, in accordance with regulations promulgated pursuant to this section, relies in good faith on statements by students relative to their health insurance status shall not be liable for any penalty or for failure to comply with the provisions of this section caused by misstatements of such students.

The department of medical security, with the advice and consent of the council, shall issue regulations to define qualifying student health insurance programs, to establish procedures to monitor compliance, and to implement the provisions of this section.

Section 19. There shall be a single tuition waiver program administered by the council in accordance with guidelines established by the council to govern the program, provided that no tuition waiver be funded by the transfer of funds appropriated pursuant to section sixteen.

Such guidelines (i) shall establish institutional waiver allocation formulas and eligibility requirements, including needs criteria, for designated waiver programs, (ii) shall provide tuition waivers for specific categories of students designated by the council which shall include veterans, armed forces personnel, senior citizens, graduate students and native Americans, (iii) may provide waivers for additional categories of students not included in clause (ii), and (iv) may provide waivers of tuition or fees for undergraduate programs, summer sessions, evening classes, or any specific courses or set of courses.

Such public institutions shall cooperate with the center by furnishing such nonconfidential information as may assist the center in the performance of its duties. The center may request and receive similar information from private or other public educational institutions to the commonwealth.

An applicant for admission to an institution whose application is not accepted may send to the center appropriate nonconfidential information concerning his application. The center may, at its discretion and with permission of the applicant, direct the attention of the applicant to other institutions and direct the attention of other institutions to the applicant.

The center may conduct such studies and analyses of admission, transfers and enrollments as may be deemed appropriate.

Section 21. There shall be board of trustees consisting of eleven members for each of the institutions named in section five other than the University of Massachusetts. Each board of trustees shall elect a chairman.

Each elected alumnus member shall be elected every five years. No elected alumnus member shall serve for more than two consecutive terms. A vacancy in the position of elected alumnus member prior to the expiration of a term shall be filled for the remainder of the term in the same manner as elections to full terms. Each student member shall be elected by the student body annually, no later than May fifteenth. The term of office of each elected student member of the board shall be one year and shall commence on July first following their election and terminate on June thirtieth of the following year. The student member shall be eligible for re-election for as long as said student remains a full-time undergraduate student and maintains satisfactory academic progress as determined by the policy of the institution at which the student is enrolled. If at any time during the elected term of office said student member ceases to be a full-time undergraduate student or fails to maintain satisfactory academic progress, the membership of said student on the board shall be terminated and the office of the elected student member shall be deemed vacant, provided, however, that if the elected student member vacates his position upon graduation from the institution prior to July first, the elected successor may assume the position of student member on the board effective from the date of graduation of his predecessor, provided further that the statutory time limit of one year of the successor student trustee shall commence to run on July first notwithstanding any taking of office prior to the commencement of said term. A vacancy in the office of the elected student member prior to the expiration of a term shall be filled for the remainder of the term in the same manner as student elections to full terms.

No member of a board of trustees shall be a member of the higher education coordinating council. No member of a board of trustees shall be principally employed within the public higher education system of the commonwealth; provided, however, that no more than one-third of the members shall be principally employed by the commonwealth. Membership on a board of trustees shall terminate if a member ceases to be qualified for appointment.

Members shall be appointed to serve for five year terms, but no member shall be appointed for more than two consecutive terms. Members of the board shall serve without compensation but may be reimbursed for all expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of their duties.

Any vacancy on a board of trustees shall be filled for the duration of the term, in the same manner as the prior appointment. If a member is absent from four regular meetings in any calendar year, exclusive of July and August, that person's membership on the board shall terminate and a vacancy shall be deemed to exist.

The chairman shall forthwith notify the governor when any vacancy exists.

Each board of trustees shall from time to time advise the higher education coordinating council on admissions programs, labor relations and program approval for its institution. ## CHAPTER 255E.

LICENSING OF CERTAIN MORTGAGE LENDERS AND BROKERS.

Section 1. As used in this chapter the following words shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings:-

“Commissioner”, the commissioner of banks.

“Mortgage broker”, any person who for compensation or gain, or in the expectation of compensation or gain, directly or indirectly negotiates, places, assists in placement, finds or offers to negotiate, place, assist in placement or find mortgage loans on residential property for others.

“Mortgage lender”, any person engaged in the business of making mortgage loans, or issuing commitments for mortgage loans.

“Mortgage loan”, a loan to a natural person made primarily for personal, family or household purposes secured wholly or partially by a mortgage on residential property.

“Residential property”, real property located in the commonwealth having thereon a dwelling house with accommodations for four or less separate households and occupied, or to be occupied, in whole or in part by the obligor on the mortgage debt.

Section 2. No person shall act as a mortgage broker or mortgage lender with respect to residential property unless first obtaining a license from the commissioner; provided, however, that any person who is employed by or associated with a licensed mortgage broker or mortgage lender in the capacity of a mortgage broker or mortgage lender under the direction of said licensed mortgage broker or mortgage lender shall not be required to obtain such license. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any mortgage lender making fewer than five mortgage loans within any period of twelve consecutive months; provided, however, that in computing the number of mortgage loans, there shall be counted in the loans of more than one partnership, association, trust or corporation, the majority interest of which are owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same person or persons, partnerships, associations, trusts or corporations and including in the loans of a partnership or company not incorporated the loans of the several members thereof. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any person who acts as a mortgage broker fewer than five times within any period of twelve consecutive months. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to a bank as defined in section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven, a national banking association, a federally chartered credit union, a federal savings and loan association, a federal savings bank, or any subsidiary or affiliate of the above, a company licensed to carry on the business of making small loans under the provisions of section ninety-six of chapter one hundred and forty, insurance company, or to any bank, trust company, savings bank, savings and loan association, credit union or insurance company organized under the laws of any other state; provided, however, that except as provided herein, such provisions shall apply to any subsidiary or affiliate, as defined by the commissioner, of any such exempted entity and of a bank holding company established in accordance with state or federal law; and provided, further, that such provisions shall not apply to any instrumentality created by the United States or any state or to any nonprofit, public or independent post-secondary educational institution within the commonwealth authorized by law to grant degrees by the commonwealth, or by any agency or instrumentality thereof, for mortgage loans made by any such educational institution to its faculty or staff or to a real estate broker or real estate salesman as defined in section eighty-seven PP of chapter one hundred and twelve who, in connection with services performed in a prospective real estate transaction, provides mortgage information or assistance to a buyer if such real estate broker or real estate salesman is not compensated for the same in addition to the compensation received from the seller for such real estate services. The commissioner may adopt, amend or repeal rules and regulations, which may include an adequate capitalization requirement for mortgage lenders, to aid in the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

Section 3. The application for a license shall be in writing and in the form prescribed by the commissioner and shall contain the name and address or addresses where the business of the applicant is located and if the applicant is a partnership, association, corporation or other form of business organization, the names and addresses of each member, director and principal officer thereof. Such application shall also include a description of the activities of the applicant, in such detail and for such periods, as the commissioner may require, as well as such further information as the commissioner may require. Each application for a license shall be accompanied by an investigation fee. Investigation and license fees shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

Section 4. Upon the filing of an application for a license, if the commissioner finds that the financial responsibility, character, reputation, integrity and general fitness of the applicant, and of the partners or members thereof if the applicant is a partnership or association, and of the officers, directors and principal employees if the applicant is a corporation, are such as to warrant belief that the business will be operated honestly, fairly, soundly and efficiently in the public interest consistent with the purposes of this chapter, he shall thereupon issue the applicant a license to engage in the business of a mortgage lender or mortgage broker. If the commissioner shall not so find, he shall not issue a license and he shall notify the applicant of the denial. Within twenty days thereafter, he shall enter upon his records a written decision and findings containing the reasons supporting the denial and shall forthwith give written notice thereof by registered mail to the applicant. Within thirty days after the date of such notice, the applicant may appeal from such denial to the superior court for Suffolk county, sitting in equity. The court shall hear all pertinent evidence and determine the facts and upon the facts as so determined, review said denial and, as justice and equity may require, affirm the same or order the commissioner to issue such license. The commissioner shall approve or deny every application for a license within ninety days after the filing thereof, but any failure of the commissioner to act within such period shall not be deemed to be an approval of any such application.

Section 5. Each license shall state the address at which the business is to be conducted and shall state the name of the licensee. If a licensee intends to carry on such business at any place other than the address on the license, he shall so notify the commissioner, in writing, at least thirty days prior thereto. Such notice shall contain the address of any such place and such other information as the commissioner may require; provided, however, that any such business shall at all times be conducted in the name of the licensee as it appears on the license. A copy of such license shall be prominently posted in each place of business of the licensee. Such copies for places of business at addresses other than that appearing on the license may be obtained at a reasonable cost, as determined by the commissioner. Such license shall not be transferrable or assignable and shall expire annually on April first. Any change of location or closing of a place of business of the licensee, either at the address stated on the license or at a place other than said address stated on the license, shall require prior written notice thereof to the commissioner. Such notice shall be in writing setting forth the reason therefor and shall be filed with the commissioner at least thirty days prior to any such relocation or closing. If there shall be any change among the members, officers, partners or directors of any licensee, the licensee shall notify the commissioner in a timely manner of the name, address and occupation of each new member, officer, partner or director, and provide such other information as the commissioner may require.

Section 6. The commissioner may suspend or revoke any license issued pursuant to this chapter if said commissioner finds that:

(i) the licensee has violated any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation adopted hereunder, or any other law applicable to the conduct of its business; or

(ii) any fact or condition exists which, if it had existed at the time of the original application for such license, would have warranted the commissioner in refusing to issue such license.

Except as provided in section seven, no license shall be revoked or suspended except after notice and a hearing thereon pursuant to chapter thirty A.

A licensee may surrender a license by delivering to the commissioner written notice that it thereby surrenders such license, but such surrender shall not affect the civil or criminal liability of the licensee for acts committed before such surrender.

No revocation, suspension or surrender of any license shall impair or affect the obligation of any pre-existing lawful contract between the licensee and any person.

Section 7. (a) If the commissioner determines, after giving notice of and opportunity for a hearing, that a licensee has engaged in or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of a provision of this chapter or a rule, regulation or order hereunder, he may order such licensee to cease and desist from such unlawful act or practice and take such affirmative action as in his judgment will effect the purposes of this chapter.

(b) If the commissioner makes written findings of fact that the public interest will be irreparably harmed by delay in issuing an order under subsection (a) he may issue a temporary cease and desist order. Upon the entry of a temporary cease and desist order, the commissioner shall promptly notify, in writing, the licensee affected thereby that such order has been so entered, the reasons therefor, and that within twenty days after the receipt of a written request from such licensee, the matter will be scheduled for hearing to determine whether or not such temporary order shall become permanent and final. If no such hearing is requested and none is ordered by the commissioner, the order shall remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the commissioner. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the commissioner, after giving notice of and opportunity for a hearing to the licensee subject to said order, shall, by written finding of facts and conclusions of law, vacate, modify or make permanent the order.

(c) No order under this section, except an order issued pursuant to subsection (b), may be entered without prior notice of and opportunity for a hearing. The commissioner may vacate or modify an order under this section upon finding that the conditions which required such an order have changed and that it is in the public interest to so vacate or modify.

Any order issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to review as provided in chapter thirty A.

Section 8. Each licensee shall annually, on or before a date to be determined by the commissioner, file a report with the commissioner giving such information as said commissioner may require concerning its business and operations during the preceding calendar year.

The licensee shall keep and use within the commonwealth such books, records and accounts as will enable the commissioner to determine whether such licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations lawfully made pursuant thereto by the commissioner and any other law, rule and regulation applicable to the conduct of its business as a mortgage broker or mortgage lender. Every licensee shall preserve such books, records and accounts for at least three years. Preservation of such books, records and accounts by photographic reproduction thereof or records in photographic form shall constitute compliance with the requirements of this section.

Each licensee shall, when directed by the commissioner, permit the commissioner or his duly authorized representative to inspect its relevant records and evidence of compliance with this chapter or any rule or regulation issued thereunder and with any other law, rule and regulation applicable to the conduct of the business for which it is licensed under this chapter. For the purposes of such inspection, the commissioner or his representative shall have access to the offices and place of business, books, accounts, papers, records and files of all such licensees. The commissioner and any person designated by him may require the attendance and testimony of all persons as he may deem necessary relative to such business. The total cost for any such inspection, which shall be paid by the licensee within thirty days after the receipt of invoice therefor, shall be determined by the commissioner of administration under the provisions of section three B of chapter seven.

Section 9. The commissioner may enforce the provisions of this chapter, or restrain any violations thereof, by filing a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 10. Whoever violates any provision of section two or any rule or regulation made thereunder by the commissioner shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment. Each day such violation occurs or continues shall be deemed a separate offense.

SECTION 4. The commissioner of banks is hereby authorized to promulgate rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this act.

SECTION 5. Sections one, two and three of this act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

Approved July 12, 1991.

A person who is not state-certified or state-licensed shall not describe or refer to any appraisal or other evaluation of real estate located in the commonwealth by the term "certified"; provided, however, that this shall not preclude a person who is not certified as a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser from appraising real estate in connection with non-federally

B. The provisions of sections one hundred and seventy-three to one hundred and ninety-nine, inclusive, shall not apply to a real estate broker or salesperson or to a certified public accountant or business broker who, in the ordinary course of business, gives an opinion of the price of real estate for the purpose of a prospective listing, purchase, sale, or business valuation, provided, however, that such opinion of the price shall not be referred to as an appraisal.

Section 179. (1) appropriate knowledge of technical terms commonly used in or related to real estate appraising, appraisal report writing, and economic concepts applicable to real estate; education and experience requirements adopted by the board consistent with and equivalent to the qualification standards adopted in accordance with Title XI by the Appraisal Qualifications Board of the Appraisal Foundation.

B. C. Until January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, any person who passes the requisite state administered licensing examination but who lacks either the requisite education or requisite experience required for licensing under subdivision B may apply for and receive a transitional license, valid for two years from the date of issuance, and delay satisfaction of the education or experience requirement until expiration of the transitional license. If, by the time of expiration of such transitional license, such person presents evidence satisfactory to the board that he has satisfied the education and experience requirements, a renewal license as a state-licensed real estate appraiser shall be issued to such person. Any transitional license issued pursuant to this section shall indicate its transitional nature, and shall be recorded and reported in the annual report of the board to the Federal Appraisal Subcommittee.

D. No examination shall be required for real estate appraisal trainees.

E. In establishing criteria for state certification or state licensure and in promulgating any other regulations governing the performance of state-certified or state-licensed real estate appraisers, the board shall not discriminate against any person or entity solely by virtue of membership or lack of membership in any particular appraisal organization. The board shall not discriminate against any person or entity offering education courses meeting the curriculum requirements established by the board.

Section 181. A. The term of a certificate or a license issued under the authority of the board, except a transitional license under subdivision C of section one hundred and eighty, shall be three years from the date of issuance. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each certificate or license originally issued to an individual, except a transitional license under said subdivision C of said section one hundred and eighty, shall be valid until the anniversary of the date of birth of the licensee next occurring more than thirty-six months after the date of issuance. A real estate appraisal trainee shall be eligible for renewal of a trainee license for only one three year period after the original term of the license.

Section 182. A. Every applicant for certification or licensing who is not a resident of the commonwealth shall submit, with the application for certification or licensing, an irrevocable consent that service of process upon him may be made by delivery of the process to the state secretary if, in an action against the applicant in a court of the commonwealth arising out of the applicant's activities as a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser, the plaintiff cannot, in the exercise of due diligence, effect personal service upon the applicant.

B. A nonresident of the commonwealth who has complied with the provisions of subdivision A may obtain a certificate as a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or license as a state-licensed real estate appraiser by conforming to all of the provisions hereof relating to certification or licensing of real estate appraisers, respectively.

Section 183. A. If, in the determination of the board, another state is deemed to have substantially equivalent certification or licensing requirements, an applicant who is certified or licensed under the laws of such other state may obtain a certificate as a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or a license as a state-licensed real estate appraiser in the commonwealth upon such terms and conditions as determined by the board.

B. The board shall recognize on a temporary basis the certification or license of an appraiser issued by another state if (i) the property to be appraised is part of a federally-related transaction; (ii) the appraiser's business is of a temporary nature; and (iii) the appraiser registers with the board and pays the requisite registration fee, which fee shall be reasonable in relation to other fees set by the board.

Section 184. A. To obtain a renewal certificate or license, the holder of a current, valid certificate or license shall make application and pay the prescribed fee to the board not earlier than one hundred and twenty days nor later than thirty days prior to the expiration date of the certificate or license then held. With the application for renewal, the real estate appraiser shall present evidence in the form prescribed by the board of having completed required continuing education requirements.

B. (1) If a person fails to renew a certificate or license as a real estate appraiser prior to its expiration or within a period of extension of up to six months granted by the board, such person may obtain a renewal by satisfying all of the requirements for renewal and by the payment of a late renewal fee and any additional requirements set by the board.

(2) If the applicant satisfies the requirements for renewal during the extended term of certification or licensing, the beginning date of the renewal shall be the day following the expiration of the certificate or license previously held by the applicant.

Section 185. A. Each state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser shall advise the board of the address of his principal place of business and all other addresses at which he is currently engaged in the business of preparing real property appraisal reports.

B. Whenever a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser changes a place of business, he shall immediately give written notification of the change to the board and apply for an amended certificate or license.

C. Every state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser shall notify the board of his current residence address. Residence addresses on file with the board shall be exempt from disclosure as public records unless the residence address is the mailing address.

Section 186. A. Each certificate or license issued hereunder shall bear a certificate or license number assigned by the board.

B. Each state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser shall place his certificate or license number adjacent to or immediately below the title "State-certified general real estate appraiser", "State-certified residential real estate appraiser" or "State-licensed real estate appraiser" when used in an appraisal report or in a contract or other instrument used by the certificate or license holder in conducting appraisal activities.

Section 187. A. The terms "state-certified general real estate appraiser", "state-certified residential real estate appraiser", and "state-licensed real estate appraiser" may only be used to refer to individuals who hold the certificate and may not be used following or immediately in connection with the name or signature of a firm, partnership, corporation, or group; or in such manner that it might be interpreted as referring to a firm, partnership corporation, group, or anyone other than an individual holder of the certificate or license.

B. No certificate or license shall be issued under the provisions hereof to a corporation, partnership, firm or group. This shall not be construed to prevent a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser from signing an appraisal report on behalf of a corporation, partnership, firm or group practice.

Section 188. A. The board shall adopt regulations for implementation of the continuing education provisions of this act to assure that persons renewing their certifications and licenses as real estate appraisers have current knowledge of appropriate appraisal theories, practices, and techniques, which will provide a high degree of service and protection to those members of the public with whom they deal in a professional relationship under authority of the certification or license. The regulations shall prescribe the following:

(1) policies and procedures for obtaining board approval of courses of instruction;

(2) standards, policies and procedures to be applied by the board in evaluating an applicant's claim of equivalency;

(3) standards, monitoring methods, and systems for recording attendance to be employed by a course sponsored as a prerequisite to board approval of courses for credit;

(4) such other requirements or conditions deemed necessary by the board to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

B. No amendment or repeal of a regulation adopted by the board pursuant to this section shall operate to deprive a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser of credit toward renewal of certification or licensing for any course of instruction completed by the applicant prior to the amendment or repeal of the regulation which would have qualified for continuing education credit under the regulation as it existed prior to such repeal or amendment.

C. On and after January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-two, a certification or license as a real estate appraiser that has been revoked as a result of disciplinary action by the board shall not be reinstated unless the applicant presents evidence of completion of the continuing education required by this section and satisfies any other requirements established by the board. This requirement of evidence of continuing education shall not be imposed upon an applicant for reinstatement who has been required to successfully complete the examination for state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser as a condition to reinstatement of certification.

Section 189. A. The rights of any applicant or holder under a certificate or license as a state-certified or state-licensed real estate appraiser may be revoked or suspended, or the holder of the certificate or license may be otherwise disciplined in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, upon any of the grounds set forth in this section. The board shall upon a written sworn complaint or may upon its own motion investigate the actions of a state-certified or state-licensed real estate appraiser, and may suspend or revoke the rights or otherwise discipline a state-certified or state-licensed real estate appraiser for any of the following acts or omissions:

(1) procuring or attempting to procure a certificate or license by knowingly making a false statement, submitting false information, refusing to provide complete information in response to a question in an application for certification or licensing or through any form of fraud or misrepresentation;

(2) failing to meet the minimum qualifications established herein;

(3) paying money or other consideration other than provided for by this chapter to any member or employee of the board to procure a certificate or license;

(4) a conviction, including a conviction based upon a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, of a crime which is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, and duties of a person developing appraisals and communicating appraisals to others, or convicted of any felony;

(5) an act or omission involving dishonesty, fraud, or misrepresentation with the intent to substantially benefit the certificate or license holder or another person or with the intent to substantially injure another person;

(6) violation of any of the standards for the development or communication of appraisals;

(7) failure, or refusal without good cause, to exercise reasonable diligence in developing an appraisal, preparing an appraisal report, or communicating an appraisal;

(8) negligence or incompetence in developing an appraisal, in preparing an appraisal report, or in communicating an appraisal;

(9) willfully disregarding or violating any of the provisions of this chapter, or the regulations of the board;

(10) accepting an appraisal assignment when such assignment is contingent upon the appraiser reporting a predetermined estimate, analysis or opinion, or where the fee to be paid is contingent upon the opinion, conclusion, or valuation reached, or upon the consequences resulting from the appraisal assignment;

(11) violating the confidential nature of governmental records to which the appraiser gains access through employment or engagement as an appraiser by a governmental agency; or

(12) entry of a final civil judgment against such appraiser on grounds of fraud, misrepresentation or deceit in the making of any appraisal.

Section 190. A. The hearing on any charge or violation of this chapter shall be at a time and place prescribed by the board and shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty A.

B. The board shall have the power to sue and be sued in its official name as an agency in the commonwealth; to administer oaths; to take testimony and receive evidence concerning all matters within its jurisdiction. In case of disobedience of a subpoena, the board may apply to any court of the commonwealth to require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence. The board, its members and agents, shall be immune from personal liability for actions taken in good faith in the discharge of their responsibilities, and the commonwealth shall hold the board, its members and agents, harmless from all costs, damages and attorneys fees arising from claims and suits against them with respect to matters to which such immunity applies.

C. If the board determines that a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, it shall prepare a finding of fact and recommend that the appraiser be reprimanded or that his certification or license be suspended or revoked. The decision and order of the board shall be final except as provided in subsection D.

D. Any final decision or order of the board shall be reviewable by the superior court as to questions of law only. Any application for review by said court made by an aggrieved party shall be filed within thirty days after the final decision of the board.

Section 191. A client or employer may retain or employ a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser to act as a disinterested third party in rendering an unbiased estimate of value or analysis. A client or employer may also retain or employ a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser to provide specialized services to facilitate the client's or employer's objectives. In either case, the appraiser and the appraisal report must comply with the provision hereof.

Section 192. A. A state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser shall not accept a fee for an appraisal assignment that is contingent upon the appraiser reporting a predetermined estimate, analysis or opinion or is contingent upon the opinion, conclusion or valuation reached, or upon the consequences resulting from the appraisal assignment.

B. A state-certified or state-licensed real estate appraiser who enters into an agreement to perform specialized services may be paid a fixed fee or a fee that is contingent on the results achieved by the specialized services.

C. If a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser enters into an agreement to perform specialized services for a contingent fee, this fact shall be clearly stated in each written report of an appraisal. In each written report, this fact shall be clearly stated in a prominent location in such report and also in each letter of transmittal and in the certification statement made by the appraiser in such report.

Section 193. Each state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser shall retain, for at least five years, originals or true copies of all written contracts engaging his services for real property appraisal work and all reports and supporting data assembled and formulated by the appraiser in preparing such reports.

This five year period for retention of records shall be applicable to each engagement of the services of the appraiser and shall commence upon the date of the submittal of the appraisal to the client unless, within such five year period, the appraiser is notified that the appraisal report is involved in litigation, in which event the five year period for the retention of records shall commence upon the date of the final disposition of such litigation.

All records required to be maintained under the provisions of this section shall be made available by the state-certified or state-licensed real estate appraiser for inspection and copying by the board on reasonable notice to the appraiser.

Section 194. A. Any person acting or purporting to act as a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser without first obtaining a certificate or license to practice under this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed six months, or both such fine and punishment. Upon conviction of a subsequent violation, such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed one year, or both such fine and punishment. Charges may be initiated by the attorney general.

B. A person who receives any money or the equivalent thereof as a fee, commission, compensation or profit by, or in consequence of, a violation of any provision of this chapter, shall, in addition to any other penalty, be liable for a penalty of not less than the amount of the sum of money so received and not more than three times the sum so received as may be determined by the court, which penalty may be recovered in a court of competent jurisdiction by any person aggrieved.

Section 195. Uncertified and unlicensed persons may not maintain an action for a fee on non-exempted transactions. No action or suit shall be instituted, nor recovery had, in any court of the commonwealth by any person for compensation for any act done or service rendered as a state-certified general real estate appraiser, state-certified residential real estate appraiser or state-licensed real estate appraiser, unless such person held a certificate or license to practice under this chapter at the time of offering to perform any act or service as a real estate appraiser or procuring any promise to contract for the payment of compensation for any contemplated act or service as a real estate appraiser.
