Section 1. (a) There is established, as an independent commission in the judicial branch of the commonwealth, a Massachusetts sentencing commission which shall consist of nine voting members and six non-voting members. The governor shall appoint the voting members of the commission, and shall designate one member as chairman. Three of the voting members shall be present district court, Boston municipal court or superior court department judges, selected from a list of seven judges recommended by the chief justice for administration and management, and at least one district court judge or Boston municipal court and one superior court judge shall be appointed. Two of the voting members shall be assistant district attorneys, selected from a list of seven assistant district attorneys recommended by the Massachusetts District Attorneys' Association. One of the voting members shall be an assistant attorney general, selected from a list of three assistant attorneys general recommended by the attorney general. Two of the voting members shall be members of the Massachusetts Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys, selected from a list of five such members recommended by the Massachusetts Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys. One voting member shall be a public defender, selected from a list of three public defenders recommended by the committee for public counsel services. The non-voting members shall be the commissioner of corrections, or his designee; the commissioner of probation, or his designee; and the secretary of public safety, or his designee; the chairman of the Massachusetts parole board, or his designee; the president of the Massachusetts Sheriffs Association or his designee; a victim witness advocate selected by the victim witness board.

The chairman and the members of the commission shall be subject to removal from the commission by the governor only for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office or for a showing of other good cause.

(b) (1) The voting members of the commission shall be appointed for six-year terms; provided, however, that the initial terms of the first members of the commission shall be staggered so that four members, including the chairman, serve terms of six years; three members serve terms of four years; and two members serve terms of two years. Terms of those members appointed because of their public office or position shall end when the member leaves such public office or position, and a successor shall be appointed in the prescribed manner.

(2) No voting member may serve more than two full terms. A voting member appointed to fill a vacancy that occurs before the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed only for the remainder of such term.

(3) Members of the commission shall serve without compensation, but each member shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth for all reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of official duties.

(4) Judges who serve on the commission and shall not be required to resign their judicial appointments.

(c) The commission shall have the power to perform such functions as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter, and may delegate to any member or designated person such powers as may be appropriate to the accomplishment of the duties of the commission as set forth below. In particular, the commission shall:

(1) appoint and fix the salary and duties of a director and other personnel, who shall serve at the discretion of the commission;

(2) submit appropriations requests to the secretary of administration and finance;

(3) utilize, with their consent, the services, equipment, personnel, information, and facilities of federal, state, local, and private agencies and instrumentalities with or without reimbursement therefor;

(5) accept and employ, in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, voluntary and uncompensated services;

(6) request such information, data, and reports from any Massachusetts agency or judicial officer as the commission may from time to time require and as may be produced consistent with other law;

(7) serve as a clearinghouse for the collection, preparation, and dissemination of information on sentencing practices and assist courts, departments, and agencies in the development, maintenance, and coordination of sound sentencing practices;

(8) make recommendations to the legislature concerning modification or enactment of laws relating to crimes, sentencing, and correctional matters, as well as recommendations concerning programmatic, budgetary and capital matters that the commission finds to be necessary and advisable to carry out the purposes of this chapter;

(9) hold hearings and call witnesses to assist the commission in the exercise of its powers or duties.

(d) Except as hereinafter provided, the commission shall act by affirmative vote of at least five of its voting members.

(e) Upon the request of the commission, each agency and department of the commonwealth is hereby authorized and directed to make its services, equipment, personnel, facilities and information available to the greatest practicable extent to the commission in the execution of its functions. The commission shall, to the extent practicable, utilize existing resources of the administrative office of the trial court for the purpose of avoiding unnecessary duplication.

(f) Except as otherwise provided by law, the commission shall maintain and make available for public inspection a record of the final vote of each member on any action taken by it.

(g) The director shall supervise the activities of persons employed by the commission and perform other duties assigned to the director by the commission. The director shall, subject to the approval of the commission, appoint such officers and employees as are necessary in the execution of the functions of the commission.

Section 2. The purposes of the Massachusetts sentencing commission shall be to recommend sentencing policies and practices for the commonwealth which:

(1) punish the offender justly;

(2) secure the public safety of the commonwealth by providing a swift and sure response to the commission of crime;

(3) meet the purposes of sentencing, which are:

(A) to reflect the seriousness of the offense;

(B) to promote respect for the law;

(C) to provide just punishment for the offense;

(D) to afford adequate deterrence to criminal conduct;

(E) to protect the public from further crimes of the defendant; and

(F) to provide the defendant with educational or vocational training;

(4) provide certainty and fairness in sentencing, avoiding unwarranted sentencing disparities among defendants with similar criminal records who have been found guilty of similar criminal conduct, while maintaining judicial discretion and sufficient flexibility to permit individualized sentences warranted by mitigating or aggravating factors;

(5) promote truth in sentencing, in order that all parties involved in the criminal justice process, including the prosecution, the defendant, the court, the victim and the public, are aware of the nature and length of the sentence and its basis;

(6) ration correctional capacity and other criminal justice resources to sentences imposed, making said rationing explicit, rational and coherent, in order to:

(A) afford sufficient correctional capacity to incarcerate violent offenders consistent with paragraph one;

(B) evaluate, on a yearly basis, the performance of said rationing, making appropriate remedial recommendations consistent with subparagraph (8) of paragraph (c) of section one;

(C) prevent the prison population in the commonwealth from exceeding the capacity of the prisons, and to prevent premature release for any other reason, and to serve the ends of truth in sentencing by taking into account, in establishing sentencing policies and practices for the commonwealth, the nature and capacity of correctional facilities and community sanctions available in the commonwealth consistent with protecting public safety;

(7) encourage the development and implementation of intermediate sanctions in appropriate cases as a sentencing option, consistent with protecting public safety;

(8) enhance the value of criminal sanctions and ensure that the criminal penalties imposed are the most appropriate ones by encouraging the development of a wider array of criminal sanctions;

(9) make offenders accountable to the community for their criminal behavior, through community service, restitution, and a range of intermediate sanctions;

(10) evaluate the impact, if any, on correctional facility capacity of the discontinuation of sentence reductions for good conduct;

(11) nothing contained in this section shall be construed as creating any right of action.

Section 3. (a) (1) The commission, by affirmative vote of at least six members of the commission and consistent with all pertinent provisions of this chapter and existing law, shall recommend sentencing guidelines, which shall take effect only if enacted into law.

(2) The sentencing guidelines shall be used by the district and superior courts of the commonwealth, and the Boston municipal court, in imposing a sentence in every criminal case. Said sentence shall not be suspended in whole or in part. The sentencing judge shall impose a sentence within a range prescribed by the sentencing guidelines for every offense, unless the sentencing judge sets forth in writing reasons for departing from that range, on a sentencing statement as set forth in paragraph (h), based on a finding that there exists one or more aggravating or mitigating circumstances that should result in a sentence different from the one otherwise prescribed by the guidelines. The commission shall establish non-exclusive aggravating and mitigating circumstances to guide the sentencing judge, as set forth in paragraph (d). In the absence of an applicable sentencing guideline the court shall impose an appropriate sentence, having due regard for the purposes set forth in section two.

(3) The sentencing guidelines shall be based on reasonable offense characteristics, taking into account the nature and seriousness of each offense, and reasonable offender characteristics taking into account the offender's character, background, amenability to correction, and criminal history and the availability of the commonwealth's criminal justice and public safety resources.

For every criminal offense under the laws of the commonwealth, the guidelines shall establish:

(A) The circumstances, if any, under which the imposition of intermediate sanctions may be proper, and the circumstances under which imprisonment may be proper.

(B) Appropriate intermediate sanctions for offenders for whom imprisonment may not be necessary or appropriate. In establishing such intermediate sanctions, the commission shall make specific reference to non-institutional sanctions, including but not limited to: standard probation, intensive supervision probation, community service, home confinement, weekend jail sentences, day reporting, residential programming, substance abuse treatment, restitution, means-based fines, continuing education, including but not limited to the "Changing Lives Through Literature" program administered by the trial court and the University of Massachusetts at Dartmouth, vocational training, special education, and psychological counseling; provided, however, that in no event shall a state employee be replaced by an offender serving an intermediate sanction.

(C) A target sentence for offenders for whom an intermediate sanction may not be appropriate based on a combination of reasonable offense and offender characteristics for each offense, and the adequacy of the commonwealth's criminal justice and public safety resources. The guidelines shall provide that, for each target sentence, the sentencing judge may impose a maximum sentence within a range to be established by the commission for each offense, and a minimum sentence of two-thirds of the maximum sentence; provided, however, that for target sentences of two years or greater the range may not be greater than twenty percent greater or less than the target sentence; and provided, further, that for target sentences of less than two years, the sentencing judge may impose an intermediate sanction. Within that range, the sentencing court may impose any sentence without stating its reasons therefor.

The commission shall act consistent with the need for flexibility, expeditious administration, case-flow management and resources of the trial court departments in sentencing guidelines.

(D) The circumstances, which shall not be considered exclusive, under which a sentencing judge may depart upward or downward from the range otherwise prescribed by the guidelines.

(E) The circumstances, if any, under which substance abuse treatment may be mandated, and the circumstances under which substance abuse treatment may be offered to an offender for voluntary participation.

(b) The commission shall adopt, in conjunction with the sentencing guidelines, general policy statements, which shall be used in interpreting the guidelines.

(c) In its development of the sentencing guidelines, the commission shall not be bound by any existing mandatory maximum or minimum term prescribed by statute and may recommend target sentences that exceed existing mandatory maximum terms or that fall below existing mandatory minimum terms. The commission shall conduct an empirical study in order to ascertain, to the extent practical, a survey of those individuals appearing before the commonwealth's criminal courts, and those committed to probation, prison and jail. It should also include the average sentences imposed for all offenses prior to the promulgation by the commission of the sentencing guidelines, and the length of prison terms actually served in such cases. The commission shall not be bound by such average sentences, and shall independently develop a sentencing range that is consistent with the purposes of sentencing described in section two; provided, however, that the commission shall assure that the target sentences established for each offense shall not be higher than the averages determined herein solely because of the discontinuation of sentence reductions for good conduct. The commission shall promulgate guidelines regarding participation in work release, education, training, employment or treatment programs outside correctional facilities. The commission shall utilize this data and develop any other data it deems necessary in order to assess the impact of the sentencing guidelines and carry out the purposes set forth in said section two.

(d) In establishing non-exclusive aggravating and mitigating circumstances pursuant to subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a), the commission shall determine whether the following kinds of factors, among others, are relevant, and shall take such factors into account only to the extent that it deems to be relevant:

(1) factors that describe the nature and circumstances of the offense;

(2) factors that describe the offender's mental state at the time of the offense;

(3) factors that describe the relationship, if any, between the offender and victim;

(4) factors that describe the nature and degree of the harm caused by the offense;

(5) the community view of the gravity of the offense;

(6) the public concern generated by the offense;

(7) the deterrent effect a particular sentence may have on the commission of the offense by others;

(8) the current incidence of the offense in the community and in the commonwealth as a whole;

(9) the role in the offense of each offender in cases involving multiple offenders;

(10) the age of the offender;

(11) the mental and emotional condition of the offender, to the extent that such condition mitigates the defendant's culpability or to the extent that such condition is otherwise plainly relevant;

(12) the offender's physical condition, including drug dependence;

(13) the offender's family ties and responsibilities;

(14) the offender's community ties;

(15) the offender's degree of dependence upon criminal activity for a livelihood;

(16) the offender's character and personal history; and

(17) the offender's amenability to correction, treatment, or supervision.

(e) Except for the crimes set forth in section one of chapter two hundred and sixty-five, the sentencing judge may depart from the range established by the sentencing guidelines and impose a sentence below any mandatory minimum term prescribed by statute, if the judge sets forth in writing reasons for departing from that range on a sentencing statement as set forth in paragraph (h) of this section, based on a finding that there exists one or more mitigating circumstances that should result in a sentence different from the one otherwise prescribed by the guidelines and below any applicable mandatory minimum term.

The commission shall assure that the guidelines are neutral as to the race, sex, national origin, creed, religion and socio-economic status of offenders.

(f) The commission periodically shall assess the impact of the sentencing guidelines in order to determine the type and amount of correctional resources needed. In particular, the commission shall examine the impact of said guidelines on intermediate sanctions and correctional institutions and may consult with all appropriate authorities for this purpose. Beginning in the year after the sentencing guidelines become law, but no later than May first, the following persons shall submit comments and recommendations to the commission regarding the implementation and impact of the sentencing guidelines: The governor's chief legal counsel, the commissioner of probation; the chairman of the parole board; every district attorney; the chief counsel of the committee for public counsel services; the commissioner of corrections; the chief justices of the superior court, district court, and Boston municipal court; the attorney general; and the Massachusetts Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys.

(g) Beginning in the calendar year following the effective date of the sentencing guidelines, the commission, at or after the beginning of a regular session of the legislature, but not later than the first day of October, may submit to the legislature proposed amendments to the sentencing guidelines. Such amendments shall be accompanied by a report stating the reasons therefor. The amendments to the guidelines shall take effect only if enacted into law.

(h) The chief justice for administration and management, in consultation with the sentencing commission, shall promulgate the form of a sentencing statement, conforming to the sentencing guidelines, which shall be used by the sentencing judge in the application of the guidelines when imposing a sentence. The sentencing judge shall complete the statement for every sentence imposed. If the sentencing judge imposes a sentence that departs from the range established by the guidelines, he shall, in the sentencing statement, give the facts, circumstances, evidence, opinions and any other matters considered by him to support the mitigating circumstances justifying the imposition of a sentence different from the one otherwise prescribed by the guidelines or below any applicable mandatory minimum term. One copy of the sentencing statement shall be forwarded by the court to the commission, which shall be used by the commission to submit to the legislature, at least annually, an analysis of sentencing patterns under the guidelines.

(i) Any inmate sentenced to a state or county correctional facility prior to the effective date of any sentencing guidelines enacted into law shall be subject to the law, regulation and rules governing the issuance of parole and the supervision of parole at the time the offense was committed.

(j) A person sentenced to a term of imprisonment as prescribed by any sentencing guidelines enacted into law may be eligible for parole after serving the minimum sentence imposed, less credit for deductions for good conduct earned under section one hundred and twenty-nine D of chapter one hundred and twenty-seven.

(k) The commission shall provide a public hearing and opportunity for public comment on its sentencing guidelines prior to submitting said guidelines to the legislature.

Section 4. (a) A defendant may file a notice of appeal for review of an otherwise final sentence if:

(1) the sentence was imposed in violation of law; or

(2) the sentence was imposed as a result of an incorrect application of the sentencing guidelines; or

(3) the departure upward from the applicable guideline range was an abuse of discretion; or

(4) the sentence was imposed for an offense for which there is no sentencing guideline and is plainly unreasonable.

(b) The commonwealth, with the personal approval of the attorney general or a district attorney, may appeal an otherwise final sentence if:

(1) the sentence was imposed in violation of law;

(2) the sentence was imposed as a result of an incorrect application of the sentencing guidelines;

(3) the departure downward from the applicable guideline range was an abuse of discretion; or

(4) the sentence was imposed for an offense for which there is no sentencing guideline and is plainly unreasonable.

(c) In the case of a plea agreement entered into pursuant to Rule twelve of the Massachusetts rules of criminal procedure:

(1) a defendant may not appeal a sentence unless the sentence imposed is greater than the sentence prescribed by the sentencing guidelines; and

(2) the commonwealth may not appeal a sentence unless the sentence imposed is less than the sentence prescribed by the sentencing guidelines.

(3) a sentence imposed by the court in accordance with the recommendation of either the defendant or the commonwealth may not be appealed by the party which made the recommendation; and a sentence imposed in accordance with a jointly-agreed recommendation may not be appealed by either the defendant or the commonwealth.

(d) Appeals from sentences imposed under the sentencing guidelines shall be conducted in accordance with the Massachusetts rules of appellate procedure.

(e) If imprisonment is imposed, the entry of an appeal under the provisions of this section shall not stay the execution of the sentence unless the judge imposing it, upon a showing of a reasonable likelihood of success, finds that execution of the sentence should be stayed pending final determination of the appeal.

SECTION 29. (A) Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-nine of chapter one hundred and fifty-nine or section one hundred of chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, it is hereby declared that the public necessity and convenience require that vertical clearances on the Massachusetts double stack network shall be increased to at least twenty feet eight inches above top of rail in accordance with the provisions of this section. It is not the intention of this section to use the investment of public funds to transfer existing levels of international container business to facilities located on or off routes hereinafter identified.

For purposes of this section, the following words shall have the following meanings:

"Conrail", the Consolidated Rail Corporation.

"Department", the department of highways.

"Double stack train", any train in which at least one intermodal rail car carries two containers, one on top of the other.

"Executive office", the executive office of transportation and construction.

"Fully funded lines", segments of the Massachusetts double stack network eligible for one hundred percent state funding, as designated by the secretary pursuant to subsection (D) and including (i) the Conrail line easterly from the eastern line of the city of Worcester to the existing intermodal facility at Beacon Park Yard, in the city of Boston; (ii) the Boston and Maine Corporation line easterly from the eastern line of the city of Gardner and including the Pleasant Street bridge in the city of Gardner to the existing intermodal facility at Fort Devens in the town of Ayer; and (iii) any other lines that the secretary determines to be necessary to include in the Massachusetts double stack network consistent with the criteria established by said subsection (D).

"Massachusetts double stack network", the interconnected segments of freight rail lines designated for vertical clearance improvements by subsection (C) or the secretary, including but not limited to rail lines owned or operated by Conrail, the Boston & Maine Corporation and the Providence and Worcester Railroad Company.

"Master agreement", an agreement negotiated by the secretary with a participating railroad to finance and effectuate the vertical clearance improvements to the Massachusetts double stack network authorized by this section.

"Participating railroads", railroad corporations entering into master agreements and agreeing to finance at least fifty percent of the vertical clearance improvements made to partnership lines pursuant to the provisions of subsection (E).

"Partnership lines", segments of the Massachusetts double stack network for which public-private financing of vertical clearance improvements are governed by master agreements and including but not limited to (i) the Conrail line from New York/Massachusetts state line to the easterly line of the city of Worcester, (ii) the Boston & Maine line from Vermont/Massachusetts state line to the easterly line of the city of Gardner (iii) and the Providence and Worcester lines in Worcester county; and (iv) any other lines that the secretary determines to be necessary to include in the Massachusetts double stack network consistent with the criteria established by subsection (E).

"Reimbursement charge", a charge of three hundred and fifty dollars per container, carried loaded or empty, by participating railroads over all or a portion of a fully funded line in a double stack train pursuant to the provisions of subsection (G), the collection of which is governed by a master agreement.

"Secretary", the secretary of the executive office of transportation and construction.

"Vertical clearance improvements", changes to rail grades, overhead highway and bridge grades or combinations of both made to freight rail lines in the Massachusetts double stack network necessary to achieve clearances for double stack trains of at least twenty feet eight inches above the rail track.

(B) The Massachusetts double stack network shall consist of the following routes:

(i) the portion of the line now or formerly owned by Conrail known as the "Boston Line" extending from the New York/Massachusetts state line easterly to the presently existing intermodal facility at Beacon Park Yard in the city of Boston;

(ii) the portion of the line now or formerly owned by the Boston & Maine Corporation known as the "B&M Main Line" extending from the Vermont/Massachusetts state line easterly to the existing Intermodal facility at Fort Devens in the town of Ayer;

(iii) all lines or portions thereof now or formerly owned by Providence and Worcester Railroad Company in Worcester county; and

(iv) any other lines in the commonwealth that the secretary determines are necessary to include in the Massachusetts double stack network based on an evaluation of market needs, engineering feasibility, cost, the availability of funds and financial commitments from the railroad owning or operating such lines; provided, however, that no other lines may be added to the Massachusetts double stack network without the approval of the general court.

(C) The department shall, after a public hearing to be held in Boston, determine the most appropriate and cost-effective means of altering the grade separation of highways and railroad tracks to achieve vertical clearance improvements along the Massachusetts double stack network and shall report its findings to the secretary. The department, in consultation with the appropriate participating railroads, may recommend alteration of the grade of the highway over the railroad track or the alteration of the grade of the railroad track, or a combination thereof. Said recommendations shall be subject to the approval of the secretary, and shall set forth the budget, schedule, sequence, manner and limits of the work at each particular location, which shall be consistent with the terms of and shall constitute the scope of work to be accomplished under a master agreement. Said master agreement may permit a participating railroad to alter the grade or structure of highways at locations where the department has determined that improved clearances may best be obtained by altering the grade of such highway; provided however, that the participating railroad shall perform, or cause to be performed, all work in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the department.

(D) The secretary is hereby authorized to effectuate vertical clearance improvements on the fully funded lines using funds appropriated in item 6000-7967 in section two A of this act subject to (1) the terms and conditions of any applicable master agreement and (2) the written commitment from participating railroads to complete vertical clearance improvements on the partnership lines. Vertical clearance improvements to the fully funded lines shall be eligible for one hundred percent funding by the commonwealth and shall include the segments defined in subsection (A) and any other line that the secretary may determine to be eligible based on an evaluation of market needs, engineering feasibility, cost, and the availability of funds; provided, however, that no other lines may be added to the Massachusetts double stack network without the approval of the general court; provided, however, that of the cost of the vertical clearance improvements on the Conrail line from the western line of the city of Framingham easterly to the existing intermodal facility at Beacon Park Yard, one-half shall be paid by the commonwealth and one-half shall be paid by the Massachusetts Port Authority; and provided, further, that said authority is hereby authorized and directed to make said payment.

(E) The secretary is hereby authorized to effectuate vertical clearance improvements on the partnership lines using state funds appropriated in item 6000-7967 in section two A of this act based on applicable master agreements with participating railroads and the following public-private funding formulas:

(i) for the Conrail partnership line: fifty percent funding by Conrail, with the commonwealth paying a maximum of eighteen million dollars;

(ii) for the Boston & Maine partnership line: fifty percent funding by the Boston and Maine Corporation, with the commonwealth paying a maximum of twenty million dollars; and

(iii) for the Providence and Worcester partnership lines in Worcester county: fifty percent funding by the Providence and Worcester Railroad Company, with the commonwealth paying a maximum of five million five hundred thousand dollars.

The partnership lines shall include the segments defined in subsection (A) and any other line that the secretary may determine to be eligible based on an evaluation of market needs, engineering feasibility, cost, and the availability of funds; provided, however, that no other lines may be added to the Massachusetts double stack network without the approval of the legislature. Any cost overruns in excess of the maximum state investment set forth in this subsection for partnership line projects shall be borne by the participating railroad.

(F) Funds appropriated for vertical clearance improvements in said item 6000-7967 in said section two A shall not be expended for the replacement or reconstruction of overhead highway bridges along fully funded lines or partnership lines which currently are, or are in the future, placed on the federal highway administration selection list, so-called, and are included in the commonwealth's approved federally-funded statewide transportation improvement program; provided, however, that such funds may be expended for the state's share of the incremental work deemed by the department necessary for the purpose of achieving the vertical clearance improvements required by this act.

Where an overhead bridge is being replaced, repaired or rehabilitated by a participating railroad or the commonwealth solely to provide for the vertical clearance improvements required by this act, the party responsible for any such work which is not federally reimbursable shall be responsible for the cost of engineering, design and construction associated with achieving the required vertical clearance. Said work may include the raising of the bridge structure or the lowering of the track structure or both, as deemed most practical by the department, in consultation with the participating railroad.

(G) To accomplish the objectives of public investment in fully funded lines, the secretary shall require payment by a participating railroad of a reimbursement charge, provided that no reimbursement charge shall be collected:

(i) for containers handled for the account of either (a) a steamship line, or (b) a steamship line's agents or subsidiaries moving equipment of a type accepted by the steamship line for movement in its ocean vessels; and

(ii) such containers have immediately prior to or subsequent to passage over the fully funded line been shipped via a maritime port facility located in the commonwealth.

The reimbursement charge shall be adjusted annually by increases or decreases in the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers.

The reimbursement charge shall apply to all containers, whether or not said containers are actually double stacked, that are transported by a double stack train over a fully funded line, with the exception of containers that meet the criteria set forth in clauses (i) and (ii).

Reimbursement charges shall be paid by the railroad handling reimbursement containers and shall be in effect for a period of fifteen years from the date of completion of vertical clearance improvement on the particular route, segment or line, or until fifty percent of the commonwealth's investment in fully funded lines has been recovered by the payment of reimbursement charges by the appropriate participating railroad; provided, however, that reimbursement charges shall not be charged to a railroad for that number of container movements, loaded or empty, to Beacon Park or Fort Devens, as the case may be, equal to the number of such containers handled by such railroad in nineteen hundred and ninety-three, plus five percent, that would have been have subjected to the reimbursement charge had they moved in a double stack train. This number shall be adjusted annually by an appropriate index reflecting economic growth in New England, and as set forth in the master agreement.

(H) Before expending funds authorized for state participation in accomplishing vertical clearance improvements on the fully funded lines and the partnership lines, the secretary is authorized and directed to enter into "master agreements" with participating railroads. Each master agreement shall establish all provisions necessary to accomplish the objectives of this section, including:

(i) the procedures to accomplish clearance improvements in such a manner so as to prevent one participating railroad from securing a competitive advantage over another participating railroad as a result of the commonwealth's timing of the clearance improvements;

(ii) terms and conditions which shall be included in force account agreements for work to be performed by the railroads and reimbursed by the commonwealth;

(iii) terms and conditions to require that the participating railroads shall protect the utility of the commonwealth's investment in double stack container freight clearances for a period of not less than twenty years, including such provisions as may be required to provide for reimbursement to the commonwealth for the full value of the improvements by the participating railroad in the event of a default of this provision;

(iv) terms and conditions for payment of the participating railroads' contribution, including but not limited to remedies in the event a participating railroad defaults in its payment obligation, including an agreement enforceable by the commonwealth and the participating railroads that a defaulting railroad shall not operate any railroad equipment which utilizes the clearance improvements built in whole or in part with state funds until the default has been cured;

(v) a legal and binding commitment by the appropriate participating railroads to pay the reimbursement charge;

(vi) terms and conditions for payment of the reimbursement charge, including audit and reporting procedures for the enforcement thereof by the commonwealth and the participating railroads;

(vii) terms and conditions for financial disclosures demonstrating the participating railroads' ability to pay the required share of costs, which may include the posting of a performance bond for clearance improvements at certain structures;

(viii) necessary agreements among the participating railroads; and

(ix) necessary agreements among state agencies and authorities required to accomplish the objectives of this act, including, without limitation, consultation and agreement between the department and the Massachusetts water resources authority ensuring that the design and construction of vertical clearance improvements on that section of the Massachusetts double stack network that includes the Conrail line easterly from the eastern line of the city of Worcester to the existing intermodal facility at Beacon Park Yard in the city of Boston will not directly or indirectly, interfere with the design and construction of the Framingham extension relief sewer in the Conrail right-of-way in Framingham and Natick

by said authority or will in any manner delay said authority's execution of the Framingham extension relief sewer project in compliance with the terms and conditions of the administrative order issued by the United States environmental protection agency on June second, nineteen hundred and ninety-four; and (x) with respect to Conrail only, a legal and binding commitment that Conrail will not abandon any rail lines within the commonwealth which as of January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-five, Conrail owned or operated under rights from the commonwealth or the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, for a period of fifteen years from the date of completion of vertical clearance improvement on its lines.

Each master agreement shall also give the executive office, or its designee, the right to inspect, examine, and audit all financial books, records and accounts of the participating railroads relating to the project. Participating railroads shall maintain and make available such additional financial, accounting and operational records relating to the master agreement as may be required to enable the executive office to comply with the reporting requirements of any governmental entity having regulatory or financial oversight of the executive office of transportation and construction's rail activity.

The secretary shall file with the joint committee on transportation the master agreement entered into with each participating railroad and shall report to the committee no later than the last Wednesday of December of each year on the status of the Massachusetts double stack network, including, but not limited to a list of participating railroads, the timetable for completion of the improved clearances, the amount expended by each participating railroad and by the commonwealth for the implementation of the Massachusetts double stack network, and any significant changes to the master agreements.

(I) A railroad company's decision to defer clearance improvements during the five-year period during which the funds authorized herein may be expended, or to not participate in the clearance improvement program, shall not cause another participating railroad to be deemed to (a) have received an unfair subsidy from the public investment in clearance improvements or (b) have a competitive advantage over such non-participating or participating railroad.

(J) The secretary is hereby authorized and directed, subject to the approval of the secretary of administration and finance, to reimburse the department of highways, the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, and any other political subdivision of the commonwealth for expenses incurred in meeting the objectives of this section, from funds made available pursuant to item 6000-7967 in section two A of this act. The executive office of transportation and construction and the department of highways and the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority shall apply for and accept any federal funds available for improvements to said department's or said authority's assets for the purposes of this act.

Chapter 49. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE CHESTNUT HILL HISTORIC DISTRICT IN THE CITY OF NEWTON.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The city of Newton is hereby authorized to adopt an ordinance concerning the Chestnut Hill Historic District which includes within the definition of "exterior architectural features" such portion of the exterior of a building or structure as is open to view from a private way as well as from a public street, public way, public park or public body of water.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Chestnut Hill historic district commission may make only non-binding recommendations regarding changes to the exterior architectural features open to view from a private way of properties located on Essex road and from Nos. 147 through 256 Chestnut Hill road, with the following exceptions where such decisions of the commission shall be fully binding in the ordinary course:

(a) demolition of a building or structure so long as such demolition occurs after such property ceases to be legally or beneficially owned by the owner of record as of the effective date of the ordinance amendment effecting this act;

(b) any lot created by subdivision of such properties where its required frontage lies on a way whose properties are not then subject to such limited commission review;

(c) any property where the legal or beneficial owner of record files with the city clerk a certificate indicating irrevocable consent on behalf of such owner and of successor owners to submit to the jurisdiction of the historic district commission and to be bound by its decisions, subject to any statutory rights of appeal;

(d) all of such properties on Essex road or on the portion of Chestnut Hill road identified above, if at any time not less than seventy-two and one-half percent of the total number of owner-occupied properties on the specific road under consideration have been made the subject of a filing described in clause (c), at which time the limits on commission review established by the above provisions shall lapse and shall not be reestablished for such specific road. It shall also be sufficient for such lapse to occur if the owner-occupants of all but four of the owner-occupied properties on the specific road under consideration have made the filing described in clause (c).

No owner of any property claiming the benefit of this exemption shall have standing as an aggrieved person for the purpose of appealing any decision of the district commission concerning property other than his own, other than a decision relating to changes to architectural features visible from a public way.

The limited commission review herein established shall not affect the district commission's authority to regulate exterior architectural features open to view from a public street, way, park or body of water, even if such features are located on property containing exterior architectural features subject to such limited review, nor shall it affect the commission's authority under sections 22-90 et seq., and 22-44 of the Newton revised ordinances 1989, relating to landmark preservation and the demolition of structures, respectively.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved March 22, 1996.

Chapter 51. AN ACT FURTHER DEFINING SECURITY INTEREST.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 90D of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 21, as appearing in the 1994 Official Edition, the following section:-

Section 21A. In the case of motor vehicles or trailers, notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a transaction does not create a sale or security interest merely because it provides that the rental price is permitted or required to be adjusted under the agreement either upward or downward by reference to the amount realized upon sale or other disposition of the motor vehicle or trailer.

SECTION 2. Section 1-201 of chapter 106 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1994 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out subsection (37) and inserting in place thereof the following subsection:-

(37) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer under the provisions of section 2-401 is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest". The term also includes any interest of a buyer of accounts or chattel paper which is subject to Article 9.

The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under section 2-401 is not a "security interest", but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with said Article 9. Unless a consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest", but a consignment in any event is subject to the provisions on consignment sales of section 2-326.

Whether a transaction creates a lease or "security interest" is determined by the facts of each case; however, a transaction creates a "security interest" if the consideration the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease not subject to termination by the lessee, and:

(a) the original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods,

(b) the lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods,

(c) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement, or

(d) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.

A transaction does not create a "security interest" because it provides that:

(a) the present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into,

(b) the lessee assumes risk of loss of the goods, or agrees to pay taxes, insurance, filing, recording, or registration fees, or service or maintenance costs with respect to the goods,

(c) the lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods,

(d) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed, or

(e) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.

For purposes of this subsection:

(a) Additional consideration is not nominal if (i) when the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed, or (ii) when the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed. Additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised;

(b) "Reasonably predictable" and "remaining economic life of the goods" are to be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into; and

(c) "Present value" means the amount as of a date certain of one or more sums payable in the future, discounted to the date certain. The discount is determined by the interest rate specified by the parties if the rate is not manifestly unreasonable at the time the transaction is entered into; otherwise, the discount is determined by a commercially reasonable rate that takes into account the facts and circumstances of each case at the time the transaction was entered into.

Approved March 25, 1996.

Chapter 52. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN ENTERPRISE FUND BY THE SHELBURNE FALLS FIRE DISTRICT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the Shelburne Falls fire district is hereby authorized to establish a separate account to be known as the Emergency Medical Services Enterprise Fund, hereinafter referred to as the Enterprise. Such account shall be maintained by the treasurer of said district and all receipts, revenues and funds from any source derived from all activities of the Enterprise shall be deposited in such separate account. The treasurer may invest the funds in such separate account in the manner authorized by sections fifty-five and fifty-five A of chapter forty-four of the General Laws. Any interest earned thereon shall be credited to and become part of such separate account. The books and records of the Enterprise shall be maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and in accordance with the requirements of section thirty-eight of said chapter forty-four.

No later than one hundred and twenty days prior to the beginning of each fiscal year, an estimate of the income for the ensuing fiscal year and a proposed line item budget of the Enterprise shall be submitted to the board of commissioners. Said board shall act upon the budget in the same manner as all other budgets.

The board shall include in its tax levy for the fiscal year the amount appropriated for the total expenses of the Enterprise and an estimate of the income to be derived by the operations of the Enterprise. If the estimated income is less than the total appropriation, the difference shall be added to the tax levy and raised by taxation. If the estimated income is more than the total appropriation, the excess shall be appropriated to a separate reserve fund and used for capital expenditures of the Enterprise, subject to appropriation, or to reduce user charges if authorized by the board. If during a fiscal year the Enterprise incurs a loss, such loss shall be included in the succeeding fiscal year's budget.

If during a fiscal year the Enterprise produces a surplus, such surplus shall be kept in such separate reserve fund and used for the purposes provided therefor in this act.

Approved March 28, 1996.

SECTION 4. The town of Greenfield shall be responsible for any costs for appraisals, surveys and other expenses relating to the lease of the property and the conveyance of the easement and right of way authorized herein, and for any costs and expenses of any nature and kind for the property's use, development, maintenance, operation, improvement or renovation.

Section 4A. Every admitted insurer writing homeowners insurance in the commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of section four, and the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C shall furnish for examination and inspection by the commissioner of insurance, in accordance with section five of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, to the owners, tenants and condominium, separately, forms of homeowners insurance written since January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-four, by standard statistical territories approved by the commissioner, a statistical report of its homeowners insurance experience showing the following data: written premiums; earned premiums; incurred losses, including loss adjustment expenses; loss ratio; number of incurred claims; and number of exposures.

As of July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, or such later reasonable date as the commissioner may order after a hearing, but not later than July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-eight, the twenty-five admitted insurers with the largest homeowners market share in the commonwealth and the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, shall furnish such data as provided in the preceding paragraph on the basis of the postal zip codes of credit-eligible territories, under the plan authorized by section four of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, of all other postal zip codes in the city of Boston and such other postal zip codes as may be designated by the commissioner.

All data reports shall be formatted and produced in accordance with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners statistical handbook. Compliance with the requirements of this section shall be effected through statistical agents approved by the commissioner to act on behalf of the reporting insurers. In setting the effective date for data reporting in accordance with the preceding paragraph, the commissioner shall consider the practical ability of each statistical agent to so collect and report such data with an acceptable level of statistical credibility.

Access to such confidential data shall be granted by the commissioner to the attorney general, to the extent he so requests, for law enforcement purposes, and to the chairmen of the joint committee on insurance; provided, however, that the attorney general and the chairmen of the joint committee on insurance shall hold and keep such data confidential. All information reported pursuant to this section shall be given confidential treatment and shall not be subject to subpoena and shall not be made public by the commissioner, attorney general, chairmen of the joint committee on insurance, or any other person, without the prior written consent of the insurer to which it pertains, except by the insurer; provided, however, that if the commissioner, after giving the insurer and its affiliates who would be affected thereby, as well as the person or organization making the request, notice and the opportunity to be heard, determines that the interests of policyholders, shareholders or the public will be served by the publication thereof. In the event that the commissioner determines that such publication is appropriate, he may publish all or part of such data in such manner as he deems appropriate. Such hearing shall be held according to the adjudicatory procedures in chapter thirty A of the General Laws.

As of October first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six, and annually thereafter, the commissioner shall report to the general court concerning the current state of the homeowners insurance market in the commonwealth, both voluntary and residual market, and the conclusions reached by the commissioner based upon his most recent examination and inspection of the industry premium and loss data. Each such annual report shall be filed with the clerks of the senate and house of representatives who shall forward the same to the joint committee on insurance, the house and senate committees on ways and means and the attorney general. Such report shall be made available to the public by the commissioner. Said report shall summarize on an aggregate industry basis, by standard statistical territory and, when available, by zip code, broken down between voluntary and residual markets, the data concerning premiums and losses on homeowners insurance disclosed by the reporting insurers. Further, said report shall substantively analyze: the causes of loss and any trends discerned from the data by the commissioner; the respective market shares and levels of rate subsidies of the residual market policies written by the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, compared to the voluntary homeowners insurance market; the availability and affordability of homeowners insurance in those territories whose association market share equals or exceeds four percent, with particular attention to credit-eligible territories; and the impact of such rate subsidies of the residual market policies written by said association upon the availability of homeowners insurance in the voluntary insurance market.

Each such annual report shall further examine the availability of homeowners insurance through the admitted insurers and the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, in coastal municipalities, as well as the extent to which direct losses to residences caused by wind affect such availability. Said report may also contain any recommendations of the commissioner concerning legislation or other suggestions relative to the homeowners insurance market, loss control or disaster mitigation in the commonwealth.

Premium, loss and other data of individual insurers collected and examined by the commissioner shall not be specifically identified in said report; provided however that the commissioner shall, in an appendix, profile, separately for the twenty-five admitted insurers with the largest homeowners market share in the commonwealth based upon statewide written premium and, for the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, the gross number of exposures, cancellations and non-renewals that each insured under homeowners insurance forms during the relevant time period covered by the data examined and inspected by the commissioner, in each such postal zip code or standard statistical territory for which data was collected and examined by the commissioner pursuant to this section. The commissioner's report shall also include an appendix which tabulates the industry aggregate number of homeowners policy non-renewals and cancellations effected during such relevant time period as reported to the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of section four B of chapter one hundred and seventy-five.

Section 4B. The commissioner, each year, shall direct and cause the twenty-five admitted insurers with the largest homeowners market share in the commonwealth, based upon statewide written premium and the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, to submit directly for his inspection and examination a tabulation and report, for each postal zip code within credit-eligible territories, as defined by chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, of all other postal zip codes in the city of Boston, and such other postal zip codes as may be designated by the commissioner of insurance, of the number of effected cancellations and number of effected non-renewals of homeowners policies covering properties within such zip codes; provided, however, that the personal privacy of policyholders shall be preserved and all tabulations furnished pursuant hereto shall be deemed materials described in subclause (c) of clause Twenty-sixth of section seven of chapter four.

Section 4C. No insurer licensed to write and engaged in the writing of homeowners insurance in this commonwealth nor the joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C, shall take into consideration when deciding whether to provide, renew, or cancel homeowners insurance the race, color, religious creed, national origin, sex, age, ancestry, sexual orientation, children, marital status, veteran status, the receipt of public assistance or disability of the applicant or insured. Nothing herein shall preempt any existing remedy provided by law for any action that constitutes a violation of this section.

SECTION 4. Section 99B of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:-

The commissioner shall approve for use within the commonwealth, if filed by a rating organization licensed under chapter one hundred and seventy-four A on behalf of its members and subscribers or filed independently by any company licensed to write such insurance under authority of subclause (g) of section fifty-one, clause (g) of section fifty-four or section fifty-four E, any form of policy of homeowners multi-peril insurance which is to be issued to insure an owner-occupied condominium unit or dwelling structure of four or fewer units, or a tenant in such a condominium or dwelling structure, and which:

(a) contains a loss settlement clause which provides coverage for property loss to the extent of the actual cash value of the damage to the insured unit or structure; or

(b) contains a loss settlement clause which provides coverage for property loss on the basis of like-kind-and-quality replacement cost; or

(c) contains, in accordance with clause Twelfth A of section ninety-nine

(1) a loss settlement clause which provides functional replacement or repair cost coverage;

(2) which otherwise limits an insurer's liability for property loss to the tax assessment value of the insured unit or structure; or

(3) which otherwise requires actual cash value loss settlement calculations to be based upon the fair market value of the insured unit or structure, net of land value, without consideration of replacement cost less accrued depreciation due to physical deterioration and functional and economic obsolescence; provided, however, such policy forms shall not be issued or renewed when the market value of the unit or structure proposed to be insured is less than the total amount of mortgage liens outstanding upon such unit or structure at the time of policy issuance or renewal.

The commissioner shall compose and require, as a condition of approval of any alternative loss settlement clause pursuant to clause (c), appropriate consumer disclosure forms to be used by companies issuing such policy forms in the commonwealth. Policy forms approved under this section need not correspond to the standard fire insurance policy set forth in section ninety-nine, but shall, except for the loss settlement provisions of any such approved policy, assure to the policyholders and claimants protection no less favorable than such policyholders would be entitled to under section ninety-nine and shall otherwise conform to the substantive requirements of that section.

SECTION 5. The first paragraph of section 193P of said chapter 175, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence.

SECTION 6. Section 1 of chapter 175C of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the definition of "Facility", "Association", and "Basic property insurance" and inserting in place thereof the following four definitions:-

"Association", the joint underwriting association described in section four.

"Basic property insurance", insurance against direct loss to property as defined and limited in the standard fire policy and extended coverage endorsement thereon, filed with and accepted by the commissioner, and insurance against direct loss to such property from the perils of vandalism and malicious mischief and homeowners coverages, including the scheduled personal property endorsement and such other coverages as the commissioner after public hearing shall determine or the Secretary of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development shall designate by rule made in accordance with the provisions of the Urban Property Protection and Reinsurance Act of 1968 (Public Law 90-448) but shall not include insurance on automobile or manufacturing risks except such classes of manufacturing risks as may, after proper hearing, be designated by the commissioner.

"Territory", one of the standard statistical territories approved by the commissioner.

"Credit eligible territory", any territory of the commonwealth in which at least twenty percent of the homeowners premium averaged over the most recent three calendar years was written by the association.

SECTION 7. Section two of said chapter one hundred and seventy-five C is hereby repealed.

SECTION 8. Said chapter 175C is hereby further amended by striking out section 3, as appearing in the 1994 Official Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 3. No insurance company shall direct any agent or other producer not to solicit business through the association; no insurance agent shall direct any other agent in his employ or any broker or other producer not to solicit business through the association; and no agent, broker or other producer shall be penalized in any way by an insurance company or employer producer for submitting applications to the association.

No insurance agent or broker licensed to sell basic property insurance shall be allowed to refuse a request for inspection from an eligible applicant for basic property insurance unless such applicant is:

(a) Then indebted to any agent, broker or company for coverage requested;

(b) Then unwilling to make satisfactory payment arrangements for the coverage requested.

Agents and brokers submitting applications to the association shall be compensated by commissions upon the original issuance of coverage, each installment payment if any, and each renewal thereof and shall be entitled to no other compensation.

Commissions to licensed insurance agents and brokers from the association established in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be set by the commissioner from time to time at such percentage of the average commission rate customarily paid by those insurance companies who customarily compensate agents by commissions, as the commissioner, after appropriate hearing, shall find to be sufficiently attractive to encourage agents and brokers to actively seek out risks and to assist property owners to obtain coverage while at the same time leaving a further incentive to the agent or broker to place such business through his customary markets when he finds that it is practicable.

SECTION 9. Said chapter 175C is hereby further amended by striking out section 4, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 4. (a) All insurers licensed to write and engaged in writing in this commonwealth, on a direct basis, basic property insurance or any component thereof in multi-peril policies, shall cooperate in organizing a joint underwriting association which shall provide basic property insurance to eligible applicants who are otherwise unable to obtain such coverage in the voluntary market. Every such insurer shall be a member of the association and remain a member as a condition of its authority to transact such insurance within the commonwealth.

(b) Such association shall be authorized to inspect properties, issue policies, collect premiums and accept payment in installments under plans approved by the commissioner consistent with plans offered by voluntary market insurers, adjust claims and pay losses on behalf of its members, employ officers, agents and other employees, enter into contracts, sue and be sued in its own name and take all other actions necessary or appropriate to carry out its functions hereunder.

(c) The association shall submit to the commissioner a proposed plan of operation, consistent with the purposes of this chapter, to provide for the prompt and efficient provision of basic property insurance to eligible applicants who meet reasonable underwriting standards and are otherwise unable to obtain coverage from insurers in the voluntary market. Such plan of operation shall provide for economical, fair and nondiscriminatory administration including, but not limited to, provisions for preliminary assessment of all members for initial expenses necessary to commence operations, establishment of necessary facilities, management of the association, assessment of members to defray losses and expenses, commissions, reasonable underwriting standards and limits of liability, purchase of reinsurance and procedures for determining amounts of insurance to be provided.

(d) The plan of operation shall be subject to approval by the commissioner and shall take effect ten days after having been approved by him. If the commissioner disapproves the proposed plan of operation, the association shall, within thirty days, submit for review an appropriately revised plan of operation and, if the association fails to submit such a plan or if the revised plan is also disapproved by the commissioner, the commissioner shall promulgate a plan of operation consistent with this section. The association may, on its own initiative or at the request of the commissioner, amend the plan of operation, subject to approval by the commissioner.

(e) (1) All members of the association shall participate in its writing, expenses, profits and losses in the proportion that the premiums written by each such member for basic property insurance, as defined in section one, bear to the aggregate premiums for such insurance written in the commonwealth by all members of the association; provided, however, that premiums for insurance on automobile and manufacturing risks shall be excluded from the plan and that portion of the premiums attributable to the operation of the association during the preceding calendar year. Such participation by each insurer in the association shall be determined annually on the basis of such premiums written during the preceding calendar year as disclosed in the annual statements and other reports filed by the insurer with the commissioner.

(2) The participation of each member of the association writing personal lines coverage shall be adjusted based on the homeowners premiums written by such a member in any credit-eligible territory in accordance with the following clauses:

(i) The participation ratio of each member writing personal lines insurance shall be recalculated, in accordance with the procedures set forth in subparagraph (1) but subtracting the premium written by members of the association writing only commercial lines insurance from the aggregate premiums written in the commonwealth by all members of the association.

(ii) The participation ratio of each member writing personal lines insurance as recalculated in clause (i) shall be multiplied by the sum of the total premium written by the association in the commonwealth and the total industry homeowners premium written in credit-eligible territories, as defined in this chapter.

(iii) In determining the total industry homeowners premium written in credit-eligible territories, premium written in the territory in which the association's homeowners insurance market share is largest shall be weighted at one. The weight assigned to premium written in other credit-eligible territories shall be calculated by determining the ratio expressed as a decimal, between the percentage market share of the homeowners premium written by the association in such territory and the percentage market share of homeowners premium written by the association in the territory in which the association's market share is the largest, and then rounding such ratio to the nearest tenth. All such calculations shall be based on an average of the premiums written in the three most recent calendar years. Weights calculated in accordance with this clause shall be adjusted whenever a territory becomes or ceases to be credit-eligible, or every three years if no adjustment has been made in the two preceding years.

(iv) The product of the multiplication described in clause (ii) of this subsection shall be reduced by subtracting therefrom the homeowners premium written by each member in any credit-eligible territory adjusted in accordance with the weights set forth in clause (iii).

(v) The result of the calculation described in clause (iv) shall be divided by the total premium written by the association in the commonwealth. The resulting ratio shall be the adjusted participation ratio for the member.

(vi) The adjusted participation ratio of those members whose participation ratio is calculated as provided in this subparagraph shall apply to that portion of the writings, expenses, profits and losses of the association not recovered by applying the participation ratios of the remaining members of the association as calculated, as provided in subparagraph (1).

(3) On or before November first, nineteen hundred and ninety-eight, the association shall file an amendment of the credit system applicable to homeowners insurance, as set forth in section four, for approval by the commissioner, who shall approve such a credit system effective on or before January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-nine, so as to award credits based upon homeowners premiums written in postal zip codes, rather than territories. The revised credit plan shall identify any credit-eligible zip codes by the percentage of the total homeowners premium written in such zip codes by the association, shall require a higher market share penetration by the association than set for credit-eligible territories, shall provide that the percentage of the statewide homeowners premium written by the association in such credit-eligible zip codes does not exceed the percentage of such premium written by the association in territories which are credit-eligible in nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and shall set forth the appropriate weights for such zip codes in accordance with the provisions applicable to weighting premium in credit-eligible territories.

(4) The participation of any member of the association writing personal lines insurance shall be further adjusted if such member has written homeowners insurance during the preceding calendar year, hereafter called the "base year", on property that was insured by the association in the year immediately preceding such base year and which is located in any coastal territory in which the rate of increase in the market share of the association has exceeded sixty percent in the base year and in the preceding calendar year. The participation of such a member shall be adjusted by reducing the amount of premium written by such member in subparagraph (1) by twenty percent of the total homeowners insurance premiums written by the member on property described in this clause. Such adjustment shall not apply to any insurance written on property that was insured by the member or any affiliate or subsidiary member in either of the two years preceding the base year.

(f) The association shall be governed by a board of eighteen directors, who shall serve without compensation, ten to be elected annually by the members of the association by cumulative voting, and two representatives of associations of insurance agents and brokers doing business in the commonwealth and six public representatives not affiliated with the insurance industry to be appointed annually by the commissioner of insurance. Cumulative voting by members shall be permitted at all such elections.

SECTION 10. Section 5 of said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in lines 1 and 4, the words "facility or", each time they appear.

SECTION 11. Said section 5 of said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following two paragraphs:-

The association shall be authorized to make rate filings in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and seventy-four A and chapter one hundred and seventy-five A; provided, however, that any such filing shall be subject to the prior approval of the commissioner, after proper notice and hearing, subject to the adjudicatory procedures of chapter thirty A; and, provided further, that in reviewing the rates for the association, the commissioner shall give consideration, in addition to all other relevant factors, to the loss experience of insurers in the voluntary market, as well as the experience of the association and to the intent of this chapter to make basic property insurance available at reasonable cost to eligible applicants in territories in which the market share of the association equals or exceeds four percent during the three most recent calendar years.

The commissioner shall approve all rates for the association for homeowners insurance in territories in which the market share based on written premium of the association averages less than four percent during the three most recent calendar years if the commissioner finds that the proposed rates for such territories comply with the requirements of the General Laws; provided, however, that the commissioner may disapprove any such rate upon a finding that it exceeds a rate equal to the ninetieth percentile of the rates then in use in such territory by the ten insurers with the largest market shares of homeowners insurance written in the commonwealth on a statewide basis. The commissioner shall approve all rates for the association for homeowners insurance in territories in which the market share based on written premium of the association equals or exceeds four percent on average during the three most recent calendar years only if the commissioner finds that (a) the proposed rates for the association for such territories comply with the requirements of the General Laws and (b) no rate for any such territory in any calendar year increases over the lowest rate for that product charged by the association during the prior calendar year in such territory by more than the overall statewide average percentage increase in rates charged from December thirty-first of the year preceding the prior calendar year to December thirty-first of such prior calendar year for homeowners insurance by the ten insurers with the largest market shares of such insurance written in the commonwealth on a statewide basis. Whenever the average market share of the association during the most recent three years shall reach a level which equals or exceeds four percent in a given territory, the association shall analyze the rates of companies in such territory and shall file a report with the commissioner who shall, in turn, either re-certify the current rate or approve a revised rate for such territory filed by the association which bears a relationship to the rates in the voluntary market in such territory which is consistent with the average relationship between the rates charged by the association in all territories in which it has a similar market share and the rates in the voluntary market in those territories. As used in this paragraph, the term "homeowners insurance" shall apply only to the types of products sold by the association on the effective date of this section. All other types of homeowners products subsequently sold by the association shall have a rate based on a factor approved by the commissioner that reflects the relative value of the coverage provided by such types of products to those for which rates have been approved by the commissioner as hereinbefore described.

SECTION 12. Section 6 of said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 2, the words "the facility".

SECTION 13. Said section 6 of said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 4, the word "facility".

SECTION 14. Said section 6 of said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by striking out, in line 10, the words "the facility and".

SECTION 15. Section 7 of said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 1, the words "denial by the facility, or the".

SECTION 16. Said chapter 175C, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by adding the following section:-

Section 9. The association established pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall prepare and submit to the commissioner of insurance a market assistance plan to assist applicants to obtain homeowners insurance in the voluntary market. All members of the association may, but shall not be required to, participate in the plan. The plan shall be approved by the commissioner if he finds that it is consistent with the purposes of this chapter and will assist applicants in obtaining insurance in the voluntary market.

The plan shall provide that, upon request, any applicant or licensed broker on behalf of such applicant who contacts the plan shall be directed to an insurer which has elected to participate in the plan and shall be advised of an appropriate means to contact such insurer. Upon being contacted by the applicant or broker, the participating insurer shall evaluate the insurance risk posed by such application and may accept or decline to underwrite the insurance coverage. An insurer which declines to underwrite such coverage shall have the duty of informing the applicant and his broker of the process for obtaining coverage from the association.

The association shall publicize the availability of the plan to insurance consumers and brokers in credit-eligible territories and all other areas in which the association believes that the availability of homeowners insurance is particularly constrained due to exposure to hurricanes or other catastrophic natural disasters.

SECTION 17. The Massachusetts Property Insurance Underwriting Association, as presently organized and approved by the commissioner, shall be deemed to have been organized under section four of chapter one hundred and seventy-five C of the General Laws and shall have all powers and duties as set forth therein; provided, however, that the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (4) of paragraph (e) of said section four shall be effective for policy years beginning January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six.

SECTION 18. On or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six, the joint underwriting association, established by chapter one hundred and seventy-five C of the General Laws, shall file with the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the attorney general and the commissioner of insurance a report that analyzes the causes of insurance losses in urban areas of the commonwealth. Said report shall identify factors affecting such losses that are more prevalent in such areas than elsewhere in the commonwealth. Said report shall include recommendations to city governments, insurers and insureds as to how such losses can be mitigated and shall include any proposed legislation which would assist in such mitigation. In preparing this report the association shall consult with representatives of city governments and with interested residents of the affected communities.

Approved May 20, 1996.

Chapter 94. AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE LOTTERY GAME CALLED KENO.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to immediately regulate the granting of certain Keno licenses, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred and eighty-seven of chapter one hundred and ten of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-three is hereby repealed.

SECTION 2. Section two hundred and ninety-three of chapter thirty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-five is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. Chapter 10 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 27 the following section:-

Section 27A. (a) The lottery commission is hereby authorized and directed to implement the game known as Keno. Said commission shall implement Keno on October first, nineteen hundred and ninety-three. Said commission shall implement Keno so as to either include the participation of the charitable gaming licensees who conduct beano, so called, in the operation of Keno or, if necessary, to develop a separate Keno game for use by such charitable gaming licensees exclusively. A license to operate the game known as Keno, upon the full implementation of said game, shall be available to any licensee licensed under section twenty-seven of chapter ten or under section twelve of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight; provided, however, that such licensee does not owe a financial obligation to the commonwealth and such licensee has not been convicted of a felony. A license to operate the game known as Keno shall not be issued to any person, business, corporation, or other entity, except as provided herein.

(b) No license to operate the game known as Keno shall be made available to any licensee licensed under section twenty-seven other than licenses granted pursuant to the provisions of this subsection; provided, however, that this subsection shall not authorize the revocation of any license granted before January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six. A license to operate Keno shall be granted by the chairman of the commission or his designee to any licensee licensed pursuant to section twenty-seven; provided, however, that such licensee does not owe a financial obligation to the commonwealth and has not been convicted of a felony; and provided, further, that not less than twenty-one days before issuing any such license to operate Keno, said chairman of said commission or his designee shall send notification by certified mail to the mayor or the board of selectmen, whichever is applicable, of the municipality in which such facility to be licensed to operate Keno is so located and shall publish, in a newspaper of general circulation in the area including the municipality where said Keno licensee will operate, notice that an application for such license has been filed with said commission. Said notice shall include the name and business address of said Keno license applicant; the address wherein said Keno licensee will operate; the licensee's estimated weekly traffic; the licensee's current number of cashier positions that sell lottery commission products; the percentage of floor space that is currently devoted to lottery sales; the amount of revenue generated by the sale of lottery products at the site; the percentage of gross revenue directly derived from the sale of lottery products; the amount of net income that the commission estimates would be derived from the sale of Keno products at the site; and the percentage of floor space that will be devoted to Keno sales. No such license shall be issued by said chairman of said commission or his designee to which the local licensing authority, as defined pursuant to section one of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight, has objected in writing as a result of an official action of said authority, except after a hearing under chapter thirty A and unless said chairman of said commission or his designee thereafter determines in writing, after considering all relevant circumstances, that such license is in the public interest and approves in writing the issuance of such license to operate Keno, notwithstanding the objection of the local licensing authority.

(c) For the purposes of this subsection, "Keno growth revenues" shall be defined as the difference in the amount of net revenues generated by the Keno game in each fiscal year beginning on July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six, and thereafter minus the amount of net revenues generated by the Keno game in the fiscal year beginning on July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-five, which shall be known as the base year. "Net revenues" shall be defined as revenues less prizes, sales agent expenses, and allocated administrative expenses incurred relative to Keno operations. In the fiscal year beginning on July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six, and in every fiscal year thereafter, said Keno growth revenues shall be distributed through the lottery aid formula to only those municipalities which have a facility for which a Keno license has been approved by said commission and to those municipalities which do not have located within it either a licensee licensed under section twenty-seven of chapter ten or a licensee licensed under section twelve of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight. If the license of a Keno licensee is revoked or suspended by the commission or voluntarily terminated by the licensee thereby causing no Keno licensee to be located in a municipality and the commission subsequently does not approve a new Keno license in that municipality, said municipality shall, as of the date of such Keno license revocation, suspension, or voluntary termination, no longer receive pursuant to the lottery aid disbursement formula or otherwise any Keno growth revenues generated by Keno licensees for whom a license has been approved by said commission; provided, however, that such municipality shall receive an amount of Keno growth revenues for that particular fiscal year that represents the proportion of the annual distribution from July first to the quarter of the fiscal year in which such license revocation, suspension, or voluntary termination occurred; provided, further, that if such a municipality without a Keno licensee due to suspension, revocation, or voluntary termination then regains a Keno licensee the lottery aid distribution under the provisions of this section for that particular fiscal year shall then include a proportion calculated starting in the quarter of the fiscal year in which the Keno licensee newly commences operations to the end of said fiscal year. After the fiscal year beginning on July first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six, if a municipality has a Keno licensee or licensees for a full fiscal year and subsequently loses such licensee or licensees thereby causing no Keno licensee to be located in such municipality, such municipality shall receive in the subsequent fiscal years in which it has no Keno licensee an amount of Keno growth revenues equal to the amount it received for the last fiscal year in which the Keno licensee was located for the full fiscal year; provided, however, that if such a municipality without a Keno licensee then regains a Keno licensee, the base year for calculating subsequent Keno growth revenues to be distributed to such a municipality shall be the last fiscal year in which a Keno licensee was located in such municipality for the full fiscal year.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of section two of chapter thirty A, no rule or regulation relating to the game known as Keno shall be promulgated by the commission as an emergency regulation, as defined by said section two of said chapter thirty A, without a public hearing.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect as of January first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six.

In relation to such agreements between the department and other state agencies or authorities, the department is hereby authorized to advance monies to such agencies or authorities, without prior expenditure by such agencies or authorities, and such agencies and authorities are hereby authorized to accept monies necessary to carry out such agreements; provided, however, that the department shall certify to the comptroller the amounts so advanced; provided, further, that such agreements shall contain provisions satisfactory to the department for the accounting of such monies as expended by said agency or authority; and provided, further, that all monies not expended under such agreement shall be credited to the account of the department from which they were advanced. The department shall report to the house and senate committees on ways and means any transfers completed pursuant to the provisions of this section.

SECTION 9. The funds appropriated in item 6033-1969 of section two A of this act are hereby made available and shall be in addition to those funds appropriated in paragraph (d) of section three of chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, paragraph (d) of section three of chapter eight hundred and eleven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-five, paragraph (c) of section three of chapter fifteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, section ten of chapter two hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, paragraph (c) of section three of chapter thirty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-one and item 6010-3950 of section two A of chapter eighty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-four for projects for construction and reconstruction of town and county ways as described in subclause (a) of clause (2) of the second paragraph of section thirty-four of chapter ninety of the General Laws; provided, however, that each city or town shall certify to the department that the city or town has expended all of the sums apportioned to the city or town under the provisions of said paragraph (d) of said section three of said chapter six hundred and thirty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-three, said paragraph (d) of said section three of said chapter eight hundred and eleven, said paragraph (c) of said section three of said chapter fifteen, said section ten of said chapter two hundred and eight; said paragraph (c) of said section three of said chapter thirty-three and said item 6010-3950 of said section two A of said chapter eighty-five or that said city or town has remaining a sum of money which by itself is insufficient to finance a proposed project; provided further, that a city or town shall comply with procedures established by the department; provided further, that any such city or town is hereby authorized to appropriate for such projects amounts not in excess of the amounts provided to such city or town under this section; provided further, that such appropriation shall be considered as an available fund upon the approval of the commissioner of revenue pursuant to section twenty-three of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws; provided further, that the commonwealth shall reimburse such city or town under this section within thirty days after receipt by the department of a request for reimbursement from such city or town, such request to include certification by such city or town that actual expenses have been incurred on projects eligible for reimbursement under this section, and the work has been completed to its satisfaction according to the specifications of such project and in compliance with applicable law; provided further, that the department may enter into agreements with cities and towns to provide engineering and other services essential to the development of projects and if the department agrees to provide such services, amounts charged for department employees may include the salary and salary related expenses of such employees to the extent that they work on or in support of such projects; provided further, that funds provided herein may be expended for the entire cost of any project eligible under the provisions of said chapter ninety; and, provided further, that the funds provided herein may be expended for transportation enhancement projects as described in the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991, P.L. 102-240, and for the repair, replacement or removal of underground municipal public works fuel tanks.

SECTION 10. Subclause (a) of clause (2) of the second paragraph of section 34 of chapter 90 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 1994 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first and second sentences and inserting in place thereof the following two sentences:- For expenditure, under the direction of said department, for maintaining, repairing, improving and constructing town and county ways and bridges, sidewalks adjacent to such ways and bridges, bikeways and other projects eligible for funding as a transportation enhancement project as described in the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991, P.L. 102-240, salt storage sheds, bikeways and public use off-street parking facilities related to mass transportation, for engineering services and expenses related to highway transportation enhancement and mass transportation purposes, for care, repair, storage, replacement, purchase and long-term leasing of road building machinery, equipment and tools, for the erection and maintenance of direction signs and warning signs and for necessary or beneficial improvements to unpaved town and county ways together with any money which any town or county may appropriate for such purposes to be used on the same ways, sheds, bikeways, bridges, machinery, equipment, tools and facilities. Such ways, sheds, bikeways, bridges, machinery, equipment, tools and facilities shall remain town or county ways, sheds, bikeways, bridges, machinery, equipment, tools and facilities.

SECTION 11. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the department of highways, hereinafter referred to as the department, is hereby authorized and directed to take all necessary actions to secure federal highway or mass transportation assistance which is or may become available to the department including, but not limited to, actions authorized under or in compliance with the provision of Title 23 of the United States Code and section one hundred and forty-five of the Surface Transportation and Uniform Relocation Assistance Act of 1982, PL 97-424, the Surface Transportation and Uniform Relocation Act of 1987, PL 10-17, the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991, PL 102-240, and actions such as filing applications for federal assistance, supervising the expenditure of funds under federal grants or other assistance agreements and making any determinations and certifications necessary or appropriate to the foregoing. If any federal law, administrative regulation or practice requires any action relating to such federal assistance to be taken by any department, agency or other instrumentality of the commonwealth other than the department of highways, such other department, agency or instrumentality is hereby authorized and directed to take such action.

In furtherance of the foregoing purposes, the department, as appropriate, shall apply for and accept any federal funds available for projects authorized in section two and such federal funds, when received, shall be credited to the Federal Highway Construction Program Fund. To meet a portion of the expenditures authorized by section two, there is hereby appropriated to the Federal Highway Construction Program Fund a sum of three hundred seventy-six million nine hundred nine thousand five hundred dollars which shall be expended, subject to the limitations contained in Article LXXVIII of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and which shall be in addition to the amounts appropriated in section one of chapter fifteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and eighty-eight, section one of chapter thirty-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-one, section two of chapter one hundred and two of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-four and section two of chapter two hundred and seventy-three of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-four.

SECTION 12. The provisions of section sixty-one and sections sixty-two A to sixty-two H, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws and chapter ninety-one of the General Laws and section forty of chapter one hundred and thirty-one of the General Laws shall not apply to bridge projects of the department authorized under this act for the repair, reconstruction, replacement or demolition of existing state highway bridges and other bridges, including the immediate roadway approaches necessary to connect such bridges to the existing adjacent highway system, in which the design is substantially the functional equivalent of, and in similar alignment to, the structure to be reconstructed or replaced; provided, however, that notwithstanding the foregoing, the provisions of said section sixty-one and sections sixty-two A to sixty-two H, inclusive, of said chapter thirty, said chapter ninety-one and said section forty of said chapter one hundred and thirty-one shall apply to any portions of the bridge and roadway approaches to the crossing of the Charles River for the Central Artery/Tunnel Project; provided, further, that in the case of any state highway or other bridge crossing over a railroad right-of-way or railroad tracks, the department shall seek the opinion of any railroad company, railway company, or its assigns operating on such track of a necessary clearance between such track and the state highway bridge, but such clearance shall be at the discretion of the department; provided, further, that the department, its agents or contractors may enter upon any right-of-way, land or premises of a railroad company or railway company or its assigns for such purposes as the department may deem necessary or convenient to carry out the provisions of this act; provided, further, that if a flagman is needed to carry out the provisions of this act, that railroad company, railway company, or its assigns shall provide such flagman. For the purposes of this section and item 6033-1967 of section two A, the word bridge shall include any structure spanning and providing passage over water, railroad right-of-way, public or private way other vehicular facility or other area.

SECTION 13. The department of highways, hereinafter referred to as the department, may provide functional replacement of real property in public ownership whenever the department has acquired such property in whole or in part under the provisions of this act or such property is significantly and adversely affected as a result of the acquisition of property for a highway or highway-related project and whenever the department determines such functional replacement is necessary and in the public interest. For purposes of this section, the words functional replacement shall mean the replacement, pursuant to the provisions of chapter seven of the General Laws including sections forty F and forty F½, requiring authorization of the general court prior to disposition of real property, including either land or facilities thereon, or both, which provide equivalent utility and the words real property in public ownership shall mean any and all present and future interest in land, including rights of use, now existing or hereafter arising, held by an agency, authority, board, bureau, commission, department, division or other unit, body, instrumentality or political subdivision of the commonwealth. This section shall not constitute authorization by the general court as required by said chapter seven.

Whenever the department determines it is necessary that any utility or utility facility, as defined under federal law, be relocated because of construction of a project which is to be reimbursed federally in whole or in part, then such facility shall be relocated by the department or by the owner thereof in accordance with an order from the department; provided, however, that the commonwealth may reimburse the owner of such utility or utility facility for the cost of relocation; provided, further, that any relocation of facilities carried out under this section which is not performed by employees of the owner shall be subject to the provisions of section twenty-seven of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, any utility facility that is required to be relocated because of the construction of a project federally funded under the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1982 and the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1987 may be relocated temporarily above ground during the construction of said project.

SECTION 14. No payment in excess of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars by way of purchase of real estate or any interest therein shall be made by the department of highways and no settlement in excess of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars or in excess of the amount recommended by the real estate review board established by section six of chapter seven hundred and eighteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and fifty-six shall be made out of court for damages recoverable under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, by reason of a purchase or taking under this act. Each recommendation of the real estate review board shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a written statement of the reasons for such recommendation.

No settlement by reason of taking under this act in excess of one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars or in excess of the recommendation of the real estate review board shall be made by agreement of the parties during or after trial except with the written approval of the court; provided, however, that the settlements in excess of the recommendation of the board may be made without such approval if the settlement does not exceed the amount of any verdict or finding which has been rendered, together with interest and costs.

SECTION 15. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the funds authorized in item 6033-1969 of section two A of this act shall be distributed according to the schedule listed below:

Section 6B. Termination of Membership.- Insurance of a member by the corporation may be terminated by the directors of the corporation, with the approval of the commissioner, after a hearing to be held before the commissioner and a committee of said directors upon at least fifteen days prior notice, in the following circumstances:

(a) if a regular or excess member shall have failed to pay any assessment lawfully required under this act within fifteen days after notice from the treasurer of the corporation that such payment is overdue;

(b) if a regular or excess member has conducted its business in an unsafe or unsound manner, or has knowingly or negligently permitted any of its officers or agents to violate any provision of any law or regulation to which such member is subject;

(c) if the primary insurance coverage of an excess member has been terminated for cause by the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund;

(d) if an excess member fails to cure a breach of the terms of its contract of insurance with the corporation;

(e) if an excess member fails to provide examination or financial reports to the corporation pursuant to paragraphs (d) and (e) of section six D or if an excess member fails to submit to examination by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (f) of said section six D; or

(f) as otherwise provided in said section six D.

After termination of insurance pursuant to the provisions of this section, insurance for excess shares and deposits, other than term shares and deposits, to the extent insured on the date of termination, less any amounts thereafter withdrawn which reduce the amount of excess shares and deposits covered by the corporation on the date of termination, shall continue for a period of one year commencing with the date of termination. After such termination of insurance, term shares and deposits, to the extent insured on the date of termination, less any amounts thereafter withdrawn which reduce the amount of excess shares and deposits covered by the corporation on the date of termination, shall continue to be insured for the duration of their term. No shares issued by or deposits received by the excess member after the date of termination shall be insured to any extent by the corporation. Subsequent to the date of termination, the excess member shall in all other respects, including, without limitation, the payment of required assessments or fees, be subject to the duties and obligations of an excess member under the provisions of this chapter, applicable laws and regulations or the contract of insurance between the excess member and the corporation for the duration of such continuing insurance coverage period. If the excess member is liquidated or dissolved during the period such continuing insurance is provided by the corporation, the corporation shall have the same rights, remedies and powers with respect to the excess member, its members and the National Credit Union Administration, as if the excess member's insurance had not been terminated prior to such liquidation or dissolution.

In the event of termination of insurance as a result of the provisions of paragraph (c), the provisions of the preceding paragraph relating to shares and deposits other than term shares and deposits shall apply to an excess member and its excess shares and deposits only if, and to the same extent that, similar coverage is provided by the excess member's primary insurer.

In the event of termination of insurance of a regular or excess member, the commissioner may order such member to give such notice to its shareholders and depositors as he may require. In the event of the failure to give such required notice, the commissioner is authorized to give such notice in such manner as he may determine and, for such purpose, such member shall provide a list of all names and addresses of its depositors and shareholders to the commissioner.

SECTION 4. Said chapter 294 is hereby further amended by striking out section 6D, as most recently amended by section 7 of said chapter 237, and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

Section 6D. Excess Insurance of Excess Members.- The excess shares and deposits of excess members deposited in the main office or any branch office thereof located within the commonwealth shall be insured in full by the corporation, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) Any applicant for excess membership shall first give notice in writing to the corporation of its intention to become such member and shall submit such financial statements and other information concerning its assets, liabilities and affairs as the commissioner and the corporation may require. Applications for excess membership shall be governed by the provisions of section six A. Any such application must be approved by the directors of the corporation and the commissioner; provided, however, that if the applicant is then insured by the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund, the National Credit Union Administration's certification of its sound and safe condition may be submitted in lieu of approval by the commissioner.

(b) An excess member which is a federally chartered credit union may have its excess shares and deposits insured only to the same extent as is permitted for an excess member which is a state chartered credit union subject to the maximum share and deposit limitations applicable to state chartered credit unions under section thirty of chapter one hundred and seventy-one of the General Laws.

(c) An excess member shall enter into a contract of insurance with the corporation which shall be approved by the commissioner. Such contract of insurance shall contain provisions regarding the terms, conditions and fee and assessment structure under which excess insurance coverage may be issued, maintained, renewed or terminated. Upon the withdrawal of a regular member to excess membership, the corporation shall retain all assessments theretofore paid to it pursuant to sections seven and eight. Excess members which have withdrawn from regular membership shall be entitled to receive a proportionate share of any dividends declared pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (d) of said section seven. Fees and assessments shall be determined by the directors with the approval of the commissioner, shall be added to and become part of the Share Insurance Fund and shall be available for distribution in the event of dissolution or liquidation of the corporation, in the manner and to the extent provided in section ten.

(d) An excess member shall, at least semi-annually, file with the corporation financial reports in such form and containing such information as the corporation and the commissioner may require. The corporation may also require such further information and reports from excess members as it deems necessary. Financial reports shall contain a certification by the president, treasurer or other officer designated by the board of directors of the reporting excess member, that the reports are true and correct to the best of the certifier's knowledge and belief.

(e) Unless prohibited by applicable law or regulations, a member which is a federally chartered credit union shall, in addition to paragraph (d), be required and shall agree, to provide to the corporation copies of examination reports and other reports and information regarding such credit union made by and for any appropriate federal banking regulatory authority.

(f) An excess member which is a federally chartered credit union shall be subject, and shall agree, to supervision and examination by the commissioner and shall be subject to the provisions of section two of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven of the General Laws. The commissioner, in his sole discretion, periodically shall examine the affairs of an excess member which is a federally chartered credit union to evaluate the level of risk of loss such excess member's financial condition may pose to the corporation. The costs of such examination shall be borne by such federally chartered credit union and shall be determined annually by the commissioner of administration under the provision of section three B of chapter seven of the General Laws. Upon examination, the commissioner may take such directions, recommendations and orders to an excess member which is a federally chartered credit union as he deems expedient to the same extent as provided by section three of said chapter one hundred and sixty-seven. Nothing contained herein shall limit an excess member which is a federally chartered credit union from the exercise of any powers authorized for a federally chartered credit union pursuant to and in conformance with the Federal Credit Union Act, or applicable rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, or pursuant to other applicable federal laws and regulations.

(g) An excess member which is a federally chartered credit union shall obtain the approval of the corporation and the commissioner prior to its merger or consolidation with, or the purchase of the assets and the assumption of the share and deposit liabilities of a banking institution as defined by section one of chapter one hundred and sixty-seven A of the General Laws or a credit union chartered by the commonwealth, the United States or another state. Failure to obtain such approvals shall result in an automatic termination of excess insurance under section six B.

(h) An excess member which is a federally chartered credit union shall obtain the approval of the corporation and the commissioner prior to its establishment of a branch office in any other state other than the commonwealth. Failure to obtain such approvals shall result in an automatic termination of excess insurance under said section six B.

(i) Upon payment by the corporation of any excess share or deposit insured by the corporation in any excess member, the corporation shall be subrogated to the rights of the person to whom such insurance was so paid to receive the same distribution from the proceeds of assets and claims of such excess member as would have been payable to such person on a claim for the portion of such person's share or deposit so paid by the corporation, subject to the rights of the National Credit Union Administration.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provisions hereof, if the National Credit Union Administration is at any time a depositor in any excess member, either directly or through any other governmental agency, the amounts deposited, directly or indirectly, by the National Credit Union Administration shall not be deemed insured to any extent by the corporation.

(k) Excess members of the corporation shall not have any of the rights and privileges of regular members except as expressly provided otherwise herein.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 294 is hereby further amended by adding the following section:-

Section 15. The directors of the corporation may make such rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the commissioner, as they deem necessary in order to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and for purposes of this chapter the commissioner may confer and advise with the directors and may furnish them such information, records, statements and reports of examination or copies thereof, relating to any regular or excess member, as the directors may request.

SECTION 6. It is hereby declared that the Massachusetts Credit Union Share Insurance Corporation, established by chapter two hundred and ninety-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-one, is not an agency of the commonwealth. Nothing contained in said chapter two hundred and ninety-four, and nothing contained in this act, shall be construed to pledge the credit of the commonwealth for any of the past, current or future operations, obligations or liabilities of said Massachusetts Credit Union Share Insurance Corporation.

any settlement thereof approved by the board, arising by reason of any act or omission within the scope of his duties for the commission; provided, however, that no indemnification shall be provided to a person concerning a matter as to which such person is finally adjudicated to have acted either (i) without a good faith belief that his conduct was in the best interests of the commission; or (ii) with reason to believe that his conduct was unlawful. Costs and expenses may be paid prior to a final disposition upon receipt of an undertaking, which the commission may accept without regard to the financial resources of the person indemnified; provided, however, that the person receiving the benefit of payments shall repay such payments if he shall be finally adjudicated not to be entitled to indemnification hereunder. No other ordinances or regulations of the city in effect on the implementation date shall apply to the commission.

(e) On the implementation date, all unexpended balances of moneys in accounts of, for or on behalf of the department including, without limitation, accounts receivable, grants, public trusts, bequests, gifts and other funds pertaining to the Cambridge hospital network or any other property, right or operation of the department, each as determined by the treasurer of the city with the approval of the city manager, including moneys and investments, if any, held for the payment or security of interest and principal of then outstanding bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness of the city as provided in this section, but excluding money and investments held by or for the account of the city retirement board on account of accrued retirement benefits under chapter thirty-two of the General Laws for employees of the department, shall be deemed to be held in trust for and shall be transferred to the commission. Subsequent to such date, all moneys collected or received by the city from any source on account of the Cambridge hospital network and any other property, right or operation of the department transferred to the commission by operation of this act, as determined by the treasurer of the city, other than any such moneys properly allocable to a right, liability or obligation retained by the city under any provision of this act, shall be deemed to be held in trust for and shall be forthwith transferred and paid over to the commission.

(f) On the implementation date, every employee of the department shall become an employee of, and shall be transferred to, the commission without any loss of accrued rights to holidays, sick leave, vacations or other benefits of employment and, by such transfer except as otherwise provided, such employee's seniority, wages, salaries, hours, working conditions, health benefits, pensions and retirement allowances under law or contract shall not be impaired; provided, however, that thereafter each such employee shall perform his duties under the direction, control and supervision of the chief executive officer. Employees of the department who are tenured employees, as defined in section one of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, on the day before the implementation date shall retain their existing rights under said chapter thirty-one during their period of employment in the same or a similar position by the commission; employees of the commission shall not otherwise be subject to said chapter thirty-one. Rights and obligations under collective bargaining agreements with respect to employees transferred to the commission from the department shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission and employees transferred to the commission who are subject to such agreements shall continue to be represented by the labor organizations that are parties to such agreements until such time as they elect to be otherwise represented in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty E of the General Laws. Employees transferred to the commission who are not represented by labor organizations as of the day before the implementation date shall not be accepted into bargaining units existing on that date, but they shall thereafter be afforded the right to representation pursuant to state or federal law, as the case may be. Immediately after organization of the commission on the implementation date, the commission and each labor organization representing employees who have transferred to the commission shall begin bargaining for a successor agreement to replace any such agreement between the city and the labor organization representing those transferred employees. Each existing collective bargaining agreement shall remain in effect for ninety days after the implementation date or until a new agreement is reached, whichever shall occur first. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no employee of the city who is hired by the commission subsequent to the implementation date shall be entitled to transfer to the commission any accrued or credited vacation, sick or personal time.

(g) Every employee of the department who immediately prior to being transferred to the commission, is a member of the Cambridge retirement system established under chapter thirty-two of the General Laws shall continue to be a member thereof and subject to the laws applicable thereto. No other employees of the commission shall have the right to become members of the Cambridge retirement system, except and to the extent that the commission, in its sole discretion, permits or requires any employees to become members of that system; employees who thus become members of the Cambridge retirement system shall be subject to the same laws, rules and regulations as city employees who are members of that system. The commission shall deduct from the wages of its employees who are members of the Cambridge retirement system and pay over to the Cambridge retirement board such sums as the city would deduct and pay over if such person were an employee of the city. The commission shall annually reimburse the city for its share of any amounts appropriated by the city under the provisions of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws for or on account of retirement allowances for employees of the commission, and for its share of any amounts appropriated by the city for administrative costs of the city retirement board, based on an allocation determined by such retirement board of the years of creditable service of such employees with the commission and with the city.

(h) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, but subject to subsection (g), the commission may contract with any employee of the commission with respect to the establishment, continuation, maintenance and funding of any deferred compensation or other pension or retirement plan or program under state or federal law which has been maintained for such employee prior to his employment by the commission or which the commission thereafter agrees to maintain and, for such purpose, the commission may become a trustee or sponsor of and may make contributions to any such plan or program. For purposes of this subsection, the word "employee" shall have the same meaning as "employee" as defined in section one of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws and shall also include consultants and independent contractors who are natural persons paid by the commission and whose duties require that their time be devoted to the service of the commission during regular business hours.

(i)(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the commission may, with the approval of the city manager of Cambridge, as of an effective date to be determined by the commission with the approval of the city manager of Cambridge, establish that employees of the commission who are members of the Cambridge retirement system and otherwise eligible for a superannuation retirement, who shall have filed a written application for superannuation retirement pursuant to section five of said chapter thirty-two no earlier than thirty days after such effective date, but no later than ninety days after such effective date, specifying a retirement date no later than one hundred and twenty days after such effective date, shall have their normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance as determined under paragraph (a) of subdivision (2) of section five of said chapter thirty-two computed according to the table contained in said paragraph (a) based upon the age of such member and his number of years and full months of creditable service at the time of his retirement increased, at the option of the employee, by up to three years of age or by up to three years of creditable service or by a combination of additional years of age and service the sum of which shall not be greater than three; provided that the commission, with the approval of the city manager of Cambridge, may limit the amount of additional credit for service or age or a combination of service and age offered and the number of employees for whom it will approve a retirement calculated under the provisions of this section; provided further, however, that if participation is limited, the retirement of employees with the greatest creditable service so applying shall be approved before approval is given to employees with lesser creditable service.

(2) For the purposes of this section, words used herein shall have the same meaning as in chapter thirty-two of the General Laws unless the context clearly requires otherwise. An employee who retires and receives an additional benefit in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be retired for superannuation under the provisions of said chapter thirty-two of the General Laws and shall be subject to the provisions of said chapter thirty-two.

(3) The total normal yearly amount of the retirement allowance, as determined in accordance with the provisions of section five of said chapter thirty-two, of any employee who retires and receives an additional benefit in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not exceed four-fifths of the average annual rate of his regular compensation received during the periods, whether consecutive or not, constituting his last three years of creditable service preceding retirement.

(4) The Cambridge retirement board shall prepare a funding schedule which shall reflect the costs and the actuarial liabilities attributable to the additional benefits payable under this section and said schedule shall be designed to reduce the Cambridge retirement system's additional pension liability attributable to such costs and liabilities to zero on or before June thirtieth, two thousand and twelve; provided, however, that said retirement board shall triennially update such schedule until June thirtieth, two thousand and twelve. In each of the fiscal years until the actual liability determined under this section shall be reduced to zero, it shall be deemed an obligation of the commission to reimburse the city for such liability as shall be appropriated to the applicable pension reserve fund in such fiscal year in the amount required by the funding schedule and the updates thereto.

SECTION 7. (a) Not later than January fifteenth in each year, the commission shall prepare and file with the city manager and the city clerk an annual assessment of the public health needs of the city. The annual public health assessment shall include an evaluation of existing local, state and federal programs and services to address the public health needs of the city and the adequacy of funding sources available for such programs and services, an assessment of programs, services and other activities provided by private public health providers to address the public health needs of the city, including the performance of providers under contract with the commission in accordance with this act, and proposals by the commission to revise, enlarge or enhance its response to the public health needs of the city including new, expanded or revised programs or services to be provided by the commission or by public health providers under contract with it for the ensuing fiscal year.

(b) Subject to the limitations provided herein, the city and the commission shall enter into a contact for an initial period not to exceed seven years for the provision of public health services in accordance with the annual public health assessments provided pursuant to subsection (a). Said contract shall include projected funding for that period, commencing on the implementation date, to address the anticipated public health needs of the city and to contribute to the health care of city residents. The projected funding for that period will provide a budgetary framework for the city and the commission, with the actual funding amounts to be subject to annual appropriation by the city. The city shall reserve the right to terminate the contract if the commission does not adequately provide for the public health needs of the city or if the commission violates the terms of the contract. The contract may be amended, renewed or extended by agreement of the city and the commission.

(c) In addition to the authority granted elsewhere in this act and by other applicable laws, the commission and the city may enter into contracts from time to time to provide for one or more of the following: (i) the payment of sums appropriated pursuant to subsection (b); (ii) the payment of any other sums for health care or other services provided to the city; (iii) services to be provided by the city to or on behalf of the commission; (iv) indemnification by the commission to the city for claims associated with the establishment and operation of the commission and its health facilities; (v) the gift, grant, sale, conveyance, loan, license or lease by the city to the commission of any real property or any other assets, property or facilities useful in connection with the exercise by the commission of any of its powers under this act and not transferred pursuant to the authority granted in subsection (c) of section six; (vi) any such conveyance, transfer or other disposition of real property or other assets, property or facilities by the commission to the city; (vii) the payment by the commission of debt service on indebtedness issued by the city on behalf of the commission; and (viii) such other matters as may be appropriate to accomplish the purposes hereof. No such contracts shall be subject to the provisions of chapter thirty B of the General Laws or any other law or ordinance requiring competitive bidding or other procurement or disposition procedures by either the city or the commission. Any such contracts shall include such terms and conditions, shall be for such consideration, if any, and shall have such terms of years, as the city and the commission may agree.

SECTION 8. (a) In addition to its other powers enumerated in this act, the commission shall have the following rights and powers:

(1) to adopt by-laws for the regulation of the affairs and the conduct of its business, and to prescribe rules, regulations and policies in connection with the performance of its functions and duties;

(2) to adopt an official seal and alter the same at pleasure;

(3) to maintain an office at such places as it may determine;

(4) to establish its fiscal year, which shall otherwise be July first through June thirtieth;

(5) to receive, administer, expend and comply with the conditions and requirements respecting any gift, grant, donation or appropriation of any property or money;

(6) to receive and apply its revenues to the purpose of this act without appropriation or allotment by the city except as otherwise expressly provided herein and to invest any moneys of the commission or under its control in such investments as are legal investments for moneys of the commonwealth;

(7) to maintain, repair, operate and improve the Cambridge hospital network and all other public health facilities under its custody and control and to provide for the cost of the foregoing and its other activities and programs and project from its revenues, appropriations, grants, the proceeds of loans or from any other moneys legally available to the commission;

(8) to provide health care services, directly, by duly licensed health care providers or by contract;

(9) to mortgage, pledge or assign any real or personal property of the commission, subject to approval of the city manager to the extent required by clause (13), and any money, fees, charges, or other revenue of the commission and any proceeds derived by the commission from the sale of property, insurance or condemnation awards;

(10) to make application for, receive, accept and expend any private, federal, commonwealth or city loans or grants for or in aid of any program or operations of the commission or of any facilities or other property of the commission and to receive and accept contributions from any source of either money, property, labor or other things of value;

(11) to sue and be sued, to prosecute and defend actions relating to its properties and affairs and to be liable in tort as a public employer as defined in section one of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight of the General Laws; provided, however, that the commission shall not be authorized to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code;

(12) to appoint or employ personnel as provided herein and to engage legal, accounting, management, financial, medical, consulting and other professional services and

agents;

(13) to acquire by purchase, lease, gift or devise or to obtain options for the acquisition of any property or any interest therein, real or personal, improved or unimproved, tangible or intangible; to make contracts and agreements of all kinds including, but not limited to, contracts for the management of its hospital and public health facilities and for the provision to the commission of public health services and contracts for the sale, lease, as lessor or lessee, or purchase of real or personal property of any kind or description and to execute and deliver instruments necessary or convenient for carrying out any of its purposes; to provide, develop or participate in prepaid health care services, managed care programs and insurance programs and other alternative health care delivery programs, including programs involving the acceptance of capitated payments or premiums that include the assumption of financial and actuarial risk; to establish, develop or participate in health maintenance organizations or preferred provider organizations; and to acquire, create, be a voting member of, choose directors to serve on the boards of, share common officers and directors with, be a partner in or participate in or control, any venture, corporation, partnership or other organization, public or private, which the commission finds operates for purposes consistent with, and in furtherance of, the purposes of the commission, including a corporation organized under chapter one hundred and eighty of the General Laws in the manner specified in subsection (e) of section three; provided, however, that no contract or agreement for the management of all or substantially all of the operations of the Cambridge hospital network shall be effective without the prior approval of the city manager, and, in no case, shall any such contract or agreement be inconsistent with the mission of the commission as set forth in subsection (a) of section one or be inconsistent with the terms of this act; and, provided further, that the commission shall not mortgage, assign, pledge, sell or otherwise dispose of, or lease as lessor other than in the ordinary course of business, any of the real property transferred from the city to the commission with a value in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars except upon the approval of the city manager and, if the value is in excess of one million dollars, the approval of the city council, unless a different value limitation is set by agreement between the city and the commission;

(14) to manage or to contract with the city, acting by the treasurer of the city with the approval of the city manager, for the management of public trusts, bequests and other endowment funds held by or on behalf of the commission for application to the operations of the Cambridge hospital network or any other corporate purpose of the commission;

(15) to adopt, amend and repeal reasonable health regulations not inconsistent with any public health regulation of the state department of public health or with any other provision of law and prescribe a reasonable fine for any violation of a health regulation promulgated hereunder; and

(16) consistent with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth, to exercise such other powers, including all powers pertaining to the department and to the properties under their custody and control held by the city on the effective date of this act not inconsistent herewith, as may be necessary or convenient for or incident to carrying out the foregoing powers and the accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

SECTION 9. (a) The commission may issue bonds or notes for any of its corporate purposes, including borrowing from the Health and Educational Facilities Authority established by chapter six hundred and fourteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, which is hereby authorized to make loans to the commission. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all bonds shall be payable solely from the particular funds provided therefor under the documents governing the issuance of the bonds and consistent with this act. The bonds shall be issued in such amounts as the commission may authorize. Bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates, including rates variable from time to time as determined by such index, banker's loan rate, remarketing or index agent, or other method as may be determined by the commission and shall mature at such times as may be determined by the commission; provided, however, that no bond shall mature more than forty years from the date of issuance or beyond the expiration of the expected useful life of any facilities being financed by the bonds as determined by the commission. Bonds may be made redeemable before maturity at such prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the commission prior to the issuance of such bonds. The commission shall determine the form and details and the manner of execution of bonds. The commission may sell its bonds in such manner, either at public or private sale, for such price, at such rates of interest, or at such discount in lieu of interest, as the commission may determine.

(b) In addition to other lawful items, the costs to be financed by the issuance of bonds under this act may include interest during construction and for up to one year after completion of any revenue-producing facilities being financed as estimated by the commission, the cost of architectural, engineering, financial and legal services, plans, specifications, studies, expenses as may be necessary or incident to determining the feasibility or practicability of constructing such revenue-producing facilities, the financing of such construction and the placing of the facilities in operation and such other related expenses as may be determined by the commission.

(c) Any bonds issued under this act may be secured by a resolution or by a trust or security agreement between the commission and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the commonwealth, or by a trust or security agreement directly between the commission and the purchasers of the bonds and such resolution or trust or security agreement shall be in such form and executed in such manner as may be determined by the commission. Such trust or security agreement or resolution may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues held or to be received by the commission, including the revenues from any facilities already existing when the pledge or assignment is made, and any contract or other rights to receive the same, whether then existing or thereafter coming into existence and whether then held or thereafter acquired by the commission, and the proceeds thereof. Such trust or security agreement or resolution may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security and remedies of the bondholders as may, in the discretion of the commission, be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such agreement or resolution may include provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event of default, which may include the acceleration of maturities, and covenants setting forth the duties of and limitations on the commission in relation to the custody, safeguarding, investment and application of moneys, the issue of additional or refunding bonds, the fixing, revision and collection of fees, charges and other revenues, the use of any surplus bond proceeds, the establishment of reserves, the construction and operation of facilities of the commission, and the making and amending of contracts relating to the bonds. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company to act as a depository or trustee of the proceeds of bonds, revenues or other moneys under a trust or security agreement or resolution and to furnish such indemnification or to pledge such securities and issue such letters or lines of credit or other credit facilities as may be required by the commission acting under this act. Any such trust or security agreement or resolution may set forth the rights and remedies of bondholders and of the trustees and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders.

(d) Any bonds issued under authority of this act may be issued by the commission pursuant to lines of credit or other banking arrangement under such terms and conditions not inconsistent with this act, and under such agreements as the commission may determine to be in the best interests of the commission. Bonds so issued may also be secured, in whole or in part, by insurance or by letters or lines of credit or other credit or liquidity facilities issued to the commission by any bank, trust company or other financial institution, within or without the commonwealth, and the commission may pledge or assign any of its revenues as security for the reimbursement by the commission to the issuers of such issuance or letters or lines of credit or credit or liquidity facilities of any payments made thereunder.

(e) Any pledge of revenues, contract or other rights to receive revenues or the proceeds thereof made by the commission under this act shall be valid and binding and shall be deemed continuously perfected for the purposes of chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws from the time when the pledge is made; the revenues, moneys, rights and proceeds so pledged and then held or thereafter acquired or received by the commission shall immediately be subject to the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery or segregation thereof or further act; and the lien of such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the commission, irrespective of whether such parties have notice thereof. Neither the resolution nor any trust or security agreement nor any other agreement by which a pledge is created need be filed or recorded except in the records of the commission and no filing need be made under said chapter one hundred and six.

(f) Any owner of a bond issued by the commission under the provisions of this act and any trustee under a trust or security agreement or resolution securing the same, except to the extent the rights herein given may be restricted by such agreement or resolution, may bring suit upon the bonds and may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceeding for legal or equitable relief, including proceedings for the appointment of a receiver to take possession and control of the business and properties of the commission, to operate and maintain the same, to make any necessary repairs, renewals and replacements in respect thereof and to fix, revise and collect fees and charges, protect and enforce any and all rights under the laws of the commonwealth or granted hereunder or under such trust or security agreement resolution and may enforce and compel the performance of all duties required by this act or by such agreement or resolution to be performed by the commission or by any officer of the commission.

(g) The commission may issue refunding bonds for the purpose of paying any of its bonds issued pursuant to this act at or prior to maturity or upon acceleration or redemption. Refunding bonds may be issued at such times prior to the maturity or redemption of the refunding bonds as the commission may determine. The refunding bonds may be issued in sufficient amounts to pay or provide the principal of the bonds being refunded, together with any redemption premium on the bonds, any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of payment of such bonds, the expenses of issue of the refunding bonds, the expenses of redeeming the bonds being refunded and such reserves for debt service or other expenses from the proceeds of such refunding bonds as may be required by a trust or security agreement or resolution securing the bonds. The authorization and issue of refunding bonds, the maturities and other details of such bonds, the security for the bonds, the rights of the holders of the bonds, and the rights, duties and obligations of the commission in respect to the same shall be governed by the provisions of this act relating to the issue of the bonds other than refunding bonds insofar as the same may be applicable.

(h) Bonds issued by the commission under this act shall not be deemed to be a debt or a pledge of the faith and credit of the commonwealth or of any city or town but shall be payable solely from the revenues of the commission. All bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness of the commission shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the commonwealth nor any city or town shall be obligated to pay the same and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the commonwealth or of any city or town is pledged to the payment of the principal of or interest on such bonds or notes.

(i) All moneys received pursuant to the provisions of this act, whether as proceeds from the issue of bonds or as revenues or otherwise, shall be deemed to be trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this act.

(j) Bonds issued under the provisions of this act are hereby made securities in which all public officers and public bodies of the commonwealth and its political subdivisions, all insurance companies, trust companies in their commercial departments, savings banks, co-operative banks, banking associations, investment companies, executors, administrators, trustees and other fiduciaries may properly and legally invest funds, including capital in their control or belonging to them. Such bonds are hereby made securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by any state or municipal officer or any agency or political subdivision of the commonwealth for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or obligations of the commonwealth is now or may hereafter be authorized by law.

(k) Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this act or any recitals in any bonds issued under this chapter, all such bonds shall be deemed to be investment securities under chapter one hundred and six of the General Laws.

(l) Bonds may be issued under this act without obtaining the consent of the emergency finance board established under the provisions of chapter forty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three or of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth or the city and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions than those proceedings or conditions which are specifically required therefor by this act and the validity of and security for any bonds issued by the commission shall not be affected by the existence or nonexistence of any such consent or other proceedings or conditions.

(m) The city may authorize and incur indebtedness on behalf of the commission in accordance with chapter forty-four of the General Laws, including indebtedness authorized by an order of the city council passed on June seventh, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, as amended, for certain ambulatory care and parking facilities. The obligation of the city to pay interest and principal on indebtedness issued by the city shall be assumed by and imposed upon the commission unless otherwise provided by agreement as authorized by subsection (c) of section seven, but such indebtedness shall remain a general obligation of the city.

SECTION 10. The commission and all its revenues, income and real and personal property used solely by the commission in furtherance of the mission declared in section one shall be exempt from taxation and from betterments and special assessments and the commission shall not be required to pay any tax, excise or assessment to or for the commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions. Bonds issued by the commission and their transfer and the income therefrom, including any profit made on the sale thereof, shall at all times be exempt from taxation by the commonwealth.

SECTION 11. (a) Subject to any limitations thereon or any approval required therefor under any other general or special law, the commission is hereby authorized to fix, revise, determine and collect fees, rates, rents and other charges for the services, programs and other activities provided by it or as a result of the operation of the properties under its custody and control. The fees, rates, rents and other charges established by the commission shall be so fixed and adjusted in respect of the aggregate thereof so as to provide revenues to the commission at least sufficient, together with all other moneys available to the commission, including all amounts appropriated to the commission as provided in this section, to pay or provide for all operating expenses of the commission and all debts and other obligations of the commission as the same becomes due, to create and maintain such reserves as may be reasonably required for its operations or to secure its debts and other obligations; and to pay or provide for all necessary repairs, replacements and renewals to the properties under its custody and control and any other amounts which the commission may be obligated to pay or provide for by law or contract.

(b) Any application, review or process in relation to or in furtherance of the purposes of or contemplated by this act heretofore filed or undertaken or any proceeding heretofore commenced or any determination, finding or award made by the city with the federal government, the department of public health or any other public corporation shall inure to and for the benefit of the commission to the same extent and in the same manner as if the commission had been a party to such application, review, process or proceeding from its inception and the commission shall be deemed to be a party thereto, to the extent not prohibited by federal law. Any license, approval, permit, determination, finding, award or decision heretofore or hereafter issued or granted pursuant to or as a result of any such application, review, process or proceeding shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the commission and shall be assigned and transferred by the city to the commission unless such assignment and transfer is prohibited by federal law.

(c) Notwithstanding the establishment of the commission, acquisition by the city or the commission of facilities and operations of Somerville hospital or establishment of Somerville hospital or any other entity as a subsidiary of the commission, the Cambridge hospital and any such subsidiary shall be deemed to retain the status and characteristics of a public service hospital as defined by 114.1 CMR 36.13(2)(j)(3), of a disproportionate share hospital as defined by 114.1 CMR 36.13(10) and of a public hospital for purposes of determining eligibility for and determination of all payments from all governmental units for the provision of general health supplies, care or rehabilitative services and accommodations, as those terms are defined in section thirty-one of chapter six A of the General Laws including, without limitation, for purposes of determining eligibility for payments to high public payer hospitals pursuant to 114.1 CMR 36.13(10)(a); disproportionate share adjustments for safety net providers pursuant to 114.1 CMR 36.13(10)(c); payments owed to or from the uncompensated care pool in accordance with regulations established pursuant to chapter one hundred and eighteen F of the General Laws; and entitlement to payment from and participation in medical assistance programs established under chapter one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws.

SECTION 12. (a) The commission shall establish procedures for the procurement of services, supplies and materials to encourage fair and open competition and to obtain satisfactory prices thereon, but shall not be subject to general or special laws regulating the procurement of services, supplies and materials including, but not limited to, section thirty-nine M of chapter thirty of the General Laws, sections forty-four A to forty-four J, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws, sections thirty-eight A½ to thirty-eight O, inclusive, of chapter seven of the General Laws and chapter thirty B of the General Laws; provided, however, that the provisions of sections twenty-six to twenty-seven F, inclusive, and section twenty-nine of chapter one hundred and forty-nine of the General Laws shall apply to all construction contracts procured by the commission.

(b) Notwithstanding the statutory provisions specified in subsection (a), or any other general or special law to the contrary, the city may employ alternative methods for procuring design and construction services for the development of its hospital network capital facility projects, including the negotiation of a construction management or design/build contract with the selected construction manager for the design and construction of the facilities upgrading project known as the Hospital Master Plan Project and as revised through the Memorandum of Understanding dated May fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, as amended, its checkpoint reports and the order of the city council passed on June seventh, nineteen hundred and ninety-three, as amended.

SECTION 13. The commission shall at all times keep full and accurate accounts of its receipts, expenditures, disbursements, assets and liabilities, which shall be open to inspection by the city manager or any other duly appointed agent of the commonwealth or the city. The commission shall submit an annual report in writing concerning its operations to the city manager of the city and shall file a copy of such report with the city clerk within one hundred and twenty days following the close of its fiscal year unless otherwise agreed by the city and the commission. Such report for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, and for each fiscal year thereafter shall include financial statements relating to the operations and properties of the commission maintained in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles to the extent applicable and audited by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants.

SECTION 14. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b) of section six, the city shall retain the right to provide by ordinance for the designation of a new board of health or public health commissioner, who shall have the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed by applicable general laws upon boards of health of cities, and in accordance with the terms of such ordinance. Any ordinance designating a new public health commissioner under this section may provide for reestablishment of a separate health policy board.

SECTION 15. Chapter one hundred and eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-six is hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. Upon termination or dissolution of the commission, the title to all funds and other properties owned by it which remain after payment or the making of provision for payment of all obligations of the commission shall vest in the city.

SECTION 17. The provisions of this act shall be deemed to provide an exclusive, additional, alternative and complete method for the doing of the things authorized hereby and shall be deemed and construed to be supplemental and additional to, and not in derogation of, powers conferred upon the commission by law; provided, however, that insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special law, ordinance, administrative order or regulation or any limitation imposed by a corporate or municipal charter, the provisions of this act shall be controlling.

SECTION 18. This act, being necessary for the welfare of the city and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes hereof.

SECTION 19. This act shall be construed in all respects so as to meet all constitutional requirements. In carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act, all steps shall be taken which are necessary to meet constitutional requirements whether or not such steps are required by statute.

SECTION 20. Section fifteen shall take effect as of the implementation date.

SECTION 21. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved June 30, 1996.

There exists in the commonwealth a critical shortage of training and education programs necessary to meet the growing needs of business and industry for skilled employees and the corresponding needs of our people for opportunities for new or more rewarding employment.

As a result of this shortage, business and industry is unable to obtain sufficient numbers of qualified employees for continued operation and expansion within the commonwealth, of our people, particularly those who are victims of economic dislocation, and those minority and economically disadvantaged groups, are denied significant and substantial employment opportunities.

The loss of economic and employment activity from the commonwealth contributes to a decline in the tax base, leads to unemployment and underemployment of our people, causes an increase in welfare and unemployment costs, and constitutes a threat to the general welfare of the entire commonwealth.

This shortage is occasioned by the inability of educational institutions to secure the resources necessary for the development and substantial expansion of programs of skills training and education which are consistent with employment need;

Business and industry is the primary source of employment information, technical assistance and financial support required for such program development and expansion;

Business and industry supports educational institutions, through increased and more comprehensive relationships of cooperation and assistance, is necessary to enable educational institutions to meet the needs of business and industry for skilled employees and the needs of our people for new or more rewarding employment opportunities;

Educational institutions are unable to attract sufficient support from business and industry within the limits of their existing resources and through the normal operation of the private enterprise system.

It is an important function of government to increase opportunities for gainful employment, to assist in promoting a productive and expanding economy, to encourage the flow of business and industry support to educational institutions, and otherwise to improve the prosperity and general welfare of the inhabitants of the commonwealth.

Therefore, it is found that it is in the public interest of the commonwealth to promote the prosperity and general welfare of its citizens, a public purpose for which public money may be expended, to encourage and facilitate the formation of comprehensive cooperative relationships between business and industry and educational institutions which provide for the development and significant expansion of programs of skills training and education consistent with employment needs, and to make interested individuals aware of the employment opportunities presented thereby.

(f) to maintain a prudent level of reserve funds to protect the solvency of any trust funds under the operation and control of the division.

Section 4. Said report shall further detail efforts of the division to coordinate its rate making function with rule making functions of other state agencies regulating said providers and institutions, and its recommendations for legislation, if any.

Section 5. Each acute hospital shall pay to the commonwealth an amount for the estimated expenses of the division. Such amount shall be equal to the amount appropriated by the general court for the expenses of the division of health care finance and policy minus amounts collected from (1) filing fees, (2) fees and charges generated by the division's publication or dissemination of reports and information, and (3) federal matching revenues received for such expenses or received retroactively for expenses of predecessor agencies. Thereafter, each hospital shall pay, within thirty days notice from the division, the balance of the total assessment for the current year based upon its most current projected gross patient service revenue. The division shall subsequently adjust the assessment for any variation in actual and estimated expenses of the division of health care finance and policy and for changes in hospital gross patient service revenue. Such estimated and actual expenses shall include an amount equal to the cost of fringe benefits, as established by the division of administration pursuant to section six B of chapter twenty-nine. In the event of late payment by any such hospital, the treasurer shall advance the amount of due and unpaid funds to the division prior to the receipt of such monies in anticipation of such revenues up to the amount authorized in the then current budget attributable to such assessments, and the division shall reimburse the treasurer for such advances upon receipt of such revenues. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any state institution or to any acute hospital which is operated by a city or town.

Section 6. The division shall promulgate such regulations as may be necessary to ensure the uniform reporting of revenues, charges, costs and utilization of health care services delivered by institutional and non-institutional providers. The division shall, before adopting such regulations, consult with other agencies of the commonwealth, and the federal government, affected providers, as applicable, to ensure that the reporting requirements imposed from time to time under such regulations are not duplicative, excessive or costly. To the extent that any requirements imposed by the division result in additional costs to the reporting providers, such additional costs shall be included in any rates promulgated by the division for such providers. The division may specify, by regulation, categories of information which may be furnished under an assurance of confidentiality to the provider. Such assurance may only be extended by the division if the data furnished is not to be used for setting rates. The division shall work with other state agencies including, but not limited to, without limitation, the departments of public health and mental health and the divisions of medical assistance and insurance to collect and disseminate data concerning the cost of health insurance in the commonwealth, the health status of individuals and to publish such data and make it available to the public.

With respect to any acute or non-acute hospital, the division shall, by regulation, designate information necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter including, but not be limited to, the filing of a charge book, the filing of cost data and audited financial statements and the submission of merged billing and discharge data. The division shall, by regulation, designate standard systems for determining, reporting and auditing volume, case-mix, proportion of low income patients and any other information necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter and to prepare reports comparing acute and non-acute care hospitals by cost, utilization and outcome. Such regulations may require such hospitals to file required information and data by electronic means; provided, however, that the division shall allow reasonable waivers from such requirement. The division shall, at least annually, publish a report analyzing such comparative information for the purpose of assisting third-party payers and other purchasers of health services in making informed decisions. Such report shall include comparative price and service information relative to outpatient mental health services.

Section 7. The division (1) shall determine, after public hearing, at least annually for institutional providers, and at least biennially for non-institutional providers, the rates to be paid by each governmental unit to providers of health care services; (2) shall determine, after public hearing, at least annually, the rates to be charged by each state institution for general health supplies, care or rehabilitative services and accommodations; (3) shall certify to each affected governmental unit the rates so determined; (4) shall determine, after public hearing, at least annually, and certify to the division of industrial accidents of the department of labor and industries, rates of payment for general health supplies, care or rehabilitative services and accommodations, which rates shall be paid for services under the workmen's compensation act; (5) shall, upon request of the division of insurance, assist the division of insurance in the performance of its duties as set forth in section four of chapter one hundred and seventy-six B; (6) may establish fair and reasonable classifications upon which any rates may be based for rest homes, nursing homes and convalescent homes; provided, however, that the division shall not cause a decrease in a rate or add a penalty to a rate because such home has an equity position which is less than zero.

Such rates for nursing homes and rest homes, as defined under section seventy-one of chapter one hundred and eleven, shall be established as of October first of each year for facilities whose rate is set on a retrospective basis and as of January first of each year for facilities whose rate is set on a prospective basis. In setting such prospective or retrospective rates of reimbursement, the division shall use as base year costs for rate determination purposes the reported costs of the calendar year not more than three years prior to the current rate year, adjusted for reasonableness and to incorporate any audit findings applicable to said base year costs; provided, however, that no base year cost shall be incorporated unless a comprehensive desk audit has been completed for the costs incurred in that base year. In any appeal of any matter arising out of the setting of such prospective rates of reimbursement, the aggrieved party shall not be permitted to introduce into the record of such an appeal evidence of costs for any year other than the base year used to establish the rate. Notwithstanding any other general or special law or regulation to the contrary, except as provided in chapter one hundred and eighteen E, each governmental unit shall pay to a provider of services and each state institution shall charge as a provider of health care services, as the case may be, the rates for general health supplies, care and rehabilitative services and accommodations determined and certified by the division.

In establishing rates of payment to providers of services, the division shall control rate increases and shall impose such methods and standards as are necessary to ensure reimbursement for those costs which must be incurred by efficiently and economically operated facilities and providers. Such methods and standards may include, but are not limited to the following: peer group cost analyses; ceilings on capital and operating costs; productivity standards; caps or other limitations on the utilization of temporary nursing or other personnel services; use of national or regional indices to measure increases or decreases in reasonable costs; limits on administrative costs associated with the use of management companies; the availability of discounts for large volume purchasers; the revision of existing historical cost bases, where applicable, to reflect norms or models of efficient service delivery; and other means to encourage the cost-efficient delivery of services. Rates produced using these methods and standards shall be in conformance with Title XIX, including the upper limit on provider payments.

In determining rates to be paid by governmental units to providers of services, the division shall include as an operating expense of a provider of services any contribution made in lieu of taxes by such provider of services to a city or town and shall establish by regulation those expenses treated as business deductions under the Internal Revenue Code, which shall be included as allowable operating expenses in determining rates of reimbursement. Except for ceilings or maximum rates of reimbursement, which are determined in accordance with rate determination methods imposed on nursing homes, any ceiling or maximum imposed by the division upon the rate of reimbursement to be paid to rest homes shall reflect the actual costs of rest home providers and shall not prevent any such rest home provider from receiving full payment for costs necessarily incurred in the provision of services in compliance with federal or state regulations and requirements.

No hospital shall receive reimbursement or payment from any governmental unit for amounts paid to employees, as salary, or to consultant or other firms, as fees, where the primary responsibility of the employees or consultants is, either directly or indirectly, to persuade or seek to persuade the employees of the hospital to support or oppose unionization. Attorney's fees for services rendered in dealing directly with a union, in advising hospital management of its responsibilities under the National Labor Relations Act, or for services at an administrative agency or court or for services by an attorney in preparation for the agency or in court proceeding shall not be deemed to be support or opposition to unionization.

The division shall establish rates on a prospective basis, subject to rules and regulations promulgated by the division whenever possible; provided, however, that whenever the division by regulation provides that a final rate for a reporting period shall be computed on the actual cost of a provider of services, or a state institution, for such period, it shall establish an interim rate for said provider or institution within twenty-one days of the beginning of said interim rate period, from which interim rate said provider may appeal as provided under section thirty-six.

The division shall also adopt regulations to enable each provider or institution to secure adjustment in said interim rate from time to time to meet current reasonable costs. Said provider or institution shall have the right at any time to petition the division for an increase in said interim rate. A petition for an adjustment in an interim rate shall include a certified statement that such a petition is not interposed for delay, a detailed explanation, under oath, of the basis upon which said increase is sought, together with a sworn statement of an independent licensed accountant or independent certified public accountant that he has examined the pertinent data relative to the accounts forming the basis of the petition and that in his opinion, said accounts are as represented by the petitioner. The petitioner shall provide such other information as the division shall require. The division, subject to such rules and regulations as it may establish, may waive the required independent audit for non-institutional providers whenever the division determines that such audit would create a financial hardship. The commissioner shall report in writing his recommendations to the petitioner, giving his reasons therefore in detail, and the petitioner shall have ten days to file objections, arguments and comments to the division. The division shall thereupon make a rate determination which shall become effective when filed with the state secretary. No appeal under section nine of this chapter shall be allowed from an interim rate determined under the provisions of this paragraph.

Whenever a final rate for a filing period is to be determined after the end of such period, the division shall calculate a preliminary final rate within sixty-days after receipt of a satisfactory financial and operating cost report from a provider of services or state institution for such filing period. If such reports provide all the information required by the division and are attested to by an independent licensed accountant or an independent certified public accountant in such a manner and form as the division may require, the division may, prior to a field audit, establish such preliminary final rate on the basis of such information submitted. No appeal may be taken from such preliminary final rate. Ninety per cent of the difference between the interim rate and said preliminary final rate shall become payable by or to governmental units when certified to the state secretary. Said preliminary final rate may be promulgated as the final rate of a provider of services or state institution if the division is satisfied with a provider's report. In the event that a final rate is determined without a field audit, the division shall institute such procedures, including random field audits, as are required to assure accurate reporting by providers of health care services and state institutions. If the division is not satisfied with the provider's report, the division shall within six months and after a field audit promulgate a different rate of payment.

In establishing rates for nursing pools pursuant to section seventy-two Y of chapter one hundred and eleven, the division shall take into consideration wages and benefits paid by the pool to the medical personnel supplied to a health care facility and that portion of the rate attributable to wages and benefits shall not exceed the prevailing wages and benefits allowed for permanent medical personnel of the same type at such health care facilities. Such rate shall also take into consideration the reasonable administrative expenses and an allowance which shall provide a reasonable return on equity. The division shall establish procedures whereby nursing pools shall submit accountable cost reports, which may be subject to audit, to the division for the purpose of establishing such rates. The division shall establish interim rates for nursing pools until such time as said reports are complete.

The division shall set rates for rest homes, nursing homes and convalescent homes, beginning with interim rates for the rate year beginning October first, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, by recalculating the base year whenever estimated costs for payments to nursing pools are no longer reflective of or are higher than actual costs to such facilities for such payments.

Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law or any rule or regulation to the contrary, the division, in determining the rate of payment for prescribed drugs dispensed to publicly-aided or industrial accident patients by pharmacy providers, shall not apply or use, either directly or indirectly, a discount from the primary standard used by the division in establishing such rate.

Except as otherwise provided in this section any person aggrieved by any rate determination made under this section shall have a right of appeal as provided under section nine.

The division may enter into such contracts or agreements with the federal government, a political subdivision of the commonwealth, or any public or private corporation or organization, as it deems necessary; provided, however, that the division shall not enter into any contract or agreement with a private corporation or organization to furnish information and statistical data to be used by said division as its sole basis for setting rates, if such private corporation or organization is to make or receive payments based upon the rates so set.

Each governmental unit shall cooperate with the division at all times in the furtherance of the division's purposes. Each state institution shall permit the division or any designated representatives thereof, to examine its books and accounts and shall file with the division from time to time or upon request such data, statistics, schedules or other information as the division may reasonably require.

Each rate established by the division shall be deemed a regulation and shall be subject to review as hereinafter provided. The division shall promulgate rules and regulations for the administration of its duties and the determination of rates as are herein required subject to the procedures prescribed by chapter thirty A. Every rate, classification and other regulation established by the division shall be consistent where applicable with the principles of reimbursement for provider costs in effect from time to time under Titles XVIII and XIX of the Social Security Act governing reimbursements or grants available to the commonwealth, its departments, agencies, boards, divisions or political subdivisions for general health supplies, care, and rehabilitative services and accommodations.

In the event that any aggregate rates certified by the division exceed the upper limit of payment in effect for any period under Titles XVIII or Title XIX of the Social Security Act or any other requirement of said Titles, where applicable, the division shall redetermine and recertify any such aggregate rates in order to bring them into compliance with such federal requirement for the entire period during which such upper limit is effective.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to acute or non-acute hospitals.

Section 8. Any provider of health care services, other than an acute or non-acute care hospital, which receives reimbursement or payment from any governmental unit for general health supplies, care and rehabilitative services and accommodations, or who receives reimbursement or payment for treatment of injured workers under chapter one hundred and fifty-two shall, as a condition of the receipt of such reimbursement or payment: (1) permit the division, or any designated representative thereof or the attorney general, or his designee, to examine such books and accounts as may reasonably be required in the performance of the division's duties or the attorney general's duties; and (2) file with the division from time to time or upon request, such data, statistics, schedules or other information as it may reasonably require, including outcome data and information regarding the costs, if any, of such provider for research in the basic biomedical or health care delivery areas or for the training of health care personnel which are included in its charges to the public for health care services, supplies and accommodations. Any such provider that receives reimbursement or payment from any governmental unit for general health supplies, care and rehabilitative services and accommodations shall accept reimbursement or payment at the rates established by the division, subject to a right of appeal under section nine, as discharging in full any and all obligations of an eligible person and the governmental unit to pay, reimburse or compensate the provider of health care services in any way for general health supplies, care and rehabilitative services or accommodations provided.

Any provider of health care services that knowingly fails to file with the division data, statistics, schedules or other information required pursuant to this section or by any regulation promulgated by the division or knowingly falsifies the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars.

If, upon application by the division or its designated representative, the superior court upon summary hearing determines that a provider of health care services has, without justifiable cause, refused to permit any examination or to furnish information, as required in this section, it shall issue an order directing all governmental units to withhold payment for general health supplies, care and rehabilitative services and accommodations to such provider of services until further order of the court.

In addition, the appropriate licensing authority may suspend or revoke, after an adjudicatory proceeding in accordance with chapter thirty A, the license of any provider of services that knowingly fails to file with the division data, statistics, schedules or other information required by this section or by any regulation of the division or that knowingly falsifies the same.

Section 9. Except for rates established pursuant to section eleven, any person, corporation or other party aggrieved by an interim rate or a final rate established by the division, or by failure of the division to set a rate or to take other action required by law and desiring a review thereof shall, within thirty days after said rate is filed with the state secretary or may, at any time, if there is a failure to determine a rate or take any action required by law, file an appeal with the division of hearings officers established by section four H of chapter seven. Any appeal filed under this section shall be accompanied by a certified statement that said appeal is not interposed for delay. On appeal, the rate determined for any provider of services shall be adequate, fair and reasonable for such provider, based upon, the costs of such provider, but not limited thereto.

On an appeal from an interim rate or a final rate the division of hearings officers shall conduct an adjudicatory proceeding in accordance with chapter thirty A, and said division shall file its decision with the commissioner and the state secretary within thirty days after the conclusion of the hearing.

Said decision shall contain a statement of the reasons therefore, including a determination of each issue of fact or law upon which such decision was based. If such decision results in a recommendation for a rate different from that certified, the division shall establish a new rate based upon such statement of reasons. If the commissioner determines that the statement of reasons is inadequate to determine a fair, reasonable and adequate rate, it may remand the appeal to the hearing officer for further investigation. Any party aggrieved by a decision of the division may, within thirty days of the receipt of such decision, file a petition for review in superior court for the county of Suffolk, which shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof.

A provider may appeal as an aggrieved party in accordance with the provisions of the preceding sentence, in the event that a remand by the division to a hearing officer does not result in a final decision by the division within twenty-one days of the date of remand.

The petition shall set forth the grounds upon which the decision of the division should be set aside. The aggrieved party shall, within seven days after the petition for review is filed, notify the division and all the parties to the appeal before said division that a petition for review has been filed by sending each a copy thereof. Within forty days after the petition for review is filed, or within such further time as the court may allow, the division of hearings officers shall file in court the original or a certified copy of the record under review. The court may affirm, modify or set aside the decision of the division in whole or in part, remand the decision to the division for further proceedings, or enter such other order as justice may require. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the division from granting temporary relief if, in its discretion, such relief is justified nor, from informally adjusting or settling controversies with the consent of all parties.

Judicial review shall be governed by section fourteen of chapter thirty A to the extent not inconsistent with the provisions of this section.

Section 10. All purchasers and third party payers may enter into contractual arrangements with acute and non-acute hospitals for services. No such arrangement, including but not limited to prices or charges which may be charged for non-contracted services or which may be negotiated in individual contracts between such purchasers or third party payers and such acute or non-acute hospitals, shall be subject to prior approval by any public agency; provided, however, that charges established by an acute or non-acute hospital for health care services rendered shall be uniform for all patients receiving comparable services.

Any acute or non-acute hospital that makes a charge or accepts payment based upon a charge in excess of that filed required or approved by the division or that fails to file any data, statistics or schedules or other information required under this chapter or by any regulation promulgated by the division or which falsifies the same, shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each day on which such violation occurs or continues, which penalty may be assessed in an action brought on behalf of the commonwealth in any court of competent jurisdiction. The attorney general shall bring any appropriate action, including injunctive relief, as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter.

Section 11. All rates of payment to acute hospitals and non-acute hospitals under Title XIX shall be established by contract between the provider of such hospital services and the division of medical assistance, except as provided in subsections (a) and (b), or otherwise permitted by law. All rates shall be subject to all applicable Title XIX statutory and regulatory requirements.

All such rates for non-acute hospitals shall be effective as of the date specified in section thirteen A of chapter one hundred and eighteen E of the General Laws, unless otherwise specified by law.

(a) For disproportionate share hospitals, the division of health care finance and policy shall establish rates that equal the financial requirements of providing care to recipients of medical assistance.

(b) The division shall establish rates of payment which shall apply to emergency services and continuing emergency care provided in acute hospitals to medical assistance program recipients, including examination or treatment for an emergency medical condition or active labor in women or any other care rendered to the extent required by 42 USC 1395(dd), unless such services are provided pursuant to an agreement between the division of medical assistance and the acute hospital. Such rates of payment shall reflect the reasonable costs of providing such care and shall take into account the characteristics of the hospital in which such care is provided, including, but not limited to, its status as a teaching hospital, specialty hospital, disproportionate share hospital or sole community provider. An acute hospital shall, when a medical assistance program recipient requires post emergency room care and, after screening and stabilizing the patient's condition, notify the division of medical assistance or its designated representative and assist said division, to the extent possible, in transferring the recipient to an appropriate medical setting in accordance with said division's direction. Nothing herein shall be construed to require the hospital to breach its obligation under said 42 USC 1395(dd) or require the recipient to forego any right to refuse transfer pursuant to said 42 USC 1395(dd). If an acute hospital is unable or prohibited by law or regulation from transferring the patient in accordance with said division's direction, said division shall pay for any and all care associated with such patient's treatment including, but not limited to, care or services provided in the emergency room or in an inpatient or outpatient setting. Whenever said division is required to pay for such care rendered in a non-emergency room setting, said division shall pay all reasonable costs for such services in such hospital, as determined by the division of health care finance and policy pursuant to this chapter and consistent with the provisions of Title XIX laws.

No acute hospital may charge to a governmental unit for services provided to publicly aided patients at a rate higher than the rate payable by the division of medical assistance under Title XIX for the same service, unless such service is provided by said division pursuant to a unique arrangement such as a selective contract or a managed care contract.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to conflict with the provisions of a waiver of otherwise applicable federal requirements which the division of medical assistance may obtain from the secretary of health and human services for the purpose of implementing a primary care case management system for delivering services, or for the purpose of implementing any other type of managed care service delivery system in which the eligible recipient is directed to obtain services exclusively from one provider or one group of providers.

If the division of medical assistance contracts with any third party payer for the provision of medical benefits for medical assistance recipients under Title XIX, said division shall assure that on a quarterly basis such contracted third party payers notify each acute hospital of the number of inpatient days of service provided by the hospital to such recipients covered by such contracts.

(c) The division shall establish rates of payment which shall apply to community hospitals located in rural and isolated areas where access to other such providers is not reasonably available. Such hospitals, specially designated by the commonwealth as sole community providers, shall receive payment rates calculated to reflect the rural characteristics of such community hospital and the essential nature of the services they provide, which rates shall not be less than ninety-seven per cent of such hospitals' reasonable financial requirements.

Section 12. The division shall not consider the following as resources of such hospitals in the establishment, review or approval of acute and non-acute hospital rates and charges: restricted and unrestricted grants; gifts; contributions; bequests; fund principle; term endowments and endowment balances; restricted gifts; unrestricted gifts and all income from any of the foregoing, including unrestricted income from endowment funds and income and gains from investment of unrestricted funds. The following words shall have the following meanings as used in this paragraph:

"Income and gains from investment of unrestricted funds", interest, dividends, rents or other income on investments, including net gains or losses resulting from investment transactions.

"Term endowment", funds available upon termination of restrictions.

"Unrestricted gifts", gifts, grants, contributions and bequests, upon which there are no restrictions imposed by the donor.

"Unrestricted income from endowment funds", income earned on investment of endowment funds which have no restrictions on income.

An acute or non-acute care hospital aggrieved by any action or failure to act by the division under this chapter may file an appeal pursuant to the provision of section nine.

Section 13. No acute hospital shall deny access to care and services which the hospital would provide under chapter one hundred and eighteen E to recipients of benefits under chapter one hundred and seventeen A.

Section 14. Notwithstanding any provisions of this chapter to the contrary, all costs and charges for patients who are residents of other countries shall, as provided herein, be exempted from the limitations imposed by this chapter. Any hospital shall be allowed to impose a surcharge on the normal charges that would otherwise be allowed for such residents of other countries. Such surcharges shall not be included in the calculation of gross patient service revenues. The normal charge and the patient discharge statistics shall otherwise be included under the provisions of this chapter.

Section 15. A health maintenance organization organized under chapter one hundred and seventy-six G may (i) negotiate directly with any hospital with respect to such health maintenance organization's rate of payment for hospital services and (ii) enter into an agreement with such hospital reflecting such rate of payment without the approval of the division of health care finance and policy established under chapter one hundred eighteen G. The specification in this section of contracting rights of health maintenance organizations shall not be construed as affirming or denying such rights with respect to any other third party payer.

Section 16. The division shall review and comment upon all capital expenditure projects requiring a determination of need pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-five of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws, including, but not limited to, less costly or more effective alternative financing methods for such projects; the immediate and long-term financial feasibility of such projects; the probable impact of the project on costs of and charges for services; and the availability of funds for capital and operating needs. The division shall transmit to the department of public health its written recommendations on each project which shall become part of the written record compiled by said department during its review of such project. The division shall appear and comment on any application for a determination of need where a public hearing is required pursuant to the provisions of said section twenty-five C of said chapter. To carry out the purposes of this paragraph, the division shall appoint a senior professional employee to act as a liaison with said department.

Section 17. Upon petition of a receiver appointed under section seventy-two N of chapter one hundred and eleven, the division shall, in accordance with regulations to be promulgated hereunder, adjust the facility's rate, if necessary, to insure compensation of the receiver and payment for a bond. Such adjustment shall not be in effect if the licensee is under the jurisdiction of the United States Bankruptcy Court.

Section 18. There is hereby established an Uncompensated Care Trust Fund, which shall be administered and expended by the division without further appropriation. The fund shall consist: of all amounts paid by hospitals for the purposes of the uncompensated care pool pursuant to this section; all appropriations for the purpose of uncompensated hospital care; all property and securities acquired by and through the use of monies belonging to the trust fund and all interest thereon; less payments therefrom for the purposes of the pool established by this section. All interest earned on the amounts in said trust fund shall be deposited or retained in said trust fund. The commissioner shall from time to time requisition from said trust fund such amounts as the commissioner deems necessary to meet the current obligations of the division for the purposes of said trust fund and estimated obligations for a reasonable future period.

Within said trust fund, the division shall administer an uncompensated care pool consisting of revenues produced by hospital assessments calculated by the division pursuant to this section, federal funds as may be appropriated from federal financial participation made available for uncompensated care payments to certain hospitals, and any sums paid by hospitals pursuant to paragraph (viii) of section fifty-one of chapter four hundred and ninety-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and ninety-one. For purposes of this paragraph, "revenues produced by hospital assessments" shall equal the value of and have the same meaning as "a hospital's liability to the pool" as established pursuant to this section.

The division shall calculate for each hospital a cost to charge ratio to determine the uncompensated care pool's liability to the hospital. In the case of non-disproportionate share hospitals, such calculation shall represent the ratio of the reasonable actual costs of patient care services, as determined by the division, to gross patient service revenue for the most recent year for which audited financial statements for the hospital are available. In the case of disproportionate share hospitals, such calculation shall represent the ratio of the hospital's reasonable financial requirements, as determined by the division, to gross patient service revenue for the most recent year for which audited financial statements for such hospital are available. The division shall, throughout the year, update each acute hospital's ratio in the event more current audited financial statement information becomes available. Said division shall further establish, for each non-disproportionate share acute hospital for any given fiscal year, a final ratio using the reasonable costs for patient care services and gross patient service revenues as appearing in the audited financial statements for the fiscal year. For disproportionate share hospitals, said division shall establish a final ratio based upon its reasonable financial requirements, as defined by the division, and actual gross patient service revenues as appearing in the audited financial statements for the fiscal year.

A hospital's liability to the pool shall equal the product of: (a) the ratio of its private sector charges to all hospitals' private sector charges; and (b) the private sector liability to the uncompensated care pool as determined by the general court. In calculating said ratio, the division shall exclude from the numerator and the denominator private sector charges attributable to non-contracting, non-insured individuals which have exceeded the applicable price cap calculated pursuant to said section fifty-one of said chapter four hundred and ninety-five and other private sector charges in excess of a hospital's maximum gross inpatient service revenue limitation calculated pursuant to said section fifty-one of said chapter four hundred and ninety-five. Prior to the beginning of each hospital fiscal year, the division shall establish each hospital's liability to said pool using the most recent four quarters' private sector charge information available. The division shall update each hospital's liability to said pool as updated information becomes available. For any fiscal year, a hospital's final liability to said pool shall be based upon its actual private sector charges as filed with the division and as adjusted by audit.

The pool's liability to a hospital shall be calculated periodically by the division based on the best data available. Such data shall include, but not be limited to, allowable free care charges as determined by the division and the cost-to-charge ratio calculated by the division for each hospital. The division shall specify by regulation an appropriate mechanism for interim determination and payment of a hospital's liability to said pool. The final settlement of the pool's liability to a hospital shall equal the product of allowable actual free care charges, adjusted for any audit findings, multiplied by its final cost-to-charge ratio.

The division shall administer said pool and require payments to the pool and disburse funds from the pool consistent with the hospital's liability to the pool and the pool's liability to the hospital. The division shall specify by regulation appropriate mechanisms that provide for interim determination and payment of a hospital's liability to and from the pool during each fiscal year and for final settlement of the pool for each fiscal year.

The division shall not at any time make payments from the pool for any period in excess of amounts that have been paid into or are available in the pool for such period; provided, however, that the division may temporarily prorate payments from the pool for cash flow purposes. In the event that there exist a shortfall of pool revenue in any fiscal year to cover allowable free care payments, the division shall allocate such payments so that those hospitals with the greatest proportional requirement for pool income shall receive a greater proportional payment from the pool.

The division shall establish an appropriate mechanism for enforcing a hospital's obligation to the pool in the event that a hospital does not make a scheduled payment to the pool. Such enforcement mechanism shall include notification to the division of medical assistance requiring an offset of payments on a hospital's Title XIX claims from the division of medical assistance in the amount of payment owed to the pool plus a surcharge of five per cent on the amount, and to transfer the withheld funds into said pool. If the division of medical assistance offsets claims payments as ordered by the division, it shall be deemed not to be in breach of contract or any other obligation for payment of non-contracted services, and hospitals to which payment is offset under order of the division shall serve all Title XIX recipients in accordance with the contract then in effect with the division of transitional assistance, or, in the case of a non-contracting or disproportionate share hospital, in accordance with its obligation for providing services to Title XIX recipients pursuant to this chapter. In no event shall the division direct the division of medical assistance to offset claims unless the hospital has maintained an outstanding obligation to the uncompensated care pool for a period longer than forty-five days and has received proper notification of the division's intention in accordance with regulations to be developed by the division.

Payments by acute hospitals to the pool, state revenues appropriated for the purposes of the pool and federal financial participation funds deposited in the pool shall be placed in an uncompensated care trust fund established in section eighteen. Amounts placed in the fund may be expended by the division for the purposes of said pool; provided, however, that the division shall establish mechanisms to make payments from the pool to community health centers for free care expenses. Such payments for such free care expenses shall be at the level of actual cost.

The division shall manage the pool in order to encourage maximum efficiency and appropriateness in the utilization of acute hospital services and may require utilization review in accordance with section six. Said division may refuse to allow payments to hospitals for free care for which reimbursement is available from other sources including, but not limited to, the medicare program. Said division may adopt regulations prohibiting payments from the pool for the costs of health care provided to residents of foreign countries. Said division may adopt regulations requiring disproportionate share hospitals to use a portion of payments received from the pool to reimburse physicians for the costs of free care which such physicians provide in such hospitals. Said division shall promulgate regulations detailing the definition of free care, including regulations setting standards for reasonable efforts to collect costs of emergency care and standards to determine medical hardship. Said division shall also adopt any other regulations necessary to manage said pool including, but not limited to, regulations providing audit standards for said pool, regulations establishing enforcement mechanisms consistent with this section, and regulations containing reasonable controls on utilization.

For fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two only, a hospital's liability to the pool shall equal the product of the uniform statewide allowance previously in effect, multiplied by private sector patient care costs established pursuant to the most recent hospital agreement. This liability shall be calculated net of all payments made by the hospital to the extent it participated in the uncompensated care pool on a voluntary basis prior to the calculations made in accordance with this chapter. For fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-two, payments by purchasers and third party payers exclusive of Titles XVIII and XIX and publicly aided patients for purposes of said pool, shall be made using the allowance previously in effect and included in charges. For the purposes of this section, the word "hospital" shall mean "acute hospital" as defined in section one.

Section 19. Consistent with this chapter, the division shall establish health insurance programs to improve the access to health care for all residents of the commonwealth who are not covered by a health insurance plan, a self-insurance plan, or a medical assistance program. In establishing said programs, the division shall not operate as an insurance company but shall make health insurance plans available through the purchase of health insurance coverage, including managed health care plans, from private health insurance companies, a hospital service corporation, a medical service corporation or health maintenance organizations, and through the brokering of health insurance for employers and consumers of health care services. The division shall endeavor to purchase health insurance plans in an economical manner, and shall enroll individuals in managed health care plans wherever practicable.

Subject to appropriation or subject to the availability of unappropriated funds, the division shall negotiate with and purchase, on such terms as it deems to be in the best interest of the commonwealth and its enrollees, from one or more insurance companies, hospital service corporations, medical service corporations, or health maintenance organizations, a policy or policies of group general or blanket insurance providing hospital, surgical, medical, and other health insurance benefits covering the following persons: (1) employees and their dependents not eligible for group health insurance partially or fully paid for by employers and who are not enrolled in any other health insurance plans, self-insurance health plans, or medical assistance programs, and (2) all other residents of the commonwealth not enrolled in health insurance plans, self-insurance health plans, or medical assistance programs.

The division shall execute all agreements or contracts pertaining to said policies or any amendments thereto for and on behalf and in the name of the division. Said division may negotiate any contract for such term not exceeding three years as it may, in its discretion, deem to be the most advantageous to the division and its enrollees. The division shall endeavor to contract with such insurance companies, a hospital service corporation, or medical service corporations only for managed health care plans or for health insurance plans which employ other methods to reduce costs of health care services. The division shall ensure that every enrollee shall have a choice of at least two plans providing health care insurance benefits. The division shall not allow not more than thirty per cent of the enrollees to be enrolled in a health insurance plan of a single health insurance company, hospital service corporation or health maintenance organization.

The division shall promulgate regulations regarding eligibility criteria, enrollment, and termination policies. The division shall establish procedures consistent with the provisions of chapter thirty A by which individuals who participate or are seeking to participate in the health insurance program of the division may appeal determinations of non-eligibility, enrollment, and termination. The division shall allow, on an annual basis, an opportunity for enrollees to transfer their enrollments among participating health insurance plans.

The division shall require that any insurance company, hospital service corporation, medical service corporation, or health maintenance organization, that provides health care benefits to enrollees shall establish grievance procedures which are approved by said division and, in the case of actions taken directly by the division, the division shall establish its own grievance procedures. Such procedures shall not be subject to the requirements of chapter thirty A.

Any health insurance plan provided by the division to its enrollees through a contract with a health insurance company, hospital service corporation, medical service corporation, or health maintenance organization, shall provide a reasonable range of health care services to enrollees, shall ensure access to an adequate range of health care providers, shall include any mandated benefits otherwise required by law. Such plan not include access to or coverage of psychiatric and substance abuse providers of non-emergency services delivered in a state other than the commonwealth, unless such services are not provided for or available within the commonwealth. Any such health insurance plan which constitutes a managed health care plan shall provide, at a minimum, the following benefits: inpatient and outpatient acute hospital services, inpatient and outpatient physician services, diagnostic and screening tests, preventive care, prenatal and well-baby care; medically necessary emergency health services; and all other benefits which health maintenance organizations are required by law to provide. For the purposes of this chapter, the term "physician" shall include a podiatrist acting within the limitations imposed by section thirteen of chapter one hundred and twelve.

The division may, consistent with business practices in the health insurance industry, pay in advance for any health insurance plan purchased from a health insurance company, hospital service corporation, medical service corporation, or health maintenance organization.

The division shall require that any health insurance plan, including a managed health care plan, with which it contracts under this section must submit annually to the division a report of the demographics and utilization patterns of the enrollees. The division shall have the authority to conduct a financial and program audit of any such health insurance plan.

Section 20. There is hereby established a Medical Security Trust Fund, which shall be administered and expended by the division without further appropriation. Before the obligation or expenditure of any funds from said reserve, the consortium shall submit to the executive office of health and human services, on or before October first, nineteen hundred and ninety-six, or sixty days after the effective date of this section, whichever comes later, a financial plan describing and attaching copies of: (1) any agreements for joint purchasing of supplies or equipment entered into by the members of the consortium, the effective date of such agreements, and the dollar amount of savings which will thereby be achieved in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and nineteen hundred and ninety-eight; (2) any agreements among consortium members for sharing or pooling of resources to provide increased educational programs for the training of staff who serve clients whose care is paid for by the commonwealth, the effective date of such agreements, and the dollar amount of savings which will thereby be achieved in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and nineteen hundred and ninety-eight; (3) any joint retirement programs established by the members of the consortium, the effective date of such joint programs, and the dollar amount of savings which will be achieved from such joint programs in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and nineteen hundred and ninety-eight; (4) any agreements for cooperative approaches to funding of staff benefits entered into by members of the consortium, the effective date of such agreements, and the dollar amount of savings which will thereby be achieved from such agreements in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and nineteen hundred and ninety-eight; (5) any agreements for increased compensation in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven or nineteen hundred and ninety-eight for employees of the members of the consortium designed to attract and retain qualified staff, the effective date of such agreements, and the total dollar amount of increased costs that will thereby be incurred and any amount of savings that will thereby be achieved due to reduced worker turnover or otherwise in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and nineteen hundred and ninety-eight; and (6) grants, administrative measures and changes in work rules that have been agreed upon by members of the consortium to improve efficiency, productivity, and quality of care, the effective date(s) of such changes, and the dollar amount of savings which are predicted to be achieved in fiscal years nineteen hundred and ninety-seven or nineteen hundred and ninety-eight.

A committee comprised of the state auditor, the secretary of health and human services and the director of labor and workforce development shall review the consortium's analysis of the dollar savings, increased costs and improvements in efficiency, productivity and quality of care to be generated by the plan. The committee shall file with the house and senate committees on ways and means and with the division of purchased services a report of its conclusions within thirty days after submission of the plan by the consortium. If the committee concludes that the consortium's submitted cost figures are generally accurate, and further concludes that the cost increases generated by the increased compensation, training and benefits to employees do not exceed the cost savings generated by the plan by more than seventy-five percent, then the division of purchased services shall, within thirty days after issuance of the committee's report, pay to the consortium from the reserve fund an amount equal to the cost increases associated with increased employee compensation, training and benefits for fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, up to the amount appropriated to the reserve fund.

If the committee concludes that the cost figures set forth in the consortium's plan are not generally accurate, or if the committee concludes that the cost increases generated by increased compensation, training and benefits to employees exceeds the amount of cost savings generated by the plan by more than seventy-five percent, then the division of purchased services shall not release any funds from the reserve unless and until the consortium has submitted a supplemental or revised plan and the committee has revised its conclusions. The consortium shall submit any such supplemental or revised plan no later than the January fifth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, or thirty days after notification of the committee's initial decision, whichever comes later, and the committee shall file with the house and senate committees on ways and means and with the division of purchased services a report on such supplemental or revised plan within thirty days thereafter. If the committee, upon review of the supplemental or revised plan, concludes that cost figures in the plan are generally accurate and the cost increases generated by the employee compensation, training and benefits increases do not exceed the cost savings which will be generated by the plan by more than seventy-five percent, then the division of purchased services will, within thirty days after the committee's issuance of its revised report, pay to the consortium from the reserve fund an amount equal to the cost increases associated with increased employee compensation, benefits and training for fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, up to the amount appropriated to the reserve fund.

Any funds received by members of the consortium through the compact program shall be deemed to be a rate increase for the human service provider receiving said funds under a legislative order pursuant to 808 CMR 1.10 (2) and shall not be considered off-setting revenue as defined in 808 CMR 1.02, nor shall receipt of said funds by a program contract operated by said human service provider serve as a basis for a reduction in a rate, maximum obligation or resource. Nor shall any such funds be construed or deemed to be in lieu of or in substitution for any appropriation increases to human service providers made by the commonwealth. To the extent such funds are applied to increase salaries or fringe benefits of employees of a human service provider, which is a member of the consortium, pursuant to a collective bargaining or other such agreement, said funds shall be added, subject to appropriation, to the maximum obligation of the applicable program contract or contracts, if any, of the human service provider in fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-eight.

SECTION 563. Notwithstanding the provisions of section thirty of chapter twenty-nine of the General Laws or any other general or special law to the contrary, the division of energy resources is hereby authorized to procure, in accordance with all applicable procurement and solicitation laws, comprehensive motor vehicle insurance coverage for electric vehicles purchased for use in the commonwealth's electric vehicle demonstration program; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed so as to require any additional state appropriated funds for the division of energy resources; and provided further, that such coverage may continue or be renewed until the conclusion of said electric vehicle demonstration program.

SECTION 564. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, on or before January fifth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, the commissioner of the department of social services shall promulgate regulations requiring that all persons employed by the department as social workers obtained a license pursuant to section one hundred and thirty-one of chapter one hundred and twelve of the General Laws and shall attend in-service training programs offered by the department at least two times per year.

The commissioner shall develop such regulations for public notice and comment after consultation with and advice from the secretary of the executive office of health and human services, the state advisory council, the regional directors and regional advisory councils, the area directors and area boards, and the social workers employed by the department or their collective bargaining representatives. The regulations shall be effective as of April first, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, or such time as the collective bargaining representatives of the commonwealth and of the social workers employed by the department have bargained to agreement or to an impasse as determined by the board of conciliation and arbitration pursuant to section nine of chapter one hundred and fifty E of the General Laws over the impact of such regulations; provided, however, that the department shall pay the fee required by the board of registration of social workers for such licensure for each social worker presently employed by the department on a one-time-only basis, and provided, further, that the regulations shall provide for the "grandfathering", so-called, of social workers employed by the department as of the effective date of the regulations for a period of not less than one year and not more than four years and shall excuse persons with a higher level of licensure as provided in said section one hundred thirty-one of said chapter one hundred and twelve from obtaining the license referred to in the first paragraph of this section. The regulations may provide for different levels of licensure for social workers with different levels of responsibility in the department, provided, however, that any such regulations shall be promulgated pursuant to a staffing plan that specifies the rationale for requiring said different levels of licensure, the projected impact on payroll costs and any adjustments to collective bargaining agreements that said different levels would necessitate, and the projected number of positions, by functional job title, requiring said different levels of licensure that the department deems necessary to meet its management and supervisory needs in fiscal year nineteen hundred and ninety-seven and nineteen hundred and ninety-eight. Said staffing plan shall be filed with the house and senate committees on ways and means at the same time the regulations required by this section are promulgated.

SECTION 565. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, the secretary of administration and finance, in consultation with the secretary of health and human services, shall establish, by regulation or otherwise, to the extent consistent with federal law, a system whereby a consumer of services or benefits provided by more than one agency of the commonwealth may be identified by each such agency through the use of a single or common identifying number.

SECTION 566. On or before the January fifth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, the commissioner of the department of social services shall promulgate regulations defining and providing for differing levels of foster family care, including, but not limited to, a level of foster care designed to enable children with special medical, psychological and social needs to be placed in foster family care instead of more structured group care settings. The regulations shall include, but not be limited to, provisions for a tiered-reimbursement system which reflects the added demands on foster families with whom children with special medical, psychological and social needs are placed; provided, however, that the annualized increased cost of implementing said tiered-reimbursement rate shall not exceed eight million dollars. The commissioner shall develop such regulations for public notice and comment after consultation with and advice from the state advisory council, the regional directors and regional advisory councils, the area directors and the area boards. The regulations shall have an effective date of no later than the February fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven. The commissioner shall provide a copy of the proposed regulations and an explanation of why the regulations as proposed would not result in an annualized increased cost of more than eight million dollars to the house and senate committees on ways and means on or before January fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven.

The party, who initiated the proceedings before the commission pursuant to said section forty-three, shall file with the commission a copy of the award of the arbitrator, notice of institution of proceedings for judicial review pursuant to said section forty-four and a copy of any decision of the court with respect to the arbitrator's award within ten days of the issuance or filing of such award, appeal or judicial decision.

Submission of the matter to arbitration, in lieu of proceedings before the commission, shall occur only with the voluntary, written and notarized consent of all the parties to the proceeding; provided, however, that once such written and notarized consent is submitted to the commission by all parties to the proceeding, the parties shall be obligated to comply with all procedural requirements necessary to bring the matter to arbitration and shall be bound by the decision of the arbitrator to the same extent as a decision of the commission, subject only to the provisions for judicial review by the appeals court as provided in the last paragraph of said section eleven. Failure of a party, who has consented to arbitration, to comply with the procedural requirements necessary to bring the matter to resolution by an arbitrator shall be grounds for entry of a default judgment by the commission and the commission is hereby authorized and directed to establish procedures for determining whether such default judgment is warranted.

(b) The costs of such arbitration shall be borne by the parties to the proceedings in conformity with the rules and regulations established by the board of conciliation and arbitration or the American Arbitration Association, whichever is applicable. At the time that the commission notifies the parties that it has made a determination that there is probable cause to believe that a practice prohibited by section ten of said chapter one hundred and fifty E has been committed, the commission shall also inform all parties, in writing, of the availability of the arbitration alternatives, shall provide them with a copy of the applicable rules and regulations of the board of conciliation and arbitration and the American Arbitration Association, shall inform the parties that the costs of the arbitration alternative shall be borne by the parties and not the commission, and shall inform the parties that the election to submit the dispute to arbitration, in lieu of a hearing before the commission, can be made at any time up to thirty days prior to commencement of the hearing authorized in the first paragraph of said section eleven.

(c) An arbitrator, selected pursuant to this section, shall have the same authority and responsibilities with respect to such proceedings as the commission has in proceedings conducted under said section eleven. The decision of an arbitrator, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to judicial review as provided in the last paragraph of said section eleven. The arbitrator's decision shall be reviewed by the same standards set forth in said section eleven and shall be subject to the same deference that is afforded decisions of the commission, provided, however, that in the event of a conflict between a decision of an arbitrator and a prior decision of the labor relations commission, the decision of the commission shall be afforded greater deference. The party who initiated the proceedings before the commission pursuant to said section eleven shall file with the commission a copy of the award of the arbitrator, notice of institution of proceedings for judicial review pursuant to said section eleven, and a copy of any decision of the court with respect to the arbitrator's award within ten days of the issuance or filing of such award, appeal or judicial decision.

(d) No later than March thirtieth, nineteen hundred and ninety-seven, the commission shall submit a report to the house and senate committees on ways and means documenting the number of cases in which the parties have elected the arbitration option, the number of such cases in which an arbitrator's award has issued, the number of such cases in which judicial review of the arbitrator's award has been sought and the number of cases in which the decision of the arbitrator has been affirmed or reversed by the court.
