Rates do not provide for protection from cold or heat, nor is carrier obligated to provide heated or refrigerated service, except as may be provided for in this tariff.

Carrier can require a written guarantee of the total charges, or the prepayment of charges at pickup, or payment in full at time of delivery. Carrier must inform shipper prior to pickup of the terms of payment and the required method of payment, viz; Cash, personal or certified check.

Nothing herein shall limit the right of the carrier or its agent, prior to or at time of shipment, to require the payment in full or in part, or a written guarantee of the total applicable legal charges.

Carrier has the right to retain possession of any property transported by it, or to place the property in storage at the expense of the shipper, until all charges have been paid in cash, money order or certified check.

Item 5 Bill of Lading

When property is transported subject to this tariff, carrier must issue a Bill of Lading, with a "Truth in Coverage" Statement Attached, to the shipper of the goods and shall be liable to shipper for any loss or damage to the property caused by carrier. The Bill of Lading used must conform in content and format to that appended to the Rules and Regulations Governing Transportation Provided by Motor Carriers of Property. High Value or Extraordinary Value Items: Defined as any item or set that exceeds $2,000 in value and or $100 per pound. Items must be identified in writing by Shipper to Carrier prior to move and Carriers liability is limited Valuation selected by Shipper.

The declaration shall be made in the form of a purchase order or a letter of instruction to the carrier. The carrier must receive the request before any service is performed. The carrier shall accept such notice in lieu of the required personal signature of the owner; and it shall be made a part of the Bill of Lading.

If the shipper or its agent does not choose one of the two coverage options, the default coverage will be depreciated value coverage and assessed the valuation charge.

In addition to the terms and conditions listed below, state law, the rules and regulations promulgated by the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts and individual tariff rules and rates apply.

Sec. 1. (a) The carrier in possession of the property described in this bill of lading shall be liable as at common law for any loss or damage, except as hereinafter provided.

(b) No carrier shall be liable for any loss or damage to a shipment or for any delay caused by an Act of God, the public enemy, the authority of law, the act or default of shipper, or from a defect or vice in the property. Except in the case of negligence of the carrier, the carrier shall not be liable for loss, damage or delay which results: when the property is stopped and held in transit upon request of the shipper, owner or party entitled to make such request; or from faulty or impassible highway, or by lack of capacity of a highway bridge or ferry, or from riots or strikes, or for delay caused by caused by breakdown or mechanical defect of vehicles or equipment. The burden to prove freedom from negligence is on the carrier.

Sec. 2. Carrier is bound to transport said property with reasonable dispatch. Every carrier shall have the right in case of physical necessity to forward the property by any carrier or route between the point of shipment and the point of destination.

Sec. 3. Except where such service is required as the result of carrier's negligence, all property shall be subject to necessary cooperage, packing and repacking at owner's cost.

Sec. 4. (a) When, through no fault of the carrier, neither the consignee nor the consignee's agent is present at the delivery point, and/or goods cannot be delivered at the address shown on the face hereof, at the option of the carrier, goods may place into a storage facility at the point of delivery or at other available points, at the cost of the owner, and there held without liability on the part of the carrier and subject to a lien for all transportation and other lawful charges, including a reasonable charge for storage. Carrier will send a notice to the address given for delivery and to any other address given on the bill of lading for notification. The notice will show the warehouse in which such property has been placed and contact information.

(b) Where the procedure provided for in section 4(a) is followed, it is agreed that nothing contained in said section 4(a) shall be construed to abridge the right of the carrier at its option to sell the property under such circumstances and in such manner as may be authorized by law.

(c) The proceeds of any sale made under this section shall be applied by the carrier to the payment of advances, tariff charges, packing, storage, and any other lawful charges and the expense of notice, advertisement, sale and other necessary expense and of caring for and maintaining the property, if proper care of the same requires special expense, and should there be a balance, it shall be paid to the owner of the property sold hereunder.

Sec. 5 Explosives, combustibles or hazardous materials will not be accepted for shipment. When such goods are concealed and shipped, every party, whether principal or agent, shipping such goods shall be liable for, and indemnify and hold the carrier harmless against, any and all claims for loss, damages, litigation or environmental impact caused by such hazardous materials. The carrier will not be liable for safe delivery of the shipment.

Sec. 6. The owner, consignee or consignor shall be jointly liable for any unpaid advances, tariff charges, packing, storage and all lawful charges. When credit has been extended, carrier shall invoice shipper for services rendered.

Sec. 7. Any alteration, addition or erasure in the bill of lading which shall be made without the special notation hereon of the agent of the carrier issuing the bill of lading shall be without effect, and this bill of lading shall be enforceable according to its original tenor.

Sec. 8. (a) In all cases not prohibited by law, where a lower value than the actual value has been stated in writing by the shipper or agent, such lower value shall be the maximum amount to be recovered whether or not such loss or damage occurs from negligence.

The carrier's liability shall be either:

(A) Depreciated Value: This is the actual cash value of the goods. Shipper must declare the total actual value of all the goods being moved. This amount must include items in Sec. 8 (b) below. Valuation coverage must be purchased from the carrier for the total amount of Declared Value. Valuation coverage may be subject to Minimums and or Deductibles (see individual tariff rules). Under this choice, in the event of a claim for loss or damage, the carrier, at his option, will either pay the depreciated value of an article to the claimant or the items will be repaired or replaced.

OR

(B) Release Value: Under this choice, carrier will pay 60 cents per pound per article for all loss or damage claims. There is no charge for this choice.

(b) No carrier will be liable for documents, including coin money; or articles of extraordinary value; or a single item or matching sets of items with a value of $2,000.00 or more, unless the documents, articles, items or sets are listed on the face hereon or on an inventory list with a stipulated value listed for each.

(c) No carrier will be liable for perishable items unless such items are listed, with a stipulated value listed for each perishable item, and with the specific acceptance of the item for shipment annotated by the carrier. Employees, such as the driver or laborers who may handle this shipment do not have authority to accept perishable items for shipment; only managers/officers of the carrier have authority to authorize exceptions to this rule. This carrier will not be liable for perishable items placed in this shipment without the express knowledge and approval of the carrier.

Item 300. Rules, regulations and practices of carriers with respect to the process of loss, damage or overcharge claim or suits.

Any claim for loss, damage or an overcharge shall be filed with the carrier in writing by the claimant, and shall be accompanied by the paid original bill to the carrier. In lieu thereof, carrier may require a certified or sworn statement of claim. Notations of loss, damage or overcharge made at time of delivery on bill of lading or delivery receipt DO NOT constitute the filing of a claim.

As a condition precedent to recovery, claims for loss or damage must be filed in writing with the carrier listed on the bill of lading within nine months after delivery of the property, or in case of failure to make delivery, then within nine months after delivery was requested. Carrier must be notified of all damage, especially concealed damage and must be allowed to inspect the damaged property, the package and the packaging material. The carrier shall not be liable for claims for loss or damage submitted after the nine-month period has expired, and such claims shall not be paid.

Suits shall be instituted against the carrier only within two years and one day from the day when notice in writing is given by the carrier to the claimant, that the carrier has disallowed the loss, damage or overcharge claim, or any part or parts thereof, as specified in the notice. When such suit is not instituted within the foregoing provisions, then the carrier shall not be liable and such claims or suits shall not be paid.
