Calculating the Job Cost:

Each job is calculated on the basis of 3 elements. The labor rate shown above, the travel time, which accounts for the time it takes to return to home base at the conclusion of the move and the associated trip expenses. Travel time is the same hourly rate as the labor rate. The associated trip expenses are unique to each job and reflect the cost of mileage, at a rate of $1.00/mi., gas, at a rate of 6 miles to a gallon, local and environmental taxes, any associated tolls, special insurance at a rate of $14/job and associated truck rental costs specific to the size of the truck rented. Billing begins when the team leaves home base at the start of the job and verifies that fact with a phone call to the client. Billing ends when the team returns to the yard at the conclusion of the move.
