

Hi,

We just moved into the area and there's already been an accident. I found out from our neighbors that this has been happening with increased frequency.

Given that we have small children what can be done to increase traffic safety? It seems that the hospital has been moving ahead with plans that will increase traffic in the area without taking the safety of the residents or our children into account.

Will we be getting speed bumps? Traffic signals? Speed cameras?