Dear <<MemberFirstName>> <<MemberLastName>>,

We are writing to inform you of a data security incident at Eltringham Law Group ("ELG") that may have resulted in the disclosure of your personal information, including your name, health information, and/or Social Security number. We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience or concern this incident may cause. This letter contains information about what happened, steps you can take to protect yourself, and resources we are making available to you.

ELG learned that an unauthorized individual attempted to fraudulently wire funds from an ELG controlled account. ELG immediately launched an investigation to determine what happened. ELG retained a computer forensic firm to help identify what systems may have been accessed by unauthorized individuals and what information may have been accessible. As a result of that investigation, on December 5, 2018, we determined that some of your personal information, including your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, driver's license number and limited health information may have been accessible by an unauthorized individual.

We have no evidence of the misuse of your information as a result of this incident, however, out of an abundance of caution and as a safeguard, we have secured the services of Kroll to provide identity monitoring at no cost to you for one year. Kroll is a global leader in risk mitigation and response, and their team has extensive experience helping people who have sustained an unintentional exposure of confidential data. For residents of Massachusetts:

It is required by state law that you are informed of your right to obtain a police report if you are a victim of identity theft

For residents of all states:

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus by phone and online with Equifax (https://assets.equifax.com/assets/personal/Fraud_Alert_Request_Form.pdf) or Experian (<https://www.experian.com/fraud/center.html>). A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. As of September 21, 2018, initial fraud alerts last for one year. Victims of identity theft can also get an extended fraud alert for seven years. The phone numbers for all three credit bureaus are at the bottom of this page.

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant and monitor your accounts for suspicious or unusual activity.

Security Freeze: You also have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency. You may make that request by certified mail, overnight mail, regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse or a minor under the age of 16, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. As of September 21, 2018, it is free to place, lift, or remove a security freeze. You may also place a security freeze for children under the age of 16. You may obtain a free security freeze by contacting any one or more of the following national consumer reporting agencies:
