Additional Information About Security Freezes. You also have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report at no charge, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. In addition, a security freeze does not apply to a person or entity, or its affiliates, or collection agencies acting on behalf of the person or entity, with which you have an existing account that requests information in your credit report for the purposes of reviewing or collecting the account. Reviewing the account includes activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements.

If you wish to place a security freeze on your credit file, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting agency. In order to place a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information: (1) Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.); (2) Social Security Number; (3) Date of birth; (4) Addresses for the prior five years; (5) Proof of current address; and (6) A legible copy of a government issued identification card. ("Mediant") is a third-party service provider that distributes proxy materials and records voting results for shareholder meetings on behalf of Jackson National Life Insurance Company (Jackson®). On April 1, 2019, an unknown malicious party may have obtained unauthorized access to certain Mediant business email accounts. On that same day, following the discovery of the unauthorized access, Mediant disconnected the affected email server from its system and began an investigation to understand the nature and scope of the incident. During this investigation, Mediant learned that information used to mail proxy materials to certain Jackson policy holders was among the information potentially impacted. On May 21, 2019, based upon information provided by Mediant, Jackson was able to determine the scope of the breach, including the contract number and residence state of all affected individuals. The following personal information may have been involved in the incident: your full name, address, contract number, owner/annuitant designation, issue date of the policy, gender, sub-account fund identification number, fund units owned, whether individuals signed up for e-delivery for the prospectus, and email address (only for those individuals signed up for e-delivery).

Upon learning of the incident, Jackson has taken steps to be sure that Mediant strengthens the protection of personal information, including by updating its network security controls and email system. Jackson will continue to closely monitor and take further steps as appropriate to safeguard such information. Mediant reported the matter to law enforcement (FBI) but notice to affected individuals has not been delayed because of law enforcement investigation.

Out of respect of our customer's privacy and in an abundance of caution, Jackson is sending notification letters out to all 31,170 individuals whose personal information may have been accessed. In addition, Jackson is offering a two-year subscription to Experian IdentityWorks credit monitoring services to all affected individuals.
