Tips to Safeguard Personal Information

| What you can do | | | | |
|---|---|--|--|--|
| Protecting your accounts | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> For the next 12-24 months, monitor your account statements often (even daily in online banking) to review all charges and transactions. Contact Wells Fargo or your financial institution immediately if you see any discrepancies or unauthorized activity. If available, place password protection on all of your accounts for telephone access, and do not use any part of your social security number as the username or password. To find out if password protection is available for your Wells Fargo accounts, visit any Wells Fargo branch. Do not write down or share your Personal Identification Number (PIN) number or passwords with anyone. For more tips on how to protect your accounts, please visit https://www.wellsfargo.com/privacy_security/. If you receive suspicious emails that claim to be from Wells Fargo, forward them to reportphish@wellsfargo.com and then delete them. If you have accounts at other financial institutions, please notify them and they can advise you on additional steps to take. | | | |
| Protecting your identity | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Place a fraud alert on your credit report, which prompts any issuer of credit to use additional scrutiny for any request for new or increased credit. This provides a significant layer of protection; however, it may limit your ability to get "instant credit" such as the offers often available at retail stores. To set this up, simply contact one of the credit agencies below, and they'll notify the others. Check your credit report to ensure all your information is correct. You can obtain a free credit report from each of the nationwide consumer credit reporting agencies every 12 months by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com or calling 1-877-322-8228. If you believe you are a victim of identity theft, report it to your local law enforcement and to the FTC (see their contact information below) or your state Attorney General.
